MACDONALD'S LABOR GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

General Election In Britain To Be Held On October 29th

King George This Morning Agreed To Dissolution Of British Labor Parliament

Officially Announced that Premier Ramsay MacDonald This Morning Asked King for Dissolution of Parliament in Line With His Previously Announced Policy of Appealing to Country Through General Election to Approve Course Pursued by His Government—Understood that Question of Resignation of Cabinet Was Not Touched Upon at Conference—Premier Stated that the Government Would Have Preferred to Save Country Expense of Another General Election, But, Shrugging His Shoulders, He Added: "That Is the Situation and There It Is"—Was Loudly Cheered on His Return to Downing Street.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, October 9.—King George, waited on by Premier MacDonald this morning following the Government's defeat in the House of Commons last night, agreed to the dissolution of Parliament. Mr. MacDonald left Buckingham Palace after an audience which began at ten o'clock and lasted an hour.

It was officially announced that he had asked the King for the dissolution of Parliament in line with his previously announced policy of appealing to the country through a general election to approve the course pursued by his Government.

It was understood that the question of the resignation of the Cabinet was not touched upon at the conference at the Palace.

In informing representatives of the press, after he had left the King, that dissolution had been decided upon, Mr. MacDonald said:

"I am sorry events have turned out as they have, but every one knows that the situation is not one of the Government's seeking, but has been forced upon it. Personally, I should have been very glad if the Labor Government had been allowed to carry on its policy, a policy which I maintain has been one of honest politics and of the promotion of the interests of the commonwealth."

The Premier said the Government would have preferred to have saved the country the expense of another general election, but, shrugging his shoulders, he added: "That is the situation and there it is."

Mr. MacDonald, after leaving the palace, returned immediately to No. 10 Downing Street, for a cabinet meeting. As he made his way into the narrow street, a huge crowd which had assembled in front of the Prime Ministerial residence loudly cheered him, and there were shouts of "good old man."

It was announced that he would make a statement in the House later this afternoon.

The Labor Government of Ramsay MacDonald came into power in Great Britain in January of the present year, when the Conservative ministry of Stanley Baldwin, which had been at the helm only a few months, was dismissed by the House of Commons by a vote of lack of confidence because of its espousal of protection.

The present composition of the House of Commons membership is as follows:

Conservatives, 246; Labor, 187; Liberal, 156; Ulster Unionists, 11; Co-operative, 6; Independent, 8; Independent-Liberals, 2; Nationalists, 2; Sinn Féin, 1. Total 614.

The total membership of the House of Commons is 615, but there is a vacancy for the London University constituency.

HOUSE OF COMMONS TO BE DISSOLVED TONIGHT—ELECTION ON OCTOBER 29

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, October 9.—The House of Commons will be dissolved tonight and a general election will be held October 29th, it was announced this afternoon after King George held a Privy Council at Buckingham Palace, at which he signed a proclamation proroguing Parliament.

GOVERNMENT WILL CARRY ON UNTIL IRISH BOUNDARY BILL IS SAFE AND BOUNDARY COMMISSION APPOINTED

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Great Britain's first Labor Government virtually came to an end last night when by a combination of Conservative and Liberal votes the House of Commons carried a motion demanding that a select committee of the House investigate the action of the Attorney General, Sir Patrick Hastings, in withdrawing prosecution in the case of the Communist James R. Campbell, acting editor of the Workers' Weekly, charged with inciting His Majesty's forces to sedition.

The Government declined to accept the motion, and treated it as a vote of censure, which if adopted by the House, would involve an appeal to the country against Parliament's verdict. The debate was sharp and exciting, and after it was closed the Opposition wanted to drop Sir Robert S. Horne's motion of censure and vote on Sir John A. Simon's amendment calling for an investigation. On the Government's refusal to accept this course, the House divided on the question as to which it should vote on. By a vote of 359 to 198 it decided to vote on the Simon amendment. This was equivalent to the defeat of the censure motion, and the Simon amendment became the substantive motion, and was carried 369 to 198.

Announcement of the figures was received with loud cheering and

PREMIER DISCLAIMED ANY FRIENDSHIP ON THE PART OF GOVERNMENT FOR COMMUNISTS OR THEIR POLICIES

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Government's defeat last night came in the form of the passage by a vote of 364 to 198 of a Liberal motion demanding investigation of Attorney General Hastings' withdrawal of prosecution in the case of James Campbell, acting editor of the Communist Workers' Weekly, who was charged with inciting His Majesty's forces to sedition. A straight motion of censure, fostered by the Conservatives, previously had been defeated by 359 to 198, to make way for the Liberal amendment.

During the debate, which at times brought scenes of excitement, the Premier disclaimed any friendship on the part of the Labor Government for the Communists or their policies, and announced that passage of either the Conservative motion or the Liberal amendment would be taken as a vote of lack of confidence in the Government.

"It will be the end," he added, "of what members on both sides of the House will agree has been a high counter-cheering. The prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, immediately arose, and said: "In view of what has happened, Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn."

This was agreed to unanimously. It is understood that the Government has decided to carry on until the Irish boundary bill is safe and the boundary commission appointed.

Throughout the final scenes the excitement rose to the highest pitch, ribes and retorts were flung across the House and some of the members indulged in singing. Up to the end there were rumors of manoeuvres to avoid defeating the Government, but if, as appeared not improbable from the tone of some of the speeches, there was some disposition on the part of the Opposition to reconsider their tactics they had seemingly committed themselves too far to recede.

There is little doubt that the Labor party and the Government welcome an appeal to the country, thus, as they contend, thrust upon them and are convinced that they will return to the House of Commons a much stronger party, even though they may not command a majority in the House over all other parties. They believe they have a good cause to present to the electors in what they argue is the triviality of the question upon which they have been defeated, and on their record, especially in the realm of foreign affairs and finance.

LORDS PASSED SECOND READING OF IRISH BILL

SIR PATRICK HAS BEEN AS UNPOPULAR A LAW OFFICER AS ANY IN RECENT YEARS

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(Cable)—Sir Patrick Hastings, Attorney General, is largely responsible for the present muddle in which the Labor Government finds itself, is one of those eminent lawyers, by no means few, who completely fail to shine in Parliament.

Frankly, Sir Patrick has been as unpopular a law officer as any in recent years, although yesterday, when he rose to answer some questions asked in the House of Commons which were not connected with the present crisis, he was given a cordial reception by his own side.

Could Have Saved Life Of Government For Several Weeks By Suffering Humiliation—Labor Conference Resembled A Joyfest

When Attorney-General Hastings Arrived at Conference the Delegates Arose en Masse, Cheered for Several Minutes and Sang "The Red Flag" With Wholehearted Lustiness.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The conference of the Parliamentary Labor party, begun yesterday morning just before the opening of the momentous House of Commons session which resulted in the defeat of Great Britain's first Labor Government, was continued today, when it was turned into something which resembled a joyfest and an enthusiastic election campaign meeting.

When Attorney General Hastings arrived at the conference, the delegates arose en masse, cheered for several minutes, and sang "The Red Flag" with wholehearted lustiness.

The conference decided to abandon, in the light of yesterday's developments, the unimportant points in the agenda, and to deal with the others as part of the election campaign.

J. R. Clynes, Lord Privy Seal, told the meeting that the Prime Minister was with the King at Buckingham Palace, whereupon there were shouts of "he's in good hands." Continuing, Mr. Clynes said Labor had cause to be proud of its Premier and never more proud in this hour of defeat, which would be the gateway to a greater victory.

"Last night," he asserted, "we could have saved our political life for a few weeks by suffering humiliation, by submission, by traffic, or by compromise. We no longer have the press behind us as a Labor Cabinet, but in this, as in other matters, we have no fear of the future, and neither now nor in the future shall we do anything to lower the dignity of the cabinet."

GENERAL BOOTH ARRIVED IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

Bound for Winnipeg and Toronto to Attend Salvation Army Congress.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—General W. Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who last week celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance into the work of the organization, arrived in New York yesterday on the White Star liner Homeric.

General Booth will not stay long in this city, being bound for Canada, where he will attend Salvation Army congresses in Winnipeg and Toronto. He announced he would return next year for an official visit to the American branch.

General Booth reported that his organization had recently extended its work into Brazil, East Africa, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. He expressed himself well satisfied with the progress of the work here, in charge of his sister, Commander Eva Booth, and three district commissioners.

William Dubilier, American inventor and president of the Dubilier Condenser and Radio Corporation, brought word of a German invention which, he declares, is destined to "revolutionize the methods of sending messages in the business world."

It is an automatic wireless type-writer transmitter and, he says, permits radio transmission without the whole world listening in. It would, for instance, enable a newspaper writer to sit at a typewriter, write his story and have it set on a type simultaneously.

MONTREAL POLICE INQUIRY MAY BE TURNED INTO MURDER TRIAL BEFORE EVIDENCE IS CONCLUDED

Counsel for Chief Belanger Says Jobin's Relatives Will Be Called to Testify in Killing—Ruling Made by Mr. Justice Coderre—Detective Lajoie Back on Stand—Crown Prosecutor Testified Yesterday Morning—Information Withheld in Bank Hold-Up Case Might Have Changed Trial, He Says.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 9.—A great deal of time in the inquiry into Montreal Police affairs was taken up yesterday afternoon by a discussion between J. P. Lanctot, counsel for the petitioners and Alban Germain, K. C., appearing for Chief Belanger, on the question of whether or not the inquiry should be divided into a number of separate trials, with the defence putting up its evidence at the conclusion of each; or whether the accusations should be made and then the defence should have the right to put into the box all its witnesses covering every one of the allegations made.

Mr. Lanctot held to his objection against Mr. Germain's proposal, and said that it would obviously be much easier for anyone incriminated to make a defence after each allegation had been testified to, than to make a defence at the end of the evidence for the prosecution as it were, since a number of the allegations would link up with one another.

Mr. Justice Coderre gave judgment immediately. He first referred to the fact that he would be willing to allow as evidence the statements of witnesses who could only testify as to what they had heard; but such evidence should be corroborated by direct testimony from witnesses who personally were aware of the facts regarding which they were speaking.

Coming to Mr. Germain's application, the Court went on: "I may say that personally I do not view Mr. Germain's motion as any attempt to hinder the inquiry nor to prevent the truth from coming out; as I said a couple of days ago, I view the attitude taken by Mr. Germain as one having much sense."

At the same time, from the viewpoint of practicability, it was doubtful whether the court could adhere strictly to the ruling it had given previously. If the defence were to be made right after each allegation had been made, it would mean that, in the event of the petitioners finding themselves without a witness needed to close evidence on an allegation, the Court would have to adjourn until the next day. And the same would happen with the defence putting in its witnesses immediately after the allegations had been made. The proceedings would be unnecessarily prolonged.

"I made one reservation, however," the Court went on. "If the petitioners attack the private life of any person, I declare that, from now on, the Court will at once admit for the defence. It would be absolutely unjust to leave accusations as to private life before the public for a month or a month and a half without the defence being heard."

As the first witness was to be called, Mr. Germain offered to the court a letter from Dr. E. A. Conroy, police surgeon, to the effect that Sergeant Joseph Archambault, of the Morality Squad, was ill with gastritis and would be unable to attend to duties for some time. That did not satisfy Mr. Lanctot; he wanted the doctor himself put into the box. "Without making any insinuations," he said, "we want to see whether or not this illness is old or may have been caused by the demands made upon the man in question."

"He has been away from work for fifteen days," said Mr. Germain, offering to have the doctor present as a witness.

Sergeant-Detective Georges Farah-Lajoie then was recalled by Mr. Lanctot who resumed questioning regarding the murder of George Jobin, Amherst street furrier. It was in connection with that murder that Detective Lajoie had testified previously that he had been hampered by superior officers in the detective office.

"Did you have a conversation with any one, or secure a confession, regarding that affair?" asked Mr. Lanctot.

"I went to see Mrs. Jobin," replied the witness, "and here is a declaration made to me by Mrs. Jobin, by her sister, her mother, and her father."

"I object," shouted Mr. Germain, springing to his feet. "It is pure hearsay proof. That document will merely show what some people told the witness, but that does not say that what they said was true."

"We want to place before the court all the elements going to prove that the motives for blocking the inquiry in the murder case were vengeance and jealousy," (Continued on page 11)

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestives

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestives. Instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bismarck Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarck Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrector, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS, SURE

There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads. That is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxide powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—the white parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxide powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

KIDNEYS NEED LOT OF WATER

Drink Freely and Often, Also Take Salts if Your Back Hurts

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating food which creates acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

INTERESTING ADDRESS AT COWANSVILLE

Provincial Convener of Women's Institutes Paid Visit to Cowansville Branch—Other News.

COWANSVILLE, Que., Oct. 9.—A largely attended meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. D. A. Rodger on Saturday afternoon, October 4th. The vice-president, Miss Tatley, presided. After routine business, a most interesting paper on "National Events" was given by Mrs. C. J. McQuat, provincial convener. As this department of work is comparatively new, an outline of its object has been prepared and is as follows:

"The building up of a healthy national spirit, creating an interest in events in Canadian national life, using Canadian publications as a source of such information."

"Arouse interest in Canadian authors, poets, and musicians."

"Find out if every school in our country possesses a flag, and if the pupils know the composition of the Union Jack. Create an interest in the places of historical interest in your locality. Hold your annual picnic at such places. As the anniversary of important events in our Canadian history occur, draw these to the attention of your branch and through them, the attention of others to such anniversaries."

In enlarging on this outline, Mrs. McQuat said that, "We are too prone to measure ourselves as a nation with our neighbors to the south, and feel that we cannot expect to be of like importance. But size and population are not the measure of any nation's greatness. Had the inhabitants of England, Wales and Scotland adopted that self-effacing attitude they would never have stamped themselves on the nations of the world as they have done. We should remember that young as we are, we are a nation, and develop a proper national consciousness. The logical reasons for doing so are many and important. A national consciousness results in the preservation of natural resources, preserves its national unity and builds for the future. We need not flaunt our flag in season and out of season, but we can do, but more inexcusable is it to lapse into indifference. We are like the child of wealthy parents upon whom has been lavished every toy and appreciates none. We have such a wonderful land with its wheat fields and endless miles of fertile country and natural beauty, and we adopt toward all this an indifference that must be truly amazing to a people like our neighbors to the south who so truly appreciate and admire, and rightly so, their own domain. The dire consequences of this lack of a national pride is seen on every hand and noted by others. In a serial now running in an American journal in which the scene is laid in Quebec we find the following: "Men deal with timber as the spendthrift deals with the gilt-edge bonds of a careless father, squandering the principle rather than clipping the inexhaustible coupon. Small trees that in ten years would be valuable lumber are cut down for pulp to furnish the paper upon which to print a salacious story not worth the beautiful spruce tree out of which the paper is fashioned." Millions of trees are also destroyed to gratify careless campers, and so it goes on in every department of national life. The remedy surely lies with our boys and girls, the men and women of tomorrow. Teach them the value of their possessions and the future will see our resources in careful hands."

The roll call, "How may we co-operate with our teachers?" brought out many valuable hints on this subject.

A reading circle has been formed in the Institute with Mrs. D. A. Rodger as librarian. Anyone having books they are willing to lend please communicate with Mrs. Rodger. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

ASK PUBLIC MEETING ON CITY BY-LAWS

Citizens' Association Holds Preliminary Meeting—Want Certain Explanations—Too Much Money Involved to Vote Blindly.

The executive of the Citizens' Association and a few representative citizens, met yesterday afternoon at the city hall, to consider informally the five bye-laws which are to be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers.

Mr. A. G. Campbell, president of the Citizens' Association, called the meeting to order. The chief business he thought which was before the citizens at present were the five bye-laws, amounting to six hundred thousand which had been approved of by the council and which would be voted upon by the citizens in a very short time. He asked the meeting members of the Association what they thought of these bye-laws, and asked for discussion.

Several members spoke regarding the bye-laws and were all of the same opinion, namely, that these should not be voted upon blindly or without consideration.

Mr. E. J. Page thought that a public meeting should be called at which the aldermen who are fathering these bye-laws should be present and explain to the citizens the exact meaning of them. The Citizens' Association is not an association of critics to find fault with the workings of the council, but it is an association to study conditions relating to the welfare or improvement of the city.

Mr. J. K. Edwards was very much in favor of calling a public meeting where every one might study the situation clearly and see exactly what the bye-laws called for in the way of improvement.

Mr. Edwards, therefore, moved that the Mayor be requested to call a public meeting at which all the aldermen who are fathering these bye-laws be present, and have the situation clearly explained to the citizens and discussed by them. This motion was seconded by Mr. E. J. Page, and carried.

Mr. F. R. Darche, Mr. W. H. Griffith, Mrs. W. R. Webster, and others took part in the discussion.

The bye-law with regard to the fire station equipment came in for some preliminary criticism.

The Mayor will be asked to call a public meeting early next week. It was urged that further publicity of the bye-laws themselves should be given than is contained in the brief summary thus far published.

The Universalist Church Yearly Meeting.

The annual meeting of the First Universalist Church was held Tuesday evening. The attendance was about as usual and many of the men of the parish were present. Reports for the year were read. The gifts of the church to various religious and philanthropic objects were much beyond that of last year totalling, with the offerings to the British and Foreign Bible Society, $110.16.

The Sunday School, too, did better work than last year and the average attendance throughout the year was better. Financially, both the church and the Sunday School are in a fairly prosperous condition, and spiritually there is cause for encouragement.

There were fifteen christenings and baptisms by the pastor of the church the past year, and he officiated at seven funerals. There were three marriages solemnized by the pastor. The stewards and wardens of the church express their appreciation for the co-operation and financial support given by many citizens of the village in supporting the work of the church the past year.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Sec.-Treas., W. E. LeBaron; Assistant, Mayor J. B. LeBaron; Trustees, Mr. Thos. V. Reed, Stephen Colt and Frederick Rexford. Mr. Albert H. Ham and Mr. J. B. Reed were chosen to receive the weekly offertory, and Mr. W. Corbit Clark and Mr. Stephen Colt as alternates.

Annual Meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Universalist Church.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Universalist Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30. The report of the secretary showed that eleven teas and two dinners were served by the society the past year. A winter sale was held in December and the usual sale in July was held in the village park. The financial condition of the society is encouraging.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Mrs. Georgia Call; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Katherine E. Burns; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Della Connor; secretary, Mrs. Nellie LeBaron; hon. sec., Miss Ellen Wadleigh.

The committees elected are as follows: Apron committee, Mrs. Mary E. Raymond; Mrs. Etta Call and Mrs. Bertha Ham; Linen committee, Mrs. Nellie LeBaron, Mrs. Georgia Call, Mrs. Joyce Rexford, Mrs. B.

Turcott; Soliciting committee, Mrs. Mary E. Raymond, Mrs. Gladys Kezar, and Miss Alice Colt.

MARRIAGES

PEHELMANN-DAVIES
BROOKBURY, Que., Oct. 9.—The marriage took place in St. John's Church, Brookbury, on Wednesday morning, very quietly, being attended by only close relatives, of Miss Alma E. Davies, eldest daughter of Mr. S. J. Davies, to Mr. Errol F. Pehlemann.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. J. Lewis, Rector of Bury. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pehlemann left by motor on their honeymoon trip, and on their return will reside at the home of Mr. Pehlemann on the Duds-well Road, Bury.

MAGNUSON-THOMPSON.
EAST CAMBRIDGE, Mass., October 8.—The marriage took place Wednesday evening, October 1, at the Church of the Ascension, East Cambridge, Mass., of Miss Ellen Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Thompson, to Mr. J. A. Magnuson, the Rev. Mr. Black officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white canton crepe, with white net veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. A. Middleton, who was gowned in beaded silk georgette, with black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of roses. The groom was attended by Mr. A. Middleton. The bride's mother was gowned in brown canton crepe, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Greaves presided at the organ.

The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum gray fox fur, to the matron of honor a gold brooch, and to the best man a stick pin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, among the guests being members of both families.

A Plutocrat

Here is the only pure white bear in the world. It was found by Indians in the forests of Princess Royal Island, off the coast of British Columbia. The Indian captors sold the bear for $60, and provincial police brought it to Victoria. The bear actually is worth about $10,000.

Mrs. N. E. Neale, of London, Eng.; Miss Helen Robertson and Mr. R. D. Robertson, of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Croft and Mr. Walter Croft, of Lyndonville, Vt.

Following the reception the bridal couple left for New York city and other points of interest. On their return they will reside in Boston.

The bride, who recently resided in Sherbrooke, was the recipient of many useful presents, including silver, cut glass, linen, etc., among them being a cut glass set from the staff of J. S. Mitchell & Co., Sherbrooke.

GOOLEY-COWHARD.

DIXVILLE, Que., Oct. 9.—A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening, October 1st, 1924, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Gooley, when their only son, Mr. Stuart E. Gooley, was united in holy matrimony to Miss Myrtle Bellows Cowhard, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Cowhard, all of this place. During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Grover K. Tyler, pastor of the Baptist Church at Coaticook, the bridal party stood beneath a handsome arch of clematis, autumn leaves and asters. Large quantities of asters and other autumn flowers were effectively used in decorating the other rooms.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a becoming costume of powder blue, combined with grey georgette crepe with trimmings of cheville velvet, grey shoes and stockings, and carried a beautiful bouquet of ophelia roses.

The bridesmaid was a cousin, Miss Leah Bellows, who wore black satin with touches of pale blue and carried a bouquet of dark red asters.

The groom was ably supported by Mr. Gordon Bellows, also a cousin of the bride.

Owing to illness, the bride's mother, Mrs. Cowhard, was unable to be present. Her sister, Mrs. Reginald Mayhew, wore brown canton crepe, while Mrs. Gooley, mother of the groom, was in cocoa brown crepe with touches of rose. Mrs. Laurin Drew ably presided at the piano, rendering Mendelssohn's Wedding March during the entrance of the bridal party and Wagner's "Bridal March," from Lohengrin, following the ceremony.

After the young couple had received the congratulations and best wishes of their friends, a buffet luncheon was served to the large number of guests present. Among those who assisted in serving were Misses Thepla Damon, of Island Pond, Vt.; Ruth Nelson, of Norton Mills; Frances Parker and Verian Norris. A large number of beautiful and useful gifts of silver, cut glass and china, also a number of cheques were received by the young couple.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Gooley left for Sherbrooke en route to Quebec, Ottawa and other cities and on their return will reside here for the present. The bride travelled in a gown of brown canton crepe with hat and coat to match.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Damon, Messrs. Thepla and Norma and Master Theodore Damon, of Island Pond, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, of Stanhope; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Nelson, Misses Ruth and Miriam Nelson, of Norton Mills, Vt.; Mrs. Mary Cowhard, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Akhurst and Miss Ruth Akhurst, of Coaticook; Mrs. Lucy B. Drew, Miss Lucy Drew and Miss Nina Major, of Sherbrooke.

PADDED FROM CAPE BRETON TO NEW YORK

Feat Performed on a Wager—Will Go to London by Steamer and Row to Italy.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A sun-tanned Canadian voyager came unheralded to the barge offices at the Battery here yesterday. Forty-two days ago George H. G. Smyth, of Toronto, thirty-five years old, left Sydney Cape Breton, in a fifteen foot open canoe. He paddled 1,850 miles in salt water and claims to have set a record. The feat was performed on a wager. The voyage made by the doughty paddler was unprecedented in the nautical annals of this port. Smyth will go to London by steamer, and will row by devious routes to Italy.

HE DIDN'T PROPOSE.
"What will your father settle on the man who marries you?"
"All the rest of the family, probably."

QUEBEC'S TOURIST PATRONAGE.

The Quebec Tourist Association, organized a year or more ago, has received assurances of substantial financial aid from the Quebec Government. It is understood that a grant of some $75,000 is being made for the purpose of promoting tourist patronage in this province. According to reports this is to be spent almost wholly within the province in an effort to improve hotel accommodation. Officials have been appointed who will visit hotels and urge upon the proprietors the importance of catering to tourist patronage by raising their places to the standard demanded by tourists. It is understood that the stamp of approval will be extended by the Association to such hotels and inns as meet the requirements and that they will be listed as recommended places.

This is important work and good as far as it goes, but if the effort is limited to this the results cannot fail to be disappointing.

The prospective visitors to this province must be reached. This can only be accomplished by a systematic advertising campaign in the States. Quebec's attractions must be set forth in a well planned publicity campaign. These attractions lie in the lakes and valleys and hills, in the quaint villages and thriving towns, in the historic associations and in the people themselves and not chiefly in the fact that it is here that liquor may be purchased which is the outstanding feature now most advertised.

If the Government's financial aid is to be confined to an educational campaign at home for better accommodations we believe it will fail of the best returns. A fifty-fifty effort at home and abroad would be a well balanced programme that should result in a greatly increased flow of tourists to this province.

The Quebec Tourists Association has an important mission and well directed efforts cannot fail to bring increased wealth to the people of the province.

CANADA AND IMMIGRATION.

Mr. R. L. Calder, K.C., of Montreal, in an address on Canada's Immigration policy has attracted considerable attention by his criticism of the efforts which have been made for a score of years to direct all immigration movements to the Western Prairies, forgetting the settlement opportunities in the older provinces.

This is not a new criticism. It has been voiced in these columns on numerous occasions. It has been urged by delegations from the Eastern Townships and elsewhere which have visited Ottawa in years past. Mr. Calder very aptly terms the Canadian immigration policy a railway policy. The "long haul" idea of transportation companies has been responsible to a very great extent for the western destination of new comers and has had its influence in the efforts to draw the people of Eastern Canada to the Western Provinces.

To quote some extracts from Mr. Calder's address:

"The immigration policy of today's Government, yesterday's Government and every Government which Canadians have been cursed with since Confederation has, not been, paradoxically enough, an immigration policy, but a railway policy."

"Canada has drawn away from the sane and sound aims of the founders of Confederation: she has developed a withered arm."

"The idea of Confederation germinated in the Maritime Provinces. They, on the seaboard, were the richest and strongest centres of population of what is now Canada, and Joseph Howe, and other eminent and far-seeing statesmen of the day, conceived the idea that a union between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with Quebec and Ontario would complement the resources of the Maritimes and would round out a British possession to the political and economic advantage of all. Prince Edward Island came into the Union shortly afterwards, and then the aims of the then leaders were complete."

"Strangely enough, as years have succeeded years, a radical change has come in the objective of our statesmen. We have annexed more and more territory, and the result today when we have our citizens in literal droves seeking other shores and pastures new is enough to make us sit back and wonder if acquisitiveness always pays. Our Government pamphlets, advertising and effort all direct the prospective immigrant to Western Canada. To many in Europe, and indeed to some in Canada, this country only starts at Port Arthur. We are exercising our left hand at the expense of our right. I fear that Canada is developing a withered arm."

"The bureaucrats who conceived the idea of taking the Hebrews from their rocky islets and dumping them on our boundless prairies could have got a first class job on the board of the Spanish Inquisition."

"Think of the feeling of those rugged Scotsmen, accustomed for generations and for centuries to the tang of the surrounding salt sea, accustomed to have mountains at their back, suddenly deported to the lonely undulating plains of our West, where a prairie schooner looms as big as the Woolworth building. Fancy any other immigrant, coming as he does, from the most congested centres of Europe, for it is from those sections that we must necessarily draw our immigration, accustomed to the busy whirl of life and activity, accustomed to crowd and rub elbows with his fellow man, fancy him condemned to the unutterable loneliness of our prairie fields in the West. Is it any wonder that after one winter these immigrants pull up stakes and leave us in disgust for more congenial surroundings?"

"Why are Governments so shortsighted? The leavings of the land in the Maritime Provinces would be a paradise to the Hebrews, where he would find congenial climate, citizens and surroundings. The more crowded farming land of our Eastern Provinces, while not what the European is accustomed to, would be passable for them. They could be acclimatized here, educated to loneliness, and eventually the population of our eastern sections would overflow and populate the West. I venture to assert that today there are more permanent immigrants going into the Western Provinces from the Maritimes and from Quebec and Ontario than all who come from Europe as a result of our stimulated immigration efforts. I do not believe in stimulated immigration, but, if we must have it, it should be intelligent and directed towards the proper points."

"Keep on with your present systems, and you may pump in immigrants and pump them in to your prairies, and the more you pump the more will go out through the waste pipe. If you want to make a stable population in Canada fill up the East until it overflows into the West, and then you will get a population throughout the country that is used to our needs and can supply them."

The people of Eastern Canada have shown too little interest in the problems of immigration. They have unconcernedly witnessed the departure of thousands of their young people when they should have been insisting upon governmental co-operation to stimulate an influx of new comers. It is to be hoped that the voice of public opinion will reach the powers that be to the end that a more sensible policy for the distribution of immigrants in the Dominion may be brought into operation.

PRESS COMMENT

AND THE BRAKES.

(Hamilton Spectator)

"When the time comes to slow up, how much money will you have saved?" queries some insurance literature to hand. Equally important, "How about your brakes?"

DOLES AND TAXES.

(Daily Mail)

All the doles and expedients which have been tried for the relief of unemployment have only complicated the disease by adding to the taxes on industry. Someone must pay for the dole, and the cost of it is added to British goods. There is only one remedy, and the sooner we all get down to it the better. It is for all classes to work harder and to put their backs to the task, and for the Government to realize that the country is much poorer today than before the war, and that taxation must be lightened.

POLO PLEASES.

(Baltimore Sun)

Polo is putting obligations on the American public. It is easy to add "chucker" to one's vocabulary and to say mallet instead of stick, but the ability to appreciate individual skill or team strategy comes more slowly. In view of the visible enthusiasm of large numbers of Americans for the game, a sudden search for inside information is to be expected, and in this connection it will be interesting to discover whether the world's most vivid story of a polo match attains new popularity as a textbook. The story is, of course, that of "The Maltese Cat," by Rudyard Kipling. It is twenty years old, but the age of polo is measured in centuries and the modern game will hardly surpass the intensity and excitement of that which Kipling recorded as taking place in the India which he knew so well. One might even suggest to those who inquire why polo is so suddenly popular that enthusiasts who read Kipling in their impressionable youth may be in large part responsible.

OH, LET THE BOYS PLAY!

(Lowell Courier-Citizen)

Those Boston gangsters who shot down a policeman because he had the temerity to search a companion of theirs for suspected firearms, suffice to remind the reader of the recklessness of modern city youth, reared under our benevolent statutes concerning juvenile crime. If you happen not to like a policeman's actions, shoot him on the spot! If you acquire a strong distaste for anyone, even if he be not a policeman, abolish him! This seems to be the creed of devil-may-care young hooligans of the city slums, who hunt in droves and who blaze away with the deadliest kind of pistols on the slightest provocation. Meantime the benevolent reformer goes serenely on, devising more schemes for encouraging youth to a sense of glorious irresponsibility and seeking to abolish the one thing that ever really impressed the would-be murderer very much—to wit, the death penalty. One admits that the death penalty seems not to have deterred those Boston gangsters from risking a fusillade at this officer; but one further suspects that in the absence of any death penalty the mortality among such as invite gangsters' antipathy would be vastly increased.

REV. J. ROTHERA WAS HONORED AT KINNEAR'S MILLS

Congregation Expressed Appreciation of Minister's Work—General Notes.

KINNEAR'S MILLS, Oct. 9.—A conference was held on Friday, October 3, in the Presbyterian Church at Leeds under the general interests' committee of the Presbytery of Quebec. Rev. J. W. Tanner and Rev. E. S. Logie were present and spoke on the missionary situation of the church and the most urgent need of the loyal support of the work, also suggesting methods by which these needs might be met.

At the close of the conference Rev. Joseph Rothera, minister of the Church of England, was the recipient of a substantial purse, accompanied by the following address:

"Dear Mr. Rothera—We, the members and adherents of the Presbyterian congregations of Kinnear's Mills, Leeds and Reid's, desire to take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the faithful and services you have rendered to us and this entire community."

"Your going away and coming in for a period of thirty-six years, not only among your own parishioners, but also the members of other denominations, has been a source of comfort in days of sorrow and bereavement, encouragement when we have been downcast and strength and Christian edification under all circumstances, for you have set the Lord always before us, both in your life and teaching."

"You have lived out the motto 'Others, for never have you allowed consideration of yourself, your own convenience or difficulties arising from roads or weather to prevent you from going to those to whom you could render service. While the work of ministering to the families in your own church parish was by no means a light task, yet throughout all these years you have given us freely of your services in the most ungrudging manner. At seasons when we were without a settled pastor of our own you buried our dead and pointed the living to Him in whom we receive everlasting consolation and rejoice in the hope of the glory of God."

"We are glad that while you have felt the need of being relieved of the active duties of your parish, yet we are still to have the pleasure of your presence with us, and pray that we may yet enjoy years of Christian fellowship together."

"We feel that we can in no way repay you for what you have done for us, and while neither words nor acts can fully express our feelings, we desire to give you some slight tokens of our esteem and gratitude. We ask you, therefore, to accept this gift, which is accompanied with the prayer that you may still be used of the Lord to us and others until you hear His final approval. 'Well done, good and faithful servant: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.'"

BURY TOWNSHIP COUNCIL HELD BUSY MEETING

Many Details Brought Up for Action—Oyster Supper Was Held—Other Interesting Notes

BURY, Que., October 9. —The October meeting of the Council for Bury Township was held at the Town hall on Monday afternoon. Mayor Jas. W. Dawson was in the chair and Councillors A. Brouillette, F. G. Bennett, M. T. Stokes, and R. W. Jenkerson were present. Councillor Rainey being present later. The question of the Lanctot and McCanna bridges and their condition came under review, and it was decided that as the season was now so far advanced that temporary repairs be effected that would ensure safety through the Fall and Winter, with a view of rebuilding next year.

The secretary reported having measured in company with Councillor Bennett the Scottsboro road from the Brown's bridge to the Town line, staking the same and noting down by stations the work done and that remaining to be done. At that end of the road there yet remains nearly 9000 feet of road to be gravelled.

A petition for an extra street light near to Mrs. Geo. MacClintock's was presented to the Council. The petition was granted.

The voters list as prepared by the Secretary was laid before the Council and was duly passed. This list will therefore come into force on the 15th, day of October 1924.

A letter bearing the signatures of the President and Secretary of the Compton County W.C.T.U., relative to the petitions that have been circulated for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act was before the Council. The letter was received and ordered filed.

OYSTER SUPPER A SUCCESS

The oyster supper at the Town hall on Thursday of last week was in every way a great success. The supper of the Ladies Aid have a more than local reputation for goodness that was abundantly upheld on this occasion. Neither was the supper the only good thing provided as the entertainment that followed was one of the finest of its kind held in Bury for a long time. This was a play entitled "Pa's new House-keeper" and was put on by the Bury Dramatic Club. Every one of the performers deserved well the applause that was accorded them, and very great credit must be given to Mrs. E. A. Bailey, the director for the smoothness with which the whole play went. The total receipts for the evening were just under $125.00. The hall was crowded to capacity, many having to stand.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES HELD

Special services were held at the Methodist Church on Sunday. In the morning the service was under the direction of the Sunday school, who held their annual Rally Day. There was a good congregation and the programme was well received. Two addresses on "The relationship of the Sunday school and the Home" were given. Mrs. L. D. MacLeod giving a most excellent talk on the subject as seen from the teachers point of view, and Rev. S. M. Wilson from the point of view of the Home. Mr. Wilson's remarks were calculated to give his hearers "most furiously to think". A report of the School and its work was given by the Superintendent, who also was in charge of the programme. At the evening service, the choir gave their monthly song service, and the large congregation were well repaid for their presence by some exceptionally well sung pieces. Leading parts were taken by Mrs. Jas. Whitehead, Mrs. E. A. Stokes and Mr. Albert Haseltine.

TEACHERS' CONFERENCE HELD

A teachers' conference was held on Saturday at the Bury Intermediate School, under the direction of Inspector J. H. Hunter, M.A. Mr. McBurney of the Department of Public Instruction was present and gave a most helpful address to the teachers at both sessions. Just before the close of the morning session, Mr. Atkins, the secretary gave a short talk on the municipality of Bury and to give a contrast by present day conditions gave a few random extracts of school conditions as revealed by the School Boards Minute book of 1842. A most excellent dinner was served to the conference at the Grand View hotel.

General Notes.

On Thursday of this week, the Ladies' Aid will be entertained for their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick. Every member possible is asked to be present. Hostesses Mrs. Chas. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. John Aulis.

Thanksgiving is to be observed at the Methodist Church on Sunday next, Oct. 12th. There will be special music suitable to the occasion at both morning and evening services. Those who would like to donate fruit, flowers, vegetables, etc., for decoration purposes are asked to have their contributions at the Church or parsonage not later than noon on Saturday. This will greatly facilitate the work of the convener of the decoration committee, Mrs. Jas. Whitehead.

The second issue of the monthly Church Letter of the Methodist Church has appeared. This is edited by the Pastor. This month's letter largely deals with the question of the Connexional funds, what they are and their amounts. It also contains an excellent and, for this circuit a novel, suggestion as to how these funds can be more easily be met.

Friends will be pleased to hear of the continued progress towards complete recovery of Mr. G. W. Stokes who has had such a long and

Children's Cozy Corner

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Children:

We are pleased to have such a nice, newsy letter from our old friend, Donald. Not that Donald is really old, himself, but he is one of our old standbys; he always has lots of things to write about. You surely have a fine farm, Donald, and the Corner uncle would like to go over it and see all the live stock and the machinery. I think a farm is very interesting, and it is a very busy place, too. Every one has work to do but it is as pleasant as to work in a city, if we only look at it the right way. The Corner uncles hope to be a farmer, or gardener some day, but will always try to find some time to write.

Yes, Donald, I think it is best to sign the pledge over again for I have to send in the names to the head office, and then you are on the official list. I will have the pledge in the Corner in a few days, and we will carry on the Corner group in much the same way as last winter. If there are quite a few of the pupils in your school who are interested in the J.R.C. why not try to start a group. One of the rural schools near North Hatley has a nice group now, and they began with the Lone Member group. There is also another school which I hope will organize a group. If it does I will tell you about it.

The children in Sherbrooke who are going to school ought to belong to the school group. Clinton asks me if he may belong. It depends on whether there is a group in your school, Clinton. Please tell me what school you attend and I will see about it.

Until tomorrow best wishes from UNCLE JIM.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim,

It is a long time since I wrote to you, but as you are having a lonely time without letters I thought I would write to you. I suppose most of the cousins are busy now, as I am. I had a quiet summer, still there is always something to do on a farm. I like to drive horses and ride horseback. My Daddy lets me ride all that is good for me. It is lovely in the woods just now, and I wish all the city children were as near them as I am. They would have some fine romps. There is a partridge which comes around our house this fall. I think by the way our geese act that they know more than hens. We have a large farm and have sixty-two head of cattle, fifteen cows, thirty-nine sheep, four horses, seven pigs, fifteen geese, six turkeys, fifteen calves, and a lot of hens and chickens. I drive to school every day and take my two sisters with me. I joined the J.R.C. over a year ago, and would like to know if I have to renew my membership every year, as I wish to belong. I know some boys and girls who would like to join. I am in the fifth grade this term. I got two prizes last year.

Best wishes to all until next time.
From your nephew
DONALD WHEELER.
Birchton, R.M.D. No. 1.

Dear Uncle Jim:

This is my seventh letter to the Corner, and as I have not written for some time I thought I would write again today. I would like to join the J.R.C. if there is room for me. I am in the sixth grade this year and my teacher is Miss Hatch. I have a pet dog named Rover and a cat. I will close now and will write another time.

Your loving nephew,
CLINTON GARDNER.
Esplanade Street, Sherbrooke.

Dear Uncle Jim:

This is my fifth letter to the corner. I am six years old and I have just started school. As I cannot write yet my brother is writing for me. I would like to join the J.R.C. I will close now. Goodbye.

Your loving nephew,
NORMAN HARGEST.
Esplanade Street, Sherbrooke.

Dear Uncle Jim:

I would like to join the J.R.C. and will you please send me a badge? I have wanted to join the Corner for a long time. I have two brothers and two sisters. I like to go to school. Our teacher's name is Mrs. Perkins and there are seventeen in our school. I am thirteen years old. I will close now.

Affectionately yours,
MYRTLE M. ASELTYNE.

WHY THE LEAVES FALL

Do you know why the maples turn to scarlet and gold and why the evergreens keep their leaves, when the cool, crisp, autumn days come to the land? In the October number of Nature Magazine, the editor tells us he asked many people those questions, but nobody seemed to know. Then when he went home he asked his wife. She knew, because "Mothers have to know such things."

The leaves are the lungs of the trees, but in the winter the roots cannot gather as much moisture as in summer, so the tree discards the leaves and carries on respiration through the bark alone. And there is also another reason. If they remained on the trees, the combined weight of snow and leaves would mean the tearing of the branches.

Early in the autumn the living substance in each leaf is gathered into the branches and tree proper, until only the framework is left. And then some sunny day in October you will see the shower of leaves falling, for the dry air seems to shrivel the leaf, and practically all fall from the elm and birch tree. And then some frosty morning the leaves of the sugar maples and poplars fall. Ice crystals form in the sticky separation layer, and when the warmth of the sun thaws and expands them, the woody tissue is torn and the leaves pushed free.

Sometimes the oak and beech trees retain a great many of their leaves all winter. The separation layer seems not to be quite thick enough, and needs the added soaking and decay of winter to complete this process, and March and April winds and rain often carry away the last of the withered leaves.

In warm climates the leaves fall just the same as they do in the north, choosing the dry season, for if a tree held its leaves during the season of drought, the moisture loss could be more than it could endure. (To be continued.)

BACKWARD
He wasn't very clever.
And he wasn't very quick;
But when he had a job in hand
He'd stick—stick—stick!

He wasn't full of brilliance,
And he wasn't full of brains;
But with a knobby subject he Took pains—pains—pains!

He didn't flash and sparkle
Through the knowledge he was taught;
But with the problems difficult
He fought—fought—fought!

And people called him backward
For a fellow of his size;
But he—he didn't care a bit,
He carried off a Prize!

MAGOG BOY WAS STRUCK DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Lost Life When He Failed to Get Out of Way of Approaching Car—Other Notes.

MAGOG, Que., Oct. 9.—A young child named Lamontagne was killed here on Tuesday afternoon when it was struck by an automobile on Sherbrooke Street. The little child was playing on the street in company with a number of others when an automobile came along from the direction of Sherbrooke. The little lad became confused and was unable to get out of the path of the oncoming car, with the result that he was struck down and died of his injuries.

Discussed School Matters. A public meeting for the distribution of prizes won at the recent sports day in connection with the Magog High School was held at the High School building on Thursday evening last week. That considerable interest was taken in this event was attested to by the fact that standing room was almost at a premium. The school orchestra provided the music for the evening, the principal, Mrs. C. E. C. Jenks, acting as chairman. The prizes were presented by two of the senior students, the Misses Adams and Bradley. The members of the primary department made their debut by the singing of a chorus which they rendered in a manner that would do credit to adults. The principal called for a report of the doings of the home and school organization which in the absence of the secretary was given by the chairman of the board, Mr. A. E. Smith. The election of officers resulted in Mrs. E. Ball being elected president, and Mrs. Geo. Smith secretary, and an executive composed of the members of the board staff and four citizens of the town. The scope of this organization is not as yet widely known, but with the impetus given it there, will probably be something doing the coming year. The principal informed the gathering that there was about twenty-five students who took their dinners to school and as a result they had to consume them cold, and she expressed the opinion that something should be done in the way of augmenting this cold lunch, suggesting soups, hot cocoa, etc., and stating that this was a challenge for service to a number of the local institutions. This started quite an impromptu debate, there being a touch of color to the evening's proceedings. That the idea was a good one was not doubted by any one out but how could it best be carried out was considerably discussed, pro and con, with the solution still lacking. The school outlook generally is especially bright, there has been quite a large influx of students with the result that all departments are at maximum. The secretary of the board has received the inspector's report for last year showing that Magog has made a most satisfactory showing compared with other years and with other schools.

SENATORS TO GAMBLE REMAINING CHIPS ON ZACHARY TODAY; BARNES OR NEHF TO TWIRL FOR THE GIANTS

Roger Peckinpugh, Veteran Shortstop, Whose Absence from Contest Was Again Sharply Felt in New York's 6 to 2 Victory Yesterday, Will Make Heroic Effort to Get Back in Battle Today—Series Has Been Full of Drama, But Most Touching Picture of Baseball History Was Drawn Yesterday When Ambition of a Lifetime Was Denied Walter Johnson.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Groggy and all cut up, Kid Washington, champion of the American League, engaged in a battle with the Gotham Giant, strong man of the National, for possession of baseball's fairest prize, the world's championship, is home today to expire or to live to fight another day.

Roger Peckinpugh, veteran shortstop, whose absence from the contest was again sharply felt in the Giant 6 to 2 victory of yesterday, will make a heroic effort to get back today to engage in the battle, which, if won by the Giants, will end the series at four games to two but which would tie up the issue at three games each and make another contest necessary if Washington wins.

Harris Won Toss
Manager Harris, immediately after yesterday's battle, won the toss and Washington was awarded the seventh battle if one is played. To clinch the series today, Manager McGraw will continue his successful left hand strategy, and use Arthur Nehf, who won the first game from Johnson, but whose hand, injured in that contest, prevented him from taking his regular turn yesterday. McGraw is of the opinion that Nehf will be able to start today, but stated that Virgil Barnes, who was knocked out Tuesday, will be given another opportunity if Nehf is not ready.

Zachary Will Be Washington's Selection
Manager Harris will gamble his remaining chips on Tom Zachary, whose curving magic baffled the Giants on Sunday until he weakened. If Tom repeats today and is good until the late innings, "Fip" Marberry will be rushed to the rescue, and McGraw, another post-sider, whose good pitching was a prelude to the second sensational victory, will be saved for the final.

The series has been full of drama and melodrama but the most touching picture of baseball history, probably, was drawn yesterday when the ambition of a lifetime was denied to Walter Johnson, a heroic figure, whose achievements and healthy influence will forever stand in relief on the frieze picturing the developments of the game.

After eighteen years of great hurling with a losing club, Johnson entered his first World's Series with the added glory of being named the most valuable player in his club in the American League. The entire country wanted to see Johnson win a World's Series game, and there were times when a variation of two feet in a batted ball would have ensured a victory.

"I couldn't hold them," Johnson said after the game. "I had two chances, but I couldn't come through; and I may not play next year."

Cloudless Skies Today

"Jimmy Can Always Bank On Me" Says Mascot, Faithful To The End To Disgraced Ballplayers

(By Gene Cohn)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—There is one whose faith in Jimmy O'Connell and "Cozy" Dolan is unshaken.

The whole work may point condemning fingers at the two Giant players, outlawed from the diamond on a bribe charge, but there is a 13-year-old kid, with a cap pulled well down over his eyes and with freckles marking a trail over his nose, upon whose loyalty to the finish you can bet your shirt.

That's Billy Craig—mascot to the Giant team!

For Billy, like all boy hero-worshippers, had built him a shrine and upon it were certain idols. In the eyes of tens of thousands these idols fell with a crash, but a very heartless Billy tries to pick up the pieces and fashion them together as he knew them.

It was "Cozy" Dolan who first noticed Billy hanging around the players' gate at the Giants' ball park.

Day after day the kid made a bee-line straight from school to the green fence that walls the famous Polo Grounds.

Then one afternoon "Cozy" winked at the kid, flipped a finger under the kid's hat and said: "Wanta get in?"

It was only a matter of days until Billy, became mascot to the Giants. That was four years ago.

And it was Jimmy O'Connell, the kindly, friendly young outfielder from the coast, who took Billy under his wing and made a real pal of the kid mascot. It wasn't so many years ago that Jimmy was a "sandler kid" himself, out in San Francisco.

In the winter months when members of the team barnstormed through the south Billy would go as guest of O'Connell and Snyder.

So you can understand why Billy Craig was a very heavy-hearted lad at a time when, as mascot of the National League leaders, he should have been the happiest kid in America.

But a fellow "has to be a man" under such circumstances and Billy had to pretend to be untouched by the double blow. If you're going to be a big leaguer some day, you've got to go right along no matter what happens.

"Gosh, I feel rotten about this! But I'll stick to Jimmy. He's my pal. Didn't he take me on the trip through the south with the team—him and Snyder. He's the best friend I had on the team. And Cozy's the fellow that first got me in. Can you beat it?"

Swatting a big catcher's glove for emphasis, Billy walked across the diamond, his head hanging and his eyes more than a little sad.

"I saw Jim in the clubhouse. Gosh, he looked sad! Sure, I told him to buck up. I don't know what to think. It don't make any difference what happens, he's my friend and I'm his."

But all the bravado in the world and all the gestures of loyalty couldn't hide the disappointment and the hurt that Billy's tone and look revealed.

plays: Rice to Johnson to Ruel; Bluege to Harris to Judge; Left on base: Washington 9, New York 8; Base on balls: off Bentley 3 (Ruel 2, McNeely), off McQuillan 1 (Tate), off Johnson 2 (Terry 2); Struck out: by Johnson 3 (Kelly 2, Wilson), by Bentley 4 (Harris, Rice, Goslin, Bluege), by McQuillan 1 (McNeely); Hit by pitcher: by Johnson (Young); Off McQuillan none in 7 2-3 innings; Hit by pitcher: by Johnson (Young); Winning pitcher: Bentley; Losing pitcher: Johnson; Umpires: Connelly at the plate, Klem at first, Dineen at second, Quigley at third; Time of game 2:30.

SITUATION IN IRAK REGION VERY SERIOUS

Stated that Turkey Has Ignored Two British Notes Regarding Invasion—No Further Clashes Reported.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The situation in the Irak region has become more serious, according to yesterday morning's newspapers, which assert that Turkey not only has ignored the two British notes regarding the invasion and maintained her invading force within the frontier, but has sent a considerable number of reinforcements, made up of regular troops, into the territory. No further clashes have occurred between the British and Turks.

"COZY" DOLAN

Billy Craig—happy in the friendship of Jimmy O'Connell, now a disgraced ball player.

"It don't seem natural that Jimmy isn't going along."

Billy didn't dare trust himself to look up at the Giants' clubhouse, which was but a dozen feet ahead.

In one of the windows, looking dismally out upon the diamond, was Jimmy O'Connell.

A round were the suitcases, the bats, gloves and blankets ready for the Washington trip. Out on the field the last practice was under way. And Jimmy was in blue street suit, and a light cap pulled over his eyes, now looking out the window and now looking disconsolately at the pile of baggage.

"If ever a fellow needed a friend—'Nope, it's pretty tough,' Billy continued. 'It's pretty hard to believe that there isn't a mistake somewhere. But Jimmy can always bank on me, no matter what happens.'"

"Sure, I've got to see the series through. The team comes first, always."

S.H.S. DEFEATED BY STANSTEAD IN RUGBY GAME

S. W. C. Squad Showed Marked Improvement Over Showing Made Here Ten Days Ago.

With a greatly improved secondary defence and an attacking squad which benefitted by their game with B.C.S. last Saturday, the rugby football team of Stanstead Wesleyan College defeated the visiting Sherbrooke High School team yesterday afternoon to the score of 21 to 6. The game was played at Stanstead.

Ten days had elapsed since the first time the two teams had come together to battle the four period to a no-score tie, and in the interval the S. W. C. aggregation had met and defeated the fast travelling B. C. S. team at Lennoxville while the S.H.S. boys had spent a period of enforced idleness owing to the postponement of their scheduled game with St. Lambert.

The weather for yesterday's encounter was far from ideal since rain had fallen almost steadily during the day. Both teams were without the players, S. H. S. having lost Austin Johnston, while S. W. C. were minus Captain Maule and Dave Reid, who are still nursing injuries received in the game with B. C. S.

Stanstead kicked off and from then to the final whistle held the play pretty well in their own hands. Smith kicked over the line but his kick was returned to center field where it was recovered by Sherbrooke. The city boys marched steadily toward the Stanstead line and soon scored a point when Harrison was grazed behind his own line. The quarter ended with S.W.C. in possession, the score being S.H.S. 1; S. W. C. 0.

Halpenny ran the ball down to the Sherbrooke end and then tried a drop. It was blocked but the ball bounded behind the line and W. MacGowan fell on it for S.W.C.'s first five points. Sherbrooke failed to make yards and shortly after this Smyth broke away on a pretty end run and placed the pig-skin between the posts, Harrison converted. Sherbrooke picked up at this point and just as the whistle blew fell on a loose ball behind the line and added five points to their score. Half time score: Stanstead 11; Sherbrooke 6.

The third quarter saw Stanstead using many substitutes, and after a series of backs and end runs in which nearly every player participated, Smyth was finally pushed over for his second touchdown of the game. The score at third quarter stood Stanstead 19, Sherbrooke 6.

The last quarter saw G. Johnson recover a fumble on the Sherbrooke line and Smith, who had just returned to the game after being off for a few minutes, carried the leather over for the last score of the game.

The Sherbrooke line was strong but their secondary defence could not cope with the offence of the S.W.C. boys, while the visitors rarely got past the home team's secondary defence.

The game was fast and clean and very few misplays were seen. The final score was S.W.C. 21; S.H.S. 6.

The teams lined-up as follows:
S.W.C.—J. Johnson, flying wing; Harrison, half back; Smyth, half back; Halpenny, half back; Arace, quarter back; Clark, snap; Arace, inside; W. MacGowan, inside; J. MacGowan, middle; Watson, middle; Hastings, outside; Stockwell, outside; Friedman, Carson, May, Reid, Noyon, Brownlee, Van Vleet.

S. H. S.—Sanger, flying wing; Duff, Cooke and Conley, half back; Pearson, quarter back; Keating, snap; Banks and Gough, inside; Lilly and Ranshouan, middle; Skinner and Lohrop, outside; Vessey, Russ, Montgomery and Loomis, spares. Referee, Mr. R. C. Amaron; Judge play, Mr. C. Tate.

E. T. TENNIS TOURNAMENT WILL BE HELD

Matches for Two Large Trophies to Be Played This Year in Sherbrooke—Entries Now Open.

Entries for the third annual Eastern Townships tennis tournament have been opened, and matches, it is expected, will commence on the courts of St. Francis Club on Saturday. In spite of the lateness of the season, it is felt that the tournament should be carried out, in view of the fact that the two trophies which were donated three years ago for annual competition are available. These are the large silver cup, known as the Daily Record trophy, which is emblematic of the Eastern Townships singles championship, and the silver cup donated by the St. Francis Golf Club, which is the trophy for the doubles competition. The names of the winners are each year inscribed upon a silver shield at the base of the cups, and the winners receive small individual cups as prizes. The present holders of the double championships are Messrs. Harris Kempner and Jack Walthour, who represented North Hatley in the matches played last year at East Angus. Mr. Harris Kempner also holds the Daily Record trophy for the singles title.

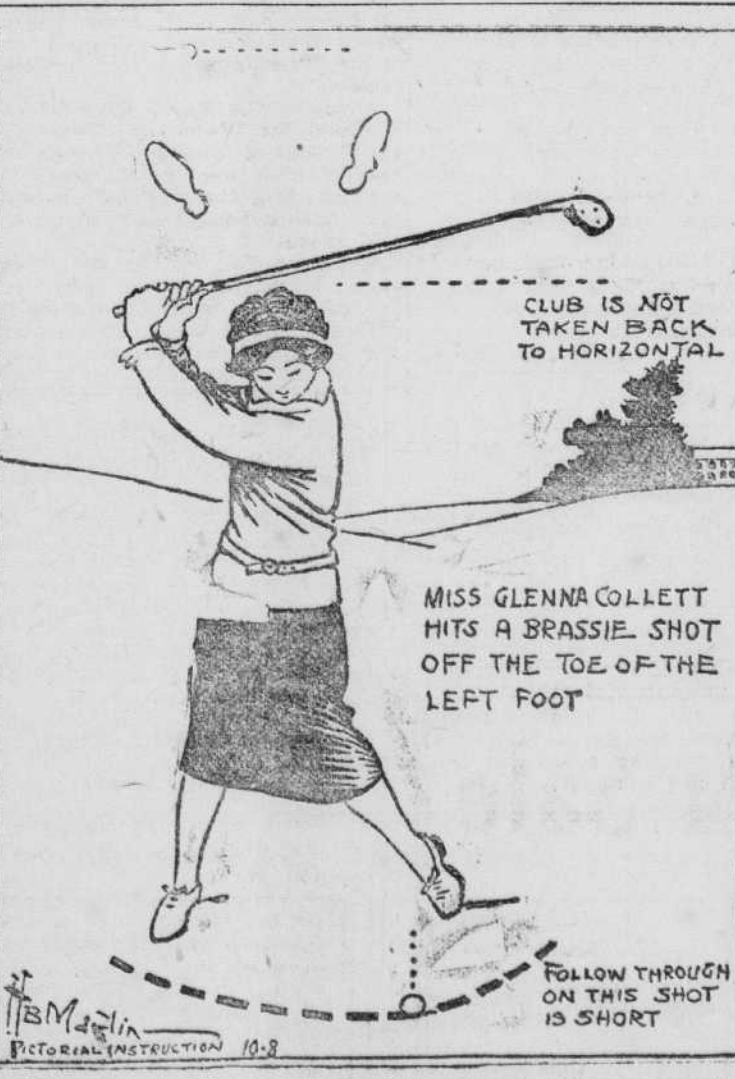

It is expected that entries will be received from representatives of several out of town clubs, since all residents of the Eastern Townships are eligible for the tournament. Entries may be sent to the secretary, Mr. A. W. Reid, telephone No. 730, or to Mr. A. L. Penhale, telephone No. 164.

MISS COLLETT DESCRIBES BRASSIE PLAY

Miss Glenna Collett has ideas of her own about the way a golf shot should be made. This picture shows the sensational young woman player about to hit a brassie shot. She describes the way she plays this club very well which shows that she has a thorough understanding of the game and the science of it.

Miss Collett does not take her brassie back as far as the horizontal, making for a compact swing. She plays the ball from a spot just off the left toe thereby picking up the ball as the club starts the upward swing. There is not much of a follow through needed in this shot so Miss Collett confines herself to letting the clubhead take the ball away. In other words she throws the club at the ball, picking it up cleanly in the upswing of the club.

In the South last winter, Miss Collett put her second shot onto the green of a hole that measured 560 yards. The brassie shot travelled even further than the drive and went true to the pin. She holed the twelve-foot putt for an eagle.

W. C. HODGSON TO JOIN LIQUOR COMMISSION

Will Succeed Sir William Stavert —To Represent the English-Speaking People.

QUEBEC, Oct. 9.—An order-in-council will be signed today providing for the appointment of Mr. Wm. C. Hodgson, of Hodgson, Sumner & Company, Ltd., dry goods merchants of Montreal, as member of the Quebec Liquor Commission, succeeding Sir William Stavert, whose resignation became effective in April last. In December last Sir William Stavert advised the Provincial Government that he would resign from the Quebec Liquor Commission because he had been asked by an important financial firm to look after its interests. At the request of the Government Sir William retained his position on the Liquor Commission until the beginning of February, having been granted six weeks' leave. However, at that time he decided to retire and left for England. A number of candidates were suggested for the vacancy his retirement had created on the board, but a few weeks ago Mr. Hodgson was finally chosen, and only details to be settled prevented the announcement of his appointment.

Sir William's successor will represent the English-speaking people on the Commission. With his appointment the Commission regains its full original membership, which was set at five by the original legislation. However, another commissioner may be appointed, as additional legislation, adopted at the 1923 session of the Legislature, provided for a sixth commissioner on the board. Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture, has manifested on several occasions his intention of retiring to take over the appointment. If such was the case, it is understood that he would become chairman of the Commission, succeeding Mr. Cordeau, who would act as legal adviser to the Commission.

where he was educated, led a somewhat mysterious life. When the South African war was on he enlisted in the "Devils Own" regiment. Later he eked out a hazardous existence on Fleet Street, and it is even rumored that for some time he was on the stage. He himself has confessed that he has known what it is to walk the London streets with hardly any boots on his feet and that he has gone for two days on one meal. However, since being called to the Bar twenty years ago, he has never looked back and has been unusually successful.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD

By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922 by Rafael Sabatini.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

CHAPTER XVII. (Continued.)

And so, back to Maracaybo came those defeated victors of that short, terrible fight. And if anything had been wanting further to exasperate their leader, he had it in the pessimism of which Calhoun did not economize expressions. Transported at first to heights of dizzy satisfaction by the swift and easy victory of their inferior force that morning, the Frenchman was now plunged back and more deeply than ever into the abyss of hopelessness. And his mood infected at least the main body of his own followers.

"It is the end," he told Captain Blood. "This time we are checkmated."

"I'll take the liberty of reminding you that you said the same before," Captain Blood answered him as patiently as he could. "Yet you've seen what you've seen and you'll not deny that in ships and guns we are returning stronger than we went. Look at our present fleet, man."

"I am looking at it," said Calhoun.

"Fish! You're a white-livered cur when all is said."

"You call me a coward?"

"I'll take that liberty."

The Breton glared at him, breathing hard. But he had no mind to ask satisfaction for the insult. He knew too well the kind of satisfaction that Captain Blood was likely to afford him. He remembered the fate of Levasseur. So he confined himself to words.

"It is too much! You go too far!" he complained bitterly.

"Look you, Calhoun: it's sick and tired I am of your perpetual whining and complaining when things are not as smooth as a convent dining-table. If ye wanted things smooth and easy, ye shouldn't have taken to the sea, and ye should never have sailed with me for with me things are never smooth and easy. And that I think is all I have to say to you this morning."

Calhoun flung away cursing, and went to take the feeling of his men.

Captain Blood went off to give his surgeon's skill to the wounded, among whom he remained engaged until late afternoon. Then, at last, he went ashore, his mind made up, and returned to the house of the Governor, to indite a truculent but very scholarly letter in purest Castilian to Don Miguel.

"I have shown your excellency this morning of what I am capable," he wrote. "Although outnumbered by more than two to one in men, in ships, and in guns, I have sunk or captured the vessels of the great fleet with which you were to come to Maracaybo to destroy us. So that you are no longer in case to carry out your boast, even when your reinforcement on the Santo Nino, reach you from La Guayra. From what has occurred, you may judge of what must occur if I should not trouble your excellency with this letter but that I am a human man, abhorring bloodshed. Therefore before proceeding to deal with your fort, which you may deem invincible, as I have dealt already with your fleet, which you deemed invincible, I make you, purely out of humanitarian considerations, this last offer of terms. I will spare this city of Maracaybo and forthwith evacuate it, leaving behind me the forty prisoners I have taken, in consideration of your paying me the sum of fifty thousand pieces of eight and one hundred head of cattle as a ransom, thereafter granting me unmolested passage of the bar. My prisoners, most of whom are persons of consideration, I will retain as hostages until after my departure, sending them back in canoes which we shall take with us for that purpose. If your excellency should be so ill-advised as to refuse these terms, and thereby impose upon me the necessity of reducing your fort at the cost of some lives, I warn you that you may expect no quarter from us, and that I shall begin by leaving a heap of ashes where this pleasant city of Maracaybo now stands."

The letter written, he bade them bring him from among the prisoners the Deputy-Governor of Maracaybo, who had been taken at Gibraltar. Dismissing his contents to him, he despatched him with it to Don Miguel.

His choice of a messenger was shrewd. The Deputy-Governor was of all men the most anxious for the deliverance of his city, the one man who on his own account would plead most fervently for its preservation at all costs from the fate with which Captain Blood was threatening it.

And as he reckoned so it befell. The Deputy-Governor added his own passionate pleading to the proposals of the letter.

But Don Miguel was of stouter heart. True, his fleet had been partly captured. But then, he argued, he had been taken utterly by surprise. That should not happen again. There should be no surprising the fort. Let Captain Blood do his worst at Maracaybo, there should be a bitter reckoning for him when eventually he decided—sooner or later, decide he must—to come forth.

The Deputy-Governor was flung into panic. He lost his temper, and said some hard things to the Admiral. But they were not as hard as the thing the Admiral said to him in answer.

"Had you been as loyal to your King in hindering the entrance of these cursed pirates as I shall be in hindering their going forth again, we should not now find ourselves in our present straits. So weary me no more with your coward counsels. I make no terms with Captain Blood. I know my duty to my King, and I intend to perform it. I also know my duty to myself. I have a private score with this rascal, and I intend to settle it. Take you that message back."

So back to Maracaybo, back to his own handsome house in which Captain Blood had established his quarters, came the Deputy-Governor with the Admiral's answer. And because he had been shamed into a show of spirit by the Admiral's own stout courage in adversity he delivered it as truculently as the Admiral could have desired.

"And is it like that?" said Captain Blood with a quiet smile, though the heart of him sank at this failure of his bluster. "Well, well, it's a pity now that the Admiral's so head strong. It was that way he lost his fleet, which was his own to lose. This pleasant city of Maracaybo isn't. So no doubt he'll lose it with fewer misgivings. I am sorry. Waste, like bloodshed, is a thing abhorrent to me. But there ye are! I'll have the faggots to the place in the morning, and maybe when he sees the blaze tomorrow night he'll begin to believe that Peter Blood is a man of his word. Ye may go, Don Francisco."

The Deputy-Governor went out with dragging feet, followed by guards, his momentary truculence utterly spent.

But no sooner had he departed than up leapt Calhoun, who had been of the council assembled to receive the Admiral's answer. His face was white and his hands shook as he held them out in protest.

"Death of my life, what have you to say now?" he cried, his voice husky. And without waiting to hear what it might be, he raved on: "I knew you not frighten the Admiral so easy. He hold us entrapped, and he knows it; yet you dream that he will yield himself to your impudent message. Your fool letter it have seal the doom of us all."

"Have ye done?" quoth Blood quietly, as the Frenchman paused for breath.

"No, I have not."

"Then spare me the rest. It'll be of the same quality, devil a doubt, and it doesn't help us to solve the riddle that's before us."

"But what are you going to do? Is it that you will tell me?" It was not a question, it was a demand.

"How the devil do I know? I was hoping you'd have some ideas yourself. But since ye're so desperately concerned to save your skin, you and those that think like you are welcome to leave us. I've no doubt at all that the Spanish Admiral will welcome the abatement of our numbers even at this date. Ye shall have the sloop as a parting gift from us, and ye can join Don Miguel in the fort for all I care, or for all the good ye're likely to be to us in this present pass."

"It is to my men to decide," Calhoun retorted, swallowing his fury, and on that stalked out to talk to them, leaving the other to deliberate in peace.

NEW YORK PRESS

MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Journal of Commerce.—Very little increase in activity showed itself in the stock market yesterday, and the prevalent opinion was that the pre-election dullness had set in uncommonly early, but with the prospect of continuing until after November 4.

New York Tribune.—There was no news of real import to change the situation. Further reports as to business conditions were favorable, but there was nothing so outstanding as to change the trend of recent days.

Wall Street Journal.—In a market of extreme dullness, stocks continued to register confidence over the economic outlook.

Wall Street Journal will say today—

Union Oil of California earnings higher. Nine months net $9.70 a share, compared with $8 a share in the 1923 period.

Phillips Petroleum stock well taken. All except 8,000 of the 370,133 shares offered subscribed for by stockholders.

Dome makes two important strikes. Steel operations gained in September. Bookings increased.

Southeast rails make best showing. Western Union earnings good.

Business good despite slowing up. American Can Foundry operating about 75 per cent. Business improving and satisfactory earnings expected.

FIRM TONE RECORDED ON WALL STREET EXCHANGE

(Associated Press Despatch.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Stock prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of today's market. With silver selling at the highest prices in two years, there was a good demand for stocks of copper companies that are large producers of silver metal.

Initial gains, however, were of a fractional nature. Public utilities and affiliated issues, which were sharply depressed yesterday, made partial recovery. General Electric rising a point and American Waterworks common 1/4.

MONTREAL POLICE INQUIRY

replied Mr. Lanctot.

"Here is a witness," ruled the court, "who pretends that certain colleagues in the detective office were against him—and I understand by jealousy that certain detectives wanted to hinder him in his pursuit of a man he thought to be the guilty party to prevent Lafoie from having to his credit such a case. That is the accusation. The evidence is allowed."

"But I have the right to call all those persons to whom the witness has referred, have I not?" asked Mr. Germain.

"Certainly," said the court.

"All right," said Mr. Germain with resignation. "We will make the trial of John here."

R. L. CALDER ON STAND

At the morning sitting of the court, R. L. Calder, K.C., was asked in regard to the Hicks affair. He testified that W. D. MacWorth, of the MacWorth Adjustment Bureau, who represented the insurance company, had told him of the offers made to the company whereby they could get their goods back on payment of $2,500. The offer had been from two different sources, he had been told, one from Chief Belanger and the other from Gonzague Savard, of the Dominion Detective Agency, now dead.

"I told MacWorth," said Mr. Calder, "that from the point of view of the public a trap ought to be set to get the men who made these offers. MacWorth said that was fine from the point of view of the public, but he represented an insurance company. That company would lose $7,000 or $8,000 if the trap did not succeed. In those circumstances, I told him he should see which of the groups was the better for him and fix up with them."

"I do not know what the final arrangement was, but I know that MacWorth treated with one of the groups for a sum of money, and I observed that the rugs were found, some days after the consultation, in a garage in the North End."

HOCHELAGA BANK HOLD UP

Mr. Calder, referring to the Hochelaga Bank hold-up, said that Detective Philippe Belanger had absolutely refused to tell him the name of the man who had informed him of the proposed plans to hold up the Bank of Hochelaga car, stating that he would prefer to go to jail rather than do so, so he had not put him in the witness box at the trial. He had not known at the time that Chief Belanger was informed of the name of the informer, and had learned that fact only yesterday by reading the newspaper reports of the investigation.

"I regret that the fact was not in the record," added Mr. Calder.

"No one has a right to play with a man's life like that. If we had known that we should have asked Falcon who informed him, and he would not doubt have mentioned Davie, and we would have taken other steps than those we did take. Davis has declared in his evidence on his own behalf that he told Falcon to tell the police. Falcon was questioned as a Crown witness. He revealed certain corroborations of the Crown's evidence, but did not reveal that fact. If Falcon had declared that fact, I would not have insisted against Davis as I did with the facts I had before me."

Mr. Calder told the story of the

The next most active issue was Laurentide, which held the same at 80, a new low on the present downward trend of the paper stocks. Price Bros. was also unchanged at 40, but Howard Smith was up a point on a single board lot transaction at 28. Spanish River, however, opened 1 1/2 points down at 103. The weakness of these stocks is thought to be the recent reduction to $70 per ton in the price of newsprint by the International Paper Company, although the cut was fully expected. Other leaders were quiet.

U.S. OFFICERS CHECKED TWO RUM-RUNNERS

Two Autos Carried Twenty Cases of Contraband — Bootleggers Made Getaway.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Oct. 9.—Some twenty cases of wine and beer were seized by the prohibition authorities and stores at Newport headquarters last Saturday night. Two cars, each containing two hundred and forty bottles, were seized at different points.

The first seizure was made by W. T. Degree, of the motor cycle corps, who was patrolling the Derby Line road. He spied a car coming in from the North Derby road, and thinking it looked suspiciously heavily loaded followed it and ordered a halt. The two men passengers hastily alighted and sped off under cover of darkness, leaving the booty to the finders. The machine was a Ford touring car bearing Massachusetts number plates and contained 240 bottles of Frontenac ale, which was brought to Newport along with the Ford.

The same night, near Hardwick, customs officers Lincord and Morse followed and caught up with a Packard car which they ordered to halt. The two men in the car paid no attention even when the rear tire was punctured by a shot from the officers, but proceeded some distance. The officers succeeded in passing the car, whereupon they put out their lights, stopped the machine and fled away in the night. This time they found 240 bottles of wine. The abandoned car and the wine were towed in to headquarters.

POINTS OF INTEREST ON THE TRIP FROM SHERBROOKE TO MONTREAL AS MAPPED OUT BY THE P. OF Q.T.A.

The Province of Quebec Tourist Association, which has been in existence for scarcely a year, has done a great deal in encouraging improvements in hotel accommodations through the province and in pointing out to strangers the beauties of trips through the province.

The association has worked out week-end itineraries which hold many points of interest.

The first of these itineraries concerning Sherbrooke directly is published today, and takes one through the magnificent Eastern Townships and the historical Southern Counties to the metropolis of Canada.

The object of these Route maps is to serve a twofold purpose: 1. Satisfy the desire of so many automobilists as to where to spend the weekend; 2. Let the efforts of the inn-keepers, who have followed the steady and untiring propaganda of the Association for the betterment of the hotel condition, be recognized.

This policy will be enlarged during the next season, the intention of the P.Q.T.A. being to publish in the early spring, in both local and foreign papers, a series of these itineraries, which will map out points of interest and give the hotel conditions, routes, etc.

This programme it is claimed, should encourage the hotel man who wishes to avail himself of the dull days of the coming winter, in making the necessary improvements to his establishment and thus bring it up to the standards of the Association so as to be prepared to grasp the tourist trade of next summer.

These trips are especially attractive even now and should appeal to the many automobilists of this city who should make at least a few of these trips before the present season is over.
