THE SALOON IN THE WAY

Outremont Wants Annexation but Dreads the City Liquor Law

MUCH DISCUSSION AT THE MEETING OF THE ANNEXATION COMMITTEEE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Outremont is willing to be annexed to the city of Montreal; but only on the distinct understanding that the rum-shop be kept out of the limits of the present municipality, and that there be no immediate increase in the valuation of the unimproved land. There are other conditions, but these two appear to be the only ones there will be any difficulty about granting.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the annexation committee there were present Aldermen Lavallee, chairman, His Worship Mayor Cochrane, Aldermen Lesperance, Robillard and Robertson, Representing the suburban municipality of Outremont were Mayor Dunlap, Councillors Joyce, Beaubien, Lamoureux and Languedoc

Ald. Lavallee made some preliminary remarks about the advantages of annexation. The system of concentrating the municipal administration instead of dispersing it was clearly the right one. The system of many independent municipalities was wasteful at present and threatened to produce complications in the future. He looked forward to the time when the whole Island of Montreal should be under one great municipal administration. Meantime it was most desirable to make an effort to secure the annexation of the various suburban municipalities immediately adjoining the city, so that the thoroughfare system could be extended on a uniform system.

Mayor Dunlop remarked that the Council of Outremont was favorable to the principle of annexation to the city, but they felt it their duty to make sure that annexation would not be merely advantageous to the city but to Outremont as well. There was a dread among the people that there would be an immediate increase of taxation, for instance, and then the population feared the introduction of the liquor evil, which, like Westmount, they had succeeded in excluding from the municipality.

Mayor Cochrane said that he understood that, as it was, Outremont and the other suburbs paid as heavy taxes as the city. What was the rate in Outremont?

Mayor Dunlop:—'The regular rate of municipal taxation is six mills, against ten in the city.'

Mayor Cochrane—'And the school tax?'

Mayor Dunlop—'That is not yet determined.'

Mayor Cochrane—'Is that all your taxation?'

Mayor Dunlop—'We have a local improvement tax, under which the proprietors pay for street improvements.'

Mayor Cochrane—'I thought so; and with that your taxes are as high as they would be in the city.'

Mayor Dunlop—'Well, we compute that altogether our whole rate is about ten mills as against twelve and a half in the city; but that is charging our rate with the whole local improvement assessment and taking no account of your similar assessment in the city. Proprietors in the city have to pay a share of the cost of all sewers. That is a local improvement law, and you make people pay their share in a lump or nearly so, while we give our people forty years to pay their shares in.'

Mayor Cochrane—'In the city, proprietors get ten years to pay their shares.'

Mayor Dunlop—'Well, gentlemen, the fear prevails in Outremont, that if we annex, the assessments will be increased tremendously, and if we can be shown that that will not occur the way will be greatly cleared.

Councillor Beaubien brought up the question of the assessment of vacant lands. There was a great deal of farm property in Outremont, and it would simply ruin the proprietors to have to pay taxes on it if assessed at city values. If such a thing was feared the influence of the owners of such property would be able to block the annexation scheme. The councillors of Outremont had discussed this matter and they thought it only reasonable that the city should agree that for ten years after annexation there shall be no increase in the assessment of vacant land, unless in cases where the erection of buildings, opening of streets, construction of sewers, or other local improvements have actually increased the value of the property in question.

Several of the members expressed the opinion that this was a very reasonable request.

Councillor Beaubien at this point handed in a draft of suggested conditions on which Outremont was ready to discuss annexation. On this list, this question of the assessment of vacant land occupied the first place.

The other suggested conditions were as follows: The erection of a fire and police station, the extension of Park avenue and Mount Royal Park driveway through the Vaccine Institute to the Cote St. Catherine road, the removal of snow from the sidewalks in winter, the provision of street lightning, the extension of the Montreal street railway system to the new ward, the annual expenditure of at least $3,500 for the maintenance of the ward, 'by-law 77 of the city of Montreal shall not apply to the new ward before a special resolution of the City Council shall put it in force.'

Ald. Lavallee asked what the tabooed by-law was.

Mayor Dunlop explained that it was the by-law prohibiting the keeping of pigs in the city.

Councillor Joyce said that in addition to the conditions named, the people of Outremont would insist that they be kept free from the liquor evil. They had no saloon trade in Outremont, and did not want any.

Ald. Lavallee said he did not know how the distinction suggested could be made.

Councillor Joyce said that in that case the objection of the people of Outremont to the corner tavern might prove an insurmountable obstacle in the way of annexation. They would sooner remain as they were, without rum shops and with quiet evenings, and Sundays, than have to put up with the evils arising from the saloon business as so glaringly manifest in the city. In this matter Outremont followed the example of Westmount, which had successfully resisted all efforts of the liquor-sellers to invade its territory, and as a result it was a model residential town and attractive to respectable people. So far as he was concerned he would insist with all his might upon the condition that there should be a guarantee that saloons should not be allowed in Outremont Ward if annexation took place.

Mayor Cochrane said he feared that such a guarantee was impossible. It rested with the people of the ward themselves. If they did not want restaurants or saloons where liquor was sold, they had the right to sign against the petition which had to be presented to the license commissioners. This was the practice in Montreal. More than that the Mayor drew attention to the fact that the licenses in the city had already reached the limit, and could not be exceeded. He thought on that head the people of Outremont would be well protected.

Ald. Lavallee explained another reason. The city could offer no guarantee because the Legislature was higher than Montreal in such matters and could override such an agreement as that proposed as ultra-vires.

Mayor Dunlop asked if some exception could not be given to Outremont, and Ald. Lavalee replied it was impossible. The only thing to be done lay in the power of opposing the license in the regular way.

The matter was then allowed to drop, but later Councillor Joyce remarked that the Outremont people would not, perhaps, object to a grocery selling intoxicants by the bottle, but they are opposed to the sale of liquor by the glass.

Mayor Dunlop explained that Outremont has no debt unprovided for, and has contracted for no bonuses.

A sub-commitee was named to go into the questions raised in detail, and the meeting adjourned.

BASIS OF REPRESENTATION

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND DISSATISFIED WITH THE PRESENT PROVISIONS OF THE B. N. A. ACT.

The Hon. Arthur Peters, Premier of Prince Edward Island, who was at the Windsor yesterday on his way home from London, with the premiers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, remarked while here that he had intended to have matters concerning the representation of the Maritime Provinces in the federated Parliament fully discussed with the Colonial Secretary while in London and some definite plan of action decided upon. Unfortunately, however, the King's illness, followed by the accident which befell the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, prevented the matter in question being taken up with the Imperial authorities.

Action, however, he said, would be taken at Quebec when the three Lower Province premiers meet in the autumn to continue their discussion of the question of the inland fisheries which had been adjourned a few months ago.

Mr. Peters remarked that he had prepared an extensive brief on the question and he considered that his province at least had a strong case to present in favor of the modification of the British North America Act. Since the census of 1901 was taken, it had been generally understood that Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island would each lose one member out of their respective representations in the House of Commons of Canada.

When the Island entered Confederation in 1873, the province was given six members, and although this was reduced to five by the census of 1891, the British North America Act decrees that still another member has to be taken from the Prince Edward Island parliamentary contingent, as a result of the census of 1901.

Mr. Peters believes now that this is especially unfair to his province, in view of the conditions under which it accepted the union with the Dominion. When the negotiations were proceeding prior to the union, he said, the province then had but a population of 95,000, and as 17,000 was the unit for the purpose of representation, the Government of Canada was unwilling to give the new province six members in the House of Commons. The Island delegates held out, however, and, at last they secured the required number of members which made two from each of the three Island counties.

Mr. Peters now declares that although the population of Prince Edward Island has increased to 106,000, or a figure more than the required unit, they not only take away one, but still further propose to reduce the island representation to four. He contended that the special act by which Prince Edward Island became a part of the Canadian Confederation stipulated in spirit, if not otherwise, that the number of her representatives in the House of Commons would not be interfered with. This, he claims, was the point round which the negotiations hinged, and had the delegates or people of Prince Edward Island for a moment dreamed that their representation would have been cut down they never would have consented to throw in their lot with the sister provinces.

CHINESE BODIES EXHUMED.

The Remains of Eleven Have Been Shipped to China

PERMISSION FOR THEIR REMOVAL FROM MOUNT ROYAL CEMETERY GRANTED BY THE SUPERIOR COURT.

The bodies of eleven Chinamen who have died and been buried in Montreal during the past six years, have been exhumed and shipped to China.

The major portion of these Chinamen who have passed away have parents, wives and children in the flowery kingdom, and it is they who have sent on the necessary funds for the return of the bodies to receive final interment. The bodies have been in Mount Royal Cemetery for the past five or six years, with the result that only the bones are left. These have been carefully and reverently placed in hermetically sealed tin boxes and have been sent to Vancouver, B.C., for shipment by the Canadian Pacific steamships.

Before the exhumation took place, however, there was quite an amount of legal formality gone through. Proceedings had to be taken in the Superior Court before a judge in chambers, and after proof had been shown the judge gave the necessary documents authorizing the Cemetery Trust to exhume the bodies.

One of the principal Chinamen of this city, who has taken a great interest in looking after the moral and spiritual welfare of his countrymen, is Mr. Chin Nom Sang, principal of the Chinese Mission School, Lagauchetiere street, and assistant to the Rev. Dr. Thomson, Chinese missionary. The principal, who speaks English fluently, said this morning that the bodies exhumed were those whose friends requested it or those who expressed a wish themselves to be buried in their native land. There was no insurance or other society interested in the case, but everything was done solely in acquiescence to the wishes of the deceased's friends. Continuing, Chin Nom Sang said that on the Pacific route no Chinaman is buried at sea. Each vessel carries four coffins, and the Chinamen insure themselves when purchasing their tickets, so that in case of death the shipping companies embalm the bodies and return them to China.

YACHTMEN BUSY

DIFFICULTY IN SELECTING A DEFENDER—LOCAL CREW NOT YET CHOSEN.

During the past few days there has been considerable talk regarding the construction of the new yacht, the 'Trident,' many claiming that she has been built in opposition to the rules governing the Seawanhaka cup races, and that if so she will not be eligible as a defender. Local yachtsmen are in no way concerned regarding this matter, as the 'Trident' has been modelled and built within the rule governing the construction of Seawanhaka cup raters, and should the 'Trident' prove her superiority as a sailor, she is certain to be selected as a defender to meet the United States challenger.

If such a thing as a protest should be lodged against the 'Trident,' they do not consider that there is the least possibility of its being maintained.

Article VI., on conditions governing the cup, in the book of rules, says:—'The representative yachts of the challenging and challenged clubs must be constructed in the respective countries of such clubs. Centreboards or plates or sliding keels shall always be permitted in construction, and no restrictions shall be placed upon their use.'

THE 'TECUMSEH'S' CREW.

The members of the 'Tecumseh's' crew went out to Dorval this morning and are now comfortably quartered at the Royal St. Lawrence Yach Club house. They are much impressed with the Lake St. Louis surroundings and, above all, by the cordial welcome extended them by the officers and members of the local club.

The 'Tecumseh' is now under sail, and it is expected that she will be taken out on the water for her first spin this afternoon. Much interest is being evinced in her initial sail to-day. She is considered a formidable opponent.

LOCAL YACHTSMEN MEET.

A special meeting of the sailing committee was held last evening at Dorval, when matters relative to the coming races were discussed. No final decision has yet been reached regarding the crew to sail the defender.

THE FINAL CHOICE.

The splendid showing of the 'Osma' over the 'Trident' yesterday afternoon proved that there is a possibility of the former boat being selected as defender if she maintains her splendid showing of yesterday against the 'Trident' in future races. However, the Dorval yachtsmen are determined to try both yachts to the very limit, and it is quite possible that a final selection will be made before Saturday night.

DEFENDER'S SKIPPER.

The selection of Mr. C. H. Routh as skipper to sail the defender in the coming races, as intimated in the 'Witness' on Thursday last, is meeting with general approval among yachtsmen. The ability of Mr. Routh as a capable and experienced yachtsman and sailor is well and favorably known, and in his hands the defender against the United States challenger in the coming Seawanhaka cup races is considered quite safe.

WINNIPEG SCULLERS ARRIVE.

Brockville, Ont., July 29.—The Winnipeg scullers, who will take part in several events in the C. A. A. O. regatta, arrived last night, and are the first on the scene. They are a big, husky lot, and confident of making the eastern men take back seats. Perfect arrangements have been made for the reception and entertainment of the visiting oarsmen.

IRON, STEEL AND COAL

MR. JAMES ROSS TALKS ABOUT THE SYDNEY WORKS.

Mr. James Ross, president of the Dominion Iron & Steel and Coal companies, arrived in Montreal last evening after spending several weeks in Cape Breton and Lower St. Lawrence towns. Mr. Ross had a few interesting things to say about affairs down by the sea. Speaking of the iron manufacturing business in which he is chiefly concerned, Mr. Ross said:

'Besides the pig iron, we will probably turn out this month ten thousand tons of steel, the cost being about half of what it was when we began to manufacture last Februrary. I have also just received the returns from the Coal Company, and I find that the net earnings for March, April, May and June show an increase of $300,000 over the same four months of last year.'

Mr. Ross said that the company was getting down the cost of the material for steel manufacture every month, Last month the company had all its ore delivered at Sydney at less than one dollar a ton, which was thirty-five or forty percent less than what the same ore cost them last year.

He expressed satisfaction over the fact that the steel made at Sydney was of the best quality, and not a single complaint had been received from any of the customers.

Mr. Ross spoke of the greatly increased market that would be created by the establishing of other industries for the use of steel, and if the company finds that such corporations of good financial standing are wanting they will probably build other mills themselves. The three buildings which will constitute the rail mill are, Mr. Ross said, practically completed, and the machinery is being brought on the ground with all necessary speed.

As for the Coal Company Mr. Ross said he thought the July output would not be less than 300,000 tons. Last year 850,000 tons had been sent up the St. Lawrence, the quantity coming this way this season would reach over a million tons.

AT BISLEY

CANADA WINS THE MACKINNON CHALLENGE CUP.

Toronto, July 29.—The 'Mail and Empire' special, dated Bisley Camp, July 28, says: As if to compensate for the reduced winnings of the team this year, Canada won the 'Mackinnon' challenge cup to-day, and there is great rejoicing in the Canadian hut. The score of the Canadians was 1,375. The next teams in order were: England, 1,340; Scotland, 1,317; New Zealand, 1,296; Rhodesia, 1,267; Natal, 1,228; Australia did not finish.

There is only one prize, the cup, and, in addition the amount of the entrance, $20, from each team is refunded, less twenty-five percent deducted by the association. Last year the cup was won by Scotland under very different conditions, with Canada second and England third. It will be remembered that this trophy was fired for on July 18, when a dispute arose owing to Scotland having exceeded the time limit, at the first range, 800 yards, in consequence of which a protest was filed by Lieut.-Col. Burland, commandant of the team, and the decision was that the cup should be shot for again.

The match is open to teams of twelve men from the British Isles or the colonies, the ranges being 800, 900 and 1,000 yards, ten shots being fired at each range. At the 800 wards range the scores were Canada, 513; Australia, 504; New Zealand, 502; Natal, 498; England, 498; South Rhodesia, 480; Scotland, 478.

At 900 yard range Canada, 479; Australia, 471; England, 475; New Zealand, 466; Natal, 430; South Rhodesia, 449, and Scotland, 489; the latter the highest.

Canada made 384 at the 1,000 yards range. Australia had 17 shots to fire when the time limit was reached and finished with an aggregate of 1,197.

The 'Belgian' challenge cup, open to teams of ten volunteers, was won by New Zealand. The cup is given by the Chasseurs Eclaireurs of Brussels and the Belgians who visited Wimbledon in 1866 and with it goes a prize of a hundred dollars. Eight rounds are fired at 600 yards.

GULF OF CALIFORNIA

Tornado Works Havoc on Water and Shore

PUBLIC BUILDINGS WRECKED AND PASSENGER STEAMER SUNK.

San Francisco, Cal., July 29.—A special from Tucson, Ariz., says that a tornado visited the Gulf of California on Thursday night, wrecking and damaging many buildings in the coast cities. The wires have been blown down and news of the disaster has just been received.

At Guayamas five vessels in the bay were dashed ashore and sunk. Two of them, the 'El Luella' and the 'El Gravina,' were large steamers engaged in coastwise trade. The public buildings containing the offices of the harbor master and collector of customs were destroyed. The residence of the British vice-consul was unroofed and otherwise destroyed. The municipal hall and city prison were damaged. The streets of Guayamas in many places were strewn with fallen trees and wreckage.

At Mazatlan the 'Pomerey Ruby,' a large passenger steamer, was driven ashore and sunk. Five passengers were drowned, and the rest reached shore on wreckage and driftwood.

Between Guayamas and Mazatlan a great deal of wreckage drifted ashore, and it is supposed that many small vessels and a large number of lives were lost.

Austin, Texas, July 29.—Central Texas was last night visited by one of the most terrific rain storms ever known in this section. In this city the rain came down in a regular deluge, flooding the principal streets of the city from curb to curb and washing into many of the stores. Rivers and small streams are out of their banks and railway service is seriously interfered with.

FATAL STORM IN PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 28.—A terrific thunder and lightning storm visited this section this evening causing three deaths and much property damage. The killed are:—Mrs. Kate Walsh, of Eureka street; Francisco Imperatora; Costello Matteo. Mrs. Walsh died from shock caused by lightning. The two Italians were of a gang of ninety working at Unity. When the storm broke in its fierceness the men sought shelter under some trees near by. Lightning struck one of the big oaks and the two men were killed instantly.

Five others of their fellow workmen were severely injured, but will recover.

Throughout the city and suburbs the storm inflicted considerable damage in the way of overflowing sewers, flooding cellars, etc.

In Hazlewood the Presbyterian Church was struck by lightning and the steeple thrown over, but no one was injured.

At Hays Station, Streets Run overflowed its banks and flooded the village. Quite a number of the residents had to flee for their lives, so quickly did the rise come. So far as known, all escaped injury.

'COLONEL' ARTHUR LYNCH,

HIS CASE ENDED IN POLICE COURT—REMANDED TO GIVE COUNSEL TIME TO REVIEW THE EVIDENCE.

London, July 29.—The case of the government against 'Colonel' Arthur Lynch, who was elected to represent the city of Galway in the House of Commons, and who was accused of high treason, ended in the police court to-day and Lynch was remanded to give his counsel opportunity to review the evidence. Among the last witnesses called to identify Lynch were George Grigg, an American, who was caretaker of a mine near Johannesburg, and another American named Worthington. Both these witnesses testified that they were arrested by Boers, near Vereeniging, charged with being British spies, and that Lynch acted as public prosecutor at their trial.

ANTHRACITE COAL

SUPPLY NEARLY EXHAUSTED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, July 29.—It is stated on reliable authority that the supply of anthracite coal in the hands of railways and dealers here will probably be exhausted by the middle of September at the present rate of consumption.

The report that the railways are turning over to the retailers supplies which they have been holding in reserve since the beginning of the strike is said to be untrue. In only one important case, it is stated, that of the Pennsylvania Railway, have any of the railways released the coal seized by them in May. All the others retained what they had for their own purposes. Pennsylvania Railway could use its soft coal and this was the reason it turned over a supply of anthracite to some of its trade the past week.

CROPS IN ONTARIO

RECENT HEAVY RAINS HAVE DONE LITTLE DAMAGE.

Toronto, July 29.—The recent heavy rains throughout the province do not appear to have done much damage to the crops with the exception of hay, which was cut and which the continuous wet weather prevented from being cured. It has, therefore, in most cases, rotted on the ground and seventy-five percent of it is estimated to be more or less damaged. The injury to the grain crop seems to be confined mainly to the soft white wheat which the rains have prevented being harvested and which is sprouting in consequence.

IN MANITOBA.

Winnipeg, July 29.—Weather conditions continue most favorable for the maturing of wheat, which promised to be the greatest crop in the history of Manitoba and the Territories. Edmonton reports as follows:—'Over a week without a break in the most magnificent weather has improved the crops surprisingly. There is now very little complaint as to crops being either light or backward. Wheat is in the bloom and oats are barley are in head. The warm, clear, breezy weather is doing thousands of dollars' worth of good work every day. There are less weeds than usual. Haying has commenced. The crop is heavy and with a continuation of the present weather an immense quantity will be put up. The roads have dried up wonderfully and in the town the streets are dusty.

The Canadian Northern Railway reports for Manitoba show fine weather yesterday with light local showers on Sunday. With a continuation of such, No. 1 hard, and lots of it, will be the rule. Barley and early grains are ready for the binder in some localities.

CANADIAN NORTHERN

TRADE COUNCIL MAY PLACE IT ON ITS BLACK LIST.

Winnipeg, Man., July 28.—At the request of the Canadian Northern Railway strikers, an authorized committee of the Trades and Labor Council, waited on the Local Government on Saturday to see if an amicable adjustment of the differences between the strikers and the railway could not be arrived at. The Hon. Robert Rogers, acting premier, said he would do all that lay in his power to bring the matter to a satisfactory settlement, and promised to interview Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, who was to arrive in Winnipeg at three o'clock. After seeing Mr. Mackenzie, Mr. Rogers notified the committee by telephone that Mr. Mackenzie refused to recognize the strikers. The Trades Council has called a special meeting of the council for this evening, to consider the advisability of placing the Canadian Northern Railway under the ban of organized labor.

KING EDWARD

AFTER THE CORONATION THEIR MAJESTIES WILL GO TO BALMORAL.

London, July 28.—Soon after the coronation, Aug. 9, their Majesties will go to Balmoral Castle and remain there for a few weeks. The air there is expected to assist the King to recuperate.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 28.—An official bulletin issued to-day says: The King's health continues excellent and the wound is healing rapidly. His Majesty was able to be moved from his couch to his wheeled chair for a few hours yesterday.

(Signed), TREVES.

London, July 28.—The arrangements for the coronation continue steadily. Most of the previous arrangements still hold good. It has been decided not to alter the steps at Westminster Abbey, which shows that the officials have no fear of the King's ability to walk to his appointed place there.

London, July 29.—The 'Times' is encouraged to believe that the King's transference to a wheeled chair, in which there is presumably some approach made to an upright position, is a prelude to an early attempt at walking some distance. It says that the vague rumors of a probable or possible further postponement of the coronation, which have been lately in circulation, are effectually disposed of by the publication this morning of the police regulations for the appointed day. Everything is a half-hour later than was originally arranged, which time is saved by the omission of the litany and sermon at Westminster Abbey. It is noticed with satisfaction by many that fewer barriers are thought necessary in the streets.

HIGH TAXATION IN TORONTO.

Toronto, July 29.—The City Council yesterday adopted a by-law for the items illegally struck out of the public schools estimates for this and last year. According to the by-laws, the total tax rate for the city will be 20.37 mills, the highest in the history of the city. The amount required for the school estimates is $109,910.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 29.

IN AND ABOUT OTTAWA

Trouble Expected Over Sunday Band Concerts

LORD DUNDONALD ALREADY POPULAR.

Ottawa, July 28.—Prof Leake, who has charge of the teaching staff of the McDonald training schools in Canada, entertained the students at the Summer School to-night. There were a hundred students present. Prof. Robertson delivered an address.

Ottawa will celebrate the crowning of King Edward with a big fireworks' display on Monday night, Aug. 11. It is thought that the coronation, taking place on a Saturday, made it inconvenient for business men and practically rendered it impossible to have a jubilation, in which all could participate.

The residence of Mr. Stephen Martin, Gloucester township, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at about five thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance.

Captain E. W. B. Morrison, D.S.O., editor-in-chief of the 'Citizen,' returned yesterday from his trip to Europe. Captain Morrison went over with the coronation contingent, and also visited the chief cities in Great Britain, and made a short visit to the French capital.

Some time ago a musical union with a charter from the American Federation of Labor was organized in Ottawa in which the 43rd Regimental Band, composed the chief part of the membership. The rival organization, the G. G. F. G. band, refused to join, and the outcome of the ill-feeling which has been engendered is that another union has been formed with a charter from the Knights of Labor. Both unions have a number of small musical organizations in membership, but the situation is that the two rival regimental bands have carried the competition to almost the extreme limit.

The 43rd Band gave a sacred concert in Rockcliffe Park on Sunday afternoon, having been engaged by the Electric Railway Company. There were about seven thousand people present, and it was announced that the concerts would be a feature of every Sunday throughout the warm weather. To-day trouble looms up, and steps are threatened to prevent the concerts as contrary to the law governing the observance of the Sabbath in Ontario.

Although in his new position for but a couple of days Lord Dundonald has already become quite popular with the members of the militia headquarters' staff. He is said to exceptionally affable and his subordinates feel none of the shyness expected in approaching so distinguished a soldier and a member of the aristocracy to boot.

A firm desirous of establishing in Canada a manufactory of porcelain enamelled bath tubs, soil pipe, and pipe-fittings is looking to Ottawa as a suitable site for such an industry, and has written the Mayor and council respecting the matter. Messrs. Bush and Piper, of Detroit, are behind the movement. They write that they propose to employ about a hundrel men the first year, with a possibility of doubling the number in two years. Men only and no boys or girls will be engaged, and good wages will be paid to enamel sifters, pattern men, and moulders. It is not stated that the promoters desire the city to supply the cite, but they intimate that to give the industry some local coloring they would like to see some local stock subscribed.

BAD FIRE AT PITTSBURG

FOUR FIREMEN INJURED AND HALF A MILLION DOLLARS DAMAGE.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Two buildings in flames, a prospect of a half million dollars damage and five injured firemen was the situation that confronted the Pittsburg fire department at daybreak this morning. The buildings on fire were those of Stewart Brothers & Company., No 917 Liberty avenue, the Denoon Bros. Paint and Varnish Company, No. 919 Liberty ave., and S. Ewart and Company, No. 921 Liberty avenue.

The injured firemen are:—Dougal Leech, lieutenant No. 30 engine company, head badly cut; Cornelius Buckley, hoseman, head cut; William Dalzell, William Reese, and Daniel Callagher, hands and face cut and burned.

The fire was discovered on the first floor of the building occupied by the Denoon Bros. Company.

The building was an eight story structure. In the cellar and lower floor were stored large quantities of paints, varnishes, turpentine, oils, etc. These, with paint soaked floors, furnished material that emitted a dense smoke and rendered the efforts of the firemen of but little avail.

In a short time a half dozen members of engine company No. 2 were on the fire escape in the rear, directing a stream into the second floor windows. They were on a level with the third floor and were pointing the nozzle downward. Without warning there was a dull report and a volume of flame belched out of the third floor windows. The flames struck the firemen full in the face. The men dropped the hose and writhed and struggled to get out of the reach of the withering heat. Some almost fell down the fire escape; others slid down the side railings and a couple hung by their hands until rescued by companions. The injured men were taken to hospitals.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Last night's Liberty street fire was not gotten under control until after 8 o'clock this morning. The Denoon and Stewart buildings, both eight story brown stone structures, were almost completely destroyed, while the adjoining building, occupied by the S. Ewart Co., wholesale grocers, was badly damaged. The total loss is variously estimated at from $200,000 to $300,000, with insurance covering probably by two-thirds.

The firemen injured by explosions are doing well and will all recover. The origin of the fire has not yet been determined.

ANOTHER RAILWAY MERGER

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL MAY GO TO THE HARRIMAN SYNDICATE.

A despatch from Chicago says it is reported that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway has been purchased by the Union Pacific.

The men who will come into control of probably the greatest railway in the west are Messrs. E. B. Harriman, William Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, George J. Gould and Jas. Stillman. Some of them already are large stockholders and one or two are directors of the St. Paul road.

Among the interests in St. Paul which are to give way to the new ownership are those of the Armours, of Chicago. Mr. Rosewell Miller, present chairman of the St. Paul board, probably will be succeeded by Mr. E. H. Harriman or some of the Union Pacific crowd.

The National City Bank-Rockfeller-Standard Oil interests, with a number of associated capitalists, are the people behind the deal. It has been reflected somewhat by the activity and gradual increase in the price of St. Paul stock in the last week or ten days.

The news of the purchase comes as a surprise to the public, including the stock brokers and speculators. St. Paul stock has been booming, apparently on the prospect of increased earnings as a result of the heavy crops and the general advance in the granger railway stocks.

There has been comparatively no public talk of a consolidation of the Union Pacific or the acquisition of one by the other. St. Paul eatnings have been unprecedented for months past and the talk has all been along the line of St. Paul broadening out and taking in other roads rather than its sale to any of its competitive or connecting lines.

The details of the purchase are as yet secret. public announcement of the deal may be delayed several days. Whether it is to be another Northern Securities combination, a merger of the Union Pacific and the St. Paul; whether the two lines will be put into one system or operated separately as they now are, but with a community of interest arrangement, are things the Chicago men interested have not been advised upon.

The only thing they knew this evening was that the deal had been closed.

The consolidation of the two roads would give the Union Pacific an entrance into Chicago, and would also make a continuous system from Chicago to the Pacific coast. The St. Paul has about seven thousand miles of lines, branches and trackage. The Union Pacific has about five thousand five hundred miles.

The Union Pacific is said to have about $30,000,000 of the high-priced Northern Pacific stock in its treasury bought on May 9, 1901, in the disastrous fight for control of that road. Much of the authorized stock not issued is against convertible bonds.

The combined capitalization of the two roads, including stocks and bonds, is $725,058,000.

THE 'OSMA' WINS.

Is the Best Boat in Light Weather

AMERICAN CREW WATCH THE RACES.

Two races were sailed yesterday afternoon on Lake St. Louis, but the first one was a failure on account of trouble with the 'Trident's' rudder. The second one showed that the 'Osma' is undoubtedly the better boat in a light breeze. It was a windward and return, and took over 65 minutes. This was on a race of rather less than the regulation two miles and return, and consequently would have run beyond the time limit in a cup race, unless the other two rounds of the three that make a race were rather faster.

The race started at 6.20, and began with a pretty piece of work by Routh sailing the 'Trident.' Just before the start he ran almost up to the steamer on the port tack, then, coming about, met the 'Osma,' sailed by Archbald, and being on the starboard tack, forced him to give way, crosisng the line just a second after the gun. The 'Osma' followed 34 seconds later, but soon caught up, and rounded the steamer a minute and eighteen seconds ahead. She lost most of her lead on the spinnaker-run back, crossing the line only fourteen seconds ahead, thus winning by forty-eight seconds, elapsed time. The elapsed times were:

	Beat.	Run.	Race.
The 'Osma,' (Archbald)..	35.21	32.40	1.08.10
The 'Trident' (Routh) ..	37.13	31.45	1.08.58

The trouble with the 'Trident' in a light wind is her great width (8 feet 4 inches). This gives her a greater wetted surface than the 'Osma,' and makes hre harder to heel properly. In beating yesterday the 'Trident's' crew were generally down to leeward, while the 'Osma's' were in the cockpit or getting up to windward.

The 'Trident' is now carrying the 'Thorella's' sail, the 'Thorella' having been dropped from the races. The light bilge-boards have been found sufficient for all purposes, and will probably be kept.

Mr. Jones, of Oshkosh, and his crew were on the 'St. Louis' yesterday, with Mr. T. Macdonald, commodore of the Bridgeport Yacht Club. Mr. Jones was asked if the 'Tecumseh' would scoop up the water in such waves as there had been in the earlier part of the afternoon (there had been frequent whitecaps).

'Why,' he said, 'you haven't had any heavy water.'

He explained that the water was decidedly rougher during the trial races at Bridgeport, where the 'Tecumseh' gave a very good account of herself. The lake at Oshkosh, where she was first sailed, was larger than Lake St. Louis, and rather deeper, so that it did not get up so much in a light breeze. He did not expect any trouble on that score. The American crew yesterday moved their quarters out to the Dorval club house, where they will stay till the races are over. Mr. Jones expected to get the 'Tecumseh' into the water to-day for a trial spin.

There will be more races this afternoon, and the yachtsmen are earnestly hoping for a good stiff blow, to make the 'Osma,' which is less stiff than the 'Thorella,' take in a reef, and give the 'Trident's' beam a chance to assert itself.

THE 'VAMPIRE.'

New York, July 29.—The report of the sale of his picture 'The Vampire,' to Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, for $18,400, is denied by Sir Philip Barnes.

ACCIDENTALLY POISONED

A LITTLE BOY DRANK SOOTHING SYRUP.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Cadieux, 270 St. Denis street, aged about three years, died on Saturday from the effects of an overdose of soothing syrup. Mrs. Cadieux, on Friday was putting away some old bottles that had contained medicines of various kinds, and left a number of them standing on a sideboard while she went up stairs for the baby. Returning in a few moments she saw that the older child, who, a few minutes before, was playing in the rear of the house, had mounted a chair and helped himself to the contents of a bottle of soothing syrup. Realizing the danger that might result from such a dose she lost no time in calling in Drs. Gagnier and Daigle, but their skill was unavailing and death ensued the following day.

SIR WILFRID IN LONDON.

Referring to the manner in which the views of Sir Wilfrid Laurier were received in London by the Constitutional Club and the National Club, the 'Patrie' says: 'Is it not a great spectacle, a spectacle calculated to move the heart of all Canadians, to see the representative of our nation state, in such a signal manner, to the two great British parties, his fine humanitarian and peaceful views, and the condemnation of the militarism into which some wish to drag us and which would put a stop to our intellectual and material progress.'

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

THE MEANING OF A FAN.

'A Japanese fan means nothing to you,' said a little Japanese merchant. 'You think the color and picture are pretty, perhaps. That is all; but to us, who know, the color, the shape, the decoration hold meaning.

'You think the landscapes are funny. We know they are pictures of real places, and we can name the shrines and temples and mountains and rivers. The men and women all look alike to you, but they usually represent historic characters, or characters in our romance and poetry.

'Fusiyama is just a mountain to you. It is sacred to us. You don't know our flowers and birds and their symbolism.

'I could give you this little paper fan with storks flying over it and you would never know that I was wishing you a long life, and you wouldn't understand that this cobweb design is for mourning.

'I can't look at a Japanese fan in any one's hand without having a whole swarm of associations and fancy and sentiment spring up and buzz in my head, and sometimes I wonder why you foreigners don't feel enough interest to wonder what your Japanese fan says and look up the meaning. I should think it would be an interesting fad, and you love fads.

'You see, there are many kinds of fans in Japan, and each kind has its own use. Even the dolls have their own fans, and the children have theirs.

'There's a tea fan, used only at the solemn tea feast. The little cakes are handled with it, but one doesn't use it to fan with.

'Our dancers and geisha girls have their own type of fan, decorated appropriately, and our jugglers carry fans that suit their trade. There is a kitchen fan to be used for bellows, and a bamboo water fan, that is dipped in water often while being used, so that it makes the air it stirs cooler. Almost every political event of importance in Japan has been pictured on fans, and very often the rulers have had to forbid the carrying of certain fans, because they spread trouble and sedition. You could have a whole history of Japan if you could find the right fans.

'Some of the old fans are not used now. The ancient court fans were folding fans of wood, decorated with silk artificial flowers, and each noble family had its own flower that no one else dared use.

'The war fan is of iron, covered with lacquer, and the generals have silk fans with iron sticks. Have you ever seen a dagger fan? The mobsmen in Japan carry them, but it is against the law to take them into China. Chinamen have them, all the same.

'Everybody carries a fan in China. It is even more general there than in Japan, and there's so much fan etiquette among the Chinese that I don't see how they have time to learn anything else.

'You know what fan stands for in Japan, don't you? No! Why, it is the emblem of life, and the rivet is the sword of the god Kashima.

'He received orders to subdue the world, so he ran his sword straight through the earth and left it there. The world would fall to pieces if the sword rivet were pulled out.

'The story suggested the making of the folding fans, but there's an old story which says that the widow of a famous Japanese patriot invented the folding fan. She went into a convent in Kioto after her husband's death, and when a great saint was dying of fever she cured him by folding a piece of paper and fanning him night and day. The nuns copied the paper fan, and the order is famous for its fans even now.

'Some day I will show you all my fans and tell you what each one means, but I don't see how you can buy fans, and buy more fans, and never ask, "What do they say; what can they tell me?" We Japanese always ask, "Why? What? Where?" about everything.'—'Kansas City Independent.'

ONTARIO PROHIBITIONISTS

Big Convention Opened This Morning

'BOTH PARTIES PROSTRATED BEFORE THE LIQUOR POWER AND SHAMEFULLY CORRUPT.'

Toronto, July 29.—The provincial prohibition convention, called by the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance, opened in Association Hall this morning at ten o'clock. The Rev. W. A. Mackay, D.D., of Woodstock, president, is supported on the platform by Senator Vidal and a number of representative prohibition leaders from all parts of the province. A large number of delegates arrived yesterday afternoon to attend the executive conference held to pass the various financial reports at the W. C. T. U. headquarters last night. Every delegate on reaching the convention hall was presented with a pamphlet containing a vigorous reply to the campaign assertions of Mr. O'Keefe, the Toronto brewer, and Mr. Davy, licensed hotelkeeper, that hotels cannot be maintained without the liquor bars. The pamphlet is signed by Mr. John S. Lucas, the veteran prohibitionist, who points to the phenomenal prosperity of the temperance hotel which he opened seventeen years ago, as a proof against such assertions.

In a stirring address the Rev. Dr. Mackay, the president, reviewed the recent prohibition crisis and said: 'In all probability another election is near at hand; parties are so evenly balanced that a crisis must soon be reached. From these elections friends of moral reform dare not hold aloof. We are prepared as never before to fight on the political field. Dr. Mackay declared that both political parties in Ontario are prostrated before the liquor power and are shamefully corrupt. (Cries of 'No,' and 'It's not true; counter cries 'It is true,' and applause.) Prohibitionists had reason to be greatly encouraged by the result of their efforts in the provincial election. Prohibitionists had changed the results in a great many constituencies and could no longer be ignored. The Ontario Government went into the last election, declared the president, as friends of the bar-room. 'It is to be hoped that the government has learned its lesson. If not it may fare worse next time.' Dr. Mackay closed with an appeal for unity in the referendum campaign.

Ald. Spence presented the executive report. In addition to urging a united campaign in the referendum, and a greater temperance pledge-signing campaign, the Alliance executive made these recommendations: That the president of the Prohibition Association in each county or electoral district be made a vice-president of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, thus giving each county representation upon the executive committee; that the first Sunday in September be chosen as the opening day of the coming campaign and that ministers be specially requested to preach temperance sermons upon that date or as near to that date as possible.

The Rev. Dr. Carman spoke in support of the executive recommendations. Dr. Carman said: 'Our eyes were set upon that objective date, Dec. 4. He would fling resentments to the winds and felt the necessity for prohibitionists to come together on a higher plane, and united, force the conflict. He believed the vote called for was within reach. (Applause.) He hoped to see politicians, liberated from partyism, take the platform in the referendum campaign.

Senator Vidal, honorary president of the Dominion Alliance, created a stir by taking the opportunity of declaring that Mr. Ross, the Premier, in quoting him as on record in favor of the referendum, made a fearful mistake, which was not true in the least degree. He considered the referendum act as a most outrageous thing and that no speaker had anywhere spoken too strongly in condemnation of it, but he regarded it as a duty to make the strongest effort possible to show the temperance strength by polling the largest vote possible. National prohibition would make the Dominion the greatest country in the world. He trusted at no distant date the majorities in favor of prohibition would be in power at Ottawa and Toronto.

Mrs. McKee, president of the Ontario W. C T. U., advocated 'more nerve at elections.' The W. C. T. U. regarded the referendum as a 'nefarious transaction.' The W. C. T. U. would not avoid the conflict.

Mr. W. W. Buchanan, the Rev. Dr. Eby, a nd a large deputation representing the Temperance Legislation League placed the reasons for the organization of that society before the convention.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY DEAL

PENNSYLVANIA SAID TO BE AFTER THE BOSTON & MAINE AND ITS ALLIES.

Boston, Mass., July 29.—The 'street' believes that the Pennsylvania Railway, already accredited with controlling the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway, has about completed arrangements by which it will direct the destinies of the Boston & Maine and the Maine Central, owned by the Boston & Maine. A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania, is now at Bar Harbor, and the ruling spirits of the affected railways are in close touch with each other.

The consummation of the arrangement would give the Pennsylvania Railway control of all seaboard points from New York East, and with the co-operation of the Canadian Pacific, which runs over the Maine Central tracks from Mattawamkeag to Vanceboro, direct communication with St. John. The Intercolonial, from St. John east, would make a direct line to Sydney, Cape Breton and to Halifax, thus giving the Pennsylvania and tributary lines control of every northern deep water port.

TO DISCUSS FAST LINE

BOARD OF TRADE MEETS THIS AFTERNOON.

The council of the Board of Trade conferred yesterday afternoon with representatives of the shipping interest, on the projected fast Atlantic line. Messrs. W. I. Gear, of the Robert Reford Company, Ltd.; D. A. Watt, of Messrs. H. & A. Allan; A. E. Cook, of Elder-Dempster & Co., and James Thom, of Furness, Withy & Co., stated their views, and then withdrew, leaving the council to discuss the matter. The council decided to call a special general meeting of the board for 3 o'clock this afternoon, to discuss the matter fully.

BOER GENERALS

URGE THEIR FELLOWS TO STOP BOTHERING ABOUT POLITICS.

Capetown, July 29.—Generals De La Rey and Botha were given an ovation yesterday at Stellenbosch. They were driven to he Town Hall and each of the two carriages was drawn by sixty students. At a luncheon which followed the students acted as waiters.

General Botha, in a feeling address, said the day of surrender was the most painful of his life, but now that it had been done he prayed earnestly that his hearers would consider it God's will. Although Afrikander nationality, in a manner, had been buried, it would remain the most important factor in the social life of South Africa. General Botha paid a tribute to former President Steyn's abilities as a statesman. 'Now, let us stop bothering ourselves about politics,' said the general, 'and try to make ourselves happy in South Africa because we have no home elsewhere.'

BOER PRISONERS

FIRST PARTY LEAVES BERMUDA FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Hamilton, Bermuda, July 29.—The steamship 'Roslin Castle' sailed for South Africa to-day with the first party of returning Boers, numbering 350 persons on board.

SHOT HIS WIFE

LOUIS HORSET CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Louis D. Horset, 44 Robin street, was arrested about four o'clock this morning by Constables Wilson and Gravel on a charge of attempted murder. He appeared before Mr. Lafontaine, the police magistrate, this morning but was unable to account for his action and was remanded to Aug. 5 for trail. When asked by the judge to explain his conduct he simply said 'I don't know why I did it.'

It appears from the story told by the police that there had been trouble between Horset and his wife. He reached home this morning about 3.30 o'clock and the shooting took place after angry words had been exchanged. His wife ran down stairs and he fired a shot after her which struck her in the thigh and took its course down the limb. Her cries for help brought neighbors and police to her assistance and she was taken to the hospital while her husband was taken to No. 3 police station. Horset appeared to be in an extremely nervous condition. He had to be held in the cells to keep him quiet, and acted like a crazy person.

TORONTO MACHINISTS STRIKE.

Toronto, July 29.—Little progress has been made towards a settlement of the machinists' wage difficulty. The men are asking an increase of fifteen percent but the employers point out that the present scale of wages is about fifteen percent higher than is paid by their competitors at several outside points and tendering for contracts under such circumstances knocks all profit out of the business. The firms affected are the Polson Iron Works, the Northey Company, John Inglis & Sons, and the Bertram Engine Works Company.

SHIPPING NEWS

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

Capt. H. N. Gould, of the Black Diamond line SS. Louisburg, reports having met, on July 24, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon dangerous pieces of lumber adrift, 50 miles S.E. ¼ S. of Cape Rosier, about 15 feet broad, by 20 feet long by 8 feet high, very solid and built of heavy timber bolted together. It would not be easily seen by a steamer at night or in a fog. It is believed by the harbor officials here that the lumber seen by Captain Gould has been thrown overboard by the horse ships returning from South Africa.

THE Y. M. C. A. CAMP.

The Y. M. C. A. camp at Lake St. Joseph, Ste. Agathe des Monts, continues to be well patronized, there being twenty-thre senior members now enjoying life under canvas. While the weather during the past week was hardly up to the July mark, as regards heat, it was fairly good, there being very little rain. Fishing has been exceedingly good this season; old campers stating that some record catches have been made, which encouraging fact, no doubt, increases the number of 'men behind the rod.'

A new feature of the camp this year is the addition of an excellent basketball ground, fully equipped, affording the many lovers of that game ample opportunity of enjoyment. Exploration trips and bonfires are still in line. However, there is something more down on the slate than the usual fun this week, viz., the annual Y. M. C. A. regatta which is to be held to-morrow.

The following senior members have visited camp so far this season: Messrs. John Roy, Y. M. C. A.; R. Shaw, Berliner Company; J. Atkinson, J. A. Ogilvy & Sons; A. E. Shaw, Gault Bros.; A. West, Montreal Rolling Mills; C. McBride, L. Cohn & Co.; T. M. Barrington, D. H. Hogg & Co.; H. Worrall, Montreal Rolling Mills; F. S. Robertson, Robertson & Co.; Geo. E. A GOOD OBJECTION.

The Outremont people have come straight to the point on the question of annexation to Montreal. The right and wrong of a matter is always the deepest and most lasting element in any question of policy. It cannot be denied that the suburbs of a city in asserting municipal independence have the ethical argument against them. Such suburbs are essentially parts of the city and absolutely owe their very existence to it. In so far as their interests differ from those of the city their action must be antagonistic to the good of what is essentially one organism. A revolt against united government can only be defended on the score that such community of government involves a wrong sufficient to warrant it. If it be true, as the Mayor of Montreal and Alderman Lavallée are convinced, that an act of annexation cannot guarantee immunity from the corner tavern, Outremont and Westmount have a very fair cause on which to stand out. The statement made by the Mayor that they would still be able to protect themselves by carrying round opposition papers and signing against individual licenses was, in view of the obvious and well-known facts, a mere trifling with the question. There is an infinite difference between a constitutional veto or a prohibitory by-law, and a condition under which the inhabitants would have to constitute themselves a perpetual vigilance committee. Mr. Cochrane knows very well that while such methods of defence work in emergencies when public opinion is greatly worked up, they are impotent against the steady pull of personal interest, backed, as it is liable to be, by the preference of license commissioners, some of whom have at times manifested a special pleasure in contravening the wishes of districts which set up to be better than their neighbors. Only make a business stand sufficiently attractive, by the presence, for instance, of a theatre or a railway station, and the commissioners are sure to see reasonableness in the demand for the license and utter unreasonableness in opposition to it. The city can give no guarantee, says the Mayor, as the legislature overrides the city in the matter of licenses, which is true. Where there is a will, however, there is a way. The legislature would be morally bound, we think, to give effect to such an agreement, and would probably do so if the city urged it. If it did otherwise it would be because the legislature was itself overridden by the liquor interest. If Outremont cannot get a guarantee of the immunity which it now enjoys, and which it is now in a position to maintain, it has, one would say, the highest ground which a suburban municipality could have for declining annexation. If Montreal treats that demand with contempt it has itself to blame if it cannot count into its territory and population that growing suburb.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Politics in the United States present many curious features just now. Although great issues are to be threshed out before the people in the fall elections for Congress, the men coming forward to do the threshing cannot be called great. Party organization and leadership are as effective as ever, but neither Republicans nor Democrats can claim any superiority over the other in their attitude towards serious questions. While Republican Senators and Representatives in the late Congress are to blame for not supporting the President in the correct position he assumed in relation to Cuba and the trusts, the Democrats cannot attack them for repudiation of national obligations and subserviency to the truste, because their Senators and Representatives are as deep in the mire as the others are in the mud. Meantime the President, in his public speeches, is doing all in his power to win the fall elections for his party by the enunciation of a sound policy based on right principles, in spite of the fact that his party in Congress went back on both. In a situation so mixed as this little is to be hoped for from the new Congress, however the elections may go. The great difficulty lies in reconciling the attitude of the Republican President with the action of the Republican Congress, and in fixing responsibility for existing conditions on either party. There are trust and anti-trust men in both, with the result that the political field is dominated by purely selfish money combinations, to which the national honor and dignity are matters of secondary consideration. There might be a chance for the Democracy in uniting under Mr. Cleveland and coming out squarely against all trusts and in favor of reduction of the tariff; but it is hopelessly split into factions who hate each other more than they do the common enemy. With confusion, suspicion and distrust dividing their ranks, the Democrats cannot hope for success. The weight of probability is, therefore, on the side of the Republicans having a majority in the next House of Representatives, unless some upheaval occurs of which at present there is no sign. The result would be a continuance of trust domination and the indefinite postponement of tariff reform. It is evident, however, that these are conditions which cannot continue for any length of time. A decline in present prosperity and the recurrence of hard times, which some economists apprehend to be possible about the time of the next presidential election, would probably produce a storm that would clear the political atmosphere and hasten the inevitable change.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The South African war is no sooner over than the British Government finds a home war upon its hands which it does not seem competent to manage so successfully. When Mr. Balfour expounded the government's Education Bill in March last it was met with many expressions of misgiving by the organs of the Nonconformists which are for the most part outspoken opponents of the government. It was only by degrees, however, that the Opposition realized the meaning of the measure and the feeling against it has grown in volume and bitterness, and the question has become the all-absorbing one and is likely to be the determining one at the next parliamentary election. Mr. Forster's Education Act, when passed in 1870, was accepted by the Nonconformists, not as a finality, but as a great step in advance on the condition of educational destitution that had before that prevailed and as an earnest of a fairer law yet to come which they confidently hoped for. The fact that the law of 1870 actually revolutionized England in the matter of education, and the other fact that the board schools, or what we should call common schools, were constantly gaining on the church schools, made them patient under what they regarded as the injustice of taking the public money for the support of denominational schools which were more or less made use of as a propaganda for the established church no matter how objectionable such a course might be to parents or to taxpayers.

The Nonconformists were not, however, the only opponents of the school law. The advocates of the state church saw with chagrin the education of the country falling more and more into non-ecclesiastical hands and they used the opportunity of Lord Salisbury's premiership to concoct a measure that would reverse the current. We have said enough to show that it would be a complicated matter to explain how the bill accomplishes this by means of the incidence of taxation and otherwise, but we may assume that it does so from the jubilations of the High Church party and the unanimous and intense denunciations of the Nonconformists. In presiding over a meeting of protest, Lord Rosebery said the measure before parliament blasted the hopes of those who sought for religious equality before the law and 'laid down for all time a cast-'iron system of denominational man-'agement and a close corporation in 'the management of popular education.' 'It strikes down,' he said, 'to the very 'fundamentals of our constitutional system.' Canon Barker, an influential London clergyman, said at the same meeting that, as a Churchman he had listened to some hard doctrine that evening. 'But I have come here,' he cried, 'to raise my voice against an un-'just, an impolitic, and an unfair bill. 'The voluntary [Church] schools would 'derive from it great pecuniary help, but 'at the price of justice and fair dealing. 'The measure creates a very deep, bitter, 'and rancorous feeling among the peo-'ple, and especially among Nonconform-'ists. No government has a right to 'trample on the deepest convictions of 'a vast multitude of earnest religious 'people. Forty years ago Dean Hook 'would have stood by my side on this 'platform—yes, and Frederick Temple.' [the Archbishop of Canterbury].

The anger of the opponents of the bill culminated when, in reply to very strong representations as to the injustice of it, Mr. Balfour told a deputation, whose spokesman was Principal Fairbairn, of Oxford, that their attitude was prompted by jealousy of the church, that the bill was really a great boon to the Nonconformists and that the school boards which would be essentially church boards would certainly be made up of people who would act in a conciliatory manner. This last was too much for the protesters. They wished it understood that they were British citizens and did not propose to hold their rights by conciliating the clergy, nor indeed did they propose, law or no law, to pay taxes to a denomination. Dr. Fairbairn, in presenting the case to Mr. Balfour, plainly said on behalf of the Nonconformists of England, who were abundantly represented behind him, in the most courteous but in the most serious way, 'We should 'not be worthy of our citizenship if we 'did not frankly say that to the legisla-'tion which creates an ecclesiastical mon-'opoly in the schools we will not sub-'mit.' It was in reply to such very serious language as this from that element of the people whose steadfastness has won for England her liberties, and from the lips of a man eminently responsible for all he says, that Mr. Balfour with a look of injured innocence, talked of granting a boon, of jealousy of the church and of men who would treat them considerately. His unconciliatory attitude on that occasion and the disrespect it showed to men of the highest eminence was deplored even by newspapers entirely devoted to his cause. At the meeting which followed the Rev. J. Morgan Gibbon, referring to the taxes which many are determined not to pay, said: 'If this bill is passed we shall try 'what the inside of a prison cell is.' He presumably meant what he said, as the bill had a majority of two hundred and thirty-seven behind it at its second reading. It need not be said that it could not have such a parliamentary majority behind it, including Mr. Chamberlain, and that in the face of so serious and so valid an opposition if all looked upon it, like Lord Rosebery, as an assault upon the constiturtion.

ABOUT PERSONAGES.

An English periodical tells rather a characteristic story of the late Cecil Rhodes:—

The only person who proved one too many for Cecil Rhodes seems to have been an unimportant clerk, who some years ago held a position in Johannesburg. At that time Mr. Rhodes was Prime Minister at the Cape, and had occasion to refer to the clerk for some business information. The waiting-room was crowded at the time, and Rhodes was told that he must wait his turn. This did not please the 'African Napoleon,' for neither in Europe nor in Africa had he been accustomed to submit to rules.

'Please attend to me immediately,' he said to the clerk. 'I have no time to waste here.'

'One after another,' said the young man.

'See here, do you know who I am? I am Cecil Rhodes.'

'Of course, I know that,' was the reply, uttered with stoical calmness. 'But that does not change matters. You must take your turn.'

Then the great man became indignant.

'If you were in Capetown,' he cried angrily, 'I should have you discharged immediately.'

'Of course, I have heard that people lose their positions there because they do their duty,' said the official, with his same maddening calmness. 'We are not in Capetown here. This is a Republic.'

And the most influential man of a Continent had to wait until those who had come before him were attended to.

Since his recent resignation, anecdotes of Lord Salisbury naturally abound in the English press. Among the more striking appreciations is the following on his constitutional aversion to society:—

He has the detachment of a hermit. He has attended the House of Lords many hundreds of times, and it is quite easy for a peer to slip across the lobbies after their own adjournment and watch some of the great figures in the House of Commons. It is a favorite diversion with Lord Rosebery, and the King was very fond of the seat over the clock when he was Prince of Wales. But Lord Salisbury, though an old member of the House of Commons, and forced, as Premier, to keep a close eye on the balance of power in the lower house, has never been seen in the peers' gallery of the House of Commons. He knows few of the members of the House of Commons, outside his own family, by sight. He once startled the political world by admitting, in an aside, that he had never set eyes on Mr. Parnell. Every one knows how, on receiving a gracious salute from Mr. Walter Long, one of his own Ministers, he asked a neighbor, 'Who is that?' It may be doubted, indeed, whether he knew by sight the whole of the enormous Cabinet with which he surrounded himself. He disliked new faces, and shrank from introductions. The story goes that when he found himself once travelling to Hatfield in the same carriage with Ouida, and a common friend suggested an introduction, Lord Salisbury shrank back into his corner and hid himself behind a newspaper.

If one crowded hour of glorious life is worth an age without a name, the late Mr. Lidderdale, who saved the mercantile world from disaster at the time of the Baring crisis, had every reason to be satisfied with his existence. A story is told in the 'Financial News' of the masterful way in which Mr. Lidderdale carried out the policy which he had resolved was necessary to prevent panic. One bank manager, after agreeing to allow money on loan to brokers to remain out for some further time, issued a circular calling up the loans. This spelt widespread ruin.

Mr. Lidderdale sent for the manager, and, taking out his watch, said: 'It is now two o'clock, if by two-fifty you have not sent out a circular recalling this notice, and in harmony with the agreement which the banks arrived at, the account of your bank with the Bank of England will be finally and irrevocably closed. If you consider that your bank is strong enough to survive a public notice to this effect you will, of course, persist with your notice. If not, you will send out the circular.'

Needless to say, in less than the specified time copies of a circular of retraction were on their way to the offices of the bank's clients on the Stock Exchange.—London 'Standard.'

THE ANTHRACITE SITUATION.

Since the miners' strike has settled down into a running fight or a waiting game there comes at least one regret, and that is that, to a certain extent, it plays into the hands of the anthracite operators. The production of anthracite coal is a complete monopoly. More mines are worked and more men are employed than the demand for coal justifies. The result is that miners are frequently idle, and at any time production tends to outstrip consumption. In recent years, also, the utilization of culm, a fine waste product, as it has heretofore been considered, adds still further to the usable product of the anthracite mines. This culm has piled up by the acre at the pit mouth. But now it is being worked over and shipped by the trainload. So a cessation of production plays into the hands of the anthracite coal roads, for it saves an outgo while surplus is being used up.

Some way the anthracite situation should be relieved. It does not seem reasonable nor right that the anthracite coal necessities of 76,000,000 people should be at the mercy of six railways, which are combined and under the control of about the same number of men, who may at any time cease production at the expense of the poor miner, and, on the other hand, may increase prices to all the people. Given a limited coal field like the anthracite field and given the necessities of a great continent of people whose manufacturing industries demand the use of this coal, and we have a situation that may call for more than ordinary measures or laws. It may be a menace not to be endured that a half dozen men shall 'corner' a continent.—Indianapolis 'News.'

THE DOG WINS.

COURTS DECIDE HE MAY STAY IN A FLAT IF HE IS NOT DISAGREEABLE.

Paris, July 28.—Parisian leases generally contain a clause forbidding the tenant to keep a dog or any other animal likely to be disagreeable or harmful to other tenants. This has always been regarded as giving the landlord the right to refuse to permit any dog.

A former judge who had a good tempered dog refused to dispose of it when it was objected to by the landlord, and a long litigation ensued. Now the Court of Appeal has just given judgment that as it has been proved that the dog was neither disagreeable nor harmful the owner had a perfect right to keep it in the flat rented by him.

THE FAST LINE.

Referring to the proposed new fast line, the 'Journal' says that the terminus thereof must necessarily be in Montreal, coinsidering the geographical position of the metropolis, and adds: 'The citizens of Montreal must not allow themselves to be baffled in this. Let the Harbor Board, the City Council, the Board of Trade, the Chambre de Commerce, the Corn Exchange, the Shipping Interests, all our public bodies, take this matter in hand. The whole western traders have their eyes on us and are waiting to see what we will do. If we do not care to have here the terminus of the new line, we will probably not get it. Nobody will look after our interests if we ourselves neglect them. What will be the attitude of the Federal Government on that question?'

BRICKLAYERS AND MASONS

NOTIFY CONTRACTORS OF THEIR INTENTION TO STAND BY ONE ANOTHER.

The Stonemasons' Union met last evening in St. Joseph's Hall, St. Catherine street. Mr. L. Pilon presided. There was a very large attendance of members to hear the report of the joint committee of the bricklayers and stonemasons, which has been in session preparing a circular which is to be sent to the architects and building contractors of the city. The circular, which was read and unanimously adopted, is as follows:

'The Bricklayers' Union has the honor to give you communication of the following resolution which was unanimously adopted at the meeting of May 30, 1902:

'Whereas, it is the duty of the members of the International Bricklayers' and Masons' Union to help themselves mutually;

'Whereas, the salary asked by the Masons' Union, Quebec, No. 2, is 30 cents per hour, and nine hours per day, which is less than the salaries paid in the principal cities of Canada and the United States, and that the cost of living is the same as in other cities; whereas, the following contractors, Messrs. Gray & Wighton, Wighton & Morrison, Stewart, Alphonse Charrette, Herménie Dufort, Adelard Durocher, George Nicholson, Peter Lyall & Son, J. Wilson, C. Lalonger, Joseph Edouard Latreille, Amiot & Lemay, and many others, have agreed to the fair demands of the Masons' Union, Quebec, No. 2;

'It is resolved that after Sept. 1 next the members of the Bricklayers' Union, Quebec, No. 1, shall lay no brick on masonry constructed by non-unionist masons.

'ALF. CHARPENTIER,
'President.
'JOS. MONETTE, JR.,
'Recording Secretary.'

It was decided to make arrangements for taking part in the Labor Day demonstration, a committee being appointed to obtain tenders for a brass band and uniforms, as it is the intention to have over 300 stonemasons in the procession. The officers will be provided with badges of special design. Mr. B. Dorion was appointed to organize the Italian stonemasons, who number nearly a hundred in the city, and are desirous of joining the union.

INFLUX OF FARM LABOR

PARTY OF SEVENTY-FOUR AGRICULTURISTS SETTLING IN THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.

The Dominion Line SS. 'New England,' Captain McAuley, has arrived at Boston via Portland, with 140 saloon, 170 second and 662 steerage passengers. These passengers were booked to sail by the SS. 'Dominion,' which has been requisitioned by the Imperial Government for transport service. Among the passengers on board was a party of 400 from Dr. Barnardo's homes in charge of Mr. A. B. Owen, the Canadian representative of Dr. Barnardo. Mr. R. F. Macfarlane, passenger manager of the Dominion Line, and Mr. Emile Marquette, of this city, and provincial immigration agent, met the steamber on her arrival at Boston. Mr. Marquette took charge of a party of 74 agriculturists, all of whom have had positions found for them in the Eastern Townships.

HAZARDOUS CALLINGS

BROTHERHOOD OF ELECTRICAL WORKERS TO DISCUSS INSURANCE SCHEME.

Local Union, No. 182, of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers will at the next meeting, on Wednesday, Aug. 6, consider a scheme of sick and accident benefit which is being prepared by the executive. It has been deemed needful that the members who by reason of the precarious nature of their business as firemen, switch-board and dynamo tenders are especially exposed to sudden death or accident, should have some further provision made to assist their families in addition to the funeral benefits already established by the international executive board. Messrs. Hastings, Hilton and Walsh are the committee in charge.

The subject of taking part in the Labor Day demonstrations will also be considered, and arrangements made.

Trade is reported good, and the officers of the union state that they can place a number of wiremen in permanent positions, but the supply is not equal to the demand.

BOOKBINDERS MEET.

The local branch of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders met last night in the hall, 1796 St. Catherine street, Mr. J. N. Poirier presiding. Four new members were admitted. A communication from the Labor Day committee of the Federated Trades Council, outlining the arrangements for the procession and inviting the co-operation of the bookbinders, was read, and after some discussion it was decided that a special committee be apointed to make the necessary arrangements and engage, if possible, a bugle corps, which, it is considered, would be a very attractive feature of the procession. It was also stated that business was fairly good, and no troubles were impending.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUNDS.

The attendance at the Children's Playgrounds last week reached a total of 1,674. At the Berthelet Street School yard there were 297 boys and 236 girls; at the Royal Arthur, 305 boys and 382 girls in the afternoons, and 454 boys between six and eight o'clock in the evening.

THE RAILWAY Y. M. C. A. NEW BUILDING.

Messrs. Hutchison & Wood have about completed arrangements to call for tenders for the new G. T. R. Young Men's Christian Association building. It is expected that tenders will be called for tomorrow or next day, and that the completion of what must prove a most useful auxiliary to railway employees' life is now a matter of time.

HOT WEATHER---NERVOUS WOMEN.

Pe-ru-na is a Catarrhal Tonic Especially Adapted to the Nervous Depression Incident to Warm Weather.

MRS. THOS. J. SHARP.

Mrs. Thos. J. Sharp, 320 N. Second st., Reading, Pa., writes:

"I take this opportunity of letting you know what your medicine has done for me. In January, 1900, I was taken sick. My nerves were unstrung and I was a complete wreck. I was attended by several doctors, but they did not avail me much. They said I would either have a 'stroke' or 'nervous prostration.'

"While I was bed-fast I read the papers and then I learned of Peruna. I started taking it regularly every day and in a few weeks the result was plainly visible. I was not so nervous and was rapidly gaining strength. I continued to take Peruna and the Doctors were informed that they were no longer needed. I was completely saved from nervous prostration by your medicine.

"Since my sickness I always have a bottle of Peruna in the house; although I do not take it as regularly as I did during my illness. I would not be without it.

"My children have been taking it during the winter months to make them hardy. They also take it in the spring in order to strengthen and better fit themselves to stand the summer heat.

"Your medicine has certainly done a great deal for me in saving me from nervous prostration, and I sincerely wish that all persons, whether sick or well—since this medicine also contains the qualities of an efficient and invigorating tonic—would give it a trial and be convinced of its merits."—Mrs. Thos. J. Sharp.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe, of New York city, has the following to say of Peruna:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centres. The nerve centres are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centres become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the warm season. Every summer a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centres. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality, which leads to strong, steady nerves, and thus nourishes life.

Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nervous system. Peruna furnishes the lasting invigoration for the nerves that such people so much need. Thousands of testimonials from women in all parts of the United States are being received every year. Such unsolicited evidence surely proves that Peruna is without an equal as a nerve tonic and vital invigorator.

Buy a bottle of Peruna. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.

FEARS COMPETITION

SIR ALFRED JONES AND THE FAST ATLANTIC LINE SERVICE.

London, July 29.—Sir Alfred L. Jones, K.C.M.G., president of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, and head of the firm of Messrs. Elder, Dempster & Co., said to-day that if the offer of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to establish and operate a fast weekly passenger steamship service between Canada and England was accepted by the government, the Liverpool lines of the steamers would be exposed to competition which would render it impossible for them to carry on a lucrative trade.

TORONTO MYSTERY

WHALLEY WAS IN EXCELLENT HEALTH AND SPIRITS ON THE DAY OF HIS DEATH.

Toronto, July 29.—Three points were clearly established at the Whalley inquest last night:—First, the unfortunate man was in excellent health and the best of spirits on the Saturday on which he met his death. Second, he received his pay envelope at a quarter after twelve. Third, there was absolutely nothing found in the basement which would cause death. Coroner Young opened the inquest last night and after eight witnesses had been examined an adjournment was had till to-night, the medical evidence being withheld.

MISS STRATHY'S DEATH

CORONER'S JURY RETURNS VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

English papers to hand to-day give details of the accident in London which caused the death of Miss May Strathy, of Lachine.

The 'Canadian Gazette' of July 17 says:

A fatal accident occurred on Thursday afternoon at the junction of Regent street and Portland place, about a quarter of an hour before the Queen passed on her way to the bazaar. A sudden gust of wind threw a strain upon a flag-laden rope stretched above the street from the Langham hotel to the stone ballustrade round the top of the portico of All Souls' Church, and about twelve feet of the stonework fell forty feet on the pavement beneath. One of the pieces of the stonework fell right on the head of a young Canadian lady. Miss Mary Strathy, aged 27, of Lachine, Montreal, and instantly killed her, and three other ladies were seriously injured. A paving-stone was also smashed in pieces. Miss Strathy, who had come over for the Coronation with an aunt and other lady friends, was the only one of her party who had not gone to the bazaar. She was staying at Scott's Hotel, Langham street. Her friends were at the bazaar all the afternoon, ignorant of the tragedy that had happened, and it was not until they returned to the hotel in the evening that they found that their companion had been killed. Hastily, after the injured had been removed, the stone fragments were pushed aside, and ten minutes later the Queen drove by. The victims of the disaster were taken to the Middlesex Hospital.

The Queen, on hearing of the accident, at once sent the following message to the Middlesex Hospital:

'The Queen is greatly shocked to hear of the sad accident which occurred this afternoon, and wishes a report to be sent at once giving the condition of the ladies who were injured. Please convey Her Majesty's deep sympathy with the sufferers, and, if possible, express to the relatives of the lady who was killed Her Majesty's distress and sorrow at this lamentable event.'

The cause of the accident is doubtful, but the theory is that either the tightening of the rope, after a wetting by the rain, or the strength of the wind, which was very high at the time, caused the masonry to fall. About twelve feet of the parapet came down, bringing with it two of the supporting columns. Some of the blocks of stone which fell were nearly two feet square.

The 'Brighton and Hove Times,' of July 18, gives the following account of the inquest:

At the Marylebone Coroner's Court, on Saturday, Mr. Walter Schroeder, deputy central London coroner, opened the inquest on the body of Harriet Geraldine May Strathy, aged 28, a Canadian lady, lately living in Montreal, and whose address while residing in England was Scott's Hotel, Langham street. She died as the result of injuries caused by the fall of a portion of the parapet over the porch of All Souls' Church, Langham place, on Thursday afternoon last.

Police Constable D. Alderwood said that outside All Souls' Church on Thursday afternoon there was a crowd expecting the Queen, who was to pass about a quarter to four on her way to Regent's Park. There had previously been a very heavy shower and a gale of wind. A rope was stretched across the street from the church to the Langham hotel. There were several large flags on it. About twenty minutes to four there was a sudden gust of wind, and he heard someone shout. He looked up and saw the flags coming down into the street, and at the same time saw pieces of stone falling from the church. There were about two hundredweight of pieces of stone which fell among the people on the footpath. Several pieces of stone were lying on the deceased. Blood was flowing from the head of the deceased and also from under her clothing. Deceased was dead when he put her in the cab to convey her to the hospital. Police Constable Chenery said one large piece of masonry fell with the rope attached to it. Other pieces followed and fell among the crowd in the street. In witness's opinion the flag rope had been properly put up. Police Sergeant Elliott corroborated the other officers, adding that the large block of stone which fell with the rope attached to it broke into several pieces. Several people were slightly hurt, but refused to go to the hospital. It was a very violent squall, and seemed to witness to pull the stones clear away from the church. Dr. C. W. Rowntree, casualty officer at Middlesex Hospital, stated that deceased had a wound on the back of the head, both thighs broken, and her right hand crushed. Her skull was also fractured and death must have been instantaneous.

Henry Hooker, the man who put up the flags, said he received permission from the church to stretch the rope across. It was a wire rope capable of carrying a weight of six to eight tons. It was fastened round the parapet, which was of Bath stone, and was neither too tight nor too loose. On four previous occasions they put up flags in the same position. The stone of the parapet appeared sound, the cement was firm, and the blocks were properly dowelled. The enquiry was adjourned.

On the inquest being resumed, Mr. A. B. Pite, Harley street, W., said that he found that there was an internal flaw in the coping-stone which might not have been externally detected.

Mr. A. Ashbridge, district surveyor, of Upper Baker street, said there was no local control over the fixing of decorations across a street. Any one might throw a dozen ropes across the roadway, and weight them as he liked, and no one could interfere. The witness added that, on examination the day after the occurrence, he found that eleven feet of the coping over the church portico, had given way. He discovered two defects in the coping, the result of the action of time and weather—defects that might not have been externally visible. The coping-stone was part of the original building, which was completed in 1824, and in 1895 it had been faced with metallic cement. His conjecture was that the gust of wind uplifted the coping-stone from its bedding.

After other technical evidence, the jury found a verdict of 'accidental death,' adding that in their opinion sufficient care had not been taken in affixing the rope to the structure. They were further of the opinion that authority should be given to the London County Council or borough surveyors to examine buildings or structures to which ropes were to be fixed for extension across the roadway before such ropes were permitted.

A FIGHT IN HAYTI

TWENTY KILLED AND SIXTY WOUNDED.

Washington, July 29.—The acting Secretary, Mr. Hill, to-day received the following cablegram from Mr. Powell, the United States minister, dated Port au Prince, to-day:

'General Colin left Port au Prince yesterday morning with 2,000 men to repel Firmin's army, which was landed from the Haytien naval vessel commanded by Admiral Killick. After a skirmish which ensued the forces of Firmin retreated to the warship. Colin returned to the city yesterday afternoon. The information is that twenty were killed and sixty wounded. The number killed on the other side was still unknown. The Haytien vessel left last night, destination unknown, and there was much firing in the city. The 'Machias' has arrived at Cape Haytien.'

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

DISGRACEFUL SCENES AT ILE GROS BOIS CONDEMNED BY ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI.

At all the services in the church of the parish of Boucherville on Sunday last a pastoral letter was read from Archbishop Bruchesi condemning the Sunday excursions to Ile Gros Bois and the scandal which they caused. His Grace appealed to parents to prevent their boys and girls attending these and the navigation companies to discourage them. He also pointed out the duty of the authorities to see that, if the excursions are not prevented, they are at least kept within the bounds of decency.

THE SCHOOLS

SPAIN WILL NOT YIELD TO THE VATICAN.

Madrid, July 29.—The Premier, Signor Sagasta, stated in an interview that the negotiations with the Vatican regarding the schools conducted by the religious associations, are proceeding very slowly and if they are not finished by October the government will take other steps. Spain, following the steps of the United States, cannot yield on the religious question, said Senor Sagasta. The Premier denied rumors that Spain is allying herself with other powers and declared that any alliance would be burdensome.

"FORCE" FOOD CO.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen,—As my mother has been greatly benefited by your "FORCE" Food, I feel it my duty to write you confidentially, that you may know what a boon it is to humanity. My mother was stricken with paralysis nearly two months ago, and it was the only solid food she could take. She has gained rapidly in strength since using it.

Very respectfully, —— ——

Name furnished on application.

Twenty Years of Itching Piles.

Could Not Imagine Keener Distress Than What He Endured—Cured by

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Mr. P. S. McLaren, farmer and contractor, Tiverton, Ont., states: 'I was troubled for twenty years with itching piles, and during that time suffered a great deal. They bothered me most when I would get warm in bed. I would wake up in the night and lay for hours suffering the keenest agony, without being able to obtain relief. I cannot imagine any greater distress than the torture of piles.

'Dr. Chase's Ointment gave me relief from the first application and now I am entirely freed of this horrible disease. For a time I would occasionally feel a slight return of the itching, but applied the ointment freely each time until the cure was thorough.'

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PAVING STOPPED

Chairman of the Road Committee Suspects That the Concrete is Poor.

There is at present considerable stir about the City Hall over a dispute which has arisen between Ald. Vallieres, chairman of the Road Committee, and the contractors engaged in laying permanent pavements in various parts of the city. It appears that complaints reached Ald. Vallieres that some of the contractors were not carrying out the specifications as to the proportions of material in the concrete foundations and upper surfaces. Some of the proprietors called upon to pay a share of the cost of some permanent sidewalks complained that the materials were poor and the workmanship bad. So yesterday Ald. Vallieres, accompanied by one of the engineers of the Road Department, made a tour of the works in progress, made inquiries as to the quantities of ingredients in concrete and paving, and in several cases had samples already laid cut out, put into paper, and announced it to be his intention to have it analyzed.

At Mance street, where a permanent sidewalk of asphalt mastic is being laid along the west side from Ontario street to Sherbrooke, Ald. Vallieres gave orders that the work was to stop, pending the result of an analysis of the concrete foundation, and the corporation inspector employed on the work, named McMillan, was suspended.

This work was being done by the Sicily Paving Company, and Mr. D. Cochrane, the secretary of the company, was at the City Hall to-day registering a protest against the order to stop the work. He met Ald. Vallieres at the Road Department, and the matter was discussed at length. Ald. Vallieres explained that he had been informed by Ald. Hebert that the concrete being laid as a foundation for this sidewalk was not according to specifications. There was more sand and less cement in the mixture than the specifications called for.

Mr. Cochrane emphatically denied this, producing the specifications to show that the contract was being strictly carried out so far as the company was concerned. In fact, the concrete contained a larger proportion of cement—the most expensive ingredient—than the specifications called for.

Ald. Vallieres declared that he had the sample of concrete sent to Mr. Hersey, the city analyst, with instructions to lose no time with the analysis. If the proportions were right he would take care to give the company credit for it, but if not the work would have to be done over again.

Mr. Cochrane remarked that it was unfair in the meantime to make the company lose time while the weather was fair. He also explained that the analysis of a small piece of concrete was hardly a fair test, especially with the wet weather we have been having, the rain being likely to wash the cement out into 'pockets.'

HARBOR REPRESENTATIVE

Board of Trade will Choose one on Friday

SOME TALK OF OPPOSITION TO RE-ELECTION OF MR. JAS. CRATHERN.

Some members of the Board of Trade consider that the board ought to be represented on the Harbor Commission by new men at each recurring election, and not as in the past, by the same man term after term. There are eleven representatives on the Harbor Board, six of whom are appointed by the government, and one each respectively, by the Chambre de Commerce, the Shipping Interests, the Board of Trade, the Corn Exchange Association and the city. The Mayor represents the city during his term of office, the government members sit during the pleasure of the Governor-General-in-Council, while the trade and shipping bodies elect their representatives every four years. The late Mr. Hugh McLennan represented the Board of trade several terms before he retired, to be followed by the late Mr. David G. Thomson, who died in harness, and whose place was taken by Mr. James Crathern, who has proved a very worthy and intelligent representative. Nevertheless, the feeling for some time past has been that four years are long enough for one man to serve, and some even go so far as to suggest a change in the law, so as to make the representation of the Board of Trade on the Harbor Trust an accompaniment of the presidency of the Board of Trade; that is, that the president should be ex-officio a member of the trust, the same as in the case of the Mayor. The emoluments of the office are five dollars for attendance at each meeting, and for the president an extra fifteen hundred dollars a year, but the question of remuneration is not a pressing one with the present members. The Board of Trade election takes place at noon on Friday, Aug. 1, and doubtless efforts will be made to retain Mr. Crathern's services.

CHASED INTO CANAL

MAN DROWNED WHILE ATTEMPTING TO EVADE ARREST.

John McGarrity, of 218 Ropery street, Point St. Charles, met a tragic death yesterday by drowning in the Lachine canal, into which he jumped to escape arrest.

Shortly after nine o'clock McGarrity and a friend took possession of a horse and express waggon which had been left standing in Chaboillez square by Fred. Pomminville, a porter of the Queen's Hotel. Notified of the theft, the hotel porter secured a cab and gave chase to the men, who drove recklessly along Notre Dame street and turned down McCord street.

Finding out that they were being overtaken in William street, the pair of runaways abandoned the waggon, jumped and ran into a lumber yard, where Pommonville and others gave chase, which was continued along the canal bank towards the Wellington street bridge.

McGarrity plunged into the water and swam about twenty feet, when he sank, exhausted after the chase. Meanwhile his companion escaped. Up to this the identity of the young fellow who lost his life was unknown to his pursuers, but two men who saw him plunge into the canal recognized him.

McGarrity, who was about twenty years old, was a good swimmer, but it is supposed he succumbed to exhaustion caused by the chase.

As the hotel porter wore brass buttons on his clothing, it led the fugitive to believe that he was chased by a policeman, and caused him to take a desperate chance to escape.

Last evening the body was found opposite the Canada Swith Company's works by James McCarthy and Daniel Steele, of 339 Grand Trunk street. Young McGarrity lived with his widowed mother.

The coroner held an inquest this morning, and a verdict of 'accidental death' was returned.

FUTURE OF SOUTH AFRICA

Mr. Chamberlain Discusses it in the House To-day

London, July 29.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, appeared in the House of Commons to-day, for the first time since the recent accident in which he was hurt. He was greeted with hearty cheering, and later he was warmly congratulated by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman supplemented his congratulations by asking for information of the Colonial Conference. He expressed the hope that lenient treatment would be extended to the Boers in South Africa.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that the one spirit animating the members of the Conference was the desire to draw closer together the constituent parts of the Empire and he thought it safe to say that the Conference had made important progress towards the perfect union to which he himself looked forward.

Regarding South Africa, Lord Milner, the High Commissioner of South Africa, had telegraphed spontaneously that he did not think further legislation necessary to make the banishment proclamation effective. The government, however, reserved to itself the important right in the new colonies to refuse to allow the return or to keep watch over persons who showed themselves inimical to good order and peace. 'We are not going to allow the result of the war to be undermined,' said Mr. Chamberlain, 'by intrigues carried on by nominally constitutional means.' Regarding the future status of South Africa, the Colonial Secretary said the Imperial Government had established a Crown Colony in the strictest sense. The next step would be to add a nominated official element. Thereafter there would be an elected official element, and then nothing but circumstances and time would separate the new colonies from full self-government, the ultimate goal of their ambition. That consummation would not be delayed, if for no other reason than because it might relieve the government of the tremendous burden of responsibility involved in the present situation, but all must understand that the government would not be rushed or hustled into any action which circumstances did not warrant. The speaker said he was one of those optimistic enough to believe that the new colonies would reach the ultimate goal of their ambition much sooner than many persons now thought possible. So far as the government was concerned the surrender promises would be kept in spirit as well as in letter. The government, he said, was bound both by honor and by interest to this course. There remained many questions to be dealt with, a new tariff must be arranged involving intricate questions concerning which experts must be consulted, and the taxation of mines must be settled, but he wished to say nothing would be done to punish owners of mines, as had been suggested in many quarters. The government would do nothing to interfere with a quick revival of development of the country. Subject to that consideration, Mr. Chamberlain continued, no man was more anxious than he to recover some considerable part of the cost of the war from South Africa. He thought it would be perfectly fair to lay a fair part of the cost of the war on the principal industries of the Transvaal, but what amount it was too soon to say.

HARVESTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Mr. W. F. Egg, city passenger agent of the C. P. R., has been notified that the company will run a series of farm laborers' excursions during the month of August to points in Manitoba and the Canadian North-West.

WESTERN LOAN COMPANY

Messrs. Foster, Martin, Archibald & Mann have just entered an action in the name of the Western Loan & Trust Company claiming $250,000 from the old directors of the company.

The defendants are Messrs. Henry Comstock, of Brockville; Raymond Prefontaine, M.P.; Wm. Strachan, representing the heirs of the Hon. A. W. Ogilvie; R. W. Knight, of Woodstock, Ont., and James Greenshields.

ALLEGED LOTTERY

Accused Strongly Defended in Enquete

INTERESTING EVIDENCE GIVEN CONCERNING THEIR OPERATIONS.

The enquete in the case of the Colonization Company of Canada, charged with keeping a gaming house, was opened before Mr. Lafontaine, police magistrate, this morning. Messrs. P. R. Goyet, C. A. Wilson, E. Guerin and W. Larose appeared for the four defendants and Mr. M. J. F. Quinn, K.C., for the prosecution.

Mr. Larose, speaking on behalf of one of the accused, argued that no offence had been committed; the company was proceeding under letters patent, a special charter issued by the Secretary of State and giving them full authority to carry on the business they were engaged in. Copies of the charter and the 'Canada Gazette' containing the announcement of its having been issued were filed. It was not a disorderly house, declared the learned counsel, but a regular business office and no offence had been committed.

Mr. Quinn said, in reply, that the government could not give greater rights to a company than to an individual. Moreover, no company could exceed or violate the terms of its charter as he claimed this company had done. The argument being concluded the case proceeded.

Mr. O. Campeau, deputy chief of police, was called to the witness box and was questioned regarding the complaint and information laid before the judge when the warrant was issued and also informed the Court as to the time and manner in which the warrants were issued.

The defence objected to all the questions.

Mr. Wilson was spokesman for the defence in this line and not much progress was made.

Mr. Campeau succeeded in stating that he had received three warrants and executed three of them issued against the places known as 1604, 1627 and 1631 Notre Dame street. The return was dated July 22, when the accused were arrested at 1631 Notre Dame street. At this address he saw evidences of what he called a lottery and the articles belonging to it were seized.

The chief of detectives, Mr. S. H. Carpenter, being next called, stated that he went to 1631 Notre Dame street accompanied by Mr. Campeau, Sergeant Detective Charpentier and a staff of detectives about 8.15 o'clock on the evening of July 22. The door of the place was closed but they entered by 1627 and at the head of a stairway found an entrance into 1631 through a window. There were about thirty persons present and a drawing was in progress. The drawing was about half over and they waited till it was completed, when they took the names of all present and seized a quantity of books, money, tickets, a wheel, etc., which were taken to detective headquarters. A man named David was turning the wheel. Desourdi entered the numbers in a book. A third man named Syrie was blindfolded and took the little cylinders, containing the numbers, out of the wheel. Rivet appeared to be the doorkeeper and took tickets while Giguere he thought put the numbers on a board on the wall. Another man who gave the name of Sicotte was in the office and had charge of the cash.

A list of the articles seized was produced, along with the wheel, books, etc. The wheel, the chief said, was similar to that used in playing policy. In the books were such terms as 'saddle,' 'gig,' '3-out,' and various 'combinations.' These expressions were used in the game of policy and the books bore on the covers the name of the Colonization Company of Canada. The case was adjourned to 2 p. m.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

AN OLD RESIDENT OF VAUDREUIL RUN OVER.

Mr. Ludger Valois, aged 76 years, one of the oldest residents of Vaudreuil, was killed yesterday by a freight train while crossing the bridge east of Vaudreuil village. He stepped out of the way of the Canada Atlantic express, and in doing so got in front of a Grand Trunk freight train which he did not see approaching. An inquest will be held this evening.

CORONATION DAY

WILL BE A PUBLIC HOLIDAY THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION.

Ottawa, July 29.—Saturday, Aug. 9 will be a public holiday throughout Canada. The proclamation will not issue, however, until after Thursday's meeting of council. This means the closing of banks and business places. The government's action is based upon the step already taken in Great Britain;

WORKMAN SUES CONTRACTORS.

An action for $1,950 damages has been entered against Messrs. Norcross Bros., by a workman named O. Sarrazin, through his attorneys, Messrs. Bisaillon & Brossard. The action is on account of injuries received by the plaintiff while working for the defendants on the new Bank of Montreal building.

WORKMAN SUES THE C. P. R.

Messrs. Beaudin & Cardinal have entered an action for $1,999 damages against the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in the name of Gustave Vaillant. The plaintiff complains that, owing to the company's fault and negligence, one of his legs was crushed while he was helping to carry a heavy casting, in the company's yard at Hochelaga.

LIFE GUARDS SCANDAL

TWO LIEUTENANTS MAY BE CASHIERED.

London, July 29.—A military court of inquiry called to investigate the scandal caused by the alleged persecution of Second Lieutenant Gregson, of the Second Life Guards, has held a secret session at Windsor. Lieut. Gregson and two other officers testified. The evidence showed that Lieutenant Gregson's carpet was torn up, his kit was damaged and his uniform was ruined. Much interest has been excited by the episode, which already has been the subject of parliamentary questions. It is said at the barracks that two lieutenants will probably be cashiered as a result of the affair.

Details of the persecution of Lieutenant Gregson were given in a despatch from London on July 24. The lieutenant, who secured a commission on Feb. 15 last, was known to be a hard worker, efficient and popular with his men. On the night of July 21 a number of officers of the regiment chased Lieut. Gregson out of his quarters, hunted him through the barracks with whips, ducked him in a horse trough and later wrecked his quarters and destroyed his kit. The only explanation of this treatment was that Lieut. Gregson was socially undesirable.

The trading in Dominion Coal common fell off very much this morning, but the price was maintained, working up from 65½ to 67, yesterday's high point. Detroit Railway was a little stronger, 850 shares being sold from 84½ to 85. C.P.R. was a trifle weaker than yesterday, probably on account of the heavy decrease in profits for last month. Otherwise the market was quiet.

New York, July 29.—Missouri Pacific advanced in a feverish way to 119, and New York Central rallied over a point. An active demand developed for Reading and Chicago and Great Western, which rose more than a point each. The coalers hardened in sympathy; Erie second pre

Who Defined "Soap-powder" in the Standard Dictionary? Sounds as if some old fashioned soap-maker had written it. Used in dish-water! Yes, and when it is PEARLINE, used in everything where soap can be used. PEARLINE is modern, up-to-date soap; a better soap; it has revolutionized the soap trade. 666

TRAINED ANIMALS

MESSRS. NORRIS & ROWE PROVIDE A UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT.

Whether taken from an educational or entertaining point of view, the trained animals at Messrs. Norris & Rowe's show, at the corner of St. Catherine street and Atwater avenue, is by far superior to any other similar productions given in this city. The high state of development to which animal intelligence can be brought by patient training is remarkable. Although the performance lasts for two hours, the one act of the performing seals alone is worth the price of admission. They catch small hoops in their mouths and on their necks with dexterity. One is an adept at catching on its nose the small hats with which stage performers frequently entertain, while another whirls around with his teeth a fiery stick. Even the goats are amusing. Another mirth-provoking feature was the burlesque on Sousa's band. Monkeys have their share in the entertainment, not the least laughable of which is the calling out of the police patrol for a thievish canine. Then there are the performing elephants and ponies, the latter evoking great enthusiasm. In a side tent there are camels, lions and other beasts of the forest, including a good specimen of buffalo. Altogether it is a high-class entertainment, and worthy of the patronage of old and young.

PACIFIC EARNINGS

INCREASE ONE-SIXTH FOR YEAR—DECREASE ONE-FOUR FOR MONTH.

The net earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the past year show an increase of $1,976,537.06, or 16.32 percent, almost one-sixth. The report for the month of June is not so good, the net profits being only $846,737.34, a decrease of $274,694.91 from the same month last year. This decrease of nearly 24.45 percent, or almost a quarter, is due to exceptional and unexpected contingencies, which caused an increase in working expenses. The official report is as follows:

	July 1, 1901, to June, 1902.	July 1 to June 30, 1902.
Gross earnings	$3,179,971.10	$37,503,053.78
Working expenses	2,333,233.76	23,417,141.37
Net profits	$846,737.34	$14,085,912.41

In June, 1901, the net profits were $1,121,432.25. And from July 1 to June 30, 1901, there was a net profit of $12,109,375.35. The decrease in net profits over the same period last year is, therefore, for June, $274,694.91; and from July 1 to June 30, there was an increase of $1,976,537.06.

BRITISH CATTLE MARKETS.

Edinburgh, July 14.—Messrs. John Swan & Sons' weekly report on the live stock trade says:—The number of fat cattle on offer has been, for the time of year, a full average, and the general quality good. With a full attendance of buyers, trade was generally better, and prices favoring sellers. Sheep have also met a fair enquiry, and prices well maintained, with the exception of heavy weighted ewes, which are difficult to sell at low rates. Much the largest supply of lambs of the season on offer, and considering the numbers, a fairly satisfactory trade has been got. Calves were dearer, while pigs made a little less money. Store sheep trade has, in the meantime, comparatively stopped, and those on offer were only of an indifferent kind. There was a fairly large supply of store cattle, comprising a considerable number of better class bullocks. These have met a good enquiry, and got cleared out at quite late rates, but a proportion of rough cattle and stirks were left unsold. There was a large supply of milch cows. A very bad trade was experienced at considerable less money. Quotations—Top price of best bullocks, per live cwt., 46s; current from 41s to 44s; mutton from 7¼d to fully 8d per lb.

London, July 14.—Beast supply, compared with Monday last, showed decrease of 130. Trade rather firmer both in tone and value; early clearance made of choicest Herefords and runts; middling quality met slow sale; butchering cows steady. Arrivals—149 Irish, 181 Norfolk, Suffolk and Essex, 640 midland, home and western counties, 20 Devon. Decrease of 450 in the sheep market; supply including fair proportion of lambs, with, however, but few of really choice quality. These consequently maintained late rates, but plain do., extremely low in price; for wedder sheep less demand, all grades selling at decline of fully 2d per 8 lbs.; ewes unchanged. Calf trade nominal. Beasts, 3s 4d to 5s 4d; sheep, 3s 6d to 5s 10d; lambs, 5s to 6s 4d per 8 lbs. Total supply—Beasts, 990; and sheep and lambs, 9,140; calves, 15.

Newcastle, July 16.—Yesterday's supply: Cattle, 1,650; sheep and lambs, 8,970; and calves, 108; pigs, 520. Shade lower tone. Prime heifers and steers, 9s per stone; second class, 8s 3d to 8s 9d; coarse and inferior, 6s 6d to 7s. Pigs, 6s to 7s 9d. Sheep, 5d to 8d per lb. Lambs, 8¾d to 9d. Calves, fair trade, 5d to 8d.

Salford, July 16.—At market yesterday—Cattle, 1,786; prices favoring buyer. Sheep and lambs, 16,638; trade better. Calves, 67; dull market. Quotations: Cattle, 6½d to 7¾d; sheep, 6d to 8½d; lambs, 7½d to 9d; calves, 5d to 7d per lb.

BUTTER.

Manchester, July 16.—The supply of Danish and Swedish was larger yesterday. With an improved demand for choicest butter the market was fairly firm, prices for this make of foreign butter being fairly maintained here, and an occasional advance was obtained. Irish creameries were moving off better, and choicer qualities are coming to hand. There is generally a fair demand for butter of choice and ordinary sorts. Prices: Choicest Danish, 107s to 110s; choice, 105s to 106s; choicest Ewedish, 106s to 108s; Finnish, 99s to 102s; best Irish, 100s to 102s.

Cork, July 15.—Firsts, 75s; seconds, 82s; thirds, 79s; superfine, 86s; fine mild, 83s; choicest boxes, 87s; choice, 82s; in market, 280; fresh A, 86s; B, 85s.

Limerick, July 16.—Yesterday's quotations, 94s, and current, 90s to 92s; quality very irregular owing to the weather.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Ottawa, July 26.—The market this morning was a bumper, for every inch of available space on the square was covered with farmers' vehicles laden with the different kinds of farm produce. The offerings of new hay were light, but a fair supply of old was in sight. A firm demand pervaded the market, and prices ranged at from $7 to $9 per ton, according to quality. New potatoes sold at 80c to $1 per bag. The demand was good, but receipts were light. The supply of vegetables was large, nevertheless prices were well sustained and sales were made on the following basis: Carrots, 25c; onions, 20c; beets, 25c per dozen; green beans, $1.25 per bushel; celery, 50c dozen; cabbage, 45c dozen; lettuce, 10c dozen; rhubarb, 25c dozen; cucumbers, 30c dozen, and green peas shelled, 13c quart. The demand for butter was somewhat stronger and sellers experienced no difficulty in realizing from 17c to 18c for pails and 18c to 20c for prints. Fresh laid eggs were in urgent demand under light receipts, and as a result prices went soaring, a number of sales being made at 18c to 20c for small lots.

Dear Sirs,—My little girl was almost dead with summer complaint. I tried numerous remedies for her, but they did no good. A friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I procured a bottle, and by the time she had taken three doses it began to help her, and two bottles effected a complete cure. I owe her life to your excellent remedy.

Dear Sirs,—My little boy was very bad with diarrhœa. He passed nothing but blood. I tried everything, but could get nothing to do him any good until I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A few doses made a complete cure, and I have more faith in your remedy for diarrhœa than any other preparation on earth and always keep it in the house.

CITY RECEIVES PROTEST

Objections to the Tupper Street Expropriation Crystallized Into Legal Form

THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DECLARED TO BE ILLEGAL, NULL AND VOID—EXCESSIVE VALUATION IS CHARGED.

The various objections to the assessment levied in connection with the Tupper street expropriation have at last been crystallized into the form of a legal document, and as a preliminary to the proceedings in court, the city has been served with a notarial protest which relates in detail the objections to this much-discussed assessment. The protest, which threaten to result in a big lawsuit, reads as follows :—

'On this day, the 26th of July, in the year of our Lord 1902, at the request of James Dalrymple, merchant; William Seath, merchant tailor; Peter C. Wand, contractor; William McNab, engineer; John Edwards, builder; Murdo Tolmie, carptenter; R. J. Douglass, bookkeeper; Norman L. Lusher, ticket agent; Matthew Hutchinson, M.P.P., King's Counsel; P. H. Gilbert, contractor; Jean B. Gosselin, Esq.; James Nelson, architect; William Cooper, accountant, and John Cowan, manufacturer, all of the city of Montreal, I, Charles Cushing, the undersigned notary public, duly commissioned and sworn in and for the Province of Quebec in the Dominion of Canada, personally went to the City Hall, in the said city of Montreal, the official place of business of the city of Montreal, a body politic and corporate, where being and speaking to Narcisse Thibault, clerk in said office, I declared :—

'That whereas the said requerants are proprietors of immovable property situated and fronting on Tupper street, in the St. Antoine ward of the said city of Montreal, a portion of which street west of Fort street has been widened for the convenience of the said city;

'And whereas the said city of Montreal has levied a special assessment to cover the alleged cost of the said widening or improvement of Tupper street on the properties of the said requerants fronting on said Tupper street;

'And whereas the cost of the land for the said improvements as declared by the said city of Montreal is excessive, the said property being charged for at seventy-five cents a foot, although the assessed value of the adjacent land is only sixty cents a superficial foot as will appear on reference to the books of record in the City Hall;

'And whereas, moreover, the frontage or length of the said widened portion of said Tupper street is much less than the frontage declared in the assessment;

'And whereas, moreover, the said property taken for the widening of Tupper street aforesaid has been in possession of the city for many years, to wit, for at least fifteen years, and has not paid municipal assessments during that term, and has been used as a public street during said term;

'And whereas at a meeting of the proprietors on said Tupper street, at which the agent of the Gentlemen Ecclesiastics of the Seminary of St. Sulpice of Montreal, was present, and which said meeting was held in the house of Peter C. Wand, on said Tupper street, it was said and declared by the said agent of the Seminary that the portion of said land now charged for was given by the Seminary to the city of Montreal free of charge for the purpose of improving the said street, and the easterly portion of the same street had been previously ceded and given free of charge by the owners thereof to the said city of Montreal, and whereas the said Seminary has never built on the residue of their said property, nor even fenced off nor enclosed the same;

'And whereas, for the reasons aforesaid, the said special assessment is illegal, null and void;

'Now, therefore, I, the said notary, did and do hereby notify and require the said city of Montreal to desist from the collection of and from any attempt to collect the said special assessment; further declaring that the said requirements will not, nor will any of them pay the said assessment, and that the city of Montreal will be held liable for all trouble, annoyance, inconvenience and expense caused to the said requerants and each of them by the action and proceedings of the said city of Montreal.'

COTE ST. PAUL ITEMS.

On Friday last the members of the Baptist Mission at Cote St. Paul held a picnic to St. Helen's Island, which proved to be a most enjoyable outing. They were accompanied by Mrs. Webb, wife of the pastor at Point St. Charles, and Mr. Webb's mother. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Webb also visited the Island.

The funeral took place on Saturday morning of little Harry Geteau, who met his death at the Colonial Print Works, St. Henri, on Thursday last.

The annual picnic in connection with the Church of the Redeemer Sunday-school took place last Wednesday, when a visit was made to Bout de l'Isle. The affair was an unqualified success.

SHORT-SIGHTED OIL COMPANIES.

London, July 28.—The failure of the combination of Asiatic oil producers to fight the Standard Oil Company is due, says the trade organ, 'Petroleum,' to the short-sighted greed of some English companies trading in Russia. M. Nobel, of Russia, and the Rothschilds arranged that the whole of the organizations controlled by them in Europe and the Far East and those of the Shell Company and the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company, should be thrown open for the sale of Russian oil. Russian exporters were not asked to expend any capital in return for these advantages, and the owners of the selling organizations were only to receive a share by the results achieved. According to 'Petroleum,' it was through the influence of persons interested in English companies that the offer was refused. They wanted to compete with the existing organizations.

MONTREAL ZIONISTS

MEETING HELD AT EMPIRE HALL LAST EVENING.

A crowded meeting of the Zionists of Montreal was held last evening at Empire Hall. Dr. D. A. Hart occupied the chair. On motion of Mr. H. Weinfield, it was decided to hold a field day at Otterburn Park, with the object of raising funds towards the support of the library of Jewish literature being established by the local Zionists, and a committee was appointed to carry out this enterprise.

Mr. David Levy, who represented Canada at the recent Zionist Congress at Basle, gave a very interesting account of this historic Jewish gathering. He declared that the work accomplished by the Congress was epoch-making in the history of their race, and that there was no doubt that they are now making rapid strides towards the accomplishment of the aims and objects of the Zionist movement.

Mr. Clarence I. de Sola, president of the Federation of Canadian Zionist Societies, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Levy, said that he could, from his own personal experience at the previous congress, testify to the accuracy with which Mr. Levy had described the great personalities who figured at the annual congresses. Mr. de Sola stated that the only possible solution of the Jewish problem was the acquisition of Palestine by the Hebrew race, and the peopling of that country with the millions of Jews who are now emigrating from eastern Europe to escape persecution. He emphatically declared that no other solution of the problem would be accepted by the Hebrews, although this did not in any way imply that those who had peaceful homes in other countries were any less loyal to the flag of the country in which they lived.

Mr. A. Falick, one of the persecuted refugees who has just escaped from Roumania, described the intolerable sufferings of his brethren in that benighted country, and said that the Roumanian Jews were preparing for emigration en masse to Palestine the moment the Zionists had prepared the way. They, too, recognized that Zionism alone offered the solution of their difficulties.

The Rev. Samuel Margolins, of Boston, a graduate of Harvard, was present at the gathering, and excited an outbreak of enthusiasm by his eloquent plea for the principle of union of Hebrews of all countries under the banner of Zionism.

An extremely eloquent speech by the Rev. Mr. Abramovitch, of New York, and a stirring address by Rabbi Sprince, both in strong support of the objects of the movement, followed.

Mr. Clarence I de Sola announced on behalf of the Federation of Zionist Societies of Canada the acknowledgment of receipt at headquarters of the contribution recently sent by the Hebrews of Montreal towards the Jewish National Fund. He stated that this fund was rapidly augmenting, and that if the rate at which subscriptions were received continued they would soon reach the mark aimed at. He also described the important part recently taken by Dr. Herzl in giving testimony regarding the question of Jewish immigration to the Royal Commission now sitting in London, and recently appointed by the Imperial Government to investigate the alien immigration question. It was also announced that the subscriptions forwarded during the past month towards the Shekel Fund by Canadian Israelites numbered one thousand and eight.

THE LONGUEUIL PROTESTANT SCHOOLS.

The schools which are managed under the direction of the Board of Protestant School Commissioners of the town and parish of Longueuil will re-open on Tuesday, Sept. 2. Mr. D. M. Gilmour and Miss Ethel M. Doull, B.A., will have charge of the school at Longueuil, and Miss E. Waldie will have charge of the school at Montreal South, with an assistant.

As a result of examinations held in June, 1902, certificates have been awarded by Dr. Harper, inspector of superior schools, for general proficiency in Grade II., model school, to May Benrie; and in Grade I. to A. Johnston and P. Carpenter.

Inspector McOuat, in his report for the past year says he found the schools doing excellent work. The pupils were attentive and studious and the subjects were well taught. Grading and discipline were quite satisfactory. The wish was expressed in the report that a new central school might soon take the place of the two heretofore in use. The cost of running both schols for the year was nearly two thousand dollars, and the treasurer had $835.93 on hand at the close of the year.

NEW SHOOTING DEVICE

WAR MAY BECOME BLOODLESS, BUT MORE EFFECTIVE THAN EVER.

London, July 28.—Bisley can usually be depended upon to furnish something new in the shooting lie, and this year has not provided an exception. A clergyman, who was entered in one of the medium range contests, astonished the competitors and threw the spectators into spasms of curiosity by lying hidden behind a fence and firing without exposing his head to look along his gun barrel. He made a score of 34 points out of a possible 35.

Every one howled. The clergyman had attached to his gun an invention of his own, called a hyposcope, which enabled him to sight his weapon by an arrangement of little mirrors in a vertical tube.

The possibilities of this invention, as will be recognized, are great. Equipped with this humane device, two forces, taking cover without artillery, would shoot at hyposcopes instead of each other's heads. The force first deprived of its apparatus might be consilered hors de combat. There would be no bloodshed beyond an occasional cut finger.

It is claimed that this improvement should add to the popularity of soldiering, and at the same time promote its true purpose, peace. Advocates of the hyposcope point out that it would make the coward as good as the brave man. War would become a genuine test of marksmanship. Instead of casualty lists there would be Bisley scores. Great efforts are making to get the War Office to see this.

LORD FRANCIS HOPE'S CREDITORS.

London, July 28.—Lord Francis Hope's creditors met to-day with a view to liquidation of the claims against him on the basis of ten shillings in the pound. Nothing definite was done except that a statement was made to the effect that a claim for $45,000 presened by May Yohe, the divorced wife of Lord Francis Hope, could not be sustained.

Any information concerning the above may be obtained at the office of the Chief of the Fire Department, City Hall, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

THY WAY, THY WORKS, THY BURDEN.

(1) Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass. (Ps. xxxvii., 5.) 'Commit' here means 'to roll.' 'Way' means the ordinary path of life. All your plans, purposes, duties, cares and perplexities, roll upon God. What you have not wisdom to effect or strength to do, He can and will accomplish. He can work where we cannot. We cannot see far ahead, but He can see the end from the beginning. When His ways are our ways, we shall have a smooth path. (2) Commit thy works unto the Lord and thy thoughts shall be established. (Prov. xvi., 3.) However great or many our works may be, roll them upon Him, and He will prosper them. (3) Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He shall sustain thee. (Ps. lv., 22.) We are to receive our burdens as God's gifts. All such we may cast back upon Him. He bore our griefs and sorrows. (Isa. liii., 4.) His deliverances are to bring us to Himself, (Ex. xix., 4.) He carries, as a strong man bears his son. (Deut. i., 31, 32; 10-12.) His angels shall be charged to hold us up, (Ps. xci., 11,12.) See also Mark xvi.. 1-4.

A LEGAL NUT CRACKED.

An English writer, says the 'Youth's Companion,' gives a good example of those quibbles in legal practice that have a sort of fascination for certain minds. Some years ago, while travelling on the Continent he met the principal lawyer for the government of one of the principalities, who told him of a curious legal question. It had reference to a railway station at the boundary between two principalities. Some one standing outside the window of the ticket office had put his hand through and robbed the till inside. The boundary line lay between where the thief stood and the till, so that he was actually in one territory while the crime was committed in the other. Here was a nice nut for the gentlemen learned in the law to crack. Which of the principalities should undertake the prosecution of the culprit? At it they went in good earnest, and the arguments on either side were long and vehement, till the whole case was embalmed in many volumes. At last one side yielded so far as to say:

'We will permit you, as an act of courtesy, to prosecute, while at the same time reserving all our sovereign rights.'

At this point of the recital I asked: 'And how did the prosecution end?'

'Ah! that is quite another matter,' said my friend. 'There was no prosecution; we were only arranging what we should do when we caught the robber; but we never caught him.'

NOT YET COMPLETE.

Miss Gushington—'What do you consid the ten best books, Mr. Seet?'

Con Seet (the young author)—'Really, I've only written six books so far, you know.'—Philadelphia 'Press.'

GOOD GUESS.

'Yes, he is a terrible woman hater.'

'Yes; I suspect that he must at some time have been a floorwalker in a departmental store.'—'Puck.'

OVERDONE.

'Sorry you failed to gain your point with him. Why didn't you take my advice and strike him after he had a good dinner?'

'I did, but the dinner was so good it caused indigestion.'

OIL NEAR VANKLEEK HILL

On the Farm of Mr. D. Continure

EXCITEMENT IN CALEDONIA TOWNSHIP.

Vankleek Hill, Ont., July 28.—There is much excitement in Caledonia Township, a few miles from here, over the supposed finding of gushing oil and gas wells. The discovery was made on the farm of Mr. D. Continure. He was boring for water, when his drill was thrown out of the ground by the force of gas; a match was applied to the gas and it burned very brilliantly for thirty-six hours, and went out. Since that time a black oily and very heavy smelling liquid is being discharged from the pipe. It burns when ignited. Mr. J. Cunningham, of Ottawa, has men on the ground and is endeavoring to secure options on various farms in the vicinity of where the discovery was made. The farmers believe they have a good thing.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKES

IN CALIFORNIA, NEBRASKA AND SOUTH DAKOTA.

Lompere, Cal., July 28.—Lompere Valley experienced a severe earthquake shock at 10.55 last night. At that time a violent shock was felt which lasted fully thirty seconds and was so severe that dishes, clocks, and other articles were thrown from shelves. The people were stricken with terror and ran from their houses, some fearing to return, as other lighter shocks continued for several hours afterwards. Another heavy shock was felt at 5 a.m., and one at 11 a.m. A large water tank was knocked over, the earth cracked at many different places, and the Santa-Ynez river bed was slightly changed at places.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 28.—Meagre advices received from Los Almos, forty-five miles north of this place, report than an unusually severe shock of earthquake occurred about eleven o'clock last night, doing damage to the property of the Western Union Oil Company, estimated at from $12,000 to $15,000.

At Harris Station, on the railway, a fissure is reported to have opened and from it a stream of water two feet deep and eighteen feet wide is now flowing. A slight shock of earthquake was felt in Santa Barbara, shortly before eleven o'clock, but no damage was done.

Omaha, Neb., July 28.—An earthquake shock, which was general over portions of Nebraska, Western Iowa, and South Dakota, occurred shortly after noon today. The disturbances were felt at a large number of towns in the three states and lasted from ten to fifteen seconds. No damage has been reported thus far, although the shock was sufficient to rattle dishes and to affect bell towers in some places.

Yankton, S.D., July 28.—An earthquake shock occurred here this afternoon, lasting about twelve seconds. The shock was accompanied by the usual rumbling noises, and moved from north-east and south-west.

WRECK ON THE ELEVATED.

SIX CARS DERAILED AND SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

New York, July 29.—A head-on collision occurred yesterday between two trains of the Brooklyn Elevated Railway, on Adams street, which resulted in the derailing of six cars, the wrecking of two and the injuring of a number of persons, at least two fatally.

The collision was at a point where the tracks diverge, and it is thought was caused by a misplaced switch.

A train bound to New York from Bath Beach, was rounding the curve, at the junction when it was run into by a train from the Bridge station.

Godfrey and Henry Moore were pinioned beneath the wreckage and probably fatally hurt. It was nearly an hour before they were released. The others injurd were mostly bruised only.

The accident drew an immense crowd in the street beneath the elevated. It cheered the firemen who were called out to assist in the rescue, and who put up ladders to the structure, and cut and sawed the wreckage from around the Moore brothers.

Charles Shattuck, motorman, of the Bath Beach train, was arrested. John Sullivan, the motorman of the other train, disappeared.

ELECTION FIGHT IN NEW JERSEY.

Camden, N.J., July 29.—The primary elections for delegates to the convention of the First Congregational district of New Jersey was held yesterday afternoon and evening in Camden, Gloucester and Salem counties, which comprise the district. The candidates for the nomination are Henry S. Loudenslager, the present congressman, and J. Alphonse Van Sant. The contest has been the most bitter ever held in South Jersey. The polls were open from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., and the three hours were marked with serious fighting. One man was killed in this city, and Joe Goddard, the well-known heavyweight pugilist, of Philadelphia, was possibly fatally shot while electioneering in Pensanken township. Another man was dangerously stabbed in this city, and a fourth man received stab wounds at Dog Corners, near Merchantville.

CHANG CHI-TUNG.

Pekin, July 29.—Chang-Chi-Tung, Viceroy of Hankow, has been appointed director of commerce. This office was first bestowed upon Li Hung Chang shortly before his death. It was intended to make it an important bureau, but the duties and jurisdiction were never defined.

KAISER AND CZAR.

Berlin, July 29.—The 'National Zeitung' states that the Kaiser will visit the Czar between Aug. 6 and 8, in the roadstead at Revol, on the occasion of the Russian naval manoeuvres.

MONEY FOR CORONATION SEATS.

London, July 29.—The first decision in the matter of liability for the return of money paid for coronation seats was given to-day. The plaintiff in the action claimed £21, which had been paid for four seats, refusing to accept half that amount, which the defendants offered to return to him. The judge ruled that the plaintiff could not recover, but granted leave to appeal, hoping that the case would go to a higher court.

YUKON TELEGRAPH

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES GOING ON STRIKE.

Ottawa, July 29.—The employees who are engaged on the Government telegraph line to the Yukon, are going on strike as a result of the action of the Minister of Public Works, the Hon. J. Israel Tarte, in reducing the number of men and in reducing the wages. At Dawson, the disgruntled men are organizing to fight against the reduction and threaten to destroy the wires if their demands are not complied with. The authorities in the northern city notified the Department at Ottawa, and the latter, it is understood, is making arrangements to detail squads from the North-West Mounted Police to guard the line. Trouble of a serious character will, it is feared, take place. The strikers contend that they have not been justly treated, and that they will take desperate measures to ensure recognition of their claims. The police have been warned of the plans of the employees and have taken precautions to preserve peace.

It is understood here that the minister considered that he was justified in dismissing a number of the men and in lowering the wages of the rest, his explanation being that he was compelled to reduce the expenditure to a figure that would make it equal to the amount provided for the completion and maintaining of the line. He promised in Parliament at the last session that he would lessen the expenditure, which up to that time, it is alleged, was extravagant. The method he has followed to attain his purpose has made the line's employees very wrathy as described.

BOER GENERALS

LIONIZED IN CAPETOWN.

Capetown, July 28.—General De Wet proved that he could evade friends as safely as he did enemies by arriving here unexpectedly this afternoon and upsetting all the elaborate plans prepared for his reception. He strolled through the streets, casually nodding to his acquaintances, and occasionally to a former opponent. Arrangements were quickly made by Afrikanders to entertain the famous leader to-night at a semi-private dinner, tickets to which already stand at five guineas ($26.25 premium).

A striking contrast to General De Wet's return was the scene on Sunday when Generals Botha and De La Rey attended church. The building was packed, mainly with women, and the service was scarcely concluded when these Capetown admirers stormed the pew in which the generals sat. With difficulty they retreated to the vestry. The congregation followed and Generals Botha and De La Rey were lifted to the vestry table. The pastor of the church warmly remonstrated, whereupon a number of those present seized the generals and carried them to carriages where another demonstration ensued.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN BETTER.

London, July 29.—The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, has so far recovered from the effects of the injuries he recently sustained by being thrown from a cab, that he will attend the House of Commons to-morrow, when the Colonial Office vote will be discussed, but it is improbable that he will attend the House for any other business before the adjournment. He still sometimes feels he effects of the accident and thinks it prudent to reserve his attention for the business of his own department.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE

MESSAGES SENT SEVERAL KILOMETRES.

Berlin, July 28.—Mr. Ernest Ruhmer, an electrical inventor, succeeded on Saturday evening in telephoning several kilometres by his wireless method. The speaking voice was perfectly audible continuously during the experiments. Mr. Ruhmer, who hitherto has used a searchlight thirty-five centimetres in diameter, intends to construct another between one hundred and two hundred centimetres, expecting to speak forty kilometres, which would be a distance sufficient to cover a modern city. It is affirmed, however, that the apparatus is too large, too expensive and too delicate to be practicable commercially, but it will be highly useful to warships in transmitting orders at sea. Mr. Rhumer's invention acts on the principle of the transformation of light waves to sound waves by using a searchlight and a microphone.

THE MARCONI PATENTS.

London, July 29.—Speaking of the criticisms of the 'Saturday Review' on the action of Mr. Marconi, in asking to amend his application for a patent for the invention of wireless telegraphy, so as to make it read, 'which was communicated to him from abroad by the Marquis Luigi Solari, of Italy,' Mr. Cuthbert Hall, London manager of the Marconi Company, said to-day that they proceeded either from ignorance or with the wilful intention of misleading the public. Mr. Marconi did use a receiving device presented to him by authority of the Italian Government, but the result obtained was not the greatest of his successes. The success of long distance results does not depend alone upon the receiving apparatus, but upon the system as a whole. All of Mr. Marconi's most important results, Mr. Hall said, were obtained by apparatus devised entirely by himself.

DEATHS FROM DROWNING.

Barrie, Ont., July 29.—One of the saddest fatalities that has happened here in many years occurred to-day when the waters of the Kempenfeldt claimed a victim in Miss Norma Leroy, daughter of D. W. Leroy, manager of the Queen's Hotel. Deceased, who was about seventeen years of age, rowed three little girls to Fisherman's Point, two miles down the bay. Here all went in bathing, Miss Leroy went beyond her depth.

Parry Sound, Ont., July 28.—A double drowning accident under very sad circumstances occurred this evening about 6 o'clock, near Two-Mile Narrows, about two miles from here, by which the lives of Miss Etta Beatty, eldest daughter of David Beatty, D.L.S., of this town, and Frank Cross, a young Englishman, were lost. The young couple were with a picnic party of Major Knifton's family, and were in bathing, when Miss Beatty, although only a few yards from the shore, got out of her depth. Mr. Cross at once rushed to her assistance, and it is said he twice seemed to be about to bring her to the surface, but finally being overpowered in his exertions, was himself drowned in the attempt to save her. Mr. Cross was known to be an exceptionally good swimmer. The bodies were recovered shortly after the accident.

Woodstock, Ont., July 28.—Gladstone Green, aged 20 years, son of Aaron Green, a well-known farmer, of East Oxford, was drowned in the Thames on Fitches Flats, in Blandford, yesterday. He and several other young men were in bathing, and Green and his brother, who could not swim, got beyond their depth. Both went down, and it was with great difficulty that either one was rescued. One brother was finally got out, but Gladstone got caught in a branch in a hole 16 feet deep. His body was in the water over four hours.

INSPECTOR MURRAY

DISGUSTED AT EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS TO OBTAIN CANADIAN BURGLARS AT FORT WAYNE, IND.

Toronto, July 28.—Inspector Murray, of the provincial detective staff, returned to-day from Fort Wayne, Ind., where he had been trying to secure the extradition of Benjamin Reilly, alias John Reilly, and William Archer, alias John Julian, who are wanted on several charges of stealing grain from farmers and several cases of burglary in Kent and Lambton counties. Extradition proceedings were commenced at Fort Wayne last week before Commissioner Logan. The two men were bound to make a strong fight and engaged three lawyers. Their whole aim was to set up an alibi. The attempt to get the men failed, and Inspector Murray is disgusted because the presiding judge allowed alibi evidence in the men's behalf, which is contrary to law. One of the prisoner's lawyers was ex-Judge Monk, who, Inspector Murray says, was the biggest man he ever saw, standing eight feet in height. These lawyers brought witnesses, twenty-five in number, from all over Wells county, who swore the accused were living in Indiana when the crimes were committed. 'The law says the alibi argument must not be heard in extradition cases,' said Inspector Murray, 'but Commissioner Logan ruled otherwise, and the big lawyer himself swore he had rented the men a house.' After hearing all the witnesses, Commissioner Logan said he would hold the case under advisement for a time before he could give his decision.'

Detective Murray was much chagrined at the position taken by Commissioner Logan, for it is the first time in any extradition proceedings that the commissioner has allowed the defence to prove an alibi. Should the commissioner hold the alibi good there will be nothing more and the men will go free.

CONSOLIDATION NOW

MR. BARTON SAYS THE EMPIRE IS NOW LARGE ENOUGH.

Glasgow, July 29.—All the colonial premiers, with the exception of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Prime Minister of Canada, who is in London, were given a great ovation here yesterday. Mr. Barton, the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth of Australia, in one of the many speeches he delivered in the course of the day, warned his hearers that the British Empire was large enough and that Britons now ought to look to consolidation rather than acquisition.

Mr. George W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, declared in a speech that the war in South Africa was prolonged to the extent it had been because there were so few colonial troops in the field.

STRIKE RIOTS IN GALICIA.

Lemberg, Galicia, Austria, July 29.—The strike in East Galicia of more than 100,000 agricultural laborers, most of them Russians, and which developed into a rising against the landed proprietors of the district, is becoming more serious. Gendarmes attacked the strikers and were attacked by them in return. Crops and farms have been destroyed. Several peasants have been wounded and others arrested.

It was reported from Vienna, on July 26, that during the rioting in East Galicia extensive stores were burned down near Lemberg, while excesses were reported from other localities. Russian students in Galicia were said to be joining in the movement, thereby adding political to economic disturbance.

DEAD FROM BLOOD POISONING.

London, Ont., July 29.—James S. Elson, a well-known butcher, is dead, the result of blood poisoning. Two months ago he injured his hand on an office file. The puncture was very small, but poisoning developed, and although deceased lingered until Sunday very little hope was entertained of his recovery.

LACROSSE COMMENT.

The 'Osma' Outsailed the 'Trident' in the Trial Races Yesterday.

MONTREAL BASEBALL TEAM SHUT OUT THE JERSEY CITY NINE—MONTREAL PROFESSIONAL GOLFERS TO MEET IN COMPETITION.

There is general satisfaction expressed in local lacrosse circles over the manner in which the Shamrock and Montreal lacrosse teams contested their match on Saturday afternoon last. With the exception of one or two minor fouls the game was the cleanest and most gentlemanly that has been witnessed in this city for years. Not once during the whole match did any one of the twenty-four players show by act or deed that he was out to play disagreeable lacrosse, indeed, there were occasions when players got away with the ball, because opponents refused to wilfully make use of the stick when the anatomy of the man in possession of the rubber was more likely to receive injury from the checking than was his lacrosse. Spectators present on the grand stand were loud in their praises at the friendly and sportsmanlike feeling displayed by both teams during the heat of the contest, and it is to be hoped in the interest of the national game that players are now beginning to see the folly of rough work.

The match played at Ottawa on Saturday afternoon last between the Capital and National teams, was the cleanest ever witnessed on the college campus. This, indeed, reflects credit upon the good judgment and determination of the young men who contested the match, to do the right thing, and to demonstrate to he public that there are gentlemen playing the game today. How pleasing it is to note the fact that throughout the ninety minutes of acual play not one foul was committed on either side, and that the referee was not once compelled to blow his whistle for rough work, or to rule off a player. This is remarkable for a lacrosse contest, and will no doubt be received as the beginning of a new era in the history of the game. Lacrosse is popular throughout Canada, and even in the United States, and will become more so, if in future players will only make it their duty to play the game in a gentlemanly and sportsmanlike way.

ROYALS WON THE GAME

DEFEATED THE JERSEY CITY NINE IN A CLOSE AND EXCITING CONTEST.

Montreal shut out the Jersey City team in the opening game of the present series at the baseball park yesterday afternoon. The pitching of Souders for the locals was first class, and the support given him on the field, with the exception of one or two instances, was all that could be desired. Souders displayed excellent control, and it seemed, whenever necessary, that he could let out a notch. He delivered every imaginable kind of ball, from a drop curve to an up shot, and from an in ball to an out turn. In short, his work was puzzling. It was great pitching, and he received unstinted applause from the grand stand.

Fertsch was in the box for Jersey City, and also pitched good ball. The visitors were fast in the field, but it was their day to lose. Quinlan surprised the 'fans' by timely hitting, and to him belongs the credit of bringing in Montreal's run.

The locals made the only run scored in the third innings, and this is how it was done: Quinlan led off with a two base hit. Johnston, who was next up, sacrificed, and Quinlan reached third. Souders was struck out, but Stafford hit a puzzling grounder along the third base line, which Shindle failed to get up in time, and Quinlan dashed over the home plate amid the cheers of the grand stand.

Sherbrooke, July 28.—The exhibition game of lacrosse played here on Saturday between the local club and Hochelaga, was witnessed by a large number of spectators, and resulted in favor of Sherbrooke by 5 to 1. NATIONAL LACROSSE CLUB

EXECUTIVE DENIES THAT THERE IS TROUBLE IN THE RANKS OF THE TEAM.

The members of the executive of the National lacrosse club are somewhat annoyed over rumors prevalent in senior lacrosse circles to the effect that there is trouble in the ranks of the team, and that as a result of certain difficulties with several of the players, they did not accompany the Nationals to Ottawa on Saturday afternoon last when they played the Capitals.

A prominent official of the National club said to-day that members of the National team and the executive were never on better terms, and if certain of the old players did not go to Ottawa it was not because there was any difficulty existing within the club, but because personal interests would not permit of their going.

'The Nationals are not the kind of men to throw up the sponge,' he said; 'they are out to play lacrosse, and will do so to the very end of the season.'

The Nationals are hopeful of winning several of the matches yet to be played, and are daily putting in effective practice.

THE WINGFIELD SCULLS.

London, July 29.—H. H. Cloutte, London Rowing Club, won the Wingfield sculls at Putney to-day, beating R. B. Etherington Smith, Leander Rowing Club, and H. J. Beresford, Kensington Rowing Club, after a splendid race.

THE C.A.A.O. REGATTA.

Brockville, Ont., July 29.—This is the week of the twenty-third regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen which takes place on the splendid course of the Brockville Rowing Club, opposite Brockville, on the broad St. Lawrence. The Winipeg scullers, who will take part in several events, arrived last night, and are the first on the scene. They are a big, husky lot. They came early in order to get acquainted with the course. The Brockville fours and doubles are training hard, and their supporters are anticipating a fine showing. Perfect arrangements have been made for the reception and entertainment of the visiting oarsmen. The local committee is offering a handsome cup for a war canoe race. Entries are expected from Ottawa, Montreal, Carleton Place and Smith's Falls.

SAILING AT ST. LAMBERT.

Colson to the St. Lambert Boating Club for the sailing skiff, was sailed in the St. Lambert Bay on Saturday afternoon, and was won by Mr. Andrew Irving. Mr. E. C. Short led throughout the race until the last leg, when he had the misfortune to capsize. The following gentlemen started in this race: Mr. Gordon, Mr. D. Beatty, Mr. E. C. THE GUN

MOOSE FOR THE ADIRONDACKS.

Saranac Lake, July 28.—The first instalment of moose imported into the Adirondacks for the purpose of re-stocking the north woods, has arrived, and the animals were liberated in one of the densest parts of the mountains about Uncas Pond, near the Fulton chain. There were two bulls and four cows. They were captured in the forests of Ontario.

On the arrival of the moose at Old Forge they were taken in charge by Mr. Fred. Ball, the game protector. The arrival of the moose marks the successful outcome of efforts begun nearly two years ago. An appropriation of $5,000 was made by the Legislature for the purpose of capturing the moose and transporting them to the Adirondacks.

IRISHMEN OBJECT.

London, July 28.—In the House of Commons to-day John G. S. MacNeill, Irish Nationalist, moved a protest against the appointment of Lord Alverstone, Lord Chief Justice of England, and Sir John Bigham, judge of the King's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, who, together with Major-General Sir John Ardagh, recently agent of the government on the South African Claims Commission, were appointed last week a royal commission to proceed to South Africa on Aug. 9 and enquire into the sentences imposed by the military courts, with a view to ascertaining whether it is expedient that such sentences or fines be remitted or reduced. Mr. MacNeill maintained that the attitude of Lord Alverstone and Sir John Bingham toward the Jameson raid commission utterly unfitted them to fulfil their present duties.

Mr. Brodrick, the War Secretary, defended the selection of Lord Alverstone and Sir John, and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House, supported the government.

Mr. MacNeill's motion was defeated by 210 votes to 64.
