PREFACE.

The Publishers take pleasure in presenting the Directory for 1904-1905 with the utmost confidence of its being received by its patrons and the public generally with the same favor and approval accorded previous issues.

A work of this kind to be really valuable must be in all respects thoroughly reliable; and with a full appreciation of this fact every precaution is taken in order to secure the accuracy of the information; but it has to be taken into account that the whole of the work—compilation and printing—is done between the 4th of May and the 12th of July, a period of ten weeks, and is a task that calls for the greatest anxiety and care.

It has always been the aim of the Publishers to place the work in the hands of the subscribers at the earliest possible date in July, but this is becoming a more difficult task each year, as the growth of the City adds to the work, and there is a limit to the number of compilers who can be placed on it.

The Directory has increased some 30 pages this year, and this to a large extent represents additional names and occupied houses. The space occupied last year with some special advertisements (Headlines), is also filled up with new names. The large increase in the number of names contained in the Directory bears out the claims for the steady and rapid growth of the City and suburbs, a fact which should be most gratifying to all who are interested in the progress and advancement of their home.

The Directory contains about 105,000 names, a greater number by several thousand than ever given before, and these represent a population of 373,000 for the City and outskirts, or, deducting for the outskirts 79,000, a population for the City proper of 294,000. The number of streets in the City and outskirts number some 860, and our returns give about 800 unoccupied stores, houses and tenements, a large decrease on the number reported last year. There are about 50,500 residences in the City and about 9,100 stores and offices.

The names of those residing in the outskirts of the City (except the residents of Bordeaux, Lachine, Longueuil, St Lambert, Village Ahuntsic, Ville St Laurent and St Pierre aux Liens (Blue Bonnets), will be found in the Alphabetical portion of the Directory.

The Miscellaneous portion will be found as complete as ever. Where information is wanting about some society or corporation the blame for the omission rests with the party who should have supplied it.

The Advertisers' Classified Directory is now a feature of the Directory, and as it is steadily increasing in size must now be of great value to those requiring to use it. Being printed on colored paper, its position is easily found. In its pages are the names of the principal and most progressive firms in their several lines of business.

As usual, the Directory is divided into five parts, (1) The Miscellaneous Directory, (2) The Advertisers' Classified Directory, (3) The Street Directory, (4) The Alphabetical Directory, (5) The Outskirts.
