Ponti Action Campbell's Bay hears address by Federal official

Mr Carmel Seguin addressed the Campbell's Bay branch of Ponti-Action at a dinner meeting held in the Oasis Restaurant, Bryson, last Tuesday evening. He said he would have thought, to read in outside papers, that Pontiac was a place where little or nothing happens, but after coming up here a few times, and especially on meeting the active group in Campbell's Bay, he had a far better impression. "I see", he said, "Pontiac County is a wonderful and lively place."

He urged more women to take courses. "There is always something else to learn, he said, and he advised the women if the courses they wanted were not being offered they should keep pressing for them, insisting that pressure gets things done.

He said that when women have more confidence in themselves they can be more useful, and suggested that this might be one good result of International Women's Year.

Four projects approved for youth in Pontiac

Four Opportunity for Youth Projects have been accepted thus far for Pontiac County.

At Chapeau, Karen Conroy, Rosanne Sallafranque, and Pierre Venasse will receive $5630 to employ about seven students in an ambitious theatre project.

They plan to show children and adults what the world is really like through the medium of drama with plays on stage and arts and crafts used in the construction of sets for the presentations. They also have plans to develop team work and respect for one another through sports activities and develop interest in imaginative activities. Richard Denault and Wayne MacIntyre are the adult resource people for this project.

At Bryson, Colette Normandeau, Carmen Lanoix and Anita Leach have organized a project which has been granted $6480 to provide recreational activities under the title of "La Palestre Souriante". They will set up teams to organize sports, theatre, painting, dancing, arts and crafts, and eventually put out a bilingual booklet to explain what they have done. Leo Piche and Francis Devlin are the sponsors of this group.

From the Pontiac High School, three students have been granted $3850 to study, photograph, research and identify the interesting old buildings throughout the County. On this project are James Steeves of Shawville, Heather Smiley of Clarendon, and Richard Doyle of Bryson. Their faculty advisors are Frank Andai and George Stones. Their interest will centre mainly on the buildings which are still in good condition and of special architectural significance. The results of their study will be presented to the Pontiac Historical Society.

The largest grant thus far announced goes to Lac Cayamant where $7470 will be used to employ about eight students in the environmental improvement of the area. Mario Gravelle, Richard Lafond and Gerald Courcelles are in charge of this project whose main aim is the cleaning up of the stream which flows through the village of Lac Cayamant and give it back its original natural beauty.

To combat pollution, during and after the initial clean-up, they intend to carry on a project of public education. Gerard Labelle and Jeannine Jette are the adult advisors on this project which will also include some special outdoor activities on the improved riverside areas, such as outdoor dances, bingo and bonfire celebrations.

They hope to set up an information booth for tourists and to turn their village into a special tourist attraction, after the stream has been beautified.

Land sales tomorrow at the County Building

At the County Building in Campbell's Bay on Thursday, May 8th, the annual tax sales will take place.

Properties throughout the County of Pontiac whose taxes have not been paid will be put up for auction by the County Cler, Clifford Robillard. This particular auction is not your ordinary, going-to-the-highest-bidder type auction; in fact in one way it is a going-to-the-lowest-bidder auction.

Each bidder must bid the total amount of the tax owing on the particular property and the first bidder bids that amount on the total amount of property in question. Then the second bidder wanting that same property cannot raise the bid but he can lower the percentage of the property. For instance he will bid on 90% of the property. The next bidder will bid for 80% and so forth until the bidding stops at which time the bidder with the lowest percentage gets the property- or almost. He then has to wait two years before he gets a clear title, during which time the original owner can reclaim the whole property by simply paying the tax owned plus expenses.

Also the percent of the property not bid on goes back to the original owner whose tax is paid by the buyer, of course, since that tax amount is the amount of the bid. Then if he doesn't pay taxes for another two years the part of the property he has retained goes up for auction again.

Sometimes people whose parents or grandparents have died and not left a clear title to family property use this means of getting clear title. They let it go up for taxes and then either bid for it or buy it back during the next two years. This then gives them clear title to the family farm.

Sometimes the bidder gets over enthusiastic. One lady a few years ago bought such a small percent of a cottage lot she couldn't have built a dog house on it.

This year there are a hundred properties up for the tax auction and anyone can bid. The sale starts at ten in the morning and Mr Robillard expects a good crowd.

Police News

The Quebec Police Force were involved in several interesting actions this week here in Pontiac County including Marijuana on Calumet Island and a crack in the bridge at Portage du Fort.

Following an anonymous phone call they went to investigate the home of Theo Dufault, a young resident of Calumet Island who teaches school in Fort Coulonge. There they found marijuana plants growing in his cottage and prepared to lay charges because growing marijuana is against the law. Constable Fortier is in charge of the investigation.

And at Portage du Fort, a routine inspection of the substructure of the bridge across the Ottawa River revealed cracks which were deemed to be sufficiently serious to close the bridge pending further investigation. Monday evening those people who work or shop or visit in Ontario were obliged to leave their cars on the Ontario side and return by foot across the bridge which was being closed to traffic by the QPF.

By midnight the experts had arrived and done their inspections and decided that the bridge would be safe for light traffic, cars and light trucks up to half ton. All other traffic will have to use the Allumette Island bridge until further notice, according to the Voirie officials at Shawville.

HOW TO FIGHT RURAL DECAY - RAMPANT URBANIZATION?

That was the headline in The Citizen recently and our first reaction was the other question "How to fight urban decay-rampant ruralization?" The problems of decay either in the biggest cities or the tiniest villages are common to all peoples and will never be solved until they are viewed with a broad outlook; an outlook that doesn't stop at the edge of one's own problem area.

We've stated often that cities can relieve the giant problems they face because of over-crowding by improving services in the surrounding rural areas. Likewise, the small village will only achieve disaster by falling blindly into the same traps which are destroying our biggest cities.

If the small places don't take planning ahead seriously, they are inviting trouble. We can escape the troubles we create, or allow to be created, simply by growing old and dying. Then the next generation will be responsible for cleaning up the mess.

But wouldn't it be better if we would make clear plans for the future of our area to prevent the destruction of the things we think are valuable and to improve what needs improving over the years!

And wouldn't it be grand if those with the power to spend public money would realize that by increasing services to the cities and ignoring the country they are locking in their problems.

Neither urbanization nor ruralization should be rampant!

Grist and miscellaneous items

There are three branches of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) in Pontiac County. At Quyon the leader is Mrs Jean McCann, at Shawville the leader is Mrs Linda Worden, and at Campbell's Bay the leader is Mrs Olive Whelen. TOPS is about to celebrate a tenth annual provincial recognition day on May 17th in Montreal at which time they will honor their best losers of the year. When a member has reached their weight goal as set by their own doctor they graduate to the honour society of TOPS which is called KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly).

Happy to see the Renfrew Mercury was able to carry on despite their fire. They were quick to acknowledge all the printshops in Ontario offering to help them the week of the fire but forgot to mention that we also offered the use of our equipment. As it turned out they didn't need help. They simply went down to Arnprior and bought the Chronicle, lock, stock and presses.

To the Royal Bank of Canada Monthly Letter we are indebted for this true description of a committee. A committee, the almost universal sanctuary of people who do not wish to become personally involved in a proposed action, can explore and deplore, but if anything is to be done the job is handed to a person

On the Pontiac Now show, Channel 5 at 11:30 Sunday night, last week the young pupils of Debbie Bechamp who sang and played their guitars were Blair Hendry, Marguerite Vaillancourt, Sandra Sullivan, Cathy Fleury, Lila Chaput, Michel Allard, Barry Gleason, Beatrice Chartrand and Maureen Turner. They get better every time we have them appear on this show and Debbie has promised to come back later in the year, after her next group gets well started in the fall.

Apparently there has been very little response to the pleas from the CSSSO for public interest in elections to the various boards under their wing. This would include the CLSC in Fort Coulonge, the hospitals at Chapeau and Shawville, the two old folks homes in Fort Coulonge and Campbell's Bay and the proposed one in Shawville, as well as the CLSC under discussion in Quyon. Anyone who has sat on these boards knows that all decisions are actually made in Quebec but having the local board just gives them the appearance of semi-local autonomy, participatory democracy and all that. So there must be local boards. Every single word we receive about the makeup or need for these boards is in French and since communication between these boards and the government is all in French it seems logical that our best interests would be served if the trustees were all totally able to understand these communications. If this bothers anyone in Pontiac County we have yet to hear from them. To our knowledge there has never been an organized public outcry against unilingual French in Pontiac County. The only people who are interested in bilingualism are the Feds, and they can't do anything about it for us as long as we are part of Quebec

Letter To The Editor

Hull, the 1st May 1975

The Equity,
To Whom it may concern,

After reading the article about the car crash in which a Quebec Police cruiser was involved killing five people, here is my reply.

I am a Police Sergeant now employed with the City of Hull. I used to work in your area at Campbell's Bay. I agree with you that if the inquest wasn't held in the proper way it should be reopened. No doubt that if somebody was in fault, it should come out, and be told to the public.

What I would like you to know and where I don't agree is when you mention that you can't think of any reason for a police car to speed. I remember about nine years ago I got a call from the hospital in Shawville and they were asking assistance to pick up some blood from a Red Cross Truck leaving Ottawa. The doctor at that time ... had to perform a very urgent operation and told me that if he did not operate immediately, a four year old boy would surely die. He asked to make it as fast as possible. I have a five year old son myself and I admit truly that I drove down that road like "hell" to meet the Red Cross truck in Luskville and get the blood to the hospital. The little boy was operated on and saved. Was it really worth it? I would tell you hundreds of cases in which the fast action of the police was a primary step in saving lives, helping the wounded in car accidents, or apprehending criminals!

The police does not need new instructions about obeying the same rules of the road in which they are employed to make the public to obey. They already have these instructions and they are the subject to the same rules or even tougher than the ones the public have. Do not ask any policeman not to speed when he has to because one of these days you could be the one to regret it and furthermore the policeman with all his feelings will not listen to you.

I would not like to see one of my men not "breaking the rules" when life is in danger because I would "surely break the rules" too!

Réjean Lépine Sergeant
Crime Investigation bureau, Night Patrol, City of Hull.

(Editors Note: Thanks to Sgt Lépine for giving several good reasons why a police car might exceed the speed limits. THE EQUITY would be delighted to publish the details of the "hundreds of cases" to which he refers because this sort of news is necessary to achieve good public relations between the police and the rest of the citizens. Probably the day he was saving that little boy's life we were phoning Campbell's Bay for Police News and being told that "nothing had happened!")

Re Anglican Church in Cawood grounds and cemetery. I am surprised you would state what you did until you know the facts. There is 59 graves in St Peters Cemetery Cawood. 34 of those are relatives of Cecil Milford, parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, etc. He never paid one penny for the upkeep of church or cemetery in his life. We are going to clean it up this summer with money from the sale of the Church. After advertising Church for sale in three papers Equity included, we sold to highest bidder $250.00. If Mr Milford has taken the initiative why don't he put his money where his mouth is.

John W Foster.

(Editor's Note: Apparently Mr Milford's "initiative" involved little more than complaining to us and asking us to complain in print. However, as we stated, we would consider the responsibility for the cemetery to be in the hands of people whose families are buried there. If the above writer is correct one might imagine that the man with 34 relatives (more than half the graveyard) should get in there and clean it up, organize perpetual care, and pay his share of the cost; or else quit complainin.)

Upper Ottawa Valley Heritage Symposium

Under the sponsorship of The Ottawa Valley Historical Society, an Upper Ottawa Valley Heritage Symposium will be held from 9:30 am to 5:00 pm on Saturday, May 24, 1975, in the cafeteria-auditorium at Algonquin College, Pembroke Campus.

Peter Stickler has acquired fifty acres of wood and lands, with a creek, along the Bryson-Portage Highway and hopes to create a senior citizens, non-profit summer camp. A small lake is in the making and he hopes to turn the area into a sanctuary for Canada Geese as it is on their line of migration. It sounds like a magnificent idea. We just hope he gets co-operation everywhere he turns for help in this ambitious project and that nobody puts blocks in his way.

That last item makes us think of how often one hears people putting down others with deprecatory remarks. If folks would get behind each others projects people with good ideas would be less frightened to come forward with them. There are several reasons why some people like to laugh down and generally discourage others from doing anything different. One is fear of the unknown, an adult version of fear of the dark; another is the hope that by making someone else look stupid they can make themselves seem bright, and this works to a certain extent, among their own personal followers; another is the insecurity which makes one feel challenged if anyone else is achieving something useful. Then there's this tremendous drive among some individuals to show active disinterest and demonstrate total boredom in the face of anything which threatens to excite them. I blame this awful characteristic on parents, teachers, preachers and other adults who squelch childhood manifestations of enthusiasm, particularly if noisy. It is hard for a teenager or adult to retrain himself to show emotion when he has been taught not to, but without emotion there is little enthusiasm, and without enthusiasm, nothing good ever happens.

In the report about the Municipal Council of Quyon etc... last week we made a serious error. That was $400.00 they granted to the Medical Center, not $4.00, of course.

Someone wanted to know why we call it Quyon etc ... instead of the name appointed by the Dept of Municipal Affairs. Well it's this way. The founders called it "Quyon", or actually "Quio", a hundred years ago and the name "Pontiac" means a much larger (including 22 municipalities) area and only serves to confuse when applied to the amalgamated municipalities of Quyon etc ...

He asked that women should not try to change their roles but to add to them.

Mr Seguin would like to see the local organizations encourage each woman to be what she is supposed to be, a happy and well adjusted woman, but also to take part in the community affairs, even in politics. He asked the women to be a part of the world with the men, as complementary partners.

"If there is ever happiness in a home or in a village, it is because of the contributions of women", said Mr Seguin. All the ladies accepted the compliment.

Also speaking were Ponti Action President Alice Lawn, who conducted an election of a Branch President (Mrs Jeanne Haley), and who also explained some of the plans of the County-wide group, and Rosaleen Dickson who described her project for a children's bilingual TV series, and Social Animator Eugene Pigeon who was the master of ceremonies and the only man present aside from the guest speaker, Mr Seguin. Ponti Action Secretary Genevieve Cahill presented Mr Seguin with a gift from the ladies of Campbell's Bay. Their next meeting will be May 27th at the Legion Hall in Campbell's Bay. Mrs Lawn urged other towns in Pontiac to organize local branches of Ponti Action and Mr Seguin said that if they get well organized this year and plan a good project for next year it would most likely receive financial help from the Federal government again.

Dear Editor,

It is with disgust I read my sisters Equity that you would print such ignorance (see last week's letter). I too have ancestors buried in Cawood Cemetery and did not realize how many till it was cleared. It is because of people like the letter writer it was in such bad shape, neither gave or did, just complained so the sooner he does like wise the more improvements can be made. The church building was sold to a private owner and thus went to shambles. The best thing the clergy did was to have the owner dismantle the building. The people are responsible as clergy come and go and the present one has improved things 100% documents. Chairman of the organizing committee is Clyde C. Kennedy, Archeologist and Past President. In charge of local arrangements in Pembroke is Mrs J H Classey, President.

Anyone interested in the symposium is welcome to attend and it is hoped that various organizations that do not have museum or other heritage facilities but which have an interest in the subject will send delegates. The following heritage groups will be providing speakers: The Ottawa Valley Historical Society, Pembroke and region, The Polish Canadian Pioneer Centre, Wilno and Barrys Bay region, Heritage Renfrew, Renfrew region, Arnprior and District Museum, A High School Museum Project (Opeongo High School), Golden Lake Indian Reserve, Pontiac Historical Society, Shawville and other Pontiac communities, McNab Parks and Museum Committee, McNab Township, and the Historical Administration Branch, Ministry of Culture and Recreation, Toronto.

For some talks it will be helpful to show slides (a carousel projector will be available)- of museum facilities, heritage exhibits, or buildings and sites that merit preservation.

A major objective of the symposium is to have the executives and other members of Upper Ottawa Valley heritage organizations meet each group, exchange ideas for programs, and discuss the needs of the various groups. From this point of view, this is a pioneering symposium in this region. It is hoped that all the heritage groups will send good sized delegations.

Some of the groups have indicated they will set up small displays such as: photographs of their museums and exhibits; historical illustrations; or data related to more specialist talks such as the mounting of photographs and

by Ted Christie

One of the real success stories in Shawville recreation is that of the Shawville Tennis Club. A product of the efforts of a handful of tennis enthusiasts, plus the co-operation of local institutions and concerned local citizens, has resulted in a sports facility worth about $15,000.00.

Despite what seemed to be insurmountable odds the executive, formed at the founding meeting in June 1972, proceeded with the project. The courts were built on land donated by the Western Quebec School Board with help from Hilton Mines, Francon, the local Recreation Association with all the muscle and much time provided by a large number of interested individuals.

Mr Ted Christie, president since the Club's founding meeting, recently retired with all debts paid and a credit balance in the bank. Mr John Petty, who succeeded Mr Christie, has inherited the basic ingredients for an organization which can become one of Shawville's most active and enthusiastic clubs.

Tennis is a pleasant sociable sport, as well as a demanding game, and we hope in the future our Club will produce both top-rate players and a large group who play for fun and recreation.

A considerable student membership speaks well for the future of the Club, as well as newly elected, efficient and concerned executive.

The following are the members elected to the 1975 executive at a general meeting held last winter. President- Mr John Petty, Vice Presidents- Mrs Josie Tipping, Mr Sandy Welburn, Secretary- Mrs Eric Ross, Treasurer- Mr Wilf Tipping. Convenors- Grounds and Equipment- Mr Ivan Prendergast. Social- Mrs Madeleine Latrelle, Mrs Betty Petty. Publicity Mr Ted Christie.

Mark Cuddiehy of Fieldville, Billy Fitzpatrick and Pat O'Connor of Low. The girls team are Patsy Sullivan and Lee McLaughlin of Venosta, Nora Montague, Shirley Erickson, Betty Ann Erickson, Helen Cruickshank, Elaine Sarrazin, Janet Egan, Mary Ann O'Connor, all of Low.

Dairy Support Prices

Mr Eugene Whelan, Minister of Agriculture, has announced new dairy price supports for butter and skim milk powder. Butter support price has increased 13 cents to $1.03 a pound. The support price for skim milk powder increased 5 cents to 64 cents a pound. However, consumers are not affected by the support price change for powdered skim milk as the federal government will increase its subsidy by 5 cents.

An increased direct producer subsidy will achieve a target support price of $11.02 for industrial milk. The increase in prices to the consumer will be just over one-tenth of one per cent in the Consumer Price Index.

Old Age Security & Guaranteed Income Supplement payments increased

Monthly payment for single persons receiving both the basic OAS pension and maximum GIS is now $209.99. Married pensioners receiving the basic pension and maximum supplement will each be paid $200.50 monthly.

The basic Old Age Security pension has risen from $120.06 to $123.42. The maximum guaranteed income supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner, is now $86.57 up from $84.21.

Foreign Ownership

Foreign Control of Canadian business declined in 1972 to 35% of the combined assets of all companies - the lowest point in five years. This figure compares with a peak of 36.6% in 1971.

Statistics Canada considers a corporation to be Canadian controlled if more than 50% of its voting shares are Canadian-owned. In 1972, there was a shift in control of the Aluminum Co of Canada Ltd and the International Nickel Co of Canada Ltd and the International Nickel Co of Canada Ltd from foreign to Canadian interests.

Government Action for Women

The government is committed to establishing equality for women before the law; already, all discriminatory provisions affecting employment in the public service, the Canada Pension Plan and the Statute Law concerning Veterans and Civilian War Allowances have been amended. Further provisions for equal treatment of men and women are presently before the House. These include: Bill C-16, an omnibus bill amending eight federal statutes; a new Citizenship Act (C-20) enabling children to derive Canadian citizenship from either parent; Bill C-52 amending eleven superannuation statutes and Bill C-26 to amend the Civil Service Insurance Act. A bill to establish a Human Rights Code to combat discrimination on the grounds of sex and marital status among other things, will be forthcoming.

Vehicle Emissions Testing Program

Minister Marchand has announced that the Canadian motor vehicle industry is responding successfully to federal exhaust emission requirements. The results of the 1974 federal test program show a significant improvement in 1974 models over the 1973's. In addition to exhaust emissions being lower in 1974 model vehicle, only 16 per cent of the 1974 vehicle required engine servicing in order to pass the tests as opposed to 68 per cent of the 1973 vehicles.

Large turn out for Ecumenical Service

On Sunday evening last another Combined Service of Witness was held sponsored by the local Clergy and held in the United Church. Rev Macintosh, Pastor of the Church and President of the Pontiac Clergy Association presided and welcomed all present. It was most gratifying to see such a fine representation of the local Churches present on this occasion. A delightful feature was the fine number of young people who came to share in this event. The following Ministers also took part - Archdeacon M K Roberts, St Paul's Anglican Church, Rev Orville White, Bethel Pentecostal Church, Rev Harland Worden, Wesleyan Church and Pastor Lloyd Moore of the Standard Church.

Combined Choir led the singing under the direction of Mrs George Campbell, and presiding at the organ Mrs C Edgar Hodgins.

Mr and Mrs Wilson McCleary welcomed to Shawville

A Surprise Party was held last Saturday evening for Mr and Mrs Wilson McCleary welcoming them to their new home in Shawville.

As a gift from all their friends, they received an Electric Frying Pan.

A delicious lunch was served later by the hostess, Mrs Eric Zimmerling. A lovely time was had by all.

Meeting about Exceptional Children

The Council for Exceptional Children in Canada has been examining the condition of exceptional children in Canada and planning programs geared to their needs. It consists of people engaged in professional work related to the education of exceptional children, people interested in the subject and full time university students.

The exceptional children whose special needs are studied include gifted children, those with learning disabilities, communication disorders, physically handicapped, home-bound, hospitalized, visually handicapped, mentally retarded and those with behavioral disorders.

A community group working in association with the Council for Exceptional Children might engage in projects as diverse as establishing houses for emotionally disturbed teenagers, daycare centers, or projects for gifted students.

A local group could also be a force in effecting legislation. The C.E.C. keeps its members posted on legislative judicial and other governmental developments that affect exceptional children.

Mr Henry Minto, Governor of the Quebec Chapter of the C.E.C. is interested in speaking to local groups and the possible formation of a chapter in Western Quebec. He is the director of the Mackay Centre for Deaf and Crippled children and will meet with people interested in founding a chapter of the C.E.C. on Friday evening, May 9th, at Aylmer Elementary School, Mountain Road, Aylmer.

Prof Howard Stutt of McGill University will also speak. All are invited to attend this meeting.

BILLY GRAHAM says about the new motion picture "Time to Run"...

I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully, families seeing it will be brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

I urge you to take your children... or your parents... to see TIME TO RUN when it comes to your community. You may find it more of a mirror than a motion picture!
