FACILITES DE PAIEMENT

Le développement intellectuel de notre pays s'augmente d'une façon aussi rapide que consolante, si l'on en juge par le nombre qui va toujours croissant des personnes qui désirent se procurer des livres, se tenir au courant des ouvrages qui traitent des questions actuelles, se constituer enfin une bibliothèque.

Nous devons encourager ce désir, aider ce mouvement de toutes nos forces, en faisant disparaitre le seul obstacle qui s'oppose à sa marche naturelle : la question pécuniaire. Payer comptant, en une seule fois, est toujours une lourde charge, souvent même une impossibilité pour beaucoup.

C'est pourquoi nous voulons, à partir d'aujourd'hui, offrir à nos clients des "facilités de paiement" exceptionnelles, "par mensualités" que nous établissons de la façon suivante :

Pour une commande de	$ 10.00	paiement	$ 1.00	par mois
	$ 20.00	"	$ 2.00	"
	$ 30.00	"	$ 3.00	"
	$ 40.00	"	$ 4.00	"
	$ 50.00	"	$ 5.00	"
	$ 60.00	"	$ 6.00	"
	$ 70.00	"	$ 7.00	"
	$ 80.00	"	$ 8.00	"
	$ 90.00	"	$ 9.00	"
	$100.00	"	$10.00	"

Ces Conditions extraordinaires s'appliquent sans augmentation de prix : 1° à tous les livres annoncés dans le "Propagateur" ; 2° à tous autres bons livres que vous pourriez désirer ; 3° à tous les articles de nos différents Départements : Ameublement de bureaux, Pupitres, Fauteuils, Classeurs, Bibliothèques démontables à sections, Machines à écrire "Royal" et "Hammond", Articles religieux, à nos prix réguliers annoncés dans le "Propagateur" sans augmentation de prix.—Dans ces conditions, nous n'acceptons, pourtant pas de commandes "inférieures à $10.00."—Si vous n'avez pas encore acheté à crédit de notre maison, vous voudrez bien nous donner des références satisfaisantes.—Pour acheter dans ces conditions, il suffit de remplir le "Bulletin de Souscription" que nous vous adresserons sur demande et de le remettre à la

ON

PAST AND PRESENT.

The City of Montreal, founded in 1642 by Paul Chomedy de Maisonneuve, is situated at the foot of Mount Royal, from which it derives its name. The last census gives as the population, 600,000.

This large and beautiful city is one of the most important in the Dominion of Canada from a commercial and industrial point of view, and offers many attractions to tourists.

Its first developments from 1642 to 1690 were crowned with success only by the self-denial and self-sacrifice of the first colonists of Ville-Marie, exposed as they were to the incessant attacks of the savage Iroquois.

Montreal was incorporated as a City in 1832 and ranks in beauty and importance with the principal cities of the United States and Europe. Favored by an exceptional geographical position and backed by Mount Royal, the City looks with pride upon the St. Lawrence River, one of the largest and most beautiful rivers of the world. The port of Montreal situated one thousand miles inland offers harbour to the largest sea going vessels.

Looking from the summit of Mount Royal, which attains an altitude of seven hundred feet above the St. Lawrence River, a magnificent view of the city, harbour and surrounding country is obtained.

Aspect of the City.

Montreal, situated upon an island, presents a regular aspect ; St. James, Notre Dame, Craig, St. Catherine, Ontario and Sherbrooke Streets, each from eight to twelve miles in length traverse the City from East to West, while Guy, Mountain, Bleury, St. Lawrence, St. Denis Streets, and Papineau, Delorimier Avenues, varying in length from four to eight miles, lead through its width from North to South.

The Port, Victoria Bridge & Lachine Canal.

The Harbor of Montreal, with a capacity sufficiently large to shelter the largest vessels, appeals to those interested in the commercial movements of great centres. Its spacious wharfs are provided with immense permanent sheds. The elevators recently constructed have a capacity of several millions of bushels and are hardly sufficient to-day to handle the constantly growing traffic of the port.

Victoria bridge, connecting Montreal with St. Lambert, measures about two miles in length and sixty feet in width, while it rises to a height of one hundred feet above the river. Demolished in 1900, and immediately rebuilt on a more modern plan, Victoria bridge with its numerous tracks for railway trains, electric cars, roadways, foot and bicycle paths, constitutes an engineering feat which rightly does honor to human ingenuity.

From this bridge, resting on twenty four piers a fine view may be had of the port of Montreal, which gives a better idea both of its extent and importance.

To facilitate navigation in the St. Lawrence interrupted by the Sault St. Louis near Montreal, a Canal eight miles long traverses several populous quarters of the city as well as rich and fertile track of country stretching out to Lachine where it connects with Lake St. Louis. On either side of the canal are built flour and saw mills, factories and shops of every kind.

Boats, Railways and Hotels.

Several Steamship and Railway Companies have their Head Offices at Montreal ; among others the Allan Line, Dominion, Donaldson, White Star, Canadian Pacific, Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company ; the Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern Railway.

The Montreal Street Railway gives an excellent service, its lines having a total length in and out of the city of one hundred and fifty miles.

Apart from the Railway Depots, the traveller finds large and comfortable hotels, principally among which are the Corona, Richelieu, Queens, St. James, the Carslake, Viger and the Windsor. This last contains no less than 400 rooms, 16 parlors, and a magnificent concert hall which is much frequented.

Public Buildings.

Among the public buildings deserving notice are the Court House, City Hall, Drill Hall,Post Office and the Board of Trade, The Windsor, Viger and Grand Trunk Depots, Quebec Bank, Royal Insurance, Guardian buildings, The Canadian Bank of Commerce, Stock Exchange, The Bank of Montreal, Merchants, Hochelaga, Toronto and Molsons Banks, etc., etc., are establishments of the first rank commercially.

Churches & Chapels.

Montreal has many churches. The largest, Notre Dame, with its double naves, has a seating capacity of 12,000, and possesses the largest chime bells in America. From the top of its towers may be had a beautiful panoramic view of the City. Its magnificent pipe organ is considered one of the most powerful on the American Continent.

St. James Cathedral built after the plan of St. Peters, in Rome, is surmounted by a dome, 250 feet high. A large proportion of the construction of this temple, together with the thirteen statues by which it is surmounted, present a grand and majestic appearance. In the interior we admire particularly the high altar as well as the bronze canopy surmounting it, which are priceless works of art. Admirable also are several new historical paintings recently executed by the Canadian artist, Mr. George Delfosse.

In this temple lie the remains of the first bishops of Montreal, viz : Mgrs Lartigue, Bourget & Fabre.

Admirable also is the church of Gesu, built in Greek and Latin architecture, embellished within by frescoes much appreciated by an appreciative public.

Worthy of mention also, are St. James, St. Patricks, St. Peters, St. John Baptist and St. Louis of France. These two last are especially remarkable for their beautiful architecture and interior decorations.

Mostly all these churches, notably Notre Dame, St. Louis of France and St. James are provided with splendid electric luminaries, the countless lights and colors of which give to these churches on great feasts an aspect truly dazzling and magnificent.

Among the Protestant churches may be mentioned, Christ Church Cathedral (Anglican) and St. James Methodist both of which are very beautiful by reason of their architecture.

Montreal counts also a large number of chapels among which the most important are the following : Notre Dame, Bonsecours, the oldest church in Montreal, Our Lady of Pity belonging to the ladies of the Congregation, Nazareth, Sacred Heart, Notre Dame de Lourdes, remarkable for its paintings executed by Canadian artists. All these temples of worship erected to the glory of God bear witness to the extent an fervour of the religious sentiment of the population of Montreal.

Educational Institutions.

Montreal possesses educational institutions which do its honor and which are renowned the world over ; McGill university is one of the richest institutions and Laval, one of the oldest in America.

In these institutions the youth of the land, under the direction of able and experienced professors, receive instruction relating to the sciences and liberal arts. No university of the continent has buildings surpassing in beauty and luxury those of McGill, whose location, at the foot of the mountain, is very imposing.

The Fathers of St. Sulpice have also a vast seminary which has given to the church learned priests, distinguished bishops, for Canada as well as for the United States. Montreal has moreover three other large classical colleges, Montreal college under the direction of the Sulpician Fathers, and St. Mary's and Loyola conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. These colleges attract yearly large numbers of students, eager to avail themselves of the advantages offered.

Montreal has also a Normal School, maintained by the government, where some of the teachers of the future are being educated. Religious communities of women have a large number of schools renowned beyond the borders of Canada. Among those deserving special mention are the convent of Villa Maria and of Mount St. Mary, belonging to the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame ; the convent of Hochelaga belonging to the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, the Academy of St. Louis Gonzaga under the Sisters of the Good Shepherd and Madames of the Sacred Heart.

Other houses of a special character worthy of notice are Nazareth Asylum for the blind, conducted by the Grey Nuns, whose mother-house on Guy St, occupies large grounds, and the Deaf and Dumb institute for men, conducted by the Clerks of St. Viateur and for women by the Sisters of Providence who also have several kindergarten schools located in different parts of the city.

Royal Victoria College is a Protestant training school for teachers and is well fitted to prepare them for their mission.

Two other institutions deserving particular mention are : l'Ecole des Hautes Etudes Commerciales (Commercial High School) and the Technical School, both being provincial government institutions reputed among the first on the continent.

Mount St. Louis, conducted by the Christian Brothers, l'Académie du Plateau, the High School and the Commercial Technical High School, the three last controlled by the School Commissioners are all institutions of the first order, take their part in commercial, technical and professional teaching.

Elementary instruction is provided by a large number of schools which supply every need of the city.

Newspapers & Public Libraries.

Montreal has several large daily newspapers : La Presse, La Patrie, the Star, the Herald, the Gazette, Le Canada, the Witness and Le Devoir, several of which have a large circulation.

There are also several public libraries, among others Fraser's Institute and the Civic Library.

The historical museum, Château de Ramesay is held in high esteem by visitors.

At the Monument National (1), free classes in science and art are given every evening from October to April.

The Council of Arts and Trades, pursues on its part an identical court, for the advantage of those who desire to perfect themselves in their respective lines.

Hospitals & Asylums.

The numerous hospitals and asylums of Montreal, are all institutions of the first order, where the aged and disabled, the sick and the poor receive necessary care. Notable among these are the Hotel-Dieu, the foundation of which dates back to the first colonisation of the Island of Montreal ; Victoria hospital, founded through the munificence of Sir Donald Smith (Lord Strathcona) and of Sir George Stephens (subscription $1,000.000) on the occasion of the

(1) On this building is a concert hall with a capacity of two thousand people.

Jubilee of Queen Victoria. The General Hospital, Nazareth, Notre Dame, Alexandra and St. Paul, these two last being for the treatment of contagious diseases, Maternity hospital of the Sisters of Mercy which is also provided with a nursery for the better care of infants ; the Western hospital for the treatment of the diseases of women; Hospices Auclair, Gamelin, St. Justine, etc., not mentioning numerous orphanages and asylums where suffering humanity finds ready care.

Theatres & Places of Amusement

In contrast with these institutions, where zeal and devotedness have for object the alleviation of the suffering humanity, there are found others of a very different order much frequented by the general public. Such are the theatres, which are numerous in Montreal, His Majesty's, the Princess, the Orpheum, the Français, the National, beside King Edward Park, at Isle Gros Bois, Sohmer and Dominion Parks.

Other places deserving mention are the Shamrock grounds (Mile End), Montreal grounds (Westmount) and the National grounds at Maisonneuve, where every week in summer, players of base-ball and Lacross give exhibitions of their skill, before immense crowds.

The Arena, Stadium, Jubilee, Forum and Colisium are vast skating rinks, where during winter, great games of hockey are played. Delorimier park is particularly reserved for horse racing.

Public Parks & Historical Monuments.

Montreal is not lacking in magnificent parks adorned with beautiful trees and fragrant flowers.

These parks are Viger Square with its forest of trees and the splendidly constructed Viger Depot opposite ; Victoria square, Park Lafontaine in the center of which are two pretty little artificial lakes dotted with verdant islets ; Westmount Park, St. Louis square, St. Philipp square near which is located the Art Gallery, Place d'Armes. Dominion square around which are grouped St. James Cathedral, Windsor Depot, the Windsor Hotel and the Y. M. C. A. building. St. Helens Island Park is opposite the city and last Mount Royal park, this latter more popular than all the others because it is the only one situated at the summit of the mountain. It is reached by a splendid winding driveway, or by the incline railway which is one of the attractive features of this park.

Most of the parks are also decorated with rich and magnificent monuments erected to the glory of some one in recognition of his services to his country. Such are the statues of Jacques Cartier the discoverer of Canada ; the monument in Place d'Armes square to Maisonneuve, the founder of Montreal ; that of Queen Victoria in the square of the same name, of Mgr Ignatius Bourget in front of the Catholic Cathedral ; of Sir John A. MacDonald, the great statesman and former prime minister of Canada and the equestrian statue erected to the memory of the Canadian soldiers who took part in the South African war, both of which decorate Dominion Square ; of Iberville the intrepid seaman, of Dr Chenier one of the hereos of 1837-38, in Viger square; of Cremazie, national poet in St. Louis square and the column of Nelson in Jacques Cartier square, etc., etc.

Montreal is noted for its palatial private residences and particularly upon the Western slope of Mount Royal may be found homes of beautiful exterior.

Some of the finest homes are built on Dorchester, Sherbrooke, Westmount Plateau, Beaver Hall, St. Catherine West, St. Denis, St. Hubert, Cherrier, Park Lafontaine St, Park ave. and others including Westmount. Most of these houses are surrounded by shade trees and lawns adorned with flowers.

Cemeteries.

On the north west slope of Mount Royal, are located the Catholic and Protestant Cemeteries, covering a space of more than 450 acres. The beautiful paths bordered with flowers and verdure, the numerous monuments and rich vaults make of the whole certainly one of the most beautiful cemeteries on the continent.

The Surrounding Country.

The country surrounding around Montreal is lacking neither in charm for the tourist who has the leisure to admire the beauties of a nature as rich as it is fertile. It is rare too that a stranger returns home without visiting the old Indian village of Caughnawaga, inhabited by the descendants of the Iroquois tribe or without shooting the rapids at Lachine, at least if he is desirous to experience thrilling and novel emotions.

The street car rides, either to Bout de l'Isle or to Cartierville, give an oppertunity of seeing the fertile country and fields under cultivation.

The Montreal of To-Morrow.

Montreal, to-day the Metropolis of Canada and one of the most interesting cities of the continent, is without doubt, thanks to its geographical position and to the enormous traffic in western products;

thanks too, to the progressive policy of its aldermen, and Board of Control, destined to become not only very important from a commercial point of view but also, and that perhaps in the not very distant future, the rival of New-York and Chicago.

QUELQUES NOTES

SUR

ANCIEN ET MODERNE

La ville de Montréal, fondée en 1642 par Paul Chomedy de Maisonneuve, est située au pied du Mont-Royal, d'où elle tire son nom. Elle compte aujourd'hui une population de 500,000 âmes.

C'est une belle et grande ville, la plus importante du Canada, tant au point de vue du commerce et de l'industrie qu'à celui des attraits qu'elle offre aux touristes.

Ses premiers développements, de 1642 à 1690, n'ont été couronnés de succès qu'à force d'abnégation et de sacrifices de la part des premiers colons de Ville-Marie, (1) exposés qu'ils étaient surtout aux attaques incessantes des Iroquois, peuplades sauvages, réputées des plus cruelles en temps de guerre.

Incorporée en 1832, elle rivalise aujourd'hui en beauté et en importance avec les premières villes des Etats-Unis, voire même de l'Europe. Sa situation géographique exceptionnelle la favorise sans doute. Aussi, adossée au Mont-Royal, voit-elle avec orgueil couler à ses pieds le plus beau fleuve du monde : le St-Laurent, dont les eaux limpides sont sillonnées en tous sens par des centaines de vaisseaux de toutes dimensions, y compris les océaniques du plus fort tonnage.

(1) Nom primitivement donné à a ville.

Du sommet du Mont-Royal, dont l'altitude au-dessus du fleuve est de 700 pieds, le touriste domine toute la ville et ne se lasse pas en même temps d'admirer les magnifiques points de vue, les sites nombreux autant qu'attrayants, qu'offrent à son regard ébloui la ville et les campagnes environnantes.

Aspect de la ville.

La ville de Montréal, par la disposition de ses rues, présente un aspect régulier. Les rues St-Jacques, Notre-Dame, Craig, Ste-Catherine, Ontario, Sherbrooke, longues de huit à douze milles, la traversent dans le sens de sa longueur, c'est-à-dire, de l'est à l'ouest pendant que les rues Guy, de la Montagne, Bleury, St-Laurent, St-Denis, Amherst, Papineau, Delorimier, etc., dont la longueur varie de quatre à huit milles, la traversent dans le sens de sa largeur, c'est-à-dire du sud au nord.

Maisons de commerce.

Le commerce de gros occupe particulièrement les rues des Commissaires, St-Paul, Ste-Hélène, de Bresolle, etc., pendant que celui du détail se limite aux rues Notre-Dame, St-Jacques, Craig, McGill, St-Laurent, Ste-Catherine, Ontario et autres.

Les maisons Morgan, Rea, Murphy, Ogilvie, Letendre & Fils, Mount-Royal, Lamy, Hamilton, Scroggie, Dupuis Frères et Lemire, sont des magasins à départements très considérables, dont le chiffre d'affaires pour plusieurs d'entre elles, dépasse un million.

Il convient encore de mentionner les importantes maisons de Birks, Eaves, Cochenthaler, Hemsley, Scott et Grothé (bijouterie) ; celles de Desjardins, Anderson, Ste-Marie, Nelson et Normandin (marchands de fourrures), ainsi que les libraires Beau-chemin, Granger Frères, Sadlier, Renouf, Déom et Fils, etc., et les grandes papeteries Morton Philipps et Jos. Fortier.

Le marché Bonsecours et la place Jacques-Cartier, lesquels couvrent une superficie de 30 acres ; sont aujourd'hui trop petits pour faire place à tous les commerçants et jardiniers de la campagne qui viennent y vendre les produits de la ferme.

Le Port, le Pont Victoria et le Canal Lachine.

Le port de Montréal, dont la capacité est telle qu'il peut donner asile à une flotte nombreuse, s'impose tout particulièrement à l'attention de ceux-là qui se préoccupent avant tout du mouvement commercial des grands centres.

Les quais spacieux qu'on y remarque, sont maintenant tous pourvus d'immenses hangars permanents. Les élévateurs récemment construits et pouvant contenir des millions de minots de grain, suffisent à peine aujourd'hui pour faire face au trafic de plus en plus considérable de notre port.

Le pont Victoria, qui traverse le fleuve, — reliant Montréal à St-Lambert, — mesure deux milles environ de longueur et soixante pieds de largeur, pendant qu'il s'élève à plus de 100 pieds au-dessus du fleuve. Démoli en partie en 1900 pour être aussitôt reconstruit sur un plan plus moderne, le pont Victoria, avec ses nombreuses voies pour les chars à vapeur, tramways électriques, voitures, piétons et bicyclistes, constitue une véritable merveille dont s'honore à bon droit le génie humain.

De ce pont qui repose sur vingt-quatre piliers, le regard embrasse tout le port de Montréal ; ce qui nous permet alors de juger mieux et de son étendue et de son importance.

Pour faciliter encore la navigation du St-Laurent, — un moment interrompu par le Sault St-Louis, près de Montréal, — un canal, long de huit milles, traverse plusieurs quartiers très populeux de la ville, ainsi qu'une riche et verdoyante campagne, qui s'étend jusqu'à Lachine où il atteint au lac St-Louis. De chaque côté de ce canal, s'élèvent des moulins à farine, des scieries, des manufactures et des usines de tous genres.

Bateaux, Chemins de fer et Hotels.

Plusieurs compagnies de bateaux et de chemins de fer ont leurs principaux bureaux d'affaires à Montréal ; citons entre autres : celles d'Allan, du Richelieu, du Grand-Tronc, du Pacifique et du Grand-Nord. La Compagnie des Tramways donne un excellent service et ses chars circulent d'une façon régulière à travers les principales rues de la ville, et sur un parcours de plus de cent cinquante milles de voie ferrée.

Aux abords des gares de chemins de fer, les voyageurs trouvent de nombreux et vastes hôtels, et des plus confortables, dont les principaux sont le Richelieu, le Queen, le St. James, le Carslake, le Viger et le Windsor. Ce dernier ne compte pas moins de 400 chambres, 16 salons et possède une magnifique salle de concert très fréquentée.

Parmi les édifices publics les plus importants qu'il convient de mentionner, citons le Palais de Justice, l'Hôtel de Ville, la Salle d'Exercice, le Bureau de Poste, la Chambre de Commerce (Board of Trade).

Les gares Windsor, Viger, Grand-Tronc, les bureaux des Douanes et du Grand-Tronc, la Quebec Bank building, l'Assurance Royale, la Guardian et la Canadian Bank of Commerce, la Bourse, les banques de Montréal, des Marchands, d'Hochelaga, de Toronto, de Molson, etc., etc., qui sont tous des établissements considérables et de première importance au point de vue des affaires.

Eglises et Chapelles.

Les églises de Montréal sont nombreuses. Celle de Notre-Dame — le temple le plus vaste de la ville — peut, avec ses deux rangées de jubés, contenir commodément 12,000 personnes assises. Ses tours, hautes de 216 pieds, possèdent le plus beau carillon de toute l'Amérique. Du haut de ces tours, on jouit d'un spectacle fort attrayant. L'intérieur est riche et décoré avec un grand goût. L'orgue de Notre-Dame est considéré comme l'un des plus puissants du continent américain.

La Cathédrale St-Jacques, bâtie d'après le plan de la basilique de St-Pierre de Rome, est surmontée d'un dôme qui s'élève à plus de 250 pieds dans les airs. Ce temple, d'une construction aux larges proportions et dont treize statues de bronze ornent la façade, présente un aspect saisissant de grandeur et de majesté. A l'intérieur, on admire tout particulièrement l'autel, ainsi que le baldaquin en bronze qui le surmonte : deux œuvres d'art d'un très grand prix. On y admire aussi plusieurs tableaux, récemment peints par l'artiste canadien M. G. Delfosse.

Dans la crypte de ce temple, reposent les cendres des premiers évêques de Montréal, savoir : Mgrs Lartigue, Bourget et Fabre.

On admire encore beaucoup l'église du Gésu, construite d'après le style grec et latin et embellie à l'intérieur de fresques très appréciées du public connaisseur.

Citons enfin les églises St-Jacques, de St-Patrice, de St-Pierre, de St-Jean-Baptiste et de St-Louis de France. Ces deux dernières sont aussi très admirées tant pour leur apparence architecturale que pour les décorations que l'on y remarque à l'intérieur.

La plupart de ces églises, notamment celles de Notre-Dame, de St-Louis de France et de St-Jacques, possèdent de magnifiques luminaires électriques, dont les nombreuses lumières aux couleurs et aux agencements variés donnent aux temples, aux grands jours de fête, un aspect vraiment féérique.

Parmi les églises protestantes, il convient de mentionner en particulier, la Christ church (Cathédrale anglicane) et la St. James' Methodist church, toutes deux fort remarquables pour leur beauté architecturale.

Montréal compte encore un grand nombre de chapelles, dont les plus importantes sont les suivantes : Notre-Dame de Bonsecours, la plus ancienne église de Montréal ; Notre-Dame de Pitié, qui appartient aux Dames de la Congrégation ; celles de Nazareth, du Sacré-Cœur et de Notre-Dame de Lourdes, remarquables pour les toiles ou peintures que l'on y voit, et qui ont pour auteurs des artistes canadiens.

Ces temples de piété, élevés à la gloire de Dieu, témoignent hautement en faveur de la population de Montréal, chez laquelle le sentiment religieux est toujours resté vivace.

Maisons d'éducation.

Montréal possède des maisons d'éducation qui lui font honneur et dont la renommée, d'ailleurs, s'étend au loin. C'est d'abord l'Université McGill, l'une des plus riches du continent, puis celle de Laval, la plus ancienne de l'Amérique.

Des milliers de jeunes gens puisent chaque année dans ces institutions, sous l'habile direction de professeurs d'élite, les connaissances qui se rapportent aux sciences et aux arts libéraux. Nulle université du continent ne surpasse en beauté et en richesse les édifices du McGill, dont le site au pied de la montagne est par lui-même des plus séduisants. Les messieurs de St-Sulpice possèdent aussi un vaste séminaire qui a donné à l'Eglise des prêtres instruits, des évêques distingués, tant pour le Canada que pour les Etats-Unis. Montréal compte encore trois grands collèges classiques : le collège de Montréal, dirigé par les Sulpiciens, et ceux de Ste-Marie et de Loyola, dont les Jésuites ont la direction. Ces trois institutions attirent de tous côtés une jeunesse nombreuse et avide de s'instruire. Montréal a aussi des écoles normales, entretenues aux frais du gouvernement, et où se forment ceux aux mains de qui est confiée l'éducation de la jeunesse. Les communautés religieuses de femmes possèdent un grand nombre d'établissements dont la renommée s'étend jusqu'à l'étranger. Nommons en particulier les couvents du Villa-Maria et du Mont Ste-Marie, qui appartiennent aux Dames de la Congrégation ; le couvent d'Hochelaga, des Sœurs des SS. Noms Jésus-Marie ; l'académie St-Louis de Gonzague, dirigée par les Sœurs du Bon Pasteur, etc., etc.

D'autres maisons, d'un caractère spécial, sont encore dignes d'intéresser vivement le touriste. C'est d'abord l'asile Nazareth, pour les aveugles, que dirigent les Sœurs Grises, dont la maison-mère sur la rue Guy occupe un vaste espace ; c'est l'institution des sourds-muets, confiée aux Frères Viateurs ; celle des sourdes-muettes, dont les Sœurs de la Providence ont la direction, en même temps que celle de la plupart des asiles ou jardins d'enfance de la ville ; c'est encore le Royal Victoria College, institution protestante où les gardes-malades reçoivent une instruction en rapport avec leur mission.

Deux autres institutions fort importantes : l'Ecole des Hautes Etudes commerciales et l'Ecole Technique, méritent d'être mentionnées. Ces deux institutions sont l'œuvre du gouvernement provincial.

Le Mont St-Louis, dirigé par les Frères des Ecoles Chrétiennes, l'Académie du Plateau, le High School, et la " Commercial Technical High School ; ces trois dernières sous le contrôle des commissions scolaires, toutes institutions de premier ordre, se partagent l'enseignement commercial, technique et professionnel.

L'enseignement élémentaire est aussi pourvu d'un grand nombre d'écoles qui répondent parfaitement bien aux besoins de la ville.

Journaux et Bibliothèques.

Montréal compte plusieurs grands journaux quotidiens, savoir : la Presse, la Patrie, le Star, le Herald, la Gazette, le Canada, le Witness et le Devoir. Plusieurs atteignent un tirage fort considérable.

Montréal possède encore plusieurs bibliothèques publiques, entre autres celle de l'Institut Fraser, la bibliothèque civique. Le musée historique du château Ramesay est fort apprécié de tous ceux qui le visitent.

A la seule bâtisse du Monument National (1), par exemple, il se donne gratuitement tous les soirs, — d'octobre à avril — des cours publics sur les sciences et les arts.

Le Conseil des Arts et Métiers poursuit de son côté une œuvre identique, pour l'avantage de ceux-là qui désirent se perfectionner dans les différents métiers qu'ils exercent.

Nous remarquons de plus à Montréal un grand nombre de sociétés de bienfaisance et de cercles pour l'avancement des arts et des sciences.

Hopitaux et Hospices.

Les hôpitaux et les hospices dont la ville de Montréal est dotée sont toutes des institutions de premier ordre, où les vieillards, les infirmes et les malades sans fortune reçoivent gratis les soins que nécessite leur état. Parmi ces hôpitaux, citons l'Hôtel-Dieu, dont la fondation remonte aux premiers temps de la colonie ; l'hôpital Victoria, dû à la munificence de Sir Donald Smith (lord Stratcona), et de Sir George Stephens, (souscription $1,000,000) à l'occasion du jubilé de la reine Victoria ; l'Hôpital Général, ceux de Nazareth, de Notre-Dame, d'Alexandra et de St-Paul, ces deux derniers destinés aux maladies con-tagieuses ; l'hôpital de la Maternité des Sœurs de la Miséricorde, lequel est pourvu en même temps d'une Crèche d'enfants des mieux aménagées sous tous les rapports ; le Western Hospital, où l'on traite les maladies des femmes ; les hospices Auclair, Gamelin, Ste-Justine, St-Luc, etc., sans compter nombre de refuges où les orphelins et les miséreux trouvent facilement asile.

Théatres et places d'amusements.

A côté de ces maisons, où le zèle, le dévouement et la science ont bien vite raison des plaintes et des souffrances des patients qui les fréquentent, il s'en trouve d'autres d'un ordre bien différent que le public aime à fréquenter parce qu'il y trouve l'occasion de se recréer et de s'instruire. Ce sont les théâtres. De fait, Montréal en compte aujourd'hui plusieurs tels que le " Majesty ", le " Princess ", l' " Orpheum ", le " Français ", le " National " ainsi que les parcs " King Edward " à l'Ile Grosbois, Sohmer et Dominion, pour ne citer que les plus fréquentés.

Outre ces endroits, nous devons encore mentionner les terrains des Shamrocks (Mile-End), des Montréal (Westmount) et des Nationals (Maisonneuve), où toutes les semaines, en été, les joueurs du Base-Ball et de Lacrosse donnent devant des assistances considérables des exhibitions de leur savoir-faire. L'Aréna, le Stadium, le Jubilee, le Forum, le Coliseum, sont de vastes patinoirs où ont lieu pendant les soirs d'hiver les grandes parties de Hockey. Le Parc Delorimier est particulièrement réservé aux courses de chevaux.

Parcs publics et Monuments Historiques.

Montréal ne manque pas de parcs magnifiquement ornés de beaux arbres parsemés de fleurs odorantes, et très fréquentés des citadins qui y trouvent le frais ombrage et le repos tout en y respirant l'air doux et parfumé propre à ces lieux.

Ces parcs sont le carré Viger, avec sa forêt d'arbres et la gare Viger, splendide construction qui lui fait face: le carré Victoria, le parc Lafontaine, au centre duquel se trouvent deux jolis petits lacs artificiels parsemés d'îlots verdoyants, le carré St-Louis, le carré Philippe, où est la galerie des Arts ; la Place d'Armes, le carré Dominion où sont groupés la Cathédrale St-Jacques, la gare Windsor, l'Hôtel Windsor, la Y. M. C. A. building ; le parc de l'île Ste-Hélène, en face de la ville ; enfin le parc Mont-Royal, ce dernier le plus fréquenté des touristes parce qu'il est unique en son genre, situé au sommet de la Montagne. Le touriste y parvient soit en voiture par une route carossale splendide à pente très douce, soit encore par le chemin de fer incliné, qui n'est pas une des moindres attractions de ce parc.

La plupart de ces parcs sont encore décorés de riches et magnifiques monuments que la reconnaissance publique a élevés à la gloire de quelques-uns de ceux qui ont le plus mérité de la Patrie.

C'est ainsi que nous remarquons la statue de Jacques-Cartier, le découvreur du Canada ; le monument Maisonneuve, le fondateur de Montréal, élevé à la Place d'Armes ; celui de la reine Victoria, au carré du même nom ; celui de Mgr Ignace Bourget, en face de la cathédrale des catholiques ; celui de Sir John A. MacDonald, grand politicien et ancien premier-ministre du Canada, et le monument symbolique élevé à l'honneur des soldats canadiens qui ont pris part à la guerre de l'Afrique du Sud, décorent tous deux le carré Dominion; celui d'Iberville, l'intrépide marin ; celui du brave Dr Chénier, l'un des héros de 1837-38, au carré Viger ; celui de Crémazie, poète national, au carré St-Louis ; la colonne Nelson, à la place Jacques-Cartier, etc. (1)

(1) Outre ces monuments la ville doit encore à la société numismatique et archéologique de Montréal plus de trente plaques commémoratives fixées dans divers endroits historiques de la ville.

Montréal est encore digne de remarque pour ses résidences privées, toutes plus élégantes, plus somptueuses les unes que les autres. Plus d'une villa, enfin, serait digne d'être habitée par le prince le plus fortuné.

Les rues Dorchester, Sherbrooke, tout le Beaver Hall, Ste-Catherine ouest, St-Denis, St-Hubert, Cherrier, Parc Lafontaine, Avenue du Parc et autres, y compris le Westmount, sont celles qui en comptent le plus. Partout, ces rues sont bordées d'arbres et de parterres au gazon parsemé de fleurs.

Cimetières.

A côté de la cité des vivants, où tout est bruit et mouvement, on peut voir, sur le versant Nord-ouest du Mont-Royal les cimetières catholique et protestant lesquels couvrent un espace de plus de 450 arpents. C'est là notre cité des morts, très paisible, mais aussi, intéressante à visiter. Les belles allées bordées d'arbres, de fleurs et de verdure, les nombreux monuments funéraires et les riches caveaux que l'on y remarque, en font certainement l'un des beaux cimetières du continent.

Les environs de la ville.

Les environs de Montréal ne manquent pas non plus de charme pour le touriste qui y admire tout à son aise les beautés d'une nature riche autant que fertile. Il est rare aussi que l'étranger retourne chez lui sans avoir visité le vieux village de Caughnawaga (Indien en prière), où habitent les descendants de la nation iroquoise, et sauté les rapides de Lachine pour peu surtout qu'il soit avide d'émotions vives autant que nouvelles.

Les promenades en tramways, hors de la ville, soit vers le Bout de l'Ile, soit vers Cartierville, etc., fournissent enfin au touriste l'occasion d'admirer nos riches campagnes et les belles cultures que l'on y voit.

Ce que sera Montréal demain.

Montréal, aujourd'hui la métropole du Canada et l'une des villes les plus intéressantes du continent, est sans doute destinée, grâce à sa position géographique et au trafic énorme qui lui vient de l'Ouest, grâce aussi à la politique progressive de ses échevins, à devenir non seulement une ville très importante même au point de vue du commerce, mais encore — et cela dans un avenir assez prochain peut-être — la rivale de New-York et de Chicago.
