A RUSSIAN FORCE FELL INTO AMBUSH

Artillery Concealed in Ravine Near Kai Chou Played Great Havoc.

RUSSIANS LOST 1200 MEN

General Oku Will Attempt to Join General Kuroki—Admiral Skrydloff Describes Movements of Vladivostok Fleet.

London, June 22.—A despatch to the Daily Mail under date of June 21 from New Chwang, says: While a Russian force of 8,000, under General Kondratsvitch, was traversing Wafungko ravine, nine miles southeast of Kai Chou, June 19, it was surprised by concealed Japanese artillery.

The Russians lost heavily, their casualties being 1,200 in number.

General Kondratsvitch extricated his men and led them in good order to an entrenched position.

Oku Will Join Kuroki.

Liao Yang, June 21.—It is rumored that General Oku is following up his intention to join General Kuroki, who has moved out to meet him. Cossacks are watching the enemy's movements.

Russian Destroyers Reported Lost.

Tokio, June 22.—The Japanese captured a junk, leaving Port Arthur yesterday, June 21, and the Chinamen on board say that a few days ago two Russian torpedo boat destroyers and the steamer Shui Taiping, struck mines at the entrance to the harbor and sank. One hundred and forty lives were lost, according to their account.

Recovered From the Variag.

London, June 22.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that thirty-one guns, three torpedos and a large quantity of ammunition have been recovered from the Russian cruiser Variag, which was sunk by the Japanese at Chemulpo at the beginning of hostilities.

How Tranports Were Sunk.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following despatch from Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, dated June 21.—"On June 12 our squadron, consisting of the cruiser Rossia, flying the flag of Vice-Admiral Rozhestvenski, and the cruisers Gromoboi and Rurik left to assume the offensive against the maritime communications of the Japanese army. The squadron returned to port on June 20.

"Its commander reports that on the morning of June 15 the squadron advanced from the north towards the Strait of Shimonoseki. When within twenty miles of the straits our ships perceived on the horizon two steamers, which they chased, but could not overhaul owing to the great distance. At the same time a third seen by the cruisers, which the Gromoboi was ordered to capture, proved to be the Izumi. In spite of repeated orders to stop she refused to do so until she had been struck by several shells. She then stopped and men began to jump overboard.

"The Gromoboi then signalled for those on board to quit the ship, which was done the crew leaving in two boats. These, together with those who had jumped overboard and who were picked up by boats from the cruisers, were received on board the Gromoboi. The Izumi, which was of 3,000 tons, was then sunk by our guns.

Fifteen Officers Taken.

"Among the 105 taken on board the Gromoboi were fifteen officers. After the sinking of the transport two more steamers were sighted by the Gromoboi and they were chased. They proved to be the transports Sado and Hitachi, each of 8,000 tons. In the former, in addition to military stores, were men of the telegraph corps and twelve officers, and also pontoons. On the Hitachi were 1,000 troops, beside military stores. The Rossia was ordered to capture the Sado and the Gromoboi the Hitachi, which tried to escape.

"After several shots had been fired warning the Hitachi to stop, without effect, our guns opened fire, and she stopped. Those on board, however, paid no attention to the signal to abandon the ship, and after two more shots had been fired they commenced to lower boats. The transport settled down very slowly, and consequently the Gromoboi was ordered to expedite the sinking of her, which was soon accomplished.

"The Sado stopped after several shots had been fired across her bows, and in accordance with our signals her boats, which were fairly numerous, were precipitately lowered, and several captured. The other boats, crowded with men, headed toward Teu and Iki Islands, which were visible in the distance. The weather was calm and the sea perfectly quiet.

"The Aurik was ordered to pick up the officers, soldiers and crew, but it was only possible to capture four foreigners engaged on the transport and twenty-five officers. The troops did not leave the transport and the Rurik has been ordered to torpedo and sink her. The transport not sinking at the first torpedo, another was fired, which sank her.

Englishmen Were on Sado.

Vladivostok, June 21.—The report that foreign attaches were on board the Japanese transports which were sunk by the Vladivostok squadron in the Straits of Corea is untrue. Three Englishmen, L. Anderson, J. D. Ring and W. Kerr, officers of the transport Sado, were brought here. They say that other Japanese transports are in many cases officered by Englishmen. The Sado lost $1,000,000 in English gold.

Suspension of Correspondents.

Mukden, June 21.—Major-Gen. Pflug, chief of the military staff of Viceroy Alexieff, announces that on July 20 he will suspend the foreign correspondents whose papers have failed to send the viceroy two copies of each issue containing their contributions. The suspension will continue until the copies are received.

Newspaper Correspondents Dissatisfied.

Seoul, June 22.—There has been much dissatisfaction among newspaper correspondents over their status with the Japanese army, resulting in several protests to the staff. Finally a written statement of their grievances was presented by the entire body of correspondents here.

The statement complains of the censorship of telegrams at Seoul and at Nagasakf, which the headquarters censor had already approved. It also complains of the strict enforcement of the rules framed by the general staff at Tokio, which prevents correspondents in the field from sending details of what Tokio correspondents are often permitted to describe. The statement further requests that some freedom be granted correspondents in the matter of moving about and observing the army and its operations. The policy of the staff has been to suppress all information regarding the numbers and organization which could give the enemy a clue to he size or character of the army opsing them.

..T WILL NOT ALLOW RE-INSPECTION OF GRAIN

Special Committee on Grain Inspection Act Will Probably Reach Deadlock.

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.)—There was a meeting to-day of the special committee appointed to enquire into the Grain Inspection bill. It was decided to proceed with the non-contentious clauses first and afterwards to take up the others. The real point of difference between members of the committee is as to whether grain once inspected shall be liable to be reinspected at the seaboard.

Dr. Douglas said that there would be a rebellion in the West if it were attempted to reinspect grain at the seaboard.

Mr. Walter Scott said that the opinion of the West was fixed upon that point. There should be no reinspection in the East.

Mr. Bickerdike, who voices the views of the Montreal Board of Trade and other boards in the East, held that shippers should have reinspection if they so desired it.

LIST OF DEAD GROWING.

Number of Victims of Slocum Disaster Has Reached 846.

New York, June 22.—The list of known dead in the General Slocum disaster which had reached 846 up to 2 o'clock, has steadily increased since that hour. Before daylight twelve more bodies had been taken from the river, and nearly every succeeding hour added to the total.

LORD DUNDONALD'S NAME IS BLAIR

Family Name Changed to Cochrane—Roberts Will Visit Canada.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 22.—A somewhat curious circumstance in connection with Lord Dundonald, says the St. James Gazette is that, while the family name is nominally Cochrane, it is really Blair. The old Renfrewshire Cochranes ended with an heiress, Elizabeth, in the seventeenth century. She married a younger son of an equally old family, Blair of Blair, and he took her name and arms.

BOBS WILL VISIT CANADA.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 22.—Lord Roberts, writing to the Canadian Associated Press says that when his promised visit to the United States takes place he will also look forward to a visit to Canada. At present no date has been decided upon for his visit to the United States and it will not take place at present.

FAVORS ABOLITION OF G. O. C.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 22.—The new Minister of Defence for the Commonwealth favors the abolition of the General Officer Commanding, the post held by General Hutton and the appointment of an Australian officer under the title of Inspector-General.

DISAPPOINTED EMIGRANTS.

London, June 22.—Truth has received a letter from Montreal, drawing attention to a case narrated by the Montreal Star of a man who had come from England with his wife and child to find it impossible to get employment. Truth's correspondent asserts that the case is typical. Disappointment has befallen hundreds of emigrants.

C.P.R. GIVES $5,000 FOR SANITARIUM

Munificent Aid to Projected Consumptives' Hospital in British Columbia.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company recently gave a cheque for $5,000 towards the establishment of a sanitarium in British Columbia for the cure of consumption. This sanitarium is to be erected in the district known as the "dry belt" and of which Kamloops is the centre.

This fact came out in the course of conversation with Dr. A. P. Proctor, the C.P.R. physician at Kamloops, who arrived in town this morning in company with Hon. F. J. Fulton, the provincial secretary of British Columbia. These two gentlemen sail for Europe on the C.P.R. steamer Lake Erie to-morrow.

Dr. Proctor stated that he had travelled all over Canada, but nowhere could the climate begin to compare with that of Kamloops. There the air is exceedingly dry, the rainfall being very low, not more than ten inches having fallen during the whole of last year, while on the Pacific coast, about two hundred miles away, the rainfall averaged between fifty and sixty inches.

"The dry belt is an excellent place for people troubled with all manner of pulmonary complaints," said the doctor, "and patients are beginning to flock there from all over Canada, as well as the United States. What we need mostly, however, is a thoroughly equipped sanitarium, such as may be found in Germany, where consumptives can be taken care of in a proper manner and their every need attended to. With this end in view, we petitioned the B.C. Government for help, and we are hoping that they will do their share in contributing to what is now a crying need. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy recently sent us a cheque for $5,000 in the name of the C.P.R., and we have also a number of private contributions. We would like, however, to have $100,000 in view before we begin active work."

Dr. Procter is highly enthusiastic over the proposed sanitarium. Lack of funds is the main obstacle at present, but he is confident that, once the people of Canada awake to the necessity of erecting a thoroughly equipped institution for the cure of those suffering from the "white plague" in a district which seems to have been designed especially for that purpose they will subscribe generously to this most noble cause.

THE MAN WITH THE HOE.

The Employment for Which Conservatives Consider General Lord Dundonald Peculiarly Fitted at this Stage of His Career.

WILL ADHERE TO PRESENT POLICY

National Republican Sub-Committee Declares in Favor of Protection.

Chicago, June 22.—Senator Fairbanks will be nominated for Vice-President unanimously by the Republican national convention. The Illinois delegates met to-day and decided to withdraw the name of Representative Robert R. Hitt. The names of the other candidates will also be withdrawn. Senator Dolliver will present the name of Senator Fairbanks to the convention.

With the platform completed and in the hands of the full committee, every element of speculation seems removed from the remaining sessions of the convention.

Chicago, June 22.—The tariff plank agreed upon by the sub-committee of the Republican National Resolutions Committee declares for the "cardinal principles of protection," and further that the "rate of duty should be the difference between the cost of production in the United States and abroad. The rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interests demands it. All such changes should be made by the Republican party."

A long paragraph was adopted in relation to reciprocity after a very exciting and protracted contest by a bare majority. Several votes were taken on this subject and it was reconsidered two or three times before being finally agreed to. It is a declaration for "commercial reciprocity which is possible only under a protective tariff and wherever reciprocity arrangements can be perfected without injury to any industry."

The opposition to the reciprocity plank was led by Mr. Blythe of Iowa. Representatives Dalzell and Senator Hansbrough, while Senators Lodge and Senator Foraker persisted in an effort to secure the declaration. It was urged that reciprocity had been endorsed by previous platforms and more particularly in the last speech of President McKinley, at Buffalo and had been followed by the present administration in carrying out the policies of the McKinley administration. More time was spent on this subject than all the remainder of the platform, and the opponents only consented to agree when it appeared that the fight might be taken into the committee on resolutions and possibly before the convention. As the matter stands now the sub-committee will report unanimously and it is expected its action will be ratified by the committee to-day.

A plank was adopted urging the acceptance by all foreign countries of passports issued to Jewish citizens of the United States.

A plank was adopted, calling upon Congress to investigate whether the right of franchise is being violated and if so that states violating Section 14, shall be limited in their congressional and electoral college representation.

HON. G. W. STEPHENS IS LAID TO REST

Very Large Attendance of Prominent Citizens at Funeral Service.

One of the largest funerals seen in Montreal for many years was that of the late Hon. George Washington Stephens, which was held this afternoon from his late home on Dorchester Street.

The news of Mr. Stephen's death came as a distinct shock. He filled a large place in the community, and filled it well. In life he was respected and beloved by all who knew him. In death he was generally honored by sorrowing citizens.

The obsequies were of a particularly simple nature, as Mr. Stephens disapproved of anything savoring of ostentation. At the house Rev. W. S. Barnes conducted the burial service of the Unitarian Church, after which the funeral procession formed for the journey to the grave in Mount Royal Cemetery. Arrived at the cemetery the body was placed in the crematorium.

The chief mourners were Major G. W. Stephens and F. C. Stephens, sons; S. Sheldon Stephens, brother; A. Hamilton Gault, son-in-law; Robert Reid, brother-in-law, and Lawrence Stephens, nephew.

The body was brought home yesterday from Lac Auclair and encased in a handsome casket, was laid in state in one of the drawing rooms of the family residence. It was literally covered with beautiful floral tributes sent by sympathetic friends.

Amongst those in the funeral cortege were: Mayor Laporte, Ald. Ames, Chas. H. Stephens, Wm. Robb, Dr. R. Stanley Weir, W. M. Ramsay, Leslie H. Gault, Jas. McShane, Charles Alexander, Col. SEQUEL TO THE FLOODS.

Mr. W. L. Bond, on behalf of the corporation of Verdun has commenced suit against the City of Montreal for heavy damages in connection with the recent floods. The town claims that its sidewalks and roads were badly damaged by the influx of the St. Lawrence and that the water would have been kept out had the dykes been in proper shape.

A number of private actions for damages against the city for the same cause are also under way.

TERCENTENARY ROYALLY OBSERVED IN ANNAPOLIS

Historic Town is En Fete—Notable Addresses Delivered by Distinguished Guests—Corner Stone of De Monts Statue Laid.

Annapolis Royal, N.S., June 22.—(Special.)—This old historic town presents a martial appearance. Seventy years ago it was a garrison town, when redcoats and bluejackets swarmed the streets. Since then the man with the plough has held full sway until this week, when the French, British and United States ships sent their marines and bluejackets on shore, and the local militia corps and bands brought back the old spirit, and now we are dwelling in the past, for we are celebrating the tercentenary of the town, on the old garrison grounds, and thousands have come in from the surrounding country to see the show and hear the speeches.

The proceedings opened at one o'clock yesterday by an address by Hon. J. Wilberforce Longley president of the Historical Society. He said: "It gives me great satisfaction, as the president of Nova Scotia Historical Society, on behalf of that body to extend to the distinguished gentlemen who have assembled here to take part in this great celebration, a warm and cordial welcome. That so many from distant portions of the Continent have responded to the call has been a matter of the greatest pleasure and that the Governments of two great republics of the world France and the United States, have sent special representatives, gives a tone and character to the event which would otherwise be wanting. In addition to the honor of presiding over the Historical Society, it happens accidentally that I was born in this section, and that for twenty-two years I have represented the county of Annapolis, of which Annapolis Royal is the capital, in the Legislature.

A Great Historic Event.

"All of us, I think, to-day, may feel that we stand upon historic ground, and recognize the propriety of duly celebrating such a great historic event. The continent of North America was not a factor in the world's affairs three centuries ago. It has now grown so greatly in population and import ance, in civilization and in political power, that it becomes a matter of no common interest to trace back the beginnings of its life and history. The first landing of Europeans, for the purpose of settlement, occurred a year earlier and farther south. The second and the first in the Dominion of Canada was at Port Royal in June, 1604, and it is to mark the tercentenary of that event that we are gathered together to-day."

Hon. Mr. Turgeon.

Hon. A. Turgeon's address was on the future of the Canadian Dominion. He spoke both French and English, concluding as follows:—"Something has grown upon me and it magnifies every day. A sentiment of patriotism, the conviction that our country is incomparable, that the sun shines nowhere on a more beautiful, healthy and fertile country than ours, while we have not the dense population which will later on fully develop the possibilities of our lands, while we have not the artistic attainments which is the privilege of an ancient civilization, we have a fertile soil, a healthful climate, rivers and lakes unparalleled, unbounded natural resources; we have free institutions, thoroughly free, and I say this purposely, for many countries of old Europe know nothing of liberty but the name; we have liberty of conscience, we are free from international disorders, we have space unlimited, the forces of expansion of young nations, we have the future, and a great future, if we are only true to ourselves and don't disseminate our energy on petty and mean questions of interest. Our future, we can face it without terror, nay, with the utmost confidence, if we pursue a true policy, a broad and generous policy, which will give us a glorious to-morrow."

The Evening Meeting.

Addresses were also given by Lieut.-Governor Jones, Mr. Kleczkowski consul general of France, Mayor King of Annapolis, Archbishop O'Brien and others.

Last night Annapolis Royal Streets were thronged by crowds of citizens, mingling with whom, in large numbers are blue-coated man-o-wars men of three nationalities and the red coated men of the Canadian militia. At the academy a public meeting was held, addressed by Charles Francis Adams, of Boston; Professor Thwaites, of Wisconsin, Rev. Dr. Forrest, of Halifax, President Hannah, of King's College; Professor Kerstead, of Acadia College and John A. Cooper, of Toronto.

Corner Stone Laid To-day.

This morning Lieut.-Governor Jones, assisted by representatives of France, United States and the Dominion Governments, laid the corner stone of the Demont's statue, which is being erected by the Dominion Government. Speeches were delivered by Sir A. P. Douglas, Sir Charles Parsons, J. B. Wade, M.P., Mr. Samuel V. Hoffman, Prof. Clarke of Trinity College, Toronto and W. Hovender, of the Royal Historical Society, London.

FORMER MONTREALER DEAD.

Belleville, Ont., June 22.—(Special.)—Harbor Master Daniel Collins, at the port of Belleville, died this morning after a long illness. He was a native of Ireland and was sixty-eight years of age. He lived in Montreal for several years, afterward moving to this part of the country. He was an alderman here for seven years, and at one time contested the Mayoralty, but was defeated. He was a prominent Conservative. His widow and one son, Mr. Will. Collins, of the Grand Seminary, Montreal, and formerly of St. Michael's College, Toronto, survive him.

FAVOR CHURCH UNION.

Fredericton, N.B., June 22.—(Special.)—The Methodist Confernce was brought to a close last evening. A strong resolution was unanimously adopted favoring organic union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in Canada.

CANADA MAY HAVE A NAVAL MILITIA

An Announcement Made by Hon. Mr. Prefontaine on the Subject.

(Staff Correspondence of The Herald.)

Ottawa, June 22.—The Canadian Commons had a happy day with a variety of things. The Canadian flag was among the first things raised in the session and is now in the way of vindication. The proposed amendments to the Elections Act were announced, and the House learned with pleasure that they are not of a controversial nature. The Minister of Marine announces that a Canadian naval militia is among the things of the immediate future.

Mr. Henri Bourassa called the attention of the Minister of Marine to a report that a British consul at an Argentine port had compelled Captain Taylor, a master of a Maritime Province vessel to lower the Canadian flag.

Amendments to Election Law.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that the amendments to the election law would be unimportant, in spite of the anticipations of the Opposition. There would be an amendment to remove all doubt as to the application of redistribution to New Brunswick. The census reduced the representation of that province from fourteen to thirteen. However, the election act did not seem to lend itself to that idea, so the Minister of Justice proposed to amend it and make it clear that thirteen is the number. The only other change is in consequence of redistribution. Some remote Canadian constituencies have nomination and election a fortnight after the regular time. Redistribution had made slight changes in the boundaries of some of these remote constituencies, so it was necessary to make some amendments as to the counties of Algoma, Gaspy, Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Burrard and Yale-Cariboo.

Marine Estimates Taken Up.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine was given $277,000 for maintenance and repair to Government steamers, $7,000 for examinations of masters and mates, $12,000 for life saving stations and rewards, $4,000 for investigation into wrecks.

On a vote of $7,500 for a naval militia and school of militia, Hon. Mr. Prefontaine said that preliminary progress had been made. The same amount was voted last year and only about $1,800 had been spent. This had been expended on plans, books and other things for the naval school and in gathering information for the naval militia. The information was being gathered by Captain Salmon and Captain Sprain for the naval militia. It was necessary to study the question carefully as it would involve a large expenditure probably $500,000 in the first instance. The question of a naval militia Mr. Prefontaine said, had been largely discussed in the public press. It had been urged upon the Government by the Naval League of Canada.

Railway Debate in Senate.

In the Senate the Transcontinental Railway bill was given another day. Senator McMullin started the debate. The Canadian Pacific, he said, had done much for the country, but a line further in the interior was now wanted. Canada's waterways and the Canadian Pacific did not offset the need for a second line.

Senator McMillan said that Senator McMullin had failed to convince him of the necessity for the building of this road.

It was suggested that the Senate arrange to close the debate to-morrow. However, the Conservatives objected to this.

ONTARIO BANK REPORT.

The annual report of the Ontario Bank, which appears on another page, will be read with satisfaction by all those in anyway interested in the Bank. Without opening any new branches the Bank has been able during the past year to increase its deposits by $1,089,735.06, a strong proof of the confidence the public have in the management. The rest account of the Bank has been increased to $600,000, and the amount carried forward to the credit of profit and loss account was $54,862. The Bank is now on a 6 per cent. basis, and it required $90,000 to pay the dividends. That the Bank was able to make so satisfactory a statement shows the splendid class of buiness that it handles.

CANADIANS WILL DEVELOP BRAZIL

Gigantic Tramway Syndicate Formed by Montreal and Toronto Capitalists.

CAPITAL OF FIFTY MILLIONS

Will Consolidate Several Light, Heat and Power Companies at Rio Janeiro and Electrify Mule Railroads.

Montreal and Toronto capitalists have combined to carry out the biggest project ever undertaken by Canadians outside of their own country.

In order to carry out the plan which is to buy out and operate all the lighting, power and tramway companies of Rio de Janeiro, the capital of Brazil, the Rio de Janeiro Tramway Light and Power Company, a company is being formed with a capital of $50,000,000. The capitalists interested in the new project are in great part the same as those who carried through the Sao Paulo Tramway Light and Power at Sao Paulo and the Mexican Light and Power Company at Mexico City. Amongst the promoters are Sir William Van Horne, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, William Mackenzie, E. R. Wood, Frederic Nicholls, and F. S. Pearson.

As in the case of the two other projects a Dominion charter is being secured. What the company intends doing may be briefly described as follows:—Owing to the very high price that has to be paid for coal in Brazil the new company has secured the only water power within a practicable radius of Rio Janeiro for transmission. This power property is situated seventy-five miles in a straight line from the city. It is proposed to establish an electric lighting and power plant and "electrify" all the present mule roads. Four different tramway systems, comprising 130 miles of track are being secured, including such lines as the Sao Cristarao, the Villa Isabel, the Carris Urbano and the Canoca.

Great Possibilities.

In order to secure the different projects and provide working capital only one-half of the capital stock or $25,000,000 will be issued at the outset.

Equipped with electricity it is estimated that the companies would earn $4,102,000 a year, which after paying 5 per cent. on the bonds, equal to $1,250,000, would leave a surplus of $2,852,000 for the stock of the company.

In addition to the large financial interests already mentioned a number of Montreal investors and banks have become interested in the new company.

AN EMPTY CANOE TELLS A SAD TALE

Friends of Wilfrid McLean Have Almost Given Up Hope of Finding Him.

The friends of Mr. Wilfrid MacLean, son of Mr. John MacLean, 23 St. Luke Street, who has been missing since Saturday, have practically abandoned all hope of finding him alive.

The canoe in which the unfortunate young man left Beaurepaire on Saturday morning was picked up near Laprairie last evening, and this seems to point to death by drowning.

The organized search still continues, and the body may be recovered at any moment.

RUMORED APPOINTMENT.

Mr. W. H. Olive, it is said, will be appointed assitant general freight agent of the Intercolonial Railway to succeed Mr. James Hardwell, who was recently named as traffic officer of the Railway Commission.

FINE AND WARMER.

Fresh north-westerly winds, fair and quite cool; Thursday, fine and a little warmer again.

The World's Hottest Place.

Death Valley, in Southern California, is usually referred to as the hottest spot on earth, but it isn't quite that," Ralph Erling tells a reporter of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "This rather unpleasant distinction belongs to a portion of the shore of the Persian Gulf, at and in the vicinity of Bahrin.

"Statistics prove that the mean annual temperature of the Persian Gulf furnace is 11 degrees higher than that of Death Valley, and the aridness of both places is about on a par, though I am inclined to believe, if my recollection of the records is not blunted, that a little brackish water has been found in a few isolated springs on the alkali surface of Death Valley, whereas there is no water at all to be found on the shore of the Gulf anywhere within a radius of nearly 200 miles.

"Yet, while Death Valley is inhabited by practically none and permanent life there is deemed wellnigh impossible, Bahrin has a population of several thousand people and has had an existence as a village for many centuries. Of course, the people are stunted mentally and to a slightly less extent physically, a fact due to the fearful conditions under which they live; but they do live there and are probably the nearest approach to salamanders in the human family. What do they do for water and food? Why, the latter is brought to them in boats and sold in exchange for the fertilizer they dig from the desert, and the latter they have in fairly good abundance near them. You thought I said there was no water within several hundred miles of the place. Well, so I did—on the land—but there are a number of fresh water springs on the bed of the saline gulf within a few hundred yards from the shore.

"It is probably the only place on earth where fresh drinking water is secured from a salty sea. The water gushes up in considerable volume from these springs and is secured by divers. The gulf is only about thirty feet deep at this point. The divers plunge to the bottom with empty goatskins and place the orifice of the skin bag directly over the mouth of the spring; it fills in a few seconds, and the diver closes the orifice and is pulled back to the boat by a rope. That is the way the water supply for the community on shore is procured. The springs are supposed to be due to underground streams which have their origin in the green hills of Osman, over 500 miles inland."

RAILROADS TAKE UP FORESTRY.

Scarcity of Timber for Ties Leads Railroad Companies to Take Up Question.

The United States Bureau of Forestry has continued this year on a far larger scale the experiments in timber seasoning and preservation for the railroads which began last year under Dr. Herrmann von Schrenck. This summer the work will be carried on in many States—East, South and West—and will be broadened in scope and made even more thorough than before. This work will be done for the New York Central, the Erie, the Baltimore & Ohio, and the Pennsylvania railroads in the East and for the Illinois Central, the Santa Fe, the St. Louis & San Francisco, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Northern Pacific and the Burlington in the South and West.

The scarcity of valuable timbers is felt by no class of consumers more keenly than by the railroads, which use every year 110,000,000 ties merely to renew those worn out and decayed. The price of timbers has risen in some instances to a figure which makes their use prohibitive; in other cases the supply is so nearly exhausted that the roads have been compelled to look about for new timbers.

The U. S. Bureau of Forestry has been called on to assist in solving the difficulty and has come forward with the very practical and simple suggestion that the railroads, instead of continuing to use expensive high-grade timbers for such a low-grade purpose as that of railroad ties, shall use the cheaper woods. For example, to the complaint of the New York Central that it finds it more and more difficult to secure long-leaf pine ties from Georgia at the price it can afford to pay, the bureau suggests that the road use the beech, maple and birch of the Adirondacks. The complaint that the timbers rot very quickly when laid in the ground is answered by the suggestion that they should be seasoned and preserved, just as beech is seasoned and preserved in France. The Great Eastern Railroad of France has succeeded in making beech ties last thirty-five years by impregnating them with tar oils. The unseasoned long-leaf pine ties used by the New York Central last only five years; and the beech if laid green, without seasoning or preserving, would in many cases last no more than three years. The substance of the proposal which the bureau has made to the railroads, and which the railroads have thought so well of as to adopt, is that experiments be made to last such a long time that it will pay to substitute them for the more expensive timbers now employed.

The railroads have thought so well of these ideas that they will not only carry on under the bureau's direction the necessary experiments in seasoning and preserving but have engaged the bureau's help in learning where cheap timbers for ties may be obtained. In other words, the railroads have decided that if they can be convinced that it will pay to season and preserve cheap timbers for ties they will acquire large areas of timber lands on which they will grow their own trees, cut their own ties and thus be assured of a steady supply. This means that some of the great railroads of the country are in a fair way to practice forestry on a very large scale and to employ a great many foresters.

Important and valuable as this work is to the railroad and telegraph companies, it is of far greater importance and value to the country at large. The use of cheaper timbers for railroad ties is in several ways an economic saving: it relieves the high-grade timbers of a part of the heavy demand that is being made upon them, opens a market for timbers for which there is now little sale and affords splendid oportunities for conservative management of timber lands. The work is being prosecuted according to the regular co-operative system of the bureau, by which the field and travelling expenses of the bureau's agents are paid by those for whom the work is done.

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY HONORS "FIGHTING MAC"

Votes $50 Towards Monument in Dingwall, Scotland—Donation to the Highland Cadets.

The quarterly meeting of the Caledonia Society was held last night at St. Andrew's Home, Mr. Peter Lyall presiding.

Mr. W. C. McAllister, financial secretary, had something to say regarding lady associate members. The original intention had been to admit the wives and near relatives (themselves of Scottish descent), of male members, but of late there had been many added who were neither one nor the other. He recommended that gerater care be exercised in future.

Mr. James McLean, chairman of the games committee, reported that great progress had been made with the arrangements for the gathering on Aug. 13, on the M.A.A.A. grounds. The programme would be acceptable to all classes of the community, and they were hopeful that the attendance would be large.

It was proposed to hold next Hallowe'en gathering in either the Arena, the Academy of Music or Proctor's, and after discussion, the selection was left to the committee.

Mr. McNab, chairman of the literary committee, intimated that four gentlemen of ability had been secured to give lectures on Scottish subjects during the winter.

A letter was read from Glasgow, Scotland, regarding the fund for the erection of a memorial at Dingwall to the memory of Hector Macdonald, and it was agreed to contribute $50 from the society's funds, and, in addition, open an individual subscription list.

On the motion of Mr. Ewing it was agreed to give $50 to the funds of the Highland Cadet Corps.

The usual reports were adopted and it was intimated that the membership had now reached 1,241.

GRAND TRUNK ASSESSMENT.

Mr. Hays Asks City For a Fixed Valuation.

In consideration of the fact that the Grand Trunk Railway proposer purchasing a block of land, the assessed value of which is $37,000, in order to further extend its shops at Point St. Charls, Mr. Chas. M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager, has addressed a letter to Mayor Laporte and the aldermen of the city, in which he asks that an agreement be entered into whereby thetotal valuation of the company's property in St. Ann's ward be fixed for a term of twenty-five years at the sum of $1,000,000, and upon which will be levied the usual yearly rates for municipal and school purposes.

Mr. Hays in his letter says that the question of taxation is one of the factors that enters materially into their calculations, and he considers it desirable and necessary to have an agreement with the city in regard thereto, if such can be arranged satisfactorily. At present the company's works and property in St. Ann's ward are valued at $1,381,700, and upon this valuation the company has paid taxes for 1903-04 under protest, the objection of the company being that the valuation of the machinery, boiler and rails has been excessive, and to the extent of over fifty per cent, of the market value of the same. In other words it is considered that the present assessment or valuation of the company's property in St. Ann's word is over $300,000 in excess of what it should be.

ONTARIO FRUIT MEN PRESENT THEIR CASE

Before the Railway Commission and Want Reduction in Freight Rates.

Toronto, June 22.—(Special.)—Mr. W. H. Buntin, president of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, made the following requests before the Railway Commission yesterday afternoon:

A reduction from $66 to $44 for a car from Niagara to Montreal and reduction of half a cent a pound to Winnipeg.

That apples and pears in boxes and barrels should be put in the same class.

That the minimum for fresh fruit should not be raised over 20,000 pounds.

Reduction in cost of icing, more particularly to Winnipeg. There is now a flat rate of $16 per car for icing to Winnipeg, whereas formerly the actual rate was from $3 to $7, according to quantity. He thought it was intended the flat rate of $16 should include initial icing, to which the companies would not agree.

Mr. Blair congratulated Mr. Bunting on his presentation of the case.

RUSHING UPPER LEVEL TRACKS.

The Montreal Street Railway Company is pushing forward the construction of the new upper level railway in Westmount as rapidly as possible. A report submitted to the Roads Committee of the town shows that the work of construction has already passed Argyle Avenue on the Boulevard. THE HAPPY COUPLE NOW IN WEDLOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Seaman Were Not Married in a Shop Window.

The wedding ceremony which was to have taken place yesterday afternoon in the window of C. A. Workman's clothing store, McGill street, was celebrated after all, and although, owing to legal interference, it did not come off just as it was planned, yet everyone is satisfied.

It was intended to have the wedding between Mr. George Seaman and Miss Rosa Castonguay take place in the window of Workman's clothing store, but the legal interference told of in last evening's Herald prevented this. Another plan was speedily devised.

The bride and groom appeared in the window and bowed and smiled to the crowd, after which they entered a cab and drove in search of a minister. Several clergymen who were called upon were not at home, but finally when they reached St. John the Evangelist's Church Rev. Canon Wood was found, and he performed the ceremony in the presence of Messrs. A. Friedman and James White as witnesses.

The party then returned to Mr. Workman's store, where in full view of a throng of from 2,000 to 5,000 people they were given the $100 and the other presents.

After this ceremony had been satisfactorily completed, the party adjourned to Welsh's Cafe, where luncheon was served through the kindness of Mr. Workman.

The bride's cake of four stories was the gift of Mr. Welsh. At the luncheon were Mr. A. Friedman, in the chair; Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, Miss Barker, Mr. Chas. A. Workman, Messrs. J. White, Gus Cochenthaler, J. Pennington, Auclair, Gibson, Renshaw, Potts and Viger. After the luncheon speeches of congratulation were the order. Every one kissed the bride, and about eight o'clock the luncheon party broke up.

The couple leave to-day on a short honeymoon trip.

Two or three years ago a marriage took place in a shop window in Tottenham Court Road, London, England. In this case the ceremony was not stopped, but the traffic was.

HUMOROUS TEXTS.

Some Unconscious Witticisms Committed by Gentlemen of the Cloth.

Part of the humor which one occasionally meets with, even in the sedate enclosure of the pulpit, is due to the queer texts which are sometimes—often unconsciously—chosen by preachers, says the Hour Glass. No doubt there are many stories told under this head which owe their origin, not to actual fact so much as to the invention of the wag. For example, a minister on the Sunday before his marriage is said to have chosen as his text, "And he went on his way rejoicing;" and on the Sunday after his honeymoon to have eloquently discoursed on the words, "Remember my bonds."

These instances are, probably, apocryphal, but the following are true, and have all come within the experience of the writer. It was in the North of England that the first incident happened. It was a country church, where oil lamps were used instead of gas. One night in the late summer, when the lamps had not yet been resumed after the long days, it got suddenly overcast, and before the sermon it was deemed necessary to light the pulpit lamp. During the hymn the old sexton repaired to the pulpit, and, having cleaned the glass chimney with a duster, lit it up; but only a feeble light struggled through. And then the clergyman took his text, which was this: "And now we see through a glass darkly."

A few years ago, a well known Suffragan Bishop married his second wife and, returning home after his honeymoon, announced a series of sermons at his parish church, the title of the series being "The Penitent's Return." This was obviously unintentional! There is a church in one of our large cities which boasts of a very high pulpit. A short time ago a strange preacher, who was of a nervous temperament, "occupied" this pulpit, but, as the sequel will show, only for a very short time; for, having taken his text and said about half a dozen words, he startled the congregation by saying: "As I am not used to pulpits as high as this, you will pardon me, I know, if I come down and preach my sermon from the lectern." He suited his action to the words, and preached a very good sermon from the modest lectern. And this was his strangely appropriate text: "He that exalteth himself shall be abased, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

One more instance: Not many months ago, in a West of England town, a clergyman preached one Sunday evening from the text, "My words shall not pass away." Exactly a fortnight later the same clergyman preached the same sermon from the same text in the same church, to the wonderment of practically the same congregation. Evidently it was his determination that at any rate his words should not pass away from the memory of his hearers.

As a contribution to the science of aeronautics, a French writer has pointed out that birds are partly sustained in the air when flying by the difference of air pressure above and below. The beating of their wings causes a partial vacuum or diminution of air pressure on their backs between the wings, and a compression or increase of air pressure beneath them, which tends to support the bird in the air. Hence it is that birds can rise higher and fly longer distances than their wing-power alone could accomplish. This fact, he thinks, should be taken into account in designing flying machines, and by that he means machines that really fly or beat the air after the manner of birds.

NERVOUS TROUBLES.

Promptly and Permanently Cured by Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

There is no torture more acute and intolerable than nervousness. A nervous person is in a state of constant irritation by day and sleeplessness by night. The sufferer starts at every noise, is shaky, depressed, and, although in a constantly exhausted state, is unable to sit or lie still. If you are nervous or worried or suffer irritation, you ned a nerve tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are absolutely the best thing in the world for you. You can only get rid of nervousness through feeding your nerves with rich, red blood, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. There is no doubt about this—thousands can testify to the blood-making, nerve- restoring qualities of these pills. St. Vitus dance is one of the most severe forms of nervousness, and Mrs. H. Hevenor, of Gravenhurst, Ont., tells how these pills cured her little boy. She says: "At the age of eight my little boy was attacked with St. Vitus dance, from which he suffered in a severe form. His nerves twitched to such an extent that he was almost helpless, and had to be constantly watched. He was under several doctors at different times, but they did not help him, so I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these have completely cured him, and now not a sign of the trouble remains."

When you buy these pills always look at the box and see that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is printed on the wrapper, and refuse to take anything else. You can get these pills from all medicine dealers, or they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Pugwash, N.S.—Dr. R. S. Dakin, a resident of Pugwash for thirty-four years, died in his sixty-eight year, of cancer of the stomach, last week. He was born in Digby, September 17th, 1836 and graduated at the Harvard medical school in 1870, coming to Pugwash, where he succeeded the late Dr. Clay, who was appointed immigration agent in that year. The deceased leaves a widow, nee Mary A. Dunbar, of Weymouth, two sons and one daughter.

A Crime

your own affair, of course, but still a crime to put a drug into your stomach that may upset your nervous system and bring on all kinds of ails such as the coffee drinker usually knows. The result may be only a slight form of dyspepsia, or it may be organic heart or kidney trouble or nervous prostration, for science has proved that the drugs in coffee DIRECTLY attack the nerves, stomach, heart and kidneys. If the nervous trouble ends in sore eyes or piles don't be surprised, for COFFEE has been PROVED to be the cause of these and other obscure troubles.

A Trial

in coffee's place 10 days of a rebuilding agent that is positively ALL FOOD and not at all a drug usually shows big results for the better, and that's just POSTUM'S job—to rebuild all the broken down nerve cells in brain and nerve centres. The trial is pleasant, for well boiled POSTUM has the fine color and suggests the flavor of the highest grade of Old Government Java, and when served with rich cream is simply delicious. In a few days the old coffee ails disappear and you find you have come to like delicious POSTUM for its own flavor, and for the satisfied, well-fed feeling that follows the use of this true food-drink. (Made of purest cereals only.)

The Verdict

is always in POSTUM'S favor for the reason that after 10 days or so the most fastidious will not miss the coffee, for POSTUM has entirely taken its place so far as the palate goes, and Body, Brain and Nerves feel as if you have taken a new lease on life, a taste of the delicious glow of health that cannot possibly come so long as a destroying agent like coffee is made a part of the daily diet. No matter how well you feel if you drink coffee, you will feel better if you cut out the coffee and drink well-boiled POSTUM in its place. Possibly you would like a taste of

The Joy of Living

Then Put Aside the Drug-drink For a Short While and Try and even 10 days trial will show really big improvement, for there is a great, grand message to humanity in POSTUM, and it will not take long to show even in the worst, sickest, broken-down coffee toper. Don't sit on the fence and howl: "Nonsense, coffee don't hurt me; why, I've drank it all my life," but make a little trial that will prove something! If you say like thousands of others "coffee don't hurt," you are only guessing. The reward is BIG if you do find out you're wrong, and 10 days trial of POSTUM

POSTUM

WILL SHOW YOU

There's a Reason.

The second consignment of deep sea cable, now being laid by the Government between Valdez and Nome, has just been shipped in a special train of thirty-one cars over the Lackawanna Railroad. This shipment consists of two hundred tons and is part of an order for fifteen hundred miles of submarine cable.

Some time since the Lackawanna handled a consignment of this cable, and the actual running time of the train from Hoboken to the Pacific coast was fourteen days. This was considered remarkable, inasmuch as adverse weather and a delay of several days for repairs had to be taken into account. The prompt delivery greatly pleased the Government officials directing the laying of the cable.

The gross earnings of thirty-nine roads for the first week in June were $6,309,431 against $6,421,040 for the first week in June, 1903, a decrease of $111,609. Twenty roads show increases and nineteen decreases. Since July 1 the roads referred to above earned $385,810,948, an increase of $19,613,641 over the $366,197,307 reported for the corresponding period last year.

For the longer period twenty-seven roads show increases and twelve decreases.

The number of men employed in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Altoona on June 1 was about 9,500; two years ago it was 12,000. The pay rolls now aggregate $260,000 monthly; in 1902 the total was $575,000. The fact that the pay roll has been reduced 54.8 per cent. while the number of men has fallen off only 20.8 per cent. is explained by the fact that the men now work only eight hours a day and five days a week. This week a further reduction of time and additional dismissals were ordered.

The C.P.R., which was the first railway into Phoenix, does not mean to be behind in any way, if it can help it, now that the Great Northern is connecting with the big Granby mines at Phoenix. The company is arranging to construct spurs to Nos. 3 and 4 tunnels. Consulting Engineer H. J. Cambie, who has just returned to Vancouver, went over the ground with Divisional Engineer Bainbridge and Engineer Kelly and decided to get to No. 3 tunnel as soon as possible. One plan is to connect with the Brooklyn and Stemwinder spurs by running a high trestle across the gulch, crossing Knob Hill Avenue, one of the busiest parts of Phoenix. The Phoenix welcomes the increased eagerness shown by both railways to give the mines greater accommodation.

Four illustrated folders have been issued by the Grond Trunk. Each contains a map, hotel rates, pictures of cool resorts, nooks for sport, besides general information. One folder is on the Lake of Bays, a region of natural beauty lying north of Toronto, another on the Highlands of Ontario, where so many go to spend the summer days; and a third on Lake Nipissing, and French River. The fourth, which is a small pocket publication, deals with the scenery of Niagara Gorge.

A relief map is being prepared by Mr. Bell-Smith, the Canadian artist, for the C.P.R. It is the result of several seasons' study, and geographical investigation of the Canadian Rockies, and when completed will show the different mountains adjacent to the C.P.R. line, between Field and Logan, mountains recently climbed, the Yoho Valley, Emerald Lake, Van Horne range and other mountains. The map is a large one, and when completed will be placed in one of the company's hotels in British Columbia.

The roads west of Chicago have agreed that after this year clergymen's reduced rate certificates shall be made good only to points where the fare is $20 or less. Clergymen wishing to make trips costing more can get special trip permits on application to the association having jurisdiction of the territory in which the trip is to be made. About 55,000 clergymen hold annual permits good on roads in all three of the western associations. The permits are sold for $1 each and the proceeds are divided between the associations.

The official return shows that during 1903, twenty-five passengers were killed and 769 injured in accidents to trains in the United Kingdom; including all accidents occurring on the railway, though not connected with the movement of trains, the total is 123 passengers killed and 1,912 injured; and including suicides and accidents to trespassers, railway servants, and others, the grand total is 1,159 killed and 6,785 injured.

A Russian railway company is advertising a special railway car for the use of honeymooning couples. The car can be used either as a couple of large rooms or as a series of small compartments by the arrangement of movable partitions, and it is luxuriously fitted up in the best French style.

The Russian railroads have long collected a tax of 2 1-2 cents on each ticket sold for the benefit of the Red Cross Society. In consequence of the war this tax has been raised to five cents. Another result of the war is the reduction of the amount authorized for new railroad construction by $27,500,000, of $5,000,000 in other railroad appropriations, and of $2,150,000 for harbor works at Port Arthur and Vladivostok.

FACTORIES' BY-LAW LAID OVER TILL NEXT MEETING

City Council Are Not in a Hurry—Alleged Forgery of Signatures Goes to Committee.

The Vallieres by-law, to prevent factories from encroaching on the uptown residential portion of the city, came up for its second reading at the City Council meeting Monday afternoon, but at the suggestion of Mayor Laporte action was deferred until the next meeting.

A plan will be prepared for the next meeting, showing where the prescribed limit is situated.

A letter from Martineau & Delfausse, stating that a number of signatures on the St. Denis Street tunnel petition were false, was brought down. Ald. Couture pointed out that the Finance Committee was obliged to report upon this letter, so it was sent back for more information.

Ald. Sadler was named to succeed Ald. Carter on the Legislation Committee.

In moving the adjournment Ald. Vallieres referred in feeling terms to the death of Hon. G. W. Stephens and spoke of his former connection with the City Council.

CLEVER LADY SCHOLARS.

Pupils of School of Expression Provide Enjoyable Entertainment.

An excellent entertainment was given on Monday at the Y.M.C.A. Hall by the pupils of Mrs. Belle Rose Emslie's school of expression. The concert took the form of a number of recitations, grave and gay, pantomimes, and a couple of dramatic sketches, all of which were very well rendered. During the evening Rev. Wm. Munro presented certificates to a number of the pupils.

After a piano solo by Miss Ada Mitchell, the first part of the programme consisted of recitations by Misses Flossie Mooney, Geraldine Gandel, May Mooney, Eva Furlough, Lorna Brown, Agnes C. Brown, Eva Mitchell, Pearl Smith, Hilda Smith, Evelyn Henderson, Mabel Rose and Annie Skelly. Without invidious distinction special mention must be made of Miss Lorna Brown's humorous recitation of "Mary Ellen Studdies Elocution," and little Edna Mitchell's clever work. A very pretty pantomime, illustrating Longfellow's "The Bridge," was given by six young ladies in Grecian costumes, with colored calcium lights.

The second part of the programme consisted of a couple of dramatic sketches, "The Minister's Birthday Gift" and "Aringart," in which a number of the pupils distinguished themselves. The concert was a decided credit to the school, and was much enjoyed by a fair-sized audience.

GLOVE STRIKE STILL ON.

The stonecutters who went on strike recently are not yet showing any disposition to return to work. The men show a determination to hold out until they gain their demands from the employers. No meeting has yet taken place between employers and strikers, and so the settlement of trouble seems by no means near. The question of forming a glove-cutters' union is under discussion among the strikers, but no definite steps have been taken to that end.

WESTMOUNT WATER DISPUTE SETTLED.

The long pending troubles between the town of Westmount and the Montreal Water and Power Co. have finally been settled to the satisfaction of both parties. The principal question under discussion was that the town was being overcharged for its hydrant rental and on this account the town had withheld the amount of the account due for the past six months. The special committee of the Town Council agreed to pay the company its rental and so arranged the basis on which the account is to be made that all trouble in the future will be avoided.

DIRECT LINE FROM CANADA TO FRANCE

Steamer Halifax, of New Canadian Lines Co., Reaches Port in Safety.

The second steamship of the new Canadian Lines Company, reached port last Saturday. This was the Halifax, commanded by Capt. W. Scroggie, which arrived with passengers and freight from Havre and Rotterdam. The first ship of the line to reach Montreal was The Quebec, which was here two weeks ago. The Halifax and the Quebec are vessels of the same type and size and are splendidly built and furnished ships. They are classed at 100 A1 at Lloyds, have a registered tonnage of 3,375 tons, and a freight capacity of about 4,200 tons. They are fitted with cold storage departments and first-rate refrigerators and are thus in position to handle all classes of freight, perishable and otherwise. The passenger accommodation is also of the best. The dining and other saloons are large and comfortable and every convenience for passengers is present.

This company is the only direct line to French and Dutch ports from Canada. Three boats only are in service at present, the Quebec, Halifax and Lady Strathcona, but more are to follow and a fortnightly service to Havre and Rotterdam will be furnished These ships in fact are but the nucleus of a fleet of a new fast line, which will make a big bid for the passenger and freight traffic between France and Holland and Canada. The Messrs. W. Petersen, Ltd., of Newcastle, is at the head of the company at present and first ideas were to have the service a fortnightly one from Newcastle. Now, however, Armstrong, Whitworth & Co. have also become interested in it and this line in all probability will become The France-Canada line, subsidized by the Canadian Government. Then, of course, the larger and faster ships projected, will be put on the route and a fast, direct line to the continent will be a fact.

The Halifax had a fair cargo coming out and almost a full passenger list. But as the company is but newly started and are rather late in the season, it is as yet hard to say how expectations will turn out, but it is thought that with a line of ships second to none, in which every attention will be paid to the convenience and comfort of passengers the new line will find a place among the great shipping lines touching America.

Capt. Scroggie, of the Halifax, is delighted with the splendid ship he commands and thinks that the efforts of the company will meet with success. He is lately from the Neptune Navigation Company, but is well acquainted with the St. Lawrence route.

TURBINES ARE MOST SUCCESSFUL ENGINES

Mr. Andrew A. Allan Greatly Pleased With First Trip of the New Turbine Boat.

Mr. Andrew A. Allan regards the turbine steamship as having passed the experimental stage after the test of the Turbinia in coming across and the splendid way in which she passed through it. Mr. Allan met the Turbinia in Quebec and came to Montreal with her. He stated that "the turbine engines gave the greatest satisfaction possible. There was apparently no trouble with them in any part of their work, and they occupy a great deal less space than the ordinary type. A unique feature was the automatic arrangement whereby the engines oil themselves for an indefinite period, dropping the oil on the parts requiring it, and then collecting again all not used up. When the engines are working there is practically no vibration whatever felt. I stood on the forward bridge and from any motion of the vessel I could not have told whether it was moving forward or not had I closed my eyes. This is a marvellous difference from the ordinary steamship and one which will appeal most strongly to all passengers. Then for the speed the boat makes, a smaller amount of coal will be required, and this will be a great difference. A thing which surprised me was the ease with which the boat could be handled. I was rather doubtful how the three propellors would act and spoke to the pilot about it, but he stated that she was remarkably easy in management. His own statement in fact was this, "she swims like a duck."

Mr. Allan regards the turbine as the coming engine, and has no doubt whatever that the turbines being built for their company will be most successful.

MONTREAL STREET RAILWAY BENEFITS

The First Annual Meeting Shows Healthy Financial Condition.

The first annual meeting of the Montreal Street Railway Mutual Benefit Association was held Monday night, and was attended by over 600 of the employes of the company. Mr. W. G. Ross, president of the association, presided, and in submitting the annual report, pointed out that it was entirely due to the hard work of the officials that the report was so favorable. It showed that during the seven months since its inauguration it had paid out $3,049.95 in sickness and injury benefit claims. Right along the membership had increased satisfactorily, and now totalled 1,152. In addition to the donations made by the company when the association was formed, a special donation of $3,000 had been received from the company. The statement of revenue and expenses showed the following: Revenue from members' fees, $1,204; dues, $3,030; from the company, fees $1,284, dues $1,515; M. S. R. special donation, $3,000; expenses of management, $3,794. Expenses: Sickness and injury, $3,049; medical attendance, $379; medical examinatfon, $655; surplus (at credit in bank), $5,800.

It was decided to increase the board of directors from nine to fifteen. It is now composed as follows: W. G. Ross, president; D. McDonald, P. Dubee, L. Trudeau, H. R. Lockhart, D. E. Blair, R. M. Hannaford, H. G. Taylor, representing the company, and A. Caron, J. Donald, G. Bellerose, L. Charland, W. Butler, C. Lacroix, E. Drummond. At the close of the meeting a very enjoyable musical programme was given by the members of the association, among those taking part being Conductors Lapointe, Giguere, Paquet and Hall; Motorman Vaudeville, and Prof. Leger, director of the band. The band also rendered a number of selections that were much appreciated.

AT THE THEATRES.

SUMMER COMIC OPERA.

The summer opera season opened Monday at the Arena under the most auspicious circumstances. Montrealers are undividedly loyal to comic opera, and the crowd last evening, which filled the Arena, only emphasized a long known fact. The New York Comic Opera Company was given a splendid reception, which was justified by their excellent work. The old favorite, "The Isle of Champagne," was the initial offering. The story is too well known to require explanation. Suffice it to say that until the closing of the opera champagne was the only beverage known. The operat was presented with due detail being given to costuming and staging. The music was catchy and the songs of the popular kind. Among the favorites were "The Spider and the Fly," "The Prodigal Son," "Here's to the Rose" and "A Japanese Fan."

Mr. Claude Amsden leads the company, which is a strong one. As the libulous ruler of the kingdom, hemmed in by an ironbound constitution, which seriously restricted his movements, he was a mirth provoker. He has a good voice, and made a decided hit in "The Prodigal Son."

Miss Lois Garneau, the leading lady, has a voice of excellent quality. She had little to do, but nevertheless established herself as a warm favorite. Her appearance in a more adequate role will be anticipated.

Miss Mae Kilcoyne is the possessor of of a fine contralto, and Miss Ada Bernard did splendidly in her solos.

Mr. Jethro Warner, the tenor of the company, has a voice of considerable range and good quality. Mr. Hilliard Campbell, in addition to an excellent stage presence, is the possessor of a pleasing baritone. His "Here's to the Rose" was one of the successes of the performance.

The Lord Dundonald incident furnished material for several hits, and the military drill, as it is done in the Townships, won applause.

THE THEATRE FRANCAIS.

The Aubrey Stock Company, at the Francais, was well received Monday and a successful week is to be anticipated. The play of the week "A Spy of Port Arthur," is supposed to be founded on events in the present Russo-Japanese war, and although that historic town has not yet fallen, the audience at the Francais now know how it will fall in the end. The play is highly colored, and teems with sensational situations. All the roles are well played. Mr. N. G. Beckwith and Mr. George Lund, the former a Japanese attache, and the latter a French attache, do the greatest share of work with pronounced success. They are well supported by Messrs. Francis Morey, R. F. Hutchins and Frank Carroll. Miss Bertine Robison, as Anne Willoughby, and Miss Maude Scott, as Susan McNair, were very successful. Good comedy was added to the play by Mr. Billy Walsh, the negro servant.

AT THE THEATRE ROYAL.

At the Royal Monday fairly good audiences assembled to see the performances of the stock burlesquers in their final week. The bill is stronger than it has been in previous weeks, the olio especially having been strengthened. "Casey, the Fiddler," the opening burlesque, although rather well known here, is well put on by the company. John Flynn and Tim Healey are a duo of good Irishmen. In the musical parts Tim Healey, Kate Cain, Mae Jackson and Maud Douglas are of note, and the chorus is very goode

The olio opens with Jolson Brothers, who present popular songs in an original way. Trapeze and web acts by Caprice Lewis follow, and then a popular turn is put on by Eddie Russell and Edna Tillyne, eccentric dancers and sketch artists. Another good number is that put on by the Burdock Sisters, dancers and acrobats. A bicycle act performed by "Ciclo" is easily the feature of the programme. This consists of riding in a circular basket with upright sides, and the rider is thus at right angles to the perpendicular. Ciclo had a bad fall, but was not injured. An amateur night is announced for Friday.

The Theatre Royal will close its long season on Saturday night and the management is determined to make the closing week one of its best. There will be special attractions to-night and amateur night, Friday, will have a large number of new faces on the stage. Among those who have promised so far are Ada Patterson, the soprano; Margaret Shaw, soubrette, John O'Hare in recitations; Professor Shaw, the "sidewalk" comedian; L. P. Barber, contortionist; the two Clark boys in their burlesque boxing; Dunn and Epstein in imitations of great pugilists; Tom Shorem, the magician and Pat Lennan, the cakewalker and lady. This is all promised for Friday and for Saturday night there is a big cake walk arranged, in which about twelve local couples will take part. A special feature for Friday night is a gum chewing contest. Everybody entering the theatre will be presented with gum.

SOHMER PARK.

The Park has sustained its popularity of other seasons, and continues to attract large crowds. To find a cool spot to pass an afternoon or evening is out of the question this weather, but Sohmer Park is about as near as one can come to it. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Lavigne, is always alone "worth the price of admission," and considerably more. This week there is another unique musical number. Claudius and Corbin, a team who play banjo duets in the most approved minstrel fashion. Acrobats are again in evidence, McPhee and Hill doing clever work on the horizontal bars. Perhaps the most amusing feature of the Park this week is the turn done by the Marco and Twins troupe, eccentric comedians. They deserve the title. The gigantic Marco and the Lilliputian Twins, in rough and tumble work, present a most fantastic picture. Again the trained dogs and monkeys of Prof. Macart put in an appearance. The cleverness of these carefully trained animals never ceases to amuse. The boxing match between two dogs, and the musical act by the monkeys are the best features of this performance. For some reason or other the Josselin Trio, billed as "aerian artists," failed to put in an appearance.

RIVERSIDE PARK.

Big crowds attended both performances Sunday at this popular resort, and all seemed to enjoy immensely the programme on both occasions. The vaudeville acts of the matinee were most atractive and well chosen, each feature receiving its full share of applause. The grand feature of the programme was a series of Russo-Japanese war pictures by the "Living Canada" Bioscope Company. The scenes of the "landing of the Japs at Dalny," covered by the fire of their big guns, and of the "bombardment of Port Arthur" were highly realistic. The same views will be given every evening this week. Matinees Friday and Satrday.

AN UNJUSTIFIABLE ATTACK.

The Toronto News, in discussing Lord Dundonald's complaint that Part 2 of his first report was not published, attacks Sir Frederick Borden in language that would hardly be justified if the most absolute proof existed of the truth of its accusations. As such proof is lacking, the remarks of the News are most unjust to the Minister. It says:—

"Sir Frederick Borden could hardly be in a worse position. He repeatedly has asserted that Part 2 of Lord Dundonald's first annual report was a secret and confidential document. Lord Dundonald, in the most explicit terms, tells the public that the report, so far from being secret, was intended for publication. That means that Sir Frederick Borden lied—lied from his seat in the House, lied in an official statement to the House. Unless the Minister of Militia can clear himself from this charge, he must retire from public life. We hardly can conceive Sir Wilfrid Laurier retaining a colleague whose honor has been so fatally compromised."

This, in view of the facts, is simply hysteria. Here are the facts, taken from Hansard:—

On October 8, 1903, Sir Frederick Borden, replying to Col. Tisdale, said: "My honorable friend says that the report to which he refers was not confidential. It may not have been marked 'confidential,' but I think I am the best judge whether it was confidential or not.

"The report was a scheme of defence, and was not in my judgment such a scheme as should have been published to the world.

"It was an official report for the advantage of the Government of the country.

"So far as that report involved a heavy expenditure which the Government had not decided to make, I felt it would be highly improper to publish it.

"Lord Dundonald's report was of a similar character [to that of the Defence Committee], and one that, at any rate for the time being, should be treated as confidential."

On May 29th Sir Frederick Borden said: "I consider this report of the Major-General Commanding to be of a confidential character.

"I shall be very glad to submit both these reports to the leader of the Opposition and to whatever members he wishes to associate with him as a confidential committee, but I do think it would be very much out of place to publish a report of that kind or to lay it on the table of the House."

These statements of Sir Frederick Borden are an absolute answer to the News, which owes to its readers and to its own good name to at once acquit the Minister of bad faith. No one could have listened to the debate, or have read the report of it in Hansard, and come to the conclusion that Sir Frederick meant anything else but that he considered the report a confidential one, and was prepared to assume responsibility for keeping it from Parliament or the public. He acknowledged that it was not marked "confidential," but in his judgment it was not a document that should be made public. That he had no desire to screen the Government, as has been charged, was shown by his frank offer to submit the document to the leader of the Opposition, an action which would place Mr. Borden in full possession of the reasons, and their weight, which kept the Minister from making public the report.

Under the circumstances, to charge Sir Frederick with "lying" and to demand his resignation is both unjust and ridiculous.

A BIT OF BAD TEMPER.

When a dignified personage like the Colonel of a militia regiment takes to calling a newspaper correspondent from his own city "an infamous liar," as Lieut.-Colonel Fraser, of the Sherbrooke 53rd did yesterday, in a column-long letter, the proper thing to do would seem to be to allow him all the time required to recover from such an ebullition of bad temper. Lieut.-Colonel Fraser is doubtless a very useful officer of the militia, but outbreaks of this kind must surely tend to prejudice that usefulness.

This controversy was started by an article in the Gazette making statements about the Sherbrooke drill shed site, to which our correspondent there took exception. The Gazette's article was strongly partisan, and our correspondent made it pretty clear that the hostility to the Government of the day displayed in it only reflected the views of the officers of the regiment, who, he said, were all Conservatives. Lieut.-Col. Fraser, having looked into this allegation, is able to call our correspondent "an infamous liar," because he finds one officer who is a Liberal. We sincerely hope there is no manner of doubt about this one case, for even in that event the margin for calling a man an "infamous liar" is rather small. It is certainly much to Lieut.-Col. Fraser's credit that, with the politics of the officers' mess so one-sided, he recently invited four young gentlemen to enter that charmed circle, all of whom, by a most marvellous coincidence, turned out to be Liberals. We can only tender our most sympathetic condolence over the circumstance that all of the young gentlemen seem to have decided not to join. It is to be hoped they were not in any case led to decline by holding the same erroneous view that brought down upon our correspondent so unqualified an anathema.

As to the new drill shed our correspondent freely admits that some at least of the other officers have agreed with the Colonel in the view that the Government ought not to look beyond one particular site overlooking the parade ground, but he points out that people who have property near by, good Conservatives many of them, do not want the drill shed there at all. For the rest, it must naturally give deep pain to all Liberals to feel that Hon. Mr. Fisher has not been able to command either the confidence or the affection of those who labor unceasingly for his political overthrow, but that is one of the penalties flesh must endure in this world of sorrows.

WHEN YOU COME TO THINK OF IT

When you come to think of it, this Dundonald debate makes the Canadian Conservative Opposition look very small.

Here they have a most sensational incident of which they might, if they knew how, take advantage, but they don't know how.

They are blazing away at the Government as if there was something terribly wrong in the organization of the militia, but they don't know what it is, and can't find out.

They are as angry as can be because Sir Frederick Borden saw fit to suppress part of a report made by Lord Dundonald when he had been only a few weeks in Canada, and which they fondly believe will give them the necessary information to go upon. But what can be in it they, in their innocence, seem to be unable to guess.

Here they have their political friends in every regiment, in every officers' mess, in every military institute in Canada, talking over all the problems of Canada's defence all the time, and yet, until this rocket went up, the Opposition had never a word to say in criticism of the Government's course, never challenged a money vote, never laid down a policy of their own, never suggested any drastic measure or any other measure.

They have seen the expenditure on the militia going steadily up, until, to quote Lieut.-Col. Hibbard, 4.7 guns have taken the place of cannon of the vintage of George III., which were good enough for the party of Sir John Macdonald. They have approved the change, and seem never to have dreamed that all the while we were owing our national existence "to the forbearance of others," as Lord Dundonald so graciously puts it.

When you come to think of it, political leaders who make so much fuss about the retirement of General Dundonald, and who are wildly indignant over the exclusion of Dr. Pickel, and who yet are unable to find out what is wrong about the country, deserve to be considered small potatoes and few to the hill.

ROSEBERY, OPPORTUNIST.

In the British political arena the most interesting recent occurrence has been the appearance of Lord Rosebery upon a public platform after a long period of silence in and out of Parliament. The meeting was crowded and enthusiastic. Twenty Liberals of the school called Imperialist, headed by Sir Edward Grey, were upon the platform, and yet the speech, full though it was of brilliant epigram and criticism upon governmental measures and errors, seems to have failed to add to his reputation as "the coming man." At a time when the divisions among the various wings of the Liberal party which caused it to fall to pieces during the third session of the 1892 Parliament seemed to have been lost sight of in view of the reaction against Unionism and Toryism, so evident throughout the constituencies, and so independent of any special issue, even such as fiscal reform or education, Lord Rosebery seems to have gone out of his way to accentuate the differences upon fundamental questions of policy which still exist between sections of the present Opposition. For instance, he spoke of "Tory Liberals who consider that every measure, perhaps even every motion, that has ever been brought forward by a Liberal leader or the Liberal government as something to be kept on tablets of stone until it is passed into law, whether it be superannuated or suited to the wants of the time or not." This was apropos to a general statement of the unwisdom, even the impossibility, of reverting to the old programme of the Liberal party when it was united under Mr. Gladstone's leadership. Considering that even the party organizers are not sanguine of having a majority independently of the eighty-two Nationalists who may be expected to act in the next Parliament as in this as an unit under the guidance of Mr. Redmond, it seemed an unnecessary offence to put himself on record in this latest speech in the following words:

"I am perfectly certain, as certain as that I am standing here, that there is no possibility whatever of the next Liberal government establishing or attempting to establish a Parliament in Dublin," and he added: "Such a policy requires an alliance with the Irish party, but is an alliance with the Irish party possible when they are opposed to you on education, on temperance, and, so far as known, on the fiscal question as well?"

In the matter of foreign affairs, the former Liberal holder of that office created a mild sensation by alluding to the latest Anglo-French agreement as most one-sided, and by expressing the hope "rather than the belief" that the power which holds Gibraltar may never have cause to regret "having handed Morocco over to a great military power."

However, Lord Rosebery left open to himself a means of retreat from these somewhat doubtful politically strategic positions. He is, we think, the first British statesman to deliberately proclaim himself an opportunist. "I say that our practical spirit in politics is one which requires practical measures suited not to yesterday, but to to-day or even, to-morrow. If I am told this is oportunism, I reply: I do not know whether it is opportunism, but I am quite sure it is common sense."

Lord Rosebery believes firmly in a crushing defeat for the Balfour-Chamberlain combination at the polls this year, or, more probably, next. He thinks without giving any definite pledges as to a programme, the Opposition has a considerable period of quiet administrative existence before it without introducing "burning questions."

It is characteristic of the large body of public opinion in Great Britain that, notwithstanding his lack of that fire and enthusiasm which marked the career of Mr. Gladstone, Lord Rosebery continues to be a factor in political life, and that the position which he occupies, or declines, when the next ministry has to be constituted, remains a serious question for his possible colleagues.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

If the Dominion owes its existence "to the forbearance of others," what are the Conservatives going to do about it?

If General Dundonald has been adopting this tone towards the Government all along, no wonder Sir Wilfrid called it "dragooning."

If Liberals proclaimed the uselessness of the Canadian militia as the Conservatives are now doing, there would be a howl from the Conservative officers thereof.

The Toronto News sees a prospect of Germany raiding the St. Lawrence. Toronto needn't worry in that event. It will be all off with the German when he meets Jean Baptiste.

If all of that suppressed report was as indiscreet as this last announcement that we owe our national existence to the "forbearance of others," perhaps it's just as well it was suppressed.

It seems that Cochrane is only an assumed name, and that by rights Dundonald is a Blair. That makes two Blairs over whom the Conservatives have gone into raptures—for a spell.

We are continually being reminded that the Boers bought rifles. So they did. But is it certain that the purchase was good for the Boer Republics? Did it increase "the forbearance of others?"

While some Scottish societies are passing resolutions denouncing the Government for relieving this distinguished Scotsman of his occupation, other Scotchmen are quietly regretting that a Scot should have shown such bad judgment.

If we owe our national existence to "the forbearance of others," now when the Liberals are spending nearly four millions a year on the militia, think of how great that "forbearance" must have been when the Conservatives were in office, and spending a little over one million!

It is to be hoped General Dundonald's military tactics are better than those he has used in his declaration of war upon the Laurier Government. If he often makes such blunders as he has made in this case (i.e., the letter to Sam Hughes) a less brilliant man might make a better leader.

General Dundonald, in his last statement, explains: "how difficult it was to get qualified officers for the militia," especially in the Townships. And yet he invited dismissal by insisting on the appointment of Dr. Pickel, who had no military qualification, while men who had it could not get even a hearing.

General Dundonald says in his last statement: "In the small area of the Eastern Townships the number of cavalry officers has been increased from 26 to 192, and the number of squadrons from four to twenty." Does that look as though the Government was trusting altogether to the "forbearance of others?"

The Gazette, commenting on the Missisquoi election trial, intimates that Mr. McCorkill was dazzled by the idea of being appointed Provincial Treasurer. All who know the circumstances under which Mr. McCorkill accepted his present position are aware that he was strongly opposed to accepting the office, and did so only in response to a demand so general as to convince him that his duty lay that way. In this case, if ever, the office sought the man.

Views of French Press

Le Canada—From the tone of his memorandum, the impression is gained that Lord Dundonald believed he was sent to Canada by the War Office with the special mission of reorganizing the militia according to the desires of the War Office.

La Patrie—A people that honors its dead and erects statues to the memory of its great men, can look to the future with confidence. Canada has not enough of these statues. The land should be covered with them.

Le Canada—Lord Dundonald made a mistake when he gave the impression that it was Hon. Mr. Fisher who had caused all the troubue. He should have come out at the start and taken issue with the Minister of Militia.

The Tragedian—Knight stands can't keep a cent.

The Comedian—Don't you believe it. He's got twenty-five of mine all right.

FAMILY COMPACT GET THE BLAME

Townships People Satisfied That Baker Clique Caused All the Trouble.

(Staff Correspondence of The Herald.)

Sweetsburg, Que., June 22.—One might be pardoned a feeling of surprise to find, upon coming into this village, which has acquired sudden fame, that its inhabitants find time to think and talk of other than militia matters. But such is the case. One fails to find even here that gigantic upheaval of public opinion which the Conservative press pretends to see in the Eastern Townships against Hon. Mr. Fisher and the Laurier Government. There are few of those signs which foretell the downfall of a Government or even the political deathknell of a Minister of the Crown. Farmers were found reflecting pleasantly on the opportuneness of the previous night's shower and the excellent outlook for crops generally. The lawyers—and Sweetsburg has a plethora of these—discussed the latest phase of the election trial, and the conversation of villagers ranged over topics as diverse and many as their interests. One had to introduce the militia subject in order to get any opinion thereon, and even then they discussed it with a slightly reminiscent air, as if it were a thing of the past.

Indignation is Still Strong.

Nevertheless, the Family Compact—an epithet, by the way, which sticks—is a reality. The scheme to confine all the commissions of "E" Squadron to one family aroused indignation which is still strong. If political antagonism has been accentuated in certain cases in this district—and this becomes apparent after a while—it can be traced back to the announcement that the Bakers had a family preserve in "E" Squadron. There were some Liberals in the district who, rightly or wrongly, conceived the idea that they were entitled to a commission, and that they had the interests of "E" Squadron just as much at heart as some others. But their applications were turned down without being seriously considered. The commissions were awarded at what was practically a secret meeting. It was attended by representatives of the Baker family and Lieut.-Col. Smart. No outsiders were invited, despite statements to the contrary. That meeting took place in Cowansville in the latter part of March. The list decided upon has become a matter of history.

Later on, about April 1, Lieut.-Col. Smart came down again from Montreal. He had received some letters from parties here who were dissatisfied with the arrangement of commissions. He met the following gentlemen, who had applied for commissions, in the Ottawa Hotel, Cowansville:—Messrs. J. McNeil Miltimore, J. C. Miltimore, T. F. Cotton, K. P. Allen and W. P. Miltimore. These men happened to be Liberals. They asked the regimental commander for a fair show, but received no encouraging reply. Lieut.-Col. Smart told them he was satisfied with the first draft. It was pointed out that that list was almost entirely Conservative. He deplored the introduction of politics into the subject, and said that politics had never been considered in making any militia appointments in the district.

Officers Were All Conservatives.

There are different views entertained on that subject, and it is a notorious fact that three other military organizations in this portion of the province had fallen through because they were practically political organizations. These were the 60th Battalion of Missisquoi, the 79th Highlanders of Brome, and the 52nd Infantry of Brome. Their officers to a man had been Conservatives. These dropped out of existence three or four years ago. An attempt was made to replace them by cavalry, but with the exception of the formation of the 6th Hussars at Cowansville, which was later transferred to Montreal, nothing has been done toward this end until the 13th Scottish Dragoons was proposed.

It is well to note that Conservatives have been given a fair share of the commissions in the other four squadrons of the regiment. In squadron "D," with headquarters at Stanbridge East, all the officers chosen but one are Conservatives. In squadron "C" they also have a majority, and in "A" and "B" they have at least half. Even Sweetsburg Conservatives are free to admit that their party has been given a fair show all through the regiment.

Mr. J. M. Miltimore, who is a prominent farmer near here, and the best rifle shot in the district, was one of the disappointed applicants for a commission in "E" squadron. He stated yesterday that Hon. Mr. Fisher's statement in the House of what occurred in connection with the Sweetsburg list was true in every particular. The Minister had not kept anything back and had pursued a perfectly honest course with Lt.-Col. Smart and everyone else concerned. This was corroborated by Mr. J. C. Miltimore and others.

A Claim That Won't Hold.

The statement has been made that Cowansville is a better recruiting centre than Adamsville, and that is advanced as the reason why the squadron was transferred from Brome. This is not borne out by results. Recruiting has been vigorously carried on for some time, but it has been found necessary to go as far afield for men as Sutton, a distance of fourteen miles. It is also said that the class of men is not uniformly satisfactory. In view of the fact that recruiting in Adamsville district was practically completed several months ago, this reason given for the transfer of the squadron from Adamsville to Cowansville is not convincing. Several gentlemen in Cowansville and Sweetsburg—it is only fair to say that with one exception they are Liberals—assert that the transfer was made in order to provide a Conservative family with commissions, and this view is generally entertained in Brome county.

Concession to Public Opinion.

"B" squadron was originally placed at Mansonville, and this was called a Brome squadron. As Mansonville is on the border line between Brome and Stanstead, and across the range of mountains, it could hardly be called a Brome county squadron. However, to allay the dissatisfaction caused by the transfer of the Adamsville squadron to Cowansville, the headquarters of "B" squadron were recently transferred from Mansonville to Knowlton. As far as the northwest portion of Brome is concerned the change has given little satisfaction. Moreover the organization of "B" squadron has made no headway. Major Carr, a Compton county man, and a Conservative, has been placed in command, and as far as known he has not yet appeared in the county. Very few men have yet been secured although camp opens in less than a week.

Nothing has yet been done to fill the vacant command of "E" squadron, Capt. Baker is acting command. It is the general impression here that the place is being kept for some good Conservative.

In view of these facts, the charges of political interference on the part of Hon. Mr. Fisher are not taken very seriously even in this Conservative stronghold. Instead the Minister would have been justified in seeing that there was a more equal division of "E" squadron commissions. The Conservatives are satisfied to let things go as they are at present, and say nothing. On good authority it is said that the Liberal candidate in Missisquoi next election will not lose a single vote, and the return of the Minister of Agriculture in Brome by an increased majority is conceded on all sides.

Sherbrooke Drill Shed.

It is an old building, weather-beaten, with boarded-up windows, and standing on the corner of a vacant lot, which is graced by footpaths and long grasses. Upon one side of it is a small refreshment booth, where refreshments are not available, for it is never in use. The ancient inscription, "Lemonade, 5c," breaks the monotony of that particular side of the building, and its low roof has offered great attractions to the boys of the neighborhood who could get to the top of the building proper with its assistance. It is not an attractive building. It is not a large enough building for its requirements, but it is a building which has seen many interesting gatherings, other than for drilling of soldiers, and to the townspeople generally it has been, and still is, endeared. To outsiders generally it is known as the Sherbrooke Drill Shed.

In this venerable old shed has the 53rd Regiment drilled for many years. From this old shed, for many years also, has it marched up Montreal Street to the parade ground for its annual review, where citizens of Sherbrooke, of both races and both political parties, annually gathered to watch those of its population who wore the red coat and of whom they were all pardonably proud. Indeed, in few towns could there be more appreciation of its citizen soldiers than in this one. Celebrations of all kinds were incomplete without its military organization, where companies and officers were personally known to the interested citizens.

WHERE TO FIND A LAUGH

Through The Herald's Sieve.

IT WOULD come in handy for next winter to know the kind of a furnace the weather man is using just now.

THE JAPS continue to "git thar fustest with the mostest."

A Vocal Jag.

Her voice trembled like the tottering steps of a drunken man.—From the Ladies' Home Journal $1,000 prize love story.

A DISPATCH from London says diamonds have gone up ten per cent. That's reasonable. The summer engagement season is at hand.

IT IS SAID that if China should adopt the German conscription rules she could put a force of 37,000,000 men in the field. Nixie. There isn't any field that would hold 37,000,000 men.

IT TOOK Dundonald several weeks to get into Ladysmith and two years to butt into politics.

A CON. ORATOR made a speech in Ontario, and got so excited talking about the G.T.P.

he forgot to mention the Dundonald matter. Borden may read him out of the party.

Foiled.

(Harvard Lampoon.)

From his desk the toiling tailor
Raised his weary, aching head;
"Ah! the task is now completed—
And all my work is dun," he said.

Straight he hied him to a mailbox,
Raised his hand to drop within
All the dainty notes he'd written,
Asking for the students' tin.

But, through one wise student's forethought,
From above the box a sign
Struck the baffled tailor speechless:
"Post No Bills—Five Hundred Fine!"

"I am foiled," he hoarsely whispered,
Bowed his head and stole away.
Several hundred students wondered
They were never asked to pay.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN is suffering from the millionaire's stomach. If this thing keeps up nobody will want to possess wealth.

CAST YOUR BREAD upon the waters, and you will realize how many people are out for the dough.

Not Satisfied With the Place.

Mrs. Backlotz—So your servant girl has left you again?
Mrs. Westmounte—Yes.
Mrs. Backlotz—What was the matter?
Mrs. Westmounte—She didn't like the way I did the work.

UNDER the system of electrocution in Ohio they have to kill a condemned murderer from three to five times before he will stay dead.

When He Had 'Em.

Clerk—Gee, he's had twenty.
Bellboy—He says this one's for the snake.

PERHAPS you have noticed that it's Pugilist Jeffries's kneebone and not his jawbone that is out of order.

New U. S. Stamp.

(Denver Post.)

The new postage stamp is almost large enough to be used as a porous plaster in cases of emergency.

WELL, if the Czar cannot go to the front, the front shows a mighty strong inclination to come to the Czar.

OCEAN JOURNALISM.

[Many of the big ocean liners are now printing newspapers on board with the aid of the Marconi Wireless.]

EDITORIAL.

Our last week's issue had to be omitted,
A circumstance that gives us much distress.
A tidal wave came leaping through our office
And pied the forms before we got to press.

PERSONAL.

Bill Jones, our ever-gallant quartermaster,
Is still on deck, despite a recent spill.
The next time some one tries to ride a seahorse
He'll get a bridle first. How 'bout it, Bill?

ACCEPTED A POSITION.

Tom Brown, whom everybody will remember,
Aboard the Grampus has a fine new berth.
His many friends regret that he must leave us,
Of such good men as Tom there is a dearth.

LOST AND FOUND.

A stranger in our midst from far Vancouver,
Who asks us not to mention him by name,
Lost six or seven meals in quick succession
And offers nothing for return of same.

EXCHANGES.

That Tory sheet, "The Siren and Propeller,"
Is telling fakes about Dundonald, we Feel sure the truth is quite apparent,
"The Siren and Propeller's" all at sea.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Professor Prewins, 'Varsity Toronto,
Will write next year exclusively for us;
"Do seadogs ever have the hydrophobia?"
Is one of many questions he'll discuss.

GREAT crop weather out West. Of course the farmers always notice that that weather always comes when Laurier is in power.

Tin Cans and Things.

(Chicago Tribune.)

The goat is a wonderful animal. Think of the things it eats and the rich milk it gives.

DON'T be too strenuous in maintaining that this is the longest day in the year. According to that unimpeachable authority, the Old Farmers' Almanack, all the days from June 18 to June 24, inclusive, have the same length—15 hrs. 17 mins.

FILTERED WATER WANTED IF COST IS NOT TOO GREAT

That is the General Opinion in Westmount and St. Henri—Westmounters Object to "Ridiculously" Increased Rates.

The special offer that has been made to the town of Westmount by the Montreal Water and Power Company in order to give the town pure, filtered water, was explained to The Herald to-day by a member of the special water committee of the Town Council. At the present time the citizens of the town pay 40 per cent. of the rate of Montreal and in addition the town pays a hydrant rental that totals between $10,000 and $12,000 a year.

What the company wants in order to instal a filtering plant is that there should be an increase of 30 per cent. in the rates paid by the citizens and twenty per cent. in the rates paid by the town. In order to show the special water committee just what this will mean the company has agreed to submit a report to-morrow to the committee that will make the matter clear. From the information at present in the hands of the committee, by the new contract the company will get between $30,000 and $35,000 from the town.

Another important change that the company asks is that the town should agree to the striking out of the clause in the old contract which stated that the water supply should be secured from the Back River.

Councillor Duclos Favors.

The stand that the town of Westmount will take towards the offer made by the Montreal Water and Power Company was explained to The Herald to-day by Councillor C. A. Duclos, the chairman of the special water committee, appointed to deal with the Water Company.

"After going over the whole matter," stated Mr. Duclos, "I consider that our agreeing to the contract will depend very largely on our finding that the additional amount of revenue that the company will secure will just about pay the town's share of the interest on the big expenditure the company will have to make to instal a filtration plant.

"Personally I consider everything possible should be done to assist the company to instal such a plant.

"If it is shown that the town will get a dollar's worth of value for every dollar of increased revenue the company will secure there should not be any hesitation in agreeing to the new contract.

"The question of the town retaining its right to having the water supplied from the Back River, is not an important one.

"The condition of the water in that river at present is entirely different from what it was when the contract was made.

"As soon as the company submits its report, showing just what the difference will mean to Westmount a meeting of the special water committee will be called to consider it. I do not think that the new contract is a matter that will have to be submitted to the ratepayers. The Council is empowered to deal with it without going to the ratepayers."

St. Henri Water Must Be Pure.

Mayor Guay of St. Henri, made the following statement:

"We consider that everything possible should be done to secure pure drinking water for our citizens.

"By the present contract the company is only bound to supply water as pure as that supplied the city of Montreal. If this standard is not high enough the only thing for the suburbs to do is to agree with the Water and Power Company regarding the installation of a system of filtration.

"No expense should be spared to get pure water. The loss of life that the town suffered last year shows that if necessary we should agree to pay more for our water and be sure that it is pure. An epidemic like that of last year must not be allowed to occur again.

"The question of increase in rates is one that must be gone into thoroughly before a decision can be reached one way or another. As far as St. Henri is concerned it is a question that the Town Council will decide without appealing to the ratepayers."

Increase is Too Great.

Mr. John McKergow, of 13 Rosemount Avenue, Westmount, when seen concerning the proposition of the Montreal Water and Power Company, stated that he would be quite willing to pay a higher rate than the present one in order to get pure water, but that the increase asked was far too much. Although he has been unable to closely study the offer the company apparently wish to double the price. From 20 per cent. to 25 per cent. would be a reasonable advance for filtered water but a doubling of the price seems exorbitant. "While the company are supposed to supply pure water at present rates they are not necessarily compelled to supply filtered water, which is what is required to avoid a condition like last winter and but few would be found who would object to a reasonable increase of the rates for this purpose. But what the company asks is a ridiculously great increase.

Wants Filter at Right Place.

Mr. D. W. Ross, expressed himself as follows on the same question: "I am out flat-footed for filtered water and nothing else, but I am not altogether prepared to say without further study of the matter whether or not we should have to pay the price demanded by the water company. In a letter I wrote the Herald some time ago my view was that very much less would recoup the company for the additional expenditure in putting in a filtering plant—say about 10 per cent. increase. If the increase be as excessive as it apparently is I would like to know why Westmount should lose the advantage of its good contract and be put upon a less favorable basis without some compensation. Why should a municipality on a 40 per cent. basis be put upon the same basis as one at 90 per cent. by a stroke of a pen?

"But at any rate it is a matter of life and death to the citizens and further postponement of the question should not be considered. In a few months with present conditions we shall in all probability, be face to face with the identical situation of last winter and something must be done. Whether it be by arrangement with the Water Company or by Westmount erecting a filtration plant of its own."

Would Pay More for Filtered Water.

Mr. Matthew Hutchinson, K.C., of Westmount, when asked yesterday afternoon for his opinion of the Water and Power Company's filtration proposals, stated that he was willing to pay more for the water of Westmount provided that it was properly filtered. "I do not think," said Mr. Hutchinson, "that the people of Westmount would begrudge paying considerably more than they do, if they were assured of a satisfactory water supply all the year round. We cannot oblige the Water Company to filter the water, for there is no such clause in their contract. I am not in a position to say whether their present proposition is a reasonable one or not. To-day our water is as pure as that used in the City of Montreal and in the towns along the St. Lawrence. Notwithstanding this, it is to our advantage to have our water filtered. We pay at present a very low water rate, but the rental of the hydrants has to be taken into consideration. We can oblige the company to put down hydrants on every street at intervals of 500 feet, but for each hydrant installed, we pay an annual rental of fifty dollars. If this be added to the proposed rate with the filtration system, it seems to me that the water would be somewhat dear. But I think we are quite satisfied to pay a higher rate for filtered water."

Company Must Furnish Pure Water.

Mr. D. Ross-Ross, stated to The Herald this morning that, although he had not seen the proposal the Montreal Water and Power Company had made to Westmount concerning the installation of filters for the purification of water furnished the town, yet he was decidedly opposed to any increase in rates as he felt that the present agreement existing between the town and the company, compelled the latter to furnish pure water.

"The Montreal Water and Power Company" said Mr. Ross-Ross, "is under obligations to supply the town of Westmount with good and wholesome water at certain specified rates, which they now propose doing at a heavy advance in the rates. If the company has failed during the last thirteen years to carry out the conditions of the existing contract, what guarantee have we that the conditions of the new proposal would be fulfilled if the town entered into an agreement that would bind it for the next forty years."

Does Tobacco Affect the Health?

In a Thousand Ways its Excessive Use is Injurious to the System—Causes Heart and Nerve Troubles.

That tobacco exerts a very decided influence upon the body is unquestioned. Thoughtful physicians prohibit smoking in convalescence just as they do in the formative years of youth, when the system is so susceptible to the actions of narcotics.

In functional heart trouble the tobacco habit is often looked for as a cause, and many a smoker wakes up at night feeling all the terrors caused by a fluttering, palpitating heart.

If there is something wrong with your heart that makes you wake up with a start, you ought to take Ferrozone regularly, because it is the best heart medicine made. All the muscles and nerves about the heart are strengthened and given new force by Ferrozone, which is noted for its prompt cures of heart disease.

As a rule weak heart and weak nerves go together, so it is important that Ferrozone should be used until the nervous system is completely restored. From every part of America comes convincing evidence that Ferrozone possesses merit far beyond the ordinary. Its cures are lasting, like that of a well known merchant in St. Johns, Mr. Philip T. Dayton, who writes: "I can give good advice to everyone suffering from heart weakness. I was in a very low condition a few months ago, and was unable to work. Without any apparent cause I would jump and start. I could not sleep more than an hour without being awakened by pain and palpitation of the heart. I used different preparations, but found Ferrozone the best. It improved my general health, strengthened my heart and nerves, and enabled me to go to work again. Nothing else ever helped my heart like Ferrozone, which has cured me perfectly. I would advise others troubled with either nerve or heart trouble to use Ferrozone also."

No one ever used Ferrozone without lasting benefits. It builds up weak people, nourishes the starved nerves, and tones up the muscles of the heart. Ferrozone is prepared in tablet form, and is simple and convenient to take; it is sure to help you.

Do not allow an unscrupulous dealer to recommend anything in place of Ferrozone. Get what you ask for. Insist on Ferrozone which will be mailed to any address, price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, by N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Mr. Mullin declines to make further statement at present, but he says a story that he would be a candidate for St. John county in the next Federal election is quite true and that he has the backing of many leading Liberals.

Court Completely Exonerates the Hon. Mr. McCorkill.

Quebec, June 22.—(Special.)—Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Provincial Treasurer, was interviewed respecting the published report that he had admitted bribery on the part of his agents without his knowledge and had vacated his seat in the Legislature.

Mr. McCorkill made the following statement:

"I have not vacated my seat. It came to my knowledge that, in their zeal, one or two of my supporters committed acts which are prohibited by the election law, which is a very rigid one. I therefore admitted that corrupt acts were committed without my knowledge or authority, but upon the matter of pending objections which I filed, and the exceptions to the interlocutory judgments which had been rendered in the case which will be heard before the Court of Review. If my objections are well founded and if the trial was illegally fixed for the 12th of March, the petition will be dismissed, and I will be confirmed in my seat. On the other hand, if my objections are unfounded and the judge had a right on the 11th of March to proceed on the 12th without notice to interested parties, and the making of proof on the 12th of facts admitted by me constitutes a legal transaction of the trial within four months of the publication of the election, the election petition will be maintained and my seat will be declared vacant. After filing yesterday the admissions of corrupt practices of my agents, I asked the petitioners to proceed upon the charges of corruption against myself personally, and declared myself ready to be examined on the whole election. The petitioners' counsel arose and declared that the petitioners did not intend to press th personal charges alleged against me and the court thereupon declared that I was completely exonerated so fas as I was personally concerned. I was particularly anxious to be examined in the case, because the Opposition press ostentatiously published the personal charges against me with the evident intention of creating the impression that I had laid myself open to disqualification. I consider that it is a very serious accusation to make against my candidate and the press should not be permitted to do so with impunity.

Toronto, June 22.—(Special.)—Premier Ross leaves to-day for Hot Springs, Virginia. He will stay there until August 1 and probably for a week or two longer. Hon. J. M. Gibson, will be acting Premier in his absence. "I am tired," said the Premier yesterday, "and it is probable as a result of this that my rheumatism has been bothering me a good deal recently. I have taken no treatment for it for three years and I am hoping the stay at the Springs will relieve me. I shall have a rest at any rate and that is what I need, I think. Apart from this rheumatism I am feeling very well." Mr. Charles Chase, the Premier's secretary, will be his only companion while away.

The marriage of Miss Helen Adelle Snyder, M.A., Ph.D., daughter of Mr. B. S. Snyder, of Carleton Place, to Prof. Clarence Dickenson, of Chicago, organist of St. James Episcopal Church took place last evening. The ceremony took place at high noon, Rev. A. A. Scott officiating. A peculiar feature of the ceremony was the ring. The bride and groom each gave the other a ring, both exactly the same, and both made from a historical ring of great antiquity, given to the bride whilst residing in Germany. After the reception the young couple left by the afternoon express for Boston, from whence they sail for Europe, and will spend the summer months on the continent. The bride is a highly accomplished young lady, and can converse fluently in several languages, French, German, English, Italian and even Spanish. She has occupied the position of professor of languages in the Pennsylvania State University for three years, and was also dean of the women's department. The groom's gift to his bride was a diamond ring.

Royal Military College Ball.

Kingston, Ont., June 22.—(Special.)—The June ball at the Royal Military College last night was a great success, attracting visitors from all parts of Canada. The event is growing in importance, and the occasion is one that is highly regarded as uitable for the bringing out of debutantes. This year about two score entered society. The ball is given by the commandant, officers and cadets to their friends whose hospitality they have enjoyed during the session. The new gymnasium, with its fine floor and capacious spaces, was charmingly decorated and adorned for the event. About 500 were in attendance. There were scores of friends from Toronto, London, Hamilton, Montreal, Ottawa and other places, and a time of fine enjoyment was experienced. The night was charmingly cool, a south-westerly breeze adding to the delight of the dancers. Col. and Mrs. Raymond Reade received the guests at 8.30 o'clock. Dancing to the music of an excellent band from Watertown, N.Y., was kept up until an early hour, refreshments being served after the midnight hour. Among the many debutantes were these:—Miss Jessie Smith, Miss Nan Patterson, Miss Julia Horsey, Miss Florence Hudon, Miss Loretto Shannon, Miss Florence Williamson, Miss Gertrude Wilkinson, Miss Mildred Jones and Miss Minnie Gordon, Kingston; Miss Kathleen Despard, Picton; Miss Louise Sells, Belleville, and Miss Edith Hardy, Napanee. The dresses of the ladies were particularly beautiful.

A notable feature of the ball was the presentation to Miss Irving, of Toronto, the first daughter of a Cadet to appear at the College ball, of a beautiful bouquet of white roses, tied with streamers of the College ribbon, a graceful thought on the part of the Cadets and a much appreciated one by the pretty recipient.

It might be repeated that Miss Irving's father was one of the "Old eighteen," which is College parlance for the first class which entered in the year of opening, 1878, many members of which have distinguished themselves and established standards and created traditions which have helped to make the R.M.C. what it is to-day.

CANADA AS A NATION.

Sherbrooke, June 22.—(Special.)—The patron saint day—St. Jean Baptiste—of the French-Canadians was celebrated here. The day was given up to general rejoicing. The St. Jean Baptiste Society attended high mass in St. Michael's Cathedral in the morning, and in the afternoon a mass meeting was held in Victoria Park, when addresses were delivered by Mr. F. X. Hebert, the president, Mr. M. I. Stenson, collector of customs; Mr. G. deLottenville, Mr. J. O. Masse and Mr. L. H. Brodeur. In the evening the Clement Theatre was crowded to hear Mr. H. Bourassa, M.P.

Mr. Bourassa was greeted with great applause on rising to speak. His remarks were devoted chiefly to the duties of the French-Canadian towards the English-speaking population, with the end in view of forming one common ground for the advancement of the country. He pointed out that while the French-Canadians may keep their own character, their own institutions, and their own racial peculiarities, at the same time these ideas must be coupled with a Canadian nationality. The future of this country would never be anything until such time as both races learned and realized that there was room in the country for both. While each remained within their own sphere so far as their peculiarities were concerned there must be one common ground to be found by both races to be united without being merged into one another. In order to reach that end each race must have respect and sincerity with the other, as it was a source of much cause of ill-feeling when deception was used. He deprecated the speaking ill of the English when they were not present, and the stooping to them when they were present. The English had no respect for those who had no respect for themselves.

ARE YOU SICK OF DRUGS?

Then Try Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

It is a mistake for any man to think that drugs will build up broken-down nerves and organs. You must give back to the body what it has lost. That is not to be found in drugs, all of which are simply stimulants, like a glass of whiskey. The real strength of the nerves and of all vital organs is electricity. That is what the body has lost; that is what it must get back.

I have cured 50,000 weak, puny, broken-down men in the 23 years that I have applied my belt.

READ WHAT THEY SAY:

Dear Sir.—I am glad to know that you have taken such an interest in my case. I will gladly answer your request by saying that I am feeling fine and strong, and I am sure I will remain in that way. Hoping you will ever prosper in your good works, I will now close. Yours truly. Thos. Graham, Box 533, Inglewood.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your letter, I wish to state that I am still in the best of health, and gaining in weight every week. I recommend the Belt to every one I know for the best permanent cure to be had. I remain, yours truly, L. Roy, 149 St. Andrew Street, Ottawa, Ont.

Entirely Cured of Dyspepsia, Also Varicocele.

Dr. M. F. McLaughlin: Dear Sir.—The doctor at the "Soo" told me that I was suffering from varicocele. I also had a severe pain with it. The parts have now regained their natural firmness and vigor, and unless I stand for a long time I feel no pain whatever. I am also entirely cured of dyspepsia. Thanking you for past favors, I remain, yours truly, D. B. WINTERBOTTOM, WA, WA, ONT.

Can you doubt the proof of those living testimonials? Thousands write to me in the same strain as the above. Any of them would be glad to share their knowledge with you if written to. There is not another remedy in the world to-day that has proven as effective. Its cures speak volumes for the good work it has accomplished.

The reason so many men neglect to use my Belt is that they fear it will fail like other things they have tried. Now, the security I offer to a doubtful man is that he need not pay for my Belt until it does for him what I say it will do, if he will in return give me reasonable security that he will pay me when cured. Isn't this fair? My Belt has cured more than five thousand people the last three years that I have been in business in Canada. Over fifty thousand people have been fully restored to health and strength in the last twenty years, and where it failed to cure I have stood the loss. Now if you are sick or in pain, or a weak man or woman, and if tired of drugging your system, paying out money without result, try my Belt. You have nothing to lose and everything to gain by accepting my liberal offer.

PAY WHEN CURED.

CAUTION.—Thousands write me that they have used Electric Belts and got no benefit. Why? Simply because they have purchased from people who have no practical knowledge of electricity.

CONSULTATION FREE.—If you are close enough to call, do so. Let me show you the difference between my up-to-date appliance and the old-style burning Electric Belts. Let me prove to you why my Belt cures when they fail. If you will call I will give you a free test to show you how it cures.

FREE BOOK.—If you can't call, write for my beautiful descriptive book showing how my Belt is used, and giving hundreds of letters from grateful people. Address, enclosing this ad.

'Ah! then there is one mystery ared up," observed Idris.

'But there are others," remarked relle, "which you are leaving behind solved. Cannot you persuade Mr. eakspear," she added, turning to dfrey, "to abandon his expedition?"

'O, Idris will come back safely," eerfully responded the surgeon, who i not view the enterprise with the me fear as the ladies. "He will re-n covered with glory. He will have ded a valuable chapter to geograph-l science, and will of course write book."

'Of surprising dulness," interjected ris.

'Of surpassing interest," corrected dfrey. "I wonder you never took authorship, for you have what I ssify as the literary head."

'Don't! My vanity is great enough eady."

id you know that Godfrey is an pert in phrenology?" asked Beatrice. 'Not till this moment. But the news mes very opportunely. Man, know yself! Godfrey, give me an intro-ction to Idris Breakspear. Manipu-e my cranium, and let me have a ie account of my character. Be cri-al an dspare not!"

And Godfrey, responsive to Idris' hu-our, proceeded to make a study of his ad.

'Take my notebook, Miss Ravengar," lled Idris, pushing it toward her, nd record my wicked characteristics. w, Godfrey, begin."

'Amativeness," said Godfrey, plac-g his finger-tips beneath Idris' ears, ile Beatrice laughingly wrote the rd.

'You begin alphabetically, do you?" narked Idris. "Amativeness: that, ing interpreted, meaneth love—of—of e ladies generally. That organ is very ge, of course?"

'No. Fairly large."

'O, come, you must be making a mis-ke. Feel again! It's a libel to limit y amatory sentiment to 'fairly large' ly."

'I put it down as seven," replied dfrey.

'What's the highest figure to which u ascend?"

'Nine—in my system."

'And I do not attain the top figure? n't you make it eight, or at least ven and three-quarters."

'The pupils must not dictate to the aster," said Beatrice.

'Combativeness," Godfrey went on, s fingers ascending slightly.

"Combativeness," repeated Idris; "readiness to fight for—for the ladies. Don't say that isn't large."

"It is. Very large, indeed.

"Good! There may be some truth in phrenology after all. Put" combativeness' down as mine, Miss Ravengar. Go on, Godfrey! Next item, please!"

So amid Idris' badinage Godfrey proceeded with his statements, all of which Beatrice laughingly wrote down. Presently a grave expression stole over Godfrey's face, and before he had ended his task the expression had become one of doubt and perplexity. Both Lorelle and Beatrice noticed it. Idris, however, was precuded by his position from seeing Godfrey's look.

"Well, now, this is very pleasant reading," said Idris banteringly, receiving his pocket-book from Beatrice and glancing over what she had written. "I feel as a returned spirit may be supposed to fel when he peruses the virtues inscribed on his tombstone and fails to recognize himself. Such a character as this, duly attested and signed 'G. Rothwell, M.D.,' ought to procure me a free pass to any part of Thibet."

He began to talk of his intended expedition and a trifling argument arising between himself and Godfrey relative to some point of Thibetan geography, Beatrice, as if to settle the dispute, wickedly despatched Idris to the library for a book that she knew he would not find there.

As soon as he had vanished through the doorway she turned to her brother.

"Godfrey, why did you look so serious while studying Idris' head?"

"Did I look serious?"

"Did you look——?" Just listen to him, Lorelle! Don't equivocate. You have discovered something; I know you have. Something that troubles you. What is it? Didn't Idris' character impress you favorably?"

"Idris' character is exactly as I gave it."

"Then why look as if he were an ogre?"

"It is but twenty-four hours since I examined another head."

"Whose?"

"You shall learn presently. Here is the result of my study of 'Nemo,' as I call him."

He drew out his own pocket-book and directed Beatrice's attention to a certain page headed 'Character of Nemo.'

Very much puzzled, Beatrice conned his notes, but had not proceeded very far before she snatched up Idris' pocket-book and began to compare the remarks in each.

"'Amativeness—seven. Combativeness—nine,'" she murmured, reading the list of characteristics. "Why, there is no difference between them," she exclaimed. "Idris and your 'Nemo' have heads exactly alike."

"The very thought that struck me just now."

"Who is this 'Nemo?'"

"That is what I wish to know."

"Didn't the man give you his name, then?"

"I didn't ask him for it."

"Why not?"

"He couldn't have told me if I had."

"He wished to remain incognito?"

"He didn't give verbal expression to that effect.; in fact he had lost the power of speaking."

"Was he dumb, then?"

"Very much so."

"O, Godfrey, do be explicit, and speak so that we can understand."

"Truth to tell, the man was dead."

Beatrice gave a little scream.

"And his head reposes in that cabinet," continued Godfrey.

"You mean the Viking's skull?"

"You've hit the mark."

"But what——what——?"

"What made me desirous of learning the character of the man to whom the skull belonged?" A passing whim—nothing more. As I was casually opening the cabinet yesterday the skull caught my eye. 'Come!' said I, 'let me see the sort of fellow you were when alive.' And this," added Godfrey, tapping his note-book, "this is the result. Idris spends long years in deciphering a runic inscription on an ancient ring; acting on the vague hints furnished by it he undertakes an expedition to Ormfell, obtaining as his reward a skull whose phrenological development corresponds exactly with his own. He was quite right in his opinion that the Viking's tomb would contain a clue towards solving his father's fate, for it is my firm belief that the skull in that cabinet is none other than the skull of Eric Marville!"

CHAPTER XIX.

The Vengeance of the Skull

Viscount Walden's twenty-first birthday was drawing near, and Ravenhall was making grand preparations for the occasion. Invitations were issued to the local magnates and their families—invitations eagery accepted, for everybody was curious to see both the earl, who had so long secluded himself from society, and the new viscountess, whose secret marriage had invested her with a romantic interest. Entertainment of various kinds was provided, for the earl's guests, as well as for the tenantry of his estates, the day to terminate in a grand ball, preceded by the performance of a poetic drama, written by Lady Walden, and entitled "The Fatal Skull," a drama in which the authoress herself was to take the leading role. The other dramatis personae were drawn from a select circle of Ormsby society, and their frequent rehearsals filled Ravenhall with a mirth and gaiety not known in that gloomy mansion for many years. Lorelle took upon herself the office of stage-directress, and flung herself heart and soul into the work. She was ably seconded by Beatrice Ravengar, who, to the surprise of everybody in Ormsby, had left her brother Godfrey in order to be the companion of the new viscountess. A number of carpenters and scene-shifters from London had transformed the great hall of the castle into a suitable stage and auditorium. Scenic artists were busy at the canvas. Money was freely lavished upon the appropriate theatrical costumes. A leading society paper had asked for, and had obtained the favor of having a reporter present to record the day's doings; in short, everything had been done to ensure success, and the amateur actors looked forward to the event with a pleasurable zest.

The great day came at last, as sunny and fair as could be desired. The earl moved about among his guests and tenanatry with a dignified courtesy, bestowing "nods and becks and wreathed smiles" on all sides in a manner surprising to those who had hitherto regarded him as a sort of gloomy Manfred.

Ivar was on excellent terms with himself; he flirted with the ladies, and patronized the young men with a truly lordly air. A descendant of a noble house; heir to a splendid estate; husband of a wife whose loveliness and literary abilities were the theme of universal praise—what more could he desire? Indifferent himself to Lorelle's charms, he was not displeased to witness the admiration they excited in others. She was a part of his property as it were; it was but fitting that she should receive her tribute of praise along with the other items of the Ravengar estate.

Lady Walden made an ideal hostess, and the guests whispered in secret that if the rumor were true that her own family was not of the highest, her beauty and sprightliness amply compensated for the deficiency. From her manner one would have deemed her the happiest lady in the county. Once only did she give evidence of the real feeling that lay masked beneath her pleasant exterior, and that was when the Mayor of Ormsby, standing upon the flight of steps leading to the grand entrance of Ravenhall, read a long address to Ivar, congratulating him on the attainment of his majority and expressing the hope that both the viscount and his lady might long live to enjoy their exalted rank. At this Lorelle's lips curved for a moment into a bitter smile, and she cast a significant glance at Beatrice, who was seldom absent from her side that day. To those who noted the smile it recurred with peculiar force upon the morrow.

With the coming of twilight, Beatrice stole away from the company to a private portion of the park, taking her course towards a little gateway in the western wall. Near this gate was a wooden bench, and seating herself upon it she drew forth a telegram and glanced at the message it contained, which was singularly brief: "Will be at the place appointed by seven o'clock."

The sender of this telegram was punctual to the minute. St. Oswald's Church clock was chiming the hour when there came a knocking at the wicket-gate. Instantly unlocking it, Beatrice threw it open, and stood face to face with Idris Breakspear.

She greeted him with an air which Idris intuitively felt to be a foreboding of grave things.

"On the point of sailing for India," he observed, "I receive a letter from Miss Ravengar bidding me return at once to Ormsby. Such a message cannot be ignored, and therefore I am here. And the question is, 'Why am I here?'"

"I have not sent for you without cause. It is your duty to follow me, to ask no questions, but to await developments."

"And where are you taking me?" he asked, as she locked the gate.

"There!" exclaimed Beatrice, appealing to an imaginary audience. "His first utterance is a defiance of my orders. However, I will answer that question. You are coming with me to Ravenhall."

Impressed by the oddity of her manner, Idris made no demur, but offered his arm and accepted her guidance.

Their way led by a private path amid dense shrubbery; now and again through a long-drawn vista in the trees Idris caught a glimpse of the more distant portions of the park.

The dusk of a lovely summer's eve was descending upon the lordly terraces and verdant lawns of Ravenhall. Mellowed by the distance the music of a regimental band floated on the air. Al fresco dancing was taking place beside the margin of a gray-gleaming lake. Above was a sky of darkest blue; below the myriad lanterns shining amid the dark foliage made the park appear like a scene from fairyland.

Idris contemplated the picture with mixed feelings. If—and it was a very great "if," he admitted—Lorelle was right in asserting that he himself was the true Earl of Ormsby, then all this fair estate was really his. Well, he had resigned his claim in favor of Lorelle, and would not go from his word. But not till this moment did he fully realize the extent of the sacrifice.

"It is a gala day, I perceive," he remarked. "I learned on my way from the station that Lord Walden has attained his majority. He has a splendid estate in futuro. He ought to be a proud man to-day.

"He is proud, ignorant that like Agamemnon he is treading on purple to his doom."

Idris was surprised at these words, surprised still more by the bitterness with which Beatrice emphasized them. What did this speech portend?

"You have been living at Ravenhall for the past two months, I understand?" he remarked, for want of something better to say.

"Yes, as Lorelle's companion. This is our last day here. Lorelle and I take our departure to-night."

Idris was more mystified than ever. Beatrice smiled as if enjoying his perplexity.

They had now reached the western wing of the mansion, and Beatrice, unlocking a small door, invited Idris to enter.

"Am I to be smuggled in?"

"Yes, for this once, Cousin Idris."

"Cousin Idris," he repeated, emphasizing the first word.

"Did I say 'cousin?'" she asked, with a simulation of innocence. "Well, I won't withdraw the term. Let it remain."

Idris stared hard at her, trying to read her thoughts. If he were really a Ravengar it might be that he was cousin to Beatrice. Was it possible that she and Lorelle had obtained proofs of this? Nay, could it be true that he was really entitled to the earldom? Had he been summoned here by Beatrice to take part in some plot by which the earl should be made to confess himself an usurper? Full of wonder he silently followed his guide. They traversed several corridors and ascended two staircases without encountering anyone, a fact which led Idris to believe that Beatrice had prearranged matters with a view to keeping his visit a secret. Opening a door in an upper corridor, Beatrice drew him forward, remarking: "This is our destination."

WANTS COMMISSION.

Hamilton, Ont., June 22.—(Special.)—There is a case of unusual interest being tried before Judge Meredith here to-day, in which the Government and Hon. Israel Tarte figure prominently. E. A. Walburg, of Ottawa, is suing the Steel Storage Co., of Buffalo, for $18,000 commission for getting the contract for building the grain elevator at Montreal, which cost $550,000. The plaintiff claims the commission asked for was to be included in the tender. The defence will be that Walburg was to get no commission on this job; that the work would be an advertisement for him.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

Shamrock and Brantford Delegates Interview Mr. P. D. Ross, of Ottawa

Answer Will be Given on Minto Cup in Forty-Eight Hours.

Capitals and Nationals is the only game scheduled for Saturday, and a bumper crowd is sure to be at Maisonneuve. The National team will be practically the same as that which went down before the Shamrocks.

The Chippewas left on Saturday for Fergus minus their sticks, which were packed away in a box at the station. It cost the club $130 to have the goods shipped to Fergus by a special in time for the game.—Toronto Star.

The Delegation to Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 22.—The delegates from the Shamrocks and Brantford interviewed yesterday, Mr. P. D. Ross, one of the trustees of the Minto Cup, regarding the challenge of Brantford, as champions of the C.L.A., for the Minto Cup. Mr. Phil Errett, secretary of Brantford, represented the challengers and Messrs. W. McGee and Tom O'Connell represented the Shamrocks.

The Shamrock representatives asked that the trustees, under the circumstances that Brantford having been professionalized by the C.A.A.U., and therefore unable to meet Shamrocks on an amateur basis, decide which club should hold the Minto Cup. The Shamrocks were willing to play an amateur Brantford team, but they absolutely refused to play against professionals. Under the C.A.A.U. ruling they would lose their amateur status if they played Brantford under present conditions. They had been amateurs since 1867 and they desired to safeguard their membership.

The Shamrock delegates laid great stress on the fact that by not playing Brantford they would lose a considerable source of revenue, but they affirmed that they were willing to do so rather than have their players professionalized.

Mr. Errett, the Brantford delegate, in reply, addressed a letter to the trustees demanding that the Shamrocks defend the cup, on the dates specified, and in the event of their refusal that the trustees award the cup to the Brantford Lacrosse Club. Mr. Errett added that the Brantfords are champions of the C. L. A., an organization with an active membership of 2,000 lacrosse players; that the C. L. A. have not recognized the ruling of the C. A. A. U. for years, and also that none of the members of the team had been personally disqualified as amateurs.

Mr. P. D. Ross discussed all the points fully with the delegates, and drew attention to the fact that the C. L. A. did not recognize the rulings of the C.A.A.U. and promised to lay the whole facts of the case before his fellow trustee, Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal. He also said that if Mr. Clouston agreed, an answer would be given in forty-eight hours.

The points for the trustees to decide is whether the cup shall be only open for competition among amateur clubs, or be open to all clubs, irrespective of the rulings of the C.A.A.U., and if they decide that the cup is an amateur cup what their opinion of the status of the Brantford Club is.

After thanking Mr. Ross for the courtesy extended to them the delegates withdrew.

So nothing came of the meeting between Brantford, Shamrock, and Mr. P. D. Ross. Mr. Ross has taken the matter to avizandum.

The Shamrock delegates told Mr. Ross that they were willing to play any amateur team, but drew the line at professionals.

The Brantford delegate replied by demanding that the Shamrocks defend the Minto cup, and in the event of their refusing, that they should hand over the trophy to the challengers.

Mr. Erratt pointed out that Brantford, as champions of the C.L.A., represented some 2,000 active lacrosse players.

To retain or part with the cup rests, of course, with the trustees, and the point at issue is whether a professional organization can challenge for it.

If a C.L.A. club can't challenge, then the trophy represents no honor of possession, and is no longer typical of the Canadian championship.

These are some of the difficulties of the situation the trustees have to face, and Mr. Ross promises that in two days an answer will be given.

The Brantford delegate was strong on the fact that the C.L.A. do not recognize the C.A.A.U. rulings, and that they are a bigger body than the N.A.L.U.

It is interesting to note in this connection that Great Britain and the United States recognize the C.A.A.U. rulings.

Mr. E. S. Clouston's Opinion.

Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal and one of the trustees of the Minto Cup, said yesterday that he had but lately returned from England, and did not yet know all the facts of the case. He therefore found it difficult to give an opinion.

"At the same time," said he, "the ruling by which Brantford has been or is going to be professionalized seems to me a rather peculiar one, namely, the professionalizing of an amateur team for having played against another team upon which there were some professionals.

"When I played cricket, we often played against professionals without jeopardizing our amateur standing."

Perhaps Johnny Powers and Bouse Hutton are beginning to think that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. Better to be on a runner-up team in the N.A.L.U. than a tailender in a second rate league.—Ottawa Citizen.

The Minto Cup trustees are Mr. P. D. Ross, of Ottawa; Mr. E. S. Clouston, of Montreal, and Sir Henry Joly de Lotbiniere.

An Excellent System.

While the question of professionalism in lacrosse is engaging the attention of legislators an example of an excellent system might be quoted. When the Yorkshire and Lancashire clubs broke away from the English Rugby Football Union, they agreed upon a limited professionalism. A fixed basis of payment was made and a certain amount allowed. No player could receive more than the limit. Besides he could not play a match on a Saturday unless he could show a certificate from his employer that he had been at work all week. The amateur was allowed to play alongside the professional. The system has worked well and has been carried out to the strict letter of the law.

Several newspapers are talking strongly about amateurism, and they are right up to a point. True sport should be preserved for the amateur, but men are human and as long as there is money taken at gates a part of that money will find its way somehow or other into somebody's pocket. It is better, therefore, to have an honest understanding in the matter.

To Solve the Difficulty.

It remains with the C.A.A.U. to solve the difficulty. Let them do away with their decision that an amateur cannot play with or against a professional. They are really inconsistent, for in two sports played largely in Canada they do not follow the principle they have laid. What would happen if the C.A.A.U. professionalized the president of the Royal Montreal Golf Club and all the other members because they played with professionals? By their own precedent they ought to professionalize Mr. George S. Lyon, the Canadian golf champion. They ought to go further and relieve of their amateur status every cricketer in Canada. They have acted rightly so far in declaring certain men professionals, for they are, but to debar amateurs from competing with or against them is only to kill interest in lacrosse, and a big upheaval is only a question of time. The better plan is to take time by the forelock, legislate so that control will not be lost, and be firm.

The C.A.A.U. has done a great deal for sport in Canada, and there is much more for it to accomplish. It is to label every man a professional who receives pecuniary benefit for his participation in athletics.

Saturday's game with the Nationals should tell whether the Capitals are going to be in the running for the N.A.L.U. championship.

Strange that the season has gone so far without the formation of some new league or other in the East. Wait!

Joe Lally has a high opinion of Roach, and thinks he is just the man the Nationals want.

To Play the Shamrocks.

Winnipeg, June 22.—It seems likely that the proposed trip of the Winnipeg lacrosse team to the St. Louis Fair will be called off in favor of the trip to Montreal to play the champion Shamrocks. The Winnipeg club held a meeting the other evening, when the suggested jaunts were discussed by the members. Considerable diversity of opinion was expressed, but nothing definite was decided upon.

The club has concluded not to take part in the big lacrosse tournament at the World's Fair, owing to the intense heat prevailing at the Saintly city in July. An effort is being made, however, to arrange for an exhibition game there later on, and to this end the secretary was instructed to write regarding a guarantee. It is not considered likely that the game will be arranged on a basis satisfactory to the Winnipeg Club, and for this reason the Montreal trip is being eyed with favor. A good guarantee could be obtained there and the club would be put to no expense whatever.

Another meeting of the executive will be held shortly, when the matter will be settled. At present the Montreal trip has the call.

The Cornwall Island lacrosse club will run an excursion on the steamer Aletha from St. Regis to Caughnawaga, on July 2, returning the next day. At Caughnawaga, a lacrosse match will take place betweeen the Cornwall Island lacrosse club, holders of the Indian championship and the Caughnawaga lacrosse club. There will also be a matched boat race between the above named teams.

The Ottawa newspapers freely advocate a system of semi-professionalism.

Carleton Place Won.

Carleton Place, June 22.—(Special.)—The Carleton Place lacrosse team played their second match in the Eastern Ontario League, and succeeded in winning out in a score of four to two. Both teams put up a good article of lacrosse. Mr. Percy Jamieson, of Almonte, was referee, and gave perfect satisfaction to opposing teams. The next league match is fixed for Carleton Place on Dominion Day, when Almonte and Carleton Place try conclusions. This is expected to be the match of the season in the Eastern League, as the boys know each other well and are very evenly matched. Mr. P. Gleeson, of Cornwall, is the coach of the Carleton Place team this season.

GOLF AND GOLFERS

Beaconsfield Golf Club.

Thursday is ladies' day at the Beaconsfield Golf Club, and in the morning the qualifying round for the Bolton Cup will be played, the sixteen best scores to compete. During the present week the men are playing off their semi-finals and finals for the club trophy, and on Saturday the usual monthly handicap match will be held.

And Then the Royals Took a Fall As Wm. Clancy Muffed the Ball

But Then it Isn't Often Clancy Makes Those Muffs So Large and Fancy.

THE next time the Birds have anything to do with fourth place we are going to ask it to take its things off and stay.

We were fourth just 24 hours by the clock.

Then we did the Admiral Skykoffenenmoskivitch act and rubbed up against a mine—concealed by the hated enemy.

Score was 1 to 0.

Sad, and at the same time needless to observe, we were attached to the 0.

However, to change the subject, we feel duty bound to announce that a young man living in Point St. Charles, skilled in strategy and general baseball manoeuvers has evolved a new play.

He guarantees it to wear in any kind of weather, says it will not fade in the wash or get tanned in the sun.

It will, he predicts, land the Birds on the top of the heap by July 5th, and altogether make the other teams—Buffalo, Jersey City and that cheap bunch look like a small bottle of mucilage.

He writes to The Herald as follows:

"Tell Atherton to let Joe Yeaker get on second base and to tell Joe to play away off that base so that the catcher is sure to throw the ball down there to catch him. Some times the catcher will make a good throw, but Joe is so quick he can get back safe. Now tell Joe to keep on doing this until the catcher gets tired and makes a wild throw, then Joe can run in and score. This is a fine play. I thought of it a long time ago, and I wanted to write before this. Be sure to tell Atherton about it. Montreal will win lots of games by it. They would easily get first place by July 5th."

"——— G.———."

Now there's a scientist for you.

Just the kind of a man the Japs are loking for to help them out on some plan to put into Port Arthur.

"Tell Atherton to let Joe Yeager get on sec——!"

Police!

A Fine Game.

Newark, N.J., June 21.—(Special.)—It was back to the second division for Montreal to-day.

Though outbatting Newark, 6 to 3, the Sailors nosed out the Royals in the ninth inning of the prettiest game seen on the local grounds this season.

The Sailors lone tally, which won the game, came after two were out, and the prospects from a Newark's standpoint were as blue as indigo.

Clancy's fumble of Dillard's grounder, a daring and successful steal, and Cockman's timely hit to centre turned the game into a victory for the locals. The contest was a pitchers' battle from the breakaway.

Le Roy, the little Indian pitcher, out on the firing line for Montreal, was a wizard in his delivery. He had blinding speed and deceptive curves, and the fact that the Sailors got only three hits, all singles, shows how he held the local timber swingers at his mercy. But Newark also had a puzzling twistmeister handling out the goods. He was Breckenridge, the new pitcher secured from Philadelphia Nationals. Breckenridge was a trifle too liberal than the little son of the forest in the line of allowing hits and dealing out free passes, but he was a "Cy" Young whenever Atherton's frisky colts threatened to score.

He gave three bases on balls in the first three innings, but with each deadhead had two strikes on the batter.

Six times the Royals started away to victory, but were unable to follow up their openings with the bingle on bungles, necessary to bring the men on bases home. As a result nine Royals were left stranded on the cushions.

In the first inning Montreal filled the bases on two bases on balls and a single by Joyce. But at that critical stage Breckenridge showed his form and struck out Atherton and Hartman, retiring the side.

In the third, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth innings the Royals got men on bases, but none got further than the third sack. Newark was helpless until the ninth, and then it was only Clancy's error and the Sailors' ability to follow up their advantage that the locals scored. Breckenridge and O'Hagan had been retiredwhen Dillard poked a grounder at the Montreal first baseman and the latter juggled it long enough to give the runner a life. Then while Le Roy was studying Cockman, the batter-up, Dillard dug out for second. McManus steadied himself at throw, but the runner had gained too big a lead and was safe. Cockman kept the crowd in suspense by fouling several balls over the fence, and finally landed on one which went safe to far centre, on which Dillard scored the one and winning run.—A. A. Pfalzer, Newark News.

Bill's Speed.

Certainly Toronto didn't sign Bill Massey on account of his base running. Remember the earthquakes we used to have when Bill started to get down to first?

Very Sad, Tommy.

Poor Tommy Raub has a batting average of only 198. The Toronto air is not agreeing with Thomas. It's too brittle.

Joe Bean is hitting 279 and Pete Cassidy 271.

Baltimore now has only two men in the "300" department.

In "300" Class.

Bill Clancy and Adams, of Montreal, are now in the "300" class, but only a little way up.

Halligan, the League leader, has an average of 351.

O'Hagan's batting average is 226. Pretty punk.

Jimmy Bannon is batitng 250.

How the Newark sluggers have fallen off. Dillard leads that team with 254.

Yeager vs. Bean.

Joe Bean has made more errors than any man in the Eastern League—21. Bean's fielding average is 899, Joe Yeager's is 912. Yeager has accepted 207 chances and Bean 188 chances. Yeager for us, thanks.

Great Work.

Beanpole Falkenberg, the Toronto pitcher; has a batting average of .059. That's missing them some.

Answer to "Fan."

"Baseball Fan."—As Montreal shut Toronto out, of course the score was doubled. You win the bet.

Answer to "A. and B."

Yes, Scranton was in the Eastern League that season.

Crowd After Haskell.

Umpire Haskell had to seek refuge under the grandstand after the game to avoid being roughly handled by the crowd of angry fans. Some of the officials decisions on bases, all of which were against Newark, aroused the anger of the spectators, and for a time it looked as if trouble would result.

Answer to "E. C."

"E. C."—We have written about Krause but haven't received a reply as yet.

Stick Leaders.

Frank La Porte leads the Buffalo team in batting and old Jocko Halligan leads the entire league with the stick.

Pittsburg, Says Irwin.

Arthur Irwin, manager of the Toronto team, predicted yesterday that Pittsburg would win the National League pennant again this year. "The Pittsburg team could not be improved he said, "even with the pick of other players in the National and American leagues. The Pirates were always slow in striking a gait, but when they do it's for keeps."

Out Cut Plug.

Arthur Irwin is out with a tip, that the American League will invade Pittsburg next season. Arthur is smoking Canadian tobacco this season. —Boston Globe.

Dick Harley blames the foul strike rule for shoving him into a minor league. He says the batting is so light in the Eastern league that the players are talking against the rule.

Two Triple Plays.

Two triple plays were made by Kansas City in the game at Toledo last Tuesday. The first occurred in the fifth, with three on bases. Deininger hit a liner to Lewee, who caught it with one hand. He touched second and threw to Sullivan at third, both runners having left the bases. The second occurred in the seventh, Cristall forcing Brouthers at second and being doubled, Lewee to Ryan. Sweeney had started for home on the play and was caught on Ryan's throw. Toledo won, 8 to 2.

Rube's Speed.

"Rube Waddell can send a ball swifter than any other man we ever saw." —Detroit Journal.

Also a highball.

From Toronto.

All things in time a change must show,
'Tis what the wise men say.
But when your ball club's way down low
It seems to stick that way.

Games To-day.

Montreal at Newark.
Toronto at Baltimore.
Buffalo at Providence.
Rochester at Jersey City.

Mascottes Will Travel.

The Mascotte team will play in Burlington, Vt., Thursday and Friday, and will return in time for Sunday's game at the Mascotte grounds with All-Montreal.

"Silk" O'Loughlin.

"O'Loughlin is still "Silk," in every fabric, the fastest, scrappiest, most lucidly enunciating little umpire in the business. He makes mistakes and admits he does, but on the field he is monarch of the game and his eye and voice are pretty generally right."—Detroit paper.

The first half of the match was very fine ball. The boat races and bicycle races were warmly contested, and a turkey race between young ladies each driving a big gobbler to a given point, furnished a bushel of fun.

Big Outing Bargains for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The great Holiday Season has begun in earnest! St. Jean Baptiste Celebration comes Friday; Dominion Day is only about a week away; and much private Holidaying is already going on. It is good business to make things pleasant and easy for the public. That's why we have resolved to give them the benefit of Big Reductions on Outing Goods Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Here are some "pointers" to indicate what will take place on a large scale at this Store on the aforementioned days.

Sensational Value in Ladies' Tweed Skirts

There is no doubt these Skirts will create a great sensation, and that is just what we intended they should. We also realize that with a great many, the fact that we are going to sell them at $2.95 will hurt the sale, as many women will say: I wouldn't wear a $2.95 Skirt. Not much of a Skirt that you can buy for $2.95. There's something wrong with them or they wouldn't be sold for $2.95. To those who soliloquize in that wise, we wish to say, with emphasis, and we want to say it so strong that it will be indelibly imprinted upon their mind for all time to come: There is not one that you would not consider a bargain if we offered it for $5.00. We are receiving our regular profit at $2.95 for these Skirts. Why should we ask any more? We bought the lot, which comprises 500 of them, at our own price. But what is the use of arguing the matter, we have them here FOR SALE AT $2.95, and assure you that they are worth from $5.50 to $6.75. All we say is come and get one, at $2.95. We have them in all sizes, in Fine Striped Tweed Effects.

Stocks and Money.

BAD NEWS FOR COAL SHAREHOLDERS, DIVIDEND PASSED; C.P.R. UP AGAIN

A good portion of the Street was considerably disappointed to-day at the action of the Dominion Coal directors in deferring the payment of the dividend.

It is fair to say of course that many predicted this move and were not surprised when the announcement came.

It was scarcely an agreeable surprise to anybody, however, although the stand has repeatedly been taken that the move, under the circumstances, would be strictly in the interests of the company, which has several big problems to face, both of a financial and mining character.

The recent history of the company is not a very pleasing one for small shareholders to contemplate, and it is only gratifying to observe in this connection that the number of small shareholders has dwindled considerably, it being a pretty well known fact that the stock is now largely held by the directors.

Nevertheless we have the fact that not so many months ago Dominion Coal tempted investors with its "eight per cent. guaranteed dividend."

It looked reasonably good when on that basis and no doubt a great deal of money was invested in the stock by people who could ill-afford to stand the series of set backs which culminated on yesterday's move.

The events leading up to and following the separation from the Steel Co. are already well known. The Coal dividend was reduced to six per cent. and it was stated at that time that the dividend was paid against the judgment of several directors.

The object, however, appeared to be to let the matter down easy and no doubt the directors have done the best they could under the circumstances.

There is no doubt btu that the Coal Co. is a magnificent property and has a great future and it will be the objecs now to avoid as much as possible the serious mistakes of the past.

Coal broke severely at the opening this morning, the first sales being made at 45, a decline of 6½ from the lowest of yesterday. There was some pretty active trading and at times it looked as if there was some good support to the stock, the price firming up a little as the session progressed. In fact at one time the stock had recovered to 46¼, but there was a recession from that level.

The total sales of the morning were 1,260 shares.

The "Street" was not a little surprised at the continued strength of Canadian Pacific, as many felt last night that there was a good chance of a little reaction after the repeated advances.

The stock opened strong in Wall Street, however, and astonished the natives with a jump to 123½. That was too swift a pace for the local market to follow, and sales here were 400 shares at 122¾ to 123. Afterwards 123¾ was bid here, but the floating supply of Pacific is limited in Montreal, and no more stock came out.

The Sales of Canadian Pacific in Wall Street yesterday amounted to 7,900 shares, while up to noon to-day the sales were 3,600 shares.

Steel bonds were something of a local feature and sold down to 56 from 57 on sales of $31,000.

Twin City stiffened up a little, going from 94 to 94½.

The sales to noon in Wall Street today were 100,700 shares.

In regard to Dominion Steel the following rather encouraging message comes from Sydney:—Mr. J. H. Plummer stated to your correspondent tonight that the Dominion Iron and Steel Company was ready to resume operations, provided the strikers returned to work, and if the city would guarantee police protec.on they would resume at once, employing whatever labor that offered. James Ross, of the Dominion Coal Company, arrived in town this evening from Louisburg. Today he inspected the collieries at Glace Bay.

Crow's Nest Coal.

The output for the collieries for the week ending June 17th, 1904, was 13,380 tons. Daily average, 2,891 tons.

N. W. Land Sales.

The Canada Northwest Land Company sold during May 4,000 acres of land for $27,000, while in May, 1903, 104,000 acres were disposed of for $406,000. For the first five months of the year the total acreage sold was 18,000 for $115,000, and these figures compare with 178,000 and $833,000 respectively for the corresponding period of 1903.

Comparisons.

An operator who is frequently busy with comparisons submits this: "Union Pacific at 88, paying 4 per cent., yields 4.54 per cent. as investment. St. Paul at 148, paying 7 per cent., yields 4.90 per cent. Either Union Pacific is too dear, or St. Paul too cheap, or perhaps both propositions are true. I am inclined to think St. Paul too good a property, with too substantial a backing for its dividends, for it to occupy the inferior position very long."

Toronto Railway.

Toronto, Ont., June 21.—The conciliation committee of the Toronto Street Railway Company, and its employes, have completed their work, and prepared a report to be submitted to the company and to the men as a basis of the settlement of their differences. The report will not be given out until submitted.

Big Bond Issue.

It is said that the syndicate which was formed several months ago by J. P. Morgan & Co. to handle the issue of $40,000,000 Lake Shore and Michigan Southern 4 per cent. debenture bonds, has sold $33,000,000, the remaining $7,000,000 being held at par.

Morgan to Return.

J. P. Morgan is planning to be in New York early in July, and unless present plans are changed he will sail from London for New York on June 29.

Le Roi No. 2.

The estimated tonnage shipped during the month of May amounted to 1,976 tons. The net receipts for the month were $44,990, representing, approximately, 2,000 tons previously shipped. There has been a temporary enrichment ,due to rich ore met in Stope twenty-five during development.

C. P. R. and "Soo."

A noon wire to Laidlaw & Co. said: "The stock market during the morning hours has shown some narrowing tendency, but withal has been steady of tone, influenced by the strength of particular issues. Can. Pacific and the Soos have again been the distinctive features, the former improving 5-8 notwithstanding, some selling by London, which has recently been a conspicuous buyer. Sentiment was bullish on Soos, the theory being that the common was selling too low for dividend payer. St. Paul was strong on bullish utterances attributed to Standard Oil party. Opinion is almost unanimously bullish. Some reaction is about due upon which good stocks will look very attractive."

Market Strong.

A wire to Mr. C. D. Monk said: Market has been strong all day, and the Canadian Pacific movement, including Soo stocks was the feature. Outside of these market remained listless. Steel stocks appear well taken.

"Street" Gossip.

Reason for the Upward Move in Canadian Pacific

While the boom in Canadian Pacific, begun some time ago, is largely of a professional character, at the same time it has to be recognized that the professionals cannot put a stock up when they have nothing to work upon.

The "Street" has been flooded with bullish literature on C.P.R., and outside of a rather foolish statement that there might be an increase in the dividend, it was all reasonably true.

The fact of the matter is the Wall Street crowd has failed to fully appreciate Canadian conditions, and they are just waking up to the fact now that with a big crop this year, mingled with other factors, will make C.P.R. perhaps the champion railroad money earner of the continent.

The Winnipeg Commercial says: "Crop conditions still continue excellent, and the general feeling is, of course, optimistic. The present spell of warm weather is just what was needed. From all parts a sufficient amount of rain is reported, and warm weather will bring the grain along rapidly. That the growth has caught up well after the late spring is indicated by the fact hat one farmer has already harvested his hay, making a new record for the West.

"As a general thing merchants have as much business as they can handle. In fact, some complain of having more than they can attend to without greatly enlarging their warehouses and staffs."

Dom. Steel Bonds Will Soon be Discussed

The public should this week learn the intention of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company directors as to the payment of the half-yearly interest on the bonds, due on July 1. As a failure to pay the interest would mean the reorganization of the company at the hands of the bond-holders, it is likely that the instalment will be forthcoming. It is reported that the strikers at Sydney are getting restless and that the police force is being strengthened to meet possible developments. Although the Steel Company officials still assert that the works are closed down, it does not look as if the company were going to abandon manufacturing. Two cargoes of iron are being discharged. The steamer Scottish Hero, the charter of which had been transferred to the Dominion Coal Company, has also arrived and moored at the Steel Company's docks. It is said that she will again be placed in the limestone trade from Marble Mountain. The depressed condition of the steel industry across the line is indicated by an estimate that the gross steel rail trade of the United States will figure out at little more than one-half of that of 1903.

Dominion Coal Dividend Passed

Sydney, N.S., June 22.—(Special.)—At the special meeting of Dominion Coal directors, held at Glace Bay yesterday, it was resolved, after a protracted discussion, to defer the payment of the dividend.

The reasons given for this decision are that the coal market has been depressed owing to the general weakness of the steel and iron trade in the United States, and the company during the past year has spent large sums in developing its properties, besides the heavy loss entailed by the fire in No. 1 colliery.

Mr. Ross says that the dividend question was the only one of public importance discussed at the meeting.

Those present were: James Ross, president: F. L. Wanklyn, W. B. Matthews, J. R. Wilson, W. B. Ross, and H. Duggan.

The Strike Situation at the Steel Works

president of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, is in the city. He refuses to talk for publication, but your correspondent learns that he made a full disclosure of the position of the company yesterday to Mr. H. H. McCurdy, president of the Sydney Board of Trade. The statement is said to be discouraging to the prospects of an early settlement of the strike, Mr. Plummer being still in the same frame of mind as when he arrived in Toronto from London. There are abou four hundred men employed at the plant now, chiefly doing construction work. High salaried officials are doing the work of ordinary laborers, and it is not probable that this state of affairs will long continue.

GRAIN HERE AND IN THE STATES

Local Grain Business Generally Quiet—Cable Enquiry Fairly Active—Prices Steady.

Local grain business was generally quiet to-day though there was considerable enquiry from over the cable for Manitoba spring wheat which in some cases resulted in business. There was also a fair demand for oats, from foreign sources and as bids in some cases were satisfactory a few loads were sold. The feeling in oats remains steady, but the demand is still limited with sales of car lots of No. 2 white at 37c to 37 1-2c and No. 3 at 36c per bushel, ex store. A decline of 1c per bushel is noted in peas but no trading has been done. Other lines of coarse grain are unchanged. Buckwheat was was quoted at 59 1-4c, peas at 20c. THE ONTARIO BANK

The Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Ontario Bank was held at the Banking House, Toronto, on Tuesday, June 21st, 1904.

Among those present were: Geo. R. R. Cockburn, Donald Mackay, John Flett, Henry Lowndes, R. Grass, Arthur Harvey, F. B. Polson, A. P. Choate, Hon. R. Harcourt, R. D. Perry, R. Mulholland, F. M. Purdy, W. Spry, Thos. Walmsley, and others.

On motion, Mr. Geo. R. R. Cockburn was called to the chair, and Mr. McGill was requested to act as Secretary.

Messrs. Henry Lowndes and F. M. Purdy were appointed Scrutineers.

At the request of the Chairman, the Secretary read the following report:

The Directors beg to present to the Shareholders the 47th Annual Report for the year ending 31st May, 1904, together with the usual statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Profit and Loss (brought forward from 31st May, 1903)		$ 73,606.91
The net profits, after deducting charges of management, interest accrued upon deposits, and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts, were		176,255.54
		$249,862.45
Which have been appropriated as follows:
Dividend 3 per cent. paid 1st December, 1903	$ 45,000.00
Dividend 3 per cent. payable 1st June, 1904	45,000.00
Added to Rest	100,000.00
Reserved for Officers' Pension Fund	5,000.00
		$195,000.00
Balance of profits carried forward		$54,862.45

It is with great regret that your Directors have to announce the death of their late esteemed colleague, Mr. A. S. Irving, who for many years had been a valued member of the Board.

The Rest Account has been increased to $600,000, and the amount carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss Account is $54,862.45.

The Deposits have been increased since our last Annual Meeting by $1,089,735.06, and the general business of the Bank continues to steadily improve, which, in view of the fact that no new branches have been opened during the year, must be regarded as exceedingly satisfactory.

The Peterboro office has been enlarged and refitted at a considerable outlay, which has been provided for without increasing the Bank Premises Account.

All the offices of the Bank have been inspected during the year.

G. R. R. COCKBURN,
President.

VACATIONS

'Tis the boast of Russell Sage that not once during the 83 years of his life has he indulged in the luxury of a vacation. Vacations are, he deems, unnecessary for anyone—a waste of time, and time he computes to be more valuable than money.

Few will consider the venerable gentleman's example and precept worthy of emulation. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," is more than the passing sentiment of a philosopher—it is a lesson that every observing student in life's school of experience, whether employer or employee, quickly learns.

This establishment's subscription always takes a practical form. The management propose to extend the "play hours" of the employees during the next few weeks to come. On the eve of Dominion Day (Thursday, June 30th), the establishment will close as usual at 6 p.m., and will not re-open until the following Monday (July 4th) at 8 a.m.

Also, during the months of July and August, the establishment will close on Saturday promptly at 1 o'clock.
