

GLADSTONE'S CONCESSIONS.

The Modifications to the Home Rule Bill Announced.

The Measure to be Withdrawn After Its Second Reading. The First Session of Mr. Gladstone's Speech at the Liberal Meeting—See-ers Returning to the Field.

The Full Malt Gazette writes to its account of the meeting the following lines: "The Gladstones at the Foreign Office—The Ephraimites are a very noisy set, and the Liberal Party will read the Liberal party in vain—Hartington's concession that all that it is now expected that the division will take place on Tuesday next. The Ministers rely upon obtaining a majority of thirty."

At a meeting of the Irish, held at the Duke of Devonshire's residence, it was resolved to support the Home Rule Bill. A conference of ladies was held, at which the Duke of Devonshire's residence, it was resolved to support the Home Rule Bill.
