QUEBEC, THURSDAY, JAN. 24, 1889.

HERE AND THERE.

To undue excitement probably, is to be attributed Mr. GAGNON's rather ferocious attack on the late Crown Lands Commissioner, in the House of Assembly, the other night. Mr. LYNN was not present at the time, but as the Provincial Secretary is a man who has at all times the courage of his convictions, it is not to be supposed that

Mr. LYNN's presence would have stayed the flow of his rhetoric. Good taste, however, would have prompted most men to withhold an attack on a fellow member of Parliament, during his absence. Mr.

GAGNON had his assault to make, and he did not stop to consult the proprieties, and on Mr. LYNN's head descended the vials of his fearful wrath. In Mr. LYNN, English Protestantism in the person of Mr.

LYNN, found a valiant and chivalrous defender. As usual, the member for Gaspé was gentlemanly and courteous, and his remarks must have convinced Mr. GAGNON,

as they did all within reach of his voice,

that a man may be forcible without resorting to the vocabulary of the fish-wife. He took high ground, and dealt with race-prejudice and religious intolerance, as exemplified in Mr.

GAGNON's speech, in a manner which carried its own rebuke. The effect on the House was telling, and it more than convicted the intelligent men on both sides, of Mr. LYNN's power and force as a speaker and debater. Mr. GAGNON's remarks surprised us very much. We had no idea that he disliked the English and the Protestants so much. We had rather depended on Mr. L. P. PELLETIER for exhibitions of the like character, but the jaunty pomp of the member for Dorchester must have looked for in his helmet of the gallant crusader from Kamouraska. From General Mr. PEARCE rang out the word

"Shame," as Mr. GAGNON's attacks acquired greater volume, and increased in bitterness. To the credit of the English members be it said, the words of the Provincial Secretary were received in contemptuous silence. When a member of a Government chooses to say:—"The department had formerly been under the direction of a gentleman who was not in sympathy with the French-Canadians, but rather with the English capitalists, and it was under their influence he had passed these acts, for it was to their interest to take all they could out of forest lands

rather than have them settled by French-

Canadians. It was too bad that colonists should have to go to an Englishman and a Protestant for permission to settle in this Province," it would be worse than folly to answer him in kind.

Some time ago, it was said that Mr.

JAMES MCNEANE would take his seat in the House of Assembly, pending the passage kept waiting too long, though, no doubt, they would endure some sacrifice, if they thought that they had a chance of securing again, the valuable services of the "People's Jimmy."

The announcement that the Lieutenant-Governor receives his friends, this afternoon, at Government House, is doubly gratifying, for it proves that His Honour is no longer on the sick list. Every one is glad to hear that Mr. ANASTAS' serious attack of bronchitis has been dissipated. It will not be long before he will be in our streets again, walking with elastic step, and flushed with the color of good health. In the meantime, our citizens will have the opportunity of taking his hand, and wishing him the compliments of the season.

Easy grace continues to sit on the brow of the Honorable Speaker of the House of Assembly. We had heard that he was shortly to give place to another gentleman, and enter the Cabinet as a Minister. This report, we are glad to hear, cannot be substantiated, and the Province is still to enjoy the honour of having as its first commoner, the able and distinguished member for St. John's. Mr. MARCHANT is beyond all odds one of the best Speakers that Quebec has had since Confederation. He is, mainly, impartial and learned in his office. He never loses his temper, and we have yet to discover that he has favored one party more than another, in the discharge of his duty. Men of his stamp are scarce in active politics, to-day.

THE BOODLE INVESTIGATION.

(Montreal Star.)

In connection with the alleged "corruption" of Aldermen at Quebec in their dealing with a water works contract, the Minister of Justice suggests a course by which the evidence of recalcitrant witnesses can be secured. Certain witnesses declined to testify on the ground that in doing so they would incriminate themselves.

Attorney-General TACOTTE urged the Minister of Justice to guarantee all such witnesses immunity from punishment so that their evidence might be secured and the ends of justice reached. "We had therefore this anomaly," wrote the Attorney-General, "that a man acknowledged that he was in possession of the evidence of crime, but as he pretended to have obtained his information by himself committing an offence of a minor character, he was not shielded and protected from giving testimony." The same difficulty would have presented itself in the case of the Parnell Commission had it not been foreseen and provided against. All who were guilty of offences under the Crimes Act were guaranteed immunity from punishment provided that they came forward and told the truth. The plan proposed by Sir John Thompson is that the Dominion Parliament be asked at its coming session to make the provision in public enquiries of this kind, that witnesses should be deprived of their privilege of declining to testify on the ground that they would incriminate themselves and should be relieved from the effect of their answers. If this be done, as it is now doing, so that the Minister of Justice counts upon the concurrence of his colleagues, the stumbling block in the way of the Quebec Municipal Commission will be removed. The whole object of the commission is to get at the truth in the case of the alleged blockade of the city of Quebec. This is the reason of its existence, as it is of all such commissions, and the proposed change in the law will be found useful in all similar cases.

NOTES AND NEWS.

LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

Personal Intelligence.

Mr. C. L. Champagne, M. P. P., arrived yesterday from Montreal.

There is a report in town that the Belgian Consul, Philippe Bruyssel, has been transferred to Ottawa.

Colonel Hutton of Montreal, and I. H. Stearns, Esq., of the same city, left town yesterday for Montreal.

The Core Labarre has gone to Assomption to assist at the meeting of the Société de l'Industrie Laitière.

Mr. Robitoux, M. P. P., left town yesterday for Montreal, and will return at the end of the week.

The Hon. Colonel Rhodes, who went to Montreal the night before last, to attend the banquet of the Board of Trade is expected home to-day.

We are glad to hear that Mr. John West, of St. Foy, was on Monday last, unanimously elected to the municipality for the third time in succession.

The Prince Alfred Times, of a recent date, says:—"Lieut. Col. Irvine arrived in town on Thursday last for the first time since the rebellion. The Prince Alfred Times writes that he is on his way to take advantage of Mr. Irvine's presence to show that gallant officer some token of the high esteem entertained for him by the people of the city. He is not only for his conduct during the rebellion, but for his constant endeavors in the late Northwest conflict, which he was a member of the military and naval forces of the body, to obtain a tardy recognition of his brave and arduous services and their widows and orphans. We understand that this will be the shape of a public award, which, doubtless, will be a great success."

Albert.

Another rash for seas occurred again yesterday. The steamer of Messrs. Farness & Kircouche, Fabrique street, was crowded all day. We are, however, given to understand, that excellent seas may still be obtained in the body of the harbor, and that the steamer arrives in Montreal to-day, where she gives her first performance of 1889 on this side of the Atlantic, under the patronage of His Excellency the Governor-General and the Lady Stanley of Preston.

Col. Irwin as an Artist.

Col. Irwin, Inspector-General of Artillery, is an excellent artist and in his spare hours devotes himself to painting. He has painted the tinted walls of his office. He has executed several admirable studies in female heads and has just finished an admirable copy of one of Canon Woodville's military masterpieces. Amongst other sketches he has ornamented the wall with a view of Fort Henry and Navy Bay. Kingston and there is an admirable sketch in which some batteries of artillery are covering the movement of battalions of Infantry across the river. There is an excellent study about Col. Irwin's work, and the coloring is perfectly harmonious. He has light and facile touch and exerts in rapidity of execution.—Ottawa Free Press.

Ministerial Caucus.

The all-absorbing topic of discussion in and around the Parliament House yesterday afternoon was the Ministerial caucus which was held after four o'clock. Those who attended it are very reticent as to what transpired, but the mutterings of several members last night and the absence from the House of Mr. GAGNON all afternoon, are not supposed to justify the belief that everything had gone perfectly happy and agreeable at the meeting. There are always a number of political squabbles of more or less importance floating about the House during the session, and one of these yesterday was to the effect that Mr. GAGNON had favored the resignation to his Chief. Nobly expected that, not even Mr. GAGNON himself. Last night everything seemed to be orderly in the Ministerial ranks.

Hon. Mr. Stanley's Marriage.

The most brilliant social event of the winter, says an English paper, took place on Saturday (Jan. 20th), when Edward Stanley, eldest son of Lord Stanley of Preston, and heir to Lord Derby, was married to Lady Alice Montagu, daughter of the Duke of Manchester. The beautiful chapel of Westminster Abbey was filled by a distinguished company. The fog was fairly conquered by the blaze of light inside, and the approach to the altar was brightened by the nearest touch of the bridegroom's regiment. The presents were superb, among the most striking being an emerald diamond necklace given by the bride's brother-in-law, the Duke of Hamilton, and a cluster of ruby and diamond stars given by Lord and Lady Rothschild. Lord Derby settles $5,000 a year on his nephew, whose eventual fortune will be of course be enormous.

The Late Dr. Lobley.

Death of an Ex-Principal of Two Canadian Colleges.

The Rev. Dr. Lobley, late Principal of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, is dead. The event occurred suddenly in England at the stargate, Selborough. Dr. Lobley was one of the most distinguished Churchmen that ever came to Canada. His scholastic attainments were of the highest order; his mind comprehensive and luminous; his oratory cultured in the highest degree. He was a distinguished graduate of Cambridge, having been placed eighth wrangler in mathematics, and second in classics at his degree examination. As Principal of the Montreal Diocesan College, he won the admiration of his students alike by his patience and his attainments, and the esteem of a large circle of outside friends. His second appointment in Canada was that of Principal of Bishop's College. This position he held for many years, and it may be measured, as an evidence of how he was regarded in the foremost circles of the Church, that his name was put in nomination for the bishopric of Toronto, and that, so strong was the interest taken in him, he just met and election by a few votes. He returned to Cambridge, and in 1887 was appointed to the vicarage of Sudbury, in Yorkshire. About a year ago he was invited to become rector of Quebec Cathedral, but declined. He was modest and retiring, but of genial nature, sympathetic, with fine musical leanings.—Montreal Witness.
