Balloon fails, two men ride safely to earth

LONDON (AP) — For Sgt. Albert Edward Small, 37, an instructor in a crack British parachute regiment and Second World War combat veteran, it began as just another routine run as he and three other men soared aloft in a training balloon. Suddenly, the balloon exploded.

The collapsed bag and the jumping cage carrying the four plummeted earthward. Two of the men parachuted while still 600 feet above ground. Their jumps were successful even though the cage was tilted at a 45 - degree angle.

Now it was Small's chance. He knew that even at 400 feet he could get clear and save his life. But he also knew that the inexperienced man beside him — L. Cpl. Reginald Watts —had no chance at all.

Calmly, Small gave up his own chance to jump. Then just before they hit the ground, he shouted in typical sergeant's parade ground voice:

"Brace yourself and lift your feet."

It worked. Both men walked away from the crash with only minor injuries.

Watts undoubtedly owes his life to Small's courage and devotion, said The London Gazette Tuesday. It announced that the Queen is awarding Small the George Cross for the May 14 incident. The award is the highest given for heroism not in combat.

New lead on missing girl

SHAWINIGAN, Que. (CP)— Provincial police hope to receive information today that will start them on the trail of a 16 - year - old girl, missing for a week from her home in nearby Shawinigan South.

A motorist from Jacques Cartier, Que., reported Tuesday he picked up a hitch - hiking girl resembling the missing Denise Therrien on the highway last week.

Police declined to reveal the name of the motorist, due to call at police headquarters in Montreal today to study pictures of Denise.

The motorist said he picked up two girls — one resembling Denise — who said they were from Shawinigan and were going to Toronto.

Denise, one of two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Therrien, has not been seen since she left home eight days ago to answer a placement bureau ad for a $25 - a - week housemaid and baby sitter.

Issues message to Japan

Close U.S. bases — K

TOKYO — (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev today called on Japan to close down all American bases on its soil.

He made the appeal in a message handed over to Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda by Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

Khrushchev coupled his call with a suggestion that Soviet-Japanese trade could be tripled or quadrupled in the next few years "if the two nations made unstinted endeavors."

Japan's military alliance with the United States and the maintenance of foreign military bases in Japanese territory does not help in deepening mutual trust and normalizing relations between Japan and the Soviet Union," Khrushchev said.

He added that he hoped the time would come when all such foreign troops would be withdrawn and the military bases closed. Then he said, friendly relations between Japan and Russia could be promoted.

At the same time as he handed over Khrushchev's message Mikoyan warned Ikeda that Japan would not be safe in any way as long as she continued her security treaty with the United States.

Mikoyan had an hour - long meeting with Ikeda. Details of the talk were disclosed by government spokesman Nasayoshi Ohira.

Khrushchev said in his message that differences between Japan and the Soviet Union in political and social systems should not be an obstacle in the way of effective co - operation between the two countries.

Severe storm lashes the district

A violent storm hit the Eastern Townships Tuesday evening, causing damage in a number of communities

Winds estimated at more than 50 miles an hour brought tree limbs down on power lines, lightning caused at least one fire, and almost an inch of rain washed away sections of dirt roads.

Near Waterville, John Rose saw his barn containing an entire season's crop of hay and 17 head of prize cattle destroyed in a fire caused by lightning.

Mr. Rose estimated the loss at between $15,000 and $20,000. The cattle were in the barn being groomed for the upcoming Cookshire Fair.

Included in the cattle destroyed by the blaze was the farmer's prize bull, worth an estimated $1,200.

Mr. Rose said he was just sitting down to supper when he saw the lightning bolt and then saw smoke coming from the barn.

He rushed out in an effort to save the cattle, but when he reached the barn he said the animals appeared paralyzed and he was unable to move them.

While the barn and its contents were destroyed, the house nearby was undamaged.

Communities throughout the district experienced temporary power failures caused by lightning and high winds. Cookshire, East Angus, North Hatley and Magog were hit by a series of momentary failures.

In Lennoxville, things were more serious. Falling tree limbs brought down power lines across the town, cutting off power almost completely between 6 p.m. and 1.30 a.m.

Crews had to be sent out to clear the lines.

Sherbrooke escaped almost completely, according to city officials.

A tree limb fell across a power line on Vimy Street early Wednesday morning, cutting off power between 5 and 7 a.m. A crew was sent out to repair the damage.

It was the sole power failure reported in the city.

The storm travelled east to the Townships from the Montreal area, where it struck around 12 noon Tuesday.

The Dorval public weather office told the Record Wednesday that winds of 45-miles an hour had accompanied thunder and lightning in the Montreal island area.

A very heavy 1.55 inches of rain was reported in Montreal by the Dorval office.

In the Eastern Townships, the Wednesday weather forecast called for clearing in the late afternoon, clear and cool in the evening. Thursday will be sunny and warmer.

Outlook is gloomy

Forest fire situation worse; new outbreak hits Nova Scotia

The forest fire situation on both the east and west coasts of Canada worsened today, and the prospects were gloomy that any improvement could be hoped for in the near future.

While Newfoundland's fires continued their wild rampage, a fresh outbreak was reported in Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley, and 300 fires were out of control in British Columbia.

Flames were racing wildly through cut-over pulpwood country near the tiny Annapolis Valley farming settlement of Mount Hanley early today.

Eight bulldozers and about 200 men were putting up a stand against the fire's advance, but in chief forester Bob Burgess' words: "We got a bad fire on our hands and I don't know if we can control it."

The dozen farms of the village were reported in no immediate danger with the fire about a quarter mile away. But the flames were moving swiftly in slashings and small groves of spruce and fir, parched by more than a month of hot, dry weather.

The flames were reported to have been burning on a quarter mile front directly towards a farm owned by Ross B. Miller when a wind change near midnight lifted the immediate threat.

It was the first major forest fire in the province since a ban on forest travel was announced last month. It was also the first bad fire since last September's disasterous series of fires that struck almost every section of the province.

RETURNS TO FARM

Settled back in his farm home for the night, Miller said "the flames were about a quarter mile away from my house, burning through my fields and woods. I had $500 worth of pulpwood back in the woods and only a miracle could have saved that.

Hopes for a long, wet spell to alleviate British Columbia's explosive forest fire situation were dashed early today.

Lightning and thunderstorms which dumped nearly a quarter-inch of rain on southern Vancouver Island and the lower mainland gave way to clear night skies with the promise of sun and only slightly cooler temperatures today.

With the situation already extremely hazardous and forest blazes—many out of control—costing an estimated $100,000 a day, forestry officials feared the lightning would start a new series of fires in the beleaguered northern Prince George and interior Kamloops districts.

There were an estimated 300 blazes in the province's forests.

The Prince Rupert district continued to be one of the worst. The number of blazes being fought dropped to 37 from 60—but not because they were extinguished. Throughout the area small fires combined to make larger blazes.

Boosts NATO role

HALIFAX (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Tuesday it would be folly equivalent to leaving the West's defences in a bow and arrow state for Canada to withdraw from NATO if nuclear armaments are added under a system of collective control.

The prime minister, addressing about 350 weekly newspaper men, called for NATO strength and unity and for NATO countries to fulfill their military commitments to the alliance.

In a luncheon address highlighting second-day sessions of the three-day, 42nd annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, he said "if it had not been for NATO, the rights of free men long since would have gone."

"If the Western alliance maintains its unity, does not indulge in challenging speeches and shows itself possessed of a calm determination of purpose, then I believe there should be no need to fear what lies ahead."

LIGHTS 'TOO BRIGHT'

"Berlin," he said, "is a modern Tale of Two Cities. The lights of one part are too bright for the other."

The East German puppet government seemed guilty of the provocative act of closing the East - West Berlin border because of its inability to stem the flood of refugees. Whatever Canada did—and the 15-nation NATO alliance was pondering a course—would be done in a manner representative of the country.

Mr. Diefenbaker took a swipe at a decision by the New Democratic Party's founding convention to quit NATO if nuclear arms are added to the alliance arsenal.

Satellite is launched

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new "windmill" scientific payload raced through the vastness of space today, gathering data on the relation between magnetic fields and radiation streaming from the sun.

Named Explorer XII, the package is expected to tell scientists more clearly than ever before how solar radiation influences conditions on earth and how great a hazard it is to manned space travel.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was reluctant today to label the space messenger a satellite, but there was every indication it was in successful orbit following its launching from this rocket centre last night.

Livestock market

MONTREAL (CP)—Receipts on the two local livestock markets this morning were: 81 cattle, 45 calves, 54 hogs and six sheep and lambs.

Tuesday the receipts were: 349 cattle, 297 calves, 280 hogs and 39 sheep and lambs.

Latin American meeting rejects Guevara

Conference delegates brush off attempt to get Reds into plan

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Cuban economic czar Ernesto (Che) Guevara tried to open the door today to Communist advisers for President Kennedy's $20,000,000 Alliance for Progress but ran into a stone wall.

Delegates from the other 20 American countries at the inter-American economic conference brushed aside Guevara's proposals and in committee unanimously approved a 1,000-word "declaration to the peoples of America" summing up the new program of economic aid and self - help for Latin America. Cuba abstained.

The declaration is an abridgement of the 3,000-word charter of Punta del Este which sets forth the principles of the program in detail. The shorter declaration was drawn up with the idea that it could be more easily understood by Latin America's masses.

After approval at a conference plenary session today, both will be signed Thursday when the conference closes one day behind schedule.

There was speculation whether Guevara would sign for Cuba. But other Latin-American delegates said even if he did, the U.S. - controlled agencies that will handle the bulk of the financing won't advance any funds to Cuba.

Guevara said his country cannot fully support the program until it gets a "clear and concise answer" from the United States whether Cuba is in or out of the alliance family. U.S. delegates refused to commit themselves.

In the late night committee session that finally whipped the declaration into shape, Guevara made his pitch for Communist technicians with an amendment saying that "experts from all over the world" — rather than "independent experts—could assist Latin-American republics in their development plans. This was interpreted as an attempt to give Soviet bloc and Red Chinese experts a foothold in states that will receive U.S. aid under the program.

Guevara also proposed an amendment substituting a promise to promote all sectors of a country's economy for a pledge to stimulate "private activity." This was an obvious effort to favor socialist development and remove official support for private enterprise.

Continues walk of 4,500 miles

REGINA (CP) — William E. Pollock, 48, was somewhere east of Regina Tuesday night, continuing a 4,500-mile, cross-Canada walk.

Pollock, a native of New Brunswick, left Regina Tuesday after visiting Mayor Baker and Chamber of Commerce officials here.

Pollock believes his walk will be a record for Canada and the United States when completed. He is walking from mile zero in Victoria to St. John's, Nfld.

Climber killed

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — An Arnprior, Ont., man died Monday night in a 500 - foot fall while descending Mount Eisenhower, 20 miles northwest of this resort. A search party recovered the body of Gerardus Joannes Bots, 30, early Tuesday. He had been climbing with two companions, Adolph Bower and Miss Louise Carter, both of Ottawa.

East Berlin cordon tightens

Escape routes plugged with concrete walls

BERLIN — East German today plugged escape routes into West Berlin with concrete and started ordering East Germans off trains leaving the country for western Europe.

Armed East Germans working under the glare of searchlights overnight set up concrete walls at road crossing points and strung six-foot barbed-wire fences, giving the anti-refugee barrier a look of grim permanence.

Meanwhile, East German police told travellers on an early morning train from Leipzig in East Germany to Cologne in West Germany that the border had been closed to all East Germans since midnight.

Other reports reaching Bonn said all East Germans were ordered off two night trains at a checkpoint on a line to West Germany further south in Thuringia. East German passengers also were taken off a Swiss-bound train.

A scare hit West Berlin this morning when the overhead railroad, supplied by East German electricity, ground to a halt. But power was restored after 70 minutes and police said "it seems there was a power break after all."

REMAIN CALM

West Berliners remained calm although they were not happy at reports that the allies oppose any drastic action in retaliation against Communist closure of the divided city's border.

West Germany's largest paper criticized the allies for doing nothing in the crisis.

Reports of Western reluctance to counter the tightening East German restrictions came in the wake of a Red threat to repeat the 1948-49 Berlin blockade if Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government cuts off trade with the east.

West Berlin officials predicted that outbursts against cautious Allied stand might erupt at a giant rally Mayor Willy Brandt called this afternoon to protest the Communist squeeze. At least 200,000 were expected to turn out.

West Berliners already were expressing their indignation over the western position.

"They're selling us down the river," said one.

"It smacks of Hungary," said another, referring to the West's failure to step in when Soviet troops smashed the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

FAVORS TRADE BREAK

Many West Berliners looked for Adenauer's government to act on its own against the Communists if Britain, the United States and France would not go along.

The chancellor two days ago spoke in favor of a complete Western trade break with the Soviet bloc. The Bonn government has said it would act only in accord with its allies, but with national elections only a month away, Adenauer is under pressure at home to take concrete measures against the Communist East German regime's ban on East Germans travelling into West Berlin.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe said in Washington Tuesday night that meas-

AT THE BERLIN FRONT — A crowd of West Berliners watch a helmeted East Berlin policeman with a machinegun on guard along the barbed-wire barrier at a main city square on the East-West border. At some points, Communist police hurled tear gas into crowds of jeering Westerners protesting the closing of the border between East and West Berlin. A Red warning to West Berliners to stay more than 100 yards away from the border went unheeded in many places.

Won't prejudice US case in the UN

Kennedy said against resumption of tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is reported to have decided against any resumption of nuclear testing this year, regardless of whether the Russians demonstrate at Geneva they want no foolproof agreement.

The president's position, as outlined to congressional leaders, is that the United States should do nothing to prejudice the case it expects to make in the United Nations that the West is ready to accept a policed ban while he Russians insist on an inspection veto.

Kennedy is sending his chief negotiator, Arthur Dean, back to Geneva next week to find out if the Russians still are sticking to their original position. If they are, he said Dean will come home quickly.

There is little hope within the administration that the Russians will change their position. Accordingly, the plan is to dramatize this last - chance rejection when the General Assembly meets in September.

The UN timetable usually keeps it in session until December. Kennedy is represented as reluctant to announce any resumption of tests while the international organization remains in session.

There is the additional factor in this reported decision that it would take a couple of months to prepare a test shot if a presidential go-ahead is given.

Opinion within the administration is that the United States would lose little advantage by waiting a few more months before it moves into the field of perfecting types of smaller-scale nuclear weaons.

Israel election

Ben-Gurion's party maintains strength

TEL AVIV — (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's socialist Mapai party appeared today to have lost three or four seats in parliament but remained Israel's dominant party. It will be the mainstay of the next government.

Ben - Gurion is expected to form another coalition cabinet made up of the Mapai, the new Liberal party and possibly religious and left - wing labor parties to give him a majority in the 120-member Knesset parliament).

Mapai losses were attributed as much to high taxes and the cost of living as to Ben-Gurion's fight to shut out former defence Minister Pinhas Lavon from succeeding him when the 74-year-old perennial prime minister finally retires. Ben-Gurion resigned last January and forced the election as a result of the so-called Lavon affair.

With half the votes in Tuesday's election counted, these were the totals so far and the likely distribution of Knesset seats:

Mapai 140,465—43 or 44 seats (down three or four); Liberals 50,740—17 seats (up three); Herut (extreme right nationalist) 45,455—16 seats (down one); National Religious Front 40,607—11 seats (down one); Mapam (left-ist labor) 37,384—10 seats (up one); Communists 4 seats (up one).

The remainder of the seats would be divided among seven minor parties that were registering about 10 per cent of the vote.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now that you asked me . . . John Payne was inquiring what the film industry is doing to aid the U.S. mobilization. With President Kennedy calling for help in the Berlin crisis, you'd think that Hollywood would be making its contribution.

"But I can't see that anybody's making an effort," says Payne, who is trying to plan some projects with that in mind.

During The Second World War, Hollywood produced a lot of propaganda flapdoodle, but also came worthwhile films that stressed sacrifice and heroism as part of American heritage. There's little or none of that in evidence today.

The current product is the mixture as before: Sex, sadism, psychology, sophistication. American history, past and present, is ignored. Even in this centennial year, there is not a sign of a film commemorating the Civil War.

MAY BE HOPE

There may be hope with Darryl Zanuck's D-Day picture, The Longest Day. And maybe with MGM's How the West was Won, although Westerns usually inspire about as much patriotism as Biblical epics foster religion . . .

Putting Dick Clark with Fredric March, Ben Gazzara and Eddie Albert in The Young Doctors is like having a little leaguer pitch to Mantle and Maris. Reason is that Clark owned the story and his company co-produced. Anyway, the pros make it the dramatic highlight of the summer season. March again demonstrates he is the dean of American actors . . .

If Otto Preminger had a sense of humor, he could be enjoying a last laugh. His Man with the Golden Arm and The Moon is Blue now own the film industry's purity seal after being denied it when first released. As one code official put it: "They seem like fairy tales compared to the films that get a seal today." . . .

I finally caught La Dolce Vita. It has a few powerful scenes, but is overly long and arty and dwells on depravity for depravity's sake. And it's not very shocking.

Work vital to Canadian growth

Work, in its literal sense has become an old-fashioned word in Canada.

The majority of young men and women are entering the business world today seeking rewards, not the opportunity to be of service.

They are more interested in holidays, pension plans and overtime pay than they are in what they, as individuals, can contribute to the success of the business that employs them.

"And success can never be achieved that way" said the guest speaker at the Sherbrooke Rotary Club Tuesday noon, Romuald Bourque, M.P., for the constituency of Outremon-St.-Jean and Mayor of the City of Outremont, and a member of the Better - Business Bureau.

"Canada today needs men of good will. It needs businessmen who have learned how to make a success of their business and have then devoted their talents and their resources to helping to build here a great free nation."

Mr. Bourque said we need Canadians with faith in their country, more Canadians who are willing to dip into their financial and physical resources to add to our production and exploration facilities.

"Everyone who invests his time and his money in Canada may not end up by being a millionaire." he said, "but everyone who invests in Canada will find deep satisfaction from the national results of his investment."

Freedom in Canada means many things to many people, but it also means in a particular way freedom of enterprise, freedom to succeed through hard work, the Mayor continued.

In Canada, man is free to work, to advance, to apply himself to the task at hand and to reap the reward for doing it well.

He is free to take his earnings and invest them in his future. "All this is part of the system of freedom which belongs to Canadians" he said, "it is part of our system which must be carefully guarded too."

Mr. Bourque explained that we could lose some of our freedom of enterprise, not necessarily because some government dictatorship feared to respect our independence but because some of us might abuse the privilege.

"Freedom of enterprise demands some recognition of responsibility, and it is the responsibility of free enterprise which is represented through our Better Business Bureau across Canada."

Mayor Bourque outlined the essentials for establishing a good business: and how to guard and protect its good reputation. He outlined the aims, the purposes and work being done by the Better Business Bureau all across Canada.

He urged Rotarians, who are in business themselves, to take an interest in the work being done by the Bureau and the contribution that this movement is making to all business.

Head table guests were Captain Genest, representing the Sherbrooke Police force; Ernie Gilbey, mayor of Lennoxville; Claude Root, manager of the Better Business Bureau in Montreal; Carrier Fortin, pro-mayor of Sherbrooke, representing Mayor Nadeau; Rotarian Norm Peveril who thanked the speaker; Club president, Paul Theobald; Rotarian George St. Pierre, introduced the speaker; Joseph Griffith, director of police in Outremont, and Leon Lorrain, secretary-general of the Banque-Canadienne-Nationale.

By SANDRA PICKFORD
(Record Staff Reporter)

A brother and sister walked away with the highest honors given to calf club members for raising top beef at the Lennoxville Calf Club Achievement Day held at the MacDonald farm on the Stanstead Highway Tuesday afternoon.

A Jersey calf, owned and raised by 14-year-old Ruth MacDonald of Stanstead was chosen as the champion dairy calf of all breeds while an Ayrshire calf, owned and raised by her brother, 18 year old Hue MacDonald, was named the reserve champion dairy calf of all breeds.

The best beef cattle will now be entered for competition at the Cookshire Fair and the best dairy cattle will be entered at the Ayer's Cliff fair.

Entries for this year's achievement calf competition day were higher than ever before. Of the 38 Lennoxville Calf Club members, 33 entered their calves for competition.

W. G. MacDougall, county agronome who was in charge of the organization of the Lennoxville achievement day, said the standard of the calves this year was very high.

The following is a list of the first, second and third place winners of each class;

Ayrshire Heifer Calves: Hue MacDonald, Peter Rose, and Kelly Ross.

Pure Bred Jersey Heifer Calves: Ruth MacDonald, Gordon Parkinson and Dan Parkinson.

Junior Grade Jersey calves: Mac Powell, Elaine Deacon, and Warren Savage.

Senior Grade Jersey Calves: Joanne Divens, David Powell, and Warren Powell.

Holstein Heifer Calves: Kenneth Rose, Coleen Coates and Frank Tarte.

Guernsey Heifer Calves: Drew Christie, Randal Turner, and Mac Winget.

Pure Bred Beef Heifer Calves: John Winget, Ann Warner, and Garry Taylor.

Senior Showmanship: Kenneth Rose, Dan Parkinson and Frank Tarte.

Junior Showmanship: Warren Deacon, Coleen Coates, and Joanne Rose.

Beef Showmanship: Ann Warner, Donna Taylor and John Winget.

Open Showmanship contest: Kenneth Rose, Dan Parkinson, and Frank Tarte.

Champion Showmanship: Kenneth Rose of Waterville.

Champion Showmanship: Dan Parkinson of Waterville.

Yearling Holstein, Ayrshire heifer: Heather Rose, Kenneth Rose, and Frank Tarte.

Jersey yearling herd: Susan Powell, David Powell, and Dan Parkinson.

Shorthorn Hereford yearling heifer: Ann Warner and Donna Taylor.

Two year-old Ayrshire, Holstein, Jersey heifers: Heather Rose, Kenneth Rose and Frank Tarte.

Holstein, Ayrshire herds; Heather Rose, Kenneth Rose and Frank Tarte.

Jersey herd: Dan Parkinson and Gorden Parkinson.

The judge was Hugh Peckham of Granby.

Varied night attractions to mark Sherbrooke Fair

Revolutionary changes in the evening grand standstand attractions will feature the 76th anniversary Exhibition at Sherbrooke from August 25 to 31.

The traditional musical with its accompanying vaudeville acts have been eliminated this year. During the past few years patronage at the evening show has dropped sharply with the result the Exhibition has incurred substantial deficits in this branch of operations.

A factor in the declining popularity of the evening show has been the difficulty of obtaining acts that have not appeared previously on television.

In place of the evening show, a varied program will be provided before the grandstand each night.

On Saturday and Wednesday evenings, in addition to each afternoon Sunday through Thursday there will be a series of harness races.

The Lucky Hell Drivers will appear on Sunday and Monday evenings, with a professional wrestling card Tuesday night.

A special closing program will be presented Thursday, highlighted by the drawing for two automobiles.

The week-long program will start off Friday night, August 25, with a monster bingo in the arena and a square dance competition will be staged in the arena on Saturday evening.

The Schokie Chiefs Band from Gorham, N. H., with the drill team will be at the grounds on Sunday and will present two concerts in the arena, one at 2.30 p.m. and the second at four o'clock.

Monday, as usual, will be observed as Children's Day, with youngsters under twelve being admitted free at the gate. In addition, special prices will be in effect on the midway. There will be a special program for children on the grandstand.

Right room, wrong building

WASHINGTON (AP)—Einer Wulfsberg arrived at his office and immediately knew his day was starting badly.

Workmen were tearing down the wall and door to his office.

"What are you doing here?" demanded Wulfsberg, chief of the food additives division of the food and drug administration.

"We got orders," said one of the workmen from the general services administration.

"Well, at least I should get some advance warning," commented Wulfsberg, scanning the order handed him by the workman.

"The order is OK," said Wulfsberg. "The room number is correct. The room is 3357 . . . but you're in the wrong building. . . ."

A larger crew was hard at work late Tuesday repairing the wall and the door to Wulfsberg's office.

Stanstead to amend zoning law

STANSTEAD — (Special) — Rate payers of properties from five zones of Stanstead Village will go to the polls on September 29 - 30 to vote on a by law to have certain properties included in a commercial zone. The notice of the proposed changes will be posted for 30 days prior to the election.

The majority in number and in value of the electors who are property owners situated in each Zone must approve the change.

The valuation roll will be homologated at the general meeting of the Council on September 5. The new valuation is now open to the public at the office of the secretary, Mrs. George Winter, on Maple Street. The new valuation has been increased by $138,000. However there are some Religious properties exempt from taxes included in this figure and will be removed. Any person having complaints about their property valuation figure should present their case at the September session.

Mountain View street is to be extended North by 200 feet and the present open hole will be replaced by a manhole or suitable covering and drainage. Ten tons of asphalt has been used on the Village sidewalk repairs.

Vehicle offences bad though few in number

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — Although infractions against the Quebec Motor Vehicles Act totalled the lowest number in a long time at the local court house here Tuesday, those appearing did so on more serious offences than is customary.

Among these was 29-year-old Arthur Brulotte, who was fined $200 and court costs for driving an automobile without a driver's permit.

Default of payment will result in a one month jail term. Presiding Judge Patrick Delaney refused Brulotte a delay in paying the fine.

Brulotte was arrested August 2, the day after he had had his driving permit suspended for two years after pleading guilty to a charge of criminally negligent driving.

The negligent driving charges were laid following an accident which claimed the life of 43 year-old Mrs. Robert Bartram of Montreal.

* * *

Denis Dame of St. Paul d'Abbotsford was fined $75 and court costs after pleading guilty to a charge of criminally negligent driving.

The incident occurred at Granby on August 11, when Dame was travelling 75 miles per hour and passing automobiles ahead of him on the right side of the street.

The incident occurred within the municipality of Granby, where the speed limit is 30 miles per hour.

* * *

Roger Larouche of Granby was fined $50 and court costs and lost his driving permit for three months after pleading guilty to an impaired driving charge.

Larouche was arrested at Granby August 9.

* * *

Speeding in the village of Abercorn cost Jean-Marie Leroux of Granby $20 and court costs when he appeared before Judge Patrick Delaney on Tuesday.

Testifying against Leroux, Provincial Police officer Herbert McElroy told the court he followed Leroux's automobile through the village of Abercorn June 7 travelling at about 50 miles per hour.

Leroux had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

* * *

Lawrence Crandall of Stanbridge East was fined $15 and ordered to pay court costs after being found guilty of driving an automobile without a driver's permit.

Crandall, who has been driving an automobile for two years without a permit, was arrested following an accident in which he was involved.

Charged rustler to stand trial at Assizes

SWEETSBURG —(Staff)— Gerald Ditchman of Dunham, charged with cattle rustling, was ordered to stand trial at the October Bedford District Criminal Assizes, following his preliminary hearing here Tuesday before Judge Patrick Delaney.

Ditchman is charged with the theft of 10 cows belonging to P. Fontaine of Dunham.

Taking the stand Tuesday, Mr. Fontaine told the court he had sold 10 cows to Ditchman last November, the agreement being that Ditchman would pay him $1,500 plus half the revenue produced by the animals until the debt was paid off.

Fontaine added that Ditchman never paid him anything for the cows, and that when he went to the Ditchman farm to collect the money owed him or the cows, Ditchman told him he had sold the animals.

Lennoxville Mayor receives key

The key to the Lennoxville Optimist Club's park hut was officially presented to Lennoxville Mayor Ernie Gilbey Tuesday evening in the form of a scale model of the 30 ft. x 15 ft. building, by the president of the Club, John Mitchell.

On behalf of the Lennoxville council and the town of Lennoxville Mayor Gilbey thanked the Optimist Club for making such a playground possible.

"The completion of the building and the park marks a milestone in the development of the town of Lennoxville," Mayor Gilbey said.

"If it were not for the Optimist Club there could not have been such a park here," he said, explaining that there had been talk among the council for the past 20 years about forming a playground but a tight budget never permitted such a doing.

His Worship continued, expressing a hope that the Lennoxville Optimist Club would not stop here but continue it's work, possibly building a public swimming pool next.

"A park in the town was badly needed and we hope that in the very near future parks will be developed," the Mayor said.

Mayor Gilbey promised full co-operation if and when the Lennoxville Optimist Club should undertake another such project. "I known the Council is pleased with what you have done and I can speak for everyone in Lennoxville, knowing that they feel the same way."

President John Mitchell outlined the cost of the building which was $3,000. The Club raised $2,400 of it through their Bar-B-Q held last September and the remainder through donations from Lennoxville citizens.

Mr. Mitchell expressed the club's appreciation for the support, given by the various donors and the co-operation given by the town.

The recently completed 30 x 15 hut has two dressing rooms, two rest rooms and one storage room.

An encouraging start

Some long-awaited steps were taken at Monday's meeting of the Sherbrooke council on the city's civil defence program — or rather, the lack of it.

Mayor Armand Nadeau met with the provincial chairman for civil defence, Denis Amyot before the council session, and then later, presented Mr. Amyot's views to aldermen.

There were two main suggestions: that the city send two or three men, probably from the fire and police departments, to the Canadian Civil Defence College at Arnprior, Ont., for training and that the city purchase a mobile emergency unit, designed for survival operations in the event of Canada coming under nuclear attack.

Council wasted no time in approving these suggestions in principle. Before anything further is done, the aldermen await a full report on local civil defence preparation from assistant city clerk Robert Belisle, who is studying available material on the issue.

The funds for these two initial steps will come in large part from the province, which has available in federal grants one and a quarter million dollars for municipal civil defence projects.

What has been accomplished so far shows beyond any doubt that information, qualified advice and even money are all available in connection with civil defence if only a community will take the trouble to look around, and make use of what is available.

Sherbrooke so far, has only scratched the surface in preparing a civil defence program for the area, and there is much more yet to do, as the aldermen recognize. They expressed hope Monday that the initiative taken would be followed through to a successful culmination — the formation of a decent program.

The mayor, whose interest in civil defence was responsible for Mr. Amyot's visiting Sherbrooke, and the members of the council are to be commended for taking these first steps.

They are encouraging, giant strides in the right direction.

Hospital space problems

The incident in Montreal where two injured children were refused admission to a hospital because no beds were available underlines the difficulties associated with getting into a hospital in many parts of Canada. For some time this problem has been felt by the critically ill and now it appears to have spread to victims of accidents.

State hospital insurance has created a demand for hospital beds which far exceeds even the expanded facilities now available. Authorities even doubt whether the present hospital building boom — biggest in the country's history — will alone be sufficient to solve the problem.

The main trouble, according to hospital authorities, is that hospitals are becoming cluttered with convalescents and with people who are in just for a check-up. The critically-ill frequently have long waits before a hospital bed can be secured.

Many doctors, it would seem, are not entirely blameless for this situation. More careful discrimination in deciding which of their patients are in need of hospitalization, prompter discharge of convalescents and the establishment of more low-cost convalescent homes would seem the only answer.

In the absence of such measures, hospital costs will soar; availability of hospital beds will not improve and the general standards of hospital attention will deteriorate.

The strength of despair

South African prime Minister Dr. Hendrik Verwoerd has called a general election for October 18, obviously expecting to improve his already strong hand on the government.

There is every reason, unfortunately, to believe that he will do just this.

Opposition, to begin with, is woefully weak.

The United Party holds but 42 seats out of 160.

One man holds another — Japie Basson, founder of the party. He is left of Verwoerd's ruling Nationalist party, but right of the progressives. He holds a more enlightened racial attitude than the white supremacists, and is seen by some observers as a faint ray of hope on an otherwise dark horizon.

But the ray is faint indeed.

The whites of South Africa are surrounded by militant blacks, led by the arch-nationalist Dr. Nkrumah, now triumphant on top of the pile and fiercely proud of the Negro heritage.

They view with alarm the turmoil in The Congo, where blacks were suddenly handed the reins of their own government without proper preparation.

They are uneasy about the release from detention this week of Jomo "Burning Spear" Kenyetta in Kenya a little to the north east of South Africa, and remember the grim days when he managed the anti-white Mau Mau terrorist society.

They recognize that "Africa for the blacks" is no empty battle cry, but a development in process.

South African whites feel that the only way to maintain their very existence is to build as strong a dam as possible to stem the tide of Negro nationalism.

They regard anything less as an invitation to immediate inundation.

Even those who recognize in South Africa's present policies eventual ruin find Verwoerd more palatable choice than what they regard as instant oblivion.

For all of these reasons, Dr. Verwoerd's party is almost certain to return to power in October with new strength.

But it will be the strength of despair.

Canada in worst part of season

Polio strikes at the unprepared

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Paralytic poliomyelitis in Canada now is chiefly confined to individuals who have not taken Salk vaccine injections and those who haven't had the recommended number of injections.

Federal health officials say they should seriously consider the risk they are taking at this time of year.

Canada has entered the most serious period of the polio season—August and September. The unvaccinated are inviting the crippling disease to strike.

The incidence of paralytic polio has been running far behind last year. But federal health officials warn Canadians not to be complacent; it's still too early to say what the ultimate trend will be his year.

They give this advice:

"The unvaccinated should start their shots immediately to give them at least some degree of protection. The first shot should be followed by a second in four weeks, with a third shot six months later.

"Individuals who have received only one Salk injection should get a second shot provided four weeks have elapsed since the first. Those with two injections should receive a third provided the second was at least six months ago."

* * *

Latest figures issued by the health department show there have been 46 cases of paralytic poliomyelitis reported so far in 1961. This compares with 316 in the corresponding period of 1960 and 192 in 1959.

Deaths this year total two down sharply from 21 at the same time in 1960 and 17 the previous year.

A total of 71 persons died from the disease in 1960, compared with 182 in 1959, second worst year on record. The record was in 1953 when 494 died.

Health department officials dismissed as unfounded statements that it is dangerous to be vaccinated in the summer. They said any time is a good time.

The department estimates that between 70 and 80 per cent of Canadians under 40 years of age now have received at least three injections of Salk vaccine. It has no figures on numbers over 40 who have been vaccinated but says there still are many adults who should have injections.

* * *

Health officials said unvaccinated adults with young children who have been vaccinated are in a "precarious position." Salk vaccine provides immunity against paralytic polio only to the vaccinated individual — but he can still act as a carrier of the deadly disease.

A vaccinated child can pass the disease on to an unvaccinated parent. Parents in this position should realize, the officials said, that polio does not attack only the young. About one quarter of polio cases in Canada and about half the deaths are among people 20 or over.

The officials also warn that unvaccinated children can contract the disease from vaccinated children.

Dr. F. P. Nagler, chief of the health department's virus laboratories, summed up the situation in the June edition of the Medical Services Journal.

"Inactivated (Salk) polio vaccines, although providing a high degree of protection to adequately vaccinated individuals, have shown some limitations to their use in that they do not prevent recurrent outbreaks of paralytic poliomyelitis in the unvaccinated population," he said.

"Salk vaccine does not protect the vaccinees from subsequent intestinal infection with wild polio viruses. Though protected against the paralytic form of the disease, these individuals may act as carriers of the wild viruses, thus contributing to their dissemination within the population."

* * *

Unvaccinated children under five years of age are most susceptible to polio and are the worst spreaders of the virus. In most cases children should be vaccinated as soon as they are three months old.

Departmental officials say that only live polio vaccines have the potential of eliminating polio as an epidemic disease. However, this type of vaccine still is being tested and has not yet been licensed for general use.

The live-virus vaccine contains three weakened and non-virulent strains of polio virus. Taken by mouth, it leads to the growth of antibodies in the same way that a polio attack makes a person immune to further attacks.

Salk vaccine is made of three types of polio viruses which are killed with formaldehyde. Salk vaccine must be given by injection.

About 27,000 Canadians have taken live-virus polio vaccine. The results of these "demonstrations" still are being evaluated.

Poland today—2

Grim co-existence rule of life

Alan Harvey, chief of CP's London bureau, on a tour of Poland found church and state locked in a tense, tight-lipped coexistence. In the following story he describes how this delicate balance affects political and living conditions in the Communist-ruled country.

* * *

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WARSAW (CP) — Political life in Poland has the dispiriting quality of a loveless marriage between two incompatible ideologies.

With Moscow's grudging sanction, the effective ruler is grim-faced, humorless Wladyslaw Gomulka, an ascetic man who works an 18-hour day for Communism. He lives in a small apartment and scorns frivolities.

He is sincere, determined, depressingly dull and on balance a blessing for Poland.

Spiritual influence rests with Stefan Cardinal Wyszynsky, Roman Catholic primate of perhaps the most intensely religious country in the world.

They dislike each other. They resent their mutual dependence but no doors are slammed in anger. It is a tense, tight-lipped coexistence, a union of opposites that do not attract. Obliged to concede spiriual ascendancy to Wyszynsky, Gomulka retaliates by imposing curbs on religious education in schools and by legislation against church property.

* * *

The flame of Communism burns pallidly; the candle of Catholicism has an incandescent glow. Poland's piety strikes all visitors.

The conflict between Commissar and Cardinal, between an atheistic regime and a blazingly devout population, completes the three - way power pull in Poland.

Gomulka has little elbow room. If he tries to please Russia, he risks the wrath of the individualistic Poles, who showed in 1956 that they will take only so much.

Similarly Gomulka can't go all the way to gratify the Polish intellectuals without causing alarm in the Kremlin, his ultimate patron.

In a way all three - Russia, the regime and the people—are political prisoners.

After the strains of 1956—the cry of pain that as Poznan and the October revolution that followed—the impression prevails that this strange, touch-me-not relationship is developing a certain stability.

* * *

There seems to be a meeting of minds between Gomulka and Russia's Nikita Khrushchev, both political realists and pragmatists. Gomulka understands the Polish people, though he has little use for intellectuals. Like Lenin, Khrushchev also seems aware that Poles are "different."

In return for supporting Soviet foreign policy, the Warsaw government seems to be able to stave off Russian demands for collectivization of agriculture. In Poland, only one per cent of arable land is collectivized compared with a "socialist sector" varying between 80 per cent in Romania and 96 in East Germany.

And the Poles this year can point to a record harvest while Germany is in a bad way.

Gomulka does not tamely follow the Moscow line. He has opposed the creation of a new Communist international; under his direction, Poland is easily the most broad-minded of all the satellite societies.

* * *

The present political equilibrium, with all its chafing frustrations, reflects a gradual improvement in conditions. Until recently, Poland has been considered to have the lowest standard of living in eastern Europe. Now it is coming closer to Czechoslovakia, which is economically prosperous but politically servile.

There is just a possibility that ultimately Poland may serve as a pacesetter for evolution in the Communist bloc. It appears to be fostering a more practical approach in industry, whose managers and technicians appear less interested in fussy arid ideology than in how to make things work.

Politically, Poland perhaps has more real freedom even than independent Yugoslavia. In time, the two countries could encourage a more liberal Russian approach to the West.

Spiritually and culturally, Poland looks to London and Paris. The trade picture is less bright. In 1960 Poland did 62.9 per cent of her trade with the Socialist camp and only 37.1 with capitalist countries.

* * *

Britain is in fourth place on Poland's trading list, supplying machinery in exchange for bacon. Canada sends wheat and buys in return about half Poland's export crop of strawberry pulp.

It is an odd experience to meet Polish intellectuals, not necessarily of the extreme left, who worry almost as much about the United States as about Russia. Many Poles portrayed U.S. intervention in Cuba as a classic act of imperialism, a proof that capitalism cannot and will not change.

"You know, sometimes I think there is a great resemblance between Russians and Americans," commented a Warsaw journalist. "Your civilized, well - dressed businessman, knowing nothing of the world outside his narrow business sphere reminds me of the Russian moujik (peasant). Essentially, both are political primitives."

Yet there is little anti-Americanism. Greater concern is caused by signs of anti - Semitism, an affliction that has often troubled Poland.

Nobody relishes the present stalemate. Writers complain that censorship is getting tougher; party - liners grumble that people just won't go for Communism. Sometimes the Politburo seems to be saying in strangled bafflement: "Please, Poles, won't you show a little interest?"

* * *

Abstract art is preferred to socialist realism. At a Soviet exhibition, spectators found Polish works so refreshing that the visiting painters were nearly killed in the rush.

There is a crackle of intellectual excitement in Polish life. Sipping a vodka in Cracow, a reporter was caught in a crossfire of argument over the relative merits of Faulkner and Hemingway. In the same city a woman reporter sat down and wrote a lengthy critique of "Papa Hemingway," without notes, as soon as she heard of his death.

Education is a strong point. In the old quarter of Warsaw, I met a 17-year-old physics student who spoke almost pityingly of the fact that Canadians and Americans have to pay to go to university. The number of undergraduates has increased from 14 per 1,000 population in 1937-38 to 57 per 1,000 in 1957-58. Science receives great emphasis.

Jennifer, nine-year-old daughter of Canadian ambassador Hamilton Southam, attends a Polish school and proudly displays exercise books that are a model of neatness. Her mother speaks highly of the interest taken by teachers in every aspect of the child's welfare. Jennifer, however, said she prefers her old school in Ottawa—the boys were better behaved.

TOMORROW: LIFE MOVES AT SLOW TEMPO FOR CHEERFUL POLES.

POLAND'S RULER — Thin-haired Wladyslaw Gomulka heads the ruling Communist hierarchy in Poland. The 56-year-old leader, once imprisoned by the Communists, has steered Poland since 1956 between the desires of a devoutly Roman Catholic population and the political demands of the Soviet Union. matter of FACT

Eclipses of the sun caused many ancient people to fear for their lives. The Ojibway Indians had what seemed a good practical solution to stop these terrifying disappearances. They lit fire arrows and shot them at the sun to relight the fire. Since the eclipse always came to and end, the Ojibways must have concluded they were pretty good shots.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Friday, August 16, 1946)

Aldermen Hector Lanctot and Oliva Deziel, prime exponents of the plan to municipalize Sherbrooke autobus system, journeyed yesterday to St. Clair, Dorchester County, to interview Mr. Provost, who operates a bus Manufacturing concern in that town.

FIVE YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Thursday, August 16, 1956)

A sharp decline in polio cases has been noted this year in Sherbrooke district, Dr. Emile Poisson, director of the local Health Unit, said that only two new cases have been reported since the beginning of this year, and neither cases were serious. Dr. Poisson stated that he believed the Salk polio vaccine inoculations had helped greatly in reducing the number of polio cases here.

Canadian author, Hugh MacLennan was the guest speaker yesterday afternoon at the annual reception of the Wales Home in Richmond. Mr. MacLennan spoke of his own profession — writing. Mr. MacLennan was introduced by Mr. Justice William Mitchell, vice-President of the Board of Governors, and was thanked by Mr. K. G. Nourse.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

SPADE END PLAY WINS FOR SOUTH

North's takeout double and South's one no-trump bid were eminently correct. There was also nothing wrong with the two and three no-trump bids, except that North and South each held the rock bottom minimum, so that the fine contract was doubtful, to say the least.

South won the opening diamond in dummy, came to his hand with the king of spades, led the queen of hearts and played dummy's ace when the queen was covered, cashed two more hearts and noted that East's nine spot was now the top heart. He then finessed dummy's queen of clubs, cashed the ace of spades and threw West in the lead wit hthe queen.

South had eight tricks in, and since West was down to diamonds, he had to give South his ninth trick in that suit.

West could have beaten the hand in two ways. Tto start with, he could have dropped the jack of spades under South's king and the queen of spades under North's ace. Then he could not have been thrown in the lead, and East would have made five tricks with his bust hand.

Failing to do this, he still could have saved the day later by simply letting one of his high spades go on the third heart lead.

CP airlines gets new UK route

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government Tuesday broke the publicly-owned Trans - Canada Air Lines' monopoly as the only Canadian airline operating the lucrative North Atlantic route into London, England.

Transport Minister Balcer announced government approval of the privately-owned Canadian Pacific Airlines' long-standing bid to fly the Vancouver-London route with a technical stop at Gander, Nfld.

For the first time, too, Calgary is to have a direct service with England. The new route authorization permits CPA to pick up passengers at Calgary and Edmonton, while Calgary also has been designated as a stop on the airline's trans-polar flight from Vancouver to Amsterdam.

TCA estimated it will lose between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 in annual revenues on the London services. However, pending government consideration of another CPA application for a run from Toronto and Montreal to London using only propeller-driven aircraft, TCA remains the sole Canadian transatlantic carrier from the central and eastern provinces.

Welcoming the government decision, CPA saw it as a means of enabling effective competition by a Canadian carrier against foreign air lines which fly from the North American west coast to England.

EAST BERLIN

ures more than "theoretical" will be taken against the new Red barrier. The Bonn government announced the lower house of the German parliament would meet Friday to take its own counter measures.

The British, U.S. and French governments were at work on notes to the Soviet government protesting the restrictions on German movement in Berlin. But U.S. officials in Washington said privately that no strong counter - measures could be taken because the Red barricade applied only to Communist territory.

They noted that the Communists in effect were only doing to East Germany what they did years ago to the rest of the Soviet bloc and that Western access to West Berlin, by both West Germans and others, had not been impaired.

Neues Deutschland, the organ of the East Germany Communist party, predicted that the result of the new Communist restrictions would be negotiations between the Western powers and the East German government. The Western powers have so far refused to recognize the regime.

West Berlin youngsters, held back by police from the barbed wire border with East Berlin, attacked two Communist officers in West Berlin during the night.

They broke into party headquarters in the borough of Friedenau and damaged some furniture. In Moabit, they shattered the windows of a Communist women's group set fire to the curtains and painted "raus" (out) in black paint on its sign.

West Berlin police Tuesday night dispersed a group of about 20 youths who attempted to pull down a barbed-wire fence on the border in the Neukolln district.

East Germany plugged escape routes into West Berlin with concrete, giving the bristling anti - refugee barrier dividing this city a look of grim permanence.

Armed East Germans working under the glare of search-lights overnight walled up loop holes in the sector border with concrete blocks and in other sections laid down six-foot wire fences.

The concrete barriers at the crossing points forced traffic into crawling u-turns aimed at preventing further attempts by East Berliners in cars to crash through the East German checkpoints.

A Soviet source in East Berlin warned the 25-mile border might have to be completely slammed shut if "provocative elements" continue to infiltrate into East Berlin from the Western sectors.

Would-be refugees hoping to swim into the American sector this morning were confronted with a barbed-wire fence along a section of the Tetlow Canal. Several East Germans were seen swimming the canal to the West even as the fence was going up.

Talbot withdraws from UN race

QUEBEC (CP) — Antonio Talbot, Union Nationale member of the Quebec legislature for Chicoutimi and the party's acting leader, said Tuesday he would not run for the party leadership for health reasons.

Speaking at a press conference, Mr. Talbot said he would remain acting leader until the Union Nationale convention Sept. 21-23, and then would give his support to the new leader.

He added that he would keep his Chicoutimi seat in the legislature.

"Although I have accomplished my work without too much difficulty up to now," Mr. Talbot said, "one cannot guarantee that I can take over the hard task of party leader without chances of suffering serious physical inconveniences."

Mr. Talbot first was elected to the legislature in a by-election May 22, 1938, and has been re-elected since. He was roads minister from Aug. 30, 1944 to Jan. 8, 1960.

He took over the post of acting leader Jan. 11 this year, after Yves Prevost, member for Montmagny, resigned because of ill health.

Daniel Johnson, legislature member for Bagot, and Jean-Jacques Bertrand, member for Missisquoi, have announced their candidacies for the party leadership.

Thetford City Council

Syndicate is formed to underwrite bond issue

THETFORD MINES — A syndicate, formed of the Wood, Gundy and Co., Ltd., the Royal Bank of Canada and A. E. Ames and Co. Ltd., has underwritten City of Thetford Mines' bonds in the amount of $140,000 at an interest rate of 5¼ to 5½ per cent.

At a recent city council meeting a demand was received from residents beside the Becancour River, who have suffered damaged by floods in the past, for a wall to be built on its banks bordering on Roberge Street and St. Alphonse Street West, to prevent such floods occurring again. In view of the fact that the city does not have the funds to undertake this project, the persons in question were referred to the Provincial Government, to make their request through Emilien Maheux, Megantic County M.P.P.

The railings on the Dodier Street bridge, crossing at Becancour River, being in bad shape the council was requested to have these repaired. As in the case of the wall, this was referred to the attention of Provincial Government authorities.

In view of the fact that a brook which crosses the grounds of a part of the Monseigneur de Laval School to join the Becancour River is dangerous for the children, the Catholic School Commission of St. Alphonse requested that the city arrange to have this changed. This also was referred to the Provincial Government.

An amount of $1,000 was donated to the project, The Drop of Milk, to be paid to the organizations in charge of distributing seven ounces of milk daily to the children in the first year of the 1961-1962 school term.

A request from a manager of a service station, located on Caouette Boulevard, to remain open on a 24-hour basis was granted.

Financial returns from the recent Bernard and Barry Carnaval amounted to $700. Of this the City retained $1 to cover the permit and the remainder, $699 was turned over to the two Thetford bands, l'Union Musicale and Philharmonic, the sponsors, to be divided equally between them. A sum of $100 was awarded to the 1961 St. Lawrence Valley Cyclists.

Salaries were ordered paid to the public works employees, amounting to $20,848.27.

Alderman Trepanier gave advance notice of a motion to be made to erect an industrial building on the City's property within the city limits. Alderman Routhier was to move the building of certain new sidewalks.

MILAN —

The Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society held its annual meeting in Bethany Presbyterian Church. Rev. T. Dale Jones, who was in charge of the meeting displayed several books of the Bible in various translations and showed a film on the Beatitudes. All officers were re-elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ian MacDonald of Toronto, are spending a holiday with Mr. MacDonald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie MacDonald.

Mrs. John E. Macdonald has returned from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Weyland in Marbleton. Mr. John E. Macdonald has also returned from the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he was a patient for two weeks.

Mr. Duncan McLeod, Mrs. Albert Murray and Mrs. Stanley Murray, accompanied by their cousin, Miss Madeline Cooke, of Cleveland, Ohio, spent two days in Quebec City.

CURRIER —

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bryant were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Peters, in Chateauguay.

Mrs. L. Cochrane, the Misses Sybelle and Linda Cochrane, have left by motor for a trip to visit relatives in Saskatchewan.

Ticats Beat Back B.C. Lions' Drive To Win Close Tilt 30-21

Tigers Sweep Two From Orioles As Yanks Stopped By Juan Pizarro And Sox, Red Sox Blank Indians 8-0

If anyone scratched Detroit Tigers from the American League race, forget it. The Tigers apparently mean to stay close enough to pounce on their first pennant in 16 years in their final battles with the first-place New York Yankees.

If the bounce - back Tigers can keep it up, the Yankees could be scrambling to get back on top when the two clubs meet again Sept. 1-3 at New York and Sept. 15-17 in Detroit.

It's strictly a Tiger - Yank race, with Detroit's Frank Lary pressing Yankee Whitey Ford as the league's top pitcher, Tiger Norm Cash battling New York's Elston Howard for the batting title and Cash, Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline in the running with the Yankees' Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris for the most valuable player award.

The Tigers' four big men led the way Tuesday night as Detroit swept a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles. Lary won his 17th game of the season with a four - hitter in a 2-0 first-game victory decided by Cash's two-run homer. Kaline delivered the payoff single in a three - run ninth inning that won the nightcap 3-2.

HITS 46TH HOMER

Southpaw Juan Pizarro knocked off the Yankees 2-1 by allowing just four hits, one Maris' 46th home run of the year, as Chicago White Sox ended Ford's winning streak at 14 games and shaved New York's lead over Detroit to two games.

Boston Red Sox overpowered Cleveland Indians 8-0 with five home runs, Los Angeles Angels defeated Washington Senators 8-7 and Minnesota Twins belted Kansas City Athletics 9-4.

Lary (17-6) yielded only singles to record his third shutout. He struck out five men and walked only two in a double four - hit duel with loser Chuck Estrada (9-7) and Hoyt Wilhelm. Cash, who has a two-percentage - point lead over Howard in the batting race at .357, settled the game by hitting his 30th home run, with Colavito on base, in the seventh inning.

The Tigers battled back from almost certain defeat in the nightcap for their sixth success in eight games, coming from behind on four consecutive singles off loser Hec Brown (9-4) and relievers Billy Hoeft and Wes Stock with two men out in the ninth inning.

Chico Fernandez started the rally with a one - out double before Reno Bertoia, pinch-hitters Bubba Morton and George Alusik and Kaline singled. Gerry Staley (2-4) won in relief.

FORD LOSES

The White Sox handed Ford (20-3) his first defeat since May 29 on Camilo Carreon's two-out, two - run single in the second inning. Pizarro (8-5) struck out 10, twice fanning Mantle (9-for-4), and didn't have any trouble except for Maris' fifth home run in five games in the fifth inning. That broke a tie between Mantle and Maris and sent Roger 14 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

Frank Malzone had five hits and walloped two of Boston's solo home runs against the Indians who slipped into a fourth-place tie with Chicago. Gene Conley (7-10) also homered while blanking the Tribe on six hits. Gary Bell (8-12) lost.

Albie Pearson's two - run double moved the Angels from behind in the ninth inning and defeated Washington reliever Ed Hobaugh (6-7) while giving the victory to Tom Morgan (5-1) in relief.

Bob Allison, Billy Martin and Harmon Killebrew hit homers for seven of the Twins' runs in support of Jack Kralick (11-8). Martin's three-run belt wrapped things up in the fourth against Jim Archer (8-8).

Tuna Striking In Conception Bay But Tourist Official Says It Is Folly To Think Of Big Tournament

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A government tourist bureau official said Tuesday it would be "folly to start talking grandoise schemes to tournaments" merely because the tuna were striking in fantastic numbers on Newfoundland's Conception Bay.

Douglas Wheeler, the bureau's public relations officer, said that only if this year's bumper catch of rod and reel anglers continues in the next few seasons would there be justification to consider establishing an international - type tuna match such as was popular for many years in Wedgeport, N.S.

"We are hopeful, naturally, of developing bigger traffic in visiting anglers," Mr. Wheeler said. "But we're not letting this year's success go to our heads We're not counting our chickens before they're hatched."

Conditions for tuna are almost ideal this year with a warm early summer and early abundant influx of squid and the yet-to-come runs of herring and mackeral on which the tuna feed. Government officials are quick to point out that these combinations may not reappear for many more years.

Anglers have landed 78 tuna since the season began in late July. The previous one - year record was 11, set in 1959 and equalled last year.

The season usually continues until late September.

Mr. Wheeler said the main factor discouraging tournament talk is the lack of facilities, boats, accommodations, crews and guides.

If the trend to big catches continues, the government's plans for promotion would expand in the same ratio.

Six boats, one which operates only on weekends, now work Conception Bay waters. They are booked to capacity for the season by local anglers.

PULLING THE STRING

Redlegs Stop Dodgers 5-2 To Gain Ground

How far do you think a team would get in the National League race playing .500 ball with a pitching ace who was no more than a break - even right-hander and a slugging outfielder who hadn't hit a home run in more than a year?

Well, Cincinnati Reds are within one game of the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers because they managed to close out a month's play at .500 with a 5-2 victory over the Dodgers Tuesday night.

And Wally Post's first home run against Los Angeles since June 14 of last year gave the victory to Joey Jay, the league's top winner at 17-7 after only a 24-24 record for seven years spent with Milwaukee Braves.

It was the Dodgers' second straight loss, the first time this has happened since July 15 when Los Angeles trailed the Reds by six games. Since then the Dodgers have dropped only five of 24 games. The Reds are 15-15 over the same span. The Dodgers are four games to the good in the decisive "lost" column.

The third - place San Francisco Giants defeated St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, Milwaukee made it five wins in a row with a 4-1 decision over Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs sent the last - place Philadelphia Phillies to their 18th straight defeat 6-5. The modern league record for consecutive losses is 19.

BEATS LA AGAIN

Jay beat Los Angeles for the fourth time in six decisions this season by blanking the Dodgers on three hits over the last eight innings. The young righthander, set to become Cincinnati's first 20 - game winner since Ewell Blackwell in 1947, finished with a six - hitter after giving up three hits in the first inning when Frank Robinson tied the game with a two - run double, and then broke it up with two runs in the sixth on Post's 15th home run of the season and a single by Eddie Kasko. Jerry Lynch drove in the final run in the seventh with a pinch double.

San Francisco managed just four hits but beat southpaw Curt Simmons (7-8) of the Cards with two runs in the sixth on sacrifice flies by Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

Righthander Juan Marichal (11-7) won his fifth straight game with a five - hitter. He had the Cards shut out until the eighth, when they scored on a walk, Ken Boyer's triple and a wild pitch.

Home runs by Frank Thomas and Hank Aaron won for the Braves, with Aaron's 31st of the year a two - run shot that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning and beat Joe Gibbon (8-8). Carl Willey (5-6) was the winner, giving up five hits.

The Cubs and Phils each hit three home runs, but the Cubs' were two - run belts, by Ernie Banks, Ron Santo and Billy Williams, while the Phils', by Don Demeter, Charlie Smith and Pancho Herrera, came with the bases empty. Jack Curtis (8-7) won and Art Mahaffey (7-17) lost, dropping his 10th in a row.

Blue Bombers Buy Fraser From Riders

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers today announced the purchase of halfback Frank Fraser, formerly of Saskatchewan Roughriders, from Ottawa of the Eastern Football Conference for an undisclosed amount.

Fraser, a six - foot, one - inch pass - catcher specialist is originally from Montreal. Last year with Saskatchewan he led Canadian pass receivers with 33 completions on 39 passes — an 84 - per - cent average. His pass - catching yardage totalled 360.

'49ers Trade Y. A. Tittle To New York Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Veteran quarterback Y. A. Tittle today was traded by San Francisco '49ers to New York Giants in exchange for lineman Lou Cordileone.

A spokesman for the '49ers said the deal between the two National Football League teams "was a straight player trade—nothing else was involved."

Tittle, 34, had been with San Francisco since 1951 and previously had played three years with Baltimore Colts.

Cordileone was the Giants' first draft choice in 1960. He was a star tackle at Clemson and was named the most valuable lineman in the 1959 East-West charity game.

Cordileone, 23, plays offensive guard or tackle, and defensive tackle or end.

Columbus Jets Take Two From Wings To Increase Lead To Eight Games, Jersey City Stops Maple Leafs 4-3

Columbus Jets are driving hard for their first International League pennant in 20 years.

They swept a doubleheader from Rochester Red Wings 1-0 and 3-1 last night to increase their league lead to eight games.

Buffalo Bisons and Charleston Marlins split a twin bill. The Marlins dropped the opener 5-1 but bounced back with a 7-2 victory in the nightcap. Richmond Virginians edged Syracuse Chiefs 4-3, while Jersey City Jerseys snapped a three-game losing streak by beating Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3.

Larry Elliot's 14th home run of the season, with a man on base, in the sixth inning of the second game gave Jet southpaw Al Jackson his 10th victory. Fred Valentine hit a homer in the seventh for Rochester's only run.

Tom Parsons and Diomedes Olivo collaborated on a six-hit shutout in the seven - inning opener. Columbus' lone run was scored in the fourth on a walk to Bob Oldis and singles by Roman Mejias and Don Clendenon.

Three successive home runs by Fred Whitfield, Joe Morgan and Ben Mateosky in a seven-run third inning powered Charleston to a comeback victory in the second game. Whitfield's homer, his 15th, came with two men aboard.

The Bisons collected five of their eight hits and four of their five runs in the second inning of the opener. Buffalo's Babe Birrer gave up a homer to Carl Warwick in the third inning.

Don Lock's eighth home run in 10 days, a two-run shot in the 10th inning, won the game for Richmond.

Jersey City southpaw Bob Risenhoover, normally a relief man, made his second start of the season and pitched brilliantly until he weakened in the ninth. Andres Ayon went in to cement the decision, although he gave up a two-run single to Ken Hamlin.

Jimmy Mossman Named Coach Of Canoeing Team

MONTREAL (CP) — The Canadian Canoe Association Tuesday night announced the appointment of a five - man Olympic selection commitee, chosen at the group's recent semi-annual meeting.

H. Ford of the Lachine, Que., Racing Canoe Club, was appointed chairman. Committee members are W. J. Colligan, Lasalle, Que.; R. M. Sleeth, Toronto; J. Allen, Montreal, and B. Oldershaw, Port Credit, Ont.

The anonuncement said the committee appointed Jimmy Mossman, of Toronto Balmy Beach Canoe Club, coach of Canada's 1964 Olympic canoeing team. Mossman was coach of the 1960 team at the Rome Olympics.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Hitting: Frank Malzone, Boston Red Sox, drove in three runs with two homers and three singles in five at-bats in an 8-0 American League victory over Cleveland Indians.

Quarterback Bernie Faloney Tosses Three TD Passes, Lions Rallied In Last Half But Ran Out Of Steam

HAMILTON, Ont. — (CP) — A quarterback who was peddled off and a couple of defensive halves who were converted into ball-carrying and pass-catching threats powered Hamilton Tiger-Cats to a squeaky, but well deserved 30-21 Canadian Football League victory over British Columbia Lions Tuesday night.

Ticats, who finished last in the Eastern Conference in 1960 after a fat three-season reign as Eastern champions, almost buckled under a 20-point B.C. third quarter. But they bounced back in the final minutes of the game with their fourth touchdown to send the Westerners home with a 0-3 won-lost record.

Quarterback Bernie Faloney, who remained with Ticats after the Sam Etcheverry deal with Montreal Alouettes fell through, fired three touchdown passes. But the real heroes to Ticat fans were Ralph Goldston and George Scott, a pair of United States players who have been noted mainly for their defensive play.

Goldston, 31, with Ticats for about five years, went over for one touchdown and Scott, a newcomer last season from New York Giants who went on offence in a desperation move by coach Jim Trimble, got two.

Halfback Gerry McDougall scored Hamilton's other touchdown.

Don Sutherin added a convert and a 22-yard field goal and Hamilton's other two points came on a safety touch when the Lion's Neal Beaumont bobbled a Hamilton punt at his goal line and was chased into the end zone by Hal Patterson.

WENT ON RAMPAGE

The Lions, directed all night by quarterback Jim Walden, went on a third-quarter rampage for three touchdowns by Willie Fleming, Vern Lofstrom and Don Vicic.

George Grant kicked two conversions and midway through the final quarter they added a single when Ticats' Paul Palmer was smeared by five tacklers in the Hamilton end zone on a punt by Beaumont.

Faloney clicked on 20 of 33 attempts for a whopping 411 yards and Walden made good on 16 of 29 for 301. Ticats outrushed the Lions 82-32 and moved the yardsticks 22 times against 14 for the Westerners.

Faloney caught Scott with a five-yard touchdown strike in the third quarter and in the same stanza partnered Goldston on a 72-yard pass-and-run six-pointer. He squashed all B.C. hopes with a 14-yarder to McDougall with only two minutes and 58 seconds remaining in the game.

Scott opened the scoring with a 27-yard burst around the left end with three minutes to go in the opening quarter. Goldston set it up when he took a 29-yard pass from Faloney.

Walden whipped a 40 - yard touchdown strike to Fleming and another for 11 to Lofstrom in the West Coast club's big third quarter. Vjcic got his on a one-yard plunge.

Bye Bye BOGIES by BOB ROSBURG

No. 52—Short Game

Some exceptionally fine golfers and teaching professionals believe a beginner is better off starting with short shots.

Rhythm is even more important on short shots than long ones, although the general principles are the same. Feel the clubhead with the manipulative fingers and hit the ball cleanly with the hands.

The nearer the hole, the less body turn is required, which is a fact many weekend golfers forget or overlook. From the half shots downward, the body turn should be restricted. The player should stay more over the ball. The hands and the clubhead will do the rest.

The easy wristy pitch used by many top shotmakers is a pleasing sight, but it demands timing that comes only from experience and natural ability and is beyond the reach of the average player.

As I say in my recorded lessons, Hear How To Play Golf, the occasional player is better off using a little more forearm, a bit less wrist.

EASY WRISTY pitch demands timing that is beyond the average golfer.

Storm Forces Postponement In Baseball Playoffs Last Night

Series Will Commence This Evening With Als At Granby, Drummondville Visits Waterloo In Important Tilts

The storm which hit the region last night forced postponement of all opening games in the Provincial Eastern Townships Baseball League finals. The tilts will be rescheduled tonight with the Alouettes at Granby, Drummondville at Waterloo and the Coaticook Canadiens meeting Acton Vale.

It was decided at the last league meeting in case of rain the games would be played the following evening. The Coaticook-Acton Vale series will open in St. Hyacinthe as the Beavers have no lights in their park.

The extra day's rest will help all the hurlers as some of the boys have been working overtime lately. It will be a good thing for the Alouettes and the Beavers who have been relying on a few hurlers to get them by.

If rain should continue this evening the games will be played Thursday evening and all the other games will be backed up. There will be no games played Friday evening but they will continue Saturday and Sunday.

If the Als and the Knights can get together tonight the next game is booked at the Park Avenue Stadium tomorrow night and following this the series switches to Granby Saturday and the teams will tangle twice on Sunday.

This will make things tough for the managers and coaches in juggling their pitchers around. Two games booked on consecutive nights and three on the weekend will certainly strain all hurling staffs in the league. Tomorrow night's game is slated for 8.30 providing they play tonight in Granby if not then the Als won't play at home till Saturday evening.

Medallist John Kindred Leads Ontario To Junior Team Title, Quebec Finished In Fourth Spot

SASKATOON (CP) — Stocky John Kindred of Peterborough picked up medalist honors Tuesday as he led Ontario to the interprovincial team title at the Canadian junior golf tournament.

Kindred, who said he played well because "something was at stake" toured par-70 Saskatoon Golf and Country Club in 74-73—147.

Ontario won with a 36-hole total of 606. Saskatchewan had 644, British Columbia 651, Quebec 653, Manitoba 659, a combined team from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island 673 and Alberta 679.

Kindred was one of 32 qualifiers to tee off today in the first round of match play for the individual junior title.

Tournament officials were thrown into a quandary when Nova Scotia's Robert Silver of Halifax unknowingly violated an out-of-bounds rule on the 10th hole of Tuesday's first round of interprovincial play.

After long consultation, the rules committee disqualified Nova Scotia from the team matches and Silver from the individual junior play.

Silver, after driving out of bounds twice on the 10th, pitched a ball over his shoulder and resumed play with a two-stroke penalty. Rules require a golfer to play from the tee area in successive strokes.

Maj. W. J. McCall, non-playing Nova Scotia team captain, said the disqualification was "unfortunate . . . Bobby Silver is a fine young player and just made a mental lapse that happens to a good many golfers."

Lawrence O'Hearn of Dartmouth soothed Nova Scotia's team disappointment with a 76-75—151 with runnerup medal honors.

Andre Tielemans Of Montreal Sets Merry Pace In Davis Cup Junior Round-Robin Tourney At Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—Andre Tielemans, 17-year-old Montreal tennis player, Tuesday scored four straight sets victories on the first day of play in Canada's junior Davis Cup round robin tournament.

Tielemans, the No. 2 ranked player in Canada, started off with an easy 6-2, 6-2 triumph over 16-year-old Jean Laverdure, also of Montreal.

Then he beat Yvon Leblanc, Montreal, 7-5, 6-2; Don Curtis, Toronto, 8-6, 6-2, and Barry Shakespeare, Halifax, 6-1, 6-0.

The four victories gave Tielemans a total of 12 points and the lead over 11 other competitors. Three points are awarded for a straight sets victory and two for a victory in three sets. The loser of a three-set match gets one point.

LEBLANC IS SECOND

Next in the point column was Leblanc, 20, who registered four victories—one in three sets—besides losing to Tielemans. Leblanc has 11 points.

In other matches Claude Savaria, Boucherville, Que., defeated Bob Piers, Halifax, 6-2, 6-3; Piers defeated Barry Shakespeare, Halifax, Quebec City, 9-7, 6-0; Shakespeare defeated Jackie Herisset, Quebec City, 9-7, 8-6; Don Curtis, Toronto, defeated Piers 6-4, 6-2; and Leblanc defeated Piers 6-1, 6-1.

Stewart, Lothrop Win Little Lake Sailing Titles

Sutherland Stewart and Ashford Lothrop Win Races For Little Lake Magog Sailing Title.

In addition to winning the Regatta Trophy for snipes, Sonny Stewart posted his first victory in all - class racing and moved closer to second place. Ashford Lothrop came second to maintain a strong hold on first place. Dr. Yves Gadbois was third and Marcel Chateauneuf was a close fourth.

Sunday, in thirty mile an hour winds, nine boats answered the starting gun. However, due to faulty equipment and a head on collision at the start, only four boats finished the race.

Ashford Lothrop all but sewed up his second championship in three years with a well earned victory defeating Gadbois and Styan by forty-five and seventy-six seconds respectively. Mr. Lanctot finished fourth.

"PETE CROSS LEADS SHERBROOKE LAUNDRY TROPHY"

In the snipe competition, Pete Cross placed first and second Saturday to gain a slim edge over Stewart and Chateauneuf. In the first race Chateauneuf edged Cross at the finish line by one second. However, on corrected time Cross was awarded first place.

Sonny Stewart beat his two opponents in the second race with a decisive tack to the windward mark. Chateauneuf finished second however his handicap put him behind Cross at the finish.

The standings for both trophies follow:

JEAN PAUL PERRAULT TROPHY

Lothrop	1620.25
Styan	1501.83
Stewart	1496.0

Willie Mays Hit On Right Hand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Centrefielder Willie Mays of San Francisco Giants was forced to leave the game Tuesday night when hit on the right hand by a ball pitched by St. Louis Cardinals' Curt Simmons.

Mays was hit between the right thumb and forefinger. He went to hospital for x-rays.

St. Louis manager Manny Keane was thrown out of the game by umpire Augie Dontalli when he argued the ball had hit Mays' bat.

CPG Tourney Opens Today In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—The 49th annual Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship gets underway on nearby Boischatel's Royal Quebec course Friday with a record number of Canada's best professional golfers entered.

The tournament's director, E. D. Marshall of Toronto, said the 120 entries was a record.

Every province is represented with Vancouver's Stan Leonard, a seven - time winner of the CPGA, picked as the early favorite.

The CPGA is a 54-hole affair spread over three days.

All entries will take part in the traditional pro - amateur competition which annually precedes the CPGA. This competition will be held Thursday before a special 18-hole playoff between Leonard and Al Balding of Toronto for the Rivermead cup awarded annually to the low-scoring Canadian golfer in the Canadian open.

In this year's open, held at Winnipeg July 13-16, Balding and Leonard tied with 72-hole scores of 278—eight strokes behind winner Jacki Cupit of Longview, Tex.

Seagram's Martini-Master Makes Summer Cooler

SHERBROOKE — Summer has many savours. One of the most pleasant is found in the tall, cool drinks and refreshing cocktails mixed with Seagram's Gin. After healthy, happy hours at golf or in the garden, this superb gin can add pleasure to your moments of relaxation. Seagram's unique Martini-Master container, in which this matchless Seagram's Gin is sold, is an accessory that serves many other summer needs, too. Made from antique glass with gold-plated cap and easily removed label, the Martini-Master can be used as a mixer and to store a supply of your favourite cocktails or fruit juices, iced tea or coffee. To store and pour, Seagram's Martini-Master serves you well. Next time, ask for Seagram's Gin — the extra dry gin in the all-purpose Martini-Master cocktail-shaker.

Dow

BRINGS OUT THE BEST IN BEER...

1 MULTI-BLENDING

A master blending of 36 great brews brings out the best in beer—makes Dow the easiest-drinking, most dependably uniform ale ever brewed. Multi-Blending and Cool Control Brewing in a unique way result in Dow, a truly great ale.

2 SMOOTH YEAST

A special, highly-prized yeast is another secret of the fine quality of Dow Ale. This exclusive Dow Smooth Ale Yeast has been carefully developed from some of the most valuable yeast strains in the world. Result: the characteristic smoothness and uniformity of Dow—the best in beer.

3 BLENDED BARLEY MALTS

The best in beer demands the best ingredients. The special blend of top quality Canadian Barley Malts used in brewing Dow Ale calls for the very best barley Canada produces. Nothing less will meet Dow standards. Result: the fine, full-bodied quality you can always count on with Dow.

4 BLENDED HOPS

Only a masterful blending of the best hops can bring out the best in beer. Dow selects prime hops, picked at the fleeting moment of perfection, and blends them carefully to give you that true beer taste you enjoy in Dow. Another reason we can guarantee:—"Dow brings out the best in beer!"

GUARANTEED COOL CONTROL BREWED

This is to certify that Dow Ale is brewed by the exclusive Cool Control process. This process is continually tested, thereby ensuring uniform high quality.

Townships militia men train for national survival

Vehicle is cleansed by specially-equipped soldier in decontamination centres to rid it of surface radioactivity.

Improvisation and speed stressed in training

Rescue operations important part of survival training program

1,500 reservists ready for action

By CHARLES CATCHPAUGH
(Record Correspondent)

Some 1,500 Eastern Townships militiamen who belong to the 9 Militia Group, would go into instant action if Canada was attacked by nuclear weapons.

These part-time soldiers have undergone three years of concentrated training, as directed by the Privy Council Order No. 565, issued May 28th, 1959, which gave Canada's regular army and militia major responsibilities in the field of National survival.

Like other professional and part-time soldiers across the nation, our reservists have placed emphasis on their new line of duty, making certain that should they ever be called on, every officer, N.C.O. and man would be able to immediately take up his respective responsibility.

Specialized national survival training has its beginning in lecture rooms, advancing to practical exercises, that have been made realistic through advance planning and preparation. The theory is to allow reservists an opportunity to train in as close to actual conditions as possible.

Summer training camp instruction last year and this past June were primarily devoted to procedure in national survival techniques, and to give militiamen practical experience.

Specially prepared simulated casualties were used in mammoth exercises held in conjunction with both camps.

Here in Sherbrooke, the militia has on several occasions held practical training schemes, and with added effects that gave their exercises realistic appearance.

Now that the question of an organized civil defence organization within Sherbrooke has received consideration, what is the militia's role. What is their duty? Who calls on the reserve force, and what would these 1,500 well trained men do in the event of a nuclear attack on Canada?

These questions are answered by the directive given by the privy council order, which clearly defines the Army's role:

A — Giving warning of a forthcoming attack;

B — Identifying the location of strikes;

C — Assessing damage and number of casualties caused by the attack and fallout;

D — Executing re-entry operations, and the rescue of casualties;

E — Directing the police and fire services in seriously damaged and contaminated areas;

F — Directing municipal police in areas threatened by fall-out;

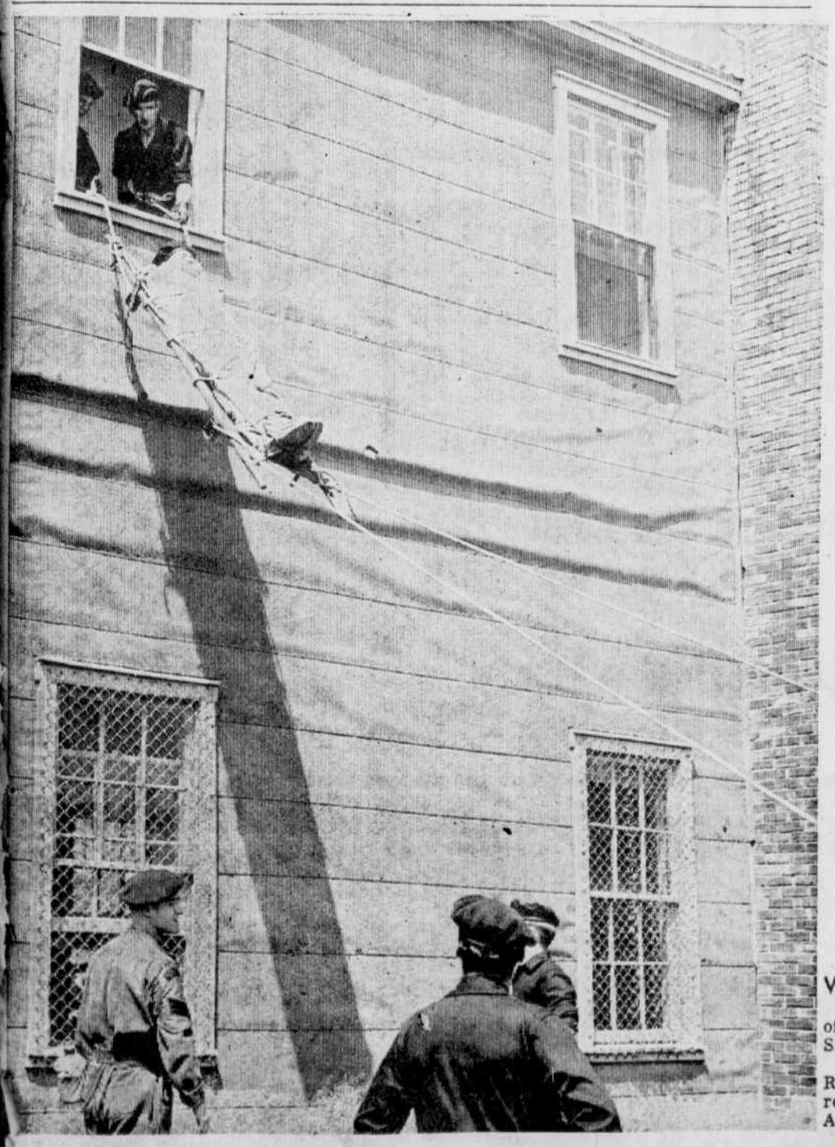

H — Maintenance and operation of emergency communications.

All militia training has been based on this directive, and in the event of a major disaster, unless authorized by the Department of National Defence, the regular army and Militia alike would carry out the duties defined.

No. 9 Militia Group comprises eight units and a headquarters, which is located in the Williams Street Armoury.

Brig. Jean Prosper Gautier, DSO, CD, commands the approximate 1,500 men and women in the group, which is basically a self-sufficient combat brigade, possessing two armoured units, The Sherbrooke Regiment, RCAC, and 7/XI Hussars, RCAC; two field artillery units, the 27th Field and 46th Field Artillery Regiments, RCA; two infantry units, 6th Battalion-Royal 22nd Regiment RCIC and Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, RCIC, as well as the 8th Medical Company, RCA MC, and 24 Technical Squadron RCEME.

Established when conventional warfare was the likely threat, units of this group used to concentrate only on fighting instruction, and still keep in battle fitness.

Multi-storey rescues are taught part-time soldiers who would play major role in nuclear attack.

Simulated Casualties provide realistic practice

Specially-instructed militiamen serve as make-believe casualties

The Doctor Says

Dr. Hyman

HYPERTENSION VICTIMS SWALLOW PILLS, FALSE FACTS

According to estimates published by a prominent manufacturer of blood pressure-reducing drugs (anti-tensives about 6 million Americans suffer with hypertension. Some 66 in each thousand city dwellers and 118 of each thousand who live in rural communities.

And, since the statement is also made that life expectancy is lowered in persons with elevated blood pressures, the "running reader" might be led to conclude that at least one means for prolonging life is through a steady diet of anti-tensive pills.

Not being a running reader, I shudder at the prospect of 6 million fellow citizens swallowing, with more or less regularity, daily doses of any of the presently available drugs capable of effecting and significant and sustained fall in blood pressure.

Here are some of the reasons for my reservations and fears:

Those who rely on statistics for their medical information variously assert that hypertension is evidenced when the blood pressure reading is over 119/73, more than 123/76 or in excess of 140/90 or 160/95.

Not only is there a considerable difference of opinion, as to what consttiutes high blood pressure, but, also, many variables influence mass statistical studies. For example the squat 5 by 5 is apt to have a level that is normally higher than the lanky bean pole. Women run higher than men. And the level rises as we get older or heavier or both older and heavier.

Then of course, there are the variables introduced by the circumstances present during the individual reading. The machine will record a higher level when we're lying flat than when we're standing; when the reading is made in a busy office or clinic than when it's made at home; when it's made by a stranger, such as an insurance examiner of an induction officer, than when it's made by the family physician; or when the observation is recorded when we're in a state of excitement rather than relaxed.

I have reservations, too, about the side effects of these powerful drugs, especially if they heve to be taken over long periods of time. For, if they're given in sufficient doses to be effective, they may produce lightheadedness, headache stomach upset, weakness, mental depression, fever and episodes of fainting.

Finally, since there is general agreement that in 95 percent of cases, the cause for the hypertension is unknown ("essential hypertension") and in most of the remaining 5 per cent the cause is hardening of the arteries, it must be concluded that none of the blood pressure-reducing drugs actually influences the cause for the disturbance which remains unchanged whatever the level of the reading.

I'll have more to say on hypertension later.

NORTH HATLEY —

Mrs. Ruth Giroux of Salem, Mass., was a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Auger, as were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kamon, also of Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Morton and three children, of Burlington, Ont., who also visited Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Clark. Other weeeknd guests at the Auger home were, Miss Luvina Auger, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Auger, of Boston Mass.

Friends will be sorry to learn that Mr. Pat Gagnon is a patient in hospital, in Montreal.

Mrs. A. Majaury, of Lennoxville, is visiting Mrs. Grace Thompson. Constable Sydney Majaury, of the R.C.M.P., at Rockcliffe, Ont., spent a weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Majaury.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Seguin and children, of Toronto, are visiting Mr. Seguin's father, Mr. J. A. Seguin, and Mrs. Seguin.

Water skiing championships start August 19th

A SPORTING THREESOME — Georgia Trew, left, Roger Codere, centre and Nancy Nicol, right, exhibit perfect waterskiing form at a sports show held in North Hatley this spring. Since then Miss Nicol has been named Senior Women's slalom champion.

NORTH HATLEY — The annual Eastern Townships Open Water - Skiing Championships will be decided this coming weekend at the Pleasant View Hotel boat dock in North Hatley.

This year, as in the past, the tournament will be under the auspices of the North Hatley Aqua Ski Club with Eric Schiller, noted local sportsman, as chairman.

There are twelve different categories open to all entries. They are: The Senior men's slalom and jumping; the senior women's slalom and jumping; boys' slalom and jumping; girls' slalom and jumping; and junior boys' slalom and jumping as well as junior girls' slalom and jumping.

A senior is anyone over the age of 17 while a junior is anyone under the age of 12, while those in between the ages of 12 and 17 fall into the third class.

Anyone is eligible to enter this tournament. The entrance fee is $1.50 for one event and $2.00 for both events in one's particular age category.

According to Mr. Schiller, the tournament chairman, there are two or three trophies for each class.

So far there have been close to 40 entrants for the tournament which will be held this weekend and more are expected as the week draws to a close.

The slalom championships are expected to get underway at 10 o'clock this coming Saturday morning and will continue throughout the day. If there are more contestants than expected or if there are ties, the slalom championships will draw to a close Sunday morning.

The jumping championships will get underway Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and continue until the champions in the various classes have been declared which is expected to be some time in the latter part of the afternoon.

Competition this year is expected to be very keen as most of last year's champions have already notified the committee that they will be back to defend their titles and many local skiers made known their intentions to enter the tournament.

All skiing will be done behind a boat provided by the North Hatley Aqua Ski Club which will be going at 34 miles per hour. This is one mile per hour less than the maximum allowed in all sanctioned jumping competitions and two miles an hour less than the speed limit in slalom tournaments.

At least two Canadian champions will be in attendance at the Eastern Townships Water-skiing Championships this coming weekend. They are Nancy Nicol, Canadian Senior Women's slalom champion and Guy Donahue, Canadian Junior Boys slalom champion.

Michel Codere last year's senior men's jumping champion may have trouble from Charles Codere this year if he expects to retain his championship. Michel won the title last year with a jump of 78 feet, but Charles has already this year completed a jump of 93 feet. Thus a good fight is expected in this class as in all the others.

CANINE ENTHUSIAST — This young lady enjoys water skiing with her dog. The dog may not qualify for the championships yet but many who attend the two day competitions on Lake Massawippi this weekend will come away with prizes.

MAGOG —

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Christie, of Three Rivers, were guests of Mrs. Christie's sister, Miss May Parker, Bullard Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Catchpaugh have returned from a three-week holiday spent motoring to Seven Islands, from where they flew to Schefferville, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Catchpaugh. On the return journey they took the boat from Seven Islands to Ste. Anne des Monts. Mr. and Mrs. L. Catchpaugh returned with them and will be their guests for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Eccles and family have been holidaying with Mrs. Eccles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Trew, Bullard Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Smith and family have returned to Vermillion, Alta., after visiting Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Smith.

Mrs. R. A. Marcotte visited her step-mother, Mrs. J. M. Turcotte at Nicolet. Mrs. Turcotte will celebrate her 99th birthday in January. She still has keen eye sight and hearing and enjoys good health. Mrs. Marcotte was accompanied by Miss Monique Marcotte, Mrs. Pierre Bourbeau and Mrs. Arthue St. Cyr. Later Mrs. Marcotte and Miss Marcotte left for the Laurentians, where they are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Charpentier at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Willett of Baldwin, Long Island, N.Y., and son, Mrs. John Willett, have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Smith. Mr. Willett had not visited Richmond for 30 years.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. Walter McMorine on the occasion of his 80th birthday.

Mrs. E. Laurie has left for the Laurentians, where she is a guest for a few days of her niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hayward are spending a holiday in Amherst, N.S., and vicinity.

Miss Katie Goggin, who has been a patient for several days in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Sherbrooke, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Flagler, of Toronto, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrrs. D. R. McLaughlin.

Mrs. J. E. Henderson and son, Mr. Edward Henderson and daughter Valerie, Mrs. M. Dalton and Miss Suzanne Gagnon, of Windsor, attended the O'Connor — Brewis wedding in Montreal. Later Mrs. Henderson and daughter accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Adamson, of Kingsbury, left for Lake Carmin, Franklin, Vt., where they are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Geddess at their summer cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Collins, of Hampstead, were week end guests of Miss Edith McCourt, and Mrs. Elizabeth Epps. Mrs. Frederick Collins, who has been a guest for several days, returned home with them.

Friends will be sorry to learn of the death of Dr. Roger Nadeau, of this place.

ASBESTOS —

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fletcher, Mr. Greg Fletcher, and Mr. E. C. MacGonigal, of Dorion, and Miss Ida R. Champoux, of Montreal, spent a weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Kirstein to help celebrate Mrs. Kirstein's birthday.

The Misses Karen and Linda Wilkins, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., are spending some time with their grandmother, Mrs. L. T. Dean, Belvedere Street. Other guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Dean and little son, William, of Thetford Mines, and Mrs. M. McGinnis and children of Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hegenbarth and children have returned to their home on Webb Avenue, after a long visit with family and friends in Holland. While there Mr. Hegenbarth visited Mr. Henne Stam, formerly of Asbestos, who is in business in Amsterdam.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Campbell and Mr. Charles Greenlay, Frontenac Street, visited their sons, Ian and Terry, at Quebec Lodge, where they have been for some time. En route home Mr. Greenlay visited Mrs. Greenlay at the Sherbrooke Hospital and reports she is making progress.

Y.W.I. meets at Melbourne

MELBOURNE — The Richmond Young Women's Institute held the August meeting at the home of Mrs. Joyce Mastine, with the County president, Mrs. V. R. Beattie, and several other ladies as guests.

A report on the County Institute meeting was given by Mrs. Marjorie Levitt.

A donation of $5 was given to the C.N.I.B. Fund.

Plans were made for an afternoon tea to be held on Sept. 15, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Kirk Hall.

Mrs. Daisy McGee won the drawing for the Pennies for Friendship.

Bingo was played at the close of the meeting and refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Joyce Mastine and Mrs. May Stimson.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary-Paul Pariseau.

MR. and MRS. BERNARD BRADNER photographed following their wedding recently in St. Edward's Church, Eastman. Mrs. Bradner is the former Lois Editha Kezar, daughter of Mrs Maurice Cutler of Sherbrooke and the late Mr. Kenneth Kezar. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Bradner of Lafleche.

BRADNER — KEZAR

WATERLOO — The marriage of Lois Editha, daughter of Mrs. Maurice Cutler of Sherbrooke and the late Mr. Kenneth Kezar, to Mr. Bernard Bradner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Bradner of Lafleche, took place recently at St. Edward's Church, Eastman, Rev. Father McIntyee of Montreal, officiating. Stansteads of pink and white gladioli and carnations decorated the Church.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Stanley G. Copping, wore a ballerina length gown of white organza over taffeta, fashioned on princess lines with long sleeves and very full skirt. Her veil was shoulder length. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink roses.

The bride's cousin, Miss Judith Copping, as maid of honour, wore a pale blue gown, styled with a full skirt and cummerbund waistline. Her headdress was a blue velvet bow with a floating veil. She carried a nosegay bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Michael Bradner acted as best man for his brother.

Following the reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Copping at Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Bradner left for Lac des Plages, the bride travelling in a gold linen ensemble with white veiled hat and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradner will take up residence in Longueuil, Que.

Tips for parents

By HELEN R. HEWSON
Parent Education Associates

Her 12-year-old son had taken money from her purse. It was not the first time he had helped himself to change from mother's purse, the kitchen change cup or his sister's little hoard.

This time he had taken a whole dollar and mother felt that something should be done about it.

She reported, "He doesn't make a habit of taking money—only when he is angry and upset.

"I understand how he feels and haven't punished him. I thought this little difficulty would clear up as he learned to handle his anger, but there is no improvement."

This mother is certainly confused. She evidently believes that to understand is to accept.

NOT ACCEPTANCE

We may understand what has prompted certain kinds of behavoir but it does not follow that we accept or condone the behavior. It simply means that we put our understanding, our knowledge to work in solving the problem.

Mother thought the boy's behavior would change as "he learned to handle his anger."

He is learning to handle his anger by venting it against someone else.

He is learning to handle his anger in a way that is damaging to his own personality and to his relationships with others.

The boy is 12 years old. By this time his mother must have a fairly clear idea of the kind of situations that arouse his anger to such a pitch that he seeks relief by stealing.

PREVENTION

If they are home situations she would do well to remember the old adage that "prevention is better than cure" and take steps to reduce family tensions.

He also needs to be helped to meet trying situations with more courage and good sense. Hitting out at others is no solution to a personal problem.

Help him to analyze one or two anger-provoking situations, to discover how a change in his own behavior might have eased the situation and his own feelings.

The specific problem of taking money must also be faced. The 4 or 5-year-old may confuse "mine and thine" but the 12-year-old knows the difference and must respect it.

He must repay money taken, either from his allowance or by doing extra chores, other than his regular duties.

Both allowance and pay should be reasonable, not so generous that they lose all meaning as teaching aids.

Again it must be emphasized that understanding should sharpen, not dull parental responsibility.

Engagements

Mrs. Claris Phillips of Sawyerville announces the engagement of her daughter, Constance Lillian to Mr. Roger Vernon Darling, son of Major and Mrs. R. V. Darling of Bells Corners, Ontario. The marriage has been arranged to take place on August 26 at the Sawyerville United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon French of Sawyerville announce the engagement of their daughter Muriel Frances to Wayne Thomas Bissell of West Leydon, New York, son of Mrs. Mary Jordon of Madison, Maine, and the late Chester Bissell.

NEW YORK CREATIONS — The chiffon dress shown at left features a 33 color skirt floating from a creamy bodice of satin. The evening gown shown at right is of wine-colored silk taffeta with a pink rose pattern. The slender skirt is drawn into a back drape. Both gowns are by a New York designer.

Today's recipe

By LOUISE MOORE

I've struck a sour note but 'twill end in a happy tune—that is if you have an appreciation for that good old dairy standby, sour cream which works in a sophisticated note to many a homespun dish.

Commercial sour cream—smooth, thick, slightly tart and delectable is made so by a culture that transforms sweet cream to sour by a special process similar to that used in making cottage cheese and yogurt.

The Europeans long have had an appreciation for sour cream and use it for everything—sour cream gravy, salad dressings, dips, in cakes and pies to name a few. But there are so many delicious ways of using sour cream in our menus. Try a dollop of it on soups hot or cold; now that the fruit and berry season is with us do try them slightly sweetened with sour cream. Blueberries, peaches, raspberries, blackberries are perfect partners.

Then try sour cream with a baked potato; slash and open up the potato, fluff up with butter and chopped chives and spoon on sour cream—great.

Try sour cream mixed with old-fashioned tangy boiled dressing on a potato salad or over shredded crisp cold cabbage; with crisp sliced cucumbers is another number worth remembering. And here are a few others for your enjoyment.

CHICKEN WITH SOUR CREAM

Section into serving pieces two plump chickens, each weighing about 2½ lbs. Dust each thoroughly with flour seasoned with salt, pepper and plenty of paprika and if you like add a whiff of thyme. Set aside.

In a Dutch oven or electric fryer put ½ cup butter and when hot add 1 good sized onion finely chopped and cook oven low heat until transparent. Remove and set aside.

In the remaining fat brown the chicken pieces on all sides, cooking slowly turning to brown evenly. When nicely browned add ½ cup chicken stock made with neck, wings and giblets if you wish. Cover tightly and cook gently until chicken is just about tender—30 minutes say.

Sprinkle with 2 tsp. flour and add 1 cup more of chicken stock and the onions. Continue cooking until chicken is tender—about 15 minutes longer over low heat.

Add 1 cup sour cream and gently heat to almost boiling—don't let it boil or you will have a curdled dish. (TNS).

Teen-agers who want to lose weight will find summer vacation the ideal time to do it. Get Mom to keep a supply of cottage cheese in the refrigerator for you.

Bible School holds closing

The children who attended the Grace Chapel Vacation Bible School presented a program on Friday, August 11 at the close of the two week school.

The school was divided into three departments: Beginners, primary, directed by Miss M. Tourond, and Junior directed by Mrs. H. A. Welch. Daily attendance averaged 115.

The daily program consisted of singing hymns, telling Bible stories, doing handicrafts, and learning scripture passages.

Prizes were awarded to the following students:

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT — Sandra Hendry, Mary Reynold, Marlene Dougal, Charles Cowhard, Buddy Nelson, Kenneth Baker, Dorcas Angst, Wanda Lord, Betty Allen, Sharon Wright, and Trudy Winslow.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT — Dawn Beaton, Debbie Dougal, Miriam LeSaulnier, Richard Bennett, Meryl Wright, Andrew Wright, Shirley Rublee, Helen Rublee, Peter Green, and James Taylor.

Parents were also given an opportunity to examine the handicrafts and workbooks which were on display.

Women's Groups

BELVIDERE W.I.

The group met at the home of the president, Mrs. Francis Paige in Lennoxville on August 13. Eight members attended the meeting and Mrs. Paige presided.

Mrs. Chas. Drummond commented on the recent visit to the Brompton Road branch of the Women's Institute.

Mrs. A. G. McGee, ways and means convener, reported on the canteen held at an auction sale. A special vote of thanks was expressed to Earl Smith.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $464.84.

Letters of appreciation were read from the McGee family and from Mrs. George Wells.

A paper on the fight against illiteracy prepared by education convener, Miss Edna Smith, was read by Mrs. G. Page.

The sunshine committee reported that cards, candy, and a plant had been sent out.

A donation of $12 for prizes was voted to the School Fair being held on September 15.

Ways and means convener, Mrs. McGee reminded members that they must have their articles at the Sherbrooke Fair booth by 3:30 p.m. on Friday, August 25. Several members volunteered to work at the booth on August 29, Belvidere Day.

Mrs. G. Page read the report of the quarterly meeting held on August 9. It was announced that Belvidere Day at the cancer station will be September 21.

Nine aprons were turned in for work calendars.

The monthly drawing was won by Mrs. G. Paige.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. L. M. Povey in Huntingville on September 9 at 2 p.m. A flower contest will be held at this meeting, and prizes will be awarded for high and low bouquets, wild flowers, African violets, and the best corsage. All flowers used must come from the members garden.

Following the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Paige.
