School Board wants 4424 rescued

For full coverage of school board meeting please see page 14.

The Westmount School Board has endorsed the recommendations of the final report of the 4424 Youth Clinic which state that the City of Westmount or some other body should come to the clinic's rescue and provide funds to allow it to remain open.

The school board support came at its regular monthly meeting held Monday evening. The demise of 4424 also prompted the board to start studies intended at establishing a student lounge at Westmount High School.

Grant runs out

The report on the 4424 clinic was issued as the clinic's funds under a federal health department grant ran out. The report states that the leisure side of the centre could be dropped but recommends that the medical and counselling clinic, as an important service to the community, be continued.

The report came to the board as a group vitally interested in the youth of the city. Board chairman Dr. Stanley French stated at Monday's meeting that he agreed with the report but that, "It would be a pity to lose the leisure side of the centre, too. It is doubtful that existing facilities in the community will be able to replace this side of the centre's activities."

Commissioner Mrs. Joan Rothman said she felt it was important to keep the counselling part of the clinic and suggested that perhaps this service could be integrated with a counselling service for the aged as well as the young.

Report to city council

The motion asking for support of the board for the recommendations of the final report was presented by Commissioner Brian Emo and he added the board's position should be reported to the City Council and the directors of 4424.

The board also passed a motion asking the high school students' council and the school committee to study, in conjunction with the board, the idea of establishing a student lounge in the school to help alleviate the problems of the closing of the drop-in centre at 4424, a block away from the high school.

Commissioner Rothman proposed the lounge idea, saying that with the closing of 4424 a large number of high school students would lose their lunch-time gathering spot.

"It appears that from one-third to one-half of the high school pupils eat lunch at 4424 and the cafeteria is overcrowded and not popular," she said. She went on to point out that other schools were establishing lounges and that the need for one in Westmount would soon be great.

Suggests two lounges

Commissioner Mrs. Sam Kaplan endorsed the plan and suggested that two lounges, junior and senior, be established.

Superintendent Fairbairn also agreed to the merits of the idea but warned that many difficulties in establishing rules, organizing supervision and finding room and furniture would have to be overcome.

It was suggested by Commissioner Kaplan that furnishing and operating the lounge could be a student project and an exercise in responsibility.

On a motion by Commissioner Rothman, the question was referred to the students' council and school committee for study.

Ford-Volvo collision injures 3

Three people were taken to hospital with unspecified injuries as a result of an accident at 11 am Saturday at the corner of Greene avenue and Dorchester boulevard.

A 1965 Ford driven by Albert Petrie, 46, of Montreal was travelling north on Greene when it collided with a 1971 Volvo driven by John Devries, 51, 4300 de Maisonneuve boulevard, eastbound on Dorchester.

Mrs. Petrie, 52, was taken to hospital by ambulance while Raymond Petrie, 40 brother of the driver, and Devries were taken to the Reddy Memorial Hospital by Westmount Police patrol car.

The left side of the Ford suffered $500 damages and the front of the Volvo will cost something more than that to repair.

False nitro scare

The owner of a new home under construction at 4371 Montrose avenue found several vials labelled 'glycerin' when he visited the site Saturday. Westmount Police called the MUC Police technical squad to deal with what they thought might be very explosive material. Analysis however showed the glycerin to still be in a harmless state.

Council meets Tuesday 8 pm

A mid-month meeting of Westmount City Council will be held Tuesday at 8 pm.

Among items scheduled for the meeting is the reading of a by-law to change Westmount taxi rates to bring them into line with new MUC rates.

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

By ERIC NEAL

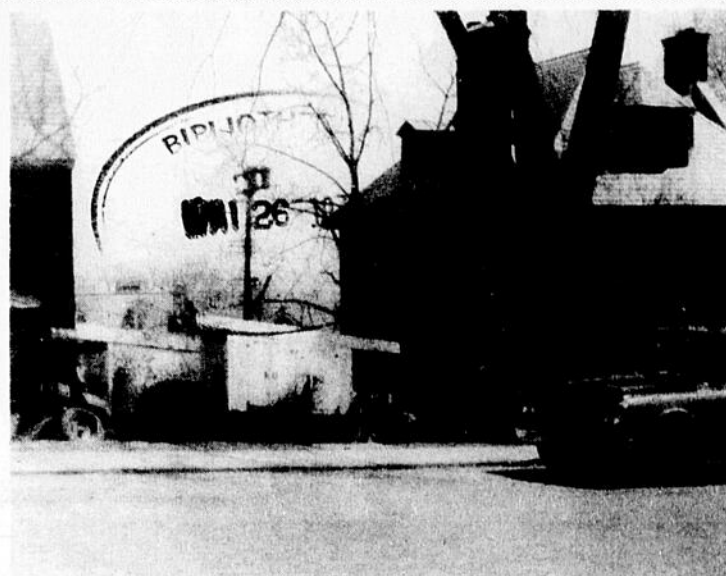

May 12 to 20

Blustery winds with rain and under are followed by warm sunshine, although nights continue to be quite cold. Cold air falls downhill, so low-lying areas and the lower end of ping gardens will have hoarsts until mid-week. Hoke cherries, wild plums, crab apples bloom this week. Lilac in southern countries. Mornings and sunny afternoons continue, but tornado conditions are likely to develop an unexpected storm could ve from the west to upset our weekend. $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1" of rain normal. Wide temperature range: Nights 30 degrees F.; days 75 to 80.

VISITOR FROM MONTREAL: The truck shown visiting the lawn of 3174 The Boulevard early Tuesday afternoon decided to drop in from its parking place in Montreal. The truck, driven by Gilbert Chamberlain of St. Therese and owned by Val-Mar Swimming Pool, was parked on the north side of the Boulevard just east of Belvedere road, in Montreal. While the driver was away it broke loose, crossed the busy street, mounted the sidewalk and slipped down onto the lawn suffering over $500 damage. No one was injured in the mishap. The truck was towing an air compressor.

After dropping in February, March's real estate transfers in Westmount picked up in both number and selling prices as the difference between total selling price and city valuation of fully listed transfers rose to 6.5 percent.

There were 38 transfers in March, topping both February's 29 and January's 37. The number was well over the 22 of last March. Of the transfers, 21 were fully listed while there were eight declarations, seven sales for $1 and considerations, one exchange and a judgment.

The 21 fully listed transfers had a total selling price of $904,760 and were valued by the City at $489,710. The differential in February was 3.4 percent while last March it was only 2.9 percent.

The largest property transfer was the Steinberg's store at 1250 Greene avenue which was sold for $1 and considerations from London Life Insurance Company to Steinberg's Limited. It is valued by the city at $406,900.

$78,500 transfer

Largest completely listed sale was of 4458-66 St. Catherine street for $78,500 from Norman, Irving and Ula Bernstein to Mrs.

Scouts sell extinguishers to residents

Starting Saturday, don't be surprised if you are visited by a group of St. Matthias Boy Scouts, promoting the very worthy cause of fire prevention.

For the next few weekends, Scouts from the troop will be canvassing different sections of Westmount selling fire extinguishers to help fund their projects and make Westmount homes safer.

The drive, which has been endorsed by Westmount Director of Public Safety, Edward Harper, involves selling one-pound, dry-chemical, all-purpose, non-rechargeable portable fire extinguishers and distributing literature on fire prevention and control.

The extinguishers, which are underwriter approved, will cost $10. The Westmount department of public safety has recommended that Westmount residents, like the Scouts, be prepared to handle small fires in the home by the use of extinguishers.

If you are not visited by a canvasser, the extinguishers can be ordered by telephoning Mrs. R. Rosen at 935-7010.

Harrison Brothers Limited, the bakers at St. Catherine street and the Glen, announced this week that they have acquired the next-door building recently vacated by Ingram & Bell Ltd., hospital suppliers, for the POM executive sales and general offices. POM Hall, the 42-year-old bakery, will thus be afforded more space for production and delivery facilities. Ingram & Bell have moved to St. Laurent.

How to make friends with an oil furnace.

If you've just moved into a new home and discovered an oil furnace there, waiting to welcome you, you're lucky. Because an oil furnace really is man's best friend.

But you've just met this one, and there may be a lot you don't know about it. Like what makes it run? Did its previous owner treat it right? How often do you have to feed it? How can you tell when it's happy?

That's where we come in, because we've had many winters of experience with oil furnaces. And we have the people, equipment and radio-dispatched trucks to look after every little thing your furnace or boiler will ever need.

Call us when you move, and we'll introduce ourselves to you, and you to your furnace. We're

Shirley Armstrong, Anthony Cox lead WHS graduation prizelist

Westmount High School's graduating class will be honored tonight at graduation exercises. The program will include presentation of prizes and scholarships as well as certificates to all the graduates.

For the second successive year, the ceremonies are being held in the spring instead of the following autumn.

Shirley Armstrong and Anthony Cox will be given the school's highest award, the award of honor. They are chosen by the graduates to recognize the one boy and girl who have performed the greatest service to the school while combining the qualities of honor, scholarship and sportsmanship.

The Robertson Gibb Memorial Prize, established by Dr. Margaret Gibb in memory of her brother who was an outstanding Latin and Greek scholar, will be given to Eleftheria Tsaltas.

Westmount alumnae's Gail Budd Memorial Scholarship has been won by Lorraine Croxen while David Bowler, Veli Lehtonen and Debbie Shannon will each be presented with a Home and School Association scholarship.

Lawley awards

Mary Saunders has won the Douglas Lawley Memorial Prize for Latin. This award is in memory of John Douglas Lawley, a Latin scholar, teacher, benefactor and friend of students at Westmount High from 1928 to 1962. Another award, the Douglas Lawley Memorial Award, will be presented to Oleg Zadorozny.

The Gene H. Kruger scholarships have been won by Alisa Bekoff, Giselle Seeman and Virginia Vanderstay. They are donated by Gene H. Kruger in appreciation to the school for his own education and that of his son.

Peter Chu will receive the Howard H. Mussells Old Boys' Memorial Scholarship which is awarded annually in memory of a revered teacher who taught chemistry in Westmount High for many years.

The Steinberg's bursary will be presented to Richard Krakowski.

Janet Thomson is the winner of the Thomas Angus McCoy Smith memorial prize, donated by the Smith family in memory of their son, a former pupil who was killed in the Second World War.

Six Westmount High School Recognition Prizes will be presented. They are intended to honor outstanding contributions in academic or other areas of school life. This year's winners are Paul Bruton, Nancy Cleman, Maxwell Finestone, Robert Granatstein, Janet Laks and Richard Simon.

Westmount High School Scholarships will be presented to Richard Bowser and Brigitte Kraus.

To round out the presentations, Scholastic Merit Awards will be given to Harriet Paltiel and Sarah Thurlbeck.
The class valedictory address will be given by Lorraine Croxen. The rest of the program for this evening calls for remarks by Westmount School Board Chairman Dr. Stanley G. French and a musical selection to be presented by Lorraine Croxen, Robert Goldfarb, Steve Perry and Fred Shapiro. The invocation and benediction will be given by Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat. Graduating students who will receive certificates are:

We Say

WITH all the hoo-haw with the teachers, we would have expected the daily prints to show a little more interest than they did in the election of a new president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers. Successor to Wendell Sparkes is Jack Johnson, who both The Star and The Gazette disposed of briefly and erroneously as "a Montreal teacher." With Westmount's uncommon interest in matters educational and because this corner is fortunate to know him personally, we're happy to give some flesh, blood, etc., to the man who will guide the PAPT for at least the next couple of years. He's a staunch teachers' "union" man—"syndicalist" is the current term. He's also highly regarded as a top-flight teacher with the accolade of "Uncle Jack" from many of his students past and present at Chateaugay Valley Regional High School, Ormstown, where he heads the mathematics department. He is an unstuffy, 36-year-old, red-headed bachelor whose wide-ranging interests include young people, teaching, his church, (Anglican) travel, his own continuing education, (currently, computer programming) and a huge historic house at Dewittville which he has filled with fine antiques. And he has a long list of professional and other involvements including the Protestant committee of the Superior Council of Education and the synod of the Diocese of Montreal, in which he has been a licensed lay reader since 1953. He's a good example of an important and busy man. . . .

WE'll bet we get as many phone calls as do city hall and STOP about Westmount's fledgling efforts to pick up glass and newspapers for recycling. We're flattered to be regarded as a local fount of knowledge. We also feel qualified to observe that neither effort is as wholehearted as it might be—provided it is as worthwhile as ecology keen-types make out. The glass containers at the Tupper parking lot deserve a really decent-size sign proclaiming something like: "STOP: Deposit Glass Here." Too many people phone us to ask where the depot is at (as they say in New Brunswick). Still more worried are conscientious householders who need constant reminding that newspapers are picked up only on the first Thursday or Friday collections of each month, and then see their carefully prepared bundles seemingly thrown into the garbage compactors with the rest of the household refuse. (In fact, the city works people say that the papers go in one side of the big trucks and are fished out again at the city incinerator). We can't help wonder if the whole exercise is not more symbolic than of real effect. Either it should be pushed more seriously or dropped. . . .

FOR some time we have been receiving each month a copy of The Sentinel, official organ of The Loyal Orange Association, published in Toronto by The British America Publishing Co. Ltd. Mostly we find it quaint, increasingly we find it irritating, particularly since the more recent manifestations of Christian killing Christian in Northern Ireland whence adherents of this organization appear to draw their spiritual strength. It is beyond us why or how, in the free air of North America, grown people can preoccupy themselves with issues ancient and best forgotten and perpetuate notions of intolerance of other lands, faiths and races which most Canadians seek to obliterate through efforts to promote bilingualism and ecumenism for the enrichment of us all. . . .

WHAT business, except a publicly owned business such as the CBC, could have sustained the disasters of recent months and survived? Now that President George Davidson has been kicked upstairs to an under-secretary's job at the United Nations (heaven help the UN!) every chance should be given to his successor, Laurent Picard, to rationalize the corporation's tangled labor relations and off-the-rails programming. Yesterday morning Westmounters whose clock-radios are tuned to CBM once again were awakened to comments on Toronto theatres and the traffic situation on the Don Valley Parkway, a novel switch from those pale images of the commercial-station experts in morning shows who supplanted our local Concert Time last winter. We presume the NABET technicians and their kith are continuing to go to work only when they want to. And last Sunday night we were relieved at last of that fascination with disaster which tuned us in to Jalna—a million-dollar fiasco which would be best left to die. The pity about the CBC's troubles is that there is a deep fondness for and pride in the national broadcasting system and its uniqueness Canadians coast to coast share. The nonsense has gone on long enough. The new president has our best wishes—and sympathy.

THE other day in this corner we were sharply critical of the gross extravagance of the annual report of the department of education. Yesterday's mail brought in the report of the department of lands and forests, bearing the signature of our MP, Hon. Kevin Drummond. It, too, is nicely printed but with somewhat more modest use of the taxpayers' money while being just as effective. Our only question—it is for the year 1970-71. It took a whole year, Kevin, to get it out?

JUST as long since the real authority and power of the Westmount School Board passed to the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, there are signs that the same sort of thing is happening to the PSBGM vis-a-vis the department of education in Quebec. The process of centralization is an inexorable thing which seemingly must run to an unwieldy excess before wise minds reverse it and restore authority and control to local authorities where, in a democracy,

Hon. Kevin

Forestry white paper

In my last article I described the various channels my department's white paper went through before the final draft was made public. This week I'm going to look at the contents of this document in general terms.

The underlying concept behind the proposed reforms is that Quebec needs to make a more rational use of its forest resources. The recent problems of the forest industries and their growing international competition, plus the increasing demands on the forests for recreational purposes have all combined to make this most apparent.

In order to achieve this, a major reorganization of the allocation of this resource is necessary, so that the needs of both industry and the general public can be met. At the same time, measures can then be taken to ensure its growth and renewal for the future.

Providing permanence

The desire to provide for the permanence of the forest resource, while improving the competitive position of Quebec in the world market, has led to the establishment of the following goals:

In the short term, we should concentrate on producing the most useful wood at the lowest prices; in the medium term, we must increase the productivity of the forest in accordance with the growing demands placed on it; and in the long term, we should accelerate the renewal of the most productive sites and concentrate on creating new resources for the future, particularly near the urban centres.

This kind of global planning obviously implies some kind of government control. However, it by no means suggests the elimination of private effort. Rather, it indicates a desire to help it function more effectively.

Certainly, the private forest concerns play an important role in Quebec. Their forests are generally the most productive, most accessible and best placed in relation to factories, transport facilities and towns. So they are not only vital from the point of view of industry, but also from that of recreation and conservation.

Therefore, the white paper has tried to accommodate their interests. But it does suggest that if government financial aid is it more properly belongs. This thought arises from the excellent statement the other day by Dr. L.P. Patterson, chairman of the PSBGM, on its position regarding the teachers in their recent strike and their continuing dispute. Legislation in 1967 effectively removed local boards from negotiations, placing them in one big, single package in Quebec. The teachers and the general public may criticise the PSBGM, or even the Westmount Board, all they wish; but the whole monstrous centralization issue is wrapped up in a nutshell here: local people no longer may deal with local people. And its about time that local people asserted themselves, at the polls if necessary, against this policy of folly. . . .

A fortnight ago we noted that the 210,000 provincial civil servants on strike were a lot of people living off the taxpayers. Now a release from the provincial department of communications tells us that, in addition, 35,800 persons are employed by the municipalities of Quebec. Five percent of these are administrative, another 13 percent professional and technical personnel. Thirty-five percent are policemen and firemen, 15 percent are office clerical help. The study embraced 494 municipalities in which live 80 percent of Quebec's population. The City of Westmount has approximately 480 fulltime permanent employees.

to be given to these businesses, their owners should be obliged to offer some guarantees in return.

Another department

The bulk of planning for the increased use of the forests as recreational areas obviously falls under the jurisdiction of another government department, and so any details in this regard do not appear in our white paper. But provision has been made for it, as we are well aware of the importance of this use of the forest.

This white paper can be considered, therefore, as only the beginning of a long procedure designed to improve vastly the use of one of our most valuable resources.

"The giant Douglas flagship that is to inaugurate a daily non-stop two-hour service from Montreal to New York arrived at St. Hubert airport yesterday on a trial run. This 21-passenger plane will be the largest that has ever flown regularly to this city, and the Canadian Colonial Airways, its operators, will be giving Montreal a service second to none on this continent. A customs port has been established at Newark so that the usual stop at Albany has been eliminated."

It will be three stories high, of steel frame construction, with aerocrete decks."

New economic initiatives

Two very important public statements were made recently in the House of Commons within one week of each other which will have a profound influence on the future of the Canadian economy.

The scenarios surrounding each situation presented classic examples of how easy it is to disappoint the electorate simply by making proposals which fall short of what had come to be expected. But let it not be misunderstood this government has attempted to provoke systematically this kind of reaction:

For we are well aware that it frequently results in a decline of popularity and tends to cause disillusionment and a loss of credibility.

The first of the policy statements to be greeted with this reaction was the foreign takeovers review policy as unveiled by Hon. Herb Gray. Many Canadians seemed to be of the impression that there should be a direct correlation between the length of time it takes to complete a given study and the complexity and scope of the final proposals. This is certainly not, and indeed should not as a matter of principle, be the case.

Cannot be faulted

The only correlation that ought to exist should be between the duration of the study and the degree of realism contained in the recommendations. I think the federal government cannot be faulted on this score.

For, during times of unacceptably high unemployment when our most urgent priority is to surpass our already rapid job-creating pace, it would be counter-productive to provide disincentives or legal obstacles in the way of all foreign capital inflows. However, recognizing that not all foreign investment automatically will contribute in a positive way to the Canadian economy, the cabinet decided that the method of capital transfers least likely to benefit the Canadian economy should be the one to receive some sort of government surveillance.

It subsequently was determined that takeovers are the form of foreign investment least likely to add significant benefits to the Canadian economy. As a result, what we have come up with is a review process which, we hope, will be sufficiently flexible to take into consideration both the benefits and costs of a foreign acquisition.

A further advantage to this mechanism is that many other industrialized countries administer similar schemes, in which case the international business community is not likely to regard us with any particular hostility of suspicion.

Five criteria proposed

The government proposes to weigh all proposed foreign acquisitions of Canadian firms with assets valued at more than $250,000 or with gross revenues exceeding $3 million against five criteria; namely, the effect on economic activity and employment in Canada, the degree of participation by Canadians, its effect on productivity, technological development and product innovation in Canada, its effect on competition in Canada, and its overall compatibility with Canadian economic policies.

The decision to forge ahead with this takeover review procedure does not rule out the possibility that other approaches might be required at some time in the future when warranted by economic indicators. I shall comment on the second of the two policy statements on the economy, the budget, next week.

Grant was from Quebec for senior citizens

Sir: I wish to correct an error giving credit to the Federal Government for a $500 grant given to the Senior Citizens Project through this office, as reported in the May 4 issue of The Examiner.

The $500 was in fact granted from the "Gouvernement du Quebec, Ministere de l'Education, Haut-Commissariat a la Jeunesse, aux Loisirs et aux Sports."

Terry Johnson

WESTMOUNT 215.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Johnston may in turn wish to correct a practice of his office, as in this instance when the complained-of item was telephoned to our office instead of being submitted in writing. We were in error in accepting facts in this form which did not, by the way, specify whether the grant was federal or provincial. Since virtually all recently publicized grants locally have been from a bountiful Ottawa rather than money-short Quebec, our wrong assumption will be understood by many. Hon. Keven Drummond's office also was quick to point our credit had been given to the wrong government and inquiry of his staff revealed this week that other recent local beneficiaries of the Quebec High Commission for Youth, Leisure and Sport, in amounts of $1,000 or less, have been Way Ahead Corporation (Quebec) Inc., Weredale House, InterFaith and the Westmount YMCA.)

President of WMA replies to Mr. Udy

(A copy of the following letter has been sent to The Examiner.)

Dear Mr. Udy

Re: Synchronising Traffic Lights on de Maisonneuve

I wish to correct a statement you made "publicly" to The Westmount Examiner in your letter addressed to me, a copy of which you sent to The Examiner.

You stated as follows: 'I recently read, in The Westmount Examiner, that a WMA executive had made the above suggestion to the City Council last Tuesday'. The above suggestion being that traffic lights be synchronized on de Maisonneuve.

This is not correct and what in fact took place and was correctly reported in The Examiner, was that at a WMA Executive Committee meeting a member of the WMA Executive Committee asked the WMA Traffic and Circulation Committee to make enquiries of the City as to why traffic lights on de Maisonneuve cannot be synchronized in Westmount. It was suggested at that WMA Executive Committee meeting and reported correctly by The Examiner that synchronization not only would make for a smoother flow of traffic but might reduce the number of complaints from residents of that major east-west artery who have gone so far as to suggest that it be closed to through traffic. Reducing the number of vehicles stopping and starting at the traffic signals would, it was claimed, cut down on noise, and fumes.

These were the views of a few members of the WMA Executive Committee which were expressed at a meeting of the Executive Committee. You will see from the above, as is, I think, also clear from the original report in The Examiner of April 20, 1972, that the WMA has not yet made a suggestion or taken any official position in this matter, but is merely in the process of making an inquiry of the City.

The Executive Committee has not yet received a reply to this enquiry and therefore is not in a position to make any further observations at this stage.

I do not take issue with your arguments concerning the automobile and its aggression. I also suspect that most Westmount residents would like to see their own streets closed to through traffic as would those in other residential areas. One must hope that in such matters the city planners and governments, with direction and pressure from interested and concerned citizens, make the best decisions for the residents at large.

I would also like to add here that your letter is an encouraging indication of the benefits of having the WMA Executive Committee meetings open to the press. The Examiner has given these meetings very complete and fair coverage since it started attending meetings three months ago and, as evidenced by your letter, it has opened up another channel of communication and opinion sounding between the WMA Executive Committee and the residents of Westmount.

I hope it continues.

NEW MANAGER: George Dalzell is the new manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Sherbrooke street and Greene avenue. Mr. Dalzell is originally from Saint John, N.B. but over his 25 years with the bank has worked from the Atlantic to Pacific. He has been a manager since 1961 and comes to Westmount after two years at the St. Viateur and Casgrain branch in Montreal's east end. He says he is enjoying working in Westmount and is struck by the friendliness of the people. Mr. Dalzell is married and lives in Notre Dame de Grace.

Mental retardation strikes families rich and poor, learned and ignorant; it respects neither class nor race.

Paint Job

The damage to her car wasn't all that was bothering Mrs. Iro Tenbeck after an accident at noon last Friday.

Probably more irritating was the gallon of white paint that spilt over her and the inside of her car during the collision at the intersection of Prince Albert and Somerville avenues.

Mrs. Tenbec, 25, of N.D.G., was travelling south on Prince Albert with a newly bought gallon of white paint in her 1969 Volkswagen when she collided with a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Harold Enlow, 27, of LaSalle. The force of the collision caused the paint can to open, splashing its contents over Mrs. Tenbeck and her car.

The force of the collision also caused approximately $500 damage to each car.

Day per cheque for forgeries

Mrs. Elizabeth Aspen was sentenced Tuesday evening in Westmount Municipal Court by Judge Alex Stalker on a charge of uttering two forged cheques last summer.

She was given two one-day sentences and fined $25 and costs. She was also required to post a $200 personal bond to keep the peace for two years and to reimburse the Toronto-Dominion Bank at Claremont and Sherbrooke where she had cashed the cheques, worth over $600.

Mrs. Aspen had pleaded guilty to the two charges February 9.

Two burglaries are recorded

Two breaking and entries were reported to Westmount Police during the last week.

The first occurred early last Thursday morning at the Champlain service station at Grosvenor and Sherbrooke. Thieves entered by breaking a window and stole a small amount of cash.

The other was reported at 3 pm

Sunday when the occupants of 488 Victoria avenue returned home after being out for a few hours and found their front door ajar. Taken was a movie camera, silverware and some jewelry of unspecified value.

Mental retardation is the commonest of all childhood disabilities.

All-night program for youth at Shaar

The LTF Youth Organization of Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue is sponsoring an all-night 'Learn-In' and 'Eat-In.'

The LTF group plus other interested teenagers of the LTF teenage group will be holding a marathon all-night discussion, study and singing session on Thursday evening, May 18, beginning at 11 pm.

It is traditional in certain religious circles to remain awake the first night of Shavuot, which falls on Thursday evening, May 18, this year, in preparation for the receiving of the Ten Commandments for the next morning. We are told that the Jewish people were to remain awake at the foot of Mount Sinai the first night of Shavuot before receiving the Torah.

Rabbi H. Mandl will be leading the evening's activities, which will feature discussion seminars and singing groups as well as many well-supplied food and snack breaks. There are approximately a half-dozen adult advisors, many of whom will be leading seminars and helping in various fashions during the course of the night. Included among these leaders will be Dr. Charles Solomon, Yechiel Glustein, Dr. Gabriel Whiteman, Dr. Burton Leiser, Michel Shore and Lawrence Kalman.

The highlight of the evening will be around 4 am when a sunrise Shavuot morning holiday service will be held outdoors (weather permitting) or in the chapel, which will be followed by breakfast for all the teenagers.

This promises to be an exciting new experience in the congregation and it is hoped by the organizers that many of the youth will involve themselves in this very different program. Interested teens, Grade 10 and up, should contact Lynn Halpern at 933-4195 or Jack Shore at 932-7326 for reservations. Limited space is available.

Any general questions can be directed to Rabbi Mandl, 937-9630 (Home) or 937-9471 (Office).

Family Sunday marked

Christian Family Sunday will be observed at St. Andrew's Church this Sunday. The confirmation of a number of teenagers will take place and several adults will be received into membership. Title of the sermon by Rev. E. A. Kirker is "The Church in Your House."

An evening Communion service in the chapel at 7:30 pm will precede the last in a series of organ recitals. Beginning at 8:45 pm, this month's recitalist is Christopher Jackson, organist and choir director at Westmount Park United Church.

The Church School at St. Andrew's concludes its classroom sessions this Sunday, but the children are invited to accompany their parents to the morning services on the coming Sundays.

Next Wednesday, May 17, Mr. Kirker will report to the congregation on his recent trip to Bible lands. A Habitant Supper has been arranged for the occasion by the Men of St. Andrew's, followed by a presentation in word and picture of the sites visited in Greece, Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Israel and Cyprus by the St. Andrew's minister and members of his tour party. A large attendance is expected.

Two honored at synagogue

The Montreal Israel Bond Organization is honoring two persons with dinners at Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue here within 10 days. Last Sunday Morley M. Cohen was paid tribute as "man of the year" and next Wednesday Charles A. Cadieux will be given a testimonial as a nominee for the Jerusalem Freedom Award.

Confirmation this Sunday at Dominion

Next Sunday morning Christian Family Day will be observed in the morning worship at Dominion-Douglas United Church.

Seventeen members of the communicants' class who have been preparing since last October will be confirmed. Dr. Douglas Smith will preach on "One's Place in Life." A special communion service will be held for the young people and their families.

Following the morning worship a luncheon will be held for the newly confirmed young people and their families. Bibles will be presented and a group picture will be taken to be hung in the upper hall.

Chris Levan, who has been in Dominion-Douglas for a year and is a student at Loyola, is on a student mission field in northern Saskatchewan. A recent letter tells of his arrival and the start of his work on a two-point field.

The six committees of the newly-formed single board are busy preparing their first reports for the May meeting of the board.

On lengthening the school day

By CASEY CAMPBELL

Lately you may have noticed your children wondering into the home at all hours of the late afternoon, eyes practically swiveling in their heads and a totally dazed expression engraved upon their faces.

This is in all probability due to the "extra tutorial lessons" now given at Westmount High School. It simply means that yet another period has been tacked onto an already ridiculously lengthy school day.

These classes are as yet still voluntary on the part of both student and teacher. The students, after missing 23 days of April and with June exams looming in the near future, don't really have much choice in the matter.

The teachers who stay are paid for their extra time.

We are in fact, getting a small dose of Regulation 7, with becomes mandatory next September.

So the school day most likely will continue to grow longer and longer until it reaches ridiculous proportions for a child who even now during the winter months sees the sun only on week-ends. There is also a limit as to how much information a student can absorb in one day, after which he simply "turns off." Contrary to popular belief, students are not human computers to be fed a constant diet of information and statistics.

Ah well, Quebec sait faire! So much for the weekly editorial.

Graduation doings

Getting back to Westmount's present situation, tomorrow (Friday) is the evening of the graduation dinner-dance at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, 8:30 pm. Music is provided by a Sam Slick. At 2:00 am there will be a showing of "The Odd Couple" at the Avenue Theatre and for those who are still alive there will be a breakfast party between 6:15 and 8 am given by A. Darragh at 645 Belmont avenue.

Tonight sees another successful graduation exercise evening with Lorraine Croxen this year delivering the valedictory speech and rendering a musical selection, accompanied by Robert Goldfarb, Fred Shapiro, and Steve Perry.

Bilingual pre-school day camp again

Again this summer, a bilingual pre-school day camp will be held in Westmount. It is being organized by the same group, including students and teachers from the University of Montreal, that operated the project last summer.

The camp will run from June 5 to Aug. 11 at Westmount Park School, Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue and, the organizers hope, at Westmount Park United Church. It is open to any Westmount child age three to five.

The philosophy of the camp is based on parent involvement. The organizers want the parents and teachers to work together to help shape the child's development and socialisation.

The camp program emphasizes the use of French consistently in the group activities, field trips and swimming lessons. Parent participation will be encouraged in all phases of the camp operation, either directly or indirectly.

It is hoped that the parent involvement will help parents learn about their children. To aid this process the camp will use the resources of a consulting team headed by Dr. Helen Cvejic of the Children's Hospital.

Registration for the camp will take place at Westmount Park United Church Wednesday and Friday afternoon and also on Wednesday evening. Organizers hope to have about 70 children in the camp.

Drivers fined in Blvd. crash which killed two

The drivers of two cars involved in an accident at Belvedere road and the Boulevard last June 4 in which two young people died were found guilty Tuesday night of dangerous driving and fined $150 and court costs.

The two young men, David Casgrain and William Harrison, appeared before Judge Alex M. T. Stalker in Westmount Municipal Court.

In the accident, the two cars were driving side by side east-bound along the Boulevard when the 1971 Pinto driven by Casgrain went out of control and careened into the stone wall at Belvedere road, killing two of the car's passengers. Casgrain suffered head injuries in the crash.

Baseball under way at Weredale

By DAVE PETERS

The baseball season started Tuesday at Weredale and the turnout to watch the teams play was very encouraging.

Two of the four teams played on one of the baseball diamonds behind Westmount High School. The final score was 20-17 in favor of the Yankees over the Expos.

Each team is scheduled to play six games in the next five weeks or so.

There are a lot of things happening around the building these days. The ping-pong tournament is going strong and now in its final stages, with only a few games left to decide the "champion of the building."

Marilyn Zwaig was in Wednesday afternoon to give an introduction to Yoga. A lot of interested people showed up and she went over some of the basic principles and positions.

Captain Timmons was in again Monday night to continue the firefighting course. There are only a few lessons left and it looks like there will be a large number of boys passing the course. This weekend the Photography club will be taking a field trip to Ottawa in order to get some good pictures.

A newspaper has been started at Weredale. The paper is put together by the boys with some help from a few Dawson students with the printing. It offers a good opportunity for boys to submit articles, creative writing or art to be printed.

Police seeking 2 stolen cars

Westmount detectives are trying to locate two cars stolen in Westmount this week.

A 1963 Chevrolet Biscayne was taken from the service station at 4064 St. Catherine street west on Saturday. It was valued at $200.

And a $3,000, 1970 Land Rover was stolen from the Tupper parking lot on Monday.

John Houghton presents first report at QEH

John R. Houghton, 4312 Montrose avenue, recently presented his first annual report as president of the board of governors of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Though admitting his task was sometimes frustrating, Mr. Houghton stated he was very pleased at the progress in the professional and administrative operations of the hospital during 1971. This progress was specially evident, he said, in the expansion of laboratories undertaken, the improvement and expansion of the out-patient department and improving the facilities for the hospital's psychiatry branch.

Mr. Houghton said he also was gratified the hospital's reputation is still good but he added that changes to improve health care

Enrolment holds, teacher changes average

Superintendent R.T.B. Fairbairn's report to Monday night's meeting of Westmount School Board showed Westmount school enrolment to be holding up quite well and the number of teacher changes for next year to be about average.

Mr. Fairbairn said enrolment figures for April 28 show 12 fewer students than in September. This small decline was greeted favorably by the commissioners.

The figures show that Roslyn School had gained 18 pupils since September to bring it to 789. Westmount Park School was up two from March but down five students from last fall with a population of 400. Westmount High had the greatest drop to a total of 1,018, down five from March and a decrease of 25 from September.

Six to retire

Six teachers at Westmount schools will retire at the end of this year including Ted McLearn, music specialist in all three Westmount schools. There are two other retirements from Westmount High and three from Roslyn School.

Other teacher changes include one resignation and one teacher going on sabbatical from Roslyn School; three resignations from Westmount Park, and seven resignations from the high school staff.

In addition, eight teachers have requested transfers to other schools on the island for geographic or other reasons.

Superintendent Fairbairn reported that although the turnover will be a bit above normal at the high school, the total change is about average.

Outside kids for Roslyn

Westmount school commissioners Monday night accepted a proposal from District Superintendent R.T.B. Fairbairn that non-Westmount pupils be allowed to attend Roslyn School starting in September.

The out-of-district pupils will be limited to available space and to those pupils living quite close to Westmount. All requests from these pupils will come before the board for approval.

Weredale priorities are weighed

A comprehensive report prepared by Commissioner Mrs. Joan Rothman giving recommendations and priorities for the special education of residents of Weredale House was received by the Westmount School Board at its meeting Monday evening.

The result of a meeting of most people involved with Weredale House, the report recommends setting up a special flexible educational program in Westmount schools to deal with the problems of the Weredale residents and other disadvantaged students.

Specific action on the report by the board was put off, however, until Superintendent R. T. B. Fairbairn presents proposals at the board's June meeting.

Kindergarten in French filled up

Westmount school commissioners rejected Monday evening a suggestion by District Superintendent R.T.B. Fairbairn that the selection procedure for students wishing to enter the French kindergarten program be made 60 per cent "first come, first served" and the remaining 40 per cent chosen by lot.

Commissioner Brian Emo, with the support of most of the other commissioners, stated that since the board already had decided that all students would be selected by lot from the applications, he felt they should stick to their decision.

Last year the complete selection was made on a first come, first served basis but Mr. Fairbairn said he suggested the split between this idea and selection by lot to help satisfy

Summer school last

Westmount High School will be one of three PSBGM high schools that will operate a summer school this July.

Courses will be offered at grade eight and nine levels in English, French and mathematics and beginners' French will be available for grade five, six or seven pupils.

At the meeting of Westmount School Board Monday evening, Commissioner Mrs. Sam Kaplan announced that this would be the last year summer school would be available. The PSBGM is dropping the program due to lack of demand.

complaints concerning the deficiencies of both methods of selection. The commissioners clearly felt they should not change their position so the suggestion was not accepted.

Mr. Fairbairn reported that already 27 applications had been received for the 27 places in the French kindergarten so it is clear that by the time all applications are received there will be too many. He stated that only four applications to English kindergarten had been made to date.

Thefts at WHS

Cash and other personal effects were missing from two lockers at Westmount High School Monday afternoon. The owners had left their things in the lockers during a football practice.

PSBGM may alter Jewish ratio

Westmount's representative to the PSBGM, Commissioner Mrs. Sam Kaplan, told the Westmount School Board Monday evening that the PSBGM was considering changes in its charter to allow greater flexibility in the ratio of Jewish and Protestant members on the board.

This would prevent the recurrence of the situation in January in which Westmount's representative, Mrs. Kaplan, could not take her seat on the greater board until one of the other Jewish members resigned.

The PSBGM is also planning to establish a uniform date for all school board elections on the island. Commissioner Iain Gow pointed out Monday night that since Westmount and Outremont are the only boards without June elections, the Westmount elections would probably be shifted from January to June.

Workshop for summer threatened

Plans for a summer educational workshop at Westmount High School have been threatened by the rejection of the group's application for a federal Opportunities for Youth grant to finance the project.

Commissioner Brian Emo made the announcement at Monday evening's regular monthly meeting of the Westmount School Board but added that there was still the possibility that private funds would be available to allow the workshop to operate without a grant.

The project is directed by Mrs. Sheila Rosenblat (Rittenberg) and was outlined to the board by her at its April meeting. The aim of the program is to help bridge the gap between alienated youngsters and the school by developing an open forum where ideas can be exchanged and new perspectives learned by members of both groups.

Student heard by the board

Visitor to Monday evening's meeting of the Westmount School Board was Richard Simon, a grade 11 student at Westmount High and the publicity director of the young Metropolitan Montreal Student Association.

Mr. Simon addressed the meeting, informing the commissioners of the existence of the MMSA and clarifying for them the confused state of student government at the high school.

Commissioner James Robb stated his concern at a lack of a meaningful student government for the school board to consult with and Mr. Simon replied that the situation should be more organized by next year.

The fine arts committee for Westmount schools chaired by Mrs. John Elson, 467 Clarke avenue, presented its year-end report to the Westmount School Board Monday evening, through Commissioner Mrs. Joan Rothman.

The board endorsed the committee's request for a $600 grant from the PSBGM so it can continue operation next year.

The fine arts committee was set up six years ago by then Commissioner Mrs. W. Lloyd-Smith and Mrs. Robert Townsend, 331 Lansdowne avenue, and Mrs. Robert Stronach, 630 Grosvenor avenue, to provide an enrichment program for the school curriculum in English, music and art.

The committee has always experimented with different ways of achieving its aim and this year reports it was very successful with the program it developed.

Concerts, showings

In the elementary schools the committee provided concerts and showings to relatively large groups of students to supplement their art and music programs. In the high school, where the curriculum and tastes are much more specialized, the committee established a program with individual classes.

In co-operation with the heads of the English and art departments, the committee brought actors and artists to various classes to give the students a chance to see and discuss with professionals what they were learning.

The actors who explained Shakespeare and the artists who explained particular techniques to students contributed, the report says, to the students' learning experience and encouraged the teachers.

In addition to supporting the request for a grant, the school board also voted to send a letter of thanks to Mrs. Elson for her work as chairman of the fine arts committee.

Two letters before board

Two letters were presented to the Westmount School Board at its regular May meeting Monday night.

The first was from Niagara College requesting any printed material, slides or films the board might have available for their use in research into consumer and family education. The matter was referred to the board's public health committee.

The second letter from Dr. A. Lapin concerned a request to have his two sons transfer from Westmount Park to Roslyn School. This issue was referred for discussion in committee of the whole.

22 for WHS

Monday evening Westmount School Board gave approval for 22 students from Victoria School to attend grade seven at Westmount High next year, where they can specialize in music.

New marking rules backed

At its Monday night meeting, Westmount School Board gave approval of Chairman Dr. Stanley French writing to the minister of education to support the PSBGM stand on a new marking system for graduating high school students.

The plan, to start in June 1973, would allow school marks to count for up to 50 per cent of the total marks needed to leave high school. This would decrease the value of the final departmental examinations.

McGill awards local students 6 scholarships

Six students from Westmount schools have been awarded early entrance scholarships to McGill University for next fall.

David P. Bowler, a Westmount High Student who lives in Notre Dame de Grace, won both a University entrance scholarship and the Sir William Macdonald entrance scholarship, a $450 award.

The other five students won university entrance scholarships in recognition of their academic achievement in high school. They are Robert J. Kandestin, 73 Oakland Avenue of Westmount High; Christopher R. Noble, 4565 Sherbrooke Street West of Selwyn House; Donna K. Fairservice of Pointe Claire and Sakae C. Okuda of Montreal both from Trafalgar School, and Alisa A. Bekoss of Montreal from Westmount High.

Masquerade ball at the Unity Club

There will be a masquerade ball in the Lions Teen Center of the Unity Boys' and Girls' Club tomorrow (Friday) at 8 pm and will be free to all club members. There will be prizes for the best costume. Monday evening there was a staff member vs. club member 'all star' indoor softball game in the Unity gymnasium. After this game, there will be a regular house league softball game.

The Lions Teen Center coffee house has now been completed after many hours of decorating and cleaning. There will be a special event program each Friday evening. This week there will be a folk singer.

Several other new programs have been introduced on a weekly basis in the center. There is an audio visual night, a guest night when there are discussions, and two tournament nights.

The inter-street indoor softball league has become very competitive and exciting. In the Bantam League there are teams representing nine streets, with more boys trying to get together teams to represent their streets.

The teenage girls have formed a softball team under the coaching of staff member France Charbonneau. They will be interested in games with other girls, teams ranging from 13-17 years old.

Free bus service

For the junior members ages 6 to 12, there will be free bus service to the club on Saturdays. The bus will pick up all of the children of that age who live in the St.

Henri area and bring them to the club. The bus will have signs on its sides and pass through the streets between 12 and 1 pm arriving at the club before 1:30. When the bus arrives there will be gymnasium, arts and crafts and games room programs. Last Saturday, the younger members were treated to a hot-dog Bar-B-Q which was sponsored and carried out by the Unity Leo's Club. The Leo's Club supplied the food with the money that they made from their last car wash.

On Sunday, May 14, five boys and one staff member will sleep at Unity and leave at 5 am Sunday on a fishing trip to Beauharnois.

On Saturday, the Unity Leo's Club will sponsor another car wash from 11 am to 4 pm and the cost at 75 cents, at 1090 Greene Avenue.

Chateau fire is contained

Westmount fire department managed to contain a fire in a storage area in the Chateau Maisonneuve apartments, 4998 de Maisonneuve boulevard early Friday evening.

The fire, reported at 6:40 pm, broke out in a garbage storage area near the 13th-floor garbage chute but was brought under control before it could spread. The cause was not immediately known.

Girl age 3 struck by car

A girl not quite 4 years old was not badly hurt when she was struck by a car near her home late Friday afternoon.

A 1971 Dodge driven by David Vineberg, 30, of Montreal was proceeding west on Montrose Avenue near Aberdeen Avenue when Victoria Galeotti ran out on to the street from behind a moving van parked on the street.

The young girl was hit just before the car could stop. She was taken to the Montreal Children's Hospital by Westmount Police patrol car but was released after a check.

There are 200 known causes of mental retardation; in many cases the cause is still unknown.

Disabilities in learning Roslyn topic

Learning disabilities in children will be the major topic of discussion Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Roslyn Home and School Association.

Mrs. Beatrice Wallerstien, who has been conducting learning disability tests at Roslyn and other schools, will be present to answer parent's questions. Films on the topic will be shown.

Also at the meeting, the last one before the summer holidays, the new executive will be elected. The meeting is at 8 pm at the school.

Obscured view writes off car on Dorchester

A car parked on the north side of Dorchester boulevard at Clandeboye avenue was damaged beyond repair early Saturday evening when it was hit by another car.

The 1966 Plymouth was struck from behind by a 1966 Chevrolet driven by Antonio Goiani, 27, of Montreal. His car suffered over $500 damages.

The accident occurred when Goiani was prevented from proceeding west on the left side of the westbound lane by a car waiting at the intersection to turn left into Clandeboye. He swung to the right of the waiting vehicle to be confronted by a group of pedestrians crossing de Maisonneuve in his path. To avoid striking them he continued to the right, plowing into the parked car.

The mishap was one of three to occur this week on Dorchester between Atwater and Greene.

The Negro Community Centre, a Federated Appeal agency, provides social, recreational, cultural and educational services, programs and activities for children and teenagers.

HISTORIC ANNIVERSARY: Thirty-five years ago tomorrow, on May 12, 1937, while Mayor John Jenkins was in London representing the city at his own expense at the Coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, Pro-Mayor George S. Currie and the rest of the aldermen planted six oak saplings in Murray Park (now called King George Park). Above are the trees as they looked this week, tall and healthy though not yet into leaf. At left is the commemorative plaque mounted on a large stone (just beyond boy and dog in picture above).

Planned strategy for industry urged

Canada badly needs a well-planned national industrial strategy to help achieve national independence before it implements controls on foreign investment.

This was the case put forward by Michael A. Meighen, Progressive Conservative candidate for Westmount in the next Federal election, as he spoke to the closing Brotherhood breakfast at Temple Emanu-El last Saturday.

Mr. Meighen was speaking to the group on the steps Canada could take to improve on its present economic relations with the United States. To help Canada, he said, "A national industrial strategy should seek to achieve national independence sufficient to preserve Canadian initiative and rising standard of living sufficient to preserve political stability and national unity."

He declared that no such strategy now exists, nor has existed for the last 15 years. Legislation such as tax reform, unemployment insurance, labor code amendments and the Competition Act, he charged, were not part of a plan but simply individual bills with no coherence.

Gray: 'Nothing'

Government action on the Gray report on foreign investment in Canada was quickly written off. "It's nothing," he said.

A national industrial strategy as envisaged by Mr. Meighen will help Canada overcome the influences of the United States and strengthen both Canada's economy and sovereignty.

Aspects of this strategy that would have to be worked out with the complete co-operation of both government and industry would include negotiated trade pacts with the major trading blocs and a development of the country's service industries.

Regulation of foreign investment, Mr. Meighen said, should come only after this strategy is developed. At that time, he says, it must be done so that the gains for Canada will justify the costs.

ON PARADE: The Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada will hold its annual church parade downtown Sunday from the Bleury street armory at 2:30 pm to the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul. Leading it will be Lt.-Col. S.F. Angus, 616 Belmont avenue, commanding officer for the past 18 months. Following the return to the armory about 4:30 pm he will relinquish command to Lt.-Col. Leonard Ferdon, 37, 4300 de Maisonneuve boulevard west.

RMR
marches
Sunday

The annual church parade of the Royal Montreal Regiment, cadets and legion will be held Sunday from the regiment's armory at 4625 St. Catherine street to St. Matthias Church for services and back again to the armory.

The parade will begin at 10:30 am and proceed to the church via St. Catherine street, Metcalfe avenue and Cote St. Antoine road. It will return by the same route after the 11 am service.

Participating in the parade will be the RMR cadet corps and members of Branch 14 (RMR) Royal Canadian Legion as well as cadet corps from Pointe Claire and Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

The salute will be taken at Park place and St. Catherine street by the honorary colonel of the RMR.

Car wash

The 4424 youth committee is holding a car wash on Saturday between 9 am and 5 pm at the Gulf station, 250 Victoria avenue, corner de Maisonneuve. All proceeds will go to the Westmount Youth Centre and workshops.

Theatre moves

Youtheatre, formerly located at 4175 St. Catherine street west in Westmount, has moved to 1583 St. Lawrence boulevard in Montreal.
