FOR A BREATH OF FRESH AIR

FOR FISHING…

FOR HUNTING…

FOR OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES…

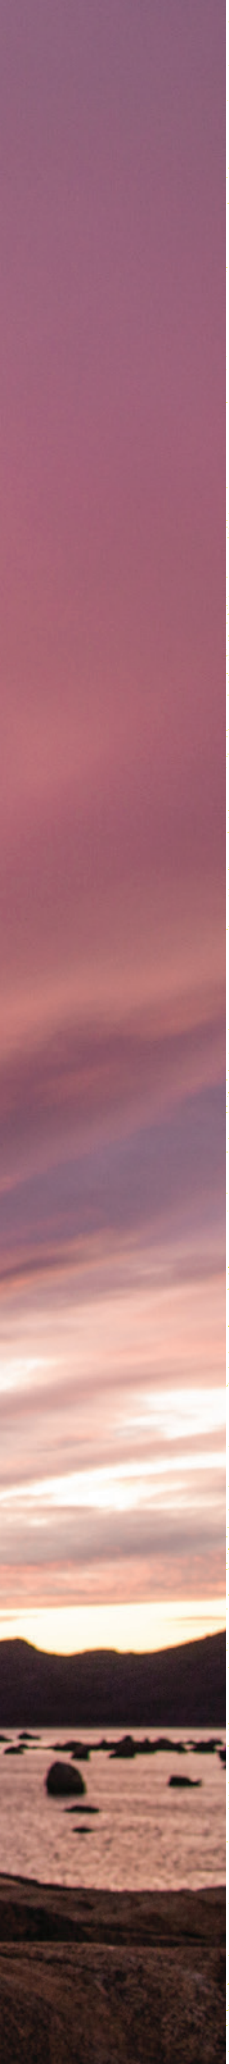

FOR A STAY IN NATURE…

FOR GETTING AWAY…

FOR LEAVING THE BEATEN PATH…

FOR A GOOD TIME…

BY NORMAN OUELLETTE,
- PRESIDENT OF THE QOF
BOARD OF DIRECTORS

When you stop to think about it, you can really be struck by the richness and diversity of outfitters and the multitude of options they offer for stays. Outfitters are about kilometres of wilderness, stories to share, epic struggles and unforgettable encounters. Outfitters are a unique destination to be truly immersed in the natural world. They are, purely and simply, the way to go for a breath of fresh air.

FOR MEMORABLE FISHING TRIPS

Fishing at an outfitter means going on an adventure. Armed with a fishing rod and a bit of ambition, everyone will love taking on new challenges and capturing the finest specimens. Québec outfitters alone feature over 20,000 lakes, rivers and streams just waiting to be explored. Each outfitter, each lake, each river offers a completely unique fishing experience. Some lakes are stocked, others are natural. Some outfitters let you challenge brook trout, others walleye, bass, pike and Atlantic salmon. Whether you're a beginner or an experienced angler, you can have boatloads of fun–after all, fishing has something for everyone. Fishing at an outfitter means meeting enthusiasts who know their territory like the back of their hand and can make your stay a truly memorable one.

FOR EXCEPTIONAL HUNTING

When you go hunting at an outfitter, you get to discover immense territories and come into contact with majestic nature and abundant wildlife. Québec outfitters are masters at helping you unplug from your everyday life and seek out the trophy of a lifetime. Whether you're looking for small or big game, waterfowl or migratory birds, head out alone or in a group to seek out your favourite prey. Outfitters know the art of the hunter. They act as your guide and work to increase your chances of harvesting the game you covet. Hunting at an outfitter means immersing yourself in nature's bounty and being fuelled by pure adrenaline.

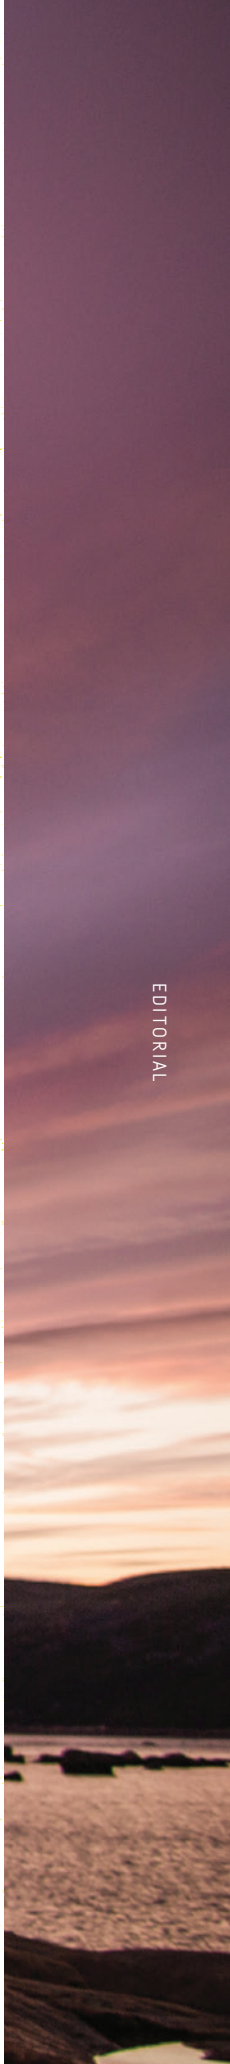

FOR ENJOYING THE GREAT OUTDOORS

When you seek the outdoors at an outfitter, you find Québec's grand forests to explore. Nothing pulls you out of your daily routine like getting your fill of summer activities such as hiking, quad biking, water sports and wildlife watching or winter activities such as snowmobiling, snowshoeing, dogsledding and ice fishing. Make sure you discover these huge playgrounds. Québec outfitters welcome you, offering you direct and privileged access to territories that are exceptionally rich in diversity of landscapes, fauna and flora. Get in tune with nature and enjoy.

FOR EXTRAORDINARY RESORT FACILITIES

When you stay at an outfitter resort, you're stopping time. Filled with thousand and one memories, the sometimes cozy, sometimes rustic inns and cottages offered by outfitters welcome families, couples and groups who want to experience an unforgettable stay.
With over 2,500 cottages and inns, outfitters are nothing less than the largest network of accommodation in a natural setting in the province. Your own little corner of paradise where you can enjoy the peace and quiet of a cottage by the lake...

Ultimately, Québec outfitters are your chance to go on your dream holiday and discover all the riches of Québec's back country. You're just one step away from the great outdoors. And a breath of fresh air.

COLIN MCKEOWN, THE NEW FLYFISHER

This season, we visited a lodge that definitely ranks among the top five places we've ever had the pleasure of fishing at—Inukshuk Lodge in Nunavik. Owned and operated by Paul Ostiguy from Montréal, this unique lodge is nestled on the rugged shores of Ungava Bay in northern Québec. The reason we liked it so much can best be summed up in one word: "supernatural." In our opinion, this is the ultimate total fishing experience. Casting flies for huge and hard-fighting arctic char that average 10–14 pounds, seeing seals, polar bears and whales . . . that's all part of the exceptional experience you can have at this very special lodge.

Your journey begins when you fly to Montréal and catch the flight to the small town of Kuujjuaq in Nunavik (Québec's arctic region). This wonderful town is populated by Nunavik Inuit who will welcome you warmly to their corner of the world, introducing you to the distinctive characteristics of their cultural and linguistic heritage, art and history, as well as traditional clothing and tools. If you happen to have some time to spare, hire a local tour operator to take you on a tour of the sights and to search for local wildlife such as the muskox. After a stay overnight, you then board a small plane and fly to the lodge. Don't be surprised if you spot beluga whales or polar bears on your way in; the wildlife here is abundant and spectacular. You are now in the land of wild tundra, taiga forest, scenic mountains, majestic rivers and countless lakes.

There are three species of fish that you can angle for at Inukshuk Lodge: brook trout, Atlantic salmon and arctic char. We came for the large arctic char, which run up local rivers to spawn in late August or early September. We came in the first week of August, when the char were cruising around the bay's many sea islands hunting for krill and baitfish. These are really big fish, and they're exceptionally strong. Our average arctic char weighed approximately 10–12 pounds, with our largest of the week coming in at around 22+ pounds. We also spotted sea-run brook trout in a few spots and cast to them with some success. Atlantic salmon can be caught in the salt water in certain locations; they too are busy feeding on krill and bait fish known as lances.

INUKSHUK LODGE

NUNAVIK, NORTHERN QUÉBEC

Once we arrived at a specific location such as an island, we broke out our fly fishing gear. Here, you need to bring high-quality rods and reels that can take the combined punishment of salt water and large fish that seemingly never tire. Our go-to setup was a nine-foot fast-action rod in a nine weight married to a large arbor reel. Make you have lots of backing of 50 lb test, as these char will definitely test your equipment with their powerful runs. You absolutely need a good quality drag system, preferably a sealed one. The large arbor will come into play when the fish often run directly at you, and you'll have to be quick picking up your line. We used full-sink and long sink-tip fly lines. Both worked well when the sinking rate was five inches per second or greater. My favourite line to use was the RIO InTouch Sink Tip with a 600 grain 24-foot head. This line was easy to cast in heavy winds and got the fly down quickly in the water column. You don't need long leaders here, just a six-foot piece of heavy mono or tippet of 1x or 2x size. You want at least a 15 lb rating for the tippet as the char will often slam the flies with gusto, and break-offs can occur with lighter systems. The flies we used were streamers and large green woolly buggers. However, the lodge will give you recommendations on what to bring, plus the guides will have some flies for you to use.

It's hard to describe all that makes this unique land so very special in just a short article. Lemmings running around everywhere, the aqua-blue color of the water in bays, or even spotting a beautiful flower hanging precariously on the side of rock wall … Nunavik and Inukshuk Lodge are truly one of a kind, surrounded by some of the last pristine wilderness left in the world. If you have a bucket list of places to visit before you die, then you absolutely must add this lodge to it.

“Seeing seals, polar bears and whales . . . that's all part of the exceptional experience”

QUÉBEC BLACK BEARS

A CLASSIC BIG GAME ADVENTURE

BY DAVE MAAS · BY DAVE MAAS ·

If you've never hunted black bears over bait, let me assure you that it isn't a slam-dunk. Mature black bears don't grow old by lumbering into every bait site that appears in their home range during daylight. Big bears are often wary, visiting bait sites well after dark, when hunters are back in their beds sleeping. In fact, thanks to dependable scouting cams, you can keep tabs on bear activity around a bait site 24/7. But let me warn you – what you see, and when you see it – will both fascinate and frustrate you.

As I write this story, I'm sitting in a two-man ladder stand about a 30-minute drive from Rob Argue's Eastern Canadian Outfitters camp along the shore of Lac Mer Bleue. The hunt was planned for six afternoons, but one of them was a total rainout, so I've had five, and this one is my last. Sitting beside me is good friend Matt Addington, who joined me on this adventure to shoot photographs, as well as fish for smallmouth bass. (Rob's bass fishing is world class!)

Like I said earlier, black bear hunting – even over bait – isn't a sure thing. And it's a challenge. Now, I know what you're thinking: How tough can it be to sit on a ladder stand and kill a bear over a barrel filled with pastries and several other sweet treats?

As I write this article, the temperature is very hot, so sitting in the woods dressed in camo from head to toe isn't comfortable. I'd love to be wearing a T-shirt and shorts, but I can't due to the mosquitoes and biting black flies. Of course, I'm wearing a head net to block the bugs.

I have about 4 hours until the end of legal hunting time tonight. To occupy our time in the two-man ladder, Matt and I are reading.

Simply stated, if you can handle the heat . . . and the bugs... you have a prayer. And here's a tip: Black bears are almost always totally silent, and they have a way of coming in from behind you, no matter the wind direction.

During the 2017 bear hunting season, Rob placed 24 bait sites, and all but one of them quickly was hit by bears. As I said, this is my final sit during my 2017 hunt. I've had a fantastic time so far, and with 2.5 hours remaining in tonight's hunt, I'm hopeful. In my experience, a mature boar rarely approaches a bait site until the last 15-30 minutes of legal hunting time.

Final hunt update: Matt and I had an exciting conclusion to our Québec adventure. Near dark, we heard branches breaking behind our stand. Didn't I say that bears almost always approach from behind?

A 150-pound-class bear finally appeared beneath our ladder. It walked toward the bait and stopped only 5 yards from the base of our ladder. At that point, I wasn't sure if it was a boar or sow. Based on the amount of noise we'd heard behind us, both Matt and I figured it could be a sow with cubs.

Outfitters prefer their clients to give a bear a minute on a bait site to determine whether it's a sow with cubs. (In Québec, it's illegal to shoot a sow with cubs.) As it turned out, my bear melted back into thick cover, and it didn't reappear until 15 minutes after dark.

It was exciting to look at the bear through my scope, and I certainly could have pulled the trigger when it approached the bait. But I just wasn't 100 percent sure it was a boar.

QUÉBEC THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

As I reflect on my career and all my travels over the past 15 years, I can honestly say that having travelled coast to coast and experiencing some of the Greatest Hunting and Fishing Canada has to offer.

One place however stands out for me, it's a place that has such a diverse assortment of terrain, game and fish that one would have to live 100 years to experience it all!

Mountains, Valleys, wilderness Forests, Sub Arctic Tundra and countless Lakes, Rivers and Wetlands.

Sounds like perhaps British Columbia or even Alberta right? Well it certainly isn't those and in fact it is in the back yard of the most heavily populated areas in Canada, accessible by car, plane or train from Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal!

Those looking for a trip of a lifetime or a close to home fishing or hunting vacation, need look no further than Québec! It's true, many of my most successful and memorable adventures have taken place in Québec. I have been fortunate enough to make Québec trips that had me experience several of my firsts including a Sub Arctic Caribou hunt, Migrating Atlantic Salmon from Ungava Bay and Ptarmigan over the Rock and Willow hills of Nunavik. For you it may be something altogether different, perhaps it's the untapped and awe inspiring Gulf of St Lawrence is a must for anglers looking to tangle with Atlantic salmon and Brook trout as the many tributaries that flow here are pristine and rarely fished. Where scenery is second to none as you can drive the coast and spot Whales breaching along with countless waterfowl opportunities including a massive Snow Goose migration that sees field and waterholes covered hundreds of thousands birds each spring and fall.

The Great Subarctic regions of Nunavik are also a must, fishing for Atlantic salmon, Lake Trout and Brook Trout or hunting Ptarmigan as Caribou walk among you. Black bear are so plentiful that spot and stock hunting here is probably the best in the world!

The western mountains and forests of Québec is literally a closer drive to Toronto and Ottawa (Less than 4 hours) than Wawa or Timmins which can take upwards of 10 hours! Making it the most accessible Moose, Bear, Deer and Walleye, Pike, Bass and Trout fishing paradise in the Country!

Of course the wilds of Québec are something to behold, but there are also some close to home spots that cater to Bass tournaments, Musky enthusiast and those looking for the Biggest Walleye in the world all right off the Banks of Montreal in the St Lawrence River.

These are only a few of the reasons that Québec is a top choice for an incredible hunting or fishing trip. But what if I was to tell you that those aren't the best reasons to Hunt and Fish in Québec?

Yes I will admit that destinations like Jack Hume Adventures, Leaf River Lodge, Domain Shannon are in fact once in a lifetime experiences and incredible places to catch fish and see wildlife but the one thing that every place I visit in Québec has that can't be topped is Hospitality! Oh its true don't let the worry of a language barrier make you hesitate to book a trip to this glorious place. The wonderful outfitters and operators go out of their way to make sure you are looked after, comfortable and well fed.

The meals alone something to behold, home cooked delicacies that will make you think your moms and grandmas have been cheating you all these years! Tourtiere, sugar pie, split pea soup, Pouding Chomeur are just the ones I can remember lol... Honestly though if you are a foodie, or like me just plain ole love to eat, the food and hospitality is reason alone to book a trip with the Québec outfitters association.

The upcoming season is almost upon us and I am looking forward to my next Québec adventure, hmmm what will it be? Arctic char... Laurentide Moose... Chicken Stew Fricot or perhaps Cretons on home baked bread and Montreal pudding for desert?

It's easy to find your ultimate Québec Hunting or fishing experience just visit the Québec Outfitters federation online at www.hunting-fishing.quebec.

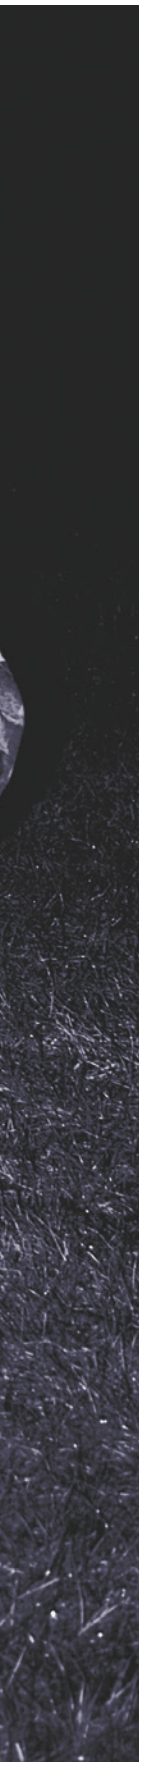

MIKE MILLER, HOST AND PRODUCER
@ANGLERHUNTERTV – WWW.AHTV.COM

"Those looking for a trip of a lifetime or a close to home fishing or hunting vacation, need look no further than Québec!"

“Hunting shouldn’t be about the size of the rack; it’s about the experience and the camaraderie shared in the field and at camp.”

QUÉBEC

THE HUNTING TRADITION

As many of us were growing up, we had the fortune to live or witness the hunting lifestyle; and for some it came early and others found this late in life. There is no doubt anyone who has shared this lifestyle truly understands the values of what God's creation brings to all of us.

There is no better place to witness this than Québec. The people here understand these values and cherish each and everyday spent afield, whether its walking down an old two track anticipating the launch of a grouse erupting from the earths floor, a distance branch snap followed by the grunting of a love sick rutting bull moose, or your heart skips a beat right at that moment you hear the whitetail deer snorting just behind you, knowing you just got busted.

So many opportunities await for all of those that are in search for this truly wild experience. We have personally spent 100's of days in search of many different hunting adventures here in Québec for moose, black bear, whitetail deer and sharing these adventures with millions of viewers through the years and witnessing some of the most spectacular scenic views anywhere.

In today's world it's all about what did it score? What was his age? How far was the shot? We truly feel many have lost sight of the bigger picture. Hunting shouldn't be about the size of the rack; it's about the experience and the camaraderie shared in the field and at camp. Its about seeing that child witness for the first time what hunting is all about, the highs and lows, the physical and emotion demands put on each hunter on every adventure. Hunting is not a video game, it's so much more and the time to get our children in the outdoors is now!

Many can write about an adventure but we need to understand the values of teaching our children the outdoor lifestyle. We, as parents, often expect things to come easy to our kids; we forget we were young once, and more so than ever, today the kids have so many distractions. Getting them to live the outdoor lifestyle, family traditions and being a good steward to the land is not easy, but we can distill all of this at an early age.

Talk more of the experience and what being in the field means to us. Don't worry about the poundage of the bow they are shooting or trying to make them shoot their firearms further. Teach them how to read the tracks, scan the area for sign, and make it fun to find rubs & scrapes. Take them shed hunting and if you have a few old sheds laying around, maybe put them out before hand, so that they find them, to get them even more pumped. We still have the first sheds our son found and oddly enough the two closest to camp, we did not put out.

Create the memories now! Here are some facts, once the kids start getting into the sports and other activities, the drive to continue the hunting and outdoor lifestyle will fade, but as they stabilize in their life's journey, they return to many of the values and the teaching of their parents. In other words, plant the seed early and water it, there will be a time it grows on its own but once roots are stable you will get that call or text and here is what it will say "Hey Dad & Mom, hope all is well, I have a break in my schedule and was wondering if we all could go up to the old deer camp for a few days, and maybe fill a tag or two?"

The CHOICE is up to you! We made ours!

THIS GIANT UNGULATE IS THE KING OF OUR FORESTS AND THE MOST POPULAR ANIMAL TO HUNT IN QUÉBEC. THE MALES USE THEIR HUGE ANTLERS TO INTIMIDATE THEIR RIVALS DURING MATING SEASON IN LATE SEPTEMBER. THAT'S ALSO WHEN THEY ARE MOST VULNERABLE TO HUNTERS.

In-Fisherman TV 2018

IN-FISHERMAN TV › In each show we take you to three different parts of North America to fish for three different fish species—everything from bass and walleyes, to catfish and carp, sturgeon, muskies, pike, trout, salmon, and panfish like white bass, perch, and crappies, along with near-shore saltwater species like redfish and tarpon. We hope to entertain as we offer solid how-to-fish tricks to help you catch more fish.

NEW FOR 2018 › You'll find more timely treatment of show topics, along with twice as many fresh shows—26 shows versus the 13 aired in the past. The topics seen during the first quarter (first three months) for 2018 were shot during the January-through-March (winter) time frame in 2017. To capture the seasonal nature of winter fishing, there's a blend of ice fishing, open-water fishing on rivers, and fishing in regions that don't get ice cover.

That's how it continues throughout the year, with fresh, new season-sensitive show topics for each of the four quarters of the year—winter, early season, summer, and late season. Fresh seasonal programming all year long is a new approach little seen before in outdoor television in North America.

CATCH THE BIGGEST FISH

WARM WATER FISHERIES

THE KEY TO CATCHING THESE FISH IS SPOTTING THEM BEFORE YOU GET TOO CLOSE TO SPOOK THEM AND THEN PRESENTING A BAIT THAT WILL TRIGGER A STRIKE. WARM WATER FISHERIES ARE ALWAYS THE MOST AGGRESSIVE AND IF YOU BLIND CAST YOU WILL CATCH THEM FIRST AND THAT CAN SHUT THE BIG GIRLS DOWN.

NORTHERN PIKE

Pike is an extremely voracious species with powerful jaws featuring nearly 700 teeth. They are generally 50 to 70 cm long and can reach up to a metre when fully mature.

BASS

Smallmouth and largemouth bass are very quick to attack the right lures. They are usually fished for sport, and are almost always released after being caught.

WALLEYE

Walleye is one of the most popular targets for sport fishing in Québec due to its much-loved flavour. It is found mostly in large lakes or large rivers that are also home to pike.

SALMONIDS

"THE WATER IS CLEAR AND SPARKLING, AND THE REGION IS VAST. CLEARLY, THIS IS OUR LAST REMAINING WILDERNESS BASTION OF EASTERN BROOK TROUT AND ATLANTIC SALMON."

ROSS PURNELL, EDITOR/FLY FISHERMAN MAGAZINE

BROOK OR SPECKLED TROUT

The brook trout, or speckled trout, is a combative fish found almost all over Québec, most often in streams, rivers and coldwater lakes. The best way to have the most fun with this species is by going fly-fishing for it.

RAINBOW TROUT

Although famous for its voracious predator's appetite, the rainbow trout is also known for making legendary jumps out of water before surrendering to the net. It is delicious both smoked and fresh.

SALMON AND LANDLOCKED SALMON

Atlantic salmon and landlocked salmon are the same species. However, landlocked salmon lives exclusively in freshwater while atlantic salmon migrate to the sea.

LAKE TROUT (GREY TROUT)

Cautious yet eager, lake trout are often used as trophies once caught. They are mainly present in deep southern lakes, but can also be found in rivers and some shallow lakes in the north.

ARCTIC CHAR

Able to live in both salt water and fresh water, this salmonid species is highly sought after as much for the quality of its flesh as for its combativeness and legendary stamina. Its northern habitat makes it a very important fish for communities in Northern Québec.

PASSIONATE NATURE FANS WHO ARE RIGHT WHERE THEY BELONG!

FOR US, ABITIBI-TÉMISCAMINGUE IS MORE THAN A DESTINATION. IT'S THE ONE PLACE AMONG ALL OTHERS THAT WE'VE CHOSEN TO INHABIT, PROTECT, AND ABOVE ALL, SHARE WITH YOU. IT'S THE ONE PLACE ON EARTH WHERE WE WANT TO BE—EITHER BECAUSE WE WERE BORN HERE AND LOVE THE REGION, OR BECAUSE WE CAME AND HAVE NEVER WANTED TO LEAVE. WE WANT TO HELP YOU DISCOVER OUR PARADISE, WITH ITS FRESHWATER INLAND SEAS TEEMING WITH WALLEYE, NORTHERN PIKE, LAKE TROUT AND SMALLMOUTH BASS AND ITS DENSE, MAJESTIC FORESTS THAT HOUSE BLACK BEARS AND MOOSE. WE WANT TO GIVE YOU A TASTE OF OUR PASSION FOR NATURE!

The key to being an outfitter in Abitibi-Témiscamingue is to care about well-being. First and foremost is the well-being of our precious guests—those of you who are visiting for the first time, or the many repeat visitors we get year after year. We want to offer you unique moments every year—moments when time stops, when you can rest and reconnect with nature. But our job also involves caring for the well-being of nature itself in order to preserve it. We're proud to be working for the sustainable development of our region because nature isn't just our livelihood; it's a close friend that many of us have known since childhood.

What we love about this job is how we get to share our passion for fauna and flora as well as respect for these natural resources. Our greatest pride is seeing the joyful gleam in the eyes of an angler for whom our advice bore fruit, seeing the smile of a child holding their first catch, or hearing the happy laughter of a customer satisfied with their big game hunt.

CÔTE NORD
NATURE, BEYOND MEASURE!

ALL ALONG THE ST. LAWRENCE, FROM TADOUSSAC TO BLANC-SABLON, DISCOVER THE SCALE OF OUR VAST LAND.

FISH

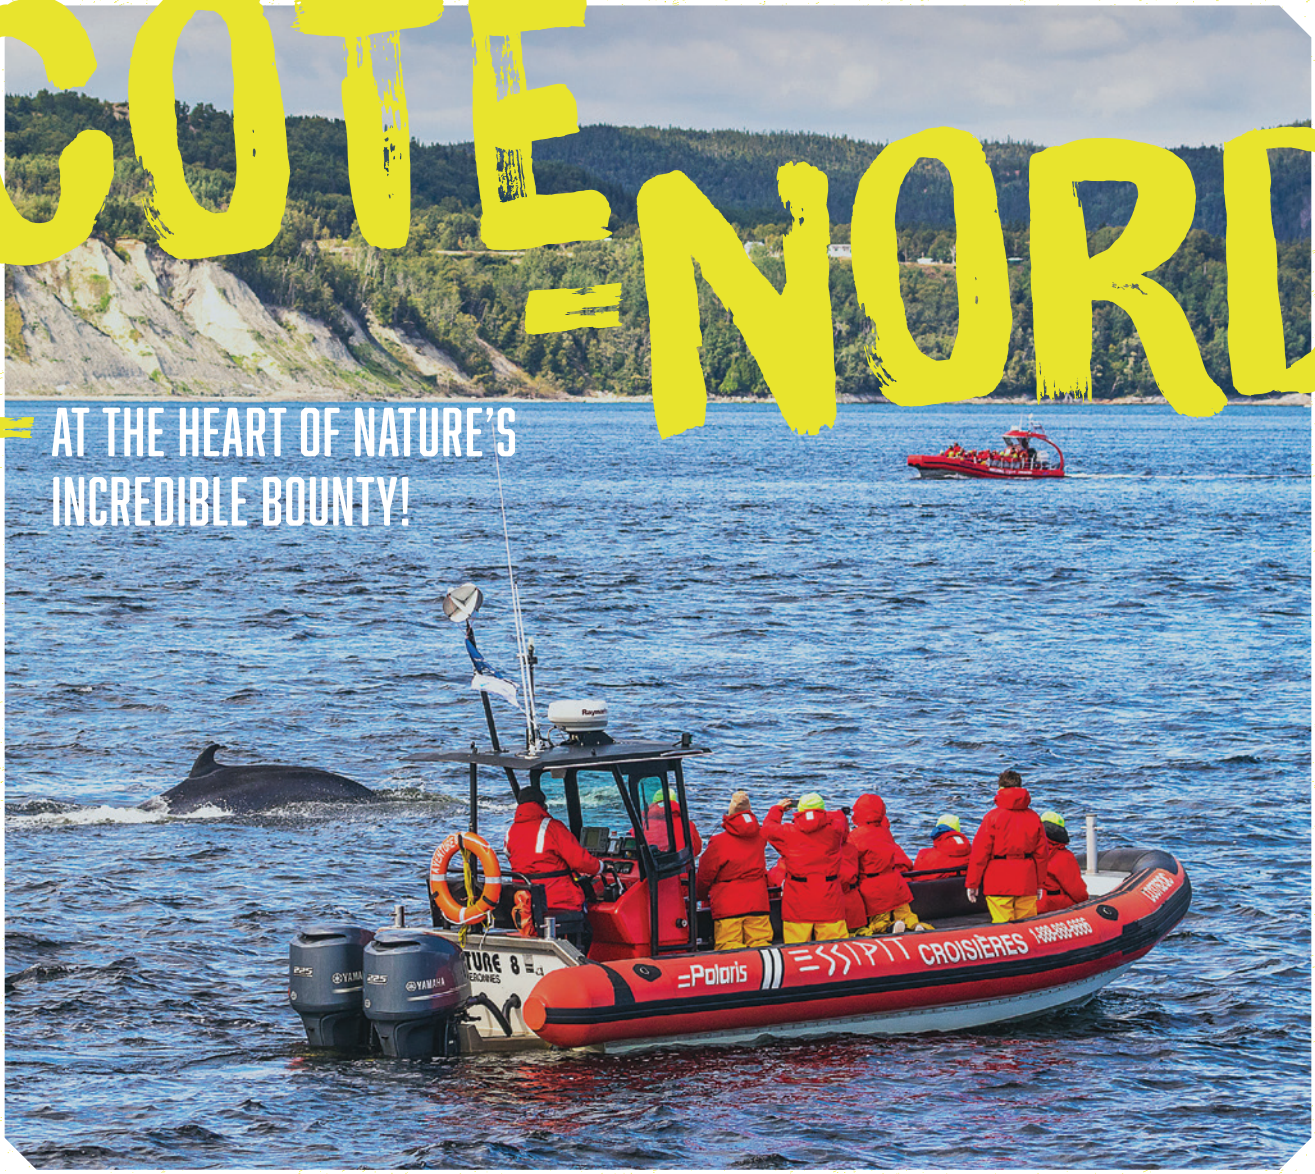

Landlocked salmon, northern pike, lake trout, atlantic salmon, native brook or speckled trout, arctic char (freshwater), sea trout, brown trout, arctic char (anadromous)

HUNT

Black bear, moose, ruffed grouse, spruce grouse, duck, white-tailed deer

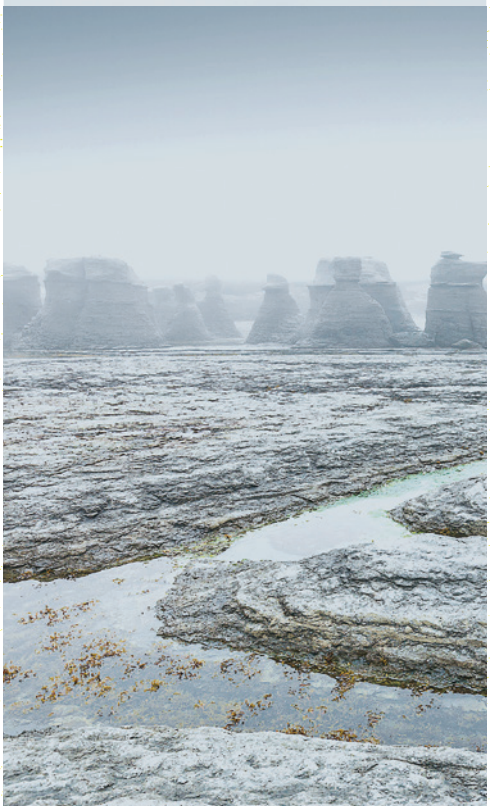

CÔTE-NORD

AT THE HEART OF NATURE'S INCREDIBLE BOUNTY!

THE VAST TERRITORY OF THE CÔTE-NORD REGION STRETCHES FROM TADOUSSAC TO BLANC-SABLON OVER 1,300 KM OF COASTLINE, ALL ALONG THE WHALE ROUTE. BUT ALTHOUGH IT RUNS ALONG THE COAST, THE TERRITORY ALSO GOES A GOOD WAY INLAND AND INCLUDES THE LARGEST ISLAND IN THE PROVINCE, ANTICOSTI ISLAND. AS A RESULT, HUNTING AND FISHING TRIPS IN THE REGION CAN BE EXTREMELY VARIED. AND NO MATTER WHICH AREA YOU CHOOSE, YOU'LL BE FLOORED BY THE EXCEPTIONAL LANDSCAPES—ALL DIFFERENT, BUT ALWAYS BREATHTAKING!

In the Côte-Nord, the majestic St. Lawrence River becomes a marine estuary, then a gulf. Further inland, the boreal forest becomes taiga. Mysterious monoliths on some 40 islands can be seen in the Mingan Archipelago National Park Reserve. And in the midst of all these beautiful vistas are people who will happily welcome you and extend their legendary hospitality.

DREAM TRIP OR MULTI-PURPOSE STAY?

If you choose to travel to the hinterland, you can set yourself up for a dream trip to an isolated area accessible only by plane. Absolutely magical! The Côte-Nord is known for its first-rate fishing. It features thousands of lakes and rivers, but the biggest local stars are definitely its salmon rivers. The region also has plenty of wild lakes where native brook trout has been preserved. And for the best possible success rate, most of the local outfitters have exclusive rights to their area!

If you prefer, you can stick to areas closer to small towns, villages or an Aboriginal community. The hunting and fishing is just as nice there, but you'll have the opportunity to include another unique activity in your stay. Did you know that the Côte-Nord region is one of the world's top spots for whale watching? You can watch these magnificent marine giants from many types of boats or various observation areas on land. Don't miss this spectacular sight!

ANTICOSTI THE MAGNIFICENT

The jewel of the Côte-Nord region is undoubtedly Anticosti Island. With its 7,900 km^2, Anticosti Island is an exceptional hunting ground—essentially, it's every hunter's dream. It is virtually virgin territory with simply breathtaking landscapes, featuring fossils, caves, canyons, waterfalls and, of course, phenomenal flora and fauna. But from a hunter's point of view, the region's greatest natural treasure is undoubtedly the imposing herd of deer that lives there.

The white-tailed deer population on the island is estimated to be 166,000, representing the highest concentration of deer in eastern North America! There are so many deer on the island that the hunting season lasts until December. In addition, hunters are allowed to use any weapon permitted by law at all times. There's no reason not to enjoy this today!

NEW THIS YEAR!

The Outfitters Côte-Nord Association has a brand-new website to help you plan your stay: www.pourvoiries-cotenord.com! Take a look; you'll quickly be sold on the range of possibilities.

For an authentic and memorable stay, or to add some nice catches to your collection, head for Côte-Nord outfitters! Whether you want luxury resort accommodations or more rustic accommodations in the forest, in an urban area or somewhere more secluded, our outfitters promise you'll have a great and peaceful time!

THE BEST HUNTING AND FISHING IN QUÉBEC!

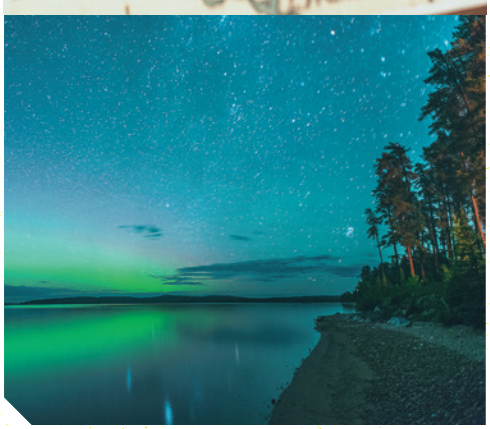

MAURICIE/CENTRE-DU-QUÉBEC

HUNTING AND FISHING ENTHUSIASTS WILL LOVE THE GAME-RICH GROUNDS THAT OUR OUTFITTERS HAVE BRILLIANTLY SET UP. THE MAURICIE REGION IS LOCATED RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF QUÉBEC, HALFWAY BETWEEN THE PROVINCE'S TWO URBAN CENTRES, MONTRÉAL AND QUÉBEC. BUT DON'T EXPECT TO SEE SKYSCRAPERS THERE; RATHER, IT'S ALL FORESTS AS FAR AS THE EYE CAN SEE—COVERING 85% OF THE TERRITORY—AND TENS OF THOUSANDS OF WATER BODIES, INCLUDING THE UNESCO WORLD BIOSPHERE RESERVE SAINT-PIERRE LAKE AND A MASSIVE INLAND SEA: THE GOUIN RESERVOIR. IN ADDITION TO A GREAT HUNTING AND FISHING EXPERIENCE, MAURICIE ALSO HAS PLENTY TO OFFER TO FANS OF THE OUTDOORS, RELAXATION AND CULTURE. BUT DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT— LISTEN TO OUR VALUED GUESTS. HERE ARE THE STORIES THAT FOUR OF THEM HAD TO TELL!

WWW.NATUREMAURICIE.COM/EN.

RICK AND BOB AGAINST THE BLACK BEAR

Bob and Rick, two retirees hailing from New York State, chose our region for their yearly hunting trip in the fall of 2016. These long-time friends were first charmed by the warm Quebecer welcome and the hospitality and know-how of their outfitter host. “Our guide had a real passion and knew the land like the back of his hand,” said Rick, praising the high-quality preparation of their hunting grounds. “We felt that the watchtowers were well placed and the area was well baited. Plus, they were able to take us out there in an ATV, which was great for our old legs,” Bob laughed.

The two men in their sixties appreciated the waiting period in the Québec forest and even took time to name the bears that frequented their site. Nevertheless, they didn’t have to wait very long! By the end of their first day of hunting, they had brought down a large black bear. “It was a really impressive animal, five and a half feet tall! And the size of its feet was just incredible!” Rick added.

After a day filled with emotions, Rick and Bob were more than happy to find themselves once again at the lodge, in front of a warm fire, in the company of a group of hunters. “It was nice to recap our victory and practice our French a little, all over a good meal,” said Rick. Rick and Bob’s quick success hunting black bears meant they could enjoy a day teasing walleye and pike! “Another memorable moment,” Bob added, warmly recommending the Mauricie region to all their hunter and fisher friends.

RICHARD AND MARTIN DISCOVER THE BACK COUNTRY

It wasn’t their first time in Québec when Richard and Martin, two French brothers, vacationed in Mauricie last fall. They had both already visited Québec City and Montréal and already been charmed by Québec hospitality, but they had hardly ever travelled outside of the urban centres.

Their grandfather had been a great storyteller and had, on several occasions, told them tales of his hunting and fishing adventures in Mauricie’s private clubs. So with their imaginations conjuring up visions of the Québec wilderness, they set out for Mauricie. After a barely three-hour journey from the Montréal airport, they reached their Canadian-style chalet: an abode with both rugged charm and modern comforts. “As soon as we got in, some other fishers told us that they had just released a ‘monster’ pike, at least 20 pounds, back into water. That really got us worked up!” said Richard.

The next day, they set out on the water, armed with a map given to them by their outfitter host that helped them locate the best spots to tease big fish. “We got hold of pike and walleye. Fine-looking specimens,” said Martin, confident of having brought back good stories to tell his children and future grand-children who could carry on the family tradition. “The outfitter was very well equipped: big boats, new motors, etc. It made our experience really comfortable, and we felt safe,” Richard added pragmatically.

At the end of the day, the two brothers enjoyed a guided hike on a trail right behind their chalet. The goal: to gather a large variety of forest mushrooms. “Our guide had us taste the fruits of our labour. Delicious!” Martin promised us.

“They told us that there were more than fifty outfitters in the region. We definitely intend to come back with our wives and children so that they too can discover Mauricie, the true nature of Québec,” concluded Richard.

LAND OF THE INUIT

AN AUTHENTIC FISH TALE!

NORD-DU-QUÉBEC/NUNAVIK

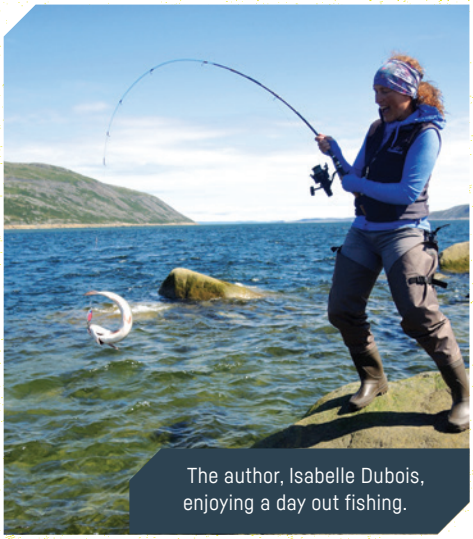

© ISABELLE DUBOIS

BY ISABELLE DUBOIS,
JOURNALIST AMONG THE INUIT

IN 2000, I WAS INVITED ON A PRESS TRIP TO NUNAVIK, IN QUÉBEC'S FAR NORTH. I WAS HOOKED RIGHT AWAY AND, 18 YEARS LATER, I STILL AM, AS HAPPY AMONG INUIT AS A FISH IN WATER. HERE'S MY STORY...

The moment I stepped off the plane in Kuujjuaq–the gateway to Nunavik, the biggest region of Québec, which somehow manages to stay hidden all the way up North of the province– I was struck by the pure air filling my city girl lungs.

The trip by seaplane, which then brought me to the outfitting camp, nestled on the banks of a large river, seemingly in the middle of nowhere, added to my fascination with this northern land. The barren landscape that unfolded before my captivated eyes was so incredible, I had to pinch myself as I got out of the plane to make sure I wasn't dreaming.

When we arrived, the Inuit working at the camp greeted us with radiant smiles. I hadn't even cast my fishing line yet, and already I was charmed. After my first night in this rustic but lovely camp under a starry sky, where northern lights were trying to steal the show from the lingering sun, I gulped down my breakfast, in a hurry to go and take on the famous Arctic char I'd heard so much about.

After a few tries, I finally caught one… and what a catch it was! While it didn't jump right out of the water like the large salmons that are also plentiful in the region, it put up no less of a fight and gave me a run for my money before I was able to pull it onto the riverbank with the help of my Inuk guide, an expert in the matter. The giant at the end of my line must have weighed 15 pounds and I swear I'm not making it up!

© HOOKÉ / STUART DAVIS

Since I wasn't the only one who brought in fish, our Inuit guides took the opportunity to make us a nice meal over the fire, which we savoured with delight right there by the water. Mmm, mamartuq, how delicious! And for dessert, with all the wild berries sprouting out of the ground, the best fruit salad was at arm's length.

On our way back, thanks to our guide's sharp eye, we were lucky enough to see a great white wolf chase a small herd of caribou running beyond the horizon.

Once we returned to the camp, our guides filleted some bright orange char and salmon and laid them out to dry, caressed by the onshore winds.

As night came, the northern summer's never-ending light gave the tundra a dazzling glow. Away from it all, in a landscape marked only by the occasional proudly standing inuksuk, I finally felt I could see life through rose-coloured glasses.

And that's why I never really came back…

COME HAVE YOUR OWN NUNAVIK EXPERIENCE!

Nunavik is still a relatively wild and unexplored region, and yet, the region's lakes, rivers and coastal waters are positively teeming with Atlantic salmon, Arctic char, brook trout, searun trout and lake trout. There is no better place to experience internationally renowned fishing!

And what better way to top off some memorable fishing than with a bit of hunting? Although it is no longer possible to hunt caribou in the region, don't despair: there is plenty of ptarmigan, a fun type of small game, and your hunting dog can come with you to help out. Black bear hunting is also permitted, and even encouraged–as their population grows, they get closer to the villages, becoming worrisome for the Inuit women who gather berries in the surrounding areas.

WIDE OPEN SPACES, PERFECT FISHING AND CREE CULTURE: THE ESCAPE OF YOUR DREAMS GUARANTEED!

©HOOKÉ

DENSE FORESTS, CLEAR LAKES, VAST PRISTINE EXPANSES AND MAGICAL NORTHERN LIGHTS: FOR ANY HUNTER OR FISHERMAN, THE EEYOU ISTCHEE BAIE-JAMES REGION ISN'T JUST ATTRACTIVE— IT'S DOWNRIGHT MYTHICAL. BUT IT'S WITHOUT A DOUBT THE UBIQUITOUS CREE CULTURE AND THE INCREDIBLE FISHING QUALITY THAT MAKE THIS REGION SO UNIQUE. THE ESCAPE YOU'RE DREAMING OF CAN BE FOUND RIGHT HERE, SURROUNDED BY THE SPELLBINDING NORTHERN CHARM THAT ALMOST SEEMS UNREAL.

Dense forests, clear lakes, vast pristine expanses and magical northern lights: for any hunter or fisherman, the Eeyou Istchee Baie-James region isn't just attractive–it's downright mythical. But it's without a doubt the ubiquitous Cree culture and the incredible fishing quality that make this region so unique. The escape you're dreaming of can be found right here, surrounded by the spellbinding northern charm that almost seems unreal.

The Cree have lived on the Eeyou Istchee territory, which they share today with over 16,000 Jamesians, for some 5,000 years. It goes without saying that they know the land inside and out. They invite you to discover it by sharing their way of life: authentic cuisine, distinctive crafts, fabulous ancestral stories and traditional activities. An enriching experience, to say the least! Of course, you can also go hunting and fishing with Cree guides if you want to take full advantage of their unparalleled wisdom.

It's no accident that Aboriginal people have lived here for millennia. This wild region extends from the 49th to the 55th parallel and covers over 350,000 km² of boreal forest, taiga and spectacular landscapes. The immense Lake Mistassini, Québec's largest natural lake, is one of the territory's prized features. It's relatively deep and very fresh waters create the perfect living conditions for lake and brook trout, to the delight of those skilled anglers who regularly bring home trophy catches.

But all of Eeyou Istchee Baie-James's lakes and rivers are teeming with aquatic wildlife. Combative species such as walleye and pike are known to make some colossal catches, and pulling out a 15-pound pike is guaranteed to make lasting memories.

Don't forget that you may just find yourself observing a herd of caribou. Each year, caribou herds leave Nunavik and travel thousands of kilometres in search of new pastures. Getting to cross their path is a unique, even magical opportunity! And while the caribou is no longer hunted in the region, you can try your luck hunting the impressive moose, the cunning black bear or a variety of different small game species.

Your stay at an outfitter can only get better when you take part in multiple outdoor activities: hunting and fishing, but also camping, hiking, canoeing, kayaking or biking. And if you're brave enough to face our harsh winters, you could practice cross-country skiing, snowshoeing or snowmobiling. From January to March, there's enough snow to provide the best quality conditions for any of these northern sports, on over 1,100 km of well-maintained trails!

This region is also one of the best in the world to witness the northern lights since they can be seen at almost any time of the year. No one who's had a chance to watch the polar night sky overrun by a waltz of green, blue and multicoloured lights can ever forget it!

NEW THIS YEAR!

The Lacs-Albanel-Mistassini-et-Waconichi Wildlife Reserve has existed in its current form since 1985 but has been run by the Nibiischii Corporation, a corporation comprised of the Cree Nation of Mistissini, since April 2017.

The reserve's territory covers over 16,000 km² and is home to thousands of lakes as well as several rivers and streams. About twenty species of fish can be found navigating these waters, including our flagship species: the walleye, the northern pike, the brook trout and the lake trout. There's no doubt that fishers will leave with their quotas filled and their memories marked by an incredible fishing experience! Even though hunting isn't allowed, you may come across over thirty species of mammals, including the beaver, the wolf, the otter and the American mink, and about a hundred species of birds, including the spectacular great horned owl and the bald eagle.

In 2017, the Nibiischii Corporation officially took over managing the reserve. Its mission is to develop tourism in the territory by promoting the conservation of plant and animal life and the richness of the Cree culture. This means that the same exceptional fishing experience, complete with fish-filled lakes and loyal and devoted personnel, will be maintained and improved by the vibrant colours of the Cree culture.

Will you be among the brand new wildlife reserve's first clients to enjoy a fishing experience with the highest standards of excellence?

OUTAOUAIS

GO WEST AND GET YOUR TROPHY!

LOCATED AT THE WESTERN END OF THE PROVINCE, NEAR CANADA'S CAPITAL, OTTAWA, AND JUST OVER 200 KM FROM MONTRÉAL, THE LARGEST CITY OF THE PROVINCE OF QUÉBEC, THE OUTAOUAIS REGION OFFERS THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS: THE MOST BEAUTIFUL NATURAL LANDSCAPES RIGHT NEXT TO THE CITY! BUT THAT PROXIMITY DOESN'T MAKE ITS VAST EXPANSES ANY LESS ATTRACTIVE OR WILD—JUST MORE ACCESSIBLE. WITH ITS 20,000 LAKES AND TWO LARGE RESERVOIRS (BASKATONG AND CABONGA), THE REGION IS AN INCREDIBLE ANGLER'S PLAYGROUND. GAME HAS NEARLY 27,000 KM² OF MIXED FOREST TO HIDE IN; IT'S UP TO YOU TO TRACK IT DOWN!

ABUNDANT, HIGH-QUALITY HUNTING

Outaouais is famous for black bear hunting, and it earned this reputation through its outfitters' tradition of excellence.

The reason for this is that black bear hunting is all about patience and proper preparation. Outfitters in the region understand this well, so they pour a lot of effort into setting the stage, weeks in advance, to increase their guests' chances of success. Hunting grounds are baited, and watchtowers are set up so everything is ready when hunters arrive. And the outfitters are so good at what they do that some of them get success rates of around 90%!

The American woodcock is also a prey of choice. Though a little-known and sometimes overlooked pursuit, woodcock hunting can be downright intoxicating. This migratory bird is a master of camouflage, but a small group of savvy hunters can expect to get around 30 opportunities a day. Outfitters' expertise can make all the difference here too. In addition to making sure that the resource is well managed, they provide guides, sometimes with their agile and experienced four-legged companions.

Small game hunting is a great option too. Outaouais lets you pit your skills against spruce grouse, ruffed grouse and snowshoe hare. These clever little animals have plenty of space to hide, which makes it all the more satisfying when you find them! No worries, though—there are so many of them that small game hunting in Outaouais is always action-packed!

PREDATOR FISHING—THE ULTIMATE CHALLENGE!

Fish found in the region include walleye, sauger, pike, whitefish, rainbow trout, brook trout, brown trout, splake, lake sturgeon, landlocked salmon, bass, muskellunge, lake trout and perch; an incredible number of species!

Don't miss the chance to test yourself against the predatory species that swim in our waters! Your fishing trip is sure to feature epic clashes and the satisfaction of pulling out some imposing specimens. Among other species, Outaouais is the home of largemouth and smallmouth bass. These extremely combative species are always in top shape, even during the hottest heat wave!

And you can trust outfitters to give you the best advice for a successful fishing trip and direct access to this bounty. An experienced guide takes you directly to the precious resource—no need to wander blindly up and down a lake. Your outfitter creates the ideal conditions for your quest for the perfect catch.

Visit the Outaouais region for an outstanding fishing trip and plenty of memories!

YOUR LOG CABIN IN OUTAOUAIS —A FULL-COMFORT EXPERIENCE

On top of all this, the region has another significant attraction: its charming hosts at high-quality resort facilities. Top-notch accommodation, peerless advice, access to boats, motors and guides—outfitters are keen to adapt to their guests' preferences to provide them with an exciting and comfortable experience. You can also enjoy a host of other activities during your stay in the region, as a family or with friends: cycling, hiking in the forest, canoeing and relaxing on the beautiful natural beaches surrounding Baskatong Reservoir! Winter also has plenty to offer, including ice fishing, snowmobiling, ATVing, cross-country skiing, dogsledding and snowshoeing.

Come visit us! To learn more about the region and plan your stay, visit WWW.OUTDOOROUTAOUAIS.COM.

PLEASE NOTE
USEFUL INFORMATION

PRICES

Due to fluctuating exchange rates, the prices indicated in this brochure are subject to change. We therefore strongly recommend that you check the exact price when making your reservation with the outfitter of your choice. Prices quoted could include or not include applicable federal and provincial taxes.

FISHING AND HUNTING ZONES

Each outfitting camp operates within a specific fishing and hunting zone. As you read through a given package, you will find the number under which the outfitter is identified and the number of the zone in which it operates. You can then locate the zone and outfitter identification numbers on the maps (pages 046, 047 and 048). For detailed information on hunting and fishing main rules (e.g., zone boundaries), contact the Ministry of Forests, Wildlife and Parks at HTTP://MFFP.GOUV.QC.CA/THE-WILDLIFE/HUNTING-FISHING-TRAPPING/?LANG=EN or 1-866-248-6936.

EXCLUSIVE AND NON-EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS

Exclusive rights: only customers of the outfitter operating on the leased territory are permitted to hunt, fish or trap on that territory. Non-exclusive rights: hunting and fishing activities take place on public territory.

ATTENTION NON-RESIDENT

Special rules apply to non-resident hunters. Don't be caught off guard: get the facts! Before your trip departure, please verify the policies and restrictions of each of the states/provinces you may go across on your way back home regarding meat and/or antlers transportation. Non-residents wishing to fish or hunt north of the 52nd parallel or east of the St. Augustin river (zone 19 south), as well as those hunting black bear, moose and woodcock south of the 52nd parallel (except in wildlife reserves and controlled harvesting zones (ZECs)), must use the service of an outfitter. Non-residents do not have to produce a hunter's certificate to purchase a hunting license. Although they may use a gun, rifle, crossbow or bow to hunt game, they must use a gear authorized for each species and zone. They must also comply with Canadian gun legislation. For information on the use of firearms by a non-resident in Canada, visit HTTP://WWW.RCMP-GRC.GC.CA/CFP-PCAF/INFORMATION/INDEX-ENG.HTM
For information on fishing and hunting rules and restrictions in Québec, visit HTTP://MFFP.GOUV.QC.CA/THE-WILDLIFE/HUNTING-FISHING-TRAPPING/?LANG=EN.

TRIP CANCELLATION

Whether you are dealing with an outfitter or an intermediary, make sure to inquire about cancellation policies and refunds on deposits or full payments. These conditions should appear in the outfitter's brochure or website.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF FISHING AND HUNTING OUTFITTERS

Since they have no control over suppliers, outfitters cannot be held responsible if suppliers fail to provide the services described. In addition to the general conditions stated above, neither intermediaries nor outfitters can be held responsible for any damage, loss, delay, illness, injury or inconvenience arising from:

A. errors, negligence or omissions on the part of other suppliers such as carriers, hotels, etc.;

B. strikes, mechanical failures, quarantine or other restrictive government action, meteorological conditions, or other factors beyond human control such as forest fires;

C. failure on the part of the customer to carry the necessary travel documents;

D. any airport delays on the customer's day of departure, for whatever reason;

E. any material damage, loss of property or theft;

F. illness, injury, or death.

INSURANCE

Most agencies offer trip cancellation, medical, and baggage insurance. For information on such policies, please contact the fishing or hunting agency of your choice. If the trip has not been completely paid for before your departure and you do not intend to settle the bill with cash, it is recommended that you verify whether the outfitter accepts personal cheques, traveller's cheques or the credit card you plan to use.

BAGGAGE

Before departure, you should always check the weight limit on baggage with your airline carrier as well as the fees and policies related to bringing back meat and antlers.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

While every effort is made to comply with published timetables, irregularities in flight operations may occur in some regions due to the weather. Such conditions can also affect the schedule of activities at the outfitter's camp. There is no refund for adjustments to activities resulting from such irregularities.

CODE OF ETHICS AND BASIC PRINCIPLES

Professional ethics are the basic principles of moral conduct and obligations that QOF member outfitters must follow when dealing with society in general, as well as their clients, employees, and colleagues. They also include outfitters' duties to the profession. Each outfitter that becomes a member of the QOF must respect the Federation's Code of Ethics and basic principles. To learn more about the QOF's Code of Ethics, visit

WWW.HUNTING-FISHING.QUEBEC.

SAFETY REGULATIONS

All hunters and anyone accompanying a hunter must wear a fluorescent-orange vest that covers the back, shoulders and chest, and is visible from any angle at all times. A life jacket must be provided for each person using any kind of boat. In addition, all boats must be equipped with a bailer, a sound-signalling device, and a pair of oars.

TRANSPORT AND EXPORT OF FISH AND GAME

Individuals who have in their possession, other than in their place of permanent residence, fish caught while sport fishing, must keep such fish in a condition making it possible to determine the species (enough skin left in place for identification), length (where length limits apply), and number. Non-residents may leave Québec with a quantity of fish equal to the possession limit for each species. Any hunter who has killed a deer, moose, or black bear must immediately detach the appropriate transportation tag from his or her licence and affix it to the animal. The tag must remain attached throughout the registration process and until the animal has been dressed and stored. Where a moose has been bagged by a hunting party, the hunter who killed the animal and any other hunter participating in the hunt must ensure that their transportation tag is also affixed to the animal on the same day it is killed.

DRIVING IN QUÉBEC

By law, all vehicle occupants must wear a seat belt. Turning right on a red light is allowed in most of Québec, but some restrictions apply. Owning or operating a radar detector is strictly prohibited, as well as operating a cell phone that is not hands-free.
