Commissioner Cameron Presents Document For Improvement Of Studies In Huntingdon High School

A regular session of the Huntingdon High School Board of Commissioners was held in the library of the school on Thursday evening, with all members present and Principal Maurice Melnyk. The meeting was a long one and some important matters were discussed which will have effect upon the future operation of the school.

After the reading of the minutes and passing a number of bills for payment, Mr. Martin Beattie was appointed Truant Officer and Mr. W.L. Carr was appointed auditor.

A letter was read from Mr. Giles with regard to the establishment of a Central High School. This matter has come up before, but no action has been taken. The Board decided to write Mr. Giles telling him that they require more time for consideration of this important matter.

It was decided to order a carload of coal, three new clocks and a few loads of top earth. The latter is to be spread on the playground area with a view to obtaining a better grass condition and to level the grounds.

A delegation came from Dundee seeking some information on various matters and also to know if the fees for their pupils attending this school are paid in advance, would such be subject to a discount. The Board decided that no discount could be granted.

A lengthy discussion took place with regard to fees for a number of children who are attending Huntingdon High from outside points. The fees in question were finally agreed upon and the parties interested will be duly notified.

Application was made for the use of the school cafeteria for the holding of an art course over a period of ten weeks. It was decided to grant the request and a fee for its use will be asked.

The highlight of the meeting came during the last stages and took a considerable period for discussion before finally being ratified and passed. This had to do with the poor showing of students in the last school year and is an attempt to provide improvement in the coming year and after.

Commissioner Cameron has been working on a draft of several recommendations and he presented his findings to the Board for their passing and ratification. The document he presented was a lengthy one and touched upon many matters to do with future school life in the Huntingdon High School.

Among the many items in the document were the following: Any unethical conduct on the part of the teaching staff will be dealt with to a point where the resignation of any offending parties will be requested. A course of study was suggested which will include eleven subjects with a view to obtaining junior matriculation rather than just High School Leaving. A list of the suggested subjects was given as a suitable course to reach the desired results. The teaching of French by a specialist was suggested to start in the 6th grade and so up through High School with a view to better results in this subject. Manual Training will stop at Grade 9 in future. The New York trip by the High School students has been cancelled. The Graduation Dance will be held in October following the end of the school year in June. Only three dances and this will include the Graduation Dance, can be held during the school year. 10 other parties may be held during the school year. Results of examinations throughout the school year are to be submitted to the Board for review. A prize from the school board is to be presented to those students who have shown progress throughout the year in all grades from 1 to 11.

The various parts of the document were studied one by one by the Board and the Principal and some changes were made from the original draft. Principal Melnyk offered advice and suggestions with regard to nearly all the parts and members of the board also had criticisms and suggestions to make before this document was passed to be entered in the minutes of the meeting.

A full draft of this document will be handed to each member of the teaching staff for their guidance and knowledge.

It was further recommended and a draft was read, that a letter be sent to everyparent, guardian, or responsible party of the children attending the school. This letter will stress the need for full co-operation of all such in order to obtain the improvement in the school which is sought. It is felt that if the teaching staff, the students and the parents will cooperate in the fullest possible manner, that a great improvement will be brought about in the future standing of the students and the school. The stress in on the great need of all students obtaining the most benefit from their studies in order to help to attain the success that they must achieve in this present day of educational need. It was pointed out that without a good knowledge of the many subjects that must be learned, many of the students would not be in a position to obtain the best of living standards. Parents must see this need and encourage their children to make the most of their studies and to see that their homework assignments are conducted in an atmosphere that is conductive to such study.

Co-operation in the home with the working of the school means a great deal to the student making a success of his or her years at school.

Rotary District Governor Pays Official Visit

John D. Barnard

Rotary District Governor John D. Barnard, Watertown, N.Y., paid his official visit to the Huntingdon Rotary Club on Monday. The members at large were very much taken with Mr. Barnard and he assured the club he would return to Huntingdon on November 13, with his wife for a Rotary Ann meeting.

Mr. Barnard met with the Club Directorate during the morning and was quite favourably impressed. He was particularly pleased with the Rotary Club attendance record. Huntingdon ranking 5th in the Rotary District. He pressed upon the Club the idea of improving its attendance by at least one more member present per weekly meeting. When Rotarians miss three or more concecutive weeks of attending a Rotary meeting they just automatically leave themselves open to being dropped from the membership enrollment. Unfortunately Huntingdon has three members in this category, so how they will be treated in the future remains to be seen.

Rotary Governor Barnard attended the International meeting held in Tokio last June. He spent several weeks in Japan and talked briefly about the convention. When he and Mrs. Barnard return to Huntingdon, on November 13, he is to screen a large number of pictures taken during his Far Eastern tour and at the same time give a talk. Mr. Barnard is a free and easy talker and plenty of sparkle in what he has to say. From all appearances the November 13 Rotary Ann dinner meeting should be a real outstanding event in the life of Rotary.

Governor Barnard urged the Club to accord further financial support to the Rotary Foundation Fund which pays out bursaries. The recipients of bursaries have already proved this to be a very benevolent and worthwhile thing for the world at large. Recipients of bursaries in the Far East have proved to be great world fellowship agents, reported Governor Barnard.

Body Recovered From Power Dam At Beauharnois

A body — in the water about a month — was recovered from the Beauharnois Power Dam pool on Wednesday, Sept. 6th.

Provincial Police are trying to establish the victim's identity. The body was at the Valleyfield morgue.

An eight-year-old boy was killed instantly when he ran onto the street in front of his home from between two parked cars on Tuesday Sept. 5th at 6.30 p.m.

Marcel Jackson, 780 Dagenais Ave., Fabreville, was hit by a car driven by Pierre Larose, 10827 Du Presoir St., Montreal.

Your Attention Please!

Now that the school buses have once again returned to the roads to carry children to and from schools in this area, the Provincial Police wish to call attention to the regulations pertaining to them. The local Provincial Police have received instructions to enforce the law in the above respect to the letter. It is also their duty to see that all school buses are in good mechanical order and that they carry the proper lettering in French and English as to the vehicle being a "School Bus". School buses must also carry the proper lights in working order at all times, both front and rear. School Buses must be painted yellow if used exclusively as such. Drivers of other vehicles are required to stop in either direction when a school bus has stopped for purpose of taking on or discharging its passengers. They can only move on when the bus has started again. The Provincial Police will be checking on all this at all times.

Former Resident Of Lacolle, Que. Celebrates 100th Birthday

Mrs. Grant is shown above reading the telegram she received from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Mrs. Charlotte Lewis Grant formerly of Lacolle P.Q., celebrated her 100th birthday on Sunday, September 10th, 1961, at the Ormstown Convalescent Home.

Although confined to a wheelchair, she still retains her wit and keen sense of humour and loves to reminisce about bygone days.

She was born Charlette Lewis Jefferies in London, England, in 1861. When she was twenty she worked as a nurse in the London Hospital in Whitechapel Road.

She recalls the first meetings of the Salvation Army in the Mile End Road in London and how people jeered at General Booth and threw vegetables at him and his Salvationists.

She recalls also the reign of terror when the notorious "Jack the Ripper" roamed the streets of London at night mutilating his helpless victims.

In 1890, she married Walter Grant, who died at Lacolle in 1945, aged 83. Mr. and Mrs. Grant came to Canada in 1922.

Mrs. Grant's three sons served in the Canadian Army in the 1st Great War, and three of her grandsons also served in the 2nd Great War.

A Birthday Party was given for Mrs. Grant on the lawn of the Ormstown Convalescent Home, on Sunday afternoon, and present were most of her immediate relatives including her two sons and their wives, four grandchildren and their husbands and wives, and ten great grandchildren. (Three grandchildren and four great grandchildren living in California, U.S.A., were unable to attend)

Among other guests were Mrs. Snowdon, R.N., in charge of the Convalescent Home, the Rev. P. R. Stote, Mrs. L. Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rankin and John Watt.

After a champagne toast to Mrs. Grant, her eldest son read congratulatory cables and letters from H.M. The Queen, the Prime Minister of Canada, Mr. Merrill E. Barrinton, M.P., and relatives in England.

In all, two sons, four grandchildren and ten great grandchildren, were present at the party. The sons were, Wilson E. Grant, retired Customs Supervisor of Lacolle and Hubert M. Grant, M.B.E. Immigration Superintendent at Halifax, N.S. (An elder son, Donald, died in California in 1946) Grandchildren were: Squadron Leader George M. Grant R.C.A.F. of Ottawa, Jean Hadley and Douglas Grant of Lacolle, and Patricia Leask of Copper Cliff, Ont.

It was indeed a happy party with Birthday Cake, ice cream and other refreshments served under a sunny sky on the lawn and was greatly enjoyed by the one so honoured, who also received dozens of birthday cards and gifts.

Huntingdon Adult Community School Gets Off To Fine Start

The Huntingdon Adult Community School commenced its sessions on Monday evening, and in spite of the heat there was a fair attendance. Registration was the first part of the opening night and following this the various "students" entered the classes to take their chosen course.

Despite the fact that last Monday was registration night, it is still not too late to register for at least some of the courses. Most of the courses still have vacancies and an invitation is extended to all who want to register at the session, on Monday evening, September 18th. The Driving course is full and the Typing and Bridge courses are also full. If you care to bring along your own typewriter, a few more could be accommodated in the Typing course. Any of the other courses being offered are still available for further enrolment.

The National Affairs course seems to be attracting a lot of attention and the speaker on opening night was Mr. Bob Hershorn and he spoke on "Cultural Affairs." A brief resume of this follows:

Twenty people listened to Robert Hershorn, Montreal speak at the Huntingdon Community School on "Cultural Affairs" on Monday evening. Undoubtedly the excessive heat of the evening induced many folks to remain at home in preference to attending the opening night session of the adult educational classes.

Cultural Affairs may not sound like a lively subject for a hot evening, but for all of that, Mr. Hershorn expressed his views and in the course of his expressed opinion a number of his listeners voiced opinions which brought out a fair amount of discussion and opinions which the speaker was anticipating.

Undoubtedly a larger number of people will be in attendance next Monday, when the subject to be discussed will be "Western Farm Problems" by Mr. W. W. Buchanan, Consultant and former Vice-President of the Tariff Board.

Mr. Francois Clevn chairs these meetings in the Course on on National Affairs.

There are many more subjects listed for this particular course and there is no doubt that more and more interest will be taken in it. Plan now to attend the Adult Community School for a weekly evening of educational advantage.

Tickets For Nurses' Fund Going Well

The Nurse Training Fund sponsored by the Huntingdon Rotary Club is meeting with favourable response. A check of ticket sales of the weight contest, known as the "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", indicates tickets are being well received and that the weight question is provoking considerable discussion; and that is all to the good. The Rotarians are much more optimistic about the final results than was the case when the scheme was first promoted.

This year the Rotary Club will be according financial support to at least six girls who are in training to become Registered Nurses. Each nurse trainee receives approximately $1,000 over her three year training period, so that means the Nurse Training Fund for 1961-62 will be called upon to pay out $2,000. This $2,000 is expected to be raised from the "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" weight guessing contest. To raise this amount of money it means 2500 tickets should be sold to pay for the nurse benefits and other expenses involved. It was agreed some weeks ago that Rotarians would not be permitted to participate in the weight guessing contest. As each Rotarian always paid for one or more books personally it means a more strenuous sale effort must be exercised in order to bring about the desired tangible result.

The girls presently in training under the Nurse Training Benefit Fund are as follows: Miss Peggy Sedgwick, due to graduate September 1962; Miss Madeline Leboeuf, due to graduate March 1963 Miss Susan Faille, due to graduate September 1963; Miss Bernadette Leblanc, due to graduate September 1963 Miss; Patricia Baker, due to graduate September 1963; Miss Francine Leblanc, entered the Verdun General Hospital this month.

PRESENTATION OF TROPHY AT HAVELOCK FAIR

An interesting new 'Special' was awarded to Havelock Fair this year. An inscribed silver Tray, the gift of the Franklin Apple Growers Co-Op., was awarded to the winner in Fruit Class No. 19, Section 15; Three Commercial varieties, five of each. Our picture shows Mr. Glen Waller, Fair Director in charge of Fruit, at the right, presenting the Tray to this year's winner, Mr. Keith Curran, while judge Mr. Bob Reid looks on. In order to keep the Tray, an Exhibitor must win it two years, not necessarily consecutively.

Havelock Fair Provides Pleasing Variety Of Interesting Events

Havelock Fair which was held on Saturday, was once again a very successful event. The weather was all that could be wished for and the attendance was on about a par with the previous year. Some farmers were prevented from attending due to taking advantage of the weather to catch up on some of their delayed operations.

The number of exhibits was geater and this also helped to make the Fair more interesting. There was a really good display of vegetables of all kinds and they were of good quality. The tables in this department were well filled. The Fruit section was not so well filled, but what was on display was of good quality. In the Ladies' section that to do with bread, cakes, etc., was full to overflowing. The main counter and the table behind were filled to capacity and more. Some very good examples of this art were to be seen. The preserves section was about average. In the needlework dept., the exhibits were not quite so many, but there was plenty of variety. Plants and flowers showed up quite well with a greater number than was the case the previous year.

It was Red and White Day at Havelock Fair this year and there was a very fine display of this breed of cattle in the show ring at judging time and also about the nearby stalls. The Holsteins also had a very good showing and some fine specimens were to be seen. A new breed of cattle was on display for the first time in Canada and also at Havelock Fair. This breed is known as Dexter and apparently is a revival of an Irish type that has become almost extinct. More about this in another story.

Horses showed up well and especially ponies, which seemed to have invaded this part of the country in the past few years. There were a large number of children's outfits and tended by children. Lovers of horses would find plenty to be interested in at Havelock Fair last Saturday.

There was a little different arrangement of the rings for the cattle and horses and the horse ring in particular was much smaller than usual. This was due to cars being parked on the grounds and they were parked well into the grounds and took up some of the space formerly allotted to the horses and cattle. However, this did not interfere with the showing.

There was a good number in the poultry dept., but the sheep and swine were quite sparse.

The dinner served by the ladies of the Anglican Church of Herdman and of the Gore, was a splendid success as usual, but it was reported that the patronage was down a little from other years.

The ladies of the various church organizations were set up in what might be termed "Church Row", for the booths were lined up and facing one another on two sides forming a small "street". This was crowded with people looking at and no doubt buying the various articles that each group was offering. It looked quite prosperous from the number crowded into the "street".

Of course the soft drink stand was doing a land office business with crowds flocking around all the time. The day was warm and conducive to liquid refreshment—thus all the various drinks were going very well.

Bingo attracted quite a number with peaches and other prizes being offered to the winners.

A baseball game which started in the morning and continued during the early part of the afternoon attracted quite a lot of attention. It was a game between bantam teams. Following this the children's races were held and this of course was another ringer. Following the races, the pig contest was held. It must be that the boys have been having lots of practice, for it did not take them long to capture the six pigs and bring them back in for the prizes. For the balance of the time, the ponies and the children took over in a number of events such as potato race, musical chairs, etc. These events provided plenty of amusement for the patrons who lined the squared off arena. It was amusing before the start of the pig contest to see a little girl with parasol get into the ring and start after the pigs. She had them running in all directions and seemed to be getting lots of fun out of it.

A part of the prize list will appear in this issue and the balance will follow next week.

The following are the prize winners in the pig catching contest: 1st, Brian Gilpin, Hemmingford; 2nd, Andy Latour Hemmingford; 3rd, Ray McAdam, Hemmingford; 4th, Donald Dunn, Franklin Centre; 5th Merle Greer, Ormstown; 6th, Robert Bruce, Franklin Centre.

Here Mrs. Grant is shown with the members of her family gathered around her as she celebrated her 100th birthday. An account of this appears on this page.

Mrs. Myrtle Boy Honored By Members Of Bayview Rebekah Lodge

VALLEYFIELD — On Wednesday evening, September 6th, the members of Bayview Rebekah Lodge No. 46 started their Fall activities, and members of Pioneer Lodge No. 1 and Ormsdale Lodge No. 30 were invited to be present. This being the occasion of Sister Myrtle Boy's 50th Anniversary as a member of the Rebekah order, all the members were invited to the lower Hall for refreshments by the Vice-Grand Sister Lil Oleson.

The tables were beautifully decorated by Sister Anna Crook and Sister Ann Dow with pink flowers and greenery also yellow mums and ivy circling the gold candlestisks. The head table was centered with a beautiful Anniversary Cake decorated with Sister Boy's emblems "The Dove and the Rose."

The guest of honor Sister Myrtle Boy past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec was met at the door by Sister Hazel Knight, Noble Grand, who presented her with a corsage of roses and baby's breath and escorted her to the head table. Sister Knight then welcomed the guests in the following words.

We are gathered here on this happy occasion to celebrate Sister Myrtle Boy's 50th Anniversary as a Rebekah. She was the first Noble Grand of Bayview and was also Treasurer and Degree Captain for many years until ill health made it impossible for her to continue. In 1955-56 Sister Boy brought honour to herself and her Lodge by being chosen president of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec. During all these years Sister Boy has been conscientious and untiring in her efforts in Lodge work.

Sister Barbara Kerr, Chaplain of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec asked the blessing and all were seated. After the refreshments Sister Hazel Knight called the members to order and presented Sister Boy with a gift and read the following tribute.

"Sister Boy, it gives me great pleasure to present to you on behalf of the Sisters and Brothers of our Lodge this token of affection and esteem for your work, devotion and sacrifice to our Order and we trust we will have your support for many more years to come."

Sister Boy replied in a few well chosen words and said that she could not find words to express her gratitude for their support through the years and for the beautiful gift and corsage she had received. She assured them that she would continue to work for the good of the Order as long as she was able.

Sister Boy was also presented with beautiful gifts from Pioneer and Ormsdale Lodges and from Sister Ann Elliot and Sister Ellen Brown.

Sister English past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec, Sister Barbara Kerr Assembly Chaplain, Sister E. Herdman, District Deputy president of District No. 1 and Brother Gunar Oleson, Grand High Priest of the Grand Encampment I.O. O.F. also added their tributes to Sister Boy.

All arrangements for the eventful evening were in the hands of the following committee: Sister Lil Oleson, Sister Ann Dow, Sister Jean Colquhoun, Sister Hazel Knight, Sister Ida Landers, Sister Anna Crook and Sister Mary Johnson.

By now everyone is now deep in homework. Even though many of us did not have desks, regular classes were held as usual on Monday morning much to the disappointment of the students.

Last week-end I had the pleasure of attending the fifth annual Chateauguay Valley District Camporee held at Camp Bosco near Valleyfield. Scouts from all over the Chateauguay Valley District attended as well as two American Troops and other Troops from Montreal. These Troops spent two days camping and making friends as well as demonstrating their ability to perform different Scout activities. Everyone had a grand time making friends with people from other Patrols and also swapping parts of their uniforms for parts of the other guys.

Chateauguay was well represented with three Sea Scout Patrols and Two Boy Scout Patrols helping to demonstrate Chateauguay's ability to do anything that anyone else can do.

Even though everyone went home very tired they all had a swell time and are all looking forward to the one to be held next year, so until then Good Scouting.

Chatter

Well this week a group of Chateauguay boys who had stuck together after they had been fired from the Earthquakers added another boy to their group, took the name Lightning Rods and are now ready to strike back and make up for lost time, so keep your eye out for them.

Well that's all for this week folks, even though school has started and news should be easier to find it is getting harder to find and if there is no news there can't be any column so how about using the phone and call me at OX. 2-2440 and telling me about what you want to see in this column, O.K.?

JET PLANE HITS SOUND BARRIER

A large number of people heard what appeared to be a loud explosion as if some blasting was going on, on Saturday morning. Later rumors were going the rounds that a jet plane had crashed in the vicinity somewhere. The police were asked by many if they had any reports on the matter and they could give no information. At the time there was a jet plane flying near Huntingdon for the smoke stream that they leave behind them could be plainly seen in the sky. It was at this time that the explosion was heard. It is now believed that it was a jet plane which hit the sound barrier over Huntingdon which caused what seemed like an explosion. Also at the time a prop propelled plane kept circling around the town for perhaps a half hour. This might have given rise to the rumor that a jet had crashed. Another rumor was that a hydroplane had landed in the river near the Filter plant, this could not be confirmed either.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Three nights before the opening of the Huntingdon Fair, a telephone call was made to Ormstown to ascertain the possibility of obtaining the Ormstown Majorettes to lead the Parade. A hasty call was then made to Miss Dawn McMahon in Montreal, who is the Majorette Leader and she managed to get several of her girls together and they spent many hours rehearsing in order that they might make a creditable showing for their neighbors. A fine display was put on by these young girls under the direction of Dawn who has given freely of her time and talents for over two years.

When the Gleaner appeared on the streets we noticed a report of the Parade with this notation, "The Huntingdon Citizen's Band with majorettes made a good impression"... The majorettes are a new addition to the band and looked quite good in their uniforms" ...etc. We were also aware that although the Majorettes were referred to in the speeches of two M.P.'s there was never at any time mention of Ormstown. It is our contention that the absence of a "thank you Ormstown" was an oversight but..." The Huntingdon Citizens Band with Majorettes", should have read "with Ormstown Majorettes." We in Ormstown are very proud of our little girl majorettes and we are very proud to have them perform anywhere at any time. Our only objection was the implication that all credit went to a non-existant organization.

Bernice M. Cullen.

Editor's Note:—

Indeed we were under the impression that the majorettes were an addition to our own band, a matter that has been talked about. We are indeed sorry that no credit was given to Ormstown and we hasten to add our apologies by publishing this letter and so clear up the misunderstanding. This is the only correction we have had on the matter and we are glad you have brought it to attention. We are always anxious to give proper credit at all times.

The St. Luke's Men's Club Newly Formed In Hemmingford

HEMMINGFORD — On June 28th, last a group of men met in the Forest Figsby Hall to consider the formation of a men's club. The need for such a club has long been felt by men who are seriously interested in the happenings of the world at large, in general and in their own community, in particular. Where men might meet to discuss and familiarize themselves with the problems and projects of a growing community. Where, in order to further the work of the Church, (to quote from the Constitution) a programme of stimulating Spiritual, Social and Recreational activity among the members may be planned. After much preliminary ground work, a second meeting was called for Tuesday, August 1st, when a slate of officers and a constitution was presented for discussion and approval.

Both were approved and the officers are as follows: President, Mr. G.J. Bychowski, Vice-President, Mr. A. Round, Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. R. Petch. The name of the new club is 'The St. Luke's Men's Club', but this does not mean that membership is limited to the men who are members of St. Luke's Church. The constitution states that any male who supports the aims and purpose of the Club according to the constitution is eligible for membership. Meetings will be held the first Tuesday of the Month at 8 p.m. in the Forest Figsby Hall. There are no set membership fees, any expenses of the Club will be met by a levy as required or by voluntary contributions. Various Standing Committees were formed to facilitate the work of the Club and at the second regular meeting held Tuesday, September 5th, members joined in an interesting and spirited discussion on certain community matters. A sincere invitation to join the club is extended to all men with the interest of the community and church (Whatever denomination) at heart. The good wishes of all who are concerned with the well-being of this community and its churches go out to this new Club. May the efforts of its officers and members be crowned with success.

Dundee Children Attend Two Schools

DUNDEE. — Protestant schools in this area opened last Wednesday for half a day. It was a big day for the pupils of the Dundee Consolidated School. Only pupils in Grades 1 to 5 are being taught in Dundee, the others travel by bus to Huntingdon High School, some leaving home at 7:45 a.m. and not returning until almost 5:00 p.m. which makes a very long day, especially as farm youngsters have chores to do upon reaching home and the homework must be done. Teachers are stressing this very strongly now at the beginning of the new school term. Mrs. George Sutton began her new duties as principal and teacher of Grades 1, 2 and part of 3. Mrs. Brown is new to the school and is teaching Grades 3 to 5. Mrs. Brown is from St. Chrysostome and during the school week she and her little boy live with Mr. and Mrs. Keith MacPherson.

Mr. George MacPherson and Mr. Robbie Arnold have the two bus routes — George in Dundee and Robbie in St. Agnes and The Beaver. They meet at Arnold's Corners where the children change buses, with Robbie going on to Huntingdon and George to the Consolidated School.

Dundee W.I. met at the home of Mrs. N. H. McNicol last Wednesday. Plans were made for the County Semi-Annual to be held at Mrs. Earl Gardiner's on October 13. Although unable to be present, Mrs. Gardiner sent an interesting account of the city of Cornwall, Ontario, as her citizenship report. Cornwall began when the United Empire Loyalists settled there. It was first called New Johnstown after older Johnstown in the Mohawk Valley. Later named Cornwall, apparently in honour of Prince George, Duke of Cornwall, eldest son of George III.

For Publicity, Mrs. A. H. Fraser read about a trip to Vancouver Island. This was arranged for the officers, delegates and visitors to the F.W.I.C. National Convention held in June in Vancoucer. For Welfare and Health, Mrs. E. J. Cameron read about Muscular Distrophy. Mrs. N. H. McNicol showed the beautiful ceramic work she has been doing: bowls of flowers and figurines. She has only done this type of work for a very short time and already does beautiful work. Supper was then served by Mrs. McNicol assisted by Miss Joan Fraser.

Mr. And Mrs. F. G. Sherrington Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

FRANKLIN CENTRE. — Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Sherrington Sr. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Sept 3rd (the actual date of the anniversary is Oct. 10th, but the family celebration was September 3rd because it was more convenient for those living at a distance to come on the holiday week-end.) The 5 sons and 5 daughters with their families, including 16 grandchildren, met at the Franklin Co-Op. about 10:30 A.M. and paraded up the hill in their cars to the Sherrington Farm. 46 people in all attended the celebration, coming from Bridgeport, Conn.; Miami Beach, Florida, West Hill, Ont.; Dundas, Ont; Sherrington, Que.; St. Lambert, Dorval, and Montreal, Que.

Fred Sherrington Jr., the eldest son, made a speech of congratulation on behalf of the family; and gifts from the family included a new tile floor for the dining room, a love seat and arm chair, a large new frig., a set of cutlery, and a set of attractive metal ash trays.

A cablegram of congratulations was received from Governor General Vanier.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrington are still in good health and active. Mr. Sherrington's favorite occupation is chopping, sawing and stacking wood, while Mrs. Sherrington gets through a great deal of housework on week-ends when there are usually one or two families of visiting relatives. However, on Sunday, she was told to sit down and enjoy herself while the daughters took over the serving of food to the gathering. One of her sons remarked: "It is about time she sat down after 50 years."

This community also wish to extend their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sherrington on this occasion, and hope they will be spared to celebrate their 60th anniversary.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

On Tuesday evening, September 5th, a very lovely shower was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Sutton with Mrs. Harold Sutton as co-hostess, for Miss Thelma Sutton. Upon arrival the bride-to-be was ushered in by Mrs. Harold Sutton and a lovely corsage was pinned on her by Mrs. Lloyd McClenaghan. Thelma then occupied the guest of honor chair, which was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers with a pink watering can and many balloons hanging above. The room was nicely decorated with pink and white streamers and bells. Approximately thirty-five ladies enjoyed watching Thelma, with the help of her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Sutton, open her many beautiful and useful gifts. After the gifts were passed around for the ladies to admire, Thelma thanked everyone in a few well chosen words for the many lovely gifts. The hostesses, with the aid of a few others, served a delicious buffet lunch and everyone left wishing Thelma well in her forthcoming marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Walsh, Lorna and Teddy of Carlton Place Ont., spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunn recently.

BOY SCOUTS

Last weekend a Camporee was held at Camp Bosco in Valleyfield. There were about 250 Scouts, including three American Troops, from Plattsburg, Malone and St. Regis, and Troops from Delson, Cartierville, Mount Bruno, besides Chateauguay Valley District.

We were very pleased to see a troop from Catholic Federation it was their first camporee. There was also a Rover Crew present and fifty leaders were also at the camp.

The weather was excellent, and Scoutoree events were of high standard.

The Chateauguay Maple Troop put on a very fine exhibition of camping. Fifteen boys from here went with the Chateauguay Maple Troop to the camporee.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lefebvre (Pharmacie Lefebvre), of Rue Principale, were the lucky winners of a trip to Nassau. It was a complete surprise for, as in so many cases, the ticket was bought and forgotten about completely. They left August 26th by Jet to New York, then boarded the Italia for the Cruise. All their expenses were paid with an extra $100. to spend in the bargain. They returned here September 2nd having had a simply marvelous trip. How refreshing to hear of someone we know winning something like this, it usually seems to happens to strangers.

TOWN COUNCIL NOTES

I witnessed my first Town Council meeting last Tuesday night. No Comment ! The subject of snow removal was discussed and it couldn't be decided whether they should hire by the hour of by the contract. Either way it will be for a 3-year term and tenders are being requested for next month's meeting on October 2nd.

Taxes in arrears were also brought to the attention of the legal adviser, Mr. Poupart. Water meters is a new subject being discussed. Let's try to go to more meetings to get information on this matter so the final decision won't come as a surprise. There are always two sides to every question, let's be educated taxpayers.

VISITOR

PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

- Marvelous aroma of pickles and jams wafting across the back lawn from our neighbour's busy kitchen.
- Great deal of outside painting being done. Wish the enthusiasm would rub off a little over to this household.
- More and more women drivers being seen around the development. Mrs. Cote, Mrs. Trottier, Mrs. Gallacher, Mrs. Clermont and yours truly. Keep it up girls.

BRUCE HAMILTON,

188 Gardenia Ave.

First really nice week weatherwise and the school bells have beckoned the sun frolickers indoors. Among the apprehensive new comers are: Cheryl Hamilton, Anne Christine Gerholt, Carol Allman, Jill Dryden, Tommy McKee, Alan Campbell, Bruce Masson, Brenda Kemp, Steven Kemp, Debby, Sheila and Sharon Bell, Michael Luck, John Prenevost, Noreen Cahill, Cathy Langevin, and Tom McNally. We wish them all success in their new endeavors.

Our community is also contributing to the teaching staff at Maple School. Madelyn Green returned to her second graders while Pat Dryden is teaching physical education. She and Mr. Gardner, the Phys. Ed. director, are inculcating an athletic program that should foster a wide knowledge of sports and sportsmanship. Pat's program will include soft ball, volley ball and soccer, to name just a few activities.

Another course offered to the more enterprizing youngsters is the Leadership Corps. Here the teachers will instruct pupils in athletic leadership. A swimming program is still at the discussion stage but might be on the agenda in the near future.

The new high school must certainly simplify all this instruction. Due to lack of desks, nowever, many of the students are getting an extended holiday. We understand too that the elementary school has invaded some of the classrooms, because of overcrowded conditions.

If the influx of new families continues, another school will soon have to be constructed. Speaking of building in this new era, attractions to purchase new homes are quickly changing. A few years ago a finished playroom was a good lure for prospective clients. Now it's bomb shelters. Homes in a development adjoining the Terrace are fully equipped.

One of our new families is the Earl Greens, who now reside at 198 Gardenia. They have two children: Elizabeth who just had her 7th birthday, and Daniel, who is just about two years old.

Marion Kemp of 187 Gardenia is planning to pass on her "white thumb" knowledge. Marion is a professional cake decorator and will conduct a weekly class in this art if there are enough girls who wish to participate. Here's an activity which would certainly be fun to do. It would also give non-bridge playing wives a night out.

A welcome home to Carl Williamson of 83 Violets St. Carl, who works for R.C.A., has spent the last four weeks at sea. He has been testing radio equipment installed in a ship out of Quebec City and Nova Scotia. Sounds like fascinating business but we're sure Christine is happy that the job is done.

-o-

How would you girls like a coffee party you don't have to prepare? You're invited to a "Coffee Break" at St. George's Anglican Church on Thursday, morning, Sept. 14th, from 10-12. There will be all the coffee you can drink, cakes galore and you can bring your brood with you! Just a short walk-up the street, we know you'll have a pleasant morning. The first attempt at such a party should be very well attended.

-o-

Further social activities at the Anglican Church include a military whist on the evening of Tuesday, September 19th. Tickets may be procured by calling Doreen Mizener at OX-2-4813. A "Harvest Supper" is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 30th. More about this next week.

If anyone's interested in owning a "meow" (male or female) Barbara Stacey of Avenue des Marguerites is the gal to contact.

All was relatively quiet on the bridge front this week. Pat Dryden entertained three of her friends; however, there were no remarkable points scored.

A late word from the executive committee of Maple School Home and School. This organization will be managing the cafeterias in both the elementary and the high school.

-o-

Hurray ! The Catholic School Board has finally come to an agreement. The injunction was not upheld. The contract for construction should be signed Monday night, Sept. 11th. Now we wonder when the first shovel will meet the earth. Let's hope there are no further interruptions.

-o-

A letter was received by this writer today which certainly bespeaks the true appreciation of hospitality typical of our English friends. Herewith is its message :

Dear Madam,

May we through the medium of your column "On The Terrace", express our gratitude to our son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. K.A. Monk for their kind and generous hospitality during our three months holiday in Canada. We would also like to extend our thanks to all the friends "On the Terrace".

We are very grateful to them all for making our holiday most enjoyable, and for accepting us into their homes, thus making us very happy indeed. It is said that nothing in the world compares with Lancashire hospitality, but we can assure them that our version differs, somewhat, now that we have experienced it in Canada.

Our impressions of Canada and Canadians are wonderful. We like the country very much indeed and more so, the Canadians themselves. We think they are very charming people and we shall go back to England with many treasured memories that will stay with us for many years to come.

We hope, of course, to keep in touch with all the good friends we have made and we take the pleasure of wishing them all a very happy future and hope we shall see them all once again at some future date. Thanking you very much indeed, with success to our column and to all "On the Terrace".

Yours Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. A. Costain.

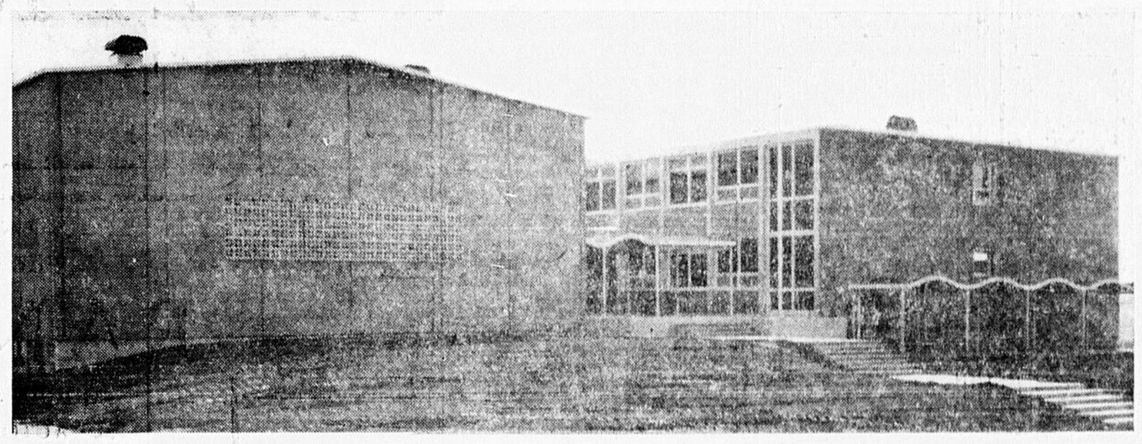

-o-

If there is ever anything written in my column which would warrant a fee of some sort, would you please omit the section or inform me before printing. Thank You.

Sincerely.
Anne Mulvaney.

Mother Missing Six Weeks

Believed Drugged and Robbed for $1,000 — — Hope For News Today, Son's Birthday

At the request of Julius Wuelfrath Jr., a thirteen-year-old boy who is well known in Chateauguay and who is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Juluis Wuelfrath of Ste. Philomene, The Chateauguay Gleaner hereby appeals to Mrs. Wuelfrath to return to her son and husband if she is alive.

As reported on radio, television and in the press, Mrs. Geraldine Wuelfrath has not been seen since August 2nd, when she disappeared from the Wuelfrath home on Ste. Marguerite Road, about two miles from Chateauguay. When Mr. Wuelfrath, better known as "Mr. Julius", last saw his wife he gave her one thousand dollars which was to be given to a Montreal finance company the couple did business with under the name "Ste. Philomene Auto Sales". Needless to say, the money never reached its destination.

Mr. Wuelfrath believes his wife was drugged, robbed and kidnapped.

Benjamin Siris ("Woody") Wood of Watertown, N.Y., a former lieutanant in the United States Army who had been employed at Ste-Philomene Auto Sales since early spring, disappeared at the same time. Wood is colored, 33 years old, about six feet tall and weighs about 225 lbs.

Mrs. Wuelfrath is white, 23 years old, five feet one inch tall and has dark hair and medium complexion. Fluently bilingual, she is known as "Gery" to her friends. There is a scar on one of her legs between the ankle and knee where she accidentally burned herself with an acetylene torch about three months ago.

The two disappeared in a 1953 Chevrolet Bel-Air sedan bearing Quebec license plates. With them was Mrs. Wuelfrath's cocker spaniel, "Blacky".

Since the pair vanished, there have been numerous speculations around Chateauguay as to their whereabouts and the reasons for the mystery, but to date no definite clues have been ascertained. The United States Border Patrol has been alerted as have the Quebec Provincial Police, the R.C.M.P. and the F.B.I.

When two Chateauguay Gleaner representatives called at the Wuelfrath home the past week, the following story was told to them by Mr. Julius and "Little Julius".

Julius Sr. gave his wife one thousand dollars with instructions to "take the Caddy, go into town and pay the company". Wood and little Julius were in the same room. Julius Sr. then left the house on business.

When he returned some hours later, in the evening, he was met by little Julius who told him "Mommy has gone away with Woody. I tried to stop them but Woody hit me. Mommy didn't say anything but when I told him I wanted to go too he told me to go to bed. I think they're gone away."

Julius Sr. believes his wife was drugged and robbed and then kidnapped by the colored Wood. He is distraught and shortly after he notified police of his wife's disappearance he attempted to drown himself in the Chateauguay River.

Little Julius is heartbroken. He can't understand why he has not heard from his mother. "If she isn't coming back I'm going to find her" he told The Gleaner.

Julius Sr. has given serious thought to the possibility that his wife left him voluntarily to live elsewhere with Wood, but he cannot bring himself to think this possible. For that matter, neither can friends of the couple. Mrs. Wuelfrath worked side by side with her husband through good and bad times and many Chateauguay motorists who have visited Ste. Philomene Auto Salvage to buy used car parts can verify that Mrs. Wuelfrath was as handy at cutting up wrecks with an acetylene torch as any man. Moreover, she was always talking about 'Daddy' as she called her husband, and of her son she called "Sonny or "Little Julius".

Julius Sr. does not know if his wife is alive or dead. If she was drugged and robbed, she could very well now be dead. If she left her husband and son of her own will, they would like to know. One thing is certain, the anxiety of not knowing is agony for the father and son. The former has lost forty pounds since August 2nd and the 13-year-old son more than twenty. Little Julius begs his mother to come home or at least let them know where she is and send for him; Julius Sr. says that no matter what has happened, he wants to see his wife again and have her tell him what happened in her own words. "We both need her" he told The Chateauguay Gleaner.

Today, Wednesday September 13th, is little Julius's birthday. Both father and son are staying near the house all day, hoping to hear a familiar voice ask "How are you Daddy.... Where's little Julius?"

Ladies Make Plans For The Annual Fall Fair

(By Mrs. K. Smeall)

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Committee of the W.E.H.O. Assoc., took place last Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. F. Jones, 140 St. Louis Street. Further plans were outlined for the Fall Fair which takes place this Saturday, Sept. 16th. It was suggested that the roadway leading into the ball field be repaired as it is full of pot holes. The bushes at the side of the field will also have to be cut in readiness for the Fair. Each Committee Head had a report on the progress of their booth. It was decided to open the Fair at 11 a.m., the Home Bake Table and Tea Room to be opened at 2 p.m. There will be a fish pond with a wonderful assortment of prizes for the children, plus a puffed wheat and syrup contest, also a bean guessing contest. The Girls Handicraft Club will have their own booth, selling the items they made during the summer. It is to be hoped that a Sports Celebrity will be present. The Booths for the Fair will be erected on Thursday evening at the ball field. Mrs. Stan Mackey asked if any ladies could donate plants, as soon as possible, also any additional flower pots would be more than welcome.

Mrs. Syd Mitchell gave a report on the money collected from the Bingo and itemized the expense of the cornboil.

The Girls Handicraft Club will resume once again in the s[illegible]. However, a further visit to Kateri Memorial Hospital will be planned before Christmas.

The next Ladies Committee Meeting will be held the first Monday in October.

The meeting adjourned on a motion by Mrs. Smeall seconded by Mrs. O'Reilly.

Anyone who has offered a bake for the Fair, would it be possible to deliver the item to Mrs. Moore at 119 St. Louis Street, OXford 2-4683, or to Mrs. L. Boisse, 157 St. Louis Street, OXford 2-9923. If impossible to deliver the item call the above numbers and someone will pick it up.

West End Assoc. Sponsors Cartoons For Gardens

(by Mona Bailey)

Last Monday evening, Sept. 4th., Labour Day, a group of films were shown on Edward St., south of Lang. The program consisted entirely of cartoons. Bugs Bunny and other well known characters were on hand to entertain young and old alike. Several thousand Mosquitoes also were in attendance. The latter, with the aid of some breaks in the film, really disrupted a fine evening.

Most of the neighborhood is too old to enjoy this sort of program but it was aimed at the younger ones.

Film was the courtesy of West End Home Owners Association. Production and Equipment courtesy of Safety Syd., Organization by Clifford King and Power and Accessories by Wilbert Stark.

If interest is indicated there can be more for the children to enjoy. Also many thanks to Bess Lauder for on-the-spot reaction in behalf of the ones who preferred the film to the mosquitoes.

Use of street was with permission of our Police Dept. and first aid men were on hand.

Bible School Students Hold Demonstration

On the evening of August 28, the auditorium of the Maple School became a centre of interest, displaying some of the results of the Baptist Daily Vacation Bible School. There was an estimated attendance of about 200. The mutual happiness of the boys and girls, parents and friends reached its peak during the performance of the pre-school class. Even to the youngest, a bright two-year-old, they all took part in the action songs and rhythm band.

Among those who gave testimonies were three girls who had accepted Christ as their own personal Saviour during the two weeks of school. Their ready and joyful expression of faith proved their sincerity. For such a short time the children did exceptionally well in learning a number of new songs, quoting Scripture verses, etc.

The display of handwork included bright little caps made by the Primary Class, much paper work done by the Beginners, and beautiful Scripture plaques painted by the Juniors and Intermediates.

The Baptist Mission takes this opportunity to thank publicily the School Board for the use of the school, the janitor for his willing assistance, and all who helped with transportation and in other ways to make the school a success.

The pastor of the Baptist Church, the Rev. L.D. Dolby and his wife, are expected to arrive in Chateauguay, Sept. 12. They have spent over twenty years in the former Belgian Congo where they were instrumental in helping to organize a number of indigenous churches. The community will love these seasoned missionaries who have learned to surrender all selfish ambitions in order to make Christ known.

Remember the Family Bible Hour at 100 St. Eugene St. every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock with classes for all ages from beginners to adults, the evening services at 7.30, and the Bible Study and Prayer Meetings on Thursday at 8 p.m. Note that the time of the Children's Bible Club, dating from Sept. 11, has been changed from 7 p.m. to 4 p.m. A time of instruction, singing and happy fellowship including handicraft, awaits the Young People, Friday evenings at 7.30. Everybody is warmly and heartily invited to attend any of these meetings.

Peter Styles Made Hon. President

At the last executive meeting of the Chateauguay and District Horticultural Society all members of the committee unanimously agreed that in view of the tremendous amount of work so willingly and conscientiously performed each year by our member and Past President Peter Styles, he be asked to accept the title of Honorary President of the Society.

Chateauguay Electors Reject By-Law

Mayor Threatens To Resign

(By Mary Stafford)

At a special meeting of electors held on September 7th., those concerned with the controversial By-Law No. 261 were asked to accept or reject it. It required only twenty dissenters to cause it to go to a referendum and forty-three signed their names. Mayor Laberge opened the meeting by explaining the background of this By-Law. Unfortunately none of the other councillors who had voted in favour of the By-Law were present and the task of defending it was left to Mr. Laberge. He said that work had proceeded on roads along with work on necessary water and sewer lines in the new developments at the insistence of the swelling new population. In the haste to get the work done the passing of the necessary legislation was overlooked, for which he apologized. However, some of the residents of St. Maurice St., maintained that the Mayor had said the roads would be paid for in ten years instead of the usual twenty years. The Mayor was unable to recall such a statement. It was at this point that some of the taxpayers had heated words both with each other and the Mayor. Rather than prolong the meeting any further a vote was taken and after the result was made known Mayor Laberge expressed his disappointment in the outcome and said he would have no alternative but to resign.

It appears that the sole dissidents were property owners on St. Maurice St., and some of the smaller adjacent streets. Those who had attended the meeting from Parkview and Prudential for the most part appeared to be satisfied with the By-Law and did not register any vote.

This By-Law drawn up after it came to public attention that there was a deficit between $70,000 and $80,000 in the Town's accounts. The problem which has now arisen is should the property owners involved in this dispute again reject the By-Law in the referendum coming up? Then all the taxpayers of Chateauguay Centre will have to absorb this bill while those involved will get off free of road tax except for their share of the above general assessment. The Council is now considering action they might take to overcome this awkward situation.

Several Injured In Accident On The River Road

(By Pamela Powell)

An accident occurred on Thursday evening August 30th, on the River Road, when a car, occupied by five teenagers, failed to make a curve and fell 40 ft. onto rocks, which saved them from the river. The boys in the car suffered minor cuts and bruises and were able to carry the girls up to the road. Miss Clare Saunders, a diabetic, who suffered shock and Miss Suzanne Smith, a broken spine, were both taken to Lachine General Hospital.

The parents of these girls would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Reed of 166 Salaberry for their kindness in taking the injured people into their home until the ambulance arrived.

Paddlers Fête Coach Gerry Duffey On His Departure

(By Milded McrCutcheon)

Paddlers and friends gathered at the Aquatic Club recently to say 'so-long' to their Coach and friend Gerry Duffey. A familiar name to paddlers and most certainly a friend to the youngsters in every respect, Coach Gerry Duffey has for business reasons been obliged to leave Chateauguay and will take up residence in Ottawa, Ontario. A purse of money was given to Gerry at the surprise get-together as token of the esteem in which he is held. Everyone joins in wishing Gerry happiness in his new surroundings.

Contracts previously signed for work on surface drainage are now in operation. Work was started Tuesday, Sept. 5th, completion of the job is scheduled for Nov. 5th.

This will eliminate a serious hazard both for motorists and the children of the district.

Accused Shoulders Blame But Court Not Satisfied

A Chateauguay man who pleaded guilty to a hit-and-run that left two persons injured will be sentenced Friday but the judge was told there was more to the case than meets the eye.

Odilon Perron, 40, took the blame for the week-end accident on a highway near Caughnawaga and insisted he was the only person in the car which was registered in his name.

A lawyer representing one of the victims, now in hospital, said the client had identified the driver of the vehicle causing the accident as blondhaired. The accused had dark, grey-streaked hair.

Despite repeated questioning by Judge Marcel Gaboury, Perron maintained he was alone in the vehicle and he alone was responsible. He stuck to his story in face of a court warning there was such a charge as frustrating the ends of justice.

Perron was finally released on a personal bail of $950 pending the sentence Friday at which time the victim is expected to be in court to have a good look at Perron.

Street Extensions A Possibility

At last week's meeting of the Chateauguay Town Council, a number of ratepayers on Dunver Road presented a petition to the Council asking that Dunver Road be made one-way traffic from Lockhart to McLeod; with traffic running east; also that Lang be made one way with traffic running west.

At last night's meeting (Tuesday) approximately 50 residents from the streets affected attended and objected to the proposal. Considerable discussion ensued and the outcome was that the Council, at next week's meeting, will table a by-law for approval of the extension of St. Francis Blvd. to Route 4; also the extension of Craik St. to St. Francis Blvd.

The Council will also look into the possibility of extending Maple St. to Blvd. D'Anjou on Route 3.

CHATEAUGUAY BRIEFS

WORK ON NEW ENGLISH CATHOLIC SCHOOL TO COMMENCE WITHIN WEEK

Councillor Dupont of Chateauguay Town Council, who is also a member of the Catholic School Board, informed a Chateauguay Gleaner representative on Tuesday evening that work on the new English Catholic School will be started within a week. As previously stated in this newspaper, the site of the new school is on Maple St., near Vetville. This is welcome news to the ever-increasing number of English-speaking Roman Catholic in Chateauguay; however, an English Roman Catholic Church is also a dire necessity.

VETVILLE ON TV

Chateauguay Valley residents are reminded that Vetville will be featured on the television programm "Focus", Channel Six, at 10 p.m. tomorrow, Thursday. This programme will undoubtedly attack much attention locally and will be of interest to all Legionnaires everywhere.

NEW RESTAURANT

A new restaurant known as "Bonne Princesse" will open shortly at 82 Montee, St. Jean Baptiste (Highway 4) The site is the former Bon Prince Restaurant which was destroyed some months ago in a flash fire. The Bonne Princesse will specialize in Chinese and Canadian dishes and will feature delivery service.

-o-

One of the companies advertising homes for sale near the new high school states their development features a Bomb Shelter. While this is new in Chateauguay, it is commonplace in some centres. With civil defence in low gear and periodical threatenings of war in the news, a bomb shelter is far from absurd.

FIRST CAR SERVED BY KINSMEN AT THEIR GALA GASARAMA

The first customer the kinsmen served was Mr. Gerry Betourney, the Territory Manager for Shell Oil Company. The boys thought that he had pushed his car to the pumps as they could not seem to fill it up. And Tom Guthrie wondered for awhile if he had the hose in the right place and thought maybe someone better see if the trunk was full of gas. Checking the oil is Earl Wakefield and on the windows is Basil Swan. (Photo by Larry Cowper)

May I suggest folk, that when we experience some of the more unwelcome spells of weather, that we think back to the past few weeks during which it has been so much better than average, or what one normally expects at this time of the year. And from appearances, we may have more of the same! What I cannot understand, is how I managed to get dosed up with a wretched chill and very troublesome cough. Must have taken too much for granted and become careless. As I'm running a mild temperature, it is handy as an alibi for any errors or omissions, hence this advance notice.

INCIDENTALLY

The Vetville ladies turned up to save the day, like the Marines putting the vital finishing touches to the Community Hall Drapes which they had cleaned and renovated earlier. What a hive of industry they presented to the male visitors who called in at the Post Office; Card Room or Library. Among those busily engaged were Mesdames J. Robinson; B. Morrison; D. Watson; L. Douthwaite; J. Young; A. McKenzie; A. Montpetit; J. Cashion; M. Wilkins; S. McKenzie; M. Manks; L. Alloway and H. Moss, but the many others who gave their time and services in their apartments I have been unable to procure. Rev. John Allan voiced some flattering remarks at the vast improvement after the early Sunday Service in the Hall, which reiterated previous remarks from a large number of those who have visited the Hall since the work was finished. Residents received their second Polio Shot on 7th. inst. as did any who called in for their first Shot. The latter will be able to have their second one on October 11th. when the same Social Service will be at the Hall to give the first shot of Anti-flu Vaccine to those who desire it. From all reports, this vaccine has proved an excellent safeguard for those prone to the various influenza epidemics which appear so regularly. The Second and Final Shot will be given on November 15th. (Third and final Polio Shot not due until March 1962).

HERE and THERE

Mrs. L. Alloway of "Amiens", visited her married daughter at Pointe Claire last week-end. Son John and friend visited Mrs. A. McKenzie also of "Amiens", Sunday 10th inst. Mrs. Edna Alton of "Cambrai" (our local correspondent for the Verdun "Sun") away visiting friends for two weeks vacation. This correspondent enjoyed a great time with his old friend at St. Johns on Labour Day, returning the following day. My friend being a bit of a Prose Artist, offered me the following verses, which I am offering in lieu of the usual yarn or anecdote:

"HAVE PATIENCE"
by "The Major".

Have patience with the Old Folk;
give and give again;
Remember, in a few years, you'll be just the same.
The years have passed them over; they hope for rest and peace;
Patience and understanding; place within their reach.
Full of life and of ambition; they worried and worked and slaved,
To give you all the joys of life, and taught you to behave.
It's little now they ask of you; just love as they sit there;
So 'till the day they say farewell, give love and tender care.
Please have patience with the old folk, as their blood runs thin and cold,
For soon you'll be reminded that you too are growing old.

Recently saw a reproduction of a cartoon from "Punch": (Omitting Cartoon); Recruiting Sergeant to prospective Recruit; "Okay, okay. You sign and we'll try and get you Monty's old caravan."

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Editorial Notes

The Stress Is On Education

SOME decisive moves were made at the School Board meeting held the past week and we believe the Board and especially the proposer of the conditions, is to be congratulated for the effort. Time will tell if the proposals are to have effect for the results will not be forthcoming immediately.

This is the first time in our knowledge that the Board has made proposals which directly concern the internal operation of the school and the school life of the students. In a school the the students are the product, the teaching staff is the machine which helps to mold the product and co-operation between the two is the deciding factor as to whether the product is good or bad. If the product is not as good as it should be, then all blame cannot be placed on the machine. There are many ingredients which go into the making of a good student and if in the mixing some of these ingredients are not absorbed, then the end product is affected. Parents and others interested in the type of product to be produced, must also play their part in the preparation and care of the product. This involves a further ingredient known as encouragement and the will to enforce regulations as to the proper learning that a student must do at home. It involves co-operation with the machine to see that the ingredients are well mixed and that all are absorbed by the products. It also involves a proper relationship between the machine, the product and the preparation. If all work smoothly and there is a minimum of breakdown, the chances for a good product are much greater.

The School Board has set the wheels in motion and is ready at all times to make adjustments so that the wheels will work as smoothly as possible. Their concern is for at least an improved product and as time goes on for a product that will have quality and demand.

Every housewife knows that every cake she makes is not always top-notch. The ingredients she uses are sometimes not up to par, the result then is a poor product. If she does not watch and give it proper timing, the cake will be burned, or will be undercooked, both of which means failure. The student is much the same. There are boys and girls who have an aptitude for learning and they absorb the knowledge fast and store it away. There are others who do not absorb anything or very little. The teacher can only bring out of the child what there is available. If that child cannot understand what the teacher is trying to teach it, there is no way of forcing the child to understand. The child must have the capacity in the first place. The teacher only brings out the dormant brain power of the child to understand what is being taught.

From the moment a child is born, he or she is a mimic, thus tries to do what it is shown. It is the happiest moment of a new parent when a child begins to smile, to act pleased or displeased, then the first word it utters and then when it begins to walk. A child begins to talk by mimicking the sounds it hears and eventually forms words that are understandable. The child has then started its education and begins to show ability to learn. School is a further molding process of the child which brings out ability to absorb and hold what has been learned.

Some children learn very fast and usually continue in this way. There are some however, who go along fast for awhile and then seem to come to a halt. Each child is an individual with its own characteristics. The teacher usually studies these characteristics in order to evaluate the child's ability. From this study can be determined what to expect from that child and the possible approach that has to be made in order to get the best out of it. If the child's ability to learn and absorb what is learned, is not sufficient, then no teacher can do very much about it. On the other hand no teacher with a class of say 24 to 36 pupils can give each one individual attention. The whole must learn as a group and this means paying very strict attention to what is going on. We believe that the early years of a child's life are the most critical, for it is at this time that the groundwork is being done. With a good groundwork, then the later years will bring the further ability to absorb the more difficult subjects which bring the child to adulthood with a sound educational background.

Education today is a prime necessity and the child must be imbued right from the very start with the need for studying hard all those things which are being taught. He or she must be injected with a thirst for knowledge, so that they will always be willing to learn and to study and to listen attentively when teaching is being done. They should never be discouraged in any way from being respectful at all times. The importance of education should be stressed at all times by the parents of all children in order that they may make it their prime concern. All other things should be secondary, or be an award for a job well done.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) Premier Lesage this week announced several government moves designed to improve the province's social welfare conditions.

The Premier announced a government decision to change the handling of assistance to the unemployed, taking it out of the hands of private social welfare agencies and placing it under the full control of the Provincial Social Allowances Commission.

Social Welfare Agencies up to now inspected applications and in some cases, issued payments on behalf of the government.

Mr. Lesage said the agencies will have a four-month delay to revise their records.

In July, the amount of assistance money paid by the joint Federal-Provincial program reached $5,000,000 compared with an average monthly total of $1,500,000.

The Premier said the matter was not only getting out of hand but was "monstrous."

He said some people were better off not working as long as they received benefits.

Mr. Lesage said the situation was killing personal initiative at a time when the Province was reorganizing its economy.

"This damaging system threatened to slow down production and affect Quebec's economy," the Premier said, "It had to be corrected while continuing to pay unprecedented amounts to the unemployed.

"We have no objection to paying out assistance to the unemployed but we cannot encourage laziness," he said.

At the same time, Mr. Lesage announced the appointment of a six member committee as an advisory body to the Quebec Health Minister.

The committee is to determine salary scales of hospital employees which may be considered as fair in the preparation of hospital budgets.

Committee members are Judge Adelard Fontaine of Montreal, chairman; Dr. Gilbert Turner, Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal; Paul Lebel, Quebec, representing Roman Catholic Hospitals; Eileen Flanagan, Montreal representing the Quebec Province Nurses Association; Jacques Archambault, Quebec, representing the Labor Unions Grouping Hospital Employees; and J. A. Vezina, Auditor General of Quebec.

Mr. Lesage said there was only one government representative on the committee and that hospitals and their employees will be able to determine themselves average wage scales suitable for hospital budget preparations.

Mr. Lesage said there is no doubt that cost of hospital insurance, originally estimated at $125,000,000., will be higher than first expected.

Formation of the committee followed a meeting between the Cabinet and Hospital Association representatives.

The Government decided to continue paying hospitals semi-monthly at the current rate until individual hospital budgets are revised and submitted for consideration.

Each request will be studied promptly, Mr. Lesage said. No increase in payments will be made prior to Sept. 15.

In an address to the Canadian Institute of Public Administration which met in Quebec, Premier Lesage said the Government's far-reaching efforts to develop study programs in the universities for future civil servants "will substantially change the face of our civil service."

He said it seemed obvious that the increase in government activity has had an enormous influence in transforming the economy into an economy of administrative services.

"A few decades ago", Mr. Lesage said, "the part played by the State in the economy was "almost non-existent when we compare it with the tasks that modern governments must assume if they are fully aware of their responsibilities."

Mr. Lesage asked Prime Minister Diefenbaker for modification of the arrangement under which Quebec universities receive grants in aid from the proceeds of an extra provincial tax on corporation profits.

In a letter to Mr. Diefenbaker Sept. 7, Mr. Lesage said the Quebec government understands the growing needs of educational institutions.

But the Quebec Government will not accept any encroachment on its exclusive jurisdiction over universities. That was why the government was opposed to any system under which the Federal Government would pay grants to Quebec universities.

Mr. Lesage said arrangements worked out in 1960 to solve an eight-year deadlock between Ottawa and Quebec over grants to universities is not satisfactory because of restrictions placed upon the province. A modification should be made, Premier Lesage said.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — "The road ahead is certainly going to be hard and there will be tension for a long, long time... From Canadians, courage will be required, both physical and moral, and sacrifice, and I believe above all, a return to our deep abiding, fundamental faiths!

With this sober challenge to Canadians, External Affairs Minister Green set the tone for a foreign policy debate as Parliament reassembled Sept. 7 after a seven-week summer recess.

From the bitter, domestic drama of early July over former Bank of Canada governor James E. Coyne, MPs turned their attention to mounting international tensions and the spectre of nuclear holocaust.

"The world is hovering on the brink of a nuclear war," said the external affairs minister, a man who has often described himself as an optimist.

"For Canadians it is so important at this time not to add fuel to the flames... We must do our utmost to help to reduce tension. ... We must not lose our heads but show Canadian common sense."

STRENGTHEN FORCES

His remarks followed immediately on an announcement by Prime Minister Diefenbaker that the strength of the armed forces will be increased by 15,000 to 135,000 and that 100,000 civilian volunteers will be recruited for national survival operations in case of emergency.

"I would not want these measures to be interpreted as being taken in contemplation of an early outbreak of war," said Mr. Diefenbaker. "Rather, they are insurance which the government, realizing the possibilities, must take as prudent safeguarding precautions."

Paul Martin, Liberal member for Essex East said "a crisis reaction is one which we must at all costs avoid." H. W. Herridge, deputy CCF leader, said Canadians oppose the idea of risking war over Berlin.

WON'T BACK DOWN

Mr. Green, emphasizing that Canada will not back down in the face of threats, said he hoped an "honorable accommodation" can be reached with the Soviet Union over Berlin. "Canada will certainly do everything in her power to help bring about negotiations," he said, "and will do her part to see that they are brought to a successful conclusion."

In the meantime, Canada had taken an active part in drafting a new Western disarmament plan. Mr. Green, describing the plan as a "significant improvement" over prevous Western proposals, said it will be submitted to the UN General Assembly and "Canada will work for its endorsement by the widest possible number of states."

He added that if Canadians face the present international challenge, "we will win through and the result may very well be to make our nation one of the leading nations of the world."

DEFENCE PROGRAM

For some time prior to the resumption of Parliament, a government statement on new defence measures had been anticipated — but few details were released. Before the Commons, Mr. Diefenbaker and Defence Minister Harkness spelled out what the government had in mind.

The armed services manpower increase calls for immediate recruitment of an additional 15,000 men. Army strength is to be boosted to 60,000 from 49,000, RCAF to 53,000 from 51,000 and Navy to 22,000 from 20,000. The 12,000 member Canadian force serving under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe will be increased by 2,000.

The government also plans to call for 100,000 civilian male volunteers between the ages of 18 and 50 to take six-week militia courses in national survival operations in the event of a proclamation of the War Measures Act.

Mr. Harkness informed the Commons of an unspecified increase in the strength of the 42,000-member militia and of a number of national survival measures. These included establishment of mobile rescue teams, setting up emergency stores depots outside principal target cities, and installation of an emergency broadcast system to warn of nuclear attack.

PEARSON'S PROPOSAL

Opposition leader Pearson commented it was impossible to assess the value of the government proposals or to justify them in terms of the present situation without knowing the objective of the government's defence policy, and how it intends to meet it.

A Berlin powder-keg insulated by United Nations troops was envisaged by Mr. Pearson as one choice that must exist between "the impossible alternatives of suicide or surrender."

The Opposition leader, winner of a Nobel Peace Prize in 1956 for his efforts in establishing the UN role in the Suez crisis, stressed that no change can be made in Berlin by force or by appeasement.

Possibilities of East-West military disengagement may be worth discussing, he told the Commons. Perhaps Prime Minister Nehru of India could be persuaded at forthcoming UN sessions to lead in mobilizing "this feeling in the middle that humanity is not going to be destroyed by the great powers."

CRISIS IN FUND

On the domestic scene there was further news of an impending crisis in the unemployment insurance fund, and the cost-of-living index rose for the first time in five months.

The fund's advisory committee warned the government that another winter of high unemployment could be expected to empty the coffers by next May, when seasonal benefits end. A committee report tabled in the Commons urged the government to make special grants to the fund to tide it over until its precarious state can be corrected by amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Latest published figures show the fund's end-of-July balance was $120,771,909. It has been skidding from a peak of $926,726,000 at Dec. 31, 1956, and was $184,695,000 last March 31.

Higher prices for food, gasoline and professional football game tickets helped increase Canadian living costs during July. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported the consumer price index for Aug. 1 edged upwards one-tenth of a point to 129.1.

The index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, now is 1.2 points above its level of 127.9 on Aug. 1 last year.

What To Do With The Butter Surplus?

RECENTLY the Federal Government announced that the butter in storage was reaching a quantity of surplus which was alarming and they wanted to know what could be done about it.

Margarine is blamed for the big surplus of butter in storage and the reason is that people are buying larger quantities of margarine and apparently using it for a spread on their bread, and for making cakes and other kinds of cooking.

We wonder if margarine is all to blame for the surplus in butter. We have spoken to many people over the past few years and all of them without exception stated a preference for butter. In some cases the parties have said they could not afford to pay the price for butter and this was when a family was using say three to five pounds per week. Some families require more. Butter today sells for the most part at a price of 69 to 70 cents per pound. Five pounds thus cost $3.50 if 70c, and makes quite a large expenditure for one item. This has been steady now for some years. Most housewives think this is prohibitive for cooking and therefore look for something else for this purpose.

The Government wants to know what to do. Well, we believe that now margarine is a strong competitor of butter, the time has come when the floor price for butter should be discontinued and let the price be established by market, supply and demand. This would, we believe, bring down the price of butter to a point where more of it could be sold and so decrease the surplus. Also the producers would not be so eager to produce it if their price was not guaranteed and they too had to accept market values. If the price was lower it is more than possible more people would be buying butter and more people using it. The sales of margarine would probably decrease as the sales of butter climbed.

We have at least two suggestions to offer as to getting the butter out of storage and into the consumers hands. One would be to get blocks of this butter and offer by auction to the highest bidders in the wholesale market, which in turn would be offered to the retailers at a reduced price. Another way would be to set a price to the wholesaler or retailer whereby he in turn could offer the butter to customers at a reduced price. We feel that a price in the neighborhood of 60c per pound to the consumer would bring about a upsurge in sales of this commodity. But once this approach is made, then floor prices should be abolished so that there would be no more losses to the Government and the taxpayer in subsidizing this commodity. We feel sure that if butter was allowed to find its own price level that eventually it would be a good one. It is quite possible that demand would increase so that the profit on the increased turnover would offset the slight decrease in price. With a floor price of 64c per pound it is nigh impossible to sell to the consumer for less than the 69 or 70 cent level.

It would be much better to do this than to sell to some foreign country for a price of about 35c per pound and deprive the Canadian taxpayer of a bargain on something he has already paid for in the form of high taxes.

Dahlia's Whatnots

Grave Tales.

Here is one related by a lady who was raised in Montreal and heard it from her grandmother, the latter having been acquainted with the family of the young girl whom the story concerns.

The girl was employed in a well-to-do family living up-town on Sherbrooke St. Following the mid-day dinner on Sundays she was free for the rest of the day, generally spending it with her family who lived down-town.

One Sunday evening after such a visit having taken leave of her friends at the usual hour, she started on her walk uptown, but had not gone far when she had the impression of being followed by a man. Hurrying she reached a quiet part of the street, where a church stood, with (at that distant period) a cemetery adjoining. She decided to take a shortcut through the cemetery; rushing along she had the frightful misfortune to fall into a freshly dug grave. She could not climb out, she could only call for help and her cries, if heard, were unheeded. Imprisoned in the grave's damp darkness, only morning brought discovery and rescue.

I once heard the caretaker of a rural cemetery describe a disagreeable experience he had after digging a grave. When he finished he found it impossible to get out. He was a sturdy, alert young man, but below middle height. It was about six o'clock in the evening and the surroundings were such that there was little chance that a shout for help would be noticed. Try as he might he was baffled in every attempt. He stood still, got his breath, and thought hard.

He had thrown his spade up but was able to reach it. At a little distance from one end of the grave he ran the spade into the side but a few feet above the bottom of the grave. Going to the other end, a dash, a flying leap onto the spade, and a speedy scramble took him out.

How one things leads to another! Weird tales have been told of how body-snatching or grave-robbing was practised in a former era by medical students and others. It sounds strange, but this topic never fails to remind me of heredity, and the question whether heredity or environment exerts more influence on character.

Heredity

It is a good many decades since, at a community gathering, I became absorbed in contemplating the obsequious manner and flowery speech of an individual who made himself as fawning a figure as one of those exaggerated characters in the novels of Charles Dickens. I was told afterwards that he was a reputed body-snatcher who had aided medical science, lining his pocket thereby. Years later I heard the story of his great-grandson's career. This young man's deportment and conversation were fawning to a degree that made his society repulsive, as someone bluntly put it, sickening, and his methods of acquiring ready cash led him behind prison bars. It would seem as though heredity had skipped the worthy environment of two generations. In another case the aristocratic great grandmother had "married beneath her", as the novelists used to say, the husband being a European peasant. It was interesting to note the contrast between two great granddaughters, sisters. A female relative with a sharp yes and a sarcastic tongue remarked that Sarah shook her duster more religiously than Maude crossed herself. Did the highborn ancestress pass down to one sister her meticulous neatness, while the rough-and-ready ancestor bequeathed to the other an easier frame of mind?

A famous American architect was asked what he considered had most strongly influenced him in his choice of a career. He said, "I was very particular in chooseing my parents; my father was a preacher, and my mother was a teacher who loved teaching so much that she brought neglected children into our home to teach them". However he went on to say that his choice of a profession and success therein was largely due to the environment provided by nature on his uncle's farm where he spent a good part of his youth.

Mr. Khrushchev and Negotiations

PREPARATIONS are going on in many countries and our own included, with a view to preventing a possible third world war. No one anywhere wants what appears may happen and our own Mr. Green, who is very much an optimist, has said we are on the brink of nuclear war.

Mr. Khrushchev has said "there should be negotiations and there will be negotiations." The Western Allies are all for this and have been hoping that a basis for negotiations can be arranged. In fact ever since the cold war started, negotiations have been carried on and all to no avail. For now we have reached a very critical stage when war could break out at almost any moment. Krushchev has uttered threats of destruction for many countries and has threatened nuclear bombs. Russia has restarted nuclear tests and several very violent explosions have been recorded in rapid succession since these new tests began. Khrushchev has announced that Russia must do this in view of all the stepped up armed forces preparations that the Western Allies are making. The West however states that these preparations are not with the intention of making a war, but only to be in readiness in view of the threats made by Khrushchev. The West is perfectly willing for negotiations and has already asked for such.

Mr. Khrushchev says he would welcome negotiations, the question remains on what terms. If he demands that they be on Russian terms it is not likely he will get very far. In all probability, Mr. Khrushchev will want recognition of East Germany and the rights he insists for them as regards Berlin. It is not likely the West will concede to Mr. Khrushchev, so the negotiations will in all probability fail.

No doubt Mr. Khrushchev feels that with his show of the nuclear testing and his utter disregard to the appeals for banning this sort of thing, that he will bring fear to all nations and they will clamor for peace at any price. While no one wants war, it is hardly likely that the West will submit meekly to Mr. Khrushchev. However, if Mr. Khrushchev will enter negotiations that will end satisfactory to both sides and all concerned, the West will make every effort to hold such. It would please everyone if all signs of war could be withdrawn and true peace reign over the world. Such cannot be however, while Russia tries to dominate the world. She is now trying to do this by creating a fear of utter annihilation for any who attempt to oppose her moves, or at least her leaders are. Yes, we want negotiations, but we want a say in the terms that will be the final outcome.

Newspaper Convention Provides Inspiration Together With Much Enjoyment

Business and pleasure get mixed together when you attend a convention of any kind and particularly so with weekly newspaper folks who come from towns across Canada. This year the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association was held in historic Halifax, N.S. The Gleaner was represented by Adam L. Sellar accompanied by Mrs. Sellar and Mrs. Henry Wallace.

Registrations and a reception were held on Sunday evening. Some 350 people were present from across Canada and there was no shortage of conversation. The Nova Scotian Hotel was the convention headquarters and the new addition to the hotel which was just recently opened provided excellent accommodation.

Business session got under way on Monday morning, immediately after breakfast being served the conventionists and guests at 8.30 o'clock. No time was lost in getting down to business. President Werden Leavens, Bolton, Ont., had the following to say in his presidential address.

THE PRINTED WORD NO SERIOUS SUBSTITUTE

"The Printed Word is something in which we all have a vital interest. Perhaps it would be well for us to try to restore to it the respect it had in former years. It has occurred to me, that, in this day of singing commercials and cartooned TV advertising, we could well pause and reflect upon the marvels of our product — the printed word.

"Perhaps we feel a little inferior standing beside our brethren of radio and TV who almost effortlessly, it seems, launch their faces into the vastness of the skies and end up intimately chatting with the people of our communities in their own living rooms.

"Before we let the printed word abdicate from its position as the world's most revered form of communication, let's review some of its own unsurpassed merits.

"Of course, our critics might concede that you cannot successfully wrap a fresh fish in a TV cabinet or swat flies with a transistor radio. But neither can you sit quietly in your study with either of these instruments and drink in at your own rate of comprehension the wondrous knowledge of the great thinkers of any and every age.

"Only the printed word is so completely transportable, so ever available, as to be the absolute servant of man. By means of it, mankind is able to review man's greatness and his weakness, and by it man enriches his mind and feeds his soul.

"Now, I don't suggest for a moment that a weekly newspaper, simply by virtue of being a weekly newspaper, automatically qualifies for the wholehearted respect of the reader and the advertiser. Respect, as we all know, does not come just for the asking. It must be earned. And to earn it, demands hard work, sound thought and the courage to set forth our convictions for all to see.

"Our newspapers are the only economic medium by which the people of our communities can study the comparative values offered by the stores in which they do their shopping. They should be, too, the most effective means by which the national advertiser can get his message to the rural and urban community audience without wasting circulation, in many cases, on a disinterested city audience. Electric fences, for example, are hardly of interest to the residents of Vancouver's posh British Properties, or Toronto's Forest Hill Village.

"We are dipping our pens too often into the sugar bowl. We must have strong editorial pages and the kind of thinking that will add the editorial support to our papers.

"A community without a paper is a community without a heart. And I think none of us, if we do our jobs, need have any fear of a disastrous fate for the printed word. The printed word as found in the Bible has withstood the march of progress of other oral and visual methods of communication for centuries."

Apart from the business sessions the convention party enjoyed considerable entertainment. Get-to-gether breakfasts were held each day at 8.30 o'clock. The luncheons were fortunate in always having estimable speakers give enlightening talks and likewise was such the case at the receptions and banquets held each evening Tuesday evening took the form of a shore dinner at Hubbard's cove, some 25 miles from Halifax. Lobsters by the Hundreds were boiled and served each person receiving two lobsters and more if desired.

A cruise of Halifax harbour was made possible by the Navy. The navy yachts each took around 75 passengers and went in different directions thereby making it that the whole convention party saw different things during the limited amount of time set apart for the cruise. It was a speedy and refreshing jaunt for during the convention week the weather in Halifax was hot and delightful.

The ladies were taken by bus to "Uniacke House".

Mr. Ross Cameron, Life Insurance Association of Canada" was host to the party of 110 women present. This historical spot, a museum that is furnished with many things centuries old was prized as a convention highlight. Or course one must

TO MARKET — TO MARKET

Shown above is a novelty number in the parade of floats and one we feel was very original and unique. It will be noticed that the cart is being pulled by a steer and in the back of the cart is a crate of chickens. On the side a sign carried the words "To market— TO market". It attracted a lot of attention and it was asked how long it took to train the steer in harness.

Newspaper Convention

remember that the Cameron parties are always highlights no matter where they may be held in Canada. The Uniackes were a noted family for hospitality in the heyday of the gracious old home, week-long parties drew people from all over the province. Young ladies slept four in a bed, sideways. The young gentlemen slept in the hayloft of the barns. The ladies who saw the beds said there would be no crowding with four in a bed if you saw the size of the four poster beds.

Those who enjoyed the visit to Uniacke House all remarked upon the excellence of the refreshments that were served by the local Ladies Auxiliary of the Anglican Church. The ladies are raising funds with a view to applying in toward the cost of a new church.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker addressed the Tuesday evening banquet. He was in excellent form but was careful not to drop any political secrets into the laps of the Fourth Estate representatives. His opening story was one of his visit to England in 1957 when he was seated at the right hand of Winston Churchill. Mr. Churchill asked him if he would have a drink? Diefenbaker: I am a teetotaler. Churchill: A prohibitionist. Diefenbaker: No. Churchill: Oh, one who does not curb the pleasures of others.

In part Mr. Diefenbaker said: "The weekly newspaper, which saw its beginning in Canada in 1752 has made and is continuing to make a significant and important contribution to the knowledge, progress and welfare of our country."

"It is my good fortune to know many editors and publishers of weekly newspapers and I consider it a privilege to pay my tribute to the contribution the weekly newspaper makes to this country, coupled with my best wishes to each and all in attendance at this convention."

ORDER OF THE GOOD TIME BANQUET

Premier Robert L. Stanfield of the Province of Nova Scotia saw to it that the Press was royally entertained at a banquet. The banquet was quite a bit out of the ordinary in that the waiters were specially dressed in costumes as of the era of Samuel de Champlain. The stage and walls about the banquet hall were specially decorated to mark the occasion. Each attendant at the convention received a certificate as a membership of the "Order of the Good-Time. Actually it is a real good tourist publicity stunt that has been carried on by the Nova Scotia Government for many years. The tourist bureau of Nova Scotia has been conducting a great campaign for a long time and to-day they are reaping the benefits in the way of the tourists dollars. It is said that the Ocean Limited train of the C.N.R. has been the consistently heavily loaded train in Canada.

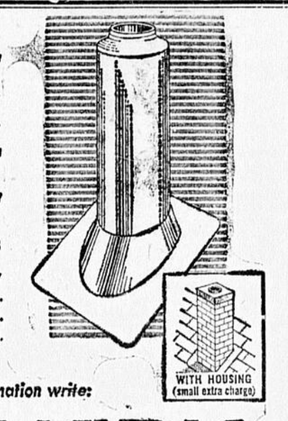

Premier Stanfield's remarks were very brief but he conveyed to the Fourth Estate a favourable lasting impression. As I was leaving the banquet hall I heard my wife's voice calling me. Upon turning around, lo and behold the two old Maritimers Premier Stanfield and Mrs. Sellar were having a chat about Wallace and Amherst. Once a Maritimer, always a Maritimer, no matter how long you have lived in Quebec, so I shall let it go at that.

School Days Are Here

HEMMINGFORD — Schools re-open this week, on Tuesday for the Catholic students and Wednesday for the Protestant students. As was reported some time ago, the girls at Hemmingford High School will, this year, wear navy blue tunics and white blouses. It is usually quite warm at the beginnig of September so the children will wear their summer dresses until the end of the month and then, it is hoped, all will wear their tunics. Several girls have modeled their blouses and tunics for your reporter and the effect is very pleasing indeed. In the accompanying pictures will be seen two girls, one in Grade 3 and the other in the High School wearing the tunics appropriate for their Grade and entering one of the new buses which will be used on the Hurley Road Route 52 run. This is owned and driven by Mr. Leonard Berthiaume and is the last word in comfort. The seats are upholstered in green with a cream trim, the heaters are spaced down the bus for maximum efficiency and it is sincerely hoped the children will show their appreciation of this regard for their comfort by keeping the interior of the bus clean and undamaged. The picture of the girls entering school show, to advantage, the new tunics.

Obituary

THE LATE
CHARLES J. SMALLMAN

Funeral services for Charles J. Smallman, 77, of Dundee, Que., who died August 31st in the Huntingdon County Hospital, were conducted Sept. 3rd at 2.30 from the Cosgrove Funeral Home, Fort Covington.

The Rev. J. M. Grant, pastor of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Huntingdon, officiated at the rites, assisted by the Rev. A.E. Hagar of Dundee. Interment was in the Zion church cemetery, Dundee.

Mr. Smallman suffered a stroke at his home and was moved to the hospital by ambulance where death came to him at about 7.50 p.m. of the same day. He had a cerebral hemorrhage over a year ago and other slight ones since that time which had invalided him.

He was born in Dundee, Quebec, November 21, 1883, a son of the late Joseph and Sarah Anne Moody Smallman, and spent practically his whole life in that community where he was engaged in farming. About a year ago due to his declining health he sold his farm there which was the old homestead and he and Mrs. Smallman, the former Miss Anna Fraser, moved to Athelstan. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church of Huntingdon.

Mr. Smallman liked people, and in turn enjoyed wide popularity among people of all walks of life, as was attested in a measure by the floral tributes and by the hosts of friends and relatives who attended the rites and the throngs who had previously called at the funeral home where his body was in repose, to pay their respects.

Besides his wife, he is survived by, three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Taylor of Athelstan, Mrs. Helen McNicol of Ormstown and Mrs. Betty Scriver of Hampstead Que.; five grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Eugene DeGowin of Fort Covington and Mrs. Menton MacNair of Malone; three nieces and one nephew. Two sisters, Mrs. Charles Moore and Mrs. George McDonald, predeceased him.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Messrs. Norman McPhee, Fred Armstrong, Floyd McCabe, Herman Quenneville, Carl Stowell and Joseph Platt.

Wedding

FAUVELLE - LAPLANTE

On Saturday morning, September 2nd, Therese, daughter of the late Mr. Napoleon Laplante and Mrs. Laplante was married to Mr. Ronald Fauvelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fauvelle of Montreal. Escorted to the parish church of St. Roman by her brother, Mr. Rene Laplante, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white poult de soie, the fitted bodice having a delicate design embroidered in white. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a white rose and sprays of lily-of-the-valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations and her only ornament was a strand of pearls. The little flower girl, Miss Francine Bouchard, wore a dainty dress of green nylon and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of summer flowers. Mrs. Laplante, mother of the bride, wore a sheath gown of pale beige metallic lace over satin, her hat was of white silk straw trimmed with beige feathers, and accessories were of the same tone. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. The groom's mother chose a gown of turquoise silk crepe having a finely pleated skirt. Her white feather hat, matching accessories and corsage of small red roses, completed an attractive ensemble. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Canon Grondin, and during the service, the ladies choir sang appropriate music.

Following the reception, which was held at the Frontier Inn and attended by 85 guests, the happy couple left on ther honeymoon which will be spent at Cape Cod. For travelling the bride wore a linen suit in a pale gold shade with green accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Fauvelle will make their home in Montreal on their return.
