SCHOLES WON DIAMOND SCULLS, BEATING RECORD BY SIX SECONDS

He Had No Trouble in Winning and Finished Quite Fresh—His Time Was 8 Minutes and 23 Seconds —This is the First Time Diamond Sculls Was Won by a Canadian.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

Henley-on-Thames, July 7.—After beating Kelly, the holder of the Diamond Sculls yesterday, Lou F. Scholes, the Canadian representative, beat A. H. Cloutte, of the London Rowing Club in the final.

Cloutte had the better of the start but at the top of the Island Scholes took the lead, increasing it at the quarter distance to two lengths. At half distance, which was reached in four minutes, Scholes was still two lengths ahead. At three-quarter distance Scholes went back half a length, when the mile was passed he was one and three-quarter lengths in front.

At the Leander enclosure, Cloutte spurted and cut down Scholes to a length and a half, but his spurt was no good. Scholes still held the lead. After passing the lower end of Phyllis Court Cloutte made another effort, but Scholes spurted too, getting home a length and a quarter ahead in the record time of eight minutes, twenty-three and one-fifth seconds.

The previous record time was made by Howell, of Cambridge University in 1899, viz., eight minutes, twenty-nine seconds. Last year Kelly won in eight minutes, forty-one seconds. Thus Scholes has beaten the previous best record by five and one-fifth seconds.

There was intense excitement along the bank of the river, mostly cheering for Cloutte, but all encouragement did no good. Cloutte kept looking round continually for Scholes. Scholes was not pushed any part of the course.

The Canadian sculler in the result justified the predictions of his friends. The wind was up stream and the conditions were favorable for fast travelling. Under the prevailing conditions there was little advantage in the choice of stations.

Scholes Finished Fresh.

Scholes was quite fresh after the finish and took a swim in the river. Cloutte was almost done out. The weather and water conditions for the race were excellent. There was scarcely any wind and there was no advantage in either station. Cloutte, speaking to the Canadian Press representative said he did much better than he had expected.

The following were the entries for the Diamond Challenge Sculls: St. George Ashe, Thames Rowing Club; A. Hamilton Cloutte, London Rowing Club; F. S. Kelly, Balliol College, Oxford; Lord Mahon, Guards' Boat Club; C. G. Kay Mouat, University College, Oxford; Guy Rixon, Kingston Rowing Club; L. Scholes, Toronto Rowing Club, Canada; A. A. Stuart, Kingston Rowing Club, D. C. Stuart, Kingston Rowing Club, and S. R. Wells, Bedford Rowing Club.

The umpires were Mr. F. I. Pitman (C.U.B.C.) and Mr. W. A. L. Fletcher, (B.S.O. and O.U.B.C.), and Mr. F. Fenner (L.R.C.) the judge.

Scholes is probably one of the best known young men in the city of Toronto. Since taking to sculling he has steadily climbed to the top of the ladder until to-day, when he achieved the greatest honor that has ever been won by a Canadian by winning the Diamond Sculls. All Canadians who have tried before him have never got past the first heat, and two years ago Scholes did not do any better himself. Kelly, whom Scholes defeated, is looked on as one of the best scullers in the world, and was a hot favorite. Lou is popular with all who are fortunate enough to be his friends, and in any amateur contests in which he has taken part he has always shown a true sportsmanlike spirit. He is one of the best known amateur heavyweight boxers in Canada, and won the championship two years ago. He has followed in his father's footsteps in every way, and has taken up all the sports in which John F. Scholes excelled in.

His First Victory.

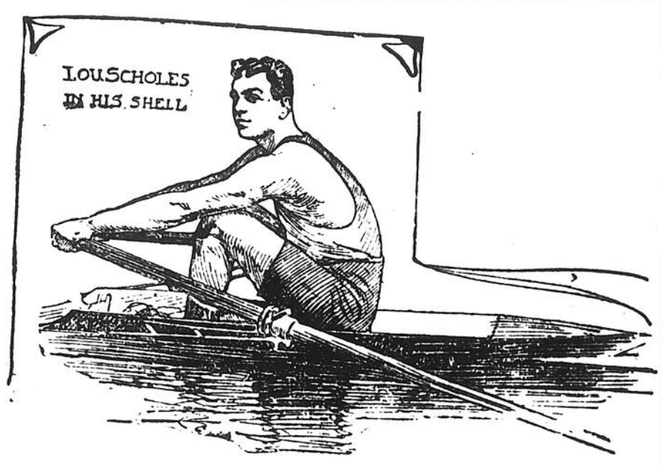

Lou Scholes first came out as a sculler five years ago, then being a member of the Don Rowing Club, and his first victory was when he won the club junior singles in 1899. In the following season he rowed at the regatta at Brockville, and finished second, afterwards winning the junior doubles with Marsh as his partner. He then went to Philadelphia where he won the intermediate singles. His next trip was to the regatta on the Harlem river, when he defeated Titus. Two years ago Scholes was sent to try his luck at Henley, but was defeated, and last season he carried off the singles and the double at the Canadian Henley at St. Catharines. He then won the senior association at Worcester last year and with Smith as a partner won the senior doubles. This year Lou was anxious to have another try for the coveted Diamond Sculls and has surprised not only the Englishmen but the Canadian with his success.

Lou Scholes is the youngest son of John F. Scholes, proprietor of the Athlete Hotel, on Yonge Street. He is twenty-four years of age and a brother to John Scholes who won the world's lightweight amateur championship as a boxer. When seen this morning after the news of his son's victory Mr. Scholes said that when the boy went away he felt that he would make a good showing and bring back honor to his native country. "Yes, Lou was born in Toronto, and he is proud of it," said the father as his many friends gathered around to congratulate him on his son's success.

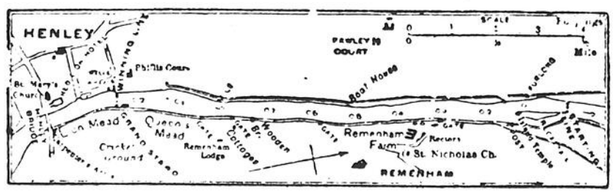

Will Be at St. Louis.

When asked as to when the champion would return Mr. Scholes said he could not say at the present time, but he would be home in time to take part in the regatta at St. Catharines, as well as in the one at St. Louis.

A word must be said about the father, who has been a sculler of some reputation himself. He was one of the big four that won the international championship on the Bay many years ago, and he won the single championship from Berry. He is a clever boxer and at one time was hard to beat. Mr. Scholes is well known as a fast man on snowshoes, for he held the mile record for many years.

The First Canadian to Win the Diamond Sculls.

THE HENLEY COURSE.

THE WINNIPEGERS OUTROWED.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

Henley, July 7.—In the final heat for the Steward's Cup, Third Trinity, Cambridge, the holders, beat the Winnipeg crew. It was a grand race for the first quarter of a mile, but after that Third Trinity led by a quarter of a length; then at the half distance, time 3 min. 31 secs., they had increased their lead to one and a half lengths; at the three-quarter distance they were two lengths ahead. Trinity winning eventually by one and a half lengths. Time, 8 mins. 30 secs. and one-fifth. The Winnipegs steered very badly, at one time getting clear over to the Bucks shore, then at the half distance going back to their own Berkshire side. They lost fully two lengths by bad steering. Had they won it would have been a greater surprise than the success of Scholes. The Winnipegs blame the boat for losing the race. Trinity could have beaten them by two or three lengths more.

The following were the entries for the Steward's Challenge Cup: — London Rowing Club, Third Trinity, Cambridge, who won last year, and the Winnipeg Rowing Club. As the Canadians drew a bye they only had to row the one race with the winners of the first heat. The time of Third Trinity last year was 8 mins. 5 secs.

The other principal race was the Grand Challenge Cup for eight oars, for which the entries were:—Leander Club, London Rowing Club, New College, Oxford; and Thames Rowing Club. Last year Leander beat Third Trinity by six feet in 7 mins. 7 secs.

The Winnipeg crew will row at the Kingston regatta. Scholes will row at St. Catherines in August. Lord Strathcona wired, congratulating Scholes, and to Commodore King, of the Don Club, Toronto, also.

Herald Want Competition

OFFER NO. 4

The result of Offer No. 4 has been rather unsatisfactory. While many of the competitors picked out some of the right advertisements, there was not one who marked one of the numbered lines in either day's paper. Such being the case, the judges have been unable to award the prize to anyone.

FUR MERCHANTS SOUGHT FOR BY THE LOCAL POLICE

Messrs. Franklyn and Levi, Rival Merchants, Leave $20,000 Indebtedness Behind Them When They Fly.

As already intimated in The Herald, the creditors of Adolphe Franklyn, of the Franklyn Fur Company, and Isaac Levi, of the Russian Fur Company, both of St. Paul Street, took action this week for assignment of the estates, on the ground that they were absconding creditors. Matters have now assumed a more serious color, and warrants are out for the arrest of both merchants, who, it appears, have not been seen at their places of business since last week.

At the meeting of the creditors held the other day, it was figured out that the liabilities would reach $20,000, while the assets are not expected to go over $500, consisting solely of a small quantity of furs placed under seizure by Hiram Johnson, one of the creditors.

Franklyn & Levi are known to have been in Toronto yesterday, but left for Buffalo, and are now reported to be in Chicago. They are not likely to recross from United States territory, being doubtless well aware that the extradition treaty does not cover a charge of conspiracy to defraud.

FEDERATION AND THE NAVY.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, July 7.—The Globe, referring to Capt. Mahan's speech, says: "It is through the navy that the first practical step for federation must come and special care is necessary to guard against that fatal dream of separate colonial navies which at one time was prevalent in Australia and now seems to obtain possession of the mind of Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

LOU SCHOLES IS A "FOREIGNER" TOO

"The Foreigner Wins" Heard Hundreds of Times at Henley Yesterday.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, July 7.—Some English newspapers and some English people say Scholes' victory was a popular win, but it was not. English scullers, particularly, are sore at a foreigner winning. "The foreigner wins," was the remark heard hundreds of times yesterday at Henley. If the Winnipegs win the English scullers' cup of bitterness will be filled to overflowing.

DEMOCRATS CHEER CLEVELAND'S NAME

Mention of Ex-President Followed by a Great Demonstration.

SOUND PLATFORM OUTLINED

The Party Will Return to Sound Principles—Trusts Denounced—Money Will Not be Made an Issue.

St. Louis, July 7.—The Democratic National Convention re-convened today, entering upon the second day's session. The stirring scenes of yesterday had the effect of heightening interest in the assemblage. Again those having tickets of admission at their disposal have been overwhelmed by applicants for admission and the disappointed of yesterday redoubled their efforts to-day.

In the course of his address yesterday afternoon Mr. John Sharp Williams mentioned the name of Grover Cleveland, which was cheered lustily. A moment later, the first scene of the session occurred. Mr. Williams declared that it was gross effrontery for the Republican party to attempt to seize the laurels of Grover Cleveland. A genuine outburst of applause followed. Cheer after cheer rolled through the hall, and, although the chairman used the gavel vigorously, the convention was soon beyond his control. New Hampshire delegates climbed upon their seats and yelled vigorously. One lo'a man of the Hearst-instructed delegation stood up and waved his hat frantically and a wild chorus answered him.

"Three cheers for Grover Cleveland," shouted an Alabama delegate, and they came with genuine power and enthusiasm.

No cry from Nebraska, where Mr. Bryan and his friends sat quietly without taking part in the noise. Again and again the cheering came in dense volume, despite numerous cries of "order," and the strenuous pounding of the chairman's gavel.

Then Mr. Williams sat back and watched the scene he had created. As the cheers and cries fell, there would be a renewed outbreak and the demonstration lasted eight minutes.

Committees Worked Late.

The Credentials Committee did not adjourn until after 4 o'clock this morning, while a sub-committee of the Committee on Resolutions labored until after the midnight hour.

An interesting feature of the proceedings before the Committee on Credentials was the appearance, at 2 a.m., of William J. Bryan, after the Illinois contest had been disposed of. He asked for a re-consideration of these cases that he might make a minority report. The committee ruled that no re-consideration was necessary, and Mr. Bryan was told to make his minority report. He asked those members who would sign it to stand up, and the delegates from Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Rhode Island arose.

This action foreshadowed that Mr. Bryan would make a fight on the floor of the convention. The committee sustained the action of the National Committee in all the contested cases save that from the 21st Illinois district.

The situation affecting the platform likewise engrossed attention on account of the protracted sessions of the Committee on Resolutions and its sub-committee. The anticipated sharp debate between the big orators of the convention was sufficient to keep all on the keen edge of expectation.

Senator Bailey Declined.

At 10.15 a.m. the convention was called to order by temporary Chairman Williams. Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, offered prayer. Immediately after the invocation Chairman Williams called for the report on rules and order of business.

The chair declared the report of committee on rules, recognizing Porto Rico delegates, adopted.

The committee on credentials sent word that it could not report before 2 o'clock.

At 11.04 a.m. a recess was ordered.

The committee on permanent organization, which met just before the close of the morning session of the convention, received and accepted the formal declination of Senator Bailey to be permanent chairman. Champ Clark, of Missouri, was then elected and accepted the position.

MR. W. R. HEARST,
Whose Boom for the Presidency has Given the Democratic Leaders Much Concern.

CITY COUNCIL WILL BE ASKED TO ESTABLISH SEVERAL MILK DEPOTS

As a Result of Recorder Weir's Statement in Court Yesterday the Health Committee and Health Officials Have Drawn Up a Plan to Prevent Spread of Disease.

As a result of an interview with Recorder Weir this morning, Ald. E. G. Dagenais, chairman of the Hygiene Committee, will go before the Finance Committee and ask for $5,000 to carry out an elaborate scheme for the supplying of Montreal with better milk.

Dr. Dagenais believes that one of the causes for the high infant mortality is the poor milk supplied to citizens, and his views were expressed in an interview with Mr. Recorder Weir this morning.

Speaking of the situation this morning Dr. Dagenais said:

"What should be done is to establish in different parts of the city dispensaries or depots where we could get milk from the surrounding country and distribute it to citizens. The farmers could arrange to supply the milk in sterilized bottles, say of two or three ounces capacity. This milk would be specially for the use of young children. Mothers would send to these depots for sufficient milk to last twenty-four hours.

"Such a scheme would cost money, but I will go before the Finance Committee and see what can be done. No one can be more affected than I am at the loss of so many children's lives."

Should Have Nurses Also.

Dr. Dagenais thinks that nurses should be attached to these depots to instruct young mothers about the proper care of children. He believed that a number of women inspectors for babies were needed. They would visit the homes of the poor and see if the children were properly fed and looked after.

"Lots of things besides milk" remarked Chairman Dagenais, "are responsible for the loss of so many young lives. The houses are often kept in a disgraceful condition, and to tell you the truth, many women are glad to see their children die. They prefer their children to become angels; that is so much grander. Many mothers do so little for their babies, and at the last moment come in to a doctor to get a death certificate."

Dr. Laberge's Opinion.

Dr. Louis Laberge, medical health officer, believes that all milk used in the city should be bottled directly on the farm, after being properly cooled and aerated. Cleanliness in milking was most important. Dr. Laberge regards the feeding of cows on brew's grain to be one of the greatest causes of poor milk and high mortality. Such grain would be all right if it were only fresh.

Sell in Bottles Only.

Dr. L. J. Demers, city milk inspector, believes that if grocers sell milk they should only do so in bottles. At present they received the milk in cans and allowed it to stand for hours. The result was that the first buyer would get cream while the others got skimmed milk. The proper way to do was to mix the milk. Dr. Demers has found that seven out of every eight grocery stores examined since May, kept milk in a refrigerator along with other goods. The same was true of some families, where the milk was kept in an ice box together with pickles, preserves and milk. No wonder that the infant death rate was so high.

"My candid opinion" declared Dr. Demers" is that no grocery store should be allowed to keep milk. If the license by-law were enforced, there would be fewer grocers selling milk."

BATTLE GOING ON NEAR LIAO YANG

Japs Continue Their Advance to Mukder—Jap Gunboat Lost.

Tokio, July 7.—The Japanese gunboat Kaimon struck a mine and sunk in Talienwan Bay on July 5. The Kaimon was a small wooden ship twenty years old and carrying light guns and about 230 men.

Battle Near Liao Yang.

London, July 7.—A despatch to the Telegraph, dated Liao Yang, July 7, 1 a. m. eastern time, says that a battle is proceeding twenty-five miles away. A number of wounded are being brought in from the mountains, slung between mules or lying on mattresses in carts. The engagement is evidently severe. The fighting has been going on for two days. The correspondent believes that the Japanese are continuing their advance with the object of cutting off Mukden.

There being no other definite mention of fighting in the neighborhood of Liao Yang, beyond that contained in the despatch to the Telegraph, it is impossible to conclude whether a really important battle has been fought or whether it was a renewal of such skirmishing as the recent affair at Motien and Fenchou Passes. The Telegraph's military critic points out the possibility that it is no more than an engagement between outposts and reminds readers that the despatches may have been censored to convey a desired impression. It is difficult to reconcile this and other reported activities with the assertions that the rains had caused a complete suspension of operations on land; it is suggested that the rains may have ceased a day or two ago, enabling the Japs to advance sufficiently to account for the Tokio and St. Petersburg reports of renewed fighting and to bring Generals Kuroki's and Kuropatkin's armies, as one St. Petersburg despatch says, face to face.

The operations in any case must be of a most exhausting nature, even for the hardy Japanese, inasmuch as the heat in Manchuria is described as unbearable, the thermometer registering 122 degrees Fahrenheit. Nothing can be added to the earlier brief reports of the Japanese advance towards Mukden. There is no confirmation of the reported naval fight off Gensan, which is described from St. Petersburg as being a prolonged battle, ending in the decisive defeat of the Japanese.

Kuropatkin Strategy.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—A despatch from Liao Yang says that the Japanese began to surround the Russian army on both flanks, but were obliged to abandon the movement in consequence of the skilful strategy of Gen. Kuropatkin, who attained a tactical position that enabled him to strike the various Japanese corps in detail, compelling the Japanese commander to withdraw his eastern and southern wings. The despatch gives no location and no date of the operation.

Fighting Near Port Arthur.

London, July 7.—The Tokio correspondent of the Chronicle says that there has been heavy fighting during the last two days near Port Arthur, Haicheng and Kaiping. The result is not known. The correspondent adds that plans are maturing by which Japan will put a million men in the field in the event of the war lasting until June, 1905.

Japanese Provisions Captured.

Liao Yang, July 7.—According to a trustworthy report, Major-General Mistchenko, on July 5, captured a large convoy of Japanese provisions, principally of rice. In the convoy were fifty head of cattle.

In view of the extreme heat most of the moving of troops is done at night.

Russian War Office Denies.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—The War Office denies that a battle is in progress, as reported by the Liao Yang correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph.

Russians Drove Japs Back.

Ta Tche Kiao, Wednesday, July 7.—The Japanese swarmed over the mountain crests early yesterday morning and advanced on Kai Chou, compelling Gen. Chirikoff, with the centre of the Russian vanguard, to fall back. A whole brigade of Japanese, with masses of cavalry, followed and occupied the village of Nan Tay, driving out two companies of Russian infantry and two companies of Cossacks, who were entrenched there. The Japanese arrived within five miles of Kai Chou. It was then nightfall. Gen. Samsonoff made a heroic attempt to check the Japanese, galloping out with guns to shell the Japanese left and inflicting great loss on them. But fearing his retreat would be cut off he fell back and is now holding Kai Chou. Gen. Chirikoff's force is stationed southeast of Kai Chou.

TPR. CROSSFIELD DIES OF INJURIES

Laprairie Camp Plunged in Gloom Over the Sad Fatality.

Heartfelt sympathy is universally expressed for the relations and friends of Edward Crossfield, whose sad death, resulting from a kick from a horse last Monday, has cast a spell of gloom over the whole of the corps in camp at Laprairie.

He died at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and amongst those at his bedside were his mother, sister and two brothers, who had come from Abbottsford, immediately on being informed of the accident. His father, Samuel Crossfield, is at Banff, N.W.T., so could not get here in time.

Crossfield was a trooper in the 13th Dragoons and only seventeen years of age. A bright and intelligent youth and a favorite with every one.

Rev. Mr. Horsey, who arrived from Abbottsford, just too late, condoled with the mother, sister and brothers.

The body was escorted with full military honors from the hospital to the train this afternoon, by his comrades in arms, from the camp.

GRAIN INSPECTION BILL REPORTED BY COMMITTEE

Ottawa, July 7.—(Special.)—The grain inspection bill was reported to-day by the special committee which had it in charge.

At to-day's meeting the standards for oats in the eastern division of the Dominion were raised as follows: No. 1, 34 lbs.; No. 2, 32 lbs.; No. 3, 30 lbs., and No. 4, 28 lbs. Survey boards on the east will hereafter be appointed by the Governor-in-Council upon the recommendation of the Montreal and Toronto Boards of Trade.

The grain weighing act of last session was incorporated in the bill. It gives power to the Governor-in-Council to order compulsory weighing at lake terminals such as Collingwood, Midland, Meaford, etc., of grain intended for distribution in Eastern Canada or of all grain shipped east.

The principle was adopted of no re-inspection of Manitoba grain in the east unless the grain had deteriorated in transit.

VENEZUELAN CLAIM SETTLED.

Ottawa, July 7.—(Special.)—Mr. F. B. Wade, K.C., M.P., who was acting for the owners of the Harry Troop, a vessel belonging to Shelburne, N.S., which was illegally detained on the Orinoco river during the Venezuelan trouble, has received a cheque through the British Foreign Office for $5,000, awarded by a commission appointed to assess the damages. A blockade was placed on the river for four months when there was no authority by the central power to do so. The cheque was from the Venezuelan Government.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

(Chicago Tribune.)

When he smothered his ambition for the presidential chair,
He asserted the occasion was a good one to declare
That hereafter he would simply be a common looker on—
A bystander who would profit by the hints of days agone.
Yet, if any one is puzzled as to what's the road to take,
Mr. William Jennin's Bryan has a few remarks to make.

Sought the soothing, shady solace of his figtree and his vine,
With his hand his ear is funneled just to catch his country's call,
And the call may be a murmur—she will never have to bawl.
And at morning, noon, or evening, purely for his country's sake,
Mr. William Jennin's Bryan has a few remarks to make.

Let them go and make their platform, it is no concern of his,
He is merely an observer, he declares—that's what he is,
As to policy or purpose, resolutions, pins or planks,
Colonies or combinations, new canals or big-ger banks,
They can simply suit their notions—but the atmosphere will shake,
Mr. William Jennin's Bryan has a few remarks to make.

And the truly loyal wheelhorse, full of worry, ever harks
For the daily burst of caution which is in those few remarks,
And at night before his pillow knows the pressure of his head,
He repeats this small petition ere he clambers into bed.
"Now I lay me down to slumber; should I die before I wake,
Mr. William Jennin's Bryan has a few remarks to make."

WEATHER TO-MORROW WILL BE FAIR AND COOL.

To-day and on Friday—Light variable winds; fair and cool.

To-day the weather has been of the most ideal character, and a continuance of it is promised for to-morrow. Similar weather prevails in Ontario and the Eastern Provinces. The temperature has been decidedly high in the Northwest Territories. The total fall of rain yesterday was 0.01 inches. The maximum temperature was 68.7, and the minimum was 61.0. To-day's figures vary little.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Port Simpson, 40, 60; Victoria, 54, 72; Kamloops, 62, 88; Calgary, 46, 84; Qu'Appelle, 44, 66; Winnipeg, 44, 72; Port Arthur, 42, 70; Toronto, 58, 72; Ottawa, 58, 74; Montreal, 60, 68; Quebec, 56, 74; St. John, 48, 72; Halifax, 52, 76.

DREDGES TRY TO FREE VANCOUVER

All Passengers Have Been Forwarded by Other Ships and Routes.

No further change has been made in the position of the Vancouver, though the work of lightering her is continuously going on.

In addition, the company has commenced dredging out a channel alongside, and as the cargo will be almost completely transferred by to-morrow morning, an attempt will be made to pull her off. With the work done by the dredge the company hope that this attempt will be successful.

Arrangements have been completed for the forwarding of the passengers by other boats. Some went on the Pretorian yesterday, others were forwarded to Boston to take the Republic there, and the balance will sail from Quebec on the Kensington Saturday afternoon.

Though the company has hopes of pulling the boat off the mud to-morrow, the prospects are by no means bright, and if it prove unsuccessful, the boat may be in her present position anything from ten days to three weeks. In some quarters the opinion is expressed that several dredges should have been put at work as soon as the boat grounded. She went into the soft bottom with such force that it was almost an impossibility to pull her clear, and in addition to this the water has been falling with such rapidity as to counterbalance the effects of lightering her.

CITY OF CHICAGO IS NOT LIABLE

Important Ruling Handed Down on Iroquois Theatre Fire Claims.

Chicago, July 7.—Litigation to the probable aggregate total of $8,000,000 has been discouraged by a ruling of Judge Holdom, in the Superior Court, to the effect that the city of Chicago was not liable in any degree for the Iroquois Theatre fire. A suit by Eva Catherine Gibson for $15,000 damages because of a broken arm and an injured spine was the case decided. Sixty other suits are pending, and had the decision been against the city hundreds of other actions probably would have been filed.

The opinion was on the city's demurrer to the averment that the theatre was a public nuisance, and that the municipality was liable because of the dereliction of its officers in issuing a license before the theatre had complied with the ordinances. But even had the playhouse been a nuisance in the legal meaning of that word the city still would not have been liable.

CREW NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR NORGE DISASTER

The Vessel Gave Way With the Current—Life Preservers Were New.

Cophenhagen, July 7.—Captain Lamb, one of the highest officers of the Danish navy, said in reference to the Danis steamship Norge, which was wrecked off the reef 290 miles from the Scottish mainland on June 28, that no fault could be found with either the captain or crew. He said that the Norge gave way with the current and added: "I have made 300 trips to the United States and my ship often gave way owing to the stream and the variation of compass. These conditions are known to all navigators."

Officers of the United Steamship Company, which owned the Norge, deny the statements made by the survivors of the wreck that strings of the lifebelts were rotten or that the supply of lifeboats was insufficient. They say that only recently the Norge was supplied with 30 new lifebelts and that the stock on board exceeded the number of passengers carried by the ship on her last trip.

POPE PIUS IS NOT ILL.

Rumor of His Illness is Denied by His Physicians.

Rome, July 7.—There is no truth in the report circulated in the United States by a news agency that the Pope suffered from an attack of palpitation of the heart, which seriously alarmed his attendants. The heat in Rome this year is unusually suffocating and enervating. All, even the hardened Romans, are complaining. The Pope also feels the heat, especially as this is the first summer he has spent in Rome. The Pontiff, however, is exceedingly well situated, as the heat cannot be said to penetrate the thick walls of the Vatican.

That the Pope is enjoying his usual good health is proved by the fact that that he received Cardinal Macchi and Mgr. Desseclares in private audience this morning.

Professor Lapponi when interviewed on the subject asserted that nothing unusual had occurred in regard to the health of the Pontiff.

NEW BRUNSWICK SYNOD.

Closing Session Held Last Evening—Railway Rates Too High.

Fredericton, N.B., July 7.—(Special)—The Church of England synod conducted its session last evening with an impressive service at the cathedral participated in by several leading clergymen and the Bishop. On Wednesday afternoon the session decided to participate in the great thank offering at St. Paul's London in 1908. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company was criticized for excessive rates to delegates to the synod and similar conventions, and a committee was appointed to co-operate with other religious bodies to secure redress. Bishop Kingdon in his annual address urged that the salaries of clergymen should be increased, and that no clergyman more than five years in orders should receive less than $600, and spoke of an increase of 1,121 in the number of communicants was reported.

MR. JOS. LONG DROWNED.

Toronto, Ont., July 7.—The body of the man found in the Don river yesterday has been identified as that of Joseph Long, of Long Bros., Collingwood, and brother of Mr. Thos. Long, of this city. Mr. Long was about sixty years of age, a widower for a number of years and leaves no family. He had not been in the best of health of late, and last winter took a trip to England. He was one of the wealthiest and best known business men in Ontario, and had varied business interests. He was one of the founders of the Northern Navigation Company, and owned a large portion of its stock.

CANADA CAN HOLD THE GRAIN TRADE

Mr. J. Corbett, of the C.P.R., Says U. S. Efforts Will Be Unavailing.

The determined action taken by the American Atlantic trunk lines to try to regain the grain and corn trade that has been captured by the lines using the great lakes and St. Lawrence route is, in the opinion of leading transportation officials, to prove entirely ineffectual.

Mr. J. Corbett, the foreign freight manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway Atlantic Steamship Company, in conversation with The Herald, made a statement which shows the position held by the Canadian water route.

"The St. Lawrence route," he said, "during the season of navigation holds and will continue to hold the key to the export grain and corn situation from the Canadian West, and both the Canada and American Northwests to Europe.

"The route from Buffalo cannot and never will be a factor so long as the Atlantic lines from this port meet the competition existing from U. S. ports. When grain can be transported by boat from Fort William to Montreal, as it is being done this season at 3 1-2 cents per bushel, the rate from Buffalo is simply not in it.

CONDUCTOR FORCED TO STOP TRAIN

Ottawa, July 7—(Special.)—Two companies of the U.S. National Guards, one from Burlington, Vt., and the other from Malone, N.Y., and a company of sixty ladies of a drill corps from the latter place, were the guests of Ottawa on Dominion Day. The arrangements with Captain A. J. Miller, of Company E, was that the train should not be started earlier than 10.30 that night, and not then, if any of the girls of the ladies' company were missing. The train was started before the time agreed upon and without Captain Miller being notified. He stopped the train twice before the conductor came to see what the trouble was.

Captain Miller explained the matter but the conductor again started the train. This time the emergency brakes were pulled, resulting in the breaking of a coupling and the abrupt stopping of the train. By the time the damage was repaired another train, on which the missing girls of the Ladies' Military Company were found, came up and the girls were transferred.

The officers were justly indignant over the treatment given them by the railroad officers as represented by the conductor of the train. It was only after threatening to place the conductor under military arrest that he consented to hold the train.

NO DEVELOPMENTS AT SYDNEY TO-DAY

Sydney, N.S., July 7.—(Special.)—Everything was quiet at the Steel works this morning. The militia are encamped within the gates, and sentries are posted at all the entrances. This show of force has evidently had the effect desired, for this morning no resistance was offered to men going into the works. This, it is believed, is largely due to the counsel of Messrs. Moffatt and Fraser, of the P.W.A., whose advice all through to the men has been in the interests of the preservation of peace.

Mr. Moffatt was in consultation with Messrs. Plummer and Fraser again yesterday, but nothing could be learned regarding the outcome. The men feel that the presence of the soldiers is uncalled for, and this is now an additional grievance in their eyes, and will doubtless cause more friction in reaching a settlement.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION MONDAY

The moonlight excursion to be given by Messrs. Lyons and White on Monday evening next promises to be one of the most enjoyable events of the kind that will be held this season. The steamer Berthier has been chartered for the trip, and will leave the Victoria pier, foot of Bonsecours Street at eight p.m. sharp. Music for dancing will be furnished by Casey and Davis' orchestra.

RETURNED OPEN VERDICT.

At the morgue this morning two inquests were held. The body of Hugh Stephenson, a cattleman, was found floating in the river, Tuesday. Verdict of death by drowning. The other case was that of the body found a couple of weeks ago, floating in the river. There was nothing by which the body could be identified, and as there was a bullet wound in the head and cartridges of the same calibre were found in the pocket, it is presumed that it was a case of suicide. An open verdict was returned.

CANADIAN TOPICS WERE DISCUSSED

At Canadian Society Luncheon—Union of the Churches.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, July 7.—At the monthly luncheon of the Canadian Society today, Dr. Bayne presiding, Mr. Duff Miller, agent-general for New Brunswick, made an interesting speech in favor of the development of Canadian trade with the West Indies, which he had recently visited. Mr. Murray, Premier of Nova Scotia, expressed his gratification at the increased interest taken by the British press and people in Canadian affairs. This was especially noticeable in recent years. He was much pleased with the speech of the Duke of Marlborough, at the Dominion Day banquet, regarding Imperial preference, a question upon which he preserved an open mind. He had had a long conversation with Mr. Chamberlain and was much impressed with his earnestness and sincerity, and thought his views were deserving of intelligent consideration. He was pleased to find Canadians in London organizing for social purposes. Rev. Dr. Warden, of Toronto, spoke, expressing his pleasure at finding Canada so prominent a centre of the Empire. He noted that Premier Ross had come out in favor of Mr. Chamberlain's policy.

SCHOLES AND DUNDONALD.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, July 7.—The Manchester Guardian hopes that Canada will forget the Dundonald incident in the joy at Scholes' victory.

RAILWAY BILL AMENDED.

Ottawa, July 7.—(Special)—The Railway Committee sat for five minutes to-day and passed the N. B. Southern Railway Company's bill. The company had a provincial charter and wanted to get Dominion incorporation. Another clause was for a bridge over the St. Croix River, at St. Stephen's, to connect with the Washington County Railway, in Maine.

Mr. Ganong opposed this part of the bill. Mr. Broome, representing St. Stephen's, said that the bridge would interfere with navigation. It turned out that a similar request was asked four years ago, and the committee turned it down.

Dominion incorporation was granted, but the clause to bridge the river was struck out, and the bill, as amended, was reported.

GOVERNMENT HELD SEAT BY REDUCED MAJORITY

London, July 7.—A bye-election yesterday at Chertsey to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John A. Fyler, Conservative, resulted in the election of Lord Bingham, Conservative, who polled 5,425 votes, against 4,876 cast for Mr. Sadler, the Liberal candidate. The campaign was fought almost wholly on the question of admitting Chinese labor into the Transvaal.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

London, Ont.—Ralph Delmonte, teamster, was drowned at London while bathing.

TWO NEW TORBINES WILL CARRY MAIL

Ottawa, July 7.—(Special.)—In the House of Commons this forenoon Mr. Emmerson said that the Government had no official information that the section of the Montreal and Atlantic Railway was not being operated except that there was no returns made to the department.

The estimates of Sir Richard Cartwright were taken up in supply.

Sir Richard Cartwright stated that the Allans had at present the Canadian mail service, and were under a two years' contract to continue the service with four steamers, the Bavarian, Tunisian, and two new turbine steamers now being built. They would be seventeen knot 10,000 ton cold storage boats, which would make the passage from Moville to Rimouski in six days; about the same time required for the New York passage. The new contract called for a summer passage by the Bavarian and Tunisian in not more than seven days, and the turbine boats in six days, under penalty of one per cent. for each hour over that time. The winter allowance of time was about twelve hours more. The penalty principle had been an active one. The fines imposed upon the Allans amounted to $10,000. The turbine steamers would go clear up.

The first turbine steamer is to go on the route in August and the second one in the spring.

Sir Richard said he had not given up the idea of a fast service, but the Government could not get a tender for a twenty-knot service for less than a million or a million and a half a year. The difference between a seventeen-knot and a twenty-knot passage was only about fifteen hours per passage, and that did not seem to be worth the price. The tendency in New York was to seek comfort rather than speed in new boats. The seventeen-knot boats there were as great favorites as the faster boats.

MR. WILLIAM MACKENZIE REACHED CITY YESTERDAY

Claims the James Bay Railway Has Precedence for Toronto Site—Mr. Biggar Says Not.

Mr. William Mackenzie, President of the Canadian Northern Railway, arrived in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mr. F. S. Pearson, of New York, vice-president of the M[illegible]an Light and Power Company. M[illegible] Mackenzie, when seen, said that h[illegible] company, which also controls the James Bay Railway, had applied for the property in Toronto on which the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific wanted to build a Union Depot. He was confident that his company had priority and would be given the site.

Mr. W. H. Biggar, solicitor of the Grand Trunk Railway, when asked what position the Grand Trunk would take with regard to the claim, made by Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann, said that the claim made was only a way of getting a little cheap advertising.

"The James Bay Railway would have to make their application to the Board of Railway Commissioners and the city of Toronto would have an opportunity of showing whether it desired that greater consideration should be granted to a company that would bring in the amount of business that the James Bay Railway would, than to the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific.

THE GUYSBORO ELECTION DISCUSSED IN THE HOUSE

Hon. Mr. Emmerson and Mr. Sinclair Effectively Reply to Conservative Charges—Tories Imported Heelers and Spent $57,000 to Carry the Riding.

(Staff Correspondence of The Herald.)

Ottawa, July 7.—The Commons talked politics yesterday. The Guysboro election has been worrying the Conservatives a good deal and the contest in St. John has caused the Liberals to do some unpleasant thinking. The two defeats had to be talked out and it was done. The Conservatives raised the old cry of politically active Government servants. The Ministerial benches replied in kind. The discussion of the Guysboro affair made it clear that Conservative cries of corruption there have no fact for a foundation. The evidence shows the corruption was practiced by the losers in the game.

The financial result of the day was a six and a half million vote for the running expenses of the Intercolonial this year.

THE GUYSBORO BYE-ELECTION.

At the morning sitting Mr. Bell, of Pictou charged a number of Intercolonial employes with political activity in the recent Guysboro bye-election.

In the afternoon Dr. Sproule continued the discussion. He named Mr. George M. Grant as one who interfered in Guysboro.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson said in answer to Mr. Ingram that it would certainly be an improper act for any Intercolonial Railway employe to do more than vote on an election. He said that every man on the Intercolonial had the right to vote freely and as he pleased. He said that every man knew this. It was different in the case of the Conservative administration.

Hon. Mr. Haggart, who was the Conservative Minister of Railways before 1897, arose and said that during his administration no attempt was ever made to influence the voting of the employes by intimidation, or to make use of their services in elections.

LIBERALS KEPT FROM VOTING.

The Liberal side laughed at this declaration and Hon. Mr. Emmerson said that the Conservative managers of the road had seen to it that in 1896 the employes who were expected to cast Liberal votes were sent away from the place where they had their vote, and so deprived of their franchise.

Mr. Emmerson said he held it as an essential principle of railway management that the head should be supported by loyal men. He held that on the Intercolonial he should have no man who did not give loyal service and loyal support to the operation of the road. "If I find such a man I shall not lose a single minute in striking off his official head."

Mr. Ingram said he doubted that any Intercolonial employe ever let his political feelings interfere with his service to the road.

Mr. Emmerson said that he had known of a train despatcher having taken advantage of his position to hold trains unduly and make them late, so that the management of the road might be discredited. He had known a man to do this and boast about it. Such a condition of affairs had existed on the road within three years.

Mr. Ingram agreed that such a man should be instantly dismissed.

Mr. Emmerson said he would attend to this, though no man need fear the consequences unless he were guilty.

MR. INGRAM'S CHARGE.

Mr. Ingram intimated the chief reason for the Intercolonial deficit was found in political management and the placing of political agents in positions on the road where their services were not required. He had no doubt a number of these gentlemen on the Intercolonial who had been so active in Guysboro were of this character.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson denied that there was a man on the Intercolonial who had been appointed for political purposes. Every man was appointed because he was needed.

Dr. Kendall, of Cape Breton, said that on the Cape Breton end of the line there was not a man drawing salary for the reasons described by Mr. Ingram. When he had been elected he knew of employes of the road who had been offensive partizans. However, their dismissal had not been demanded because it was recognized that in the old regime they had been compelled to be active partizans. Before the 1896 contest a score of men were called before Station Agent McLennan at Sydney and told they were on the political black list and the best thing they could do would be to right themselves as soon as possible. In the 1900 election, no such attempt was made by the Liberals. Every man had the right to vote as he pleased.

MR. J. H. SINCLAIR'S REPLY.

Mr. J. H. Sinclair of Guysboro, said a good deal had been said about the contest from which he had emerged as the successful candidate. A good deal had been said before in the Conservative press and all sorts of corrupt and questionable methods had been charged against the Liberal workers. It was not his custom to pay much attention to anonymous correspondents or editorial attacks but all over Canada these statements had been made and reiterated by Conservative organs, apparently in the hope of finding eventually some people sufficiently credulous to be influenced by them. In spite of all that had been said the Liberals of Guysboro had fought a clean and honest fight and had won a creditable victory. They had won this in the face of slander, and corruption, practiced by the other side. For the first time in the history of Nova Scotia politics there had been men introduced from outside whom he would discribe as "professional bribers." He had seen the operations of two of them at a polling place where he had spent the day. These men were strangers. Their faces were not familiar to anyone. From the headquarters they established there issued a smell of bad whiskey and from these came drunken men. It was stated there had been votes bought by these men, who, when the polls were closed, disappeared, and no man saw them again. They did not come from any part of Nova Scotia. where did they come from, Mr. Sinclair asked? Captain Griffin was too moral and religious a man to have employed such methods. The Conservative organizer of Nova Scotia, Mr. Charles E. Tasner, could certainly not have done such a thing. The Montreal Star had an agent down there, it was said. Could such a high moral journal as this have had anything to do with this business of bribery and corruption? But where did these men come from and where did the money they used come from?

There had been a good deal said of the Conservative investigation into the Guysboro contest and the exposure that was to come. The Truro Sun stated editorially that a representative of the Montreal Star had been at New Glasgow for a week and had found out things which would have their climax when brought up in the House.

CHARGES AMOUNTED TO LITTLE.

Mr. Sinclair said he supposed the climax had now arrived. He did not think it amounted to much. The investigation had produced little. There was only one man against whom a statement on oath had been made in affidavit form. This was Mr. Leblanc who, he understood, was not an employe of the Intercolonial at the time of the election, but was on a three months' leave of absence. The Truro Sun said that Mr. B. A. Macnab, of the Montreal Star, was the author of the investigation. That meant, Mr. Sinclair said, that he was the author of all the anonymous slanders and libels, and that he has scattered them all over Canada. He thought Mr. Macnab's work on this point was about as creditable as that he did before the polling day. The room which Mr. Macnab had occupied at the hotel had been the centre of Conservative activity. There the Conservative heelers gathered and from there they took their snowy paths to distant parts of the riding. It was said they took more with them than inspiring words. He did not blame Mr. Macnab for being at the hotel. He had a perfect right to be there, and perhaps he was busy distributing tracts and prayerbooks among the Conservative workers whom he met.

With regard to the Intercolonial servants charged with political activity Mr. Sinclair said he did not believe in that sort of practice. However, he had no knowledge that any of these men had been active in the campaign. However, there was a distinguished precedent for this. Sir Charles Tupper, when High Commissioner and drawing salary therefor, had crossed the Atlantic and campaigned Nova Scotia from end to end.

Here was the very king of Canadian civil servants engaged in active partizanship in the Conservative interest. The charge against Mr. John A. Kirk was one that would not be believed in the district where that gentleman was known and when he had denied doing more than vote on the day he was charged with political activity.

The leader of the Opposition, Mr. Sinclair said, had charged the Liberals with corrupt practice in the Guysboro contest. He had some documents under his hand which proved that the Conservatives had done some very questionable things in the election.

A STRONG AFFIDAVIT READ.

He read an affidavit from Mr. E. M. Macdonald, of Pictou, in which that gentleman swore that:

"On nomination day there appeared at Guysboro a man whom I afterwards discovered to be Mr. Prieur, of Montreal, who was closeted that evening in Grant's Hotel with Messrs. Charles G. Tanner and E. C. Gregory. On arriving at Charles Cove I found that he had been there at the house of Charles Richard since the previous Thursday, and that he was accompanied by a man whom the people in that locality called 'Twiger,' which was evidently an assumed name. I found that he had not had any meetings, but had been sending for people in that vicinity and interviewing them privately during the week he had been there, and that his conduct had been exceedingly mysterious and wholly different from that of a man who was looking for votes on the ground of principle. On Tuesday afternoon I called at the house where he was, but he declined to see me, and, in response to a message I sent to his room, inviting him to come to my meeting, the answer was that he was no speaker and did not take any part in meetings. The next day he appeared at Larry's River poll and had his headquarters in the house of a man named Michael Pelrine. His companion, 'Twiger,' appeared as the agent of Giffin under the name of 'Switzer.' Giffin, the Conservative candidate, was also in and about the house during the day, and from which drunken men emanated throughout the day. That Prieur was not engaged in discussing politics with the electors was evident, and one man, Wm. Petipas, told me he had received money from him to vote for Giffin and that he had taken an oath to vote that way. Before leaving Port Felix on Tuesday morning I discovered that two men, whose names were not known, and who, I think, did not belong to Nova Scotia, were there working in the interests of the Conservative party. In addition to these two men and Prieur and Switzer, the following men were in the county who did not address meetings:—John Bailey, Pictou; H. V. Jennison, New Glasgow; Mr. Simson, Halifax, who worked in Queensport district; Mr. Parsons, Halifax; Joseph A. Gillies, Sydney. Tanner spoke at only one meeting while he was there for a week, and other persons whose names I do not know."

CONSERVATIVES SPENT $57,000 IN RIDING.

Mr. Sinclair read another affidavit, made by Mr. D. P. Floyd, who declared he had been told after the Guysboro election by a Conservative worker named Francois Lemarchamp, who told him the Conservatives had spent $57,000 in the Guysboro election.

Charges had been made concerning the stuffing of electoral lists. They were ridiculous upon their face for the lists had been prepared a year before the contest. They were open to Conservative inspection. They had made no complaint that Conservatives had been left off the list. It remained for an anonymous correspondent of the Halifax Herald and Montreal Star to do this after the election.

In conclusion, Mr. Sinclair said that there was little in the Conservative criticism of the Guysboro contest, and no one knew it better than the people of Guysboro.

Mr. G. C. Bell made light of the case made out by Mr. Sinclair, and said that there had been no answer to the charge that Intercolonial servants had been active in the Guysboro election.

RAILWAY ESTIMATES TAKEN UP.

When the railway estimates were again proceeded with in the evening, Mr. Emmerson informed Mr. Haggart that the capital expenditure on the Intercolonial up to the end of May was $1,507,975, and in the Prince Edward Island Railway $364,924. The revenue on the Prince Edward Island Railway up to the end of April was $189,894, and expenditures $255,166.

Mr. Borden mentioned the names of two or three parties who had been in Guysboro for the Conservatives, and resented the idea of them being called heelers.

Mr. Sinclair said that he had not these men in his mind when he used the expression heelers.

Mr. Emmerson, in reply to Mr. Haggart, said that so long as there was party Government in Canada the management of the Government railways would take their recommendations from friends of the Government, but it was for the management to ascertain the fitness of the men and the number required.

Mr. Fielding said that this was a perfectly proper practice to pursue. Their predecessors followed this system.

Mr. Haggart said that when he was at the head of the Intercolonial he never knew what the politics of the men were.

Mr. Fielding replied that the statement would be taken as a joke along the line of the I.C.R., where it was well known that no Liberal was appointed during the Conservative regime.

Mr. Emmerson said that after the election in 1878 no less than 400 employes at the Moncton shops were dismissed for no other reason than that they voted for Sir Albert Smith. From that moment down till 1896 no Liberals were appointed.

The discussion extended to appointments to the bench, to the Senate, and the Welland Canal, after which Mr. Lefurgy said that it was a terrible doctrine for Mr. Emmerson to lay down that no Conservative should apply.

Mr. Logan read a letter from Sir Charles Tupper in 1882 saying that a young man named Ryan, in the offices at Moncton, was dismissed because he opposed the Government of the day.

Mr. Haggart replied that Sir Charles Tupper promised to restore the man if he (Tupper) had made a mistake. He protested against the Government making the bad, bold announcement that no one was to be appointed to a day's work on a railway unless he was a supporter of the Government.

Mr. Hughes (Prince Edward Island) said that he knew of cases on the island railway where in the Conservative time men were dismissed because they had not taken an active part in the politics of the Conservative party.

The item of $6,500,000 for the operation of the Intercolonial passed.

THE SALESWOMAN AND THE WORKING GIRL

Compelled to Be on Her Feet the Largest Part of the Day, Finds a Tonic in Pe-ru-na.

Miss Curtain, of St. Paul, Gives Her Experience.

MISS NELLIE CURTAIN, 646 Pearl Street, St. Paul, Minn., head sales woman in a department store, writes:

"I have charge of a department in a dry goods store, and after standing the larger part of the day, I would go home with a dull ache, generally through my entire body. I used Peruna, and feel so much better that I walk to and from the store now. I know Peruna to be the best medicine on the market for the diseases peculiar to women."—Miss Nellie Curtain.

Nothing is so weakening to the human system as the constant loss of mucus. Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane produces an excessive formation of mucus. Whether the mucous membrane be located in the head or pelvic organs, the discharge of mucus is sure to occur.

This discharge of mucus constitutes a weakening drain; the system cannot long withstand, the loss of mucus; hence it is that women afflicted with catarrhal affections of the pelvic organs feel tired and languid, with weak back and throbbing brain. A course of Peruna is sure to restore health by cutting off the weakening drain of the daily loss of mucus.

An Admirable Tonic.

Mrs. H. Kassatt, 1309 W. 13th Street, Des Moines, Ia., for over ten years the manager of a plant furnishing ladies' wear and employing hundreds of women, writes: "Two years ago I felt that I must take a long rest, as I had been unable to work for over a month and could not regain my strength. I could not sleep and was in a very nervous, high strung condition. I decided to try Peruna. I began to improve very shortly and in less than two months I was able to take up my work again, and felt better than I have for years."

Thousands of women have catarrh of some character and don't know it. We have thousands of testimonials like the above touching the merits of Peruna as a remedy for all catarrhal diseases. Do not delay. Buy Peruna to-day, for a day gained means a day so much nearer recovery.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

FINNS ABSOLVED BY THE EMPEROR

Murder of Gen. Bobrikoff Was Work of Misguided Madman.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—In confirming the appointment of Prince John Obolensky as Governor-General of Finland, the Emperor sent an autograph letter to the Prince relative to the situation there. This letter is in the nature of an imperial rescript. The Emperor therein expresses his conviction that it will be possible to maintain the local autonomy and the privilege of legislating for herself enjoyed by Finland since the union with Russia.

"I consider," writes the Emperor, "that the murder of General Bobrikoff was merely the work of a madman and a few like-minded confederates, and that the Finnish people had no part in the nefarious act. The executive power must inflexibly strive for the closest union of Finland and the Empire. I imposed upon General Bobrikoff, when he was appointed, the gradual attainment of this end as being his first duty. He fulfilled it with rational firmness until death ended his honorable services which have won him an enduring name in history.

"I also expect that the new Governor General will most zealously follow the instructions now given him. I admonish him before all things to strengthen in the minds of the Finnish people the conviction that their historic destinies are indissolubly bound up in those of Russia, and that the future prosperity of Finland, under the Russian sceptre as well as the future of the political institutions granted her, depend on a peaceful order of things taking firm root in the country."

The appointment of Prince Obolensky does not carry with it the command of the army. It is believed on good authority that this omission is preliminary to the incorporation of the district of Finland into the St. Petersburg district, of which the commander-in-chief is Grand Duke Vladimir, uncle of the Emperor.

Prince Obolensky is an able administrator. He displayed great energy as Governor of Kharkoff and effectively suppressed labor troubles in that Government. Several attempts were made upon his life while he was Governor of Kharkoff.

WOULD NOT HEAR BALFOUR.

London, July 7.—In the House of Commons last night the Government succeeded in carrying through the first part of its closure programme on the Licensing Bill, but Premier Balfour was denied a hearing, his frequent attempts to speak being drowned by loud cries of Gagagah. Finally Mr. Balfour, after hopelessly facing the tumult, sat down. This is said to be the first time in a modern British Parliament when the Premier was refused a hearing on the floor of the House of Commons.

REFUSED RESIGNATION.

The Ste. Cunegonde Town Council, at a meeting held last night, decided not to accept the resignation of Councillor Leduc until they had had time to go into the cause of his resignation. The contract awarding debentures of the town to Messrs. Brunet & Co. was approved by the town solicitor, and signed.

MILK MAY BE SCARCE NEXT WINTER ON SUNDAYS

Dealers Discuss Non-delivery Sunday Mornings—J. J. Joubert Elected a Director of Association.

The Milkmen's Association, at a meeting held last night at the Monument National, discussed a resolution to discontinue distributing milk on Sunday mornings during the winter season. There was considerable difference of opinion, and it was decided to allow the matter to stand over till a full meeting of the association.

J. J. Joubert was elected a director in place of Mr. Laporte, who has resigned. A resolution of condolence was passed to the family of Mr. L. A. Chauvier, who was the legal adviser of the association. It was decided to leave the appointment of his successor over till the next meeting. A special meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday next to decide on the date of the annual picnic.

Mr. J. Ritchie Bell, manager of the Montreal Sailors' Institute, writes to The Herald as follows: July 4th, My Dear Sir,—Permit me, most sincerely, to thank you for the very excellent article upon Sailors' Institute work which appeared in Saturday's issue of your valuable paper. The article was absolutely correct and at the same time so well written that it made exceptionally good reading. With kind regards, I am yours, very sincerely, J. Ritchie Bell.

TORONTO LANDMARK GONE.

Toronto, July 7.—(Special.)—Another of Toronto's historic landmarks is being swept away by the advancing commercial flood. Holland House, on the South side of Wellington Street, midway between York and Bay Streets, is in the hands of the wreckers, and is rapidly being demolished. Holland House was built by the Hon. John Boulton, when Solicitor-General of Upper Canada, seventy-three years ago, and was named after the famous London residence. Two years after its erection he was appointed Chief Justice of Newfoundland, and the house was let successively to the Truscodd, Elmsley and Sherwood families. Subsequently it was purchased by the late Alexander Manning, who lived in it for a short time. The Earl and Countess of Dufferin held high festivals in Holland House during their visit here in 1872.

FRENCH SHORE QUESTION.

St. John's, Nfld., July 7.—The cruiser Lavoisier, flagship of the French squadron, arrived here yesterday. Her commander conferred with Vice-Admiral Sir Archibald Douglas on the flagship Ariadne, of the British squadron, regarding the revival of serious friction along the French shore, owing to misunderstandings between the French and Newfoundland fishermen respecting the altered status under the new French Shore treaty, which has not yet been ratified. The authorities of both countries regard the situation as very serious.

MARCONI COMPANY DENY THE GARDNER CHARGES

The Plaintiff, it is Said, is Not a Stockholder in the Company.

New York, July 7.—The board of directors of the Marconi Company has authorized the issuance of a statement re the suit brought by Henry Gardner against the company and its directors, in which it is said that the complaint has not been served upon the company or any of the other defendants, the plaintiff it is stated, is not a stockholder of record, and has never been heard of as in any way interested in the company. A most diligent enquiry has failed to reveal his identity, and his own attorney refuses to state who he is or where he can be found. In the complaint reference was made to libel suits to be instituted by another wireless telegraph company, against the Marconi Company, whereas the libel suit, to which so much publicity has been given, was not begun until five days after the Gardner complaint was verified. The charges of mismanagement and insolvency in the Gardner complaint are declared to show that the person who drafted the complaint was entirely without information re the affairs of the Marconi Company.

The statement concludes: The Marconi Company is in the most satisfactory financial condition, having ample funds in its treasury for every purpose. Other than its obligations to make an annual payment to Mr. Edison for four years for his services and inventions, the company has no debts excepting ordinary current accounts, aggregating less than $1,000, while the salaries, including the annual payments to Mr. Edison amount to only about $22,000 a year.

JAMES BAY RAILWAY CO. HAS NO PRIOR CLAIM

Other Railway Companies to Expropriate Property in Toronto.

Ottawa, July 7.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Blair, chairman of the Railway Commission, said to-day that until the James Bay Railway Company had submitted plans, profile and book of reference to the Board of Commissioners and obtained the approval of the latter, they could not file the plans in the registry office or expropriate property for right of way into Toronto.

"Is the James Bay line in any more advantageous position than the Grand Trunk or C.P.R. with respect to the expropriation of property?" Mr. Blair was asked.

"So far as the appearance before the Railway Commission is concerned," he relied, the other companies have followed the necessary procedure, while the James Bay Company have no application in. They have simply filed a map."

Disease That Works Overtime

Dyspepsia Once Started Never Quits Till Stopped—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the One Sure Way to Stop it.

Some diseases have particular seasons in which to do their deadly work, but there is one that works all the time and over-time at that. It is almost needless to say that disease is Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

Once started Dyspepsia never quits till it is stopped and there is only one sure way to stop it and that is by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

There is abundant proof that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets always stop Dyspepsia, thousands of Canadians who speak as does Mrs. John F. Sellars of Western Bay, Newfoundland. She says:

"It gives me great pleasure to say I have been cured of Dyspepsia by the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for seven years. I could not eat without suffering intense agony, and had given up to die before using the Tablets. I felt relief from the first and after the use of five boxes am well and strong."

MR. PRESTON AND THE TIMES.

Attention has been called in Parliament to a letter addressed to the Times by Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Canadian Immigration Agent in London, in mild protest against the way that paper and many others had handled the Dundonald incident. So that there may be no misunderstanding of Mr. Preston's attitude, we reprint his letter in another column. Those who know Mr. Preston will understand very well that when he saw the public life of this country maligned as it was by the bulk of the English press in the early days of this controversy, and when he doubtless found most of his days occupied with giving explanations to Englishmen of the probable state of the case, he is not the kind of man to sit meekly under the provocation when a letter to a newspaper might help to set matters right. With the temper of his letter it seems to us no Canadian of either party can find fault.

And in this connection it is pertinent to observe that the English papers, like the Canadian papers, were wholly misled by what Lord Dundonald said at the Montreal dinner. At that dinner the General confined the issue to Mr. Fisher's intervention, suppressing the circumstance, which he afterwards made clear, that his quarrel was not so much with Mr. Fisher as with Sir Frederick Borden and the Cabinet generally. His speech led English and Canadian papers to believe that the quarrel was fresh, when in fact it was of long standing. He had not spoken to his Minister for over a year, and he had, as he explained since, been waiting for an occasion of open quarrel. He led English and Canadian papers to believe that Mr. Fisher, as Miniser of Agriculture, had scratched a name from the Sweetsburg squadron list, when he knew, but did not say, that Mr. Fisher was then acting as Minister of Militia. He knew, but refrained from mentioning, that the change initialled by Mr. Fisher had been officially recommended by Col. Smart. He knew, but did not say, that Dr. Pickel had no military qualification, and there was an order of his own against such a person being given such rank as was proposed. Lord Dundonald misled everybody by that speech, and it took days to have the truth brought out in debate. Canadian correspondents of papers like the Times rather added to the difficulty by their colored reports. We all remember, from the cabled extracts of their uterances, how badly the bulk of the English papers were misled, and how lamentably ignorant they showed themselves to be of Canadian conditions and Canadian ideals. Subsequent events have shown that Mr. Presten, three thousand miles from his home, knew instinctively what was wrong about the reports being sent out, reports which were deceiving the English people, and doubtless making his office in the centre of London a hornet's nest.

WELL DONE, SCHOLES!

Louis Scholes, of the Don Rowing Club, has won the blue ribband of the aquatic world, and is the first Canadian to accomplish the task. In 1892 the Diamond Sculls were captured by Ooms, a Dutchman, and in 1897 E. H. Ten Eyck, a United States citizen, accomplished the feat, his victory starting that discussion as to the status of amateurs which has excited so much feeling, and which led to the disqualification of C. S. Titus, one of the two Americans who competed last year. Previous English winners have almost invariably hailed from one of the two great universities, and Mr. Scholes takes his place upon a scroll of fame which includes the names of the brothers Guy and Vivian Nickalls, Hon. Rupert Guinness and the hitherto invincible Oxonian, F. S. Kelley.

"IN A FOOLS' PARADISE."

After two years in Canada Lord Dundonald has discovered that from a military point of view citizens of the Dominion are living in a fools' paradise. Curiously enough, no Canadian has so far suffered much from fright occasioned by this announcement. But if it should be true how is it that we in Canada have been paying good salaries to Imperial officers for many years past without any of them making this startling discovery? What were all Lord Dundonald's distinguished predecessors from the War Office doing that they did not realize the perilous condition of the country? They must have been either very incompetent or grossly careless, for up to eight years ago the Canadian militia, if we are to believe the militia officers, was starved, badly drilled, with arms not fit to fire salutes, cannon of the vintage of George III., and none of the modern accessories in the gentle art of killing and being killed. Yet the generals drew their salaries, sported their gold braid, and no one knew that Canada was like a rich, ripe plum, ready to be plucked by the United States whenever "the forbearance of others" might come to an end.

Whether Lord Dundonald be right or wrong in his conclusions he has proven at least one thing—that Sir Frederick Borden made no mistake when he altered the law so as to make it within the power of the Canadian Government to appoint a Canadian officer as commander of the Canadian militia. Whenever the occasion has arisen our Canadian soldiers have shown that they can both command and obey, and, incidentally, can fight. If they can do this in war time they undoubtedly can in the piping times of peace. Many years of experience have shown that British army ideals cannot be grafted upon the Canadian militia. Actual warfare, from the frontier battles to Paardeberg has proved that this same militia is second to none when called to do serious work. Why then should the attempt to reconcile the irreconcilable be persisted in? The Canadian militia from Vancouver to Halifax would welcome the advent of a new regime where they could know that a Canadian officer who understood the genius of his people was at the head of our defensive forces.

TRADE WITH SOUTH AFRICA.

Cape Colony is to hold its first great international exhibition next November, and during the three months of its session our neighbors hope to accomplish great progress in the extension of their trade. Numerous exhibits are to be sent and an information bureau established. The distance from Montreal or New York to Cape Town is nearly 9,000 miles, while from Southampton it is only 5,979 miles. Owing to a long continued rate war, it is, however, cheaper to send goods from here than from British ports, where a ring has successfully maintained a rate of $10 per ton against $7 from here, a circumstance which is looked to as nullifying the operation of a preferential tariff. Incidentally we learn from this situation how inextricably interwoven are the questions of tariff and transportation, questions the fringe of which has scarcely been hitherto discussed in the British Parliament.

The great difficulty which lies in the way of building up a regular trade between us and South Africa is in the fact that they produce very little what we need. The steamers can get a good outward cargo, for foodstuffs are among the staple imports, but leaving out wool and hides the most extensive exports are those valuable items of gold and precious stones, which occupy but little space. The great English lines owe much of their prosperity to the constant stream of passenger traffic. If our neighbors are going to bestir themselves, however, Canadians should look alive.

PROTECTING THE PEOPLE.

The Winnipeg Free Press has been verifying the report that it is now impossible for residents in Russia to receive newspapers. Some weeks since a citizen of Nowogradivolynsk, in the Province of Wolyn, Russia, wrote for the Free Press to be sent him. The paper was sent. A letter mailed at the same time duly arrived, but the journal never turned up.

It is fairly well known that, even in ordinary times, foreign newspapers mailed to Russia arrive with all allusions to Russian affairs, not approved by the censor, blacked out so as to be undecipherable. This latest incident shows that the Russian citizen is now unable to read any comment upon the happenings of the war which might be disagreeable to his feelings or lead to criticisms of his autocratic masters.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Well done Scholes!

"The foreigner wins," the Canadian Associated Press man says, "was the remark heard hundreds of times yesterday at Henley." Oh, dear! What the dickens was it our Tory papers said about calling people "foreigners"?

It will be a sad day for the British Empire if old John Scholes gets mad because they called his boy a "foreigner." Lou is a Canadian, but old John was as English as any of them.

If the Scotch-Canadians are going to vote Tory because Dundonald was called a "foreigner" in Canada, English-Canadians will have to even things up by voting Grit because Lou Scholes was called "foreigner" in England.

Speaking of "strangers," the Ottawa Citizen wants to know if Dundonald is any more so than "Mr. Hayes and Sir William Shaughnessy." Must be a "stranger" writing for the Citizen, for there's no "e" in Hays and the other gentleman isn't Sir William, not if he knows it.

Protests from Sons of England lodges against Lou Scholes being called a "foreigner" may be addressed to The Herald, and also to certain Conservative papers which are very touchy about the word, a select list of which will be furnished on application.

The Ottawa Journal sees fit to take The Herald to task for complaining of Lord Dundonald's remark at Renfrew about "that silent yet insidious weakening of the ties which is more dangerous than an open and declared hostility." But we don't notice any protest from the Journal against the action of Conservative papers in making use of that unfortunate phrase, in black type, in news headlines and also in editorial denunciations of the Government.

Automobile Towns.

Complaint is made from the Lake Country, Devonshire, and the cathedral towns that the American tourists are not spending so much money as usual. The motor car apparently is the source of trouble. Rich Americans bring their own equipages and drivers with them, and go east, west and north over the English roads without hiring horse or man. Scores of American parties are now making the circuit of the cathedral towns in this way; Devonshire and Cornwall are filled with motor driving parties; Warwickshire and the Lake District are traversed rapidly in the same way by tourists, who are not in need of carriages, horses or guides; and in another month Scotland will be invaded by hundreds of American electric motor cars. There are daily departures of American motor cars from the Carlton, Savoy, Claridge's and other hotels for long drives around the United Kingdom; and any morning tourists may be seen starting from Northumberland Avenue in their own machines for Switzerland, Germany and Italy, with a lift across the water at Dover. The weather has been fine for several weeks, and motor parties have never been so numerous on the roads leading out of London. The tourists themselves assert that it is the cheapest way of seeing the country and "doing all the sights"—that, in fact, it is almost as economical as bridge.

Guest—I'm the jeweller next door, and I want something to eat.

Government Ownership.

Mr. Hugh A. Allan's View.

"I think it would be a very unfortunate thing if the principle of government ownership of railways was to be extended materially," was Mr. Hugh A. Allan's reply to a question on this point. "If the Government deem it advisable to hold on to the I.C.R., I would not say that they should not get connection further west, but beyond that I would not suggest extension. I think that the I.C.R. itself, since its inception, has proved that Government ownership in a country like this is not desirable. To benefit the country any railway has to be run on the same general lines as its competitors, and this seems an impossibility under Government ownership.

"When I speak of connection westward for the I.C.R., I would not suggest going further than to Georgian Bay or getting connection as it exists there."

Feeding Evils.

That the alarming annual summer increase in the infant mortality rate is chiefly the result of feeding evils there can be no question, nor is it likely to be denied, even by the surveyor of milk, that that liquid is in great measure responsible. This is no reflection upon the general body of those engaged in the trade. There is, always has been, and probably always will be, a few unscrupulous persons prepared, for the sake of a few extra cents' profit, to take risks of prosecution, and serve out to their fellows risks of disease and death in the shape of adulterated food or drink. But in Montreal, thanks to the energy of the Health Department, the milk-dealer who adopts such methods of business is not as a rule allowed to travel far on his path of dishonesty.

Yet, without a doubt, it is largely to the milk food of infants that we must look for a large proportion of the ills that bring the high mortality. Residents of well-aired houses in the upper parts of the city know the difficulty there is in sultry weather, and even with the free use of ice, in preserving the household milk in sweet condition. On many days it is next to impossible. What, then, must be the case in the close, cabin'd and confined houses of the very poor classes in the congested districts of the city? Dirty homes, dusty streets, and, in too many instances, unclean bottles and other household vessels, must all contribute to most unhealthy conditions, breeding germs of various diseases which the weakling infant cannot possibly throw off.

It has been suggested that the city authorities ought to take measures to, in some way or other, avert the paying of this great annual toll of death. Canada spends annually large sums in missionary work in the United Kingdom, enticing settlers across the sea. And while this is so, are Canadians content to sit idly down and look with a careless indifference on the infant offspring of their own population slipping by hundreds into the great unknown, without being given a bare chance for their lives? Clearly the powers that be have a responsibility resting upon them in this connection, and it is to be hoped they will no longer shirk it.

Information on such an important subject must always be welcome, and a glance at what is being done elsewhere often results in useful instruction. The Town Council of Glasgow by the Clyde have had this very subject under their earnest care for quite a time; in fact, there is in existence a Special Committee on Infantile Mortality, the members of which do valuable work. Not the least in importance, in the effort to spare the little lives, is the establishment at certain suitable localities of Corporation Sterilized Milk Depots, at which the poorer classes of the community are supplied at a merely nominal rate. Thus, for infants under three months old the price is four cents for nine bottles, this constituting a day's food for the infant. From three to six months the charge is five cents; six to eight months, six cents; and eight to twelve months, eight cents, cream being added to all the qualities in varying proportions.

How many of our young matrons, even of the middle class, have had an opportunity of gaining knowledge of how properly to mix the milk diet of infants? Only a very small proportion, it is to be feared. What a saving in little lives, then, might result from a whole-souled effort on the part of the authorities in the direction of supplying sterilized milk, and by every effort bringing it under the notice of the huddled-up families of lower Montreal!

—Roxburgh.

Romantic Suicides.

An epidemic of romantic suicides has burst out in Paris, there being no fewer than nine in the last five days. First of all, the Comte de Behague, a higaly cultured, wealthy and handsome nobleman, blew his brains out in the woods of the Ville d'Avray beneath an elm tree where he first met the fair widow whom he loved but who declined his suit. Then came the suicide of Marcel Paillard, the youngest son of a well known Parisian restaurateur. An emotional artist of eighteen years, the spoiled child of his parents, he made the acquaintance of a young woman friend of his family eighteen months his senior. Marcel fell in love with the young woman, who, however, seeing the danger of the intimacy that was growing out of the boy and girl courtship, requested M. Paillard to cease writing to her. Marcel asked her to come to a last interview at his studio to return his letters. When there he suddenly pressed the muzzle of a revolver to his forehead, pulled the trigger and fell lifeless at his sweetheart's feet. Besides these, four young women in Parisian society have within the last few days killed themselves, respectively, with the revolver, the knife, poison and drowning, because of unrequited love.

Mr. Preston's Letter.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—So long as the discussion upon the recent difficulty between Lord Dundonald and the Canadian Government was confined simply to newspaper editorials, however unfair they may have been, I do not know that the circumstances altogether called for a reply. But when I find correspondents in the columns of your journal, of a recent date, accepting as absolutely true various inferences which have been drawn by the public press respecting the administration of the Canadian militia, it occurred to me that a few lines from a Canadian might not be out of place.

I do not propose discussing at length the Dundonald affair, but desire to point out that the charges which are being made as to politics entering into the militia administration in Canada are based upon the refusal of the acting minister to accept Lord Dundonald's recommendation in one particular. And now it transpires that the gentleman whom Lord Dundonald recommended as major of the force was not even connected with the Canadian militia. I am not going to suggest reasons which might have actuated Lord Dundonald in making this recommendation. Anything of that kind would be uncalled for. But in dealing with the facts of the case that circumstance stands out clear and distinct. I wonder how long the War Office in this country would hesitate about striking the name of a civilian off the list of recommendations by one of its officials under similar circumstances. I think I am safe in saying that it would be done in less time than it was done at Ottawa, and that writers to the press here would have waited for all the circumstances to be made known before charging the minister of the day with being actuated by political reasons.

However, that is outside of the case to which I desire to reply—i.e., Mr. Herbert's allegations in a letter in the Times of the 17th inst., where he bewails with much grief the presence of political prejudice in connection with Canadian militia appointments. As a Canadian I have much pleasure in assuring him that his grief is expended upon a myth. He first builds up a case to suit himself and then proceeds to demolish it without first finding a case established and then arguing from that standpoint. The absolute truth is that the militia is one of the phases of life in Canada which both political parties have kept free from either political partiality or political prejudice. The administration of the militia forces in Canada by both political parties proves from time immemorial the truth of my statement. The discussions in Parliament, the criticisms which naturally take place under responsible government from time to time all go to prove that both political parties have refrained from introducing politics into the militia. The order of promotion is provided for by legislation and by regulations accepted by Parliament, so that politics cannot fairly enter. And if further evidence was wanted of the general non-political character of the Canadian militia it is found in the fact that both political parties are represented in every phase of the citizen military life of Canada.

But the seriousness of the charge which is now made is that the present Government are the principal sinners in this particular. To prove how unfair this allegation is one has only to refer to distribution of responsibilities in connection with the late war in South Africa and the coronation ceremonies two years ago. The principal positions upon both of these occasions were in point of fact given by the Government to political opponents. Apart from these particular cases instances without number can be given of a purely provincial or local aspect proving that the opponents of the Government of the day have been the recipients of official preferment to as marked a degree as Government supporters. But because Government opponents in Canada choose to make charges at the present juncture of a broad general character, as is done also in this country, therefore the British public are asked to believe, without hearing the other side of the case, that these charges are absolutely true.

Your correspondent fears that this trouble between an Imperial officer and the Canadian Government is going to prove detrimental to the entire military system of Canada, and that, because Lord Dundonald has taken a course which could only result in his dismissal, therefore the citizen militia of Canada is going to become utterly demoralized. Mr. Bron Herbert may as well dispel his fears first as last. Canadians have a strong sense of the need of an efficient militia, and they will undoubtedly be able to bring the citizen soldiery of Canada to a high state of efficiency even if there is no Imperial officer to give the Government of the day the benefit of his experience.

The people of Canada upon this, as upon other subjects of Federal jurisdiction, can safely be left to solve their own difficulties, and it will be found that the genius of Government has not altogether departed from the country. And it will also be revealed to ultra-loyal pessimists of the character of your correspondent that British interests have not been imperilled, and that this incident has not dissolved a valuable link between the two countries. All Canadians ask is that Mr. Bron Herbert, and those like him, will be fair to the statesmen of the Dominion, and not allow the ex parte statements of political opponents or allegations founded on an imperfect knowledge of the circumstances to prejudice their interests. Yours very truly,

W. T. R. PRESTON.

HON. R. W. SCOTT HAS NOT RESIGNED

Nor Has Any Intention of So Doing—Statement Given Out.

Ottawa, July 7.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Scott, the Secretary of State, has not resigned over the Treadgold matter, and does not consider that there is any necessity for him to do so. His views of the affair are embodied in the following statement: "An official communication having been received from Messrs. Ewing and Treadgold, representing the Treadgold syndicate, relinquishing without any qualification the grant in the Yukon territory known as the Treadgold concession, and an Order-in-Council having been approved accepting the surrender, Mr. Scott formed the opinion that as the subject had ceased to have any existence there was now no occasion for proceeding further with the investigation and without first bringing the matter before Council, he sent an official letter to Mr. Justice Britton advising him of the surrender of the Treadgold concession and of its acceptance by the Government, adding that there was now no occasion for proceeding further with the investigation into the affairs of the Treadgold concession.

Since being advised that the Council did not concur in the opinion expressed in the letter to Judge Britton, Mr. Scott has cancelled the letter and requested the Judge to proceed as if that letter had not been written."

DELINQUENT SHIPPERS MUST PAY HARBOR DUES

Some Have Not Paid Last Year's Charges—Law May be Invoked.

At yesterday's meeting of the Harbor Commissioners it transpired that five shipping companies have not yet paid their harbor dues on imports and exports for last year. The commission decided that this state of affairs must come to an end at once, and on motion of Mr. Doran determined to institute legal proceedings against the delinquent companies unless the back dues were paid up this week.

The Steel Storage Elevator and Construction Co. asked to be supplied by July 8 with 28,000 bushels of grain for the purpose of testing the weighing machinery at the new elevator. About a million bushels will be required for the full test of the elevator. The commissioners will co-operate with the company in bringing off these tests as soon as possible.

A letter was received from the secretary of the Fire Underwriters' Association stating that the insurance rate for the new elevator had been fixed at fifty cents per $100, and that grain would have to be fully insured. The board will ask for a rate without full grain insurance.

The chief engineer recommended that the move to equip the harbor with a powerful floating crane should not be allowed to drop, and requested that tenders be called. The finance committee will consider this matter.

The municipality of Maisonneuve wrote complaining that restaurants, etc., on the water front were harmful, and difficult to control; they asked that in future no such privileges be granted on harbor property. As the commissioners had granted no privileges except one for renting boats the harbor master was instructed to look into this complaint.

A request of the Shipping Federation for the latest soundings as to the depth of water in the harbor will be granted as soon as possible. A number of steamship lines were also granted temporary accommodations during the building of the new permanent steel sheds.

LAWSON'S BODY FOUND.

Cornwall, July 7.—(Special.)—The remains of the late Patrick Lawson, son of James Lawson, of Harrison's Corners, who was drowned last week by falling off a scow while working on the Galops Rapids near Cardinal was found on Tuesday in a bay at the head of Barnhart's Island by a man named Johnson. The coroner at Massena, N.Y., was notified and decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was identified on Tuesday night by E. J. Lawson, and was removed to the homestead, whence the funeral took place on Wednesday.

MR. HOYLE CHOSEN.

Beaverton, Ont., July 7.—The Liberal-Conservatives of North Ontario met in convention here yesterday for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the constituency for the local House, President Chas. Kelley, of Uxbridge, presiding. W. H. Hoyle, the present member, received the unanimous nomination. In accepting, Mr. Hoyle spoke briefly on his work in the House during the present Parliament. The meeting was addressed by Andrew Miscampbell, the Conservative organizer.

WILL LAY THIRD TRACK.

Toronto, July 7.—(Special.)—The increasing freight business of the Grand Trunk between Toronto and Hamilton has made necessary the construction of a third track, and the company is preparing to expropriate a further right of way. The new line will be used for freight business only.

Saved a Little Life That Was Ebbing Away

A few days trial of Lactated Food will convince any intelligent mother that it is the right form of nourishment for her weak and puny baby. No other food can give such prompt and blessed results at a time when the little one is hovering between life and death. A Montreal lady writes as follows:—

"My baby was so weak and sickly a few weeks ago that we despaired of her life. We tried nourishment of every kind, but could not get anything to remain on her stomach. We heard of Lactated Food, and commenced its use. There was an improvement the very first week, and to-day our baby is well and strong. Lactated Food saved her life."

THE GREAT RUBY

By T. W. Hanshew, Author of "The World's Finger," "The Mallison Mystery."

SYNOPSIS.

A wild night on the Cornish coast. Jannice Polewhele, huddling over the fire in her cabin, sees a young man standing with a child in his arms at her door. She asks the stranger in, but, instead, he gives her the child and pushes a purse of gold in her hand and begs her to keep the boy until he returns.

Chapter I.—The scene is changed to Kent. Sir Nigel Forrester tells his daughter Helen that they are ruined and that his steward, Luttrell, is now the rich man. Helen demands the right of overlooking the books and sends her maid for them.

Chapter II.—Sir Nigel relates to Helen the history of the great ruby. How his grandfather and grandmother had been murdered by the Cinghalese in the hope of recovering the precious stone, but its whereabouts was still a mystery. It was supposed to be secreted somewhere at "Bulmer-Chase." Helen suggests that their steward may be a descendant of the original seekers. Helen's maid tells of Luttrell roaming round the house at nights as if searching for something. Luttrel is insolent to Helen—demands that his son, who is just arriving from Oxford, be entertained at Bulmer-Chase, and that Helen should marry him. Helen asks for time to consider. Helen remembers Jack Tredennis, the boy who was left at Jannice Polewhele's cottage years ago. Abbas Luttrell appears and is rude to her. Jack Tredennis comes to her rescue, and escorts her home. He tells Helen that he has returned to try and clear up the mystery of his parentage, and that he has good reason to believe that he belongs to the St. Omers, the richest peers in England. The discovery was made through an old scarf pin that was found on him when he was left with the Polewheles. He discovers the record of his parents marriage, and thinks the present Marquis is also aware of the fact and that his mother is alive. Tredennis promises to help Helen in their financial difficulties. He leaves her to go over to Hilden Castle. The gamekeeper sees a ghost.

CHAPTER VI.

"Full Cold My Greeting Was and Dry."

The few words he had heard were sufficient to reveal to Tredennis the identity of the man before him, and at the thought that here was the being who knew the secret of his parentage, and who—if his surmises were correct—had dealt foully with his unknown mother, his lips tightened a little under his fair moustache, and a ridge dug itself between his straight brows.

That, in spite of the expression of fear upon his counteance, Lord St. Omer was not for a moment tricked into the foolish error of believing him anything but a living, breathing human being he saw at a glance, and, without hesitation, began to walk deliberately forward, when he was again greeted by an abrupt command from the marquis.

"Didn't you hear what I said?" he demanded in a particularly unpleasant tone of voice and with a look of positive malevolence. "You are trespassing. Get back to the public highway as quickly as you know how. It's like your impertinence, coming in here and disturbing my pheasants. Sheer off, and thank your lucky stars if I don't have you given in charge as a poacher."

A flash of red warmed and colored Tredennis' face at this, but—he came on without halting and squared his broad shoulders.

"When it comes to 'poaching,' I don't know but what that's a shoe that fits you better than it fits me, Lord St. Omer," he said, throwing back his head and looking the elder man straight in the eyes. "I hardly think I need to introduce myself, seeing what an impression I seem to have made upon both you and your gamekeeper, though you may, perhaps, like to hear the name I am known by. I am called 'Jack Tredennis'; what I ought to be called you will know instinctively when I say that I am Miriam Rose's son, and my father was the late Lord Hemlon."

Lord St. Omer pulled himself up resentfully.

"Look here, Mr. Thingamy, that's a liberty!" he said resentfully. "I'm aware that my late cousin kept some rather questionable company sometimes, and that the young woman you have just mentioned was one of the lot, but all the same, I'm not going to tolerate any Tom, Dick or Harry coming here and smirching his memory, and the quicker you wake up to that fact the better for you."

"I fancy the smirching is of your own doing," retorted Tredennis hotly, "and there will be trouble if you try it again. I am a younger man than you, Lord St. Omer, but if you get to speaking evil of my mother I shan't be answerable for my temper."

"Well, upon my soul, I—Here, you toddle! I won't put up with that sort of talk from a person of your class, you insolent young jackanapes. Do you hear what I say? Get out. Or, no; stop a moment. I suppose you have some sort of end in view in coming here and making that assertion, and as I don't want to have you hanging about the neighborhood and saying things that may result badly for Lord Hemlon's memory, I am disposed to deal a little more leniently by you than you deserve. You came here in the expectation of getting money, I suppose?"

"Yes."

"I thought so"—with a look of evident relief. "How much?"

"I don't know; I haven't looked up the value of the possessions, and I have not the slightest idea what the bank balance and the rent roll amounts to."

"Come, come, don't try any of your facetiousness on me, young man; it's a presumption. Answer me at once; how much money do you expect? how much money do you want?"

"In round terms, every copper that the estate is worth," said Tredennis calmly. "I know as well as you know, Mr. Robert Smeaton, that every farthing of the St. Omer fortune, every rood of the St. Omer estates—yes, even the title you bear—belongs to me, and I mean to have my just dues to the question of a groat!"

Lord St. Omer threw back his head and laughed, but—it was laughter that had a distinct note of uneasiness in it.

"Upon my word, you are a cheeky individual," he said. "And so you propose to oust me out of my position, do you? And you come here in this Gilbertian style and expect me to lay down everything and abdicate in your favor simply because you bear a passing resemblance to a young man of notoriously immoral life? Come!" his black eyes flashed viciously, and the corners of his thin-lipped mouth drawing down. "Put an end to this mummery and at once. I have enough respect for the memory of the late Lord Hemlon to wish to keep the story of his possible relationship to you from being bruited about and given into the hands of scandalmongers, and to that end——"

He paused and looked Tredennis straight in the eyes.

"I'll give you the sum of £1,000 to leave this neighborhood and never return to it," he said presently. "And—mark this, young man!—if you are not a fool, you will accept that offer."

"Then I am a fool, for I wouldn't accept it if it were five hundred thousand that you offered instead," returned Tredennis point blank. "If I ever had a doubt that I am what I claim to be, the mere fact of your offering me money to go away would set that doubt at rest. Mr. Robert Smeaton, I want my rights; for myself, for my mother! and what I want I will have to the uttermost farthing! You scoundrel, what did you do to my poor mother that she should have said she would starve rather than accept help from your hands? Where is she? Where have you hidden her?—for hidden her I believe that you have!"

CHAPTER VII.

IN THE WEB OF THE SPIDER.

That he had made the greatest blunder of his life when he let his eagerness tempt him into offering this clear-headed dauntless young fellow money to go away and leave the neighborhood for ever, Lord St. Omer realized before Tredennis had half finished that impassioned speech; but he was hardly prepared for the point-black charge with which it ultimately concluded, and it took him a moment or two to flog up his wits in order to meet the emergency and to decide upon his course of action when it really did come.

THE SURE ROAD TO HEALTH

cannot be found in a haphazard way. The road to health is never disappointing if it is sought through the intervention of Ferrozone.

Ferrozone is not a remedy that deceives, but a remedy which by its immediate aid to all the digestive organs, and its wonderful power and the formation of rich red blood, makes the road not only easy but absolutely sure. So many medicines reach symptoms only, leaving far behind the real root of the trouble. This is never the case with Ferrozone. Ferrozone is a mighty constitutional remedy, dealing with those functions that make blood and that build, strength and impart endurance. Any malady associated with weakness, sleeplessness nervousness or impure blood will be cured with absolute certainty by Ferrozone.

At the residence of Mr. Samuel Anglin, Kingston, the marriage took place of Miss Frances Anglin to Mr. H. Russell Wilson, Ottawa. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white crepe de Paris over taffeta, the eleven-gored skirt opening in vandykes at the foot. The bodice was prettily trimmed with chiffon and pearls, and a long tulle veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley, and the only ornament worn was the groom's gift, a pearl pendant. The bridesmaid, Miss Jennie Anglin, was in pale blue crepe de chine and carried pink roses, her bodice being fastened at the throat by the gift of the groom, a pearl brooch. Mr. Leavitt, of Hamilton, supported the groom, and the only guests present were near relatives. Mrs. Wilson's going-away gown was of brown ladies' cloth, tailor-made, lined with white taffeta, the blouse of white silk, and a smart toque to match was worn. After a trip to Toronto and Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will take up their residence at Ottawa.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Matthias' Church, Westmount, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Grace Ethel Evans, eldest daughter of Mr. F. W. Evans, Clark Avenue, Westmount, was married to Dr. John H. Finnie, of Coaticook, and son of Dr. J. T. Finnie, of this city. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white crepe de chine, her tulle veil being fastened with a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Lillian Evans, who wore a white silk accordeon-pleated gown, with pale yellow chiffon picture hat, and carried yellow roses. Dr. Bradley, of Sherbrooke, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of guests by Rev. G. Bushell, rector of St. Matthias', the church being charmingly decorated for the occasion. At the church rails the bridal couple stood under an arch and large bell of marguerites and greenery, and at the entrance of each pew there was arranged a large bunch of marguerites tied with white satin ribbon. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, where the floral decorations were also prettily carried out in green and white. Dr. and Mrs. Finnie have left for the White Mountains, after which they will reside at Coaticook.

Hints for Table Decorations

With the wealth of blossoms which spring and summer bring to us it is easy to make our rooms and tables gay.

In the last few years there has been much improvement in the arrangement of flowers, but much more could be made of them if a little more thought and care were given.

To begin with the vases, which are necessary, I think, for a dinner-table. Nothing can equal glass for lightness, and it can be either clear or green, or the lovely opal-tinted glass, which looks particularly well with white flowers and pale green foliage. I like to have vases of varied shapes and sizes, high and low, and with narrow and wide necks. The little glass bowls, costing but a trifling amount, are pretty filled with small flowers. And right here let me say that I think every dining table should have some floral decoration during the flower months. If nothing more than a tumbler or glass bowl can be afforded, let it be there, with a sprig or two of geranium and a few of its leaves; a few daisies, or any simple flower which may, in reality, cost nothing, if we only watch out when the occasion presents itself. Once accustomed to these few blooms it is surprising how quickly they will be missed from the table.

For a little more elaborate display a set of white china bowls with little figures are most useful, and some quaint-shaped blue and white china jars; and, of course, if we are fortunate enough to possess them, nothing is prettier with most flowers than silver bowls and vases, and we can even press into service the silver cake-basket.

Daffodils look well put into blue and white jars with their own leaves and sprays of palm and brown ivy—no fern. This quaint arrangement may have a Japanese blue and white embroidered table-centre.

MR. FRANCIS MACAULAY MISSING FOR TEN DAYS

Wandered From Home on June 26, and it is Feared He Has Fallen Into the River.

The greatest anxiety exists owing to the continued absence of Mr. Francis Macaulay, who disappeared from his home, 6 Notre Dame street, Hochelaga, early Sunday morning, June 26.

Mr. Macaulay had been under the doctor's care for the past three months, and was suffering considerably, having undergone three operations for carbuncles on the back of the neck.

At the time of his disappearance he was but scantily clad, and as the family residence is but a few yards from the river, it is feared he must have wandered aimlessly on the wharf and fallen into the water.

Mr. Macaulay has been in business nearly half a century, and was well and favorably known in business and shipping circles. He was the elder brother of the late Very Rev. M. Macaulay, V.G., of Sherbrooke, and of Rev. Sister Mary S. Patrick, of the mother house of the Sisters of Providence. He was 74 years of age, clean shaved, white hair, and stood about five feet seven inches high.. Any information will be thankfully received at 6 Notre Dame street, or telephone East 363.

Point St. Charles

Two races were held last night in the Grand Trunk Boating Club's weekly series. The first was the senior singles, and was won by C. Boaz, with Allan McLean second. The second was the junior single, won by Percy Marshall, Joe Colbeck second, and George Brown third.

The two Point cricket clubs are engaged in league matches on Saturday afternoon. The Montreal Woollen Mills are at home on the Driving Park to Lachine, and the Points play Victoria Annex on the Victoria grounds. The following players will represent the Points: C. H. Preston (capt.), K. Andras, P. Dolan, P. Smith, S. Windsor, D. Kirk, G. Shaw, P. Butt, J. Kyle, A. Thibault, and J. Glass; reserves, G. Taylor, A. Hyman and A. Hedger. The team will be without the services of A. Harry, J. Colbeck, J. Duffy and Taylor. They are all going to St. Matthew's picnic.

St. Matthew's Church Sunday school holds its annual picnic on Saturday at Highgate Springs. Given a fine day, this should make a fine outing, as the picnic is always well conducted and well patronized.

Messrs. Martin Freres, corner of St. Patrick and Shearer streets, has just completed the installation of a new 150 H. P. engine. This gives them double the previous power. The advancement in box-making machinery has made this step necessary, and Messrs. Martin can be trusted to keep well up with the times.

The Diamond Loyal Orange Lodge will give a moonlight excursion next Thursday, July 14, on the steamer Duchess of York. Casey's orchestra has been engaged for the dancing.

The St. Gabriel Social Club will hold their fourth annual moonlight excursion to Lake St. Louis on August 12. They go by the Duchess of York. Casey will supply the music for dancing.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

Birds Trimmed in Scrappy Game Full of Talk and Fast Plays Slight Difference Watching Buffalo Play After Some of the Other Teams.

NOTHING DOING.

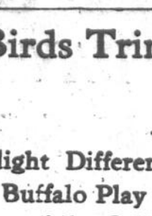

In the bleachers we were sitting, while the innings past were flitting,
As we waited vainly for a big to tie the score—
And our hopes grew dim and leany as they whacked in vain at Greeny,
"Will we ever get it tied up?" Said the Raven: "Nevermore."

In the first the Bisons jumped us, and with heavy bats they bumped us,
And in eager rapture round the sacks three runners tore—
We made one to counteract it, but for more we never whacked it,
"We will get them," said the rooters. Quoth the Raven: "Nevermore."

Though our local heavy feeders did their best to trim the leaders,
They were all too steady for them—with a gameness to the core—
Each and every luckless inning gave small prospect of our winning—
"In the sixth we'll do them!" Quoth the Raven: "Nevermore."

But the sixth went by quite runless, and we moaned and liked the fun less,
And young Green he grinned upon us, as though pitching were a bore—
In the seventh nothing doing, and we looked like bags of bluing,
"We will trim you Stallings! Watch us!" Quoth the Raven: "Nevermore."

Rapidly the eighth was ended, though great efforts we expended,
And no batsman sailed around to touch the home plate's shore—
"In the last we've got to skin them—we will massacre and spin them!
"One last rally and we'll do them!" Quoth the Raven: "Nevermore!"

TWO propositions confronted the Hon. Mr. Stallings, of Buffalo, when he landed here yesterday.

(1) Get walloped and drop from first place.

(2) Win and stay there.

After considering the question a few minutes, Mr. Stallings asked the waiter to bring him three slices of the latter, served hot, with water-cress trimmings.

Scrapping until the last man was out the league leaders handed the Birds their bumps and the score board betrayed the fact that it was 6 to 1.

Everything was full of ginger.

The Rochester series here resembled the proceedings at an impressive funeral.

The fans were afraid to speak in case they might wake up any of the players.

It was slightly different yesterday.

Sharply at 4 p.m. "Rube" Kissinger, of Buffalo, walked out on the coaching line, did a chicken dance, and then let out a big yell right from his boots.

That made the fans sit up and notice things, and for nine long innings "Rube" and the fans did nothing but howl at each other.

The fans told Rube that he ought to be driving an ice-waggon, and Rube told the fans that he was earning $30,000 a week where he was and was well satisfied.

In the first place he would never get any medals at a beauty show.

He has a chest about the size of Jim Jeffries', and legs like a couple of big maple trees after they had been struck by lightning.

His voice sounds like a sawmill in full action.

Rube's physical charms and the voice were concealed beneath a flaring red coat that would be proved a success at a bull fight.

While the game was in action there was a continual stream of conversation commonly known as "joshing" passing between Joe Yeager, "Dutch" Hartman and the artists on the Buffalo bench.

Then, in between this line of talk we would hear "Rube's" silver basso profundo predicting that his side was about to score three million runs.

We had the Hon. Fatness Kelly back again in the capacity of umpire, and at no stage of the game was he in danger of meeting death.

Due to the cussedness of the weather the crowd was not large, but it was select.

A slow drizzle came down for half an hour before the game and hundreds of fans stayed downtown under the impression that the festivities would be postponed.

So there were not more than 800 on deck when Kelly brushed the plate off and announced the batteries in his peculiar tones.

"MacCarthy and MacManus for Montreeall, Green and Shaw for Buffalo-o-o-ow."

McCarthy, our star performer, and Green, a new man.

Verily that looked like a cinch of the celebrated leadpipe variety.

You can never tell.

We believe if we ever got after Green again we would procure something like this:—

Montreal .....9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 *—72
Buffalo .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0— 0

But stony luck gave us the merry laugh yesterday and went over to the Buffalo bench and made goo-goo eyes at Stallings.

However, every thorn has its rose.

Toronto got trimmed by Rochester, so we stay in fifth place. Toronto got trimmed by Roches—say, do you take that in? What?

We might as well admit that we got polished off in the very first round and never recovered from the shock.

McCarthy looked very much like the celebrated individual who slumbered at the switch.

Mr. McAllister was the first Buffalo duck to put in an appearance and he hit one that Joe Yeager had trouble over.

Clymer was presented with four wide and woozy balls. Mr. Courtney bumped a single, and here we were right at the go-off—three on bases and not a soul laid away to rest.

At this period Mr. Kissinger stuck his pie-like countenance into the situation, looked things over and predicted the aforesaid 3,000,000 runs.

They got the three, but were shy the million part, taps by Grimshaw and Joe Delehanty clearing the bases.

In the fourth La Porte, which means "The Door" in English, opened the proceedings with a mighty wallop into St. Catherine Street and did the circuit in dead silence, the fans being too busy cussing the luck under their breaths.

In this same innings came our one and only.

And this was an innings full of excitement and shattered hopes.

Joe Yeager hit the ball on the nose and then Atherton gave it a wallop between first and second.

Delehanty fielded the ball like lightning, and Joe was held at the second station.

Two on bases and none out. The fans put a few dream lotions in their pipes and lit up.

Some saw about 92 runs ahead, while other heavy smokers worked it up to about 109.

Hartman hit to first base and Joe and Atherton moved up. Then Joyce got hit in the back.

Say, there, Pauline! Three on bases and only one out. How's that for heart disease?

Hoffman was up, and, amid a bunch of noise that you could hear down on the wharf, all with the express purpose of rattling the pitcher, hit one that the centre-fielder nabbed, and Joe came home.

McCarthy should have batted next, but the Strategy Board put in Gibson instead.

A hit from Gibson would have increased his popularity in these parts by about 9,000 per cent.

The very best he could do, however, was a bounder to La Porte, who got his hooks on it and telephoned to Grimshaw.

The Kind of Things That Mr. Green Heaved at Us All Afternoon.

That was the final nail in the local coffin.

We attempted a rally in the eighth, but a double play put in an appearance and—O, what's the use?

Please omit flowers. Buffalo papers please copy.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Don't miss these Buffalo games. They are lively.

Atherton, Joe and Clancy got in a fast double play.

Captain Gettman, of the Buffalo team is laid up with malaria.

The threatening weather probably kept 1,000 people away.

Twice the Birds had a good chance to win out and collapsed.

And Rochester beat Toronto. Well! well! and once again, well! well!

Joe Delehanty hit well and planted three good ones in the right garden.

Green fielded his position nicely and altogether seems to be a find for Buffalo.

Atherton ran into Shaw at the plate and the catcher turned a complete somersault.

It was worth the money to see "Dutch" Hartman eating up the fast ones yesterday.

Joyce was unlucky in the field and had three hard and fruitless sprints after short flies.

Pitcher Green says the Toronto team looks very strong now since Massey and Parker have joined.

McManus peeled off a three-bagger in the ninth, but one had gone out and the fans had given up hope.

There will be no game to-morrow, as it is an open date. Buffalo plays here, however, on Saturday and Sunday.

Hits were wanted at critical times from Clancy, Gibson and Joyce. No goods delivered. It was our off day.

McCarthy pitched four innings and Adams five. The latter's work was the best. Mac didn't seem to be in form.

If Buffalo loses to Montreal they will drop from first place, and they can be counted on to fight until the last man is out.

"Dutch" Hartman did some great work round third base. He picked up two wallops that went at him like cannon balls.

Hoffman did his best to rattle Green into giving him a base on balls, but Green refused to rattle. Hoffman kept showing him where the plate was.

The Buffalo costume is gray suits and brown stockings, with white stripes. The stockings are ugly, but a relief from the everlasting black that all the other teams wear on the road. It's time to have all the clubs turn up in the same outfit.

The Buffalo team has more ginger than any seen here this season. They were talking all the time and the fans enjoyed the change after the slow-going Rochester bunch.

Yesterday's was the seventeenth game played on the home grounds and out of that number Montreal has won thirteen and lost four. No use talking, that's good work.

Bill Clancy brought a great big dog on the grounds. The Mascot kitten took one look at it and fled for its life. Under the circumstances we think that Bill is responsible for the loss of the game.

Stallings forgot to call for the Buffalo share of the gate receipts after the game. First time on record this has ever occurred in baseball," said Tom. "It must feel great not to want money."

Last evening Flournoy was given his release, and with him went Becker and Madison. In losing Flournoy it is possible that some of the fans may think that a mistake has been made, but those who have followed his work could see nothing else for the management to do. Madison was not needed, as Kuhns was a big addition to him. Becker has not pitched satisfactory ball and his release was no surprise. This leaves the team with Leary, Faulkner, Fertach and Shultz to pitch.—Rochester Herald.

TRY STILLWELL'S POPULAR 15c MEAL
OPEN DAY AND NIGHT.
Cor. CRAIG AND ALEXANDER STS.

It is Probable That Joe Lally Will Referee Saturday's Game

Walter Cain Will Play for Brantford in the Home.

There is much satisfaction expressed in Montreal that Joe Lally may referee the next Minto Cup game. It seems that the arrangement was made that Mr. Lally should referee the match under N.A.L.U. rules and Mr. Harry Gillespie that under C.L.A. rules.

However, Mr. Gillespie has notified the Shamrock executive that he cannot act on Saturday. This he did before the first game.

When that information came it was communicated to Brantford, and an agreement was come to whereby if Mr. Lally proved satisfactory to both teams after the first game, he would also officiate at the second.

After the Dominion Day game the Brantford team and officials one and all expressed the greatest satisfaction with Joe Lally's control of the game, but since that they seem to have taken umbrage—nobody knows at what, so it must be at the defeat and want Mr. Harvey Pulford.

The Shamrocks will not have Harvey Pulford, good man as he is, and they are right to stick by the agreement.

Apart from all that it is surely better to have the best man going and nothing better has ever been seen in the way of the refereeing of a game in Montreal than the exhibition of Dominion Day, given by Joe Lally. Why cast about for others?

There was not so much excitement over the first Minto Cup game as there is over the second, for the impression had been that the Shamrocks would have a walk over. The reverse was the case. Brantford were no easy mark and the Irishmen had to strain every nerve to come out on the right side of the scoring.

A bumper crowd worthy of the occasion will be at Mile End on Saturday, and a grand game is sure to be the outcome for Brantford have learned something and will utilize their lesson to the best advantage.

The pity is that it is practically certain Hennessy will not be on the field. Hogan and Tracy are splendid youngsters but they cannot be expected yet to take the place of a tried veteran, who knows every trick of the trade.

CORNWALL KEEPS COOL.

Cornwall, July 7.—(Special)—The people of Cornwall are taking a lively interest in the Minto Cup matches, and although two ex-Cornwallites, John White and Fred Degan, are playing with the challengers, all Cornwall's sympathies go to the Shamrocks, who are picked for easy winners in Saturday's game. In fact there are a dozen or so players in this town who would be delighted for an opportunity to meet the Brantford aggregation and they are confident they could beat the Western team if given a chance. The Cornwall team are far from being "chesty" over their recent victory in Ottawa. They have simply discovered that the Capitals are greatly overrated. They think that the Caps have too many men with great reputations, and Cornwall learned long ago that reputations do not win lacrosse matches. As soon as a Cornwall player becomes famous or acquires a reputation, other clubs get after him and generally land him, but Cornwall has ever found, that no matter how big the gap it was quickly filled by a young man, sound in wind and limb and better still, a dead game worker for the honor of his club. Instead of going around to be patted on the back for their victory in Ottawa the Cornwalls have started to practice in earnest for they realize that the big battle of the season will take place on Saturday July 16, when they will be pitted against their old rivals, the Shamrocks. When asked about their chances of victory over the champions, the Cornwall players shrug their shoulders and reply, "We should give them a close game," or "we can only do our best." Several men who played against the Caps had less than half a dozen hours training, but they had the strength, stamina and vigor to carry them through. They should be in much better condition by the time they have to face the Irishmen. After all with a young team like Cornwall, one can never tell what may happen nor just how fast they can go when put to it.

The question of Brantford playing in Ottawa has not yet been decided. Such a match would give another good line on the relative abilities of the C.L.A. and the N.A.L.U.

A good proof that the old Toronto team had the right sort of stuff in it, says the Gazette, is the way its members, now with the Tecumsehs, and other C. L. A. clubs, are making good. All these men needed was proper coaching.

The Ottawa papers are not very pleased at the chorus of approval with which the victory of Cornwall was received. It was not that the Capitals were beaten but that a sorely depleted team had risen above their fate and proved that they were still in the region of first class.

It was the same when Montreal could only draw. There was nothing but congratulation for Cornwall. Nothing pleases sportsmen better than sport, and Cornwall furnished it.

BLESSING IN DISGUISE.

When all is said and done, says the Ottawa Citizen, probably the disaster which Capitals encountered on Dominion Day will prove a blessing in disguise, though it must be admitted that the aforesaid disguise is a deep one The Senators got something in the nature of a sound spanking and can now be expected to sit up and behave. It's up to them to atone for an erring past and if they do the square thing by the club henceforth all will be forgiven if not forgotten. The Capital training department can't be beaten but the best staff in creation cannot be expected to produce a champion team unless every man heeds instructions both on the field and elsewhere—with the loud pedal on the "elsewhere."

There certainly will be changes in the Brantford team, The Herald learns authoritatively. Degan will be played on Currie, and Cain will be introduced into the team. The home, therefore, will be Doyle, Dade, Cain, Wilson and Powers, a hot bunch, truly.

There seems to have been some trouble between Cain and Brantford. It seems that he is now in the Toronto Custom House, and does not, of course, attend the practices, and this displeases. But surely Cain is too good a man to let go for such a poor reason, provided he keeps in condition.

Some of the baseball players seem to regret that they are playing on Saturday. Charlie Atherton said yesterday that he would like to see the game.

The Shamrocks will find that Degan is far more capable of looking after Currie than Taylor was. The Shamrock man on Dominion Day had things pretty much his own way.

MORE JOHN WHITE.

Caughnawaga, July 7.—(Special.)—The first of the home and home games between the St. Regis Indians and the Caughnawaga Indians was played here on Sunday, and the result was a draw of two goals each. John White, lately of Cornwall, and now of Brantford, played for St. Regis, but the general opinion was that though he played a good game there were many his equal on the field. At St. Regis he is a tremendous favorite, but all the St. Regis Indians were delighted at seeing the others show up so well.

The Toronto Telegram, after seeing no chance for the Shamrocks against Brantford, now thinks that Brantford have no chance against Shamrocks.

So there are more John Whites about St. Regis and Caughnawaga than him who sports Brantford colors. He seems to have met his equals on Sunday.

SHAMROCKS VS. BRANTFORD.

The difficulty regarding the referee for the next Minto Cup game has not yet been settled. According to arrangements provided Harry Gillespie could not act, Joe Lally was to officiate again. Brantford want Harvey Pulford, but the Shamrocks object. Hennessy is unlikely to turn out. Brantford are rearranging their team, introducing Cain and leaving out Taylor, who was the weak spot on Dominion Day.

GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING CLUB.

The last meet of the Gentlemen's Driving Club was so successful that another will be given at Delorimier Park on July 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30. There will be two races each day, and $2,500 will be given in purses. The last meet was remarkable for straight running and the smart and capable way in which it was conducted, and the forthcoming should be immensely popular. Mr. H. Paquet, the genial secretary, will give every information at 1644 Notre Dame Street.

A POPULAR WIN.

New York, July 7.—Fresh from his trip to St. Louis, Hermis yesterday won the Test Handicap at the opening of Brighton Beach Association's summer meeting, and in doing so equalled the track record for one mile by covering the distance in 1.38.

The victory of Hermis was perhaps the most popular one ever scored on an Eastern race track. As he turned into the stretch, leading by a length, the great crowd began to cheer, and when victory looked certain a sixteenth of a mile from the wire, the cheering became deafening, continued fully for five minutes. When Redfern and Hermis returned to the scales, Hermis pulled up lame in his fore leg.

The winners of the other events were Reliable, Fulminae, Longorder, Glisten and Dandelion.

RACING AT HARLEM.

Chicago, July 7.—Port Royal won the third event at Harlem yesterday. Miss Crawford second, and Horatius third. Tokalon and Miss Inez were the only favorites to win. Two long shots and one second choice divided first honors in the other three races. The winners were P. J. Summers, Ancred, Tokalon, Miss Inez and Falernian.

SUCCESS OF WESTMOUNT.

Westmount have had a very successful season so far and have good chance for the Caledonia Cup (which they at present hold) the Charity Cup in the first round of which they defeated the M.A.A.A. 2—0, and the League, which they lead at present. Westmount have up to the present, played ten game, won nine, lost one and scored thirty-seven goals against seven scored by their opponents, this is a great improvement on last year when they did poorly in the League but won the Caledonian Cup.

WESTMOUNT PRACTICE.

Westmount intermediates will practice this evening at seven o'clock, and the following players are requested to be on hand: J. McDonald A. Graham, W. McCombie, F. Kirkham, W. C. Kirkham, W. Smaill, McArthur, Powers, Alger, Heyzer, Harding, Crabb, Hill, Pattinson, Nairn. Any players of the first team who can attend are requested to do so. After practice the team to represent the club against Y.M.C.A. will be selected.

M.A.A.A. VS. C.P.R.

One of the great games of the Association Football League series will be that on Saturday between the M.A.A.A. and C.P.R. A loss to either team will put it out of the running for the championship. The C.P.R. won the first match, but as the next is to be played on the M.A.A.A. grounds a different tale may be the result. The game will start at four o'clock, and should be well worth seeing. The Montreal team will be:

Goal, Hayes; backs, Rogers, Brown (captain); half backs, Matthews, Anstey, Roberts; forwards, Small, Douglas, Duncan, Stuart, Porter; spares, Gillard, Chinn.

J. R. Smith, of the Montreal Rangers, played last year with Langside Athletic, a prominent club in the junior football world of Scotland.

Outremont will practice this evening at seven o'clock on their grounds at the corner of Park Avenue and Van Horne.

MAT AND RING.

JIM PARR VS. MAUPAS.

Jim Parr, the English champion Graeco-Roman wrestler, will wrestle Emile Maupas, the French exponent of that style, to-morrow evening at the Theatre National Francais, corner of Beaudry and St. Catherine Streets. The match is Graeco-Roman French style, the same rules under which Heckenschmidt, the Russian, defeated Tom Jenkins. It is wrestling all the time, and a man cannot loaf.

Parr arrived in Montreal this morning and pronounced himself as fit as any fiddler, who ever scraped a jig. He is lighter than Maupas, who weighs over 200 pounds, but he feels confident of the result. It ought to be a great contest. Most people in Montreal know already that Maupas is a great wrestler, and he has the French sympathy. Everybody knows what Parr can do.

WRESTLING ON HORSEBACK.

The ancient European pastime of wrestling on horseback will be exhibited on Saturday evening at Bout de l'Isle. At 7 o'clock at Bureau's Hotel, Harry Simonds, a French wrestler and Leton, an English wrestler, will endeavor to throw one another. Mr. Bureau, the proprietor of the hotel, will provide the horses and put up a prize of $50 for the winner. The contest should be a very interesting event.

ATHLETICS.

HARVARD-YALE TEAM SAIL.

New York, July 7.—The members of the Yale-Harvard team, who will compete with the athletes from Oxford and Cambridge on track and field, sailed on the steamer Teutonic yesterday for Liverpool. The meet will take place on July 20, at the Queen's Club, London.

LACHINE HARRIER CLUB.

A meeting of the Lachine Harrier Club was held in the club rooms last evening. The object of the meeting was to make final arrangements for a moonlight excursion on Tuesday evening up Lake St. Louis. The steamer Duchess of York will leave the locks at 7.30 o'clock. Casey's orchestra will provide the music for dancing. Refreshments will be served on board the boat.

GOLF AND GOLFERS

COURSES NOT TOO SHORT.

The superiority of the rubber-cored ball over the gutta-percha ball is not only clearly established by the scoring of the professionals, but the figures returned establish the truth of the contention that the new ball has shortened all our golf courses. If, for example, one compares the scores that were made at Sandwich ten years ago, when Taylor won the championship, it will at once be seen how the ball has made the courses shorter and the game easier. Taylor won ten years ago with an aggregate of 326, and Vardon won in 1899 with an aggregate of 310. But this year there are half a dozen scores below this aggregate, one of them being Vardon's own return, which betters it by eight strokes. It would seem, therefore, that the majority of committees of clubs will be confronted with the problem at an early date of a re-arrangement of their courses, and especially those courses over which the championships are played will need overhauling in the light of the scores returned at Sandwich.

Mr. Geo. Lyon returned from Montreal yesterday morning. He had nothing to say on his defeat in the finals, other than that he was not in anything like his own form. He says that the tournament was the most successful ever held by the Canadian Association.—Mail and Empire.

Canada will be represented at the open United States golf championships at Chicago on Friday and Saturday of this week. Murray, Cumming and Barrett have left to take part in the play. There are eight professionals and forty-one amateurs entered.

Golf has invaded the Ben Nevis district of Scotland. A course has been laid out at Rhu Mohr, Corpach by Willie Fernie. It was formally opened by Captain Cameron, the son of Lochiel Chief of the Cameron clan.

DOWN IN THE COLD, COLD GROUND.

It begins to look as if Manchuria would prove the graveyard of more reputations than Alexieff's. The Admiral is not the first to have a reputation several sizes too large for the man. That holds good in other things. Vin St. Michel, however, faithfully lives up to all the praise that has been bestowed on it. It gained the confidence of thousands because it was all, and more than was claimed for it. Vin St. Michel is daily growing in popular favor, because it is to-day, the finest of all tonic wines. All dealers sell it.

WALL STREET BULLS TOOK PROFITS; "STREET" SURE OF NEW C.P.R. ISSUE

There was a slight abatement in the bull enthusiasm this morning, but the messages from Wall Street have been so uniformly cheerful that many still express the belief that the professionals will put the market higher before they get through with it.

The question of a new $20,000,000 issue of C.P.R. stock was freely talked of to-day and some people claim to have it upon good authority that the issue is a probability of the next few months. The stock to-day acted pretty well in Wall Street and for the most part held around 125 to 125 1-8, a few sales being made here on about the same basis.

One gentleman on the street said that it was pretty well understood that the C.P.R. had received permission at Ottawa to issue $25,000,000 new stock.

In regard to Richelieu the rumor has been going about that the Catholic clergy intended to purchase a boat to be exclusively used for pilgrimages to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. This report somewhat disturbed Richelieu shareholders until it was discovered it had no basis of fact.

Mr. Rodolphe Forget said: "There is absolutely nothing to this rumor. We are affording a satisfactory service for the pilgrimages and I can say positively that the Richelieu Company will continue to have this business."

There was no Richelieu sold this morning.

Dominion Steel bonds were again traded in moderately freely and they stiffened up from 57 to 58 1-2.

Power sold at 74 to 74 1-2 and Montreal Street Railway was also a little firmer at 208 to 208 1-4.

Detroit sold here at 62 1-2 and afterwards in New York at 62 3-4.

HOLIDAY SATURDAY.

It was voted this morning to adjourn the Montreal Exchange next Saturday.

The sales to noon in Wall Street today were 308,100 shares.

STEEL PREFERRED.

New York.—I think that Steel pfd. will pay regular 1 3-4 dividend, and that it will sell considerably higher on this movement.—Edmund Randolph.

FORGET'S CABLE.

L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable quoted Grand Trunk first at 103 1-4, second at 88 1-2, third at 39 5-8, Canadian Pacific at 129, Anaconda at 3 7-8, and Hudson Bay at 40 3-4.

FIRM FAILS.

New York.—Edward T. C. Slease & Co., members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, have failed.

BIG PROFIT TAKING.

A noon wire to Mr. C. D. Monk said:—Market was strong and active at opening afterward the market became reactionary. Outside of Metropolitan Securities which seems to be wanted on any reaction, market has withstood big profit taking very well, and undertone strong.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows: Total reserve, decrease, £1,514,000; circulation, increase, £451,000; buillion, decreased, £1,063,101; other securities, decreased, £236,000; other decreases, £903,000; public deposits, decrease, £1,100,000; notes reserve, decrease, £1,441,000; Government securities, increase, £916,000.

The proportion of the Bank's reserve to liability this week is 46.45 per cent., as compared with 41.92 per cent. last week.

NOON LETTER.

Noon Letter—The market opened active and generally strong. It was subjected from the start to thepressure of enormous profit-taking sales, and considering this pressure, has acted remarkably well. The general list has reacted from ½ to 1 point,but stocks seem well taken on the decline, and the undertone is still decidedly strong and sentiment decidedly bullish. Weather reports from the west are not satisfactory, as heavy rains are interfering with the wheat harvest, but the temper of the Street is such that at the present time unfavorable news seems to be ignored, and stress is laid on the probable action of the Democratic convention, which is apparently going to nominate a conservative man and agree to a sensible and moderate platform. The tone is now quiet and steady, with apparently plenty of people waiting to buy stocks on reactions.—E. & C. Randolph.

MARKET LETTER.

A noon wire to Laidlaw & Co. said:—The stock market opened strong under the impetus derived from higher London prices, but its subsequent course has been slightly reactionary, owing to a very natural desire on the part of yesterday's heavy buyers to take profits, and the smaller demand from the short interest. The offerings, however, have been well taken and the undertone has at all times been steady. In short the market's action has been of a nature to encourage renewed operations for a rise on the part of the large professional interests which were behind yesterday's movement and it would not be surprising to see these operations resumed as soon as the realizing of profits has run its course. The buying of steel preferred this morning has been notable, and strength in this stock will be an influential market factor, as the date for the quarterly dividend meeting draws near. The tractions were another exception to the reactionary tendency, though the buying seemed to come largely from speculative sources.

LAKE OF THT WOODS DIVIDEND.

At yesterday's meeting of the directors of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, Limited, a dividend of eight per cent. was declared on the common stock, payable September 20, next.

It is understood that this company has experienced an extremely prosperous year, and besides the dividends on the preferred and common stocks, is laying aside a large amount for betterments and extensions.

U. S. STEEL.

It is understood that the United States Steel Corporation has unfilled orders on the books exceeding 3,000,000 tons, but that its unfilled orders at the close of the second quarter, June 30, were below those on the books at the close of the first quarter, March 31.

At that time the unfilled orders aggregated 4,136,961 tons, against 3,215,123 tons on Dec. 31, 1903 and 5,410,719 tons on March 31, 1903.

Southern iron companies all report fair business and expect late activity after a little dullness in the fall.

Twelve industrial stocks advanced .47 per cent,

Twenty active railroads advanced .92 per cent.

A RAILROAD PRESIDENT'S VIEW.

A conservative railroad president who quiet recently expressed rather pessimistic sentiments on general business situation, now takes a more cheerful view. He says: "I am convinced that to a certain extent the movement which has just been seen in the stock market was based on solid foundation of an improvement in business of the country. Railroads have felt it and I am told that it is being felt in steel and iron and other industries.

THE UPWARD MOVEMENT.

Noon.—The two chief sources of local buying were evidently a demoralized short interest on the one hand and the cliques and professional operators on the other. In addition to that, commission business was much larger than for a long time. The upward movement has apparently gathered sufficient headway not to depend on anything developing on the outside. There was some natural profit taking toward the close, but prices on the whole held their gains remarkably well. Sentiment was still strongly optimistic as the trading came to an end, although it was admitted that the market had set a pretty stiff pace to hold without a reaction.—E. & C. Randolph

SIXTH HUSSARS AT THE ARENA.

Heard "The Pearl of Pekin" and Enjoyed Themselves Generally.

The 6th Hussars spent a noisy but enjoyable time last evening while on a visit to Montreal to attend a performance of the "Pearl of Pekin" at the Arena.

The Hussars came by special train and, under the command of Major Simpson, marched from the Bonaventure station to the Arena via Windsor and St. Catherine streets, preceded by the bugle band of the 3rd Field Hospital Corps, to La Corona Hotel on Guy Street, and there awaited the officers of the regiment, who were dining at the hotel.

Between the acts the bugle band made things lively.

Mr. Hilliard Campbell, in the uniform of the Prince of Wales Fusiliers, sang the popular song "Soldiers of the Queen," the men joining in the chorus, While Miss Bernard's war song and Miss Kilcoyne's "Miller's Daughter" came in for rounds of applause.

TO SUE CITY FOR 35 CENTS.

A claim for thirty-five cents was filed yesterday at the City Hall by Clement Robitaille, advocate, acting on behalf of E. Giguere, farmer, of St. Sulpice. Giguere alleges although he had sold his goods before leaving the farm on June 30, and had merely come to the city to deliver them, the clerk of Bonsecours market demanded a fee of thirty-five cents. The point involved is important, as the city cannot be expected to distinguish between goods sold on the way over or on the spot, so long as the farmers actually go to the market.

The letter reads:

"The prompt settlement of this sum, together with one dollar for costs, will save a suit."

C.P.R. Crop Report Notes Weather Has Been Less Favorable

The Herald stated some time ago that reports from certain sections of Manitoba were not quite as favorable as they might be owing to heavy rains.

The C.P.R. crop report just out makes mention of this.

A Winnipeg dispatch says: "The general tone of the C.P.R. crop report is not so favorable this week as last, more particularly in some portions of Manitoba. In many parts of the country the rainfall has been much heavier than was needed, and the grain on low-lying land has suffered accordingly. Where natural drainage is good, however, there has been but little damage, and the average growth is up to previous weeks. On high ground the crop is more favorable, and the standing grain is exceedingly heavy, showing excellent color and development. In the Territories, where the rain has not been nearly so heavy, but little harm has been done. In addition the prairie of eastern Assiniboia can stand a greater amount of rainfall than Manitoba, and this has helped materially. Taken altogether, the prospects may be considered as most favorable."

Big Bulls Jumped in Stock Market

The leaders of several professional factions that had been bulling the market quietly for a month or more steadily accumulating stocks, appeared on the floor of the Stock Exchange yesterday personally to superintend their operations. The most conspicuous of these was Jacob Field, who evidently had been operating for the advance on a much larger scale than anybody supposed. It was owing largely to the prominence of his personality in the market that yesterday's further advance was actively opposed by a large body of professional traders. A personally conducted demonstration by Mr. Field has frequently in the past marked the culmination of operations unostentatiously begun through brokers. There is, perhaps, not another operator on the exchange so adroit as he at kicking up a great dust in the market to hide what he is really doing, whether that is the covering of a line of short stock or profit-taking on a line of long stocks. Large orders on both sides of the market were distributed in so confusing a manner yesterday that it was simply impossible, brokers said, to make any sense of them. Field and his crowd were thought to be largely responsible for that. The same brokers bought and sold the same stocks. Field would be reported first as a big buyer and then as a heavy seller of the same stock. This was the case in Pa. It would be difficult to say what either he, personally, or the brokers acting for him did yesterday on balance. They were prominent in Met., Pa., Atch., and other stocks. Field himself traded heavily on both sides of Pa. He is believed to have been long of it for some time.

The speculative interests most aggressive at the present time, on the long side of the market, are said to be operating on purely a trading principle. They believe in taking profits, and then, if the market looks good to them, still, they buy in again for another turn. That is probably the position of the Field crowd.

Particulars of the Sao Paulo Increase

The Sao Paulo Light & Power Company directors have decided to issue $1,000,000 of new stock at par for the purpose of retiring a similar amount of the bonds.

The bonds will be bought in the open market. Their present selling price is 89½.

The present capital of the company is $7,000,000 of stock and $6,000,000 of bonds.

The operation will result in a reduction of $50,000 annually in the fixed charges, but the dividend charges will be increased to the extent of $80,000,000, the net result being an increase of $30,000 in the annual disbursements by the company.

It is stated that it is the policy of the management to gradually wipe out the bonds and leave the stockholders sole proprietors of the property.

The company recently increased its dividend from 6 to 8 per cent.

U.P. Will Earn 11 p.c. on Common Stock

Union Pacific has completed its fiscal year and has reported on eleven months to May 31. We may conservatively estimate the result from operation for twelve months, as follows:

	1903-4 (Est.)	1902-3 (Act.)
Gross earnings	$56,000,000	$51,075,188
Expenses and taxes	31,250,000	28,747,315
Net earnings	$24,750,000	$22,327,973

The gain in net from operation we figure at about $2,432,000. That this is a conservative estimate is clear from the fact that in eleven months to May 31 a net gain of over $2,600,000 is shown.

The year's income account will stand about this way:

Gross earnings	$56,000,000
Expenses and taxes	31,250,000
Net earnings from operation	$24,750,000
Fixed charges less other income	8,000,000
Surplus over charges	$16,750,000
Dividend on preferred stock (say)	4,000,000
Surplus for common	$12,750,000

This would be 11 per cent. on the common stock outstanding.

Market Reports.

NEWS OF THE DAIRY MARKETS

Cheese Dull With an Easy Tendency to Prices—Butter Also Dull With Very Little Doing.

There is comparatively little doing in cheese and values remain just about the same. Yesterday 7⅝c was paid at country points for Ontario makes, and spot price was 8c, while Easterns ranged from 7⅝c to 7¾c as to section.

The butter market ruled dull and heavy and exporters complained that their limits had been entirely cancelled in some cases, and in others that the quantity under negotiation had been reduced one-half. An extreme price according to shippers' views to-day for finest creamery was 17½c, while the ruling idea was 17¼c. All cables from England were uniformly discouraging on butter.

Cheese Boards

Peterboro, Ont., July 6.—The cheese board met to-day with eight buyers present. Bidding started at 7c, and continued brisk up to 7⅝c. Mr. Fitzgerald bought four factories at 7⅝c, and Mr. Wrighton took four factories at 7⅝c. Several factories were offered, 7,037 cheese boarded, about 2,300 unsold.

Woodstock, Ont., July 6.—At the cheese board meeting here to-day twenty-five factories boarded 3,598 boxes of white and 2,626 boxes of colored cheese, the make of the last half of June. The highest price was 7⅝c, and at this figure 800 boxes were sold. The sellers held out for 7⅞c. The tone of the market was dull.

Stirling, Ont., July 6.—At the cheese board to-day 1,115 cheese were boarded. Sales:—Magrath, 350 at 7⅝c; Hodgson, 450 at 7⅝c; Brecon, 100 at 7⅝c. Balance refused at 7⅝c.

Picton, Ont., July 6.—At our cheese board to-day twelve factories boarded 1,473 boxes, all colored. Highest bid, 7½c. No sales.

Hogs and Provisions

There was no actual change in the condition of the market for fresh-killed abattoir-dressed hogs, prices being steady under a fair demand for small lots at $7.50 per 100 lb. A fairly active trade was done in cured meats on both local and country account, but prices show no change. We quote: Heavy Canada short cut mess pork, in tierces, $25.50; selected heavy Canada short cut boneless, in barrels, $18; heavy Canada short cut mess, $17.50; Canada short cut back pork, $17; heavy Canada long cut mess pork, $16.50; heavy Canada short cut clear pork, $16; heavy flank pork, $16; light Canada short cut clear pork, $14.50.

Compound lard—Tierces, 375 lb., 6¾c; tubs, 50 lb., 7c; boxes, 50 lb., parchment lined, 20 lb., 7¼c; pails, 20 lb., 6¾c; cases of six 10-lb tins, 7¼c; do. five 10-lb. tins, 7⅜c; do. three 10-lb. tins, 7½c.

Pure lard—Tierces, 375 lb., 7½c; tubs, 50 lb., 7⅝c; boxes, 50 lb., parchment lined, 7¾c; wood pails, 20 lb., 8c; cases, 8c to 8¼c.

Kettle lard—Tierces, 375 lb., 8½c; tubs, 50 lb., 8¾c; pails, 20 lb., 9c; cases, 9c to 9¼c.

Country Produce

Eggs.—There was no new feature in the market, business being quiet and prices about steady at 15c for fresh arrivals of straight gathered stock, and at 14c to 14 1-2c for held over stock in round lots.

Beans.—Business in beans was quiet, and prices show no change. In a jobbing way sales of choice primes were made at $1.35 to $1.40, and primes at $1.30 per bushel, while car lots of choice primes were quoted at $1.30 and primes at $1.25 per bushel.

Honey—Extracted white clover honey 8 1-2 to 9c per 10-lb tin, and at 7c to 7 1-2c in 300-lb. keg; buckwheat honey, 6c to 7c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13 1-2c.

Maple product—Syrup, in fifteen gallon casks, 5 1-4c to 5 1-2c per lb.; in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c per lb.

Ashes—The tone of the market for potash is steady, but business is slow, owing to small receipts. We quote: First sorts, $6 to $6.10; seconds, $5.40 to $5.50; and pearls, $7.25 to $7.50 per 100 lbs.

Bananas by Weight

Within a short period the United Fruit Company will establish throughout the entire scope of their distribution in this country the system of selling bananas by weight instead of by the bunch. This will involve the sale of millions of dollars worth of fruit and will place the entire method of auctioning it on a different basis.

The Foreign Crops.

Broomhall's Liverpool Corn Trade News says:

United Kingdom—The conditon of the crop is only maintained, no improvement having occurred.

France—Poor harvesting results are reported from the south. In the centre the plant is thin and short ears are complained of. In the north there is promise of an excellent crop.

Germany—A good crop is expected.

Hungary—Crop prospects are improving slightly.

Roumania—Estimates on the wheat crop are now somewhat larger but the quality is variable. In some parts corn wants more rain.

Bulgaria—Reports are favorable.

Russia—In the southeast and centre the winter wheat and rye crops are good; cutting has commenced. Spring crops middling to poor.

GRAIN HERE AND IN THE STATES

Not Much Export Demand for Manitoba Wheat, But a Fair Enquiry Reported for Oats.

Manitoba wheat has been rather quiet as far as cable business is concerned. There was a fair enquiry for oats from ever the cable and bids showed an advance of 1 1-2d to 1 1-2d and, as some of them were satisfactory to shippers, a few sales were made. There was no important change in the condition of the market on spot, which rules firm under a fair demand for car lots, and sales of No. 2 white were made at 38c, and No. 3 at 37c per bushel, ex store. Business in other lines was quiet. Buckwheat was quoted at 59 1-4c; peas at 69c to 69 1-2c; No. 2 rye at 62c to 62 1-2c; No. 2 barley at 49c; No. 3 extra at 48c and No. 3 at 47c; No. 2 white oats, 37c per bushel, afloat.

The various options in Chicago today were quoted as follows:

Flour, Feed, Hay

Flour—Market stronger. There was a decided improvement in the demand from local and country buyers to-day, and a more active business was done, which would indicate that stocks in second hands are small. In addition to the above, there was also a fair enquiry from foreign sources, and some business was done at the advance in prices, while millers to-day have again advanced their cable to-night 3d to 6d. We quote: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $4.90; Manitoba spring bakers', $4.60; winter wheat patents, $4.70 to $4.85; straight rollers, $4.50 to $4.60; straight rollers, in bags, $2.15 to $2.20.

Feed.—A weaker feeling prevailed in the market for millfeed and prices were reduced $1 per ton. We quote as follows: Manitoba bran, in bags, $16 to $17; shorts, $18 to $19 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $15.50 to $16; shorts, $17 to $17.50; and mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Meal.—The combine price is $2.30 to $2.32 1-2 per bag, and outsiders, are selling at $2.15 to $2.20 per bag.

Hay.—The tone of the market for baled hay continues easy on account of liberal supplies, but no actual decline in prices has taken place yet. No. 1, $10 to $10.50; extra good, No. 2, $9.50 to $10; ordinary, No. 2, $8.75 to $9; and clover mixed, $7.75 to $8 per ton, in carload lots.

Recently the representative of a prominent supply house was endeavoring to secure an order for the twine used in the tying up of parcels at this store. Such a big difference between the price then demanded and that quite recently quoted led to inquiring the reason for such advance. Our commercial friend blamed it upon the rapid rises in the Cotton market. "By Jove," remarked one of his auditors, "it is very evident you are not a reader of the newspaper's financial columns, or you would be aware that Cotton has declined several points within the last 48 hours." The commercial gentleman was unable to frame a suitable reply, but we've every reason to believe that he registered a vow to become a thorough master of his subject ere again seeking orders in this territory.

It pays all to keep posted; it pays the buyer of merchandise, as well as the seller of such. It pays the former to keep in touch with this store's daily page of extra value events. Knowledge is power. To know when and where to buy is to know how to make the family income reach the utmost purchasing limit. Again we advise you to KEEP POSTED!
