Chimes In Memory of the Late Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCrimmon Dedicated

There was a large attendance at the Easter Service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon, on Sunday morning. After the regular service a second one was held for the purpose of dedicating a system of chimes donated by Dr. F. G. McCrimmon and Dr. D. R. McCrimmon in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCrimmon.

The late Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCrimmon were well known to Huntingdon citizens, both past and present. Thus there were many at this special service through deep respect and affection. The community will also have something of lasting nature to remember these two prominent people by, each time the chimes are played and heard. The late Mrs. McCrimmon was herself organist for the congregation of the old church for a period of about 25 years.

During the service, Dr. A. A. White, a member of the Session for many years and who had known both the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCrimmon, was called upon to express the thanks of the congregation and the Session to the two sons, Doctors F. G. and D. R. McCrimmon.

In doing so, he expressed it as being a privilege and a pleasure of thanking the two sons for their wonderful donation to the church in memory of their beloved parents.

He went on to say that a number of years ago when the organ was first brought into use in the second Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Lucy McCrimmon was chosen as organist.

For a number of years she presided at the organ without the help of any choir and led the service of praise. She carried on as long as services were held there. Following the death of the minister, the congregation joined with the other Presbyterian Church and with the joint congregation she was again engaged as organist. She organized a splendid choir and presided at the organ to lead the service of praise until the congregation moved into the new church — the present St. Andrew's. At this time she retired and devoted her full time to her music class, her home and her family. But even after retirement, she gave of her time and talents cheerfully and freely to any activities in connection with the church where music was required.

"The late Norman McCrimmon came to Huntingdon as a young man and was engaged as accountant in the office of the Allangrove Cheese Company. While there, he became acquainted with the people of the town as well as with a number of the dairymen in the community. When this company ceased to do business, with the exception of about two years spent in the North Country, he became Postmaster in the Town of Huntingdon shortly after returning from the North. He served the public in this post for a number of years — efficiently, cheerfully and obligingly. At the end of the Second World War, he retired as Postmaster.

"I do not recall him having served on any board or committee of the church, but no doubt he did. One thing I do know, he took a great interest in the welfare of the church which was manifest by being always in his seat with his family as well as his liberal contributions to the funds of the church. I do think this congregation and the surrounding community should thank God for the long life he granted these people, which allowed us to enjoy with them many years of their retired life.

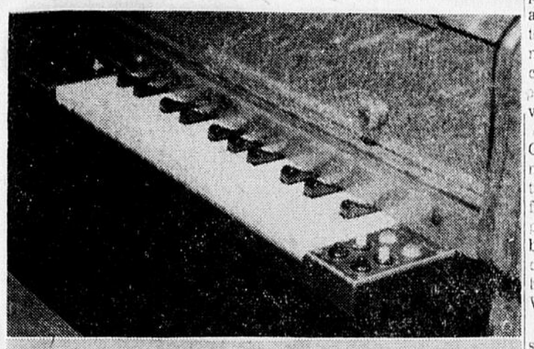

"Let me once again thank Dr. Gordon McCrimmon and Dr. Donald McCrimmon for the wonderful donation in the memory of these two grand people. God Bless you both for what you have done."

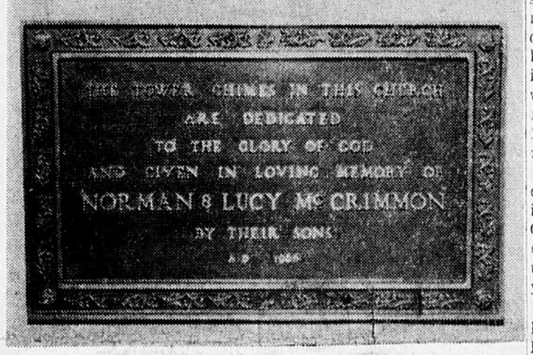

After the sermon and singing of the last hymn, the Minister, Rev. G. McMichen, conducted the family and party of friends to the Memorial Plaque in the vestibule of the church. There he called upon Miss Jessie McGregor, sister of the late Mrs. Lucy McCrimmon, to unveil the plaque.

Dr. Gordon McCrimmon, in the name of his brother Donald, and himself, asked the Minister to receive the gift in memory of their Father and Mother, Norman and Lucy Mc-

NEW CHIMES DEDICATED

Above top shows the keyboard attached to the organ in St. Andrew's Church, Huntingdon, which is used to play the chimes. Various switches are used to change where the sound is to be designated, these are seen on both sides of the keyboard. Lower is the plaque which was unveiled on Sunday and which reads as follows: "The Tower Chimes in this Church are dedicated to the Glory of God and given in loving memory of Norman and Lucy McCrimmon by their sons. Ormstown Exhibition Grounds To Be Campsite For 4H Clubs During Expo

At a recent meeting of the Directors of the Ormstown Exhibition, Mr. Garth Cavers representing the Ormstown Boys and Girls 4H Club, asked that the Exhibition Grounds be provided as a Camping Site during the summer of 1967, for members of 4H Clubs across Canada and U.S.A. who would be visiting Expo 67.

The Directors were appreciative of the fact that providing such a gathering place in the midst of the Chateauguay Valley for young people from across this continent could have a public relations value for the District of Beauharnois which might be felt in our midst.

for many years to come; so gladly consented to Garth's request, provided that the local 4H Clubs who would be the hosts and hostesses to the visiting campers, would accept certain responsibilities.

Garth mentioned many ideas for the entertainment of the expected visitors, these included social activities visits to farms in the district as well as visits to historical and development sites.

No doubt many adults will wish to assist the local clubs in providing hospitality to the Club Members camping in our midst.

During the first round of play first and third players from opposing rinks exchanged, thus giving both Howick, Riverfield mixed rinks. Chateauguay Teacher Speaks At Ormstown Lions Club

The regular meeting was held on April 5th with Lion President Adoris Beauchamp in the chair. There were a number of visiting Lions from the Lachine Lakeshore Club including their president and secretary, present. Guest speaker for the evening was Arne Peterson, Director of Physical Education for the schools in Chateauguay.

Mr. Peterson is a graduate of the Sate University of Denmark and a former coach of the Danish Olympic Teams. He talked on education generally and not necessarily the physical education end of it. He advanced the theory that schools should reduce the hours spent in classroom study by as much as a third as he was of the opinion that most students could absorb far more knowledge far more easily during the first two-thirds of their day. He was of the opinion that all students would benefit if more time was spent on physical education, not necessarily in playing games but by spending more time out-of-doors in hikes and the like and in generally tuning up their bodies His talk was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present He was introduced by Lion Gordon Green and thanked by Lion Cliff Moore.

Skating activities have come to an end and the Lions are now busy preparing their plans for the playgrounds to be operated again this summer. The full report of the skating activities was not available but will be presented at the next meeting. However many local youngsters enjoyed skating and hockey which otherwise would not have been available had it not been for the work of the Lions Club of Ormstown.

The treasurer's report was read and showed that the treasury is in a fairly good condition but the Lions were warned not to let up in their fund-raising plans as large sums are required for their many projects. Music Festival plans are proceeding well and more is to be reported on this at the next meeting.

Important Decision Regarding Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Brigade

The regular meeting of the Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Brigade was held on Monday evening, April 4th., in the office of Don Racine, with the President James G. Hutchings in the chair and a fair number of members present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, as was the Treasurer's report.

Accounts in an amount of $52.33 were passed for payment.

The balance of the meeting was taken up with equipment and building, when it was brought to the attention of the members that Mr. Migault had visited with the President and Fire Chief Don Racine, at which time he informed them that the Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Bridade as a body could not have in their name. fire equipment or buildings for the housing of same, and expect grants from Quebec It is apparent that same must be fully owned by the Municipal Council and it is only to that body that said grants will be given.

All this, shall be say, threw a monkey wrench into their plans, not only for the present, but the future, and complicated matters in respect to the option on our dot which would expire in a matter of days; something had to be done, and done quickly. After a full discussion it was decided that Dan Tully, Morris McLean, Maurice Smith, Don Racine, Eric Ednie and the President attend the Council meeting Tuesday evening and endeavor to sell them everything that we have for the sum of $1.00, and in return would they take over and administer the affairs of the organization, while the members of the brigade will take care of the equipment and building and do the work of fire fighting.

This they agreed to do, with the exception of the lot, in regard to same they said that they would prefer that an engineer from the Fire Commissioners Office should check the foundation in respect to condition etc. and would the delegation come to their next meeting at which time they should have arrived at a decision. This was satisfactory to all. Arrangements have been made for extension of the option.

De Salaberry Descendant Praises Memorial Project

Mrs. S.E. Whitworth, great granddaughter of the illustrious Lieut-Col. Charles Michel de Salaberry expressed "heartfelt congratulations on the work" the Memorial Committee is doing "concerning this great battle especially. . . when our younger generation should be taught to learn and appreciate Canadian history".

In her letter she told of how her grandfather, Joseph de Salaberry Bosse, told and retold all about the famous battle. Part of the story told her as a little girl, was when de Salaberry fell in he middle of the battle and it was an Abenaki Indian who went to his aid, in so doing he was able to lead his Voltigeurs to a glorious victory.

From this letter and others it is evident interest is growing in the Battle of Chateauguay Memorial project, donations have been received from a history teacher in Trois Rivières and residents on Montreal.

If you would like to contribute, please write to: Battle of Chateauguay Memorial, Post Office Box 67, Chateauguay, Quebec.

Huntingdon's Junior Curlers Win Montreal And District Curling Championship

(By Bill Tobin)

A strong Huntingdon High School team skipped by Bill Tobin Jr., with Diane Duke, third, Bob Tobin, second and Sherry-Lou Fiset, lead, defeated all their opponents to take home the HA Ferraris Trophy emblematic of the High School Junior Mixed Championship for Montreal and Districts.

Twenty-one schools had entered thirty-two teams in this four-day competition and all were considered the top teams in their respective Districts, the games were all played at the 12 sheet Bonaventure Curling Club.

The Huntingdon entry commenced their string of wins against Don Thornton's Verdun High entry and after four ends were ahead 12 - 0. In their second game they defeated, Letham's, Chateauguay entry 9 - 3. Jon Ross and his Beaconsfield High entry were the next to suffer defeat at the hands of the determined foursome by a score 10 - 4. Their fourth game to decide a position in the finals, they met and defeated a strong Mountain View High entry skipped by Barry Ross, 12 - 4 and it wasn't until this win that spectators began to take notice of this foursome.

Numerous spectators had observed the games of the top teams with hardly a glance in the Huntingdon team direction. Now the picture had changed, the local foursome were in there all the way. In their final game they were pitted against Ross Gilmour, from Rosemere High, Ross was another dark horse who had previously defeated the highly rated Bob Panet and his St. Thomas entry 6 - 3. In the first end of the final game with Tobin's team lying four, Gilmour played a fine stone into the four foot circle to lay shot and score one for the end, but, from that moment on Huntingdon were the masters, a four ender in the second followed by a three and another four were equivalent to the straw that broke the camel's back. Tobin's strategy changed, he asked his team to position their stones always in first or second position, Gilmour was allowed to score, but no more than one. The top of the Huntingdon's team played extremely well during the final three ends, and made things real rough for Gilmour, the final score 12 to 6 and the new Junior Mixed High School Championship.

The winning Juniors are to be commended for their fine spirit of play and sportsmanship, their adherance to the rules and etiquette of the game and their congenial approach and friendliness towards their opponents, they deserve high acclaim for after all they brought this honor to our Town, by defeating the best in a highly populated city like Montreal. Many more successes, kids, and thanks for a job well done.

In closing I would like to point out that without the support of certain people, these honors would not be available so to Miss Howie, Mr. Brockman, the Bruce Ness's and to the parents who support these youngsters, I say, Merci Beaucoup, from all the youngsters. Yours is a job that is not recognized too openly by the majority, but I do know that the minority, and the youngsters appreciate all you have done.

Easter Festival At Georgetown And Riverfield Churches

The congregations of Georgetown and Riverfield turned out in large number to celebrate the Easter Festival.

At the Good Friday Service a beautiful rendering of "The Broken Heart" was sung by a trio of ladies — the Misses W. Brown, P. Peddie, and J. Bustard — to open the service.

The theme of the service was "The Felowship of His Sufferings", and the combined choirs sang — "On Calvary" — by Norman C. Clayton.

After the sermon a quartette sang very effectively "Mater Dolorosa" compiled by Louis Fitzgerald Benson — which was a fitting close to a very inspiring service.

The theme of the services at Georgetown and Riverfield on Easter Sunday was "He is not here — He is Risen".

The combined choirs seemed to be inspired by the full attendance at each service and opening with the singing of Norman Clayton's "He Lives Again" set a very high standard of praise and worship for the entire service.

The choirs added two special numbers — John E. Boalt's anthem, "He Is Risen" and "His Love Can Ne'er Be Told" by Gibbey.

The children sang very sweetly — "I Have The Joy" and "For God So Loved The World".

At the conclusion of the sermon in each church, the Rev. W. M. Brown sang — 'I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" — by J. H. Fillmore Mrs. Wallace Logan was at the organ in each church.

The blessed hope and joy of the Easter message was very effectively portrayed in word and song in these services, and the congregational participation was thrilling and sincere.

Howick C.G.I.T. Holds Successful Service And Tea

The annual Re-affiliation Service and Easter Tea of the A.K.I.T.A. C.G.I.T. was held Thursday, April 7th, at Georgetown Presbyterian Church. Invited guests were welcomed by a committee of ushers consisting of, Iona Robertson, Corrine Goundrey, Dorothy Bustard and Janet Holmes.

Mrs. Robert McFarlane conducted the service assisted by Wendy Brown, Dorothy Bustard, Janet Holmes, Cathy McFarlane. The Organist was Mrs. Martha Logan. The treasurer, Lynn McArthur presented an envelope to Mrs. D. Allen, the group's contribution to mission work.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. D. Allen, Presbyterian Secretary for Girl's Work. It had been both a delight and inspiration to have her speak to us last year on the occasion of our 50th Anniversary and so having her consent to return this year was a happy reunion. Her warm personality and sincerity of her talk captivated all. Mrs. Allen's topic dealt with guide posts of life and by practical everyday examples stressed many points which one might keep in mind in making a self evaluation of one's personality.

Mrs. Allen presented affiliation badges to Donna Tannahill, Heather Angel and Mrs. Robert McFarlane.

At the close of the service the guests were invited to the downstairs which had been tastefully decorated by Lynn McArthur and Judi Champ. Here they were served delicious refreshments. Tea was poured by two past leaders, Mrs. Ross Brown and Mrs. Leslie Champ.

A table of homebaking and plants proved both popular and profitable.

The members of the A.K.I.T.A. C.G.I.T. group wish to say a most sincere 'Thank You' to all who, by their presence and contribution made their Annual Easter Tea a most pleasant and successful one.

NEW STREET LIGHTS FOR ATHELSTAN

Athelstan was visited by members of the Municipal Council in regard to our street lights, on Tuesday evening, April 5th.

They were met by several members of the community and the entire area was inspected. It was eventually agreed that 10 new lights would be installed properly spaced to give adequate illumination; that if 10 are found to be insufficient, then the cost of any additional lights would have to be borne by the local taxpayers.

It was therefore decided to try 10 lights as mentioned.

This and That In Town

That auction sale at the Douglas Murray store, Glenelm certainly attracted people from near and not so near. Some families appeared to be buying enough boxes of groceries and provisions of all kinds to last until next Easter. Larry Murray, Grade X student at Huntingdon High who worked here at The Gleaner during the school holiday, reports he bought a carton of running shoes (three pairs to a carton and "all the right size") for five dollars. Rubber boots, work boots, T-shirts, etc., also went under Auctioneer Lyell Graham's hammer at a good clip. Auction Sales are popular with people of all ages in the Chateauguay Valley and one meets people from all walks of life at them: bargain hunters, antique collectors, young couples buying their first furniture and household items and so on down the line. Read the Auction Sales columns in The Gleaner and when convinced, attend ... invariably there'll be something you need and want.

District game wardens are busy men these days: don't forget spearing or shooting fish is strictly against the law. And for your own good, don't hunt ducks or geese even if they do seem plentiful.

Shades of yesteryears! About five minutes before noon Monday we saw a big black monster sedately crusing past The Gleaner office. Our first thought was "At last, The Hon. Bernard Pinard has decided to drive over Route 4 to see for himself if it's as bad as we say it is." Then we recognized it: the 1942 Buick hearse/ambulance formerly owned by Kelly Funeral Home Reg'd, retired from service quite a few years back. J. M. (Mac) Smellie and son Jack were transferring it from one storage shed to another closer to home.

Confidential to Mac: Keep outta those hearses fella, good teachers are hard to come by. If you really want an ANTIQUE Buick, we have a '23 we'll sell you. At a price.

Elsewhere in this issue there's a picture of a lynx, killed in the Teafield Monday morning. This bears out the story the Goyette Bros. told us some time ago about the Teafield being the home of many species of wild animals. Remember the scare not far from Port Lewis a summer or two ago when a woman said she had been attacked by a black-cat-like animal that she thought looked like a panther? Nothing more came of it despite the fact that local game wardens maintained a 24-hour watch in the vicinity for almost two weeks. Many people see wolves and foxes and it isn't too long ago that John Brooks reported he saw a bobcat near the Port Lewis dump. Fact is, there are too many wolves and foxes in the Teafield area and where there's one bobcat or lynx, there must be more. Now, if the Provincial Government would see fit to pay a bounty on such animals, farmers and others would probably worry less about rabies. Not only that, but the hunters who caught the one on Monday have been hunting muskrats this year and they have only managed to trap two, although they had traps sprung and others disappear. This indicates that larger animals are getting to the traps first and also that there aren't many muskrats, rabbits, squirrels, etc., around, having fallen prey to wolves, foxes, bobcats, etc. There are those who say the wolves won't attack humans. Probably so, but yours truly would hate like the mischief to get lost alone in the Teafield at night without a gun ... they just might be a little hungrier than usual.

Rich Readers: Duesenbergs (classed with Rolls-Royce, Cord, the bigger Cadillacs, Imperials, Lincolns at one time) are coming back on the open market. Mayb around twenty thousand dollars chacun. (All I wanted for Easter was a two-wheeled Honda).

Ourtown must be saving quite a bit on electricity ... still only two lights working on the Henderson St. Bridge. It's a strain on people like Joe. Old Joe gave up his usual 26 ozs. of daily cheer for Lent and on Saturday night, getting back in form, he was sure those two lights were UFO's.

The Ormstown Ed was out sleuthing the other day when she noticed a small boy playing in a water filled ditch. He had one of his mother's yellow handle strainers tied with twine to a broom handle and was busily engaged in scooping up gook from the ditch. At first glance he appeared to have a gash on one cheek. When asked what he was doing he answered, "Oh just gettin' bugs and things ... and worms." He went on about his business of gettin' bugs and things .. and worms and he was asked what he planned to do with all the things he was fishing for. "Oh, I guess I'll just save them for somethin'" and then with a smile on his face he said, "You know its kinda' like Easter and Jesus and stuff, everything comin' alive, aint it?" As he looked up we noticed that it wasn't a gash on his cheek, but the partial remains of one of his "worms and things" which had besmeared his face. He was so right, it was kinda like Easter.

The following will be welcome news for many Gleaner readers who have summer camps on Lake St. Louis, Lake St. Francis, Chateaugay Lake:

A new chemical for the elimination of two of the worst nuisances in Canadian vacation and farm areas — water weeds and algae — has been introduced by Chipman Chemicals Limited. It is effective against most common types of water weeds and algae. It presents no hazard to fish, animals or humans if label directions are followed, and is generally much less costly and faster acting (24 to 36 hours) than other aquatic weed control chemicals now available.

Prior to its release to the public the chemical was subjected to extensive field tests for the past three years in several weed infected resort lakes in Ontario, and has been found to be extremely effective and safe to marine life when used as directed. An aplication rate of one gallon of the chemical per acre (208 x 208 foot area) at a cost of $25.00 provided excellent results when milfol was the only weed species present. Two gallons per acre gave good control of pondweed, elodea, coontail and other water weeds.

Best time of year to apply "Reglone" A is in early summer (late May or June) when the weeds are maturing rapidly. It should be applied on cloudy days or late afternoon and care must be taken not to stir up the pond or lake bottom since turbidity reduces effectiveness of the treatment.

A fast method of applying the chemical is by use of a simple and inexpensive type of boat bailer available in most marine and hardware stores. It consists of a plastic tube attached to a cone-shaped device that may be clamped to the lower cavitation blade of an outboard motor. The end of the tube is inserted into a drum containing the weedkiller mixed with water, which is drawn out by suction and distributed uniformly in the water by the propeller action of the motor.

To protect fish in ponds or small lakes with dense weed growth, only a part of the area should be treated at one time, otherwise the dying weeds will deplete the oxygen supply in the water and injure fish. Dead weeds soon disintegrate, leaving the bottom clean.

"Reglone" A will be available from marina and camp operators, hardware stores in resort areas and from regular pesticide dealers in farm areas. It comes in one-gallon polythene cans and should be diluted with one to 10 parts of water before application.

This new chemical will undoubtedly be obtainable in Chateauguay Valley stores in the near future. It may be necessary to obtain permission to use it in lakes and rivers. This information and/or permission can be applied for by writing The Quebec Water Board, 201 Cremazie Blvd. East., Montreal 11. We're hoping for more information next week. In the meantime, it is hoped the proper people will hear of the chemical and perhaps some enterprising person can get a suitable boat and manpower and go into the business of treating many miles of lakeshore. This article may even be of interest to the Provincial Government, at least to municipalities catering to vacationers.

Robbie Greig Ormstown Struck By Car

Four and a half year old Robbie Greig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greig Jr. was struck by a car on Saturday, as he attempted to cross the street near Chabot's Pharmacy in Ormstown. The car which was driven by Mr. Kyle Blair swerved to avoid the boy averting what might have been a very serious accident.

Little Robbie had been playing with his friends when he decided to go home and it is believed he did not see the oncoming car. Robbie is now in the Children's Memorial receiving treatment for multiple leg fractures. It is expected the boy will remain in traction for at least three weeks.

CURLING CLOSES AT HOWICK

Saturday night saw the finish of curling at the Howick Club. Play had been going on all week in a mixed competition for the Esso Trophy with the four high going into a play-down Saturday night. Robert Ness and his team of D. D'Aoust, Wendell Holmes and Germaine D'Aoust emerged the winners over John Cluff, Audrey Cluff, Robert Sauvé and Agathé Sauvé. Consolation honors went to John Holmes, with Elsie Whyte, Walter Stonehouse and Goody Reasin while the runners-up were Ken McRae, Irene McRae, Georges Menard and Wilf Fontaine.

After the games the President, J. W. Smith, asked Georges Menard, our retiring Esso agent, to present the Trophy to Robert Ness, the winning skip, while Lucien Soucisse, our New Esso agent, was asked to present the prizes to the winning players.

Refreshments were enjoyed by all, and everyone left with the feeling that it had been a very successful curling season and many will be looking forward to the time when the ice machine will be turned on next fall.

BROWNIE SUGARING PARTY

A group of Brownies from Valleyfield and Ormstown numbering about fifty were royally entertained at the sugar camp of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hooker last Saturday. Mrs. W. Seale of Valleyfield was among the guests at the party, and the Ormstown girls were under the guidance of Mrs. J. Rodger and Miss Dorothy Mills. Taffy on the snow was the feature of the day and the girls extend a sincere vote of thanks to the Hookers for the use of their bush and especially to Mrs. Hooker, who made the delicious taffy. A couple of weeks back, on a Saturday afternoon, 17-year-old Billy Brethour and his dog Tippy were hunting in the woods on the Third Concession of Elgin, some seven miles southwest of Huntingdon. The dog, a three-year-old cross-bred Collie/Retriever, is locally renowned as both a good hunter and cow dog so Billy wasn't too surprised to hear the dog barking and making a fuss. At first, he thought Tippy had cornered a groundhog, but when he caught up he saw Tippy had a fox by the throat and appeared to have the situation well in hand.

His master, however, decided to give the dog a helping hand and dispatched the fox by clobbering him on the head. Dr. Horsley was notified of the incident and he decided it was in the best interests of boy and dog to send the head of the fox to Ottawa to determine if the animal had been rabid.

The reply confirmed Dr. Horsley's belief and Tippy no longer roams through the woods with his young master. Instead, he is locked up, night and day. Dr. Horsley told Joe Brethour, Billy's father, that the dog had either to be done away with or locked up for six months. The Brethours decided Tippy was to be given a chance as there was no indication that he had been bitten or even scratched by the fox.

Today Tippy is a bewildered young dog. Billy brings food and water to him regularly and the playful fellow seems as well as ever, but precaution must be taken. Dr. Horsley told the family that if Tippy is going to contract rabies, the disease could show up any time during the confinement period.

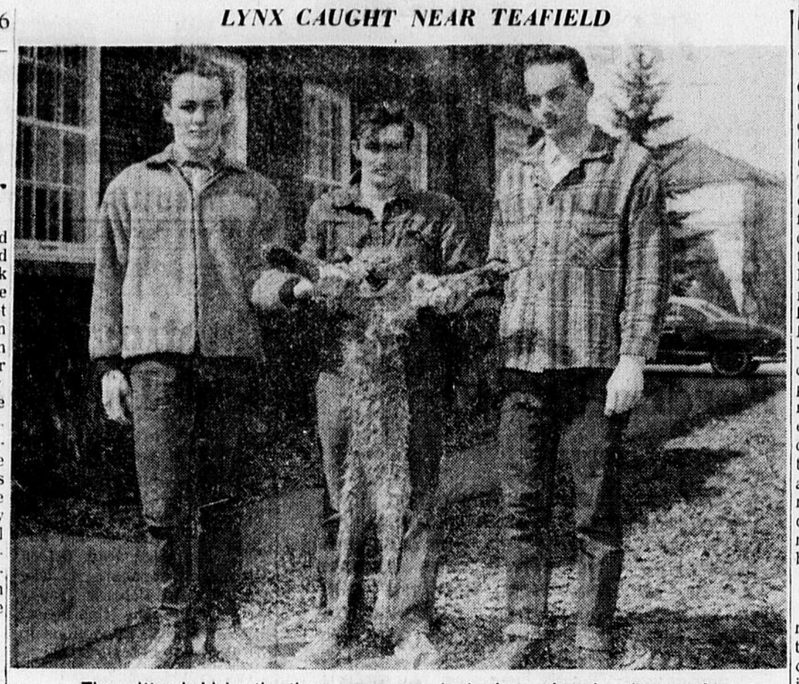

The Brethours say their older dogs had been innoculated against rabies, but Tippy hadn't been. If he had, the confinement time would be reduced to three months.

Fortunately, Billy wasn't in contact with the fox at all and doesn't require treatment of any kind.

Two of the persons who died in the wreckage of a private aircraft enroute from Toronto to Detroit on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Diggins, parents of Mrs. Duncan Moneypenny. Duncan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Josie Moneypenny of Franklin Centre, and nephew of Mrs. Bill Greig Sr. of Ormstown. Mr. and Mrs. J. Moneypenny attended the funeral at Georgetown, Ont.

Are you sure you know your own car? Well here is a case of a man who didn't. It appears that a certain local district man came out to his parked car in town, put the key in and started the motor and drove off. Meantime another party came out and found his car was missing and reported it missing. The other person went to get his newspaper from the car and found it was not there. He checked more thoroughly and discovered that the car was not his either. He had the other fellow's car — what do you know? The matter was finally straightened out and each unto his own, so to speak. Oh yes, the newspaper was in the right car. But who said that all car keys are different and no two are the same.

LYNX CAUGHT NEAR TEAFIELD

The critter held by the three young men is dead — otherwise they wouldn't be holding him and The Gleaner photographer would be running for the blackest corner of his darkroom. The animal is a 50-lb. lynx (bobcat).

William Langlois, employee at Model Dye Works (Canada) Ltd., in Huntingdon and his brothers-in-law, Gatean and Bruno Gendron of Newfoundout Road, St. Anicet, found the animal in one of their muskrat traps Monday morning. He was caught by one of his front legs and was alive despite the fact he was three-quarters submerged in water.

Normally a mass of mean muscle feared by man and beast, the big cat appeared docile when the trappers found him, due probably to the fact that he had been soaking in the ice cold water for anywhere up to ten or twelve hours, or possibly because he was rabid. He did not appear to be afraid of the men — they report he just stared at them. Wary of the tactics of a sly, wild animal and wanting to put him out of his misery in a hurry, Bruno Gendron killed him by hitting him on the head with a heavy stick.

The trappers report that last week one of their traps, complete with pole, completely disappeared; the metal ring on another was bent almost straight, indicating that an animal a lot stronger than a muskrat had been around. The three men have been setting traps for several weeks, along the Laguerre Canal about one mile from the Plank Road, in the Teafield, where they caught the bobcat, and have caught only two muskrats.

Chimes In Memory...

Crimmon, and to dedicate it to the glory of God. The Minister proceeded with the dedication service and ended with the Benediction.

At this time the organist, Mrs. W. J. (Ethel) Smellie, A. Mus., L.D.C.M., played the new chimes for the first time for the public. Included were appropriate melodies known to be favorites of the late Mrs. McCrimmon.

The chimes consist of 25 bells which are played through a keyboard attached to the organ. These can be played in the inside of the church only, or on the outside only, or both inside and outside at the same time. The chimes themselves are contained in a special case near the organ and the sound is carried to speakers located in the bell tower for relay to the outside. The instrument is known as the Schulmerich Carillon and has a beautiful tone. Those who heard it for the first time last Sunday were greatly impressed in every way.

Mrs. Smellie had been called upon to operate the instrument during the days of its installation and with her musical ability has become accustomed to it. She can also play the organ through the same system and thus add even more to the usefulness of it. She gave an ample demonstration on Sunday and more will be heard in the days to come. No doubt it will be used extensively for all occasions that the church is used.

Out-of-town family guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon, on Sunday, and who were present at the dedication of the chimes at St. Andrew's Church were: Mrs. Edith Hurst and Miss Jessie McGregor of Toronto and Montreal respectively, sisters of the late Mrs. Lucy McCrimmon; Mrs. Bruce Scott and Mrs. Harry Hurst, Toronto, nieces; Dr. and Mrs. Donald McCrimmon, Montreal and sons Ross and Ronald and daughter Roslyn.

Venerable Lady Feted On Occasion of Her 97th Birthday

(Mrs. W. J. McKay)

Mrs. Ellen Harrington

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Miller, Mr. W. J. Cowan and Mrs. W. J. McKay motored to Burlington, Vermont, on Thursday, April 7th. They arrived in time for a family birthday luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ellen Harrington and in honor of her, on her 97th Birthday. Also present were her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Harrington and Mrs. Calvin Harrington's sister Mrs. Betty Nichols.

Mrs. Harrington will be remembered by many here as she was formerly Miss Ellen Miller of Havelock, Que., sister of the late George Miller, the late Mrs. Ed. Cowan (Aunt Maggie), the late Mrs. John Waddell (Aunt Mary), all of Havelock, Que.

Despite Mrs. Harrington's ninety seven years she is remarkably keen and active. Last October she successfully overcame an operation on her eyes for cataract and can now read and take care of her own correspondence.

The cards, gifts, messages, flowers and visits received, from well wishers, clearly revealed that she has made many warm friends among the Vermont Folk, as she did during her maiden years, spent in Havelock.

She has the distinction and honor of being the oldest member of The Women's Relief Corps., in Burlington; also the honor of being the oldest member of The Friendship Chapter, Order of The Eastern Star which she helped to organize.

It was indeed a touching experience, to sing the customary Happy Birthday song, as this grand and truly wonderful lady, cut her prettily decorated Birthday Cake.

Congratulations, Mrs. Harrington and may your future hold only the best for you.

AN EASTER CANTATA

The Senior and Junior Choirs of St. Andrew's United Church made an outstanding contribution to the music of this Easter season with their Cantata 'O my dearest Jesus'. This was sung at the Easter evening service in a church filled to capacity. Solos and duets between choruses were taken by Mrs. G. Ficko, Mrs. P. Pederson, Mrs. E. Drummond, Mrs. A. McGregor, Mr. L. McIntyre and Mr. David Ficko and the final chorus 'Christ is Risen' sung by both choirs and which incorporated parts of the 'Hallelujah Chorus' brought to a triumphant ending a very lovely evening of song. Accompanying on the organ was Mrs. P. Hooper and on the piano Mrs. H. Kennedy. The Senior Choir was directed by Mrs. E. Drummond and the Junior Choir by Mrs. G. Ficko.

In the Township Council news this week it will be seen that at long last Council will consider, at their next meeting, the taking of a much-needed step towards controlling, in some measure, buildings being erected in the municipality. For many years taxpayers in this community have seen valuable properties being depreciated and the beauty of the countryside being destroyed by the erection of unsuitable buildings At other places the property has been erected too close to a highway and has been a traffic hazard. Last year one such small house was removed from the roadside much to the relief of all drivers but the decrepit outhouse, facing the road with its door hanging on one hinge, the old discarded mattresses and dump of tin cans still remains. And now, a few feet away, a far greater hazard is being erected. On the main highway from the Frontier to the village, a few hundred yards down from Clelland's Corners and standing at the corner of one of the loveliest maple and pine bushes, there is being erected a cedar log building, presumably a restaurant. In its present state not too unsightly but one shudders to think what it will look like if the owner succumbs to the wiles of the soft drink and other vendors and provides them with advertising space! But what is of the utmost concern to all who daily use this road is the fact that it has been erected on the west side of this main road, it is right on a dangerous curve and for a considerable distance either side of the entrance driveway there extends a double white line It is to be hoped that everyone visiting this restaurant (?) will remember that the only way to get in will be by driving south from the village and when they leave they must continue to drive south beyond the limits of the double white line. Anyone approaching from, say Clelland's Corners, must drive past to the northern limits of the double white line, then take their lives in their hands and make a U turn back up on the right side of the road! Crossing a double white line is against the law and, it is understood, the Provincial Police are already aware of this situation.

That the law is not being observed is already evident judging by the number of muddy tire tracks leading from the entrance directly across the double white line! It might be as well to remember, also, that the speed limit on this highway is 60 miles per hour!

NOT GOING STEADY?

Try to make it SLOWLY to KEN'S ESSO SERVICE

YOU NEED STEERING CORRECTION, like most other things there are many kinds and sometimes there is a problem on which and who. Contributing to steering and tire wear troubles are the soft suspension systems of late model cars, better roads that allow faster driving, changes in tire design and steering geometry that do not compensate enough.

While I cannot redesign steering, suspension or tires, nor change owner driving habits, I can set up the front end to compensate for these conditions by applying a thorough knowledge of engineered front end correction along with a front end machine second to none and replacement parts better than manufacturer. If you are particuliar about your car, I am too, one job by 'Ken' himself will convince you that there is none better.

Kenny said there is a large Amish settlement there. These people are mostly farmers who work with antiquated machinery and use horses or donkeys, but no power-driven machinery. They don't have electricity, telephones or many modern conveniences, but their farms are well kept with all buildings in excellent repair and well painted. They don't have cars or trucks and they speak their own language, also English of course. They visited one family and Kenny says their house was clean and comfortable but there were no chairs, only benches, and everything appeared very old. The group enjoyed the trip and Kenny says the scenery and mountains are every bit as beautiful as Banff or any part of the Canadian Rockies he visited. The grain is up, almost three inches high, and the countryside is green.

The Late Harry Wooler

The sudden passing of Mr Harry Wooler on April 1st was a distinct shock to all who knew him. He appeared to be enjoying his usual good health until the evening he was stricken when he mentioned to his wife Doris that he wasn't feeling well. He succumbed to a stroke shortly after being admitted to the Huntingdon County Hospital a few hours later.

Mr. Wooler was born at Bradford, in England where he learned the textile trade In 1938 he married the former Doris Hopkinson and the couple moved to Huntingdon in 1947. Mr. Wooler was head designer for Cleyn & Tinker Ltd. of Huntingdon and his loss is keenly felt by a large circle of friends and associates. He was a great admirer of the local country side and his main hobby was gardening, his enthusiasm for which was reflected in the attractive appearance of the grounds surrrounding the couple's home on Hunter St. He was also a member of the Malone Golf Club.

The deceased is survived by his wife Doris and two sisters in England, Mrs. Ernest Galloway and Mrs. Fred Dodds, both of Idle, Bradford.

A private service was held at the Kelly Funeral Home on April third, conducted by The Reverend P. R. Stote, after which the remains were transferred to the Montreal Crematorium.

Home for the Easter recess were Miss Cynthia McKough from Marianopolis and Mr Allan McKough from Regiopolis College, Kingston.

Evènements relatifs au Vietnam (suite)

Notre Hôpital de Bien-Hoa contient 250 lits et se compose de six salles de 40 lits chacune, d'une salle d'opération pour cas mineurs, laboratoire de pathologie, et une clinique pour patients externes où 200 à 300 personnes sont traitées chaque jour. Quatre salles sont réservées aux hommes: deux pour les cas de T.B., deux pour cas de médecine générale. Deux salles sont réservées aux femmes; une pour cas de T.B. l'autre pour médecine générale. Les femmes reçoivent les soins des religieuses d'une Congrégation de Dominicaines Vietnamiennes.

La grande chapelle est pleine de fidèles pour la messe, tous les matins, comme l'est aussi aussi la Sainte Table pour la communion. Les prières sont récitées sur le ton chantant de la langue vietnamienne. Les salles sont d'une propreté immaculée ouvertes et bien aérées, comme il faut surtout dans les climats tropicaux. Nous étions là en hiver avec une température et une humidité au-dessus de 90 degrés. Je ne voudrais pas y connaitre l'été. C'était aussi la saison de la mousson et les cataractes du ciel s'ouvraient tous les jours vers les cinq heures de l'après-midi. Les fossés, larges de trois pieds, s'emplissaient jusqu'au bord, il fallait être très prudent dans la consommation de l'eau à boire. Absolument pas d'eau venant directement du robinet. C'était aussi la période de l'année où la malaria devient épidémique; les comprimés de Daraprim et les moustiquaires étaient "à l'ordre du jour."

Tout ce qui précède pourrait faire croire à une vie de misère. Cependant de cinq Frères canadiens arrivés peu après 1950, le nombre de Religieux s'est continuellement accru et atteint aujourd'hui 38 avec les vocations religieuses. Prononcer ses voeux et s'engager pour la vie à une telle tâche, sachant que demain le pays pourrait tomber entre les mains des communistes, les étrangers expulsés, tués peut-être, et qu'ils resteraient seuls et sans appui voilà de solides vocations religieuses! C'est la foi, la conviction chrétienne la plus authentique! Les Vietnamiens convertis font des catholiques pieux, et les conversions sont nombreuses, les vocations religieuses aussi.

Parcourant l'Hôpital où l'on me faisait voir l'équipement et l'organisation, quand quelqu'un apprenait que j'étais de la Province Australie-Nouvelle-Zélande, on était heureux de me montrer les instruments et les médicaments qui leur avaient été envoyés d'Australie. Ces gens simples ne tarissaient plus d'exprimer leur gratitude envers tous ceux de chez-nous qui avaient eu la générosité de leur venir en aide dans leurs besoins extrêmement urgents. C'est bien différent, quand il nous est donné de voir où vont les médicaments, et les pauvres malheureux qui en reçoivent les bienfaits avec tant de joie et de reconaissance.

L'AUMONE

Il faut donner pour plaire à Dieu plutôt que pour subvenir aux nécessités d'autrui. Ce que Dieu regarde, C'est votre renoncement et votre pureté d'intention. Renonçons immédiatement à tout ce que nous pourrions escompter en retour, et souhaitons pouvoir renoncer davantage. Dieu sera charmé de nos dispositions. Agissant ainsi, nous jouirons d'une grande paix!

Le mérite du dépouillement ne réside pas seulement, ni même principalement, dans le degré de dépouillement effectif, mais dans le degré de dépouillement affectif. L'effort accompli, la contrainte imposée, la grandeur de l'obstacle surmonté, comptent sans doute pour quelque chose, mais beaucoup moins que la pureté d'intention. Aux yeux de Dieu c'est l'empressement et l'amour avec lesquels nous préférons Dieu et sa sainte volonté à tout le reste, qui comptent surtout.

La voix de la Charité.

Le service de l'assurance-hospitalisation payera pour 4 nouveaux services externes

Le ministre de la Santé Mr. Eric Kierans, annonce que, dès le 1er avril, le service de l'Assurance-hospitalisation paiera les traitements d'ergothérapie, d'audiologie, d'orthophonie et d'orthoptique médicale qui seront dorénavant fournis aux malades externes admissibles en vertu de la loi de l'Assurance-hospitalisation.

Il faudra toutefois que ces traitements soient donnés sur ordonnance médicale dans un hôpital de la province de Québec, sous contrat avec l'Assurance-hospitalisation, et dont les services, dispensant les quatre genres de traitement ci-dessus, sont reconnus par le ministère de la Santé du Québec.

De plus, les traitements de rééducation vocale et auditive devront être donnés, sous la surveillance d'un oto-rhino-laryngologiste reconnu par le Collège des médecins et chirurgiens de la province de Québec, par des audiologistes et orthophonistes membres en règle de la Corporation des Audiologistes et Orthophonistes.

Les traitements par orthoptique médicale (y compris les épreuves diagnostiques) devront être donnés sous la surveillance d'un médecin spécialisé en la matière et reconnu comme tel par le Collège des médecins et chirurgiens de la province de Québec.

Le service d'Assurance-hospitalisation paiera $1.50 par traitement d'ergothérapie $3.00 par traitement d'audiologie et d'ortophonie, et $3.00 pour l'orthoptique médicale Pour ce qui est des épreuves diagnostiques en orthoptique médicale, le tarif ne comprend que la partie technique. Le travail fait par le médecin doit être considéré comme un service professionnel.

ICI ET LA DANS LA VILLE

LONG CONGE

Les employés des usines locales ont profité d'un long congé à l'occasion de la fête de Pâques. Ceux des magasins pour leur part ont eu lundi pour se remettre de la période de magasinage intense dont ont profité tous ceux qui voulaient arborer des toilettes neuves pour le grand jour.

PEU DE SOLEIL

On croirait qu'il est presque de rigueur pour le soleil de se cacher au cours de la Semaine Sainte. Il nous a même boudés dimanche. Avec une température semblable, cela met un frein à la fièvre du printemps. M. Soleil aime sans doute se faire désirer comptant être plus apprécié quand il daignera nous réchauffer.

RETOUR EN CLASSE

C'est mardi matin que les écoliers, petits et grands, reprenaient le collier pour assimiler toutes les connaissances requises pour les examens de juin. Ce long congé leur a sans doute permis de relaxer et ils pourront y mettre tout leur coeur. C'est en forgeant qu'on devient forgeron; c'est en travaillant qu'on atteint le succès.

SAVEZ-VOUS QUE. . .

Selon l'instructeur du corps de clairon des étudiants, ces jeunes font de très beaux progrès et qu'aussitôt que la température le permettra ils donneront des concerts où vous aurez l'occasion de constater leur habileté.

Il paraît aussi que les majorettes qui formeront le corps de musique pour ajouter de la couleur à un groupe qui en a déjà beaucoup, vous surprendront par leur savoir faire sur les tambours lors de leurs parades cette année. A ce propos, des billets sont présentement en vente pour un tirage en vue de les aider à défrayer le coût des instruments. Faut-il en dire davantage pour vous inciter à les encourager?

BAPTEME SOLENNEL

Au cours de la cérémonie de la bénédiction de l'eau pascale samedi soir, Mgr David a baptisé le fils de M. et Mme Jean Latreille (Rachelle Lalonde). Parrain et marraine, Louis et Nicole Lalonde, oncle et tante de l'enfant; porteuse, Alberte Lalonde. Le nouveau chétien a été nommé Joseph, Louis, Donald. Félicitations aux heureux parents bienvenue au petit neveu.

MESSE DE PAQUES

PREMIERE COMMUNION

Dimanche prochain aura lieu la première communion des tout petits. Cette touchante cérémonie aura lieu à 3 h de l'après-midi pour les enfants de langue française et à 5 heures pour ceux de langue anglaise. Nos félicitations et bons souhaits à cette occasion qui marque un des plus grands jours dans la vie.

EXPLORATRICES

Il nous faisait plaisir d'accueillir trois visiteuses à nos bureaux jeudi dernier. Pour meubler leurs heures de loisirs, trois religieuses enseignant à l'Ecole Note-Dame ont fait semble-t-il une tournée d'exploration. Elles nous ont dit avoir visité une des usines de textile de notre ville et voulaient se renseigner sur l'imprimerie. Nous n'avons même pas eu à donner les explications d'usage car une d'entre elles s'y connaissait très bien et a donné un vrai cours sur le sujet à ses compagnes. Nous espérons qu'elles ont eu autant de plaisir à nous visiter que nous en avons eu à les recevoir.

A la soirée chantante au Chateau

Marcel Tessier et André Paradis forment actuellement un des duo les plus en demande de la Belle Province

Unissant leur talent et leur grande expérience musicale ces deux artistes envoûtent littéralement leur public.

L'an dernier il concrétisait un de ses plus chers désirs l'opéra à la place des arts de Montréal (Carmen — Madame Butterfly) ensuite ce fut San Francisco, Toronto, L'Ouest canadien etc

La T.V., la radio, le concert le disque, toutes les portes lui sont maintenant ouvertes. Ce qui est remarquable dans son cas, c'est qu'il peut facilement aller de l'opéra à la chanson avec grande facilité Voix chaude, puissante, personnalité attachante, tous les gens du métier lui prédisent un avenir sur le plan international.

MARCEL TESSIER et ANDRE PARADIS ont donc uni leur talent et aujourd'hui ils sont propriétaires d'une nouvelle compagnie de disques "AVENTURES" où ils viennent tout récemment de graver un premier 45 tours: "Donne-moi ta vie", disque qui déjà après une semaine se vend d'une façon extraordinaire.

Ces deux grands artistes ont invité pour l'occasion trois autres chanteurs à voix très renommés, de Montréal qui feront aussi partie du concert et qui sauront plaire et enchanter le pblic.

MODE NOUVELLE VAGUE

Nous avons lu cette nouvelle provenant de Castleford Angleterre. Une jeune fille de 17 ans qui travaillait dans une fabrique de pantalons a été renvoyée chez elle pour rallonger la jupe qu'elle avait raccourcie à quatre pouces au-dessus du genou. Les contremaîtres s'étaient plaints que leurs hommes ne pouvaient se concentrer sur leur travail.

DERNIER DIMANCHE

Le 17 avril sera le dernier dimanche où vous pourrez bénéficier de la messe tardive Avis est donc donné à tous ceux qui y trouvaient avantage. A compter du 24, il leur faudra assister à une des messes de l'avant-midi.

NOTES SOCIALES

Beaucoup de personnes ont profité du long congé de Pâques pour visiter des amis et parents de l'extérieur. Par contre bien des gens ont rendu visite aux nôtres au cours de cette longue fin de semaine.

M. et Mme Elphège Poirier recevaient leurs enfants: M et Mme René Carrière ainsi que Michel, Chantal, Marcel et Pierre; Mme Frank Morrison et Dennis, Donald et Richard de Verdun et M. et Mme Gérald Desbiens et Carl de Jonquière.

M. et Mme Stephen Quenneville recevaient à l'occasion de Pâques, M. et Mme Georges Quenneville et M. et Mme Arthur Quenneville et leur fille Lyne de Hamilton, Ontario.

Sans doute plusieurs couples ont profité de cette grande fête pour célébrer leurs fiançailles. A tous ces gens heureux, nous offrons nos meilleurs voeux de bonheur.

Carmella Sanders

Bonjour chers lecteurs, j'espère que vous avez tous passé un beau jour de Pâques. — Nos enfants sont retournés à l'école, après une dizaine de jours de congé! Espérons qu'ils se sont reposés, au moins un peu, quoique la température ne les favorisa pas beaucoup, entre pluie neige et cette sale boue, je crois bien que les carrés de sable, les balançoires, les billes, les cordes à danser, se sont tout de même fait essayer avec plaisir. Le retour s'est fait mardi et voici un des commentaires populaires: "Comme te temps passe vite en vacances". Si on pouvait les persuader que c'est leur plus beau temps, mais qui qu'on leur dise comme on me l'a tant dit, ça ne change sûrement pas leur opinion.

Aubrey-Riverfield

W.I. Meeting

AUBREY - RIVERFIELD — The April meeting of Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Walsh on Tuesday afternoon with fourteen members present. The new president, Mrs. Math McKell, welcomed the two visitors, Miss Amy Corrigan from Baie Comeau and Mrs. Carnie who has recently moved into the community with her husband as the new owners of the Starr's property (formerly the old Morris home). The roll call was answered with a practical idea.

A report on the Public Speaking was given by the Convener of Education.

Short items were given by the various conveners. Agriculture — Rare lamb quadruplets born at Dixon's farm. Mushrooms. Are they fruit or vegetables? Germination of grain should be checked now on account of weather conditions last fall. Education — A teacher exchange between French Roman Catholics and English Protestants should be established to promote bilingualism. Home Economics — Use potato masher instead of fork tynes to flatten drop cookies before baking. Citizenship — License plates for 1967 will omit "La Belle Province" and substitute "Expo '67 and Confederation". Welfare and Health — Nine nurses-in-training at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital were born there.

The delegates to the County Convention will be Mrs. Robert Templeton and Mrs. William Allen while Mrs. Robert Templeton and Mrs. Walsh were appointed to attend the Provincial Convention.

As this was a social afternoon the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Finlay Milne and Mrs. Jack Hamilton who had arranged several games which everyone seemed to enjoy. Two mystery parcels donated by Mrs. Merrill Kerr were won by Mrs. Andrew Allen and Mrs. Jack Hamilton. Prize winners for the games were Mrs. Andrew Allen, Mrs. Osborne Orr, Mrs. Math McKell and Mrs. Carnie.

Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Math McKell and Mrs. Robert Templeton. Everyone agreed the social afternoon had been most enjoyable and should be repeated.

Easter Services at the Churches

Easter services were held at the Roman Catholic Church, beginning on Thursday night at 9 p.m.; Friday at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. "The Way of the Cross"; Sat. 10.45 p.m. to 1 p.m. for Midnight Mass. A great crowd was out at 10 a.m. Sunday for low Mass. The Rev. G. Jeannotte was assisted at these services by Father Villeneuve of Ste. Martine. Miss H. Crete presided at the organ.

Mr. Wm. Hudson, student minister at Howick United Church gave inspiring messages at the Good Friday Service at 8 p.m. and again on Sunday morning when the church was crowded with worshippers.

A full choir opened the Easter morning service with the Anthem, "Christ Is Risen". A second anthem "Behold the Dawn." was sung to the music of Finlandia. The sermon was followed by a moving rendition by Peter Miller of the solo, "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross,'. The musical setting was from an aria composed by Mozart.

Mrs. Russell Stewart played the organ at both services.

Miss Isabel Frith accompanied by several girls from her Sunday School class attended the Sunrise Service in Montreal.

When so many critics of the church are trying to undermine the Christian faith it is heart-warming and encouraging to see so many people gathered together for the Easter Services.

Howick Wolf Cub Sixers' Council was held at the home of Akela on Wednesday afternoon. As the four present Sixers are 'going up' to Scouts this month, the Seconds were invited, as they are possible successors. It was a very successful meeting and it is felt that similar gatherings would be very helpful to the Leaders, the Sixers and the Pack as a whole.

The meeting closed with a mad dash outside for Easter eggs and Cokes. The Cubs found out later that the Easter bunnies who hid them turned out to be 3 Howick United Church Explorers!

Ste. Agnes

Welcome Home

STE. AGNES — It is good to welcome back to our midst, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Platt, who have spent the late fall and winter months in Bradenton, Fla.

Both Joe and Hazel look amazingly well, and while they enjoyed their stay in Florida they are happy to be back amongst their old friends once more.

Mrs. Marion Pharmer, sister of Mrs. Platt, accompanied them home and will spend the up-coming months visiting amongst relatives.

In Hospital

Our sincere best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mr. Emile Quenneville, who, for the past couple of weeks has been a medical patient in the Huntingdon County Hospital.

Mrs. Alphonse Vallée has also been hospitalized for the past couple of weeks in a Montreal Hospital. It was expected that she would return home during the week-end. It is sincerely hoped that Mrs. Vallée's health will be much improved following treatment.

Recuperating At Home

Mr. Robert Steven has been discharged from Huntingdon County Hospital and is presently recuperating at his home.

Robert has been hospitalized for many long weeks with a bone fracture following a fall in his home. True to his happy personality, he has remained amazingly cheerful throughout his long ordeal.

Church Notes

The Easter Sunday festival and the celebration of the Holy Communion was observed in Zion United Church on Sunday morning.

Beautiful spring flowers adorned the chancel, and the choir sang a special anthem in keeping with the Easter theme.

GOLF

Beauchateau Expands To 18 Holes

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Beauchateau Country Club Inc., President Mr. Robert Trudeau informed the Gleaner last weekend that formal approval by the Club's Board of Directors was expected last Monday evening of plans to expand present golf facilities from 13 to 18 holes.

Golf Professional Donald O'Doherty has stated that work on the final five holes will be completed by the end of July.

The full course, when completed, will measure 7154 yards. The front nine, in operation since 1957, is 3602 yards, and the new back nine will be 3552 yards. Par will be 36-36-72.

A committee under the joint chairmanship of Vice President Mr. Fred Boucher and Mr. Bob Smith has been at work designing the back nine, work on which is 75% completed. The main work still to be done is the seeding of greens and tees.

Mr. O'Doherty states that the greens for the full 18 holes will average 70 feet by 90 feet, and the tees will average 50 feet by 35 feet. There will be a minimum of 65 traps.

The par 5 holes will be the 462 yard first, 600 yard ninth, always a tough hole against the prevailing wind from near-by Lake St. Louis, the 490 yard 12th and the 490 yard 17 h. The par threes are the 182 yard 3rd., 200 yard 6th., 185 yard 10th and 175 yard 13th.

Four water holes, the 390 yard second, 387 yard eighth, 175 yard thirteenth and the 400 yard 16th., will add interest, with the 13th giving golfers some trouble when short. Water runs directly in front of the green.

Don O'Doherty told the Gleaner two weeks ago, that the existing 13 holes will be available for play by mid-May if weather is favourable. The Club draws its membership mainly from the Montreal-Chateauguay-Beauharnois area, and is situated on Lery Boulevard a mile or so North of Beauharnois.

Maple Home And School Has Full Program For Next Meeting

(By Edith Bate)

The program for the next general meeting has been completely arranged and it promises to be an interesting evening for parents of children in all the grades at Maple School.

On April 19th. (Tuesday) between 7:30 and 8:00 p.m. all classrooms from Grades one to six will be open for parents to view. Kindly note that promptly at 8:00 p.m., the classroom doors will be locked and the evening's program continued in the Gymnasium.

At 8 p.m. the Home and School Association will hold a brief business session. After this there will be the annual election of officers for 1966-67 season and immediately following there will be the parent participation in Maple Schools Centennial project.

This last item was published in The Gleaner of March 31st. The students of Maple School have completed their project and the amount of pennies collected will be announced at this coming meeting, April 19th. Suffice to say — that it was quite successful, and the goal of $19.67 was reached.

The latter part of the program will be a Gymnastic display of Grades 4 - 5 - and 6 and this will be under the direction of Mr. Ray Mader, the Physical Education instructor at Maple.

We were hoping to hear the school choir this month — however due to circumstances beyond control this will be postponed until the May meeting.

I'm sure 99% of the parents will be eager to see the classrooms in the school, so don't miss this opportunity. Please try to arrive at 7:30 or shortly after, because under no circumstances will the classrooms be left open after 8 o'clock, to accommodate late arrivals.

At the close of the program, light refreshments will be served in the Cafeteria.

Heights Art Group Plans Tenth Annual Exhibit

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Mr. Bob Fair, long-time Art Group Director of the Heights Recreation Club, told the Gleaner last week-end that the popular annual highlight of the Heights' social calendar — tenth edition — the Art Exhibit, will be held at Town Hall, 70 Carlyle Avenue, on Sunday, May 1st., from 2 - 6 p.m.

Classes have been held on Thursday evenings during the winter months with Mr. Edward L. Sonne as instructor, and the various districts of Chateauguay were represented by Margaret Amaron, Beverley Besner, Grace Boyle, Sheila Cunningham, Wilma Dickson, Evelyn Duffey, Zoria Germain, Georgette Gurholt, Jean Hanna, Monique Herwander, Jane Horsburgh, Lynne Houldsworth, Noreen Milloy, Christina Morris, Lou Poland, Judy Richards, Daphne Stone, Margaret Symons, Suzanne Ward, Mimi Went, Joyce Williams, Pamela Williamson and Sandra Yaxley.

Anyone in the Chateauguay area who wishes to submit original work in painting, or drawing, may do so and a selection committee will choose the entries to be exhibited. Entries should be suitably framed or mounted ready for hanging and delivered to 77 Carlyle Ave., on or before April 24th. The entry should be accompanied by the name and address of the artist and the title of the picture.

The Exhibit will be open to adults and there will be no charge for admission. The popularity of this event has increased each year and it is a good opportunity to meet old friends who have moved away from the district — so don't forget the date — May Day.

Easter dinner guests at the Frank Egan home were Mrs. Egan's father, Mr. J. Zipay, and Mr. J. Sofranko along with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zipay and son Joe Jr.

Happy Birthday to the following Westenders: Lynne Fuller, April 16; William O'Reilly, April 16.

A family dinner at their mother's home was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Denis and daughter Jeanette also friend Michel Tessier; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert and their three daughters and son of Drummondville; Mrs. Charles Gilbert, two sons and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dechamplain and baby daughter. All the family had a wonderful time as Mrs. Gilbert left nothing undone to make it a perfect day. Mr. Charles Gilbert was unable to attend as he was on duty, being a Montreal fireman.

Mr. and Mrs. Syd Mitchell visited their grandchildren Leila Gay and Todd Mitchell of Chateauguay Park. They took with them some Easter goodies including some from Great Grandpa Pugsley in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Langdale, Diane and Ronnie motored to Gatineau, Que., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Gratton and spend Good Friday. From there they made for Lefaivre, Ontario to Janine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ipperfiel. After spending a day visiting they returned home bringing the parents with them for a week's visit. Two happy grandchildren on St. Louis St.

Mrs. R. Keller and son Laird visited her mother Mrs. Gardner on Sunday. Laird is the young ventriloquist who with his pal Woody entertained our children at the parochial hall about 3 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith and children Patricia and David motored to Agincourt, Ontario to spent the Easter weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers, former Westenders. The children Gregory, Geoffrey and Karen and David and Patricia had an egg hunt Easter morning and I understand it was uproarious. Patricia cried when they left and David said he wanted to stay till next Christmas, cause its so nice here at Easter.

Mr and Mrs. John Fuller, Lynne, Diane and Dale went to Beauharnois to visit Mrs. Fuller's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Irwin and their triplet daughters Karen Kathie and Kristine. Mrs. Fuller tells me they are so identical she has a real hard time knowing which neice she is actually holding. They are now 3 years old and Diane especially thinks they are just right.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mooney have left West End, but not Chateauguay. They now live in the Centre near Maple School vicinity. In your new home apartment may you both be blessed with good health and able to enjoy it for many years.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mr. E. E. Pugsley of North Vancouver, an ardent Gleaner reader and author of many stories and articles.

At last report Mr. Harold Lowe was much brighter and feeling a little better. Keep that chin up Harold. We miss you.

Organ Recital And Choral Evening At St. Andrew's

(By Edith Bate)

On Good Friday evening, at St. Andrew's United Church, there was presented a very beautiful musical program, especially designed for the pre-Easter season.

Excertps from the Sacred Cantata " Gethsemane", words and music by P. G. Larbalestier, were sung by the Choir, with T. Alun Hughes, B.Sc., Eng., conducting. Mr. Hughes also presented a number of organ solos, by Handel, Mozart, Batiste, Gaul, Bach, Sibelius, Lott, and Dicks.

Although all the works in the organ recital were tremendously moving, I found the "Finlandia" by Jan Sibelius (tone poem) particulary beautiful. This work is usually performed by a full symphony orchestra, and indeed Mr. Hughes, mastered it almost as if the Casavant organ were many instruments.

Soloists in the Cantata also presented a most excellent performance. Soprano Marian Kemp sang "To The Lord Our God", Gladys McLaughlin also a soprano "Abba Father". In the alto section, Alison Gilbert sang "And Didst Thou Love", with great feeling. The remaining solo work "Lover and Friend" was sung by mezzo-soprano Judy Frigon.

This choir has very excellent diction. I sat at the back of the Church, and yet I could distinguish each word distinctly.

To quote Rev. Howard Fraser's words at the close of the Choral Evening, it was a "moving and uplifting" experience to hear this lovely music. The pipe organ and human voice are a wonderful media to express our thoughts at this season, or at any time.

On Sunday evening, April 24th, an Evening of Song and Worship will be held in St. Andrew's with a choir from the Salem Welsh Church, in co-operation with St. David's Society of Montreal. Knowing how the Welsh love to sing this should be a very pleasant evening. In Welsh a Singing Festival is called "Gymanfa Ganu". Everyone is most welcome to come to this presentation.

Girl Guide Whist And Presentation By Kinettes

On March 31st., the Girl Guides held a successful Whist in aid of their Camp Fund. The committee would like to thank sincerely, the local merchants who, by their generous donations to the prize list, made this Whist a success. Also a special thank you to Mr. G. Kennedy for his contribution. Unfortunately he could not attend due to his efforts in connection with Highway 3 and 4.

Special thanks are also due to the Kinettes for their contribution to the Camp Fund, the Kinsmen Club, Mrs. Cahill, formed in conjunction with the Kinswen Club, Mrs. Cahill, Secretary of this new group, made the presentation, at the same time wishing Ann Russell and Judith Layzell "bon voyage".

Along with the donation of prizes, it must not be forgotten that donations of time were made by many, many people, such as the Love Pine Rover Crew, Land, Sea and Air Rangers, Guiders and generous contributions of fudge and refreshments.

The Committee would like to thank their Chairman, Mrs. Jean Aubrey, whose tireless efforts were responsible for the success of the Whist Drive.

They would also like to say "Bon Voyage" to the two girls and hope their trip will be a successful and worthwhile experience.

ST. GEORGE'S EASTER MESSAGE

To All Our People:

Greetings in the name of Jesus Christ, the risen Lord of the world! This may sound like nice flowery language to some, but we believe that the Resurrection has to do with life as we know it.

We say Jesus is Lord NOW, because we know something of what resurrection means. Having gone all the way for others on the cross, Jesus is the man who is set free from the binding and limiting forces of human life — who now can set us free from these forces by the power of His presence in our lives.

We believe the way of Christ in this world is the way of God in this world, and it is our way to God in this world and the next. We know because we have experienced it. In fact, it has happened, and is happening, to many in this parish right now.

Geetings in the name of the risen Lord?

Why certainly, and with certainty. He is risen, He is our Lord. In His name and the knowledge of His power we greet one another with joy.

F. Gavin Barnett
H. Jack Shppard
John B. Friedlander
Arnold Curran

The Senior Choir under the direction of John Foster, sang the Anthem "The Strife is O'er" by Henry G. Ley at both the 9.30 and 11.15 services last Sunday.

Parents of boys wishing to participate in this boy's choir are asked to contact Mr. Foster at 482-7169 or the Church Office 692-0911 to arrange for an audition.

Advance notice of two items on the Church Hall calendar: a Coffe Break on Tuesday, April 19th — 10 a.m. to 12 noon and at the next W.A. meeting, Wednesday, April 20th., slides of the North Country will be shown. Everyone welcome.

ST. ANDREW'S NOTES

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

There were two morning services on Easter Sunday and Mr. Howard Fraser remarked that had there not been two services, the Church could not have accommodated all the worshippers at one sitting.

The early service featured the Junior Choir; Carla and Marike Klop sang a duet "Jesus, Name I love and the whole Junior Choir sang "Wonderful, wonderful Lord." In the second service Mrs. Marian Kemp song the solo "To The Lord our God."

A light breakfast was served by the Kairos Group in Memorial Hall, between services.

Mr. Fraser's sermon was based on the theme "I believe in the Resurrection." The Senior Choir gave, for the second year in succession a spirited rendering of Mascagni's "O rejoice that the Lord is arisen."

Next Sunday the annual "Dedication to Mission" ceremony will be held as part of the morning service. Mid-week Christian Education Groups which have completed this year's Mission Study will be making their gifts towards a Church Mission Project.

St. Andrew's Sunshine Gospel Singers will be conducting a musical program at Northlea United Church in Chomedey next Sunday.

The Salem Welsh Church and St. David's Society of Montreal will hold a Gymanfa Ganu (Singing Festival) at St. Andrew's on Sunday, April 24th. at 7.00 p.m.

Combined Health Appeal And Red Cross

By Fergus Horsburgh

Long time Chateauguay resident, Mr. René Dupont, is Area Chairman for this year's Campaign of Combined Health Appeal and Red Cross. His area of responsibility comprises the three Chateauguays — Town, Centre and Heights.

Mr. Dupont told The Gleaner last weekend that Chairmen have been appointed for a number of areas in the district. The following have agreed to serve in the campaign, which runs from 9th to 25th April:—

Fred Berry, J. P. Roland Colpron, Jean Desparois, Danny J. Flanagan, Marcel Fournier, Marcel Garand, Mrs. Frederick Lunn, Mrs. Donat Lalonde, Lucien Laberge, Robert Lapierre, Marcel Poupart, Mrs. Therese Riendeau Jean Jacques Reid, Mrs. Jeannine Sauvé, Guy Saucier, Mrs. Blanche Thomas, Robert M. Wall and Mrs. Norman Wright.

It is hoped that the main canvass in Chateauguay will be held during the weekend of April 16th and 17th.

The area covered by the Appeal is the Island of Montreal, Isle Jesus and the South Shore from Boucherville to Chateauguay.

It is hoped that each of the three Chateauguays will reach the objective which has been set for them. For the Town of Chateauguay, the goal is $1200, for the Centre, $1700 and for the Heights, $400.

Quoting from the official pamphlet: "Human needs are not restricted by city limits; illness strikes in the suburbs as well as in the City proper. Community services must be maintained where you work and where your family lives."

PLEASE GIVE GENEROUSLY WHEN THE CANVASSER CALLS ON YOU.

Cubs Tour Town Police And Fire Station

(By Edith Bates)

Thirty cubs of St. George's Seeonee Pack had a tour of the Town of Chateauguay's Police and Fire Station last Monday morning.

Most interest was centered on the fire truck and — —of all things — the cells for the "bad guys". They were permitted to climb aboard the fire truck and they really enjoyed the experience. The Seeonee Pack meets on Monday evenings at St. George's Hall.

Last week two of the groups had separate tours. One group had a tour of the Montreal Star plant and the other group was shown over Chateauguay's new Post Office. These tours were described as excellent and parents of the boys participated in helping, which is a most satisfactory sort of arrangement.

These two tours formed part of a new Five Star scheme of cubbing. It is a completely new program.

Eight cubs from St. George's are now registered to go to Camp Jackson Dodds this summer.

We are hoping to have more news every other week, concerning the Scout and Cub movement in this area.

Tax Prospects For Town of Chateauguay

By Fergus Horsburgh

Mayor Joseph Laberge told The Gleaner last weekend that a surplus of $76,000 is indicated for the fiscal year 1965 in the Town of Chateauguay's accounts.

Last year the Town cut the general rate of tax from 85 cents per $100 evaluation to 35 cents in a more to return to taxpayers the accumulated surplus of the past few years.

The above figures are subject to audit. An official review of the Town's finances will be made before the end of April, when the new rate of tax for 1966 will be set. I understand that the new rate will be between 50 - 60 cents per $100 evaluation. It had earlier been forecast that after one year at the reduced rate of 35 cents, taxes would revert to around the former level of 85 cents.

Spring Clean-Up Week On Its Way; Homeowners Asked To Join In Drive

Homeowners in communities throughout the nation today were asked by the Canadian Underwriters' Association to join in the 1966 Spring Clean-Up Week.

By sprucing up homes and throwing out trash accumulated during the winter, a householder will not only make his home a brighter and pleasanter place to live, but also will eliminate fire hazards.

Old newspapers, discarded clothing and furniture, and old paint cans, are combustibles on which fires feed.

"Fire losses last year totaled more than $100 million and by cleaning up our homes this Spring we can help reduce the hazards of fire," said W.W. Owen, general manager of the Canadian Underwriters' Association.

"As huge as our fixed property loss is, property can always be replaced, but lives lost in fires can't, Mr. Owen added.

"In each of the last six years, more than 550 persons in Canada have lost their lives in fires, and we should make every effort to reduce this tragic toll.

Spring Clean-Up Week is observed in communities at different times. Mr Owen said but in most cities and towns it is observed in April or May.

In hundreds of communities Spring Clean-Up Week is directed by a local committee which informs householders when the week will be ob

Chateauguay News Notes

By Fergus Horsburgh

✓ Chateauguay Centre's Police Chief Spenard advised The Gleaner that 1966 licenses for bicycles and dogs are now ble at the Police Station on d'Anjou Blvd.

Chief Spenard also states that there are six bicycles . . one coaster wagon at the Station, awaiting owners to claim them. If these items are not claimed within a few weeks, they will be auctioned by the Town of Chateauguay Centre authorities.

✓ The meeting of the Centre's Council last week mainly dealt with evaluation roll complaints. Next Council meeting on April 13th (tonight).

✓ From the Town of Chateauguay meeting of last week:

✓ The financial report for 1965 was accepted by Council.

✓ The Town has engaged a Sports Director with duties commencing on April 18th. He is Philippe Despatie, Physical Instructor with the Youville Regional School Board. Mr. Despatie will be on full time during July and August and the remaining ten months, part time.

✓ The Town has purchased a new G.M.C. truck (1966 model) for their Public Works Dept.

✓ Town of Chateauguay are at present preparing a list of properties on which the taxes are in arrears, and will present this list to Council at a meeting in the very near future. Council usually orders the Sec.-Treasurer to sell property at a public auction. If you own any property on which taxes are due, including the 1965 tax, you would be well advised to pay up immediately, to save cost of publishing and administration fees, which incidentally can be as much as 20%.

✓ The Town sold $550,000.00 worth of debentures Tuesday, April 5th, for capital administration.

✓ We hear from the U.S. Weather Bureau that the country will experience 30 days of rain, cloud and not much sun. This report was on the airwaves Tuesday, April 5th — so let's see if the U.S. Weatherman goofs.

✓ The A. and P. are building a supermarket on d'Anjou Blvd., just north of Maple (near the Q.L.C.). Construction is to start soon.

✓ I understand that a local resident was apprehended by the Police last Wednesday and fined $19. for speeding between Woodbine and McLeod.

Let us begin with an open request to Mayor Joseph Laberge and Alderman Bert Oliver to repaint the white line on St. Francis Boulevard. This line is certainly not the ultimate answer to pedestrian safety, but at least it did provide a minimum safeguard when it could be seen. Right now it is all but invisible. So how about it, Joe and Bert?

This is to remind Alderman Bert Oliver of his promise to do something about a "BEWARE — CHILDREN" sign near to the entrance to Woodbine Park. Now that spring weather is here, the number of small children in and around the park is increasing daily. Commuters to and from the new area of Seigniory Park above the transmission line are apt to forget that Woodbine Street (or is it Avenue?) is strictly residential, with a very large child population. When children are actually on the road, most drivers exercise commendable restraint, but when the road is APPARENTLY free of children, excessive speed and disregard of the Stop sign is the rule rather than the exception. So how about it, Bert?

Applications for registrations for next fall's cooperative Nursery School are now being received by Registrar Mrs. Elaine Robitaille.

The Pre-School Association holds its Annual General Meeting at the Clubhouse next Monday evening, at which the election of officers for the coming year will be held. The Nominating Committee's slate has been circulated to all members and associate-members.

I suppose this sort of thing HAS happened before, though personally I never seem to have heard of it. One evening last week the driver of a Chateauguay —bound bus was given a ticket by the Town's Constable De Van for crossing the double-white line at the St. Francis — St. Jean Baptiste intersection. Presumably by coincidence, a Provincial Police patrol car was parked at the intersection at the moment of the "arrest".

Memorandum from McLeod

My appeal for news in last's week's blether resulted in two items.

I had a very pleasant conversation by telephone with Mrs. Lyon of Dubé Street. The Lyon's youngest son Stuart celebrated his 13th birthday on Easter Monday, April 11th. Many Happy Belated Returns of the day Stuart! Also in the same household, the Lyon's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fox, are moving soon to a new home in LaSalle. Best wishes for you and for Beverley and Susan in your new home. Incidentally, Stuart Lyon is one of The Gleaner's route boys.

My next item is a Wedding Anniversary. Congratulations and Best Wishes to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Martin of 90 St. Eugene, who will celebrate 18 years of bliss on the 17th of April. Cecil is a former coworker of my husband, Alfred in the good old days at Dorval.

The Young's of McLeod Avenue spent Easter in Val David, visiting Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Young Sr.

As far as social news goes that seems to be about IT.

Concerning African Violets, I have lost two plants this week and after raking my memory, it seems to me to be the pots they were in, which was initially responsible for their demise. Both plants had very wilted leaves, curling under, and I took them away from all my other plants, thinking perhaps they were getting too much light. However they suffered crown rot. The pots have been used before for other violets and I remember I always have the same trouble. Although sterilized with soap and strong javel — (they are plastic) this particular type of pot seems always to stay very moist all the time. I have only four pots of this type so will not use them again for African violets.

If you have an hour or so during Spring cleaning — don't forget to clean your plants. Take all the old earth off and repot them in fresh soil. Try using an old spoon to fill up the pot, holding the plant in one hand. You will find it gives new life to your plants — just to freshen them up a little — and isn't that what Spring is for? New Life.

If I hear from you, there will be a memo in again next week.

Spring Clean-Up Week, in such communities is directed by civic officials, service clubs and other groups, with the Boys Scouts, Girl Guides and other organizations participating in the clean-up campaign.

In many towns and cities civic groups arrange Spring Clean-Up programs in schools, where a service club member or fire department officer delivers an address on the importance of Spring Clean-Up and its potential as an eliminator of fire hazards.

Residents of sparsely settled suburban communities and those living on farms can increase the fire safety of their homes by conducting individual Spring Clean-Up drives.

Civil Service and Bilingualism

A short time ago a controversy arose when it was announced that all members of the civil service should be bilingual. It was announced that steps would be taken to bring this about. There was the tone about the announcement that it would take place immediately and almost overnight. It caused considerable concern among those in the Federal civil service and especially the older members of English speaking Recently the Prime Minister has attempted to allay the fears of the civil servants by policy guidelines which will be applied.

The Federal Civil Service has been in effect for many years and when first established there was no thought of bilingualism. Even until a few years ago, the matter was not given too much attention. It is only of quite recent years that the matter has come to the fore and forms and such used by the Government have been printed in the two languages. Greater pressure is now being brought to bear. In this day too, there are more people of the two language groups in the civil service. It might therefore be said to be more of a problem than ever before. However, somehow previously, all these people have managed to conduct their various duties to the satisfaction of the general public. When one or another has been unable to understand, someone has been able to interpret the requirements. In a two-language country, this seems to be the logical way of doing things and no one gets hurt.

Things being the way they are, it is not likely that the Civil Service can become completely bilingual overnight. It is not possible to dismiss all those who are not bilingual and replace them with some who are. Much more is involved with civil service positions than that. There are a number who have one language, yet they have an important position and have had many years of training to hold such a post. Such people could not be replaced overnight to substitute a person who may be bilingual, just because he is just that. These people too, have been doing satisfactory work despite their not having a second language and will no doubt continue to do a creditable job.

However, it may be wise that in future replacements, or additional help being needed, that it be stressed the applicants must be bilingual in French and English, the question of extraction need be no problem, it will be the ability that counts. In order to aid this, then more stress should be put on the education of our children in the schools, so that both languages are taught right from the beginning of the education. In this manner, it would be much easier for the future generation to meet the requirements of our two language situation. We could be assured that the subject would not become a controversy at any time.

Naturally those presently in the civil service became alarmed at the recent announcement. They saw themselves suddenly being thrown out of a job because of their inability to speak and read two languages. It is doubtful if some of the older people could absorb enough of benefit to take language courses in order to become bilingual. For younger people perhaps courses could be set up and thus they would be enabled to overcome the difficulties in a short time. It is certain there can be no overnight conversion, for anyone. Under the circumstances, the inability of those who are at least senior in the Civil Service to handle both languages, should not form the basis for a termination of service. Such would be grossly unfair and there is no wonder at the alarm it caused in the beginning.

It must be remembered that in other parts of this country, no French is heard, spoken, or taught, so that many people have no idea whatsoever of it. These people are drawn into the civil service at Ottawa and elsewhere through virtue of their having the required qualifications to fill a certain position. Also they may never be called upon to handle another language.

When we consider the number of different nationals who come to this country, then the ability to understand other languages too, presents a point. Under such circumstances an interpreter is called in. Canada cannot become suddenly, what it has never been.

Hanging, As A Capital Punishment Retained

HAD anyone asked us for a prediction on the outcome of the vote on abolition of the death penalty, we would have said it would be adopted. This especially so, when the Members of the House had a free vote. We believe too, that Prime Minister Pearson felt this would be the outcome and that is why there were so many commutations in the past while.

Reading the various pros and cons as they were discussed in the house, it was very hard to tell right up to the last, just what the final decision would be. It goes to show that one can never correctly foretell any situation.

The decision will create some complications for the Government as a number of cases of guilty of murder have been returned and have to be decided. Those that have already been decided and commuted will have to stand, but others will need decision in the face of the outcome of the vote.

We have always felt that the death penalty was not sufficient punishment for the crime committed. The suffering often caused the victim or victims and their relatives was far more than that of the murderer. After being arrested, the murderer was so occupied during his trial and so forth that he hardly had time to ponder his misdeed. When the end came it was swift and painless. His last few hours are possibly the worst.

In a number of cases the murderer is responsible for the death of several victims — he has only one life to offer so the point of a life for a life is not served. It has been our opinion that a person convicted of murder should be punished much more severely than for any other crime. In our belief this cannot be satisfied by taking the life of that person. Those making the decision are placing themselves in the same position as the murderer, except that their decision is made legal and they do not actually take the life. This part of the proceedings is relegated to still another person — the Hangman.

Thus, a subject that has been a matter of controversy for many years, has been settled for the time being at least. It may however, be raised again and further consideration be given to it.

SUGAR AND SPICE

SIGN OF SPRING

Ah, Spring,
You glorious thing,
You make me want to sing
Of marriages
And baby carriages;
And make me want to laugh
At a new calf;
And make me yearn for a bout
With a trout;
And make me joy in squirrels;
And envy girls
Their poise
With boys
When the blood runs
And the sun suns,
And the fairways beckon
And the flowers reckon
It's time they put their dopey heads
Out of the mangey flower beds.

Well, that's about enough of that. Hope none of my students read it. In my day I've written some pretty nasty pieces about spring, but she's bounced back every year. That bit of doggerel may finish her off for good.

And what a pity that would be. Winter puts the iron in our souls. But the slanting yellow rays of heat, the joyous chuckle of freed water the voluptuous stench of rotten earth emerging from the shrouds of death turn that iron, by some magic, into pure gold.

I can be as grouchy as a hatcheck girl about spring. But today I wandered about the estate and felt the tiny glimmering coal of my spirit fanned into something approaching a blaze.

There was the picnic table bloody but unbowed, after six months under the snow. There was the barbecue outfit, in three scattered pieces, succulent beckoner to the charred red steaks of July. There was the lawnmowers, reminder of days when you wear nothing but shorts, sweat gloriously, and stop for a beer every 15 minutes.

Perhaps, I should put them away in the fall. But when the ice age has left, and I go out and see them there, it's like meeting old friends Rusty and ravaged, but familiar and dear.

Signs of spring everywhere. Sixty black squirrels, moved out of my attic, seeking acorns they missed last fall. Lady next door, who has four little ones, hanging out washing with a fifth imminent.

Endless chant of kids skipping. Moose bellow of impatient steamers in the bay waiting for break-up. Fire sirens saluting the annual epidemic of grass fires.

Bitter lines around mouths turning to smiles. Overcoats and boots hurled into closets Pain pots broken out. Teenagers standing on corners, bunting like young calves Women's hats — goofy, exotic irreverent, awful. Old ladies tippy-toeing about, first time out since November. Kids up to their ears in mud.

Anglers and golfers bragging, speculating about the great new season. Housewives, coatless, shouting nothings to neighbors. Teachers cursing as they mark Easter exams.

Perhaps you can, but I can't imagine living in a country where the cycle of the seasons is almost unnoticeable I like to be where the action is. I like spring to come like a shot of adrenalin, not a lukewarm cup of tea.

It is little wonder that myth and legend, poetry and painting and music, not to mention religion, celebrate the theme of regeneration in the spring. It there is such a thing as the indomitable spirit of man, which I firmly believe, it would be impossible without spring.

Think of it. A year in which the days did not lengthen the sun did not warm, the green did not appear, the soul did not expand. We would be lining up at the ends of docks, clambering for six-shooters, and packing the subway stations for hurling-under-trains-purposes, by the first of June.

PART 2

Rennie, John — An eminent civil engineer, born in Phantasia, Scotland in 1761. Rennie's great work was the Waterloo Bridge over the Thames River, said to be the noblest structure of its kind in the world. It was commenced in 1811 and finished in less than six years at a cost of $1,000,000. The London docks, the East Indian and the West Indian docks, the Prince docks at Liverpool and those of Dublin, Greenock and Leith were all designed under his supervision. He also planned many improvements on harbours and dockyards at Plymouth, Portsmouth and Chatham. Rennie died in 1821 and was buried in St. Paul's Cathedral crypt.

Rennie, Sir John — Brother of George was also a celebrated civil engineer. He was knighted on the opening of new London Bridge in 1831 which he executed from his father's designs. He designed and achieved several works of great magnitude and completed the drainage of the Lincolnshire coast begun by his father. He died in 1874.

The following is taken from the Encyclopedia Britannica, Vol 20, Page 402: Rennie, John (1761-1821) — Engineer and architect. He was the son of a farmer and was born at Phantasia, East Lothian in June 1761. While attending the parish school of East Linton had to pass the workshop of Andrew Meikle, the inventor of the threshing machine. He evidenced great interest in the operation and progress there. The workmen were in the habit of lending him their tools and teaching him their various uses. In his 12th year he left school and placed himself under Meikle but after a period of two years he went to school at Dunbarton, in order to obtain a more thorough knowledge of mathematics and mechanical drawing. Afterwards he occassionally assisted Meikle but before his 18th., year he had erected 7 corn mills on his own.

In the winter months he visited Edinburgh and attended classes in physical science at the university there by Professor Robinson of Edinburgh. He was introduced to Messrs. Bolton and Watt of Soho, near Birmingham. For a while in 1786 he superintended the construction of the Albion Mills near Blackfriars Bridge, London, England. It is believed that difficulties which occurred at the Albion Mills in regard to the ebb and flow of the tide first led Rennie to the study of that branch of civil engineering, in connection with hydraulics and hydrodynamics in which he became so celebrated as to have no rival after the death of Sneaton. Immediately after the completion of the Albion Mills Rennie's reputation was so firmly established in everything connected with mill work, that he found himself in a very extensive line of business in the constructon of sugar mills in Jamaica and other West Indies Island. He soon had a monoply and among the other mills of Tonbrigge, the great flour mills at Wandsworth, and rolling and titurating mills at the Royal Mint on Tower Hill. When even the machinery of his mills was impelled by steam he used his friend's engines, Messrs. Bolton and Watt furnished the motive power in Cornwall, the Portsmouth Canal, and the Avon and Kennet Canal.

But more important than these, were his works in connection with the docks and Harbours. His designs embracing the London Docks, the East and West Indian Docks at Blackwall, the docks at Hull, Grennock, Leith, Liverpool and Dublin, the Harbours of Queensbury, Berwickmouth, Holly Head, Kingston, Newhaven and several others, owe there security and convenience to his labors. But even these works must yield to what he excuted in connection with the Govt. dock yards at Portsmouth, Chatham, Sheerness, and Plymouth, one other effort of his genious fails to be mentioned, the drainage of the West Coast tract of marshlands bordering upon the Rivers Trent, Witham, Welland, and Oose, which for centuries had baffled the skill of most learned men in the Dept. of Civil Engineering. Rennie's industry was very extraordinary, though fond of the society of his select friends and his family, his conversations were always amusing and instructive. He never allowed amusement of any kind to interfere with his business. In person he was of great stature and strength and his noble bust by Chartery, when exhibited at Sommerset House, obtained the name "of Jupitor Tonas", he died October 16, 1821, and was buried in the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Eng.

His son Sir John Rennie born August 30, 1799, died Sept., 1874, he succeeded him as Engineer to the Admiralty and acquired a high reputation in the same line of business as his father on completion of London Bridge, from his father's' Designs in 1831, he received the honor of Knighthood. He was the author of the theory of formation construction of bridges and Harbours vol 1851 54 "end of quote", now to return to Robert and Henry Rennie.

Robert and Henry Rennie having completed their apprenticeship, prepared to emigrate to Canada in the hope they would get free land, but more in a free country. That they would be able to live as independent citizens, away from peasant life, as in old lands — a two class system that the lower class were little above serfs. Henry was married to Agnes Wands Grant. It would appear that she may have been previously married to one Grant, as this name only is mentioned at first. She may have been the widow of Grant. They had two girls in Scotland, and one was lost at sea on voyage here. These men may have worked in Montreal, as many did at that time, on the drains and canals. However, Robert married Rachel Emerie of Laprairie in that same year it is quite probable that this was the reason they eventually made their way to what was later Rockburn, Que.

In the spring or 1820 Robert bought from Mathew Shearer, who may have come out a few years previous to this, as he had some land cleared and a log house up. This could be the oldest log house still standing in good shape, and still in use by Chas. Douglas as a chicken house. It is estimated that it would have been built in 1816 or earlier. Millford Oliver lives on this farm which was lately sold to Lussier Freres Apple Growers. Henry lived and worked with Robert that year and in 1820, in the spring, on looking around decided on a lot west of his brother. However the Duffins fancied the same lot and hearing that Rennie was interested in it, decided to forstall him. Rennie hearing of their scheme determined to outwit them. It being the Sabbath, he could not take possession, so was constrained to wait at Jos Arthur's until the Sabbath was past. He and Arthur sat up until they heard the cock crow and they knew that it was Monday. There was no clock in the region and now sure that they would not be breaking the Sabbath, they sallied forth to the place and swung their axes with such good effect that by daylight there was no disputing who was in possesion of the soil. He put up his shanty on the lot on which is now Hillside Cemetery. His shanty was east and north a bit from the front gate. Not long after, a school was erected on Henry's lot, it being half way from Alexanders Corners and Rockburn. After this, services were held in the school. Henry lost a young son and he was buried beside the school as no burial places were available. Henry then gave a half acre of land for a burial place and started a burial register. In it he recorded that of his own son as the first burial. This is a beautiful spot and now is incorporated and properly cared for. In 1829, by a great effort, a church was built by Brewster and McHardy, and was known as Black's Church because one of that name lived close by on the hill. Many from far and near came to this, the first church in the area. It stood until 1872. Rennie's New Brick Methodist Church was built in 1866. Henry Rennie, Jr., his nephew, bought the old Church

ROUND BYRE and RING

By Frank Napier

In correction of "Orr-a loans" (boys) in my last week's R. B. & R.; an error that was probably due to a misinterpretation of my longhand copy. An insignificant error, but in case some Scot from the North comes along and says "ye didna Ken what ye were writing about", the following interpretation: It should have been "Orra-Loon". A Loon having been descriptive, in older days, of and below 'teenage youths.

Sometimes the Orra-loon was also the 'Strapper"; that is the Groom of the farmer's driving pony or horse and gig. In brief he was actually an apprentice farm hand.

Holstein Prices

The sales in question were held in Ontario, but a few details of same may be of interest to such of our Holstein readers, give them an idea of how cattle of their breed are selling elsewhere. And so — a Holstein-Friesian Newsletter records that the sale of the Aljen Holstein herd of Ralph E. Jenner, Charing Cross, Ont. brought a total of $26,545 for 69 head, or a general average of $384 each. A breakdown of the said general average: 33 milking females averaged $424 each; 12 bred heifers $447 each; 12 heifer calves $274, each; and 11 open heifers $332 each, with a top price of $900 for a "Very Good" 4-year-old cow. An 11 months old daughter of the top cow made $360.

Other leading prices paid were: $585 for a 2-year-old daughter of Rosafe Centurian (Extra); $700 for the 6-year old dam of the top cow; $600 for a bred heifer that went to Ohio, U.S.A., and a twin sister of same at $435.

The top open yearling heifer was sold at $450 to the prominent exporter Richard Schleissner, while the top heifer calf went to the U.S.A. at $375.

Other high prices included $535 (twice); $565, and $510 for milking females; $525 for a bred heifer, and $575 for a yearling.

Ayrshire Awards

While none of the entries from the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area attained All-Canadian Awards (for the year 1965) two of them were given Reserve All-Canadian Awards, while several of them were given Honourable Mention.

The district Reserves were: Burnside Notalie 2, in the 4 year old class, and Burnside Natalie again, in the three year old class; both of them having been bred and owned by R. R. Animals from the H-H area winning Honourable Mentions were: Burnside Mastercroft in the bull calf class; Burnside Blue Cheer in the 3 year old heifer class; Burnside Old Style, in the two year old heifer class, all of them bred and owned by R. R. Ness & Sons Ltd.

The New Ayrshire President

Mention has already been made in The Gleaner anent the recent elevation of Dr. Rene Trepanier to the Presidency of Ayrshire Breeders Association of Canada, in which position he also served in 1936. However, we hope that a few comments in that connection may still be in order.

This is the first time since 1930 that a former President of the Ayrshire Association has been re-elected for more than one term. The only other exception being Gilbert Macmillan, O.B.E., Huntingdon, Que., who served as President in 1920-21-22 and 30.

A graduate of the then Oka Agricultural College, Rene Trepanier was initially the assistant to and then the successor of his father, the late Eusebe Trepanier as Manager of the then St. Sulpice Farms and Estate of Oka, Que. An estate which was comprised of 10,000 acres, including the main farm and twelve other farms that were rented on a share crop basis. The estate was owned by the Order of St. Sulpice but the credit for founding and bringing up the Sulpice Ayrshire herd to its front rank status of many years should go to the Trepaniers. The herd of some 70 milking cows produced Certified Ayrshire Milk for a special trade of same in Montreal.

Following the sale of St. Sulpice, Rene Trepanier, joined the Quebec Department of Agriculture, in 1937, as a Livestock Technical Advisor, from which position he was promoted in 1949 to that of Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and served as such until 1960.

However, through the years, including their St. Sulpice days, the Trepaniers also maintained their own farm. And so it is that Rene Trepanier's Mille Roches Farm is comprised of some 525 acres of which 80 acres is devoted to an Apple Orchard of over 3,000 trees. Comprised of some 140 head, including 70 milk cows, the Mille Roches Ayrshire herd has long ranked as one of Canada's Top Ayrshire breeding herds. A stud of some 60 head of Belgian horses, including 45 brood mares, is also maintained. By the way, Rene Trepanier has also been Secretary of the Belgian Horse Association for a great many years.

Following his first election as a director of the Ayrshire Association in 1932, and excepting the time he was Deputy Minister, Rene Trepanier served a considerable number of years in that capacity; also including invaluable service as a member of several important committees. He also has a high rating as a judge in which capacity he officiated at the 1958 and 1965 Royal Winter Fairs.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

Macdonald College

We have been waiting day-by-day for copies of the "Recommendations of the Quebec Seed Board for 1966". Latest word is that the printers have promised delivery "this week". So they should be available from the usual sources — agronome, or the College, or any of the research stations within the next few days.

In the meantime, if you have your last year's copy here are the main changes we expect to be made.

New this year is the division of the province into seven zones. Recommendations are made specifically for these zones. Seeding rates of forage crops have been reduced in recognition of improving management practices. Three varieties of Orchard grass are on the list this year for the more climatically-favoured zones. The barley variety Montcalm has been withdrawn. Three varieties of flax, Raja, Marine Nordland are recommended Acme Soybeans are off the list. Merit Ladino clover replaces Pilgrim. Achenback Brome grass is listed; it is a good variety and seed stocks are plentiful. Emphasis is added to the recommendation of varieties for specific purposes and areas, and for the use of certified seed.

Generally, seeds seem to be in good supply, with a few exceptions, mostly in certain certified named varieties. The prices quoted here are from one source and are intended only to be a guide.

See the 1966 Bulletin for mixtures, recommended for specific purposes and zones. Proportions have been changed and rates reduced from 1965.

ALFALFA:

Vernal — A fine-stemmed and very hardy variety. Resistant to bacterial wilt and especially recommended for regions where this disease is likely to be present and detrimental to the stand. Later than Alfa and Dupuits by approximately one week. In good supply; price about 65c lb.

Alfa — A variety developed from the Flemish type. It is a very vigorous variety which grows rapidly in the spring and recovers quickly after cutting. Less hardy than Narragansett, Rhizoma and Vernal, and susceptible to bacterial wilt. Recommended for short-term rotations. Because of its earliness, Alfa should be cut earlier than other varieties. Earlier than Narragansett, Rhizoma and Vernal, by approximately one week. In good supply; price about 75 c lb.

Dupuits — Variety similar to Alfa.

Narragansett — Very hardy but susceptible to bacterial wilt. Similar to Vernal in maturity.

Rhizoma — A very hardy variety particularly well adapted to the regions of Abitibi-Temiscamingue, Lake St John and Gaspe. Susceptible to bacterial wilt. Similar to Vernal in maturity.

BIRDSFOOT TREFOIL:

Empire — A very hardy variety. Later than Viking by approximately ten days. Prostrate growth in pasture fields and more erect growth in hayfields. More tolerant to flooding and ill-drainage than Viking. Recommended for long-term pastures or long-term hayfields. Certified seed is about $1.50 lb. Uncertified seed 95c to $1.00 lb.

Leo — Better winter survival than Empire. Intermediate in time of flowering and growth habit. Leo exhibits early fall dormancy and a tendency to produce the bulk of its seasonal growth in time for making first cut hay Recommended for long-term hay and for pasture to be grazed mainly in mid summer. Seed not available until 1967

Viking — This variety is earlier, less hardy and more vigorous than Empire. Erect growth. Starts growth more quickly in the spring and produces more aftermath than Empire. Recommended for long-term hayfields or long-term pastures. About $1.40 lb

RED CLOVER:

Dollard — A double-cut variety, a few days later in maturity than Lasalle. Hardy resistant to Northern Anthracnose and moderately resistant to sclerotinia disease.

LAKELAND — A double-cut variety, hardy, resistant to Powdery Mildew and Northern Anthracnose. Same maturity as Lasalle.

Lasalle — A double-cut variety, 4 to 5 days ater than common red clover. It is more likely to live through two winters than common and it carries some resistance to Northern Anthracnose and Sclerotinia disease. About 55c lb.

Ottawa — A double-cut variety, hardy, it carries some resistance to Northern Anthracnose and Sclerotinia disease. Earlier than Lasalle, better aftermath. Common red clover is about 45c lb.

LADINO CLOVER:

Merit — A variety of giant white clover, more leafy more productive and more persistent than ladino clover commonly grown. About 90c lb.

Certified Ladino — A variety of giant white clover which has shown up well so far. Seed at 80c lb.

Timothy: (This is the year to buy a certified variety).

Climax — A hardy and leafy variety which gives a good aftermath Blooms later than common timothy. Seed plentiful at 35c lb.

Drummond — A leafy and hardy variety. Later in maturity than Climax by approximately one week. Particularly useful for late haymaking. Seed in short supply; about 45c lb.

Bromegrass: (Plenty of Canadian common available at 25c; certified varieties are higher priced; about 65c).

Fischer — A more vigorous and a higher-yielding variety than common brome. Moderately resistant to leaf spot.

Saratoga — An early variety with high seedling vigour. More vigorous than Fischer. Moderately resistant to leaf spot.

Achenback — Similar to Fischer.

ORCHARD GRASS:

THE DEL REY RANCH — Continued

At one time in the dim and the distant past (according to the geologists) this whole basin was like the gorge at Niagara, with the water pouring over all three sides of the horse shoe shaped rim. Now it is only a trickle compared to Niagara and the floor of the gorge is level and grassy. All the falls combined create only a small river; the Merced, which eventually finds its way into San Francisco Bay. We now circled around the rim, passing through a grove of redwoods and standing amazed at the size of then This grove has over 200 trees which measure more than 10 feet in diameter, and many a great deal larger than that. The Grizzly Giant is the oldest — estimated age 3800 years. It is 34 feet in diameter at 10 feet above the ground; and is 209 feet high. It actually looks stubby. A fallen tree known as the Massachusetts Tree, is 280 feet in length and 28 feet in diameter. It is like a giant silo lying on its side One tree had a hole cut through it in 1869 (large enough to drive a car through) and it is still living and apparently as healthy as ever. Forest fires cannot hurt these trees as the bark at the ground level is about two feet thick. We now drove through a highway tunnel — three quarters of a mile long — and of course electrically lighted throughout. When we came to the gateway to the Park we were registered as though we were entering a foreign country — forest rangers do this; and in leaving the park the same number of passengers must be accounted for as were registered when entering. It is not hard to determine the reason for this — it would be the ideal place to get rid of an undesirable partner — just toss them over one of these towering cliffs and they would never be seen again. We now began the descent into the gorge over fine and well engineered roads, and found great crowds camping there. One of the better hotels is called Wawona Lodge, and is a swank $25.00 per day proposition — we walked right in the back door and out the front, as it was too, too much for our feeble constitutions to stand. It had been used as a convalescent home for U.S. navy personnel during the war, but was now back to its original state of luxury.

A fire place in the lobby could take a log ten feet long and the leather up-holstered chairs and chesterfields were out of this world.

A nightly atraction at this place was the "fire fall" — men, during the day, burned a lot of wood, pine cones, etc. and after dark at night poured this glowing mass of fire over the rocky face 900 feet above the valley floor.

This gorge is seven miles long, half a mile deep, and is surrounded by rocky walls around 5000 feet deep. The water falls are noted more for their height than for their volume — the largest is Yosemite — 2440 feet in three separate sections — the upper one 1430 feet. The water falls among a mess of tremendous rocks; some of them as large as a house — but finally emerges in a hundred little streams until they all unite in one stream the Merced river.

A tremendous rocky precipice known as El Capitan is 3000 feet high.

The various falls are the Vernal Falls — 317 feet — Ribbon Falls — 1600 feet the Bridal Veil falls — 620 feet, Nevada Falls — 594 feet and many others. You could feel the moisture from the Bridal Veil at quite a distance: as it was blown around by the wind. All the hotels and motels were not in the expensive category — trailer camps at one dollar per day were available, and sites for the setting up of tents for 50 cents per day.

We saw a few deer, but no mountain sheep or goats or bears as we had seen in Banff National Park.

Coming home we visited Happy Isles, a fine camping site from which trails radiate in several directions. They can ride horses, or walk if they so desire. If we continued on this road we would cross the High Sierras and arrive at Reno, Nevada, the famous divorce city. We reached as far as Badger Pass (altitude 7500 ft.) and from there turned west again. This is a ski resort and a dozen or more die-hard skiers were still up on the hillside, but the snow was too soggy for good sport. We had dinner at a place called Coarse Gold, — another chicken dinner. (We had so many chicken dinners in California that we won't be able to look a chicken in the face for some time). This town dates back to 1852, when gold was discovered by two brothers from Texas. They picked up a nugget worth $15000,00 and a wild rush was on. The town had a population of 10,000 in a very short time, and from all accounts was wild, hell-roaring collection of saloons and gambling joints.

A short distance away was a town called Fine Gold, and both places were reputed to be a little on the lively side An old well curb dated 1852 and a small stone building were the only remaining relics. These towns were really in the neighbourhood of Sacramento, although I did not realize it at the time. We arrived home at the ranch about 8.30 after 11 ½ hours of driving and sight seeing. Everybody was tired, but happy, it had been a terrific day; and, as Phillip and Effie had seen it many times before, we must credit them with doing their utmost to entertain us. The Huffmans have two sons, — Lindsay who is a medical student at the University of Los Angeles; and Jimmie who is an undergraduate at Berkeley University. Neither of them appears to be interested in the ranch. They have to make use of a lot of transient labour in their type of farming, — people who start in the Imperial Valley (near the Mexican border) and travel north with the maturing crops — living in old trailers or tents, and sending their children to school in whatever locality they happen to be in. Steinbeck's book "The Grapes of Wrath" was written about these transient workers, and how they were exploited by the ranch owners during the 30's; and you only need to mention Steinbeck to these people to arouse their wrath The Huffmans told us they had spent $10,000 in building cabins for the use of these people; and in three years had to tear down what was left from all this investment — they first broke up the doors and windows for firewood, then the floors and walls — the roof seemed to be the only part of the cabin they valued.

and took it down and moved it to his farm to make a stable. This building still stands secure as ever. His grandson, Leslie Rennie, has plans to restore this old church as it was originally. He is now laying plans to hold a commemorative service next summer, with all the old customs observed, such as turning fork to start the psalm singing, a percenters box in front of the pulpit, which is from pioneer church. All will be as rustic as in the old days, he hopes many descendants of the pioneer families will want to be present on this historic occasion. A great gathering of the clan, and many friends will be on hand, the public will be advised of this in due time.

Henry later built a brick house on the hill farther back on this lot, it was a beautiful place at one time, with a tree lined driveway into it. This was the home of my grandmother Marion Rennie, who married James Gamble and came to live on the old Gamble homestead at Herdman. Heny's house is now long gone also every building has completely disappeared, sunk into oblivion as it were. Such is the change that time has wrought.

As to Hillside Cemetery, this egistry was faithfully kept by succeeding generations and is now in the keeping of Mrs. M. Rosevear, a Rennie. Upwards of 1000 burials have been made at this time. The record was invaluable to the trustees in making a suitable map for the cemetery. In looking through this old book I, noticed that, at the time of the great plague of cholera, which took so many lives of children and youth, one particular day four graves were opened, Wm. Ruben and Wm. Traversee, brothers of the late Albert Traversee, in their teens, Henry Herdman 24, and my uncle James Gamble 24. All succumbed to this terrible disease were laid away on the Hillside in one afternoon. Scarcely a family escaped the scourge so contageous was it. Bodies were take immediately from their beds, wrapped in blankets, and taken at once for burial.

Rev. James Merlin was the first preacher to come to Black's, coming from Hemmingford. He travelled on horse back, as far as possible and on foot where a track was not available. In looking over the Hemmingford cemetery recently I saw the grave of this venerable gentleman. The inscription said: died 1883. Christy Campbell was first teacher in the school. With regard to the building of Rennies Church, I examined the old records of the trustees at the time of the proposed Methodist Church. To the time of building Rockburn Church, all but the Anglicans came to Black's. They went to a log school on the Gore, where a lay reader occassionally held services. In 1856 the stone church was built at Rockburn but more about this later. Up to this time, all went to Black's and I say all, because everyone went whether religiously incluined or not, as this was the only means of seeing folks and getting the news. Those of the Presbyterian faith went to Rockburn, and at this time. Wesley's doctrine was making great strides, a following that split up families often. Thus it was, that the Methodists wanted a chapel of their own, so on December 10th., 1865, a meeting was called to lay plans to build a church. In looking over the old records I noted that at that meeting was recorded names as trustees of Jos Arthur, John Rennie, James Gamble, James Maither, Wm. Gamble, Thos Lavery, Joshua Gowan, with Arch McLaren, as secretary. Many meetings were held subsequently, and finally plans were laid to build on John G. Rennie's lot just south of old Blacks. Thos. Lavery was named to furnish the square timber for the frame to be delieverd on the spot for $5 per m ft. and to supply all the pine shingles shaved by hand at $3 par M. He was my grandfather on my mother's side. A severe winter followed with excessive snow so that the job had to be posponed a year. However, the foundation was laid that summer, with the lime stone coming from Henry Rennie's lot. Also at this time James Gamble, was building his new house, the same stone was used in this with a stone mason named Jones doing both jobs, going back and forth as the work progressed. This is the big house on the hill in which I was born and lived my lifetime until recently. Lately I sold out owing to ill health, keeping lot on which I built a small cottage to spend my remaining years. Seven generations of our people have lived on this soil. It was a hard wrench to have to move out of my old home after a lifetime of memories. It is here we were all born and grew up, played, romped, married, faced all storms of life, the joys of young life and pleasure. Then come sickness and death, finally just myself living in the big house, all the others having been called home to eternal rest.

What Is Ormstown Doing

By Bernice Cullen

At Monday's Council meeting it was unanimously decided to give the Ormstown Band an amount of $300.00 from the Town Council as an expression of appreciation for the work done by that organization and as an incentive to carry on the plans for its twentieth anniversary. The band is very grateful for the generous gift, and while the executive was making plans for the forthcoming celebrations they were informed that the Parish Council, which held its meeting on Tuesday evening, voted a like amount to the band. This will be presented at the concert, on June 23rd. This will give the bandmaster and members that needed boost to give even better performances than ever. A series of open air concerts are now in the planning stage.

The Red Cross Campaign managers are now preparing for the annual financial drive which begins April 16 and ends April 30. All Ormstownians are asked to welcome the canvasser.

Ormstown's Caisse Populaire held a meeting recently for the purpose of naming a new President and executive. The late President, Mr. Hector Crete has as yet not been replaced. It is hoped that a new President will be named at a meeting which will take place this week.

By the way, do you know the definition of a hero? Oh yes, you're so right, anyone who shows extreme bravery in other words, anyone who dares drive his car on No. 4 highway.

Mr. Mayor has informed that person who asked about Hospital Signs, that an investigation is being made and the proper authorities will determine what signs if any should be placed on the highway to the town's entrance, announcing the location of Barrie Memorial Hospital or announcing, "Hospital Zone."

Dundee

W. I. Meeting

DUNDEE — The April meeting of the Dundee W.I. was held last Wednesday at the home of the president, Mrs. A. B. Fraser. Roll Call was answered by members giving their opinion of present day education and changes that could be made.

Mrs. H. Ferguson was appointed to look after the purchasing of articles to fill Christmas stockings or ditty bags to be sent away in June.

Mrs. H. Ferguson and Mrs. E. J. Cameron exchanged convenership so that Mrs. Cameron is now convener of Welfare and Health and Mrs. Ferguson of Citizenship. It was voted that $5. be sent to the Huntingdon Agricultural Society to be used as prize money for children's exhibits. Mrs. T. Stowell reported that one man who has been experimenting with petunia seeds over several years is now able to produce seed that will give a high percentage of double bloom.

Mrs. Cameron reported that a new help for cancer is presently being tried on mice and is proving successful. She also read a report by Dr. Paul Dudley White who believes that one should think of his heart during his 20's. To control weight, eat sensibly. One should eat sparingly of all foods an one needs to exercise. Mrs. Fraser read exerpts from a Save the Children pamphlet which told of the work done in many countries of the world.

Personals

Mrs. A. B. Fraser and family visited with the Cockerlines in Hensryburg last Thursday. Mr. Jim Boast of Hemmingford went with them for the day. Jim is a Grade X student at Stanstead.

W. I. Meeting

The Franklin W.I. meeting for April was held at the home of Mrs R. Barr. Mrs. E. Lindsay opened the meeting with the usual proceedings. Miss Eccles read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. R. Barr, Health and Welfare convener, read an interesting article on "The Dangers of Deep and Persistent Coughing".

The ladies were delighted to welcome Dr. Kelen, who spoke on the dangers of overweight and ways to control it and gave a demonstration on artifical respiration. Mrs. Lindsay thanked Dr. Kelen for her interesting talk.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time was spent.

Liturgie — Le Peuple de Dieu vit dans la foi. La foi au Christ ressuscité, cette foi que nous avons reçue à notre baptême, doit grandir sans cesse et animer de plus en plus notre conduite et notre vie. Que le Dieu de la paix nous rende capables d'accomplir sa volonté en toutes choses et qu'il produise en nous ce qui lui est agréable, par Jésus-Christ. Le Christ ressuscité conduit son peuple: Il lui procure l'eau du baptême qui fait jaillir en lui la vie nouvelle. Notre foi est victoire sur la mort et le péché, puisqu'elle nous donne part à la résurrection du Christ. Cette foi, qui nous est donnée par l'eau du Baptême, est nourrie par le Corps et le Sang du Seigneur et fortifiée par l'Esprit. Le Seigneur est mon berger: Rien ne saurait me manquer.

Liturgie — In our parish, we had a Baptism take place at the Paschal Vigil service. By that Baptism, the person baptized was born in supernatural life. In other words, he was just a beginner in supernatural life, an infant, a newborn babe, hungry to grow in grace, cuddled close to the nourishing breast of Mother Church. And so, parents who have known the zest with which a hungry baby approaches feeding, will easily understand the opening words of today's Mass as they describe the newborn babes of the spiritual life: "Crave, as newborn babes, pure spiritual milk."

Le Comité Commémoratif est redevable à Mlle Alice M. S. Lighthall, pour le don d'une copie du discours de son père (Un compte-rendu de la Bataille de Chateauguay) fait à Ormstown, le 8 mars, 1889. Le Dr. W.D. Lighthall M.A., était un membre honoraire de la Société Littéraire et Historique de Chateauguay et Secrétaire de la Société des Antiquaires de Montréal.

Commentaires au sujet de la Bataille de Châteauguay.

"C'était le jour de Chateauguay, un jour lumineux dans notre Histoire".

THOMAS CHAPAIS

"La Bataille de Chateauguay, une simple escarmouche à comparer aux batailles des deux guerres mondiales mais quand même de la plus grande importance quant aux résultats."

W. HOMER BRADY

"Les Canadiens français de Beauharnois agenouillés sur le champ de bataille et se levant, gagnèrent, avec Salaberry et ses voltigeurs, la glorieuse victoire de Chateauguay."

BARLOW CUMBERLAND

"Les résultats furent ceux d'une décisive et grande victoire. Avec la plus légère perte, une poignée d'hommes repoussèrent une invasion, et donnèrent la sécurité à Montréal."

SIR CHARLES P. LUCAS

JOHN MURRAY GIBBON

"Ce qu'il y a de plus important à remarquer au sujet de la Bataille de Chateauguay c'est que tous les défenseurs sur qui repose le succès de la Bataille, étaient Canadiens."

DR. J. MACKAY HITSMAN

EDGAR McINNIS

"Hampton arriva à environ 15 milles du St-Laurent avec une armée de 4,000 hommes mais une attaque de nuit à Chateauguay par 800 Canadiens comprenant les voltigeurs de Salaberry, fut suffisante pour lui faire renoncer à la conquête du Canada."

F. MASON WADE

"Les hommes qui se sont battus à Chateauguay étaient des représentants de la structure sociale du Canada ... les difficultés de communication et de coopération furent surmontées par une ardeur générale à défendre la terre natale qui n'était pas anglaise française ou indienne, mais canadienne."

Hon. ARTHUR LAING

"Ici sur ce champ fut écrit un chapitre glorieux dans les annales de notre nation. La vive salve de feu des mousquets et le son de l'appel du clairon sont maintenant éteints, mais le mémoire demeure. La Société Historique de la Vallée de Chateauguay doit être félicitée pour ses efforts à élever un temple à notre héritage commun et à notre noble passé."

Hon. J.W. PICKERSGILL

Semaine Etudiante à l'Ecole Notre-Dame

"Découvrir ensemble les dynamismes que donne le vrai sens des responsabilités, décider de tout coeur de devenir responsable un peu plus chaque jour, se demander quel est le plan de Dieu sur nos responsabilités à endosser" voilà le pas à faire que la J.E.C. du secteur secondaire 10e et 11e proposait aux étudiants et étudiantes dans la semaine du 28 mars au 1er avril dernier.

A l'aide d'un programme intelligemment organisé, les jeunes étaient invités à dialoguer sur ce thème "Nos responsabilités". Chant, slogans affiches, activités spéciales ont souligné le travail jéciste de la semaine.

Vendredi matin, à l'église Saint-Joseph, une messe dite "étudiante" rassemblait tout le secteur secondaire pour une prière communautaire. Un panel avait lieu ensuite à l'auditorium de l'Ecole; y participait un invité d'honneur M. François Cleyn. A ce travail de l'esprit enrichissant et formateur s'ajoutèrent deux activités-détente: dîner communautaire et jeux. A cette occasion, les élèves de Ormstown, de St-Anicet, se sont joints à ceux de Huntingdon. Plus de 400 garçons et filles ont pu bénéficier, grâce à la générosité de l'Ecole, d'un délicieux repas canadien.

La semaine terminée, les voix fredonnaient encore le refrain du chant étudiant:

Etudiants, sans détour
L'avenir nous appelle
A connaître le jour
D'une cité nouvelle
Si par notre jeunesse
Nous portons dans le temps
Le signe, la promesse
D'un monde libérant.
