HIGH SCHOOL AT AYER'S CLIFF DESTROYED BY FIRE

Two-Storey Brick Structure Gutted In $50,000 Blaze

Ayer's Cliff School Board Issues Appeal to Schools in E.T. for Equipment to Maintain Temporary Classes—Only Chimney and Two Corners of Building Remain Standing—Fire Originated in Basement.

Special to The Record
Ayer's Cliff, Que., Dec. 6.—One hundred and thirty students of the Ayer's Cliff High School are not in classes today. Their brick-case two-storey school building was gutted last night in a fire which spent itself in two hours, and brought estimated damages of close to $50,000. The building was partly covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered between eight and eight-thirty last night by Dick Frappied, a Record newsboy, who noticed flames in the basement of the building. By ten p.m. the building was gutted. This morning only the chimney and two corners of the building remain as a result of the fierce fire, which originated in the basement. Books, desks, benches and expensive school equipment were lost in the blaze.

Arthur Slack, Chairman of the local School Board, has issued an appeal to schools in the Eastern Townships for equipment to maintain temporary classes. All schools with surplus school supplies should contact Secretary Cecil Tyler immediately.

Students in Grades ten and eleven will continue classes tomorrow morning in the United Church Vestry. Classes will be suspended in the lower grades until after the New Year, when the Board hopes suitable halls will have been furnished and equipped.

Mr. Slack will meet with Dr. C. L. Brown, N. C. Whitcomb, James Walker and Willard Rexford, members of the Board, at an emergency meeting tonight to discuss arrangements.

When he noticed the blaze in the basement of the school, young Frappied notified his father, Leonard Frappied, who contacted the E. T. telephone operator, Mrs. Lilian Martin. Mrs. Martin raised the alarm among the volunteer firemen, who hauled the town's fire equipment from Norrie's Garage to the scene. Then, the fire was almost beyond control. The twenty-five workers attempted to quell the blaze by chemicals before the pump was put into operation. The fire had too great a headway, however, and the building was razed.

Fifteen cords of wood in a shed behind the building were saved. Earlier, the North Hatley fire detachment was called, and together with two units battled the blaze in ice-coated overcoats, under the direction of Fred Lundeborg. There was little smoke.

The Ayer's Cliff High School was built in 1913, and was always kept in the best of condition. In recent years, much modern equipment had been installed.

BEVIN AGREES BIG THREE MEETING NO LONGER NEEDED

London, Dec. 6.—Foreign Secretary Bevin hinted yesterday he agreed with President Truman that Big Three meetings no longer were necessary.

Mr. Bevin was asked in the House of Commons whether it was not necessary "to make a special effort to solve the differences between ourselves and Russia, instead of allowing the two countries to slowly drift apart."

"I do not accept that they are drifting apart," the Foreign Secretary replied. "Sometimes friendship grows stronger when you do not meet quite so often."

World News In Brief

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 6.—The last Canadian prisoner-of-war to leave the Pacific theatre—Pte. Earl Mossman, of Lunenburg, N.S.—was heading for home today.

He was aboard the Canadian hospital ship Letitia, due at Vancouver today with 4,055 British passengers including 25 former British prisoners-of-war and six civilians, and the Canadian Army repatriation team of eleven officers and other ranks under Lt.-Col. M. W. McAuliffe, which was flown to the Pacific to look after the repatriation of Canadian prisoners-of-war.

The Letitia paused here yesterday en route from Manila to disembark 695 United States Army and Navy men and a small group of civilians.

Granby, Que., Dec. 6.—La Voix de l'Est, French-language weekly which has served this industrial Quebec Eastern Townships city and district for the last ten years, began official publication today as a daily evening newspaper.

La Voix de l'Est (The Voice of the East) was founded in 1935 by a group of Granby businessmen, among them Aime Laurion, the newspaper's present general manager, Mayor Jorace Boivin and Alcide Racine, Granby industrialist.

Independent in politics, the weekly appeared first as a 32-page tabloid, changing early last month to a regular-sized 16-page publication. The daily, continuing as an independent, began publication with eight pages.

Batavia, Java, Dec. 6.—Food shortages plagued Europeans at Bandoeng today as an uneasy quiet settled over the troubled island of Java.

European residents in the summer capital have been boycotted by native merchants for two weeks and have been unable to buy fresh vegetables, eggs or milk during that time.

Dutch spokesmen complained that in the southern sections of Bandoeng Indonesians still carried on a programme of kidnapping and intimidation of Europeans and Eurasians, and have asked permission from the British to extend to carry arms.

The British authorities have given no answer.

There were no new reports of fighting in such troubled areas as Bandoeng, Semarang and Ambarava, where sporadic outbreaks had been reported as late as yesterday.

Teheran, Dec. 6.—Iranian Premier Ibrahim Hakim denied today he had any intention of resigning and said he intends to continue attempts to settle the problem of Azerbaijan Province, where separatists are agitating for independence.

Reports were widespread during the past week that the Premier would resign because of the situation in the northwest province, and that he would be succeeded by a government which would favor the views of the Soviet Union, whose frontier borders Azerbaijan.

The Russians, who have been occupying the province since 1941, when troops were sent to guard the lend-lease supply route, halted Iranian troops which had been on the march toward the province to put down the reported rising. The Russians claimed the order was justified on grounds that "fighting and bloodshed would break out" if Iran Government troops entered the region.

General Motors Prepared To Discuss Plan To End Strike

Detroit, Dec. 6.—In the light of a new Government wage-price policy, General Motors Corporation prepared to discuss wages with the C.I.O. United Auto Workers today for the first time since the striking union brought virtually all G.M. operations to a standstill 16 days ago.

The resumption of full negotiations, including the union's demand for a 30-per cent pay raise, followed a secret meeting of General Motors and U.A.W.-C.I.O. representatives at Pittsburgh.

President Philip Murray of the C.I.O., who called the meeting, said "all points in dispute" would be considered.

General Motors previously had refused to negotiate other issues until what it termed "illegal picketing" had been stopped. Such a practice, the management contended, prevented some 40,000 office workers, in addition to 175,000 strikers, from entering the struck plants.

question, especially in view of the demand for the 30-per cent increase above present wage levels and within the present price structure.

The new United States Government policy, announced by Stabilization Administrator John C. Cole, permits manufacturers to seek price increases to offset wage boosts up to 33 per cent above the levels of January, 1941. It does not guarantee, however, that the Office of Price Administration will grant such increases.

This figure is three per cent higher than the previous one, and if added to an offer General Motors made the union before the strike was called, it would boost it to an average of about 18 per cent—still less than half the union demand.

Corporation officials have declined comment on President Truman's proposed appointment of a fact-finding board to study the G.M. strike, but both they and the union were reported anxious to reach a settlement before the board gets into operation.

ORDER KONOYE ARRESTED FOR ROLE IN WAR

Three Times Premier of Japan and Several Other High Japanese Officials Rounded Up as War Criminal Suspects.

Tokyo, Dec. 6.—Gen. MacArthur ordered the arrest of Prince Fumimaro Kono, three times Premier of Japan; Marquis Koichi Kido, Emperor Hirohito's right hand man throughout the Pacific War, and seven others as war criminal suspects.

Reaching into the highest circles, the Allied Commander named as the other seven wanted: Vice Admiral Takano Godo, who was unofficial envoy to Germany to present Japan's side of the China incident, also a former Cabinet member.

Shigeo Odote, long time politico-economist.

Taketora Ogata, Vice-President of the Tokyo newspaper Asahi and a foremost Japanese journalist.

Vicount Masatochi Okochi, industrialist.

Lt.-Gen. Hiro chi Oshima who had been Japanese Ambassador to Berlin since 1938 and arrived in Japan only today.

Count Tadamasu Sakai, member of the House of Peers.

Yakichiro Suma, long time diplomat; formerly councillor of the Japanese Embassy in Washington.

Kono, who was Premier at the time of the China incident and held the post the last time just before Pearl Harbor, when he was succeeded by Hideki Tojo, has been one of the most talked about men in post-war Japan.

A-Bomb Material Production Is Cut

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, Dec. 6.—The United States is cutting production of atomic bomb materials in at least one of the key plants where the revolutionary weapon was developed.

This was disclosed in a routine official report on job conditions made public today by the United States Employment Service.

The report said: "Declining volume in the production of atomic bomb materials at Oak Ridge, Tenn., caused a drop in employment (during November) in the Knoxville area and reduced its classification from one of stringent labor demand to one of balanced supply."

The survey did not mention job conditions in the Washington State area where another huge atomic bomb project is located.

President Truman, while making no reference to the extent of production, disclosed at a recent press conference that the United States still is making atomic bombs.

He said they would be used for experimental purposes and added that the bombs actually could be used for peacetime pursuits once international security has been achieved.

Mr. St. Laurent said he could not answer these questions off-hand. It was regrettable the circumstances were such that controls were required.

"But they are required and this Government has the nerve to come to the country and say it intends to see that they are maintained so long as they are required."

He took sharp issue with John Hackett (PC—Stanstead) who had stated earlier the people wanted a government with the nerve to take off controls.

Whipping off his glasses and flipping them on his desk, Mr. St. Laurent said emphatically: "This Government has not the nerve to take off controls and make opportunities for those who would derive benefit from those opportunities at the expense of the mass of the population."

"This Government has not the nerve, if there are people in the country who want a Government with that nerve let them choose it from the other side of the House."

The spat came shortly after the House had given second reading on division, but without a recorded vote, to the bill. The reading came after a motion of Frederic Dorion (Ind.—Charlevoix-Saguenay) to give the bill a six-month hoist was rejected without a vote being called.

Rays Given Off By Atomic Bombs Killed Japs Weeks After Blasts, As Function Of Blood Impaired

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—A scientist described today how fantastic effects of rays given off by atomic bombs killed Japanese weeks after the blasts which flattened Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

In a statement prepared for the special Senate Atomic Energy Committee he told of the gruesome findings of a party which inspected the devastated cities after the Japanese surrendered.

He said most persons within a mile of the bombs died quickly—either from the great heat of the blast or injuries suffered in demolished buildings.

Many who escaped death by blast or burn, Dr. Morrison said, died from the effects of radium-like rays emitted in great number from the bomb at the instant of the explosion.

"This radiation affects the blood-forming tissues in the bone marrow, and the whole function of the blood is impaired," said the former physics instructor at the University of Illinois.

Sharp Clashes Spark Debate On Emergency Powers Issue

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Dec. 6.—Debate on the Government's emergency powers bill continued today in the Commons, but the force of arguments to advance, held the members in rapt attention as they argued on what powers a government should have for the transitional period.

When they finished, some progress was made in dealing with the clauses of the bill.

Mr. St. Laurent, veteran of many actions before the highest courts of the Empire, stated flatly that the Government plans to retain wartime controls so long as they are necessary for the protection of the Canadian people.

Mr. Diefenbaker, tall, curly-haired, 50-year-old criminal lawyer, leaned over his desk, shook his finger at the Government and charged that while the face of the original power bill had been altered through amendments the "tell-tale wrinkles" were still there. Those wrinkles "spelled dictatorship in this country," unless the granting of wide powers to the Government was opposed.

He demanded the Government make clear to what extent the special powers were to be used; to what extent price control was to be eased; the extent to which wages were to be maintained at their present level and the future of federal labor legislation and national selective service.

Mr. St. Laurent said he could not answer these questions off-hand. It was regrettable the circumstances were such that controls were required.

"But they are required and this Government has the nerve to come to the country and say it intends to see that they are maintained so long as they are required."

He took sharp issue with John Hackett (PC—Stanstead) who had stated earlier the people wanted a government with the nerve to take off controls.

"This Government has not the nerve, if there are people in the country who want a Government with that nerve let them choose it from the other side of the House."

The spat came shortly after the House had given second reading on division, but without a recorded vote, to the bill. The reading came after a motion of Frederic Dorion (Ind.—Charlevoix-Saguenay) to give the bill a six-month hoist was rejected without a vote being called.

Debate on the second reading was terminated by John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader, who attacked the form in which the bill was presented, but who said that "we are not opposed to the Government having whatever powers are necessary to meet emergent conditions."

Legislation to control prices and wages and to assure a flow of essential goods that were in short supply were necessary and personally he would favor granting other powers which might be shown to be necessary.

For the first time, the former Reichsbank President, Walther Funk, who is one of the defendants, was named in the evidence. The prosecution produced a letter from Funk to Hitler in which the economist told of ways in which the Reichsbank had prepared for the war.

On August 23—nine days before he attacked—Hitler answered Mr. Chamberlain that Germany could "not renounce certain essential interests."

CHINESE REDS SAY COALITION WOULD END WAR

Declare Question of Peace or War Depends on Chiang's Acceptance of Principle of Democratic Coalition Regime.

By JOHN RODERICK
Yenan, China, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The question of peace or war in China, hinges on acceptance by President Chiang Kai-Shek of the broad general principle of a democratic coalition government, Chinese Communist circles at this Communist headquarters city said today.

Inability to sell that point to the President caused the failure of Maj.-Gen. Patrick Hurley's mission as United States Ambassador, they aver. Any impression that Chiang was ready and willing to give in on that subject and even had offered to cooperate in a managed economy, was immediately and totally false, Yenan leaders said.

The approaching peace talks at Chungking, likely to decide the entire course of the future, would be helped by considering little-publicized Communist demands, Yenan says.

Mao Tze-Tung, the Communist leader, in a recently published book "On Coalition Government" forecast election of a Central Government dedicated to pushing a policy of "state managed, private managed, cooperatively managed economy."

The culture of this new state should be "commonly owned by the ordinary people," not "for the small, privileged minority," he wrote.

Mao calls this "a bourgeois democratic revolution" which only can be accomplished through the unified employment of "vast private capital in a co-operative economy," which postpones the distant future realization of the party's Marxist social aim.

To think of establishing Socialism or a semi-socialist China is an empty dream," he said.

To those who lift their eyebrows at Communist willingness to include capitalism in the present programme, Mao replies "Our answer is simple to replace foreign imperialism and all laws suppressing freedom of the press, speech, assembly and association."

"What exists in present-day China is a superfluous foreign imperialism and native feudalism. We believe that under present conditions in China besides the state's economy, individual economy of toiling masses and co-operative economy, private capitalist economy should be given the facilities for development. Without it everyone would be begging for alms."

Mao's concrete programme asked for "abolition of Kuomintang one-party dictatorship; punishment for pro-Japanese elements and traitors; abolition of all secret political police and concentration camps and abolition of all laws suppressing freedom of the press, speech, assembly and association."

The programme also asks recognition of the legal status of all parties, release of political prisoners, recognition of popularly elected government in liberated areas, implementation of the Bretton Woods plan, aid to retired veterans, large relief funds for large scale relief to war-torn people, abolition of excessive taxation, and other measures.

Mr. Rowley told the meeting that in a telephone conversation with Mr. Barrette, Regional Director of the War Labor Board it could be requested that the matter be reconsidered by the Regional Board of the National War Labor Board.

He said the Union had been advised by the Regional Board that a special investigator has been appointed to look into such complaints as made by the Union and caused the strike. The investigator would be ready to carry out his duties as soon as the employees return to their jobs.

NEW HOPE FOR EARLY END TO MOTOR STRIKE

Negotiating and Policy Committees Have Given Unanimous Approval to New Settlement Proposal.

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 6.—CP—New hope for ending the 86-day old union security strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada plant gathered strength today amid reports of a Union-sponsored plan to break the deadlock.

Negotiating and policy committees of about 200 of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) yesterday gave unanimous approval to the new settlement proposal which many union men hope will lead to a second membership vote.

Last week, 5,000 of the 8,500 members of the local rejected by a 52-48 vote a Government-sponsored plan to end the strike, called Sept. 6 by the Union in a bid to enforce its demands for a union shop and a check-off.

The Union announcement that the negotiating and policy committees had reached a unanimous decision did not refer directly to the new proposal to end the dispute but it was generally understood that was what the decision involved.

The shop stewards, who rejected the Government settlement formula last Wednesday and were supported by a membership vote the following day, are to pass on the plan within the next 24 hours.

Union sources said the Union proposal had been submitted to Dominion Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell.

Hitler Secretly Agreed On Date For Poland's Invasion Five Months Before Blow Was Struck

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Nuernberg, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler secretly agreed on September 1, 1939, as the date for the invasion of Poland five months in advance, while falsely proclaiming to the world that he had no thought of further aggression, German records introduced at the International War Crimes trial disclosed today.

Germany's Axis partner, Italy, was not let in on the plan to invade Poland until August 12, 1939, and Mussolini made an urgent but fruitless request for Hitler to postpone the war for two or three years to permit Italian rearmament to progress, other documents showed as British prosecutors unveiled the "inside story" of Hitler's activities just prior to the outbreak of the war.

At the request of counsel for the 20 accused Nazis, Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding judge on the four-power tribunal, announced that the trial will recess over the Christmas holidays, from December 20 to January 2. The chief U.S. prosecutor, Justice Robert H. Jackson, entered a formal objection to the recess after it was announced.

The order placing the German army on the alert for the invasion of Poland by September 1, 1939, was issued by Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the High Command and one of the 20 German leaders on trial. The directive disclosed that it was made on Hitler's order.

In May, Field Marshal Keitel was disclosed to have transmitted additional instructions to the German armed forces for "the economic war and the protection of our own autonomy" in the forthcoming invasion of Poland.

Notes of a speech Hitler made in May to top-ranking Nazis disclosed that the Fuehrer was virtually as determined to fight Britain and France as he was to attack Poland.

The German defendants listened intently to the reading of the minutes of the August meeting between Hitler and Count Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, and it was apparent that details of the Italian plea to defer the start of the war were new to most of them.

12,000 Canucks Enroute Home

New York, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Conard-White Star Line officials today reported the liner Queen Elizabeth making steady progress toward New York with her load of 12,000 Canadian troops, unhindered by "heavy weather" battering the east coast of the United States.

Rain and high winds that hit the New York area last night were forecast to approach storm proportions by tonight but shipping company officials said the inclement weather had not held up the 85,000-ton Queen Elizabeth.

She is due to reach the port of New York about 6:30 a.m. E.S.T. tomorrow.

United States To Lend U. K. $4,400,000,000 To Aid Trade

By BARTON D. PATTIE
London, Dec. 6.—(AP)—A United States loan of $4,400,000,000 to Britain, subject to approval of American Congress and the British Parliament, was announced here today in the press and was hailed as a boon to world trade.

Official announcement of the agreement, following twelve weeks of negotiations between the two countries in Washington, was expected to be made simultaneously in the two capitals tonight.

The London press said the agreement called for repayment over a 50-year period starting from 1946, and added no interest would be payable for the first five years. Thereafter, the accounts said, the rate of interest would be two per cent—about $88,000,000 a year.

None of the London newspapers commented editorially, but the tenor of the headlines given the accounts indicated enthusiastic approval of the agreement both by the Conservative and Labor press.

The Conservative Daily Sketch termed the loan a "Magna Charta for world trade," and said it would "ease Britain's winter." The Labor Daily Herald said failure of the negotiations would have meant "further tightening of belts, general imposition of restrictions to avoid a call for dollars, and a period of intensive trade rivalry."

London newspapers said that the agreement provided that of the total amount of the loan, $550,000,000 would be used in payment for goods in process of delivery to Britain when lend-lease was ended. The papers, quoting their Washington correspondents, said the loan itself—$3,850,000,000—and the $550,000,000 lend-lease air settlement would be repaid on precisely the same terms.

The dispatch to the Daily Herald said acceptance by Britain of the Bretton Woods monetary plan was a condition of the loan, and the United States Congress will be kept in session to ratify the loan simultaneously with the passage of the Bretton Woods bill by Parliament.

Announcement of the agreement came after concern had been expressed in official circles here over progress of negotiations. When it had been reported that negotiations were on the brink of complete breakdown, the dispatches said, Sir Edward Bridges, Permanent Secretary to the Treasury, was rushed from London to Washington by plane on three hours' notice.

The Daily Herald, Labor Party organ, said the agreement would "not prevent an expansion of trade within the Commonwealth, but will enable the Dominions to make immediate essential purchases in the United States."

The Sketch commented that "what the Americans are really lending us is new houses, new factories, new machinery and equipment."

Sources close to the Union said the Government will be urged to support the Union in its reported stand that negotiation and arbitration should start while the men are on the picket line.

Such a course was suggested to Labor Minister Mitchell several weeks ago by Union officials.

The previous plan's provision that the men go back to work before the negotiation-arbitration formula went into effect was blamed for its rejection by the Union membership.

Dr. Bradley declared that Canadians must be summoned by their conscience to help these people. The United Polish Relief Fund is trying to raise $25,000 in Canada.

In her radio address, Mrs. Deyczakowski, who escaped from Poland with her young son a few months after the German invasion, drew a vivid picture of contemporary Poland, where "in this aftermath of war they face a still more dreadful foe: disease and epidemics."

"Because of the tremendous destruction, people have to live in hovels and cellars, with many families often crowded into one room, without heating, deprived of sanitation facilities—utterly miserable. They have been without the essentials of life for such a long time that the health of the Polish nation has been severely undermined.

There are now only about twenty-five per cent of the pre-war number of doctors, hospitals and clinics available. Medicine cannot be produced in sufficient quantity because machinery and equipment has been destroyed by war."

Mobile hospitals to be purchased with the campaign money will be sent to Poland to facilitate care of the sick.

The new arrest order came only a few days after Japan had been deeply shaken by another list of war criminal suspects which included high Japanese financial, military and political leaders, including Prince Morishima Naohito.

There was no immediate clarification whether the Imperial Household had been informed of his impending arrest and permitted to abolish the position before it was announced.

Konoye, who was Premier just before the start of the Pacific war, also held that position during the China War. There had been insistent reports recently that the Chinese Government had demanded his arrest.

Armand Boucher Sentenced To Life Term For Manslaughter

The Armand Boucher murder case came to a close here early yesterday afternoon when Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure handed down a sentence of life imprisonment to the 22-year-old St. Denis de Brompton youth, who was convicted on a reduced charge of manslaughter at his trial for the murder of George Williams, 30, Sherbrooke, in the Court of King's Bench here last month.

Boucher left for St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, outside Montreal, last night.

He heard his sentence in an almost empty Court of King's Bench. Erect in the prisoners' dock, and wearing the same tan suit he wore throughout the trial, short, dark Boucher remained casual, and smiled at his lawyer, Paul Brazeau, and counsel, Raoul Gagne, following the pronouncement.

The case drew Provincial-wide interest, and the jury's verdict of manslaughter on Friday night, November 16, followed the second week long hearing of the case.

Boucher was convicted of Williams' murder in a Randboro woods on May 6, 1944, at the first trial, in October, 1944. At that time, Mr. Justice Dalma Landry sentenced the accused to be hanged on January 26 of this year. On November 23, 1944, however, a stay of execution was granted until March 23, 1945, in order to allow the Court of Appeals time to consider a writ filed by Boucher's lawyer, Paul Emile Brazeau. Later, the Court of Appeals, Montreal, granted a second hearing.

At the opening of the court, yesterday afternoon, the clerk asked the accused if he wished to say anything before the sentence was pronounced and on behalf of Boucher, Mr. Brazeau replied in the negative. Mr. Justice Lazure then pronounced the sentence, declaring:

"Boucher, you have been found guilty of manslaughter by the jury. You were heard yourself as a witness and you told a hunting story which the jury did not believe. I do not think that you can blame them much for that. I did not explain their verdict because I had advised them that they alone were responsible for the verdict before society.

"They found you criminally responsible for the death of Williams. You killed him in a brutal fashion, in the most inhuman manner possible. But you were not content to kill him, you robbed him as well. You robbed him at the time of death, and you continued to rob him after death. And you told us in the witness box that Williams was your best friend, your 'ami de coeur'."

Local Regiment Expected To Arrive Home In Mid-January

The Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment, one of the first complete units to be mobilized in this city after the outbreak of the war and proceed Overseas, is expected home about the middle of January it was learned at a meeting held in the Belvidere Street Armory last night. Although no official word has been received as yet from Overseas headquarters, this conclusion is drawn from the fact that repatriation of the 3rd Canadian Army Division will be complete by the end of December and following shortly after the new year, repatriation of the 4th Division, of which the local regiment forms a part, will commence.

Last night's meeting was called for the purpose of electing a number of committees to plan for the reception of the home unit when it arrives.

Chairmen of the various committees are: Finance, Major Carl Skinner; Press, Major F. H. Babwin; Decorations, Major J. H. Gilbert; Recreation, Major E. W. L. Arnold. These men in turn all form part of the main controlling body, the Reception Committee, under the chairmanship of Lt.-Col. Aime Biron, former second in command of Sherbrooke Fusiliers.

No. 4 Military District Headquarters will send an officer to act as liaison between headquarters and the local organization. This officer will assist in making arrangements for the reception and forward any messages between the two groups. It was stressed, however, that organizing will be solely in the charge of the local body which includes former officers of the regiment recently discharged and officers of the Sherbrooke Regiment and Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke.

Although no definite plans were made last night, several suggestions, which in all likelihood will be accepted, were made. Arrangements to have the regiment arrive about noon was thought most plausible in view of the fact that considerable difficulty would be encountered to have the men remain longer than a day before visiting their homes. In this case, a short parade would be held through the city streets following which they would meet their relatives and friends. In the afternoon, a civic reception and later in the evening some sort of recreation such as an all ranks dance in the Armory.

The question of just how many men would be returning has caused delay in plans and the heads of various committees, though proceeding along some lines, are making all arrangements subject to immediate change.

Another point which brought considerable discussion was the matter of finance and the inclusion of a number of men of the regiment who have already returned home either on repatriation or medical grounds. Because a great number of men in the regiment are from other parts of the Dominion, particularly Western Canada, the number from this city and the Townships will be considerably smaller. Also there are hundreds of men in other branches of the service and discharged personnel who at some time or other served in the Fusiliers and whether or not to include them in the reception is still under consideration. It is expected, however, that recently returned men will form a second unit in the parade and likely be included in the civic reception.

During the discussion of memorabilia, Lt.-Col. K. B. Jonckes suggested a lapel button with a superimposed miniature of the regiment's cap badge. He said that he had contacted a firm in Toronto which would be willing to manufacture the button which would have a gold-plated base with a silver-plated badge. Other suggestions were a signet ring and pewter mug stamped with the name of the recipient.

It is understood that the disbanding of the regiment will not take place for some time and is in the hands of the officer commanding and his staff.

F/O LEON R. LEWIS, of Waterloo, Quebec, former RCAF navigation instructor who received his wings at London, Ontario, and later served in instructional capacity at Charlottetown, P.E.I., has been retained as General Office Manager for Air Services (Canada) Limited, the newly-organized air base at Montreal composed mainly of Ex-service personnel. F/O Lewis graduated from Waterloo High School in 1928 with honors and later was employed by the Macdonald Metal Products Ltd., as purchasing agent and cost accountant. The airport known as Riverside Air Base is one of the largest projects of its kind devoted to private and commercial flying, with land and water facilities, to have been started in Canada, although similar projects are underway in the United States. Aviation circles as well as many business men have viewed the organization and development with considerable optimism and anticipate a definite trend toward the promotion of civilian flying in Canada.

Charles Mignault Honored By Social Club Fellow Members

Charles de L. Mignault, K.C., recently appointed chairman of the Municipal Commission of the Province of Quebec, was honored last night by his fellow members of the Club Social at a special dinner meeting at the club on Melbourne Street. Mr. Mignault is the first Sherbrooke person to be appointed to this post.

Dr. Richard Gaudet, club president, presided, and the guest of honor was congratulated on his appointment on behalf of the club members by Raoul Gagne.

In a brief address, Mr. Mignault outlined the work of the Commission, declaring that it is the "champion of your money." The Commission, he said, it well known in the financial world, but its work is rather obscure to the general public.

The Commission was organized in 1932 when the finances of the Province of Quebec were in poor shape. Then, 97 municipalities were in default for a total of $16,255,000. In Ontario, at the same time, 30 municipalities were in default for a total of $109,984,000. Today, all but four municipalities in Quebec have been reorganized, under the supervision of the Municipal Commission.

Mr. Mignault commended the work of "the real founder of the Municipal Commission," Jean Potvin, the second chairman.

More than one half of the municipalities in the Province have been offered their autonomy, Mr. Mignault continued, but only 24 have accepted—the others have asked to remain under the supervision of the Municipal Commission.

Last year, the work of the Commission was extensive, the new chairman said. Some 764 municipalities had temporary loans approved and 1,334 temporary school loans were granted for an aggregate of about nine millions.

Besides, there were long term loans on notes by 46 municipalities with 65 municipal boards and 36 school boards receiving bond issues. Last year, the Commission approved $6 budgets, and supervised the reorganizing of three municipal financial set ups.

These figures do not include the cities of Montreal or Quebec.

"But this isn't half of the work of the Commission," the chairman declared. It is the practice for all municipalities to submit all questions to the Commission before they are taken up in their own councils. "The work, then, demands enormous precaution," Mr. Mignault maintained.

The new chairman declared that the financial administration of the City of Sherbrooke is regarded as excellent in Quebec circles. The

APPEALS MADE IN BEHALF OF POLISH DRIVE

Appeals on behalf of the current United Polish Relief Fund campaign have been made over the local radio station this week by Dr. F. H. Bradley, a joint chairman, and Mrs. Isabella Deyczakowski, assistant secretary.

"No nation in Europe has suffered as much as the Polish nation," Dr. Bradley stressed in his address. "Poland was the battleground for the death struggle between Germany and Russia. First the German fought their way from one Polish boundary to the other. Then Russia, finally turning on the enemy, fought back over the same country until the struggle ended in Berlin. Through Polish towns, cities and villages, through Polish farms, forests and countryside, these two tremendous armies marched, fought and spent their strength. During all this the Poles, our allies since the first days of the war when Germany provoked the struggle by sweeping this practically defenceless country, were subjected to the most terrible suffering.

"They were murdered in thousands. Their stocks of food and clothing were stolen. Polish women and children were left to die and starve. The Germans burnt, pillaged and looted so that nothing of any possible value might be left to the Russians.

"Now after six years of terror the Poles are attempting to regain something of their lost freedom and prosperity. They face a desperate winter. The climate in Poland is much like our own. The cold will be the daily companion of the Polish people until next spring. They are in great need of clothing,

CO-ORDINATE FEDERAL DEPARTMENTS

Sherbrooke citizens, who have long been critical of the conditions caused by the inadequacy of the local Post Office, will be heartened with announcement of H. Beaulieu, Director of Administrative Services of the Canadian Post Office Department, that a new building will be erected at a more centralized location in the near future. Having heard such promises on many occasions in the past, the general consensus of opinion among local residents will be that of "wait and see," although there can be no argument that something must be done without delay for the improvement of local conditions. The problems which are facing the local staff were ably emphasized by Mr. Beaulieu who pointed out that its members were seeking to carry on a $219,000 annual business in a building designed back in 1884 for an office whose turnover was $9,000 annually.

If, fortunately, the federal authorities do move to implement their oft-made promise, it is to be hoped that they will give serious consideration to the question of erecting a single building capable of accommodating the various activities of the Dominion Government in Sherbrooke.

Authorities of the Department of National Revenue have indicated that a regional office for the income tax service will be established here shortly, while numerous other agencies of the national government—agricultural agents, Department of Veterans Affairs, Unemployment Insurance Commission, weights and measures and many others—have offices in Sherbrooke or plan to establish these in the near future. At present, excluding properties of the Department of National Defence, such as armories, federal bureaux are located in twelve different blocks throughout the city. As a matter of improved public service and for reasons of operating efficiency and economy, it would seem reasonable that the Government erect a building that would care for the needs of these divisions. The problems of persons who have to deal with two or more of these agencies in connection with a single item of business would be greatly eased and at the same time there would be an inevitable reduction of the time lost in inter-office communication.

Another question which might receive close attention in this respect is the possible relationship of the new building to the proposed civic centre which is envisaged at the top of King Hill. Here, the supporters of the civic centre project hope, will be established suitable and attractive buildings to house federal, provincial and municipal services. Whether this is a practical suggestion or not must await the preparation of tentative plans, but the idea is worth at least passing consideration.

ANSWERING MUNICH CRITICS

One interesting item which has come out of the Nuerberg trial of Nazi war leaders is the disclosure that the most complete preparations had been made by the German war machine for the quick conquest of Czechoslovakia in 1938. The proof of this contention was found in the records kept by an individual named Schmundt, who was one of the Fuehrer's adjutants. These records disclose that on May 30 of that year Hitler declared he was "determined to smash Czechoslovakia by military action in the near future." In support of this stand, the German army spent the entire summer of 1938 in rehearsing the contemplated attack on the Czech defences. On September 23 the forces were deployed at strategic points on the frontier and by the following day they were at their jumping off places. The plan, as stated in the indictment, was to conquer the country in four days.

These records read into the court procedure form a complete answer to those critics of the Chamberlain Government that Hitler was bluffing and that he could have been stopped by a show of force on the part of Great Britain and France. They also form a partial answer, if any such answer is needed after the events of the war, to the contention that the Czechs could have held out at that time until help reached them.

Further records submitted to the court furnish an answer to still another statement which has been heard from time to time—that Germany was unprepared in 1938. Directly contradicting this thesis is the fact that on November 5, 1937, discussing the international scene with his commanders, Hitler pointed out that German equipment was modern but that it would become obsolescent and might be matched or surpassed if action were too long delayed.

And that is exactly what happened. At Munich the British had only a few specimen Spitfires and Hurricanes. A year later their air force was the finest in the world in quality of men and machines which more than offset a certain numerical inferiority it held to the Germans. It was that air force that, with still another year's grace, won the Battle of Britain and saved the world.

TACKLING THE PROBLEM OF INDIA

The manner in which the British Labor Government is tackling one of the greatest Imperial problems—that of Indian independence—gives all appearances that it might achieve definite results. Not only has the promise of self-government for India been re-affirmed before Parliament, but the British Government has given its word that the vast sub-continent will be allowed to cut loose entirely if it wishes to do so.

Herbert Morrison, leader of the Labor majority in the House of Commons, has made the categorical declaration that Great Britain will not impose any restrictions on the power of India to decide her own future. This definite statement was made in response to a blunt question whether India would be permitted to withdraw from the British Commonwealth of Nations if her leaders so desired. While affirming that the Government was prepared to grant this permission, Mr. Morrison continued "it is naturally our hope that India will remain of her own free will in the British Commonwealth."

He also announced that a non-partisan Parliamentary committee will proceed to India immediately to make independent observations and report back to the Government. This would be in preparation for the formation of an assembly to frame an Indian constitution next spring after the Indian provincial elections have paved the way. Lest there be any misunderstanding, however, the Government at the same time announced that it will resist "any attempts to resolve the constitutional issue by force."

Undoubtedly this was inspired by the remark made last week by Indian leader Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru that if Great Britain did not take the initiative for India's independence, "other people" might do so. Next to Mohandas Gandhi, Nehru is the most powerful person in all India, and thus his words are not to be passed over lightly.

The whole situation is graphically explained by an article in The London Times, which for generations has been known as a staunch defender of the British Commonwealth. Commenting on the Morrison declaration, The Times declares "A straightforward programme has thrown open the door through which Indians can pass to complete and unfettered control of their own internal and external affairs."

It would be foolish to believe that there are not many obstacles to overcome. One of the greatest of these has been the failure of the various Indian political factions to resolve their own differences. Numerous Indian leaders have expressed the belief that the easiest road to success would be for the British Government to establish a provisional Indian Government immediately, doing so arbitrarily if necessary, and let the factions iron out their differences later.

THE CANNED FOOD OUTLOOK

Professional farmers and urban residents who went into the development of Victory gardens during the past summer need not be told that weather conditions this year were highly unfavorable for both seeding and harvesting of crops. The individual knows that the volume of fruits and vegetables he hoped to can during the season was far in excess of the quantity he was able to harvest. But the nation-wide extent of the reduced production is only apparent when the figures of the Department of Agriculture on the pack of fruits and vegetables are studied.

Estimates made by the Department place the 1945 pack of beans (green or wax) at 900,000 cases, 335,000 below that of 1944. Only 900,000 cases of corn were canned, 991,000 cases less than last year, and 400,000 below the five year average of 1940-44. Canned peas at 2,900,000 cases this year are down 700,000 cases in comparison with 1944, but are 100,000 cases above the five year average.

The drop in canned tomatoes is substantial this year. It was only 1,300,000 cases, which is 1,382,000 cases down from 1944. Tomato juice is not going to be as plentiful in the next several months for the 1945 pack was only 2,300,000 cases, a drop of 1,942,000 cases from last year. Other Tomato products, such as pulp, puree, paste and catsup are in lower supply compared with 1944.

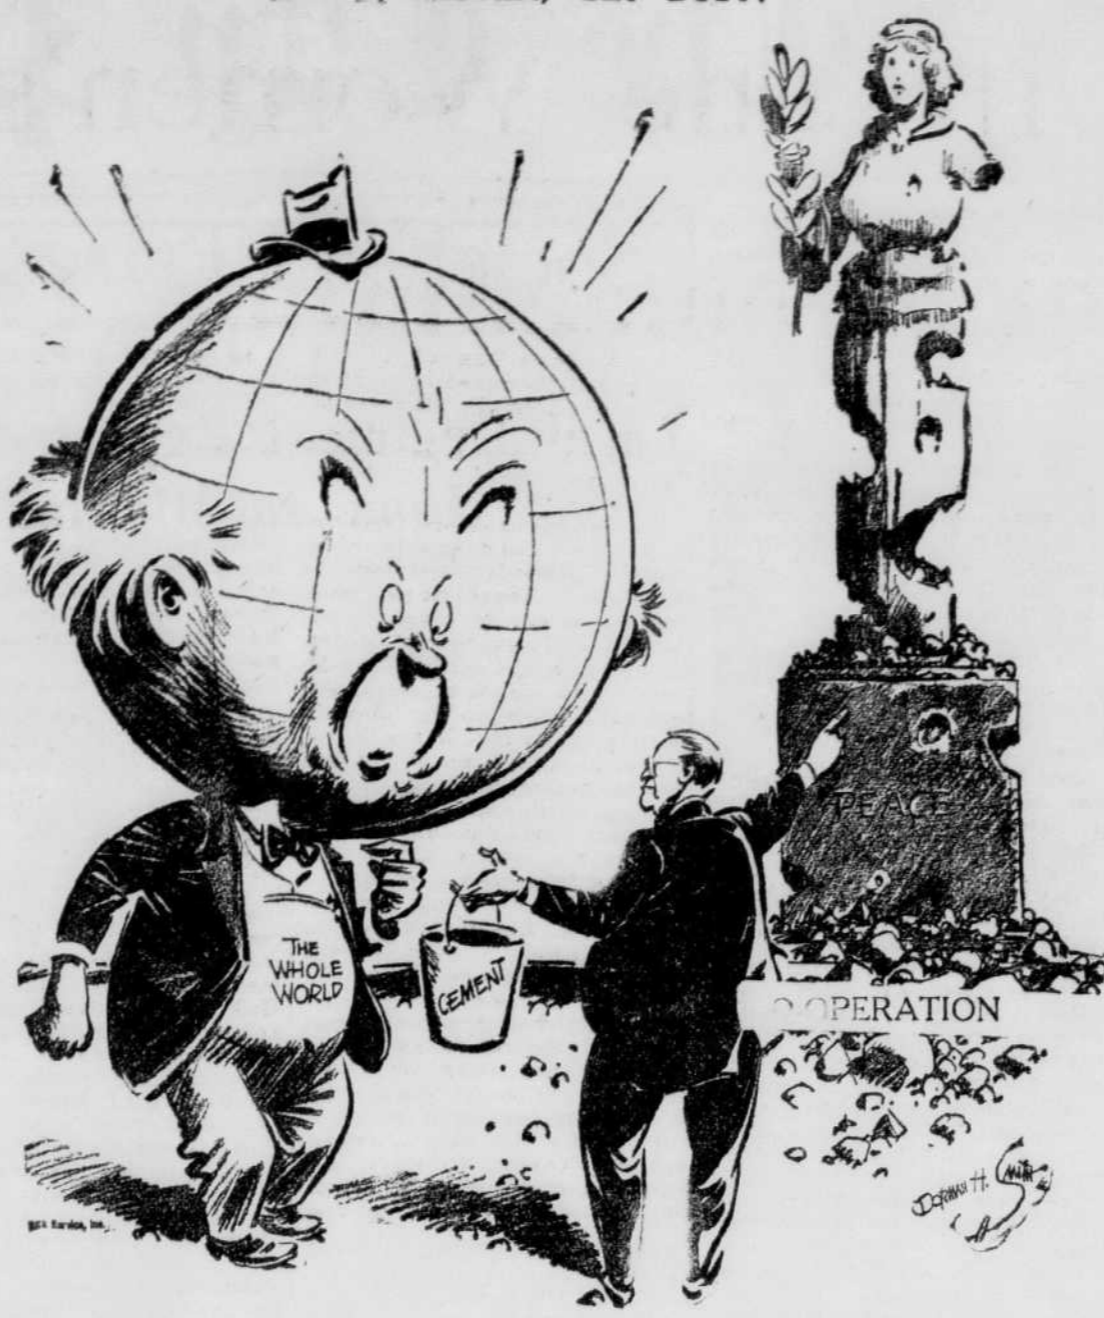

The report concerning canned fruit for this year is as bad as that of vegetables. Only 36,000 cases of apricots were put up, 58,000 cases less than last year's pack. The cherry crop in 1945 was a failure in Eastern Canada, but was good in British Columbia. The total pack was 40,000 cases, a drop of 68,000 cases.

While it was expected early in the summer that this year's peach crop would not be up to the average, actually it turned out good. The 1944 total pack was 619,000 cases and in 1945 it was 550,000 cases, only 69,000 below last year. The crop of pears was poor and only 320,000 cases were canned or about half of the quantity packed last year. Plums were a failure in Ontario, but good in British Columbia. This year's total pack of 260,000 cases is down 48,000 cases.

PRESS COMMENTS

HE IS UNDERPAID!

St. Catharines Standard
President Truman will emerge from the White House with a heavy personal debt, despite his $75,000 per year salary, unless he manages to be downright thrifty, Jonathan Daniels, White House press secretary, declares in a signed article in the current issue of Collier's Weekly.

In giving a running account of the unavoidable expenses that are incurred in running the nation's "great boardinghouse," Daniels lists the President's minimum expenses as follows:
Federal taxes $46,000
White House expenses over and above those met by the government 25,000
Missouri State taxes 1,000
Total $72,000

The $3,000 left after paying the above must cover an interminable number of demands, some of which could eat up his yearly salary with ease, according to Daniels. These include:
Meals for his family and unofficial guests; teas for unofficial guests, which are detested not only by inclination but by "inescapable responsibility"; bill for his family's personal laundry and cleaning; clothes for an extensive wardrobe; and a contribution to the Democratic party.

In addition, Daniels points out, President Truman is expected to set an example in buying War Bonds, and there are countless invitations to join dues-paying organizations and appeals from charities.

"A president could give away his salary very easily," Daniels says, "if he responded as requested, to almost any week's mail."
President Taft is the only President "known to have voiced satisfaction" in the $75,000 per year pay, according to Daniels, having told President Wilson that he saved $100,000 during his four year years in office.

But the best President Truman "could do would be to leave the White House $100,000 in debt," if today's White House expenses were as low as in Taft's time, Daniels says. "For Harry S. Truman will have to pay, in a four years' term, nearly $300,000 in state and federal taxes which did not exist when Taft counted his luck and his thrift."

"Roosevelt, Hoover and Harding all had some private means," Daniels says, while Coolidge made a presidential profession of being thrifty and Wilson's second wife was wealthy. President Truman, on the other hand, "has made it clear that he has no private fortune."

"It is a great job—the greatest job on earth," Daniels adds, in speaking of the Presidency. "But from the pay standpoint, the President only gets the privilege of handling a nice chunk of money in order that he may pay back practically all of it to the American people in taxes and for living in their big White House behind the clipped green lawn and the high iron fence."

POLITICAL POLITICS

Manchester Guardian
The request of the Dominions for a larger share in the task of peace-making will find much sympathy in this country. Their contribution to the victory is ground enough for this claim, while at San Francisco, under the bold leadership of Mr. Evatt, they gave abundant proof of their leadership and quality. Unfortunately, it is not so simple as that. It is only too likely that, left to themselves, the Dominions and other smaller Powers would make a far better job of the peace than the Big Five. That, however, is not practical politics.

But if Britain supports their demand to be included in the Council of Foreign Ministers, Mr. Molotov will certainly counter by submitting the claims of Yugoslavia, Poland, and Czechoslovakia, not to mention those sturdy independents, the Ukraine and White Russia, France and the United States might also have their claims.

A limit has to be set somewhere, and experience has proved that the smaller the committee the more likely it is to achieve results. It is true that so far the Council of Foreign Ministers does not appear to have done very much, but can anyone seriously believe that it would have been more successful if Australia, South Africa, and, say, White Russia had been represented?

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

LESSON NO. 1—EXTRA TRICKS COUNT PLENTY

While there are millions of bridge players in the United States, only a small percentage of them participate in tournament bridge. However, I predict that tournament bridge will become the country's greatest pastime. It is one of the few games in which young and old can compete on an equal basis.

The tournament bridge player must learn that the extra trick counts. In today's hand, the drop of the cards is particularly important. The opening lead is won by declarer with the club king, and both the queen and ten of hearts fall on the ace and king. Now the question is, where are the queen of diamonds and the king of spades?

South cashes the ace of clubs and starts to run off the hearts. On the heart nine, East discards a club; on the seven he lets go the deuce of diamonds, and on the six the three of spades.

Then comes the five of hearts. If East lets go the four of spades, South knows he is protecting diamonds. With the play of the heart and the queen of diamonds.

Man Detained For Echenberg Bros. Shooting

Officials Divulge Name Following Three-Day Investigation—Nation-Wide Publicity Given to Case—End Near.

News that there had been a shooting at Echenberg Bros. caused considerable excitement throughout the city, and the report that a man from Toronto had been detained for the shooting resulted in a new flurry of questions, but the "Extra" assures the public that no murder has been committed or even attempted.

A three-day investigation of the newly-remodelled Echenberg Bros. store has been underway for the MacLean Publications of Toronto, who sent one of their staff writers and photographers to Sherbrooke to do a story on this huge remodelling job that was carried out without interruption of business in the store.

The "shooting" was merely the photographer shooting pictures of the interior of the store, and a complete coverage of the ten-month-long job will be given in a forthcoming issue of "Furniture and House Furnishings," thus giving nationwide publicity to the great task undertaken at Echenberg Bros., whose slogan "Business as Usual" prevailed throughout the entire tearing down and building up of Sherbrooke's largest furniture store, from cellar to roof.

Tom Purkis, of the MacLean Publications, was the man who "did the job" for the trade magazine, and he credited the interest of the company in the Echenberg Bros. store to the consistent and novel advertising carried on while the work was in progress.

Outside and interior "shots" of the "new" store were taken, and the story will be written up so that other furniture dealers may know how the 85-year-old building was "fitted with a new dress" without interfering with regular business.

MARRIAGES

BEACH—HAZLE

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hazle, 44 Aberdeen Avenue, Sherbrooke, to Mr. Norman Hiram Beach, Lennoxville, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George M. Beach, Cowansville, took place in Trinity

United Church, Sherbrooke, at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, November 24th, 1945, the Reverend Fred Williams, assisted by Dr. Wesley Boyd, officiating.

Bronze and white chrysanthemums in tall standards were used to decorate the Church, where Mr. Wright W. Gibson presided at the organ, playing the wedding marches and continuing a soft accompaniment throughout the ceremony. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Wright Gibson sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a lovely bridal gown of ivory shadow crepe, fashioned with a tight fitted bodice buttoned down the back with self covered buttons, a low scalloped neckline, and long sleeves finished with scallops over the hands. The very full skirt, with scalloped hem, ended in a train.

Her veil of tulle illusion was held with a Mary Stuart headdress, made of the same material as her gown; she wore white slippers with sequin trim, and carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses and white carnations.

Her only ornaments were a pearl necklace and tiny matching pearl earrings.

Mrs. Herman Parsons, mother of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a slipper length princess dress of rose pink crepe, finished in bustle style at the back, with gauntlets and frilled headdress of the same material, and was wearing pearl ornaments.

Mr. Herman Parsons acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Douglas Hazle, brother of the bride, and Mr. Douglas MacKenzie, of Lennoxville.

Mrs. Hazle, the bride's mother, wore a two piece dress of figured black jersey with a black hat and accessories, and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

The groom's sister wore a gown of figured, black jersey with a matching hat and accessories, and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, a four tiered wedding cake, topped with baby mums, forming the centerpiece on the table where roses and mums continued the color scheme used for the wedding.

Later the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in Toronto, Aylmer and Montreal, the bride travelling in bunny wool dress of brilliant rose under a muskrat coat, and wearing a black Everglade hat with veil and matching accessories.

The groom is a B.S.A. graduate of McGill University, and upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Beach will reside in Lennoxville.

The out-of-town guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Colin Rudd, Cornwall, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hubbard and Jack, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Brimham; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown and Betty, Cowansville; Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd, Cowansville; Mr. and Mrs. James Groom, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Groom, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Asker, Mrs. Russell Rudd, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rudd, Bury; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Buchanan, Keith, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little, Mrs. Bond Little, North Hatley; Mrs. Allen Stevenson, Mrs. Vera Main, East Angus; Mr. Walter Hodgman, Birchton, Miss Clare Brown, Montreal; also many friends and relatives from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and surrounding districts.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

KING GEORGE FIFTH CHAPTER I. O. D. E.

The regular meeting of King George Fifth Chapter I.O.D.E., was held with Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Regent, presiding.

After the opening ceremony of the Raising of the Standard and the prayer of the Order, the roll was called and showed a good attendance of members present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. C. F. Wallbridge, and approved.

The Treasurer's report, read by Mrs. G. C. Hall, the Treasurer, showed the Chapter in good standing financially.

Mrs. F. Thompson, assistant Secretary, read a delightful letter from Mrs. Dunand, a former member, who has left Sherbrooke on her homeward journey to England.

Educational Secretary, Miss Cobleigh, reminded the members of the Chapter's calendars that were now to be distributed and expressed the hope everyone would get theirs. Miss Cobleigh also reported everything in her department had been taken care of for the year.

Ex-Service Convener, Mrs. Shorten, reported on her visits to the St. Francis Sanatorium stating she had visited as many as she could for the short time she had, and had taken fruit and cigarettes to as many as possible.

Film Convener, Miss F. Hunt, reported a new film to be shown at the Granada, "National Velvet."

Mrs. F. Thompson, on giving her resignation from the Chapter, spoke encouragingly to the officers and members and hoped that the years to follow would be very prosperous and happy ones as she had enjoyed the years she had spent as a member of King George Fifth Chapter.

Mrs. Bradley, in answering Mrs. Thompson, said she would not only be very much missed by the Chapter but also by all her friends and all were very sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. Thompson leave Sherbrooke for their new home in Galt, Ont.

War Service was reported on by Mrs. McLean, Convener, that there were 66 articles ready for the December shipment with several articles to be finished and made ready before the shipment was sent.

Mrs. W. E. Loomis announced that the Chapter the next municipal meeting would be held on December 12th in the evening at the MacKinnon Memorial. As an open meeting all members are welcome.

Empire Study Convener Miss Cobleigh selected as her subject, "The Eastern Townships," and this was most interesting.

The drawing for the afghan which was done by Mrs. S. R. Fuller, was drawn by Mrs. W. E. Loomis and 374 was the lucky number, held by Mrs. W. Davidson, Magog Street.

The meeting closed with the Raising of the Standard and the National Anthem, after which Mrs. F. Thompson was the hostess with Mrs. McClay and Mrs. McLean assisting.

SAWYERVILLE

Many here will learn with interest that Aviator Ensign Clark Austin Willard, U.S.N.R., 14 Pleasant Street, St. Johnsbury, Vt., a native of Sawyerville, has recently been released from Naval Air Transport Service, Squadron Three, under the U.S. Navy demobilization programme, with 32 1-2 discharge points. Before entering the Navy in August, 1944, Ensign Willard was a North-East Airlines flying pilot in the out of Logan Field, Boston. After a brief Naval familiarization course he became a NATS transport plane commander flying military passengers and cargo on NATS Squadron Three transcontinental routes from New York to California. He piloted the military version of the airplane Douglas transport plane. In addition to nearly 1000 hours as a plane commander, he also instructed Naval aviators undergoing transitional training and served as a final line check pilot. His pilot time is approximately 3,500 hours. His wife, the former Marion D. Govoni, lives in St. Johnsbury with their daughter, Linda Anne, age 3. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Douglas, his parents, live at 16 Pleasant St., St. Johnsbury.

Ensign Willard graduated in 1934 from St. Johnsbury Academy. His post war plans are to return to Northeast Airlines.

Mr. Charles A. White, who spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. Justice and Mrs. C. D. White, at the New Sherbrooke, has returned to Montreal.

Commander Campbell Scarth, Cornwallis, N.S., is arriving on Saturday morning to spend the week-end at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. C. Scarth, Moore Street. Miss Virginia Scarth, of Montreal, will also spend the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. MacDonald, of Scottstown, Que., announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Irene, to Mr. Paul Snow, only son of Mrs. A. M. Snow, of Digby, N.S. The marriage to take place the latter part of December.

From three until seven o'clock yesterday afternoon, the continuous stream of guests, who thronged to the Church of St. Paul the Apostle Hall to attend the Christmas sale and chicken-patty tea, given under the patronage of the Ladies' Guild, were cordially received by Mrs. Alton Peck, President, and Mrs. John Comfort.

Seldom has the Parish Hall, which has recently been redecorated, looked more inviting, the artistic Christmas decorations featuring festoons of colored lights interspersed with spruce branches and many small evergreen trees, clearly reflected in the ceiling, forming an ideal setting for the delightful party. Mrs. B. Thorne, Mrs. G. King, Mrs. F. Shorten and Mrs. H. Blinn acted as hostesses, and Mrs. J. E. Lock, Treasurer, as cashier.

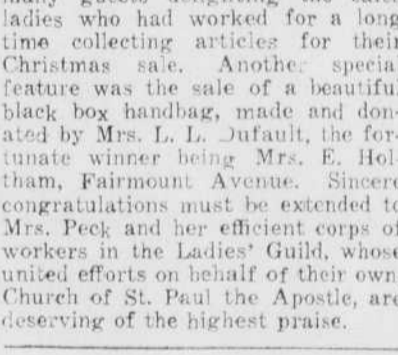

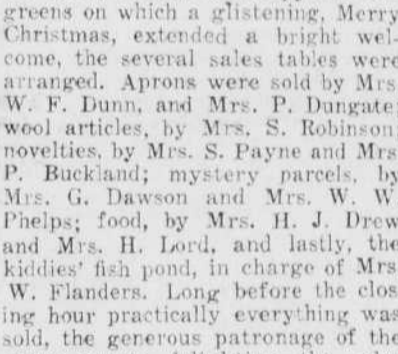

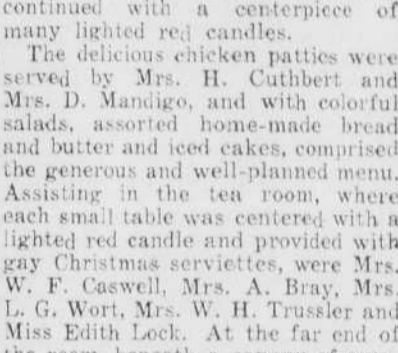

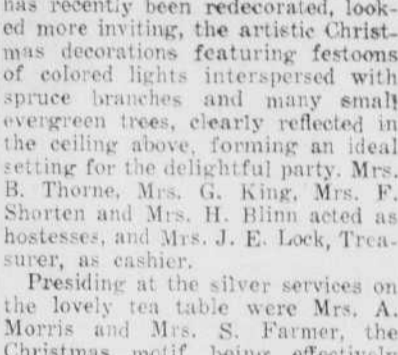

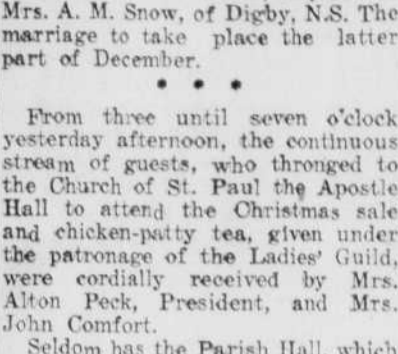

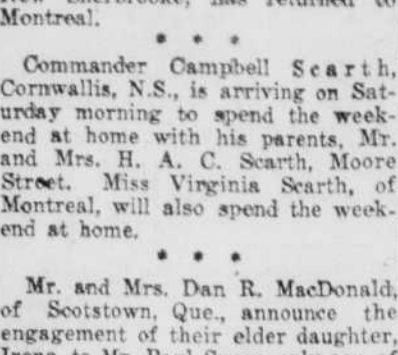

Presiding at the silver services on the lovely tea table were Mrs. A. Morris and Mrs. S. Farmer, the Christmas motif being effectively continued with a centerpiece of many lighted red candles.

The delicious chicken patties were served by Mrs. H. Cuthbert and Mrs. D. Mandigo, and with colorful salads, assorted home-made bread and butter and iced cakes, comprised the generous and well-planned menu. Assisting in the tea room, where each small table was centered with a lighted red candle and provided with gay Christmas serviettes, were Mrs. W. F. Caswell, Mrs. A. Bray, Mrs. L. G. Wort, Mrs. W. H. Trussler and Miss Edith Lock. At the far end of the room, beneath a canopy of evergreens on which a glistening Merry Christmas, extended a bright welcome, the several sales tables were arranged. Aprons were sold by Mrs. W. F. Dunn and Mrs. P. Dugate; wool articles, by Mrs. S. Robinson; novelties, by Mrs. S. Payne and Mrs. P. Buckland; mystery parcels, by Mrs. G. Dawson and Mrs. W. W. Phelps; food, by Mrs. H. J. Drew and Mrs. H. Lord, and lastly, the kiddies' fish pond, in charge of Mrs. W. Flanders. Long before the closing hour practically everything was sold, the generous patronage of the many guests delighting the sales ladies who had worked for a long time collecting articles for their Christmas sale. Another special feature was the sale of a beautiful black box handbag, made and donated by Mrs. L. L. Dufault, the fortunate winner being Mrs. E. Holtham, Fairmount Avenue. Sincere congratulations must be extended to Mrs. Peck and her efficient corps of workers in the Ladies' Guild, whose united efforts on behalf of their own, Church of St. Paul the Apostle, are deserving of the highest praise.

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE FAVORS LONGER LIFE
By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Chronic low blood pressure is a blessing in disguise and not a disease, according to many observers. Life insurance physicians point out that low blood pressure favors longevity or life expectancy. This is what one would expect because of lessened strain on the heart and arteries. Low blood pressure which develops in shock or as the result of a adrenal glands is a different problem.

Low blood pressure may be discovered in the course of an examination for ill health. Former practice was to ascribe the patient's symptoms to the low blood pressure, until it was learned in the course of routine examinations that many people had low blood pressure without any symptoms.

Found in Slim Persons

Pressures below 100 millimeters of mercury systolic are considered low, as the normal range of systolic pressure is from 110 to 150 millimeters of mercury. Low pressures are commonly encountered in persons of slender build with long waists, but they are also found in individuals of exactly the opposite physique.

Low blood pressure which develops during shock is caused by empty vessels. As soon as the vessels are filled with plasma or blood from a transfusion, the pressure returns to normal. Low blood pressure develops from destruction of the adrenal glands in Addison's disease. Usual cause is tuberculosis although the gland may be destroyed by hemorrhage or toxins. Addison's disease is treated by extracts of the adrenal gland and increase of salt in the diet.

Result of Illness

Patients who have been confined to bed for some time feel dizzy and weak after getting up. If the blood pressure is taken at this time, it may be low, but this is a temporary condition caused by shift in the blood to the dependent parts of the body; as the patient gains strength, blood pressure returns to usual readings.

One-third of all patients examined in physicians' offices have low blood pressure readings, indicating that the condition is usually normal.

If you have low blood pressure and your physician is not able to find an organic cause for it, little will be gained by treating it as a disease. As we grow older, the continued finding of low blood pressure is one of the best indications that we do not need to change any of our living habits and that we come from stocks which are destined to be long-lived.

TED EATS WELL AND THRIVES NOW!

Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.

But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities now agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.

For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B₁ and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy fuel-food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

So, if your child is thin, nervous and not developing properly, why not turn to Ovaltine as thousands are doing. Three normal meals plus two glasses of Ovaltine a day give your child all the extra amounts of vitamins and minerals needed for health and top vitality.

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

Here's our Christmas wish

We wish we could guarantee a Long Distance telephone line to everyone who is planning to exchange Christmas greetings with distant friends. We know how eagerly thousands of people look forward to this annual telephone visit.

But holiday traffic will be heavier than ever this year. Even with all operators on duty and fullest possible use of equipment, many calls may be uncompleted.

We can only say that, as always, we will do everything in our power to disappoint as few as possible.

One thing YOU can do — make your greeting calls as far ahead of Christmas Day as possible:

DRUMMONDVILLE AND LACHINE PLAYED TO 7-7 DEADLOCK

Frequent Fights Marked Encounter, Two Majors And 13 Minors Given Out

Lachine, Que., Dec. 6.—(C)—Drummondville Cubs held the leading Lachine Rapides to a 7-7 tie last night, and advanced to third place in the Provincial Senior Hockey League with three points, leaving Victoriaville, Sherbrooke and Cornwall deadlocked in the cellar. The Cubs now are one point behind the second place St. Hyacinthe Saints.

The game saw-sawed through three rough periods, marked by frequent fights. Hamel and Trainor mixed in a second period brawl and drew majors, while 13 minor penalties were handed out.

Drummondville took an early lead on goals by Boisvert and Trainor, but Champagne and Joe Morin tied the score before the frame ended. In the second, Young and Trainor lifted the Cubs into a 4-2 lead, but Joe Morin with one, and Bob Morin with two, sent the Rapides ahead. Trainor added another for Cubs to end the period 5-5.

In the final session, Desroches sent Lachine ahead, but Drummondville recovered the lead on goals by Harrison and Yves Pepin. Desroches completed the scoring less than two minutes from the final bell. There was no overtime.

SENATORS TAKE OVER SECOND PLACE IN QSHL

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—(C)—Ottawa Senators maintained a second-place berth in the Quebec Senior Hockey League by dumping the luckless Hull Volants 5-2 here last night.

The Senators, Valleyfield Braves and Shawinigan Falls Cataracts had been bracketed in second spot behind the Montreal Royals.

A second period three-goal attack without a reply from Volants provided the Senators with their victory margin. Each team scored once in the first and final periods.

Jack Irvine, speedy right winger who is on Toronto Maple Leafs' list, banged in two of the third-period goals within seven seconds and assisted in another. George Greene, Jimmy McFadden and Connie Brown scored the other Ottawa goals.

Both Hull counters came from the stick of Bob Balance, the team's high-scoring centre who opened and closed the scoring.

Hull trotted out a pair of newcomers—Larry Thibault, former American League performer, and Bobby Love, an ex-Oshawa Junior star just out of the navy. While neither contributed particularly to the Volants' cause last night, Coach Bob Guertin hopes they will help the cellar-dwellers into a contending position.

Montreal Canadiens Face New Peril From Bruins Who Beat Hawks 6 To 3

By The Canadian Press held Chicago's dynamo line of Bill Mosienko and the Bentley brothers scoreless for the second time in 14 games.

Defeat left the erratic Hawks locked in a third-place tie with Detroit, one point behind Boston. Chicago defeated Boston 5-4 at Boston in the first game of the season Oct. 24.

Goals by Armand (Bep) Guiddoin, Bill Shill and Jack McGill gave Bruins control before Johnny Marcucci opened the Chicago scoring at 4:51 of the second period. Woody Dumart teamed with Pat Egan and McGill to make it 4-1 before Don Grosso sailed in alone for Chicago's second tally.

Eddie Wares, in the penalty box when Grosso scored, returned early in the third to slam George Allen's relay past Paul Bibeault. That made it 4-3 for Boston and the Hawks flew to the attack, but at 15:16 Schmidt flipped in McGill's long forward pass to seal the issue. It was Schmidt's first goal in 11 games since rejoining Bruins after three years in the R.C.A.F.

Forty-six seconds from the end, Herb Cain scored the final Boston goal on a pass from Terry Reardon.

Two negative notes emerged from the game. Veteran Bill Cowley, for the third straight time, sought fruitlessly for the point which would stretch his point total for 11 campaigns to an even 500; and Bruins

HERSHEY BEATS PROVIDENCE TO LENGTHEN LEAD

By The Canadian Press Hershey Bears went further ahead in the Eastern Division of the American Hockey League last night by virtue of their 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh Hornets and now hold a four-point margin over the second-place Buffalo Bisons who dropped a 4-2 decision to the Providence Reds in the only other game on the night's bill.

It was the first loss on home ice in eight starts this season for the Hornets. Bill Jennings, speedy Hershey right winger, was the spark-plug of the Bears' attack, scoring both the winning and clinching goals.

Pittsburgh appeared to be well on the way to victory after a first period goal by Peanut O'Flaherty and another early in the second session by Bobby Walton had given them a 2-0 lead. But Gino Rozzini got one of these back for Hershey midway through the second period and Armand Gaudreault netted the equalizer shortly after. In the last minute of play of the same stanza, Jennings rapped home the winning marker on a relay from Bill Gooden and added another in the third for good measure.

Harvey McQuestion turned in a neat goaltending job as the Providence Reds gained their verdict against the Buffalo club. Goals by Armand Lemieux, George Boothman, Jerry Bellemare and Jacques Laviole shot the Reds into a commanding 4-0 lead. But Gino Rozzini got one of these back for Hershey midway through the second period and Armand Gaudreault netted the equalizer shortly after. In the last minute of play of the same stanza, Jennings rapped home the winning marker on a relay from Bill Gooden and added another in the third for good measure.

Sherbrooke Squad Plays Host To Victoriaville Sextette Tonight

At the local Arena tonight the Sherbrooke-Rand Hockey Club will play host to the star-studded Victoriaville Stars who invade this city with a victory over the Cornwall Cougars under their belts. To date, the Stars have displayed considerable strength, having given the powerful Lachine Rapides a tough time to defeat them 6-3 on Sunday. Whoever wins tonight's game will be tied for the second berth in the league standing with St. Hyacinthe as all the other teams are idle. In view of this fact, the fans can be expected to see a good game and, as the Rand displayed in Sunday's game, they are not exactly wanting in power.

Coach Lucien Blanchette, of the Stars, coached Three Rivers to the championship of the Quebec Intermediate League last season and has six of last year's players with him again this term. They are R. Hebert, Roberge, Savard, Bourbon, P. Hebert and L. Bouchard, and also a star of last year's Royals, Bassetts.

There will be only one change in the Rand's lineup tonight. Frank Raymond will be replacing George Archibald, who has been called to the bedside of his mother who is critically ill in Quebec.

The schoolboy of today is the star of tomorrow. And so it is that the Sherbrooke-Rand Hockey Club officials want the children to attend hockey games. In fact, they are reserving a whole section for children who will be admitted for ten cents at their own entrance in the north end of the Arena. This will give boys and girls a splendid opportunity to watch their favorite players in action and this special section will at all times be under the supervision of regular ushers.

Children who wish to accompany their parents into general admission sections of the Arena will be required to pay 25 cents.

The directors are also arranging to reserve sections or blocks of seats for students or other junior organizations who may wish to attend games regularly. Anyone interested in such reservations is asked to communicate with Lucien Richeaud at the Tourist Information Bureau.

Dick Irvin, of Montreal Canadiens, has said: "The hardest thing a hockey player can be expected to do is play in a smoke-filled arena. It not only limits his range of vision, but affects his lungs and cuts

NO MATCHES TONIGHT IN TABLE TENNIS LOOP It was announced this morning there would be no matches played as scheduled in the Table Tennis League tonight, and that all future games will take place at St. Patrick's Academy gym instead of the Fisetto hall.
