France To Order Army To Retire From Dortmund

Order Issued in Accordance With Premier Herriot's Agreement that Evacuation of Ruhr Would Begin the Day After Signing of London Agreement—German Reichstag Votes Approval of Dawes Reparation Plan by Two-Thirds Majority—Quite a Number of German Nationalists Changed Their Attitude at the Last Moment and Gave Government a Substantial Majority.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, August 30.—The French Government will order the evacuation of Dortmund, in the Ruhr, tomorrow. This is in execution of Premier Herriot's engagement that the evacuation of the Ruhr would begin the day after the signing of the London agreement. The agreement was signed in London early this afternoon.

The economic withdrawal from the Ruhr is beginning immediately. In fact, preliminary steps are being taken today throughout the Ruhr, but although the order for the military evacuation will be issued tomorrow, the troops will not be withdrawn until the economic evacuation is nearly completed.

Several weeks will be required for the orderly retirement of the French economic organization, including the railway employees and a great variety of civilian functionaries. It took the French Government several months to form this administrative force, and it is considered probable that complete transfer of this work cannot be made until well along in October.

APPOINTED AGENT GENERAL OF REPARATION PAYMENTS

(Associated Press Despatch.)

PARIS, August 30.—The appointment of Owen D. Young, of New York, as general agent of reparation payments ad interim, was announced by the Reparation Commission today.

The appointments were also announced of M. Delacroix, of Belgium, as trustee to receive and administer the German railway bonds; Signor Nogara, of Italy, trustee for the industrial debentures, and Andrew MacFadyen, of England, as commissioner of controlled revenues.

AGREEMENT SIGNED AT LONDON THIS AFTERNOON

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, August 30.—The pact drawn up at the recent International Conference here, outlining ways and means of putting the Dawes reparation programme into effect, was signed by representatives of the various nations early this afternoon.

Premier Macdonald being in Scotland, the assistant Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Sir Eyre Crow, signed for the British. The Ambassadors, ministers or charges d'affaires, acted for the other countries, while Ambassador Kellogg looked on for the United States.

The informal character of the signing formalities was indicated by the fact that some of the plenipotentiaries of the minor powers attached their signatures last night to enable them to leave London early this morning.

Despite the lack of public attention to the finishing flourishes that put the pact into effect, the officials fully realize the significance of this final approval of the work of the London conference.

Although the signing carries the pact a step further than the initialing given it at the close of the conference, it is not absolutely tantamount to ratification by the British. Nevertheless, it carries the Dawes plan a deal further toward actual operation.

Premier Macdonald had promised to lay the pact before the House of Commons when it re-assembles, but the general opinion is that there is not the slightest chance of a majority being registered against it.

GERMAN REICHSTAG YESTERDAY GAVE APPROVAL TO DAWES REPORT—GOVERNMENT ISSUES PROCLAMATION

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, August 30.—On the occasion of the adoption of the Dawes report, Chancellor Marx has issued in the name of the German Government a proclamation thanking all the members of the Reichstag who have contributed to bring about this result, says a Berlin despatch to Reuters.

The proclamation proceeds to explain the attitude of the Imperial Government with regard to the question of "war guilt" as follows: "That statement made by us in the Treaty of Versailles, under overwhelming pressure, to the effect that Germany had let loose the world war through her aggression, is contrary to the facts of history."

The Imperial Government declares that it does not recognize this statement, and that it is the just demand of the German people to be freed from the burden of this false charge. Until that is done, and long as a member of the comity of nations is branded as a criminal to humanity, no true understanding and reconciliation between the peoples can take place. The imperial government will take the opportunity of bringing this declaration before the notice of foreign governments."

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT AT BLACK LAKE

Mrs. Brayton Amadon Was Instantly Killed When Pinned Beneath Automobile.

(Special To Record)

THEFTORD MINES, Que., Aug. 30.—A fatal automobile accident took place early this morning at Black Lake, the victim being Mrs. Brayton Amadon, of this city, who was instantly killed when the car in which she was riding with her husband, baby girl and her mother, Mrs. John Porter, of Lower Ireland, ran into the British Canadian mine trestle.

They were returning to Theftord Mines from Lower Ireland early this morning, and in attempting to pass another car on the road, Mr. Amadon's car jumped off the road at Black Lake and headed into the abutment of the trestle that crosses the roadway at that point.

The car overturned. Mr. Amadon, the baby girl and Mrs. John Porter were thrown clear and escaped with minor injuries, but Mrs. Amadon was pinned beneath the car and instantly killed.

Mr. Amadon rushed to the home of Mr. Johnson at Black Lake for assistance and Mrs. Porter and little child were taken there, while the body of Mrs. Amadon was later removed to her late home at Theftord Mines, where an inquest will be held today. Mrs. Amadon, who was about forty years of age, is survived by her husband and four children, three girls and a boy.

SAYS PRINCE IS JUST A MAN, AND VERY NICE ONE

Not Only an Excellent Dancer, But Has Mastered Art of Maintaining Interesting Conversation.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Miss Leonora Cahill, the St. Louis girl, who of all the women outside her own party was the only one chosen by the Prince of Wales as a dancing partner on the Benzeraria, gave her impressions of the heir to the British Throne yesterday as the ship came slowly up the bay. After the Prince had debarked Miss Cahill, the centre of attention, was not embarrassed by the hundreds of eyes upon her nor was she the least bit haughty. She apparently took the whole affair as a happy incident of the voyage and described the Prince as "just a man, and a very nice one."

"I liked him," she said, "who could help it? He dances very well. He holds you just so, not too tightly, but not too distantly either. I don't know why he picked me out. Surely there were many better looking girls, and goodness, we've been away a whole year and didn't buy any new clothes."

She said the Prince is not only an excellent dancer, but has mastered the art of maintaining an interesting conversation without sacrificing any of the rhythm of the dance.

She was dressed entirely in bottle green. Her brown hair which was not bobbed was kept in place by a tiny, close fitting turban.

SOVIET VESSEL IS ON WAY TO WRANGLE ISLE

Has Orders to Establish Russian Ownership of Island in Name of Soviet Government.

(Associated Press Despatch)

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 30.—A vessel named Red October, flying the Russian flag, armed with a six pound cannon, and carrying a company of infantry, is bound through ice from Petropavlovsk Kamchatka Peninsula for Wrangel Island, off the northern shore of Siberia, with orders to take all inhabitants prisoners, seize all shipping and establish Russian ownership of the island in the name of the Soviet Government. Lt.-Col. L. E. Broome, flight advancement officer for the abandoned British world encircling expedition, declared here today.

He gave this information to United States naval officers in command of the battle fleet here.

Wrangel Island is claimed as American territory, and at least one American, Charles Wells, is reported marooned there with a party of thirteen Eskimos.

Col. Broome also said that the American schooner Herman, of San Francisco, with Captain Louis Vance and a crew of American sailors going to the rescue of Wells may be taken prisoners by the Soviet forces on their arrival.

Wells was left on Wrangel Island by Harold Noice when the latter went last year to rescue survivors of the ill-fated Stefansson expedition and found the only survivor, known as Ada Blackjack, whom he brought back to Seattle.

One Of Most Pretentious Welcomes Ever Accorded An "Unofficial" Visitor Was Given Prince On His Arrival Yesterday

Left This Morning by Special Train for Washington to Lunch With President Coolidge—According to Present Plans, Luncheon at White House Will Be Simple and Informal.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Edward, Prince of Wales, left at 6:30 o'clock this morning on a special train of the Pennsylvania Railroad for Washington to lunch with Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, following a night of rest at Syosset, New York.

According to the present plans the White House luncheon will be simple and informal. Only the President, Mrs. Coolidge, their son, John, and members of the president's personal staff will be present. The train bearing the Prince is due in Washington at one o'clock (standard time) and luncheon will be served half an hour later.

The Prince is scheduled to leave the Capital at four o'clock (Eastern standard time) and should be back at Syosset a little before ten. Despite his expressed wish to enter the country with no more ceremony than is accorded to any other distinguished foreigner, one of the most pretentious welcomes ever accorded an "unofficial" visitor was given him.

No guns were fired in his honor because the British Embassy had asked that they be silent. But every other form of welcome that has ever been used, together with some new departures, were invoked by those who went down the bay to greet him.

Miss Leonora Cahill, the St. Louis girl who had the distinction of being the only American with whom the Prince danced during the voyage from Southampton, said the Prince impressed her as "just a nice young man on a vacation."

"He is really distressed about all this notoriety. He is just a nice young man on a vacation, and he wants people to leave him alone. He told me he hoped the simple circumstances of his dancing with me would not lead to any undesirable publicity for me."

"He dances very well; indeed, he does. He has a perfect sense of rhythm."

"We didn't talk very much. You know how it is when you are dancing. Just casual conversation. He spoke of his Canadian ranch and I had the impression that he enjoyed the seclusion he finds in residence up there, so far away from the crowds. That, it seemed to me, was the keynote of his whole attitude just now."

"He is altogether unaffected and charming."

PRINCE WILL BE KEPT POSTED (Special To Record.)

MONTEAL, Aug. 30.—That the Prince of Wales takes a keen interest in the affairs of the world, and particularly the affairs of the Empire, is well known. He is always found well informed on momentous subjects and does not, as many probably think, judging from press reports, devote all his time to polo, golf, swimming and dancing, and even when he is on a holiday, it is essential that he should be kept posted on what is going on in the world. Having this in mind, the Canadian National Railways, among other details of arrangements, placed a radio receiving set on the private car "Renfrew," which will be occupied by the Prince during his journey from New London, Conn., north to Montreal, and then west to Calgary, Alta. This radio set will not only receive the usual programmes broadcast by the stations with which radio fans are all familiar, but it will be used for the reception of news bulletins specially selected as being of interest to his Royal Highness.

These items will be culled from the news of the world and at a specified hour they will be broadcast from the broadcasting stations of the Canadian National Railways Radio Department. The points from which they are broadcast will depend upon the zone in which the Prince of Wales is travelling at the time. When in the Montreal district it will be C.N.R.M. that will do the broadcasting. Later C.N.R.T. will take it up and then C.N.R.W. at Winnipeg. Later C.N.R.C. at Calgary will do the heaviest part of the work, for arrangements have been made by the Canadian National Railways for the installation of a receiving set at St. E. P. Ranch.

While the Prince is at his ranch, which is some distance from any telegraph line, he will be kept posted of the affairs of the day by means of this radio set. At specified hours of the day the Canadian National Railways Calgary Radio Station will broadcast these items, which will include news cabled direct from London. Radio fans will be interested to know that the receiving set to be used will be of the super heterodyne type, with a loud speaker of the same type as that used in San Francisco during the visit of the late President Harding to that city.

SUGGESTS CLOSED PERIOD FOR BRITISH TITLES

SHERBROOKE FAIR CLOSED ITS DOORS LAST EVENING AFTER A VERY SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Final Events of Week's Programme Were Held Yesterday Afternoon—Attendance Yesterday Was Small—Exhibitors Began to Pack Up About Five O'Clock—Final Races Held During Afternoon—Midway Closed Up Early—Automobile Attendance Totalled One Thousand Yesterday—Good Dairy and Farm Product Display.

THE Sherbrooke Exhibition closed its doors last night after what has been one of the most successful weeks in the history of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association. The success of a fair depends to a great extent upon the weather, and it is seldom that "fair week" passes without one or two days of rain. This week, however, went by with hardly a cloud entering the sky, and with six days of bright sunshine which attracted record crowds to the grounds. The exhibits, too, were far more numerous than in previous years in almost every department, and all combined to make a very successful exhibition.

The attendance on Wednesday and Thursday was very large. Tuesday's attendance was a record for that day, and yesterday a fair crowd was present.

Everything ran at full speed yesterday until about five o'clock, when exhibitors began to get ready to depart. Several of the cattle exhibitors started their herds on the homeward journey last evening, and a number of the main building exhibitors commenced dismantling their displays late in the afternoon.

The performance in front of the grand stand was given as usual, yesterday afternoon, but was witnessed by a much smaller crowd than on the previous days. The races yesterday were very good, and owing to the fact that there was no cattle parade to delay them, they were started in good time and were over by about five o'clock.

The baseball programme for the week concluded yesterday afternoon with a second game between Sherbrooke and Saranac Lake, which the local team won in the ninth inning by a score of four to three.

No Special Luncheon

There was no special luncheon held yesterday, although the directors' dining room was in operation as usual under the supervision of Mr. C. F. Waller, who has been in charge of that department for some fourteen consecutive years.

Mr. L. J. Codere, president of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, is being heartily congratulated upon the success of the fair this year. The secretary, Lt. Col. S. E. Francis, and his assistant, Miss St. Pierre, were indefatigable in their efforts to keep all departments running smoothly and the excellent manner in which the fair was conducted was due in a great measure to the fine support which the president and directors received from the members of their staff.

The number of automobiles which passed through the gates yesterday totalled only one thousand, and they carried two thousand five hundred people. This number is considered small, but Friday has always been a poor day in comparison with the rest of the week. Of the total cars which entered the gates yesterday, eight hundred and fifty-eight came from the Province of Quebec, seventy entered from Vermont, and twenty came from Massachusetts. Fifteen were from New Hampshire and ten were from New York; ten were from Maine, while Rhode Island and Ontario each registered five. Pennsylvania had three cars and Missouri and Indiana had one each. California registered two.

Midway closed early.

The Midway, which operated continuously from Monday through-out the entire week, continued in operation until about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, by which time several of the shows had closed up. Several of the games of chance closed up earlier in the day, but the mechanical amusements continued in operation until the last minute.

Agricultural and Dairy Exhibit

The agricultural and dairy building presented a very fine appearance at the exhibition this year, with its abundant supply of products. The exhibiting space in the building was well filled, and those in charge of the department state that a very successful week has been realized. The number of entries were about the same as usual, but a slightly larger variety of exhibits is reported this year.

Apples were especially prominent, including many different brands. A large number of carrots were also entered, as well as beans, cucumbers, corn and many other vegetables.

In the dairy section some fine specimens of butter and cheese were entered, and this department was in every way up to its usual mark.

The directors in charge of this department were Messrs. J. A. McCleary, M. W. Miller, J. H. Crepeau, J. L. Alexander and J. Nichol and all feel satisfied that this department is receiving the support of which it is deserving, as it considered to be one of the chief departments of the exhibition.

The agricultural and dairy building was visited by a very large number of visitors daily during exhibition week.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—An explosion of gasoline yesterday took a toll of six lives, three of them boys, caused probably fatal injuries to seven persons and less serious injuries to seven others.

WHEN THE BABIES ARE CUTTING TEETH THE MOTHER SHOULD USE

During baby's teething time, especially in the hot summer months, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, etc. manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth. This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.

WEAK WOMEN

Don't hope ever to become strong and well again unless they use plenty of good, rich, and blood of the kind that organic Nuxated Iron helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not irritate the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly builds up rich red blood, revitalizes worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. At all drug stores. Beware of substitutes. The genuine has N. I. stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine.

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B. — "I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter." — Mrs. ELMER A. RITCHIE, 22 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B. There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. You might be interested in reading Mrs. Pinkham's Private Text-Book. You can get a copy free by writing the Lydia E. "Here, Sandy, tak' mine," said another Scot coming to his assistance.

MARRIAGES

FISH-SHAW

AYER'S CLIFF, Que. Aug 30.—Mid scenes of woodland splendor, in a veritable fairy glade the wedding arch was built, under which Miss Vivian Philena Fish and Mr. Irving Gerrish Shaw took the vows of holy matrimony on Monday, at high noon. Since early childhood this beautiful spot, on the shores of Lake Massawippi, has been the summer home of the bride and this she chose as the ideal spot in which to spend her wedding day. "Cedar Cliff Cottage" situated on the lake shore in an arch of evergreens was a bower of beautiful blossoms, sweets peas, roses, pansies, asters and daffodils. From each side of the cottage an aisle formed with white ribbons, held in place by eight young ladies, led to the white lattice arch, made beautiful with many flowers, and a huge bell of blossoms suspended from the centre.

Through the aisles came the bride and groom and their attendants, meeting under the arch, where the bride was given away by her father, Mr. Wm. Fish. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Thomas.

The bride was very charming in white brocaded with pearl trimmings, tulle veil and orange blossoms, carrying a large bouquet of assorted roses. The maid of honor, Miss Clara Belle Fish, was very attractive in powder blue brocade, carrying sweet peas. Mr. Harry Yeaton acted as best man. The ring-bearers were little Miss Elane McIntyre and Master Wilfred Huntton, niece and nephew of the bride, dressed in white. The ribbon bearers, Misses Mildred Webster, Helen Ayer, Doris Leavitt, Alice Schoolcraft, Doris Knapp, Josephine Walsh, Mary Walsh and Dorothy Wheeler, were dressed in yellows, pinks and blues.

The arch was built to represent an open door, before which the bridal party paused, until the ceremony was performed, then stepping through the door into the new life, they turned and happy smiles to greet and receive the congratulations of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fish, father and mother of the bride, Mrs. Diamond Shaw, grandmother of the groom, and the many other relatives and friends present.

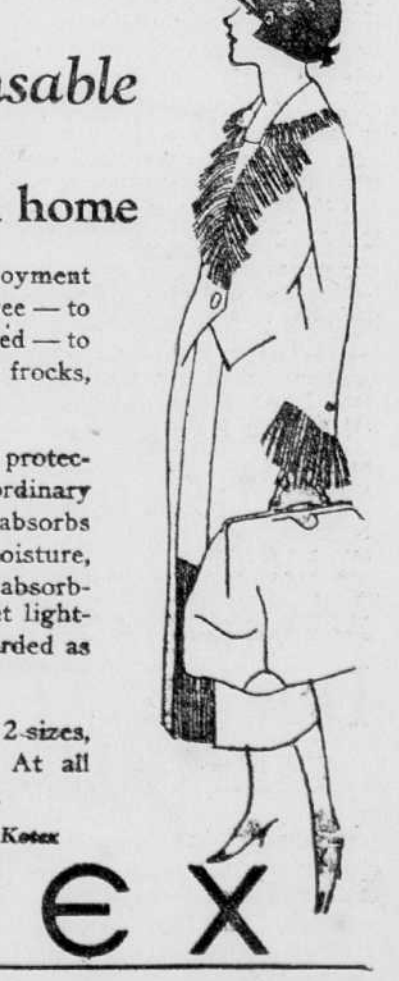

While the bride and groom received the congratulations two beautiful solos were sung, "Will You Love me?" by Mrs. Jay Emery, of East Andover, a friend of the bride, and "Sunshine of Your Smile," by Ms. Fred Webster, of North Hatley.

A dainty buffet luncheon was served by the eight young ladies who acted as ribbon bearers. A five layer wedding cake, beautifully decorated, was cut by the bride. Mrs. J. McIntire, sister of the bride, cut the loaves and Mrs. Jay Emery served the punch. Two clever poems were read by the authors, Mrs. Fred Webster, of Hatley, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Leslie Blake.

Gifts of silver, linen, china and money were showered upon the happy young couple.

The guests numbering about sixty, were from East Andover and many relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are spending their honeymoon in New York. They will reside in East Andover on their return.

FORD'S BANKING.

Everybody should have a bank account of some sort. Therefore, everybody is more or less interested in the banking methods of others. Mr. Ford is reputed the richest man in the world and it, therefore, stands to reason that he must have quite a bank account and probably does not trust it all to one bank. An exchange throws light on this as follows:

"Will Nassau, writing in the Wall Street Journal, says that there are at present between 215 and 225 banks holding Ford Motor Company deposits. At a recent date the largest deposit on the list was $20,000,000 in a bank in Chicago. There were a dozen deposits neighboring $10,000,000 and the remainder varied all the way down to $100,000. The total cash balance of the company has touched $205,000,000, but its more normal level is between $150,000,000 and $175,000,000. Taking $150,000,000 as a basis, and deducting one account at $20,000,000, and eight at an average of $10,000,000, there would remain $50,000,000 to be divided among approximately 200 banks, or an average of $250,000 each.

"The $270,000,000 shown under the caption of cash at the February 29, 1924, statement of the company to the Massachusetts corporation commissioner was not all cash. It included accounts, receivable, and other items, reducing the actual cash to not more than $150,000,000. Hence, it is obvious that there is no "growing cash burden" hanging over the Fords.

"Ford bank accounts are distributed with two objects. The company must naturally keep large balances in central cities to pay merchandise bills and labor. Besides the 100,000 men employed in Detroit, there are 50,000 others employed in the branch plants at Iron Mountain, Hamilton, Ohio, and in the 34 branch assembling and sales plants. The second object is to place funds in banks which give sympathetic support to Ford dealers. The Ford Company was pioneer in putting the automobile manufacturing business on a basis of cash for cars delivered, and they desire to maintain this arrangement.

"The bulk of retail paper given by purchasers of Ford cars is quite generally handled in the larger cities by finance companies which have made a specialty of Ford paper. So far as is known, the company has no interest in any of these corporations."

BRITISH GOVERNING METHODS.

British colonization and governing methods have been wonderfully successful. The map of the world and the history of lands where British control has been exercised shows this. Britain, however, has been much criticized and the term "Perfidious Albion" has often found its way into print. In a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post, British methods in Arabia were discussed by Lottrop Stoddard. The Ottawa Journal, in summarizing Mr. Stoddard's conclusions, says: "Mr. Stoddard is intimately acquainted with the Arabs and their problems, and writes very entertainingly, and in some respects convincingly, about the situation in Arabia and thereabouts. Also he says some very friendly things about the conduct of the British authorities in Palestine. Faced by a complex and dangerous situation" he says "the British have governed Palestine much more successfully than the French have Syria. With a mere handful of troops and constabulary the British keep better order in Palestine than the French do in Syria with a large army; yet the British have done it without using the harsh measures of repression that the French have felt compelled to employ. In Palestine men can talk and write without fear of arrest. Violence alone is punished—and is punished so severely that agitators find it does not pay, especially when they have free speech and a free press to forward their ideas. That is generous praise, but when Mr. Stoddard turns from administration to the more vital question of national policy, one can see that in his view England ever since Armistice has been jockeying with France for control of the Near East, and that her acceptance of mandates for Palestine and Mesopotamia was dictated solely by her determination to consolidate her route to India, and incidentally build up an empire around the eastern shores of the Mediterranean. The Arabs, he says, "aided by England," drove the Turk from his Arab provinces during the war. They are eager for self-government in Mesopotamia, but England will not get out. Not a word of what England has done for Mesopotamia, mainly at her own cost, in transforming it from a bankrupt territory to one of immense potential wealth and prosperity. Elsewhere he remarks "after a long and bitter struggle the Egyptian Nationalists have gained a large measure of independence," and this is "an object lesson whose effect upon the Arabs must be profound." England takes over these lands for her own selfish purposes, and never lets go until forced to do so. That really seems to be the idea in the back of Mr. Stoddard's mind, and yet he probably conceives himself to be an entirely impartial and fair-minded observer."

PRESS COMMENT

SUCCEEDED WHERE EUROPE FAILED.

(Owen Sound Sun-Times) We have had here in Canada for long what the round table calls "the highest achievement of humanity in its political life," peaceful co-operation between different races within the same State, what has never yet been achieved in Europe.

A QUESTION OF ETIQUETTE.

(Stratford Beacon-Herald) It may not be good form for British naval officers to discuss the question in Canada—there is a proverb to the effect that it is bad taste to talk about rope in the house of a man who has been hanged; but in time of need British naval officers are allowed to have a good deal to say and do about naval defence, and it may be that they think they ought to be allowed to say an occasional word, as a reminder, about preparation.

LIFE ON MARS.

(Boston Transcript) But even if it is possible that there is life on Mars, it is a life that is millions of years nearer its eventual extinction than life on our earth. The earth is a dying planet; but Mars, which is the next planet in the solar system outside our own, is much more nearly dead than we are. It is barely possible inhabitants must be hanging, as it were, desperately on their last slowly expiring chance of existence. They are on the verge of being frozen out. The next planet on our other side, the planet Venus, nearer to the sun than we, burns, on the other hand, in ardent heat. And as, according to the previous opinion of the astronomers, Venus always presents the same side to the sun, while the other side is in perpetual darkness, it is quite unlikely that intelligent life is found there either. The judgment of Wallace that the Earth Man is "alone, alone, all, all alone" in the solar system is apparently well founded.

WORK ON THE FARM.

(Christian Science Monitor) There has been an anticipation for the farm hand from many of those things which made his task unpleasant and almost unendurable. Today, if one formerly thus employed chances to ride along the highways skirting thrifty farms he may perhaps see many devices in common use which were undreamed of in his youth. Perhaps as he looks back upon what now seem to him the accomplishments of an earlier day he will flatter himself that then no hay-loading devices or "sulky" corn cultivators were necessary. But they are a necessary part of the equipment of every large farm today. The wages of farm hands have risen along with the cost of labor in other industries. Methods new to the former "hired man" are employed, in the fields, in the dairies, and in all the departments of agriculture. The past master, if he would seek to resume his former occupation, must needs take a post-graduate course in the arts once so familiar to him.

LIQUOR ON THE ROADS.

(Boston Transcript) One week more and another week less, the toll of lives exacted by drivers of automobiles continues. Rightly considering that liquor is responsible for most of these fatalities, Frank A. Goodwin, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, preaches in season and out the imposition of jail sentences on those operators of motor cars found to be under the influence of alcohol.

Statistics have not been compiled which would show the proportion of accidents resulting from "losing one's head." Every driver of a car knows, however, that if in any given set of circumstances everyone concerned remains cool and collected, the chances of an accident are comparatively slight. The pedestrian who starts to cross the street in front of an approaching car becomes confused, turns back, then attempts to hurry across. Result, he is hit. Two cars approaching a corner near it at the same time. One driver wavers, slows up, then speeds up to get ahead of the other car. Result, a collision. In each of these hypothetical cases calm judgment, how much more dangerous, then, is the driver whose judgment is for a continuous stretch befuddled by liquor.

STABILIZING EMPLOYMENT.

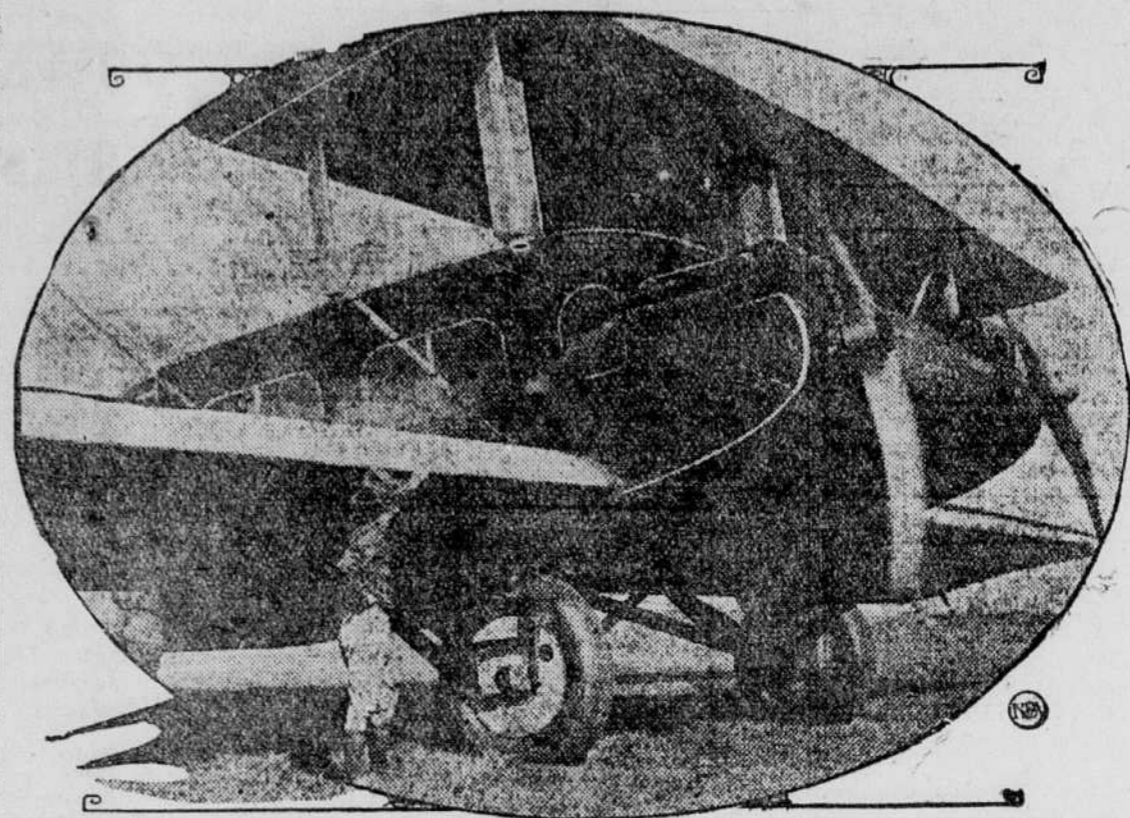

(Chicago News) It is remarkable that the building industry has remained active throughout the United States notwithstanding the recession in other business. Record-breaking figures are reported from some sections of the East and Middle West, while elsewhere the applications for building permits and the estimated investments in apartment houses, residential hotels, homes and factories equal those of last year.

Building has been called "the balance wheel of American industry." It is more so now than ever before, and, if present plans are carried out, it will remain so even after the housing shortage due to the war and to after-war inflation has fully met.

Recently a national committee on seasonal construction in the building industry made a valuable report to the Federal Department of Commerce in which the question of lengthening the construction season, and thus practically doing away with winter unemployment, was discussed from practical and technical points of view. New ideas and careful planning enable builders, it is said, effectively to cope with adverse weather conditions, so that the number of workers laid off because of bad weather is constantly decreasing.

The annual turnover in the building industry is estimated at five billion dollars. With seasonal ups and downs largely eliminated, such an industry, giving employment to millions of men, is eminently fitted to play the part of a balance wheel, especially if the Federal State and local governments, heeding the rational recommendations of the late commission on unemployment, definitely adopt a policy of avoiding unnecessary competition with private enterprise and execute their own construction programmes during periods of recession and slackness.

Death of Little Girl.

Little Mariette Boulais, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boulais, of Iberville, a former C.P.R. despatcher of Farnham, was taken very ill on Tuesday, August 9, while at the home of Mr. A. Bourque, after having eaten a considerable amount of chocolate. Her condition became serious when meningitis developed, and the little one passed away Thursday noon. A sad feature of the case was that the mother, Mrs. Boulais, was critically ill at her home in Iberville. The remains were removed to Iberville for the funeral service on Saturday and the interment was at L'Ange Guardian. Much sympathy is felt for the parents in the loss of their child.

Mayor Demers Ill.

The many friends of Dr. O. Demers, mayor of Farnham, will regret to hear that he is confined to his home. Later the needle was removed by Dr. Albert Demers, surgeon, of Montreal. The doctor's friends wish him a speedy recovery.

GIFT FOXES START GIRL ON THRIVING BREEDING BUSINESS

(By Marian Hale)

NEW YORK, August 30.—Feed your fox—don't wear it. That is what Marjory Walton did, and it started her in one of the most thriving businesses in Canada.

When two pet silver foxes were presented to her, she did not convert them into neckpieces even as you or I might have done, but she began breeding foxes and started the Oakville silver black fox ranch in Ontario, which is now paying splendid dividends.

"The first year I raised five pups," she explained. "This encouraged my brother to go into the venture with me and we have succeeded beyond our most sanguine expectations. I have insisted upon fewer really high grade animals rather than many of an inferior grade. What we started as a hobby has proved to be a good business proposition."

Miniature Exhibit Miss Walton is going to bring a miniature of her fox farm to New York this fall, when she will show her foxes at the Women's Activities exhibit, which is put on annually by the New York League of Business and Professional Women.

She will not only bring several of her prize animals, but will tell just how she goes about the job of raising them.

"First of all," she points out, "you must be fond of animals. The fox is one of the most intelligent of beasts. I really look upon my day's work as recreation, because the animals are so clever.

Feed Moderately "Then you must procure only the best stock available. You must feed them moderately and look out care-

And she is sure that "It's an ideal job for women, and many women in the United States very profitable if properly managed. Showing foxes at an exhibition will see the possibilities of this business," she maintains.

CAPTAIN BLOOD
By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini.
"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

In that at least he uttered no more than the bare truth, and expressed it very baldly. It was indeed as if a door had been suddenly flung open to the sunlight for escape from a dark prison in which a man had thought to spend his life.
He was in haste now to be alone, to straighten out his agitated mind and plan coherently what was to be done. Also he must consult another. Already he had hit upon that other. For such a voyage a navigator would be necessary, and a navigator was ready to his hand in Jeremy Pitt. The first thing was to take counsel with the young shipmaster, who must be associated with him in this business if it were to be undertaken. All that day his mind was in turmoil with this new hope, and he was sick with impatience for night and a chance to discuss the matter with his chosen partner. As a result Blood was betimes that evening in the spacious stockade that enclosed the huts of the slaves together with the big white house of the overseer, and he found an opportunity of a few words with Pitt, unobserved by the others.
"Tonight, when all are asleep, come to my cabin. I have something to say to you."

out in detail. Labouring with them in the plantations, Pitt would not want for opportunities of broaching the matter to his fellow-slaves.
"Caution above everything," was Blood's last recommendation to him at parting. "Who goes slowly, goes safely, as the Italians have it. And remember, that if you betray yourself, you ruin all, for you are the only navigator amongst us, and without you there is no escaping."
Pitt reassured him, and slunk off back to his own hut, and the straw that served him for a bed.
Coming next morning to the wharf, Blood found Dr. Whacker in a generous mood. Having slept on the matter, he was prepared to advance the convict any sum up to thirty pounds that would enable him to acquire a boat capable of taking him away from the settlement. Blood expressed his thanks becomingly, betraying no sign that he saw clearly into the true reason of the other's munificence.
"It's no money I'll require," said he, "but the boat itself. For who will be selling me a boat and incurring the penalties in Governor Steed's proclamation? Ye'll have read it, no doubt?"
Dr. Whacker's heavy face grew overcast. Thoughtfully he rubbed his chin. "I've read it—yes. And I dare not procure the boat for you. It would be discovered. It must be. And the penalty is a fine of two hundred pounds besides imprisonment. It would ruin me. You'll see that?"

The high hopes in Blood's soul began to shrink. And the shadow of his despair overcast his face.
"But then..." he faltered. "There is nothing to be done."
"Nay, my things are not so desperate," Dr. Whacker smiled a little with tight lips. "I've thought of it. You will see that the man who buys the boat must be one of those who goes with you—so that he is not here to answer questions afterwards."

END OF "FLAPPER CYCLE"

IMMODEST?

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S CAMPAIGN FOR DRESS REFORM INDICATES NEW TREND IN FEMININE AFFAIRS
By Hortense Saunders.

MODEST

Miss Elsie Gay demonstrates a dress called "improper" for church wear in the new movement.

NEW YORK, August 30.—The old-fashioned "Sunday-go-to-meatin'" will soon be with us again if the campaign started by the Catholic women of America proves successful. The first question to be taken up at the fourth annual Convention of Catholic Women at St. Louis in November will be the matter of decency in dress.
Even before Pope Pius recently manifested his disapproval of sleeveless gowns in church, Catholic women in this country had been working to restore the Sunday gown which now seems as antiquated as the corset and the bustle.
"The Catholic women of Italy are trying to fix upon a church costume with sleeves at least three inches below the elbow, a collar no more than three inches from the neck and skirts not more than seven inches from the ground," explained Mrs. Michael Gavin, president of the National Council of Catholic Women.

"We do not believe such extreme limitation would be popular or necessary here in America," she continued. "Dressing is a matter of personal taste so long as decency is observed, but some standard must be set. We have suitable costumes for all activities of women. We all recognize that golf costumes belong on the links and bathing suits on the beach. Evening gowns are all right for the ball room, but they are all out of place in church."
"Since we recognize that certain clothes are appropriate for certain places, why not have a modest, suitable costume for church attendance? It need not be costly or elaborate—just decent."

If the move for more modest dress for church gains ground, it is believed that the movement for modesty in dress will affect women's styles generally.
"Modesty pledges" are now being sent out to hundreds of thousands of Catholic women.

With such a situation looming, it appears that the Flapper Cycle has about run its course.
As it is now, girls wear their best bib-and-tucker every day. If they wear sleeveless, low-cut gowns when in quest of the weekly wage, it is but another step to appear in church in such raiment.

Mrs. Gavin says appropriateness is the first requisite of good taste in dress. Many girls do not realize they dress immodestly, she says. They are merely thoughtless.

"Our aim to promote modesty in dress was at first for appropriate church dress," she says. "Now it really has the deeper ideal of forming feminine taste and to make the woman worker more modest and inconspicuous as a means of protection against vulgar men."

The Catholic Women have not defined their own standards in dress as yet. Nor have they set any rule except that for observing modesty. In November they will get down to cases and say just what is decent and indecent in dress.

Then they will mobilize—700,000 strong—for decency.

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

There have been some lovely picture paintings come into the office and I was very glad to see that so many of the Corner children took part, even though there were no prizes offered. The best one was done by Oriana Davidson, from Lower Ireland. Ida Patton, from Sherbrooke, sent in a very good one and the picture of Marwina Solomon, of Kingsbury, was good.

I expect many of you were at the Fair in Sherbrooke this week. On Tuesday I saw so many children and I wondered if any of them belonged to our Corner. I think that we will have a badge so that we will know each other. What do you think about it?

In Arline's letter we find what a true farm is. The rest of you must write and tell me all about yourselves and where you live.

School is almost here, isn't it? I want to tell you how important it is to start and study at the beginning of the year, and not leave it until the last of the year. Many of the girls and boys in the colleges today say that they wish they had learned how to study and when to study when they were in the grades. So don't laugh when your mothers and fathers tell you it is now that you must study, because it is for your own sake and advice not to be scorned.

There is a funny little story in this week and I want you to write and tell me if you believe it or not. Good-bye Corner children till next week.

UNCLE JIM.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim:
How are you? I am pretty well. I have a puppy dog that likes to chase cats. He is in mischief all the time and his name is Buster. I have some fun with him.

We have twelve little pigs, about fifty little chickens, two horses, one calf and sixteen cows. Two of them will be nine years old Sunday. I am going to take my music today. I have three cats. I hope you keep well.

From your niece,
ARLINE BLUNT.

Dear Uncle Jim:
I received the book that you sent me and was very pleased with it. I wish to thank you very much for it. It will soon be school again; I will be glad, because I like to go to school. I will be in grade seven this year. I will close now.

Your niece,
KATHLEEN COWLING.

JEANNETTE'S FISH

By Henry B. Mason.
Once Jeannette caught a fish from the end of the pier. She caught him with a pin hook when he was only two inches long. At first she kept him in a glass bowl and there was room enough for him to swim around. She changed the water in the bowl twice a day to keep it fresh. When he began to grow, she scooped out a hole for him near the pump and kept it filled with water. He soon outgrew this pond.

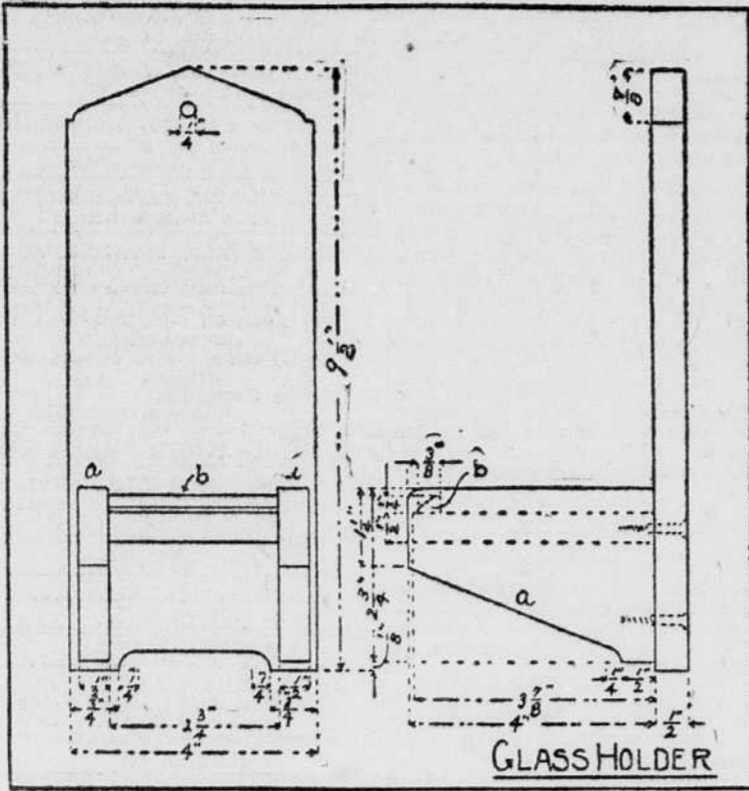

Then Jeannette and her elder sister, Barbara, carried the fish in a net from the little pond to the big bay. The net belonged to their father. The fish was almost too heavy for the girls to lift, but they managed to do it. Jeannette tied the fish to the end of the pier with a thirty-foot string, so that he could swim about some, but couldn't get away. Her father gave her the string. It was really an old fish line, light but strong.

Jeannette fed the fish with scraps from the table. When she bought candy at the Anderson store, she would give the fish a treat, gum drops or marshmallows. One time she gave him chewing gum but he couldn't manage it very well. It stuck to his mouth and patted his lips together, so that she had to pry them open with a spoon when she came to feed him his next regular meal.

Jeannette scratched the fish's back for him sometimes. She kept a finetooth comb for that purpose, between two boards in the pier. How he did enjoy being combed! He would lie in the water by the side of the pier, so it was convenient for her to reach down to him. When the comb passed along his back and sides, he would wave his fins, close his eyes and finally fall

THE HANDY BOY AT HOME

By Charles A. King, State Normal School, Plymouth, N. H.

The finished project described here will be a useful addition to a bath room, or wherever it may be desirable that a drinking glass should be placed. It should be made of some close-grained wood, red gum or white wood, for example.

The back, $\frac{1}{2}$ in. x 4 in. x 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ in., may be embellished by making a design at the top and bottom, similar to that indicated, or may be left square. The same is true of the two brackets at a, which are $\frac{1}{2}$ in. x 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. x 4 in. long. The shelf, $\frac{1}{2}$ in. x 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. x 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. long, and the brackets should be fastened together by 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. No. 17 brads; they should then be fitted to the back as one piece and fastened permanently with 1 in. No. 5 or 6 screws, for which suitable holes should be bored. Care must be used that these pieces are square with each other and all in correct relation with the edges and bottom of the back. Make lip piece b $\frac{1}{4}$ x $\frac{3}{4}$ in., and exactly the same length as the shelf. Stain, shellac, wax or enamel with white enamel varnish as desired.

Jeannette was certainly kind to that fish. He loved her for her goodness to him. When he was away from the pier as far as his string would let him, she had only to step to the pier and whistle and he would rush towards her like an affectionate dog. After a while he learned to wag his tail whenever he saw her. I don't think that fishes usually wag their tails but probably this fish learned to do so from seeing Jeannette's dog Patsy wag his tail. Animals learn a great deal from each other.

Patsy and the fish became great friends. Patsy often went in swimming with the fish. The fish taught Patsy a new swimming stroke. Patsy practiced it until he could swim almost as fast as the fish, twice as fast as dogs usually swim. In giving swimming lessons, the fish would move his fins in a certain way and Patsy would watch it and move his paws as near that way as he could. It was quite comical to watch the fish giving lessons to Patsy and Patsy trying hard to learn. Patsy was a very good little pupil.

Whenever Jeannette's father took her and Patsy out in his row-boat, she would tie her fish to the stern of the boat and he would follow like a horse tied to a wagon. The fish enjoyed those little excursions very much. It gave him more variety than to be fastened to the pier all day.

One time, Jeannette's father became tired of rowing because he had had a long pull and the waves ran high. Then what did that smart fish do but begin to pull the boat himself, while the father rested. The fish dragged the boat, with Jeannette and her father and Patsy in it, safe back to the pier.

The fish learned to do errands for Jeannette's mother. Her mother would make out a list of things she wanted from the Anderson store. She would put that list in a water-tight tin pail, screw the cover on and give the pail to the fish. He would swim to the beach nearest to the store. Adolph Anderson's dog Major would wade out to the fish, take the pail and carry it to the store. Miss Lizzie Anderson would read the list and pack the things in the pail, whatever Jeannette's mother wanted, eggs, butter, sewing silk or anything. Miss Lizzie was careful to screw the cover on tight so the fish would bring back the pail to the fish, who was waiting for it. The fish would swim to the pier in front of Jeannette's house, proud and happy to make himself useful. Patsy would trot from the pier to the house, carrying the pail, which the fish had brought to him. It was really wonderful to see that fish doing errands. He did it cheerfully too and was glad to go any time.

Jeannette let her fish give a little party one afternoon. He invited three rock bass from Strawberry Island and a Lake Superior sturgeon, who was visiting the bass. The refreshments were cream-of-corn soup, followed by lumps of sugar for dessert. Jeannette ladled the soup tureen and poured it into the fishes' open mouths. She threw the lumps of sugar to them. They smacked their lips over the feast. The three rock bass and the sturgeon will never forget that party. The sturgeon told his relatives all about it when he swam back to Lake Superior. Fishes have a way of talking to each other. I know a few words of the fish language but not many. My own tame fish taught me. It is difficult to learn.

I rode my own tame fish to Jeannette's pier one day and let him rub noses with Jeannette's fish. They already knew each other and were very good friends. Jeannette asked me to train her fish, so I shifted the saddle and bridle from my fish to her fish. Her fish learned right away. He didn't mind carrying me on his back one bit. He neither reared nor plunged nor balked but went along like a well-trained horse.

Jeannette clapped her hands at the sight and begged her mother's permission to ride the fish. Her mother was doubtful at first but when she saw how perfectly kind and gentle the fish was, she allowed Jeannette to take a fish-back ride. I made a nice saddle and bridle for Jeannette's fish out of pieces of an old leather traveling bag.

Then we planned a picnic. Jeannette's mother said that we might go. The cook put up roast-beef sandwiches, hard boiled eggs, pickles, cheese, doughnuts, and apples for us in the water-tight tin pail. Part of the way our fishes took turns, carrying the pail in their mouths, by its handle. The rest of the time Jeannette or I held the pail in our hands. Of course, we wore our bathing suits.

Our two fishes landed us at Strawberry Island. The three rock bass swam out to meet us and the sturgeon had gone home to Lake Superior. We were glad to see the bass but sorry to miss the sturgeon. That sturgeon is a very pleasant young fellow and large for his age too; he isn't more than two years old. Crown sturgeon sometimes weigh over forty pounds apiece. I would judge that his sturgeon weighs twenty pounds, and he is still growing.

We ate our luncheon on the beach. You may be sure that we gave the fishes some of the luncheon. They were waiting for it at the shore. For fear that Jeannette's mother might feel a little anxious about Jeannette's first fish-back ride, we didn't stay more than three hours on the island and rode back at full speed, so that we were only an hour late to dinner at Jeannette's house. That didn't matter much, because the cook kept dinner hot for us. We had a good appetite for dinner—beefsteak and apple pie. Jeannette's mother did tell her that she must wear her wrist-watch next time, so as not to keep dinner waiting again, because it made extra work for the cook. Jeannette said that she would carry the watch and be prompt to meals. So everything was perfectly pleasant.

Jeannette and I took many fish-back rides that summer. She became one of the best fish-back riders I ever saw.

BAKERS

SHERBROOKE BAKERS LTD., E. O.

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

Few changes in prices over last week and fairly good business were noted at Lansdowne Market yesterday.

The dairy market recorded no changes in price whatever, butter being still sold at thirty-eight and forty cents, eggs at the same price per dozen and cheese at twenty-five to forty cents.

A small increase in the price of pork and bacon was the only change in meat prices. Bacon of the best quality advanced five cents and pork three cents per pound.

More changes were recorded in the fruit market than the other departments. Apples fell between ten and thirty cents per peck, while oranges and bananas showed an increase.

Blueberries were getting twenty cents, compared to twenty-five for the best berries last week. Grapes and cantaloupe were down five cents each.

THE DAIRY MARKET Butter, best creamery, 40c; Butter, best dairy, 38c; Cheese, per lb., 25c to 35c; Kraft Cheese, 40c.

HAY MARKET

Montreal, Aug. 30th. HAY.—A fair trade continues for old crop baled hay. Offerings are not large and the tone of the market is in consequence firm with prices unchanged with sales of car lots of No. 2 Timothy at $16.50 to $17 per ton, and No. 3 Timothy at $15.50 to $16 per ton, f.o.b. cars here.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

EGGS.—Advices from producing centres state that there has been some increase in receipts of eggs during the past few days and the quality also shows improvement.

Since the advance of last week prices have ruled firm locally for all grades with a moderate amount of business passing in a wholesale jobbing way there being a steady demand from local buyers for small lots to meet actual requirements, and sales of fresh extras are being made at 42c, firsts at 36c, and seconds at 30c per dozen.

POULTRY.—Quotations supplied by Gunn, Langlois & Co., locally: Broilers, live, 20c to 22c; dressed, 25c to 36c; spring ducks, live, 17c to 20c; dressed, 20c to 24c; fowl, live, 14c to 22c; dressed, 17c to 25c per lb.

HONEY.—The season of new crop honey has opened and some small lots have been received here, for which the demand was steady and a moderate amount of business was done, with sales of No. 1 white in comb at 24c to 25c per section, and No. 2 grade at 20c per section, while white extract in 30 lb. tins sold at 13c per lb., 10 lb. tins at 13c per lb., 5 lb. tins at 13-1/2c per lb., and 2-1/2 lb. tins at 14c per lb.

DAIRY PRODUCE

BUTTER.—Prices of butter have been shaded in the past few days owing to the absence of any important foreign demand for supplies and the continued liberal receipts. There is very little movement in any direction and the volume of new business is small indicating that local buyers are not disposed to operate to any extent at the present level of prices.

The market is accordingly quiet with round lots No. 1 pasteurized creamery quoted at 36c to 36-1/4c per lb., and No. 2 creamery at 34c to 34-1/4c per lb. In the wholesale jobbing trade an unsettled feeling has developed and it is reported that prices to the grocers and other buyers are being cut 1-2c to 1c per lb., with sales of finest creamery at 37c to 37-1/2c per lb. in 1 lb. blocks,

THE VEGETABLE MARKET

Beets, per bunch, 5c; Butter Beans, per lb., 10c, 3 for 25c; Cucumbers, apiece, 5c; Celery, 10c, 3 for 25c; Cabbages, each, 5c to 10c; Carrots, per bunch, 5c; Cauliflower, 10c to 25c; Corn, per dozen, 30c to 35c; Green onions, per bunch, 5c; Lettuce, per head, 5c to 10c; New Potatoes, per peck, 20c; New Beets, per bunch, 5c; Onions, per lb., 5c; Radishes, per bushel, 5c; Tomatoes, 3 lbs. for, 25c.

THE FRUIT MARKET

Apples, per peck, 50c to 90c; Bananas, per dozen, 35c to 40c; Blueberries, per quart, 20c; Cherries, per quart, 20c; Cantaloupe, each, 25c; Grapes, per lb., 25c; Lemons, per dozen, 40c; Oranges, per dozen, 25c to 30c; Peaches, per dozen, 30c to 40c; Pears, per dozen, 15c to 20c; Rhubarb, per bunch, 5c.

PROVISION MARKET

Beef roast, per lb., 8c to 20c; Boiling meat, per lb., 8c to 12c; Bacon, per lb., 25c to 30c; Chickens, 40c; Liver, per lb., 8c to 10c; Lamb, per carcass, 20c; Lamb, per leg, 35c; Poultry, fowls, 30c; Pigs' feet, per lb., 8c; Pork, per carcass, 11-1/2c to 12c; Pork sausage, per lb., 20c; Pork, per lb., 15c to 25c; Steak, sirloin, per lb., 25c; Sausage, blood, per lb., 20c; Veal, per carcass, 10c; Veal, per roast, 15c to 25c.

CHEESE

Prices for western goods have been shaded during the past week and export business is reported very slow although there was some improvement on Wednesday resulting in some business being done on spot in No. 1 white and colored at 17-1/4c per lb., but the market for western goods was reported quiet and prices were quoted unchanged for No. 1 white and colored at 17-1/2c to 17-3/4c per lb.

GRAIN MARKET

Montreal, Aug. 30th. GRAIN.—Following continued declines in sympathy with the Winnipeg wheat market during the past seven days when a low of $1.33 3/4 per bushel for No. 1 Northern was touched, strength developed in the local market Wednesday and prices advanced 1-1/4c to 1-3/4c per bushel closing $1.35 for No. 1 Northern; $1.30 for No. 2; and $1.27 for No. 3 Northern, per bushel, ex-store, Fort William. Even with this advance prices are about five cents per bushel below the prices prevailing Thursday of last week.

Broomhall cabled that there has been a rather brisk business passing in wheat in the United Kingdom, with substantial sales of American hard winter grades and a fair business in Manitoba. In addition, there have been some sales of Australian shorts, and the demand on the whole shows a marked improvement. The amount of wheat afloat now to the United Kingdom and the Continent is 34,250,000 bushels, as compared with 37,500,000 bushels last week and 43,500,000 at this date last month.

The export trade in Canadian grain here is reported quieter, there being less demand from foreign buyers for supplies; but notwithstanding this fact, there was a good demand from United States and Canadian exporters for all lines of grain at and east of the Bay ports, which resulted in sales of some round lots of No. 3 northern wheat 11-1/2c per bushel over the Winnipeg October option, c.i.f., and American No. 2 hard winter wheat at 10-1/2c per bushel over the Chicago September option, f.o.b. here, for first half September shipment, while round lots of No. 3 Canadian western oats were sold by resellers at 5c per bushel over the Winnipeg option, c.i.f., here. At the close of the market Wednesday, Winnipeg, houses were asking 20c per bushel over the October option for No. 1 northern, 14c per bushel over for No. 2 northern, c.i.f., here, and 12-3/4c per bushel over for No. 3 northern, f.o.b. here, for shipment Fort William.

In consequence of weakness in the Chicago and Winnipeg grain pits there has been a decidedly easier feeling in the cash oats market here and prices have been reduced by as much as 3-1/2c per bushel in the past seven days. On Wednesday there was a better feeling and an advance of 2c per bushel on the low of the week with No. 2 Canadian western quoted at 62c to 63c, No. 3 C.W. at 60-1/2c to 61c, No. 1 feed at 60c, and No. 2 feed at 59c per bushel, ex-store.

Hostesses at the Country Club tea on Friday were Miss Stevens, Miss E. L. Stevens, Miss G. Dupuis and Miss M. Christie. Mrs. I. Nelson and Miss Nelson have been visiting relatives in West Shefford.

What have you been doing in the country? "Oh, just lying around and fishing." "You mean fishing and lying around."

WEATHER QUITE FAVORABLE FOR U. S. AVIATORS

Nothing Has Been Heard from Lieut. Smith as to Any Further Postponement of Flight.

(Associated Press Despatch) On Board the S.S. Richmond at Ictecle, Labrador, Aug. 30.—So far as weather conditions were concerned last night, the prospects of Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. Erik Nelson having a clear pathway across the North Atlantic Ocean from Greenland to Labrador, if they decided to hop off this morning, appeared good. Captain H. H. Thiesfeldt, the meteorological officer stationed here to watch weather conditions, said that if the round-the-world fliers decided to take off this morning they would be received in Indian Harbor in fair weather.

Nothing was heard from Lieut. Smith last night as to any further postponement in the flight.

SAVED FUEL SUPPLIES. (Associated Press Despatch) On Board the U.S.S. Richmond at Ictecle, Labrador, Aug. 30.—The work of former Lieut. George Neville, United States air reserve, in charge of fuels and supplies at Indian Harbor, and Seaman Joseph Bowl and Wm. Cahill, of the destroyer Lawrence, in rescuing eighteen drums of fuel after battling in icy water to their necks during the sixty mile gale on Wednesday night, has saved the flight of the United States army world fliers from indefinite postponement.

The story was related yesterday by Lieut. Neville on coming aboard the Richmond after seventy-four hours of duty ashore. Neville's camp was inundated during the storm and the drums weighing 450 pounds each, and which were afloat near shore, broke loose and began pounding on the rocks. The men tired to recapture the drums but their boat capsized in the freezing water. They battled with the elements from seven in the evening until midnight, and finally lashed the drums together and dragged them to the beach. The men remained awake during the rest of the night soaked to the skin, but at dawn they removed their clothing and refreshed each other by means of alcoholic rations.

The trio are none the worse for their experience. Their plight was discovered yesterday by the cruiser Richmond, which sent food, dry clothing and a dry tent to their post, after their seventy-two hours of misery. Had the drums of fuel not been recaptured the fliers on their arrival here would have been without supplies, the nearest fuel being at Hawkes Bay, Nfld.

The men assert that they are the victims of a breach of faith and that the postal strike in Toronto was ended because of a verbal promise by Hon. SHERBROOKE WON OUT IN NINTH FRAME

Another Exciting Game Furnished Last Evening—Four Straight Wins for Local Team.

(By Gordon Miller) Real baseball has been furnished the fans during the past week. In fact, the games have been of a calibre that should appease even the most critical.

Exciting Ninth Inning. Two runs at that stage of the game looked real big. Looked big enough, in fact, to clinch the verdict.

Unexpected Happened. After each team had registered a counter in the second inning, the two teams fought it out in battle royal style for the advantage during the next five frames without any noticeable results.

Gillespie Was Hero. Gillespie, the first man up in Sherbrooke's half of the ninth, deflected the fans with a clout to left field that looked good for a home run.

There were several bright spots in the fielding of the two teams. "Tug" Bridgeford earned the crowd's applause when in the fifth inning he raced in to make a shoe-string catch on Dean's liner.

Both teams tallied a run in the second chucker. Hastings, the first man up for the visitors, smashed out a two-bagger to left, and went to third when Doherty followed with an infield hit. Doherty stole second, but Dean hoisted a high one that Landry smothered.

Sherbrooke's counter was made single handed by Bridgeford. "Tug", connected for one he fancied and sent it sailing into centre field.

It was a nip and tuck affair for the next five innings, with the score board boy handing nothing but goose eggs. But in the eighth stanza Sherbrooke forged ahead.

Kennedy, the first batter up, was retired on a high fly to Gillespie, but Simonds worked Masterson for free transportation and Whetton followed with a single to centre.

On the throw to the plate to attempt to head off Whetton, Hastings went to third, and things looked none too bright for the locals.

Today the Harris outfit, with a game and a half lead over the Yankees, rides atop the league. Johnson has been pitching eighteen years, and never, until the present campaign, with the slightest hope of attaining the goal of all major league players—a championship.

Washington won the second game of the series here yesterday by 5 to 1, mainly through the pitching efforts of the mighty Johnson, who held the Yankees scoreless until a hot smash from Wally Schang's bat landed on his pitching hand and forced him to retire from the game.

Pittsburgh took a close game from the Reds by 5 to 4. St. Louis licked the Cubs in a free hitting game in the Windy City by 12 to 5.

The Braves landed hard on the offerings of Oeschger and Couch, of the Fletcher crew, winning a nine inning game by 6 to 4.

Helpless in a derelict ship, the nine rode out of the fury of the storm. When it abated Captain Hall ordered a spar fastened to the stump of the mainmast and from it flew the flag, upside down.
