POLICE FOIL ATTEMPT TO RELEASE LEADING NAZI HELD IN HOSPITAL

Forty Nazis Made Unsuccessful Attempt to Abduct Dr. Anton Rintelen, Earlier Reported to Have Committed Suicide—Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg Heads New Cabinet, with Von Starheimberg as Vice-Chancellor—Week-End Generally Quiet, Although a Few Clashes Occurred on Yugoslavian Border.

Vienna, July 30.—Forty Nazis early today raided the General Hospital in an unsuccessful effort to abduct Dr. Anton Rintelen, former Austrian Minister to Rome, who was found to be lying there, seriously wounded, despite the original report last Thursday that he had committed suicide.

Rintelen, known to have pro-Nazi leanings, was announced as "New Chancellor" by the Nazis when they assassinated Chancellor Dollfuss last Wednesday. Rintelen was immediately arrested and the announcement was given out that he had shot himself fatally in jail.

Today, when the raiding party entered the hospital, a nurse notified the police, who arrived in time to capture several of the raiders. The rest escaped.

Because of the extraordinary measures of defence against a threatened Nazi "putsch" taken throughout the city last night, the General Hospital temporarily was left without its strong guard while police and Heimwehr members were concentrated around such strategic public buildings as War Ministry and police headquarters.

Restoration rumors flared through the city again today with the arrival of unverified reports from Leoben, near Vienna, that the Hapsburg summer palace was being renovated prior to its re-occupation. It is to be recalled that the late Emperor Charles and the Empress Zita, mother of the Archduke Otto, spent some time there after the revolution of 1918.

A Great War field-marshal was placed under arrest for Nazi activity. He is Karl Bardolf, one-time chief of the military cabinet of the Grandduke Franz Ferdinand. Usually, when the possibility of a Nazi controlled Austrian cabinet has been discussed, the name of Bardolf has cropped up as the possible Minister of War.

Under the leadership of Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, newly-appointed thirty-seven year old Chancellor, the fourth cabinet within a week began its work. Dollfuss was still Chancellor last Wednesday.

For a few hours, was succeeded by Schuschnigg. He in turn yielded to Prince Ernest von Starheimberg as the acting Chancellor. Now Schuschnigg is back in power. He and his fellow ministers appeared before President Wilhelm Miklas in the early morning hours and took the oath of office. Von Starheimberg again serving as Vice-Chancellor.

While Schuschnigg has an army of Catholic storm troops, the semi-military organization which he leads, his Vice-Chancellor could practically checkmate this power by his own control of the police, gendarmes and large Heimwehr force.

If Austria should give its agreement to the appointment of Franz von Papen, German Vice-Chancellor, as Minister to Vienna, it appeared likely that Schuschnigg would have a hard time of it. Von Papen, a Heimwehr man has been appointed Foreign Minister.

The new minister, Egon Berger-Waldeneck, is a strong supporter and subordinate of Von Starheimberg who, in a speech Friday, declared emphatically there can be no compromise with National Socialism on Naziism.

While, on the whole, Sunday was observed as a day of rest by the warring factions in Austria, reports from the Yugoslav border indicated that trouble was still continuing there. At a point near Graz, between Heimwehr men and mobile security police on one side and a group of insurgents, apparently composed of Nazis and Communists, on the other, the skirmish was short-lived, however.

The authorities here, however, are fearful of another Nazi attack, a "putsch" planned for last night, which failed to develop.

Precautions have been redoubled and guns are everywhere in evidence.

The new government headed by Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, an ardent supporter of the slain Dollfuss, is regarded at best as only a continuation of the compromise by which Dollfuss ruled.

Support of the powerful Heimwehr, or Fascist Home Guard, was assured with Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starheimberg, who temporarily led the nation following Dollfuss' death, again as Vice-Chancellor, and Major Emil Fey, Heimwehr leader, Minister of the Interior.

The appointment of Schuschnigg by President Wilhelm Miklas was cheered by Monarchists, with whom he has been identified, although he is a member of the Christian Social party.

Monarchists were reported to have met over the week-end in Switzerland seeking a plan to place Archduke Otto, the Hapsburg pretender, on the throne.

Although Schuschnigg is an outspoken monarchist, it is considered improbable he will take any step to further Otto's cause while the international situation remains unchanged.

A pressing question of foreign policy before the reorganized cabinet is whether or not to agree to the appointment of Franz von Papen as special German envoy to Vienna.

Energetic steps by police and government troops to guard public buildings last night left the public apprehensive. The general police station was turned into a fortress, and barbed wire entanglements were played around the Chancellery.

These preparations followed the death of a police official when he jumped or was thrown from the fourth story of police headquarters. He had been accused of participating in the Nazi "putsch" last Wednesday when the Chancellery

AFRICAN TROOPS ESCORT BODY OF MILITARY HERO

National Funeral Will Be Held for Marshal Louis H. Lyautey, Who Passed Away at Age of Eighty Years.

Nancy, France, July 30.—African troops with whose aid Marshal Louis H. Lyautey built the French colony of Morocco escorted his body today over roads lined with people to the Nancy Cathedral after a simple religious ceremony at Thorey.

The body of the military hero will lie in state here with a marshal's baton and white burnoose on top of the bier until Thursday, when a national funeral will be held. Marshal Lyautey died Friday at the age of eighty.

DEATHS RECORDED IN TODAY'S NEWS

The following deaths were recorded in today's news despatches: Beverly Hills, Calif.—Marie Dressler, 62, most beloved of the screen's actresses.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Didier Pitre, 50, noted figure in the hockey world more than a decade ago and a former member of several professional hockey teams.

Vancouver.—Ernest Hutcherson, 81, who was the first horticulturist at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont.

Toronto.—Mrs. Annie E. Hartney, widow of James Hartney, former agent-general for Manitoba in Toronto.

UNDAUNTED AIRMEN EAGER FOR A SECOND TRIP INTO STRATOSPHERE

Foiled in Their Attempt to Reach New Stratospheric Ceiling when Huge Gas Bag Ripped Open and They Had to Take to Their Parachutes, Three United States Army Airmen Do Not Believe that Another Attempt to Soar Uncharted Heights Will Be Possible Before Next May or June.

Hidrege, Neb., July 30.—Three United States army airmen who took to their parachutes to escape death in the crash of the world's largest balloon twelve miles northwest of here are eager for another venture in the stratosphere.

Captain Albert W. Stevens, scientific observer on the "Explorer" balloon, which failed to reach more than 70,000 feet on Saturday, said, however, another attempt to soar uncharted heights would not be possible before next May or June.

Major William E. Kepner, commander of the flight—from Rapid City, S.D., to Reuben Jochen, Neb., to Reuben Jochen, Neb., and co-pilots Captain Orvi A. Anderson and Captain Stevens were en route back to Rapid City today after an investigation at Kearney, Neb., into the cause of the balloon's failure.

The only instrument saved was the valuable spectrograph, which was sent immediately to the University of Rochester, New York. The salvage was loaded into a motor truck after the close of the investigation, and started for Washington, D.C.

Funds for another attempt to reach the new stratospheric ceiling would have to be enlisted. And whether the U. S. Army Air Corps and the National Geographic Society, which sponsored the attempt, would co-operate in another such undertaking had not been determined.

Friends of the three seekers after a stratosphere record and knowledge as to the queer conditions outside the little world were able to listen to conversation in the gondola during the flight.

When the balloon began to rip open, they heard one of the men remark, "This damn thing has gone nuts."

The balloon slashed by rips about 2,137 feet under the American altitude record set by the Settle flight last year, burst wide open at 5,000 feet and sent the gondola flattening out like a squash toward the ground.

Last of the messages received before the balloon and gondola separated was from Kepner: "We're at 10,000 feet. Ready to jump."

Portholes in the eight foot gondola were opened. Anderson was thrown clear by a jerk of the gondola, his parachute ready to carry him to safety.

Kepner and Stevens clung to the swinging ball, attempting to release the huge chute with which it was crisscrossed to ease the globe earthward with its delicate instruments. Then they saw their efforts were futile. They bailed off—Kepner just in time to have his chute open.

Calm they were from the start of the flight. Calm they remained to the end. With the balloon and its captives a squish toward the ground, they looked out—a slash tore through the bag; precious hydrogen that lifted them, sipping out.

Radioed the pilot: "The bag's beginning to look like a sieve. But, I don't know what we can do about it."

Kepner gave a graphic account of the battle against death.

"We looked through a window and saw a hole 50 feet long," he related. "We sat and sort of waited to see if we were going to come down in the

Murder Of Dollfuss Is Pinned On A Disgruntled Ex-Army Sergeant

Vienna, July 30.—Authorities today pinned the murder of Chancellor Dollfuss to a disgruntled former army sergeant. They announced that Otto Planetta, who was dismissed from military service because of his Nazi sympathies, had confessed firing the shot Wednesday which killed the Austrian leader.

Then the government moved ahead, under the leadership of the new Chancellor, Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, to smash the stubborn resistance of Nazi groups still holding out against government forces in various sections of the country.

EIGHT CANADIAN PREMIERS MEET TO TACKLE UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Important Dominion-Provincial Conference Convened Today with Prime Minister Bennett and Members of Federal Cabinet Getting Down to Hard Business Talk with Representatives of Provincial Governments—Unemployment Relief Expected to Be Only Problem Tackled During Conference.

Ottawa, July 30.—With eight of the provinces represented by their premiers in person, the Dominion-Provincial Conference to deal with unemployment relief convened in Ottawa at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Hon. R. G. Reid, newly-appointed Premier of Alberta, was unable to attend and was represented by Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was accompanied by a large number of his cabinet, but Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor and the official responsible for administration of relief, was absent because of an illness for which he is being treated in a Toronto hospital.

The two-point problem of relief administration and relief costs was to be attacked with a determination to place future operations on a sound actuarial basis so that a gradual reduction might be effected in the amount disbursed commensurate with the improvement in employment.

It was understood relief would be the only subject discussed, at least until it had been disposed of. There were reports that other problems involving Dominion-provincial jurisdiction would be taken up at the request of the provinces.

If these are reached it will be only after the prime objective of the conference has been achieved. Several municipal officials from across Canada, including Mayor Andy Davidson, of Calgary, Alderman W. W. Smith, chairman of the civic relief commission, Vancouver, and Mayor Mills, of Saskatoon, came to Ottawa with the provincial delegations, but they were not invited to set in the conference.

It was understood that with the possible exception of Prince Edward Island the provinces would not oppose any effort to shift the entire cost of direct relief to the shoulders of the provinces and municipalities. Prince Edward Island, it was stated, would be able to carry on unassisted during the summer months, but would require a measure of assistance during the winter.

Provincial premiers were reluctant to discuss the conference in advance as it withheld any comment until the deliberations have been concluded. "Our chief objective," said one provincial minister, "will be to adopt such a system as will guarantee the necessities of life to those deserving assistance, but prevent relief becoming a habit."

Premier J. G. Gardiner, head of the newly-elected government of Saskatchewan and who has been in office only a week, said conditions in his province would be as bad next winter as last. Mitchell F. Hepburn, who became Premier of Ontario a few weeks ago, was full of enthusiasm and energy as he entered the railway committee room in his new role. He was understood to have a concrete plan for presentation to the conference, but its details were not divulged.

To the other provincial premiers, such a comparatively new to office, such conferences have become almost an old story most of them having attended at least one such gathering previously. Hon. L. A. Taschereau, veteran Premier of Quebec, was accompanied by several of his ministers, as was Hon. T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia. Hon. W. J. MacMillan, Prince Edward Island, Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, New Brunswick, and Hon. John Bracken, Manitoba, brought small delegations.

CHICAGO MEAT WORKERS AWAIT STRIKE ORDERS

One Man to Make Decision as to Whether 8,400 Workers Will Strike in Sympathy with Stockyards Employees.

Chicago, July 30.—Almost complete paralysis of Chicago's meat processing industry hinges on the decision of one man.

The 8,400 men employed in the city's major packing plants awaited today only the word of William Collins, organizer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen of North America, to quit their jobs in sympathy with the eight hundred striking stockyard workers.

Collins withheld an immediate decision. Federal mediators worked vigorously for arbitration to end the strike which has tied up operations of the Union Stock Yards for a week.

Both the cattle handlers and their employers, the Union Stockyards and Transit Company, have offered proposals, neither acceptable to the other.

With an embargo on livestock shipments in force since last Monday, operations of the yards are at an unprecedented standstill. A dribbling of animals not barred by the strikers has made up the only receipts.

The following conditions prevail in other United States strike centres: The Pacific Coast longshoremen's strike ends. The dock workers, who walked out May 9th, will return to work on Tuesday at all ports pending arbitration of their grievances, the National Longshoremen's Board announces.

Other Pacific Coast marine workers remain on strike.

At Minneapolis military rule, imposed by Governor Floyd B. Olson following disorders in the truck drivers' strike, faces a possible court test. National Guardsmen patrol downtown streets.

Kohler, Wis., scene of two deaths in a riot resulting from the strike at the Kohler Plumbing Equipment factory, is quiet as six hundred militiamen stand guard.

Great Lakes tugmen at Chicago and Buffalo vote to return to work.

PLAN A NEW TWO HUNDRED INCH TELESCOPE MIRROR

Will Be a Twin of World's Largest "Eye" which Was Poured at Corning, N.Y., Last March.

Corning, N.Y., July 30.—Plans to cast soon a new two hundred inch telescope mirror, a twin of the world's greatest "eye" which was poured here last March, were announced today.

Although the new mirror is planned as a substitute for the first, it means that astronomy will have available two of these cyclopean "eyes," each capable of seeing four times farther into space than the present largest telescope, the one-hundred inch at Mt. Wilson, Calif.

It was decided to cast the second "eye" because it had been found that it will take about as much work to complete the first mirror as to make an entirely new mirror.

D. M. WRIGHT FOR SENATE

Stratford, Ont., July 30.—D. M. Wright, Conservative member in the House of Commons for North Perth, is mentioned in political circles here in connection with appointments to fill vacancies in the Senate. It is expected appointments to the Senate will be announced shortly in Ottawa.

One of the vacancies in the Senate was caused by the death of Senator Dr. J. P. Rankin, of Stratford. Mr. Wright, a Stratford resident, has seen lengthy service on various government commissions and committees.

BRITAIN PLANS NO INTERVENTION TO SAVE AUSTRIAN INDEPENDENCE

British Foreign Secretary Made It Clear Today that His Majesty's Government Is Watching Austrian Situation Carefully, but that No Action Is Called for or Even Contemplated—Threat of Internal Revolt Most Serious Problem at Present Facing New Austrian Government.

DECREASE IN BOTH BIRTHS AND DEATHS

Quebec, July 30.—The vital statistics report issued by the Provincial Health Bureau for the month of May shows that there were 6,149 births in the Province of Quebec as compared with 7,128 births in May, 1933. Deaths in the province during May this year totalled 2,727 against 2,947 for the same month a year ago, while marriages numbered 1,254 this May compared with 1,173 in May of last year.

The possibility of a new revolt in Austria, if the coalition government formed under Chancellor Schuschnigg fails to demonstrate quickly its ability to stamp out the continued guerrilla warfare, was stated authoritatively to be feared by the government.

This, rather than foreign intervention, was regarded here as the principal danger as the new Austrian Government took control.

The danger of a putsch is seen now among the private armies of Austria rather than from the Nazis, whom the British Government was stated to consider completely broken.

The view that the Heimwehr might break with the Catholic Storm Troopers and attempt to seize power alone was discounted, however, on the grounds that a united front will be required as long as any Nazi threat remains.

An official statement issued by the Foreign Office today indicated the Government is no longer alarmed over the situation, informing the British public: "The Foreign Office has no information that British subjects will be exposed to danger or inconvenience in Austria."

It added, for the benefit of British travellers to the continent: "A statement will be issued if there is any change in this situation."

LITTLE CONCERNED OVER THREATENING WAR CLOUDS

Worthing, England, July 30.—Fears that a new European war will grow out of the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria are groundless, Lord Hailsham, Great Britain's Secretary of State for War, said in an address to the Sussex Branch of the British Legion yesterday.

"Millions of men still living who fought in the last war are determined not to see such a horror break out again," Lord Hailsham said.

"Fears have been expressed that the events of twenty years ago may repeat themselves. But these fears are quite groundless."

"Twenty years ago there were many camps in Europe. Today the whole civilized world condemns the outrage of the Nazis, and no nation would have the temerity to challenge the opinion of the civilized world."

Lord Hailsham referred to "the cruel murder of Dollfuss," and described the Austrian Chancellor as "a simple-hearted, courageous, patriotic statesman, a man his country and Europe can ill afford to lose."

ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END TOOK HEAVY TOLL OF HOLIDAY-MAKERS

Fourteen Lost Lives and Twice that Number Injured in Worst Week-End of Season for Accidents in Quebec and Maritime Provinces—Ten Drownings, Two of Them Double Tragedies, Two Automobile Deaths, One Plane Crash and a Falling Rock Swelled Death Toll—Nineteen-Year-Old Granby Boy Among Drowning Victims.

Montreal, July 30.—Fourteen accidental deaths and about twice that number of injuries took a heavy toll of holiday-makers over the week-end to contribute to the worst week-end of the season for accidents in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

Ten drownings, two automobile deaths, one airplane crash and one death by a falling stone swelled the total. Two double drownings occurred. At Ste. Genevieve de Pierrefonds, Que., on the Riviere des Prairies, two sisters were drowned when both were overcome by cramps a short time after their dinner. The dead are Rolande Drouin, seventeen years old, and Gabrielle Drouin, eleven. A companion, Mrs. Emile Raymond, narrowly escaped a similar fate when she attempted to assist them. Seized with cramps, she called for help. Donat McBurnie dove in, fully clothed, and pulled her out.

In the other double drowning Frederick Russell, twenty years old, and his twelve-year-old sister, Beulah, were drowned at Newcastle, N.B. They had gone for swim in the waters of the Miramichi River and both drowned when the brother attempted to help his sister. They were sucked down by a strong undercurrent.

Phil Speller, thirty-two year old Syracuse flyer, crashed to his death in a thick fog near Quebec. He had sent his wife and child on to Montreal by train when he saw flying conditions would be bad.

H. Palardy, forty-five, was drowned when he fell into a deep hole while wading in the St. Lawrence River at St. Joseph de Sorel, Que., and Alphonse Chretien, twenty-three, lost his life in the St. Lawrence River near Repentigny, Que. At Pont Vieu, Que., in the Riviere des Prairies, eleven-year-old Bernard Archambault was drowned when a connecting cord of two improvised floats broke while he was swimming. The other drownings were at Granby, Que., and at New Ross, N.S.

At Granby Paul A. Brodeur, nineteen years old lost his life while bathing in a creek and at New Ross, Ira John Walker, thirty-two, became entangled in water lily plants and was held beneath the surface. He drowned before help could reach him.

At Quebec City, Jacqueline Bedard, four, was killed by an automobile and her small brother, Guy, injured, and Mrs. Mark McLaughlin died of heart seizure brought on by the shock of seeing her husband critically injured in a fall from a step-ladder. McLaughlin is in hospital with a fractured skull.

One man was killed and six others hurt at St. Cesaire, Que. The truckload of ten persons, a baseball team from Montreal, was on its way to play here when it overturned. Alcide Lapointe, twenty-three, died of cerebral hemorrhage.

Albert Beaudoin, thirty-three, of Montreal was killed when his borrowed car crashed into a garage near St. Hyacinthe, Que. He was on his way to see his fiancée, whom he was to marry next month.

At Sydney Mines, N.S., Alexander Hesseme, 24, was killed instantly when struck by a fall of stone in Toronto Mines nearby. He was taken from the stone dead. He leaves a widow and two small children.

St. Hyacinthe, July 30.—Albert Beaudoin, thirty-three years of age, of 15 St. Dominique street, widely-known restaurateur in this city, proprietor of an establishment on Cascades street, lost his life in an automobile crash near St. Pie de Bagot, late Saturday night. Beaudoin, who had sold his own automobile, had borrowed another one from an American friend now spending his holidays in this community, for the purpose of calling for his fiancée at St. Pie de Bagot and bringing her to St. Hyacinthe for the week-end. Scarcely a mile from his destination the motor car in which he travelled alone, crashed into a barn and was wrecked. A nearby farmer found the dying occupant entangled in the broken windshield and roof of the automobile. Beaudoin expired shortly afterwards.

The fatality occurred at 11:30 o'clock, standard time. H. Petit, a farmer, heard the crash and hurried to the scene. The dying man was extricated from the wreckage and rushed into the home of a nearby physician, where he was pronounced dead.

THE WEATHER

THUNDERSHOWERS.

Pressure is high over Manitoba and Hudson Bay, but low over Saskatchewan and the Mackenzie Valley while a moderate depression over southwestern Ontario has caused some heavy thundershowers on the Great Lakes. It was decidedly warm yesterday in Alberta with a few local showers, but mostly fair with moderate temperature in other parts of the Dominion.

Forecast: Moderate to fresh shifting winds; cloudy with thundershowers tonight and part of Tuesday, then clearing; not much change in temperature.

Northern New England: Showers tonight; probably clearing Tuesday morning; not much change in temperatures.

Temperatures yesterday: Maximum, 78; minimum, 56. Same day last year: Maximum 78; minimum, 60.

NEW DEVICE TO AVERT MANY SHIP CRASHES

Father of Wireless Gives Successful Demonstration of Wireless Lighthouse Designed to Aid Navigation Near Harbors.

Santa Margherita Ligure, Italy, July 30.—Marquis Guglielmo Marconi, with a smile of triumph, demonstrated successfully today what he believes to be his greatest invention—a wireless lighthouse.

Even as his invention of the wireless saved thousands of lives through the S.O.S., so, he said, the lighthouse should save hundreds of ships from collision just outside ports.

In the presence of Fascist provincial authorities and newspapermen, Marconi blindfolded, yet successfully, piloted the ocean-going yacht "Electra" into the harbor at Sestri Ligure.

His new apparatus is distributed in several points: First, an ultra-short wave transmission station on a high promontory about three hundred feet above the sea here.

Then there are two wireless lighthouses on large buoys floating at the entrance of the harbor. A little more than three hundred feet apart. Each buoy is equipped with a kind of relay station, being in effect a reflector.

Finally there is a receiving station aboard the yacht which has two kinds of indicators, a dial divided into a red and green section, and a loudspeaker. So long as the ship pursued a direct course for the harbor, the dial stood midway between the green and red sections, but the slightest depression to one side or the other caused a corresponding movement of the indicator.

At the same time the loudspeaker gave two signals, one of high frequency and the other of low frequency. The varying intensity of these two signals indicated to the pilot whether he was varying from the course, and, if so, in what direction.

The transmitting station was broadcasting on a sixty centimetre wave and the broadcast was picked up by the lighthouse and was re-transmitted automatically to the ship.

The ship entered the harbor safely, although Marconi and his captain were guiding it blindly.

The inventor said all harbors would be equipped with such devices within a few years because they permitted safe navigation in fog.

OLD SCOTTISH SOCIETY HONORS NOTED VISITOR

Ramsay MacDonald Made Honorary Member of North British Society of Halifax, Oldest Scottish Society in Canada.

Kentville, N.S., July 30.—In Grand Pre memorial park, Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald was made an honorary member of the North British Society of Halifax, the oldest Scottish society in Canada.

In his brief address of acceptance yesterday the Prime Minister of Great Britain told the delegation that he considered it a great tribute to be enrolled on the honorary list of the 187-year-old organization along with Sir James Barrie, distinguished playwright, and other prominent persons of Scottish birth.

"I came to Nova Scotia to rest, and to appreciate what hardships pioneers went through before they made the land smile, as it is most certainly smiling today," the Premier stated.

He had visited historic Halifax where political leaders had battled to bring responsible government to Nova Scotia, first colony in the Empire to win the fight. Later he motored down the southern shore of Nova Scotia and at Chester gazed on Oak Island where men have been digging for decades in search of Captain Kidd's treasure.

Yesterday he was back in the land of Evangeline and at Grand Pre he was delighted with the fertile dyke-land scenery which unfolded before his eyes. The Premier and his daughter, Isobel, stood under French willows over three hundred years old, sat on the edge of Evangeline's well and lunched in the park tea room.

The chapel, built by French Acadians as a replica of St. Charles Church into which their ancestors had been hurled by British soldiers before being driven into exile, greatly interested the distinguished visitors.

Next the party visited the old Covenanters' church built by New England planters and attended by Sir Robert Borden, Canada's wartime Premier, in his youth.

They drove through the grounds of Acadia University at Wolfville, they hiked over the Dominion Government experimental farm at Kentville, and today they plan another tour through the land of Evangeline.

being crushed by hunger and thirst. The fourteenth member of the crew, young Brady Whynacht, was still at Little Anse, where he and eight others made land yesterday after rowing 120 miles. Preparations were being made to move him to hospital. Antagonism for intervention to injuries received last Tuesday when an air tank blew up on the Lunenburg schooner Astrid W., ripped off the deck and blasted a hole in the side of the vessel.

Whynacht was on the deck of the schooner when the explosion occurred and his oilskins were torn off by the impact. One eye, his face and hands were severely injured.

"Most of us were in our bunks at the time," said Captain Walter Crouse, one of the nine who rescued Little Anse yesterday.

"I awoke to find myself looking out on the water. The explosion had knocked part of the side out—the where I was sleeping.

"We hurried on deck and found Whynacht in pretty bad shape. A plane was being used to drop a life preserver and we took to the boats."

The two dories, five men in one and nine in the other, kept together until Thursday when they separated in the fog.

Tragedy and joy were mixed in the stroke of fate that put the five in the path of the Danish steamship Alsund which picked them up off the Cape Breton coast early Saturday morning.

Had it not been for the fatal illness of a seaman aboard the Alsund she would not have been in the path of the Danish steamship.

Some observers interpreted the fresh precautions to guard government buildings as an indication the situation is considered more alarming than ever.

Confusion between Heimwehr men and government troops has led to at least two skirmishes between them.

Dr. Schuschnigg is a strong Catholic and a determined anti-Nazi. He was Minister of Justice in the Dollfuss cabinet.

He is the son of a general and won decorations for bravery during the Great War. He organized and led the Catholic storm troops. A lawyer, he was elected to parliament in 1927—his first appearance in national politics.

BELIEVE ENGLAND, FRANCE AND ITALY PLAN PROTEST
Berlin, July 30.—Rumors originating in Czechoslovakia that Italy, France and possibly England are considering a joint demarche to the Hitler Government, alleging implication and responsibility in the Austrian crisis, filtered into Berlin last night.

From Munich came even stronger rumors regarding Italy's attitude. Well-informed sources there said Italy will demand dissolution of Hitler's storm troops and the

DIVIDENDS OF MANY CANADIAN FIRMS RAISED

Total Dividend Payments for July, 1934, Are Four Million Dollars Higher than in Corresponding Month Last Year.

Dividend payments by Canadian companies continue to show improvement, with the total for July over $4,000,000 above July, 1933, and $3,000,000 above July, 1932. For the first seven months of the year dividend disbursements show an increase of over $30,000,000 as result of the consistent increase month by month in the current year to-date as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year.

Total distributions for July, 1934, estimated from official declarations, amount to $17,532,095, compared with $13,530,930 in July, 1933, and $14,681,434 in July, 1932. The accumulated total for the year to-date is well over the one hundred million dollar mark at $114,866,305. In the first seven months of 1933 Canadian companies disbursed in dividends $84,324,977, and in similar period of 1932 a total of $102,127,786.

July is a favored month for dividends with Canadian corporations, as it follows the end of the first half of the calendar year, and the list on this occasion is representative of all classes of industry, finance and mining enterprise. As a reflection of the improvement in general conditions, and consequent betterment in earnings, shareholders in the month under review received payments on account of arrears of dividends on preferred shares, bonuses and increased rates of distribution. Niagara Wire Weaving, Riverside Silk Mills and Monarch Knitting are companies which are paying payments on account of arrears of dividends. Extras are being paid by Canadian Industries Bank, Dominion Textile and District Bank. Dominion Textile has increased the quarterly payment from $1 to $1.25 a share, restoring the old annual rate of $5 a share. The disbursement on the outstanding shares of Canadian General Investment has been increased, while Standard Fuel Company is making an initial disbursement of fifty cents a share on the common stock.

Mining companies are again large contributors to the month's total, with payments approximating $4,712,980.

Miss Catherine Lewis, who used to play for Miss Dressler on the stage and in the films, furnishing what the industry knows as "sideline music," will play the piano.

Miss Dressler will be buried in a plum colored taffeta dress—an afternoon dress she liked best of all in her wardrobe.

Officials of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announced the studio would close completely during the service, and studio flags would be at half staff.

The death of the noted actress recalls the popular tribute paid the Canadian trouper on her last birthday.

The yellow gleam from sixty-two candles on a five-hundred pound birthday cake gave a subdued light about the centre table on a movie studio sound stage.

A crowd of one thousand persons, including all of Hollywood's film royalty, two United States senators, the late Governor James Rolph, Jr., and social and cultural leaders, gathered for the ceremony on November 9, 1933—her sixty-second anniversary.

Will Rogers, a life long friend of Miss Dressler, was speaking.

"She is indeed our 'Queen Marie'," Rogers said. Tears gathered in his eyes. "She's a grand old girl, and we love her, and we'll never let her go."

The name "ugly duckling" was self-imposed. Marie said she had always been glad she was born comely.

Although the Heimwehr was disappointed at Prince Von Starheimberg's abandonment of a position which he might have secured in the new cabinet, they are expected to maintain discipline.

The new cabinet is almost identical to the old one.

Schuschnigg was acting Chancellor for a few hours following Dollfuss' death, but yielded to the Starheimberg, who commanded the Heimwehr and army forces in the mop-up drive against the Nazis.

Reports which caused alarm were circulated here, including one that Yugoslavian and Italian troops might march on Austria.

Some observers interpreted the fresh precautions to guard government buildings as an indication the situation is considered more alarming than ever.

Confusion between Heimwehr men and government troops has led to at least two skirmishes between them.

Dr. Schuschnigg is a strong Catholic and a determined anti-Nazi. He was Minister of Justice in the Dollfuss cabinet.

He is the son of a general and won decorations for bravery during the Great War. He organized and led the Catholic storm troops. A lawyer, he was elected to parliament in 1927—his first appearance in national politics.

BELIEVE ENGLAND, FRANCE AND ITALY PLAN PROTEST
Berlin, July 30.—Rumors originating in Czechoslovakia that Italy, France and possibly England are considering a joint demarche to the Hitler Government, alleging implication and responsibility in the Austrian crisis, filtered into Berlin last night.

From Munich came even stronger rumors regarding Italy's attitude. Well-informed sources there said Italy will demand dissolution of Hitler's storm troops and the

SUSPECT HELD IN SLAYING OF MILL WORKERS

Police Believe They Have Solution to Series of Strange Slaying of Three Men and Wounding of a Fourth.

Steubenville, O., July 30.—Police believe they have the answer today to the series of strange killings at the Wheeling Steel Corporation Mill.

A forty-nine-year-old Great War veteran, arrested yesterday, was carrying, strapped to his waist, a .8 calibre special revolver which ballistics experts said was the weapon used in the slaying of three men and the wounding of a fourth.

The suspect, a worker at the mill, gave the name of David Dasciano, alias Dascio. He said he carried the revolver for his protection, insisting: "I no shoot nobody."

In their long questioning of Dasciano, police asked him if he killed any Germans in the war.

"No," he replied. "They all ought to be killed."

Three of the four victims here had German names.

Dasciano was arrested by officers who had been watching his actions since January 30th, when Fred Melshelmer was shot down. Melshelmer, on the mill property, was wounded on the mill property. Three months later, James Barnett, another mill employee, was shot and wounded in the darkness around the plant. He is recovering.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET

Montreal, July 30.—Offerings on the two Montreal livestock markets today totalled 5,086 head.

Cattle receipts amounted to 1,610 head. There was a comparatively heavy offering of cattle. Early sales amounted to less than two hundred head. Among these were about four loads of medium and good steers, sold at prices ranging from $4 to $5.25 and one load of fat bred western cows at $3.

The price of $5.50 was offered and refused for two loads of the best cattle on the market. A few steers in small lots sold to butchers ranging from $1.60 for thin light kinds to $4.75 for steers of medium to good quality. A large percentage of the offering was made up of unfinished cattle and cattle of poor type, for which there was a very limited enquiry. Up to time of writing there were not enough sales to form a basis for quotations.

Calf receipts were 1,387 head. Calf quotations were unchanged from last week. Trading was fairly active. Good calves were from $4.50 to $5 with the bulk between $4.50 and $4.75. Medium kinds were from $4 to $4.25 and common light veals were around $3. Drinkers ranged from $2.75 to $3.25. Grassers were sold for $2 to $2.50, with the bulk between $2.25 and $2.50.

Quotations good and choice veal, $4.50 to $5; common and medium, $2.75 to $4.25; grassers, $2 to $2.50.

Sheep receipts were 1,926. Lambs were lower. Two loads of lambs were delivered on former contract at $6.50, with culls out at $4.50. Fresh sales were made very slowly and up to 10:30 a.m. less than six hundred lambs were sold. Lambs of good quality brought $6 with culls out at $4. Sheep were from $1.50 to $3.

Hog receipts were 1,063 head. Hogs were fully twenty-five cents lower. About fifty per cent of the hogs on sale were feeders, weaners and sows. Sales were very slow. The few early sales made were at $9 for bacon, fed and watered, with $1 per hog premium on selects. Heavy butchers and lights were $8.50 and sows $5.50 to $6.50, with an odd top up to $7. Feeders were not moving.

The three place Cardinals bumped Pittsburgh around to the tune of nine to five.

After winning the opener by five to two behind Ed Brandt's seventh inning hurling, the Braves got the benefit of a one-hit game by Phil Rhee and won by one to nothing when Pinky Whitney drove home Randy Moore with the only run young Johnny Babich allowed.

Country and Dairy Products Prices
Montreal, July 30.—The local butter market was firm again at the week-end, and dealers were unable to report a fairly steady demand. The general run of quotations was from 19 1/2c to 19 7/8c for No. 1 pasteurized creamery butter, while in some instances a shade higher was mentioned. The price to the retail trade is being advanced this morning by 1c a pound, the quotations today being 21c for solids and 22c for prints.

There was no change in the cheese market at the week-end, demand being just sufficient good to hold prices close to recent levels. For westerns, the market was generally given as 10 3/8c to 10 1/2c, while Quebec was quoted at 10c, with the odd quotation a shade lower.

The egg market was unchanged, with a large quotation at 21c to 22c on a carlot or l.c.l. lot basis. A mediums fetched 20c to 20 1/2c, B's 19c and C's were quoted at 18 1/2c to 19c. The market to the retail trade was unchanged, as follows:

Grades Cartons Loose
A-1 28c 27c
A-large 26c 25c
A-medium 25c 24c
B 24c 23c
C 22c 21c

No change was reported in dressed poultry prices at the week-end, the following levels, B's being 2c below A's, remaining in effect:

Milked chickens 26-29c
Selected chickens 24-27c
Fowl 16-19c
Turkeys 21-28c
Broilers 25-28c
Geese 24-27c
Brome Lake Ducklings 24-26c
Domestic ducklings 18-21c

The potato market was unchanged. New arrivals continue heavy, and the current price is around 45 to 50c per 80-lb. bag, new Quebec brands.

less than 300 feet a minute. "When we got down to 2,000 or 2,000 feet above sea level, the pressure inside and outside balanced so we opened the portholes. As we arrived at the 8,000 foot level we heard another rip and saw the whole bottom of the bag tear out. The top of it became a perfect parachute and we were coming down about 800 feet a minute, which is not necessarily considered dangerous.

"As we no longer had a balloon," Anderson continued, "but only a parachute we could not help matters by laying in the gondola, so we agreed to bail out to lighten its load in the hope it would come down

JOINT MEETING HELD BY W.M.S. AT SCOTSTOWN

Scotstown, Lingwick and Gould
Station Organizations Met—
Other Items of Interest from District.

Scotstown, July 30.—A united meeting of the Women's Missionary Societies from Scotstown, Lingwick and Gould Station was held at Sherman's Lodge at Emberton. Thirty-five ladies were present. The meeting was opened by the president of St. Andrew's W.M.S., Mrs. Watt Smith, who gave an interesting talk on "We would see Jesus." Mrs. A. A. MacKenzie read the devotional leaflet "At the Cross," ending with an interesting poem entitled "Wait." Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, of Lingwick, vice-president of the Presbyterian ladies, gave an address on "Listening In." Mrs. Churchill, of Gould Station, told of the work of their society and how they raised their funds. A letter from Mrs. Baker, missionary in Korea, was read, after which several members offered prayer for Mrs. Barker and her associates in the work. The treasurer, Mrs. J. MacLure, reported that half of the allocation of St. Andrew's W.M.S. had been reached. The Scotstown ladies turned in their birthday money. Lunch was served by the ladies of the Scotstown auxiliary. Those present from Gould station were Mrs. Churchill, Mrs. J. R. MacLeod, Mrs. M. MacLean, and Mrs. Justin Sherman, from Lingwick, Mrs. Fred Wood, Mrs. John MacKitchie, Mrs. Donald MacKitchie and Mrs. A. A. MacAulay.

THE COUNTY FAIRS.

August is the month of the "Harvest Homes" and the County Fairs.

Waterloo opens the ball on the 13th, 14th and 15th of the month. It is their hundredth anniversary, and is one of the oldest fairs in Canada, and has many traditions and memories for the Old Boys. This year the Directors intend celebrating their centenary with some eclat, and every citizen is interested in doing his or her bit.

Cookshire Fair, too, always draws a large crowd from Sherbrooke and from other points within the charmed circle of its influence.

Richmond Fair follows, and will have the Old Guard to guide its destinies.

Then comes the Bedford Fair the first half of the following week, with the Ayer's Cliff for a three-day week-end. Stanstead Fair, at Ayer's Cliff, has been called "the model of what a County Fair should be."

There is a recess to allow the Sherbrooke Fair to be undisturbed by competition before Drummond County opens the September month at L'Avenir.

Brome County steps in to give three days of fine old country hospitality to its many admirers; and then comes Scottstown with its true Gaelic courtesy and sincere welcome.

Wolfe County celebrates its re-unions at Marleton, and ere September wanes Danville will make its call to all.

One day at twelve County Fairs within the angle known as the English corner of Quebec will repay the visitor who looks for a whole dollar's worth for a "quarter."

HEPBURN FIGHTS HIS NEW SEAT OF RESIDENCE.

A peculiar situation has arisen in Toronto over the former police commissioners' attempt to keep the city free from malcontents who would masquerade under the guise of a "Hunger March." The new Commissioners authorize the Chief of Police to meet the mob at the city line and escort them to the Parliament buildings in a friendly and "mutually co-operative spirit." That is to be the task of Chief Draper.

Premier Hespburn is unavoidably detained elsewhere, just as he was when offered a seat in the Parliament by the former Premier. In other words, Hespburn is to run away. He has made the mischief, but will not tarry to see how it works out.

To handle a mob is no easy matter, but that which will dawn on the minds of the Toronto people is that the new Premier is trying to handcuff the forces of law and order. Rightly, the mob should be handled by the provincial police when Mr. Hespburn is so anxious to let his underlings shake hands with them.

The new Commissioners are mere amateurs who have had little to do with law and order, beyond defending criminals in the Court.

Black shirt parades are usually the covering of black hearts.

KING GEORGE'S TREE.

The late Judge Dunkin, who was the first judge of Bedford Judicial District, had his home on the present site of the Knowlton Golf Links, just beyond the turn of the road. Around Brome Lake there are many charming summer homes of Sherbrooke people, situated on the lake front and on the lawns and wooded slopes surrounding. There are many, also, from Montreal, chiefly people who have had former associations with the English corner of Quebec.

On the site of the late judge's home, down past the farms of the late Judge Foster, of Marcus Martin, and Hon. A. R. McMaster, there stands an oak tree of which all the Knowlton Club members are inordinately proud. It was planted by King George V, whilst he was on tour with Queen Mary. They toured the world under the title of the Duke and Duchess of York and Cornwall, and left many precious memories behind them.

This was before the birth of H.R.H. Prince George, whom we all hope will be the next Governor-General of Canada.

SHOULD BE VERY WELL CONTENT.

Young Liberals in Montreal are seeking a place in the sun. As privates in the electioneering army they are impatient with the old warhorses whom they think are tarrying too long on the scene.

The divided Opposition in the Quebec Legislature no doubt look on with a friendly eye at the busy young scions of old-time political celebrities as they give tongue to their desires.

Montreal prejudices are aroused at times over what they term Quebec dominance in Legislative affairs, but these young men should recall the fact that it is the other parts of the province which sends to that city its better men. There is always a drift to a city, of men who prefer to be little fellows in a larger puddle.

When we consult "Who's Who," the book which tells of the origin of the men in Canada, we find that the leading men in the cities sprung from the smallest towns, cities and villages. Also the big cities owe their growth to the activities of the places aroundabout. A crowded city is not necessarily the voice of those who work, who toil, and who build the country, as a whole.

An additional Cabinet Minister has been added to Montreal.

Seven members of the Legislative Council reside in Montreal; only one in Sherbrooke; seven in Quebec.

Three members of the Cabinet live in Montreal, and the Premier spends much of his time in the permanent government offices there.

Fourteen members of the Quebec Legislature have their homes in Montreal or in its suburbs.

So that with twenty provincial legislators and a Lieutenant-Governor from Montreal, the big city should rest content rather than be the home of malcontents.

To be sure, Montreal pays much of the taxation, but only because it is the port of entry through which all the provincial business pays toll.

They even charge us from 25 to 50 cents for crossing the bridges leading to the city on the island.

GET RICH QUICK WILLIES ARE ABROAD IN THE LAND.

"Big prices in good mines, but many sharks!" is the caption of an article in the Toronto Mail in discussing the fact that the mining industry has played an important part as a mainstay of financial recovery in Canada.

Before you wade into a shark-infested industry be sure you know your men and their backers. Beware of the promoter and the amateur whom he may have led into the mining game by specious gambling arguments.

There is a difference between a mine and a projector's hole in the ground.

The salesman of mining stock who tarries at a good hotel, and hires local salesmen to entice their friends may be an honest fellow. But better find out and be sure before you transfer any of your hard-earned money. Be a man from Aberdeen when you buy some gaudy certificates. Do not be led by the nose by the man who would pose as a mining broker.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Poor Dollfuss! Even before most of us had gotten to know his name and that he was something or other in Austria, he was wiped out by assassins who were instigated by rivals who want to pop their heads up above their fellows. A restless sea of people, first full of pride, then broken in spirit, and now with nervous prostration, now get white-capped with fear of the what is to come. They drop back to the Middle Ages of dissension and killing. Inclined to disdainful ignoring of the Dollfuss incident, we are reminded that the killing of a wee prince of no importance in July of 1914 turned into the wildest wars of the world, with Austria playing the leading role. So that we cannot ignore the puppets and dolls of Middle Europe as they are shot down by those whom they labour for.

The Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway is to go through the same political reconstruction which makes a political utility a business futility. Mr. Hespburn is about to turn it upside down as he is doing to Ontario Hydro Power. Perhaps "Mitch," in his mad desire to provide jobs for his 600,000 supporters, might be induced to buy the Canadian National railway system.

Two hard-bitten, former Liberal members of Parliament are the two Commissioners chosen to put both the honorable Henry and Meighen on the spot. Two judges, who, when in politics, were impolitic fighters and bitter in their partisanship. The findings of such a commission will be of no consequence.

Where a thousand men can make a hundred thousand suffer—that is a general strike. It is the innocent sympathizer who pays the piper. Strikes called so soon after a period of hard times do not appeal to the general public, and particularly does it seem heartless to those who have contributed all their surplus to public welfare work.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.
July 30th, 1904.

M. A. LeBaron entertained the following E. T. A. directors at his North Hatley home: Alex Ames, F. B. Wilson, C. A. French, W. R. Webster, L. H. Olivier, Dr. P. Pelletier, J. A. Wiggitt, C. L. Clough and William Morris.

M. Converse, Upper Melbourne, claimed an oats-raising record with a yield of eighty bushels to the acre.

On the deciding vote of Mayor Strothers, the Bedford Council decided to rebuild the bridge to Upper Bedford.

Prize winners at card party for benefit of Waterloo symphony orchestra: Miss Rose Bouchard, Mrs. Rose Poulin and Mr. Launderville.

Miss Florence Farwell, Sherbrooke, was slightly injured when thrown from her horse.

The residence of E. Wilson at Huntingville was considerably damaged by lightning.

Mrs. Percy Parsons entertained the West Bolton Baptist Ladies' Aid.

Little Stanley Macmillan, Milby, had his foot badly crushed while at play.

Black Lake friends honored Mr. and Mrs. William Clearhous on occasion of their wedding anniversary.

ATTENDANCE AT UNIVERSITIES RECORDS DROP

Full Time of Enrollment of Students of University Grade in Canada in 1933 Was 33,996 Compared with 34,456 in 1932.

Ottawa, July 30.—The increase in university and college enrollment in the period since the war has not continued in the last year or two according to a report issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The chief reason probably hinges on finance. The universities generally, finding their other sources of revenues impaired, have found it necessary to increase the fees charged to students, and even without the higher fees the student of 1933 would no doubt find it harder to meet the cost of a year's attendance than the student of the few years ago.

The full time enrollment in 1933 was 33,996 of university grade compared with 34,456 in 1932, a decrease of 460. Students who were not in attendance full time numbered 28,811, of whom 6,848 were pursuing studies of university grade.

There were 1,896 Canadian residents at colleges in the United States. There were 1,771 United States residents at Canadian colleges, confirming the impression gained by a partial compilation about ten years ago, that there is about an equal interchange of students. The University of Montreal had 551 United States residents in attendance at its several faculties and affiliated colleges, and McGill University has 334.

There were 180 students in Canadian colleges from Newfoundland, 43 from the British West Indies, 226 from the United Kingdom, and 278 from other countries. Over half of the Newfoundland students are in Nova Scotia.

AYER'S CLIFF NEWS BUDGET AND PERSONALS

Items of Interest to Residents of Ayer's Cliff and Vicinity.

Ayer's Cliff, Que., July 30.—The Young Women's Association held a very successful lawn fete. In the afternoon a sale of food took place, all food being disposed of. Mrs. H. I. McFadden, Mrs. Frank Gotthrop, Mrs. Cecil Tyler and Mrs. S. I. Baldwin were in charge. Ice cream and cake was served throughout the afternoon and evening. The committee in charge composed: Mrs. F. M. Wyman and Mrs. Glen H. Little. Special attractions in the evening, including the Ayer's Cliff band which gave a splendid concert. The candy table was in charge of Mrs. C. M. Moore, Jr., and Miss Mildred Paul, assisted by the Misses Joyce, Rexford, Thelma Libby and Thelma Martin. Birch bark baskets made by the girls added to the appearance of the sweets. The pop corn stand was also very popular and the MacIntosh Brothers in charge, were kept busy even after the closing of the other departments. The "fish pond" was the centre of attraction for young and old and was efficiently looked after by Mrs. Gordon McHarg and the Misses Beulah Rexford and Madelyn Hartson, the supply of "fish" becoming exhausted after about an hour of fishing. The amusement had been arranged by the committee in charge of Mr. Guy Brown and Mr. Randolph Tyler. Miss Mona Percy was in the fortune teller's booth.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hall, of Lennoxville, are at the home of Mr. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Doran, of Tombia, were guests on Thursday of their daughter, Mrs. Stanley Gotthrop, and Mr. Gotthrop.

SMALL PORTION OF FORTUNE IN HOTEL VAULTS

Only Eight Thousand Dollars Found in Belongings of Supposedly Wealthy Widow at Time of Her Death in Montreal.

Montreal, July 30.—The sum of slightly over $8,000 in travellers cheques and currency, including one United States thousand dollar bill, was found among the personal effects of Mrs. Sarah Smith-Scollard at the time of her death in a Montreal hotel on July 24th, 1932. This is all that remains of the fortune of this once-wealthy widow as far as the world knows.

Hotel officials told Commissioner Howard S. Ross, K.C., who is investigating the case, of the arrival of the woman at their hotel and of the events leading up to her death from broncho-pneumonia.

According to the heirs of the estate, who have caused the inquiry, Mrs. Scollard was in the habit of carrying fabulous sums of money on her person at all times, but this all seems to have disappeared except the money resting in the hotel vault. The evidence of the hotel officials leaves three avenues of reason open: That Mrs. Smith-Scollard did not have any larger part of her fortune in Montreal; that she placed her money in safety deposit vaults or bank accounts prior to her death or secreted it somewhere; that the money, if it was in Montreal or about her person or baggage, disappeared prior to her death.

COMMISSION TO EXAMINE NOVA SCOTIA CLAIMS

English Professor Named to Head Royal Commission to Enquire into Nova Scotian Position in Confederation.

Halifax, July 30.—A Royal Commission appointed to investigate the effect of the war on the commerce and policies upon Nova Scotia and "fill those gaps" left by the Duncan enquiry of 1926 will commence hearings in Halifax about August 8th or 9th.

Under the chairmanship of Prof. J. H. Jones, head of the commerce department of Leeds University, England, the Commission will have unlimited scope. It will be expected to investigate the present financial arrangements between the Dominion and the Province and any other matter that may affect the economic welfare of Nova Scotia in its relations to the Dominion.

Sitting with Prof. Jones will be Dr. Alexander Johnston, C.M.G., L.L.D., of Ottawa, former Deputy Minister of Marine, and Dr. H. A. Innis, F.R.S.C., associate professor of economic geography at Toronto University.

Personnel of the Commission was announced last night by Premier Angus L. Macdonald, who at the same time stated that brief prepared on behalf of the provincial government by Prof. Norman McLeod Rogers, of Queen's University, was ready for presentation at initial sittings in the capital.

Prof. Rogers, a native and Rhodes scholar of Nova Scotia, has been collecting material for his brief during the last few months.

The Premier expressed the hope that private citizens, corporations and firms would also prepare and present briefs on subjects with which they have special acquaintance, so that they may be expected to furnish valuable suggestions to the Commission.

Premier Macdonald added that the Duncan Commission "did not explore the basic reasons for the failure of the Maritime provinces to keep pace with the rest of the Dominion." He expected the new commission to explain this and submit recommendations that will contribute to the removal of such disabilities as may be retarding the Nova Scotia economic progress.

Boston, July 30.—Capt. Thomas F. Gates, C.B.E., master of the Atlantic transport liner Minnetonka, has gone ashore to stay.

Captain Gates is seventy-three years old. He has followed the sea for fifty-six years. He received his first command in 1889 and has figured in many rescues at sea. Perhaps the greatest of those rescues was in 1897, when, as chief officer of the S.S. Missouri, he rescued 735 persons, including twenty babies under twelve months of age, from the Spanish emigrant ship Danmark, which sank in mid-Atlantic.

During the Great War, Captain Gates commanded the old Minnetonka, first of two of the lines vessels of that name, and beached her with great skill after striking an enemy mine.

His skill saved the lives of 1,800 soldiers and for his action he was made a commander of the British Empire.

Captain Gates is a United States citizen of British birth, and will retire to his old home at Twickenham, near London.

Daughter, Phyllis, of Cascade Inn, Shawinigan Falls, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. C. Moore, Jr.

Mrs. Fayne Hovey, of Derby Line, Vt., was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Libby.

Messrs. Arnold McVeay and Donald Martin have returned home, after spending the past three weeks camping at Salem Pond, Vt.

Mrs. J. F. McVeay has been spending the past three weeks with her sister, Mrs. George Curtis, and Mr. Curtis in Derby Line, Vt.

DETROIT AGAIN LEADING IN NIP AND TUCK RACE

Tigers Regained American League Leadership with Two Victories Over Chicago, Coupled with Yankees Defeat at Hands of the Athletics.

Even a championship ball club and an also-ran is that the permanent winner is the team which comes out on top when it gets tangled into one of those "goofy" games—either the give-and-take slugfests or the almost hitless pitchers' battles in which anything may happen and usually does.

Leading by five to nothing going into the fifth inning, they fell behind when Chicago landed on Tommy Bridges with both feet and scored six runs. The stunt was repeated in the seventh, Chicago scoring seven times to gain a thirteen to eleven lead. Finally Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, who had pitched a three-hit game the day before, was called in to check the Sox's eighth inning rally and won another decision for himself by belting a home run to put the Tigers on the other side of a sixteen to fifteen score.

The second game was a different tale when Les Tietje outpitched Fred Marberry to give Chicago a six to four decision despite Hank Greenberg's second homer of the day.

The Athletics came to Detroit's aid by smashing the Yanks down into a six to three defeat.

On the other side, the regulars started the day's big gain when they defeated St. Louis by scores of eleven to five and six to three, and placed themselves five and a half games out of first place.

The Giants dropped the opener to the Phillies by four to two with
