VOL. XV, No. 25 WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1944 PRICE.— THREE CENTS

Flt.-Lt. H. Russel Reported Missing After Operations

The only known Westmount team of brothers in the R.C.A.F., has been temporarily broken, with the recent report that Flight-Lieut. Hugh Russel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Russel, of 607 Clarke Avenue, has been reported missing after operations over enemy territory.

Flight-Lieut. Russel and his older brother, Sqdn.-Ldr. Dal Russel, D.F.C., and Bar, formed a team which has accounted for nine enemy planes, and was a part of the famous R.C.A.F. wing under Wing Commander Johnny Johnson, D.S.O. and Bar, and D.F.C. and Bar, which is reported to have shot down a large number of Nazi planes since its formation last year.

This team of brothers first fought against the Luftwaffe together when Sydn.-Ldr. Russel accepted a reversion in rank early this year from wing commander so that he might fly with his younger brother, although he had already completed two tours of operations.

Owing to cable regulations no word has yet been received from the older of the brother team, but it is expected that a letter will arrive in due course from either he, or a sister of the two airmen, Jane Russel, who is stationed in England with the Red Cross.

A skilled veteran of many sky battles over France and well into his second tour of operations, Flt.-Lt. Russel had two Nazi planes to his credit, according to latest reports. He got his first score over the beach at Dieppe during the Canadian commando raid and his second over Laon, France, in May.

A native of this city, he is a graduate of Selwyn House and Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont. He left school to enlist with the R.C.A.F. on his 18th birthday in August, 1940. He trained at Brandon, Saskatoon and Eglington, Ont., and upon receiving his wings and commission at Uplands in June, 1941, he went overseas the following month.

Following one tour of "ops" from England, when he scored his first plane destroyed, Flt-Lt. Russel came back to Canada for a rest period and was an instructor at Bagotville from January last year until November, when he returned overseas to join the 2nd Tactical Air Force. His brother, Dal, soon joined him under Wing Commander Johnson.

Sub.-Lt. Eric W. Jones Is Serving Overseas

According to word received by his parents, Sub-Lieut. Eric W. Jones, 20, who recently graduated from H.M.C.S. King's, at Halifax, N.S., has arrived overseas.

Sub-Lieut. Jones, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willis Jones, of 234 Kensington Avenue, is a graduate of Westmount High School, and attended McGill University two years prior to enlisting with the R.C.N.V.R.

Playgrounds Open In Full Swing

Starting on Monday, all three playgrounds in this city will be open on a full time basis with supervisors in attendance all day. Many interesting programmes have been lined up for the season and the children have been attending the summer schools up to the present time, in large numbers.

The boys and girls at Westmount Park will feature a "Salvage Campaign" as their first week of full time activity. Four captains have been chosen and they will lead their team-mates in a hunt for salvage, specializing in paper and rags. Points will be given for each five pounds of paper and two pounds of rags. The team accumulating the most points at the end of the week will be adjudged the winner.

Some 15 teams entered a treasure hunt held this week amongst the summer school at Westmount Park with the following results; 1st Joan and Grace Gillingham; 2nd Betty Baird and Nadine Kabin; 3rd Bunty Millen and Margaret McRae; 4th Sheila McGee and Rennie Millen; 5th Freda Livingston, Rosalind McGee and Arthur Butler; 6th Shirley Barnes and Eric Jones; 7th Catherine Cook and Rosemary Cook; 8th Ann Golden and Elizabeth Biggs; 9th Deirdre Hoyes and Joan Bullis; 10th Joan MacLeod and David Jones; 11th John Moynaugh and Edmund Cliffe; 12th Sandra MacLeod and Sheila Halpert; 13th Ronald Law and Earl Brooks.

The girls on all playgrounds will have their first swimming session this week, scheduled for Tuesday with another one coming up on Thursday. These will be the two swimming days this year, Tuesday and Thursday.

The girls from the Staynor playground will be up at the band concert on Monday night and would appreciate any contributions of wool that they might receive. The articles they knit are for the Junior Red Cross, so that any bit of wool, regardless how small, will be thankfully received.

Model Victory Gardens Have Geometric Beauty

"There is real beauty in well kept vegetable gardens," said a local resident the other day, as he commented on the various Victory plots dotted here and there on corner lots, fields and back yards.

Strong able hands have guided and seeded patterns of geometric beauty and curved furrows against the green of growing things.

The community plot on the corner of Lansdowne Avenue and Sherbrooke street, is showing up well after the heavy rains, and another garden that has caused admiration is the model one belonging to members of the Westmount Police Force on Stanton street, consisting of neat rows of the most delectable and varied edibles.

Flies Typhoons Over Cherbourg

Interesting reports of operations over the Normandy beaches have been revealed here of local boys in the thick of manoeuvres, before and since the invasion.

Squadron Leader Hugh Norsworthy, son of Major and Mrs. S. C. Norsworthy, of 29 Ramezay Road, was one of the Westmount boys over this area with the Typhoons, and reports that heavy and accurate "ack ack" was experienced by some of the Canadian fliers, who had some of their planes holed.

LOST AND FOUND

The following articles have been found in the city parks and may be claimed upon proper identification.

Westmount Park—one pair of blue gloves; pair of brown oxfords with socks. Can be obtained at the comfort station in the park.

Western tennis courts—Lady's or girl's reversible trench coat. Can be obtained at the office in the greenhouse.

Lt. T. A. Windsor Reported Missing

According to word received here Lieutenant Thomas A. L. Windsor, 31, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Windsor, Redfern Avenue, has been reported missing in action the day after D-Day in France.

Lieutenant Windsor's wife, the former Roma Jackson, resides at 4799 Upper Grosvenor Avenue. Joining the 17th D.Y.R.C.H. early in the war and later transferred to the Canadian Armored Corps at Camp Borden as a trooper, he received his commission at Brockville in January, 1943, and went overseas shortly afterwards. He was educated at Queen's School and Westmount High. Before enlisting he was on the staff of The T. Eaton Company Ltd., here, and was an active member of the M.A.A.A. A younger brother, Sgt. C. A. (Chick) Windsor, has been serving overseas with the R.C.A.F. since December, 1941.

Capt. J. D. Gall Killed In Action

Word has been received here that Captain John Douglas Gall, 25, has been killed in action.

Captain Gall, who is the elder son of D. M. Gall, of 354 Grosvenor Avenue, is survived by his wife, the former Marion E. W. Beer, of 3821 Draper Avenue.

Capt. Gall graduated from Montreal High School and was employed by Jenkins Bros. Ltd. before the war. Joining the Officer Training Corps of the Canadian Grenadier Guards the day after war was declared, he helped recruit men for overseas and in April, 1942, went overseas himself. Capt. Gall, grandson of the late Dr. James Perrigo of Montreal, had just completed a course at Camberley Staff College in England. A brother, Watson P. Gall, is serving in the R.C.N.V.R.

Dr. Frank Pedley Leaves For U.K. To Join UNRRA

It is announced that Dr. Frank G. Pedley of 4820 Roslyn Avenue, university medical officer and assistant professor of public health and preventive medicine, McGill University, will leave sometime in the near future for London, England, where he will take over his duties in the health section of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. It is understood that Dr. Pedley has applied for two years' leave of absence from McGill.

A veteran of the first world war, in which he was awarded the Military Cross, Dr. Pedley was born in Winnipeg, the son of the late Rev. Hugh Pedley for 17 years minister of Emmanuel Church, Montreal. Dr. Pedley was educated at the High School of Montreal, McGill University, Johns Hopkins University and Harvard University. From 1925 to 1927 he served as assistant professor of industrial hygiene at Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons, joining the staff of McGill University in 1927 as lecturer in industrial medicine. Later he was promoted to the position of assistant professor.

In 1930 Dr. Pedley became executive director of the Financial Federation, serving in this capacity until 1938 when he returned to McGill as assistant professor in public health and preventive medicine, and university medical officer.

Dr. Pedley served as medical director of the Child Welfare Association, chairman of the health section of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies; vice-president of the Montreal Occupational Therapy Centre; treasurer of the Mental Hygiene Institute and an attending physician at the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Post-War Life On The Farm To Be Completely Transformed

Post-war life on the farm will be so attractive that men and women now earning a livelihood on assembly lines will "hie" themselves to the field—at least that is the opinion of Lewis W. Water, vice-president of General Foods Corporation, who spoke recently in New York, on the Beyond Victory program of the World Wide Broadcasting Foundation and Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

"I think this is so,' he said, "because after the war there will be so many improvements affecting the farmer's life that it will be completely transformed from hard work to one of comparative ease."

If not ease, certainly one of convenience, he added, envisaging better roads and more accessible farm lands, prefabricated and air-conditioned homes; and "walkie-talkie" sets, portable radio-telephones, enabling the farmer to give quick instructions to his hands as they plow his broad acres.

The speaker went on to say, that at present, the farmer's job is a hard one, however. Mr. Waters explained that while in normal times the country raises enough food for everybody, today, with manpower shortage and everything, the country is called upon to feed more.

"Obviously if this is to be done," he continued, "the farmer and the processor will have to work as never before. More crops will have to be grown and more food will have to be processed in order that it can be preserved in a wholesome and edible state until it is needed." He concluded, by saying that all farm equipment and machinery had been made available for the common good, and that the governments both in Canada and the United States are bending every effort to meet the needs of farm labor.

This takes us to our own great Canadian country, where barns stand tucked into the folds of the prairies, white silos and grain elevators stand like sentinels upon the flat earth of the Western countryside, and clean-shaped dairy farms on rich pastures reject the burden of the winter snows. And in looking upon this rich land, we are aware of the feeling, that in a world of war, destruction and unrest, we can find comfort here in our fair Dominion. For we look upon the eternals of husbandry.

We are surrounded by things that endure, seedtime and harvest and the tillage of the soil. The farmer will again fill his barn with his own threshold grain, for a world that is happy and at peace is a world of well-filled barns.

THE SHIP THAT CAME BACK

D-Day at France's beachheads was a day of glory for the U.S. battleship Nevada. Left a blazing hulk by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7th, 1941, as seen in top photo, the big ship was salvaged. Lower photo shows the Nevada as, refitted and re-armed to even greater strength, she went back into active service. Climax of her "second life" was great role she played in blasting path for Allied invasion forces on Normandy peninsula.

Private David Law Receives Praise

Youth Joined 17th Hussars at Age of 17

Pte. David Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Law, of 4097 Northcliffe avenue, who was mentioned in a recent broadcast as doing "splendid work" as a despatch rider, first joined the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars here at the age of 17, though he gave his age as two years more.

Now three years overseas, he has served in North Africa, Sicily and Italy and his parents last heard from him in a letter dated May 11, 1944, which enclosed a snapshot of himself taken in Naples market place. His father served in the Royal Air Force in the last war.

Private Law was said to be a member of a section attached from a Canadian light field ambulance unit to a Canadian Tank regiment which took part in forcing the Gustav and Hitler lines in Italy.

Auto On Rampage Smashes Window

Slipping of a brake on a car parked on a Sherbrooke Street vacant lot brought trouble and expense to Alfred Germain, of 613 d'Ailleboust Street and inconvenience to Councillor A. D. Quintin of 558 Claremont Avenue.

The car, moving slowly at first, gained momentum to such extent that it broke an iron fence, brought down a barber pole, and smashed two plate glass windows at 5362 Sherbrooke, the property of Alderman Quintin. Constables Bissonette and Smith of Radio Car No. 26 investigated the affair and made a report to Captain W. T. Minogue of No. 23 Station.

Local Airmen Recently Graduated In Canada

Among Westmount boys recently graduated at Training Schools in Canada are: Sergeant G. L. Telfer, 49 Prospect Street; Sergeant G. A. MacKay, 44 Burton Avenue; Sergeant J. P. Savage, 435 Grosvenor Avenue; Sergeant T. J. Brady, 434 Lansdowne Avenue, and Sergeant E. L. Irvine, of 72 Columbia Avenue.

Lieut. R. Schwob Raised In Rank

Word has been received here that Lieutenant R. Schwob, son of Mrs. J. Schwob, of 3015 Sherbrooke Street West, and of the late Julien Schwob, has been promoted to the rank of captain, and appointed second in command of an R.M.R. company overseas.

Captain Schwob was educated at Selwyn House and Lachine High Schools, and was employed by Dale and Company before joining the army. After receiving an appointment in the Royal Montreal Regiment, he was sent in January 1940, for his machine gun training to the Three Rivers Centre.

He went overseas as a reinforcement officer in July, 1940. Two brothers are officers overseas one in The Black Watch, and the other in the artillery.

Careful Study Makes Better Garden Plots

Last year there were some wartime gardeners who had bad luck with their crops. Many of these started with a burst of enthusiasm, but in their determined effort to produce a garden better than their neighbors, they bought a lot of equipment without the knowledge of how to use it. This can happen to anyone keen about a job. Throughout the season this year, a little more thought, discussion and study is going to put right the mistakes of last year.

Garden experts say that last year, tons of potential food for Canadian families was lost because Mr. and Mrs. Wartime Gardener were green at the job. This year, Mr. and Mrs. W.G. are going to produce that food or know the reason why!

KNOW YOUR WESTMOUNT

Q.—Was there a Victoria Hall, prior to the present structure?

A.—Yes, in 1898 a red brick building was named Victoria Hall to commemorate the 60th year of Her Majesty's Reign the late Queen Victoria. A demonstration in honor of the Queen's long reign from 1837 to 1897 was held in Westmount Park Saturday, June 19th, 1897. Mayor F. W. Evans was in the chair.

The old Victoria Hall was very popular with the citizens of Westmount, especially the young people. Such men as Art Ross, Cooper Smeaton, Lester Patrick, Odie and Sprague Cleghorn, Walter Smaill and many others spent a good deal of their boyhood days around the hall.

It was not unusual for the boys to get up at 5 a.m. and practice in the park before an important match. They would sleep as best they could in the hall.

Victoria Hall was the home of the Westmount Athletic Association and the Westmount Highland Cadets.

The old Victoria Hall was equipped with a swimming pool, bowling alleys (which were later turned into a shooting range), billiard room, gymnasium, dance floor, living quarters for the superintendent, rooms for lodges, concert hall, stage, etc.

The hall was destroyed by fire on March 8th, 1924, and was rebuilt and opened on June 4th, 1925.

The official opening of the new Victoria Hall was attended by the mayor and aldermen of the City of Westmount. The building was declared open at 3 o'clock June 4th, 1925, by their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Byng. A reception was held the same evening in the new hall.

Our (Very) Short Story

STARTING POINT

Richard Harding Davis, following his casual bent as an amateur pianist, once composed a musical setting to Kipling's "Danny Deever," picking it out in the secrecy of his home on his own battered instrument. The accompaniment to his voice consisted of a few chords which, from frequent repetitions, he fixed in his memory.

One night at a party attended by a number of musical celebrities, he was asked, purely as a joke, to play one of his own compositions. To everyone's surprise he consented and went to the piano. But he gave a start when he sat down at the instrument and eyed the keys.

He considered briefly, then turned and slowly surveyed his audience. He was obviously in distress and looking for some expert assistance.

"I can't find the starting note," he finally explained. "I composed my tune on a Steinway, and this is a Weber. Please, Mr. Paderewski, where would the note that is under the W on a Steinway be on a Weber?"

1st B.B. Company Appoints Summer Camp Staff

Last Friday evening, the Company staff of the 1st Boys' Brigade met to decide the appointments of tent leaders and general camp staff as well as to plan for special features during their two weeks stay at St. Andrews East. Captain J. Howard Richardson will be Commander of the Camp with Lieut. Charles King as Second in Command and Rev. C. A. Selby, B.A., Camp Chaplain. Staff Sergeant Edwin Goring is to be Adjutant.

The following N.C.O.'s were appointed tent commanders: Sgts. Alan Keith, Robert Eastwood; Corporals James Dugan and George McFarlane and L/Cpl. Peter Bailey. Lieut. King is featuring special Brass Band instruction during camp so that beginners will have every opportunity of advancing rapidly, taking their place in the regular section of the band by the end of camp. A record enrolment has been set this session and a most enjoyable time is anticipated.

The Company was saddened to learn that their good friends Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dorion, who have been Camp Host and Hostess during the past four years, had received word that their only son Lester had been killed in action in Italy. An expression of profound sympathy was extended to the family on behalf of the Officers and boys.

Sunday evening a number of the band boys took part in the farewell service at Tyndale House, to their Missionary in charge, Mr. Harold W. Dyer.

Rotary Club Contributes To Worthy Needs

The weekly luncheon of the Westmount Rotary Club was held on Wednesday, in the Oak Room, of the Victoria Hall.

President Chester McBride, presided, and the reading of the year's reports by members of the various committees took place.

Recently the Board of Directors announced that $125 had been donated to the Quebec Society of Crippled Children for the purchasing of a brace; also $10 for prizes to the Boys' Farm and Training School at Shawbridge.

Aeroplane Meet To Be Held Sunday

The Hampton Hobby Shop is sponsoring a model aeroplane contest, its third, to be held in the Town of Mount Royal, on Sunday. There will be seven events, three for gas models, three for rubber models, and one for tow-line gliders.

Prizes will consist of credit notes, ribbons and silver cups, donated by the following: The Hampton Hobby Shop cup for the most points of the day, the Winston Currie cup for the best in tow-line gliders, and The Monitor Cup for the best time in class C gas models.

In former years all models were hand-launched. On Sunday they will rise off the ground or take off from a ramp, with the exception of stick models and tow-line gliders which will still be launched by hand.

The timers will be Mr. Currie, radio artist, W. Nicol, of the Montreal Star, B. Nickson, of the Hampton Hobby Shop, and two committee members of Mount Royal Civic Recreation Association.

All processing will be under the direction of Walter Allen who will have for his staff Jack Beauregard, Gordon Hubbell and Bruce Nickson. The actual contest will get under way at 12 noon and will continue until 5.30 p.m.

Dal Russel's Squadron Raises Score In France

According to a despatch from a Canadian Airfield in France, four more ME109's fell this week to sharpshooters of Squadron Leader Dal Russel's Canadian Spitfire Squadron over France.

The squadron, which is part of the Canadian Wing led by Wing Commander Johnny Johnson, is reported to have spotted six Messerchmitts flying at low altitude and peeled to the attack from about 8,000 feet.

Wing Cmdr. Dean Nesbitt One Of First To Land

It is reported that among the Westmount boys who arrived "first in" on the Normandy invasion coast, was Wing-Commander Dean Nesbitt, D.F.C., and Bar, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nesbitt, of Forden Crescent. Wing Commander Nesbitt is reported to be in command of an Allied landing field.

Lieut. J. Marsh Is Wounded

According to word received here Lieutenant John William Marsh, M.M., formerly a company quartermaster sergeant of the active service battalion of the Black Watch, has been wounded while serving with the Gordon Highlanders, of the Imperial Army. He is one of many Canadian officers on loan to the British Army.

Lieutenant Marsh was one of the heroes of Dieppe, where he won the Military Medal. Last year he returned to Canada to qualify for his commission, and was instructor at Farnham for a time.

His wife resides at 61 Hillcrest Avenue, Montreal West.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1944

DOMINION DAY

CANADA'S seventy-seventh birthday will be observed Saturday under conditions considerably brighter than any which have obtained since the outbreak of war. Our Army, Air Force and Navy have added lustre to Canada's bright name in such measure that we are known and respected throughout the whole world. Our armed forces are on the road to victory side by side with our allies, and the end of the worst armed upheaval in the history of the world is in sight. Canadians are confident and thankful this birthday—confident that our enemies are on their way to destruction; thankful that we escaped the terrors of fascist aggression.

This is a good time to contemplate the great issue at stake in this conflict. First, we are motivated by the instinct of self-preservation. We don't want to be conquered and reduced to an insignificant position in world affairs. We don't like war, but if that is the only way to maintain our freedom and other rights, then war it is— and a thorough job we're making of a business we abhor! Secondly, we fight for all the freedoms self-governing peoples value. We, as a people, are in the habit (and it's a habit we don't want to get rid of) of giving orders to those we elect to run our affairs for us. Our enemies, as a people, take orders from those who set themselves up in the rulers seats. Our rulers are our servants, upon whom we pass judgment at the polls every four or five years. The rulers of our enemies are their masters, and they are brought to judgment not by the ballot, but by bullet, bomb and shell.

DISMISSAL OF MR. BOUCHARD

THE DISMISSAL of Senator T. D. Bouchard from his post as head of the new Quebec Hydro has met with nothing but disapproval among people in this district. The senator is not well known here. Local residents cannot say with certainty whether he was right or wrong in the accusations he made in the Senate. But the feeling is general that he had a perfect right to express his opinions; that the precise, detailed accusations he made have not been answered; that the speech had nothing whatever to do with the Hydro; and that two months after it was created our new Hydro is a political football. The precedent created by the firing of Mr. Bouchard for activities which had nothing whatever to do with his ability to run the Hydro won't exactly encourage a disinterestedness toward Godbout. Mr. Bouchard has, incidentally, shown admirable restraint and fairness throughout this whole episode.

the political use that can be made of this big utility by politicians of the future. If the government changes after the next provincial elections, we shall probably see all the present commissioners fired and displaced by friends of the Union Nationale or Bloc Populaire, as the case may be.

In justice to Mr. Godbout, however, it should be pointed out that Mr. Bouchard's speech put him on a spot he doesn't deserve. He took such a serious view of the situation as to conclude that the retention of Mr. Bouchard in the Hydro post would prejudice seriously his chances of keeping control of the province out of the hands of the Union Nationale or the Bloc, and he acted accordingly. It was no easy task, we may be sure, to fire a life-long friend. That Mr. Bouchard himself realizes this is evidenced in the statement he gave to the press on Monday, in which he urged continued support for Mr.

WITH ARMS FOLDED

AN EVIDENCE of the patriotism, or perhaps we should say lack of it, among Bloc Populaire members in the House of Commons, was seen the day the Prime Minister told the House of the invasion of Europe. There was enthusiastic applause from every member of the Commons, except those of the Bloc. They sat in silence, with arms folded.

Why did not the landing of our troops on the continent of Europe meet with the approval of the Bloc? We don't know the answer. But these people and their followers seem to react in precisely the same way, in this fight for justice and freedom, as the governments of Eire, Spain, Vichy and Argentina. As a matter of fact, Franco and Petain have been publicly lauded more than once by Bloc speakers. Why? It's beyond us.

SCOTTISH CO-OPERATIVES

A SCOTSMAN'S idea of co-operatives was told last week in the Manitoba legislature by a C.C.F. member, James Aitken, who naturally believes in co-operatives. It seems that 900 employees of an Aberdeen firm decided to give a present to the retiring manager and asked around until they found out he wanted a radio. Each employee subscribed a shilling and the committee then bought 900 shilling packets of cigarettes, getting a radio with the coupons. At the presentation, the manager got the radio, each man got cigarettes, and refreshments were provided with the dividends from the co-operative stores where the money was spent.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Up to December 31, 1943, the figures by province of Old Age Pensions, the average monthly payments were as follows: Alberta 11,073, $22.66; British Columbia 14,544, $23.50; Manitoba 12,294, $23.33; New Brunswick 11,876, $17.03; Nova Scotia 14,093, $17.63; Ontario 56,364, $22.80; Prince Edward Island 1,902, $18.51; Quebec 47,336, $22.28; Saskatchewan 12,863, $22.90; North West Territories 8, $25.00.

The Provinces of Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Ontario and Saskatchewan have the power to control property owned by Old Age Pensioners and blind Pensioners under the authorization of the Provincial Legislature. At the time of the last Dominion examination of the Provincial Pensions Accounts, these Provinces appeared to be following the general practice of filing liens of registration as authorized by the Legislature.

There is no agreement and no regulations regarding the filing of such liens, other than the general agreement of each Province authorized to administer Pensions in accordance with the Act and Regulations.

The Provincial Pension authorities have followed different policies, some have refused to follow the Administration Agreements by making a claim against the Estates of deceased Pensioners, and others have suggested that it might be desirable either to discontinue making claims in all cases but a limited claim to the larger Estates. In view of this situation, the Provincial Pension authorities are being advised that whether or not recovery should be made from the Estates where the net value does not exceed two thousand dollars will be left entirely to their discretion.

A friend in Ottawa, who has had a wide experience of people and things wrote me recently as follows:

"It occurs to me that if all those good people now advocating reforms would get together and decide upon something concrete, we might get somewhere. My observation is that the reformers are as wide apart as the poles and unless they are brought together there is little hope of any change in the rest of the world."

WHAT'S IN A MAN?

Dr. T. E. Lawson's prescription for a man has aroused some interest. Take—

Enough water to fill a ten-gallon barrel.

Enough fat for seven bars of soap.

Carbon for 9000 lead pencils.

Phosphorus to make 2,200 match-heads.

Magnesium for one dose of salts.

Iron to make one medium-sized nail.

Sufficient lime to whitewash a chicken coop.

Sulphur enough to rid one dog of fleaes;

and you get an Einstein or a village idiot, according as you arrange the ingredients.

Karl Marx, the supremely great founder of modern Socialism, died in 1883 after a life of poverty and apparent defeat, an exile in a foreign land. Trained as a university professor, he had been refused a teaching position because of his liberal ideas. Active as the editor of a democratic newspaper, he lost his position when the government suppressed the paper. Participating in activities leading up to the Revolution of 1848, and, for a short time, enjoying the temporary freedom resulting from it, he was forced to flee upon its failure, first to Paris, then to Brussels, and finally to London. Here he spent the remainder of his life, in obscurity and occasional want, writing on Capitalism and Socialism and participating in the activities of the First International. Only eight people followed his body to its humble grave in Highgate Cemetery, London, in 1883.

How different the situation today! In 1917, only thirty-four years after the death of Marx, his devoted followers were strong enough to secure and retain control of the vast Russian Empire, covering one seventh of the land area of the globe, and have since advanced from victory to victory in the building of Socialism in that country. Innumerable streets and parks, buildings and great institutions now bear the name of the Socialist genius ignored by his contemporaries.

Metropolitan Sergius, patriarch of the Russian Orthodox Church, died in Moscow on May 15. He was 78. He had been patriarch since last December, when his position was recognized by the Soviet government in a change of policy which riveted world attention. Metropolitan Alexei, of Leningrad and Novgorod, has become acting patriarch, and is expected to be elected to that post by the holy synod of the Russian Church.

Recently an announcement was made in the South African Parliament that in future old age pensions and invalidity grants will be available to the native Negro majority. The amounts are very small—$48 per year in cities, $36 in towns, and $24 in rural areas. The importance of the decision lies in the fact that it is a complete break from past policy.

Recently John Bracken said: Agriculture is "the Cinderella" of Canadian industry and it is not fair that it is too often put in a position of economic inferiority. The editor of Sydney, N.S., Post-Record commenting on this statement said:

Mr. Bracken might have added that it is not only unfair, it is sheer economic insanity as well. Putting any class in a position of economic inferiority discourages it, reduces its capacity to produce. Thus there is less to divide and it is not only the folk who are economically inferior who suffer as a result. The folk who are economically superior have less than they might have had if their fellows had been given a lift, made more economically competent and so better producers and better customers.

No community and no nation is big enough to escape the penalties of permitting an unfair and uneconomic system.

Westmount Baptist

Dr. J. A. Johnston, minister of Westmount Baptist Church, announces a double service of summer sermons to be delivered from the "Westmount Pulpit" on successive Sundays during the month of July.

The morning series is entitled: "Days Freighted with Destiny." The sermons will be in the following order: 1. The Day Abram Left His Country. 2. The Day Lot Made His Selfish Choice. 3. The Day Moses Saw a Burning Bush. 4. The Day David Fought Goliath. 5. The Day John Baptist Began to Preach. These sermons will have first hand application to our present day.

The title for the series on the Sunday evenings is: "The Gospel in Great Literature." In sequence these addresses will be delivered as follows: 1. The Quest for Life's Greatest Good—Illustrated from the "Legend of the Golden Fleece." 2. The Redemption of the Worst of Sinners—illustrated from John Masefield's "The Everlasting Mercy." 3. A Last Minute Rescue from Death—illustrated from Sir Walter Scott's "Jeannie Deans." 4. The Love that Seeks Until It Finds—illustrated from Francis Thomson's "The Hound of Heaven." 5. The Man who Substituted his Life to Save—illustrated from Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities."

Unhappiness

If there were no unhappiness in our lives we wouldn't have a yardstick by which to measure happiness. The passage of the sun across the sundial is measured by the shadow it casts.

It is always safe to learn even from our enemies, seldom safe to instruct even our friends.

J.A.L. Meldrum Funeral Held This Afternoon

The death occurred on Wednesday of J. A. Logan Meldrum, president of the Meldrum Bros. Cartage Company, at his home, 4706 Westmount Avenue, after a brief illness.

Son of the late James Meldrum and Elizabeth Logan, he was born in Montreal. The firm, which he entered about 18 years ago and of which he has been president for about a year, was founded by his father 55 years ago. He was a member of St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, and the Montreal Board of Trade.

Surviving are his wife, the former Evelyn Cooke, and five sisters, Mrs. W. C. Wylie, Mrs. W. J. Templeton, Mrs. C. A. Duclos and Mrs. George A. Smith of Westmount and Mrs. E. A. Charlton of South Orange, N.J.

Reverend Mr. Burns of St. Andrew's United Church conducted the service from the residence today at 2.30 p.m. and interment took place at Mount Royal Cemetery.

Obituary

JAMES NORTON

Friends and relatives attended the funeral services for James Norton, of 2147 Marlowe Avenue, at Trinity Memorial Church on Tuesday.

Mr. Norton, formerly manager of the Homoeopathic Hospital, passed away at the hospital on Monday last, and is survived by his wife the former Isabella Edwards, two sons and two daughters, Alex Norton, of New Rochelle, N.Y., and Lieut. Jeffrey Norton, Training Centre of St. John's, Que.; Mrs. Harry Voss, of Scarsdale, N.Y., and Miss Isabel Norton, at home.

Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor conducted the service and burial took place on Wednesday at Quebec City.

MISS CAROLINE A. AHERN

Friends and relatives attended the funeral service for Miss Caroline Augusta Ahern, of 5165 Sherbrooke Street West, which was held at the Chapel of Jos. C. Wray & Bro. last week.

Miss Ahern is survived by a sister, Miss Victoria Ahern and a brother, W. Norman Ahern of St. Lambert.

Rev. Dean Morrison and Rev. W. L. Tucker conducted the service and burial took place in Mount Royal cemetery.

Christian Science

"God" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read in churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Samuel 22: 32, 33. "Who is God save the Lord? and who is a rock, save our God? God is my strength and power: and he maketh my way perfect."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God." (Psalm 62: 7.)

St. Luke's United

Service will be held in the mornings only, in St. Luke's United Church, during the months of July and August. The minister, Rev. R. E. Spencer, will preach next Sunday, his topic being "Ye Shall Have Dominion From Sea to Sea." The choir will be on holiday also during these two months but Miss Marjorie Taylor, soprano soloist, will sing "Benediction" by Hamblen. The organist, Mr. W. W. Barlow, will be in attendance during the month of July.

The regular sessions of the church school have been discontinued for the summer months but it is the desire of the teachers and officers that some provision be made for those scholars who may be in town, particularly for the children of the nursery, beginners and primary classes whose parents might otherwise be deprived of the privilege of attending morning worship. Therefore, a few teachers and friends of the school will be in attendance each Sunday, at 11 a.m., to welcome all children who care to attend, and to provide a suitable service for them.

The church school picnic, which was postponed last Saturday because of inclement weather, will be held on a Saturday early in September.

Anyone in the congregation requiring the pastoral services of a minister under urgent circumstances during the absence of Mr. Spencer on his holidays, is asked to get in touch with Mr. G. E. Palmer, clerk of session, at WA. 4284, and he will make the necessary arrangements.

The sincere sympathy of St. Luke's congregation is extended to the family of one of our young members, Harry Thomas, killed in action in Italy.

St. Andrew's Church

Last Sunday, the Rev. Donald Burns, minister-elect of Swift Current, Sask., commenced a six-weeks' ministry at St. Andrew's Church, Westmount. Brought up in St. Andrew's Sunday school and church, Mr. Burns was ordained and sent to the Canadian west as missionary representative from St. Andrew's. Returning last week for the first time in six years, he gave an account of his stewardship. He related some of his experiences in a coal-mining town in the Crow's Nest Pass, where the church work was officially described as "hindered by racial cleavages, profanity, and general indifference to higher religious interests." Referring to his work as "an adventure in human understanding," the speaker declared that one could not judge people by the outward appearance, but that, beneath the rough exterior, there was always a spark of the divine soul.

Next Sunday Westmount Park congregation will unite with St. Andrew's for the month of July. The minister will speak on "What is our objective?"

WEDDINGS

KING-COWIE

Pink and white peonies with ferns and palms, and standards holding white tapers formed the decorations in St. Andrews Church, on Saturday afternoon, for the marriage of Barbara Gretchen, only daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Alfred H. Cowie, of 622 Murray Hill, to Flight-Lieut. John Raymond Ruddle King, R.A.F.T.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. King, of Leeton, New South Wales, Australia. Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones, of Calvary United Church, officiated. Dr. E. C. Helsby, great uncle of the bride was at the organ, and played "Hear My Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given away by her father, Colonel Cowie, was attended by Miss Barbara Bourne, as maid of honor, and by Mrs. William G. Anglin, Miss Eleanor Boyd, Miss Lorraine Bruce-Robertson and Miss Shirley Kennedy. Flight-Lieut. Hume Collie, R.A.A.F., was best man, while the ushers were Flight-Lieutenants C. K. Roberts, and G. A. Green, and Flying Officers W. G. Anglin and F. B. Clarke.

The bride wore a gown of broche danae ivory satin fashioned on simple lines, with fitted bodice and long sleeves ending with points over the hands, the flowing skirt extending into a short train. Her veil of tulle illusion fell from a Mary Tudor bonnet of shirred Chantilly lace, while she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of bouvardia and white orchids topped with mauve. The maid of honor wore a frock of "Lilas de France" crepe cut on princess lines with draped skirt, round shirred neckline and cap sleeves. The other attendants were in orchid crepe dresses cut on the same style as that of the maid of honor. All five attendants wore demure bonnets of fine lace in "Lilas de France" color and carried cascade bouquets of two-tone mauve sweet peas.

Mrs. Cowie, the bride's mother, was gowned in blue swan crepe romain with hat of imported ribbon felt, in seagreen and yachting blue, with bag to match and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. D. R. Clarke, grandmother of the bride, wore a dress of navy and white printed crepe with matching accessories and a spray of gardenias as the corsage.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's table was arranged with white snap-dragons, bouvardia and Sweetheart roses, the other decorations being carried out with pink and white peonies and snap-dragons. Flight-Lieut. and Mrs. King left later by boat for the Hotel Tadoussac, on their wedding trip the bride wearing for travelling Dubonnet and hyacinth blue printed crepe with a matching hat and bag of silk ruching, her corsage of Talisman roses.

RHEAULT-PIUZE

A quiet wedding took place in St. Leo's Church Westmount, at a quarter to eight o'clock on Monday morning, when Miss Beatrice Piuze, daughter of Col. P. A. Piuze, O.B.E., E.D., of Westmount, and the late Mrs. P. A. Piuze, became the bride of Mr. Fernand Rheault, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rheault, of Montreal. The Rev. Father Guy Piuze, O.M.I., brother of the bride, officiated. White and pink peonies formed the decorations for the occasion.

The bride, unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a turquoise blue frock with flower hat and carried a colonial bouquet.

The ushers were Capt. J. B. Martineau and Capt. A. Hamel.

Mrs. Piuze, the bride's stepmother, in a dress of fuchsia shade, wore marine blue accessories and a corsage of roses. Mrs. Rheault, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing a blue dress with marine blue accessories and a spray of sweet peas as the corsage.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's father, 4297 Western avenue, Mr. Rheault and his bride left for the Saguenay cruise, the bride wearing a tailored costume of old rose with marine blue accessories. The couple will afterwards reside in Montreal.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Piuze, of Black Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Marc Gilbert, Colonel and Mrs. Leon Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Aime Auger, Major and Mrs. Renault Deschenes, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maher, Mrs. P. E. Martin, the Misses Madeleine and Suzanne Hamel, of Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Chasse, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Schmouth, of Riviere du Loup; Mr. and Mrs. Henri Thivierge, of Giffard, Que.; Lieutenant and Mrs. P. E. Martin, of Rimouski; Colonel and Mrs. Georges Le Bel, Mr. P. Chartrand and Mrs. Eusebe Jobin, of St.-Vincent de Paul; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith, of Thedford Mines; Dr. and Mrs. Paul Gilbert, of Charny, and Mrs. Gustave Sauvent, of Ottawa.

CHRISTENINGS

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Taylor took place on Sunday afternoon at half-past four o'clock Canon R. Kenneth Naylor officiating. The ceremony took place at Trinity Memorial Church.

The baby was named Bertram Alan. The godparents were Mrs. John Pratt and Mr. Alfred Kirby and Mr. Donald Weir. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Taylor entertained a few friends at tea at their residence, 533 Lansdowne avenue, Westmount.

The baby was named Jocelyn Marie and wore the christening gown worn by her mother. Mrs. W. C. Lloyd-Smith and Miss Hilda Gifford aunts of the baby, and Capt. Andrew Kelen, R.C.A.M.C., were the godparents. In the absence of the godfather, Mr. A. H. Jenkins acted as proxy.

After the ceremony Mrs. Gilbert Oliver, maternal grandmother of the baby, entertained members of the families and immediate friends at tea.

WED ON SATURDAY

Flight Lieut. John Raymond Ruddle King, R.A.F.T.C., and Mrs. King, photographed after their marriage, which took place on Saturday afternoon at St. Andrew's Church. The bride was formerly Miss Barbara Gretchen Cowie, only daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Alfred H. Cowie, of 622 Murray Hill. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. King, of Leeton, New South Wales, Australia.

Stuart Rolland Weds In Africa

Lieut.-Col. Stuart Rolland and Mrs. Rolland, Trafalgar avenue, announce the marriage of their eldest son, Stuart Francis, to Miss Evelyn Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lowe, of Flagstaff, Umhlali, Chakas, Kraal Natal, South Africa. The couple are living in Durban.

daughter of Flying Officer C. G. Gifford, overseas, and Mrs. Gifford, took place on Saturday in St. Matthias Church. Canon Gilbert Oliver, grandfather of the child officiating.

Accident Alters Movie Script

Ad libbing on the screen isn't necessarily restricted to dialogue.

There is a scene in "Standing Room Only" which is an apt illustration of this.

Fred MacMurray, as a butler in a Washington mansion, was proffering Martinis to guests who included Edward Arnold, Roland Young and Hillary Brooke. In the background, Paulette Goddard, complete with maid's outfit. was waiting to tender hors d'oeuvres.

As MacMurray turned from the guests and started for the kitchen with his tray and cocktail shaker, Arnold accidentally tripped him. The camera was still turning and Director Sidney Lanfield took full advantage of the expression on MacMurray's face. The naturalness of the scene was better than the script.

Sweet Potatoes Good Baked In Orange Cups

"This in an unusual but tasty combination of sweet potatoes and oranges," says Barbara Britton, who hands on the recipe as follows:

4 orange shells, 2 cups boiled or baked sweet potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons butter, orange juice to moisten. Cut tops from thick-skinned oranges, extract juice and strain. Boil sweet potatoes and force through sieve, add salt, butter and sufficient orange juice to moisten. Whip until smooth and pack into orange shells. Bake in moderate over fifteen minutes and top each with a marshmallow and return to oven and brown.

LIGHT MAIN COURSE MAY BE EKED OUT BY CRISP FRITTERS

Crisp fritters of all kinds—fruit, vegetable, fish, or meat—are a welcome addition to simple meals.

Basic Dessert Fritter Batter

1 cup flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg, slightly beaten
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon shortening, melted.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine egg, milk and shortening; stir into dry ingredients. Use as cover batter for fruits—apples, cherries, pineapple, etc.

Leftover Meat Fritters

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 beaten egg
1½ cups milk
¾ cup diced cooked meat
1 slice cooked bacon, chopped (optional)
1 tablespoon chopped celery (optional)

Sift dry ingredients together; gradually add combined egg and milk and beat until smooth; stir in meat, bacon and celery. Drop by tablespoons into hot deep fat (365-375° F.) and fry 3 to 4 minutes, until golden brown. Makes about 20 fritters.

Louisiana Rice Fritters

1 cup cooked rice
3 eggs
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Sugar to taste.

Mash rice. Mix all ingredients together and beat to a light, thin batter. Drop by tablespoons into hot boiling fat. Fry to golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and dust with powdered sugar. Fine for a breakfast dish.

Basic Cover Batter

1 cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted shortening

Mix flour and salt; combine egg, milk and fat; add gradually to flour, beating with rotary beater until smooth, use as cover batter until smooth, use as cover batter for vegetables (tomato slices, eggplant, sliced squash, etc.). Makes 1¼ cups of batter.

EXERCISE MAKES HER SLEEP SOUNDLY

"Often I'm so tired I doubt that I can do more than get home and fall into a comfortable chair," says popular blond comedian, Ann Sothern, "but I have always found that if I put in a half-hour at badminton, swimming or ping pong, it unties all those knots of nerves that bunch up in the back of my neck, and I sleep ever so much better." Everyone should engage in some sort of exercise, Ann believes. It need not necessarily be strenuous, she amends. "Croquet is a wonderful game, and yet it's far from being demanding muscularly." Darts, shuffleboard and quoits, which can be played in the cellar game room, aren't especially arduous, either, yet they'll help you achieve that aliveness and alertness which adds so much to your personality.

Educative Possibilities Of Movies Discussed

New methods of teaching, in which visual communication, by means of films, slides and microprojection may some day replace reading, was predicted recently before a lively and provocative two-day meeting of educators, motion picture executives and a score of nationally known specialists at a Visual Aids Conference.

Joseph E. Landis, said:

"The two words 'I see' are the most significant in our vocabulary. The lens showed man the infinitesimal; the X-ray reveals to him the imperceptible. These two great conculsions to visual aid give us our miracles of metallurgy and chemistry and extend man's vision beyond physical limitations to an extent yet only hinted."

Responsibility of Films

Roger Albright, an executive of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors, spoke on "Motion Pictures in the Postwar World."

"One of the grave responsibilities the industry is assuming is to provide motion pictures entertainment in countries released from enemy control," Mr. Albright said.

"These have suffered long. Strict censorship has isolated them from the world. Some must wonder whether the finer emotions, established cultures and proved elements of character have disappeared from the world. They have experienced slavery, persecution and brutality and need to have their confidence restored.

"Our boys, going into China, India, Africa and other countries, have been ambassadors of neighborliness with untold international value. In this country, we have not been similarly educated into understanding other peoples, and even our own returning soldiers will have difficulty in making their impressions vivid enough so that we in Canada will completely lose our bigoted, international and interracial prejudices."

Girls In Uniform Thrill To Same Old Feminine Interests

By Cpl. EDITH B. MOTLEY

People who wail about the defeminizing of wearing uniform don't know women. Girls in uniform still cluster about baby carriages—cooing and clucking in the best traditions of the maternal sex, and the widely-publicized cartoon of the WAAC's trying on spring hats isn't so far off the beam either. If further argument for the femininity of our "Troops" were needed, the doubting Thomases should have listened in on the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. when they got their new issue of summer uniforms.

With the exception of minor alterations in the cut of the tunic and the substitution of a skirt for trousers, the girls' outfits are same pattern as the men's but the comments were pure Polly:

"Oo-o-o-o-o, look at the ducky little inside pockets."

"Youre simply stunning in khaki, Marge."

"My Dear, I Love this skirt, it doesn't twist my stockings around."

"That's a sweet shirt you've got on, Smittie, is it Issue?"

Yes, girls will be girls, regardless of uniform.

Human society may most wisely seek justice and right in this world without depending on any other world to redress the wrongs of this.—Charles W. Eliot.

Round Table Chats

The concern reported in the Soviet press as felt in Russia over the misbehavior of Russian children in theatres, parks and elsewhere and over "the rise of juvenile delinquency," seems all too familiar to the rest of us. Of course the war is cited as chief cause, and naturally so. Disrupted homes, working mothers, money too plentiful in the pockets of youthful workers, and a general unrest that even we grown-ups feel, are among the understandable reasons for our difficulties. Teen-age clubs and community-wide programs of summer recreation and constructive activities are important answers to the problem. Another answer, which has emerged steadily and surely, is that we all—old and young—need to get a better understanding of such ideas as discipline, obedience and co-operation.

The old-fashioned word "discipline" which has never lost its beauty or its cousinship with "disciple," is being newly appreciated, says Millicent Taylor. The school, the home, the community are speaking it with something like reverence.

There is a tendency today to seek a scapegoat for what seem to us now to be our failures of the past two decades in bringing up children. At present it is popular to blame most of them on "progressive education." This is to lack the historical viewpoint, to fail to see the wood for the trees. Progressive education did not so much form as express the viewpoint of an age. Its contributions have been notable. No more wrongs were done in its name than were probably done in the name of any other forward looking movement. Much good has been done which will eventually be recognized.

One of the great services it has rendered is to point clearly to the differences between right discipline and the false restraint too often ordering little children about in the name of discipline. Children of an earlier day were sometimes little understood, cruelly beaten, and forced into an adult mold. Obeying was often confused with mere conforming.

To the sound progressive educator discipline has always been self-discipline, and true obedience of the heart accepted as a means toward it. It is a mental quality inseparable from an active, willing co-operation for the good of the group. It is not the dictatorship of a physically strong adult over a small child, based on fear and enforced by the storm trooper Arbitrary Punishment. It is a building up of the habit of intelligent obedience, enlightened co-operation, and wise self-concontrol. It is not alone for children. Parent, teacher, and child all need to cultivate it.

Discipline, obedience, co-operation, rightly conceived and carried out, are habits worth sacrificing for to build up in our homes, schools and communities. But we have only to look at the Nazi ideology to realize that they can be gravely misused. To insist that we must have them is not to cure the misbehavior of children, Soviet, or Canadian. We must understand better what we mean by each of the three, and find the means, in every walk of life, every moment of the day, to practice building them into the thinking of our children and ourselves.

The typewriting machine, when played with expression, is not more annoying than the piano when played by a sister or near relation.—Oscar Wilde.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Whatever you've heard about it is no exaggeration. "Lady in the Dark" is definitely one of the finest pieces of motion picture entertainment ever produced. It has everything imaginable to give film fans the time of their lives—top stars, a "different" story, breath-takingly beautiful Technicolor, gay and haunting music, stunning fashions and high comedy. That just about takes in everything in the way of entertainment elements, - but that's exactly what audiences at the Westmount United Theatre thought last night.

Co-starring Ginger Rogers, Ray Milland, Warner Baxter and Jon Hall and produced and directed by Mitchell Leisen, "Lady in the Dark" is the picture version of the celebrated Moss Hart play that ran for three years on Broadway and played in countless cities around the country. The play, with Gertrude Lawrence in the title role, was a sensation. The picture goes even further than the play because, naturally, the screen offers wider scope for imaginative technical tricks than the stage, and Leisen has taken advantage of that fact.

The story of "Lady in the Dark" revolves about the mental turmoil of Liza Elliott, successful editor of a swanky fashion magazine. She can't make up her mind to marry Warner Baxter, to whom she's been attached for some time; she can't make up her mind regarding important business matters, and in general she is miserable and unhappy. She is prevailed upon to go to a psychoanalyst. He probes into her past by means of analyzing her dreams and in that way brings her to the realization of where her happiness lies.

This reviewer has no hesitation in going on record to say that he has never seen anything to compare with the dream sequences of "Lady in the Dark." The imagination shown in conceiving and producing them will win paeans of praise for producer-director Leisen and everyone concerned with the picture's making. Ginger Rogers sings and dances through all of them and performs as a twelve-year-old child and a seventeen-year-old girl. Her big song-and-dance number, "The Saga of Jenny" which is the high spot of the circus dream sequence, is something you'll be singing and remembering for a long time.

Mischa Auer, Phyllis Brooks, Mary Philips and Edward Fielding are among those who contribute excellent supporting performances in a picture that is undoubtedly the cream film fare of all time.

AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY!

Jean Pierre Aumont and Gene Kelly in a scene from the film "The Cross of Lorraine," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

HOPE AND THE BEAR

Bob Hope doesn't know it, but a 700-pound Russian brown bear is being trained to lick his ear for a scene in Paramount's "Road to Utopia."

One of the scenes in the new "Road" show depicts Bob and Bing Crosby asleep in an Alaskan hut. During the night an inquisitive bruin pushes open the door, moves over toward the spot where Hope is sleeping, seemingly becomes amorous and starts nuzzling the star.

To make matters worse for Bob, his face has to show in a close-up and a double can't be employed.

OPTIMISM

Optimism is an excellent thing if it spurs you on to endeavor. But if it slows you down, it is nothing but a dangerous drug.

OLD-FASHIONED TARTS

1¼ cups sliced dates or steamed prunes
¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup chopped nut meats
1 recipe plain pastry

Mix fruit and walnut meats with orange juice. Cut pastry in rounds 3½ inches in diameter. Place 1 teaspoon filling on each. Fold over, press edges together. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in very hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes. Makes 1½ dozen.

If you think women make a fuss about their cosmetics today and spend an extravagant amount of time and money on them, 300 years ago the preparation of cosmetics was as much of a hobby as are photography woodworking and miniature railroads now. No house was complete without a "still room" in which milady brewed her perfumes and washes.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

At York Theatre

Last night, 20th Century-Fox's great and heart-warming picturization of MacKinlay Kantor's "Happy Land" came to the screen of the York United Theatre, and brought with it a stirring film experience you'll cherish for all the days of your years.

For this inspired filming of MacKinlay Kantor's best-loved, best-seller, which features Don Ameche, Frances Dee, Harry Carey and Ann Rutherford, is the story of the greatness of an every-day man and woman who found themselves only after they thought they had lost everything . . . of all the laughter and tears and courage of an American boy and girl—rolled into one great human story as gallant as America's own dauntless heart.

As such, this triumph of hearts too strong to break, of courage too valiant to shatter, and of love too powerful to be conquered is as glorious a story as any victory on the battlefield. "Happy Land" is indeed a picture that mists the eyes, arouses your laughter and warms your heart with the joys and dreams of triumphs of people you'll find a rare delight to know.

With it, 20th Century-Fox has once again proved its leadership in transforming outstanding literary properties to great screen achievements. Director Irving Pichel and Producer Kenneth Macgowan have left no stone unturned in making "Happy Land"— so sensationally acclaimed as a Saturday Evening Post story, a best-selling book, and a Reader's Digest Fiction Feature —the most genuinely true-to-life and human picture ever to come out of Hollywood.

In what is an inspired triumph of casting, Don Ameche appears as Lew Marsh in whose friendly drugstore a small town's great drama of tears and laughter is played; Frances Dee as Agnes, his wife, whose courage conquered the cruelest thing that ever can happen to a woman; Harry Carey as lovable "Gramp," who was destined to change people's lives even if he had to change worlds to do it; and Ann Rutherford as Lenore Prentiss, the girl who made herself over to the image and likeness of the girl of one boy's dreams. All give truly superb portrayals, matched by the outstanding support of Cara Williams, Richard Crane, Henry Morgan, Minor Watson and Dickie Moore.

William Allen White, the famous editor, said: "If I had but one gift that I could give to everyone in the land, high or low, rich or poor, military or civilian, it would be 'Happy Land'." The film version of "Happy Land" gives a heightened meaning to that statement. Happy, indeed, is the land that can give us such a story! And happy are you who can thrill to it.

AT THE MONKLAND FRIDAY!

James Ellison and Alice Faye in a scene from the Technicolor film "The Gang's All Here," which starts Friday at the Monkland United Theatre, playing until Monday night.

Belmont Park

Four years ago an intrepid aerial cyclist made his bow before patrons of Belmont Park and immediately won much overwhelming acclaim that the management held him for a four-weeks' engagement. His name was Peejay Ringens.

This daring cyclist who rides a free wheel cycle down a lofty and narrow runway... soars into space... parts company with his cycle which falls into a net while he dives into a metal tank containing a mere three feet of water... is currently making his fourth annual appearance at Belmont Park as the free outdoor attraction... a feat never before duplicated by any act.

This is a tribute to the daring of Peejay who has been decorated by crowned heads of Europe and other ruling dignitaries before whom he has performed. Peejay presents his act twice daily at 5 and 11 p.m., at Belmont Park.

RUSSIAN CENSUS

The population of Russia was reported as about 170,000,000 in 1939, an increase of 55 per cent since 1900 in spite of wars and revolutions; it may reach 250,000,000 by 1970, according to a new study of the League of Nations.

Training Held Essential For Household Workers

Training for household service to increase efficiency and raise the status of the domestic worker was advocated at a conference on post-war work for women held on Tuesday by the Local Council of Women, the Y.W.C.A. and the League for Women's Rights.

Two sessions of the conference were held with Mrs. A. Turner Bone presiding in the afternoon and Mrs. E. R. Adair in the evening.

A skit presenting a discussion on the pros and cons of domestic service was given by Mrs. A. Turner Bone, Mrs. W. C. Ware and Mrs. J. Thomas. The dialogue brought out that the chief objections to household work were low wages, long hours of labour, no paid vacations and lack of accommodation for the entertainment of friends.

The conference was held in the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. E. Johnstone of the I.L.O., in her address on "The Status of Household Workers in Other Countries" spoke of the apprenticeship system employed in Switzerland where a household worker, having successfully completed her training and examinations is granted a certificate signifying her completed opprenticeship.

Pointing out that the primary cause of war is the indifference of mankind to the welfare of his fellow man, Mrs. A. T. Henderson, speaking on "The Place of the Home in Canada" pleaded for women to use their increased knowledge and recently acquired economic and political independence to forward the cause of peace by training their children in world citizenship and recognition of their obligations to humanity.

Following the addresses many resolutions framed to raise the status of the household worker were submitted and approved by the assembly.

Speakers at the evening session included Miss Margaret Wherry, national president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, who related her talk to the general theme of the evening's discussion, "Full Employment and Education"; Mrs. George Garneau, whose address contained reference to the advantages of family allowances; Miss Rene Morin, speaking on Vocational Guidanc; Miss Beryl Truax, who stressed the fact that many mental maladjustments were due to people choosing the wrong vocation. Canada, Miss Truax continued, lacks training in vocational guidance. People desiring such training are in many instances forced to seek it in other countries. Canada needs centres for training in child care, if women continue to work outside the home, parks and playgrounds; trained personnel, and, because of the labour shortage, accelerated courses in training for teachers, nurses and physical culturists.

At the end of each address, recommendations, pertinent to the subject discussed and aimed at redressing the faults disclosed, were passed.

At the afternoon session short introductory addresses were given by the presidents of the three sponsoring organizations, Mrs. Allan Smith, Mrs. F. B. Chauvin and Mrs. Georges Garneau. The conference was closed by Mrs. Desmond Beall, program chairman.

The motion picture will be 50 years old next month. And strangely enough, it was nearly half that age before it began to talk. —Ottawa Citizen.

CY YOUNG, MOST DURABLE PITCHER

Probably the most durable pitcher in the history of baseball was old Denton T. (Cy) Young. Cy was still pitching in the majors in 1911 at the age of 44—his twenty-second season in the big leagues. He pitched 874 major league games, all told, winning 510 of them. These two marks have never been equalled by any other pitcher. Young holds one other all-time record—most consecutive hitless innings: from April 25 to May 11, 1904, he held the opposition hitless for 23 consecutive innings.

Young got his nickname because of his great speed—"Cy" is an abbreviation of cyclone. Yet despite the smoke he put on the ball, he had almost perfect control; in a game on July 4, 1905, against Connie Mack's Athletics, Young pitched twenty innings without issuing a base on balls.

Cy Young is now 77 years of age, but looks 60 and has the agility and pep of a healthy man of 55. Not long ago he pitched over a few before a double-header at Shibe Park while some 28,000 fans (many of whom weren't born when Young retired) rose up and cheered. On that occasion, Young went to the mound and threw several to catcher Frank Hayes, and although the old zip wasn't there, the 77-year-old vet still had something on the ball. "He had more than some pitchers we've seen lately," wrote J. G. T. Spink in The Sporting News.

Young believes that a pitcher's legs are more important than his arms. "It wasn't a wornout arm that put such fellows as Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson and Pete Alexander on the shelf," he says. "It was their legs. When I went to training I didn't touch a ball for three weeks. All I did was run. Some fellows thought I was nuts, I guess. But I kept on running and never had a sore arm in my life. That's what's the matter with some pitchers today. They don't run. You can even run out a sore arm if you keep at it. I always had a good pair of legs—got them chasing squirrels back on the farm.

"I guess the squirrels gave me a good arm, too. I hunted them with rocks. Got so I could hit them at 60 feet."

Mr. Spink writes of Young's debut in organized ball. He tells the story in Cy's own words:

"The farmers around home had been urging me to go to Canton and try out. I kept telling them it was no use, but they finally made me ashamed—said I was scared. So I packed some of my stuff in a paper bag, and headed for Canton.

"When I got to Canton, I went to see the owners, a couple of lawyers named Pero and Hunter. Hunter looked me over. I was pretty big—six feet two inches and weighed 190 pounds. 'You look big enough to me,' said Hunter, 'go out to the ball park and we'll see what you've got.'

"Canton had two famous hitters, John Williams and Robert Collins. When I got to the park they took me aside and said, 'We'll show you what you have to pitch to in this league, young fellow. Take off your coat and toss up a few.'

"So, I took off my coat, rolled up my sleeve, warmed up a few moments with a catcher, and then went to the mound. I pitched five minutes and I don't think either Williams or Collins got so much as a foul. Every time they swung and missed, the ball hit one of the planks in the grandstand and cracked it. I knocked out about six planks before Williams and Collins said, 'That's enough, kid.'

"That night Hunter asked Collins how I looked. 'Better sign him up,' said Collins, 'he did more damage to your stands than a cyclone. He's got a fast one that roars.'

"That's how I got my nickname, 'Cy'.

"Baseball was different in those days. We didn't stay at the best hotels. We didn't ride the Pullman every move we made. We didn't have night ball either. I'm sorry about that. I would have liked to pitch a few night games. Night ball would have been just the thing for me, with my high, fast one. I might have won a few more games. No one would ever have caught up with me, then."

It is probable that no one ever will equal Young's records of 510 games won and 16 seasons in which he won 20 or more games. He pitched three no-hit games, and one perfect contest, during his career.

Ladies' Softball Shows Good Performance

The Westmount team in the ladies' section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League showed an in and out performance this week when they first toppled the hitherto unbeaten LPOD team on Monday night 8-2 and then dropped a 15-13 decision to the CWAC No. 11 Company team, a second division outfit.

The No. 1 Wireless School took a commanding lead in the circuit when they downed the Lachine team 12-0 while most of the other teams were rained out during the week.

The Westmount team showed their best effort of the season when they handed the LPOD nine their defeat.

The local team had a commanding lead in their game with the No. 11 Company team but fell apart in the fifth and sixth frames when the army girls pushed over 12 runs.

The only scheduled game for the Westmount team this week is on Wednesday, July 5th, when the Westmount team play one of their infrequent away from home games. They travel up to the Wireless School where they take on the loop leaders.

First Sailboat Race For Today

The first sailboat and motorboat racing of the season will be held this afternoon at King George Park. Boys and girls with boats have been waiting for the water to be placed in the pond on the park so that they could get some racing underway.

As usual, ribbons will be awarded to winners, rewards going to first, second and third place boats. The races are held under the supervision of the recreation division of the parks department and are part of the recreation program planned by the city.

Races will be held each Friday afternoon throughout the summer with the starting time set for three o'clock each week.

Three Games Scheduled For Midget Softball

Three games are scheduled to be played in the midget section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League this week, the first one takes place tonight, when last year's champions, Fred DeJean's Orioles meet Steve Galley's Red Sox.

On Tuesday night the Red Sox visit Staynor playground for a game with Richard Lord's Tornados and on the following night the two Staynor clubs, Orioles and Tornados hook up.

All After Him

A group of soldiers were discussing the many things they were going to do when the war was over and they were discharged.

"First thing I'm gonna do," stated one, "is bust the first sergeant in the nose."

"Oh, yeah!" replied a comrade, "That, my friend, is what you think. You're gonna stand in line and take your turn — just like the rest of us!"

Fifty Nazi pilots knocked at the gates of heaven and sought admittance. St. Peter waved them back. "I'm sorry," he said, "but only six of you can come in."

"But there are fifty of us," the Nazis protested.

"Maybe," replied St. Peter; "but Field Marshal Goering's communiqué said that only six had been shot down."

With hundreds of mines strewn in the historic Danube, there's a great opening for a song entitled, "When We Blew Up the Beautiful Blue," or something.

Dodgers To Play LPOD In Senior Softball This Week

The senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League passed through a very quiet session last week, what with the fair and the rain, only four games being played and one of these a defaulted tilt. The No. 3 Training Command continued to dominate the "B" group in the league with another victory, this time over the winless No. 11 A.I.D., while the No. 1 Wireless School clung to the lead in the "A" group when they split a couple of tilts, taking one from the Provost Corps, 15-1 and then dropping one to the LPOD by an 8-3 count. The fourth game of the week went to the Navy, who copped this fixture without moving from their ship when the Ordnance Corps found out they could not field a team.

George Scully won his eighth game of the season when the No. 3 Command nine took the No. 11 A.I.D. outfit into camp 13-5. The group leaders took an early lead but almost lost it when Scully eased up in his hurling, but then they went on to win easily.

A big fourth inning when they scored four times proved the turning point for the LPOD in their game with the Wireless School. Extra base hits by Breard and Morgan paved the way for most of these runs.

The following games are scheduled for this week: On Monday night, July 3rd, two postponed games are slated to be played. The Dodgers will play LPOD and the Navy takes on the MT. Garage. Three games are booked for Wednesday, July 5th. At the park the Provost and Dodgers hook up and the MT. Garage play the LPOD while over at the barracks, the two winless clubs, No. 11 A.I.D. and Ordnance Corps play. Only two games are billed at present for Thursday night but another postponed tilt may be thrown in before the time comes. The two games scheduled are the Equipment Depot-Wireless game and the Command-Provost game at the barracks.

Higher Quota of Books For Servicemen Asked

With the invasion of Europe under way, renewed demands through the Department of National War Services at Ottawa have resulted in a four-fold increase in the Montreal quota of magazines for the armed forces overseas, said L. W. Townsend, president of the Montreal War Services Co-ordinating Council in an appeal yesterday for greater public contributions of reading matter to the Central Book and Magazine Depot.

The depot, which is a unit of the Co-ordinating Council, last year shipped more than 10,000 magazines a month to Canada's overseas forces. Today, the objective is 40,000 and, while the depot was able to meet this figure in May, a falling-off of contributions with the advent of summer will make it impossible to meet the quota for June, unless there is a substantial increase in donations this week.

Mr. Townsend said that, while the Central Book and Magazines Depot had a splendid record of achievement, having distributed nearly two million selected publications to the forces since the beginning of the war, he felt a good deal more could be done if people but knew the great urgency with which service men all over the world are demanding reading matter.

Seven Events Run Off At Park On Softball Field Day

The "Field Day" held last Friday night at Westmount Park for the players on the teams in the senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League proved very successful and seven events were run off during the evening.

While the number of competitors were not as large as expected, the competition was quite keen and held the interest of the large crowd of spectators throughout.

The No. 1 Wireless School, Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot and MT. Garage teams dominated the winners' circle and carried off the majority of the prizes, which were donated by the War Co-Ordinating Council.

A. Starcher, of the Wireless School, captured the first event, the fungo hitting affair, when he batted the ball farther than all the rest of the competitors, Starcher's distance was 220 feet, one foot farther than R. Heagle, of the L.P.O.D.

Heagle avenged his loss in the first event by capturing the ball throwing number, the Longue Pointer heaved the ball 244 feet.

Major Huff, of the L.P.O.D. team, proved to be the best sprinter of the lot and covered the bases in 9 3/5 seconds to win this event by 1/5 of a second from Sgt. Joe Richman, of the Wireless School.

Two players from the MT. Garage ran one-two in the accuracy throw from second base to the home-plate, J. Kavanagh took first place and G. Durocher, second place.

J. O. Smith, of the No. 11 A.I.D., proved to be the "dark horse" winner of the accuracy throw from the outfield while Pat Oss of the MT. Garage team came second in this event.

The novelty events with one man walking around the bases racing another man running around the sacks twice, proved exciting to the crowd but the walkers had it all their own way except Pat Oss who dropped a decision to the fleet Major Huff. Winners amongst the walkers were Marcel Dheere, Wireless School; A. Starcher, Wireless School; J. Kavanagh, MT. Garage; G. Durocher, MT. Garage.

The Wireless School relay team captured the team event when they ran the sacks backward and forward in the time of 56 4/5 seconds, 1/5 of a second better than the L.P.O.D. team.

Monarchs Take First Place In Junior Section

Dougie Alexander's Monarchs have taken a temporary hold on first place in the junior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League. The Monarchs have won their last three games and hold a half game lead over Bob Lord's Staynor nine.

The St. Andrew's team were on the receiving end of two more losses, suffering an 18-1 shellacking down at the Staynor diamond from the home team last Friday and then lost a last inning 8-7 game to the Monarchs on Tuesday night.

The St. Andrew's team outhit the Monarchs by a wide margin on Tuesday night at Westmount Park but could not come through with men on base. Kevin Kennedy and "Toots" Prevost, stars with Art Mann's champion Dodgers in the senior circuit last year, hit home runs for the Monarchs as they appeared in the game while home on furlough from service duties. Johnnie Peirson also crashed out a home run for the winners while Jim McCrory hit for the circuit on behalf of the losers.

Henry Trunski, right fielder for the St. Andrew's club, led both teams at bat with three hits.

The Staynor team will meet the St. Andrew's club at Westmount Park tonight in another scheduled game while on Tuesday evening the Staynor team will play the Monarchs at Westmount Park.

THE BOOK END

The Geography of the Peace, by Nicholas John Spykman, Harcourt, Brace, New York, $2.75. Edited by Helen R. Nicholl after the author's recent death, this book contains a concise, well-rounded presentation of the geopolitical viewpoint on world politics. Most liberals may disagree with the cold analysis and conclusions set forth by America's foremost authority in the field. Nevertheless, they will gain a firmer understanding of the motivations behind American and Allied diplomacy of this day as well of tomorrow, should the world again revert to power politics on a more grandiose scale during the post-war period.

Four Soccer Games For King George Park

Four games are down for play in the Westmount Municipal Soccer League for this week, with two of them slated to be played at King George Park.

Tomorrow afternoon the No. 1 Wireless School and the league leading Westmount Police play at King George Park while on Wednesday night the Police take on the Navy.

In the other games the No. 1 Wireless School play the Navy on McGill Campus on Tuesday evening, July 4th, and the N.D.G. Rovers travel out to Lachine on Wednesday, July 5th.

Saturday games at King George Park are scheduled to get underway at three o'clock while the evening affairs start at seven o'clock.

A Bit Late

At the village church it was the custom to wait until the squire arrived. But a visiting parson, unaware of this, began before the local worthy was in his seat.

"When the wicked man—" he read, when the verger broke in with a quite audible whisper:

"He hasn't come yet."

Both Effective

In an assembly of divines, the witty Archbishop Whately was once asked to define the difference between the English and the Irish clergy.

Replied the Archbishop: "When you are listening to an English preacher, you want to stay awake, and he won't let you; when you hear an Irish preacher, you want to sleep, and he won't let you."

"The law of gravity explains why people stay on the earth."

"How did they stay on before the law was passed?"

A "Black Market" in anything, from an automobile tire to a jar of marmalade, is bad medicine for a country. It may cause inflation and inflation would send prices skyrocketing so high that the average one of us would be left holding the bag —with nothing in it.

Countryside of Britain Duplicated in Townships

If you can't get what you want, get the next best thing to it—sound advice for the shopper and equally sound for the vacationist. And when the difference is practically negligible, as in the case of Quebec's Eastern Townships and many parts of the Old Country, it is quite natural that the Townships should have sprung into front-page prominence in the North American tourist picture.

The vacationist who in happier days found solace in the English Lake district, the Scottish Highlands, and other former vacation haunts, can soothe his nostalgia without taking leave of his own continental borders. For the Eastern Townships in Quebec's "Deep South" are as accurate a reproduction of the "bonny banks and braes" of Scotland as can be found this side of the Atlantic.

To really know the Townships the tourist must not stop at any half-way measures. He must see everything. He may have heard of the Townships' lofty mountains, gleaming lakes, and wooded valleys; pay a casual visit to the Townships and still not see any of these scenic highlights! The reason is this—The Eastern Townships are composed of two distinct types of scenery: sylvan and pastoral. And though the pastoral areas may lack the glamor of the "lake district" their good green acres are a joy to behold.

If the tourist should fall into a comfortable slumber en route to the Townships and chance to waken somewhere between Montreal and Farnham, he might justly believe he had boarded the wrong train! For this 43 mile area of prosperous farmlands, with its luxuriant shade trees, green hedges meadows and peacefully grazing cattle, might well have been lifted from many a section of Old Ontario; its people are descendants of the United Empire Loyalists who streamed northward across the border nearly two centuries ago.

As the train leaves Farnham, the passenger prepares himself to enjoy a panorama unrivalled in Quebec Province. For beyond this last outpost of the "pastoral Townships," the landscape undergoes a complete overhauling. The smiling farmlands to the west gradually give way to rolling green hills that increase in stature with every turn of the wheel.

LAURENTIANS WAIT VACATION THRONGS

With the closing of schools for the summer, hundreds of Montreal families will make for their summer homes in the oldest range of mountains in the world—the Laurentians. Long the mecca for American tourists, this famous range, with its large variety of interests for everyone, is only a few miles from the heart of Montreal, or an overnight journey by train from New York or Boston.

One of the finest touring regions in the Province of Quebec, this territory has often been referred to as the "Switzerland of Canada," because of the hundreds of sparkling lakes, streams set in green forests, and the glow of purple and crimson sunsets.

Just about 90 miles north of Montreal in the district around St. Jovite lies excellent hunting grounds. Lakes are filled with trout, and game still roams the hills. Yet there are modern hotels offering golf, riding, tennis, canoeing, swimming, hiking and other sports.

JOHN BRACKEN
And His Twenty Years IN MANITOBA

By TRACY S. LUDINGTON

(This is the fourth of a series of articles intended to acquaint Canadians with the work of John Bracken, leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, during his twenty years as Premier of Manitoba. In this article the development of the Bracken creed for Canada is noted, and the reader is introduced to the man who was Bracken's secretary for the major part of his reign in Manitoba.)

4.—BRACKEN CREED DEVELOPS

While by 1936 it was evident that the Bracken party was apparently to rule Manitoba for the lifetime of its remarkable leader, Mr. Bracken himself knew that in time he would have to resign. He realized only too well, with the blowup of the Rowell-Sirois report, that if he was to do for Agriculture in Canada what he considered necessary he could never do it provincially.

It might well be said here, and truthfully, that Mr. Bracken outgrew Manitoba, just as he had outgrown the agricultural college of which he was president when called to take up the reins of government in Manitoba.

From his early days on the farm, from his student days at an agricultural college, from his tours to agricultural colleges in the United States and from his posts in Alberta and Manitoba, John Bracken developed his creed, a creed that is the foundation of everything that he does today.

It is simply this — "make the farmer prosperous, and the rest of the country will take care of itself."

He reflected this policy in his advice to the people of Manitoba on his retirement when he spoke of a possible successor to head the government. "Choose a man with an agricultural background," he said, "See that the needs of agriculture are taken care of and the rest will fall naturally into its proper place."

Mr. Bracken originally took office among a group of adept politicians. They knew every trick in the game, yet he always gave the impression af an amateur, walking among professionals—an amateur who always walked off with the ball.

This talent was most noticeable in his handling of a caucus, a fact that is pointed out today in Manitoba by all who know him. Mr. Bracken would go into caucus, listen to all that was said, urge his fellow members to have their say, and then, when everyone else was finished, would sum up all that had taken place in a few well chosen words, and would come up with a studied solution, a solution, more often than not, that he had devised while they were talking, tempering it where necessary, to meet the divergent views.

It was perhaps in 1938 that John Bracken first reached the stature of a national figure. In the famous wheat conferences that year, between the experts of Canada and the United States, men of all shades of opinion, farmers, mortgage companies and bondholders met.

John Bracken told them: "Whatever your stake in the west is—its salvation and solvency rests in farm produce... if you can't get together and see that, you are only digging your own grave."

A Prophesy Is Made

It was coming from the last of these wheat conferences that a national wheat figure said to Locksley McNeil, then Mr. Bracken's secretary. "Mr. Bracken will be Prime Minister of Canada some day. After Mackenzie King is finished Canada will need a man, and I don't know where they could find a better."

McNeil, a slight, prematurely grey-haired young man, was sufficiently long attached to the Bracken staff to carry as long as he lives an admiration and respect for John Bracken.

I walked into a third-floor office of the Manitoba Legislature buildings in Winnipeg on a Monday morning in the month of March. At the other end of a large room, Mr. McNeil sat at a desk. It was heaped with papers and books.

After I was introduced to him I sought quickly in my mind for some opening phrase with which to catch the attention of this young man and force it onto the subject of his former leader.

As Mr. Bracken's secretary," I said, "you must have travelled around Manitoba quite a lot?"

Looking me clearly in the eye, and speaking with a characteristic slowness, he said: "I never made a trip anywhere as Mr. Bracken's secretary. As a matter of fact I never went anywhere at the expense of Mr. Bracken or of the province."

I was surprised and asked the "why" of this phenomenon that was as foreign to the usual political setup as possible.

The answer was simple. Mr. Bracken didn't feel that he needed a bodyguard. "Maybe he made a mistake in some ways," Mr. McNeil said, "perhaps someone should have gone along to take some of the burden off his shoulders, but he would never stand for it. Perhaps it was his early training, he was one to watch the dollars—he never spent one on me in travelling expenses."

Of the medals awarded by the Boy Scouts Association during 1943, no less than 13 were for saving life from drowning or other hazards.

In a Georgia town a judge ruled that a man was right in spanking his wife. That town should grow.

WEAR IT ON YOUR ARM

Yes, we need your help . . . and need it badly.

This is the biggest job we have ever tackled! Everything depends upon Victory.

Canada's Army needs volunteers NOW. And, that means you and you and you!

Wear Canada's Badge of Honour on your arm. You'll be proud of it, so will your friends.

Every man who is able has got to do his bit!

Maybe you don't think this means you . . . that it's a job for the other fellow.

If you do, you're wrong. It's your war, too . . . a war for every man who is a man . . . for everyone who has a stake in Canada.

Yes, this means you all right and we need you now for the months of intensive training to make you fighting-fit. We did it before and we can do it again . . . but we need your help.
