Tobermory, Scotland —(AP) —Treasure hunters searching for a sunken galleon of the Spanish Armada reported Thursday night that they have recovered 12 pieces of old wooden beams buried in the silt of Tobermory bay. The charred pieces were brought up by air suction lift from 12 feet of silt under 80 feet of water. Experts will study them in an effort to determine if they are from the galleon tradition says was sunk after the defeat of the Armada in 1588.

Gate Watchman Overcome, Payroll Carrier Slugged In Bold Mid-Morning Theft

By WARREN SPAFFORD

One of the most daring daylight armed holdups in the history of Sherbrooke was staged this morning when two armed men robbed an employee of the Julius Kayser Company of a $20,000 payroll as he was entering the Frontenac business establishment at approximately 10.30 o'clock this morning. First they overcame the door watchman at the office entrance.

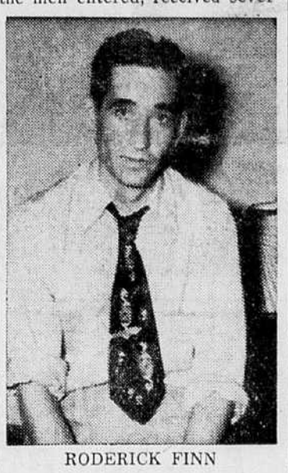

The employee, 42-year-old Henri Drapeau, was returning from the Canadian Bank of Commerce on Dufferin Street under escort. He was accompanied by Roderick Finn, 35, of 1467 Desjardin street. Police Constable Dubuc was following behind in another taxi.

According to Mr. Finn, who was the first to notice anything unusual about their routine entrance to the building, he was the first to enter the door on Frontenac street, when he saw two men waiting at the door. He relates that he thought they were just ordinary people waiting to see someone in the plant. As he entered a tall, well built man, with a pimply face said in English, "Hold it a minute, this a stick-up." He then stuck a gun in Finn's stomach and told him not to move.

Finn was closely followed by Henri Drapeau who was carrying the $20,000 payroll. As he entered the door, another man, who was wearing a hat, hit Drapeau on the head with something that looked like a piece of rubber hose.

Finn says that he thought the man hit Drapeau two or three times. Drapeau received bruises to the head and body and was taken to hospital shortly after.

Watchman Arthur Chase who was standing at the door when the men entered, received several knocks with the same rubber that was used on Drapeau. He was taken to the company's first aid room for treatment.

RODERICK FINN

After knocking out both men, the robbers took the bag containing the money and made their getaway in a blue 1953 Pontiac or Chevrolet sedan, with a third accomplice driving.

Mr. Finn, the only man injured in the robbery, was sent home to recuperate from his harrowing experience.

Provincial Police are now on the lookout for the car in which the armed men made their getaway and Detective Roland Gaboriault and Anicet Gosselin are investigating for the Municipal Police.

According to Police Chief Edouard Moreau, the authorities have a good idea who might be involved in the holdup as one of the men is said to be well known to police officials.

Company officials at the Julius Kayser plant said this morning that employees will receive their pay as usual. The money taken represented pay for some 450 employees.

Concern Of Own Welfare Is Sole Gap

Winnipeg—(CP)—In many labor disputes unions concerned solely with their own welfare are the only moat separating workers and management, says a report released here by a committee of Alberta lawyers.

They recommend that a conciliator be permitted to submit directly to the workers any company offer he considers worth their attention.

The strongest language of any of the reports presented Thursday and today to the industrial relations section of the Canadian Bar Association is contained in the Alberta group's memorandum and recommendations regarding arbitration and conciliation procedures in the realm of Canadian labor relations."

It has this to say about workers and their unions:

"It is evident that workers themselves, as labor union members, are rapidly losing their true identity. They are being swallowed up by the machine whose function in many instances has become the welfare of the machine and not the members who created it for the development and advancement of the workers' welfare."

The report said union members have but little to say in their own interest.

"Unions evolve the policies and decide whether to permit adjustments, accept compromises or hold out to the bitter end to achieve their purposes. This contention is confirmed by disastrous and sustained strikes called on such issues as union shop, check-off and reduced working hours.

"On such premises, it is submitted that the individual rights and privileges of workers as such must ultimately be restored and cloaked with an unfettered liberty to determine upon settlements which reflect their own interests as distinct from those of an organization."

Meanwhile, the chief topic of corridor discussion at the association's annual meeting continued to be a sub-committee report charging that Canadians trying to return from abroad have been stranded anywhere up to five years by "shocking" procedural practices in the citizenship and immigration department.

Of the individual cases catalogued but not made public it is understood that most concern Asiatics claiming to have Canadian citizenship of their close relatives, who are eligible to come to Canada if they can prove identity.

The report was prepared by three men—one a parliamentary assistant, one the lawyer son of a famous hockey player and the chairman who was the Liberal opponent of Progressive Conservative leader George Drew in the last election.

Its major issue is that a Canadian barred from his homeland because he can't prove citizenship to the satisfaction of a department representative overseas has no recourse to the courts.

In replying to the charges Thursday, Laval Fortier, deputy minister of citizenship and immigration, said this lack of access to the courts aids justice rather than hinders it because the danger of a judicial body hearing the cases of persons who have been refused entry is that a court decision is in many cases final.

GG Serum Offers Some Protection

Chicago — (AP) — A new study indicating that gamma globulin offers some protection against polio was detailed today in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The report is the third by a team of investigators who studied the the results of field tests in the United States in 1951-52 and of mass inoculations last year.

The original evaluation was that Gamma globulin, a protective substance derived from blood, offered significant protection. The second study concluded there was no evidence whether the substance gave protection or not.

The current study involved laboratory tests to re-analyze the value of GG given in the 1951-52 field tests.

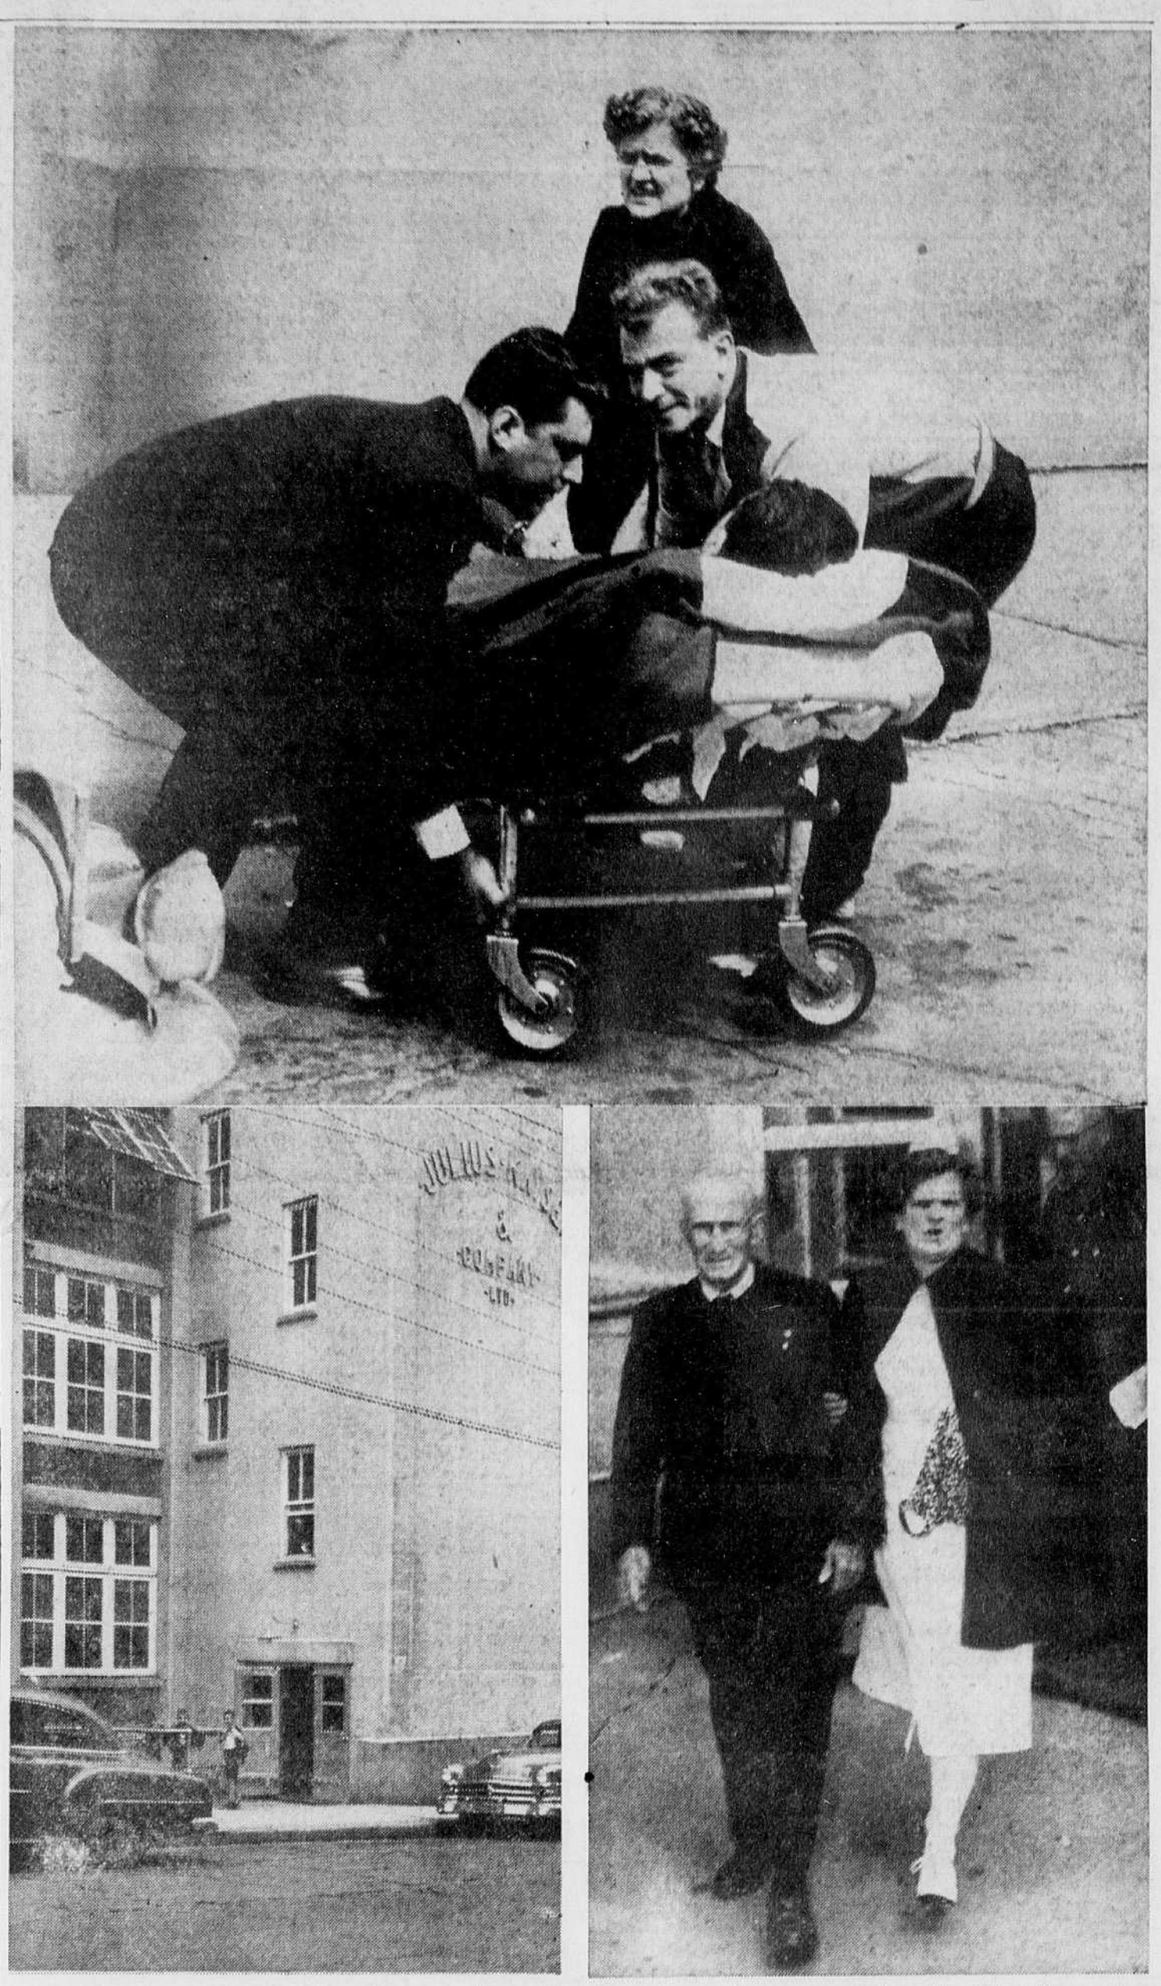

Because of the latest study, public health officers have recommended gamma globulin for family groups—to protect other members of a family in which one or more have been stricken.

The order reverses the original "large group inoculation only" agreement among the U.S. public health service, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the American Red Cross and the office of defence mobilization.

A team of seven investigators led by Dr. William D. Hammon of the University of Pittsburgh said there were indications that GG gave some protection to 75 to 88 per cent from three days to eight weeks after infection.

The journal's report said use of GG "would not ordinarly have been considered if anything else had been available," but the foundation, which sponsored the study, refers to the serum as "the weapon that held the fort until the big guns could be brought up."

The chief "big gun" now in use is the vaccine under widespread trial developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, also of the University of Pittsburgh.

Logging Train Plunges Into Bridge; 82 Killed

By DON HUTH

Manila—(AP)—A heavily loaded logging train carrying more than 100 passengers on empty flat cars careened down a mountainside and piled up on a wooden bridge Thursday killing at least 82 persons.

Most of the others were injured, many critically, in what is described as the worst railroad disaster in Philippines history.

Cars, logs and crushed bodies hurtled from the wrecked bridge into a gorge 100 feet below. Cranes were hosting massive logs from the gorge today, and officials said additional bodies may be uncovered.

The wreck occurred on northern Negros island in the southern Philippines. Authorities still are trying to piece together exactly what happened.

Engineer Pablo Villarete, 46, said that as his train crept down a steep grade near the town of Fabrica 16 cars loaded with logs broke loose. In an attempt to save his train, Villarete said, he raced his engine and seven coupled cars down the mountain, but the runaway cars caught up with the train on the bridge.

The crash derailed many cars, wrecked the bridge and tossed five cars over the side. Chains holding the logs snapped, and the huge logs hurtled off the cars, crushing many passengers and sweeping others into the gorge. Some cars were smashed against the mountainside.

Survivors said some bodies were torn apart by the logs. Others were crushed beyond recognition. Unidentified bodies were lined today along the right-of-way, protected by leaves.

Officials said passengers on the train were mostly employees of the Insular Lumber Co., which owned the train, and their wives and children.

Dulles Arrives For One Of The Most Important Conferences Of Our Time

Manila—(AP)— State Secretary Dulles of the United States arrived today for an eight-power Southeast Asia security conference which he called "one of the most important international conferences of our time."

An 18-gun salute boomed as Dulles' plane landed this afternoon, and two military bands began playing and a host of dignitaries crowded forward as Dulles walked smiling from the airliner.

Saturday U.S. and Philippines officials will meet, in advance of the foreign ministers' conference opening Monday, to discuss ways and means of strengthening the mutual defence pact linking the two countries.

Dulles declared in his statement:

"Next Monday Manila will become the seat of one of the most important international conferences of our time. The representatives of eight free nations will meet here to discuss how to protect Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific from aggression."

Dulles is expected to dampen the enthusiasm of the Philippines and Thailand for a strong military alliance against communism.

The U.S. already has indicated it is not anxious to go along with their demands for a pact binding members to instant retaliation in the event of an attack against any one of them.

Washington is reported to prefer an agreement under which members would react to an attack against another member within the framework of their constitutional processes.

Britain, the U. S., France, Australia, Thailand, Pakistan, New Zealand and the Philippines will meet Monday to discuss some collective agreement to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Experts working out details of the proposed pact now are reported to have agreed to set up an eight-country council to implement the treaty. But delegates were reported to be in difficulties at today's meeting over some parts of the proposed treaty, especially military commitments.

A conference source said no provision is likely for standing armed forces, permanent headquarters, any chiefs of staff permanent organization or any standing body to discuss economic aid.

The source said the treaty will contain no firm definitions on economic aid, but will express the signitories' intention to help develop Southeast Asian countries economically.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)— Larry Clark, 13, a caddy, was struck and killed by lightning Thursday on the University of Michigan golf course. Charles Tyler, the player, was injured and taken to hospital where his condition was reported good. Larry, caddying for Tyler, was standing under a tree with a golf club in his hands. The bolt of lightning split the tree.

McCarthy Censure May End By Next Weekend

Washington. — (AP) — The McCarthy censure hearings, so far almost entirely a rehash of old records and testimony, has hit a week-end dead spot. Possibly the inquiry may be over by late next week.

Where the hearings go when they start up again Tuesday is uncertain. The sixman special committee investigating the charges may have a bit more evidence to offer and briefs to file.

"We haven't closed the door on anything," said chairman Arthur Watkins (Rep.-Utah).

Under orders from the Senate, the committee is considering a resolution by Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep.-Vt.) to condemn McCarthy's conduct as tending to bring the Senate into disrepute. Backing up the resolution, Flanders and Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.) and James Fulbright (Dem.-Ark.), aimed 46 overlapping, specific charges against McCarthy.

To get things strted, the committee skipped some charges and lumped the others into five major categories.

The two categories covered Thursday were charges that McCarthy (1) may have violated the espionage law by bringing into the recent McCarthy-army hearings a document quoting a secret FBI report, and (2) urged government employees to break the law and violate their oaths of office by giving him secret information.

The hearings halted for the week after exploring McCarthy's use of a secret document in the army hearings. Long excerpts from those hearings were read into the record.

Mattapoisett, Mass — (AP) — Battered Mattapoisett, clearing up the hurricane debris, found one item intact. A two-foot-high mirror from a public bath house at flattened Crescent beach was blown 500 yards down the shore line. It was found upright against a tree — unbroken.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, woke up suddenly wide awake. Everything smelled late at night. Everything was late at night, indeed.

Daddy Ringtail got out of bed and hurried into Mugwump's room, to see whether the boy was covered up. The night was cold, and through the window even the moon looked cold in the sky.

Mugwump was covered up, all right, but Daddy Ringtail touched his ears to see whether they were cold. Mugwump might be needing some more cover, Daddy Ringtail was thinking. Well, Mugwump's ears were warm, but when Daddy Ringtail touched them, Mugwump sat up in bed suddenly and said: "Foosm, woosm, foosm, loasm."

"Uh-huh," said Mugwump, because he was sound asleep and didn't know what he was saying.

"Oh, I don't know," said Daddy Ringtail.

"It is too," said Mugwump.

"You're dreaming," said Daddy Ringtail. He asked Mugwump just what Mugwump was dreaming about, but Mugwump didn't answer.

Mercy me, how that boy could get his cover all twisted. Daddy Ringtail began to straighten it. He smoothed out the pillow, too. "Lie down now and finish sleeping," said Daddy Ringtail.

But Mugwump didn't do it. He was half awake and half asleep, and half-way dreaming, too, I guess. Mugwump said: "We have to do something with these hot-water bottles."

"What hot-water bottles?" asked Daddy Ringtail, because there really weren't any, you know.

But Mugwump said: "These hot-water bottles here in my bed, the ones under my pillow in the wheelbarrow."

But there wasn't any wheelbarrow there under Mugwump's pillow, and so Daddy Ringtail said: "You mean the wheelbarrow with the donkey hitched to it."

"Don't be silly," said Mugwump, who was wide awake now. "There isn't any donkey in my bed."

"Happy sleeping to you, Mugwump."

"Happy sleeping to you, Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump, and they were both soon very fast asleep, and when morning came Mugwump didn't remember a thing about this silly business of silly talk in a dream at night. Happy day!

Joe Hughes Is Popular Figure On Fairgrounds

By WARREN SPAFFORD

When one wanders around the streets of Sherbrooke or the fair grounds at this time of the year it is not very hard to find a stocky, aging man who hides behind horned-rimmed glasses. This man will usually be talking to some one, or any one, of the numerous friends that he has made in the city during the past forty-one years. The man in question is none other than Joe Hughes, manager of the George Hamid shows.

Joe states that he has many reasons for remembering Sherbrooke, as it was here that he first set foot on any kind of a Fair Ground, for, forty-one years ago this week, Joe Hughes started out with Fairs, when he brought a small concession here and set up business during the Sherbrooke Fair in 1913. Since that time he has continuously been here during Fair week.

Mr. Hughes was born in 1885, the same year that the Sherbrooke Fair came into existence, and the first time that he came to the city in 1913, was also the time that Harry Thaw was a national figure. Harry Thaw was accused of the murder of Sanford White, a famous American architect, but was acquitted on the grounds of insanity and committed to an institution from which he escaped in 1913 and came to Canada and eventually to Sherbrooke after his arrest in Coaticook. At that time Mr. Hughes recalls that everyone came from miles around to see the famous Harry K. Thaw, who was then in Sherbrooke.

When asked how he came into show business, Mr. Hughes replied it was an accident. The explanation to that remark is very simple. Mr. Hughes, at the age of 17, decided that he did not want to follow the family business, which was printing, and wanted to start out on his own. He began to scan the want ads in the New York newspapers under the "Help Wanted, Male" column, but he could not find anything that suited his tastes. His desire was to be a treasurer, because he states "I liked people and wanted to meet them." As he could not find anything in this line he looked to see what kind of work that the opposite sex were being offered. This was where the accident happened. Contrary to what the reader may be imagining, Mr. Hughes found what he was looking for in this column. A misplaced ad advertised for a treasurer at Hubers Theatre and Museum in New York and Mr. Hughes immediately presented himself at the office of the Theatre saying that he was applying for the job.

The man who received the application said that Mr. Hughes must be a genius or a mindreader as he had scanned the paper but could not find the ad. It was shown to him and Mr. Hughes was hired, as a very observant young man, to be treasurer for Hubers, at the age of 17 and he then became the youngest treasurer in the city of New York, in 1902.

Since that time Joe Hughes has been meeting the public, first as a treasurer, then as press agent, business manager and then to his present position with George Hamid, which he has held for 27 years.

Joe Hughes started with Hamid only as a temporary job, after he had returned as a manager of a night club in Panama. Ever since he has held that temporary job.

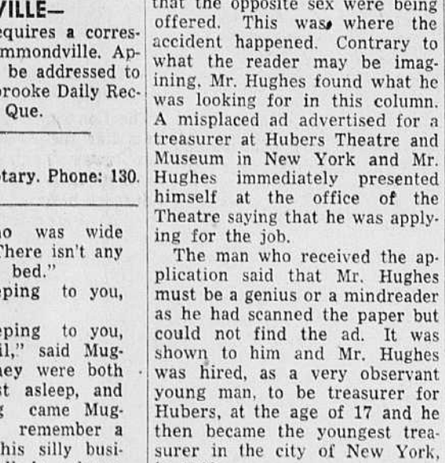

He relates some tales about boss George Hamid, who rose from an acrobat to his present position and he says that shortly Hollywood will be making a movie on his life, entitled "The Acrobat". He also tells how Mr. Hamid now owns the Steel Pier in Atlantic City, the pier under which he once slept as a young man, for want of a good bed.

Needless to say, Joe Hughes, during his forty-one years of association with the public has come to make many friends, who, in their turn have come to respect and admire the grand old man of outdoor show business.

Government Record Is Defended By Premier Duplessis At Opening Of Compton County Election Campaign

East Angus, Sept. 3 — Over one thousand persons gathered in the yard of the Sacred Heart College last evening to hear Prime Minister Maurice Duplessis open the Union Nationale campaign in support of John W. French, government candidate in the September 15 provincial by-election in Compton County.

The Provincial Premier was supported by several members of his cabinet while several Union Nationale members of the Legislative Council and the Legislative Assembly were on hand to give their endorsation to the official Government representative in the three-way fight.

While never referring directly to the Independent Union Nationale candidate, Hormidas Daigle, of East Angus, by name, the Premier made it clear that there was only Government representative in the fight and emphasized that a vote for either of the other candidates, — Mr. Daigle and the Liberal nominee, Dr. Curtis Lowry, of Sawyerville — was a vote against the Government and the policies that it stood for.

After praising the qualities of Hon. Charles D. French, late Minister of Mines and representative for Compton County whose death on May 3 forced the calling of a by-election, Mr. Duplessis declared that he had been elected for a five-year term and that it was only logical that a Government supporter be elected to fill out the mandate. And it was even more just, he continued that a brother of the late Minister be selected to fill out the term.

Turning to the public issues of the day, Premier Duplessis said that his government is standing on its record, which he felt was fine enough to ask the electors of Compton County for their endorsement in the forthcoming by-election.

"No matter what happens on September 15, the Union Nationale will stay in power," Mr. Duplessis declared. "We are asking you to help us so we can help you.

"We have done much, but there is still a great deal to do because so little was accomplished by previous governments."

Dealing with what the government had done for East Angus alone, the Premier recalled that a few years ago, the paper mill that provided the chief source of employment for the town was virtually closed down and the management was planning to move the machinery to Red Rock, Ont.

"But your member, Hon. Charlie French, and Hon. J. S. Bourque took the matter up with my government. We met the management of the company and were able to work out a policy whereby the mill would be kept open.

"Not only was it kept open, but the directors of the company undertook a ten million dollar expansion and improvement program, with the result that today your town is booming. Your workers have permanent employment and are not on a temporary basis."

Mr. French was a candidate for expanding mills and improved employment conditions, while a vote against him was a vote for dying industry and unemployment.

He also reviewed briefly the various works the government had carried out in the county—new schools, new roads and winter roads.

Turning to general provincial affairs, he said that during its term of office, the government had built 2,500 schools and opened 10,000 new classrooms. It had financed the construction of 92 new hospitals and made an additional 15,000 beds available.

When the Union Nationale came to power, Quebec province had the highest death rate from tuberculosis of all the provinces of Canada. Appalled by this condition, the government had undertaken a campaign of new sanitorium construction, of preventive work and of paying the entire cost of patients' care in these institutions. As a result, Quebec had the finest record in Canada today, deaths from tuberculosis being cut by seventy-five per cent from the level of fifteen years ago

Similarly, it had slashed the infant mortailty rate and the maternal mortality rate, formerly the worst in Canada, to a level that could compare favorably with that which was registered anywhere else.

In the field of youth welfare, the Union Nationale had appointed the first Minister of Youth Welfare to be named anywhere in Canada; it had opened new trade and technical schools; it had expanded colleges and it had spent thirty million dollars in providing bursaries for deserving students.

It had introduced old age pensions to this Province, it had supplemented the family allowances and established mothers' allowances.

"But," the Prime Minister continued, "these all required money, as do other works needed for the progress of the Province. And it is for this reason that Quebec insists upon retaining for itself. We want Ottawa to let us be masters in our own home. We want to have the revenues we require as a matter of right and not as a privilege which might be withdrawn at any time."

Speaking in English before the conclusion of his address, the Prime Minister declared that the election of an English-speaking candidate in Compton was essential, if the minority was to have proper representation in the halls of the Legislature.

The opening speaker was Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests and of Hydraulic Resources, and member for Sherbrooke, who pointed to the establishment of the technical and superior schools in Sherbrooke and the creation of the University of Sherbrooke, as examples of the work done by the government for the people of the district.

Other speakers included Hon. Wilfrid Labbe, Minister without Portfolio and M.L.A. for Athabaska, and Mr. French.

At the opening of the meeting, the chairman Mayor D. J. Willard, of East Angus, called upon the gathering to observe one minute of silence as a tribute to the late representative for the county.

Maurice Bellemare, M.L.A. for Champlain, acted as master of ceremonies.

Dr. E. C. Amaron Writes On New Ontario Charge

In a letter recently received by us from Dr. Errol C. Amaron, of Admaston, Ont., former principal of Stanstead Wesleyan College, in Stanstead, we have found the following news that will be of interest to his many friends in this district.

"I have read with interest and appreciation the news item in the Record about my departure from Stanstead. The article stated that the churches here had been without a minister for four years. This is a little misleading. There has been no resident minister here, but the churches have been supplied regularly by non-resident ministers.

"The charge is very well organized and there seems to be plenty of people willing to undertake responsibility for the many organizations in existence. The people are most cordial and friendly and we are looking forward to a very happy and I hope, fruitful stay here.

"We shall miss our many friends in the Eastern Townships, but we are rapidly acquiring a growing set of new friends. My induction takes place on Sept. 2. The interim moderator in charge of arrangements has a summer cottage in the Narrows on Lake Memphremagog, which is a link with our former home."

Grandstand Performance Tonight Is Final Attraction Of Sherbrooke Fair

The 69th annual Sherbrooke Exhibition closed out its last day of display yesterday in a blaze of sunshine which attracted one of the largest crowds of the six-day show, and which shone down yesterday afternoon on the cattle and horse parades held in front of the grandstand as feature events of the day.

Some 12,300 fair-goers, many of them youngsters attracted by the Conklin Midway's "Kids' Day," clicked through the turnstiles yesterday and evening—a big improvement over last year's sixth day showing which was a meagre 8,020.

George A. Hamid's "Grandstand Follies of 1954" contributed to making the last day a gala one indeed, putting on two consecutive performances last night before packed houses, besides their regular afternon shows. Some 2,400 people attended the first night show, given for seat-holders who were rained out Tuesday night, while a near capacity 4,000 people crowded into the grandstand for the regular Thursday night performance following it.

Over 70 horses, both light and heavy, took part in the first of yesterday's giant parades in front of the grandstand. Led by Nancy Nicol and Eileen Morgan mounted on splendid western horses, the parade featured Belgians, Clydes, Percherons and teams, followed by the standard breds. Chairman of the horse committee, Hugh McClary, led the parade proper, while stirring music was provided throughout by the Knowlton High School Band.

The Conklin Challenge plaque for the best exhibit of horses on parade was won by Edmond Proteau, of St. Sebastien, for his prize collection of Belgians. It was presented to Mr. Proteau by J. A. St. Marie, former president of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association.

The big event of the day, however, was the long-awaited giant cattle parade, cancelled on Wednesday because of a muddy track. The parade, led by W. G. MacDougall and V. R. Beattie, of the dairy cattle committee featured Jersey, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Canadian and Holstein cattle in that order, and showed off some of the prize cattle at their best.

Most striking group was that of the W. K. MacLeod Holsteins from Disraeli, whose attendants were dressed in colourful white shorts, Scottish plaid cloaks, and little Scottish caps. This group, winner of the Conklin Challenge Plaque for the best herd of Dairy cattle on parade, repeated again yesterday afternoon for their smart showing.

Mr. MacLeod also won the St. Francis Holstein Club's prizes and banners for the Premier Breeder and the Premier Herd in the Holstein class. The banners were presented to Mr. MacLeod by the president of the St. Francis Holstein Club, Lee Pomeroy, of Compton.

Ribbons for the best display in each breed were also awarded. In the Jersey class, J. L. Dion won the honours; in the Ayrshires, Mount Brothers from Brome Centre; in Guernseys, P. N. Fox of Foster; in the Canadians, O. A. Fowler of Kingsbury; and in the Holsteins, J. Beerwort.

Yesterday was also Provincial Day, and the Hon. Laurent Barre, provincial Minister of Agriculture was on hand, along with other provincial officials, to add lustre to the splendid closing-day activities. Also in attendance at the fair yesterday were the Hon. J. S. Bourque, provincial Minister of Lands and Forests, Hon. Antoine Elie, Minister without Portfolio and J. Denis Gerin, M.L.A. for Stanstead.

The officials were guests at a banquet tendered in their honour in the Arena building yesterday noon and later visited the grandstand to witness the program of races, stage acts, and the cattle and horse parades. Hon. Laurent Barre later toured the grounds, accompanied by Dr. L. A. Gendreau, president of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association.

Today, the grounds are relatively bare.

The Conklin Midway folded its tents like the Arab, and quietly crept away during the night in all of its 42 cars. Exhibits in the industrial building will be gone by this afternoon, and most of the large numbers of machines on display on the grounds about the building have already returned from whence they came.

Exhibitors in the various judging classes started to move out of the fair grounds early yesterday, and by this evening, all exhibits are expected to be removed.

But officially, the fair is not over until tonight, and for that reason, George A. Hamid's "Grandstand Follies of 1954" will put on another regular performance tonight, starting at 8.15. This will be the last chance for Sherbrooke residents to see this famous, and in many ways unique show, so those who wish to go are advised to buy their tickets immediately.

Judging in the Guernsey and Ayrshire cattle classes was completed late yesterday, to round out judging in all departments for this year.

In the Guernsey class, P. M. Fox of Foster took most of the top honours, winning a total of 22 blue ribbons, including the male and female grand championships. Floyd Sanborn of Sweetsburg won the other nine sections in the class.

In the Ayrshire class, Mount Brothers of Brome Centre and D. Johnston of Stanstead split most of the honours. Mount entries copped 10 firsts, including the male and female grand championships, while Johnston entries won a total of 11 firsts.

Thief Breaks Store Window, Scatters Away

A thief or thieves attempted to break into a Depot street grocery store early this morning by smashing the door window, but fled when a patrolling policeman approached the scene.

Constable Denis Belanger found the $30 window smashed and immediately notified the owner of the Lambert grocery store. A check by the owner revealed nothing had been taken.

Too Much Rain, Too Little Sun, August Is Cool

"Dig that crazy mixed-up weather" is probably what any be-bop teenager might say of the month of August. Although the temperature was only slightly lower than the average temperature for the same month during the past forty-years, we had twice as much rain as last year yet only half of the record rainfall. There wasn't much sunshine.

On the 27th of the month it looked as though fall had arrived with the thermometers dropping to 34 degrees. The lowest temperature recorded for the month in forty years is 30 degrees and this was set in 1918.

However, the average temperature wasn't too discouraging to vacationers, keeping around the 61.42 degree mark. It seems that August 25 was the nicest day of the month and since it fell on Wednesday, few people were able to enjoy the bright and warm sunshine. The temperature reached a high of 85 degrees, with only a few scattered clouds lining the sky.

The total sunshine for the month was 209.4 hours. But no one should be able complain since in 1951, only 171.8 hours of sunshine were recorded for an all-time low. Usually there are 224.6 hours for this month but it has reached a peak of 292.8 hours in the summer of 1947.

Rainfall for the month of August stands out not too impressingly since this is the month of the haying, which requires as much nice weather as possible. A total of 4.4 inches fell as compared with 2.29 inches for the same month last year. The rainfall is above the average rainfall mark of 3.51 inches but has not topped the record mark established in 1917. Well over 8.0 inches fell.

"Hurricane Carol" had a big influence on the rainfall, showering this district with 1.30 inches of rain on the last day of the month. Otherwise the rainfall would have been normal.

Lucky-$$ Scattered Over Many Regions

Our winner yesterday interfered somewhat with our original plans to divulge the whereabout of several of our recent "Lucky Dollars," — especially that extra special $20 "Lucky Dollar" put into circulation on last Friday.

Here's the big news.

That particular "Lucky Dollar" was put into circulation at Page's Store in Bolton Centre. Whether it is still there or not, of course, is anybody's guess, and all part of the game.

Here's where some of the other "Lucky Dollars" have been spent:

Last Wednesday, — T/N 7322589 — New Sherbrooke Hotel.
Thursday, — T/N 8009914 — Magog, MacDonald's Service Station.
Saturday, — T/N 7240901 — Bedford, Horseshoe Restaurant.

So keep a sharp lookout for those "Lucky Dollars". There's a total of 11 of them in circulation in the district — and they're worth $$$$$$$$.

On each publishing day until further notice the RECORD will select and publish a serial number taken from a Bank of Canada one dollar bill. Persons having possession of these "Lucky Dollars" may redeem them for ten dollars each.

The bills whose numbers have been selected will have been put in circulation throughout the Eastern Townships immediately before the serial numbers are published.

Winners must produce the "Lucky Dollars" within two weeks of the first publication date of the serial number, and the winning bill or bills must be accompanied by the regular weekly Record Crossword puzzle (or reasonable facsimile) at least 50% correctly completed.

If you have in your possession a dollar bill bearing a serial number published in the RECORD, telephone "Lucky Dollars," the Sherbrooke Daily Record, LO 9-3636 and arrange an appointment to exchange it for your reward.

If you live too far distant from the Record to make this convenient, send your "Lucky Dollar" and the crossword solution, to "Lucky Dollars," c/o the Sherbrooke Daily Record 119 Wellington street north, Sherbrooke.

The Record will not be responsible for "Lucky Dollars" delayed or lost in the mail.

All serial numbers not matched by the deadline automatically become inactive, and no payoff will be made on them. All "Lucky Dollars" and all other dollar bills submitted by persons who do not qualify for the reward will be returned to the owners after the serial numbers become inactive.

Employees of the Sherbrooke Record Co. and their immediate families are not eligible to win rewards for "Lucky Dollars."

Boiler Overruns Causing Damage To Local Home

Fire heavily damaged the kitchen of the home of R. C. Jobel, Vimy street, yesterday when a double boiler overran causing the walls and ceiling to catch fire. Firemen from No. 1 station answered the call and within minutes the fire was extinguished.

The double boiler which overran thus causing the fire, was used to heat oilcloth cement. Despite terrific heat and smoke, Mrs. Jobel with her three children, managed to phone the fire department. A neighbor, seeing the heavy smoke, also turned in an alarm.

Firemen, under the direction of Lt. Gerard Donahue and Lt. Gerard Roy, used the fog applicator and damage was restricted to that caused by the fire and smoke. There was no water damage. They returned to their posts around 10 a.m.

District Lodges Hold Picnic At Edith Kathan Home

The two guests at the home Mr. McKeen, formerly of Waterville and Mr. Smith, formerly of Cowansville, enjoyed getting acquainted and talking to the Members and friends present.

Much credit goes to Sis. M. Bruygom, D.D.P. and the secretaries of the Rebekah Lodges for notifying the members and having cars at the I.O.O.F. Hall for transportation.

Among those attending the Assembly Grand Lodge were Sis. M. Lane, P.P.; Sis. G. Dawson, P.P.; Sis. A. Parker, Assembly Chaplain; Sis. Luella Brady; Assembly Pres.; Sis. M. Bruygom, D.D. Pres.; Bro. L. Parker, G. M. G. Lodge; Bro. Bud Brady, D.G. M.; Bro. P. Walton, G. Patriach;

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1954

Lo, The Poor Shareholder!

Fights for the control of company managements are becoming almost the order of the day in the United States. Instances have been provided by the New York Central railway system, present skipper, Robert Young, who basks, bores and boils and looks like Beaverbrook; the New York, New Haven and Hartford system which sees one, Paddy McGinnis in control where Old Man Dumaine once held sway and now by Montgomery Ward, which promises to afford an interesting battleground. Louis E. Wolfson, a few years ago a Florida junk dealer, threatens to oust the octogenarian Sewell Avery who has ousted a good many men in his time and has provided no little human interest material for the newspapers.

If this kind of thing continues in a large way it looks almost as though shareholders, whom many have suspected of becoming the forgotten men of industry and finance, might soon come into their own, at least in a measure not known for years.

There has been a growing tendency for many managements to disregard shareholders, the actual owners. Directorates often represent only a relatively small number of shares. One aggressive man may use his personality to seize actual control and may wield it, unquestioned, for years. He may even have, like Mr. Avery, less than one per cent of the outstanding shares in his own name. When the company is on a national scale this, naturally, is the rule and not the exception.

There have been several outstanding instances in Canada where managements have become so absorbed in building business, expanding their companies, taking over others and so on, that it has seemed that they have almost forgotten that the shareholders were still there in the back seat. And well they might for most shareholders, traditionally, have been pretty apathetic.

A few healthy fights for control — (we have had them) — on this side of the border and more searching questions asked at annual meetings might make some Canadian managements, which have acted with a high hand, realize that the shareholder is still, if he wants to be, The Boss.

Angina Pectoris

The time will come. Logical thinking tells us that it will. It is just a question of how long. Yet our brave new world city and town planners work on, fearful of facing the fact and so offering excuses and arguments, but never arriving at any satisfactory conclusion.

The problem is city and town transportation.

With the increasing number of cars on the road — and with automobile salesmen out to create even artificial demands — the number of cars will keep on expanding.

Then all these people, many of whom formerly travelled to cities in buses and trains and in the city by trams and buses, now expect to drive into the city. In fact they consider it a right as well as to have an ample parking space reserved for them in some downtown area.

For tourists and occasional visitors this is permissible. But for the daily commuter it means folly. And paradoxically it is the city which will suffer from hardening of the arteries, periodic five o'clock heart attacks, and painful economic strangulation. The anesthetic of expressways through the city is then called for.

The problem is not solved.

Let us realize that it is folly ever to expect to have a city where every car owner can manipulate his personal 350 cubic feet of automobile into the palpitating heart without the consequences of municipal thrombosis or angina pectoris.

It is time then that any city over the 500,000 size, and maybe even less, salt away those plans for expressways and more city streets. That is like adding weight to the stout gentleman who has a weak heart.

The hard fact (which New York and London for two examples have faced) is an underground subway or elevated railway serving the heart of the city. Service is rapid, clean and comfortable. Those commuters who live in the suburbs drive to some outlying terminal where there is ample cheap parking space. Then they board a subway and are in the city within 5 to 10 minutes — against the 25 or 30 minutes by car.

For their city business, the subways and buses will provide the businessman with fast, efficient service.

Tearing down buildings and constructing parking lots solves nothing but aggravates a city's commerce and creates ugly blemishes.

Before the final euthanasia, let's wake up.

Uncle Josh On Waste

"Waste," exclaimed Uncle Josh disgustedly as he snuffed out a cigarette.

"Why, Uncle Josh," we remonstrated, "smoking gives many people alot of pleasure — soothes the nerves, promotes thought, they claim."

"I'm not talking about smoking," Uncle responded, "I'm talking about the part that's not smoked."

"D'ya know," pursued the old fellow placing his feet carefully on a nearby chair, "there are nigh two hundred million human critters on this continent. I figger at least thirty million of 'em smoke; average probably ten cigarettes a day. That's three hundred million cigarettes or 'twas when I went to school."

Uncle Josh, we remembered hearing, had won a prize for arithmetic before the turn of the century so we ignored the challenging look in his eye. Uncle appeared slightly disappointed.

"Well, what I am coming to," he went on, "is this. You might say a quarter of each of them cigarettes is wasted. In some cases it's much more or I've never seen a woman smoke. So you have the equivalent," — (Uncle occasionally speaks like a text-book) — "of seventy-five million cigarettes thrown away every day of the week for the smoker, who was it said, don't know no Sabbath."

"Put that into packages, my boy, and you have close on to four million. That's something like a million dollars a day, south-of-the-line prices, wasted."

Uncle looked up triumphantly: "Why, think of the likker that would buy. Let's see. That would buy a million men a bottle of whisky every week. Think of it, every week.

"But how would you decide who would get the whisky?" we asked.

This was a poser for a few seconds then Uncle collected himself.

"It should go out to old-age pensioners," he said. "But only, of course, to the men and starting alphabetically." (Uncle's name happens to be Brown.)

Uncle brightened at the thought, then his spirits seemed to slump. His thoughts had evidently gone back to tobacco. "Waste," he muttered, "just waste."

"Well,' 'he roused himself and his tone recovered animation. "I know two fellers who get around it a bit. One rolls his own, saves his stubs, collects the 'baccy and rolls it over again. The other smokes his pretty nigh down usin' a pin to hold 'em. 'Taint everyone who's a spendrift these days" — (Uncle seemed to forget himself) — "No, sirree."

Mirror Of Opinion

INNER SECRETS
Victoria Times

A curious source, the Communist radio of "Free Greece," reveals some of the inner secrets of what it calls "conspiratorialism." That is a mouth-filling word for a non-Communist to swallow but its meaning is clear. As the clandestine Greek radio explains in its "Fighter's Seminar,' 'it means the methods by which conspirators may flourish.

Mr. Giorgis Vondisios-Goussias clarified these technical points in a recent broadcast. "Failure to observe the rules of conspiratorialism," he said, "is the most serious crime against the people's movement."

The rules, it appears, are pretty strict. For example: "We must beware of the man who gives us a house to live in. We must not make appointments in the same area with two persons on the same evening because this may give rise to suspicion. One appointment should be made in one direction and the other in another direction., within the limits that will enable us to be punctual."

Again: "We must constantly vary the streets we use, our sleeping hours, the way we arrange our meetings. That will greatly help us because the security force will lose track of us."

Then there is the practical matter of financing the conspiracy: "Without funds we should be forced into the open, with the result that we should be attacked. . .. We must form one, two or three economic committees to collect funds."

These, no doubt, are noble sentiments, but there is not much comfort in them for the conspirator. His life must be hard, dangerous and erratic. Unless he learns the rules of conspiratorialism it is also likely to be short.

Never Mind The Waistline We Must Eat More Potatoes

By ARTHUR EDSON

It shows the number of pounds of potatoes eaten each year by each person in the United States. As the line nears the present, it staggers and droops almost as alarmingly as a sales record for high button shoes.

"In 1910," Case said, sadly surveying the chart, "We ate 180 pounds of potatoes per capita. In 1950, it was down to 100 pounds. We've got to eat more potatoes."

Case has been one of the potato's best friends ever since his boyhood bays on a farm near Estherville, Ia. Later, he worked with potatoes as a horticulturist and marketing expert in Colorado. Now, at 57, he's executive director of the National Potato Council, and a full-time ambassador from the potato kingdom.

Case lists several reasons why the potato, once such an essential in almost every American's diet, has faltered so much in the past half century.

1. Good times. "Potatoes, traditionally, are the poor man's food. Now he's able to afford more frills than just meat, potatoes and gravy."

2. Less manual labor. "Did you know potatoes are the ideal energy food? Well, we don't do so much manual labor, so we don't need so many potatoes."

3. Dieting fads." I don't know why potatoes are always blamed. Why, a piece of pie is three times as fattening as an eight-ounce potato, a doughnut twice as fattenning."

4. The working housewife. "She dashes home at 6 o'clock and hurries to get a meal ready for her husband. She doesn't have time to peel potatoes."

Nevertheless, Case is sure potatoes are making a comeback. The chart doesn't show it, but consumption has crept up to 105 pounds per capita.

Case believes that modern health studies, which show so many poorly developed youngsters, will mean more potatoes for youngsters of the future. He also believes the potato may be the best line of defence against starvation in case of an atomic war.

"Potatoes can be grown in every state," he said. "They're also the one crop that's hard to destroy. Invaders can burn storage places and destroy the grain, but they can't plow up all the potatoes."

REAL-LIFE WHODUNIT
Windsor Star

Mystery story writers have resorted to rare poisons and odd extermination measures to remove expendable characters, often overlooking the fact that less elaborate devices can be just as mystifying.

One of these has turned up in Quebec, in investigation of a guided missiles expert's death. Investigation showed he had been kicked on the head by a horse.

This proof involved laboratory tests on iron and rubber shoes worn by horses in the enclosure where the fatally injured man's body was found. This scientific examination showed the iron shoe was to blame, a deduction which doubtless would have pleased Sherlock or Hawkshaw no end.

Whether investigators would have suspected a horse's kick as a possible cause of death, had those animals not been in the neighborhood we may never know.

The sleuths will make no damaging admissions along that line, having sense enough to stop while they're ahead.

SHORT-GRAINED MEN
Windsor Star

Out in the countryside there is a descriptive phrase for a quick tempered man. He is "short-grained." And that hasn't anything to do with cereals.

It rather is derived from wood. Wood with a short grain is brittle and breaks easily. Thus the man whose temper break quickly is "short-grained."

Baseball players know something about the grain in wood. If they hold the bat the wrong way it is apt to break. That is because the ball hits it "against the grain" rather than with it. In rural areas something "against the grain" is conducive to loss of temper.

The expert axeman makes his work easier by splitting wood "with the grain." The grain running up and down a block of wood makes it fall apart at the sharp blow of the axe. If you are breaking a piece of wood, break it against the grain; if splitting it, split with the grain.

COMMUNISTS ON THE MARCH
Ottawa Journal

The biggest Canadian ensigns we have ever seen carried in a parade were borne by Labor Progressive party paraders before the Peace Tower, preceding banners which said that Canada should build the St. Lawrence Seaway alone.

The honored emblems of Canadian independence, flown before the home of Parliament in what the Communists would like to have thought an hour of crisis, attracted no interest from Ottawa people who took in their stride the direful prospect of Canada not being able to spend hundreds of millions of dollars to duplicate an American canal system all along the river.

The flags, we thought, were not in happy company. The men had a slouching gait, they walked with half-smoked cigarettes in their months, and each had one hand to hold a propaganda banner and one hand for a pocket. The women marching with them were well-dressed and plump.

Apart from the cruelty to the weary flags the parade was dull and silly. The tourists paused and wondered and so, in truth, did we.

THE MATURE PARENT

ASKING CHILD TO AGREE WITH ALL OUR ACTIONS IS MISTAKE

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

At the age of two, Tim had a certain opinion about puddles. He thought it was good to splash in them. So one morning after rain had made one in the hole Daddy had dug for new berry bushes, Tim splashed in it.

He was banging it into fountains when his mother opened the kitchen door. She ran to him and snatched him from the puddle.

But she was not satisfied with controlling his actions toward puddles. As she unbuckled his overalls, she demanded he share her opinion that splashing in puddles is a bad thing, indeed.

It went on like that. Tim's mother just couldn't content herself with control of his action. She had to feel herself in control of his mind.

Then one day when he was four, two neighborhood children came to play jet pilot in the big wooden crate set out in Tim's yard. When his turn came to pilot, his guests shoved him away. They said, "Aw, go in to your mother; you don't know how to fly this plane."

And after another push, Tim obeyed them. He went into the house where his mother found him at a window, watching others enjoy themselves at his expense.

That night she complained to his father about his "submissiveness' to other children. She began to say irritably to Tim himself, "Stop letting other children walk all over you! Don't you know how to fight for yourself?"

How could Tim possibly know how to fight for himself? Hasn't he for years been trained to respect all opposing opinion? How could he possibly fight opposers of his wish to pilot his crate?

It is a great mistake to ask small children to agree with every action we have to take toward them. They do not have the experience to understand why we remove them from puddles and deny candy between meals.

Our premature demands for their agreement with our point of view simply make for frightened submission and dependence on other people's opinions.

We demand their agreement because we ourselves are dependent. We want his admission that we are right. We are working out an old, old fear of criticism.

To be able to take action toward children without forcing them to agree that it is right represents our independence. It means that we trust ourselves enough to be capable of settling the goodness of what we do within ourselves.

'CARELESS' PLAYS REAP A HARVEST

Today's hand was played at the same contract in both rooms of a recent team match. In both cases, moreover, West opened the jack of clubs against the final contract of four hearts. The resemblances ended there.

In the first room, declarer played the queen of clubs from the dummy at the first trick. East won with the ace and studied the dummy thoughtfully before deciding on his return. The trumps seemed solid, and the spades seemed threatening. It looked like the time to grab tricks on the run, so East shifted to a low diamond.

East's judgment was, of course, perfectly correct. West won the second trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the suit whereupon the defenders took three diamond tricks to defeat the contract. If East had returned anything else, South would have made his contract without much trouble.

In the second room, declarer foresaw that the diamond shift would defeat him if he allowed nature to take its course. He therefore, "carelessly" played the low club from the dummy at the first trick instead of covering with the queen or king.

West should have been suspicious of this unusual play, but he blithely continued with another club. This allowed South to ruff out the ace of clubs, draw trumps and discard a diamond on the king of clubs. When the finesse for the queen of spades later succeeded, South's contract was home.

A more expert West might have shifted to a new suit at the second trick, but he might lead spades rather than diamonds. At best, West would have a guess, whereas East would have a near certainty.

Urges Greater Use Of Lime As Soil Improver

On the Macdonald College broadcast yesterday W. G. MacDougall, county agriculturist, spoke on "Lime and Fertilizers." The script, prepared by Professor W. D. Long, quoted an old British saying "Lime and lime without manure, makes both the farm and farmer poor."

In dealing with the subject of lime and fertilizers, Mr. MacDougall asked a series of questions and gave the answers: Is lime a plant food? Lime is rarely needed by crop plants as food. Essentially, lime is a sweetener, it removes soil acidity. Then Mr. MacDougall posed the question: What does lime do? It prepares the way, according to the speaker, for larger crop production by making conditions more favourable for the microbial life in the soil.

Another question is "Is liming good business?"

The agriculturist said "A ton of limestone costs little as compared to a ton of commercial fertilizer. Clearly, it is good business to spend a little for lime in order to get more value from the fertilizer."

Is lime with manure enough? It must be emphasized that the best results obtained from experiments carried out by Macdonald College at Sawyerville over a period of fourteen years, were obtained from the lime-manure-fertilizer combination. There is no doubt the relatively poor yields obtained from the lime plus manure treatment were due to the fact that the acid soils of the Townships are poor suppliers of phosphate to crops.

The return of farm manure to the land, explained Mr. MacDougall, is one way to prevent the soil from becoming too low in humus. "As a matter of fact, healthy, vigorous sod crops may be equally or more effective in this respect.

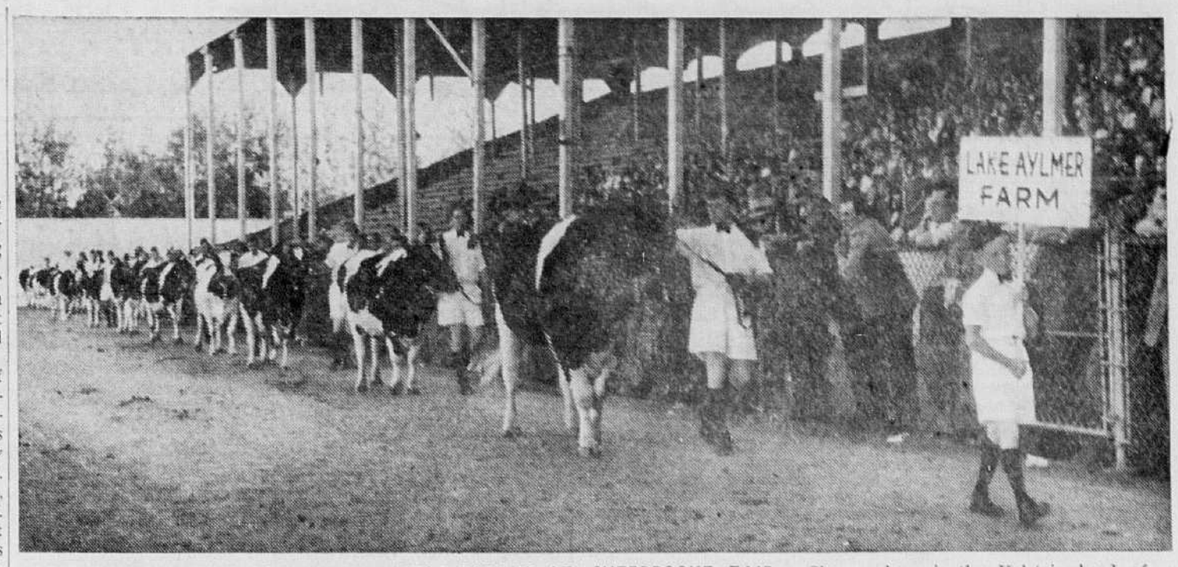

"Two methods are available for the maintenance of the humus content of the soil, the return of farm manure to the land, and the use of commercial fertilizers. The intelligent use of fertilizers results in larger crop residue, that is an increase in the roots and stubble left in and on the land to form humus."

On the other hand, Mr. MacDougall warned "the unintelligent use of fertilizers without attention to the humus supply can be disastrous."

Queer Balloon Appears Over E. T. Districts

"What do you know about a strange object hovering high in the air to the west?" a voice wanted to know. Further questioning soon revealed that the voice was Lennoxvillian.

As it turned out, this was the first we had heard about a "strange" aerial object.

"It's very bright," the voice went on, "and seems to be changing shape all the time. I first noticed it about 7 p.m., and thought it was a star of some kind, but it's much too big for that. It's sort of oblong, and shining quite brightly."

The voice left the phone to see if the object was still there outside its window. "Yes, it's still there," the voice returned, "but fading rapidly."

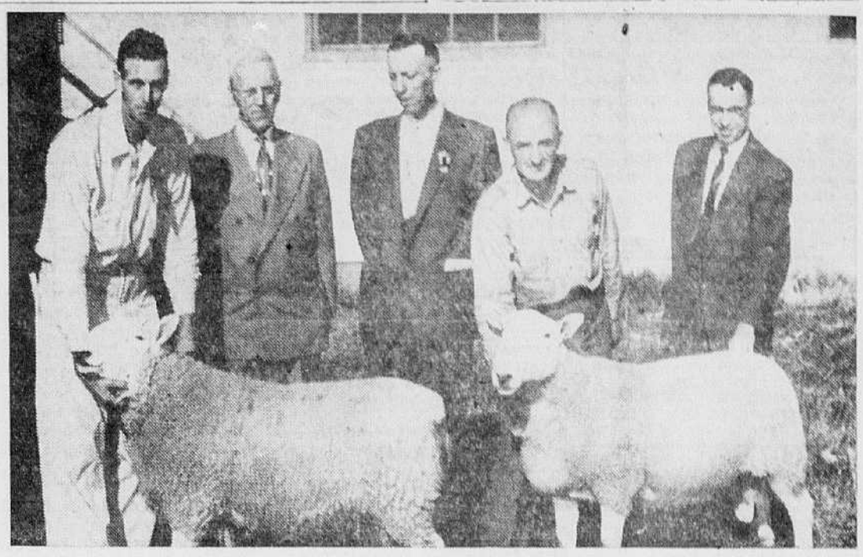

All of this sounded like another "flying saucer" story, but like most of the others, there was a logical explanation for this strange sight.

Montrealers early yesterday morning saw the same object, and two Canadair jets dispatched to examine the intruder established that it was not a flying saucer, but a tremendous weather balloon. It followed motorists along the Montreal-Sherbrooke highway all yesterday afternoon, arriving within sight of Sherbrooke residents in the early evening.

Weather officials at Dorval, McGill Observatory, Maniwaki and Maine all disclaimed ownership on the grounds that their balloons could all be accounted for.

But the shining balloon continued to hover in plain sight about 75,000 feet above the ground.

The blame was put tentatively on Minneapolis which has been sending up balloons at the rate of 35 a day. Some of them have floated as far as Africa, where natives, having no phones, and presumably ignorant of "flying saucer" rumors, have passed little comment on them.

Urges Closer Agriculture-Urban Action

Those who attended the banquet given yesterday noon for Provincial authorities and the industrial exhibitors were told by the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Laurent Barre, that those who till the soil and those who work in industry are complementary to each other and that one could not live without the other. He urged a closer co-operation between the two.

Mr. Barre was one of the three members of the Provincial cabinet on hand for Provincial day at the Sherbrooke Fair. The others were Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests and Hon. Antoine Elie, Minister without Portfolio. J. Denis Gerin, M.L.A. for Stanstead, was also present for the dinner.

Mr. Barre, speaking in both English and French, outlined the purposes of a Fair, and he told the large gathering that Fairs, such as the one at Sherbrooke, served to promote better relations between the farmer and the industrial worker, something which would go towards the betterment of the Province, the people and the country.

The guests were given a word of welcome by the President of the ETAA, Dr. L. A. Gendreau.

Stores Open To Battle Food Crisis

Boston —(AP)— Governor Christian Herter has waived the Massachusetts Blue Laws with an executive order which permits retail stores to remain open Sunday and Labor Day to meet the growing food crisis resulting from the hurricane which battered New England Tuesday.

In an unprecedented executive order Thursday night, Herter authorized "all purveyors of perishable foodstuffs" to remain open on Sunday and the Monday holiday. It was estimated 2,000,000 persons were still without power today.

Tons of foodstuffs were spoiled in refrigerators that have been powerless since the hurricane struck, but state officials said loads of dry ice flown in from other states are helping to keep dairies, packing houses and storage plants "in excellent shape."

Meanwhile, fear mounted today that the hurricane death toll might reach 66. A coast guard report said that there has been no sign of the New Bedford fishing boat Red Start with 11 men aboard, last reported Tuesday battling 65-foot waves in Nantucket waters.

President Eisenhower, in making Massachusetts and Rhode Island eligible for disaster relief, said he is holding up a decision on how money will be allocated.

Cost Of Living Highest Since January Of 1952

Ottawa —(CP)— The consumed price index made its biggest monthly jump in 2½ years during July, rising by four-fifths of a point to 117, the highest level of the cost-of-living barometer since January, 1952.

It was the third consecutive monthly rise in the index and the sharpest rise since October, 1951, when the index also jumped by four-fifths of a point, the bureau of statistics reported today.

In the index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, the jump was almost entirely due to higher food prices. Higher were potatoes, beef, lamb, eggs, citrus fruit, tea and most canned goods. Only food prices showing drops were other fresh vegetables and pork.

Rents and home-ownership costs also continued their steady rise. Other price jumps showed for hospital services in several cities, as well as newspaper rates in Ottawa.

Countering these were lower gasoline prices for 21 cities mostly in Eastern Canada.

Living costs had been easing off earlier in 1954 but the trend was reversed in May when the index jumped by three-fifths of a point. In June, the index rose only by one-tenth of a point and it appeared that the rise would be short-lived.

However, in July, the big jump in food prices, accompanied by the usual rise in rents, caused the index to soar to the third highest point in history.

It compared with the second highest level of 117.6 in January, 1952, and the peak of 118.2 in December, 1951.

The food sub-index jumped by 2.3 points to 114.4, a 10-month high. The shelter column, which covers rents and home-ownership costs, rose by two-fifths of a point to a new high of 127.

Also up to a new high was the miscellaneous column "other commodities and services," which edged ahead by a tenth of a point to 117.7. Hospital costs were up and so were newspaper rates in Ottawa.

The clothing column remained unchanged at 109.6, well below the peak of 115.2 in November, 1951, while the household operations column also remained unchanged at 117.2, just nine-tenths of a point below the peak of 118.1 last March.

However, wholesale prices eased during August, perhaps an indication of lower retail prices ahead. The index of industrial materials, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, dropped to 222.7 on Aug. 27 from 223.3 on July 30. The Canadian farm products index, also based on 1935-39 prices, declined to 206.9 from 211.5.

Moderate declines for hogs, beef hides, raw rubber, raw sugar, tin, raw cotton, western wheat, domestic copper, iron ore and bleached sulphite pulp overbalanced rises for western oats, fir timber, rosin, steers and domestic lead.

In the farm index, the main weakness was in the animal products group which showed lower prices for hogs, lambs, western calves, eggs, poultry and eastern cheese milk. Steers and eastern calves were higher.

Junior Drivers Given Advice On Holiday Travel

The teen-age automobile driver has been a target for adult criticism for a good many years now —often unjustly. A particularly sore spot with the kids is the grown-up practice of indiscriminately charging them with being reckless auto drivers. Most teeners feel that it's only the few bad drivers who give the rest a bad name.

Well, a cross-country survey of licensed 'teen-age drivers in the United States, made by Fact Finders Associates, Inc., seems to back them up somewhat. Most of them, it indicates, are a lot more careful than they are credited with being. Seventy percent of those polled, for example, had never been involved in a motor accident, and 82 per cent of the teen drivers who were in accidents were not blamed for the mishaps.

On the other hand, because their reflexes are quicker and their minds more alert, many 'teen-agers apparently do take more chances on the highway than adult drivers. Thus several teen-agers queried in the survey admitted that they sometimes travel at high speeds. One boy admitted to driving at 120 miles per hour, for example.

Highest speed driven by any girl interviewed was 110 miles per hour. Also, 13 per cent of the teen drivers admitted to being "hot-rodders". And, of course, insurance statistics show that under-25-year motorists are responsible for a high percentage of highway accidents. A National Safety Council study for 1953, covering 26 states, revealed that 13 per cent of all drivers involved in fatal accidents were under twenty years of age.

With Labor Day weekend just over the horizon, safety experts think young drivers should be informed of the safety pointers advocated for adults. Here they are, kids. If you will observe them perhaps the highway fatality toll over the coming weekend will be less than the 76 recorded over the long First of July holiday.

2. Pull off the road every couple of hours for a cup of coffee or some other alertness beverage.

3. If you're planning to travel for several hours a day, don't insist on doing all the driving. Let another driver spell you occasionally.

4. Don't be a bumper-rider. It's a good idea to stay 100 feet behind the preceding car, according to the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

5. Always stop driving if you feel tired. A U. S. government study has shown that fatigue was a factor in 37 per cent of approximately 350 accidents studied.

6. Don't think you always have to go as fast as the law allows. Sometimes it's smarter — and safer — to travel below the speed limit. Be guided by conditions at the time.

7. On long trips bring along a thermos bottle of hot coffee — it may come in handy if you're travelling at night, or in remote areas, where restaurants are few and far between.

Amersham, England — (CP) — Poultry-keeper in this Buckinghamshire village are keeping watch for a fox that makes daylight raids. One of the owners, Mrs. Mary Grove, reported the fox had raided her pens between feeding times.

Thinks Little Of Seaway Plan

Rochester, N.Y. — (CP) — L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, says many of his countrymen did not "think too highly" of the last-minute decision by the United States to participate in the St. Lawrence seaway.

But the Canadian government considered co-operation with the U. S. a "better way of reconciling national interests and good neighborhood" than to build a competing seaway on its own or to follow other alternatives.

Pearson listed these as the building of canals in the international section of the river to compete with U. S. canals, with refusing to proceed with the seaway in Canadian territory, making any American canals useless.

The Canadian minister spoke Thursday night at the closing session of the United States-Canadian economic conference sponsored by the University of Rochester.

Pearson said Canada's attitude on the seaway project was an example of the Canadian government's recognition that its "own interests are likely to be best served by policies which do not ignore the interests of our friends and which are based on the freest possible relations with other countries."

He also said that the balance of forces abroad in favor of major progress toward a freer system of trade and payments is "a precarious one" and that North Americans must be willing to extend their co-operation if favorable progress is to continue.

Have you made the BLACK MASK test?

Ask a friend to pour you a glass of the ale or beer you're in the habit of drinking, and a glass of Carling's Black Label Lager.

Put on a blindfold or a Carling's Black Mask. Then sip each drink in turn, until you've decided which of the two you prefer.

Didn't one taste smoother, mellower, more satisfying? We'll bet it was Black Label. But if it wasn't, your money will be refunded.

Money Back Guarantee: Send in the bottle label, with your name and address, to The Carling Breweries Limited, Montreal, and your money will be refunded.

CARLING'S BLACK LABEL LAGER BEER

You can bet your bottom dollar on Chevrolet price! economy! performance! appearance!

Buy it for less! But as important as price is, don't overlook Chevrolet value — for Chevrolet stands unchallenged in all the important advantages of modern motor car travel. Visit your local Chevrolet dealer and see how this is the one car that will exactly fit your family's needs—and your family's budget.

• • •

Compare Chevrolet economy. Ask yourself: "What's the car's reputation? How is it on gas? On oil? On service?" It stands to reason that the car with the highest reputation in these vital ways would be in greatest demand . . . and Chevrolet has been first in demand — first in sales — for over two decades.

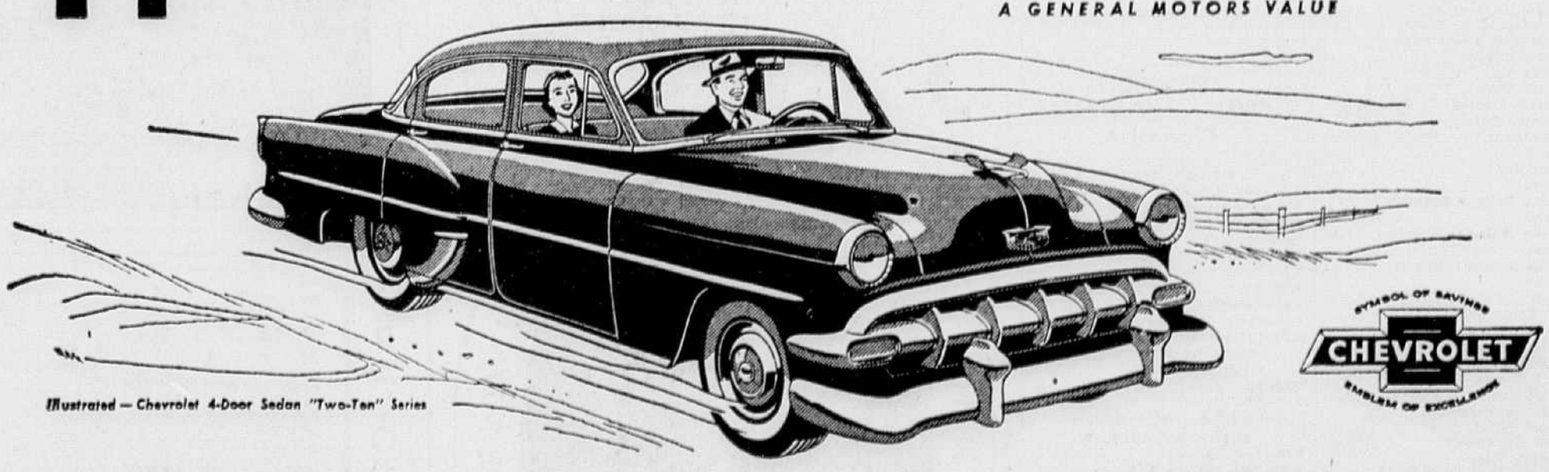

• • •

We leave this up to you. Visit your local Chevrolet dealer and Road-Test Chevrolet's smooth and instant response. Test it in the traffic, on the highway, on steep hills. You'll agree that high compression, valve-in-head power can't be beaten — and only Chevrolet has it in the low priced field.

• • •

Let your own eyes tell you about Chevrolet's fine car beauty. And remember! Underneath that gleaming finish and sweeping style is famous Body by Fisher. That's your guarantee not only of lasting good looks, but of greater comfort, safety, and quality, also. See Chevrolet at your local dealer's today.

MARRIAGES

McCABE—GUNTER

Richmond, Que., Sept. 3.—St. Anne's Anglican Church, Richmond, Que., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, June 26, at half past two o'clock, when Virginia Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Gunter, of Richmond, became the bride of Mr. John G. McCabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. McCabe, of Richmond, the Rev. George Harrington officiating. Miss Norma Knowles, of Melbourne, Que., played the wedding music and the soloist was Mr. Clarence Ginn of Richmond, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register. The altar was decorated with baskets of mauve and white daisies, pink peonies, spirea and pink and yellow gladioli, while the pews reserved for the guests were marked with white satin ribbon and bridal wreath.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a strapless floor-length gown of white imported Rose Point Chantilly lace, having a fitted bodice and lace jacket with Queen Anne collar and long sleeves ending in points over the hands, the skirt of several tiers of lace over net falling into a short train. Her fingertip-length veil of nylon and tulle embroidered with love knots and rhinestones was held by a coronet of pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Better Times roses, baby's breath and split carnations, with a bow of white tulle. Her only ornaments were silver earrings and necklace, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Leonard Knowles of Trenholm, Que., as matron of honor for her sister, wore a floor-length gown of pale yellow net, fashioned with a strapless bodice and lace panel down the front, with a lace jacket having elbow-length sleeves and short matching mitts. She wore a coronet of sequin trimmed yellow net and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses with a bow of yellow lace.

Mrs. George Lovett, Jr., of Richmond, and Miss Oliver Gunter of Lisgar, Que., cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids, were dressed alike in floor-length mauve net gowns fashioned with strapless bodices with matching stoles, and elbow length mitts to match. The full skirts were made of pointed flounces over taffeta and they wore matching coronets and carried Colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Miss Judy Gunter, sister of the bride, and Miss Carol Bracey, of Dunham, Que., cousin of the bride, were flower girls and they wore identical full skirted frocks of green net over taffeta with trimmings of white Chantilly lace with clusters of small flowers and sashes at the waist. Their headdresses were bandeaux of pink Sweetheart roses, and they carried nosegays of matching Sweetheart roses tied with green tulle.

Mr. George Lovett, Jr., acted as best man for Mr. McCabe, and the ushers were three brothers of the bride, Messrs. Clifford, Douglas and Garry Gunter.

Mrs. Gunter, mother of the bride, wore a street-length strapless dress with matching bolero of Wedgwood blue taffeta, a black picture hat with black accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. McCabe, mother of the groom, was in a two-piece dress of powder blue crepe and she wore a white hat, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow tea roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, College Hill, where one hundred and fifteen guests were present. Summer flowers were used to embellish the rooms, and the bride's table, covered with an Irish linen cloth and centered with the three-tier wedding cake, was decorated with roses and baby's breath in silver bowls, and lighted with white tapers in silver holders.

Later Mr. and Mrs. McCabe left on their wedding trip to Atlantic City, New York City and other points, the bride choosing for travelling a summer suit of rose wool shantung and she wore a white French model hat with blue accessories, and a corsage of yellow honeymoon roses.

Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bracey, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bracey, Miss Carol Bracey, Mr. Milton Bracey, Dunham; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Windell, Knowlton; Miss Eileen Brady and Mr. and Mrs. John McCabe, Windsor Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castello, Mrs. Margaret Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bishop, Miss Anna Morrison, Miss Rita Robinson, Miss Joyce Emerson, Miss Jacqueline Legendre, Asbestos; Mr. and Mrs. George Horan, Danville; Mr. Jack McGuinty, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gunter and Mr. Allan Gunter, Lisgar; Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Roy, Mrs. Orin Taylor, Sherbrooke; Mr. Allan Banfill, Drummondville; Mr. and Mrs. William Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Knowles and family, Trenholm; Mrs. Hubert Bracey and son, Kenneth, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Alexander, Melbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Wade Gifford, Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. McCabe are residing on Adam Street, Richmond, Que.

MR. and MRS. JOHN G. McCABE photographed with their attendants as they left St. Anne's Anglican Church, Richmond, Que., following their marriage which took place Saturday afternoon, June 26. The bride formerly Miss Virginia Marguerite Gunter, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Gunter, of Richmond, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. McCabe, also of Richmond.

MODERN LIVING

RUTH MILLET

ON REACHING MIDDLE AGE, AVOID MIDDLE-AGED THINKING

A couple can be middle-aged in years without falling for a lot of middle-aged ideas.

Keeping up with the Joneses is a middle-aged idea. Young couples have their own dreams. But once they hit the middle years too many couples trade what they want for trying to get what others have.

Losing interest in making new friends is another middle-aged mistake. Once they have their own tight little circle of friends a lot of middle-aged couples never put themselves out to make new friends and enjoy the stimulation of association with new personalities.

Never really talking with each other is another habit of a lot of middle-aged husband and wives. Because they have quit discussing their own dreams and ambitions and beliefs with each other, each feels lonely and shut out, and instead of trying to make themselves understood, they just assume that all marriages eventually settle down to what theirs has become.

Don't Lose Sight of Future

Losing sight of future goals can also happen to the middle-aged. They have their children, their home and the husband is probably well set in his life's work, so they drift along aimlessly, thinking that if they are saving a little money they are looking to the future.

Letting themselves go is a kind of laziness that overtakes some couples in their middle years.

It is far healthier for a husband and wife to let each other know they still care about the other's looks than to slip into the habit of not caring.

Middle age is a good time of life for the couple who can steer clear of middle-aged thinking.

Annual Four-Day Brome County Fairs Opening On Sunday

Horse Show On Opening Days Offers Major Attraction To Brome Visitors

Hailed as one of the greatest small fairs in Eastern Canada, the annual Brome Fair, sponsored by the Brome County Agricultural Society, will officially open its gates to the public for a four-day stand on Sunday.

Situated in one of the richest dairy-farming areas of the Province, the Brome Fair boasts of one of the best exhibits of pure-bred cattle to be seen anywhere in the district. And being one of the last fairs of the Eastern Townships circuit, the Brome Exhibition can also offer one of the best shows of flowers and vegetables, which have a greater opportunity of maturing in the few extra days provided by the lateness of the fair.

In keeping with the growing interest in fancy and driving horses, which has been particularly noticeable in Brome and the adjoining counties, the opening day, Sunday, will be featured by a horse show to be held in the afternoon, while a special horse judging event is scheduled for Monday afternoon.

A total of $1,800 has been offered in purses for the three-day racing program which opens on Monday and continues through Tuesday and Wednesday, with six races being scheduled for each day.

A splendid program of free acts has been arranged to take place before the grandstand, including the famous Auger Trio, a high trapeze act which is performed 110 feet above the ground.

hen there will be the Ace Cycle family; the Great Valencia, a juggling act with fire cones; a magician and a novelty act.

And, of course, there will be the traditional midway, without which no fair is considered complete.

The Brome Fair has long had an enviable record for its livestock parades and this year the directors of the Society are confident that the display of the blooded cattle before the grandstand will be bigger and better than ever, with some of the best animals in the country participating.

During the past year, several extensive improvements have been made to the grounds and the buildings, giving the Brome Fair one of the most modern and best-equipped plants of any exhibition of its size anywhere.

Coupled with the ever-growing interest by the public in the fair, the directors are confident that the 1954 edition of the Fair will far surpass anything registered in the past, a belief that is founded upon the steady advances that have been made within recent years.

Brome Anglican Girls' Society Holds Meeting

Brome, Aug. 31—A meeting of the Anglican Girls' Society of St. John's Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gebbie with an attendance of ten members.

The president, Mrs. William Hamilton, opened the meeting and a business session followed. Mrs. G. E. Soles gave the treasurer's report.

The group discussed having a hot dish supper and there was some talk about revising the Brome cook book.

The next meeting will be held on September 15, at the home of the president, Mrs. Hamilton. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Gebbie.

Farm Forums Of Brome Operate Lunch Counter

One of the new features of the annual Brome County fair this year is the lunch booth being operated by the Brome County Farm Forum.

The both will be operated from Saturday until the close of the fair on Wednesday evening, with the members of the various booths in the county volunteering their services.

The proceeds from this booth will be devoted towards the furnishing of a room at the recently-completed Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital.

SWEETSBURG—

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Scott entertained at a party of twenty relatives and friends at a social evening and weiner roast one evening. Among those present were Mrs. Viola de la Mare, Mr. and Mrs. John de la Mare, Mr. Roger de la Mare, all of Sutton Junction; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Scott and daughter, of Waterloo; Mr. Ernest Scott and son, Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Scott and family, all of Cowansville and the Misses Helen, May and Frances Scott, of Scotsmore.

Mrs. Guy Craft entertained at a Canasta party one afternoon. Mr. Craft is superintendent of the Oklahoma Pipe Line Constructors.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robinson, of Granby, spent a day with their cousin, Miss Lora Robinson, at "Green Gables."

Mrs. J. Herbert McChlery spent the week-end at Dorval with her niece, Mrs. Garnet and family.

Mrs. Andy Anderson and son have returned to their home in Austin, Texas., after spending the summer at the Barre Apartment house, while Mr. Anderson acted as superintendent of welders on the Montreal-Portland Pipe Line, which is nearing completion of their repair job.

WATERLOO

Mrs. Robert Rowen, of New York, who is visiting her father and brother, Mr. Percy Boright and Mr. Charles Boright, was in Montreal, on Friday, to meet Mr. Rosvear, who will spend the week-end at the same home.

After spending her holidays here with relatives, Miss Edna Campbell, R.N., has returned to her duties in Utica, N.Y. On her return, by plane, Miss Campbell was accompanied by her niece, Miss Kathleen Campbell, who will visit relatives in Syracuse, Auburn and Vernon before returning home for school.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Garret Chapman, with her guest, Miss Kathleen Hughes, of Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frizzle and children, of Brome, spent the day in Newport, Vt.

While here to attend the burial service for Mr. Joseph Gingras, Q.C., of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Sylva LeBrun called on Miss Anne Lessard.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Pickford with their guests, Rev. and Mrs. Sidney Wood, of Montreal, visited mutual friends in Coaticook.

Mrs. Garret Chapman, with Miss Kathleen Hughes, of Montreal, were in Granby on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Stanley Shanks and three children and Mr. Fred Neil, all from Granby, were calling on Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Grenier, on Tuesday evening.

Friends from Waterloo who attended the official opening of the new wing of the Wales Home, Richmond, were Miss Nettie Galbraith, Mrs. Lena Lowry, Mrs. Alan Lawrence, Miss Edith Hanna and Mrs. Kenneth Beckus.

Mrs. H. D. Wells has returned from Sydney, C.B., where she had been visiting her son, Mr. John Wells, and their two children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dandurand and children, Raymond and Marie, from Montreal, were weekend guests of Miss Annie Lessard.

Mr. R. F. Shaw accompanied his son, Mr. George E. Shaw of Montreal, on a business trip to Valcourt, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Hannibal Scott, formerly of Foster, who, for sometime has been in Ste. Margaret's Home, Westmount, has taken up residence at the Furlong Rest Home, Foster Square. Mr. Furlong and Miss Edith Mairs were in Montreal on Friday to accompany Mrs. Scott to Waterloo, where her numerous E. T. friends may be able to call on her.

Mr. Everett Arnott, of the local Canadian Bank of Commerce staff, was called to Mansonville as relieving teller during the holidays.

While in Waterloo, on Friday, Mrs. W. C. Henderson, of Sherbrooke and Libby's Lake, called on Mrs. S. J. Irwin.

Mrs. Ruth Chaddock spent a day in Derby Line, Vt., where she visited her sister, Mrs. George P. Ames and Mr. Ames.

While visiting Mrs. George Neil and other relatives in town, Mrs. Ulric Young, of Saskatoon, Sask., was guest of honor, on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. W. S. Arnott, Allen street. Many of her friends and members of Beaver Chapter, No. 7, O.E.S., were present to meet a former Worthy Matron of the chapter. Two others were unable to be present, Mrs. Charles W. Candlish and Mrs. Percy Boright, who is ill. At the conclusion of a happy hour of reminiscing, refreshments were served by Mrs. Arnott.

After enjoying a holiday at Waterloo Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Taylor and family, Mrs. Susan Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Taylor and three children, are all spending the week at their Montreal homes, but will return to Waterloo for the Labor Day week-end.

On Friday evening Mrs. Arthur Courtemanche entertained over thirty friends in compliment to her guest, Mr. R. F. Shaw, who on that date, was observing his ninety-third birthday. Among those present were his son, Mr. George E. Shaw, Mrs. Shaw and their daughters, the Misses Allison and Frances Shaw, from Notre Dame de Grace. The guest of honor, who is known and esteemed by a very wide circle of acquaintances, was the recipient of countless letters, cards and messages.

Indians Divide With Miners; Meet Here Tonight At 8.00

Drop Opener 10-9 While Jack Bowes Blanks Krueger Crew 2-0 In Second; Meeting Called To Decide Playoffs

Weather permitting this evening the Sherbrooke Indians will play hosts to the Miners of Thetford in their final appearance of the schedule. The tilt is slated to commence at 8.00.

This evening the league officials will hold a special meeting to determine the dates for the playoffs and also the number of games for the various series. Tomorrow the Indians travel to St. Johns for an evening engagement and on Sunday they tangle in an afternoon fixture before returning home for a game under the lights.

The Indians' final home scheduled game of the season takes place Monday afternoon when the locals will play hosts to the Phillies of Three Rivers. The tilt is booked for 2.00 in the afternoon.

In Thetford Mines the teams divided their twinbill with the Miners winning the first 10-9 while the Indians copped the second when Jack Bowes shutout them 2-0 on a five-inning contest. Garry Kolod was the loser in the first game when the home club belted him for five runs in the opening inner. Manager Wylie took over and finished the tilt.

Bowes scattered five hits, struck out six men and issued only one base on balls. Loser Marty Saban also showed well, yielding only three safeties, fanning six and allowing three walks.

Sherbrooke scored its first-game runs in the second and fifth innings.

Falls Short

The Indians fell short with a three-run, final-inning rally in the first contest—a heavy-hitting battle. The Miners were ahead from the start, scoring five runs in the first.

Dick Sobeck whacked two homers for the winners while Bill Williamson and Ron Ryba hit for the circuit for Sherbrooke. Starter Luebke got the win. Garry Kolod was the loser.

In other contests, Johnny Stadnicki held St. Johns Canadiens to six hits as he pitched Quebec Braves to a 9-3 victory; Three Rivers Phillies shoved home two runs in the final inning to shade Drummondville Athletics 6-5.

Legion Takes Title In Softball League

The Legionaires won the championship of the Sherbrooke Softball League last Wednesday night when they defeated George MacDonald's No Claims team 12-3. Rudy Gamache's Legion squad took the title in four straight games, 8-7, 5-3, 8-3, and 12-3.

Winning pitcher Carmichael hurled a three-hitter, struck out eight and gave up only two bases on balls, while loser Gagne gave up 14 hits, eight free passes and struck out two.

Roger Bouchard led the attack of the winners with three doubles, while Gamache and Maurice Bouchard each collected two hits apiece.

Eddy Roby was the best for the losers and the umpires for the game were Red Roy, Leo Fournier and Emilien Hamel.

Three Rivers Get Three New Players

Three Rivers, Que.—(CP)—Three Rivers Reds who recently signed a working agreement with Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, have announced acquisition of three new players.

The new additionns to the Quebec junior amateur club are forward Allen Johnson, with St. Boniface Canadiens for the last three seasons, and defenceman Stan Rodeck and forward Stan Maxwell, last season with the now-defunct Montreal junior Royals.

At a press conference Thursday, Kenny Reardon and Sammy Pollock of the Canadiens announced plans to build the Reds up to a par with the other Quebec junior entries — Montreal Canadiens, Quebec Frontenacs and Jonquiere Marquis.

Fans Can Expect The Unusual As Canadian Football Heads Into 10-Game Labor Day Week-End Bill

Canada's football teams, already mixed up in one of those whacky seasons, swing into a 10-game schedule this Labor Day week-end. Expect the unusual.

All coaches across the country haven't made their final selections of United States imports yet, but fans already have been in on some of the most startling upsets in years, When the week-end is over, the experts may have an idea on how to call the winners.

The Western Interprovincial Football Union poses one of the toughest problems. Four games will go out west and there will be plenty of attention on little Eddie LeBaron and Calgary Stampeders, who have thrown some tremendous football at the opposition.

LeBaron, the 24-year-old Washington Redskins star who stands five-foot-eight in the quarterback pocket, burst into prominence in the Canadian game with Calgary's seldom-seen 41-0 and 34-0 victories over Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Saskatchewan Roughriders earlier this week. That makes the Stamps hot favorites to wallop British Columbia Lions in Calgary Saturday night.

In other WIFU games, the Roughriders and Blue Bombers, tied for first place with three wins apiece, meet in Winnipeg tonight.

On Monday it's Winnipeg at Regina and Vancouver at Edmonton Eskimos. The Eskimos and Lions have failed to win in two games. The Winnipeg- Saskatchewan encounter was originally scheduled for Saturday night. The Clubs agreed on the switch to give them an extra day's rest before they tangle in Regina.

In the Big Four Toronto Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats clash in a home-and-home series. They meet at Toronto Saturday and at Hamilton Monday. Montreal Alouettes, who pulled a surprise 24-6 victory over Tiger-Cats last Saturday, go against Ottawa Rough Riders twice—in Montreal Saturday and in Ottawa Monday.

Saturday's game at Montreal will be beamed into the United States over the NBC's coast-to-coast television network. It is the second such game carried by the NBC in its move to sell Canada's brand of football to American arm-chair quarterbacks and any others who get a kick out of the sport. Montreal will be blacked out but the game will be televised there Sunday on kinescope.

The other Big Four game Saturday will be televised by the CBC. Toronto will be blacked out.

Two games are scheduled in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. Sarnia Imperial are the hosts in both of them. Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen are at Sarnia Saturday and Toronto Balmy Beach are there Monday.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Hits 69th Homer Of Season To Tie All-Time Record

Rosewell, N.M. — (AP) — Joe Bauman, first baseman for Roswell of the class C. Longhorn League, Thursday night hit his 69th home run of the season, tieing the all-time record for organized baseball.

Bauman has four games left this esason in which he will try to break the record. His last came in the eighth innning of Thursday night's game with Midland, Tex., and lefty Ralph Atkinson of Midland gave up the hit.

The record was set by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis in 1933. It was tied by Bob Crues of Amarillo in 1949.

Bauman, 32, has never been out of the minors.

Greco Decisions Butcher In N.B.

Moncton — (CP) — Johnny Greco, 151, of Montreal, hammered out a 10-round unanimous decision over Emerson Butcher, 148, Chicago, in a listless fight before a small crowd here Thursday.

The fight had the fans clamor- both men seemed to hold back on their best chances.

In the six-round semi-final, Ted Doncater of Boston, won a unanimous decision over Gerald Fraser, Bridgewater, N.S.

THURSDAY'S STARS

Pitching

Russ Meyer, Brooklyn Dodgers, beat the Chicago Cubs, who once owned him, for the 16th consecutive time. The score was 10-2.

Yanks Make It Two Straight Over Indians; White Sox To Play Big Part In Determining A. L. Winner

The Brooklyn Dodgers are learning the hard way that a game won in April counts just as much toward the pennant as one in the September stretch drive.

The Dodgers open a three-game set with the first place New York Giants at the Polo Grounds, but even if they win these three they'll still be two percentage points short of the lead.

The Cleveland Indians probably would like to erase a pair of their opening week's losses, too. The Indians, leading the New York Yankees by 3½ lengths, open a three-game series in Chicago tonight. Chicago holds a 9-7 edge so far.

The White Sox maintain only a theoretical personal interest in the pennant race—they're 9½ behind with only 20 to play—but they will play an important part in determining the eventual winner. Six of their 20 are with Cleveland and two are with the Yankees.

Only four games were played in the majors Wednesday but two of them figured prominently in the flag chase. The Yankees edged Cleveland 3-2, cutting a full game off the Indians' margin. Brooklyn trounced Chicago 10-2, moving within 3 games of the idle Giants.

The Philadelphia Phillies shaded St. Louis 5-4 and Washington swamped Detroit 16-6.

In beating the Indians for the second time in three days, the Yankees packed all of their scoring into the sixth inning. Mickey Mantle slammed the first pitch into the seats for one run. A second scored on Andy Carey's sharp single after a two-base error by Vic Wertz and an intentional walk to Irv Noren. And the third run came home on another error by Wertz who knocked down Eddie Robinson's hot grounder but couldn't find the ball in time to make a play.

The Indians collected only three hits off Whitey Ford—homers by Sam Dente and Larry Doby and a single by Bobby Avila. The loss broke an 11-game winning streak for 20-gome winner Bob Lemon.

At Chicago Russ Meyer of the Dodgers tossed out his glove and the Cubs, as usual, tossed in the towel. Meyer, who toiled for the Cubs from 1946 through 1948, has beaten his old club 19 times since then and 16 in a row. Seven runs in the fourth inning helped Brooklyn end Chicago's seven-game winning streak. During the flurry Gil Hodges hit his 36th homer, with one aboard.

In Washington Mickey Vernon added three hits to his previous lifetime total of 1,999 and became the third active player to pass 2,000. The others are Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter. Roy Sievers broke the club's all-time home run record with his 23rd. He drove in seven runs in the slugfest.

Robin Roberts won his 19th game for the Phils as Harvey Haddix failed for the seventh time since July 30 to win his 16th. Stan Lopata's three-run homer helped Haddix to an early shower.

Ted Atkinson Rode His 3,000th Winner And Never Laid A Bet On Himself; Has Won $13,000,000

New York. —(AP)— A little 38-year-old man, who paid $1.50 to ride his first horse, today was in the three thousand winner class along with such turf greats as Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden and England's Sir Gordon Richards.

Ted Atkinson, a native of Canada, rode his 3,000th winner when he booted the Greentree Stable's Devastation to victory in the third race at Aqueduct Wednesday.

Sir Gordon's world record of 4,870 probably is beyond his reach as is Longden's American standard of about 4,400 but Ted is within striking distance of Arcaro, who has passed the 3,300 mark.

Ted recalled that in 1936, after he got a job as a stableboy with Greentree for $20 a month and keep, he went to a riding academy in the Bronx and paid $1.50 a ride for three or four outings.

"Just wanted to see how it felt to ride a horse," he said.

Since then he has been up on 18,114, not counting the many he exercised in the morning hours. In addition to his 3,000 winners, he has been second 2,546 times and third 2,263 times.

Wasn't Nervous

His mounts have won close to $13,000,000 and he has been paid more than a million dollars for his riding. He has been in the $100,000 class since 1946.

Ted said he wasn't especially nervous going to the post in Wednesday's third race even though he knew he might be the one.

The crowd of 18,539 was in a happy mood as Ted weighed in—all except one who yelled as Ted returned to the jockey room:

"Three thousand winners and I didn't bet on a damn one of them."

Who Will Win American Singles?

Forest Hill, N. Y.—(AP)—No less an authority than Walter Pate, the Davis Cup captain who brought the mug back to the United States from England in 1937 and Australia in 1946, refuses to venture a guess on who will win the National singles championship.

"Too many in and outers," said the grizzled veteran of the tennis wars today with a sad shake of his head. "Anyone of at least a half dozen players could win it.

"One day Lew Hoad beats Vic Seixas. Then the next day Seixas beats Hoad. That's what I mean. Ken Rosewall, Tony Trabert or Tom Brown. Any of them could come through. This Brown, now. He's a real dark horse."

Brown, the 32-year-old San Francisco lawyer, accomplished something of note Thursday when he eliminated the last of the foreign continent—except for the Australians — Sven Davidson of Sweden, who incidentally, holds the United States indoor title, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Only one quarter-final was slated for today. That pitted Hoad against champion Hamilton Richardson. Hoad, the No. 1 foreigner, made his bracket with a 6-3, 6-0, 6-4 victory over Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., Richardson advanced at the expense of Owen Williams of South Africa, 6-1, 6-2, 12-10.

PARADE HANOVER PAYS $120 ON STRAIGHT TICKET

Quinella In Third Is $82.20 For Second High Of Afternoon; Eight Classes Listed For Tomorrow Night

Parade Hanover, a bay gelding owned by W. Thompson of Drummondville and driven by W. Herbert, pulled the upset yesterday afternoon in the third race of the final card of the week racing at the Sherbrooke Fair. He paid the sum of $120 on a straight ticket, $20.60 to place and $6.30 to show.

The surprise win was caused when Lady Joset Ritz, owned and driven by J. Hauver of Waterloo, broke just before crossing the wire and was lapped by two horses. The judges placed him third putting Parade Hanover in first spot with Freda Harmony, the property of Coombs' Garage of Sherbrooke, taking second. Both horses had the pace-setter lapped.

The quinella in the third race paid the sum of $82.20 as the winner and Freda Harmony took over. In the other, in the seventh, the bettors collected $19.75 for their $2.00 investment. The next racing card to be presented by the Sherbrooke Racing Club will take place Saturday evening with the first class slated for 8:00, post time.

Icara, owned by Clifford Cameron of East Angus, copped the first half of the daily double, which paid $17.10, while in the second Sara Brooke won the second part of the combination. The fastest time of the afternoon was in the fourth when Eula Volo, with Lucien Denault driving, toured the mile in 2:11 to edge out a strong field.

Driver Denault also took the second half of the class when he staged a strong comeback in the last half coming from fifth position to cross the wire with a couple of lengths to spare. The second heat was two-fifths of a second slower than the first.

The top price for a show ticket was in the seventh when Miss Woodland, owned by Sonny Irving, finished third. The price was $19.75. The rest of the prices averaged the usual for the fair week, ranging around $5.00. No real upsets, outside of the third, were caused during the eight-class program as the bettors picked the favorites.

Al Lopez And His Indians Head For Chicago Still Confident Of Copping Pennant To Get Even With Yankees

New York—(AP)—Al Lopez and his band of league-leading Indians left for Chicago today still confident of winning the American League pennant and itching to "get even" with the New York Yankees in Cleveland.

The two successive lickings by the Yankees, slicing their once 5½-game margin to 3½, after capturing the first of the three-game series, did not seem to disturb Lopez too much. At least, not outwardly.

"I still feel we can hold the lead," the Cleveland pilot said following Thursday's 3-2 defeat. "I said after Tuesday night's victory, they can hurt us now but they can't kill us."

Reminded that the tough White Sox will furnish the opposition in six of Cleveland's remaining 21 games, Lopez said grimly:

'What's the difference whom we play? At this stage of the race they're all tough. We've just got to keep on winning, that's all."

"And about the Yankees?" he asked. "They've got to win more games than we do. And don't forget this either. They've still got two against us."

Except for repeating a remark he made following Wednesday's victory, Casey Stengel surprisingly had little to say about the pennant race.

"We're back in business, we're back in business," he told interviewers. "But we got to keep winning to stay in business."

Morland Family Wins Bruno Event

St. Bruno, Que — (CP) — The Morland family of North Bay, Ont., with a gross total of 337 won the N.A. Timmins Memorial Trophy Thursday while the Tildens of Montreal with a net total of 295 walked off with the Rankin trophy at the Canadian Father-and-Three Sons Golf Assosiation tournament at the Mount Bruno country club.

Eleven families took part in the event.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

Forest Hills — (AP) — A visitor to the national tennis championships was curious as to why Jaroslav Drobny, the man of many countries who beat the world's best in this year's Wimbledon classic, had not been invited to compete in the United States show piece.

"Oh, we invited him, all right," replied an official, ". . . but we couldn't offer him the kind of money he's making playing every week in one of those resort tournaments in Italy and France."

Did he mean to imply that a sterling amateur such as Drobny, holder of tennis' most coveted crown, actually placed a money value on his services?

$500 Per Week

"What do you think?" came the retort. "All we could offer him was the usual transportation and $15 per day. That isn't much of an inducement to a player who can demand and get up to $500 every week.

That was pretty blunt talk, coming from an official of the amateur game. He conceded this but added that maybe it was time the public knew more of what was going on in the net world.

"Let me tell you what happened in Italy this summer," he said. "They have a professional promoter, or enterpreneur, who puts on tournaments for all the big resorts. His name is Della Vida, and he also promotes boxing. What he does is get the Italian federation to sanction a tournament, and then he does the rest. He figures how much he can pay the players . . . and he goes out and gets them.

Wanted More Money

"Well, he had Fausto Gardini, the best of the Italian Davis Cup players, signed up for a tournament at Florence . . . the Davis Cup committee advised him he would be expected to do some playing for his country the same week as the Florence event, at the usual $15 per diem . . . wrote them—wrote, mind you—that he would be happy to play Davis Cup if they would only make up the loss he would incur by not playing at Florence. It put the officials on the spot. They had to suspend Gardini for six months, and it was rather difficult for them to explain without telling about the promotor.

"Some of our tournaments undoubtedly do slip money under the table to a few players, but at least we don't sanction the practice. We are in the game because we love it, and it costs some of us a lot of money."

Joe Black, Former Brooklyn Ace, Is Regaining Some Of His Old Form; Whips Chiefs; Wings Win

Joe Black, ace of the Brooklyn Dodgers' pennant-winning pitching staff in 1952, apparently has regained much of his old form—and that speaks well for Montreal Royals' chances of gaining second place in the International League pennant race.

Black struck out nine while scattering nine hits Thursday night as he hurled the Royals to a 6-4 win over the fourth-place Syracuse Chiefs. The victory kept the Royals within a game of the second-place Rochester Red Wings, who downed the league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 in the opener of a six-game home-and-home series. The Leafs lead Rochester by seven games.

Ottawa Athletics edged Buffalo Bisons 4-3, with Bob Trice hurling four-hit ball and winning the game with a homer in the 11th. Trice also opened a two-run rally in the eighth with a double.

Robert Ortiz drove in four runs, three with a homer, as Havana defeated Richmond 7-2 to remain in running for the last playoff spot. Joe Tesauro accounted for Richmond's runs with two doubles.

Black gave up only two walks in chalking up his 11th victory against nine defeat. Three of the Chiefs' runs came on homers by Don Richmond and Jack Lonnett, Dick Young also homered for the Royals.

Jack Faszholz had the Leafs shut out until the ninth, when Rochester needed two more pitchers to check a rally. Tony Jacobs finally retired the side with the bases loaded.

Five Tie For Lead In Rubber City Golf Tourney

Akron, Ohio — (AP) — The Rubber City open golf tournament goes into the second of four 18-hole rounds today.

The race for the $15,000 prize money opened with a bang Thursday over Firestone country club's hilly and heavily-forested 6,565-yard par 72 course, with 32 of the 115 starters breaking par and five of them winding up in a first-place deadlock at 67.

In the leadoff spot were Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan.; Doug Ford, of Kiamesha Lake; N.Y.; Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, Earl Stewart, the red-haired former intercollegiate champ from Dallas, Tex., and Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio.

Although the Sneads, Hogans, Toskis and Middlecoff's were missing from the field, there was plenty of talent close on the heels of the leaders. Jack Thompson of Canfield, Ohio, a newcomer to the professional field, was all alone at 68, but six were tied at 69 and 15 were bracketed at 70.

Sutton Garden Club Sponsors Regional Exhibition Of Quebec Gladiolus Society

Sutton, Sept. 3 — Sutton was honored on Saturday, August 28, when the Quebec Gladiolus Society held its regional exhibition here under the sponsorship of the Sutton Garden Club of which Herbert Call is president.

The event was held in the Curling rink and, quoting F. J. Coleman of Montreal, secretary of the Q.G.S. and supervisor of regional shows, there were more entries than in the two held recently in St. Hyacinthe and Granby. In all there were 32 exhibitors and 340 entries.

The entries in the decorative classes also proved to be very large, exceeding those at the Canadian Gladiolus Show in Toronto. The judges also found the quality of bloom to be very fine.

The members of the local garden club spent many days arranging the details of this event and at eight o'clock on Saturday morning the exhibitors started arriving and from then until late evening there was a hum of activity everywhere. All displays had to be ready for judging at 1 p.m. and watching these being prepared one was immediately struck with the feeling of satisfaction that comes with growing and tending flowers and of the feeling of friendship that prevailed in the exchange of ideas and friendly rivalry.

The doors were formally opened to the public at 2 p.m., when H. Call introduced Mayor Robert Miltimore and Joseph Deslieres, M.P. for Brome and Missisquoi counties, who welcomed the visitors and expressed the pleasure all felt in having such an exhibition in town. Mr. Jubian, vice-president of the Quebec Gladiolus Society, speaking in place of the president, also commented on the fine showing and congratulated the growers in the quality of the blooms.

The speakers platform had been attractively arranged with a background formed with the Union Jacks and a portrait of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, under which, on a table covered in royal blue, "Elizabeth the Queen" Gladiolus had been placed in silver baskets Small evergreen trees, flags and bunting completed the decorations elsewhere in the building.

Another feature of the exhibition was the annual Garden Club show which was held at the same time, featuring potted plants, cut flowers and floral displays. This also created a good deal of interest and quite keen competition was noted in several classes.

Also creating interest, especially among growers, was a display of very beautiful glads sent by Sydney Mode, Bonnie Brae Farms, Vankleek Hill, Ont. These were not entered for competition.

The officers and members of the Garden Club are very appreciative of the assistance given by the following business establishments, and organizations: The Cowansville Dairy for the loan of milk bottles to use in the displays, the churches and lodges for tables, Sutton Curling Club for the use of their building, the Protestant School Board for the portrait of the Queen, Howard Hastings for the public address system, and for any other assistance given by members and friends.

Farm Forums To Open Broadcasts On November 8

National Farm Radio Forum goes on the air with a broadcast November 8 on "Farm Forum in the Community," National Secretary Floyd Griesbach has announced.

"After fifteen years of practice the Forums have asked for a chance to have a look at themselves," Mr. Griesbach says. "What makes a good Forum, and how can it be of real value in the rural community — without raising the cry 'Too many organizations'? This is a real chance for our 1,200 Forums to take a long, hard look at themselves and the job they're doing."

Some 20,000 Canadian farm people will be meeting to discuss this and other topics every Monday night until the end of March. The important question "What is the Farmers' Share of the Consumer's dollar?" This will be followed on November 22 by a consideration of Farm Insurance.

Other Farm Forum topics in succeeding weeks will include "Getting Started" (December 13); "Agricultural Fairs" (January 10); "Producer Marketing" (January 24); "The Farmer and the Urban Worker" (February 21); and "The 40-Hour Week in Agriculture" (March 14).

All broadcasts will be heard on the Trans-Canada network of the CBC.

Labor Costs Are Chief Problem Of Agriculture

The Quebec Women's Institutes believe the lack of farm labor is one of the producer's most serious problems. This statement is made in the introduction to the brief submitted to the Heon Commission, which is now released for publication. The brief points out the great inequality between the income of the farmer and industrial worker and the former's inability to cope with the 40-hour week and the high wages demanded by labor today. The need for creating a better balance between the two economies, farming and industry, is stressed and the brief goes on to say, "The inability of farmers to maintain and enlarge equipment and to ensure a good standard of living is already affecting manufacturers and labor in every field."

The brief is compiled under the headings: Better methods of marketings, more understanding of buying on the part of consumers, more efficient methods of production, with special attention to milk and dairy products, meat, poultry and eggs, fruit and vegetables.

Recommendations for a comprehensive program relating to the teaching of agriculture in rural schools follow, and for more extension work and research in the field of agriculture.

Further recommendations are:

(1) Advertising and publicity about Quebec farm products be conducted by the Quebec government as an unbiased agent (leading to better understanding between producer and consumer).

(2) Guaranteed floor prices for farm products to enable farmers to make long term planning without fear of collapse in farm prices.

(3) Lower interest rates under the Farm Loan Act.

(4) More use of producer and consumer co-operatives (stressed as of great value).

(5) Legislation for compulsory pasteurization and labelling of all dairy products that are sold to the public (a necessary health measure).

(6) The appointment of a woman representative on the Dairy Industry Comission.

(7) A system of contributory government compensation for farm labour.

Marketing legislation especially designed to enable this province to work with others and to encourage international co-operation is urged, and concerted effort advocated on the part of farmers, government and people to find a solution to the problems now besetting both producer and consumer.

"We are confident," concludes the brief, "that this can be done by progressive action by the farmer, understanding from labour and industry, and legislation by government when necessary."

E. T. Ministers Participated In Induction

A large congregation braved a heavy rain on August 25th to attend the induction of their new minister, Rev. John Anderson, to Valcartier United Church. Members were present from Lorette ville and Portneuf, outside appointments of the charge.

The minister was inducted by Rev. C. J. Gustafson, chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery. Mr. Gustafson spoke of the friendliness and fellowship of this Presbytery and assured the congregation of the support and interest in their work, even though they were located at some distance from the centre of the Presbytery.

Rev. Colin West read the lesson and gave an address to the new minister in which he spoke of the minister as an ambassador of God and spoke of the preparation necessary for an effective ministry. Rev. Harold Boomhour of Ayer's Cliff, chairman of the pastoral relations committee, escorted the minister to the platform. Stuart Lavalee, clerk of session, received the minister on behalf of the congregation. Mr. Anderson then made his responses and was formally inducted and brought to the pulpit. Previously Mr. Boomhour had delivered the address to the congregation.

Rev. John Anderson has been doing post-graduate work while supplying at Oka. He succeeds the Rev. K. T. Smits. Following the induction service refreshments were served in the church hall by the ladies of the congregation.

Higher Profits Registered By Power Company

The financial report of Power Corporation of Canada, Limited for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954 shows gross revenue of $2,488,795. Net profit was $1,739,971, and after deducting dividends totalling $600,000 on the 6% cumulative participating preferred stock ($50 par), the balance of $1,139,971 was equal to $2.37 per share on the common stock, against $2.20 last year.

Dividends totalling $2.00 per share were paid on the common stock during the year, compared with $1.85 last year. During the year the outstanding common shares were increased by 24,080 to 480,941, due to conversion of $752,500 4½% 1968 convertible debentures at the rate of 16 shares per $500 par value debentures.

The combined value of the company's investments in and advances to subsidiary and affiliated companies and other investments, based on available market prices or estimated values, totalled $49,359,434 as at June 30, 1954, against a book value of $35,098,443; comparable figures for the previous year were $42,319,030 and $34,087,899, respectively. The market value of $49,359,434, plus current assets and after deducting debentures of $6,519,500, the preferred stocks totalling $10,000,000 and current liabilities, leaves an equity of $32,694,997, equal to about $68 per share on the common stock, as against $55 last year.

The investment reserve at $7,453,533 shows an increase of $484,657 over last year. It is understood that since the close of the fiscal year the market value of the investments has increased by approximately $2,500,000.

Since the close of the fiscal year the directors have authorized redemption of the outstanding 50,000 6% first preferred shares ($100 par) on October 15, 1954, at $110 per share plus 25c accrued dividend to redemption date. On July 23, 1954 the shareholders approved a by-law authorizing creation of 300,000 first preferred shares of $50 par value, issuable in one or more series, the first series to consist of 120,000 4½% cumulative redeemable first preferred shares, which will be issued and sold upon confirmation by supplementary letters patent and the proceeds applied to redemption of the outstanding 6% first preferred shares.

The company had an active year in construction and engineering work, including completion of construction of the Aberfeldie Dam for the East Kootenay Power Co., Limited, and starting of construction on a 35,000 h.p. extension at the Quinze power development of Northern Quebec Power Co., Limited. The activities of the subsidiary and affiliated companies show increased kilowatt-hour output and an increase of 28,757 in customers served.

The annual general meeting of Shareholders will be held at Room 102, 355 St. James Street West, Montreal, on September 24th, at 11.30 a.m.

Closing Party Of Y. W. C. A. Camp Members

A large group of parents and friends attended the closing party of the Y. W. C. A. Stay-at-Home camp at the McKinnon Memorial building, 300 Montreal St., on Friday afternoon, August 27. The camp has been in progress during the month of August under the direction of Miss Isabelle Hyndman, assisted by Miss Susan Batrie and Mrs. Carl Beaubin, with three junior counsellors: Miss Margreta Allen, Miss Jenny Beaulieu and Miss Joyce Turgeon.

The programme began at three o'clock when Miss Hyndman welcomed the guests and expressed the campers' pleasure at the large attendance. She explained that a programme similar to the usual daily one would be carried out. The campers began by singing hymns and saying the Lord's Prayer. This was followed by a singsong and a square dance "Jimmy crack corn." Mr. Norman Tracy, who has been playing the piano for the girls during camp, then gave a piano solo.

The next item on the program was a surprise to both campers and guests. Miss Hyndman appeared in the dress of an Indian chief of the Caughnawaga tribe, carrying a peace pipe. The campers formed a pow-wow circle and smoked the peace pipe, thus burying the hatchet between the warring tribes of Blackfeet and Crees, into which the campers had been divided. "Y" crests were presented to the winning Blackfeet tribe, and honorary "Y" membership cards to the three junior counsellors.

The highlight of the afternoon was a swimming show in which beginners, juniors, intermediates and seniors all took part and displayed their various skills. The children deserve praise for their progress in this department as they worked very hard and faithfully.

The program ended with the serving of punch and cookies, when the visitors had a chance to inspect the worthwhile handicrafts made by the campers, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Beaulieu.

One of the oldest metals is lead. The Old Testament of the Bible contains many references to it and the Egyptians used it some 5000 years ago.

Gentlemen! don't miss this new idea in sock comfort

You'll find all the newest patterns for Fall with these exclusive 2-Sole features: two separate layers of fabric in sole • regular weight, for wear with any shoe • softer tread, more comfort, definitely reduces foot fatigue, gives extra support to instep • completely new, exclusive—no resemblance to so-called "cushion-sole" socks • sole stretches and relaxes with foot movement • insulated to be warmer in Winter, cooler in Summer • easy to wash as an ordinary sock • will not mat down or shrink with washing • full size range for men and boys. The soft outside finish is next to your foot to protect it from the rough, chain-knit surface of ordinary socks.
