THE WRECK OF THE "HELVETIA."

While Being Towed by the Allan SS. "Acadian" She Sinks and the Crew and Passengers are Taken on the Latter Vessel.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

HALIFAX, N. S., May 11.—A despatch was received yesterday announcing the loss of the Belgian steamer "Helvetia," Captain Schoonhoven, from Antwerp, April 21st, for Montreal, with a general cargo, some passengers, the number unknown to the Halifax agents, and a crew of some thirty men. The "Helvetia" was 1,160 tons, and belonged to the White Cross Line, running between Halifax, Montreal and Antwerp, and carrying the mails between Belgium and Canada. She arrived off Cape Ray about a week ago, and since then has been knocking about the ice in the Gulf, during which she got her bows stoved in and leaked badly. Unable to force her way up the Gulf from Cape Ray she headed for Sydney intending to come round by the Strait of Canso but when off Scatarie the leak increased very rapidly. The Allan liner "Acadian" from Halifax for Sydney was passing and being hailed by the distressed steamer she took the "Helvetia" in tow and headed for Louisburg, but had only got a short distance when the captain of the "Helvetia" found his ship was sinking. There was barely time to get the passengers and crew on board the "Acadian" when the "Helvetia" foundered. The "Acadian" then headed for the Strait of Canso and landed the crew and passengers from the lost ship at Port Hawkesbury. The White Cross Line seems to be a most unfortunate one. This is the fourth steamer they have lost within a few years. The "Augustre Andre" and "Hermen Ludwig" sailed from New York and Montreal respectively and were never afterwards heard of. Both had large crews and valuable cargoes. It was only thirteen months ago that the "Daniel Steinmann" dashed on the rocks at Sambro Island and 124 lives were lost. It is not a little singular that Schoonhoven, the captain of the "Daniel Steinmann," was also the captain of the "Helvetia" and that this was his first voyage across the Atlantic since the great disaster at Sambro. Ill luck seems to follow this captain although the owners of the line seem to have every confidence in his seamanship and ability. The "Helvetia's" crew will likely by brought to Halifax. An enormous quantity of ice is reported off Scatarie.

TRIAL OF THE DYNAMITERS.

Cunningham and Burton Before Judge Hawkins.

LONDON, May 11.—The trial of Cunningham and Burton, the alleged dynmiters, began this morning at Old Bailey. Judge Hawkins presided. Little public interest is manifested in the trial. The prosecution is conducted by Attorney-General James and Solicitor-General Herschell, assisted by Pollard, Poland and Wright. In addition to Quilliam and Meaney for the defence, Fredk. Little appears as special counsel for Burton and Richards, and Duke for Cunningham. The Attorney-General stated that he expected to prove that Cunningham caused the explosion at the Tower and that Burton was the author of the outrage at Victoria Railway station. The taking of testimony was then begun. The Court was thronged with people who followed the proceedings closely. Many policemen were on duty.

Judge Hawkins yesterday granted permission to Messrs. Little and Richard to interview Cunningham and Burton, the alleged dynamiters for whom they act as counsel, but the governor refused to allow a conference unless wardens were present.

ENGLAND IN ASIA AND AFRICA.

The Khartoum Expedition Recalled—Wady Halfa to be the British Outpost—Suakim to be Held for the Present—The Arrangement with Russia Satisfactory to the Ameer—England to Have Exclusive Relations with the Ameer—A Government Victory.

LONDON, May 11.—In the House of Lords this afternoon Earl Granville said the Government were unable to make any statement at present about their intentions respecting the Soudan, but in the House of Commons the Marquis of Hartington announced that the decision they had reached practically involved the abandonment of the advance to Khartoum. He stated that the Government had resolved to make Wady Halfa the most advanced position as the permanent defence of Egypt. The British troops would be withdrawn as soon as the Nile rises. This would probably occur about the end of May. The statement was received with cheers from the Government benches. Efforts would be made, the Secretary said, to establish an administration in the province of Dongola and complete the Nile railway as a commercial enterprise. Lord Wolseley, he said, had advised the Government to retire to Assouan from the Soudan. Gen. Wolseley attached great importance to the sending of armed boats to Egypt to be used in patrolling the Nile. The Government had no intention of evacuating Suakim until some arrangement can be effected for holding it against the hostile Arabs, either by England or some other civilized power. At present, Suakim, he said, could not be held without fighting. Osman Digna for many months past had been besieging the place, and had frequently declared himself determined upon driving the garrisons into the Red Sea. The holding of Suakim was a military, not a political question.

Mr. Gladstone, in reply to an interrogatory, said the Government had already spent a great deal of money in the Soudan, but were unable at present to say whether any portion of the £4,500,000 mentioned in the budget would be saved.

Mr. Gladstone then moved the second reading of the Consolidated Fund bill (£11,000,000 credit). He declared that he was unable to understand the differences which existed on this subject between the Opposition and the Government. He urged the House to avoid every unnecessary issue just now, as it would be the duty of the House to pass judgment on the conduct of the Government.

When he concluded, a bitter attack was made upon the Premier and Government by the Conservatives, led by Lord Hamilton, who is being strongly pushed forward by the Tories as a leader in the Commons. He was Under Secretary of State for India from 1874 until 1878. He moved that the consideration of an amendment be given notice of by Sir Stafford Northcote on Friday, which concludes as follows: "The House having shown their readiness to vote supplies, refuse their assent until informed of the present policy and purposes for which the money to be granted is to be applied." Lord Hamilton said the Marquis of Hartington had just made the most extraordinary statement that ever fell from a minister in this House. After announcing their intention of taking Khartoum, the Government have announced to-night their intention to abandon the Soudan after having murdered six or ten thousand men. Yet the Government expect the House to acquiesce silently in their policy. The greatest danger to the country was in the incapacity of the men in office. (Conservative cheers.) The Government had surrendered every one of the questions between them and Russia. The Prime Minister had altogether abandoned the attitude by which the Government obtained the vote of credit. The great objection he had to the Premier's policy was that from the very day he assumed office until now he had shown a readiness to sacrifice anybody and anything to save himself. (Cries of "Hear, hear.")

Mr. Chamberlain taunted Lord Hamilton with inconsistency in asking for information from the Government that could not be relied upon. Mr. Chamberlain said the House would be unable adequately to judge of the conduct of the Government until all papers in the case were presented to it. He contended that the object of Sir Peter Lumsden's mission had to a great extent been achieved. He was glad to find Lord Hamilton advocating that faith should not be placed in Russia, and that the only course was to go to war. When the general elections come the Government would remind the opposition of their policy, and it would then be seen whether or not the country was tired of peace.

Sir Stafford Northcote denied that the Conservatives desired to fight Russia. He said they only wanted a distinct frontier arrangement with the Ameer in order to enable England to defend it, and a clear treaty with Russia, defining points beyond which an advance would be regarded as a casus belli.

Mr. Gladstone said Sir Stafford Northcote repudiated the grounds of the motion proposed and approved by his supporters. The Opposition had pressed the motion without waiting for the promised papers and made up for their deficiency of knowledge by a variety of baseless suppositions. When the papers were presented it might appear that Sir Peter Lumsden had returned in full conformity with the Government's policy, and that the frontier had been secured through the friendly relations between Lord Dufferin and the Ameer. It might also be found that when the Government took a gloomy view of their position they were in doubt about the objects they were contending for, and that his more cheerful speech on the following Monday was made when those objects had been gained. It was not without deep pain and regret that he had seen the change in the attitude of the Opposition, so soon as the blessed prospect of peace appeared, and when it was found war had been averted, which would have been a calamity to England, Russia, civilized mankind and the whole world. (Loud and prolonged applause.)

Mr. Chaplin (Conservative) charged that the expenditure of so much blood and treasure and the ruin caused in the Soudan were due to efforts to save the seats of an imbecile ministry.

Lord Randolph Churchill admitted that the meaning of the amendment was to enable the ministers to quit their seats with grace and dignity. The Tories, he said, had shown that they were not the war party, but that those who had obtained a vote of £11,000,000 were.

Lord Hamilton's motion was defeated by 290 to 260. The majority consisted entirely of Liberals. The Parnellites voted with the minority. The House received the result rather listlessly.

After the division the bill was read a second time. The House ordered the redistribution of seats bill to a third reading by 116 to 33.

LONDON, May 12.—The News says the Liberal whip has been loyally answered. On the final division it is expected there will be a small Government majority.

During the discussion in the House of Lords a dramatic and exciting incident occurred. The Duke of Argyle was speaking in defence of Mr. Gladstone, when the peers were startled by a most piercing shriek from Baron Dormer (Liberal). He sprang to his feet and then sank to the floor in a fit and became unconscious. Doctors succeeded, after much labor, in restoring consciousness to the unfortunate nobleman who was soon afterwards removed to his home.

Mr. Gladstone, in the House of Commons, said the Government was acting in concord with the Ameer's wishes. He hoped to present papers by the end of the week in support of the arrangement made with Russia.

LONDON, May 11.—The Ameer has agreed to allow a British resident at Herat. In the pending arrangement with Russia, Lord Granville maintains the right of England to hold exclusive relations with the Ameer, who will communicate with foreign powers through the Indian government.

LONDON, May 11.—A St. Petersburg despatch says the Cronstadt fleet are all of old pattern and of but little use and that Russia's naval strength has been greatly over-estimated.

CAIRO, May 11.—When the British withdraw from Soudan, 12,000 troops will be added to the Egyptian army there. It is reported that two-thirds of the Bisherines desire peace.

Odessa telegrams state that the troops which passed there, just mobilized from the reserves, were a horde of unkempt peasant youths, ignorant of the use of rifles, which some of them were hardly able to carry.

COFFEE HOUSES.

Meeting of Temperance Supporters.

The adjourned meeting of those interested in the establishment of coffee houses was held in the House of Refuge yesterday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Lindsay in the chair. A long discussion as to the class of institution required, and best means of maintaining them, was participated in by most of those present. Several speakers thought the present coffee house did not fulfil the requirements of an ideal house, either because it did not offer sufficient attractions as compared with the saloon, or because it was too "high toned" for the average workingman. An impression prevailed that more good could be done by an association formed by the laborers and artisans themselves, who, if pecuniarily interested in a coffee house, would soon contrive to have it well patronized by their fellows. At length it was moved by L. H. Davidson, seconded by Walter Drake:

That a committee be appointed by this meeting to confer with the various temperance organizations in this city to ascertain whether it is possible to form an executive committee or body from these various organizations for the purpose of establishing and carrying on a coffee house or coffee houses in the city under the present charter of the Coffee House Association, and, if possible, to organize and form said executive body, and that, in the meantime, the Coffee House Association be asked to delay the returning of the proceeds of the sale of the coffee houses to their stockholders and their dissolving, until the result of these proceedings be ascertained.

The motion being carried, the meeting elected the following committee: Miss Barber, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Geo. Prowse, Mrs. Carmichael, Mrs. Geo. A. Drummond, Miss Dougall, Mrs. McLachlan, Mr. J. K. Macdonald, Mrs. Kines, Mr. Simon, Rev. A. French, Rev. D. V. Lucas, Rev. R. Lindsay, Mr. J. K. Ward, Mr. G. Cruikshank, Mr. A. Joyce, Rev. Mr. Kines, Mr. S. C. Hall, Mr. J. M. Duff, Rev. J. Newnham, Mr. Walter Paul, Mr. Henry Morgan, with power to add to their number.

CITY COUNCIL.

Regular Monthly Meeting—The Printing Contract—A Petition from John Lovell & Sons.

At the regular monthly meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon, several unimportant petitions were referred to different committees. Among these petitions was one from Messrs. John Lovell & Sons, in connection with the city printing contract. The petition sets up that, by a report of the City Auditor, submitted at a meeting of the City Hall committee in January, 1881, it was clearly shown that their tender was lower by $1200, than any other, that the awarding of the contract to a much higher tenderer was a gross injustice, and that a comparison of the prices now paid by the city and of those tendered by the petitioners, shows that a saving of $1342 would have been made the city in the matter of a few items alone upon which the calculation has been made. The petition is presented in view of the fact that amongst the orders of the day is a motion by Alderman Grenier for the opinion of the city attorney on certain points in connection with the city printing contract. It was referred to the City Hall committee.

It was decided to appoint His Worship Mayor Beaugrand as a successor to Hon. Jean Louis Beaudry as a representative of the Council on the Board of Harbor Commissioners.

Ex-Mayor Beaudry's term expires on the first of August next.

RESIDENCE FOR SALE!

I am Instructed by ALEXANDER BUNTIN, Esq., to offer for Sale, his Magnificent Cut-stone Detached Residence and Grounds, NO. 757 SHERBROOKE STREET. Beautifully situated on the upper side of that street, at the head of Union Avenue. The house has been well arranged, carefully constructed of the best materials, handsomely finished and expensively decorated, and for situation, comfort, convenience and accommodation is not surpassed in Montreal. The conservatory was built in 1883 at a cost of $11,000. The drainage, ventilation, plumbing and heating arrangements are all of the best, and the stone stable, coach house and outbuildings are in keeping with the rest of the property, the whole forming a complete establishment in every detail. The lot contains about 65,000 superficial feet, and is laid out in garden, lawn and ornamental grounds. Can be seen by permit only. Apply to J. TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1885.

SIR HENRY TYLER sails for Canada, from Liverpool, on Thursday "to try and cheer up Mr. Hickson, to consult with him on various matters, and, above all, to try and place the pool arrangements on a different basis."

IT is only a question of days now until a free public library in the city will be an accomplished fact. It is true that the Fraser Institute books furnish only the nucleus of a library such as Montreal should possess, but it is a good thing to have the edge of the wedge in, and should the trustees be fortunate enough to secure finally the books of the Institut Canadien, the new library will at once have a standing as a national treasure. It is sincerely to be hoped that the present legal proceedings to keep the public from the possession of the Institut Canadien books will fall through.

IT is satisfactory to hear that somebody is doing something to ascertain the cause and possible prevention of floods such as those which have just done the city so much damage. Last year, it will be remembered, $500 was voted by the City Council to facilitate enquiries into the matter. At yesterday's meeting of the City Council, Ald. Grenier ascertained that so far there were no results to be reported from this amount, but it was stated that the city surveyor, the superintendent of the water-works, and the harbor engineer were all at work on the problem, and that a report of some kind would be submitted this Summer. As the late flood cost not less than half a million, the City can afford a thorough investigation into the possibility of preventing or lessening similar catastrophes in future.

THE coffee house movement does not appear so far to have been a financial success in Montreal. We question whether it has been a success anywhere in America in the direction intended by the originators of the idea. Coffee houses were orginated in England with the view of furnishing a healthy substitute for the tap-rooms in which English workmen are believed to delight in spending their evenings. Whether the English coffee houses have come up to this expectation or not, we can not say; but coffee houses in America cannot have done so, simply because it is not the habit of the American or Canadian workman to spend his evenings in bar-rooms. Coffee houses here, therefore, have become simply cheap eating houses. These are greatly needed, and, as such, the institutions known as coffee houses are most worthy and useful, and deserve all the enthusiasm that can be given to their furtherance, while the financial success of those in Toronto goes to prove that similar success can be attained in Montreal.

THE Marquis of Hartington on behalf of Mr. Gladstone's Government formally announced to the Commons yesterday that the British troops would be withdrawn entirely from the Soudan as soon as the Nile rises—that is, as soon as possible. Thus will end one of the most extraordinary episodes in England's history. To reorganize and pacify a vast territory whose turbulent residents threatened the peace of mind of her Egyptian bond holders, she sent out one man. That man was Gordon. To save Gordon, crippled by insufficient attention, she sent out an army. That army went too late. Now, after the loss of Gordon and of many others equally heroic in degree, after a cruel, bloody and worse than useless war, England abandons the struggle as far as she can. To protect Egypt, she announces the maintenance of garrisons at Wady Halfa and Suakim, but in the land which Gordon went to pacify, fanatics and thieves remain supreme, and those who allied themselves to England's power must bite the dust.

A REMARKABLE church congress was inaugurated yesterday at Hartford, Conn. "The American Congress of Churches" is composed of members of, but not accredited representatives of, all the Christian churches, with the exception we presume of the Roman Catholic Church. The idea is to promote a unity of spirit among the Christian churches by free discussion. Among the subjects discussed will be "The Relations of a Divided Christendom to Aggressive Christianity," "The Function of Worship in Promoting the Growth of the Church," "The Attitude of the Secular Press in America towards Religion," and "The Historical Christ considered as the True Centre of Theology." No votes will be taken, and no organized effort made to modify any old creeds or to formulate any new one. The speakers are not delegates from their respective churches, and will not commit them to anything by their utterances. They will simply give the world their views for what they are worth, but the personnel of the Congress and its diversified character are sufficient guarantee that the debates will be both interesting and valuable.

THE TRIAL OF CUNNINGHAM AND BURTON.

Yesterday the trial of Cunningham and Burton who are accused of perpetrating the dynamite outrages at the Tower of London, on the Metropolitan Railway and at Charing Cross station commenced. From remarks made by their counsel when applying for a postponement of the trial eighteen days ago, it seems that the defence set up will be an alibi. The learned counsel described the defence as the best that could be made and stated that there were two or three hundred persons in America who could give evidence to prove that the prisoners could not be guilty of the crimes imputed to them because they were in America at the time the occurrences were reported to have taken place. Certainly there can be no better defence than a well proven alibi, but it is a very popular line of defence, and one which judges and juries regard with great suspicion.

MORE TROOPS FOR THE FRONT.

The Prince of Wales Rifles and two other battalions have been called out for active service and it is said will be sent to the front as soon as their equipment is complete. It was better to wait a few days for the completion of the railway than to march the reinforcements through the gaps, but there was no reason why they should not have been called out earlier and their equipments completed by this time. It has been painfully evident for some days that the force now in the North-West is numerically inadequate to the work required of it. General Middleton's column is in no danger because if he decides to act entirely on the defensive until the arrival of reinforcements he will have no difficulty in choosing a position which he can hold as long as he likes. The same, however, cannot be said of Colonel Otter's column, and all the troops in the North-West as well as the residents of Battleford and Prince Albert are in danger of being seriously straightened for provisions. The questions of ample reinforcements, abundant supplies and a good transport service are only questions of money, and the country will not begrudge any money that is necessary to bring the rebellion to a speedy end.

MORE TROOPS CALLED OUT

The Prince of Wales Rifles and Two Other Battalions Ordered Under Arms—The Wires Still Interrupted—Reinforcements for General Middleton—Statements in Parliament.

OTTAWA, May 11.—The Prince of Wales Rifles have been ordered under arms for duty in the North-West, and will await instructions to move forward, which will likely follow as soon as the corps is adequately equipped. The Bruce battalion and a New Brunswick battalion have also been ordered under arms.

This afternoon the Garrison Artillery, from Montreal, passed through Ottawa. There were a large number of people at the station to welcome them, and they received a cordial reception during their brief stop here.

Lord Melgund is on his way to Ottawa to consult the Governor-General, it is thought, in respect of measures to be taken for the suppression of the rebellion. The situation is more serious than was at first contemplated, and a further force of cannon and Gatlings may be necessary.

WALKERTON, Ont., May 11.—The 32nd (Bruce) Battalion, under Lieut.-Col. Cooper, received orders to-night to go to the North-West immediately.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 11.—A Fredericton, N.B., despatch to the Halifax Herald says: Military circles there are in a great state of excitement to-night over an order received by Lieut.-Col. Maunsell, D.A.G., from the Adjutant-General, ordering out the Infantry School corps and eight companies to form a New Brunswick provisional battalion for immediate service in the North-West. Of the eight companies required four will be taken from the 62nd Fusiliers, St. John, and one company each from the 67th, 71st, 73rd and 74th Battalions. Col. Maunsell will be in command. He expects to leave with the entire force inside of four days.

LATEST FROM WINNIPEG.
THE WIRES STILL DOWN—REINFORCEMENTS FOR MIDDLETON.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 11.—Telegraphic communication is interrupted between Touchwood Hills and Humboldt on the Government line, probably caused by the burning of the polls by prairie fires. Men have started from both places to ascertain the whereabouts of the break. The line has been so unsatisfactory that Mr. Hall, the lineman of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Co. at Winnipeg, has been sent by request of the Government to overhaul their whole line from Qu'Appelle to Battleford.

Fine weather has set in, to-day being regular Summer weather and an agreeable change from the cold stormy weather of last week. The troops have been fortunate in having similar weather during the fight at Batoche. It has, however, its drawbacks in again causing a fall in the rivers. The water has fallen two feet in the Red River since last week and has receded in the same proportion in most of the streams in the North-West. High water is, however, again looked for with the early June rains.

Indian Agent Rae, in the city for a few days, returns again to-morrow to Battleford. His team is at Swift Current and without any escort he will drive across the prairie alone. He does not fear any molestation from the Indians.

The 7th Fusiliers of London arrived at Saskatchewan Landing at noon on Sunday. The right wing of the battalion, comprising the first three companies with staff, also two companies of the Midland Battalion, will start for Clarke's Crossing on barges on Monday morning. Lt.-Col. Deacon, of the Midland Battalion, will command the whole brigade. They number 270. The remaining two companies of the 7th Battalion will remain there under command of Major Smith until further orders. Twelve barges loaded with provisions of all kinds go with the troops. The river is falling.

People who read and reflect, after reading, upon the many published testimonials regarding Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, can scarcely fail to perceive that evidence so positive and concurrent could not be adduced in behalf of a remedy of doubtful efficacy. The facts proven by such evidence are that it roots out impurities of the blood, restores digestion, enriches the circulation, and regulates the bowels and liver.

Before they are married she will carefully turn down his coat-collar when it gets awry, but afterwards she'll jerk it down in position as if she was throwing a doormat out of the window.

No lady of refinement likes to resort to superficial devices to supply a becoming semblance of her former beauty. It is health alone that lights the countenance and brings back fresh tints to the faded cheek. If anything on earth will do this, it is Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which has already brought health to multitudes with whom all other means had failed.

A sociable man is one who, when he has ten minutes to spare, goes and bothers somebody who hasn't.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites is more nutritious and strengthening than any other single or combined remedy.—In Consumption and wasting diseases its effect is very astonishing.

"Courting," says a philosopher, "is like strawberries-and-cream—wants to be slow; then you get the flavour."

Officeholders.

The office held by the Kidneys is one of importance. They act as nature's sluice-way to carry off the extra liquids from the system and with them the impurities both those that are taken into the stomach and those that are formed in the blood. Any clogging or inaction of these organs is therefore important. Kidney-Wort is Nature's efficient assistant in keeping the kidneys in good working order, strengthening them and inducing healthy action. If you would get well and keep well, take Kidney Wort.

SCOTT'S TENTH ANNUAL SALE OF OIL PAINTINGS AND WATER COLOR DRAWINGS.
This collection of Pictures is undoubtedly the finest ever offered at public sale in the Dominion of Canada, embracing, as it does, some of the best and most recent works of L. G. Pelouse, A. Harborg Smith-Hald, Neuhuys, David Law, Caffieu, A. Durst, Bloomer Allongé, Hawkins, Lindstrom, Larson, Van Vrolyk and Wyatt Eaton—artists whose works are accorded prominent places on "the line" in the Salon, Royal Academy and other leading galleries in Europe.
The sale will take place on the afternoons of Saturday the 16th, and Thursday following 21st.,
Commencing at TWO p.m. each day, about half of the Oils and half of the Water-Colors will be offered each day.
As some of these paintings are very valuable and the times somewhat unfavorable there will necessarily be a limit, (a very low one), on a few of the most important ones, otherwise the sale will be as usual, without reserve.
Pictures will be on view and Catalogues ready on Monday the 11th.
Terms cash or approved paper with interest at 7 per cent.

A Healthy Profession.

"Journalism must be a healthy profession," said old Mrs. Squaggs as she laid the paper on her knee and rubbed her eyeglasses with her apron.

"What makes you think so?" said old Mr. Squaggs.

"Because I see that the writers who used to have pieces in the papers when I was a girl are still living and writing away the same as ever; they must be very old."

"Who are they?" asked Mr. Squaggs.

"Well, there is 'Veritas' for one, and 'Anon,' and 'One who Knew,' and 'Vox Populi,' and 'Justice,' and 'Pro Bono Publico,' and 'X Y Z,' and 'Taxpayer,' and many others. I see some of their names every day, and I declare if the sight of 'em don't bring back the old school days."

Then the old lady gazed meditatively into the fire and old Mr. Squaggs went out on to the back stoop to indulge in a quiet laugh to himself.—Boston Courier.

Narrow Escape.

* * * ROCHESTER, June 1, 1882. "Ten Years ago I was attacked with the most intense and deathly pains in my back and —Kidneys.

"Extending to the end of my toes and to my brain!

"Which made me delirious!

"From agony !!!!

"It took three men to hold me on my bed at times!

"The Doctors tried in vain to relieve me, but to no purpose.

Morphine and other opiates!

"Had no effect!

"After two months I was given up to die!!!!

"When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got and gave me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain.

The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months. Before I had used five bottles, I was well and at work as hard as any man could, for over three weeks; but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful rheumatism all through my system that ever was known.

"I called the doctors again, and after several weeks they left me a cripple on crutches for life, as they said. I met a friend, and told him my case, and he said Hop Bitters had cured him and would cure me. I poohed at him, but he was so earnest I was induced to use them again.

In less than four weeks I threw away my crutches and went to work lightly and kept on using the bitters for five weeks, until I became as well as any man living, and have been so for six years since.

It has also cured my wife, who had been sick for years, and has kept her and my children well and healthy with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to be sick at all if these bitters are used.

A "Star" Correspondent's Interview with Members of Inspector Dickens' Detachment—Grim Contents of a Diary—How Cowan was Killed and Loasby Wounded—Factor McLean's Capture by the Indians and Message to His Family—The Escape of the Police Down the Saskatchewan—Big Bear's Prisoners.

[FROM THE STAR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT WITH COLONEL OTTER'S COLUMN.]

BATTLEFORD, N.W.T., April 24.—The exciting incidents that have occurred at Frog Lake within the past few weeks and the perilous adventures and trying hardships experienced by settlers and mounted police in that locality, will undoubtedly take a prominent part in the history of the Indian rising in the North-West. Here in Battleford, the citizens appear to have forgotten their troubles, and only shudder for the fate of the unfortunate men, women and children held prisoners by Big Bear. Inspector Dickens, who is a son of the great novelist, was in command at Fort Pitt. He succeeded in escaping with the mounted policemen down the river to Battleford, and related the exciting events that occurred prior to the evacuation of the old wooden fortress. On Wednesday, April 15th, Big Bear and his followers arrived from Frog Lake and pitched their tepees in the vicinity of the fort. A council was held at which its capture was discussed, when a division arose as to whether or not it should be attempted. While the proceedings were going on, the war party fired upon the two policemen, Loasby and Cowan, and the half-breed Quinn, who were returning from a scouting expedition. The garrison rallied to the rescue of their comrades and poured in volley after volley into the Indians, killing four and wounding twenty or thirty. Cowan was shot down, and under the very eyes of his comrades was stripped and mutilated. The fate of Quinn, whose horse shied and made off in an opposite direction, is unknown.

Meantime Mr. McLean, factor of the Hudson Bay Company, went to the camp to have a talk with the chiefs, who expressed their friendliness to the officials of the Hudson Bay Company. The Indians avowed their hostility to the mounted police and declared that they were going but the employes of the Hudson Bay Company. Mr. McLean was not allowed to return, but was assured that he would be well treated. His life, however, would be forfeited if his people would not immediately join him. Under such circumstances, Mr. McLean had no other alternative than to submit. A letter, setting forth the situation, was addressed to his employés in the fort. The Company's people and civilians at once surrendered. A demand was then made for the police to give up their arms and be dealt with as Big Bear might see fit. Such a cowardly and treacherous overture was scornfully rejected by Inspector Dickens, who told the messenger that he would hold the fort until the last man was killed. Fearing that the stronghold could not be taken without great loss of life, the Indians agreed to allow the brave garrison to depart. Left thus to themselves, and momentarily expecting an attack, they hastily placed ammunition and provisions in a scow and started down the Rapid river. The craft was water logged, twenty-one being constantly engaged bailing out the water, while two pulled at the oars. Loasby, the wounded youth, bore up well. The sufferings of the entire party until Battleford was reached were of a terrible character. The nights were invariably cold, the entire party having in their possession only three blankets.

CORPORAL SLEIGH'S DIARY.

The following extracts from the diary of Corporal Sleigh of the N. W. M. P., contains many interesting points regarding the troubles in and around Fort Pitt:—

Diary of Corporal R. B. Sleigh, N. W. M. P., Frog Lake.

April 2.—Constable Roby left with train for Onion Lake, brought back lumber. Indians terribly excited out there. Mr. Mann, farm instructor, with wife and family arrived at 1 a.m. with report all whites killed at Frog Lake. Assembly at 12 p.m. All hands working all night, blocking up windows and making loop holes in all buildings. Double picket put on.

April 3rd (Good Friday)—Henry Quinn in from Frog Lake, reported all whites shot. They were led out for execution, when he ran for his life and managed to escape; poor fellow played out and showed good grit. The Indians the day before said they were going to remain quiet, and early next morning (Thursday) took all whites prisoners. Mr. and Mrs. Quinney in from Onion Lake. An Indian brought them in; all his goods and chattels stolen. The two priests, Peres Farfard and Marchand, were

FIRST BEATEN AND THEN SHOT.

Everybody busy pulling down outside buildings and barricading the fort.

April 4th. Johnnie Saskatchewan in from Battleford with despatch. Indians down there turning loose and several whites killed. Reported Little Poplar and 9 Lodges, 25 miles off and coming this way. Johnnie left again for Battleford with despatches; men busy all day.

April 5th (Sunday).—Men on fatigue most of day. Mr. Quinney (Episcopal clergyman) held short service in barracks; Indians heard shouting on hill during night; shots fired.

April 6th. Nothing exciting.

7th. Stockade being erected. Indians at Frog Lake looted all the stores at that place, also the barracks on 2nd inst. The Misses Maclean show great courage, and each one, rifle in hand, stands at a loop-hole. The men work like horses and are cheerful; all civilians sworn in and armed. Bastion put up on left front of fort; sentries put on in each house; four hours on duty each.

April 9th — Another bastion put up near Orderly-room corner. * * * * * *

The diary is left blank until 14th. It then resumes as follows:

April 14th—No relief, and things look blue. Everybody in good spirits. H. Quinn, D. Cowan and C. Loasby, with three saddle horses, went out scouting to Frog Lake. Body of Indians at top of hill, 800 yards from fort. 250 Indians armed and mounted. Had Dufresne, sr., and Halpin, H. B. Co., prisoners. Big Bear sent letter down. Sent word for everybody to evacuate fort and give up arms. Doors barricaded and men in places. Indians had big war dance on hill. Indians skulking through woods in every direction. Mr. Maclean, of H. B. Co., had parley with them on hill. Double sentries in barracks. 250 Indians on war-path surround us.

April 15th.—Mr. Maclean at noon went up hill to parley. Three scouts came galloping through towards Pitt. Constable Cowan shot dead, Loasby badly wounded and horse killed. Shots fired from loop-holes; two Indians killed; Quinn missing, and two wounded. Mr. Maclean and Francois Dufresne taken prisoners. Mr. Maclean wrote down to his wife to come out and give herself up and all the Hudson Bay Co. employés to do the same. The Hudson Bay employés, 22 in number, gave themselves up to Big Bear. Impossible to hold Fort now, so we had to gracefully retire across the river in scow and camped for night; not forgetting to bring colors along; nearly swamped crossing river, being rough and scow leaking badly. General idea prevailed that we would be attacked going down river. Took Loasby along. Thus ended the siege of Fort Pitt.

April 16th.—Up at 4.30, after passing a wretched night, snowing fast and very windy. Moving slow. Several men frost-bitten. Clothing frozen on our backs. 17th—Started 7 a.m. Ice running very strong. Had some narrow escapes in ice jams. Camped at 9 for dinner. Resumed trip at noon. 18th—Started at 7 a.m. Day dull and cold. Much ice running.

April 19th (Sunday)—Left Slap Jack Island at 7.15 a.m. Ran for five hours. Camped on Beaver Island, number 35. Ran on three hours, and camped on Pine Island for night.

20th—Here all day. Barricaded the scow. Inspected arms. Rough-looking parade. Wounded man, better.

April 21st—Left Island at 7 a.m. 11 a.m.—Hailed interpreter, Joseph Alexander, and two policemen on south bank. They had despatches for us. They reported Battleford safe and troops expected daily. Ran all day, and stopped on small island for night. River falling rapidly. Struck on sand-bars. All slept on board scow. Two men on picket.

April 22nd—Started 5.45 a.m., and reached Battleford at 9 a.m. Garrison turned out and presented arms. Police band played us into fort. Enthusiastic greeting. Ladies gave us a grand dinner.

INSPECTOR DICKENS' DETACHMENT.

So ends the corporal's diary. The following composed the detachment which evacuated Fort Pitt:

Inspector, F. J. Dickens.
Staff Sergeant, J. W. Rolph, M.D.
Sergeant, Jno. Martin.
Corporal, R. B. Sleigh, x

CONSTABLES:

W. Anderson.	H. Ayre.
J. W. Carroll. x	H. A. Emonds.
R. Hobbs.	R. Ince.
F. Leduc. x	G. Leonais.
C. Loasby x (wounded).	J. A. Macdonald. x
L. O. Keefe. x	C. Phillips. x
J. Quigley. x	F. C. Roby. x
G. W. Rowley. x	B. H. Robertson. x
R. Rutledge. x	W. W. Smith. x
J. Tector.	F. F. Warren.

Those marked thus (x) were stationed at Frog Lake and succeeded in joining their comrades at Fort Pitt.

The prisoners in the hands of Big Bear number about forty (40) and include Rev. Charles Quinney and wife, and Instructor Mann, wife and family.

AN INDIAN'S GRATITUDE.

Although the whites in this section profess a deadly hatred towards the Indians, one man at least claims that some of them possess gratitude. Before the Mounted Police evacuated Fort Pitt, Big Bear sent a letter to Sergeant Martin, a copy of which is as follows:—

FORT PITT,
April 14, 1885.

Sergeant Martin, N. W. M. P.:

MY DEAR FRIEND,—Since I have met you long ago we have always been good friends, and you have from time to time given me things. That is the reason why that I want to speak kindly to you, so please try to get off from Fort Pitt as soon as you can, and tell your captain that I remember him well. For since the Canadian Government have had me to starve in this country, he sometimes gave me food. I do not forget the last time I visited Pitt, he gave me a good blanket; that is the reason that I want you all out without any bloodshed; we had a talk, I and my men before we left camp, and WE THOUGHT THE way we are doing now the best. That is to let you off, if you would go, so try and get away before the afternoon, as the young men are all wild and hard to keep in hand.

(Signed) BIG BEAR.

P.S.—You asked me to keep the men in camp last night and I did so, so I want you to get off to-day.

BIG BEAR.

The document in question was written by a white prisoner at the dictation of the old Chief.

BIG BEAR'S PRISONERS.

The following is the list of the persons held prisoners by Big Bear near Fort Pitt:—

Mr. McLean, Factor Hudson Bay Co.

BATTLEFORD IN RUINS.

APPEARANCE OF THE TOWN ON THE ARRIVAL OF THE TROOPS.

[FROM THE STAR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT WITH COLONEL OTTER'S COLUMN.]

BATTLEFORD, N. W. T., April 25.—Without a single exception, every house situated in the old town, lying south of the Battle River, as well as the dwellings of the settlers further down the valley, have been wrecked by the warriors of Poundmaker and his dusky allies. The following is a list of the depredations committed here since the gates of the fort closed upon the terrified fugitives, just one month ago:

Indian Industrial School, looted and wrecked.

Residence of W. J. Scott, Registrar, looted and wrecked.

Office of Mr. Rae, Indian Agent, wrecked.

Residence of Mr. Rae, looted and wrecked.

Residence of Mr. W. F. McKay, Chief Trader Hudson Bay Company, looted and wrecked.

Store of Mahaffy & Clinskill, looted and wrecked.

Two dwellings of Mr. Finlayson's, rancher, looted and wrecked.

Hudson Bay store, looted, wrecked and destroyed by fire.

Board of Public Works' building, wrecked and burned.

Large tent, utilized as a trading post with the Indians, belonging to Mahaffy & Clinskill, looted and reduced to ashes.

Residence of Judge Rouleau, looted, wrecked and destroyed.

Trading post of Hudson Bay in large tent, looted of stores and fired.

Residence of Mr. P. G. Laurie, looted and wrecked.

Residence of Mr. McFarlane, looted and wrecked.

On every side the traces of destruction are visible. On a summit overlooking the Battle River stands a blackened chimney, which is all remains of the fine residence of Judge Rouleau. The Indians, not satisfied with carrying off everything of value that the house contained, smashed the costly furniture. The road for acres around is strewn with broken chairs and glassware and expensive articles of bric-a-brac. The impression here prevails that the place was fired as a signal to the Indians in the distance that aid was approaching the beleaguered garrison. Others claim that this atrocious act of vandalism was committed by several warriors who bear the most bitter enmity towards the Judge for having sentenced relatives to long terms in the Stoney Mountain prison. The house, together with its contents, was valued at $75,000.

At the sites of the stores the distructiveness displayed was again visible. Smoking ruins only remained to indicate where flourishing and honest business was formerly done. The narrow street which runs along the edge of a wooded ravine on arrival of the expeditionary force was covered with articles of every description. Flour strewed the ground for acres, while broken tinware, which the thieves had been unable to carry along, was found at every step. Half-emptied barrels of sugar and long rows of cured bacon, together with boxes of canned meats, were piled here and there. The sudden approach of the troops, however, prevented the plunder from being carried off.

At the Industrial Indian School, where the children are educated free, traces of violence were apparent on every side. Seats were broken, while scarcely a window remained in the building. The stables adjacent were destroyed by fire, by the marauding Crees. Private residences also came in for a large share of attention. In some cases the floors were wantonly hacked up. Stoves were smashed to pieces and everything that could not be carried off shared a similar fate. Every bedroom was visited in turn, the contents of every bed being emptied upon the floor. Broken glassware, torn clothing and cooking utensils lay on every side. Doors were smashed in, while out-buildings were similarly treated. The poultry that could not be carried off by the over-burdened squaws had their throats unceremoniously cut and fill every back yard. In one house a mechanical orguinette which had undoubtedly attracted their curiosity was found very carefully taken to pieces.

At the residence of Mr. Laurie a handsome piano was literally hacked to pieces and exhibited the heel marks of the infuriated men. The office and residence of Mr. Rae, Indian agent, were wrecked in the most fiendish manner, not an article of value being left whole. Papers strewed the floor, which had been hacked with axes. Starting from the residence of Mr. Scott, the triumphant course taken by the warriors on their way back to Poundmaker's reserve is visible at every step. Flour extends in one white sheet as far as the eye can reach, while bacon, tea boxes and empty trunks line the narrow trail for miles. Every few acres the scanty wardrobe of some Indian or squaw is discovered, showing that in the flush of victory they had dropped their habiliments to don the suits and silken attire of their white brethren. In some houses foot-ladders lead up to the garrets, showing that not a nook or corner in the entire place remained unsearched. It will be difficult to calculate the loss sustained since the troubles first began. Three hundred thousand dollars is mentioned as a safe figure, it being estimated that Poundmaker and his allies carried off over 2,000 head of cattle and 600 horses.

Riel is blamed for creating the present trouble, while not a few declare that the Hudson Bay authorities, through their alleged representations to the Indians of ill-treatment at the hands of the Government, have brought it about. The rebel leader is known to have numerous sympathizers who advantageously spread the principle that the extermination of the whites will result in the return of the buffalo.

CALLED OUT.

The Prince of Wales on Active Service—History of the Regiment—Its Roll Call—The Muster This Morning.

At ten minutes past twelve this morning Lieut.-Col. Bond, commanding the 1st Prince of Wales Rifles, received orders from Ottawa to call his men out and prepare for active service. The work of calling up the sergeants to summon the men was immediately commenced, and although parade was only ordered for noon to-day, by nine this morning the men mustered in strength at the armory.

HISTORY OF THE REGIMENT.

The Prince of Wales Rifles were the first battalion of that arm formed in Canada and were organized out of a number of independent rifle companies. Of these, Nos. 1, commanded by Theodore Lyman, and 2, by Lieut.-Col. Fletcher, were formed in September, 1855; Companies 3, Captain Bertram, and 4, Captain B. Devlin, in May, 1856; Nos. 5, Captain Barclay, and 6, Captain Evans, also in 1856; Nos. 7, Captain Holmes, 8, Captain Belle, 9, Captain Latour and 10, a Highland company, Captain Macpherson, now Director of Stores at Ottawa, were organized in '57 and '58. When the regiment was formed under Colonel Thos. Wily, the number of companies was reduced to eight. At the time of the Prince of Wales' visit to this country in 1860, the regiment was permitted to take the title which they now hold. The Prince of Wales Rifles were first called into the field in 1864, when after the confederate raid on St. Albans, General Dix proclaimed the intention of the Americans to make reprisals, and the Canadian volunteers were sent to defend their frontiers. In 1865 and 1866 the men were again under arms. Col. Bond then held command of the post at Sandwich, where were stationed a company of the 5th Royals and a company of his own regiment. The next occasion upon which the regiment was called out was in 1870. No. 1 Company was then under fire at Eccles Hill. The rest of the regiment was stationed under Colonel Bond at St. Johns and only arrived after the affair was all over. Since then the men have often been called out to quiet local troubles, notably in the cases of the ship laborers' riot at Quebec and the workmen's strike on the Q., M., O. & O. Railway. Since its organization the Battalion has been commanded by four officers: Colonels Wily, appointed in 1859; Devlin, in 1862; Hill, in 1866, and Bond in 1870. The number of officers attached at one time or other to the regiment has been very large, the register of their names covering more than four pages of foolscap. Just now the staff officers are Lieut.-Col. Frank Bond; Adjutant and Second in Command, Major Edward L. Bond; Majors, J. F. Nott and T. P. Butler; Chaplain, His Lordship Bishop Bond; Asst. Chaplain, Very Rev. Dean Carmichael; Surgeons: Drs. Roddick, (now in field), and Ross Paymaster, Alex. Milloy; Quartermaster, Johnson. Following is a list of the officers and men of each company:

A COMPANY.

Capt. D. Sincennes, Lieuts. A. S. Henshaw and Fk. Scott; Quartermaster-Sergt. Elliott, Sergeants Jones, Fryer and Gilmour; Corporals, Younger, W. H. Johnson, W. C. Johnson; Bugler McKay; Privates A. Bustin, S. E. Wheeler, F. Kirwin, W. Crew, T. Findlay, J. Cole, J. Cook.

D COMPANY.

Captain C. D. Hanson, Lieutenants J. Paul and R. W. S. Bousfield; Orderly Room Clerk McNaught; Sergeant Walton; Corporals P. Bigny, W. O'Donnell Clancy; Bugler Hadgson; Privates B. McFarlane, W. McCaffrey, J. O'Donohue, W. Emery, W. P. Trondel, C. Bury, D. O'Connor, W. Murphy, Jas. Meldrum, C. Northcote, J. Parent, James Burpee, S. Symons, J. Elliott, W. McNeil, Wm. Brazin, W. Hanley, Geo. Long, J. Stephens, G. Scott, E. Brown, P. Sanson, H. Holdbrook.

E COMPANY.

Lieutenants, G. F. Cook and T. J. Tait; Sergeant Major Porteous; Sergeants, McCrae, Pingel and Dugan; Corporals Pingel, Copping, Bradley, Simpson; Privates K. Duncan, J. Harrison, Z. Eberewin, A. T. Braham, W. Therien, A. Johnson, R. Bothwell, W. Johnston, A. Stevenson, W. H. Dance, T. Coffin, L. W. Young, J. McCarroll, J. Barnett, E. Ledyard, W. Harrison, D. McLaughlan, Jas. Torrance, G. H. Graham, E. Harsnell, E. Lynch, E. G. Watt, Wm. Harsnell, J. Stephenson, T. Pearson, J. H. Stirk, H. Jones, G. Jessup, F. Hasley, J. Robertson, W. E. Ryder; Bugler, L. Guthiel.

F COMPANY.

Lieutenant W. E. Bradshaw; Assistant Sergeant-Major Stenhouse; Instructor of Musketry, Sergeant Alex. Ross; Sergeants Benton, D. Livingstone, F. Middleton; Corporals W. Thomas, J. B. Patterson, D. Coupar; Bugler Turton; Privates J. Quinn, J. Wardell, J. Neilson, C. McAffee, J. Tuyo, J. Hughes, W. Norman, F. Simpson, J. Ford, Geo. Wallace, T. Sutton, Sam Hall, J. Robenhymer, R. Powney, G. Simpson, M. Hack, Thos. Vaughan, P. Renouf, J. Robertson, R. W. Matthews, W. H. Simpson, J. Webb, H. Patterson, A. Dunlop, W. Ware, C. Allard, T. G. Griffiths, Geo. Farrant, J. Lowen, A. Hack, A. Powney, J. Rodgers, J. Vaughan E. Haynes, A. Walker, T. Colcomb.

THE FIELD OFFICERS.

Lieut.-Col. Frank Bond, the popular commander of the regiment, has probably, with the exception of Lieut.-Col. Stevenson of the Field Battery, the most extensive record of service amongst our militia officers. He was at the front with his regiment during all the Fenian raids and was in command of a detachment of the Prince of Wales Rifles and the Fifth Royal Scots at Sandwich during the Trent affair. He obtained command of the regiment in September, 1880.

The military service of Major Edward Bond, who goes to the front as adjutant with the rank of second in command, dates back as far as 1864, when he commanded No. 2 Company of the High School Cadets, No. 1 Company being commanded by Capt. Chas. Brydges. In 1866 Major Bond joined No. 6 Company of the Prince of Wales Rifles as Ensign and passed through the various ranks until he commanded the company. He was gazetted Major in 1873, and retired from the regiment about nine months ago, but when the troubles in the North-West began he again joined, taking the position he now holds. Major Bond is probably one of the most efficient and practical officers in the service of Canada. He is a first-class drill, and is a general favorite with the men. He was present at all the Fenian affairs and commanded No. 6 Company at Pigeon Hill. The gallant Major is son of His Lordship Bishop Bond and brother of the commanding officer.

Major T. P. Butler joined the regiment in 1880 and soon rose to the command of No. 5 Company. In 1884 he was gazetted to the junior majorship. Major Butler is a member of the law firm of Butler & Lighthall, a D. C. L. of McGill University and a general favorite amongst his confreres of the bar. He is a married man, the proud father of seven children and resides at Longueuil.

Major John F. Nott, the Senior Major, is one of the oldest members of the regiment and rose from the rank of ensign. He was until recently manager of the Canada Co-operative Supply Association and is married to a daughter of Mr. E. K. Greene.

Any number of volunteers are offering themselves, the majority of them being old members of the regiment, so that by the time the battalion marches out it will be in no way behind the Garrison Artillery.

VAMBERY'S VIEWS.

The Latest Developments of the Afghan Situation.

(SPECIAL TO THE STAR.)

LONDON, May 11.—Yesterday Professor Arminus Vambery favored me with his views on the latest developments of the Afghan situation. He said: "Peace is now assured, I think, for the present, but that Russia will sooner or later take Herat is absolutely certain, promises or no promises. On two main points you know my opinion: first, that Herat is the key to India and Penjdeh, both morally and strategically, the key to Herat from Penjdeh, and from there only the valley of the Murghab can be passed to Bala-Murghab, thence the way is open to Herat. "On this question," said the professor vehemently, "I am the only European whose information is autoptic. Secondly, Mr. Gladstone is pulling down the State. English Liberals are coming round to my side. The Duke of Argyle, formerly a strong opponent, is about to put a question in the House of Lords regarding Prince Gortschakoff's promise in a diplomatic circular of 1864, that Russia would never advance beyond Tashkend. Already the German press is attacking me bitterly for my English lectures. People are saying I am expressing these views for money. This is not true. We journalists have souls like other people. England is the friend of the world, and I am a friend of England."

In reply to a question whether the Tories here are not using him as a stalking horse, the Professor exclaimed with a bitter laugh, "I a Conservative! Now, can a self-made man be a Conservative? I am a son of a servant, and not ashamed of my origin. I am a believer in freethought, and no Conservative. The meeting of the three Emperors is designed to restore mediæval institutions, and only England stands in the way."

I asked the Professor why it was not better to fight Russia from the frontier of India.

Professor Vambery replied: "Because one should never fight a battle near a powder mill. Every expressed nation likes a change. In fifty years the loyalty of the masses in India will be immovable, but it is not now. The Ameer will be faithful to England, because—cunning fellow, I know him well—he knows a Russian success means the absorption of his territory, and an English success means support. Afghanistan is not serving as a buffer now, but as a curtain to hide the Russian."

Professor Vambery looks forward to an opportunity to visit America. He says: "America is my proper home. There nobody will ask about my origin and coat-of-arms."

Professor Vambery is a Hungarian, who, disguised as a dervish, travelled by hitherto untried routes through the deserts of the Oxus to Khiva, and thence to Bokhara in 1861-4. He is a voluminous writer on Eastern questions. "Many Americans have urged me to go to America to lecture on Oriental life and adventures," he said, "and I hope to do so before long."

COURT TENNIS.

The international match at court tennis between Thomas Pettitt and Geo. Lambert for the world's championship belt began to-day in this city, and will continue on Wednesday and Friday. Pettitt is unquestionably the best player in America. He has played frequently at the Racquet Club, New York. His most noted games have been with Boakes, the Canadian champion, at Boston, last March. He gave Boakes 15 and a "risk," and beat him 3 out of 5. At New York, in '84, he gave Boakes half of thirty and was beaten 3 games out of 4. The Hampton tennis court is filled with an influential company. Both men are in excellent training and the playing is brilliant. The first set was won by Lambert in six games to two; the second by Pettitt, six to one; the third by Lambert, six to one. The predictions are in favor of Lambert for the match.

Lambert won the three sets out of four in the tennis championship match, the last set being the most magnificent play ever seen. Pettit has the highest respect for his opponent, and admits he does not understand the game so well, but relies confidently on his activity and rapid returns to pull him through. The judges think Pettit has the making of a splendid player, but favor Lambert for the match.

PARLIAMENTARY JOTTINGS.

Sir Leonard Tilley's Mission to England—Sir John on the Franchise.

[FROM OUR OWN REPORTER.]

OTTAWA, May 12.—When the House opened yesterday afternoon, Sir Leonard Tilley took his seat in the House for the first time in several weeks amidst great applause from both sides of the House. However, although he has recovered from his illness his 68 years are beginning to weigh heavily upon him and it is doubtful whether another session will find him in Parliament. Sir Leonard left for England last night to float the loan which Canada finds it necessary to meet pressing expenses.

The House then went into committee on the Franchise Bill, when Sir John rose to his feet and made a few remarks. Sir John spoke in a low tone of voice, not so much as if he were making a set speech to an audience, as though he were quietly talking to the opposition on the evil of their ways. Sir John spoke very quietly about the discredit done to representative institutions by a minority attempting to impose its will upon a majority. Such a state of affairs could only result in the distruction of responsible Government and in making it evident to England, which gave us our representative institutions, that we were unfit to properly use those rights conferred on us. He quoted Prince Albert's celebrated statement that representative institutions are on their trial, and instanced the present Parliamentary deadlock here as one of the things which would tend to cast discredit on that system of Government. He said that he believed great latitude should be given the opposition, but their antagonism should not descend into wilful obstruction. It must end if we were to have constitutional Government after all the objections to the measure had been laid before the country. Sir John then referred briefly to cloture. He said that suggestions, arising from the displeasure with which the general public viewed the obstructive tactics of the opposition had been made to him to introduce the cloture. For himself he would be very loath to see the English system introduced by Mr. Gladstone, or the still more American plan in vogue at Washington of shutting off discussion by moving the previous question. He did not say positively that he would not introduce it. In conclusion Sir John reviewed the debate, and pointed out the methods by which the discussion had been unnecessarily prolonged. With reference to the amendment before the House to exempt Prince Edward Island from the qualification clause of the Franchise Bill, he said he could not accept it.

During the delivery of this somewhat memorable speech, Mr. Blake was absent, as were also Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Laurier, the Liberals being led by Mr. Mills, who, whatever may be his other qualities, can scarcely hold his own with Sir John on the oratorical field. Mr. Mills said that it would be just as justifiable on the part of a burglar to bitterly resent any resistance offered him by the man whose house he wished to raid, as it was for the Government to complain of the stubborn opposition offered to their franchise bill, which Mr. Mills informed the House in a speech a couple of hours long, was full of enormities. The debate was kept up by various speakers until 3 o'clock, when the House rose. No progress has been made during the past week.

OWING to pressure upon our columns we are compelled to hold over the usual instalment of our serial story till to-morrow.

FROG LAKE MASSACRE.

The News of the Murders Confirmed—Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. Gowanlock Bartered Several Times—Big Bear Annoyed at the Massacre—Lord Melgund's Mission—Excitement in Winnipeg.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, Man., May 12.—A Fort Saskatchewan correspondent of the Times writes, under date of April 24th: Mr. Young, in charge of the Hudson Bay post at Lac La Biche, arrived this morning and reports that all danger of the Indians of White Fish Lake and Lac La Biche joining Big Bear is past. Peican, chief of the White Fish Lake Indians, remained loyal and kept the Indians there quiet.

THE FROG LAKE MASSACRE.

While at Saddle Lake, Young saw an Indian from Frog Lake, and learned some particulars of the affair there. The list of dead published on Friday is correct, with the exception of the death of Mrs. Gowanlock, who, with Mrs. Delaney, is in the hands of the Indians. Mrs. Delaney had been bartered several times, and it was thought she would soon die. She was ill-treated more than Mrs. Gowanlock, as Delaney was much disliked.

THE TWO WOMEN SOLD.

Another report says that John Pritchard had bought both women. If so they are all right as Pritchard is a half-breed opposed to trouble, and has been a prisoner among the Indians. Four Indians are said to have left for Cold Lake to kill the priest there, but it is more than doubtful if the Chippewayans will allow such a thing.

THE FROG LAKE MURDERERS.

The following are the names of some of the Indians engaged in the massacre at Frog Lake: Papomoh, Chokway, Shotyuinn, Ohpischuskeos, who shot three whites; Puskkoo, Kieryow, killed a priest; the younger son of Pushkeyah, Kawayn, shot another priest. The other names cannot be learned just now.

BIG BEAR ANNOYED.

Big Bear is reported as very much annoyed at the murders committed at Frog Lake. Twelve days ago Big Bear was camped on the east side of Frog Creek, with forty tents, awaiting the return of his scouts, four of whom went to Whitefish Lake, six to Lac La Biche and fifteen southward. Unless he can largely increase his band he will probably join Poundmaker.

LORD MELGUND.

WINNIPEG, May 12.—The line is still down north of Touchwood. I have reason to believe that Lord Melgund is on his way from the front and that at present he is in the neighborhood of the Touchwood hills. What is the object of his trip is unknown.

ANXIETY AT WINNIPEG.

PEOPLE EAGER TO LEARN THE NEWS FROM MIDDLETON'S CAMP.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, May 12.—Telegraphic communication being still interrupted, no news has been received from the front to-day, and as a natural consequence the people are commencing to get very much excited and eager to learn the result of the battle which it was expected General Middleton would resume on Sunday. Mingled with the excitement is a feeling of intense anxiety. The firm stand made by the rebels in the two engagements that have already taken place with Gen. Middleton prove them to be sturdy foes, not easily subdued, and it is feared that Gen. Middleton will be unable to drive them from the strong position they now occupy without reinforcements, or, should he succeed in doing so, without the loss of many lives. Eager and anxious enquirers have thronged the newspaper and telegraph offices from an early hour this morning waiting for news, only to be met with the announcement that the wires are down.

THE SITUATION AT BATOCHE'S.

MORE ALLEGED FIGHTING, AND REPORTED SLAUGHTER ON BOTH SIDES—A DOUBTFUL REPORT.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Herald publishes a special despatch from Winnipeg alleging to give details of a renewal of Middleton's attack upon Batoche on Sunday. It is dated Winnipeg, and is as follows:

May 11, 1 a.m.—Additional particulars of the fight have just come to hand. The killed are placed at thirteen and the wounded at twenty-three. The list has not yet been received. The rebel loss is variously estimated at from fifty to eighty-five. Two of Riel's counsellors were shot. General Middleton captured several rebels in the ravine. They were driven out of the rifle pit and were hemmed in before they knew it. They were taken to camp and a guard placed over them. They state that the night before the battle Riel addressed his men, haranguing them on the manner in which the half-breeds were oppressed. He said he knew the troops were coming, but with God on their side the half-breeds must and would prevail.

He laid a plan to capture the steamer "Northcote" as it came down the river. Thirty rebels were placed on either side of the river in ambush, from which they fired upon the boat when it came opposite. He hoped that by killing the wheelsman and pilot the boat would drift ashore, and they would possess themselves of much needed ammunition, arms and supplies. In this they were foiled, as the sharpshooters selected to kill the pilot and wheelsman missed their aim and before they could reload the boatmen had taken refuge below, from which point they controlled the helm and prevented the vessel from going ashore.

Before the battle concluded for the night every house in Batoche was blown to atoms by shells from the batteries. The inhabitants and rebels were seen to rush frantically about in complete panic.

THE GARRISON ARTILLERY.

THE JOURNEY TO MATTAWA A TRIUMPHAL PROGRESS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

MATTAWA, Ont., May 12.—The Garrison Artillery arrived at Mattawa at 7.15 a.m., after a journey which may be described as a triumphal progress. Each town along the line turned out in thousands, generally with bands, and the enthusiasm was without bounds. Especially was this the case at Carleton Place, where a good supper was provided and done full justice to, the remainder of the two hours' stay being spent in general conversation and chaff. The glee club of No. 3 Battery also rendered some excellent choruses, which took the popular fancy, the greatest crowd being drawn together by the fine singing. The boys are all in good spirits, and while the time away in singing and popular games. We have breakfast here, and at once go forward. All are eager to reach Winnipeg. The officers are assiduous in attending to the men's wants, and all are resolved to do their duty by Montreal and Canada.

REFUGEES FROM QU'APPELLE.

FARGO, Dak., May 12.—Fifty Roumanians, including women and children, from Qu'Appelle, arrived here on Sunday night. They state that the war was making it too hot for them, and they are now on their way to settle at points along the Northern Pacific, especially north of Jamestown.

Subscriptions to the volunteer supply fund at Toronto are still coming in and now amount to $1,560. Half a car load of supplies from the Simcoe Foresters and York Rangers at the front arrived there to-day.

THE SITUATION AT QU'APPELLE.

A SETTLER'S VIEWS ON THE CRITICAL POSITION OF THE PLACE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, May 12.—Robert McManus, proprietor of the Qu'Appelle Station Hotel, sends the following to the Mail: "Qu'Appelle Station, May 11.—The Indians and half-breeds in this neighborhood are suspiciously quiet just now. They are probably cowed to some extent by the presence of the troops, but the slightest laxity or disaster may at any moment cause the flames to burst forth. Prevention is always better than cure. The disaffected must be overawed by the presence of large numbers of troops, and confidence given to incoming immigrants that the Government are fully prepared to afford protection to life and property. A number of settlers arrived here the other day with Mr. Curran. Some, on hearing a canard that the troops here were about to leave and the defense of the place left to the local militia, immediately packed up and left for Dakota by the first train. But the rest were soon undeceived and remained.

A CRITICAL POSITION.

The situation is now nearing the crisis. More troops will no doubt be ordered here at once. The half-breeds and Indians of this district knew of Col. Otter's retreat on Battleford after the Cutknife engagement the same evening. They have a perfect system of what is known here, for want of a better name, as the "secret mail." I have very grave fears for the safety, even with the presence of some 800 troops, of the Qu'Appelle Valley, in the event of any serious reverse to either General Middleton's or Colonel Otter's columns. This place is peculiarly situated. We are surrounded on all sides by Indian reserves, with a half-breed settlement of some three or four thousand souls. Many of the half-breeds hereabout are well off and all are well supplied with arms and ammunition. Father Hugenard and Father LeBret have managed to keep them quiet up to the present, but there is intense excitement among them. Almost every night they fire at sentries at the fort and make other hostile demonstrations, and there is no telling what may happen should our forces at the front meet with a serious set back. Col. O'Brien is a very efficient officer, and is using his small command to the greatest possible advantage. It is an extraordinary thing, however, that he should have been left without artillery.

THE TRANSPORT SERVICE.

The attacks made upon the transport system by eastern papers are quite unwarranted. The service, as organized here by Mr. Sam Bedson, of the Manitoba penitentiary, is a most efficient one, all things considered. Mr. Bedson was ably seconded by his lieutenant, Mr. Secretan. The absence of these two officers with the General commanding, necessitated the selection of another to fill so important a place. Good luck threw the valuable services of Major Bell, of the Bell farm, at the disposal of the Government. That gentleman fell at once into the track as laid down, and with a few timely suggestions has made the transport service, especially from Qu'Appelle, a model of despatch and efficiency that might be taken as an example by the imperial Quartermaster-General. Some complaint has been made in regard to the Salt Plains, but to every prairie traveller it is well known that at the time the roads are breaking up in Spring, and when the frost begins coming out of the ground, every road on the prairie is bad, more especially where alkali abounds, and when, as in the case of the advance of General Middleton's column, it is cut up by a large train of artillery and waggons. The trail at present from here to the scene of operations is all that can be desired, and as facts speak louder than words, I give figures to prove my statements. The hospital express organized by Major Bell delivers at Clarke's Crossing 1,000 pounds per day in 39 hours from Qu'Appelle, a distance of 200 miles. The mail leaving here at 5 a.m. arrives at headquarters, a distance of 220 miles, in 48 hours. Each team on this route takes at least 2,500 lbs., and delivers at headquarters in seven days. These figures are taken from the official returns, and are indisputable. The news from Batoche is not reassuring. Dumont holds a strong position, and 1,500 men at least will be required to dispose of him. The real campaign, however, will be fought west and north of Battleford against the Indians. Ugly rumors are arriving here concerning the Blackfeet and Bloods. It is quite evident that the campaign will not close this Summer.

CAPTAIN KENNEDY'S EXPLOIT.

CONFIRMING THE STORY THAT ARMS WERE SMUGGLED FROM THE UNITED STATES.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A despatch to the Tribune, dated St. Paul, May 10, says: Not a little excitement has been caused here and in Canada by the story of the exploit of Captain Kennedy, of this city, in conveying three Gatling guns, rifles and reinforcements to Riel. The truth of the story is vouched for by several members of the secret Irish Nationalist organization of which Kennedy is said to be a member. They assert that Kennedy did all that was hinted at and more, that Riel now has the Gatling guns and a full supply of ammunition, and will make short work of Middleton when attacked. Kennedy himself has disappeared as mysteriously as before. All search for him is unavailing, and it is stated by his closest friends that he has gone once more to join Riel. Another party is said to be secretly fitting out here and in Minneapolis with the intention to join Riel in a few weeks. It is recalled that in 1869 at the time of Riel's first rebellion, a number of American sympathizers from Chicago and New York came to St Paul to solicit aid for him. A secret meeting was called, at which one of the Eastern men was chosen president, and a St. Paul man made secretary. Among those present were a number of the present residents of St. Paul. The latter were informed that Riel's rebellion was a sincere effort, and a struggle for life and death, and they were asked to contribute cash to the cause. They made up a large purse, but declined to give it to any one but the St. Paul man, who was sent to the North-West with instructions to give the money to Riel, if he intended to fight to the last, but if not, to return to St. Paul and refund the money. He went north beyond St. Cloud and far enough into the wilderness to find out that Riel's rebellion was a fizzle, returning to St. Paul, he refunded 90 per cent. of the money contributed, and much to their disgust, the Eastern patriots made nothing out of it. This story is vouched for by a St. Paul man, who contributed $10 to the fund.

STATEMENTS IN PARLIAMENT.

THE DUCK LAKE FIGHT—HALF-BREED CLAIMS—NO NEWS.

OTTAWA, May 11.—In answer to questions in the House of Commons, Sir John Macdonald said that a report of the Duck Lake fight had been received from Major Crozier, but that it was short and imperfect, and further particulars are demanded. Sir John named the several commissions that had been appointed by the Government to report on the claims of the half-breeds, and stated that there are no unenumerated Manitoba claims before the Government with the exception of one or two at Prince Albert, in respect to which the North-West half-breed commission has authority to take evidence. A report was made in the Summer of 1884 by the deputy of the Minister of the Interior, recommending a settlement of the claims of the Manitoba half-breeds enumerated upon what is known as the supplementary list; but not as to unenumerated half-breed minors or others. As a matter of fact there was no information in the department to justify the assumption that any considerable number of the Manitoba half-breeds had not already been enumerated. An order-in-council of 20th April, 1885, providing that the enumerated Manitoba half-breeds, or what is known as the supplementary list, be granted $160 in scrip to heads of families and $240 in scrip to children of half-breeds, was passed. The order provides that any claims of the same class not already enumerated shall be proved before the Commission of Dominion Lands on or before 1st of May, 1886. The issue of scrip to the enumerated half-breeds of Manitoba, whose claims have been proved since the reserve of 1,400,000 acres of land set apart by the Manitoba act was exhausted, is now proceeding.

In reply to a question whether the Government intended to extend relief to the settlers of the North-West who have lost property by the rebellion, Sir John said the matter was now under consideration.

Sir John also said that no communication had taken place between the Canadian and the Imperial Government on the subject of the disturbances in the North-West with reference to any suggested action by the latter Government.

Hon. Mr. Caron, in answer to enquiries, said that at Lieut.-Col. Otter's request the Government had forwarded to Winnipeg a large number of boots for the use of the Toronto cornschool, special car, Lieut.-Col. Otter reached Winnipeg first, and the boots were sent on from Winnipeg to Qu'Appelle, where he received them.

Before the House rose Sir John Macdonald stated that the Government had no further news from the North-West than was in the newspapers, and that the Minister of Militia had warned one or two regiments to be ready to go to the front if necessary.

LATEST FROM WINNIPEG.

THE WIRES STILL DOWN—RECRUITS FOR MAJOR BOULTON'S SCOUTS—PREPARING FOR THE GARRISON.

WINNIPEG, May 12.—There is no further news from the West, the wires still being down.

Lord Melgund is expected here to-morrow en route to Ottawa. It is reported that he is the bearer of important despatches to the Government at Ottawa from General Middleton. Others say he is en route to England to rejoin his regiment, now in the Soudan, and which may be ordered to Afghanistan at any moment. Had it not been for the trouble in the North-West he would have started for Ottawa on May 1st.

A despatch from Birtle announces the reception of a telegram from Major Boulton, asking for recruits to replace the men lost and disabled in the recent fight under General Middleton. The scouts have done gallant service, both at Fish Creek and Batoche. The volunteers were forthcoming in a few hours, and nine hearty young fellows left yesterday to join their command at the front. The citizens of Birtle gave them a hearty send-off, and sent a box of supplies to their citizen soldiers at the front.

Fort Osborne is being overhauled and put in proper shape to receive the Montreal Garrison Artillery, expected to arrive here on Thursday.

WAR RUMORS AT OTTAWA.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 12.—The House met at two o'clock to-day and went into committee on the Franchise Bill immediately. No statement about the North-West was made in the House. It is said the Government is as much in the dark as is the general public, as they have received no news from General Middleton. The general impression is that the Government is beginning to recognize that it has a first class Indian war on its hands and that Lord Melgund is coming back to urge on the Government the absolute necessity of furnishing the general with more troops.

PRINCE OF WALES RIFLES.

Dr. G. T. Ross also follows the corps into the field as surgeon.

Following the example of the Rev. Mr. Barclay, Dean Carmichael will accompany the Prince of Wales Rifles to the front as chaplain.

It will be some days before the men are ready to move, as time must be given them to arrange their affairs and get their kits together. They are also waiting at present for the Government supplies of boots, leggings, knapsacks, underclothing and water-bottles. The Government is understood, however, to have all these in store and the officers expect that they will be served out in a few days.

BANK OF MONTREAL.

Annual Statement—A Slight Fall in the Stock as a Result.

The annual statement of the Bank of Montreal for the twelve months ending 30th April, 1885, was issued to-day. The profits for the year were $1,393,116 against $1,434,260 in 1884. After paying the dividend of ten per cent and a bonus of one per cent, which absorbs $1,320,000, a balance of $379,569 is carried forward to Profit and Loss as against $306,452 at the same time last year. The overdue debts, secured by mortgage and other securities, are $283,017 as against $61,995 in 1884. Unsecured debts (estimated loss provided for), $264,233 as against $211,240 in 1884. The loans and bills discounted amount to upwards of $32,990.76 showing what an immense business the leading monetary institution in America transacts.

The statement on the street was as usual not considered a very gratifying one more especially to the bears who succeeded in raiding the stock down about one and a half points. Bets were made some months ago that over $450,000 would be carried forward and some money changed hands on the result. The Market price of Bank of Montreal Stock, on the 30th April, 1885, was 198¼ to 199 per cent, equal to $398 per share.

A SAD ENDING.

Death of Eugene Latour From the Effects of Being Run Over.

The body of the unfortunate man Eugene Latour, who died from the effects of being run over on Notre Dame street about a month ago, has found its way up to the dissecting room of McGill College, and by this time would have, in all probability, been an unrecognizable mass had it not been for the intercession of Mr. Judge of Sessions Desnoyers, who has officially notified the coroner that an inquest should be held. The body has accordingly been taken possession of by the coroner, and the carter, Cesaire Pouliot, who ran over the deceased, was arrested and arraigned before the Judge of Sessions this morning. The trial was postponed until after the coroner's inquest. The unfortunate man, it will be remembered, was after the accident removed to the Notre Dame Hospital, where he remained unconscious for a number of days. The doctors finding they could do nothing for him, he was discharged and was removed to Mazurette's Asylum on Jacques Cartier street, where he died, never having gained the use of his tongue and remaining partially paralyzed. Strange to say although the asylum is not under Government jurisdiction and does not receive any aid from the Province, the body was handed over to McGill by the Inspector of Anatomy.

All these facts will be examined into at the inquest.

TWENTY-FIVE DAYS OUT.

The Rough Passage of the "Lake Nepigon"—Other Arrivals.

The Beaver Line steamship "Lake Nepigon" arrived in harbor last night from Liverpool, having been 25 days in making the passage. A STAR reporter interviewed Chief Officer Milestone, who stated that she encountered strong westerly gales from the time they left Liverpool until they arrived at Cape Ray, East of Cape Race, on the banks, they passed several large icebergs and vast quantities of field ice which detained them some hours. They arrived at Cape Ray on the 27th at night and spoke the Dominion Line SS. "Brooklyn." At Cape Ray all passage was blocked by ice and the ship stood off, until morning. They then steamed boldly into the ice, and travelled 110 miles through densely packed masses, which caused some rivets in the vessel's bow to start. On 8th May they signalled South Point, Anticosti, and asked to be reported, but the lighthouse authorities never did so. They got to Quebec on Sunday at two p.m. The ship brought 60 passengers.

The Allan steamship "Nestorian" arrived at two this afternoon from Glasgow, with general cargo.

The Intercolonial steamship "Invermay," plying between Montreal and Pictou, N.S., arrived in harbor at one o'clock this afternoon with a cargo of coal.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—A very good house assembled at the Academy last night, in spite of the weather, to hear the first rendering in Montreal of Georges Ohnet's beautiful play "Le Maître des Forges," by some of our leading society ladies and gentlemen. The ladies were charmingly clever and certainly better than many professionals it has been our lot to see, the young English ladies especially being wonderfully natural. The gentlemen showed an equal amount of good training and natural ability and under the efficient direction of M. Wiallard, who took the leading rôle, were eminently successful. As the play is repeated to-night and the proceeds go to the Notre Dame Hospital, we cannot do better than tell our readers to go and judge for themselves. The following is the cast:—

Moulinet	MM.	Galarneau
Philippe Derblay		Wiallard
Bachelin		Giroux
Duc De Bligny		Sauvale
Baron De Préfont		Printavoine
Octave		Terroux
Le Préfect		Lacaille

Gobert		Mount
Docteur Servan		B.
Jean		Delorme
Claire De Beaulieu	MME.	Denis
Athénais		Dillon
Marquise De Beaulieu		Norgad
Baronne De Préfont	MLLE.	Wheeler
Suzanne		Norgad
Rose		Carroll

It is stated in Rome that the Pope has selected Monsignor Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, for the Dublin Archbishopric.

ANXIETY AND UNCERTAINTY

Respecting the Vote in the Commons To-night—The Difficulties of the Government—Panic Among Jurymen—A Telephone Victory.

(SPECIAL TO THE STAR.)

LONDON, May 12.—The proceedings in the House of Commons last night passed off according to my forecast. The Government weathered its eighth vote of censure in the fullest house of this session. Great anxiety and uncertainty exist respecting to-night's vote. I learn on the best authority that the Government has secured the votes of a few Irish Liberals by an extra concession of £5,000 towards the registration expenses in Ireland. This will probably save the Government. The seriousness of the crisis is the Government's best surety, for the Liberals who abstained from voting the last time as an expression of opinion will not venture to abstain to-night, now that the ministry threaten to regard the defeat as a want of confidence motion. Mr. Gladstone was treated rudely last night. The Marquis of Hartington's position could not have been more humiliating, though he gave no more reason than usual to believe that he personally cared anything about the question.

Pending information about despatches brought by Mr. Condie Stephen, who will arrive to-day, there is no Afghan news.

There was an amusing panic among the jurymen yesterday at the trial of the dynamiters. They evidently feared assassination, and alleged all kinds of illness to escape duty. Over one hundred witnesses have been subpœnaed. The conviction of both men is considered certain, though Cunningham's chance is slightly better than Burton's.

The Telephone Company score a victory in the report of the Royal Commission, who decide that overhead wires are not dangerous; that compulsory attachments are permissible, and that the Post Office must grant all its facilities. The bill resulting will hardly go so far as this.

Great interest is felt in the Government's coming decision respecting the Crimes Act in Ireland. I shall be able to send you early information. NORMAN.

THE GOVERNMENT'S CONCESSIONS

The Legacy Left for the Next Parliament—The Press on Last Night's Vote.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 12.—The News says the Government is willing to make concessions for the relief of local taxation and to defray a portion of the registration expenses this year, leaving the whole question of rating to be dealt with by the next Parliament.

The Times says: The Opposition's case was represented at the proper time. Lord Hamilton, however, ought to have withdrawn his amendment after the official documents concerning the Afghan question had been promised, and should have reserved his indictment for a time when he could have made it complete.

The Standard says: The majority by which the Government carried their point will not rehabilitate their reputation.

The Morning Post (Tory) reprehends the blunder made by its party.

Among the shrewdest members of the House of Commons the impression is that the ministry will not be beaten. It is said some sort of a modus vivendi has been established inside the Cabinet, by which certain jury laws will be passed for Ireland and the rest of the Crimes Act will be allowed to lapse. On the strength of this the Government has been granting concessions right and left, especially to the Irish Liberals, and so feel secure of a majority. As for the expected defeat on the whiskey tax provision of the budget, the signs now are that the ministers are prepared to abandon that, and let Mr. Childers resign as Chancellor of the Exchequer. The idea of getting out by the Government seems to have been succeeded by a disposition to make a hot fight for the retention of office at any cost.

The papers on the Afghan question, which will be published on Saturday, will not contain the terms of the frontier convention, which will not be made public until the convention has been concluded.

Russian papers suggest the submittal of Russia's bill for her war preparations to a mediator between the two nations, with the understanding that England shall pay the bill if the arbitrator decides that England is responsible for the cause of the dispute.

FRENCH PRAISE FOR GLADSTONE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

PARIS, May 12.—The Journal des Debats and Temps praise Mr. Gladstone for securing peace.

THE FISHERS ISLANDS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

PARIS, May 12.—The Figaro states that the Government is negotiating with China for the cession of the Fishers Islands.

ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

BERLIN, May 12.—The papers here have changed their tone, and are now dwelling upon the amicable relations existing between England and Germany.

EX-EMPRESS EUGENIE'S GIFT.

(SPECIAL TO THE STAR.)

PARIS, May 12.—Ex-Empress Eugenie's gift of the Pharo palace to the City of Marseilles has been annulled in consequence of a dispute regarding the terms of the transfer.

ANOTHER DRAMA BY TENNYSON.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 12.—Lord Tennyson is writing an historical drama, a sequel to "A Becket." He is also collecting his detached poems, which will be issued with his new lyrics.

MILITARY CENSORSHIP.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 11.—Correspondents at Suakim are telegraphing complaints concerning the arbitrary way in which the military censorship over despatches to newspapers is exercised. Correspondents aver that they are not permitted to send important news.

TILLEY AND TUPPER.

Sir Leonard Going to England—Sir Charles Likely to Come Home.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 12.—There is a good deal of talk over Sir Leonard Tilley's sudden departure for England to negotiate a loan. Sir Leonard has just recovered, and his presence was urgently required in the House in order to supervise financial legislation. There is a rumor going that Sir Charles Tupper is coming back to contest the vacancy in parliament caused by the death of Hon. Isaac Burpee.

RUSSIA STILL WARLIKE.

Orders to Equip 200,000 Reserves—Russian Troops on the Austrian and Prussian Frontier.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 12.—The Imperial Council of War have ordered the transfer of the military and medical stores from Krasnovod to Askabad, and instructed the Commissary Department to get ready to equip 200,000 reserves. Gen. Aunenkoff has started to push the work on the Trans-Caspian Railway.

LONDON, May 12.—It is reported that Russia is adding 12,000 troops to her forces on the Austrian and Prussian frontiers. Such action necessitates an equal increase on the Austrian and Prussian sides.

MESHED, May 12.—Sir Peter Lumsden has arrived en route for England. Colonel Stewart and another British officer will go to Herat to examine the fortifications and give the Ameer any needed advice.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 12.—The Official Messenger publishes a long despatch from General Komaroff, explaining more fully his actions, and giving more details of the incidents which led to the battle between the Russians and Afghans. General Komaroff reiterates everything he said in his former despatches.

THE SAMOAN ISLANDS.

Earl Derby's Reply to the Government of New Zealand.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 11.—Earl Derby, replying to a strong request from the Government of New Zealand to the English Government to annex the Samoan Islands, on the ground that the native chiefs wished a union with England, sent a despatch announcing that the German Government had given ample assurances that it would respect the independence of Samoa. If, therefore, New Zealand should unfortunately send a colonial secretary to Samoa, Germany would be justified in annexing the islands. The Premier of New Zealand then suggested as an alternative a treaty between England, Germany and America to respect the neutrality of the islands.

EATING DONKEYS FOR FOOD.

SUAKIM, May 12.—The Egyptian troops at Kassala are eating donkeys to relieve their hunger. The Governor rejects all appeals to attempt to escape.

THE TRIAL OF DYNAMITERS.

LONDON, May 12.—The trial of Cunningham and Burton was resumed this morning. The Court gave counsel permission to hold private interviews with the prisoners.

GREAT FIRE AT CHATHAM.

CHATHAM, Eng., May 12.—Barnard's Music Hall, the Mid-Kent Club House, the Bull Inn, large printing works and a number of other buildings were burned last night. Loss, £200,000.

GOVERNOR OF CONGO.

BERLIN, May 12.—Colonel Francis De Winton will be appointed Governor of the Congo State, and not Mr. Stanley, as stated. Colonel De Winton will return to Europe in 1886, when M. Jansen will become Governor.

GRAND TRUNK.

LONDON, May 9.—The Grand Trunk Railway Company invite subscriptions from the proprietors of £200,000 perpetual five per cent. debentures. The price is 79 per cent. the proceeds being mainly applied to the payment of the interest bearing liabilities.

THE VOYAGEURS.

LONDON, May 9.—A detachment of Canadian voyageurs, who accompanied the British expedition up the Nile, sailed from Liverpool to-day on the steamer "Parisian" for home. They were in London a week, sightseeing. Col. Denison, of the voyageurs, is still at Cairo. He has been ill, but is recovering.

KILLED BY AN AVALANCHE.

LONDON, May 12.—Advices from Iceland state that fifteen dwellings, with their inhabitants, were swept into the sea by the April avalanche and twenty-four persons were drowned. The avalanche destroyed fifty fishing boats. The loss in one village alone reached $20,000.

A DYNAMITE PLOT.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Herald's Paris special says: Information has reached here that two dynamiters have left New York by a German steamer with entirely new explosive machines set in motion by three springs. There is reason to believe the French authorities have warned England of a plot which has been hatched by a large party of dynamiters at Lausanne and Geneva.

ANOTHER BLUNDER.

LONDON, May 12.—After the adjournment of the House of Commons, last night, the general feeling was that the Conservative leaders had again blundered by not withdrawing the motion after the ministers had explained their policy in the Soudan and Afghanistan, inasmuch as a non-explanation was the basis of the motion. The ministerialists are jubilant. They say the victory will insure the return of the Government in the November elections, provided Russia keeps faith.

Condensed Telegrams.

Ferdinand Hiller, the celebrated composer and pianist of Cologne, is dead.

Gen. Lumsden, Col. Stewart and Mr. Barrow left Tirpul for England on Saturday.

The Donaldson line SS. "Colina," from Glasgow, passed Father Point inward at 8.15 a.m.

Mr. Fargus, better known as Hugh Conway, the author of "Called Back," is dying of typhoid fever at Monaco.

It is reported on good authority that representatives of France and China at Shanghai have signed a peace protocol.

The Entomologist of the agricultural department at Washington, says the country will soon be visited by two great broods of locusts, of the 17 and 13 years varieties. This will be the first time in 221 years that they have appeared in conjunction. They will not prove greatly destructive, and the injury they will inflict will probably be confined to fruit trees.

Special Notice.

Messrs. Laviolette & Nelson, Druggists, wish to inform the Montreal public that they have established a branch store at 113 St. Lawrence street, 2nd door off Lagauchetiere, at which place as complete a stock can be found as in their Notre Dame street store. 2x

FINANCIAL.

Money was again quiet and dull to-day, standing at 4 to 5 for call loans and stocks; discount on commercial paper being about 7 per cent. Sterling Exchange was quiet and little business was done; rates between banks were 9⅜ to 9½ for 60-day bills and 9⅞ to 10 on demand, counter rates being about ⅛ higher. Drafts on New York were a shade easier at ⅛ premium, counter rates being about ¼.

Business on the local Stock Exchange was not very brisk although there was a fair amount of sales. The chief feature of the market was a decline in Bank of Montreal, amounting to 1¾ points, and 1 point in ex div. This was consequent upon the statement issued to-day showing only about $370,000 instead of $400,000 as had been expected. The transactions were: 25 Bank of Montreal 200¾, 41 do 200, 40 do 199¾, 75 do 199½, 10 do ex-div 194½, 80 do 194¾, 125 do 193¾, 85 do 193½; 50 Merchants 113¾; 175 Telegraph 121¾; 200 do 122; 125 Gas 180¾.

The following are the transactions at the afternoon session: 3 Bank of Montreal, 199¾; 10 do 199¾; 35 do 199¾; 25 do 199¾; 25 do ex-div 193¾; 4 do 194¾; 4 do 194. 10 Merchants 113¾. 10 Ontario 110. 25 Commerce 122. 25 Telegraph 121¾. 200 City Passenger 115. 50 Gas 180. 50 do 180. 100 Pacific 37¾.

Consols opened at 99⅝ and then dropped ⅛ to 99½, rose to 99⅝ and closed at 99⅝. Canadian Pacific also advanced from 38¼ at opening to 38⅜ at the close: Paris rentes were 79.97½.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL.

Although grain was very quiet this morning there was considerable enquiry in flour, and prices had a downward tendency, buyers indeed, looking for a fall of even 10 to 15c. This, however, was more than holders would agree to, but they met buyers half way, by offering at about 5c less all round. The general fall has been caused largely by the fact that millers in the west are holding stocks of superior of unknown amount, and this is depressing the price of this grade, and the rest are going down in sympathy. The following sales are reported on 'Change: 125 brls. Superior Extra, $5; 125 brls. Extra, $4.80; 125 brls. Spring Extra, $4.75. The following are the quotations, Spring Extra remaining firm: Superior Extra, $4.90 to $5; Extra Superfine, $4.80; Fancy, $4.70 to $4.75; Spring Extra, $4.65 to $4.75; Superfine, $4.40 to $4.50; Strong Bakers', Man., $5.20 to $5.30; do. Can., $4.75 to $5; do. Am., $5.25 to $5.50; Fine, $4.15 to $4.25; Middlings, $3.75 to $3.85; Pollards, $3.60 to $3.65; Ontario bags, medium, $2.25 to $2.30; do. Spring Extra, $2.20 to $2.25; do. Superfine, $2.15 to $2.20; City bags, delivered, $2.55 to $2.60.

STOCKS.

The comparative state of stocks held in Montreal last week, the week previous and this time last year, is as follows:

	9th May.	2nd May.	10th May. 1884.
Wheat	222,499	208,186	229,211
Corn	1,374	1,474	1,116
Peas	172,174	164,590	98,359
Oats	26,497	20,889	11,080
Barley	17,813	18,826	6,773
Rye	21,866	18,549	48,822
Flour	56,052	51,782	55,445
Oatmeal	963	868	1,374
Cornmeal	123	123

FOREIGN.

Beerbohm reports: Cargoes off coast; wheat, quieter; corn, slow. Cargoes on passage and for shipment, wheat, quieter; corn, slow. Liverpool, wheat, spot, quiet; corn, quiet but steady. Weather in England cool but finer. Crops appear to be backward.

A despatch from Liverpool says: Wheat, dull, poor demand, holders offering freely; corn, quiet, fair demand. Weather fine. Receipts for the last three days: Wheat, 227,000 centals, of which 138,000 is American; corn, 41,800 centals.

A later despatch from Liverpool says: Choice Cheese 56s, Shoulders 25s. 3d.

AMERICAN.

Messrs. Orr, Crittenden & Comes' Chicago market report at 1.30 p.m., says: Lower prices to-day. June wheat closing at 1 p.m. at 90⅛c, against 91c yesterday. Bear news is plentiful to-day, or rather bear talk, for there is really no news. In spite of the good decrease shown in the visible supply the still immense stocks were more quoted and referred to to-day than the decrease. It is certainly sufficient to justify serious doubts of any advance until a greater domestic and export demand develops. We believe, however, that such a demand will develop, and that the movement at about this level will soon be very great, and this, with the undoubted short crop of Winter wheat, will give us higher prices later.

NOTES.

The French cable to St. Pierre, Miquelon, is not expected to be repaired until the end of May.

The weather reports from the Gulf this morning are more favorable, and quite a number of steamers are reported as having passed inwards, so that the next day or two will probably see a large number of arrivals in the port.

Wholesale Produce and Provisions.

PORK AND LARD.—Business continues very quiet, especially as navigation can hardly be said to be properly open yet. Quotations are as follows: Mess pork, $14 75 to 15; Canada short cut, $15 to 15 50. Hams, 11½ to 12½c. Lard, Western, 10¼; do. Can. 9½.

EGGS.—The market is still over-supplied with eggs, and 12c is the outside price for best marks. This is a lower figure than has been reached for three or four years, but it is expected to be the bottom, and when the present glut is over a steady sale is anticipated. The low price is caused by the fact that American buyers have determined not to give more than 10c, and dealers prefer to take the chances of the Montreal markets.

CHEESE.—There is little doing in cheese, and prices rule from 9 to 10c for new according to quality.

SUGAR AND SYRUP.—Maple sugar and syrup are both quiet and dull. We quote 8 to 9c for sugar, and 60 to 70c for syrup.

BUTTER. Quotations in butter are hardly altered but the market is weak and dull, and trade is confined entirely to the city. Prices are being shaded for all but strictly finest with color. Roll butter is not quotable under 10 to 12c. and there are few buyers even at this low price.

EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

SPECULATORS

NOTICE.

We hereby notify the investment public that our firm are not brokers, nor do not solicit or execute orders for investors or speculators as brokers or intermediaries between buyers or sellers of stocks, grain, or any other value or commodity.

We have not for a year executed an order as brokers between two parties, nor do we intend resuming the business.

Our business is that of stock, grain and provision dealers, treating only with principals, and consummating every transaction as principals, direct between ourselves and the public dealing, whether for speculative or investment account, without the intervention of middlemen.

We buy and sell through American brokers on our own account, but execute no commissions for others, and will, after this notice, as heretofore, ignore all local or outside correspondence requesting us to undertake or execute orders as brokers between two parties. Our business is confined purely to buying and selling on our own account, direct with principals.
