ITALIAN AND REICH DICTATORS IN CONFERENCE

Growing Unrest In Italy Causes Concern To Axis

Last-Minute Decisions of Heralded Grand Offensive Against Russia, Reports of Smouldering Revolt and War-Weariness in Italy or Possible Joint German-Italian Peace Offer Alternatives of Meeting.

(By The Canadian Press)
Hitler and Mussolini, whose meetings in the past have frequently signalled the approach of momentous events, met in a two-day conference ending yesterday at Salzburg, Austria, it was announced today.

In the usual stereotyped form, a German communique said the Axis dictators met "in a spirit of close friendship and the indissoluble brotherhood-in-arms of their nations."

Allied conjecture, however, centered on the possibility that these points were discussed:

1—Last-minute decisions on the heralded German grand offensive against Russia.

2—Reports of smouldering revolt and war-weariness in Italy.

3—A possible joint German-Italian "final offer" of peace, on Axis terms, to the Allies.

Informed British sources declared the purpose of the Salzburg conference obviously was to keep Mussolini in line.

It was the first meeting of the Fuehrer and Duce since their countries went to war against the United States last December.

The official announcement said: "The meeting resulted in a perfect accord of views on the situation created by the overwhelming victories of the tripartite powers and on the further conduct of the war by the two nations in both political and military spheres."

There was no mention of Japan, the third member of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo bloc, having been represented at the meeting.

While the communique extolled past "overwhelming victories" by the Axis, Russia's Premier Joseph Stalin painted a contrasting picture of the present, declaring in a May Day manifesto:

"War has brought to the German people great disappointment, millions of human lives sacrificed, hunger and impoverishment. Oil is running out. Raw materials are running out."

Stalin declared that Russia, now receiving more and more military supplies from the United States and Britain, would smash Hitler's invasion forces on a surrender-or-death basis to make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German Fascist armies."

The Hitler-Mussolini meeting was attended by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Italian Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Chief of the German High Command, Gen. Ugo

RULE AGAINST DIRECT BUYING IS CLARIFIED

Officers of Wartime Prices and Trade Board List Consumers Who May Buy Direct from Manufacturers.

Montreal, May 1.—The recent prohibition of purchase by consumers direct from manufacturers or wholesalers was clarified here yesterday by regional officers of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Exception will be made for: Trust companies and real estate companies who administer real estate, when buying supplies for repairs; transportation companies and municipalities purchasing uniforms for employees to wear at work; religious and charitable institutions; building contractors and tradesmen buying supplies for houses being painted or repaired; military camps and canteens buying goods for operational use; retail stores purchasing goods for operational use.

Those prohibited from direct dealing with manufacturer or wholesaler are: Insurance companies buying goods to replace those lost or damaged by the insured; ministers and priests buying for their own consumption; church trustees buying for the church, presbytery or vicarage.

GERMAN OFFICER IS ORDERED EXPELLED FROM CHILE

Santiago, Chile, May 1.—(P)—Willy Splith, a former officer of the German army, has been ordered expelled from Chile for having engaged in activities directed "against the National sovereignty," the Ministry of Interior announced last night.

Police authorities reported Splith at present was in custody at Punta Arenas, strategic Strait of Magellan port.

Nairobi, May 1.—(P)—The Kenya Colony Government announced today temporary suspension of measures compelling the evacuation of all civilians from Mombasa but urged the population to leave the area voluntarily. Mombasa, situated on the East African coast, is a principal port of the colony.

Japanese Suffer Big Plane Losses In Allied Attacks

Thirty Japanese Planes Lined Up on Airdrome at Lae on Northeast Coast of New Guinea Plastered with Bombs and Machine Gun Fire by Daring Allied Air Raiders, United Nations Headquarters Reports.

United Nations Headquarters, Australia, May 1.—(P)—Thirty Japanese planes lined up on an airdrome at Lae on the Northeast coast of New Guinea were plastered with bombs and machine-gun fire yesterday by daring Allied air raiders, it was announced today.

Three other Japanese planes—all fighters—which attempted to intercept a simultaneous assault on Salamaua, twenty miles to the South, were shot down by Allied bombers which went on to unload explosives on ground installations, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said.

"Our losses were slight," the bulletin said.

The attack on Lae, which has been blasted repeatedly during the last two weeks, apparently caught the Japanese off-guard, for the communique mentioned no opposition by enemy fighter planes.

After unloading their bombs on the airdrome again with machine guns chattering. When they roared off toward home they left large fires burning behind them, the bulletin said.

The communique said that eight Japanese bombers had raided Horn

Stalin Demands Soviets Smash Nazi Troops On Surrender-Or-Death Basis In Coming Summer

Moscow, May 1.—(P)—Joseph Stalin declared in a May Day order of the day today that Soviet Russia, receiving more and more military aid from Britain and the United States, must smash Hitler's troops on a surrender-or-death basis to make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German Fascist armies."

"We are able to do this and we must do this, whatever happens," the Premier-Defence Commissar told Soviet armed forces, guerrillas, workers and peasants on this international labor holiday, which was observed within Russia at work instead of at play.

He said Russia is fighting simply "a way of liberation, a just war."

Stalin blamed imperialist agents of "German bankers and plutocrats" for the struggle, named Hitler, Goering, Ribbentrop, Heinrich Himmler and other rulers of present-day Germany as "the watchdogs of the German bankers."

Stalin, who directed the successful defence of Moscow and ordered the Soviet winter counter-offensive launched five months ago, said that Germany had weakened while "our country has become stronger" since the invasion June 22, 1941.

"War has brought to the German people great disappointment, millions of human lives sacrificed, hunger and impoverishment," he said. "Human reserves are running out. Oil is running out. Raw materials are running out."

Recognition by the people of "the inevitability of Germany's defeat," sabotage and guerrilla warfare are said to have weakened the Nazi rear while Hitlerian purges, battle casualties and restriction of reinforcements seriously affected the invading troops.

"The German army," Stalin said, "is an army of medieval darkness, called upon to destroy European culture in order to institute the slave-driver culture of German bankers and barons."

He issued a "five-point memorandum charging all fighting men to master their weapons and strategic tactics and armed guerrillas in occupied territories to 'spare no bullets against the invaders.'"

He praised the working people for turning the holiday into a day of labor to increase the output of munitions and food, saying "this means that the front and rear form a united and inseparable military front."

The mass demonstrations which have marked the last twenty-four years of Russian celebration of May Day were cancelled.

RUSSIAN SNIPERS ORGANIZE FIELD DAY

Moscow, May 1.—(P)—When Russian sniper M. Ivanov told a Leningrad meeting of his fellows that he had killed 123 Germans "as a May Day present for the country," the other sharpshooters forthwith organized a May Day competition to see who could kill the most Germans, the Moscow radio said today.

SIR EDWARD BEATTY RESIGNS PRESIDENCY OF CANADIAN PACIFIC

Montreal, May 1.—(P)—Sir Edward Beatty has resigned as President of the Canadian Pacific Railway and is succeeded by D. C. Coleman, Vice-President of the Company, it was announced today. Sir Edward remains Chairman of the Board.

HEAVY TOLL IN EXPLOSION AT BELGIAN PLANT

Over 250 Persons Killed and Thousand Injured When Blast Racked Chemical Factory at Tessenderloo.

Berlin, (from German broadcasts), May 1.—(P)—Two hundred and fifty persons were killed and about 1,000 injured in an explosion which destroyed a chemical factory two days ago at Tessenderloo, Belgium.

A technical school and a number of houses nearby were destroyed or severely damaged. The factory was full of workers and the school full of pupils when the blast occurred, at 11:30 a.m.

The head of the German military administration of Belgium and Northern France was reported to have gone to the scene to direct relief and emergency measures.

Tessenderloo is thirty miles Northeast of Antwerp.

Immediately after the blast, German army units and special rescue squads from the Kemperland coal fields searched through the wreckage for victims.

Cause of the blast, which also put the Tessenderloo telephone exchange out of commission, had not been ascertained. The announcement claimed that the factory "produces artificial fertilizers of various kinds and washing preparations for the Belgian market only."

"WHITE BRIGADE" BLAMED FOR FIRES

London, May 1.—(P)—The Free Belgian News Agency reported today that a series of explosions and fires had done considerable damage to factories and mines in German-occupied Belgium in the past several months.

It said bottles of inflammable liquids had been found at the scenes of numerous fires in the coal fields.

The Thiriau works in the iron and coal districts of La Croix were destroyed in January, and three weeks ago a transformer explosion stopped work in a German-requisitioned factory North of Brussels, the agency said.

The Germans blame the Belgian "White Brigade," a secret armed organization, seven of whose members were sentenced to death a week ago.

GEORGE KILLED IN TAKE-OFF OF BATTLE PLANE

United States Commander in Far East Crashed into Another Plane When Fighter Craft Got Out of Control.

Melbourne, May 1.—(P)—Brigadier General Harold George, United States officer whose death in an aerial accident was announced yesterday, was killed when a fighter plane got out of control while taking off and crashed into another plane, it was disclosed today, Melville Jacoby, Time and Life Magazine correspondent, died with Gen. George.

The mishap was said to have taken place at an advanced Allied air field. A military funeral is planned Saturday for Gen. George, who was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal posthumously for his execution of "seemingly impossible tasks" as commander of air forces in the defence of Bataan.

More than thirty British, American and Australian war correspondents and a group of U.S. Army officers attended the funeral of Jacoby at a Melbourne crematorium today.

Oxford, England, May 1.—(P)—Harold Hill, 24-year-old soldier, was hanged at Oxford today for the murder of Doreen Joyce Hearne, eight, who was found strangled.

Government Retarding Arms Production Commoners Told

Proposals for Naming Twenty-Four Member Committee to Investigate Expenditures of Munitions and Supply Department Bring Charges in Commons that Canadian Industry Is Not Being Allowed Full Development.

(By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Ottawa, May 1.—(P)—A special committee of twenty-four members of the House of Commons has been set up to examine Government war expenditures with the unequivocal assurance of Prime Minister Mackenzie King that it will not be limited or restricted in its scope.

Mr. King's resolution setting up the committee was adopted unanimously just before adjournment last night after the House had debated it two days.

A feature of yesterday's debate was the charge by C. E. Johnston (N.D., Bow River) that some war industries, including "perhaps, the three largest plants in Canada" making trucks and similar equipment, were "deliberately slowing down production."

He asserted, too, that war industries were "deliberately held back by the Government."

This drew from the Prime Minister a challenge to Mr. Johnston to make specific charges and the promise, if he did so, to set up a committee before which he might prove them.

In yesterday's debate, as on the previous day, some members charged that the Government's manner of dealing with Parliament was bringing that body into disrepute and to

British Troops Escape Japanese Encirclement In Burma Front Battle

Fall Back Eighty Miles to New Defence Sector Thirty Miles Below Mandalay to Protect Overland Routes to India as Japanese Make New Thrusts from Lashio—Chinese Determined to Continue Defence.

(By The Canadian Press)
Escaping a Japanese entrapment sweep, British troops guarding the right flank of the Allied line in Burma have fallen back eighty miles to a new defence sector only thirty miles below Mandalay.

Impelled by the Japanese thrust to Lashio, 130 miles North-east of Mandalay, the British and Indian forces were said today to have withdrawn to protect the overland routes to India.

While the crisis in Burma remained acute, with the Japanese invaders now standing at the gateway to China astride the Burma Road, a Chinese announcement declared the fall of Lashio would not halt the flow of Chinese reinforcements for the continued defence of North Burma.

Moreover, the Chinese said, alternative supply routes from India to China are already in working order.

Chinese dispatches said Lashio, captured by Japanese mechanized columns Wednesday, had been reduced from a booming boom town to smoking rubble by Japanese bombing assaults and the Allies' scorched earth policy.

Japanese warships and troop transports were reported massing among the Marshall Islands in the South Central Pacific, stirring speculation that the Mikado's sea-borne forces might be preparing a major thrust against the American supply line to Australia.

The Marshall Islands are within 1,500 miles of New Caledonia, where United States troops are bolstering Free French defence of the island, and 2,100 miles from Hawaii.

In Australia, Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Allied land commander under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, warned that the Japanese were preparing to strike anew in the Anzac zone.

"Increased enemy activity must be met by some further plan," Gen. Blamey said.

In the Philippines, Japanese dive bombers renewed their assault on Corregidor Island fortress, attacking twice as many times yesterday, but anti-aircraft gunfire shot three raiders from the sky and damaged two others. Corregidor's big guns again pounded the enemy, scoring hits on Japanese shore batteries, truck columns and supply dumps. No change was reported on Mindanao or Panay Islands, in the Southern and Central Philippines.

In the battle for the approaches to Australia, Allied planes bombed and machine-gunned thirty Japanese planes lined up on an airdrome at Lae, New Guinea, and shot down three Japanese fighter planes which attempted to intercept an attack on

Vigorous Defence Of Malta One Of Epic Events Of Present War

The brave little island of Malta, recently awarded the George Medal by the King for its heroism, is a thorn in the Axis' side and its defence is one of the epics of the war. Preston L. Grover and William McGuffin, Associated Press war correspondents, visited the island with the British Fleet, neither knowing the other was there, each reporting the latest developments in daily dispatches. Later they met in Alexandria and collaborated on the story of Malta which appears in today's issue of Life Magazine. The following story is a condensation of the article in Life.

(By PRESTON L. GROVER and WILLIAM MCGUFFIN, Associated Press Staff Writers.)

The most heavily bombed spot in the world is a little British island in mid-Mediterranean, Malta, eight miles wide and seventeen miles long, has been bombed more than two thousand times.

It has the heaviest concentration per area of anti-aircraft guns in the world, on land and on board ship.

From 150 to 200 Axis planes strike at this British carucule in Mussolini's Sea every twenty-four hours.

The attack began on the early morning of June 11, 1940, the day after Italy entered the war, just before France surrendered.

Malta was not ready. It had coastal defences, but it had no fighter planes and no properly defended airports. However, there were four Gladiator sailplanes awaiting shipment in a dock-yard storehouse.

They were not, even then, the best fighters Britain had, and they were designed for aircraft carriers. There were also at Malta four seaplane pilots. They had never flown fighter planes. But they took on the defence of Malta.

The four met wave after wave of bombers. They fought all day. They came down only to refuel, repair and take on ammunition.

Many thought Malta could not be held. But the performance of the four Gladiators changed that. One Gladiator was shot down but the remaining three fought on for three months, sometimes grappling with forces ten times their number. Now, two years later, Malta has great numbers of Hurricanes and Spitfires.

Legislative Machine Bogs Down Plan To Facilitate Goods Flow

By J. E. SANDERSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Washington, May 1.—(P)—Four months after the original recommendation was made by the Canadian-American Joint War Production Committee, a proposed bill to suspend tariffs and customs duties on Canadian-made war supplies entering the United States is still bogged down in Washington's legislative machinery.

After the proposal was approved by President Roosevelt it started a circuitous course through various Government agencies and today is under consideration by the Bureau of Customs and other regulations for the suspension of tariffs and customs duties for the duration of the war but seeks to abolish other trade impediments such as complicated customs inspections, drawback payments and licence regulations.

No one seems to know when, if ever, the bill will go before Congress. One official said it is "moving along slowly" while another suggested the whole thing might be dropped because a considerable portion of American purchases of war supplies in Canada is on Government account and the payment of tariffs is largely a bookkeeping problem.

Meanwhile, the Canadian Government is awaiting action by Washington. It has the power by Order-in-Council to reduce or remove tariffs, but its hands are tied until Washington makes up its mind what is going to do.

The original recommendation of the Joint Production Board was made December 23 and was accepted by both governments. It urged that "legislative and administrative barriers, including tariffs, import duties, customs and other regulations or restrictions of any character which prohibit, prevent, delay or otherwise impede the free flow of necessary munitions and war supplies between the two countries should be suspended or otherwise eliminated for the duration of the war."

During the last four months, the proposal has been studied by the Tariff Commission, the War Production Board, officials of the Economic Warfare Board and by the War and Navy Departments.

WAR BULLETINS

London — The BBC announced today that Sir Stafford Cripps is making a postscript to the 9 p.m. (3 p.m. E.D.T.) news Sunday instead of the talk on India originally scheduled for 2.30 a.m. the same day. The new subject was not announced.

Berlin, (from German broadcasts) — The German propaganda agency DNB said today that the English town of Sunderland was heavily raided by German bombers last night.

(Sunderland is a port at the mouth of the river Wear 261 miles North of London. The centre of coal fields and site of the seventh-century Church of St. Peter, its population is estimated 200,000).

Montreal Charter Amendments To Dominate Legislature Sessions

Quebec, May 1.—(P)—The Legislative Assembly stood adjourned today until next Tuesday to allow the Lower House's Private Bills Committee to continue study of a bill to amend the Charter of the City of Montreal.

The Assembly adjourned yesterday to allow the Committee to study the bill last night and again today.

Before the adjournment, final reading on division was given a bill that would authorize the establishment of judicial districts in Temiscamingue and Rouyn-Noranda, and estimates for the Roads Department were adopted.

During debate on the bill to set the judicial districts, Maurice Duplessis, Leader of the Opposition Union Nationale Party, said that at least four members of the present Provincial Cabinet are seeking appointments as judges.

"At the present time," he said, "the Attorney-General (Hon. Wilfrid Groulx) wants to become a judge and there are others too who want similar jobs. The Minister of Lands and Forests (Hon. P. E. Cote) the Speaker (Hon. Bernard Bissonnette) and the Provincial Treasurer (Hon. Arthur Mathewson) all want to be judges."

"I know that the Premier has his eyes on the Member for Westmount (George Marler) as successor to the Provincial Treasurer. And the member for Westmount is waiting to replace the Treasurer.

"If the Premier wants to change his Cabinet, I would advise him to name the Treasurer to the Bench and that he name the Honorable Member for Kamouraska (Hon. Leon Gagnon, Minister without Portfolio) as Attorney-General. The Member for Kamouraska has always been so faithful to the Premier."

Before the House adopted the bill, Mr. Duplessis asked Premier Godbout if Mr. Caskrain "has any chance of being appointed Attorney-General?"

Premier Godbout said, "He certainly has chances."

Mr. Duplessis asked if "he has more chance than the others?"

The Premier said that "everyone on this side of the House has the chance to improve their present positions."

While the House studied the Roads Department estimates, Mr. Duplessis said that the appointment of Cabinet Ministers to the Bench "may embarrass the Bench, but the

ROD AND REEL FANS PREPARE TO GET GOING

Fishing Conditions at Considerable Variance Throughout Province as Trout Season Opens.

Montreal, May 1.—The Quebec angling picture sprung into focus today as the Government gave the "go ahead" signal for all rod and reel fans to prepare to match wits with Quebec's varied trout population from Lake Timiskaming to the Gaspe coast.

The opening of the trout season, which also applied to Quebec's quinnone or land-locked salmon, finds fishing conditions at considerable variance throughout the province. While some lakes and streams are reported clear of ice, with water levels approaching normal, others still remain ice-bound, with no immediate prospects of accommodating the angler.

The angler can view the Laurentian fishing picture with mixed emotions. Though ice still covers the lakes in the vicinity of Ste. Agathe and Nominique, and is still fairly plentiful around Mont Laurier, the lakes in the St. Jovite district are all open with water levels normal for this time of the year.

REDS REPULSE FRESH GERMAN TANK ATTACKS

Nazis Reported to Have Suffered Heavy Casualties in Efforts to Break Through Soviet Lines.

Kuibyshev, Russia, May 1.—(AP)—Red Army troops have repulsed several German attacks which were supported by armored units, killed three hundred men, destroyed two Nazi tanks and captured trophies and prisoners on a Central front sector, it was announced today.

The Soviet Information Bureau said "Our tank crews are inflicting severe losses on the enemy's manpower and equipment" and the Moscow radio announced a Russian tank brigade, previously credited with annihilation of 13,000 invaders, had killed about 1,000 more in fierce fighting on the Kalinin front.

(A Reuters dispatch from Kuibyshev quoted Maj.-Gen. M. Zakharov, of the Red Army, as stating that persistent Soviet attacks on the Kalinin front, Northwest of Moscow, had wrecked Nazi plans for a spring offensive. But he said the Germans are moving up reserves for an attempt at counter-attack.)

The Information Bureau, in a communique broadcast from Moscow, said guerrilla detachments operating in the Ukraine raided the German-occupied village of "N" April 18, killed 109 Germans, captured weapons and documents and blew up an ammunition dump.

Govt. Retarding

This criticism arose over the practice of the Committee—constituted last night on exactly the same lines as last session—of holding meetings in camera.

Way Services Minister Thorson, who was Chairman of the War Expenditures Committee last year, defended the secret sittings. He said they were productive of more information and that more speed was possible when the press was not present to report speeches.

Mr. Thorson said it would be quite in order for the Committee to investigate the Munitions and Supply Department, as several members had suggested, and he was sure every facility would be given.

Those who opposed the secret sittings said they did so particularly because the information obtained at such meetings could not be used in Parliament, yet often leaked out to the press and into radio speeches.

Province will be relieved." He approached the Premier for appointing Mr. Groulx to replace Hon. T. D. Bouchard, Minister of Roads and Public Works, who has not been able to attend the present session because of illness.

"The Minister of Roads is very sick and I am sorry to hear that, but I don't think it just for the Premier to replace him by the Attorney-General who is half dead. There are six or seven Ministers without portfolios who are just hanging on to their jobs."

He favored in camera sittings of the Committee because more information and more speed could be achieved in that way.

There was ground for fair comment and criticism of the delay in setting up the Committee, Mr. King said, but there had been many important matters requiring immediate attention.

He said he was willing to have the Committee enlarged as several had suggested, but observed that there were now seven select committees and fifteen standing committees of the House and it would be difficult for them all to meet frequently.

WEATHER HALTS BRITISH RAIDS ON CONTINENT

Eleven German Planes Reported Downed in Series of Minor Engagements Despite Let-Down in Fighting.

London, May 1.—(AP)—RAF offensive operations tapered off to a minimum as a series of heavy rainstorms overtook the British bombers on their way to the Continent.

Three Nazi planes were sent crashing to earth over French territory, followed by British fighters which followed them home or circled over the airfields awaiting their return.

Eight were shot down in scattered attacks along the Northeast coast and in Eastern England, the Government announced, and the ratio of destruction of the raiders for the day was ten to one.

Five of twenty raiders were destroyed in the German attack Tuesday night on York.

fires, long-range bombers and terrific ground defences.

German pilots, compelled to bail out over the island, report the ack-ack barrage "paralyzing." "When we took off," said one captured German pilot, "we had no idea what we were getting into."

Veterans of both battles, Malta and Britain, tell you that Malta is worse than Britain ever was because the fighting is over a much smaller area. It is almost impossible to make a forced landing on the island—and the Jerry patrol is on constant watch to strafe any launch trying to rescue pilots down in the sea.

The Governor of this island is "a man with a Bible in one hand and a sword in the other."

Mr. Johnston spoke of the Alberta tar sands and said he had been informed by the Department of Munitions and Supply that these sources could not be developed practically.

"So far as I can find out the only source the Government got this information from was the big oil business, from men directly or indirectly with by the Government, interested in production of oil in this country," he said.

"My information is that it is a definitely established and proven fact that we can get oil and gasoline out of these tar sands and sell them to the commercial market to compete with the big oil companies," he declared.

"I think there should be an investigation of this. I am quite convinced that Imperial Oil is not going to expand our oil industry unless they are forced to do so, or unless some other steps are taken to expand this industry."

Mr. Howe said his Department was one of the first to be investigated by the Committee yet, from the tone of statements made in the House, it would appear that someone was preventing such investigation.

"If there is anything wrong with my Department there is no one more anxious to know about it than I am. We have men on watch constantly for irregularities or wrong-doing."

Mr. Howe said his files were open to the Committee and, while contracts in power were pushed by international agreement, they could be disclosed to a committee sitting in camera.

Liguori LaCombe (C.D.N., Laval) for the first time since he was ejected for defying a ruling of Speaker Glen was today before the Eastern recess, demanded an inquiry into the alleged disappearance of 240 woolen blankets from a lot of 5,000 sold to Military District No. 5 by a factory at Cap St. Ignace. He said Canada was no longer governed by Parliament but by "a bureaucracy of boards" and by contractors who paid for "monstrous advertisements" urging people to vote "Yes" in last Monday's plebiscite.

Mr. King spoke briefly in closing the debate. He said he would give the assurance of the Government that there would be no restrictions upon the Committee's scope of action.

He favored in camera sittings of the Committee because more information and more speed could be achieved in that way.

Views Differ ON SUCCESS OF BANK WALK-OUT

Union Leaders and Banque Canadienne Nationale Officials Issue Varying Statements on Efficacy of Strike.

Montreal, May 1.—(AP)—Striking La Banque Canadienne Nationale employees announced last night they would continue the picketing campaign they started yesterday.

Spokesmen for the Office and Professional Workers' Organizing Committee of the Canadian Congress of Labor said the bank employees are seeking increased wages, union recognition and adjustments in working conditions.

They said that three hundred bank employees are on strike and that most of the Montreal branches of the Bank are closed or are being kept open by managers working alone.

Bank officials said that only eighty-nine employees are out and that the seventy Montreal branches are functioning normally. They added that where staffs needed reinforcements clerks were sent from the head office which is unaffected.

The Place d'Armes head office, in the heart of the city's financial district, was picketed by employees bearing placards on which was written in French: "The bank employees are on strike" and "Local O.P.W.O.C. demands better wages."

Bank officials at Quebec, Sherbrooke and Three Rivers said branches at those points are not affected by the strike.

Growing Unrest

Cavallero, Chief of the Italian General Staff, and other high officials. The official announcement might just as well have been a carbon copy of communiques on all their other meetings, larded with such glittering generalities as "close friendship" and "most cordial relations."

But all this week, reports from Europe have stressed mounting disension in Italy, with the populace inflamed by hunger, disgust over the war and alarm over the rising might of the United Nations.

These reports declared that while Mussolini's attitude about "flexible punishment" for dissidents, Hitler was deeply concerned.

In German-occupied Belgium, 250 persons were killed and 1,000 wounded in a chemical factory explosion at Tessenderloo, 30 miles Northeast of Antwerp. The Free Belgian news agency in London reported a series of explosions and fires had caused heavy damage to factories and mines in Belgium during the past few months.

The news agency said that bottles of inflammable liquid had been found in several of the numerous houses—indicating the handwork of Belgian patriots—and that the Germans blamed the Belgian "White Brigade," a secret armed organization, seven of whose members were sentenced to death a week ago.

In a series of news items, Britain's great "Help Russia" offensive tapered off to reconnaissance flights overnight after eight straight nights of tempestuous blows at German warplane centres.

Eleven Nazi bombers were shot down over Britain and France. German raiders attacked the port of Sunderland, 260 miles North of London, inflicting some casualties.

On the Russian front, Hitler's field headquarters reported that the tank-led Soviet attacks were beaten off and declared that "local offensive operations are being conducted in line."

The Nazi lines were under the heaviest pressure in four key sectors—around Staraya Russa, 130 miles South of Leningrad; near Smolensk, some 200 miles West of Moscow; and at Kursk, 80 miles below Orel.

ATTEMPTING TO KEEP ITALIANS IN HUMOR

London, May 1.—(AP)—Informed British sources said today the purpose of the Salzburg conference of Hitler and Mussolini obviously was to keep the Italian Premier in line with the Axis.

"Hitler must keep both ends of the Axis moving in the same direction," one said, "and to do this he must give Mussolini a pep talk."

He added that "Hitler doubtless felt the need to explain his Sunday speech first-hand—if it needs some explaining to the Italian people."

Germany

It was their first meeting since their countries went to war with the United States last December.

Conversations between the two Axis leaders took place in a spirit of close friendship and the indis-soluble brotherhood-in-arms of their nations, said the announcement, issued from Salzburg.

"The meeting resulted in a perfect accord of views on the situation created by the overwhelming victories of the tri-partite powers, and on the further conduct of the war by the two nations in both political and military spheres," the communique added.

PROVINCIAL POLICE ARREST THREE MORE FORTUNE-TELLERS IN CAMPAIGN TO CLEAN UP SORCERY IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, May 1.—(AP)—Provincial Police yesterday arrested three additional persons on charges of fortune telling, bringing to twenty the number of arrests made in a drive against "witchcraft" in the past three days.

The three were brought before Judge F. T. Enright in Arraignment Court. They gave their names as Professor Thibault, Madame Thibault and Professor Raymond. All pleaded not guilty.

Professor Thibault, Madame Thibault and Professor Raymond were remanded for hearing May 12 while Professor Raymond will appear again May 5.

Eight women who pleaded guilty Wednesday to similar charges were sentenced yesterday. Madame Bolduc was sentenced to one month in jail and a fine of $500 and costs or an additional six months. Fines of $50 and costs or one month in jail were imposed on: Madame Etelia; Madame Emma; Madame Renaud; Madame Caro; Madame Rowland; Madame Cecile Breton and Madame Lussier.

Japanese Suffer

Another Japanese formation made a light raid on Tulagi in the Solomon Islands "without effect," headquarters said.

In the Philippines the Japanese were reported to have renewed their bombardment of Corregidor, attacking the fortress twelve times from the air yesterday but losing three planes in the assault. The sharp-shooting Corregidor anti-aircraft gunners also were credited officially with damaging two other enemy raiders.

The air raids on Corregidor were accompanied by heavy shelling from Japanese shore batteries, to which the big guns of the fortress replied. "Our successful fire scored hits on enemy batteries, truck columns and supply dumps," the communique said.

No change was reported on Mindanao on Panay Island.

New York, May 1.—(AP)—Dr. Herman Raushing, who presided over the Senate of the Free City of Danzig from 1933 to 1935, took out his first United States citizenship papers yesterday and observed that "this is a very decisive and favorable moment for me." O God, Who art the author of peace and lover of concord, defend us Thy humble servants in all assaults of our enemies.

HOW DOES HE EXPLAIN IT AWAY?

To the person of even sub-average intelligence, the argument of La Ligue pour la Defense du Canada that "neither the Government nor the present Parliament are released of their anti-conscription promises" as the result of the recent manpower plebiscite, in which the people of this Dominion by an overwhelming majority voted to release the Government from these ill-advised pledges seems somewhat fantastic.

In this respect, the officials of the Ligue make an awful mistake as the very basis of democratic government is that the will of the majority should prevail and certainly if the plebiscite did have any virtues to it, the fact that it gave the people of the country an opportunity for the direct expression of their views was one.

The manner in which the Government acts in connection with the raising of troops for service in Canada and elsewhere will be a direct indication of its real desire to get along with the principal task at hand and to get rid of politics.

The majority of the people have spoken and the best way to promote national unity is to indicate that while reasonable arguments will be respected, half-baked theories will be ignored.

ULSTER MAY HAVE ELECTION

All indications are that Northern Ireland may have a critical war-time election on its hands within the next few months, as the present Ulster Parliament, elected in February, 1938, reaches the end of its constitutional five-year term next January and no provision has been made to give the Unionist Government of Premier J. M. Andrews emergency power to postpone the election until peace comes.

Such power could only be dispensed by the British House of Commons and some quarters believe the British Government may seek the necessary special legislation, suggesting that it would be unwise to expose the Ulster government machinery to possible disturbance at a time when Northern Ireland's importance in the war strategy has been increased by the presence of United States forces.

But critics of the regime, in power continuously for twenty-one years since the establishment of Northern Ireland's Parliament, can be counted upon to do their utmost to force the Andrews administration to test its popularity at the polls. The critics, who include members of the Nationalist party which has pro-Eire sympathies, are making capital, for instance, of the latest in a series of minor storms the Government has faced. The present fuss, centering around the Civil Defence Ministry, arose over the Ministry's admission that many of Belfast's public air raid shelters are defective and unsafe.

The Nationalists, who hold nine Commons seats compared with the Government's thirty-five, proclaim that in the only two bye-elections since Premier Andrews succeeded the late Lord Craigavon they captured Government seats.

THE FUTURE OF CHINA

Further Japanese successes in Burma, which have enabled them to set a foot squarely in China's back door, increase the already grave threat to Chiang Kai-Shek's fighting machine, as by cutting a bloody swath through to Lashio, the Japs have secured the great supply depot that marks the beginning of the famous Burma road which winds its solitary way through the mountains to the Chinese capital of Chungking and has been China's lifeline to the outside world. Lashio's rail communication with the Burmese port of Rangoon has, of course, already been severed, but control of this entrance to the Burma Road would be essential to any plan for moving Japanese forces into China over this route.

The persistence of the Japanese in this major drive through Burma makes it clear that they are bent on completing their conquest of China as an integral part of their scheme for a new order in Eastern Asia. The Chinese military position now is more serious than ever, owing to the severance of supplies through Burma, the loss of the Burmese petroleum fields upon which they were dependent for the oil without which no fighting machine can run successfully, and the menace of invasion of Southwest China over the Burma Road.

In this hour of peril the Chinese have announced staunchly that they will continue to fight. They have no intention of quitting. In taking this stand, which is so typical of the brave battle they have waged for long against an invader who has been far better equipped, they must get much encouragement from the message which President Roosevelt broadcast Tuesday in his fireside chat.

"The Japanese may cut the Burma Road," said the President, "but I want to say to the gallant people of China that no matter what advances the Japanese may make, ways will be found to deliver airplanes and munitions of war to the armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek."

Mr. Roosevelt was not more specific, but one was left to the conclusion that presumably air transport would play a major role in providing supplies. Much can be done in that way, and presumably in time other methods of supply will be developed. Still, the immediate problem of supply is colossal, particularly in the matter of essential oil and gasoline. China's great task now is to hold on until the Allies can bring relief.

ITALIAN FOOD SHORTAGE MORE ACUTE

Coffee is known as "Black gold," fruit is next to unobtainable, and other food is growing ever scarcer within warring Italy, according to Italian advices reaching Swiss border points.

One Rome report said the Italian birth rate had risen since the nation entered the war as an axis partner, but that infant mortality had tripled. Hardships were reflected in a lighter weight average of the war babies, it was said.

A traveller who left Italy recently said that the people still listened to foreign radio broadcasts despite a Government order against the practice and jamming of British programmes.

A sharp rise in the price of jewelry was reported to have accompanied a decline in the purchasing power of the lira, despite Mussolini's cry against "the buying of antiques."

A jewelry collection valued at 40,000 lire before the war sold recently for 800,000 lire, it was said, and most dentists now require patients to bring their own gold—taken from jewelry—if they want that metal put into their teeth.

New food restrictions force fancy restaurants to serve the same meals as more modest and cheaper establishments. It is in the homes of the poor, however, that want is most felt.

The famous Alfredo's in Rome, where world notables hied for spaghetti, recently was closed for a week because its staff served bread to Japanese who did not have ration cards, it was reported.

FOREST FIRE LOSSES GROW

Forest fires raged over 4,250,000 acres of Canadian forests last year causing total damage of $13,242,179 including cost of fighting the blazes—the worst forest fire year since 1923.

Average loss in the previous ten years was $1,498,463. Actual cost of fighting forest fires last year was $1,307,059, an increase of about $800,000 over the ten-year average.

"Fortunately the (1941) fire season was not of equal severity in all parts of Canada, and with the exception of Quebec, Ontario and Alberta, the fire losses were below the annual average for the previous decade," a Departmental statement said.

"In the three Provinces specifically mentioned, extremely dry weather, combined with other causes, resulted in the spread of fire which burned an area from two to seven times greater and caused losses from two to ten times higher than average for the previous ten years."

Spring fires accounted for about seventy per cent of the area burned over, and eighty-five per cent of the total loss. Lightning was the major cause of fires and accounted for twenty-three per cent as compared with the ten-year average of sixteen per cent. Settlers' land-clearing operations caused eighteen per cent compared with a seventeen-per cent average; smokers fourteen per cent compared with sixteen per cent, and camp fires thirteen per cent compared with twenty per cent.

THE RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE

By common accord Ottawa and London have decided that the Canadian army overseas should be treated as a distinct unit in the great British and Allied army which is already filling England, Scotland and Ireland. That does not mean that unity of command is already being abandoned, but it is satisfactory to note that Canadian volunteers will conserve their distinct identity wherever they shall be called upon to fight the good fight.

SAYS FRANCE CANNOT DIE

Let us take a good look at France. It may help us to see more clearly the issues of our war. France is a probably little less now because the Nazi regime has sent the birth rate down and the death rate up. It is a mixed people, and you might say that there is racially little in common between the Bretons or Normans in the North and the Basques or the inhabitants of the old Province in the South. It is also a people which for some reason has wanted to be a nation, and has fought to be such from the time of Joan or Arc, five centuries ago to the present day.

But what is a nation? Surely it is not the political leadership at any given moment. France was recognized under Louis XIV, under Mirabeau, Marat and Robespierre, under the First Napoleon, the Citizen King, the Second Napoleon and amid the ups and downs of the Third Republic. The corruption of her Government did not make her the less France. The failure to plug the gap at Sedan in 1940 and the failures behind that failure did not put an end to her national life.

CANDY TO GOERING, WITH COMPLIMENTS

British agents in disguise are active throughout France, according to Mlle. Pauline Corday, a Frenchwoman who recently reached New York after escaping from German-occupied France. Millions of Frenchmen laughed at the tale of their huge box of candy, sent to Air Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering. This had its chance when two impeccably dressed German officers entered a candy shop, demanded the biggest box of candy in the store and sent it to Goering at the Hotel Meurice.

Two hours later another German came rushing in to ask: "Who sent that candy to the marshal?" With the candy, it turned out, came a card reading: "Compliments of the British intelligence service." As another instance of British activity, Mlle. Corday told of the Frenchwoman who slipped and fell on a Paris boulevard, whereupon two German officers rushed over to help her to her feet. She looked up and was startled to recognize one of the men as an Englishman whom she had known in England.

COUNT ON HAND NETS TOP SCORE

Peter Leventritt of New York paired with Mrs. William E. McKenney to win the open pair championship at the recent Southeastern sectional championships in Florida. Leventritt's power of concentration helped him count today's hand down for a top score.

Two rounds of hearts were led. Leventritt in the North position trumping the second. He led a trump, East winning and returning another heart, which Leventritt ruffed. A second round of trumps disclosed the bad break.

Nevertheless, Leventritt led all his trumps to exhaust West. Dummy's first discard was the five of diamonds, and then the last heart when East saved a heart.

Next the ace and king of diamonds were cashed, a low club to the ace followed, then a low club return. Dummy ducked with the

THE GOOD EARTH

The smell of burning weeds Upon the twilight air; The poignant call of frogs From meadows wet and bare. A presence in the wood, And in my blood a stir, In all the ardent earth No failure or demur! O spring wind, sweet with love And tender with desire, Pour into veins of mine Your pure, impassioned fire! O waters running free With full, exultant song, Give me, for outworn dream, Life that is clean and strong! O good Earth, warm with youth, My childhood heart renew! Make me elate, sincere, Simple and glad, as you! O springing things of green, O waiting things of bloom, O winging things of air, Your lordship now resume!

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- 1—Should you let your maid gossip to you about persons she has worked for before she came to you?
- 2—Should you let your maid repeat gossip she picks up from servants in other homes?
- 3—Should a maid's time off be respected, or is it all right to expect her to give up her plans at the last moment if she is needed?
- 4—Should you insist that your maid look neat and trim at all times?
- 5—If you are upstairs when your maid answers the door should you permit her to call upstairs to you to tell you that you are wanted?

What would you do if—
When guests drop by for a visit and there is nothing in your kitchen to serve them—
(a) Apologize for not having anything to serve?
(b) Don't mention the subject?

ANSWERS

- 1—No.
 - 2—No.
 - 3—Her time off should be respected.
 - 4—Yes.
 - 5—No. She should walk upstairs and tell you that you are wanted.
- Better "What Would You Do?" solution—(b).

Social and Personal

Sgt. Ralph McVeigh, (R.F.), left this morning to take a six weeks' course at Long Branch, Ont.

Friends of Mr. Donald Grayton, of Bury, will regret to hear that he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday.

Miss Madell Baldwin, Regent of the Aldershot Chapter, I.O.O.E., under which patronage the Third Annual Spinners' Spree is being held at the Chateau Frontenac this evening, Mrs. A. A. Munster and Mrs. Matthew Graham are acting as patronesses for the 1942 dance.

Mrs. Norrey W. Price entertained informally at bridge last evening at her home on Mount Pleasant Street in honor of Mrs. Albert W. Reid, who to the regret of hosts of friends is leaving Sherbrooke shortly to take up residence in Ottawa. Bridge was played at two tables, the prizes being won by Miss Marjorie Haley and Miss Bessie Milford. The hostess also presented a special gift prize to the guest of honor. Later refreshments were served, Mrs. George Wiggitt pouring coffee at the pretty table, which was charmingly done with spring flowers, and Mrs. John Brown assisting.

Mrs. Malcolm Wilson gave a charmingly arranged children's party on Wednesday afternoon at her home in Lennoxville for her little daughter, Judy, on her fourth birthday. The guests included upwards of twelve little girls and boys, several of whom were accompanied by their mothers. Games were played and later tea was served, the lace-covered table having a canopy of pink and white streamers from the central light above, which was shaded with colorful balloons. A lovely three-tiered birthday cake, decorated in pink and white, formed the centerpiece and the favors were tiny ducklings filled with pink and white candy. Mrs. Wilson was assisted in entertaining her small guests by Mrs. Helen Burns, Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. Wyatt Johnson, Mrs. K. McLeod, Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Phelps. Little Judy received many lovely gifts from her friends and also from the adults, who assisted her mother in her hospitable duties for the delightful birthday party.

Mr. Vincent Lyon, of Quebec, is visiting his mother, Mrs. E. N. Lyon, for a few days.

Mrs. Lee Nightingale is entertaining at a small cocktail party this evening at her home in the Gordon Apartments, pour torthe 123456 apartments, prior to the Spinners' Spree at the Chateau Frontenac.

Sgt. Alfie Quinn, of the 27th Canadian Armoured Regiment (Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment), who has been a guest of Miss Lillian Lacharite at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lacharite, Murray Street, has returned to Debert, N.S., to rejoin his unit.

Friends of Mrs. A. A. Burbank will be pleased to hear that she is now resting comfortably at the home of her son, Mr. H. A. Burbank, 76 London Street. Mrs. Burbank had the misfortune to break a pelvic bone when she fell on the icy sidewalk in Danville, four weeks ago.

Members of the Baptist Ladies' Aid were entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. Hopkins at her home on Wolfe Street. Mrs. Ralph Sanders presided over the brief business period, during which plans were made for a rummage sale and tentative arrangements for a salad tea to be held on May 28. A pleasant social hour followed and at its close the hostess served refreshments, Mrs. J. R. Byrd doing the honors and Mrs. Clifford Wright assisting.

Further subscribers to the "Spinners' Spree" being held at the Chateau Frontenac this evening, under the auspices of the Aldershot Chapter I.O.O.E., with Giz Gagnon's orchestra in attendance, include Mrs. Lee Nightingale, Mrs. Gerard McManamy, Mrs. Roland A. Badger, Mrs. W. E. Hume, Mrs. Waite, Mrs. Herb Shaw, the Misses Dorothy Ross, Sylvia Ross, Andrea Hyndman, Helen Wolfe, Mimi Shea, Andrea Trizane, Anita Henaire, Frankie Ward, Joan Milne, Elizabeth Bryant, Helen Hibbard, Gerlie Lane, Betty Lane, Helen Wiggitt, Lillian Peabody, Barbara Peabody, Madeleine Baldwin, Cynthia Baker and Fernande Labonte.

MARRIAGES

BIRON—STONE
Coaticook, May 1.—The marriage took place quietly at St. Stephen's Church on April 28, of Miss Ethel May Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stone, of Coaticook, and Pilot Officer Joseph W. Biron, of the United States Army.

The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father, Mr. John Stone. Mr. Ernest Stone acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rev. Mr. Matthews.

Pilot Officer Biron and Mrs. Biron left after the wedding for a short trip, after which the former will rejoin his unit, while Mrs. Biron will make her home with her parents here.

McCREA—KEZAR
North Hatley, May 1.—A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on April 21, at the Universalist Church, North Hatley, when Elizabeth, eldest daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Kezar, of North Hatley, was united in marriage to Francis Davidson McCrea, eldest son, of Mr. and Mrs. James McCrea, of North Hatley, the Rev. Robert Lewis Weiss officiating.

The church was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with greenery, pink carnations and white stocks, interspersed with tall white tapers.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. J. A. Seguin. She was becomingly attired in a navy blue silk street-length dress, with a corsage of red roses, navy blue hat and shoes to match. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Adeline Kezar, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a printed silk gown with a navy blue hat and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom was supported by his brother, AC. 2 William McCrea, R.C.A.F., of St. Johns.

The bride's mother wore a black dress with a corsage of red carnations.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

ST. PETER'S W.A.
This week's meeting of the W.A. was held in St. Peter's Parish Hall on Tuesday afternoon under the presidency of Mrs. P. M. Robins, following the Litany service in the church, at which the rector, the Rev. Russel F. Brown, officiated.

Routine business was first disposed of, the Treasurer's report revealing a satisfactory balance on hand.

Letters were read by Mrs. Twyman, Corresponding Secretary, these including one from Mrs. Robert Seaveright, thanking the members for books presented to her prior to her departure for Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Work in the Dorcas Branch was reported by Mrs. Roberts, who stated that in addition to their usual work, the members had found time to make an outfit for the Red Cross.

To enable the Dorcas workers to continue this extra sewing and knitting, it was agreed to hold meetings during the summer months at the home of the members.

Mrs. Emerson, who was introduced by the President, appealed for the co-operation of the W.A., with the W.C.T.U., by endorsing a petition to be sent to the Government for dry canteens in the army camps.

In a letter received from a resident missionary in Palampur, India, the writer stated that although war clouds hang heavily over her, many religious activities in the Christian life were still to be found in India.

The rector announced that Bishop Fleming of the Arctic was coming to the East, and the meeting decided to sponsor his illustrated lecture as part of its educational programme and plans were formulated for the event to be held in St. Peter's Church Hall on Tuesday evening, May 19, at 8 o'clock.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

MAGOG

The 1925 Club was held at the Wallace Memorial Hall, in the Magog High School, with Mrs. Bessie Osborne and Miss M. Mitson. There were thirty-four ladies present.

Mrs. J. A. Finlayson presided at the meeting. The proceeds held from the sale held at Mrs. Shaw's amounted to $77.58. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses. It was decided to join with the Women's Association and the Y.P.S., in serving the supper for the Eastern Star.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. James Buzzell, in their recent bereavement by the death of the former's stepmother, Mrs. Dan Buzzell, whose funeral took place on April 26, at St. Paul's United Church, with Rev. P. Matthews officiating.

Mr. Maurice Bousada, of New York, underwent an operation in the Montreal General Hospital.

Mr. George Bousada spent a week in Montreal.

Mr. Owen Cavell, of Montreal, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cavell.

Mr. Mark Styan has joined the active service.

Mr. Avon Stock was in Montreal. Mr. John Fields has rented Mrs. D. J. Willard's place at Currier and is moving there shortly.

WOMEN'S SHOES IN OLD LONDON ARE AN UPLIFT

Despite Wartime Restrictions, Footwear Can Be Sprightly and Has Various Gadgets.

(Written for The Canadian Press By ALISON SETTLE)

London, May 1.—Fashion still lives in women's shoes despite wartime regulations against using more than a minimum of leather for shoes other than those of the forces.

Mainly the variety of fashion angles are due to ingenious use of substitutes. Gussets, unusual fastenings, laying-on and piecing-in, side lacing, with color contrasts all contribute to make shoes for 1942 sprightly.

So well have the experts worked with substitutes that the shopping woman does not realize she is forbidden perforations, leather overlapping leather, wooden heels or leather covered heels.

"In fact," said one expert, "plastic leather is doing such a fine job that, though it has been on the market for some time, women have been unaware that their 'leather' heel coverings were sprayed on."

Before the war solid plastic heels used to give sparkle, transparency and fine color to fashion shoes for late afternoon and evening. Now

EDITOR JUMPS DOWN ON BABY CONTESTS

McComb, Miss., May 1.—(C) — Somebody suggested a baby contest to Oliver Emmerich, editor of The Enterprise. This editorial resulted: "Phooey on the idea."

"This editor once staged a county-wide beautiful baby contest. Instead of twenty-five or thirty babies as was expected, there were over 150, and the judges became very technical and the whole show dragged on into the night, and mothers became irritable, and babies squirmed and cried, and there were some bottle babies that had to be taken home for feeding and returned, and one woman actually cussed out loud while looking this editor straight in the face."

plastic heels are so like solid leather, when sprayed with leather colored variations of plastic that they are indistinguishable except to the expert.

It is only when heels begin to wear that trouble sets in. The small shoe repairing outfit is unable to handle substitute leathers so shoes have to be sent back to the factories for repair and there are not as many factories making women's shoes as there used to be.

Latest thing in shoes is the new "bouncer" model especially designed for the large section of the nation's women who, because of war jobs, are on their feet most of the day. It is aimed at preventing tiredness and flat feet. It has a concealed wedge, giving lightness and support to the arch of the foot.

DANVILLE

The Fortnightly Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Henry Smith, at her home, on Water Street, April 23. Mrs. Shirley Fowler, who is leaving shortly to make her home in Melbourne, was presented with a gift on behalf of the Club by Mrs. Jack Cleveland. Outside donations were made towards the "Club" gift by Mrs. William Stewart and Mrs. Donald Kerr, friends of Mrs. Fowler. Mrs. Fowler thanked her friends with a few well chosen words and expressed her regret at leaving them. After a pleasant evening was spent in playing bridge the ladies repaired to the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served at the lace covered table with tall white tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Donald Kerr was a guest for the evening. Mrs. Henry Smith was assisted in serving by Mrs. Francis Smith. The War Saving Stamps used as prizes went to Mrs. George Clark and Mrs. K. S. Ingalls.

The Junior League, of Trinity United Church, met at the home of Mrs. Ken McNeil on April 20. Eleven members were present. The President, Mrs. Albert Olney was in the chair. We Make ALL Types of Loans

*These are only typical examples. At Campbell's there are 233 different amounts and terms—one of which is to fit your purse and circumstances. Campbell rates on amounts over $500 are still lower. There are no extra costs.

Here's news of importance to everyone who needs, or may need, money. Campbell Finance Corporation Limited (formerly Campbell Auto Finance Company) announces a new Personal Loan Service—with loans of every type available to every eligible person.

In the past few years, more than 50,000 motorists have been pleased with Campbell's confidential, fuss-free methods of doing business. Today in all of Campbell's 27 offices throughout Canada that same friendly financial service has been expanded to serve people in all walks of life, whether or not they offer personal property as security. There has been no change in management, but personnel has been increased to maintain Campbell's high standard of service. This is an all-Canadian Company, using Canadian Capital, with all-Canadian employees.

Loans for "Everyone"

Under this new plan almost anyone can get a loan on terms that suit him. We realize that circumstances differ and have provided a service to suit every eligible borrower.

There is no longer any need to shop around to find a loan plan to meet your requirements. Campbell's will lend you from $20 to $1,000 on any basis you select. You choose your own repayment schedule to suit your pay—you decide the amount you want and the amount you repay each month. You decide what security (if any) you offer—(furniture, automobile, etc.)—or if you prefer, get a loan with no other security than two co-signers.

Confidential

A Campbell loan involves no embarrassment, no delay, no red tape. It is a simple, private transaction. You pay only for the actual time you have the money. The sooner the loan is repaid, the less it costs. You get fair, considerate treatment in case of sickness or unemployment.

Weekly Letter to Farmers

D. A. FINLAYSON, Assistant to Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, Que.

It is in the interest of every poultry keeper to raise a well-grown, healthy flock of pullets that will be ready for heavy production next fall. The part that range plays in this developing stage is of maximum importance.

Space is seldom a factor under general farming conditions. In spite of this, in altogether too many cases, the chickens are allowed to grow up in the barn yard year after year. This condition seems hard to understand for better management has been widely publicized. It may be that on many farms, poultry is kept in relatively small numbers and as a result, the interest taken in this department is insufficient. This is a short sighted policy, for success with any branch of livestock is largely governed by the management given. In some cases, an expansion of the unit might permit more economy of operation and induce more interest on the part of the operator.

Good range decreases feed costs, reduces disease losses, and stimulates growth. While intensive range management is practised on many commercial plants, the system followed on general farm is simple. As with other classes of livestock, fresh, leafy plant growth is most beneficial. This being the case, a first year hay field is preferable, although older meadows or even permanent pastures, where a good stand of grass is available is satisfactory. At the Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, a three-year rotation with two years in grain and one in hay is practised and the chicks ranged on the field that is in hay. To avoid rank growth, it may be necessary to mow occasionally during the summer. The same piece of land cannot be successfully used two years in succession, under this system, on account of the possibility of disease being carried over in the soil.

Temporary fencing is necessary when the chicks are young. The yards can be increased in size to meet the requirements of the flock, until finally free range can be afforded.

If shade is not available, a few strips ploughed and sowed to corn or sunflowers will be beneficial during mid-summer.

Dirty conditions around feeders, water containers and houses should not be tolerated. Frequent moving of hoppers and waterers is necessary and periodical moving of colony houses or range shelters may be advisable.

TINGWICK

The annual meeting of the Richmond County Women's Institute will be held at the Healey School near Richmond. The business session will open at nine a.m. Dinner will be served by the members of Richmond Hill Women's Institute. Other branches are asked to advise Mrs. McIver as soon as possible as to the number expected to attend. The afternoon session will open at 1:30 p.m., when the election of officers will take place. There will be several guest speakers. As many members as possible are urged to attend.

BOYS OVERSEAS THANK LEGION AT COATICOOK

Express Appreciation for Cigarettes Sent Them Through Special Fund—Other News Items from Coaticook and District.

Coaticook, May 1.—For some little time now, the Cigarette Fund of the Canadian Legion here has been receiving cards of acknowledgment for cigarettes sent to the boys overseas. In each package of smokes sent, a postcard was enclosed, already addressed to the Legion here, and all the boys sending them back have written a few words of appreciation for the gift.

In addition to the cards, letters have also been received from several local boys. Gerald Johann wrote a note at four o'clock one March morning saying, "They just came in time, as I was on my last package from home and a move coming up. That's when we enjoy our smokes." Fred Wormsley says what all the boys say, "Just a few lines to let you know that I received your parcel of cigarettes and was sure glad to get them. I wish to thank all the patrons that gave a little towards them, as they are very handy over here." Jack Brown's remarks were few but to the point: "Received smokes and want to thank you a million times. The boys are all well and raring to go." A card from Harley Taisey says, "Received your cigarettes today. Thanks a million. It's a fine gesture from the people. Makes us realize we still have friends who think of us at home." "To show an Englishman a box of 25 sigs is like showing him a mountain of ice cream. Something he doesn't believe exists. They are really becoming scarce. England is very kind to the Canadian soldier. If every generation comes over here, we shall be calling it 'New Canada'." So writes Rupert Pyne in acknowledging his cigarettes.

A card from A. K. Smith says, "Many thanks for the carton of cigarettes. It is hard to realize over there just how much smokes from home are appreciated over here." While Sidney Lovell, also writing in the week hours, says, "We have tomorrow afternoon off to attend a football game, so that is something to look forward to. Our Unit has a very good football team and were in the Finals for the Canadian Army Championship, as was our hockey team. I am occasionally meeting chaps from Coaticook, Dixville, Mazo, Sherbrooke and other Eastern Townships towns and it certainly seems good to have a chat with them as they are all in the best of health and I know they would want that word passed along to the folks at home."

Cards and notes have been received from E. P. Bailey, Gerald Johann, Sydney Lovell, E. Cutting, Arthur Ham, L. Wrigley, C. Sullivan, M. D. Mayhew, A. K. Smith, R. J. K. Pyne, Dougherty, C. Leadbeater, L. W. Smith, H. E. Taisey, Murray Woodman, Jack Brown, G. H. Wormsley, and Fred Wormsley. More will no doubt be received as time goes on.

It is a source of great satisfaction to the Cigarette Fund officials and to all who subscribed to the Fund, to know that the smokes are getting there. One can see from the letters that they mean more to the boys than just a cigarette. They are a proof that we on this side of the water, do not forget them.

Contributions to the Fund are welcome, and may be handed to Mr. C. Smith.

YOUR FEEDING ADVISOR

By LARRY MERRIGAN HOW TO RAISE GOOD CALVES AND HEIFERS

Some people will say or tell you that to raise a calf there is nothing better than milk. That is wrong. I have seen many calves raised on milk and although they look nice, you are not in the milk business to have calves that look nice but rather to have calves that are grown large in youth so as to become your future milk cows. I do not mean that your calves should not look nice when you start them off for future milkers. No, I simply mean this: You can grow calves better on feed, they will look better, grow faster, become cows quicker, and you will have returns in milk much sooner than you would have if they were grown to four months on milk alone. The only milk needed in starting off a calf is from 175 lbs. to 250 lbs. This they drink in the first twenty-eight days, but they are fed during this time on meal, hay, block salt, and water.

LET THE CALF SUCK 3 DAYS The first milk, called colostrum, is especially needed by the calf because it is laxative and starts the digestive system working. As soon as a calf is able to stand, help it to suck. Then allow it to nurse its mother for three days. Milk out udder about half way through the three days. Don't take out all the milk. Leave calf with the mother or take it back to the mother for five minutes three times each day. If at all possible, it is wise to have a separate indoor pen for the calves away from the cows. Try and keep the very young calves away from older ones because they might be rough on the little ones. From ten days to four months you can pen them up together. Teach the calf to drink from a bucket when four days old. Space does not permit me to give the scale of milk to be fed up to twenty-eight days, but I can get copies of the chart, if you write in for it. Keep the milk at the same temperature every day. If it is too hot or too cold it might upset digestion. For best results feed milk at about 3.5 per cent fat content. Jersey or Guernsey milk usually is so rich it should be diluted with one quart water for every three quarts of milk.

MAKE CALF STRETCH ITS NECK WHEN DRINKING MILK This is most helpful in keeping down scours. When the calf drinks with its head too low, the entrance to its first stomach is opened, and milk flows into the second stomach. This stomach is made only for digesting dry feeds. Milk has a tendency to sour in it, causing scours. Hold the bucket up and out. This makes the calf drink in a straight out position, and by holding the bucket out, you make it stretch its neck.

TEACH THE CALF TO EAT ON THE 4TH DAY It is important to teach the calf to eat as quickly as possible. Teach him to eat a good meal by putting a little in your hand and forcing into her mouth right after she drinks her milk. She'll soon get the sweet taste and learn to nibble it from the trough. Another important thing to always remember is to put the trough in a bright spot so the pen where she spends most of her time. Calves do much better when dry feed and water are in front of them so that they can nibble at it through the day.

Many dairymen prefer timothy or mixed hay to alfalfa or vane hays because calves sometimes over-eat on these latter hays and get scours. A good calf feed should be kept in front of the calves 24 hours a day, but should never be allowed to get musty or moldy. When new feed is added, the old feed should be thrown up and put on top—so that it will be thrown away if it is musty or sour.

NO PASTURE OR SILAGE FOR 4 MONTHS They fill up on these soft, juicy feeds and never develop dry milk. It is best to keep the calves in the barn to four months, or let them run in a small lot free of grass.

Always remember that much of the success in raising a calf is determined by what you do in keeping the pen in a sanitary condition. Do not keep your calves in damp or drafty barn or pens. Clean out the wet litter, because this is the start of most calf trouble.

HOW TO FEED WITH SKIM MILK If you have skim milk you're pretty sure to have less scours and pot bellies, and to have big heifers if you self feed a calf feed along with it. After a calf is a month old, withhold milk for seven days to start in eating dry feed steadily. Then give two quarts skim milk twice a day and keep the calf feed in front of the calf—fresh fed daily.

HEIFERS At four months stop feeding the calf feed, and switch to a dry and freshening ration. Not a milk ration. Make sure the ration is body building because if it is not, you are only wasting your money. Do not kick the calf out into the pasture and let him learn to feed himself. If you do you are wasting the money you spent and a good calf feed. Make sure that the heifers get one gallon of feed per day while on pasture. Silage does not have enough feeding value for its bulk and will not give the best results before the heifer is twelve months old.

BREED AS SOON AS BIG ENOUGH Heifers of the following weights are fully big enough to breed: Holsteins, 700 lbs.; Brown Swiss, 750 lbs.; Ayrshires, 650 lbs.; Guernseys, 550 lbs., and Jerseys, 500 lbs.

CALF TROUBLES—HOW TO OVERCOME THEM Scours—Some scours (infectious white scours) are a germ disease and have nothing to do with feeding. This form of scours usually shows up within a week after the calf is dropped. It is best to call a veterinarian for the treatment of individual animals. The calf usually gets the germ from the bedding or from the scours of another calf. The germs often enter through the navel cord. As soon as calves are born, cut the cord 2 1/2 inches from the belly and soak it with iodine. The best way to stop this is to scrub everything in the pen with a chlorine solution. Scours may be caused by digestive upsets. You can stop scours like these by the following method. Give calf 1 ounce mineral oil. Make a mixture of one part of salol, two parts of sub-nitrate of bismuth. After each feeding for several days put a quarter of a teaspoonful of the above mixture on the tongue of the calf.

PNEUMONIA When a calf goes off feed, gets weak, breathes fast and hard, has a dry nose, chances are it has pneumonia. Remove from others at once to prevent spread of disease. Call a veterinarian for treatment. Make sure the calf pen is clean, dry, and airy, but free from drafts. Two raw eggs every day may bring back strength and appetite.

EAR AND TEAT SUCKING Very undesirable because calf may get hair balls in its stomach. It may cause blank quarters in the udder. Calves usually start this habit just after they get their milk. Keep them tied up until their mouths are dry.

DEHORNING CALVES When calf is two to four weeks old, scratch tips of horn buttons. Put a ring of vasoline or axle grease around them. Then rub with a stick of caustic potash (which can be bought at any drug store for a few cents). Stick should be moistened before using. Wrap it in paper to prevent it burning fingers. A scab will form in a few days and the horns will never develop. Dry milk if blood too hard and don't let caustic run into calf's eyes.

SUBMARINES IN EXTENDED HUNT OF AXIS CRAFT

Pair of Roving British Submarines Return Home After Bagging Fourteen Enemy Vessels.

By FOSTER BARCLAY (Canadian Press Staff Writer) A British Port, May 1.—(P)—Flying "Jolly Roger" flags, decorated with symbols denoting victories over enemy shipping, the submarines Ulnest and Talsman have arrived home after months of undersea adventure and excitement in the Atlantic and Mediterranean. Their "kill" included at least twelve ships, a cruiser and a submarine.

Around the grinning skull and crossbones of the Ulnest were eight white bars for torpedoed vessels, a red bar for an Italian cruiser of the Trieste class, a red bar for a successful gun action and eight daggers for other victories. The Talsman's "Jolly Roger" bore four white bars, crossed guns with a star for a successful shelling duel with a destroyer and a "C" with a bar through it for the destruction of a submarine.

The Ulnest, at sea for fifteen months, sank the cruiser during a daring attack on a heavily-escorted convoy and then weathered a fierce counter-attack launched by destroyers and other surface craft.

"Eighty-four depth charges were dropped around us," a seaman recalled. "One of our torpedoes was seen to strike home before we dived and a column of flame rose 200 feet. Later a R.A.F. pilot confirmed the kill.

"The biggest shaking we experienced during the patrols was when we torpedoed an Italian ammunition ship. It blew up with a terrific roar and we heard debris falling in the sea all around. Our lights went out and a hunk of flying soap hit the navigator behind the ear."

The Talsman, which patrolled 26,813 miles before being recalled home for a refit, was transferred to the Middle East a year ago after searching in vain for the German warships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst, operating on merchant shipping in the Atlantic. Then followed months of thrill-packed action during which the submarine was constantly attacked with depth charges and narrowly missed destruction when a destroyer attempted to ram her.

"We sighted what we thought was a U-boat and fired three torpedoes and then went to action stations," an officer said. "We loosed five shells and four hit what we imagined was a conning tower. The captain saw smoke and flames bursting out. We closed the hatches and found we were tackling an enemy destroyer. The destroyer turned to ram us but missed by about fifty feet as we dived. It was a crash dive in every sense of the word. The crew piled down the hatches, a jumble of legs, bodies and arms. One ran along the casing, climbed to the bridge and fell down the conning tower hatch. We believed the destroyer was badly damaged.

INDEPENDENTS CAPTURE MORE BRITISH SEATS

Government Candidates Met Defeat in Two Bye-Elections for British House of Commons Held Yesterday.

London, May 1.—(P)—Two more bye-election victories were scored in the revolt against Britain's wartime political truce when Independent candidates were elected to the House of Commons from Rugby and Wallasey.

In Rugby, W. J. Brown, Secretary of the Civil Service Clerical Association, defeated Col. Sir Claude Hobbrook, Government candidate, 9,824 votes to 9,145.

In Wallasey former Mayor George Reakes polled 12,596 votes to 6,584 for John Pennington, Government nominee, and 1,597 for Maj. I. H. Cripps, Independent, and brother of Sir Stafford Cripps.

"I won because the people are sick and tired of the party machines which took us into the war unprepared and have led us from disaster to disaster since," said Mr. Brown after he was declared elected in Rugby.

"My election is a call to the Government to settle its political differences with Russia to achieve unity of strategy and a command to open a second front and win victory this year."

The Rugby seat was vacated by Lt.-Cmdr. Reginald Fletcher and Wallasey by Lt.-Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, both elevated to the Peerage. In 1935 Fletcher, Labor, polled 33,237 votes against 28,000 for J. Moores, Conservative, and 7,384 for W. T. Stanton, Liberal. Moore-Brabazon polled 27,945 votes to 13,491 for J. Airey, Labor.

Today's Independent victories brought to three the number of Government defeats at the polls in recent weeks. Last month W. D. Randall, Independent, was elected from Grantham over Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Longmore, Government candidate.

"WELCOME" SIGN GOES

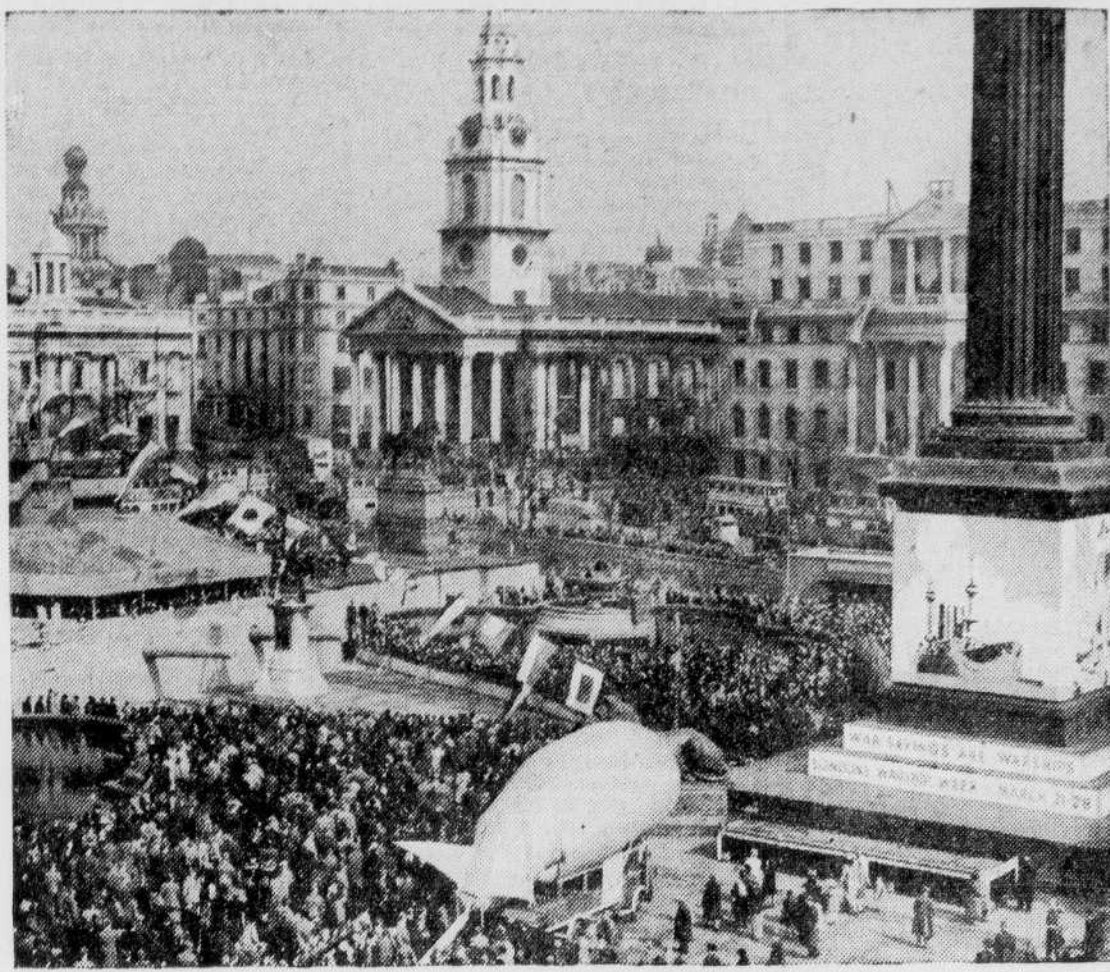

West Point, N.Y., May 1.—(AP)—The United States Military Academy, long a sightseer's paradise, will take in its welcome mat at midnight tonight. Under an order beginning today all persons entering the post, even spectators at football games, will be required to show a special pass.

however, because her engine revolutions dropped from 250 a minute to 55.

"Then came our duel with a U-boat. It was a simultaneous sighting at 700 yards, somewhere South of Crete. After an exchange of shots the U-boat captain must have decided to break off the action because he was in the act of diving when a shell caught him smack on the conning tower."

"Our course took us to within fifteen feet of the submarine and the commanding officer could see the red glow of flames in the interior of the boat beneath us. Then there was a soft muffled explosion and that was the end of the U-boat."

DOMESTIC AID IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, May 1.—(P)—Tired of trying to obtain domestic help, a Melbourne housewife advertised as follows: "Wanted, general. Beautiful home. Small family. No work. Wages $7.16 a week." Seven applicants took it seriously.

Telling the story, a registry office proprietress said it showed how far the pendulum had swung since the days when general servants were expected to do too much.

Common stipulation now are for no washing, no ironing, no scrubbing, no heavy work, plenty of time off. Parlor maids—if any—get $7.16 a week with keep and cooks up to $14.32 a week. The help shortage falls hardest on the family of four or five or more. It is difficult with all their expenses for them to pay the wages demanded so they have to go without.

WEATHER WOMEN NOW APPOINTED OFFICERS

London, May 1.—(P)—Commissions in the Women's Auxiliary Air Force now are open to women suitable for training as weather forecasters in the meteorological branch of the Royal Air Force.

Qualifications are high. A woman applying for the training must possess a science degree in mathematics or physics. After a course of practical instruction including work at the meteorological office of an R.A.F. station, the trained WAAF will be posted as a forecasting officer. Candidates must be British subjects under forty-one.

TWICE AS MANY HEADS SPOILED WITH PARTINGS

London, May 1.—(P)—Lillian Barker, only woman prison commissioner in Britain, told a luncheon that there are twice as many women in prison in Britain today than ever before. She believed the root of the trouble began in the home and grew through war conditions.

"We women must have been very lax in our education of young people to have allowed them to grow without ever learning to take responsibility," she said.

What was expected of children who had lived through the "blitz" and who had lost a great deal of education "they might have had" she asked. What could one expect from children who slept night after night in public shelters "which during the early part of the war were a disgrace and an abomination?"

TWELVE KILLED WHEN TORNADO SWEEPS KANSAS

Two Families Completely Wiped Out as Midnight Tornado Ripped Through Southern Decatur County Town.

Oberlin, Kas., May 1.—(P)—A midnight tornado ripped through Southern Decatur County yesterday killing twelve persons. Thirteen others suffered severe injuries.

The furious blast carried away two entire families were wiped out by the storm which slashed through a farming area South of Oberlin. A four-year-old boy, blown away, had not been found by rescuers hours later.

The city, itself, escaped damage. The furious blast carried away livestock and levelled farm buildings through an area of one-half mile wide. In several instances not a trace of the buildings remained. In others, only splintered boards showed where homes and stock barns formerly stood.

One victim, Mrs. Dale Paddock, was found on a creek bank, her head and shoulders driven into the ground by the twister. Her son vanished, her husband, the third member of the family was killed also.

Gus Leipner, his wife and daughter, were killed in the wreckage of their home.

Oberlin is in the Northwest corner of Kansas, about thirty miles South of the Nebraska line.

BOYNTON

Mrs. J. B. Wallace, of Ayer's Cliff, visited her niece, Mrs. Margaret Mosher, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brown, of Newport, Vt., spent a day at their home here and were tea guests of Mrs. Julia Merse.

Mrs. L. L. Vaughan, of Ayer's Cliff, called on Mrs. O. H. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mosher and family were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. W. Alexander, at Rock Island.

Neighbors and friends gathered in Mr. Dungeate's hall on April 25 to help Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Astbury celebrate their twentieth wedding anniversary, and to convey the best wishes of all to Mr. Thomas Keene, who is giving up farming and going to serve his King and country. The evening was spent in dancing and cards. Refreshments were served at midnight and the party broke up after singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "God Save the King."

HOSIERY COLOR RANGE LIMITED BY WAR BOARD

Newest Edict of Wartime Prices and Trade Board Limits Colors for Men's and Women's Hosiery.

Ottawa, May 1.—(P)—Orders prescribing a limited color range for men's and women's hosiery—full-fashioned and circular knit—were announced by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The orders were issued on behalf of H. G. Smith, Administrator of Knitted Goods.

Women members of armed forces auxiliaries were specially provided for in an order governing full-fashioned hosiery, authorizing Air Force blue, khaki, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps tan, gun-metal, black and any four additional shades of colors.

"Manufacturers may choose such four (additional) shades or colors and are not to make more than three changes a year in the color ranges so chosen," the announcement said. "Substitution of one shade or color for another will be held to constitute a change."

The order governing full-fashioned hosiery is effective immediately.

Another order, effective in the fall of 1942, prohibited manufacturers of circular knit hosiery from making any men's fancy half hose for sale at retail except in these basic body colors of cotton or wool: Black, grey mix, navy, blue mix, brown, brown mix, green and maroon.

No more than four body colors may be used in manufacture of any one line or style of such hose and no body color may be duplicated in any one line or style. Yarn on hand, or yarn actually ordered of a specified color, may be used, but the Board ruled that such yarn "when used up is to be replaced with one of the listed basic body colors until all colors different from the basic range provided have been eliminated from stock."

Ottawa, May 1.—(P)—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced an order standardizing varieties of plumbing and heating equipment and estimated the ruling will release enough metal to make 250 infantry tanks.

The order limits manufacture of boilers, heaters and hot water tanks to a prescribed range of size and types. Lines in little demand and for which standard sizes can be substituted have been cancelled.

"The nation's essential heating requirements will be met, without waste, without frills, and thousands of tons of heretofore idle metal will

STUDY PROBLEM OF DELIVERIES OF NEWSPAPERS

United States War Transportation Board Clamps Down on More Than One Delivery of Newspapers Daily.

Washington, May 1.—(P)—The problem of multiple deliveries of newspapers, presently facing a ban under a Government order effective May 15, probably will be considered on an industry-wide rather than an individual basis, a United States Office of Defence Transportation spokesman said yesterday.

As the order stands, no more than one delivery may be made to any person in any one day—which would have the effect of ending the present practice of delivering several editions of a newspaper daily to the news-stands. The order applies to all commodities, and prohibits all special deliveries by rubber-tired vehicles, including special delivery mail.

However, a representative of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association has been conferring with Defence Transportation officials and has indicated a request will be made for modification of the local carrier delivery order as it applies to newspapers, the spokesman said. He explained it is unlikely such requests will be handled on an individual newspaper basis.

REEDSDALE

The L.O.L. and L.O.B.A. meeting was held in the New Orange Hall at Campbell's Corner, on April 27. There was a good attendance in spite of the poor travelling conditions. Lunch was served by the ladies and a pleasant time was enjoyed.

Mr. Ernest Wright spent a week-end in Theford Mines. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Wright, who has spent a number of weeks there.

Mrs. W. A. Kinnear has gone to Beebe, where she will spend the next few weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Nutbrown, and Mr. Nutbrown.

The many friends of Mr. Henry Toner are glad to know he is improving in health.

Mr. Chester McIntyre spent a week-end at his home here.

The poll for voting on the plebiscite was at the home of Mr. A. Dionne.

CAMILLI CLOUTING DIRECTS DODGER DASH

Two Homers By Burly Dolph Destroys Reds

Brooklyn Sweeps Slate at Cincinnati and Runs Spring Surge to 14 Victories in 17 Games—First Sacker Has Four Home Runs in Three Games—Cleveland Crushes Athletics 6-1, Extending Winning Streak to 11 Victories.

There was quite a ruckus about Dolph Camilli during the winter, most baseball fans will remember. By accident or design Brooklyn Dodgers obtained waivers on the stocky slugger who led the National League in 1941 in home runs and runs batted in, and was voted the most valuable player.

Perhaps fearing a holdout struggle and feeling that Camilli had reached his peak, President Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers discussed deals for him with New York Yankees and both Boston clubs. A trade might have been made, too, if New York Giants hadn't bought Johnny Mize from St. Louis Cardinals before MacPhail made up his mind whether he wanted him or not.

Now there is another rumour going on around Camilli. This time the veteran first baseman is causing it with his big war club. After being ill for five days and out of uniform, Camilli returned to the lineup this week in Brooklyn's important series with the Reds and hit four home runs in three games to help the Dodgers sweep the slate and run their spring surge to 14 victories in 17 games.

Yesterday the Dodgers were trailing 8-6 at the end of five innings. In the sixth Camilli hit his fifth homer of the season. In the eighth he singled the tying run across and in the ninth again homered, this time with two on to win the game.

The Dodgers also moved to bolster their pitching yesterday by buying

Schoolboy Rowe from Detroit for a price estimated at $15,000. The big fellow had started only one game for the Tigers this year and won it.

Cleveland continued to burn up the American League by crushing Philadelphia Athletics again 6-1 to extend its winning streak to 11 games. This, incidentally, equalled a streak the Tribe achieved last year from April 25 to May 5, inclusive.

Vern Kennedy kept the A's nine hits well spaced and Colonel (Buster) Mills put him in front with a single with the bases loaded in the first inning and drove in another run with a single later.

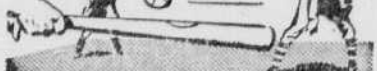

New York Yankees regained second place by pouncing on St. Louis Browns 3-0 behind the four-hit jurline of big Ernie Bonham, who raked up his second shutout and third straight triumph of the young season.

Earl Wynn pitched Washington Senators to a 1-0 decision over Chicago White Sox in a breathless mound duel with old Ted Lyons. The latter allowed only four hits to Wynn's five, but one of the Nationals' bingles was a triple by Stan Spence in the first inning and he came home on an infield out.

Boston Red Sox raided Detroit Tigers 8-3 with Dick Newsome pitching six-hit ball and Ted Williams shaking his slump for a homer.

Howie Pollet captured his first 1942 victory with a four-hit effort that brought St. Louis Cardinals a

Bill O'Brien Gives Testimony On Baseball Players' Superstitions

Montreal, May 1.—(P)—If you're one of those gents who believe "13" is an unlucky number or that you won't get toothaches if you put your left sock on first, then maybe you should have been a baseball player.

It's well known around the sporting fraternity that ball players are generally a superstitious bunch. One who can give testimony to this is Bill O'Brien, trainer with Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League.

For 35 years Bill has been handling athletes. Before going to Brooklyn this spring he had looked after the needs of Montreal Royals in the International Baseball League. During his long years in the business, Bill has gathered some rare anecdotes.

One of his prize yarns concerns George Stallings who managed Royals in 1928, the year they made their return to the International loop after being out of organized baseball for almost three decades.

Apparently Stallings was a major leaguer when it came to superstitions and would do anything possible to avoid running against the mysteries of the unknown. Among his worries was never to cross the diamond from the opposition's dugout unless accompanied by someone else.

On one of these jaunts in Buffalo, Bill was the party of the second part when suddenly Stallings cried: "Look!" and pointed to a woman wearing a yellow outfit sitting behind the Montreal dugout.

Bill insisted, and gave Bill some folding money to induce the woman to change her seat. The diplomatic venture failed, the woman standing on her rights that she paid for the seat and would keep it, despite the bribe.

For eight innings Royals couldn't do anything right and Buffalo Bisons

FOURTEEN HOME RUNS IN FOUR I. L. CONTESTS

Six Clouts at Buffalo Where Bears Crush Bisons 15-5—Royals Come from Behind to Top Chiefs 5-4 in Home Opener.

Baseball fans who like to see home runs are getting their money's worth in the International League these days.

Fourteen circuit clouts spiced the proceedings in four games yesterday, six of them at Buffalo where the pace-setting Newark Bears crushed the Bisons, 15-5. Four homers were hit at Rochester and two each at Toronto and Montreal.

Newark bombarded five Buffalo pitchers with 19 hits, five of which were for four bases each. Lloyd Christopher and Bill Johnson developed two homers each and Bud McHenry got one.

Lambert (Dutch) Meyer, recently acquired by the Bisons from the Detroit Tigers, smashed one of Johnny Babich's offerings for a three-run homer. It was Babich's third victory of the year.

Baltimore Orioles remained a half-game behind Newark by defeating Rochester Red Wings, 8-6. George Staier of the Orioles got two homers, each with two mates aboard. Ed Robinson of Baltimore and Jim Ripple of the Red Birds also hit for the circuit.

Jersey City Giants stopped a two-game Toronto winning streak, besting the Maple Leafs, 6-4.

There were only two homers in this game, one by Buster Maynard of the Little Giants, and the other by Nick Gregory of Toronto.

Montreal Royals let the Syracuse Chiefs do all the home run hitting as they won out over the Chiefs 5-4 with a two-run rally in the last of the ninth. Ed Lukon and Eddie Shoes hit home runs for the Chiefs.

Dominoes Outscore Montreal Oilers 40-36 to Assume 2-1 Lead in Best-of-Three Series for Canadian Cage Championship—Ronnie Wilson, of Montreal, Tops All Players with 24-Point Spree—No Kick from Westerners on Officiating.

Montreal, May 1.—(P)—The battle over the officiating a thing of the past, Victoria Dominoes today needed only one victory to be crowned Dominion senior basketball champions for the fourth time in less than ten years.

The Dominoes, playing the kind of basketball for which they are noted, handed Montreal Oilers a 40-36 beating last night in the third game of the Dominion best-of-five final and thereby took a 2-1 edge in the series. The fourth game will be played here Saturday night.

Dave Nichol, the Manager of the West Coast team, who had protested over the officiating during the second game, expressed himself as "satisfied" with the Referees, Chuck Malis and Frank Ulley, of Montreal.

Dominoes had to fight hard to hold onto a lead they took early in the game as the Montreal quintette came back again and again and all but took the advantage late in the contest.

Ronnie Wilson, who paced the Oilers when they ousted Trenton R.C.A.F. Flyers from the playdowns in the Eastern semi-finals, was the leading scorer on the floor. The red-headed forward, a Sergeant in the
