IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

The Queen's Speech—The Admiralty—The Crucifix in Quebec—The Trade Depression.

LONDON, August 11.—Lord Salisbury has drafted the Queen's speech proroguing Parliament. His aim is to make it a manifesto in favor of the Conservatives. The speech will refer to the quietude of Ireland without coercion, the successful issue of the Egyptian loan, the revival of peaceful relations and friendly alliances with foreign powers and the activity of legislation since the Tories came into office, as matters for national congratulation.

THE TELEGRAPH CONFERENCE.

Opening of the Sessions at Berlin—The Propositions Before the Convention.

BERLIN, August 11.—The International Telegraph conference opened its sessions today. Dr. Stephen, Imperial Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, was chosen president. The rules and procedure observed at the International Telegraph conference in London were adopted. Two committees were appointed, one to consider the various propositions placed before the convention respecting telegraph tariffs and the other on technical questions connected with the working of telegraphs. It was found on the assemblage of the conference that the mass of business which has been placed before the body for discussion will make necessary a session of from four to six weeks. To-day papers were read bearing on the proposal to compile statistics relative to electrical measurements of the effects of atmospheric currents and thunderstorms. It is believed that the voting in the conference on Prince Bismarck's proposition to establish a uniform tariff for all Europe on messages passing from country to country of four or five cents a word will be very close. The Eastern Telegraph Company strongly opposes the proposal on the ground that the company's receipts would be seriously diminished if it had to transmit messages to and from the borders of Europe for anything like five cents a word.

THE AFGHAN QUESTION.

Afghans Anxious to Avoid a Conflict—Russian Preparations—Camp of Exercise.

LONDON, August 11.—The Times publishes a letter from Meshed, Persia, stating that the Afghans are acting in such a way as to give the Russians no possible excuse to make any attack. The Ameer's troops do not pass the frontier which Russia admits is Afghan. They refrain from moving their troops toward Russian positions and even from strengthening their own outposts. The excitement among Turcomans which was recently attributed to the alleged brutality of Russian soldiery towards the native women is really due to the warlike preparations which Russia is making throughout Turcoman territory. Cholera and dysentery are causing great mortality among the Russians on the Afghan frontier, especially at Penjdeh. Twenty-eight thousand Russian infantry and 16,000 cavalry are now in Transcaspian territory.

SIMLA, August 11.—A camp exercise in which 50,000 troops will participate will be held at Lahore, probably at Christmas. The Indian Government is earnestly considering the question of the reorganization of the native army.

A Persian contractor from Merv states that two Persians in the Russian service, accompanied by several Afghans, have gone to Herat to confer with Ayoub Khan's partisans and report upon the state of the country. General Komaroff frequently passes to and fro between Penjdeh and Merv. Active military preparations continue.

INSURANCE FRAUDS.

Attempt to Defraud Several Companies—A Spurious Body Buried.

PATERSON, N. J., August 11.—Last Winter Louis Bauer, an employé of the Equitable Insurance Co. in New York, insured the life of his wife for $58,000 in four companies. Mrs. Bauer, as alleged, died last June and her body was removed to Long Island for burial. Bauer collected $25,000 insurance from the Equitable and the New York Life companies, but the other two companies refused to pay and started an investigation. A detective claims to have found evidence that either Mrs. Bauer did not die and a dead body was buried in her name or else a healthy woman was insured in her name while Mrs. Bauer was mortally ill. There are also hints of foul play. The body was exhumed to-day and examined by several local physicians and officials of Paterson, N. J. Upon being measured, the body was found to be six inches shorter than Mrs. Bauer's height when she was alive. One of the physicians who had examined Mrs. Bauer when the applications for insurance were put in, said that Mrs. Bauer had a pug nose and light hair, while the corpse had a Grecian nose and dark hair. The intestines were removed and sealed up. The officials refused to give the result of the examination until they shall have made a more careful investigation. The body was reinterred.

THE EMPERORS' MEETING.

Preparations for the Meeting Between the Czar and the Emperors of Austria and Germany.

BERLIN, August 11.—The National Gazette, says Prince Dolgorouki, aide-de-camp to the Czar, has gone to Gastein to arrange for a meeting between the Emperor William and the Czar, after the meeting of the latter and the Emperor Francis Joseph at Kremsin. Gen. Possieb, Minister of Communications, is already at Warsaw making preparations for the Czar's visit to the Emperor of Austria and the Emperor of Germany. The army is being mobilized to occupy the different lines of railway to be traversed by the Czar and to guard bridges, tunnels and crossings. The great precautions taken last year to protect the Czar against outrage by Nihilists are being repeated on a larger scale, owing to the authorities having received information that the Nihilists in Europe have recently shown great activity and have plenty of money.

ALFONSO'S DANGER.

Discovery of a Plot to Assassinate the King of Spain.

LONDON, August 11.—Paul Angulo and other Spanish refugees in London are under surveillance, the Spanish Government having received information that a plot to assassinate King Alfonso has been arranged in England and that emissaries have left England via France for the Spanish frontier. The Madrid Government is considering whether or not to demand the surrender of Angulo on the charge of murder of General Prim. All the leading republicans including Castelar, Salmeron, Zorilla and Margall declare that they have no sympathy with the Angulo party. The Globe, Castelar's organ, declares that Angulo should be classed among common criminals, and the Progresso demands that he be brought to justice.

LAKE MISTASSINI.

Its Survey Said to Have Been Completed by Mr. Low.

QUEBEC, August 11.—News has reached Quebec of the arrival of a special courier at Lake St. John with the official report of Mr. Low, the officer now in charge of the Mistassini exploring and surveying expedition, to his departmental head, Professor Selwyn, of the Geological Survey, conveying the intelligence that when this courier left, Mr. Low was on the point of starting for Rupert's House, on James Bay, having completed his survey of the Great Lake, whose real size has so long been shrouded in mystery. It is said to have leaked out, too, that in this report Mr. Low claims to have established that the extreme length of Great Mistassini is only 120 miles, and average breadth only twenty. If this be correct, it is safe to say that the accuracy of Mr. Low's claim will be at once challenged, conflicting as it does so strangely with the positive statement of Mr. Frank Bignell that he navigated it last year for 120 miles, and even then had not reached what might be termed the body of the lake, as it evidently went on widening, and he could see nothing before him but sky and water, as well as with the equally emphatic assertion of a former factor of the Hudsons' Bay Company at Mistassini post, an intelligent and reliable Scotchman, who affirms that he navigated it for 150 miles, and then saw nothing to warrant him in the belief that he was nearer the end, but rather the contrary. In fact it is said that every one competent to form anything like an authoritative opinion on the subject ridicules the idea that Mr. Low saw the end of great Mistassini. The general impression is that he has mistaken the bottom of some one of the many deep bays with which Mistassini's coast line is imbedded for the real extremity of that sheet of water, and this view is to some extent confirmed by the absurd shortness of the time within which he seems to claim to have completed his survey, judging from the date when the ice was reported to have broken up last Spring, and the date when his messenger must have left Mistassini for Lake St. John.

IMPRISONED BY FOUL GAS.

Terrible Accident in a Pennsylvania Mine—Many Lives Lost.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 11.—A mine of the West End Coal Company, operated by Conyngham, Teasdale & Co. at Mocanoque was the scene of a peculiar and terrible accident this morning. Just before the night shift went off duty the fan broke. The boss knew of the accident and so did the men on the day-shift before they entered the mine, but notwithstanding this they went into the mine. There were about thirty in all, and they were supplied with safety lamps, as it was well known the gas would accumulate. About seventy-five men were in the mine when work began. The workmen who were repairing the fan were the first who were overcome with gas and in about an hour later the same fate happened to many of the miners in the workings. Before the men fairly realized the danger more than twenty became unconscious. Those who could then escape did so. Superintendent John Teasdale, with a corps of men as a relief, went down the mine to assist them in making their escape, and after being in the mine half an hour Teasdale and several of his men were overpowered by the foul gas and were with difficulty rescued. Others went down and in the face of immense difficulties, and in spite of being continually overpowered with gas, got all out but ten. Three of those were dead and the others are beyond doubt dead. Dr. Hughes, of Shickshinney, who went down the mine to assist the dying men, was overcome, and was saved with difficulty. He was brought to the surface in a senseless condition. At 2 p. m., six hours after the accident occurred, Superintendent John Teasdale was still unconscious.

OBITUARY.

Right Hon. Lord Houghton.

LONDON, August 11.—Lord Houghton, the famous poet and critic, is dead, aged 76 years.

[The Right Hon. Richard Monckton Milnes, D. C. L., F. R. S., was born June 19, 1809, being the only son of Robert Pemberton Milnes, of Yorkshire. He graduated M. A. at Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1831, was elected M. P. for Pontefract in 1837, and retained the seat until his elevation to the peerage in 1863. He entered Parliament as a follower of Sir Robert Peel, whom he supported in his repeal of the corn laws, but afterwards joined the party of Lord John Russell. He refused to become a member of Lord Palmerston's ministry, but gave it his entire support. His attention in Parliament was mainly directed to foreign affairs and the reform of British penal institutes. He brought in the first measure for the establishment of juvenile reformatories and was president of several such institutions. He was also president of the Newspaper Press fund, of which he was a very strong supporter. In 1873, he presided over the Norwich meeting of the Social Science congress and in 1881 received the nomination of President of the London library, vacant by the death of Mr. Thomas Carlyle. Among his many writings the best known were "Poems of Many Years," "Palm Leaves," "One Tract More" (in the Oxford controversy of "Tracts for the Times")-and the "Real Union of England and Ireland," advocating concurrent endowment of the Catholic and Protestant churches. His last work was "Monographs, Personal and Social."]

AWFULLY SUDDEN DEATH.

A Prominent Toronto Merchant Expires After Making a Speech.

TORONTO, August 11.—An awfully sudden death occurred in the City Hall this afternoon. A meeting of the Board of Works was being held to hear the views of representatives of the railway companies and property owners interested as to the proposed widening of the Esplanade. P. D. Conger, the well known coal merchant, as a property owner briefly spoke against the proposition and had just sat down, after concluding his remarks, beside General Superintendent Whyte, of the Canadian Pacific, when he was observed to fall sideways, clutching at Mr. Whyte's shoulder. The latter seized him and found he was unconscious and breathing heavily. He was placed in a recumbent position on the floor and Dr. Canniff, medical health officer, promptly summoned. All the efforts of the doctor and bystanders to revive the patient were unavailing, and he died about eight minutes after he was attacked. The affair created a profound sensation, and the meeting was brought to an abrupt termination. The body was removed to the deceased's residence. Several members of deceased's family are in Europe and the remainder at Niagara, who have been informed of the sad occurrence. Deceased was universally respected; he was about fifty years of age. Heart disease is supposed to be the cause of his death.

RIVER DU LOUP.

Address to Sir Hector Langevin—Movements of Politicians.

RIVER DU LOUP, Que., August 11.—A large demonstration took place last night in Jarvis hall, over 300 persons being present, when Mayor Hudon presented an address to Sir Hector Langevin. The latter, after thanking the mayor and the electors of Fraserville, spoke highly of the member for this county, Dr. Grandbois, saying that greatly through his efforts a subsidy was voted by the Federal House for the River du Loup & Woodstock railway in addition to that already voted by the local Government, and spoke at length on the chain of railway from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans, of which this River du Loup & Woodstock line would be a link. After Sir Hector's speech the assembly broke up and Sir Hector drove to Hon. Thos. McGreevy's house, where he stayed until to-day, when he left for Rimouski.

Hon. A. P. Caron left this morning for Quebec and Ottawa.

Hon. Mr. Mercier is here to-day, and it is reported a Liberal caucus will be held this evening.

GENERAL BARRIOS.

What One of the South American Commissioners Thinks of Him.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—W. E. Curtis, of the South American commissioners, has returned, and said to-day: "Of all men we met in our visit to the countries south of the United States, Gen. Barrios, late president of Guatemala, was by far the greatest. He was as great in his way as Grant or Napoleon. He possessed all the natural gifts which tended to make a great leader, but he was without the advantages of education." At their meeting Barrios said: "When you go back tell your people I am with them and intend to become one of them after I have accomplished the reunion of the Central American states. I intend to go to New York, to reside there and become a citizen." The night before Barrios was killed a grand celebration was held in the Opera house in his honor. The next morning he left at 4 o'clock for the war and was killed in the first battle. He died bravely.

Errors of Youth.

SUFFERERS FROM Nervous Debility, Youthful Indiscretions, Lost Manhood, BE YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN!

Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right one. Notwithstanding the many valuable remedies that medical science has produced for the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effect a cure. During our extensive college and hospital practice we have experimented with and discovered new and concentrated remedies. The accompanying prescription is offered as a certain and speedy cure, as hundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure ingredients must be used in the preparation of this prescription.

℞—Cocain (from Erythroxylon coca) ½ drachm.
Jerubebin, ½ drachm.
Helonias Dioica, ½ drachm.
Gelsemin, 8 grains.
Ext. ignatia amaræ (alcoholic), 2 grains
Ext. leptandra, 2 scruples.
Glycerine, q. s. Mix.

Make 60 pills. Take 1 pill at 5 p. m., and another on going to bed. In some cases it will be necessary for the patient to take two pills at bedtime, making the number three a day. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, and especially in those cases resulting from imprudence. The recuperative powers of this restorative are truly astonishing, and its use continued for a short time changes the languid, debilitated, nerveless condition to one of renewed life and vigor.

As we are constantly in receipt of letters of inquiry relative to this remedy, we would say to those who would prefer to obtain it of us, by remitting $1, a securely sealed package containing 60 pills, carefully compounded, will be sent by return mail from our private laboratory, or we will furnish 6 packages, which will cure most cases, for $5.

OUT OF TOWN.

Orders may be left at the STAR office, 158 St. James street, for THE STAR to be sent to the seaside or other out of town addresses

THE need of a public prosecutor was never more strikingly illustrated than in the case of the scoundrel arrested for a brutal assault on a little girl near the Wheel House, of the City Water Works. He was discharged because the father of the child refused to prosecute. He is said to have admitted that it cost him $250 to get out of the scrape. If the facts are as reported there has been a gross miscarriage of justice.

DETAILS have come to hand of the performance of an "Oxford eight" in crossing the English Channel in a boat of the type used in practice for racing (although considerably heavier than the regular racing craft). The feat is unprecedented so far as the character of the boat used is concerned. Many people have rowed across the Channel, but the Oxford crew have distinguished themselves by crossing in a boat peculiarly unsuitable for the task. The sea was generally smooth, but the intense heat disabled two of the rowers. It took four hours and twenty-five minutes to row from Dover to Calais, and the distance covered was about twenty-seven miles. The boat was accompanied by a tug.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Chicago Morning News thinks it disgraceful that the author of the "School for Scandal" should hold the position of general in the United States army! What must be the feelings of the British army, whose chief pride is the senility of its generals, on learning that the U. S. army has a general, who was old enough 107 years ago to write a comedy which promises to be popular 107 years hence! What must be the feelings of General Phil Sheridan at being suspected by some noodle of writing the "School for Scandal!" And what the feelings of the shade of Richard Brinsley Sheridan at the "School for Scandal" being pronounced indelicate by a critic who believes the author to be an American general!

THE Toronto Globe's "notes from Ottawa" do contain fearful rubbish. For example: "Riel, who is now on trial, is the same Riel whom the Tory organs and orators have for twelve years been describing as a hero, a patriot, and a champion of liberty." It strikes us that whether a man is "the same man" he was twelve years ago, depends somewhat upon what he has done in the interval. To say that Riel to-day, with the guilt of a second rebellion, tenfold more serious than the first, on his head, is the same man that he was before he had incurred that guilt, is worthy only of the hardened party scribe, but not particularly creditable even to him. Again, we ask the public to note what the party journals think of their intelligence.

PHILADELPHIA has set a good example to other large cities in the way of sanitary precautions. In that city on January 1st a system of house to house inspection was commenced, and up to July 30th the inspectors had visited 45,401 houses, and discovered 19,053 nuisances among them, nearly 16,000 of which were abated as the result of the inspection. The fear of cholera originated the inspection, and as cholera has not come to this continent thoughtless people may regard the special efforts made as wasted. But if cholera never comes, Philadelphia will be all the better for the inspection, and if cholera should come, the inspection may induce it to give Philadelphia a wide berth. Cholera would probably be starved out in Philadelphia while it would thrive in a nice dirty city like Montreal.

IT appears that it was only owing to an oversight that Prince Henry of Battenberg was not made an Englishman (as far as Parliament could confer that dignity upon him) before his marriage. As soon as the omission was discovered, a bill to naturalize His Royal Highness was rushed through three readings in both Houses, the Royal assent was announced before the Lords had reached a third reading, and the Prince took the oath of allegiance—all in a single day. After this, who can say that there is anything tedious about British legislation, when speed is required in the vital interests of the nation? There was a little quizzing in the House of Commons over the extraordinary haste displayed by the Government in the matter, but the only explanation vouchsafed was from the Chancellor of the Exchequer, who said, "I believe the fact is that this really ought to have been done before."

THE VALUE OF MONTREAL'S EARLY CLOSING "MOVEMENT."

The State of New York spends $12,000,000 annually on the public schools. It has also had for some years past a compulsory school law; yet a recent official report declares the compulsory law to be a dead letter, and the effect of the educational system as a whole to fall very far short of meeting the actual requirements of the community. The average attendance at all the schools of the State is less than half the school population. Thousands of children wholly uneducated are working in factories. Among the factory children a very low condition of morals is said to prevail. Their working day is about eleven hours in length. The report calls for a vigorous enforcement of the compulsory law, and for the introduction of a factory law similar to that prevailing in Massachusetts.

The reliance is upon legal enactment. It will some day perhaps become evident that, through the habit of constantly having recourse to legislation when things go wrong, and to more legislation when the first fails, and to still more when the second is found to be equally abortive, people are gradually losing all power of self-help. Government help is not self-help in the true sense of the term, even though the Government may be a "popular" one. The community is the weaker through everything the Government does for it, which it could have done by spontaneous effort.

SPLENDID OPENING FOR FREE-TRADERS.

We are in receipt of a circular signed by a notary and real estate agent of St. Johns, Que., offering two very desirable farms for sale. One of them is situated at Lacolle within two and a half miles of the United States boundary line. On this farm the circular assures all "active farmers and pushing traders," a row of buildings, all new, has been erected specially for trade purposes. It adds

"The stand is well known to the Americans, and all kinds of goods, such as liquor, butter, horses, grain, hay, etc., find an easy channel into the States at all times. A good and active man can clear his $100 a day—or a night.

The italics are not ours, so there is no impropriety in our observing that the word "night" is very properly italicized. The Canadian and American professional "free-traders" who live along the frontier doubtless do more business by night than by day. The sale of the farm marks, we presume, the conversion of a respectable, that is to say, prosperous smuggler to protectionist principles, because the vendor is evidently making a tremendous sacrifice. The buildings erected specially for trade purposes are new, and cost originally $15,000, and although this active farmer and pushing trader is making $31,300 a year (or $36,500 if he works on Sundays) he offers to sell the buildings and the farm for half the original cost. The average profits of the farm are only estimated at $1000 a year, and the circular saith not what it originally cost, but $7500 would be a ridiculously low figure for the building specially erected for trade purposes. Perhaps the vendor has gone to open a similar business two and a half miles the other side of the line to supply such Canadians as have a taste for shopping by moonlight.

FAITH AS A MEDICINE.

On Monday we published a report of a "miracle" alleged to have been wrought at Ste. Anne de Beaupré and of a subsequent investigation into the circumstances of the case. Few people consider such a subject worth investigating; a great many are ready to pronounce any "miracle" reported a fraud or a delusion, and a great many are ready to accept as miraculous almost any cure that is reported from Ste. Anne de Beaupré. The Roman Catholic clergy seldom, if ever, endorse any of these miracles in particular. So far from considering the subject unworthy of investigation we consider it most desirable that as many of the Ste. Anne de Beaupré cases as possible should be scientifically investigated; not only the cures, but the failures; for the latter may be instructive as well as the former. The doctor who examined the lad Fiset expressed the opinion that at the shrine, Fiset becoming convinced that he was cured obtained the confidence the want of which alone prevented him from walking, and that the influence of his mind upon his body was strong enough to temporarily stop the suppuration from his sores. In this there is no evidence of miraculous intervention on the lad's behalf. No supernatural explanation is called for in this case because it is explainable on purely natural grounds. To deny the influence of the mind upon the body would be scientific heresy. It is universally admitted; and we suggest that the Ste. Anne de Beaupré cases should be investigated scientifically, only because the records of these cases would furnish exceptional opportunities for comparisons which would tend to show the possibilities and the limits of the curative influence of the mind upon the body. The pilgrims have great faith; they strongly believe that they are going to be cured—that they are cured. Even in a case like that of Fiset, which is manifestly a very partial cure, the pilgrim leaves his crutches at the shrine and telegraphs to his friends, "I am perfectly cured." Whether it is probable that miracles are performed in order to effect partial or uncertain cures, is not a question for the doctors; is not a subject for scientific investigation.

RIEL'S CASE.

The meetings which are being held in the province with a view to securing the commutation of the sentence passed upon Riel offer very wide contrasts in logic and utterance. Some, like that held in St. Sauveur, on Sunday, are of the most foolish and dangerous kind. At that meeting resolutions were passed directly hinting that French Canadians justified Riel's proceedngs, and would not suffer him to bhurt.

Others of these meetings, like that held at Lachine on Monday night, are meetings with which true Canadians of whatever speech—not Canadians of Dr. Dion's stamp—can sympathise, for they are the outcome of a generous pity for the blood relations of a great section of our common nationality. At this meeting Mr. Girouard, M. P. for Jacques Cartier, and Mr. Royal, M. P. for Provencher, Manitoba, were the principal speakers. These did honor to themselves by the reasonable, moderate and patriotic tone which they gave to the meeting, and which will tell more effectively at Ottawa and far more effectively on the country at large than the infantile frothings of such meetings as that of St. Sauveur.

Mr. Girouard stated that he did not regard Riel as of sound mind, nor as responsible altogether for his acts, and he submitted for signature a petition to the Government which, after setting forth the simple truth, that the rebellion was a folly, asked for the appointment of a medical commission to examine into Riel's sanity. Mr. Royal was more pronounced. He is reported as follows:

The late trouble had been compared by some people with the rebellion of 1837, but he considered that there was no comparison between them. While he thought the men of 1837 had reason for the stand they took he could not see that the half-breeds were justified in taking up arms. He knew Riel and he knew most of the people who took part with him in the rebellion, and was convinced that they were led into error by Riel and that he was responsible for leading them into trouble. He was quite satisfied that Riel was insane and that all his actions in the North-West proved this. Being under this impression he did not wish to see him wronged.

It can not be too plainly understood that any attempt to secure sympathy or help for Riel on the ground of justification of his doings will not only seal his fate, but will raise a storm which will shake Canada from end to end. There is no justification for Riel. The pleas which may save him are two; first, that he is not sane, and second that capital punishment for political offence is inhuman. In Riel's case the second consideration is weakened by the remembrance of 1870, and if Canadians generally were satisfied as to his measure of accountability mentally, we scarcely think that he could escape. As to this accountability, if Riel is sane, surely no Canadian wishes him to escape from the consequences of his actions; if he is insane, surely no Canadian wishes him to suffer the penalty of death.

All Canadians are in a position more or less to form their own opinion of Riel's sanity, but if those who feel for him can show reason why a medical commission should throw additional light on his case, and will not merely be subject to the same gross injustice and abuse from one side or the other as the Court which tried him, Canadians generally will be able to join in the plea for a medical commission.

THE GAS COMPANY'S COMMITTEE.

Yesterday at the meeting of the Light Committee a resolution of Council was read requesting the committee to consider the question of lighting the streets of the city by electricity. The Gas Company's faithful watch dogs immediately commenced to bark. Alderman Rainville suggested that the consideration of the question should be postponed because it would take six months to consider it, a truly remarkable reason for postponing the commencement of such an arduous task. Alderman Fairbairn having suggested that a few streets be lighted by electricity by way of experiment, Alderman J. C. Wilson promptly demonstrated that he did not require six months or six seconds to dispose of a question of such importance to the city—and the Gas Company. He declared that there was no necessity for making the experiment, because he knew what the gas would cost and what the electric light would cost before making the experiment. Alderman Wilson's knowledge may satisfy his own vanity and may satisfy the Gas Company, but it will not satisfy the citizens and it ought not to satisfy the Council. He pretends that his knowledge is based upon the experience of others, but when the gas contract was passed nobody displayed more contempt for the experience of others than Alderman J. C. Wilson. All the experience went to show that gas could be sold at a fair profit in Montreal for a dollar a thousand feet, but it did not prevent the chairman of the Light Committee from working strenuously to secure the contract for the Montreal Gas Company at $1.50 per thousand. Perhaps his experience taught him that it was better for the citizens to pay a dollar and a half for their gas than a dollar. Certainly the more one pays for a thing the more one values it as a general rule.

How we ought to value Alderman J. C. Wilson's gas!

Perhaps after all it would be better to postpone the consideration of the question until after next March, because there is not the slightest chance of the question being fairly dealt with by the Light Committee as at present constituted. By that time the committee may have a new chairman and by that time the appeal of Ald. Tansey against the judgment unseating him may be disposed of. And remembering that this gentleman was elected by voters qualified by the foreman of the Montreal Gas Company it is altogether probable that his "experience" may lead him to the same conclusions as Ald. J. C. Wilson on the electric light question. When the contract was under discussion the aldermen who favored it denied that they were creating a monopoly in the light supply on the ground that the electric light would soon come into active competition with gas. Now that they have prevented any other gas company from competing with the Montreal Gas Company for ten years, they will do their best to prevent the electric light from coming into the field. Why not go a step further and make it felony to use candles or coal oil in Montreal?

Before the Council's suggestion is "burked" we would commend to the notice of the aldermen the facilities of lighting the city with electricity which will be afforded by the Water Department's New Inland Cut. Half a million dollars has been spent on this already, and in a few years' time it will be necessary to complete it in order to supply the city with water. When completed it will not only supply the city with all the water it will want for many years to come, but Winter and Summer it will afford power enough to light the whole city by electricity. There is perhaps no city in the world more favorably situated for lighting by electricity than Montreal.

GABRIEL DUMONT'S SCHEME.

To Organize a Force of Dare-Devils in Montana, Make a Dash on Regina and Release Riel.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

ST. PAUL, August 12.—A despatch from Fort Benton says: "There have been many queries regarding the continuous stay in this neighborhood of Dumont and Dumais, lately of Riel's force. It is understood they were trying to make arrangements with the authorities at Washington for a tract of land for their half-breed brethren. Yesterday, however, it was rumored that Dumont's real mission here was to organize a force of dare devils to make a dash on Regina and release Riel."

THE ODDFELLOWS.

A Grand Encampment of Ontario in Session at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, August 11.—The Grand Encampment of Ontario I. O. O. F. assembled this morning in the Oddfellows' hall. There was a large attendance of representatives. Grand Patriarch Joseph Oliver, in making his annual report, said that sixteen years ago the Grand encampment was instituted in Hamilton. At the time they only had six encampments and a total membership of 157; to-day they had representatives from fifty-eight encampments representing a membership of 2600. A new encampment has been instituted during the year, and the order is in a very prosperous condition. In his report Grand Scribe M. E. Dawson, says: "I closed the books December 31, 1884. At that time the encampment had 2587 members. During the year $830 was the total amount of relief paid, while $3 848 was the total revenue. We are out of debt, and we are able to present about $250 more cash on hand than in any previous year. Total cash on hand, $804. The moneys received from January 1 to July 31st. 1885, amounted to $1328.

RIEL'S FAMILY.

His Wife Prostrated and His Mother Refusing All Food—Efforts to Save Him.

WINNIPEG, Man., August 10.—Riel's wife has been prostrated ever since hearing of her husband's sentence. At one time it was feared she would die, but latterly she has slightly rallied. Riel's mother and family, being visited were found grief stricken. The poor old mother of seventy has refused almost all food since she heard of her son's sentence. They all expect he will be hanged, and offer prayers daily for his safe conduct to heaven. There is an opinion here that his lawyers did not exert all their powers in conducting his case. Archbishop Tache and a number of influential Frenchmen are exerting their influence to save Riel from the gallows. This is said to be in consequence of Riel's renunciation of his conversion to Protestantism.

CONSOLIDATION.

BOSTON, August 12.—The consolidation of the Brush, Weston and Merchants' Electric Light Companies has been consummated.

GOOD EFFECT OF THE SCOTT LAW.

CINCINNATI, August 12.—Statistics show that since the Scott law has gone into effect the number of saloons in the state has been reduced 50 per cent.

THE CUBAN BANDITS.

HAVANA, August 11.—Col. Angel Roderiguez, of the party of Limbano Sanchez, has been shot. Six bandits belonging to the party of Torre Jimenez, of Matanzas, have been captured here while negotiating for an outward passage.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

LOUISVILLE, August 12.—Derrick Paughern, a wealthy farmer of Oregon township, Ind., was taken ill several days ago of pneumonia. On Saturday evening the physicians pronounced him dead, and arrangements were being made to prepare the remains for the coffin when the corpse started up in bed, and asked for a glass of water. In a short time Paughera breathed freely and is now out of danger.

DISCHARGING BOYS FROM THE COLLIERIES.

ASHLAND, Pa., August 12.—Over 4000 boys have been discharged from the collieries in the Schuylkill region since August 1st, in pursuance of the new law prohibiting the employment of boys at mines under 14 years of age. Their places are being filled with Hungarians and Polanders. Over 10,000 boys will be discharged in Luzerne, Schuylkill, Carbon and Northumberland counties.

ANTIPODEAN SYMPATHY.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., August 12.—A public meeting, held here to take action in connection with the death of General Grant, was attended by the Governor and many other prominent men. Resolutions were presented expressing sympathy with the American people in their loss and condolence with the Grant family, and unanimously adopted.

NEW YORK, August 12.—The interior of Grant's tomb is rapidly filling up with flowers. Between 3000 and 4000 people visited the park yesterday.

A Brute Escapes.

On Sunday morning, a young man, 22 years of age, attempted an assault on a girl 13 years of age, on the embankment near the wheel house of the city water works. It appears two daughters of a man residing on Wellington street, Point St. Charles, aged 13 and 7 years, went for a walk to the wheel house, when they were accosted by the young ruffian. After a short conversation he attempted the assault. The children screamed for help, which attracted the attention of three men, who went to their assistance. The man ran away, but, after a long chase, was captured and handed over to an officer from the St. Gabriel police station. He was detained there until noon on Monday, when the Magistrate of the village thought it better to have him taken before one of the city Magistrates. He was brought before the Police Magistrate and pleaded not guilty. The father of the girl declined to prosecute, and the prisoner was discharged. The same evening he went to the St. Gabriel station to get a knife which had been taken from him, when, it is said, he boasted he had got out of the affair for two hundred and fifty dollars.

The affair is the talk of Point St. Charles, and the people complain because the young villain was not punished.

A Mean Grocer.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—While passing down St. Lawrence street this morning, I was surprised to find one grocer's store open on the west side, while all the others were closed and had given their clerks a day at the picnic at Otterburn Park.

Now, sir, don't you think this is very mean on the part of the employer against those who have made no small sacrifice in giving up their business for a whole day, just because he knows his takings will be very large on that account? I should like to see that no person will patronize him after having acted so mean a part against his fellow grocers.

Yours,

HONESTY.

A Sad Case of Poisoning

is that of any man or woman afflicted with disease or derangement of the liver, resulting in poisonous accumulations in the blood, scrofulous affections, sick-headaches and diseases of the kidneys, lungs or heart. These troubles can be cured only by going to the primary cause, and putting the liver in a healthy condition. To accomplish this result speedily and effectually nothing has proved itself so efficacious as Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which has never failed to do the work claimed for it, and never will.

Evangelist Moody is seriously ill, and unable to begin the proposed revival campaign.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills, aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress, but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

The cotton crop of Georgia is in the best condition known for years, and the yield will be much above the best average of the past.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, etc., should try them.

A Methodist conference in Georgia has forbidden church members in its jurisdiction to attend base ball matches.

"G For the Gimlet."

A carpenter entered a jewellery store the other day to buy a scarf-pin and expressed the wish to have one bearing the emblems of his trade. Various pins of various sorts were exhibited by the jeweller, until, after a while, the eye of the carpenter rested on a masonic pin, square and compass and letter G. "There that's what I want," said the carpenter, pointing towards the pin. "Yes, but that's a masonic emblem, you know," replied the salesman. "No matter," replied the other; "It's just what I want. There's the square and compass and G for the gimlet. I'll take that."

LONDON TOPICS.

Opening of the Grouse Shooting Season—The Death of Lord Houghton—Lord Wolseley's New Dignity—The March of Cholera.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, August 12.—To-day is famous, the 12th of August opening the grouse shooting season. Probably two-thirds of the members of Parliament are in Scotland. Many left for the north last night. It is hardly respectable for any one of social eminence to be seen in London now. The prospects of the sport are said to be unusually good, but it is certain that people grow more inquisitive each year about the seven millions acres in Scotland alone devoted to this "Sport of Kings."

LORD HOUGHTON'S DEATH.

Lord Houghton's death was very sudden. He was at the Cable dinner on Wednesday in his usual condition. After the dinner I saw him in the lobby of the House of Lords two or three days ago. He deserves the kind recollection of America for being, with the exception of the Duke of Argyle, the only peer in England who sympathized strongly and supported the north during the war. He also took part in that great meeting at St. James Hall on the death of President Lincoln. It was called on twenty-four hours' notice and was one of the most remarkable meetings ever held in England. His epitaph in men's mouths is that "a kinder heart never beat." His library is the richest in England, perhaps in Europe, in certain fields of literature not commonly sought after or mentioned. If it comes to the market it will cause peculiar excitement.

LORD WOLSELEY'S NEW DIGNITY.

Lord Wolseley's new dignity as viscount, just announced, is unpopular. It is also felt to be ungracious that the Government postponed the vote of thanks to the troops till the end of the session and an empty house.

THE CHOLERA.

The cholera alarm is growing here. There was a genuine case at Bristol. It is coming through the North of France. There have been over fifty thousand deaths in Spain so far.

RAILWAY MAGNATES.

C. P. R. Officials on a Tour of Inspection—The Crops in Manitoba.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, August 12.—Messrs. W. C. Van Horne, Vice-President, and Wm. Whyte, General Superintendent of the Eastern and Ontario division of the Canadian Pacific railway, were in the city yesterday on business connected with the proposed changes on the esplanade. During the day Mr. Van Horne received the following telegram from Mr. John M. Egan, General Superintendent of the Western division of the road:—

"WINNIPEG, August 10.—From the crop reports received to-day the most favorable results may be expected. Barley is now being harvested and haying about finished. The root crops are good. Wheat is heading out finely and will be harvested in ten days. It has not been injured by the wet weather, but longer straw has been caused, which will make cutting easier."

Messrs. Van Horne and Whyte, with other officials of the road, left last night for Montreal, whence they start this week for an inspection of the Lake Superior section of the road. They will be accompanied on their trip by Mr. H. D. Lumsden, late chief engineer of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, and other officials.

THE CHOLERA.

A Terrible Record of Deaths—Precautions Taken by England and Egypt.

MADRID, August 12.—There were 4567 new cases of cholera and 1629 deaths from the disease reported yesterday throughout Spain.

LONDON, August 12.—At a tumultuous meeting of the municipal authorities at Marseilles yesterday, the sum of 100,000 francs was appropriated for sanitary purposes. In Spain the cholera mostly prevails in low-lying damp regions.

Since the case of cholera at Bristol, no little anxiety has been felt in London. Orders have been forwarded to Marseilles that all British bound vessels leaving it must undergo four days' quarantine. Egypt refuses to allow passengers from Marseilles to land at Port Said or Suez, and imposes a quarantine of seven days on vessels coming from French ports in the Mediterranean, even if there is no sickness on board. If a death is suspected before the arrival of the vessel, there is a quarantine of twenty-one days, with entire prohibition to enter the harbor. If a case of cholera has declared itself, then none of the cargo can be landed.

FROM OTTAWA.

The Dominion Exhibition—A Fenian Appointed American Consul.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, August 12.—Ira C. Morgan, warden of Carleton, left for Montreal this morning, where he will meet Secretary Wade, of the Ontario Provincial Exhibition, which this year meets at London and receives the Dominion exhibition grant. Their object is to induce the people of Quebec and the maritime provinces to exhibit at London.

Enquiries made at the Secretary of State's Department this morning showed that though the attention of the Government had been called to the appointment by the Washington Government of James Whelan, who participated in the organization of the Fenian raid upon Canada, to be American Consul at Fort Erie, Ont., the Dominion Government has not yet been officially notified of the appointment. When that notification comes it is probable the Imperial authorities will be advised by Canada not to accept this nomination.

FROM KINGSTON.

Suicide at Pittsburg—Cows Poisoned by Paris Green.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

KINGSTON, Ont., August 12.—An old man named Parker suicided in Pittsburg township yesterday, by hanging himself from a ladder in his son-in-law's barn.

Eight cows of fine stock, belonging to P. W. Day, Kingston township, have been poisoned by Paris green distributed about the pasture. The majority of the cows have died, the intestines being eaten away by the deadly compound.

BEARS IN MEGANTIC.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

INVERNESS, Megantic, August 12.—Bears have been numerous in some parts of this county. Within a radius of eight miles no less than twelve have been caught. Mr. John Wark, of Thetford, captured five; Mr. Guy, Thetford, three; Mr. Wm. Learmonth, Kinnear's Mills, two, and two other men one each. The blacksmith at Kinnear's Mills has orders for forty bear traps.

NATURAL GAS DISCOVERED.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

PORT COLBORNE, August 12.—Natural gas has been struck here at a depth of 420 feet, of sufficient force to light up the town. It is estimated there is gas enough under Port Colborne to a depth of 500 feet to supply fuel for a dozen large manufactories. The well is now forcing gas through a pipe to the principal street and illuminates the square when lighted.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

SALSEBURG, August 11.—Emperor William arrived here this evening from Gastien.

MONTENEROS DEFEATED.

LIMA, August 11.—Advices from Cosina state that the Government forces have been attacked by Monteneros. The latter were defeated and their chief, Colonel Zamudio, was taken prisoner.

Beauharnois.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

BEAUHARNOIS, August 10.—This is a most delightful Summer resort, and first-class accommodation is to be had at any time. One of the many attractions is the mineral spring, whose waters are unsurpassed in the Dominion. It is pleasantly situated on Lake St. Louis. The steamer "Filgate," which connects with the five o'clock train at Lachine, gives one of the pleasantest sails on the St. Lawrence, the trip up the Chateauguay being most beautiful.

Picnicking at Chateauguay.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

CHATEAUGUAY, August 10.—THE STAR in its Summer resort notes has mentioned the fact that Chateauguay Basin has no suitable hotel for Montrealers and others who might enjoy its boating and fishing, and varied pleasures of Summer time. But if you have a friend in the village, or near to it, there is no place where the time passes more pleasantly, and I did not wonder on Saturday last when after pulling lazily around to the Nuns' Island with a picnic party of between twenty and thirty, one speculative young man threw down his oars with a sigh—and the words wafted to my ears were, "Oh for twenty thousand dollars." Questioning why, the answer came; "To build a large hotel here and double my money." Such pure blue sparkling water—a cloudless sky, a vision of Pointe Claire beyond—it was a day ever to be remembered. The sweet pensive maidens and thoughtful matrons sat on the beach, and dreamed dreams, or read the last STAR; the young and gay played croquet, or sailed away at intervals for a little cruise of research over the waters blue. And then the tea! A picnic tea in Chateauguay is a genuine surprise, for the ladies are renowned for fancy cooking, and everything was furnished with a liberal hand. Sunset over the water with a rosy glow brought the boats out once more, and I only wish I could describe the return as we moved down the lake, then, rounding the point of the Island, followed the daily water-path of the "Filgate" up the picturesque river. Each boat had a lantern alight in the bow, which the reflection in the water doubled, and, lashed together almost the width of the stream in places, the outside oars only pulling, we moved so slowly that the singing and talking was easily carried on across the line of boats. A centre light was hoisted on the top of a spare paddle in the middle boat, and the weird effect reminded one of the feast of lanterns in far away Venice. There was something peculiarly fascinating in this mysterious travelling between a star-lit sky, brightened now and then by a blazing meteor, and the dark water beneath. Then, as Mr. R—— B—— sang with a tender pathos the song we all loved to hear:

"Sail home, to part from thee never,
Always together life's voyage shall be,
Sail home, to love thee forever,
I'll spread out my "white wings" and sail home to thee," the air grew stiller, and the oars ceased to plash, till the song was finished.

The villagers thought our progress slow, but they only saw from the distance, and to those who are happy time passes all too swiftly, and in the memory of many of the party it will remain in future years a pleasant recollection of "St. Lawrence, broad and clear and free,

What time we sailed in summer calm,
With starlight over wave and beach,
To meet the south wind's breath of balm,
Surpassing melody of speech."

"Oh, for a good hotel here," was the aspiration again, and we wondered that in this speculative age there was not sufficient enterprise to build a comfortable summer resort in this charming nook, where so many would fain take their families if accommodation could be found, it seems so quiet and restful. But the last strains of "Auld Lang Syne" faded away, and the chief called "let go"—with genuine regret in his manly voice—and then, with wishes of "safe home," the boats separated to become dim specks on the water, as we bade good night. And such pleasant recreation need not be so rare on Canadian rivers, for we have every natural facility, and in calm waters our pleasure seekers could easily enjoy Canadian, as well as Venetian river festivals are enjoyed in that world-renowned city.

Jacquet River.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

JACQUET RIVER, N. B., August 10.—From week to week we look forward with interest for the nice newsy letters in THE STAR. As all the Summer resorts seem to have been heard from, will you permit me to say a few words in favor of Jacquet River. This charming place, I regret to say, has not been sufficiently advertised, as only a few Montrealers have found it out. The Bayside House is kept by Mr. W. Barclay, and is within a few feet of the famous "Baie des Chaleurs." People when they go to an hotel pay their board and there is an end to it. While here, the family vie with each other to make us as comfortable as possible, and the result is that we feel perfectly at home. Of course we have our little amusements, such as boating, bathing and driving. The last we particularly enjoy, as the scenery is magnificent. Alas, dancing is a lost art, gentlemen being in the minority. Would it be sour grapes to say we don't miss them very much?—for we keep early hours, lights being extinguished at the unfashionable hour of 10 p.m.

Mr. Samuels and his fascinating wife returned to their home in Waltham, Mass., Monday last. Mr. Samuels leases the Jacquet River for the salmon fishing. A few days ago he and his friend, Dr. Cutler, caught six fine salmon and about forty trout; a good day's sport, don't you think so?

We have at present, guests from Montreal, Mrs. Raphael, four children, Mrs. Robert Finlay and family, the Misses MacGillis, Miss and Master Abbott, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Robertson and family. I forgot, "Uncle John" paid us a short visit last week. The Doctor and his charming wife speak of going home next week.

In the near future I venture to predict Jacquet River will become a stylish seaside place, as the bathing for invalids can be specially recommended. Let those of your readers who are still in doubt as to where to go to spend the last weeks of August pack their valises and come to Jacquet River. Certainly they will find no cause to regret it.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

Hon. Mr. Royal, M.P. for Provencher, leaves this evening for St. Boniface

IN THE INTEREST OF RIEL.

Meetings in Favor of the Rebel—Sir Hector Langevin's Alleged Statement.

A meeting of the residents of Coteau St. Louis was held on Monday evening in the Town Hall of that municipality. Mayor Prenoveau acted as chairman and among those present were Messrs. Alphonse Desjardins, M. P., Chas. Prenoveau, Benoit Bastien, O. Bastien, Chas. Champagne, Messrs. Leduc, Christin, Chartrand and Lamontagne.

Mr. Desjardins was the first speaker. He stated there were throughout the Dominion 1,500,000 French-Canadians determined to preserve intact their laws, institutions, rights and privileges, but on the other hand there were 3,500,000 persons of English origin. These were not strong enough to drive the French out; there were only a few fevered brains that entertained such an idea, but any one would admit that they were numerous enough, strong enough and determined enough to maintain their hold on the country, and to defend their just rights. There were then two populations called upon to live side by side, under the same institutions and protected by the same flag. Ought we then, he continued, make war upon them; should we not rather do all in our power to maintain harmony between the two races, only rivalling them in our work, our industry and our zeal for the good and prosperity of all. The legality of the tribunal which passed the sentence was contested, and if the contestation were maintained the sentence would fall to the ground and where then would be the necessity for intervention on the part of the Government. Again, if Riel were insane there was no necessity for the exercise of clemency, for lunatics are not hanged but incarcerated. These points established, it only remained for him to ask the meeting to support the resolutions he laid before them which contained all that it was necessary to ask. They asked that the sentence be deferred so that Riel's counsel could have plenty of time to appeal even to the Privy Council if necessary, and that a medical board of specialists be appointed to enquire into the mental condition of the prisoner, and ascertain if he were responsible for his acts. These demands were only reasonable, and he hoped they would be granted by the Government.

Messrs. Chas. Champagne, Benoit, Bastien and Alphonse Christin then spoke in turn, and after resolutions somewhat similar to those passed on the Champs de Mars on Sunday, the meeting adjourned.

A Globe despatch represents Sir Hector Langevin as saying that meetings and petitions were all useless, as the Government never had any intention of executing Riel.

A meeting will be held to-night at St. Sauveur, Quebec, at which Messrs. Lemieux and Fitzpatrick will speak in connection with the Riel trial.

THE PROPOSED LIBERAL ORGAN.

Meeting of its Promoters Yesterday Afternoon—Great Enthusiasm.

A meeting of the promoters of the proposed Liberal organ was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Mr. C. O. Perrault, there being present amongst others Messrs. Adam Darling, Hon. R. Laflamme, C. A. Geoffrion, Q. C., J. K. Ward, Hugh Mackay, Joel Leduc, and others. After discussion it was decided that a prospectus for the purchase of the Times and its plant be drawn up and that it be submitted at an adjourned meeting. "There will be no lack of funds," said a gentleman who was present, "as all the men of our party are convinced the Liberals never had a better chance of attacking the party in power both in Quebec and Ottawa. The Conservatives themselves are absolutely disgusted with the drifting policy pursued by both Governments. The National policy, it is admitted, is destroying our trade, our harbor is deserted, and our national debt has increased $75,000,000 since the advent to power of the Conservatives."

"Do you think the proposed organ will pay?"

"We have so much confidence in it that although two of its promoters lost over $80,000 in the Herald, they are still willing to subscribe to the new paper. The local elections are to take place next year, and the Federal election the year following. Now is the time to 'enthuse' the Liberal party."

"Will Hon. Mr. Huntington edit the paper?"

"I believe he will, if he sees the enterprise is to be run on business principles."

The speaker went on to dilate on the difficulties which were surrounding the Conservative party, and concluded by expressing the opinion that as soon as Sir John Macdonald shuffled off the mortal coil, the party would fall to pieces.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

The Case of Laing & Co.

BOSTON, Mass., August 11.—At a meeting of the National Association of Oarsmen today, Enright, O'Connor and Laing, of the Canadian Association, whose entries had been rejected by the committee, were vouched for in a stirring letter from the Canadian Association, and a sub-committee of the United States Association was appointed to act upon their cases to-morrow. The first race will be started at one o'clock p.m.

Sporting Notes.

John L. Sullivan and Dominick McCaffrey are matched to box four rounds for the gate receipts at Chester Park, Cincinnati, Ohio, on the 31st inst.

Axel Paulsen, the champion skater of the world, wants to skate the Montreal amateur Dowd for big money, and will either take travelling expenses to Montreal or give them to Norway, if a match is made.

A gentleman who has just returned from Lake St. Peter reports seeing a great many wild duck and geese down there, which promises well for the shooting in September. There is also, he says, an abundance of snipe on the north shore of the lake.

The yacht "Neva," which made such a creditable showing at the annual flag race of the Montreal yacht club, at Longueuil last Saturday, was yesterday presented with a pair of flags, by some of her admirers, who witnessed her performance on that occasion.

It would seem, says London Truth, that the Prince of Wales intends to take seriously to racing, as he has entered one yearling for the Derby for 1887 and another for the Oaks, the pair having been purchased for 1,500 guineas during the Newmarket July sales by Porter, of Kingsclere, who is to train them. I hold a very strong opinion that the Prince would have done better to abstain from the manifold perils of ownership. It may be hoped, however, that he will be more fortunate in all respects than were his granduncles, for the racing career of George IV was disgraceful and caused a succession of flagrant scandals, while the Duke of York's connection with the turf was not only utterly ruinous, but was fruitful in highly equivocal transactions, and it is at least certain that turf morality has not improved during the last sixty years.

Provident Mutual Life Insurance.

Since the split among the members of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Association of Canada, owing to the dissatisfaction of a number of the members over the gains of the Manager and Secretary, the number of policy-holders has been greatly diminishing, until now there are only 550 members in good standing. Those who dropped off either have deserted the mutual principle entirely or have transferred their risks to the Union or North American companies. In this position the directors consulted the Government Inspector, Mr. Walton Smith, as to the propriety of their continuing business, and he, after an examination of the books, advised them to suspend. At a meeting of the directors, held yesterday afternoon, it was accordingly decided to pay off all existing claims against the company, which will just about absorb all the fees paid in up to date.

The Smallpox.

There were four deaths from this disease in St. Jean Baptiste yesterday. Smallpox is also gaining in the city. Dr. Laberge said to-day that the press should urge the private practitioners in the city to help the health department by private vaccination. They can get perfectly reliable vaccine from either Dr. Martin, of Boston, or Dr. E. L. Griffin, of Fond du Lac, at a charge of $1 for eight points. He himself is trying to get a fresh stock as the last used by the department caused so many accidents that public vaccination had to be suspended. There are at present 36 patients in the hospital, of whom 30 are progressing favorably. One patient was discharged yesterday and one admitted to-day.

Shipping Notes.

The Allan Line SS. "Norwegian" arrived last night about 7 o'clock. She reports fog in the Gulf.

The Beaver Line SS. "Lake Champlain," Capt. Gould, arrived this morning about 10 o'clock with a full cargo. She reports a fine voyage out as far as Belle Isle, and from there the fog was very thick nearly all the way to Quebec.

A STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE

"I am sorry, sir, if my description could have done you any good, but I have not the remotest idea how the girl looked. I did not know till this morning even, that there was such a person in my house as a sewing woman. I leave all such domestic concerns entirely to Mrs. Daniels."

Mr. Gryce bowed low, and ventured another question. The answer came as before distinctly to my ears—

"Oh, I may have seen her, I cannot say about that; I very often run across the servants in the hall; but whether she is tall or short, light or dark, pretty or ugly, I know no more than you do, sir." Then with a dignified nod, calculated to abash a man in Mr. Gryce's position, enquired—

"Is that all?"

It did not seem to be. Mr. Gryce put another question.

Mr. Blake gave him a surprised stare before replying, then courteously remarked—

"I do not concern myself with servants after they have left me. Henry was an excellent valet, but a trifle domineering, something which I never allow in any one who approaches me. I dismissed him, and that was the end of it. I know nothing of what has become of him."

Mr. Gryce bowed and drew back, and Mr. Blake, with the haughty step peculiar to him, passed by him and re-entered the house.

"I should not like to get into that man's clutches," said I, as my superior rejoined me; "he has a way of making one appear so small."

Mr. Gryce shot an askance look at his shadow gloomily following him along the pavement. "Yet it may happen that you will have to run the risk of that very experience."

I glanced towards him in amazement.

"If the girl does not turn up of her own accord, or if we do not succeed in getting some trace of her movements, I shall be tempted to place you where you can study into the ways of this gentleman's household. If the affair is a mystery, it has its centre in this house."

I stared at Mr. Gryce good and roundly. "You have come across something which I have missed," observed I, "or you could not speak so positively."

"I have come across nothing that was not in plain sight of any body who had eyes to see it," he returned, shortly.

I shook my head, slightly mortified.

"You had it all before you," continued he "and if you were not able to pick up sufficient facts on which to base a conclusion, you mustn't blame me for it."

More nettled than I would be willing to confess, I walked back with him to the station, saying nothing then, but inwardly determined to re-establish my reputation with Mr. Gryce before the affair was over. Accordingly, hunting up the man who had patrolled the district the night before, I enquired if he had seen any one go in or out of the side gate of Mr. Blake's house on —— Street between the hours of eleven and one.

"No," said he, "But I heard Thompson tell a curious story this morning about some one he had seen."

"What was it?"

"He said he was passing that way last night about twelve o'clock when he remarked, standing under the lamp, on the corner of Second Avenue, a group consisting of two men and a woman, who no sooner beheld him than they separated, the men drawing back into Second Avenue, and the woman coming hastily towards him. Not understanding the move, he stood waiting her approach, when instead of advancing to where he was, she paused at the gate of Mr. Blake's house, and lifted her hand as if to open it, when with a wild, and terrified gesture she started back, covering her face with her hands, and before he knew it, had actually fled in the direction from which she had come. A little startled, Thompson advanced and looked through the gate before him to see if possible, what had alarmed her, when, to his great surprise, he beheld the pale face of the master of the house, Mr. Blake himself, looking through the bars from the other side of the gate. He, in his turn, started back, and before he could recover himself, Mr. Blake had disappeared. He says he tried the gate after that, but found it locked."

"Thompson tells you this story, does he?"

"Yes."

"Well," said I, "it's a pretty wild kind of tale, and all I have got to say is, that neither you nor Thompson had better go babbling it around too much. Mum is the word where such men as Mr. Blake are concerned." And I departed to hunt up Thompson.

But he had nothing to add to his statement, except that the girl appeared to be tall and thin, and was closely wrapped about in a shawl. My next move was to make such enquiries as I could with safety into the private concerns of Mr. Blake and his family, and discovered—well, such facts as these—

That Mr. Blake was a man who, if he paid but little attention to domestic affairs, was yet rarely seen out of his own house, except upon occasions of great political importance, when he was always to be found on the platform at meetings of his constituents. Though to the ordinary observer, a man eminently calculated, from his good looks, fine position, and solid wealth to enjoy society, he not only manifested a distaste for it, but even went so far as to refuse to participate in the social dinners of his most intimate friends; the only table at which he would sit down being that of some public caterer, where he was sure of finding none but his political associates assembled.

To all appearance he wished to avoid the ladies, a theory borne out by the fact that never, even in church, in the street, or at any place of amusement, was he observed with one at his side. This fact in a man, young—he was not far from thirty-five at that time—rich, and marriageable, would, however, have been more noteworthy than it was if he had not been known to belong to a family eminent for their eccentricities. Not a man of all his race but had possessed a marked peculiarity. His father, bibliomaniac though he was, would never treat a man or a woman with decency who mentioned Shakespeare to him, nor would he acknowledge to his dying day any excellence in that divine poet beyond a happy way of putting words together. Mr. Blake's uncle hated all members of the legal profession, and as for his grandfather—but you have heard what a mania of dislike he had against that simple article of diet, fish; how his friends were obliged to omit it from their bills of fare whenever they expected him to dinner. If, then, Mr. Blake chose to have any pet antipathy—as for women, for instance—he surely had precedent enough in his own to back him. However, it was whispered in my ear by one gentleman, a former political colleague of his who had been with him in Washington, that he was known at one time to show considerable attention to Miss Evelyn Blake, that cousin of his who has since made such a brilliant thing of it by marrying, and straightway losing by death, a wealthy old scapegrace of a French noble, the Count de Mirac. But that was not a matter to be talked about, Madame the Countess being free at present, and in New York, though to all appearance upon anything but pleasant terms with her quondam admirer.

Remembering the picture I had seen in Mr. Blake's private apartment, I asked if this lady was a brunette, and being told she was, and of the most pronounced type, felt for the moment I had stumbled upon something in the shape of a clue; but upon resorting to Mr. Gryce with my information, he shook his head with a short laugh, and told me I would have to dive deeper than that if I wanted to fish up the truth lying at the bottom of this well.

CHAPTER V.

A NEW YORK BELLE.

Meanwhile all our efforts to obtain information in regard to the missing girl had so far proved utterly futile. Even the advertisements inserted by Mrs. Daniels had produced no effect; and, frustrated in my scheme, I began to despair, when the accounts of that same Mrs. Daniels' strange and unaccountable behavior during these days of suspense, which came to me through Fanny (the pretty housemaid at Mr. Blake's whose acquaintance I had lately taken to cultivating), aroused once more my dormant energies and led me to ask myself if the affair was quite as hopeless as it seemed.

"It she was a ghost," was the final expression on the subject, "she couldn't go perambulating this house more than she does. It seems as if she couldn't keep still a minute. Upstairs and down, upstairs and down, till we're most wild. And so white as she is and so trembling! Why, her hands shake so all the time she never dares lift a dish off the table."

INSPECTING THE WATER WORKS.

Aldermen, City Officials and Newspaper Men on a Surveying Tour—A More Complete Description of the Water Works Than That Given the Other Day.

Yesterday afternoon the aldermen who are entrusted with the control of the civic water department made their annual visit of inspection to the water works. They were accompanied by Mr. Lesage, superintendent and Mr. McConnel, engineer of the water department, Mr. Black, city treasurer; Mr. St. George, city surveyor, and representatives of the Herald, Times, Minerve and STAR. After a pleasant drive the water-works were reached and the inspection began in the boiler house where employés of Mr. McDougall were found busy repairing the boilers of group No. 1. There are three groups of boilers. The first consists of six boilers, four of which were built by Bartley and 2 by Gilbert. Some of the patches being put to these boilers are of extraordinary size, one being 5 ft. by 3 ft. All the repairing is being done to the bottom plates, which were burned. The patches are all double rivetted and the domes are being restayed, so that the boilers will bear 75 or 80 lbs. pressure to the inch. Some alterations are also being made in the steam and water connections to make them more efficient than when first set. Group 2 consists of three boilers built by Bartley, McDougall and Gilbert. These are being restayed, and the furnaces being stiffened by extra angle iron rings. The connections are also being refitted, so as to permit the carrying of a higher pressure than formerly. Group 3 consists also of three boilers, all of which were built by Bartley. These are being left in their present condition, as they are strong enough to be used for the first Worthington engine, which does good work with 40 lbs. pressure of steam. When the repairs to the first two groups are completed it is expected that the boilers will be good for and probably longer. In the engine house workmen were engaged in removing the Bartley engine, which was sold to Chanteloup & Co. for $1000. The new Worthington engine, which has just been purchased for $60,000, will occupy the place of this engine. It will have a capacity of ten million gallons per day while the pump now being taken down could only force some three millions of gallons. Alongside of the Bartly is the Gilbert steam pump now little used and kept principally as a reserve. Its capacity is three millions of gallons per day. Further on is the first Worthington which did such magnificent work last Winter when the aqueduct was frozen to within two feet of the bottom and the hydraulic pumps could not work for lack of power. In the house where the hydraulic pumps are at work, the first examined was the one built by McDougall of Montreal. It is a large turbine having a capacity of four millions of gallons per day. Next to this is a large breast wheel built by Fairbairn, of Montreal. This wheel has now been at work for over thirty years pumping its three million gallons per day whenever there has been water enough in the aqueduct to drive it. It is however the first wheel to stop when the water falls in the aqueduct. After this wheel come two more turbines having a nominal capacity of three millions of gallons each. All four pumps, however, only pump about 12½ millions of gallons per day so that in the very hot Summer days when the city uses its 13 or 13½ millions of gallons of water, steam has to be resorted to, to make up the deficiency. Alongside of the hydraulic pump house is the workshop where all the repairs and the new hydrants, valves, stopcocks, etc., except such as are very heavy are made.

THE NEXT SIX YEARS,

In this shop are some wonderful planing and boring machines. The power used is supplied by a small eight horse power turbine.

Having seen and admired the beautiful machinery of the works, which supply the city with the indispensable fluid, the visitors were driven to over the tail-race, which caused the disastrous Spring floods. When the tail-race was constructed, embankments were raised on either side to prevent the low country from being inundated by the water, which backs up the race at high water. In 1877, however, the St. Pierre Land Company bought much of the land about on speculation and built a road through it, which road was carried over the tail race by means of an iron bridge imported from Buffalo, by which name it has since been known. In order to save expense, however, in building this bridge, it was built several feet lower than the top of the embankments before mentioned, and the embankment cut down to the level of the bridge. At this cut, the water poured in over the whole country in the Spring. When receding, moreover, deep furrows were washed out in the embankment, so that now an ordinary Spring rise of water would flood the lower parts of Montreal as disastrously as last year. The property at present belongs to the C. P. R., who bought it from the St. Pierre Company, also on speculation. This company was notified to repair the damage. Instead of doing so they merely repaired the break in their own made up road near the bridge and actually cut the furrows before mentioned as caused by the receding flood deeper in order to get material to make up the road. It was resolved by the members of the committee present that Mr. Lesage should at once protest against the action of the company and insist upon the embankment being restored to its former condition. If the bridge could only be removed and the embankment raised to its first level, the danger from flooding, in that part of the country at any rate, would be reduced to the remotest of contingencies.

The next place inspected was

THE NEW INLAND CUT.

This work was begun about 10 years ago and about a mile of it completed at a cost of half a million. Then, it was turned into the old aqueduct; which could not then provide the power required to supply the city with water. The new cut is a magnificent piece of work, its sides being well faced with stone. It is 163 feet wide at the top of the banks, 139 feet at high water level, and 78 feet at the bottom. It is 14 feet deep, and the area of the waterway 1477¼ sq. ft. As stated the other day, to complete this aqueduct to the water works and build the large settling basin proposed at the end of it, will require about a million and a half of dollars, but when finished it would furnish between two and three thousand horse power Winter and Summer, would pump all the water the city will require for generations to come and also furnish power to light the whole city with electric light. The trouble with the old aqueduct is that even in Summer it only furnishes power enough to pump about twelve and a half millions of gallons of water, whereas the city frequently requires more. Towards the end of the Winter it freezes almost to the bottom for then the water rises and as the ice is already very thick it forms a firm dam the water flows over and freezes on top of it until there is a mass of ice greater than the water underneath can support so that the ice sinks until it is stayed by the narrowing sides of the aqueduct. Last Winter there were only two feet of water in the aqueduct; all the rest was ice, and none of the hydraulic pumps could work, so that the sole dependence of the city for water was upon the Worthington engine, an accident to which would have left the city starving for water, as the capacity of the other pumps, or rather pump, for the Gilbert would then have been the only available engine, is so small that only a portion of the city could have been supplied.

Driving along the bank of the new cut, the next place visited was

THE SECOND REGULATING GATE.

Here, last Spring, there occurred an accident which, if it had not been detected early, would have caused great devastation. On the river side of the gate the level of the water in the cut was four feet above that on the water works side. The weight of this great mass of water was well withstood by the gate, but the banks proved weaker. When the gate was built it was found that the soil on one side was crumbling and a mass of masonry, called a counterfort, was consequently built many feet in thickness, and it was not anticipated that the water would ever find its way round that. But this Spring it did mine a hole round the counterfort and had the damage not been discovered and repaired before the hole had become very large, the whole mass of water stained by the gate would have burst through and probably destroyed the water works and much property beyond. To prevent the recurrence of this danger Mr. Lesage proposes to build a wall of masonry forty feet long and four feet thick at the back of the counterfort, then on each side he will place a mass of concrete or clay, through which the water will not be able to eat a way. This work will be done in September, and cost about $400.

After leaving the gate the course of the party was along the banks of the old cut. Here there are numberless bushes of gooseberries, raspberries, choke-cherries and a few apple trees. When these were discovered it was good to see aldermen and pressmen jumping out of carriages and raiding those trees. Mr. Lesage must have thought them all possessed, for he enquired anxiously why they stopped. There was only one man who found time enough to answer, and the answer if laconic was expressive. "We're going gooseberries," said he. This hardly seemed to satisfy the superintendent, however, for he kept calling until the city fathers and the anonymous manufacturers of news were obliged to return unwillingly to their carriages. Soon all came to the house of Mr. Sally, guardian of the cut, and here Ald. Donovan had hospitably provided an al fresco supper which was enjoyed extremely by the now hungry inspectors. After supper came toasts to the host, Mr. Lesage, Messrs. Black and St. George, and the press, which were fittingly and briefly responded to. Then the party drove home very jolly and only wishing there were two inspections in the year instead of one.

The Crops in Canada.

The reports which have been received from Manitoba of the satisfactory condition of the crops in that Province are corroborated by a special telegram received to-day from Mr. Egan, Western Superintendent of the C. P. R., to Mr. Van Horne, General Manager. The telegram says: "Crop reports received to-day from all points say that most favorable harvest is secured. The hay crop is all in, the root crops are good, the wheat is filling out and will be ready in ten days."

The same satisfactory report has been received from a leading bank here from its agencies in Quebec and Ontario, so that from all appearances the crops in Canada promise to be far in advance of those in the United States.

An Incendiary Fire.

About 2 o'clock last night the brigade was called out for a fire in a blacksmith shop, No. 180 St. Maurice street. The shop was badly burned inside. It is supposed the fire was caused by an incendiary, as this is the third time within a week that the shop has been fired. On the first occasion the fire was in the cellar, and it was supposed to be due to hot ashes falling through the floor. When the firemen were called out the second time, however, they found that a heap of shavings had been carried into the shop and then lighted. Last night the shop was so badly burned that the cause of the fire could not be discovered. It is said that some of the neighbors have a grudge against the blacksmith who owns the shop.

The Richelieu Navigation Company.

It is rumored amongst steamboat men that the Richelieu Company purposes at an early date placing two of its steamers on the Longueuil ferry service and of running a boat from that place up to the city. It is said that the "Magnet" and "Spartan" will be used for this service and that the upper saloons will be removed so as to suit her for the service. The Longueuil Company do not appear to fear competition and are also preparing to extend their service. Next year they speak of running to St. Lambert and to other Summer resorts. The position of manager held by the late Captain Bourdon has been conferred upon Mr. Mandeville who, is also secretary of the company.

Charged with Till-Tapping.

A man named Geo. Bourque, is charged with having entered a saloon at the corner of Ontario and Montcalm streets, kept by a Mr. Demers, and while the latter had his back turned, robbed the till of all the money it contained. He then left the saloon, it is alleged, and in a short time returned with a friend and ordered some drink. Among this money Mr. Demers had some peculiar coins, and Bourque produced one of these in payment. The coin was at once identified and Bourque was placed under arrest by Constable Lessard, and when arraigned before the Police Magistrate this morning, was remanded until Monday.

The Tranchant Case.

The enquête in the case of Mr. Tranchant, accused of having sent a threatening letter to Mr. L. A. Sénécal, was continued yesterday afternoon, when Mr. C. O. Perrault, Vice-Consul of France, was examined. His testimony was to the same effect as that already given in the other cases, with the addition that he had seen Mr. Sénécal with a view to compromising Mr. Tranchant's claim. On that occasion he had suggested that Mr. Sénécal should pay Mr. Tranchant $400 or $500, to which proposal Mr. Sénécal said he would see his lawyers. Mr. Sénécal subsequently offered to give Tranchant $100 were his family in want.

Lumber Boom.

There is a considerable boom in the lumber forwarding industry between Ottawa and Whitehall. Every one of the barges of the different companies is employed, a prosperity which has not been enjoyed for thirteen years.

Illegal Liquor Selling.

In the Police Court this morning, Napoleon Picard and J. Martel were each fined $75 and costs for selling liquor without a license. H. Laverdure was fined $30 and costs for selling it on Sunday.

Injustice Done to a Mille Isles Man.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—I have read an article in your paper dated the 4th August, which gives what my father, John McKeown, is supposed to have said to Mr. Guerin, advocate, about his affairs. I now beg to state that the statements made in that article with regard to the treatment of my father are wholly untrue. I have always supported him and my mother at home as well as my means allow and have never refused to keep them there or wherever they might wish to stay, as well as I keep myself, and have never forced them to do anything they did not want to do. My way of treating them is well known to all my neighbors round, as the enclosed letters signed by the neighbors and Mr. Prevost here will show, which you can publish if you wish. Moreover, my father stated to me and to Mr. Noble, a neighbor of ours, that he had nothing to do with the publishing of this statement, and that he never expected anything he said would be put in the papers, as he went privately to Messrs. Greenshields' office to consult with them as lawyers, and what he said was confidential; and I think it strange and unjust that a lawyer should put such things in the paper. Hoping you will do justice by publishing this letter,

Your obedient servant,
NEAL MCKEOWN.

St. Jerome, August 10, 1885.

[Mr. McKeown encloses a statement signed by Messrs. William Stuart, John Noble, Thomas Wood and James Noble, all of Mille Isles, that the sayings credited to his father are untrue. He encloses also Mr. Michael Healy's certificate that he (Neal McKeown) does the best he can for his father, and finally, he encloses the certificate of Mayor Prevost, of St. Jerome, that he (Neal McKeown) is a worthy son as far as his father allows him to be so. THE STAR regrets having published the statements of the elder McKeown, whom Mayor Prevost says is of unsound mind.—ED.]

Dogs or no Dogs?

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—When at the Island last Saturday I saw a notice stuck up in several places saying that no dogs were allowed on the Island. Now, I think if I, or any one else, pay the city tax for our dogs we can take them any where within the city limits, or even outside limits if it comes to that.

A FRIEND OF DOGS.

The Water Rates.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—With reference to collecting water rates in this city, I would say why not do as in Toronto: Collect quarterly in advance and there will not be any loss to the city or landlords and it will be much better for all.

Yours,
LANDLORD.

Montreal, August 11, 1885.

CARTER VS. MOLSON.

The Decision of the Privy Council Against Carter.

The full text of the judgment rendered by the Privy Council in the famous case of Carter vs. Molson, of which judgment a résumé has already been given in THE STAR, has been received by the Court of Appeals. It will be remembered that Mr. Molson borrowed some $30,000 from J. T. Carter, of Cambridge, Eng., upon the security of a certain property on St. James street. When the loan was not repaid, Carter seized the property, and also a number of shares of Molsons Bank stock. Molson contested the seizure on the ground that the property in question had been substituted by his father's will to his family who also intervened in the case. Various judgments were given in the different courts and finally the case was taken to the Privy Council which decided as follows, with regard to the St. James street property the council held that Carter ought to have known of the substitution inasmuch as his agent the Hon. J. J. C. Abbott is proved to have been cognizant of the whole proceedings in the distribution of the residue of John Molson's estate and to have taken an active part in advising and completing the arrangements by which his fifth share, including the St. James street property, was transferred to Alexander Molson. Carter is affected by the knowledge of the agent to whom he confided the duty of attending to his interests, and that knowledge was amply sufficient to inform its possessor that the deed conveying the St. James street property to Alex. Molson, though professedly a deed of sale, was in reality the transfer of an estate which had been specifically alloted him and was subject to all the conditions imposed by the will of John Molson.

With regard to the bank dividends the seizure has only been sustained as an attachment of the dividends which may become payable to Alexander Molson with respect to the 148 shares in question which shares are shown never to have belonged to his father's estate.

THINKS HE IS CURED.

Joseph Fiset is Convinced That He Was Made Whole by Faith.

Joseph Fiset, the youth from Greenfield, Mass., whose alleged faith cure was reported in Monday's STAR, left for his home this morning by the Central Vermont Railway. At the Bonaventure Depot prior to his departure he was the observed of all observers and was surrounded by people desirous of obtaining information. A STAR reporter saw the lad and was surprised at the ease with which he walks without the use of stave or crutch. "I am cured," he said, "beyond any doubt; every day I feel stronger and walk with greater ease. The doctors may say there was nothing to prevent me walking before, but I know better. Often and often have I attempted to move without my crutches, but of no avail."

Turning to a friend close by he said: "Ask him if I could walk when I arrived at this depot on Saturday."

"No, indeed," replied the friend, "he could scarcely move even with my assistance as well as his crutches."

Just as the train started young Fiset said, "I am satisfied if the doctors are not; I feel myself cured, and am thankful for it."

BUFFALO BILL.

A Western Dinner—Down the Rapids.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West show was even more crowded yesterday than on the opening day, and all were delighted with the novelty of the show. There is absolutely nothing objectionable, everything is of interest, and indeed a great deal may be learned at the performance. Through the courtesy of Messrs. Cody and Salsbury, a genuine camp dinner will be given to invited members of the press and some of Montreal's citizens to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock at the Montreal Driving Park, on which occasion Hon. W. F. Cody, (Buffalo Bill) and Sitting Bull will deliver an oration, giving an outline of western border life. Their general representative, Ben Cirkle, will meet the guests at St. Lawrence Hall at 1.30 sharp, where carriages will be in waiting to have them driven out to the Park. After dinner, they will be shown through the entire camp, and also witness the exhibition.

Buffalo Bill, accompanied by Sitting Bull, Crow Eagle, and about fifteen other members of his party, proceeded to Lachine this morning, where they were met by Chief Delisle, White Eagle and several members of the Iroquois tribe, when the whole party proceeded down the Rapids on the stmr. "Filgate." The Indians expressed themselves as highly pleased with the trip. The party was accompanied by Messrs. C. M. Acer, S. C. Stevenson, W. McLea Walbank and several other gentlemen. The Caughnawaga Indians received their dusky brothers with much cordiality, and extended a hearty invitation to them to visit their village, which they will doubtless do before leaving the city. On reaching the wharf the party was shown over the steamers "Sardinian" and "Sarnia" by the officers in charge. Mr. Cody extended a pressing invitation to the Iroquois to be present at the entertainment this afternoon, which was thankfully accepted. Sitting Bull is going to repeat his trip some morning this week, and will bring the rest of his braves with him to see the rapids.

The French Visitors.

Yesterday, Mr. A. Desjardins, M. P., was present, by invitation, at a meeting of the Board of Trade, which was held to consider the action of the Board of Trade with regard to the party of French commercial men who are coming out with Father Labelle to enquire into Canadian commerce and capabilities. Mr. Desjardins suggested that it would be a graceful and politic step if the Board of Trade offered them an official welcome of some description. Accordingly various measures were discussed, including a trip on some steamer to examine the shipping capacity, an inspection of the elevators, stock yards, and various manufactories. Ultimately a committee was appointed, consisting of the Council of the Board of Trade, who are to act in harmony with the corporation in the direction indicated. As the party only intend to be away from France between thirty and thirty-five days, their stay in Montreal will necessarily be short.

Stole the Cowboy's Hat.

Yesterday while the Wild West performance was in progress, a report came to Detective Robinson, who was upon the grounds, that a man named Peter Finney had stolen a hat belonging to one of the cowboys named John Nelson. He at once placed the man under arrest, and in his bosom was found the broad-rimmed hat referred to. He was taken to the station and will stand his trial on Friday. The hat is made of beaver skin and is said to be worth about $12.

A Man Disappears.

LONG-SUFFERING MR. BLAKE.

Dose of Politics at Murray Bay.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

MURRAY BAY, August 11.—An address of welcome and congratulation was presented to Hon. Edward Blake at his residence here yesterday. There were present about 350 people in the beautiful grounds around the Blake cottage. Hon. S. H. Blake and Hon. Edward, with their families, received the guests. Dr. J. Hamel presented the following:

ADDRESS TO MR. BLAKE.

To Hon. Edward Blake, Q.C., M.P., Leader of the Liberal Party in Canada:

SIR,—You are coming amongst us to take a few days' rest after the important work you laid yourself out to do during the unexceptionally long session which has just closed.

The Liberals of Murray Bay cannot deprive themselves of the pleasure of coming to welcome you, of expressing their gratitude to you for the signal services that you have rendered the country, for the sympathy you have shown for the Province of Quebec, and particularly during the last session. Although distant from the seat of Government, we have, through the press, followed your patriotic efforts during the discussion on the Franchise Bill to preserve to our Province that autonomy which is one of the most precious guarantees to a population like ours, differing in language and nationality from the majority of the inhabitants of the country. We have heard your powerful voice putting the country on its guard against the extravagant, ruinous and criminal policy according to which public affairs have been administered for the last few years. We applauded you in your great struggles in the service of the popular cause, and your generous defence of an unhappy group of our compatriots, who for a long time had borne the oppression and persecution of the government of the country.

Sir, your conduct as leader of the opposition has won in our province the admiration not only of your friends and partisans, but also that of the whole population. If, indeed, the Conservative members did not sustain you on the other hand you may have remarked that the press of that party almost unanimously applauded your patriotic speeches and the sympathy you on all occasions manifested in favor of the Province of Quebec and its inhabitants.

We are therefore sure of becoming the interpreters of the public opinion of our province in proclaiming our great admiration and gratitude for the remarkable services that you have rendered the country, and in expressing the hope that you will be shortly called upon to take the direction of public affairs in the Dominion.

Murray Bay, Aug. 10, 1885.

MR. BLAKE'S RESPONSE.

Hon. Mr. Blake said it gave him pleasure to see that so many citizens, at such a time of the year, when there were no elections pending, or at hand, assemble, as he remarked of both political parties, to thank in this way a public man on a flying visit among them for having in his imperfect way tried honestly to do his duty (cheers). He had been a voter in Murray Bay for many years, but had been unavoidably prevented from casting his vote during the warm contests which had agitated the country during the life time of their late lamented member Mr. Tremblay. He would not make a political speech, as he saw in the audience gentlemen of different politics, who had done him the honor of taking part in this demonstration. But he was charmed to find how well informed were the electorate generally on public affairs, and he could not do better than recommend to them full confidence in their provincial leader, the able and eloquent Wilfred Laurier. (Cheers.) He thanked them as sincerely as he could do for this mark of confidence, and assured them that he would, without sectional or national prejudice, do his very best in some sort to deserve it.

After some remarks in French to the same effect Mr. Blake retired amid loud applause.

Mr. Ernest Pacaud was called upon, and made an eloquent and stirring speech, in which Mr. Blake was held up as the champion of the French Canadians and of their compatriots in the North-West.

Messrs. Achille Dorion and Husmer Lanctot, advocates, of Montreal, being loudly called upon responded happily, the latter referring in felicitous terms to the sign of Liberalism evinced by Mr. Blake in carrying the French flag over the door of his cottage and in constituting himself in all cases the able advocate of the weaker party.

The band played God Save the Queen and the assembly dispersed, with loud cheers for the Liberal chief.

MONCTON, N. B., August 12.—Thomas White, foreman of the plumbing department of the Intercolonial Railway, was found dead in the Petitcodiac River at Moncton last week. His life was insured for $2000, and he left some money, but so far as known he is without relations. He came to Moncton from Ontario, and was somewhat addicted to drinking, was of stout build and florid complexion. There is a rumor that he was a cousin of the Hon. Thos. White, but it is unsubstantiated. In the meantime there is no authorized heir to look after his effects.

FREEDOM OF WORSHIP.

A Montrealer Fined $8.50 for Refusing to Kneel in Church on Account of Acute Pains in His Back.

Last Sunday, Hermas Poitras, a well to do butcher of Montreal, and his family left the city to reside at Ile Perrault until Monday for change of air. On Sunday Mr. Poitras not feeling well, being troubled with acute cramps in the stomach and back and not caring to drive six miles to the church of Ile Perrault, hired a boatman to row him to the church. When he arrived he found the church crowded, and being unable to obtain a seat, stood in the rear of the church close to the door. When that part of the service at which the congregation kneel had arrived, being unable from the pain in his back to kneel on both knees, he reclined in a devotional posture on one. He had not been long in this position when one of the church wardens, named Adolphus Lebeau, came along and told him to conform to the usages of the ceremonial and get down on both knees. Mr. Poitras said he would gladly do so were he able, but even the posture he was in caused him acute pain, and it was all he could do to bear kneeling on one knee. After the service Lebeau followed Poitras outside, and before all the faithful asked if anyone present knew this grossier, and this man who didn't know how to live, Poitras said he would tell them who he was. He was a butcher of Montreal, and probably as devout a Catholic as any one, and he regretted his inability to conform to the practice of the church, but was unable to do so through infirmity. It was then alleged by Mr. Poitras that Lebeau further insulted him, saying he would fix him and teach him how to live. Mr. Poitras then returned as he had come, and next morning was arrested on a warrant issued by J. Robillard, J. P., at the instance of Telesphore Medard another church warden charging him with an act of irreverence in the church by only kneeling on one knee and by disobeying the orders of the church warden. To save any trouble and to calm the fears of his wife he paid the fine of $8 and costs and was liberated. He came on to Montreal to-day and placed the case in the hands of Mr. Dandurand of Doutre, Joseph and Dandurand. This gentleman is examining the papers of the case, and has notified Messrs. Robillard, Lebeau and Medard that unless the money is returned and an apology made, actions of damages for $2000 each will be taken against them. In legal circles to-day this case is the chief topic of conversation, barristers declaring the proceeding most illegal and arbitrary.

NOTES.

The following clipping is taken from Bradstreet's: The meeting of the members of the New York cheese trade the other day, to discuss the question of Canadian competition with cheese made in this country, fully confirmed the views frequently expressed in Bradstreet's. All the speakers were unanimous in the opinon that if something was not done to regain our lost ground Canada would ultimately become the great cheese producing country, and at the same time there was the same unanimity in the views of the various speakers regarding the superiority of the Canadian product, especially as regards the keeping qualities. The substitution of inferior labor in order to save money in wages was strongly condemned. The falling off in quality was attributed to this cause as much as any other.

Apple Crop in Europe.

The following extracts are taken from a circular issued by Mr. J. B. Thomas, London England, represented here by Mr. David Shaw:—

After speaking of the changeable weather in the United Kingdom, "it is generally admitted throughout Kent that the aggregate yield of marketable fruit will barely reach an average crop—mainly earlies. Taken altogether, the accounts received to date, although somewhat conflicting, help to support the belief of one large producer who sums up the situation thus: "The crop of apples in the United Kingdom will be greater than that of last year, but less than that of 1883."

Advices from the chief shipping ports of France, as well as the interior, are not wholly satisfactory. In the north and north-west indications point to an average crop of apples, mostly common, of which a fair surplus will be available for export. In the south and south-west late Spring frosts spoilt the prospects of a crop which at one time, made excellent promise. Canada apples are fairly cropped, but Dieudonnés and Rennets will come down light.

From the apple sections of Belgium reports are more encouraging. Out of early varieties, of which a few parcels of indifferent quality have already been shipped, stripes may be considered least promising. Late varieties blossomed and set well, but, at present, are suffering badly from want of moisture. With welcome rains in the near future, shippers claim a large export trade during the Winter months.

The news from Holland and the Rhine districts points to a better crop of apples than that of last year, although somewhat below the average. Late varieties, extensively cultivated for the English markets, are reported ordinary in size and quality, while the drought is also held responsible for an unusual quantity of fallings. Paradise and Golden Rennets will be scarce; but other sorts promise to meet the deficiency. Early apples, which cover a small area of ground, will give only a moderate yield.

Reports from Hamburg, Stettin, and the interior of Germany, predict a good crop of apples, well distributed over a wide area of ground. After local consumption has been provided for, it is estimated that a fair balance of winter fruit will be available for export, if remunerative markets can be found abroad.

Shipments of early apples from Portugal, which commenced with July, continue in limited supply. Prices have not ruled high, owing, in great measure, to the inferiority of the fruit. Crops are reported light, and arrivals after September, if any, will have no appreciable influence on the English markets.

After due consideration of the whole of the facts set forth in the various reports, the impression produced and net result obtained for practical purposes is: (1) That the apple crop of Europe, taking it as a whole, will be in excess of that of last year. (2) That Fall shipments of American and Canadian apples to Glasgow and Liverpool should meet with fair demand at values ruled by supply. (3) That shipments to London of winter fruit will, as in similar seasons, compare favorably in net proceeds with other markets on this side.

NOTICE TO Speculators!
We have opened a branch office at No. 108 McGill St., opposite the Western House, where full reports of the New York Stock and Chicago Grain and Provision Markets can be seen, and where parties interested in these speculative values can see all the leading authoritative American newspapers upon said markets. Here orders can be given and same will be executed at once upon the same terms as at our head office, viz: ⅛ of one per cent. for round transactions in stocks or grains, which is same commission as is charged by New York and Chicago firms. We issue our own contracts and settle all transactions at once on the spot, without loss of time and money in wiring and waiting replies. Upon an active market, an operator can take advantage of every quick change in values to fasten a profit or open or close a trade which is almost impossible when wiring orders through agents. All the oldest and shrewdest men engaged in speculation in this city now patronize our offices which would not be the case if they did not find it to their advantage and convenience. These men have tried all plans and now patronize us because they find our terms and conditions the fairest that can possibly be had. It ensures impartial justice to all concerned and for short time quick transactions in stocks or wheat offers opportunities for profit to dealers which are otherwise missed. T. E. HANRAHAN & CO.

THE WAR IS OVER!
We are satisfied, now that we have seen our gallant volunteers return, that the war is really over, and yet, while this war with a visible foe is certainly ended, we know not how soon we may be hurried into ANOTHER WAR,
far more serious than the little war just ended, as we will have to fight against an invisible foe, or rather one that is only visible in its terrible results. Prepare yourselves for the Great Battle!
against that terrible scourge, Asiatic Cholera, by keeping constantly at hand a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, the remedy that got its first great start by the astonishing cures it performed in this dreadful scourge, first in the United States, afterwards in Asia, and then throughout the world.
Pain-Killer is also the great remedy for Chills, Congestion or Stoppage of Circulation, Pain in the Stomach, Summer and Bowel Complaints, Sore Throat, &c., and applied externally for Sprains, Bruises, Rheumatic Pains, Swelled Face, &c., arising from Toothache.
Anyone sending six stamps, to pay return postage, will receive, as published, the whole six numbers, complete, of The Medical Monthly. The first number is just out. This paper will be issued monthly. The first number contains a valuable article upon Cholera. The first six numbers will contain a large number of choice Cooking and other valuable Household Recipes, all of which have been selected, used and approved by a prominent American lady cook. The whole, taken together, will form the best collection of recipes ever published.
