EAST GERMAN - RUSSIAN TALKS TO OPEN

World News In Brief

Nicosia, Cyprus — (Reuters) — Several hundred British troops surrounded three villages on this Mediterranean island at dawn today and began house-to-house searches for evidence of anti-colonial terrorists.

A military spokesman said today's operation was aimed at searching out suspects, arms and explosives.

Toronto — (P) — Top union and company negotiators, attempting to reach agreement between General Motors Corporation of Canada and 17,000 workers before a Monday strike deadline, today continue session on a more optimistic note.

Reports after a meeting last night said the parties were closer to settlement. However, there were no details on developments.

St. John's, Nfld. — (P) — After a gallant two-week fight the propellerless Norwegian trawler type vessel Jopeter was abandoned yesterday to the growling, shifting pack of jagged ice that held her prisoner.

United States Northeast Air Command which earlier rescued 26 of her 33 passengers and crew members, assumed unofficially that the Jopeter had been abandoned on the strength of distorted radio messages that crackled across hundreds of miles of ice and water from a high frequency transmitter at Mestervig, on the east coast of Greenland.

Jerusalem — (P) — Israel yesterday demanded an emergency meeting of the Israeli-Lebanese mixed armistice commission to consider Tuesday's border incident in which infiltrators blew up two houses and a cow shed in the village of Alma. A government spokesman said UN observers had found tracks of three men leading to the Lebanese frontier.

Attlee Ready To Quit; Succession A Puzzle

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON — (Reuters) — Clement Attlee, for 20 years leader of the Labor party, gave fresh urgency today to the absorbing question of who will succeed him.

The 62-year-old Socialist was asked, in an interview published yesterday in the Liberal News Chronicle, when he would like to retire if only his personal wishes were involved.

"The sooner the better," he replied.

Attlee, who from 1945 to 1951 led Britain's first majority Labor government, earlier this year professed himself ready to hand over the leadership to a younger man. He bowed to the unanimous desire of the parliamentary Labor group, however, and agreed to carry on for at least this House of Commons session, which has about a year to go. No date was set on his retirement.

Attlee recently suffered a slight stroke and a recurrence of a skin complaint. He feels quite healthy again now, but told the newspaper interviewer:

"My wife certainly wants me to retire."

Choice of a new leader will be a top behind-the-scenes topic at the party's annual conference at Margate next month, though the party itself will certainly not discuss this question officially unless Attlee himself forces the issue.

The conference floor will be devoted mainly to discussing

Morocco Sultan Will Receive Deposition Letter In New Deal

PARIS — (Reuters) — Sultan Moulay Ben Arafat, aged ruler of Morocco, will be handed a letter from President Rene Coty of France today or Friday informing him of France's decision to remove him from the throne, government officials here said.

The letter will be the first step in the promised French "new deal" for Morocco, scene of violent riots last month in which more than 1,000 Europeans and Arabs were killed.

Its delivery was delayed while Premier Edgar Faure tried to appease right-wing elements of his cabinet who are critical of what French settlers in Morocco call a "sell-out" of French interests.

A three-man French council is expected to be established on the removal of the pro-French Ben Arafat. The French put him on the throne two years ago after deposing sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef for his support of Arab nationalism.

The council in turn will name a representative Moroccan government to carry out the reform program. Ben Youssef will be allowed to end his exile on Madagascar and live in France.

Meanwhile, members of the Presence Francaise, die-hard French settlers' organization, have embarked on a round-the-clock picket of the Moroccan imperial palace in Rabat to make sure Ben Arafat is not whisked away unnoticed.

A Moroccan attending a wedding feast at Soukhout was shot to death. A Jewish tobaccoist and five customers were badly hurt when a bomb blasted a shop at Aadir. At Dkhi Ben Salah three Moroccans were hurt in a bomb explosion. In Casablanca a Jewish merchant was shot dead.

He was commenting on the commission's report giving evidence of widespread Russian espionage in Australia and throughout the world.

Evatt appeared at commission sittings to defend members of his staff allegedly involved in its findings. He has opposed its investigations repeatedly.

The leader of a strongly anti-Communist breakaway section of the Labor party, Robert Joshua, said the report made it impossible for Evatt to continue as leader of the federal party.

Claims Australia Fraud

Melbourne, Australia — (Reuters) — Herbert Evatt, leader of Australia's Opposition party, said yesterday that "one of the most transparent political frauds in modern history" has been put over on the Australian royal commission on espionage.

He was commenting on the commission's report giving evidence of widespread Russian espionage in Australia and throughout the world.

Evatt appeared at commission sittings to defend members of his staff allegedly involved in its findings. He has opposed its investigations repeatedly.

ways of improving the Labor party's internal organization, which has been widely criticized by party adherents following Labor's crushing defeat in the May 26 general election.

But on the conference floor and in the lobbies, much of the spotlight will be on the quartet from whom the future labor party leader is likely to be selected. They are Herbert Morrison, 67, the deputy leader; James Griffiths, 64, former colonial secretary; Hugh Gaitskill, 49, chancellor of the exchequer in the last Labor government; and Aneurin Bevan, 57-year-old left-wing leader of the party.

A number of elderly members of Labor's parliamentary leadership stepped down to make way for younger men recently, leaving Morrison and Griffiths as the only "old guard" members in the running for the leadership. This greatly boosts Gaitskill's prospects, and may eventually narrow the field to himself and Bevan.

The Red campaign scored its biggest success last week when Zaleski's prime minister, Hugo Hanke, turned up in Warsaw. He began broadcasting appeals to other Polish emigres to return home and accept the Communists' offer of a general amnesty.

Zaleski's aides claim Hanke was kidnapped from a train while visiting Rome and spirited through the Iron Curtain. But the premier had left behind his wife and three children when he fled from Communist Poland, and many Poles think he "redefected" because of them.

Cloak-and-dagger atmosphere envelops Zaleski's headquarters, a four-story building in the West end. He refuses to resign his job as president — paying £500 a year — despite the Hanke "scandal."

Zaleski's support began dwindling last year when he refused to retire at the expiration of a seven-year presidential term. With the Reds in control of the homeland, he argued that he must keep the job indefinitely.

The big Western powers recognize the Communist Warsaw government, but Zaleski's cabinet meets regularly — usually at night after the members get off from their regular jobs.

They Are Remembered — During the dark days of 1940, a handful of fighter pilots blazed a path to freedom over the British Isles that is not forgotten today. Sunday, September 18, the RCAF commemorates the fifteenth anniversary of the Battle of Britain, the fateful fray when airmen of the free world crossed aerial swords with Germany's vast armada, the Luftwaffe. Serving with the RCAF and RAF, 47 Canadians gave their lives in the Battle of Britain. R.R. WAGE HIKE ASKED

Lines May Pay Out Extra $70 Million

Montreal — (P) — Canada's railways will be faced with paying an extra $70,000,000 or more annually in wages if the country's 145,000 railwaymen in 15 "non-operating" unions get their way.

The unions, representing workers who do not actually run the trains, will serve notice on the railways early in November for a general 18-per-cent wage increase, effective Jan. 1, 1956.

They will also ask for a health and welfare plan, details of which are now being worked out by a sub-committee of the general committee of the non-operating unions.

The railwaymen's plans were announced yesterday by Frank Hall, general committee chairman, following a two-day committee conference here.

In a statement to newspapermen and before television cameras, Mr. Hall said the unions will also request that hourly-rated employees be paid for eight statutory holidays annually instead of five as provided in current agreements, and that pay for the eight holidays be extended to all monthly-rated workers.

The railways involved are Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, Ontario Northland Railway and Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway.

The unions are the ones that staged a paralyzing national strike in 1950 that lasted nine days.

Mr. Hall said the proposed health and welfare plan would be non-contributory.

Mr. Hall said union policy "had been decided following a survey of general economic conditions, the improved earnings of the railways, and wage increases granted in other industries. The last increase of the railways became effective Sept. 1, 1952."

No wage increase was requested in the current contract, which expires at the end of the year. The present agreement was arrived at only after prolonged consultation and arbitration, and after the federal government threatened to call an emergency sitting of Parliament to prevent a strike.

It was Mr. Hall who said the unions' wage demands would cost the railways $70,000,000 annually. The railways are yet to make public their estimate of what it would cost to meet the demands.

A warning against quiz programs was sounded by the London Evening Standard in an editorial headed "Agony on T.V."

It analyzed the U.S. television show on which Marine Corps Capt. Dick McCutchen won $64,000 by correctly describing the bill of fare at a 1939 Buckingham Palace banquet.

The essence of the program, it said, was "the sight of someone speared for a moment of nerve-wracked agony between riches and whatever financial state he happens to be in."

It warned that one of the new British commercial television companies is planning a £1,000 double-or-nothing quiz show. It urged the postmaster-general, supreme authority in British television and radio, to prevent commercial television from exploiting "men, women and children by making them the sport of millions."

Premier Grotewohl To Moscow Tomorrow; Adenauer Gives Brief

MOSCOW — (AP) — Moving swiftly to follow up its negotiations with West Germany, the Soviet Union has announced it will open talks Friday with leaders of Communist East Germany.

Tass news agency said Premier Otto Grotewohl is coming to Moscow for conferences on "questions of interest to all sides." The announcement came only a few hours after Chancellor Adenauer ended his Moscow conference and left for Bonn.

It had been expected that the Russians would follow the Adenauer conference by talking with East German leaders, but Western observers here expressed surprise that the announcement came so soon after Adenauer's departure.

Announcement of the Grotewohl parley is seen by some Western observers as a manoeuvre to put pressure on Adenauer to negotiate with the East Germans.

The West German chancellor has repeatedly refused to recognize the Grotewohl regime as the legal spokesman for the 18,000,000 East Germans.

The Grotewohl meeting also is regarded as a move to reassure the East German Communists that the Soviet Union was not selling them out by negotiating with Adenauer.

Bonn, Germany. — (P) — The West German cabinet heard a report on the Moscow talks by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today but took no formal action.

An official announcement said the ministers wanted to study detailed reports from the foreign office on the negotiations between Adenauer and the Russian leaders.

This indicated they needed more time to make up their minds whether to approve the agreement to set up normal diplomatic relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union. Adenauer stipulated the Moscow agreement should be subject to approval by the Bonn Parliament.

Carlo Schmid, vice-president of the Bundestag (Lower House), said the agreement is to be submitted to Parliament a week from today. But this cannot be done until the cabinet has decided what to recommend to Parliament.

While Premier Bulganin's verbal promise to return Russia's German prisoners has naturally been welcomed in Bonn, some politicians have voiced doubt about the wisdom of exchanging ambassadors with Moscow, arguing that this would imply acceptance of a division of Germany into rival states.

While Adenauer received a hero's welcome home, many questioned whether his mission to Moscow had brought German unity any nearer.

Before he went to Moscow, Adenauer had cautioned the West Germans that the unity issue must be settled by the Big Four powers. He was expected to report today that his talks with the Russians have laid a good basis for discussion of the question at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva next month.

St. John's Nfld. — (CP) — Welfare Minister Rowe said last night Newfoundland has not signed an agreement with the federal government to share unemployment relief costs, but merely shown itself in accord with the arrangement.

A release from the premier's office Tuesday read in part "the government of Newfoundland has authorized the minister of public welfare to initial an agreement with the Government of Canada respecting unemployment assistance."

This agreement, effective from July 1, 1955, will remain in force until June 30, 1960 and is the result of negotiations which took place in Ottawa between representatives of the federal government and the governments of the provinces in April, May and June of this year.

Dr. Rowe said initialing the document merely signified approval in principle. He said the announcement should have read "initial a draft agreement."

He said instead of stating that the agreement was effective from July 1, 1955, the announcement should have read that the agreement, when signed, would become effective from July 1. He said the report reaching Ottawa must have misinterpreted the announcement.

A report from Ottawa last night said federal officials were puzzled by the Newfoundland government announcement saying the agreement was signed, because only draft copies had been sent out to see if provinces considered the arrangement satisfactory.

House Boom In Edmonton

Edmonton. — (CP) — Believed to be Canada's fastest-growing large city, Edmonton is experiencing a trend from apartment suites to house owning.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation is postponing or dissuading applications for loans to finance apartment building in Edmonton.

Robert G. Clauson CMHC assistant regional supervisor, said in an interview that the slowdown in apartment building is the result of too many vacancies. The trend started after CMHC revised its regulations in 1954 to make house owning easier for purchasers of CMHC plan dwellings, Mr. Clauson said.

City building permit statistics show 12 permits for new apartments for a total value of $382,000 were issued this year to the end of August. In the corresponding period a year ago, 88 apartment permits were issued for an aggregate value of $3,237,000.

Building permits for single-family dwellings this year are lagging only slightly behind the number and value of permits issued in 1954.

Disorder In The Aisles

Quebec — (P) — Delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor are expected to vote today on a motion of censure against the union's president Gerard Picard.

The censure motion, centering around a long-standing labor dispute involving printers at Le Devoir, a Montreal daily newspaper became the subject of lively debate when introduced to the convention yesterday by Rene Belanger of Quebec. The motion stated that the CCCL "regrets" the action of president Picard last April in ordering Le Devoir reporters to respect printers' picket lines.

Mr. Belanger introduced his

Polish President In London Tottering

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

London — (P) — You dial a number in London's West End. The voice replying says: "This is the president of Poland."

The man on the line is August Zaleski, president of the Polish government-in-exile and a bitter foe of Warsaw's Red regime. Nowadays he is the central figure in a political storm raging inside London's big community of Polish exiles.

Zaleski is battling to keep his presidency against the opposition of many of the 140,000 Polish refugees in Britain. His opponents think somebody else, possibly more effective, should lead the fight for "Liberation of the fatherland."

The family squabble among the Poles is crippling what has been the most determined of the anti-Communist movements among exiles from eastern Europe.

It comes at a critical time. Russia and her satellites have launched a giant campaign to lure home the anti-Red refugees, many of whom have carried on a long-range propaganda war against the Communists.

The Red campaign scored its biggest success last week when Zaleski's prime minister, Hugo Hanke, turned up in Warsaw. He began broadcasting appeals to other Polish emigres to return home and accept the Communists' offer of a general amnesty.

Zaleski's aides claim Hanke was kidnapped from a train while visiting Rome and spirited through the Iron Curtain. But the premier had left behind his wife and three children when he fled from Communist Poland, and many Poles think he "redefected" because of them.

Cloak-and-dagger atmosphere envelops Zaleski's headquarters, a four-story building in the West end. He refuses to resign his job as president — paying £500 a year — despite the Hanke "scandal."

Zaleski's support began dwindling last year when he refused to retire at the expiration of a seven-year presidential term. With the Reds in control of the homeland, he argued that he must keep the job indefinitely.

The big Western powers recognize the Communist Warsaw government, but Zaleski's cabinet meets regularly — usually at night after the members get off from their regular jobs.

Diennik Polski, the Polish-language daily in Britain which claims a circulation of 30,000, has demanded that he quit. Many well-known Polish exiles also are clamoring for Zaleski's ouster.

While exhibits of horses and home cooking were down slightly from last year, cattle were very strong in both numbers and quality, there being almost 300 head on the grounds. A large percentage were registered and grade Shorthorns and Herefords, as this is a district noted for its fine beef herds.

The grand stand attractions staged two evenings by Benny's Attractions Reg'd were well received. On the second afternoon

Recti Cultus Pectora Roborant

For 112 years, Bishop's University has stood for the idea that right culture strengthens the mind. This year, as autumn mists rise, and leaves begin to fall one by one from the trees, numbers of young high school graduates are again flocking to the senior seat of higher learning in the Townships. For them, the coming year will be one of adventure — both in learning and in living.

It is right that they should look upon their new undertaking at Bishop's as an adventure, for within the relatively isolated limits of the picturesque campus many new experiences await each freshman and freshetta. Returning students have already tasted Bishop's life — there are few indeed who have not liked some part of its flavour.

University life everywhere is, in a sense, an awakening to the possibilities open to the individual. A college is a place where minds may mature — intellectually and emotionally in varied proportion. Minds are guided, rather than led, in paths which will enhance that maturity.

Bishop's is a small university. It is not immune to the static effects which smallness can produce in a university. However, since its rather humble and pioneer beginning in 1845, when its first principal, Jasper Nicolls, located the college in what has been termed the "least suitable building" in Lennoxville, Bishop's has expanded both its material facilities and its educational opportunities in a most dynamic way. Still dedicated to sound liberal Christian principles, and continuing the faculty of Divinity for which it was founded, the university has built up an Arts faculty with a sound reputation throughout Canada, a Science faculty which is fast approaching the same reputation, and a faculty of Education.

Because of its convenient size, each student is looked upon as an individual to a greater extent than in larger universities. Personal needs and talents can be more carefully nurtured.

No student can fail to gain something in this atmosphere. It is natural that some will gain more than others, but where the onus is on the student to gain as he pleases, then those who choose to profit by the opportunities provided will gain tenfold and more.

VON Campaign

The Victorian Order of Nurses opened its 1955 fund-raising campaign this week and is asking Sherbrooke and Lennoxville citizens for $10,000.

This worthy organization which has undertaken the responsibility of providing nursing care for the needy, disabled, and aged, as well as routine visits to sick and injured at home, offers its services at cost price but is content to accept whatever its patients can pay.

It's up to citizens in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville to dig deep and help the local branch of the Order reach its objective. "Too many and too often" is a common cry whenever a new campaign opens, but what would happen without them? Sherbrooke has already found one big campaign less successful than several small ones, but if they were abolished completely the burden would fall on the government and then back on the shoulders of the taxpayers.

It's really much better this way and just like everything else it's easier to pay your welfare money in installments too.

This Friday and Saturday, taggers for the VON will be on the city's main streets. They're not asking much from each person, but be generous both with them and with the canvasser who will be visiting you this week and next. As well as $7,000 for operating expenses this year, the organization also has to pay off a $3,000 bank loan and it needs the quarters and dollars which you will hardly miss.

Vegetable Side-Show

For some reason, this summer has been most productive of unusual vegetation in the Eastern Townships. Record readers have produced some delightful examples of freak vegetables, the fourth of which appeared in The Record yesterday.

Nature can play some wonderful tricks in the world of vegetation (to say nothing of the human race). Frequently, she even seems to take special pains to shape the vegetable in human or animal likeness.

This weird vegetation season at The Record started about six weeks ago with the arrival of a carrot, complete with arms and legs that made it appear to be in a sitting position.

There quickly followed a "Siamese twin" cucumber — two cucumbers joined by a thin lengthwise link.

Unfortunately, the next vegetable freak couldn't be reproduced in Record picture. It was a six-cob corn-shoot from one stem. But by the time it reached this office, it had wilted to the point where it couldn't be satisfactorily reproduced.

Yesterday's was a giant 2½-pound potato, which except for one unexplained extremity could look for all the world like a rather loosely-made Teddy Bear.

We of course turned it over to our expert on deformed vegetation, Miss Carol Witty, who tagged it "Little Tuba" offspring of Mr. and Mrs. Edible Tuber.

Anybody got any unusual vegetables?

Hollow Mockery

White supremacy leaders in South Africa seem determined to enforce a rule of Negro inferiority that passes all Christian belief. Education of Negro children has already been driven underground to "culture schools," and now leading officials are turning to the sphere of sports.

Ludwig Japhet, honorary life president of the Transvaal National Sporting Club this week urged the segregation of white and colored athletes, arguing that non-whites have natural physiological advantages over white men. He said the two races should not be allowed to compete.

What Japhet would do is emphasize the difference between the races by declaring white and non-white champions in each realm of sport. But such segregation is neither Christian, nor even sportsmanlike. The very aim of an athlete is to exploit his natural advantages to the maximum.

Japhet's suggestion leads to the suspicion that prejudice against Negroes in South Africa is grounded in greed and egotistical fear in their most barbaric forms. It is ironic that while acknowledging the superiority of its Negro athletes, South Africa refuses to allow them to compete in major sporting events, thus arousing the disgust of the world. These same athletes, freed from irrational restraints, could instead be earning respect and fame for their country.

BYGONE DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record Files of Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1925.

The following officers were elected at the organization meeting of the Sherbrooke Conservative Association: Firmin Campbell, F. S. Rugg, Col. E. B. Worthington, E. C. Gatten and John P. Wolfe.

The operations of "hijackers" who are stealing contraband cargoes are playing havoc with bootleggers seeking to run liquor and narcotics from Canada into the U.S. Several cargoes of "lumber" have been seized at Eastern Townships border points.

Felix Delorme, a Warden resident, was the victim of an attempted hold-up while returning from West Shefford but the armed bandits fled after a brief fight.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record Files of Saturday, Sept. 15

Canada was the first country to set forth a "practical post-war policy for the maintenance of high employment and income," Health Minister Claxton said today in the Commons. "When the Canadian people have the facts and figures before them they will not have cause for anything but confidence in the future," he said.

Knowledge of a carefully-organized underground including many Canadians, which functioned at Samshuipo Camp in the Hong Kong area during 1942 and 1943, was made public today. The organization smuggled medical supplies in to the prisoners and gave information to outside Allied agents.

Servicemen from the Magog district will be presented with silver plaques at a special ceremony in Magog this week.

What Other Papers Say

APPEALS SHOULD BE A RIGHT

(Ottawa Journal)

Someone has let fall a hint that the Government may set up an appeal board to deal with deportation orders against landed immigrants. The Government "may" about it. The existing situation has distressed members of the Canadian Bar Association who see individual rights being set aside; it has troubled Parliament and its committees; it has been the subject of representations by individuals and groups.

The Immigration Act gives the minister, now Mr. Pickers-gill, wide powers. The minister and his officials, acting in private, are able to make absolute decisions about those who come to Canada and those who shall be ejected. Not all those who want to come here are wanted and not all those who have arrived should be allowed to stay. But those who have crossed the first barrier and been allowed to land should be able to state their case, in public, if they are served with a deportation order.

The Journal a few days ago noted with concern that there had been a decline in immigration to Canada this year. The country is prosperous and needs more people. Complaints about the arbitrary ways of the Immigration Department are not removed by the statement that a board of officials meeting in camera deals with appeals against deportation. The department has reached the point where it must pull back the curtains and demonstrate that it honors just and democratic courses if it is to retain public confidence.

KILLED BY POPULARITY

Kingston Whig-Standard Recently bird - watchers in England were very surprised to see a myrtle warbler. Never before has this tiny gay little creature been seen in England. Its normal habitat is the North American continent, specifically in the conifer belt of Canada and the New England states. What was such a small, gay fellow doing in the soft hedgerows of Devonshire?

So surprising was the news that watchers from all over the south of England congregated to spy upon it. But the warbler was not equal to the social pressure. It was literally looked to death, and has now been stuffed and mounted.

SILENT LIPS FOR BAD CARDS

Goodness knows why North opened the bidding today with so poor a hand. His spade suit was rather weak and the hand as a whole was on the borderline between a pass and the strength needed for an opening bid. In this situation a player may bid if he has a good suit, but he has only a broken suit.

South managed to stop short at two no-trump, but he was already too high. The opponents defended very ably, and South didn't find the best line of play. The result was rather disappointing to North and South.

West opened the king of hearts and was glad to continue the suit when he saw the dummy. Dummy discarded low spades on the third and fourth rounds of hearts, and South discarded a diamond on the fourth heart.

East won the fourth heart with his six, somewhat to his surprise. He hadn't expected to win a trick with his hand! It was clear that South had nothing much in spades, so East shifted to a spade.

South played a low spade, and West had to play the jack to force out dummy's ace. Dummy returned a low spade, and South's queen forced out the king. West led his lowest spade to dummy's ten, thus establishing his own nine.

Declarer now tried three rounds of clubs, discovering that the suit wouldn't break. East had, of course, carefully kept all of his clubs on the sound theory that the ten of clubs was all he had and that he ought to guard it while he could.

A Speculation of Merit...

Properties in the Oka district of the Province of Quebec and in the Bathurst district of the Province of New Brunswick.

OKA claims adjoin the Kennecott Copper-Molybdenum Corporation of America property in the Oka district, Province of Quebec. The report of the company's geo-physicists states "The magnetometer survey indicated the presence on the Oka-Bathurst claims of several anomalies of possible economic importance, interpreted as being probably due to the Montegiron intrusive rocks similar to the complex with which columbium deposits are associated on the neighbouring Molybdenum Corporation property".

BATHURST-NEWCASTLE claims in the Province of New Brunswick are approximately 3/4 of a mile north of American Metal Company's property, which has reported an ore body of many millions of tons. Indications of similar ore bodies have been found over an area 4 miles wide and 6 miles long on the American Metal Company property. Samples from the Oka-Bathurst New Brunswick property show identical geological formations with those of American Metal Company.

Capitalization: 5,000,000 shares

HAY AHOY!

Some farmers in the picturesque, low-lying Suffolk Broads district of England bring in the hay by water. So it was logical for a British boat builder to use lightweight aluminum to produce a 650-pound punt capable of carrying a load of hay more than six times its own weight.

In Canada aluminum is better known among farmers as a non-rusting, heat-reflecting, easily handled material for barns and roofs and silos... though of course it has many other farm uses, from milk cans to windmill blades. No hay-boats, though.

"Play with your baby," says a well-known child specialist. "Besides the basic enjoyment derived from participating in a game, baby is learning coordination, concentration and discrimination." Anyone for peek-a-boo or patty-cake?

Nothing like the joy of a huggable toy. Especially a doll with a special kind of personality. Like the GERBER BABY DOLL—a life-like replica of the endearing Gerber baby. It's a $3.75 value for only $2.00 and 6 Gerber Baby Food labels or box tops. Almost like a real baby—it drinks, wets, sits up, has movable arms and legs. Soft, vinyl plastic head and rubber body. Added play values: the Gerber Baby Doll is dressed in diaper and bib—comes with tiny nurse, Gerber Cereal play boxes, cereal dish and spoon.

For your Gerber Baby Doll, mail money and labels to Gerber-Ogilvie Baby Foods Limited, Box 68, Toronto 18, Ontario. Offer good only in Canada.

And have you tried this new duet for baby's diet? Gerber Strained Garden Vegetables and Gerber Strained Sweet Potatoes provide two mild, good-tasting flavors that baby's bound to like.

Zip tip: Before sucking those washable zippered tops, do close the zippers. Saves zippers from getting bent—keeps garments in better shape. Why is it that good ideas seem so obvious, but it takes other mothers to dream 'em up?

Eating pleasure unlimited. That's the delicious sum and substance of Gerber Fruit Dessert! For here is a happily balanced blend of three popular fruits—mellow pineapple, mild orange and zesty apricot. Ever so nicely textured with a touch of tapioca for smiles by the spoonful.

Hardship Of Yukon Life Does Not Deter Delegate

EDMONTON — A one-woman battle to bring medicine to the Indians, which worked despite the tribal medicine men, was told by Mrs. K. M. Cowaret, lay delegate from the Yukon to the Anglican synod here.

"I love Indians," she said simply, summing up her reasons. A Vancouver resident 40 years ago, she casually mentioned to a minister going to northern British Columbia one summer: "If you hear of a school up north needing a teacher, let me know."

In the autumn of 1916 she was on her way to a lonely Yukon cabin. There she became a full-time church worker, doctor and teacher, and felt the Yukon's hold.

Her biggest conflict was with the Indian medicine men. "At first I gave my patients bottles of medicine," she said. "When I discovered they gave the bottles to medicine men who threw them away, I made the rounds daily to make them take their doses on the spot."

She carried her medicines in one hand and her prayer book in the other because the Indians "respected the Good Book," she said.

One Indian suffering from an injured leg chose the medicine man and despite the latter's incantations, the wound did not heal.

Mrs. Cowaret was called upon. Her medicine hurt more, but it also healed, and it was an object lesson for the Indians.

Her Indian name Geheynjah, "Minister Woman," was given her by a sick child, nursed in Mrs. Cowaret's first days in mission work.

She became used to extreme cold. One Christmas she walked five miles in weather far below zero for a Christmas dinner, rather than risk taking dog teams or horses into the bitter cold.

All her life in the North has been a fight against primitive cults, isolated living and cold. But, she says, "If I had my life to live over again, I'd do just the same—only I would start a lot sooner."

Program Manual Of W. I. Courses For 1956 Issued

The 1956 Program Manual of services offered by the Quebec Women's Institutes is now out. Slight changes in the courses are made from time to time and revised editions are issued every fall.

Details are given of the new courses in millinery (new hats of ribbon or straw) and hat re-modelling. In the latter, felts are re-blocked and given up-to-date touches. Both courses are very popular with the thrifty country woman.

Slippers and gloves have been divided into two distinct classes, no longer run in combination, and simple jewellery (novelty) may make up the usual five-day period, if several varieties are desired. The perennial favorites, weaving, rug-making and leatherwork, are being retained as well as courses in cooking and nutrition.

Courses consist of two three-hour periods for five days. County workshops can also be arranged with several participating branches coming into a common centre. These run from three to four weeks, depending on the number of courses given and the attendance. All courses are sponsored by the Institute but any woman in the community may enroll if the classes are not filled to capacity. Schedules for 1956 are drawn up in advance. Applications for next year's courses must be in the Q.W.I. office by the end of the current year.

The Richmond Legion "Street Fair" has become an event to which all townspeople look forward each fall. Always held indoors, the fair won its name during the war when tickets for the event were sold at a street dance which usually preceded the fair itself.

Legion members, and their volunteers have been busy all week preparing the Coliseum for the fair. There are decorations and gay streamers everywhere, all lending to the festive mood of the evening's entertainment.

Proceeds from the undertaking will be used to maintain the welfare activities of the Richmond Legion among the exservicemen of the district.

Members of the executive committee heading the fair include M. C. Barrie, president; W. Parkes, first vice-president; E. Copping second vice-president, and J. Hameron, treasurer.

Quinellas Pay Top Prices On Last Night's Local Harness Racing Card

Drivers Give Mediocre Performance As Upsets Registered; Daily Double Pays $41.90; $22.40 For Straight

It was the drivers and not the horses who held the spotlight on last night's mid-week racing card sponsored by the Sherbrooke Racing Club at the local oval. Upsets were in the majority hence the reason for the high prices on straight, place and show bets.

There was only one double feature, in the fifth and eighth, and even this was a mixed affair. Perhaps the main reason for the high wagers could in a way be attributed to the fact that all other classes were single dashes. This kind of threw the pickers a little off line in making their choices.

The drivers were in the forefront and they made the big decisions regarding just who would cross the wire in the favorite spot. Time after time the horse who should have won the race just wasn't around at the finish owing to poor teaming by their drivers.

The place bets set a new high and they were the ones which well as the mark for the evening as well as the quinellas, which followed suit. The daily double over paid $41.90 while the quinellas paid $31.35, $42.25 and $46 to their backers.

In the first race Chief Abbe, with V. Larose in the sulky, upset the favorites to pay $10.10 to commence the evening. In the second Kenneth Hanover came through true to form to complete the double. In the third Bob Dupont's Del Miller, who was the favorite of the railbirds, came home ahead of the field while Buster Huckins' Janie B was second to complete the first quinella.

In the fourth V. Larose guided home his second winner of the night with He's It but Winston Taylor's Buddie Miller upset the rest of the field finishing second to pay $22.40 for the high bet of the night. In the fifth Bobby Taylor won the first half of the main event with Doctor Brooke C second.

In the sixth Amedee Beaudoin with Dewey Brooke and M. Goguen driving Ramuntcho dumped the field to finish out in front and pay $42.25 for the high quinella of the night. Neither of these horses were selected as the ones to beat but again the drivers pulled the proper strings to win.

Bloc Vibre Rallies In Ninth To Win Game Over Dow In Hard-Fought Battle; Moisan Receives Trophy

Jack Castonguay banged out a single in the top half of the ninth to send home two runs and give the Bloc Vibre a 15-11 decision over Dow in a hard fought game in the City Senior Softball playoffs. The next game of the series is slated for Monday at 7:30.

It was an uphill battle the whole way, for the Bloc squad, who were forced to overcome a commanding 11-2 lead which Dow had built up by the end of the fourth inning. In the fifth the winner shoved home five runs to even the count and send it into extra innings.

In the eighth both teams failed to score although Dow picked up a single. In the ninth Castonguay's single drove home the winning runs to give his team the victory.

The winners got to Carmichael and Thomas, who took over in the sixth, for a total of eleven hits. The Dow crew banged out thirteen safeties but the six errors they committed failed to help their bid for the victory.

Oakland Moves To Vancouver

Vancouver. — (P) — Open classification baseball, one step down from the major leagues, came to Canada with the announcement Wednesday that the Pacific Coast league franchise of the Oakland A's would be switched here in 1956.

Brick Laws, owner of the A's said his team is seeking major league affiliation and that Lefty O'Doul will probably continue as manager.

He didn't know why his team failed to draw in Oakland this season — "and I've asked some mighty smart people." The team took falling attendance "for five years — then it killed us."

Close Battle For Honors In Shooting Match

The Stanstead County Fish and Game Club held their third weekly shoot at Fearon's farm on Moulton Hill. Firing took place on all three ranges.

Leslie MacLeod won the running deer prize while Mike Skena walked off with a trout-landing net donated by Breck's Sporting Store, for second spot, as well as a hand-warmer presented by Mitchell's. Merrill Bishop won a cash prize for his 21 points in the event.

W. Maxwell won first place in the Bryant's Bullhead Ginger Ale match while Mr. Blanchard took second and Mike Skena finished third.

The results of the shotgun match follow: J. Evans, 25 points; M. Skena, 19; J. Bell, 18; F. Ball, 16.

DeMarco TKO's Chico Vejar

Boston. — (P) — Tony DeMarco, ex-welterweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Chico Vejar in 2:40 of the first round Wednesday night.

DeMarco knocked down the 24-year-old Stamford, Conn., boy after a minute with a right to the midsection and left hook to the head for a count of nine.

Vejar got to his feet, half staggering around the ring as DeMarco pursued him relentlessly. A right to the body and right to the head in machine gun order sent Vejar sprawling in DeMarco's corner.

Referee Tommy Rawson signalled it was all over.

Bill LeBlanc Is Reinstated After Striking Mathieu

Moncton. — (P) — Moncton hockey star Bill LeBlanc will be free to play organized hockey again after Dec. 27, 1955, it was announced Wednesday.

The 28-year-old defenceman, out of organized hockey for two years, received word from the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association Tuesday that his five-year suspension will be lifted.

LeBlanc, who broke in with Moncton Hawks in 1949-50, was tagged with a five year suspension in 1953 for striking referee Jerry Mathieu of Sherbrooke, Que. He was playing with Mont-Joli in the lower St. Lawrence league at the time.

Staley Bought By Yankees

Cincinnati. — (P) — Gerry Staley, veteran righthanded pitcher, was sold to New York Yankees by Cincinnati Redlegs Wednesday. He will report immediately.

Staley, who has won five and lost eight this season, was taken by the American League club via the waiver route.

He formerly was a star hurler for St. Louis Cardinals, but has had two successive unimpressive seasons. The Redlegs obtained the 32-year-old pitcher last December from St. Louis in a trade.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

PITCHING
Tom Poholsky, Cardinals, 2-year-old righthander shut out the champion Dodgers 3-0 on three singles, letting only one man past first while walking none and striking out two.

BATTING
Gus Zernial, Athletics, drove in six runs with two homers, the second a bases-loaded shot that beat Red Sox 7-3.

Senators Come Back With Bang To Edge Indians 3-2; Yankees Belt Tigers 6-4 To Gain On Leaders

Ray Narleski, Cleveland's fireballing fireman, finally made a slip — and with it, the Indians may have lost their footing in the race for the American League pennant.

Washington revived the Indian sign "its had on the Injuns" for one parting shot Wednesday night, handing the 26-year-old righthander his first defeat of the season while dumping the Tribe 3-2.

That sliced Cleveland's lead to one game over New York, a 6-4 winner against Detroit. More important, it left the two clubs even in the lost column with eight games remaining for Cleveland and 10 for New York.

Here's the way they stand, along with third-place Chicago, as the league takes a day off today:

Cleveland	90	56	.616	—
New York	88	56	.611	1
Chicago	86	60	.589	4

The White Sox muffed a chance to move closer by splitting a doubleheader at Baltimore. The last-place Orioles, who divided a pair with Chicago Tuesday, too, won the opener 8-2 before being stopped by Billy Pierce 6-0.

Boston, filling seven of New York's remaining dates, all but faded away in a 6-3 defeat by Kansas City that left the Red Sox seven games back.

Washington, only club to beat Cleveland over the season (13-9), was stopped cold by Narleski in the seventh after chasing starter Herb Score with three straight singles that tied it 2-2. But in the eighth, the Nats finally got to the guy who had run up nine victories, all but one in relief, and had saved 20 others for the Tribe.

Hank Bauer delivered the winning blow, a two-run homer in the eighth off Babe Birrer, third pitcher for the Tigers, who supply the opposition in six of Cleveland's remaining games.

Baltimore raked Chicago's Dick Donovan for 10 or 14 hits while Jim Wilson shut out the Sox until the ninth when Bob Kennedy homered with one on. Donovan now is 14-8, Wilson 11-17.

Boston was wallowed by Gus Zernial who powered two homers — one a tie-breaking grand-slammer off loser George Susce in the eighth — for six runs batted in.

Brooklyn's National League champs lost their fourth straight, beaten 3-0 by St. Louis.

Opening Tilt At Toronto Washed Out; One Policeman Will Be On Hand, Says Manager Sisler, After Wings' Request

Toronto — The rain which washed out the scheduled opener of the final International League playoff here Wednesday night failed to dampen the verbal battle between the Rochester and Toronto front offices.

At last count, there will be one park policeman on duty in Maple Leaf Stadium when the Wings and Leafs meet to get the Governors' Cup series underway. That's what Toronto general manager Rudy Schaffer said after receiving a request from the Wings' head man, George Sisler Jr., that extra police be assigned for the series.

Sisler contends that "hard feelings" between the two clubs warrant that the Wings be given "adequate police protection." But protection or not, Rochester's Mel Heim will be squaring off against Mike Formiele, the unbeaten Maple Leaf right-hander barring another downpour.

The big hassle started back on Sept. 4th and 5th — the last two days of the regular season — when the Wings, set in fourth place, used "second line" pitchers in four games with the Montreal Royals, who were a scant 1/2 game in the league lead. Montreal swept the series and held that margin to win the flag. Toronto pilot Luke Sewell charged that Wing chief Dixie Walker made no attempt to beat Montreal and cost the Leafs a chance to cop the pennant.

Rochester went on to oust Montreal in the semi-final play-offs, four games to one, with Duke Markell and Cot Deal winning two games apiece.

Ironically, Toronto appears to have the better rested staff for the coming series, although Wednesday night's rain was a godsend for Walker, since it provided an extra day's rest for Markell and Deal.

"One policeman," said Schaffer. "They're getting no favors from us."

Professionalism Ruins Every Sport It Touches, Say Writer Haig-Brown; Reaction Follows Quickly By Owners

Vancouver — The Rodergick Haig-Brown, noted outdoor writer, said Wednesday that professionalism ruins every sport it touches.

Mr. Haig-Brown, also a stipendiary magistrate at Campbell River, B.C., and writer of children's adventure stories, made the charge in an address to the Parks and Recreation Association of Canada.

"Professionalism has ruined every sport it touches because it spoils the game through the tendency of promoters to apply professional standards to groups, particularly children, who are not capable of reaching those standards.

"Highly organized professional sports also take the interest in sports away from the children so that they are robbed of the time to play games and as a result we are in danger of bringing up a second-rate group of citizens.

"Professional sports as they are played today are also not a good example for the younger generation since the infernal competitive spirit makes them think these sports are a thing of blood and guts," Mr. Haig-Brown said.

Reaction came swiftly. Don MacKenzie, president of British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, said:

"The fine spirit created by professionals in spectator sports, both for fans and growing boys, is great.

"These football players of ours are the best type of young men. Most of them are college-trained with the instincts of gentlemen. I can't think of a better hero for young boys," he said in an interview.

Ken Mackenzie, owner of New Westminster Royals of the Western Hockey League, said:

"It's impossible to have the best sport along the amateur route... a man making his living at sport can't give his full time to it for the love of the thing."
