AFTERNOON REPORTS.

DR. PETERS' EXPEDITION TO AFRICA.

Sir Charles Tupper Interviewed in New York.

LONDON, March 2.—Mr. W. H. Gladstone is dying. He was insensible yesterday.

The Commission's interim report on the Parnell letters is expected to reach Parliament in the middle of next week.

BERLIN, March 2.—The Government has decided to prevent Dr. Peters' expedition for the relief of Emin Bey, from proceeding to the interior of Africa.

The jubilee of Joachim's debut as a violinist was observed yesterday. Minister Von Gossler, in the name of the Emperor presented Joachim with a grand gold medal for art. A committee headed by Prof. Helmholtz presented an address and 100,000 marks to found a Joachim Scholarship for poor musicians. Numerous other congratulations were received including telegrams from America.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK, March 2—Sir Charles Tupper yesterday smiled pleasantly and shook his head when he was informed of the great political sensation which his expected return to Canada seemed to have created. For instance, a despatch from Ottawa declared that it was admitted by the Canadian Government officials at the capital, that Sir Charles was coming home to form a new Cabinet; that immediately on his arrival in Ottawa he would accept the Premiership; that Sir John Macdonald, the present Premier, was to visit England, be raised to the Peerage and receive the appointment of British Ambassador at Washington. "There is a great deal to deny in all that," said Sir Charles, "so much that I scarcely know where to begin. In the first place, the basis of the whole invention is that Sir John Macdonald, the present Premier, is to retire and become British Ambassador at Washington; that is absolutely untrue. I heard the report in London just before I was preparing to leave and I hastened to deny it. Sir John is not to retire so far as I know, and he will certainly not be the next British Minister to Washington. I have known for some time that Sir Julian Pauncefote is to be selected as Her Majesty's representative in the United States. I dare say the official announcement has been made by this time and that it is no longer a secret." "Then, of course, there can be no foundation for the rest of the story that you are to be Premier of the Dominion?" "Certainly not, I have no intention of changing my present position as Canadian High Commissioner at London. I am returning to Canada because I have been summoned home by my Government to give testimony in a law suit before the Arbitration Commission, which has been investigating some matters in dispute between the Canadian Government and the C.P.R. Company, having reference to the construction of the Onderdonk section during my term of office some years ago as Dominion Minister of Railways and Canals. That is the only object of my visit, and as soon as that is settled I shall return to London." Sir Charles also said he had not been recalled to negotiate a new fisheries treaty. The last treaty, which was approved by Canada, was rejected by the Republican party majority in the United States Senate. The Republican party is now coming into power in the administration of the United States, and the position of Canada and Great Britain on the fisheries question is just this, they will wait for the new administration in this; country to take the initiative in any further fishery negotiations. Neither Great Britain nor Canada will make the first move toward the securing of a new treaty.

CANADIAN REPORTS.

ARRIVAL OF SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

A Heavy Action for Damages.

FIRE IN CHARLOTTETOWN HOSPITAL.

The Calgary "Jack the Ripper" Case.

(Per C. P. Telegraph Line.)

QUEBEC.

MONTREAL, March 2—Sir Charles Tupper, accompanied by Lady Tupper, arrived this morning per D. & H. Railway. Sir Charles, contrary to expectation, did not come into the city, but on the train halting, stepped out on the platform for a moment. Sir Charles and Lady Tupper, though somewhat fatigued, are in good health. Sir Charles made no reference to public affairs, merely contenting himself with personal remarks. He will return to Montreal in a few days. After a few minutes delay the car was switched on to the Canada Atlantic train, which left at once for the Capital.

ONTARIO.

OTTAWA, March 2—The Liberal caucus yesterday considered the Jesuits Bill. It is understood that much quarrelling took place, and the meeting broke up not in the best of feeling and without any decision.

KINGSTON, March 2—Several Calabogie farmers who purchased land in Darling township, have capitalists looking over it for ore, and so good are the prospects that $50,000 has been offered for a site. It will be accepted.

TORONTO, March 2—The following special cable appears in this morning's Globe:—London, March 1—Fuller accounts of the St. George's Railway disaster appear in the papers here to-day, but they attract less attention than they would ordinarily, owing to the interest still centered in the Pigott case. The Daily News says the picture of the calamity is tragic in the extreme. The frequency of accidents at bridges on American railways, suggest the need of more careful supervision, but in this case, it says, the accident seems no misnomer, as the disaster was due to no apparent negligence.

MANITOBA.

WINNIPEG, March 2.—The verdict in the Calgary "Jack the Ripper" case, as it is called, is one of wilful murder against Wm. Fisk, the accused. The deceased is a Cree squaw, said to have been a very dissolute character. There is undoubtedly a good deal of mystery about the affair, and one of the most mysterious features of the whole tragedy is the fact that such outrage could have been perpetrated without the victim having cried out so as to be heard by all in the house. Upon a closer examination of the room in which the murder was committed, the walls were found to be more or less spotted with blood. An examination of the body went to show that the wound was made entirely by the fingers, and a couple of pieces of flesh, as if torn from the body, were found by the Chief of Police under the bed. Dr. Lafferty says that the post mortem revealed the fact that this is a regular "Jack the Ripper" case. The organs were terribly mutilated.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 2—A Charlottetown special says that fire was discovered in the Prince Edward Island hospital yesterday morning at 9.45, and the larger portion of the building badly damaged by fire and water. A large number of patients were in the hospital at the time, but all were removed without any apparent injury. The fire started in the attic, and is supposed to be from a defective flue. Loss, $3,000; fully insured.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA, B C, March 2—The Colonist proprietors have been sued for alleged libel by Captain Robertson, damages being placed at $25,000. The action is based on the publication of the statement of the Chinese who were rescued by an Indian while on a raft in the Straits. The plaintiff claims that their story is absolutely false.

MIDNIGHT REPORTS.

MR. W. H. GLADSTONE IMPROVING.

The Prosecution of the Patriotic League.

NAVAL ENGAGEMENT BETWEEN GERMAN AND AMERICAN WARSHIPS.

The Pope Celebrates His Birthday.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, March 2—Mr. W. H. Gladstone's condition has improved.

Mr. Gladstone's eldest son William, is suffering from partial paralysis. Mr. Gladstone's eldest brother, Sir Thomas, is also seriously ill.

Archbishop Walsh of Dublin has sent a telegram to Cardinal Rampolla, Papal Secretary of State, instancing the case of Pigott as proving that the Parnellites have been misrepresented to the Vatican.

It is stated that a Fenian in Paris is prepared to divulge the source of the first batch of the Parnell letters.

Mr. Maclean, a Conservative member of Parliament, says that Mr. Balfour warned the Times a year ago that Pigott was unreliable.

Advices from Samoa state that a truce has been declared between the German Consul and Mataafa until after the Berlin conference. Mataafa agrees to prevent the destruction of German estates.

Richard Peacock, member of Parliament for the Gorton division of Lancashire, is dead, aged 69. He was an advanced Liberal.

The American and German legations here have received no advices regarding the reported engagement in Samoa between warships of their respective Governments.

Lenten pastoral letters from the Bishops read to-day in Catholic churches in Ireland, express sympathy with the Pope's position. They denounce both the action of the Italian Government regarding the Vatican and tyrannious Government in Ireland. The letters also contain counsels from the Bishops to their flocks against committing illegal acts.

The Government's small arms stores at Weedon have been burned. Loss £500,000.

FRANCE.

PARIS, March 2—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, M. Laguerre asked the Government to explain its prosecution of the Patriotic League, and why he had not been included with those who were prosecuted. M. Tirard justified the measure. The Government, he said, would not falter before the intrigues and threats of the enemies of the Republic. M. Tirard's remarks were greeted with applause. M. Thevenagh, Minister of Justice, contended that the arrest of the leaders of the League was legal. He stigmatized the League as a hypocritical association, whose real object was to raise one man to power. When justice required the prosecution of M. Laguerre, he would be prosecuted. M. Laguerre, amid an uproar, moved an order of the day condemning the prosecution of the League. The motion was rejected, and the Chamber by a vote of 230 to 220 approved an order expressing confidence in the energy of the Government.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, March 2—The recall from Samoa, of Knappe, the German Consul, has been promptly followed by the despatch of Stubela formerly Consul-General at Copenhagen to replace him.

The Boisen Courier adversely criticizing the increase in the German squadron in Samoan waters, asserts that the order for the despatch of the warships was not given through Bismarck, but by superior authority.

The report that Count Von Waldersee was about to retire, arose from the overtures of Prince Bismarck toward his acceptance of a high diplomatic post, stated to be Vienna, in succession to Prince Henry of Reuss, upon whose discretion the Chancellor cannot rely. Von Waldersee declined placing himself within the grip of Bismarck, and losing whatever hold his daily contact with the Emperor gives him.

Advices from St. Petersburg represent the Czar as incensed against Atchinoff, and as ordering his trial immediately on his arrival at Odessa. The Czar's anger extends to Gen. Ignatieff, through whom the Slavonic Society supplied funds to Atchinoff. General Balaneff, Governor of Novgorod, another noted Slav, is also involved and is threatened with suspension from office.

The crisis in the relations between workmen and employers threaten to produce a general strike here. The severe weather, slack work and want of cohesion among the workmen have assisted employers in reducing wages.

In official circles here, nothing has been heard of the rumored engagement between German and American warships in Samoa.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 3—The report of a conflict on the Russo-Afghan frontier and other alarmist rumors, have been officially denied.

ITALY.

ROME, March 2—To-day was the 79th anniversary of the birth of the Pope. He received a number of Cardinals who tendered their congratulations. The Pope replying to the Cardinals, said it was impossible for him in the present position of the Papacy, to perform his duties as the head of the church in an independent manner. He complained of the delay in the granting of the royal exequatur to the Italian Bishops, and said his appointments were subject to scrutiny. He referred to the oppression of the new penal code and the suppression of the funds of the fraternity. His Holiness was in splendid health and spoke vigorously. To-morrow is the 11th anniversary of the Pope's coronation, and will be observed with special ceremonies.

Signor Crispi has been charged with the formation of a new Cabinet. He consulted with several political leaders to-day.

DENMARK.

KIEL, March 3—A rumor is current in naval circles here, that a conflict has taken place in Samoan waters between an American man-of-war and the German corvette "Olga." It is alleged that the American vessel fired the first shot.

UNITED STATES.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 2—On Wednesday, the family of Ben Hynes, nine in all, were drowned in a swamp in Decatur County, near the Tennessee River, a colored man who was with them, alone escaping. The family were moving in a waggon and after dark became lost in the swamp. They came to a stream which the colored driver refused to cross. Mr. Hynes thereupon took the lines and forced the team to go ahead. In a moment they were in water ten feet deep, and father, mother, and seven children were lost. Three of the bodies have been recovered.

WASHINGTON, March 2—The President this evening vetoed the direct tax bill.

March 3—Secretary Bayard said to-night he had heard nothing about the reported conflict between a German and an American war vessel in Samoan waters. He regarded such a conflict as improbable, as there was an understanding that belligerent action in Samoa should be suspended pending the conference at Berlin.

Barring the unexpected, Gen. Harrison's Cabinet will be as follows:—Secretary of State, Blaine; Secretary of the Treasury, Windom; Secretary of War, Proctor; Secretary of the Navy, Tracy; Secretary of the Interior, Keble; Postmaster-General, Wanamaker; Attorney-General, Miller; Secretary of Agriculture, Rusk.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 3.—News has just reached here from Okeechobee, of a bloody affray among the Seminole Indians in the Everglades. "Jim," a young buck, went crazy and with a Winchester rifle started on the war path through the camp and settlement. He first sent a bullet through the brain of Un Wankee Micco, chief of the Miamis, killing him instantly. He next killed "Old Tiger." "Young Tiger," a son of "Old Tiger" and probably the finest Seminole living physically, stepped out of his wigwam just in time to see his father drop to the ground a corpse, and with a blood curdling warwhoop he sprang on the maniac and a hand to hand fight for the possession of the rifle followed. "Tiger" was the superior in strength but was at the wrong end of the gun, and before he could wrest it from his antagonist he was shot dead. The maniac then killed two papooses of his sister and attacked bucks, squaws and children indiscriminately. He was finally cornered and shot dead by "Billy," another Seminole brave. In less than half an hour eight Indians were killed.

Pigott's Suicide in Madrid.

How he was Discovered.

LONDON, March 2—A despatch from Madrid to the Times, says the arrest of the suicide was made in consequence of a telegram from the British Foreign Office. Ponsonby arrived from Paris on Thursday morning. His only baggage was a small hand bag. Soon after his arrival he sent a telegram to London.

The Standard says it is able to confirm the statement that the suicide was Pigott. When arrested he took the situation calmly and threw the officers off the scent with the excuse that he wished to get his overcoat. He retired to an alcove and there shot himself in the mouth with a revolver. He died instantly. His head was horribly disfigured.

The telegram Pigott sent from Madrid on Thursday to Mr. Soames' office in this city, was addressed to Mr. Shannon, the Times' Dublin Solicitor. Mr. Soames at once notified the police of the whereabouts of Pigott.

A despatch received from Madrid this afternoon, shows that the man who committed suicide at the Hotel Des Ambassadeurs yesterday was Pigott. His identity has been fully established by the officials of the British Embassy.

On Thursday an interpreter showed Pigott the sights of Madrid. On that day Pigott sent a telegram addressed "Ponsonby" to the office in London of Mr. Soames, the Times' Solicitor. The telegram announced his safe arrival in Madrid and gave his address. It is inferred that the English Government learned from this telegram that Pigott was in Madrid.

It is reported that a note book containing the addresses of a number of persons in Ireland, was found on the body. Pigott's suicide has caused a profound sensation throughout England. Witnesses have started from Paris for Madrid for the purpose of formally identifying the body. The Madrid police authorities intend to hold the effects of the suicide pending an order from the Court relative to their disposal.

Pigott's telegram to Shannon reads thus:—"Please ask Mr. S. to send me what you promised. Write. Signed, Roland Ponsonby, Hotel des Ambassadeurs, Madrid." Mr. Shannon wrote to Pigott denying that he had promised him money. The police induced Mr. Soames not to send Shannon's letter, and a clerk in Soames' office, in order to detain Pigott in Madrid, wrote him a letter saying Shannon was in Ireland, and that when he returned the money he asked for would be sent by telegraph.

The chagrin of the Parnellites over Pigott's suicide is intense. Parnell himself, who is not vindictive, only regrets his death as limiting the chance of unearthing the conspiracy.

Besides Pigott's check book, a letter addressed to Mr. Labouchere and a license to carry arms in Ireland were found on his body. The letter addressed to Mr. Labouchere found on Pigott, says the first batch of letters sold by him to the Times were genuine, but that in the second batch there were several forged letters, including two ascribed to Parnell and one each to Davitt, O'Kelly and Egan. Pigott further says:—"I am deeply sorry for all those I have injured, and am ready to place at their disposal all means in my power to remedy all that I have said that was false, everything written under oath was true."

The license to carry a revolver was dated at Dublin. A check book of the Ulster Bank was also found on the body. Pigott tried to negotiate a check at a Madrid bank, but in the absence of proof of his identity the bank refused to cash it. A note book full of interesting notes was also found.

The body lies with four others in the morgue. The dead man's beard is stiff with blood. The bullet entered the mouth and came out at the back of the head near the neck on the right side. The body will be photographed to-morrow, and will be buried on Tuesday after it has been identified by a British detective. The British Embassy at Madrid has given orders for a decent burial.

Pigott's suicide at Madrid overshadows all else. Astonishment is expressed that such a caitiff had the courage to commit suicide, but the alternative was penal servitude for life. In the last two years Pigott spent more than a thousand pounds a year in debauchery. Sir Charles Russell pronounces Pigott the worst man he ever knew after Carey. When Pigott entered the witness box, Mr. Davitt exclaimed, "Now the fat old rat is caught in the trap at last." His suicide will help Home Rule. The Tories who accused Mr. Labouchere of bribing Pigott to fly cannot say he bribed him to commit suicide. Had Pigott died of heart disease in the witness box he would have recalled Ananias and Sapphira. His suicide recalls Judas Iscariot. Sir Wilfred Lawson says Ananias was a child in lying to Pigott. Mr. Labouchere declares that the "Babes in the Wood" were Solomons to the manager of the Times. A friend visited Pigott's house in Kingstown this week and found all his business letters in neat order. All compromising letters had been burned. Pigott's relatives say Houston tempted him. Mrs. Pigott's corpse was unburied because of their poverty when temptation offered a higher price for the documents. In court, there was curious sympathy with Pigott. Mr. Bryce, the historian, said he thought twenty years of a blackmailing life was a pathetic and horrible spectacle. A popular song is now being sung in the Music Hall, and the chorus is enthusiastically received:

"Where, where, oh! where, is this little pig gone,
And where, oh! where, can he be?
Oh! why did he trot, and scoop all the lot,
And leave the poor Times up a tree."

MADRID, March 2—The authorities to-day took the evidence of the hotel people regarding Pigott's movements. Several religious medals were found on Pigott's person.

RICHARD PIGOTT'S CAREER.

Richard Pigott, the latest Irish Judas, is still another example of how men may fall from the topmost rung of the ladder of respectability into the lowest depths of degradation. His fall, indeed, has been great. He was once a respected member of Dublin society and moved in the ranks of Irish Nationalists an honored man. An honored man he might have remained had he not allowed his ability for double dealing to lure him into the shadow of Dublin Castle, in which the goodness of heart of so many Irishmen before him had been destroyed. Early in life Richard Pigott made his way into the ranks of Dublin journalists and a quarter of a century ago he had in his hands two of the boldest of the advanced journals, the Irishman and the Flag of Ireland. He owned besides a weekly paper devoted to literature, which was a welcome guest in every Irish homestead and which still survives his disgrace. The Irishman and the Flag of Ireland were as much the advocates of revolution as was the Irish People, the official organ of the I. R. B. Pigott was one of the marked men of the Government of the day. Richard Pigott and the Irishman were really big factors in Irish politics. When Allan, Larken and O'Brien were executed at Manchester in 1867, no one made a greater outcry than Pigott, but even then he was dropping into shady walks of life. He had begun to lose his hold, and scarcity of money, linked with a desire for its possession, did the work. He was undoubtedly clever and an able writer, but full of ambitions which could not be satisfied, as he desired them, by bounds, and so he became a disappointed man and a crank. Had he been made of better moral stuff he could have easily, with his ability, won a good position in the field of journalism. As it was he allowed himself to drift. Things went from bad to worse, and at length the Flag of Ireland ceased to be published. Stories told of a not very creditable character got abroad, and Richard Pigott no longer stood on the old pedestal. He sank in the estimation of the public, and the men in the forefront look on him with suspicion. For some years he was indeed regarded as a dangerous man, and writings of his in the newspapers clearly indicated the growing traitor spirit. The Irishman, too, had evidently had its day, although it managed to drag on a wretched existence. Throughout the Butt Home-Rule movement Pigott cut a small figure, and by the time young Parnell appeared above the horizon Pigott's star had set. He became a nuisance, a clog that could not be tolerated, and, besides, it was strongly suspected that English gold would tempt him up the back stairs of the Castle. Isaac Butt had been laid with his father in Stranorlar Churchyard, County Donegal, and Parnell was at the helm. A stirring paper for the masses was sadly needed—the people who were not usually reached by the "dailies," and indeed there was no daily, not even excepting the Freeman's Journal, with the true ring about it. In Lower Abbey street all was decay, but Parnell in this, as in other things, was equal to the occasion. The Irishman disappeared, Pigott left Lower Abbey street, and United Ireland and William O'Brien started in the old house. Pigott begged hard to stay, but his character even then was such that the Irish leader could not venture to retain him, even as a despatch clerk. He then went beneath the surface, and people were glad he had gone. Once out of public view he was little thought of, save now and then when, overflowing with mischief, he sought the columns of the Tory press as a mud-throwing medium. He wrote against everybody and everything connected in the past and the present with the politics of his country. But the infinite depth of his scoundrelism was never dreamed of even by those who would credit him with any villainy. As soon, however, as the "Parnellism and Crime" articles began to appear in the Times men whispered, "Pigott's hand is here," and the "letters" were attributed to him by simple folk in Ireland not at all versed in the ins and outs of politics. In London, too, before ever the Commission was appointed Pigott's name was freely mentioned, and when there did not seem the slightest chance of the forger's identity being discovered men were prepared to stake their all on Pigott. How justified were all the suspicions of the people and their leaders was established out of his own mouth before the Judges by the wretch who has now closed his career.

QUEBEC, MONDAY, MARCH 4, 1889.

HERE AND THERE.

No one will bewail the fate of PIGOTT. He was an arch scoundrel from the first. He made his living by worming himself into the confidence of men, and then selling them out to the highest bidder. For creatures such as he the gallows is too good, and his ignominious death is a fitting corollary to the miserable game that he played through life. In his favor, it may be said, that at least he had the tact and courage of JUDAS ISCARIOT. He took away his own worthless life. So did JUDAS. Surely more of him could not have been expected.

Mr. ELLIS's bill to render taxable the incomes of civil servants, has been thrown out of the House of Commons, on the ground that such measures should emanate from the Government itself, or rather from a Committee of the whole House, and with the sanction of the Cabinet. The Speaker took that view of the case, and the bill was therefore ruled out of order. Public opinion is so much in favour of the idea, however, that it will not surprise us, to see the bill brought in next year, in a way by which it may be passed. There is no reason in the world why the members of the civil service of Canada, who receive good salaries, for the work which they perform, should not pay their municipal taxes like other people. They receive the same protection. Therefore, they ought to contribute their share of the general taxation.

While hundreds of thousands of dollars are thrown away annually on this scheme and on that scheme, the hardest-worked men of the country are very poorly paid. We have time and again referred to the inadequacy of the salaries paid to our Judges. By their oaths they must not enter into any business, and they are kept down to a dead-level of pay, To what we have so many times said, we can offer nothing further to-day. But we have great pleasure in reprinting here, this morning, the following interesting article from the Monde of Montreal. Our contemporary says:—

"A question which often comes up, but the solution of which has never been arrived at, is that of the salaries of Judges. Since 1882 this question has been discussed in the House of Commons, and although everyone seemed to agree, nothing has been done. The Mail of the 31st January takes up the subject, more particularly as regards the Judges of Ontario, who like our own are no better paid than their colleagues of the sister province. The arguments advanced can be applied to the whole of Canada. It says that, with the actual salary of the more eminent lawyers, those who would be apt to give us an irreproachable magistracy, prefer to retain their practice rather than accept the honorable but less remunerative position of Judge. During the last session the question of increasing the salary of Judges of the Superior Court by the sum of $1,000, for those residing in the cities, but as on the other hand it was proposed to take from them their travelling expenses and other emoluments in case they were called upon to leave the judicial districts to which they have been appointed, the idea did not receive the approbation of the parties interested and was abandoned.

The Mail hopes that the Government will not let the present session pass without adjusting this important question in a satisfactory manner. To prove that Canadian judges are insufficiently remunerated it publishes a long list of the salaries of Judges in England and in the British colonies, by which we see that everywhere even in the Fiji Islands they are better paid than here; without taking into account that they have less work and less expense.

The following is the list of salaries paid Judges in these places:—

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

(From Our Own Correspondent,)

A RAILWAY TO MURRAY BAY.

OTTAWA, March 2.—The village of Murray Bay, one of the finest summer resorts in the Province of Quebec, is desirous of having railway communication with Quebec and the rest of the continent, and a numerously signed petition asking for a subsidy of $6,000 per mile, will be presented by Mr. Cimon, member for Charlevoix, in which county Murray Bay is situated. The distance from Quebec is ninety miles, and owing to the difficulty in the construction of the proposed line in the mountainous regions which the line is intended to open up and develop, is the cause of the high subsidy which is applied for in the present petition. The company will undertake to build the line over the whole mentioned district, and the first payment of the subsidy is not asked for until the line has been completed as far as Riviere-du-Gouffre, at St. Paul's Bay, a distance of sixty miles from Quebec. The proposed railway can be considered as an extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway towards the east. It is contemplated in the near future to continue the road as far as the coast of Labrador on the Atlantic, the shortest point to Europe by several hundred miles. On the route of this road, from St. Paul's Bay to Murray Bay and Tadousac, good and safe seaports opened the year around are numerous. Colonization in the counties of Montmorency, Charlevoix and Saguenay would be greatly benefitted by the construction of this road, and the iron mines in St. Urbain behind St. Paul's Bay could be worked with advantage.

AN EXCITING LIBERAL CAUCUS.

The Liberals held a caucus yesterday forenoon, and from what could be learned the chief question under discussion was Mr. Barron's resolution to take up the Jesuits' estate bill matter. Mr. Laurier frankly told his followers that he would not be responsible for the result if Mr. Barron went on with his motion, and a good deal of heat was developed through the determined stand taken by a number of those present in opposition to the leader's wishes. Mr. Barron was loath to withdraw his motion, and as the only means of settlement, it was agreed that the Liberals should be free to vote as they felt inclined on this question.

THE QUEBEC PORT PHYSICIAN.

The report that Dr. DeBlois was named as the probable successor to the late Dr. Rowand as Port Physician at Quebec is rather premature, as the question has never as yet been brought up before the Privy Council.

THE JESUIT BARRACKS PROPERTY.

The rumor that Sir Donald Smith had offered $25,000 for the Jesuit Barracks property at Quebec, for the site for a large hotel in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway, is incorrect. When shown the paragraph in question, Sir Donald Smith said that so far as he was concerned such an offer had never been made.

THE DEBT OF THE DOMINION.

The net debt of the Dominion on the 28th February was $236,095,114, a decrease of $575,450 over the debt on the 31st January, 1889. The total expenditure on capital account up to the end of February was $3,605,405.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

The following is the statement of the revenue and expenditure on account of the consolidated fund of the Dominion of Canada, as by the night of the 28th Feby., 1889. Revenue. Customs, $1,826,678.07; Excise, $467 417.84; Post Office, $240,000; Public Works, including railways, $167,400.59; miscellaneous, $85,017.06; total, $2,786,512.56. Revenue to 31st January, 1889, $21,830,255.55; total, $24,616,767.11. Expenditure to February 28th $21,972,826.72. The reserve shows an increase of $1,750,000 as compared with the corresponding period last year, while the expenditure is $330,000 less.

Artificial Ice.

Toronto draws its annual supply of ice from Toronto bay, which of late years, has proved to be most unsatisfactory so far as quality and quantity are concerned. Accordingly, our old friend and former fellow-townsman, Charles V. M. Temple, Esq., has formed a company with other gentlemen to establish in the Queen City, an artificial ice manufactory. Pure and cheap ice will be furnished to the consumers, and press and people heartily endorse the scheme. The new cold storage system is said to be one of the most successful in the world. It is based on the De la Vergne model. The leading medical men of Toronto are backing Mr. Temple, and the health board speaks most favorably of his place, and the new process. The procedure consists in taking ordinary water, and transforming it into steam. This steam is forced through a filter, which at once removes all impurities. The water is then cooled by being passed through a number of pipes, and after cooling is put through an animal filter which deodorizes it. This final process leaves the water perfectly pure, and without being again exposed to the air, it is run into metal cans of a conical shape. The cans are then placed in a solution of salt and water, when, by the infusion of ammonia, the temperature is reduced to any degree desired, and when the water in the cans is thoroughly frozen they are taken out and dipped into boiling water, loosening the ice from the inside of the cans, and the blocks of ice weighing 200 pounds are ready for use. The ice when taken out of the cans is perfectly transparent, as much so as a pane of glass.

The Lumbering Industry.

Important Report from the Superintendent of Forest Rangers.

The Government has had printed and distributed to the members of the Legislature and of the Press Gallery, the first annual report of Mr. J. B. Charleson, Superintendent of Forest Rangers, which contains a great deal of information of interest to the lumber trade and several suggestions affecting it.

Referring to the revenue of the Crown Lands Department from the Ottawa district for the last year, Mr. Charleson says:—

"The total revenue estimated by me from this district was $497,443.00, and I am happy to be in a position to say that the amount has exceeded my estimate as I hoped and expected it would; the returns now showing a total of $574,147.00 for stumpage dues alone. The report of 1885, which I now have before me, shows that on the Upper and Lower Ottawa the output was 2,425,500 logs and 524,983 feet of square pine; this is as near as possible to my March estimate which was, as already stated, 2,482,000 logs and 350,000 feet square pine, but, in making that estimate, I took all logs from 9 inches; while, in 1885, none were taken below 12 inches, so that the average should have been much higher than in 1888. In fact I consider that the larger average in 1885 should more than equal the slight difference in the number of logs existing between my estimate of March last and the report of 1885. Now, I then estimated an output of 377,264 000 feet, yielding $490,443 00 and $7,000.00 for square pine, or a grand total of $497,443 00, while in 1885 on an equal number of logs, for I repeat that the shortage in number of pieces in 1885 was more than compensated by the larger sized logs in that year, there was only collected in this district $292,758.44. In order to make a fair comparison, however, there must be added to this last amount the 18 per cent increase in stumpage, amounting to $52,696.52 and 534 983 feet square pine at 2 cents, equal to $10,499.66, or a grand total of $355,954.62 for 1885; or a difference of, say in round numbers $141,489.00 in favor of 1888."

Mr. Charleson also makes a number of suggestions in regard to the prevention of frauds upon the Government in the matter of dues.

FOREST PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

Under this head Mr. Charleson says:—"I would now take the liberty of recommending that some system of fire ranging in the pine sections of this Province be established; our rangers might act as the government fire rangers and the lumbermen appoint as many more; the government to pay one-half and the lumbermen the other half of the cost; the superintendent of forest rangers might also act in the same capacity over the fire rangers. This system is in vogue in Ontario and gives general satisfaction, costing only $9,000 per annum to that Government. The lumbermen in my district have expressed themselves as willing to follow Ontario's example."

CERTIFICATED LOG CULLERS.

The report further says:—"I now strongly recommend that some means be found to make it necessary that all log cullers should have to pass an examination as to their knowledge and proficiency in that line. They should have a general idea of the sawing of logs and the proper reductions to be made in the case of "hollows" or "crooks." If this was done these men would become more independent of the Licentiates, as proficiency would then be the test and not as now, in many cases, ability to reduce jobbers' logs. A board of examiners, comprised of two mill owners and the superintendent of Forest Rangers for the district seeking the services of the culler, should be named, and then, having passed such an examination, the log culler would feel a professional pride and his oath of office be guarantee that the work would be faithfully performed."

THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRESENT YEAR.

Respecting the operations of the present year Mr. Charleson says:—"I estimate that fewer logs will be made this year than last, but a larger quantity of square pine will be taken out. I consider, however, that I am quite safe in promising $600,000 revenue from my district for this year."

PRESERVATION OF GAME.

He further says:—"I will now touch, with your permission, another subject, altogether out of the lumber sphere and which comes under the "Game Laws." In my visits to different parts of my district it has frequently come under my notice that large quantities of trout are taken daily during the spawning season in nets in the inland lakes, and that great numbers of deer are hunted down and slaughtered. Some means should certainly be taken to prevent this in future."

Provincial Legislature.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

QUEBEC, March 2.—The Speaker took the chair at 3.15 p.m.

Hon. Mr. Turcotte introduced a bill intituled: Act to amend the act 49 50 Victoria, chapter 6 relative to the judicial district of Ottawa.

Hon. Col. Rhodes repeated the declaration made by him on Friday when the leader of the Opposition was absent from the House. This declaration was published on Saturday.

Hon. Mr. Taillon contended that the declaration of the Minister of Agriculture was not convincing or complete. What he (Taillon) contended was that Col. Rhodes had signed the report of the Commission on Lunatic Asylums, without reading it or being aware of its contents and in regard to this he would adduce facts that he considered were sufficient proof. He therefore requested that this matter be allowed to stand till Tuesday, which was accordingly done.

Hon. Mr. Shehyn again moved the House into Committee of Supply.

Mr. T Chase Casgrain replied to the speech delivered on the Budget by the Premier, and supported the stand taken by Mr. Desjardins. He said the House might express surprise to see him criticise the Budget, but he could not at all events succeed less in so doing than Mr. Mercier had in attacking Mr. Desjardins. He contended that the Premier had not made a financial speech at all. He had simply dealt in generalities, and had refuted none of the arguments and proofs adduced by the member for Montmorenci. He said that it was no reply to Mr. Desjardins for the Premier to tell him that he was not a business man, and to extol the eminent financial ability of the present Treasurer and the important positions he had occupied. To destroy the effect of Mr. Desjardins' criticism of the Budget, it is necessary that his figures should be challenged, and his errors, if existing, pointed out. He quoted copious extracts from the Nationalist electoral campaign brochure of 1886, distributed by the members of the present Government and their friends, particularly such passages as were condemnatory of the fiscal policy of Conservative administrations, and promised retrenchment and economy on their own part if entrusted with the reins of power. He also read several motions of non-confidence made by members of the present Government and directed against the policy of their predecessors, and having dwelt at some length upon the professions and promises of the Ministerialists of to-day, contrasted them with their performances. Where, he asked, was the fulfilment of these promises? He took up and quoted from the public accounts for the past fiscal year and the estimates for the coming year to show that instead of retrenchment and economy, extravagance and largely increased expenditure were the orders of the day, an increase being shown in almost every branch of the public service. He analysed the figures of the Treasurer and of Mr. Desjardins to prove that the former was altogether wrong in his assumption of the existence of a surplus, and the latter perfectly right in his showing of a large deficit. Upon resuming his seat the member for the County of Quebec was greeted with loud Opposition applause.

The House then went into Committee of Supply, and adopted the following items of the estimates:—

At 6.30 the Committee rose, and Mr. Gagnon having brought down a return respecting the Lockwood affair, the House adjourned.

AROUND THE PARLIAMENT HOUSE.

LEGISLATIVE JOTTINGS.

Only two Parliamentary Committees met on Saturday last,—that on Public Accounts and that on Agriculture. The first adjourned till to-day because Mr. Lockwood, who was to be heard as a witness, had not the necessary documents with him. The committee on Agriculture passed Mr. Spencer's bill providing for the formation of agricultural and dairy associations.

Mr. David has given notice of his intention to move for correspondence respecting the proposal to have one great Universal Exhibition at Montreal in 1892, to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the Discovery of America, the 250th anniversary of the Foundation of Montreal, and the 50th anniversary of the establishment of Responsible Government in Canada; and respecting the steps to be taken to celebrate in a manner, becoming the occasion, and useful to the interests of the country, the remembrance of these remarkable occurrences in its history.

Mr. Legris intends to move for copies of documents respecting the promotion of Mr. George Leclere from the position of Secretary of the Council of Agriculture to that of Director of Agriculture, of this Province.

Mr. Murphy gives notice that he will move that the fee paid on Bill (No. 71), intituled: "An act to authorize the Bar of the Province of Quebec, to admit Lawrence Lynch among its members, after examination," be remitted, less the cost of translation and printing.

Thirteen tons of postage stamps were sold in New York last year, and the big town claims to be the great letterary centre of the country.

The great difficulty about common sense is that it is so tremendously scarce that it isn't common.

A Pekin, China, weekly newspaper has just finished a serial story which contained 2,040 chapters.

A MONSTER INSURANCE COMPANY.—The New York Life Insurance Company, whose advertisement appears in another column of the CHRONICLE, has received during the past year from premiums, interest, rents, etc., no less a sum than $25,401,282.83, while it disbursed to policy holders, for taxes, and all of the thousand and one expenses incident to the carrying on of the business, the amount of $15,489,263 81. The total assets on the 1st of January, 1889, amounted to $93,480,186.55. Its surplus by the New York standard was $13 000 000 00. These figures, we believe, will quite take away the breath of the average reader. The company paid to policy-holders during the twelve months, $10,973,070.05. In order to comprehend what this really means—a distribution of so enormous a sum—let us suppose that it were announced in the daily papers that some very wealthy person had decided and would at once distribute to persons throughout the country the sum of ten millions of dollars to be divided, on an average, in sums of twenty-six hundred dollars. Suppose still further, that this sum was to be distributed where it would do the most good. Suppose it were to be distributed to families whose head and wage-earner had just been taken away by death; to families whose children were in need of not only educational advantages but the necessaries of life. How much praise would be given to a man who would find it in his heart to do so magnificent and beneficent an act! Well, this is just what the New York Life Insurance Company did last year. The average amounts paid out by them to holders of policies would not be far from $2,600, and in thousands of cases the sums paid to holders of policies enabled them to actually keep the wolf from the door. We scarcely any of us expect to be in absolute want; but the fact remains that thousands and thousands of people are really in that condition, and that the payment of a life insurance policy comes at just the time when such financial assistance is absolutely required to prevent absolute want coming to others. The New York Life Insurance Company is a company composed of 129,911 partners in business, and they have a capital invested (insurance at risk) of $419,886,505. All of the profits of the Company go to these partners in the shape of dividends, and every partner is treated with the utmost fairness and consideration. To meet the wants of varying tastes, the New York Life Insurance Company issues a great variety of policies, life, endowment and tontine, and during its career has introduced a great many valuable features in life insurance which commend themselves to any one who investigates them.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

The Spellin' Bee wuz over. I stood close by the sill,
My face ez red ez fire, my toes all in a chill,
Till Susan got her things on, an' came up ter the door,
An' then I crooked my elber-joint an' held it out before.
But Hezekiah Brindle sez, "Permit me, ef ye please !"
A-shovin' in between us, with most amazin' ease.
Then Susie's head went backward, jest ez a robin's might,
Said she, "Thanks !—Si 'll take me !" her eyes a shinin' bright.
So Hezekiah stood quite still, ez meek ez any lamb,
An' soon he softly slid away without a "Thank-ye-Ma'am !"

I stowed her 'neath the buffalers an' wrapped her warm an' tight,
Old Dobbin's bells went jinglin' away inter the night.
I sot ez close 'z I dared ter—an' wished 't was closer yit,
An' whether 'r not we made remarks, I d'clar' I clean fergit !
Fer I sot ther contrivin' what words I ought ter say
Ter win that gal fer my ownest own—never ter go away.
At last I scared up spunk enough an' cleared my throat an' tried ;
"I never seen a prettier night fer takin' a sleigh-ride—
O Sue ! let's ride tergether"—I wuz solemn ez a psalm,
But ez I spoke the sleigh riz up on an awful "Thank-ye-Ma'am !"

Sue toppled, with a leetle screech, an' so I put my arm
Tight round her waist ter hold safe, fer fear she 'd come ter harm.
So then—wal, then—I kissed her. But Susie did n't care !
An' home we went a-zippin' through snow an' frosty air ;
Old Dobbin's bells were ringin' now a sort o' weddin' song
With both the runners j'inin' in, ez we jest flew along.
The old horse showed more speed that night than I 'd 'a' thought he had ;
He seemed ter go like lightnin'—but I was n't very glad.
Soon Sue got down an' kissed her ma ; we parted very calm,
But goin' home my heart jest jumped ez I crossed that "Thank ye-Ma'am !"

Consolation.

When Molly came home from the party to-night,—
The party was out at nine,—
There were traces of tears in her bright blue eyes
That looked mournfully up to mine.

For some one had said, she whispered to me,
With her face on my shoulder hid,
Some one had said (there were sobs in her voice)
That they did n't like something she did.

So I took my little girl up on my knee,—
I am old and exceedingly wise,—
And I said, "My dear, now listen to me ;
Just listen and dry your eyes.

"This world is a difficult world, indeed,
And people are hard to suit,
And the man who plays on the violin
Is a bore to the man with the flute.

"And I myself have often thought,
How very much better 't would be
If every one of the folks that I know
Would only agree with me.

"But since they will not, the very best way
To make this world look bright
Is, never to mind what people say
But to do what you think is right."

—Walter Learned, in St. Nicholas for March.

Ouida on Women's Clubs.

Ouida's main objection to women's clubs is that it will tend to make women selfish.

"The comfortable lounging chair, the ready-cut journals, the well-cooked dishes and the surrounding atmosphere of cheerful gossip will seem much more alluring than the vigil of the sick bed, the fretfulness of the feverish child or the long day alone with books and needlework and household accounts, which is the fate of the woman of the middle classes when her father or her husband is away at his business office, bank or law court. The club, if she have once entered it, will draw her to it as surely as a magnet iron. Opinions may differ as to the good or evil of the effect, but we may be quite sure that Penelope will not be satisfied with her web ever afterwards ; she will find out where her own comfort and convenience lie, and she will go to them."

She regards the movement as an additional evidence of the modern discontent with the home life.

"All amusement and interest must, it is taken for granted, come from without. The schemes for making the working people happy, of which so much is said ad nauseam, are all based on the same lines. They are to be asked out to rich people's drawing rooms or to be drawn, as a swarm of bees is drawn, by the tinkling of pots and pans, about a big organ in a large glass or brickwork building. It never seems to occur to any one that they might by any possibility whatever be happy beside their own hearths."

The Hands of Prominent Women.

Kate Field has the hand of the gypsy.

The eloquence of Mrs. Polk's hand is proverbial.

Clara Morris has a hand so soft that it seems to melt away in your clasp.

Mrs. Hodgson Burnett has an angular hand, not averse to holding the reins.

Lotta has a supple little hand, which always seems as ready to cuff as to caress.

Maude Harrison has a flexible hand, which she uses to effect in the "Widow Brown."

Mrs. Gen. Logan's hand lingers in yours as if seeming to say : "I'm in no hurry to go."

Amelie Rives has a facile hand, more in harmony with the "quick" than the "dead."

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe has a thin, sinewy hand, expressive of great nervous energy.

Fanny Davenport has a fat, chubby hand, covered with cases of dimples and diamonds.

Mrs. Langtry's hand is as delicately veined as a leaf, and makes one loth to part with it after clasping it.

Mrs. James Brown Potter has a slender hand, with shapely digits which are daily manipulated by a manicure.

The hand of Ella Wheeler Wilcox looks as if the good, hard shake of a brawny hand would crush it, bones and all.

Despite its jewels Modjeska's hand shows marks of early struggles. It is a strong hand, however, full of character.

The symmetry of Adelina Patti's hand is lost sight of in its dazzling display of jewels. She spends a fortune in gloves.

When "Marion Harland" puts her plain, honest hand in yours she seems to say : "Here's my hand, and my heart's not far off."

The whiteness of Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson's hands is the envy of all her young acquaintances. It is a hand that would grace a sceptre.

The only marked difference between Sara Bernhardt's hand and a skeleton's is that one is invested with flesh and blood and the other isn't.

Mrs. Frank Leslie has a sensitive hand, whose touch makes the blood bound faster through one's veins. She is authority on the subject of gloves.

Mrs. Commodore Dahlgren has the sort of hands which, if they were a man's, could conquer lions. They are neither large nor small, but forceful.

Miss Frances E. Willard has a good, honest hand, whose hearty grasp seems an echo of the cordial greeting which she bestows on all whom she meets.

Mrs. Benjamin Harrison has a good, motherly hand, made for use. It has been a true and trusty companion in its family relations, chastening as well as caressing.

Mrs Secretary Whitney's hand is as well kept as any woman's in the land, her highly polished nails lending lustre to the precious stones which adorn her shapely fingers.

A manicure to Miss Chamberlain is as great a necessity as a well-fitting gown, and every tiny half-moon on the pink-tinted nails is as jealously preserved as if it were a diamond crescent.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are associated remedies, the former restoring the vital powers when diminished, and always acting as an efficient blood purifier, whilst the latter relieves local maladies, checks inflammation, and acts as a cleansing and healing agent in cases of bad legs, bad breasts, ulcers and unhealthy sores of all kinds.

Fifty deaf mutes participated at a ball at Cincinnati a few night ago, and The Enquirer reports that they danced and enjoyed themselves as though they heard every strain of the music.

RACKED BY INNUMERABLE PANGS, restless by day, sleepless at night, rising unrefreshed in the morning, without appetite, and pestered by varying and perplexing symptoms, the dyspeptic takes indeed a gloomy view of human existence. For him the zest of life seems gone. Heartburn, oppression at the pit of the stomach, and the attendant annoyances of constipation and billiousness, combine to render him utterly wretched. But there is, if he will but take advantage of it, a reliable source of relief from all this misery. NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY and DYSPEPTIC CURE is, as its name imports, a botanic preparation, free from mineral poison, and an all sufficient remedy for indigestion in its most obstinate form. It not only enriches the blood by enabling the digestive organs to convert the food received into nutriment, but depurates it by increasing the action of the bowels and kidneys, the natural outlets for its impurities. But while it relaxes the bowels, it never does so violently and with pain, like a drastic cathartic. It aids, but never forces, Nature, invigorating as well as purifying and regulating the system. It thoroughly removes those diseased humours which tend to irritate the blood, purifies the urinary secretion, and promotes a flow of healthy bile into the natural channel, besides expelling it from the circulation. Experience has proved that this standard medicine is a thorough remedy for dyspepsia, billiousness, costiveness, kidney complaints, scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, lumbago and all impurities of the blood. Price, $1.00. Sample Bottle, 10 cents. Ask for NORTHROP & LYMAN'S Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac-simile of their signature Sold by all medicine dealers

MATICO

GRIMAULT'S VEGETABLE MATICO INJECTION and CAPSULES. Where all other medicines have failed, these preparations are always effective. They insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe, recent, and chronic cases of disease.

They are used in the Hospitals of Paris by the celebrated Dr RICORD, and are found greatly superior to all remedies hitherto known.

ASTHMA, HOARSENESS.—GRIMAULT'S INDIAN CIGARETTES OF CANNABIS INDICA have been tried in the Hospitals and found to give immediate relief in all cases of ASTHMA, NERVOUS COUGHS, HOARSENESS, LOSS OF VOICE, FACIAL NEURALGIA and SLEEPLESSNESS.

CHILDREN'S DISEASES.—GRIMAULT & Co's SYRUP OF IODIZED HORSE RADISH. For twenty years past this medicine, replacing Cod Liver Oil and Antiscorbutic Syrup, has given most remarkable results in the cure of children's maladies. This preparation is the most efficient remedy known for congestion and inflammation of the glands of the neck, mumps, and all eruptions of the skin, head or face. It imparts appetite, gives tone to the tissues, and restores to children their natural vigour and liveliness, and in addition cures paleness and flabbiness of the flesh. It is a perfect medicine against Achors and a most effectual purifier of the blood.

NEW YORK WEEKLY HERALD

IT IS AND WILL CONTINUE TO BE THE Greatest and Cheapest Family Journal IN THE UNITED STATES.

The coming year promises to be crowded with stirring events.

In the United States the entrance of new issues into the political arena has been followed by a change of Administration. But the great economic question on which the campaign turned is still unsettled, and its solution is now committed to a Congress almost equally divided between the two great parties.

Europe is a vast camp. Army corps patrol the frontiers, and millions of men await the signal for the most titanic war the world has ever seen.

The HERALD's news-gathering machinery unequalled. Its correspondents dot the habitable globe. Nothing can escape their vigilance and no expense is spared in spreading the results of their efforts before the HERALD'S readers.

ALL THE NEWS OF AMERICA will be found each week in the HERALD, while its
