West To Defy Red Visa Ban

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet Union today opened a loophole in Western diplomatic restrictions requiring East German visas for civilians travelling to and from isolated West Berlin.

A Russian spokesman said the visa requirement would not apply to diplomats attached to Allied military missions in West Berlin who wished to travel on the main highway and rail link to West Germany.

BERLIN — (AP) — The West made clear today that it will not bow to new Communist travel restrictions imposed to force the Allies to recognize East Germany's Red regime.

East Germany announced Sunday that effective Jan. 1 civilian travellers must have East German instead of Soviet visas to enter and pass through the Russian satellite state.

This could prevent Western government officials from entering West Berlin except by air, since the West has refused to recognize East Germany's Red regime. Under four-power occupation accords, accredited civilians have been able to get Russian visas to travel through East Germany. Air travel to and from Berlin is not subject to Communist checks.

WON'T KNUCKLE UNDER

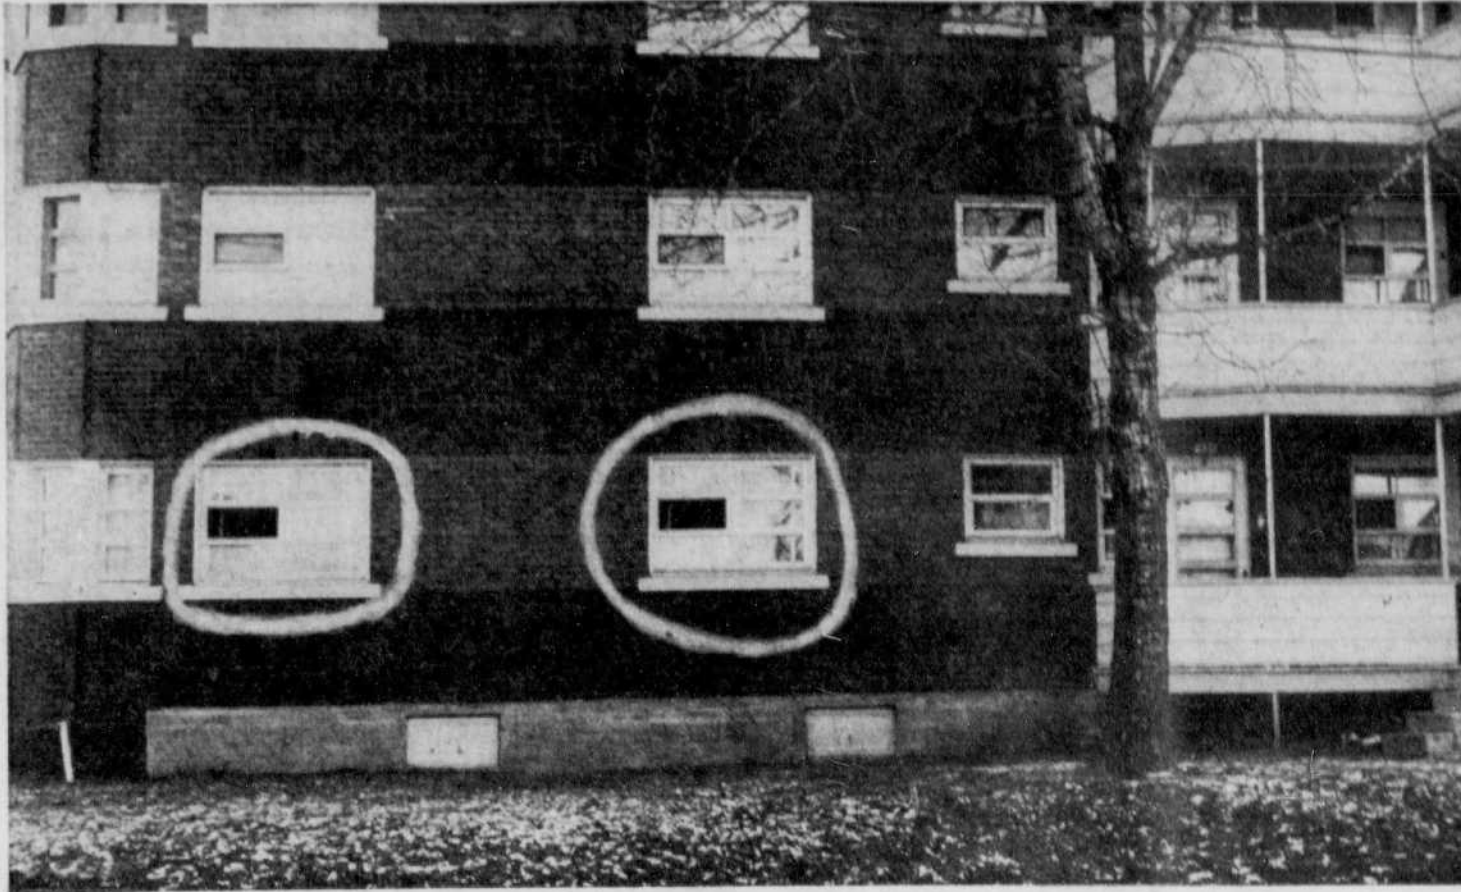

"We have no intention of applying to the East Germans for visas," commented a United States spokesman. Similar reaction came from French and British officials. All plan to protest to the Russians.

Allied diplomats said they were hopeful that the restrictions would apply only to those on trips within East Germany and not on the 110-mile autobahn-rail corridor from West Berlin to the East German border.

The letters the Russians sent to the U.S., British and French consulates declared that "entry and passage through the German Democratic Republic will be possible only through presentation of a valid visa of the German Democratic Republic." Those holding diplomatic and special passports would be required to present such visas.

Civilians of the Western Big Three assigned to the Berlin missions, and their dependents, total about 350.

The Russians for several months have been requiring East German visas of Western tourists and civilians travelling to Berlin on private business. Many of these have travelled by air rather than risk the displeasure of their governments by getting East German permits.

CIRCLES INDICATE ROOMS WHERE MEMBERS OF ERICSON FAMILY WERE FOUND

(See Page 3 for more pictures)

Killed Week Ago By Gas

Unopened presents beneath a Christmas tree were mute evidence of the death of four members of a family in their Marquette street apartment, apparently asphyxiated by carbon monoxide escaping from a refrigerator. They had been dead about a week.

The four victims were: William Ericson, 45, his 42-year-old wife, their nine-year-old son, Ivan, and Mrs. Ericson's mother, Mrs. Ethel Ericson, 80.

They were discovered in their night attire by the apartment caretaker, Gerard Laurencelle, who had become alarmed at an odor coming from under the apartment door.

Calling for police from the central police station next door, Laurencelle opened the door to find Mrs. Ethel Ericson and her grandson dead in the front room. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Ericson were discovered in the bedroom to the rear.

The state of the bodies made it obvious that the four had been dead for several days. Dr. Louis Gagnon, St. Francis district coroner said they had died in their sleep from carbon monoxide poisoning about a week previously.

Laurencelle said he believed the carbon monoxide fumes were generated from faulty generator in the gas-operated refrigerator. He said that when the burner failed to use up all the city-piped gas released, the gas tended to rob the air of its oxygen.

"Mr. Ericson had complained that the refrigerator was not cold enough," Laurencelle declared, "and a repair order had been given but I do not know whether the repairs had been made or not."

NOBODY REALIZED

"Nobody realized that anything was amiss as Ericson had told me last Saturday morning, December 21, that the family was going to Drummondville to spend Christmas with Mrs. Ericson's sister," the caretaker continued.

"Ericson, a pharmacist who has not been working regularly lately, said that they would not go until Monday, as he had some work in a local drugstore on Saturday afternoon and Sunday. When he failed to show up, his prospective employer phoned a couple of times, but when he got no answer thought the family might have left earlier than they planned."

An upstairs neighbour, Mrs. James Plunkett, who was a close friend of the younger Mrs. Ericson, appeared upset when the news was broken.

"I understood they were to go to Drummondville for Christmas," she said, "while we were leaving for Montreal on the Monday morning train."

"I thought they were to leave on Saturday for Drummondville and so I went downstairs to see Mrs. Ericson. No one answered the door. I thought it unusual because she always calls on me before she goes."

"The following day, Sunday morning, I tried the door again, but there was still no answer."

"When we left the apartment Monday, I tried the door again but my husband said they weren't home because no lights were on."

STRONG SMELL

"When we arrived back from Montreal the following Saturday I noticed a very strong smell as soon as we got in. It was not unpleasant but strong. I knew their refrigerator had been causing some trouble and I didn't want to continue on page 5

US Air Force Plans Where And How To Use Ballistic Missiles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States Air Force's constantly revised strategic plans now include detailed arrangements on how and where intermediate-range ballistic missiles would be used in event of war.

The operational plans for both long-range, air-breathing guided missiles and intermediate-range ballistic missiles are understood to have been completed and incorporated in wartime plans of the USAF about six months ago.

This was done even though the IRBM weapons may not become a part of the available arsenal for another year.

The USAF maintains three basic strategic blueprints which cover periods ranging from the next 60 days to as much as 13 years. They are the short-range "wartime capabilities" plan; the "mid-range wartime" plan containing D-Day data up to four years in the future; and the "long-range wartime objectives" plan.

The air-breathing Snark guided missile, with a range of 5,000 miles, now is considered operational by the air force, and units and launching sites are being organized. While the Snark has the range of the still-developmental intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), its speed is below that of sound and its operating altitude down in the earth's atmosphere.

The air force expects the first deliveries of the Thor IRBM, with a maximum accurate range of 1,500 miles, to be made late in 1958. But as part of the forward planning, details for the operational use and command structure of IRBM squadrons have been put into the war-plans folio.

Presumably these details include not only the proposed bases from which IRBMs would be launched, depending on the outcome of negotiations with the NATO countries, but a "target list" like those prepared for operation of manned bombers.

Police, Priest Watch Man Shoot Self

MONTREAL (CP) — Four police officers and a Roman Catholic priest watched helplessly Saturday as Fernand Tremblay, 32, who had locked himself in a car, pointed a pistol at his head and fired.

Police reported that Tremblay, sitting at the wheel of a stolen taxi, slumped over dead. The four officers and Rev. Andre Desautels had talked with him for more than two hours in an attempt to persuade him to come out of the car and surrender.

Constable Andre Denis, on his regular pre-dawn beat, said he spotted the parked car and approached to find the doors locked and a man later identified as Tremblay sleeping inside.

Constable Denis said he rapped on the windshield. The man inside jumped up, brandished a pistol and told the officer to leave. Constable Denis said Tremblay threatened to shoot himself.

After an unsuccessful attempt to persuade Tremblay to give himself up, the constable summoned a patrol car and called Father Desautels, who lived nearby.

The officers, Constable Denis and three from the patrol car, and Father Desautels pleaded and cajoled for two hours, then watched in horror as Tremblay raised the gun to his right temple and pulled the trigger.

Bottle Victim

FRANKLIN, N.C. — Weaver Winkle, 30, was walking along a highway near here Sunday with two friends when he suddenly slumped to the ground unconscious. He awoke in hospital with a broken shoulder. Winkle's companions said he was struck by an empty beer bottle tossed from a passing automobile.

NY Transit Men Vote Strike

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Transport Workers Union has voted to strike throughout the New York City transit system at midnight New Year's Eve if a wage agreement is not reached before that contract deadline.

At a meeting Sunday nearly 5,000 shouting members of Michael J. Quill's independent union unanimously voted to walk out.

Quill told the workers he is "not strike-happy" but declared: "I promised you there will be no extension of the contract on any line."

In its negotiations with the city transit authority the TWU has insisted on a 65-cent hourly increase in a one-year pact. Union negotiators have turned down an offer of 18 cents an hour over a two-year period.

Present subway wages range from $1.79½ an hour for porters to $2.37 for power maintainers.

Negotiations were to resume this afternoon in the offices of the city labor commissioners, Harold A. Felix. Before that, Quill and other members of the union's executive committee were summoned to Brooklyn State Supreme Court to show cause why an injunction against their striking should not be issued.

JAIL IF NECESSARY

Quill said in advance that he would ignore an anti-strike injunction and go to jail if necessary.

"There is enough leadership here to run a strike until hell freezes over. They (the transit authority) are not going to run the subways and powerhouses with an injunction."

"They haven't enough jails to put all of us into. And if they put all of us in jail, they wouldn't have enough transportation to get the jail wardens to work to watch us."

If the TWU follows through on its present threat it can paralyze city transportation. Affected would be the 228 miles of subways, all city-operated bus lines and eight private bus companies plus one in suburban Westchester.

Trout For Paris

PARIS (Reuters) — A Canadian delegation headed by Antoine Rivard, solicitor general of Quebec, arrived here Sunday with a crate of 20 live Canadian trout. The trout are a part of an exhibit on the St. Lawrence valley to be held in a Paris department store.

The Antarctic is crossed frequently by powerful multiple-engine planes. But veteran air men pointed out the difficulties involved in making the 1,600-mile trip in a less-powerful, lighter craft that could be hard hit by the white continent's tricky weather conditions.

Meanwhile, officials here awaited news from the British and New Zealand expeditions trekking by land toward the pole from opposite sides of the continent.

Dr. Vivian Fuchs, leader of the British team attempting the first land crossing of the Antarctic, was last reported 400 to 500 miles from the pole.

HILLARY CLOSER
Sir Edmund Hillary, Mount Everest conqueror, and his fellow New Zealanders were less than 200 miles from it when last heard from and were maintaining the 40-mile daily average since starting Hillary's "hell-bent" drive last Thursday.

Lewis took off from South Ice in the Otter after having been grounded by bad weather for several days following the first leg of the flight from the main Shackleton base 350 miles away. The plane was headed for New Zealand's Scott Base but ice began forming on it after it hit a thick layer of cloud, Lewis reported.

Lewis radioed he could not maintain altitude and "we have decided to return."

Canada Sends Aid To Victims

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP) — Canada, the United States and Britain rushed aid by sea and air today to the flood victims of this tropical island. The subsidizing waters have left 250 dead and 350,000 homeless.

Escorted by two destroyers, the U.S. aircraft carrier Princeton left Singapore early today carrying 170 tons of British food and medical supplies. The mercy convoy, due here Wednesday, is carrying 31 helicopters to ferry supplies to isolated areas.

An RCAF transport plane left Montreal Sunday night carrying supplies of food, powdered milk and medicines following an "urgent request" for aid from the Ceylon government.

Afro-Asian Nations Follow Soviet Line

CAIRO (AP) — Delegates to the African-Asian conference put finishing touches today to resolutions following the broad Soviet line on subjects ranging from nationalization to nuclear weapons.

The question of nationalization first arose during the conference Friday in a speech by the Soviet delegate. The economic committee quickly picked up the theme and was reported ready to adopt a resolution approving governmental appropriation of private property.

An informed source said the resolution, which must be approved by the full conference at its closing business session Wednesday, considers nationalization a "lawful means and a right which is acknowledged for every nation in accordance with the principles of national sovereignty."

THANKS TO SOVIET

Some delegates also have discussed the possibility of a resolution thanking Russia for her offer of economic aid or loans to all African and Asian countries. This was one of the major developments at the conference and the one considered by many observers to present the biggest challenge to the West if the Soviet government follows it through.

In the disarmament committee, chairman Kaoru Yasui of Japan said his group's resolutions would call for withdrawal of all foreign troops, general disarmament and probably a ban on nuclear tests and on export of nuclear weapons.

Yasui said Russian nuclear tests

Insurance adjusters roamed through the debris assessing damage. Businessmen and civic officials said their original estimate of $1,000,000 would probably remain unchanged.

Meanwhile, at least half the affected businessmen made plans to set up at new locations. Some will move into stores vacated in the decline which followed the disaster at Cumberland Railway and Coal Company's Number 4

Detectives Don't Like The Food

HALIFAX — Two Halifax detectives searching for two missing girls Saturday night got an invitation to dine in an unexpected place.

Warily approaching a parked car, one of the detectives threw open the door and was greeted with the smell of fried food.

Before the policeman flashlight in hand, could say a word, the car's occupants, a boy and his girl friend, thrust two containers of Chinese food under his nose and asked: "Have a bite?"

The officer declined; he said he did not like spare ribs.

Red Vote

LONDON (AP) — Elections for the Soviet parliament will be held March 16, Radio Moscow says. The term of the present parliament — known as the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet — expires March 14.

Hard-Luck Town

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (CP) — Mayor Frank Sobey of Stellarton, N.S., representing A. V. Roe Canada Limited, will confer with Mayor Ralph Gilroy today to determine what aid the company can offer the town in its struggle to recover from a disastrous $1,000,000 fire which swept through the business section Friday.

Smoke was still rising from smoldering piles of coal in basements of several burned-out buildings. Sunday. Hundreds of curious motorists stopped to view the wreckage. Insurance adjusters roamed through the debris assessing damage. Businessmen and civic officials said their original estimate of $1,000,000 would probably remain unchanged.

MAKE NEW PLANS
Meanwhile, at least half the affected businessmen made plans to set up at new locations. Some will move into stores vacated in the decline which followed the disaster at Cumberland Railway and Coal Company's Number 4 colliery, which closed after an explosion in November 1956 killed 39 miners.

Stedman's Variety Store, where the fire started late Thursday night, announced it will start anew in the rear of a lodge hall.

Charles J. Allison, editor and publisher of the weekly Springhill Record said he has accepted an offer to use facilities of the Amherst Daily News, 16 miles away.

HELP FROM COMPETITOR
Barber Pat MacLeod said he will be cutting hair again by Tuesday. Leo White, a competitor, has loaned him an extra chair and Elmer Hyatt is making room for him to set up in a section of his china shop.

Thirty-five were left homeless by the fire. They lived in apartments above the stores and in four dwellings that fell before the gale-driven flames. Mayor Gilroy said Sunday housing was no problem. "There are quite a few vacant homes in Springhill."

Salvation Army headquarters in Toronto announced a large quantity of clothing is on its way here. The local Red Cross and Salvation Army have already provided clothing and bedding.

"There is no dire need among these people," Mayor Gilroy said. He took a more optimistic view of the situation than Saturday when he said the catastrophe might be "the last straw."

TAX LOSSES

The town will lose about $12,000 in direct taxation next year, and will probably have to reassess the business area, but "we'll carry on if only half the main street is left," said the chief magistrate—Springhill's 13th.

As junk dealers sifted through the ruins for salvage, the gloom and discouragement that swept over the town after its second major disaster in 13 months appeared to have been shaken off.

One citizen remarked Sunday, "Something else is bound to happen here, and the law of averages says that this time it should be something good."

World News In Brief

ROME (Reuters) — Britain and Italy have signed an agreement for co-operation in the industrial use of atomic energy. It lays down in particular that Britain will supply to Italy, or help Italy obtain from other sources, enough natural uranium for a British-type nuclear power station due to be built in Italy.

TOKYO (Reuters) — Two United States Navy jet fighters crashed into the sea Sunday night off southern Japan. The two pilots bailed out, but only one had been found by this morning.

ALGIERS (P) — French forces today said they killed 26 Algerian rebels and captured a big supply of arms during the weekend. The Arab nationalists hit back with attacks on farms, trains and road traffic.

Norman Case Failed To Hamper US Relations

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada and the United States continued in 1957 to set an example of good neighborliness for a world beset by the fears and prejudices of cold war politics.

Even the strains of the Norman case, which produced diplomatic sparks between Ottawa and Washington for a brief period last spring, failed to disturb the easy-going relationship between two nations often described as the best neighbors in the world.

The election last June of a Progressive Conservative government in Canada stirred sharp interest here, with some U.S. observers wondering if its pro-British tendencies might hamper co-operation, but the months rolled by with little effect on diplomatic, cultural and commercial exchanges between the two.

The new government sent a cabinet committee here to discuss with the U.S. government Canada's worries over U.S. wheat disposal policies and its chairman, Finance Minister Donald Fleming, later told reporters Canada in the future would have "much less to complain about."

INTERESTS DIFFER
Canada's preoccupation with the towering deficit she suffered in her American trade drew little attention in the U.S., where interest was concentrated on the strength of the Canadian dollar, developments in industry and natural resources and the investment possibilities north of the border.

However, with what may be an awakening of congressional interest in Canada, the House foreign affairs committee in December sent one of its members, Congressman Frank Coffin of Maine, to Ottawa and Montreal to evaluate Canadian complaints about U.S. policies. Coffin will make another trip north early in the new year.

Defence co-operation continued at a high level with the signing of an agreement to pool operational command of Canadian and American air defences, with an American as chief and a Canadian, Air Marshal C. R. Slemon, 53, of Ottawa, as his deputy. Details still are being worked out. Headquarters for the new integrated command are in Colorado Springs, Colo.

NORMAN IMPASSE

Relations between the two countries were placed under their greatest strain in years last March when a U.S. Senate investigating sub-committee sought to label Dr. E. Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt, as a Communist. Norman, who had been cleared by the Canadian government when the sub-committee aired the same charges in 1951, committed suicide two weeks later.

Canada fired off several diplomatic protests to Washington over proposals to raise tariffs, including one, still pending at the year-end, to increase the duty on imports of lead and zinc. The U.S., for its part, urged Canada to remove a tax imposed last January on the advertising revenues of Canadian editions of U.S. magazines.

John Diefenbaker, Canada's new prime minister, conferred briefly with President Eisenhower in October when he visited Washington with Queen Elizabeth during her royal visit. Diefenbaker would say later only that they discussed "matters of mutual interest."

Joint construction of the St. Lawrence seaway, scheduled to open in the spring of 1959, proceeded smoothly but the two countries were unable to reach agreement in several meetings on methods of using, to the best advantage of both countries, the waters of rivers which flow across the international boundary.

He was one of nine children, and four brothers survive him. They are Herbert, of Laconia, N.H., Henry of Boston, Mass., Heber and Raymond, of Lennoxville.

More Insight Needed By News Reporters

MONTREAL (CP) — Reporters must have a deeper insight into social and political matters as society grows more complex, president Charles H. Peters of the Montreal Gazette said Saturday.

In an address, closing the Canadian University Press conference, he urged college graduates to enter journalism, saying better-trained newspaper men were needed to meet competition from other media.

The McGill Daily News was host paper to the conference here last week.

The University of Western Ontario Gazette of London, Ont., was awarded the Southam Trophy for all-round technical excellence among Canadian English-language university newspapers published more than twice a week.

Le Quartier Latin of the University of Montreal won Le Droit Trophy for excellence among French-language college newspapers for the second consecutive year.

The Bracken Trophy for the best editorial writing went to the University of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver.

Two Unhurt In Bischopton Crash

The occupants of a truck loaded with lumber escaped uninjured Saturday when their machine collided with a Quebec Central Railways diesel engine at the Bischopton level crossing.

The driver Fernand Roy, of St. Evariste, attempted to cross the tracks but jammed on his brakes when the train was near. He was unable to stop the vehicle in time and it crashed into one of the two diesel locomotives pulling the Quebec bound passenger train.

The passenger in the truck was thrown from the cab on impact but was uninjured. The truck was a complete loss. The train was delayed for about an hour and was later pulled away by the second diesel locomotive.

Search Party Finds Youth Unharmful But Suffering From Cold

After 13 hours spent in wandering in the woods off Galt St., west near the illuminated cross, Jacques Prince, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Maurice Prince, of 1354 Breboeuf street, was found about 1:30 yesterday morning by two members of a search party which had tramped through the wooded section for over eight hours. Aside from the ravages of cold and exposure, the youth was little the worse for his experience.

According to the story told the rescuers, Norbert Bergeron and Arthur Robillard, Prince went into the woods about noon for a hike, but darkness overtook him before he was able to make the return journey.

Apparently he walked in circles, as he was found near the St.

Catherine Road, less than a mile from where he entered the woods near his home.

He said that several times he had seen flashlight reflections and heard searchers talking but that he could not shout loud enough to attract their attention.

The first search party was organized when the boy failed to return for supper and was reinforced by volunteers during the evening. An appeal over the local T.V. station at 11 p.m. brought another 50 searchers to the hunt headquarters located in Magasin du Rosaire on Notre Dame du Rosaire street, while several calls were received telling of other parties going into the woods independently.

Plans were made for a contingent of Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke to start searching at daybreak Sunday, but these were called off when the boy was found.

Warren Gale Waterville Resident Was Silversmith

The death occurred on Friday, December 27, in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, of Warren Gale, a lifelong resident of Waterville. He was in his 34th year.

Mr. Gale was a coppersmith and silversmith by trade, and operated his own business from his home. He spent his leisure time working with Waterville scout and cub.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Warren Gale, Sr., the former Vera Hopkinson, a sister, Mrs. John Cotgrave (Margaret) of Vancouver, B.C., and two nieces, Janet and Barbara Cotgrave of Vancouver.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 p.m. today from Waterville United Church, and interment will take place in Waterville.

Firmness Only Hope

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, in reporting on the NATO summit conference, dealt with the probability that his hearers might have been a little surprised to read so many reports of military strength and military preparations in connection with a gathering whose object was to ensure peace.

The reason behind such discussions, explained Mr. Diefenbaker, was that two wars had come in our time through under-estimation of the ability — and the will — of the democracies to fight if necessary. The leaders of the free world were resolved that no doubt should be left, opening the door to war, a third time.

This has been the corner-stone of American policy, in particular, since the Communist threat has become obvious. It has involved preparedness for the conflict that all hope may never come and fair notification of this preparedness to the possible enemy. This policy has called for another step, one which was not taken with sufficient force and clarity before World War I and World War II: that is, the clear laying down of enemy moves which would make war inevitable.

The United States has been blamed lately, even by some of its prominent citizens, for sabre-rattling and for having a war psychosis. Yet those who know the Americans know that few peoples would naturally be more reluctant to resort to war and especially at a time when science has made sure that its horrors would be appalling.

Adolf Hitler once expressed the thought that one stout-hearted man with a cudgel is the equal of four men with revolvers who don't dare use them.

He thought, even when he ordered the invasion of Poland, that the Western powers wouldn't dare. But they did.

Western strength — and will — must be made very clear today. Otherwise, the gambles in the Kremlin would not hesitate to take chances. Sabre-rattling it may be called but it represents the firmness which embodies the only hope for peace.

Job For An Expert

There is a dearth of blacksmiths in the United States and Canada. Young men generally appear to look askance at the trade preferring the more sociable life of factories, stores and offices and a regular pay-check to jobs that are intermittent. Besides, the blacksmith's task is an exacting one. It calls for a high degree of skill and patience as well as the traditional strong right arm.

Yet for youths who like horses and don't mind hard work, who cherish their independence and value the outdoor life, smithing still offers inducements and there is a surprising number of horses left on the farms and even in cities. Nor are women ruled out: a woman smithy claims they are better, perhaps having more intuition and sympathy, than the men.

But nailing a shoe on a horse, some people will think, must be easy. Easy? In the old days an apprenticeship was known to run to 15 years. There are 150 varieties of shoe and only an expert always knows the right kind for the particular animal and the particular work.

Just how much horny matter should be removed takes careful appraisal. It is easy to give a horse a poor fitting and, say experts, there are too many poor fittings. These amateur efforts often result in injury to the horse and more often in prolonged discomfort.

If an owner has any doubts at all about the shoeing job a veterinary or a blacksmith should be consulted.

Press Comment

AFTER CAPE CANAVERAL

(Vancouver Province)

All right, so we've all had our fun over the dudnik, phitnik, flopnik or whatever you want to call the American satellite that didn't. And now it's time to stop laughing.

The floodlight of publicity in which that rocket blew itself to pieces at Cape Canaveral has done a monstrous disservice to the United States because it has made it lose face in a world in which face is exaggeratedly important today.

However, the fact remains that the United States is still the leader of the Western alliance. Under a sick, indecisive, part-time president the leadership may be tenuous; but in dollars, productive capacity, manpower and every other statistical measure the big power on our side of the fence is still American.

And it may just possibly be that Cape Canaveral will prove a turning point—at once a bottom dead centre for the United States and a cathartic for the alliance as a whole.

For the Americans it should sweep away the last traces of the anything-they-do-we-can-do-better mentality of the last decade and start the process of tempering by adversity through which nations come to humility but also to real greatness.

For the alliance—if the members are wise—it will mean the end of bickering and the start of a greater frankness in the exchange of their views.

As the smoke clears from Cape Canaveral the alliance is still there, and it is still mighty. It still has the great bulk of the world's wealth and productive capacity and, more importantly, it still has its freedom and the essential decency of its motives.

With American leadership in the past it has done great things: through the Marshall plan the reconstruction of Europe; through the Truman doctrine the salvation of Greece and the maintenance of peace in the late 1940's; through quick American intervention in Korea—also under Mr. Truman—the checking of Communist aggression in Asia; through the Eisenhower doctrine the maintenance of peace of a sort in the Middle East.

MASTER PLANNERS

(Chicago Daily News)

The Russians, whose scientific achievements have tended to drape them in the robes of "master race" discarded by the Nazis, have not mastered the knack of feeding themselves. Reports are that they have suffered a crop failure of catastrophic proportions, forecasting an acute shortage of wheat, feed grains and cotton.

Such a disaster could shake the confidence of the people in the infallibility of the master planners, and probably would if the masses knew whom to blame. Since they won't, Khrushchev is probably safe—so long as he refrains from saying, "Let 'em eat sputniks."

QUEEN STUMPED

(Bell News)

Here's a story heard on the Dorothy and Dick radio broadcast from New York City Monday night, October 21, during the celebration for Queen Elizabeth.

It seems that during the tour, the Queen and her husband had become quite good at identifying ribbons and insignia displayed by the people they met—most of them being military and governmental awards. Reporters say that the Royal couple were seldom unable to identify even the most obscure insignia.

Then in Ottawa, they walked past a line of people—admiring their ribbons, etc.—until they came upon one man who displayed among other things, a small insignia in his lapel. The Queen and Prince were intrigued, for while they could identify the other decorations, the small insignia had them stuck and they inquired about it with great interest.

"Oh, Your Majesty," the man said, when asked, "That's for 30 years with the telephone company!"

SMART GEESE.

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record.)

At least two farmers, living at widely separated places in the United States, have ganders which they claim tend sheep. In each, the big bird leads the flock to water, then returns it to pasture.

Like their domesticated brothers, the free, high-flying wild geese that go honking down the sky at the season's turn rate high in intelligence. They carefully inspect the ground for possible danger before landing, and while feeding post sentinels.

A farm goose does a good job of weeding crops. It is also valuable after the harvest season is over. Feathers and down are marketable, and roast goose for Christmas rivals the turkey as a table tradition.

A MOUSE IN THE HOUSE!

(Winnipeg Tribune)

While we don't put much stock in the theory that an elephant is afraid of a mouse, there is no question about the reaction you get when you inject human beings. And it's an odds-on bet that the ones with the henpecked husbands will emit the loudest screams.

At Education Conferences

Teacher Shortage Main Problem

By LUC SICOTTE

MONTREAL (CP)—Two major conferences on education — one national and the other provincial—are to be held in February. The national meeting—The Canadian Conference on Education—is to be held at Ottawa Feb. 17-20. It is sponsored by 19 national organizations representing parents, teachers, businessmen and workers.

The provincial meeting is to be held at the University of Montreal Feb. 6-8. It is sponsored by the provincial Chambre de Commerce, the Federation of St. Jean Baptiste Societies dedicated to the promotion of French-Canadian interests, and other groups.

The conferences are not connected, although some Quebec delegates to the national meeting are members of groups sponsoring the provincial meeting. The dates of the latter conference would be known to those attending the Ottawa meeting.

The Ottawa conference is expected to take a close look at the shortage of teachers. It is estimated Canada needs an additional 9,000 teachers. It also will consider the rapid growth of the school population — an estimated 38,000 additional classrooms will be needed within 10 years. The conference will seek solutions, draft plans and make recommendations.

Organizers of the national conference have indicated they will welcome hearing about the findings of the Quebec conference and have extended it their good wishes.

George G. Croskey, director of the Ottawa conference, said recently the meeting will not infringe upon government responsibilities in the field of education. But it would probably submit its findings to proper authorities, including governments, through various resolutions.

"We would have called a conference on educational problems at the provincial level, Ottawa meeting or not," said Roger Cyr, organizer - general for the St. Jean-Baptiste Federation.

"But it is a fact federation members—they number approximately 165,000—and other groups feel it would be a good thing if French-Canadian thinking on educational matters was stated clearly before the Ottawa conference."

Quebec will certainly profit from many conclusions arrived at in Ottawa, said Mr. Cyr, especially in the field of new technological aids to mass education and others.

"But don't forget that nine Canadian provinces may well share certain common problems the solution of which need not necessarily apply to French-speaking Quebec and its completely different educational system."

The theme of the service was "What do we think of when we think of the first Christmas?" The leader was Cedric Bailey Jr. and the answers were given by Albert Whitehead Jr., Robert Eldridge, Brenda Hamelin, Marcia, Chappell and Beverly Johnson.

Melba Boyce read the Christmas Story from the Gospel according to St. Luke. Marion Boyce recited an appropriate verse during the lighting of the candles. The candle-bearer during the procession was Doria Cadarette who also lighted the altar candles. Other children helping with the singing were, Peter Eldridge, Terry Willard and Darleen Johnson.

The church was beautifully decorated for the Christmas season with mums and a poinsettias on the altar and green wreaths decorating the choir stalls.

The Doctor Says

Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

CONTINUING COUGH CAN LEAD TO SERIOUS BRONCHIECTASIS

There is no doubt whatever that the condition known as bronchiectasis is both a common and a serious medical problem.

Mrs. J. W. writes that her son has this trouble as a result of asthma. The doctor, she says, states that the condition is serious but is only in the early stage.

This is encouraging, but, of course, the asthma (which presumably caused the bronchiectasis) must be treated by every means available.

Bronchiectasis is a condition in which the small pockets in the lungs which are normally filled with air when a person breathes are broken down, enlarged and filled with mucus fluid or semi-solid material. It is commonly the result of a long-continued cough left over from bronchial pneumonia, lung abscess, or similar infections in the breathing system. Asthma, too, is an important cause.

The symptoms of bronchiectasis are generally like those of any other irritation of the lungs. Chronic cough, usually with the bringing up of a fairly heavy mucus sputum, sometimes having a foul odor, is common.

The diagnosis depends on special examinations, including X-rays. Also, the use of a remarkable instrument called a bronchoscope is frequently helpful.

Once bronchiectasis has been diagnosed treatment should not be long delayed. Of course, the first step is to see if the condition which produced the bronchiectasis is still active and to use whatever means are possible to attack the underlying cause. The earlier this is done the better.

The medical treatment of established bronchiectasis has not been highly successful until recently. However, penicillin or its antibiotic relatives, if given early enough, seems to be helpful.

The question of climate often comes up. Many victims of bronchiectasis would benefit from residing in a warm, dry climate, if possible. However, an extremely high altitude is probably undesirable for someone with bronchiectasis since it puts an additional strain on the heart and lungs.

Surgery is the preferred treatment for many of those with bronchiectasis, especially when the condition is advanced. The part of the lung affected with bronchiectasis can be removed by surgery pretty successfully and this has undoubtedly saved many lives. For those who are unfortunate enough to have developed an advanced type of bronchiectasis surgery offers the only good means of restoring health.

Since bronchiectasis results from a long-continued cough of almost any origin, prevention by correcting such a situation early is highly desirable.

Spring Skirts Will Rise Says Designer Lempereur

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS (CP)—"Next spring, the skirts will go higher, like this. After that, maybe I will drop them and we will have another new style."

Lempereur laughed. He appeared to be enjoying his work.

A handsome man of 56, he is the fashion czar for teen-agers around the world. In his chic Paris salon, his designers turn out patterns which manufacturers eagerly buy for mass production of young women's clothes.

$2,000,000 IN YEAR

Out of 150 designs, Lempereur last year earned about $2,000,000. Manufacturers pay him $150 a pattern as well as five per cent of sales. Sleek, swivel-hipped young models, some of the prettiest teen-agers of Paris, show off the latest fashions to buyers.

Lempereur's spring styles now are out. And on one of the prettiest models, he showed just how skirts are going higher.

"They reach almost to the knee," he said, kneeling before the model. "If the girl puts a belt around the dress, like this, then the skirt goes even a little higher almost right to the knee."

"I don't think skirts will go any higher. It would not look

Birds, Cats Win Over Dogs As British Pets

LONDON (CP)—It's enough to make a dog sink away with his tail between his legs. Britain, long renowned as a nation of dog lovers, is transferring its affections to cats and birds.

A report published by Political and Economic Planning, a statistical organization, shows there are 6,000,000 caged birds, mainly budgies, in the United Kingdom. 5,200,000 cats and 3,700,000 dogs. The U.K. has slowly changed its attitude towards Rover since the end of the Second World War. In 1947 there were only 600,000 caged birds. By 1954 the number was 3,000,000 and it has doubled in the last three years.

BLAME COSTS

The cost of keeping a dog, even a small one, is high. An Alsatian or boxer may cost as much as 30 shillings a week for food alone. Budgies are inexpensive tenants and bird seed, their main meal, is cheap.

The vast increase in the number of flats in recent years has made it difficult to accommodate Rover. The cramped space is hard on him and some landlords refuse to have dogs in the building at all.

So tenants turn to a bird, which doesn't need to be exercised and won't annoy the neighbors.

Other reasons for the popularity of budgies are their ability to talk and the fact that they don't need as much attention as a dog.

While caged birds have stolen a decisive march on the dog population, cats have remained on an even plain of popularity. Though more expensive to keep than budgies, cats are cheaper and less demanding than dogs. And, like birds, they don't need a licence.

New Wing Dedicated

Bedford Hospital Holds Open House

BEDFORD — On the occasion of the opening of the new wing of Notre Dame du Rosaire Hospital, open house was held by the members of the hospital staff, which was largely attended. The hospital was bright with Christmas decorations and many baskets of lovely flowers from friends.

Following the blessing of the new wing by Father Cournoyer and the cutting of the ribbon by Mayor J. O. Levesque, the guests were taken on a tour of the new premises, which will accommodate 24 patients. In addition there is an up-to-date lab and X-ray equipment, which is in charge of lab technician, Mr. Turgeon, of St. John's, who has recently taken up his new duties.

Other improvements include an operating room with oxygen, a doctor's room, two labor rooms and two large sun rooms. There is an up-to-date nursery, with incubators and all needed equipment.

The colours used throughout the 38-room building are pastels, soft grey being used for the halls, while the rooms are done in various shades, all pleasing to the eye.

At present the hospital has a capacity of 50 beds for adults and 20 for babies, with a staff of nine, under the direction of Mrs. Lagace, a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, Sudbury, Ont., and 11 doctors on the staff.

The present modern hospital, is the outcome of the small hospital opened in July 1950, at 60 Church Street. Following the building of the new convent for the Sisters of St. Joseph, the old convent was acquired and in August-16, 1952, the new quarters were occupied. Since that time, up to the present month, 1,644 babies have been born in the institution.

CUTTING THE RIBBON — Mayor J. O. Levesque cuts the ribbon at the official opening of the new wing of Notre Dame du Rosaire Hospital at Bedford. Beside him is Mrs. R. Lagace, who heads the hospital staff. At the back, from the left, are J. J. Bertrand, M.L.A., Joseph Deslors, M.P., and Father Cournoyer, who blessed the new building.

The hospital, of brick construction, is a modern fireproof building. The contractors were Methe Brothers of Bedford.

Following the opening of the new wing, tea was served, after which Mayor Levesque spoke of the great interest taken by the English-speaking population of the town, and congratulated Mrs. Lagace on the new addition. Father Cournoyer spoke of the excellent work being done by Mrs. Lagace and congratulated her on the results attained.

Rev. W. J. White, rector of St. James Church, spoke of the courtesy and kindness extended to him in visiting patients in hospital, of the great service the hospital is rendering to the town, and concluded with good wishes for continued prosperity.

On behalf of the hospital, Mrs. Lagace wishes to express thanks

Joseph Deslors, of Sutton, M.P., Brome-Missisquoi, congratulated Mrs. Lagace on the splendid achievement in expanding hospital to meet the ever-growing needs of the community.

J. J. Bertrand, of Sweetsburg, M.L.A., for Missisquoi, spoke of the help it would be to the hospital, if a corporation were formed, thereby removing a great load from Mrs. Lagace's shoulders, as federal and provincial grants would then be available. He expressed the hope that this would soon take place.

Dr. Robert Orr spoke on behalf of the medical profession, stressing the benefits to both patients and physicians in having such adequate hospital facilities available in the town.

Comic Spoofs Nfld. But Is Widely Read

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — A collarless, moustached comic-strip character, who left school at the age of 10 to become a fisherman, has won the hearts of thousands of Newfoundlanders who seem to laugh hardest when laughing at themselves.

Nobody knew how Uncle Mose would be received when he dragged his outport cronies into the pages of The Evening Telegram last January. "We launched him with some misgivings," says editor Steve Herder.

Mose was not like the usual comic-strip personality. His favorite garb was overalls, a collarless shirt and peaked cap. Complete with local accent he was a take-off of a typical outport resident.

LOVABLE CRONIES

His cronies added to the fantasy. There was buxom, hard-working Aunt Sophie, complete with print dress and matrimony in mind; happy-go-lucky Jethro Noddy, who boasts the smallest house and largest family in Pigeon Inlet; homey and hospitable grandma and grandpa Walcott; and skipper Joe who owns a schooner but gave up fishing "because I was beginning to feel more and more like a mouse every summer . . . the harder I gnawed, the further I went into the hole." Fishermen throughout the province laughed at Joe's plight—his failure to get a good price for his catch was also their own.

Mose and his friends wander from one local situation to another and occasionally become entangled in provincial affairs. Each panel also gently pokes fun at the outport way of life. "If the strip occasionally tells a little and appreciation to the doctors for their co-operation, to the patients and their families for their understanding, to the religious and civic authorities for their encouragement and generosity, to those who have contributed to the hospital equipment and furniture, for the help of the hospital's excellent staff over the years, and to assure all, that the friendly atmosphere prevailing in the hospital will continue.

FRELIGHSBURG —

The children of the local school held their Christmas tree in the B.S.M. Church Hall on Friday evening, December 20th at eight o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Inez Blinn and Miss M. Hauver. The Christmas tree was gaily decorated with presents for the teachers and pupils. Rev. H. J. Isaacs acted as Master of Ceremonies for the occasion. After the children sang Christmas carols, and presented a play in French, Santa visited the hall and gave out the presents and a bag of candy to each child, wishing every one a Merry Christmas, and hoping to see all again next year.

Miss Betty Ann Soule of Dolbeau, Quebec, is spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvo W. Soule, before returning to Dolbeau to finish this term of school. Betty Ann is in Grade 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boast and children, Peter and Kathy were in Richmond recently visiting Mr. Boast's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Boast.

Hong Kong Vulnerable To Chinese Invasion

HONG KONG (AP)—A question often asked by newcomers to this British crown colony is: "Will the Chinese Communists take Hong Kong?"

Most oldtimers here will reply: "No, at least not now or for some years to come."

"Hong Kong may be living on borrowed time," says one long-time resident, "but right now it's more valuable to the Communists the way it is."

For the Chinese reds, flourishing Hong Kong is a source of hard money, a trading post, a listening post and its only door to the Western world.

Both the British who govern the island and resident foreigners readily concede that the Communists would have no trouble, militarily, in seizing Hong Kong from its small British garrison.

"They wouldn't have to do much more than make a few phone calls," is the usual, half-serious comment.

The Peiping-owned Bank of China is the colony's biggest structure (although soon to be topped by an 18-storey British bank).

The Chinese Communists publish three newspapers here, operate a government purchasing agency and a government travel agency as well as run several schools and numerous retail shops.

Nevertheless, there is little doubt that the dominant sentiment among Hong Kong's 2,500,000 Chinese is anti-Communist. Not the least of the anti-Communists are the 700,000 refugees who fled Red rule in the last nine years.

Last Oct. 1, on the Chinese Communist anniversary, there were many Red flags in evidence. But 10 days later on the Nationalist Chinese anniversary—Double Ten Day—there were many more Nationalist banners.

In the three days of Kowloon Street rioting between pro- and anti-Communist during October last year, it became clear that the Chinese population was heavily on the anti-Communist side.

Hong Kong businessmen—generally conceded to be among the world's sharpest—are gambling that the Reds won't move in for at least a decade.

INVESTING HEAVILY

They are investing heavily in new trading companies and industrial enterprises, notably the fast-growing textile industry.

For the last year, the colony has been undergoing a building boom which is still in full swing. New apartment houses and business structures are going up at an unprecedented rate. Building speculators can put up an apartment house which will return their investment in five years and thereafter yield at 25 per cent profit each year.

In bustling, thriving Hong Kong, a threat of aggression from its big neighbor to the north seems—at the moment—a distant worry.

Sunday School Christmas Party Held At Birchton

BIRCHTON — The staff of the Sunday School were hosts to some 40 children of the Community, at a well-planned Christmas party in the Birchton Hall. The children had a wonderful time with games, music and readings on the Christmas theme until time came for Santa to arrive.

In spite of the long journey, the rotund, jolly gentleman was able to arrive on time and gladden the hearts of each youngster with presents from the well-laden tree.

When bedlam had somewhat subsided, the gathering repaired to the dining hall, where youthful appetites made short work of a bounteous lunch at the decorated and well-laden tables.

CHRISTMAS CLUB

The Christmas Club held its annual Christmas Tree and social evening in the hall. Some 65 members and friends of the Club enjoyed a social evening of cards, crokinole, and social visiting until ten o'clock, when they were invited to gather in to the loaded lunch tables.

Presents were distributed from the gaily decorated tree by ladies of the organization, lacking the appearance of Santa, who, no doubt, found difficult sledding due to the unprecedented thaw.

Rev. J. A. H. Plowright, thanked the ladies of the Club for their splendid gesture toward Community and Christmas Cheer.

Give-Away Program Tops On Danish TV

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—The most-talked-about man in Denmark today is a 35-year-old accountant, Stig Andersen.

Thanks to his hobby, stamp collecting, he soared overnight from the relative obscurity of the Copenhagen tax department to the full glare of nation-wide publicity.

By correctly answering seven questions on stamps on the Danish state television network's Double or Quits quiz program, Andersen became the nation's first quiz star and winner of 10,000 crowns ($1,450), the highest sum so far awarded on a TV quiz show here.

Double or Quits has registered a success unequalled by any other form of entertainment in Denmark and restaurants, legitimate theatres and movie houses have reported "catastrophic" drops in attendance since the quiz program was launched Oct. 20.

SLOW START

Danish television made a hesitant start and by early 1956 only about 1,000 licences had been registered. From then on, however, interest in TV rose steeply and the 100,000th licence was issued at the beginning of November this year.

Denmark's 4,500,000 inhabitants now are believed to be so "television bitten" that the figure will reach 600,000 in the next six years.

The anxiety felt by other branches of entertainment about this development has been brought to a head by falling attendances during the Sunday quiz show.

Eight of Copenhagen's 10 legitimate theatres now have announced that they intend to abandon evening performances of these days and give instead two matinees.

The chairman of the Private Theatres Association, Thorvald Larsen, recently declared that a "collapse of theatre" might easily follow in the wake of the TV boom.

The chairman of the Copenhagen branch of the Danish Cinema Owners' Association, Harry Frandsen, takes a similarly gloomy view of the situation facing the movie theatres. Copenhagen movie houses, he says, only have 25 per cent of their normal attendance on quiz nights.

Most restaurants also report a big slump in business.

Officers Elected By Abbotsford Mission Group

ABBOTSFORD — The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Coates. The president, Mrs. Walter Bowley, presided and opened the meeting with prayer followed by a Scripture reading.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Collins Vintinner, the minutes were read by Mrs. Jack MacKenzie. A letter was read from Mrs. Martin, Presbyterian supply secretary, regarding a special requisition. A letter of thanks was also read from the Overseas Relief Committee for the parcel the members sent.

Miss Muriel Marshall, supply secretary, then gave a report on the supply work done during the year and also voiced a sincere vote of thanks to Miss Florence Jackson for her many years of faithful assistance. It was unanimously agreed to send Miss Jackson a vote of appreciation and a plant.

The convenor of the nominating committee, Miss Marshall, read the slate of officers for the coming year as follows: Honorary President, Mrs. A. H. Rowell; honorary vice-president, Miss Muriel Marshall; president, Mrs. Collins Vintinner; vice-president, Mrs. Jack MacKenzie; secretary, Mrs. Jack MacKenzie; assistant secretary, Mrs. Robert Crossfield; treasurer, Mrs. William Watson.

The retiring president, Mrs. Bowley, thanked the ladies for their kind support during her term of office and asked for their continued co-operation with the new president.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

W.I. MEETING

The Christmas meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. William Rayson with the president, Mrs. Gordon Coates presiding. The secretary, Mrs. William Watson, read the minutes.

A choir of little girls sang Christmas carols, which were greatly enjoyed. A very appropriate Christmas story was read by Mrs. Fred Crossfield.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Libya Moves Government To City 600 Miles Away

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—The roving government of Libya has just moved itself, lock, stock and filling cabinet 600 miles east to Bengasi.

The trek started in September. Now only a few federal operations remain behind. The royal palace and most government offices in Tripoli are bare.

The Libyan constitution designates Tripoli and Bengasi as co-capitals, with the government to alternate between the two each year.

Actually the government has not held to this schedule. This last move is only the third since the country was set up as an independent nation under United Nations auspices six years ago.

WYNYARD, Sask. (CP)—Emile Unterschute and Alf Dodge were driving home from an unsuccessful hunting trip when a moose jumped on the hood of their truck. As the damaged truck stopped, the moose disappeared.

The business of having two capitals compromised a dispute over which city should be the country's capital.

Tripoli, population 145,000, is more than twice as big as Bengasi. It has the best port and is the country's chief commercial centre. It is also the capital of Tripolitania, most populous of three states that make up modern Libya.

But Tripoli is associated with the Italian occupation of Libya. King Idris prefers Bengasi. This city of 60,000 is the capital of the state of Cyrenaica, the territory from which Idris and his Sanusi tribesmen sprang.

On the coastal highlands lying east of Bengasi, the king is building a brand new capital at Beida. This may become the one and only capital—or another stop on the government's circuit.

Thus far the only embassy to follow the government to Bengasi is that of the Soviet Union. The Western nations remain in Tripoli.

For all my customers and friends I pray to God to grant them a New Year of health and happiness.

AP Correspondents Expect Trouble For West In Coming Year

Editor's Note: How will it be in '58? Ten Associated Press correspondents in key observation posts around the world were asked to report the outlook. In general they expect plenty of trouble for the West. Here are their observations.

SOVIET UNION

By Harold K. Mills
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union will enter the new year with its cold war opponents on the defensive in several ways.

Soviet scientific and engineering achievements in launching the first earth satellites and the intercontinental ballistic missile, backed by the apparent political unity of the Communist world, make 1958 look like a tough year for the West.

Politically, the Kremlin has emerged from a series of Middle East crises as the seeming friend of Arab nationalists and the protector of the Egyptian - Syrian bloc. It has lost no friends in the so-called neutral bloc.

For the first time, Communist leaders feel they are able to bargain within or without the United Nations from a position of political, scientific and military strength.

WESTERN EUROPE

By Tom Ochiltree
LONDON (AP) — Britain and Western Europe expect an uneasy world peace to prevail in 1958.

But the realization is growing that peace can be maintained only by vigilance, greater co-operation and greater productive effort.

All these countries look to the United States for leadership and all hope that American prosperity and productive power will stand the strain.

The peoples of much of Western Europe are living better than ever before but they still are beset by many economic problems.

France faces a year of labor unrest. A 20 per cent devaluation of the franc has sent prices skyrocketing. The rebellion in Algeria still drains away manpower and money.

Italy, Spain and Portugal face an old problem common to all — how to raise the standard of living.

Belgium, with a world's fair opening in April, expects a business and tourist boom.

GERMANY, SCANDINAVIA

By Richard O'Regan
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will be 82 in 1958. As long as he remains active in mind and body and runs the government, West Germany will remain in firm alignment with the West.

If sickness or death should overtake him, there will be strong currents toward West German military neutralization. Many Germans feel the time has come for Russia and the West to pull out their troops.

As long as the country is divided, East Germany will push its plans to become the No. 2 industrial power in the Soviet bloc.

Economically, West Germans will continue to enjoy the greatest boom in their history. The country is on the way to solving its immense post-war housing shortage.

In Denmark, Norway and Sweden, there are trends toward political conservatism. Sweden, which kept out of NATO, is expected to decide to acquire or build atomic weapons for defense.

EASTERN EUROPE

By Richard Kasichke
VIENNA (AP) — The chances of more independence for Russia's East European satellites are in 1958 just about nil.

Moscow's hold over Eastern Europe, sorely strained by the 1956 upheavals in Poland and Hungary, has been tightened. Nikita Khrushchev, victorious over Kremlin rivals for party power and basking in the glow of Soviet baby moons, now may make things even harder for the satellite peoples.

Hungary again is in subjugation to a Moscow puppet regime; it is still arresting and putting to death leaders of the rebellion crushed by Soviet troops more than a year ago. Nine Russian divisions still stand guard, and the Hungarian people seem likely to have to endure yet another year of despair.

In Poland, neither free nor in subjugation, the liberties won in 1956 are evaporating slowly. Czechoslovakia, quietest and most prosperous of the satellites, has had a rash of arrests of alleged spies and pro-Western elements. The regime has warned it will tolerate no independence notions.

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito will continue to balance off East and West in an effort to escape Russia's bear hug.

Austria, the little independent nation almost surrounded by a Communist sea, is prosperous and stable.

MIDDLE EAST

By Angelo Natale
CAIRO (AP) — The already visible split among the "Arab brothers" of the Middle East may become wider in 1958 in the tug of war between East and West.

Egypt and Syria, aided by loans from Moscow, will concentrate on industrial and economic developments to make a showcase for their policies of "positive neutrality."

Western economic assistance to the other Arab countries will have to be increased sharply to meet the Soviet challenge.

The strongest unifying force among the Arabs—their common hostility to Israel — seems unlikely now to be fanned by any aggression by the Israelis.

NORTH AFRICA

By David Mason
ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian nationalist rebellion again promises to make North Africa one of the world's trouble spots in 1958.

The 400,000-man French Army is deadlocked with a small rebel guerrilla force supported in varying degree by most of the non-European population. France has been unable to put down the rebellion, but feels there is too much at stake—Sahara oil, and the future of 1,200,000 Europeans living here—to let go.

British-American small arms deliveries to neighboring Tunisia embittered the French and weakened the Western alliance. Strong American-British efforts behind the scenes to get a settlement may be expected.

CHINA, SOUTHEAST ASIA

By John Roderick
HONG KONG (AP) — Communism will cast a long shadow over southeast Asia in 1958.

Native Communists, with encouragement from Red China, seek to enlarge their influence in Indonesia, Laos, Malaya, Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

Their weapons will be cultural exchanges, propaganda, subversion, nationalism and anti-foreignism.

The most critical target is Indonesia. The Reds will fan the fires of the anti-Dutch movement. Despite the threats of economic chaos looming ahead, President Sukarno seems determined to retain Communists in positions of political power. A rice shortage could make trouble.

JAPAN, KOREA

By Don Baldwin
TOKYO (AP) — The bloom has faded from Japan's greatest economic boom, but no one expects a serious recession in the new year.

Import controls have arrested a trade imbalance, and Japan's 35,000,000 farmers have harvested a record rice crop. An all-out drive for foreign trade will pick up new momentum in 1958.

South Korea, still an armed camp four years after the Korean fighting stopped, faces belittling because of a cut in American aid. The first important reduction in the 20-division army may be made.

SOUTH ASIA

Pupils Receive Prizes At A.D.S. Christmas Concert

DANVILLE. — The pupils of the A.D.S. High School held their Christmas concert in the gym, when close to 400 parents and friends were entertained by a varied program.

Awards of scholastic prizes donated by the Canadian Johns-Manville Company were presented by J. E. Morrison to: Beverly Gibson, medal for first general proficiency; Donald Ross, science medal; Doreen Olney, prize for general proficiency; Marilyn Hart, literature prize; Ronald Gibbs, mathematics prize; and Judith Rexford, home economics. All are Grade 11 pupils.

Awards to Grade 10 pupils were: Donald Healy, medal for first general proficiency and science medal; Jean Royal, mathematics prize; Diana Brock, English literature; Charles Pope, history; David McDonald, English composition, and Dorothy Healy, French prize.

John Gaw, principal, made the presentation of the R.D.A. school certificates to: Ronald Gibbs, Beverly Gibson, Marilyn Hart, Janet Lockwood, Janet Molson, Harry Morrill, Doreen Olney, Audrey Reakes, Guy Reed, Judith Rexford, Nancy Smith, Kimball Storrey and Dorothy Healy. The pupils have been working hard to raise funds and have been selling magazine subscriptions. Sales this year totalled $1,400 and the deserving pupils received certificates, Robert Sherry, president of the Student Council, made the presentations.

Pupils of Grade 1 staged a playlet, "Goldilocks and the Three Bears." Grade 2, "Our Christmas Gifts" and Grades 3 and 4, "Dolls For Sale." The Christmas Nativity playlet, "The Little Sheep of Bethlehem," was presented by Grades 4, 5 and 6. "A Good Impression," was given by Grade 7, the main parts being taken by Leona Macdonald, as Julia; John Frerichs, John; Brian Gagnon, Tom; and Kenneth Taylor, as Bill. The choir from Grades 1 and 2 sang, "Lullaby," "Carol of the Grasses," and "The Twelve Days of Christmas," between scenes.

"Santa Claus on Trial" was enacted by Grade 6 and Grade 7 sang the songs, "Jesus Abandon," the first Canadian Christmas carol written by Father Brebouff for the Huron Indians, "Christmas" and "Donna Nobis Pacem."

Workmen Provide Strength To Bolster U.K. Economy

LONDON (CP) — The men at the drill, the industrial press and the steel furnace are the front-line soldiers in Britain's battle for survival. Their durability, discipline and efficiency dispel any notion that Britain is facing an economic eclipse.

The average British workman puts in longer hours and gets less pay than the Canadian. He is less likely to own a refrigerator, television set or automobile. His home may be a little less elaborate. More than likely it has no central heating.

But the factory worker, the mill hand and the steel-maker have their pubs and football pools, their darts, radios and cinemas. And they appear to have a traditional love for the work they do.

Strikes merge and they become sensational news. But many a firm has reported they have had no labor trouble; production has been unimpeded since the Second World War.

SURVIVAL FIRST
Somehow the collective thought appears to have been impressed on workers that their jobs are not just for the purpose of earning a wage, but to keep the United Kingdom alive.

With virtually no raw materials of her own and devastated by a war, Britain has been able since 1946 to double her production of steel, triple her passenger car output, increase her over-all production of engineering, shipbuilding and electrical goods by more than 50 per cent.

The value of her total output of goods and services has more than doubled to almost $60,000,000,000 a year.

Some British industrialists have hinted, during the tour of the Canadian trade mission, that Britain had competed with North America on labor costs alone.

One big firm got a huge order to supply power turbines for a large United States project. Why should the U.S. import equipment it can make at home?

"Because our labor costs are lower and therefore our price is lower."

LESS WAGES
The average British male worker gets about $35 for a 44-hour week; many skilled craftsmen work for $25; others for $45.

A linen factory girl in Belfast, working spinning and weaving machines would get about $14 a week.

Housing is still scarce. New housing subsidized by municipalities is springing up all over the country. By Canadian standards, the rents are exceedingly low—perhaps about $18 a month for a three-bedroom flat.

But there isn't enough of this housing to go around. And in

Theftford Young Folk Enjoy S. S. Christmas Party

THEFTFORD MINES. — The United Church Sunday School held its annual Christmas party on Saturday afternoon with a very large attendance of children and parents.

The afternoon commenced with a concert presided over by Rev. Lyall Simpson. The opening recitation, a welcome to the guests, was given by Linda Scott. Others who gave recitations were Larry McAllister, Peter Goodale, Lorne Taylor, Brenda Cunningham and Diane Eden. Bob Scott played and sang a couple of selections and the Junior Choir sang carols.

At the close of the concert tables were set up and everyone, parents and children alike, enjoyed sandwiches and cookies.

Final event of the busy and exciting day was the arrival of Santa Claus with a fine array of gifts for everyone plus candy and oranges for the children.

Much credit is due Mrs. Henry Robinson, superintendent of the Sunday School for the success of this event, while Mrs. D. Scott's musical assistance was invaluable.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE

Sunday morning, the United Church held its special Christmas service with a large attendance of members and visitors present. Both the Junior and Senior Choirs, under the direction of Mrs. David Scott, took part in the service which was chiefly musical.

Rev. Lyall Simpson gave a brief sermon and Linda Scott read the Christmas story. Kim Hodapp, Kathleen Brayton, Dennis Taylor and Brian Kennedy sang duet parts in the course of the Junior Choir numbers.

Schooling In Jail

VANCOUVER (CP) — An illiterate youthful delinquent who thought it was a joke when a prison official asked him if he would like to attend school is studying to read and write and also learning a trade.

He doesn't consider himself lucky being in jail. But as jails go, he is lucky to be in nearby Haney Correctional Institution, a model jail which it is hoped will set a pattern for Canada.

The $4,000,000 prison has been open for two months. The would-be tradesman was a relatively simple case to handle. The junior gangster was not.

He'd heard this place was a "soft touch." Warden E. K. Nelson says it is a place of hard work and austerity—plus opportunity.

When called before a classification board, the 18-year-old delinquent showed a tough attitude. He had no skills, little education, no ambition and a fair-sized chip on his shoulder.

The board decided he was a good boy, underneath his tough exterior.

Now he is back studying elementary subjects in the jail school. After school periods he has the choice of learning carpentry, electronics or metal work.

School instructors at Haney are taught to recognize latent abilities of inmates and their findings are reported to the classification board for its guidance.

Erosion Of River Banks Is Studied

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — An experiment to control river-bank erosion on the Grand River in suburban Bridgeport is being watched by Canadian conservationists.

Four gabion groynes, large boxes of steel wire mesh filled with rock, have been built out transversely from the banks of the river to stop the water from washing away banks and endangering buildings.

The obstructions force the river to deepen its own channel. It is the first time they have been used in Canada, but they have been installed in European rivers.

Flexibility is the keynote in the construction of the groynes. If a solid masonry wall was constructed at right angles to the bank, the river would tend to undermine the foundations and the wall would crack or shatter. The installers of the gabions say if the bases of the boxes are undermined they will sink and other gabions can be built on top of them.

The gabion groynes cost $18,000 to install. Seventy-five per cent of the cost was provided by the Ontario department of planning and development.

Businessmen along the river at Bridgeport have long feared that erosion will undermine their buildings and topple them into the river.

Glasgow it was reported that some residents, undoubtedly in the lowest wage-earning group, live eight to 10 in a room.

Aces Edge Beavers 4-3 In Overtime; Asbestos Blanks Victoriaville 4-0

George Goyette's Deflected Shot Give Magog Victory; Yvon Lavoie Stars In Nets; 1,497 Fans Attend

A deflected shot, fired by George Goyette, caught the upper hand corner of the net yesterday afternoon to give the Magog Aces a close 4-3 victory over the Sherbrooke Beavers after ten minutes of overtime. A crowd of 1,497 fans were on hand to witness one of the best games seen on the local freeze for quite some time.

Yvon Lavoie, the newly acquired goalie for the Aces, was by far the most outstanding player of the afternoon. It was only his excellent work which held the high-scoring Beavers at bay.

Time after time he robbed Gilles Dube, Remi Blais, Bob Bedard and Ray St. Cyr, all top marksmen, of what looked like sure goals. His acrobatic style met with the approval of the Magog fans and if he can maintain the same pace the Aces will have to be considered highly for honors in the Massawippi League.

Most of the scoring was packed in the middle session although Bob Bedard fired the opening tally in the first frame. It was a hard drive which never left the ice and Lavoie failed to clear the shot. The checking was heavy and close as both clubs were tossing their weight around.

At the start of the second session Langlois and George Goyette got the gate for fighting and were tagged with majors. During their absence things began to happen. Cotterell and Godhue teamed up with only Marcel Benoit back to beat Dubois and Magog's top amateur golfer made no mistake when he batted home the rubber.

Marcel Benoit put the Beavers back in front a minute later when he drove a screened shot by Lavoie. However this failed to last as Mireault drove a hard shot through Dubois' legs and the score was deadlocked once again. Just after the halfway mark Ray St. Cyr deflected Marcel Benoit's drive into the corner of the meshings and Sherbrooke was leading again.

In the final frame play really opened up and it was during this stage that Lavoie extended himself. He was bombarded from all angles but despite this he came up with the saves as he kicked, caught and tossed aside everything fired at him. It was his outstanding play at this stage which held the Beavers off the score sheet.

Rainville Dubois, at the other end of the ice, was tested closely several times but good clearing by his defense helped his cause. Thibault was put in the clear by Cubby Smith and he picked the corner to send the game into overtime. The shot fooled Dubois completely.

In the overtime play had just started when George Goyette rifled one on a Magog gangling play which hit Lionel Robidas's stick to nick Dubois' leg and catch the net. It was a tough break for the Sherbrooke goalie who had the shot blocked but the deflection fooled him completely.

For the rest of the overtime Gilles Dube and his crew went all out but failed to dent Lavoie's armour. Dube drove one for the low corner but the Magog goalie came up with a diving catch to nip the rubber. Ray St. Cyr tried his luck but he was outguessed as well as his coach.

The Beavers' next game slated for Thursday evening against the Meteors of Asbestos has been postponed until next Monday afternoon at 2:30.

Sags And Aces Post Wins On Sunday Program

The high-flying Chicoutimi Saguenens and Quebec Aces emerged victorious from Sunday's Quebec Hockey League action.

The Saguenens, backed by Gilles Boisvert's strong goaling, shellacked Trois-Rivières Lions 7-0 to take an eight-point lead over the idle Shawinigan Falls Cataracts.

Quebec Aces, in third place, beat Montreal's cellar-dwelling Royals 4-2.

The results left Chicoutimi first with 45 points, Shawinigan Falls second with 37, Quebec third with 32, Trois-Rivières fourth with 27 and Montreal last with 23.

At Chicoutimi, the Rousseau brothers paced the Saguenens with three goals—two by Guy and one by Rolfe. Alain Caron tallied one on a penalty shot and Jackie LeClair, Bob Courcy and Jean Jacques Pichette added the others.

Bob Sabourin fired two goals for Quebec in a penalty-studded game in Montreal while Jean Marie Cossette and Jacques Gagnon scored the others. Montreal's marksmen were Ken Mossell and Walt Bradley.

Ezio Selva Is Killed Racing At Orange Bowl

MIAMI BEACH, Florida (AP)—Ezio Selva, one of the world's greatest powerboat racing figures, was killed Sunday in the grand prix of the Orange Bowl regatta.

The 56-year-old Italian from Milan was crushed to death when his 800-kilogram craft, Moschetti, executed an unusual spin while speeding at more than 100 miles an hour in moderately-rough water.

The accident, only 500 feet from the judges' stand, was witnessed by Selva's son, Luciano, 21, and more than 10,000 others. Selva was competing for virtually the only major powerboat title for large boats that he had not held at one time or another. Selva had told officials he was retiring from racing this year.

DRUMMONDVILLE — The Rockets downed the Richmond Braves by a score of 4-3 at the Drummondville Arena yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 1,100. The win put the Rockets in fourth place with two points ahead of the Braves in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League.

Scoring opened just short of the midway mark of the first period when Bachand netted one for Richmond on assists from Bergeron and Desrosiers. Again at 12:49 of the same period, Richmond moved ahead with a two-point lead on a second goal by Ducharme assisted by Rousseau and Gladu.

Drummondville evened the score in less than three minutes on goals by Boivin from Biggs and Aubrey at 15:15 and Fournier from Banville and Aubrey at 17:30. Richmond returned with a goal of its own by Gladu from Rousseau at 19:37 to give the Braves a 3-2 lead at the end of the first frame.

Two goals were tallied by Drummondville in the second period by Fournier. The first came at the 9:46 mark on an assist from Melancon and the second at 11:18 from Biggs and

Smiths Falls Rink Cops High School Curling Championship; Ormstown Wins "B" Event While Lachine Takes "C"

A red-headed curling perfectionist from Smith Falls, Ontario, named Bob Douglas captured the high school curling bonspiel Saturday by edging Gary Graham of Three Rivers 11-9 in the 'A' event final on Mt. Royal Club ice.

Douglas came up with some extraordinary draw shots to outdo Graham, who played a fine match. Graham pounded the Smiths Falls quartet for four-ends twice but the Ontario foursome wasn't to be denied and with Douglas leading the way, struck back for the winning margin.

Graham had advanced to the final round with an 8-6 win over Mt. Royal's Ross Schofield in a morning semi-final match. At the same time Ormstown's Bob Hope trounced Feller College's Ross Osler 17-4 to gain a berth in the 'B' final.

Hope took the 'B' title in an afternoon game, defeating John Rennie's Bill Kerr 9-6. Hope led all of the way and never allowed Kerr to come closer than two points.

Bruce Labelle of Lachine was the sole Montrealese to win an event. He wrapped up the 'C' class crown by scoring a 10-9 last rock victory over Leo Sauvegeau of Ecole Tech.

Labelle was one down coming home and had to draw almost to the button with his final stone to count two and beat Sauvegeau.

In 'C' semi-final play, Labelle downed Merritt Eaton of Ecole Tech, 9-4 and Sauvegeau beat Westmount's McDougall 8-6.

Bob Douglas' win in the 'A' competition was not all together unexpected. He was one of the bonspiel favorites. Last year Douglas lost out in the semi-finals. Members of his rink are third Larry Dunham, second Al McFadden and lead Jim Keruish.

Meteors Extend Lead; 1,626 Fans Witness Close Battle; Canadiens Protest; Bergeron's First Shutout

ASBESTOS — The Meteors extended their lead in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League yesterday afternoon when they blanked the Victoriaville Canadiens 4-0. It gave them a four-point spread over the Sherbrooke Beavers who dropped a close decision to the Magog Aces in Sherbrooke 4-3.

A crowd of 1,626 was on hand as Claude Bergeron posted his first shutout of the current season. It was the largest turnout of the year at the Civic Centre. The game was close despite the score. A total of ten penalties were dished out with two of them figuring in the scoring. Albert Moore, one of the top scorers in the loop, wasn't in uniform as he was married Saturday and was on his honeymoon.

Jack Illick opened the scoring in the first period when Bergeron was sitting out a hooking infraction. It was the only tally of the frame. In the second session young Bisson made it 2-0 for the home club when he teamed up with Mac Coates and Maurice Vachon.

In the final period the Meteors extended their lead in the closing minutes of the game when Richard Champagne, the league's top scorer, and Drouin tallied within a few minutes before the end of the tilt.

The Canadiens entered a protest on the game as they claimed that Heon, who was recently named the new coach of the club, was handling the team although he hadn't signed a card but was accepted by the league. He is to replace Percy Glaude as pilot but is waiting his release from the team he played with last season.

Round Table Cops Mailbu Stakes To Earn $600,258

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Favored Round Table completed a brilliant year of racing Saturday with a victory in Santa Anita's $28,100 Mailbu Stakes that sent his 1957 earnings past $600,000.

Racing against a field of seven three-year-olds, Round Table won the seven-furlong sprint by a head over Seaneen. Mystic Eye was third.

The victory was worth $18,550 to Round Table's owner, Travis M. Kerr of Oklahoma City, and brought the colt's 1957 winnings to $600,258.

Only two other horses, Citation and Nashua, won $600,000 or more in a single year of racing. The time was 1:22, with Round Table carrying high weight of 130 pounds, eight more than any other colt in the field. Willie Shoemaker again was aboard Round Table.

The payoff of $230, $210 and $210 for the winner equalled the shortest return in Santa Anita history.

Don Simmons Is Sidelined With Shoulder Injury

DETROIT (AP)—Boston Bruins goalie Don Simmons will be sidelined from three to six weeks with a shoulder separation suffered Sunday night in the Bruins' 2-2 tie with the Detroit Red Wings.

Simmons was injured in the first period in a pileup around his net. He was replaced by Ross Wilson, assistant trainer of the Red Wings, who subsequently made 23 saves over the last 51 minutes of play.

Coach Milt Schmidt did not indicate whom the Bruins will call up to replace Simmons.

Belfast Fight Crowd Goes On Old Rampage

BELFAST (AP)—A Belfast sports crowd, nearly as angry as the one which attacked an Italian soccer team in a brawl earlier this month, threw bottles into a boxing ring Saturday night after a close decision was awarded to a Trinidad fighter.

A man was gashed on the head by a flying teacup. Fights broke out.

Referee Frank Wilson had announced Trinidad's Boswell St. Louis as the victor after a 10-round lightweight bout with Paddy Graham, a Northern Irishman, at King's Hall.

Redlegs May Get New Ball Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP)—The enhanced possibility that Cincinnati Redlegs may shift to another city has prompted a group of businessmen here to propose building a new baseball stadium.

Lawyer J. A. Lloyd, Jr., spokesman for the privately-organized group, said Sunday the proposal calls for a stadium with parking space for 8,000 cars built at Lunken Airport on the eastern edge of the city. He estimated the cost at $6,000,000.

Lloyd's group was spurred by a report that a major league baseball committee in Minneapolis has invited the Reds to move to the Minnesota city.

Canadiens Blank Red Wings And Edge Rangers; Lions Dump Browns 59-14

Plante Posts His Fifth Shutout; Lefty Wilson Moves In As Bruins And Wings Tie; Leafs Blast Rangers

The advice that Ross (Lefty) Wilson, assistant trainer of the Detroit Red Wings, so freely gives from the end of the bench has a more authoritative ring today.

It's now the voice of successful experience. Wilson, 38, never played regularly for a National Hockey League team. But he has played in three times as an emergency goalie under the rule that requires home teams to supply a substitute.

Twice he appeared late in the third period for the losing team. His third appearance, Sunday, started at 8:22 of the first period and he boosted Boston Bruins to a 2-2 tie with his Detroit employers.

Wilson was pressed into service when Don Simmons, regular Boston goalie, suffered a dislocated shoulder. Wilson made 23 saves, four more than Terry Sawchuk in the Wing goal, and allowed only one goal.

HABS, HAWKS WIN

In other action Sunday, Montreal Canadiens won their first game in four starts on New York ice when they defeated the Rangers 4-3, and Chicago Black Hawks won their first game on home ice in 10 starts when they beat Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1.

Saturday Boston and Chicago played a 0-0 tie, Toronto whipped New York 6-1, and Montreal shut out Detroit 6-0.

At Detroit Sunday, Boston's Vic Stasiuk and Detroit's Don Poile traded goals before Simmons was injured.

Jack McIntyre beat Wilson later in the first period but that was all. Bronco Horvath tied the score in the second and Sawchuk and Wilson were unbeatable in the third.

Wilson's previous appearances were Jan. 22, 1956, when he replaced Toronto's Harry Lumley, and Oct. 10, 1953, when he came in for Detroit's Terry Sawchuk. The score in both games was 4-1 against his team.

At New York Sunday, defenseman Doug Harvey scored Montreal's first and last goals as Canadiens widened their first-place margin to eight points over Rangers.

Bert Olmstead and Andre Pronovost were the other Montreal scorers.

Doug Harvey Gets Two As Canadiens Edge Rangers In New York; Sellout Crowd Of 15,925 On Hand

NEW YORK—(AP)—Defenceman Doug Harvey fired the first and last of Montreal's goals to give the Canadiens a 4-3 triumph Sunday night, their first over the New York Rangers after three straight defeats at Madison Square Garden.

A sellout crowd of 15,925 saw the league-leading Canadiens widen their margin to eight points over the second-place Rangers. It was a furiously fought game with the result in doubt until the last second as the Rangers, trying desperately to get the equalizer after getting within one of overcoming a three-goal deficit, pulled out goalie Marcel Pailhe and bombarded the Canadiens' net for the full final minute. A total of 10 penalties was meted out, five to each team.

Trailing 4-1 after four minutes of the third period, the Rangers brought the huge crowd to its

Aherst Ramblers Take Over In Maritime Senior Loop; 58 Goals Tallied In Weekend Fixtures

Standings were changed in one league and 58 goals were scored during the weekend when Maritime hockey clubs took to the ice.

There were some surprises, too. In New Glasgow, the leagueless Rangers astonished even loyal fans by beating Sydney Millionaires of the Cape Breton Senior League 5-3 in an exhibition game.

In a penalty-filled game at Amherst, cellar-dwelling Summerside Aces were flattened by Ramblers who took over the Maritime Senior Amateur Hockey League leadership. The game left Amherst with 16 points, Charlottetown Royals with 14 and Summerside with six.

BEAVERS BLANKED

In the Quebec-New Brunswick League, two games were played. At Amqui, Que., Rimouski Maple Leafs blanked the Beavers 4-0, giving goalie Don Lorrain his first shutout of the season. In the other game, the league top scorer Lucien Gilbert led Matane Red George (Red) Sullivan, a New York marksman. Chicago and Toronto played at a goal-a-period pace and the Hawks got two of them for the victory. Billy Dea scored for Chicago in the first and Ron Murphy scored the winner in the third. Jim Morrison got a goal for Toronto in the second.

EASY VICTORY

Saturday at Montreal Dickie Moore scored his 15th and 16th goals and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion his 14th and 15th to place Canadiens to an easy victory over Detroit. Phil Goyette and Harvey scored the others. Goalie Jacques Plante had one of his best nights in recording his fifth shutout.

Chicago's Glenn Hall boosted his league-leading shutout total to six at home Saturday, while Simmons scored his fourth. Hall put on a spectacular display, during the first two periods, particularly when his team was short-handed, stopping 27 shots.

The Hawk defence stiffened in the third period and Boston got only two shots on goal.

Toronto put on one of their best home-ice displays in whipping New York. Paul Masnick and Jim Morrison each scored their first goals of the season. Brian Cullen, Gary Aldcorn, Bob Pulford and Ron Stewart were the other Leaf scorers.

Andy Heberton counted for New York midway through the third period to spoil Ed Chadwick's shutout bid.

When Andy Bathgate scored on a long, hard drive from behind the blue line, a distance of approximately 65 feet. They added another on a goal by Camille Henry while the Canadiens were a man short, to reduce Montreal's lead to 4-3, eight minutes from the end.

PRONOVOST GETS ONE

Montreal's other goals were scored by Andre Pronovost, in the second period, which broke a 1-1 tie; and by Bert Olmstead, at the start of the third period, which made it 3-1.

The Rangers' first goal was scored by Red Sullivan. It came at 8:03 of the second period to give New York a temporary 1-1 tie.

The defeat was only the second suffered by the Rangers at the hands of the league leaders in eight engagements this season. New York won five and tied one of the others.

Rocks to a 9-6 victory over Campbellton Tigers by scoring four markers. In the Cape Breton League, Glace Bay Miners pulled four points ahead of Northside Combines, with a close 5-4 win at Glace Bay. In an action-packed game in the Valley League, 23 penalties, including six majors and two minors, were handed out. Windermere Maple Leafs won the match, topping Wolfville Falcons 12-8 in a game featuring three fights.

Providence Reds Top Hershey Bears Twice In Row, Only Team To Do So This Year; Indians And Bisons Split

The third-place Providence Reds are barely over the .500 mark but they have accomplished something no other team in the American Hockey League has been able to do all season—they skinned the first-place Hershey Bears twice on successive nights.

After shading the Bears 2-1 Saturday night, the Reds made it two in a row Sunday night with a 4-2 triumph.

Despite the two triumphs, Providence remained in third place, four points behind Cleveland Barons, who split a pair of weekend games. After beating Rochester Americans 4-1 Saturday, the Barons, who trail Hershey by nine points, lost Sunday night to Buffalo 4-1.

Springfield Indians divided two games, edging Buffalo Bisons 4-3 Saturday night and losing 2-1 in overtime to Rochester Sunday night.

SWEENEY OUTSTANDING

Goals by Bruce Carmichael and Bill Sweeney fashioned the first Providence victory over Hershey, with Bob Solinger getting the only tally for the losers. Sweeney, a rookie, connected for two more goals Sunday night and Zello Toppazzini and Paul Larivee backed him up with singles. Obie O'Brien and Dunc Fisher were the Hershey marksmen.

At Cleveland, first-period goals by Gord Vejprava, Jimmy Moore, Don Hogan and Bill Watson gave the Barons their victory over Rochester. The lone score for the Americans was by Joe Lund, also in the first frame. On Sunday night, Norm Corcoran counted two goals for Buffalo and Larry Wilson and Ron Ingram had one apiece, Watson getting Cleveland's only score.

At Springfield Saturday Buddy Boone came through with two goals for the Indians and Al Nicholson and Gerry Elman had singles in their win over Buffalo. Kenny Wharram, with two, and Wally Hergesheimer scored for Bisons.

Mike Nykoluk's goal at 7:25 of the overtime period gave Rochester their decision over Springfield Sunday night. Stan Smrke scored the other Rochester goal and Boone was the lone Springfield marksman.

Big-Named Teams In Football Lose Out Saturday In Post-Season Tilts; Tennessee Upsets Texas A And M

NEW YORK (AP)—The football teams with the big names took it on the chin in the East-West Shrine game and the Gator Bowl Saturday.

The East, with four all-American players in the lineup, lost 27-13. Gerald Nesbitt, an unheralded fullback from Arkansas, scored three touchdowns for the underdog West at San Francisco. Tennessee, a six-point underdog, overcame Texas A and M 3-0 in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. Tennessee boxed in halfback John Crow, the Aggies' all-American, holding him to a gain of only 47 yards in 14 carries.

The Blue-Gray (North-South) game at Montgomery, Ala., was nearly on form. Ken Ford of Hardin-Simmons threw 12 completions in 23 tries for a touchdown and 185 yards as the Grey bested the Blue 21-20. The South was favored by a point to win their

PLUNGES 91 YARDS

Nesbitt picked up 91 yards rushing, nearly double the total of Michigan's all-American Jim Pace (21 in 14 carries) and Michigan State's Walt Kowalczyk (33 for 14) for the East. Other East all-Americans were tackles Alex Karras of Iowa and Lou Michaels of Kentucky and end Jim Phillips of Auburn.

Sammy Burklow of Tennessee kicked a seven-yard field goal with 5½ minutes remaining for the Gator Bowl margin. It was Tennessee's first field goal attempt of the season. The Tennessee scoring drive started on the 50. Tailback Bobby Gordon ran or passed on every play until Tennessee stalled on the Aggies' one-yard line.

Saturday's games opened the climax to 1957 U.S. football which ends Wednesday with seven bowl games.

Tobin Rote's Hunch Paid Off For Lions, Rejects Coach's Play For FG As Steven Junker Goes Over TD

DETROIT (AP)—Tobin Rote, a veteran quarterback who came to Detroit in an off-season insurance trade, played a hunch Sunday. And the gamble was credited with carrying the Lions to a 59-14 victory over Cleveland Browns in the National Football League's championship game.

With the Lions holding a 17-7 lead early in the second quarter and faced with a fourth down, Rote's hunch was that he should reject a play sent in by coach George Wilson. Wilson called for a field goal.

Instead, Rote set up in a field goal manoeuvre but at the last minute lifted the ball, ran to his right and hit rookie end Steven Junker alone on the six-yard line. Junker snagged the pass and scored untouched.

CAN'T STOP SCORING

"That was the play that kept us going," said Wilson in the dressing room after the game. "Sometimes when the breaks start going your way, you can't stop making points."

He said quickly that Rote called the play and added: "It was just fine with me the way it worked out."

Rote, obtained in a trade with the Green Bay Packers as a fill-in for regular Detroit quarterback Bobby Layne, shouldered the whole burden during the crucial weeks of the NFL campaign after a broken ankle sidelined Layne.

In the quiet dressing room of the Cleveland club, coach Paul Brown kept the door closed for 25 minutes.

Then he managed a smile for the small group of waiting reporters and announced:

"Personally, if you think I have any peculiar feelings about it, I don't. The ball was just going to bounce that way and it did. I'm philosophical about it."

SPYING MACHINE — This is a model of a "surveillance drone" — an unmanned flying and spying machine, the first of its kind. It uses what the U.S. Army terms "advanced surveillance sensory devices. Called the SD-3, it is being produced by Republic Aviation for the Signal Corps. It is designed for all-weather use and has three different, interchangeable nose units for switching from one "sensing system" to another (photography, radar, or infra-red). The drone can be launched without a runway with jet assist and is recoverable.

Ambitious Rookies And Old Pros Team Up To Give Lions Crown As 55,263 Watch; Rote Outstanding

DETROIT — (CP) — A grizzled band of old pro diehards and a couple of ambitious rookies have upset the highly rated Cleveland Browns to bring Detroit Lions the United States pro football championship.

And the Detroit team rubbed it in even more by dealing the Browns their worst defeat ever, 59-14, in the title playoff at Briggs Stadium Sunday.

The upset triumph, before 55,263 stadium spectators and millions more on television in the U.S. and Canada, provided a fitting climax to the daffiest campaign in the history of American pro football.

COACH STOMPED OUT

Abandoned by their own coach at the season's outset as a team "out of control both on and off the field," the Lions stormed back to win the title for their new mentor, George Wilson, on his try for national honors.

Wilson, who succeeded Buddy Parker when the former coach called the Lions "dead" dubbed his winners "the fightingest damn bunch of guys I've ever seen."

It was the third time the Lions had grabbed off the big prize by beating their bitter rivals from Cleveland.

Under the flawless guidance of quarterback Tobin Rote, the Lions moved with authority and command from the start, scoring 17 points in the opening period and following with 14 points in each of the last three quarters. Rote, who never before played with a title-winning team in eight seasons of pro ball, was an offensive giant for the Lions.

FOUR TO PASSES

The drawing Texan who took over as solo quarterback four weeks ago when Bobby Layne was sidelined with a fractured ankle, threw four touchdown passes and scored another.

Handyman Jim Martin, the old Notre Dame veteran Lions almost released last summer, got the club off to a rousing start. He kicked a 31-yard field goal in the first period and before the scrap was over added eight extra points.

The Browns, Eastern Division champs seven times in eight seasons and U.S. titlists three times, never really got started. Linebacker Bob Long, one of more than half a dozen Detroit stalwarts obtained in player deals, intercepted a Tommy O'Connell pass and Rote slipped over from the one three plays later.

Milt Campbell fumbled the kickoff and rookie Terry Barr recovered on the Cleveland 15. In six plays the score stood 17-0. And that's the way it went all afternoon.

Before the first half was over Rote hit another rookie, end Steve Junker, on a 26-yard scoring play. And Barr raced 19 yards with a pass interception for another score, offsetting Jim Brown's 29-yard touchdown run for Cleveland on the first play of the second quarter.

The Browns scored first in the second half, marching 80 yards in 10 plays with Lew Carpenter's five-yard run capping the drive. Detroit roared back with a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage as Rote and Jim Doran combined on a 78-yard scoring pass.

Before the period was over Rote connected with Junker again and early in the fourth quarter found Dave Middleton in the Cleveland end zone for his seventh straight completion—four of them for touchdowns.

Jerry Reichow led the final touchdown drive that covered 66 yards. He hit Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy with less than three minutes remaining in the game.
