CIVIL WAR BREAKS OUT IN ARGENTINA

World News In Brief

Neustadt, Germany, Sept. 28—(AP)—More than 100,000 allied troops under French direction kicked off early today on a joint ground-air training assault against "enemy" troops on the east bank of the Rhine.

Under aerial support of planes representing eight Atlantic pact countries the ground troops of France, the United States and Holland moves to cross the Rhine on pontoon bridges and in assault boats.

South of Heidelberg, French airborne troops were readied to jump in a practical aerial assault as a part of the three-day mock battle.

Tel Aviv, Sept. 28 —(AP)— Israel yesterday handed to the United Nations Palestine conciliation committee in Paris a four-point draft agreement for a proposed non-aggression pact with Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan, a reliable source said. This action follows last week's announcement that Israel proposed to conclude non - aggression pacts with neighboring states as a step toward peace in the middle east and settlement of all out standing questions.

New York, Sept. 28—(AP)— Bookie Harry Gross, sentenced to 12 years in prison for operating a $20,000,000 a year gambling ring, still faces an additional 10-year jail term for contempt stemming from the police graft trial.

The 35-year-old bookie sat glum and silent yesterday as he heard himself sentenced to serve one year each, running consecutively, on 12 counts of a 66-count indictment charging gambling and conspiracy.

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 28— (AP)—American guns firing tremendous artillery barrages in Korea are still using shells stockpiled from the second world war. American artillery had fired 8,260,000 rounds through the first of September—and all of it was manufactued during or before 1945.

Military Men Are Reported To Have Launched Revolt Against Peron Government

General Confederation Of Labor Calls Strike In Support Of President.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The state radio announced today civil war has started in Argentina.

The General Confederation of Labor announced in a broadcast that some military men launched a revolt against the government of Juan D. Peron. It called for a nationwide general strike in support of the president.

At frequent intervals the official state radio repeated this announcement from the presidential press office:

"A state of internal war exists.

"Army officers taking part will be shot."

The Labor Confederation (C.G.T.) is the backbone of Peron's government.

The broadcast warned that any military men joining in the uprising would be executed. A state of siege — a modified form of martial law — was proclaimed, the broadcast said.

Within minutes after the broadcast, a crowd began to assemble in front of the huge Plaza Mayo balcony from which Peron frequently has spoken to his supporters in the more than five years of his reign. Workers were urgently exhorted to assemble in the square, in front of the president's Casa Rosada offices.

The broadcast came after handbills with revolutionary messages were dropped over the business district of the capital by low-flying planes.

Only yesterday, Peron announced that the army would police the forthcoming national elections in which he has been named a candidate to succeed himself.

There have been rumors for some time that an army coup was in the making against Peron, who himself became the strong man of Argentina on the coat-tails of a coup.

Last month the executive council of the government-controlled confederation of labor urged Peron to stand as candidate, with his wife, Eva Duarte Peron, as vice-presidential candidate.

There apparently was army opposition to Mrs. Peron. A series of rumblings arose against what was called Eva's "petticoat dictatorship". She later turned down the invitation to run for vice-president, in a tearful withdrawal.

The Argentine elections are scheduled Nov. 11.

Peron first came to power in 1943 after an army coup overthrew the government of president Ramon S. Castillo. Peron, as the power behind the scenes, placed Gen. Pedro P. Ramierz in power, then later replaced him with Gen. Edelmiro Farrell.

Peron himself took over the posts of secretary of labor and security. In 1944 he emerged as minister of war and then vice-president. Like many other South American strongmen, he built his strength around the labor party, having won military support.

In 1945 Peron was jailed briefly and then released. He campaigned for the presidential election and won it in 1946. Eva or Evita (little Eva) as she preferred to be called, then entered politics in a big way, helping to rally the workers and the poor to Peron's colors.

Peron and Eva had been married secretly in a civil ceremony outside Buenos Aires in 1945. Peron then was 50, and Evita was 26.

The Perons bought and controlled newspapers. Peron's government put the largest independent daily, La Prensa, out of business, and exercised control over others through government monopoly of newsprint.

Peron jailed politicians who opposed him, charging them with disrespect of the president.

The army, however, appeared to have been unhappy over the "petticoat rule' of Evita. In February, 1947, army leaders were reported to have approached Peron with appeals to ease his politically ambitious wife out of public life.

Peron is understood to have threatened to resign if the army brought further pressure to bear on the touchy point of Evita.

Washington, Sept. 28 — (Reuters)—The United States state department and the Argentine embassy today said they have received no official information of the

NO COMMUNICATIONS

The Associated Press said at noon it has had no fresh cable material from Buenos Aires since about 10:35 A.M. EDT today. It has sent urgent cables to the AP bureau there but has had no response. Telephone calls booked to the bureau and to the home of staffers have not gone through. There is a possibility that censorship has been invoked and the AP has put on the alert bureaux in countries around Argentine to listen for news on the state radio.

Women Told How To Run Meetings

By DOROTHY ROE

New York, Sept. 28— (AP) — There are 5,500,000 women's clubs in the United States.

And at least half their presidents do not know the basic parliamentary rules for conducting a meeting, says Alice F. Sturgis, author of "Sturgis' standard code of parliamentary procedure."

Mrs. Sturgis, a recognized parliamentarian, had been studying the procedure of a group of national organizations. One of the first things that struck her was the astronomical number of groups in every U.S. community. The next was the need for a knowledge of recognized rules of procedure.

For the millions of women who this year will preside at meetings of their local clubs, she suggests 10 rules on how to be a good chairman:

1. Don't use the club for your personal glory. If you put the good of the organization first the personal plaudits will follow.

2. Don't keep on being president after your term is over. Give the new leader a chance.

3. Be sure you understand the basic policy of your organization, and follow it.

4. If you have an unpleasant duty to perform, do it outside the club meeting. Don't use the rostrum as a centre for a cat-and-dog fight.

5. Follow, don't push. Your job is to carry out the wishes of all the members, not to bend them to your own will.

6. Watch principles instead of technicalities. You need to know the rules of parliamentary procedure, but remember that the reason for rules is to facilitate business.

7. Remember that the president of a club is in the position of a judge. Don't take sides with one faction against another.

8. Don't campaign for your own election. If you have to fight for the chairmanship, you probably are not yet ready for it.

9. In presiding, be sure: that there is a quorum present, that everyone understands each motion, that plenty of time is given to discussion, that the vote is taken accurately, that the will of the majority is carried out and the rights of the minority protected.

10. Observe the rules of parliamentary procedure and you will be safe from legal difficulties, avoid lawsuits and misunderstandings.

Indonesian Development Is Retarded

By KENNETH LIKES

Jakarta, Sept. 28— (AP) —The young Indonesian republic's dreams of a bright industrial future are being blotted out before they begin to take shape.

In 20 months since independence was won from the Netherlands, the island republic has failed to attract a single new foreign investment of any size.

Meanwhile, the Indonesians have not proved in any concrete way that they can build up their country without a lot of technical assistance and capital from outside.

Compared with other Asians, the Indonesians started with a lot of natural advantages:

1. Their sprawling chain of islands is the richest in the east in undeveloped resources. It has buried treasure in oil and tin. Its black, volcanic soil yields a fat bounty in rubber, tea, tobacco, copra, palm oil and spices.

2. Damage left over from the Pacific war and local nationalist revolt is not great compared with the wreckage and turmoil in most Asian countries.

Indonesians have a third advantage in having genuine independence. The country's leaders are their own masters.

Why then is Indonesia's glittering vision of high development and great prosperity becoming clouded?

Lack of security, labor unrest and governmental apathy and inexperience appear to be causes behind the deterioration that is setting in.

Iran Orders 70 Britons To Stay Away From Refinery

Tehran, Sept. 28.— (AP) —Dispatches from Abadan said today Iran has directed 70 Britons working in the administrative and accounting sections at the refinery to stay away from the plant.

They said the rest of the 317 British citizens still at the nationalized installation will continue working until they leave as ordered Oct. 4th.

The newspaper Ettelaat said one Iranian officer and one soldier have been posted at the refinery entrance to see that none of the 70 try to enter. All stayed away voluntarily, the paper added.

British ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd told a press conference today he thought it "most unlikely" that Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh will cancel his order to British technicians to leave the country.

Shepherd made the comment after conferring with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi and Foreign Minister Bagher Kazemi.

He declined to say whether the Britons would obey the order. He said that information must come from the British cabinet in London.

(Reuters News Agency reported last night that Iranian troops prevented all but 10 of the British employees from entering the Abadan plant. The report did not specify the number of troops used).

London, Sept. 28.— (CP) —Britain may ask the United Nation's Security Council to intervene in the tense Anglo-Iranian oil dispute, informed sources said today.

The cabinet met on the oil crisis for the third time this week, as Britain awaited development in the Middle-East country which has ordered British oil men at Abadan expelled by Oct. 4th.

A likely course for London may be, the informants said, to ask the Security Council to order Iranian obedience to an international court of justice recommendation. The court urged both sides to seek a peaceful settlement of the dispute, which arose from Iran's nationalization of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holdings.

A senior British cabinet minister told a reporter the government will issue a full statement tonight on its course of action and its reasons for what decisions were made, but he would not saw what the decision was.

A Foreign Office spokesman refused to confirm or deny that Britain would take the dispute to the Security Council.

The Foreign Office spokesman said reports from the British mission in Tehran thus far have brought no confirmation of published reports that Iranian authorities physically seized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company properties in Abadan.

A British call for U. N. help would suggest that the Labor government had given up hope that either Iran's Shah or the Premier would cancel the order to the 317 remaining Britons to get out. It would also indicate that the Britons would leave Abadan before the deadline, rather than attempt to stay through the use of force.

The emotional Premier's demand that 317 Britons quit the country by Oct. 4, was emphasized last night, Reuters News Agency reported, when Iranian troops blockade entry to the refinery.

Reuters said they stopped all but 10 executives from entering the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's big plant.

Later dispatches from Abadan to Tehran newspapers said only that one Iranian officer and one soldier were posted at the refinery gates. Their job was said to be to prevent 70 British employees of the administrative and accounting departments from entering.

The Abadan dispatches said other Britons would continue to work at the plane until they leave, as ordered, next week.

Iranian army personnel had orders to mine the property, nationalized by Mossadegh's government, and to prepare to blow it up if British military forces were brought into action.

Meanwhile, London officials have instructed British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd in Tehran to report on Mossadegh's reaction to an appeal from President Truman to reverse the order.

Prime Minister Attlee has a personal message from Truman which qualified informants said made it plain the United States is opposed to British military action in the oil-rich country.

Britain has 10 warships in the vicinity, planes in neighboring Iraq, and paratroops within a few hours' flight.

The U.S. State Department announced in Washington yesterday that it "stands ready" to help reach a solution of the explosive problem.

Following a cabinet meeting here yesterday, Attlee conferred with Conservative leader Winston Churchill. It is thought in Con-

Health Of King Continues To Improve; Original Tour Plans Are Deferred A Week

London, Sept. 28 —(AP)— The King spent another comfortable night and maintained steady progress, a medical bulletin said today.

It was the second optimistic bulletin in a row from the doctors who handled the King's critical lung operation Sunday.

The bulletin, the ninth since the operation, said:

"The King has had another comfortable night and is making steady progress."

Barring unforseen complications, the King now is nearly out of danger, some medical specialists indicated today. A number of Buckingham palace actions tend to back up their belief.

According to one source in Harley street — London's street of doctors — the worst of the King's recovery period should be over within 24 hours.

Yesterday the King came safely through the critical fifth day since all or part of his lung was cut out. Buckingham Palace sources said Thursday marked the start of a second danger period of two or three days Doctors say internal bleeding and fatigue could set in during this phase.

But, as in all lung "resection" cases, the period of anxiety for the 55-year-old King will last at least through the week-end and probably up to next Thursday, it was indicated.

Both medical men and the British people interpret these signs as indicating the King is doing well:

1. Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh decided yesterday to go ahead with their 34-day tour of Canada, postponed from Oct. 2. They will leave by plane for Montreal Oct. 7.

2. The Palace announced the King himself was able to sign a warrant appointing a council of state to act for him during the long period of his recovery. The council includes the Queen, Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, the King's brother, the Duke of Gloucester, and his sister Mary, the Princess Royal.

3. Princess Elizabeth went to the horse races at Ascot Thursday —hardly the right move for strait-laced British royalty unless the King is getting better.

4. Medical men called Thursday morning's medical bulletin very encouraging. It said the King is stronger and is gaining appetite.

Palace sources took pains to make clear the King's vesting of his duties in the council of state does not mean he is falling back. Councils of state are not an unusual move in recent British history.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—(CP)—The Royal tour will start at Quebec City Tuesday, Oct. 9, one week later than originally planned, it was announced yesterday in a statement that ended days of confusion and doubt that it would take place at all this year.

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh now are scheduled to take off from the United Kingdom by B.O.A.C. Stratocruiser Sunday, Oct. 7, and land at Montreal the next day and entrain immediately for Quebec City.

All across the country, arrangements for local visits stand, except that they will be one week late in each case.

In Ottawa's case, Parliament will be in session when they arrive Oct. 10 for a two-day visit. It is the present intention of the government to propose that both Houses not sit on those two days.

The new date of arrival was announced by the Princess and her husband in London one day after disclosing that the original plans had been set back a week or two because of the condition of the King.

It was hailed by Prime Minister St. Laurent as obviously meaning "that there has been great progress in His Majesty's recovery."

A few hours later Mr. St. Laurent took off for Washington by plane to meet President Truman primarily to discuss development of the Sa. Lawrence seaway. Arrangements for the Washington visit of the Royal couple were expected to be part of their talk.

A statement here by Charles Stein, chairman of the special committee on arrangements for the tour, said plans to visit places on the original itinerary still stand and that that goes for Washington, too.

In London, however, a spokesman for the Royal couple said they will disclose later whether it will be possible for them to go to Washington.

The new dates for the Washington visit would be Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Under the changed schedule they now are slated to leave Canada from Bay Bulls, Nfld., Nov. 12 by ship, but this may be cancelled to allow them to return by air.

At various times through Canada they will fly from place to place and the R.C.A.F.'s No. 1 transport plane, the C5, will be at their disposal at all times in case a relapse in the King's condition makes it necessary for them to rush back home.

They will land on arrival at Montreal's Dorval Airport and will be greeted by the Governor-General and Prime Minister St. Laurent. They will take their Royal "immediately" for Quebec City, Mr. Stein said, and "there will be no official functions until the commencement of the tour at Quebec on the morning of Tuesday, Oct. 9."

The changed dates mean, by way of example, that they will reach Toronto Oct. 12 instead of Oct. 5, Calgary Oct. 18 instead of Oct. 11, Montreal Oct. 29 instead of Oct. 22, Halifax Nov. 7 instead of Oct. 31.

Almost until the time of yesterday's announcement there was speculation that the tour would be put off until spring because of the King's illness.

Saigon, Indo-China, Sept. 28—(AP)—French army headquarters said today 500 communist-led Vietminh guerrillas were killed and 1,500 suspects arrested during the first phase of "operation citron" in the region southeast of Hanol.

Operation citron is designed to sweep clean the heavily-infested guerrilla zone within the 375-mile-long north Indo-China defence perimeter. The French are trying to secure their rear areas as the rainy season slackens and major fighting is about to be resumed.

Churchill Calls For End Of Class Warfare In U.K.

London, Sept. 28—(AP)—Winston Churchill called upon Britain today to free itself from socialism in order to rebuild its life at home and its prestige abroad.

In a 2,500-word Conservative party manifesto, the 76-year-old wartime Prime Minister said the Oct. 25 general election "may well be the turning point in the fortunes and even life of Britain."

"There must be no illusions about our difficulties and dangers," he said.

Churchill demanded an end to class warfare and a growth in national unity. He blamed the "frantic extravagances" of the Labor government for devaluation of the pound from $4.02 to $2.80 on Sept. 18, 1949.

Churchill laid down these main points his party would seek to carry out if returned to power:

1. "The Conservative aim is to increase our national output. Here is the surest way to keep our people fully employed, to halt the rising cost of living and to preserve our social services."

2. Complete the £4,700,000,000 three-year rearmament program started by the Labor government, adding "we believe, however, that far better value could be got for the immense manpower and sums of money which are involved."

3. Impose an excess profits tax during the defence emergency.

4. Stop all further nationalization of industry.

5. Return the iron and steel industry nationalized early this year to its former owners.

6. Decentralize the nationalized rail and road transport and coal industries, and give private freight trucking firms a chance to return to business.

7. Strengthen the monopolies commission to reduce "to the minimum possible all restrictive practices on both sides of industry," including the nationalized industries.

The Conservatives also want to give home building a priority second only to defence and to provide better education and health services for the money now being spent upon them.

The Conservatives pledged the party to bind Britain, the Empire and the Commonwealth closer together in defence and trade matters, and seek closer unity of the millions of English-speaking peoples.

Churchill said that "the attempt to impose a doctrinaire socialism upon an island which has grown great and famous by free enterprise has inflicted serious injury upon our strength and prosperity."

Another section of the manifesto recalled Churchill's plea last year for a top-level meeting with Prime Minister Stalin.

Churchill did not advocate such a meeting today but he visualized the possibility of an age with a friendly Russia which would "open to all the toiling millions of the world an era of moral and material advance undreamed of hitherto among men."

Seaway Project Is Reason For Premier's U.S. Visit

Washington, Sept. 28— (AP) — Top-level international talks were scheduled for this morning in an effort to get the $700,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway project out of its pigeon hole in the United States Senate.

Prime Minister St. Laurent will ask President Truman's clearance of a Canadian proposal to build it without the help of the United States.

The Canadian Premier's flight last night was taken as evidence that the Canadian Cabinet is about to undertake the huge power and waterway project itself, after years of fruitless negotiations.

Congress, despite Truman's personal support of the plan as a major defence measure, has stalled building of the huge ditch in cooperation with Canada. The President would have to join the Canadian government in allowing the international joint commission, with jurisdiction over boundary waters, to conduct an inquiry into the seaway.

Truman yesterday indicated his support of the project when he told a press conference he would like to see the Niagara river power project and the seaway built as a unified job.

He said there is good reason for not starting a New York state-sponsored power project on the Niagara river separately.

St. Laurent was accompanied by another seaway enthusiast, American ambassador Stanley Woodward. Also with him were two cabinet aides. He was to return to Ottawa after lunch today.

The party was met at the airport by Maj.-Gen. Harry Vaughan, the President's military aide, Canadian ambassador Hume Wrong, and others.

The Prime Minister indicated on arrival that Canada may be interested in developing the project on its own if the U.S. continues delaying it.

Canada and the U.S. signed an agreement in 1941 to join in developing the venture. But the Senate has continually blocked it's implementation.

The proposed undertaking calls for a channel which would admit ocean-going ships up to the head of the Great Lakes. It would develop some 2,200,000 horsepower of hydro-electric energy in the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence river.

Bradley's Visit May Mean New Strategy In Korea

By DON HUTH

Tokyo, Sept. 28. —(AP) — Gen. Omar Bradley arrived tonight, possibly to map strategy if the Korean truce talks collapse completely and full scale fighting erupts.

Bradley's plane arrived at nearby Haneda airport at 9.30 p.m. The chairman of the United States joint chiefs of staff was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, state department expert on Russia.

The defence department in Washington said Bradley would "survey all aspects of the situation" with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander.

Ridgway yesterday suggested a switch in the truce talk site in an effort to revive the stalled armistice talks.

Peiping radio treated Ridgway's proposal with rough language. In a broadcast tonight as Bradley's plane was winging the last few miles to Tokyo, it accused Ridgway of "carrying out orders from Washington to use the change-of-conference site question to block the resumption" of truce talks.

The Chinese and North Koreans have not answered Ridgway's suggestion Thursday for getting the bogged-down parley going again. He wanted the conference site switched from Kaesong, behind Red lines, to the Songhyon area in no-man's-land. The village is six miles southeast of Kaesong.

Observers said this could be Ridgway's last compromise proposal.

The Reds broke off armistice talks Aug. 23. They accused the United Nations of violating the neutrality of Kaesong. The charge was denied.

Underscoring the pessimism were U.N. pilot reports of masses of enemy trucks moving toward the battle front and a flare-up of Red infantry attacks all along the battle line.

Ridgway's headquarters in an unofficial release echoed the futility of the last six weeks of bickering and note exchanges.

The communists, the release accused, sought resumption of the armistice parley on their own terms or a complete breakdown "out of sheer frustration."

Ridgway proposed that the five-man delegation would first discuss maintaining the neutrality of the new location. Then they would return to debating the establishment of a demilitarized zone across Korea — the agenda item under discussion when the talks were abruptly halted 37 days ago.

But there was little hope that the communists would accept the latest U.N. command suggestion.

Communist newspaper men told allied correspondents Thursday at Panmunjom, where an official copy of the message was delivered to a Red liaison team, that the Reds still want Kaesong as the meeting place.

Red China's official Peiping radio quoted a dispatch from North

SWANSON BOILING AT HOLLYWOOD TALK ABOUT 'LIMITED ABILITY'

Hollywood—Gloria Swanson got hopping mad at Hollywood recently and let the snipers have it right between the eyes.

I'm the boy who stirred Gloria up.

Gloria, in a blue negligee with a lot of glitter to it, was stretched out on her dressing room couch after wrapping up a scene for her new picture, "Three For Bedroom C."

I took in the Swanson curves and said it was jim-dandy to have her back in Hollywood.

"Thanks, darling," murmred Gloria, running her fingertips over her spectacular eyelids and flexing her toes.

"Certain people around town . . ." I cleared my throat. "Well, they said that you'd never do another picture after 'Sunset Boulevard.'"

Gloria's eyes opened slowly—those fabled, glistening, wet-tilted eyes.

"Really?"

I nodded and said that maybe I'd better shut up.

"No, no, go on."

"They said that you were a special vehicle actress."

"Hmmmmmm," from Gloria.

"They said that you were—er—limited."

"Oh, they did, did they?"

"I don't want to upset you."

"Why no, darling, of course you don't."

Gloria sat up, cradled her knees with her arms and started to smolder. "It's crazy," she raged.

"Crazy?"

Can Do Anything

"Certainly," Gloria snapped curling the corners of her squared-off mouth. "Go back through my career from Keystone to Triangle to DeMille and pseudo-De Mille. I played everything and never the same thing twice. I was a French actress in 'Zaza,' a gum-chewing clerk in 'Manhandled.' I wore boys' clothes in 'The Humming Bird.'

"Every part—'Stage Struck,' 'Manhattan,' 'Society Scandal,' 'Madame Sans-Gene,' and later 'Rain,' 'Music in the Air,' 'Indiscreet' and 'Father Takes a Wife'—every role was different. I don't know anyone who's played more varied roles than I have."

I muttered that I was convinced.

"Humph," snorted Gloria.

She was percolating full-blast now.

"Oh, I know," Gloria said, Hollywood decided after 'Sunset Boulevard' that I was a good actress. Look, I was a good actress before 'Sunset Boulevard.'

"Sure, you were."

"People forget. I played character roles for DeMille. I've played character roles all through my movie career. On the stage, too."

Gloria narrowed her eyes.

"What else did they say?"

the door.

I fidgeted and looked toward

"Come, come, come," commanded Gloria, waving her long cigaret holder.

"There was the story that nobody had offered you any pictures after 'Sunset Boulevard.'"

Plenty Of Offers

"Rot," snapped Gloria, "I could have done 'Alice-Sit-By-The fireside' with my daughter for Paramount. Walter Wanger came up with 'The Ballad and the Source.' I passed up 'Sudden Fear'—now Joan Crawford is doing it—'Another Man's Poison' and 'Exclusive Model.'"

Gloria caught her breath.

"What else?"

"The story about your temperament."

"Oh, that! Look, the man who wrote it was sorry afterwards, I'm not temperamental. The only time I ever walked off a set was when Adolph Zukor promised me a letter and didn't give it to me. I stayed away for three days. But that was the only time. I'm not temperamental."

Gloria inclined her head toward the big sound stage outside, where electricians were lighting a new set.

"Ask the people I work with," she said. "You can't fool them."

I changed the subject and asked about the crowds who had waited outside the stage door when she was electrifying Broadway in "20th Century."

"It was amazing," she said. "The old matinee gals, all dressed like my mother. Hundreds of them. I knew why they were there. They'd seen me looking no more than 30 years old on the stage and it bothered them.

"They were at that stage door waiting for me to be carried out on a stretcher."

WEIRD WHEELING—Two Danish brothers from Copenhagen have drawn many amazing looks from onlookers during the first month of their round-the-world journey by bikes. Their strange vehicles, shown above as they passed through a Munich, Germany, street, enable them to peddle while lying down. The brothers, Svend Aage and Knud Erik Nielsen, expect to finance the three-year tour through several continents by selling picture postcards of their unusual vehicles.

Evening Guild Has Meeting At Richmond

Richmond, Sept. 28 — Miss Viola Noble presided at the September meeting of the Evening Guild of St. Anne's Church, which was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Coles.

The minutes were read by Mrs. Fred Newell. Miss Noble welcomed the members back, after the holidays and she also extended a welcome to the new members.

Plans were made to hold an evening bridge party in the Parish Hall, on October 16.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Coles, assisted by Mrs. G. Walker, Mrs. J. Coles, Mrs. D'Almaine and Miss Jean Coles.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The September meeting of the Auxiliary to the Legion was held in the Legion Memorial Hall. Mrs. Patrick Smith presided. The standards were presented, with Mrs. Leslie Dalton and Mrs. Leslie Rattray as Standard Bearers and Mrs. E. C. Nixon, as Sergt-at-Arms. Following the singing of "O Canada" the minutes were read by Mrs. Ivy Fuller and Mrs. Leo Delaney gave the financial report.

In reply to an appeal from the Unitarian Service Committee (Relief for children in foreign countries) the amount of ten dollars was voted.

The Ways and Means Committee reported that arrangements are being made to serve a supper to the members attending the District meeting of Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge, in the Legion Hall, on Saturday, October 20.

Mrs. T. Dalton, the convener of the social committee announced that the regular "Thursday social Evenings" would be held again and she urged the members to attend the first one of the season, on September 27, at 8 p.m., in the Legion Hall.

Mrs. Mallalieu, the Captain of the local Girl Guide organization gave a full report of the fall activities. On October 2, the girls and their leaders expect to attend a Rally at St. Lambert, where they will meet the Dominion Commissioner, Mrs. Wishart. She also reported that the Camp, held at Spooner Pond, was very successful and very well attended. Four new members were welcomed at the last meeting.

Mrs. Dowler reported that the Brownies will meet every Tuesday. The first meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 2, at 6:15 p. m. The silver cup and first aid kit, presented to the local Brownies, on June 9th, at the Rally, were on display and admired by the Auxiliary members. The National Camp will be held in Ottawa, Ont in 1952 and it is hoped that a representative from Richmond will attend.

Mrs. P. Hanson stated that she had received a letter from her son, David, who is in Korea and he informed her that he had adopted a Korean orphan boy, six years of age, and he required warm clothing for him. The members were very interested in this project and decided to meet at the home of Mrs. Howard Hills and remodel donations of clothing, which were promised. A box will be sent to Korea as soon as possible.

The quilt donated by the Ladies' Auxiliary to Branch, No. 15, brought in a substantial sum at the drawing, which was held at the Street Fair. Mrs. Smith thanked all the members, who had assisted with the sale of tickets and also those who had worked untiringly in the refreshment booth at the annual Street Fair.

The meeting closed in the usual form.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. A. Parenteau, Mrs. A. Mace, Mrs. K. Beattie and Mrs. G. Girard.

GUILD AND W.A.

Mrs. Aubrey Carson and Mrs. H. Moret were joint hostesses at the meeting of the Guild and W.A. of St. Anne's Church, which was held at the former's home.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. George Harrington.

Mrs. H. Moret presided and the minutes were read by Mrs. George Walker, after which, Mrs. Ivy Fuller gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the Deanery Meeting of Kirkdale and St. Felix de Kingsey, on September 28, in St. Ann's Church, at 10:30 a.m. Luncheon will be served at noon.

The members were requested to return their Sunshine Bags at the next meeting, which will be held in the Parish Hall.

At the close of the business meeting, Rev. Mr. Harrington gave a very interesting account of his recent visit to Labrador.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Fee.

Co-Op Hospital Reduces Rates

Shelburne, Ont. — Ontario's first co-operative hospital has been open only eight months—but already it is starting to pay dividends, not only in good health but also in cash.

Officials of the $23,000 hospital say that when the hospital goes into its second year next Jan. 1, its 400 charter members will enjoy a 50-per-cent deduction on hospital care for themselves and their families.

In addition to their annual flat rate of $10, they will pay only $2.75 per day in hospital. Non-members admitted to the 14-bed institution must pay $5.50 a day.

Elmer Dykes, chairman of the hospital board, says that the low rate—dollars below normal hospital charges in the province—doesn't mean the hospital is hamstringing itself financially to make an impressive showing.

"First-year experience, when we gave members a 20-per-cent discount," he says, "has convinced us that the 50-per-cent discount plan will strengthen our financial position."

Members of the hospital feel that they have demonstrated the practicability of the suggestion by provincial and federal health officials that more smaller hospitals would take the pressure off larger institutions.

The hospital is without provincial grants because co-operative hospitals were unknown when the relevant legislation was passed.

BALDWIN'S MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hamilton and family, of Toronto, Ont., are spending some time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Markwell.

Miss Esther May has returned home, after spending some time at Hilldale, N.J., with Miss Valerie Gill. While there, she visited New York City and other interesting places.

Mrs. Alvah Patterson, of Coaticook, was recently calling on Mrs. Sydney White.

Miss Marjorie Harrison, of Beebe, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harrison.

PEARCETON

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grenier and family, of Stanbridge Station, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Gardner.

Mrs. Dussault has returned to Montreal, after a few days spent at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cyril Gardner and Mr. Gardner.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright were Mrs. N. O'Brien, of Sutton, Mrs. McCraig, Ormstown, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. McClatchie and Mrs. Royal Gambell, of Alhelston.

Busy, Well-Attended Session Marks Inspectors' Conference At Knowlton

By GLEN BROWN

Knowlton, Sept. 27—The Brome County Teachers' Association had a busy day last Friday, with the annual inspectors' conference, a report from the Fisher trust fund trustees and the election of officers and delegates to the provincial association of Protestant teachers.

The session in Knowlton High School opened with inspector Lessard in the chair and accompanied by inspector Ployart of the department of education, Quebec, and Miss May Hextall, the helping teacher for the Eastern Townships area for the department.

Mr. Lessard's first recommendation was on Scripture. He felt that a full period a day should be set aside for Bible reading and teaching. The Inspector said that in many cases this was duplicate teaching as most children were taught in the various Sunday schools, but in a small minority of cases, this religious instruction would be the only Bible reading that some children would receive.

There was a lengthy and enlightening discussion on reading throughout all school grades. One of the main thoughts was that a great deal of emphasis should be placed on the slow readers in the lower school grades. Health was the next item on the agenda, with the recommendation that a practical approach to the subject be made. The arithmetic text book was then previewed with the fact of living mathematics dominating the make up of some of the newer texts. In the English course there were many new books in the course of study. Mr. Lessard was also most emphatic that memory work be well stressed in all grades of English.

A new nature study book was introduced for the elementary grades called the Wonder World of Science. This book would undoubtedly serve a good purpose in bringing the children to a closer understanding of life about them.

A very thorough discussion of music was held with Mr. Ployart expounding the merits of living music in the class rooms. Mr. Ployart also suggested that, as an experiment, in central board areas, the music teachers of the large schools be allowed to visit small rural schools once a month to assist in the teaching of music. Mr. Lessard brought to the teachers' attention the fact that the gramophone could also be used to advantage in the small one-room school houses.

Just before the noon break, Mr. Ployart made a moving appeal to high school teachers to do a thorough job of teaching students. He pointed out that no farmer tills the soil with a wooden plow, and that the methods for educating a pupil should show as much improvement as those of the farmer. He said that teachers should prepare lectures well in advance, and that once the lecture or lesson has been presented, each and every teacher should check and re-check on the results of his or her presentation.

At the afternoon session the Fisher Fund trustees headed by their chairman, R. F. Cowan of Mansonville, presented the report of their activities for the past year. Bob Douglas of Sutton was awarded a partial scholarship in his third year in agriculture at Macdonald college. Karl Steinbach also received some help in the short course at the same college. A grant was made to the County Agronomist. Five hundred dollars was granted to the Brome County Agricultural Society and $50 was granted to the Brome County Horticultural Society. In addition to these aids to County farming, the Fund also contributed $100 to the Brome County Council of Farm Forums.

Nine bursaries were paid, for pupils attending schools where they had to board away from home, at $35 each. Eight pupils attended school at Knowlton, one at Sutton. Fifty dollars was given to the Brome County Teachers Association.

The trustees intended to carry out a similar program for the coming year. A tribute was paid to Eric Fisher as the only remaining original trustee, and for his outstanding work in education over a long period of years. Orrin Rexford of Montreal, of the Fund board, also gave a brief address.

The Brome County Teachers Association held an election of officers and delegates. The results were: Pres. Miss Harper, Sutton High School principal, Vice-Pres. Mr. McGibbon, Mansonville Intermediate School, Sec-Treas. Mrs. Gatenby, Sutton High School, Delegates, Mrs. Carmichael, Knowlton High School, Mr. Kerwin, Knowlton High School, Mr. Tyler, Knowlton Hign School.

The conference closed with a film in the Knowlton High School projection room.

The noon-day dinner for the 60 delegates was given by the Fisher trust fund.

Rules Death At Coaticook As Accidental

A verdict of accidental death was returned at Coaticook yesterday, following the death of Lucienne Jolicoeur, 43, in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital here.

Miss Jolicoeur, an employee of the Belding-Corticelli Company, of Coaticook, was severely burned in an industrial mishap and succumbed to these burns yesterday, three weeks after the accident.

Dr. Louis Gagnon, of Sherbrooke, district coroner, presided at the inquest.

Winter Fair Organizers Hold Luncheon

Montreal, September 28. — Organizers of Sherbrooke's annual Winter Fair held a luncheon in the Windsor Hotel yesterday, at which Montreal buyers were assured of a bigger and better show at next week's Fair.

J. A. Ste. Marie, president of the E.T.A.A., noted an increase in beef production in the last year and said that production would be even higher if more breeding cattle were available.

Understanding between farmers and buyers in the province was lauded by Ralph Bennett, chief of the Marketing Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, who said that this feeling and the personal interest provincial ministers show in fairs are unique.

Hon. C. D. French, Provincial Minister of Mines, said that not enough beef cattle are being produced in Quebec, but added, "I'm sure that you will see some fine exhibits if you attend next week's show."

Other speakers at the luncheon included Alderman Leo Cadorette, A. C. Ross, managing director of the E.T.A.A. and Lactance Roberge, city of Montreal director of finances.

Adjourn Inquest At The Boundary

Inquest into the death of Treffle Laroche, 67, of Rock Island, was opened this morning at Rock Island but adjourned to a later date.

Mr. Laroche died of a fractured skull Wednesday evening at the Boundary, when the automobile in which he was a passenger crashed into a tree at the side of the road.

Mr. Laroche's head struck the tree as he was hurled from the car by the force of the crash.

Captains And Canvassers Get Final Instructions For Red Feather Drive

Final plans for the Community Chest campaign that starts in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville next week were outlined last night by Walter Sutherland, general chairman, at a meeting of captains and canvassers held in the McKinnon Memorial building.

Mr. Sutherland told of the do's and don'ts in canvassing and congratulated the workers for their fine turnout.

Objective of the campaign is $25,000. Participating agencies are: Salvation Army, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., St. John Ambulance Association, Boy Scouts of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville and the Sherbrooke and Lennoxville libraries.

Lee M. Watson, vice-chairman of the campaign, and J. E. Shortt, publicity chairman, spoke briefly and encouraged the canvassers to do their canvassing as soon as possible.

The "Red Feather" symbol of the community Chest stands for service, not charity! It encompasses far more than economic boundaries—for the needs of men are many, and a helping hand must be extended to those needing physical, emotional or mental help.

The "Red Feather" theme—"Everybody benefits — everybody gives," is more than a slogan. It expresses the idea that the man who gives and the man who receives may well be one and the same.

Give generously when you are approached.

Home And School Association To Meet Oct. 1

The Sherbrooke Home and School Association will re-assemble on Monday evening, October 1, with the first meeting of the season to be held at the Mitchell School at 8 p.m.

This meeting will take the form of a "get acquainted meeting" and "meet the teacher night." W. W. Gibson, superintendent of Protestant schools and principal of the Sherbrooke High School, and George McClintock, newly-appointed principal of Mitchell School, will be the guest speakers.

The president, George Banks, elected at the last meeting, will preside. Gordon LeBaron, a charter member of the Association, will give a brief review of its past activities and accomplishments.

The new executive has been busy during the summer and expects to have an interesting series of meetings lined up for the year.

Early Donations Tally $6,880 At Lennoxville

After three nights of canvassing, two of which were almost entirely washed out by rain, the Lennoxville School Building Fund Committee's donations' total stands at $6,880.

The up-to-the-minute figure is the result of approaching 61 subscribers, the average donation being well above $100.

The Committee needs $100,000 in donations in order to successfully finance the new extension to the Lennoxville High School.

Before the campaign comes to an end, the canvassers will be calling upon 830 prospective donors in Lennoxville.

Names of the first donors in the campaign will be published in the Record tomorrow.

ARTHABASKA FIRE

Arthabaska, Que., Sept. 28.—(CP)—A two-storey building was gutted by fire yesterday leaving two families homeless and causing damage estimated at $10,000.

The two families occupied the second-floor flat above a garage. A 1950-model automobile in the garage was destroyed.

Top Ticket Seller

Marguerite Trudeau, of Coaticook, brought in the most new subscriptions in the Community Concerts campaign this year. This won her the $25 prize presented by Mrs. C. B. Howard and which Mrs. Howard is seen presenting to her in the above picture. The presentation was made following the opening concert of the season on Tuesday. Jean-Marie Gregoire of Sherbrooke, who sold just one ticket less than Miss Trudeau, also received an award from Mrs. Howard. (Gerry Lemay photo)

Fees Charged By "Y's" Are Very Low

"How can you make the membership privileges available at so low a fee?" This question is continually asked of the two great youth serving agencies, the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. B. C. Howard, president of the Board of Y.W.C.A., and Col. L. M. Watson, president of the Y.M.C.A. board, in discussing this factor, pointed out that the world-wide policies of these two movements was to hold the fee charged at a level low enough that the privileges might be enjoyed by those in the lowest economic levels as well as those whose families were capable of paying the actual cost.

Actually the fee charged for the privileges which may be enjoyed are ridiculously low. An eight year boy, for example, is charged $3.00 per year at the Y.M.C.A., and may attend swimming activities three times a week, and received instruction. This would work out at about 2 cents a visit. Similar breakdown of the Y.W.C.A. frees gives approximately the same figures.

Yet, there are families in Sherbrooke whose budgets cannot provide these benefits for their children even at this price. But such children are not deprived of the privilege of membership. And the reason they are not barred from participating in the health and citizenship training programs of these two great institutions is because, through their support of the Red Feather Community Chest Drive, the citizens of our community provide the funds to make up the deficits of these Associations, and provide the facilities for those that need them most.

Wear the Red Feather with pride . . . and be happy in the knowledge that, because of you, some child is going to become a better adult.

Special Church Service Held

Sutton, Sept. 28 — The United Church recently observed "Rural Life Sunday". The service was conducted by the pastor, Dr. W. Boyd, who was assisted by Mr. Gordon Shufelt of East Farnham, past president of Quebec Council of Farm Forum Associations, and Mr. G. C. Whitcher of Foster, president of Brome County Farm Forum Association.

Mr. Floyd Greisbach of Toronto, National Secretary of Farm Forums, was guest speaker. The topic chosen was "The Relationship of the Church to the Rural Community". Mr. Greisbach spoke of the lack of unity often existing between the Church and the Home and expressed a hope that all people would strive for a closer union. Special music was rendered by the choir consisting of a solo, "The City Four-square" by Clifford McKell and a duet "I Am a Pilgrim" by Barbara and Errol Norton.

Over fifty of the Forum members and their friends met in the basement after the service and shared in a "pot-luck" lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

Final Tribute Is Paid To H. B. Lovell

Funeral services were held yesterday at Knapp's Funeral Home in Coaticook, for Howard Bush Lovell, of Sherbrooke, who passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital on Monday. He was in his 69th year.

Mr. Lovell was born in Coaticook, son of Charles Lovell, federal member for Stanstead. He was in the wholesale and retail grain business for a number of years and also served on the municipal council, before taking up the position of joint collector of provincial revenue, in Sherbrooke, with Mr. Bissonnette.

He served in this office for almost 29 years, and at the time of his retirement, because of ill health, two years ago, was associated with Maurice St. Laurent, who still holds the position.

Until about seven years ago, when he moved to Sherbrooke, the deceased continued to live in Coaticook, commuting to his work every day.

He was well known in Sherbrooke and district and had many friends, who will feel a deep personal loss at his passing. Until forced by his health to retire from all activities, he was a prominent Mason.

In addition to his wife, the former Fannie Kilburn, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Howard W. Lamb, (Ruth), of the Town of Mount Royal, and a son, C. Sidney Lovell, of Chilliwack, B.C.

Prayers were said at Knapp's Funeral Home yesterday at 2 p.m., Rev. W. J. Rowe officiating at the Masonic funeral. Burial was in Mount Forest Cemetery, Coaticook.

Average hourly earning in manufacturing in Canada rose by 10.8 per cent from April 1, 1950, to April 1, 1951.

Offer To Adopt Girl Found In Woods Near Montreal Comes From E. T.

Montreal, Sept. 28.—(CP)—Couples from Alberta and Saskatchewan — as well as from Quebec — would like to adopt little Didi Ames.

The six-year-old girl wandered out of the woods at nearby Caughnawaga Sept. 10, unable to explain where she came from or tell much about her parents.

Country-wide efforts by police to find the parents have proved fruitless.

Inspector-General Norbert Labbe yesterday released three of seven letters from persons wanting to become the child's foster parents.

A letter from Lethbridge, Alta., said:

"We read and were touched by the story concerning Didi Ames. If it is possible in any way, we would like to call her our own. We are both 23 years old and have been married 2½ years. We have a little boy of a year and a half.

"We have our own home. We will inherit next year a farm of 670 acres. We are of German and Dutch descent."

From Bjorkdale, Sask., came this letter:

"We have no children. If the child is white and healthy, we will give her a good home in town. We feel crazy about the kiddie. We can afford to do it."

From Cowansville, Que.:

"I am ready to take the child and have only a girl of 16 and she will soon be on her own."

Under the law six months must pass before the child can be adopted.

Last Member Of Pioneer Family Dies At Stanstead

Stanstead, Sept. 28.—The border communities are saddened today by the passing of a familiar and well-beloved figure, Miss Gertrude Belle Terrill.

Miss Terrill passed away suddenly yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Jessie Colby, O.B.E., with whom she had resided during the last few years.

Miss Terrill was the last member of a family of six children, one of the oldest pioneer families in Stanstead County where she was born September 22, 1884, daughter of the late William Terrill and his wife, the former Emma Worth. She was a granddaughter of the Hon. T. Lee Terrill.

She was educated at Stanstead College and for 40 years she was postmaster of the Stanstead Post Office, prior to her retirement several years ago, following a serious illness, after which she made her home with Miss Colby at Stanstead.

Miss Terrill was a member of Christ Church, Stanstead, a member of the Stanstead Historical Society in which she was deeply interested, and was a member of the I.O.D.E., Stanstead Chapter.

She is survived by a nephew, C. Charles Terrill Manning, attorney-at-law, Montreal.

Funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, in Christ Church, Rev. F. W. Mitchell officiating. Interment will be in her family lot at Crystal Lake Cemetery, Stanstead.

Guide Leaders Are Required Immediately

A serious situation faces the Girl Guide movement in Sherbrooke as the result of the shortage of Guide and Brownie leaders.

This fact was made known today by Mrs. R. M. Boright, of Lennoxville, Divisional Commander.

Any woman who would be willing to consider undertaking such leadership is urged to contact Mrs. Boright, 39 Clough Avenue, Lennoxville (phone 2-6795) or Mrs. H. E. Grundy, secretary of the local Association, 80 Quebec street (phone 2-1307).

Mrs. Boright stated that she hopes that several ladies, whether they have had any previous experience in such work or not, will volunteer as leaders. All that is required, she said, is fondness for girls, an interest in them, and a willingness to give up some time. Other leaders will be more than willing to give potential leaders the necessary training and instruction.

If the shortage of leaders is not overcome immediately, she added, the 1st Sherbrooke Company of Guides and 1st Sherbrooke Pack of Brownies, both without leaders at present, will be forced to close up. This would be a serious blow to the movement, for the 1st Sherbrooke has been one of the strongest groups here, up to the present time, as well as being the oldest group.

GERMANY HAS NOT EARNED LIBERAL PEACE

As talks progress in Bonn looking toward a "peace contract" for Western Germany, Allied statesmen need to remind themselves steadily that this is not Japan all over again.

The Japanese won a conciliatory peace treaty because they earned it. They had taken important steps on the road toward democracy. And they had aligned their strategic islands unmistakably on the side of the West in the struggle against communism. There was no significant opposition voice in Japan to this course.

The story is not exactly the same in Germany. To be sure, Chancellor Adenauer seems thoroughly genuine, in his espousal of the West's cause, and he is now working earnestly for the adoption of the peace contract proposals set forth in Washington.

There can be little doubt, either, that Germans prefer the West to life with Joseph Stalin's Soviet Union. Sentiment for communism in Western Germany is not strong.

But there are many elements among the defeated Germans who do not approach relations with the West in a fitting spirit of fairness and honest humility. Mostly, these are neo-Nazi groups busy fanning the still-burning nationalist flames.

Yet, unfortunately, they also include some members of the German socialist party, the Social Democrats — not the least of which is the party leader, Kurt Schumacher.

Veteran observers appear to agree that Schumacher's devotion to liberal goals cannot be questioned. But, on the other hand, long attention to his public pronouncements make evident a persistently powerful nationalistic tone which cannot help but cast suspicion on his general motives.

Schumacher, in theory a friend of the West, contrives in virtually every instance to find something worng with Allied proposals for Germany's future.

No sensible people expect a defeated nation to love its conquerors, nor to pass by opportunities to complain. But neither do they look for such arrogance and unfair demand as we have had from Schumacher at every stage. He is now committed to opposing the peace contract terms currently under discussion.

Whatever the avowed purity of his purpose, the effect of his position is clearly damaging to the West's efforts to forge a solid European front against Russia.

We need Germany in this bitter contest, and thus must give more ground than we might otherwise wish to yield to people who so recently swaggered across a continent in brutal conquest.

But we do not need the Germans so badly that we must endure new bullying. It is quite proper for us to remind the Germans that they lost the war, that many of them were horribly bestial in prosecuting it, and that they cannot expect in a short space of six years to find the rest of the world forgetting what they did. They must earn their way back into the family of honorable nations.

DRIFT TOWARD IRRESPONSIBILITY

Thousands of lines have been written, across Canada, commenting on the report of the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education. These reported "grave deficiencies" in the basic education of secondary school children, the lack of thoroughness, in the subjects of reading, writing and arithmetic.

The committee worked for four years studying various phases of education. They made numerous recommendations aimed at correcting the weaknesses they pointed out.

Those who are at all familiar with present-day education will agree that the overloaded curriculum has left little time for drill and review. So many topics had to be covered for that final examination. The fact that the passing mark, 50 per cent, gave pupils the idea that they did not have to master much more than half the work certainly did not mean too much thoroughness.

It may be that too much emphasis has been placed upon social functions. Teen-agers would much prefer attending a party, dance, or hockey match, than studying grammar or mathematics.

But more than any one of the things that might be pointed out, there is a definite drift toward irresponsibility on the part of present-day students. Many of them attend classes, not so much that they want to prepare themselves for their lifework, but more because "it's the thing to do."

Canon Bernard Iddings Bell, noted educator in U.S.A. recently wrote in Life magazine: "For society there is danger of the gravest instability when its youth are challenged in the impression that one may eat one's cake and have it too, that there can be reward without quest, wages without work, a master's prestige without a master's skill, marriage without fidelity, national security without individual sacrifce."

MAYBE THEY HAD THE RIGHT IDEA

Four unarmed South Korean soliders wandered into the neutral zone around Kaesong the other day. They were a DDT squad.

The United Nations command declares these fellows wandered over the line by accident. Even the cynically skeptical Communist negotiators accept this story.

But we incline to a different view. We think the four knew what they were doing. They know where the insects are.

PRESS COMMENTS

INDIVIDUAL LOSING RIGHTS IN COLD WAR

London Free Press

When General Douglas MacArthur declares that since his return from the Orient he has noted "our steady drift toward totalitarian rule, with the suppression of those personal liberties which have formed the foundation of our political, economic and social advances to national greatness" he is emphasizing a state of affairs which is universal in the Western world today. General MacArthur who was speaking in Cleveland protested that this tendency, if continued, could lead to a dictatorship in the United States.

If could, of course, be pointed out that the gallant general "rehabilitated" Japan by giving an excellent example of a dictator in office, a benign dictator to be sure. But then he was a military executive in an occupied country and Japan was not a country at peace. Nor were its occupants men and women brought up in the large tradition of Jefferson.

The point that it too readily missed in these days is that we are at war, not at peace. We have to deal with and to live under the impact of a "cold war" and a variety of "hot" wars. The "hot" wars are in Korea, Malaya and Palestine. There is a kind of lukewarm revolt going on in India and throughout the Arab world. As for the "cold" war it is a constant day-and-night business assuming new guises at the whim of Moscow.

This state of affairs is likely to be with us indefinitely. It may well outlast the lifetime of the middle-aged man of today. No immediate end — short of all-out world war — can be envisioned. This, then, has become our normal way of life and we have to recognize it as that. If this be the normal pattern it must be increasingly difficult for the Western world to maintain its fine old traditions of freedom and personal liberties and rights for they cannot flourish in a world at war or in an atmosphere where military and defence plans and costs take priority.

This loss of personal freedom must weigh particularly heavily upon the people of the North American continent for the heaviest burden of defending the free world has fallen upon them now. They have little choice. If they refuse Russia will gladly step in and take over. We cannot remain free without paying the price of adequate and all-round defence. One part of that price must be some diminution of the traditional rights and privileges to which we have so long been accustomed.

WHEN THE LAW BREAKS DOWN

Calgary Albertan

Last week a responsible member of the British Columbia Legislature, Mr. Sidney J. Smith of Kamloops, publicly advocated defiance of the law, "as a last resort," in dealing with the Sons of Freedom problem. That is a dangerous statement, but not surprising. It was bound to come sooner or later, from someone.

The danger is not so much to the public but to the Government and the Sons of Freedom.

Mr. Smith points out that this Doukhobor sect is "a law-breaking element." That cannot be disputed. So what is going to be done about it? There is machinery for enforcing the law, consisting of the police, the courts and the jails. But it is becoming more and more evident that this machinery is not competent to deal with the Sons of Freedom.

Are the respectable and responsible people of the Kootenays going to sit back and watch periodic outbreaks of lawlessness (burning and dynamiting of public property are the offences that most concern the public) with nothing effective being done to stop it? . . .

If the constituted authorities can't handle the Sons of Freedom, then the law-abiding citizens are justified in doing what Mr. Smith suggests, taking direct action. We hope it never comes to that, for it could be a terrible situation. Anything might happen if a few hundred armed and justifiably aroused citizens marched on Brilliant and Krestova and some more of the Freedomite settlements.

IT'S NICE WORK

Ottawa Journal

In Toronto, where odd things so often happen, the city auditor has been making an examination of the accounts for 1950 of the Toronto Board of Education, and has come up with some interesting discoveries.

The auditor has questioned the legality of 48 items of expenditure involving together some $49,268.

One item is $4,954.76, which was the cost of a trip to Paris last year by the then chairman of the board and the superintendent of public schools—it was for a meeting of UNESCO. There were many expenditures for dinners and luncheons, there was $20 for a basket of flowers on the opening of a trustee's new studio, there was $61.50 which went for "corsages for guests at dinner." There was an item of $6,288 as the deficit on a centenary book.

For a dinner for a retiring chairman of the board $424 was spent, as well as $255.90 to give the chairman as silver tea service. (A former trustee was given an oil painting that cost $166.50.) All this out of public funds.

Toronto taxpayers will not receive with any noticeable enthusiasm the news that they have been buying Paris trips, dinners and oil paintings for school trustees, and flowers for their ladies. Certainly if this sort of thing were reported in Ottawa of any of our public bodies we should find it more than a little disturbing.

COURAGEOUS LITTLE FELLOW, ISN'T HE?

Glimpses Into The Past

By BERTHA WESTON PRICE

OUR FLORAL EMBLEMS PAST AND PRESENT

September the first month of Autumn, is leaving us in favor of her real sister, October, the month of consumation when the Harvest looks down with a smile on Mother Earth in her gay attire that shows signs of decaying power. The Maples are in their glory; the birches are turning to gold while the pines and spruces stand calmly as "green Senators of the forest." The flowers are bidding us adieu, though the hydrangeas and michaelmas linger in a friendly way and the fruit bearing trees and shrubs give color to the landscape.

All this helps to turn our mind to the past when there were wild flowers in forest and field to greet the newcomers with their color and fragrance. The pioneers came well provided with roots and cuttings and seeds to beautify the rough hewn clearings and to give zest to the Great Plan of planting and growing. We are greatful to them, for forethought that gave proof of our land of woods and waters that could grow the plants and flowers of the Eastern States and many that grew in England and Europe. It is very true that God made flowers for our happiness.

From time immemorial flowers have been used in making emblems that have been recorded in history and have come down to us. One of the oldest flowers known, the violet, was adapted by the City of Athens as an emblem. Ireland claims the shamrock. In the War of the Roses soldiers of York wore a white, and those of Lancaster wore a red rose; this decision has never changed. Scotland won a battle by using the purple thistle and Louis of France chose the "fleur de lis" (iris) for his personal badge. When the soldiers of Wales went to battle they wore a leaf of the lowly leek and when they won the battle they kept it as an emblem. We can see that the wild flowers and leaves were chosen in those days and coming nearer home we learn the same thing—that the modest spring flowers appealed to those who created emblems.

Let us ask our next door neighbor: what are the emblematic flowers for the Provinces of our Dominion? How many know them? Canada has the maple leaf which was chosen by the Prince of Wales, later King Edward Seventh, when on a visit to Canada in 1860. It looks well along with the beaver, and we are very proud of our beautiful maple tree that has brought fame and wealth to Canada.

Somewhere, sometime, in searching under the leaves of yesterday we found a list of the provincial flowers. They have been printed in books and pamphlets, but try to find them! However, we will take a brief glimpse of the flowers chosen for each province, but sad to relate one is missing from the list—that of Saskatchewan, the beautiful western province. Surely this one flower can be found by someone; perhaps in some school book, and we would appreciate the kindness of any one who will tell us its name.

One thing we must note—that the flowers chosen are the wild flowers of woods and fields, dainty and sweet-scented.

The far-west province of British Columbia has the flowering dogwood; Manitoba the crocus (pasque flower); Alberta the prairie rose (much like our wild rose); Saskatchewan—a space for the flower's name is given so it may be added to this list ----------; Ontario the white trillium; Quebec, the fleur de lis (iris); New Brunswick the purple violet (wood violet); Prince Edward Island the wild orchid (lady's slipper); Nova Scotia the arbutus (mayflower); Newfoundland the pitcher plant (side-saddle flower).

History tells us that 100 years ago Nova Scotia had the mayflower for part of a stamp design, also that the noble ship that brought the Pilgrims to America was named the Mayflower.

LEARN A LESSON FROM THIS HAND

South said sadly when he saw the dummy.

"We missed the boat, partner," "I tried to get you to slam," North reproached him. "Oh well, play it quickly and maybe we'll have time for another rubber."

Thus encouraged, South played the hand quickly and found a very easy way to go down at his game contract. South quavered miserably that he had played the hand too hastily, but this was a poor excuse and he knew it. The truth was that he'd have made the same plays no matter how much time he had taken.

West led the king of hearts, and dummy ruffed with the deuce of spades. Declarer promptly led the six of spades from dummy, winning with the ace. His next step was to lay down the king of spades.

It all seems very natural, doesn't it? Nevertheless, South has now foozled away his contract.

At best, South can ruff another heart in dummy and begin on the clubs. West can ruff the second club, however, and South is stuck with two losing hearts and two losing diamonds and no way to get rid of them. Down two on a hand that was good enough for a slam.

The correct play is very hard to find even if you see all the cards. In actual play I doubt that one player in a thousand would make the contract.

At the second trick, North leads the six of spades, and East plays the five of spades. South should not win with a high trump, but should give up the trick by playing his low trump.

This remarkable play protects declarer against a 4-1 break in trumps. By giving up his trump at once South can make twelve tricks instead of only eight.

West wins the second trick with the nine of spades and returns a trump (as good a defense as any). South wins, ruffs a second heart in dummy, and returns to his hand with a diamond to draw the rest of the trumps. The clubs then provide the rest of the tricks.

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades K-J-9-4, Hearts Q-2, Diamonds K-J-9, Clubs A-J-10-5. What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. If your partner's opening bid had been one heart, you would have jumped to two no-trump. As it is, you cannot bid no-trump with the hearts wide open. The hand may eventually be played at no-trump, but you should do a bit of exploring first.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-9-4-2, Hearts K-J-9, Diamonds Q-2, Clubs A-J-10. What do you do?

The Record Short Story

MOTHER'S MATCH

By HOLLIS STARNES

Any other woman's eyes might have popped, reading Stella Benham's airmail special from Hollywood, but Katie Kilfeather didn't bat an eyelash. Katie Kilfeather chambermaid at the old theatrical Hotel San Pedro, in the Roaring Forties off Broadway, nothing ever fazed Katie — for long. If it did the plump, grayhaired maid reasoned, she'd never hold onto her job — at which making beds and cleaning guests' rooms was only a deeail.

The main part of Katie's day's work, as she saw it, was trying to keep her "kids," as she called her guests, on the beam. She had to be monitor, mother's substitute, Cupid's counselor.

So there seemed nothing unusual in Stella Benham's request to look after her only son Terry, now flying East.

That Terry was the screen's newest heart-throb meant little to Katie, who in her years among showfolks had known flocks of stars in their humble beginnings. Young Terry, born on her floor, was like family. Hadn't she had the tike underfoot as a toddler, while his parents hunted jobs or played shows? She'd wept when the lively, lovable tad went to Hollywood, where his dad finally landed in Westerns. Terry bawled too. He was 4½.

Now he was 20, stood 6 feet 2, had curtly black hair, a breath-taking profile and million dollar grin. He was coming back home to New York, wrote his mother, because he felt the stage was the only place an actor could learn his trade. The studio backed him up, and arranged some stock jobs for him at barn theatres.

Now Terry was no mama's boy, Stella's letter went on, but this would be the first time he'd ever been away from her. There were reasons for this, Katie knew. In grade school, the boy had been felled by polio. His cure came the long, hard way. It was only a few years since he'd left his wheel chair. Then his dad died, and he stayed close to his mother through her hard adjustment to widowhood.

"But now he needs to be free," Stella wrote bravely. "it's a wise mother who's not possessive or jealous, strangling her son with a silver cord."

She'd urged him, however, to live under the old family roof, the grubby San Pedro, rather than at the swank Waldorf-Astoria, where most screen heartbeats holed in for their stays in New York. "I said he'd be far better off among poor, plain showfolks like we were when we started—with you keeping an eye on him."

For Terry was catching up fast, confessed Stella, on some of the things he'd missed earlier—notably girls. Naturally, she expected him to go out with girls—knew he'd marry some day. But for a few years she hoped he'd stay fancy free—and here's where Katie could help.

"By screening his dates a bit," hinted Stella, "you can steer him away from cuties and flashy dolls on the make. A plan I've used successfully is putting some nice wholesome little plain Jane in his path, and let them be pals."

"Is Cleo Randall still on your floor? She came out here awhile back with her ugly duckling of 15 or so, teeth in braces. I urged Cleo to forget movie dreams for the child, and put her in secretarial school, or something practical. Susan was a sweet little thing, bright as a button—but a plain little pudge. Just the right pal for Terry!"

Katie wrote back that night that she'd bring the pair together. Cleo was now on the road with "South Pacific," but Susie lived at the hotel. She'd taken the business course, and had a good job as secretary for a plastics firm. Katie forgot to mention that the braces had come off the girl's teeth, she'd stretched out and slimmed down.

After Terry arrived, the maid tractfully led up to a meeting with Susan. "Say, are you and my mother in some conspiracy against me?" groaned the youth.

"If ye don't get the chore over an' done with," Katie wagged her gray head, "your ma'll give us no peace. Ask Sue to a movie or dancin', then ye're through."

Grudgingly he agreed to a date for that Sunday afternoon. "I haven't seen the Bronx Zoo since you hauled me up there at the age of 4. Good place to take Susie. I can look at the gorillas."

Monday morning he was rushing off to rehearsal when she went in to make his bed. "Fine trick you played," he grinned sheepishly. "Leading me to my doom with an ugly duckling—who turns out to be a beautiful swan!"

Katie giggled. "The joke's on your ma, boy. Now if ye took a small shine to Susie, as I figured mebbe ye might—I got a gr-rand scheme concocted."

"I'm all a-glitter for Susie," he said. "Spill your scheme."

"Your ma won't be worried lest some flashy dame's got her hooks in ye, if she thinks ye pal round with Susie. So if ye're aimin' to date her again——"

"Tonight!" he broke in. "Every night she'll give me time!"

The weeks Terry played stock in nearby towns, he came back to the San Pedro whenever he could. Susie managed to get to his opening nights—with Katie as chaperon. One show he appeared in was scheduled for Fall production on Broadway, and his mother seemed thrilled he'd been kept for the New York cast.

"I feel Terry's done productive work there," she wrote Katie. "The wonderful thing is that between you and Susan he's kept clear of romantic tangles. I must write the girl. Poor pudge deserves a vote of thanks for protecting my little boy!"

But that same afternoon, Stella was on the long distance phone, demanding of Katie. "Why have you and Terry conspired against me?"

"Conspired?" the maid asked innocently.

"I just read in a syndicated gossip column that Terry Benham, Hollywood heartbeat now rehearsing for a Broadway stage play, and lovely Sue Randall are inseparable."

"But ye knew the kids were pals," Katie said smoothly. "'Twas your own idea, don't forget."

"But this calls her lovely! I thought she——"

"Looks are a matter of opinion," cut in Katie coolly. "Ye saw the girl, an' called her a pudge."

"Why didn't you warn me she'd changed? You deliberately deceived me!"

"Listen, I'm the one that's deceived!" cried the maid in aggrieved tones. "I fell for your line about wantin' your boy to be free—not stranglin' him with your steel rope, or whatever ye called it! But ye're another jealous, possessive mom!"

Stella asked tensely, "Is she in love with him? Does he think he's in love with her?"

"I never asked 'em," said Katie. She didn't have to. She could tell by the look in their eyes.

"They're both under age of consent!" Stella stormed. "I'll get Susan's mother right on the phone."

"Save your wind," said the maid. "'Tis a fortnight now since I baked Susie's birthday cake, with 18 candles, an' I heard Terry say—"

"He'll be 21 in October?" Stella asked brokenly. "I'm rushing right on to New York. If I'm only in time to break this match up!"

"But ye made it yourself!" Katie pointed out. "Ye couldn't have done better. Sue's a grand girl, sweet an' bright like ye said—with a head full o' brains an' a heart full o' character. She'd be the makin' o' Terry or any man!"

There was a long pause, then Stella said in a small, chastened voice, "Katie, I'm a fool. I've acted just like you said—a jealous, possessive old mom! Terry and Susie never must know."

"'Twill be our secret," purred Katie. "All they'll ever know is 'twas yourself brought 'em together!"

Barkless Hound's Hunters In Congo

Victoria. — Lotus Bud of the Congo, Joss of Glenairly and Magician of the Congo all have three things in common.

They're dogs—rare Basenji hunting hounds; they can trace their ancestry back to the days of Egypt's pharaohs; and they can't bark.

The three dogs, believed to be the only ones of their breed to be brought to Victoria and some of the few on the North American continent, are owned by Mrs. Sheila Anderson of this city.

Mrs. Anderson brought them from England after the first of the breed was exported to England from their native Belgian Congo.

Although they can't bark, the dogs are used by natives of the Congo to track down big game—elephants, gorillas and other wild beasts.

These excellent pets, which can whine and growl with the best of dogs, are considered top show dogs in the hound class.

Mrs. Anderson hopes to breed them, but Basenjis have only one litter of pups a year. Litters are generally between five and seven pups.

Another feature of these sturdy little dogs that few other canines possess is there is no "doggy odor" about them.

They're also expensive.

Enthusiasm Of Sutton Curlers Speaks Well For Club's Future

By GLEN BROWN

Sutton, Sept. 28—"Get going laying that line for the walk," said Bill Dow. "Let's get the short end of those boards sawed off. If we're going to have that floor ready for the club dance you fellows will have to get cracking."

"Listen here, Bill," said Doc Gruer, speaking around some three-inch nails he had in his mouth, "if you don't like the way we're working, you just get a hammer and get busy yourself."

Bill Dow and Doc Gruer, the principals in this conversation, are two of the new directors of the Sutton Curling Club.

At their raillery there was a series of chuckles as Claude Fournier, Ernest Jenne, Tommy Thompson, Ken Jenne and Art Miller kidded Bill on his efforts of foremanship.

The scene of the dialogue was in the four-year-old curling rink that the wide-awake citizens of Sutton have erected. The boys were in the midst of laying a new concrete floor to improve their rink set-up.

The best part of the Sutton club is that voluntary labor practically made the improvements that have built and maintains the rink and made the Sutton bearers of the broom and tartan one of the best small groups in this part of the country.

"Yes sir," said Art Miller, curling has really caught on in our town, all the old reliables are as enthusiastic as ever and our new members are increasing every year. Why last year we even attempted a Bonspiel. June Mapes skipped one team, Pat Jarvis another, while Reg Darragh, Arnold Thompson, Fred Eland, Bill Dow, Doc Gruer, Ivan Bowdon and Archie Beatty skipped teams to give them competition."

"The boys really worked too," mused Art. "When you have fellows working like the boys here are working, you can't go wrong. And when they are not here, the others like Jack Sheppard, Walter Westover and all the rest of the club show up well."

"The girls get in on the fun too," said Doc Gruer. "Why on our mixed curling night, on every Saturday during the curling season, Iris Laroche and Effie Jarvis make us men really sit up and take notice. Yes sir, these ladies are certainly enthusiastic."

Definitely from meeting this aggressive group I had the feeling that any community would be well advised to start a curling rink. They have a fine building with all the accountremonts to house a Bonspiel or have a comfortable mid week game. The building had modern plumbing, up to date kitchen facilities, and a gallery for the kigitzers. The club gets its outside competition from centers such as Granby, St. John's, Magog, Lacolle, Sherbrooke and Montreal. The big event of the last year was competition in the Edinburgh in Montreal; there, our friends from Sutton saw the cream of the crop and imbibed the misty traditions of one of the ldest games ever played.

The club is holding its first dance on Saturday night. The purpose is two fold. First they want to raise some money to carry on their years program and secondly they want to create more interest in the Brome area for the curling rink.

Their new executive is headed by D. H. Mapes as President and the rest of the slate is composed of: Vice-President, Arnold Thompson, Secretary-Treasurer, Rupert Phelps; Directors, Bill Dow, Ernest Jenne, Wells Larroway, Joe Desliers, Fred Eland, Doc Gruer and Don Stuart.

The boys are ready to sponsor, what they hope will be Sutton's best year in curling; certainly they have an interested and active executive to accomplish that purpose.

Red Forces Have Begun New Attacks

By JOHN RANDOLPH

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept 28—(AP)—Communist forces launched a series of sharp attacks last night at widely-scattered points across 50 miles of the Korean battle front.

Behind the lines, they rolled a mass of men and supplies toward the front along all the major north-south roads across the waist of the Korean peninsula.

They took advantage of a moonless night. But allied planes converged on the main arteries and the United States Fifth Air Force said its pilots destroyed 508 communist vehicles and damaged 613 —a record.

The tempo of communist troop and transport activity sharpened as efforts to revive the stalled truce talks reached a virtual standstill.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, arrived in Tokyo Friday night. The defence department in Washington said he would survey "all aspects of the situation" with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, United Nations' commander.

Communist forces threw their sharpest attacks in the Yonchon and Chorwon sectors near western Korea's iron triangle, and in the east-central area at heartbreak ridge and the punchbowl heights.

The Reds lobbed artillery and mortar shells throughout Thursday night at allied infantrymen dug in just below the crest of heartbreak, a hill mass north of Yanggu.

Other Red troops attacked American and South Korean troops holding a hill west of the ridge. They had captured it only Tuesday. The fight raged on into the morning.

It appeared that the Reds were trying to cut off advance allied units both in the east and west.

Thirty-five American Sabre jets swept MIG alley in northwest Korea for 30 minutes Friday morning but failing to raise communist jets.

Massawippi Ry. Elects Officers

G. H. Baillie was elected president at the annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Massawippi Valley Railway Company, held in the general office, Sherbrooke.

Others of the executive are F. C. S. Evans, K.C., vice-president, C. Niderost, K.C., secretary, G. A. Bracegirdle, treasurer, with George H. Baillie, Mr. Evans, N. R. Crump, C. Hepburn, E. A. Leslie, L. B. Unwin, J. A. Dundas and D. J. Salls, elected as directors.

Resolution was recorded in the minutes of the meeting expressing the sorrow of the Directors at the severe loss the Company has sustained through the death of F. C. Baker and of their heartfelt and abiding sympathy with the members of the family in their bereavement.

Death Claims E. T. Woman At Springfield

Mrs. Barbara Miller, wife of the late Evander L. Miller, formerly of Kingsbury, Que., passed away at the Springfield Hospital, Springfield, Mass., on September 24.

Born in Richmond, Que., July 15, 1865, she was a life-long resident of the Eastern Townships. Mrs. Miller was a former school teacher and was active in church and social work throughout her life. She was also, for several years, a correspondent for the Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Her husband predeceased her eleven years ago and for the past seven years she had been residing with her daughter in Longmeadow, Mass.

She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. Albert Remington; a grandson, J. Tyler Allen; two great grand daughters, Dorinda Irene, and Susan Barbara Allen; a nephew, Grant Kelley, of Brockville, Ont.; three nieces, Mrs. George M. Burns, of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Fred Peck, of Ste. Anne, Quebec, and Mrs. William Fields, of Montreal.

Funeral services were held recently at the Storie Funeral Home, Richmond, Que., and were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wilfong, pastor of the United Church at Kingsbury. Interment was in St. Andrews Cemetery at Melbourne.

The bearers were: Robert Crack, Walter McMorine, Malcolm Watters and Alex Irwin.

Montreal, Sept. 28—(CP)—A 100-man posse will begin searching the woods around Actonvale, 70 miles east of Montreal, Sunday for Joseph Victor Loranger, 37, wanted for questioning in connection with a hammer attack on his wife.

Mrs. Loranger, in hospital here, is not expected to recover. She was found in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor of her Eastern Townships home two weeks ago. After recovering slightly, she lapsed into unconsciousness three days ago.

The posse will be made up of police and volunteer searchers, Quebec provincial police said.

reported revolt in Buenos Aires.

One U.S. official said it was too early to decide if the reported revolt "was staged against or on behalf of" the Peron government. He noted that President Juan D. Peron is to seek re-election next month.

Chicago, Sept. 28 —(AP)— Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, whose influential Buenos Aires daily, La Prensa, was seized by the Peron government, said today "everybody expected" the civil war in Argentina.

"It had been rumored for a long time but no one knew the time or who was going to do it," Gainza Paz said on his arrival in Chicago for the week-end.

Asked by newspaper men whether he believes the revolution would be successful, he said: "I don't know. I haven't been in Argentina since last March."

He added "it seems serious."

Tonight Gainza Paz will be guest of honor at a dinner given by the Chicago Newspaper Publishers Association, the American Newspaper Publishers Association and various other groups in the newspaper field.

servative circles that any complete British retreat from Abadan would bring an attack from Churchill on Attlee's Labor government. The Tory leader would have an issue for the forthcoming election campaign striking the British voter on a sensitive nerve—the prestige of his country abroad.

All signs are that the government will stick to its pledged policy of holding all or part of Abadan. How this pledge would be maintained was not clear today.

Any hint of a change of mind by Attlee is expected to bring a Churchill demand for a full-dress debate in the House of Commons. The House is scheduled to be dissolved next Thursday prior to new elections Oct. 25.

Security within the country is considerably better than two years ago when open warfare was going on. But armed bands still roam the countryside, and Dutch planters take a risk living on their holdings outside the cities.

Law enforcement is lax. Although nearly 90 Netherlands planters and businessmen have been killed no murderers have been tracked down and convinced.

Labor unrest has resulted in lowering of production and increased production costs throughout the islands. A great many Indonesian workers look on hard work as an evil from the colonial past and want no part of it.

Although these conditions have dimmed chances for any major economic improvement, they do not mean the country's future is completely black.

More than 90 per cent of the island's 73,000,000 people dig their living from the rich soil.

GREENSHIELDS' MARKET REVIEW

Industrial and Paper averages moved downwards yesterday in moderate trading. On a mixed list, Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting advanced one point to a new high of 66. The Oil Group was steady with Imperial Oil and Royalite Oil advancing fractionally. The New Subdivided Common Shares of Howard Smith Paper Mills were traded for the first time, closing at 25½.

Within the vast Commonwealth plan to step up raw material output for the defence industries, Canada is reported to have agreed to increase production of iron ore, non ferrous metals and basic chemicals. Power Shortage in The North West is severely curtailing Aluminum output in The United States.

The new $2,000,000 Plastics plant of The St. Regis Paper Company at St. Johns, Quebec, was officially opened on Wednesday.

Net profit of Reitman's Canada Limited for the six months ended July 31st, 1951, amounted to $130,500 or $2.06 per share, as compared with $128,800 or $2.02 per share for the corresponding six months of the preceding fiscal year.

SEED OF CHAMPIONS

ATTENTION

Gentlemen!

WE have the pleasure to let you know that we are now in a position to meet your feed requirements, especially in "DAIRY FEED" and "HOG GROWER", also "HOG FINISHER".

As we have had such a heavy grain crop this year, this will certainly cut down your purchases in the line of feeds.

We thought of making you an offer as follow:

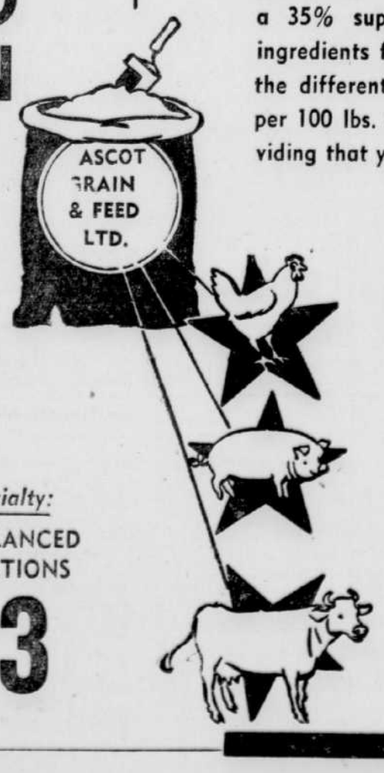

We are manufacturing a well balanced "DAIRY FEED" 16% Protein, 3-3% fat, not over 10% fibre, also 'HOG GROWER" 16% protein and "HOG FINISHER" not less than 13% protein, made with a 35% supplement, containing all the vegetables and mineral ingredients for a rapid growth. To exchange with your own grain at the differential of $1.00 per 100 against our "DAIRY FEED" or $1.25 per 100 lbs. against our "HOG GROWER" and "HOG FINISHER" providing that your grain would be dry enough to keep.

A trial order would probably convince you that such a deal would be to your advantage.

Yours truly,

Navigable Waters Protection Act

R.S.C. 1927, CHAPTER 140

Southern Canada Power Company, Limited, hereby gives notice that it has under Section 7 of the said Act, deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and in the office of the Registry District of the County of Stanstead, at Stanstead, Quebec, descriptions of the sites and the plans of an overhead crossing of the 48 K.V. Transmission Line between Magog and Waterville proposed to be built over the Massawippi River in the Township of Hatley, County of Stanstead, from a point on Lot No. 1006 to a point on the other side of the river on Lot No. 553, both lots of the Cadastre of the said Township.

And take notice that after expiration of one month from date of first publication of this notice, Southern Canada Power Company, Limited, will under Section 7 of the said Act, apply to the Minister of Public Works at his office in the City of Ottawa for approval of the said sites and plans.

Dated at Montreal, this 25th day of September, 1951.

SOUTHERN CANADA POWER COMPANY, LIMITED.
V. J. NIXON, Secretary.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that the Corporation of the Town of Asbestos will apply at the next session of the Quebec Legislature for some additional rights not provided for in The Cities and Towns Act, to wit: become the City of Asbestos; establish a pecuniary indemnity for the Mayor and aldermen; determine certain nuisances; take out in favor of its employees, health and hospitalization insurance; establish a working fund in the amount of $50,000.00; determine the right to impose and collect taxes in conformity with articles 527 of The Cities and Towns Act; authorize expenditures in the amount of $5,000.00 for publicity purposes and $5,000.00 for adornment purposes and bind the council to adopt a budget every year.

Japanese Strive To Regain Place In Marine World

By H. E. PRINGSHEIM

Tokyo. — Japan lost nearly 9,000,000 tons of shipping in the war and now works hard to win back something like her former place on the world's sea lanes.

Anticipating the peace treaty, the American-directed occupation loosened former controls on Japanese ship operation. The "Maru" ships are operating their first major post-war scheduled services to North America, Siam, Pakistan and India.

Permission to resume regular berth services came on June 12 of this year. Occupation authorities, announcing approval of Japan's reentry into this service, said the step was prompted by the recent performance of the Japanese shipping industry and by Japanese government measures which ensured "fair practices" and prohibition of "false billing, weighing, tallying, and invoicing of cargo to obtain a lower freight rate." The goal is for the country's fleet eventually to carry up to 50 per cent of her export and import trade in his own vessels.

Before the war, Japan carried up to 60 per cent of her foreign trade. Now her shipping experts estimate that Japanese vessels carry 40 per cent of the country's foreign trade at best.

Mobilization of maximum tonnage would include the completion of the post-war ship construction program; remodelling of wartime standard ships; salvaging of sunken vessels; purchase of second-hand ships from abroad, and chartering of foreign vessels.

At the end of March, 1951, Japan had little more than 1,500,000 gross tons, including both coastal and seagoing vessels. This was considered enough to carry little more than 22.5 per cent of Japan's 1951 foreign trade volume estimated at 22.6 million metric tons.

At present, Japan is authorized for these monthly sailings on these international shipping routes: four to North America, one to South America, four to Okinawa, two to India and Pakistan, and three to Bangkok (Siam). In addition, the Japanese have applied for permission to open regular shipping lines to the Phillippines, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Formosa, Korea, the Marianas, the Bonins and Australia.

Four Japanese lines participate in the reopened North American run, each with one monthly sailing.

Women's Report Shows Teamwork

Montreal. — Emergence of a new concept in education, relating school studies to the child's everyday life, was noted in a report to the National Council of Women.

The report was prepared by Mrs. L. G. Ferguson of Westville, N.S., chairman of the council's education committee.

It told of a new course in the British Columbia school curriculum, aimed at imparting to the pupil an understanding of himself, his needs and behavior, combined with the ability to act intelligently, to understand others and live harmoniously in the family and community.

Mrs. Ferguson said the most important factor in education is the teacher. In this connection, aptitude tests for students entering normal colleges in Saskatchewan resulted in 65 students being dropped from teacher training last year.

Mrs. Ferguson suggested that local chairmen of education take steps to have such tests given in their provinces, where they are not already in effect.

The report said still too many top-ranking teachers are being lured away by better salaries in other fields. Council members were urged to support efforts of teacher groups to obtain higher salary levels.

Reports from local committees agreed that the principle of equal pay for men and women teachers doing the same work is becoming more general in primary grades, but noted a difference of $100 to $300 continues in secondary grades.

As pensions are based on salaries, there is still some discrimination, Mrs. Ferguson said, but women teachers retire on full pension at the age of 60 while the retiring age for men is 65.

New Home and School associations are being formed steadily the report said, and many council committees are assisting in educating the deaf, the blind and other handicapped persons.

Among matters touched upon by Mrs. Ferguson were the teaching of safety rules to children, alcohol education and an investigation into the authorship of school texts. Information from each province showed that "a very large percentage" of text-books used in Canada are of Canadian authorship and are published in Canada.

He will leave the middle of October for a naval base in Naden, B.C.

Mr. Edward Simoneau, of Sherbrooke, spent the week-end at his parental home in West Park.

New Women's Club Formed At Milby

Milby, Sept. 28. — The organization meeting of The Friendly Evening Club of Milby was held at the home of Mrs. George Marshall. The purpose of the Club being to provide a monthly social evening for the women of the community and thus become better acquainted.

A considerable discussion as to the policy of the Club took place and it was decided to have only two officers. Dora Allcorn and Edna Marshall being the elected officers.

After much discussion, several broad policies were adopted and from these policies it was decided to adopt as the Club's slogan "Friendship, Companionship and Informality."

It was agreed that every possible effort should be made to commence all meetings promptly at the time set and to have them as informal as good taste would permit. To this end it was decided that one of the rules of the Club be: that each member should address fellow members by their Christian names and a fine be imposed for each break of this rule; much amusement resulted from this rule even at the first meeting.

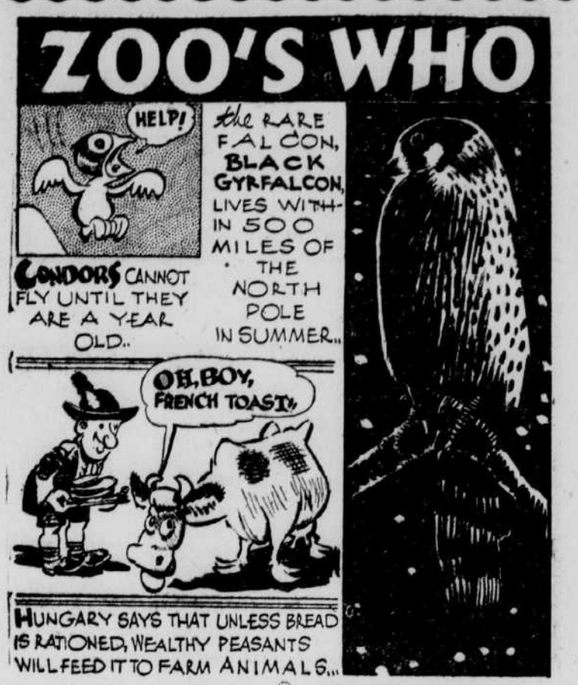

No set program was laid out at this meeting. It was left to each hostess to arrange her own meeting with the help of members of her own choosing and it was enthusiastically decided that not more than two types of food be served for refreshments and for failure to adhere to this rule a fine of $50.00 was to be imposed.

During the evening a sing-song was held which met with much success and it is hoped will be repeated at each successive meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess, consisting of sandwiches and cake in keeping witht he rules of the Club.

The present plans call for a monthly meeting and as opportunities present themselves various efforts of a community nature will be undertaken. A membership fee was decided on and to date the membership is made up as follows:

Luncheon Held At Sawyerville By Q. C. C. P.

Sawyerville, Sept. 28. — The Quebec Council for Community Programs held its annual meeting in Sawyerville.

Nearly thirty representatives from Stanstead, Cowansville, Ormstown, Knowlton, Lennoxville and Macdonald college attended, in addition to representatives from Sawyerville. The organizations represented included, Community Schools, Farm Radio Forums, Women's Institutes, and the Bookmobile Service; the latter being a travelling library service operated from Macdonald College. Reports of adult educational activities in various communities were presented, and plans for further activities this year were outlined.

At a luncheon served by the Sawyerville Women's Institute, Dr. Ernest Stabler, of Sir George Williams College, Montreal, was the speaker. He stressed the view that in adult programs, in contrast to the more or less rigid programs which are necessary in schools, it is necessary to begin with the needs of the adult mind and emotions. In any planning of programs for adults, therefore, the needs of the people of the community must be considered.

The Council decided that it would be profitable to hold another meeting later this year, in order to give more careful consideration to several aspects of community programs.

St. Mary's Guild Meeting Held At East Angus

East Angus, Sept. 28. — The St. Mary's Guild met with Mrs. James Stickles on Sept. 11, with eight members present. Rev. Mr. Robins opened the meeting with prayer.

It was decided to send a gift to Miss Muriel Stickles, who has been confined to bed for three months.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting to be held with Mrs. Leslie Morgan on Oct. 9.

W. I. MEETING

The September meeting of the Women's Institute was at the home of Mrs. Irving Willard in Bishopton on Wednesday evening, Sept. 19.

The president, Mrs. Claude Cooper, was in the chair and opened the meeting with the Club Women's Creed, read in unison.

Twenty-six members answered the roll call. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

The correspondence included two thank you cards and a letter from Mrs. George Holiday, secretary of the Bursary Committee of Compton County W. I., containing the rules and requirements for the Bursary. An invitation was read to attend a Community School meeting in Sawyerville.

It was moved that the Sherbrooke Raily Record be renewed for Miss Susan Cummings for a period of three months.

Miss Elizabeth McLellan was appointed as delegate to the semi-annual meeting to be held in Bury.

The members of the W. I. were pleased to hear that the Compton County Women's Institute Scholarship of $100 was won by Douglas Hall of East Angus.

A very interesting report of the convention held at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, was read by Mrs. Robert Knapp.

Mrs. Jack Westgate also gave an account of the short course on rug making which she attended for two days.

Plans were made to hold a paper drive in the near future.

Miss Elizabeth McLellan, in a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. Irving Willard with a wedding gift from the Women's Institute with best wishes for the future.

Mrs. Willard thanked the members for the lovely gift received.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Refreshments were then served by the hostesses Mrs. Weyland, Mrs. R. Andrews and Mrs. Willard. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Irving.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

MARRIAGES

GIBSON — UNRUH

Dunham, Que., Sept. 28.—Rev. G. W. Orth officiated at the marriage of Mabel Katherine Amelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Unruh, of R.R. 4, Elmwood, Ont., and Mr. Edwin Arthur Gibson, of Dunham, Que., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gibson, which took place at Walkerton, Ont., at the Parsonage, on Saturday, September 1.

The bride was attired for her wedding in a wine color gabardine suit with matching hat and she wore a corsage of yellow and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schreinert, the latter a sister of the bride, attended the couple, Mrs. Schreinert wearing a green crepe costume and a pink rose corsage.

GREY — ELLIS

Drummondville, Que., Sept. 28.—The wedding took place in Trinity United Church, on Saturday, September 22, at three o'clock, of Joan Ann Ellis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellis, Golf Road, to Mr. William Grey, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grey, of Waterville, Que., the Rev. W. K. Pace officiating. Mr. Gault Parker played the wedding music, and Mrs. Skea, of Montreal, sang "I Love You Truly," before the ceremony, and "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register. The church was decorated with gladioli in autumn shades with greenery.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a floor-length gown of white tulle with lace flower. She wore an elbow-length veil caught with orange blossoms, long gloves, and a strand of pearls, the gift from the groom. She carried a corsage of Sweetheart roses.

Miss Patsy Keim, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of mauve taffeta, having a fitted bodice with tulle over full skirt, a matching Juliet cap and gloves, and she carried a nosegay of Sweetheart roses.

Mr. David Grey, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Clare Ellis, brother of the bride, and Mr. Larry Bennett.

Mrs. Ellis, mother of the bride, was wearing a gown of cocoa brown tulle over taffeta with green accessories, with a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Grey, mother of the groom, was in a gown of dark orchid with grey accessories and corsage.

The reception was held at Taft Reception Hall, Lindsay Street.

Early in the evening the newlyweds left by car for a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Hamilton, Ont. Upon their return they will take up residence in St. Johns, Que.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grey, Mr. John Grey, Waterville; Mr. David Grey, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. John George and family, North Hatley; Mr. and Mrs. William Skea, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkie, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Locke Ellis, St. Andrews, Que.

Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Grey was the guest of honor at showers and the recipient of many lovely gifts.

HUNTER — DAVID

Cowansville, Que., Sept. 27.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Trinity Anglican Church, at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 15, when Marion Elizabeth, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. David, of Cowansville, became the bride of James Allan Hunter, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason D. Hunter, of Farnham, Que. The rector, the Rev. J. O. Peacock, officiated at the ceremony. Mr. C. Weddell presided at the organ, playing the wedding music. During the signing of the register Miss Mary Weddell sang "Panis Angelica." The altar and church were beautifully decorated by the Altar Guild, with gladioli and colored flowers, and the guest pews were marked with marigolds, tied with white ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a dress of blush satin, full skirted with train, fitted bodice, long sleeves terminating in points over the hands, and short white mitts. Her headdress was a coronet fashioned of rayon net and lilies-of-the-valley, which held her long veil of embroidered net. She wore a rhinestone necklace, the gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence David, as bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length gown of mauve taffeta, having a fitted bodice, long sleeves forming points over the hands, a mauve net shoulder-length veil, and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Little Miss Lorraine Patterson, niece of the bride, was her flower-girl and she wore a long frock of pale blue taffeta and carried a basket of pink and mauve carnations.

Mrs. David, mother of the bride, was attired in a dress of grey crepe with black accessories and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Hunter, mother of the groom, wore a dress of blue crepe, black accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Douglas Hunter, of Smiths Falls, Ont., acted as best man for his brother.

The ushers were Mr. Edward David, of Oshawa, Ont., and Mr. Frank David, of St. Johns, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for over fifty guests. The bride's table was centered with the three-tier wedding cake, and white candles in silver holders, while pink and white streamers, white bells and cut flowers formed the decorations.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left by motor for Vancouver B.C., the bride travelling in a suit of turquoise wool, grey accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will reside in Montreal.

Out-of-town guests were from Oshawa, Kingston, Smiths Falls, Ont., Montreal, Farnham, Brigham, Cowansville and Sweetsburg.

B. & P. Women Will Meet Here Over Week-End

The Sherbrooke branch of the Provincial Conference of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be host to their sisters from other parts of the Province when they gather here for a convention, Saturday and Sunday.

A busy program has been arranged for the visitors who are urged to "see the beautiful Eastern Townships."

At two o'clock Saturday afternoon, registration will be held at the MacKinnon Memorial Hall of the Y.W.C.A., 40 Montreal street, and one half hour later a meeting will be held there, with the discussion to be "equal pay for equal work."

In the evening, at 6.30 o'clock, a dinner meeting will be held in the Mayfair Room of the New Sherbrooke Hotel, where the guest speaker will be Mrs. Allie Ahern, of Halifax, N.S., president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Dress will be informal and members may bring guests.

Sunday morning will be left free for church or sightseeing and lunch will be held at Armitage's, on the Montreal Road, at one o'clock.

Another meeting is scheduled for the MacKinnon Memorial at 2.30 o'clock when short reports will be presented by the presidents of the Quebec clubs, or their delegates. An invitation to the national convention in Vancouver, July 1952, will be extended here.

The provincial convention will conclude at five o'clock Sunday afternoon with tea at the MacKinnon Memorial, as guests of the Sherbrooke club.

More Accidents Reported Near Drummondville

Drummondville, Sept. 28. — An automobile mishap which might have ended in tragedy, occurred when Gerard Potvin, a resident of Drummondville-West, lost control of his car Sunday morning and careened into two houses at St. Cyrille causing extensive damage to the home of Nestor Therrien and the home of J. H. Gosselin. Fortunately no pedestrian was in the way when the car got out of control and Mr. Potvin, although badly shaken up, was uninjured. Officer Paul Martel of the Provincial Police, investigated.

Two citizens of St. Guillaume, Mr. and Mrs. Renald Theroux, were seriously injured Saturday evening when their horse and buggy was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Wilfrid Niquet, of St. David. The accident took place between the village of St. Guillaume and the Yamaska-Drummondville highway. Both victims were immediately rushed to the St. Croix Hospital for medical care. Both suffered severe leg fractures. Officer Paul Martel of the Provincial Police, made out the report.

Following several complaints that Jehovah Witnesses were distributing circulars under the doors of citizens of St. Joseph, a young girl, Miss Olux Lundell, of Victoriaville, was apprehended late Friday evening by members of the local police force. Brought before Recorder Paul Rousseau in Drummondville and charged with distributing circulars without a permit, she pleaded not guilty and her case was adjourned. Bail for her release was set at $25.

Owing to the absence of several members of the City Council, no meeting was held last Monday evening. However as previously suggested and submitted by His Worship Mayor Antoine Biron, K.C., a reception committee has been named for the brief stop-over here of Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh scheduled (before the King's operation) for October 29th. Members of the Committee are as follows: Messrs. C. Hargreaves, vice-president and general manager Canadian Celanese, representing manufacturers; Major J. E. Vessot, Commanding Officer of the 46th Anti-Tank Regiment (Reserve Force); Mr. Fred West, president of the Canadian Legion; and Mr. Jules Marceau, manager of Southern Canada Power Company.

Mayor Biron is chief official of the welcoming committee, which will consist of no more than twenty dignitaries who will be personally presented to the Royal visitors. The Council had also approved the plans drawn up by City Architect Paul Labranche for the special platform to be erected alongside the C.N.R. Station for the distinguished guests. With Textile materials for the decoration will be supplied by the Canadian Celanese Ltd.

Mayor Biron also announced that officials of the Canadian National Railway have stated that all parking space adjoining the Station and Express Offices will be paved and an up to date Station erected, with construction to begin at an early date. This is a much needed requirement now in the city of Drummondville with its continued rapid expansion and growth.

The Quarter Century Club of the Butterfly Hosiery Co. Ltd., held their annual meeting in the plant Assembly Room. The meeting was under the joint chairmanship of Mr. Walter E. Brotzman, the outgoing president, along with the newly elected president, Mr. Emile Goudreau. In his brief speech the outgoing president welcomed the five new members and gave an outline of the club's activities during the past year.

Mr. Russell Weaver, president of the company, then addressed the meeting, stating that "we have with us five new members this year—Mr. Henri Bergeron, who entered our employ April 26th, 1926, Mr. Onil Leclair, who started June 15th, 1926, Mr. Albert Rousseau, who started September 7th, 1926, Miss Jeanne Goudreau, who started Sept. 21st., 1926, and Mde. Helene C. Pellerin, who started October 11th 1926. With no members of our Club leaving the company's employ during the past year, this brings our membership up to 25, which is y opinion is truly a great achievement for a Company such as ours.

"In the span of mortal life, 25 years is a long time, during which time many changes may take place, be they better or worse. Today many features of the National and International scene appear topsy-turvy. However people of goodwill should not give up to despair over this outlook, the aggravated sore spots will gradually be worked out satisfactorily.

Problems, when they become sufficiently acute, have a way of tending to solve themselves. It is not true then, sooner or later a person, if wise, will discover that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat. One must give and take; all must learn that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive person and that they should learn to let some things go unnoticed as water off-a-ducks back, and also learn that he who cannot control his temper usually loses out in the long run. Carrying a chip on one's shoulder is the easiest and surest way of courting trouble.

"Canadians have as much freedom in choosing their kind of work and place of work as any other people in other countries, and in most respects a far greater advantage than a whole lot of others. Those who start in the most humble and obscure circumstances can, if they have what it takes reach a high level of comfort and success.

"Persons who accepted work with up 25 or more years ago and stuck to their jobs are people whom the Company are proud to have in their employ. They are people who are not swayed by temporary conditions and unrest. Being contented in mind and spirit, they turn out good work in the performance of their duties, and live in complete harmony and close co-operation with their fellow workers. For loyalty and co-operation are things that cannot be bought by any labour agreement, they must be given freely. These two things which cost so little in their immediate goal, however, are considered the most highly and most valuable by the Company management."

A large majority of the Drummondville property owners, who voted last Friday and Saturday, approved the $160,000 borrowing as submitted by the city Council.

Of the 325, preperty owners who cast their vote, 309, with a total taxable property value of $7,540,850 approved the borrowing plan. Sixteen, with a total property valuation of $111,500, voted against.

Mayor Biron and his aldermen expressed their complete satisfaction at the final results.

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 23, a special "Manse Recognition" Service took place at The Trinity United Church on Lindsay Street. The resident minister, Rev. W. K. Pace, B.A., opened the services with prayer and an expression of feverent hope that the King will make a complete and speedy recovery from his illness.

At the service, Rev. Roy P. Stafford of Sangster Memorial Church in Sherbrooke assisted and the sermon was preached by Rev. Norman D. McLeod, of Lennoxville United Church. The report of the building committee and the presentation of keys to the minister were made by H. W. Telling.

Following the service the congregation and friends were invited to an "at home" at the Manse.

Here's real news for owners of most late-model cars (1948-51.)

It's Goodyear's NEW Marathon Super-Cushion . . . a brand new tire at a new low price!

With the introduction of this new tire, Goodyear for the first time makes available its famous Super Cushion in two price ranges—the DeLuxe at $36.00 and the NEW MARATHON at only $28.80, less a liberal trade-in allowance on your present tires given by most Goodyear Dealers.

A full-quality tire, constructed on the Goodyear Super-Cushion principle, the new Marathon cuts down wear and tear on your car by absorbing road shock and vibration. Safer too, because its wider tread area gives you better traction. And of course this new low-pressure tire is covered by the famous Goodyear written guarantee, good for the life of the tire.

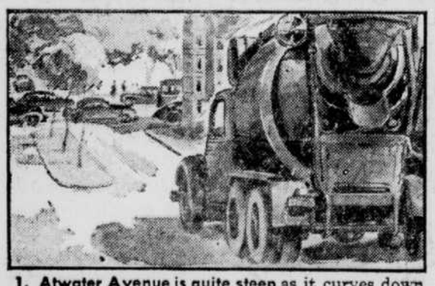

From any standpoint—mileage, service, traction or price—the new Marathon Super-Cushion is the buy for you!

COURAGEOUS DRIVER CRASHES TRUCK TO PREVENT TRAGEDY

Armand Fontaine, 43, of Montreal, Que., risks own life when brakes fail on 15-ton cement mixer truck

1. Atwater Avenue is quite steep as it curves down towards busy Sherbrooke Street in Montreal. At the wheel of his 10-wheel, cement mixer truck, Armand Fontaine was chatting with his helper, Victor Leblanc, when suddenly he realized that the brakes weren't holding. It was around 5 o'clock and Sherbrooke Street was jammed with lines of traffic. The runaway truck gained speed!

2. The horrifying thought of what would happen to the mass of cars and pedestrians raced through Fontaine's mind. With only seconds to make a decision, he swung the wheel to the left and smashed his lurching vehicle over the mall in the centre of Atwater. The 15-ton truck tore across the opposite traffic lane, over the sidewalk . . . plowed into a 45-degree embankment and then fell over on its side!

3. Although Leblanc required first aid, Fontaine crawled out unhurt. As police said, "he deserved to", for his courageous and cool, quick thinking had undoubtedly saved the lives of scores of people. We are indeed proud to pay tribute to heroic Armand Fontaine, of 6541 Marquette St., Montreal, through the presentation of The Dow Award.

District Governor Visits Boundary Rotary Club

Derby Line, Sept. 28 — "We must work to preserve the freedom we now have," said District Governor Theodore O. Davis, of Windsor, Vt., at the regular Monday evening meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, when he made his official visit.

"Rotary can play a great part in keeping our freedom and in extending it throughout the rest of the world, through the four divisions of the object of Rotary. In club service members have the opportunity of gaining in fellowship and in working together on club projects. In community service for the betterment of your own towns, you see Rotary in action.

"With vocational service you have the chance to put the ideal of Rotary, 'Service above self,' into practice. High ideals and high ethics in your business and profession is a part of your membership in Rotary.

"Rotary clubs in 83 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. Over a six year period Rotary International is spending $1,500,000, principally to create better understanding among the peoples of different nations.

"One of the ways in which this money is spent is on Rotary Foundation Fellowships, which enable outstanding graduate students to study for one year, in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of goodwill. Since this program was established in 1947, 284 Fellowships have been awarded to students in 42 countries, with grants totalling more that $700,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provided a common ground for 350,000 business and professional men throughout the world, regardless of nationality or political or religious belief," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

In speaking to the club, Governor Davis congratulated them for the club singing as being an important part of each meeting, saying that their song leader, C. R. MacLean, was outstanding.

He congratulated the club of its United Nations project of supplying material to the various local High Schools and sponsoring an essay contest for the students. This project was known throughout the district, and was the reason the originator, past president Earl Heath, had been appointed to the District International Service Committee. "I wish I could take Earl with me on my trip around 62 clubs to explain this phase of Rotary," said Mr. Davis, "but he is already doing a fine job himself."

The District Governor congratulated the club on the success of its fair, the camp at Lake Salem, the Rotary Children's Room at the Haskell Library, and on the other work the club was doing.

Visiting Rotarians present at the meeting were Jay Carr, of Newport, Vt.; and Jim Bussfield, of Montreal, who has charge of the Easter Seal campaign for Crippled Children. It was announced that the club would again sponsor this campaign locally, with past president Maurice Moore, in charge.

Luther Smith, of Montreal, was present at the meeting as a guest of E. J. Struthers, and music for singing was played by Miss Aline Ricard.

President David Goodell presided at the meeting, and the District Governor was thanked for his inspiring talk by immediate past president C. R. Darby.

Results of the Seventh Annual Rotary Fair were not announced at the meeting, due to the fact that the figures are not yet complete. The meeting next Monday evening will be devoted to thanking the volunteer workers at the Fair, and it is hoped that all of them will be present.

Following the meeting, members of the various club committees met with District Governor Davis, and talked over plans for the cominy year.

Three E. T. Farmers Get Gold Medal Rating In Agricultural Merit Test

Three Eastern Townships farmers received gold medal rating in the provincial government's agricultural merit competition this year.

This is a competition, conducted by the agriculture department, to determine degrees of improvement in farms over five year periods.

At the end of the first five-year period a bronze medal is awarded; the second five-year period qualifies the farmer for a silver medal; subsequent five-year inspections place the farmer in the gold medal class.

Top gold medallist in region 2, in which the Townships are included, was Ernest Bourgeois of St. Ours, Richelieu County, with a total of 930.5 of a possible 1,000 points.

George W. Johann of Coaticook placed second with 905.5 points and led all Townships farmers. This was the second gold medal award for Mr. Johann, who previously had ranked fifth.

Leon Gertin of Granby, RR6, was third with 901 points and the third E.T. gold medallist was George Drouin of Waterville who placed eighth with 880.5 points.

Tops in the silver medal class was P. A. Ares of St. Cesaire, with 894.5 points.

Townships farmers in this class, and their rankings were: 9 G. I. Larocque, Stanbridge East, 880.5; 10 Leo Duquette, Fulford, 878.5; 14 Claude Tremblay, Coaticook, 874; 15 Earle Spafford, Knowlton, 873.05; 17 Eugene Bibeau, St. Eugene de Grantham, 872.5; 20 Armand Potvin, Farnham, 867; 21 Hugh Dolan Monaghan, Clarenceville, 866.8; 22 Ernest Lague, Farnham, 866.6; 24 Wilbrod Lareau, St. Ignace de Stanbridge, 866.2; 28 Maurice Halle, Sweetsburg, 864.5; 33 Wellie Couture, Bromptonville, 861; 39 Josephat Desranleau, Clarenceville, 854.5.

Miss Ellen Speyer of Massawippi led the bronze medal class with 849.5 points and was followed by Claude Duguay of Dunham with 848 points and Ed. M. Detchon of Massawippi with 836 points in second and third places respectively.

Other E.T. placings were:

15 Ulderic Grise, Drummondville, 836; 21 Ernest Carbonneau, Coaticook, 833.8; 23 Raoul Depault, Windsor Mills, 831.5; 25 Eugene Bibeau, St. Eugene de Grantham, 826; 26 Wilbrod Lavigne, Coaticook, 825.5; 27 Simeon Mercier, Dunham, 825; 30 C. Livestock Trading Was Active

Montreal, Sept. 28. —(CP)— Trading was comparatively active on the Montreal livestock markets this week and prices mainly stronger.

Offerings were 2,192 cattle, 1,724 calves, 2,110 sheep and lambs and 1,942 hogs.

Cattle prices at the opening of the week were considered 50 cents stronger on steers and firm on other grades; at the close, cows sold $1 lower. Choice heavy steers made 33-33.50, just good 31.50-32.50, medium 27-31 and common 22-27. Good heifers made 30, medium 26-29.50 and common 19-25, good cows brought 26-27.50, medium 23-25, common 21-23, canners and cutters 15-20. Good bulls were 26-28, common and medium 21-25.50.

Vealer calves were firm, while grassers were stronger. Good and choice vealers made 36-38, common and medium 30-35. Grassers ranged from 21-25.50 according to quality.

Lambs were $1 higher, bringing 32-32.50. Sheep were 10-20.

Hogs were also $1 higher. Grade "A" brought 30.50-30.75, while sows made 23-24 dressed.

Feed Producers Will Hear Talk By J. A. St. Marie

J. A. Ste. Marie, superintendant of the Lennoxville Experimental Station, will be guest speaker at lunch when the Canadian Feed Manufacturers' Association (Eastern Division) hold their meeting at the Social Club, October 4.

The business meeting will take place at 10.30 o'clock in the morning with luncheon at 12 noon. At 1.30 o'clock, the members will leave for the beef cattle sale at the Exhibition Grounds.

Among the invited guests are Mayor C. B. Howard and Dr. L. A. Gendreau. Alphonse Genest is organizer of the program.

Canada Leads Many Nations In Resources

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—(CP)—The average Canadian is buying less butter than a year ago.

The Bureau of Statistics estimated that during the first seven month of 1951, domestic consumption on a per capital basis declined in July to 1.93 pounds from 2.13 pounds in July last year.

In the first seven months, consumption declined to 173,500,000 from 177,750,000, lowering the per capita rate to 12.37 pounds from 12.85.

Publish Dictionary Of Nursery Rhymes

Alton, Hampshire, England. — Seven-year-old James Opie and his four-year-old brother, Bobby, are notable authorities on the latest in Oxford "dictionaries."

For James and Bobby helped collect the 550 rhymes that make up a new volume called "The Oxford Dictionary of Nursery Rhymes." And they can recite more rhymes dating back hundreds of years and traceable to many countries.

It seems that Humpty Dumpty is international. In France he's called "Boule Boule," in Denmark "Lille-Trille," in Finland "Hillerin Lillerin" and the Germans call him "Humpelken-Pumpelken."

The book was started more or less by accident. When Mrs. Opie was expecting her first child she found a curious dearth of nursery rhymes. So she set about making a collection. Soon husband Peter gave up his printing job to join the research.

Now their book is on the market. It is dedicated to: "Masters James and Bobby Opie, who dutifully submitted to early training as collectors."

Mother Of Three Is School Doctor

Calgary. — A doctor husband, a home and three pre-school-age sons are not enough to keep Agnes O'Neil busy.

A doctor herself, she went back to work this fall as a school health officer for the city of Calgary, working three mornings a week keeping other people's children healthy.

Dr. O'Neil leaves her three sons with their grandfather and a competent helper and visits schools checking students' health. Most of her work is in routine physical examinations.

Dr. O'Neil is well-versed in child care. Before coming to Calgary two years ago she spent a year in the Vancouver metropolitan health unit and visited schools and baby clinics as part of her job.

It was while interning at Vancouver General Hospital that she met her husband.

She spent a year and a half in general practice in Vancouver before taking the health unit position. During that time two sons were born. The third was born in Calgary four months ago.

Dr. O'Neill was born in Owen Sound, Ont., and was educated at the University of Toronto.

The tall, slim brunette is also a director of the Y.M.C.A. and teaches a Sunday School class.

Geese Pay Dividends For B.C. Orchardist

Okanagan Falls, B.C. — Geese are laying "golden eggs" for one fruit farmer near here.

Charles Oliver, who has a 150-acre stone fruit farm near here tried 200 head of geese this year as controllers of orchard weeds and grass, and as revenue getters.

So far the experiment has been successful. Maurice King, ranch manager for Oliver, says the geese have been so successful that next year they plan to get 2,000 head and another 2,000 the following year.

The geese have a habit of camping at the edge of a pear orchard at night, King says, the three rows of trees effected looks like a different variety, with greener, larger and thicker foliage than their neighbors.

The fruit also "sized" much better, he said.

"This pear patch is what really sold Mr. Oliver," King said recently. "It showed in a short time the kind of results we might expect over the whole property on a long-term basis."

He said there would be no trouble in selling the geese. Goslings eight to 12-weeks old are as much a delicacy as roast duckling.

The standard of living in Canada has gone up by 50% over the past ten years; in the U.S. the increase has been less than one-third.

New Coyote Killer Proves Successful

Edmonton. — Alberta's coyotes are in for a rough winter. Scattered tests of new cyanide "coyote getter" guns claimed the lives of 60 of the "pesky varmints."

William A. Lobay, provincial crop pest control chief said that Peter Chubb, an area control officer in the municipal district of Ponoka, 60 miles south of Edmonton, produced the best score in the early tests.

Mr. Chubb set out 30 "coyote getters"—and scored 23 dead coyotes.

"The beauty of the coyote getters is that they kill the coyotes in the farming area where the predatory animals do the damage to flocks and herds," said Mr. Lobay. "Formerly, most of our coyotes were killed in unsettled areas where they were doing comparatively little harm."

The Alberta minister of agriculture has received applications from 19 municipal district that wish to organize under the anti-coyote campaign.

J-M's VICE-PRESIDENT FOR RELATIONSHIPS "KNOWS EVERYBODY"

Both because he has been with the company many years and because his job now calls for getting around and talking with J-M people all across this country and Canada, J-M's vice-president for relationships probably knows and is known by more J-M people than anyone else in the company.

It is his job to promote understanding between the company and employees and to give advice and assistance on this subject to the people in all departments of the company.

He is L. C. Hart, who started off in 1914 — 37 years ago — as a sales engineer.

"Larry" Hart forged ahead for many years in the sales organization, becoming general sales manager of the Building Products Division.

In 1947 he was appointed vice-president for relationships, a new position created in recognition of the high importance of the relationships between the company and the men and women who make it up.

Thus he is a specialist both in sales problems and management and in the field of human relations which grows increasingly important as our society becomes more and more complex.

Condensation keeps dripping into Mr. Fix's problem department no matter what the season.

For instance, there's one reader who has a two-room apartment on the third floor made-over attic of a brick house. The walls sweat so badly that every winter they get moldy, and she wants to know why.

Moisture in the attic (assuming the roof doesn't leak) is usually a combination of lack of ventilation and lack of insulation. The warm air rises from downstairs, tangles with the cold roof boards, and condensation results. The effect is a lot worse if the house is insulated beneath the attic floor.

Of course, if you're living in the attic, ventilation isn't going to be the answer. Probably when it was remodeled in this case, no insulation was used. Insulation, forced between the inner and outer walls and between the rafters, will end the sweating.

Another householder gets cold feet in her kitchen every winter because there's no cellar underneath it. She wants to know how to insulate the crawl space below the kitchen now while the fall fix-it urge—and weather—make it possible.

Step number one is to tack batten-type insulating material in the spaces between the floor beams—from underneath, of course. Since you'll have to lie on your back for this job, use the kind of stapling gun that opens up for hammering instead of the usual hammer and nails.

Now level off the ground in the crawl space to provide good drainage, and cover it with rolled roofing paper overlapped five inches at each joint. That will keep ground moisture from rising.

And there's another reader who has trouble with condensation beneath the flush bowl in an upstairs bathroom on days of high humidity, which causes a wet spot on the dining room ceiling. A plumber checked the pipes and found no leaks, so he packed the space beneath the toilet with sawdust. It didn't do any good.

That sounds like a simple problem of warm, humid aid condensing when it hits the outside of the flush tank after it's just been filled with cold water. We've had this happen in summer cottages where the water was exceptionally cold. The sweat drips off the side of the tank onto floor, and makes quite a pool after a while.

You can solve this by going to your hardware store or mail order house and getting a moisture trap, which clamps underneath the tank and drains into the bowl. In this case, the spot on the ceiling also suggests it might be a good idea to waterproof the bathroom floor—or, if it's already tile or linoleum, to caulk the joints around the edge of the flush bowl so water can't seep through.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—Is there any way to mend or improve the looks of chipped white enamel?—Mrs. A. M. R.

A—You can fill in the chipped spots with the same sort of compound auto repairmen use to fill in deep scratches before they repaint a car. After it's dry, use a good white enamel, building up layer by layer to the level of the original porcelain enamel finish. A spray is the best method. Unfortunately it will turn yellowish in time, and you'll have to sand and spray again.

SYRACUSE DOWNS SAINTS 3-1 IN HEAVY CHECKING FIXTURE

Locals Leave For Ten-Day Trip To Lake St. John District; Two More Players To Report To Squad

Syracuse Indians of the American Hockey League chalked up a 3-1 verdict over the Sherbrooke Saints last night at the local Arena in a wide-open, heavy checking fixture.

The game, which was the third for the locals, gives them two losses to a win in their exhibition fixtures. Tomorrow the club will leave for a ten day trip up North playing a series of games with teams in the Lake St. John League as well as Providence Sunday afternoon in Grand'Mere.

PLANCHE AND LABRIE SIGN

Jimmy Planche, who was the top goal getter on last year's team, and Guy Labrie, one of the pillars of the rearguard, both reached terms with Business Manager Keene yesterday afternoon and signed their contracts for the coming season.

Manager Keene expects to hear from Tom MacDougall this week and the other player from Frank Selke should join the club within the next few days.

The Saints had three new players in their lineup, Joe Lepine, Alex Barilko and Nils Tremblay. Sandy Sandalack, Pete Wright, and Gerry McCabe were on the sidelines with minor injuries. Coach Dugre had Lepine and Labrie working as a unit with Milne and Barilko forming as the other unit.

The game was a heavy checking affair with both clubs laying right into each other with the defenses distributing the major part of the body checks. Syracuse presented a well conditioned club and had a smooth passing attack backed by a solid defense and a good goalie.

Coach Dugre had four lines in operation with a new unit formed of Nils Tremblay, the crafty pivotman acquired from the Ottawa Senators, working betwen the two young members of the club, Rene Pepin and Lloyd Ferguson. This trio turned in a good performance and after more work should fit into a smooth outfit. It was the only new line formed but it lacked drive as it was only the third time Tremblay has been on skates.

The other three lines remained the same but although the tilt was faster than Tuesday's tiff the locals couldn't seem to get the rubber by Bell more than once. The type of play the Indians exhibited had the locals baffled.

In the opening frame neither team managed to tally as both sides were playing it close. In the middle session Casanato put the Indians out in front just after the three-quarter mark when he rifled a shot by Bessette from a scramble in front of the nets.

Kel Burnett worked out in the pivot position on the first string and turned in a very good job. His mates were put in time after time but the local net minder turned them back.

The Saints seemed off their shooting compared to the Indians, who made the best of every opportunity once they got in close and Roger Bessette was forced to extend himself to keep the score down. The Indians have been practising for over two weeks and it definitely showed as time after time they skated away from the locals.

In the final frame the Saints put up their best performance but failed to tally more than one goal. Bob Pepin, Ken Biggs and Jimmy Planche were right in but Bell kicked their drives aside. Hayden and Burnett teamed up to give Bessette a few busy momenis but they also failed to make the red light flash.

Sandy Milne was given a tripping penalty when he pulled Burnett down on a breakaway and this proved costly to the Saints. The Indians' pilot, Frank Bizler, turned on the pressure and before the husky rearguard had returned to the ice the Indians were out in front 3-0.

Coach Dugre's squad kept buzzing around and finally accomplished their objective by beating Bell for a tally. Bob Fillion made a pass out from the corner and Sandy Milne let go with a hard drive which Denis Fillion tipped by Bell for Sherbrooke's only goal.

Syracuse: goal, Bell; defense, Haskings, Tottlo; centre, Burnett; wings, Casanato, Lemieux. Alternates: Allen, Tilford, Hayden, Pidhirny, Jones, Gooden, Hursburg, Harvath, Ford, Bergeron, Marduzzie.

Sherbrooke: goal, Bessette; defense, Barilko, Milne; centre, Tremblay; wings, R. Pepin, Ferguson. Alternates: Labrie, Cote, Lepine, Biggs, Planche, Dube, D. Fillion, B. Pepin, Gilbert, B. Fillion, Drouin, Milne.

Referee: Gerry Mathieu; linesmen, Mush Morelhouse and Pee Wee Theriault.

First Period

Scoring: none.

Penalties: Curick.

Second Period

1—Syracuse ..... Marduzzie (Bergeron, Pidhirny) ... 15:39

Penalties: B. Fillion, Curick (major).

Third Period

2—Syracuse ..... Casanato ... 12:55

3—Syracuse ..... Gooden (Curick, Haskings) 13:30

4—Sherbrooke ... D. Fillion (Milne, B. Fillion) 16:10

Penalties: Milne.

Allan Wark Heads Five O'Clock Club

Allan Wark was elected president of the La Salle Five O'Clock Darts Club at the annual meeting held last night. He succeeds Bill Webb who was elected team captain.

Ray Labonte was elected honorary president and other officers are: Rudy Gittel, secretary; Warren (Pee Wee) Berwick, treasurer.

Business matters concerning the club's participation in the Southern E.T. Darts League were discussed. The Five O'Clock Club will be using the Tuque Rouge Snow Shoe Club as its home base this season.

Play in the E.T. league starts on Oct. 15.

N.F.L. Opens Season Tonight In Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Los Angeles Rams and New York Yanks open the National Football League's 1951 regular season tonight.

The Yanks will try to upset the two-time runners-up for the championship.

Four of the Rams will not see action, including captain-quarterback Bob Waterfield.

The others, injured in the Rams' exhibition win over New York Giants last week, are halfback Glenn Davis, tackle Charlie Toogood and halfback Herb Rich.

Other opening games are scheduled Sunday with Chicago Bears clashing at Green Bay with the Packers; the champion Cleveland Browns invading San Francisco to play the '49ers; Washington Redskins at Detroit against the Lions, and Philadelphia Eagles at Chicago against the Cardinals. Monday night New York Giants will play at Pittsburgh against the Steelers.

Howie Meeker May Quit Hockey After This Year

St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 28—(CP)—Howie Meeker said last night his duties as a member of parliament will likely keep him out of the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey team lineup until mid-December.

He added that, as a young fellow with long-view political ambitions, he'll probably retire from hockey after this season.

The right-winger who jumped directly from senior amateur hockey to the Leafs in 1946 was elected last summer as Progressive Conservative member for Waterloo South.

Plans Made If N.L. Ends In Stalemate On Sunday

New York, Sept. 28—(AP)—If the National League baseball race ends in a tie between Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, the first game of the playoffs will take place at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn, with the second and, if necessary, the third at the Polo Grounds.

This was decided at a coin-tossing ceremony yesterday at the offices of National League president Ford Frick.

Dates for the possible play-off were not set, but they will start Monday if the regular campaign ends Sunday, as scheduled.

Maritimes Ask For Protection From Pros

Sydney, N.S., Sept. 28—(CP)—The Maritime branch of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has asked the C.A.H.A. to protect major series clubs from "raiding" by professional organizations.

C. Roy MacDonald of Glace Bay, vice president of the Maritime Major Hockey League, submitted the request following a similar resolution passed during the annual meeting of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association.

Mr. MacDonald said it was easy for pro clubs to offer contracts to promising amateurs and after a trial period turn them over to major clubs of their choice.

The resolution suggested that a player signed to a pro contract be returned to his original club if he was dropped back to C.A.H.A. ranks during the season.

Fritzie Pruden Favored Over Williams Tonight

New York, Sept. 28 — (AP) — Fritzie Pruden of St. Catharines, Ont., is favored to even accounts with Don Williams of Worcester, Mass., tonight when they clash in the main ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

This is the fourth meeting of the welterweights. Williams holds a 2-1 edge, having gained the nod in the last two tiffs.

Williams has won 54 of his 63 bouts. Pruden, who now lives in New Jersey, has won 48 out of 60.

The 9 PM (EST) bout will be broadcast by ABC and telecast by NBC. The fighters each will collect $3,000 from the radio-TV money.

Pittsburgh Pirates Sell Danny Murtaugh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 28 — (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday sold second baseman Danny Murtaugh to New Orleans of the Southern Association and appointed him manager of the team for 1952.

Murtaugh's appointment came less than 24 hours after general manager Branch Rickey announced that the contract of Truett (Rip) Sewell, was not being renewed.

Sewell, an ex-Pirate pitcher, had poor success with New Orleans the last season. The club finished seventh.

Jittery Dodgers Tangle With Phils In Crucial Series; Yankees Can Clinch American League Pennant

Brooklyn's crumbling lead shrunk to a half game Thursday as the National League steamed toward a photo finish.

While the runner-up New York Giants were idle, the Dodgers lost a 4-3 decision to Boston, breaking Preacher Roe's 10-game win streak. Umpire Frank Dascoli chased Roy Campanella and cleared the Dodger bench during the Brave's winning rally in the eighth.

The race is sure to go down to the wire because the Giants have only two to play at Boston Saturday and Sunday. Brooklyn's last three games are at Philadelphia Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday.

One club dropped out of the American League battle when the third-place Boston Red Sox were beaten by Washington 8-6, losing their last mathematical hope.

The idle New York Yankees, facing a five-game closing series with the Red Sox, hold a 2½-game lead over second-place Cleveland.

The Yanks can nail down the pennant by sweeping Friday's Yankee Stadium doubleheader from the Red Sox. Any combination of two wins or two Cleveland defeats would sew it up. The Indians have only two to play against Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

Chet Nichols, a 20-year-old rookie lefthander, struck a vital blow at the Dodgers' hopes with a six-hit effort for his 11th win, as Roe lost his third to 22 victories.

Dascoli chased catcher Campanella and then cleared the Dodger bench after an eighth-inning argument when Bob Addis was called safe at home with the winning run.

Singles by Addis and Sam Jethroe, who hit a homer and double earlier in the game, set up the big run.

With Addis on third, Earl Torgeson grounded to Jackie Robinson. Addis beat Robinson's throw to Campanella to score the tie-breaking run and touch off a wild eruption by the Brooks.

Enraged by Dascoli's decision, Campanella gave the umpire a terrific argument even after Dascoli thumbed him out of the game. The Dodger bench took it up and the umpire finally ordered out everybody but Manager Chuck Dressen and Coach Jake Pitler.

This was a costly move for the Brooks had a chance in the ninth. Pee Wee Reese opened with a double and took third on Robinson's ground out. With the potential tying run on third and only one out, it normally would have been Campanella's turn.

Dressen took out Al Walker, who went in to catch after Campanella was chased, and called on Wayne Terwilliger, an Ex-Cub. Terwilliger grounded to Bob Elliott who held Reese on third as he threw out the batter. Andy Pafko struck out to end the game.

In the American, Boston dropped six games back with only five to play after losing all three to Washington. The Senators clipped Chuck Stobbs and two successors for 11 hits. Al Sima, second of three Washington pitchers, was the winner.

Trailing by two runs in the ninth, the Red Sox still had a chance when Ted Williams came up with a man on. Willaims hit into a double play that buried their chances.

In the only other game scheduled, St. Louis Browns whipped Detroit 7-4 for rookie Duke Markell's first big league win.

Going all the way, he gave up eight hits — including Johnny Groth's third homer of the season. There were none on.

Matt Batts homered for St. Louis, his fifth of the year.

The loser was Fred (10-10) Hutchinson.

All Eight Major Football Teams Up Against Problems Of Injuries And Trimming Down Of Imports

American imports and injured players are the problems that all eight coaches of major Canadian football teams are up against as their teams prepare for action this week-end.

All eight teams will play. In the Western Interprovincial Union, the leading Edmonton Eskimos play Saskatchewan Roughriders Saturday and Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday, both games at Edmonton.

Calgary Stampeders play Blue Bombers Saturday and Roughriders Monday. Both games are at Calgary.

In the Big Four Union, Hamilton Tiger-Cats play Ottawa Rough Riders in Ottawa Saturday and Montreal Alouettes play Toronto Argonauts in Montreal Sunday.

Edmonton Coach Annis Stukus has a team that is reported in "fair shape" for the week-end.

Fullback Don Lord, out for some weeks with an injury, will put on his pads again. But Chuck Quilter from ('Frisco '49ers—one of Stukus' top linesmen—will be out for the season because of a knee injury suffered last Saturday.

Eskimos' quarterback Lindy Berry, named most valuable player in the West last year, is still out of the Edmonton lineup following a knee operation. He may be in one game for just one play to establish his second year as an American import playing on a Canadian team.

Stampeders, tail-enders in the Western Conference, are in better shape their top scorer, end Bob Shaw, will be in the line-up though he is favoring an injured ankle.

They are introducing a new end, Paul Salata from the disbanded Baltimore Colts.

Quarterbacks Keith Spaith and Stan Heath—out recently with injuries—also were back this week, though it is not known whether both are in playing shape.

Though Big Four coaches have injury problems to worry them, they seemed this week more concerned with their extra imports. By a Canadian Rugby Football Union ruling these must be cut to seven per team by Oct. 1.

Coach Carl Voyles of the Tiger-Cats has eight crack imports, all of whom have performed capably in recent games. Two of these are quarterbacks—Zeke Martin and Bernie Curtis.

Argonauts have 10 imports—two quarterbacks, three ends, three halves and two line-men. The latest is a new pass-catching end, Al Pfeifer from New York Giants.

Alouettes have only one import to discard as have Ottawa Rough Riders.

Coach Clem Crowe of Ottawa this week did some regrouping on his squad. Don Loney, long rated one of the best centres in the East, will go into an offensive slot as a tackle. And Jake Dunlap, a middle who was dropped a couple of weeks ago, will be given another try.

All four teams of the Senior Intercollegiate Football Union will play exhibition games tomorrow. University of Toronto Blues will play McMaster Marauders of Ontario Rugby Football Union in Toronto and Toronto Balmy Beach of the O.R.F.U. will lock horns with Queens at Kingston.

University of Western Ontario Mustangs will play Sarnia Imperials o fthe O.R.F.U. in Sarnia and McGill Redmen will tilt with University of Ottawa Carabins of the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference in Cornwall.

Willie Pep And Sandy Saddler May Be Called Before Commission To Explain Actions On Wednesday

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Willie Pep and Sandy Saddler may be called on the carpet by the New York State Athletic Commission for Wednesday night's wrestling match with boxing gloves.

Bob Christenberry, new chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, yesterday directed all officials present at the featherweight title bout to submit written reports.

If the reports warrant, a full-dress open hearing probably will be called before the Commission next week.

Referee Ray Miller and Judges Art Aidala and Frank Forbes were ordered to report to Dan Dowd, executive secretary of the Commission, along with the referees who worked the preliminaries.

"It would be presumptuous of me to comment until I received the reports," said Christenberry.

It was learned the Commission was far from satisfied with the dirty brawl in which most of the rules were fractured.

Pep, who quit in his corner after the ninth round to lose on a ninth-round technical knockout, went home to Hartford, Conn., yesterday.

Saddler, showing no signs of battle, took his pre-induction physical for the army. The champion is 25 years old with brief previous service in the navy. He was sent to the Station Hospital at Fort Jay for further tests.

Veteran boxing observers racked their memories to recall more disgraceful exhibitions of foul tactics.

All seemed agreed on one thing—this is the end. Four fights between the two, was too much.

Even Charlie Johnston, Saddler's manager, agreed. "That's the end," he said. "Who'd want to see it? But we'll fight him tomorrow at a price if anybody wants it."

Two Teams Lose Same Football Fixture

Portland, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Ever hear of a football game in which both teams lost?

Two Portland High Schools achieved it.

Roosevelt came out the nominal winner, 34-0. But it was discovered that two ineligible players had been used and Roosevelt was ordered to forfeit the game.

Next it was learned the other team Cleveland, also had used an ineligible player.

A forfeit defeat was marked against both teams.

Lennoxville Club To Hold Closing Event

The closing event of the Lennoxville Golf Club will take place tomorrow afternoon when the members will get together in a mixed two-ball foursome.

It is the final playing activity of the season and the officials are looking forward to a good entry. The clubhouse will remain open until October 13 and members are requested to empty their lockers by then as the clubhouse will close.

A supper will be held in conjunction with the event and the annual dinner and general meeting will be helo in St. George's Hall on Saturday October 13 for members and their guests.

Prizes and trophies will be presented to the different cup winners and runners-up at the general meeting.

Fifteen Players Attend Workout With Cataracts

Shawinigan Falls, Que., Sept. 28—(CP)—Fifteen players turned out yesterday for the first training session of Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

Coach Don Penniston had his charges do a little skating "to get them acquainted with the ice."

Penniston said he expected to line up a good team this year, taking advantage of an oral agreement between the Cats and Detroit Red Wings of the National League.

Manager Durocher Has A Very Restless Day

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Yesterday was a restless day for Leo Durocher, the dandy little manager of New York Giants. He awaited news from Boston and fretted about a fortune teller down in Miami.

As Leo explains it, the fortune teller told him last spring everything that was going to happen to him and the Giants this year with phenomenal accuracy until she got to the big question, which she kicked all over the infield. Leo said it was enough to give a man the willies.

"You think I'm kidding?" he demanded. "Well, I'm not.

"First thing she said to me was that I was going to get off to the worst start in my whole baseball career . . . I said this team of mine was going to start fast and never look back.

"Well," Leo said slowly and impressively, "what happened? We win a pair and then we start losing. We lose 11 in a row.

"Then she said we would get settled down and begin playing good ball. She said that by the time of my birthday—that's July 27, but she didn't know it — we would really be going.

"She said that by the time it got to the end of the season we would be right up there fighting for the pennant. She said it was going to be so close that she couldn't make sure whether we were going to win or lose, but that it wouldn't be settled until the last."

Durocher didn't have to wait long for the Boston news. It was good, too. Boston hung a 4-3 defeat on the leading Brooklyn Dodgers. That put Giants only half a game off the Brooklyn pace.

Vancouver May Drop From Mann Cup Final

Vancouver, Sept. 28—(CP)—Vancouver Combines last night threatened to withdraw from the Mann Cup finals unless the Canadian Lacrosse Association decides in favor of the West on the contentious face-off rule.

Peterborough Petes were equally insistent that interpretation of the rule be decided in their favor.

nI Monday's first game of the best-of-seven series, the C.L.A. ordered the centres to face off Eastern fashion.

In Monday's first game of the Victoria, the C.L.A. ordered Western interpretation of the rule.

In the East, the centres may face off on either side of the ball; in the west, centres must be set on either side of the ball, their left shoulders towards the opposing goal.

With the series tied 1-1, the third game is scheduled for here tonight.

Don Meade Applies For Licence In New York

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Don Meade, former stormy petrel of jockey ranks, asked the New York State Racing Commission yesterday to give him a licence so he could resume riding after a lapse of six years.

Meade was suspended by the Mexican Racing Commission in February, 1945, for using abusive language against officials when he was charged with foul riding in Mexico City.

The New York Commission, headed by Chairman Ashley Trimble Cole, reserve dits decision.

Following his Mexican suspension, Meade tried without success to be reinstated in New York and New Jersey. He has a list of more than 30 suspensions and many fines in his career.

Brooklyn Dodgers Admit Kicking Umpire's Door But Absolve Their Fiery Second Baseman, Robinson

Boston, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Did Jackie Robinson, fiery Brooklyn second baseman, pound and kick the locked door of the umpires' dressing room in a violent rage following the Dodgers' hotly disputed 4-3 loss to the Boston Braves yesterday?

"No," shouted Robinson. "Anybody who says I did is a damned liar."

Did any of the Dodgers assault the barred door, cracking two of its panels, before the arrival of five special policemen to help the regular guard?

"Yes," admitted Robinson. "I know who did it but I'm not saying who."

"I know who did it, too," echoed Brooklyn pitching ace Preacher Roe, victim of the heart-breaking loss that pared the Dodgers first place lead over the New York Giants to a half game.

"But it wasn't Jackie," added the Preacher. "I'll take an oath on that."

"I didn't know who damaged the umpire's door," another Dodger said, refusing to be identified. "But quite a few of our boys either kicked or pounded it on their way to our dressing room."

Earlier, one of the special policemen had reported that it was Robinson who had done the kicking and pounding.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, said in New York he talked by telephone with two of the four umpires who had worked the game and neither had mentioned an assault on the officials' door.

The hectic under-the-stands scene came as a result of the ejection of Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella by plate Umpire Dascoli. Campanella had objected violently when Dascoli ruled Bob Addis slid home safely with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth to give Boston its dramatic victory.

"He threw his glove on the ground," said Dascoli. "Under the rules he was automatically out of the game."

Not only did Dascoli evict Campanella, but he sent coach Cookie Lavagetta along for company. It was the first time in 20 years that the Dodger coach had ever been chased by an umpire.

The incensed Dodgers continued to heckle Dascoli until the umpire finally cleared the bench of all players—15 in all—and left only manager Charlie Dressen and coach Jake Pitler.

The importance of Campanella's ejection was borne out in the ninth inning. With Pee Wee Reese on third and only one out, catcher Rube Walker was due to hit. Normally, it would have been Campy, the Dodgers top run-producer, who would have been at the plate. Dressen sent in pinch-hitter Wayne Terwilliger, who bounced out without advancing the runner. Andy Pafko then fanned to end the game.

The Dodgers, to a man, insisted they were not protesting Dascoli's call that cost them the game. They did protest what they called the umpire's hasty eviction of their star catcher and top slugger.

"Baseball is in a bad way when an umpire's fast thumb determines the outcome of a game," said Dodger coach Clyde Sukeforth. "Dascoli is a bad umpire, that's all."

Dressen joined in the vituperation of the beleaguered umpire.

"We've had trouble with him all year—as far back as spring training," he said bitterly.

Dascoli, who came to the National League during the 1948 season, is a showman type of umpire who calls his decisions in a loud, blatant voice, accompanied by picturesque gestures. This marked the second time this season that he had cleared a bench. He chased manager Frank Frisch and the Cubs one day.

HENNESSY

COGNAC BRANDY

Married 50 Years

Richmond, Que., Sept. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Alex Amnotte (above) recently observed the fiftieth anniversary of their wedded life at their home in Cleveland. Mrs. Amnotte is the oldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Dionne.

An anniversary mass was solemnized in the Holy Family Church at 7 a.m. A family dinner was served at 6.30 p.m. to upwards of 125 guests.

Seated at the bridal table, centred with the traditional wedding cake, donated by their daughter, Mrs. Percy Tozer, besides the celebrants were the Rev. Father Dupuis, Messrs. Emile Dionne, brother of the bride, and Aime Tremblay, who acted as witnesses at the anniversary mass, Mrs. A. Dowling, sister of the groom, and Mrs. H. Amnotte, sister-in-law.

Rev. Father Dupuis paid fitting tribute to this worthy couple, who have lived an industrious, upright life and raised a large family, all of whom were present to join in the festivities.

A pleasant evening followed in Costello's Hall at St. Cyr, where Mr. and Mrs. Amnotte received congratulations from a host of friends and dancing was enjoyed.

After a midnight lunch, two granddaughters, the Misses Lily Amnotte and Rose Tozer, on behalf of the family, presented their grandmother with a bouquet of flowers and their grandfather with a boutonniere and a purse of money as a token of affection.

Mrs. Gordon Healy expressed the good wishes of the New London Women's Association with a gift of money. Mrs. Raymond Pease presented them with a reversible wool blanket in gold and rose with the esteem and respect of the neighbors in Cleveland.

Mr. Amnotte, on behalf of his wife and himself, made a fitting reply in a few sincere words.

GLENBURN

Richinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Woodside. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Billing and children, of Three Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson attended the Masonic dinner and dance, held at North Hatley.

Mrs. I. Herring, of Bulwer, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Blodgett, Sr.

Mrs. Thomas Billings has left for Quebec, where she will be guest at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Billings, while the latter are away on a trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Billings and children, of Three Rivers, were recent week-end guests of the formers' parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Langlois were evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Draper, at Draper's Corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Powell and family, of Waterville, were recent Sunday guests of Mrs. Powell's sister and family, Mrs. Robert Musty.

Mrs. Robert Musty and children accompanied Mr. and Mrs. E. Douglas and children to the Windsor Air Port, to see the Air Show.

Mrs. Robert Musty and children were calling on Mr. and Mrs. A. Powell.

WARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. V. Lewis were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Duboyce at West Bolton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, at Cowansville.

A meeting of the Guild of St. John the Divine, was held on Saturday at the home of Mrs. V. Lewis with eleven members and one visitor present. Plans were made for a card party to be held in the parish hall, on October 5. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Sewell Newton, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Clara Booth, of Milton, Ont., a former member of the Aid, was welcomed at this meeting.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Claire: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a brand new fragrance medium by Houbigant called Liquid Skin Sachet. It smoothes on the skin very easily and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.95.

Goodbye to faucet drip

If the drip-drip-drip of a leaky faucet ever nagged your nerves and nudged up your water and fuel bills, here's good news!

In October Reader's Digest, there's a consumer report on an amazing, new-type washer (and where Canadians can buy it) that works without friction, lasts ten times longer than ordinary washers, and you can install it yourself in minutes.

Don't miss "Goodbye to faucet drip" in October Reader's Digest. It's just one of 46 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines, current books.
