Peron Still Awaits Safe Conduct Papers To Paraguayan Exile

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — Authoritative sources today said Juan D. Peron, still aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in the River Plate, probably would receive his long-awaited safe conduct to exile during the day.

The deposed Argentine dictator took refuge on the gunboat Paraguay nine days ago. Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi, who led the revolt which ended Peron's 10-year sway as Argentina's strong man, announced that he would be accorded the traditional Latin-American right of political asylum.

Lonardi told correspondents last night that Peron was free to begin exile in Paraguay at any time.

But the piece of paper granting him safe conduct up the Parana and Paraguay rivers to Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital, was still not forthcoming immediately. Lonardi, replying to questions, said only: "The moment of the departure of Gen. Peron is a problem that concerns the Paraguayan government."

The delay set off a wave of rumors.

One confirmed report said a segment of Paraguay's armed forces objected that Peron's presence in their country would cause difficulties between Paraguay and other western hemisphere powers. This report said President Alfredo Stroessner would limit Peron's stay to 48 hours, after which he would continue to London.

As conditions in Argentina approached normal today, the curfew imposed after the revolt was lifted.

More key men in the Peron regime were rounded up. Orlando Santos and Pedro Bonanni, former ministers of industry and housing, were jailed at the national penitentiary.

Rear-Admiral Albert Teisaire, Peron's vice-president, and Rear-Admiral Luis J. Cornes, ex-minister of the navy, were put under house arrest.

Police sources told tall tales of vast wealth being uncovered in a search of Peron's two residences in the capital. One informant close to government investigators claimed searchers had found $20,000,000 stowed away in cash in the presidential palace.

World News In Brief

A British squadron of six ships headed by the aircraft carrier Triumph will call at Leningrad, and six Russian warships led by the heavy cruiser Alexander Suvorov will visit the British naval base at Portsmouth.

Toronto — (P) — Billy Graham spoke to the largest indoor crowd yet gathered in his current Greater Toronto evangelistic crusade Tuesday night. Speaking on the eighth commandment — thou shalt not steal — the United States evangelist spoke to more than 11,000 people.

Famagusta, Cyprus — (Reuters) — Three thousand Cypriot Greeks jeered and booed police and British troops here Tuesday night while police seized anti-British placards from pickets.

Molotov Silent

Ask Reds To Limit Arms Sale

New York. — (AP) — The Soviet Union kept silent today toward an American-British request that the Communists help in limiting the sale of heavy arms to Egypt and the Middle East.

State Secretary Dulles and Foreign Secretary Macmillan broached the issue to Foreign Minister Molotov at dinner here last night following Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's announcement that Red Czechoslovakia has agreed to trade such arms for Egyptian rice and cotton.

Dulles and Macmillan repeated to Molotov their desire expressed in a statement earlier yesterday, "to avoid an arms race which would inevitably increase the tensions" in the Middle East. In their statement they added the hope that other governments would be guided by the same aim.

The Soviet foreign minister did not comment, other than to say he would communicate the view to Moscow.

Pointing up the threat of an arms race, Israel's ambassador to Washington, Abba Eban, hinted to reporters there that his government might ask for American weapons if Egypt gets the Red arms.

Eban said if the report of the Egyptian-Communist deal "is true, we will have to study the implications of it."

Dulles and Macmillan in essence said they want Middle Eastern countries to have sufficient arms to keep order at home and repel aggression from abroad — but not enough to disturb the Arab-Israeli balance of power.

PM Approves Scheme To Restore Direct Provincial Taxation

OTTAWA — (CP) — The federal brain trust, reasoning that tax rental pacts are difficult to justify in an era of peace, has placed a new plan before the cabinet to bring the provinces back into the direct taxing field.

The scheme, to be considered by the cabinet at an all-day session today, could give rise to a jumble of different federal-provincial taxes on personal and corporation incomes.

A vital part of the federal plan, it is understood, would be to offer the provinces security and tax collection machinery in exchange for uniform tax rates.

And the federal administration would vacate — up to a certain point — the portion of the tax field taken over by the provinces to prevent a boost in taxes.

In addition, the central government would grant the less wealthy provinces "equalization" payments to bring their revenues perhaps up to the level of Ontario, wealthiest province in proportion to population.

Thus if all aspects were acceptable to the cabinet and the provinces, the Canadian taxpayer would still fill in only one tax form — with a few additional lines for provincial rates — and there still would be one collector — the federal government. It would collect for itself and the provinces.

Federal authorities already have thrust aside any hope that Quebec would buy such a plan. However there is some hope here the other provinces might accept the federal offer.

All aspects of the new plan would form the basis for federal-provincial bargaining. The scheme is understood to have the support of Prime Minister St. Laurent. If approved by cabinet, it will be placed before provincial premiers at the federal-provincial conference opening Monday.

If the plan leaps all hurdles, including the provinces, it will ring down the curtain on the federal-provincial tax rental agreements born in wartime 1941. The current five-year pacts, negotiated with all provinces except Quebec, expire in March, 1957.

Cabinet advisers who have developed the new plan are thinking in terms of the provinces levying a personal income tax equal to, say, 10 per cent of the

Yucatan Is Walloped At 135mph

Miami, Fla. — (AP) — The season's 10th and most powerful hurricane slammed ashore on the desolate Yucatan coast shortly before midnight last night with a terrific wallop riding on 135-mile-an-hour winds.

Janet drew a bead on northern Central America and the Yucatan peninsula after completing a destructive course through the Caribbean sea.

Winds and tides were on the upsurge this morning all along the coasts of British Honduras and southeastern Mexico.

At Belize in British Honduras winds of almost 50 miles an hour were reported early today, and the weather bureau warned the worst was still to come.

Janet struck the coastline at about 21 miles an hour. Winds up to 135 whirled around her centre, and hurricane-force winds reached out about 80 miles. Gales whipped land and sea 250 miles to the north and 100 miles to the south.

Previous high winds in a hurricane this season were clocked at 125.

Weather bureau forecasters called Janet a "severe hurricane" and advised ships in the extreme western Caribbean to avoid it.

The hurricane already had claimed about 200 lives in the Caribbean. Perhaps nine United States navy men and two Canadian newspaper men were among them. They were aboard a hurricane hunter plane which flew into the storm Monday morning and has been missing since.

Re-Open Soho Knife Case

Britons' Faith Is Shaken By The Acquittal of Two Combatants

London — (Reuters) — Detectives combed the narrow streets of London's Soho quarter today, seeking fresh evidence in a bloody knife battle which has shaken Britons' faith in their legal system.

Two women sleuths and a force of male associates worked their way through cosmopolitan Soho's underground drinking dens last night and today, while newspapers kept up a cry for action over the acquittal of two men for lack of evidence after a knife fight in broad daylight in crowded Soho streets.

Rumors of threats against witnesses followed the unexpected acquittal, and the courts' failure to impose punishment in the case raised a roar of protest.

Chief detective superintendent Edward Grenno, who scattered race track razor gangs before the war, is keeping his detectives after a new lead in the case.

A preliminary report on the investigation is expected to go by Thursday to Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd George, who ordered the new investigation.

Britons, proud of their law-abiding reputation and legal system, are shaking their heads over newspaper editorials comparing the Soho section to Chicago's old-time gangland.

The fight took place on a hot August morning. Two men ran through the crowded alleys. The knives flashed. They lumbered, fighting savagely, into a shop where they both collapsed in a welter of blood from their wounds.

One was Jack Comer, better known as Jack Spot, a barrel-like man with black, greasy hair long feared as the city's "gangster No. 1." The other was Albert Dimes, 40, a bookmaker known as "Italian Albert."

They were tried separately on charges of "making an affray," possessing an offensive weapon and wounding. They were acquitted on all charges in separate trials after an earlier joint trial had been dismissed.

All the witnesses are expected to be questioned again following rumors of underworld strong-arm tactics against them during the trials.

Jurymen, too, may be questioned. There have been hints that attempts were made to influence them, though no definite evidence has emerged from police investigations to support this.

Nixon Speaks With Newsmen — Vice-President Richard Nixon (left) tells Washington newsmen that "there are many legal problems" and a ruling from the Attorney General is needed in order to make plans for carrying on Government functions during the illness of President Eisenhower. (NEA)

Say Ike Will Return To Helm Within Month

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower's team was described today as confident that within 30 days at the most the president will again be able to guide the United States administration.

The opinion was based on continued optimistic medical reports on Eisenhower's recovery from a heart attack which struck him last Saturday in Denver.

One presidential aide said that if a matter of transcendental importance should arise immediately, it could be taken to the president even now.

Meanwhile Eisenhower's chief aides are reported settling down to a 30-day "holding operation." During this period, the source said, the by-word in the government on major policy matters will be "leave it where Ike last saw it."

The problem of how, it at all, essential presidential policy-making powers could be delegated to others — a prime topic in Washington on Monday — has been pushed into the background.

After 30 days, it is felt, Eisenhower should be in shape to

Raid Homes For Reds In S. Africa

Johannesburg — (Reuters) — Police yesterday raided homes and offices of hundreds of South Africans — including whites, Africans and Indians — in a country-wide hunt for evidence of treason or sedition.

Armed with search warrants under the controversial Suppression of Communism Act, the raiders went through offices of Indian and African rights organizations. They also investigated homes of individuals ranging from organization leaders to politicians and clergymen.

Piles of documents were seized — many from premises owned by groups which have been loud in their opposition to the South African government's white supremacy policy. But no arrests had been reported by last night.

Raid took place in Johannesburg, Pietermaritzburg, Capetown, Port Elizabeth, Durban and other communities.

Among homes searched was that in Capetown of Sam Kahn, who was expelled from the South African Parliament in 1952 under the Suppression of Communism Act. The act gives authorities wide powers to act against persons named by the government as Communists.

Detectives also called on Rev. Trevor Huddleston, an Anglican clergyman and an outspoken opponent of the government racial segregation policy.

Teetotallers To Receive Low Insurance Rates

Simcoe, Ont. — (P) — An automobile insurance company, which will sell insurance at reduced rates to teetotallers, hopes to be ready for business within the next few months.

The firm, supported by the Ontario Temperance Federation, is being organized by several members of the Norfolk County Temperance Federation.

It plans to sell car insurance at premium reductions of 15 to 40 per cent to persons willing to sign a pledge not to drink any alcoholic beverages while the policy is in force.

Story of Motherhood

Stolen Frisco Baby Returned To Priest

STOCKTON, Calif. — (AP) — A grief-stricken woman who kidnapped a baby because she deceived her husband with a story of motherhood surrendered 11-day-old Robert Marcus to a Roman Catholic priest today.

Officers said she confessed stealing the baby from the nursery of a San Francisco hospital nine days ago.

Police chief Jack O'Keefe said Mrs. Betty Benedicto, 27, of Stockton delivered the baby to Rev. Allen McCoy at St. Mary's parish after telephoning Dr. Sanford Marcus, the infant's father in San Francisco and instructing him to meet her here.

The baby is in excellent condition and police said there is no question he is Robert Marcus.

Dr. Marcus, 34, grinning for the first time since his son was stolen, said: "We feel in our hearts he is ours. We are 99 per cent certain. But we will await footprint checks and blood tests."

Marcus and his grief-stricken wife, Hanna, 29, who has been in a state of near collapse since the kidnapping, made the 80-mile trip to Stockton in a San Francisco police car in 75 minutes.

Mrs. Benedicto, sobbing and near hysteria when taken to the Stockton police station, was booked on a technical holding charge. Chief O'Keefe said he understood San Francisco authorities would charge her with kidnapping.

Dr. Marcus, in appeals to the kidnapper for safe delivery of Robert, had promised he would not prosecute.

Chief O'Keefe quoted Mrs. Benedicto, wife of a prosperous publisher of a Filipino weekly newspaper, as saying she took the child because she had convinced friends, including her husband, she was pregnant.

When "Papa" Benedicto began passing out cigars, she went to San Francisco, looked over the Mt. Zion Hospital nursery and dashed away with the Marcus baby. She said she chose that particular one because Marcus was her husband's name.

Then mental anguish set in. She said she loved the baby and wanted to keep him. But all the time her radio and television sets were blaring pleas from the grief-stricken parents for the return of their child.

Classification Of Jewels Told To Optimists

The science of gemology and the comparatively modern ways of diamond classification were the subject of a talk by Paul Nadeau, local jeweler, at the Sherbrooke Optimist Club's weekly meeting last night.

Mr. Nadeau illustrated his talk with color slides, demonstrating the various diamond cuts and the mode of classification.

A diamond is judged for color, clarity, cut and perfection, he declared, and many diamonds may be flawless but none are perfect.

One of the most important traits of a diamond is color, and machines have now been designed whereby the true color of the stone is clearly shown. In not so modern times, diamond importers in New York could only tell the color of a diamond between certain hours of the day when the sun was shining and there was no other interference from nature.

At their business session the Optimists discussed the proposed sale of Christmas trees this year, and Claude Lauzon told the members that plans have reached an advanced stage.

Dr. Charles Goulet was introduced as a new member and along with Gilles Cote and Guy Lacharite, will be sworn in at the President's banquet, Oct. 15.

Mounted Police Play Important Role In District

On the occasion of the opening of the new federal building, in Sherbrooke, it is an opportune time to recall to the public certain details of the function of the RCMP, which is housed in the structure.

Sherbrooke is the headquarters of the RCMP for the Eastern Townships. Sgt. Victor Dube is the commanding officer of this branch. The Sherbrooke section comprises 7 detachments with a total of 26 men, and is made up of Granby, Drummondville, Rock Island, Coaticook, Megantic, St. Georges de Beauce and Sherbrooke.

Each detachment is in charge of a senior constable, responsible to Sgt. Dube for the administration of the detachment. Sgt. J. R. Laliberte is in command of the local detachment and is also responsible to Sgt. Dube.

Sgt. Dube has a vast administrative experience. He was named sergeant in 1947 when he was in charge of the Val D'Or section, which comprises two judicial districts. In 1950, he was transferred to Rimouski and had jurisdiction over the Lower St. Lawrence, Gaspé, and North Shore detachments.

In 1954, he was transferred to Sherbrooke to assume the functions of Sergeant in charge of the Sherbrooke section.

Sgt. Dube works directly under the order of Inspector W. Higgett, Commanding Officer of the Montreal sub-division. Montreal is the general headquarters for the province of Quebec and is designated as C division of the RCMP. Commanding officer of C division is Superintendent J. R. Lussier.

Dance Will Mark Cowansville Lions' 10th Anniversary

Cowansville— On Friday evening, October 14th, the Cowansville Lions will hold a dance in the Ottawa Hotel to celebrate their tenth anniversary. Invitations have gone out to other clubs in the district and friends of the Lions will help to swell the expected crowd.

On September 10th, 1945, the Cowansville Lions Club was chartered and became a part of the largest service club organization in the world, the Inter-Clubs.

Ten years ago the club was organized in Cowansville with 23 charter members and although some have found it necessary to drop out there are still 12 of these men left and the total membership now stands at 38.

The Cowansville Lions have contributed many services. Assistance to needy families, more especially at the Christmas season, is a regular duty. They supply glasses to school children through the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and proper medical care is never refused.

The annual public speaking contest embracing the District of Bedford high schools is proof of the Lions' interest in the young people. Six hospital beds, owned by the club, are available to any sick person in the district on request. A call to the club president, E. J. Persons, is all that is required.

For the past three years the accent has been on assistance to the new B. M. P. Hospital at Sweetsburg. Several years ago the Lions were responsible for the collection of $8,500 with which a new X-ray machine was purchased for the old hospital, as well as several other articles of value.

Three years ago, when the new hospital was being built, a committee of Lions known as the B. and M. Charity Booster Club was organized to find ways and means of continuing interest in this institution. With the Booster Club activities shortly coming to a close, it was announced at the last club meeting that approximately $22,000 had been raised for the hospital in current efforts.

It is hoped the party will be a great success in order that the Lions may continue their efforts for the community.

Case Of Near-Sightedness

Young Governor Ribicoff of Connecticut, as a Democrat, naturally counts heavily on labor for political support. Recently he risked that backing by criticizing the organizing tactics of certain labor leaders in his state.

Speaking at an AFL meeting, he objected to CIO pamphleteering which declared that the union organization would "connive, persist, annoy, anything to get what you have a right to have."

The able governor said flatly he would fire outright anyone caught "conniving or annoying" in any department of his state government to assist the CIO in its efforts.

One would imagine the AFL might find it possible to support his protest against this questionable language. But the federation instead sent apologies to the CIO because Ribicoff had spoken from its platform.

We are talking here about just one organizing pamphlet in one campaign. But there is an important principle involved, as Ribicoff saw.

What the CIO pamphlet says is that the end justifies the means. So long as the cause is just — fair wages, hours, working conditions — then "anything" may be done to advance that cause.

It is a peculiar kind of thinking that would lend sanctity to conniving, annoying or any other dubious tactics simply because the declared goal is good.

Labor leaders too often have been guilty of this kind of thinking. Since they came to great power in this country, they have indulged in many excesses in the name of the "people," only a part of whom they in fact represent.

When called to account, these leaders self-righteously decline to acknowledge any error or transgression. Wrapped in the protective garment of the "people's" cause, they asked instead that laws which govern others not be applied to them.

Ribicoff is to be commended for speaking out for principle, even while a guest in labor's own house. The labor leaders' reply seemed only to reaffirm their original position — that the end justifies the means.

Just Not Popular

One of the great arguments advanced by the proponents of socialism is that their policies make people under their rule exceptionally prosperous and exceptionally contented. One would think that if their doctrines are so wonderful people would wish to remain within the borders of these happy areas and that residents of neighboring districts would flock into the lands flowing with milk and honey. Thus something appears to be decidedly wrong in the population figures of Saskatchewan, where a socialist government has been in power for 11 years.

This period has been a good one for Saskatchewan in regards to both agricultural crops and mineral exploration. At the same time the birth rate in the province has been higher than that of British Columbia and Manitoba, and almost as high as Alberta's. Despite all this, the population of Saskatchewan today is less than it was in 1941.

In the past year Saskatchewan's increase in population was by far the lowest of all the provinces, including Newfoundland. While Manitoba gained 21,000 people last year, and Alberta 27,000, Saskatchewan gained only 11,000. The increase of births over deaths in the provinces was about 17,000. Saskatchewan isn't even holding its own.

It is well known that Saskatchewan has the hook out for new industries and more people. Premier Douglas' speeches sound like those of the president of the Chamber of Commerce. The government is making generous offers to industries to come and build plants and bring workers with them. Yet new industries and people are staying away from Saskatchewan, and thousands of those born in the province leave as soon as they are old enough to do so.

Conclusion? Socialism isn't popular with Canadians.

The Land Of Vodka

It won't be long now before Russia's tourist offices (if there are such establishments) start putting out inviting travel posters to rival even the most lurid of French and German vacation blurbs. If the present policy of smiles, chuckles and handshakes continues, then quite possibly, it will be just as fashionable to spend a summer in Vladivostok as on the Riviera.

Apparently, part of this new Russian look is already being displayed. Soviet embassies report that it is easier than ever to get a visa to the "Land of the Vodka." Two bits, two pint-sized mug shots, two autobiographies and a routine applicant's form — and you're just as good as on the Volga.

In a recent report from the Soviet Embassy in Washington, press attache, Aleksandr I. Zinchuk claims that whole business of getting to the U.S.S.R. is "all very simple." The steps to take are as follows:

- Show some indication of a desire to get a visa. This means sending a letter off to the Russian embassy in Washington, or in Ottawa. Within a week, the applicant will receive a letter containing instructions, an application form in Russian, and a handy translation.

- Fill out the application form, including your full name, date and place of birth, nationality, citizenship, occupation and employer, expected duration of stay in Russia and route of travel into the country, names of minor children travelling with you, previous travel in the U.S.S.R., names of relatives, if any, in Russia, and your address in Canada.

- Enclose two passport size photographs signed at the bottom.

- Write an autobiography (two copies in either Russian or English) giving a brief description of what you have been doing all your life, the schools you went to, what jobs you held, and whether you were ever married and have any children.

- Add the consular fee of 25 cents.
- Mail the whole business back to the Embassy.

This material, says the press attache, is sent to Moscow and acted upon there. On an average, it takes six weeks before a decision can be reached. There are no set standards, and apparently, the Soviet authorities are not concerned with what kind of an opinion you have of their country.

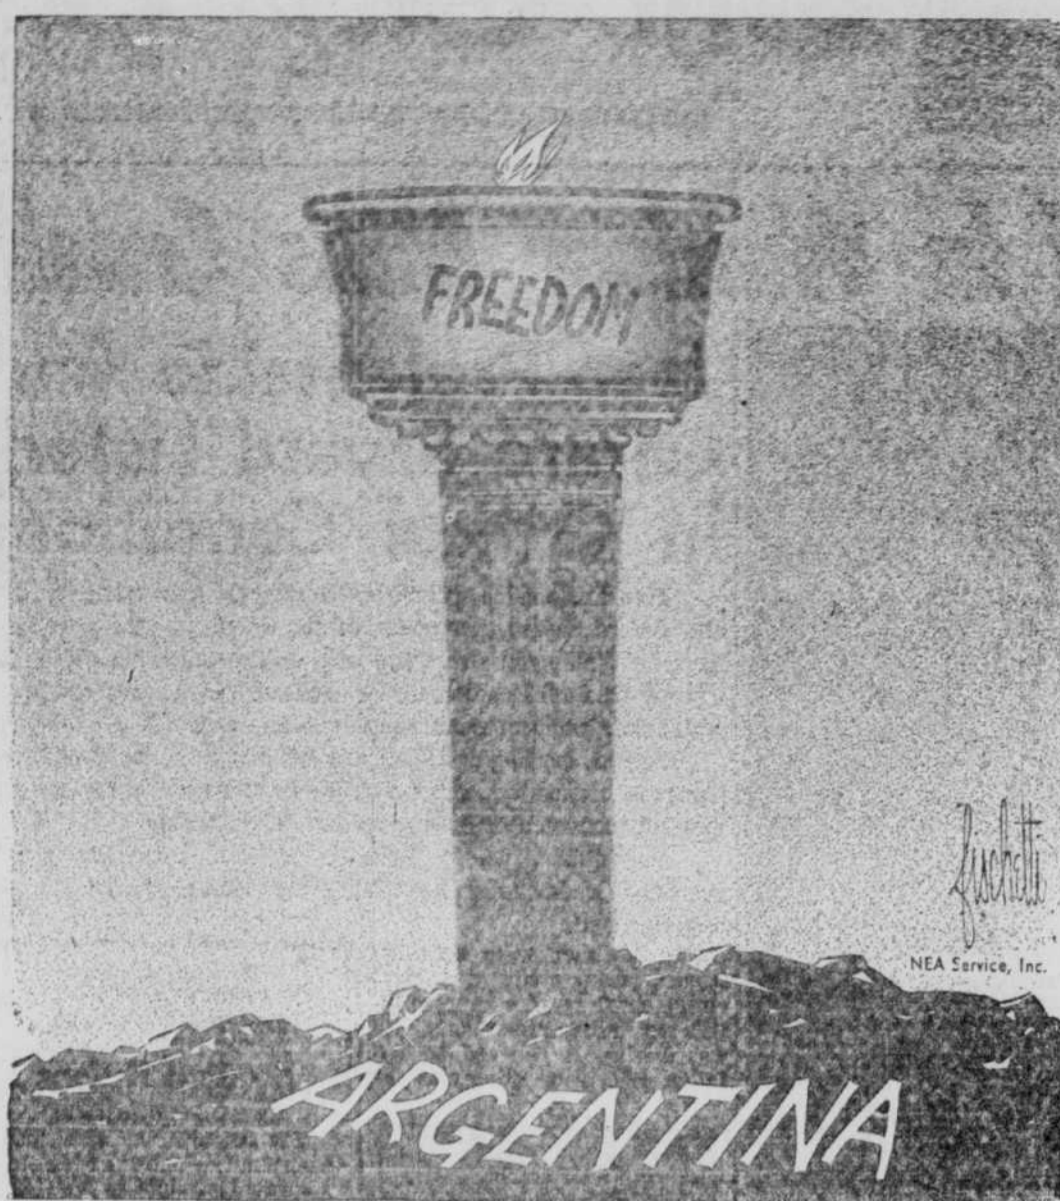

The chances are, that having done all this, you will get your visa. In recent times, says the attache, no applicant has been turned down. And once there he says, you can buy anything you want; you can take pictures and bring the undeveloped film home untouched, and you can go any place except for certain restricted areas.

What, ho! Away for the Land of Vodka!

Western business men say that the country's grain storage and transportation facilities are plugged up. They want the cork taken out. And when it does come out, the resulting hangover may keep the whole world in bed for some weeks.

"I know how to drive" doesn't look so convincing on tombstones.

Declares Odorant Injected In Local Gas

The Editor,

Sir: I would like to bring some corrections to your editorial of Friday, September 23, on "These Gas Explosions."

Pure propane gas is odorless, but commercial propane as distributed in cylinders and through the city mains is odorized with an odorant called Mercaptan. This warning agent has a smell very similar to that of rotten eggs.

General order No. 597 of the Board of Transport Commissioners of Canada, requires that all liquefied petroleum gases be odorized before being transported, either by railroads or trucks.

For the last four years, we have been putting an additional quantity of odorant to the gas we distribute, to make it smell stronger and to make the leaks more detectable.

With the gas odorized, as it is now, a small leak is easily detectable by smell, and numerous calls are received each month from customers asking us to investigate leaks, because they are smelling gas.

In all cases where there has been an explosion, there was surely a smell of gas before it happened, and if the people had taken the trouble to call our Service Department before lighting an open flame, most of these explosions could have been avoided.

The explosive range of a mixture of propane and air is smaller than that of the water gas of the old system, but propane being heavier than air, has a tendency to accumulate in lower spots, and does not dissipate as fast as the water gas.

Fatalities were more common with the water gas by asphyxiation than they are with propane gas by explosion, though we must admit that the material losses are much higher with propane gas.

I wish to point out that the explosion in East Sherbrooke last week was not caused by gas supplied by the city either through the main or in cylinders. The gas was supplied to that house in cylinders by a local distributor. From our own investigation it seems that the valve of a gas appliance had been left partly open.

In conclusion, I wish to emphasize that explosive liquids or gases, like propane, gasoline or manufactured gas, are very dangerous, and people should use utmost precautions in handling or using them.

Your very truly,
Gaston Masse.

"SAFETY" MOVE PROVES VALUABLE

When today's hand was played by Sidney Silodor, one of the world's great players, he was sure that he was taking a needless precaution. Very often an expert feels apologetic about making a "safety" play, since usually it turns out that the suit breaks normally and that any routine play would have been just as good as the expert play.

In this case Silodor won the first trick with the ten of spades and then made the correct play to develop the clubs. The right play was to lead the king of clubs from the South hand.

West won with the ace of clubs and returned the king of spades to force out the ace. Now South led a low club and covered West's nine with dummy's jack. If West had played low, dummy would have won with the six of clubs, for East's discard on the first round of clubs made the situation clear.

Silodor returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds in order to lead another club toward dummy, finessing the six. It was then easy to bring in a total of two spades, one heart, three diamonds and four clubs.

The king of clubs was the right play at the second trick as a safety measure against finding all of the missing clubs in the West hand—which was exactly where they were. If they had all been in the East hand, no play would work. If the clubs broke 2-2 or 3-1 any play at all would work.

DOCTORS SCARCE IN RURAL AREAS

(Windsor Star)

A news item from St. Andrews, N.B., this week points up one of the problems that will be encountered when national or provincial health insurance plans come into operation. It explained that New Brunswick has 407 licensed physicians, an all-time high. But the bulk of the 407 are concentrated in Saint John, Moncton and Fredericton. Many of the rural areas are not adequately serviced. Dr. J. M. Barry of Saint John is quoted as saying it is "almost impossible" to get young men to take up country practices.

With a total of 16,031 at last count—one for every 948 residents—Canada stands high among the countries of the world in the supply of doctors.

New Brunswick is somewhat under the national average with one doctor for every 1,260. But there are enough; it is in the distribution that the fault lies.

Concentration of doctors in urban centres is not a new development. But the problem is growing. In 1947, 70.8 per cent of Canada's physicians were located in centres of 10,000 or more. By 1951 the proportion had risen to 73.2 per cent and in 1954 stood at 73.7. Provincial variation in 1954 was between 44.1 per cent for Newfoundland and 78.7 per cent for Ontario.

Dr. Barry advises young physicians to swap the city for the country, even though they intend to enter a specialized field of medicine later in life. In a rural practice they would develop self-reliance and initiative, qualities which would be invaluable throughout their career, he suggests. To the layman, this looks like sound advice.

In The Women's Sphere

Business Women's Week Presentation To Observed For First Time Mrs. E. Bayley At Library Tea

CALGARY—Canada's business and professional women will be spotlighted this week in the first "Business Women's Week" ever observed in this country.

An intensive campaign to publicize the role they play in Canadian life is the object of the observation from Sunday to Oct. 1 sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

"The week's purpose is to call attention to the achievements of women in business and professions and to give the public an opportunity to become acquainted with the program of the federation," says Una MacLean of Calgary, vice-president of the federation and chairman of the Business Women's Week committee.

Miss MacLean said dissatisfaction with things as they were probably was the reason why shortly after the First World War business and professional women began to think about formation of the clubs.

Fifty clubs were represented by 30 delegates and observers at the time the federation was formed in 1930. The federation now has 6,700 members in 140 different clubs.

Business Women's Week will stress a challenge issued by Mrs. C. R. D. Laycock of Winnipeg, president of the federation, that "women accept the responsibilities they undertake when entering economic sphere."

"The future will find women not onlookers but participants with men, giving their skill and training to lead in creating a social consciousness which considers the good of the individual the most important concern of the immediate future," Mrs. Laycock said.

Federation members say gainfully employed women now make up 23 per cent of Canada's labor force and that committees have succeeded in placing on the statute books "equal pay for equal work" in Saskatchewan, Ontario and British Columbia.

The federation's survey and research committee now is conducting a nation-wide survey of conditions in penal institutions for women and probationary and other rehabilitation services established for them.

CLARK-DAVIDSON

Georgeville, Que. — On Saturday, September 17, the wedding of Miss Janet Ariene Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davidson of Georgeville, to Mr. Colin Whitcomb Clark, son of Col. George S. Clark, O.B.E., E.D., and Mrs. Irene Clark of Vancouver, B.C., took place in the Georgeville United Church, the Rev. Carl Gustafson officiating. Mrs. Norman Evans played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Emerson Bachelder, who sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. Late summer flowers were used to decorate.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a cocktail-length gown of white French velvet, made with fitted bodice having a low neck, short sleeves shirred to the shoulder, and a full skirt. Her elbow-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a bandeau of velvet and pearls. Her bouquet was of deep red roses and her only ornament was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. Stanley Mack, of Quebec City, wore a cocktail-length gown of heavenly blue French crepe, made on Empire lines, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of baby mums and heather.

The best man was Dr. Stanley Mack, and the ushers were Mr. Bruce Farnam and Mr. James Bown, cousins of the bride, both from Toronto.

The bride's mother was in soldier blue crepe with black accessories and she wore a corsage of deep red gladioli. The bridegroom's mother was unable to attend.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a profusion of autumn flowers decorated the rooms. The bride's table, covered with a crocheted lace cloth, made by her maternal grandmother, was centered by the wedding cake flanked by white tapers and low bowls of pink and white baby mums.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for a brief motor trip to the New England States, the bride wearing a sheath dress of gold bengaline with fitted green wool redingote, a gold velour hat, black accessories and a corsage of bronze poms.

Mrs. Clark is a graduate of Bishop's University and McGill Library School, and Mr. Clark is a graduate of the University of British Columbia. They will be leaving shortly for Seattle, Washington, where Mr. Clark is studying for his Ph.D. in Mathematics.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. E. A. Clark, Montreal, uncle of the groom; Mrs. W. M. Farnam, Toronto; Mrs. C. E. S. Bown, La Tuque; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Merrill and Mr. Norman Merrill, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Don. Nicholls, Asbestos; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McD. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Donald Timmons, of Thetford, wore a nylon tulle dress, with a lace bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of tulle was caught by a wreath of sequins and tiny flowers and she carried a tulle parasol of Sweetheart roses.

The ushers were Mr. Douglas Timmons, of Quebec, and Mr. Camille Trepanier, of St. Tite.

Mrs. Laforest, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses.

MRS. JOHN R. WORDEN, OF FOSTER
Foster — The sudden passing of Mrs. John R. Worden on Thursday, September 1, at her home here, after only an hour's illness from a heart attack, was a great shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Worden was born in February, 1888, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sweet, of West Bolton, and later of Knoxville.

She taught school for several terms and in 1912 she married John R. Worden, who survives.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie Rounds of Richford, Vt., Mrs. Minnie Derby,
Mr. and Mrs. William Coughtry, of West Brome; Mr. and Mrs. H.
L. Hastings, of Knowlton; Messrs.
George Ingalls, Archie Burnet, and others from Cowansville and Sweetsburg, also a large number of friends from Brome Centre.

Burial was in the Brome Centre United Church Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM FAULKNER OF SAWYERVILLE
Formerly of Randboro Sawyerville — This and nearby communities were saddened
when it was learned that Mrs.
William Faulkner had died at her home here on September 10 after a lengthy illness. She had been tenderly cared for by her husband during the last weeks and passed away with all the members of her family present.

Mrs. Faulkner, the former Jessie Viola Cable, was the eldest daughter of Horace James Cable and his wife, Jennie Lister. She was born at their home in Rand-boro on December 16, 1864.

She was first married to John Graham, who died at the early age of 25 years. One son, Irvin, was born of this union. She later married Gordon S. Coates and two children were born to them, Horace, of Lennoxville, and Jennie Viola, who died when two and a half years old. Mr. Coates passed away on August 27, 1916.
On July 19, 1919, she was united in marriage to William Faulkner.

The greater part of Mrs. Faulkner's life was spent in Randboro and she had lived for the last few years in Sawyerille. She was always active in church work, especially that of the Randboro United Church, and was a kind, loving mother, neighbor and friend.

Prayers at the home were fol-

her. They lived in the Canadian West for two years, returning to Brome Centre, where they lived until ten years ago, when they sold their farm and came here to reside. Only a year ago they built a new house, where she passed away.

Mrs. Worden was an ardent church worker, and will be greatly missed in the Women's Association of the Creek United Church. She had also been a directress of the Brome County Horticulture Society for many years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Rupert Shufelt (Elva), of Belleville, Ont., and Mrs. Eva Dryburg, of Montreal; also a niece, Mrs.
Roscoe Dryden, of Belleville.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon in Creek United Church, the pastor, Dr. E. H. Gray, officiating, with Rev. Colin West, of St. Paul's United Church, Waterloo, assisting.

The choir, under the direction of the organist, Mrs. G. C. Whit-cher, rendered favorite hymns of the deceased, and a quartette composed of Mrs. P. Gemte, Mrs.
Malboeuf, Mr. Gordon Coussens and Mr. George Young, of St.
Paul's Church, Waterloo rendered
"The Old Rugged Cross."

The bearers were Gordon Honey, Heman Salisbury, George
Mizener, Claude Whitcher, Curt Peters and Maurice Williams.
Burial took place in the Creek Cemetery.

The beautiful floral tributes testified the high esteem in which Mrs. Worden was held in the Community.

MRS. JESSIE E. ROBINS
Funeral service and burial of Mrs. Jessie E. Robins, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Buckley, in Newport,
Vt., on Thursday, September 8, were held at Elmwood Cemetery on September 10.

The youngest daughter of Nicholas Dodds and Margaret Mills, she was the daughter of George M. Robins, who predeceased her in 1940.

Mrs. Robins is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harry Buckley; her son-in-law, Harry Buckley, of Newport; a sister, Mrs. S. D. Gilkerson, of Cleveland, Ohio, and a brother-in-law, Charles Robins, of Huntingdon.

Prior to going to Newport,
Mrs. Robins had lived in Sherbrooke. She was one of the oldest members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, honorary president of the W.M.S. serving for many years as supply secretary of the Quebec Presbytery.
She was also an active member of the Ladies' Aid Society and a member of St. Andrew's Red Cross group.

WATERLOO—
Miss Dorothy Fisk, student nurse of the Montreal General Hospital, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Fisk, Foster Square.

Dr. Peter Bels and Dr. Rita Bels were in Quebec City over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Taylor, of Clarenceville, who have been enjoying a motor holiday in New York City, returned by way of Ballston Spa, N.Y., where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Taber and family, then to Waterloo, where they were overnight guests of Mrs. Jane Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Hughes and their son, Gary. While here, they also called on Mrs. C. G. Hall and Mrs. S. J. Irwin.

The pleasant chewing gives you a little lift... makes you feel happier, more contented!

Enjoy chewing Wrigley's Spearmint every day!

Why do you drink?

You drink to satisfy your thirst
... or, perhaps, to please your palate. But why do you choose one brand of beer in preference to another?

Some people (although they seldom admit it) choose their brand of beer strictly through force of habit... because their father drank it, or because they like the label. Most people, however, choose quality; they want the beer with the best COLLAR, AROMA AND FLAVOUR.

If you're in the "force of habit" category it's going to be hard to convince you to try a new brand of beer. But if you choose on the basis of flavour and quality, this test will prove to you that new, slow-brewed Brading's is better three ways!

Pour yourself a glass of the new Brading's — the only slowbrewed beer — and a glass of any other beer.

Before you taste either, look at the COLLAR on the new Brading's. Firmer, isn't it? It's the first sign of quality! Next—smell Brading's, then the other brand. You'll recognize Brading's superior AROMA!

Finally — and most important — taste Brading's — then the other beer. Notice Brading's mellow FLAVOUR!

This test will prove to you that Brading's has a FIRMER COLLAR, SUPERIOR AROMA,

MELLOWER FLAVOUR — the result of slow-brewing. The secret of slow-brewing is in the brew-kettle—and only Brading's has it!

If you drink for enjoyment, you'll find extra pleasure in every bottle of this new, slowbrewed beer. Ask your grocer — or your favorite waiter — for new Brading's today!

P.S.—If you like rice beer,
Brading's Cincinnati Cream Lager offers the same superior collar, aroma
and flavour as Brading's Ale. "CINCI" is slowbrewed, too!

Dodgers Out To Realize Their Ambitions To Trim Yanks In Series

Dropped Five Previous To American Champs; Weather Still Doubtful For Opener; Mantle To Miss First Two

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two contrasting, consecutive streaks were on the line today as baseball's 52nd world series was unfurled at Yankee Stadium with New York Yankees seeking their 17th world championship and Brooklyn Dodgers their first.

Despite rain in the early morning hours, a near-capacity crowd of 67,000 was on hand for the opener.

The weather bureau forecast that the rain would end an hour or so before game time.

Big Don Newcombe, a 20-game winning righthander, was expected to be on the mound for Brooklyn. He was to be opposed by Whitey Ford, a compact little lefthander, whose 18 victories helped manager Casey Stengel win his sixth American League flag in seven years.

The game, to be viewed and heard on television and radio, was slated to start at 12.00 p.m. EST.

Walter Alston, going into his first world series in his second year at the Brooklyn helm, was confident the Dodgers would capture their first world title after seven failures in as many attempts since 1916. In their last five failures, it was the Yankees who turned them back.

SERIES WEATHER

New York — (AP) — It rained hard during the night, but the weather bureau predicted fair and mild weather this afternoon for the opening game of the world series. It was raining steadily at the time of the early-morning forecast.

WORLD SERIES FACTS AND FIGURES

Teams — New York Yankees, American League champions, won 96, lost 58, and Brooklyn Dodgers, National League champions, won 96, lost 55.

Length of series — Best-of-seven.

Schedule — Today and Thursday, at New York's Yankee Stadium; Friday, Sept. 30, Saturday, Oct. 1 and Sunday, Oct. 2 (if necessary, at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field; Monday, Oct. 3, (if necessary) and Tuesday, Oct. 4, (if necessary), at New York Yankee Stadium.

Game time — Noon EST daily except Sunday, 1:05 p.m.

Series odds — New York favored 13 to 10.

Opening game odds — New York favored 6 to 5.

Probable opening game pitchers — New York, Ed (Whitey) Ford (18-7); Brooklyn, Don Newcombe (20-5).

Weather forecast — Cloudy, with showers ending in late morning.

Probable opening game attendance — 68,000.

Managers — New York, Casey Stengel; Brooklyn, Walter Alston.

Series standings — American League, 33, National League, 18.

Previous series records — New York 16-4; Brooklyn 0-7.

with a team batting average of .271 to .260 and 201 homers to 175. With only Newcombe, Ford and Bob Turley, the Yankees' speedball righthander, turning in more than 10 complete games, the series could be decided by the bullpen.

That means it may come down to a series of battles between relief aces Clem Labane of Brooklyn and Bob Grim of New York.

Early Fans Lose Out As Thieves Lift Valises

New York — (AP) — The Daily Mirror has taken sympathetic note of the plight of Ralph Belcore and Charles Kierst, the first two men to line up for today's world series opener at Yankee Stadium. Thieves made off with their valises Monday.

The Mirror headlines the story: "Worm catches the early birds."

Holyoke, Mass. — Willie Pep, 129½, Hartford, outpointed Henry (Pappy) Gault, 124, Spartanburg, S.C., 10.

French Football Terms Has Fans In Dizzy Spells

Montreal — (AP) — If your team had a yard to go and it was un troisieme essai would you try un fauille by le quart-arriere or un jeu facultatif or maybe even un jeu de surprise from your formation de botte?

But suppose le bloqueur droit adversaire was hors-jeu would you sock him in the snoot?

Before you pop your helmet we might as well tell you this isn't double talk at all, as anyone among Montreal Alouettes' French-Canadian supporters will tell you.

This French terminology for football wasn't arrived at haphazardly. Newspaper men, broadcasters, telecasters and the bilingual fellows who describe the games over the public-address system got together. With the fast-growing interest in football among French-Canadian sports fans—and there are none more enthusiastic — common ground decision on French terminology was necessary.

Some of the boys had been manufacturing phrases that others considered a bit dizzy. Privately, some of them think a few of the consensus expressions are still dizzy.

Anyway, let's get back into the game. Maybe that third-down problem facing you could have been solved by a quarterback sneak or an optional play, or did you try that sleeper play from punt formation?

Also, there was no need for you to smack the other team's right tackle in the puss. You really benefitted. The guy was offside.

All right, then, let's go into a caucus. Yep, that's a huddle. But if we take too long in le caucus it'll cost us une perte d'un essai. Catch on?

Let's see, now. Sam Etcheverry might try une passe-avant to Joey Pal, our voltiguer who happens also, strangely enough, to be our flying wing. Maybe we should let demi-arriere Pat Abruzzi get away fast from his halfback position, with Sam running out of the formation T-espace.

But don't let's get une punition for rudesse—roughness—and let's have no echappes by butter-fingered ball carriers.

You're getting the signals down line now but maybe you should know that champ-arriere means backfield and a ballon mort is a dead ball. Watch out for assaut du cote, which is clipping a guy from the side, and assaut par derriere, clipping from behind.

Ends are ailiers or extérieurs, guards are gardes and centres are just that.

A punt is a bottle and the kickoff is a bottle initial. Line backers are the defensive secondaire and hors-limites means out of bounds. Jeu au sol is a running play and lancer is a pitch-out. You can kick a placement in either French or English. Mi-temps is half-time and plaquer means to tackle. Remise du ballon is a hand-off and trebucher means to trip.

The referee is arbitre-en-chef; the umpire is just a plain ordinary arbitre. The head linesman is juge des lignes and the field judge is juge de jeu.

All straight now? Fine. Let's march down the field to a touche, and if you don't know what that is you're fired from the team.

Flo Chadwick Finally Quits Channel Swim

Dover, England — (AP) — Florence Chadwick today gave up her 1955 attempt to swim the English channel both ways non-stop.

"I would love to have another crack at it, but today is the last of the neap (low) tides and the weather is not right," said the 35-year-old California swimmer.

Miss Chadwick gave up her third attempt of the year early Tuesday when freshening winds drove her out of the water after four hours.

"I don't know if I can get a sponsor next year, but I would like to make another attempt," she said today.

Early Pennant Win Didn't Cool Brooklyn Dodgers, Says Ol' Diz

By DIZZY DEAN
New York — (NEA) — A baseball rule Ol' Diz has established through experience says that the team coming off a hot pennant fight has the best set of hands when they start mixing it in the World Series.

Brooklyn won the National League pennant extra early this year and the team they face in the Series—the Yankees—didn't know where they'd be on Sept. 23 until the final week of the season.

But I figure my rule goes out the window this time on account of this bunch of fellas Walter Alston has put together has too much all down the line for the Yankees.

I had a good look at Brooklyn this season while handling the microphone for CBS' televised "Game of the Week." And I saw team which figures to beat the Yankees handy.

The big fellows on this team are Don Newcombe and Roy Campanella.

This Newcombe is a real good pitcher. I figure he can do just about anything he feels like doing with a baseball. I like that kind of a pitcher because I was the same way—except, of course, it was only natural, seeing as I was the best pitcher the game ever seen back in 1934 and thereabouts when I was great.

That was the year, you'll remember, when I won 30 games and it took a lot of luck or bad fielding to cause my seven defeats. I had some great days at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field, too, especially the time my brother Paul pitched a no-hitter and I pitched a three-hitter during a doubleheader.

I figure Newcombe can win twice for the Brooklyn, providing he wants to and I guess he feels that way. And I also say this catcher of theirs, Roy Campanella, is the guy the Yankees could do without.

Campanella, besides being a good man with the glove, is a real hitter. You got no book on this chubby boy. He hits the fences regular, but he thinks a single or double is just fine when there's men on bases.

Right around here, you're probably wondering about this

Duke Snider. Well, I'm not taking away anything from Snider and that big record of his, but I think I could handle Snider. I'd give him that fast ball, high and inside—and real fast—and he wouldn't hurt anybody in a seven-game Series. I know he was extra wonderful in the 1952 Series, but I have to put Snider alongside Mickey Mantle in this one. Neither should go to town off good pitching.

Where Brooklyn has an advantage is the fact that the Yankees have to use left-handers—Eddie Ford and Tommy Byrne—as their top pitchers. The Brooks usually eat up a southpaw at Ebbets Field, because of all them right-handed guys like Gil Hodges, Carl Furillo, Pee Wee Reese and Campanella. Ford could be tough for them, but he comes alone.

And Ebbets Field, where they play the third, fourth and fifth games, is the kind of a park where the pitcher can hear the guy in the centerfield bleachers askin' his neighbor for a match.

The trouble I spot in Brooklyn is not their pitching like some people say. I figure what could hurt them is the raft of 250 hitters they got — fellas like Don Hoak and Don Zimmer and Junior Gilliam and Jackie Robinson. They don't figure to hit at all.

As for the pitching behind Newcombe, it looked real bad for a while there after the Brooklyn clinched the pennant. But Carl Erskine started to come along and he could straighten the thing out. When Erskine is sharp he strikes out a lot of fellas and for a club like the Yankees he must be considered too strong.

After Newcombe and Erskine, Alston has enough guys like Karl Spooner, Billy Loes, Don Bessent and Roger Craig to more than match the Yankees.

So, I see Brooklyn winning its first World Series and it should be an exciting one to see.

But I don't think it would be half as exciting as watching Ol' Diz pitching to that Campanella fella. Boy, that would be something to see. Except people usually didn't get much of a look at my pitches. I was too fast for most eyes.

Millers Win In 10th By Homer; Series Tied 3-3

Minneapolis — (AP) — Minneapolis Millers, saved from elimination by the home run power that bullied the American Association, carry the little world series into a decisive seventh game tonight against Rochester's remarkable Red Wings.

The Millers stayed alive Tuesday night when George Wilson, up to then the goat of the series, clubbed his second homer of the game in the 10th inning for a 4-3 victory.

Wilson's two homers and a second inning single were his first hits of the series.

Al Worthington, surrendering only one hit in three innings of relief work, recorded his third victory of the playoff and reliever Tony Jacobs was the International League's loser.

Frank Lane Signs As Cards' Pilot

New York — (AP) — Frank Lane is in as general manager of St. Louis Cardinals and Harry Walker is out as field manager.

Eddie Stanky, whom Walker succeeded as St. Louis manager last May, may be back in baseball as manager of Minneapolis Millers, farm club of New York Giants in the American Association.

These choice items were learned Tuesday night as the baseball folks gathered at World Series headquarters on the eve of the opening game at Yankee Stadium.

At least one proposed deal fell through. Paul Richards' plan to step down as manager of Baltimore Orioles and name George Kell of Chicago White Sox as his successor was vetoed by the Baltimore board of directors. The board insisted that Richards live up to his three-year contract falling for the dual role as field and general manager.

The informant said Lane already has a successor to Walker in mind but would not identify him. The Cardinals were in fifth place when Walker was brought up from Rochester Red Wings to replace Stanky around Memorial Day. They finished seventh.

Argos Release Three Players

Toronto — (AP) — Toronto Argonauts have released three players, including veteran tackle Lorne Parkin, from their Big Four football union team. Parkin, a Toronto policeman, is 34.

Parkin was upset by the release. "I was fired," he said simply, refusing to take the "retirement" way out.

Coach Bill Swiacki said he was overhauled with tackles.

Parkin's football career started in 1939. His first senior team was Halifax Navy. He had been bothered by a knee injury this season.

Bob Simpson Sets Merry Pace In Big Four Race

Ottawa — (AP) — Bob Simpson, currently having his best season since he joined Ottawa Rough Riders as a raw but promising rookie years ago, has Ottawa football fans agog.

"The best pass-catching end in the Big Four," said general manager J. P. (Jim) McCaffrey. "One of the best I've ever seen," said coach Chan Caldwell.

Officially, he has caught only eight passes but six of them went for touchdowns. Simpson, the 25-year-old perennial all-star from Windsor, Ont., has romped for two other touchdowns this year. Rough Rider statisticians say only 15 passes have been thrown in his direction altogether.

One touchdown came after a Montreal fumble 40 yards from the goal line, the other after snaring a Toronto pass — his third interception of the season — 20 yards from payoff territory.

His total of 40 points after five Big Four games in second only to the 45 scored by Pat Abruzzi, Montreal Alouettes hard-hitting halfback.

McCaffrey, who wouldn't trade Simpson for anybody, says Bob "is the only Canadian football player who could make a National Football League club."

Simpson was offered a contract by New York Giants of the NFL, but turned it down to stay in Ottawa. Doing so permitted him to run his hotel business in nearby Berwick, Ont.

"No American import in the Big Four surpasses him as a pass catching end," added McCaffrey. "And that included Hal Patterson and Red O'Quinn of Montreal, or anybody else you want to mention."

Grandma Myrt Power Takes $32,000 On Baseball Quiz; Keen Knowledge Has Stumped Experts; Dodger Fan

New York — (AP) — Because her beloved Dodgers have never won a world series and she didn't want to beat them to the draw, grandma Myrt Power Tuesday night retired from "The $64,000 Question" with the $32,000 she already had won.

Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight boxing champion, "practically got down on his knees to ask me to stop on account of the taxes," the 71-year-old Buford, Ga., woman said.

She added: "My Dodgers have won lots of pennants and I feel like I won a pennant and they never won a world series and I don't want to beat them to the draw."

The motherly, cheerful grandmother, never at a loss for a homespun anecdote, was moved nearly to tears by the applause and by the presentation of a handsome bust of herself by a well-known sculptor.

"That looks so much like me it gives me the creeps," she said.

Only one contestant ever has tried for the $64,000 on the CBS show. That was Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, and he won the grand prize with his knowledge of food and cooking.

Mrs. Power was the third contestant to reach the $32,000 level and retire with her winnings. If she had tried for $64,000 and lost, she would have received a consolation prize of an expensive auto but no money. She had stumped the experts with her keen knowledge of baseball.

Leo Durocher Joins NBC Following 30 Years In Baseball; Takes Over Executive Job For Reported $52,000

New York — (AP) — Leo Durocher bade farewell to baseball Tuesday after 30 years. He took an executive job with the National Broadcasting Company at a reported $52,000 a year.

Durocher resigned Saturday as manager of New York Giants, a job that paid him an undisclosed salary, reported in the neighborhood of $60,000 a year.

NBC unveiled the fiery ex-manager at a press conference as the new "quiet, conservative" network executive. He will negotiate with talent and help in programming it. He also will fill in from time to time as a sports commentator, but will not be a regular broadcaster. His contract is for one year.

"I reserve a woman's prerogative to change my mind, but right now I'm definitely through with baseball," he told the press conference.

"It's hard to set here and say you're happy about it after 30 years in baseball, but I had been contemplating it, and right now I can say I'm very, very happy."

Durocher broke into organized baseball in 1925. Although never a great player, he overcame his handicaps with dash and spirit on the field.

Durocher became manager of Brooklyn Dodgers in 1939. Under him, Brooklyn won the pennant in 1941 for the first time in 21 years.

Mid-way in the 1948 season, Durocher took over the Giants.

Durocher guided the Giants to two pennants, in 1951 and 1954, and last year's team won the world series in four straight games from Cleveland. But this year the Giants finished a poor third to Brooklyn.

Willie Pep Earns Win Over Gault
Holyoke, Mass. — (AP) — Wily Willie Pep, former featherweight champion from Hartford, Conn., scored an easy, unanimous 10-round decision over Henry (Pappy) Gault, one time North American bantamweight king, Tuesday night.

Pep weighed 129½ for the 205th bout of his professional career. Gault weighed 124.

IVANOV BETTERS WORLD RECORD FOR 25,000 METRES

Moscow — (AP) — Albert Ivanov, a Soviet army athlete, bettered the listed world record for 25,000 metres Tuesday, negotiating the distance in 1:17.34. The recognized mark is 1:20.14, set in 1948 by Mikko Hietanen of Finland.

Canadiens Strong On Regulars For New Coach Toe Blake; Plante And McNeil Still Battling For Job

MONTREAL — (CP) — Montreal Canadiens go into the new National Hockey League season with 16 regulars who toiled last winter, and a rookie coach in Hector (Toe) Blake.

It was a tempestuous stretch-run last season — Maurice (Rocket) Richard's suspension, a full-blown riot that hit front pages everywhere and an admittedly frayed and shaken team that just missed the NHL title and the Stanley Cup championship. The powerful Detroit Red Wings grabbed both.

On the over-all showing, however, Canadiens must be given high marks as they make a fresh start. The three real veterans — Richard, Ken Mosdell and Butch Bouchard — can't be written off at this stage.

There are few places, on the get-away at least, for rookies. The training camp competition among them has been terrific and several holdover forwards have been hustling to hang on to their jobs.

If there is one man who will be on the spot it is Blake. A one-time star forward with Canadiens, later a coach in the minors for half a dozen seasons, Blake takes over an intact team. It is a team that supplied the three leading scorers of the league last season — Boom Boom Geoffrion, the Rocket and Jean Beliveau.

Before veteran coach Dick Irvin departed for the Chicago Black Hawks less than a month ago he had this to say of his old club: "Canadiens are the team to beat."

Blake has shown no worry over being in the position of having to keep his club battling at the top or having the wolves on his neck. More than 14,000 pack the Forum at every game. He has been decisive and an indefatigable worker at the training camp. He is still withholding final judgment on the remaining rookies.

The one question mark about the club as a whole, surprisingly enough, appears to be in goal, despite the fact Canadiens have two experienced NHL netminders. The regular goalie last season was Jacques Plante, following the retirement of Gerry McNeil. Now McNeil is back making another bid.

Rated by many as an erratic goalie, Plante nevertheless was lowest-average netminder last season—in goals against—until he suffered a fractured cheekbone in December. Canadiens tried several minor leaguers and settled on Charlie Hodge. When Plante returned his game alternated between scintillation and so-so. In the playoffs Irvin shuttled Plante and Hodge during several games.

McNeil's retirement followed a season in which he also suffered a fractured cheekbone. In the subsequent playoffs he was so shaky he was replaced temporarily by Plante.

Blake hasn't yet decided which goalie will start the season.

With every indication that the NHL competition will be particularly tough, sparked by uprisings of the have-nots, Canadiens' eventual finishing spot may depend largely on these factors: Will Plante be a consistent top-notch? Will McNeil be able to overcome his one-season layoff and return to his form of three seasons ago?

The holdover front line packs power. At centre are Beliveau, veteran Ken Mosdell, now 33, Jackie LeClair and Don Marshall. The last two are sophomores, and capable ones.

The rightwingers are Richard, Geoffrion and hard-working Floyd Curry; the leftwingers, Bert Olmstead, Dickie Moore and Calum (Baldy) Mackay.

It would occasion no great surprise if Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard, Maurice's 19-year-old brother, is found on the team this season. The club management has given no indication yet whether it will turn the 157-pound pro or let him wait another year. He is still eligible for junior. But the Pocket Rocket has been a standout at the training camp, frequently working at centre on a line with the beaming Maurice.

Dick Gamble, in and out of the NHL the last couple of seasons, has been making a spirited bid to stick Barry Thorndycraft, a husky youngster from Winnipeg, was kept with the "big team" at the camp and closely watched by Blake. So were Claude Provost and Connie Broden, products of the Quebec Hockey League, and one or two others.

Jean-Guy Talbot, another QHL product is likely to catch a defence berth. He played three games with Canadiens last season and was called up for the playoffs when injuries struck.

Butch Bouchard, oldest on the team at 35, is taking another whirl, his 15th season. Doug Harvey, Tom Johnson, Dollard St. Laurent and Jim MacPherson are also back for defence work. If Talbot is retained, MacPherson may figure in a deal, most likely with Chicago Black Hawks.

Hunsinger Out; Caroline May Sign For Als

Montreal — (AP) — Chuck Hunsinger, speedy Montreal Alouettes halfback, will be lost for the team for three weeks with a chipped bone in his ankle, club officials reported Tuesday.

Montreal probably will sign J. C. Caroline, the high-priced former Illinois backfield star cut last week by Toronto, as a replacement for Hunsinger if Ottawa and Hamilton do not claim him on waivers.

Altar Society Plans Activities At Derby Line

Derby Line — The Altar Society of St. Edward's parish, Derby Line, opened its new year with a meeting held in the Derby Line Village Hall. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Armand Gagnon, who thanked the ladies for the honor of choosing her as their leader.

Mr. Roland Roy, retiring president, spoke a few well chosen words on this occasion. The treasurer's report was given and also a detailed report of the bazaar held last June.

The business was then carried out with a list for the care of the Altar and sweeping the church, complete until next April.

This year to encourage more members to be active, different projects were assigned them. Mrs. Homer Brainard to take charge of the "penny-a-day" project; Mrs. Robert Murray, in charge of procuring a speaker for the meeting; Mrs. Conrad Choquette, in charge of sending get well, thank you and etc. cards.

The project for September was the rummage sale held Saturday morning at the Derby Line Village hall, with Mrs. Reta Peterson in charge. A handsome doll was donated by Mrs. Roland Roy, and this will be raffled for the October project.

Rev. Father Fortin was the guest speaker of the evening, choosing to speak on the vestments that are used in saying the Mass. He described each garment telling of their usage and what they symbolize.

Supper Planned By Ladies' Aid At Rock Island

Rock Island — The Ladies' Aid of Stanstead South Church was held in the church hall on Thursday afternoon. The meeting opened by singing of a hymn with the president, Mrs. Harry Smith reading from the Upper room booklet, and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

It was agreed to hold a rummage sale in conjunction with the Helping Circle and 35 Club societies in the church hall the morning of October 22. Plans were also made for the turkey supper being held in the church hall on October 13.

At the tea hour a hot dish supper was served by the members, the tables being centered with lovely autumn flowers from the gardens of Miss Agnes Greenwood. The proceeds amounted to approximately $20.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Macdonald in Derby Line, the evening of October 5.
