NEW YORK ROBBERIES.

An English Sporting Man and a French Journalist Badly Victimized.

New York, Oct. 31.

An English sporting man, whose name the police refuse to give, informed the Police Superintendent that in his ramblings he met two men who volunteered to show him "the sights." They wandered about till he got drunk, and was left asleep in a saloon. When he woke up he found that he had been robbed of a valuable watch and chain and $100 in money. A detective arrested John McQuillan, whom the Englishman identified as one of his companions.

On the arrival of the steamer City of Montreal yesterday from Liverpool an individual named Heraud, of France, calling himself Pedro Monte, a second class passenger, obtained possession of the baggage of Henry Guimard, the well-known Parisian journalist. The baggage was in four trunks and was valued at $1,000, and contained foils for fencing jewelry, &c. The Police Inspector telegraphed to Montreal to arrest the swindler, the baggage having been checked for that city. Heraud told Guimard that his home was at Fort Couch, Texas, and that he was in the cattle raising business in company with a Belgian.

OUTRAGE ON A BRITISH VESSEL.

The Offenders Punished.

It appears that the report made by the British Commissioner respecting the outrage on the vessel Dauntless by the natives of Api, West Coast of Africa, has resulted in the authorities having taken steps to obtain reparation. It will be remembered that the natives of Api fired on a boat's crew of the Dauntless, by which the chief officer was killed, and a Government agent and several other persons wounded. Her Majesty's ship Wolverine has visited the scene of the outrage, and requested the natives to give up the murderers and others implicated in the affair. This they refused to do, when a party from the Wolverine landed, and proceeding some little distance inland, destroyed four villages and plantations. The natives had deserted the villages on the approach of the English sailors, and escaped. There were no casualties to the English force.

MANITOBA.

Progress of the Metropolis of the North West.

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.

The Times this morning has over a column reviewing the progress of the city. Upwards of 400 tenements and stores have been erected this season at a cost of nearly $1,000,000. The assessment has increased from two to five millions and the population from two to ten thousand in less than six years. One million and a quarter, in real estate, is reported as passing through the Registry Office this year, an average of nearly $25,000 in weekly transactions. The city revenue is estimated this year at $80,000, and the expenditure is for the first time supposed to be within the income. The indebtedness is reduced to less than $400,000, against which are assets and permanent improvements far in excess of that amount. The trade and commerce has increased immensely. Canadian imports have increased from $225,000 in 1872 to over three and a-half millions in 1880, and the foreign imports from $900,000 to a million and a quarter. The exports have increased from $125,000 to over $562,000. The Customs duties have increased from nearly $47,000 to nearly $298,000. The Internal Revenue has increased from $4,000 in 1873 to over $65,700 in 1880. The carrying trade by rail and steamer is placed at about 50,000 tons, comprising general merchandise, agricultural implements, stocks, farm produce, furs, fuel and lumber. The industrial establishments are represented as in their infancy yet, but manufactures evince a tendency to grow with larger railway facilities.

A musical festival with the combined voices of nearly all the city choirs is to be held at London about the beginning of the new year.

FRECHETTE AND THE CHURCH.

The Poet and his Writings Denounced from the Parish Church Pulpit.

The Rev. F. Martineau, P.S.S., created much commotion among his congregation on Monday morning by making some allusions in his sermon which were intended to apply to Mr. L. H. Frechette, the Canadian laureate poet. He said:—

"Our ancestors in Heaven tell us that we have heretofore known how to respect God and the things of God, and it on a festive occasion in honor of a crowned laureate, a descendant of Voltaire had taken the liberty of belching forth sacrilegious wit on the sacred writings and the songs of Solomon, we should have been far from approving these abominations by laughter full of cowardice and blasphemy."

FARMING IN ENGLAND.

Mr. Sparrow Describes His Farm and What He Does With It.

Mr. Sparrow, one of the English agricultural delegates now in the Eastern Provinces, says his farm is situated in Gloucestershire and comprises about 140 acres. For this he pays an annual rental of £2 an acre or £280 sterling in all. The tithes that he has to contribute amount to about 4s. 6d. per acre, and he has also to pay a poor tax of about £25 a year, in addition to a small tax on income. About 130 acres of his farm are permanent meadow land and 10 acres permanent arable land. About half of the 130 acres is mown every year and the remaining part is used as a pasture for from 40 to 50 head of cattle, of which about 20 are cows, 12 young stock, and 15 calves. On this land about 40 sheep are also grazed every year. He never sells any of his hay, but uses it all for feeding his stock. The yield of hay is about a ton to the acre. Five acres of the arable land are used for the cultivation of wheat, and on the remainder oats, potatoes, barley, etc., are grown. Off his farm he sells from ten to fifteen cows and calves each year, and the beef brings from 65s to 80s per hundred weight. The pork brings from 10s to 12s per twenty pounds, and he sells about £60 worth of each, equal to $300 of our money. The food for the pigs, including barley, meal and Indian corn, comes nearly altogether from this side of the water. Very little of the crop has been sold by him of late years, as the yield has not been large. The sales formerly amounted to about £100 every year, but lately this has reduced by about one-half. The yield of wheat is from 20 to 30 bushels per acre, and it generally sells for about 5s or 6s a bushel, though last year a sack of four bushels only brought 18s 6d. The yield of potatoes is 160 bushels to the acre, each bushel weighing sixty pounds, and they bring about 10s a sack of three bushels to the acre.

Of late years the prices of the crops and surplus cattle have not come up to the demands of the rent, tithes, and taxes, so that it would seem that but little money has been made on a tenant farm in the Old Country during the last year or two.

RELIGIOUS FEUD IN NEW CALEDONIA.

Advices from New Caledonia to Paris state that the colony has been the scene of a religious feud which has been attended with loss of life. It appears that at a place called Mare very unpleasant relations have existed between the Protestants and Roman Catholics, which reached a climax on Sunday, August 1. It is stated that the Roman Catholics provoked the Protestants to fight, and hostilities commenced the following day, the result being that twenty-two Roman Catholic natives were killed. No mention is made of any loss of life on the Protestant side, but it is thought they must have suffered severely.

The St. John river has risen considerably, and the great jam of logs at Grand Falls has broken. The logs are now coming down.

The steamship Emmore, on the voyage from Montreal to Bremen, sprang a leak and foundered at sea on the 23rd ultimo. The crew were saved and landed at Queenstown.

REGULATING THE SALE OF POISONS.

Triangular Bottles Recommended—Druggists to Place Poisons in Separate Cabinets

Efforts are being made to introduce in the coming session of the Legislature of Quebec a bill to compel druggists to place poisons in triangular bottles, similar to those now used for mucilage and ink. Triangular pots will also be recommended when ointments of a poisonous character are prescribed. A Star reporter, in conversation with one of the projectors of this bill, was informed that accidents were constantly occurring through mistakes made in searching for bottles in the dark, and by children and illiterate persons. If, however, triangular bottles were used, children, servants, and those unable to read would soon learn that the contents of triangular bottles were dangerous, and thus many mistakes would be avoided and valuable lives saved. It is also proposed to place a safeguard on the making up of prescriptions in drug stores by compelling druggists to place all poisonous drugs in their establishments in locked bureaus. When poisons are necessary in the making up of prescriptions the clerk will be more careful, and will not be liable to compound a deadly draught in place of a simple medicine, as is now frequently done through carelessness or incompetency. This plan of placing dangerous drugs in a locked cabinet has been a great success in Germany.

MILITARY.—It is announced that the Tenth Royals, the disbanded of Toronto, will be continued. All the present officers will be gazetted out and the command will be given to Mr. Grassett, who served with the 100th Regiment for some years, and one of the majorities to Mr. Dawson, formerly of the 47th. Some officers may be taken from the present ones. An old soldier named Stewart gave himself up to the police at Toronto stating that he did so from conscientious motives. He says that he is able to buy his discharge if permitted, to do so. He deserted in 1871 from the 71st Highland Light Infantry.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS!!!—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PARKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations.

Coughs.—Brown's Bronchial Troches are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchitis Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—Brown's Bronchial Troches act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect on all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. CURE SORES AND SNEEZE and find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH or Sore Throat requires immediate attention, as neglect oftentimes results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in Jars. July 25, 1880. Jan 25-17

Colonel De Winton, Governor-General's Secretary, will go to England immediately. Her Royal Highness will not return to Canada this winter, her health not being sufficiently re-established.

It is reported that Mr. Angers is appointed Judge at Montmagny in the room of Judge Bossé pensioned. Other judiciary appointments will shortly be made.

Sir Charles Tupper it is rumored has disappeared, to avoid being called to give evidence in the Chapleau scandal. He will be in Winnipeg and that vicinity about a month. The trip to England, it is said, has not improved his health.

All the serious criminal cases are expected to be deferred till next term.

The constant failures of Mr. Gladstone as a Foreign Minister would seem to be sapping and undermining, with great rapidity, his popularity as a British statesman, and it is said that he evidently feels this fact. His unquestionably great abilities as a financier, and his honest desire to avoid any increase in the burdens of the people, are the basis of all the best, the soundest and the most honorable portion of his great popularity. It is as a "home politician" that his reputation has been made. But the pride of Englishmen cannot long stand such escapades as the threatened naval demonstration and "the lame and impotent conclusion" of the bluster and menace which preceded the Dulcigno fiasco. The foreign policy of the present Imperial Cabinet will prove a millstone round the necks of its members. And there appears no probability of their being able to make capital out of any home measure to compensate for their blunders in the Levant.

Sir John Macdonald will shortly ask for a holiday, and leave Sir Leonard Tilley as acting Premier.

THE WAR SHIP FOR CANADA.—Capt. Scott and Mr. Barbour, Chief Engineer of the Marine and Fisheries Department here, leave by Saturday's mail steamship for Liverpool to bring out the war vessel given by the English Government as a training ship for Canadian youth. The Toronto Mail says:—"We understand that the name of the vessel, which is a corvette of 1,500 tons, is the Charybdis. She has just returned from India, and has been placed at the disposal of the Government, all standing, with complete outfit. It is understood that the Government have determined to accept the gift. Captain Scott, R.N., of Halifax, will proceed at once to England to bring out the vessel. She is to be stationed at St. John, N.B., and will be used for the purpose of training up more perfectly young men of good character for the Merantile Marine."

POLITICAL RUMORS.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.

A hitch has occurred in the Cabinet arrangements which is giving no end of trouble to Sir John. It appears Mr. Baby resigned with the understanding that Mr. Chapleau was to take his place. But difficulties unexpectedly arising at Quebec in finding a successor to Mr. Chapleau, that gentleman has been compelled to decline the portfolio, and there has been a rush of rival claimants for the position. Mr. Coursoi is said to have developed considerable strength, while Mr. Mousseau is strongly backed by others. Sir John Macdonald did not start for town yesterday, although he had secured a special car. It is not known when he will go. Sir S. L. Tilley is expected back here on Saturday.—Star Correspondent.

THANKSGIVING—Yesterday being set apart as a day of general thanksgiving to Almighty God for a bountiful harvest, special services were held in the English Cathedral and other Protestant churches of the city, and were largely attended. The decorations in the Cathedral were, as on former occasions, exceedingly beautiful. Different kinds of corn, fruits, leaves and flowers were all arranged with exquisite artistic taste, the pulpit and font being especially noticeable. The musical service, under the direction of Mr. Bishop, who played throughout the morning, was very fine. The special psalms and canticles were well sung to Anglican chants, with smoothness and precision, the words being distinctly enunciated. The rendering of a very beautiful "Kyrie," with subdued voices, was most impressive. The anthem chosen for the occasion was from the "Creation," "The heavens are telling," and was given without a flaw throughout, the well-trained voluntary choir being quite up to the mark on every point. The opening voluntary and impromptu interludes at the offertory, together with the accompaniments, were played by Mr. Bishop with the delicacy and refinement which characterize his performances on all occasions. The Revs. C. Hamilton, M.A., Fothergill, Richardson and Ker assisted in the prayers and lessons, and a most beautiful sermon was preached by the Lord Bishop of the diocese, at the conclusion of which he made an earnest appeal in behalf of the pension fund of the Church Society, which was liberally responded to by a collection of $187. The evening service was held in St. Matthew's, which, like the Cathedral, was crowded. The decorations in this church were remarkable for their good taste, order and neatness. A large sheaf of barley and oats, surrounded by fruits of various kinds, stood in the centre of the aisle, while the font, pulpit and chancel were the objects of general admiration. The decorations of the pulpit panels included the appropriate motto, "The harvest is plentiful and the laborers are few," suggestive of the call for more missionaries to do the greatly increasing work of the Church. The musical service, under the direction of Mr. Self, was hearty and joyous. Two processional hymns were sung in excellent time and tune. The psalms, chanted to Gregorian, were highly creditable to all concerned. The men and boys have evidently been well trained in this part of the service, and are deserving of every praise. It is to be hoped that the time will come when the Gregorian, which is the proper music of the church, will be sung at all our services. The organ accompaniment to the general confession and the creed with the harmonies to the Gregorians were very effective. The voluntaries—one of which was the "Triumphal March" from "Naaman" by Costa, were well rendered by Mr. Self. The prayers and lessons were read by Rev. C. Hamilton and the lessons by the Rev. C. W. Rawson, and an eloquent sermon preached by Rev. G. V. Housman, brought to a close a highly successful service and a generous contribution of $71 was made to the Pension Fund of the Diocesan Church Society. Service was held in the Wesleyan Church in the morning, and Chalmers' Church, St. Andrew's, St. Peter's and the Baptist churches in the evening.

A collision occurred between the police and people at Headford, near Tuam, County Galway, originating in an attempt to rescue some drunkards. It is reported many were seriously injured. It is said the home of the priest, who is an opponent of the Land League, has been sacked at Limerick.

The vessels belonging to Admiral Seymour's demonstrative squadron have been supplied with the Nordenföldt guns, and a small flotilla of torpedo boats on Monday were added to his fleet. Most of the ships are to be supplied with 50-ton breech-loading guns, which are pronounced more useful than muzzle-loaders for ship service. The latter have been ordered to be returned into store. The Admiralty now look upon the large and costly class of ironclads of the Thunderer type, which they have been building the last few years, as unfitted for the marine warfare of the present day, and have determined to discontinue building this type of vessel. They have given orders for the immediate construction of six smaller class of ironclads, capable of mounting the heaviest ordnance at a cost of £200,000 each.

October 27, 1880.

Time, it is said, proves everything, and among other things it has proved the value of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral as a standard remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs. This is a household medicine with thousands of people and deservedly so, for it has been in use more than fifty years, and all who use it know that it accomplishes even more than is claimed for it. Nearly every community possesses evidence of its great curative power, in persons who have been cured by it of various throat and lung complaints, and who owe to it alone their recovery from the threatening symptoms of consumption. In emergencies like croup, or sudden colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the remedy that every family should have at hand for the treatment of these cases as they arise.—Richmond, Va., Standard.

The following able letter on Weber and his detractors appeared in a recent issue of the Montreal Herald:

I CAN SEE, I must crave space in your journal to answer my four assailants, whose letters, like dishes on a shelf, stand all in a row, in the Herald of Saturday. I notice that the heading and arrangement in the Herald differs from that in the Spectator, where these four powerful assailants first appear, in your journal they head the letters with the ominous title, "The Piano War," but, as the Yankee would say, "I do not care worth a cent." However, I am the heading of the same letters in the Spectator is "Musical," and as this is more in my line, I will follow the arrangement there and notice each in turn. Five years ago you permitted me to point out a wrong committed by the Government of your choice. Convicted of your error you manfully took the side of justice against your own party, and the error was soon rectified. I am not sorry, therefore, that my assailants have chosen your columns, as I am sure, though they are four to one, there will be fair play.

On the 25th ult., immediately on the close of the Exhibition, there appeared in the musical columns of a Canadian Spectator an article under the heading "Exhibition Notes," which reflected very severely on the pianos placed on view, including the New York Piano Company, and particularly the Weber piano, who were snubbed for appearing in such Company. It threw contempt on the judges, and drew the inference that, because certain pianos named were not there, the Exhibition proved "a grand success." This audacious attack upon the parties sending instruments to the Exhibition, while mildly commending those who declined sending any, I thought it my duty to notice in a letter to the musical editor of that paper. For this I am simultaneously attacked in the columns of the Spectator and Herald by four different persons.

The first of these is inserted for the purpose of bringing into notice the bogus Weber, manufactured in Kingston. I will let it pass.

The second signed X, is evidently written in the interest of a piano long held on sale in Montreal, but for certain good reasons, only lately pushed into public notice. This writer is both critical and personal in his remarks. I will not notice the personalities, except the remark that I cannot write with perspicuity. I think, however, it will be admitted that the letters of himself and three co-authors prove I am capable of making myself understood.

The Weber piano, he says, is not in his opinion, equal to the Decker, &c. of course, not in his opinion—but then, probably, that does not make much difference to Weber, or even to the public. I know a piano teacher in this city who told his pupils that he would rather have a second-hand Quaker than the finest piano Weber ever made. The pupils afterwards found out that he had a Quaker piano to sell. The Decker Piano, he further asserts, "is not furnished to concert-givers gratis, nor are large commissions paid to music teachers and others to induce them to make sales." I did not say they were, but I think it is venturing on very dangerous grounds for him to say they are not.

This writer is very rash to introduce the subject at all. I do not like to expose what he might be ignorant of, or which is more probable, may wish to conceal, but if these reckless statements are made for the purpose of unfavorably contrasting the style of business adopted by the house of Weber with that of Decker, I may be compelled to state the amount paid by the latter to an eminent pianist to secure performances on their piano in this city last winter. As to the other statement, that their instruments require no puffing, I refer to their advertisement in the Herald, where they claim to have a certificate of the "Most Perfect Piano" from the General Exhibition. Surely, if they were satisfied with the Philadelphia award, they should not call the Montreal Exhibition a "Farce." It proves the truth of my former statement. For the first time they all met Weber there, and all but Weber were dissatisfied with the result. At Philadelphia there were about a dozen pianos claiming to be the best. Weber alone reached 93; the next highest—which certainly was not Decker, reaching only 91. Such outrageous and inconsistent puffing as is done in their advertisements, the Weber people are too wise to indulge in, and I wonder why the accredited agent (the Decker, who is too shrewd to make such blunders, and too much the gentleman to descend to personalities) permits his mode of obtaining notice for his instruments.

Next I come to letter No. 3, signed "Another Exhibitor." This writer is positively vulgar, and I am surprised the usual good taste of the editor of the Spectator permitted him to use the following epithets in the space of 16 lines of his tirade:—"concealed malice," "outraged bull," "hated and malice," "insatiable craving," "pusillanimous puffing," "vindictive dig," "weak stomachs," "preposterous palaver," "quackery," "swindle," "noisy puff," "intrusions," &c. &c. Surely the editor of the Musical Columns should have placed this letter beneath not above his own, but perhaps his friend "N," who advocates the same cause, guaranteed this writer's personality pass "Another Exhibitor."

Fourth and lastly, as to the notes of the Musical Editor of the Canadian Spectator. This gentleman was in his own creation; he does not attack me at all, but goes merely for the Witness for daring to print a correct version of my letter.

He knows very well that the Witness has an indole habit of ever noting attacks made on itself by the editors of the Spectator. Consequently it is quite safe and plucky to attack it. He charges that my letter to the Witness was altered; he forgets that the original letter I sent to the Spectator was altered at the office by omitting several lines, which the manager refused to re-insert, consequently the necessity of publishing a true copy in the Witness. He says the Witness calls the Weber "a stately piano," and naïvely inquires what kind of an instrument is this? Surely, as an eminent musician he must know that Weber is admitted to be the Prince of Pianos, and the Dictionary would tell him that stately is a synonym of princely.

A certain case was once tried in Court. The prosecution was sustained by four eminent counsel, who instead of a perfect deluge of epithets and false accusations (in the style of letters two and three), the defence was undertaken by an earnest little man, who had the appearance of sincerity and truth on his side, and was not at all moved by the bluster of his adversaries. When his turn came to speak, he merely remarked to the jury,—"Gentlemen, I have not much to say. I have heard the evidence on the pleadings of the four eminent counsel. I will merely observe that it is a bad case which requires so many advocates." I need not tell you the jury were of the same opinion.

I think, on the whole, Weber can adopt the language of the Royal Lear, and say,—"I pray, Blanche ad Sweetheart, All the little dogs—how they bark at me!"

SIX O'CLOCK EDITION

The Quebec Mercury.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 4, 1880.

Despatches from Cape Town state that the volunteers and yeomanry are so disheartened at what they consider the apathy of the home Government regarding the position of affairs in the colony, that they have determined to allow all the whites to be massacred without assistance.

Rumour says Judge Routhier will be called to the Appeals Court and be replaced by Mr. Cyrias Pelletier at Chicoutimi. Mr. Angers will be put on the bench at the close of his engagements in the Supreme Court. Colonel Alleyne will be made Judge at Rimouski, and Mr. Macdougall, who retired from his seat in the Commons to give a seat to Mr. Langevin, C.B., will go to the Bench at Aymer in place of Judge Bourgeois, transferred to Three Rivers.

It is learned that the Minister of Justice has reported favorably on the Tibbetts-Glazier claims rising out of the old boundary dispute between Canada and New Brunswick.

The gross amount of the revenue of Great Britain in the six months ending Saturday last exceeds that of the corresponding period last year by one million sterling.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH. (CROWN SIDE.)

Before Mr. Justice Johnson. Thursday, November 4.

The Court opened at 10.15 a.m. William Gravel and Joseph Foisy, accused of having stolen two mares at Deschambault, were put at the Bar. Mr. Alleyne, Q.C., in English, and Mr. A. P. Caron, in French, addressed the Jury for the Crown.

The Grand Jurors then came into Court and said that they thought that it was about time the streets and prisons were looked after, as both were a disgrace to a civilized community. William Gravel pleaded "guilty" to the charge and Joseph Foisy "not guilty."

Antoine Frenette, proprietor of the horses that were stolen, said that on the morning of the 19th of August he went out to get his horses, and found that they had disappeared. He telegraphed to Three Rivers, where his horses were recovered.

Louis Hamel, policeman, of Three Rivers, testified, that as his chief had received a despatch stating that two horses had been stolen at Deschambault they were on the lookout, and, on the 19th, he arrested the prisoner Gravel, who at that time tried to run away. The prisoner Foisy succeeded in getting away but was arrested in Montreal on the 4th of October.

Mr. Gettings addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner Foisy, pleading that he was not aware that the horses had been stolen, as the other prisoner had always told him that he was driving them to Batiscan and there sold them to a trader. Mr. Gettings produced a certificate from Foisy's employer, saying that he was an honest, sober and respectable man.

The Court decided that the said certificate was no evidence, as nobody could swear to the signature. Mr. Alleyne, Q.C., counsel for the Crown, declined to address the jury. At two o'clock the jury came into Court and returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Mr. Deseve, the Canadian violinist, was married in Boston on the 28th October to Miss Josephine Bruneau, granddaughter of the late Hon Judge Bruneau and daughter-in-law of Mr. L. O. Taitton, M. P. P.

England has a genuine captain of H. M. S. Pinafore in Captain Rawson of the Minotaur, who has a delightful way of giving an occasional party to children, who swim by the hundred to the quarterdeck of his big vessel. Precautionary measures having been taken to avoid possible mishaps by a child accidentally tumbling down a hatchway, disappearing through a port-hole or taking a fatal dive through the interstices in the gangway the boys and girls may dance and romp to their hearts' content, and Captain Rawson is not the man to let their amusements lag, while hammidies enter into the fun of the affair as heartily as the juvenile guests themselves. Captain Rawson is a brother of the Rev. C. W. Rawson of Quebec.

(By Dominion Line.) The Campbells Are Coming.—British Railway Through Syria to India.

London, November 4. Lord George Campbell, brother of the Marquis of Lorne, and Lady Campbell sailed for America last week. Summonses were served on the Land Leaguers to day to appear at the Court of Queen's Bench, Dublin, on Friday. The Porte has granted a concession to a company for building a railway through Syria to India. The concessionaries are English capitalists. Sir Austen Henry Layard, formerly British Ambassador to Constantinople, and the Marquis of Salisbury are the chief promoters of this great commercial scheme which has been long preparing.

The British barque Scotia, bound from Quebec for Liverpool, was abandoned on the 29th, waterlogged. The crew have been landed at Queenstown. Dublin, Nov. 4

The rumor of Dillon's arrest, arose from his having travelled on a railway with a number of landlords, who were protected by armed constabulary. Paris, Nov. 4.

It is learned the German Government has just decided the treaty of 1868 with the United States shall not be recognized as affecting Alsace and Lorraine, and naturalized citizens of the United States residing in the new German provinces shall be subject not only to military duty, but be fined and imprisoned for non-service. One naturalized American citizen, a German, has been arrested and is now in prison, and the German Government propose not to give him up. A strong feeling is manifested about the matter, but the American legation at Berlin is powerless.

Montreal, November 4. The advertisement recently issued offering the first mortgage bonds of the Lake Champlain and St. Lawrence Junction Railway, has been withdrawn, the whole amount of the issue, $378,000, having been taken up in a few days. This shows plenty of money.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons met with a severe accident to her ankle yesterday, but notwithstanding great pain she appeared at the matinee and evening performance.

A man named W. J. Bingley came to this city eight years ago and opened up business as a grocer. He was married in August last and through the publication of an advertisement it was discovered that the fellow had a wife and 2 children in England. When the Rev. Mr. Roy challenged him to deny the fact he admitted, and immediately left the city. His liabilities are about $3,000 and assets about $2,000. The young woman to whom he was married here has instructed her lawyer to proceed to have the marriage annulled.

Ottawa, November 4. Thanksgiving Day yesterday was generally observed as a holiday. The Canada Pacific Railway Commission was in session again this morning. Mayor McIntosh was under examination again and it is expected his evidence will occupy the most of the day's session.

The Supreme Court resumed business to-day. The Governor General's Foot Guards will meet on Friday to arrange a benevolent association.

During last month Colonel Robbins shipped fifteen hundred tons of iron ore from the Hull mines. Several of the saw mills at the Chaudiere will run as long as the weather permits.

It is said Mr. Lemoine, Clerk of the Senate, will shortly be superannuated. The Hon. Mr. McDougall, C.B., is mentioned as his successor.

The Governor-General attended St. Andrew's Church yesterday morning. At the usual cattle fair held here yesterday, a number of fine animals changed hands.

At an entertainment given in the Leyward Market last night by the ladies of St. John's Episcopal Church, in aid of the fund for the poor, a novelty in the shape of "Our Parish Industries" was introduced. All the different trades and industries of the city were represented.

Mr. J. H. Pope has returned to the Capital. The Ottawa Presbytery will meet on the 10th. Mr. McGruid, Collector of Customs at Clifton, has been superannuated.

Mr. Joseph Kollmer has been appointed clerk in Sir A. T. Galt's office, London, England. Custom House Receipts.—Duties collected at the Custom House to-day amounted to $6010 24.

A lady has been refused admission to the lectures at University College, Toronto, and the students are up in arms about her.

Out of 457,275 immigrants who went to the States during the year ending with last June, 99,796 or more than one fifth of the whole were from Canada. This is the outcome of a false system of immigration by which our Government, after bringing immigrants to this country under a considerable expense, have to endure the mortification of seeing them skip across the border without as much as saying "by your leave." Evidently there is something here which needs looking into.—Star.

The London Times, of 11th October, discussing the latest trade returns, endeavours to put on as good a face as possible over the marked increase in the excess of imports over exports by arguing that it is an evidence of the wealth of the country. It may be an evidence of present purchasing power, but it is an ill-omen for the future, for the disproportion cannot continue for ever, and the heavy gold shipments to the United States show the unprofitable nature of such one-sided commerce. The Times editorial, however, is pervaded by an undertone of dissatisfaction, as it admits it to be likely "that dismal auguries will be uttered by the enemies of free trade, founded on the larger proportionate percentage of imports."
