

AUSTRIAN HEIR AND WIFE SHOT

Were Assassinated While Driving Through the Streets of Sarajevo by Student

ARCHDUKE FERDINAND AND HIS CONSORT WERE RIDDLED WITH BULLETS—STUDENTS FIRE THE SHOTS.

Sarajevo, June 29.—The heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, and his morganatic wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, were shot to death yesterday while driving through the streets of this city, the Bosnian capital. A youthful Serbian student fired the shots that ended their lives and added another to the long list of terrible tragedies that have darkened the reign of Emperor Francis Joseph.

First a bomb was thrown at the automobile in which they were driving to the Town Hall, but being forewarned of a possible attempt against his life, the Archduke was watchful, and hurled the missile aside. It fell under an automobile which carried some of the members of his suite, wounding Count von Boos-Waldeck and Col. Merizoz.

On their return from the town hall the Archduke and the Duchess were driving to the hospital when the Serbian, Gavrio Princip, darted at the car and poured a fusillade at the occupants. His aim was true, for the Archduke and his wife fell over mortally wounded. When they at the time was the governor of the city, who escaped uninjured. The bodies of the murdered couple collapsed across him and protected him from stray bullets.

The Governor shouted to the chauffeur to rush to the palace at top speed. Physicians were in prompt attendance, but their services were useless, as both were dead before the palace was reached.

Until the Emperor's wishes are known the bodies will lie in state at the palace here.

MOURNING EVERYWHERE.

The town of Sarajevo is in a state of consternation. There is mourning everywhere, with black-draped flags and streamers on all public buildings. The president has sent a message of condolence.

POPE SENDS CONDOLENCE.

Rome, June 29.—(Special)—King Victor Emmanuel and Pope Pius X. have sent their condolences to the Austrian Emperor. The Pope cancelled the St. Peter's Day reception, for which ten thousand invitations had been issued.

WILL HAVE POLITICAL EFFECT.

Vienna, June 29.—(Special)—The tragedy at Sarajevo yesterday is bound to have a momentous political effect on the dual monarchy. The situation produced by the equally tragic death of Archduke Rudolph repeats itself to-day.

Archduke Francis Ferdinand, when he became heir presumptive, was as comparatively unknown as is Archduke Karl to-day, but with this important difference, that Emperor Francis Joseph then had prospects of many years still to reign. Now, in the nature of things, the Empire must in a comparatively short time be governed by an inexperienced prince, instead of a ruler with twenty years' close acquaintance with state affairs and second only in influence to the Emperor himself.

The Emperor expressing the grief and horror of the whole population at the ruthless crime and assuring His Majesty of the people's unalterable devotion to the ruling house.

The bomb was filled with nails and lead filings and the explosion was very violent. The iron shutters on many shops were pierced by flying fragments and iron railings were shattered. In all, about a score of persons were injured, several of them being women and children.

EMPEROR MUCH AFFECTED.

Vienna, June 29.—When the news of the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand was broken to the aged Emperor Francis Joseph, he said: "Horrible, horrible. No sorrow is spared me."

The Emperor, who on Saturday left for Ischl, his favorite summer resort, amid acclamations of the people, will return to Vienna at once in spite of the hardships of the journey in the terrible heat.

KAISER IS GRIEVED.

Berlin, June 29.—Emperor William, at Kiel, displayed the greatest grief when informed of the death of Archduke Ferdinand.

MORE DELAY IN PEACE PARLERS

Carranza Asks That he be Granted Time to Consult With His Chiefs

EFFORTS TO RESTORE ORDER IN MEXICO THROUGH DIPLOMACY AGAIN DELAYED.

Washington, June 29.—(Special)—Carranza's request for more time to consult his military chiefs over the proposal for a conference with Huerta's delegates at Niagara Falls, served to-day as another cause for delay in efforts to restore order in Mexico through diplomacy.

It was believed the mediators would be able to reply to the revolutionary leaders request within the next day or two.

SUPPRESSING BENTON'S REPORT.

El Paso, June 29.—Gen. Ramon Fraustro, president of the commission appointed by Carranza to investigate the killing of W. S. Benton, a British subject, and Gustave Bauch, an American, has been placed under arrest at Torreon by General Villa, according to reports received here yesterday. The findings in the two cases were completed and sent to Carranza on Friday. They have not yet been made public, but are said to be most distasteful to Villa, particularly the report on the death of Benton.

A message was received here yesterday stating that 2,000 Federals fleeing from Zacatecas towards San Luis Potosi had been overtaken by General Benazide, head of the Varogosa Brigade, and had been decisively defeated at Salinas, a point about midway between Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi. Four hundred Federals were killed or wounded, according to the message.

GREECE FRIENDLY TOWARDS TURKEY

Accepts Proposals Regarding Exchange of Turkish and Greeks Property

HOPE EXPRESSED THAT INCIDENTS WHICH HAVE DISTURBED GOOD RELATIONSHIP WILL NOT RECUR.

Constantinople, June 29.—(Special)—The Greek reply to the last Turkish note which has been received here is couched in friendly spirit, accepts the proposals of Turkey regarding the exchange of Turkish and Greeks' property and the appointment of a Greco-Turkish commission to supervise the arrangement.

Greece hopes that the incidents, which have disturbed the good relation between the two countries, will not recur and declares that Mussulmans in Greek territory are treated on an equality with the other inhabitants.

ANCHOR LINER RAN ON ROCKS

The S.S. California Was Nearing Irish Coast at the Time

VESSEL IS MAKING WATER BUT PASSENGERS HAVE BEEN TRANSFERRED IN SAFETY

Londonderry, June 29.—The anchor line steamer California yesterday went on the rocks off Tory Island, and called for assistance. Gunboats at once left Londonderry to assist the liner.

The California's bows are badly damaged, and she is taking in water through two holes. It is reported that the passengers destined for points in Ireland have already been transferred from the vessel and are expected to reach Londonderry at noon today.

The Anchor Line steamer California sailed from New York on June 20 for Moville and Glasgow. On board the vessel were 121 cabin and over 300 second class passengers.

Tory Island lies off the north-western coast of the County Donegal. It is a rocky reef two miles long and half a mile wide. On the northern end of the island is a lighthouse.

THE WRECK INQUIRY OVER

In Two Weeks Result of Investigation of Empress Disaster to be Known

COUNSEL FOR THE STORSTAD BLAMES CAPT. KENDALL FOR CAUSE OF THE DISASTER TO HIS SHIP.

Quebec, June 29.—The wreck enquiry is over. In two weeks the result of the investigation will be made known. At four-thirty Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Newcombe had finished his summary of the case, Lord Mersey addressed a few words to the court explaining its formation, thanked all of the counsel for the assistance they had given in solving the regrettable and lamentable accident and adjourned the case for consideration of the half million words of evidence which have been offered.

BLAMES CAPT. KENDALL.

Court House, Quebec, June 29.—Capt. Kendall lost his head; the steering gear of the Empress broke down and the emergency was the explanation of the full speed astern order which Capt. Kendall says he gave to his engineers, seven minutes before the accident.

Upon these points, C. L. Haight, the New York lawyer who is the chief counsel for the collector Storstad, based his plea for that ship when he faced Lord Mersey in the court of inquiry here on Saturday. The court was crowded on the main floor and in the gallery when the American counsel began his address. He analysed the mass of evidence which had been submitted during the last two weeks. A feature of his address was his attack on the chief engineer of the Storstad who raced from his cabin, when the ship struck, to the upper deck where the boats were, instead of hurrying to the engine-room to do his duty. "A more pitiable object of terror I never saw," was his comment on the action of this man.

WHAT EMPRESS COUNSEL CONTENDS.

The two ships would have passed half a mile apart if one of them had not altered its course. The Empress never altered her course.

The Storstad admits that its wheel was put to port—than hardaport, but asserts that steering way had been lost. The wheelsman at his post says it was not lost. Therefore Mr. Aspinall says, the Storstad swung her head to starboard and came into collision with the Empress of Ireland.

WHAT STORSTAD COUNSEL CONTENDS.

The steering gear of the Empress was defective. That was the reason for Capt. Kendall ordering her full speed astern. Capt. Kendall lost his head entirely that night.

The ship lies with bow to the north east just as she would have had she been running on the course the Storstad laid out for her. Discredits evidence of captain and officers of the Empress.

BOTH SHIPS TO BLAME.

Mr. E. L. Newcombe, the deputy minister of justice, who closed the argument, summed up the case from the Government's point of view. Mr. Newcombe analyzed the evidence and declared that, in his opinion, the collision had occurred owing to faults on both sides. He considered that, according to the rules, the Empress of Ireland should not have been lying dead in the water when she entered the fog, knowing that the Storstad was in dangerous proximity. According to his interpretation of the regulations, the liner should have slowed down, but should have kept way on, and he said that if this had been done there was no doubt the collision would not have occurred.

AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR BEEBE

Machine Turned Turtle When Owner Tried to Prevent Collision

MR. H. JOHNSTON, OF SHERBROOKE, AND MR. KIRWIN, OF BEEBE, WERE INJURED.

Mr. Kirwin, manager of the Beebe branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and Mr. Harry Johnston, of the Sherbrooke office, were both injured in an automobile accident near Beebe Centre on Saturday.

They were riding together in a car behind another auto which was raising such a dust that when it passed a third auto Mr. Kirwin, who was driving, was unable to see it until they almost met. He turned quickly to one side in the sand, when the machine turned turtle. Mr. Johnston was pinned beneath the machine and sustained a broken nose, besides being badly bruised. Mr. Kirwin received nasty cuts on the leg.

JOHN J. PENHALE TO BE POSTMASTER

Was Recommended For Position at Meeting of Conservative Committee

THERE WERE MANY APPLICANTS FOR POSITION, BUT CHOICE WAS MADE UNANIMOUS. Lieut. Col. J. J. Penhale will be the next postmaster of the office in Sherbrooke. That is the recommendation of the Executive Committee of the Sherbrooke Conservative Association will be endorsed at Ottawa, and there is no reason to why it should not be.

There were a number of applicants for the position, but after several ballots, the choice fell on Col. Penhale, by the unanimous vote of the committee.

LIEUT. COL. J. J. PENHALE—Recommended for Postmastership.

The postmaster to be is well known having resided for a number of years in Sherbrooke. He has taken an active interest in the affairs of the city, and his appointment will be a popular one.

POLLING IN ONTARIO TO-DAY

Conservatives Are Apprehensive Unless Full Vote Goes to Polls

LIBERALS HAVE GIVEN THEIR OPPONENTS FIRST REAL CONTEST IN SEVERAL YEARS

Toronto, June 29.—The Conservative forces of Toronto closed their campaign Saturday night, satisfied with the outlook, but alive to the necessity of getting out the vote on Monday.

The Liberals in the campaign just closed have given the Conservatives the first real contest they have had in years, and there is no disposition in the Tory ranks to take things too much for granted.

"If our people stay away from the polls believing it is a foregone conclusion any way, we might get the worst of it," stated one candidate whose canvass shows him with a majority of well over a thousand.

The Rowell forces kept up their campaigning Sunday in other places than the pulpits, and one of their plans may land them in trouble with the Lord's Day Alliance. Outside St. Philip's Church yesterday circulars explaining the Rowell policy and calling upon everyone to vote for Rowell candidates were distributed by boys.

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Coroner Bachand and Jury Held Enquiry Into the Death of Roy S. Meikle

DECEASED DIED IN SHERBROOKE HOSPITAL FOLLOWING INJURIES RECEIVED IN COMPTON AUTO SMASH.

A verdict of accidental death was returned at the inquest held by Coroner Bachand and jury at No. 1 Police Station this morning on the body of Roy S. Meikle, of Conway, N.H., who died in the Sherbrooke Hospital early on Sunday morning as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident near Compton on Saturday morning.

Dr. Geo. L. Hume deposed that he was called to Compton on Saturday to attend to deceased. He found there were no marks of external violence, but there was evidence of severe internal injuries. Deceased was removed to the Sherbrooke Hospital where an examination revealed serious internal injuries, from which death resulted.

Andrew Meikle, of North Conway, father of deceased, identified the body, and stated that his son left home on Friday evening with five others on a pleasure trip to Canada.

Edgar Allan Kennison, chauffeur and owner of the auto, said it was a four-cylinder seven-passenger Chalmers car. The accident occurred about one and a half miles the other side of Compton. In going down a small hill the front wheel dished right in and hit the steering knuckle, breaking three spokes. He applied the emergency brake and the auto immediately turned bottom side upwards. He was pinned beneath the steering wheel, but had no bones broken. Deceased was pinned under the top at the back of the car. None of the others were seriously injured.

Witness was a licensed driver in New Hampshire. He had never been in any serious accident before, but had his license suspended for two weeks three years ago for speeding.

A mile or two before the accident occurred witness heard something click, which sounded like a broken spring, and he and one Demick got out and examined the car, but could find nothing the matter. They were travelling fifteen miles per hour at the time of the accident. Witness swore positively he had taken no liquor between Coaticook and Compton, neither had any of the others.

True Cheney, Percy James and Walter Demick, who were occupants of the car, gave corroborative evidence, all stating that the driver had had no liquor.

After ten minutes' deliberation the jury returned a verdict as above, and attached no blame to anyone.

The body was taken from Lord's undertaking rooms to North Conway on the 11.10 train.

The father of deceased is an engineer on the Boston & Maine Railway, Portland division. He left home on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock with his wife in an auto, and reached Sherbrooke one hour after his son's death yesterday morning.

LITTLE SURVIVOR OF EMPRESS STILL IN QUEBEC.

Quebec, June 29.—Little Florence Barbour, saved at the Empress disaster by Mr. Crellin, is still at the Chateau Frontenac.

It was stated she was being taken to England to-day on S.S. Teonic, but the C.P.R. authorities state the little girl will not be allowed to be taken away by any person who cannot prove full authority to do so.

VAUDEVILLE TROUPE STRANDED.

Granby, June 29.—(Special)—A variety troupe composed of young men, women and babies struck town unannounced on Tuesday, and forthwith commenced circulating handbills for a vaudeville show in the evening. There was a good attendance and the performance was repeated the second night with indifferent results. On Thursday evening, their last appearance, a dance which included all the latest steps in vogue followed the entertainment and subsequently, it was given out that the treasurer of the troupe had decamped with the cash and the hotels refused to keep them longer, consequently they were compelled to camp in the Town Hall. Friday they had one square meal at least through the generosity of a prominent insurance man and his conferees from Sherbrooke. Having no funds and owing $50 for rent of Town Hall, things were looking serious when one of the bright Councilors had a happy thought. Why not hire the entire outfit for a show at Farnham and take pay for the hall out of the proceeds. A lively team was accordingly engaged and the troupe started for Farnham.

She Bought a Piano on a Train

ON being asked her reason for selecting a certain "make" of piano, a woman explained that while she did not get her piano till December, she really "bought" it on a train in July.

"It was like this," said she—"I had not thought much about pianos until I was about to be married and furnish a house of my own. Last summer, soon after I became engaged, I had to make a train journey. The daily paper I bought contained a striking advertisement of the Blank Piano. It ended by saying 'Investigate thoroughly before deciding.'"

I did investigate and became convinced that the Blank piano was the best piano I could get for $500.00."

This woman was right in stating that although she did not actually own her piano until winter-time, she really "bought" it in July. She bought it on the train—she selected it that day she read the advertisement which so forcibly impressed her. And yet some firms imagine they can afford to withdraw their advertising in the summer months!

Pianos are not the only things people think about long before they have them sent home.

Every important purchase is considered long before the article is ordered. And we are just as likely to be convinced by an advertisement we read in the summer as at any time.

You can obtain helpful advice on advertising free of cost and without obligation by consulting the Business Department of the Record.

Fats Make
the Hottest Fire

And as the digestion of food generates body heat, so the more greasy, heavy food you eat, the hotter you are.

One can feel several degrees cooler and more comfortable in summer by selecting proper food.

Grape-Nuts

is made of carefully selected wheat and barley and contains all their nutritive values, including the mineral phosphates, (grown in the grain), that are especially necessary for re-building the tissue cells of body and brain.

Grape-Nuts is thoroughly baked (16 to 24 hours) which breaks down the starch cells. Therefore it is easily and quickly digested—generally in about one hour.

If you care to feel cool and fit make Grape-Nuts a part of the summer diet—a delicious part!

EXPERIENCE proves that Health by Coaxing is better than Health by Forcing. A Mild Remedy is always superior to a Hazardous Force.

all functional derangements of the Liver, Temporary Congestion arising from the use of alcoholic beverages, Errors in Diet, Biliaryness, Sick Headache, etc. It acts according to the quantity taken, either as a relieving agent or as a cooling and refreshing beverage, and gently stimulates without

MR. KENNEDYAS DONE MUCH TO PROMOTE ATHLETICS IN FARNHAMFarnham, June 29.—(Special)—On Friday evening, June 26th, a banquet was held in Martin's Hotel in honour of Mr. Stanley E. Kennedy, on the eve of his departure for a three months' holiday. Mr. Kennedy, who is employed in the C. P. R. as assistant superintendent's office as chief clerk, has done much to promote athletic interests here. He is secretary of the Farnham baseball team, also manager and secretary of the C.P.R. hockey team. Mr. Kennedy has spent practically all his life in Farnham and is one of the most esteemed young men. He will spend his vacation in the Adirondacks.The banquet was a complete surprise to Mr. Kennedy, who arrived at the hotel to find 25 of his fellow workers and athletic team mates awaiting him. He was welcomed by Mr.
A. Choquette, manager of the Farnham baseball team, who acted as chairman and toastmaster.The guests then proceeded to do justice to the repast, which was furnished by Mine Host Martin. The table was decorated with red peonies, the gentlemen's buttonhole being a red rose. Music was furnished by Lus-sier's Band, and Mr. J. O'Hara rendered a number of songs. The only out of town guest was Mr. E. Cornell of Stanbridge East, the other guests being Farnham friends. The chairman, on behalf of the guests presented Mr. Kennedy with an address and a handsome club bag. Mr. Kennedy feelingly responded in a few well chosen words.A large toast list was honored and many of the gentlemen present were called upon for short speeches. The closing speech was made by Mr. Cho-quette and a pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of
"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and
"Auld Lang Syne."THAT STARTED HIM.
He (at 12.30 a.m.)—Has your father any objection to my paying you visits, Miss Ethel?She—Oh, no, but (yawning) I think he'd rather you paid them in instalments.

AT MAGOGHome Team Sustained First Defeat of Season on Home GroundsASTON SCORED BOTH GOALS FOR VISITORS—PREECE AND MARSHALL DID NOT PLAYThe Y.M.C.A. played to Magog on Saturday and won by a 2-0 score, this being Magog's first defeat of the season on home grounds. Y.M.C.A. were without Preece and Marshall but D. Anderson and Hurn took their places. The teams lined up as follows:Magog: Goal, Stone; backs, Shaw and Wilson; half backs, J. Kennedy, Auger and Goulding; forwards, Stanley, C. Sandell, Pitton, H. Sandell, and Burton.Y.M.C.A.—Goal, Aveling; backs, Brown and Wootton; half backs, Ryder, Duguid and Hurn; forwards, Myers, D. Anderson, Aston, H. Anderson and Petts.

Referee—F. Johnston.

Myers won the toss and Pitton started for Magog, who attacked the visitors but Wootton relieved Magog kept pressing and Aveling had to save. The Y.M. could not make headway, Magog having all the play at this period but Brown and Wootton kept them out. The first twenty minutes was all Magog's. At last Hurn set the visitor's left wing going and Petts centred, Aston receiving and passing to H. Anderson, who scored the first goal with a cross shot at the end of 25 minutes play. This goal made the game faster with the Y.M. having a good share of the play.D. Anderson went through but Stone cleared. C. Sandell, who had been a dangerous forward throughout the game going but Aveling saved the winger's shot. Myers went through and centred, and from a mix-up in front of Stone Aston scored the second goal. Right after this success Y.M. nearly scored again, Myers getting through but his shot was weak.
Half time arrived with the score 2-0 in the visitors' favor.When the second half opened Ryder changed places with D. Anderson and was soon in the limelight making Stone save a good shot. The Y.M. forwards were going strong and were well supported by the halves.
The second half closed without further scoring.For Magog, Shaw, Kennedy, Auger, C. Sandell, Pitton and H. Sandell, were the pick. Every man on the visitors' line up was in fine form.Magog played a good losing game and are to be congratulated on their sportsmanship.JOHNSON WON ON POINTSMORAN WON ADMIRATION FOR HIS GAMENESS AND COUR-AGEParis, June 27.—Jack Johnson still holds the heavyweight championship of the world. In a hard fought battle in the Velodrome d'Hiver here on Saturday night he defeated Frank Moran, of Pittsburgh, easily on points in the twenty round contest. Moran was game and stubborn and stood up to the negro. He did most of the leading and won admiration for his courage.The black man's superior skill and his effective upcutting were down his opponent and won the match which at times seemed rather ama-teurish.

SHERBROOKE CLUB PRACTICES.
There was a large turnout at the first practice of the Sherbrooke La-

Athletic Park. In addition to the old players, which consisted of Fred Povey, Cameron, G. B. Maguire, Bert
Jones, Bill Saunders and L. Duns-more, there were a lot of promising youngsters in uniform, which will make some team before the season is over. Another practice is called for tonight, weather permitting.Later on in the season the management may arrange games with Mon-real teams.The junior game had to be postponed on account of the inspection of the 53rd regiment, many of the play-

National Efficiency Conference Shows How to Double the Working Capacity

New York, Saturday.

WHETHER one wants to crowd more business into his working hours or to save time for other things by condensing his business into fewer hours he will be interested in the first National Efficiency Exposition and Conference which has just opened in New York. If a housekeeper wishes to be rid of drudgery or to save time for other things than the dull routine of house-keeping she will find a hundred things that will suggest better and quicker ways of work and management.

With the passing of the spendthrift, careless, wasteful methods that have prevailed in recent years, the era of efficiency is beginning. The time is at hand when only the efficient man will survive in business, when success in the home and outside will have efficiency as its cornerstone. Every one is aiming at efficiency, but how to obtain it is a matter understood by few. This exposition will give assistance and throw light upon the dark places of stupidity and waste. Those who are ambitious to join the ranks of the efficiency army will have an opportunity to prepare themselves for service. The industrial engineers who were invited to participate in the conference will act as officers and guides and the notable achievements of applied efficiency shown will serve as inspirations for carrying on the work in many ways.

For the most part, efficiency applications will be made in three departments—the laundry, the office and the kitchen. How to save a thousand steps, how to prevent backaches, how to get an hour for rest or recreation and how to keep the workshop as neat as a parlor while doing twice the work accomplished in the old way are some of the valuable details that the intelligent visitor may learn at this exposition.

Saving Shipping Expenses.

Probably few things will show more effectively the progress that has been made in business than the display by the Bush Terminal Company, of Brooklyn. Its methods deal with the source of expenses that add to that bugbear exploited by all, "high cost of living." Much of this unpleasant condition results from the expenses of shipping and handling merchandise and food supplies. This exhibit will impress visitors with what has been done to reduce the labor and cost of moving of small packages and of great loads by the application of the principles of efficiency. Ingenuity is taxed to provide ways and means of getting produce from one place to another with as little handling as possible. The application of modern electric transportation machinery to interior haulage will be shown by a company which is effecting tremendous savings of time and money for manufacturers and transporters throughout the country.

What such great corporations as the United States Steel and the Interborough are doing to protect the health and safety of their employees and to make them happier and more contented will be shown in a series of impressive exhibits, and many persons who are daily endangered in the subway congestion will find food for hopefulness in the relief maps exhibited by the Public Service Commission showing progress on the subways.

Efficiency in Freight Transportation.

now under construction and the plans of those that it is proposed to build in the near future.

There will be daily proofs of the service of the dictograph and of an invention of Mr. Edison that, for the first time, makes voice-writing practical by permitting an association between dictation and dictatee by which explicit instructions in the matter of corrections, enclosures, "rush" letters and extra carbons are given almost automatically while a person is dictating.

In the Kitchen and Laundry.

The broad business methods and the commercial devices displayed at this exhibition are well worth the attention of the entire community. Women will find a special interest in the kitchen and laundry. Every housekeeper has trouble with her laundry. It is not so much that one cannot find a laundress but that it is difficult to keep one. It would not be if there were the efficiency in its equipment that is shown in the home laundry fitted up in the Grand Central Palace. And even if the laundress does not come a woman with a fair amount of strength would be able to attack the hamper of soiled clothes with courage and the hope of getting through the job without assistance other than she obtains from the apparatus in the efficient laundry.

In the first place, there is a vacuum washing machine, driven by a motor, or, if one does not wish to incur that expense, easily operated by hand. This machine works by air pressure and suction and is designed for direct attachment to ordinary stationary tubs. It will wash, rinse, blue and wring the clothes in a fraction of the time required by the old methods and is accomplished with far less wear and tear. Five minutes is long enough to allow for washing the clothes in the first tub. They are then passed through the wringer into the second tub and remain there five minutes longer. From there they go into the bluing water and again pass through the wringer and are ready to go into the drying cabinet. There is none of the trouble of fussing with a pulley or getting the soggy clothes to the roof. No odor of steam betrays the drying of clothes in the house. Moreover, the clothes are soon dry. Then they are divided, the more elaborate pieces requiring careful ironing being put in one place, the flat pieces in another and skirts in another, each set being ironed by electricity, but with an iron suited to its particular character. As soon as they are finished they are put on a convenient overhead dryer to air well before being put away.

As a result of this well organized and efficient laundry the clothes look well, time has been saved and no one is tired out as on the days when the washing and ironing were events of the week to be dreaded and so exhausting that one could hardly recover from the work of Monday and Tuesday before the end of the week.

The remark is frequently flung about that the girl of today can't do the work that her grandmother did. Efficiency answers that it would be a shame if she did. She ought to know better. She should profit by the time and labor saving devices of the age as her brothers do in their work. Besides turning out more and better work in the efficient laundry she can prepare more appetizing meals without being too tired to eat them if she will make her kitchen an efficient workshop.

Mrs. Christine Frederick, who has such a kitchen, is going to show what can be done in it by scientific management. One side of the kitchen is set apart for preparing the dishes for a meal; the other side is devoted to clearing away the various dishes and foods after the meal. For example, the icebox, the kitchen cabinet, the electric stove and the serving table are on one side, the door leading into the dining room being directly beside the serving table, so that the food can be rushed directly to the dining table. On the other side of the door are the shelves for dishes, the sink with its sliding drain board, and a garbage incinerator. A closet for brooms and mops is in one corner and the door through which the icebox enters is between the closet and the icebox. That is a small detail, but it is one of many that makes for convenience and the saving of steps and time.

Saving the Dinner from Burning.

In clearing off the table a little wheeled tray is used, which enables the housekeeper to get the dishes off the table quickly, dispose of the waste food and get the dishes washed and put away in the most economical way. One of the features recommended for every home where a woman does her domestic work is the electric clock. When the alarm that has been set for a certain time goes off the oatmeal and coffee begin to cook and when the housekeeper appears her breakfast is well under way.

A thermostat to regulate the heat of the oven is another kitchen device that may save many a dinner from burning and a heart from aching in consequence.

Many prominent persons are interested in the crusade for efficiency which is being pushed under the auspices of the Efficiency Society. Mr. William R. Willcox is president of the society, Mr. Harry F. Payne, first vice president; Mr. Melville W. Mix, second vice president; Mr. E. C. Church, secretary; Mr.

Boyd Fisher, executive manager; Mr. Travis H. Whitney, chairman of the committee in charge, and Mr. Walter H. Tailla, exposition director.

Governor Glynn showed his interest by accepting the invitation to be present at the opening of the exposition, but he was obliged to cancel the engagement. Throughout the community the old adage, "Waste not, want not," is gaining adherents, and the holding of this exposition and conference shows the consideration paid to all kinds of efficiency.

BASKETS ARE IN VOGUE.

BASKETS are enjoying a merited vogue as adjuncts of the luncheon table. They come in the most fascinating of shapes and colors as well as in a great variety of weaves.

The woman who has skill and individuality of taste will prefer to color her baskets. In this way she can not only give them a tone harmonious with other fittings but she can save considerable money. The baskets in their natural colors can be bought cheaply and stained in dull tones or finished with shellac. Moreover the color can be changed from time to time as occasion or fancy requires.

For spring flowers a gracefully shaped basket makes the most appropriate kind of holder and, with the little glass supports that can be purchased of almost any size and inserted in the baskets, the flowers may be arranged to keep as well as in a vase. For an elaborate luncheon the centre basket may be supplemented by individual ones of corresponding shape at each place.

It is not only for holding flowers or fruit that the basket comes in well for table use. The baskets for rolls are extremely pretty and the very dainty ones may be utilized for nuts or candies.

From the Feminine Point of View.

THE smartest demi-saison toilettes for outdoor wear are of the composite order, coat and skirt diverse in fabric and color. A charming little costume has a perfectly plain short skirt of tulle de negre velvet, narrower at the hem than at the hips, but not draped at all. The coat is of blue and green silk tulle, cut on bias and with rather full basques of the mousquetaire type, and a belt of wide soft green ribbon. The hat to wear with this matches the skirt, a very smart little toque with brim flaring up to great height at the back and gaiters to match the coat are provided, an excellent little touch.

A gown of supple gray cloth, the skirt, simply draped, is worn with a coat of vivid garnet velvet, somewhat of the Russian type, with the long basques shaped up in novel fashion and bordered with silver fox. The toque is of garnet velvet and fur. Nearly all the new coats have long, plain, set fitting sleeves, finished only with a tuft or wrist frill.

For Evening Wear.

Magpie effects are still in tremendous vogue, and will be throughout the coming Lenten season. A simple and wonderfully effective evening gown has a plain trained skirt, the lower part of black chiffon velvet and the upper of white satin over which is a straight full tunic of white plush tulle, clasped round the hips with a wide laced girdle composed of cut jet beads, terminating with a series of tassels. The white satin corsage is of the simplest kimono type, crossed with slender bretelles of the jet beads and the wide sleeves drawn into a lattice of jet above the elbow. The very newest fabric for evening wear, which will be the leading one all through next season, is a gorgeous tissue composed of the finest chenille woven on a gauge foundation. It comes in the most exquisite colors and designs, and though it has such a rich, sumptuous effect, it is literally of feather weight.

These Prison Cells Ought To Be O K.—They Were Designed by an Inmate on Randall's Island

"I KNOW how I want this building to be constructed, but I suppose I shall have to get an architect to make the plans," said Miss Katherine B. Davis, New York's Commissioner of Correction, referring to a projected disciplinary building for unruly prisoners on Blackwell's Island.

"I can have them made by one of the men in the penitentiary," replied the warden. "Of course I will have to have the blue paper and other materials. We have nothing of the sort there."

"Very well," said Miss Davis. "Here is $5; get what is necessary and see what your man can turn out, but remember that the plans have to pass the scrutiny of half a dozen city departments and all kinds of experts. We're lucky if we do not have to get an 'O. K.' from the Art Commission."

So it came about that a prisoner drew the plans for the new building which is to be used for the punishment of other prisoners.

In the records of the department the prisoner is listed as a carpenter, but, as his work proves, he is really an architect, and he is also a skilled mechanic. The charge on which he was convicted is that of petty larceny, and he was sentenced to serve eleven months and twenty-nine days imprisonment and to pay $500 fine. He has almost finished his prison term, but if he has to work out his fine he will not be released until next August. By that time the building for which he has drawn the plans will probably be finished. As the prisoner-architect goes back and forth to his meals he can get a glimpse of the building that is being constructed according to the plans which he made. His name is being withheld because Miss Davis does not want to call attention to his imprisonment.

To understand why there is to be a new disciplinary building on Blackwell's Island one must know the conditions of the penitentiary, in which about twelve hundred men are incarcerated. The greater part of the building is old. It is built in a T shape, the cells, four tiers of them, opening on connecting corridors which convey sound on the whispering gallery principle. If a prisoner becomes noisy, "goes crazy," every one else is disturbed, and as nothing is more contagious in prison than trouble and uproar the result is not only difficult for the guards to cope with but is hard on those prisoners who are willing to behave themselves.

Formerly there were dark cells into which the leaders of this sort of mischief were put for punishment, but humane and sensational persons alike condemned these dark holes; and they certainly had little to be said for them, since the only way that light or air could be admitted was through a grated door opening into the public corridor, and here the howling and obscenity could be heard as plainly as if the men were in their own cells. There were refrigerator doors that could be shut on occasion, but these shut off the air from the prisoners and caused much hostile criticism. Miss Davis' predecessor, Commissioner Whitney, abolished these cells, and since then there has been no way of separating the rebellious and troublesome prisoners from the others. Mr. Whitney also put in large windows instead of the small ones in the corridors.

Several times recently the necessity for isolation has been borne in upon the authorities. Trouble frequently arises in the mess room. Here there are only sixteen guards to take care of the twelve hundred men.

This case was cited by Miss Davis to show the urgent need of isolation cells. If these culprits could have been immediately taken out of hearing of the others much trouble would have been saved. One of the principal causes of disorder is the bringing of charges against the guards and attempts at retaliation on the part of the prison corps. This has become the more grave because of the investigations that have been going on and which tend to encourage the prisoners in their rebellion against authority.

AT WORK ON THE PLANS

One of their favorite threats is that they will tell the District Attorney and the newspapers of their real or fancied grievances if concessions are not made to them. Thus the whole body of prisoners is in proper condition to participate in any riot or disturbance that may be started in the institution.

Of course there are many exceptions. Miss Davis tells of a meeting of seventy-five representative prisoners which she called. When they were assembled all the officers, guards and other employees of the penitentiary were excluded and the men were invited to give frank comment and criticism.

"The first one," said Miss Davis, "made a just and intelligent criticism. He was a young Austrian, but he spoke English well, and his opinion was that most of the trouble arose from the lack of classification in the prison. That is true, and so were most of the comments that I listened to that day. They were very different, you understand, from the complaints of prisoners that have no real basis and which they try to make effective through threats."

"And now you understand why I felt it necessary to have a detached house where the unruly class might be disciplined. We had it at Bedford, where I was formerly and where the need was less imperative, as we had more than ninety officers to take care of five hundred girls, while in the penitentiary we have only eighty-nine men of all kinds, including the clerical force, physician and other non-disciplinarians.

"I sent the engineer from the penitentiary up to see our little house at Bedford, so that he would have a good idea of it, and then I indicated certain changes that I would like to see made. The prisoner with the architectural ability was able to include all of these in his sketches. The building will be of stone—we get it right on the island, you know—and the foundation has already been dug. It will be only one story in height and very simple, but effective, in construction. To conform to a law passed a few years ago prohibiting the erection of new buildings on the island, it will be an addition to the bath house. That will be convenient, as we will not have to provide a bathroom in the building, as is done in the Bedford disciplinary house."

In the new disciplinary house the ten cells will open, five on each side, on two corridors. There are also skylight windows for light and air and electric lights that can be turned on and off from the outside. The plumbing is of a kind recently introduced in a New Jersey institution for the insane, and defies human strength unaided by instruments to destroy. There is no furniture, a mattress and a blanket being given the prisoner at night. There are two doors, the inner of which has a protected opening through which food can be passed and the movements of the prisoner watched. This detail was put in at the suggestion of Miss Davis, who had been in danger of her life by having food and dishes hurled at her by a girl to whom she was handing a meal at Bedford. The isolated prisoner will be supplied with all the bread and water he wants night and morning and a heartier meal at noon.

"No building can be made sound proof," said Miss Davis. "The Russian government has tried it and been unable to achieve the result. But we can minimize the noise; and besides, there will be only the worst prisoners here, and so no others will be disturbed. If they want to roar and screech and use vile

Believed in Baconian Theory

The death of Sir Edwin Durning-Lawrence, a former member of Britain's Parliament, recalls his uncanny advocacy of the Baconian theory. He was the head of the group which has sought to prove that Shakespeare's plays were written by Bacon, and in recent years Sir Edwin had devoted a good deal of time to expounding his views on the question.

GLENN H. CURTISS SAYS THAT CRAFT CAN FLY EASILY WITH LOAD FROM NEWFOUNDLAND

Hammondsport, N.Y., June 29.—With its new hydroplaning device the America left the water Saturday afternoon and flew with seven persons, including two pilots, and 220 pounds of ballast.

"We lifted twice as much weight as any aircraft ever did before, I guess that is pretty good," said Lieut. Porte when he stepped ashore in Glen H. Curtiss, the builder, was highly pleased with the American's performance.

"It can fly easily with the load it must take when it leaves Newfoundland," he said. "The America made a splendid showing with its new hydroplaning boards. It does not yet 'plane' or skim along the surface as perfectly as we want it to do, but that easily can be remedied. The America lifted within a few hundred pounds of the load it will have to carry, although the trial was made only with reference to its planing powers."

MUCH LUMBER BURNED.

Bridgeport, N.S., June 29.—Two million feet of lumber, valued at $20,000, belonging to the Kent Lumber Company was burned at Gold River, Lunenburg County, Saturday afternoon. The mill of the company was saved only after a desperate fight by the firemen of the Bridgeport department. Bridgeport is twenty miles east of Gold River.

BLACK PRINCE'S DIARY FOUND IN LONDON

Interesting Light Cast on Unknown Side of Famous Warrior's Character—Was Lavish to His Friends

One of the most interesting literary discoveries which have been made of late years is that of the diary of the Black Prince, which was found among a lot of other old books when a collector who had long conducted his business in Bloomsbury was moving.

This remarkable relic of England's turbulent past is in the form of a letter-book, or register, which once belonged to the Black Prince. In quaint Latin and French phraseology it tells of his troubles and his triumphs.

The so-called "diary" is bound in aged, blackened calf, ornamented with blind tooling. The 280 parchment pages measure 10 inches by 10 inches and contain copies of communications sent out by the Prince. At the top of each page the month is written in a small neat hand in ink that has become brown with the passing of the centuries. There is a wide margin round the text, and in this a short abstract appears.

The Black Prince appears to have been extravagantly generous. An astonishing amount of jewellery and plate was bought for gifts. Unfortunately, most of this was melted down in the Civil wars. He was an original Knight of the Garter, and one of the entries, dated 1348, is as follows:

"Twenty-four Garters made for the Lord Prince for presentation to the Knights of the Garter."

"In Our Great Need"

It is rather startling to learn that at one time the Prince was forced to pledge the crown he had, presumably in battle, gained from the King of France. This was in July, 1359, when an extract from the volume runs:

"Whereas our well-beloved Sir Richard, Earl Sarundell, has lent to us upon a crown of gold with diamonds, sapphires, rubies, and great pearls and a star of gold, with rubies, diamonds, sapphires, and great pearls, 2,000 livres Desterlings, to be paid to him at the feast of the Annunciation of Our Lady one thousand livres, and at the month of Easter following one thousand pounds, we have granted that in case the said earl shall be in arrears of payment (i.e. if the payments to the Earl fall into arrears) on the days aforesaid, he may of the said crown and star make his profit in any manner that pleases him without hindrance from us."

"Given under our seal the twenty-fourth day of July."

Evidently the Earl of Arundel passed on his Royal debt to another man, for in October of the same year the Prince issued the following pathetic proclamation:

"Know that John Pecche, citizen of London (Pecche is elsewhere mentioned as a goldsmith), is to receive from Richard Earl of Arundel a crown and star, once the King of France's, which we put in pledge to the said earl in our great need for a certain sum of money."

Ransom From France

A proclamation "given at our manor of Biffete (Byfleet) on the 29th day of July (1361) runs, "Whereas our well-beloved lord and father the King has assigned us to receive by the hands of Thomas of Brantingham, his receiver of Calais, 40,000 moutons (a French gold coin stamped with a lamb) of good weight of the coin of France, part of the sum of 200,000 moutons in which the noble Duke of Burgundy our well-beloved cousin and other lords and burgesses of his country are bound by their letters to our said dearly beloved lord and father for the ransom of their country."

"Know that we have received from the said Thomas in divers monies the value of 39,000 moutons of the coin of France, the payment of which we admit, and quit and discharge the said Thomas by these letters patent sealed with our privy seal."

Burning Below Water

A flame to be used by divers to burn away metal under water has been tested, and 15 feet below the surface of the water it made a hole over one inch in width in a plate of iron nearly an inch thick. The flame used is of the ordinary oxyhydrogen type. It is enclosed in a bell-shaped cover through which a jet of compressed air is blown. The air drives away the water sufficiently to allow the flames to burn.

Mrs. C. T. Cabana, Who Had Been in Granby, Receives Word of Husband's Sudden Death

Granby, June 29.—(Special)—Mrs. C. T. Cabana, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. John Mullin, left on Friday morning for Montreal en route to the Old Country, which she proposed to visit before returning to her home in St. Louis, Mo. Sometime the same evening, Mrs. Mullin was shocked on receiving a telegram from St. Louis announcing the sudden death of Mr. Cabana, from heart failure.

As Mrs. Cabana intended taking the steamer Teutonic for Europe at 10 p.m., quick action was necessary in order to communicate with her, as it was not known what hotel she would stop at while in Montreal. Mr. Jos. Mullin started at once for the city with an automobile, while the friends here phoned to the different hotels, until finally through Mr. Gallagher, of the St. Regis, she was located at the Windsor Hotel and left for St. Louis that same night.

INSPECTION OF 53RD REGIMENT

Complimented by Inspecting Officer Upon Fine Appearance

LARGE TURNOUT OF PUBLIC TO WITNESS MILITIA MANOEUVRES.

The annual inspection of the 53rd Regiment took place at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, on the Parade Ground. The men mustered at the new armory, 455 of all ranks, and marched to the ground headed by the 53rd Regiment Band and the drum and bugle corps. The music was excellent and added greatly to the parade. The inspecting officers were Col. J. A. Pages, A.A.G. 4th Division, Montreal, and Lieut.-Col. R. J. Spearing, Brigadier 10th Infantry Brigade.

The regiment was in command of Lieut.-Col. F. C. Bowen, with Majors L. A. Bayley and J. H. Blue, Captain Fletcher, Acting Adjutant, Major W. A. Farwell, M.O.; P. M. Capt. Duncan; Q.M. Lieut. Bray; Signalling Officer Lieut. Ward. The company officers were Captains Spearing, Sampson, Adams, Pilcher, McIver, McKenzie, Rugg, Hogg, Fry, Irvine, McKenzie, Francis, Woodratt, Macgowan, McFarlane, Dakin, Dodge, Irving, H. Tate, A. C. Webster, R. Tate, C. Dunsmore, L. Wilson, C. Campbell and Lieut. Hilder Daw, Canadian Engineers.

The regiment formed in line to receive the inspecting officers, and the general salute was given and "Rule Britannia" played, after which a minute inspection was made in detail.

The regiment then marched past in column and quarter column, with steadiness and precision, all the companies showing the good effects of the season's drill, and the roll was called. Each company, under its respective officers, was, after roll call, marched to the booth of the W.C.T.U., where the members served unlimited lemonade to the thirsty N.C.O.'s and men. That the courtesy and kindness of the ladies was appreciated was shown by the hearty cheers of the men for the W.C.T.U.

Col. Pages called the officers and congratulated them on the fine appearance, good discipline and smartness of the regiment, and expressed his perfect satisfaction with the result of the inspection.

"O Canada" was played by the band, and to the stirring strains of "O Gary Owen" the regiment was formed in column of route and marched by way of the principal streets of the city to the armory, where the men were dismissed, with a few words of commendation from the O.C., who thanked them for their interested attendance at drills, excellent turnout for inspection, and good conduct at Petawawa, which, however, was only what he had expected of them. The day closed with a dinner at the officers' mess of the 53rd, among the invited guests being Col. Worthington and Lieut.-Col. T. S. Somers. Brief addresses were made by Col. Pages, Col. Worthington, Lieut.-Col. Somers and Lieut.-Col. Bowen. The inspecting officer and other speakers complimented the O.C. and officers of the 53rd on their devotion to the regiment and on its high standing and reputation, which were well-deserved, and Lieut.-Col. Bowen replied in suitable terms. The band rendered several selections on the lawn during the dinner, and were cordially thanked for their attention. Later they furnished music for a dance at the armory, which was well attended by the N.C.O.'s and men, and at which the officers appeared after dinner.

duke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, as he and the Archduke had been on terms of the closest friendship, and the Emperor had shown many attentions to the Duchess. All fetes connected with the regatta were cancelled and authorization was given for the half-masting of the flags on the ships of the fleet, including the British warships now visiting there.

ANXIETY IN ITALY.

Rome, June 29.—The terrible tragedy of Sarajevo, though not a personal grief to the Italian sovereigns, as they did not know Archduke Ferdinand, is causing considerable anxiety at the Foreign Office. Although the Archduke was considered unfriendly to Italy, being very clerical and also under the influence of the military party, his successor is an unknown quantity, and has not been such a staunch friend as the aged Emperor of the Triple Alliance.

PROVINCE-WIDE PROHIBITION

Good Templars Plan Campaign on Question of Abolition of Licenses

CONGRATULATED COL. SAM HUGHES ON HIS STAND FOR A "DRY" CAMP AT TRAINING OF MILITIA

Montreal, June 29.—The session of the Grand Lodge of Quebec of the International Order of Good Templars, held on Saturday in the First Baptist Church, Bro. W. H. Lambly of Inverness, Grand Chief Templar, presiding, was principally spent in debating resolutions which had been submitted to, or drawn up by the resolution committee.

These included one protesting against compensation being paid by the Provincial Government to liquor dealers when their licenses shall be taken from them by the new law. The resolution declared that the Good Templars repudiate all responsibility for such a law, and disclaim having any connection with the Government as partners in dealing in this manner with the license holders.

A resolution of appreciation of the action of the Government in not adopting either the Gothenberg or Bergen systems as recommended by the Royal License Commission was also carried.

A SWEEP PROVINCE

The following resolution for a provincial campaign was also adopted: "That a campaign for the provincial prohibition of the issue of licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors should be launched immediately, and the enthusiastic support of our members and lodges be given to the same and the hearty co-operation of this Order is pledged to the Anti-Alcoholic League and the Dominion Alliance in the carrying out of the proposal."

The Grand Lodge by resolution introduced by the Resolution Committee marked their appreciation of the work carried out by the Grand Lodge Secretary, Bro. W. Davis, of Montreal, and congratulated the Hon. Col. Sam Hughes by resolution, on his action in not only abolishing the canteen in military camps, but also from the officers' mess.

HOME RULE IS INEVITABLE

Even if Present Government Went Down Unionists Would Bring in Measure

HON. MR. BIRRELL, THE IRISH SECRETARY, MAKES DECLARATION ON QUESTION AT YORKSHIRE GATHERING

London, June 29.—That Home Rule is inevitable, was the declaration made by Hon. Mr. Birrell, the Irish secretary, in the course of a few remarks at a gathering in Yorkshire, on Saturday. The speaker declared that if the present Government disappeared tomorrow, and was succeeded by a ministry of the present Opposition, the first thing the Unionist government would have to do would be to promote a Home Rule Bill, by what ever name they might choose to call it. What was now called Ulster, knew perfectly well that the present bill was assured of success. He deeply deplored that any part of Ireland should be separated from any other part for a period of six years, and he declared he did not believe that any part in Ireland desired such a separation. Any other proposal, he concluded, would be received and carefully considered by the present Government.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT FOR IRELAND

Montreal, June 29.—(Special)—The Gazette's London correspondent says: London, June 29.—If, as now seems exceedingly probable, taking into consideration the recent march of events, Home Rule becomes an accomplished fact, there is little doubt says Reynolds newspaper, that His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught will succeed Lord Aberdeen as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

BELONGED TO COWANSVILLE

Member of the 13th S. L. D. Lost His Life in Petawawa River

HAD BEEN MARRIED BUT TWO MONTHS—BODY HAS NOT YET BEEN RECOVERED.

Cowansville, June 29.—(Special)—Trooper Goyette, of "A" Squadron of the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons, who as previously announced in the Record, lost his life by drowning in the Petawawa River, belonged to this town.

A sad feature of the death of Goyette is that he leaves a young widow, having been married about two months ago.

The fatality occurred while the 13th were bivouacked near the Petawawa River at the foot of Lake Alouette, about two miles from the main camp.

It was in attempting to swim the Petawawa River that Goyette lost his life, and as the accident took place late in the evening his companions were helpless to render assistance. So far as can be learned the body has not yet been recovered. "A" SQUADRON RETURNS.

The squadron returned from camp on Friday, but there was no rejoicing as a feeling of depression prevailed among the members and townspeople at the death of Trooper Goyette, and when the horse he had taken into camp was led by another trooper up the street.

The only other mishap which occurred while the men were in camp, was that to W. Julius, who had an ankle sprained by being thrown from his horse.

NOT THE SAME GOYETTE.

It was thought in Sherbrooke that the Goyette referred to as having been drowned had been located in Sherbrooke. This, unfortunately, proved to be incorrect. There was a trooper named Goyette, belonging to the 13th, who came to Sherbrooke on the same train that conveyed the 53rd back from camp. On enquiry, however, it was learned that this Goyette had deserted from the Stanbridge East Squadron of the 13th S. L.D.

VICTORIAVILLE MAN SUICIDES

Nelson Martineau Was on His Way Home From Minneapolis, Minn.

TOOK HIS LIFE BY PUTTING A BULLET THROUGH HIS BRAIN AT G.T.R. STATION, MONTREAL.

Montreal, June 29.—Nelson Martineau, of Victoriaville, Que., is thought to be the man who committed suicide on Saturday in Bonaventure Station by putting a bullet from a revolver into his head. While the body had not been identified up to a late hour last night, from a slip of paper found in the valise of the dead man, on which the name and address, "Nelson Martineau, 615 Quincy street, N.E.," was written, it is thought the police will be able to establish the identity of the suicide.

The man, who had evidently come here from Minneapolis, Minn., had purchased a ticket from Montreal to Victoriaville a few minutes before he blew out his brains in the crowded railway station. While there was no one around the railway station who knew the man or could recognize the remains before they were conveyed to the morgue, it is not expected there will be much difficulty in establishing the identity of the deceased when the fact of the suicide becomes known in Victoriaville. The police are of the opinion that the man's home was there, and that he must be well known. The morgue authorities will communicate with Victoriaville should the body not be identified today.

The day will close with an old-fashioned country dance in the Town Hall in the evening. A new feature will be motor cycle race, open to all in the afternoon. There will be three races of two, five and ten miles. Great interest is being shown in these latter events as they will be the first ever held in this vicinity. Good prizes will be awarded to the winners. Danville Brass Band will be in attendance all day.
