LOAN DRIVE READY TO ROLL

Air Of Confidence Prevails At Westmount Victory Loan Unit

With an objective of $1,200,000,000, Canada's Great Campaign for bond selling opens April 24th. The Eve of the campaign finds headquarters of the Victory Loan Unit in Westmount ready, and an air of confidence prevails—confidence in what they are offering to the public plus the knowledge that the citizens of Westmount will help "Put Victory First."

The organizers stress that there are other important reasons why one should buy Victory Bonds in addition to patriotism. First, any funds withheld from current spending helps to curb inflation now, and there is the added fact that everyone will receive greater value for their savings, and the opportunity to buy more modern things when normality returns. Also having a few Victory Bonds tucked away is one of the finest methods known to relieve one's mind for the future and makes for longevity and happiness.

And from a purely business approach there is no finer investment than the current Victory Loan.

Once again, the Patrol Leader of St. Matthias Boy Scouts Troop E. Ross Whitehead of 12 Forde Avenue, arrived on Saturday last with twelve of his troop to offer their services to place the Victory Loan posters in the stores' windows all over the City of Westmount.

The second meeting of salesmen will be held on Thursday, April 20, at Unit Headquarters located at 4583 Sherbrooke Street West, at 8 p.m. sharp.

Maj. R. Wheatley Among Veterans Returning Home

Among veterans returning from overseas on Friday last was Major R. A. Wheatley, of the Canadian Dental Corps, who was met by his wife and 3½-year-old daughter, Clodagh. The little daughter, though only a baby when the Major left home three years ago, seemed completely familiar and happy with her "daddy". Their home is at 4905 Sherbrooke street West.

While attached to No. 14 General Hospital in England, Major Wheatley treated many of the wounded veterans of the Dieppe raid who needed dental care. Before the war he practiced in Montreal and London, England, returning to Canada at the outbreak of the war to join the dental corps.

The directors include: C. T. Medlar, R. Dean, P. J. Andrew and C. W. Wright.

Spring Is The Time To Get Bird Houses Ready For 'Renters'

(By Nina Le Bourillier)

Our friends the birds have already winged northward and are arriving each day on the lookout for nesting sites. There may still be signs of snow and ice on the lawns, but the snowdrops are in bloom in the gardens and it is time to think of bird houses.

If you had feathered renters last year on your premises, the little houses should be thoroughly emptied and brushed out right away, as well as inspected to see if rainproof and still firmly fastened to the tree. It is advisable not to do any painting of their little homes as part of the spring housecleaning, for birds will seldom choose freshly painted houses. Such work has to be done in the fall.

Sharing the Garden

There is nothing that makes home grounds seem more home-like than to share your garden with the birds. They more than earn their rent, too, in the harmful insects they eat and the sweet songs they sing pay for board and keep. For several years the wrens have occupied a house in my garden and it would be hard to find a sweeter song anywhere than the notes that come forth from my plum tree where they build. Although wrens will welcome houses already built for them they sometimes prefer to choose their own nesting spots and pick most unusual places to build their nests. I recall an occasion when a pair of wrens took possession of my bathing suit hanging over the fence to dry, at our camp on Lake Winnipeg. The seat of the lower part made a lovely pocket to raise their young, so I let them have it undisturbed. Another odd place I came across them building a nest was in a small lantern on the front porch of one of the C.P.R. bungalows at Emerald Lake. Needless to say we did not dare turn on that light until they were quite finished with the little glass house for the summer. I have also seen them appropriate our gardener's straw hat which was hanging on the side of the garage.

Special Specifications

Most naturalists have worked out plans and dimensions preferred by various kinds of birds, so it is wise to try and make the boxes the right dimensions. This information can usually be obtained from any departmental, hardware or seed store, or from the local library where there are books of all kinds on craft work for making things.

Bluebirds, wrens, swallows, woodpeckers, chickadees will welcome houses; flickers will sometimes choose them, and swallows and martins like apartment houses. The openings have to be the right size for the bird that the house is designed for, to admit the owners and exclude others. For instance, according to what Kerry Wood, the naturalist at Red Deer, Alberta, tells us, wrens need a house interior four inches square and eight inches deep with entrance hole one inch in diameter. A bluebird entrance should be one-and-one-half inches in diameter. Birds will build in houses of almost any architectural design if they feel safe in a garden, but they are likely to prefer simple structures of natural wood or stained wood rather than painted ones.

High and Protected

Place the bird house away from the prevailing winds and rains; put it high enough for privacy and protection and not too close to its neighbour. Then hang out your "To Let" sign and await callers. If you have been feeding the birds this winter you are fairly sure of applicants.

1st Company Boys' Brigade Plans Spring Closing Display

Plans have been drawn up for the annual Closing Display of the 1st Westmount Company of the Boys' Brigade, which marks the cessation of indoor work for the summer months. This year, with the advent of a brass band, the programme should be one of the most outstanding features ever undertaken by the Company. It is eagerly practising new scores so as to be able to take a very prominent part at the Display. First Aiders are being given special coaching by Lieut. Alex. G. Anderson and the Physical Training squad have now set up some very colorful additions to their past repertoire under the able guidance of Ft. Sgt. Reg. Williams.

The company was pleased to welcome Hubert Wheeler, a former Life Boy who joined the ranks, having been away from the city for the past year. A warm welcome was extended to him by the boys. Ptes Bryer Rice and Harvey Barnes will be enrolled this week-end and receive the official lanyard. It is quite possible that several others may join them after Friday's recruits' class has passed on them.

In keeping with the Company's educational policy, several large establishments will be visited during the next few months, the first to take place next Saturday. Several of the Montreal Companies will join together for this purpose.

A friendly game of basketball last Friday night with the 7th Company ended up in a very successful score for the 1st Company, having been victorious by 60-16.

Captain Richardson has arranged for the band to take part at the evening service at Tyndale House, the 30th instant, the occasional being a special Boys' Brigade Service.

Several of the Privates in the Company are undergoing special training with a view toward promotion. With the ever increasing membership, numerous appointments will be made very shortly.

Out west the ladies speak their minds. Here's a personal ad from the Vancouver Sun: "Young lady, 23, recent arrival from the east. Lonely, not homely. Would like to meet cultured gentleman, 25-30. Must be tall and fond of dancing. No wolves." —Ottawa Journal.

Put Victory First and Buy Victory Bonds

It was Sir Wilfrid Laurier who was credited with telling of the time that he met a young lad barely ten years of age, struggling uphill, carrying his four year old sister. Sir Wilfrid asked the youth if he didn't find his burden too heavy to bear, to which the boy quickly replied "Oh, she's no burden, she's my sister."

Well, always think of that lad each time the Victory Loan salesman comes to your door and asks you how many Victory Bonds you are going to buy THIS loan. Usually you thought you were all prepared for him with some little speech to the effect that taxes are so heavy this year, and costs of running the house have been so high, and there've been so many things in the way of clothes and other necessities that your family has just HAD to get this year that you would only be able to take a small bond THIS time.

But when the door opens and the Victory Loan salesman puts the question you, well, your subscription to the Sixth Victory Loan will be even larger than in the previous Loans.

Do you know why? Well, that boy, with his precious burden, means just one thing to you. He's a Canadian boy, your own son or a neighbour's, YOUR son, or YOUR neighbour's. And that hill he's climbing is over there in Europe. On his shoulders he's carrying the most precious burden there is, the right to life and happiness and freedom for US—for his little sister, his parents, his friends, and for all of us home here in Canada. It's a burden that bears down heavily, and many of the lads stumble as they push up that hill, and some of them fall and never rise again.

But right behind them come others to pick up the burden to carry it to the crest of the hill to ultimate Victory; while we sit comfortably here at home and complain about taxes, and work and living costs and rationing.

Any of us who DON'T buy every last Victory Bond that we have money to pay for while those lads over there are carrying OUR burden for US, and giving their young lives that we may LIVE, are shirking our responsibility in this war. It's up to US to help those lads shoulder that terrific burden in the only way open to us here at home. It is our duty to PUT VICTORY FIRST, and buy all the Sixth VICTORY Loan Bonds we possibly can.

AWAIT THE CALL OF YOUR VICTORY LOAN SALESMAN.

Capt. J. A. Fraser Wins Promotion

Captain J. Alasdair Fraser, who has been in charge of movie and still photography in Sicily and Italy since the beginning of the invasion in July 1943, has been promoted to that rank, according to a cable received from headquarters of the Canadian Film and Photo Unit by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Fraser, of 4 Murray avenue.

Captain Fraser, 29, was educated at Roslyn School and Lower Canada College. He married the former Marlon Hill, who now lives at 29 Barat Road with their small son. He was mustered with the Black Watch on the outbreak of hostilities and went overseas in June, 1941.

In a recent letter from Capt. Fraser, he told of a visit to the now erupting Mount Vesuvius.

Going overseas in 1941 with the Black Watch, Capt. "Al" Fraser, who had had previous camera experience with the advertising department of the C.I.L., transferred to the Film and Photo Unit shortly after arriving in England.

He went to Sicily with the invasion troops and, though it is not known how many men are in his unit in the Mediterranean, members of the newly organized force accompanied wave after wave of troops as they went ashore through the high seas that swept the Sicilian coast on July 10 last year.

Letters to the Editor

RUSSIA AND FINLAND

To the Editor:
Sir: With reference to the enclosed clipping from your paper, it would be interesting if you would explain why, or in what way, Finland owes any debt to Russia. Yours very truly,
J. Brock.

The clipping reads:
Finland pays her debt to the United States, but the thought of having to pay her debt to Russia fills her with considerable disquiet.

The reference was merely a humorous way of stating that Finland will have to make good the damage done—to Russian projects and the allied cause—through her unpardonable alliance with Hun Hitler.—Ed.

The elevation of Westmount Station would therefore be 43 feet above Windsor St. Station.

These elevations are also given in the C.P.R. timetable.

To them belongs the responsibility for the selection of a librarian and staff, the spending of the annual maintenance grants from the City of Westmount and the formulation of library policies, rules, etc.

KNOW YOUR WESTMOUNT

Q.—Is it true that the Westmount Library was established as the result of a windfall?

A.—In 1897, Westmount received $13,000 from a defaulting gas company, and with this "windfall" the Town decided to establish a permanent memorial to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. A committee appointed to study the form of this memorial recommended a public library. $5000 having been set aside for the purchase of books, the balance was allocated to the erection of a suitable building in Westmount Park. Robert Findlay was the architect and Charles Gould, librarian of McGill University, acted as adviser on building plans and in the choice of books.

The Westmount Library was formally opened on June 24, 1899, designed, in the words of the original by-law, "to be forever free to the use of the inhabitants and ratepayers of the Town, always subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the library committee may adopt." The original building is still in use, forming that part of the adult library nearest Sherbrooke St. Three main additions have been made, financed by special grants from the City Council of Westmount. In 1911 a children's room was built at a cost of $10,000. One of the early examples of its kind in Canada, it provides a separate entrance and reading space for the boys and girls of Westmount. In 1924-25 the reference wing was added to the adult library at a cost of approximately $29,000. In 1935-36 about $23,000 was spent on a new staff work-room, increased book stacks and on general interior improvements and alterations designed to give better service to the public.

The government of the library was placed in the hands of a committee consisting of the Mayor ex-officio, three aldermen and three ratepayers, to be known as "Trustees." The members of the first committee were: Mayor J. R. Walker, Aldermen F. W. Evans, J. H. Redfern, W. D. Lighthall and Trustees D. W. Ross, M. Hutchinson, J. C. McCormick. This form of library government has been maintained down to the present day, the

Site Of Hospital Nearer To City Is Suggested

The annual meeting of the Julius Richardson Convalescent Hospital, Inc., of Chateauguay Basin, Que., was held on Friday last at the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital.

The president, S. R. Noble, O.B.E., of 4463 Montrose avenue, in his report pointed out that the war had emphasized the need for better medical attention, particularly for children, and added that the defects of maturity were often the result of lack of proper medical and nutritional care in youth. He thought that the need must be met by beginning to make plans for extension, and though the present building has served its purpose over a long period of years, it is in many ways unsuitable. Mr. Noble pointed out that a location more conveniently situated in relation to Montreal hospitals would have great advantages, and he added "I believe we should now make plans for a new hospital, locate and acquire property on which it may be built and study the necessary financial arrangements."

The treasurer's report by Dr. Little showed a decrease in the annual deficit, which was set for the past year at $761.91, as against $1,105.23 in 1942. Total hospital days were 14,759, at a cost per day of $1.26, comparing favorably with the year before.

Miss Galbraith reported that 188 children were admitted to the hospital during the year, and 149 discharged to their homes much improved in health. The number was less than in former years, but included a good many cardiac and plaster cases which required long convalescent care.

Reference was made of the acknowledgment of generous gifts received from the Rotary Club of Westmount, of the Crown Laundry Company for free service throughout the year, and to the National Breweries Ltd., for free use of their station wagon in transferring patients to and from the hospital, and to a number of service clubs and associations for donations, including the Cygnet Club, Montrose Club, Julius Richardson Chapter, I.O.D.E., In His Name Society, American Women's Club,

MEDAL OF MERIT PRESENTED

F. Roberts Walker Receives Boy Scout Medal Of Honor

His Excellency, The Earl of Athlone, Chief Scout for Canada, honoured F. Roberts Walker, of 664 Grosvenor Avenue, at a meeting of the Group Committee of St. Matthew's Boy Scout Troop on Monday last, when Mr. Walker was presented with the Scout Medal of Merit.

The medal was presented on behalf of His Excellency by G. Robley Mackay, Scout Commissioner for Montreal, the citation being read by W. J. Thistlewaite, Deputy Commissioner. The citation summarized Mr. Walker's scouting service as follows: F. Roberts Walker has been in scouting since 1912 when he joined the Westmount Troop (as it was then called), progressing through the ranks until 1917 when he became Assistant Scoutmaster. In that year also he was Camp Staff Scoutmaster Tamaracouta; and some time later sponsored the Kinsmen Club Well for the Scout Camp. Mr. Walker was appointed Scoutmaster of St. Matthew's Troop in 1928, and District Scoutmaster for Western Area in 1931. In connection with the St. Matthew's Troop, he established an exceptionally fine Group Committee which has carried on successfully ever since. In 1939, Mr. Walker was appointed Assistant District Commissioner for Eastern Area which office he filled until 1941. In that year he became chairman of the Band Committee, and in 1943 chairman of the Supplies Committee, of the Montreal District Council. He has been an active member of the Council for the past 15 years.

Assisting in the ceremony were V. O. West, Sr., the Assistant District Commissioner for Western Area, A. Lloyd, Scoutmaster of the St. Matthew's Troop, and the following members of the Scout Group Committee: Messrs. E. F. Badke, chairman; G. K.

Holmes, secretary-treasurer; P. W. Gow, vice-chairman; E. C. Judge, H. McCulloch, J. Emmett, R. McF. Millar, H. C. Osler and C. O. Wood. As a special tribute to Mr. Walker, members of the Scout Troop were also present.

"FIFTH WARTIME SPRING"

Westmount's fifth wartime spring! Perhaps after all it isn't so different from the countless peacetime burgeonings that have preceded it. But there are always some new notes here and there.

We wake one morning to a new warmth in the air, and to a sun whose heat by noon has opened our coats and made us call excitedly to friends on the streets that spring is really here.

The trees will soon be dressed in green, the same indescribably lovely patterns on black boughs—and the buds will soon burst out in flower. Soon we can see which ones will be pink and which white from the glowing tight-fisted tips on the lilacs. Tulp beds will soon be ablaze.

One can, therefore, watch minutely its beginnings, its retardings, its progress step by step, and by May the spring is at its full.

Hebrew Christian Defends British Rule In Palestine

Much of the criticism of Great Britain for the White Paper which is suspending Jewish immigration to Palestine is unjust and unwarranted, the Rev. Dr. J. Hoffman Cohn, executive secretary of the American Mission to the Jews, declared on Sunday night at the final meeting of a week-long Bible conference held in Westmount Baptist Church under the auspices of that congregation and of the members and minister of Madison Baptist Church.

Dr. Cohn said that he had been in Palestine and had seen something of the staggering burden under which British administrators are laboring there. Inflation has hit the country very hard, prices have soared and supplies are scarce. Poverty and maladjustment are rampant.

Confidence in the motives of Great Britain was expressed by the speaker, who thinks that the Jews will in the end receive a square deal. The provisions for a Jewish homeland in Palestine, he described as the only abiding result of the Great War. Just as out of that struggle emerged the new hope for Jews everywhere, he predicted, the present war will result in new hopes and privileges for the Jews in Palestine. He outlined the rise of the Zionist movement from the Balfour pledge to Dr. Chaim Weizmann during the Great War.

Dr. Cohn took a fling at those who, like the group mentioned in The Monitor last month, predict the date of "the end of the world" and the coming of Christ. "It has got now that anybody can hire a store, call it a tabernacle and come out with foolish predictions that Christ will come on such-and-such a date," he complained.

Discussing anti-Semitism, which he prefers to call by its real name "Jew-hate", Dr. Cohn said that there were 600 centres of pro-Nazi propaganda working directly under orders from the Nazi machine engaged in disseminating hate of the Jew and of the Allies in the United States. Contrasting the secrecy with which dictatorship works as compared with the publicity attending democratic decisions, he said that Hitler's and Stalin's plans were revealed only when they were put into execution while Winston Churchill had to face Parliamentary queries and make broadcasts justifying his policies and U.S. cabinet ministers had to appear before the Congressional committees and run the gauntlet of questions. Franklin Roosevelt discussed objectives with press correspondents and in his "fireside chats," to say nothing of what Eleanor tells us.

Towards the close of his address Dr. Cohn read verses from the book of the prophet Ezekiel which he asserted foretold the recent victories of the Russians over the Nazis by the use of cavalry which most other countries had relegated to the discard. From that he proceeded to forecast from certain passages in Ezekiel the trend of relationships between Russia and the Allies after the victory over the Huns—which at least one of his auditors found difficult to accept.

Rev. Stanley S. Stock, M.A., of Madison Baptist Church took charge of the opening stages of the meeting which was closed by Rev. Dr. J. A. Johnston, minister of Westmount Baptist Church.

Church of The Advent

A special ceremony for St. George's Day will be observed at the Church of the Advent next Sunday. Directly after the Second Gospel, the thurifer, cross-bearer and servers will take their places in front of the altar, and a special act of devotion and intercession for the British Empire will be made. This act of devotion will conclude with the singing of all three verses of the National Anthem.

In the range of inorganic nature, I doubt if any object can be found more perfectly beautiful than a fresh, deep snowdrift, seen under warm light. Its curves are of inconceivable perfection and changefulness, its surface and transparency alike exquisite, its light and shade of inexhaustible variety and inimitable finish, the shadows sharp, pale and of heavenly color, the reflected lights intense and multitudinous, and mingled with the sweet occurrence of transmitted light.—John Ruskin.

During the twelve month period ended 31st March, 1944, the Solar Club of Montreal has donated the amount of $1,375.00 to the Homoeopathic Hospital of Montreal, it was reported at the annual meeting held at the Homoeopathic Hospital on Thursday evening last.

fund, which had been set up during the year by a contribution of $500.00 by the club, and emphasized the importance of such a fund to hospital maintenance and expressed the hope that this fund could be built up to a substantial amount before too many years. The amount of $400.00 was donated to assist in the work of a newly formed Anti-Cancer Research Committee which is now in operation at the hospital and the balance of $475.00 was used to pay for hospital equipment.

Edmund G. Collard, advocate, of 4238 Marcell Avenue, was elected president of the club for the coming year. Mr. Collard is a graduate of the Law School of McGill University where he was noted as a debater, and his experience in the business world and in club activities will prove to be a valuable asset to the club's programme for the coming year.

Other officers elected are as follows:

What's the WAR NEWS?

There are always two kinds of war news. Headlines scream that some name on a map is taken or lost by unnamed men... and some of them died. Or someone adds up the score and proclaims that we are hard pressed here or marching to victory there. That is one kind of war news. It is impersonal news. We feel that sooner or later victory must be ours. So we turn to planning what we will do and what we will have after victory.

Watch the faces in your post office for reflections of the real news... the personal news of the war. Someone has just got a letter from Bill. He talks lightly and vaguely about a "big show" that he hopes to be in. And the newspapers tell you the same day that the "big show" has started... and you wonder about Bill. How many of such "shows" will Bill have to go through before he can come back home? How much are we really doing to help Bill?

We have turned out a lot of guns and tanks and "tools" for our Bills. But they need more than that... a lot more. They need food and clothes, ammunition and surgical supplies, and replacements of every kind to keep pace with the tremendous destruction of battle. These are the things that our boys must have in endless supply if they are to do their job without too many "shows," and have a better chance to come back home that much sooner.

Victory Bond money helps to keep Bill supplied with the things he needs. Bill demonstrates what it means to "Put Victory First." Will you help Bill with your dollars in Victory Bonds? Will you "Put Victory First" too?

GOOD INTEREST, BEST SECURITY

WITHIN a few days local residents will be asked again to buy Victory Bonds. This district has gone well over the top in each previous drive and will do so again.

The government is not asking anyone to make a "sacrifice" in buying Victory Bonds. We are simply asked to lend our money, at a good rate of interest, and with the best security in the world, in order that the government will have the money with which to prosecute the war to the limit of our ability. It isn't asking much compared with what is asked of the men on the fighting fronts, and it is for these men that the money is being raised. We want our soldiers, airmen, and sailors to feel that they are the best equipped in the world for the great task at which they are risking their lives. We must not let them down by failing to push this loan over the objective as we did all its predecessors.

WRITE THAT LETTER!

NEXT TO his adventures on the battlefield, the high seas, or in the air, the fighting man's greatest thrill comes from the receipt of a letter from home. If the letter is unexpected and is from a friend he never believed would think of him, so much the better. The men at the front have to be assured that this war is important, that their services are appreciated, and that the folks at home know what it's all about. This can be said by implication better than by direct statement. Leave out the rhetoric, but tell the lads that you are thinking of them and are looking forward to the time when you two can crack a bottle or cut a deck of cards. They like that stuff. It gives them a feeling that they belong to something that will be there when they get back.

ECONOMIC CONTROLS

THE NEW social theories now being widely advocated are in reality old theories that were tried and abandoned long ago, writes William H. Moore, a Canadian, in his book Underneath It All. Economic controls, he states, were a favourite device of absolute monarchs; such controls prevailed from early times to the French Revolution of the late eighteenth century. This centralized system of economic and social controls failed, even in the comparatively simple life of monarchial Europe. Now it is foolishly being revived as "collectivist ideology" in a much more complicated period of civilization. To bring the issue home to the average reader, the author explains: "Perhaps the results are best pictured by asking what would become of agriculture if the management of all the farms were vested in the township councillors, or the management of the shops and factories turned over to the aldermen of our towns." Legislative control of the economic structure destroys freedom, finally brings political absolutism. "The thing has been tried, times again, and failed with pathetic regularity," the author adds. The issue comes down to the doctrine of individualism that replaced rule by kings after the French Revolution. Individualism holds the belief that private and personal affairs are best judged and managed by the individual than by a centralized government with its bureaucracy, restrictions, and favours.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

UNFINISHED business is a bad habit. In these days of working at top speed we may alibi ourselves into believing that we haven't the time to finish this or that. That is a mighty poor alibi, for no matter how busy we are we always have some spare time. The thing to do is to spend that time to the best advantage. Without a doubt it means extra effort and a careful planning. But the completed job gives so much satisfaction that it's well worth any effort we put into it. It doesn't matter how small a thing it is—it's the good habit of finishing that counts. This world is full of good starters and bad stayers.

THE PLOUGHMAN

I am the ploughman. In the beginning
I scratched the desert with a crooked stick,
Coaxing the half-grudged smile of plenty,
And I also rejoiced, seeing Earth's quick
Abundance. Next I yoked the ox,
The lumbering ox, to heave my wooden share
Slowly along the cultivated strip
And I went singing after. Then my care
Was all to tame the fiery, nimble horse;
His rippling muscles came to do my will,
Obediently to draw the keen-edged steel
Across the chess-board land, and still
I followed after, whistling, light of heart.
But now I live within a cell of noise,
The tractor's prisoner, oil-tainted, shamed
To sit in chill inaction, songless
And mute, myself the tamer tamed.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Questionable legislation is being passed by the Legislature of Nova Scotia. The proposed Act will make it illegal for any employer to hire a person who has not been a resident of the Province for at least a year. The only exception would be where "there are no unemployed persons resident in such city, town or municipality capable of doing and willing to do the work." Labor Minister Currie said the Act will not be used until after the war "when it might be advantageous to have some government means of regulating labor in peacetime as it had been in time of war." What will other provinces think of such legislation and will they pass similar legislation?

correctness of language and democratic conceptions."

Attorney General Blackwell's Act prohibiting publication or display of "discriminatory matter" referring to the races or creeds passed recently by the Legislature of Ontario, makes it a punishable offense for anyone to advertise, publish, display on land or premises with a fine of $100 for the first offense and not more than $200 for subsequent offenses. Leading Ontario newspapers approve of this Act and most of them think the fines are too light for such a crime as the Act aims to punish.

The Red Cross campaign for $22,000,000 was opened in New York by the presentation of a cheque for $150,000 from International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union National Office.

Word comes from Lisbon that an interesting lawsuit has arisen in Portugal. A considerable sum of money was willed to His Holiness the Pope with the suggestion that it be used for the purpose of establishing some religious institutions which he thinks are needed in Portugal. Under the law of that country, 33 1/3 per cent of the amount in question is deducted as succession duty by the Government. The Pope is asking in his own name for a ruling by the High Court of Portugal.

The Mexican National Congress against Vice at its recent convention, destroyed a long-standing tradition in Latin countries when it took an outright stand for abolition of legalized prostitution. Redlight districts have been suppressed by federal action in the federal district. The Congress said: "Prostitution should not be regulated, but suppressed and fundamentally prevented." The Congress recommended that it be made a crime to use narcotics and not only traffic in them. It also advocated placing under state control the prophylactic and curative treatment of addicts. Private doctors would be allowed to undertake the treatment but always under state supervision.

In a high school essay contest in Columbus, Ohio, on "What To Do With Hitler After The War," the winner was a 16-year-old negro girl, whose thesis was that the most fitting retribution for Hitler would be to put him in a black skin and require him to live out the rest of his days in America. But what a tribute it was to America that such an essay by a negro girl was declared by the judges to be the best essay.

Mexico, by a presidential regulation, has banned picture papers for children, full of crime and sometimes sex stories which have been circulated disguised as innocent "funny papers." Also banned are immoral stories, pictures and material "harmful to public education and which encourage faith in chance, transgression of the law and which offends against

The ideal of Simon Bolivar has come to life again in a proposal made by Rafael Larco Herrera, vice-president of Peru, during a recent visit to Mexico. He plans to mobilize the intellectual groups under the leadership of a committee for continental unity. A group has been organized in Guatemala and another is being organized in Mexico. Once similar groups function in all the countries, a pan-American conference will be called. The aim is "complete union of all the nations of the continent and it is only a question of finding the best way to work it out. This union must be political, social, economic and spiritual."

The Church Calls to Worship

St. Luke's Church

The Rev. R. E. Cribb, B.A., of Cranbrook, B.C., has accepted an invitation to preach in St. Luke's United Church next Sunday morning, during a visit to this city. Mr. Cribb's father was the first superintendent of St. Luke's Sunday School. Those who were in the community at that time are especially urged to hear Mr. Cribb and to meet informally with him at the close of the morning service. Rev. R. E. Cribb represents the British Columbia conference on the publications committee of the United Church of Canada.

In response to numerous requests the minister, Rev. R. E. Spencer, will speak at the evening service on the subject "The Destiny of the Individual." What can one believe about the future life? It is evident to many young people today that the answer to that question has a direct bearing upon the spirit and service of a man here and now. If that is so it becomes clear that one's belief in life beyond the grave is vital.

We do not trust God, but tempt Him, when our expectations slacken our exertions.

A verse for today...

Who hath believed our report and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?
—Isaiah 53: 1.

Westmount Park

Two services of special interest have been planned for Westmount Park Church next Sunday in the absence of Mr. Goth, who is conducting anniversary services at Kempville, Ont.

Some of us were startled to learn a few days ago that the Anglo-Saxons represent just about 50 per cent of our Canadian people. Vast areas of Canada have been populated by various nationalities whom we now term "New Canadians." Rev. J. K. Brown, B.A., B.D., now of St. Columba House, spent ten years among these people in the City of Fort William and out of this rich experience he will bring a message of great interest next Sunday morning.

In the evening the service will be conducted by members of the Women's Missionary Society of the church. Mrs. Walter Scott will give the address; Mrs. E. A. Laport will preside and Mrs. G. K. Miller will read the lesson.

Calvary Church

The services in Calvary United Church on Sunday next will be conducted by the minister, Captain the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., This coming Sunday being St. George's Day, the services will be of a patriotic nature with special reference to the high call for loyalty and self-sacrifice in these great days. The Church School will meet in all departments at 10 o'clock.

The morning service at 11 a.m. will be attended by the Strathcona High School Sea Scouts, under the command of Skipper J. R. Casewell. Members of the Sea Scouts will participate in ushering and in the conduct of the service. Capt. T. W. Jones will preach the sermon on the theme "Saints and Crusaders of Yesterday and Today," with reference to Saint George and present day heroic crusaders.

The evening service at 7.30 p.m. will be illustrated with coloured slides showing national shrines and historic centres in Great Britain, particularly in London, that suffered bombardment during the blitz period of The Battle of Britain. The theme selected by Dr. Jones is, "The Soul of England lives on and her Church Bells ring again". All are invited to attend these services to give thanks to Almighty God for His goodness to the people of Britain, to pay a tribute of gratitude and respect to the gallant defenders of the British Isles and to pray together for complete victory and lasting peace.

On Monday at 8.15 p.m. the Young People's Union will meet in the Macaulay Hall, under the con- vnership of Miss L. Moffatt, who will direct a mission to India via charades. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

TAKING PEOPLE AS THEY COME

By Millicent Taylor

Is affectionate, even patient and interested, tolerance of one's neighbors and townfolk a village quality, as some would say? If so, we might all seek to acquire it and to help our children to acquire it; for with horizons stretched and countries forced by accessibility to be neighborly, the city dweller's "privileged" position of choosing and excluding persons according to a host of personal opinions and criteria may become increasingly untenable.

It was in one of Angela Thirkell's novels that we were suddenly arrested by this thought.

The people in this volume, as in all her volumes, are for the most part the sort you would like to know personally. Cultivated people in the lovely old English houses, people of various sorts in charming cottages, and simple working people in workman's cottages or otherwise domiciled.

They are interesting to one another because they are themselves. They have faults and they have excellent qualities. Sometimes they prove trying, sometimes actually boring. But by and large the people of the village, knowing all this put up with one another and are kindly and helpful to one another, as village people we have known usually are. They even help out when one person gets on another person's nerves, and they laugh about it, as sometimes happens in villages. It is wartime and certainly not easy, but everyone in his or her way carries on.

Then dyed-in-the-wool city people—intellectuals—come to live in the village. They get along fairly well and are treated with great courtesy and consideration by the village residents, from the manor family down. But their attitude is different. They seem to have to have critical opinions about each person they meet. They "like" or "dislike" people, quite actively.

This is not, you understand, the theme of the book or anything like a major premise—at least, not in a preachy way. Mrs. Thirkell depicts the life of the English countryside; she doesn't write problem or social novels. But she did faithfully record the natural surprise of some of these thoroughly nice people when they realized how much energy the city people put into their likes and dislikes, their choosings and exclusings, their putting of people in their places. And so it came out: In the village, perhaps people take each other as they come, likes and dislikes have little to do with it; kindness and the ability to get along because of living together and being interdependent make for tolerance and at length a certain loyalty toward one another. The stronger look out for the weaker, the better educated for the underprivileged. Criticism doesn't enter in, partly because here they all are anyway and they might as well develop, one another's good points and tide one another over the unfortunate stretches, for they have to live together. Out of it a genuine mutual interest and tolerant affection flowers.

We have lived in such a village, here in Canada, and know this attitude of mutual tolerance and kindly interest to be one not confined to the English countryside. It is indeed a wonderful and beautiful experience to see residents high and low in such a village take people as they come—all of them—and build useful and kindly human relationships without limitation or exclusion. It is done in many a village. It is done in many a college community, in some big firms, in some churches. Ideally it should be done in every family. Indeed, it is fundamentally a family quality, happily enlarged in an earlier, simpler day to embrace the village or larger family unit. Doesn't it hold a message for us today as we glimpse the need of widening family relations to include a village that is a world?

U.S. Women Facing Ungirdled Future

American women faced an ungirdled future as the corset industry have announced stocks of rubber for foundation garments now are practically exhausted.

Issuing an urgent appeal that home-front corset buying be cut to a minimum, the Corset and Brassiere Association of America and the Associated Corset and Brassiere Manufacturers, Inc., announced that existing stocks are barely sufficient to supply the needs of women war workers.

So that these workers would not be subject to nonsupport, the industry pleaded that the rest of American womanhood abandon plans to streamline Easter suits with new girdles and urged all to hang on to what they had because there might not be more for the duration.

Apostolate Guild Hear Delineation Of Good Parishioner

"The Ideal Parishioner" was the subject of an address by the Rev. John O'Rourke given before the Xavier Apostolate Guild.

"One of the principal requisites of a good parishioner," said Father O'Rourke, "was that he know his religion and know it not so much from a theological as a practical point of view. And knowing his religion, he practice its principles in his everyday life."

"A good parishioner," continued the speaker, "attends the services in his church, arrives on time and gives his undivided attention throughout the service. He contributes to the financial upkeep of his church according to his ability."

The speaker stressed the fact that a newcomer in a parish should make a point of becoming acquainted with his pastor.

And finally, the good parishioner takes part in the social activities of his parish by becoming a member of the parish societies.

Miss J. McKennirey spoke on some of the problems and evils of the present educational system. She stressed, particularly, the low salaries and the fact that women teachers are paid less than men for equal services.

The present revenue, the speaker said, was not adequate and the Catholic School Commission must receive money from the other sources than that supplied by the property tax.

The speaker closed by saying that educational reforms would have to be brought about by an aroused public opinion.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. J. A. Clement and thanked by Mrs. R. Seguin. Piano solos were played by Anthony Logan.

What the Government is really trying to do is to find a way to freeze the country's votes the way they were in 1940.

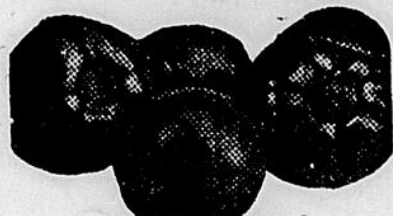

HOW ABOUT A BOOKCASE?

"In a certain old house I know," says a designer, "there is a charming living room, with two windows at one end. Between the window and the corner on either side was what might easily have been waste space, for it was too narrow for any piece of furniture. However, the owner has treated these corners very cleverly by building in narrow, open book cases from floor to ceiling. The books lend warmth, color and livability to the room—as books always do."

INFORMATION ON PRICE CONTROL AND RATIONING

Q.—When will I be able to get canning sugar?

A.—May 25 will be the first day on which you may secure canning sugar this year and not May 5 as stated in an earlier answer. The first five "F" coupons in ration book No. 3 will become valid on that date. Numbers 6 to 10 will be valid on July 6, 1944.

Q.—I usually order my maple syrup by mail. How do I obtain ration documents to send to the producer for this year's supply?

A.—Take your No. 3 ration book to your Local Ration Board. They will detach "D" coupons to cover the amount of your purchase and give you a voucher which you send to the producer. Four "D" coupons entitle you to one voucher good for one gallon of syrup. One coupon is good for 40 fluid ounces.

Q.—My grocer refuses to sell me canned blueberries without coupons. Is this correct?

A.—No, canned blueberries were removed from the ration list temporarily and until June 30 may be purchased without coupons.

Q.—What is the necessary procedure to secure a ration book for my new baby?

A.—A ration book for the new baby may be obtained by applying to your local ration board. Any adult member of the family may secure it for you. You should have either the baby's birth certificate or baptismal certificate. If these certificates cannot be obtained, the person applying for the book will have to sign an affidavit on the form provided.

Q.—Is tinned baby fruit rationed?

A.—Yes, tinned baby fruit is rationed. You may obtain 20 ounces of canned fruit for each "D" coupon.

Q.—When buying honey by mail-order directly from producers, should you send coupons in exchange?

A.—No, you must go to your Local Ration Board where preserves coupons may be converted into purchase vouchers, which should be forwarded to your supplier.

Birds, Like Humans, Reported Upset In Britain By War

One phenomenon reported in Britain this spring is the way the daffodil bulbs are coming up "blind," or flowerless.

Bird watchers, too, note that the migrants seem to be mixed up this year. Willow wrens have arrived before the chief chaffs, which is contrary to the best migratory practice. Observation both last year and this suggests that the ordered life of birds, as well as human beings, is increasingly upset by the war.

The candy rationing and cardboard shortage made Easter eggs almost nonexistent this year. But there was one consolation—more oranges than many an under-six-year-old child can remember ever seeing. All the same, this "glut" of oranges doesn't amount to more than about three a head of population.

But the war has brought a change in Junior's habits in Britain with oranges. He doesn't throw peels about any more. He isn't given a chance to, because the careful housewife, following the official food instruction, takes the peel off first to make marmalade or to grate into flavoring for drab wartime cakes and pastries.

Ghostly Hands Guide Wine Glass For Film

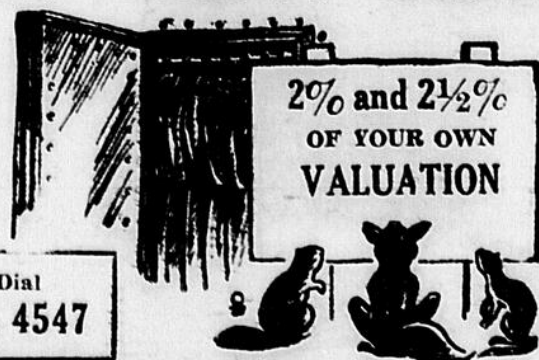

At the height of a seance conducted for a scene in "The Uninvited," a mystery "chiller," a wine-glass, unguided by human hands, dances about the center of a table and crashes against an adjacent wall. Thereupon players Ray Milland, Ruth Hussey, Gail Russell and Alan Napier register considerable amazement, as well they might.

The way it was done was clever enough to fool the camera, which was operating at close quarters. Two black threads were tied around the stem of the glass. The long, loose end of one was held by a chap who stood on top of a ladder just behind the camera. The other thread was attached to the end of an ordinary fishing pole held by another chap who squatted on the electricians' catwalk above the set.

The first man made the glass dance, then dropped his thread. When it came time for the crash the second man jerked the pole and the weight of the glass swung it out and against the wall.

Noteworthy War Work Shown In Westmount Club's Report

After four years of strenuous, consistent work the members of the War Work Committee of the Westmount Women's Club are today keener and more determined than ever to maintain and expand the work, it was stated when the reports of the activities carried on during the past twelve months were read at the annual meeting held on Friday in Victoria Hall.

Miss Edythe McCarthy, war work committee chairman, reported that more than 15,000 articles have been made by members of this committee, and forwarded to the blitzed areas of Britain, Russian and Greek relief organizations, the Canadian Red Cross Society, the Beaver Club, London, H.M.C.S. Westmount, and to units of the Army, Navy and Air Force. This total is made up in part as follows:

Sewing: Over 2,000 articles, consisting of suits, dresses, aprons, underthings, quilts, vests, mitts, layettes, blouses, sheets and housewives, have been made up from material supplied by the club and material supplied by the Red Cross. These have been distributed partly to the Red Cross and the remainder to V Bundles, soldiers' wives who are expectant mothers, Russian, Greek and Scottish War Relief, and the Sailors' Institute for Merchant Marine.

Knitting: The wool committee purchased 390 lbs. of wool, which has been converted into almost 1,500 articles, consisting of sweaters, socks, gloves, caps, scarves, balaclavas and afghan squares. In addition 550 articles have been made from wool supplied by the Red Cross. 400 pairs of white wool socks were knitted for navy hospitals and 120 pairs of socks were made from wool supplied by R.C.A.F. and Army Service Corps.

Ditty bags: 100 ditty bags, each containing about 20 articles, were made for the Navy League, to forward as Xmas gifts to men in the navy.

Hospital and emergency dressings: More than 7,500 dressings were made for the Canadian Red Cross.

Collection and Conservation Activities

Donation of skis:—In response to a request from the O.C. of the R.C.A.F. Training School at Mountain View for used skis, which could be loaned to men in training, an appeal was made through the newspapers, and 28 pairs of skis were collected and forwarded to that station. Two pairs were also given to the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Toy Animals:—200 fascinating and very practical toy animals were made by members of the Junior Auxiliary, who are devoting two evenings a month to this work. The toys are made of oil-cloth, and sent to V. Bundles for distribution in the orphanages of Britain.

Cold Cream for Sailors:—300 jars of cold cream were made up and sent to men in the Navy. Empty jars are collected from members, and filled with a good quality of cold cream which is purchased in bulk. Letters received indicate that this cream is greatly appreciated, and in order that more may be shipped, members are requested to forward empty jars to the war work room.

Conservation:—Great quantities of magazines, bottles, buttons of all sizes, stamps, Christmas cards, etc., have been collected and distributed where they are most needed.

Seeds for Britain:—250 packages of seeds were sent to the Lady Tweedsmuir Fund to be forwarded to Britain.

Many Services Rendered

Other activities of the War Work Committee include the following: Visits to Ste. Anne's Military Hospital are made every two weeks by groups of Senior or Junior members. They take with them cigarettes, games, books, home made candy, socks, mitts, slippers and articles of clothing. They have made friends with many of the convalescent men, and have been able to help them in various ways.

War Services Nursery:—A group of ladies are assisting at St. Columba House in supervising infant children whose mothers are engaged in war work.

War Savings Stamps:—A Committee was formed to encourage membership in the "25 Club," and to date over $100.00 worth of stamps have been sold.

Packing and Shipping:—84 large parcels have been carefully packed and shipped to various branches of the Services.

Hospitality:—This committee has sponsored two suppers for men in the Services, one at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. and one at the Merchant's Navy Club. The average attendance at the suppers was over 100.

Correspondence:—The Correspondence Secretary has had a very busy season. Many letters have been written, and memorandums of instructions to knitters regarding the making of various types of knitted garments, have been handed out.

Financial and Charitable Campaigns:—Teams of workers have assisted in the Annual Financial Campaigns of Canadian Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army and Financia' Federation.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

AT THE WESTMOUNT UNTIL TUESDAY!

Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins in a scene from the hit film "Old Acquaintance," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Tuesday night.

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

With the amazing power, resourcefulness and variety that are the marks of genius, Bette Davis, in the Warner Bros. production of "Old Acquaintance," which opened at the Westmount United Theatre last night, again creates a new personality, so genuinely alive and real that everything which concerns her becomes of absorbing interest. And since her story comes from the sensitive and understanding pen of playwright John Van Druten, the film is an unforgettable and vivid experience in the dramatic play of emotional forces.

Brilliantly co-starring, Miriam Hopkins provides, in the character of self-centered Millie Drake, a flashing, headstrong vixen, as contrast to the fine and understanding selflessness of Bette Davis' Kit Marlowe.

The story subtly tells of the envy of these two women. Millie's envy of Kit's ability as a novelist expresses itself in quick, unreasoning jealousy which alienates both her husband and her child, while Kit unselfishly seeks only to preserve for her friend the happy possessions for which she envies her. Even after Millie's jealousy has robbed both women of love, Kit's translucent loyalty and serenity is great enough to sustain them both.

The supporting cast, headed by Gig Young, with John Loder and Dolores Moran furnishes a superb acting background to the intense, searching performances of the film's stars. Vincent Sherman, one of Hollywood's most promising young directors, has handled John Van Druten's and Lenore Coffee's stunningly contrived screen play with consummate skill, with the result that "Old Acquaintance" is one of the most brilliantly performed films to come out of Hollywood in recent years.

A capable supporting cast includes such established players as Philip Reed, Roscoe Karns, Anne Revere, Esther Dale, Ann Codee, Joseph Crehan, Pierre Watkin and Marjorie Hoshelle.

AT THE YORK UNTIL TUESDAY!

Gene Kelly, Kathryn Grayson, Jose Iturbi, Mary Astor and John Boles in a scene from the thrilling Technicolor film "Thousands Cheer," which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Tuesday night.

panies Kathryn Grayson in several numbers and presents the United Nations Victory song, "United Nations on the March" in a breathtaking finale. In addition to Miss Grayson, Kelly, John Boles and Mary Astor the cast includes Ben Blue, Frances Rafferty, Mary Elliott Frank Jenks, Frank Sully, Dick Simmons and Ben Lessy.

Joseph Pasternak produced with a lavish hand sparing no details in his effort to provide really worthwhile entertainment, and Director George Sidney did justice to his work. Musical direction was under the baton of Herbert Stohart.

At York Theatre

A galaxy of stars, topping a hitting musical, romance of a soldier and the Colonel's daughter, photographed in gorgeous Technicolor, are only a few of the treats, to be found in M-G-M's prize package, "Thousands Cheer," now playing at the York United Theatre.

The plot is the tender romance of young Kathryn Jones, played by Kathryn Grayson, who gives up a career as a concert soloist with Jose Iturbi's orchestra to be with her father, John Boles, and do morale work at his camp. Her ambition is to patch up things between Mary Astor, her mother, and her father who have been separated for fifteen years because Boles' heart belonged first to the Army. Kathryn meets Gene Kelly, an ex-circus performer, who is so discontented with his army lot that he is the problem soldier of the camp, learns his difficulties and helps him become a model soldier, but not before the two have fallen in love, much to the consternation of her bewildered parents.

A highlight of the film is the hour-long USO show put on by Kathryn at the Army camp. Mickey Rooney as master of ceremonies does several of his famed impersonations, Judy Garland teams with Iturbi in a boogie-woogie number, Red Skelton appears in a skit with Donna Reed, Marilyn Maxwell the M-G-M "Glamazons" and little Margaret O'Brien, and Frank Morgan impersonates Dr. Gillespie with Ann Sothern, Lucille Ball and Marsha Hunt as patients, Eleanor Powell contributes one of her outstanding tap routines and Lena Horne does wonderful things with "Honeysuckle Rose" to the accompaniment of Benny Carter and his band. Virginia O'Brien, June Allyson and Gloria DeHaven do a number with Bob Crosby and his orchestra, and Kay Kyser adds to the gayety with his orchestra.

Jose Iturbi in his first appearance on any screen is a delight to all theatregoers. He accom-

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

At The Monkland

The screen has used its magic of intimacy and far-flung scope to let one know and fully appreciate a great man. He is the hero of "Spitfire," a title which derives from the life dream of this man, who is someone you never heard of, R. J. Mitchell. Mitchell is the first and perhaps the greatest hero of World War II, a man who gave his life to protect his native land from Nazi evil; — and in so protecting it, he protected the world.

R. J. Mitchell is the genius who invented the deadly Spitfire fighter plane which defeated Hermann Goering's Luftwaffe on September 15, 1940, when one hundred and eighty-five Nazi planes were shot down out of the serene autumnal skies of Great Britain.

"Spitfire" is the true-life story of R. J. Mitchell, who in addition to being a genius, was a warm-hearted human being very much in love with a beautiful wife; the father of a son; the friend in need who is a friend indeed. You'll be swept in by the story of his life, and you'll choke down tears at the heroic end which he deliberately chose.

Leslie Howard and David Niven (Major David Niven, that is) have brought to the screen, and just in time, too, the story of Mitchell's life. Howard portrays Mitchell, with a physical resemblance which is remarkable, and with a complete understanding of the shy, dogged, perceptive, noble character of the creative artist he is presenting to the world.

Mitchell worked in aerodynamics as an artist works in color. He followed the times, early in his career, and designed amphibian biplanes which floundered through the air at a speed of 129 miles, an hour—not very fast today. But Mitchell lay on the cliffs of Devon with field glasses and watched the flight of the sea gulls, made all of a piece, monoplanes with wings and fuselage welded into one. He wanted to build a plane like a sea gull. Eventually he did; and he equipped his sea gull with eight machine guns and assorted cannon and called it a Spitfire and kept the world free for a while from the Beastliness of Berlin.

In doing this, he lost his life, because from overwork he developed an incurable disease which claimed him at the early age of 42. But he left behind the Spitfire, for all courageous and casual young men to fly and shoot down the unspeakable Thing which emanates from Hitler.

This is material containing the elements of great human drama, and "Spitfire" is a motion picture which forges these elements into their proper unity. Don't let the title fool you. "Spitfire" is not a war picture, in case you don't like war pictures; it is a detailed drama of a great human heart, observed at close range. If you don't count Mitchell a personal friend by the time the film ends, there's something wrong with your capacity for friendship.

David Niven portrays an intrepid test pilot who flies anything, however fantastic, that is born on Mitchell's drawing board. Rosamund John, the English beauty, was chosen by Mitchell's own wife to portray herself in this full-bodied human drama. There is a distinguished supporting cast, including pilots and other personnel of the R.A.F., not one of whom, in the pledged word of David Niven, wears a uniform or a decoration to which he is not entitled.

"Spitfire" is one of the great pictures to emerge from this conflict. That's because it is based, in Galsworthy's dictum, upon character. R. J. Mitchell was the sort of man people would follow in the street. Now you get the essence of him in a fine screen portrayal, and you'll feel it a personal tragedy that you did not know the man himself.

Samuel Goldwyn is presenting "Spitfire" in this country, released by RKO Radio.

The film is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre, last showing tonight.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

This week marked the opening of the baseball season—usually a gala event celebrated with half-holidays in many industries. In this year of war, however, there were no holidays and very little pageantry in connection with opening ceremonies. It was strictly routine. From all accounts it had about it the atmosphere of a necessary wartime relaxation for war workers. In every city thousands of night-shift men and women crowded the stands, enjoying the sun and open air while watching the athletes perform. Baseball provides the very best type of relaxation for those who are fond of the game. All things considered, it is good that the major leagues and the leading minor organizations are carrying on despite the havoc the demands of war have wrought in the ranks of the players. President Roosevelt was wise when, two years ago, he expressed the hope that baseball would not find it necessary to disband for the duration.

Baseball is carrying on, but under greater hardships than at any time in its history. The war has riddled the ranks of star players. In this respect baseball has suffered probably more than any other major sport. For instance, of the 144 players who comprised the opening day line-ups of the sixteen major league teams back in April, 1941, only some 44 took their places in the field this year. And of these 44, several will be called for service before the present season is finished. So that the race now starting is the most difficult of any in the memory of the oldest of the experts to figure out.

MANY OLD TIMERS IN GAME NOW

Many old players will come out of retirement to again take regular places on the teams. Time was when a man over forty years of age on a major league club was the talk of the game. This year there are at least seven plus-forty players scattered through the National and American leagues, and they are causing no comment whatever. There are many others close to 40.

Freddie Fitzsimmons, who will take a regular turn on the mound for the Phillies, is 43, while his battery mate, Mervyn Shea, is 44. Clyde Sukeforth, who managed Royals here for a couple of seasons without even attempting relief catching, will be behind the plate at Brooklyn in a goodly number of games. Among other old-timers who will be back in action are the following. Their age is shown in brackets. FORMER STARS AS BROADCASTERS

Big league games will be broadcast in all cities on Both National and American circuits this coming season and will be carried by a multitude of stations in smaller cities. Among the broadcasters will be four former major league stars: Harry Heilmann, one-time slugging outfielder for the Detroit Tigers, will give the running description of all Detroit games, at home and away; Al Schacht, former New York and Washington star, and noted comedian, will broadcast home games of the New York teams; Waite Hoyt, once great Red Sox and Yankee pitcher, will be at the mike in Cincinnati; while the one and only Jerome "Dizzy" Dean will again preside at St. Louis.

WHEN COBB FACED JOHNSON

The current issue of The Sporting News carries an interesting story from the training camp of the Cleveland Indians. Conversation one rainy evening had drifted around to Walter Johnson, the greatest pitcher the game ever knew, and Ty Cobb, the greatest batsman. "You never saw Johnson at his best," said Coach Del Baker, "unless you watched him pitching to Ty Cobb. That was really a contest—the greatest pitcher in the business against the greatest hitter! Johnson had all the best of it, too, although Cobb would never admit it."

Baker told of a game in Washington in which Johnson struck Cobb out the first two times Ty came to bat. "Cobb was like a madman when he came up the third time," Baker continued, "and, of course, that didn't help his timing. He missed two strikes by six inches. The third pitch was on the inside and high and Cobb tried to fall away from it. It was a blazing pitch and as Ty fell the ball hit his bat and went blooming over the third baseman's head. It rolled into the outfield, and Cobb pulled up at second base. "You blankety-blank," he called at Johnson. "I told you I'm a better hitter than you are a pitcher!"

Learning the best swimming strokes from the beginning is easy. Miss Joanne Shaw gives each little girl the attention which wins confidence and stimulates an eagerness to learn which makes them overcome any fear of the water that they may have. Paul Redwood does the same for the boys. The girls 'Learn to Swim' group on Tuesday and Friday at 4 p.m., the girls 'Improve Your Swim' group meets at 4.30, p.m. The boys meet Monday and Friday at 4 p.m. For reservations phone WI. 2159.

Ladies' Softball Section To Play This Season

The ladies section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will operate again this year, with at least one more team than was in the set-up last season. Last year the R.C.A.F. (WD) No. 1 Wireless School won the championship, while the other clubs were the C.W.A.C. No. 33 Company, C.W.A.C. No. 11 Company and the Westmount team.

All four of these teams with the possible exception of the Westmount team, will be back again this year, while the C.W.A.C.'s from the Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot will enter a team.

The Westmount team will be back in the loop if they can dig up enough players. The only ones left from last year are Marg Armstrong, Mary VanTangeren, Gladys Morgan and Mary Livingston. Other possibilities are Peggy Pope, Dollie Thompson, Beverley Condon, Pearl Burk and Doris Robertson. Practices will be called in about three weeks time when any players wishing to try out with the team will be asked to attend.

Twelve Prospective Teams To Play In Softball League

Nine teams answered the call of the senior section in the Westmount Municipal Softball League when it held its organization meeting last Monday night at the Victoria Hall. These nine together with three more definite starters and another probable means that around 12 or 13 teams will play in the league this year. With this large number of entries, two sections will be operated.

Out of the 13 prospects, 11 are definite entries and they are the Navy; four Army teams, Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot, No. 4 Ordnance, Provost Corps and the R.C.A.S.C. (M.T.) Garage; five Air Force teams, No. 1 Wireless School, No. 3 Training Command, No. 12 Equipment Depot, Machine "Y" Depot and the No. 11 A.I.D.; and the Dodgers.

The two prospective entries are a civilian team entered by Doug Alexander and Ed. Baylis and the R.C.A.F. No. 9 Repair Depot in St. John's, Que.

As mentioned above with the large number of teams entered this year, the league will be run off in two sections. If twelve teams come into the fold there will be six teams in each section but if 11 or 13 teams enter the loop, the sections will have an odd number of clubs. If the sections are unbalanced in this way, in all probability the percentage system will be used in determining the standing of the teams.

Games, as usual, will be played at Westmount Park and at the Westmount Barracks' diamond. Last year the Provost Corps played their home games at the Barracks, but this year the No. 4 Ordnance team will also make their home appearances on this diamond.

This year's schedule will start on Monday evening May 15th with the Navy meeting one of the Army teams in the lone league fixture of the evening. Some sort of league opening ceremonies will be held, probably along the lines of those taking place last year when the high ranking officials in all three services and the city participated in the pre-game doings.

All 10 teams that played in the league last year will be back including Art Mann's Westmount Dodgers that copped the title. Mann reports that Allen Dyke, his ace hurler, will be back with the club again this year, although he will not appear in so many games. The rest of the teams will have strong teams, George Scully will be back hurling for the No. 3 Command team while the Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot reports a strong club.

The R.C.A.F. No. 11 A.I.D. is one of the new clubs who are definitely in the hunt for the title, the No. 11 A.I.D. outfit are reported to have a first class hurler from Ontario.

Doug Alexander and Ed. Baylis are making an effort to grab a franchise for another civilian club, using many of the players from last year's junior league. The Alexander-Baylis combination hope to land Hughie Brown for the mound chores. Brown led the Staynor club to the junior title last year, as well as pitching for some other well known clubs in the city.

The deadline for entries has been set for Monday May 1st and the next meeting of the league will be held on Tuesday May 9th at the Victoria Hall. The league is on the lookout for umpires and any prospective arbiters are asked to get in touch with recreation supervisor Jim McCormick at Fitzroy 1929 or DEXter 6933, any other information regarding the league may be obtained at the same number.

Three Teams to Compete In Inter-City Hardball League

(By BOB LUNNY)

With the Westmount Hardball Group withdrawn, we expect to start our own League. The Inter-City Hardball League, will consist of three teams, Bob Lunny's Bombers, Brian Shea's Argos and Bob Thornton's Upper Grosvenors. The schedule will probably start on May 6th. Each team will have a double-header-one in three weeks. The "Bombers" consist of,—Buddy Guilfoyle, Jimmy McCarthy, Johnny Dozois, Pat Palmer, Bob Hoswood, Bob Lunny, Mickey Bourassa, Billy Melvin, Clan McGillis, Pete Heney and Jackie Morton.

Brian Shea's team will include,—Johnny Gutilins, Frank Wickam, Brian Shea, Dave Busseese, Pete Lennan, Bill McVey, John McVey, John Drury, John O'Meara and Harold Young. The Upper Grosvenor's team has the following players. — Ronnie Shaw, Reid Stephenson, Pat Kinsella, Doug Kennedy, Hugh Allan, Ross Walper, Bob Marchessault, Allen Cockfield, Bob Thornton and John Boa.

Upper Grosvenor will hold games up at the Diamond on Queen Mary Road.

Two More Clubs Enter Bantams Softball League

Two more clubs have entered the bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League, bringing the total number of entries to five. The latest applicants are Bob Lunny's Bombers and an unnamed team entered by Brian Tiffin.

There is still room for one or two more teams in this section which is for boys weighing 115 pounds or less and not over 15 years of age on January 1st 1944.

Some of the players on Bob Lunny's Bombers include Donnie McDonald, Bob Harwood, Mickey Bourassa, Ken Black, Ian McGillis, Bill Melvin, Stu McGarr and Bob Emory.

The pee wee section of the league is also looking for entries and any team wishing to play in this section is asked to get its entry in immediately as the schedule will start as soon as the weather gets warmer. This section is for boys weighing 90 pounds and under and not over 13 years of age on January 1st 1944.

Information on both sections of the league may be obtained from recreation supervisor Jim McCormick at the office in the greenhouse or by phone at Fitzroy 1929.

Baseball Men Scorn Reverse Base Running

By Harry Grayson

New York. — Baseball men laugh at Raymond Dumont's reverse base running proposal, but the semi-professionals will try it out.

President Dumont insists that the National Semi-Pro Congress will definitely add the Wrong Way Corrigan plan to its official rules if it proves successful in the test. Ray Dumont, who makes a business of thinking up everything from the disappearing microphone at the plate to putting boxing gloves on pickpockets, doubts that organized baseball would consider such a move even if the public goes for it. Organized baseball isn't very progressive, he points out.

Ray Dumont

"Any new idea receives a cold reception from 99 per cent of the people," asserts Thinker-Upper Dumont. "They said Alexander Graham Bell had bells in his belly, and that was one of the few times they were right."

"Baseball requires a shot in the arm," he insists, adding that Hockey, football and basketball made rapid advancement because they acquired razzle-dazzle and fire department offenses.

"Why not have players and fans wonder what's going to happen next, especially when one or more batters get on the paths?" asks Dumont. He stresses that it would be interesting to see what happens when a runner attempts to steal third from second while another tries to advance from third to second. No doubt about it. And what a scream it would be if both were caught between the same two bases on a run-down simultaneously. On sacrifices, infielders would have to be outfiguring the batter in advance. They'd have to keep their heads up to discover which way the batter elects to get on base.

Dumont tells you it would be almost impossible to get more than three runners on the paths at any one time. The way he figures it only once in 100 innings, on an average, would there be four or more runners, only once in 1000 times as many as five, or the maximum of six, which would mean that the bases would be loaded both ways.

Dumont further reveals that giving the batter the option of running either to first or third base would require four umpires because of the many complications which would arise, especially when runners started running opposite direction on a sacrifice bunt.

Ray Dumont seems to think he has something new.

Obviously the president of the National Semi-Pro Congress wasn't in Brooklyn in the days of Babe Herman, but he should have been.

Where's Joe?

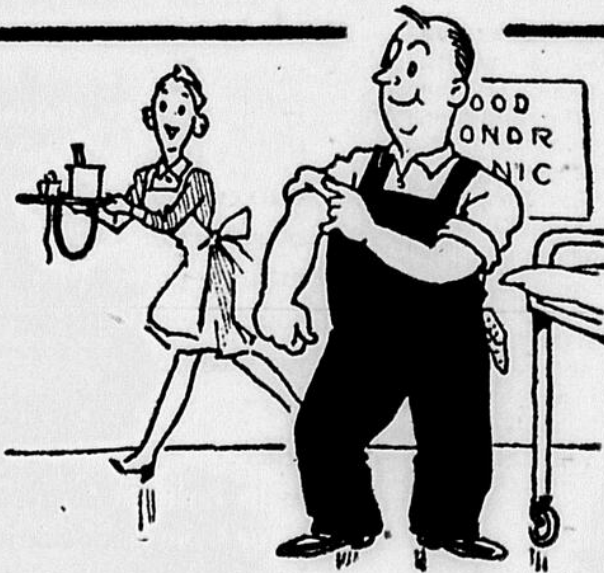

JOE SAYS

"Maybe titles don't go for much in this country. But there's one that most of us should have and that's R.C.B.D.—When you've got these letters tacked to your name you've got something. And you've got it because you've given something! You've given some soldier another chance for life. You've put him back in the line again. You've sent him home to his folks—ALIVE!"

"Yes, an R.C.B.D. counts for something in this war. Ask any man in the service. He'll tell you. 'R.C.B.D.' is Red Cross Blood Donor. Maybe you'd like to have those letters after your name."

With three days to go in the current campaign for 1,200 additional blood donors for the Red Cross blood clinic from among employees in the local garment manufacturing industry, the objective was in sight today, Allan Broufman, chairman of the patriotic committee of Canadian Jewish Congress, announced today.

The Congress campaign originally sought 500 new donors. This, and a subsequent objective of 1,000, having been exceeded, a final figure of 1200 was set by the joint chairmen J. P. Levee and Walter Friedman, directors of the National Associated Women's Wear Bureau and Canadian Clothing Manufacturer's Association, respectively.

Employees of Reliable Pad Company set a record in the men's division with 100 per cent support as all 25 eligible employees in the plant signed pledge cards. In the women's division employees of Klein Manufacturing set a top mark with 125 donor pledge cards sent in.

A speakers' committee headed by Dr. Irving Kaufman has been canvassing plants throughout the district addressing employee meetings.

The campaign ends on Saturday.

Churches Seeking Incorporation

Howard S. Ross, K.C., left this morning for Quebec where he will spend a few days and appear before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislative Council in connection with a Bill, which if passed, will incorporate Associated Gospel Churches in the Province of Quebec.

The bill was approved by the Legislative Assembly a month ago. It was sponsored in the Lower House by Emile Boucher, K.C., M.L.A., member for St. Henry, and is sponsored in the Legislative Council by Hon. Jacob Nicol, K.C., LL.D., M.L.C.

Associated Gospel Churches has carried on work in this province for several years. Its principal congregation is the People's Church, situated at the corner of Sherbrooke Street and Union Avenue, opposite Royal Victoria College. It has a considerable number of congregations in Ontario and other provinces with a membership of 3,280.

Petitioners for incorporation industrial representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a resident of the Town of Mount Royal; Henry Gray Foreman, assistant-treasurer of the Canadian National Railways, Westmount; Harold Walter Smith, vice-president W. R. Brock Company, Ltd., Outremont; Alfred Hauey Kennington, president of Campbell, Gilday Company Ltd., Westmount; Charles Stewart Hogg, Canadian Handicrafts Guild, Montreal; James Walter Jamieson, president James W. Jamieson Co. Ltd., Montreal; Brodie James Jamieson, James W. Jamieson Company, Rosemount, and William Wallace Robertson, Montreal Star, Montreal.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE ...

MAIL TO REINFORCEMENT UNITS
 A CHALLENGE TO US ALL ...

THIS is a war of movement. Never before have troops been moved such incredible distances, in so many theatres of war, so quickly. Night and day, thousands of men are in motion, by sea transport, motor truck and air... edging into enemy territory, shifting to keep the element of surprise. Did you ever stop to think what it means, under these trying conditions, to find your friend or relative, and put your letter into his hands?

Yet in spite of the tremendous task involved, tracing men who are moving from reinforcement units in England to group depots in Italy... or from one location to another... or through hospitalization or while on leave... in the face of every sort of war hazard... 31,500,000 letters in addition to parcels and other items, reached our men in 1943.
