INDIA CERTAIN TO RETURN PRISONERS

World News In Brief

Casablanca, Morocco — Reuters — A United States Air Force bomber based in North Africa crashed near Mazagan, 55 miles southwest of here, Thursday night, killing one of four men aboard and injuring two others.

Reports said the plane was trying to make a forced landing outside Mazagan in the Cap Blanc area when it crashed. The co-pilot was reported to be the only fatality.

New York — (P) — The ill-starred "The Starcross Story" folded Thursday after its opening night performance in which two Canadian actors made their Broadway debut.

The London importation by Diana Morgan, which starred E. Le Gallienne and Mary Astor, closed despite three favourable reviews among the generally poor reception by New York critics.

Only one other play this season has had as short a run. That was "A Pin to See the Peepshow."

The Canadians were Christopher Plummer of Ottawa and Margaret Bannerman.

Victoria, B.C. — A young Victoria mother, stricken with polio, is reported doing well after giving birth in an iron lung to a healthy, six-pound boy.

Mrs. J. E. Munro has been confined in the lung since Nov. 27.

The birth was carried out Sunday by a team of doctors and nurses at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

London — (P) — While London basked today in spring-like weather, gales battered Scotland, Ireland and northern England.

Winds reached 100-mile-an-hour fury in Westmorland, in the north of England. The gales felled a tree which ripped off the top deck of a bus in Edinburgh. A number of bus passengers were injured.

A small fishing boat sank in the North Sea off Scarborough but the crew of four were rescued.

The royal yacht Britannia, being outfitted in the fifth of Clyde, had to be taken to open water to ride out the storm.

Nairobi, Kenya — (P) — The Kenya Supreme Court today upheld the seven-year jail sentence passed on Jomo Kenyatta April 8 for organizing the outlawed anti-white Mau Mau organization.

Kenyatta and five other Africans appealed against the conviction by a magistrate's court. All had received similar sentences.

Announcing judgment, the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of all the Africans except one—Richard Achiong, whose appeal was allowed.

Achiong is a Jajuo tribesman, not a Kikuyu. The Supreme Court had grave doubts whether he was a member of the Mau Mau, although they were satisfied he was sympathetic to them.

Premier Certain New Tax Offset By Dominion Rebate

Quebec — (P) — Quebec Province is moving into the personal income tax field.

Premier Duplessis Thursday, announced in the legislative assembly his government is introducing a bill to impose a provincial income tax equivalent to 15 cents out of every dollar paid under federal income tax.

He said the tax is necessary to meet increased costs of education and public health and represents only a small part of the province's tax rights.

Basic exemptions will be $1,500 for single persons, $2,000 for married persons and $400 for each child. There will be other exemptions.

The tax is effective Jan. 1, 1954, but the 300,000 Quebec residents expected to be liable will not have to file returns until 1955.

The measure, given formal first reading in the assembly Thursday, will authorize the government to impose the tax for three years.

Meantime, Mr. Duplessis said, the government will continue to try to negotiate a tax agreement with the federal government.

All Canadian provinces except Quebec have signed taxation agreements with Ottawa and receive federal subsidies in return for surrendering certain forms of direct taxation.

New Threats By Teachers In Toronto

Toronto — (P) — As hopes brightened for settlement of differences between Toronto secondary school teachers and the board of education, a group of 60 Roman Catholic primary teachers threatened Thursday night to walk out of their classrooms next Tuesday.

The Toronto Catholic Married Women Teachers' Association representing 60 Roman Catholic primary teachers in the Toronto area decided to strike unless the metropolitan separate school board agrees to pay them in accordance with individual experience rather than with a scale set up last Nov. 22.

A meeting of 36 members of the association protested against the scale which calls for a maximum of $2,400 a year.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien said Catholic married teachers have been regarded by the Ontario English-Catholic Teachers' Association and the separate school board as "emergency supply staff" for many years.

"These days we are doing the same jobs as single teachers," she said. "In fact, there are very few of us who don't attend classes from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day. It is obvious that the 'emergency staff' title is outmoded."

The maximum for single women teachers is $3,000, Mrs. O'Brien said.

Meanwhile, the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation offered to call off its ban on extra-curricular activities by Toronto teachers if the board of education will give salary scale discussions "top priority as board business."

Board chairman Gordon Ferguson said later he was pleased to give such negotiations top priority so long as they are not expected to disrupt regular business of the board.

The federation, engaged in a dispute with the board over the single salary schedule, previously set Jan. 22 as the date for commencement of the extra-curricular activities ban. If the curtailment had gone into effect, teachers would have stopped coaching athletic teams, helping with dramatics, and supervising preparation of year books.

Los Angeles — (P) — A $5,600,000 breach-of-contract suit that Oregon publisher Sheldon F. Sackett filed against Robert L. Smith, former publisher of the Los Angeles Daily News, has been dismissed. Sackett charged that Smith repudiated an agreement for sale of the newspaper last Oct. 24 but Smith replied that Sackett failed to comply with terms of the agreement. Smith sold the paper Dec. 24 to Clinton D. McKinnon, Democratic party leader.

Mexico City — (P) — Sky-rockets exploding inside a plane landing at Putia, in Mexico's Oaxaca state, today created panic among the passengers and damaged the ship. A farmhand named Juan Apresa Nava was arrested for illegally taking the fireworks aboard. Officials said vibration of the plane apparently touched off the explosions.

It is expected five per cent of federal income tax will be deductible to pay the provincial tax.

There was no immediate indication whether the balance of the provincial tax could be deducted from amounts paid to Ottawa.

Mr. Duplessis did not indicate whether an agreement had been reached with Ottawa.

Mr. Duplessis said it is his "sincere conviction" the new provincial tax will be fully deductible from federal income tax.

The premier later told newspapermen he expects the tax to yield about $25,000,000, boosting overall provincial revenues above the $300,000,000 figure.

News of the tax came as a surprise in political circles in Quebec, although recently many claims have been made on the government for more money.

Universities have been clamoring for additional revenue to pay heavy deficits, school boards are seeking larger grants and municipalities say they need new sources of revenue.

These demands led last year to establishment of a provincial royal commission to inquire into constitutional matters and Dominion-provincial fiscal questions.

The life of the commission was extended Thursday, until March 1955.

Return To Begin Wednesday Regardless Of Allied Or Communist Reaction, Spokesman Declares.

Panmunjom — (AP) — An Indian spokesman said today that his command will turn back 22,500 unrepatriated Korean war prisoners whether the Allies or Communists want them or not.

The return will begin next Wednesday morning. Asked by a reporter if the Indians will go ahead with their plan to get out of the prisoner-of-war business, the spokesman said with emphasis:

"It is not our plan — it is our decision."

The United Nations is certain to accept the prisoners at any time, but the attitude of the Communists is not known. Most Allied observers expect it to be strongly opposed.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission meets Saturday and observers think it possible that the four other members — Switzerland, Sweden, Czechoslovakia and Poland — will have more to say on the Indian decision.

Filibuster Of Seaways Bill Likely

By JAMES C. MUNN

Washington — (P) — With backers of the St. Lawrence seaway making strong claims to victory, an opponent prepared to speak "at great length" today as the United States Senate scheduled its third round of debate on the controversial project.

Senator John M. Butler (Rep.-Md.) prepared his full-dress speech of opposition with Senators George D. Aiken (Rep.-Vt.) and Edward J. Thye (Rep.-Minn.) indicating they thought a filibuster might be brewing among those who oppose the seaway. Aiken and Thye favor the measure.

The bill would authorize American participation with Canada in building a 27-foot-deep St. Lawrence waterway from the Atlantic ocean to the Great Lakes.

Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep.-Wis.), a leader of the pro-seaway forces, issued a confident claim of victory.

"We are ready," he declared, "to vote on this issue at any time."

Wiley's optimism—and that of other seaway supporters—soared Thursday when Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem.-Mass.) announced he would vote for the bill. It had been thought that Kennedy would oppose it because of his state's traditional position against the waterway.

In this session, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (Dem.-Colo.)—a 1952 opponent—said he now would vote in favor of the proposal. And another opponent was removed when Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, a Democrat, defeated the Republican candidate in last year's election. The Montana Republicans oppose the seaway.

In addition, there were unconfirmed reports today that Senator Wallace Bennett (Rep.-Utah), who voted against the bill in 1952, had switched his position.

Aiken, telling the Senate Thursday that he would fight any filibuster, said Butler had frequently expressed determination to take such action. Thye asked majority leader William Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) to hold tight sessions if any filibuster were sighted.

Knowland replied he saw "no indications" of a filibuster now. He thought the bill needed "wide exploration" but hoped for a vote on the measure next week.

Chief Quits As Policemen Fired

Port Hope, Ont. — (P) — Ontario Provincial Police Inspector Allan Stringer of Peterborough Thursday night said that an OPP constable has been instructed to give special attention to the Port Hope area tonight.

The announcement was made following the firing of five officers and the resignation of the chief of the Port Hope police department Thursday night.

The force's sergeant and four constables were dismissed by town council for failing to accept council's final wage offers of either straight $100 raises or $130 pension plan contributions. The five men asked for $300 raises.

The men, Sgt. Bill Smith and Constables Don Henderson, R. Henderson, R. O'Brien and Victor Lees, were handed letters ordering them to hand in their uniforms.

Chief C. W. Graham, a former RCMP staff sergeant, first learned of the dismissals when his men showed him the letters. Graham supported the men's wage claims but asked no raise for himself.

"I resigned because they dismissed my men without notifying me," he said.

Present salaries are $2,900 for the sergeant and $2,700 for the constables.

Sweden and Switzerland Thursday Endorsed the Prisoner Return

Washington — (P) — Efforts to revive the stalled preliminary Korean peace talks remained at dead end today as the United States and Communists insisted they would never modify conditions for returning to the conference table.

Liaison secretaries adjourned for the week-end after a session described by Edwin Martin, United States state department China specialist, as "3 1/2 hours of each side advocating its position."

Martin insisted that certain Communist remarks be stricken from the record before the preliminary talks resume. The Communists retorted that they would discuss only a date for reopening negotiations.

Broken off Dec. 12, they also rejected again Martin's request that the secretaries confer in secret.

Arthur Dean, special U. S. envoy, walked out of the conference but last month, saying he would not return until the Communists retracted their charge of international treachery. The Reds had accused the U. S. of conniving with South Korea to release last June of 27,000 anti-Communist Korean war prisoners.

The Communist delegates, according to Red correspondents, told Martin today: "Our side considers that the dispute between the two sides in the past meetings should not be an impediment to resumption of discussions."

Martin replied: "Let us be realistic. How can we expect a respectable, constructive atmosphere in resumed talks if the talks start where they left off when completely extraneous, irrelevant and unacceptable matter was suddenly introduced by your side into the record?"

Washington — (P) — If a proposed deal for sale of surplus American butter to the Russians goes through, the Soviet government stands to make perhaps 500 per cent profit.

The Russians will sell the butter through their state retail channels at prices comparable to those charged by Soviet, Argentine and Danish butter now on sale—roughly 30 rubles per kilogram, which is the equivalent of $3.40 a pound.

Since the butter will presumably have been purchased at the export prices of the United States Commodity Credit Corp.—40 to 50 cents a pound—the Soviet government stands to make a profit of $2.90 to $3 a pound, minus of course the costs of shipment and distribution.

Vienna — (P) — A passenger plane of the Czechoslovak State Airline crashed near Prague Jan. 12 killing 14 persons, it was revealed today.

Officials of Prague's Ruzyně airport told The Associated Press by telephone, however, that the plane was en route from Prague to Moravia Ostrava.

The dead included 11 passengers and four crew members. There were no foreigners on board, the airport said.

Before further details could be obtained, telephone censors interrupted the call.

London — (P) — Arthur H. Dean, special United States ambassador to Korea, has denied favoring a policy of "appeasement" toward Red China, as charged by Senator Herman Welker (Rep.-Idaho). He terms Welker's attack on him a "great aid to the Communists."

In a Senate speech Thursday, Welker referred to an interview with Dean published Jan. 3 in the Providence (R.I.) Journal and said: "Mr. Dean offers the view which has long been held by pro-Red apologists in the state department."

Dean, a former law partner of State Secretary Dulles, broke off preliminary peace talks with the Communists at Panmunjom Dec. 12 after the Reds accused the United States of "perfidy."

In a press conference Thursday night at his Wall street law office Dean said:

"I am 100 per cent against appeasement or knuckling under, and to the best of my knowledge and belief I have fought the Communists at every turn."

"I have said that in the selfish interests of the American people, we must face facts as we find them, not as we would like to find them."

"I shall continue to do everything I can to help the Far East and southeast Asia to fight communism. I have spent most of the last five months trying to solve the Korean problem, which is a very tough nut to crack."

Welker, a member of the Senate internal security sub-committee, demanded a congressional probe of Dean's views stemming from the Providence interview.

JET CRASHES IN RESIDENTIAL AREA — Six persons died when an Air Force F-36 Sabrejet crashed into a row of houses in Long Beach, Calif. The plane was one of two on a training flight which were caught in a closing overcast. Air Force spokesmen say the pilot was burned beyond recognition and only tentative identification of the other victims was immediately possible because of the badly burned condition of the bodies. The other plane made a safe landing.

Helicopter Crashes In Rescue Try

By WOLF LEUTKINS

Ludesh, Austria. — (Reuters) — An American helicopter crashed near the disaster-stricken village of Blons today as a United States airlift restored contact with Austria's avalanche-threatened Walsertal valley.

None was injured in the crash, which occurred as the rescue craft nosed into a restricted landing space stamped out in fresh snow.

The crew were evacuated by another of the five helicopters moving urgently needed supplies into the valley.

The helicopters took off from there this morning after mist lifted from the mountains. Heavy snowstorms that turned to sleet during the night earlier had blocked ground routes into Blons and cut off all but telephone contact.

Danger from new avalanches today was termed "very great."

Main need of the 400 weary rescue workers in Blons is food, estimated this morning at little more than a day's supply. Nine persons are still missing in the mountain hamlet, where snow cascading down from the mountains Monday evening brought death to a known 64.

Revised government figures set Austria's total number of dead in four days of avalanches at 116. The four-county Alpine total rose to 144 as Switzerland reported 22 dead, Germany four and Italy two.

In the Grosse Soek valley of central Austria, a fresh avalanche forced villagers to leave early this morning and blocked the rampaging Soek river.

Police authorities at nearby Gorembing said no one was injured and cold weather is lessening the danger of further avalanches.

Deep waters at first backed up half a mile with the water almost 30 feet deep in places. But dynamite teams went to work on the huge pile of snow and the water level quickly fell.

Vienna — (P) — A passenger plane of the Czechoslovak State Airline crashed near Prague Jan. 12 killing 14 persons, it was revealed today.

Officials of Prague's Ruzyně airport told The Associated Press by telephone, however, that the plane was en route from Prague to Moravia Ostrava.

The dead included 11 passengers and four crew members. There were no foreigners on board, the airport said.

London — (Reuters) — The London Evening News today said British intelligence officers have been asked to investigate the possibility of sabotage in the crash of a Comet jet airliner off the island of Elba last Sunday.

However, British Overseas Airways Corporation and the ministry of civil aviation denied the report.

The newspaper cites the "similarity" of the fact that both the Comet and a Philippines Airline plane which crashed in Rome yesterday met disaster 7 1/2 hours after leaving Beirut, Lebanon.

Officials of the BOAC, operators of the Comet, previously said the possibility of sabotage was being considered "along with all other possibilities."

There were no survivors of either crash. Thirty-five persons died in the wreck of the Comet, which plunged into the Mediterranean after leaving Rome on the last leg of a Singapore to London flight. Sixteen died in the Philippine DC-6 Thursday as it crashed while inbound to Rome.

An unnamed aviation expert quoted by the Evening News declared: "The coincidence at Beirut cannot be discounted. It is possible that a time bomb could have been placed aboard."

All Comets operated by BOAC and two French airlines have been grounded for an investigation.

BOAC's Comets have been assembled at London, airport and now are being completely stripped in an effort to find if they have any defect that might explain Sunday's fatal crash.

London — (Reuters) — Britain is giving Yugoslavia $3,000,000 worth of economic aid in the financial year covering June 1953, to 1954 as her share of Anglo-American-French assistance, a foreign office spokesman said today.

The money will be spent on agricultural equipment, including machinery and insecticides, as well as pigs for breeding.

Brussels — Reuters — Mrs. Lea van Damme of Belgium today claimed the world's record for squeezing the instrument for 75 hours and eight minutes.

450 Arrests In Egyptian Crack-down

Cairo — (P) — Arrests mounted to 450 today in the Egyptian government crack-down on the outlawed Moslem Brotherhood.

A communique from President Mohammed Naguib's revolutionary council accused the fanatical political-religious organization of conspiring with both the Communists and Britain, and with plotting a counter-revolution against Naguib's regime.

The communique said the Brotherhood, which claimed a membership of 2,000,000 at the height of its power in Egypt, conspired with the Communists for the purpose of fomenting disorder in this strategic Middle East country.

Representatives of the Brotherhood also were charged with making secret contacts with British leaders, resulting in a weakening of Egypt's position in the lengthy negotiations over the future of the vital Suez canal zone.

The government dropped the ax on the Brotherhood Wednesday, ordering it dissolved and its assets confiscated. Of the 450 arrested, only 20 have been set free.

The communique charged that C. M. Crowell, British minister to Cairo, and Trefor E. Evans, Oriental counsellor at the British embassy, had met with Hassan al Hodeibi, deposed head of the Brotherhood, and other of its high officials.

The communique said al Hodeibi and the other leaders discussed British policy on the Suez negotiations, and that this made it more difficult to get Britain to come to terms for removal of her troops from the canal zone.

The British embassy said it had no comment. British sources remarked, however, there would be nothing extraordinary or unusual in their diplomatic representatives explaining the British point of view to anyone who might request it.

The communique charged the Brotherhood with setting up three organizations to spread sedition against the Naguib regime. One worked among army officers, another among non-commissioned personnel and the third among the police, the communique said.

The communique accused the Brotherhood of organizing a demonstration at Cairo University Tuesday for the purpose of asserting its "authority and power." Representatives of Naguib's Liberation Rally clashed with Brotherhood members during the demonstration, and the government crack-down followed.

Montreal — (P) — Plans for Montreal's most spectacular bonfire of the year have been called off.

An official of the International Congress of Snowshoers said Thursday plans to burn 25,000 discarded Christmas trees in a huge bonfire at La Fontaine Park, Jan. 30, have been abandoned.

The scene, part of celebrations for the opening of the organization's annual three-day meeting was dropped because of high costs.

No Decision In Regina's Bus Dispute

Regina — (P) — Regina still faces the threat of a crippling transit strike.

The threat loomed again Thursday night after city council for the third time refused to rebire bus driver C. H. McGregor, fired for telling a woman passenger to "keep her damn mouth shut."

A major break—strike or no strike—is expected this week-end when McGregor's union holds a mass meeting.

The issue has dragged on since Sept. 26 when McGregor was released.

The Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (AFL-TLC) claimed McGregor's remarks were made as a joke to a male friend and not to the woman. The union demanded he be rehired but council refused.

The union then asked for an arbitration board to settle the dispute and threatened to strike when council again refused. A mass meeting of the 100 bus drivers and 65 other workers Dec. 23 tied up bus service for six hours.

Relations were patched up temporarily when council agreed to further discussions. Thursday night's meeting, a special session, was the first major step in negotiations.

Council at its meeting Thursday considered a written request that McGregor be reinstated and possibly given a "suspended sentence." The council, annoyed because no union representative appeared, said something might have been done if McGregor had showed up to apologize.

This was one of five points civic officials suggested the union make before McGregor's reinstatement be considered. Another was that the union agree there has been no victory in the dispute for either side.

Today's child is one of those very interesting youngsters who will be wise to keep as formal, conventional and conservative as possible if he is to make the most of his life. At least the training should be such, for this is what your progeny best understands and influential persons in occupations of long standing are likely to bring the greatest amount of success, opportunity, which will bring out your progeny's finest attributes, traits, abilities. Premier Urges Parties To Agree On School Tax

Opposition to provisions in the bill submitted by the Catholic School Commission forced an adjournment to the hearing on the bill yesterday before the public committee of the Legislature. Premier Duplessis, presiding at the hearing, told the School Commissioners and other interested parties to try to reach agreement on the contentious clauses and appear before the committee again on January 27.

The controversy arose over clauses inserted in the bill at the instance of the Catholic School Commissioners seeking the right to value industrial fixed machinery for school tax purposes and also the right to contest the valuation role as prepared by the municipal valuers. At present school corporations do not have the right to contest the assessment roll.

Under the system which has existed in Sherbrooke for seventy-five years, school taxes are collected by the municipal authorities and remitted to the two boards—Protestant and Roman Catholic. By an amendment to the city charter some years ago, the City obtained the right to assess machinery in industrial establishments which were deemed to be immovable by destination. This so-called "fixed machinery" has appeared in the municipal valuation roll for many years, but the City has never levied taxes on such machinery. The school boards, however, have levied taxes against all the property appearing on the valuation roll including the fixed machinery.

Recently the school commissioners have complained to the municipal authorities that this taxable machinery was improperly valued by the city assessors. As Albert Leblanc, Q.C., one of the Catholic Commissioners said yesterday at Quebec, whereas the fixed machinery is valued at only 7,000,000 by the municipal valuers, there is in fact taxable machinery in Sherbrooke of a value of over $150,000,000. The school commissioners feel that here lies a source of substantial tax revenue.

Yesterday these provisions of the bill were opposed by a delegation from City Hall headed by Mayor Emile Levesque and including Aldermen Sylvio Rousseau and Wesley Bradley, Q.C., and City Attorney Albert Rivard. Also appearing in opposition was a delegation from the Sherbrooke section of the Canadian Manufacturers Association headed by ex-Mayor Guy Bryant and Evans Joslin and the Proprietors' League represented by Paul Leclerc and Eugene Thibault, both former aldermen.

Alderman Bradley, who is also chairman of the Protestant School Board, had also made known his feelings of his Board which were in favor of the present arrangement whereby the City prepared the valuation roll and collected the taxes. The argument of those opposing the bill was that it would be a needless duplication of tax collecting machinery and would not promote harmonious relations with the manufacturers or provide good publicity for the City. If anyone was not satisfied with the present valuation roll it was open to attack in the Courts.

Headed by Chairman Joseph Labrecque and supported by all the members of his Board and Richard Crepeau, attorney, the Catholic Commissioners argued that due to the marked expansion in school facilities required by Sherbrooke increased tax revenues were required to balance the budget which was now seriously in deficit. Mr. Rivard, on behalf of the City, pointed out to the committee that the school board in 1954 would benefit to the extent of almost $200,000 by the increased property valuation put into effect in November.

Finally after considerable discussion, Premier Duplessis pointed out the good record of Sherbrooke for harmony and accord and, after remarking that it was the duty of all taxpayers to pay a just proportion of the costs of education, suggested that the parties get together in an attempt to find a solution to the problem which could be supported by all parties.

Hon. J. S. Bourque, M.L.A. for Sherbrooke, also took part in the discussion at this point, and urged all parties to return to Sherbrooke and find a solution. He pointed out that both public bodies represented the citizens of Sherbrooke who in the final analysis would have to foot the bill, and said that he regretted any impression that Sherbrooke could not amicably and sensibly settle its own problems without recourse to extreme measures. It was finally settled to adjourn the discussions on the bill to January 27.

Before the contentious clauses were reached, the public bill committee approved those parts of the bill upon which both the Protestant and Catholic boards concurred which included abolition of the mill rate limit on the taxation of property subject to school tax, granting power to the Protestant board to increase its special rate to five mills on the dollar, and other requested changes of a formal or administrative nature.

The council voted in favor of a $400 grant to the J. O. C. St. Patrick and a $2,000 grant for the Association Sportive de Magog.

Ald. A. Pouliot was named pro-mayor for the next three months. Several other matters of a routine nature were adopted. Present were Mayor Ovide Bergeron and Councillors Loslier, Girard, Viens, Pouliot, Simard and Longpre.

Additional Grant Is Received For School Extension

The Provincial Government has made a further grant of over $35,000 to the Sherbrooke Protestant School Board, it was announced this morning. W. H. Bradley, Q.C., chairman of the local board, received a cheque for $35,423 from Hon. J. S. Bourque, M.L.A. for Sherbrooke, in the Minister's office in Quebec yesterday.

This makes a total of $250,000 which the Sherbrooke Board has received from the Quebec Government towards the cost of the impressive new High School extension which was officially opened last fall. In making public the latest grant, Mr. Bradley paid tribute to the sympathetic interest displayed by Hon. Mr. Bourque and the members of the Quebec Government towards the problems of Protestant education in Sherbrooke.

Next week the Board will receive tenders on a bond issue of $425,000 made necessary to finance the building program on Ontario street. Part of the new issue will be financed by grants promised by the Government and paid over annually for the next four years. This is the first time that the Sherbrooke Protestant School Board has gone to the bond market for many years. The last issue, which was taken over by the Quebec Government in 1947 under legislation designed to assist school boards throughout the province, came out when the High School was built in 1924.

New Rules For Tweedsmuir Contest Issued

The directive for the next national Tweedsmuir Competition is now out. This has been received at the office of the Quebec Women's Institutes and copies are being made for distribution to branches in this province, omitting the portion dealing with the Village Histories. These are always a permanent part of the competitions and there has been no change made in their form or content.

The handicraft section features a summer outfit for a six-year-old girl. This consists of ten articles and are to be made by the group, not an individual effort.

The third section, the cultural project, is an original oil painting of a Canadian landscape. As this must of necessity be an individual endeavour, entries are accepted only from Institute members, who are not professionals or College trained. With the continued interest shown by members in the Painting for Pleasure course offered by the Q.W.I., there should be many entries from Quebec in this section of the current competition.

Shoppers Throng Streets Again As Cold Spell Yields

Sherbrooke emerged from its gloom yesterday, sniffed the warmer air and decided that cold spells were wonderful in theory but—

Afternoon temperatures were from fifteen to twenty above zero, a welcome change.

Small children, kept indoors for days, explored the streets with that extra bit of pent-up energy. Snow mounds suffered. They were pumelled, rolled in, whacked with shovels.

Wellington Street saw women shoppers in the fray, hurrying along, parcels in tow. Shops had been relatively empty of buyers with slim attendance even in food stores.

Roads were slippery yesterday afternoon. Motorists and taximen complained the sun, even in sub-freezing weather, had loosed the surface with a speed and efficiency they would hardly have deemed possible.

Thermometers at work-going time this morning ranged from fifteen to twenty degrees above. Today's forecast high: 30, just two points below freezing.

The S. P. C. A. representative for the area declares that other farmers found not offering proper shelter and feed to their stock will be charged with cruelty to animals, which is punishable by a fine.

W. S. Nutbrown; missionary committee, Mrs. J. S. Marlin; program committee, Mrs. R. S. Lipsey; literature committee, Mrs. C. L. Norwood.

Mrs. L. B. Pierce reported visiting several who were ill.

Dr. L. A. Gendreau Named To Succeed W. G. MacDougall As E.T.A.A. President

Sherbrooke's City Council has voted to insert a clause in its charter-amending bill at Quebec to give municipal tax exemption to the properties of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, W. G. MacDougall, retiring president of the E.T.A.A., told the annual meeting of the Association yesterday.

A question from B. N. Holtham, Q.C., one of the Association directors: "Did you say the City Council would amend their bill to exempt the properties from taxation?" brought a clear presidential "Yes."

This announcement and an appeal by Sen. C. B. Howard for greater co-operation with the federal and provincial governments and the Sherbrooke Council were highlights of the annual meeting.

Dr. L. A. Gendreau was elected president for 1954 and Colin Campbell the first vice-president. In assuming the chair Dr. Gendreau qualified Mr. MacDougall, who retired after the customary two years' tenure, as "the hardest working president the Association has ever had."

The annual report of President MacDougall emphasized the fact that 1953 saw the Association going through a transition period.

The building program, renting of the race track, and provision of parking grounds presented new problems, said the president.

The successful flotation of a bond issue of $175,000, arranged by a finance committee with Louis F. Codere as its chairman, was outstanding. Of this sum $38,000 was used to retire maturing bonds and the balance of $137,000 was earmarked for the new additions.

The confidence of the Association directors was reflected, declared Mr. MacDougall, by their subscribing for $41,000 in bonds of the $45,000 offered to the public. No interest had ever been paid on Association shares and the directors had given their time without compensation.

In the year ending November 30 last the E.T.A.A. had paid $32,409 to the city in amusement taxes. Forty-seven per cent, or $15,332, was the city's share the balance going to the province.

A previous increase in the price of gate admissions had proved highly beneficial and had enabled the Association to embark on its building program. While government grants had helped meet the greater part of the sum required for prizes the E.T.A.A. had also provided a substantial amount towards the awards.

Mr. MacDougall expressed appreciation of the help rendered by Hon. J. S. Bourque and the provincial government, by Maurice Ginguet, M.P., and the federal government and thanked Mayor J. Emile Levesque and the Sherbrooke City Council for its grant and for concessions regarding water and electricity. The E.T.A.A. future was dependent on the fullest co-operation with federal, provincial and civic authorities.

The 1953 deficit of $7,893 was due largely to special circumstances and presented a poor comparison with banner 1952. A more accurate picture, he felt, would be afforded by the striking of a five-year average.

Rising costs had seen sums spent for wages, repairs and maintenance in excess of estimates but he felt the extra facilities provided would go far towards redressing the fundamental balance.

Total assets of the Association were $354,698 at the end of November. Buildings, plant and equipment, less accumulated depreciation, were carried at $315,853.

Arena revenue was $11,865 less than expenditure. Amount still owed on the Arena additions is $22,233.

Cash on hand: $8,094 with $3,165 due in accounts receivable. Annual current liabilities: a bank loan of $14,000.

The essential success of the E.T.A.A., Senator Howard emphasized, will depend largely on the degree of co-operation given to the two governments and to the City of Sherbrooke by the Association Directors and shareholders. The tax bill received from the city was easily explained. The city attorney had believed the properties taxable based on the fact that the Association had rented the race-track. The E.T.A.A. delegation to the City Council had received a good hearing and had secured a majority vote of the councillors in favor of amending the city's bill at Quebec to provide tax exemption for the grounds.

The governments and the city had helped a great deal and a way should be found to smooth things out.

With Mr. MacDougall in the chair, assisted by J. R. Manseau, secretary-treasurer, the meeting heard reports from Wesley Nichol, Douglas G. Ross, N. G. Bennett, J. E. Raymond, St. Marie, Louis E. Codere, R. A. Webster, E. E. Spafford, J. A. St. Marie, W. S. Richardson, J. P. Mullins, B. N. Holtham, Q.C., Senator Howard, Leo Laliberte, most being chairmen of committees. The meeting applauded remarks by Stephen Boily, formerly representing the livestock branch at Ottawa.

Upon Dr. L. A. Gendreau assuming the presidency and Mr. MacDougall being named honorary president, Colin Campbell stepped up to the post of first vice-president and J. Emile Levesque was elected second vice-president. The rest of the executive committee: Hon. C. B. Howard, L. F. Codere, Leo Laliberte, E. E. Spafford, M. T. Stenson, R. A. Webster, W. W. Nichol, J. P. Mullins, J. A. Ste. Marie, E. W. Gilbey, Eric T. Webster.

Two new directors were named: Everett Nicol and Ivan Dugre. Two directors: Hector Codere and J. E. Michel retired, and became

Career of Assistant to Chairman Shows Opportunities in J-M

When J-M's vice president and assistant to the chairman of the Board was one time asked what work he had specialized in during his years with the company, he replied:

"My experience shows the opportunities in this company, because I have been employed in practically every phase of J-M's operations."

He is John P. Syme, who has served Johns-Manville for over a quarter of a century.

"Jack" Syme graduated from college in 1926 and started his J-M career as an engineer. He saw service in the general engineering department and the industrial products department, then organized and became manager of the market analysis department.

He also experimented with new sales plans, studied prefabricated housing methods and the financing of homes, and for a time was head of the shows and displays section and a member of the sales promotion department.

After a period of special duties in the president's office, Mr. Syme organized the employee and public relations activities of the company and became director of industrial and public relations.

In 1945 he became assistant to the president and an officer of Johns-Manville Corporation. He was appointed to his present position in 1946 at the age of 42.

An Agreement Is Logical

The decision of the Provincial administration to impose a provincial tax on personal incomes in this province emphasizes more than ever the need for some sort of an agreement between the Quebec and Ottawa authorities on the question of the division of taxation fields.

The need of the provincial government for additional money to meet the growing costs of education, hospitals and other public welfare projects is undoubted, while the capital expenditures imposed by the rapid opening up of the new sections of the province add to the financial strain on the Quebec treasury. This need can only be met by the imposition of new taxation and the most logical source for this extra revenue would seem the income tax, which under the constitution is within the provincial field of direct taxation.

Expressing the hope that this new tax would not be a burden upon the taxpayer, Premier Duplessis has advanced the proposal that the amount paid to the province be deductible from the federal income tax.

At first this might seem a rather far-fetched suggestion, but a closer study of the situation, it appears perfectly logical.

Ottawa has already established the validity of the principle by its decision to permit provincial income taxes up to five per cent to be deductible in those provinces where there was no tax agreement with the federal authorities. The extension of this limit would involve no basic change, being just a matter of degree.

And it might prove a good bargain for the federal government. Quebec has already saved it large sums by restricting grants to universities and other educational institutions and the rejection of a taxation deal will reduce Ottawa grants to Quebec by a sum far exceeding that involved in the tax remission.

The federal ministers have frequently expressed their desire of maintaining good relations with the provinces. This latest development at Quebec gives them an opportunity of proving the sincerity of their words.

Needed: More Humorists

Stephen Leacock once bemoaned that it was harder to write a few lines of humor than reams of sober, straight description. How well he succeeded we all know.

Leacock was funny not only in print. He was intensely droll as a speaker.

We remember well going as a young reporter to hear a Leacock lecture. Cynicism sat upon our shoulder. We imagined there would be polite, perfunctory applause. We were prepared to be unimpressed.

We found ourselves in a hall full of rocking people.

As we looked at that strange, almost rustic figure, a little stooped, with the tousled hair; as we heard the slow, deliberate words of the blasé pretender in us fell away. We rocked with the rest. We laughed so hard that when we left the hall we found physical soreness was an after-penalty.

Leacock has gone in our own time. Long before went Mark Twain and Jerome K. Jerome. We had the short life of Thorne Smith — true his stories were ribald but they did have humor. And we still have

P. G. Wodehouse though many suspect he is in his decline.

After all, he has turned out dozens of yarns about Jeeves and Bertie and the rest and we can hardly expect him to be at his best forever.

But where are the successors of these men of humor? Are there any who can write descriptions as funny as Leacock's picture of a "little man" making his first deposit in a bank? Or as sadly comical as Jerome's essay On Being Hard Up, a state which he described first-hand?

True, the times have not been funny. Wodehouse could hardly have enjoyed being a wartime guest — even though an honored guest — of the Nazis and the transient odium it brought at home. Then, he had his trans-Atlantic troubles over a certain matter of the income tax.

Try to write a humorous piece and you will see how hard it is. But was there ever a time when we needed true humor more? Give us back the brilliant pens of Mark Twain, Leacock and Jerome or give us others worthy of their places!

FATE OF EISENHOWER PROGRAM IN LEADER KNOWLAND'S HANDS

Washington — (NEA) — President Eisenhower's bold new program probably depends more on Sen. William F. Knowland of California than any other one man. As majority leader of the Senate, succeeding the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the problem of getting a recognizable part of the President's program past the evenly divided upper house of Congress will depend on his tact and his tactics. It is no easy assignment.

If the Republican members of the Senate were to choose up sides on whether they were all-out, pro-Eisenhower Republicans or not, it would be found that they were almost evenly divided.

By contrast, it would probably be found that the Democrats in the Senate divided with approximately half a dozen more senators leaning towards the Eisenhower middle-of-the-road ideology than away from it.

So the Senate really divides — not 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one Independent — Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

It may arbitrarily be divided instead as approximately 50 senators in a theoretical majority that might be expected to be responsive to the President's leadership.

The dividing lines aren't sharp, so give one or two either way to play it safe. But in this group would be counted the more liberal men on domestic policies, the internationalists as opposed to the isolationists on foreign policy.

That would seem to give the Eisenhower program a fighting chance — but maybe only a fighting chance. It will take astute political steering in the Senate to put it over.

Taft's Choice Of Knowland Made Sense

When Senator Knowland was first chosen as acting majority leader by Senator Taft, there was some questioning as to his wisdom. The California is only 45. He has been in the Senate only eight years. He is by no means an elder statesman of the party. He is in fact junior to 34 of its members in point of service.

Politically, however, the choice made sense. Senator Knowland was never a Taft man. He was a Gov. Earl Warren man. Sen. Richard M. Nixon was the Eisenhower man in California and that helped to win him the vice presidency.

A Sharp Break in the Cold War

Gift Horse

By ETHEL MANTER
McClure Syndicate-WNU Features.

Robert Ivers stood in amazement before a chestnut mare which had just been backed out of a trailer at the county fair grounds.

"I can't for the life of me understand why Alex Dorney would me this beautiful Arabian," he said to Anderson, a cowboy who had gone to the Dorney Farms for her. "I've known him for twenty years, and the proud old skink has never given away horseflesh of any kind. This animal appears to be in perfect condition—look at her fine head and good forelegs."

"You're lucky to have her for the fair, Mr. Ivers, because I had a tough time getting her off the farm. The widow is at some resort, and it seems as if there was something special she wanted to tell you before you took Namila away. I told the stable hand that it could wait. The cowboy paused to run an appraising eye over the animal."

"Dorney knew I'd have bought a young mare like this from him," Ivers spoke as if to himself. "I can't believe that he loved me enough to give her to me outright, when the rest of his horses went for such fancy prices."

Anderson grinned affectionately at his boss and remarked with an air of profound wisdom, "Horsemen do crazy things, Mr. Ivers. Maybe he just couldn't stand the thought of selling her. Old Dorney was mighty fond of her. He never allowed anyone else to ride or groom her. The fellow at the farm told me she was a beautiful jumper, too when Dorney rode her—though once he tried her out when the boss was gone, but she wouldn't take a fence and was mighty hard to handle."

"Well, I have to go into town. I'll come back later tonight and see how she's getting along. Anderson, get your car and trailer out. The horses are being brought in for the show. And remember, tell no one how I got Namila. There's nothing like a good secret!"

The new owner thrust out a hand and patted the mare's neck. Namila flinched slightly, then turned and rubbed her velvet nose against his arm in a few of the gestures of friendliness.

Toward ten o'clock Ivers drove out to the fair grounds. As he approached, a fire siren screamed and he pulled aside to let the big red car tear past. Now thick smoke was visible in the vicinity of the stables.

He hurriedly parked his car and ran with all possible speed toward the section where Namila would be located. Someone had opened the individual box stall doors to permit the horses to escape. The animals were coming out only to plunge back in terror at the sight of flames spreading in all directions.

Ivers made his way through the smoke and found Namila standing outside of her stall, nervously turning her head from side to side.

Where was he to find a rope or halter? Quickly he tore off his belt and was about to slip it around her neck when a dozen fear-crazed horses raced by, separating them.

Handicapped by the dust and darkness, Ivers lost sight of the mare. Then a flame shot up, and he caught a glimpse of her for just a moment, humped and frightened, making no attempt to go anywhere, but buffeted about by the terrified beasts.

Suddenly he found himself crying out with all his might, "Namila! Namila!" He kept repeating her name, not knowing what else to do. The sound of his own voice steadied him.

Then from out of the dreadful din came the gentle mare, ears pointed straight forward, head high, walking rapidly and surely toward him. Ivers was careful as he stepped to meet her. He must get hold of her this time. It might be his only chance. Quickly he slipped the belt about her neck and guided her beyond the wild confusion.

"What a sensible little lady," he spoke softly to her as he tied his handkerchief about a bad cut in her leg.

The fire was extinguished and the horses collected. Fortunately few lost their lives, though many

10 Years Compulsory School Started For Soviet Children

Editor's Note:—(C)—Reporter Bill Boss has had a four-hour interview with Soviet Russia's deputy minister of education. The interview, first of its kind in recent years, was arranged by the Soviet foreign office and one of its senior officials acted as interpreter. This article first of three, reports what Boss was told about the public school system in Russia.

By BILL BOSS
Moscow, (C)—Russia is broadening its education system to provide 10 years of compulsory schooling.

Dr. Pavil Vassilyevich Zymine, Russia's deputy minister of education since last year and the man primarily responsible for implementing education decrees of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. and the Communist Party, outlined many aspects of the Russian educational system in an interview with The Canadian Press.

Compulsory education, he said, begins at the age of seven. Kindergarten exist for children from three to six but are not obligatory, although popular among working-class families.

September Decree
Last September the Communist party decreed that 10-grade education will be compulsory through Russia by 1960. Dr. Zymine's job is to extend the existing seven-year system to the equivalent of Canada's junior matriculation level by that deadline.

In Moscow and certain other large centres, 10-grade schools already exist. Elsewhere education is conducted in four-grade schools which take pupils to the intermediate level, and seven-grade schools which carry them to high school.

Most four-grade schools are rural and graduates automatically transfer to the nearest seven-grade school. If such schools are far from their homes, students live in dormitories where the only charge is for meals.

In the lower grades one teacher handles all subjects; from the fifth year education is by specialists. There are no school fees for the first seven years, but high school students pay 200 rubles a year, although free education is planned for these students now that it is being made compulsory.

Gets One Chance
Children usually have only one chance in each grade. If a student fails, the school principal, class teacher and a medical specialist determine whether the child is ill, retarded or lazy. In special cases a second chance may be allowed, but in most the child is transferred to a technical school or one for retarded children.

The state operates special schools for blind, deaf and retarded children who are boarded at state expense. Those whose homes are nearby may live at home.

Schools have a principal and at least one assistant principal. All must have five years' teaching experience to qualify. Party membership is not mandatory.

Orphans and children of herds-men in the far north, who live in dormitories, receive books free. Other students pay for their books.

All schools have a medical officer, but only the larger ones have a nurse.

Children may be accepted into the Pioneer Soviet version of the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts at nine and into the Komsomols young Communist league at 14. Children who do not want to

HERE'S BEST PLAY AGAINST NO-TRUMP

Correct defense against a no-trump contract usually consists in leading your best suit and keeping up the attack with that suit at every opportunity. Eventually you will establish your suit and be able to cash low-card tricks as well as the few high cards that your side may have.

Today's hand shows an exception to this rule. The correct defense was to take just enough tricks in the suit that was opened—and then the defense had to shift to a different suit.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and East won with the queen. This told East an important story. He hadn't been very happy about playing his queen of hearts since he feared that South had the ace. When South failed to take the first heart trick, however, it was clear that South didn't have the ace of hearts.

It was equally clear to East that the defense couldn't get rich from the heart suit alone. West had led his fourth-best heart, and therefore his heart holdings were higher than the opening lead, but he couldn't have any cards lower than the deuce. Four heart tricks were a good beginning, but not enough to defeat the contract.

East therefore decided to shift to clubs in the hope of bringing in some additional tricks. When East led a low club, South properly played the king since this was his only chance to win a club trick.

It was now easy for the defenders to rattle off four club tricks and then take the rest of their hearts. East therefore took eight tricks, setting the contract two tricks.

There would have been a different story to tell if East had woodenly continued the hearts by taking the king of hearts at the second trick and then leading an other heart to his partner's ace. West would be able to take a fourth heart trick, but would then have to shift. Nothing would stop South from taking five diamonds and two spades, enough tricks for his contract.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: North ♠ 9-4, South ♠ 8-6-2, Clubs A-Q-J-5-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two no-trump. You have two stoppers in the unbid suit, balanced distribution, and 12 points. This is an ideal holding for a delayed response of two no-trump. Your bid is highly invitational, but not forcing.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You South, hold: Spades A-Q-3, Hearts Q-4, Diamonds 8-6-2, Clubs A-Q-J-5-2. What do you do?

CHILDREN EXPECT US TO ACT IN FACE OF HUMAN MISERY

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
As there is plenty of human misery around, your child or mine may run into it any day, quite unexpectedly.

Several days ago I saw a small girl suddenly run into it. She looked to be about five years old. Beside her mother, she sat across the bus aisle from me, looking out the window so she didn't notice the new passenger's arrival.

The rest of us did. Hatless, swaying, his face streaked with grime, he stood for a moment at the coin box, fumbling for his fare. Then, mumbling to himself, he staggered down the aisle past us, trailing behind him the smell of misery and drunkenness.

Then the bus lurched, and the new passenger stumbled and fell to the floor.

Across the aisle, the mother said to the little girl, "Don't look, Helen. Don't notice the horrible man."

She said it sharply. Once I knew a woman with such an inflated social conscience that she used to rush about digging up examples of human misery to display to her little boy. It seemed rather unbalanced. But to me, anyway, it would appear equally unbalanced to refuse to acknowledge misery when it practically drops in a child's lap.

Or, like the parent in my bus, to define it as "horrible."

For children think very highly of us. They trust us, I think, to take horror out of their contacts with realities, not put it in. And they tend to be a little uncomfortable around us when we are too easily revolted by realities.

It has been by experience that children are happiest when they see us take action on human misery. We run into it with them.

Sometimes, we can't. In the position of this mother, for example, we might feel it would be unwise to attract drunken attention to us and our child by trying to lift our fellow human being to his feet.

But while it might be wise to just sit quietly while others help him to his feet, I very much doubt the wisdom of calling our fallen fellow creature "horrible."

Indeed, if we do sit quietly, Helen may be grateful for an explanation of our failure to act.

So we might say to her, "We let the gentleman behind us pick him up, not because we didn't want to help him, but because he might not have believed we wanted to. He is sick, you see, and can't tell whether people want to hurt him or help him. So we let the gentleman behind us take the chance on making him angry."

Such committees organize after-school activities.

Parent-teacher relations are on both the class and the school level.

All parents must attend three times a year for a program report from the principal, and monthly meetings of class parents are held.

The Annual Meeting of Shareholders The Royal Bank of Canada

Canadian Export Trade, Domestic Living Standard, Endangered by "High Cost Economy". Costs Must be Competitive with Foreign Producers, Says President

Flexibility needed to meet new conditions. "Time ripe for dollar countries to show good faith by reducing trade barriers and red tape as aid to Britain in making pound convertible."

The tendency to become a high-cost economy in which native and artificial barriers prevent Canada from achieving the degree of flexibility and mobility required for orderly adjustment was the main theme of the address of James Muir, President, at the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada. Increased flexibility is needed, he maintained, if Canada is to make those price adjustments necessary to maintain stability and prosperity at home, and insure a competitive position in world markets. Canada, he declared, should also further in every possible way the movement towards a world of liberalized trade and convertible currencies.

"A thriving export trade," said Mr. Muir, "is a means not only of paying for imports, but of securing, through quantity production, lower costs for Canadian goods whether these are exported or consumed at home. Canada can hope to maintain her standard of living only if she keeps her costs completely competitive with those of producers abroad."

HIGH COST ECONOMY

"Costs and prices in the Canadian economy tend to be insulated in two ways; first, there are business taxes, sales taxes, excise taxes, and customs duties which, because they are largely at the manufacturer's level, are embedded in the cost base. Second, there are certain 'invisible' insulators, whose existence is none the less evident, which make some Canadian prices even higher relative to foreign prices than the disparity warranted by taxes, duty, and costs of transport. For example, a certain British book that retails in the United Kingdom for 28s. (or at the current rate of exchange $3.92) sells for $5.00 in New York and $7.50 in Toronto. A certain piece of British manufactured equipment retails at $41 in the United Kingdom (the equivalent of about $112 Canadian) brings $219 in Montreal. An American-made article of household equipment sells for $77.50 in New England; but the price of the same article in Montreal is $149.00."

MONEY MARKET NEEDED

"We must not ignore the fact that the attitude of the money market is generally one that favors freedom of international trade and exchange. Pressure for special treatment, even when backed by evident hardship on the part of some producer groups, has been met by clearly moderate concessions. Moreover, as I have already said, our monetary authorities have adopted a policy appropriate to a nation that must maintain a competitive position in foreign markets. Not the least important aspect of this policy has been the active encouragement by our central bank of a money market in Canada. The Bank of Canada's activities and its co-operation with financial institutions in this respect have led to great improvement. But today something more is needed. It is time now for the chartered banks and all other financial institutions in Canada not only to support the efforts of the central bank but to take positive steps to increase their own initiative and activity in the development of a Canadian money market. Such a market is not only a symbol of economic maturity and strength but is in fact prerequisite to continued progress in a country, like Canada, whose economic future depends on the expansion of world trade and investment."

DOLLAR AREAS' ROLE

"We seem nearer to convertibility today than we have been since the imposition of wartime exchange control throughout most of the world; but the prerequisites to convertibility have not changed."

"Since the end of the war the world's hopes for convertibility have waxed and waned with Britain's exchange reserves. Today

GOOD PRESS ABROAD ENCOURAGES COMPLACENCY

"The means to our stability and prosperity involve an increasingly mature attitude on our own part towards our future role in the society of nations. The amiable charge commonly leveled by critics at home and abroad that, as a nation, Canadians tend to be unduly conventional and complacent is not without foundation. These characteristics may actually be further encouraged by the good press we continue to get abroad. Yet nothing could be more dangerous than the blind assumption that as a people we are impressing the world with the superiority of our character and accomplishments."

"More correctly, perhaps, our situation is akin to that of an heir who can never be sure that she is admired for her wealth, but not merely for her wealth. Our great wealth of natural resources is an inheritance, like an individual's inheritance, is evidence of good fortune rather than talent. We have still to prove that we can make the most of these natural resources in building a great nation."

"It is true that foreign investment is a relatively small part of Canada's gross public and private investment; but it is precisely this foreign investment that has provided in good measure the risk capital needed in resource development. This is the unusual course of events in a rapidly growing country. Nevertheless, until we prove ourselves it is safer I think to proceed on the unflattering assumption that our popularity abroad is based not so much on what we are as on what we have."

"Canada is so dependent for prosperity on a healthy flow of goods, services, and investment funds across her borders that the maintenance of favorable opinion abroad is an especially important consideration."

"But, if we are not to disappoint our friends abroad and even more important if we are not to fail in achieving the economic development promised by our great natural resources, we must adopt those long-run measures that remove or reduce certain special barriers to our economic growth. The most important of these barriers is the smallness of our population with a consequent narrowness of our national market."

with reserves at $2,520 millions and steadily improving, Britain can afford once more to consider freeing the pound sterling with the great advantage that now she will move from a position of strength rather than weakness."

"I think we can say that Britain and her partners in the sterling area, as well as most of her NATO partners in western Europe, have by not only accepted convertibility as desirable in principle, but have in fact subjected themselves to the discipline in their domestic monetary and fiscal policy which is one of the prerequisites to convertibility."

"I believe the time has come for the dollar area to show any thing but the most abundant faith in our ability as a nation to solve our problems; but I have thought it better to risk some over-optimism than to encourage false hopes."

ULTIMATE REWARDS GREAT

"I have emphasized the seriousness of the problems we have to face both in the immediate and in the more distant future. This does not mean that I have any thing but the most abundant faith in our ability as a nation to solve our problems; but I have thought it better to risk some over-optimism than to encourage false hopes."

General Manager Reports Assets Over $2.8 Billions

T. H. Atkinson, General Manager, in review of the bank's 1953 report, stated that total assets of The Royal Bank of Canada have now reached the imposing total of $2,895,856,189. This, he said, was a new high mark in Canadian banking history, and is the highest ever reported by any Canadian bank.

Deposits likewise had reached record totals, said Mr. Atkinson. They now stand at $2,734,644,076, an increase of $207,133,639 over the previous year. "It is encouraging to note," said Mr. Atkinson, "that Canadians generally continue to save a reasonable proportion of their incomes. The increase in deposits of the bank has been accompanied by the expansion in the number of accounts on our books. We now conduct over 2,350,000 accounts, and it is of interest to note that the number of deposit accounts in Canada has more than doubled since 1942."

Mr. Atkinson reported profits for the year had increased $1,506,051 over the previous year. After providing for taxes, depreciation and dividends, the net profits for the year amounted to $8,635,136. The bank's Reserve Fund now stands at $70,000,000. This, the President noted, was for the first time in the bank's history, equivalent to twice the bank's Paid-up Capital. This year's increase in this fund, he said, had resulted from the transfer to it of not only a part of the year's earnings but also of $12,000,000 from the bank's reserves for contingencies.

The bank's programme of branch improvement continued during the year. Construction of a new building to house its Calgary business was commenced, and a new building for its Hamilton Branch will be underway shortly. Six new branches and 4 sub-branches were opened in Canada, and 3 branches and 4 sub-branches were opened abroad, bringing the total number of branches up to 793, of which 70 are in the foreign field.

ROYAL BANK ABROAD

Mr. Atkinson dwelt on the growing number of the bank's branches abroad, especially in the West Indies and British Guiana. The bank now operates 66 full-time and 4 subsidiary branches abroad, and now has under consideration the opening of two additional offices in the Caribbean area.

"Naturally the volume of our business abroad fluctuates with the trend of conditions in the many countries where we operate. From time to time certain countries try to impose exchange restrictions, or the whole, over the long period your bank has operated abroad, a satisfactory solution has always been found to such temporary problems, and the contribution made to the overall earnings of the bank by the foreign division has always been worth while. It is, therefore, gratifying that I am in a position to report that profit-wise and in other respects results have been excellent from our overseas division for the period under review."

"With respect to the general character of our business abroad, we continue our policy of wide distribution of risks and our portfolio of loans and investments is diversified and sound from the standpoint of liquidity."

PRaise for Staff

"The past year's business, the biggest in the history of Canadian banking, was built on precisely the same foundation as has served this bank so well ever since its first days. There is little spectacular or dramatic about it; there are no secret weapons in our armoury. The base of our success is the superior service given by our front line staff in courtesy, friendliness, helpfulness and genuine interest in our customers' welfare. The work of executive officers would be of little avail without it."

"Wherever we go we hear from customers—some of them old-established, some new, and some casual—about how graciously they have been treated by our branch officers. That reputation is an asset beyond calculation, and in behalf of the executive I thank every member of the staff for his and her part in building it."

Maple Copse Chapter Meets At Lennoxville

The after Christmas meeting of Maple Copse Chapter, I.O.D.E., was a short one, taking place on Monday, January 11th, in the Gertrude Scott Hall. The Regent, Mrs. E. L. Seale, was in the chair to receive the monthly reports from her officers and conveners.

When the minutes for December had been read, the treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Preston, gave the financial statement, showing receipts of $90 and expenditures $34.50. Outstanding bills were enumerated by the treasurer, who was authorized to pay them before the close of the financial year on January 15th.

Mrs. G. L. Doak, educational secretary, announced that the Chapter's bursary holder at Bishop's University, Barbara Allen, was successful in the recent examinations. A few I.O.D.E. 1954 calendars were still on hand if anyone wished for one or two more.

Mrs. E. Paice, convener of "Empire and World Affairs," read excerpts from a fine address given at the provincial semi-annual meeting on "The League of Nations from Within" and followed this by a short article on NATO.

As usual after Christmas, the report of the convener of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, David Gray, from parcels deposited under the Christmas tree set up in the bank office. Treats to local veterans were sent by the sub-convener, Miss Florence Wark, in charge of ex-service personnel.

Miss E. L. Stevens, sick visiting committee, had sent cards to two members who were ill. The entertainment convener was unable to be present but on her behalf Mrs. Cecil Skinner asked members who wished to play in the bridge marathon now being organized to notify Mrs. Darcy Bennett.

The regent called on Miss G. Stevens to present the nomination committee's proposed slate of officers for 1954. The list was given, as follows: Regent, Mrs. E. L. Seale; 1st vice-regent, Mrs. Darcy Bennett; 2nd vice-regent, Miss Florence Wark; secretary, Miss E. F. Molony; treasurer, Mrs. Cecil Skinner; educational secretary, Mrs. G. L. Doak; Echoes secretary, Mrs. A. W. Preston; standard bearer, Mrs. A. E. Preston.

The standard was then brought forward and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Tea was served, Mrs. Seale presiding. The hostesses were Mrs. E. Knutson and Mrs. A. Scott.

Third Range Forum Debates Broadcast

The Third Range Farm Forum was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McElrea on January 11, eleven members attending.

The broadcast on "The Farm Price Trend" was listened to and Gordon McElrea led the discussion which followed.

In answering the question regarding the adjustment of farmers to a period of unfavorable prices the members were against any form of mass production. They did not feel there was any need for a marketing co-operative in the area as they had a ready sale of their products direct to the consumer.

The Forum was not in favor of the setting up of a producer's marketing board under provincial legislation to regulate the sale of certain products. In reply to the question of a purchasing co-operative to serve as a retail store for farm supplies and other goods it was stated there was a co-operative in Sherbrooke.

The Green Leaf was read by the secretary and after the meeting adjourned cards were played at two tables.

Farm Forum Met At Mansonville

Mansonville, Jan. 15.—The Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Steinbach on Monday evening, January 11, with an attendance of 12 members and one visitor. The broadcast, the topic of which was "What Do You Think?" was found to be very interesting.

To the first question, "What are some of the ways in which the farmers in your area might adjust to a period of unfavorable prices?" the members replied, "We should raise more of our own feed, grain and silage and improve our pastures. We agree with the suggestion by a member of the panel on the broadcast that a heavy production crop for summer feeding be planted."

Plans were discussed for the Fourth Night, to which the public is invited.

Lunch was served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Young.

The Doctor Says

ONE WAY TO GAIN WEIGHT IS INCREASE CALORIC INTAKE
By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Two teen-aged boys have recently written that instead of being troubled with overweight they are abnormally skinnier, and would like to add some pounds.

In general, being overweight is much more of a health problem than being underweight. There are some, however, who could profit health-wise as well as in appearance by putting on some weight.

In the absence of any definite disease responsible for abnormal thinness, nearly everyone, even teen-aged youngsters, can put on weight if they go about it in the right way. Perhaps the easiest way to discuss it is to explain a little about the nature of the problem.

The human body operates like a machine for which food-fuel is converted into energy and used up in physical and mental activity. There are, therefore, two ways to gain weight: one to cut down on the activity output or exercise and the other to increase the food intake, or simply to eat more.

The fuel intake can be increased in several ways. One of them is to choose the foods which have the highest energy or calorie value since these can be changed into weight as well as into work. The starches or carbohydrates and fats supply more energy and have more effect on weight than proteins do.

Balance must be maintained in the diet, however. It is not wise to cut out the fruits, vegetables, meat, milk and eggs which supply substances which help to maintain good health, particularly for those still growing.

Another thing which can be done besides choosing the right diet is to eat more at each meal. The amount eaten is largely a matter of habit and the stomach can be trained to hold more by gradually increasing the amount eaten at each meal. One good way to do this is to eat until the appetite is satisfied and then take a few more mouthfuls.

Gilles Dube Tallies Winner In Overtime To Nip Braves 5-4

First Place At Stake Tomorrow As Royals Pay Visit; Cotnoir Turns In Fine Job In Nets In Close Fixture

Gilles Dube, Sherbrooke Saints' shifty centre man, came through last night with the pay-off marker just one minute and four seconds in the overtime to give the Jake Forbes' squad a close 5-4 verdict over the Valleyfield Braves and move into a first place tie with the Montreal Royals in the Quebec Hockey League.

Last night's victory, which was a hard fought battle, enabled the Saints to move ahead of the Blake men into a stalemate with Pete Morin's Royals, who they meet tomorrow evening, for first position. The Montreal team holds two games in hand over the locals therefore tomorrow's tilt is of very great importance to the Saints.

The locals at one time last night held what looked like a commanding 2-0 lead, and again right after the commencement of the middle stanza they were ahead 3-1. However the Braves kept fighting and evened the count. In the third frame the locals moved ahead, 4-3, once again but it was knotted again but in the sudden-death overtime Gilles Dube wrapped it up for the locals.

Bert Giesebrecht, Moe Irving, Ed Bruneteau, Nels Podolsky and Gilles Dube did the scoring for the Saints. For the Braves it was Jacques Deslauriers with two to set the pace while Gordon Hawthorn and Larry Kwong accounted for the others.

Toe Blake, pilot of the Braves, got the heaven-ho at the start of the game when he argued with referee Len Corrievau over the Saints' initial tally. Hawthorn was sitting in the coolin at the time and he also came on the verge of drawing a misconduct. Corrievau ruled with an iron hand and at no time did the players get out of control. He was very strict but he failed to kill the game, nor slow it down, with his decisions.

Bert Giesebrecht opened the scoring for the locals with a shot from the cooler and when Gerry Ehmman was keeping him company Moe Irving finished off a nice passing play with Ed Bruneteau. The Braves' first marker was credited to Deslauriers when his shot hit Coach Forbes' skate to deflect into the net behind the surprised Gerry Cotnoir.

BRUNETEAU TALLIES BEAUTY
At the start of the middle frame the Saints moved further ahead when Ed Bruneteau, the boy with the rifle shot, checked defenseman Deslauriers and raced in alone from centre ice to lodge the disc into the lower corner of the net. Andy Payette had no chance on the shot.

Gerry Cotnoir was forced the limit in saving from Andre Corrievau at close quarters while Irving was in the cooler. Hawthorn got away and after rounding Ed Palamar drove the disc into the corner of the net. A few minutes later Deslauriers came up with the equalizer with Arbour and Leclerc in the cooler.

Nels Podolsky came up with his marker in the third frame to break the stalemate and put the Saints ahead once again. Sheer fight by the hard working forward paid off as he battled in the corner for the rubber and then came out to bat in his own rebound.

Larry Kwong evened the count on a partially screened shot after the half way mark while Red Bownass was sitting out a penalty for using his knee. Ed Stankiewicz was out in the clear again by Dube but the little fellow was having trouble in finding the range and failed to click.

GETS WINNER

GILLES DUBE

In the overtime the fans had barely time to settled down when Al Arbour snared the disc and raced down the ice he lifted the disc into the corner. Dube chased after it and when he passed it out it hit Frank Arnett's skate to deflect into the corner for the winning tally.

Gerry Cotnoir replaced Dave Gatherum in the nets and chalked up his second consecutive victory since taking over. He was in the twine in Valleyfield the night before. Last night he turned in a good performance.

Somebody missed a day. We did. So instead of Independents playing Knowlton - Cowansville all-stars here tonight the basketball exhibition will be played tomorrow (that is, Saturday) night. The game is set for the Sherbrooke High School and begins at 8:30 o'clock.

Bedford High Beats Farnham School 4-1

Bedford—(Special to the Record)—Bedford High won their first hockey game of the season by defeating Farnham by a score of 4-1. This was the opening game of the season.

The scoring was started by a new face at Bedford High School this year, Paul Cheeseman, who slipped the puck past the Farnham goalie from a lovely pass by Russel Blinco, who some five minutes later skated around the defense and scored to make the score 2-0.

Defenceman D. Hewett scored for Bedford and B. Jones for Farnham in the second period. Hewett got the only penalty of the game for tripping.

Michel Fontaine captured the honours of the third period by scoring from the face-off.

R. Wong, of Farnham, had 31 saves to his credit and C. Falcon, of Bedford, had 25 saves to his credit.

On the whole the game was very clean and fast, even though Cheeseman and Blinco both went to the ice: Cheeseman being knocked down from colliding with one of his teammates. Blinco went down from a puck to his head, over the left eye.

Montreal. — (P) — Montreal Royals came from behind last night to defeat Quebec Aces 4-2 in a Quebec Hockey League game before an estimated 2,500 fans.

Paul Meger was Montreal's sharpshooter picking up two of his team's four goals. Legan Tremblay and Larry Redan counted for the losers.

Regan opened the scoring second, driving in a shot from the corner that deflected off a player's leg. Eddie Litzberger came back for Montreal near the midway mark of the middle frame, sinking a pass from Gerry Deslauriers from a few feet outside the Quebec goal crease. Meger made it 2-1 for the Royals before the period ended.

Tremblay got his tally after only 46 seconds of the last period and tied up the score but Meger's second goal a few minutes later put Montreal in front again.

Ray Plante added an insurance marker at 8:50, driving home passes from Lulu Demis and Bob Frampton.

Doug Bentley Sore At N. Y. Rangers Because Of Treatment Of Saskatoon

Edmonton. — (CP) — Doug Bentley, angry over treatment of his Saskatoon Quakers by the parent New York Rangers, says he may not join the National Hockey League as a player.

"I don't think I'll go," the fiery little Western Hockey League coach said in an interview Wednesday night after Edmonton Flyers shaded Quakers 3-2 here.

"I'm supposed to go Feb. 1, but I don't think I will," he said. "I won't go while things are like this. They take defenseman Jack Evans from us, and then we start getting hurt. If we hadn't been hurt, we'd be at the top of the pile now. We were sailing when Evans left."

Despite Bentley's 37 years, Rangers want to reunite him with brother Max in New York to help the blueshirts in their drive for a playoff berth. Ranger manager Frank Boucher announced recently that Bentley had agreed to join the team.

NEEDS HELP FIRST
"They (the Rangers) have lots of players, but I know what's happening," the coach of the fourth-place Quakers said. "They don't want to disturb a winning combination now that they're winning a few."

"They're afraid that no matter what they send us, it may be just the man they shouldn't have let

Four-Minute Mile Is Possible, Says Dr. Phil Edwards

Toronto. — (P) — The running of a four-minute mile is possible with the proper training and conditioning of the human body, Dr. Phil Edwards, head medical officer of the department of veterans' affairs hospital at St. Hyacinthe, Que., said Wednesday.

Dr. Edwards, one of Canada's top runners in the 1920's and '30's, said that taken in terms of basic physiology and biochemistry, the four-minute mile "appears impossible for a human being if we are to accept present medical theories."

"But with adequate training and economy of muscular action to produce the maximum mechanical efficiency coupled with curulatory and respiratory adjustments, I believe it is possible. The medical theories don't take in the human element."

Sled Dog Derby To Be Held February 9

Ottawa.—The International Dog Derby will be held here February 9 and 10 with 25 of North America's best drivers competing for the top ward. To the winner will go one thousand dollars and two trophies including the Chateau Laurier gold cup.

The Chateau Laurier trophy has been up for these competitions since 1930 and must be won three consecutive years to be retained. Wilf Lepine, prominent Quebec musher, and an entry again this year won it last in 1952. Lack of snow last year precluded the running of the race.

One lap of 33 miles will be run each day with the best combined time winning the derby. Mayor Charlotte Whitton will fire the starting gun that gets the group of Canadian and American teams off the mark. Hon. Douglas Stuart, United States ambassador to Canada and Jack Snow, local merchant, who is sponsoring the event, will present the prizes. There will be a special trophy for the best woman driver.

NY State To Create A Harness "Czar"
Albany, N.Y. — (P) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Wednesday called upon the New York state legislature to create the position of harness racing "czar" armed with dictatorial authority over every phase of the sulky sport.

The drastic legislation, resulting from harness racing scandals, was introduced in the legislature as an administration measure and is certain of passage.

It provides for a base salary of $16,500 a year for the "czar" who would be known as the state harness racing commissioner.

The bill also abolishes the present unsalaried three-member harness racing commission.

Quarter-Finals Are Reached In Main Event In Sherbrooke Curling Club Bonspiel; Finals Slated Tomorrow

The quarter-finals were reached last night in the Sherbrooke Curling Club Bonspiel in the Rand trophy of the annual tournament. The majority of the games were played in the Southwood section of the event.

Play opened this morning at 10:00 in Magog, Lennoxville and Sherbrooke ice and will continue throughout the day at two-hour intervals with the final shift being slated for 10:00 this evening.

Tomorrow morning the surviving rinks of today's gruelling grind will walk into another day of tough competition. The semi-finals will take place in the afternoon while in the evening the finals for all three trophies, Rand, Southwood and Lothrop, will be held.

In the game played last night only two were in the senior part of the 'Spiel as Norman Beach on Lennoxville eked out a 8-7 win over Stan Cuthbert and his Brae Manor foursome and Hugh Brown pulled an upset by knocking off Joe Bellam and his Lennoxville rink 8-6. In the Southwood section twelve games took place. Oscar Stenson downed H. McRae of Danville 9-5. E. Pilkington of Magog downed Herman Conley of Windsor 8-7 and Don Clark of Lennoxville edged out Stan Galigner 5-4 in a close battle.

Jay Joslin posted a 9-3 verdict over Bob Blake, Nelson Lothrop came through with a 13-5 win over Doug Racey of Sherbrooke and Gordon Meek of Magog guided his rink to a 7-5 victory over Rev. I. M. Lidstone of Granby. Everett Nicol was stopped by Roy Wiggett's foursome 9-5 and Frank Beaudry posted a 11-1 win over Dr. Neil Dinning.

Bishop's University Cagers Travel To Johnson, Vt., For First Game Of Home-And-Home Series Tomorrow

The Bishop's University basketball team travels tomorrow afternoon to Johnson, Vermont, to take on Johnson Teachers' College in the first of a two game exhibition series. The across-the-border Teachers will visit Bishop's on February 19th for the return tilt.

Last year, the same series was played, and the teams split in their meetings, Bishop's edging the Teachers' College 60-50 in Johnson, and Johnson defeating the Purple and White Hoopsters 57-40 at the Memorial Gymnasium in Lennoxville. Last year, the Teachers put a short, but fast team on the floor, and it is expected that the same type of opposition will be met by the Bishop's squad tomorrow night.

Bishop's cagers will be guided in their efforts tomorrow by a new coach, John Rochon, who is replacing Palla Kiar as mentor of Bishop's hoopla fortunes for the duration of the year. Coach Kiar, who was doing a wonderful job, was transferred to Montreal due to sickness in the family.

Mr. Rochon comes to Bishop's with a wealth of basketball experience behind him. He is a graduate of Ottawa University where

Columnist Maurice Richard Retires From Writers' Group

Manager Selke Orders His Two Stars, "The Rocket" And "Boom Boom," To Stick To Playing Only While In NHL

Montreal — (CP) — The Montreal weekly Samedi-Dimanche today announced with the front-page headline "Richard Gagged" a column by fiery Maurice Richard declaring he is giving up newspaper comment on hockey matters.

Montreal Canadiens' famous Rocket is in deep hot water with president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League for a column last week criticizing Campbell and calling him a dictator.

When Samedi-Dimanche, which ran the column with Richard's by-line and the title "the hat trick," appeared today the usual space was only half-filled.

"This is my last column as a newspaper man," said Richard. "I am sorry about it because it gave me pleasure to express my personal opinions about hockey matters."

"This right is refused me. I no longer have freedom of speech. As a hockey player, I am obliged to obey the orders of my employers. I make no judgment on their decisions, leaving that to my friends."

"Perhaps later on, when my hands are no longer tied behind my back, I will return. Maybe this will be sooner than expected."

TO DISCUSS CASE
Samedi-Dimanche with its blaring headline and Richard's bitter retreat from its pages appeared shortly after president Campbell announced he expects to meet

Frank Selke, managing director of Montreal Canadiens, later today to discuss the Richard case.

So far the NHL president has made little comment on last week's blast at him by Richard and the impression has got around that any disciplinary action would be left to Canadiens management.

Earlier this week Bernard (Boom Boom) Georffin, explosive team-mate of The Rocket, announced that he was giving up another column in the weekly "Parlons Sport."

Richard, in his own farewell to his part-time journalism, thanked an unnamed "old pal reporter" who helped him with the writing of "The Hat Trick."

"He wanted to take personal responsibility for the words I wrote last week," said The Rocket. "I refused. All that he wrote was from me. I repeat it again and I want to take my medicine without having him swallow half the pill."

Alongside Richard's column, Samedi-Dimanche ran a note from its management which said that

Sports Of Sorts

By GLEN BROWN

This district of Bedford area is really beginning to hum with the senior and intermediate hockey teams swinging into their schedules with Waterloo giving Knowlton a 5-3 trouncing with the senior team that has gone one class lower. Then Cowansville seniors beat Granby 4-3 only to fall victims to Knowlton 7-4.

On the girls front Waterloo intermediates tipped over the purple representatives 26-17, and the Knowlton senior girls' team came right on to an exciting 60-53 thriller. Pee Wee hockey got off to a cold start last Saturday with the four teams playing tie games in Knowlton. In the first game Canadiens and Maple Leafs tied at 2-2 and the second session saw the defending champions, Rangers, field to a 1-1 draw by the fighting Red Wings.

The pressure of hockey players has got so great that the Knowlton Boosters association have had to draft Stan Hardacker in to harness to coach these extra graduates from the Pee Wees of last year. Over Mansonville way Jim Young is busier than the proverbial one armed paper hanger whipping up a combined Catholic Protestant intermediate team, and in the border town school your columnist is rounding up girls basketball team with Dorothy Dix as the senior member. So as you can plainly see this frosty weather is really doing things to the local yokels in these three parts.

From the point of view of interest the Knowlton win over Cowansville High was most poetic, in that Merton Tyler, the white haired boy from Ayer's Cliff, who doubles as assistant principal and this year's coach of the seniors at K.H.S., used to be beaten regularly by John Woods' cohorts of five and six years ago. Since then, the Knowlton fortunes of war have been largely regulated by gym teachers, but this year Mert was pushed into the drivers seat, and that win must have been particularly sweet.

Knowlton led 3-1 at the first period with Dex Jolley scoring two and Phil Sykes one, in the second canto it was 6-2 for the visitors with Jolley nicking two more to prove that his first two weren't flukes and Dave Crandall (Bunny's Boy) shooting one. In the last period Cowansville really worked and held Knowlton to a lone goal by Dale Osborne. For Cowansville Wenkert scored two and Potvin one.

John Wood had the game pretty well sized up when he commented that Knowlton had two very strong lines. For the Purple and White all the team played steady forcing hockey with the line of Phil Sykes, Dave Crandall and Dex Jolley showing some fine passing and scoring plays. Dale Osborne stood out on defense and John Delamare was really taking care of the cage. For Cowansville Wenkert and Potvin showed a lot of hustle and the Bowling job in goal was ultra ultra.

In the girls' basketball game between the Waterloo and Knowlton seniors, at Knowlton, there was some very good offensive work by the forwards, and some sloppy work by both sets of guards. Betty McNeilly's Russell gal was right on to lead the scoring on both teams ringing up twenty-nine points. Sounds like Margaret Sanford. Ona Bostwick was next in line with twenty-two points for Knowlton, Nancy Sanborn of the Flewellen clan also notched 19 markers, and a new comer from Waterloo by the name of Bailey whipped in nineteen. However those scores will drop when the teams bump into St. Helen's because the defending champs are hard tomatoes to score on.

CHAFF: Tommy Wenkert really got hot for a hat trick against Granby. Garry Morley of Knowlton Pee Wees on ye Maple Leafs looked very smooth in his opening game. . . pretty near as cold in that one as this observer has ever seen with several of the kids frosting their ears and toes. . . Surprise of surprises when Peter Giffin gave his corner a call from the Sherbrooke Record's editorial department for some information. Elaine Whitehead of Waterloo intermediates was really smooth against Knowlton with her twenty points. Looks like some of their seniors will have to watch out. . . Betty Levey high for K.H.S. with six.

Offers Wallace Canadian Bout
Toronto — (CP) — Coley Wallace, who portrayed Joe Louis in the recent movie about the ex-heavyweight champion, may get a shot at the winner of the Jan. 26 heavyweight bout here between Earl Walls of Toronto and Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles.

Promoter Frank Tunney said Thursday night he is negotiating with Wallace's manager, Blinky Palermo of Philadelphia, for a match here next month. Tunney said that Palermo has expressed interest in the proposed bout. Tunney estimates a gross gate of $30,000 or more for the Walls-Harrison fight Jan. 26.

Len Skov Tallies Winner As Wings Edge Bruins In Close Battle To Extend Lead Over Idle Canadiens

Boston — (AP) — A bullet-like 30-foot shot by center Len Skov enabled the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings to win their fourth consecutive National Hockey League start 2-1 from Boston Bruins with less than seven minutes remaining last night at the Boston Garden.

Skov broke up the most exciting game played here this season by caroming his "clinker" off the far net post after being set up by Marty Pavelich. The latter had intercepted defenseman Hal Laycoe's clearing shot well inside the Boston blue line.

It was Skov's eighth goal of the season and his fourth at the Bruins' expense. Setting off a blistering five-man passing attack, the Bruins broke goalie Terry Sawchuk 6-42 of the second period. After Laycoe took Leo Labine's pass out, the former lashed a 50-foot shot that was deflected by a Detroit defenseman. Cal Gardner was in just the right spot to slam the puck past the startled Sawchuk.

About five minutes later, with Boston's Warren Godfrey in the penalty box, Metro-Prystai moved the Red Wings into a 1-1 deadlock while they were mobbing the Boston zone.

Unintentionally, Joe Klukay was a great help to the Red Wings at that point. He had just discarded

LaStarza To Fight Britain's Cockell
London — (AP) — Roland LaStarza of New York has signed to meet Don Cockell, Britain's heavyweight boxing champion, in a 10-round bout in London March 30.

Notice of the signing was announced by Promoter Jack Solomons' office Thursday after Solomons telephoned from Miami, Fla. Cockell previously had agreed to meet any man of Solomons' choosing at Earls Court, an 18,000-seat indoor arena.

Cockell, whose main claim to fame is an autumn victory over Harry Matthews in Seattle, now is in Johannesburg, South Africa. He meets Johnny Arthur there Jan. 30 in defence of his British Empire title.

Johnny Bower's First Shutout
Chicago — (AP) — New York Ranger rookie goalie Johnny Bower got his first National Hockey League shutout Thursday night, blanking Chicago Black Hawks 2-0. The crowd of 3,520 was the smallest to see the Hawks play here since they moved to the stadium in 1929.

Bower had 39 stops to 19 for Al Rollins of the Hawks. He came up with repeated spectacular saves and when the pressure was at its greatest, he got admirable help from his defence. Meantime, Rollins allowed two goals to sift through. The first was by rookie Glen Sonmor, off a pass from Jack Evans at 6:09 of the second period, and the other was by Willie Gergeheimer, assisted by Ivan Irwin at 10:51 of the third.

No exact figures were available but a spokesman for the Black Hawks, who now have lost six in a row, said no crowd of comparable slim proportions had been recorded since 1926, the first year of Chicago's membership in the league.

The victory put the Rangers within one game of the fourth-place Boston Bruins.

Illness Forces Pean's Retirement

Montreal — (CP) — William (Pean) Bennett, 50, Quebec Hockey League and Big Four football referee for 25 years, retired Thursday. He has been ill since the beginning of the year.

A former half-back and flying wing with Montreal's Big Four entry from 1923 to 1928, Bennett also played hockey with the old Montreal Victorias.

Bob Porterfield Wants More Cash

Washington — (AP) — Bob Porterfield, the American League's leading pitcher last year, Wednesday joined the growing list of Washington Senators who think they're worth more money than the club has offered.

The 22-year-old winner said the Senators "didn't offer anywhere near as much as I expected."

Calvin Griffith, the club's vice-president, replied that "Porterfield has been paid extremely well since he has been with us."

Griffith said he believed the club would have difficulty only with Porterfield and Mickey Vernon, the first baseman who led the league in hitting last year with .337.

He expects the six other players who have expressed dissatisfaction to come to terms.

Dr. Phil Edwards Urges Realism

Toronto — (CP) — A realistic attitude towards track and field in Canada, is urged by Dr. Phil Edwards, one of Canada's former running greats.

"We need continual interest on a national basis for all athletics if this country is to take its proper place in the world of sport," Dr. Edwards said in an address Wednesday night to the Lions Club coaches clinic.

Dr. Edwards, an Olympic runner in the late '20 and '30s, and now attached to the veterans' hospital at St. Hyacinthe, Que., said the immediate need is adequate coaching.

"By that, I mean coaches trained in track and field or whatever sport they are supposed to teach. Hand-in-hand with this need is proper facilities."

He called for more provincial and federal support for athletics in the provision of playgrounds, coaches and tracks.

"Each Olympic year they cry at Canada's poor showing. But what can they expect? The material is here, it just needs developing."

Barbara Ann Said "Melody In Rhythm" As Hollywood Revue Opens In New York

New York — (CP) — Don't tell the Olympic committee, but Barbara Ann Scott has "gone savage."

That's the surprise the Hollywood Ice Revue, and its petite Canadian star sprang Thursday night as the show opened its 17th season in Madison Square Garden.

Mark Barron, Associated Press theatre reviewer, said the show follows the general line of previous ones but Miss Scott is "lovely and a melody in rhythm as she performs as a top ballerina on ice." The revue generally was an "exciting show."

The first-night crowd seemed delighted with the new and exciting phase of Miss Scott's personality.

Skating the part of Goldilocks in a fairy-tale pageant, the former Olympic and world champion figure skater exhibited the classically perfect style which won her the amateur crowns.

Likes New Role
But when she swivelled her hips in a flashing rumba, and cringed excitedly before a whip as a slant-eyed, exotic captive princess, the little girl from Ottawa left no doubt that she's a big girl too.

How does she like displaying on skates this other dimension of a hitherto demure personality?

"I love it, really. It's such fun. It's so new for me, so different."

The show has other skating champions. Peter Firstbrook of Toronto, three-time Canadian singles champion and Olympic contender, made his professional New York debut in a solo number, and later appeared as a tall and handsome partner to Barbara Ann.

French Girl Alluring
Another champion starred in the show was Jacqueline Du Bief who holds most of the skating titles in France. Svelte and dark-haired, she brought a Gallic touch to the garden in her two featured numbers, and proved a most alluring and fascinating skater.

But Barbara Ann's the star. Back stage after the show, wearing a red polka-dot dressing gown and cuddling a tiny white poodle in her arms, she looked like Goldilocks again. She said she was eagerly anticipating playing in Toronto and Montreal.

Dickson's Son Is "Disgusted"

Leavenworth, Kan. — (AP) — Pitcher Murry Dickson's 4-year-old son, Stevie, is "disgusted."

After hearing that Pittsburgh Pirates had traded his daddy to the Philadelphia Phillies, Stevie appeared at the home of a playmate and said:

"I'm for the Pirates. I've always been for the Pirates. Daddy's for the Pirates. And then some fellows called up and said he had been sold to the Phillies. "I'm really disgusted."

Interesting Exhibits Of Masks And Pictures At Boundary Art Gallery

Rock Island, Jan. 15 — A most unusual and interesting exhibit is now on display at the Haskell Library art gallery, featuring two masks. One, made by Orry Selby, is a Navan Kachina mask, which was made from a picture and is a typical example of the "fine clothes" of Kachinas Indian tribes, being extremely gaudy.

This mask has erected eagle feathers at the back and downy feathers on top with artificial flowers at the front. The second mask is made by Sidney Telford and is that of the Ahote Indian tribe, distinguished by great horns, snout, bulbous eyes and painted design. On the left side is a star and on the right a crescent moon. Colorful parrot feather form a circle on the top and eagle feathers project backwards.

These masks are still seen in the traditional dance in the Hopi towns of Northeast Arizona between December and July. Mr. Edwin Earle also has on exhibit pictures of the complete Kachina and Ahote dress as well as the woven belts and sashes worn.

Further exhibits are a number of paintings of Miss Florence Pike, of Derby Line, a retired art supervisor from Brooklyn, N.Y. These pictures represent various city streets, the beach, school games, a wedding, sliding and many more interesting studies painted by some of her former students in Brooklyn.

The public is cordially invited to spend a few minutes in the reading room and see this amazing exhibit.

U-NEED-US CLUB

Seventeen members of the U-Need-Us club of the Derby Line Universalist church met at the church hall the evening of Tuesday, January 5. The president, Mrs. James Stevens, Jr., called the meeting to order and Mrs. Fred Batchelor led the devotional period.

Routine reports were heard and approved and the sum of $10 was voted to be sent to Mrs. Scott to be divided between the A.U.W. projects.

The report of the nominating committee was then presented. Mrs. Carl Nelson being elected president, Mrs. Blain Hall vice-president, and Mrs. Cyril Cargill and Mrs. Mamie Aldrich returned as secretary and treasurer respectively.

Mrs. John Cowens, Mrs. C. A. Bacon, Mrs. Blain Hall and Mrs. Iola Kelley were elected on the program committee. This slate was unanimously approved. A rising vote of thanks was extended to the out-going officers for their fine work in a very successful year.

Mrs. Nelson, the newly elected president took the chair and continued with the business of the evening. It was voted to change the regular meeting nights from Tuesday to Wednesday. The next meeting will be held on January 20, the place to be announced later.

The meeting adjourned and entertaining games were enjoyed. Cake and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Lawrence Kelley.

DEMONSTRATION

Mrs. Lloyd Selby of Derby Line, entertained sixteen friends at her home on Monday evening, January 4, to informally introduce Miss Doris Cowles, of Newport, who gave a fine exhibit of different materials for furniture coverings.

In conclusion of the pleasant and interesting evening the hostess served refreshments.
