CARMANIA BRINGS MANY PASSENGERS

DISSEMBARKATION ENLIVENED BY OFFICER'S ATTEMPTED PRUSSIANISM.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 9.—The Cunard Line Carmania, with 3,200 returning Canadian soldiers and a civilian passenger list of 251, arrived at four thirty yesterday afternoon and docked an hour later. Three hours after the veterans had all been cleared from the ship and the greater portion had begun the last stage of the journey to their homes.

Disembarkation was somewhat hindered by the thoroughness with which the port medical officer conducted his customary examination of the sick, and was further hindered by some confusion aboard the boat owing to some officers having countermanded the orders issued by the clearing depot command. The despatch of the trains was considerably enlivened by the action of four or five officers on the second Toronto train who thought they should have an entire Pullman to themselves and who strenuously objected when the conducting officer put a number of non-commissioned officers in the vacant berths. The officers protested they could not travel with the men and as the train pulled away they were endeavoring, though somewhat unsuccessfully, to eject the men forcibly. The Carmania brought out a number of distinguished passengers.

SEATTLE STRIKE NOW DWINDLING

CONSERVATIVE LABOR LEADERS EXPECT ENDING IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

Seattle, Wn., Feb. 9.—Conservative labor leaders asserted tonight that when the general strike conference committee of union delegates reassembles tomorrow morning, they would renew the fight to have the sympathetic strike called off and a definite time fixed for its expiration. They were said to believe the strike would come to an end within 24 hours. Street cars on all lines in Seattle operated on an almost normal basis today and traction company officials said the service would be one hundred percent normal before tomorrow.

Indications were, city officials said, that the strike would be broken by the usual drifting away of unions from the committee controlling the strike. "The general strike has been demoralized and will fall," Mayor Ole Hansen said today. "This means a split between decent labor and the Industrial Workers of the World."

Most restaurants had not opened today, being unable to secure supplies. The next meeting of the general strike committee was set for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Tacoma a Strike Off.

Tacoma, Wn., Feb. 9.—The general strike in Tacoma was officially called off this afternoon by the General Strike Committee, effective at eight a.m., tomorrow.

LLOYD GEORGE IS BACK IN LONDON

London, Feb. 9.—Premier Lloyd George, who returned from Paris last night, was engaged early this morning in discussing the labor troubles in the United Kingdom with the Cabinet Ministers and Board of Trade officials. Many meetings of railway workers were in progress during the day for the discussion of labor questions from the national standpoint.

Immediately upon the return of Arthur Henderson from the continent a joint meeting will be held of the Labor Party and trades' unions Parliamentary Committee and other interested bodies to discuss the entire situation.

ALL NATIONS MUST SERVE BOLSHEVIK ARMY.

London, February 8.—The Bolsheviki Government had decided that all persons in Russia, irrespective of nationality, must serve in the Red Army, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

THIRD DIVISION IS IN ENGLAND

FIRST DIVISION MOVING TO FRENCH EMBARKATION PORTS, SECOND FOLLOWS.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 8.—A special cable to the Telegram from London today says:

"I am authorized by Canadian Headquarters in England to state that most of the Third Division is in England and that the remainder is moving today. The division goes to Brest. The First Division is moving down to the French embarkation ports vacated by the Third and Second is following the first division, and the Fourth Division is coming behind."

"The Third Division should reach Canada some time in March, with each of the other divisions about two months behind."

"The railroad strike held up the departure of ten thousand troops for Canada this week. The Twelfth Railway Battalion has sailed. Third and Sixth Battalions following."

"Though a general strike is averted, the railways still remain in bad shape. The tubes and most of the underground lines are still idle. The consequent blockade delays the arrival of troops from France."

LABOR MEMBER'S STRONG APPEAL

URGES BRITISH RAILWAYMEN TO KEEP WITHIN CONSTITUTIONAL LINES.

London, February 9.—At a big meeting of the railwaymen held in the Euston Theatre today, James Henry Thomas, labor member of Parliament and Secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, made a strong appeal to the laborites to keep the labor movement on constitutional lines. It was within their union's power, he said, to say at any time to the State: "Unless you do this we will paralyze commerce."

The workmen, however, Mr. Thomas added, had to consider that their duty of citizenship had a stronger claim than sectional interests; they must always make their sectional claims consistent with their duty as citizens. If they achieved their object at the expense of the State, then they would be destroying their claim to citizenship.

Mr. Thomas said that negotiations upon the whole national programme would be begun February 12th. He appealed to all railwaymen to await the outcome of these negotiations and action by Parliament.

London, February 8.—An official statement issued tonight says the President of the Board of Trade and the Home Secretary today informed a deputation of the licensed vehicle workers' union that until the dispute between the underground railway companies and their employees was settled it was impossible to say whether military lorries would continue to be used to convey the public on Monday or not.

SETTLEMENT ACCELERATED.

Relations Between Italy and Greece Now Much More Cordial.

London, Feb. 8.—(British Wireless Service)—Progress toward a world settlement has been greatly accelerated in the last ten days, according to the Paris correspondent of the Morning Post. He says that the relations between Italy and Greece, are now much more cordial as the result of diplomatic intervention. The conciliatory attitude of Premier Venizelos is declared to have exerted influence far beyond the relations between Italy and Greece.

"The latest indication of this movement toward a mutual understanding," the correspondent adds, "is that the very vexed question of the Dalmatian coast which has caused acute feeling between the Jugo-Slavs and the Italians is approaching settlement. I feel justified in saying that the Dalmatian question can no longer be regarded as likely to give rise to any differences of opinion."

THE CUNARD HEAD INTERVIEWED ON SHIP SHORTAGE

DISCUSSES WITHDRAWAL OF MONSTER VESSELS FROM CANADIAN TROOP SERVICE.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 9.—Sir Ashley Sparks, K. B. E., Director of the Ministry of Shipping and Managing Director of the Cunard Line, who returned on the Carmania from a brief stay in England, discussed the withdrawal of the monster ships from the Canadian troop service, and the shipping situation generally here today. He said the Olympic and Aquitania had been taken from the Halifax route for two outstanding reasons. One was the inferiority of the port of Halifax as compared with New York for ships of the monster type and the other was the necessity of dealing with the return troop movement as a whole, as equitably as possible. The controllers of available shipping were under a very definite obligation to assist in the American homeward movement and in view of this fact it was only logical that the boats should be sent to ports best suited for their reception. When it was suggested that the people of Canada might not take very kindly to the loss of the leviathans, on the ground that the marine risk of operating in and out of Halifax was greater than that involved in operating in and out of New York and that it was difficult not to think that commercial considerations had entered into the decision, Sir Ashley said: "One only has to compare the relative insurance rates in order to prove the contention. But to be more explicit, I had occasion at one time during the war, when we feared a great many submarines were to operate on this side of the Atlantic, to investigate the possibilities of every single port on the Atlantic seaboard on the score of adaptability for handling ships of the Aquitania class. As a result of this investigation I found that there were only two ports on the entire Atlantic seaboard out of which the monster ships could be operated with any degree of safety. These ports were New York and Halifax and of the two, New York is unquestionably superior, chiefly owing to the prevalence of fogs off the Canadian coast."

"The factor of commercialism does not enter into the equation. It is an absolute fact, seemingly little realized abroad as yet, that for the time being commercialism in England is dead. The people of England are wholly engaged at present in repairing a machine, which four and a half years of war had demoralized to a much greater extent than even has been guessed at. I saw no fire, such as that all the time I was in England," and Sir Ashley pointed to the leg fire blazing merrily in the sumptuous drawing room of the Carmania. "And I mention the absence of heat merely to indicate the general lack of creature comforts in English homes today. Some day perhaps the people of Canada, along with the rest of the world will realize the full contribution made by Great Britain in the defeat of the Hun."

"As for the shipping situation it is a very simple one in its general aspect. It is to transport a definite number of human beings from one heavily concentrated centre to the ends of the earth. But like the Israelites the directors of shipping have been set the task of making bricks without straw. There are not enough ships to go round and primarily what is left to be done is to distribute the available space as fairly as possible among the various countries involved. This is precisely what is being done. Canada will receive preferential treatment because of her geographical position and the possibility of using ships bound for New York in the transport of Canadian troops. This is being done in the case of the Baltic, and while not prepared to state definitely that the arrangements will be continued throughout the return troop movement, I think there is every reason for its being done."

"As for myself I have my demobilization papers in my pocket. On February 15th the work of transferring ships from Admiralty to company control will begin. It will be concluded, we hope, by March 1st. But until every man jack of the overseas forces are brought home the British Government will exercise supervision over the disposition of the shipping and will be in a position to override decisions of the companies in case these are regarded as interfering with the expeditious moving of the troops."

HONORABLY ACQUITTED.

Mr. Real LaVerigne, advocate of Montmagny, who was charged with having entered into a conspiracy to defraud the law in connection with exemptions from military service, was found not guilty by Hon. Judge Langelle Saturday morning in the Court of Sessions and honorably acquitted of the accusation laid against him.

FIRE AT ST. MALO.

Private House Badly Gutted On Beauharnois Street.

The home of Mr. Eloi Dumont on Beauharnois street at St. Malo was badly gutted by fire last night when a lamp exploded and the flames spread throughout the wooden building. The house and its contents were damaged to the extent of about $300. The loss is said to be covered by insurance.

DEPTH BOMB WAS FIRST EXPLODED BY F. A. SUTTON

INVENTOR OF GUN FOR DIS- CHARGE INTERESTING PAS- SENGER ON CARMANIA.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 9.—F. A. Sutton, the first man to explode a depth bomb and the inventor of the gun used in their discharge during the latter part of the war was an interesting passenger on the Carmania. With his family he is en route to California where he will permanently reside. Mr. Sutton was attached to the Ordnance Branch of the British Army shortly after the outbreak of the war. He specialized on trench mortars and while at work on these conceived a method of employing bombs in the fighting against the U-boat. He was returned to England where he perfected his appliance as the result of many experiments and when the United States entered the war he was sent out to lend every possible assistance as an expert on trench mortars and the depth charge. Mr. Sutton's gun was of the V type, enabling five bombs to be dropped at once by a destroyer, two from each side and one from the stern. His first idea was to give these guns a range of two miles, but it was found necessary to reduce this to four thousand yards owing to the structure of the destroyers. A contributing factor to the success of his gun was the hydrostatic fuse which he also developed. This precluded the possibility of one depth charge causing the premature explosion of another dropped in the same vicinity. When the depth bombs were first used in 1915, they were exploded by means of a line attached to a buoy which caused a pull upon the bomb when it had reached the desired depth of sixty-five feet. Mr. Sutton when told of the official statement which had been given out last week covering the development of the depth bomb said he was aware some one else had put in a claim as its originator, but that he was quite satisfied. He had put in no counter-claim, but he had been advised by the Admiralty previous to his sailing from England that there was no question as to his being the originator of the most effective weapon developed in the warfare against the submarine. He had lost no sleep over the thing for the reason that the bomb was the thing and not the man who had invented it.

Among the better-known soldiers aboard the Carmania is General Livingston, of the Royal Air Force. General Livingston was stationed at St. Omer, during the years 1914-15 and was largely responsible for the development of the British air force to the state efficiency reached previous to the signing of the armistice. Discussing the future of aviation, General Livingston said there was a lot of "monkey business" going on. There was a great deal more organization to be done than most people imagined, before satisfactory aerial services could be placed in operation.

"I would not credit the report that all the training planes in Canada had been purchased by an American syndicate."

"They knew nothing of the deal in London when I left," said General Livingston, "and I am quite sure something would have been known about it had the project been in the wind."

MERITED PROMOTION.

Constable A. Bigouette Is Made Sergeant On Police Force.

Constable A. Bigouette, of the Mounted Police, No. 13 Station, Limoulin, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant by the Discipline Committee, composed of Mayor Lavigne, Ald. U. Gauvin and Chief Trudel. Sergeant Bigouette has a good record on the police force, having been attached to its strength for the past six years. As a constable on the guard of Central Station in 1914 he did valuable work on one occasion, by his courage and good judgment, averted a serious riot which threatened when several hundred soldiers from Valcartier Camp started to rush the Police Station and deliver some of their comrades who had been taken there by a p.cket. For the past three years he did service in Limoulin Ward and in connection with the recent campaign against those who violated the Scott Act in Limoulin he won praise from Rev. Father Maurice, the pastor of the parish. In Limoulin he has been acting sergeant and his promotion meets with the approval of all his conferees with whom he is very popular.

Constable Joseph Laine, of No. 9 Station, St. Sauveur, was also promoted Sergeant.

DR. EDUARD DAVID IS PRESIDENT OF GERMAN ASSEMBLY

EARLIER REPORT OF CARL KAUTSKY'S ELECTION PROVES ERRONEOUS.

Weimar, Friday, Feb. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Eduard David, for many years one of the leaders of the German Social Democratic Party, today was almost unanimously elected President of the German National Assembly.

Dr. David is one of the under-secretaries of State for Foreign Affairs. A Weimar despatch dated Friday and received Friday night erroneously reported that Carl Kautsky, also an Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, had been elected president of the Assembly. Kautsky is an Independent Socialist and was last reported attending the Socialist conference at Berne.

Dr. David received 374 out of a total of 399 votes, the Independent Socialists withholding their votes. The voting was by ballot and there was considerable confusion when the delegates crowded into the narrow aisles of the theatre to place their votes in the ballot boxes.

Dr. David said that the old German structure had been destroyed and appeared to the Assembly to build up a new and better house in the place of the old one.

Dr. David brought a wave of approval when he said that political self-discipline was a pre-condition to political self-determination and another when he declared that the Assembly should be the headquarters of the free world. Germany was a country ripe for democracy, he continued, but he warned the Assembly that the eyes of millions of people in the world were directed toward it. Germany, he said, could earn the confidence of this world only by rapid creative work and must understand how to bridge the gulf to co-operative understanding. His greeting to Alsace-Lorraine and the declaration that Germany would not stop insisting that it has the right of self-determination evoked a great ovation, as did his reference to the Austrians, whom, he said he hoped to be able to welcome as colleagues.

The Clerical member Fehrenbach, a former president of the Reichstag, the Democrat Hessemann and the Conservative Dietrich were elected vice-presidents. The first two received 374 votes each and Dietrich 326.

MEMORABLE CEREMONY AT ST. COLUMBA OF SILLERY

COMMEMORATION OF REV. FATHER MAGUIRE'S TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF PASTORATE—EVENT GRACED BY PRESENCE OF CARDINAL AND LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

The commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Rev. Father Maguire's pastorate of Sillery Parish was carried out yesterday under the most favorable conditions.

The ceremonies in connection with the event, as was fitting, commenced at 10 o'clock with a Grand Mass, which was attended by His Eminence Cardinal Bégin, the Lieut.-Governor, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, who was born in the parish, Lady Fitzpatrick, Miss Fitzpatrick, Major Pelletier, A.D.C., Hon. Cyrille Delage, Mr. L. Arthur Gauthier, Mayor and the Councilors of the Municipality, etc., etc.

The Church was tastefully decorated and the altar was a blaze of lights, ornamented with the figures "25". His Eminence the Cardinal was seated on his throne and a number of priests occupied seats in the sanctuary, amongst them were Messrs. Rouleau, Principal of the Normal School, Rev. Father St. Pierre, Abbe Pagnon, Rev. Father Costello, C.S.S.R., Abbe Brunet, of the Sacred Heart, Abbe Martel, of the Sacred Heart, Abbe Donaldson, of the Sacred Heart.

The Grand Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Maguire, assisted by Abbe J. B. Derome, and Abbe Blanchet, as deacon and sub-deacon respectively. Abbe Martel was master of ceremonies.

The sermon was preached by the Rev. Father A. Vachon, who spoke in French and English. In the course of his remarks Father Vachon drew a vivid picture of the young life of the St. Martin depicting how the call came to him to become one of God's servants, the prompt reply to this invitation of the Divine Master, and of his subsequent work in His service.

At the conclusion of the Service a congratulatory address and a purse containing between $300 and $500 were presented to Father Maguire on behalf of the parishioners by the Churchwardens, Dr. A. Lavoie and Mr.

Michael McCormick, the former reading the address in French and the latter in English.

Address. Most Reverend Father,

Faint echoes of the twenty-fifth anniversary of your priestly consecration are still lingering in the air, like the strains of a sweet symphony and again, we throng around you to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of your nomination as pastor of this prosperous parish of St. Columba of Sillery which prides itself not merely in its historical records, but on the antiquity of its origin.

The first monuments to your zeal, ability, and artistic talent, are the church-grounds, so beautifully laid out in greenward and pathways, and the solid majestic church-portal, both of which are a source of legitimate pride to the parishioners at large, and an object of admiration to every passer-by.

The renovation of God's holy temple then called your attention, and was accomplished with so much art and skill as to exceed our anticipations. It was with your wonted tact and discretion, your usual kindly and courteous manner that you elicited the interest of the community and of your many friends far and near in zealous enterprise. How spontaneously all responded to your gracious appeal for pecuniary funds, the work is there to attest.

Reverend Father, that you should have made this once humble little church and its environs a thing of beauty, the boast of the parishioners, and the admiration of tourists, is something indeed to be eternally grateful for. Yet, as in this valley of tears

Thoughts sink deepest that are born of sorrow Chords speak longest when sad strains they borrow From the touch of grief, So the impression conveyed by the sight of our once sadly neglected cemetery now so greatly improved by your endeavors, has lovingly and indelibly stamped your memory on every heart and home in the parish. No longer are we loathe as erst we were, to consign the cherished remains of our loved ones gone before, to that last resting place in God's care, now become the pride of the parish and the rival of every other burial ground throughout this city.

The material prosperity of the parish has not been your only care and concern Reverend Father, for dearer than the apple of your eye has been to you every one of the souls committed to your trust, or brought within reach of your influence by Divine Providence. Like unto the Divine Master in whose footsteps you ever tread, you seem to allot most of your time to suffering humanity. What solace and comfort dispensed to the sick and the afflicted, and what timely help given to the weary and sin-laden souls. Not the least among the blessings vouchsafed by Heaven to you, Father, and to the parish, is the assistance, ever so friendly and opportune, rendered these many long years by Reverend Father Garneau one of the most able, worthy, and distinguished members of the Clergy of Quebec. We here feel his absence all the more on this occasion as he has always taken a very active part in our ceremonies and celebrations. Being with us in spirit as he surely is to-day we do not consider him as wholly absent.

Would not our cherished little ones resent the omission of the great benefit and blessing brought home to them as well as to ourselves. Did we not mention the great impetus you gave to the cause of education when you placed our schools under the direction of the Religious of Jesus Mary, and your constant solicitude and devotedness on their behalf? This enumeration of your good deeds in the parish is surely far from complete Reverend Father, but we must leave it to God and his Angels to fill up the blank.

It now remains for us, Reverend Father to testify to the death and sincerity of our grateful feelings and our entire appreciation of your great administrative ability, your personal merits, and the influence of exem-

MONTREAL FORMS ANOTHER UNION

CIVIL EMPLOYEES AT COURT HOUSE HOLD ORGANIZATION MEETING.

Montreal, Feb. 9.—The civil employees at the Court House have decided to form a union. On Saturday afternoon about 150 of their number, representing every branch of the service, including employees at the jail, assembled in the Auditorium Hall, Ontario Street West, to discuss plans of organization. J. Aime Mignault, Deputy-Collector of Provincial Revenue, presided. It was said at the outset that there was to be no attempt to foment a strike, nor were there to be any steps towards affiliation with any labor union. The expressed purpose of the union organization was to enable the men to meet in a social way, to exchange views among members of the several sections of the service here and in other parts of the Province, and to co-operate for the betterment of their positions. Especially a desire was manifested for the formation of a pension fund in which every branch might share. Other objects aimed at will be the classification of salaries according to qualification and promotion by merit.

COUNCIL DECIDES ARMISTICE TERMS

MORE SEVERE CONDITIONS RENDERED NECESSARY BY GERMANY'S ATTITUDE.

Paris, February 9.—(Havas)—The Supreme War Council is reported to have reached a decision at yesterday's meeting that it was necessary to impose more severe conditions upon Germany for the renewal of the armistice because of Germany's attitude toward the fulfillment of her obligations. Decisions are also said to have been reached for the control of German demobilization and of the production of plants formerly engaged in producing war material.

It is expected that the means for securing the execution of the conditions laid down will be reached at Monday's session of the Council.

The Supreme War Council continued its discussion of the terms for a renewal of the armistice today. The following official communication with respect to the negotiations was issued this afternoon:

"The Supreme War Council met this afternoon from three to five o'clock at the Quai D'Orsay. The discussion of the terms of the renewal of the armistice was continued. The following resolution proposed by President Wilson was approved:

"First—Under present conditions many questions not primarily of military character which are arising daily and which are bound to become of increasing importance as time passes, should be dealt with on behalf of the United States and the Allies by civilian representatives of these governments experienced in such questions as finance, food, blockade control, shipping raw materials.

"Second—To accomplish this, there shall be constituted at Paris a supreme economic council to deal with such matters for the period of the armistice. The council shall absorb or replace all such other existing inter-Allied bodies and their powers, as it may determine from time to time. The economic council shall consist of not more than five representatives of each interested government.

"Third—There shall be added to the present international permanent armistice commission a civilian representative of each Government who shall consult with the Allied High Command, but who may report direct to the Supreme Economic Council.

"The next meeting will take place on Monday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon."

WILHELM SILENT.

May Issue Statement Later But Cannot See Newspapers Now.

Paris, Feb. 8.—Former Emperor William may issue a statement and see correspondents at some date in the future, but at the present time he cannot receive newspapers. This is contained in a letter from Count von Benteck, he former ruler's host, to the Paris correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia, of Rome, who had requested an interview.

The Count says that the former Emperor recently refused to see American and British correspondents as he wishes to live henceforth as a private citizen. The letter concludes: "For the moment, the Emperor said, it is fitting to observe silence. The day will come when I ought to speak and shall."

BUSINESS OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE IS WELL ADVANCED

DOZENS OF COMMISSIONS AT WORK WITH AN UNPRECEDENTED ENERGY.

Paris, February 9.—(By The Associated Press)—The week begins with the business of the Peace Conference well advanced. Dozens of commissions are at work with an energy never seen in former international conferences.

First in interest and importance, because of the fundamental nature of its task, the commission on the society of nations is now awaiting what is termed "clarification" of two sections of the great projects which appear to have been adopted without a really clear and unanimous understanding of their scope. While this statement is regarded in some quarters as a rather peculiar confession on the part of the trained diplomats, it is cited as justification for the declaration by the committee to make public the text of any of the articles it has approved until all the work is completed and beyond the necessity of revision, in the light of action of the other sections. A sub-committee is unravelling the tangled skein of diplomatic carbiage and it is hoped will clear it up at a meeting tomorrow by the substitution of phraseology that will enable the commission to resume its work very soon.

In view of the official assurances that the work was being done with complete unanimity, no doubt can be entertained that the plan will be ready for action by a preliminary meeting to be conferred before the end of the week. Nearly all the nations are being now represented on the special commission framing it and from this it is assumed that they have already practically committed their governments to support a measure which comes up for final approval by the conference.

The fate of the measure does not depend upon a majority vote. The powers accepting the plan, whatever may be their number, will go ahead with the organization of the society. If there should be dissenters, they will be left out until they find expedient to come in. The newly created "supreme economic council" has taken rank next in importance to the society of nations commission. Its membership will be announced very soon and it will get to work immediately thereafter. It will have charge of the food supply, shipping, block and possibly financial questions. It has been suggested that this council may become permanent and assume an immense authority.

Even if limited in existence to the transitional period between war and peace, it is expected that the council will be a great aid during the uncertain armistice period in the solution of economic problems for which the military men who have been in control are unfitted by training and tradition and with which they were unable to cope. It will also wield wholesome restraining influence over those making excessive demands and will facilitate and hasten an agreement upon the terms for an extension of the armistice, expiring soon.

Four Stages. Paris, February 8.—(Special cable from John W. Dofoe)—The task of the peace conference will be done in four stages, the first of which will be completed when President Wilson leaves for Washington next Saturday. This is the stage of the preliminary consideration of every question to come before the conference, with the appointment of special commissions to consider them exhaustively and make definite recommendations.

These investigations, which will occupy the next month, will mark the second phase of the conference. The recommendations will then come before the conference bureau, and after revision, will be considered in a series of plenary conferences.

By the middle of April the conference will be transferred into the peace congress by the admission of representatives of enemy countries. There is no intention to permit a prolongation of the proceedings by re-opening discussions with enemy delegates. This is to be an imposed peace.

BOLSHEVIK HAVE EVACUATED VILNA

Basie, Feb. 9.—Advices received here from Kovno assert that as a result of the success of the Lithuanian troops and an advance by Finnish and Estonian troops the Bolsheviki have evacuated Vilna.

ARMISTICE BETWEEN GERMANS AND POLES

Copenhagen, February 8.—The negotiations between Polish and German emissaries looking toward a cessation of hostilities in German Poland have resulted, according to advices received here, in an armistice which will be effective tomorrow. The reports add that there has been violent fighting at several points in the last few days. The Poles are said to be concentrating special storming troops for use in Siberia.

SHARP FIGHTING WITH BOLSHEVIK

CANADIAN ARTILLERY PREPARES ADVANCE BY SILENCING ENEMY BATTERIES.

Archangel, Friday, Feb. 8.—By The Associated Press)—British and Russian troops supported by American machine gun and trench mortar units began an attack at ten o'clock this morning against the Bolsheviki on the Petrograd road south of Kadish.

The infantry went forward after the Canadian artillery had silenced the enemy artillery in a bombardment of several hours. The attack was made for the purpose of protecting the American positions at Srodmakranga, about thirty miles eastward from a flank attack. The Bolsheviki are shelling the American positions in the Vaga sector continuously.

Allied forces advanced five miles down the Petrograd road from Kadish. Two Bolsheviki guns were captured by the Allies during the fighting.

Heavy reinforcements arrived and strengthened the Bolsheviki front and the Allies retired to new positions three miles south of Kadish.

New heavy guns which were brought into position on the railroad front shelled the Bolsheviki forces heavily yesterday afternoon. Allied airplanes bombed enemy positions at eltzoe, on the Dvina, and Shegovoria, on the Vaga, yesterday.

A Russian courier who has arrived here reports that the Allies operating through the forest to the left of the Petrograd road south of Kadish succeeded for a time in cutting off the retreat of eight hundred of the enemy who were at the same time attacked on the front by the Allied infantry.

When it became necessary to withdraw from the advanced positions the guns which had been captured were destroyed.

HUGHES OPPOSES MANDATORY PLAN

DECLARES ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF PACIFIC ISLANDS IS NECESSARY.

New York, February 9.—Opposition to the proposals for vestment in any nation of a mere mandatory control of Pacific islands by the Peace Conference was expressed in a cablegram from Premier Hughes, of Australia, read before a meeting of the League of Free Nations here tonight.

"Absolute control of the islands is necessary," said the message, "because mandatory control would induce the expenditure of money on uncertain possessions."

Asserting that the Government is a "business which must be managed like any other business," Premier Hughes declared that business is best managed where control is in the hands of a competent man on the spot who knows intimately all the circumstances and has personal interest in its development and progress.

The message closed with a plea for Australian possession of the German islands, which, he said, were so close to Australia as to make necessary Australian control of trade. Australia, he said, is ready to give adequate guarantees for the protection of the natives.

Sailings from Halifax, N.S., Feb. 7: Steamers: Chaleur, for West Indies; Str. Manchester Corporation, for S. John, N.B.

Feb. 8: Steamers: Roserie, for Trans-Atlantic port; War Seneca, for Trans-Atlantic port; G. A. Flang, in tow of Tug Troquois, for Boston; Carmania, for New York; Titus for London; U. S. S. Tallapoosa, for American port.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Janesville, Wis., February 8.—Eight people were killed and an entire business block is in flames as the result of a terrific explosion at Plattville, Wis., this afternoon. Telephone and telegraph lines are reported down and no details are available.

BREAD PRICES TAKE TUMBLE.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 9.—Bread has the second tumble in price within the last two or three days and can now be bought for nine cents a loaf or twelve tickets for a dollar, which brings it down to 8 1/2 cents, as compared with eleven cents charged last week.

The cut, however, is not general yet. There are some of the smaller dealers who are still selling at ten cents.

CHINA PRESS UPON JAPANESE POLICY

ATTACKS ATTITUDE REVEALED TOWARDS CHINESE PEACE CONFERENCE DELEGATION.

Shanghai, China, Feb. 8.—(By The Associated Press)—The China Press prints an editorial attacking the policy of Japan towards China's delegation at the peace conference as revealed by demands made by Yukichi Obata, Japanese Minister at Peking.

(A Peking despatch under Wednesday's date quoted semi-official Chinese sources as declaring that attempts were being made by the Japanese to induce the Chinese Government to disavow the action of its delegates at the peace conference, for the reason that they were seriously embarrassing Japan.)

"Minister Obata's startling demand that China gag its delegates at the peace conference has done great service," the newspaper editorial says. "It has posed effectively and opportunely to the whole world the issue of the Far East. The issue is whether or not this hemisphere is Japan's domain or if China is still an independent nation."

"Since August, 1914, the issue has been gathering. From Japan's ultimatum to Germany to what Minister Obata calls his friendly visit to the Wai Chiao Pu (Chinese Foreign Office), its development has been thoroughly and ruthlessly the logical sequence of events—the taking of Tsing Tao, the widening of that wedge until it included a large part of Shantung, the sinister twenty-one demands, the Japanese contribution to the undoing of Yuan Shi-Kai, the steady encroachments in Manchuria, the secret Russo-Japanese treaty, the blocking of China's entry into the war except under Tokio's aegis, the underwriting of the corrupt northern militaristic party, the series of nefarious loans that turned over the resources of an Eldorado for a song, the setting up of a civil administration in Shantung, the arms alliance of 1918, all the other secret agreements, the Lansing-Ishii, the 'paramount interest' agreement, until now have the naked question, is China a Japanese colony?"

China's interest is not the primary concern. It is the future peace of the world. Balking Pan-Germany will avail us nothing if Pan-Japan raises its head in Asia. Japanese dominance of China would create a new Balkans, Balkans in which half a continent would be the theatre of intrigue, diplomatic juggling and commercial rivalries. The key to the world peace is the integrity of China, its complete independence of Japan as of every other power.

"Such an independence is impossible unless the powers assembled at Paris freely examine every question affecting China. Such an examination is impossible unless Minister Obata's demand receives a flat and unqualified negative, not from China, but from the world."

"The right of free association, free assemblage, free speech and the press shall not be denied or abridged. "That the seamen of the merchant marine shall be guaranteed the right of leaving their vessels when the same are in a safe harbor.

"No article or commodity shall be shipped or delivered in international commerce in the production of which children under the age of sixteen years have been employed or permitted to work.

"No article or commodity shall be shipped or delivered in international commerce in the production of which convict labor has been employed or permitted.

"It shall be declared that the work day in industry and commerce shall not exceed eight hours per day except in case of extraordinary emergency, such as danger to life or property.

"The sale or use for commercial purposes of articles made or manufactured in private homes shall be prohibited.

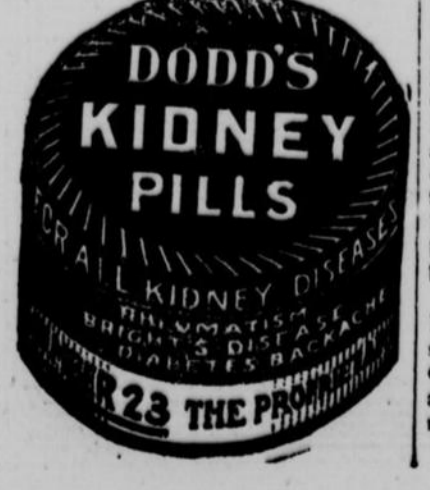

"It shall be declared that an adequate wage shall be paid for labor performed—a wage based upon and commensurate with the standards of pay conforming to the civilization of the time.

"That equal wages shall be paid to women as is paid to men for equal work performed.

"The incorporation of the points laid down by President Wilson."

BIALYSTOK OCCUPIED.

Warsaw, Wednesday, Feb. 6.—(By The Associated Press)—Polish forces have occupied Bialystok, about 115 miles northwest of Warsaw and the danger from the Bolsheviki is diminishing along the Polish frontiers. The Czechs continue their advance in Galicia.

Experience has taught thousands that INSTANT POSTUM is better for the family than tea or coffee. "There's a Reason"

ANOTHER CHAMPION.

The blistering weekly of Chicoutimi is another ardent champion of Patra Potestas who finds it more convenient to create prejudice against compulsory education by attacking the Chronicle and all others with sufficient temerity to suggest it than to find the truth in fair argument. We have no desire to enlarge upon this fruitless controversy but the article to which we have reference contains so many misrepresentations that it is necessary to clear ourselves of the web of suspicion thus skilfully woven.

In the first place it is said that we did not like the appeal of the secretary of the Catholic Press League for a campaign against Free Masonry and compulsory education. That is false. Certain Catholics are continually waging campaigns against Free Masonry just as certain Orangemen are continually waging campaigns against Catholicism and we have yet to see any result that they have been able to produce. We deplore all incitements to class hatred but those who believe that Free Masonry is a menace to Christianity are justified in combatting it and the matter has no effect upon the Chronicle.

Similarly with compulsory education, those who are conscientiously opposed to it must express their convictions and the secretary of the Catholic Press League is justified in urging a campaign against the proposal so long as he does not urge a campaign against those who believe in it with equal conscientiousness.

In the next place it is said that although no newspaper was mentioned in this appeal the Chronicle got up on its high horse regarding the cowardly attacks of extremists. Now the writer of the article who conceals himself under the pen name of "Catholus" is well aware that it is unnecessary to name a person in order to identify him and there is no other paper in the Province that would fit the description made. We challenge the Secretary of the Catholic Press League to deny upon his honor that he had no special reference to the Chronicle in mind.

Again it is said that the Chronicle, while supporting the principle of compulsory education, admitted that it was inopportune to adopt it at the present time. When and on what occasion? We have consistently opposed any attempt to influence the judgment of Catholics in the matter, we have recognized the difficulty of Protestants in securing legislation for themselves, we have pointed to certain procedure necessary in order to give full force to their claims, but we have never said that the measure was inopportune.

Elsewhere it is suggested that the Protestant minority in this Province is seeking to place the majority under the yoke of compulsory education because it believes that it has the right, that by an appeal to the Federal Parliament it hopes to secure State Control of Education. Another falsehood. Having been told that class legislation will not be countenanced a few Protestants hope that the majority can be moved by argument to change its convictions but most Protestants ask nothing more than that they shall be permitted free control of their own school system. They believe that that control is guaranteed to them by the Constitution yet, if it is moved to the contrary they will have no complaints to make. Certainly they recognize that under existing conditions Federal control of education is not only impossible but undesirable in their own interests.

Enemies of compulsory education may believe that the Protestant minority should have no rights in the matter, they may endeavor to defeat such rights as may exist; indeed they have argued all round this point but none of them have been able to demonstrate that the British North America Act does not confer educational autonomy upon the Protestant minority or provide for appeal, first to the Governor-General-in-Council and then to Parliament. Nor does the Constitution show any favoritism, the same rights are enjoyed by Catholic minorities in other Provinces as has been already tested in Manitoba. Had it not been for the pie-crust promises of Sir Wilfrid Laurier the rights of the minority in that Province would have been vindicated by the Conservative Government of Sir Charles Tupper.

But it is of course, one thing for the Catholic minority to appeal to the Constitution and quite another for the Protestant minority to do the same.

Elsewhere again we are reproached with branding as extremists men who are only seeking their rights which is likewise untrue. The Chronicle does not consider any man who stands up for what he believes to be his rights as an extremist, on the contrary we have the greatest sympathy with their attitude even where we cannot share their views, but we do call extremists those who seek to obtain their rights by ignoring those of other people, by sowing enmity against all who stand in their way, and by other improper means.

Further on, all that can be said regarding the Chronicle's formal affirmation that it acts on no outside compulsion is "we do not have to discuss it here." A beautiful demonstration of candor, fair-play and journalistic esprit de corps.

Finally we are warned against placing Catholics in the ranks of those who exploit racial and religious prejudices, a quite gratuitous effort to expose us to fresh odium. To be guilty of such acts in Canada is the exclusive peculiarity of no one race or creed and here again we quarrel with no one for legitimate defense of his convictions. On the other hand we appeal to any impartial person to say how else we can describe the actions of those who attempt to embitter their compatriots and co-religionaries against compulsory education by insinuations of Masonic-Anglo-

Protestant conspiracy against them.

The Chicoutimi controversialist who asserts that in organizing defence among Catholics, in placing them on guard against persons and newspapers who attack their rights and principles, he is doing no coward's work and kindling no fires of racial or religious prejudices, seems to be under the impression that no one else has rights and principles but he, that whatever he lays claim to for himself in their name must be accepted without question and whatever he refuses to others in their name must be submitted to unarmingly.

Such a question as education in any other country could be argued on its merits, nowhere else than in Canada would it be necessary to support opposing contentions by mutual recrimination and disparagement, divorced from logic. Is it then any wonder that rights are sacrificed, that enmities are inflamed and that a sense of nationhood is unattainable? A house divided against itself cannot stand forever.

"LA LIBRE BELGIQUE"

We understand that Libre Belgique has just disclosed the story of its origin. It was produced by Le Patriote. This is the paper which, with unheard of courage and unexampled audacity managed to escape requisitions, arrests, threats and excesses of the Germans in Brussels by all possible means, in spite of various investigations.

It is no longer a secret that the creator and soul of Libre Belgique was M. Victor Jourdain, assisted by one of his sons-in-law, a man of steadfast purpose, calm and yet determined.

These men who kept the spirit of patriotism alive in the occupied territory, thereby arousing among the Germans and even among them to anger, consider that their great and striking success is due to the numerous collaborators who assisted in this task both in printing and distributing the paper. When the details of the secret and mysterious means by which this story was accomplished are published we shall have a story of extraordinary interest.

M. Victor Jourdain, who died last October, was deprived of the great joy of being present at the triumph of Libre Belgique.

Independence Belge resumed publication at Brussels on the day the invader withdrew. The following note appeared in the first number:

"Independence Belge, published at Brussels since 1829, ceased publication, as did all the other journals in the occupied territory, on August 29, 1914, the day on which the Germans entered the city.

"For the last four years a part of the former editorial staff of Independence Belge has been publishing a paper in London under the same name. This paper undoubtedly fought well for the cause of the liberty of our country, and we hereby pay a tribute to its courageous efforts. But we know hardly anything about the subjects it discussed. And today we simply make the following statement: with the turning of a new page in the glorious history of our country, we turn a new page in the history of this paper. It was born with Belgium and with Belgium, which approaches a new destiny after its long martyrdom, it is transformed and will adapt itself to the new necessities of a new world which will have to meet and solve the most serious problems.

"In this formidable labor Belgium will play her part enthusiastically. And, Belgians enthusiastically, we shall endeavor to aid her."

AN APPOINTMENTS DEPARTMENT.

The British Ministry of Labor announces that an Appointments Department has been formed for the purpose of placing prospective employers in touch with demobilized British officers and men of similar educational qualifications.

A very large number of applications for posts overseas has been received, and to deal with these the Appointments Department has opened two special Directorates at Grosvenor House, London, namely, Directorate No. XI for openings in the entire British Empire, and Directorate No. XIII for those in Foreign Countries.

The applicants for appointments comprise some of the best of the Motherland's manhood, and may be divided roughly into three classes, viz. (1) untrained men, chiefly composed of those who joined the Army straight from Public School or University; (2) Semi-trained men, whose education was interrupted by the outbreak of war, and (3) trained men.

While the British Government has made elaborate arrangements for training men for any position, it is realized that in many cases Overseas Employers would rather obtain a good man and train him themselves. In any case employers who have appointments to offer are invited to send full particulars of their requirements to the Directorate concerned at the above address. The cable address for the Overseas Directorates is Adminalab Ave., London.

FOR NORMAL LIVING.

A conference of Provincial officials interested in Public Health and Social Hygiene was recently held in Ottawa. It was called at the instance of the Federal Government. The medical side of the Venereal Diseases problem was considered. Arrangements were made for a future consultation regarding measures of social reform looking to the suppression or more adequate control of a serious plague. There is room for an organized inquiry under national auspices, perhaps by the establishment of a permanent committee to stimulate joint action by the Provinces.

The curbing of immorality depends largely upon the facilities young people have for normal living. Better housing is needed in cities. A more generous support for philanthropic societies interested in young men and girls has become a question intimately related to the health and morals of the community. If the Federal Government can awaken amongst provincial and municipal authorities all over Canada a livelier concern in these problems the cause of social reform will be greatly advanced.

AT THE CHATEAU.

The attendance on Saturday evening for the weekly Cabaret was very good. Miss Kathleen Pritchard, aged 5, who has been seen at the Chateau before, danced the "Victorian Gavotte," and the "Skirt Dance," being very well received, so well, in fact that she was obliged to respond to numerous encores.

The Chateau Jazz Band, under the able direction of Professor Percy Baldwin, discoursed modern Jazz music and a pleasant time was spent by all.

CUT IN TWO BY C.P.R. EXPRESS

EDOUARD VILLENEUVE OF THIS CITY INSTANTLY KILLED SATURDAY NIGHT NEAR CROWN STREET.

While in the act of disembarking from the C.P.R. Express due at the Palais station at 10:35 o'clock Saturday night, Edouard Villeneuve, 23 years of age and son of Mrs. (Widow) Edouard Villeneuve, No. 140 Dollard street, this city, fell under the wheels and was instantly killed as the train had just cleared the Crown street crossing.

It is supposed that while jumping from the moving train in order to save time in getting home, the unfortunate victim either struck a post or fence, or missed his footing and fell across the tracks. The wheels of the coaches passed over his stomach, cutting him in two, while one leg was completely severed from his body and the other left hanging by the sinews. No one witnessed the sad accident and the man's remains were not discovered until a few minutes later by passersby who notified Mr. Hubert Moisan who had them removed to the morgue where Coroner Jolicœur will hold an inquest this morning. The man's death was instantaneous.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN CLOSED

day the newly returned men will be marched to the Drill Hall at 11:30 headed by a band and there will be inspected by Brig-General Landry and Major Labbe, M.C.

The Quebec lads who arrived on Saturday were inspected by Major-General Hughes, Inspector General, and Brig-General Landry, after which the men were served a special dinner and given two weeks' leave with an advance in pay. Major-General Hughes then looked over Major Labbe's department which he had just seen in action and was well-pleased with the efficiency of the staff.

DEATH OF MR. MALCOLM W. KING.

The many friends of Mrs. R. H. Dorrbridge, of his city, will regret to hear of her bereavement through the death of her brother, Mr. Malcolm W. King, who passed away following an attack of pneumonia yesterday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry King, 641 City Hall Avenue, Montreal.

The late Mr. King, who was only 29 years of age at the time of his death, was in the employ of Green-shields, Ltd., Montreal.

This is the second bereavement sustained by the family within a short time, a brother of the deceased having passed away from the same cause about four months ago, and much sympathy will be felt for Mrs. Dorrbridge and her parents, who were formerly residents of this city, in this second affliction which has befallen them.

SERIOUS TROUBLE AT CLEARING DEPOT

WHISKY RUNNERS PLAYING HAVOC WITH RETURNED MEN REACHING HERE.

Failure to deal with the sale of whisky to returned soldiers in Quebec was roundly denounced last night by Lieut.-Col. G. W. Marriott, O. C., Canadian Clearing Services.

"It is all very well to say the soldiers should not take liquor, but if the authorities continue to close their eyes to the boot-legging which has been going on here openly, I do not know where this thing is going to end," said he.

"Last night the C.P.R. refused to pull out a train which was bound for the West, as almost half of the 250 men in the party were 'fighting drunk' and we had great difficulty in handling them later. Three of the men were so badly drugged from the poisonous liquor they had consumed that we narrowly pulled them through."

Col. Marriott affirmed that the situation was becoming worse all the time. He said that the whisky runners brought down the liquor in cases and sold it to the men, and were so emboldened that they plied their illicit trade without any secrecy.

BOHEMIANS WON POPULARITY MATCH

WON OUT SATURDAY NIGHT AFTER STRENUOUS CONTEST BY 1,707 MAJORITY.

After a strenuous fight on Saturday night before the close of the Kermesse, the popularity contest which developed into a race between the Bohemians and the Modern Strollers, the former were officially proclaimed winners by a majority of 1,707, their total for the week being 10,478, while the aggregate of the Strollers was 8,771.

Although there had been keen competition throughout the Kermesse and the voting had been active, the climax was reached at the last performance on Saturday night when 12,725 votes were given for these two contestants alone, not to speak of the several hundred which were registered for others entered in the contest, but which could not maintain the giant strides of the Bohemians and Strollers.

The scene on Saturday night was most amusing. The crowds which gather around the betting pools at the close of a horse race are not more in earnest than were the "bookies" of the rival camps as they brought in votes for their respective sides.

The tide of battle swayed from one side to another and the cheer of elation over a big lead had scarcely died down on one side till it was taken up with additional enthusiasm by the other.

The figures given out are as follows: The Bohemians: Thursday night, 1,519; Friday matinee, 311; Friday night, 1,391; Saturday matinee, 314; Saturday night, 4,738. Total, 10,478. Modern Strollers: Thursday, 573; Friday matinee, —; Friday night, 1,770; Saturday matinee, 411; Saturday night, 5,887. Total, 8,771.

Majority for Bohemians, 1,707.

During the intermission Lt.-Col. Marriott and Lt. Col. Chabolle thanked the organizers, the participants and the public for their patriotism in supplying comforts for the soldiers.

Ball Postponed.

The ball in connection with the Kermesse which was announced to take place at the Chateau Frontenac this evening, has been postponed and the date on which it will be held will be announced later.

CATHEDRAL OF THE HOLY TRINITY

The deliverance of Jerusalem and the recovery of Palestine from the Turks aroused the keenest interest throughout the whole Christian world as well as among Jews themselves. A commemorative service of thanksgiving will be held (D.V.) this evening in the Cathedral at 8 o'clock. Rev. Canon Gould (Canon of St. George's Collegiate Church, Jerusalem) who knows the city well from actual residence and who presents his story vividly and with great power, will be the preacher. Offerings for the work of "The Jerusalem and East Mission." The public will be welcome.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES HOLD REUNION

ANNUAL SMOKER HELD SATURDAY NIGHT AND LARGE LY ATTENDED.

A very pleasant time was spent at the City Hall on Saturday night by the civic employees on the occasion of their annual smoker and concert. The festivities were held in the Recorder's Court room and participated by upwards of one hundred and fifty persons among whom were His Worship the Mayor, His Honor Recorder Dery, a large number of members of the City Council and several invited guests.

The Chair was occupied by Mr. Theo. Dube, Clerk of the Recorder's Court who, in opening the evening's entertainment jokingly remarked that it was not to be a "strike" meeting, but was organized for the purpose of creating a feeling of comradeship among the employees who, he hoped, would be beneficial of results.

The first part of the evening's program was devoted to three-minute speeches in which Mayor Lavigneur, City Treasurer Verge and several Aldermen took part. Mr. Verge in the course of his remarks referred to the employees Pension Fund which, he said is in a flourishing condition. The Mayor in a brief address paid a high compliment to Mr. Verge as City Treasurer and also to all the civic employees against whom, he said, he had never received a complaint. He thanked all present for the enthusiastic reception accorded him on entering the building and was pleased to see the spirit of good fellowship which prevails among them. Referring to the financial condition of the city His Worship said that it is very satisfactory at present and the outlook for the future is most promising so much so, that he would not be surprised to see a surplus when the budget is prepared for 1919-1920.

Mr. Dube on behalf of the employees thanked the Mayor for his complimentary remarks and at the same time took occasion to say a few words on the recent order which compels the City Hall staff to work until 5 o'clock in the afternoon instead of 4 o'clock as formerly. He said that in the opinion of many of the employees and chiefs of departments, the new regulation was not a profitable one for the city owing to the extra expense in keeping the building fully lighted for the extra hour especially in winter time, when very few citizens come to the City Hall during these hours to transact business. Before proceeding to the concert part of the program which followed the speech making, Mr. Nap Matte, of the Assessors Office was elected to replace Mr. P. Casgrain on the Pension Fund Board and Mr. H. J. B. Chouinard, City Clerk, was unanimously re-elected on the Board.

Clay pipes and "shag" were the next order of the day and all present smoked to their hearts' content while the splendid orchestra which was provided for the occasion rendered a varied musical program and songs were splendidly rendered by Ald. Lesage, Messrs. Bertrand, Toussaint, Beaumont and others, the whole being in the capable hands of Police Chief Captain Emile Trudel, Messrs. Blais and Allaire as comedians were the hit of the evening and kept everyone in roars of laughter. Between the acts, refreshments were served all combining to make up one of the most enjoyable evenings.

RETURNED QUEBEC SOLDIERS FROM OVERSEAS.

A party of thirty-seven men belonging to this District from overseas arrived late on Friday evening at the Clearing Depot. On Saturday morning they drove in ambulance cars to the Chateau Frontenac, from which place they marched to the Drill Hall, preceded by band of the 5th C.G.H. The detachment was in command of Major N. McCaghey, D.S.O., who was accompanied by Capt. Raymond Garneau, and Regt. Sergt. Major R. Keller, D.C.M., of Headquarters District Depot No. 5. At the Drill Hall the men received their pay checks and furlough before leaving for their respective homes. Secretary T. D. Beattie, of the Citizens' Welcome Committee, dispensed smokes, chocolate and liquid refreshments to the men.

The party came over from Liverpool by the S.S. Baltic and had a very enjoyable trip. They speak well of their treatment on board of both the vessel and train. The Baltic is commanded by Capt. W. Finch, R.N.R., who was master of the Arabic when she was sunk in the Irish Sea in 1913. It happened in the month of August, when she met her fate. At 9:30 o'clock in the morning, a beautiful day, a submarine which could not be seen, fired a torpedo at the big liner, which struck her aft on the starboard side. Within eight minutes after the missile hit, the ship had sunk, but with only a loss of 32 of the 4,830 lives on board. The Arabic was outward bound at the time with a convoy. Since that time Captain Finch has been in command of the Baltic. On the present trip there were 2,083 soldiers, the majority of whom came to Quebec for disposal.

CANADIENS' PUT CRIMP IN OTTAWA SENATORS

LATTER'S VICTORIOUS MARCH THROUGH THE SECOND HALF OF SCHEDULE ENDED BY A 4-3 DEFEAT IN MONTREAL AT JUBILEE RINK ON SATURDAY.

Montreal, February 9.—By defeating Ottawa by 4 to 3 in a scheduled National Hockey League fixture at the Jubilee Rink on Saturday night, Canadiens put a crimp in the Senator's victorious march in the second half of the schedule. Up until Saturday night, Ottawa, had scored five straight victories, four of them being in the second half of the schedule, the leadership of which they now have at their mercy.

Notwithstanding the fact that the ice was sticky after the first period, there was no let up in the fast pace at which the players started, and perhaps only the mistake of denoting too much time to defensive tactics defeated the Senators. With the score 2 to 1 against them they played three men back on the defence, allowing only two forwards to go up the ice at a time. Again with the score 3 to 1 they played the same style of game.

COST OF WILLARD FIGHT $202,000

TEX RICKARD FIGURES UP LIKELY DETAILS OF BIG BOUT.

New York, Feb. 9.—Several details about the Willard-Dempsey match, as it stands now, do not come up to our conception of the proper thing. Tex Rickard is a fine enough fellow and we like to see him get along, but we do not like to watch him juggle the heavy-weight championship merely for the financial education and deflection of Tex Rickard.

Why? I was asked. "Because," I answered, "I received in Berlin the assurance that my daughter—who had been in Belgium for three years? and to whom the German authorities have up to the present time refused permission to leave—will receive a passport for the frontier of Holland. I must, therefore, wait until she arrives from Belgium."

When Rickard had his conference with Jack Kearns yesterday the manager of Dempsey having read that Willard had been guaranteed his expenses in the event the bout was taken out of the country, made a request for similar consideration. Rickard replied, "I will pay your expenses if the fight is held outside North America" which might indicate that he has some idea of going to Cuba.

After Rickard had arranged to give Dempsey $27,500 yesterday he made a little memorandum of his likely expenses for the fight and found that the outfit would total something like $202,000, with the provision for building an arena and paying the war and state taxes, if such charges must be met. Rickard said that he intended to pay the federal and state taxes on admissions himself, and that he had decided to check off $25,000 for that purpose. The total—$202,000—looks like a stupendous sum, but Rickard knows what he is doing. He ran the Jeffries-Johnson fight in Reno in 1910, and he made quite a cleanup. Though the bout was staged away out in Nevada in the heat of July, the gate receipts totalled $370,775, out of which the fighters got $121,000.

PROVINCIAL LEAGUE

Chicoutimi Bowlers Entertained At Enjoyable Banquet Saturday.

A very enjoyable banquet was held in honor of the Chicoutimi Provincial League bowlers on Saturday night at the Frontenac alleys. About one hundred guests were present, and a very enjoyable time was spent by everybody.

Mr. Dracena, proprietor of the Princess Theatre, had kindly loaned that building to the bowlers for the evening, but at the last moment it was decided to hold the event in the Frontenac Alleys.

Several excellent songs were rendered by Mr. A. Desmarquet, of the Imperial Theatre, as well as recitations, etc., by other guests.

"MY THREE YEARS IN A GERMAN PRISON"

By HON. HENRI S. BELAND, M.D., M.P. COPYRIGHT, 1919

CHAPTER XXXI. In Holland and in England.

I had enjoyed for two days the charming hospitality of Holland when I was invited to visit the British General Consulate at Rotterdam. The previous day I was at The Hague, where I registered at the British Legation. Responding now to the invitation I left my hotel at ten o'clock and called at the General Consulate at Rotterdam. Here I was informed that it had been arranged that I should leave Holland on the following day en route for England, the voyage across the Channel to be made in a hospital ship.

"Why?" I was asked. "Because," I answered, "I received in Berlin the assurance that my daughter—who had been in Belgium for three years? and to whom the German authorities have up to the present time refused permission to leave—will receive a passport for the frontier of Holland. I must, therefore, wait until she arrives from Belgium."

"But," said the young officer in charge, "this will not do. The Legation expects that you will leave for England tomorrow. I would suggest, as we have only incomplete information on this subject, that you go to The Hague and discuss the matter there."

The same afternoon I proceeded to the British Legation at The Hague, where I had the pleasure of meeting a charming officer of the British Navy. He explained that it was quite true that I was expected to leave for England the next day. I again urged my objection to this course.

"Am I not, after all, the one most concerned in this question of repatriation?" I asked him. "It is of the utmost importance that I should stay in Holland until the arrival of my daughter, who has been detained for so long in Belgium. It will be almost impossible for me to maintain correspondence with her from England."

"I know this," I answered. "Well, then," the officer continued, "this German prisoner whose liberty has been conceded in exchange for your release cannot leave England until you arrive there."

Whatever spirit moved me, I could not help feeling a certain amount of satisfaction at hearing this explanation. "Is what you have said quite true?" I asked.

"Assuredly," was the answer. "Then," I said, "why should I not let him stew in his own juice for a time? Two years ago I was informed when in jail that I was then to be liberated. They kept me in a state of anxious expectation for more than two weeks and then shattered my play life, by offering you this humble tribute, the value of which we would find have increased ten-fold. May your career so successfully begun and continued, be prolonged yet many long years in the enjoyment of perfect health and contentment.

With one accord, your parishioners at Sillery, Your friends at large and all near and dear to you desire to express this fervent wish and prayer on this memorable day so glorious for the parish and for the highly esteemed and venerated Pastor.

Father Maguire's Reply. Rev. over his property and by whose charities the poor of the parish still benefit. In conclusion, Rev. Father Maguire in the name of the parishioners thanked His Eminence Cardinal Begin for condescending to honor by his presence, at the services, one of his former pupils and the Parish of Sillery. His Eminence the Cardinal also delivered a short address in which he congratulated the Rev. Father Maguire upon attaining his twenty-fifth anniversary as Priest of Sillery, and also said that the compliments expressed in the Address presented by the Parishioners were undoubtedly deserved.

Sporting Notes

Hammy Laroche and Billy McDonald kept up their scoring tricks on Saturday, each getting three goals.

Manager Drouin of the Laval team played the best game on the ice in the third period Saturday. He stopped some nice rushes, and nearly scored a goal himself. Better luck next time.

The Tipperary Baseball Club had a photograph taken of all their players recently, and presented each of the players with a copy. They intend holding one of their famous dances at the end of this month.

The 5th C.G.R. do not figure in any City League matches until the 22nd of this month.

"THE STILL ALARM" AND "CANADA AT MONS" AT VICTORIA THEATRE TODAY

All roads lead to the Victoria today. A double bill which will appeal to young and old is offered at popular prices and all attendance records will likely be broken. "The Still Alarm", the famous Drury Lane melodrama with its thrilling fire scenes, featuring Tom Santschi, Fritz Brunette, Bessie Eytan and others has a wonderful appeal to all classes and is chock full of action from start to finish, and also on the bill will be famous official pictures of "Canadians at Mons."

These are real pictures. They do not feature any star—every man in the cast is a hero. The scenes depicted are of unusual interest to Quebecers especially. Afternoons 15c. Evenings 25c. War tax included.—Adv.

BILL, BERT AND ALF WILL MAKE BOW

FAMOUS TRIO IN "THE BETTER 'OLE," AT THE AUDITORIUM—GO AND SEE THEM—ARE ANXIOUS TO MEET QUEBEC PEOPLE OF WHOM THEY HAVE HEARD.

At the Auditorium Theatre today patrons will have the pleasure of witnessing "THE BETTER 'OLE." Competent critics assert that the film version is at least equal to, if not finer than, the play which has figured at many of the leading theatres in London and New York. Certainly most has been made of the grim realism at the front, together with the jests by which the boys make their lives bearable. The photography is superb, and altogether the piece should attract record houses. With the alternative title of "The Romance of Old Bill" "The Better 'Ole" was adapted from the well-known Bainsfather-Eliot play by Mr. George Pearson and Mr. T. A. Welsh, with a number of new scenes and characters and a linking love story, which have the cordial assent of the authors. The pictures are admirable, the humor is abundant without any traces of coarseness, and the paths always passes safely the perilous shell hole of the maul. One is perhaps tired of the declaration that such a play or picture "has a high propagandist value," and no object of pointing the moral or adorning a tale was in the view of the adapters when this film was planned. "THE BETTER 'OLE" will be shown at the Auditorium today, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday. Matinee 15 and 25 cents. Evening, 25-35-50 cents.—Adv.

"THE COMMON CAUSE" AT THE OLYMPIA TODAY IS A REAL TRIUMPH

PRODUCTION MAGNIFICENT, CAST GREATEST EVER SEEN ON SCREEN, AND STORY TELLING OF ALLIED VICTORY, ONE THAT WILL ENDURE FOR ALL TIME.

If, after reading the peace terms of the Allies, there remains in anybody's mind any doubt as to what the Allies fought for, it will be cleared quickly and completely by "The Common Cause." J. Stuart Blackton's latest screen masterpiece, which begins a week's engagement at the Olympia Theatre today.

Here is a screen production which truly may be called a triumph. Its splendid theme—the cause of civilization upheld by the fighting forces of the Allied nations—is presented in a splendidly convincing manner; its drama, rich in virility and pathos, is portrayed by a cast unrivaled in the history of the screen; its comedy touches are unctuous and are artistically handled; its war scenes, with tanks, battle-planes, big guns and masses of men in action, are powerful and authentic.

"The Common Cause" comes as near being a perfect blend of patriotic propaganda and entertaining drama as anything that has ever been shown on the screen. The production was made under the auspices of and with the co-operation of the British-Canada Recruiting Mission, and Commodore Blackton also had the assistance of American, French and Italian officers and troops in the making of a mighty subject. The result is a screen feature not only of great timeliness now, but also one which will live and endure.

The production is a fitting successor to "The Battle Cry of Peace," "Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation," and "Over the Top," three powerful war subjects given to the screen by Vitagraph, distributor of this latest effort of Commodore Blackton.

The cast in "The Common Cause" is a triumph in itself, because it is doubtful if there has ever been a screen production which brought together such a wonderful array of talent. Herbert Rawlinson and Sylvia Breamer, the featured stars in a company of stars, are both known to screen fans because of their work in big productions, and the same thing applies to Huntley Gordon, Charles and Violet Blackton, Louis Dean, M'le, Marcel and Philip Van Loan. In the prologue and epilogue, which visualize "the common cause," appear five of the most beautiful and talented women of the American stage: Marjorie Rambeau, representing "Columbia"; Violet Heming, "Britannia"; Irene Castle, "France"; Julia Arthur, "Italy"; and Effie Shannon, "Belgium."—Adv.

AT THE EMPIRE FAMOUS STAGE BEAU AND PEARL WHITE AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE TODAY.

Elaine Hammerstein, famous beauty of the stage and screen comes to Empire today in "Her Man" the screen version of Charles Buck's popular novel "The Battle Cry." The great appeal in this story lies in the presentation of a gently bred New York society girl who voluntarily gives up her existence as a social butterfly in order to fulfil a promise to her dead grandfather. In fulfilling this promise she casts aside the veneer of civilization and fights like a tigress, the blood lush in her eye and her primitive savage instinct fully aroused. Pearl White in the 5th episode of the "Lightning Raider" entitled the "Brass Key" is also on the program with the Canadian British News Weekly. Prices: Matinee 10c. Evening 15c.—Adv.

More than 75 per cent. of the adult population in the Province of Quebec are in favor of Beer Licenses

The Issue is Squarely up to the People

Now is the time to act if you want to enjoy Beer after May 1st.

For five years the Brewers of the Province have fought for you. They have spent large sums in educating the people to the value of practical temperance.

They have done all that a few men can do to prevent Parliament from enforcing the law forbidding the manufacture of Beer after May 1st.

They can do no more.

It is up to the people--to you and your friends--to say whether or not you want the Government to permit the brewing of clean, wholesome, delicious Beer in the Province of Quebec.

If you do, don't depend on "others" to look after your interests.

Don't wait until the law goes into effect to protest against it.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ACT.
Wire or write to the Prime Minister yourself--AND DO IT TO-DAY.

TO DEVELOP BIG WATERWAY SYSTEM

ENLARGED CANALIZATION OF ST. LAWRENCE AMONG BILLION DOLLAR SCHEME.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Eradication of the evils of competitive warfare between water and rail transportation, developments of the nation's inland waterways and its harbors and their full utilization for the promotion of the national prosperity, were urged at the opening session of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. Optimism concerning economic readjustment was sounded by most of the speakers.

Indorsing the purposes of the congress, Mr. Baker, Secretary of War, and Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, urged against the competitive warfare which has prevented full use of waterways for transportation in the past. Both predicted an era of industrial expansion.

In this connection they discounted the fear of Bolshevism in this country. Mr. Daniels saying "There is no more danger of Bolshevism taking hold in America than there is of the Kaiser entering the streets of Washington."

Mr. Baker declared it "unthinkable that any soldier who put on the uniform of his country and either fought or was in training to fight in this war will be allowed to remain without a job if he wants one." Said he: "The chamber of commerce of this country, the chambers of industry, the large captains of industry, the organizations of manufacturers, everybody in this country owes the men who made this country safe."

An elaborate programme of waterway improvements has been worked out by the Rivers and Harbors Congress to aid in solving the unemployment situation. The scheme has been formulated by the Mississippi Valley Waterways Association and will be submitted at once to President Wilson and to Congress.

It calls for immediate appropriation of $400,000,000 for the improvement of the trunk reference to improvement of the water of the Mississippi Valley, including the Mississippi as far north as the Twin Cities, of the Missouri and of the Illinois and the Ohio rivers. The programme is for work on those projects to start at once and it proposes further appropriations to improve branch streams radiating from these lines.

The schemes provides that the government shall furnish equipments for transportation on these waterways and proposes legislation so railroads will not be able to throttle this traffic by unfair competition as in times past.

Among the speakers were Senator Ransdell, of Louisiana, president of the congress, who urged the appointment to the President's Cabinet of a secretary of transportation to regulate railway, waterway and highway transportation; Major General Black, chief of engineers, U. S. A.; Alan R. Hawley, of New York, president of the Aero Club of America; H. S. Noble of New York; M. J. Sanders, of New Orleans; G. A. Tomlinson, of Duluth, Minn.; and James E. Smith, president of the Mississippi Valley Waterways Association.

TRADE RESTRICTIONS NOW REMOVED

UNITED STATES TO RETURN, 910,079 TONS TO EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

Washington, February 9.—Joint announcement has been made by the Shipping Board and the War Trade Board indicating the virtual removal of all trade restrictions on goods shipped to Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Holland. At the same time, the Shipping Board announced its readiness to assign to those governments, or, if the governments or owners desire to cancel the unexpired portions of the charters of vessels obtained from those countries except such vessels as may be required for Belgian or European civilian relief or for the governments associated with the United States in the war. All vessels to be released will be available to their owners at the end of their present voyages.

Under the agreement with Denmark the Board expresses its willingness to forego its option to take under charter Danish vessels covered by the agreement, but not yet chartered, as well as its option for renewal of charters already executed.

This action will remove 910,079 tons from the control of the American Merchant Marine.

The vessels are divided among the different Scandinavian countries as follows:—Danish 31,337,246 tons; Norwegian steaming—61,273,495 tons; Sailing—46,118,426 tons. Swedish—31,144,911 tons.

The War Trade Board announcement states that it has informed the government of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland that the quantities of commodities provided to be imported into those countries by the several agreements now in effect have been materially increased. With respect to many commodities, including clothing, machinery and rubber tires, the quantity limit has been removed.

Mr. J. A. Gauvin left yesterday for Montreal.
Mr. George A. Marion is staying at the Chateau.
Mr. G. B. Morrison, of Toronto, is a guest at the Chateau.
Mr. Achille Bienvenu, of Montreal spent the week-end in town.
Mr. T. S. Gillespie, of Montreal, is in town, staying at the Chateau.
Mr. G. S. Hedley, of Guelph, is in the city, registered at the Chateau.
Mr. John R. Douglas, of Montreal, is in town, a guest at the Chateau.
Mr. J. H. Fortier returned to town Saturday, after a short trip to Montreal and Toronto.

Miss Gabrielle Paradis will receive next Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Adrienne Decarie, Montreal.
Mrs. A. Fraser and Miss R. M. Blain, of Chicago, are in town, guests of Mrs. P. J. Paradis, Laporte Street.
Miss Madeleine Masson, of Montreal, has arrived in town and is the guest of Miss Marcelle Brunet, Grande Allee.
Miss Renaud received at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at the residence of Madame Boisvert, St. Genevieve Avenue.

The Misses Doherty, of Ottawa, who have been the guests of their aunt, Mrs. J. A. Tessier, will return home this week.
Miss Juliette Routhier received a few intimate friends at the tea hour Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Adrienne Decarie.
Miss Germaine Garneau has issued invitations for a reception at her residence, Grande Allee, in honor of Miss Mimi Dupuis.
Lieut. Pierre C. Amos, of Lachine, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Amos, this city, has been decorated with the French Croix de Guerre, with bronze star.

Mrs. Adelard Turgeon will receive this afternoon at the tea hour in honor of Miss Juliette Bienvenu and other Montreal ladies at the Parliament Buildings.
Mr. Fred Brown, formerly of the R.A.F., and Mrs. Brown have arrived in town from Toronto, where Mr. Brown spent the last two years acting as R. A. F. instructor, and will take up their residence here.

Miss Germaine Morency received at the tea-hour Friday, in honor of the Misses Juliette Bienvenu and Madeleine Masson, of Montreal. Mesdames Henri Bray, Hormidas Pare and Placide Morency served the tea and ices.
The marriage was celebrated at Limoges, on January 21st, of Lieut. Gaspard Giroux, architect, with the Red Cross in Paris, son of Hon. Jean Girouard of Longueuil, to Miss Lucie Menisier, daughter of Mr. George Menisier, architect, of Limoges.
Major Cohen, the soldier M.P. for Liverpool, is the first man to frequent the British House of Commons in a wheeled chair. Mr. Pope, K. C., the great leader and foremost counsel at the Parliamentary Bar twenty years ago, also could not walk. But for a less heroic reason. He was of such huge and gargantuan proportions that his legs were not strong enough to support him, and as counsel for or against a private Bill he was by courtesy permitted to address the Committee or examine witnesses seated in his special chair.

The Prince of Wales is expected will shortly be officially invested with the Freedom of the City of London, to which he became entitled by patrimony on coming of age. The ceremony had to be postponed owing to the Prince's military duties at the Front. The Prince Consort, his great grandfather, was presented with the Freedom in 1840; King Edward, his grandfather, in 1863 and King George in 1888. The Prince will probably, at an earlier date, become an honorary Liverman of one of the great Guilds, and be presented to the Corporation in that capacity when he attends to take up his Freedom.

St. Patrick's Society of Montreal, which has not held its customary annual banquet since St. Patrick's Day in 1914, a few months before the war broke out, has decided to revive the custom this year. A banquet will, therefore, be held in the Windsor Hotel on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, March 17 next. The late Major William Redmond, brother of the late Nationalist leader, who gave his life in fighting against the Huns in France, it may be remembered, was the principal speaker at the last banquet of the Society five years ago. For the coming event the society has been fortunate enough to secure the presence of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of the province; Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Hon. Justice Dowd, of Boston and it is hoped that Hon. C. J. Doherty may be able to be present. All of these will speak. The society is also in communication with Sir Horace Plunkett, who is now in the United States, and he has expressed a keen desire to be present if he is not obliged to return to Ireland before that date.

The first of the Queen Mary Emergency Hostels for Educated Women was opened January 21st at 37, Brunswick-square, London, Eng. The hostel is designed to meet the needs of women with small means coming up to London on business or seeking work—needs which are expected to increase considerably when more and more educated women and the women's services are demobilized. The Y.W.C.A. has opened this first hostel under the direction of an advisory committee consisting of Gen. Feilding, Lord Antrim (of the Welfare Department, Ministry of Munitions), Lady Proctor, Lady Portsmouth (president, Y.W.C.A.), and other representatives of the Y. W. C. A., and representatives of the Ministries of Labour and Munitions. The Queen has given $500, and allowed the hostels to be named after her. A number of other contributions amounting to considerably over $5,000 have been received. It is hoped shortly to open a hostel in Moxleyburgh-square and another in Lexham gardens, and to connect them by telephone, so that they may each know how many beds are vacant in the other. Accommodation will be found for about 100 women in all. Posters calling attention to the hostels will be shown at all the railway stations and at the Y.W.C.A. huts. The charge for bed and breakfast varies from 85c to $1.25 according to whether the guest has a cubicle or a room. No one will be encouraged to stay longer than a few days, as the hostels are not for permanent residents. Already the first visitors have arrived at the hostel in Brunswick-square, and have found a temporary shelter after a weary search in the Bloomsbury area.

Officer Arrested
New York.—Accounts from St. Augustine received at Kingston, state in consequence of the attempt of Colonel Wilson (a British Officer, a native of Ireland, who sometime since joined the patriots of South America) to supplant General Bolivar, he had been placed under arrest and was about to be tried by court martial.

Capitan Drowned
A letter received in town from a passenger on board, the "Hannay," Captain Pierson, from the port of Liverpool states, that the Captain was washed overboard and drowned during a gale in the Gulf.

The Weather
The present season continues to be unusually mild. The heavy rains of yesterday has again laid the fields bare, a thing unexampled in this country in February. From Sunday till this morning the thermometer has been constantly above the freezing point. On Monday it was 47.

Municipal Elections
Mr. George Tanguay will be a candidate for the office of Alderman in Palace Ward. So it is said, will be Mr. Pouliot, Advocate. The present members in St. Louis Ward, Alderman Leonard and Councillors Angers and Chambers, are all mentioned as probable candidates for re-election.

Faulty in Its Theology
"La Presse" is evidently not well up in Presbyterian theology. That paper give a good report of the Peter Redpath memorial service in McGill and carefully adds that the Rev. Principal McVicar of the Presbyterian College alluded to the fact that a service was being sung at Chelmsforth, England, for the repose of the deceased's soul.

MORE TIME FOR MR. T. D. BOUCHARD

MR. MAGNAN HOPES HE WILL MEET HIM AT LAVAL UNIVERSITY.
As a further inducement to Mr. T. D. Bouchard, member for St. Hyacinthe, to meet him at Laval University on Wednesday night to discuss the school situation in the Province of Quebec, Mr. C. J. Magnan, General Inspector of Catholic Schools, has written another letter in which he offers to give Mr. Bouchard a half or three-quarters of an hour to speak.
The letter is as follows:
Quebec, February 7th, 1919.
Mr. T. D. Bouchard,
Member for St. Hyacinthe.
Sir,—
I acknowledge receipt of your letter of yesterday in which you decline my invitation to come and meet me at Laval University, where, on Wednesday next, the 12th, I shall reply to the accusations which you made against me from your seat as member.
You refuse my invitation for two reasons: 1st, the choice of the place; 2nd, the time which is given you to answer me, a quarter of an hour.
The first reason is queer: the Promotion Hall at Laval University is certainly an exceptionally distinguished place, where you will meet only honest people—therefore, there is no danger for you.
The second is no better, for, after all the object of the meeting of Wednesday next is to answer your accusations and not to permit you to attack me again. I am not the aggressor; one reading your reply would be led to believe that you are the victim. It is no the advice of enlightened people that I limited the time which would be granted you. You will admit that in giving a quarter of an hour to reply I was generous with you; I do not owe you anything. What favor did you grant me before the House where I could not say a single word?
But to remove any pretext for your refusal—for it is important that you should hear my defence as well as all your honorable colleagues of the House—I grant you, after my remarks, a half an hour or three-quarters of an hour, at your choice; I claim the right to reply which will be final.
This, I believe is a generous proposition, which you cannot decently refuse.
I hope, therefore, that this time I shall receive a favorable answer.
Yours very truly,
C. J. MAGNAN

SMOKE MACDONALD'S "INDEX"
LANGLOIS SUSPENDED BY MONTREAL LEAGUE.
Player Charley Langlois, formerly of the Nationals, has been suspended outright from the Montreal Hockey League by President Edward J. Callahan, for having gone to Quebec and played for Hochelaga in an exhibition game against the Montagnais, which his own team (Nationals) were scheduled to play a league fixture. Under no circumstances will Langlois be permitted to participate in a Montreal League fixture this season, even if he desired to. Manager Letourneau, of the Quebec team, admitted Langlois had played in Quebec; Langlois is now in the City League, which is considering a protest from Victorias to the effect that Percy Norton of Victorias took part in the same game under an assumed name.

Correspondence

Quebec, Feb. 8th, 1919.
To the Editor of Quebec Chronicle:
Dear Mr. Editor.—It is with great satisfaction that the workmen of Quebec are following the activities of the Hon. W. G. Mitchell on their behalf, and I think it only right that some expression of appreciation be tendered the honorable gentleman, felt by the workmen of this city, be expressed through your columns.
The subjects he is taking up on the behalf are altogether against the old regime of this city, a regime that has not only inconvenienced workers, but has without a doubt hindered to a certain extent the progression of the city. Take, for instance, the present leasing system in vogue here, with its innumerable disadvantages to the workman, especially the one day a year on which every one moving, must move their effects, rain or shine and regardless of the fancy prices charged by the carters.
But it is needless for me to dwell upon the subjects in question, as the drawbacks of them all are well known to all who live here, and as this letter is only an expression of gratification felt by the working classes of Quebec to the man who is endeavoring to better their conditions, and to make Quebec a city where the workman of other cities, cannot look upon it as a place where the worker is tied hand and foot by old-fashioned ideas. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your valuable paper.
A Working Man in Quebec,
H. HOLMES.

SOLDIERS ENTERTAINED.

I. O. D. E. Provided Pleasant Time For Men At Clearing Depot.
A bright and happy bunch of about 350 returned soldiers greeted the ladies of the Stadacona Chapter I. O. D. E. who, in connection with the Municipal Chapter, went down to the Clearing Depot Friday evening to entertain them. Music and song, smokes, fruit, and cakes were all most thoroughly enjoyed if one may judge from the hearty applause and ringing cheers which were given for the ladies and their helpers. Too much praise cannot be given in favor of the efforts made by the various Chapters of the I. O. D. E. to while away the laggard hours till the boys get ready for home after an absence in many cases of four long years. The following program was rendered:
