Motoring to Florida is Wonderful Experience

The Weather Here This Winter Makes Florida Sunshine Most Welcome

(by Keith Howden)

Mr. and Mrs. Adam L. Sellar, Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Oney, Miss Mada Oney, Miss Peggy Stark, and Miss Viola Lallemand, all of Huntingdon, are now established residents of North L Street, Lake Worth, Fla., where the temperature during the day is in the high seventies—a far cry from the freezing rain and snow-storms being experienced in Huntingdon now, where the drifts are higher than a car in many sections and everyone is busy keeping a path cleared from their homes to the streets.

Leaving Huntingdon in three cars on January 23rd with the temperature around 15°F., the party anticipated rough travelling in the Adirondacks; the weatherman was in a different frame of mind from now, however, and after leaving Fairview Road in Huntingdon, the wheels of the cars were never on ice or snow during the entire trip.

The first day's travels took the party as far as Kingston, N.Y., at around 6 p.m., after a stop at Elizabethtown for dinner. Leaving there the following day, Sunday, about 9:30 a.m., the cars proceeded to New York City and the New Jersey Turnpike. The turnpike is a through-way for 160 miles, by-passing cities such as New York, New Jersey, Baltimore and Washington, and at night the party reached Richmond, Virginia. By this time one could still see snow in the fields, but the weather was much warmer. It rained off and on almost all day Tuesday and at night the party reached Fayetteville, N.C., and the Betsy Ross Motel, about five miles south of the city. This motel was ultra-modern and each suite contained two double beds, shower and bathroom, television set, individual electric heating system for cold weather and individual air-conditioners for summer. Rooms were at a premium here, however, with the result that a cot was moved into the room and five of the party slept in one room and four in the adjoining apartment. From there, on, however, the writer usually had two double beds to himself each night.

At Fayetteville one of the cars was due for an oil change and was driven back to the city. The following evening, service stations were located every few blocks, but a word about the service should serve to help Huntingdonians realize how lucky they are. The plug in the pan in one of the cars had been tightened too much at the previous change and the threads were stripped; the first service station attendant could not find a wrench to fit the head of the bolt, and tried to remove it with a pair of pliers; after three or four service station attendants had decided it was imprudent to remove the plug, another was tried and he removed the bolt and drained the oil. It took at least another hour to have the car greased—the grease-men were Negroes and although their work was to grease the car, they seemed to prefer anything but the car. The proprietor had to call them back on the job half a dozen times. This seemed quite a contrast to the quick and efficient service obtained at all Huntingdon service stations and garages.

The journey was more than half covered and everyone was exclaiming at the odd patches of green grass, although in places there was still snow on the ground. The country was different from the Chateaugay Valley—instead of farm houses every mile or so, one would drive for miles and then see a large house with a cloister of small, unpainted shacks in the distance. This I was told, would be a white man's house and the shacks housed his Negro employees. Few fences were seen and the main industry is tobacco-growing. Mules instead of horses were used for drawing carts.

The next day's drive was through North and South Carolina to Folkston, Georgia. Georgia represents a contrast to other states traversed in that the roads and bridges are not as good and for miles nothing is encountered except swamp and "tea-field". It is a free-range state; farmers and ranchers do not fence their properties. Their cattle and other livestock are branded and turned loose. About three times a year round-ups take place. Cattle, mules, wild pigs, jack-rabbits, foxes and dogs are perils to the motorist, much the same as in Caughnawaga Indian Reserve, and woe to the unwary motorist who hits a cow. The wild pigs are seen everywhere and these fat little porkers bolt onto the roads in groups. The meat of these animals is edible and is sold cured or smoked in stores. There isn't much reason for a person to starve to death because the rivers and streams abound with fish and frogs and some wild game such as the pigs and rabbits make good eating. At one time alligators were numerous in the swamps and when one is caught the Negroes consider part of the flesh a great delicacy. With civilization the alligators retreated from the main roads but are numerous in swamps a few miles from the highways. Alligator-raising is profitable in Georgia, where the animals are raised for their hides. Road-side stands feature alligator handiwork much as we see apples or berries, etc., at road-side stands in Quebec in season.

At Folkston the party separated with two cars proceeding direct to Lake Worth, where the Sellar car proceeded more leisurely to visit famous Daytona Beach. St. Augustine and in general to traverse a more scenic route near the ocean. Here we said goodbye to Mrs. Etta Herdman who was travelling in the Oney car and who planned to proceed to St. Petersburg by bus on reaching West Palm.

The Sellar car toured through the city of Jacksonville and visited points of interest in that vicinity and proceeded to St. Augustine—the oldest city in the United States—"St. Augustine-by-the-sea" is the full name of the city and it is described as a resort city, mellowed by time with over four centuries of exciting history, charm and romance—it is to the United States what Quebec City is to Canada and Mr. Sellar decided we should spend a few hours sight-seeing. Hiring a one-horse hack something similar to those of Quebec City, but much smaller than the ones seen on Sherbrooke St. near the McGill campus in Montreal, we were off on a two-hour escorted tour of the city. Space will not permit a detailed report but outstanding sights included Hotel Ponce de Leon (gigantic hotel, Spanish-style architecture), Ripley Believe-It-Or-Not Museum, city gates with ancient cannon, the Old Public Market in the center of the city where slaves were bought and sold by British and Americans and where Spaniards traded in general merchandise; the narrowest street in North America (the narrowest in Quebec City is wide enough for a car to pass between the buildings, but this was not); the oldest store, and the nationally famous Fountain of Youth. The Oldest House is located at 14.

Accident Reports

Hit and Run

Dalton Hamilton of Ormstown, had his car parked near the Berlin Inn on January 30th between 8 and 9 p.m. A truck backed into it causing about $150 damage. The driver of the truck drove off without checking to see the engine. Detective Crete is investigating.

Skating at Skating Rink

Irene Hart, age 13, was skating on the public rink at Dalhousie Street, when she fell on the ice resulting in a fracture of the right leg. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lillian Hart, 47 York Street, and the accident happened on January 19th about 8 p.m. She is presently under the care of Dr. F. G. McCrimmon.

Collision

A collision occurred at the intersection of Chateaugay, Bouchette and Hunt Streets on February 2nd at 3:20 p.m. Kelly Campbell of St. Anicet was driving on Bouchette St. north to south and crossing intersection and came into collision with a car driven by Lionel Brault, Huntingdon, driving on Hunter St. west to east. The cars were crossing intersection. Damage to both cars amounted to about $85.

Child Injured

An accident involving a three-year old boy occurred on Lake Street, on February 3rd at about 4 p.m. The boy, Robert James Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elliott, was crossing the street from the Tully Lumber Co. to the other side, when he was struck by a car driven by Arsenie Beaulieu of Huntingdon and owned by Armand Legault of Huntingdon. The car was travelling from north to south. Dr. K. G. Cameron attended the boy and it was found that his collar bone was broken.

Collisions

A collision occurred at the intersection of Church Street and Chateaugay Street, on February 3rd at about 3:45 p.m. Avila Caza of Cazaville, was driving north to south on Church Street and collided with a truck owned by Ludovic Montpetit, Melochville, and driven by Paul Montpetit on Chateaugay Street from east to west. Damage to Caza car $200, no damage to the truck.

Dalton Stark of Glenelg, driving west to east on Chateaugay Street, collided with a parked car outside 20 Chateaugay Street, on February 7th about 3:20 p.m. The parked car belonged to Empire Garage and was driven by Jean Brunette. Damage to the two cars amounted to approximately $225.

Farm Forum Reports

A majority of the Farm Forum groups reporting on the Feb. 1 topic, "Barriers to Trade" expressed themselves in favour of free trade in farm products between the United States and Canada. They feel that the large market in the United States would bring us higher prices for our dairy products, beef, pork, and grains. Those who were opposed to the idea are afraid that our fruit and vegetable growers would suffer, and that Canada might become a dumping ground for American farm produce.

Although a large majority were in favour of removing the trade barriers for farm produce, less than half of the groups reporting wanted to see a customs union between Canada and the United States for all goods. Many groups believe that this might cause American domination, that our manufacturers here would be put out of business, and

Additional Grant Received by County Hospital

Mr. Gilbert MacMillan, Chairman of the Board of Governors of Huntingdon County Hospital, informed The Gleaner on Monday, that he had just received from Mr. H. A. D. Somerville, M.L.A., a cheque for the sum of $2,500 as an additional grant to the Huntingdon County Hospital. This grant is in addition to the regular grant and was secured through Mr. Somerville to aid in the extra costs of the hospital. It is hoped that this will eventually become a permanent grant and which is badly needed by the hospital. The Board is greatly pleased and offers its thanks to Mr. Somerville and the Provincial Government for the additional assistance.

Paper Making Explained

Mr. C. N. Candee Gives Talk to Rotary

Huntingdon Rotarians were given an insight into the paper making industry when Mr. C. N. Candee, Assistant Manager, Howard Smith Paper Mills, Cornwall, Ont., gave them a few highlights on "Pulp and Paper Making". Mr. Candee was introduced by Mr. Gilbert MacMillan and thanked by Mr. Sidney Smith.

Mr. Candee first told that his company made newsprint and the finer grades of paper. There are many fine paper mills in Canada, but Howard Smith Paper Mills now makes any kind of paper made in the newsprint industry is mainly found in Quebec for two main reasons—Wood pulp and power.

Fine paper mills such as that of Howard Smith are usually found closer to the citizen and not so much in the backwoods. It was not necessary for the fine paper mills to be in the backwoods as they used much in the way of chemicals for their various processes. The best papers are made from rags.

Before attempting to explain the various processes in paper making, Mr. Candee handed around a number of samples of paper in its various forms of manufacture. The first was made from groundwood pulp. It is made by grinding the wood fibres after the bark has been removed and which produces a coarse grade of newsprint. Various processes such as unbleached, sulphite, pulp, bleached, Soda Pulp are gone through to produce the finer grades of paper such as used for business forms, etc.

The Cornwall Mill of the company employ about 1600 persons and produces about 220 tons of paper each day. They also make a caustic soda, some of which they use in the paper making, but much of which they sell for other purposes. The wood is cut, chipped and a lignin plant, the latter being a product of the wood fibre which has binding characteristics. The chlorine is used of course for bleaching purposes and to produce the whiteness in paper.

The wood is placed against a grindstone, once the bark has been removed and this takes off the fibres which are used mostly in the manufacture of newsprint. For the unbleached pulp the wood is cut into chips and ground into the pulp. Spruce is used mostly for this purpose and it is bleached by the chemicals. Soda pulp is different in that it uses a different type of wood, more of the hardwood varieties.

The best paper is made from rags and this produces a much finer surface, greater strength and longer lasting type of paper. The talk was most interesting and had time allowed, no doubt Mr. Candee could have related many more interesting facts of the paper making industry.

Notes From The Police Blotter

Vandalism
Police report that the Bosco Camp on an island at Valleyfield, was broken into recently and the furniture and much of the contents badly damaged. Chairs were broken and a piano was very badly damaged, keys ripped out and wires broken, windows broken and many other acts of pure vandalism. Two juveniles were arrested by Det. Crever the past week. The camp is used as children's summer camp and the articles will cost considerable to replace.

REAL OLD-TIMER

VICTORIA, (CP)—Mrs. Agnes Keith, 103, has been confined to bed since she suffered a stroke some months ago but her nurse says she is still interested in things generally.

RECORD NUMBER

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Banff national park welcomed a record total of 663,660 visitors in 1953, reports park superintendent B. I. M. Strong. Of the 291,928 vehicles registering, 20,140 were from the United States.

that our mineral and other resources would be shipped south of the border for manufacturing. Those in support of a customs union stated that we would have a higher standard of living and more efficient industries.

Annual Police Reports Show Many Factors For Study

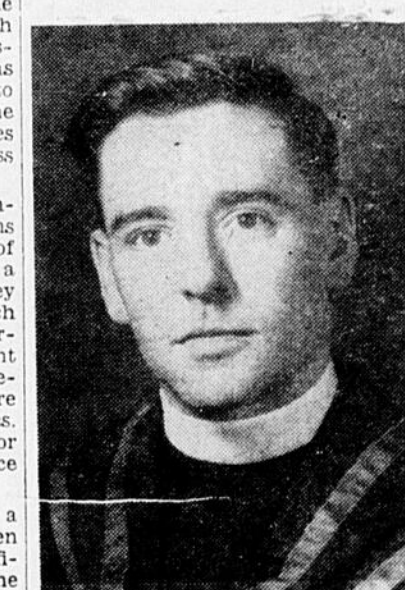

Chateaugay Street Still No. 1 Accident Centre And Menace

The report of the Police and Fire Departments of the Town of Huntingdon for 1953, were handed to members of the Town Council at the last regular meeting, but were not taken up at this meeting. If these reports were studied each year much valuable information could be gained as to whether these departments are doing a good or a bad job and whether there is need for more correction in certain directions. It is noted that since the reports were first started, in 1949, there has been an increase in the number of police calls. As for instance in 1949 the department answered 375 calls; in 1953 457 calls were answered. It is further noted that warnings were given to 310 traffic violators in 1953 and 101 tickets were paid for by violators. This is the highest of the five years.

Of the 32 arrests made, the greatest proportion of the offenders came from the age 16 to 20 group, numbering 13. The next group was 21 to 25 and numbered 7. Thus more than half the arrests were in the low age groups and shows an upsurge in juvenile delinquency. Protection was given to 39 persons in the age from 15 to 25 group, out of a total 79 persons afforded police protection. The protection covered many measures. Theft formed the basis for 21 of the 32 arrests and thus was the greatest common crime of the year. Thirty-four cases were reported involving a total approximate value of $1,696.75 as against a value in 1952 of $7,336.00. Twenty-two of these cases, the solved, while goods recovered amounting to $3,621.55 as against $6,572.00 in 1952. Twelve thefts are still unsolved and among these are two important ones—The Post Office and Lefebvre & Son Regd.

New Minister Inducted at St. Paul's Church, Ormstown

Rev. E. Irvine Johnston, B.A., B.D., Assumes Charge of St. Paul's Congregation

REV. E. IRVINE JOHNSTON, B.A., B.D., recently inducted as St. Paul's United Church, Ormstown

Born at Moultonville, Ont., Mr. Johnston obtained his degrees, Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Divinity at Queen's University. As a student minister he served on various fields in Ontario, Saskatchewan and New York. Upon ordination in 1951, Rev. I. Johnston accepted a combined appointment of the Home Mission Boards of the United and Presbyterian Churches to Inverness, Quebec, which he served until his call to St. Paul's. Through his association with Kagan Boys' Camp, Mr. Johnston had friends in Ormstown prior to his induction.

Impressive Induction Service At St. Paul's United Church

On Wednesday evening, January 27th, 1954, an impressive service was conducted at the St. Paul's United Church, Ormstown, when Rev. E. Irvine Johnston, B.A., B.D., was officially inducted to his charge as minister of the congregation.

Rev. Norman A. McMurray of Wesley United Church, Montreal, and chairman of the Montreal Presbytery, conducted the service of worship, assisted by the Secretary of Presbytery, Dr. R. DeWitt Scott of Montreal.

Rev. Jacques Beaudon of L'Esglise Unie de St. Jacques, Montreal, delivered the sermon, outlining the tasks of both minister and congregation. Mr. Beaudon spoke sincerely and arrestingly, stressing regular attendance for worship a duty and urging sympathetic cooperation with their minister at all times. He also stated, that in making exhortations to his congregation, a minister should include himself.

Rev. W. A. Edwards of Howick, who acted as interim Moderator, related the steps leading to the call and the induction.

Rev. Norman McMurray heard the vows of minister and congregation and declared Rev. I. Johnston officially inducted to the charge.

Mrs. John Wallace contributed a solo, "Green Pastures" and the newly inducted minister pronounced the benediction.

Members of the congregation and

J.C.C. Holds Annual Meeting

On Tuesday, February 2, the Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting to elect officers for the coming year. Mr. Noel Foley acted as President of the elections and presented the slate of officers which was accepted unanimously. Mr. Steve Blondin, Regional President of the J.C.C., acted as chairman. The following is the slate of officers presented for the 1954 season:

President—Mr. George Renaud.
1st Vice President—Mr. Marcel Benoit.
2nd Vice President—Mr. Harold P. Higgins.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Raymond Villeneuve.

Directors—Messrs. Rene Rousselle, Rosario Taillefer, Nelson Brunette, Emile Senecal, Gerald Oumet, Louis Marton.

The next meeting of the J.C.C. will be held on Tuesday, February 16, when new committees will be organized. All young men who are interested are invited to attend this next meeting which will be held in the Legion Hall.

Huntingdon Eighteenth Place

Fire Prevention Contest Shows 719 Entries

A splendid report regarding the 1953 Fire Prevention Week Contests has recently reached Fire Chief J. L'Heureux. It shows that out of 719 Canadian municipalities which competed, Huntingdon obtained Eighteenth place; it obtained Sixth place amongst municipalities in class "B" (population of 2,500 to 5,000) and, finally, Fifth place amongst Quebec municipalities in the same class.

Deputy Fire Commissioner F. X. Ahern sends his congratulations to the Chief and the Fire Brigade and also thanks all citizens for their great support which meant much in Huntingdon, ranking so high. In an earlier letter, the Deputy Fire Commissioner says: "I specially enjoyed the window displays. The one with the coffin has been used throughout North America for a couple of years, and reports from everywhere show that it has produced fine results and it was favourably commented on by officials of the National Fire Protection Association who sponsor the Fire Prevention Week Campaign."

A further letter of congratulations was also received from Mr. C. A. Thomson, Executive Officer of the Dominion Fire Commissioner, at Ottawa.

Citizens of Huntingdon have just cause to feel proud of their Fire Brigade and the great interest that its members take in keeping everything on a high plane. There is no doubt that this concentration on Fire Prevention Week does pay off in greater fire consciousness.

Corrections to Two Reports in Last Issue

We wish to make two corrections in reports which appeared in the last issue of The Gleaner. The first correction is on the item on the man who died on the ice near Fraser's Point. It was reported that State Troopers were present. Evidently this was a mistake and our own Provincial Police Officers were mistaken for State Troopers. Detective A. Crevier and Traffic Officer Ernest Leduc were the officers who went to the scene and conducted the investigation. Both these officers had to travel along the lake shore in very deep snow before reaching the body. Credit therefore is due these two officers for their part in the investigation. The second correction is with regard to the fire west of Cazaville. Mrs. Mae O'Connor was given credit for supplying relief to the family, but she makes a statement as follows: "In the report of the farmhouse destroyed at Cazaville, the head of the household, the Red Cross is Mr. W. E. S. McNair, appointed at a meeting on January 25th, 1954. One of the parties burnt out was a veteran, consequently he came to Rev. W. S. Hatcher for help. We were advised by the neighbors that children's clothing, food and a bookcase were urgently needed. It was through the Veteran's Welfare Committee that assistance was given, of which Rev. W. S. Hatcher is chairman."

Signed
Mae L. O'Connor.
We apologize for any misinformation that may have been given, but accepted the reports as being quite in order. We trust the explanations given here will clear up any misunderstanding there may have been.

Prime Minister St. Laurent Well On In His Round The World Trip

Big Four Foreign Ministers Still Trying to Keep Russia to Original Agenda

Prime Minister St. Laurent after visiting Britain spent two days in Paris this week, leaving Wednesday for Bonn, the capital of the West German Republic.

Mr. St. Laurent, travelling in the RCAF's big C5 transport, had "a very smooth trip" across the Atlantic after boarding the plane at Ottawa last Thursday. In London, on Saturday, he lunched with Prime Minister Churchill, with three cabinet ministers among the guests—R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton, and the Secretary for Commonwealth Relations, Viscount Swinton.

In Paris his official program began Monday when he placed a wreath at the Arc de Triomphe, the tomb of the French Unknown Soldier. His program included a conference at the French foreign ministry and a meeting with permanent representatives at the headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

A visit to a special exhibit of documents relating to Canadian history, in the French national archives, was another feature of the Paris schedule. The Canadian prime minister's visit had been preceded by the statement of a French Foreign Office official that France and Canada, "a country where 30 per cent of the population is of French origin," are linked by tight and cordial bonds.

Big Four Ministers

The Big Four foreign ministers meeting at Berlin went into closed-door sessions Monday with Korea as a subject of discussion. State Secretary Dulles of the U.S. was said to have decided to ask Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov to use his influence in an effort to break the Panmunjom deadlock over a Korean peace conference.

Korea was brought up in connection with the Soviet proposal for a Big Five conference—including Communist China. The United States position is said to be that the American government will reject any five-power conference which is of such character as to recognize the Red China regime as one of the great powers. But it is willing to deal with China on specific and limited issues.

Forecast Recovery

Evidence gathered by the Congressional Economic Committee in Washington suggests the slump in jobs and production in the United States "has begun to level off" and is due these two officers for their part in the investigation. The second correction is with regard to the fire west of Cazaville. Mrs. Mae O'Connor was given credit for supplying relief to the family, but she makes a statement as follows: "In the report of the farmhouse destroyed at Cazaville, the head of the household, the Red Cross is Mr. W. E. S. McNair, appointed at a meeting on January 25th, 1954. One of the parties burnt out was a veteran, consequently he came to Rev. W. S. Hatcher for help. We were advised by the neighbors that children's clothing, food and a bookcase were urgently needed. It was through the Veteran's Welfare Committee that assistance was given, of which Rev. W. S. Hatcher is chairman."

317 YEARS OF CURLING EXPERIENCE AT LACOLLE BONSPIEL

Once again these grand old curlers from Ormstown Curling Club made their appearance at the Lacolle Curling Club Bonspiel for the Blackpool Brokerage Trophy on Wednesday, February 3rd. They showed the usual vim and vigour characteristic of young curlers playing two ten-end games.

These Honorary members of the Lacolle Curling Club never fail to participate in the Lacolle Bonspiel, this being their sixth trip in as many years. They all enjoy very good health despite their ages, and stated when leaving for home that night that they would be back again next year. No doubt these gentlemen are one of the oldest teams participating in active bonspiel play.

The Elder Sale
When we noticed the reference to James T. Elder of Glenelm in Betty Phillips' current "Random Glimpses of the Past," we felt that we had previously heard Gilbert MacMillan refer to that sale.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

We therefore telephoned Gib MacMillan and learned that he not only had knowledge of the James T. Elder sale but that he had acted as the agent in connection with same. In fact, that the Elder cattle shipment was one of three similar sized shipments purchased in this district by E. B. MacFarlane, San Francisco, California; that in each instance, he (Gib MacMillan), had acted as agent for Mr. MacFarlane.

Technically the Elder sale was not the largest sale of purebred Ayrshires ever made in Huntingdon district up to that time (February 1917). The MacMillan and Leggett partnership dissolution sale of some two years before then would have been larger. However, that was a public auction sale so the Elder sale was probably the largest private sale up to that time. It would, in fact, be a notable sale in any normal year, "boom time" sales excepted.

Incidentally the MacMillan and Leggett sale was held at Springfield Farm when Gilbert MacMillan purchased his partner's Matchless Leggett's equity in Springfield Farm. After that sale, Matt

Leggett returned to the United States while Gib MacMillan carried on at Springfield to build up that subsequently internationally famous herd of Ayrshires.

Gib MacMillan confirmed that the Elder-MacFarlane sale price was $7,000.00 for 29 head. However, he told us that the bull and cow mentioned in "Random Glimpses of the Past" were also sold.

The story in that respect being that James T. Elder's asking price was $8,000.00 for the 31 head. Therefore since E. B. MacFarlane only wanted the 29 head the subsequently purchased and would not pay more than $7,000.00 for same, Gib MacMillan purchased the bull and cow referred to at $1,000.00.

It is interesting to note that the general average price of the 29 head sold to E. B. MacFarlane worked out at some $241.00, while the general average price of the 31 head worked out at some $258.00.

Torrs' Mayor
With further reference to the bull and cow purchased by Gib MacMillan, the bull was Torrs' Mayor which subsequently became one of the great Ayrshire sires of this day. Like his famous brother Torrs' Master, Torrs' Mayor was bred by James Benning of Williamstown, Ont.

Gib MacMillan subsequently sold Torrs' Mayor to R. R. Ness of Burnside and the latter, in turn, sold him to Cumming Bros. of Lancaster, Ont., in 1919. It therefore was that Torrs' Mayor's reputation was built up in the Glenelg Ayrshire herd of Cumming Bros.; that he now ranks as one of the many outstanding sires used by that firm.

Maple Leaf Jean
The cow was Maple Leaf Jean which was bred by Dick Pringle of Huntingdon, and she was originally purchased by—James T. Elder from Dick Pringle. In 1918 Gib MacMillan sold her in the Consignment sale at Springfield, Mass., at $750.00, to William Hunter. The latter subsequently sold Maple Leaf Jean to Captain Higginson of Middlesex Meadows at $5,000.00. In that herd she subsequently made a 20,000 lbs. milk record.

Lessnessock Golden Love
Gib MacMillan also recalled that it was at the 1918 Springfield Consignment Sale that he purchased Lessnessock Golden Love, now one of Canada's greatest Ayrshire sires of all times. Likewise Canada's No. 1 Preferential Sire "Three Star".

New Ayrshire Record
His many acquaintances in this district will doubtless be interested in learning that Marshall Cheesman, Ellensburg Depot, N.Y., has bred and developed a National (U.S.A.) Champion senior two year old Ayrshire heifer. That heifer, Clover Crest Roberta, produced 14,172 lbs. milk, 665 lbs. fat, 4.7% in 305 days, on twice daily milkings.

Allan's Corners

ALLAN'S CORNERS—Mrs. Merrill Kerr, Mrs. Helen Peddie, Mrs. Charles Wright and Mrs. Merrill Tannahill were among those to attend a troupeau tea in honour of Miss Audrey McIntyre recently. The wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, February 6th.

Once again death has come to the Rutherford household, the sudden passing of Mrs. George Rutherford. It is with full hearts that once again the sincere sympathy of their friends and neighbours at the Corners is extended in their second loss within a week.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Helen Peddie included Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jamieson and Beatrice of Atholstan, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Peddie.

OBITUARY

THE LATE GORDON S. RUTHERFORD

The community was saddened on Monday morning, January 25th, 1954, when Gordon Seaward Rutherford passed away at his home at Allan's Corners. Although he had been under the doctor's care for some time his death came as a shock to everyone.

Born on August 15, 1919, he was the only son of George Rutherford and the late Ina Elizabeth Seaward. He was a devoted son and brother and had a kind and friendly disposition and was always willing to lend a helping hand.

He is survived by his father and one sister, Vera.

The funeral service was held on Wednesday, January 27, at 2 p.m. from St. Paul's United Church, Ormatown and was conducted by Rev. I. Johnston.

He was carried to his last resting place by Messrs. Lorne Forrester, William McWhinnie, Cameron Bryson, Bruce Hamilton, Ewen MacDougall and Howard Reid.

The floral bearers were Messrs. Gerard Duncan, Ronald Duncan, Leighton Coffin, Ralph Craig, Nelson Tannahill and Robert Lawrence.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Union Cemetery.

6: MEASURING UP

Do you know how tall you are? Of course you do. Or, if you don't know, you can very easily find out. All you have to do is to measure yourself! But there's much more to the story of measuring than you might imagine.

When we measure something, we are finding out how long it is. It is quite simple to measure with a ruler. We may measure in inches or feet or yards. Everyone will know what we mean. The strange thing about measuring, though, is that it isn't always that easy!

The Bible tells us that Noah's Ark was 300 cubits long. It was fifty cubits wide and thirty cubits high. Even though we know how long a "cubit" was, though, we wouldn't be able to tell the length of the Ark. You can ask your mother or father, or a friend, or a neighbour, but they might guess a different length, and be right! For people in Noah's time had no "cubit stick", the way we have a "yard stick" today. All yard sticks are the same length, but everybody's "cubit" was different! The cubit, you see, was the length from your elbow to the tip of your longest finger. We don't use it any more, of course, because it would be very difficult if no two people had the same measures. But people did use "cubits" instead of yards for many years.

Even our yards weren't always all the same! Many hundreds of years ago an English King decided that his people were having too much trouble with their measuring. The yard was then the length of a person's arm, from shoulder to fingers. But the people's arms, naturally, were of all different lengths. The King thought that there should be a yard that was the same for everyone, so he measured his own arm and made yard sticks as copies. This, we think, is the same yard we have today!

We divide our yard into three parts, and each part we call a foot. We divide each foot into twelve, and have inches. But the yard we talk about is still the length of the arm of a King of long ago. We keep a special piece of metal to show just how long his arm was, and that tells us how long our yard sticks should be. Now, we never talk of the old King's arm, we only think of the length of this metal bar.

When we measure very long distances, we speak of miles. There is no "mile stick"—it would be much too long. We know, though, that a mile is exactly 1,760 yards. So we think again of our metal yard and our King's arm. The mileposts that you see along highways should be exactly 1,760 yards apart.

There is another measure that many people use: it is called a "metre" and is a little longer than a yard. We in Canada do not think of metres, but we do use them.

Of course, people don't just measure length. We measure many other things. A thermometer measures how warm things are just as a scale measures how heavy. We have a metal pound, just as we have a metal yard, so that everyone will measure with the same weights. (Think of how difficult it would be if pounds of butter weighed different amounts in different stores!)

You would really be surprised in how many different ways measuring is important today.

NEXT WEEK: Getting Around.

Council Meeting

GODMANCHESTER

The Godmanchester Regular Council meeting was held on Monday, the 1st day of Feb. 1954. Members all present. Mr. Olivier Leblanc, mayor presiding.

His Worship the Mayor was instructed to look into the request of Bernard Picard for permission to cut some trees in front of his property on the Ridge Road.

Honore Legros came before the board stating he is not able to shove the snow back any further along a certain section of the Seignior Line Road, without breaking some fence posts along the property of Robert Milne, as the fence is too close to the road. After some discussion Mr. Legros was ordered to push the snow back.

That this Council pay the General Supply Co. of Canada Ltd. $4,190.00 balance in full on Walter Snow Fighter.

That this Council borrow the sum of $2,000.00 for a term of 6 months to pay current expenses.

The mayor was authorized to sign the Public Assistance Card for the hospitalization of Henry Jones.

The following bills were ordered paid: Marshall Hooker $101.65; W. L. Carr $85.00; Rolfe & Sons $2.45; General Supply $5,000.00; The Bank of Montreal $2.50; James O'Hare $4.00; Rolfe and Sons $1.84; The Canadian B. & C. and Mrs. Jules Dupuy $250.00; Pernand Leblanc $42.25; W. E. Lefebvre $8.02; Myre & Leduc $41.29; Huntingdon Motors Regd. $351.66; Ad. Brice $14.72; Jos. Viat $14.00; The General Supply Co. of Canada $4,190.00; Mrs. Rufus Kelly $12.00; Romeo Robidoux $17.92; The S.W. and P. Co. $11.49.

Activities at St. Joseph's School

On Tuesday afternoon, February 2, Rev. Canon Pigeon read the January marks of the pupils in each and every grade. Congratulations are due those boys who attained high marks. To the others, advice is proffered that they do their best. Here is the list of the pupils who got the highest grades in each class:

The students are enjoying skating and hockey. The weather is indeed favourable, and everyone is thankful.

At 4 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays only, the girls from Notre Dame play Broom-o-la on St. Joseph's ice.

During the evenings (until 8:30) the students who live in town have great fun on the rink. The ice belongs to the country boys at noon hour.

Wedding

BEATTIE-FALLS

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on February 6 at Temple Baptist Church where Marion Margaret Falls, widow of the late Louis William Falls of Windsor, Ontario, became the bride of Robert Fernie Beattie, son of the late George Beattie and of Mrs. Beattie, of Hemmingford, Que. Rev. Benjamin G. Smith conducted the ceremony.

Following the reception, the bride couple left on a honeymoon trip to the United States. For travelling, the bride wore an English tweed suit of blue and white, a black Persian lamb coat and a beige hat.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Beattie will take up residence in Hemmingford, Quebec.

Brooklet

BROOKLET—Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McClatchie attended the funeral of the late Gordon Rutherford of Allan's Corners, Que.

BROOKLET—Mr. David Rankin of Chateaugay, N.Y., spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCracken and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Levers.

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Mr. Henry Wilson. He had been a patient in the Barrie Memorial Hospital for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McClatchie attended the funeral of the late Mrs. George Rutherford of Ormatown, Que.

Mrs. James Netwon of Chateaugay, N.Y., spent Wednesday with Mrs. Fred Sweet.

W.M.S. and W.A.

A joint meeting of the W.M.S. and W.A. of Rennie's United Church was held on Wednesday, February 3, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Mather. Mrs. George Erskine had charge of the devotional exercises which included the singing of two hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Softly and Tenderly." A splendid address, in memory of those members of the congregation who departed this life during the past year, was delivered by Mrs. J. O. Levers, after which a minute of silence was observed. A discussion of ways and means of raising money for the church brought forth a variety of suggested projects. The meeting closed with the repetition of the Mizpah. The hostess, Mrs. Mather, assisted by Miss Kathryn Mather, served delicious refreshments to those present.

BIG RESORT PLANNED

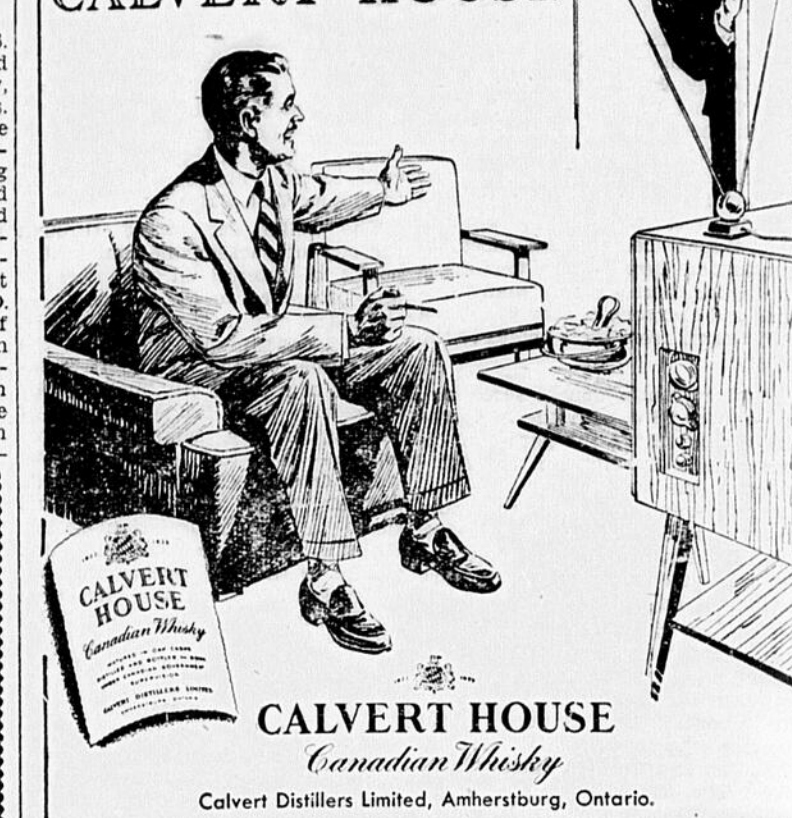

ST. JOHN'S Nfld. (CP)—A group of Newfoundland business men led by former legislature member George MacKinnon plan to build a modern tourist resort near here. Mr. MacKinnon plans to turn his property near Brigus into modern motel cabins with central lounge.

Milk
Powder

When the day's supply of milk is running short, Milk Powder is a real convenience! It's easy to mix a quart or a cupful of milk to add flavour and food value to your cooking. Milk Powder is an excellent, inexpensive source of complete protein, calcium, riboflavin, Vitamin A. In many recipes, you do not need to reliquify Milk Powder: just mix it with the dry ingredients. When using it to drink, you'll find its flavour improves after standing overnight in the refrigerator.

TO RELIQUIFY MILK POWDER:

1. To make 1 cup, sprinkle ¼ cup Milk Powder on 1 cup lukewarm water.
2. Beat or shake until Powder dissolves.
3. Pour into container, cover and store overnight in refrigerator. This improves consistency and flavour.

Editorial Notes...

What Has Happened To It?

JUST the other day, while driving along in a car with a friend, that friend said: What has happened with regard to the new skating rink, we don't hear anymore about it? Another passenger in the car replied with: It has just died a natural death and I don't think we will hear any more about it.

It is not so long since that everyone was talking skating rink and that we would have a new one going in a matter of months. Promise of a grant of $25,000 was also forthcoming. Then suddenly the talk ceased, the propaganda for the project dried up and here we are still waiting for a development.

A project like a skating rink is no easy one to attain to fulfilment without lots of hard work and stick-at-it-ness. Those for it will be bucked by those again it; there will be arguments for and against and until all such are ironed out to the satisfaction of those concerned we shall get nowhere. The matter of a site has to be decided upon and then it must be decided as to whether to proceed with the monies on hand and obtain a mortgage to carry the rest, or if a further campaign shall be made for funds to complete the project.

It has definitely been said that the Town Council cannot include in a referendum the amount required to complete the building of the rink. That being the case, there can be no help from that quarter outside of perhaps a few hundred dollars grant.

Something To Be Decided Upon

ONE thing that Huntingdon is suffering from, is growing pains. Perhaps there has been a slackening off in the past few years, but we have always plenty to catch up on. As a result of these growing pains it is only natural that certain parts of the working system has to be renewed and repaired to meet the extra efforts and strains put upon it.

Like for instance we attach more houses to our sewer system and to our water mains and we soon discover that to give proper service we must enlarge them. We enlarge one part and find it is too small in another. The time has come now however, that in large part we must renew and considerably enlarge the facilities in various parts of Huntingdon, or we cannot continue to give service. Thus it is that several projects that have been held in abeyance for the past few years have now to receive immediate attention. For this purpose it is intended to lump them all into one by-law and to have the by-law presented to the ratepayers to vote for or against having the work proceeded with at a cost of about $117,000.

All these works benefit every ratepayer, whether the work is being done on his particular street or not. To decide the issue, every ratepayer must vote and the number voting and the amount of the assessment involved all count. It will be several weeks yet before a vote can be taken, but it is to be hoped that the ratepayers will see the situation in a proper light and vote in favour. By turning down this by-law many parts of the town will be deprived services that they have either been waiting many years for, or of having improvements to existing facilities. The Town Council has gone as far as it can and must await the final signal from the Town taxpayers as to

It might be possible that such a grant could be made annually and thus help to take care of mortgage repayments. It is quite possible that further assistance could be obtained from the Provincial Government, once a rink was actually built.

Someone has got to keep plugging away with the idea, it must not be allowed to drop at this time, or there will be no rink next year. Now the matter should be pushed all the more and work should be started early this spring in order that a rink will be available for next fall and winter season. The weather has been good this winter, but the operation of an outdoor open rink has been a hard job. We have had the cold weather, but we have also had lots of snow to contend with. Until sufficient funds can be found for a refrigeration plant for artificial ice, a new rink could be operated under the natural process. The ice would stay longer and better in a covered rink than in an open one, if it is properly insulated. We are convinced that Huntingdon can have its rink and now, but it will take courage to go ahead with the plan. It is that courage that appears to be lacking at the moment. Certain plans have fallen around us and we have become discouraged as result. We must formulate new plans and start out again, perhaps our sights are set too high, we may need to lower them, but we certainly do not need to abandon the project altogether as seems now to have happened.

whether they are willing for them to go ahead with the plans and work. Plenty has been said about these projects in the columns of this newspaper, over the past few years, so that all should be quite familiar with what is intended to be done. Every project is needed and will bring relief to a large number of taxpayers both where the work is to be done and in other parts of town that feed into the same sewers.

This will not entirely end the need for public works in Huntingdon, for that would be impossible. But these projects will relieve great pressures on various areas and help to alleviate trouble in our system. The sewer on York Street will probably be the largest in this town and as it is close to end of the line, it will be seen that provision is being made so that it can be made to carry a greater load if required at a later date. This is looking ahead to the future as well as measuring the needs of the present, thus protecting all taxpayers in the case of present investment.

When you are called upon to vote on this issue, remember what it is all about. It is not just a sum of money. It is the future of Huntingdon that is involved, the health of the people and many other things. If our town is going to grow, it is going to cost more to service it and the cost involved is that extra cost of servicing. As it grows it also becomes more revenue producing and thus in time one offsets the other. Our council has done a good job of financing and is confident that our finances will stand this new expenditure and without undue hardship on any individual taxpayer. The council has very carefully considered every point and presents the by-law to the people believing that they will give them the go-ahead signal for their plans to keep Huntingdon among the leading towns.

Stall, Stall, Stall, -- The Russian Maxim

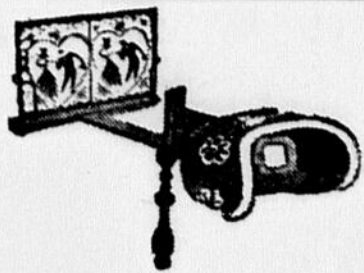

PATIENCE is a virtue around the Western Allies Camp apparently, for once again Russia is using her old stalling tactics with regard to arranging for elections in Germany and peace terms for Austria. It would appear that she has once again thrown everything in the book into the arena and has not come up with a satisfactory agreement for anything.

As far as we are concerned, this is as expected. If Russia for once came up with an agreement that lined up with another's wishes, we would be more suspicious than we are. We cannot understand this attitude or what is intended to lead to. But Russia has been doing this for so long that it is hard to understand that the western patience can tolerate it. Russia agrees to a conference to iron out a way of unification of Germany and a peace for Austria. So far we have not been able to find a single clue that would lead us to believe that such an agreement is anywhere in sight. She wants concessions from the Western leaders that if they could be conceded, would mean placing them in an almost defenceless position and open to attack. We have no doubt whatever, that if they did agree, that Russia would then use the opportunity to plunge a knife right in their backs. There can be no trust of Russia or anything she does until she shows and proves a much different attitude to that seen so far.

China can no longer be considered as a nation of the world with powers of a good government behind it. The present government is made up of rebels fostered by the Communists and run by the Communists. Russia is the recognized head of the Communists and we all know she wishes to have Communism dominate the world. If we concede to China being given rights to sit in on a world peace conference, we are only helping to sign our own death warrants. In other words, peace can be gained very quickly by giving in to all Russian whims and plans. But from that day on the world would be a slave market. We would be under the Communists thumb all the way and our liberties would be lost forever. The other alternative is war and another war would mean the survival of the fittest. We are fast approaching the time when serious decision must be made -- there are too many stalemates in the world and these are being added to. The meeting of the Foreign Ministers is fast developing into another stalemate and one that may be the worst of all so far. It could easily be another Munich.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken from Gleaner Files

February 10

Bushbarrow.—There is now another company anxious to build a chocolate factory here. All this company asks is exemption from taxes. The matter is before the council and is being favourably received. Local News.—A herd of purebred stock over made in Huntingdon was affected last week, when James T. Elder sold his entire herd of Ayrshires, save two, the bull and a cow. The purchaser was E. B. MacFarlane of San Francisco, California. For the twenty-nine head, he paid $7,000.00 cash. They all stood the Tubercular test and left at once for the Pacific coast. It is not long ago that Mr. Elder went into pure-stock, and twenty-one of those sold were of his own raising. He got as much milk as he would from grades, while the animals were of double value, at least owing to their being purebred. He considers he doubled his money by going into pure-stock. Mr. MacFarlane is in the dairy and stock business on a large scale and has bought Ayrshires before in this section.

Howick.—Upwards of $80.00 have been raised for the Belgians by the gatherings held fortnightly in the Hall here.

The Aubrey curling rink has won against Howick for the Jubilee and Governor-General's prizes. There are about forty members in the Howick club.

Measles has been prevalent in some parts of this district all winter and new cases are still appearing. There have been no fatal cases.

St. Martin.—On account of Siberian temperatures and stormy weather, we have no roads. Wood is scarce and so is coal. A couple of cords of hard maple were bought last week at $6.00 a cord and it was not of good quality. There is no coal in the village and quite a few are borrowing a few bags from their neighbours. It is hard to say when we shall have some.

Weekly Review

Homemaker Speaks Out

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Recent rumors and some outspoken warnings of a coming depression must be good news for Moscow, and it is doubtless being promoted by Red and Pink agents who are always feeling the pulse and taking the temperature of our body economic in the hope of detecting some symptom of disease that would call for a political surgical operation.

There is no surer way of promoting a disease than by reducing the patient's resistance to it and telling him he is on his death-bed. The only cure for that psychopathic condition is for the patient to get up out of bed, kick the quack doctors out of doors, and give himself a swift kick in the pants, and go back to work with a determination to live.

The latter pants-treatment was given by "A Steel Worker's Wife" in a letter to the Hamilton, Ontario, Spectator. The letter is a human document, and as it presents a workingman's wife's point of view, it is worth the effort of quoting it in full.

"This is a plea and a warning to the United Steel Workers of America in their negotiations with the Steel Company of Canada for higher wages, etc., to stop and think what disaster they are trying to bring about to that plant.

"They and all concerned have been told again and again that the time has come to use common sense and to understand that products cannot be sold at higher prices in competition with other countries, and it doesn't take much study to figure this out. Why should a few workers remain to draw higher wages while others soon will be walking the streets without bread, if the present trend continues? "Why isn't the union trying to help the company to figure out how to keep all employees, even if it means a four-day week, instead of making things worse with its demands for more money?"

"You all know what happened to the gold mines of the north. Unless you steelworkers wake up it will happen to you. Talk this matter over with your stewards and do not trust to luck that you'll be the one to remain and reap the benefits while others starve. Steico has been good to us and you—A STEEL WORKER'S WIFE."

There is nothing new in this letter, except that it puts in plain home terms what economists and industrialists have been saying all along in technical language and statistics, and it may be an indication that homemakers, who have to bear the brunt of strikes and unemployment, are beginning to examine the pros and cons of labor disputes. It doesn't need an economist to figure out and understand the fact that "products cannot be sold at higher prices in competition with other countries," and that union labor can price itself out of employment.

That applies not only to foreign trade. Hon. R. Douglas Stuart, U.S. ambassador to Canada, speaking in Toronto, put the whole thing in a nutshell when he said: "People create business, support business and enjoy its benefits. The real boss of business is the consumer. When the products of industry cease to satisfy people, they stop buying them and the business goes broke."

Athelstan

W.M.S.

ATHELSTAN.—The Southern Division of the Woman's Missionary Society held its January meeting at the home of the President, The Worshipful Servant, "Wherever the Sun," the theme being "The Church—An Image of the Kingdom." The Treasurer's report of the money raised during the past year was given and proved most gratifying. The special items given by the Christian Stewardship and Temperance Secretaries were most interesting, the respective topics being "Parable Comes Alive" and "Drink a Deadly Factor." The officers for 1954 were all re-elected. An invitation was to be extended to the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church to unite with this Auxiliary for the World Day of Prayer which comes on Friday, March 5th. The Study topic for this meeting was entitled "The Four R's in Europe—Relief, Reconstruction, Rediscovering the Bible, and Reconciliation." This study is based on Chapter 7 of the year's Study Book, "Wherever the Sun," describing work of the "Inner Mission" in Germany, through its network of institutions, general information about Christian Groups in Europe, the vivid description of the formation of the World Council of Churches and the steadfastness of consecrated Christian leaders such as Bishop Berggrav of Norway, Martin Niemöller and others in spite of the difficulties and persecutions they suffered. All of this was informative and impressive. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting, when the hostess served light refreshments.

Evening Auxiliary

The February meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Garnet Green on Thursday night. There was a splendid attendance, sixteen members and five guests. This group has received word that their allocation has been raised to $225.00.

which they hope to reach. The names of Mrs. W. B. Leithard, Presbyterian Hospital Visitor, Montreal and Miss Ida White, R.N., have been received as prayer partners for 1954 and 1955. Reports on last year's activities were heard from Secretary and Treasurer. A Certificate of Life Membership in Women's Missionary Society was presented to Mrs. Wesley Jamieson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Bessie Graham. Mrs. Jas. Hutchings read an extract from Glad Tidings for the lesson.

Powerscourt

POWERSCOURT.—Mrs. Robert Anderson of Fertile Creek, Que., has spent the past week with her sister-in-law, Miss B. Anderson. The two ladies spent Tuesday in Ormstown, Que., visiting several friends.

On account of weather and road conditions, church service was cancelled on Sunday. Not in a long time have there been such snowbanks on the road sides. Should there come a sudden thaw there will be plenty of water around.

Miss Jean Slater, Verdun, Que., and Mrs. W. T. Seagram, Verdun, Que., have returned to their home, having spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Malloux.

Firemen Leaving Nickel At Phone

From now on, there's going to be a nickel beside the telephone in Avon, New York, firehouse.

Six volunteers rushed to the fire hall in response to an alarm. Trouble was, no one had a nickel to telephone the chief to find out where the fire was. Seems Chief George W. Stud-

The Week At Ottawa...

The country won't know about taxation changes until Finance Minister Abbott's budget comes down—likely in March—but it has a clue to the general tax level.

The main estimates presented to the Commons total $4,491,751,000 for government spending in the 1954-55 fiscal year. Non-budget expenses of the federal government that are not included in the estimates would boost government disbursements to $4,895,000,000. These are expenditures for old age security, loans and investments by the government.

With these and any substantial supplementary estimates—which customarily come in through the fiscal year—the total could top beyond the peak of $5,322,000,000 in the wartime year of 1943-44.

Cuts in Defence.—The estimates for the coming year include a reduction of $92,000,000 in direct military expenditures, which total $1,908,000,000. Federal outlays on defence production also are being reduced, and there is a small cut in civil defence spending, making the total of reductions in defence spending in various departments $126,000,000.

Most of the non-defence departments however are looking for more money. The only departments seeking less are fisheries, justice, state and veterans. A reason for the departmental holists generally is the recent wage increase for civil servants. Also, tax-rental payments to provinces are up, and so are family allowances and treasury payments to the CBC.

Pay Boost Assured.—A pay boost for parliamentarians is virtually assured. Following lengthy and sometimes confusing debate on second reading of the government's proposal to increase the annual income of MPs, members of the Commons approved it in principle by 155 to 45.

During the debate there were these developments: 1. The CCF party split on the principle of raising pay. Seven CCF members were in favor, and 15, along with 30 Progressive Conservatives, were opposed.

2. CCF proposals, first to reduce the proposed boost by half and then to eliminate the 102-member Senate from any pay increase, were defeated.

3. A Social Credit amendment, suggesting members be given a choice of taking part or all of the increase, was defeated.

4. The government adopted opposition suggestions to increase penalties for absenteeism.

The increases: MPs and Senators to $10,000 from $6,000; Commons Opposition leader to $15,000 from $10,000; government Senate leader to $10,000 from $7,000; Opposition Senate leader to $7,000 from $4,000. The present government's Senate leader, Hon. Ross Macdonald, will be paid as solicitor-general.

Postal Increases.—The Commons this week began detailed study of the government's bill to increase postal rates by one cent on April 1. A CCF attempt to kill the measure was defeated by 76 to 59 last Friday, and the measure received second reading by a vote of 76 to 58.

ley sounds the alarm from his house after getting fire calls.

As it turned out, the chief arrived at the station six minutes after the firemen and led them to a burning truck.

Mr. Studley says the nickel will be next to the phone now—where everyone can see it.

The increase would bring the cost of a one-ounce letter to five cents instead of four, for mailings between postal districts, and increase it from three to four cents for mailings within a postal district. When these rates go into effect the government proposes to drop the seven-cent domestic airmail rate, and carry all first-class mail by air where that speeds service.

Postmaster-General Cote in closing the debate on second reading said he doubted whether closing postal savings accounts would save the $377,000 it costs to operate them. The $37,000,000 on deposit was available to the government, which might otherwise have to float bank loans costing in turn almost as much as operation of the postal savings accounts.

Western Style.—James H. Gray, former member of the parliamentary press gallery and now editor of the Farm and Ranch Review in Calgary, has sent Finance Minister Abbott a 10-gallon hat.

In an accompanying letter, Mr. Gray said Mr. Abbott often wears a black homburg and generally somber thoughts—something to be avoided at this time of year when Mr. Abbott prepares his budget.

So, said the letter, in the hope that the open-handed spirit of the West may prevail, Mr. Gray sent along the hat. As an extra precaution, he sent another for Miss Doris Bentley, Mr. Abbott's private secretary, with instructions that she wear it around the office to remind Mr. Abbott of that open-handed attitude.

Millionth Immigrant.—The 1,000,000th immigrant since the Second World War should land in Canada this summer, possibly in June.

Arrivals last year, the immigration department said, rose three per cent over 1952 to 168,868, bringing the total since 1946 to 958,146. If past rates of flow of roughly 8,000 a month continue, the 1,000,000th mark will be reached in the next few months.

The peak post-war year for immigration was 1951 when 194,391 persons were admitted.

Living Costs Down.—Living costs declined during December for the third consecutive month, but the drop was the smallest of the year.

The consumer price index in the latest announcement eased to 115.7 from 115.8, pushing the total three-month drop to a full point. The index is based on 1949 prices equaling 100.

As in previous months, declining prices of foods and other commodities outweighed higher prices for rents and other services.

Your stake in the search for Better Health

Everyone has a vital interest in science's efforts to help us live longer. But life insurance policyholders have a special stake in this work.

You see, certain important medical research projects are supported wholly or in part by funds from all the life insurance companies in Canada with their millions of policyholders. As a result, skilled scientists in many Canadian medical research centres can carry on their task of attacking some of mankind's deadliest enemies. Their names: cancer, heart ailments, tuberculosis and polio.

Other vital studies are supported in a similar way. These focus on processes of ageing, cellular growth, dental hygiene, pregnancy complications, thyroid hormones, blood clotting and asthma, to mention but a few.

Will all these efforts help you and your family to live longer, healthier lives?

Yes! Thanks chiefly to the advance of modern medicine, babies born today can expect to live about 20 years longer than those of 50 years ago. Many dread diseases have been banished or controlled. Ahead lies further progress that will surely benefit you and yours.

And, if you are a life insurance policyholder, you also have the satisfaction of knowing you have participated in this program designed to bring the blessings of good health to all!

AT YOUR SERVICE!

A trained life underwriter—representing one of the more than 50 Canadian, British and United States life insurance companies in Canada—will gladly help you plan now for your family's security and your own needs in later years. Rely on him!

"I liked that telephone man, mummy!"

We're glad our telephone man made a hit, Pauline.

Lots of grown-ups tell us the same thing—how courteous and obliging Bell people are.

Whether it's the installer, the operator, or the girl in the business office, Bell people like to make you feel they are glad to be of service.

They know that good telephone service is made even better when they are friendly and considerate... even with little people like five year old Pauline.

Visiting in Missouri
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Bell, owners of The Bell Studio, 88 Wellington Street, arrived in Kansas City, Missouri on Sunday to attend a regional representatives' meeting at the United States Camo Corporation of Kansas City, Missouri. Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Bell toured the plant of the largest producers of school photographs in the world. As many as 800,000 photographic prints a day are produced in the huge plant. While in Kansas City, the Bells were told the 1954 Camo plans which they will in turn give to the Camo photographers in this area upon their return the latter part of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Bell also are sight-seeing in the Heart of America, viewing the huge stockyards, airport and other industries.

In Memoriam

FISHER—In ever loving memory of our dear son and brother, A. B. Edmund J. Fisher, R.C.N.V.R., lost at sea Feb. 10, 1942 — "Died in his country's service".
Mother, sister Ethel, brothers Rufus, Allan and families.

RYAN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. William Ryan, Hemmingford, Que., who passed away February 8th, 1954 — "Mother".

Beside your grave we often stand
With hearts both crushed and sore,
But in the gloom the sweet words come
Not lost, but gone before.
Tonight the stars are gleaming
On another silent grave,
Where sleeps in dreamless slumber
Dear Mary, we loved, but could not save.
May Heaven's winds blow softly
O'er that sweet and hallowed spot
Where two we loved lie sleeping.
God watching from above,
He knows how much we miss you both.
He counts the tears we shed,
So I'll try to be brave, dear mother,
And pray to Him each day
That when He calls us Home to you
Your smiles will guide the way.
Loved and longed for always by Edd and Babe.

Cards of Thanks

Mrs. Ward Donnelly and Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blinn offer their sincere thanks and appreciation to Telephone Pioneers and Company Associates, neighbours and relatives for acts of kindness, sympathy, mass offerings, floral offerings and visits received during our recent bereavement in the loss of a beloved brother and uncle.

Our sincere thanks to the doctors and nurses of the Barrie Memorial Hospital for their care during Patricia's illness. We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during our sad bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cavers and family.

The family of the late Henry E. Wilson extend their sincere thanks to the doctors and nurses of the Barrie Memorial Hospital and to relatives and friends for their kindness shown me during my stay in hospital.

Muriel E. Tanrhill.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Stalker and nurses of the Barrie Memorial Hospital and also to relatives and friends for their kindness shown me during my stay in hospital.

Muriel E. Tanrhill.

The family of the late Leo Duquette wish to express sincere thanks for floral offerings, messages of sympathy and kindness shown them during their bereavement in the death of a beloved husband and father.

Winter Really Here
The almost continuous and heavy snowfall of the past week has brought on a buried look to most places in town at least. The snow plows have piled up huge banks of snow all along the streets and the citizens have added to this by piling up still more. The town resembles tunnelled pathways and the banks are so high in places that one is almost lost to sight. There has been no let up on the snow shovelling job this winter and it looks as if there is more to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin McWhinnie, and their daughter, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Griffith, St. Laurent, Quebec.

Ladies' Curling Club Activities

The interest displayed, and the keen participation in all the games, both by the men and the ladies, make the curling rink a veritable hub of activity. The Ladies' Club games are progressing, with a few more remaining yet to be played. Games of "Doubles" are now in progress for Tuesday nights, and a new "Pringle Trophy" Bonspiel has been drawn-up, with games to be played each Friday, beginning Feb. 12. The Ladies' sheet of ice has also now been marked for "Points" and it is expected that "Point" Competitions will soon be played.

The Thursday afternoon "Bridges" are well attended, and the club is pleased to welcome several new "Associate" members.

On Saturday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, three games of mixed curling were played. This was followed by a Buffet Hot-dish Casserole dinner, the Ladies being the caterers. Needless to say, a large attendance was there to enjoy the various dishes, and the delicious home-made cakes.

More mixed curling was played following the supper. The winners for the day were Miss Pringle, Mrs. Lallemand, Mr. D. Hogg, Mr. W. Hogg.

Mr. Lyle Sparrow's generous gift of a large box of chocolates was enjoyed and appreciated by all the "sweet-tooths".

It is planned that next Saturday will begin a new "Rose-Bowl" Bonspiel for mixed curling. More news of this new competition will follow later.

Ladies Auxiliary
The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion Branch 196 was held at the home of Comrade Mildred Nussey on February 2nd with Comrade Jean McEwen presiding. The Sgt.-at-Arms reported 15 members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Reports from the different committees were given. Proceeds from the food sale held on January 16th were $23.50. It was decided another one be held on March 6th.

Final plans were made for the card party to be held on February 17th in the Legion Hall.

Other discussions of business took place, after which the meeting came to a close.

Games were played, and refreshments were served.

W.C.T.U.
The Frances Willard meeting of the Ormstown W.C.T.U. was pleasantly entertained at the home of the Misses Bazin on Thursday afternoon with Miss M. J. Black presiding.

There were 16 members present. Mrs. John McKell conducted the Worship Service, which opened with the hymn "Saviour, like a Shepherd lead us." The Scripture reading was from Romans 14, and the theme "Bible Wine." The leader quoted several passages of Scripture relating to the good and bad use of wine. Prayer for courage and guidance in this work by Mrs. Patton closed the devotional period.

Necessary business was attended to and reports received, the treasurer reporting the sum of $17.10 being paid as prizes in the National Temperance Study Course. A most interesting paper on the "Life of Frances Willard" was read by Mrs. H. Parkinson prepared by Mrs. A. Anderson.

A Quiz on "What is Gambling?" was conducted by Mrs. A. Greig and answered by 8 members. The findings were that Gambling means gain to a few with no rights of merit or service, at the expense of the many; and that Lotteries are the most wasteful of all methods of financing hospitals because 70 to 80 per cent of expenditures went to the Lottery Administration and prizes, and only 20 to 30 per cent to hospital maintenance. This is the experience of the Irish Sweepstakes.

The sick-visiting committee for February includes Mrs. J. D. Ovens, Mrs. Parkinson and Mrs. Patton.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. R. Younie with Mrs. Greig as joint hostesses.

The Pledge and Benediction in unison followed the 3 verses of the Crusade Hymn closed the meeting. All enjoyed the delicious refreshments served by the hostesses and Miss M. Welch.

HAMBURG

Next time you are shopping for groceries, look at what others are buying and you may be surprised to see that almost everyone has some hamburger in her cart or is asking the butcher for some. It is not so long ago that one spoke of the "lowly hamburger", but that is certainly no longer true. Today, hamburger is better, the quality is very much better and in many families, it is a favourite way of serving beef. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture have some very good suggestions for adding seasonings and sauces to your meat patties. They like to make the patties, pour a sauce made from cream of mushroom or tomato soup over them and serve on a bed of spaghetti, noodles, rice or macaroni.

Tomatoes and hamburger are a good combination and since canned tomatoes are both plentiful and inexpensive, you would be making a big mistake if you did not try them as possible. A sauce made from canned tomatoes, sliced onion and grated cheese would go well with your meat patties and so would your favorite barbecue sauce.

A good variation for meat patties is to put two very thin patties together, sandwich style, with a well-seasoned bread dressing as a filling. Press the bread together and either broil or pan fry them. Meat corn and mushrooms are favourite additions with the home economists and they remind you that green peppers, when they are plentiful and reasonable in price, are very good too. And if you have not yet tried adding ginger, allspice, cloves, sage or horseradish, do experiment with them. You will enjoy trying different combinations and your family will like the results.

Hamburger can be used in many interesting ways. It can be used in a sandwich or as an after skating refreshment or when a group drops in after a hockey game. When your teenagers are entertaining their friends, let them cook their own hamburgers. They could be made up ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator. Then you would put them out tomato juice—that is a party snack that is bound to be popular.

Meat patties are certainly one of the most popular ways to serve hamburger. They are quick and easy to make and when well seasoned, they are as flavourful a main course as many a more expensive meat. Chies Seized QHL Lead by Stopping

Braves 4-1

Chicoutimi, Saguenay moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Quebec Hockey League by turning back Valleyfield Braves 4-1 in a game played at Chicoutimi.

The victory gave Chicoutimi a two-point edge over Montreal Royals, who were idle Thursday.

Valleyfield remained fifth place. Jacques Locas, veteran QHL performer acquired from Springfield earlier in the season, paced the Saguenay with a pair of goals. Sherman White and Defenseman Georges Roy accounted for the others. Jack Irvine got the lone goal for Valleyfield.

White put Chicoutimi ahead 1-0 in the first period on passes from Locas and Stan Smurke. Roy scored from a short range shot in the second. Locas counted with the same duo assisting seconds later.

Irvine averted a Valleyfield shut-out 9-5 in the final period on passes from Jacques Deslauriers and Rolfe Leclerc. Locas added his second goal with less than two minutes remaining to play.

Smurke turned back 17 shots in the Chicoutimi goal, 10 less than Andy Payette of Valleyfield.

Valleyfield: Goal, Payette; defense, Ernest, Irvine, Arnett, Deslauriers, Corrieau, Bougie, Thompson, Kwong, Haworth, Cline, Leclerc.

Chicoutimi: Goal, Hughes; defense, Taillefer, Roy, Lamirande, Deslauriers, Corrieau, Bougie, Thompson, Kwong, Haworth, Cline, Leclerc.

Senators Beat Braves
Ottawa Senators downed Valleyfield Braves 4-1 in a QHL game played at Valleyfield on Sunday, February 7.

A goal by Howie Riopelle at 1:47 of the first period got Ottawa started and Phil Maloney and Alan Kuntz added two more tallies to give the winners a 3-0 lead going into the second.

Valleyfield robbed the Senators of a shutout in the second period when Jack White scored on passes from Roland Leclerc and Georges Bougie. Leo Gravelle fired Ottawa's last marker at 8:34 of the final period on a combination play by Riopelle and Red Johnson.

Ottawa: Goal, Frederick; defense, Copp, Stahan, Arundel, Robertson, Hudson; forwards: Gravelle, Johnson, Blair, Howard Riopelle, Hugh Riopelle, Giessebrecht, Kuntz, Maloney, Foley.

On February 3rd the Ormstown Hockey Club were hosts to the Huntingdon Bombers in the first meeting of these two teams. From the start, play was decidedly rough and both teams were just a little over ambitious with much golfing and battling the puck around. At the 8 minute mark of the first period, Monique scored to put the Bombers in the lead. No more scoring was done in this period, but at the 24 minute mark Beaudin, the Bomber goalie, received a cut on the forehead from a stick during a pile up in his net. Time was called to permit medical attention and with only one minute of playing time left this was added to the second period.

During the second period no scoring was done although both teams were trying hard and only the good work of both goalies prevented the score from running up. During this period many pile ups developed in the Bomber net, it seems that certain players not only try to put the puck in the net but also try to put the goalie in also. At times deliberately skating into him even though he was down on the ice covering the puck. Serious injuries may be received by a goalie at a time like this and it should be realized by the players and they should try to prevent such.

At 5 min. of the third Save tied the score although Ormstown was short handed at the time but at 10 minutes of this point C. Oulmet broke the tie to make it 2-1 for the Bombers. At 11 min. McCall again tied it up by scoring for Ormstown. At the 14 min. mark Monique scored his second goal of the night when after receiving the puck from the Bombers he carried it the length of the rink to make a win for the Bombers. As play ended the score remained at 3-2.

On Friday night, Feb. 5, Howick tied Ormstown met for the second time with Howick trying for a second shut-out having taken the first by a score of 2-0. With the Howick team only having seven players this meant that some had to play full time and it was very amusing to see the players being changed with one team changing one player while at times the opposing team would change 5. Howick deserves much credit in having a team in condition and as well trained that they could play as these players did. With the game ending 4-1 the Howick goalie was only beaten once and then by an almost dead puck that barely cleared the goal line.

On this same night the Bombers met Clydes on St. Joseph's rink in a friendly exhibition game and although playing in a driving snowstorm the players seemed to enjoy themselves. The first two periods were scoreless but late in the third the Bomber took a 2-0 lead which ended the scoring for the game.

A game scheduled for Feb. 7th was awarded the Bombers when Hemmingford were unable to put a team in contest.

AUBREY - RIVERFIELD — The February meeting of the Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. Branch was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Kees on Thursday afternoon with an attendance of eighteen members and one visitor. Mrs. Andrew MacFarlane presided. Meeting opened by singing the Ode and repeating the Collect in unison.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Three ladies were appointed as a nominating committee to arrange the slate of officers for the coming year. Their findings to be presented at the March meeting.

It was agreed to meet with Howick W.I. in October. This will be a joint meeting when a film will be shown and a special speaker will be present. Fuller details of this meeting will be discussed later on. An amusing paper read by Mrs. Arnold McKell entitled "Won't you stay to dinner" was enjoyed by all. Treasurer reported that $700 had been forwarded to the Cerebral Palsy Association. Mrs. Harold Rob-

Motoring to Florida

Saint Francis Street, and there the car stopped and Mrs. Sellar and the writer went through the house and garden while Mr. Sellar loafed in shirt-sleeves in the car, eating oranges which he picked off an overhanging tree and was addressed as Majuh, Cunnel Suh, Mistuh Suh and even President Suh by the passing Negroes. The Oldest House is an original building and tells a human story of everyday life from the early days of North America's first permanent colony. Walls are made of coquina, a native shell formation; floors are of tapia, a shell and lime mixture. Everything in and about the house is ancient. Historians have records of occupants as far back as 1599, but cannot state exactly what year the house was erected. The Oldest House is preserved as an important historic site by the Saint Augustine Historical Society. The gardens in the rear of the house are enclosed by a high wall and contain ancient Spanish and British objects. It was a trip into the past and coming out into the bright sunlight with the hustle and bustle of modern living brought one back to reality too quickly and caused a reluctant feeling to continue on that day.

Returning to the car, we drove across the Bridge of Lions to see the city facing towards the harbor. Later in the afternoon we arrived at Daytona and reserved rooms at a motel. Towards dusk we visited along this famous sand beach. The water here felt about the same as Lake St. Francis in August.

The next morning we drove the remaining 200 miles to West Palm Beach. About half-way we noticed a different type of Palm tree and sure enough, we had reached the belt where coconut palms are as common as maple trees at home. At West Palm Mr. and Mrs. Sellar renewed acquaintances with guests at the Royal Palm Hotel, where they previously spent several winter seasons.

Instead of going directly to Lake Worth (6 miles) we crossed the causeway to Palm Beach and drove towards the beach on beautiful Royal Palm Boulevard, where each palm tree is directly in line with the first and the rows extend as far as the eye can see — at night these trees are illuminated in various colors and the sight is one to remember. Worth Avenue is lined with New York's Fifth Avenue stores and shops and price tags cause ordinary mortals to shudder — however, window-shopping is free and this in itself was an eye-opener and the window displays are sketched and copied the world over. Turning into what appears to be a narrow alley one walks perhaps thirty feet and emerges into another village of shops of the same calibre and so on until almost every type of retail outlet imaginable has been seen. One interesting shop contained nothing except articles made from sea-shells — trees, plants, flowers, etc. — perfectly matched in a manner that must have taken years to find, gather, attach and then shape them into their forms. Another store contained lamps and furniture, etc., made entirely from driftwood.

Reaching Lake Worth via the ocean drive and passing beautiful homes and estates including that of Betty Hutton, we arrived at Lake Worth and found the Oney family had arrived the previous day and were already settled in their new home. Mrs. Herdman had gone directly to St. Petersburg. When we arrived Meta, Peggy and Viola were at the beach. Mr. Oney, who had planned the route, the motels which we would stop and even the restaurants en route, did not give up when he reached his destination but found an apartment for Mr. and Mrs. Sellar as well — the Sellar are at 124 North L Street and the Oneys at 119 on the same street. Next to Mr. Sellar's apartment are Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton from Danville, up the street is a former resident of Valleyfield and around the corner Mr. Burdell, formerly of Malone.

The home at 124 North L is a duplex built three years ago and owned by Mr. Jaczak, who has a piano store in Lake Worth and who travels all over the U.S.A. rebuilding organs. Mr. John Herr is the landlord at 119 North L and he provides income tax service during winter months in Lake Worth — in summer he returns to his home in Detroit where he has been with the U.S. Treasury Department for 26 years. Mr. Sellar's apartment extends to the rear of the house onto a patio. In the garden are grapefruit trees, three varieties of orange trees (Temple, Valencia and Parson Brown), several coconut trees, three banana trees, a Florida cherry tree (taste like sweet peppers), a cumquat tree and a loquat tree. Cumquats are smaller than tangerines but much like an orange, can be peeled or eaten skin and all; loquats are small, like a plum, have seeds about the size of a watermelon, texture of a peach and taste like oranges — very good. I sat and ate loquats and oranges until I couldn't move the first day.

A five-minute walk takes one to the Post Office, shopping centres and theatre districts, yet it is in a quiet and refined residential district. People don't lock their cars or doors — bicycles and toys are left right on the sidewalks — nothing ever disappears. Lake Worth differs from West Palm and Palm Beach in that one sees very few Negroes during the day and never at night.

Five minutes takes one across the causeway to the beach, in a car. This is the big attraction. The water is as warm as the air due to the Gulf Stream and the beach extends for miles. Lake Worth has a permanent population of about 16,000 and this is nearly doubled in winter. It has two newspapers, a weekly and a daily. Winter temperatures average 76.9 high and 58.6 low (December, January, February). Attractions include auction galleries where priceless collections are put up for public auction morning and evening, daily except Sunday; auto races at Palm Beach Speedway; public aquarium where tropical fish are on display and for sale; year-around ocean bathing, boating, fishing; boat races; horseback riding; organized boat trips and picnics up rivers to jungle areas; Greyhound racing; horse racing; polo; golf; night-clubs and theatres. Not least of all these attractions is the friendliness experienced. No one need feel alone or away from home at Lake Worth. Mr. Oney is an ardent wrestler and attends at least twice a week — the writer missed the week-ladies wrestling on Thursday nights but from all accounts this is a great drawing card.

Agriculture is a major industry in Lake Worth district — citrus growing being foremost. Hydroponic Farms, where no soil is used but vegetables are raised in troughs of liquid, account for large exportations of tomatoes. We ate some of these tomatoes; they are large, uniformly round, and taste is excellent. Flowers are also grown for export. There are twenty-five industrial plants in Lake Worth, the largest of which manufactures 92 per cent of all the soluble chlorophyll used in the U.S.A.

A great disadvantage is that the local water supply is not fit to drink. Most people buy five-gallon containers of well water at 60 cents per jar. The term "the good earth" does not apply as one imagines because there is nothing but sand — even lawn grass is next to impossible to grow. Beautiful flowers and shrubs grow in this sandy soil, however, from giant poinsettias and orchids to ornamental trees and shrubs. It is a different country and a different life — no one seems to hurry. I believe there would be more banished fenders on Chateaugay Street in summer than would occur there in a month. People drive slowly and carefully and respect laws — one doesn't see any cowboy driving in towns or cities.

While there the writer had occasion to visit a local garage. The garage mascot was a 6-month-old monkey called "Jeanie". Having been told monkeys were temperamental and were apt to bite at the least provocation, I kept my distance. Jim Hopkins, of Lake Worth, had his car at the garage and he and "Jeanie" were old pals. The monkey would grab hold of Jim's arm and hop to his head and sit there scratching the man's head — looking for fleas, Jim said. Later I told Jim I wanted to get some extra coconuts to bring back home. Here southern courtesy was in full bloom. He drove me to his employer's home (a landscaper) and soon I had more than I needed. He also gave me limes, lemons, oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and a dozen varieties of other local fruits and vegetables.

It would be an easy task to fill this issue with incidents of the trip and expound the glories of Florida but time and space will not permit.

People are asking about the cost of food in Florida. The answer is the same as when one goes to Montreal, you can get a dinner for 25 cents or 25 dollars. At Lucille & Otley's Restaurant, about five miles from Lake Worth at Boynton on the Ocean Drive between Lake Worth and Delray (where the Lunas are at Jack Stewart's site) the menu reads as follows: sirloin steak $2.75, roast prime rib of beef au jus $2, grilled ham and pineapple $1.50, vegetable plate 95c, with choice of three vegetables: mashed potato, orange sweet potato, fresh green beans, sliced tomato, fresh green peas, buttered carrots, hot rolls and butter; coffee, tea, Postum (died of hot). Lemon meringue pie is the specialty of the house and the meringue is at least seven or eight inches deep. At least ten other kinds of pie were being served — my choice was peach pie and I couldn't have gone wrong because Mr. Sellar ordered the lemon meringue and put the meringue on top of mine. Mrs. Sellar ordered rum chiffon and put her ice cream on top of the meringue — my dessert was for a glutton and I ate it all. Margaret Ann stores are similar to any large self-service groceries and food, to me, seemed reasonable — in fact, many every-day requirements were lower.

Electricity is more costly there; food about the same; rents seemed exorbitant but have been much higher. Luxury hotels evidently feel the effect of mushrooming motels and courts because in one multi-million-dollar luxury hotel at Palm Beach only seven rooms were rented one night and half the employees had been temporarily laid off — (the peak season is in February); according to Mr. and Mrs. Sellar, Worth Avenue is not as lavishly lighted as former years and the odd store bore a "to rent" sign. In short, either the influx of northerners isn't as great or they aren't spending money as freely as I anticipated. In my opinion it seemed a lavish display of wealth and wonder.

Looking back, one realizes that billboards were designed as the cynosure of the highways, with the exception of the Jersey Turnpike where this type of advertising was prohibited. These billboards caught

The attention of all and every few minutes one would read one aloud. The highways were all good, even in Georgia. Roadbeds are easy to make in the southern states — coral formation is several feet deep under the sand and this is dug and placed in a lane and heavy rollers pack it; the final step is a two-inch black-top and painting in the lines. Cost of making and maintaining the roads must be low in comparison to costs in Quebec. On the way down one ten-mile stretch in North Carolina was under repair — returning the next week, the road was finished and there was no sign of repair crews or machinery. Another difference from the north was that houses were built on piers, without basements or foundations. As there is no frost to speak of from there on, the only cause for worry is dampness so the houses are built on piers instead of directly on the ground.

Here at the Gleaner Office a plow has just cleared the drive and parking lot they say it has snowed every day since we left. If the people at Lake Worth find it too hot in the sun, I make a standing offer to change places with them at a minute's notice.

Action-Romance In Technicolor

Youth, Action and Color Mingle In "Three Young Texans" Hit

Huntingdon Theatre Friday to Sunday

A trio of youngsters, Mitzi Gaynor, Keefe Braselle and Jeffrey Hunter, give to "Three Young Texans," a different kind of western film which plays at the Huntingdon Theatre Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday continuous from one o'clock, a quality of youth and daring seldom seen in outdoor dramas. Twentieth Century-Fox is to be congratulated on picking these three personable young stars for the leading roles in this outstanding Technicolor release, as none of them had ever appeared in a western picture before they all took to the leather in true cowboy style and proved that they could ride with the same abandon used by the dyed-in-the-wool cowboy stars.

Technicolor Beauty

The Technicolor cameras caught the beauty of the Colorado scenery around Durango and the wide stretches of valley bordering the Rio Grande river, the locale of William MacLeod Raine's story of the west in which Technicolor adds such terrific brilliance.

Exciting Story

In the story, Mitzi is the daughter of a Colorado rancher and Braselle and Hunter are his chief cowhands. The stalwart young men help drive away cattle rustlers and vie for the favors of the vivacious little schemer, who keeps them guessing as to whom she prefers. When Hunter tries to save her father from a menacing gang of Mexican gamblers and train robbers by holding up a train single handed the story takes on dramatic impact and the action gets fast and furious.

$50,000 Temptation

The $50,000 loot is too much of a temptation for Braselle and he tries to get away to California with it. Although suspicion points to Hunter as the train robber the Mexicans think Braselle has the money and when he leads them to the spot where Hunter has hidden the money a fierce gun battle breaks out. Braselle is killed and Hunter is exonerated. Then there's the new twist to the ending, which you will see in the picture.

Other Attraction

Another exciting feature film attraction which will also be given on this "excellent double program" is "Breakdown" co-starring lovely Ann Richards and William Bishop.

$220 Cash Friday

As is usual on Friday nights, some lucky person will have the chance to win two hundred and twenty dollars, just by being in the audience if your name is selected, so make Friday your night at the Huntingdon Theatre.

3rd Feature Sunday

The third feature which is presented each and every Sunday, this week is "Ile Aux Comptos," an extremely exciting feature attraction starring Robert Taylor and beautiful Ava Gardner. This French film is played last in the afternoon and also at the end of the show in the evening.

Council Meeting

HINCHINBROOK COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Hinchinbrook Town Council, was held Monday, Feb. 1, 1954, at 12:30 noon, Mayor A. W. McNaughton presiding. The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Letter was read and filed from S.W. & P. Co. re. a refund for electrical service.

Moved and seconded that Constable J. Brooks be given authority to use his influence in the interests of law and order, at any time in this Municipality.

Moved and seconded the Mayor be authorized to sign a hospitalization card for Jas. Logan.

Three additional hospital cards were on hand to be signed, but they were refused by the Council.

Moved and seconded that the Mayor and Secretary of this Municipality be entitled to have their driveways kept open with the Town's snowplow, whenever necessary. Carried.

The following bills were ordered paid: W. K. Phelps, insurance; $305.56; G. C. Moore, operating snow plow $51.00; G. C. Moore, labor to snow plow $9.45; Everett Lindsay, helper on snow plow $60.00; Wm. McNaughton, snow plow, $49.80; Champlain Oil Co., gas, $137.72; Tom Whitelaw, firing at town garage $15.00; Gab. Langevin, office supplies $3.68; Loyell Graham, mail to Malone and Valleyfield and preparing ditch notices, $17.50; General Supply Co., exchange on battery, $39.48; Shearer's Garage, gas, $4.07; D. S. McColm, gas, $34.64; C. J. Kyle, gas, $25.54; A. L. Levine, coal, $49.16; Rowe Garage, truck parts and labor, $87.51.

Chateaugay

Auxiliary Meeting
CHATEAUGAY — The monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Woman's Missionary Auxiliary was held Wednesday afternoon at the Manse.

Miss R. M. McFarlane, presided. The Worship Service was conducted by Mrs. L. R. Taylor, the subject of her meditation being "Doing good to all men." Mrs. J. Dickenson led the service of praise.

One new member was welcomed. During the business period reports of secretaries were received.

The Card Convener, Mrs. Ernest Smith, had sent two sympathy cards.

The Supply Secretary, Mrs. David Lang, read a letter from Miss Ada Sandell, Severance Hospital, Seoul, Korea, acknowledging receipt of the parcel that had been sent in October.

Mrs. E. R. Richardson read a letter from Mr. M. W. Booth, Stewardship Secretary, asking if the auxiliary would accept the allocation of $325 for 1954. On motion, this amount was accepted.

The Community Friendship Committee had made five calls.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Montreal Presbyterian Church, being held February 17 and 18 in St. James United Church, Montreal, were appointed. These included Mrs. Herbert H. Davies, Mrs. George Lobban and the president. Several other members expressed their intention of attending some of the meetings.

During the Study period, Chapter 7 of Where'er the Sun, dealing with the Church in Europe was taken by Mrs. Douglas Gilmour, which proved interesting and informative.

"The story of the Church in Europe during World War II is one of the most thrilling chapters in Christian history."

Hitter boasted that the Christian Church if given a push would fall like a house of cards, but the Church did not collapse. When asked why they resisted the reply was, "We resist because you are denying God."

Pastor Niemöller, in Germany, Bishop Berggren of Norway and Dr. W. A. Vassett of Holland were persecuted and held in concentration camps for defying the Nazis.

Adjustment and held in concentration camps for defying the Nazis.

The task of the Church in Europe today is four-fold: Relief, Reconstruction, Re-discovering the Bible and Reconciliation.

The formation of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam in 1948 marked the beginning of the work of Reconciliation.

Mrs. Gordon Boyd graciously thanked Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Gilmour.

The meeting closed with the Benediction.

A social half-hour was enjoyed when refreshments were served by Mrs. McCall, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Hill.
