

City to update Glen Yards

Westmount this week decided to go ahead with its long-discussed plans to update municipal corporation yards in the Glen and add what officials call "badly needed storage space."

Council is now calling for tenders to be received until October 2 for the construction of a three story concrete framed storage building, brick and concrete block retaining wall.

The new storage building will, according to city engineers, replace an "inadequate" shed on the same site and hold stores removed from buildings above the present police and fire station on Stanton, soon to be partially demolished.

"One of our chief difficulties is that we have eight different storage sheds scattered throughout the city," an engineering department spokesman said. "With the new storage building, perhaps we can consolidate things somewhat and we do need the extra space." The new shed will provide an additional 24,000 square feet of storage area, he added.

In addition, a more functional yard office is needed to replace the present structure built in 1912, the spokesman said. The outside supplementary storage building will contain bunks for sand, road salt and cement.

Architects for the project are Ross, Fish, Duschene and Barrett.

Liberals to meet Thursday

A meeting of the Westmount-St. George Liberal Association to select delegates for the forthcoming Liberal Convention will be held Thursday, September 26, at Victoria Hall, it was announced this week by Grainger Robertson, president of the local association.

School census begins

Count your children tonight

Eighteen census takers from Protestant and Roman Catholic School boards in Westmount begin tonight the annual school census, to be carried out door-to-door this year.

Each year officials are faced with the task of surveying the total school population, of all faiths and creeds. They point out that the census is required by law and that all householders must answer all questions on the form whether there are any children in the house or not.

The door-to-door method of gathering information is now being used because in recent years five to seven per cent of Westmount householders failed to return forms which were mailed out, it was explained by A. E. Mount, secretary-treasurer of the Westmount School Commission and organizer of the operation. Complete coverage of the city will take about three weeks, he said.

Questions to be asked of householders include the names of children, religion, details of school attendance, including night courses. Census takers have instructions to obtain the necessary information from neighbors if, after three visits they still find no one at home in any particular house.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER

Work on the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer at Western and Clarke avenues, Westmount, is now virtually complete and the official opening has been set for September 29. This modern structure immediately catches the eye of anyone passing by and hundreds have asked for admittance to gain a closer look.

Opening set for 'most talked about building'

One of the most talked about buildings in Westmount is now virtually complete. One year and four months after ground breaking the congregation of the Evangelical Church of the Redeemer will occupy its new church and parish hall at the corner of Western and Clarke avenues in Westmount, a building termed "spectacular and breathtaking" by dozens of architectural students. The opening services have been scheduled for September 29 and October 1.

Brightness is the keynote throughout. White pillars and unadorned arches on the outside contrast favorably with light grey fieldstone walls. The nave catches both the morning and afternoon light, entering through extra large windows. Only the bottom window panels are colored, but these shed an interesting pattern of blue squares onto the floor.

The nave's plain white walls are set off by the dark pews.

Initial reaction to the church by a few Westmounters was one of dismay. They regarded as "disastrous" the city's new look that is bringing straight line concrete structures to streets that until now have been lined with traditional and even minor-Gothic. "It's bad enough with all these apartments and modern houses going up," one resident said. But that churches should have to conform to this gaudy style . . .

This is a minority view. The church is visited daily by Westmounters who can not resist getting a closer look at "a remarkable structure." It is a must for local architectural students.

Dedication services

Dedication services will be performed by Rev. Norman A. Berner, assistant to the president of the Eastern Synod of Canada of the Lutheran Church of Canada in America at 10 a.m. September 29. The Vesper service at 7.30 in the evening has been designed for other Lutheran congregations in the Montreal area, but the pastor, Rev. Wm. C. Nolting, wants it known that all are welcome.

The Rev. Arthur Conrad, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Ottawa, and dean of the Eastern district will bring the message at this service. On Tuesday October 1 at 8.00 p.m. a community service will be held. Dr. R. Douglas Smith minister of Dominion-Douglas Church and president of the Westmount Ministerial Association will be the preacher on this occasion.

The congregation was organized in 1905. After worshipping at several locations, the property at the corner of Western and Clarke was purchased from the Bethel Congregational Church in 1912. For many years the facilities were inadequate, but as the congregation grew it was found necessary to expand. The present structure to cost over $141,000 is the fruit of several years planning and sacrificial effort. In the interim the congregation has worshipped in the building of the Seventh Day Adventists at Western and Olivier avenues.

The building was designed by Peter Acres of the firm of Woods and Acres. It will seat 192 in the nave and 30 in the choir at the back. Upstairs are facilities for a Sunday school, a nursery, a parish hall with adjoining kitchen.

General Contractor for the project is M. H. Gruner.

3 new tennis courts termed 'revolutionary'

Construction of three tennis courts to be paved with what city engineers term a "revolutionary type of surface" is now underway on the playing field between Western avenue and Academy road. Recreation Department officials plan to have the courts finished and ready for use by the end of the month, provided good weather holds.

The new courts will be paved with a newly developed resilient type of asphalt, virtually maintenance-free. Green asphalt will be used in the forecourts and maroon in the backcourts. Permanent white lines will be applied in the paving.

Same bounce

"The new surface will give exactly the same sort of bounce to the ball that the present rolled surfaces do," a Recreation official stated. "And they should look most colorful with the green and maroon surfaces."

Police HQ to be ready by March

With a contract of $770,000 now awarded, Westmount's new police station should be ready for occupancy by March, it was announced this week.

Work on the fire station and city hall annex will constitute the second phase of the operation and will be completed by next Fall.

At its general sitting Monday, Council accepted tenders of the firm of Rodighiero Construction Company Limited, 1955 Charland avenue, for the construction of the new headquarters in the amount of $770,000. The work will be carried out in two phases.

City Council this week ran through their agenda in the near record time of four and a quarter minutes. During that period expenditures totaling $800,000 were approved. No actual discussion takes place at these general sittings.

with additional premiums for early completion.

● Phase one calls for the demolition of buildings and fire department offices on the north side of the present headquarters on Stanton street and construction of modern quarters for police, including a new courtroom.

Burning leaves can be nuisance

The smell of burning leaves may be nostalgic to you, but to the Westmount Fire Department it is a "nuisance." If the blaze is within 50 feet of a building, it's unlawful. And officials point out that even if the fire is more than 50 feet from a building, the smoke can be a nuisance to others.

Sometimes smoke seen over the city makes people think a building is on fire and again the Fire Department gets an unnecessary call. Fire Department officials wish that Westmounters would regard burning leaves this autumn in the same light as the advice about driving and drinking. Don't. Garbage collectors will do it for you.

Architects Perry and Patch in association with Durnford, Bolton, Chadwick and Ellwood have drawn up plans utilizing part of the present structure. This work is to be completed within six months at an estimated cost of $380,000 with a premium of $6,500 if completed within four and a half months.

● Phase two calls for the expenditure of $390,000 for construction of an entirely new city hall annex on the south side of the complex and extensive alterations to the fire station in the centre. The new annex will house the departments of personnel, purchasing, health and welfare, and assessors. This work is to be completed within seven months starting no later than April 1, 1964 with an estimated premium of $8,500 if completed within five and a half months.

These two phases allowing for construction in gradual steps are to prevent disruption of municipal services, officials declared. Firemen will share quarters with police this winter.

In addition to the contract for new headquarters, city council this week approved a commitment of $30,000 to provide working capital for alterations to overcrowded City Hall. Only preliminary plans have been made. They call for interior alterations to parts of the building as sections will be expanded into space left by the four departments scheduled to move into the City Hall annex on Stanton.

Place Ville Marie will ring to shouts of Westmount youngsters

The operation of the Unity Boys' Club's new radio station and a photographic display set up by eight boys from Werendale House, showing the operation of Camp Werendale will be featured at Place Ville Marie on September 16 and 26 and 27 as youngsters from 17 Red Feather Agencies involved in youth work participate in a giant rally to tie in with the Red Feather campaign and highlight Red Feather's work with youth.

The event will be open to the public on Thursday and Friday evenings, Sept. 26 and 27, from 7-9:30 p.m. and on Saturday morning, Sept. 28 from 10 to 12:30.

The rally will take the form of hobby exhibitions, live demonstrations, the Canadian premiere of a Boys' Clubs of Canada film, and an hour long talent show called the "Red Feather Review."

Part of the musical program will feature the 75 voice glee club from the Dawson Boys' Club, the Boy Scout pipe band, Indian dancing from the Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club, and the drum and bugle band from the Negro Community Centre.

A cavalcade of 15 cars will leave Red Feather headquarters at 1040 Atwater avenue, Westmount, at 6:30 p.m. on the Thursday night, with Miss Red Feather in the final car, surrounded by youngsters from the various agencies. They will arrive at Place Ville Marie at 7 p.m. when the official opening of the rally will take place in the presence of westmounter C. F. Carsley, chairman of this year's Red Feather campaign.

The Red Feather "Focus on Youth" rally is expected to be the largest rally of its kind ever held in Montreal.

Red Feather agencies taking part in the youth rally are: Boys' Clubs of Canada; Boy Scouts, Montreal Region; Dawson Boys' Club; East End Boys' and Girls' Club; Lions Boys' and Girls' Club; Montreal Boys' Association; Montreal Girls' Association; Montreal Parks and Playgrounds Association; Negro Community Centre; Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club; Rosemount Boys' Club; St. Laurent Neighborhood Association; Unity Boys' Club; University Settlement; Werendale House; YWCA; and St. Andrew's Youth Centre.

2 local artists exhibit at Museum

Artists Louvin and Eric Goldberg, both of Westmount, will open the current series of Gallery XII exhibitions at The Montreal Museum of Fine Arts starting Sept. 21.

The Gallery XII exhibitions, staged in the Museum's Norton Gallery, provide a showcase for contemporary Canadian art.

The Louvin-Goldberg exhibition will continue until Oct. 6.

Louvin, who lives at 338 Reslyn avenue, was born in Montreal in 1924. She studied at the Ontario College of Art, Toronto, and The Montreal Museum of Fine Arts.

She has had one-man shows in commercial galleries in Toronto and Montreal and has participated in group exhibitions such as the Winnipeg Biennial, the Concours de la Province de Québec, the Hadassah Art Show and the Montreal Museum's Spring Show.

Her work is represented in the C-I-L Collection, the Bronfman-Kensington Industries Collection, the Canadian Bank of Commerce Collection and others.

Her favorite media are collage, ink drawing and oil.

She says of her style and aims: "In the technical aspect of my work, I am deeply concerned with the surface and tactile qualities, as well as color and the use of space.

"I find great delight in manipulating the papers for my collage and in using my fingers to paint with.

"Each collage in the current exhibition is made up of many layers of paper — each specially prepared — either painted or printed, for a particular collage. Most of the papers are fine rice papers of different weights and textures. Some of the collages have as many as 250 pieces of paper.

"The philosophical content stems mainly from two sources: Nature and the works of man but seen in a kaleidoscopic manner, constantly changing in pattern to evoke the imagery of the viewer."

Louvin is married and has two children. She recently spent a year working in Europe.

Goldberg, who lives at 331 Clarke avenue, Westmount, was born in Berlin, Germany, Oct. 28, 1890.

An art teacher, he himself studied at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts in Paris and in Berlin, with Louis Corinth.

He has exhibited previously at the Montreal Museum, in Ottawa, Toronto, New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, and Paris.

His work is represented in the permanent collections of the Montreal Museum, the National Gallery of Canada, Ottawa, and other galleries in Edmonton, Vancouver, Joliette, Fredericton, Cincinnati and Jerusalem.

Oil is his favorite medium.

courts was done by City crews, but actual paving and erection of nets and fences is being handled by Charles Duranceau Ltd. Cost of the project is about $20,000.

Nine municipal tennis courts in the Westmount Park area have been demolished in recent years to make way for the construction of the Artificial Ice Rink and later the Swimming Pool.

In addition to the new courts opposite the swimming pool, four are available in Westmount Park, one in Devon Park, and four in Murray Park. One of three softball diamonds opposite Westmount Park School has been removed to make way for the new courts.

PROTESTS

Westmount property owners meet with City Council (at right) and the three man board of assessors (at left) to protest 1963-64 valuations which have been raised by about 20%. Mayor Drury assured those present that all appeals would be thoroughly investigated. Over 125 residents turned up for the special meetings held recently.

Lansdowne home robbed Sunday

A Lansdowne avenue home was entered and robbed over the weekend, but the owners do not yet know of the crime.

Thieves entered the home of E. U. Jones at 744 Lansdowne avenue through a downstairs window shortly after midnight Monday morning taking an undetermined amount of goods, it was reported by police. Occupants of the home were away at the time, but are expected to return shortly.

C. H. Young addresses Rotary Facelessness of need is major obstacle to Red Feather group

Charles Young, executive director of Red Feather and a member of Montreal Rotary, addressed the regular weekly meeting of Westmount Rotary Wednesday at Victoria Hall on the subject of welfare services.

To a very large extent he was preaching to the converted.

With Unity Boys club and a 'senior citizens' project underway, and a wealth of Weredale House work behind them, Westmount Rotarians are well-versed in welfare matters.

This fact however failed to fatigue the indefatigable Mr. Young who left Westmount Rotary with five additional suggestions for 'good works'.

These included a suggestion for a team of 'directors at large' who would scout lower Westmount and adjoining environs in a search for deserving requiring aid; recreation for the handicapped; a nursing home for the aged; support for the Red Feather research department and housing for the aged.

It may be that the seeds fell on fertile ground.

Mr. Young cited the great problems facing Red Feather today as:

Flophouse image

The facelessness of need; the changing function of charity; and the flight to eliminate the flophouse image.

In the shadow of the monolithic skyscrapers going up in Montreal, he said, there is a great deal of real need, much of it never coming to the attention of the people who are in a position to support Red Feather.

With the growth of government welfare programs, there are many, he added, who ask: "Why don't you let government do it all, why continue to bother with private charity?"

"My answer to these" said Mr. Young, "is simple and direct."

You cannot feel for your neighbor through income-tax payments.

Plan $400,000 office bld. on Victoria

Plans for a $400,000 of near Somerville are now complete and excavation work is underway.

The six-story building, designed by Westmount architects Rosen and Caruso will contain about 45,000 square feet of usable office space with room on the ground floor for stores or a bank. The exterior will be finished in glazed brick.

General Contractors for the project are L. D. & H. Schreiber Ltd., 5485 Sherbrooke west. They hope to complete work by the end of March.

Resident asks why all the fuss about Sweeps?

James R. Macken, a resident of 59 Arlington avenue, says he was amazed at all the activity and confusion over the Irish Sweepstake and the Army and Navy distribution centre in the Town of Mount Royal which was raided recently.

He hasn't got a sweepstake ticket himself, he says, but he did get a look at one in the hands of a friend recently and he noted that some $330,000 was paid in by Canadians and from newspaper releases he has discovered that the total of Canadian winnings was $1,087,500.

Thus, he says, Canadians win $787,500 more than they paid into the sweep, plus what the banks charge, plus what the postal services earn.

This is a 262 per cent return on their investment.

So, he asks, what's all the excitement about?

City still recovering from storm effects

Westmount is still recovering from the effects of violent winds and torrential rains that hit the city last Thursday. City crews are now clearing Summit Park of hundreds of fallen branches, torn away by winds gusting as high as fifty-five miles an hour. A large poplar tree was toppled in Murray Park as were five or six smaller trees on the mountain. No estimate of damages to city property is available.

WE SAY Westmount in autumn

FALL, autumn, call it what you wish. It is North America's best season of the year. After suffering a frigid winter, a barely preceptable spring and although the past two years have been minor exceptions, a generally scorching summer, autumn comes as a welcome breather before we once again plunge into the full rigors of winter.

Most people say that the best place to see the leaves turning is the Laurentians or the White or Green Mountains of New England. Westmounters tend to forget that right in their own backyards they can see some of the most spectacular color changes in Canada.

People who have never experienced a Canadian autumn get the surprise of their lives at the fantastic profusion of blazing colors which erupt from as seemingly impenetrable wall of green foliage each year.

One of the best places to see the annual spectacle is Westmount.

Go to the Lookout and see for yourself. The mountain may be a nuisance to motorists; it's a delight to lovers of beautiful scenery and the best spot from which to get a panoramic view of the city. You can't appreciate how much red, yellow, gold orange and brown there is.

The color cascades down the slopes, broken here and there by a street, punctuated by a park adding its own contribution to the show.

And the eye wanders further down until it reaches Sherbrooke street where the city's main artery passes Westmount Park. Here is a most vivid splash in the riotous mixture of autumn colors.

Autumn brings football games, falling leaves and a touch of sadness because it announces the approaching while it lasts, it makes up for the coming bleakness end of another year. But with splendor.

YOU SAY Keep dogs on own lawn

Sir:

May I make a formal complaint through your paper about the dog-lovers of this area who are so inconsiderate as to walk their animals late at night and in the early hours of the morning—and allow them to wander onto the lawns of innocent citizens, where they commit all manner of nuisance.

I have written about this matter to the daily newspapers frequently, and while they print some of the letters, it doesn't seem to do any good.

The result is that I have to be out the next morning with a broom and dustpan, if I am to retain any semblance of order at all on my lawn.

And since I am over 80 and beset by rheumatism as these canines, I am not at all in a good mood to start the day.

Endorses views of Chief Justice Scott

Sir:

I want to endorse the sentiments expressed by former Chief Justice Scott in a letter in your paper of last week.

If anyone should be able to recognize the facts of the case, it is he.

I am always amazed at these whipper-snappers who obtain some accidental access to government through an accident at the polls or the muddle-headedness of the electorate, and then immediately become pundits on all manner of problems.

Good for the Chief Justice, I say, let's have more letters of this kind to officialdom—we must stand on our rights.
J.C.L.

No memorial for Duplessis

Sir:

In reply to the letter in your issue of last week, regarding the missing statue of Maurice Duplessis:

If there is a law on the provincial statutes that some memorial be erected to the late Premier, I for one, believe that it should be stricken from the record.

It is not up to any government to burden the taxpayers further for a purpose of this kind.

If there are friends of Duplessis who wish to set up a statue well and good say I, but as for gouging the public purse for the purpose, let's not.

This Week in Westmount

The Annual Autumn Fair of St. Xavier Apostolate Guild, newly affiliated with the Diocesan Priesthood Guild of Montreal whose honorary president is His Eminence Paul Emile Cardinal Leger DD, is scheduled to take place at Victoria Hall on Wednesday October 16 for one day only from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The Lunch and Tea Shop will provide refreshments for guests and members. Donations and gifts for the event may be delivered to the home of Mrs. F. H. Ditchburn, 4035 Grey avenue, first vice-president of the Guild.

Mrs. G. H. Cook, Strathcona avenue, past president, will be in charge of the "Take A Chance Booth" with Mrs. Ditchburn.

Other attractions will be: Gift Shop, Jams and Jellies Booth, Aprons, Dolls and Toys, Baby Booth, Jewel Box, Candy, Home Cooking, Pop Shop, Hat, Hat Booth, Post Office, Christmas Booth, and Lunch and Tea Shop. The Fair will take place in the Lower Hall of Victoria Hall.

Gala Gowns and exquisite coiffures are of particular interest this week to Westmounters who are planning to attend the opening of Place des Arts. Prefects at Westmount High diligently reminding delinquent students to wear proper tunics and prescribed clothes to school daily. Bob Scott left by train from Westmount Station on Tuesday to reside in San Francisco, California. First colorful fall leaves seen lying around on lawns giving Westmount a dressed up appearance.

Thursday and Friday. Rosh Hashanah marks the beginning of the Jewish New Year and the blowing of the Shofar, or ram's horn, forms an integral part of the religious observance of this Holy Day.

The west end of the ball field on Academy road being readied to accommodate tennis enthusiasts as soon as the courts are completed. Red Feather Campaign officially opens its public subscription September 23, under the chairmanship of F. H. Carsley which will encompass soliciting of all possible donors by canvassers, and the generous response of the people of greater Montreal. The objective is the minimum amount needed to support the work of 36 agencies during the coming year — $2,305,000.

Many Westmount sports car enthusiasts attended the rally at St. Eugene last weekend, with entry forms obtainable from The Pit Stop, St. Catherine west. This will probably be the last sports car event to be held at the old Connor airport circuit, and it is hoped that next year's racing will be held at the new Mont Tremblant circuit. Thirty one year old Grant Clark thrilled a crowd of thousands and beat out old time top drivers as he sped to victory over the bumpy track in the Quebec Grand Prix race in his Lola Ford.

Kings School reopens after scarlet fever outbreak

Kings School which has been closed for the past week as a preventative measure against the further spread of scarlet fever will reopen on Monday morning.

It was learned that five cases developed in five separate classes since the opening of school. Immediately a case was discovered the pupils were dismissed for a week and the classroom thoroughly fumigated. School closed Friday to permit the fumigation of the entire building but on reopening Monday it was found that another pupil had contacted the illness over the weekend; it was decided to close the school for a full week as a safety measure.

Fumigation was done under the supervision of the Westmount Health Department.

No cases have been discovered in any other Westmount Schools.

The cases at Kings were confined to the younger children chiefly, the staff and older pupils not being affected.

It is understood that at no time has there been any danger of an epidemic, the cases discovered have been spread out over a considerable period and the action of authorities in closing the school has been merely a precautionary measure to prevent further possible cases.

New park planned

Westmount Alderman B. Panet Raymond this week proposed that a small public park be made at the corner of Hillside lane and St. Catherine street, on the site of the old Shaw property. The motion was seconded by Ald. W. R. Scott and was unanimously carried.

It is planned to have the lot sodded and planted with suitable shrubbery. Provision will also be made to have benches there.

Unity program pyramids

The Westmount Examiner, Friday, Sept. 20, 1963

By MAURICE MARIASINE

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

Good citizenship and the meaning of democracy can best be learned through actual experience and participation. Because of its methods, philosophy and informal setting, the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount is in an extremely favorable position to train boys and girls for responsible citizenship. Although this is and always has been one of the primary objectives of the Club, there is an urgent need to go beyond the regular activities and develop an organized and purposeful Citizenship Training Program.

Such a program should include and more specifically focus attention on the following objectives:

1. To develop a respect for our system of government, respect for law and order, and for those who administer the laws.
2. To develop understanding of the rights, privileges and obligations of citizenship.
3. To foster understanding and respect for the property and legal rights of others.
4. To create an interest in civic affairs.
5. To provide opportunities for boys and girls to learn how to function in our democracy.
6. To develop an understanding of the importance of voting and elections.

To develop in boys and girls the skills for democratic participation in our government.

GROUP CLUBS

Group Clubs, as part of a balanced Boys' Club program, provide one of the tools useful in helping to attain the objectives of good citizenship. The group club technique has been used as long as there have been Boys' Clubs. It has been found to be one of the effective ways of directing youth into constructive behavior attitudes and experiences.

In group clubs, youngsters have the opportunity to learn about good citizenship, practice leadership in democratic procedure, develop a working knowledge not only of the privileges of a member of democracy but also of the responsibilities of citizenship and to become aware of the rights of others. The group club process is an outstanding method of emphasizing the sharing of a boy's or girl's own personal aims and interests with the general good of the group. This, of course, is one of the first steps toward a democratic, responsible citizenship.

OPERATION

Within the last few years, efforts have been made to increase the group clubs at the Unity Boys' Club. Last year, there were fifteen group clubs in operation. This year, with Tom Stevens acting as Group Club Co-ordinator, it is expected that the ten more will be added and all twenty will be operating on a regular weekly schedule.

We are hopeful that this method of programming will enable the Club to carry out its objective of providing the Youth of the Community with an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

CLUB NOTES

The first of the series of groups clubs mentioned above had its initial meeting last Friday night with Mr. Stevens sitting in as the group's advisor. The group, as yet unnamed, did however conduct an election on the very first get-together. Wayne Buckingham was elected President; Maurice Tremblay was elected Secretary and Barry Dallas was elected Treasurer. Other members of the Group Club are: Larry Coote, Charles Warren and Ronald Ryan. Next week, the group will discuss Constitution and rules and regulations.

STAMP CLUB: Mr. Robert Vaux, Sr. who commences his fourth year of consecutive volunteer service will add a Stamp Club to his regular Coin Club and has announced that registration for this new group can be made at the front desk.

EMBROIDERY: Mrs. M. Warren, a four year worker at the Club and a past President of the Ladies Auxiliary, will resume the Embroidery classes on October 1st. It should be noted that the class will be conducted on Tuesday afternoons instead of the regular Mondays. Mrs. S. Simmons, who has been with the class since 1958 and also a past President of the Auxiliary will return to regular duty as a volunteer worker after Christmas.

RADIO STATION: The Unity Boys' Club opened their own amateur Radio Station — with call letters VE-2-C, U. B. last Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. with a large group of interested people in attendance. Mr. Arthur Strange of the R.C.M.P. Radio Service is operating the Station at the Club and plans to conduct a course in Radio Electronics for the senior boys that are interested. The classes will get underway early in October. Boys interested are asked to contact Mr. Strange at the Club. (Continued on page 16)

Musical Sharps, Flats & Naturals

By FRANCES GOLTMAN

POT-POURRI

EYE CATCHING — EAR CATCHING . . . To present any fashion show, music is a necessity. A gala event a week-and-a-half ago had not only eye-catching fashions, but ear-catching music. The Silver Anniversary Show staged by Fraid's Inc. and J. Richer Furs, under the direction of Iona Monahan in the Sheraton-Mount Royal had such splendid musical accompaniment that a mention of a fashion show finds its way into a musical column.

Edmund Assaly, LRSM, ATCM — an artist residing here who came from Saskatoon where he studied with Lyle Gustin, was in charge of the music.

The subdued melodies from the small ensemble were selected by Mr. Assaly with forethought. A well-known radio and television artist, a composer and arranger, he often plays two-piano work and knows his craft.

For the entertaining evening, he chose various familiar works and made some original compositions to suit the types of fashions.

For the final scene in the show, an Oriental wedding, Mr. Assaly performed on organist Kenneth Gilbert's harpsichord, brought there specially for the occasion since there are only a few in Montreal.

MUSIV — ART — LITERATURE . . . Montreal now has so much culture to offer that patrons can choose from several events often taking place on the same evening. Between the regular symphony, chamber music series and many new series currently being advertised, one certainly could be kept busy throughout the coming season. Let's hope they will have ample attendances! Something new that we think will attract an audience is "Wednesday Night" a speculation into three fields on one evening. . . . Literature, Theatre and Music. Sponsored by The Mansfield Book Mart, "MBM," the first of these events, which will continue every two weeks, starts next Wednesday, September 25. The

Westmounter Sam Steinberg reports sales

Consolidated sales of Steinberg's Limited and its subsidiaries for the fiscal year ended

July 27, 1963 totalled $286,809,904, surpassing by 7.03% last year's sales of $267,964,704, it was reported this week by Westmounter Sam Steinberg, president.

In an advance report to shareholders, Mr. Steinberg, President, disclosed that Steinberg's Limited expects its consolidated net income after taxes to reach an all-time high of approximately $4,750,000. This compares with $4,137,146 earned in 1962.

Mr. Steinberg revealed that earnings per share which last year amounted to $1.37 should similarly increase to approximately $1.58. Total net income expressed as a per cent of sales will be close to the 1.66% figure indicated in the Company's mid-year statement.

According to Mr. Steinberg, "The improved performance of the Ontario and Miracle Mart divisions has contributed to the past year's gratifying results. The latter division now operates six Miracle Mart self-service department stores, the most recent of which was opened only three weeks ago in Montreal on Sherbrooke street east corner Montée St. Léonard. Two others are scheduled to open before the turn of the year. These will be located in Hamilton, Ontario, and Ste. Foy, Quebec."

Material life to be discussed

Mankind's efforts to explain life and the universe from a material standpoint will be scrutinized at the services in Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Matter." Bible selections on this theme will include the following verse from I John: "The world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever." Relevant passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man then appropriates these things which 'eye hath not seen nor ear heard'."

Rally Day scheduled

For a vital sense of humanity, to retain our Christian sentiments, it is essential that we continue to have the opportunity to support voluntary charity organizations."

The changing function of charity, he said, has brought about a situation where the majority of services offered through the Red Feather are to help people to help themselves.

Much of the money goes to maintain professional people, such as nurses and case-workers, whose job is to better the lot of the needy — not just make hand-outs to tide them over until the next situation arises.

Big cities, he added, breed big institutions, as well as big buildings and big churches and big corporations — but at the point of contact the Red Feather individual units are comparatively small and every effort is made to keep them human.

Red Feather, he concluded, has taken in 11 new agencies in a comparatively short space of time, and was largely responsible for the formation of the Combined Health Appeal, thereby cutting down the number of campaigns still further in the city.

However, he added, this doesn't mean we have ample means as some people seem to think.

"The fact is — we are in need of money, and we need it vitally!"

program includes poems of love to be read by actress Mignonne Elkins and radio personality Ted Miller with musical accompaniment performed by guitarist Louis Spritzer.

The directors of the enterprise, Miss Ditte A. Koster and Heinz E. Heinemann, feel that the venture will draw people devoted to every art. Future programs are being arranged for folk and classical music, dramatic presentations, dancers, readings in several languages. The second program, already planned, is quite unusual. Professor Arnold of McGill University will deliver an address with illustrative slides on a biography of Dadaism through half a century.

For those who do not know what this is, the definition of DADAISM is: a cult that originated in Paris following World War I which proposed irrationality in art and the changing habits of society. That ought to make an interesting evening!

Local clergymen meet with FSA

Members of the Family Service Association, Westmount, met this week with local clergymen in an effort to acquaint the church leaders with the functions and aims of the Association.

Attending were Rev. A. T. Love of St. Stephen's Church and Rev. Reginald Hollis of St. Matthias. Rev. Slaughter of Erskine United presided.

Among the topics discussed were the problems of the elderly, and the relationship of clergy and the FSA. Miss Barnstead of the Association gave a resume of the agency's structure.

A similar meeting will be held later this year, it was announced by Mrs. I. Dunlop, director. A better attendance is anticipated.

in the gale-like winds and pulled down power lines plunged about half of Westmount into darkness as four main circuits were knocked out. Service in most areas was restored in minutes although homes along Westmount avenue were without power for long periods all through the afternoon and evening.

"It was quite an exciting time," remarked A. deF. Heron, Superintendent of Light and power routes to try to maintain service in the Westmount avenue area."

"All lines were restored by 6:42 p.m. although city crews in many cases had to return the next day to replace temporary splices.

New body movements replace old exercises

By MOLLY BACAL

Totality Body Movement Study serves the individual in self-discovery on many levels.

The average person finds her body, if not an expensive liability, and least an instrument over which she has limited control and with which she can express still less.

There is no one sport that can give you the same over-all gain as a broad exercise program. It is through such a program that you become well-tuned to participation in the sports of your choice — all year round. Body Movement Study can ignite the same spark as any sport and the rewards can be far more comprehensive.

People are prone to be too muscle-minded. The average person tends to have a stereotyped and overly-mechanical view of an exercise program. The drive must be away from the realm of dry mechanics which overemphasizes achievement in a senseless way. Pleasure is all — important. If there is no real love of movement, there is no resultant release. Forget the old approach of flex and bend — that is, isolated movement. Think instead of total body involvement. In exercising, forget the idea of therapy in capsule form. Learn to run with true zest and to move with true pleasure.

For a large number of people a new course must be chartered. Too many people feel no loss that their education is largely verbal! They are unaware of the great untapped sources of vitality. In this physical realm there is not nearly enough self-knowledge, pleasure, and understanding of release. John Dewey's definition of education belongs as much to the realm of physical education as to the intellectual — He said "Education is the release of a capacity from whatever hems it in."

A Movement Study program can be disciplined to a household schedule — not always easily — but women everywhere prove it can be done.

In this field of Totality Movement Study, I teach privately and within organizations. My comprehensive program is the synthesis of various European schools. It includes a warm-up of passive movements, ball rhythms and coordinations which are Estonian in source, walking and running patterns, and many types of postural floor exercises, giving a practical understanding of the dynamics of posture.

Music is essential to movement study and in these classes there is a particularly wonderful fusion of music and motion. The vital piano accompaniment has been composed specifically for the work. "Background" music does not serve the same purpose.

The program is designed for young and middle-aged women, and children from the age of eight.

The exercises, stressing always totality and fluidity bear a strong affinity to Modern Dance. The work is highly aesthetic and feminine. Classes are taught from September to the end of June, since fitness is not a season thing and bodies cannot be molded on short term notice.

Body Movement Study, in its broadest sense, is a significant instrument in daily living — increasing one's sense of vitality, well-being, pleasure, and self-enhancement. It is a source of enrichment open to all who seek it — a serious pleasure, recreative in its largest sense.

Ladies — you have selected with care your clothing, your cosmetics, and your elegant coiffures. There are so many purchasable, wearable sources of enhancement! But, what about that fundamental experience of enriching the body itself?

WHS to host 150 student counsellors at Conference

By MARCY PELLY and DAVID L. SMITH

Plans for the forthcoming annual student's Council Conference to be held this year at Westmount High School on November 8 and 9 are now in the making. The school will be host to about 150 student counsellors from all over the province. Further details will be available soon.

The start of the school year was marked by a great deal of behind the scenes activity this year by the executives of various class clubs, but with few visible results yet.

The Purple and White, the school newspaper has been holding executive meetings almost daily. So far, these have resulted in the obtaining of a small room for staff meeting and the basic outline for the first issue of the paper which will be published around October 15.

There was a meeting of junior school class representatives on Wednesday and of senior representatives Thursday.

If anyone did not attend these meetings, Editor Sue Birnie would like it known that there is still room for more staff members.

Both meetings showed enthusiasts support from the students. Mr. Bouyer the advisor, also deserves appreciation for his interest and willingness to help.

At a Students Council assembly Monday, the heads of the various clubs gave short speeches on the program of their clubs for the coming year. Karen Stein, editor of the Vox Ducem, the school annual, mentioned the contest sponsored by the Literary section.

Prizes will be awarded to the top three winners in three categories: art, poetry and short stories. Students are urged to submit their entries right away and not to be shy. Age will be considered in the judging.

All winning entries will be published. Tova Wisenthal spoke for the Drama Club — the executive positions have all been filled. Miss King remains the advisor — and a most competent one too.

Jonathan Cohen spoke for the Debating Club whose executive consists of himself and Valerie Miller as secretary. This year the club will try to spark interest with controversial topics.

Another intellectual club is the Chess Club — with chairman Julian Lebensold talking at the meeting. This club plans three different programs: the teaching

Leading couturier occupies mansion

By Millicent Hickmore

MEMBERS OF THE Canadian Women's Press Club were guests of Marie Paule at her Salon, 420 Bonsecours street Tuesday evening, when she gave a talk on fashions, illustrating her talk with examples from her autumn collection. Neighboring on Eric Maclean's newly renovated home, this mansion is situated in the very heart of Old Montreal.

The fashions modeled were elegant, beautiful long evening gowns, three-piece wool suits, afternoon frocks in simple lines, with styles and cut as only Marie Paul could produce.

However, the majority of us, keen on exploring this old house on Bonsecours street, which was until recently used as a warehouse, wandered up and down the long, long staircases, visiting the many large rooms. Old paintings, large framed old fashioned, full-length mirrors and bric-a-brac added to the Victorian era decor.

The grand salon on the main floor is over 50 feet long and approximately 45 feet wide and is lighted only from a huge skylight in the center of a roof garden.

The large entrance hall or reception room, bright with mirrors, had old fashioned floor lamps, each with nine large bulbs and the long wall was adorned with a beautiful tapestry (borrowed from Marie Paule's neighbor, Eric Maclean) for the occasion.

On the second floor, adjoining the Victorian dining room is another large comfortable living room and up another long flight of steps, are the living quarters.

STEEPED IN HISTORY
Bonsecours may well be the spot where Jacques Cartier landed when he sailed up the St. Lawrence River over 400 years ago. History has it that the Old Indian Road to the Mountain ran in a northwesterly direction through the corner of the present Victoria Square, where McGill street now meets Notre Dame street — the landing place.

may have been at the spot where Champlain later called "La Place Royale", or may have been further downstream alongside the Bonsecours Church, in the lower end of what is now known as Jacques Cartier Square, near the famous Bonsecours Market.

The trend today is to preserve these old buildings most of them over 150 years old, in the Bonsecours district. Probably, in the distant future this may become a residential district, but my opinion is that it will not be for a great many years and at the cost of many thousands of dollars.

TINY TIM FAIR: The Junior Associates group of the Women's Auxiliary of The Montreal Children's Hospital have been very busy during the summer months creating exclusive children's clothes, which will be for sale at the Tiny Tim Fair on October 16, along with toys, homebaking, Christmas cards, wrapping paper and other attractive gifts that have proven so popular in past years. The fair will be held in the Nurses' Residence on Essex avenue, and the proceeds will go towards buying special equipment, to aid in research and teaching, and to reflect in any way the interest of the public in the care of the sick children of our city.

Unity Club footballers play Saturday

Unity Boys' Club footballers will be hosts to Terrebonne Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2:30, at Westmount Park.

This is the first home game of the season for the local boys — who were somewhat walloped at Verdun a week ago. This is to be expected, however, as the their very first, not even excepting exhibitions.

With the baptism of fire out of the way, however, it is expected that the Unity squad will give their supporters something to cheer about tomorrow.

Bank of Nova Scotia is extended

Alterations to the Bank of Nova Scotia at Sherbrooke and Greene which will increase the size of the banking floor by about one-third are now in progress. Dividing walls on the south side of the bank are being torn down and the bank will be extended into what was formerly the Oxfords Soda and Stationary Store.

The entire banking space will be rearranged, with new counters and offices added. The exterior facing will be removed and replaced with a lime and granite surface. Architect for the project, Arnold Schrier, plans to have work completed by the middle of December.

General contractor on the job is Chant Co. Ltd., while mechanical and structural engineers are John Holden and DeStein and Associates, both of Westmount.

of chess to beginners; the providing of competition for chess players; and the organizing of a team to participate in interschool tournaments. Last year, Westmount High placed tenth.

Michael Chodos, president of the Current Events Club outlined the club's general aims for the coming year. He stated that the date of the New York Trip has been set definitely for October 17 and that a meeting will be held September 25 to elect grade 10 members of the executive.

The Friday night Club's Chairman, Diana Gurd states that an informal dance will be held this week. Informal as it will be, the club has arranged for a band.

Also in the offing is next week's Ashbury - Westmount Football game Saturday afternoon.

The Poster Committee under the chairmanship of Susan Clift and the guidance of Mrs. Petts hopes to continue its able work.

Last Thursday, some 63 WHS grade eleven students struggled through the pouring rain to reach Westmount railway station for 4:30 p.m. There they boarded a train for Toronto, and were off for two days of sightseeing and play-going in Stratford, Ontario. The event was the schools first excursion to the Stratford Shakespearean Festival.

The train was scheduled to arrive in Toronto in time to allow a forty-five minute stop-over, but the group had to board the Stratford-bound train right away. At the pleasant hour of 3:00 a.m., the train arrived in Stratford. There, school buses picked up the group, and took them to various private houses, where two to five persons were accommodated.

Bright and early the next morning (by about ten-o'clock) everyone was up and out to see the town. Stratford is a most picturesque city. Old-style and modern architecture blend well to lend it character.

The whole river bank is a park, with graceful willows, and in places formal gardens or expansive lawns. Several quaint bridges lead to islands in the river, or to the far shore. Unfortunately, the river itself had been drained to allow for dredging, and only a mud hole with a trickle of water running through it remained. Even this did not destroy the picturesque effect. The whole of Friday and Saturday morning were free for exploring the city or seeing the festival exhibition. Many spent the day improving their mind in this way, although a few members of the group were observed playing football.

The evening was spent at the Festival Theatre as Timon of Athens was giving its final performance before the general public. And a fitting closing to the play's run it was! Michael Langham, the director, set the play in modern times, with modern costumes and situations. Brian Jackson's modern production design, Duke Ellington's jazz score, and Alan Lund's modern dance sequences helped to create the atmosphere of present-day society life, which Timon enjoys throughout the first part of the play. John Colicos gave a spell-binding performance as Timon, ably supported by Hugh Webster, Douglas Rain, and William Hutt.

Saturday afternoon, the group saw Troilus and Cressida, once again ably directed by Michael Langham. Much of the play was treated quite lightly, as Shakespeare evidently intended it to be. Tension rose toward the end, and the last act was quite dramatic, although it included some humor.

The play, with its combination of comedy and tragedy, was therefore highly enjoyable. Martha Henry, John Colicos, Peter Donat, William Hutt, Tony Van Bridge, and Eric Christmas delivered excellent performances in the leading roles, the last three being especially memorable for their comic roles.

The train left Stratford at 9:02 p.m. and arrived in Montreal the following morning at eight, with a short stop-over at Toronto. On the train both ways the school had a coach to itself.

The cost to each student was a little over thirty dollars. Mr. Bernard and Mrs. Lancey of the English department acted as supervisors; however, excellent conduct was maintained on the train and in Stratford. The trip appears to have been a highly successful one, and it is hoped that it may be repeated next year. The English department, and especially Mr. Bernard and Mrs. Lancey, the Canadian National Railway, and the Stratford Festival Committee deserve thanks for making the whole project possible.

Vitamin lack probed by doctors

Five prominent local doctors, have uncovered evidence they consider conclusive that vitamin deficiencies are relatively prevalent among the lower socio-economic groups in Canada.

Working on the project were Drs. L. Brunton, A. Milas, Y. S. Hsieh, Bernard Cooper, and Louis Lowenstein.

All are Westmounters. In a previous issue only Dr. Cooper had been mentioned as a local man.

By PETER G. MATHON

A new school year started at Lower Canada College on Thursday, September 5 with a full program planned in the academic and athletic field for the nine months ahead.

On Monday, September 9, Dr. Penton, the headmaster, held an assembly at which he welcomed both the new students and the new teachers to LCC.

The Senior, Junior and Bantam football teams started practises last week. Mr. Wood coaches the Seniors, Mr. Reynolds the Juniors and Mr. Howard the Bantams. All three teams are in the city leagues.

The six house teams, Beverage, Claxton, Drummond, French, Russell and Woods, also started practising last week for their house games, which are scheduled for this week.

The Senior football team is scheduled to play on October 19, at Lennoxville against Bishop's College, which Dr. Penton considers a very important event.

MRS. H. G. FLOOK, right, and MRS. K. VAUX, of N.D.G., captured the Henderson Doubles trophy Monday night at Westmount Lawn Bowling Club by trimming Mrs. Len Easton and Mrs. J. Mills of Mount Royal Club, 20-4 in final.

West End couple are winners

The final round of the Henderson Doubles Inter Club Competition sponsored annually by the PQLLBA was played on Monday night, at Westmount greens. Mrs. H. G. Flook and Mrs. K. Vaux of Notre Dame de Grace Lawn Bowling Club defeated Mrs. Len Easton and Mrs. J. Mills of Mount Royal Country Club 20 to 4 in a 14 end game. The last two ends were not played as Mrs. Easton was willing to concede the game to Mrs. Flook at this stage. There were sixty entries from eight clubs this year, thirty-four playing in the afternoon draw and twenty-six in the evening, the opening play commencing on Tuesday, September 3. Heavy rain on two occasions halted the play thereby causing added labor for Mrs. R. Thom and Mrs. Bracegirdle, co-conveners of this event. Mrs. R. Rowat of Mount Royal Country Club was umpire for the final round.

Mr. John Henderson of Westmount Lawn Bowling Club, who donated the trophy in memory of his father, the late Mr. Alex Henderson, was called upon to present it to the winners, Mrs. Flook and Mrs. Vaux. They will hold it till new winners have been declared next season. This is the third season for the competition. The winners in the inaugural year, 1961, were Mrs. J. Grieve and Mrs. J. Linford of Lachine Lawn Bowling Club and the 1962 winners were Mrs. M. Tuck and Mrs. M. Morton also members of Lachine Club.

Mrs. S. Larbalestier, vice-president of the PQLLBA, congratulated the winners and thanked all who contributed toward the successful running of the competition. She then called upon Mrs. Thom and Mrs. Bracegirdle to present the Association pins and merchandise certificates to the winners and the runners-up respectively.

Araujo sparks Mules to 25-0 win over Huskies

The Mules of the Westmount eight-man tackle football league won their second game of the season this week by blasting the Huskies 25-0. Carols Araujo accounted for three T.D.'s with his power house plunges over right tackle from the seven, four and three yard lines. He also added a convert.

Brian Vaux got their fourth touchdown going around left end from two yards out.

Other offensive stars were Lawrence Crouch, Kevin Cooper and quarterback Gord. Norris.

The Mules also got strong defensive support from Dave Walker, Louis Sauve and Dave MacKinnon. Outstanding players for the Huskies were Jimmy Harbottle, Roger Harte and Willie McMaster.

In the second game of the morning which was climaxed by a single from thirty yards out by Dave Beasant, on the last play of the game, gave the Broncs a 13-12 win. Harvey Alter scored both Bulls touchdowns, while Beasant and Phil Lecouffe scored for the winners.

Duncan Munro came out with a fine game, as did defensive end Deane Farley. Georgie Musto and Michael Clapham turned in good performances for the losers.

16 Valuation hikes ratified

The Westmount Examiner, Friday, Sept. 20, 1963

The raising of municipal valuations of 21 of 32 municipalities on the Island of Montreal by from five to 200 percent has been ratified by the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation.

Westmount's valuation has increased 50 per cent, Montreal West is up 25% and St. Laurent and Hampstead 10 per cent each.

The new assessments, aimed at standardizing valuation levels with Montreal, are intended to apportion construction costs of the Metropolitan boulevard service roads and administrative disbursements of the MMC.

They have no bearing on the setting of local tax rates.

The new schedule of equality of property valuations was approved without opposition by any MMC member. The figures were not contested by any municipality during the statutory 30-day period since publication of the assessments.

Unity . . .

BASKETBALL: Basketball practices have already started . . . to-date, there are four boys teams preparing for active competition, they are: Bidy, Bantam, and two senior "B" teams. Doug Mariasine returns with his Champion Bidy team and newcomer Robert Stoddart will handle the Bantams. It is expected that the girls will also have a team ready for competition this year.

GYMNASTICS: Jimmy Rice, who starts his second year as a student of the Boys' Clubs of Canada Scholarship Course, returns to the Unity Boys' Club to do his field work again this year. He plans to conduct gymnastic classes twice a week. On Wednesdays it will be for the Club Gymnastic team and on Friday afternoons for the beginners.

FRETWORK: Mr. Rice will also resume his fretwork classes and plans to introduce a new handcraft. He will conduct classes on Fridays and Saturdays.

GIRLS' GENERAL GYM: Sandra Staples is also returning for a second year in volunteer work. She will be associated with the physical program.

JUDO: The Art of Judo will be introduced to club members at a special meeting to be held next week. Allan Bechard of Ottawa, formerly of the Ottawa Boys' Club and now a student at the Sir George Williams University has been appointed leader in charge of Judo. It is expected that three classes will be formed.

LIBRARY: The Gladys Moxley Memorial Library will be open this year starting September 30th, under the leadership of Mrs. D. T. Youngson who has been Head Librarian for the past 12 years. A Library Committee will be appointed to assist Mrs. Youngson during the forthcoming Program year.

FOOTBALL: The Unity Football team played their first league game versus Verdun last week losing it 37-12. Considering the fact that the group had not participated in exhibition games prior to the opening game, it was considered a good start. One thing that struck this observer at the game was the large number of parents that were on hand to see the Verdun team play — it is hoped that the parents of the Unity Boys' will support the team when they play their first home game at Westmount Park — the game will be played next Saturday, September 21st.

EVERY DOLLAR YOU GIVE THE CANVASSER MUST BE DIVIDED 36 WAYS

(That's a problem and a promise!)

The problem is simple mathematics.

In United Red Feather Services there are 36 separate welfare agencies. Each must have your support if it is to continue its work.

That means that every single dollar you give must be divided down 36 ways. A problem, indeed, in these days of increasing needs and rising costs.

The promise is that every dollar you give will work 36 wonders—by enabling the 36 Red Feather agencies to continue their work of helping the poor, the sick, the helpless, the troubled and the afraid.

So, when she calls at your door, be as generous as you can, remembering the problem—and the promise! Remember, too, that when you give to Red Feather, you're not giving to a big impersonal organization. You're giving to people . . . the people of Montreal who need help. This is your chance to help them.
