Behind the News

Two words — many meanings

JUVENILE delinquency is just two words, but it has a wide variety of meanings. Parents wonder where they have failed. Church leaders look for an answer in the field of religion. Big cities, small towns try to cope with it — still it flourishes. Through the ages, parents have been perturbed about children's behaviour. Six thousand years ago an Egyptian recorded on the walls of a tomb that children should obey their parents. Socrates 2,400 years ago, declared children unmanageable.

DURING the past quarter century, juvenile delinquency has had a great deal of attention. Conflicting public opinion and emotionalism have kept public interest alive. Fact is, however, less than five per cent of the juvenile population is delinquent, according to statistics. Many books have been written on juvenile delinquency, listing myriad causes.

* * *

ONE thing is apparent — no child is born delinquent. He becomes delinquent because adverse influences affect his thinking. With this in mind, take a look at the role played by the juvenile in the crime picture. Robberies — 10 per cent by juveniles. Burglaries — 35 per cent by juveniles. Auto thefts — 50 per cent committed by juveniles.

* * *

WHERE then, do the influences come in that turn a child into a robber? Do the parents play a part in the metamorphosis? These are two important questions. Many parents neglect their children because they are too engrossed in their own problems — be they financial, health, emotional, society.

* * *

SOME children, of course, are different from others. There are children with a flair for crime, just as there are children with a flair for playing piano. These children find no distaste in stealing from others, or in bullying anyone that gets in their way. The popular notion that the slow learner or retarded child tends automatically to delinquency just doesn't stand up. Delinquents are more likely to be resourceful, adventurous, impulsive, destructive and sadistic.

THE foregoing isn't all from the books on juvenile delinquency, far from it. Much of it comes from the minds of men who lead our police forces at the present time. One of them, not too far removed from the local area, recently had this to say about family life and its effect on the juvenile: "Today the family eats on the run, or on trays under the hypnosis of the violence on television. This plays a part in the restlessness that characterizes the delinquent. Without dignity, discipline is impossible. Children need discipline as guidance. Too often the family fails to provide it."

* * *

POLICE officials also have a few things to say about the type of reading material available for teen-agers. Let's quote one of them. "The sexual type of reading material available to juveniles should be more closely censored, or eliminated, and the gangster type of entertainment available in t-v and motion pictures should be curbed. More attention should be given by civic groups to juvenile activities and the provision of recreational facilities."

Guidance, leadership Unity cornerstones

Guidance and leadership were stressed as the two main contributions made by the Unity Boys' Club which serves 978 youngsters from Westmount and St. Henry in the 8th annual report presented at the general meeting Wednesday.

In presenting their reports for the year, club president, J. G. Lawson and club director, Maurice Marisaine, commented on the current publicity and concern about delinquent youth and how the club was, in its own way, attempting to provide solutions to the problem locally.

Said Mr. Lawson: "To a large extent, guidance in a boys' club is informal and occurs through the relationship between the boys and understanding, skilled club workers. In addition, the formation of groups of boys under trained leadership provides greater opportunity for guidance."

The purposes of a guidance plan are to discover the individual needs, problems and attitudes of boys; to give on-the-spot information and guidance; to utilize the club's resources to meet the needs and to find other resources in the community to meet those needs.

Mr. Lawson commented that "a sense of ownership, loyalty and club spirit in the boys is a potent influence in the development of proper social attitudes."

TOLERANCE

"All the club's activities," he said, "and the guidance relationships contribute to the development of tolerance and understanding, respect for the rights of others and appreciation of the value of group endeavor."

"Every effort is made to contribute to the self-development of the boy and to create a tolerant objectiveness for self-evaluation."

Mr. Lawson said the boy of today was growing up in an environment of confusion and cross-currents of influence. There was a disregard for the rights of others and a tendency to shrink from individual responsibility.

Under these circumstances, the club faced a tremendous challenge to help develop wholesome attitudes in boys and girls and make them into thinking adults, so essential to the growth of a democratic nation.

The success of the club's emphasis on leadership and guidance was also stressed by Director Maurice Marisaine who quoted a note from Westmount Police to the effect that apart from an occasional false alarm and minor incidents of window-breaking, "all was quiet on the Greene avenue front."

"Leadership comes from many sources," he said, "and I want to pay tribute to the members of the Westmount Rotary Club who are rendering a most valuable service to the youth of the community."

STATISTICS

The extent of the club's appeal, he said, was evident from the statistics of membership since its inception eight years ago.

In 1950 there were 386 members, with today's figure at almost 1,000. Of the original number, 25 are still active today; 31 have been members for seven years; 59 have been members for six years.

As a further incentive to club interest and loyalty, a new-type award system was introduced this year which gives an opportunity to all members to earn a 'Letter of Achievement'.

Renew snowplow unit

Commitment was made of $730.00 to cover the cost of replacing a truck-mounted snow plow, the original plow unit having been damaged during the recent extensive snow removal operation.

Talent Club set for Lake Placid

By MAURICE MARIASINE

Rotarian Donald B. Ross, a member of the International Services Committee of the Rotary Club of Westmount, announced Wednesday at the Eighth Annual Meeting of the Unity Boys' Club, that the Unity Boys' Club Talent Parade will provide entertainment for the International Assembly of Rotary International on Wednesday evening, June 3rd, at Lake Placid, N.Y.

The Talent Parade, under the musical direction of Fred Pen-nell, has been operating under Unity sponsorship for the past seven years with unqualified success. Entertainment has been provided as a public service on request from Military Hospitals, Church Organizations, Penal Institutions, Masonic Orders, for Elderly People and Youth Organizations.

Next Friday night, the Talent Parade will provide a Variety Show at the Eventide Home and on March 21st, the group will entertain the youngsters at the Annual Verdun Hockey Board Banquet.

The Lake Placid engagement, which is being sponsored by the Westmount Rotary Club is without a doubt the "highlight" of the entire seven year existence of the Talent Club and should prove very enjoyable to the 35 youngsters who will make the trip.

Many Variety Shows will be scheduled within the next three months. The Lake Placid Show is very important and near perfection of all acts will be a requisite. Rehearsals will be conducted every Tuesday evening.

LAURIER CLUB ATTEND WINTER CARNIVAL

Kenneth Perkins' Laurier Club, members and guests, totaling 30 boys, were visitors at the Girls' Cottage School at St. Bruno, Saturday and participated in the School's Annual Winter Carnival.

It was a winter wonderland. Upon arrival at 3 p.m., the entire group went on a sleigh ride through the country side, then tobogganing and from there the boys were treated to supper, followed by dancing. The highlight of the Carnival was the crowning of the Cottage School Queen.

The Laurier Club continue to meet every Monday evening. More outings are planned in the not too distant future and on the local scene, guest speakers will be invited to speak on some interesting topics.

JUST A REMINDER

As reported in last week's column, a variety of tournaments will be conducted during the Month of March. Club members are reminded of this and are urged to enroll as soon as possible.

The tournaments will include: table tennis, checkers, chess, darts, shuffleboard, badminton, volleyball and indoor soccer.

Permits increase over '58 total

Six building permits were issued by the Public Works Department in January, 5 for alterations and 1 addition. The total estimated value of these permits was $223,300.00, including $207,200 non-taxable. 4 jobs were completed and 54 jobs are in hand. There were 14 plumbing inspections and 2 water tests. 2 plumbing permits were issued at an estimated value of $900.00. The value of building and plumbing permits for January 1959 is $224,200, as compared with $101,550, for January 1958.

Mackay school campaign ends next week

Mackay School for the Deaf, 3544 Decarie boulevard, a co-educational residential school specializing in the education of the deaf and hard of hearing continues its annual appeal which ends Monday.

Here are some of the figures which give an idea of the sums necessary to maintain the present standard of training.

It costs approximately $1,800 a year to train a deaf child. Part of the school's funds come from a blanket grant of $10,000 by the provincial government. Additional support comes from students' fees. Residential pupils are charged up to $80 a month, although consideration is given to means.

But the school's program would be pitifully curtailed if it were not for private donations. This year, $40,000 is required from individual supporters.

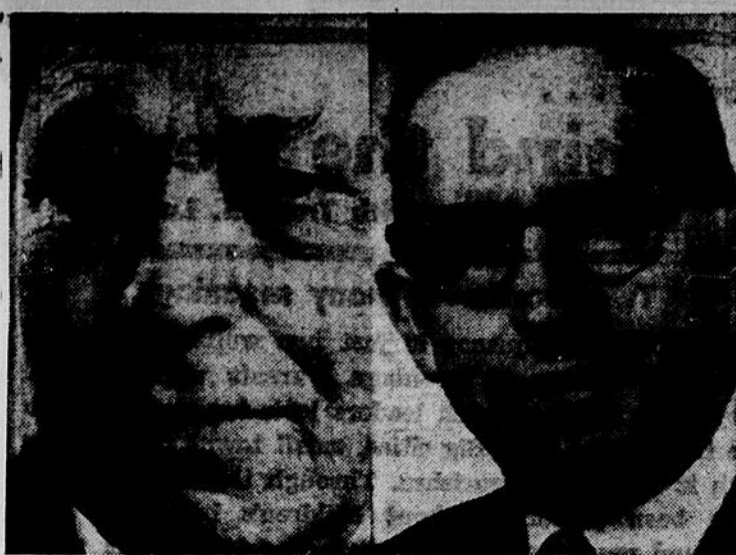

M. S. Blanchard, the principal of the school, stated that although it is not a trade school, vocational training is given, but graduates usually take jobs where they can be trained on the job. The boys are good on assembly lines, in metal work and woodwork. Girls are taught typing and office practice to prepare them for self-support.

WESTMOUNT HIGH SCHOOL ON COTE ST. ANTOINE ROAD.

High School history process of evolution

by VALENTINA RAHR

Westmount High School evolved from two schools located near the present building on Cote St. Antoine road; Argyle school, was built in 1886 on the present site of the Westmount Fire Station on Stanton street, and Argyle academy, constructed in 1895 when the first building was sold to the City of Westmount. Many attempts were made to accommodate the growing number of students during the years that followed.

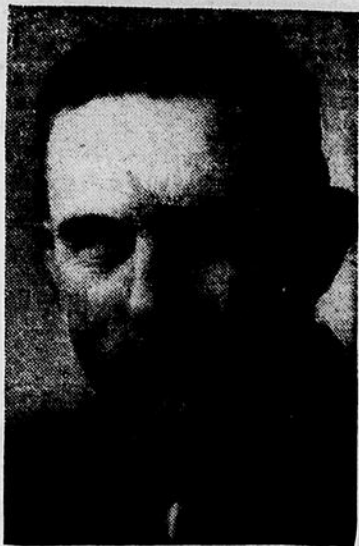

Prior to 1915, the building known today as Westmount High School was called Westmount Academy and carried Grades I to XI inclusive. From 1915 to 1935 it was known as Argyle School, and carried Grades I to VII inclusive. It was rebuilt in 1935, and for the next five years was called Argyle Intermediate School. During 1940 it became Westmount Senior High School, comprising Grades X, XI and XII. By 1950-51, Grade XII was dropped, after being carried by the school since 1931.

AIMS

"The aim of the High School is to provide a challenge to stimulate the pupil to achieve the highest degree of academic excellence of which he is capable. It is my experience that most pupils are able and willing to meet the goals set for them." R. O. Bartlett, principal of Westmount High told the Examiner.

Mr. Bartlett was born in Sherbrooke, attended Bishop's College in Lennoxville, and later the

R. O. BARTLETT

University of Chicago. He was principal at Noranda, and school inspector for 4 years. He has just completed 15 years at Westmount High. Among his many hobbies are athletic activities. He still plays squash twice weekly, and is an active member of the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club. Past president of the High School and Principal Association, he is well known in the community.

Westmount High students are outstanding academically in the Province of Quebec. In 1958, of the total number taking their matriculation exams, only 5% failed, giving WHS the highest record of passing in the province. Of the 25 students in the province who had attained marks of over 90%, four were from WHS. Over a five year period, one quarter of the students have been honor students. Outstanding graduates are: Mayor Cushing of Westmount, Frank Common, and other professionals who have gained recognition in many walks of life.

Teachers who have given more than 25 years of service are: Miss H. Dyke, Miss R. Howkins, J. D. Lawley, vice principal, I. K. Snyder, Mr. H. H. Worsfold.

ACTIVITIES

The relationship between student and teacher is stressed and each teacher participates in an extracurricular activity connected with the school. Hockey, skiing, dramatics, music, camera club, debating, currents club, etc. are some of them. Football is an annual event, and Proctor academy teams come here to compete every year. So far, in 10 years, WHS has lost five games, and won five.

In 1936 the Westmount High Old Boys' Association was founded, and the two co-founders were J. Aird Nesbitt, and Henry H. Worsfold. The first president was J. Herbert Murphy and the present mayor J. C. Cushing was first treasurer.

The aims of the association are: "To keep graduates in touch with each other, as well as a strong tie between the school

Quiet month for firemen

A total of 59 calls, 12 for fires and 47 miscellaneous were reported by the Fire Department last month. Among the calls there were 6 false alarms. There were no large fires.

The Chimney Sweep visited 301 buildings and swept 582 chimney flues. 3 chimneys to gas furnaces were swept.

141 premises were inspected, resulting in the issuance of three notices and 22 cautions. 9 recommendations were made to property owners. 20 general complaints received attention and 6 fire extinguishers were inspected.

No. 9 Pumper was taken out of service and traded-in on the new No. 13 Pumper which was placed in service on January 9.

Oncoming crop of war babies to crowd college says Clarke

The war babies have caught up with Douglas B. Clarke, 4513 St. Catherine street W., registrar of Sir George Williams College.

"War babies" is the common term these days among university educators who are desperately trying to increase their facilities to accommodate the college age children of World War II, a bumper crop compared to the "depression babies" who have now passed through college.

"During the next two or three years students who are attending high school now will be ready to register for first year college," said the registrar, who is also vice-principal of the college. "Many will be turned away, even if they can qualify, because they will find themselves among a swelled student number beyond the capacity of the colleges to handle."

Sir George Williams College

prepared to accommodate 6,000 students in 1956 with a new, large building. With a present enrollment of 9,500, says Clarke, the facilities of library and administration plus resources are severely strained.

"Many Canadian universities are facing the same problem today," he continued, "and unless something is done very soon, many students will find themselves temporarily unable to continue an academic education."

Clarke himself is a graduate of Sir George Williams College. Reminiscing about the development of the institution since his day, he says, "During this year applications have been received from 43 countries. This is quite a contrast to just 20 years ago, when I went to Columbia University to register for post-graduate work, and was asked by the registrar, 'Just where is Sir George Williams College?'"

Graduates of Sir George are known by all the universities of the world today, Clarke contends, and many have continued their training abroad, receiving honors for their studies.

His attachment to Sir George may stem from the fact that he was born on the Stanley street site of the college, in 1907. Educated at Toronto, Puerto Rico, and King's College in Windsor, N. S., he came to Sir George Williams to teach, staying to become one of the first graduating students in the faculty of arts, 1936.

Over the years he has held the position of president of the first Students' Society, lecturer, professor, and registrar. He was appointed vice-principal in 1956.

Roslyn PTA to meet Monday

C. Barrett Power, assistant principal of Roslyn School, will review the school's athletic and physical education program at a regular meeting of Roslyn Home and School Association, Monday, at 8.30 p.m.

Following Mr. Power's address, the school choir under the direction of A. R. Tetrault, will present a concert.

Class rooms will be open for parents' inspection from 7.30 to 8.15 p.m.

Parking amended on Winchester

At its Monday meeting, Council amended the parking restrictions on Winchester avenue as a result of representations made by citizens on that street.

WE SAY

Westmount can lead Metro to success

IN the period ahead for Metropolitan Government — a period that begins May first, Westmount has an opportunity to play a leading role in a municipal drama of no mean merit.

With the metro board set up at 14 members representing the suburban municipalities 14 representing Montreal proper, and an independent chairman the suburbs will look to one of their own number for leadership.

This should not be a leadership to an entrenched position, but rather a leadership in the presentation of an open mind on matters affecting two or more municipalities — first step to unravelling much of the red tape that is hampering progress in so many spots on the island.

And in taking such a position of isolation, Westmount will not be completely altruistic. When a Westmounter is bogged by traffic at the Decarie Circle he is bogged in the same extent as a citizen of any other municipality. When he meets difficulties of the municipal type anywhere else on the island save his home town, he suffers as much delay, as much expense, as much irritation as anyone else.

The question for Westmount is not "What can we get out of it," but rather "What can we put into it?"

And by putting the best foot forward, this municipality, through its metro membership can lead the way to a better set of municipal services everywhere on the length and a breadth of the island of Montreal.

Snow cleaning, paving, chimney sweeping and all the other myriad municipal matters may well be better in Westmount than elsewhere, most likely has the opportunity to make the contribution that will improve these matters in all other municipalities in the metro area.

YOU SAY

Protests parking restrictions here

Sir,

Last Friday a friend of mine from Lachine happened to park for 15 minutes on Somerville avenue in the only available spot close to the intersection of Somerville and Prince Albert. One of the commissioners who patrol the city placed a ticket from the Police Department on the car which was guilty of being parked within forty feet of an intersection.

The fine is paid now, but a sense of the injustice still rankles. Many of our local by-laws do not make sense to people in other municipalities. If there is to be no parking within forty feet of every intersection, parking on some of our small streets is virtually ruled out, and the parking problem becomes more of a headache than ever. Why forty feet instead of ten?

And why, to examine the question from another aspect, must one "foreigner" from a sister city be punished for unknowingly committing an offense when many native Westmounters commit exactly the same offense without any protest at all from the Police Department? There are many cars parked throughout this area well within the proscribed limits. One can see them every day on Prince Albert, Claremont, Somerville, Winchester and Burton, Chesterfield and Windsor. This is a semi-commercial area now. There is simply not enough parking space to accommodate every car, especially for those who cannot afford to pay.

In my opinion, the citizens of Westmount pay many taxes for the upkeep of their city, enough so that visitors do not need unwillingly to share in city maintenance.

Other municipalities around Montreal have a bad name now for the way they lavish exorbitant fines on drivers without cause, and behave generally toward the victims of their police department with unbelievable high-handedness. Is Westmount going to achieve the same notoriety?

Sincerely,

L. S. Harvey,

93, Somerville avenue.

Laurentian clay spurs hobby

By CYNTHIA JONES

A woman who has shared her hobby — pottery making — with others to form the thriving Potters' Club of Montreal, the only self-supporting one in the country, is attractive, intensely blue-eyed Mrs. Eileen Reid of Westmount.

Eleven years ago Mrs. Reid founded the Potters' Club and has been its guiding light ever since. "There were eight original members and now our membership totals over 60," said Mrs. Reid during an interview at the Potters' Club Exhibition and Studio at 346 Victoria avenue.

Mrs. Reid recollected the names of the seven other originals — Mrs. Alice Sharpe, formerly of Victoria avenue, now in California, the late Miss Marcelle Pocher, Miss Grace Campbell, Mrs. R. L. Sewell, Miss Lois Naylor, Mrs. Rachel Smart and Miss Jean Hawthorne, the latter three being still active in the club which now boasts several male members and young business girls.

Dressed in a printed blue smock, tweed skirt and blue wool stockings, the petite, dark-haired Mrs. Reid fondly rearranged the many pieces of pottery created by club members. (On sale the prices ranged from $1.50 for a small dish to $75 for a pair of penguins by the club's only sculptor, Hilda Bolte).

'On circuit'

Among the bottles, jars, bowls of all shapes and sizes were stoneware and earthenware bowls and a pair of lamp bases by Mrs. Reid. She has pottery on display in the Metropolitan Museum in New York. Two of her bottles were exhibited at Ceramics International at Syracuse in the fall and have since gone "on circuit" in the United States. An interesting teapot is off to Ostend shortly and a cookie jar is expected back momentarily from a tour of Austria and New Zealand.

Mrs. Reid herself is off soon with her husband, Howard C. Reid, a CPR official, on an overseas trip. "I love traveling and my hobby, looking up potters everywhere, makes life doubly interesting," said Mrs. Reid who attended the opening of the Ceramic International in Syracuse last fall and also looked up the famous Canadian potters, the Deichmanns, in Sussex, N.B., when delivering her two younger children to Mount Allison University in Sackville.

In the interests of her favorite art form, Mrs. Reid has made speeches in various towns and cities where groups have requested assistance in forming pottery-making classes. "It's a relatively easy thing to do nowadays," she remarked. "When I think back to my very first attempts at pottery making 15 years ago I realize what a long way we have come in that short time. There was no Potters' Club at that time from which to request a teacher."

Clay on beach

Mrs. Reid's introduction to clay was on the beach of her summer cottage at Bevin's

Lake in the Laurentians. She didn't like walking on it, so decided to dig it out. Mrs. Reid and a neighbor friend, Mrs. E. T. Bourke, began to make things out of the clay to amuse their small children. They dried little dishes and ashtrays in the sun and then placed them in the firebox of the cook stove. From the

Mrs. Reid built a kiln on her beach, stoked it with the plentiful wood on the property. She also tried kiln-building in the basement of her city home on Cote St. Antoine Road. "Kenneth and Caroline are both musical and sing in choirs while my youngest is interested in photography," said Mrs. Reid.

A native Montreale, Mrs. Reid is the daughter of Mrs. F. A. Fairbairn, of Westmount, and the late Mr. Fairbairn who died in 1951. Mrs. Reid attended Montreal High School and graduated in arts from McGill in 1931. She has two younger sisters, Mrs. C. M. Staples (Violet) of Gander, and Mrs. A. B. Lamb (Frances) of Ralston, Alta.

a gas burner. From then on she fired pieces for other people, started beginners' classes at the suggestion of Valentine Shabaeff, whose beautiful ceramic work is widely-known. She built another electric kiln in her basement and now with two kilns, was swamped with requests for lessons.

"The first home of the Potters' Club was a filthy basement on Shuter street where we stayed a year," said Mrs. Reid. "We then moved to a basement of one of the new members, Mrs. Colin McDougall, of Lansdowne avenue. From there to a basement studio on Elm avenue where we stayed for eight years until last September when we moved here," said Mrs. Reid. The street level and basement serve as a shop; the second floor, a studio; and the third, a classroom where Mrs. Reid teaches a glaze-making class to club members.

Housewife

Mrs. Reid said her main occupation is "good old Canadian housewife", much as she dislikes the term. She is the mother of 3 children: Kenneth, 24, graduated from McGill with both his bachelor and masters degrees in physics and mathematics and is now doing research work at the Neurological Institute. Caro-

Joudry, mother of the playwright Patricia Joudry, said the other day: "It's a lot of fun, deeply satisfying and relaxing."

Lord Beaverbrook sets up bursaries to honor Bassett

Lord Beaverbrook, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick, announced in New York Tuesday that he has established The Bassett Scholarship in memory of John Bassett D.C.L., LL.D., late chancellor of Bishop's University at Lennoxville.

The scholarship will provide $1,000 annually for a student from Bishop's to study law at the University of New Brunswick. The scholarship will cover the entire law course and the first will be awarded in 1960.

Mr. Bassett, a life-long friend of Lord Beaverbrook, was chairman of the board of The Montreal Gazette at the time of his death in February 1958. He devoted much time and effort to the modern building of Bishop's and had been chancellor for six years at the time of his death.

This Week

IN WESTMOUNT by Valentina Rahr

MR. C. H. SAVAGE, Superintendent of Westmount Schools, is leaving on Thursday on an extended trip to Europe (his first), and will be returning early in April.

KENT TAYLOR, Lansdowne avenue, Senior High student, took first place in and was top point scorer at the Annual High School Ski Meet recently held at Mont Gabriel.

If you are as young as you feel, and if you are a member of the Old Boys' Association, contact JIM PATRICK, Queen's School. He's getting an Old Boys' Hockey Team together to challenge W.H.S. on the afternoon of March 5. Band aids and liniment are on the house!

* * *
MRS. EVA PRAGER, painter, Thornhill avenue, is planning to move very shortly to her new home on Strathcona avenue.

FRANK SCOFIELD, son of MRS. C. L. SCOFIELD, Sherbrooke st. w. is flying to Europe in the middle of March with a ski party. They will visit ski resorts in Switzerland and elsewhere. He is the well-known instructor at the Ste. Adele ski school. The trip should last about three weeks.

GORD SINCLAIR, of CFCF will conduct a panel on a most controversial subject that should stir the emotions of every red blooded Canadian, at the final event of the season which will be the banquet of the Old Boys' Association to be held at Queen's Hotel Thursday March 5. In addition to honoring the grads of 1929, 1939 and 1949, an Award of Honor will be presented to PETER SEYBOLD.

DR. WILDER PENFIELD, Montrose avenue, famed Montreal neurosurgeon, has debunked "some long accepted concepts" about epilepsy, including the belief that it is a hereditary disease. Epilepsy is not any more a hereditary disease than many other maladies. His research indicates that at least 50% of his patients, the cause of epileptic seizures could be traced at about the time of birth. No individual who is subject to epileptic seizures should be permitted to drive a car without consent from his physician. "Alcoholism is a curse more difficult to cure than epilepsy and the custom of unbridled drinking at cocktail parties is far more a threat to traffic than epilepsy."

The Annual Variety Show sponsored by the AYP A of St. Matthias given Tuesday featured a number of interesting items. Ballads, minstrel Show, making movies, Bishop's Candle Sticks, instrumental duet, Brownie songs, military dance, etc. With almost 100 teenagers taking part, the show was a success. Christopher Compton, Susan Svendsen, Sandra Brewer, Elizabeth Chercher, Phillip Boyes, Stuart Smith, Hamilton Slessor, Barbara Simons, David Phillips, Ann Barclay, Peggy Keefe, Agnes Majorowitz, Barry Keefe, Val Traversey, are some of the performers from Westmount.

DON MACKEY, Music Teacher at Westmount Senior High, is hard at work directing the production of "The Mikado" which will be put on by the students the first week after Easter. The extravaganza will be presented at the St. Matthias hall, as the school's facilities are inadequate for this type of super-colossal production.

Cleaned up— cleaned out?

Westmount reached deep into its pockets — to the extent of $128,875, in fact — to pay for cleaning up a total snowfall of 36 inches which plumped on the city during January.

The 85-year average is 26.5" and for the same month last year, expenditures amounted to $94,110.

Snowiest day was Friday 16th when 10.1" fell. On top of this, snow fell on seventeen other days of month, on ten days, exceeding 1" and on three days exceeding 3".

Spreading tons of sand, salt and cinders on roads and sidewalks involved working on 9 nights, 3 Saturdays and 3 Sundays.

Snow disposed at the city dump totalled 46,835 cubic yards and the pond, 48,348.

LCC tops Roslyn in slalom race

Lower Canada College 1st team won the annual Roslyn Home and School Ski Club invitation slalom race which was held Tuesday on the University of Montreal slopes.

Emile Cochand, LCC, won the individual honors with a time of 58.3 sec; 2nd was David Bruneau (Roslyn) 63.2 secs; 3rd, John Taylor (Roslyn) 67 secs; 4th, Jim Clift, 67.2 secs. and 5th Greg Maxwell (Selwyn House) 71.6 secs.

In the girls' section, Jennifer Laume (Westmount Junior High) came 1st in 77.6 secs; 2nd, Helen Sinclair (Roslyn) 82.2 secs; 3rd, Virginia Russel (Roslyn) 85.5 secs; 4th, Andrea Thompson 94.5 secs; 5th, J. Davidson (Westmount Junior High) 98.7 secs.

Car's brake failure gives women scare

Two women narrowly escaped injury, Friday, when a car driven by Jean-Guy Desroches, 28, 5060 Saint Marie street, travelling south on Atwater avenue, mounted a sidewalk and struck a standard close to where the two were standing.

Mrs. Ann Fiare, 2261 Ryde street, and Mrs. Sadie Donald, 229 Rushbrooke street, of Point St. Charles, were shaken up but did not require treatment.

Desroches told police his brakes failed to respond

Musicians finish second in school band contest

The Westmount High School band, made up of students from both the senior and junior high schools, placed second in class "B" at the Kiwanis of Metropolitan Toronto band contest last weekend.

Morley Calvert, director of the band, reported that the band played twice in competition, and on Saturday evening gave a public concert at the Arthur Meighen Lodge Auditorium, playing classical and band selections which included a trumpet solo by Joan Henderson of Victoria avenue, and a violin concerto performed by Peter Lucas, also of Westmount.

The band's test piece was "Toccata for Band" by Frank Erickson, a contemporary American composer.

Members of the band were guests of North Toronto High School Band, winner of the open competition which took place Friday evening.

McGill play features locals

Three Westmount residents will be appearing in the McGill Department of English production of "The Taming of the Shrew" to be presented in Moyse Hall on March 5, 6, and 7 with a former Westmount resident, Jane Anders taking the title role of Katherine, the shrew.

Appearing as Hortensio, a suitor for Bianca's hand, is Hugh Ballantyne, 33 Forden avenue, a second year Arts student, who took part in the fall production of "Murder in the Cathedral" by the McGill Player's Club.

Katharine d'Ombain, 10 Rosemount avenue, now in her first year of Arts at McGill, is taking a minor role in the play, and assisting with costumes and make-up.

Among the more versatile actors in the play is David Hazen, 467 Cote St. Antoine road, McGill freshman, who makes some fast changes in his quadrupal role of huntsman, messenger, servant and haberdasher.

Miss Anders is appearing in her seventh major role for the Department of English.

SPCA's '58 annual report covers monkey, seal, heron

A total of 70,818 cats and dogs were destroyed by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals during the year 1958, it is revealed in the annual report made public Tuesday at the society's premises on Namur street.

It was also revealed that during the twelve month the SPCA handled a monkey, 62 rabbits, 83 pigeons, five foxes, a skunk, 83 hamsters, 17 ducks, a calf, 111 chickens, seven raccoons, 29 guinea pigs, a seal, three parrots, a seagull and a heron.

In most cases the animals were destroyed, for humane reasons or at the owners requests.

The ambulance of the society made 68,901 calls during the period, the report shows, and 2,226 dogs and cats were placed in homes.

The employees of the society removed 140 cats from trees and poles during the year, the report states, and 15 weapons were seized.

William Dunlop, general manager, in his report stated that the society had inspected logging camps, where the horses were found in good condition, and horse slaughter plants at Saint Guillaume, Saint Nazaire and Mont Joli.

Mrs. F. W. R. Angus was named president of the society on the retirement of Mrs. A. T. Galt Durnford who had held the post for five years.

Other officers include: Mrs. K. G. Blackader, vice president; Mrs. J. A. Laing, vice president. R. H. Gillean was renamed honorary treasurer and Miss Dorothy Blair, honorary secretary.

Members of the executive include, in addition to Mrs. Durnford, Mrs. C. C. Colby, Mrs. S. B. Earle, and Mr. Justice G. H. Montgomery.

Five members were added to the Management Committee — Mrs. Guy S. Fisher, Clive Benson, Miss Lucille Hiam, C. J. G. Molson, and Mrs. Leeds M. Nelson. The other members of the Committee of Management are James R. Beattie, Miss Dorothy Budge, E. Jacques Courtois, Mrs. C. T. Dupont, Mrs. John L. Gilmour, Mrs. H. R. Hampson, G. R. Hodgson, W. J. Hyde, Mrs. H. Wyatt Johnston, Mrs. John S. Louison, Mrs. J. F. Macfarlane, J. M. McDougall, Mrs. H. S. Mitchell, Mrs. Howard S. Root, Mrs. A. Stevenson, Mrs. F. H. B. Tippet, R. W. Wakefield and Mrs. Horace Wolfe.

Mrs. Hope C. Scott was re-appointed Honorary President, Col. Erskine Buchanan, Q.C. honorary solicitor, and H. E. Herschorn, N.P., O.B.E. as honorary notary.

Students see PM, Pearson

Westmount High School Grade X students met Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Opposition Leader Lester Pearson when they visited Parliament Hill in Ottawa, Friday.

They were present, too, in the Commons Chamber when the Prime Minister made his controversial statement cancelling the Avro 'Arrow' program.

According to E. A. Hutchison, who headed the group with P. F. Dyck, Mr. Diefenbaker told the 107-strong party that part of their duty as citizens of Canada lay in keeping themselves informed about parliamentary affairs.

Mr. Pearson, too, made the same point, adding that a current tendency to disparage politicians was ill-founded.

On arriving in Ottawa, the students were met by Mrs. Ross Webster, wife of the Westmount-Saint Antoine MP who was ill at the time, and by Max Stearns, MP for Frontenac.

Visits were made to the Peace Tower and War Memorial and after lunch to the Mint and the Archives.

Museum buys Highmore work

Acquisition of a painting by Joseph Highmore (1692-1780) which fills a gap in the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts' British School collection was announced by Museum Director John Steegman.

The painting, entitled "Portrait of a Young Lady," was executed by Highmore about 1740. Mr. Steegman said the work "worthily represents the pre-Reynolds tradition (in the Museum) for the first time.

"If the later fame of Reynolds and Gainsborough had not been so great, Highmore's merits would be more closely seen," the director added.

The lady in the painting wears a white satin dress.

"Her face has great liveliness and tenderness and one feels that it must have been an excellent likeness of a charming and intelligent person, whoever she was," Mr. Steegman said.

Highmore was contemporary with Hogarth. He represents the generation between Kneller and Reynolds.

He had a flourishing practice in London as a portrait-painter for 30 years until he retired to Canterbury in 1762 and never painted again. He was then 70. In that year, both Reynolds and Gainsborough were well on their way to fashionable success, and Highmore "could now afford to retire gracefully before he became eclipsed."

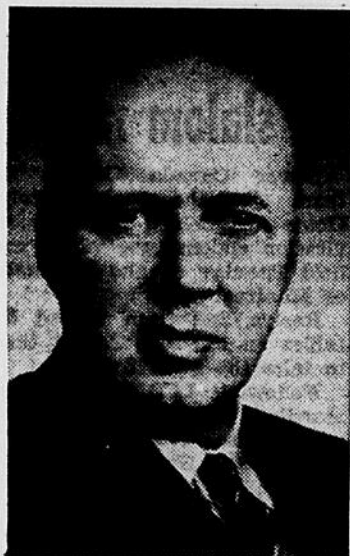

The painting comes from the collection of the well-known English art-historian, Christopher Norris.

'59 licenses ready now

Residents who are still driving with '58 license plates on their cars — are the same ones that will be writing to the newspapers complaining about the long queues at the license bureau doors next week.

That is the view of license bureau officials who urge that motorists step in now — before the queues get too long.

Get 'em now — relax later, is the bureau's view.

Prayer is his answer to daily problems

The power of persistent prayer has paid off for Tommy Baker, 73-year-old local resident, who is still hale and hearty enough to coach local hockey teams.

Latest evidence of his ability to hitch his wagon to a star and still keep his seat is to be seen in the publication of a book entitled "Prosperity Through Prayer."

It is a reflection of his life and times, and also of his personal religious experience, embodied in such phrases as "I believe that the concentration of mind through prayer can accomplish things."

"You hear about records being set for speed faster than sound or light," Baker told the Examiner, "but the fastest thing in this world today is communication with God through prayer."

ENGLISH-BORN

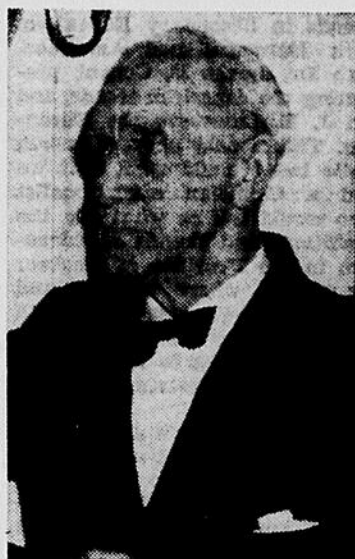

Thomas Baker was born in Birmingham, England, on February 3, 1889, 73 years to the day before the official release of his book by Vantage Press Inc. of New York. His grandfather was an inventor and associate of Joseph Chamberlain in the Baker, Chamberlain and Nettelford Company whose activities in that era equalled those of the Krupp works in Germany.

"I came to Canada at the age of six weeks," said Baker. "My father was fairly well off and I suppose wanted to see the world. But can you imagine having fourteen children and wanting to see the world?"

Apparently the elder Baker never got further than Montreal, where he stayed until 1902, then returned to Birmingham with his family. Although he was ill when he left Canada, young Tom learned to speak French during his stay here, a valuable asset when years later he became "Tommy Baker of Atwater Ball Park."

He returned to Canada in 1909 after studying at the Birmingham Technical School with Wilbur and Orville Wright. After two years of hard work at 23 cents an hour as a mechanical engineer, the intrepid young Baker, barely out of his teens, decided to break into show business.

THOMAS H. BAKER

ness, even though he had a wife and children to support. Baker had married Mary Jane Gordon, a violinist, when she was sixteen and he not much older.

VAUDEVILLE

In vaudeville, he sang while lantern slides were flashed on a screen, first at the old Nickel Theatre, corner of Bleury and St. Catherine street and later on the Truro-Troy-Halifax circuit in the Maritimes.

"My toughest time was when I was put between two child acts," Baker recalls, "Pat Harrington, who is still doing bit parts in Hollywood today, and Rosie Geary." During his sojourn on the stage he was to meet such people as Bing Crosby, Russ Colombo and Jimmy Cagney.

Before the outbreak of war, he returned to engineering, planning to go "back on the boards" later. He never did.

It was after the war that Baker formed the Atwater Ball Park League. "I was interested in kids, and I organized them," is his explanation of his success. Baseball, hockey, and basketball drew his interest, but he felt rugby "had no science it it, was too slow."

Coaching boys between 13 and 16 years of age, he formed junior and later senior baseball

By Jane Bartlett

teams, and in 1935 they took the provincial, inter-provincial and city and district championships.

DISCIPLINE

Baker's philosophy on how to deal with young boys is a blend of old and new.

"You can't get a boy to be good by making him sit through the minister's visit while he can see his friends playing baseball outside," he says. "First he'll go and look out of the window, next thing you know, he's fallen out, and off he goes."

"If you train a boy to be really good at a game, make him feel you can't win without him, that's where the psychology comes in. Use the iron hand if necessary. You only need to keep a boy on the bench once to make him realize how to behave."

Commenting on his book, "Prosperity Through Prayer", Baker said, "Sure, there are a lot of people who don't like what I've written. I also know a lot of people much younger than me who are sitting in Westmount Park smoking a clay pipe.

"I believe that God returns a hundred-fold whatever you give," avers Baker. "I have lived more than my three score and ten — who gave them to me?" He has never had any serious money troubles, and believes this to

In a review of Thomas Baker's book, "Prosperity Through Prayer", A. G. Ferris says:

The general principles outlined are much the same as those contained in the writings of such noted churchmen as Sheen and Norman Vincent Peale but the style is that of a humble unpretentious layman actuated only through a kindly and sympathetic interest in his fellowmen, struggling, as he has himself, through adversity and the uncertainties of life . . .

The writer never mentions theology or church doctrine but only a simple and deeply sincere belief in the power of Jesus Christ.

be the result of constant prayer.

PRAYER

It is the custom of Baker and his wife to pray each day at 11 o'clock. The prayer is simple and extemporaneous. Baker feels it is the regularity of communication with God that is effective, and a prayer may consist of nothing more than thanks for the blessings of the day — the sunshine, if there is any — their home and family.

He has lived in Westmount for 18 years, and now occupies a comfortable home at 4729 West-ern avenue. His family consists of three daughters, and a son, Gordon Harold, 34, currently technical advisor and general manager of Central Scientific Research of South America.

Baker is a member of St. Andrew's United Church, an elder, and a member of the Board.

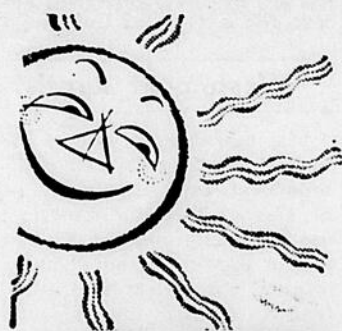

"Perhaps I'm a little too straight-forward for their taste," he concluded, shaking his head. Recently when the elders were holding a conclave on the problem of new young members, Baker urged them to try prayer, something they had not yet done. "If we don't get new members," he told them, "we'll run out of di-ers".

Education Week II

By

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

EDUCATION WEEK

The second item of information regarding Education is the advance notice that the Institute of Education of McGill, and the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, will sponsor a Conference on Traditions and Trends in Secondary Education, both European and American,
with Dr. James B. Conant presiding the American trends, and
Dr. J. E. Lauwerys the European. This should be very worth while but I could wish that we had a Canadian educationalist who would tell us what are the Traditions and Trends of Education in the Province of Quebec;
for this is where we live and Quebec Education is a thing in itself. We may disagree with it but we are going to live with it, though within certain limits we may change it.I wish there were a Canadian presenting our point of view for otherwise it may go by default.
Dr. Conant has completed a survey of American Education and is apparently satisfied with it.
Dr. Lauwerys has written on English Education and is far from satisfied. In a volume of Essays written in 1957, entitled
"Education and the Philosophic Mind," he presents Scientific
Humanism as the basis of true Education. He feels that "it isthe growth of positive knowledge and not of religion or of philosophy, which has led to man's progress during the whole of his past." On the other hand Hebrew prophecy and Greek philosophy contributed a very great deal to man's progress: I can agree with Dr. Lauwerys when he says in the same paragraph "Science is one aspect of a total culture or social system."
So is religion and so is philosophy, and I feel that our Quebec system which includes Christian teaching is broader based, and can be made a better vehicle for the education of the young than any system which excludes religion.There was a time when H. G.
Wells believed that more education of the scientific humanist variety could save the world. His final book was a most pessimistic confession of failure. It was called "Mind at the End of its Tether." Up to 20 years ago
Walter Lippmann agreed with Wells. Then he recanted and delivered an address to an American group of teachers in which he declared that modern Western Education is destroying modern Western Civilization because it leaves God out.Dr. Lauwerys sums up the Scientific Humanist Creed in the conviction that "mankind now can, if it really wants to create a new social order, in which we exploit the unexplored potential-ities of nature in the service of the unexplored potentialities of man." The operative word there is "If he wants to." What will make him want to short of his relationship with God? You may say that is the work of the Church. It is. But it still remains true, as von Humboldt said over a century ago, that if you want anything to appear in the lives of the people you must put it into the schools of the people.

Mrs. Kenneth Naylor re-elected head of Montreal Diocesan WA

Mrs. Kenneth Naylor was re-elected president of the Montreal Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada at 73rd Annual Meeting held recently.

At the opening service in Christ Church Cathedral, Diocesan life memberships were presented to: Mrs. A. Currie; Mrs. J. H. Doak; Mrs. J. C. Kirby; Mrs. B. Miner; Mrs. N. W. K. Reid; Mrs. S. Sharman; Miss Edith Maude Telford; Mrs. J. R. Whelan. Dominion life membership went to Mrs. H. W. Blunt.

DEMANDING ROLL

In reviewing the year's work Mrs. Naylor paid tribute to the Dominion president, Mrs. Britton Osler, and said, "The climate of these times, the expansion of the work of the Church and the parallel development of the work of its handmaid in this country, the Woman's Auxiliary, means that Mrs. Osler must personally fill a very demanding roll. She has a seat in the General Synod, and sits also on many of its boards and committees, and she has added to a natural ability the knowledge gained through these contacts. As the leader of the official organization representing women's work of the Anglican Church of Canada we can follow her with complete confidence."

"The financial responsibilities, too, of the Dominion Board are the concern of each one of us. It helps us to face them . . . when we think in terms of the people who depend upon us for support in the work they are doing as our representatives, rather than strictly in terms of the amount in dollars that we must raise. It is right to put this matter before you because you are being called upon to consider assuming an increased apportionment."

DOMINION BUDGET

The dominion budget for the coming year is over $283,000. The Montreal Board accepted an apportionment of $19,800, an increase of $2,500 over last year.

Referring briefly to each department the President emphasized the importance of implementing in every way the Youth Work of the Auxiliary. She said, "The Women's Branches need to take an active interest in the Little Helpers, Junior and Girls' Branches, need to try to find leadership where for lack of it these branches are not functioning and should encourage the leaders we have with help when they require it."

BOOKS AVAILABLE

Mrs. Naylor reminded the members of the wide choice of books and literature available through the Education department. "Only the consistent use of these with our wills and minds . . . can really help us to be informed and alert, pulling our weight instead of dragging our feet."

The treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Shepherd, reported the senior membership at 3,014, representing 109 branches, and the three junior auxiliaries totalled 4,807 with 127 branches. The Board received two legacies during the year amounting to $3,000, bringing the total receipts for 1958 to $40,140. There were 1,478 subscriptions to the "Living Message" and Mrs. Harry Little reported 11,500 Calendars were sold.

DORCAS DEPT.

Mrs. J. B. Eveleigh, chairman of the Dorcas Dept., reported that the requisitions for the two Indian Residential Schools were met in full at a cost of over $3,500. Two northern hospitals, at Pangnirtung and Hay River, received supplies amounting to $700 and following the spring packing a shipment of six tons, valued at $4000 was sent to the Canadian Mission field.

EDUCATION

Reporting for the Education Department the chairman, Mrs. C. E. Morshead said, "Looking back over the past year, we felt that by the time our Study had been completed, we had come to have a better understanding of our Japanese neighbors and how we could best support our missionaries serving them in the Japanese Church." A total of 2,196 publications was sold by the Book Counter. A resumé of the English Borstal System by William W. Fox was prepared by Mrs. J. F. Morris. Mrs. Morris has prepared also, reviews on the current study book and is willing to present these to branch meetings.

Flannelgraphs, Films and Slides are still in demand as Visual Aids. The Lending Library is now housed in a room of its own and the librarian, Mrs. R. M. Mitchell reports that 300 books were added during the year and 620 were circulated.

NEW SLATE

association of Toronto, her subject being "Vision and Faith". She told the members that from pioneer days when the women held Sunday School classes and mid-week services in their homes, and visited the sick, till the time came for organized welfare work, a vision was before them which they tried to bring into reality. Now the vision which we must try to realize is the time when there will be one great woman's organization working for the church, forgetting all differences to work together to make problems become opportunities. The woman have a real responsibility to the total work of the church.

There have been a number of excellent discs recently, designed for the more relaxed listening, and among them the following are highly recommended in their respective fields:-

new selection stands on its own merits as a work of art in the field of light concert music. The present disc includes many old favorites:- 'For The First Time', 'La Vie En Rose', 'O Mein Papa', 'April In Portugal', 'Anema E. Core', 'Beyond The Sea', 'Autumn Leaves', 'Answer Me', etc., etc.

Decca: Vienna, City Of Dreams. Erwin Halletz and His Orchestra. DL 8771. A real Viennese package, from the conductor who is a native of the great musical city, to the music, all Viennese in character including waltzes, foxtrots, tangos and marches. The arrangements are unique and extremely happy ones, combining a full concert orchestra highlighted by a plaintive zither, accordion, and occasionally a humming and whistling chorus. The numbers include: 'Vienna City Of My Dreams', 'When Your Heart Is Yearning', by the conductor, 'My Beloved Vienna', 'Two Hearts In Three-Quarter Time', 'You Are My Heart's Delight', 'My Mom Was A Viennese Girl', 'It Must Be Something Wonderful', 'Heart-breaks', etc.

London: Hollywood Cha Cha Cha. Edmundo Ros and His Orchestra. LL 3100. One of the crispest most precise beats in the business is that produced by the renowned Edmundo Ros orchestra, and if anyone doubts this statement, just listening to this collection of familiar numbers set to the modern 'Cha Cha' beat will prove the point. Hear what Mr. Ros does to 'The Moulin Rouge Theme', 'It's Magic', 'Tammy', 'Moonglow', the 'Third Man Theme', 'Around The World', 'Love Is A Many Splendored Thing', etc., etc., and all done in good musical taste!

STAMPS GALORE

Wayne L. Bungay

When Israeli stamps were first introduced to the world on May 16, 1948 (two days following the country's proclamation as a republic) there was a brisk demand for them. With a face value of about one dollar the selling price of the country's first nine stamps was about $8.50 in the United States and Canada.

I imagine most people thought at the time that their favorite dealer was getting the best of them when he pocketed about 800% profit for every set he sold. Come 1956 that same dealer was willing to buy them back allowing you about 16,000% profit. Yes, many dealers were willing to pay up to $125.00 for the set which you had paid less than a dollar apiece for 8 years previous.

Had you purchased these same stamps from the Israeli Philatelic Agency in Tel Aviv, and sold them to a pal in mid 1957 you may have received something like $275.00 or a profit of about 27,000%. Certainly to any retail businessman with say an average of 60% profit it would make his hair stand on end.

Ten years from now I could re-write this column and I don't suppose most of my readers would "bat-an-eye", because to many collectors speculation plays an important role in the hobby. In the past ten years I would imagine speculation was greatest with the United Nations, Ryukyu Islands, Ghana and of course Israel. There is one thing for certain though, one is likely to lose the shirt off his back or become a millionaire.

A back issue of Weekly Philatelic Gossip said that Sir Sandford (Sanford) Fleming, the designer of Canada's first stamp was the originator of the times zones.

The Newfoundland dog, famous swimmer and life-saver, likely descends from sheep dogs brought out by Basque fishermen more than 400 years ago; it is probable that the sheep dogs were later crossed with English spaniels.

A Lenten Meditation

We cannot burn ideals at the stake,
Nor can they be immersed within the tomb,
Disturbers of man's peace, — they do not die,
But in the awakened mind, usurp the room.

For after sight of sea, the river palls,
Divine discontent our comfort mars,
Between the morn of joy, and night of tears,
We see a living fountain, reach the stars.

HAVE UNWANTED HAIR REMOVED PERMANENTLY

Your time now is much too precious to waste so many hours of it at the ancient feminine routine of plucking, shaving, waxing, or using depilatories. Don't do it! Not another year, not even another week!

Have that nuisance-hair removed once and for all, starting today at the Gregory System clinic.

Start with any excess hair on your upper lip, chin, cheek, neck. Have your eyebrows and your hairline shaped permanently in their most becoming style... and the back of your neck "cleared" for modern hair-do's. Then your arms, legs — anywhere you have unwanted hair.

World's Fastest Method

It's perfectly safe, medically-approved, couldn't possibly leave any kind of scar or coarsened skin. We use the short-wave method, the world's fastest, most comfortable technique. And the lowest-priced, because the method is so fast and our Gregory operators so expert.

And it doesn't hurt!

There's just a tiny sensation of warmth as each hair is inactivated — not nearly as uncomfortable as when you pluck a hair. It can't be unpleasant, judging from the number of women who take a nap while in treatment.

You really ought to try it today, tomorrow at the latest.

Call now and make an appointment for your "see-how-it's-done treatment". There'll be no charge whatever, no obligation.

Don't put it off again!

Zenaida Prado, Technical Supervisor of the Gregory System clinics, explains the benefits of the new permanent hair removal method.

Two Convenient Locations

Two, most fashionable, Gregory System Clinics are now operating in Montreal at the following convenient locations.

DOWNTOWN: Suite 807 — Dominion Square Building, 1010 St. Catherine St. West, telephone: UN: 1-6023.

SNOWDON: Suite 303, Royal Bank of Canada Bldg., 5292 Queen Mary Road at Decarie Blvd., telephone HU. 1-3522.

Clinic hours at both clinics are: 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. week days and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays.

Free parking for our patrons.

Delinquency in music

Part I — The Teacher

By Frances Goltman

NORTHMOUNT HIGH SCHOOL is bringing Sam Levenson, humanitarian-educator-comedian, to address a fund-raising dinner in the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, sponsored by the PTA of that school. He has become a national authority on child psychology because he knows today's situation from every point and there are few people that can tell the truth these days publicly without being resented. Mr. Levenson speaks his mind very convincingly.

LAST WEEK, on Channel three this teacher turned comedian had a half hour chat with another do-gooder, Arthur Godfrey. It was a serious conversation spiced with a few jokes and anecdotes but it conveyed a serious message to parents and teachers.

SAM LEVENSON told about his life, which he has done on many previous occasions. I hope he continues to repeat the lessons that are derived from the experiences of his childhood because there are always new listeners to benefit who have not heard them before. Those who have can profit again.

THIS INFORMAL chat gave me food for thought in the music sphere and I decided to write three articles on "Delinquency in Music". The word "delinquent" is usually connected with a violation of the law but if you look in your dictionary you will find that it also means "Failing or Remiss in Duty". This is where it applies in music for (I) the teacher, (II) the parent and (III) the student.

THERE ARE MANY PEOPLE in each of these categories. Number I, the teacher is faced with multiple problems and to quote Mr. Levenson, "The parents haven't the guts to say 'NO' to their "children". This applies to teachers as well as parents since the teacher is really the "music-parent." The teacher is a delinquent in many cases because he feels if he does not do his duty for various reasons he will retain the pupil. If the student brings his lessons unprepared he does not INSIST on better work. The parents often do not wish to hear complaints from the teacher so if Johnny says he wants to stop, the parents let him. It's easier than having an argument. If he says his friends have stopped lessons so why does he have to take — the parent says — "Alright you can stop".

THUS THE DELINQUE. T teacher lets him play what he wants, neglecting scales, exercises, not insisting that he must count (not sometimes, but always) not bothering to make him use correct fingering and all the things that make proper playing. This is a delinquent teacher who hasn't the courage to tell the parents honestly that they should co-operate and do what is right. If a child does not do well in school, the teacher is supposed to let the parents know. Why shouldn't the music teacher do the same? NEXT WEEK: "DELINQUENCY IN MUSIC" Part II. The Parents.

SAYING OF THE WEEK: Duty performed is a moral tonic; if neglected, the tone and strength of both mind and heart are weakened, and the spiritual health undermined. TRYON EDWARDS — 1809-1894.

Mr. Kirby. However, we found he had difficulty keeping the fussy, slow moving character as the play wore on, often slipping into his own stage mannerisms and personality. For the second time in this column we would like to give an admiring notice of Jack Crisp's direction. As in December's "Visit to a Small Planet" he did a job in keeping with his name, crisp, clearcut, and altogether a delight to watch.

Technicians in Canadian Red Cross laboratories of the Blood Transfusion Service conducted over 135,000 free clinical Rh tests for expectant mothers in 1958.

Concert centre, carried over; "simple enjoyment" at MRT play

By LACEY KELLY
 NOW TO THE POINT about probable effect of the new concert centre on local amateur groups, which was left out of last week's column due to lack of space. We said last week that one of the main results would probably be a strengthening of the line between amateur and professional productions in the city. Professional actors will do less work with amateur groups and vice-versa.

OUT OF OUR PRESENT amateur-professional hodge-podge, one group will probably rise to take its official place as the English repertory troupe of Montreal, with a fair amount of money and a bank of good actors, directors, etc. behind it. Placed on a pedestal if only because it would use the superior accommodations of the new centre, it would be something for local actors, writers, stage designers to shoot for as a goal where they and the audiences could be sure of a consistently high professional standard.

AT THE SAME TIME, local groups would probably take on more of the nature of real amateur groups... outlets for personal expression in people who like stage work for their creative hobby. The relaxed social atmosphere of suburban activities will probably replace more and more the hectic desire for professional perfection. While local groups might still be used as a training ground for professional actors they would exist first and foremost for simple enjoyment.

SIMPLE ENJOYMENT... those are the words that first enter one's mind in thinking about the MRT performance of "You Can't Take It With You" which opened Tuesday night. In this case the impression of relaxed ease and carefree fun was put across by actors who had enough experience and technical know-how to go through the most strenuous, quick-paced high jinks without ever appearing to work at it.

Local residents, Jean MacRae and Gladys Richards were outstanding in this regard, each handling their high strung, slightly flutter-budged lead parts beautifully. The men tagged along after the girls, acting well, but with little of the high spirits and quick timing shown by the female contingent. John Hampstead, masterful chameleon of make-up and characterization, amazed once more by his appearance and acting as the stuffed shirt

Hawkettes set for playdown

Unity Hawkettes will open the Montreal playdown with St. Lambert, Tuesday, March 3 at Westmount Unity Club. The second game of the total points series will take place in St. Lambert March 10.

Unity junior Hawkettes and Greenfield Park juveniles finished on top of their respective sections, according to official standings released by Mrs. R. A. Rawlins, secretary of the Montreal Ladies' Basketball League.

The MBLB constitution states that the team finishing up in first place shall be declared champion with no playoff. Unity and Greenfield will now represent the MBLB in the forthcoming Provincial playdowns scheduled to start in March.

UBC's Hawkettes took the junior 'flag' in easy fashion with an unbeaten record in eight games.

Actually, Greenfield completed their schedule in a dead heat for first place with Lakeshore's juvenile entry, each team registering seven triumphs as against a single setback.

Lakeshore used an unregistered player during one of their league encounters. The MBLB executive had no alternative but to declare Greenfield Park champions.

Royal Montreal Regiment strengthened their hold on first place in the Military Fastball League by defeating Grenadier Guards 12-5.

Fusiliers Mont Royal moved into second place as the result of a 12-6 decision over Regiment de Maisonneuve.

At the Guards Armory, RMR's Marv Bergson went the route to gain credit for the victory. He helped along his own cause by contributing four hits in a 15-hit assault. Don McCulloch with five hits and Jim Pratt with four shared the batting honors for the winners.

Dick Steward was charged with the defeat. Bob Strange with four hits and Doug Thacker and Frank Reissentein with three each were best for the losers.

Fusiliers collected 15 hits in their win over Maisonneuve, with Paul Collette and Gilles Gamache contributing four hits each. Gaston Proulx was the winning pitcher and he spread 10 hits over the distance.

Maisonneuve used three pitchers, Claude Bastien, Andre Lalonde and Dick Doray in a vain effort to stop the Fusiliers. Yvon Poirier with three hits was top man at the plate for Maisonneuve.

West End Ice snow Saturday

The West End Figure Skating Club will present their fourth annual Ice Show, Loyola Arena, Saturday February 28, commencing at 3:30 p.m.

An extremely interesting program including four production numbers, two comprising senior and intermediate skaters, a precision routine, and another representing the "Four Seasons," with appropriate music.

Junior members will show in the other two large groups, which will be specially appreciated by the small fry, "Birthday Party" and a novelty number "Flowers on Parade."

Three senior skaters have been assigned solos: Wendy Green, Barbara Russell and Dick Shedlowski.

Junior soloists are Marilyn Carney, Sheryl Mills and Marilyn Humphries. Peter and Catherine Lemieux will do a Pair number.

Introducing two new ideas for the benefit of those who are not familiar with the rudiments of Figure Skating, one a number which has been designated "introduction to Figure Skating," and the other, a demonstration of the various figure skating dance routines.

Last item on the program is a grand finale, which proved so popular in last year's show.

Stamp Club holds 850th meeting

Westmount Stamp Club celebrated its 850th meeting, Thursday, February 19 when the Rev. Dr. G. F. Dewey addressed the membership on "varieties of plates and overprints of the stamps of Palestine."

When we examine the cancellation of the stamps of this interesting country we are brought face to face with many towns and cities mentioned in ancient history. Dr Dewey showed in a fascinating manner how a collector might study these stamps for varieties ranging from the very common to some of the greatest stamp rarities. More recent stamps of Palestine pictorially portray familiar Bible scenes.

At March 5 meeting of the Westmount Stamp Club the annual Red Cross Auction will be held with proceeds going to the work of the Red Cross. Visitors are welcome at the Stamp Club meetings which are held every Thursday evening 8:00 to 10:30 p.m. in Victoria Hall.

Wider local calling - without long distance charges - for Montreal area

STARTING SUNDAY, MARCH 1st
AT 2.01 A.M.

Your "telephone family" will grow considerably on March 1st! That's the day when telephone users in Montreal and those in several additional suburban communities will be able to dial many more places, without paying a Long Distance charge. This also means that, in your calling area, calls to and from more of your friends can be dialed without Operator assistance.

This is the plan which we announced in October 1957 and which, after consideration of all representations submitted, was approved by the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada by its Judgment dated July 11, 1958.

Since then the construction work required to bring you this convenient new service has been completed. We had to lay miles and miles of cable, enlarge our buildings and install a wide range of equipment. We know you will like the convenience and that you will appreciate the dollar savings of toll-free calling within your new Local Calling Area.

Use the map and table on this page. They will show your new wider Local Calling Area. Full information can also be found in the front pages of your Telephone Directory! Please don't dial your Long Distance Operator for calls to communities within your new Local Calling Area! If the number of the party you wish to call is not listed in your directory, Dial "113", GIVE THE CALLED PLACE, and the Information Operator will be pleased to help you.

Wider local calling gives you more value for your telephone dollar!
