WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1942

PRICE:— TWO CENTS

VICTORY GARDEN TO HIGHLIGHT PARK CARNIVAL

Rotary Event in Aid of Hospital, Convalescent Home, to Take Place Sept. 8 to 12

Active interest in the Westmount Rotary Carnival, to be staged in Westmount Park, from September 8 to 12, under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club of Westmount, in aid of the Montreal Children's Hospital and the Julius Richardson Convalescent Home, at Chateaugay, is being taken by the Westmount Women's Club, the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club and the Montreal Women's Club. Each club will be represented by a booth at the carnival and full support of club members is expected to add greatly to the success of the event.

One of the highlights of the carnival will be the Victory Garden which has been designed to serve the two-fold purpose of aiding our front line as well as our home front. A plot of ground has been chosen and in it will be buried in circular tubes War Savings Stamps. For a small sum each person will be given a divining rod. If he is a good guesser, and lucky, and comes within a reasonable distance of the buried tube, a War Savings Stamp will augment his supply. Only members of the committee in charge of the Victory Garden will know where the stamps are buried for this treasure hunt.

In the midst of its war activities, the Rotary Club of Westmount feels more than ever this year it must not neglect the responsibility it undertook some years ago, of each year, raising funds to aid underprivileged children of Montreal, through the Julius Richardson Convalescent Home, at Chateaugay and the Montreal Children's Hospital. These two institutions play a large part in the building up of child health in our community and their facilities must be maintained so that these children can reach adult age in a state of health that will enable them to help build the future of the nation. The hundreds of children who have been returned to their homes from these institutions completely cured in mind and body has amply justified the support pledged by the Rotary Club of Westmount and its efforts to maintain and increase the medical care and attention in the institutions.

The carnival will be held in the playing grounds of Westmount Park. Booths with games of skill, entertainment for all ages, facilities for refreshments and many unique attractions have been planned that will excite the interest of all those spending an afternoon or evening at the carnival.

LAST RESPECTS PAID TO LATE ROBT. MACAULAY

Former Toronto Lumber Business Man Was Father of Westmount Resident

The funeral service was held in Toronto Tuesday afternoon for the late Robert Macaulay, father of R. V. Macaulay of Westmount, assistant vice-president of the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, and of Leopold Macaulay, K.C., Toronto, former Ontario Minister of Highways. Mr. Macaulay died suddenly on Saturday at the age of 84 at Elgin House Hotel on Lake Joseph, Muskoka, where he had holidayed each summer for many years.

A native of Markham, Ont., the late Mr. Macaulay moved to Peterborough after his marriage and subsequently lived for many years in Lindsay, Ont., where he was engaged in railway work. Finally moving to Toronto, he entered the lumber business and was active as a builder up to the time of his retirement between 25 and 30 years ago. Mr. Macaulay is survived by his widow, the former Agnes Giroux; his two sons, Leopold and Robert Vernon; and nine grandchildren.

H. E. McCormick At C. W. N. A. Conference

H. E. McCormick, president and managing director of the Monitor Publishing Co. Limited, publishers of the Monitor, the Westmount Examiner and the Verdun Guardian, is presently representing these three papers at the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association being held in Saskatoon.

CAPT. JACKSON ELECTED HEAD BANDMASTER

Royal Montreal Regiment Band Leader and Well Known Figure Here Named to Post

Captain T. E. Jackson, director of music of the Royal Montreal Regiment, and a well known figure in Westmount, was elected president of the Bandmasters' Association of Canada for the ensuing year at the 14th annual convention of the association held at Newmarket, Ont., this week. He ended a year as vice-president.

Besides his regimental duties, Captain Jackson is general secretary of the Canadian National Recreation Association, Montreal, and the director of the choral society of that organization. He has been connected with bands, both in England and the United States, since he was ten years of age.

In 1927, Captain Jackson was appointed director of the Canadian National Railways' concert orchestra. In 1930 he took over the general secretaryship of the Canadian National Recreation Association.

Born in London, England, Captain Jackson came to Canada in September, 1907, and joined the former Grand Trunk Railway in June, 1914, entering the Car Department at the Point St. Charles' Shops in Montreal. He enlisted for overseas service with the 60th battalion in 1915, later being transferred to the Fifth Canadian Mounted Rifles where he had charge of the band and drums, with the rank of band- sergeant.

On returning to Canada, Captain Jackson joined the band of the War Veterans' Association as trumpet soloist, this band later becoming the nucleus of the band of the Royal Montreal Regiment, under Lieutenant Jones. In 1922 Captain Jackson took over the R.M.R. band with the rank of W.O.1. Ten years later, he was appointed director of music of the regiment with the rank of lieutenant and, in 1940, was promoted to the rank of captain.

LOCAL CADETS INSPECTED BY U.S. OFFICIAL

Hester Barres to Inaugurate American Air Cadet Organization

Hester Barres, an official of the proposed United States Air Cadet League, was in Montreal recently en route to Ottawa. While here he inspected the Westmount Squadron No. 1.

Mr. Barres, accompanied by his secretary Miss Helen Wing, came to Canada expressly to study the Canadian cadets. He declared he was greatly impressed by what he saw and stated that the U.S. League will incorporate many of the training schemes inaugurated by the Canadian cadets.

He discussed the cadet set-up in this country with Air Cadet Officers of No. 3 Training Command, R.C.A.F., and is presently visiting Air Force Headquarters at Ottawa to get further information before returning to New York. In the latter city he will be engaged in forming the American League.

The Westmount Squadron inspected by Mr. Barres is Canada's No. 1 Air Cadet body. It was organized prior to the authorization of the league by the Canadian Government. It is the largest squadron on Montreal Island.

U.S. TO FOLLOW AIR CADET PLAN

The principles and ideas incorporated in the Air Cadet League of Canada, which originated in Westmount, will likely be followed by the league's equivalent in the United States, according to Hester Barres, second from right, an official of the proposed Air Cadet League of the United States, who recently visited Montreal and Ottawa to look over the Canadian air cadet movement. Accompanied by Miss Helen Wing, his secretary, Mr. Barres visited St. Hubert and saw Canadian air cadets in the course of their training and activities at their summer camp. The picture, taken at No. 3 Training Command headquarters, here, shows, left to right: Flt/Lieut. P. V. Mosely, assistant commandant cadet officer; Cadet Flt./Lieut. R. E. Hall, adjutant, Westmount air cadet squadron, premier air cadet formation in Canada, members of which were in camp at St. Hubert recently; Miss Wing, Air Commodore A. de Niverville, Air Officer Commanding; Mr. Barres; and Cadet Sqdn. Ldr. H. P. Illsley, officer commanding the Westmount squadron.

MONROE ABBEY CHAIRMAN OF JEWISH APPEAL

Five Organizations to Hold Drive for Funds From Sept. 14 to 24

Monroe Abbey, of 3585 Addison avenue, and for many years a prominent resident of Westmount prior to moving to Notre Dame de Grace, has accepted the position of campaign chairman of the forthcoming drive for funds by five Jewish organizations, it has been announced by Samuel Bronfman, honorary president of the combined appeal.

Following the successful experiment of last year when three leading Jewish organizations in the city combined their three fund-raising activities, it was officially announced by Mr. Bronfman that five Jewish organizations will combine their appeal in one campaign to be held from September 14 to 24. This plan has been adopted in order to avoid almost continuous financial appeals to the public, and in response for such action by the Dominion Government.

The following organizations, with objectives as outlined, will be included in this joint campaign: Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, $310,000; Jewish General Hospital, $91,000; United Jewish Refugee and War Relief Agencies, $90,000; Canadian Jewish Congress, $24,500; Canadian Jewish Congress War Efforts Committee, $42,500.

By agreement with the Financial Federation, this combined campaign will be held during the same period as that of Federated Charities, the only difference being that the latter will conclude its appeal on September 22, whereas the Combined Jewish Appeal, because of two Jewish holidays, will not close until September 24.

UNION SERVICES CONTINUE SUNDAY

Union services of Calvary United and First Baptist Churches will be continued on Sunday in Calvary United Church, with Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., preaching at both services.

At the morning worship at 11 a.m. Capt. Jones will preach on the subject "Arming the Hearts of Men." President Roosevelt has sounded out a ringing challenge to this high crusade. It is one to which the Christian Church should give earnest heed, and never was the challenge more needed than today.

At the evening hour of worship, 7.30 p.m. Dr. Jones will preach on the theme "On Putting Oneself in the Other Man's Place." One of the heroic prophets of days gone by said concerning his ministry for those in distress, "I sat where they sat."

Lost And Found At City Parks

A tobacco pouch was found in Westmount Park. Information concerning it may be obtained at the comfort station in the park.

A toy dog made with red and white oilcloth was found in King George Park. This may be obtained at the comfort station in this park.

LOCAL POLICE ARREST MAN FOR RECEIVING

Westmount Detectives Tell Court of Taking Accused Into Custody

When a man who gave his name as Robert Le Messurier, without any known address, appeared before Judge Amedee Monet, in the Montreal Court, on a charge of receiving stolen goods valued at $300, and was remanded for voluntary statement on August 19, Westmount detectives told of his arrest.

He had been taken into custody in a Craig street second-hand store. The detectives swore that Le Messurier had sold a bell and camera valued at about $270, and an exposure meter valued at about $30, to the secondhand dealer.

R. Pierce Reid, 745 Lansdowne avenue, had previously reported that similar articles were stolen from his home on July 21.

Swimming Meet Is Held At Westmount 'Y' Branch

Last Thursday afternoon another very successful swimming meet was held at the Westmount 'Y' with over thirty members taking part. These Swimming Meets have been very popular with the boys and many improvements in their swimming have been noted.

In the Junior Section David Binmore came out on top with 15 points. Binmore is the first chap to gain a complete score this year. He showed his skill as a swimmer and is to be congratulated on his achievement. Second place went to Jack Donnelly with 7 points while Stanley Hatch and Jack Clement tied for third place honors.

First place in the Prep. Section went to Eric McFadden whose swimming this past summer has improved greatly. Second place was won by Jack Perry with 7 points while Ian Beckett captured third place. The results of the meet are as follows: In the Junior Section — Event No. 1, 2 lengths free style: 1st,

FINANCES OF UNITED CHURCH IN GOOD SHAPE

Despite the fact that at least 150 ministers and over 125,000 adherents of the United Church are on active service overseas, the general revenues of the United Church of Canada were up $32,000 by the end of July as compared with the corresponding period in the previous year, according to a statement issued recently at the Church office.

Commenting upon this fine showing, Rev. Dr. William Munro remarked that the situation was very gratifying.

United Church leaders have been greatly encouraged by the response to the special Church War Savings Certificate campaign.

Approximately $1,100,000 has been raised in this manner, the money to be used, when the certificates are paid off by the Government, to wipe out the accumulated deficit of $1,700,000 in the Missionary and Maintenance Fund.

During the past four years, a slight surplus was reported. It is now anticipated that the surplus will be an appreciable amount this year.

Some idea of the contribution of the Church in men is gained through the fact that 39 per cent of the members of the R.C.A.F. are United Church adherents. A number of local congregations have now well over 100 members on active service in the three armed branches. Among these are Rosemount Central with 142, Wesley with 131, Westmount St. Andrew's United with 130, and Verdun United 125, according to figures available in the central offices of the church.

Y.M.C.A. POOL OPEN

While municipal wading pools in Westmount have been emptied of water as a precautionary measure against any possible spread of infantile paralysis here, the pool in the branch of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. is open as usual. E. R. Taylor, acting executive-secretary of the branch, stated yesterday that the pool is checked daily for cleanliness and is kept absolutely free of harmful germs. It is also inspected weekly by Westmount health authorities and found to be perfectly safe for use.

CITY CONDUCTS WIDE PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES

Stamp and Model Airplane Clubs as Well as Sports Events Feature Program

The Westmount Parks Department offers a well-balanced program of recreational activity throughout the year. In addition to the athletic end of the program a Stamp Club and Model Airplane Club are operated. Toboggan slides, hockey and skating rinks are operated in the winter time with rugby being the major recreation in the fall. The various programs and competitions are under the supervision of Alderman B. Panet-Raymond, Commissioner of Parks and Playgrounds, E. J. Anderson, Superintendent of Parks and Jim McCormick, recreation supervisor.

In addition to the playgrounds in Westmount, Staynor, Selby and Prince Albert Parks many playground and recreational facilities are offered in parks like King George or Devon. There are four tennis courts equipped with lights on King George Park as is the Adult putting course. A junior putting course, two softball diamonds, football field, two sets of swings, slides, and jungle are all available here. There is also a modern comfort station with a lovely terrace and two pools.

A tennis court and playground facilities are situated in Devon Park.

The Summit Park on top of the mountain offers much in the way of relaxation with many ideal spots for sight-seeing, including a look-out which has indicators pointing out the landmarks in the country-side.

200 DISTRICT CPC MEMBERS SHOW TRAINING

Fire-fighting Demonstration Held at Rear of Police and Fire Station

Approximately 200 members of the Westmount CPC and Auxiliary Fire Force attended the last of a series of five fire-fighting demonstrations arranged by Lt. E. Desroches, of the Westmount Fire Department, and held at the rear of the Stanton avenue station Tuesday night.

Most spectacular of all five weekly demonstrations Tuesday's exhibition included the firing of a wooden "house" set up by the auxiliary fire-fighters at the rear of the station, and extinguishing of the blaze by the auxiliary men, with men of the regular Westmount force standing by. The blaze was extinguished within 20 minutes.

Other phases of fire-fighting demonstrated Tuesday included use of fire-extinguishers, stirrups, pumps, sand and ordinary garden hose in dealing with incendiary bombs.

In a brief address delivered following the demonstration, Mayor Walter Merrill, K.C., stated he would recommend to the City Council that a public demonstration by the auxiliary fire-fighters be sponsored in the near future. Police Chief Gough congratulated the volunteer men on their aptitude.

SPECIAL PLAYGROUND DAYS WILL BE HELD IN CITY NEXT WEEK

Parents to Be Given Opportunity of Watching Children at Work and Play--Handicrafts Will Be Shown

Next week has been designated as "Playground Week" on the Westmount playgrounds with three special days scheduled to be crammed full with activities. The selected days are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 18th, 19th and 20th. Tuesday will be "Staynor Park Day", Wednesday will be "Prince Albert Park Day" while Thursday will be "Westmount Park Day".

While each of the parks will have their special day, three days of activity will take place on each park. The "special day" will be for the benefit of the parents and friends of the children and they will be given an opportunity of seeing what the children do on the playgrounds, what they make and what is more important see them at work. The other two days will be taken up with tournaments and competitions for boys and girls.

VACATION CLUB ENDS SEASON HERE FRIDAY

Meeting of Westmount Y.M.C.A. Group Will Be Highlight of Year

This Friday afternoon the Y.M.C.A. Vacation Club will hold its closing meeting for this year. This will be one of the highlights of the year as there will be a special surprise for everyone. Included in the program will be movies, treats, prizes and awards. Although this brings the activities of the Vacation Club to an end for this season there will be a similar program run for the last two weeks in August.

Last Friday evening the Vacation Club held another successful "Snooze Party" with 22 vacationers spending the evening at the "Y". The highlight of the program was the story told to the members of the club by Howard Richardson. This was followed by a moonlight dip in the pool.

This week the boys of the "Y" are learning all they can about the Canadian Army. On Tuesday afternoon they were fortunate enough to be shown the R.C.O.C. machine shops. Here they were shown the whole plant and much of the surroundings were explained. This Thursday afternoon the boys will visit the Westmount Barracks where they will learn about a soldier's living quarters and where he eats as well as what recreation he has.

The swimming pool is still a very popular spot with the members. Many boys have already learned to swim and many improvements in the Vacationers' swimming have been noted. In addition to the members of the Vacation Club using the pool there are many girls and older boys as well as business men making good use of it.

CHILDREN HERE GIVEN COURSES IN FIRST AID

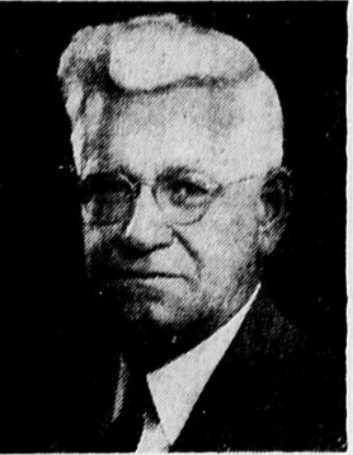

Instruction Given at Playgrounds Under Expert Supervision

Following the trend of the times a course in First Aid is being given the children in the Westmount Park, Staynor Park and Prince Albert Park playgrounds. With mothers and fathers taking the course at Red Cross and CPC groups, the children are keeping up with them by becoming proficient as well through the course which is taught under expert supervision. Swimming, diving and life-saving classes are run for the girls on the local playgrounds on Monday and Wednesday afternoons at the Westmount YMCA swimming pool. Expert supervision is also supplied here and the small tots are especially taken care of.

The girls are divided into classes according to their ability and taught group by group from the elementary strokes right up. For the better swimmers life-saving certificates are available for those passing their tests which are conducted by an examiner from the Royal Life Saving Society.

After the swimming period itself each of the older girls look after one of the younger girls, seeing to it that her hair is dry and that she is able to go out of the building prepared to meet the outside atmosphere.

Lambertson, Governor of district No. 170, Rotary International, will be the special speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club of Westmount in Victoria Hall next Wednesday. WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1942
CONSCRIPTION HERE TO STAY

Some of the more optimistic observers of our national affairs are inclined to think that our conscription problem has finally been solved — not to everybody's liking, of course, but like the issues of the American Civil War, solved to the extent that it will never again be a political issue. The arguments that preceded the Plebiscite, the Plebiscite itself, and the events after the Plebiscite, have served to wash out all the dirty linen we've been trying to keep covered since the last war. So much washing has been done, in fact, that the arguments one still hears against conscription have lost their potency through too frequent repetition. Conscription is nine-tenths in effect now; before long it will be entirely in effect; and after that no one will dare take it off the books. No one will dare make an issue of it again. Anyone who tries to do so will be courting an avalanche of national resentment. We've been through the mill. We risked our national unity to settle the issue with the plebiscite. And now conscription is here to stay. Before this war is over virtually all Canadians will accept that. No future government of ours will again be handicapped with the limitations the conscription issue has imposed on us in the past.

A BETTER WORLD . . .

The slogan, "We are fighting for democracy" is an excellent slogan. But a true democracy means a better world, spiritually, financially and healthfully . . . with a personal obligation and trust for all citizens.

Our democracy during the past twenty-odd years has been sick, terribly sick.

A few individuals were getting very rich; many were existing in a semi-starvation manner; our youth were denied the right of learning a trade or business; people needed hospitalization but the expense was prohibitive; politicians closed their eyes to the ugly realities, while a few conscientious social workers saw the truth and stated it; food could have been plentiful, but some went hungry.

There was only one reason for this undemocratic condition, — greed, graft and grandeur in high places.

We must now plan for the future . . . not a better place for ourselves only, the isolationist and selfish way of thinking, but for a better world for all peoples.

The philosophy of Thomas Paine should be paramount in the mind of every true democratic soul. "The world is my country, to do good is my religion."

There lies the answer to a better world . . . spiritually, financially and healthfully.

THE QUEEN'S EXAMPLE . . .

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth of Britain, Canada and the Empire, celebrated her forty-second birthday recently. Tributes and congratulations were extended to her from citizens all over the world.

Birthday presents were received, but not the usual kind. The Queen called them "taken gifts", and at her request, all such gifts were donated to wartime charities and other worthy causes.

This Queenly example is one for all her subjects to emulate. Remembrances are indeed a token of thoughtfulness and kindness, but so many useless gifts are given and considerable money wasted in their purchase.

There is no finer birthday or Christmas gift than that of helping our suffering friends and allies, who are being so mercilessly bombed. Put your gift money into a special fund for such causes.

Now is the time to make this resolution . . . follow the Queen's example . . . and tell your friends.

JITTERS IN FRANCE

Even a densely populated country like France has its hinterlands, where the peasants are illiterate and where the people are not always conversant with the latest orders of the day.

Some of these French peasants failed to turn in old guns that had been owned as fowling pieces by their ancestors. The Nazis have been executing the peasants where these old weapons have been discovered.

This is all part of the German jitters. There is a story in France to the effect that millions of rifles, rounds of ammunitions and pounds of explosives have been hidden awaiting the day when the United Nations will arrive to drive the Boche back to Germany. As dynamiting and assassinations continue, the Nazis and their stooges begin to believe the story of these hidden caches. Executions have been piled on executions.

There are hundreds of thousands of people in France ready to rise as soon as the signal is given. But, these people do not want to be stirred into action by a false alarm. They will act, when they are convinced there is the real thing in the way of a second front.

Book Review

by Howard S. Ross

Sydney — A Gateway to Canada. (Published by Louisbourg Chapter, I.O.D.E., Sydney, N.S.)

In the foreword Mrs. Gray, who is the wife of Dr. F. W. Gray, assistant to the President of Dominion Coal and Steel Company, modestly refers to herself as the compiler, and gives credit for material used to the writings of Richard Brown, Sir John G. Bourinot, Canon Vernon and J. G. MacKinnon. All profits of the book go to the Chapter War Fund.

In this delightful brochure there are skillfully woven the highlights of the early and later days of great historic interest not only to natives of Cape Breton but to all Canadians.

The story begins when Cape Breton was ceded to England in 1763 by the Peace of Paris. George the Third annexed Cape Breton to Nova Scotia. In 1765 the population of the whole island was about one thousand. Cape Breton was the first place in America mentioned as possessing coal and the first regular mining was done at Cow Bay, now Port Morien, in 1720. Coal did not have the value it has today, but with the advent of steam as a motive power on a big scale — which coincided with the founding of Sydney — coal increased in value. Watt developed the steam engine in 1765.

In 1783, when Lord Sydney and the Hon. Thomas Townsend administered affairs for the Colonies, Cape Breton was separated from the Government of Nova Scotia and made a separate province and so remained for thirty-six years. A Lieutenant Governor was appointed and the harbor then known as Spanish Bay was renamed "Sydney" in honor of Lord Sydney.

The first Governor was Major Des Barres, an English officer who had served with distinction at the siege of Louisbourg and with General Wolfe. This was in 1784. He arrived in Halifax and sailed for Louisbourg, where he and his party were met by Loyalists who had arrived three weeks previously under charge of Colonel Sam Peters (an ancestor, my mother being a Peters), Captain Jonathan Jones and Neil Robertson. Next spring 1785, Major DesBarres with the Loyalists and others, about eight hundred, arrived in Sydney. In 1820 the island (with apologies to P. E. Islanders) was re-annexed to Nova Scotia. About this time the Highland migration started. Thousands came. During 1802 the first ship from Scotland arrived with 299 passengers—104 heads of families and 195 children. This immigration reached its height in 1817, the last ship arrived in 1828, but smaller bodies continued to come for another twenty years. My grandfather Hugh Ross and his brother Malcolm came about this time on one of the smaller vessels (from the Isle of Skye) and went to work in the coal mines. They saved enough money to pay for their stay at Acadia College and became Baptist ministers. They preached in Gaelic and English for many years, my grandfather in Cape Breton and grand-uncle Malcolm in Prince Edward Island. Another brother, John, who came later settled at Margaree. He was the father of Henry Taylor Ross, K.C., D.C.L., for some years Assistant Deputy Minister of Finance and for seventeen years secretary-treasurer of Canadian Bankers Association, a graduate of Dalhousie, Acadia, and who, as a resident of Toronto, is now at 81, doing something greatly to be admired—growing old gracefully.

His successor was the Bankers Association is also a native of Nova Scotia (Amherst) and also a graduate of Dalhousie and Acadia Universities — Arthur Rogers, K.C., D.C.L., brother of the late Norman Rogers, for a time Minister of Labor and Minister of Defence.

Sydney was a garrison town for 69 years, 1785 to 1854. The last garrison was a detachment of the 76th Regiment, which was removed at the outbreak of the Crimean War. The military folk influenced the life of the district and by their example many became good cricketers. At North Sydney where I spent my boyhood days there were some first class players who taught those of us who were younger. There was keen competition between the teams of the two towns. Two of the outstanding players of North Sydney were Hon. John N. Armstrong and John Forbes and of the Sydney team E. T. McKeen and F. C. Kimber.

We are reminded that the army officers and their families played an important part socially. Many amusing stories of heart-burning and jealousies, trials and triumphs, of the belles and beaux of those days are told—tales of the strict lines drawn in the little town of less than 500 inhabitants. Life and customs resembled those of a remote English village of the period rather than those of a pioneer Canadian town.

Some of the officers and their families were much admired, others the reverse. We are told of the unpopular wife of an army captain — in 1840. She was "passably fair and ruddy, of medium size, very aristocratic, looking down with feigned disdain on such of our Sydney quality as presumed to be thought ladies. This dainty gentleman was a walking perfume shop, using musk and other mysterious cosmetics to a most offensive degree. The church, the shop, the market, and even the public highway felt and acknowledged her presence."

In 1788, Prince William Henry, afterwards William the Fourth, visited Sydney in the "Andromeda" and remained several days and was hospitably entertained. The Marquis of Lorne, then a popular Governor-General, paid a visit to Sydney in 1880 and was well received by all the people.

An interesting account is given of the early churches, beginning with the Church of St. George (Anglican) built first as a garrison chapel and later becoming the parish church. The British Parliament voted 500 pounds for the building in 1785. Later, in 1803, a vote of 300 pounds was passed. "The old register of St. George's Church is a very interesting and valuable document, showing how this first church by a continuous and unbroken chain, connects—as no other institution connects — the new Sydney with the primitive Sydney of the 18th Century."

I must bring to the attention of my friend Dr. Masscotte, head of the Archives Department in our Old Court House here, the following story which I am glad Mrs. Gray included in her story about St. George's Church.

"What must be a unique entry for a church register tells the story of a young man becoming engaged to the elder of two sisters, later transferring his affections to the younger. Before she married him, she had a 'quit-claim deed' drawn up and insisted on the elder sister signing it in which she promised not to try to exercise her old fascination on her sister's husband, or to try to break up the happy home in any way whatsoever. This 'deed' is filed with the marriage entry in the register."

The following tells of the founding of the Baptist Church in Sydney now called the United Baptist Church.

"Actually it was a split from the Church of England, due to disagreement with the policy of the British Government. In those early days, the Church of England was governed from England. Chief among those concerned in this breach were the Crawleys, who were all members of the Church of England. They, with other prominent citizens of the day, formed themselves into an independent congregation and due to the difficulty of finding a minister, they allied themselves with the Baptists, and Edmond Crawley went to the States to study for the Baptist ministry. He was a man possessed of great powers of oratory, took a keen interest in education, and later, when Acadia College was founded, he became its first president. Meanwhile, the influence of this strong man had become a telling force in Cape Breton. His brothers and many prominent citizens adopted the Baptist principles and followed where he led.

In 1888 Sydney became an incorporated town.

The first survey for a railway from the Strait of Canso to Sydney was begun in 1885. The road from Grand Narrows to Sydney was opened in 1890, the remainder of the line being finished in 1891.

When I read of the bottleneck at the Strait of Canso I think of the time and money spent by my father in having a survey of the site and plans for a bridge which would have been of great value to all the island and which I am told by experts would have paid for itself long before this. Mr. Waddell, the engineer employed by my father, was a native of Ontario and the leading bridge engineer in North America with many of the largest bridges in the U.S.A. and other countries to his credit. He was also an enthusiastic fisherman and showed those who were interested the possibilities as a sport of tuna fishing. My father tried to, but found it too strenuous at his age and sold his fishing gear to J. K. L. Ross who for some years with his large motor boat and experienced boatmen was successful in landing many tuna some weighing as much as 700 pounds.

Taking my mind back to the building of the railway from Sydney to the Strait of Canso reminds me of a story which I do not find in "Sydney — A Gateway to Canada" which has stirred within me many happy memories. During the building of the railway many young engineers were employed. A squaw, living near North Sydney called at one of the homes to sell her baskets. She showed with pride her papoose. The woman of the house said: "Mary, your baby is quite white, is it an Indian baby?" Mary said: "Well, you see man, him hap injun, hap injun-ner."

The year 1900 saw the starting of the steel works. The population trebled in the next year and as I well remember (I opened my law office there at that time) the little town was submerged in the growth of a modern city and became the industrial capital of the Maritime Provinces with the founding of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company in 1899-1900. "Its geographical position," wrote Mrs. Gray, "has already assisted greatly in its marvellous development and is destined to make it of still greater importance, both commercially and in a naval and military sense."

May I add two other bits of history: My grandfather, Hugh Ross, raised capital from friends in Halifax with which to open Victoria Coal Mines, this being the first under the sea operation in Cape Breton. Of course for many years now most of the workings of the coal mines of Cape Breton are under the sea—some a number of miles from the shore, the distance increasing each year.

My father, Alexander C. Ross, for some years representative at Ottawa for Cape Breton North and Victoria counties advocated for many years the merging of the coal mines privately owned and owned by small companies, under the ownership of one corporation with ample capital. He interested his life-long friend Hon. George H. Murray for so many years Premier of Nova Scotia, and they then interested Hon. B. F. Pearson, K.C., and Hon. W. B. Ross, K.C., of Halifax. H. M. Whitney, of Boston, was then interested and Dominion Coal Company was launched and was followed later by Dominion Steel Company, the two companies merging and now being Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation Ltd., one of the largest corporations in Canada.

While assisting my father, who secured for the proposed company the options on the mines taken into the merger, I remember writing in long-hand most of the options on those properties and I have no doubt that the president of the corporation, Mr. Arthur Cross and Dr. Gray would like very much to have the originals for the archives of the corporation.

During the year which followed the fall of France the R.A.F. made more than 1,500 raids over Germany and German-occupied Europe, dropping 20,000 tons of bombs in one period of six months from April to October 1941.

gree from Sir George Williams College this spring and will return to that institution as a teacher in their English department this fall. This will be Mrs. Francis' third year at the Staynor Playground.

Andy McGillis who is male supervisor in the park is well-known in Westmount as having been coach of athletics at St. Leo's Academy. This is McGillis' first season with the Parks Department.

The lady supervisor is in attendance in the mornings and afternoons while the male supervisor is on duty during the afternoon and evening. The handicraft and work program comes under the lady supervisor while the games and competitive sports are looked after by the male supervisor.

Included in the work part of the program is handicraft, sewing, knitting, corkwork, painting and drawing. Various articles such as pin-cushions, aprons, table sets, etc., are made out of oilcloth. Animal designs are sewn on craft-paper which is cut out in different shapes. Story telling, quiet games and a library are also part of the activities. Buttons showing that the boy or girl is a member of the Staynor Summer School are obtainable.

Softball, tennis, croquet and badminton are the most popular games with the boys. Senior, bantam and pee-wee softball teams represent the park very creditably. Tennis, croquet and badminton tournaments are held at regular intervals.

Wednesday and Thursday of next week will see the boys and girls of this week competing in Chinese checkers, bingo, croquet, tennis, badminton and horseshoe tournaments, while a track and field meet will be held on Thursday afternoon. A full list of these events will be found elsewhere in this paper.

There is also another large park situated in this district, Selby Park. A lighted tennis court, slide, swings, see-saws and sand-box are on this park. Selby Park runs from Selby street to St. Antoine street, just west of Greencove avenue.

Wednesday, August 19th, is "Prince Albert Park Day" and it is on this day that the parents of the children in this park will have an opportunity of seeing their children at work.

Mrs. Grant is the supervisor in this park and she is assisted by Miss Mitchell, a volunteer worker. Mrs. Grant is a teacher in Miss Hagey's private school and also lectures to prospective teachers of summer schools.

A modern comfort station with waiting rooms for boys and girls which are utilized during the rainy days for inside games and work, makes this a useful park. The park itself is situated on Prince Albert avenue above Chesterfield and runs through to Claremont avenue. There is a play area which consists of a tennis court, badminton court and volley ball court in addition to plenty of room for other games. Swings, a jungle, see-saws and a sand box are also situated in the park but away from the play area so that the younger children may enjoy themselves and at the same time have no fear of being injured through contact with the bigger children playing more active games.

In addition to the athletics, handicraft is taught on this playground. Raffia work is being done with the children making book-marks, nap-in-rings, the simpler kind of baskets, knitting, painting, drawing and other crafts are taught. Picnics, visits to places of interest and watermelon feeds have been part of this season's program.

Monday and Thursday will see many tournaments and competitions being held on the Prince Albert playground. Tennis and badminton tournaments are scheduled for Tuesday morning while a track and field meet will take place on that afternoon. Chinese checkers, bingo, pick-ups-sticks and other games are scheduled for Thursday morning and afternoon.

The third and last day, Thursday, August 20th, is "Westmount Park Day".

Mrs. Brennan is the lady supervisor in this park while the boys are looked after by Jim McCormick, recreation supervisor of the city.

Mrs. Brennan is a physical instructor in one of the high schools in Montreal and at the same time superintendent of the No. 74 Nursing Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. Misses Mitchell and Lester, both members of the same association, are volunteer leaders along with Viola Russell who lives at 318 Coie St. Antoine Road.

The summer school for girls and the small boys generally holds forth on the piece of land jutting into the Ravine Pond. They also have a room in the comfort station where their material is kept.

and which is also used to work in on rainy days. The bandstand is another spot where the summer school convenes.

The children in Westmount Park have access to four softball diamonds, eight tennis courts, two badminton courts, a volley ball court, two slides, see-saws, swings, Merry-go-round and a sand box.

The summer school is registered as under the Westmount Women's Club in their affiliation with the Junior Red Cross. Sailors' coats, mittens, socks and other articles are knitted during the summer. Raffia work is very popular and baskets, book-marks, etc., are made. Afghan blankets are made by the joint effort of the children. Corkwork is another part of the program and objects like belts and whisk-holders are made.

The girls also participate in their share of games with softball, croquet, badminton and the quiet games like Chinese checkers and bingo being the most popular.

The summer league for boys at Westmount Park runs a well-rounded out program with weekly tournaments in golf, tennis and other sports. Softball, volleyball, badminton and athletic efficiency tests are also popular items on the program.

Tuesday will be a busy day at Westmount Park when tennis tournaments for boys and girls, badminton and Chinese checkers tournaments are scheduled for the morning while bingo, croquet and putting competitions are on tap for the afternoon. Badminton for the boys is scheduled for Wednesday morning while the afternoon will be occupied by a track and field meet.

BISCUIT MAKERS HELP BOMBERS

Save Petrol to Assist in Carrying Out Extensive Air Raids

Enough petrol to carry out a 1,000 bomber raid on Germany has been saved by economies in delivering biscuits to shops throughout Great Britain.

The country's 240 biscuit makers have handed all their motor vans, with staffs, over to the Biscuit Deliver Pool, a non-profit-making enterprise which has delivered one million tons of biscuits since the beginning of the year.

The Pool takes the biscuits from the factories to the wholesalers and the retailers, collecting from the latter all their empty tins which are very carefully stored. Members of the Pool are charged for the service and credited for the hire of their own vans and staff.

By avoiding overlapping journeys and by making full use of the space available several million ton-miles of haulage have been saved in a month or two — an enormous economy not only in petrol and time, but in engine wear and man power.

BAKING SAVES FUEL

North Mountain Range Mecca Of Holiday Seekers

The oldest hills in the world, the glacier-rounded Laurentian Mountains, still offer the newest and best in vacation accommodation and opportunities. Vast in extent—the mountain range reputedly spreading over nine-tenths of the Province of Quebec's area—green with forest, and dotted with deep, cool lakes, the Laurentians provide a year-round playground for hunters, fishermen, swimmers, boaters, mountaineers, golfers, tennis players, horseback riders, skiers and just plain lazy folks who seek complete rest and relaxation.

Served by the Canadian Pacific Railway's excellent train schedule, the Laurentians run the gamut of every holiday-seeker's taste from swank resort hotels and lodges to the quiet retreat of a cabin nestled on a wooded shore or to a camp and a canoe by a lake, where the mingled smells of pine trees, wood smoke, frying bacon and simmering coffee excite the nostrils.

The Laurentian "vacation lines" begin at Mattawa, Ont., where a 113-mile line takes the tourist to Angliers, gateway to the Kipawa Lakes and Temiskaming district. Further east, the Gatineau line winds its way northward from Ottawa for 82 scenic miles, including some of the finest bass fishing waters in eastern Canada. The Buckingham Junction area north of Buckingham is also famous for its hunting and fishing opportunities. The ever-popular Laurentides north of Quebec City and known to practically every tourist who ever stopped off at the Chateau Frontenac, are another part of the Laurentian chain which has found great favor.

however, the term "Laurentians" is interpreted as that picturesque corridor following the valley of the North River, between Montreal and Mont Tremblant, and northward to Mont Laurier, where a majority of Quebec's smart resorts, summer homes, camps and vacation centres are concentrated.

In this zone are such popular points as Shawbridge, Ste. Marguerite, Ste. Agathe, St. Jovite, Lac Mercier, Nominique, Barrette and many others.

The holiday picture begins to take shape at Shaw ridge, 41 miles from the city. Lake L'Assommoir shimmers there inviting anglers, swimmers and canoeists. A few miles to the north lie two other lovely bodies of water, Lac des Sabies at Ste. Agathe, Lac Morin and a number of smaller lakes where a fine brand of trout, perch and bass fishing awaits the angler. Further still up the line is the tremendous backdrop of Mont Tremblant, the legendary "Trembling Mountain," often called the Matterhorn of the Laurentians. Down the Trembling Mountain's precipitous chutes and along its hazardous tree-lined trails are run those ski-clasics, the "dashar" and "Taschereau" races in winter-time.

Skirl Of Pipes Heard In German Prison Camps

Stande Scotland where she did? Today London is making bagpipes for the proud regiments of Caledonia.

It is, indeed, an old story, although probably the Scots Guards have never heard of it. For as long as 28 years, that 1st, 2nd and 3rd battalions of that regiment have had their pipes made up Kentish Town way.

No fewer than 200 sets have recently gone to the War Office for issue to Scottish regiments. The ivory used for the fittings cost £500. The sheep of the Scottish Highlands supplied the skins for the bags, clad later in their appropriate tartan. The wood for the drones and chanters which send out the pipes' wild and melancholy notes comes from darkest Africa — African blackwood arriving as rough logs to be cut up in Kentish Town. The reeds are from Spanish cane.

The makers made their first set of bagpipes for Queen Victoria's piper in a London backroom sixty-six years ago. Their founder's son started the pipe band of the London Irish. They have supplied bagpipes for the Royal Irish Inniskillings. They make flutes for the Grenadier Guards, for the young women of the A.T.S., for the Army Cadets and the lads of the Air Training Corps.

And their bagpipes are even now skirling among the Nazis. They have sent 12 sets into the heart of Germany—through the Red Cross to prisoners of war.

You'll Beat the Milkman In Wee Hours of Morning

Milk Deliverer to Get His "Beauty Sleep" and Greet The Night Reveller Long After Sunrise

As the French people used to say during the last Great War when they were put to serious inconvenience and annoyance through wartime restrictions "C'est la guerre," "It is War".

Housewives here will have to adopt some similar slogan, and in the face of an ever increasing number of rules, regulations and laws, which are constantly changing their former tenure of existence, will have to "bear it and grin".

The family beverages, tea and coffee, have been rationed, following the restriction on the sale and purchase of sugar, and now comes the new ruling respecting milk deliveries, and the mode of paying for the purchase of same. But it is an ill wind that blows nobody any good. The "night hawk" who is in the habit of staggering home at the early hour when the milkman makes his rounds, will be given an "extension of time", since he will have until seven o'clock to make his destination and still arrive with the milk deliverer.

The milkman himself will undoubtedly look upon the new law as a real blessing. He will no longer have to be up with the lark, but will be able to sleep, like his fellow mortals, until 6 a.m. or thereabouts.

The changes in the milk law, which are intended to reduce the cost of delivery in the district of Montreal, have been made by the Quebec Dairy Commission, in co-operation with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The new order provides the following regulations, which go into effect on August 15th:

1. The sale prices of milk remain as they were.
 2. Any vehicle used for the delivery of milk must have a load of at least 1,800 units per week (one unit is the equivalent of one quart of milk).
 3. No one can deliver milk, cream or other dairy products prior to seven o'clock in the morning.
 4. The sales of milk, cream and other dairy products must be made on a cash basis or prepaid tickets only.
 5. No milk dealer can offer, sell or deliver milk to a distributor of dairy products unless the latter takes his entire supply of milk from this milk dealer.
- The order is signed by Alphonse Savoie, secretary of the dairy commission.

SAVE METAL COVERS

Save all metal, plastic and other bottle and jar covers that lend themselves to re-use. The jars may come when bottles and jars may be closed with paper or other non-permanent materials. Save empty coffee, spice and baking powder tins. Some dry foods will come only in paper packages and these permanent containers will come in handy.

MUSIC TREASURES IN 'NEW FANTASIA'

Walt Disney's exciting new musical production, "Fantasia," to be presented locally at regular prices following its year's de luxe run on Broadway, presents a concert for the eye and ear both. Under the brilliant direction of Leopold Stokowski, the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra plays seven great treasures of music, while on the screen Walt Disney and his staff provide an interpretation of this music in many strange, hilarious, beautiful and exciting forms.

The characters in this full-length entertainment range from the familiar and well-loved Mickey Mouse to tlying horses, centaurs and centaurettes, ludicrous ostrich dancers and belching volcanoes.

Hundreds of Disney fans had been clamoring for a film based on Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite." Thus it was only natural that this beloved music should open "Fantasia." Some of the most fascinating work done by the Disney artists is in this sequence, with incredibly beautiful and imaginative images on the screen.

We Want Mickey!
Then comes Mickey Mouse! To be exact, it's Dukas' lively and catchy music, "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," with Mickey starred as the student magician who knows how to start mischief going, but not how to stop it. This role is a "natural" for Mickey, who plays it to the hilt.

Walt Disney had long sought to utilize a prehistoric setting in a film. Stravinsky's "Rite of Spring" seemed the most interesting and appropriate music for this setting because of its savage, exciting character. So it is that this most significant composition in modern music is interpreted on the screen in terms of dinoin-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Turnbull, in Barrie, Ont.

Flying Officer Colin Miller, R.C.A.F., who was the guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. B. Mack, at the University School, has returned to his station.

Miss R. Charbonneau, of Toronto, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Cecil J. Collins, will leave on Saturday with her sister to spend some time at The Pleasant View Hotel, North Hatley, Que.

The Misses Bella LaTour, Marion Henderson, Helen Graves and Marion Scott, and Messrs. Andy Wilkins, Cameron Paquette, Phil Black and Sherman Stanton were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. André LaTour at Bainsville last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Cresswell and their daughter and son, Miss Joan Cresswell and Mr. Percy Cresswell, returned recently from the Tadoussac Hotel, Tadoussac, where they spent some time.

Recent guests at Gray Rocks Inn, St. Jovite, Que., have included the following: Mr. Yves eveque, Dr. A. D. Augers and on, Miss Frances O'Brien, Mr. Wyatt E. Carter, Mr. J. N. Grouau, Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Groleau, Miss Barbara G. Cowie, Miss Barbara Bourne, Mr. G. H. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Corneille.

Mrs. O. P. Swift, of Madison, Conn., is in town to visit her sister, Mrs. E. J. Waterson, 455 Metcalfe avenue, and also to meet her aunt, Miss Palmer, of Charlottetown, who is at present at 8 Winchester avenue. Mrs. Swift, a graduate of McGill University, was formerly Miss E. Longworth. She was at one time engaged in newspaper work here.

Miss Louise Duncanson, eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncanson, of Falmouth, N.S., is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. De Wolfe, Cote St. Antoine road, until the middle of September. Miss Duncanson made the trip from Halifax to Montreal by plane, travelling by herself. The journey of 583 miles took three hours.

Perk Up Summer Menus with Refreshing Frozen Desserts

It's the good old summer time—time to perk up menus with lots of refreshing frozen desserts. Your refrigerator will be your staunch ally. And this summer you can tuck your sugar canister away and try some of the new sugar-saving recipes, featuring corn syrup, molasses, honey, sweetened condensed milk, sweet and semi-sweet chocolate, and dried fruits.

This is the time for economy, too, so you'll want to use some evaporated and condensed milk recipes, as well as your favorites that call for whipped cream. The results are smooth and delicious, and the canned milks are real penny-pinchers.

To use evaporated milk with success, just be sure that it is thoroughly chilled before you use it. It will whip as readily as cream if it is chilled to about 40° F. Leave an unopened can in the refrigerator or pack it in a bowl of chopped ice. Or pour the milk into a freezing tray and let it chill until fine ice crystals begin to form around the edges. When the milk is very cold, pour it into a cold bowl and whip it rapidly with a cold beater until it is very stiff. Because of its speed, an electric beater is ideal. Don't dilute the milk before whipping it, and remember that if it doesn't whip it isn't cold enough. Re-chill and whip it again.

Freeze the mixture to a mush, that is, until it's half frozen. Then scrape it from the sides and bottom of the tray until smooth but not melted. Smooth out in tray and replace in the freezing unit until frozen. Then turn the temperature control back to normal to store the ice cream, unless you are going to keep it several hours before sauers, volcanoes, boiling oceans and a world in the throes of creation.

Beethoven's masterful Symphony No. 8, known to the world over as the Pastoral Symphony, was an especially happy choice for "Fantasia." The interpretation which Beethoven himself gave was closely followed, except that the human folk enjoying their day in the country were changed to mythological characters like centaurs, centaurettes, unicorns, flying horses, Cupids, gods and goddesses.

Another idea Disney had been considering was a broad burlesque of a ballet. Set to the music of Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours," this division of "Fantasia" is a smash hit. The ballet is danced by Mlle. Upanova, an ostrich with a shy, coy manner and feet the size of gunboats. Assisting her are Hyacinth Hippo, as ludicrous a character as Disney ever drew; Ben Ali Gater, and his elephant pals.

Such, then, is "Fantasia," released by RKO Radio, which gives no two people the same impression, but which never fails to arouse the greatest enthusiasm among all who have seen it. "Fantasia" starts a special engagement at the Snowdon Theatre next Sunday.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

BY GERALDINE BRIETZCKE

It's a pet complaint of ours, a pet grievance, and we're airing it again... magazine stories. Women's magazine stories, to be exact. It's rather insulting to our intelligence, don't you think, to find that the silliest stories are invariably stories written for women, — and some of them written by men for women? A good, healthy detective yarn has to make its point or it won't make the grade. It must hold together, it must approach clear thinking. But that's a man's type of story. You don't, apparently, need logic or a reasonable facsimile of commonsense to write for the female public.

Le author put enough cute white chairs on a brick terrace, add enough tall, tinkling drinks, * fuzzy and enthusiastic. He was always a perfect gentleman, and grew up into a shapely, if unclassified, type of dog, black and silky. We hated to think of him wandering around in the country without a soul to talk to, and hungry, too.

Tut's family felt the same way, only worse, and, as we said before, it cost money and time. But the other morning there were shrieks of delight next door, and now a silky black dog, rather chastened and quiet, is restored to his own back yard, feeling glad that mamma and papa thought enough of him to go chasing around Val Morin for three days, putting notices in post offices, talking to all and sundry, taking innumerable taxis and going on innumerable fruitless trips. P.S.: Tut was rounded up in the middle of a lake.

ARE RATIONED
Practically all wearing apparel except silk and rayon goods is now rationed in Switzerland.

But ten years from now, who will remember these stories?

It cost money and it cost time, but the family next door felt that money and time weren't quite so important as their sixth member. To start with, it all happened when the mother, father and three children were returning from a happy holiday in the mountains, secure in the knowledge that their sixth member, Tut, the family dog, was safe in the baggage car. But he wasn't. They went to liberate him when the train arrived in town, and an indifferent individual shrugged at them and said, "He jumped off at Val Morin." And there were tears in the house of Tut.

We, too, felt regret, because we had known Tut since his early days, when he was round and servings. Then the regulator should be set halfway between the coldest point and the normal position. The result will be a mixture as smooth as a dream!

FAULTEE AND SUSAN MISS OUT ON ARMY DATE
A sudden "alert" ordered in Army camps throughout the Santa Cruz, Calif., area, left Paulette Goddard and Susan Hayward "waiting at the church" without any dates for a dance with Camp McQuaide men at Rio del Mar Country Club.

At the invitation of officers and men who had been visiting the stars at the location site for Paramount's "The Forest Rangers," Paulette and Susan had both agreed to attend the weekly dance arranged for the soldiers by the feminine population of Santa Cruz. But the "alert" cancelled all plans.

Borden's Kiddies' Days End Saturday

Borden's Kiddies' Health days and Borden's Employees' days which are being celebrated all this week at Belmont Park will come to an end on Saturday, so parents are advised to see their dealers for tickets and bring their children out to the park. They will certainly enjoy themselves on the many rides along the midway and will thrill to the free outdoor act offered by Peejay Ringens, aerial cyclist. Peejay first climbs a lofty rigging, a difficult feat in itself, then ascends a free-wheel bicycle and at a given command rides this cycle down the runway. Soaring into space he lets fall the cycle which drops into a net while Peejay dives into a tank containing less than 4 feet of water.

Today (Thursday) the Women's Benefit Association (French) is holding its picnic at the park and tomorrow, Friday, a dance will be held by the Defense Industries Ltd. for the Blue Shift and the Y.M.H.A. and the Iverley Community Centre will be holding their outings, and on Saturday the Dominion Rubber Co. Ltd. and the Independent Order of Foresters will hold their picnics.

"Juke Girl" Stars Ann Sheridan In Lusty Drama Film

A lusty action drama that combines breezy dialogue and torrid romance, made its local debut at the York United Theatre yesterday where Warner Bros. "Juke Girl" started its run. In the top roles are Ann Sheridan, Ronald Reagan and Richard Whorf — Sheridan and Reagan as a couple who struggle along trying to make a living wherever they can find it; and Whorf as the fellow who is going to go places by throwing his scruples to the wind. Also featured are George Tobias, Alan Hale, Gene Lockhart, Betty Brewer and many others.

"Juke Girl" has an exciting story to tell, and tells it well, making every line of dialogue, every bit of action, contribute directly to the stark plot. Briefly, it tells how simple, hard-working people refuse to be brow-beaten by a man who thinks his position gives him the right to rule other people's lives.

The setting of the film is a little town known as Cat Tail, Florida, made up of itinerant fruit and vegetable pickers. The largest packing plant is run by a man who, because of his position, rules the town. The role is played by Gene Lockhart.

He sets prices; he gives jobs and takes them away; his word is law.

Ann Sheridan works as a hostess in the town's only tavern and it is there that she meets Reagan and Whorf who have come to find work. Reagan and she immediately strike it off well together, but Whorf makes it plain that he hasn't much time for women. He also decides that things being as they are in Cat Tail, it would be a good idea to become friendly with Lockhart.

George Tobias, who plays the role of a friendly vegetable farmer, is prevented by Lockhart from getting a good price for his product.

Reagan goes into partnership with Tobias and things go along smoothly until they try to sell their stuff in Cat Tail. Lockhart's attempts to stop them fail. Tobias, in celebration of his good luck, wants to shake hands with Lockhart and forget the past bitterness. But the meeting ends in a brutal fight and Tobias is killed.

The stirring climax makes one of the most exciting sequences to have flashed across the York screen this season.

Director Curtis Bernhardt did a splendid job in keeping the film moving at a fast clip and was aided in the brilliant scenario by A. I. Bezzerides.

Abbott, Costello In 'Rio Rita'

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello celebrate their twelfth year together in a highly explosive comedy called "Rio Rita," which opened yesterday at the Westmount United Theatre.

The picture has nice balance, with Kathryn Grayson and John Carroll providing colorful romance and song. An amusing plot affords a reasonable background for the comedians, if one were needed, and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer gave the vehicle elaborate production touches.

Eros Volusia, famous Brazilian dancer, makes her screen debut in a series of novel rhythms, including the Samba, which she created. This adds to the variety of the production, which unquestionably gives Abbott and Costello the stellar vehicle of their career as a comedy team.

Tracy, Lamarr and Garfield In Vivid "Tortilla Flat"

John Steinbeck's best-selling novel, "Tortilla Flat," emerges from the printed page into visual being on the screen at the Monkland United Theatre, where the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture opened yesterday.

With Spencer Tracy, Hedy Lamarr and John Garfield co-starred, this charming narrative of the California paisanos is a revealing romance, with drama and comedy cunningly interlarded in the action. Victor Fleming was the director.

The supporting cast includes Frank Morgan, Akim Tamiroff, Sheldon Leonard, John Qualen, Donald Meek, Connie Gilchrist, Allen Jenkins and Henry O'Neill. Each of them portrays with fidelity one of Steinbeck's remembered characters of "the flats."

The love between Hedy Lamarr, as the fiery, impetuous Dolores, and Garfield, as Danny, lazy, likeable and dangerous, gives these stars completely new opportunities. Spencer Tracy, as the philosophical Pilon of the story, departs from any previous role and attains new heights in his understanding delineation of an arresting character.

Life on "the Flats" The picture reveals with remarkable fidelity the life of Tortilla Flats as Steinbeck knew and described it. The somnolent village with its humble shacks, its flower gardens oddly contrasting with its nondescript junk heaps, is on the screen in every detail, alive and vibrant with the loves and the hates of the paisanos.

The audience at the initial showing was swept into spontaneous applause by the artistry of the cast, the effective qualities of the scenes and the dramatic action of the story. Steinbeck was acclaimed for the novel. Now that praise will be echoed across the country for the picture.

STEAMING RECOMMENDED

In boiling vegetables much of the mineral content is lost so steaming is advocated as a method of cooking. This method, however, is not considered good for strong-flavored vegetables such as onions, turnips, cauliflower and cabbage.

J. Canova and J. Colonna Uproarious Screen Team

Every movie fan probably has his own idea of which two of his favorite stars would comprise the ideal romantic screen team. From time to time producers try to hit upon new combinations that will appeal to the majority of the fans, and for the most part they have been successful.

Paramount brings together two favorites who haven't yet been teamed but like once they see them — Judy Canova and Jerry Colonna — in their first picture together, "True to the Army," which comes Saturday to the Kent Theatre. "True to the Army" is a hilarious movie made more so by the combined antics and quips of La Canova and her Romeo, Colonna, he of the rolling eyes and the bristling mustaches. The plot is uproarious. It has to do with hiding Judy, a tight-rope walker, in Colonna's army camp. Judy is hunted by gangsters whom she saw shoot a man; she's wanted by the police as an eye-witness testifier. So Colonna, chief pigeon-trainer at the camp, dresses his cutie up in a private's uniform and hopes for the best. However, both Judy and he get the worst of it.

The picture is a laugh treat, enhanced by songs and dances from Allan Jones and Ann Miller. The second laugh hit on this double laugh bill, is "The Lady Is Willing," co-starring Fred MacMurray and Marlene Dietrich.

Dodgers, Wireless School Enter Semi-Finals

ELIMINATE EQUIPMENT DEPOT AND ROYALS IN WESTMOUNT MUNICIPAL SENIOR LEAGUE

The Dodgers and the Wireless School advanced into the semi-final round of the play-off in the Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League when they eliminated the Royals and No. 12 Equipment Depot teams in series that went the limit. These two teams will now meet in a series with the winner hooking up with the No. 3 Training Command nine for the championship.

The Dodgers and the Wireless School met in the first game of their series last night and the second game is scheduled for this evening. In the event of the series going to three games, the deciding game will be played on Monday evening, otherwise the final series will start on Monday evening with the next game scheduled for Wednesday.

Both the Dodgers and the Wireless School were forced to go the limit before they won the right to go into the semi-final bracket. The Dodgers defeated the Royals two games 11-3 and 7-1, while the Wireless School eliminated the No. 12 team 9-3.

Two big innings, the second and fifth, in which they scored five and four runs respectively, decided the second game of the series for the Dodgers. Noel Romney led the winners at bat with three hits, one of them the only home run of the game.

Johnny Mahaffey was the only Royal to get more than one hit off Allen Dyke on the mound for the Dodgers. Dyke had complete control of the game after the second inning and only allowed one hit after that. Dyke fanned nine of the Royals and walked but one.

Ireland, Fernuk and Keller led a fourteen hit onslaught on Bradley, the No. 12 Equipment Depot's hurler, with three hits apiece to bring the Wireless School the 9-3 win.

The winners scored five times in the third frame to ensure themselves of the victory.

MacDonald, the Wireless School's pitcher, hurled one of his best games of the season

SUMMER LOOP TOURNAMENTS HELD LOCALLY

Two tournaments were held for the boys in the Summer League in Westmount Park last week. The tennis tournament was won by John Gutellus, the runner-up was Bob Lunny while Dave Bussiere took third place.

Harold Young won the putting contest on Tuesday afternoon. This marked his second straight win. Young and John Brock ended the 36 hole competition tied up with 96 strokes apiece. In the 9 hole play-off Young shot a 22 to Brock's 25. A 5 on 4th hole in the play-off killed Brock's chance of taking the event.

Bob Lunny won the Class B putting competition with a score of 103. Don Springer was second.

Another tennis tournament will be held this afternoon while a golf tournament is scheduled for next Tuesday afternoon at King George Park. Both tournaments will start at 2.30 p.m.

The Westmount Park boys took both ends of a softball double-header from the Staynor boys in a twin bill played at the latter park on Friday afternoon. The Westmounters won the first game 17-10 and the night-cap 12-10.

Ned Jackman, Dave Bussieres and Harold Young led the winners at bat while Norman Ken was the best for the losers in bat and in the field.

and limited the losers to four hits, two of which were collected by Grey, the Equipment Depot's second baseman.

Gardner, playing in left field for the Wireless School team, garnered eight put-outs and fielded sensationally throughout the game.

The Dodgers won the deciding game of the series from the Royals on Friday night when they defeated them 7-1. Four runs in the first inning before anybody was out settled the game right there. The winners added a single run in each of the next three innings but they were not needed. The Royals tallied their lone counter in the second frame on a single and two errors.

John O'Connell and Tom Brennan led the Dodgers at bat with two hits apiece, both of O'Connell's being extra base efforts, one a home run and the other a double.

Allan Dyke turned in another fine effort on the mound for the Dodgers, striking out six of the opposition without issuing a walk.

PUTTING TOURNAMENT

R. H. Babbage won his second consecutive putting tournament last Thursday night at King George Park. This was one of the most popular and closest tournaments of the season with the largest crowd of the year participating.

Babbage and H. B. Thompson were tied at the end of the 36 holes with 88 apiece but in the 18 hole play-off Babbage took the honours with a 22 to Thompson's 27.

W. McLean and Bill Griffith were next in line with 91's.

Another competition will be held this evening on the adult course in King George Park starting at 9.00 p.m.

Cricket News

Westmount travelled to St. Henry last Saturday to play the West Indians at what should have been a cricket match, but for the second year in succession, a deplorable exhibition was the result.

The sooner something is done by the powers that be in the matter of cricket at St. Henry the better, but in any event it would not be surprising if the Westmount Club did not go to St. Henry again as long as such conditions prevail.

Neutral umpires or not, decisions are disputed, and the scene that occurred after the "wide" had been called would nauseate any cricketer.

It is reported in the columns of another paper that the West Indians take their cricket seriously. If Saturday was a demonstration of how to play cricket seriously, a little less tension would not be remiss.

On August 15th St. Paul's will pay a visit to the Park and the following week, Verdun will be visitors in the second round of the Davidson Cup.

CUTTING THE COST

London, Eng.—Austerity was the keynote at the wedding reception for LAC. Norman Ely and his bride, Miss Helen MacMillan, at Swindon, Wiltshire. The cost of all the food for 20 guests didn't exceed the equivalent of $1.75. The menu: tea, tomatoes, cheese and lettuce sandwiches—and fancy cakes.

Only 10 per cent of Paraguay's 1,000,000 people now buy shoes.

CITY TO HAVE TWO TEAMS IN TOURNAMENT

Two teams will represent the Westmount Municipal Senior Softball league in the Provincial Softball tournament this year. Last year the Royals, champions of the loop, entered the tourney but were eliminated by St. Jerome, losing the final game 2-1.

While first intentions were to enter one strong team from the league the Air Force teams have decided to put in an entry of their own and the players will be chosen from the five Air Force teams in the league. Nevertheless a team will enter in the tournament made up of players from the Dodgers, Royals and Swans.

The tournament will get off to an early start this year with the first games scheduled for Sunday August 23rd. Double-headers are played each Sunday.

The Air Force entry will play their home game on Ahuntsic grounds while the Westmount team will again use the Stelco grounds on Charlevoix St.

The draw in the tournament will be held on Monday evening
