COMPROMISE ENDS CATALAN REVOLT

Anarchists Join In Coalition Cabinet To Unite Leftists

Heavily Censored Despatch Reaching Paris from Barcelona Confirms Report of Agreement to End Civil War Within Civil War in Catalan Capital—Over One Hundred Lives Reported Lost in Street Clashes Between Rival Groups in Forces Fighting Insurgent Armies Under General Franco.

Barcelona, May 5.—(Passed by censor—Direct to Paris)—A new provisional Government was formed here today. Carlos Marti Fedec, of the Catalan Left political group, will be in charge of interior order. The Government also includes Antonio Sese, of the Socialist "UGT"; Valerio Mas, Secretary of the Regional (Anarchists) "CNT," and Joaquin Pou, of the Peasants party.

(Editor's note: This despatch, necessarily censored, was the first direct from Barcelona since an Anarchist revolt broke out. It does not mention the revolt, but the announcement of a coalition government in which Anarchists are represented confirms other advices that the fighting factions have made peace.)

GOVERNMENT BROADCAST ANNOUNCES AGREEMENT

Perpignan, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 5.—A Government broadcast from Barcelona announced a peaceful settlement today of the Anarchist uprising against the Catalan and Valencia Spanish regimes.

The brief rebellion was reported to have cost one hundred lives and split the forces fighting the Spanish insurgents.

The radio announcement tersely reported that Juan Garcia Oliver, Minister of Justice in the Valencia Government and spokesman for the revolting Anarchists, had arrived at a peaceful solution of the crisis with President Luis Companys of autonomous Catalonia.

Garcia Oliver assumed the Justice portfolio as an Anarcho-Syndicalist—one of four appointed when the Government was re-organized November 5th, 1936.

The announcement of peace came as two British warships, the cruiser Despatch and the destroyer Hostie, sped to Barcelona as a "precautionary measure" because of the violence there.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

ANOTHER SIT-DOWN STRIKE AT GENERAL MOTORS' ST. LOUIS PLANTS

St. Louis, May 5.—Members of the United Automobile Workers of America at General Motors' Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants began a sit-down strike today in protest against the discharge of thirty-seven employees.

Norman Smith, organizer for the Committee for Industrial Organization, with which the Automobile Workers' Union is affiliated, said 3,700 men ceased work an hour after the plants opened this morning, forcing a complete halt in operations.

ART REPLACES BUSINESS FOR GERMAN FILMS

Businessmen Dropped from Board of Directors in Nazi Move to Transform "Film Industry" into Real "Film Art."

Berlin, May 5.—Germany's two largest film concerns, U.F.A. and Tobis, dropped businessmen from their boards of directors today to make room for outstanding actors and film directors.

Among the actors honored was Emil Jennings, named head of the Board which will determine the artistic policy of Tobis.

Chief of the businessmen to be dropped was Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, one-time cabinet member and former Nationalist party leader, who resigned from the U.F.A. Directorate.

In conformity with the Nazi Government's determination to transform what heretofore has been film industry into what can truly be called film art, the companies will be managed by double-barrelled boards. Business directors will manage business details but executive boards of actors and film directors will determine what is to be filmed and how.

Carl Frolich, familiar to the North American motion picture public as the director of "Girls in Uniform," will head the board managing U.F.A.'s art destiny.

Italy Embarks On Ambitious Naval Expansion Programme

Italy, Bound to Germany in New Come-What-May Alliance, Informed by Mussolini that Fleet Will Become an "Ocean-Going Affair" with Construction of at Least 20 35,000-Ton Battleships—Naval Estimates Rushed Through Chamber of Deputies Call for $289,000,000 Expenditure.

Rome, May 5.—Italy, bound to Germany in a new come-what-may alliance through a central European "Rome-Berlin axis," received with joy today the word that Premier Mussolini had decided to make her fleet an "ocean-going affair."

The press blazoned a speech of Admiral Domenico Cavagnari in the Chamber of Deputies in which plans for new construction under the 1937-38 budget were disclosed yesterday.

To dockyard workers this meant that two 35,000-ton battleships already on the ways at Genoa on the Mediterranean and at Monfalcone on the Adriatic would be ready for completion.

Simultaneously dockyards at Naples, Spezia, Ancona, Leghorn and Taranto were hopeful for contracts for at least two new battleships and flotillas of lesser craft.

With shouts of "Duce! Duce!" the deputies last night adopted Mussolini's 5,500,000,000 lire ($289,000,000) national defence budget for the 1937-38 fiscal year. The total was an increase of 727,000,000 lire ($38,240,000) over the preceding year's outlay.

Mussolini's undersecretaries for War Navy and Air—General Alberto Pariani, Admiral Cavagnari and General Giuseppe Valle—pictured the expenditures as necessary if Italy was not to be caught off guard in a European war.

Cavagnari insisted that the Italian navy "from now on must become an ocean-going navy" rather than one confined to the Mediterranean.

Pariani said Italy was not taking any chances in frontier protection. The country intended to build an army able to paralyze an enemy's advances and "win the war in the shortest possible time," he declared.

Valle was cheered heartily when he said Italy's quantity production of planes and plane material could be considered comfortably assuring.

DEFER JUDGMENT IN GRANBY NOTE CASE

Supreme Court Studies Case of St. Cecile de Milton Man Who Seeks $2,000 from Estate of Mother on Promissory Note.

Ottawa, May 5.—Judgment was reserved yesterday by the Supreme Court of Canada in the appeal of Adeland Duhamel, St. Cecile de Milton, Granby Township, Que., from decision of the Quebec courts dismissing his action for $2,000 against the estate of his mother, Mrs. Joseph Duhamel, on a promissory note.

Duhamel claims the note was given for work he did on his mother's farm. He is opposed by other heirs.

HON. GEORGE BRYSON IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Fort Coulonge, Que., May 5.—Hon. George Bryson is seriously ill at his home here, suffering from a heart condition which is being irritated by bronchitis. His physician today reported his condition as slightly improved. He is eighty-four years old.

Member of the Quebec Legislature for fifty years, he was taken ill at a special session of the Legislature last fall and has since been confined to his home.

BRITISH AVIATOR SET NEW CAPE TOWN TO ENGLAND RECORD

Heston, England, May 5.—H. L. Brook, British flier, set a new flight record from Cape Town to England today, landing his plane here at 3:22 p.m.

His time was four days and twenty minutes, beating a record set by Amy Mollison of four days, sixteen hours and seventeen minutes.

Canada Holds High Place As World Trader

Ottawa, May 5.—Canada's trade expanded at a more rapid rate in 1936 than world trade generally according to a review compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The result was Canada finished the year in fifth place among the trading nations, advancing from the sixth place position held through 1934 and 1935.

NO REAL DEMAND TO GO TO POLLS STATES HEPBURN

Toronto, May 5.—Premier Hepburn of Ontario was on record today with the statement that at present he sees no "real demand" for an election and that he wishes to "dissipate any idea of a coalition government in Ontario."

In a speech last night the Premier also announced Ontario's surplus for the 1937 fiscal year. The total for the year ended March 31 is $2,313,000, or $2,313,000 above the estimate.

"I don't believe at this moment there is any real demand for an election," he told the Ontario Women's Liberal Association. "The people will not ask for a general election unless some critical situation might arise."

"Any idea of coalition I know of exists only in the office of the president of the Toronto Star," Mr. Hepburn declared.

"Overtures" toward establishment of a coalition government in Ontario were launched when the Premier asked Conservative Leader Earl Rowe to visit him.

Mr. Hepburn stated that succession discussions for the fiscal year amounted to $15,991,000 and said there had been a reduction of $33,000,000 in the gross debt.

"We have to settle unprecedented problems in the last few weeks," said the Premier after referring to his "very humble part" in the General Motors strike. He made no direct reference to the resignations from his cabinet of Arthur Roebuck and David Croll, but added: "We mapped out a course and we followed it religiously in the public interest. There were some things we had to do which hurt and which will leave scars for evermore."

Mr. Hepburn said he had been deluged with letters from the United States commending his stand against the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization. He said he believed "the attitude taken by the Province of Ontario has had a very beneficial effect on these lawless activities on the whole continent."

The publisher of the Toronto Star (Joseph E. Atkinson) "strangely enough" marched out of step and all alone, said Mr. Hepburn. "As far as the press of Ontario is concerned, I want to thank the Conservative press that stood so loyally by the Government in a crucial time."

Members of the Quebec Legislature for fifty years, he was taken ill at a special session of the Legislature last fall and has since been confined to his home.

WILL ABOLISH IMPOSITION IN TITLE LETTERS

British Chancellor of the Exchequer Announces that Present Fees Charged for Giving Letters of Nobility Will Be Terminated.

London, May 5.—Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced today that legislation was coming to abolish the payment of fees and stamp duties by the recipients of honors and dignities conferred by the Crown.

A clause to be included in the 1937 finance bill will be effective immediately. Fees at present payable on the granting of letters patent are: Duke £350 $1,727; Marquess £300, Earl £250, Viscount £200, Baron £150, Baronet £100, and others £50.

When Lord Byng, on his retirement as Governor General of Canada, was raised from Baron to Viscount in 1926 he refused to pay the fee. The levy eventually was foregone but the honor was not gazetted until 1928. Fees also were remitted for Viscount Snowden and for Lord Sankey when he was raised from Baron to Viscount.

Lord Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer in 1921, and other Governments and also for a few months during the financial crisis of 1931, commenting today on the decision to abolish the tax, said it was "eminently reasonable."

"The loss to the public funds is comparatively small," Lord Snowden said. "If a man is honored I see no reason why he should be asked to pay for it."

BOWKER LAKE TROUT KILLED BY DYNAMITE

Authorities Endeavoring to Apprehend the Parties Responsible for Deporable Slaughter of Hundreds of Trout.

The shores of Bowker Lake were lined with hundreds of dead trout today as the result of dynamite that was set off in the lake over the week-end shortly after the ice moved out.

Bowker lake is situated fifteen miles from this city in the vicinity of North Stukely.

The proper authorities had been advised today and were investigating in an effort to apprehend and justly punish the callous individuals responsible for the deplorable slaughter of the trout.

The Provincial Government spent thousands of dollars a few years ago replenishing the lake with fish with a view to making it an attractive tourist playground.

The ice moved out of Bowker Lake on Saturday. That night several charges of dynamite were set off, and hundreds of dead trout rose to the surface. It was evident that the unscrupulous dynamiters had been waiting for the first opportunity to blast the lake.

FIRST RUSSIAN SHIP IN THREE YEARS AT MONTREAL

Montreal, May 5.—A cargo of coal was being unloaded today from the freighter Sevapales, first Russian vessel in Montreal in three years. She tied up at an east end wharf last night.

BEAUCE COUNTY BLAZE CLAIMED LIVES OF TWO

St. George, Que., May 5.—Arthur Gilbert's fire swept home held the bodies of two of his children today and his wife and two other youngsters lay in hospital as the aftermath of an early morning tragedy.

Trapped in their sleep, the Gilberts' two oldest children died yesterday as the mother and father fought vainly to reach them in the blazing frame building, after the mother had carried the two youngsters to safety.

Jeanne, nine, and Jacques, six, were walled in by flame and smoke as the heroic farmwife made futile attempts to get to them, despite the serious burns she suffered in bringing out Susanne, four, and Leo, two. The house was a mass of flame even as the sleeping family awakened to the fire's roar.

SINGER BUYS IMPORTED BELGIAN MARES

Grenville, Que., May 4.—Lanny Ross, noted singer, acquired a pair of matched imported Belgian mares from the Arnwald Farm here for $1,950. The horses will be the first of their breed to appear at Ross' Millbrook, N.Y., farm.

Mrs. Simpson Favors Canada Or U.S. And Duke Austria As Future Home

World-Known Lovers Will Remain at Monts, France, During Coronation of King George VI, Listening Humbly, Like Other Millions of British Subjects, to Broadcasts of a Ceremony that Might Have Pivoted About the Slim, Blond Edward.

Monts, France, May 5.—A pair of world-known lovers at present secluded within the ancient masonry and rusty grillwork of Chateau de Candé were reported today as mildly argumentative in the choice of their future home.

Wallis Warfield Simpson—the former Baltimore belle—was understood to be urging Canada or the United States as a land in which the tumult surrounding her romance could be forgotten.

Edward, Duke of Windsor—the British monarch who chose "the woman I love" to the crown he might have worn one week hence—was pictured as wanting to make their home in Austria, whose people, he feels, are close to him.

Their trials of five months and one day of separation melted yesterday in a joyful embrace at the chateau. Persons close to the household said Mrs. Simpson suggested that after the wedding they go to Canada or the United States to escape the memories and traditions of

FAREWELL APPEAL OF A GREAT CHAMPION OF DEMOCRACY

London, May 5.—In quiet tones of deepest sincerity, Prime Minister Baldwin made his final appeal in the House of Commons this afternoon. It was an appeal for peace in industry—an appeal that bore with it championship of British freedom.

Only in one phrase did the Prime Minister give any hint of his coming retirement. "I am going to make my last appeal," he said simply, as he leaned over the brass-bound box on the clerk's table, over which so many famous men have leaned before.

Yet in the scarcely suppressed murmur of sympathy that ran round the House and in the tense interest with which Conservative and Labor members alike followed his every word, one felt that all realized these were words of farewell from a great champion of democracy to the greatest of democratic assemblies.

EGYPTIAN VILLAGE WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Cairo, Egypt, May 5.—Fire destroyed 385 houses in the village of El Bakahut in lower Egypt; and left twelve persons dead, thirteen seriously injured and 2,000 homeless today. The Government sent tents and food.

LEADERS HONOR CANADIANS AT CELEBRATIONS

Leading Public Men of Great Britain Present at Banquet in Honor of Premier King and Other Canadian Visitors to Coronation.

London, May 5.—Sincere tribute to the Empire's unity mingled with jests at one another's expense as Great Britain's most distinguished men gathered at a Canada Club banquet to honor Prime Minister Mackenzie King, other Canadian cabinet members and four hundred Canadian visitors to the Coronation.

One of the outstanding pre-Coronation events, the gathering, with Viscount Greenwood, a native of Ontario, in the chair, last night heard Mr. King, Hon. Ernest Lapointe and Hon. Vincent Massey proclaim Canada's belief in democratic government within the Empire.

Malcolm Macdonald, Dominion Secretary, and Lord Greenwood also spoke. The Empire, the former said, was shown by the Canadian representation to be "not a land-grabbing enterprise but an active fellowship of men and races."

The Canadian Prime Minister found it most significant the Coronation and the Imperial Conference would be held almost simultaneously. The joint event revealed the sentimental, traditional economic and practical union of the Empire enduring in the face of a changing world, he said.

Reminding England that its equality of status was guaranteed under the Statute of Westminster, Lapointe jokingly told MacDonald not to be afraid of the Canadian invasion.

Acclaimed as a symbol of the union of Canada's two races, Lapointe said Canada was attempting to follow England's example of "loyalty and public service," while retaining its freedom of thought.

Lord Greenwood reminded the gathering he had been at University of Toronto with Mackenzie King, where the future Canadian Premier had taken all prizes except in Sunday School. The future peer went that prize with a tract called "Slidslips to Hell." "And here I am," he said.

Prime Minister King said Canada, firm member of the Empire, maintained its individuality, independence and freedom. Mr. Lapointe added that because Canada followed English principles the "queer doctrines of the bad boys of the world will never get any footing on Canadian soil."

GREAT CONFUSION WHEN PREMIER LOST BRIEF CASE

London, May 5.—A gossip writer in the Daily Telegraph today told a Pleasure Turn to Page 2, Col. 5.

Britain Appeals To War Leaders To Stop Aerial Attacks On Open Cities

British Ambassador to Spain Also Instructed to Negotiate for Establishment of Safety Zone Between Bilbao and Santander for Refugees from Threatened Basque Capital—As Many Refugees as Possible to Be Evacuated During Discussions—German Envoy to Conference Opposes Humanization Moves.

London, May 5.—Great Britain today sponsored an appeal to both belligerents in the Spanish civil war to check aerial attacks on open cities and otherwise humanize the war.

The Government also instructed its ambassador to Spain, Sir Henry Chilton, to open negotiations with the insurgent junta for the establishment of a safety zone between Bilbao and Santander for refugees from the threatened Basque capital. This zone would be under the supervision of the International Red Cross. A proposal to this effect was made by General Francisco Franco.

It was emphasized here that during the negotiations as many refugees as possible would be evacuated by sea despite Franco's refusal to give assurance that refugee ships would not be molested during the evacuation.

The Franco plan came under consideration when the Government decided it would be impossible to evacuate all of the 200,000 non-combatants with the ships now available in the Bay of Biscay.

At the same time German Ambassador Joachim von Ribbentrop sharpened debate at a meeting of the Spanish non-intervention sub-committee by declaring that Great War experience had shown that bombardment of open cities might be justified by military reasons. The British representative had proposed that such bombings be outlawed.

The German envoy asserted that the powers of the non-intervention committee and would constitute intervention in Spanish domestic affairs, to avoid which, the committee had been formed.

Heated dispute arose, with Belgrade, Swedish, Soviet and French representatives opposing Von Ribbentrop's views regarding the bombing of open cities.

FRENCH WARSHIPS SENT TO ASSIST EVACUATION

Brest, France, May 5.—The French mine-laying cruiser, Emile Bertin and the destroyer Fataque left today for Bilbao waters, to aid in evacuation of civilians.

The British and French governments have pledged naval protection for ships bearing refugees outside the three-mile limit of Spanish territorial waters.

CLAIM REBEL PRESSURE ON BILBAO RELIEVED

Bilbao, Spain, May 5.—An insurgent force reported to be composed of Moorish and Italian troops, and commanded in part by Italian officers was trapped northeast of here today as Bilbao's Basque defenders forced back General Emilio Mola's offensive.

Basque commanders claimed much of the pressure from the insurgent. Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5.

WARNS AGAINST CIVIL WAR FROM IRISH MERGER

Premier of Northern Ireland Declares Civil War to Last One Hundred Years Is Inevitable if North and South Were United.

London, May 5.—Viscount Craigavon, Premier of Northern Ireland, said today that if by "some miracle" Ulster and the Irish Free State were united it would result "only in civil war."

"It makes not a pin point of difference what takes place in Southern Ireland (the Free State) as far as our position in the United Kingdom is concerned," the Premier said at a luncheon of the Overseas League.

"I honestly believe the man is not yet born who could govern the whole of Ireland, if by some miracle the north and south did come together."

"If the union did take place, the situation would be comparable only to what is taking place in Spain today. The only difference is that, whereas the terrible state in Spain may last for five or ten years, I believe in Ireland it would last more than a hundred years."

It was Lord Craigavon's first comment on President Eamon de Valera's new constitution for the Free State, which is designed to serve for the whole of Ireland should the "partition" between the north and south be removed.

THE WEATHER

FAIR AND COMPARATIVELY COOL.

Pressure is high over northwestern Ontario and on the Pacific coast, while a shallow trough of low extends from the St. Lawrence Valley southwestward across the Great Lakes to the central states, and pressure is also relatively low over Alberta and Saskatchewan. Light showers have occurred in some districts of Ontario and western Quebec while in nearly all other parts of the Dominion east of the Rockies the weather has been fair and warm.

Forecast: Cloudy with scattered showers; somewhat cooler tonight; Thursday: Northerly winds; fair and comparatively cool.

Northern New England: Showers and cooler tonight; Thursday: Generally fair and cooler.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD TRIAL RESUMED TODAY

Cross-Examination of St. Francois-Xavier de Brompton Farmer Proceeded Before Judge J. S. Couture this Afternoon.

Cross-examination of Francois Xavier Labbe, of St. Francois-Xavier de Brompton, was conducted by Defence Attorney Charles de Mignault today as the joint trial of Lionel Grimard and Louis Rodrigue, both of this city, charged with conspiracy to defraud, continued before Judge J. S. Couture in the Magistrate's Court.

One of the men Rodrigue and Grimard are charged with "fleeing" is Napoleon Labbe, of St. Francois-Xavier de Brompton, who claims that on October 15, 1933, he met the accused, Labbe said that in answer to their questions he was willing to sell his farm for $5,300, and that he wanted the money as soon as possible to meet certain obligations. He claimed that the accused promised him that everything would be cleared up within six months.

As part payment Labbe received a mortgage on a Rock Forest property he claimed the accused represented as being worth $1,500, but which was sold for taxes by the municipality shortly after it came into Labbe's possession. Then the original owners of his farm, who still had money coming to them, instituted court proceedings and regained possession of the St. Francois property. Labbe claimed that he had never received a cent from the two accused, and that he had been made destitute with his wife and family of twelve children.

MAYOR RIOUX'S SON-IN-LAW HAD NARROW ESCAPE

While strolling along the Government wharf at St. Johns with his pet dog yesterday afternoon, Ivan Sabourin, St. Johns lawyer and son-in-law of Mayor Emilie Rioux, had a narrow escape from instant death by contact with a live wire which claimed the life of the dog.

The animal was running along in front of its master when it came in contact with a wire. Immediately it

Bedaux, during the Coronation of George VI, listening humbly—as other millions of British subjects—the world over—to radio broadcasts of a ceremony that might have pivoted about the slim, blond Edward.

On their first complete day together since Edward's dash from St. Wolfgang, Austria, in response to Mrs. Simpson's plea that he "hurry" to her side, a wide array of pastimes awaited them.

But Edward appearing tired after his train and automobile trip, was expected to take things easy for a few days. All was quiet on the estate early today except for the slow, unremitting patrols of English detectives and French police over the partly-wooded grounds.

tumbled into the water still clutching the wire in his mouth.

Mr. Sabourin's first thought was to rescue his dog, but as he reached towards the water, and noticed the wire in the animal's mouth, he considered it might be a charged wire, which it was. Luckily he decided to follow the safer course and call for help.

Employees of the Shawinigan Power Company were summoned and the wire repaired without any damage, other than the loss of Mr. Sabourin's dog.

FINED FOR VAGRANCY

Leo Blais, no address, and John Wilson, of Montreal, were each fined $10 and costs or twenty days in jail when they appeared before Recorder Lionel Forest in Police Court this morning on charges of vagrancy.

Emile Dubois, of Sherbrooke, was sentenced to a fine of $3 and costs or three days in jail when he pleaded to a charge of having been drunk and incapable.

SENTENCED FOR ILLEGAL SALE OF LIQUOR

Donat Defosses, of Asbestos, was sentenced to one month in jail and to pay the costs of the Court, or upon default of payment to another three months behind the bars, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal sale of liquor. He appeared before Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court this morning.

BOWMAN — Passed away at her home at Scottstown, Wed., May 5, 1937, Mary MacMaster, wife of the late W. F. Bowman, in her 79th year. Funeral Friday, May 7th, at 2 p.m. (summer time) at St. Andrew's United Church, Scottstown.

WIDER ROTARY DEBATE RULES ARE OPPOSED

Sherbrooke Speaker Believes that Discussion on Politics and Other Contentious Subjects at Rotary Meetings Not Desirable.

Montreal, May 5.—Broadening of the rules of Rotary International to allow the discussion of such contentious subjects as politics and social reform was opposed by Rotarian Bart N. Holtham, of Sherbrooke, at the gathering of the clubs of the Twenty-Eighth District held here yesterday. In his address, "Ten Minutes of Rotary," the speaker reviewed the history of Rotary from its beginnings to the present day.

He considered that the movement originated in the mind of Paul Harris of Chicago in 1900 and not in 1905 as most thought. This man had pondered over ways and means of making more friends and of improving business ethics. The idea of fellowship was the foundation of Rotary, said Mr. Holtham. From 1905 a group in Chicago started holding meetings in offices. The term "Rotary" derived from the fact that these meetings took place in rotation, going from office to office.

The ideal of service came in as the second of the four aims of Rotary in 1907 when the original group initiated a project to serve their community and in 1911 was incorporated into their platform the ethic that "he profits most who profits best." It was during the same year that the movement became international when a club in Winnipeg was included.

Regarding the future development of Rotary, Mr. Holtham did not think that there would be any marked change in its objectives or in the set-up of its organization. There had been discussion that political and contentious questions, particularly social reforms, be dealt with by members. He did not feel that a change of this kind ought to be made.

There are 1,238 delegates registered, representing officially sixty-one clubs of the district and six outside clubs.

PROUD MOTHER TO ATTEND CORONATION

Sheffield, Yorkshire, May 5.—Mary Ann O'Connor, sixty-nine years of age, is as proud as the day her five sons enlisted for service in the Great War. She has received a personal invitation from the King to attend the Coronation ceremony in Westminster Abbey. Three of her sons were killed, another was gassed and the fifth was severely wounded. They won nine medals.

ONTARIO PREMIER WINS SYMPATHY OF DUPLESSIS

Quebec, May 5.—Premier Maurice Duplessis declared in the Legislature yesterday he would support Premier Mitchell Hepburn if he were a resident of Ontario, "because of the fanatical attacks that are being made upon his government."

In discussion of the Union Nationale Government's bill to set up a commission to supervise the electrical industry, fix rates and revise contracts, Liberal Leader T. D. Bouchard asked Premier Duplessis whether he approved the Ontario Government's policy on power contracts.

"No, I do not approve the Ontario Government's policy on contracts and I have never approved it," replied Mr. Duplessis. "I told Premier Hepburn when I met him last year, however, that I would certainly support him if I were a resident of Ontario because of the fanatical attacks that are being made on his government."

LOCAL-GRANBY CHARTERS AWAIT ROYAL SANCTION

Quebec, May 5.—Hon. Mederic Martin, former Mayor of Sherbrooke, congratulated the Union Nationale Government yesterday in the Legislature for restoring the powers of veto to the mayor of that city. The Liberal member of the Upper House recalled he had been mayor in 1918 when the Provincial Government stripped the mayor of his powers, and he was glad to see the first magistrate of the city regain powers enjoyed by the mayor of any other municipality. The Council gave second reading to the bill to amend Montreal's charter and sent it to the Private Bills Committee.

Three bills amending charters of Three Rivers, Granby and Sherbrooke passed final reading and now await Royal sanction. Most important of the handful of bills receiving final reading yesterday were measures to allow the Mines Department to spend $25,000 to provide technical schools to teach trades to young miners and to allow tax exemptions for five years to property owners availing themselves of the Dominion Home Improvement plan.

HIS MAJESTY RECEIVED PRESENTS

London, May 5.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King was received in audience by His Majesty at Buckingham Palace today. The audience lasted for half an hour. His Majesty later received Prime Minister Joseph Lyons, of Australia.

MAD TORSO SLAYER APPEARS ONCE MORE

Mutilated Body of Cleveland's Ninth Victim Found in Lake Erie, Only a Short Walk from Downtown District.

Cleveland, May 5.—The mutilated body of Cleveland's ninth torso slaying victim, a woman, was found today in Lake Erie, only a short walk from the downtown district.

The women's arms and legs and head had been cut off. The torso had been in the lake for about two weeks, police estimated.

First reports indicated the slaying followed all the weird details of the previous nine killings. Corner Samuel Gerber a month ago warned police that the mad torso slayer probably was "making friends" with his ninth victim.

Today's victim was the fourth woman in the list of slayings. All of the women's bodies except one have been found in Lake Erie.

Only three of the nine victims ever have been identified.

Investigation of the killings has been almost endless since the first body was found, but every likely clue evaporated.

Authorities have varied on the type of killer involved in the slayings. Some police said a sex-crazed maniac was responsible.

FREE STATE BUILDS MUNITIONS FACTORY

Government Has Invited Tenders from British and German Munitions Firms for Erection of Plant.

Dublin, May 5.—The government has invited tenders from British and German munitions firms for the erection of the Free State's first munitions factory, to be situated at Kilkishen, a remote village in County Clare.

There may be some significance in the fact that the site is within easy reach of the new Shannon air base.

Up to the present, the Free State has relied on British firms for war materials used by the Free State army.

There is a suspicion in the Free State that the new Irish munitions factory is not at all unconnected with the British re-armament scheme, but government spokesmen point out that German firms have also been invited to send in estimates, and the site has been surveyed by German engineers.

NORTH COUNTRY WAS DESCRIBED BY MISSIONARY

Members of Cowansville Women's Auxiliary Enjoyed Letter from Miss Gwen Rogers Describing Her Trip to Northwest Territories.

Cowansville, May 5.—Interesting information concerning Aklavik, Northwest Territories, was contained in a letter received from Miss Gwen Rogers, missionary at that far northern post, which was read by Miss V. Godden at the regular monthly meeting of the Cowansville Women's Auxiliary held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Barker.

In her letter, Miss Rogers stated that she left Winnipeg on August 8, 1936, and after a month's travel north by rail, boat and bus, arrived at her destination. Reaching Hay River, Miss Rogers and her companions received and took charge of twenty-five children who were being transferred to the new school at Aklavik, which is situated on the Peel River in the Delta of the Mackenzie river, and is the most northerly fort and mission in the Arctic.

It is 1660 miles north of Edmonton. If one were to continue the journey for about one thousand miles beyond Aklavik down the Peel river to the Beaufort Sea and across the Arctic Ocean, one would reach the North Pole.

As the word Delta suggests, the country is a mass of small lakes, rivers and streams, and from all accounts the great breeding place of the mammoth mosquito.

The school is a frame building; the rooms are spacious, finished with best and strapping. Wood is the only fuel used. The school has a pupilage of eighty children, who consist of Eskimo, Indians and a few half-breeds.

The children are admitted for a five-year term, the majority being under twelve years of age. A few older girls are receiving half-time domestic and class-room training.

A girls' branch of the W.A. has been organized and the members prepared a programme on the aims of the W.A., which was presented at Easter. The senior boys are members of the C.B.L.

In mid-winter there is six weeks of darkness, which is rather depressing to those who are experiencing it for the first time. The bright days that follow are much appreciated.

Dog team is the only means of travel. The average team consists of five or six dogs, which are able to pull approximately two hundred pounds each and travel five to ten miles an hour.

Supplies of vegetables are brought from Fort Simpson. These are frozen, but when slowly thawed in cold water and then brought to a boil are as nice as any fresh vegetable.

During the holiday season extra batches of bread are brought in frozen, and half an hour before being needed are put in the warming closet.

The water supply is a great problem in the north. Ice is cut from the river during the winter and is melted and used for cooking and drinking purposes. Snow water is used for washing and cleaning. All drinking water is boiled.

Six mails are received by plane during the year. The plane remains in the Post for twenty-four hours so that business letters may be answered and home letters completed.

The mission hospital was opened on March 1st. On March 14th the first baby was born in the hospital and the mother received a complete layette as a gift for her son.

During the afternoon the members worked on a quilt, which will be included in the missionary bale.

"FEMININE MUSSOLINI" DIRECTS ITALIAN WOMEN'S FOOTSTEPS IN FASCIST PATHS

Miss and Mrs. Italy Are Made to Feel Their Importance in the New State

Little known because little publicity is permitted to fall upon women holding important Italian posts, a woman actually is a sort of dictator of feminine Fascism. This woman—Professoressa Dolloressa Maria Castellani—was sought out and interviewed exclusively by Rosette Hargrove, a European staff writer for NEA Service and the Sherbrooke Record.

Rome, May 5.—Flatter the girl! Calling upon that neat bit of feminine psychology known to even the least worldly wise village swain, Fascism has sought to win the women of Italy to its banner.

Benito Mussolini has made women feel their importance—raised them to the rank of collaborators in his scheme of government. He has contrived to give even the most humble housewife the impression that she is vital to the welfare of her country.

His frequently expressed respect for family ties, his solicitude for the children, his appreciation of the Italian woman's fortitude and courage in war-times—all these are things which you constantly hear from women in all walks of life. If the thunder of distant guns and the ominous hum of machinery in armament mills ever causes Italian women to think they are giving birth to sons who will be mere cannon fodder, these "un-Fascist" thoughts are pushed far back in their minds.

Women Forge Ahead By Merit Alone.

With further unerring feminine psychology—a knowledge that women know most about woman—the feminine Fascist movement has been placed under the leadership of Professoressa Maria Castellani, a woman with a brilliant record as a university professor. She is the director of all the Feminine Fascie throughout the country, with head office in Rome.

Her office is perched at the top of the Palazzo Braschi, overlooking the Roman square celebrated for its famous fountain. Here she works fourteen hours a day and more, surrounded by an army of women helpers and secretaries.

During the interview which she granted this correspondent, she was being continually interrupted either by the telephone or visitors. Although business was conducted with all the exuberance of the Italian character, Professoressa Castellani gets things done quickly. The Roman salute greeted every caller, but it had none of the seriousness and grim earnestness that confronts you in Berlin.

"The new Italian woman," declared Professoressa Maria Castellani, "unlike those of other countries, where in many cases they occupy important political posts merely because they have just followed a way paved for them by father, husband or brother, achieve independence through their own efforts. They are not content to be dependent on their men, but they are planning to make their home here with the former's brother, Mr. A. McAllister, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Cassidy, Joyce Cassidy and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Raiter accompanied Miss Janet Cassidy to Montreal Friday morning, when she sailed for London with the Overseas Education League.

Several charges of dynamite were used to dislodge the roots of the large trees Miss Nesbitt had removed from her grounds.

Mrs. W. McHaffie and daughters, Claire and Margaret, who have spent the past year here, are returning to their home in Verdun.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Belanger are moving to St. Sebastian, where they will make their home. Mr. Lanctot of Montreal, has taken over Mr. Belanger's tailor shop on South street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson and daughter, Marjorie, accompanied by Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. Wood, spent a recent week-end in Montreal.

Representatives of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 17, called on Mr. and Mrs. S. Hetherington prior to their departure for their new home in Rougemont, and presented them with a leather-bound prayer book and hymn-book. Both thanked the delegation for this gift.

Miss E. Brown spent a few days in Magog last week as a guest of her sister, Mrs. H. Pibus, and family.

The fire reels were called out Saturday noon for a grass fire at the rear of Mrs. Johnston's house, William street.

Mrs. Bushell spent the week-end with friends in Waterloo.

Clayton Smith, of the Bank of Commerce, has been confined to his room for the past week, suffering from a severe sore throat. Mr. Cochrane, of Bedford, is supplying for him at the bank.

Miss Alta Smith and Mr. William Stockwell have returned to their respective homes, after spending a couple of weeks in the local hospital following operations for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hastings and family left for their new home in Verdun on Monday.

Mrs. Blake, of Danville, who spent the winter here, has returned home.

Mrs. N. H. McCrum and two children and Miss Etta Brock motored to Coaticook last Friday.

Mrs. Cleary, and Miss Mary Cleary, formerly of Shawbridge,

Pick of Women Train Girls Fourteen to Eighteen.

Italy has today women barristers and solicitors, five women notaries, nearly eight hundred doctors, 195 engineers and chemists, thirteen architects, without counting dentists, veterinary surgeons, as well as countless writers, journalists and artists.

The teaching profession absorbs a great number of women. Over 140,000 have adopted this career, where every branch is open to them with a few exceptions such as the teaching of philosophy and literature in the higher boys' or co-educational schools.

One of the most important phases of woman's work in the Fascist regime is the protection of fellow-women. The activities of every organization are devoted to the preparation of children for the collective life of the country.

The "Balilla" organization covers a million and a half female children who up to the age of fourteen represent the "Little Italian Women" group; from fourteen to eighteen they come into the category of "Young Italian Women"; and from eighteen to twenty-two, they automatically become known as "Young Fascists."

Much study and time are devoted to the sports and recreative activities of these girls. Italians point with great pride to the enormous strides young Italians have made in all branches of sports. An Academy of Physical Culture has been founded in Orvieto, where the pick of Italian women prepares for leadership in physical culture under careful training and study.

These skilled teachers in turn train the various categories of "Young Italians" in every kind of athletics.

Agricultural workers' welfare work is pointed to with particular pride by Doctor Maria Castellani. Country housewives are given classes in domestic economy, manual work, weaving and so on. Farmers' wives are given instruction in poultry farming and other work related to the farm and are thus able to increase the welfare of their families.

Women field workers during their seasonal work, as in fruit picking, olive and rice pruning, live in well-ventilated dormitories, their health as well as their children's strictly supervised.

Unlike Hitler, Mussolini was never obliged to send the married women back to their cooking and their children because they had never taken a very active part in public life. Like the women of the reigned supreme in their home, leaving the business of politics to the men. Also unlike Hitler, Mussolini never resorted to draconian measures such as condemning, if not actually forbidding, frivolities such as pretty clothes, smoking, makeup and lace ornaments. In his opinion, these are not detrimental to the more serious future task of Italian women—that of helping in the building up of the new Empire.

FOSTER SCENE OF HILARIOUS FULFORD PLAY

Talented Cast of Fulford Players Presented 'A Ready Made Family' Under the Auspices of the Ladies' Guild — Jersey Calf Club Elected Officers.

Foster, May 5.—A splendid comedy, "A Ready-Made Family," was staged by Fulford talent in the Foster Hall, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of St. Stephen's Church.

The leading role of the widow, Mrs. Agnes Martyn, was very effectively taken by Mrs. K. Korn. Bob, her son, played by Howard Wright; Marilee, her elder daughter, taken by Mrs. Harold Forshaw; and her younger child, played by Miss Patricia de Solla, were a source of mirth with their various fits, baby talk and pranks to discourage their prospective father-to-be, Henry Turner, a widower, played by Arthur Blott who with his daughter, Doris, taken by Miss Constance Graves, and his son, Sammie, played by Kenneth Wright, were visiting in the Martyn home. Doris and Sammie staged some very clever stunts in order to scare the widow so that she would not want to become Mrs. Henry Turner.

Miss Lydia, played by Mrs. H. de Solla, who constantly mourned over her brother, the late Mr. Martyn, who had been dead ten years, did her share in trying to break up the match.

Last but not least were Begonia, the Martyn's darky cook, taken by Mrs. Guy Graves, and Nicodemus, the Martyn's colored handy man, played by H. de Solla, who were a constant source of merriment.

At the opening an instrumental number was played by Miss Doris Bockus. A duet was given by Mrs. Sparks and George Hoare. Stephen and Bernard de Solla sang a duet and H. de Solla a solo between acts.

Rev. H. P. Mount acted as chairman. At the close of the play, "O Canada" was sung. A dance followed, music being furnished by H. de Solla, Kenneth Graves, B. de Solla and others. The proceeds were most gratifying.

HEALTHY BABIES are not cross. Your baby should not be cross. If he is, his little system is "out of order". Probably Baby's Own Tablets can promptly "put it right".

Mrs. H. de Solla, of Fenelon Falls, had the experience. She writes: "My little girl was irritable, feverish and sometimes sick at her stomach—what a relief it was after giving her Baby's Own Tablets, to see how much better she was."

"No matter how delicate your baby may be these little sweet-tasting tablets cannot harm him. Easy to take. Promptly effective. Free from opiates and stupefying drugs. Analyst's report on every package.

Just as prompt in clearing up simple fevers, diarrhoea, colds, constipation, simple croup, croup, teething troubles and other minor ills of babyhood.

Never be without a full box of Baby's Own Tablets. Sickness so often strikes in the night.

If you are not satisfied with the results your druggist will give you money back.

Mrs. H. de Solla, of Fenelon Falls, had the experience. She writes: "My little girl was irritable, feverish and sometimes sick at her stomach—what a relief it was after giving her Baby's Own Tablets, to see how much better she was."

"No matter how delicate your baby may be these little sweet-tasting tablets cannot harm him. Easy to take. Promptly effective. Free from opiates and stupefying drugs. Analyst's report on every package.

Just as prompt in clearing up simple fevers, diarrhoea, colds, constipation, simple croup, croup, teething troubles and other minor ills of babyhood.

Never be without a full box of Baby's Own Tablets. Sickness so often strikes in the night.

SHERBROOKE, WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1937.

When thou dost lend thy brother anything, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge.—Deuteronomy 24:10.

The Construction Industry Expands.

The news that the volume of building permits issued in Sherbrooke during the past month was the highest of any similar period for several years indicates that the employment prospects in this district during the months to come are unusually bright. Employment in the manufacturing plants has been at a high level for some time past, with many concerns experiencing a decided shortage of skilled workers.

But the construction industry has been lagging. However, the improved conditions in other lines and the revival of confidence among investors is today being reflected in the building trades, which are now enjoying an activity they have not felt in many years. Furthermore, the work is of a general nature, ranging from railway roundhouses to apartment blocks, and should draw from the relief lists many classes of skilled artisans who have been unable to find employment for a long period.

A Centennial Memorial.

Many and numerous have been the proposals for a suitable memorial to be erected to commemorate Sherbrooke's Centennial celebrations to be held during the coming summer, but none as yet suggested approach the idea of a building to house the two public libraries at present operating in the city and at the same time provide a concert hall and rooms for other public organizations.

A substantial but dignified building in keeping with the purposes of such groups could be erected at approximately the same cost as some of the suggested visionary memorials. In addition, such a structure would serve a useful purpose in the community and at the same time provide a "living" memorial, something which coming generations could use and appreciate, something which they would be prepared to thank the donors for rather than regard as a bill of expense.

The City Council and the centenary committee should seriously study this idea rather than be rushed into some scheme of gate-building or similar project sought by some particularly voluble group.

Carry On.

Until quite recently, most well-informed people supposed that medical science had finally "conquered" yellow fever. Beginning with Gorgas, Reed, and their confederates in Hanava, science had shown that the disease was transmitted solely by one particular species of mosquito, called aedes aegypti; and that as this obnoxious pest was brought under control, yellow fever was sure to vanish.

The annual report of the Rockefeller Foundation, however, reveals that the picture is not so rosy. For it has been discovered that yellow fever can and does occur in regions where aedes aegypti has never appeared. Vast areas of South American jungle are centers of the disease, and some entirely new villain must be sought.

There are no brighter chapters in all medical history than those which tell of its fight with yellow fever. It may be discouraging to learn that the fight has not yet been won, but has merely entered a new phase. And yet, in view of past performances, who can doubt that medical science will find the brains, the courage, and the stick-to-itiveness to carry on until the victory is final?

Simplifying Court Procedure.

Premier Maurice Duplessis, in his capacity as Attorney-General, has announced that the Quebec Government intends to reorganize the judicial system of the Province with a view to increasing its efficiency and simplifying its procedure. While the exact nature of the proposals are as yet unknown, they will be welcomed by all citizens who have had to take part in a lawsuit. To say the least, the judicial system existing today in the Province of Quebec is clumsy and costly, with the jurisdiction of the different classes of judges being divided in unexplainable ways.

The calibre of the great majority of the judges of the superior and lower courts of the Province is above reproach, but this overlapping and interlocking of divisions has produced some rather embarrassing legal situations, with judges being unable to say honestly whether they had the right to hear an individual case or not. This was humorously apparent following the last Provincial elections when in certain Montreal ridings con-tation cases were thrown from one court to another, to die actually but not legally when the Legislature was dissolved and new elections ordered.

While about the task of simplifying procedure, the Attorney-General might also study the problem of reducing legal costs. Too many legal offices have been created in recent years merely to fill the demands of some party henchman, generally being financed by fees and stamp taxes. Thus they appear to cost the Government nothing but bear heavily on the litigant, especially in minor cases where nominal fines of one to three dollars are generally supplemented by costs ranging around eight dollars.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the proposed reforms will result in speedier and cheaper justice and, therefore, more truthfully real justice.

Who To Blame For Society Ills?

One way to give yourself a headache is to try to figure out just who is really to blame for many of the things that go wrong in this queer, sadly-tangled world. Judge Benjamin Scheinman, who presides over a Los Angeles court in which the coppers daily bring their assortment of petty offenders—the misfits of metropolitan life for whose infinitely complicated web of mistakes and offenses society can think of no answer but ten days in jail—started thinking aloud along these lines the other day.

Finally he unburdened himself to a reporter. "We may be arresting the wrong people," he mused. "We may be making a mistake in arresting drunks and vagrants and not arresting those who provide the breeding ground for drunks and vagrants, and who certainly contribute to their delinquency."

And then the judge began trying to figure out just who these contributors to delinquency might be. He mentioned the sweatshop employers who pay starvation wages; politicians who play with the public; the saloonkeepers who sell liquor to these men until they are drunk and after they are drunk; and the employment agencies that make them pay to get jobs.

All these things added together, Judge Scheinman remarked, are enough to drive any man to ruin. Dirt, idleness, hopelessness, friendliness—put them to work on a man, and you need not be surprised if he winds up, frowsy and befuddled, in police court.

"There is another angle, too, for us to ponder over," continued the judge. "If you and I voted unsuitable men into office, we, too, are to blame."

In other words, when you trace the offender's troubles to society you may wind up by putting the finger on yourself. For if we live in the kind of society that drives a certain percentage of its misfits to drink and vagrancy, and if we ourselves consent to that society's existence and do nothing to iron out its rough places—then we ourselves are the ultimate offenders.

If you want to keep your mental ease and complacency, never try to discover the ultimate responsibility for society's ills. For, if you do, you may wind up just where Judge Scheinman wound up—accusing yourself.

Thirty Years Ago Today

May 5th, 1907.
At the annual meeting of the Sovereign Baseball League, held at Dunham, the following officers were elected: Messrs. O. C. Selby, F. D. Walsh, E. Shepard, Robert Kidd and A. T. Gould.
The following committee was named to solicit funds to repair the suspension bridge at Bedford damaged in the recent floods: Rev. J. B. Tetrault, Messrs. W. Williamson, Peter Brault, J. W. Cockerline and M. A. Hungerford.

The opening steps were taken at a public meeting for the merging of the township and village schools at Dunham.
Prize-winners in the final examinations at the Johnville village school were Kenneth Hunter, Cyril Smith, Leonard Oates, Eva Colby and Muriel Oates.
Those taking part in an entertainment by the Junior Auxiliary of St. George's Church at Lennoxville were Lillian Hawes, Owen Tindale, Uilda Bird, Frances Bayne, Ethel Stirling. The characters in a play were the Misses C. Taylor, F. Perry, F. Mallory, J. Johnston, M. White, G. White, A. Mitchell, E. Ames, K. Porter, M. Smith and H. Ward.

What Editors Say

SOMETHING IS SAVED.
St. Thomas Times-Journal.
The war in Spain could be worse. Although there has been much damage to public property by fire, bombs and shells, there are some treasures beyond the reach of gunpowder, it is believed. Early in the war, Professor Enrique Moreno, lecturer at Oxford University, England, went to Madrid and helped to collect treasures from churches, cathedrals and palaces. He also helped to store the precious articles in the cellars of the Bank of Spain, where they should be saved from all war perils. Professor Moreno has been a leader in other salvage work, too, and while the country may be in such a turmoil now that his efforts will be overlooked, the time will come when such a thoughtful task will be fully appreciated.

CHOOSING A WIFE.
Smith's Falls Record-News.
On Saturday afternoon the Editor was in conversation with a local young unmarried man and in the course of same the question of marriage arose. The young man seemed to be badly bitten by the matrimonial bug. He longed to be married but claimed he could not afford it. We encouraged him by stating that if every man waited until he could afford to join the benedictines there would be a great decline in marriages. His countenance immediately brightened up. We could not resist asking him what he considered was an ideal wife. "Let me see," he said, quite seriously, and after a few moments' thought continued with, "Well, every man's ideal should be to marry a good cook, a witty companion, a skillful housekeeper and a devoted mother." Not bad for a young man—(wonder where he read that). Perhaps some husbands would have disillusioned him by stating that polygamy was against the law.

ACTOR FEARED SOME 'SAPHEAD' MIGHT BUY HOME

William Gillette's Will Urges Trustees of Estate to Exercise Discrimination in Disposing of Big Stone House and Three-Mile Railroad.

Lyme, Conn., May 5.—William Gillette, famous actor who died last week, expressed a wish that his big stone house towering above the Connecticut River at Hadlyme and his three-mile railroad on the extensive grounds be prevented from falling into the hands of "some blithering saphead." It was disclosed today.

In the will filed with Judge William Marvin of the Lyme Probate Court, Gillette stated that the bulk of his estate be divided equally among Mrs. Florence G. Nichols, of New York, a niece; Hall Cowan, of Hadlyme, his late wife's nephew, and Miss Elizabeth Ives Gillette, of Des Moines, Iowa, a niece.

The will includes several specific bequests and cancellations of indebtedness, but the outstanding parts of the document are concerned with his wish for the disposition of his estate, which had been his home for the last fifteen years, and the establishment of a trust for Y. Osaki, one of his Japanese servants, who is given the life use of a piece of property near the river with explicit instructions of how to use and how not to use it.

The celebrated actor who died in Hartford April 29, stated in his will, though he said, without legally binding the executors in any way: "I would consider it more than unfortunate for me—should I find myself doomed, after death, to a continued consciousness of the behavior of mankind on this planet—to discover that the stone walls and fireplaces of my home—and many other things of like nature should reveal themselves as in the possession of some blithering saphead who had no conception of where he is or with what surrounded."

"For this reason I am hoping that my executors, in disposing of this property, as they will be obliged to do, will exercise discrimination in carrying out my earnest wish."

JAPANESE PREMIER DEFIES ELECTORATE

After Refusing to Resign in Face of Overwhelming Defeat of His Government, Premier Hayashi Now Refuses "To Retreat Merely on Ground of Public Opinion."

Tokyo, May 4.—Premier Senjuro Hayashi, who has refused to resign in the face of an overwhelming defeat of his government at the polls, defied the electorate today by refusing "to retreat merely on the ground of public opinion."

He added: "If an official organ like an organized political party introduces a vote of non-confidence in the Diet then we may consider the matter."
His declarations, in an interview, followed a statement to the Privy Council that he did not intend to dissolve the new Parliament.
"The Government will proceed with its reform programme and we do not care whether political parties support us or not," said the Premier. "I wish to correct prevailing politics, which during the last sixty or seventy years have been twisted by force or foreign ideas, and re-establish constitutional politics peculiar to Japan."
The political parties opposed to Hayashi's Government won some four hundred of the 466 parliamentary seats up for general election last week.

LOTTERIES FACING ANOTHER OBSTACLE

Letters Suspected of Containing Tickets or Remittances to Be Marked with a Warning and Returned to Senders.

Ottawa, May 4.—According to a statement issued by Postmaster-General Elliott, the Post Office Department has put a new barrier in the way of lottery promoters. Henceforth, he said, letters suspected of containing lottery tickets or lottery remittances will be marked with a warning and returned to the senders.

"Many well-intentioned people are concerned with lotteries," Mr. Elliott said. "Lotteries are illegal under the Criminal Code and mail respecting them is not properly mailable matter under the Post Office Act."
Post Office authorities have always had the power under this act to return suspected matter, he explained, but in 1934 a regulation was put into effect that the officials would only take action "where a complaint has been received." The opinion of legal advisers was that this negated the purpose of the act, as a lottery might be conducted for some time before any one bothered to send a complaint to the Department.

A new regulation has recently been approved which removes the proviso respecting complaints and officials may act whenever their suspicions are aroused. "The effect is that we are returning to the spirit and letter of the Criminal Code and the Post Office Act," said Mr. Elliott.
A distinct falling off in the volume of lottery tickets in the mails has resulted from the new regulation, he declared, and there is no great activity among promoters in Canada now.

BIBLE SOCIETY OBSERVED 67TH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. James Adams' Address Was Feature at Annual Meeting of South Durham Branch of British and Foreign Bible Society.

South Durham, May 5.—The sixty-seventh annual meeting of the local branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held in the United Church. Rev. W. Johnston was in charge of the service and welcomed the guest speaker, Rev. James Adams, district secretary.
Rev. Adams took for his text the thirty-first verse of the thirty-seventh Psalm, "The law of his God is in his heart. None of his steps shall slide," and gave a splendid address on the work of the Bible Society, explaining how immediately after the King is crowned in Coronation ceremonies he is presented with a Bible by the Archbishop.
Fine work had been done by the collectors and the sum of forty-four dollars was the contribution of the local branch.

Beautiful flowers were placed on the altar in St. James Church on Sunday, May 2, by Mrs. Mary A. Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Griffith in memory of Robert C. Griffith, who passed away on May 2, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mitchell, Mrs. James Houston and Mrs. Chisholm were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Stimson.

Mr. Frederick Graham, of Asbestos spent a week-end at his home here.

Miss Norma Tibbitts has left for Waterloo, where she has accepted a position.

Rev. James Adams was the guest of Mrs. Griffith while in Durham.

Mr. George Johnston, Jr., was cut across the back of the hand while sawing wood, suffering painful injuries. Dr. Nadeau, of Richmond, was called and found it necessary to put seven stitches in the wound.

U.S. HAS FIRST DECLINE IN SCHOOL ENROLLMENTS

Washington, May 4.—The Office of Education said today a falling birth rate brought in 1936 the first decline of public school enrollments in United States history. An estimate showed 139,000 fewer children were enrolled last fall than the 26,434,193 in grade and high schools two years ago.

DIXON SPEAKING

Legend whispers that the idea of "Mother's Day" originated with the vendors of flowers, for reasons which are obvious. Whether or not this may be true, the idea has developed into one of the loveliest gestures of the human race.

My business brings me into touch with the Mothers of Sherbrooke and it is a constant delight to see how happily and zealously they do the family marketing. Their children must have the best to eat, yet the family purse must be guarded.

MONTREAL PROCLAIMS CORONATION DAY HOLIDAY

Montreal, May 5.—City authorities today proclaimed May 12th a civic holiday and announced a programme of Coronation Day celebrations, including special church services, military displays, parades, public ceremonies and pyrotechnic exhibitions.

Social and Personal

Miss Blanche Roy, The Parthenon, Marquette street, has returned from a delightful two weeks' holiday trip to Florida and Havana.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyprien Martel and Master Richard Martel returned last night from Montreal, whither they motored to spend a few days the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Carrier.

Mrs. Oscar Ritzman, of Pocatello, Idaho, arrived here yesterday, summoned by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Stanley Sutton, Esplanade avenue.

Mrs. L. E. Codere, Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Messrs. C. E. Bachand and L. Bachand accompanied Mr. Rene Turck, French Consul General, and Mrs. Turck, of Montreal, to Coaticook yesterday afternoon and attended the reception and tea given in honor of Sherbrooke's distinguished visitors.

Mrs. F. H. Bradley gave a delightful and largely attended reception last evening at her residence on Wolfe street in honor of the French Consul-General, Mr. Rene Turck, French Consul General, and Mrs. Turck, of Montreal, following the entertainment arranged in their honor by L'Alliance Francaise at "The Parthenon."

Refreshments were served in the dining room, the hostess planning her decorative color scheme in compliment to her distinguished guests and in honor of the Coronation. Red carnations, blue iris and white snapdragon were artistically blended in a Sheffield bowl, and the patriotic color scheme was continued on the beautifully appointed table with red, white and blue candles in Sheffield candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wheeler, of Hatley, announce the engagement of their niece, Ethel Maria Hool, to George Harrison, of Sherbrooke. The marriage will take place quietly in August.

Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. Fred. Saunders entertained the members of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Advent very pleasantly last evening at the former's home on Laurier avenue. Mrs. J. H. Bryant, the president, was in the chair, and following the disposition of routine business, including Miss Mabel Bachelier's report on the success attending the recent food sale, a rummage sale, and card party were planned.

At the conclusion of the business period the hostesses served dainty refreshments and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. George C. Hall and Mrs. R. Havard were joint hostesses yesterday afternoon for the regular meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church at the former's home on Cliff Road. Mrs. Miller Hall, the president, presided, and Miss Eleanor Van Vliet was in charge of the devotional period. Arrangements were completed for several future activities, including the Lorna Doone tea, following which a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Among the many social events held in honor of Sherbrooke's distinguished visitors, Mr. Rene Turck, French Consul General, and Mrs. Turck, of Montreal, was a charmingly arranged dinner given by "Union Musicale" at the New Wellington last evening. The decorations were artistically carried out in honor of the guests' country and tiny French bouillottes were used as place cards, with a lovely corsage marking Mrs. Turck's place.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE HOLD LAST MEETING OF SEASON

Members of the Catholic Women's League, under the presidency of Mrs. Francis Hoye, the newly-elected president, held their last meeting next autumn last evening in St. Patrick's Church Hall.

A programme of summer activities was drawn up, including a food sale to be held later this month and a contest for a hope chest for the benefit of St. Patrick's parish bazaar. It is hoped to have this hope chest on view by the first of June. It was also announced that a series of card parties would be held at the homes of the members during the summer months.

Prior to the business meeting, the members listened to an address on the early history of Sherbrooke, given by E. J. Bonner, to whom the thanks of the meeting was expressed by Miss Elizabeth Bradley.

FOUR HUNDRED VISITS PAID BY V.O.N. DURING APRIL

The past month was an exceptionally busy one for the local Victorian Order of Nurses according to the reports presented at yesterday's meeting in the Whiting Block, with Rev. G. E. Read, D.D., the president, in the chair. During April the nurses paid four hundred visits, fifty-seven of which were in Lennoxville, attended five clinics and Miss Edith Hill gave an address before the Belvidere Women's Institute. Twenty-nine new patients were registered and thirty-three were dismissed. The treasurer, F. E. Kerridge, reported an overdraft of $105, the financial statement unfortunately striking the one discordant note of an otherwise very satisfactory month.

Mrs. W. McFadden gave an interesting account of proceedings at the annual V.O.N. conference in Ottawa, which she attended. Mr. Read, who also journeyed to the Capital for the annual session, followed up Mrs. McFadden's report with several suggestions for carrying on V.O.N. work gleaned from reports, addresses and personal contact with the numerous delegates.

MAGOG MAN WAS FOUND IN LAKE THIS MORNING

Police Investigation Death of Alphonse Dion, Who Had Been Missing Since Early Monday Morning—Inquest Will Be Held This Afternoon.

Magog, May 5.—Local police were today investigating the death of Alphonse Dion, forty-two year old Magog resident, whose body was found in Memphremagog Lake under fourteen feet of water at one-thirty o'clock this morning. Eugene St. Pierre, of Sherbrooke, coroner for St. Francis District, will hold an inquest this afternoon to determine under what circumstances the man met his death.

Alphonse Dion, a single man, resided at the home of Arthur Bolduc. He was last seen at the Battles House early Monday morning. When he failed to put in an appearance at his boarding house yesterday morning, Mr. Dion notified Magog police and a search was immediately inaugurated.

Assistant Chief Rudolphe Leduc and Constable Armand Demers, using a strong searchlight, located the body under fourteen feet of water at the end of the wharf near the C.P.R. station.

Following the regular meeting the conveners remained to complete arrangements for the V.O.N. financial campaign next week.

PROF. CALL HONORED

Professor F. O. Call, of Bishop's University, was the raison d'être for a pleasing interlude at the reception given by L'Alliance Francaise at "The Parthenon" last evening in honor of the French Consul-General for Canada, Mr. Rene Turck, and Mrs. Turck, when he was presented with the Society's bronze medal. The presentation was made by Mr. Turck, on behalf of L'Alliance Francaise, of which he is a member, and was given in recognition of Mr. Call's literary ability and valuable contributions to modern literature.

Another special feature of this largely attended social gathering was the delightful address given by Mr. Turck, on "France." The speaker's intriguing description of his beloved country included graphic word pictures of life in the rural districts and in "Gay Paree," and during his remarks lantern slides of intrinsic beauty and interest were thrown on the screen.

CIVIC LEADERS ENDORSE VICTORIAN ORDER WORK

The work of the Victorian Order of Nurses has always been keenly appreciated by the people of all classes in the City of Sherbrooke, and this is shown very definitely at the present time by the support that is being given to the committee in charge of the financial campaign that is taking place next week. His Worship Emile Rioux writes: "The Victorian Order of Nurses is doing splendid work amongst all classes of people in the City of Sherbrooke, and is deserving the support of the entire community. I hope that the citizens will contribute freely to the campaign undertaken in favor of this worthy institution."

Hon. Johnny Bourque, Quebec Minister of Public Works, in a letter to the citizens of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville praising the V.O.N. says: "The Victorian Order of Nurses is launching a general appeal to you, with a view to securing the necessary funds to carry on its wonderful work. This organization has done so much good for both English and French Canadian families that we must join together and subscribe for its maintenance. Here is an opportunity for giving proof of your gratitude and appreciation."

Donations may be sent to V.O.N. Headquarters, 98 Wellington Street North, Sherbrooke. All contributions of over $1 will be acknowledged in this paper.

STUART WEATHERHEAD WON SINGING COMPETITION

The many friends in the Eastern Townships of Stuart Weatherhead, grandson of the late Mrs. A. P. MacIver, formerly of Canada, will be pleased to learn he came first in solo singing for boys under twelve years of age at the nineteenth annual Manitoba Musical Competition Festival.

His musical performance was pronounced flawless by the judges, who stated the only debit mark registered was due to an unnecessary body movement. Stuart Weatherhead is the son of a well known Winnipeg doctor who was invalided after serving with the Canadian Artillery in France. The boy spent several weeks last year visiting relatives in Sherbrooke and Grand. He was recently presented with a gold medal for his services as chorister at St. Margaret's Anglican Church, Winnipeg. On March 20 he took part in a broadcast from Winnipeg, his song being "Who Is Sylvia?" The music critic of the Winnipeg Evening Tribune stated his singing exhibited ease and fullness on the higher notes, plainly spoken words and a real understanding of the song, which in his experience had seldom received more artistic interpretation.

A superstition has it that a mother attending her baby's christening should carry an egg, a coin, and a pinch of salt in her pocket. This is said to assure the infant strength, happiness and wealth.

INSTITUTE HELD ANNUAL MEETING AT LENNOXVILLE

Past Year's Officers Re-elected and Message from Queen Mary to Canadian Women's Institutes Read by Miss Hazel McCain, Guest-Speaker.

Miss Hazel McCain, superintendent of Quebec Women's Institutes at Macdonald College, was the guest-speaker at the Sherbrooke County annual meeting yesterday in the Lennoxville Town Hall, when the Lennoxville and Milby groups were hostesses to the other branches of the county, including Belvidere, Brompton Road, Cherry River, Orford and East Angus.

At the outset of her address, Miss McCain read a message from Queen Mary to Women's Institutes of the Dominion of Canada, which was as follows: "I would like to take this opportunity of sending to one and all a word of greeting and congratulation on the good work they have done. It takes a great interest in the movement, not only in Great Britain but throughout the Empire. I am well aware how much the Institutes have already done towards improving conditions for women in rural areas; how they have made for better citizenship, happier homes, and good neighbourliness. I hope that the spirit of mutual help and goodwill will be extended to the countrywomen of all lands, for where ever countrywomen are organized they work for the great human causes along the paths of true progress. I would like to add that I am much interested in the Women's Institute at Sandringham, and I attend the meetings as often as I can. It makes a nice meeting place for everybody. The Women's Institute movement should prove a fresh and valuable link between all parts and people of the Empire and I hope ultimately between all parts of the world." The letter, written on court stationery, was signed "Mary R."

Miss McCain then addressed the assembly, complimenting them on the consistent good work which they have accomplished and outlining some of the year's work done by the organization as a whole. She also mentioned the interest which Lady Tweedsmuir takes in this organization. Some helpful advice was given to the various branches by Miss McCain, who said, "when you are not able to attend as a delegate send a substitute. These gatherings are not solely social, they are a chance for you to gain knowledge which may be of great benefit to your branch. It is important that you send delegates. Lay aside money for these things. If you are working for a certain project, put real thought and effort into it. If your efforts seem fruitless at first, do not become discouraged but strive the more earnestly until you are successful. We must not think only in terms of our own branch, we must think of the work as a whole. We must branch out and learn to co-operate with women of other nations and put into real practice the idea of brotherly love, of which we hear so much and preach so much, but are so often negligent in using. In this way we shall be a real force for peace."

Miss McCain was thanked on behalf of the members by Mrs. F. S. Browne, the county president.

During their business deliberations the members agreed to a resolution, to be forwarded to the Government, advocating the carrying of lights on all horse-drawn vehicles.

The invitation from the Cherry River group inviting the branches to meet with them at the county meeting in August was gladly accepted.

The coming county meetings were discussed and will be held as follows: Cherry River in August, Brompton Road in November, Milby will be hostesses at an open discussion meeting in February and Lennoxville and Ascot will entertain at Lennoxville next May.

The thanks of the county was extended to the Women's Association of Bishop's University for the use of their room for yesterday's meeting.

Letters of regret were read from Lady Tweedsmuir and Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., for their inability to be present at the inter-county picnic to be held this summer.

A letter was read stressing the importance of sponsoring scholarships at Macdonald College for those who might be in need of assistance to complete their education. This matter was given serious consideration, but it was decided it would be impossible to comply with this request at the present time, although the county was in sympathy with it.

The conveners reports were given as follows: Agriculture, Miss Muriel Deware; Canadian industries, Mrs. R. Ashe, read by Mrs. E. Moshier; Canadianization and national events, Mrs. M. Worster, read by Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie; child welfare and public health, Mrs. P. Herring; education and better schools, Mrs. W. S. Richardson; home economics, Miss F. Drummond; immigration, Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown; legislation, Mrs. J. S. Marlin; publicity, Mrs. G. Turner. All these reports showed consistent effort in all branches throughout the year.

Mrs. Browne asked that one meeting during the year be in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses, when they would be given either produce or a donation.

The meeting adjourned for the delicious salad luncheon, which was served by the joint hostesses, Milby and Lennoxville, and greatly enjoyed. During the afternoon session the entire slate of officers were re-elected for the ensuing term as follows: Hon. president, Miss F. Drummond; hon. vice-president, Mrs. G. G. McCurdy; president, Mrs. F. S. Browne; first vice-president, Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie; second vice-president, Mrs. E. A. Orr; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Moshier; county conveners: agriculture, Miss M. Deware; Canadian industries, Mrs. R. Ashe; Canadianization and national events, Mrs. M. Worster; child welfare and public health, Mrs. P. Herring; education and better schools, Mrs. W. S. Richardson; home economics, Miss F. Drummond; immigration, Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown; legislation, Mrs. J. S. Marlin, and publicity, Mrs. G. Turner.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended by Mrs. R. S. Lipsey to the county president and staff for the cheerful atmosphere they had created during the year.

A resolution was passed at yesterday's meeting that the county adopt medical inspection in schools as a county project this year. Mrs. P. Herring, as convener of child welfare and public health, was named head of the committee in charge of this matter.

Mrs. F. S. Browne was named delegate to Macdonald College, with Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie as substitute. The inter-county picnic committee was named as follows: Mrs. W. S. Richardson, Mrs. C. Prince, Miss F. Drummond, Mrs. A. Frait, Mrs. R. Aldrich, Miss McClelland, Mrs. L. Clark and Mrs. W. J. Beattie.

Mr. L. B. Pierce Presented Purse of Money in Recognition of Twenty Years of Service in the Community — Mrs. Pierce Received Present from W.I.

Beebe, May 5.—A large number of friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pierce gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Dixon in honor of Mr. Pierce, who is leaving soon with his family to reside in Lennoxville.

Cribbage and five hundred occupied the evening until the refreshment hour, when the men were ushered into the dining room, where the table, decorated with spring flowers amidst the soft glow of candle light, made a very attractive picture.

After lunch, the host, Mr. Dixon, in a few well-chosen words wished Mr. Pierce and his family success and happiness in their new home.

Mr. A. Dalziel, Mr. B. Dustin, Mr. C. Miller and Mr. J. Maitman made brief remarks, and after singing some old familiar songs the company departed.

Members of the Women's Institute were hostesses at a delightful afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Harold Lancelot in honor of Mrs. L. B. Pierce.

During the afternoon, Mrs. J. Clarke, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. Pierce with the bowl and candlesticks as a token of appreciation for her untiring work during her years as an Institute member.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

DELAYS PULLING TRUMP

Declarer Must Find Place for Discard of Loser, and Give Up Two Tricks, Before Cross-Ruffing.

By Wm. E. McKenney, Secretary, American Bridge League.

It required delicate handling for South to fulfill his contract on today's hand. But at that the problem which confronted him and which he successfully solved is a common one at the bridge table.

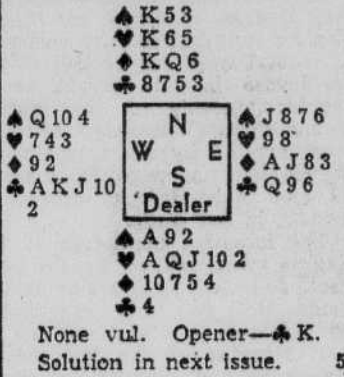

Usually, when declarer has a preponderance of trumps, his first step is to draw those held by the opponents. Circumstances sometimes alter cases, and South in this instance had two other things to do before looking after that detail.

North had a very fine two heart bid, and so, when his partner went to two no trump, he jumped to four hearts, rather than a "sign-off" of three hearts.

When declarer saw the dummy, he realized that serious work was cut out for him. It was not made

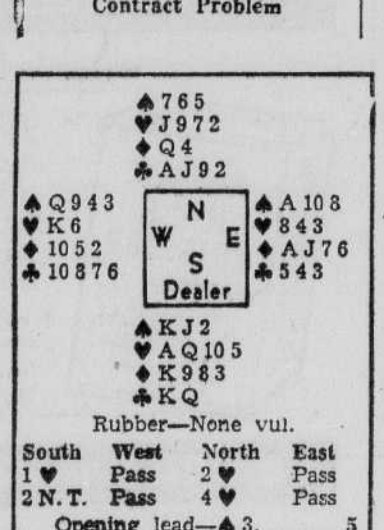

Today's Contract Problem

South is playing the contract at four hearts. After finding the diamond ace with East, declarer can still fulfill his contract, but it requires careful handling of trumps, and the side suits.

WINDSOR MILLS CHURCH HELD ANNIVERSARY

St. George's Church Observed Anniversary with Inauguration of Boys' Choir and Address by Principal of Bishop's University.

Windsor Mills, May 5.—Anniversary services were held at St. George's Church in Windsor Mills on April 25th. The choral Communion took place at 10.30 a.m., when a small boys' choir was inaugurated. Vestments worn by the boys were donated by the Altar Guild, and the actual work was capably done by Mrs. Robb and Mrs. Mildred Morey. The singing at this service was taken by a full choir, and an anthem was rendered, "Who Is the Stranger," the solo part taken by Mr. James Leckie. This anthem was repeated in the evening. The roses on the altar were presented by a number of individual families.

In the evening the Windsor Band, under the direction of Mr. Strathmore, led the singing and an instrumental quartette was also heard. The band did remarkably well, and the singing was unusually hearty.

The sermon was preached by the principal of Bishop's University, Rev. Dr. McGrover. He wore the scarlet of an army chaplain in the pulpit and commented on the fact that he was speaking on the anniversary of the battle of Vimy Ridge, when Canadian soldiers saved the day for the Allies, and covered themselves with glory for their bravery.

He also remarked on the probability that he was speaking in one of the two churches dedicated to St. George in a town of Windsor, pointing out the fact that wherever St. George was honored, the countries adopting him as their patron saint had a very high idea of liberty, and in an age like the present when so many nations were under the power of dictators, liberty of speech and action had to a very large degree been lost. It was therefore all the more necessary in the British Empire to hold fast to the ideals associated with the story of St. George.

General Notes. The St. George's Guild gave an afternoon tea and sale of food at the home of Mrs. Gordon McLeod. Proceeds were very satisfactory.

Flowers on the altar of St. George's Church on May 2nd were given in memory of Mr. Harry Robb, by his brother, Mr. George Robb. Two solos were sung on that day by Mr. McMillan, a visitor from Montreal, in the morning, Jesus Lover of My Soul, and at night, O Love That Will Not Let Me Go. His singing was much appreciated.

Mr. Stubbs, for many years a resident of Windsor, who has been living during the winter with his relatives elsewhere, has sold his property on First avenue.

A meeting of the local branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held in St. Andrew's United Church, Rev. James Adams, B.A., B. th., district secretary of the Montreal and Quebec Auxiliaries, gave an interesting address on "The Indians of Canada," which was illustrated by over fifty beautifully colored lantern slides.

Mother's Day was observed in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday, May 2nd, the date being changed because of the approaching Coronation. The services were in DEATHS REPORTED MR. WILLIAM GRADY, CRAWFORDVILLE Crawfordville, May 5.—The community was greatly saddened on Sunday, April 25, when it was learned that Mr. William Grady had passed away at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Theford Mines, where he had been a patient for five days. Although he had been in poor health for some time his death came as a shock to his friends.

The deceased, who was the only son of the late Ayton Grady and Elizabeth Harron, was born on August 2, 1875.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, April 27. After a short service and the singing of the hymn, "Asleep in Jesus," at the house, the funeral cortege wended its way to the Presbyterian Church at Kinross, N.Y. where the service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Hugh K. Gilmour. A large number of friends and neighbors attended the service, indicating the respect felt for the deceased and the sympathy for those bereaved.

The hymns sung were, "Peace, Perfect Peace," "Face to Face," and "Nearer My God to Thee." Mrs. H. K. Gilmour presided at the organ.

The bearers were three nephews, Messrs. Ayton and Glanville Cruickshank and Clifford Bailey and three cousins, Messrs. Albert and Ernest Bailey and Sam Wark.

The deceased leaves to mourn his loss his wife, three sons, Gordon, Alec and Albert, and one daughter, Elsie, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Cruickshank.

HOSE GAINS STRENGTH New York, May 5.—Stocking manufacturers are banking vigilantly on attempts to create sturdy products. One company reinforces the silk with a linen twist.

The teacher was testing the intelligence of a newcomer to her class. "Who said, 'I come to bury Caesar'?" she asked. "P—please, teacher, the undertaker," suggested the nervous youngster.

YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW with Wallace Ford, John Mills, Anna Lee, Grace Bradley. — Other Subjects —

ATTRACTIONS AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

THE GRANADA

"Green Light," that stirring story of heroism, sacrifice and love, which had many hundreds of thousands of readers in its book form, heads the Granada Theatre programme from today until Saturday.

Errol Flynn, the young Irishman who made sensational hits in "Captain Blood" and "Charge of the Light Brigade," has the male lead, portraying the role of Dr. Paige, the scientist who almost gives his life in researches destined to alleviate human suffering.

The saintly philosopher, Dean Harcourt, friend and adviser of all the character in the story, is played by the distinguished British character star Sir Cedric Hardwicke. Margaret Lindsay portrays a devoted hospital nurse who loves Flynn but has to surrender him.

THE PREMIER

Wise-cracking Wallace Ford and Anna Lee join forces in the new comedy drama, "You're in the Army Now," which will be shown at the Premier Theatre from today until Wednesday.

The story gets under way when Wallace Ford, impersonating a New York habitue of the underworld, finds himself falsely charged with murder and makes a daring escape to London.

He then masquerades as Jimmy Dean, private in the British Army, but fails to be a model Tommy Atkins. Instead he makes love to blondes, gets into difficulties, chalks up a career of adventure and exists as the hero of the regiment.

The second attraction on this bill will be "Charlie Chan at the Opera," starring Warner Oland, as the arch-enemy of crime, with Boris Karloff, co-starred as the king of terror.

"Who's that close-mouthed fellow over there?" "He ain't close-mouthed, He's just waitin' fer the janitor to come back with the spittoon."

MAPLE LEAF COLORS MARK CANADA HOUSE

Canadian Headquarters in London Decked Out in Brilliant Display of Maple Leaf's Fall Colorings for Coronation.

London, May 5.—Canada House, just off Trafalgar Square, has been decked out in a brilliant display of the maple leaf's fall colorings for the Coronation.

Golden russet drapery covers the walls of the three-tiered stand that almost conceals two sides of the building. Crimson flags, with golden yellow edging and designs of crowns or maple leaves, wave from more than a dozen flag poles extending horizontally from the roof. A spotlight at night picks out a giant maple leaf at the front of the building.

The Dominion coat of arms has been painted on panels set on either side of the stand's entrance. On the Trafalgar Square side of the building panels of russet and crimson have been hung. These bear the cipher of the King and Queen in brilliant yellow or green. Window boxes were red and white rhododendron are placed in each window.

The decorations were designed under the eye of G. Gray-Worrum, who looked after the decoration of the liner Queen Mary. He is the consultant for the Coronation display in the City of Westminster in which Canada House stands.

Seats in the stand will accommodate about five hundred persons and arrangements have been made to cater at a lunch for them inside the House.

PROPERTY HIGHLY VALUED Sydney, Australia, May 5.—Store property on Pitt Street was sold recently for $375,000, on a frontage basis, the price of $17,450 a foot being a record for the city.

BRINGS FLY SWITCH TO THE CORONATION

King Yeta III of Barotseland, Northern Rhodesia, Arrived at Southampton Today to Attend Crowning of King George VI.

Southampton, England, May 5.—King Yeta III of Barotseland—it's in Britain's South African colony of Northern Rhodesia—carried his ivory-handled fly switch when he disembarked yesterday to attend the coronation of King George VI.

The switch, used to keep flies away from the royal personage, is a symbol of the king's authority. Yeta has decided to wear the old admiral's uniform of his father, King Lewanika, at the Coronation. The regalia, given to Lewanika by Edward VII when the latter was crowned, is undergoing alterations in London. Yeta had been in something of a dilemma about whether to wear the hand-me-down suit.

He recently asked the London Government to give him a submarine so he could torpedo crocodiles.

DREAM OF TEACHERS HAS NOW COME TRUE

Sponsors of New Machine Claim It Will Correct and Grade Examination Papers.

Athens, Ga., May 5.—A long time dream of teachers has come true with the development of a machine which its sponsors claim will correct and grade examination papers.

Working with the speed of electricity, the device will correct an examination paper of the true-false, or selective question variety and show the grade on a meter, said F. S. Beers, examiner of the university system of Georgia, today.

Beers, who had a hand in promoting the machine's development, said it works on the principle that a soft pencil mark is electrically conductive. Electricity flowing through the pencil marks made by the student cause the recording device to function. The student will write his answers in one of two or more optional columns on a standard printed form, Beers explained. As each paper is inserted in the machine, electrode blades descending on the paper will determine which questions have been answered correctly.

Any and all kinds of business—a cent a word. Record Want Columns.

TO FACILITATE RESCUE OF TRANS-OCEAN FLYERS

Paris, May 5.—Scientist Georges Claude today reported to the Academy of Sciences discovery of a method to increase the chances of rescuing trans-ocean air travellers in case of forced descent.

By using fluorescein, a cool tar product, highly colorful in solution, Claude said the point where an airplane descended could be made visible easily at long distances. The chemical would be released by an airplane when it came down on water.

BATTERS GIVING STAR PITCHERS A ROUGH RIDE

Not Even Carl Hubbell, King of the Flingers, Was Immune as Major League Sluggers Continued to Lambast the Horsehide to All Corners Yesterday.

The major league magnates, never anxious to be stamped as radicals, today considered a startling innovation.

Moved by the barrage of base hits that has marked the opening of the inter-sectional strife in both circuits, the big bosses gave serious thought to the installation of pitchers' storm cellars in their sixteen ball parks.

Not even Carl Hubbell, king of the flingers, was immune as the American and National League boys let loose in earnest. The fourteen teams that saw action produced 178 hits yesterday, an average of better than twelve apiece, for 101 runs, a shade more than seven each.

The only safe spot was Chicago's Comiskey Park, where the rain kept the Athletics and White Sox from opening their series.

The biggest blow to tradition was the nine-hit, seven-inning lambasting of the cellar-dwelling Reds gave Hubbell. The screwball ace fanned ten Rhinelanders but had to be lifted in favor of Harry Gumbert so the Giants might edge out a seven to six decision. That victory kept intact Hubbell's two-year league winning streak, which now extends to nineteen games and, unofficially, ties him with Tim Keefe and Rube Marquard.

But Hubbell was not alone in his failure to stay a full nine innings. There were only three hurlers who did—Lou Fette, who turned back the Cardinals with three hits and won his second game for the Boston Bees by eight to one; Lefty Gomez, who fanned nine on the way to his second triumph, a four-hit, ten to one trimming of the Detroit Tigers; and Leroy "Harzan" Parmelee, who felt the heavy-hitting pressure but managed to scatter the Phillies' thirteen safeties well enough so his Chicago Cub teammates might gain a fourteen to seven verdict.

Something special in the way of an explosion occurred in Cleveland. Touched off by the ever-explosive Ben Chapman, it took the shape of a triple steal and seven-run eleventh-inning rally that completely broke up what had been a fairly peaceful ball game. By virtue of these seven runs, the Nats came out on top by twelve to five.

The Red Sox, too, felt the hitting urge—a bit more so than the Browns, whom they outscored by eleven to six and outbit by eighteen to thirteen. The Dodgers also had the hitting urge, combining the pitching of ex-sensational Ed Brubeck and Bill Swift for ten bingles. But once again Burleigh Grimes failed to find a pitcher who could finish, and the Pirates included four triple, and a homer by Johnny Dickshot among their eight hits to stay at the head of the parade with a ten to three victory.

Yesterday's homers in the major leagues: Bartell, Giants, 2; Dickshot, Pirates; Marty, Cubs; Collins, Cubs; Botarini, Cubs; Wilson, Phillies; Crossett, Yankees; Gafka, Red Sox; Bell, Browns, one each.

The leaders: Johnson, Athletics, 4; Bartell, Giants, 3; Ott, Giants, 3; Walker, Tigers, 3.

League totals: National 34; American 30, Total 64.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Outstanding players in yesterday's major league games were:

Lou Fette, Bees: Pitched a three-hit game for his record victory to stop the Cardinals by eight to one.

Joe Marty, Ripper Collins and Johnny Botarini, Cubs: Each hit a home run and Marty an additional double as they drove in nine runs in fourteen to seven rout of Phillies.

Dick Bartell, Giants: His two home runs and single preserved nineteenth straight National League victory for Carl Hubbell and helped top the Reds by seven to six.

Jack Wilson, Red Sox: His three-hit pitching in relief role halted the Browns by eleven to six.

Jimmy Deshong, Senators: Held the Indians to four hits in relief role as Nats won in eleven innings by twelve to five.

Lefty Gomez and Joe DiMaggio, Yankees: Former tamed the Tigers with four hits and latter drove in four runs in ten to one victory with a triple and a single.

NEWARK SHOVED TORONTO OUT OF TOP BERTH
Eight International League teams hit the trail for the circuit's northern territory today with a southern team, Newark's Bears, in the van.

The League opens hostilities on the northern front tomorrow, with home inaugurals for Rochester, Buffalo, Toronto and Montreal after two weeks of skirmishing in the southern tier.

The chief surprises of the season's opening weeks were the rise of the Bears to League leadership and the failure of the Baltimore Orioles to win more than one game in eleven starts at home.

The Bears took over first place from the Toronto Leafs yesterday via an eight to one win. Vito Tamulis, stocky left-hander, supplied the hurling feature with a seven-hit effort and Bob Seads the batting on a home run with George McQuinn aboard. The Bears rapped Bots Nekola for thirteen hits in the game, and shoved the Leafs into third place, as Syracuse Chiefs also won and took second.

Fred Fussell, an antique right-hander, pitched the Chiefs to an eight to nothing victory over Montreal. Fussell allowed three hits while his mates were pounding two Royal hurlers. Arnold Moser topped the Syracuse attack with three hits.

The Baltimore Orioles swamped Rochester's Red Wings by twelve to three for their first victory, with Ab Wright and Woody Abernathy clouting home runs. Bill Lohman, the first Oriole hurler to go the route this season, held the Wings to eight hits.

Ben Cantwell took his third victory in as many starts as the Jersey City Giants shaded Buffalo by four to three. The veteran Jersey right-hander was hit eleven times and weathered a three-run rally in the eighth.

CANZONERI TO MAKE BID FOR TITLE HE LOST

Game Little Fighter Will Climb into Madison Square Garden Ring Friday Night to Try to Regain Lightweight Crown from Lou Ambers.

New York, May 5.—The changes that can take place in the grim business of boxing is so short a time as a year may be shown Friday night when Tony Canzoneri climbs into the Madison Square Garden ring to try to regain the lightweight crown from Herkimer Lou Ambers.

It was only a year ago that the game little guy with a flattened nose and a fighting heart as big as a heavyweight's was at the top of his profession. He was the only fighter who ever had lost a title and regained it and he had been winning a fight a month for over a year. Despite his long years of ring service, Tony was believed to be at his peak after trouncing the bigger and hard-hitting Vancouver Celt, Jimmy McLarnin, in a ten-fighter.

At the same time Ambers, who had fought Canzoneri and lost to him in the bout that decided the title award after Barney Ross abandoned the lightweight division, was just the fellow who was to get another crack at the crown. He was regarded as too inexperienced and inept and too light a hitter to have a real chance against Tony.

Now the situation is reversed. Ambers won the title when he and Canzoneri finally met last September. He has gained in stature as champion and in confidence since then. And the fans, who still have an affectionate regard for Canzoneri, are wondering if he really needs the money badly enough to risk a beating and possible injury by fighting Lou again.

There's room for plenty of argument on the subject. Tony's supporters claim he didn't have time to train for Ambers last year because of cuts he had suffered while fighting McLarnin. The situation was the same when he took an even worse drubbing in a return bout with British Columbian jolting Jim they add, but in the past year he's had plenty of chance to recover and has had three tune-up fights. Meantime, Ambers has been beaten three times and tied once in nine non-title bouts, a none-too-impressive showing for a champion.

NEGOTIATE FOR SETTLEMENT IN MOVIE STRIKE

Outbreak of Rioting Sent Several to Hospital—Actresses and Actors Reached Studios with Difficulty.

Hollywood, May 5.—Peace hopes flourished today in the strike of six thousand film studio unionists after tense hours marked by an outbreak of rioting and renewal of negotiations.

While six men were hospitalized by an inter-union clash, steps were taken which might send eleven unions of the Federated Motion Pictures Crafts back to work and meet demands of the potent Screen Actors Guild for improved studio conditions.

Intervening with producers, the Los Angeles Central Labor Council submitted a proposal for study today to his for ending the strike. The Actors' Guild opened a conference with producers last night.

In the first large-scale violence, thirty members of a gang stormed into offices of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees on Santa Monica Boulevard. Doors were crashed, windows broken, water bottles were sent hurtling about the rooms, furniture was smashed, and several men were thrown down a stairway.

The I.A.T.S.E. affiliated with the American Federation of Labor like the Federated Crafts, is not on strike. The six men who required hospital treatment were seeking to join the organization to obtain studio work. Members said the attacking force were plain white arm bands, in contrast to the lettered F.M.P.C. insignia of the strikers.

Police forced strike sympathizers parading in front of the Paramount studio to give up a sign reading: "Studio on strike; don't scab!" But no attempt was made to prevent motor picketing.

Actresses and actors reached the studios with difficulty. Among those on the sets were Jean Harlow, Margie Dietrich, Clark Gable, Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles, Greta Garbo, Gary Cooper, George Raft, Charles Boyer, Herbert Marshall, Gilbert Roland, Dorothy Lamour, Lew Ayres and Leslie Howard.

As the Guild committee sat down in closed conference last night with a producers' committee, Robert Montgomery, president of the Guild, submitted a rough draft of working conditions which the Guild believes the producers should correct. There was no consideration of contract players' salaries. The only mention of money concerned bit players and extras.

Ultimate outcome of the producers-actors negotiations was held to be the deciding factor in the strike. If the actors supported the Crafts, movie production would be paralyzed, with losses running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars daily.

When you serve Ale to people who know . . . see that it's BREWED IN THE OLD COUNTRY TRADITION

It was 70 years ago that John Labatt, son of the founder, father of today's president, first introduced an Old English formula to the Brewery at London, Canada. He was fortunate in finding there as the Burton Brewers found in England, a deep-well water that was peculiarly suitable for brewing.

This basic formula—using the same water—brewed with the same scrupulous care—but improved and refined through the years, makes the Labatt's of today the really "different" Ale it is! And of course it is a fundamental rule of the brewery that every drop is fully aged!

So when you entertain people for whom only the best is good enough, be sure to serve Labatt's. After all it costs no more!

DELEGATE WAS APPOINTED AT WAY'S MILLS

Women's Institute Named Miss Agnes Oliver as Representative to Annual Meeting—Rev. H. W. Parry, of Hatley, Guest Speaker.

Way's Mills, May 5.—Miss Agnes Oliver was appointed delegate to the annual session, reports were heard and papers read at the regular meeting of the Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Davidson, with Mrs. Grey as assistant hostess.

The well-attended meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Holmes, in the usual manner. Roll call was responded to by reading clippings regarding the Coronation and several items of business were then disposed of. Mrs. C. E. Davis reported that the play, "The Path Across the Hill" by Ayer's Cliff talent had been secured. Two conveners read short articles, Miss Davidson on "Canadian Authors and Composers," and Mrs. Ham on "Immigration," after which Miss Agnes Oliver was appointed delegate to the annual meeting.

Rev. H. W. Parry, of Hatley, was then introduced by Mrs. Ham. Mr. Parry expressed pleasure at being present, and after offering prayer, read the ritual of the coming Coronation. This being largely a religious ceremony, was most impressive. Mrs. Holmes thanked Mr. Parry for giving his time, his efforts being much appreciated by all present.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem, with Mrs. Parry at the piano, followed by refreshments. The very attractive table decorations were done by Mrs. Davidson and daughters.

SHOT THREE TIMES BY MASKED GUNMAN

Resident of Toronto Suburb Killed by Bullets as He Neared Door of Neighbor's House to Investigate Woman's Screams.

Toronto, May 5.—Shot three times by a masked intruder early, Martin O'Brien, of suburban Mimico, lies in a serious condition in hospital here. Several hours after the shooting the authorities pronounced his condition as "satisfactory" with a "fair chance" for recovery.

O'Brien was felled by three bullets as he neared the door of a neighbor's house to investigate a woman's screams. Four shots were fired, one going astray and three finding their mark.

Police said that the gunman knocked on the door of 12 Cavell avenue, Mimico, adjoining O'Brien's home, and ordered the woman who answered to "keep quiet." She screamed as he flourished a gun and brushed her aside, the screams attracting O'Brien. The shots were fired from inside the house.

As O'Brien slumped and fell, bleeding profusely, the gunman stepped over his body and ran from the house. He jumped into a waiting automobile occupied by companions and escaped.

TALL BEARDED MEN IN DEMAND
Bideford, Devon, May 5.—A search in this district for tall, bearded men is being made by the mistress of the town's Coronation pageant, which will feature episodes connected with local history.

Sir Richard Grenville, Sir Walter Raleigh and all the famous old seadogs of Devon will live again. They were men with beards, but the mistress of the pageant cannot find enough tall, bearded men to impersonate them.

BISCUIT OF ANTIQUITY
London, May 5.—Among letters and other souvenirs of David Livingstone has been discovered a ship's biscuit, preserved from a voyage of the ship Duff, in 1795.

at the averages. Hank Leiber is hitting less than .100 and lots of others are sporting marks they don't care to write home about.
Earl Sande is irked because he can't find jockeys to ride his two Derby entries. Old Earle may have to climb into that saddle himself.

GRADS Cigarettes

FINE VIRGINIA Cigarettes

JUST CHOICE TOBACCS . . . NO *ARTIFICIAL FLAVOURING

Frankly we are proud of the fact that Grads have no "A. F." It means that we offer you a "straight" cigarette. Just Nature's good old Virginia, with its own natural flavour—a flavour that does not need to be "built up" artificially. Good tobacco is so much better that way—better for your throat—better for your nerves.

Deserted in Motor Car
Stoke Newington, Eng., May 5.—A fine fifteen-month-old baby boy was left in an automobile parked on the street here.

Note received by teacher, explaining absence of child: "Dear Teacher, Beatrice is suffering from measles as required by law and cannot come to school."
