FURTHER OUTBREAKS OF VIOLENCE SPUR STRIKE MEDIATION EFFORTS

Rhode Island Scene of Latest Trouble as Strikers Attempt to Close Mill—Settlement Hopes Fade as Manufacturers Refuse to Meet Workers' Demands—Over Seventy Injured within Forty-Eight Hours in Saylesville, R.I., Disorders.

Washington, September 12.—Reports of increasing violence in Rhode Island spurred the United States Textile Mediation Board today in its efforts to break the deadlock between the workers and the employers.

The Board assembled for another effort to find some basis for peace after the manufacturers had rejected the labor proposal for arbitration.

Union leaders planned to issue new orders to the strikers, estimated now at 390,000.

As the labor offer for the Mediation Board to arbitrate the dispute expired at six p.m. yesterday, Francis J. Gorman, national strike leader, issued this statement:

"We have sought the way of peace from the beginning—from long before the strike. Peace is denied to us and we must face management on the field of conflict—we with folded arms; they with paid thugs, militia, machine guns and gas."

The strikers were encouraged by a statement from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that sufficient pledges of organizers and money had been received from other international unions to meet the present needs of the United Textile Workers in financing their walk-out.

After meeting with manufacturers all day yesterday, the Mediation Board resumed discussions today. Silence was the response to questions as to whether any progress had been made.

SAYLESVILLE RESEMBLES WAR TORN VILLAGE TODAY

Saylesville, R.I., Sept. 12.—Saylesville resembles a torn village today as five hundred National Guardsmen patrolled the streets in the wake of bloody fighting between troops and strike sympathizers.

Guardsmen, with bayonets, tear and nausea gas and steel helmets, were stationed around the finishing plant, the scene of wild rioting which has caused injury to seventy persons within the last forty-eight hours.

The latest outbreak came last night when approximately 3,500 strikers and sympathizers engaged in a fierce battle with the troops which culminated in a running fight through the Moshassuck cemetery.

Tombstones were used by both troopers and strikers as bulwarks during the engagement.

The clash came when the strike sympathizers, armed with rocks and stones, urged over the headlines established by the Guardsmen earlier yesterday after three persons, including a seventy-three-year-old woman, were injured. The strikers group smashed hundreds of windows as they engaged the troops.

It was estimated fifty were wounded yesterday, including ten Guardsmen and a Central Falls policeman killed by gas.

Throughout the rioting more than five hundred employees of the plant, who reported for work at five o'clock, remained at their tasks. Mill officials said every department was operating last night.

Seven men were arrested by the National Guardsmen and turned over to Central Falls police. Some of those arrested were equipped with slingshots, which National Guardsmen said could throw heavy rocks far inside the deadline.

Besides the Guardsmen and strikers injured during the riot, several newspaper reporters and photographers were struck by flying missiles and badly cut.

Early this morning the rapidly diminishing crowd opened hydrants on Liberty street, one block from the mill, flooding the streets and endangering the wiring in that neighborhood.

CROWD FLED WHEN TROOPS FIRED A WARNING VOLLEY

Saylesville, R.I., Sept. 12.—National Guardsmen of Rhode Island fired their first shots in the United States textile strike in this state this morning when they discharged a volley over the heads of strikers who advanced upon them in the vicinity of the Sayles Finishing Company, where serious rioting occurred during the past forty-eight hours.

The detachment of twenty-four guardsmen, under command of Col. Harold R. Barker, met the threatening group of strikers advancing across Moshassuck cemetery, near the plant, armed with rocks and stones.

After their refusal to disband, Col. Barker gave the command to his men to open fire. A volley roared over the group as they fled. An auburn haired woman and between seven and nine men were arrested by Guardsmen and taken to the mill property where Guardsmen said they were held for local police.

BRITISH PREMIER ENJOYING NEWFOUNDLAND VISIT

Grand Falls, Nfld., Sept. 12.—Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, of Great Britain, remained in this inland village today with his daughter, Isabel, enjoying the fine weather of a late Newfoundland summer.

They were expected to remain here until Friday before setting out for St. John's, where they said for England this morning.

Southampton, England, Sept. 12.—The steamship Majestic docked here today, slightly late after scraping the muddy bottom of the harbor at low tide.

Tugs dislodged the vessel without difficulty.

NEW TROUBLES PILING UP FOR DOURMERCUE CABINET

Paris, Sept. 12.—Discontent because of lagging business apparently is piling up new troubles for the government of Premier Gaston Doumergue.

Open hostility toward the man who for several months has managed to hold discordant factions together has been gathering force as a result of several strikes and disorders.

FOUNDER OF GREAT ORDER COMMEMORATED BY STATUE

Papal Secretary Unveils Statue in Vatican City to Saint Sophie Barat, Founder of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart.

Vatican City, Sept. 12.—A statue to the founder of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, Saint Sophie Barat, was inaugurated and blessed here today by Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, Papal Secretary of State, in presence of Mother Valva, aged eighty-eight, who knew Mother Sophie in Paris when she was Superior of the Canadian College.

Also present at the dedication was Mother Salm-Salm, Superior of the Sacred Heart at Redenberg, Austria, to whom Saint Sophie is said to have appeared miraculously since her death.

FOREIGN PROTESTS NOT TO HALT INQUIRIES INTO MUNITION SALES

Declaring that Morals of Munition Manufacturers and Not Foreign Governments Were Under Review, United States Senate Committee to Continue Probe—Mexican Government Protests Introduction of Name of President Rodriguez.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Despite protests from some countries as to what the United States Senate munitions investigation is bringing out, Chairman Gerald Nye gave the word today that there will be no change in our plans.

The committee turned its searchlight today upon the 130 year old Du Pont Company, which has furnished the United States with a large part of the material used in its wars.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, to whom protests have been made by other countries, conferred yesterday with Senator Nye, and it was following this conference that Nye said the committee's plans would not be changed. Secretary Hull spoke of the inquiry as a "righteous" one.

A committee member said one of the subjects discussed at the conference was testimony to be given by officials of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Corporation of Wilmington, Delaware.

Testimony was received yesterday that President Rodriguez, of Mexico, had interested himself in war material sales and purchases.

At Mexico City, a statement was issued on behalf of the president saying it is absurd and inconceivable to try to connect the name of the President of the Republic and the names of other Mexican functionaries in the investigation, and whatever declarations may be made before that committee do not affect in any way the reputations of these persons, nor do they interest them in any way whatsoever.

Committee members viewed the complaints sent to the State Department as encouraging and holding the promise that world opinion will be aroused to the perils of unchecked trafficking in munitions.

A letter was given Hull by Nye that will be used to answer the diplomatic protest from Argentina, which was made by the Argentine minister here, and another Latin American country.

"This is an investigation of munitions manufacturers, not of the morals of foreign governments," Senator Bone, Democrat, Washington, said. "I see no justification for any great international alarm."

"I am amazed at the frankness of the witnesses who have faced us this year. They nearly all have admitted to me privately that the mad race for armaments will bankrupt every country thus engaged, and yet they say if they don't do the business, some one else will. They admit the world is headed for disaster in the munitions race, but justified their conduct thus."

TWO BRITISH PARTIES ARE DEMANDING INVESTIGATION

London, Sept. 12.—Liberals joined the Labor party today in a demand that the government investigate the activities of armament firms. Both parties are aroused by testimony at Washington in involving several British concerns.

The Labor party will urge that private manufacture of arms be suppressed entirely. Nothing short of absolute prohibition of private profit from munitions and armament will "end this scandal," a party statement said.

The party republished a letter presented at Washington and purported to have been written by Sir Charles Craven, director of Vickers.

CHARGES INSUBORDINATION AMONG MEMBERS OF MORRO CASTLE CREW

Chief Radio Operator of Death Ship Charges First Assistant and Another Operator "Tried to Instigate Discontent" Some Time Ago—S.O.S. Order Delayed for Fully Thirty Minutes After Chief Operator Was Awakened—Enquiry Board Hears Passengers' Charges.

New York, Sept. 12.—George W. Rogers, chief radio operator of the burned liner Morro Castle, testified at a government inquiry today that some time ago his first assistant, George Alagna, and another operator "tried to instigate discontent on the ship."

Rogers said that it was full thirty minutes after he was awakened because of the fire aboard the ship before he received an order to send out an S.O.S.

He said his second assistant operator awakened him at 2:55 a.m., E.S.T., and informed him there was a fire aboard. He said he dressed immediately and sent his first assistant, George Alagna, to the bridge, a "messenger to receive an order."

He had no lack of confidence in the bridge, but was following routine practice, he said.

Smoke was getting thick, Rogers testified, the radio room was getting warm and a curtain caught fire. He said he had a towel on his face. "I could hardly breathe," when Alagna came back at "3:25 or 3:30" and said "O.K. Chief, send out an S.O.S."

CIVIL WARRANTS ISSUED AGAINST CREW MEMBERS

New York, Sept. 12.—The blight of the Morro Castle clung closer to her crew today, with the first assistant radio operator held incommunicado and all his mates under subpoena.

George Ignatius Alagna, twenty-eight-year-old radio operator, was locked up as a material witness in the investigation which was resumed today before the federal grand jury.

Civil warrants were served on the others of the crew to prevent their sailing away from the investigation today on the Ward liner Siboney, for which United States Attorney Martin Conboy said some were signed.

The Morro Castle herself, not yet rid of her freight of fire and death, coughed out her life on the Asbury Park, N.J., beach, where firemen expected to quell the flames today. Officials of the Ward Line hope to be able to search the forward part of the ruined vessel soon for the body of her late captain Robert R. Willmott.

The Department of Commerce carried on with its inquiry, painting a stark picture of panic aboard the ship on Saturday morning as she was devastated by fire at sea.

REGARDS SOLOMON AS THE FIRST WORLD COPPER KING

Archeologist Tells of Discoveries and Evidence of King Solomon Operating Copper Mines on Large Scale.

Cincinnati, Sept. 12.—Solomon was the first, and still perhaps the greatest of the world's copper kings, according to Dr. Nelson Glueck, just back from archaeological explorations in Transjordan of Asia Minor.

Professor at Hebrew Union College here, Dr. Glueck said research showed Solomon evidently worked his mines in Arabia, near Fein, with forced labor, transporting the ore to Fein to be smelted, sending it throughout the then-known world to exchange for gold and silver.

EASTERN EUROPE AGREEMENT NOT DEPENDENT ON GERMAN ATTITUDE

France Still Working to Bring Nations into Non-Aggression, Mutual Assistance Treaty without Participation of Germany—Britain Not Alarmed Over Reich Rejection of "Eastern Locarno" Pact—Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania Already Conclude Treaty.

Paris, Sept. 12.—An "Eastern Locarno" without Germany's participation is still possible, and France will continue to press negotiations for a non-aggression, mutual assistance treaty grouping Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Baltic states, it was indicated here today.

At Geneva, French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou was in conference today with the League of Nations delegates from Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, and this being made to have the Little Entente, Hungary and Italy, to its efforts to conclude an accord.

Barthou likewise saw Austrian Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, regarding it, was supposed, Austria's position in the alignment of the Danube countries and efforts now being made to bring the Little Entente, Hungary and Italy, to its efforts to conclude an accord.

URGES FEDERAL BODY TO REVISE CRIMINAL CODE

Modernization of Legislation Urgently Needed Declares Premier Taschereau—Relief Matters Discussed.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—A commission named by Ottawa, composed of a number of judges and representatives of the Provinces, was suggested by Premier Taschereau yesterday to study the Canadian Criminal Code and make much-needed revisions to speed the administration of justice.

"Everyone seems to admit that there is need of improvement," remarked the Premier.

Mr. Taschereau was asked if it was the intention at the next session of the Quebec legislature to amend the provincial Courts of Justice Act in such manner as to have the assize courts presided over by a judge of the King's Bench as was the case in the legislation submitted by Mr. Taschereau, in 1920, judges of the Superior Court were substituted for judges of the King's Bench. The Premier replied that he did not know what the legislature would do in the matter, though it had the right to make such a change, since the provincial authority has to do with the organization of the courts.

The Premier discussed the matter with the newspapermen yesterday when asked if he had any comment to make on the statement of Chief Justice Greenfield, who, at the opening of the Superior Court, had referred to changes advocated by Mr. Taschereau when addressing the Canadian Bar Association in Montreal last week.

"I see that the chief justice agrees with me, except in the matter of a defendant being made a compellable witness," said Mr. Taschereau. "In fact, there seems to be, practically, unanimity. The newspapers appear to approve also of what I said. However, it is a question which is debatable, and it is well to raise it. There are certain conceptions as to law which it is hard to drive out of people's minds, because of antiquity. For example, last year we did away with the Grand Jury. We were told that an old British institution was being killed, something which had come down through the centuries and was hallowed by time, and its disappearance would do away with certain guarantees of British law in favor of the accused. The Grand Jury has disappeared, and yet I don't think that justice has suffered."

The Premier, becoming reminiscent, recalled that there had been considerable agitation when it had been decided to have a distinct Canadian Code enacted by Parliament, direct selling amongst the various municipalities, and, also, how much the provincial treasury proposed to contribute to the municipalities for this same purpose. He said no decisions had been reached, and such matters would depend upon the needs made known to Quebec by the municipalities.

POOR HOUSE INMATES BELIEVED IN MAKING MONEY

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 12.—Federal agents set out to find why the Chester County poorhouse guests were not poor any more. They found the answer in a cornfield on the county poor farm — moulds and a crude furnace for making counterfeit money.

Bogus checks, quarters and half dollars were turned out, the agents said.

He said no decisions had been reached, and such matters would depend upon the needs made known to Quebec by the municipalities.

The Premier was asked if the provincial government had come to any decision as to how it was going to divide the $600,000 per month which Ottawa is giving the province for direct selling amongst the various municipalities, and, also, how much the provincial treasury proposed to contribute to the municipalities for this same purpose. He said no decisions had been reached, and such matters would depend upon the needs made known to Quebec by the municipalities.

PUBLIC OPERATION OF UTILITIES CONDEMNED BY C.P.R. PRESIDENT

E. W. Beatty Tells Canadian Chamber of Commerce Civic Utilities Were in Fact Not Owned by Public but by Bondholders Who Earned Profits Through the Protection Given by the Taxpayers—Urged Maintenance of Code of Ethics to Make Government Interference Unwarranted.

Winnipeg, September 12.—Still with its declaration of policy to be decided, the ninth annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce today entered its closing sessions.

Addresses, reports of committees and election of officers were included on the agenda the two hundred delegates from eastern and western Canada started on this morning. A luncheon and a banquet will wind up the general sessions, and tomorrow the secretaries will hold a separate session.

Drafting of the report of the policy committee was underway yesterday and will be submitted to this afternoon's session. Agriculture and business and their interlocking interests will be reviewed in addresses during the morning session.

E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, addressed a convention banquet last night, urging maintenance of high business ethics to make state regulations which would curtail freedom of individual effort and paralyze industry unwarranted.

Honest business had nothing to fear from government regulations, he declared, although he warned state interference crippled business by curbing freedom of business endeavor.

Mr. Beatty assailed publicly-owned utilities which he declared were in fact not owned by the public but by those who held the bonds and earned profits through the protection given by the taxpayers. He urged honest effort to earn profits and warned that greed brought in its wake injury to all within the nation.

THREE NATIONS ALREADY CONCLUDE AN AGREEMENT

Geneva, Sept. 12.—Representatives of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, it was announced today, will sign a treaty of mutual assistance and common foreign policy in the office of the Secretary-General of the League of Nations this afternoon.

The treaty is for a period of ten years, self-renewing unless earlier denounced by one of the parties of the agreement, and takes effect as soon as ratified. Other countries may adhere to the treaty by agreement of the three contracting nations.

The tri-partite accord replaces the Estonian-Latvian Treaty of Riga of February 17, 1934. It was likewise concluded at Riga.

The treaty calls for negotiations of accords to adjust differences now existing between the parties. The states are required to communicate to one another the texts of engagements entered into with other states.

ITALIAN MINER HELD IN DEATH OF COMPANION

Second Member of Party Charged with Assault Following Stabbing Affray After Drinking
Bout at Minto, N.B.

Minto, N.B., Sept. 12.—Charged with the murder of George Madore, aged twenty-seven, South Minto miner, Tony Daniels was not present at an inquest into the former's death.

After hearing the evidence of ten witnesses for three and one half hours, a coroner's jury in twenty minutes found that Madore "came to his death by a stab from a sharp pointed knife or other sharp instrument in the hands of Tony Daniels."

Other witnesses of a scuffle Saturday evening leading to Madore's death on Sunday afternoon gave evidence, including Paul Rocco, another Italian miner of Black Diamond, who was charged with assault causing grievous bodily harm in connection with a cut which Alex Nicholas, Hungarian of the same settlement, received in his hand on the same occasion.

According to the evidence of several witnesses, both Madore and Daniels had been drinking prior to the incident, together with others who were in groups accompanying each. One witness stated he thought Madore believed Daniels had told the former to call him names, while Daniels was quoted by others as having said that he would "get" Madore for striking his son that afternoon.

Yesterday an Omaha newspaper received a note from the prowler. It read:

"Youse all tell them folks at 4255 Douglas street that if they don't keep that bulldog tied up that use will not honor them with no more calls—The Cat."

ROAD PROBLEMS UNDER REVIEW AT CONVENTION

Quebec Roads Minister Presided
Over Opening Sessions of Canadian Good Roads Association Meeting.

Murray Bay, Que., Sept. 12.—The twenty-first annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association swung into its stride today as the second day of its meeting got under way here. The convention was opened yesterday by Hon. J. E. Perrault, K.C., Quebec Minister of Highways and president of the Association, with more than two hundred delegates from most of the provinces and several parts of the United States in attendance. Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Ontario Minister of Highways, was scheduled to preside over today's second session, but he has been detained in Ontario on business and is attending the convention. Features of today's meeting will be addressed by Frank T. Sheets, consulting engineer and former chief engineer of the Illinois State Highway Commission, Chicago, and other prominent engineers from Canada and the United States.

High Tribute to the Association was paid by Mr. Perrault in his presidential address. The Association had made valuable contributions to the Dominion's progress during the twenty years of its existence, he said. Quebec and Ontario alone were doing pioneer work in road building at the time of the Association's inauguration, but other provinces had soon emulated the two central provinces.

Other speakers included Hon. A. S. MacMillan, Nova Scotia's Minister of Highways; Hon. Frank M. MacPherson, British Columbia Minister of Highways; R. M. Smith, Deputy Minister of Highways for Ontario; Major George W. Farny, of Morrisstown, N.J., vice-president of the National Highway Association of America and director of the American Road Builders' Association; W. G. Robertson, Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Automobile Association and others.

Today Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, Minister of Highways for Prince Edward Island, will deliver an address, while a discussion on general maintenance will be led by E. H. Kinghorn, chief engineer of New Brunswick, and M. A. Lyons, chief engineer of Manitoba. C. A. Hogenberger, United States Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C., will discuss "soil concretes, performance and possibilities."

At a meeting held here yesterday the Presbytery approved recent letters of Bishop Farthing to Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec, expressing his Lordship's regret at the interpretation placed by the courts on the word "blasphemy." The letters to Premier Taschereau, who is also Attorney-General for the province, likewise criticized an attempt to amend the Criminal Code, which would have permitted ministers to be tried for "a contrary ruling on the question by the Privy Council."

The reply of Premier Taschereau to the letters of Bishop Farthing, declaring "the question is one for the judges to decide," was considered "wholly inadequate" by Dean D. L. Ritchie, of the United Theological College here, who presented the motion for approval of the letters.

A portion of the resolution read: "We have come to a stage of affairs that may be called an emergency. Protestants in Quebec should see quite clearly. We ask nothing for ourselves which we are not prepared to give to any citizen of the land."

Dean Ritchie, in presenting the resolution, declared, however, he did not wish to interfere with the judiciary.

HEART ATTACK CAUSED DEATH OF YOUNG MAN

Gaston Marceau, Twenty-Five Years of Age, of Sutton,
Collapsed and Died in Knowlton Yesterday Afternoon While Returning from Fishing Trip.

Knowlton, Sept. 12.—A twenty-five year old Sutton youth, Gaston Marceau, collapsed in front of the Lake View Hotel yesterday afternoon and passed away before hastily-summoned medical assistance could reach his side. The young man, popularly known here and in Sutton, was returning from a fishing trip on Lake when he dropped dead.

Marceau frequently visited Knowlton on fishing excursions. Yesterday he complained of feeling ill and curtailed the time he usually spent on the lake. He was wearing a red shirt and blue trousers when he collapsed.

Dr. R. Noisette, joint coroner of the District of Bedford, was summoned from Sutton and pronounced a verdict of death from natural causes, ascribing Marceau's sudden passing to a heart attack. The remains were taken to Marceau's home in Sutton last night.

WOMAN LEADER OF REVOLUTION CLOSES CAREER

Ninety-Year-Old Woman Had Passed Forty-Three Years in Exile in Siberia for Anti-Czarist Activities.

Prague, Sept. 12.—Catherine Breshkovskaya, "Little Grandmother of the Russian Revolution," died today at her home in a village near Prague.

Of aristocratic origin, Breshkovskaya spent her life in struggle against the ruling clique under the Czars.

A member of the Social Revolutionary party, which was followed chiefly by peasants, and, in the cities, by students, she passed forty-three years of exile in Siberia.

She left Russia after the Bolshevik revolution, her party having failed to support the dictatorship of the proletariat, and took up her residence in a Czechoslovak village. She maintained her young and lively interest in the condition of Russia, immigrants in Czechoslovakia and actively supported a school for peasant youth. The aged grandmother of the Russian Revolution of 1905 also founded a Russian language press in Carpathian Ruthenia.

She celebrated her ninetieth birthday but a few days ago.

TRADES AND LABOR GROUP CONTINUES ITS SESSIONS

Addresses of Fraternal Delegates Featured Today's Meeting of Congress in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Labor's legislative programme was alive today as the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada resumed sessions on the third day of its golden jubilee convention here.

Discussion of resolutions occupied only a short time after the morning session opened. The greater part of the period was devoted to the addresses of the fraternal delegates.

John Marchbank, of London, England, representing the British Trades Union Congress, brought greetings from his organization and the good wishes of the American Federation of Labor were conveyed in the address of Joseph P. McCurdy, of Baltimore.

Conclusion of the speeches wrote fits to the day's business sessions. A drive around the city was planned for the afternoon and at night the convention banquet features.

dorses Protest Lodged Against Quebec Courts' Definition of Blasphemy.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—The Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada today stood behind Bishop J. C. Farthing, of Montreal, in the stand he has taken in criticizing the attitude of Quebec courts, which interpreted attacks on the Roman Catholic clergy as blasphemy.

At a meeting held here yesterday the Presbytery approved recent letters of Bishop Farthing to Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec, expressing his Lordship's regret at the interpretation placed by the courts on the word "blasphemy." The letters to Premier Taschereau, who is also Attorney-General for the province, likewise criticized an attempt to amend the Criminal Code, which would have permitted ministers to be tried for "a contrary ruling on the question by the Privy Council."

The reply of Premier Taschereau to the letters of Bishop Farthing, declaring "the question is one for the judges to decide," was considered "wholly inadequate" by Dean D. L. Ritchie, of the United Theological College here, who presented the motion for approval of the letters.

A portion of the resolution read: "We have come to a stage of affairs that may be called an emergency. Protestants in Quebec should see quite clearly. We ask nothing for ourselves which we are not prepared to give to any citizen of the land."

Dean Ritchie, in presenting the resolution, declared, however, he did not wish to interfere with the judiciary.

NEW DISCOVERY ANNOUNCED IN WAR ON CANCER

Discovery of Possible Immunizing
Agent in System Announced at Meeting of Chemical Society.

Cleveland, Sept. 12.—Discovery of a source of probable immunity to cancer was reported to the American Chemical Society here today. It was advanced as a possible explanation of the fact that only one person in ten has cancer.

The immunizing substance is a chemical most abundant in the kidneys, of both men and animals. It is an enzyme, named phosphatase. Its regular functions is to split up the wastes and phosphates as the body uses them for food.

The laboratory and medical evidence on this enzyme was described by Dr. E. F. Schroeder and Dr. Ellice McDonald, of the Cancer Research Laboratories of the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine.

"The enzyme phosphatase," they said, "which splits up the carbohydrate phosphate combinations of the body and resides mostly in the kidney is apparently associated with immunity."

For animals which have this enzyme in high amount were immune to cancer. It was also found that in animals that had cancer this enzyme, phosphatase, decreased during tumor growth.

Its state was also altered in animals that had cancer and it was only about one-third as active as the enzyme in non-cancerous animals.

In contrast to this desertion of the kidney and sluggishness there during cancer, the enzyme was found to have become more active in the blood. They said it appeared that whatever activated this enzyme was transferred during cancer from the kidney to the blood.

"In human beings with cancer," the report went on, "a similar condition was found and the phosphatase was more active."

Phosphatase is not the only enzyme which altered its behavior during cancer. The whole picture indicated that "immunity or resistance to cancer is associated with a greater activity of some enzymes and a lessened activity of certain other enzymes."

UNITED CHURCH WORKERS STUDY MANY PROBLEMS

Election of New Moderator One of Principal Items Before
Sixth Biennial General Council in Session at Kingston.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 12.—Three hundred clerical and lay commissioners from Canada, Newfoundland and Bermuda gathered in this city today for the sixth biennial general council of the United Church of Canada in Sydenham United Church. In addition to the commissioners from the eleven conferences of the church, representatives of eight foreign missions will also attend.

Preceding the inaugural business session tonight a service of Holy Communion will be held this afternoon at which the council sermon will be preached by Rt. Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, the retiring moderator.

Election of a successor to Dr. Moore will take place tonight. For this honor Rev. Drs. Richard Roberts, Robert Laird, Peter Bryce, D. C. MacGregor and D. L. Ritchie have already been nominated by the lesser courts of the church.

A special session of the council will be held before the Assembly during the ensuing days of the Conference. Constituted following the meeting of the general council in 1932, the commission on the church and industry will present an extended statement of Christian doctrine and the relation of economic conditions. Sir Robert Falconer, Toronto, is chairman of the commission.

Possibility of the decisions of the Council may result in the ordination of at least one woman to the ministry of the church in a notification by the Saskatchewan Conference that it intends to ordain Miss Lydia E. Gruchy, B.A., at the next conference in 1935 unless objection is made by the General Council. The Western Conference urges the General Council to place no obstacle in the way of Miss Gruchy's entry into the ministry.

Among other matters to come before the commissioners are the questions of ministerial salaries, the settlement of ministers and the report of a committee which has considered the whole situation in regard to the amalgamation of the board of Evangelism and Social Service with the Board of Home Missions. The committee reported adversely and the matter was sent on to the General Council.

GENERAL SYNOD TO SELECT NEW METROPOLITAN

Many Other Important Items to Be Debated at General Session of Anglican Church Parliament at Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Charged with the powers and duties of an ecclesiastical parliament, the bishops and diocesan delegates of the Church of England in Canada met today in the thirteenth session of the General Synod.

The opening day was occupied chiefly with devotional exercises and organization. Tomorrow the "Upper House," comprised of the bishops and the "Lower House," which includes the clerical and lay delegates, will begin consideration of the many reports and memorials placed on the agenda.

Of the many important duties to occupy their attention is the choice of a successor to Rt. Rev. Clarence W. Worrell as Primate of Canada. Expressions of sympathy and regret for his death were frequent as delegates assembled.

An inspirational sermon by Rt. Rev. William Thomas Manning, Bishop of New York, was heard at the divine service that served as a prelude to the first business meeting.

The "Lower House" was called to meet in the afternoon for the appointment of officers and choice of committee members.

Besides the many reports the Synod was to receive as to missions, religious education, the membership and finances of the church, a number of important memorials were offered for attention.

Proposals have been made for revision of the hymn book. A memorial suggesting a Frontier Missionary Brotherhood will open the question of celibacy among clergymen. The question of pensions will be to the fore and several plans will be offered to deal with the subject. Suggestions are to be made for unifying boards to promote simplification and economy.

The problem of whether native bishops should be chosen for China and Japan will also be dealt with. Rt. Rev. W. C. White, Bishop of Honan, and Rt. Rev. H. J. Hamilton, Bishop of mid-Japan, both resigned this year.

A report, made after a special investigation, will be before the Synod recommending that Canadians be appointed to the posts on the ground that the dioceses are not yet strong enough to stand by themselves. For mid-Japan, however, the report will urge that as soon as possible the diocese of mid-Japan be divided, with the better-organized half being under a Japanese bishop, the other half to be under a Canadian.

FOREIGN PROTESTS NOT TO HALT INQUIRIES INTO MUNITION SALES

Armstrong, Ltd., in which the British arms manufacturer is alleged to have stated in connection with a pending deal for submarines that "my friend at the Admiralty will help."

When this letter was offered in testimony to the United States Senate's investigation last week Sir Charles said he did not recall having written it.

The testimony concerning this letter calls for an investigation by the British government," the Labor party statement said. "It is unthinkable that such allegations should be ignored, for public opinion has been deeply stirred by them."

FRENCH FISHERY AGENTS TO AID CANADIAN CRAFT

Paris, Sept. 12.—The sea-going staff of the French Bureau of Fisheries, which for many years has led Canadian deep-sea fishermen to the most profitable cod banks, will shortly leave Brest for Newfoundland.

Under the direction of Admiral Laurent and Captain Beauge, the mission will endeavor to prove the theory that cod follow the drift of the coldest water.

This theory was first evolved in 1926, when Newfoundland fishermen drew blank over their accustomed grounds.

Doctor Ledanois, of the French Bureau, who for the time being is on a survey of the banks, advised the despairing fishermen to try the coasts of Greenland, where his calculations proved the coldest currents to be running.

As a result of the experiment, most of the schooners returned, loaded with cod, and the theory is consequently wanted.

To honor the work done by French marine scientists, Canadian and United States delegates will meet the French expedition on September 19 at Halifax, where a conference will be held aboard the trawler President Tissot to inquire into the problems of deep sea fishing.

LONG NOW HOLDS THE WHIP HAND IN NEW ORLEANS

Fighting Senator Has Realized
His Ambition to Smash "The Ring" that Has Been a Power for Half a Century.

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—Senator Huey Long realized today his ambition to smash "The Ring" that has been a power in New Orleans for half a century.

His candidates in yesterday's Democratic primary won convincing victories, and "The Ring" candidates, sponsored by Mayor T. Semmes Wamsley, were beaten.

The election results went further than a mere endorsement of candidates. They established Long as a dictator with wide powers in the state.

Previously "The Ring"—the old regular organization which year after year has elected its candidates with little trouble—has repulsed Senator Long's determined drives against it. As recently as January, in the mayoral election, it defeated Long candidates.

The Senator had brought the entire Louisiana National Guard, two thousand or more strong, to New Orleans to make certain that the election was "fair and peaceful."

Wamsley added to his police force to bring it almost up to a par with Long's military strength, also to insure a "fair and peaceful" election.

Despite the martial threat, the city witnessed a quiet election. A special session of the Legislature is anticipated within a short time at which the officials will, Long says, be impeached or addressed out of office for alleged "graft and corruption" in the city government.

DRUMMONDVILLE FAMILY GROUP CLAIMS RECORD

Drummondville, Sept. 12.—This prosperous town today claimed another provincial record. It is credited to the Manseau family, seven brothers and five sisters, whose combined ages reach a total of 809 years. The twelve children, the eldest being seventy-eight and the youngest fifty-six years old, were born to the late J. L. G. Manseau and his wife Julie G. Manseau.

Mr. Manseau, native of Baie du Fabvre, was a notary. His wife was of Irish descent and was born in Ste. Emelie de l'Energie, Que. Mrs. Manseau passed away in 1892 and was survived five years by her husband.

Sixteen children in all were born of this union. The ages of the twelve still living are: brothers 75, 73, 72, 67, 65, 64 and 56; sisters 78, 70, 68, 61 and 59.

The previously summed up age record of any family in the Province of Quebec had been that of the Tremblay family of St. Joseph de la Riviere, Charlevoix County, the ten living children of the late Captain Georges and Madame Tremblay, of the Charlevoix Village, having added their combined ages up to 718 years.

Why do we use the terms "we" and "our" in the Editorial column? Editors and reviewers have long followed this custom in order to avoid the appearance of obtruding their own personality, which they wish to be replaced by the impersonal spirit and collective possession of the staff. Some newspapers have three and four editorial writers, and each one must speak of the body to which he belongs, just as a soldier speaks of his regiment as being "of ours."

WE WANT NOW THAT WHICH WAS TAKEN AWAY FROM US.

The time to right a wrong is now. With the vacancy as Clerk of the Circuit Court vacated on account of irregularities, there should be an English appointment to that position. Better still, it would be, if one of the present Crown prosecutors were transferred to the clerkship and the dual place restored to an English member of the bar, as was originally designed, and for many years was a recognized right in the St. Francis Judicial District.

We put this matter before the Attorney-General's Department at Quebec, which is under the personal direction of the Prime Minister, Mr. Taschereau. English-speaking litigants complain bitterly at times of a lack of understanding at the Court House in Sherbrooke, where all legal matters pertaining to the five English counties, are dealt with.

In the whole Courthouse there are presently but three English-speaking officials.

Five years ago there was an English Crown prosecutor. Not many years before that there was an English sheriff.

The present need of a permanent Clerk of the Court offers Mr. Taschereau the opportunity of righting a wrong without deprivation to anyone.

WHEN THEY THROW UP THE GHOST.

Advertisers come and go. Those who go quickly are they who think they have reached the point of saturation in supply, or who have given up the ghost in other ways of thought.

Instead of improving their disc records and adjusting the tune by a good retarding device, the makers of the first talking machines threw their product into the discard, even to "His Master's Voice," and began making radios. There was plenty of room on the market for a simplified and more effective talking machine.

Custom tailors at one time advertised their skill as designers and the diligence and expertise of their journeyman tailors. When the ready-to-wear and bespoke tailoring factories threw a continuous blast of advertising on their speed and saving methods, the custom tailors took it lying down. Not only that, but very shortly they could not find competent tailors at any price. The factories took away their best help by giving twelve months' steady employment in the place of seasonal work, and they got better pay. This scarcity of skill was brought about by the parents of boys advising their sons not to learn a dying trade. Yet a good merchant tailor could find much custom if they could give the individual a special service which the forethoughtful buyer is desirous of getting.

For some years printers were scarce because the parents of boys had read of machines setting type, and they considered that the printing trade had gone to the bow-wow. There was a dearth of apprentices, and the tramp printer no longer tramped.

Manners and methods change in many occupations. There should be a sign up "Don't give up the ship!" For even in gold mining there are gold miners making money going over the tailings of mines long deserted by the easily discouraged.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Will the gentleman who, at a round table conference, suggested the meal tax, kindly step forward, and raise his right hand? Then will we bestow upon him an uncounted tonnage of undigested curses.

The Communists and Soviets of Ontario have elected the new Attorney-General of that province to the position as "their best friend." When it is an old Conservative office-holder Mr. Roebuck sees red. It is vice-versa with Mr. Sauve at Ottawa when he sees a postmaster.

Striking the Caruso pose, whom Mussolini fondly thinks he resembles, the Italian dictator sang to his troops after sham battle exercises. Just as Jiggs endures the songs of Maggie, so did the soldiers.

Children, dear, the tax on sugar still persists at $20 a ton. The upkeep of the Ministerial limousines at Ottawa must be paid, to each Minister giving $2,000 each year; or the tax on one hundred tons of sugar. When mother says "No, No! Too much candy is not good for you!" Then can you blame the twenty Ministers who consume the taxes on 2,000 tons of sugar, or on 4,000,000 pounds of candy. Santa Claus is inclined to be stingy on candy this coming Christmas.

Pure English as she is spoken is to be taught in the Quebec schools. Lessons in the same language should be given in Scotland and in dear old London.

FAITH IN YOURSELF.

Grenville Kleiser.

The degree of faith in yourself, in your resourcefulness, in your work, and in your future, is a great determining quality in your ultimate personal achievement. Your real growth and progress will be greatly accelerated when you have firmly established such self-faith. Therefore, give special attention to these suggestions:

Have faith in yourself.—Believe increasingly in your inherent powers; believe that your abilities are sufficient to achieve unusual success; believe deeply that you have within yourself all the qualities necessary for great achievement. Think of what other men have done with ability such as you possess, and resolve that you, too, will win a place of distinction in the world.

A practical way to increase your faith is to make a written list of your various abilities and personal qualities, and then carefully consider how you can use them to increased advantage. Occasional self-appraisal or mental stock-taking is of great benefit.

Thoughts which increase your faith, courage, industry, ambition, optimism, energy, confidence, independence, determination, power, enthusiasm, or other desirable qualities are right thoughts. Repeated thoughts lead to acts, and repeated acts at least consolidate into habits. The procedure is: Thoughts, acts, habits, character, destiny. There is the philosophy of life in a nut-shell.

Have faith in your resourcefulness.—Realize that if one means is not sufficient for your purpose, you have other powers in reserve to summon into use. A commander who knows he has re-enforcements at his ready hand in case of need finds in this assurance a source of great courage. You will do better with the power you use when you realize that it is re-enforced by other powers. You have large resources within you which you have not yet used. You have reason for great faith in yourself when you think that you can never exhaust your God-given powers.

Have faith in your work.—A profound belief in your work will cause you to do it with greater regularity and cheerfulness. Apply your energy to a definite purpose until it is accomplished, and accustom yourself to persevere in the face of any difficulty. Fix your mind upon one thing at a time and bring your mind back to it often as it wanders away, whether it be once or a hundred times. This is the secret of concentration.

Have faith in your future.—Your mind is a powerful force in attracting what it habitually dwells upon. Constantly picture yourself as the man you wish to be, and try to see, mentally, the conditions with which you desire ultimately to surround yourself. Keep one great object before you. Realize the great responsibility devolving upon you to make the most of yourself. Persistently fill your mind with thoughts of increasing power. Believe deeply and sincerely that your faith, coupled with diligence and determination, will ultimately carry you forward to a place of influence and independence.

Associate with men of self-faith.—This tends to be reciprocal. Your faith will communicate itself to them, and their faith to you. Do your work in a "faith" atmosphere and you will work at a maximum advantage. You impress others by your own faith, and they will have faith in you only in the degree that you have faith in yourself.

Men of faith have done the world's supreme work. Faith is the soul of every great enterprise. With faith great enough you can do the seemingly impossible.

Many men who have achieved success acknowledge that had they known the difficulties before them, they would have given up in despair, but their immense faith led them to persevere and carried them step by step to the realization of success.

These suggestions regarding your unused possibilities should arouse your profound interest, and make you eager to attempt greater things than ever before. As the astronomer searches for the hidden things of the sky, so should you earnestly explore your mental world in order to discover hitherto unrealized powers.

COURTEMANCHE
CONDEMNED TO HIGHER COURTActon Vale Man to Stand Trial for Attempted Bank Robbery at Lennoxville — Bullet Extracted from Accused Came from Bank Accountant's Gun, Expert Declares.

The bullet which was extracted from Joseph Courtemanche's body at the Sherbrooke Hospital was fired from the automatic pistol with which Ben Draper blazed away at two men he surprised while they were drilling into the bank vault at the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Lennoxville on the morning of August 24th, in the opinion of Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medico legal expert and ballistic expert, who testified at Courtemanche's preliminary hearing this morning.

Joseph Courtemanche, who gives his address as Acton Vale, appeared before Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court today for preliminary enquiry on a charge of attempted robbery. He was committed to stand trial at the next criminal assizes.

Dr. W. E. Hume, of the Sherbrooke Hospital medical staff, was the first witness called for the prosecution. He recognized the accused, and said that Courtemanche had been admitted to the hospital on the morning of August 24th. At first, the physician said, Courtemanche said that he had been struck by a car; but later, when his bullet wound was discovered, he stated that he had been shot during an altercation with some companions.

"Was he seriously hurt?" asked Wilfrid Lazure, K.C., Crown prosecutor.

"No, not seriously."
"Did Courtemanche name the companions who had shot him?"

"No."
Dr. Hume was handed a bullet which he identified as the one he had extracted from Courtemanche's body.

Detective Marneau, of the Provincial Police, said that he had been remitted the bullet extracted from Courtemanche's body by Dr. Hume. He identified this bullet as having been fired from the .38 Smith & Wesson pistol which he had given to Dr. Fontaine, together with the pistol which Draper had used.

"Is there any mark of identification on the bullet?" asked C. C. Cabana, Courtemanche's counsel.

"Yes, Dr. Hume made a mark in my presence."

"Are there any other marks?"

"Yes."
"Do you know what they are?"

"I do not. I did not pay any particular attention to the other marks."
Arthur Pearson, who testified at the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville highway, stated that at about four o'clock on the morning of August 24th—the same morning as the attempted robbery—the accused had come to his home. "He knocked on the door, and when I answered the knock he asked me to take him to the hospital. He said he was seriously hurt, that he had been struck by a car."

Mr. Lazure: "Did you ask him his name?"

"Yes, but he would not tell me."
Complaining of continuing injuries to his back, the witness continued, and Pearson drove him to the hospital.

"What time was it when he went to your home?"

"About four o'clock."
Benjamin W. Draper, thirty years old, an accountant at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said that he resides in the staff headquarters above the bank, and that early on the morning of August 24th he was awakened by a noise downstairs.

"At first I could not make it out," he said to the court. "Then I felt a vibration, and I heard what sounded like a drill at work. I grabbed my gun and crept to the peep-hole."

This peep-hole commands a generous view of the bank vault on the floor below. It is constructed for just such an emergency.

Draper said that he uncovered the peep-hole.

"I looked through it, but at first I could see nothing. It was very dark downstairs. However, there was a moon that night, and suddenly I saw two men, one of whom I figured near the vault. I immediately took aim and fired."

"Did you recognize those figures?" asked Mr. Lazure.

"No, it was too dark."
"What were they doing?"

"They were just crouching on the floor."

Draper believed that he had made a slight noise creeping towards the peep-hole and uncovering it. The men downstairs were on the alert.

"You fired how many shots?"

"Two."
"And then what happened?"

"They scrambled out of the bank. I heard the noise of a car outside."

Draper said that he ran to a window, but he had failed to see the car. The window did not give a clear view of the bankyard.

"Then I went back to the peep-hole and waited," he said. There was no telephone in the staff headquarters, and after waiting at the peep-hole for "half an hour or three quarters of an hour," Draper said that he went back to bed.

At seven-thirty o'clock he went down stairs and phoned T. P. Delany, manager of the bank and communicated with the police.

When Draper descended to the bank quarters he found the rear door still open. The burglars had left their tools and weapons behind.

Mr. Lazure: "Was the vault damaged?"

"Yes. They had knocked off the combination dial and bored two holes in the door. The holes were about half an inch in diameter."

Draper then identified his automatic pistol, which he said he had given to the detective.

Mr. Cabana asked Draper if he had heard any groans from the men below after firing at them.

Draper said: "No."
T. P. Delany said that the bur-

TWO ACCIDENT
VICTIMS DIED
FROM INJURIESAlphonse Petit, Ascot Corner
Farmer, and Joshua Laroche,
Bromptonville Farmer, Succumbed in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital.

Death claimed two accident victims in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital last evening when Alphonse Petit, thirty-four-year-old Ascot Corner farmer, and Joshua Laroche, forty-eight years old, of Bromptonville, succumbed to their injuries. Petit sustained his fatal injuries when he fell off his rig and broke his neck, it was determined at the coroner's inquest, which was held last night by Leonidas Bachand, district coroner. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

Petit was found unconscious in the middle of the road near his home on Friday night last, having been precipitated out of his horse-drawn vehicle. Petit, returning from the Sherbrooke Market, apparently fell asleep, and his horse nosed the driveway leading to his home. Removed to the hospital, the Ascot farmer's injuries were found to be of a very serious nature and no hope was entertained for his recovery.

An inquest into the death of Joshua Laroche will be held today by Coroner Bachand. The Bromptonville farmer was removed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital yesterday suffering from serious injuries sustained when he fell from a hay loft to a cement floor eighteen feet below.

W. M. S. PLANS FOR TENTH ANNIVERSARY OUTLINED

One new member for every ten and one dollar extra for every ten dollars now subscribed is the objective of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada for 1935. Mrs. F. R. Matthews, president of the local branch, told the members yesterday at the opening meeting of the society after the holidays.

This is the manner in which the W. M. S. all over Canada intends to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the union of the Canadian churches. This annual would, Mrs. Matthews believed, completely absorb all the fallings-off in givings which the years of the depression have caused.

Splendid reports of work quietly carried on during the summer were given by the various secretaries. None of the strangers or such had been overlooked, and thousands of copies of the gospels had been distributed wherever opportunity offered.

A glimpse of the work carried on by the Canadian W. M. S. was afforded by summaries prepared in answer to a questionnaire presented by Miss Mina Pergau.

The devotional period was in charge of Miss M. O. Vaudry, Mrs. F. R. Titcomb, Mrs. H. C. Aldrich, Mrs. W. J. Lane, Mrs. W. A. Hyndman and Mrs. Willard.

A Bazaar Band tea was planned for the mothers of small children who are unable to attend public gatherings, and a committee named to take charge of arrangements.

General Notes.
Mrs. Hume and her daughter, Miss Margaret Reed, R.N., left on Monday, the former for her home in Lacombe, Alberta, and the latter to resume her work as supervisor in Edmonton hospital.

Women's Institute meets Thursday at 2:30. Afternoon tea.

QUININE FORMS BASE OF PNEUMONIA ANTI-TOXINRemarkable Results Reported from Use of New Drug—Is Derivative of Optochin.

Cleveland, Sept. 12.—A new drug made from quinine, which promises a new treatment for pneumonia was described to the American Chemical Society here by scientists of the Mellon Institute of Pittsburgh.

This quinine derivative has been used on animals with remarkable results, and tried out also on human beings with effects announced today as "very encouraging."

The new drug causes no blindness. It is more deadly to the germs than the old one.

Actually not only one, but several of these modified quinine drugs have been made, each one increasingly effective against pneumonia.

INVERNESS

Farmers wishing to form branch of United Farmers are requested to communicate with S. S. Olney, secretary Danville Branch.

glars apparently entered the bank through a side window leading to the cellar. They removed the iron grill, forced open the window and slipped into the furnace room. They then used a crow-bar to pry open a strong vault door, and the furnace room from the other part of the building.

Mr. Delany said that the next morning a check-up of the bank's guns was made and a Colt revolver was discovered to be missing.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine then said he had been remitted an automatic pistol and a .32 calibre bullet by the detective. Ballistic experiments, he said, had convinced him that the bullet came from that gun.

The automatic pistol in question belonged to Draper.

VISCOUNTS MOUNTGARRET PAID VISIT TO GIBBS' HOME
Robinia, Viscountess Mountgarret, found time during her short stay in Sherbrooke yesterday to visit the Gibbs' Home in order to become acquainted with the Canadian section of the English Society in which she and her family are deeply interested. As the Viscountess arrived in town by car from Montreal about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was due to return to Montreal at ten o'clock by auto, filling in a dinner engagement and meeting with the local branch of the St. John's Ambulance Association between these hours, the Home Committee appreciated this further evidence of zeal from the Mountgarret family.

MARRIAGES

EDWARDS-TRUSSLER

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Church last evening at half past six o'clock, when Miss Daisy Olive Trussler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Trussler, Laurier avenue, became the bride of Mr. Francis William Edwards, of Sherbrooke, the pastor, Rev. James R. Graham, officiating. A profusion of garden flowers and ferns were used in decorating the church, where the guest pews were marked with hydrangeas tied with white satin ribbon. The wedding music was played by Mrs. G. Hadlock, and Miss Helen Robertson sang, "I Love Thee Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin bridal gown, her white tulle veil being held in place with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Alberta Temple, was attired in powder blue crepe, with brown velvet accessories, and her bouquet was of yellow mums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Vivian Jones, a niece of the bride, wore yellow tulle, with matching beret, and she also carried yellow mums.

The bride's mother, Mrs. William Trussler, wore a hyacinth blue ensemble with black satin hat.

Mr. Lynn Trussler acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Thomas Redmond and Clarence Price.

When the bridal party left the church they passed under an archway of Staves, formed by a guard of honor composed of Boy Scouts and Girls Guides, who lined the entrance steps and sidewalk.

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Robins, where Mr. Trussler was in charge of the guest register, and Mrs. Henry Murphy was in charge of the room where the lovely wedding gifts were displayed.

The bride's table, at which the wedding supper was served, was attractively arranged with pink ribbon and sweet peas, the beautiful wedding cake, surrounded with pansies, forming the centerpiece. Girl Guides in their trim uniforms assisted in serving.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were pendants, while the groom presented the best man and ushers with automatic pencils.

Later the bride and groom left by motor for Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal and other points. Going with the bride were a smart brown tweed suit, with harmonizing accessories.

Better tea
gives extra economy...

Cheap tea is always false economy, for the little saved on the purchase price is speedily lost on the cup count.

Selected, graded and priced by famous Mincing Lane tea experts, better tea always gives more cups as well as more and finer flavour, more energy, more refreshment, more enjoyment.

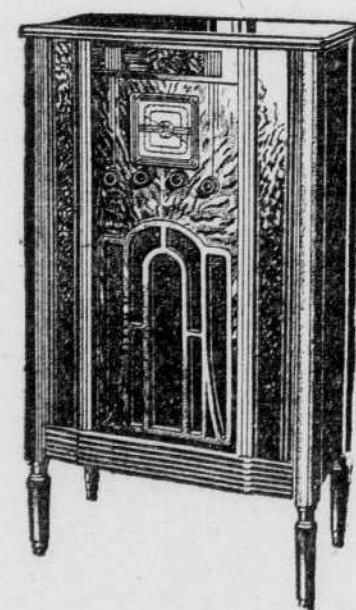

To sell tea for less than the standard price of the reputable brands, the packer must include less better tea in his blend and therefore gives less value.

Better tea, Empire-grown for the Empire's homes and priced within everyone's reach, is the only tea bargain.

ROCHESTER AND TORONTO TOOK OPENING GAMES

Maple Leafs and Newark Battled Twelve Innings Before Canadians Produced Winning Run—Red Wings Trounced Albany Senators in Other Play-Off Series Opener.

Newark, N.J., Sept. 12.—Victor in a marathon opening game in the International League play-off series, the Toronto Maple Leafs will seek to make it two in a row over the Newark Bears, league champions, tonight.

The Leafs, who finished third during the regular season, got the jump on the champion Bears by taking out a three to two triumph after twelve innings of a pitching duel between Gene Schott, of the Canadians, and Charley Devens, of Newark.

Bob Shawkey, manager of the Bears, plans to send Vito Tamulis to the mound tonight, while Boone probably will counter either with Don Brennan or Sheriff Fred Blake. After tonight's game, the series will be shifted for the next three days to Toronto. The last two games, if that many are necessary to decide the best four out of seven series, will be played here.

To Boone fell the honor of escorting the winning run across the plate in the first game. He received a pass from Devens, who had replaced Brown in the ninth frame, went to second on a sacrifice by Murray Howell and scored on Nolan Richardson's single into centre field.

Toronto had scored two runs off Brown in the first inning on a single by Lincoln Blakeley, a safe hit by Joe Morrissey, a sacrifice by George McQuinn on which Brown erred, and Roy Schalk's miff of Boone's line drive. After that Brown held the Bears to one hit until he went out for a pinch hit in the last of the eighth chapter. A triple by Cleo Carlyle and a long fly by Dale Alexander gave Newark a one run in the fourth canto and the tying run came in the ninth heat on Vince Barton's single and Joe Glenn's triple.

Schott gave ten hits but kept them widely scattered. Toronto made only five of Brown and Devens but they came when they did the most damage.

RED WINGS BLASTED STRIKE-OUT KING FROM MOUND

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 12.—His young right-hander, Darrell "Big Six" Blanton, having failed in the first game, Bill McCorry planned to summon the veteran, Bill Harris, to the mound today in an effort to square Albany's International League play-off series with the Rochester Red Wings.

Backing up Norbert Kleinknecht's superb pitching with timely hitting, Rochester took the first game of the best four of seven series here last night by seven to two. Manager Toporcer was expected to call on Johnny "Lefty" Michaels to make it two straight this afternoon.

While Kleinknecht is holding the Senators to six hits and fanning twelve men, Blanton, the league's strike-out king, was wild and ineffective. He had whiffed thirty-eight men in his last two starts and he got nine wings on strikes last night but, at the same time, he walked five men, hit one, committed a balk and allowed six hits in the six innings he worked.

Johnny Milligan pitched the last two innings for Albany and allowed two harmless hits.

YANKS REDUCED DETROIT'S LEAD TO FOUR GAMES

New York Split Twin Bill with Browns while Tigers Dropped Eleven-Inning Decision to Boston—World Champion Giants Added Half Game to Margin Over Cardinals.

The New York Yankees, striving to overhaul Detroit's Tigers in the late stages of the American League pennant race, have enjoyed more than usual success on their current western tour, but the hardest part is still ahead.

By dividing a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns yesterday, while Detroit took four to three setback from the Boston Red Sox in an eleven-inning struggle, the Yanks cut another half game off the Tigers' lead, reducing it to four games. When they beat St. Louis by seven to four in the opener and then lost by seven to three, the Yanks set a record of five victories and two defeats so far, a sharp contrast to their record of fourteen won and fifteen lost in previous games in the west. Entering the game in the eighth inning to relieve Alvin Crowder, Schoolboy Rowe was charged with Detroit's defeat, while "Lefty" Grove, who succeeded Henry Johnson in the ninth round, gained credit for the Boston victory.

The catch in the whole business lies in the fact that after a day off they invaded Detroit and Cleveland and there have won only four games and lost ten this season.

The order was reversed in the National League where the league-leading Giants ended their string of three losses and Pittsburgh's seven game winning streak with a three to one triumph, while the St. Louis Cardinals split a twin bill with the Philadelphia Phillies. This increased New York's lead to four and a half games. Bud Parmelee checked New York's losing streak when he held the Bucs to six hits. Terry on the game in the eighth heat when he drove in two runs with a single.

The Cards, after being blanked by five to nothing when Syl Johnson limited them to five hits and John Moore, Allen and Camilli hit homers, came back with bunched blows to win by six to four.

The third-place Chicago Cubs beat the Boston Braves by two to nothing in an elbowing argument between Bill Lee and Ed Brandt in which each gave six hits, while Emil Leonard's four-hit hurling carried the Brooklyn Dodgers to a five to two victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Hal Trosky established a new Cleveland record by hitting his thirty-third homer, but the Philadelphia Athletics won the ball game by six to four with a thirteen-hit assault on Mel Harder which included a circuit drive by Doc Cramer. A pinch hit by Manager Jimmy Dykes in the eleventh inning gave the Chicago White Sox a three to two victory over Washington in a contest marked by seven double plays.

MANUSH ANNEXED THIRD RING ON "BIG SIX" LADDER

John Moore, of the Phillies, pounded his way into the "Big Six" yesterday, replacing Kiki Cuyler in last place as he made three hits in each game of a doubleheader and added four points to his average for a .340 mark. Cuyler dropped a point to .339.

Heinie Manush registered the day's other "Big Six" gain, taking third place from Charley Gehringer as he hit safely three times in five attempts and improved his average by two points. Gehringer didn't connect on four trips to the plate and suffered a three-point loss.

The standing to date follows:

HOME RUN STANDING

Home runs were recorded yesterday by J. Moore, Allen and Camilli, Phillies; Trosky, Indians, and Cramer, Athletics, one each.

The leaders in the circuit elicit division to date are: Gehrig, Yankees, 45; Fox, Athletics, 41; Ott, Giants, and Trosky, Indians, 33; Collins, Cardinals, and Berger, Braves, 32.

DEATH CLAIMS NOTED CANADIAN SPORTSMAN

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Lieut.-Colonel Alexander Elmt, retired optician and jeweler and one of the most noted sportsmen in Canada, died in hospital here yesterday. He was eighty-seven years of age and had been a famous rifle shot, attaining fame at the old Wimbledon and Bisley meets in England.

He introduced four-oared sculling and was on the team which included John L. Scholes, Ned Wise and Jake Gaudaur, winning the American sculling crown. They never lost a race in four years. Col. Elmt. also won the national cycling crown for all distances with the old high wheel type of bike.

In 1901 he was a member of the Canadian team at Bicy that tied with England for the Kolapore Cup. In the shoot-off he set an Empire record at 1,000 yards with 103 out of a possible 105. This score has never been beaten. King Edward VII presented him with a purse of fifty guineas and two rifles, and the Canadian Government voted him $100 in gold and presented him with two rifles.

CROWDS INVADDE SUMMER RESORT FOR CUP RACES

While British Challenger and American Defender of America's Cup Enjoy Brief Rest Before International Series, Thousands of Spectators Gather at Newport.

Newport, R.I., Sept. 12.—The Endeavour, the America's Cup challenger, and the Rainbow, the defender, entered today what might be called their short period of rest prior to their international match starting on Saturday. The Endeavour was hauled out of the water yesterday into the Bristol yard, where her hull will be rubbed down and painted. The Rainbow was taken out for a short sail-setting.

Thus the zero hour before the Cup series was reached as far as sailing activity went. But it was zero afloat only. The influx of spectators for the races, with every indication of a crowd even greater than had been expected, has started. Trains, boats and automobiles began pouring people into this small city jutting out into the sea. Yachts of all descriptions began making their way into Narragansett Bay, and soon anchorage was difficult to find. The almost unlimited stretches of the bay began to be taken, the remoteness making them less desirable, but their haven a welcome one. Many inducements were stretched to the visitors, one of which, "bars"—and they are not sand bars, has not been on the programs for years.

T. O. M. Spowith, English airplane manufacturer, who is owner and skipper of the Endeavour, went to Bristol on his motor yacht Vita and watched the hauling out of the challenger. He had all sorts of kind words for her amateur crew. He compared them favorably with any British professional aggregation. Then he stopped and thought a minute. He remarked that he never had seen such perfect organization as that of the crews on the American yachts. "We on the other side should pattern after them," he said.

Mrs. Spowith, in addition to her duty as time-keeper on the Endeavour, which will make her the first woman listed as an active crew member in an America's Cup contest, had another task assigned to her. After holding a watch at the start and calling off the minutes and seconds to go to her husband at the wheel, she will act as observer on the challenger. In other words she will watch the Rainbow.

If the two racers have split tasks on the wind and get a distance apart she will look at the defender through glasses and give a continuous report of what is going on aboard the defender. If the crew of the latter moves forward, she will call attention to the fact. It will mean either the trimming of the headsail or the changing of some canvas. That is a most important duty. Those on one yacht may have sensed a change of breeze the other has not. It may be wise to follow suit.

Good luck tokens awaited both yachts. One small horseshoe of puny size arrived from England for the Endeavour. It was sent by a Scotch woman, Mrs. K. G. Lines, who runs a tavern at Torquay. Two other tokens were sent. One was a small flag which the crew of the Endeavour had carried in the "fo'c'st'le. If all the supposed charms were placed aboard the racers they would have to unship ballast.

AMATEUR SKIPPERS PILOTED CUP YACHTS IN 1920

New York, Sept. 12.—Amateur skippers piloted the rival America's Cup yachts in 1920 for the first time in the history of the international classic.

The Cup competition was resumed that year after a lapse of seventeen years. The New York Yacht Club had accepted a challenge from the persistent and determined Sir Thomas Lipton for a series of races in 1914, but the war broke out and the meet was interrupted.

Lipton pitted his Shamrock IV against the Herreshoff-built Resolute, awarded the defence nomination over the Vanitie after a series of trial races.

Charles Francis Adams, who was United States Secretary of Navy at the time, was chosen to pilot the Resolute, while William P. Burton had control of the Shamrock. Each was rated as the leading amateur skipper in his country.

The Cup came dangerously close to going back to England from whence it came in 1851. The Shamrock won the first race when the Resolute failed to finish, repeated the triumph in the second race and, with only one victory more needed to lift the trophy, lost the third race after time allowances were adjusted.

The Resolute drew level by winning the fourth race with more than nine minutes to spare. The final race was sailed in a light southwest breeze. The Resolute passed the outmarker four minutes ahead and broke out her balloon job for the heat home. The Shamrock set in her spinnaker, and this not working too well, doused it and set her balloon. Meanwhile the Resolute was forging ahead steadily and crossed the finish line first, credited with the deciding victory by a margin of nine minutes and forty-five seconds.

A political meeting was in progress in a mining village, and the audience was growing heartily tired of a very prosy speaker. At last he worked himself up to his climax. "And I say to you, in conclusion, that if you do not accept nationalization now of your own free will, the time is coming when, willy nilly, you will have to accept it." He sat down, and the chairman arose. "Are there any questions please?" he asked. There came a long silence. Then a voice came from the back of the hall: "Who is this Willy Nilly, anyway?"

PERRY FAVORED TO WHIP FINAL AMERICAN HOPE

Despite Handicap of Lame Right Ankle, British Men's Singles Tennis Monarch Heavily Backed to Retain United States Title Against Wilmer Allison Today.

Forest Hills, Sept. 12.—Fred Perry, the twenty-five year old Englishman who holds all the major tennis singles championships of the world, had only Wilmer Allison, veteran Texan, and the handicap of a lame right ankle between him and his second straight United States singles title today. The combination, the experts agreed, might force Perry to open up his full bag of tricks before the thrill-packed crowd at the Westside Club courts.

It was conceivable at any rate that the handicap of a turned ankle suffered yesterday in Perry's casual conquest of Vernon G. Kirby, of South Africa, in the semi-finals, might bring back to the courts a picture of a champion all out. Up to the time he met Kirby, Perry hadn't lost a set. Some time in the second set yesterday, which he lost to the South African at 2-6, Perry turned the right ankle he injured in the French hard courts championship in Paris. He had the injury taped at intermission and came back to win in four sets by 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. The injury was diagnosed as a strained tendon, but doctors said he would be able to play all right today with the foot bandaged.

Allison, ranked number two in the States, battered down Sidney B. Wood, Davis Cup singles star, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, confounding the blonde New Yorker with his remorseless accuracy, the strength of his service and backhand, and the pressing strategy that sent him constantly to the net to bewilder Wood with sharply-angled placements.

The Allison-Wood match had all the aspects of a grudge battle, while Perry's victory was that of a friend who is much better than his pal. Both knew it and they got off in a corner and batted the ball around until the proper decision had been reached. At that it was by far the more entertaining exhibition for the crowd of 8,000 that mused in the stands.

Perry gave a grand exhibition of almost everything. He coached Kirby, who has been rooming with him in New York, for half an hour before the match started. With all the pressure off, they leaped and courted around in the match itself and when Kirby took the second set the proudest man on the court seemed to be the English champion of about all he surveys. They laughed at the net to bewilder Wood with tricks and made impossible shots.

The fine accuracy that was Wood's on Monday when he swamped young Frankie Parker in straight sets was totally lacking yesterday as Allison put the pressure on him from the start, never lightened it, and broke the blonde strategist's well balanced game wide open. Coming constantly to the net behind a sturdy, accurate service, Allison kept Wood continually on the defensive.

He lived up completely to his United States ranking, but his conquest against Perry today was considered him. In fact the veteran experts have been wondering for days why the trophy wasn't just conceded to Perry ten days ago, so that all the trials and tribulations the tournament has suffered from rain and darkness could have been avoided.

FAVORITE WON ST. LEGER

Doncaster, England, Sept. 12.—The Derby winner and the hot favorite in the St. Leger today was Windsor Lad, who captured the rich St. Leger, last of the season's five classics for three-year-olds.

The colt, for whom M. H. Benson paid the Maharajah of Rappipla $250,000 following his victory in the Epsom blue ribbon, finished ahead of the favorite, Tibberius, who won the A. Dewar's St. Hubert third in the field of ten. St. Hubert, among the eleven named overnight, did not start.

Windsor Lad, a fine looking colt by Blandford out of Resplendent, drummed his name in the record books alongside those of twenty-six other colts that have won both the Derby and the St. Leger in the 150 years or more that both the classics have been run. The Two Thousand Guineas, the only other open classic, was captured by Colombo this year, but Colombo, soundly beaten by Windsor Lad in the Derby, was not a starter today.

Windsor Lad started favorite at record odds for the Doncaster classic of 4 to 9. Tibberius was 20 to 1. Lo Zingaro 100 to 9. In special place betting Windsor Lad was 2 to 9, Tibberius 10 to 3 and Lo Zingaro 2 to 1.

Windsor Lad finished the mile and three-quarters journey, a quarter mile longer than the Derby, two lengths in front of Tibberius who had the same margin over Lo Zingaro.

He had persisted in calling on her even though she had warned him of her father's decided opposition to her friends. But the young man was getting desperate, and on this particular evening when he called he had his plans cut and dried for an elopement.

Suddenly the door opened and the room was flooded with light. The young couple turned and faced an angry parent.

"Who are you?" he asked the young man through clenched teeth. The latter gulped and turned pale. "I'm her brother," he blurted out at last.

GOLF CASUALTY LIST CONTAINS MANY VETERANS

Youthful Invasion in United States Amateur Golf Championship Play Accounts for Much Seasoned Talent—Somerville, Nash and Cameron Still in Running.

Brookline, Mass. Sept. 12.—Youth is having its fling in the United States amateur golf championship. What has happened in the first two rounds—the elimination of Francis Quimet, Johnny Goodman, Johnny Fischer, Max Martin, Jesse Guilford, Davidson Herron, Billy Howell and Jack Munger—seems likely to pale by comparison tonight when the casualties are counted.

A new star appears in the constellation each day. In the first round Robert Carpenter "Bobby" Jones, of Detroit, accounted for Quimet. Jones since has passed from the roll of survivors, but his place has been taken by chubby Bobby Jacobson, of Deal, N.J.

Jacobson's star went up yesterday when he squeezed out Goodman on the nineteenth green. It was a major conquest for the sixteen year old New Jersey boy—the youngest player left in the field—over the former open king and international team player.

Another unknown shared the spotlight with young Jacobson. He was Al Andereggen, a public pasture performer from Chicago. Andereggen, who failed to qualify in the sectional test but was given a berth because one of the qualifiers withdrew, scaled the heights in his twenty-one-hole defeat of Johnny Fischer.

Meanwhile the Canadian quest for the crown won but once by a player from the Dominion—C. R. "Sandy" Somerville, of London, Ont., in 1932—rolls along placidly. Three of the five Canadians continued play today.

While Somerville, Jack Nash, also of London, and Jack Cameron, Montreal stylist, were stroking to victory yesterday, Phil Farley, of Toronto, joined Gordie Taylor, of Montreal, on the sidelines. Farley fell before the consistent play of Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of Cleveland, by four and three.

Somerville displayed some of the keenest golf of the day in eliminating John Foley, Jr., of Detroit, by two and one. The London Scot was one under par for the seven-teen holes. He meets Sidney Noyes, Jr., of New York, in today's round.

Cameron outplayed Ken Wolcott, of Trenton, N.J., to win by two and one and will oppose Eddie Driggs of New York, while Nash, who beat John Florio, of Cleveland, by the same score, tackles Charles Kocsis, of New York.

George Terry Dunlap, Jr., the defending champion, caused his supporters plenty of anxiety yesterday when he was carried to the eighteenth green before he could shake off W. B. McCullough, Jr., of Philadelphia.

LOAN CONCERNS ARE TOLD THEY MUST LOOSEN UP

Insurance and Loan Companies Will Have to Be More Generous in Matter of Advancing Money on Gilt-Edged Mortgages, New Brunswick Premier Declares.

Saint John, N.B., Sept. 12.—With the seventeenth annual conference of the Association of Superintendents of Insurance of the Provinces of Canada getting under way in this city yesterday, today will see the members well into the business agenda. The conference, attended by insurance and legal officials from all parts of the Dominion, will conclude on Friday.

Yesterday afternoon's opening session heard R. P. Hartley, K.C., Fredericton, Deputy Attorney-General for New Brunswick, who gave the presidential address, and Hon. H. H. McLean, Lieutenant-Governor of the province; Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier; Hon. W. H. Harrison, K.C., New Brunswick's Attorney-General, and His Worship James W. Brittain, Mayor of Saint John, who gave addresses of welcome. Replies were made by Hon. W. H. Major, K.C., Manitoba Attorney-General, and J. G. Parker, Toronto, chief actuary of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, followed by the presentation of committee reports. Committees met last night to consider the reports.

Premier Tilley, in his address, told the conference that "if the insurance and loan companies do not loosen up in the matter of advancing money on gilt-edged mortgages, the governments cannot be blamed if they step in and handle the situation themselves by loading mortgage money through commissions at low rates of interest."

"Through the length and breadth of this country," Premier Tilley said, "it is almost impossible to get money on gilt-edged mortgages. New Brunswick it is impossible today to place some of the best mortgages, even with perfect security. This is a national difficulty and it is a problem for the loan companies and big insurance firms which always have money on hand for investment."

London, Sept. 12.—"Big Ben" has had his faces washed and is all dolled up with crimson paint and bright gold.

The gold is real gold, too, applied in the form of the thinnest of gold leaf.

FEARS OF GAS STATION OWNER MELT HEARTS OF BANDITS

They could take his money, Mitch told them meekly, if they insisted, but there wasn't much, and he was poor and needed it badly.

The bandits looked almost ashamed, as they walked empty-handed to their automobile and drove away.

SEEKS REFUND ON TICKET BOUGHT SIXTY YEARS AGO

John Watt Has Decided He Will Not Take Train Ride He Purchased Ticket for in 1870, So He Wants His Money Back.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—John Watt is not going to take that train ride he bought a ticket for in 1870—so he wants his money back.

The Chicago office of the Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways reported last night that Watt, who lives at Abundant, Mass., bought the ticket in Chicago for passage between Detroit and Boston.

Watt presented the ticket yesterday, and it was forwarded to the general offices in Montreal, with the request for his money back.

The ticket, Watt said he was told, was good "until used."

A SUBSTANTIAL DECREASE IN COMMERCIAL FAILURES

Numbered 122, with Liabilities of $1,807,700 in July as Against 142 and Liabilities of $2,289,454 in Same Month Last Year.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—A substantial decrease was shown in the number of assignments under the bankruptcy and winding up acts, and also in the liabilities in July as compared with the corresponding month last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.

Commercial failures in July numbered 122, with liabilities of $1,807,700, as against
