

INITIAL SESSION OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE, LASTING ONE HOUR, WAS DEVOTED TO PRELIMINARIES

No Business Was Done Except Arranging a Programme—No Immediate Armistice is Likely—Feeling of Optimism is Growing—Views of a London Times Correspondent

Portsmouth, N.H., August 9.—The first session of the peace conference between the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries has been concluded. The meeting lasted about one hour, during which time the credentials of each mission were examined respectively by the other. The credentials were found to be entirely satisfactory.

After the conference the envoys spent some time in their respective offices, leaving the general stores building shortly after noon. They returned to Newcastle by launch. Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira were the first to leave the navy yard landing.

Portsmouth, N.H., August 9.—The day which was to bring the initial meeting of Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries at the navy yard here began delightfully as far as weather conditions were concerned.

An awe-stricken lobby of Windsor Hotel habitués had the pleasure yesterday evening of seeing Mr. William Travers Jerome, district attorney of the city of New York, register his name in the big book at the desk, run upstairs to the dining room, and then return to his quarters in an hour later, to receive a telegram from a bellboy, make a dash for the elevator, and five minutes later plunge into a cab and thunder at top speed to the junction, at all costs to catch the last train for New York.

GRAND LODGE I.O.O.F. AT BROCKVILLE, END IN MARCH

Order is in Flourishing Condition.

Brockville, August 9.—(Special.)—The grand lodge of Ontario, I. O. O. F., is in session in Brockville to-day. This is the fiftieth anniversary of its institution, and the public finds the order in a flourishing shape. The report of E. B. Butterworth, grand master, referred to the establishment of associations of Oddfellows in large centres, whose objects are as well to promote the principles of the order as to bring into mutual intercourse socially as well as in the lodges, members of the order resident in these cities whose homes are elsewhere.

FISCAL YEAR WILL END IN MARCH

Dominion Government Has Decided to Make the Change

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—(Special.)—It is understood that the Dominion Government has decided to change the fiscal year to end with March instead of June as at present. This will not only be more satisfactory as regards trade and financial returns, but will permit of Parliament meeting at an earlier date. The intention is after the next session to summon Parliament in November, and the departmental reports will be ready by that time. If the fiscal year ended with June this would not be true.

THIRTEEN DEAD BODIES FOUND

But Double That Number Remains in Ruins of Store.

LATEST DETAILS OF HORROR

Fifty Women Employes Still Unaccounted For—A Thorough Investigation Will be Made Into Disaster.

Albany, N.Y., August 8.—This morning found 200 men still toiling over the wreckage of the John G. Myers Co., departmental store where twenty-four hours ago occurred the saddest catastrophe in the history of old Albany. Thirteen dead bodies many maimed almost beyond recognition have been taken from the ruins thus far and one woman died after being carried to the hospital. The known death list, which last night numbered only five, has been more than doubled by the addition of the following, all employes:

Winifred Kelly, Mary McAvoy, died at hospital. Anna Cashman, Theresa Shannbauer, Mrs. Sprague, who was one of the Grace B. Ener, Helen Malons, John E. Powers, cash boy.

In addition to these it is almost certain that fifteen or twenty bodies still remain in the twisted mass of beams, wires, plaster, brick and iron that was once the main portion of one of the city's largest stores. In all, thousands of dollars worth of goods. A day's work by skilled hands has resulted in removing barely half the debris.

Shortly after daybreak the searchers found the twelfth body. It was that of Miss Helen Malone, a young girl who had been in the cashier's gallery in the main floor with Anna Whitback and Minnie Bullman and Alice Sharp, and was crushed beneath the same iron girder that killed her three companions. Others in the above list were carried out of the ruin between the hours of two and five o'clock this morning. At one o'clock the body of Miss Kelly was found and identified.

FOOD SUPPLY IN TIME OF WAR

Commerce is Best Guarantee of Neutrality by Rivals.

A NOVEL THEORY ADVANCED

In Report of Royal Commission on Food Supplies—Supplies From the Colonies Are Not Indispensable.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Aug. 8.—Paragraph 94 of the report of the Royal Commission on Food Supplies in Time of War says: We also regard the present variety of the sources from which our supplies are drawn as likely to contribute to our advantage in time of war since their wide geographical distribution must tend to minimize the risk of active interference with our imports. From this point of view the recent decline in exports from the United States and its effect on our imports is of considerable moment. It may also be said that the more numerous the neutral powers supplying our wants the less probable is any violation of international law by our enemies. There is, therefore, a certain advantage to us in the fact that the supplies of our principal foodstuffs are drawn in greater proportion from foreign countries than from British possessions.

The Westminster Gazette says: We look in vain in the minority reports to find this position seriously challenged. There is the most cogent Imperialist argument against a policy of Colonial preference.

CANADIAN BISHOP'S DAUGHTER TO PLAY HERE

The stage of His Majesty's Theatre will be trod early this season by the daughter of a Canadian bishop. Miss Mary Hamilton, whose father is the Rev. the Lord Bishop of Ottawa, has been engaged by Mr. E. S. Willard for the American tour, which he will open in this city towards the end of September. English despatches announce that a performance of Sudermann's "Die Ehre," given at the Criterion in London by the pupils of Legrant's Dramatic School, in which Miss Hamilton took part, led to the engagement by Mr. Willard.

Miss Hamilton, who had long been known as one of the most gifted and temperamental of the amateur players of society both in Hamilton, where she spent her girlhood, and in Ottawa, decided somewhat over a year ago to devote herself entirely to the stage. She studied for a time in New York before going to London.

Dorion admitted having taken the money and stated that he had stolen some on Monday night on several occasions. He appeared in the Police Court this morning and was remanded for enquete on August 15th.

THE TWO KERNICKS MUST STAY IN TRIAL BEFORE CRIMINAL COURT

Testimony of Victoria Girard at Inquest Added Further Mystery to Pointe Claire Tragedy—Refusal of Prisoners to Take Oath Led to War Between Counsel.

Instead of any new light being thrown upon the death of Joseph Dorion Mitchell, who was shot at Pointe Claire last night, the issue was even further clouded. Both the accused Kernicks refused, on the advice of their counsel, Mr. P. Cooke, to give evidence, or even to swear, so that only one witness of the tragedy, Mrs. Girard, was examined.

"I SAID I WOULD TELL THE TRUTH." At this Kernick said, "You are not going to say Dorion was going to the other island—there is going to be trouble about this drowning of Dorion, and you went out in the boat and got lost; but I said I would tell the truth, and then Kernick swore at me, saying I would sell them, and told me to go to hell."

Witness—Yes, he was crying and saying "don't care." If I must "go to hell" I will go to hell, but the police won't shake. You just see, I shall be accused over this thing.

FRED. ABRAHAM, Sec.-Treas. MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 9.

TWO VOICES. Well, well, well! Have the President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the editor of 'The Canadian Manufacturer' different views on what our manufacturers want? It would so appear.

The Canadian Gazette, of London, reports Mr. George, President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, as assuring British Ministers that Canada did not dream of asking for a protective tariff against the United Kingdom.

This sounds a good deal like the Halifax declaration of the Manufacturers' Association in favor of a British preferential tariff coupled with adequate protection to Canadian industries.

Not so the editor of 'The Canadian Manufacturer' in its issue of August 4, this periodical makes the following emphatic answer to Mr. George:

'If there is anything that Canadian manufacturers generally or in any other way dream of and hope for, and are determined to have, if possible, it is a protective tariff against the United Kingdom, as well as against all other countries.'

There is not a word to be said against our manufacturers frankly arguing in favor of protection. There is much that might be said against attempts to convince the British people that Canada is prepared to make valuable concessions to British manufacturers.

WHAT MR. WHITNEY HAS NOT DONE.

There must be times in these responsible and office-holding days when the Hon. James P. Whitney regrets the fervor of some of his utterances in the long years of his responsibility.

A few days ago one of Mr. Whitney's journalistic friends happened to read over the speech in which the then leader of the Opposition characterized the subsidy to the Georgian Bay branch of the G. T. P. as a crime slightly worse than murder.

Mr. Whitney was about to cancel the agreement. Since then a certain section of his party has been crying to him day and night to cancel the G. T. P. agreement, or at least to bulldoze the railway, by the threat of cancellation, into making some 'concessions.'

At yet more extraordinary change of attitude on the part of the whole Conservative party is to be noted in connection with the Sault loan guarantee. It is true that Mr. Whitney and his followers failed to stampede the province on that issue as they did on some others, but that was not the fault of any feebleness of language on the part of the leader or his press. It was due to the fact that the province had an abiding faith in the Sault industries and was perfectly willing to back them up in their hour of trial; and in part to the commanding reputation of the men who were associated with the reorganization. To-day the Sault loan guarantee is accepted on its merits as one of the wisest acts the Ross Government ever performed, and, in view of the extraordinary nature of the temporary opposition to it, one of the most courageous. The worst of the Toronto News can say about it now is that the reorganization would probably have been eventually effected without it. Mr. Whitney has followed the dictates of wisdom rather than consistency, and is administering the policy of Mr. Ross in a spirit of entire friendliness to the corporation as far as he is concerned.

OUR TROOPS IN THE STATES. The visit of an Ottawa regiment to New England appears to have been an extremely satisfactory piece of international merry-making all round. The Canadian troops were honored, admired and appreciated. Nobody said anything foolish or expressed an ambition for an alteration of the status quo between the two nations; but everybody came away with an increased respect and friendship for his neighbor.

Under these circumstances—which are the natural accompaniment of such events, and would be the inevitable accompaniment but for the tendency of a few fools to utter folly and many other fools to take that folly seriously—there is no justification for the back-up attitude of some Canadian newspapers, which yearned for the calling off of the whole affair because of a small constitutional difficulty raised in the State of Massachusetts. Massachusetts was not the host of the Canadian soldiers, or it would certainly have been guilty of the discourtesy of inviting them without making proper legal provision for their reception. Finding that a neighboring state had extended its hospitality to a contingent of foreign soldiers, it seems to have done all that it constitutionally could in the recess of its legislature to make their transit through its borders a comfortable and honorable one.

To ask that a standing legal enactment regarding the carrying of arms, whose counterpart exists in our own country except that it can be suspended by a permanent authority and not by parliament alone, be regarded as an intimation that our troops are not welcome across the border, is the height of false pride. Canadian dignity is not so delicate as to need solicitude of that kind.

AN ANTIPODEAN WORLD'S FAIR.

During the summer of 1906-07 the New Zealand Government will hold a great international exhibition at Christchurch, in the district of Canterbury, New Zealand. Very elaborate preparations are being made to secure the success of this first attempt to hold such a World's Fair in the Antipodes as will attract business men as well as tourists from all quarters of the globe. Distances do not mean what they did a generation since, and there seems no reason to doubt the success of an undertaking which is likely to have the support of the Australasian community as well as the New Zealanders. It is quite probable that a considerable extension of intercolonial trade between the different portions of the Empire may result from such a successful exhibition; the growth of Canadian trade with Australasia and New Zealand has received a great impetus during the last five years, and our steamship passenger lists show how largely an increasing number of travellers from the land of the Southern Cross traverse the continent on their way to or from Europe.

The Voice of Peace.

(James Whitcomb Riley, in the Reader.) Though now forever still Your voice of jubilee— We hear—we hear, and ever will The Bell of Liberty! Clear as the voice to them In that far fight agone Pealed from the heavens o'er Bethlehem, The Voice of Peace peals still!

Str all your memories up, O Independence Bell, And pour from your inverted cup The song we love so well. As you rang in the dawn Of Freedom—told the knell Of Tyranny—ring on—ring on! O Independence Bell!

Ministers Who Sleep in the House.

(Westminster Gazette.) Mr. John Dillon's hint in the Commons during the Irish Education debate that Mr. Walter Long, the Chief Secretary, was asleep recalls an amusing incident in the Parliamentary career of the late Lord Coleridge when he was Solicitor-General in 1870. The late Mr. Newdegate was introducing his favorite topic of Conventual and Monastic institutions in that year, and when he came to the case of an Irish nun for whom Mr. Coleridge had appeared in the Queen's Bench he discovered that the distinguished lawyer was asleep.

Mr. Newdegate's remarks on the occasion were more rounded in form than those in use in these electric days in the Commons. 'I am,' said Mr. Newdegate, 'that the Solicitor-General is sleeping. The Solicitor-General is asleep at this moment; the only occupants of the Treasury Bench who seem inclined to sleep, I have no doubt that the Solicitor-General deserves his repose, and I feel that an apology is due from me for disturbing it.' A minister who does on the Treasury Bench need expect no apology now when awakened from his slumber.

THE AUTO IN THE COUNTRY

Editor, Herald:—Sir,—The most crying grievance in the rural parts of the country is the means of locomotion. These who favor this means of locomotion say it has come to stay, and we who own and use horses must face their situation. What is the situation? Country roads—unlike city streets—are narrow—very narrow in many places—barely wide enough to admit of two vehicles passing one another, and are flanked by either deep ditches, where the nature of the soil will admit of digging, or by large stones and boulders. In the cities the horseman may give a wide berth to the approaching auto, in the country—he is up against it, so to speak. He must pass close to it or leave the highway (he leaves the highway and drives on to the grounds adjoining when he can do so and the new on with contentment.)

The despotic despotism of ancient times were more considerate of those who used the highways than these modern despots. In the cities horses readily become accustomed to the cars, automobiles etc., from the familiarity with which they are met. There are also a thousand and one other details for a horse which readily accustom him to the general excitement and bustle, and he pays little attention to the auto. In the country the contrary is the case. Everything which there is nothing to divert the horse's attention from the approaching auto. The sound of the horn arouses his nervousness and the sneaking stealth of the machine as it approaches with increasing terror, and he turns completely round in the road, ready to die of fright.

This is not so always, but it has been so in a great many cases, and the result is that one never meets an auto without the fear of a smash-up. Many villagers are selling their driving horses, and such a thing as going alone for a drive, or of farmers wives and daughters driving to the villages alone to do shopping, is becoming almost a thing of the past. There is no more an unalike pleasure, there is always the danger of meeting one of these hideous-looking things, with the above results. Our roads have been constructed by the proprietors of the land through which they run, and were and are adapted for use for which they were constructed. They are wide enough and safe enough for our citizens if horses are the motive power used—they are not wide enough and they are not safe if automobiles are used and driven according to the present practice. I do not advocate the prohibition of automobiles in our country roads—I quite approve of them when driven with due regard for the rights and safety of others—but what I wish to ask is who should have the preference, if preference there should be, and I maintain there should be, the driver of the horse or the driver of the auto? The horse is an absolute necessity to the inhabitant of the rural sections of the country, and is one of the greatest sources of pleasure to many who do not require him for business. Without the horse, agriculture, the chief industry of the province and country, would be impossible unless we return to the ox team, and those who could not afford the luxury of an automobile would have to make their outings on foot. Surely every preference and every protection should be given to those to whom the horse is a necessity, and to whom the auto is at present a crying menace.

A law was placed upon our statute book in 1903 which regulated the speed of such motor vehicles, and which required them to stop at the signal of a horseman in order to lessen the danger of passing, but this law has been almost universally ignored. What more shall and must be done to assure the safety of our people in the legitimate use of the auto upon our highways when it is an absolute necessity, and the breeding and raising of which has received, and is receiving national encouragement? Those who have been personally up against this question do not realize how serious it has become. Surely the safety of those who use horses should outweigh the mere pleasure of, and inconvenience to those who ride in motor vehicles. I certainly do not believe in the protection of the representative of the people. I consider it my duty to exercise such powers and influence as I possess to assure to the safety of our population the protection which they are entitled to. I solicit from the general public personal communication of their experiences and opinions upon this problem. My excuse, Mr. Editor, for trespassing upon your valuable space is that I feel this to be a very large number of your readers are vitally interested in this question, and I thank you in anticipation for the insertion of this communication.

Yours very truly, J. C. McCORKILL, Sweetsburg, Que., Aug. 7th, 1905.

Claude Monet

Every great master in any art has his days of struggle, adversity painstaking efforts to attain to a perfection of expression, more faithful to truth than to accepted theories of past masters. Claude Monet, the greatest 'impressionist' painter of the present day, has been no exception to this rule. Living to-day in affluence and luxury, in his home at Giverny, France, he can recall days of uphill struggle against adverse public opinion, and pecuniary embarrassment, in which he fought alone, the very men who now are in the forefront of his admirers. Nothing succeeds like success, and Claude Monet is but another illustration of the truth that the man who fights long enough and hard enough is sure to win, sometime.

Yet Claude Monet can recall the time when the Empress Eugenie requested that his canvases be removed from public exhibition, as they shocked her nerves; when Cleveland declared one of his pictures 'a blank canvas purchased from any dealer and put in a frame—nothing more—absolutely nothing! One may gaze, one may scribble,' when the comic papers laughed at him and the critics ridiculed him; and when the art world condemned him, along with Evaristo Ribera, Morisot, Renoir, Cezanne and Degas, as the insane devotee of preposterous theory.

He was fifty-two years old when the first exhibition of his work was held in the Botolph Club of Boston, in March, 1872. At that time twenty-one of his pictures were owned in Boston, in 1891 a collection of his works was exhibited in the Georges Petit Galleries in France. Many exhibitions have been held since then, in different cities, but the most interesting that held in Copley Hall in Boston, when ninety-five canvases were exhibited, representing almost every period of the artist's career, and containing many of his 'Series' pictures, paintings considered so undesirable at one time, but now covered by art enthusiasts on all sides of the water. The village of Giverny, his home, is often crowded by admirers of his work although Monet does not relish heronship and keeps himself as seclusion as far as possible. At the age of sixty-six he has at last attained an indisputable success. His fame is established on an international reputation. His pictures are admired and studied by artists in every land, and amateurs deny themselves to possess his works. He is the only painter who so longed him, the approval of the public, and has the satisfaction of seeing his theories regarding landscape painting received by the highest and most critical, who, at first, could find no expression strong enough to express their disapproval of them.

A Once Great Grain Center.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) A celebration has been held in the country of the enormous traffic of the Erie Canal, and it suggests that superlatives have taken on a new meaning since the canal was first opened fifty years ago. It is interesting to note in connection to revert to the glory of Milan, Ohio, which was beginning to fade when the canal was dug. In the early '40s it was a busy port, and almost lifeless some sixteen miles up the Huron River from the shore of Lake Erie, exported more grain than any other place on this continent, and was surpassed only by the Russian city Odesa. A graphic story in the Toledo Blade tells how in the autumn all roads leading to the city were thronged with farm wagons laden with grain. Farmers would drive in from a distance of more than a hundred miles, and the streets were crowded with them. 'Six or seven hundred wagons would arrive in a single day. As many as twenty sailing vessels would load in food and such as much as 25,000 bushels of grain placed on board.' Additional statistics are given as follows: The value of the exports in 1844 was $225,000, mostly in wheat and flour, and the value of the imports for the same year was $250,000. In 1853 there were 3,700 barrels of salt imported, and in 1855 stoves to the number of 870,000 were shipped. In 1859 410,000

Unjust to Reporters. (New York World.) Mr. George M. Roe, in admitting the authorship of a now famous newspaper letter concerning Representative Chinko of Kentucky, published in the society paper the New Yorker states that it was sent as a private communication to the editor of the Boston Herald, that he was indifferent whether the editor printed the letter or not, and adds: 'That an old newspaper man should mention the incident in connection with the fact of the President's daughter being formally presented to the public in the city, is indelicate as well as natural as it is to inquire a man's occupation and residence when he goes to the witness-stand.' The greater responsibility for the publication concerning Mr. Rhinock rests with the editor who 'passed' it, Robert W. Criswell. And Criswell is dead—in all human probability slain by his own act.

True Merit Rewarded. Every other day a new brand of coffee appears, and every other day several disappear that, like brilliant meteors, have slid through the zenith of publicity to fall back into the infinite land of oblivion. People are easily seduced; they will give them a trial. If the product has some merit, it succeeds; on the contrary, it means ruin. 'MRS. HUOT'S COFFEE' has seen numerous other coffee blends rise with much buzz and disappear quite rapidly under a sign, after a very ephemeral career, and it has continued its upward march under the auspices of the firm E. D. MARCEAU, who are the agents for this brand in Canada. It's its own quality that has created the vogue of 'MRS. HUOT'S COFFEE' and that has assured its success.

First Russian Assembly Since Seventeenth Century Proclaimed.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.—The Russian Assembly, the first gathering together of representatives of the Russian people since Emperor Alexander Michaelovitch, the second of the Romanoffs, summoned the last Zemsky Sobor, in the seventeenth century, will be proclaimed in Saturday next.

The final session of the special commission which has been considering the project as drafted by Minister of the Interior Bouligin and elaborated by the Council of Ministers, was held at Petersburg yesterday. Its verdict upon the project as a whole was favorable.

It is known that special precautions have been instituted for guarding the railroad between St. Petersburg and Moscow by the Russian army.

Samples of Silk Waists For Next Fall.

To be sold at $3.25, instead of $5.00, $8.00, and $9.00.

If there's anything that is well made and made to look its best it is a commercial man's sample. It is the thing he sets up as a standard of perfection—the best that can be done in a certain line. All his hopes of business are wrapped up in it.

On Thursday we shall hold a sale of a full range of just such samples—in Fall Waists.

They were made to secure orders for waists for this fall's wear. Thousands of dollars worth were sold from them. They are the styles-to-be in Taffeta Silk, Beau de Soie, Satin Merveilleux, China Silk and the like, trimmed in an indescribable variety of ways—as becomes samples, there being only one of a kind—and including every color combination imaginable to one of good taste, but made only in sizes 34 and 36 and few 38. Every one is in perfect condition, as shown by the samples of the samples displayed in our windows to-day—which kindly see. Of course they are all lined. - The waists-to-be made from them will be sold at such prices as $5.00 and $8.00 and some even at $9.00 each.

Our sample price on Thursday will be $3.25.

EARLY FALL COSTUMES FROM NEW YORK.

We just had a few of them shipped on in advance to show you what the style is going to be. In this line the coat is tight-fitting and of 3/4 length. We have placed them on view in the window to-day.

Prices are from $32.50 to $45.00.

AN ANGLO-AMERICAN BELT at 29c. SHAPED IN NEW YORK AND MADE IN ENGLAND.

It is said that the English are not very good at designing Ladies' Belts, but are faithful and true in the making of them. We believed that sufficiently to send over an American design for an English maker to copy, with the result that we have the nattiness of New York, combined with the sterling honesty of old England in a Silk Taffeta Belt that we can afford to sell at 29c each. In any color you want.

WE HAVE EVERYTHING THAT THE BABY WEARS

And in gathering them together we have gone on the idea that nothing is too good for the baby—nothing is too dainty. We know that the baby is the monarch of the home and we have prepared ourselves to give it its due in the best of goods and the best of service.

In a quiet and secluded corner of the Annex there is a place where mothers will find something near to their ideals in new Dresses from 50c to $8.50, new Long Skirts from 50c to $4.00, new Short Skirts with waists from 40c to $2.00, new Infants' Robes from $1.00 to $19.00, new Drawers from 12 1/2c to $1.00, new Infants' Slips from 25c to $1.00, new Infants' Knitted Jackets, Knitted Overall, Booties and Flannel Bands, and a dozen and one other things that babies need. We should like you to come and see them for yourselves—it's so much nicer than to read about them in the papers. And surely when you've found the best for baby here, you'll have found it at a price that spells economy.

This store closes daily at 5.30 p.m., except Saturday, during August, when it closes at 1 o'clock.

HERALD DAILY PATTERN

Pattern No. 1130. Sizes 34 to 44 chest. All men hall with delight the season of negligee shirts and their own release, for a time, from the burden of stiff collars and ties. These quantities sold in pretty cottons and wash flannels that fill the shops indicate their popularity, and prettiness of all for a negligee shirt—the beautiful, firm and smooth wash shirt! Any woman who is accustomed to sewing on her own or on children's clothes, can make one of these shirts, the style is very simple and there is really but little work on them. Made of fine cotton they are put on much cheaper but are certain to fit better, particularly the collar band and sleeves which are what a man values most in his negligee shirt. For a man of medium size the shirt will require 5 1/2 yards of material 31, 4 or 35, or 35 1/2 yards 36 inches wide. The pattern 1130 is cut for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inch chest.

HENRY MORGAN & CO. - - Montreal.

IMMIGRATION WORK NEEDED IN HALIFAX

Mr. Ames Says the Way Nova Scotians Go to the U.S. is Shocking.

"If the people of this part of the country knew the advantages of the Maritime Provinces as summer resorts, and would spend their holidays there in greater numbers than they do at present, and if the young folks of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were made aware of the golden opportunities which await them in the Northwest, I think it would be to our mutual advantage."

This is what Ald. H. B. Ames, M.P., said to The Herald yesterday on his return from a three weeks' trip through the Lower Provinces. Mr. Ames said that his visit held no particular significance; that it was undertaken merely so that he might become better acquainted with that section of the country, for which much money was being voted in Parliament, and able to discuss with more intelligence the questions that had particular reference to those provinces. While away he had met some of the M.P.'s in their own constituencies, and had discussed among many of the measures referring to the Lower Provinces which had come up at the last session of Parliament.

Mr. Ames specially deplored the large influx of young Nova Scotians into the United States, particularly in Boston, and suggested that the immigration department should make known to these people the glories of the Canadian West, rather than trying to attract to this country undesirable immigration from Continental Europe.

"Nova Scotia," said he, "is being drained right along of her brightest and best brains, who emigrate, most of them, to Boston and New York. Why, Boston is simply full of Maritime Province people. It is too bad that they cannot be kept in their own provinces, but the pity is still greater that they leave the country altogether and help to build up the neighboring republic. These young people should be taught that, if leave their native provinces they must, there is a glorious land out West, a veritable Promised Land, which awaits them with open arms to confer their riches on them.

"As a remedy to the present state of things I think that if the immigration department would devote some of its money to an endeavor to deviate the stream of immigration from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to the Northwest, instead of letting it flow into the United States, and instead, also, of attracting to Canada immigrants of a very doubtful character from Southern Europe, I think the country would greatly benefit by it."

CANADIAN TRADE AGENTS REPORT ON PROSPECTS

Mr. Kittson Finds That Many Canadians in South Africa are in Poor Circumstances.

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Mr. Kittson, Canadian trade agent in South Africa, in a private note to the department, says that he has seen much destitution in South Africa among Canadian out of employment. Work is very difficult to obtain, and hundreds of natives are on the verge of starvation. Many have applied to the commercial agents for relief.

In his regular report, Mr. Kittson says that there is a market for $40,000,000 yearly in foodstuffs in South Africa. It is one of the largest markets in the world, in regard to the size of population, it is not rivaled by Britain as a market for foodstuffs.

The commercial agent at Leeds, England, emphasizes the fact that all Canadian produce should be branded "Canadian."

The Bristol agent repeats his former injunction that inferior fruit is not wanted in England.

DIED AT HER TYPEWRITER IN BANK OF MONTREAL OFFICE

Miss Hanna Louisa Aird, 43 years of age, who resided at 43 Prospect Avenue, Westmount, died suddenly on Monday afternoon in the office of the Bank of Montreal, where she was employed as stenographer. The medical men who examined the body testified that death was due to natural causes and this morning Deputy Coroner Biron disposed of the case without calling a jury.

MANY WOUNDS FOUND ON FINLANDER'S BODY

St. Johns, Que., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—An inquest was held here on Monday over the body of the Finlander named Henkhen, whose body was found floating in the Richelieu River near here Sunday afternoon. Many witnesses were examined, but without definite result, and the completion of the investigation was adjourned to Thursday night. On the whole the evidence gave rise to the theory of foul play, from the nature of the wounds on the drowned man's head, and the position in which the body was found in the river.

ST. LAMBERT'S TERMS TO M. & S. C. RY. ARE ALL-NIGHT SERVICE AND 5-CENT FARE

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Lambert Town Council was held on Monday evening, at which were present the Mayor, Mr. James G. Reid, in the chair, and Councillors W. H. Hooper, Walter Andrews, E. Ferras, and Stewart McCormick. After routine it was decided to notify the Mail-look estate to clean out, within a delay of ten days, the gully (now a recognized water course) which runs back of Victoria avenue and under Front street as it has become a danger to health and a nuisance to the neighborhood.

The resignation of Councillor Chevay was, after some discussion, unanimously accepted.

The by-law granting a franchise to the Montreal & Southern Counties Railway for an electric road from Montreal to the town was then given its first reading. The principal points are these:

1. A twenty year franchise.
2. The cars must be modern electric cars.
3. Poles and wires to be exempt from a poll tax for the twenty years.
4. Construction to be commenced within seven (7) months; and
5. Cars must be running within nine months.

The city terminus to be at or in Youville Square, Montreal, and the St. Lambert terminus between Lorne and Victoria avenues (the present auto-car garage, for instance, on Aberdeen street).

8. Cars must run only in such streets, avenues or roads as the town council shall determine.

9. Car service to start at 8 a.m. from Youville Square until 9.20 a.m. every twenty minutes; 9.20 a.m. to 5 p.m., every thirty minutes; 5 to 7 p.m., every twenty minutes; 7 to 11 p.m., every half hour.

10. Sunday service—From April to November, 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., every half hour.

11. From November to March 31st (winter service), 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.

12. The maximum for regular rates shall be, adults (single trips), 5 cents; children, 5 to 12 years of age, half-fare, and children under 5 years, free. Scholars fares, half regular rates. All tickets to be good until used and to be transferable.

Night service rates from 12.30 to 5 a.m., not more than double the day fare.

13. The company are to clear the snow from their tracks and likewise for two (2) feet on either side thereof.

14. All rails are to be laid level with street level.

15. Should at any time the company default and remain in such default for thirty days, the town to have the right to take immediate possession.

16. The company to have the privilege of supplying electric light, heat and power.

17. The town will supply water to the company by metre and at the present schedule of rates therefor.

A letter was then read from the Continental Light and Heat Company, offering to supply a plant for lighting the town streets and residences with acetylene gas, which, after discussion, was laid upon the table. After passing some accounts, the council adjourned.

The probability is a special meeting will be called to give the railway by-law its second reading in the near future.

A number of complaints have been made that non-members have been abusing the privileges afforded by the hall.

The usual Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees will be given.

A BROKEN HEART AND PARIS GREEN

Deputy Coroner Biron received a report of a suicide is considered to be a case of suicide as a result of disappointment in a love affair, from St. Hubert this morning.

Urbainine Baillargeon, 19 years of age, who resided with her parents at St. Hubert parish, died last evening from the effects of a dose of Paris green. Mr. Biron received the report from St. Hubert by telephone this morning. It was stated that the young woman had been disappointed in love and had put an end to her existence, but Mr. Biron is inclined to doubt the reliability of this information. He will go to St. Hubert to investigate the case to-morrow.

Less Linens are Wanted

The big business of the past week proves we're taking the right and surest method of reducing stocks. There's a reason for these reductions: When the whole of The Store of Satisfaction is ready for occupancy, it is certain that the quarters of the Linen department, as well as the host of others, will be changed. That will involve transferring the stock—the less stock there is to transfer, the sooner will the task be accomplished.
