World News In Brief

Chicago, July 6. — (AP) — Richard Michalak, 25, whose snores irked his wife, now has no snores—and no wife. The wife, Florence, 20, won a divorce yesterday. The grounds—cruelty. Michalak actually lost his fight April 2 when he found his snore cure wouldn't win her back. She previously had told the court she would return to Richard if he'd get rid of those awful snores. Michalak's plight had won country-wide sympathy. He was deluged with suggestions and finally announced he had won out. But Mrs. Michalak changed her mind. She said she didn't want Richard back—snores or no snores. Yesterday Mrs. Michalak was awarded $20 a week support for the Michalak's one-year-old daughter, Cynthia.

Wiesbaden, Germany, July 6. — (AP) — A decoy radio signal from Prague may have lured two American jet fighter planes off their course into communist Czechoslovakia last month, United States Air Force officers disclosed today. The officers said reports of a fake signal from the Czech capital duplicating the guiding beam from Nuremberg, West Germany, "could well be true."

The pilots of the two planes, Lieut. Luther G. Roland and his Norwegian student pilot, Lieut. Bjorn Johansen, were released July 4 after four weeks detention in Czechoslovakia. The two had made forced landings at the field near Prague June 8. Roland told a press conference yesterday he had radioed the Nuremberg beam for some time before becoming completely lost.

United Nations, N. Y., July 6. — (AP) — American Delegate Warren R. Austin yesterday denied Communist-backed charges of atrocities by U. N. troops in Korea and called on Soviet Delegate Jakob Malik to make possible an impartial investigation. Austin replied in a letter to Secretary-General Trygve Lie to the atrocity charges made by commission of the Women's International Democratic Federation. These charges were circulated last month by Malik while he was president of the security council. "The charges contained in the paper are false," Austin said. "They were fabricated for the purpose of propaganda designed to discredit the United Nations effort in Korea."

Quebec, July 6. — (CP) — A dairy was fined $200 yesterday for selling margarine, banned under provincial legislation. Counsel for Laiterie Fortier of Levis, across the St. Lawrence river from Quebec, said the firm had given notice to government authorities it was selling margarine because butter could not be obtained.

Steps To Assure Safety Of Cease-Fire Negotiators Are Ordered By U.S. Commander

New Treaty With Japan Completed

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
 Washington, July 6. — (AP) — The proposed text of a Japanese peace treaty reached the final T-crossing stage today in the wake of reports that the United States is determined to see it signed this summer. The State Department began distributing a revised draft to 15 other countries which fought Japan in the Pacific war. All but one—the Soviet Union—have indicated they are ready to accept it. Only minor changes in wording are expected. If, as is expected, Russia refuses to sign, the announced plan of the other countries is to go ahead without delay. Informed officials here said yesterday that the committee is determined to get a final settlement this summer regardless of the outcome of cease-fire talks in Korea. However, the Japanese treaty won't go into effect until ratified, and for the United States, ratification may be delayed until after the next session of Congress opens in January. Two separate pacts, expected to be signed at the same time, are about ready. One is a treaty with Tokyo authorizing the United States to retain troops in and near Japan. The other is a three-power security arrangement among the U.S., Australia and New Zealand. This was designed with a view of the possibility that it might be broadened some day into a Pacific counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty of mutual defence. Officials said the revised draft of the peace treaty is not substantially different from the text which the United States distributed in March. It still provides for restoring Japan's independence and places no restrictions on Japanese rearmament or trade.

Allied Planes Ordered To Keep Away From Highway Down Which Red Envoys Will Travel To Conference

By OLEN CLEMENTS
 Tokyo, July 6. — (AP) — Allied planes today were ordered to keep away from the highway down which Communist negotiators will travel for cease-fire preliminary talks in Kaesong. Lt.-Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East air forces commander, issued the order a few hours after opposing commanders completed arrangements by radio for a Sunday meeting — and guaranteed safe conduct to the emissaries. The Communist delegation leaves Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital, at 5 a.m. Saturday (3 p.m. EDT today). The Communist convoy will fly white flags as it travels down the bomb-pocked Pyongyang-Sariwon-Namchongjom highway to Kaesong, three miles south of parallel 38. Weyland ordered his planes to make no attacks along the route after 4 a.m. Saturday (2 p.m. EDT today). The order carried out the pledge of safe conduct made earlier in the day by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U.N. commander. And it banned Allied bombers from one of their favorite targets — the highway is a main Red supply artery to the western front. Bombers and fighters also were ordered to make no attacks within a five-mile radius of Kaesong once the Red delegation reaches it. This carried out another pledge Ridgway made when he completed final arrangements for a meeting of three U.N. officers with three Red emissaries in the No-Man's-Land city. The two delegations meet Sunday to arrange for a cease-fire session scheduled to start in Kaesong Tuesday. The shooting will continue until an agreement is reached at the second meeting, and approved. Air scouts spotted half a dozen people in Kaesong today but couldn't tell whether they were Reds, allies or civilians. A U.N. patrol headed for the city for the third successive day while engineers swept mines from the "peace road" the U.N. delegation will travel if it goes by jeep. Forty-four U.N. planes blasted the Red stronghold on the Western front 20 miles northeast of Kaesong. It was one of three mass air strikes Friday. The others were by American jets on two Red airfields. One is 40 miles north of Pyongyang and the other 40 miles southeast of the Red Korean capital. Without firing a shot—or being shot at—an armored U.N. patrol rumbled up the Western side of the "iron triangle" to its tip and entered Pyongyang, 95 miles southeast of Kaesong. But another tank-led patrol was stopped by heavy fire on the east side of the triangle six miles from Pyongyang. East of the triangle Reds hurled three small counter-attacks at U.N. lines and engaged in periodic artillery exchanges. A single communist plane ushered in Friday's fighting. It dropped a few small bombs near Allied positions on the western front, about 30 miles from Kaesong. U.N. planes were back in the air on rocketing and bombing strikes after flying only 470 missions Thursday. "No significant action" developed on the ground, the U.S. Eighth army reported in its Friday morning communique, "and the front remained relatively quiet." U.N. naval forces carried the bombardment of Wonsan, east coast port and communications centre, into the 41st day. The U.S. destroyers Blue and Evans silenced communist shore batteries in a 75-minute artillery duel. The navy said no hits were scored by the Red guns. In general the roaring, killing war—that has cost the communists more than 1,000,000 casualties by U.N. estimates, and the Allies one-fourth that number—was at a virtual standstill. Sunday's meeting in Kaesong is only a preliminary step toward bringing it to an end. The communist delegation will leave the Pyongyang area at 5 a.m. Saturday (3 p.m. EDT Friday). It will travel in five jeeps and five trucks, each bearing a white flag. The Red route is down the main highway linking the Red Korean capital with Seoul, old South Korean capital and starting point of the U.N. delegation. Kaesong, ancient capital of Korea, is 85 miles southeast of Pyongyang and 35 miles northwest of Seoul. Allied emissaries will make the trip Sunday morning. They will travel by helicopter or jeep, depending on the weather. Gen. Kim Il Sung of North Korea and Gen. Peng Teh-Huai of Chinese Forces suggested the Allies travel by jeep regardless of the weather—"for their more certain safety and to cut down the possibility of misunderstanding."

Britain To Hold Talks On Rifles

London, July 6. — (AP) — Britain has agreed to a high-level talks with her Atlantic pact partners on whether the British army should adopt a new .28-calibre gun as its standard rifle. Defence Minister Ameyuel Shinwell told the House of Commons today the conference will take place "at an early date." Decision to start producing the new semi-automatic rifle was announced by Shinwell last month. There were immediate repercussions both here and among officials of the other Atlantic Pact countries, most of which use the standard .30-calibre rifle. Conservative Leader Winston Churchill complained that use of different-calibre guns would seriously complicate the ammunition supply problem of the pact partners in the event of war. Shinwell said Britain had agreed to the talks after being "approached" by other North Atlantic treaty countries. He did not name them. Shinwell said a joint military "working party" of the Atlantic powers has recommended a standard .28-calibre rifle for all treaty members. The recommendation has not been accepted by the United States, among other members. Defending Britain's decision to go ahead with the new gun, he said all of Britain's technical experts "agree that this is the best rifle yet produced or projected." The present British army rifle, the coil-action Lee Enfield, dates back to the Boer war and uses .30-calibre ammunition, the standard calibre of the United States, Canada and most other Atlantic Pact armies. The new semi-automatic gun is cocked and reloaded by the recoil of each shot. Shinwell said it would double the rate of fire. "No significant action" developed on the ground, the U.S. Eighth army reported in its Friday morning communique, "and the front remained relatively quiet."

Last Jap Force Is Repatriated

Tokyo, July 6. — (AP) — A Marine transport plane today catapulted 19 bewildered, Rip Van Winkle Japanese soldiers from the middle of the Pacific war into post-war Japan. Last Saturday they surrendered to the United States navy. They had held out on tiny Anatahan island in the Marianas for nearly six years after the war ended. They had insisted the war still was going on.

President Truman Joins In Denunciation Of Sentence

Washington, July 6. — (AP) — President Truman yesterday joined in the denunciations of Communist Czechoslovakia for imprisoning AP Correspondent William N. Oatis. Truman told his press conference he endorses a State Department statement, which said the conviction of Oatis on spy charges was a travesty on justice. Meanwhile, Senator Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) introduced a resolution expressing "profound indignation at the farcical arrest and conviction" of newspapers of the Western world published editorially criticizing the Czech Communist regime and the Voice of America called Czech President Klement Gottwald a "peace criminal" and bootlicker of Stalin. Oatis entered grim Pankrac prison to begin serving the 10-year sentence given by him Czechoslovakia on a charge of "spying out state secrets" while doing his job as a reporter. From Lincoln, Neb., Editor Raymond A. McConnell, Jr., of the Lincoln Journal wired a "confession" of complicity in Oatis' acts to the Voice of America asking that it be beamed to the Czech people. McConnell proposed that AP member papers flood Czechoslovakia with similar confessions of complicity. His own read, in part: "Mr. Oatis has confessed to nothing less than an honest newspaper man serving a free press anywhere would do." "Consider this my confession, on behalf of the Journal in Lincoln, Nebraska, an AP newspaper and proud of it, to being one of Mr. Oatis' thousands of accomplices on free newspapers."

Kaesong, Where Reds Want To Have Peace Parley

The Chinese and North Korean Communists' proposal that armistice negotiations with the UN take place in Kaesong sets the stage for the first important role Korea's ancient, former capital has had a chance to play in nearly 560 years. Kaesong was the capital for more than 3000 years, until the government was moved to Seoul in 1392. One of the first major Korean cities to fall when the North Korean Reds invaded last year, Kaesong has been almost a perpetual no-man's-land of the war. It has been in Allied hands only once—from last September to December—when the U.N. swept victoriously through North Korea before the Chinese intervention. South Korean guerrilla attacks in the area have denied it to the Reds.

In October, 1950, nearly all of Kaesong turned out to cheer troops of the 1st Cavalry Division as they swept through, chasing the Reds over the 38th Parallel. But . . .

. . . a couple of months later, the tide turned. The Chinese Communist hordes poured out of Manchuria and UN troops were forced into disastrous retreat. Here a retreating U. S. tank, loaded with G.I.s, passes through Kaesong, headed south.

Iran Rejects World Court Proposals To Delay Further Action In Oil Dispute

Tehran, Iran, July 6. — (AP) — Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh today turned down flatly the World Court's suggestion for a "freeze" in the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. He made his statement just after a British Embassy spokesman had warned that the British oil men will quit Iran if she refuses to abide by yesterday's court proposal at The Hague. The ailing Premier told students who visited his bedside: "We shall go ahead with nationalization. Iran is not prepared to recognize the jurisdiction of the World Court to make a ruling on a matter which is not within its competence." (In London, the British cabinet called an emergency session for this afternoon as the oil conflict moved toward a new crisis.) Mossadegh said the court "made recommendations exactly as required by the British government. It is a pity that strong nations are able to use international organizations to impose their will on small weak nations." The British Embassy spokesman said evacuation of all British oil men from the country was inevitable if the Iranians rejected the court's proposal. British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd is expected to see Iranian Foreign Minister Nasser Kazemi tomorrow to present the names of two British representatives to the joint conciliation board suggested by the court. The International Court of Justice sitting at The Hague proposed yesterday that Britain and Iran agree on an interim plan for keeping Iran's oil flowing until the court reached a decision in the bitter dispute. Much of Iran's oil production goes into Europe's defence effort. Iran rejected the court proposals while British officials termed the court's proposals "very welcome to us."

World Trade Unions Plan On Expansion

Milan, Italy, July 6. — (AP) — The International Confederation of Free Trade Unions today began drafting a program for teaching workers in backward areas how to organize unions. A committee of the I.C.F.T.U. already has recommended that some $700,000 a year be spent on the program, which will be carried out by regional offices to be established in Africa, Asia and the Middle East. A. Phillip Randolph, president of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, led off the debate in the I.C.F.T.U. congress here today with an address on behalf of the "North American bloc" of C.I.O., A.F.L., United Mineworkers and the six Canadian delegates, who represent the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Congress of Labor. He assailed the speeches of some delegates yesterday for "impugning the motives" of U.S. and Canadian trade unionists. One speaker yesterday, Pakistan's Aftab Ali, criticized what he called the "paternalistic attitude" of British and American unions in sending missions to Asian countries.

New Claims To Bomb By Argentina

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor
 New York, July 6. — (AP) — Argentina's H-bomb scientist yesterday replied to critics in a magazine article, expressing surprise at the criticism and urging western atomic scientists to co-operate in Argentina's studies. Many scientists had said the claims were impossible. The article, by Ronald Richter, was published in the United Nations World Magazine, a private publication not officially connected with the United Nations. The magazine commented that Richter's "implications are extremely significant." It did not amplify. Richter and President Peron of the Argentine announced last March 24 attainment of a great and hitherto-unrealized scientific goal. This was production of thermonuclear reactions. That means use of great heat (possibly millions of degrees) to cause atoms to fuse together. This fusion produces a new, different and heavier atom. It also releases a vast store of heat over and above the heat used to do the fusing. Because this fusion is the secret of the H-bomb the Argentine announcement was credited as a possible H-bomb step. Because Richter said Argentina knows how to make an A-bomb, the announcement was also credited as a possible A-bomb development. Both Peron and Richter said the Argentine does not plan to make any bombs. As in his March announcement, Richter today did not tell enough for his claims to be found either right or wrong. He says the Argentine process uses materials that no country can monopolize by controlling the raw materials. Richter says also he is working on high-temperature physics and tells of producing "zones" of tremendous heat. Such zones are not theoretically impossible, but no one else has published claims of attaining them.

Tokyo, July 6. — (AP) — Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, yesterday called for a world peace based on a buildup of strength by free countries and "not a mere peace of surrender or appeasement." The twice-defeated Republican Presidential nominee said the United States was not afraid of the "continuing threat of warlike communist aggression" because of its industrial might. He said that through unity and a buildup of "overwhelming strength" the free world may look forward to the "gradual exhaustion and disintegration of the communist forces of slavery and aggression." In a speech before the America-Japan Society and for broadcast to the U.S., he said the U.S. "will never be the one to start a war in any conceivable set of circumstances."

Royal Couple Expected To Start Trip In September

By ALAN HAPVEY
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 London, July 6. — (AP) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh probably will sail for Canada in the last week of September, a spokesman for the Princess said today. Arrangements are still in the elementary stage, the informant said, but it seems likely that the Royal Couple will cross the Atlantic in a Canadian Pacific liner, possibly the Empress of France or the Empress of Canada. The Empress of France sails from Liverpool Tuesday, Sept. 25, and the Empress of Canada leaves a week later. It was also learned that Elizabeth and Philip are considering a suggestion, understood to have been made by External Affairs Minister Pearson, that part of the Royal tour in Canada should be made by plane. "The idea is that an aircraft should be used to cover some of the vast distances that would be encountered in Canada," the spokesman said. "Then, when it came to a section of particular scenic or historic interest, the party would travel by train." "We are considering the idea, but no decision has been reached. It is far too early to say." From a court official in daily touch with the Princess, it was learned that Elizabeth always has been "very keen" to see Canada's west coast—perhaps because of the glowing accounts brought back from British Columbia by the King and the King's former assistant private secretary, Sir Alan Lascelles. The King and Queen visited Canada in 1939. It was also suggested here that Elizabeth will be specially interested in French Canada. She speaks French fluently and has a special interest in French culture. Two Canadian Highland regiments, the 48th Highlanders and the Argyll Sutherland's, are sure to see the Princess, who is their honorary colonel-in-chief. She is also honorary colonel-in-chief of Britain's Grenadier Guards, and thus has an indirect connection with Canada's Grenadiers. "The Princess has a direct personal link with the two Highland regiments, and it's safe to say she will be seeing them at some point in the tour," an informant said. It is understood there was a "considerable discussion" before the Royal Couple decided to accept the invitation to visit Canada. There is no "master plan" for the Royal visits, and a spokesman said it seemed natural that Canada as the oldest of the Dominions would have a prior claim. The only other Dominion Princess Elizabeth has visited is Africa. Early in 1947, she accompanied the King and Queen and Princess Margaret on the first visit ever paid by a reigning sovereign to the Union and to the adjoining British territories. Canada received the first Royal visit of the reign, in 1939, and it is likely that if Princess Elizabeth were making a tour with the King and Queen some other Dominion would have been chosen. At Buckingham Palace today, a spokesman said "absolutely nothing" has been arranged regarding the Royal tour. The spokesman said the Palace is waiting for a program to be submitted by Canada, after which some information might be available.

Relief Workers Caring For Homeless In Cap Chat Fire

Cap Chat, Que., July 6. — (AP) — Forty-four families dispossessed by fire, today picked up the loose strings of their disorganized lives from the shelter of relatives' and friends' homes. About 250 residents of this Gaspé peninsula fishing and lumbering town were left homeless yesterday when fire destroyed 37 dwellings, a store and a small wood-work factory. During the night, firefighters from Rimouski and Mont Joli completed the work of stamping out smouldering ruins that left a gaping hole on the west side of this town of 2,500 population. Mayor Gerard Cote, who estimated the loss at $300,000, said he was preparing a reconstruction plan to be submitted to the Provincial Government for assistance. He gave no details. Meanwhile, the Red Cross and volunteer Cap Chat residents set up relief headquarters in a boy's college. Each homeless man, woman and child today received a voucher worth $1 to purchase food. Supplies were plentiful. This aid will be continued "for a few days," a Red Cross official said. Beds and blankets for 100 persons arrived from Quebec during the night and were distributed to persons in need. Last night, all the homeless were taken in by friends and relatives, eliminating the need of communal dormitories. Plans were being made to house 10 families in classrooms of the college if the need arises. Except for the odd family, all wooden dwellings that were eaten by the wind-driven flames in 4½ hours. The fire started in the former home of Euclide Gosselin who had converted the building into a store. Rev. Charles Parent said "at first it looked like an ordinary fire in a store."

"Vilas 20-Year Club"

The above photo was taken at the second annual dinner of the "Vilas twenty-year club" held recently in the New Ottawa Hotel in Cowansville. This club was founded last year by the company to recognize the loyalty and devotion of all employees, who have had twenty or more years' continuous service with the firm. Thirty-five club members attended the dinner. The Vilas Furniture Company employs 300, of which 42 are club members, representing some 1,154 years of total service. Twenty-eight gold pins were presented during the evening and guest speakers included: C. A. Robinson, company president; H. Dyson Hawke, production manager; K. L. Hollywood—Hollywood vs. television: A theater in west Los Angeles has put up this permanent marquee sign: "ESCAPE FROM TELEVISION." Don't be surprised if Paul Douglas plays Mack Sennett, and Jan Sterling dons a black wig as Mabel Normand in Paramount's "The Keystone Girl." chaise longue and then, his amazement not diminishing, the beautiful notes of Brahms' Violin Concerto in D Major sounded in the quiet Sierra canyon.

It was several selections later—Tchaikowski's Romeo and Juliet overture—that Wag got out of his hammock, walked up the trail and climbed the steps to the little green cabin. The girl sat upright, looking a little purple.

"Pardon me," said Wag. "I couldn't help listening to your music. It is wonderful."

"I'm glad you like it," she said. Her voice itself was musical, Wag reflected. She had spark like her hair. They invited him to sit down as the record player automatically changed to Ravel's Bolero.

They listened to a few more classics and then talked about Stravinsky and Gounod and Wagner and others and both realized they were hungry. It was just past noon and the girl—her name was Joan Greene—insisted that she be allowed to raid her own refrigerator. She had the small table on the porch and brought out plates of cold chicken sandwiches, salad and, when she learned Wag thought it was a swell idea, some bottled beer. Let us skip the next few weeks other than to say that Wag and Joan saw each other daily, fished and hiked and listened to the great composers together, tried to outdo each other in the simple culinary art of the high country, and fell in love. They decided they were meant for each other, even if he was a vagabond musician (his income tax, though, was shuddering to think about come March 15th of each year; San Figaro paid top salaries, and he had to, as he had only top players in his name band). resign her teaching job in La Mesa, and would travel with him, come fall.

One evening, seated by the fire in Joan's cabin and enjoying Beethoven's celebrated "Fifth," she suddenly switched off the machine, rummaged in a book of records, and came up with half a dozen which she put on. Wag was amazed and a little shocked; it was a Figaro recording. Then he spotted his own violin, and somehow it pleased him. He glanced at Joan and saw that she was quietly sobbing. He went over and sat on the arm of the chair and put his arm around her.

"What's the matter, honey?" he asked anxiously. She continued to sob, then said, "I'm a sham, just a phony," and it was a moment before she continued. "Just a phony, Wag. I've been in love with you since I was on my first date at a little place in the Valley. Since then, I've gone dozens of times to see and hear you. I was at El Tovar the other night. "When I rented this cottage, Mrs. Smith wrote me about you and how you loved classical music. I boned up at the library and bought these highbrow records. They're much beyond me, I like your dance music best."

"I adore melodies and moony love songs and tunes I can beat time to. Now," and her gentle crying took on a new pathos, "I suppose it's all off between us."

Wag bent over and kissed her. "Darling," he murmured, "you're my kind of a phony. Listen, and from the machine came the familiar "Dancing in the Dark."

"Hear that violin," he said, and it must be admitted there was smugness in his voice. "Hear it? That's not so bad, is it?" Joan looked up at him her eyes bright and joyous. "It's simply grand," she said, snuggling close to her man.

S. P. C. A. Inaugurates Local Tag Days; Hopes To Build Shelter For Animals

While this is the time of year for frolicking on the front lawn with one's dog or cat, strange as it may seem, the summer is the time of year when household pets are apt to be abandoned when the residents go on their annual holidays.

The Sherbrooke branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which today and tomorrow is conducting tag days in aid of the Society, urges that pets not be left behind without someone to care for them.

"Don't, when you go on holidays for the summer months or for a shorter period, leave your dog or cat behind on the doorstep," the Society urges.

"The animals then join the bands of strays in alleys and streets, half-starved and often carrying communicable diseases."

The S.P.C.A. advises owners to board their pets with willing neighbors or with veterinarians who have facilities for them, or others who have made a hobby of the care of animals.

S.P.C.A. Inspector Frank J. Thompson recommends that local citizens leaving on vacation shelter their pets with Dr. L. A. Gendreau, veterinarian, at 67 Wellington street south, or with Noble Smith, of Lennoxville, who has for a long time made the care of animals his hobby.

Unlike more favored cities, Sherbrooke has no S.P.C.A. animal shelter of its own, it never has had one. At such shelters many more animals could be protected during their owner's absence.

With more public support, part of which the S.P.C.A. hopes will be shown during the tag days today and tomorrow, the Society would like to appoint a regular dog-catcher.

The dog-catcher could tour Sherbrooke in a truck, ridding the streets of stray animals, not only for reasons of health but to stop an embryo black market in stray dogs which the Society feels is developing in this district.

At a shelter for animals, which the S.P.C.A. hopes to obtain with more public support, registered animals could not only be protected but disease-ridden strays could be disposed of humanely.

At such a shelter, the Society points out, citizens wishing to buy a pet would have their pick of the many animals rounded up by the animal catcher, by paying only the license fee, the S.P.C.A. hopes would go into Society funds to help the S.P.C.A. carry on its work.

Citizens purchasing the little plastic Scotty dogs on the tag days today and Saturday can rest assured that all the proceeds go into the funds for the S.P.C.A.'s work. The younger taggers are rewarded only with a free junior membership for one year in the S.P.C.A.

The adult taggers are volunteers who do the work only because they are fond of animals and know that the S.P.C.A. is the only organization which speaks for those who cannot speak for themselves.

Final Tribute Accorded To Miss Cohoon

Miss Mary Anne Cohoon, of this city, was laid to rest yesterday following a service at Johnston's Funeral Home, Rev. Norman McLeod and Rev. R. C. Tait officiating. Professor R. Havard was at the organ.

The deceased, who passed away at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. T. F. L. Cohoon, after having been confined to bed for a week, was in her 81st year.

She was well-known to many of the older residents of Sherbrooke and the district, having taught school in Eustis for several years. Upon her retirement she took up residence with her brother, the late Thomas F. L. Cohoon, in Sherbrooke, remained with him after his marriage some 49 years ago, and with Mrs. Cohoon following his death.

Left to mourn her loss is her sister-in-law, Mrs. T. F. L. Cohoon, of Sherbrooke, and several nieces and nephews, among them Mrs. Stewart Snow, and William Cohoon, both of Lennoxville; Douglas Cohoon, of Arvida.

Bearers were Ray Stevenson, H. McCullough, W. McCullough, Arthur Slack, Stewart Snow and William Cohoon.

Interment was in Malvern Cemetery.

Three Hundred Attend Picnic Of E.T. Natives In Ontario

By MRS. WILLIAM PEAK
 Guelph, Ont., July 6. — In spite of adverse weather conditions in the first half of the day, the 1951 Picnic for the E. T. Get-Together Club was held Saturday, June 29th, on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Locke, Guelph, Ontario, and was a definite success. Well over three hundred visitors attended, a substantial increase over last year's picnic.

From early morning showers or heavy rain fell prevalent throughout Southern Ontario and it was thought it would be necessary to postpone the picnic. However, a number of hardier travelers arrived at the farm during the morning and two families had arrived the night before, hoping the weatherman would relent. Their hopes were realized, for about eleven o'clock the rain stopped and skies began to clear.

By noon the lawn beside the farm house was dried sufficiently to allow tables and chairs to be placed out and there the earlier visitors enjoyed their lunch, while cars continued to arrive and drive down to the parking space in the meadow.

Though the groves beside the Speed River were too damp to be used during the day, the large cleared meadow dried quickly as sun and light breeze did their good work, and it was soon filled with groups of visitors happily chatting with old friends from the E. T. The lines of parked cars grew steadily as families arrived from Windsor, Niagara Falls, Fergus, London, Newmarket, St. Catharines, Simcoe, Brantford, Toronto, Welland, Hamilton and many other places.

Representation was not confined to Ontario, as among the guests were some who had journeyed from as far as Sawyerville and East Angus, arranging their holiday trips so as to include this E. T. Picnic, in hopes of meeting many old friends now residing in Ontario. Also, from south of the border came former residents now residing in Detroit, Michigan, and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Visitors were given prizes for pin to coat or dress, giving their names, Ontario homes and their old homes in Quebec. Going from group to group one noticed names long familiar in the E. T., such as Paxton, Hobbs, Dunbar, McHarg, Burns, Sarasin, Warren, Reynolds, Nutbrown, Levesaur, McVeety, Atto, Fleck, Howe, Noble and many others.

During the afternoon two teams were organized for baseball games, players exchanging places with others as they dropped out to visit with old friends. Several contests were arranged for adults, but it has been found that their real interest is in contacts with old friends, chatting, visiting, reminiscing. Races for the younger folks in various groupings were won by Lawrence Windup, Bruce and Douglas Wells, Billy and Joe Huddleston, Patsy, Betty-Ann and Michael Locke, Margaret and Linda Smith, and Laurel Forgrave.

The ladies' shoe kicking contest was won by Mrs. Molly Huddleston, with Mrs. S. Dunbar a close second, while Mrs. Olive Corbett and son, Victor, took the Lucky Spot prizes. A prize for the man "with the longest name" went to Mr. Charles Reppington. Prizes for the "oldest lady" and "oldest gentleman" went respectively to Mrs. S. J. Pressy and Mr. George Liddell. Mr. Liddell, still a very active man and mentally alert despite his 83 years, makes his

T. Broadbent Of Magog Dies Suddenly

Magog, July 6. — Funeral services for Thomas Broadbent will be held Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in St. Paul's United Church. Mr. Broadbent passed away suddenly yesterday at the summer cottage of his brother-in-law at Wright's Beach. He was 67 years of age.

A native of Montreal, where he received his education, Mr. Broadbent came to Magog in his youth and worked for the former Dominion Cottons Company which later was incorporated into the Dominion Textile Company.

He remained with Dominion Textile until his retirement a year ago, having served as overseer of the company's plants at Magog, Montreal and Sherbrooke.

He was one of the best known textile weavers of Magog.

Among the survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Grimme, of Montreal, and Mrs. Rodney Walker, of Magog. His wife, the former Bertha Robinson, of Cornwall, predeceased him a year ago.

Interment will be at Pine Hill Cemetery, Magog.

Farm Unions Seek Government Aid To Ease Critical Labor Shortage

Ottawa, July 6. — (CP) — Eastern Canadian farmers are experiencing the greatest farm labor shortage in peacetime history, eastern farm representatives said today.

Meeting with the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the representative urged:

1. The problem be placed before the National Advisory Committee on Manpower for "serious study" to find some way of easing farm labor pressure.
2. The Immigration Department be asked to get more farm labor from other countries, screening immigrants more effectively for "suitability and dependability." In many cases, said the group, immigrants directed to Canadian farms soon deserted rural life for the city and the factory.
3. R. A. Stewart of Almonte, Ont., presiding over the meeting, said the big problem in farm labor was that the fighting forces and defence industry were draining off large numbers of young farmers.

Food production, he added, must be considered a vital feature of the nation's emergency program. The government therefore had a responsibility in assisting farmers in getting sufficient and suitable farm help.

Represented at the meeting were farm co-operatives of Ontario and Quebec, the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Union of Catholic Farmers of Quebec, the Quebec Co-operative Federate and Maritime Agriculture Federations.

20-Dollar Fine For Throwing Grass In Street

Because of recent complaints, City Hall has found it necessary to tell citizens of Sherbrooke that there is a law forbidding the throwing into city streets of grass cut from their lawns, or other rubbish.

Not only does this practise render the streets unsanitary and dirty, but it also blocks the catch basins, causing damage.

The Police Department has received instructions to stop this practise by bringing all violators of this by-law into Recorder's Court.

Violators of this by-law (number 124, passed in 1888) are liable to a maximum fine of $20.

The by-law reads, in effect, that no occupants of any houses, buildings, etc., of this city shall throw any grass or other refuse or stinking water into any streets, and squares of this city.

More Changes In RCAF Command

Ottawa, July 6. — The R.C.A.F. today announced that it has switched control over its air force organization in Vancouver from North West Air Command at Edmonton to Air Defence Command, St. Hubert, Que.

The Vancouver segment of the R.C.A.F. is having its name switched, too, from group headquarters to 12 Air Defence Group Headquarters.

The move said the R.C.A.F. is the result of a general shift in Western Air Force organization already announced. On Aug. 1 North West Air Command at Edmonton becomes known as the Tactical Air Group, and the Winnipeg R.C.A.F. group becomes known as 14 Training Group, headquarters, Winnipeg will take over functional control over new training stations being formed in Western Canada.

The Vancouver group will continue under the command of Group Capt. J. A. Easton, 42, of Brockville, Ont., and will be responsible for general air operations in that area.

Opposes Uniform Dress For Kids

London, July 6.—(AP)—The trade journal Tailor and Cutter came out fighting today against a plan to dress all British children exactly alike.

Sir William Darling made the proposal in the House of Commons Tuesday. The Conservative member said putting all kids in a "standard uniform" up to the age of 14 would sharply cut the cost of clothing them in these days of soaring prices. Furthermore, he said, the kids would love it.

"Unfair!" boomed Tailor and Cutter, the Bible of the British tailoring industry. Editor John Taylor added in an editorial: "Sir William argues that children do not want to look different from each other. 'He is probably right, for children inevitably struggle against doing what is good for them... Children would also like to smoke, and stay up until four o'clock in the morning, and live on jam. But it has been generally recognized that such natural instincts are best discouraged.'"

Wellington, N.Z., July 6.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Sidney Holland told the House of Representatives today the New Zealand Government had not considered sending token military forces to the Middle East or any part of the world.

He was commenting on a London report that the New Zealand and Australian governments were considering joining South Africa in supplying token force to the Middle East.

Urges Britain Rush Atom Study

London, July 6.—(Reuters)—The Times today suggests it might be best for Britain to turn its Department of Atomic Energy into a separate directorate responsible to Parliament.

The editorial followed resignation of Lord Portal, Atomic Energy Controller, announced in the House of Lords last night. "This Country," says The Times, "took the decision in the war to leave the production of atomic weapons for the time being to the United States—not merely a sound decision at the time but the only possible decision in the circumstances."

"It did not follow that Britain would not return to the attempt in peace-time. Indeed the government made known in 1948 through the Minister of Defence that 'all types of modern weapons, including atomic weapons, are being developed.'"

Whatever the military failures or successes of the Department of Atomic Energy, it is industrially vital that this work, experimentally, as well as productively, for peaceful uses should not lag behind the work done elsewhere.

Steps to Assure

The communist suggestion they travel by road may have been an admission of their poor communications. Led prisoners taken in recent days on some sectors had not heard about the armistice talks. Red radios have said poor communication was the reason Kim and Peng didn't agree to holding the meetings earlier as Ridgway had suggested.

The Red general's message Friday said "we undertake to assure a safe conduct" of the N. N. delegation.

In contrast, Ridgway flatly assured the Communist commanders their "convoy will be immune from attack by my forces."

Ridgway also guaranteed that the area within five miles of Kaesong will be respected as a neutral zone from the moment the Communist representatives arrive.

Each delegation will consist of three officers, two interpreters and necessary attached personnel such as drivers.

The Communist emissaries include one colonel. Reliable reports said Ridgway would be represented by three colonels—a marine, an airman and a South Korean.

Ridgway's headquarters said news coverage of the Kaesong meetings will be limited to official communiques. A daily communique will be issued if necessary evening (last morning in Canada) summarizing the day's developments. Supplemental communiques will be issued if necessary.

Without explanation, work has halted on preparation of a U. N. peace train in Seoul. It stood lonely, deserted and locked in Seoul's battered railway station.

Last Lap Force

A battery of scrambling cameras gave the 19 men a hectic welcome. In glum silence they stared at flashing light bulbs and grinding cameras.

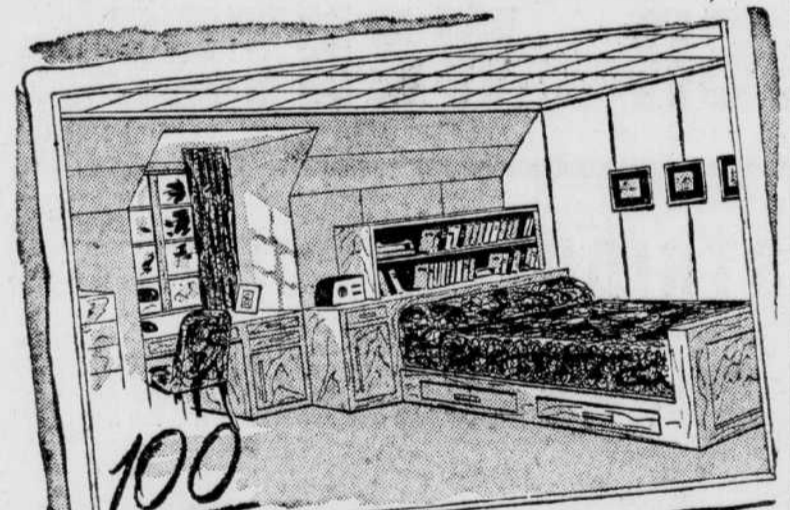

All but two had their hair cropped, in the style of the old Japanese Imperial Army. They wore United States army boots and khaki trousers.

All seemed healthy, tanned to a dark brown. Questioned on their feelings about reaching Japan, they replied "Happy." A soft light kindled in their eyes as they answered. Then they turned away and lapsed into silence, as if afraid to talk.

The Doctor Says

EARLY DIAGNOSIS OF POLIO IS AID IN PATIENT'S RECOVERY
By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Children are more susceptible to polio than grown-ups though the disease can and sometimes does strike those in their mature years. But parents have a special responsibility to watch their youngsters for any sign of illness which might possibly be polio since early diagnosis and treatment may mean a good deal for the outcome.

If there are several cases of polio in the community it is wise to be particularly cautious. The first signs of the disease may be similar to those of any other infection: low fever, headache, dizziness, irritability and similar vague symptoms are common. Many youngsters who develop such signs will not have polio but it is better to be sure than sorry. Slight stiffness of the neck is quite common in polio but parents should not make an imaginative child too conscious of the importance of a stiff neck.

In other words, it is the doctor's responsibility, not the parents', to make a diagnosis and all that the parents should do is to get medical help if they even suspect anything serious might be wrong. Actually a definite diagnosis may be difficult or impossible during the first few days. Signs of muscle weakness in polio or other sure evidences of the disease usually do not show up for several days after the first symptoms. It may be impossible to tell until that time. However, the rest in bed and general care which can be given early, and the isolation from other youngsters which should be enforced, are all to the good.

There is a form of the disease known as bulbar poliomyelitis in which difficulty in breathing is the most important symptom and which often appears early. This is the kind in which the so-called iron lung is used. This instrument is designed to make breathing possible during the time when nature is unable to accomplish it.

Although newspaper readers are all familiar with stories of people who have lived for years in a respirator or iron lung, in most cases the need does not last very long. Most of those with this form of polio are really lucky because the paralysis clears up entirely and they frequently have no other effects.

The treatment of early polio has already improved enormously with the use of hot-wet packs and other measures. It is continuing to improve. With early diagnosis and prompt treatment an enormous number of those stricken with polio are recovering completely or so nearly so that they have little or no trouble leading normal lives in later years.

Helicopters Are Here to Stay

HELICOPTERS WERE USED TO ADVANTAGE IN WORLD WAR II IN THE SPOTTING OF ENEMY SUBMARINES.

WHEN BIGGER AND BETTER HELICOPTERS ARE BUILT I'LL BE DOING THE BUILDING.

U.S. AVIATION HAS ACCEPTED THE HELICOPTER AS A FULL-FLEDGED COMPONENT OF THE FORCE—MORE THAN 500 HAVE BEEN ORDERED.

BY I. R. HEGEL

IT WAS not so long ago that helicopters were thought to be fading out of the aviation picture, just like horses left the highways. Now, even in our jet propelled era, helicopters are serving a purpose and filling an ever-increasing need.

A recent issue of PLANES states that "helicopters have become a full-fledged component of United States aviation, evidenced most strongly by the fact that more than 500 helicopters have been ordered by the military services. The Navy is pushing the development of the helicopter for anti-submarine work; the Army plans helicopter transport companies, the Marine Corps has adopted the 'copter for assault landings to move in troops, weapons and supplies."

All of which means that the helicopter is moving up on the career horizon of many young people in both military and civilian life.

THE history of the flying windmill goes back over the centuries to a Chinese toy. This particular toy was a top that flew, having two air screws revolving in opposite directions, producing a brief upward ascent in what we call "vertical flight" today.

Sir George Cayley of England saw pictures and diagrams of this Oriental top and began experimenting with the idea, producing the first helicopter to carry a man.

From England, the idea continued developing in the countries of Italy, Germany, Austria, France, Russia and the United States.

By 1922, the United States Army was building its first helicopter, a weird-looking craft having four six-bladed rotors and eight propellers. After spending $200,000 on the experimental plane, "experts" pronounced the helicopter impractical because it could not reach enough height for full control. Once more research and the building of helicopter models continued in America and abroad. Then along came the autogiro, the gyroplane, the heli-copter and the convertiplane, all growing out of the rotor idea of the helicopter.

All these different types of helicopters were used commercially and privately for mapping, for spraying, for stringing telephone wires, for delivering mail, for taxi service from airport to city, for pipe and power line control, for police and traffic and patrol work, for freight hauls, for exploration, for hospital service, for emergency rescues and even for vacations on hunting and pleasure jaunts.

The Korean War suddenly featured the helicopter in flashing prominence. Many lives were saved in combat by the Third Air Rescue Squadron. The 'copter also was used to direct artillery fire and fighter planes, and to drop men and weapons in strategic spots. One machine evacuating wounded landed safely with 50 bullet holes in it.

IN view of these facts, it looks as if many boys of tomorrow will be flying helicopters. Because it goes in so many directions, the helicopter is not easy to handle. One control must be used while another must be adjusted. Notwithstanding these drawbacks, a helicopter remains a safe craft in which to learn flying. When an engine quits a clutch will release the rotor blades and they continue spinning by air pressure, landing safely.

To take a first flight in a heli-

Mr. J. M. Wood journeyed to Montreal on Monday, accompanied by his small grandson, John, who remained in the children's Memorial Hospital for observation.

The St. Etienne de Bolton Electricity co-operative has completed two new power lines, one to the home of Mr. Geoffrey Staines and the other to the home of Mr. Douglas Staines.

The senior grades of the Intermediate School held their annual school picnic at Jackson's Bridge, on Sunday, June 24. Games were played, races run and some of the older children went swimming. The school reports and prizes were also given out. Transportation was provided by Mr. Brock's large truck, which was driven by Mr. Myron Wood. A delicious picnic lunch was served by Mrs. Bleser, the teacher, assisted by some of the older girls. A very good time was enjoyed by all.

copter is like ascending in a gold fish bowl because vision is unobscured above, to either side and below (the floor too is transparent). The straight-up ascent gives the novice the feeling of being in a glass elevator that is rising just a bit noisily.

Certainly helicopters are rising on tomorrow's career horizon. You may, as a future helicopter pilot, find it worth your while to try the air screw principle in your models, to acquaint yourself with vertical flight and to learn all you can of rotors and what makes them tick.

MAN GUIDES ROWBOAT THROUGH STORM TO SAVE STRANDED PAIR

George Hill, of Ville LaSalle, Que., braves windswept water of Lake St. Louis in small craft

1. George Hill, with his wife and two children, had driven out to open their summer cottage at Vaudeuil, Que. They had only been in the house a short while when Mrs. Hill heard frantic cries for help coming from the lake. Looking out, they saw that the wind had whipped up heavy waves... and in the distance they could see a small boat, overturned, with two men clinging to it. They were both shouting at the top of their lungs for assistance.

2. George Hill immediately broke open a locker and found a pair of oars. Placing them in a nearby rowboat, he pushed out into midstream. Although he had been a crack paddler in the early '30's, Hill knew that a canoe would have no chance in those choppy waters. Even the small rowboat was a flimsy craft to do the job Hill had in mind. He was buffeted about by the waves and several times was almost swamped.

3. Manoeuvring the stern of the boat was no easy task... but Hill managed it. Soon he had the nearly exhausted men aboard and, after half an hour's hazardous rowing, brought them to shore. Many spectators called Hill's venture almost suicidal. Most Canadians will agree that it was a feat of great courage... and we are proud to present him with The Dow Award.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects Award winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

Attractive Magog Wedding

MR. and MRS. PETER CORY LANDRY photographed at their reception held at the summer home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Skelton, at the Hermitage, Magog, following their marriage which took place in St. Luke's Church, Magog, on Saturday afternoon, June 30. The bride, the former Miss Mary Virginia Skelton, and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Landry, of Montreal, are pictured cutting the wedding cake.

MARRIAGES

WHITE-McCOMB

St. George's Anglican Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, June 9, at three o'clock, when Hazel Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hugh McComb, of Ayer's Cliff, became the bride of Mr. Delmar Joseph White, also of Ayer's Cliff, the Rev. Mark Beaufort, of North Hatley, officiating. The church was decorated with baskets of spirea and lilacs, and the guest pews were marked with spirea tied with satin bows. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Walter S. Keeler, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. H. Nelson Pierce sang "O Promise Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in an ankle-length gown of white slipper satin, with lace insets, long sleeves ending in points over the hands and high neckline. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of white satin, and she carried a colonial bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Dorothy McComb, and her cousin, Miss Fern McComb, who wore gowns of pink and blue organza net over taffeta, with matching coronets and mits. Each carried colonial bouquets of multi-colored sweet peas and baby's breath.

Mr. Desmond Connor, of Sherbrooke, acted as best man, and the ushers were the groom's brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Smith, and the bride's uncle, Mr. Maynard Smith, of Montreal.

Mrs. McComb, the bride's mother, was dressed in a navy printed silk crepe frock with white accessories, and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Nelson Fish, the groom's aunt, with whom he lives, was dressed in green silk crepe, with a grey hat, and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception for about one hundred guests was held in St. George's Parish Hall, with St. George's Guild catering, assisted by friends of the bride and groom. Miss Darlene McComb was in charge of the guest book. The hall was attractively adorned with spirea and lilacs, while the table was decorated with forget-me-nots, lilacs-of-the-valley, honeysuckle and matching pink and blue satin ribbon.

Before the departure of the newly-weds for a honeymoon spent in Niagara Falls and New York State, Mrs. Pierce sang "Because."

The bride travelled in a navy blue suit with grey accessories.

GEORGEVILLE

Miss Maureen Atkin is spending a week in Lachine with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Mills.

Much to their surprise, Mrs. J. Atkin, Mrs. Urban Hand, Mrs. Emma Peasley and Mrs. G. A. Dustin invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Taylor on Friday night, and presented them with an electric floor lamp, a china tea pot and china stein, as remembrances for their 53rd wedding anniversary from their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fernleigh Taylor and two children were tea guests at the same place on this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, Jr., and Mr. Donald Miller, of Dorval, and Miss Margaret Black, of Rosemount, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Dugtin and family.

The W. A. was entertained at the home of Mrs. Arlington Davidson with Mrs. J. Atkin for the assisting hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Grainzer and family were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver at Stanstead.

The Misses N. and K. Mudge, of Montreal, have arrived and have opened their summer home here, as have Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Cope.

Mrs. Ruth Hetherston, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy, of Cambridge, Mass., and Mr. John Hetherston, of the Philadelphia University, are spending a week at their summer home, "Camp Wake Robin."

Mrs. J. Lessard, of Dorval, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. George Hornby.

couple of fifty years to receive congratulations from nearly ninety guests who came from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Waterville, Hatley, Stanstead, Knowiton, and Ayer's Cliff district.

The dining-room was also attractive with a profusion of flowers, and the table done in "Gold" was presided over by Mrs. N. W. Lobb, Mrs. J. N. Hibbard, and Mrs. S. S. Worthen alternately pouring, while the beautiful wedding cake centered the table.

When it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Bayley were celebrating their anniversary the Ayer's Cliff friends felt that they must have some part in that memorable occasion, so at the opportune time Mrs. F. A. Johnston splendidly voiced the feeling of their hosts of friends in well chosen remarks referring to what they have meant to the community and asked them to accept the purse of money with the best wishes of each and every one.

Mr. Bayley replied very feelingly expressing his and Mrs. Bayley's sincere appreciation for their kindness, good wishes, and the very generous purse of money. Mrs. Bayley graciously added her thanks.

Mrs. Bayley came to live in Canada in 1901, when Mr. Bayley went to Decatur, Ill., to claim her as his chosen mate, and when asked "How did you meet your wife, he pertly replied, "I went to Decatur to visit an aunt and met Emma, what a girl she was," and the community can add to that "What a woman she has been." She has been librarian for thirty-one years, and has just resigned. The public knows that she cannot be replaced as she has always been a great reader and therefore was able to render great assistance to the public. It can truly be said that she criticized only when she could make credible comments.

Mr. Bayley has been greatly handicapped by failing eye sight but for twenty-one and a half years he carried the mail from the train to the Post Office. This office he filled efficiently and he and his devoted wife have worked hand in hand in community work and are active members in St. George's Church, and promoting every good cause.

Always ready to give a helping hand when needed and their hospitality has been an outstanding speciality. Their gifts, which consisted of an English Bone China Ferry tea set and many other beautiful souvenirs were tokens of appreciation of these qualities. Many cards, telephone messages, were received, all bearing the same good wishes for continued years of happiness.

COATICOOK

The "Street Fair" held under the auspices of St. Mary's Guild of St. Stephen's Anglican Church was a financial success. The Coaticook Band was in attendance. The guessing on the jar of beans was won by Mr. Warren Cutting who received a rocking chair. The number winner for the basket of groceries was won by Mr. Gordon Patterson. The beautiful pair of hand worked pillow cases were won by Mrs. J. A. St. Louis. The Parcel Post Bag and Fish Pond were very popular besides the food, candy and fancy work tables and throwing the pennies on the floating plate was much enjoyed by the younger people.

ily, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baldwin and Mr. Morris Baldwin, on the Dixville Road. Miss Baldwin has successfully completed her course as Stewardess on the T.C.A. Lines, and left by air for Toronto, Ont., where she will have her headquarters. At present she is at the Royal York Hotel.

Tom Gard's Note Book
My lawn roller never seems to be home. Possibly I should make another one — just to lend to people! Fooling aside, this borrowing tools and then forgetting to bring them back can be most annoying — and I'm not gullible. I was all set to roll the area just spaded for late vegetables when I discovered it was missing. The predicament was finally settled by borrowing Herb's sleek "store" job. It gave me the idea of looking for a short, fat hot water tank and fixing up a handle attachment from inch water pipe. Its weight can be regulated by the amount of water used in the tank — quite an improvement on my present one filled with heavy concrete. Possibly that will be my first job when holidays are over.
Chintz Canopy
Here is a simple way to perk up your kitchen window, noticed while in the Ste. Anne area. A light canopy was constructed from building board and fastened on the inside to the edge of the window frame. Bright chintz was sewn in the form of an awning to fit the frame and thumb tacked in place, with the tacks out of sight. It was most attractive. After repeated attempts to describe its construction to my usually bright "better half", I finally took the hint and built one. Now she will have to get busy and cover it.
While she is sewing the canopy, maybe I can talk her into covering the guest book I made out of a cigar box last spring. It's quite attractive in its natural finish but it will be even better covered with some of the drapery material that was left over.
Knick-Knack Shelf
If you want a small shelf for light keepsakes try your hand at making one from coat hangers. We will take a bit of patience to form the wire into the desired pattern but it can be done.

Ferrier Drops Into Fourth-Place Tie With Stan Leonard, Leading Canadian Pro, Five Strokes Behind

Toronto, July 6.—(AP)—A field of 101-crack golfers set out today in pursuit of a boyish Texan and his 12-under-par score of 132 in the first 36 holes of the 72-hole Canadian Open Golf Championship.

But 28-year-old Jack Burke, Jr., from Houston will take a lot of chasing. Making his first bid for a title which eluded his golfing father 38 years ago, he shot an electrifying 66 yesterday to put alongside another 66 he carded in Wednesday's opening 18-hole round.

That put him three strokes in front of his closest competitor, another Texan, at the halfway point in the $15,000 classic.

Soggy greens and a fierce, gusty wind offered no handicap to the curly-headed Burke whose long drives, accurate approach shots and deft putting gave him six birdies and 12 par holes against a par 72 in his second round.

Chasing him in second place was Fred Hawkins from El Paso who slipped to a 69 from his opening 66.

A San Franciscan, Chuck Klein from San Antonio, was a stroke behind with the 70 he put alongside his starting 66.

Hopes for the first Canadian victory since 1914 rested with slight Stan Leonard five strokes off the pace with a 137 he owes to the hottest nine-hole round of the tournament.

The Vancouver pro, with 70 Wednesday, toured yesterday's first nine in 37. Then he suddenly caught fire and reeled off a string of six consecutive birdies on the second nine for a six-under-par 30 and an 18-hole figure of 67.

Leonard stood in a three-way, fourth-place tie with Ed Furgol of Royal Oak, Mich., and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, who slipped from his opening-day pace-setting 65 to an even par 72.

The 60 low scorers and ties today advance into tomorrow's fourth and final round and a chance at the $15,000 in prize money to be divided among the 35 low pros with $2,250 going to the first-place finisher.

Bill Veeck Took Over St. Louis Officially

St. Louis, July 6.—(AP)—Bill Veeck formally took over St. Louis Browns in the American League yesterday and announced he will retain Zach Taylor as manager for a time, at least.

At a press conference, Veeck also announced he was out to build a winning ball team and that negroes would be given every opportunity to qualify.

Neither the Browns nor St. Louis Cardinals have negro players.

Veeck attended the conference after signing the papers putting the club in his hands. He said a count showed he had about 220,000 of the 275,000 shares of stock—more than enough to exercise his option.

Also at the conference were Bill and Charley Dewitt, who controlled the club until yesterday, and several of Veeck's associates in the present deal.

"We have a couple of dollars to spend and we're going to spend them," Veeck said. "Right now the club couldn't bat its way out of a paper sack and we're looking for anybody who can carry a ball bat and handle one."

14 Former College Stars Plead Guilty To 'Fix'

New York, July 6.—(AP)—All 14 former college basketball stars, accused of fixing games, at Madison Square Gardens yesterday pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges. Judge Saul S. Streit fixed Oct. 2 for sentencing.

The charge to which they pleaded guilty carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail.

The 14 were accused of conspiring with four alleged fixers to rig the scores of games so the fixers could cash in on "sure things."

Coach Voyles Signs Players For Tigers

Hamilton, July 6.—(AP)—Coach Carl Voyles of Hamilton Tigers of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union announced the signing of several Canadian and United States footballers for his 1951 squad.

Veterans Jackie Stewart and Ralph Bartolini, centre Louis Diffenbach and a newcomer, John Ghetti at end head the list of Canadian players on hand this year.

Stewart, one of two players who signed with Tigers last year and then went to Edmonton to play out the season with the home club, Bartolini was Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones' understudy at half last year. Ghetti was an outstanding end with the Ontario Agricultural College Intercollegiate squad.

Voyles said he has signed half back Bernard Stevens and guard John Fair of Florida A. and M. to try out at practices starting July 16.

Other Americans signed include quarterback Charlie (Boots) Erb from University of California and Archie Fletcher, a 225-pound half from Wichita, Kan.

New Additions Add Pep To Club; Alouettes Here Sunday Afternoon; Gosselin Signs With Athletics

The new additions to the Sherbrooke Athletics have definitely brought a big change over the local squad and Gladu's aggregation has been against Granby and Drummondville.

Tomorrow evening at 7:45 the Royals of Three Rivers will be paying their fourth visit of the season to the local park to tackle the up-and-coming Athletics, who hold a three-game winning streak.

Gladu's squad holds a two game advantage over Del Bissonnette's team in the three games played although they were close ones. The Royals took the first tilt 11-6 and then the locals copped the next two with 9-8 and 6-4 decisions.

On Sunday afternoon the Alouettes of St. Hyacinthe will keep an afternoon date with the locals and it will be their fifth trip to Sherbrooke and they have as yet to chalk up a win. All games last night in the circuit were rained out and will be played at a later date.

In Bill Metzbig, Manager Roland Gladu believes he has found the extra sparkplug required to drive the team to higher heights. Metzbig is a real hustler and his pep is contagious judging from the play of the local infield in their late games. At bat he has proven to be a great opportunist and his timely hits have paid off in the crucial spots.

Ed Flanagan and Otto Kossuth, the two new hurlers, made a good impression in their first appearance and Manager Roy is more than satisfied with their acquisition. Manager Gladu is giving them all the inside information about Provincial hitters and no doubt on their next duty they will live up to the records they established in the Border League.

Norman "Goose" Gosselin should make his initial appearance over the week-end. "Goose" had an excellent record with Geneva in the Border League and formerly played with Quebec and Three Rivers in the Can-Am League a few years ago and has lots of confidence in himself to make good.

Tomorrow evening Three Rivers will be the visiting club and Del Bissonnette's team, although they occupy the cellar position in the circuit, will give a good account of themselves. They are seeking reinforcements all the time and now rate as one of the tough clubs in the circuit.

On Sunday afternoon another tough opponent will be on hand in the person of the Alouettes of St. Hyacinthe. The Als possess one of the best hurling staffs in Albert Molin's loop and with the recent addition of Rushowski they have added another good backstop to team with Rene Valois. Joe Tumminelli, a former Cub, has joined forces with them and his signing will give them extra hitting power at the plate as he was considered one of the better sluggers in the loop a few years ago.

Three Rivers Royals Here Tomorrow Evening

A's 27 Home Games Drew 48,839 Fans; Half Of Objective Should Be Reached This Week-End With 2 Tilts

"EVERYONE SHOULD SEE ONE IN 1951"

With a little break from the weather-man this week-end the Sherbrooke Athletics should pass the half way mark of their attendance mark of 100,000 when the Royals of Three Rivers pay a visit here tomorrow evening and the Alouettes of St. Hyacinthe here Sunday afternoon at 2:00.

In the twenty-seven home games of the A's 48,839 have attended the tilts and with thirty-six games left on the schedule the locals stand a very good chance of reaching their objective of 100,000 paid attendance.

Since the start of the season the attendance has been pretty good and has remained at a good level.

The first four games in the month of July drew 4,500 spectators, although the weather was not favorable for baseball.

The average per game since the beginning of the season is 1,809 and if this rate can be maintained the locals should surpass their objective before the end of August.

With the mark of 100,000 has been reached the executive of the local team will draw the sum of $1,000 between the fans of the club. All season long special tickets have been handed out at each game and the fans are reminded that these are the ones which will be used for the drawing.

Amédée Roy, business manager of the team, wishes to remind the fans that they should hold onto these little slips if they wish to take part in the special drawing when the objective has been reached.

Result Of Savitt-McGregor Match May Throw Light On 1951 Davis Cup Competition For This Year

Wimbledon, England, July 6.—(AP)—If Dick Savitt can beat Ken McGregor in the final of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship today, the United States' hopes of regaining the Davis Cup from Australia this year will be greatly boosted.

For one thing, Savitt, the big former Cornell University captain, already has whipped McGregor, Australian Davis Cupper. He did it last January in the Australian Championship finale.

For another, Herbie Flam, who lost to Savitt in the semi-finals here, has demonstrated he can beat Frank Sedgman, the no. 1 Aussie, and perhaps the best amateur player in the world today.

The results of the past six months—and especially here—have demonstrated that the Australians are not unbeatable. When the players from down-under took the Davis Cup home with them after the challenge round at Forest Hills last year, many American players and officials shook their heads sadly and commented that there wasn't an American who could beat the Aussies.

That hasn't proved true in any of the big tourneys. The Australians, just as the Americas, have taken their lumps on occasion.

Savitt will have trouble handling McGregor's big service if Ken is on. If Dick can get it back over the net, he has a good chance of coming out on top. Once past the service, Savitt has better ground strokes and more all-round court savvy.

The women's final, slated for tomorrow will pit Doris Hart against Shirley Fry.

Shirley, a junior not many years ago, polished off Louise Brough, who has won the title the last three years, 6-4, 6-2 in one semi-final, while in the other Miss Hart turned back Beverly Baker, another promising youngster, 6-3, 6-1.

Ratterman's Lawyer Not Worried Over Order

New York, July 6.—(CP)—George Ratterman's lawyer said last night he is not worried about a restraining order issued yesterday against the National League Football star.

I. Robert Broder said Ratterman, involved in a player dispute between New York Yankees and Montreal Alouettes, will stay in New York until his reporting date to the big-four club.

Yankee owner Ted Collins got a court order yesterday in Newark, N. J., directing Ratterman to show cause why he should not be restrained from playing for any other club but the Yankees.

"Collins, in his usual and traditional fashion, packed the order full of—shall we say—misstatements," Broder said.

He said Collins failed to append a copy of his National League contract with Ratterman to the order—"it all hangs on Collins' affidavits."

Ebbe Larsen Reaches Semi-Finals In Sculls

Henley, England, July 6.—(AP)—Ebbe Larsen of Denmark, conqueror of Toronto's Jack Guest yesterday, reached the semi-finals of the Diamond Sculls yesterday by defeating John Gaze of Britain.

He will meet another Briton today—Ronnie Lutz who beat Hussein El Alfy of Egypt.

The other semi-final will be between the Cambridge University sculler, Tony Fox—who eliminated the Belgian veteran Willi Collet—and Demoulin of Belgium who upset the Dutch champion, Tom Neumeir, by one-half length.

The University of Pennsylvania lightweight oarsmen swept to their second straight victory in their bid for the Thames Challenge Cup in the Henley Regatta.

The 150-pound crew won by 13 lengths over the Peterhouse College eight of Cambridge University. Penn was timed in 7:15 for the mile and 550 yards.

Grand Circuit Moves To Saratoga Raceway

Goshen, N.Y., July 6.—(AP)—The Grand Circuit ends its five-day stand at the half-mile historic track today and moves back under the lights Monday at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., for a two-week session.

Gander from the Saunders Mill Stable, of Toledo, Ohio, couldn't do better than third in his elimination heat of the $10,000 two-year-old pace yesterday but he was the best of the large field in the two final tests.

Under H. Bell's handling the son of Volomite won the first brush of the final in 2:07 and the second in the slow time of 2:13 3/5.

South Dakota, winner of his elimination heat in 2:07 4/5, finished second in both of the final tests with his owner-trainer, Harry Short, handling the reins. W. M. Reynolds' David Caudle, of Winston Salem, N.C., won the other elimination in 2:06 4/5 but wound up fifth in the first of the two final miles and third in the last test.

Joe O'Brien, of New Glasgow, N.S., piloted Vonian Chief to fourth place in the final heat of the Goshen Cup race.

15-Mile Marathon To Be Held In August By Marbleton Fair Officials; Race To Be Divided Into Two Sections

A fifteen-mile marathon is being staged by the officials of the Marbleton Fair, which is operated by the Wolfe County Agricultural Society this summer.

The marathon will be held on Saturday, August 18, in the afternoon, and will draw some of the top distance runners of the province. It will be divided into three sections and this only should help the list of entries.

For the main section of the marathon the Record Tribune trophy will be at stake. This trophy offered by the two local daily papers and is in competition for the first time.

There will also be prizes for a three-man team with wrist watches going to each member of the squad, which accumulates the highest number of points. Seeing that the main idea behind the movement is to try and develop distance runners in the Townships there will be a junior section and these youngsters will cover only seven miles.

The start of the marathon will take place in East Angus with twelve miles over the main highway before entering the Fair Grounds at Marbleton where the last three miles will be covered over the race track.

All clubs and schools of the district are cordially invited to send teams for the marathon while in the junior section the winning squad will be presented with individual cups for their efforts. This section is open only for youngsters seventeen years and under for seven miles and will commence when the first senior runner passes their starting point.

Jack Cooke, Publisher And Radio Station Owner, Buys Maple Leafs

Toronto, July 6.—(AP)—Jack Kent Cooke, 38-year-old sportsman who pyramided a door-to-door bookseller's job into ownership of a radio station and one of Canada's largest-selling magazines, has bought himself a baseball team.

Cooke, in typical fashion, promised the long-suffering Toronto ball fans "a new deal" and a winning team by September. At present his newly-acquired club, the Toronto Maple Leafs, is fifth in the eight-team International League.

Cooke, who takes over as club president, said he bought his stock from retiring President Donald G. Ross and Directors Max Haas and John K. McCausland.

The transfer got him a franchise in the International League; a lease on Maple Leaf Stadium; contracts of 25 ball players; general manager Joe Zeigler and team manager Joe Becker.

And the club's working agreement with the American League. St. Louis Brown is being used to full advantage already.

Leafs Drop Another As New Owner Takes Over

Jack Kent Cooke is the new owner of Toronto Maple Leafs today, but he'll have to look far down in the International League second division to find his team.

The Leafs dropped another one last night, losing 6-5 to the last-place Springfield Giants. Statistically, here is what Cooke, a publisher and radio-station operator, finds as he takes over:

The Leafs are 18 games out of first place and 6 1/2 games behind the fourth-place Rochester Red Wings.

Montreal is making a runaway of the race, 10 games ahead of the runner-up Buffalo, 10 1/2 ahead of Syracuse and 1 1/2 up on Rochester.

Cooke predicted his team will be in the first division by the season's end.

"Even if Joe Seigler (general manager) and I have to pitch and catch, we're going to make Maple Leaf Stadium the most pleasant and interesting place to visit in Toronto."

In the only other game last night Buffalo swamped Baltimore 10-1 behind the seven-hit pitching of Rudy Rinares who chalked up his seventh straight victory.

In the Toronto-Springfield game, the Leafs were ahead 5-0 until Springfield came up with all its runs in the eighth inning. Max Peterson, who relieved Irv Medinger in the big inning, was charged with the defeat.

The Montreal-Syracuse and Ottawa-Rochester games were rained out.

Mierkowitz May Be Out For Rest Of Year

Rochester, N.Y., July 6.—(AP)—Red Wing outfielder Eddie Mierkowitz, 27, his skull fractured when he was "beaten" here Wednesday in a Wing-Ottawa International League baseball game, probably will be out for the rest of the season.

This was learned today although Mierkowitz's condition at Strong Memorial Hospital was pronounced good.

The outfielder was struck in the left temple by a hard pitch thrown by Ottawa's Andy Tomasick.
