SHERBROOKE RECORD, TUESDAY, MARCH 7, 1961

Sixty-Fourth Year

Warm weather ahead

ABOVE-NORMAL TEMPERATURES are predicted for most of southern Canada from Alberta to Newfoundland in the 30-day outlook of the United States weather bureau for March. Heavy precipitation is expected in southwestern British Columbia and Ontario and in northern Quebec. Normal precipitation is given in inches of rain. One inch of rain equals 10 inches of snow. (CP Newsmag)

Blame freezing rain in traffic fatality

Freezing rain and high winds caused one death in the Eastern Townships Monday as well as bringing down power lines, and making road conditions hazardous. At the height of the storm Monday afternoon Mrs. Norman M. McLeod, 73, of Milan was killed by a freight train at a level crossing. She was walking home from mailing some letters and apparently did not see the train because of the bad weather conditions.

The 52 inches of freezing rain which was recorded at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm Monday brought down power lines in several areas of Sherbrooke. The line to Kativille and wires on the Stoke Road and the Lake Brompton and Allard Roads were down. However, Sherbrooke's Electrical Department reported that they were all repaired by Tuesday morning.

Notre Dame School and St. Francis High School in Richmond were closed Tuesday because poor roads made it impossible for pupils from outlying localities to reach their classrooms.

The Provincial Roads Department reported this morning that all the main highways in the Eastern Townships were free of ice but that work is still being done on the side roads. With temperatures in the high 30s predicted for today the department expects to have its work completed within 24 hours.

UN probe near end

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec royal commission investigating the former Union Nationale government was nearing the end today of a three-month investigation into the 1957 sale of the publicly-owned Montreal Gas system to the private Quebec Natural Gas Corporation.

Commission counsel expected to complete the presentation of their case today and Edouard Masson, chief counsel for the Union Nationale, said he will then be in a position to decide whether he and his colleagues need time to examine the mass of documentary evidence.

Submitted Monday was a letter written by the late premier Maurice Duplessis June 15, 1955 to F. A. Schultz, a director of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited, stating that the Quebec government was prepared to support the company's bid for a charter to sell and distribute natural gas in the province.

ENTERED IN EVIDENCE

It was entered in evidence by Harold Stufmann, secretary-treasurer of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation, as was a February 1957 report by a New York consulting firm on market prospects for natural gas in Montreal and the letter covering the report.

To resume Congo debate

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana sets the stage today for renewed debating on The Congo with a speech to the United Nations General Assembly urging his plan for an all-African UN command in the chaos-torn African country.

Nkrumah is the only speaker listed for the opening session of the resumed 15th General Assembly. Russia sounded a jarring note on the eve of the session when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko snubbed a luncheon Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld gave Monday for Nkrumah.

Gromyko's boycott was interpreted as giving notice that Russia will oppose any Congo peace plan in which the secretary-general has a hand. Gromyko is expected to continue to press his demands for an end of the UN Congo operation and the resignation of Hammarskjöld.

LISTS MAIN POINTS

Nkrumah's proposal for The Congo, as outlined in a recent cable to Hammarskjöld, differs sharply from the Soviet demands. It contains these main points:

1. A new all-African UN command would be set up in The Congo to take over full responsibility for law and order.
2. All Congolese armed units would return to their barracks and surrender their weapons to the new UN command. The disarmament should be voluntary, but the UN troops would use force if necessary.
3. All non-African personnel serving in the Congolese armies would be expelled at once.
4. Once the military situation is brought under control, all political prisoners would be released and the Congolese parliament would be convened.

Other issues slated to come before the general assembly are disarmament and Soviet demands that the UN structure be altered to replace the office of secretary-general with a three-man executive.

Russia announced in Moscow Monday that it would drop its resolution asking the UN to condemn the United States for the U-2 incident.

UNICEF drive nets $260,000

TORONTO (CP) — The national UNICEF committee said Monday 300,000 children in communities from Newfoundland to British Columbia collected $260,000 in last fall's Halloween program.

The program was sponsored by the United Nations children's fund. Amounts collected in 1960 in the Eastern provinces: New Brunswick, $8,312; Newfoundland $4,948; Nova Scotia, $8,240; Prince Edward Island, $1,228; Quebec, $83,947.

Back peace corps

FRANKFURT (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India voiced full support today of President Kennedy's proposed "peace corps" to help underdeveloped countries. "I am supporting all peaceful intentions wholeheartedly," Nehru said during a brief stopover en route to the Commonwealth conference in London.

See CCF fillibuster over Alberta pipeline

OTTAWA (CP) — "Fillibuster," the word was shouted by a Progressive Conservative backbencher as CCF Leader Argue got up to speak Monday night in the stormy Commons debate on whether to incorporate Aurora Pipeline Company.

Whether the CCF is conducting an all-out fillibuster, determined to prevent the proposed Alberta carrier from becoming federally incorporated, is not entirely clear, Mr. Argue admitted, in the course of his speech, that the bill likely will be approved eventually.

Monday's performance however certainly had all the appearances of a fillibuster, CCF speakers, resting again and

Livestock market

MONTREAL — (CP) Morning offerings on the Montreal livestock markets amounted to 26 cattle and 169 hogs. Monday 685 cattle, 155 calves, 455 hogs and 20 sheep and lambs were offered.

Call bedside conference over stricken film star

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor's doctors called an urgent bedside conference this afternoon amid signs that the gravely ill actress may have taken a turn for the worse.

"Most of her doctors are in side with her," said a close friend at the hospital. "We are not sure what's happening, but thing don't look good."

A spokesman for the star's personal physician, Dr. Carl Heinz Goldman, said: "We can say nothing right now and we'll probably have nothing before 6 or 7 o'clock tonight 2 or 3 p.m. EST."

Stricken by pneumonia, the 29-year-old film beauty had passed a fair night and a medical bulletin earlier said she was "breathing quietly and peacefully." It added that she was definitely improving "although the general situation remains grave."

The pneumonia is in both lungs. She is breathing only with the aid of an electronic breathing device and through a tube inserted in her throat.

Sad swan song

FORFAR, Scotland (AP) — A swan waiting for his slain mate is driving people around here wacky. He has been honking all night long for weeks.

"Someone shot his mate," explained Mayor Robert Lind. "The swans came from Japan and we may have to send there for a replacement. We are determined to make this poor lonesome swan happy again at any cost."

"Besides, we all need some sleep."

ANNECY, France (AP)

— Police said today that a former paratrooper and an accomplice have confessed to the kidnapping last year of four-year-old auto heir Eric Peugeot.

After questioning the pair for 48 hours, police said the men had admitted participating in the kidnapping last April 12 which netted 50,000,000 francs ($100,000) ransom. The blonde youngster of auto magnate Roland Peugeot was returned unharmed.

The two men who were reported to have confessed were identified as Raymond Rolland also known as Roland de Beaufort, and Pierre Larcher, known in some quarters of Paris as "Beau Serge."

They were picked up two days ago along with another man and three women, including a Danish beauty queen and a Eurasian strip-tease artist. All had been on a ski vacation at Megeve.

The three girls and the other man were later released.

THE THREE COUPLES... PREPARE FOR GETAWAY

The three couples had been staying in a luxurious eight-room chalet. They apparently were preparing for a getaway as police closed in on them.

Rolland was identified as a 24-year-old ex-paratrooper who had been spending lavishly, although he had no visible means of support.

Larcher, wanted by police in Paris for extortion and for assault and battery, was well known in the Montmartre and Montparnasse districts of Paris where night life is congregated.

Police said a tip from the Paris underworld caused them to shadow de Beaufort, Larcher and their four companions in the large alpine chalet.

Expecting child

LONDON (AP) — Peter Townsend and his Belgian wife are expecting their first child early this summer. Townsend, 45, has two sons by his first marriage. He and his 21-year-old wife, Marie-Luce, make their home in Paris, where Townsend buys wines for an American firm.

Postpone Congo peace parley

TANANARIVE, Madagascar Republic (AP) — Leaders of the faction-torn Congo agreed Monday to postpone major peace talks for 24 hours to give rebel chief Antoine Gizenga time to get here.

But they said the conference will go ahead today if he fails to arrive by then.

The conference, called by Katanga province's president and premier, Moise Tshombe, in an attempt to settle the Congo's internal political strife, opened on schedule. But it was agreed to postpone working sessions when word arrived that Gizenga, the only major Congo leader not present, was en route.

Hides in Congo bush, Belanger safe

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP) — "I provided the UN communications link in the town was just pouring myself a glass of beer when all hell broke loose."

For Capt. Gerard Belanger of Quebec City, that was the start of the weekend battle for the Congolese port town of Matadi. In losing the battle, the United Nations faces the prospect of a serious setback to its Congo operation.

Belanger, 33, returned here safe and well Monday afternoon to tell, in a relaxed fashion, of a hair-raising adventure in the Matadi battlefields which completed the near-miraculous escape of nine Canadians who

Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko of the Kasavubu government said Monday the UN could not return to its vital Matadi supply base, pending a full investigation.

The 135 Sudanese UN soldiers comprising the garrison in the town laid down their arms after more than 24 hours of battling with rifles, machine-guns and mortars against a 1,000-strong Congolese force.

After surrendering, the Sudanese were herded into railway trucks and shipped unceremoniously back to Leopoldville, 200 miles up the Congo River from Matadi.

But the captain explained he had jumped into a canal and then crept into the bush for the rest of the day and that night.

'Crying towels'

Critical of image of labor

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — A top labor public relations officer told trade unions Monday to "put away their crying towels" and start doing something about labor's public image.

Jack Williams of Ottawa, a former newspaper man who now is public relations director of the 1,100,000-member Canadian Labor Congress said that the labor movement itself is largely to blame for its public image.

He made the comment as labor leaders at a CLC seminar here jumped Charles Lynch, chief of Southern News Services, about press, radio and television coverage of labor.

Jim Perna of the Glassworkers Union argued that newspapers suppressed news that cast big business or advertisers in a bad light. Other union spokesmen said labor didn't get a fair break in news coverage at labor-management disputes.

DEFENDS WRITERS

Not so, replied Mr. Lynch, who defended newspaper men as objective reporters. As a militant segment of society, he said, labor always will be unpopular with some other sections of society.

"We are not engaged in a popularity contest," said CLC Secretary-Treasurer Donald MacDonald a member of the panel with Mr. Lynch. Many times we have to take positions which will be extremely unpopular.

Even so, he added, labor should give "serious thought" to expanding its public relations effort.

The wrangle over labor's public image developed during a discussion of the public responsibility of the labor movement, theme of the conference which has brought together some 100 union officers representing 500,000 Ontario trade unionists.

Can't even steal bases in Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro has revolutionized baseball.

After checking a sugar mill Monday, the Cuban premier took over the pitching chores during a pickup game.

An opposing player stole second base. Castro sent him back to first.

"In this revolutionary government stealing is not permitted, even in baseball," he thundered.

Check famine in the Congo

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United Nations reported Monday that the worst of the famine in the southern part of the Congo's Kasai province is over but it has left in its wake a large number of Congolese suffering from malnutrition.

The statement was contained in a report covering UN civilian operations for January.

It said that as a result of the combined efforts of the UN Congo staff, local authorities and the generous response by many countries to appeals for help, the death rate was cut by 75 per cent in just a few weeks.

Wants bill of rights for Commonwealth

By DAVID OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker came out strongly today in favor of a Commonwealth declaration of rights.

Arriving at London Airport from Ireland to attend the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers starting Wednesday, Diefenbaker told reporters: "Throughout my life I have been an advocate of the basic principles of freedom and equality."

He referred to the bill of rights passed by the Canadian parliament last fall. He had first introduced the bill in 1941, and it had taken 19 years to get it passed.

"It took us many years to bring this about. I believe the Commonwealth should have before it a similar objective," Diefenbaker said.

"We ultimately must have as our objective a declaration of principles for which all Commonwealth countries must stand."

Diefenbaker arrived from Dublin accompanied by his wife and a number of external affairs department officials. He immediately scheduled a lunch at Admiralty House with Prime Minister Macmillan, who has already had meetings with most of the other visiting premiers.

Macmillan is believed to be seeking to persuade ministers that the controversial topic of apartheid should be considered separately from the question of South African readmission to the Commonwealth.

The British prime minister's motive is to try to keep discussions on South Africa as restrained as possible.

Diefenbaker said there would be "Wants Bill" Page 5

Apartheid deplored by Nehru

LONDON — (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru of India arrived by plane from New Delhi today to attend the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference.

Nehru joined the leaders of four other Commonwealth countries in a condemnation of South Africa's policy of apartheid but declined to say whether India would vote against South Africa's continued membership in the Commonwealth.

Questioned by reporters about the definition of apartheid given by South African Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd as a policy of "good neighborliness" between races, Nehru smiled and replied: "I would not like to be Dr. Verwoerd's neighbor."

Nehru's condemnation of apartheid followed similar declarations by the leaders of Malaya, Pakistan, Ceylon and Nigeria when they arrived here during the weekend.

Quilts displayed at meeting of Milan group

MILAN — On March 1, the Carry-On Society met at the home of Mrs. N. M. McLeod, with a good attendance of members and visitors.

Several receipts for donations were received and letters of appreciation for cards sent to former members were read. A donation from Mrs. Malcolm Ross was gratefully received.

Three finished quilts were displayed, also another top ready to be quilted. Mrs. D. L. McLeod hoped to put the quilt on the frames shortly.

Lunch was served by Mrs. McLeod's daughter and daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. W. Murray and Mrs. Duncan McLeod. Congratulations were extended to Mrs. McLeod who was celebrating her birthday.

GENERAL NOTES

Mrs. Normina Harvey of Saskatoon, Sask., is spending two weeks with her niece, Mrs. David Nicholson, Mr. Nicholson

Mrs. Grant Allen, East Farnham, feted at shower

EAST FARNHAM — Mrs. Andre Cote was hostess at a stork shower at her home on Feb. 25, for Mrs. Grant Allen. About 30 guests attended, among them being Mrs. E. Allen and Mrs. A. Graham, grandmothers of the Allens.

The guests of honor received many pretty and useful gifts, for which she expressed her appreciation, as well as thanks to her hostess for the party.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Cote, assisted by several friends.

BROME

Mrs. John Osteruahl entertained the Ladies' Guild of St. John's Church on March 1 at the noon hour. After dinner, Mrs. Lyla Owens opened the meeting and plans were made to hold a 500 party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Osborne, the date yet to be decided. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. George Whittaker's on March 29.

Mrs. George Johnston has returned home, after spending two weeks with her daughter, Miss Alice Johnston in Cowansville. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Osborne have received word from their son, Constable Dale Osborne, of the R.C.M.P. at Winnipeg, that he is flying to Mexico for a month's holiday.

The 500 Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Harding on March 2. Cards were played at five tables. Mrs. William Hamilton won the first prize and Mrs. J. C. Soles the consolation.

Mr. Leslie MacLeod of Drummondville, was a weekend guest at his home here.

Miss Gail Nicholson and Mr. Donald Ross spent two days in Ottawa with the other pupils of Grade XI, of Pope Memorial High School, Bury.

Mrs. N. M. McLeod, Mr. Duncan McLeod, Mrs. Normina Harvey and Mrs. David Nicholson were in Sherbrooke on March 3.

Would tie driving licences to passing grades in school

By BEVERLEY PATTON
(Grade XI, Sherbrooke High)

The year 1960 has passed into history and 1961 is here to take its place. With the new year comes another astonishingly brilliant idea of mine. Hold onto your hats, for I am about to solve three or four pressing problems at one fell swoop.

Problem number one — teenage drivers — Many teenagers are good drivers, but I am thinking about the bad ones whom show off, cause accidents, and frequently kill themselves and their friends.

Problem number two — school drop outs — Many students, boys for the most part, with absolutely no interest in school, simply wait for the day when they are fourteen so that they can "quit" school, meanwhile failing regularly and making no attempt to learn anything.

Problem number three — school loafers who do not drop out simply because they are not allowed to by their parents, who regard the school as a baby-sitting agency to keep them off the street. They loaf around the school creating a disciplinary problem and giving the school a bad name.

Problem number four — when problems two and three finally "quit" school, they have nothing to do except drive around like problem number one.

As soon as they are seventeen, they may apply for a driver's license

Homer Gardner is honored on 80th birthday

VALE PERKINS — Homer Gardner, a long time resident of this place, was taken completely by surprise when friends and relatives dropped in on him and his 80th birthday, Feb. 28.

Mr. Gardner received many gifts and cards for which he thanked the group.

The evening was spent reminiscing, after which the visiting ladies served lunch, including a beautifully decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Leverett Jewett.

Among those present were Mr. Gardner's son-in-law, daughter and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jersey and Sidney of Mansonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robinson with their son, Jack, of Foster, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Butler.

Mrs. David Hill and children have returned home to Lacey Green, St. Genevieve, after spending a week with Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Watt.

NORTH HATLEY — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilcox have left for Miami, Fla., where they will enjoy a holiday which will include a trip to Nassau.

Mrs. Grant LeBaron has returned from Ottawa, where she was a guest of Mrs. H. Elard and Mrs. H. G. Taylor.

Mrs. Grace Thompson's friends will be sorry to learn she is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mrs. E. Nelson is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital. During her absence from the school cafeteria the work has been carried on by Mrs. A. Buckland and Mrs. W. Sharrman. Mrs. J. Ditchburn has also been out, owing to illness, and Mrs. R. Rintoul worked at the cafeteria.

SOUTH DURHAM — Miss Muriel Watt spent the weekend in Ottawa, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker and family.

THETFORD MINES — Miss Joyce Senicic and Miss Beverly Burke of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Senicic.

and get one. Then they get the only job for which they can qualify — driving a delivery truck all around the place at ninety miles an hour, cutting corners on two wheels, and tail-gating.

Well, that brilliant idea I mentioned at the beginning, is this. I think that the acquisition of a driver's license should be contingent upon a satisfactory school record. If a person has never in his life demonstrated any sense of responsibility, is it realistic to think that he will be a safe law-abiding driver? If he has not the ability to pass grade nine, is it fair to turn him loose on the public with an automobile? No, it certainly is not.

Good driving no longer depends on fast reflexes, but on a developed sense of responsibility and a respect for traffic laws. Anybody can drive a car, I say, and far too many unqualified people are driving right now. However, I suspect that many teenagers who are behaving so foolishly do so only because no one has found the key to making them behave sensibly. In fact, many of the "quitters" have potential ability which they have never made any effort to use. If something as important as a driver's license were at stake, however, I would be willing to bet that there would be a startling upgrading in many boys' school work.

We then, may find that we have an unsuspected supply of good brains blossoming out among us which otherwise would have gone to waste.

W.A. meets at Mansonville

MANSONVILLE — The Women's Association of the United Church met on March 1st at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Tomuschat, with a good attendance of members.

Mrs. Paul Lamoureux took the devotional period and read a selection entitled No Time to Read.

It was decided to have some re-wiring done in the parsonage.

The next meeting will be held at the parsonage, with Mrs. George Lavery the hostess.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Tomuschat served refreshments.

NORTH SUTTON — Mrs. Mary Jones has returned from the Sweetsburg Hospital, improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Prentice spent the weekend of Feb. 25 with their daughter, Mrs. J. Blaney, in Franklin, Vt.

Mrs. E. Jones, who has been under the doctor's care, is improving.

Gary Haynes, who has been ill, has returned to Sutton High School.

EAST HEREFORD — Miss Katie Nason of Way's Mills was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bolton.

Miss Florence Cunningham, a student of Coaticook High School, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cunningham.

Mr. S. Morris spent the weekend at his home in Hatley. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. B. Cunningham, who had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Howe.

Farm Forum Activities

IVES HILL AND DRAPERS CORNER

The Forum held the second meeting this season, with nearly all members present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nichols, on Feb. 27.

The commodities produced most abundantly in this locality are eggs, milk and meat.

It was thought that a two-price plan was not advantageous and might help to create a surplus and it could involve more labor with less profit.

A report was given of the Forum's joint meeting at Saverville, attended by most of the members.

Final plans were made for the St. Patrick's card party to be held at the home of Mr. Eugene Naylor Jr. on March 11.

Several names of shut-ins were mentioned to whom cards will be sent.

SWEETSBURG —

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Cooley and son Wayne, who have lived at Ormstown for about six years, are spending a month in Florida, after which they will return to Sweetsburg to reside.

Mr. William Fryer, of St. Agathe des Monts, was a guest at the Persons home over the weekend.

Parents' Night held by Scouts at Stanslead

STANSTEAD — On Feb. 24 a parents' night was held at Christ Church Parish Hall in Stanslead.

The Boy Scout 1st Troop, held a regular meeting to give the visitors an idea of how the Scouts are instructed, it included demonstrations in knot-tying, lashings, friction fire-lighting, Morse code, artificial respiration, and throwing a life-line.

Both William Middleton and Terence Soutiere provided special entertainment. By the use of a white screen and a spotlight to produce shadows, William performed an amusing but unsuccessful operation on one of the Scouts. Terry gave an interesting talk on the earth, planets and stars, illustrating them with drawings.

After the meeting, refreshments were served to the parents by the Scouts.

SCOUT SUNDAY
Scout Sunday was observed in Centenary United Church Stanslead, on Feb. 25, at the morning service.

WEST BROME — Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Bisailon spent March 1 in Magog.

Mr. Earle Marsh attended the Jersey meeting in Montreal. Mr. Galen Johnson, of East Farnham, and Mr. Randolph Dustin, of Cowansville, accompanied him.

The card club met with Mrs. Casper Scott, on March 1, when cards were played at three tables. Prize winners were Mrs. William Coughtry and Mrs. Maurice Jolley. Mrs. Short furnished the prizes.

BROWNLEIGH PLACE — Friends of Mr. David Gifford are sorry to hear he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he underwent an appendectomy.

Mr. Wale Gifford attended the Macdonald Royal at Ste Anne de Bellevue.

Invites public to attend

Outlines the aims and program of Canadian Studies Conference

A cordial invitation was extended to the Kiwanis Club of Sherbrooke Monday evening to attend the Conference on Canadian Studies, Canada in the Fifties, to be held March 17 and 18 at Bishop's University.

Doctor R. P. Thaler, associate professor of history at Bishop's University was the guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting and urged both members and the general public to attend the two-day conference to be held in the University's Memorial Gymnasium.

"The purpose of this conference which is organized entirely by Bishop's University is to promote an interest in Canadian interests and accomplishments and to stimulate more thought about Canadian achievements among both the people and the students," Dr. Thaler said. "It is hoped by the University that the public will attend and participate in the panel discussions and ask questions. There is no admission price."

The first in a series of panel discussions will be held March 17 at 2 p.m. when a discussion on politics and finance will be held under the chairmanship of Mr. George Ferguson. The two speakers will be the Honourable J. W. Pickersgill, Member of Parliament for Bonaventure, Twillingate and the former Minister of Citizenship and Immigration. Mr. Pickersgill will talk on Political Affairs in the Fifties. The second speaker will be Mr. W. T. G. Hackett, Assistant General Manager of the Bank of Montreal, who will talk on Economic and Financial Developments in the Fifties.

A public meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m., the same day with the Honourable Mr. Justice D. C. Abbott, Chancellor of Bishop's University as Chairman. The speaker will be J. E. Coyne, Governor of the Bank of Canada. "It is not very often that such distinguished speakers gather together at one time and I hope the public will take advantage of the opportunity to ask any questions they might have," said Dr. Thaler.

On the second and last day of the Conference, March 18 there will be a panel discussion at 9:30 a.m. on Canadian culture with Professor J. Gray of Bishop's University as chairman.

There will be three speakers at this panel discussion. Professor D. Pacey, head of the Department of English at U.N.B., who will speak on English Canadian Literature in the Fifties; Ralph Gustafson, a well-known poet and anthologist, on An Anthologist's and Poet's View on Canadian Poetry; and Professor T. A. Greenwood, professor of English Literature at the University of Montreal, who will speak on French-Canadian Writing in the Fifties.

At 2 p.m. on the same day the last of the panel discussions will be held on foreign policy with Professor D. C. Masters, chairman of the Educational Department at Bishop's as Chairman. The three speakers are, Professor J. Eayrs, a member of the Department of Political Science at the University of Montreal who will talk on the Liberal Administration from 1950 to 1957; W. B. Nesbitt, Parliamentary Secretary for the Department of External Affairs.

Head table included Dr. Tom Cadman, the speaker, President Cyril Simmonds, George Beaulieu and Harry Grundy, Q.C.

Lennoxville council

To install two-way radio for the police department

Almost exactly four years, after the idea was proposed the Lennoxville Police department shelved the same year because of lack of funds.

Monday night, council authorized the department to purchase and install a two-way radio system between the town's police vehicle and the town hall.

Ald. Hugh Brown, in his first major step since he took office nearly two months ago, announced the department's request following extensive study of possible communications systems and their respective costs.

The radio, he said, will cost $1,815. Its major benefits include considerable cutting of mileage presently put on the police car; increased efficiency and less waste of time, and would permit patrolling police department officials more time on other jobs.

The general consensus of opinion around the council table: "very favorable."

The two-way radio plan first came into existence under former police and fire committee chairman Cecil Dougherty, recently retired from council activity.

In April, 1957, Mr. Dougherty, then Alderman for the St. Francis and Atto Streets section of the town, proposed a saving of 20 percent in the operations and maintenance of the department by the installation of the radio system; up until now, the patrolling constable has been required to stop at the town hall to check on any irregularities.

With the radio, he said, police and firemen can be notified as soon as they are needed.

It is also expected that the system will bring about 24-hour coverage by telephone answering system.

When the plans were first brought to light four years ago, council studied the matter for some months before passing it. However, the plans had to be shelved the same year because of lack of funds.

Grant Smith, Lennoxville's acting Chief of Police, was officially confirmed as chief by vote of council following a recommendation by the police and fire committee.

Chief Smith, formerly sergeant under ex-chief Eric Maddiss, will now carry the rank of captain.

Mayor Gilbey suggested a review of the budget later on in 1961 to see if council could see a way free to extend the town's water system.

Ald. Archie Mitchell, chairman of the water committee pointed out the need of another government Winter Works program this year. Should such a program come in to effect, he said, the town might be able to take advantage of it for the project.

Late in 1960, council discussed a possible extension of the present system by means of a project leading under the Massawippi river at the southern end of town. However, since the Winter Works program assisted in the cost of labor and not the cost of the materials, the project was shelved.

On Belvidere Street

New housing project plans are submitted

A special meeting of the Lennoxville town council will be called sometime during the next two weeks to study a new housing development on Belvidere Street, Lennoxville, it was announced Monday night at the regular monthly session of council.

The plans, submitted by Lennoxville contractor R. A. Deacon, were presented to council Monday.

Contractor's representatives attending the meeting pointed out that the new subdivision will contain some 40 new housing units, apart from the few houses which are already built in that area.

For the time being the Lennoxville building committee will study the plans before the special meeting is called to approve or submit changes for the projected development.

Mayor Ernest Gilbey pointed out that under the Lennoxville by-laws, the contractor becomes responsible for installing the sewage and water systems before the town considers the street area for homologation.

He also stated that the height of the proposed subdivision would require a special booster pump and check valve for the water system. At one point on the development, the water pressure will only be 30 pounds per square inch, not enough for the proper services and the booster pump would be necessary to bring the pressure up to standard.

The Lennoxville council is in possession of a document of a type seldom seen in this day and age.

Correspondence read out during Monday night's regular council meeting included a letter asking that the town give up its rights to the remaining gravel in the Windsor Street gravel pit, owned by J. S. Hamilton.

Said Mayor Gilbey: "There is still a considerable amount of fill and gravel there and there isn't any reason to give up those rights."

In fact, the town has the rights to the gravel in that pit "forever."

The document states that the town has the right . . . "to take gravel together with all rights, members and appurtenances thereunto belonging . . . forever."

Sherbrooke Court cases

Stole goods worth $1,750 two men get two months in jail

Judge Redmond Hayes imposed a two-month sentence against Raymond Aubert, 27, of Sherbrooke, and Jean-Guy Dion, 23, of St.-Elie d'Orford, Monday morning in Sherbrooke District Court after both pleaded guilty to theft and possession of stolen goods valued at more than $1,750.

"A week's imprisonment is certainly not sufficient," said Judge Hayes. Both accused admitted stealing a number of television sets and chain saws early last month.

Judge Hayes said that Dion and Aubert didn't give him the impression of being disposed to mend their ways. "I hope this sentence will cure their ills," he concluded.

Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel, Q.C., had previously told the Court that too often today's youths were favoured with light sentences, and asked that the Court impose an exemplary one.

Clarence Thompson, 22, of Sherbrooke, pleaded guilty in District Court Monday morning to a charge of theft involving cash and cigarettes valued at more than $85. Judge Redmond Hayes remanded passing of sentence to April 17.

The accused admitted taking the money and the cigarettes from a commercial establishment owned by Joseph Palardy.

A young Asbestos man was released on a suspended sentence Monday morning after he pleaded guilty to theft. The accused didn't have a criminal record.

Victor Bilodeau, 23, admitted in District Court that he took a rifle, a camera and other articles owned by Bertrand Begon.

Judge Redmond Hayes also imposed a suspended sentence on two young men who pleaded guilty in District Court to a charge of theft.

Yvon Belanger, 28, of Sherbrooke, and Armand Huppe, 18, of Coaticook, admitted stealing a motor, four tires, two automobile wheels, and other objects totalling more than $105, owned by Leonce Lamontagne.

Judge Hayes said he was giving them a chance because they expressed a desire to reform.

Fred Anderson, 34, of Richmond, was fined $75 and costs in District Court Monday morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving his car while he was under the influence of alcohol. His driving permit was also suspended for three months.

Robert Morissette, 36, of

At the instigation of Sherbrooke West Ward Alderman Antonio Pinard, a letter will be written to the Department of Transport at Ottawa requesting details of that Department's plans for aid, financial and otherwise, to the airport now under construction here.

Ald. Pinard's original proposal was that a delegation from city council should arrange a meeting with the Minister of Transport or officials of that department to discuss the future of the airport, but after some discussion he agreed that a letter would serve the purpose.

In his address to council, Ald. Pinard said, "We have already invested a considerable sum in the construction of one runway and since work is nearing completion, it is time for firm action to be taken with a view to securing regular air service, both passenger and cargo, in and out of Sherbrooke."

He complimented Mayor Armand Nadeau on the work he has done in interesting "certain companies" in a regular helicopter service, but said that "this is not enough. Council must get to work immediately to contact various airlines and secure a regular service."

In reply Mayor Nadeau said, "It is not an easy matter to interest airlines in providing us with a regular service." He noted that the president of Quebecair had told him that it would not be a paying proposition for that company to take over air service between Sherbrooke, Montreal, Quebec City and Three Rivers.

"The president told me that if they could get federal subsidies they would provide the service, but otherwise they would be operating at a loss," he said.

Quebecair, according to Mayor Nadeau, is the second largest airline in Canada.

Evidently well-prepared for the discussion, he went on to talk about construction costs of the airport and possibilities for federal aid.

Total expenses so far have been about $123,000 and he argued that the amount left from a $135,000 bylaw voted for the purpose, would suffice to complete the 6,000 foot runway and construct a terminal. "It's an excellent investment even if we consider only the attraction to industry."

Aid from the Transport Department will be forthcoming for the erection of buildings at the airport and for maintenance of the entire establishment, he said.

"When the airport is finished, it will be more of an attraction to various airlines." He said that he was not ready to discuss aspects of negotiations which are underway, but assured Ald. Pinard that action is being taken.

As for helicopter service, the mayor said that he considered it a very serious possibility.

In spite of the Mayor's assurances, Ald. Pinard, backed by Ald. Carrier Fortin, pressed for immediate consultations with the federal government on all aspects of the development of the airport, "to find out what they intend to do."

A majority of the aldermen gave the proposal their backing and assistant clerk Robert Belisle was instructed to contact the Department immediately.

Blasting supervisor called in by council

An engineer from explosives manufacturers C.I.L. will be asked to supervise all further blasting in a park now under construction on Bowen Street North following a complaint from a nearby resident that extensive damage has been done to his home by the periodic shocks, city council decided Monday night.

Until the expert arrives to handle operations, no more dynamite will be used.

R. Therrien, 50 Bowen North, told aldermen that the rock which is being blasted extends under his home and that every time "one goes off, plaster falls in several places in my home."

Mayor Armand Nadeau told him that precautions would be taken to prevent any further damage and that a municipal evaluator would be sent to his home to estimate damage which would then be paid for by the city.

A request by Hotel Dieu Hospital for a permit to construct a nursing school on their property was granted by city council in spite of the fact that the zoning bylaw prohibits it.

The bylaw prohibits any buildings more than two stories high, but council quickly agreed that an exception should be made in this case.

Will speak here Friday

JOHN C. PARKIN

John C. Parkin, noted Canadian architect, will be the guest speaker at the Women's Canadian Club luncheon on Friday, March tenth, at 1 p.m. in the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

Mr. Parkin is an Honorary Graduate of the University of Manitoba. He received his Master's Degree in Architecture from Harvard University. Mr. Parkin is a visiting lecturer at the University of Toronto, a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects, and a member of the Royal Canadian Academy.

Mr. Parkin is probably best known in connection with the new Toronto City Hall as he is the co-architect selected by Mr. Viljo Revell of Finland whose controversial design was chosen from among the world's top architects.

Mr. Parkin's service to the public and his profession includes active participation in a number of civic and professional organizations. He is Chairman of the National Industrial Design Council, and a Council Member of the Art Gallery of Toronto. When he was President of the Canadian Arts Council, now the Canadian Conference of the Arts, he was one of the principal advocates of the formation of the Canada Council.

Mr. Parkin has also travelled to India as a member of the Canadian Government delegation to the UNESCO Conference in New Delhi in 1956.

Wins election in Coaticook

COATICOOK — Yvon Lemieux has won the election held here Monday to determine the representative for Ward No. 1 on the town council.

Mr. Lemieux won by 384 votes over his only competitor Albert Leclerc, who received 287 votes. Of 1,300 people who were eligible to vote in this election only 671 voted.

The six polls were open Monday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Declines to pull tender out of hat

A proposal by Alderman Everett Nicol that a contract for the supply of approximately $1,210 worth of "conductors" should be awarded by placing three identical tenders in a hat and "picking a winner" was voted down 6 to 4 by city council Monday night.

A counter-proposal by Alderman Carrier Fortin that the contract should be awarded to Lynn, MacLeod Engineering Supplies Ltd. "because they don't get as many contracts as the others do" was accepted by a 7-3 vote.

Ald. Nicol argued that since the contract could not be divided among the three firms as is often done in cases of identical tenders, "the only fair way to award it is by picking a name out of a hat."

The other companies with identical tenders were Codere Ltd. and Northern Electric Co. Ltd.

St. Patrick's plans are made

RICHMOND — (Special) — The Irish of Richmond and vicinity are preparing for their annual St. Patrick's Day celebrations which should come up on the weekend of Mar. 17. So far, the St. Patrick's Society has not as yet completed its plans and a definite date for the annual parade and banquet is not decided.

The CWL of St. Patrick's Council will hold a concert on the stage of the Myra Theatre Saturday, March 18. This will be the usual musical fare entitled "Mary Molly Malone" with a galaxy of local talent.

The senior society met Sunday evening to discuss their plans for the forthcoming celebrations.

RUNNER-UP WILSON

WINNER BEALL

Bishop's student Wins a Wilson Fellowship

Miss Elma Beall, of Ottawa, a final-year student of the English-Philosophy, honors course at Bishop's University this year, has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, valued at $1,500 per year plus all fees at the university of her choice, it was announced Monday by the Fellowship Foundation.

This is the first time in the 15-year history of the Fellowships, that such an award has been made to a Bishop's University student.

Miss Beall is one of 84 Canadian undergraduates to win the award this year and plans on taking her M.A. in English Literature at the University of Toronto, starting next September.

Barrie Wilson, another Bishop's student taking the English-Philosophy honors course, was placed on the list of honorable mentions for the same award.

This honor entitles him to special consideration for other awards at the graduate level. Mr. Wilson, a resident of Montreal plans to proceed to a Master's degree in Philosophy at Columbia University in New York City. He is one of 61 Canadian students from a total of 10,453 in the United States and Canada nominated for a Fellowship.

The Foundation announced a total of 1,333 students from 381 college and universities across North America as winners of Fellowships, the largest ever elected in its 15-year search for prospective college teachers.

In announcing the 1961-62 winners, Foundation president Sir Hugh Taylor estimated the total value of this year's wards at $3,000,000.

Needed: normal judgment

In spite of poor road conditions during winter months statistics show there are fewer serious traffic accidents from November to March than there are from April to October.

Care and common sense seem to desert some drivers as road conditions improve.

Driving an automobile today requires normal judgment, eyesight and common sense. It does not demand the reflexes and capabilities of an astronaut.

Simply by obeying road signs, direction signals — whether by hand signal or flasher — and following other simple rules of the road one can avoid most accidents.

A wintertime driver knows that there is always the danger of a slip or a slide with possible disastrous results.

A summertime driver, however, does not seem to be aware that by increasing his speed and diminishing his carefulness he is increasing the odds against his own survival.

The accident rate can be cut by application of common sense. It will be increased by relaxation of caution.

How to have two wives

Most Western husbands don't envy their Moslem counterparts in some parts of the world who are allowed to have several wives.

The tact and diplomacy that must be required to keep a number of spouses reasonably happy is beyond most non-Moslem males.

But there have been indications in the past that Moslem gentlemen, too, have domestic troubles, often arising out of the multiple-wife situation.

The Pakistanis, however, have just adopted some eminently sensible laws to mitigate the confusion.

Specifically, one law deals with how to keep Wife No. 1 happy when hubby decides to take Wife No. 2. This sounds like a problem even a Solomon would hesitate to handle, but the Pakistani law sounds as if someone very much like Solomon had a hand in framing it.

A Moslem who wants to have a second wife must first get permission from his first wife.

To us, this may sound like the death knell of polygamy in Pakistan.

Not necessarily so, though. The Pakistan law minister made it clear when he announced the new legislation that the new measure was meant only to curb abuses, and was in no way meant to abolish polygamy.

This can only mean that most Pakistan No. 1 wives would not think of refusing the necessary permission.

It all goes to show that in spite of the modern spirit of world unity, the East and West are still poles apart in some things.

At least, the wives are.

Hot dog's progress

A few years ago President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his wife entertained visiting British Royalty on the lawn at their Hyde Park estate.

The public was surprised and amused to learn that hot dogs were on the menu.

The hot dog, then as now, was considered an American delicacy. But apparently it was little known in Britain and for this reason a novelty for the visiting dignitaries.

Times have changed.

The British are now going for hot dogs in a big way. They even have a National Hot Dog Council to celebrate this fact and to see that they keep on eating them.

Recently the Council held a press conference at which they proclaimed 1961 as National Hot Dog Year. It was confidently predicted that Britons would soon be eating their way through 125,000 tons of hot dogs each year.

No similar statistics on United States consumption are immediately available. But there have been recent indications that the hot dog is still flourishing there.

One manufacturer has announced that he is even going to bring out a fish product variation on the frankfurter in the near future. Another announced plans for a circular frank that will fit in a bagel roll.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

MOXIE NEEDED FOR SLAM BID

I am indebted to Israel Rubin of Brooklyn for today's hand.

Rubin writes: "It should be a fairly easy matter to get to seven hearts with the North and South hands if South can open the bidding. Is there any reasonable way for North and South to get there with one spade and East raises to two spades before South gets a chance to open his mouth?"

The late Ely Culbertson once said that if he were shown all the hands he could always get to the right contract and I have to agree with him. It is evident that North and South have a cinch for seven hearts.

It is also apparent that all they have to do to get there is for one of them to bid it.

The bidding in the box shows one fairly logical way to get there.

South makes his strongest possible bid by cue bidding his opponents' spade suit. Then North decides that his six hearts to the king-jack must be just what the doctor ordered. Hence, he bids five hearts, whereupon South should have no qualms about bidding the grand slam.

As pointed out above, all this is after seeing 52 cards. If I actually held those hands and only reached six I would not lose any sleep worrying about it.

Toll staggering in men and materials

Algeria's 'useless war' is costly

PARIS (Reuters)—What President de Gaulle has called "this useless war" on French rule by independence-seeking Algerian nationalists now is six years and four months old.

Its toll has been staggering—at least 180,000 dead by French estimates, 1,000,000 by insurgent ones, in fighting and terrorist actions; a daily cost of 10,000,000 francs ($2,000,000) to the French taxpayer; the death of the fourth French republic; waves of political unrest, and the tying down of the bulk of France's army in Algeria, weakening its NATO contribution.

No official casualty tolls have been released in France. But officials estimate the war has taken the lives of some 9,000 French soldiers and 1,900 European settlers.

On the sixth anniversary of the beginning of the war French officials estimated 3,000 Algerians had been killed in France. But statistics shed little light on the human suffering.

Summed up, Europeans live in fear of terrorist attacks and of being forced from the land where their families often have lived for a century or more. The 1,000,000 European settlers are outnumbered about 8 to 1.

Many Moslems are caught in the middle—pressed by both the French and support-seeking rebels. Moslems living in metropolitan France have been slain for refusing to bankroll the rebel cause or as victims of rivalry between insurgent groups.

The rebellion has passed through three phases—insurgent terrorist attacks; then warfare with big rebel bands roaming the mountains; and now, following the French army's 1959 offensive, terrorist attacks again.

Warfare in the normal sense virtually has ceased. It is rare for French troops to fight a rebel band numbering more than a dozen or two.

The outbreak of the revolt Nov. 1, 1954, followed a crisis in the main Algerian Nationalist party.

The more extremist elements formed a "revolutionary committee for unity and action" (CRUA). After CRUA's leaders fled to Cairo, the rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) of Ferhat Abbas came into being.

Highlights of the war: Nov. 1, 1954: More than 60 terrorist attacks killed 12 persons in Algeria.

November - December, 1954:

An insurgent army formed in eastern Algeria tried vainly to seize three towns. France rushed in troops.

Aug. 20, 1955: More than 100 Europeans were massacred in eastern Algeria. Insurgent bands increased in the face of French reinforcements.

April, 1956: Abbas fled to Cairo to join the FLN in the Egyptian capital. Reports said secret Franco-FLN contacts failed.

Oct. 22, 1956: French fighter planes over the Mediterranean intercepted an airliner carrying insurgent leader Mohamed ben Bella to a Moslem "peace conference" in Tunisia. The pilot was forced to land at Algiers and ben Bella was captured. The FLN still hold him.

1957: This year saw European extremists in Algeria try to kill Gen. Raoul Salan, a commander-in-chief charged with being "too soft with the Moslems." The bazooka attack killed one of his aides. Tough paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu slapped down terrorist attacks in Algiers and France heard charges that torture was used in combating terrorism.

Feb. 8, 1958: French planes bombed the Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef, killing 75 persons, as reprisal for an ambush. This followed reports that more French - insurgent secret contacts had failed.

May 13, 1958: After mounting European anxiety in Algeria over the possibility of a "sell-out" by the Paris government of premier Pierre Pflimlin, rightist Europeans invaded the Algiers government building, demanding a "government of public safety." Public safety committees sprang up throughout Algeria as the army-aided revolt spread.

June 1, 1958: Gen. de Gaulle returned to power as premier in answer to pleas by the European rebels and others.

Sept. 19, 1958: FLN leaders in Cairo formed the "provisional government of the Algerian republic" with Abbas as "premier."

Oct. 4, 1958: De Gaulle launched his five-year plan to raise Moslem living standards. Moves to give Moslems equal opportunities were intensified.

Oct. 28, 1958: The FLN rejected de Gaulle's "peace of the brave" cease-fire appeal which ruled out political negotiations with the FLN.

Sept. 16, 1959: Following a successful French offensive, de Gaulle announced an Algerian self-determination plan under which there would be a cease-fire and then an Algerian vote to pick one of three alternatives: Algeria's integration with France; its association with France; its secession and partition, the latter apparently to cover heavy French population

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — Debate in the Commons on the government's economic pump priming plans has a willingness to which all parties are deliberately contributing.

Some of the measures, like the National Productivity Council, are long term. Others, like corporation tax changes, are intended to have immediate effect. Yet all are debated against a somber backdrop of three quarters of a million unemployed: one worker in nine without a job.

The government is plagued by indecision, harassed by critics, and, mindful of the Tories' 22 years in the wilderness, is no doubt frightened as it thinks of the political consequences if it fails to rescue the economy. So from each economic measure the Tories try to wring as much political advantage as possible. They present and debate long term proposals in the light of current conditions, seeking to leave an impression that these proposals are part of the government's cure for current unemployment.

The opposition parties do exactly the opposite. They criticize long term plans as doing nothing to cure ills. Thus a great deal of the debate is at cross purposes, and the total result is a fuzziness confusing to those trying to judge the government's efforts to defeat the recession.

A case in point is the government's plan to declare areas of chronic unemployment "surplus manpower areas" in the hope of encouraging new industry to locate in them. This was debated in the Commons on Thursday and Friday, with no indication whatsoever of how many areas or what specific areas will qualify for the aid to industry offered in this measure.

The government's plan has a superficial resemblance to the US system of declaring areas of excessive unemployment to be "distressed areas" and therefore having first priority on government contracts. But Ottawa doesn't offer contracts — only double depreciation for tax purposes for one year on capital expenditures by new industry establishing itself in a surplus manpower area.

Finance Minister Fleming's refusal to admit that such "surplus manpower areas" with chronic unemployment are either "depressed" or "distressed" is an exercise in political semantics that is ludicrous.

Will this program help employment in 1961? The Tories won't say it won't, and the Grits won't say it will. But if you were an industrialist with capital to invest in new plant, would double depreciation for one year be much of an inducement? Industry doesn't want merely surplus labor, but also the right kind of labor — e.g., a cigarette factory doesn't want unemployed loggers. Industry also wants labor, transportation, power and raw materials at low cost, and easy access to markets.

My own feeling is that this program won't be effective. But the government's acceptance of the principle of special aid to distressed areas smaller than provinces is most important, and lends real significance to the battle in the Commons over the criteria to be used in identifying surplus manpower areas. Next time around the government may have something much more valuable to offer industry in these areas — maybe accelerated capital depreciation, maybe a five per cent advantage in bidding on government contracts.

supplies are landed. Without control there, the UN operation is at the mercy of Congolese authorities.

The terms of the cease-fire imposed by the Congolese acknowledge that the UN has the right to return but that there must be consultation on the nationality of troops sent there.

Belanger, an officer in Quebec's Royal 22nd Regiment on loan to 57th Canadian Signal Unit as a detachment commander and once aide-de-camp to former governor — general Vincent Massey, told an interviewer he was on the porch of the villa the signals group occupied in Matadi. It was 4 p.m., during one of several uneasy cease-fires Saturday.

"What came around the corner but about 15 Congolese," he related. "I threw up my hands and told them I wanted to talk to their commander."

MARCHED TOWARD CAMP

The Congolese began marching him toward their camp which was on a hill overlooking the Canadians' two-story villa. Thirty more Congolese joined them.

Suddenly, Sudanese troops across the street opened fire and everyone scattered, leaving Belanger alone. He ran across the road and into a small brush-covered canal.

"I dived right into the water, then ducked along the canal until I almost ran into a Congolese machine — gun emplacement."

"He hid in the bush and decided to spend the night there in the bushes sitting in the water with snakes and what not."

He was pinned down all Sunday because Congolese machine — guns were shooting through the upper branches of a tree above him. Other firing barred all escape and Belanger spent the day beneath the tree and under a blazing sun. Near sunset the noise died down.

28 HOURS IN CANAL

"I'd been there 28 hours without food or water. I even spat the filthy canal water on my face and soaked my feet because of the heat."

After dark, he crossed a field, "crawling flat on my stomach" for about a mile. Then he ripped off his UN insignia.

"I decided the only thing to do was to walk straight to the hotel where I lived. The streets were dark and deserted. Suddenly, two Congolese soldiers stepped out of a doorway and stopped me. 'You're a soldier,' they said. 'No I'm not,' I said. 'I'm just a civilian and I'm just going to my hotel room.' So they let me pass."

In the deserted hotel, he had a cold bath and a bottle of beer. He couldn't telephone Leopoldville because the Congolese had cut the line.

Later a group of Congolese officers and officials came to the hotel and discussed his position. Monday morning he left with them on a commercial plane for Leopoldville.

Among the eight flown back here Sunday night was Sgtm. Clair Bostwick, 19, Hatfield Point, N.B.

Sleeping Beauty is presented by Bedford class

BEDFORD — A recent assembly at the High School was in charge of Grade VI, with Lester Martin, announcer. The meeting opened with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer. Esther Gage read the Scripture reading.

A play, The Sleeping Beauty, was presented. The bright dresses of the good fairies, and the military costumes of the Prince and soldiers gave a realistic atmosphere, while the terrifying appearance of the Bad Fairy, portrayed by June Campbell, in black robes and towering hat added much to the presentation.

The good fairies were Ann Gilman, Marilyn Whitewick, June Rolland, Linda Tambling, Joanne Palmer, Wendy Near and Debra McNab.

Judy Smith as the Sleeping Princess was a dainty and appealing character. Bruce Guthrie, as the Prince, was accompanied by his body guard, Glenn Jackson, Ricky Brown, Brian Cook, Tommy Jones, Robert Clough and David Bockus. The guards were Robert Watkins, Bobby Palmer and Peter Arpin. Garth Kemp as the King and Marilyn Cockerline in their royal costumes were outstanding.

Principal Kirwin welcomed the parents and spoke of the various activities in which the High School pupils had participated recently, which included 24 pupils attending Macdonald Royal; and the splendid showing made by the High School Students in the Montreal debates. Five out of six first were obtained by the contestants, Dale Bishop and Jimmie White, Roger Cockerline and Linda White.

The prime minister said that apart from the question of South Africa, the conference would also consider applications for membership from Cyprus and Sierra Leone. The latter country is to become independent April 27.

The prime minister said he does not think economic topics will loom largely at the conference. Canada hoped and expected that the European Economic Community would give agricultural exporters adequate and competitive access to the Common Market on guaranteed terms.

Reverting to apartheid, he said Canada detests this policy but the question of South Africa membership in the Commonwealth is one for discussion and consideration by all the premiers.

Pretty teacher is sought by regiment

LONDON (AP) — The King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry regiment advertised today in London papers for "a Chinese girl teacher — must be beautiful."

The regiment's adjutant, Capt. Anthony Hare, explained:

"Our regiment is going to Malaya later this year. We want the men to take an interest in the language and the people."

Hare hopes to get 100 volunteers to attend night classes in their off-duty hours.

"I think if we can get a pretty teacher they will be more inclined to put in a few after-duty hours of study," he continued.

A war office spokesman commented: "Such instruction is all right so long as the teacher is properly qualified."

White elephant

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A young white elephant with mahogany eyes and tusks striped like barber poles has been captured in the highlands north of Saigon, says the newspaper Viet Nam Press. White elephants are a rarity and are considered a sign of purity and good luck. The report said the animal has been offered to President Ngo Dinh Diem.

St. Lawrence Corporation Limited

The offer made by Dominion Tar & Chemical Company for the shares of St. Lawrence Corporation Limited on the basis of eleven shares of the former for eight shares of the latter, expires on March 15. We recommend that shareholders of St. Lawrence Corporation accept the offer.

The benefits of size in an international and highly competitive industry cannot be over-emphasized. In addition, the activities of the two companies are sufficiently complementary to allow for substantial cost savings. A descriptive memorandum is available on request.

Shareholders wishing to deposit stock for acceptance may do so at our head office in Montreal or at one of our branches. The share certificates should be accompanied by a signed Letter of Transmittal, a copy of which can be obtained from any of our offices.

At Waterville

Mother-daughter banquet Held for Guides, Brownies

WATERVILLE — Some 60 places she had visited, and her yearly camp hats, which were covered with a collection of various souvenirs. Of particular interest was the camp blanket with many crests, badges and emblems and centered with the new Guide handkerchief.

Guide Sharon Pocock thanked Mrs. Warner for showing the slides and Brownie Meredith Kezar thanked Miss Edmond.

The tables were attractive with Brownie, Guide and World flag place cards, and on the heat table were miniature Guide world flags and Brownie pennants.

On display in the hall was a green rug, called the magic carpet, under the Brownie toast-stool. All the names of those that have gained the Golden Hand since the Waterville pack has been in existence, are on this carpet. Another item showed the Brownies and Guides of the world with miniature flags of each country.

Guide captain, Mrs. Lloyd Spafford, introduced Mrs. W. C. Smith, president of the W. A. who extended a welcome.

Mrs. Spafford also introduced Mrs. A. MacLeod; Mrs. E. Warner, guest speaker who is captain of the Lennoxville Guides; Guide captain, Miss E. Edmond of the 1st Sherbrooke company; Mrs. B. Smith; Guide Lieutenants Mrs. H. Halchak and pack leaders Jeanne Kezar and Heather Spafford.

Mrs. Spafford conveyed the good wishes of the Stansfield division commissioner, who was unable to be present.

Brownie Jane Loiselle said grace and Brownie Karen Williams proposed a toast to the Queen. The toast to the mothers was given by Guide Marilyn Crowley and replied to by Mrs. Earl Gunn. Pack leader, Jeanne Kezar thanked the W.A. for the enjoyable meal.

Mrs. Warner showed colored slides and gave an interesting commentary of a trip that she and Miss Edmond took last summer to Britain and several European countries.

In England they visited many places of interest and had the opportunity of meeting the Queen. They visited many cities on the continent and whenever possible stayed at Guide hostels.

One of these, in Aedelborn, Switzerland, was built with money given by an American woman.

After the slides, Miss Edmond showed a camp rucksack with its many souvenir crests of

TESTS SHOW THE TRIUMPH OF FAITH OVER SOME DRUGS

I hate to admit it but faith healers got a big shot in the arm and we doctors took a licking in a recent pair of encounters.

To the surprise of a few experienced practitioners, who have been viewing with alarm the current tendency to over-medicate hypertensives with powerful drugs, Dr. Raymond Grenfell and his associates have reported studies that demonstrated a sustained lowering of blood pressure following

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain or Discomfort

Finds Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILFRED WATT OF SOUTH DURHAM.

SOUTH DURHAM — The death of Mrs. Wilfred Watt, a life-time resident of this community, occurred at the Sherbrooke Hospital, on Friday, Feb. 10. Although she had been a patient there for only a few days she had been in failing health for several years.

The deceased, the former Alma Walker, was born at Wheatley, Que., on June 30, 1888, daughter of the late Greer Walker and Mary Lynch. In 1908 she was married to Wilfred Watt who predeceased her in March, 1952. She was also predeceased by two of her children, a son, Bernard, who died in infancy, and a daughter, Lyda, at the age of 15, in 1928, as well as by a sister, Stella, and a brother, Warren.

Mrs. Watt is survived by her daughters, Muriel, Dorothy, Mrs. Leslie Lynch, of Richmond, Lorna, Mrs. Floyd Walker, of Ottawa, Shirley and Christine of this place; a son, Howard; eight grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. J. G. Beattie, of Richmond, and Mrs. Ernest Galvin of Florida; and one brother, Malcolm Walker.

Rev. Ernest New conducted the funeral services on Monday, Feb. 13, with prayers at Doyon Freres Funeral Parlor at 2 p.m., thence to the South Durham United Church. Mr. New spoke of the patient long-suffering of the deceased.

Mrs. Annie Mountain presided at the organ. The choir and congregation joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds, and Rock of Ages." The anthem rendered by the choir was "Lead Kindly Light."

The bearers, immediate neighbors of the deceased, were Reuben Moore, Stewart Moore, Winston Lester, Thomas Doyle, David Doyle and Albert Doyle. Interment was in the South Durham United Church Cemetery.

Out of town relatives and friends who attended were from New Hampshire, Ottawa, Alexandria, Ont., Laval West, Melbourne, Upper Melbourne, Windermere, Sherbrooke, Windsor, Richmond, Kirkdale and Ulverton.

MRS. CHARLES S. COPP OF DERBY LINE.

DERBY LINE — Mrs. Charles S. Copp, for several years a highly respected resident of Derby Line, died at the Colbyville private hospital on Feb. 19. The funeral was held on the following Tuesday afternoon at Racine and Cass Funeral home. Rev. T. W. Tyson officiated.

The bearers were Percy Wheeler, John Vinton, Paul Bedard and Albert Therrien. Interment will take place in the spring in the family plot in

Ten enrolled in 1st Bishopton Brownie Pack

BISHOPTON — Parents and friends gathered at the School on Feb. 24, for the enrollment of the 1st Bishopton Brownie Pack.

Mrs. Willis McLaughlin, leader of the East Angus Pack conducted the enrollment ceremony.

The leaders of the Bishopton Pack are, Mrs. Jack Couchman and Mrs. Horace Ainsworth, with Mrs. Ted Ainsworth and Mrs. Lloyd Harrison, assistants.

The following ten girls were enrolled: Barbara Joyce, Lynn Bennett, Linda Ainsworth, Patricia Couchman, Carol Harrison, Ann Harrison, Patricia Harrison, Linda Mackey, Carolyn Downes.

"Tweenie" Marilyn MacKenzie also took part in the ceremonies.

Lunch was served to members and guests.

DONALD THOMPSON OF TORONTO, ONT. Formerly of East Angus and Brompton

EAST ANGUS — On Feb. 3, 1961, Donald Thompson, of Toronto, passed away suddenly as the result of a severe heart attack. Mr. Thompson was born in Brompton, Que., in March, 1913, son of James Thompson and his wife, Susan Bedard.

While an infant, he was moved to East Angus with his parents, where he received his education. He married Simone Goyette, of Montreal, in 1940. Soon after he went Overseas and served in the Forestry Corps for five years.

After his services in the armed forces, he was employed for a time by the Sherbrooke Machinery Co., then for Massey-Harris in Toronto. At the time of his death, he was employed by the Simpson-Sears Co. in Toronto.

Mr. Thompson was predeceased by his mother, father, two brothers and his wife. Left to mourn are four brothers and two sisters.

The body was brought by train from Toronto to Paquin Undertaking Parlours in East Angus. The Requiem Mass was celebrated on Feb. 6 in St. Louis de France Church here by Father Gagnon, assisted by Deacon F. Fortin, and by sub-Deacon F. Breton, of Bury. The remains are resting in the vault and will be interred at a later date in St. Louis de France Cemetery.

The bearers were nephews of the deceased, Stanley, Donald, Paul, Gerald and Lawrence Thompson and James Roberge.

MISS F. M. FINDLAY, OF DANVILLE.

DANVILLE — Miss Florence May Findlay died in her 71st year at the Wales Home, Richmond, on Feb. 13.

Miss Findlay was the daughter of the late Richard N. Findlay and his wife, Matilda Lucy Mountain. She was predeceased by her three brothers, Norman, Elwin and Charles.

Miss Findlay had taught for over 40 years, making firm friends across the country, wherever she went. Among the cards of condolence was a message from Lucile Wheeler Vaughan, one of Canada's outstanding women athletes, whom she had known for many years while teaching in the St. Jovite area of Quebec.

Although confined to her bed for the past year her correspondence from all parts of the world was immense. She was ever willing to help some one else or encourage a new project.

The funeral was held at Trinity United Church, where she attended service for many years on Feb. 15, Douglas Blair and Rev. William E. Long officiating. The choir, with friends from the Advent Christian Church assisting, sang two of her favorite hymns, "From Every Stormy Wind That Blows and The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Mr. Long read the Scripture message and Mr. Blair spoke briefly of the friendship he had found and lost; also the poem he had composed for her, which shows how highly she had been esteemed.

The bearers were Elton Webb, Earl Gale, John Lodge, Gerald Anthony, Gordon Laxson and Dale Philbrick.

At her request, in lieu of flowers, friends sent donations to CARE or Save The Children Fund.

The body was placed in the Danville Cemetery vault for interment later in the spring.

Mrs. Elwin H. Findlay of Milford Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Fletcher and Mr. Edward C. MacGonigal, all of Dorion, Mrs. Z. W. Griffith and Mrs. W. Hawley Griffith, of Sherbrooke, were among the out of town mourners.

Popular bride feted at shower in East Angus

EAST ANGUS — A popular bride of the month, Mrs. Roy Maguire, the former Betty Knapp, was honored at a china cup and saucer shower on Feb. 25, at the home of Mrs. Rupert Joyce.

The bride entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Wells Coates, and was escorted to a chair decorated in pink and white.

A social hour was enjoyed by the assembled guests and of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ratcliffe.

direction of Mrs. Carl Groenewold.

The guest of honor was then presented with a prettily decorated basket heaped with a number of lovely cups and saucers, for which she expressed her thanks.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. Groenewold, Mrs. F. Clark and Mrs. W. Coates.

GENERAL NOTES

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waldron, Mrs. Guy Waldron and Miss Eldine Waldron were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bell and family of East Clifton.

Mrs. Emard Locke and sons, Stanley and Michael, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Coates, and was escorted to a chair decorated in pink and white.

Miss Joanne Joncas, Sherbrooke, was a weekend guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ratcliffe.

Nursery school activities taken in stride by sightless child

TORONTO (CP) — "I can see you," said the little blind girl as she traced her sensitive fingers over the nose and mouth of her nursery school teacher.

Five-year-old Bonnie Armstrong's smile reflected the success of a project sponsored by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind aimed at fitting sightless youngsters into the normal activities of the nursery school.

For although Bonnie cannot really see her teacher, Helen Nicholl, she is happy in this once-strange environment and her experience may lead the way to admission of other blind children to such schools.

"Normal nursery school for these children enlarges their world and lets them learn a different physical setup from their own homes," says Doris Weaver of the CNIB. "They also learn to take direction from someone other than their parents."

When Bonnie is old enough to enter the Ontario School for the Blind at Brantford, she will be better prepared for meeting the difficulties of leaving home.

LEARNED QUICKLY

Since last fall when she arrived at the private school in north-central Toronto, Bonnie has learned to play in the yard on her own, climb the slide, use the swings and ride the teeter-totter, paste, finger-paint, put educational toys together, make strings of beads and sing and laugh with the other children.

"A blind child is an asset to the school because she teaches other children consideration," says Miss Nicholl.

At first her playmates were inclined to make too much fuss over her but now they accept her as they would a sighted youngster although one little boy confided: "I love Bonnie best of all."

"I try not to give her any more consideration than the other children," the teacher adds. "I clear obstacles from her path and tell her when a table or some other item is in her way. But she knows the pattern of the playground now and

CHURCH OF THE ADVENT W. A.

At the regular meeting of the Church of Advent Woman's Association, Mrs. T. J. Matthews of Lennoxville, W. A. Diocesan Educational Secretary, spoke on the 1961 study book, Towards the Centre. Following her informative address, Mrs. Matthews conducted a discussion period during which the members and their guests gleaned valuable information about the work of the organization. Mrs. Matthews was introduced by the president, Mrs. Howard Price and thanked by the educational secretary, Miss Doris Price.

A short business meeting followed after which the hostess, Mrs. Harry Tibbitt, served refreshments.

North Hatley club holds gala event

NORTH HATLEY — A gala affair took place on Saturday night, March 4, at the North Hatley Curling Club, when president Roger LeBaron and vice president Bruce Bishop entertained active and social members at a delightful cocktail party and oyster supper.

To insure the ladies an evening free from kitchen duties, the slips of the club took over the plans for the supper and acted as waiters for their guests.

A feminine touch was noted at the supper with the presentation of two cakes, made in the shape of curling stones by a Miss Lee MacKay, and presented to the hosts in honor of the occasion.

Following the supper Bruce Bishop presented the club with a set of curling stones in memory of his father, the late Guy Bishop. In thanking him for his generous gift, the president presented Mr. Bishop with a plaque suitably engraved for the occasion.

The guests were then entertained by an exhibition of curling with four home rinks in competition.

Kay Sherwood on better homemaking

For a country air in a city flat

Any pitch that promises to show you how to have a beautiful room at practically no cost is a sure-fire lure for snaring your attention.

I can be hooked by model room settings on this theme even though I know in my heart that to duplicate this charming room or that homey kitchen would take the support of a generous banker, a top-notch stylist and ancestors with impeccable taste in choosing furnishings.

Have you noticed how often the choicest piece in a setting is a fascinating antique that just happened to come to light in an attic or was picked up for a song in a quaint backwoods store?

Every now and then I meet a homemaker who is shaping a bona fide setting with skill and grace against familiar handicaps of little money and time. She restores my faith that such miracles are possible.

A case in point is the city apartment of a young business woman-homemaker. Her tastes lean to the cheerful country cottage atmosphere and simple "antique" furniture of early New England colonial styling.

An old apartment with a dismal outlook in the heart of the city is scarcely the right background for tastes like these. But this is the challenge.

Slowly she is investing it with the charm of a colonial cottage on the village green. The dining room—a small windowless room off the living room—gives an idea of how she's doing it at a modest price.

To lighten up the dining room, a garden scene wallpaper is used which simulates cottage

Takes up writing to beat housewife blues

By Elizabeth Motherwell Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Dismayed by diapers and dishes, housewife Mary Lee Axelson beat domestic blues by writing books.

The inspirations were born over a dishpan in her home at Markham, near Toronto. Helped by her three young sons as agent, she has published 14 children's books.

Printed in five languages, they have a circulation of more than 100,000 in Canada alone. Two are recommended reading in Quebec schools.

Mrs. Axelson, who visited Ottawa recently with her husband, says housewives need interests that divorce their minds from housework or babies for a few hours a day.

"I was bogged down by diapers," remarked the petite 35-year-old mother who wrote her first book while her sons were still on formula feedings.

In the midst of a diaper crisis she announced to her husband Eric that a woman can do anything a man can do — except move a piano.

"Go ahead and try," was the challenge from the Swedish-born editor of Canadian Marine and Shipping News.

He advised his wife to take up writing on a familiar subject.

"He told me I had a captive audience with children, so we started there. He was as surprised as I was with the results."

"Now he plays the game of money with the publisher, and I sit back waiting for the cheques."

Mrs. Axelson didn't cast aside domestic duty for a literary fling.

Eric is equally proud of his pretty wife's ability as house painter, tailor, cook and organizer. Money from her writings goes into home improvements.

The stories for books "come when I'm hanging over the dishpan," Mrs. Axelson says. The stories, mostly about animals, are based on fact. The research required is fitted around domestic chores.

Her children made the difference between success and failure in child — appeal for her first book, Chubby Beaver's Secret Door.

The author intended to explain adoptions, there being several in her neighborhood, by introducing an orphan beaver into a beaver family circle.

"When are the real parents coming to get the beaver?" was a mail from her small — fry critics after a premiere bedtime reading. Tears were dried only when parents were hastily resurrected.

"Children have such literal stair, grass or rush mats are a good solution for floor coverings; they have texture, design and color and are inexpensive.

With no time to go antique hunting, this young woman managed to furnish her dining room with authentic Early American reproductions.

A harvest table, four Windsor chairs and a Windsor settee were bought unfinished and un-assembled, then put together. They were stained and waxed to give a soft mellow finish.

She reports that, although reasonably priced, they were not difficult to assemble according to the explicit directions which come with each piece.

No wall decorations or pictures were needed because of the mural. Tableware accessories of wood, wicker and pottery, and a hurricane lantern add to the informal country spirit.

Wallpaper will help carry the theme through the rest of the apartment; simulated wood in the living room, patchwork quilt in the bedroom, crisp country check in the bathroom and a documentary pattern with matching curtains in the kitchen.

Labor is a variable cost. In this case, our heroine and her friends assembled and finished the furniture. Hanging the paper had to be turned over to a professional because the walls were in bad repair and needed preliminary preparation.

minds; they didn't like the idea of adoption at all," says Mrs. Axelson who considers this episode her most helpful lesson in writing for children.

The literal approach applies in acceptance of an author-mother by her sons' now aged 8 and 10.

"At first they thought I printed the books. It was a big disappointment to learn that I didn't."

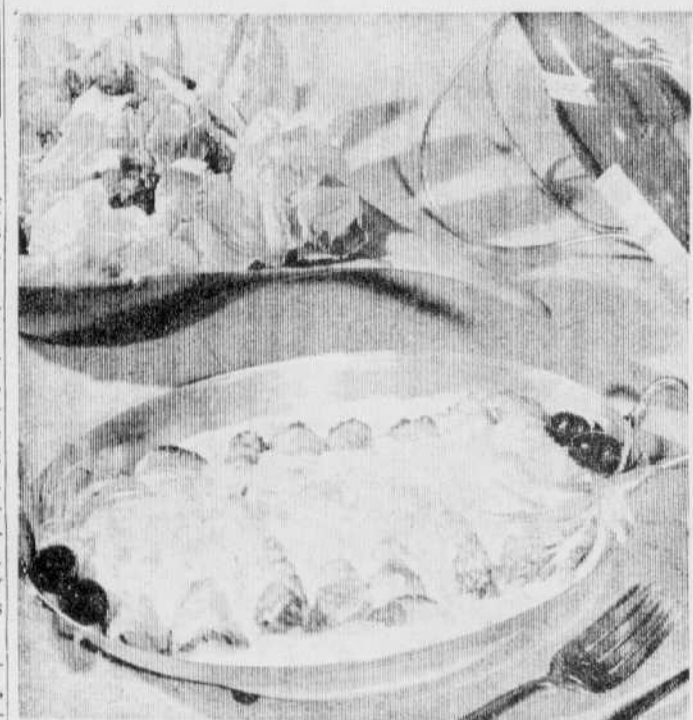

Floyd Baillargeon, a Toronto commercial artist, did the illustrations for the first book and cartoonist Ben Wilson of Toronto did the art work for the second, Sentry Skunk Poils the Hunters.

A woman of broad interests, Mrs. Axelson took a flyer at public office in 1959 and missed becoming a school trustee for Markham Township by two votes.

Behind her multiple accomplishments is a simple philosophy: "I want to feel I have done the most with the time I have here to live."

The Toronto-born author is the only writer in an artistic family. Her mother is a pianist. Her sister, the former Dianne Forhan, now Mrs. Malcolm Black, was with Sadler's Wells Ballet, now the Royal Ballet, from 1947 to 1954 and now is choreographer with the Stratford Shakespearean Festival.

Entertain with an Italian menu

A wonderful dish for entertaining, especially during Lent, is Tuna Cannelloni. Rolled crepes filled with a flavorful combination of mushrooms, spinach, tuna and ricotta cheese are served with a hot Parmesan cheese sauce topping. Your family and guests will be delighted with the surprise.

When we want a special dish, full of originality and good flavor, it's no wonder we turn to our Italian friends for good eating is their pleasure. Choose superbly flavored Tuna Cannelloni, a main dish gourmet treat, for your next company dinner.

Roll crepes are filled with a delightful combination of canned mushrooms, spinach and tuna, and ricotta cheese. A Parmesan cheese topping, bubbly and brown, is the final elegant touch.

TUNA CANNELLONI

1 can (2 oz.) mushrooms stems and pieces, 1 medium size onion, 2 tablespoons butter, or margarine, 1 can (8 oz.) spinach, 1 can (6 1/2 to 7 oz.) tuna, 1/2 cup ricotta, or creamed cottage cheese Crepes, 2 cups rich thin cream sauce, 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Chop drained mushrooms and onion fine; cook in butter until onion is tender. Add well drained chopped spinach, flaked tuna with the oil and ricotta cheese; mix gently and simmer 5 minutes. Keep warm. Put a heaping tablespoonful of the tuna mixture toward one side of each crepe and form into a roll. Place folded side down in a shallow baking dish. Pour warm cream sauce over crepes. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Put under broiler until sauce is bubbly and cheese is browned, watching carefully. Serve immediately. Four to six servings, 2 to 3 filled crepes each.

CREPES: Beat 2 eggs. Add 1/2 cup sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 tablespoons salad oil and 1 cup milk; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Let batter rest an hour before baking. Bake crepes, one at a time, by pouring about a tablespoon batter on a hot greased griddle or skillet, tilting the pan to make a very thin cake about 5-inches in diameter. When browned, turn and brown on other side. Keep warm.

Fund campaign at Thetford is decided success

THETFORD MINES — Leslie Sanderson reported at the Kiwanis meeting on Feb. 27 on the Candle Fund Raising Campaign, which took place on Feb. 24 and 25th.

In all, some 5,300 candles were purchased by the people of Thetford, Black Lake, Robertson, Disraeli, Coleraine and Vimy Ridge. The Kiwanis Club is gratified with the results.

The winners of prizes presented to those who were fortunate in purchasing a candle which burned with a red glow, denoting a winner, were: Miss Theres Belleau, $100; Claude Tanguay and Serge Camire, each $50; Messrs. Romeo Noel, Conrad Quirion, Georges Delbois, Jean Rock Gagne and Raymond Melancon, each $25.

President Lorenzo St. Pierre expressed thanks to Kiwanian Roland Gagnon, chairman of the Fund Raising Committee and the members for a job well done.

Guest speaker was Miss Germaine Bundoock, formerly of Quebec and now residing in Ottawa, where she is employed in the Federal Immigration Department. Miss Bundoock gave an interesting talk covering various phases pertaining to immigrants arriving in Canada. The speaker was introduced by Gaetan Therberge and thanked by Ned Young.

Former Border resident injured in car accident

STANSTEAD — Relatives have received word of a motor accident which occurred near Almiria, Ont., on Feb. 25, involving a former resident, Miss Dorothy Vivian, and another girl in collision with a vehicle operated by a 20 year old youth.

Miss Vivian, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vivian, now of Kitchen-er, Ont., was driving her father's car.

Just what happened is unknown at the present. A passing Ontario Police constable found the occupants lying in a field and they were taken to a near-by hospital. The condition of the boy is critical. Miss Vivian and her friend sustained severe body bruises, Miss Vivian had five fractured ribs and the other girl a gash in one leg.

Both cars were completely demolished.

Warsaw shedding its drabness

WARSAW (Reuters) — Warsaw has shed much of its drabness in recent years, with more goods to buy in the stores, better displays in the windows and neon lighting brightening the city.

But one blight remains—the street beggars.

Crippled, dressed in rags, and holding out tin cups pathetically, they rely on the people of Warsaw to provide their living.

One bent and stubbly-chinned old man, known simply as Jozef, who makes his pitch outside a delicatessen in the Aleje

Jerzolimskie, explained the reason.

"I like the life," he said. "I do it because I am an individualist. I want to have my own money."

Things have been looking up for Warsaw's beggars since the end of 1959, when five and 10-zloty coins were introduced to replace paper money.

For some reason, says Jozef, "people are much more willing to part with coins than with bills."

SOUTH BOLTON — Mrs. Walter Smithers, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Smithers, and daughter Rena, and Mr. Russell Bevard, from Laprairie, were at Mr. Albert Cameron's en route to visit relatives near Mansonville.

Mrs. Nolan and two children, from Lafleche, who spent several days with Mrs. Nolan's parents, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Bloomfield were in Richmond and brought Mr. Harold Wallace home with them for an indefinite stay.

Mr. Alfred Brett, a resident of this place for a number of years, passed away on Feb. 23. He is survived by twin children, Dorothy and Francis. His wife predeceased him several years ago.

Church group at North Hatley holds supper

NORTH HATLEY — The Women's Auxiliary of the United Church held an Irish supper at the Community Club on Feb. 25.

Plans for the supper had been made by a committee, Mrs. E. and Mrs. W. Caulfield.

Mrs. Ronald Reed, assisted by Mrs. M. Martin, has prepared the dining hall in an attractive St. Patrick's theme, using the traditional shamrock, green hats and pussy-willows.

Work in the kitchen was in charge of Mrs. E. Phillipson, Mrs. R. Olson, Mrs. K. Price, Mrs. F. Tanner, Mrs. L. Robinson, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Caulfield.

Mrs. R. Sterling was cashier. Members of the senior boys Sunday School class, supervised by R. Olson and F. Tanner, waited on tables, and the pastor, Rev. A. G. MacLeod, congratulated them on their care and efficiency.

Mrs. E. Hatch, president of the W.A., expressed the appreciation of the members to all whose support and presence made the supper a gratifying success.

The Women's Auxiliary of Legion Branch 242, of North Hatley and Waterville, have made arrangements for a Shamrock tea, which will be held at the Community Club in North Hatley.

LAKE MEGANTIC — Miss May Hestall, helping teacher visited the Intermediate School for four days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood spent several days in Sherbrooke, guests of relatives.

Mrs. Walter Latty has returned home, after spending two weeks in Kingston, Ont., and Dorval, where she visited relatives and friends.

The Hat Box Inc. — shop for hats and accessories in pleasant surroundings

"To provide budget-conscious women with a better range of hats as well as styles to suit everybody is the policy of the Hat Box Inc., Sherbrooke's newest and most modern hat and accessories shop which opens March 8 in the Record block on Wellington Street North.

The Hat Box will provide a very wide color range of hats as well as styles to suit everybody. Gloves to match and purses will also be sold.

Cookshire At Home To Windsor In Important Playoff Tilt

Canadians Work On New Plays On Day Off In World Hockey Tourney, Spot Flaws In Russian Defence

LAUSANNE (CP) — As the world hockey tournament approaches the halfway mark, interest has been focussed mainly on the doings of the Canadians and Russians. For the last five days these two hockey giants and the Czechs have been tied for the lead.

But there will be some changes in the standings today when Russia meets Czechoslovakia—the first encounter between two Iron Curtain countries in the championship group. Canada, Russia and Czechoslovakia all have won their first three games with little trouble. Canada is heavily favored to defeat East Germany in another group one match tonight.

A vast previously untapped audience is sitting in on the fireworks. Millions of Europeans are watching 400 players from the 20 countries in the tournament perform on television for the first time. Each night the games are screened on a continent-wide TV network.

ALL IN ACTION TODAY

All teams in the eight-country championship group see action today (Times EST):

Geneva—Sweden vs. Finland noon; Russia vs. Czechoslovakia 2:45 p.m.

Lausanne—United States vs. West Germany 11 a.m.; Canada vs. East Germany 2:45 p.m.

Monday, Trail Smoke Eaters, whose final game with the Russians next Sunday probably will decide the championship, went through a brisk two-hour workout. They concentrated on plays designed to fool the Russians. Team manager Hugo de Ba-

Stockholm Picked As Site Of Next Hockey Tourney

GENEVA (AP) — The International Ice Hockey Federation Monday picked Stockholm as the site for the 1963 world championships.

The federation previously had named Colorado Springs, Col., as the venue for the 1962 championships.

The decision for Stockholm came at a congress meeting here.

Amherst Wins Second Senior Hockey Title

Amherst Ramblers clinched their second straight Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League championship Monday night to gain a berth with Glace Bay Miners in the provincial playoffs opening in Glace Bay Friday.

Russ Malone scored the winning goal to give Ramblers a 4-2 win and their fourth straight victory over Windsor Maple Leafs at Windsor. Frank Dorrington fired two goals for the winners, with Moe Lamirande potting a single. Jim Beckman and Dale Seymour scored the Leaf goals.

The first two games in the best-of-five series with Miners, who took their series in four straight, will be held in Glace Bay, shifting to Amherst for the final games.

Saint John Oilers with three straight wins after losing the opener in a best-of-seven finals against Fredericton Capitals, meet tonight in what may be the deciding in the New Brunswick Hockey League. The winner meets Charlottetown Penguins for the N.B. - P.E.I. title and chance at the Maritime title leading to Allan Cup play.

Defending champion Bathurst Papermakers clash with Campbellton Tigers tonight in the fifth game of their best-of-seven semi-final in New Brunswick's North Shore League. Tigers lead the series 3-1. The winner meets St. Thomas University of Chatham for the league title.

Maple Leafs Promised Help From Athletics

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League have been promised help this season from Frank Lane, general manager of Kansas City Athletics in the American League, the Leafs said Monday night.

The promise came one week after the International League pennant winners terminated their working agreement with Cleveland Indians of the American League.

Campbell of Charlottetown purposely blanked the 11th end of its game against Manitoba to retain last rock coming home, but Campbell missed a takeout and then another in the extra end to lose 11-9.

Saskatchewan's victory over New Brunswick was an 11-4 walkaway going into the final end, when Keys allowed five opposition rocks to stay untouched in the house.

Joey Durelle KO's Johnson

MONTREAL (CP) — Welterweight Joey Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne N.B. knocked down Billy Johnson of Philadelphia for a two-count Monday night to gain a split decision in their main event here.

Both fighters battled on even terms through nine rounds but Durelle came up with the big punch in the last stages of the final round to take the lead on official scoring cards.

Raoul Sarrazin of Montreal beat Rejean Robert of Trois Rivieres by technical knockout in the final round of a six-round and Bob Bergeron, Montreal, took a decision over Clement Sarrazin.

Claude Labonte of Montreal knocked out Dave Downey of Halifax at the 1:29 mark of the second round of a scheduled six-round.

SONNY RAY WINS

CHICAGO (AP)—Sonny Ray a 5 to 1 favorite, was defeated Monday night by Chuck Garrett, in a 10-round feature bout here. It was a unanimous decision by the judges.

Garrett weighed 184 pounds and Ray, 179.

Ralph Dupas Wants Crack At Kid Paret

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Classy welterweight contender Ralph Dupas today eyed a non-title bout with champion Benny (Kid) Paret after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over middleweight Joey Giardello.

The fast-moving New Orleans fighter swiftly moved out of reach of Giardello's famed left hook and threw quick left-right-left combinations in rapid succession to bewilder the Philadelphia Monday night.

Dupas, the third-ranked welterweight, weighed in at 149, spotting Giardello, who's ranked fifth among middleweights, 11 pounds.

with their second straight game over Richmond in this final series.

The third game is slated for the Civic Center in Asbestos Saturday night and if Richmond wins, the return game will probably be played next Sunday.

Series Deadlocked At Game Each In Three-Out-Of-Five Semi-Finals, Winners Clash With Jets For Title

Cookshire and Windsor clash tonight in the crucial game of their three-out-of-five semi-final series of the St. Francis Intermediate Hockey League at the Arena with game time 8:00. The series is deadlocked at a game each.

In the first tilt played Thursday, Mar. 2, the Commercial posted a 6-2 verdict over the Paper Makers but in the second tilt played in Richmond Sunday afternoon Coach Maurice Bachand's squad came through with a 4-2 win over Coulombe's aggregation to even things and put the series back on an even keel.

A close battle is expected tonight and Cookshire is given a slight edge over the Paper Makers. However after Sunday's tilt anything can, and may, happen. The Commercial have an edge in the number of goals registered potting six in the first game and two Sunday. The best the Paper Makers could do was to get two in the first and four Sunday giving the Commercial a two-goal edge in the battle.

Since the schedule ended the night for a victory to put them Commercial brushed aside the Magog Aces while the Paper Makers downed Asbestos Monday night in Richmond, where they ers in four straight to move into the semi-finals. The win home games.

Andy Bathgate Picks Up Nine Points To Climb To Fourth Place In NHL Scoring Race, Hall Leading Goalies

MONTREAL (CP) — Andy Bathgate picked up a whopping nine points in four games last week and climbed to fourth place from sixth in the National Hockey League scoring race, the top three positions—held by Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal Canadiens, Frank Mahovlich of Toronto Maple Leafs and Jean Beliveau of Montreal—remained unchanged.

Bathgate, turning in his best performance of this season for New York Rangers, scored three goals and assisted on six others. The showing gave him a total of 71 points on 26 goals and 45 assists—by far the best record on the club.

He is still well off the pace set by the leaders, however. Geoffrion scored three goals in three games during the week to give him a season's total of 43. He also has 42 assists for 85 points, six better than Mahovlich.

The Toronto star got two goals and two assists in three games for a total of 47 goals and 32 assists. His 47-goal out-put still is tops in the league. Beliveau, one point behind Mahovlich with a total of 78, failed to score a goal last week but got three assists. He now has 28 goals and 50 assists. Red Kelly of Toronto re-

Gordie Howe Is Greatest All-Around Player In Hockey's History, Says Frank Selke Of Montreal Canadiens

MONTREAL (CP) — Frank the Forum here Saturday night Selke, managing director of in which the 32-year-old Detroit Montreal Canadiens, said Monday that Gordie Howe is the greatest all-round player in hockey's history.

"He's a composite of some mighty fine stars, including Maurice Richard, Jean Beliveau, Milt Schmidt and many others," Mr. Selke said in an interview.

"I've been watching the game as a fan and official since the late 1900's. I've never seen anyone combine so many faculties. He's simply the greatest."

Selke got to talking about Howe while discussing a National Hockey League game at Selke said Howe has amazing ability to pace himself.

"His big assets are his almost super-human strength, powerful wrists, passing and playmaking, shooting, stickhandling. There doesn't seem to be a thing Gordie can't do, except sit on the Bench."

Selke said he wasn't taking anything away "from the Rocket (Maurice Richard) or any other player when I say this."

"Maurice says he's never played against such a remarkable opponent. Right now I'd say the Rocket is Howe's greatest booster."

Wolfram Is Out Of $100,000 San Juan Run

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Wolfram, the probable favorite for the $100,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap, was declared out of the turf race Monday.

Trainer Burley Parke advised Santa Anita officials that Harbor View Farm's French-bred horse is limping and cannot make the race Saturday. Cause of the ailment was not disclosed.

Wolfram, purchased by Louis Wolfson a few weeks ago, has since won three stakes over turf including the $75,000 Hialeah turf club.

Beavers Roll To 7-2 Win Over St. Francis In Junior Final

R. Roy Leads Way With Two Goals To Take Lead In Two-Out-Of-Three Playoffs, Luc Gregoire Gets Two

Pat Murphy's Beavers rolled to a 7-2 win over St. Francis last night in the opening tilt of the two-out-of-three finals of the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League at the Arena. The second game of the playoffs will be played next Sunday or Monday.

Jacques Rousseau's crew just couldn't match the fast-paced Beavers and at no time were they in the picture as the Murphy clan outplayed them in all departments to post the one-sided score. The Saints lacked the fight and desire they had when they eliminated the Maroons in a short two-game total-point affair.

The Beavers ran in three goals in the first frame and added one more in the second before Luc Gregoire got the Saints' first tally. The winners potted one more before the frame ended to give them a comfortable 5-1 lead.

On the final session the Saints came to life for a few minutes and Gregoire scored the Saints' second tally but after that the Beavers ran in two more to complete the scoring for the evening. The Saints at this point blew a wonderful opportunity when they had the extra manpower on two different occasions but couldn't get a scoring play organized. Roger Roy notched two for the Beavers to lead the attack while Gilles Fautoux, Real Denault, Caron, Hamel and Lavalier got the others. For the Saints it was Luc Gregoire who accounted for both goals.

Both teams had juveniles up for the game and the youngsters gave a good account of themselves. Hamel and Lavalier potted a goal each for the Beavers while the kids with Coach Rousseau turned in a fine two-way performance, in fact better than some of the regulars.

Frank Robinson Gets Extension On Charge

CINCINNATI (AP) — Judge Frank M. Gusweiler Monday continued until March 20 the arraignment of Frank Robinson, Cincinnati Reds outfielder, on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Robinson, the 1960 National League slugging champion, was indicted last week.

His lawyer explained Monday the ball player now is in spring training with the Reds at Tampa, Fla., but assured the judge Robinson would be here March 20.

Robinson was arrested Feb. 9 and accused of drawing a .25-calibre pistol in an argument in a Cincinnati restaurant. He claimed he drew the gun only after he saw a cook in the restaurant with a knife. The cook claimed he got the knife after Robinson drew the gun.

Mrs. L. Keeler's Rink Wins Webster Trophy

Mrs. L. Keeler skipped her rink to victory in the Howard Trophy competition while Mrs. D. Smith's foursome won the consolation section of the event. Mrs. L. Keeler posted a 12-2 win over Mrs. A. Kerridge to win the event and in the consolation section Mrs. D. Smith defeated Mrs. R. Badger 10-8.

The local club was represented at an invitation day at the Windsor Mills Curling Club by two teams. One team comprised Miss M. Tomlinson, Mrs. N. Baldwin, Mrs. C. Skinner with Mrs. B. Holtham skip. The other team was skipped by Mrs. A. Ross with Mrs. W. Willard and Mrs. N. Hunter.

dents of the other three clubs, and Mr. Bassett. No amount was quoted in the offer. No reply had been received Monday night.

Mr. Fraser said the CBC wondered why CFTO's offer was made in the teeth of the CBC bid to buy the Big Four TV rights from them. As for the CBC getting free use of the Big Four telecasts outside CFTO's proposed Toronto-Ottawa-Montreal private network, he said: "We know of nothing that is free in TV."

The CBC has stuck with a policy opposing participation of any of its affiliated network stations in any private network carrying the Big Four telecasts. Mr. Fraser said a split network was not in the long-range public interest, or in the interest of privately-owned affiliates of the CBC.

Mr. Bassett said his station expects no difficulty in obtaining approval from the Board of Broadcast Governors to set up a network with independent French and English language stations in Montreal and the independent station in Ottawa to carry the games.

Jeff Mills Pots Winner To Give St. Pat's 3-2 Win Over Optimist And Deadlock Series At Game Each

Jeff Mills fired the winning goal last night to give St. Pat's a 3-2 overtime victory over Optimists in the Juvenile Hockey League playoffs at the Arena. The victory for St. Pat's knots the series at a game each.

Coach Harry Kouri's team won the first encounter and the teams will now clash in a third and deciding affair tonight or Sunday depending on when ice will be available.

Caron gave the Optimists an early start when he tallied in the first period. This was the only goal of the period. In the middle session Cliche made it 2-0 for St. Pat's but Mills got the first goal for the Irish just before the end of the frame.

In the final stanza Blouin evened the count with a few minutes left in regular time as the teams battled all out to break the deadlock. President Ivan Dugre agreed to give the youngsters extra time to determine a winner by retarding the junior fixture.

In the overtime both squads had good chances with St. Pat's booming shots failing to hit the target as they kept the pressure on but finally Doyon laid out a perfect pass to Mills at centre ice and he was in alone. He held his shot until he was fifteen feet out before pulling the trigger to catch the lower hand corner of the net and put his team out in front with only ten seconds left in play. It was his second marker of the night.

First Period

Penalties: Perron.

Second Period
2—Optimist, Cliche (Bacon) 10:10
3—St. Pat's, Mills 14:15
Penalties: Perron.

Third Period

CFTO-TV Offers CBC Free Use Of Big Four Telecasts If Outside Toronto - Montreal - Ottawa Area

TORONTO (CP) — The CBC gave an unenthusiastic reply Monday night to an offer from CFTO-TV Toronto of free use of Big Four football telecasts outside the Toronto-Montreal-Ottawa area.

At the same time, the corporation said it had made an offer of its own to the Toronto station.

Ron Fraser, CBC vice-president for corporate affairs, said "we're very skeptical" of the offer made by John Bassett, chairman of the board of CFTO.

"It appears to be aimed at breaking the CBC's policy of not splitting its network," Mr. Fraser said.

Mr. Bassett made the announcement of the CFTO offer following signing of an agreement between his station and the Big Four, assigning television rights for league games to the Toronto station for the next two years. CFTO outbid the publicly-owned CBC for the Big Four TV rights several weeks ago.

A CBC offer to buy from the Big Four or from CFTO the rights to televise the games on the complete English and French networks of the corporation was made by telegram several hours before the press conference at which Mr. Bassett announced his proposition to the CBC.

Signed by J. Alphonse Ouimet, CBC president, it was addressed to Big Four president Jack Gaudaur of Hamilton, the presi-

Bernie Faloney Is Property Of Ticats Rules Justice J. M. King

TORONTO (CP) — Quarter-back Bernie Faloney was never traded to Montreal Alouettes in exchange for Sam Etcheverry and is therefore still the property of the Hamilton Tiger-Cat Football Club, Mr. Justice J. M. King decided in weekly court here Monday.

Mr. Justice King said the notice of motion seeking a declaration of Faloney's right was before him improperly and dismissed it without costs.

Faloney's contract to play with Ticats in 1961 in the Big Four league is still in effect for the season unless he takes it to court. His counsel, Sydney Paikin of Hamilton, said outside the courtroom that he has no such plans.

Paikin criticized clause 14 of the standard football contract which gives a team the right to sell, assign, trade or transfer the playing rights of any player. He charged that the player is reduced to a "kind of currency or chattel," as a result of the clause and that he can be sold, purchased or discounted as a marketable commodity.

ASKED FOR RULING
Mr. Justice King was asked to rule who owns Faloney's services after the Faloney-for-Etcheverry trade fell through when the latter refused to move from Montreal to Hamilton. The trade was announced Nov. 8 by Alouette president Ted Workman and Hamilton president J. G. Gaudaur to Workman.

"It contained a rather novel postscript," said Paikin. "It read: 'I suppose that it should be stated that if Hamilton is unable to sign Etcheverry and Montreal is unable to sign Faloney, that it is our confidential agreement that this trade will be void.'"

Neither player knew of the trade until it came out in the newspapers and Paikin produced documents to the effect that Faloney's club later told him it was unconditional when he actually hinged on the two players reporting to their clubs.

Etcheverry, who had a no-trade agreement without his consent with Alouettes outside his regular contract, signed with St. Louis Cardinals of the United States National Football League.

flattened Johansson with a left hook. Was Floyd really hurt badly? What would have happened if the Swede had pressed the attack? Every time Patterson meets newspaper men, somebody is bound to ask about the right hand. He always has the same answer.

ADMITTS HE WAS HURT
"Sure I was hurt," he admitted. "But not enough to even think about the canvas. I have been hurt just as much two or three different times down here in training."

Somebody asked if it was a right hand punch that had hurt him in the fifth round, he him in training.

Johansson's Right Hand Is Main Reason He's Meeting Patterson A Third Time For Heavy Championship

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — No matter how you slice it, the main reason for a third Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson fight is the right hand punch the Swede landed in the second round last June.

Patterson appeared to have been shaken up. He blinked his eyes and retreated. Instead of rushing wildly to the attack as he had done the year before when he floored Patterson seven times and won the title, Ingemar waited. He never got another chance.

By the end of that second round, Patterson had recovered completely and was winging away to the body with both hands. In the fifth round, he him in training.

Sunnyside Wins Second Straight Title

It was stated in yesterday's edition of the Record that the Sunnyside High School had reached the finals of the Q.A.S.P.A. playdowns last year and had lost out. This is incorrect.

Sunnyside High School won the trophy last year and on Saturday they made it two straight championships for the School from the Border. This afternoon they met with the Chambly County High School squad of the Montreal High School Hockey League in an exhibition game at the Border Arena.

Jaycees Stop Legion 4-1 To Win Semi-Finals

RICHMOND — The Broomball semi-finals have finally brought out a winner in the best-of-three series between Legion and Jaycees. The Junior Chamber of Commerce boys came out on top with a 4-1 victory over the Legion team after the clubs had tied at one game apiece.

The Jaycees now await the winner of the Duchess Shoe-Richmond Shoe Supplies series that went two straight tie games and finally a winner decided Monday night. Duchess Shoe came out with a 2-0 win over the Shoe Supplies with Denis Lacroix and Jean Claude Duracher scoring. Assisting on the markers were Raymond Asselin and Lacroix on the second goal. Harry Topping, tending cage for Supplies had his work cut out in this battle while Provender held off all attacks for Duchess Shoe.

These same two clubs meet again in what may be the deciding game on Wednesday evening unless the Perron squad can win and tie the best-of-three series.

Schoendiast Signs With St. Louis Cards

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Red Schoendiast, veteran second baseman who was released by Milwaukee Braves of the National League this winter, will be signed to a contract by the St. Louis Cardinals it was learned Monday.

Schoendiast, 38, is expected to spell Julian Javier at second base, provide insurance at third base and pinch hit.

Schoendiast starred for Milwaukee in the 1958 world series and then fell ill with tuberculosis. He missed the 1959 season.

NO. 36

Since skiers have begun using safety bindings, accidents have been diminishing. However, a small percentage of injuries still occurs when release harnesses are used. This percentage would be lower if people would adapt their technique of falling to this new binding.

The old, accepted method of protection during a fall was to relax and keep your skis together. Trying to keep the skis together is always important with any type of equipment. With safeties, though, I have found it necessary to stiffen the legs when falling. Why is this so? If your bindings are adjusted tightly or haven't been greased for some time, they may not release as readily as you believe. By keeping the legs stiff once you start to fall, you are resisting leg twist and therefore the force exerted on the binding will be immediate and thus snap it open. A gradual pressure might not release your foot. Since relaxing will produce more gradual pressure on the release mechanism, I do not recommend it when wearing safety bindings.

Points to Remember: For protection, keep your fittings greased. The adjustment should be looser when skiing in deep snow than on ice but never too loose so that you wiggle out of the ski. (Fig. 1). A good method of testing is to put one ski on then kick the side of the sole of the boot sharply with the corresponding part of the boot on the free foot. This should spring the safety catch. (Fig. 2)

Star's magnetic force intrigues scientists

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Topics this week: A magnetic star, a babel of languages and notes on black widow spiders.

MAGNETIC GIANT

Astronomers are intrigued with a faint star which has the strongest magnetic field known in nature. Its magnetic field is some 35,000 times greater than the earth's, but it fluctuates, sometimes being only 12,000 times the earth's field.

The star, in the constellation Lacerta, was analyzed in spectrograms taken by Dr. Horace Babcock at Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories with the great 200-inch telescope.

A George Washington University report lists 130 languages each of which is the mother tongue for at least 1,000,000 people. This covers the native tongues of 2,706,000,000 of the earth's total population of 2,930,000,000.

Chinese-Mandarin leads the lot, being spoken by 46,000,000 people. English runs second, with 250,000,000 speakers. Other leaders are: Hindustani, 160,000,000; Spanish, 140,000,000; Russian 130,000,000, and German, 100,000,000.

Such languages as Tadjik, Melanesian, Chuvash and Fang-Bulu are in the 1,000,000 class. Nineteen of the 130 languages are mother tongues of citizens of the Soviet Union.

The surface of the moon is comparable to hardened foam, a Soviet scientist concludes from radio telescope studies.

His data indicate the lunar surface is physically homogeneous to a depth of about one yard. The scientist, Vsevolod Troitsky, says he doesn't agree with views the moon is covered by a thick layer of dust.

As his roommates at Emory University, Bill Bracewell has a colony of more than 500 black widow spiders, and is rearing more.

The pharmacology doctorate student wants about 1,000 of them, to extract enough venom to take it apart chemically and test the effects of the components on the nervous system.

Ninety per cent of baby spiders hatched from eggs live, unless the mother eats them, as she has already done with her mate, Bracewell says.

"The black widow's bite will not kill people in normal health, although it is sometimes fatal to older persons and children," he adds.

Cab driver goes on speaking tour

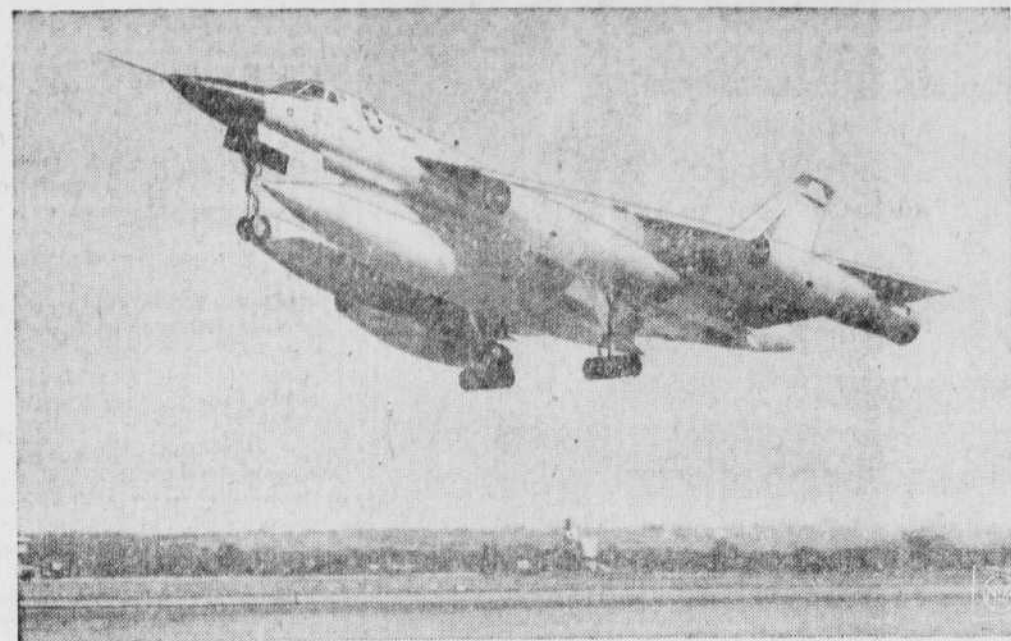

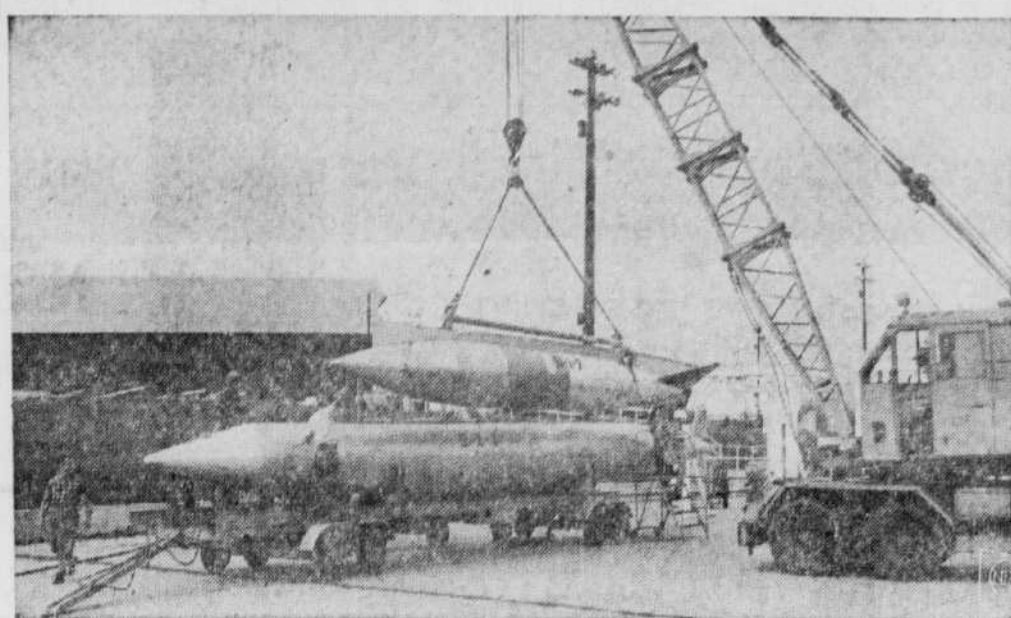

HALIFAX (CP) — Garfield D. Porter is a taxi driver who believes the way to attract tourists to Nova Scotia is to go out and get them interested personally.

He is on a speaking tour of the United States during which he will give more than 50 illustrated lectures.

Mr. Porter says his views on the tourist industry arise from 20 years as a dining car steward, porter, cabbie and bus driver.

Last summer he invested in a bus and began taking tourists on visits to Peggy's Cove, 25 miles from Halifax. His passengers gave him the idea of taking to the lecture circuit.

Peace in a pod —

Resembling a missile being raised into firing position, the torpedolike object on the end of a crane, top photo, is one of two pods carried in the underbelly of a B-58 Hustler bomber. The smaller pod, designed to carry a nuclear bomb, is being mated to the larger one which carries fuel. Both will then be attached to the bomber. • A B-58 takes off, bottom, at Convair's Fort Worth, Tex., plant. Hung between its long, storklike legs is the two-in-one pod. One of the fastest aircraft in the world, the Hustler has set several speed records, hitting as high as 1,400 m.p.h.

Hitler took Rhineland just 25 years ago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty-five years ago today Adolf Hitler plunged Europe into crisis by sending the German army goosestepping into the Rhineland.

A few years before, the French army undoubtedly would have challenged the German dictator. It was the most powerful in Europe.

But nothing happened.

Hitler carried off a gigantic bluff, and concluded that the Allied powers which defeated Germany in the First World War no longer had the unity, will or capacity to oppose him. Hitler's action was a flagrant violation of the Rhineland clauses of the Treaty of Versailles, to which Germany had agreed, as well as of the entire Locarno Peace Pact of 1925.

The French general staff overestimated the size of Hitler's reoccupying force and refused to take action unless the cabinet ordered at least a partial mobilization. Actually Hitler sent a puny force into the Rhineland on March 7, 1936. It was discovered later that Hitler also had given his commanders orders to withdraw if the French opposed him.

The problem of the Rhineland arose from France's desire to protect its border from German aggression. In the First World War peace treaty France sought to detach the western bank of the Rhine from Germany.

Britain and the United States refused to sanction the chopping off of purely German territory. The treaty finally, as a compromise, provided for permanent demilitarization of a 30-mile belt east of the Rhine, and Allied occupation of three zones on the western bank for periods not exceeding 15 years.

After labyrinthine negotiations involving reparations, the Allied occupation of the area ended in June, 1930.

But the demilitarization clause stood. It was perpetuated in the Locarno Pact, in which Britain and Italy joined Germany, France and Belgium in guaranteeing the French-German and Belgian-German borders against aggression.

Although Hitler railed at the "diktat" of Versailles, the Locarno Pact was freely entered into by Germany and was affirmed by Hitler himself not long before he tore it up with his march into the Rhineland.

Soon afterward he began in this area the series of fortifications known as the Siegfried line.

Within a few months after Hitler bluffed his way into the Rhineland, Mussolini announced the annexation of Ethiopia and Spain was aflame in a civil war with German and Italian help.

Hitler was on the way to the Second World War.

Kirkdale Church groups meet

KIRKDALE — The Guild and W.A. met at the home of Mrs. G. Couchman on March 1.

Tentative plans were made for a tea and food sale to be held in April at Mrs. Terrill's home.

Discussion on possible renovations in the Parish Hall took place with particular interest on the kitchen chimney.

A bring-and-buy sale was held after which refreshments were served. Three guests were present at the tea hour.

FITCH BAY —

Mrs. G. H. Huckins, who has been ill with flu and under the doctor's care, is recovering. Mrs. Wright Wilson observed her 80th birthday at her home on March 3. Mr. Wilson still in the Sherbrooke Hospital, is reported improving.

Funeral service for Jean Luc Robert, 15 years of age, took place at St. Ephraim's Church, on March 1, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

The Legion Auxiliary card party was held on March 4, with six tables played. Prizes were won by Mrs. F. Taylor and Jack Kimpton.

RICHMOND —

Mrs. Ernest Bradfield has returned home after several weeks in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mrs. John Kampen, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Stelwagen, for several days has returned to her home in Port Colborne, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Epps and daughters, Rae and Gae of Montreal, spent the weekend with Mr. Epps' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Epps, and Miss Edith McCourt.

TRIBE LEADER

The first ruler to consolidate the Slav tribes was Rurik, leader of the Russ, who established himself at Novgorod in 862 AD.

BOO BOO AT BOONVILLE — Mayor John J. Bell is distressed to find an essential letter missing from the highway sign announcing his town—Boonville, Mo. The Illinois firm erecting the signs along Route 70 later fitted the elusive N.

BEDFORD —

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bishop have returned from Toronto, where they were called by the death of the former's brother-in-law.

Mrs. L. Butler of Springfield, Mass., who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. Fortin, has returned home.

The monthly meeting of the Church Women's Year will be held in St. James Church Hall on March 15 at eight o'clock. The program originally scheduled for March, a choral recital by the choir of St. Matthias Church, Montreal, has been cancelled.

Mrs. George Palmer will give an illustrated address on her stay in India. A film will also be shown of scenes in the Eastern Townships. A social hour with refreshments will follow the entertainment.

Mrs. Arthur Brown has returned from Dorion, where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown.

A new street is being opened on the north side of town, joining St. Joseph and Cyr Streets.

Work has begun on Cyr Street, taking up the pavement for the installation of needed sewerage and water pipes, which will be connected to the installations on the new street. Construction has already started on the street, where Methe Bros. are building an apartment block.

The weekly meeting of the St. James Church Bridge Club was held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Draper, when the prize-winner was Mrs. Harry Jones.

MELBOURNE —

Mrs. C. Coote, Mrs. Roy Copping and son Glen spent the weekend in Montreal, guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Joiner. Mr. Joiner had just returned from the Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was a patient for several days.

The Call Director. This one does all:

Doubles as switchboard. Conference table.

Intercom system. Talks the language of business.

Fascinating stuff...well worth investigating.

Clearly, from the Bell.

...the one source for all business communications

Accountants at our Branches are the MOST HELPFUL you can find

Like Toronto-Dominion Accountants from coast to coast, Laurent enjoys meeting and helping people. This is why, at "The Bank", we say we have more to offer than just conventional banking facilities. We have people—friendly, interested people who take pride in being helpful to our many customers. If you haven't tried our kind of service, drop in to the Toronto-Dominion Branch nearest you and see why...
