VOTE CONFIDENCE IN CHAMBERLAIN

Premier Not In Favor Of Election Now

House of Commons Today Approved Prime Minister Chamberlain's Bargain of Munich for Keeping Europe Out of War—Fears General Election at Present Time Would Tend to "Magnify Differences"—Claims Czechoslovakia Saved from Annihilation.

London, Oct. 6.—(P)—The House of Commons today voted confidence in Prime Minister Chamberlain and approved his bargain of Munich for keeping Europe out of war. The final vote was 386 to 144.

The House rejected a Labor motion expressing disapproval of the Government's foreign policy as expressed in the "peace of Munich." The vote was 130 to 130.

Before the vote was taken, Mr. Chamberlain, winding up the four-day debate, declared he was opposed to a general election, which would tend to "magnify differences."

"Possibly we may want great efforts from the nation in months to come," he said. "If that be so, the smaller the differences the better."

In answer to Labor attacks on his policy he declared that to "accuse us of having betrayed Czechoslovakia is simply preposterous. What we did was save her from annihilation and give her a chance for a new life."

The Chamberlain Government today turned down a proposal that the House of Commons should adjourn for ten days. As a result the House will adjourn later today until November 1.

Because of the swiftly-changing European scene the Government was pressed by Liberal and Labor members to give Parliament a short recess. Prime Minister Chamberlain said the Government had full power to summon Parliament whenever it thought it necessary and would not hesitate to use that power if events became worse before November 1.

On a motion to adjourn until November 1, the Government was sustained, 313 to 150.

Winston Churchill and the Prime Minister became involved in a sharp exchange concerning the adjournment of Parliament. Mr. Churchill backed up the suggestion of Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader, that the House reconvene October 13 and, if necessary, again between then and November 1, contending it was derogatory to Parliament that it should be dismissed "in one of the most formidable periods in which we have lived."

Mr. Churchill added that some Cabinet Minister would feel it a relief "when we have sent them (Parliament) on their business and we can get on with our work," and continued: "We hear of some change in British Cabinet procedure—that these matters are being dealt with by what are called the 'big four'."

Mr. Chamberlain retorted: "The House that the motion provided that Parliament could be summoned before November 1 if events warranted."

Mr. Churchill interjected: "But only on the advice of the Government."

The Prime Minister retorted: "It is unworthy of the right honorable gentleman, on an occasion of this kind," here he was interrupted by an outburst of cheers from the Government benches.

Mr. Churchill asked the Prime Minister "why a perfectly innocent proposal which I put to him should receive the wholly inappropriate ex-

JAILER'S DAUGHTER ASSISTED IN ESCAPE

Lexington, N.C., Oct. 6.—(P)—An appeal from a sixty-day sentence saved husky Lula Belle Kimel, at least temporarily from becoming a prisoner today in the county jail from which she fled two of her father's prisoners last Monday. Her father resigned as jailer because of his humiliation.

Despite a far-flung police network the two men, James Godwin, nineteen, and Bill Wilson, twenty-one, sought for a series of crimes including murder, retained the freedom they gained when the twenty-two-year-old jailer's daughter gave Godwin the keys that released them.

Lula Belle, chastened by her experience, and at liberty under $200 appeal bond, pleaded guilty to charges of aiding in the escape of the two men.

Bye-Election In Stanstead Is Probable

(From Yesterday's City Edition) Quebec, Oct. 5.—(P)—Provincial bye-elections in Montreal-St. Louis and Stanstead divisions, if needed, will be held as "soon as possible," Premier Duplessis said today.

Resignation of Peter Bercovitch, veteran Liberal Member for the Montreal riding, was announced yesterday but Duplessis said he had not been "officially" notified of the resignation of Rouville Beaudry, Union Nationale Member for Stanstead.

Bercovitch will be a candidate in the Federal bye-election in Montreal-Cartier, necessitated by the recent death of Samuel Jacobs, Liberal Member.

London, Oct. 6.—(P.Cable)—It was reliably learned here today that there are indications that trade agreements between the United Kingdom, the United States, and Canada will be ready for signature by the end of October.

Negotiations for the new commercial pact have been in process, mainly in Washington, for several months.

Says Spain Will Fight Until "Free From Foreign Invasion"

Government Spain Determined to Avoid Fate of Czechoslovakia, Foreign Minister Declares—Plan to Divide Country into Two Nations, a Democracy and a Dictatorship, Reported Rejected.

Barcelona, Oct. 6.—(P)—Julio Alvarez del Vayo, Spanish Government Foreign Minister, declared today that Government Spain was determined to avoid the fate of Czechoslovakia and to fight until the country is "free from foreign invasion."

In an address prepared for international broadcast Alvarez del Vayo asserted: "The terrible and monstrous experience of what has taken place in Europe within the last few days has increased the Spanish people's resolution not to permit Spain to be sacrificed to the policy of capitulation."

"This policy of capitulation, he said, 'menaces the existence of small nations and places European democracies in ever increasing danger of disappearing.'" (Spanish Government spokesmen in Paris said a plan to divide Spain into two nations, one a democracy and the other a dictatorship, had been rejected by the Government.

Story Of Bren Gun Contract Taken Back To First Stages

Sight of Machine Gun in Government Office Set Major Hahn, of Toronto, on Trail Which Resulted in Contracts to Make Gun for Canadian and British Governments, Royal Commission Told.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—(P)—Sight of a Bren machine gun in a Government office set Major James E. Hahn, of Toronto, on a trail which led him to contracts to make the gun for the Canadian and British governments, Mr. Justice Davis, Royal Commission investigating the Canadian contract, was told yesterday.

The witness was Major General L. R. Lafleche, Deputy Minister of National Defence, who continues his testimony today at the inquiry which in his office and Major Hahn became interested, examined it, thought he could make it and announced his intention of going to England to consult the war office.

He left for England shortly afterward with a letter of introduction from Defence Minister Mackenzie to Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, and preceded by a request from the department to Mr. Massey to let the War Office know he was coming.

Such requests, General Lafleche explained, were not unusual and were regularly sent when Canadian manufacturers went to England in connection with possible orders for munitions and supplies.

Work To Start At Once On Mount Orford Park E. T. Trade Group Told

Hon. L. A. Giroux Declared Yesterday Government Prepared to Proceed with National Park Project—Numerous Important Matters Discussed by Representative Gathering of Eastern Townships Business Men Meeting in Rock Island.

(By Record Staff Reporter)

Rock Island, Oct. 6.—Heralding a long-awaited and much-discussed project, Hon. Louis Giroux, M.L.C. for Shefford, said here yesterday that preliminary work on the development of Orford Mountain into a national park would be started immediately. Mr. Giroux made the statement at an executive meeting of the Eastern Townships' Associated Boards of Trade and the Eastern Townships' Settlement Society which followed the fall session of the groups held in the Opera House, during which a number of important resolutions were approved and an address given by Eugene Gagne, of the Quebec Department of Colonization.

In the course of an address delivered at the afternoon meeting, Mr. Giroux said that some time ago the Quebec Government allotted $50,000 for the project and signified readiness to go ahead with the work as soon as the $28,000 needed to buy the seven thousand acres of land was subscribed by interested municipalities. To date a total of $20,374 had been collected, he said.

At an executive meeting which followed the afternoon session, however, Mr. Giroux said that work would begin at once, newspapermen were told by officials of the Associated trade boards. The money already subscribed will be used to buy as much land as possible and it is felt that when work is actually started other communities will make contributions to the fund. Subscriptions made to date have been approved by Order-in-Council and the secretaries of the various municipalities requested to forward the money to Quebec.

Donations made so far are as follows: Sherbrooke, $10,000; Town of Magog, $4,000; Township of Magog, $1,000; East Bolton, $1,000; Eastman, $1,000; Coaticook, $500; Forestburg, $499; Little Lake Magog, $250; Rock Island, $250; County of Stanstead, $250; Richmond, $250; Knowlton, $250; North Hatley, $200; Ogdon, $200; Municipality of Stanstead, $200; Ayer's Cliff, $125; Township of Orford, $100; Township of Hatley, $100; Sweetburg, $75; Municipality of West Hatley, $50, and Stanstead East, $50.

Replying to criticisms directed at the Government for delaying the start of the work, Mr. Giroux said the delay was partly due to the fact that farming and other relief projects had kept many busy through the summer because it was so many municipalities which had promised to subscribe towards buying the land required had failed to do so. Out of 112 letters which Mr. Giroux sent to various municipalities in regard to their subscriptions answers were received from but twenty.

He also said that Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, Quebec Minister of Public Works and of Lands and Forests, favored starting the work in the fall rather than in the summer because there are more unemployed men during the autumn and early winter.

It was reported at the meeting that a Montreal expert who inspected the mountain favored building a one-way road up the west side of the peak and down the other, rather than a two-way highway on one side only. He believed the single lane would provide a greater measure of safety for motorists and would

PROPOSALS FOR ANGLO-ITALIAN PACT ARE MADE

Mussolini Expected to Lay British Plan Before Fascist Grand Council When It Meets Tonight.

Rome, Oct. 6.—(P)—Diplomatic sources said today Great Britain had submitted proposals for an accord with Italy in the fourth successive daily call of the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador, on Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano.

Details of the plan to make effective immediately a settlement of Anglo-Italian differences were not ascertained.

Since the Anglo-Italian Easter agreement was made conditional upon the withdrawal of Italian forces from Spain, it was believed the British Government might have proposed to Italy to withdraw at least some of the infantrymen fighting for General Franco.

A Premier Mussolini was expected to lay the British plan before the Fascist Grand Council when it meets tonight.

Some political circles thought the Council might meet several days and the announcement of the decision of an Anglo-Italian agreement might follow.

Rumors have circulated for several days that Italy was prepared to withdraw from the Spanish civil war some infantrymen without reducing aviation, artillery and other specialized forces there.

Recognition of Italy's Ethiopian conquest, in line with the projected French recognition, was expected in diplomatic circles to be part of the plan.

CANADIAN PAINTINGS FOR LONDON GALLERY

New York, Oct. 6.—(P)—Because the leaders of Europe's four great powers decided against war over the Czechoslovak question, an exhibition of 200 Canadian paintings will go on at the Tate gallery in London on October 15th.

For a while there was fear in art and official circles in London that the "five tons" of paintings from the Dominion would be exposed to bombardment from the skies, it was disclosed here today.

Arthur Lismer, distinguished Canadian painter who recently left a post as Educational Director of the Art Gallery of Toronto to become Professor of Fine Arts at Teachers' College, Columbia University, relayed the information to The Canadian Press.

Defence Counsel Continues Attack Upon Crown's Case In Beauce Trial

St. Joseph de Beauce, Que., Oct. 6.—(P)—Defence counsel for Mrs. Achille Grouin today continued its methodical attack on prosecution evidence intended to show the forty-year-old farm woman murdered her first husband.

J. Rosaire Beaudoin addressed the jury of Beauce County farmers for four hours yesterday, attacking point by point the two weeks' evidence by which the prosecution hopes to show she poisoned Villomond Brochu to marry his hired man, her present husband. His plea was not expected to be concluded until late in the day.

After declaring he would throw "serious doubt" on the contention that Mrs. Grouin administered a death-dealing dose of poison to him.

Brochu, and even that Brochu had been "poisoned," Beaudoin started his long assault.

When adjournment came yesterday, he had not touched on the testimony of Dr. J. M. Roussel that the St. Methode farmer-taxman's death had been caused by acute arsenic poisoning.

He termed "ridiculous" evidence of backwood sorcery having been brought into play against Brochu shortly before he died. He asserted, too, that Mrs. Grouin's desertion of her husband for a short time six months before his death not only had been justified by his treatment of her, but tended to show "she would have been more likely to leave him again than to do away with him."

British Government Takes Steps To Quell Arab Disorders In Holy Land

London, Oct. 6.—(P)—Great Britain took steps today to quell Arab disorders in Palestine.

Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald told the House of Commons four battalions and two cavalry regiments were being rushed to the Holy Land where the British Government admitted there was "a serious deterioration in the general situation."

Sir Harold MacMichael, High Commissioner for Palestine, flew to London today to report fully on conditions.

British troops and aviators killed an estimated sixty Arabs in punitive engagement near Mount Tabor and near Safed yesterday. The expeditions set out after Arab bands attacked Tiberias Monday and killed nineteen Jews. Arab-Jewish racial Baltimore, Oct. 6.—(P)—More than five hundred delegates to the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America today gathered at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for consideration of reports and the mechanics of church affairs.

The convention opened formally last night with a Communion service in which Dr. Frederick Knobel, of New York, president of the church, said it was now "truly united as never before." He preached on "unity of fellowship in Christian faith and life," the theme of the convention.

Among the reports to be submitted to the delegates today was one by the executive committee calling for regular reports on the progress of theological students and setting up standard practices for ordination.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Demers Feted by Relatives and Friends — General News from Melbourne and District.

Melbourne, Oct. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Demers were invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. Nadeau. On arriving they found about twenty-five relatives and friends gathered there to offer them their congratulations and good wishes on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

It was a complete surprise to them as they came in the guests stood and sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and little Miss Durocher presented the "supposed bride" with a dozen roses. The evening was very pleasantly spent in games and social intercourse.

At eleven o'clock Mrs. Nadeau, the hostess, assisted by some of her aunts, served a most delicious buffet lunch. The table with its lace cover and yellow candles in silver candlesticks looked very beautiful. The house also looked very attractive with its profusion of flowers.

After the lunch was over a short address was read to the honored guests. A beautiful cabinet of flat silver and an electric coffee percolator were presented to them with the good wishes of their friends.

A Choice New Slice Of Czech Territory Is Given Germany

The French people as a "peace with honor," had now been converted to almost exactly the terms of Hitler's Godesberg ultimatum — demanding cession of certain Sudeten territories by October 1st.

Chancellor Hitler, on a visit to the second zone of occupation, arrived at Goerlitz at 8:13 a.m. and was greeted by a jubilant populace.

The new territory of zone five was granted Germany without the formality of a plebiscite. It deepened the zones previously marked out at Munich to take in a number of towns around the western half of Czechoslovakia.

Among important sections of the new territory were the coal basin of Dux and Bruex; the glass-manufacturing city of Gablonz and the textile centre at Reichenberg.

In area it is approximately one-fourth of the 20,000 square-mile Sudeten area claimed by Germany. The International Commission charted the new zone as Germany prepared to bill Czechoslovakia for "reparations" dating back to 1918 and after the Commission had accepted October 28th, 1938, as a population centre for the zone.

Under the Commission's agreement, a fifty-one per cent German population would be enough to declare any city, village or district German.

While the reparations demand was considered a lever to force Czechoslovakia to Germany's economic system, official and industrial circles predicted that with the resignation of President Benes, of Czechoslovakia would be placed on an entirely new basis.

Work To Start At Once On Mount Orford Park E.T. Trade Group Told

Cost no more, as the single lane would be eighteen feet wide, while it has been planned to construct the double lane road thirty-six feet wide.

M. Giroux pointed out that unless the additional sum needed to buy the land titles is obtained the project will be doomed to failure and he urged municipalities which have not already subscribed to do so at once.

L. A. Richard, Deputy Minister of Mines and Fisheries, who inspected the park site yesterday in company with Ernest Menard, Provincial Superintendent of Parks, addressed the meeting briefly, stating that he considered Orford Mountain a beautiful spot and an ideal situation for a national park. He reminded his listeners that the titles to the land must be acquired, however. Tribute to Dr. G. A. Bowen, of Magog, for his work in connection with the park was given by John Tilton, of Rock Island.

Following the park discussion, an address was given by Eugene Gagne, of the Quebec Department of Colonization, in which he quoted figures showing that the Government is earnestly endeavoring to settle the unemployment problem and stop desertion of rural areas at the same time.

First of the several resolutions passed was that asking the Government to take steps toward preventing highway accidents caused by vehicles parked without sufficient lights.

Several recommendations in connection with the Eastern Townships fish and game laws were also made at the session. The delegates believed that wardens specially trained in the work of fire rangers should be employed on a full-time basis and that all hunters and fishermen should be forced to procure licenses. Other recommendations were a closed season on moose in the Eastern Townships for ten years and a closed season on deer for five years. Delegates approved that a minimum bag limit be placed on partridge for the last ten days in October, allowing the hunter two birds a day and not over six in all, the law to be controlled by an Order-in-Council. It was further recommended in the resolution that the supply of brook trout fingerlings, rainbow trout, brown trout, salmon and smallmouth black bass be increased for stocking purposes.

Believing that the imposition by the Fair Wage Board of the Province of Quebec of the tax of one-half of one per cent on salaries had employees is far in excess of the amount required to administer the wage board, the meeting resolved to lodge a protest against the levy, a copy to be sent to Premier Duplessis and another to Hon. William Tremblay, Minister of Labor. It was pointed out in the resolution that at the last session of Legislature the Government stated no new taxes would be imposed and it was felt that the levy definitely constituted additional indirect taxation. Business and industry cannot afford extra levies, the resolution states, and it will have a serious effect on them.

A letter from C. Guy Bishop, of Sherbrooke, urging an advertising campaign to stimulate the sale of Canadian-made goods was read and the scheme given the support of the delegates.

Due to the fact that in recent months a large number of sheep in the Eastern Townships have been destroyed by dogs, the meeting resolved that drastic steps be taken by each municipality to curb the prevalence of unlicensed dogs, and that dogs for which owners refuse to pay a tax be shot.

The meeting approved of the railway inquiry conducted by the special Senate Committee last session and recommended that the Committee be re-appointed and engage at the earliest possible moment a body of experts, independent of the railway companies, for the purpose of making such further investigation as may be deemed necessary. The experts would report to Committee, setting forth an estimate of the savings that can reasonably be expected with a reorganization of Canada's transportation system soon enough to have the Committee make definite recommendations to Parliament so that active action may be taken before the close of the coming session.

D. J. Salls, of Sherbrooke, President of the Associated Boards of Trade, presided at the afternoon session and the delegates were welcomed by Dr. J. H. Gauthier, Mayor of Rock Island; H.H. Farman, former member of the Vermont Legislature, and D. L. Dashney, president of the International Chamber of Commerce in the Quebec-Vermont border.

Minutes of the June meeting in Granby were approved as read by R. W. S. Nutbrown, secretary of the Settlement Society. Next session of the groups will be the annual meeting to be held in Sherbrooke in January.

A banquet at the Del Monty Hotel in the evening concluded the day's activities.

Mr. Chamberlain explained he was referring to Mr. Churchill's suggestion that Cabinet Ministers would be glad to see the House disperse so they might proceed with their business instead of having to face the House.

The Prime Minister added the attack did not "do justice to the sincerity and sense of responsibility of Cabinet Ministers."

He admitted the House could only be convened on representations to the Speaker by the Government, but he declared the Government was fully prepared, if it felt the situation required it, to recall the House.

Harold MacMillan, a Conservative, joined the Opposition, declaring he was afraid the House was being treated "more and more as a kind of Reichstag (German Diet), just meeting to hear orations and register decrees."

Several speakers questioned the constitutionality of the adjournment move at a time when important decisions still remained for Parliamentary consideration. In particular the Government's proposal to make an immediate advance of £10,000,000 ($50,000,000) to Czechoslovakia required immediate examination and discussion by Parliament, it was contended.

Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the decision to take a loan to Czechoslovakia had been taken in extraordinary circumstances. Because of the gravity of the European situation, the Government had found it necessary to adopt extraordinary measures, but not unconstitutional ones.

The question of British steps to "secure the personal safety" of Edward Benes, who resigned as president of Czechoslovakia yesterday, was raised during the question period by Mr. Adams, Conservative, who asked if anything was being done to protect him.

"Have not the Government been seized by the fate of Dr. von Schuschnigg (last Chancellor of Austria)?" Mr. Adams asked.

When no reply was forthcoming from the Government benches shouted "Answer!" came from the Opposition benches. William Gallacher, Communist, shouted: "It may be your own fate one of these days!" to which Conservative members retorted "And yours."

Major Harry Nathan, Labor, asked if the Government "had drawn the attention of the German Government to the minorities treaty covering the Sudeten German territory, especially in view of the large number of Germans who have fled from Germany to the Sudeten area," and if the German Government would fulfil its obligations thereunder.

"The minorities treaty," replied Mr. Chamberlain, "is not binding upon the German Government. Neither can I accept the assumption that the provisions of the treaty would in any case apply to German nationals who may have taken up residence in Czechoslovakia."

MINTON SCENE OF CANADIAN LEGION RALLY

Members of Frontier Branch Paid Annual Visit to Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Daintrey.

Minton, Oct. 6.—Members of the Frontier branch of the Canadian Legion paid their annual visit to the Daintrey home, the distance of twenty-five miles not preventing a large number from attending.

In the absence of the president, Rev. Eric Armstrong, the business session was conducted by Conrad Meeklen. The members of Stenick branch welcomed with pleasure several members of the Sherbrooke branch, among them Col. McNulty, chairman of the Eastern Townships zone, and Col. Echenberg.

Following the business meeting a discussion of the European situation took place. Probably no other group of men in this country appreciate so truly the significance of the Munich Pact as do these members of the Canadian Legion, who have known the actualities of war.

At the close of the discussion refreshments were served and Commander Meeklen voiced the thanks of the members, to which Mr. Daintrey replied, expressing the hope that another year would bring them once more to his home.

GUILD ENJOYED TEA

Mrs. Charles Daintrey was hostess to about thirty members and friends of St. Barnabas' Guild. PRESENT HOPES TO END LABOR WAR SHATTERED

C. I. O. Chairman Announced New Industrial Movement Would Seek to Establish Itself as Permanent Organization.

Houston Tex., Oct. 6.—(AP)—John L. Lewis' formal call for a Committee for Industrial Organization constitutional convention was interpreted generally in high American Federation of Labor sources today as exploding all immediate hopes for an end to the A.F. of L.-C.I.O. war.

The C.I.O. chairman's announcement that his new industrial union movement would seek to establish itself as a permanent organization at a meeting in Pittsburgh November 14 came soon after President Roosevelt, in a message to the A.F. of L. annual convention here, had appealed for labor peace.

William Green, Federation president, indicated he considered Lewis' action as a rebuff to the President's first publicly voiced hope that organized labor leaders would make peace and keep the peace to save the workers from the reaction that might follow continued strife.

Green's latest blast at the C.I.O. came yesterday when he demanded that the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress "purge" itself of C.I.O. affiliation in the Dominion. The Federation he said later would withdraw from the Canadian organization unless it expelled such Lewis unions as the United Mine Workers, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the United Automobile Workers.

OWNER OF LION CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Killer Broke Out of Cage, Tore Man to Death and Terrorized Resort City for Three Hours.

Wildwood, N.J., Oct. 6.—A manslaughter charge was lodged today against a boardwalk show operator whose circus lion broke out of a cage, tore a man to death and for nearly three hours terrorized this resort city until slain by a policeman's bullet.

Rebinder Lynn Burns held Joseph Dobish, 50, in $5,000 bail in connection with the death last night of Thomas Saito, 37, of Philadelphia, a Japanese auction room employee whose mangled body was found in a maze of pilings under the ocean-front boardwalk.

Until five weeks ago the 360-pound killer known as "Tuffy" was one of two lions strapped to a motorcycle sidecar while the driver roared around a steel-walled box called the "wall of death."

Some time last night in a manner as yet undetermined "Tuffy" escaped from the cage and roamed the nearby boardwalk.

Saito was about to enter his parked automobile when the lion pounced from the elevated boxwalk, upon the man's back and dragged him into the darkened recess under the walk. There Saito's body was found clad only in a ripped shirt.

$65,000 DAMAGES CAUSED IN LOCAL FIRE

Firemen Battled Flames For Over Three Hours Last Night

Blaze of Undetermined Origin Ruined Stores and Professional and Business Offices and Drove Tenants Out of Their Homes—Fire Started in Basement and Spread Quickly Before Arrival of Firemen.

Ravaging the Skinner Block late yesterday afternoon and evening, a blaze of undetermined origin caused damages estimated at $65,000 to stores and professional and business offices and drove tenants out of their homes.

Breaking out at approximately twenty minutes past four o'clock in the afternoon, the fire spread quickly, and by the time the local fire-fighters had arrived was blazing fiercely. The flames raced through the stores and offices in increasing fury, and licked hungrily at the walls of the neighboring buildings.

The Rexall Drug Store and Olivier's news stand, occupying the ground floor, were completely gutted, as were the offices of A. Denis, Dr. Julien, Giroux and the Cho-quette Insurance Brokerage Company, Miss Allyn Lussier, Albert Grignon and Rosario Lacroix, who lived in apartments on the top-story, lost all their clothes and furniture.

Employees of the drug store said that flames suddenly shot up through the floor and spread through the store. Forced to flee from the fire, they seized everything they could get their hands on and left the building. The money in the cash register was lost.

While hundreds of people filled Wellington street the entire fire brigade battled to extinguish the holocaust. For three long hours the licking tongues of fire refused to be subdued, but a little after seven o'clock they were under control. It was not until midnight, however, that the flames were completely extinguished.

One of the firemen suffered a badly cut hand when he tried to save himself from falling through a hole in the ground floor. Others received minor cuts and bruises while several were overcome by fumes and smoke.

Chief H. O. Camirand announced today that an investigation into the cause of the fire will be made today by Inspector W. L. MacSwiggan, local building inspector. Nothing is known other than that the blaze is said to have started in the basement of the building.

Government Action Against Parking On Highways Urged By Trade Boards

(By Record Staff Reporter)
Rock Island, Oct. 6.—Government action should be taken in a determined effort to curb motor accidents resulting from vehicles parked on highways, in the opinion of the Eastern Townships' Associated Boards of Trade and the Eastern Townships' Settlement Society, which passed a resolution to this effect at their fall meeting here yesterday.

Proposed by L. V. Parent, of Lennoxville, the resolution came as an aftermath of an accident near Birchton last Saturday night when a young girl was killed and five companions injured, one of them seriously, when the car in which they were riding collided with a truck parked on the highway.

Delegates resolved that a strongly-worded communication be sent to the Quebec Department of Roads asking that steps be taken against vehicles parking on highways, which they considered a menace to safety of motorists. Following a discussion in which it was pointed out that at times such parking was unavoidable because of a flat tire or other reasons, it was agreed that, in the case of trucks, lighted flares should be used or the vehicle properly illuminated in some other manner.

Speeding on Quebec highways also came in for discussion and John Holland, of Stanstead, declared somewhat heatedly that "we have the worst kind of driving in the country here in Quebec. I've been driving at fifty miles an hour and had cars go by me as though I were hitched."

Later in the meeting a motion was also passed requesting the Government to have hills properly sand during the winter months in order to provide traction for motor vehicles.

PASSED AWAY

MRS. GEORGE W. DEARDEN, whose death occurred at her home in Windsor Mills early last evening. Mrs. Dearden was in her eighty-third year.

DEATH CLAIMS WIDELY-KNOWN WINDSOR LADY

Mrs. George W. Dearden Passed Away Early Last Evening—Funeral Taking Place on Saturday.

Windsor Mills, Oct. 6.—In the home where she had lived since her marriage fifty-eight years ago, death came peacefully early last evening to Mrs. George W. Dearden, bringing to an end the life of a highly-esteemed and widely-known resident of this town.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Dearden suffered a slight shock, but it was thought that she was improving and that there was no immediate danger. Her heart, however, failed to withstand the strain and death came quite suddenly.

Born in Sherbrooke eighty-two years ago, Mrs. Dearden before her marriage was Mary Ann Houlihan. She had spent her entire life-time in Sherbrooke, Richmond and Windsor.

As a bride she went to reside in the Dearden homestead on the outskirts of the town. It was in this same old stone house that she was to spend the remainder of her life. Since the death of Mr. Dearden she continued to live on in the same house, her declining years being made happy by the constant care and attention of her children.

Keenly interested in the events of the day, Mrs. Dearden was always happy to welcome friends to her home, her pleasing manner and kindly smile winning many friends who cherished her friendship and will remember her as one who made happy the lives of others with whom she came into contact.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. E. Pender, of Windsor, Mrs. H. Plante, of Holyoke, Mass., and Louise Dearden, of Sherbrooke, one son, Frank W. Dearden, of Windsor, and four grandchildren. The funeral will take place from the late residence on Saturday morning to St. Philip's Church, where the service will be held at 8:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Windsor.

Chamber Of Commerce Groups Held Great Community Asset

President of Vermont State Chamber of Commerce Tells Trade Boards Banquet Live Organization Can Keep Community Abreast of Competitive Towns—Says Commerce Groups Improve Business, Living Conditions and Government.

(By Record Staff Reporter)

Rock Island, Oct. 6.—A live association of men and women can do a great deal towards keeping a community on its toes and out in front of competitive towns, declared Albert A. Cree, of Rutland, Vt., in an address in the Del Monty Hotel here last night at a banquet which concluded the fall meeting of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade and the Eastern Townships Settlement Society.

Mr. Cree, president of the Vermont State Chamber of Commerce, the Rutland Chamber of Commerce and the Central Vermont Public Service Corporation, spoke on the subject "Chamber of Commerce Activities."

A Chamber of Commerce is essentially an organization of men and women banded together for the improvement of business, living conditions and the community in which the chamber operates, Mr. Cree said, and brings together the best thoughts and actions of the community. He stated that the Vermont State Chamber of Commerce is a planning organization, neither money-making or money-spending.

Referring to the planning activities of the group, the speaker mentioned that as early as 1922 the members realized that a state-wide network of hard-surfaced roads would in time be imperative and thus laid the foundation stone of Vermont's present highway system.

Public opinion is a major factor in government today, Mr. Cree pointed out, but it must be guided intelligently. As an example of what can be accomplished by a live Chamber of Commerce, he reviewed the action taken by the group of which he is president when that section of Vermont within a few hundred miles of Rutland was faced with the loss of rail transportation due to the financial plight of the Rutland Railway.

Keenly aware that death of the railway would be a serious blow to transportation facilities, the Chamber of Commerce staged a campaign to make the public railway-conscious and to stimulate business. When citizens realized that it was their railway which was affected the response was instantaneous and the campaign eventually successful, the speaker said.

Another innovation practiced by the Vermont Chamber of Commerce is the use of dramatized town reports, Mr. Cree said. These reports are presented in such an interesting manner that citizens become conscious of the cost of government and are made to realize for what purposes their money is being spent. This practice has attracted nationwide interest, he stated.

George W. Murphy, president of the Eastern Townships Settlement Society, presided at the dinner, which was attended by nearly one hundred delegates, guests and members of the Boundary Rotary Club. The speaker was introduced by D. J. Salls, president of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade, and thanked by D. L. Dash-noy, president of the International Chamber of Commerce, which is composed of members from the border villages.

Included among the many guests seated at the head table with the speaker and officials were R. G. Davidson, M.P. for Stanstead, Ed Kelly, of Derby Line, Vt., president of the Boundary Rotary Club, Dr.

Therefore, whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock.—Matthew 7:24.

Dominions And British Tutelage

The Great War in fact marked a new phase in the evolution of the Dominions from Imperial overlordship to practical autonomy. While it was impossible to visualize the British Empire in its foreign relations as anything but a homogeneous whole, it was also possible to visualize it as a collection of individual states, with specific and inalienable rights of self-determination. This right to speak on their own behalf was clearly indicated at the time of the Abdication crisis in December, 1936. It is common knowledge that the crisis was precipitated by the attitude of the Dominion Premiers, who refused pointblank to entertain the possibility of the then Mrs. Simpson becoming Queen of England. In a matter of purely domestic import the "daughters" had asserted their right to speak for themselves. In the sphere of external politics, however, the position is not quite the same. For one thing, as Mr. Chamberlain himself pointed out recently, international affairs cannot always wait "while the family is having chat by the fireside." It may therefore happen that Britain may in certain exceptional circumstances be compelled to enter into commitments on behalf of the Dominions before the latter can be consulted. But that would be the exception rather than the rule.

Heroin Reappears

Mankind's long war against the narcotic evil faces a severe setback as a particularly nasty by-product of Japan's invasion of China.

Heroin, still all-too-widely used in the United States, is an example. It was at one time produced in Europe. Through the League of Nations, that was largely stopped. Then foreign concessions in China began shipping it. Again it was stopped. But Japan-controlled areas are now shipping it in greater quantities than ever.

Brig-General T. W. Russell, a leader in the League's fight against international traffic in opium and heroin, has just called attention to this new problem.

The Japanese, General Russell emphasizes, keep Japan itself clear of both the production and use of the drug. But in the new areas of Manchukuo, and in China directly south of the Great Wall, the traffic is increasing, with the toleration if not the actual connivance of the Japanese officials in control of those areas. And it is not for local consumption, but for export.

Nothing can be done about it at present. But this new menace makes necessary a high degree of vigilance in order to keep this flood of creeping evil out of the United States.

Nazi Rancor Against Christianity

New light is thrown on the difficulties of Christians in Nazi Germany by an account in the Church Times, an Anglican paper published in London, which describes anti-Christian propaganda in what was formerly Austria. A correspondent who had recently returned from that country quoted at length from a leaflet which has been widely circulated among Hitler youth. Some of the statements are illuminating. "Christianity is a religion for slaves and fools. For example, it says, 'The last shall be first' and 'Blessed are the poor in spirit.' . . . Christianity puts Niggers on an equality with Germans . . . The Church is international. . . . There is no Christian culture . . . Christianity was nowhere desired, but pushed itself in everywhere . . . Christianity has corrupted the Germans, acquainted them with concepts, such as that of theft and adultery, which were previously unknown to them. . . . How did Christ die? . . . Whimpering on the Cross. How did Planetta (the murderer of Dolfuss) die? He cried out, 'Heil, Hitler! Long live Germany.' . . . A good people does not need a Saviour; only a bad people."

Gum And Leprechauns

Discovered in the European press during the days of precarious peace, hysteria in high places, and creeping despair:

In the London Times—A vigorous news-story-and-editorial on the headaches being imposed on the London Passenger Transport Board by thoughtless individuals who threw their chewing gum on the city's subway platforms. It was made plain that the Board's patience was about at an end, and drastic measures might have to be taken if the situation was not to get out of hand.

In the Dublin Irish Press—A lengthy account of stirring events in West Limerick. Leprechauns, "little people," had started appearing out of bushes and trees all over the district, and excitement hadn't run so high in the place for years. Fairy-hunting parties by the score went out nightly to try to catch the creatures, who were described as two feet high, earless, and dressed in red knee-breeches and white capes.

There's no sensible reason for it at all, but matters like those bobbing up in days like these do bring about in a person a surprising leap of affection for his fellow man.

Editor's Note-Book

Fifty-three years ago today the gates of the Sherbrooke Exhibition were formally opened. Many worthy citizens of other days worked, often against great odds, to give Sherbrooke a worth-while Exhibition. Down through the years the Sherbrooke Exhibition has, and still is, playing its part in the life of Sherbrooke.

The Montreal Rotary Club celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary in a most dignified and impressive manner. It was a great inspiration to the Rotarians who attended this function. It brought home to them the real significance of Rotary and what it is doing in the way of fostering understanding and toleration in civic, provincial, national and international relations.

Now that winter is almost upon us, the Sherbrooke City Fathers spend their time discussing how they can have good milk during the summer heat. Oh, well, they spent one whole winter talking about bathing suits. Perhaps they will get around to discuss some of the questions which the citizens would like to have settled.

We bet the kids aren't sorry the Teachers' Convention is on.

PEACE

Peace in trouble,
How amazing!
We can have it, did you say?
In a world
Of tribulation
Can there be a peaceful way?
Wounds will be healed,
Tears wiped away,
And anxious fears will duly cease,
The sun will shine
On brightened lives
When together we come to the Source of Peace.

The beauty of health,
The force of strength,
Will be a high and mighty tower,
To keep strong guard
For the nations' good
When Truth stands forth in all her power.

Hate will be gone,
Jealousy doomed,
And Peace like the wings of the gentle dove
Will overshadow our countries,
Bring quiet and calm
When Judgment is filled with a Godlike love.

A HOME-LOVING PEACEMAKER

(Peterborough Examiner)
In a cabled resume of what the British papers were saying on the day when the "Big Four" started negotiations, the Sheffield Independent used a phrase which was uncommonly good. Just this: "Neville Chamberlain stands today as the great, quiet, calm, home-loving peacemaker of his day and generation."

There is something in that which is quite different to the usual mill-run of war-threat comment. It is not given over to a technical argument regarding arms and fleets; it has nothing in the way of denunciation, but rather spends its force in going back to something which is essentially fundamental—home-loving peacemaker.

We cannot recall seeing or hearing of a monument which has been raised to such an intrepid statesman as to travel far and wide through Europe and find erected there columns and magnificent tributes to men who have fought. There appears to be no end of them. But that phrase about the "home-loving peacemaker" strikes deep in the fabric of human emotion and it sticks.

Within recent days a good many people have had their minds turned to something of the same sort. They have not said so openly, but they have been thinking—thinking a great deal.

Young men were thinking about it too; about the prospects of war. They know well enough what it means to them. We had occasion to see a letter written by a young man only a few days ago, and he was discussing the same thing. He said he had always looked forward to the time when he would have a home of his own; he believed he was right in thinking that was a normal course which should not be denied. And then he was moved to say that things looked so doubtful in the world outside that he felt at times as though his fond hope would fade.

The world has been living on hope in recent days; clinging to it like a drowning man to a straw. High hope and dull fear have been invading our homes, welcome and unwelcome guests in the same chamber. And the world still hopes and with good reason. The home-loving Englishman has accomplished that to which he set his hand.

CAN SCHOOLS DO DOUBLE DUTY?

(The Daily Sun-Times)
An editorial in The Rotarian Magazine draws attention, once more, to a matter often discussed in recent years, namely the desirability of making greater use of school buildings that have cost the taxpayers of this country a huge sum of money. According to The Rotarian, more and more the ever-lightened school house is becoming a fact as new communities come to the realization that, as an after-school centre for adult cultural and social activities, the school offers a convenient opportunity.

Folk schools of countries like Denmark, where grown-ups often continue their classroom education all through life, have won wide attention, it is pointed out. And an inspiring example of community education and neighborliness is found in the town of Solomon, Kansas.

Solomon has about 1,000 people. It has no cinema, no clubs; yet approximately 5,000 persons live within eight miles, and for most of them the high school is a natural focus for recreation, entertainment, self-improvement. The building is open five nights a week, except during summer.

Has a dozen farm organizations hold their meetings there. For the rest, people come, as to a reunion, to meet friends, to play games, to take part in plays and lectures, or to listen to them, to hear concerts, to play bridge, table tennis, basketball. Towns like this are the ideal of a public-school educator who, during his superintendency of the school board found a place in the budget for lights, heat, and shower baths. All told, Solomon is a striking example of how a community may be improved by having a common focus for its neighborly activities and interests.

The school's total enrolment is 150) has been heard in Kansas City and Chicago. Every boy physically able plays in intramural sports.

One can think of no good reason why school buildings all over the land should not be put to greater use than at present. As mentioned, the outlay for them runs into a terrific sum and it is always good business to get the greatest possible return from an investment of this kind.

If a school can do the double duty of providing an educational home for children in the daytime and a cultural and entertainment centre for its owners by night, then that is all to the good.

WE HAVE TOO MUCH BUTTER (Peterborough Examiner)

There are 61,028,000 pounds of Canadian butter in storage at the moment, and the prospect is that by the end of September that figure will be increased to a point which will show we have 14,000,000 more pounds of butter on hand than we did one year ago. The logical way to get rid of this too large surplus would be to export but exporters say the butter was not when butter fat prices were so high and therefore it cannot find its way to world markets.

There is no scarcity of butter in Britain and that is where we should sell our surplus. New Zealand and Australia will soon be shipping more because it is now approaching their peak of summer. We cannot ship butter from Montreal or Quebec during the winter months because ocean shipping space is not available then. Right now we have a formidable surplus and it is increasing.

One suggestion coming from Montreal is that farmers should sell their butter fat at a loss for three or four weeks in order that a price might be created which would help diminish present excess of surplus butter. The claim is that it would be better for the farmer to do this in the hope that afterward prices would return to a normal winter level. If it is not done we are told butter fat prices will continue to recede.

Those who are in a position to know the situation locally say deliveries of material for creameries are too heavy and will continue that way on account of late pasture and an abundance of fodder in barns and silos. If a considerable portion of these deliveries is turned into butter then it is not going to be possible to profitably sell the butter.

Another way out of the difficulty was suggested by a gentleman whose opinion we value. Just this: "This situation has been in the making for months and the reason is there is too much material sent to creameries and not enough to cheese factories which are operating to a lesser extent than they were a year ago. The cheese factory runs as a rule from May to October and there is still a chance to turn for even a brief period to the cheese factory."

Canada can export and sell cheese against world competition and we cannot do that with butter. I consider it is more profitable for farmers to sell to the cheese factory because in that way they are doing two things: (1) turning their milk into a cash crop, and (2) preventing the butter market from becoming glutted with surplus butter.

From the cheese factory they also get their whey back and the food value in that for hogs is more highly regarded today than it ever was before. In short it is this way—we can sell cheese with no limits attached, but we cannot sell butter. That is the situation today. A far greater use of the cheese factory is the solution."

ONTARIO'S DECLINING FOREST WEALTH (Brockville Recorder and Times)

E. J. Zavitz, the Provincial Forester, advocating reforestation and conservation in the current issue of the Toronto Board of Trade Journal, says that "Our forest industries provide a large part of our national income and directly support over half a million people."

Despite this dependency upon forests, the writer declares that Ontario is practically denuded and the livelihood of 500,000 Canadians jeopardized. According to Mr. Zavitz, "Many counties of the province have less than ten per cent. of woodland, and some 135 townships have less than five per cent."

The policy of placing idle and waste land under forest management has many arguments in its favor. As Ontario's chief forester, Mr. Zavitz offers some authoritative remarks along this line. He believes forest management will pay as a financial investment. He also contends that, besides providing an adequate wood supply, it will give additional work in rural districts, protect watersheds and conserve water as well as provide breeding-ground for birds and wild life.

It is to the credit of various counties, especially in the western part of the province, that they are embarking upon active campaigns of reforestation designed to replace the losses of woodland that have been suffered. For all the wooded areas that most of the eastern counties possess in comparison with those to the west, they, too, might profitably devote greater attention to reforestation, particularly in view of the rather extensive areas of waste land that are in existence and that can scarcely be devoted to any other useful purpose.

CHOICE OF SQUEEZE PLAYS REWARDS DECLARER'S FAR-SIGHTED STRATEGY

Happy is the declarer who has mastered the squeeze play when he needs that expert tool to produce his game-going trick. Today's hand, played by Mrs. Olive Peterson, of Philadelphia, is especially interesting in that she played for the squeeze early, and at the end found she had a choice of squeezing either opponent for the trick she needed for her game.

Mrs. Peterson (South) might well have doubled one heart, which would not have been a profitable contract:

The jack held the club four, and now the diamond finesse lost to East's queen. Another club was returned.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

Paris Gives Star Role To Afternoon Frocks As Winter Modes Take Stage

MODELS RANGE FROM SIMPLEST TO ONES WITH BIZARRE TRIM

Fantasy reigns supreme on Paris' "dressier" dresses. This Jenny afternoon dress with its crested ruche treatment down the back, is reminiscent of "Chanticleer" days. It is made of very crinkly silk crepe in the new bottle green. The hat is a Enneley Soeur model of black felt with black velvet "ecards".

Paris, Sept. 27.—The afternoon dress, the kind which our mothers called "ladylike," plays a very important part in the coming winter's style pageant.

There are afternoon dresses for every conceivable occasion and very imaginable taste, and they apply to color as well as style. If you happen to be one of those people who are never happy except in some sort of black dress, you will be just as much in the fashion "atmosphere" as the girl who votes for several purple or the new glowing reds.

For more ordinary, everyday wear, there are disarmingly simple dresses which owe all their chic to a subtle touch of drapery, or some light decorative touch. A transparent yoke of tulle or chiffon, for example, with cleverly worked encrustations, will go a long way toward making this type of frock different.

Black For Day Dresses
Plastrons and cuffs of heavy white guipure or Renaissance lace, on black preferably, are satisfying and always sure. Materials offer a wide choice in the more conventional lines—roaman, marocain, crepe de chine. That perennial favorite, black velvet, is more than ever in favor. The majority of these simple, unobtrusive day dresses are black, sometimes relieved by a touch of color, sometimes not. Perfect cut and fit are therefore of paramount importance.

In the more formal, "dressier" dresses, fantasy reigns supreme. Motifs of bright spangles trim the front of bodices. Molyneux's Japanese embroidered necklaces or Mainbocher's jeweled tops come first on the list of new trappings. To the fabrics set aside for the simpler dresses are added gleaming satins, silk jerseys, and moire (the latter a newcomer in the afternoon field), although Molyneux shows some perfectly stunning embroidered formal afternoon ensembles in lightweight wool crepes.

Shoulders Lose Emphasis
Look out for all the latest fashion features when choosing your first fall afternoon dress. Shoulders are not as emphasized as they were last season. Armholes are inclined to be wider and there is still a bit of fullness in the region of the sleeve top.

Paris sends news of disarmingly simple dresses which achieve chic with a subtle touch. This Heim model, an exciting one for debutantes, is an afternoon dress of pleated navy net, with a bodice that opens onto a front of bayadere silk striped in fuchsia and red, which also finishes the net sleeves. The broad belt is in red.

Long, straight sleeves are smart, so are elbow lengths, above or below. The waist should give a "drawn-in" effect, accentuating the roundness of the hips. Bodices are more simple, often bloused at the back or all

Social and Personal

Miss Mary Furlong returned yesterday to her home in Boston, after spending three weeks in Sherbrooke, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Simms, who motored her to New York, whence she departed by rail for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. James Gardiner and Mrs. John Scott are leaving tomorrow morning for Montreal to attend the Grand Chapter session of the Order of the Eastern Star, convening at the Mount Royal.

Mrs. Vina Mercereau, worthy Matron of the Queen Mary Chapter, Mrs. E. E. Messenger, worthy Matron of the Sherbrooke Chapter, Mrs. C. F. Hersey, Miss A. Barker, and Miss Kay Thompson left yesterday for Montreal to attend the Grand Chapter conference of the Order of the Eastern Star at the Mount Royal Hotel.

Members of the Baptist Ladies' Aid met yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Edward Holgate, Ontario street, under the presidency of Mrs. A. E. Willis. Following the disposition of routine business the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to social intercourse. Later the hostess served tea, the Aid's president doing the honors at the pretty lace-covered table, which was attractively centred with autumn flowers.

Mrs. W. H. Fuller did the honors yesterday afternoon at the weekly tea, sponsored by St. Peter's Guild, at the close of the regular meeting in the parish hall. Mrs. F. J. Southwood presided and plans were formulated for a bridge party early in November. The additional guests who joined the members at the tea hour were received by Mrs. H. Reginald Biggs, and Mrs. Fred Pearson acted as usher. Guild members were the hostesses and the tea table, at which Mrs. Fuller presided, was covered with a lace cloth and attractively arranged with single pink and white asters in a cut-glass bowl and pink candles in matching candlesticks.

Skipper Colin Standish took charge of last evening's meeting of St. Peter's Good Companions, in the parish hall, during the course of which further plans were made for this month's bridge party and final arrangements made for transporting the members to Richmond this evening. All members were urged to attend the first Young Men's Communion on Sunday morning in St. Peter's Church, and Mr. Ken Jackson was appointed to take charge of the programme for the next meeting. After the disposition of business, Miss Alice Hutchison and her team served hot dogs—this delightful refreshment taking the place of the weiner roast, with which the weatherman interfered last evening.

Under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, a most delicious chicken pie supper was served to upwards of one hundred and eighty guests in Wesley Hall last evening. Mrs. E. Hodges, president, received, and Miss M. Heath acted as treasurer. The supper was convened by Mrs. J. Hazel, Mrs. O. Williams and Mrs. F. Cathcart, who were ably assisted in all departments by members of the Auxiliary and some of the younger girls of Trinity United congregation. The long tables were attractively decorated with a profusion of lovely autumn flowers, which were donated by Mr. George Carr, their bright colors, in strong contrast to the snow white linen table covers, lending a festive air and supplying just that note of elegance necessary for the complete success of a supper party.

Mrs. H. Saunders and Mrs. S. Pudney were joint hostesses for yesterday's largely-attended meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Mission at the former's home on the Belvidere Road. A most gratifying report on the success of the harvest supper, recently sponsored by the Guild, was given by Mrs. T. Bowyer, treasurer, after which the president, Mrs. J. Halliday, thanked the members and all for their individual efforts which had resulted in the splendid success attending this pleasant annual event. Plans were made for an afternoon bridge party and rummage sale this month, and after adjournment Rev. Oscar Berry closed the evening with prayer. During the enjoyable social hour which followed the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. R. Sanders and Mrs. C. Coombs, with Mrs. Oscar Berry presiding at the tea table, which looked very pretty with hysanths in a crystal bowl and pink candles in crystal holders.

The gaily decorated gymnasium of Bishop's University was the scene last evening of the annual "Introduction Dance." This delightful affair, the first social event of the season, serves to bring together the first-year men and women, and enables them to meet seniors informally. Receiving the guests were the Principal, Dr. A. H. McGreer, and Mrs. McGreer, the Dean of Divinity, Rev. Basil Jones, and Mrs. Jones, and Mr. Ronald Pyke, Senior Man. Throughout the dance fresh men had the special privilege of "cutting in" on anyone at any time, which prerogative they took full advantage of. At ten-thirty refreshments were served, with Mrs. James Dewhurst and Mr. Fred Cooper supervising. Following intermission, dancing was resumed until closing time. Full credit for the success of the event goes to the dance committee, headed by Mr. Geoffrey Murray, which completed all arrangements for the evening.

LUSCIOUS COLORS BRIGHTEN
Color being all-important this season, tone up your black or white evening gown with gloves in one of the new luscious shades—perhaps lime yellow, fuchsia, biscuit beige, apricot or peacock blue. Made of suede, soft as a kitten's ear, these gloves come in below-elbow length, are hand-sewn and laced with velvet up the side.

CASUAL BLOUSES SUIT TREEDS
Tweed country suits require the most casual of blouses. New and very right this fall are bright pilots of authentic Scotch plaids. Jersey cardigans in glowing autumn tones are becoming and warm, too.

Mrs. Pete Smith, of Westmount, is a guest of Mrs. A. S. Lethrop, London street.

Mrs. R. P. Thibodeau, of Montreal, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Greenland, Belvidere street.

Mrs. A. S. Lethrop returned home last night after spending two days in Montreal.

Mr. George Richards' many friends will regret to hear that he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Representatives from St. Peter's "Good Companions," who are journeying to Richmond to attend the Youth Conference in St. Ann's Church this evening will include Rev. A. V. Otiwell, the Misses Ellen Parsons, Margaret Kinkaid, Mona Biggs, Billie Kinkaid, Florence Wardlaw, Kathleen Munkittrick and Phyllis Palmer. Messrs. Colin Standish, Reginald Jackson, Douglas Wootton, Ken Jackson, Harold Munkittrick and Bert Ross.

Mrs. Agnes Holly, president of the Sir John Sherbrooke Boy Scouts Mothers' Auxiliary, entertained the members last evening at her home on Royal street. The attendance was good and the principal business consisted of making plans for a rummage sale this month. Owing to the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Oscar Berry kindly acted in her stead. On behalf of the Auxiliary, the president welcomed a new member, who was later duly enrolled. At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments, assisted by Cub Bobby Holly.

Miss Hilda Robinson, a bride-to-be of the month, was the raison d'être for a happy interlude during last evening's meeting of the Happy Twelve Christmas Club at the home of Mrs. F. Staniford, Federal street. At the conclusion of the game, Miss Dorothy Staniford presented the bride-elect with a prettily-decorated basket containing twelve lovely cups and saucers, the pretty gifts being accompanied by the best wishes of the club members. Cards were played at three tables, the prizes being won by Miss Dorothy Staniford and Miss Hilda Robinson. After the presentation the hostess, Miss Eva Humphries, served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. F. Staniford and Mrs. H. Brewer.

The completion of plans for the annual anniversary supper occupied the attention of the members of St. Andrew's Auxiliary who met yesterday afternoon in the church hall. Mrs. J. W. J. After the disposition of business, Mrs. A. Jobel, the treasurer, submitted a most gratifying report on the success of last week's rummage sale, following which the meeting centered on arrangements for the big annual social event which ever attracts a large number of the congregation and their many friends. 3—Yes—though most business men never find it necessary.

4—Yes, this is a common practice as it avoids confusion, and often a name has value in the professional world.

5—Miss, unless her degree is an M.D.

Beauty Tips

If you want to prolong the life of your lipstick, try applying a light film of lip pomade or colorless lipstick first. This is a grand way to protect your lips from roughness or chapping when you go to football games.

Two shades of eye shadow, instead of one, will help if you wish to make your eyes appear farther apart. Use the darker shade near the lashes, the lighter above it, shading off toward the eyebrow. This trick makes the eyes seem larger and more youthful.

Lipstick, correctly applied, can remedy defects in the shape of the mouth. If you do not have a pretty bow in the center of your upper lip, for instance, you can give the illusion of having one by rouging very lightly in the center, and using the lipstick more generously on each side, being sure to carry the color all the way to the upper boundaries of your lip. This same trick makes the wide mouth look smaller.

YOU WILL LIKE CHEWINESS OF NEW ALL-IN-ONE CAKES

A new cake or a new frosting is an event in homes where there are several cake lovers. The newest trick is to bake your frosting on your cake instead of spreading it over the finished cake. This saves time and will give your family a treat, for the baked frostings have a chewy quality that is truly delightful.

Here are some recipes for all-in-one cakes, and also some for fillings and frostings to be prepared separately.

TOASTED SPICE CAKE

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon milk
- 1 1/4 cups sour milk
- 2 1/3 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon each baking powder, cloves and cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend the shortening, sugar and eggs yolks by beating vigorously. Dissolve the soda in the sour milk, and add to the first mixture alternately with the dry ingredients, which have been sifted together. Add the vanilla, and pour into a shallow, greased pan (about 8x12 inches).

Beat the egg whites until they will hold their shape. Slowly add 1 cup sifted light brown sugar, and continue beating until smooth. Spread over cake batter, and sprinkle with 1/2 cup chopped nut meats. Bake in a moderate oven about fifty minutes.

Cool, and cut into squares in the pan. Remove carefully with a spatula or pancake turner.

MAGIC MERINGUE CAKE

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 cup flour
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1-3 cups milk
- 1/4 cup vanilla
- Shred coconut

Cream the shortening and sugar, and beat in the egg yolks. Mix and sift together the dry ingredients and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk and vanilla. Pour into a greased pan and sprinkle liberally with coconut.

Then prepare the following meringue:

- 2 egg whites
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 cup current jelly

Beat the egg whites until they are stiff. Add the sugar gradually, beating constantly. Mash the jelly with a fork, and beat into the egg mixture. Spread over the cake batter, and bake in a moderate oven about forty minutes.

CHOCOLATE ORANGE FROSTING

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1 1/2 cups sweetened condensed milk
- 1 tablespoon orange juice
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Melt the chocolate in the top of a double boiler, add the sweetened condensed milk, and stir over boiling water five minutes, or until the mixture is thick and smooth. Add orange juice and rind, and blend thoroughly. Cool and spread on cake.

COCONUT APPLE STRIPS

- 6 medium Greening or Baldwin apples, pared and thinly sliced
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups shredded coconut
- 1 egg, beaten thoroughly
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup milk

Line a large shallow pan or baking sheet with pie pastry rolled about 1/4 inch thick. Arrange the apple slices on it in double rows. Sprinkle with a mixture of sugar and cinnamon, and dot with butter. Bake in a hot oven twenty minutes.

Cover with a topping made by combining the coconut, sugar, salt, egg and milk. Reduce the heat to moderate, and bake fifteen minutes longer, or until delicately brown. Cool, cut into strips 2 by 1 1/2 inches. This makes one dozen strips.

FINE SESSION IS ENJOYED BY FOSTER GROUP

Card Party and Rummage Sale Planned by Members of Women's Auxiliary at Interesting Meeting.

Foster, Oct. 6.—The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. M. West. In the absence of Rev. H. P. Mount, the president, Mrs. Leonard Willows, called the meeting to order with prayer, and the members' prayer was repeated in unison.

TAKE THE LEAD OUT OF YOUR LEGS

Get Oxygen in Your Blood and You'll Get the Pep that Sends You Bounding Up the Stairs.

People who smother to death because oxygen has been cut off from their system. Just as surely you are slowly smothering if your blood lacks red corpuscles. Red corpuscles are your oxygen-carriers. They carry the oxygen you breathe in to every part of your system. Without enough oxygen-carrying corpuscles, your kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels slow down. Your skin gets pale, flabby, often pimply. Your nerves may become jittery—you tire quickly—feel depressed.

What you need is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These tiny pills help you make more and better red corpuscles and thus increase the oxygen-carrying power of your blood. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today at your drug-gist and see for yourself how quickly this time-honored blood-builder will help give you back your pep. Over 100,000,000 bottles sold.

It's No Surprise That You're Constipated!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself some questions!

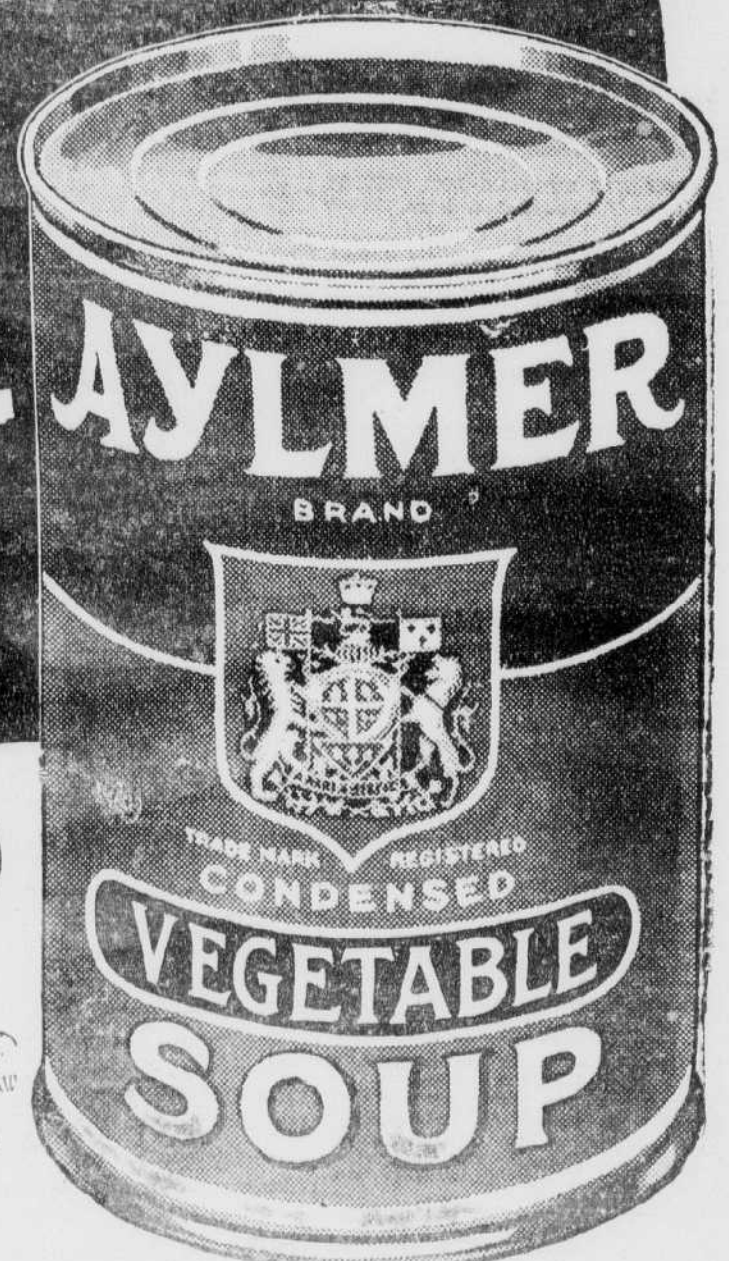

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Sold by every grocer.

ONCE-GREAT DIZZY FACING YANKS TODAY

Gabby Names Dean To Spike Bombers' Guns

McCarthy men Outplayed Cubs in Every Department of Game in Three-One Victory Yesterday—Joe Gordon, Bill Dickey and "Red" Ruffing Led New Yorkers—Old Diz Has Chance to Pay $185,000 Price-Tag.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—(P)—Knocked silly by Yankee power and stifled by Yankee pitching in the opening game of the World Series, Chicago Cubs place what little trust they have left today in the ailing right arm of the once-great Dizzy Dean.

If Dizzy, a World Series hero back in 1934, can summon for one more afternoon the wizardry that once belonged to him, there is a thin chance that the Cubs can beat this great Yankee machine and make a fight of the championship.

But it is not a proposition to bet on. Even the verbose Dizzy was shocked into comparative silence when Manager Gabby Hartnett told him last night that he would send him out there to silence the Yankee bats and square the series. For once, Dizzy, who opposes Lefty Gomez today, wasn't making any predictions.

Those who remember the swaggering Dizzy of 1934, when he came back with one day's rest to shut out Detroit in the seventh game of the big series, might find this difficult to absorb. But they must consider that Dizzy doesn't have his "high hard one" any more, and that he got an impressive Yankee slugger in taking the opener, three to one.

Dean faces them today with a fighting heart still as big as a gallon jug, and there is something a little exciting about his being out there trying to hold down one of the most murderous collections of hitters in history with only his control and a fair curve ball. Yet the chances are that Bill Dickey and his playmates will pop Dizzy like they popped Bill Lee yesterday, and that the chamions will head back home tonight with a two-to-nothing lead in the series.

What chance the Cubs had of beating the Yanks was tied up in Lee. Now it looks more or less hopeless, barring a collapse of the American Leaguers, and that is difficult to imagine. In Lefty Gomez they have a pitcher for today's game who has won five straight World Series starts, and for the third game Saturday in Yankee Stadium they have Monte Pearson, good enough to fling a no-hit, no runner a short time back. However Dean faces today, the Cubs must call upon Clay Bryant, a speedy but nervous young right-hander in the third tussle.

Purchased by the Cubs for the record price of $185,000 at the start of the past season, Dean was a complete loss for several months. It was only after a long rest and continued treatment that his arm responded to some extent. He has won seven games and lost only one with the combination of his "nothing ball" and his noodle. But realists point out he wasn't pitching against the Yankees.

The Yankees are enough to make a pitcher sick. If they aren't the best all-around ball club there ever was, you couldn't prove it by the 43,047 chilled fans who watched them perform yesterday. It wasn't that Lee didn't pitch good ball, or that the Cubs didn't field brilliantly for the most part and go down swinging from their boot-straps. It was just that the Yankees were a little better in every department.

Rufus "Red" Ruffing was touched for nine hits, which is not exactly phenomenal pitching. Yet it seemed that every time the Cubs got a man on base and looked like they might do something, either Frankie Crosetti, the Yankee shortstop, or Joe Gordon, the champions' great rookie second-baseman, would come up with a dazzling stop and throw to first World Series game, hit a double and a single and made one stop off Rip Collins that was sheer robbery.

National League partisans, second-guessing today, claimed that the failure of Phil Cavaretta, Cubs' right fielder, to peg the ball in to second after Dickey hit the first of his four singles in the second inning, instead of making a futile attempt to head Lou Gehrig off at third, was the turning point of the game.

If he had thrown out Dickey at second base, they point out, then two Yankees would have been retired and only Gehrig would have scored when Bill Herman booted Selkirk's grounder and Gordon singled on the next two plays. However, that sounds like quibbling, for the Yankees counted again on Tommy Henrich's double and Dickey's single in the sixth, and that would have made the final score two to one, anyway.

KANSAS CITY EVENS "LITTLE WORLD SERIES"
 Kansas City, Oct. 6.—(P)—It will be a case of "Let George do it" when Kansas City Blues seek to break a two-all deadlock by winning the fifth game of the "Little World Series" from Newark Bears tonight. Husky George Washburn pitched to just one Newark batter last night, but was credited with the nine to eight Blue victory which squared the series, and Manager Bill Meyer is going to let George try to make it two in a row tonight.

Manager Johnny Neum, of the Bears, indicated he would send Joe Beggs to the mound to oppose Washburn. Beggs won his game Sunday at Newark.

Lee "Gabby" Hartnett and Joe McCarthy, masterminding the Chicago Cubs and New York Yankees in the World Series. Hartnett rose from the ranks near the end of the present season and drove the Windy Citylads to the top through his fighting spirit. McCarthy has piloted the Yanks to two straight championships and is well on the way to his third in a row.

CAPTAIN PINE PREPARES FOR SCHOONER RACE

Captain Walters, Defending International Fishermen's Trophy, Protests Against Proposed Course Around Eighteen-Mile Triangle.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 6.—(P)—Another tuning up spin today faced the United States challenger for the International Fishermen's Trophy, Captain Ben Pine's schooner Regatta.

Pine was enthusiastic over the set of the challenger's new canvas and anxious for some sail stretching before leaving tomorrow for Boston, off which port on Sunday the schooner will meet the present champion, Captain Angus Walters' Bluenose from Lunenburg, N.S.

Meanwhile, Captain Walters' protest against a proposed course two miles around an eighteen-mile triangle was pending before the race committee at Boston.

The Bluenose skipper said he did not object to the mileage involved but was holding out for a single thirty-five to forty-mile triangle. He contended the oftener a schooner was called upon to jib around turning marks, the greater the hazard to rigging and gear.

Race officials here favored the twice-around course to keep the racing schooners closer to the shore and in better view of spectators on land. Captain Pine said the proposed course was agreeable to him.

Gomez selected to pitch for the Yankees in the second game of the World Series today. Manager Gabby Hartnett made one change in the Cubs' line-up.

Joe Marty, a right-handed pitcher, was announced as replacing Phil Cavaretta, a left-handed hitter, in right field. Marty, a Pacific Coast League product playing his second year with the Cubs, will bat in the cleanup spot.

JOE GORDON IS FINE PLUG FOR MARRIED LIFE

Brilliant Yankee Keystone-Sacker, Benched Early in Season, Elopied, and on Return Became Sensation of American League.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—(P)—Joe Gordon is without doubt baseball's greatest walking advertisement for married life.

Whether his "taking the step" had anything to do with his work on the ball field isn't definitely known, but there's no denying the fact that from the day he eloped from his campus sweetheart, he changed from just another disappointing rookie to the classiest second baseman to come down the pike since Charley Gehringer.

In case you haven't heard the statistical details, he's handling the key-stone sock assignment for New York Yankees, baseball's No. 1 club. He's twenty-four, from the Coast League by way of Newark, can hit in the accepted fashion of the Yanks—which is that you can't field anything and everything in his general direction.

His single yesterday prolonged the Yanks' winning rally in the series opener. He also eloped a double and turned in the fielding gem of the game full of classy fielding—telling a shot from Ripper Collins' bat "The Ripper" of a sure hit.

Gordon started out this season as Tom Lazer's official successor at the Yanks' varsity, which was no mean job. His start was strictly poor. His fielding was acceptable, but every pitcher in the league fooled him on a high inside pitch. So Manager Joe McCarthy, who can't stand for such goings on, benched him.

For a while it looked like curtains for our hero. So one day, to while away the time, he eloped to Elkton, Md., with his campus sweetheart in his days at the University of Oregon. Some few days later two Yanks, trailing two to one in a ball game, nominated Joe for a pinch-hitting job with a mate on first base in the ninth inning. The rival pitcher served up a high inside pitch, and Gordon packed it among the paying customers in the left field stands.

They put him back in the line-up the next day, and from that day until he retires to tell the children about it, they won't get him out of there without an earthquake.

Makeshift Aggregation Wins Over High School

Reg Jackson, "June" Mutchler and Pete "Bruiser" Falkner Outstanding for Winners as Butler-Coached Crew Takes Seventeen-One Count—Scholars Show Improved Form—Jowett Shines as Forward Passer for Veterans.

A pickup aggregation, bearing the name "Junior Athletics," scored an easy seventeen to one victory over Sherbrooke High School, in an exhibition game played on the Parade Grounds yesterday afternoon.

Composed of three St. Pat's players, Vic Mitchell, Lorne Murphy and Ken Barlow, three "Juniors," Bud Mutchler, Reg Jackson and "June" Mutchler, and seven from last year's High School squad, the makeshift line-up packed too much power for the Butler-coached twelve.

The High School lads, however, made an improved showing over their display against Lennoxville High last Saturday, fumbled less and demonstrated a fair defence against the forward pass.

The tilt opened with the "all-stars" in possession and roaring into High School territory. Reg Jackson, shifty quarterback, skirted left end for a major score, Doug Heath converting. The High School players moved out of their territory to midfield, at which point play hovered for several minutes, but the older squad carried the attack to the youngsters' most of the time. The first stanza ended with the oldsters in possession.

Stevens was roused on a hoist over the school line by Doug Heath, making the score seven to nil. Mutchler, Jr., and Clowery carried the ball for lengthy jaunts, but fumbles killed their chances of scoring. Just before halftime Mutchler carried to the one-yard line but the whistle ended the half with no further scoring being done.

After a series of forward passes by Bill Jowett, the school took possession on their own twenty-two. Pete "Bruiser" Falkner galloped through the line to block Jeff Wilson's attempted kick and gallop to the goal-line in a cloud of smoke to count the oldsters' second touchdown. It was not converted.

Barfield intercepted a pass to save another touch, and then the school drove down to the all-stars' twelve on plays by Barfield, Stewart and Wright. Stevens raised a "June" Mutchler, who was downed for the school's first and last point.

Jowett passed to Hardy for a short gain, and then rifled one to Clowery to advance the ball to centre-field. Bud Mutchler rolled down to the High School's twelve yard stripe on a gallop around the end and Mutchler II went over the line for a try which was not converted.

Final score: Junior Athletics 17, Sherbrooke High 1.

The Mutchler brothers, Jackson, Jowett and Heath were outstanding for the winners while Wright, Willis and Barfield were the most effective for the scholars.

Young "Spoke" Briggs is telling Detroiters the Tigers will not win the pennant in 1939, but will in 1940.

The books show Tony Lazzeri is the first major league player in history to get in two consecutive World Series as a member of teams in two different leagues.

Lou Nova, the coast heavyweight who upset Gunner Barlund as well as every critic in town, will be brought back as soon as possible. Already he has agreed to fight Tommy Farr, Max Baer or Bob Pastor December 16 and may be eased in before that.

Tony Galento, booked in Philly November 14, begins training in two more weeks.

It's really an Oregon team at the U. of Oregon this year. Nine of the eleven starters are natives.

Old Connie Mack stole the show at the baseball draft meeting. He picked five players and found himself four over the forty-player limit. Judge Landis asked him who he would give up. VERDUN GRADS HERE SATURDAY
 Sherbrooke Athletics will play their second game of the season here Nov. Saturday afternoon against Verdun Grads, one of the top-ranking intermediate teams operating in the Montreal League. Verdun are reputed a stronger squad than St. Lambert, defeated by the locals last Sunday, so a keen contest may be expected by football fans.

LOU NOVA ONLY NEW HEAVY IN BOXING WORLD
 Old Faithfuls, Max Baer, Tony Galento and Tommy Farr, Still Around—Adamick Side-Tracked by Roscoe Toles, Tough Negro.

New York, Oct. 6.—(P)—The search for a heavyweight to grapple on something like even terms with Joe Louis goes on with great fervor and poor results.

Lou Nova, the crude but powerful Californian who stopped Gunner Barlund Monday night is the only candidate to emerge from the lower strata of heavyweights. All the other contenders have old and somewhat tarnished names. A glance at the ranking list reveals such familiar monikers as Max Baer, Tony Galento and Tommy Farr. Jimmy Adamick, Jack Kearns' wonder boy, is out of it, assisted by Roscoe Toles, the large tough Detroit negro.

FINE SERVICE CONDUCTED AT COWANSVILLE

Dr. Frank Day Delivered Inspiring Sermons as Centenary Services Continued in United Church.

Cowansville, Oct. 6.—A very impressive morning service was held in Emmanuel Church in connection with the Centenary services. Twenty-two young people were received into full membership and received the right hand of fellowship from the pastor and elders.

Dr. Frank Day, in addressing the class, charged them to find their place in the fellowship of the church, the function of which was to bring the Kingdom of God to the world. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated, and over two hundred persons were present.

Dr. Day, who was introduced by Mr. George Ford, a boyhood friend, preached an eloquent and inspiring sermon from the words of Jesus, "I am come that ye might have life and have it more abundantly." This new life, said the preacher, which entails sacrifice, brings power and freedom. In view of the materialism of this present time, the speaker felt, a great responsibility has been laid on the Christian church.

At the Ecumenical Conference in London the church was challenged to sacrifice and repentance, and the congregation was told, and the responsibility for bringing this about was laid on the shoulders of the laity. The righting of the wrongs prevailing is largely in the hands of the youth.

The preacher referred to the way the dictators, Hitler and Mussolini, had captured the imagination of the youth of their respective countries and he asked, "What are the youth of Canada willing to sacrifice for their native land?" He suggested the very best thing anyone could do was to follow in the footsteps of Jesus. Mrs. J. G. Fuller, of Granby, presided at the organ and the special musical number was a duet, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," sung by Miss Dickenson and Mr. Donald Boyd, of Granby. The cut flowers were given in memory of Mr. Arthur Rutter and Mrs. Charles Soles. The evening service took the form of a candle-lighting ceremony in memory of departed ones and in honor of some still living. The names were read by Mr. C. Buchanan and the candles were lighted by Mr. Douglas McAllister. A special candle was lighted by Rev. E. M. Taylor in the name of the church, for its future. Two special candles were lighted for the soldiers who had served in the World War and for the former pastors and their wives who had passed away.

Among those for whom candles were lighted at the request of friends were Arthur L. Enzland, Frank R. England, P. Arthur Rutter, James J. Rutter, Mrs. James Rutter, Miss E. Stevenson, Miss Mary Ann Stevenson, Kenneth McClatchie, Rev. A. W. Main, Robert Rutter, W. Henry Jones, W. N. Hawke, Eileen Dover, Mr. W. P. Carter, Mrs. W. P. Honor candles were lighted for Mrs. P. Arthur Rutter, Mary Rutter England, Helen Marguerite England, Mrs. Bessie E. Johnston and Mrs. W. G. Brown. A minute of silence was observed. A special musical number was rendered by Miss Dickenson.

Mrs. Fuller presided at the organ for both services and will also serve on next Sunday when Dr. T. W. Jones, of Montreal, will be the preacher and a biblical talk will be presented in the evening.

Dr. Day's subject on Sunday evening was "Wanted, Strong Men." The type of men needed at the present time, he said were men of knowledge, of thought and spirit, men who were well informed on all the theories of the present day and who were consumed with a burning desire to lead others into a better understanding and to grapple with problems.

Rev. E. M. Taylor read the Scriptures and Rev. E. Mitchell led in prayer.

SAWYERVILLE CONGREGATION HEARS BISHOP

Rt. Rev. L. W. B. Broughall, Bishop of Niagara, Addressed Large Number in St. Phillip's Mission Hall.

Sawyerville, Oct. 6.—St. Phillip's Mission Hall was crowded on the occasion of the visit of the Rt. Rev. L. W. B. Broughall, Bishop of Niagara, who spent a Sunday in the district during the meetings of the House of Bishops of the Church of England in Canada in Quebec. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. C. Dunn, assisted by the Rev. Rural Dean Tulk.

Bishop Broughall spoke on the organization of the church in Canada, and of its relationship with the Anglican Communion and with Christendom at large.

He then preached an impressive sermon on the "Parting of the Ways," showing that every individual, day by day, must choose between two ways. Dealing with the international situation, he pointed out that nations also must come to the decision at the parting of the ways and Christian peoples were called to prayer that the right way might be chosen.

A profusion of beautiful flowers ornamented the mission hall on this occasion, given by the Hunt family in memory of Mrs. H. H. Hunt.

RALLY DAY SERVICE HELD

The Rally Day service in the United Church was in the form of a service by the young people and was ably carried out under the direction of Carl Bailey.

The service opened with the call to worship, after which the introduction was given by Mayotte Winslow, followed by a recitation by Laura Riddell. Psalms were read alternately by leader and congregation, while the lessons were read by Pauline Wood and Madeline MacRae. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Carl Bailey and a chorus "Jesus Loves Children" was rendered by the Sunday School.

The "question and answer period" was taken by Esther Brazil, Jean Montgomery, Madeline MacRae and Carl Bailey.

A vocal duet by Mona and Marilyn MacRae and a recitation by Jean Lowry were followed by the reports of the secretary, Lloyd Morrison, and treasurer, T. E. Palmer.

The hymns sung by choir and congregation were "Break Thou the Bread of Life," "The Heavens Declare Thy Glory," "O Word of God Incarnate," and "Tell Me the Story of Jesus." The anthem by the choir was "Higher Ground." Miss Gertrude Evans presided at the organ.

MANY SETTLERS ESTABLISHED IN PROVINCE

Homes Founded for Hundreds as Provincial Government Presses Fight to End Unemployment and Halt Desertion of Rural Districts.

(By Record Staff Reporter.)

Rock Island, Oct. 6.—Determined to do all possible to settle definitely the unemployment problem and at the same time to put an end to the desertion of rural areas, the Provincial Government, during July, August and September, established 577 settlers under the Roger-Auger agreement and 624 under the provincial scheme, Eugene Gagne, of the Quebec Department of Colonization, said here yesterday.

Mr. Gagne spoke during the fall meeting of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade and the Eastern Townships Settlement Society as representative of Hon. H. L. Auger, Minister of Colonization, who was slated to address the meeting but was unable to attend.

An inquiry conducted by the colonization department revealed that over fifty thousand young people were established in one way or another in the province, Mr. Gagne said. The two schemes already in force since 1935 have been utilized by the present government with a view of settling open countries, the "farmers' sons, establishment" and the "establishment of vacant lands." In 1937-38, under the first scheme, 1,566 farmers' sons were able to found new homes, while 472 laborers were placed on abandoned farms in the same organized centres, Mr. Gagne stated. This means that 2,038 people will become self-supporting in the near future and will be a help to the province instead of a burden, he added.

Because the first two schemes could not accommodate the poor laborers' old settlers or farmers or that class of born clearers eager for new lands or adventures, two other schemes were devised to meet these demands, the Roger-Auger and the Provincial plans, Mr. Gagne said. In 1937-38 the present government established 1,297 settlers under the former scheme, while 1,292 other homes were founded under the provincial plan. Mr. Gagne believed these schemes will work on even a larger scale in the current year, 1938-39.

Referring to the selection of settlers, the speaker pointed out that any candidate must be first recommended by a society before he is accepted by the government. It is extremely important to first choose subjects who are able to become settlers, he said.

"A settler must never be a man who views only the advantage of the scheme, but must be one who can afford the risks of the establishment," Mr. Gagne asserted. "This means, courage, initiative, physical capacity, economy and a certain knowledge of land farming. We must require the same qualities from the wives and children of future settlers."

"Any selection made under considerations other than these would result in failure not only of non-qualified settlers but of others who might be disheartened by their fellows' idleness," he said.

"Instead of boasting of the advantages of the different schemes, let us demand from settlers the necessary sacrifices so that we may recruit the most desirable subjects rather than the adventurers," Mr. Gagne concluded.

Gwendolyn Beaton were calling on friends here prior to leaving for Montreal, where they plan to reside.

MANY PRESENT AT SCOTSTOWN PEACE SERVICE

Rev. C. J. Gustafson Declares
Crisis Was Averted Solely Through Grace of God

Scotstown, Oct. 6.—At a special service, prayers of thanksgiving were offered for a peaceful issue out of the European crisis.

In the sermon Rev. C. J. Gustafson pointed out that the peaceful solution that had come was not deserved. International politics since 1918 had been so un-Christian that no one could say that the world deserved peace. It had come by the saving grace of God.

The minister referred to the strain which people the world over had undergone during the past weeks. He pointed out that Prime Minister Chamberlain had gone to Germany with a consciousness of the millions of people who had died directly or indirectly as a result of the Great War.

Praising Mr. Chamberlain's action in the crisis, Mr. Gustafson said that it was a tragedy that this settlement had not come without a threat of force.

Tracing the crisis back to the Versailles Treaty, the minister said that it was the vindictiveness and insistence of that treaty that had created Hitler and ultimately the recent crisis.

The minister called attention to the need for repentance. He stated that if one tenth of the money and effort spent on armaments had been directed toward international justice we could be living in a peaceful and brotherly world.

He concluded with a plea to Christians to rededicate themselves to the task of building a peaceful world.

CHRISTIAN CHAMPIONSHIP CLUB HELD MEETING
The first meeting of the Christian Championship Club was held in St. Andrew's United Church with the President, Elmer MacIver, officiating.

Dr. Hill, of Sherbrooke, was guest speaker. The meeting was opened by the singing of several choruses followed by a short period of open prayer.

Following a few testimonies on the part of some of the members, Dr. Hill gave a very interesting and helpful address. One of his suggestions was that the members of the church organize campaigns to spread the teaching of Christ.

He also made it clear to the congregation that to be a witness of Christ three points were necessary: 1—To have a good Christian character and to let deeds speak for themselves; 2—To know and understand Christian teachings; 3—To speak a word for Christ at every possible chance. Other helpful advice from Dr. Hill was to make the Bible a text-book and to consult it in all difficulties.

Following Dr. Hill's address a business discussion was conducted by the president, Elmer MacIver. It was decided that all members pay five cents a meeting whether present or not. The funds left over from the Young People's Society of last winter were graciously donated to the new organization. A committee was appointed to look after the matter of getting hymn books. Saturday night was decided on as the regular meeting night. A programme was also discussed for future meetings.

The meeting was brought to a close after singing a few sacred selections and a brief prayer by Dr. Hill.

"This 'Continental' is one of the finest patterns I have ever seen in Congoleum. It is smartly styled, richly coloured and in harmony with the spirit of modern decoration. Yes, it's a good recipe for tired or dismal rooms."

Outstanding as this pattern is, it is only one of the many amazingly beautiful Congoleum Gold Seal rugs now on display in good housefurnishings stores. And remember—Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs have other advantages than their beauty. They are sanitary, easy-to-clean—a damp mop keeps them spotless—and they lie flat without fastenings of any kind. WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR:

Chris Hunter and Bill Dennis are rival newsreel cameramen in the Orient. Bill plans a fake "scoop" of a girl flying in with cholera serum, but Chris, learning of it, gets the only close-up of the scene. While he is trying to make a hit with the girl flier, Alma Harding, Bill secretly confiscates his film.

Chapter Three

Chris and Alma sat at a corner table on the roof of the Cathay Hotel in Shanghai. She was dressed in the tweed she had worn under her flying outfit, her arm in a scarf sling. As they listened to the music played by a Chinese orchestra, Chris poured champagne into a glass and handed it to Alma. "How much did you lose?" he asked.

"Ten thousand dollars, from the Faircraft Aviation Corporation," she said casually. "Ten thousand dollars to prove that any girl can circle the globe in a Faircraft. Which doesn't mean burning up half way around the track."

Chris stirred uncomfortably, conscience-stricken for the moment. "That's brutal," he commented. "Won't they give you part of it?"

"Nope. And then there's two thousand of my very last own chucked in for expenses. That's down the drain, too." She raised her glass. "Well, here's to fools and flops," she toasted.

"Look, don't take it too hard," grinned Chris. "Money doesn't mean as much as that."

"It does to me! Didn't you ever hear of my brother, Harry Harding?"

Chris stared in surprise. "The flier? The boy lost down in the Amazon a while back?"

"Yes. Only I'm going to find him!" she replied for a moment. Hunter reflected for a moment. "But isn't it pretty well established that...?" he began hesitantly.

"I know. You think he's dead, too," she rejoined.

"Well, I..."

She turned to him fiercely. "But I don't see? I know the army and navy and two or three polite governments did their best. I'm not blaming anybody. But Harry's my brother, not theirs. He's not just another lost flier sacrificed to progress; not to me, he isn't! I know he's alive... somewhere!"

She stumbled a little. "That's... that's what the ten thousand meant. I could have gotten an outfit together and started this fall... at... at the only time I can fly in down there, right, after the rainy season..."

She was interrupted as Bill Dennis hurried up to the table, a broad grin on his face. "Bill said with excitement. 'I've got everything fixed!'"

"What is it, Bill?" Alma asked quickly.

"I just called my boss, Pearly Todd," he explained. "You've made quite a splash in the papers back home and Alma's offered you a job... two hundred a week flying for Atlas Newsreels!"

She grabbed his arm. "Oh, Bill! No! When do I start? Where?"

"Any time," he said. "Go ahead and run me out of the business. But I'd still do the same thing over again, understand? I've got a heart in my body, not a cash register!" He slammed down the receiver. At the other end Gabby was on the verge of tearing his hair out, unable to comprehend what Chris had been talking about.

Hunter sighed sadly. "Can't do anything over the 'phone," he said. "He's an eccentric old pinwheel. If we were in New York, it would be different."

"But he can't run you out of the business!" she cried.

"Fraid he can, pal. He's the head man of the head outfit," Chris said dourly. He looked at his watch. "Well, there's a clipper out of here at four-fifteen. I've just got time to pack up and make it."

Alma was genuinely affected. "This is awful... terrible," she murmured. "And I'm responsible..."

"Forget it," Chris said, rising. With determination in her eyes, Alma followed suit.

"You and I are going to walk into your Mr. Gabby MacArthur and he's going to hear a few things from me!" she exclaimed.

Chris tried to hide the triumph he felt. "Now, wait," he said. "I'm not going to hide behind a woman's skirts!"

"Yes, you are!" she snapped. "Ever since you dragged me from that crack-up, Chris Hunter, I've been on borrowed time. And you're not going to lose your job because of me. I'll leave Bill a note. You heard him say it doesn't make any difference whether I start work here or in New York. And I want to get back home to Hardy's wife and baby."
