Huntingdon County Scores High In Beautification Competition With Two Top Winners

Earlier in the year and for some months prior to in the previous year, the people of this area and others in the Province of Quebec were urged to beautify their farms and other properties. When the time came for the competition to close entries, we did not hear too much about who had entered or what had been done.

The competition actually started in 1964 and the plan was for the beautification of the farms of the countryside to provide a lasting impression on visitors to our country.

Throughout the Province of Quebec an enrolment of 9,100 competitors was obtained and these were divided into divisions as follows: 1st., For farmers deriving their living from the farm; 2nd., for gentlemen farmers, institutions and companies, who owned farms. This latter group were eligible for trophies and a certificate of merit. However, in this group no local competitor was enrolled.

Of the former group 150 entries were combined with Huntingdon and Napierville counties grouped together to form a unit.

Huntingdon did very well in this competition winning the two top prizes, showing that our area is still in the top bracket when it comes to fine farms.

On Monday, October 23rd., Mr. Leon A. Beaudin accompanied Francois Trepanier of Lee's Corners and Raymond Arthur of Rockburn to the Dupont Auditorium at Expo, where they received first and second prizes respectively. Huntingdon was one of 70 units made up from the 9,100 farmers of the Province who entered the competition.

Mr. Francois Trepanier received his prize, of a gold medal and a $200 cheque from the hands of Mr. Clement Vincent, Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Quebec. He will also receive a Certificate of Merit. Mr Raymond Arthur will receive a silver medal and a cheque for $150 and a Certificate of Merit.

No accounting of the other winners was made at this time, but it is presumed it will be in due course.

We should all be proud that our County scored so high and that these competitors entered their farms in the competition which was specially for this Centennial year. Once again we do not have to take second place and can enjoy the fact that our farms are among the best.

NEW POST OFFICE AND FIRE STATION FOR ATHELSTAN

Athelstan is to have a federal building, a new Post Office, something that is sorely needed, for the quarters presently occupied as such in the home of Postmaster Jim Hutchings, are most inadequate for present day requirements.

The site of the new building is under discussion. With a new Fire Station and Post Office, the residents will have something to remind them of 1967, our centennial year.

Turn Time Back Sat.

This Saturday night people will be able to catch up with the hour they lost in the spring, by turning the time back one hour to once more return to Standard Time. Don't forget to do this or you will be arriving at church an hour too soon. Daylight Saving Time reverts to Standard Time this Saturday at one minute past midnight.

OTTAWA CONFIRMS PENSION INCREASE

Old age pension payments will increase to $76.50 a month starting in January, as the result of a government move to partially offset the rising cost of livink.

At the same time, contributions to the Canada and Quebec pension plans will increase to a yearly maximum of $81.00 for an employed person, from the present $78.20.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons yesterday at Health and Welfare Minister Allan MacEachen, and immediately ran into a blast of criticism from some opposition members.

Stanley Knowles (NDP — Winnipeg North Centre) charged that the $1.50 a month pension increase is "ridiculous" and said it was an "insult" to old people.

Mr. Knowles told newsmen that the cost of living has increased drastically in recent years, and that the two per cent pension boost announced by the minister comes nowhere near meeting the needs of Canada's elderly people.

The two per cent increase in the $75 a month old age pension marks the first time that the cost of living index in the old age security plan has been invoked.

The index was added at the time the Canada pension plan was passed. It provides for a maximum increase of two per cent a year in old age security and Canada Pension Plan payments, as well as for an escalation in pension plan contributions to meet cost of living changes.

The changes announced yesterday will bring about the following results, all effective January 1.

— Old age security payments will increase to $76.50 a month,, from the current $75.00.

— The maximum payment under the guaranteed income supplement program will rise from $30.00 to $30.60 a month. Those receiving the pension and the maximum supplement will get $107.10 a month, compared to $105.00 at present.

— Contributions to the Canada and Quebec pension plans will be calculated on the basis of all income between $600 and $5,100 a year. Current maximum is $5,000.

— Maximum yearly contributions to the Quebec and Canada pensions plans will increase to $81.00 for an employed person, from $79.20 at present.

— Maximum contributions for self-employed people will increase from $158.40 at present to $162.00.

— Maximum retirement benefit under the Canada and Quebec pension plan — first payable in 1976 — will now be $106.25 a month. The current figure is $104.17 a month.

Kairos Hits Huntingdon At Hallowe'en

For the second time this year, young people from Kairos in Montreal are coming to spend the week-end at Huntingdon and make it possible for us to see modern religion at work as a way of living.

Many young and old people will remember the Saturday night coffee house and Sunday morning Folk-service put on by a group of 23 young adults here in Huntingdon last June. These people had a nice time here and a warm welcome. The Gleaner headline said, "Huntingdon — the Friendliest Town they have Struck". And it is because of this reception last June that Huntingdon was chosen this fall for the Hallowe'en Youth Week-end. The first program for the autumn season is being put on here in Huntingdon and this time twice as many young people want to come out from the city. Kairos is a young adult organization in the United Church of Canada.

Locally everybody is invited to join in the action at Heath Hall on Saturday evening, October 28. If you are looking for Hallowe'en thrills you can come to the hall over the I.G.A. and have a night full of fun — a real SPOOKORAMA! You do not have to be a teenager to enjoy the Saturday evening fun. And you can dress up in Hallowe'en costume if you want to.

The Saturday evening will feature not only hallowe'en pranks, but a regular Coffee House event, with "on stage" presentations of folk singing, tall stories and "the works".

All those who survive Saturday night are invited to the church service at 10:30 Sunday morning in the Huntingdon United Church. The same group of Kairos young people will be putting on a Canadian Centennial Folk Service, a first of its kind for them in Canada.

Members of the group include young people from the Japanese United Church in Montreal, from churches at Beaurepaire, Queen Mary Road, Town of Mount Royal, Dorval, Valois, Wesley United Church, a couple of young people from Capreol and two girls from England. All together there may be forty people coming to participate in this Sunday morning church service at Huntingdon United Church.

CANADA is the theme of the service.

YOUTH is the sponsor of the service.

Too bad that Pat Ramey from Barbados will miss coming to Huntingdon. He is a member of the McGill football team which is playing that week-end in Toronto. Pat is one of the leading voices of the group, but, even without him, there is talent galore. It would be nice if Huntingdon people turned out again in droves to make the Kairos group welcome.

Come on Saturday October 28 to the Spookorama at Heath Hall (over the I.G.A.) where there is Hallowe'en fun for all. Put on by Kairos, the young people of the United Church.

The employees of Cleyn & Tinker Ltd. and Model Dye Works (Canada) Ltd., voted on October 12, to decide which union would represent them in negotiations with their employer.

BUFFALO HERD TO PROPAGATE IN ORMSTOWN

They're soon going to have a touch of the prairies around Ormstown — with buffalo on the hoof.

The home where the buffalo will roam is Clearbrooke Game Farms, which will take three prime bulls, 22 cows, and 16 calves from the Elk Island National Park, Alberta, in early January.

A spokesman for the Clearbrooke farm said the program calls for three years of breeding to provide a strong herd foundation, and later a 20-year program of sale of buffalo to zoos, and for special exhibits or for food.

Said Art Ball, president of Clearbrooke: "It is our hope to work closely with the Canadian and Quebec governments, and particularly with Macdonald College in bringing an entirely new agricultural industry to the province."

Rotarians Hear Czechoslovakian Speaker At Meeting

MR. VLADIMIR STEPANEK, Deputy Commissioner, Czechoslovakian Pavilion, at Expo, guest speaker Rotary Club, Huntingdon.

There was a good attendance at the regular Rotary Club luncheon meeting on Monday, at the Chateau. One event of some importance was carried out during the meeting. Mrs. Ann Cameron, President of the County Civic Centre was presented with a cheque for $1,000 being the proceeds from a recent auction sale sponsored by the Rotary Club on behalf of the Centennial project a swimming pool.

Rotarian Somerville had another of his historical Quizz whereby he wanted to know who was the first Mayor of Huntingdon. Rotarian Martin answered the question by naming a Mr. Somerville, who was a relative of Mr. A. Somerville. He also later became a Member of Parliament.

Mr. Brockman introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Vladimir Stepanek, Deputy Commissioner of the Czechoslovakian Pavilion at Expo.

The speaker in opening his remarks said he makes his home in Prague. He said the main purpose of bringing the pavilion to Canada and Expo was to tell the story of the Czechoslovakian people to Canada and other visitors here. Czechoslovakia is a country of between 14 and 15 million people. It is also a country of two peoples and two nations and here it is similar to Canada and perhaps also in other ways. There are a large number of Czechoslovakians living in Canada and it would be nice for them to see something of their own country once more. He then showed a number of slides of the articles that are displayed in the pavilion at Expo. These included the building and the grounds and showed the people milling around. The jewels of the country were shown as were several paintings of celebrities. The various forms of culture were also placed on view, then the traditions and the industries. Many collections of glass in various forms were shown for this is where the Czechoslovakians excel. The speaker explained that it is an industrial country and specializes in lace and costume jewelry. Many of the art treasures were destroyed in the war but a large number have been recovered and some of them are on view at Expo. Four restaurants were operated at the pavilion and views of these were also shown.

Mr. Stepanek concluded his talk by saying that he believed the objective of the pavilion had been achieved and that many more people now knew more about Czechoslovakia than ever did before.

It was remarked by a number of the Rotarians that the pavilion was one of the hardest to get into and many had not seen what was inside until seeing the slides at this meeting. They had tried on many occasions, but the line-up was so long, they had given up. It was therefore doubly interesting to them. Some questions were asked the speaker regarding customs of the country. One question had to do with politics. The answer was that it was a socialistic state with the majority communists and this was the ruling party.

Mr. Stepanek was thanked by Rotarian Erle Martin and also presented with a souvenir of his visit here.

It was a most interesting meeting.

Quebec Farmers Annual Meet At Macdonald College Oct. 28

QUEBEC FARMERS —

In our Centennial year the basic agricultural industry is facing urgent problems. The low net farm income still plagues the farm owners. The mass exodus from farms continues. What about the future?

The Quebec Farmers' Association is concerned about the future of agriculture and about the future of their own organization. The planning of this year's program will be the focal point of their annual meeting on Saturday,

New Look To Chateauguay Valley Minor Hockey

Something new will be attempted this coming winter in minor hockey for the Chateauguay Valley.

Under the auspices of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, ten zones are being organized for the Quebec Minor Hockey Association.

All parties organizing minor hockey in Caughnawaga, Lery Maple Grove, Ste. Martine, Ste. Philomene, Howick, Ormstown, Huntingdon, Beauharnois, Valleyfield and Hemmingford are being called to an organizational meeting this coming week-end, probably on Saturday and almost certainly in Chateauguay.

Efforts are being made to establish ten zones in competitive play for all minor hockey age groups from mosquitoes up. The Chateauguay Valley has been designated as one of the ten zones. Greater Montreal is one of the other ten zones.

Depending on response from the Valley area, it is hoped that each major town area in the Valley will cooperate in running preliminary eliminating bouts. The winners in each area would compete in a sudden-death playoff, the zonal winners to meet the victors of other zones in the finals of the series.

All those in the areas listed above are asked to contact MR. H. R. HILL, 109 NEWTON AVENUE, CHATEAUGUAY, TEL: 692-9864, AS Soon As Possible.

This and That in Town

✓ MR. GAETAN ROUSSELLE, member of the County Civic Centre executive, will be interviewed by VALLEYFIELD RADIO STATION CFLV at 12:20 p.m. Thursday, October 26, on the programme "L'homme du jour". Topic will be the new swimming pool, Ourtown's Centennial Project.

✓ 1968 LICENCE PLATES will have white numerals and letters on a blue background to denote the 20th anniversary of the adoption of the blue and white fleur de lys flag in this province. The plates go on sale Dec. 1, welcome news for district residents who go to Florida early, and all cars must have them by the end of February. Front and rear plates will be identical in the new year ... no more Expo '67, darn it.

✓ GLEANER FOREMAN Renaud Mainville accompanied by Achille Laberge, Leo Lefebvre, Peter Lynn and yours truly spent Monday at the annual Canadian Graphic Arts Show in Toronto. Some $10 million worth of the newest printing equipment available was on display in the Automotive Building at the Exhibition Grounds.

✓ RELIGIOUS RADIO BROADCAST, October 29 — How parents can make prayer meaningful for their children will be discussed on the next Christian Science radio program in the regular weekly series "The Bible Speaks to You" broadcast over Station CKVL (dial 850) every Sunday morning at 9.45.

✓ FIRST SNOW this fall in this area was reported Thursday evening of last week. Hardly noticeable with the rain, but there was no mistaking it. Friends in Malone and Chateauguay awoke Friday a.m. to see the ground covered with it.

✓ TIME WON'T HEAL DISUNITY — Separatists make their claim for the viability of an independent Quebec, The Financial Post comments, on the basis of an assumed balance between the amount of federal tax revenue contributed by Quebec and the amount of money or equivalent received by Quebec or Quebeckers from Ottawa. No matter how these figures are totted up — they can be made to serve either side of the separatism argument, The Financial Post says. They all assume a status quo; a continuing high and rising level of investment, a growing corporate and individual tax base, a continuing ability to raise funds at home and abroad and a growing level of competence and confidence of the populace. This seems to be exactly where separatism arguments pro and con fall short, The Financial Post points out. As the recent and present flights of capital from Quebec demonstrate, a separated Quebec and a broken Canada could not hope to enjoy an uninterrupted continuation of confidence even from our best friends. The hard and inescapable truth is that a separate Quebec would be a permanently depressed and deprived area, and the rest of Canada seriously wounded. The Financial Post goes on to say that the power struggle between Quebec and Ottawa will not be solved until English-speaking Canadians understand the difference between equal treatment for individuals and equal treatment for peoples. Language, educational and cultural rights will not be easy to preserve outside Quebec but they are basic minimums. And Quebeckers, The Financial Post urges, must think hard about this and finally realize that their most abundant economic future and freedom of expression will be as part of a united Canada. The provincial premiers meet next month to discuss the future of Confederation. This should be taken very seriously indeed. The Financial Post says the conference may provide Premier Johnson with one of the few remaining opportunities to find a new solution within Confederation for his ambitious and troubled Quebec.

✓ MONEY WILL COST YOU STILL MORE — Bank borrowers can expect to pay even more for their loans in coming weeks, Beatrice Riddell writes in The Financial Post. And if the loans are less than $25,000, the increases will all be carefully spelled out for them under new disclosure regulations that went into effect this week. Many individuals have had the rate on their secured, demand loans hiked since May 1, when the rate ceiling was raised to 7¼% from 6%. Many others have had their loans "called' twice during that period to be renegotiated at a higher rate. Unless interest rates ease before the end of th year, borrowers can expect another round of hikes — certainly after Jan. 1 when the rate ceiling is removed altogether, one banker told The Financial Post.

✓ FARM BEAUTIFICATION WINNERS for Huntingdon and Napierville Counties, Messrs. François Trepanier of Lee's Corners and Ray Arthur of Rockburn, received their awards at Expo '67 on Monday. Mr. Léon Beaudin, District Agronomist, accompanied the winners and their wives (see report). There were 100 entries from Napierville County and 22 from Huntingdon County and although not official, it is believed the winner of third place is also a Huntingdon farmer. First place winner was Mr. Trepanier and second Mr. Arthur. Congratulations to both!

✓ THE NEW CAISSE POPULAIRE in Ourtown on Prince St. is rapidly taking shape and expectations are that it will be officially opened in early December. Workmen are preparing to terrazo flooring at time of writing.

✓ ATHELSTAN is to have a new Federal building that will house the post office. This, with a new fire station, will give the village that New Look. Don Racine is offering his customers all the services available before the disastrous fire that razed his Sash & Door operations ... good work, Don.

✓ LEAVES are steadily falling and in a few days, most trees will be bare. Gleaner readers from within and without the district who have been driving around the countryside to admire the beautiful fall colours have also been noting the results of excellent ploughmanship. Here at The Gleaner, Achille (Archie) Laberge picked raspberries, also strawberries from his ever-bearing type plants, last week-end. With Hallowe'en just around the corner, youngsters (in some cases parents) will have an opportunity this week-end to test their artistic skills when they carve faces into those huge yellow pumpkins. While on the subject of Hallowe'en, pranksters are reminded the community has had enough misery and sadness of late and so-called 'tricks' by adults with a mean streak in them that endanger life will not be tolerated: this includes placing obstructions on the highways and byways and burning bridges. Hallowe'en is for the children ... buy some candy and favors for them and treat them royally when they call. If big louts crowd in with the youngsters, politely ask them why they aren't at home receiving THEIR visitors.

✓ HALLOWE'EN heralds Daylight Saving Time: the last Saturday prior to Hallowe'en timepieces go back one hour. BACK ONE HOUR, that is, AT MIDNIGHT SATURDAY.

✓ SYLVESTER'S POINT (midway between St. Anicet and Cazaville on Route 3) was the scene of considerable excitement and confusion that commenced about mid-afternoon on Sunday. Huntingdon Fire Dept. received a phone call stating there was a fire inside a summer camp located third or fourth house in from the road. A quick check revealed nothing amiss or out of the ordinary in that area. A Provincial Police car arrived from Huntingdon and the officer was told a check had been made and everything appeared normal. The officer continued up the road, that becomes a dead end. A little while later, two fire trucks from the Fort Covington Fire Dept. raced up the road followed by a cavalcade of about fifty private vehicles, half New York State and half Quebec. The following is what actually took place: Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Blain of Ste. Philomene, who own the third camp OFF SYLVESTER'S POINT ROAD, near Breezy Point, left their camp about noon on Sunday. Some time later, a neighbour noticed a fire burning inside the camp. He phoned for help, then set about extinguishing the wall fire himself. When the Fort department arrived, the fire was almost out, but considerable damage had been caused to the inside of the camp. Mr. and Mrs. Blain returned about ten p.m., unaware of what had occurred.

✓ EARTHQUAKE ALERT — Canada is earthquake — prone — and our luck so far may not last, Basil Jackson, science editor, says in The Financial Post. Major tremors have rocked Pacific coast and St. Lawrence valley regions this century, but to date population centres have escaped. The experts point out that the only reason Canada has escaped disaster is that heavy shocks have occurred away from the cities. But as the population of urbanized areas increases we will have to take a more serious view of earthquakes. The Financial Post reports a new earthquake predicting techniques which may yet avert disaster.

✓ WHY HIGHER TAXES COULD BE AHEAD — The possibility of an income tax increase at the same time as tighter money cannot be ruled out, comments The Financial Post in a page-one editorial. It is the alternative should Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp fail to get the response he needs in his campaign for restraint in the inflationary rise of wages, prices, and in spending at all levels of government. But the chances now for restraint on all fronts, The Financial Post argues, would be brighter if our federal masters had set a better example of hard-headed caution — and set that example for longer than the past month or so when they had the wind up about inflation. Indeed, even in the midst of its current campaign for restraint, Ottawa chose to push through an open-end subsidy to wheat farmers. The coming weeks are obviously the testing time for voluntary restraint, The Financial Post comments. The rapid escalation of wages and prices make it abundantly clear Canada's inflation must be nipped now. Be advised, Mr. Sharp says, that the alternative to restraint is a hard tax bang on the head. The next six weeks will tell whether there is going to be a tax increase later this year.

Ottawa University Receives Contribution For Health Sciences Centre

OTTAWA - National Health and Welfare Minister Allan J. MacEachen last week approved a $106,500 contribution from the federal government's Health Resources Fund to assist the functional planning of a proposed Health Sciences Centre at the University of Ottawa in Ottawa.

"This assistance from the Health Resources Fund will do much to help the university in laying the groundwork for its future development and expansion in health training facilities," said Health Minister MacEachen. "This planning project will allow the University to establish its functional requirements, assess the feasibility of proposed programs, and, based on these findings, estimate a budget for construction of a College of Health Sciences, a School of Nursing and a teaching hospital on the University Campus".

"The University of Ottawa, a bilingual one, has a special obligation to produce bilingual medical practitioners, and in this respect it is a unique university in Canada" the Health Minister stated. "The makeup of a recent class in the first year of the faculty of medicine included 10 per cent foreign students, 25 per cent students from Quebec, and the balance from Ontario, split equally between Ottawa and the rest of the province."

Proposals for the expansion of health teaching facilities at the University of Ottawa would allow for an increase in enrolment from 78 to 96 in the first year of the Medical Faculty. The number of post-doctoral students would go to about 90 from 25. Improved facilities would also allow for the instruction of about 140 students in related medical fields and some non-medical Bachelor of Science honour students.

Enrolment at the School of Nursing would be considerably increased by the construction of a 400-bed University teaching hospital.

Functional planning consultants retained by the University are carrying out a site assessment and preliminary site planning and have initiated the programming of facilities. The services of a master site planner will be co-ordinated with the activities of the consultants.

The $500 million Health Resources Fund was established in 1966. It pays up to 50 per cent of the costs incurred in the construction, acquisition, renovation and equipping of health training facilities, such as medical schools, teaching hospitals and research institutions, after January 1, 1966. With approval of the University of Ottawa project, some $48,616,514 has been provided for various projects across Canada.

The Homemakers Helper

Pity your poor kitchen — it's the most used and abused room in the house. Why not give it an appearling glow of brightness with a "facelift"?

Once you turn your kitchen into a cheerful, attractive room, you'll find it will do a great deal for your morale. And the happiest thought in this regard, is that you can redecorate from top to bottom with very little expense. So sit down with pencil and paper and make a list of the things you especially dislike about the kitchen.

Is it too small or too large? Is the ceiling too high or do you have the feeling that it's about to press down on your head? Is the room dark and uninviting? Once you've completed the list, don't panic about the cost. All you need is a few cans of top-quality enamel.

First you'll want to choose the wall color. It should be cheerful and gright. If the room is small, use the lightest tone to create an impression of space. It works the other way if the room is barn-like. A darker shade of your favorite color will give a cosy effect. Apply the same principle to the ceiling. That's right — it's lighter tones for low ceilings — darker for ones that seem too high.

The average city dweller in Canada consumes 4.66 pounds of food a day. The average man in India consumes only 1.23 pounds a day, mostly rice which is deficient in protein, fats and vitamins.

ELECTIONS AND CAMPAIGN STRATEGY

By Bernice Cullen

A weeklong series of electioneering, netted not a thing but, headaches, empty purses and bitter disappointment to several candidates in the Toronto area last week. On the other side of the coin, jubilation reigned as the final hour told the tale on Tuesday as the last ballot was counted and a well poised Conservative Premier Robarts accepted the good wishes of beaming NDP Macdonald as Liberal Nixon took stock of his losses versus his gains, in their bids for the Ontario Leadership.

It was no surprise that Robarts' seat in the house was secured, a little less secure than last election, those twenty NDP members will see to that, Macdonald, though far short of his Centennial Aim of 67 in 67 made a deep wedge in the Toronto area as well as gains in other parts of the Province.

It was the good fortune of this writer to be present at many of the pre-election day meetings. It seemed that all three parties had the same aims, re education and housing. Almost everyone, said the Government should share eighty per cent of education in the Province, and no one seemed to have any concise idea on just where the Government should stand on housing. There where those who owned homes, those who were about to own homes and those who had homes to sell, each hoping to get the best possible value for himself. No one dared come out and say how much he knew about the hanky panky which is going on in the real estate business in the city of Toronto today. Few mentioned the vast sums being collected, (by someone) for public services, and after ten years no sewage in some suburbs just the collector for that unpaid bill.

No one mentioned (in his insistance for Government Financed Education) the problem in Toronto Schools (including Elementary Schools), of Glue Sniffing, or Pot smoking.

One Candidate, up for Re-election, spent enormous sums on gifts for the voters in his riding. The ladies had rain hats and nail files, suitably engraved with the donor's name and address with an appeal to vote for "Progress", the men were deluged with books of matches and more than seven thousand jig saw puzzles of the Province of Ontario were distributed to the school children, with a personal visit from the benovelent one. He lost his riding, on election day. Poor fellow will have to spend the rest of his life finding a way to finance his losses, no doubt.

It was a matter of amusement for this writer to listen to the verbal strategy of some of the candidates. The P.C.'s assured their voters that if they voted for the NDP, the rich would be most surely robbed to make the underserving poor, rich. If a vote was cast for the Liberals, it was a sure way to pave a rosy path to Hell, not only that, some of the candidates could be very easily sent to Penitentiary, if the truth were only exposed. We were informed, in an informal gathering that the Leader of the Liberal Opposition, was inadequate as a leader, that Donald MacDonald was a Westerner, who came east, was fired from a News paper job because of his inadequacy and was making a big noise in Ontario at the moment. This writer just sat and listened . . . and took notes. Did you know that if you vote for Robert Stanfield that Canada will be dominated by the East? Did you know that if Pearson gets "IN". The French will over run Canada? Did you know that if MacDonald, makes it, the country will be absolutely and certainly Socialized and Socialism is Communism? Do you know, that according to NDP'er Pierre Burton, that Ontario is a Political Dynasty where the privileged are protected and the Public ignored, that the Government does nothing at all about anything until it is pushed to the wall and then does as little as possible? and yet John Robarts says that 9000 hospital beds have been added to Ontario's hospital Establishment, 150,000 workers have achieved new skills, through the Ontario manpower retaining program, a system of free legal aid has been made available to the needy, 4900 miles of highways have been constructed or rebuilt, motor accident victims get a better deal, there has been immense University Expansion, massive hydro growth and modern reform of Institutions, all in the past four years.

Ah yes, political manoeuvering has its points on interest, if all those self styled "good" candidates had not lost, and all those "bad" candidates had not won, Ontario might have set the trend for the rest of Canada, as it stands now, the Politicians of that Province are no better or no worse than the politicians of Quebec. BUT, when you think of it, "Oh my Country, Oh my God."

F.W.I. Centennial Project Realized

Another Centennial project of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada has now been completed. This is the publication, assisted by a grant from the Centennial Commission, of the book, "A Heritage of Canadian Handicrafts" — the story of the origin and development of the crafts in all provinces of Canada. Publishers were McClelland and Stewart Ltd., Toronto.

Chapters were contributed by writers in each province from research undertaken by FWIC members and edited by Gordon Green, well-known writer, Ormstown, Que., and Contributing Editor to "The Family Herald". Illustrations were carefully selected to reflect the skills found in the various regions of Canada.

In her Foreword, Mrs. J. Philip Matheson, FWIC President for the term 1964-67 when the project was being developed, states: "The Federated Women's Institutes of Canada felt that in no more fitting or lasting manner could it aid in the preservation of a very important aspect of our ten provinces — their crafts and the people who brought them to our shores..... We hope that in so doing we have succeeded, in some measure, in recording the traditions of the past as a recognition of our proud heritage".

There is no doubt that the Women's Institute is responsible to a large extent for the preservation and continuing growth of handicrafts in Canada. "A Heritage of Canadian Handicrafts" is now presented with pride by FWIC, in Canada's Centennial Year, as an addition to Canadiana of information not previously available.

Removing paint splatters from brick often leaves unsightly stains. Cover them with a flat, brick-color paint for the best results. Once the touched-up areas have weathered, they are relatively unnoticeable.

CHURCHILL FALLS A NEW NORTHERN CENTRE OF COMMUNICATIONS

Dufresne-Mannix uses this TWX (teletypewriter exchange) to feed payroll data from its Churchill Falls, Labrador, site office to a Montreal computer. The computer makes its calculations and sends back information for the TWX to print out pay cheques. All the cheques need then is a signature to make them valid.

Modern technology and modern ingenuity are encroaching on yet another of Canada's last frontiers — its immense and immensely wealthy north.

Churchill Falls power project in Western Labrador is a prime example of man's development of the wilderness. By 1972, Churchill Falls power will feed the industrial cities of eastern Canada, and perhaps, of the northeastern United States.

Bell Canada, long a pioneer in the north, designed a communications package specially tailored to the needs of the $800 million power project, and to the rigors of Labrador's climate.

Seven hundred miles northeast of Montreal a thriving community is taking shape around the Churchill Falls power development. Its camp and townsites will support a population of six thousand as construction hits its peak. They will need schools, churches and — telephone service.

Bell's part in the Churchill Falls project is a $2 million investment in the future of the north. It got under way in early June, when a trailer caravan of telephone equipment left Montreal, stopped in Sept. Iles, Quebec, to pick up more equipment, and headed into the Labrador interior. Part of the trip was on road that just months before had been bulldozed out of the bush.

The caravan formed the nucleus of what will eventually be a seven-trailer complex providing automatic dial service to this part of the Canadian north.

Communications were in "go" condition in time for Newfoundland premier Joey Smallwood's sod turning and dedication of the Churchill Falls power project, on July 17.

Facilities include microwave, VHF and HF radio telephone service and a multi-channel mobile radio system. In addition to automatic dial service there are teletypewriter and TWX (teletypewriter exchange) services. TWX has data transmission capabilities.

Dufresne-Mannix, a Churchill Falls sub-contractor, uses TWX to feed payroll lata to a Montreal computer. The computer sends back the information for the on-site TWX to print out pay cheques which lack only signatures to make them cashable.

Bell has an impressive record of service in the north — there are exchanges well inside the Arctic Circle — but its Churchill Falls project will make the hydro-electric site the communications showpiece of the new frontier.

Aubrey-Riverfield

The W.M.S. of Riverfield Presbyterian Church met in the Church Hall, on Monday, October 16th.

The President, Mrs. Wallace Craig was in charge. The meeting opened by singing the hymn "Can a Little Child Like Me".

Mrs. Addie Roy was in charge of the Devotionals. She read the poem "Let us give thanks", followed by Psalm 95 and a prayer of thanksgiving.

Mrs. Metcalfe, born Janet Templeton in the Scotch Concession, Riverfield moved to Calgary following her marriage and was a faithful member of Grace Presbyterian Church until her death in 1966.

She was very active in W.M.S. work and served two terms as President of the Alberta Synodical, as well as President of the Grace Afternoon Auxiliary, Sec'y of the Welcome and Welfare on the Alberta Synodical and was Historian for the Calgary Presbyterial for four years. She also served on the Board of the Y.W.C.A. and was active in the Local Council of Women.

Mrs. Wallace Craig announced that the offering from the Centennial Fellowship Hour held in Howick Elementary amounted to $54.

Mrs. Wm. Brown gave some of the highlights of the Sectional Meeting held at Beauharnois, on Saturday, Sept 30th.

Mrs. Donald Black read an interesting item on Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Margaret Stewart expressed her desire to retire as Treasurer which office she has held for about fifteen years.

Hymn "Sing to the Lord of Harvest" was sung and the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Brown.

The Evening Auxiliary met in the Church Hall, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17th, when ten members answered the Roll Call.

Mrs. Perley Williston and Mrs. Gertrude Craig were in charge of the meeting and followed Programme 6 on Port Work and Immigration.

Mrs. Craig read the article from the Glad Tidings paying a tribute to the late Mrs. Janet Metcalfe of Calgary.

The meeting closed with the Auxiliary Prayer and lunch was served by Mrs. Williston and Mrs. Craig.

Mrs. J. J. Craig has returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr to spend the winter.

Miss Esther Craig who has spent the summer with her mother, returned to Montreal on Sunday to resume her work there.

We are happy to report that Mr. Keith Robb who underwent surgery recently at Royal Victoria Hospital is progressing nicely and is hoping to return home this week. We wish him a speedy return to health.

NEW PROGRAM FOR SCOUT MOVEMENT IN CANADA

Details of a bold new program for the Boy Scout Section of the Scout Movement in Canada were released last week from National Headquarters in Ottawa. News of the new program for the more than 70,000 boys aged 11-14 who make up the Section, comes one year after the launching of Venturers, which gave youth aged 14-17 a distinctive program of their own.

The Boy Scout program is the oldest program of the Scout Movement which today provides for Wolf Cubs, ages 8-10, Boy Scouts, 11-14, Venturers, 14-17 and Rover Scouts, 16-20.

The new program was approved by the National Executive Committee of the Boy Scouts of Canada at their meeting in Winnipeg late last week, and is the result of three years' study by a special subcommittee of volunteer members of the Movement. The new program will go into effect on September 1, 1968 and completely replace the present program by December 1969.

The program represents a dramatic change in thinking within the Movement which this year marks the 60th anniversary of its founding by Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell. The main reasons for the new program are:

1 — Recognition of the importance of a more boy centred program with increased emphasis on fostering small friendship and interest groups;

2 — The launching last year of the Venturer program for boys aged 14-17 which left those of 11-14 with a program designed for 11-17 year-olds.

The present formal leadership structure is to be replaced so that all adults and Scouts are given the opportunity to share in directing the troops and patrols. The new program encourages increased use of specialists, serving part-time, to help train boys in specific activities.

In place of the original badge and grade scheme, where boys were encouraged to earn Scouting recognition in a graded order, is a multiple-stage and greatly expanded scheme wherein boys are relatively free to choose and work towards badges at their own level of competence. A wide range of options and alternatives is provided to encourage boys to shape their own individual programs in line with their needs, interests and capabilities.

In announcing the Executive Committee's approval of the new program, Deputy Chief Scout J. B. Harvey said, "The committee responsible for the study considered very carefully the age range served, including groupings, leadership, badges and awards, and special programs. We believe the program as it has been approved will be welcomed by all concerned within Scouting, young and old alike." D. A. Thompson, Q. C. Winnipeg, President of the Scout national council commented that it was fitting the new program was brought forward during Canada's Centennial and Scouting's Diamond Jubilee.

HELP AND SUPPORT NEEDED FOR YOUNG PEOPLE'S GROUPS

Over the past two weeks the 1st Huntingdon Brownie Troop has been formed. Meetings are Wednesday evenings at the Huntingdon High School. This is a non-sectarian gathering, assisted by the formation of a Group Committee of all parents involved.

In this effort to supply guidance and leadership to young girls of the community, we will at times need the support and encouragement of the public. We hope to have these youngsters make useful handicraft articles offered for sale during the coming year. Also there may be occasional bake sales or other fund raising venture to provide for the purchase of handicraft and other materials necessary to the operation of this group.

In my opinion, Huntingdon has done very well in the field of group youth organizations. I strongly recommend that you, the public, do everything possible to encourage the continuance of all these groups, for the betterment of the community.

You might be interested in knowing that there are about 225 youngsters active in these groups, from Cubs, Scouts, Explorers, Messengers, C.G.I.T. and Brownies.

A number of girls have been asking about Girl Guides. But here we run into a problem. All these organizations are quite short of leadership help. In fact it rather looks as though the C.G.I.T. may not survive unless some ladies are willing to come forward and offer their services for an hour or so a week.

Anyone, man or woman, interested in volunteering this small amount of time to any of these groups could call at 264-2789 and I would be happy to refer them.

Readers in the Ormstown and Valleyfield Area please note that help is also needed in these districts for Guides and Brownies. For Valleyfield, please call Mrs. Seale at 373-1355.

Thank you,
Sincerely,
Margie Caza

Editorial Notes..

Once Again It's Hallowe'en

BEFORE we shall have published the next issue of The Gleaner, that annual ghostly period of Hallowe'en will have come and gone. "Tricks or treats" cry the youngsters when they rap on the door this eerie night. One is confronted with all types of weird costumes and masks. There are tall ones, short ones, fat ones and lean ones, sometimes in groups or perhaps in pairs, all extending their hands or containers for a bribe in the way of candy, apples and so forth to prevent the tricks.

It is an evening for the children and for the most part the various householders are glad to hand out treats. They remember when they expected others to do likewise.

For the past several years Hallowe'en has been strictly for the children who have been satisfied to get their treats and have the fun of going around dressed for the occasion. A number of parties have been held for youngsters and also for the older groups who still like to celebrate on Hallowe'en. Also coming into the picture has been the Pennies for UNICEF campaign which is carried on for the needy children in all parts of the world. Some of the Hallowe'eners have carried cans into which the householder may put a donation. This plan has worked very well; in fact it is now considered the right time for such a campaign which is a regular part of the celebration.

Warnings are continually issued to those who might want to exceed this type of celebration and try tricks instead of treats. We trust that after the lapse of the several years without incidents of a foolish nature that this year will again be a quiet one. Many are the stories of past Hallowe'en celebrations when damage to property and injuries to persons resulted from foolish so-called pranks being done. Such may have seemed quite amusing to those who did them, but they were not funny for those who suffered from them. Fortunately all these pranksters did not get away entirely scot-free. Often they were caught and made to undo, if possible, what had been done and this was not quite so funny.

In many instances so-called jokes were played on some person for a vengeful purpose and such was done in a cowardly manner under the guise of a Hallowe'en trick. There was less chance of being found out and some one else would get the blame.

Originally Hallowe'en, or All-Hallows, or All-Saints Evening was celebrated quite differently than it is today. Hallow is to make holy; to consecrate; to set apart for holy or religious use; to reverence; to honor as sacred. Hallowe'en, the eve or vigil of All Saints Day. Legend has it that the ancient Druids used to go out on this night rattling chains and making various noises to drive away the evil spirits. From this latter the spirit of Hallowe'en has developed to what is done today. Some churches still have special services for All Saints Day.

Thus if we go back and take a look at the origin of this event, we find it is not at all what is carried out now. Certainly no acts of violence were done. Let the children enjoy themselves by getting their treats, let them dress in weird costumes and wear masks, let them collect for UNICEF, — they will do no harm that way. When it comes to tricks, they should be aware that this is wrong and that they could be punished for so doing. This also applies to those in the older groups — go to your parties, enjoy yourselves, but don't go around upsetting other people and letting others take the blame. It has been quiet for several years — let's keep it that way again this year.

The Swimming Pool For Huntingdon

SINCE the news was published that Huntingdon County will have its pool for the spring of 1968, there has been more enthusiasm about the project. It is becoming more realized what it will be possible to do with such a pool in this area.

In shopping around to get prices, the committee has done a good job. A good article has been secured and in addition some extras. Despite the fact that the estimated price has been cut in half, the pool ordered is not a cheap job. It will be well constructed with steel walls and furthermore it is guaranteed for a period of ten years. A company must have very good faith in its product when it will issue a ten-year guarantee. The upkeep after installation each year, will be much smaller than some other pools and this will mean further savings in the years to come. The committee investigated various types of pools, some higher priced, some lower, but felt the one ordered will give Huntingdon something to be proud of.

Meantime, the committee will now cast around for lifeguards, monitors and a caretaker for the operation of the pool. They will also arrange for the buildings and the fence which have still to be considered before the project will be complete. There is also a matter of fees and no doubt in due course family tickets will be offered for sale. It is also intended to give swimming lessons to children and adults who may wish them. A nominal charge will very likely, be made for this service and special times and days will be allotted for the purpose. It is possible that the various schools in the area will want to use the pool for part of their sports activities, no doubt it will be available for this purpose also. It should provide a wonderful opportunity for all young people to learn to swim and to take part in organized swim meets. The pool is of such a size as to be suitable for such events. It is also intended that other swimming events will be staged from time to time to help raise money toward upkeep and so forth.

Once the pool is actually in operation, the people of Huntingdon County are going to find it is really worthwhile and it should be possible to have something going on all the time. There is no doubt it will be in full use during the hot, hot weather when a cooling dip is something that is most refreshing. A picnic area and other facilities on the island will be a further incentive to spend some time there.

The County Civic Centre committee is to be congratulated on having achieved this objective for the people of Huntingdon through the co-operation of those who have made contributions to bring this about. However, the full sum has not yet been raised and contributions are still needed to reach the objective of $30,000. If you have not yet made your contributions, why not do as have so many others and send a donation today. Remember this is Huntingdon County's Centennial project and the people of the county have so far contributed all that has been received without any special grants. Therefore we shall have more to be proud of than most communities.

SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

THE SWEETHEART OF . . .

Some people take a beating and skulk away to lick their wounds. Not me. Like Dief, I believe that, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going."

Just to digress for a moment, didn't you admire the old leader's courage during that convention? Though he was caught in a web of his own creation, he had enough guts to die fighting, politically, rather than find for himself a soft spot to land on his last flight. And the mixed metaphor spotters can go to work on that one.

Back to business. You can't say I'm not game. Two years ago, I launched one member of the family into a university career. He went into orbit, tottered around in the stratosphere, ran out of fuel, fizzled, and sank, though not without a trace.

That was son Hugh. He did pretty well in high school. Scraped through first year college. Changed courses in second year. Lasted till late November. One day, after listening to a particularly putrid lecture — and you have no idea how numerous they are — he turned to a classmate and said, "That's it. I can't take any more," walked out, and hasn't been back since.

After wintering in Mexico and other southern climes (during which he lived on grass for a three-day stretch) he came home for a while, with a busted finger. The pianist. Left in mid-summer, to get a job. A month later we had a card from Cape Cod, where he was about to get a job cutting fish, whatever that is.

Silence. This week we had a letter. He had a job at Ben's Delicatessen in Montreal, hoped to nail down something at Expo, and was planning to enroll at University of Mexico. Some time.

Undaunted I'm about to launch another missile at the university. Kim is too young to go. I wouldn't go back to University if they paid me $100 a day, and there's only one other member of the family.

You're right. The Old Battleaxe is going to hack and hew her way through fourth year Honor English. She hopes.

Why? We marked our 21st anniversary the other day. Or, rather, the day after the other day, because we both forgot. And don't think that won't cost me. You'd think that, like most women, she'd be quite content to keep my nose to the grindstone and enjoy life.

The answers are several. First, she's one of those exasperating people who like to finish something they've begun, even if it's two decades later. Ridiculous, but that's the way she is.

So why didn't she finish her course in the first place? Well, to put it in the vernacular, she got a bun in the oven. The bun turned out to be our first-born. She struggled bravely to carry on at lectures, but decided that the bun, (now spelled bum), was more important than the Romantic Poets and the Modern Novel.

Secondly, the idea has been percolating for several years. She has too much intellectual curiosity to sink into the familiar morass of teas and bridge and curling and gold and gossip.

Thirdly, the kids are out of the shell. The son is a young rooster, the daughter a healthy chick. The days of diapers, bottles, Hallowe'en costumes and helping with homework are over.

And fourth, there's the economic factor. She has listened to me groan and crunch out of bed in the morning. She has taken a long, hard look at the bags under my eyes, the bulge under my belt. She has heard me hacking in the morning, wheezing after one flight of stairs. It's good insurance to have a college degree that will get you a job when Midas kicks the can.

She doesn't know it, but the minute she graduates, I retire.

So, it's Josephine College, off to lectures, full of ideals and worries about the mess she'll come home to every weekend.

There are only a few things that trouble me a trifle. I hope she isn't arrested in one of those student demonstrations. I hope she doesn't fall in love with a freshman. And I hope I can run that blasted washing-machine.

Round Byre and Ring

By FRANK NAPIER

The October 1967 issue of the Holstein-Friesian Journal is one that should certainly be eminently satisfactory to the Publisher and Editor of same. In the first instance because some three quarters of that 148 page issue is comprized of advertising material. The publisher is, of course, Donovan Limited of Toronto. The Editor, Hugh J. Colson, and his staff are certainly to be congratulated on their work in connection with that issue. However, "Hughie J" is an old timer, and has long ranked as one of the most outstanding livestock Editors in Canada or elsewhere.

Despite the large number of Holstein Shows at Provincial Exhibitions, the numerous Holstein Regional and District Black and White Shows, etc., across Canada, the Huntingdon-Ormstown Black and White Show was given considerable mention. Among the many Holstein sales reported the Rivervue Auction Sale was given a two-third of a page spread, including considerable mention of the bloodlines represented therein.

Canadians In Italy

Also in the October issue of The Holstein-Friesian Journal there is an interesting feature article by John E. Powell Chief of Extension, Holstein Friesian Association of Canada, anent the Cremona Fair in Italy. A group of 32 Canadians, headed by Secretary-Manager George M. Clemons of The Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, attended that fair which has been held annually during the past 22 years. In that connection, the report says: "The sheer size of the Cremona show was a revelation to Canadian eyes. In addition to the national classes there were classes for Italian-owned but imported cattle, displays of cattle from other countries offered for sale, and also official displays from other countries. The total runs to something like 1,800 head of Black and Whites. Canadians with cattle in the sale section of the fair (as apart from the official Canadian exhibit) were Hays Farms International and Erik Andersen. Many other Canadian-bred animals were also in the displays of private breeders.

In his report on the Italian-bred section of the show John Powell says, in part: "There was something new this year as Italian breeders for the first time tried the North American system of having a single judge place the classes in the National (Italian-bred) section, making the final standings strictly in accordance with the placings for conformance. Previously the final standing had been based on the production, pedigree background and conformation of the animal, with a panel of three judges making the conformation placings."

Mention is made of the produce or near descendants of quite a considerable number of Canadian-bred sires. For instance John Powell writes: "No overall grand champions were declared but the mature female class carries the greatest prestige. The winner here was Alpi Trecca, sired by a son of Glenafton Celebrity Rosafe."

Other Canadian-bred sires mentioned include Rosafe Saturn Kit (A.B.C. Reflection Soverign-Walhill Kit Inka) as sire of the first and second prize winners in the class for cows, 10 years and over; Lawara Echo Breeze (Seiling Reflection Echo — Sheffield Paulette Breeze) sire of the winner in the class for first calf heifers; International Citation, as sire of the first prize senior yearling heifer, and of the second prize 2 year old bull; Glen Rag Apple Regal as the sire of the first prize 2 year old bull.

The Italian-owned imported cattle were judged on the old basis of conformation, production and pedigree, and so no immediate results were available, wrote Mr. Powell.

International Exhibits

Continuing John Powell's comments about Cremona Fair: "There were official exhibits on hand from Germany, Holland, the U.S.A. and Canada as well as unofficial exhibits from many of the other European countries. The Dutch had 65 bred heifers, the U.S.A. 42 head including cows and heifers and the Canadians 20 bred heifers (In the latter instance, see R.B. & R. Oct. 11 F.N.).

"Of particular interest to the Canadians was the Dutch exhibit", writes Mr. Powell. "While the cattle were by our standards low set, short and rather thick, yet they were a very uniform group. There was no direct competition for the outside cattle, yet each were invited to parade a representative group, with Germany, the U.S.A. and Canada taking advantage of this offer". (After which came details as to the Canadian exhibit, made possible by Canada Department of Trade and Commerce).

"While the Canadian exhibit attracted large numbers of visitors during the fair, yet the highlight was undoubtedly the parade of the cattle", continued Mr. Powell. "'In the stands were the top men from the European Friesian Societies, who had held a meeting to coincide with the Show, and the leading breeders of Italy with visitors from many other countries. It would have been difficult to find a more auspicious time to put our best

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

October 22, 1967.

Editor,
The Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Que.
Sir,

Tooth decay in the children and adults in this region is very prevalent. The fluoridation of drinking water is recognized by authorities as an effective, safe and inexpensive method to increase the resistance of the teeth to decay.

Hence the news that the town of Chateauguay is to have fluoridation of its water is good news. The town council and citizens of Chateauguay are to be congratulated.

Let us hope that the initiative shown will lead to similar action by the other communities in the Chateauguay Valley.

Yours faithfully,
Andrew Kelen, M. D.

The Editor,
Huntingdon Gleaner
Dear Sir:

It has been stated elsewhere — School buses carry our most important cargo." Unanimously we agree, and we are righteously shocked and indignant when we hear of an accident involving a schoolbus.

But — do we believe in the safety of children? It is hard to believe, as a bus operator for the Chateauguay Valley Regional School, travelling to Ormstown, that route 4 is so deadly a highway for school students.

Many approaching drivers pay no attention to the flashing lights, which operate as a warning that student are entering or leaving the bus.

I take my hat off to our U.S.A. car and truck drivers, for obeying laws concerning school buses.

In closing fellow citizens — Are you Guilty?

HUNTINGDON LOCALS

W.C.T.U. MEETING

Huntingdon W.C.T.U. met on Thursday, Oct. 19, at the home of Miss Elsie Elder. Mrs. McCartney presided, and conducted the devotional exercises. An article from the White Ribbon Tidings by Mrs. Pearl Beattie was read and discussed. It told of her visit to the International Women's Conference Day at Expo, when many noted women spoke and gave inspiring addresses. The U.S. Pavilion hostesses presented women visitors with orchids which had been flown in from Hawaii that morning. The theme of the Christian Pavilion is that of recognizing Man as the crowning work of God's creation.

Regret was expressed at the illness of our secretary, Mrs. Emily Surette, who is convalescing in hospital at Ormstown.

The Clip-sheet programme was on, "Lung Cancer and Cigarettes." At the close all enjoyed tea and refreshments served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks of Lake Secor, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quenneville and their son Roy of Brampton, Ont., were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Quenneville.

Dundee

DUNDEE — The October meeting of the Dundee W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. S. Smellie. A plea from the Unitarian Service Committee for warm clothing resulted in the promise that a box would be sent soon from Dundee. $4.00 is to be forwarded to Pennies for Friendship. Mrs. H. Ferguson reported that our resolution concerning no hunting on private property had been sent to the local council but that they had not had much success.

Mrs. Stowell for agriculture reported about the day a few whooping cranes landed in a field in Saskatchewan and of the many visitors who viewed them. Miss T. McMillan for education reported about a 44 letter alphabet to be unveiled here.

Mrs. J. Platt told that vinegar would make suede look like new, that it would unblock a steam iron, and that if onions were cooked in butter and added to dressing moistened with milk that the dressing wouldn't be soggy. Mrs. Stowell reported that a psychologist predicted that some day it will be possible to transfer knowledge and memory from one person's mind to another by brain injections. Mrs. Stowell also demonstrated how to make pretty Christmas bows by winding the ribbon around pegs on a board. Several old-fashioned scrapboks were on display.

Delicious refreshments brought the meeting to a close.

The U.C.W. meeting was held last Wednesday at the Manse. Mrs. Carpentier opened the meeting by reading how an 83-year-old Japanese woman had just been ordained for the ministry, so that there was no excuse for us failing to do our share of Christian work. Mrs. Alma Fraser read about the beginning of French Protestants in Quebec and how their work has succeeded. She read from the book "The Church Grows in Canada".

Mrs. Carpentier said there was to be a Fall Rally of the

MOLSON TO LAUNCH BROOMBALL TOURNAMENT

MONTREAL — Broomball teams throughout the Province will soon be making plans to compete for $9,000. in trophies and prize money in the big new Molson Broomball Tournament.

The tournament largest broomball competition in Quebec, will consist of four regional competitions, beginning December 8, followed by a championship playoff in Montreal March 22, 23 and 24.

Sponsored by Molson's Brewery and Molson distributors in the Province, the tournament is being organized by Claude Genest, Quebec's broomball 'commissioner'. The four regional tournaments will be held at City of Laval (December 8, 9 and 10); Drummondville (January 12, 13 and 14); Chicoutimi (February 16, 17 and 18) and Quebec-Donnacona (March 1, 2 and 3).

A maximum of 48 teams will take part in each regional competition which will begin Friday evening and end Sunday evening. The top twelve teams in each region will divide a total of $1,000. in prizes and trophies and move on to the championship.

A team may register for each of the regional tournaments but can qualify only once for the playoff Festival next March. A team will be, however, eligible for prizes in each of the tournaments it enters.

When a team has already won a place in the playoffs and finishes among the first twelve in another regional tournament, it must give way to another team which has not already qualified.

The registration fee for each team is $20.00 which should be sent to the organizer, Claude Genest, 119 Brien Street, Laval-des-Rapides, City of Laval.

Canadian Plowing Champs Win Trip

Barrie, Ontario. — Grant Wells, a Stouffville Ontario, Dairy Farmer is the new Canadian Plowing Champion. He won the honour, and the accompanying Esso Silver Plow Trophy in the Annual Championship Contest held this year on the Cochrane Farm, just south of Barrie.

Thirteen contestants, representing seven provinces from British Columbia to Prince Edward Island, competed in the event. Yvon Belisle, St. Eustache, Que., won the reserve championship. The plowmen from across Canada each earned the right to compete in this championship event by their top standings in their respective Province Championship contest in 1966.

In announcing the winners, E.P. Hudek, Winnipeg, President of the Canadian Plowing Council, also announced that Wells and Belisle will represent Canada at the 15th World Championship Plowing Contest to be held at Salisbury Rhodesia, April 27-28, 1968.

They will travel to Rhodesia on the Esso Travel Award, which is administered by the Canadian Plowing Council.

The Canadian Plowing Championship Contest rotates each year among the participating provinces, and is held in conjunctioin with the province championship competition in the host province. This year it was held at the big 4-day Ontario Match at Barrie. In 1966, the location was Chilliwack, B.C. and it is expected the 1968 event will be near Montreal.

This year's winner, 38 year old Grant Wells, maintains a herd of 50 Pure Bred Holstein-Friesian Cattle on his farm at Stouffville. Known in his community as a top notch farmer, he has consistently been near the top in Plowing Competitions for many years, but this is his first win of the Canadian Championship.

He represented Canada in the World Plowing Championship Contest at Caledon, Ontario in 1963.

Yvon Belisle, the reserve Champion, is a 25-year-old dairyman from the excellent farming area just north of Montreal. He was closely followed in 3rd. place by his team mate Ange Aime Leduc, of St. Clet, Quebec.

Complete standings in the competition are as follows:—

1. Grant Wells — Ontario
2. Yvon Belisle — Quebec
3. Ange Leduc — Quebec
4. C. H. Hayton — British Columbia
5. W. R. Macinnis — Prince Edward Island
6. J.J. Andrews — British Columbia
7. G. Dixon — Ontario
8. E. R. Demman — Manitoba
9. J. Bonnar — Manitoba
10. B. Wilson — Prince Edward Island
11. D. Gray — New Brunswick
12. G. Gray — New Brunswick
13. A. Oranchuk — Saskatchewan

Howick

The weather cleared before evening on Saturday, October 21st., and a crowd of 560 or more enjoyed the Turkey Supper at the United Church.

Miss Isabel Frith had decorated the chancel, window sills of the Church with marigolds, berries, greens and gourds; the supper tables with autumn flowers and rosy apples. The Church hall presented an attractive and bright appearance for the sumptous meal that was served.

Mrs. Kenneth Lamb and Mrs. Donald Chisholm worked together as conveners and did an excellent job. As usual there were little changes here and there that improved the system and everyone enjoyed working together at this joyous annual event.

The work areas are scattered around the church hall, pies one place, salads another, turkey, tea and coffee in others. But when you hear laughter and joking in a small kitchen where 12 or more women are preparing the plates and keeping ready a clean supply of dishes and cutlery — it is a joyous event. Everyone is tired, but happy to be working togeher in well-organized harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. Snaith, guests from Ormstown's twin, MacGregor, Manitoba, were there with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hooker of Ormstown. They were enjoying their visit in Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Alstine Rorison, Rutland, Vermont, are visiting Miss Jean Lang and other relatives.

"Amongst the Canadians at the fair was a group of master showmen and these volunteered to act as leadsmen for the Canadian Cattle. (Twelve head were shown by Frank Meisner, Roy Ormiston, Paul Jensen, R. J. Stewart, Jack Fraser, Bob Brown, Bob Shore, Hugh Ormiston, Jim Carney, and Charlie Cerswell). All were dressed in white and wore a numbered head band in the best Canadian showring tradition. Dick Biggs, dressed in a white stocksman's coat was a most impressive parade marshal, and Ugo Boschette, from the Canadian Consulate at Milan, delivered an excellent commentary on the cattle. The cattle were paraded in masterly style and received an ovation at the conclusion".

An Average of $2,160.

"Following the Fair", reports Mr. Powell, "the (20) Canadian heifers were sold at private treaty bringing the excellent average of $2,160 each. Eleven went to Pier F. Talenti of Rome; four to Dr. Riccardo Dalla Favera of Cremona; two to Attillo Ladina & Son of Cremona; one each to Azienda Agricola Seminario, Bergamo and Carlo Conforti, Salerno. One was the gift of S. B. Roman of Romandale Farms to the Pope."

Mr. Powell also gives an interesting report of the visits subsequently made by the Canadian group to a number of Italian Friesian herds. However, space does not permit a digest of that story.

Buffalo for Game Club.

We tuned in on the Radio the other day in the middle of a report anent the purchase of three Buffalo bulls and some 20 Buffalo females by Clear Brook Farm. We therefore naturally wondered whether Allan H. Wilson (Mayor of Hinchinbrooke) of Clear Brook Farm, Franklin Centre, (home of the long established outstanding Clear Brook Ayrshire herd) was the purchaser. However, it would now appear that the Clear Brook Game Club Inc., is the purchaser, but so far we are not aware whether the said Buffalo herd is en route to or now located on the former Moneypenny farm.

Several visitors were present and several items were sold such as aprons and handkerchiefs, suitable for Christmas gifts. Dessert was served by the hostess as members arrived for the meeting.

Chateauguay Minor Hockey Reorganized

A sweeping change has been planned for minor hockey in the Chateauguay Valley. The Valley has been designated one of ten zones within the Province of Quebec under the Quebec Minor Hockey Association.

Formation of the new grouping is in its preliminary stages. Depending on the response from other localities in the Valley, it is foreseen that house league play in the various areas will continue as in former years. There will be a playoff series between the winning teams of the areas and the Valley Champions, in all grades from mosquitoes and up will compete with other zonal champions from the City of Montreal and elsewhere in the Province.

There will be basically three layers of play. The top grade will be designated A.A., and will comprise the inter-city teams. Next senior will be the A Class, for which 50% of organized games will be played on indoor ice. Any team with less than 50% on arena ice will automatically be classified as B.

The Town of Chateauguay Centre has already booked University of Montreal indoor ice, and it is foreseen that most of the Chateauguay hockey will be of the single A category.

Double A teams would normally compete with other clubs in the Valley Zone, but in the event that insufficient competition would be available within the zone, permission would be granted the Double A's to participate in other neighbouring zones.

Further particulars will be made available shortly, and will be published in the Gleaner.

Results of elections held recently by the Chateauguay Minor Hockey League were as follows: — President, Mr. H. R. Hill; Vice-President, Messrs. P. Daze, D. McAllindon and T. Leblanc; Treasurer, Mr. H. Kelly; Chief Referee, Mr. P. Laxton; Assistant Chief Refere, Mr. E. Montpetit.

SPECIAL INVITATION TO VISIT CULTURAL CENTRE

For five nights beginning Monday, October 23rd to Friday, October 27th, all residents of the Greater Chateauguay area are invited to inspect the Georges P. Vanier Cultural Centre. The building is located on Maple Avenue near d'Anjou Boulevard. There will be interesting exhibits and historical displays along with many recently aquired books for the new civic library. This is an opportunity for everyone to visit the first public building built in Chateauguay to serve the cultural needs of the community.

The basic concept of this Centre will be seen in the cultural facilities that support and complement each other. They were designed to provide an attractive environment where people will be encouraged to meet and mix in an atmosphere of sociability. The Georges P. Vanier Cultural Centre is an architectural achievement in a planned setting that will add quality to the community. Make it a must — visit with your relatives and friends, look around and become familiar with the one building that will reflect our way of life.

Robert Jobber Home And School Assoc. Established

An Association for Home and School was established last week in the newly built Robert Jobber Elementary School in Seigniory Park.

A brief business session was held previous to a short talk by Mrs. B. Fraser on "Why Home and School".

Elections were then held with Mrs. J. Ingram, President of Centennial Park School in the chair. No one was elected to the office of President at this time, however Mrs. E. Sandford of Woodbine Ave., has consented to run at the next general meeting to be held in November.

List of officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Still open for additional Nominations; 1st. Vice President and Program, Mrs. M. Klikar, Colonia Ave.; 2nd. Vice President and Membership, Mrs. Barnett, Lucerne Ave.; Secretary, Mrs. V. Doolan, Dunver' Road; Treasurer, Mr. H. Campbell, Spruce St.; Parent-Teacher Rep., Mrs. Herder, Lockhart Street; Refreshments, Mrs. Kemp and Mrs. Bouchard, Cardinal Street; School Board Rep., Mr. J. Darker, Duquette Street; Publicity, Mrs. P. Salo, St. Charles Street.

Following the election, a presentation of gifts from Maple Home and School Association was given.

A "meet the teacher" followed and refreshments served.

This is your last week to see the pavilions you missed at Expo and if you do plan on attending this week don't forget the Canadian Pavilions. They are well worth seeing and especially Man and the Polar Regions which we saw on Friday. It was a very impressive film and the entire theatre rotates as the film is being shown. Whatever you do plan on seeing, we hope you all enjoy this your last week of Expo, and if you weren't lucky enough to see the Labyrinth don't be too disappointed for they say it will be one of the pavilions that will remain open after Expo closes so you will still have a chance to see it.

Special meeting on Tuesday morning, 10 o'clock, November 7th — for all those mothers who have Brownies or Guides who want to join the movement. This meeting is especially for you so please plan to attend. The meeting will take place at 99 Ethier Street in Chateauguay Centre and if you can't locate Ethier just give me a call at 692-9272 and I will give you directions. A very happy birthday to Christopher Viereck of St. Andre St. who will be celebrating his 10th birthday on October 27th. Best wishes from your pals Ricky and Michael.

Also to Sandra Cunningham of St. Maurice St. a very happy birthday for you Sandra on October 27th. Best wishes from your Mom and Dad.

Mrs G. McIntosh and her sister Mrs. Betty Rivest left on Monday morning for Liverpool, Nova Scotia, to visit with their Mother, Mrs. Trim who is very ill. We wish Mrs. Trim a speedy recovery.

FAREWELL HOOLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kavannagh of Ethier Street held a farewell Hooley on Tuesday evening, October 17th, in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Andy O'Neill and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy O'Neill from Dublin, Ireland, who were visiting the Kavannaghs for the last three weeks. Mrs. Kavannagh had not seen her sisters Dina and Kathleen for ten years so it was a wonderful reunion and a grand three weeks — but as all good things must come to an end so did their visit. Tom and Maggie tried in those three weeks to show them all they could of Canada and they visited Niagara Falls, Toronto, and many other points of interest and of course their unforgettable visits to Expo which they thoroughly enjoyed.

Sure and I was honoured to have been invited to the farewell party for the Irish folk and what a grand way the Irish have of making one feel welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burns from County Cork were also present as they too had come to Canada to visit their son Garry and his wife Kathleen, who live in LaSalle. Mr. and Mrs. Des Harwood and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Geary and Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Graham were also present. Sammy brought along his tape recorder and all the folks at the party sent greetings to Dublin via the tape. And of course the Irish Reels were danced and what a thrill to watch the folks dancing these and the old favorite Irish tunes were sung by all. Mr. Andy O'Neill told me that he had known Brendan Beehan, the Irish Playwright and that he had been in the scouts with him and knew his family whom he still sees from time to time in Dublin. We hope the O'Neills enjoyed their trip to Canada and that they will return again soon.

PAINTING GEN. VANIER FOR CULTURAL CENTRE

The Centennial Committee is pleased to announce the donation of a painting, especially commissioned by Mr. Pat Wilkins of Chateauguay.

The portrait of the late Governor-General Georges P. Vanier will hang in the main lobby of the Cultural Centre, named after His Excellency.

The work was executed by Mr. Edgar Denuit of Montreal, and will be unveiled during the official opening on Saturday afternoon, October 28th.

The artist holds a number of awards for portraiture and landscape painting. His skill with the brush and palette combined with an exactitude in application, ranks Mr. Denuit's works among Canada's best.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB HONORS CHATEAUGUAY CENTRE

The Quebec Automobile Club recently awarded a special citation and a commemorative plaque to Chateauguay Centre in recognition of five consecutive years without a fatal accident to a pedestrian.

This recognition of Chateauguay Centre's campaign for public safety follows a special investigation by the Automobile Club of statistics from the past eight years.

The Automobile Club has given to the Centre authorities all details of its analytical study.

CENTENNIAL "SALUTE TO YOUTH PARADE" NOV. 1st

Wednesday night, November 1st. from seven-thirty to eight-thirty p.m. will se the largest gathering of Brownies, Cubs, Guides and Scouts in the history of Chateauguay.

Every unit in the area will be taking part in a colourful Centennial "Salute to Youth" parade on the Chateauguay Regional Shopping Plaza, opposite the Confederation-Caravan.

Please put a circle around the date on your calendar, for rain or shine this precedent setting demonstration will be held.

For the parents, it will be an opportunity to visit the Caravan while watching Canada's proud hope for the future pass in review.

This will be a highlight event in the Centennial activities programme, planned by the Chateauguay Centennial Committee in co-operation with the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts of Greater Chateauguay.

Gould of Montmorency told me the story of Fire Prevention Week in Seigniory Park. City Hall had paraded itself in all its glory around the Town, including a whirl around Seigniory Park, Mayor Laberge, the Aldermen, the Fire Chief, the firemen, the garbage men and the dog-catcher, they were all there. Winding up the procession was our milkman, in his sparkling white chariot — how did he get there? .... Garbage collection was reduced to one pick-up per week for the duration of the winter.

RAMBLERS SWAMP HAWKS

In the final game of the regular schedule, Chateauguay Ramblers last week-end were all over Hawkesbury Hawks, and ran out easy winners by 34 points to 0. The game was for four points, as a previous Hawks - Ramblers encounter bad to be postponed because of a combination of unplayable ground and unavailability of Hawks players. The Conference ruled that, as it was impractical to replay the game, the final match should be for four points — four for a win or two each for a draw.

The Rambler's superiority was slow in emerging, and only one point in the first quarter and a converted touch down by full-back Milt Green were scored in the first half. Milt was still suffering from bruised ribs sustained in Ramblers' previous game two weeks ago. His appearance against the Hawks was in doubt up to the last minute, when the club doctor gave reluctant consent for Green to play.

In the second half, Milt Green scored again, on a 22 yard run around the end, and Russ Weir scored on a spectacular 50 yard pass and run play. The pass was from quarterback Paul Riccardi.

In the best play of the game Ted Bonneville scored on a 20 yard pass, and the same combination ended the scoring on a 12 yard run. Conversions were by J. Kasmerchuk.

The Lions thus have an unprecedented total victory regular schedule. Now what coach could not be pleased with such an outstanding record? Ramblers Coach Tom Campbell is that man. Last weekend Campbell blasted his victorious Ramblers as a bunch of complacent, lazy swelled—head incompetents. "They have let me down," said Campbell, believe it or not." They seem to think that because they had a few lucky breaks this season, they can cut out practice games." The Coach has a point there. In next Sunday's sudden-death playoff game against Montreal North Bears, the season's supremacy could well disappear. Bears are a strong team, and are smarting under the Ramblers' success story. Most games between Bears and Ramblers have been evenly-fought affairs, and, let us face it, Ramblers, although they are a good team, have had all the breaks. Perhaps they have been just too successful for their own good.

Winners of the playoff with Bears will go on to play the Northern Ontario Senior Conference champions. This contest will be on neutral territory — Loyola Park in Montreal.

At the close of the Ramblers-Bears game, League President Alex McPhail presented the Dow Trophy to League Champions Ramblers.

MAYOR SUTTERLIN HAILS CENTENNIAL

Chateauguay Centre Mayor Richard Sutterlin last weekend issued a proclamation calling on the citizens of Greater Chateauguay to rejoice in the hundredth birthday of Confederation. Mr. Sutterlin called the week-long Centennial celebrations "our community's tribute to good fortune and a salute to the next century.

Special events have been planned for the week, most of them with a Centennial flavour.

Appropriately, the new civic building for cultural activities, the Georges P. Vanier Cultural Centre, will be officially opened on Saturday afternoon, October 28th at 2.30 p.m. There will be performances in the Centre every evening until the Confederation Caravan arrives at the Shopping Plaza on November 1st. The Caravan will be open for three days, from 9:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. Four months ago Secretary of State Miss Judy LaMarsh extended the scheduled run of the Caravan in order to schedule an appearance in Greater Chateauguay, which had unaccountedly been forgotten in the original schedule. The Chateauguay Centennial Committee were prompt to correct this oversight.

The Caravan will also be open to the public at two performances in the Cultural Centre on Saturday and Sunday nights, November 4th and 5th.

Mr. Sutterlin asked the citizens of Chateauguay to put aside politics in a sensitive time in our community and called on Chateauguay to "show pride in our town, province and nation."

spoiled an otherwise first-class performance of their duties by failing to make any movement at all towards finding their successors. No one yet has done more than President Warren Hart during his term of office, and it is unfortunate that he should have shown such a deplorable lack of responsibility right at the end of his year of office. Ron Hollingworth now has the task of finding volunteers for the other six vacant places on the executive.

If the Home Owners Association is to come to an untimely end, we will all be the poorer for it. Who will look after our interests at Town Hall? Who will organize sports for the youngsters? Who will organize the outing to the Santa Claus Parade? Will there be no more community dance-parties? The annual sleigh ride? No doubt all these functions will be performed even without a Home Owners Association, but how much easier and more efficient it would be under an active Home Owners Association

John Diefenbaker To Open Cultural Centre Next Weekend

The Chateauguay Centennial Committee announced last week-end that the Rt. Hon. John G. Diefenbaker will officially open the Georges P. Vanier Cultural Centre on Saturday, October 28th at 2.30 p.m. The Cultural Centre is located on Maple Avenue near d'Anjou Boulevard in the heart of Greater Chateauguay.

Mr. Diefenbaker, Prime Minister of Canada from 1957 to 1963 recommended to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the appointment of Gen. Vanier for the office of Governor General, and it is fitting that he now comes to Chateauguay to pay tribute to the memory of General Vanier.

SEIGNIORY PARK HOME OWNERS FIASCO

The annual election meeting of the Seigniory Park Home Owners Association was held last week at the Seigniory Park Clubhouse.

On the invitation of outgoing President Warren Hart, Mr. Robert Jennings, Club Manager, was present to answer questions relating to Association plans to bid for ownership of the Seigniory Park pool and its surrounding amenities.

Mr. Jennings made clear at the outset that the Club was not making an offer to sell. "Naturally," said Mr. Jennings, "we are prepared to listen to any offer."

President Hart explained to the meeting of some thirty members that he wished to place the possibility of purchasing club premises before the Association. If sufficient support from Association membership was forthcoming, it might be that the Association could acquire and run the swimming pool, as many other local homeowners groups had done in recent years.

If 1000 families in Seigniory Park and the surrounding area could agree to purchase the club, it was possible that annual fees could be reduced by 50%. Mr. Hart suggested that the incoming executive make arrangements to poll the area to determine if sufficient numbers were interested.

The election of office-bearers for the coming year was attempted, but had to be abandoned when only one member volunteered to accept office.

Mr. Ron Hollingworth was elected Vice-President. Retiring directors remain in office until their successors are elected.

So what now, Seigniory Park Home Owners Association?

Current Events

The annual election meeting of the Home Owners Association was held last Wednesday. I doubt very much if I would have consented to act as Election Chairman if I had suspected that the outgoing executive had taken literally no steps to find people willing to serve on the executive for the coming year. They apparently felt that they should not be required to solicit help, and that volunteers SHOULD have come forward on their own volition. How naive can they be? Which one of them accepted office without a little preliminary lobbying? I was most embarrassed to find that only one member volunteered for service this coming year — Ron Hollingworth, who promptly found himself elected Vice-President for the coming year. It is quite inconceivable to me to think that any executive of seven people could be expected to materialize without some advance effort. No association like ours can hope to survive without a nominating chairman and committee. In my opinion, the outgoing executive have

MONTREAL — MILITIAMEN RETURN TO CANADA — 265 militiamen arrived at Montreal Airport over the past two days after completing two months of successful training with units of 4 Canadian Infantry Brigage Group in West Germany. Here we see: Colonel J. A. Berthiaume, Commander Western Quebec District, extending a welcome to Major L. F. McInnis, of Chateauguay Heights, Que., the senior Militia officer who accompanied the group. The militiamen were selected from 900 volunteers across Canada and were flown to Germany in mid-August for familiarization training on equipment used by Canada's NATO land force in Europe after which they were fully integrated into Armoured Infantry and service elements of the Brigade. The Militia personnel also participated in a divisional exercise involving 20,000 troops over a wide area of North Rhine-Westphalia.

✔ Mentioned in this column somewhere around the end of September was an item concerning tenders for live buffalo. By some odd coincidence we hear that a herd of these buffalo is to be established in the Ormstown area; "where the deer and the buffalo roam," tra-la-la.

✔ The only item from the Centre this week is of course the nominations for Mayor and Aldermen for Wards 1 - 2 and 6. If it is found necessary to hold an election, the date will be November 6th; the times and places to be announced in The Gleaner probably in next week's issue.

✔ John Diefenbaker is to officiate at the opening of the Cultural Centre on Maple Ave., next Saturday afternoon, October 28th.

✔ The latest population figure for the Centre is 15,875 individuals. According to the books of authority on this subject a city may be established with a population of 6,000. We presume the Centre will one day become a city.

✔ Town of Chateauguay Police report four accidents during the past week. Three were of a minor nature, while the fourth, which took place last Sunday evening at 11:18 p.m. caused one man to be taken to hospital. The accident occurred opposite 22 Dupont St., in the Basin, when a car struck a parked truck. The driver was unhurt but his passenger, Percy Goodleaf was removed to Lasalle General Hospital with cuts about the face. Both men reside in Caughnawaga.

✔ This reporter was surprised to see a handsome portable TV set in the Town Police Chief's office last Monday morning. On enquiring whether this was "to while away the hours," this writer was told that it was one of a number of stolen articles recovered over the past week-end.

✔ The TV set was stolen from Laberge Apts on Mercier during September, along with a radio, bedding and other articles from a resident of the building. Two brothers from the St. Henri district of Montreal have been apprehended for the burglary, and one has appeared in Valleyfield court. He has pleaded guilty and was remanded until November 17th for sentence.

✔ The other brother is a juvenile and is being dealt with in the Social Welfare Court. The brothers have charges against them in Longueuil, Lasalle, Lachine and Dorval. They specialized in robbing apartment houses apparently. Not all of their loot has been recovered, but police are still investigating.

✔ Mrs. Giselle Lalumière is back on the job at the Town Hall after a vacation.

✔ Tenders were opened by the Council last night, in the Town of Chateauguay, for the coming winter's snow removal. Terms were for either one year or for three. More details will be available in next week's issue of The Gleaner.

A Good Reason For Helping By Buying

The Chateauguay Centennial Committee believes that in helping others, we help ourselves. It was for this reason the following institution will benefit by a unique source of revenue.

The Montreal Children's Hospital is a general pediatric hospital for children from newborn to 16 years old. It has 349 beds and last year admitted more than 9,000 inpatients. Its Out-Patient Department is one of the biggest in North America dedicated solely to children. In 1966, this Department recorded about 150,000 visits including more than 30,000 emergencies.

The Montreal Children's Hospital is internationally known for its high standards of teaching, research, patient-care and preventive medicine. It is a McGill teaching hospital and trains undergraduate and postgraduate doctors and nurses in the specialized field of child-care. It is also a well-known centre of medical research into the diseases of children. In the fields of public health and service to the community, it serves Canada and the citizens of tomorrow.

In medical and surgical care and treatment, it receives each and every child in need of its specialized skills regardless of race, creed, tongue or ability to pay. About 65% of the out-patients are French-speaking.

The Assistant Physician-in-Chief, Dr. Ronald L. Denton, B. Sc., M.D., C.M., F.R.C.P. (C) is also Director of the Hematology Department and Blood Bank. These two departments function as one unit with close relationships maintained between laboratory diagnostic services and clinical patient care. Professional staff in this hospital area consists of three Pediatric Hematologists, two Research Fellows and one Senior Assistant Resident as well as technical and laboratory staff. In 1966 Hematology performed 72,170 blood tests for in-patients and 28,368 out-patients. The Department looks after about 65 young hemophiliacs a year, these averaging between 3 and 5 hospital admissions each, as well as children suffering from Leukemia and malignant tumors. Another facet of the work of Hematology is the care of RH babies and about 100 exchange-transfusions for these newborns are given annually. Hematology and the Blood Bank provided 7,452 cross-matched blood transfusions in 1966, for The Montreal Children's Hospital and patients who underwent surgery (Open Heart Surgery alone requires 8 to 12 pints of blood) or suffered from a variety of diseases.

The Department is also carrying on extensive research in leukemia and allied blood diseases in conjunction with the National Institute of Health in Washington, D.C., and other large North American centres. Because of the latter fact, the Chateauguay Centennial Committee has undertaken the project of assisting the Hospital by giving the proceeds from the sale of the Official Souvenir Booklet to the Montreal Children's Hospital Cancer Fund.

COME TO THE FAIR

WHERE, OH WHERE, DID THOSE SIX MONTHS GO?

(By Russ Faughnan)

It's been a big week for this reporter as I tried to get in everything I missed. In the words of the bard, I've got me a list so that none of them be missed.

Thanks to a special pass arranged through the influence of The Gleaner, I have pushed through Russia, Czechoslovakia, Fine Arts Exhibit, Kodak and a repeat of The Telephone Pavilion. All these in a couple of days and in addition to a number of minor pavilions such as an interesting Ethiopia and a quick trip through Monaco where all they show are home movies of Grace and the kids. In these last few days, you will have to choose your spots.

The Fine Arts Pavilion is certainly worth the line-up. Even an artistic dum-dum like this writer can appreciate this tremendous collection. The best of the world is here. No big group from any one artist or even any one style. Just one or two, only the very best, of many. There has never been an exhibit like it, not even in the top museums of the world.

Russia is as the critics say, a crowded pavilion. They are mainly concerned with showing the world their industrial progress. Perhaps their pride is justified when you consider that such progress has been made in only 50 years. In any event, we can enjoy their display if only for the detail, size and perfection of the many working models. I suppose the whole thing can be summed up in one word. Work. Actually, the pavilion people are under the impression that they are presenting a true picture of Russia today. We taped a lengthy interview with a Senior Staff member and will report on this interesting talk in a later issue.

Czechoslovakia should be called the pavillion of glass. More than half of the area is devoted to the works of their famous glass artists. Some of the items are really beautiful but in total, a bit much. They have one fantastic section titled Children's World. Here is a panorama of fairy tale figures, carved in wood on a 40 ft. working model. There is also a film which is shown on several hundred moveable blocks. Most unusual but not specacular.

In these last few days the crowds will not give you much of a chance to get inside anywhere. We suggest a last look at the Canadian pavilion, where you can climb the Katimavik and see the whole fair. You can also go to the rear of Canada and see the ice-breaker in action. The general area itself is certainly one of the most beautiful parts of these lovely islands.

With your help, 50 million is ours.

Julius Richardson Home And School Elects Officers

At the recent regular meeting of the J.R.S. Home and School Association, the election of officers for the coming year took place.

The following is the new executive: President, Mr. A. B. MacMillan; 1st. Vice President, Mr. A. Soar; 2nd. Vice President, Mrs. D. Stahl; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. Seigniory Park weeks ago, and is now showing a green sheen, clearly visible from the roadway.

Last December, when I was in Montreal General Hospital for surgery, some kind friends from the office sent me a beautiful pot of poinsettia, or what in Canada we call the Christmas plant. It remained a joy to the eyes for many weeks until, having lost its bloom, it was consigned to the basement. There it remained without light or water until last week when we rediscovered the relic, and would you believe it, there are signs of a new sprout of leaves. So we have re-potted it and are hoping for the best. The poinsettia in its natural habitat is the hardiest of plants. In my postwar garden in Jamaica, many times, I used poinsettia branches as stakes for my tomatoes. Many times the tomatoes perished during the restricted watering period — far more severe than we ever suffer here — but the poinsettia stakes flourished abundantly. O dear — these passing years — that was just twenty years ago!

1 The Lord is my Shepherd, there is nothing that I lack;
In fresh green pastures he lets me lie;
He leads me to a watercourse where I may rest,
And he restores my soul.

4 Indeed his grace and kindness will follow me
Through all the days of my life;
And shall live in the house of the Lord
For many years to come.

5 Give glory to the Father and the Son,
Give glory to the Holy Spirit;
As in the beginning, so now, and evermore
Throughout eternity.

The Lord is my Shepherd, and nothing do I want.

ICI ET LA dans la ville

A l'émission l'Homme du jour

Les auditeurs de CFLV, Valleyfield pourront entendre M. Gaétan Rousselle, membre du Comité du Centre Civique de Huntingdon qui sera interviewé pendant ce programme jeudi, soit demain, à 12:20 p.m. Sans doute M. Rousselle aura des choses intéressantes à dire se rapportant au projet du Centenaire de notre ville.

Hallowe'en

Mardi prochain, vous aurez sans doute la visite de pirates, bouffons, fantômes, etc. Sous ces masques se cacheront les jeunes qui ont beaucoup de plaisir ce soir-là. Il suffit de peu qu'ils sachent que vous les aimez; un accueil amical, quelques friandises et vous vous ferez beaucoup d'amis. Ceci vous rappellera sans doute votre jeunesse.

Parmi ceux qui sonneront à votre porte, peut-être y en aura-t-il qui vous présenteront la tirelire de l'UNICEF. Cette oeuvre universelle pour venir en aide aux enfants nécessiteux de tous les peuples fait beaucoup pour soulager la misère qui sévit dans plusieurs pays. Les quelques sous que vous donnerez contribueront à leur procurer de la nourriture et des vêtements; aussi des soins médicaux.

Heure solaire

Samedi soir, à minuit n'oubliez pas de reculer les aiguilles de vos montres, horloges. Par tout le pays on retourne à l'heure solaire.

Plaques 1968

Les plaques d'immatriculation 1968 seront en vente dès le 1er décembre. Pour marquer le 20e anniversaire de l'adoption du drapeau fleurdelysé comme emblème de la province, les lettres et chiffres seront blancs sur fond bleu.

Notes sociales

Meilleurs voeux à M. et Mme Charles Sénécal de Warner, N.Y. qui célébraient lundi, 23 octobre, leur vingtième anniversaire de mariage.

$10,250 pour 25 bisons

En vertu d'une décision du Département du Développement à Ottawa, la ferme Clearbrook, mieux connue sous l'appellation de "Clearbrook Game Club" à Ormstown, deviendra d'ici peu un ranch d'élevage pour les bisons. Celui-ci sera le premier du genre au pays en 1967. Trois bisons mâles et vingt-deux femelles seront bientôt expédiés d'Alberta à Ormstown, moyennant la somme de $10,250 que versera l'organisation.

Accident mortel à St-Chrysostôme

Une adolescente a perdu la vie en fin de semaine dans une collision survenue sur le chemin de St-Chrysostôme, près de cette localité. Mlle Monique Primeau, 20 ans, de Ste-Clothilde de Châteauguay a été tuée lorsque le véhicule dans lequel elle voyageait est entré en collision avec une autre voiture. Son compagnon, dont on n'a pas divulgué l'identité, a été blessé. La Sûreté Provinciale de Ste-Martine a effectué les constatations d'usage.

Meilleurs souhaits de bonne fête à Mme Bernard Lebire (Helen Collum) à l'occasion de son anniversaire de naissance le 26 octobre.

Lettre à l'éditeur

Le 19 octobre 1967

Cher monsieur,

Il a été écrit "Les autobus scolaires transportent notre plus important cargo." Nous sommes d'accord à l'unanimité et sommes justement indignés quand nous apprenons qu'un accident impliquant l'un d'eux est rapporté.

Mais — croyons-nous à la sécurité des enfants? C'est difficile à croire pour un chauffeur d'autobus scolaire pour la Régionale de la Vallée de Châteauguay qui conduit les écoliers à Ormstown, car la Route 4 est un réel danger pour les étudiants.

Beaucoup d'automobilistes ignorent les signaux clignotants qui indiquent que des écoliers montent ou descendent de l'autobus.

Je félicite les automobilistes et les chauffeurs de camions des E.U. qui observent les lois concernant les autobus scolaires.

En terminant, je vous demande, êtes-vous coupable?

Leslie Orr

Souhaits d'amélioration continue à Jacques Soucisse qui est maintenant hors de danger, mais qui devra subir quelques opérations.

Les radiologistes ayant repris leur travail, plusieurs personnes de notre ville pourront continuer à se faire traiter après avoir passé des examens par ces spécialistes. De ce nombre, Bernard Lefebvre qui est retourné à l'hôpital Général de Montréal pour une intervention chirurgicale. Prompt rétablissement.

Music Examinations Results

Five Hemmingford music students have received their certificate for examinations successfully passed earlier this year.

Nancy Somerville and Helen (Nell) Woolley passed with honours the Grade 1. practical examination in piano playing of the Royal Conservatory of Music of the University of Toronto.

Sharon Somerville, Margaret (Meg) Woolley and Ian Blair passed the Grade 3 examination in piano playing, all three students gaining honours.

In July 1966 the Conservatory revised all examination work from Grades I to VI demanding a much higher standard particularly in Technical exercises which includes scales, studies, ear tests, sight reading and rhythm.

Their teacher, Mrs. L'Espérance, is particularly pleased with the excellent results obtained by these students as the music examinations coincide with final school examinations and a study of the marks obtained by these young people in their school finals shows the same serious application to this work also.

OBITUARY

The Late
Mr. Edward D. Armour

In the early hours of Wednesday, October 5th, Mr. Edward D. Armour, a senior member of our community, passed away. Mr. Armour was born at Allan's Corners on May 7th, 1886, one of the family of 4 sons and 4 daughters born to the late John Armour and Mary Morrison. At 18 he joined the Bell Telephone Company and worked in the Engineering department in Montreal for 51 years and 2 months. He married Mina Corlett of Montreal and had one son, Bruce. On October 10th, 1942, his first wife having passed away some years before, Mr. Armour married Miss Mabel Wood of Montreal and it was to celebrate the silver anniversary of their marriage that a quiet family party was being arranged; to everyone's sorrow Mr. Armour suffered a coronary thrombosis and passed away just 5 days before the anniversary.

On his retirement, 12 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Armour came to live in Hemmingford building a house on Rte. 52 near their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Armour. Here Mr. Armour busied himself with house and garden, making the grounds very attractive with shrubs and flowers and Mrs. Armour was usually first with her news of dadfodils and tulips sturdily forcing their way up in very early Spring, braving the last of the winter's snow.

While living in Montreal Mr. and Mrs. Armour were members of the Knox Crescent and Kensington Presbyterian Church and Mr. Armour was an Elder of the Church for many years, taking a very active part in the various proceedings. They maintained close contact with the Church while living in Hemmingford, motoring in frequently to attend service there.

On his passing Mr. Armour was taken to the Collins Funeral Home in Montreal and here many of his friends and former colleagues came to pay their last respects. Many lovely flowers were received and donations were sent to the Cancer Society. The interment was at the Georgetown Presbyterian Cemetery, Howick, where Mr. Armour's parents and grandparents are buried. The burial service was taken by the Rev. W. Brown and the ballbearers were William Bannan, Gilbert Haldane, William Mayhew, Ashley McGain, Nichol Kettle and Ivan Graham.

Mr. Armour leaves to mourn his loss his wife Mabel, his son and daughter-in-law Bruce and Helena and grandson Ian, and three sisters, Margaret, Mrs. R. Whiteford and Winifred, Mrs. H. Graham, both of Ormstown, and Jean, Mrs. L. Brown of Smiths, Falls. To them we offer our sincere sympathy.

MARRIED IN HUNTINGDON

WILDE-LINDSAY

The marriage of Betty Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsay of Huntingdon, to Mr. Barry G. Wilde, son of Mr. Arnold Wilde and the late Mrs. Wilde of Calgary, Alberta took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon, on Saturday, September 30th. The Rev. George McMichen officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. W. J. Smellie presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza over satin, with lily point sleeves appliqued with lace. A detachable train of white organza was caught by a soft bow, and her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held with a crown of rhinestones and pearls. She wore a strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses trimmed in lace.

The maid of honour, Miss Ann McDoncil of Huntingdon, the bridesmaids, Mrs. Lucille Purcha of Pincher Creek, Alberta and Miss Margaret Rowe of Franklin Centre, wore identical gowns of deep blue brocaded satin and carried bouquets of white and rose-pink carnations. Little Miss Sandra Myatt, friend of the bride, as flowergirl, wore a deep blue brocaded satin gown with white lace top, and carried a basket of white and rose-pink carnations. Each attendant's headress was a band of deep blue brocaded satin, trimmed with pearls.

Mrs. Lindsay, the bride's mother, chose a tangerine lace dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations tinted with tangerine.

Mr. Wayne Milne of Calgary, Alberta, acted as best man, and Messrs Kenneth Lindsay of Creston, B.C. and Burton Lindsay of Brampton, Ont., brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The reception was held at the Royal Canadian Legion in Huntingdon. Later the happy couple left for a trip to New York State, the bride travelling in an emerald green wool suit, with a corsage of pink carnations. The couple will reside in Calgary.

Out-of-town guests were from Calgary and Pincher Creek, Alberta, Creston, B.C., Detroit, Mich., Malone, New York, Brampton, Ont., and Montreal.

Prior to the wedding the bride-elect was entertained at a linen and bathroom shower, on Saturday afternoon, September 23rd., in the candlelight room at the Chateau-Huntingdon. About 25 friends and relatives were present. After Betty opened and admired her lovely gifts, she thanked everyone for their kindness, especially her hostesses, Miss Ann MacDonell, Mrs. Marie Miller and Miss Jo Ann Lukassen, who then served delicious refreshments.

A kitchen shower was held at the home of Mrs. Marcillin Demers, on Tuesday evening, September 26th. Thank Offering Meeting

Rev. Howard Smith, minister of Ormstown Presbyterian Church was guest speaker at the Thank Offering meeting of the afternoon Adult Group of the WMS, in his own church on Sunday evening, Oct. 8th. Visitors attended from the local churches and from Valleyfield Presbyterian Congregation. The Service was conducted by the President Miss Mable Elvidge.

Mrs. David Tsang of Valleyfield sang, "And He Will Lead His Flock," from Handel's Messiah, accompanied by her organist Mrs. A. Millichamp. Mrs. Donald McEwen of Ormstown was organist for the remainder of the service.

Rev. Smith was introduced by Mrs. M. Tannahill. His challenging message reminded his listeners that they must go forth, (as did their predecessors), in spite of modern obstacles, to spread the Word, at home and abroad. It was Christianity which was responsible for law and order, for churches, hospitals and schools. Rev. Smith cautioned, that today, we are in danger of absorbing too much religion, and too little Christianity. Mrs. Olive Goodall thanked the speaker for his inspiring message.

A social hour with refreshments was enjoyed in the church hall immediately following the service.

Ormstown Cubs and Scouts Light Bulb Sale

More than 1700 light bulbs were sold on Saturday by the energetic Scouts and Cubs of Ormstown as they made their way from home to home, with smiles to lighten the day and bulbs to light the dark.

The local Association wishes to thank all who made the project such a success. It was most gratifying to see so many interested parents turn out with cars and a sincere desire to help in any way possible.

As far as can be ascertained, only one bulb was broken, an accidental tragedy at the time, but not at all serious. More serious was the little incident of the new "Rookie Salesmen", who sold a few bulbs," two for the price of one, until he arrived at the home of a Good Samaritan, a one time businessman who put him on the road to success, by explaining that each package contained two bulbs, and the price of one must be doubled. It was however a bargain day for some buyers.

Since the boys had such a successful day they are thinking of repeating the project in the Spring.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hooker included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snaith of MacGregor, Manitoba. Mr. Smith is in Merchandising and it will be of interest to Gleaner readers, that he has passed favorable comment on our paper. The Gleaner has been passed from house to house in MacGregor since the twinning of our two towns". Thank you Mr. Snaith.
