POLICE DRIVE TO CURB ACCIDENTS IS MARKED SUCCESS; MANY FINED

Recorder Metes Out Heavy Penalties to Those Caught Breaking Laws — Two Drivers Apprehended for Driving Over 60 Miles Per Hour Sentenced on Monday — Outsiders Found Worst Offenders

The drive to curb traffic accidents on the streets of the municipality, opened last week by the Westmount Police Department, has been a marked success and a large number of violators have been brought before the courts and heavily penalized, Chief Walter Gough reported yesterday.

A fine of $40 plus costs of $4.20, with the alternative of two months in jail, was meted out to Marcel Daigneault, of 1174 Sussex street, when he appeared before Deputy Recorder Grigg Monday morning on a charge of speeding and failing to stop when ordered to do so by a constable.

The charge listed Daigneault as driving at a speed of 78 miles per hour along Sherbrooke street at 1.45 a.m. on June 27. He was chased by Motorcycle Constable William Smith along Sherbrooke street from Olivier avenue to Atwater avenue.

For speeding on Sherbrooke street at 64 m.p.h., Robert Benoit, of 3712 Notre Dame street west, was fined $35 plus costs of $4.20 with the option of two months in jail by Deputy Recorder Grigg the same morning. Both pleaded guilty to the charges.

During the initial period of the campaign to curtail street mishaps 31 persons were haled into court to face charges of speeding. All received fines and were warned by the recorder to drive within the legal speed limits in future. Legal speed limit within the confinements of cities has been set at 20 miles per hour by the Province.

Bicycle riders are also being closely watched and must obey traffic regulations to the same extent as motorists. They come under the jurisdiction of the Quebec Motor Vehicle Act just as do operators of other vehicles.

Chief Gough stated that in the majority of cases those apprehended were residents of adjoining municipalities. Westmount citizens, he said, had shown willingness to co-operate in the drive to end the mounting accident rate here.

On Friday an aquatic meet took place and the following boys topped the various events, as follows: Cross lake swim, Kenneth Bolduc; 75 yard swim, Jack Patterson; canoeing, singles, Duncan Patterson; gunwhale race, Billy Dryden; row-boat singles, Wm. Mulligan; row-boat doubles, Sinclair Dixon and Kenneth Bolduc. Every camper entered into some part of the meet and a most enjoyable time was had by all.

The winning hut for the week was that led by Robert Beal, with a total of 59 points. Points were given for daily inspection as well as various camp improvement projects.

During the week a number of boys worked hard to earn their Canadian camper's badge and were awarded them at the Friday night camp-fire. They were: Harold Fairhead, Bruce Marshall, Jack Goodfellow, Billy Dryden, Jack Patterson and Billy Lewis. A chevron for special merit was awarded the following boys who undertook certain duties by utilizing their own initiative: Sinclair Dixon, Robert Morrow, Duncan Patterson, Billy Patterson, William Mulligan and Kenneth Bolduc.

The evening camp-fires will long be remembered as they took such an active part in the program. Each evening closes with verses conducted by Captain Richardson with the boys assembled about the camp-fire.

 Dr. Philip Holliday, 580 Grosvenor avenue, noted pioneer arctic miner, celebrated his 70th birthday on Monday. Dr. Holliday graduated as an osteopath in Philadelphia. He was born in Quebec City in 1869, the son of a fisherman.

He first trekked to the north country by boat and dog team in 1898, working his way the greater part of the distance on tramp steamers.

Probably best known for the tales he has to tell of the north country in the early days of its development, Dr. Holliday has related many yarns about the notorious gang leader 'Soapy' Smith, who 'earned' a brisk livelihood cheating unsuspecting miners in every shady scheme he was able to promote.

Dr. Holliday once made $65,000 in three weeks, but was later compelled to pay it out in wages. Workers were at a premium in that part of the country at that time and demanded ridiculous wages.

Dr. Holliday is familiar with many places in northern Canada, including Dawson City. He also spent many years in the Yukon.

He was formerly a member of the Westmount Rotary Club.

Breaking of the Ground for New Temple Emanu-El House Celebrated

Breaking of the ground for the new Community House of the Temple Emanu-El was celebrated at a simple ceremony on Tuesday night, when C. N. Sommer, honorary trustee, turned the first sod and a prayer of consecration was offered by Rabbi Harry J. Stern.

Sidney Isaacs, president of the building committee, presided over the assembly and also made a short address, in which he stressed the importance of religious education for Jews in the present days, and thanked all those who had contributed to the building of the community house, which is to be situated directly beside the Temple at the corner of Elm avenue and Sherbrooke street.

Rabbi Stern in a few well chosen words emphasized the fact that although Jews built no armaments in the political sense of the word they placed their faith in synagogues and schools.

Ald. B. Panel-Raymond, pro mayor of Westmount assured the congregation of the city's co-operation in their new venture and expressed Mayor Walter E. Merrill's regret at being unable to attend.

Other speakers were the Reverend J. Lavell Smith, minister of the Westmount Park church, who brought the best wishes of his congregation. Dr. A. Bercovitich, president of the congregation of the Temple, Mrs. Arthur Simon, president of the Sisterhood, and George Hollinger, president of the Brotherhood.

ASSOCIATION TO CONDUCT LIMERICK CONTEST; ALL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO WIN

Competition Scheduled to Commence Next Week in Westmount Examiner — Winner Will be Awarded All-Expense Tour to New York City — Scheme Designed to Improve Trade Locally

Every local resident is to be given the chance of visiting the New York World's Fair as a guest of the Business Association of Westmount.

Following a general meeting last week the organization announced that it would conduct a limerick contest in the Westmount Examiner, the first prize being an all-expense tour to the fair. The winner will receive free transportation to New York and return; three days accommodation in one of the city's finest hotels; tickets of admission to the fair grounds for two days and to many of the most popular attractions; a visit to Radio City; and a tour of New York City and a wide choice of numerous other popular sightseeing trips.

Full information regarding the contest and the rules governing it will be outlined in a full page advertisement to be run next week. All residents of the required age are invited to participate.

The contest, designed to improve summer trade here, entails no obligations and those entering will not be required to purchase goods or services of any kind.

The prize is believed to be one of the most attractive ever offered by a business association on the Island of Montreal and it is expected that thousands of residents will enter the contest.

Limericks will be found next week in a full page advertisement sponsored co-operatively by leading merchants of the city. The prize will be awarded by the merchant whom the judges decided has received the most cleverly completed limerick.

All contestants have to do is to fill in the last line of the limericks and bring them to the firm sponsoring the individual "ad." In writing the last line it should be noted that it must rhyme with the first two.

It is useless to send entries to The Westmount Examiner — they must be brought to the place of business sponsoring the limerick ad selected. If last lines are written for two or more limericks they must be brought to the individual business places of the advertisers. No exception whatever will be made to this rule as the purpose of the contest is to better acquaint local shoppers with Westmount merchants. There is absolutely no obligation to purchase anything in the business premises to which entries are submitted.

Details stated above merely describe the contest in a news sense and should not be considered official rules governing it. They will appear in detail in the next issue of this paper.

SEIGNIORY CLUB
 Mr. and Mrs. Colin Rankin and Miss Mary Strachan were at the Seignior Club for the week-end aboard Mr. Rankin's cruiser, "Naowin."

It was reported that there are now 63 paid up members and this number is expected to materially increase during the present term.

A suggestion that a directory of the City of Westmount be prepared, proposed by Mr. Kenwood and J. H. Bradner, was tabled for further study. There is now a directory of the Town of Mount Royal, it was pointed out.

There was discussion regarding earlier closing of stores but no action by the association was decided upon. The matter is expected to come up for further study at a future meeting.

The president, W. Gordon Kenwood, occupied the chair.

WESTMOUNT, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 1939

THE LATE A. G. MILLER

The many friends of A. Graham Miller, of The Monitor advertising staff, were deeply grieved to learn of his death late last week. Mr. Miller, or "Fluff" as he was known to his associates, was a vigorous personality, a straight-shooting Maritimer of the old type who told you exactly what he thought in terms that left no doubt of what he meant. This frankness made him a host of friends. Everyone liked him, even those who violently disagreed with him. In years past, his business connections took him to all parts of Canada, and news of his death brought messages of condolence to the bereaved relatives from friends throughout the country. To these, The Examiner adds its sincerest sympathy to the family in their great loss.

MR. RALSTON TO RETURN?

A visit by Hon. J. L. Ralston, former Minister of National Defense, to Prime Minister King, starts speculation as to the probability of his returning to public life. It is being suggested that if Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, retires through reasons of ill-health, Mr. Ralston would take over the portfolio.

Mr. Ralston's retirement in 1935 was a public loss. He was admittedly one of the shining lights in the Liberal Party, but because of private obligations which he felt he could not honorably shirk, he refused to enter the cabinet. From 1930 to 1935, he had been chief financial critic for the Liberal Opposition and had done a masterly job. Mr. Ralston being determined to keep out of politics for a time, Mr. King prevailed upon Mr. Dunning to re-enter public life and take over the Finance ministry.

Though first a candidate for legislative honors in 1908, more than 30 years ago, Mr. Ralston is still a comparatively young man. He will not be 58 until September 27. Defeated in his first effort to enter the House of Commons, he was elected to the Nova Scotia Legislature in 1911, was re-elected in 1916, but was defeated in 1920 and 1925, and for the House of Commons in 1926. But a month after the general election of that year, he was elected by acclamation, for the riding of Shelburne-Yarmouth, and was returned again in 1930.

Though a Nova Scotian, he has practised law since 1931 in Montreal, and is an outstanding member of the bar. He had a distinguished record overseas during the war. If Mr. Dunning feels that he cannot continue his onerous task as Minister of Finance, Mr. King could find no better man for the job than Mr. Ralston. He is too valuable a man to be left out of public service, and it may be that he could be prevailed upon to return to it.

ROYAL BANNERS OVER OTTAWA

If you haven't already seen it, make a point of going to the next picture house that is running "Royal Banners Over Ottawa" — a unusually good motion picture record of the visit of Their Majesties to Canada's capital city. The picture was produced by Associated Screen News, (whose headquarters and laboratory are on Western Avenue, Notre Dame de Grace) and is one of the celebrated Canadian Cameo series produced by this organization. The picture was made under the general direction of Gordon Sparling, who also personally did the cutting. Critical photographers will find the colour rendering a bit below the standard of the best professional coloured films, but it must be remembered that a medium had to be used which would permit the picture to be taken, processed, cut, and duplicated at newsreel tempo — and in view of this limitation the results are really excellent. Particularly impressive, however, is the skill displayed in editing the various scenes into a smooth narrative; it is one of the best-edited shorts your observer has yet seen. If this picture is a forerunner of what we are to see when the entire story of the Royal Visit is presented to us in motion picture form, then we are indeed in for an inspiring experience.

DOG DAYS ARE HERE

Now that hot summer days are here again, the question of keeping dogs in control is a timely topic. Dogs running loose in this weather are a menace both to the public at large and to their owners. The law that makes it obligatory for owners to keep dogs tied or on leash should be enforced strictly until autumn.

Fussy
"What's the matter, Jenkins?" snapped a shoe store manager.
"Can't you serve this customer?"
"No sir," replied the assistant.
"He's trying to find two shoes which squeak in the same key."
— Grit.

Oh!
A customer walked into an umbrella shop carrying an umbrella that was turned completely inside out.

"This umbrella is in bad shape," commented the proprietor. "What hurricane struck it?"
"I merely happened to walk over a subway grating," explained the customer, "and just then a train sped underneath."

The umbrella man was astounded. "I don't understand," he remarked. "I've walked over a number of subway gratings just when a train was speeding by, but they never turned my umbrella inside out."
The customer shrugged. "I know," he sighed. "But I happened to sneeze at the same time."

The total was made up as follows: swine, 3,054,740; cattle, 853,739; calves, 676,395; sheep, 780,287; poultry, 714,676; buffalo, 2,026; goats, 36.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The following persons were the winners in the Hidden Titles contest of last week and they will receive their passes in Friday's mail:
Mrs. M. D. Roth, 66 York Ave.; Catherine Mahoney, 4224 Dorchester West; M. Livermore, 126 Irvine Ave.; Mrs. Thos. W. Armstrong, 383 Prince Albert Ave.; Margaret Stout, 438 Mount Stephen Ave., Apt. 29; Ms. F. A. Whittall, 516 Roslyn Ave.
This was the final contest of the season and The Editor wishes to thank those who sent in their suggestions for a new contest to commence in the Fall. Especially welcome were the letters voicing appreciation of the Hidden Titles contest and showing the interest which was being taken in Examiner advertisers through this method of bringing the ads to the readers' attention. No more passes to the Westmount then, until next Fall, but everyone is urged to try their skill in the limelight contest offering a free trip to the New York World's Fair, sponsored by the Business Association of Westmount, details of which will appear in next week's issue.
We are pleased to publish the following poem which was contributed by Mrs. Thomas W. Armstrong.

RADIANT RHYMES

THE HIDDEN TITLES' CONTEST
By Myrtle Boa Armstrong.

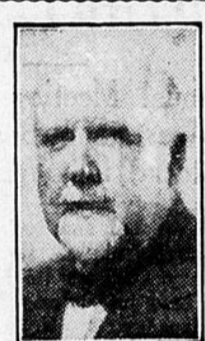

The Hidden Titles' Contest
Has been a lot of fun,
We've always done our very best
To run the titles down;
And by the time we've spotted them,
We've wiser grown by far,
What stores have the best bargains,
Which isn't singular.
For every advertisement
We've scanned and scanned again,
Until the tiny titles
Just popped and made 'em plain.
So we're better educated
Regarding Westmount now,
We know just where to order,
And why, and when, and how.
We know the latest pictures
The "Westmount" shows each week,
So thanks for "Titles' Contest"
Which was such fun to seek.

The Municipal Year Book, published by the International City Managers Association, Chicago, in its 1939 edition offers data which shows that the average annual expenditure for policing in the 310 U.S.A. cities of more than 30,000 population amounts to $5.16 per capita. The overall cost of policing in all 310 cities amounted in 1938 to nearly $230,000,000, of which $20,000,000 (87 per cent) went to pay the salaries of 89,907 officers and men. Of the $5.16 overall per capita, $4.49 went for wages for this standing army of peace officers and 67 cents for equipment and all other costs.

Here is a system of penal control which represents an experiment in human reclamation and which after two years' trial is considered by many to be the most progressive correction measure ever adopted in the U. The system is called "corrective therapy" and its emphasis is on individual treatment. A prisoner never loses his personal identity. H. BRODIE FETED ON RETIREMENT FROM RAILWAY

Officers and Staffs of C.P.R. Passenger Departments Attend Function

After serving 44 years with the Canadian Pacific Railway, H. W. Brodie, 167 Edgemoor road, overseas passenger manager, was feted on Thursday night by the officers and staffs of the passenger traffic department, rail lines and steamship lines, throughout Canada, the United States, Australia, and New Zealand, on the eve of his retirement, under the pension regulations.

George Stephen, vice-president of traffic Canadian Pacific, Montreal, officiated at the farewell party, which was held in the passenger traffic offices, and made several presentations to Mr. Brodie on behalf of the staffs and officers across the wide territory with which Mr. Brodie has had close contact for the past forty years.

He spoke of the scope of the work done by Mr. Brodie for the railway, and praised him as a railwayman and citizen. He mentioned the many congratulatory messages that have been received by the retiring officer as the proof of his popularity.

On behalf of the United States and Canadian officers and staffs of the department, Mr. Stephen presented Mr. Brodie with a set of matched golf clubs, a portable noiseless typewriter, a mahogany chair, leather desk pad and paper container, notepad and envelopes, and a wardrobe trunk. Mrs. Brodie was presented with a fitted travelling case and a bouquet of two dozen American Beauty roses.

Mr. Brodie's work as overseas passenger manager has brought him in particularly close touch with Canadian Pacific offices and life in general in Australia and New Zealand. Speaking for Mr. Brodie's friends in both these countries, Mr. Stephen presented Mr. Brodie, on their behalf, with a New Zealand landscape painting by Nugent Welch, famous Wellington, New Zealand artist. Mrs. Brodie was the recipient of a crocodile handbag.

Deeply affected by the words of the vice-president and the evidence of the department's regard, Mr. Brodie expressed his and Mrs. Brodie's thanks for all that had been done for them. His only regret was, he said, that he could no longer play a part in providing transportation into and through Canada. He remarked how much he had enjoyed his work in the department and for the company.

Younger workers were advised by Mr. Brodie to follow three rules: Live courageously, be rationally ambitious, and to live in honesty and integrity, so that they would have nothing to regret.

R. G. McNeill, passenger traffic manager, Montreal and C. B. Foster, retired passenger traffic manager also voiced congratulations to Mr. Brodie.

The people of the U.S.A. wish the Federal Government to be responsible for seeing to it that everyone who wishes to work has a job. Stuart Chase, liberal economist and author, with a son of military age, urged at Washington a constitutional amendment requiring a national referendum prior to a declaration of war. He spoke of two grave economic temptations. 1. Shall we kill a million boys to give stocks a ride in Wall Street, and a temporary boom to business? 2. Shall we kill a million boys to give our excess savings an outlet in war investment, because we are too stupid to find adequate channels in peace investment?

The Indians of the U.S.A. are increasing faster than any other population group in the country, says John Collier, commissioner of Indian affairs. FUNERAL HELD OF A. G. MILLER LAST SATURDAY

The Monitor mourns the loss of one of its most capable advertising salesmen, Allen Graham Miller, who died at the Royal Victoria Hospital last week following a few days' illness. The funeral was held at the chapel of Joseph C. Wray and Bro., Mountain street, Saturday afternoon in the presence of relatives and friends. Rev. Thomas Marshall, assisted by Rev. J. Lavell Smith conducted the service.

Mr. Miller was a native of Montreal, born 58 years ago. He attended the Montreal High School and following graduation, became identified with a wholesale dry-goods firm with which he remained for several years. He then became associated with a Toronto firm dealing in laces and linens and as their representative, travelled through every city and hamlet of the Maritimes, making Sackville, N.S., his headquarters. He remained here for 25 years.

Returned to Montreal about 10 years ago and in 1931 became connected with the Monitor as an advertising salesman. In this capacity, his genial personality won him a wide circle of friends, both in business and privately. He was gifted with a winning personality and was ever wont to relate anecdotes of his travels through the Maritimes. They were always kind anecdotes, however, for "Fluff" Miller, as he was more familiarly known to his friends, bore malice to nobody.

It was in Sackville that he met and married his wife, the former Florence Gillis who predeceased him.

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

Leslie Howard's Brother Disappoints Movie Fans

Meet a young man who goes about disappointing film fans! Not that he does it deliberately. The trouble is caused by the fact that he happens to be film star Leslie Howard's younger brother—Arthur.

And for Arthur it is all very embarrassing. The two brothers are so alike, facially and physically, that people are always mistaking Arthur for Leslie. Every where outograph hunters chase after Arthur in the belief that he is Leslie. "I just seem to spend my life disappointing people," he says.

Arthur's most recent job was as his brother's "stand-in" in the film version of Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" which is currently being shown at the Westmount United Theatre, until Saturday.

Finding suitable "stand-ins" for film stars—i.e., men and women to take the stars' places while the cameras and lights are being arranged—is often quite a problem for producers. For not only must the "stand-in" bear a facial likeness to the star, but he must be of exactly the same height and colouring. But finding the right "stand-in" for Leslie Howard is no trouble at all. The producers just send for Arthur.

Being a successful "model" for his brother is not Arthur's only accomplishment, however. His real job is stage managing. He is the stage manager of the Critrier Theatre, London.

Says Arthur: "Pygmalion" is the second film in which I have stood-in for my brother. The first was "The Scarlet Pimpernel" in which I also did some "doubling" for him.

"There was a mob scene, tough and violent, and the producers refused to allow Leslie to fight his way through the brawling crowds in case he sustained some injury that might hold up production. So I took Leslie's place in the longshots of the mob scene while he appeared in the close-ups."

On Screen Now, Modes Will Soon Be In Your Home

Hollywood exerts a greater influence on our modes and manners than most of us realize. Consciously or not, most women make up their faces, dress their hair and choose their clothes in pursuance of fashion set by the glamour girls of the cinema colony.

More than that, most of the new ideas in architecture and interior decoration which find their way into smart homes throughout the country—and throughout the world—have their origin on the movie sets of Hollywood.

A distinctly new note in decorating, and one which will, no doubt, soon be reflected in actual homes, is introduced in "Wife, Husband and Friend," the 20th Century-Fox production currently showing at the Snowdon United Theatre until Saturday. The palatial, modern home in question is "occupied" in the film by co-stars Loretta Young and Warner Baxter, the "wife" and "husband" of the title.

The unique but comfortable furnishings of the "Wife, Husband and Friend" set were new and intriguing to every one who worked in the picture.

Matching the ultra-modern motif of the story—the screen play by Associated Producer Nunnally Johnson is based on the novel by James M. Cain—are the gowns which lively Loretta Young wears in the production. All of them introduce lines and touches which are entirely new. But they will quickly become absorbed by the stream of fashion and duplicated in the clothes of women the world over.

For just as architects and interior decorators study the new films as earnestly as they do architectural plans and furniture catalogs, style experts are as attentive to the fashion flashes issuing from Hollywood as they are to those that come from Paris.

Ameche Scores With Big Cast In "Midnight"

"Midnight brings out the stars!" The truth behind the current Hollywood saying is proved by the picture which inspired it. For the new Paramount comedy, "Midnight," which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday has more famous names in its cast than any other production of the year. The list is a long and spectacular one, beginning with Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche, the co-stars, and including John Barrymore, Francis Lederer, Mary Astor, Hedda Hopper, Rex O'Malley and Elaine Barrie. The last named is, of course, the young wife of Barrymore, now making her first appearance on the screen.

"Midnight" was written especially with an eye on Miss Colbert's unique personality and style of acting, and is reminiscent in spirit of her outstanding success of a season ago, "I Met Him in Paris." The script, written by Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder, based on a story by Edwin J. Mayer and Franz Schultz, tells of a beautiful American fortune-hunter who falls in love with a Paris taxi-driver but leaves him to stalk bigger game in high society. Ameche, now to be seen with Miss features Binnie Barnes, Cesar Romero, George Barbier, J. Edward Bromberg, Eugene Pallette and Helen Westley in an imposing supporting cast. The film was directed by Gregory Ratoff in charge of production.

"FOUR GIRLS IN WHITE"

Florence Rice, Una Merkel, Ann Rutherford, Mary Howard and Buddy Ebsen, in a scene from the film "Four Girls in White" which opens Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre.

GREAT DAMATIC HIT OF THE YEAR!

A scene from the film "Let Us Live" starring Henry Fonda & Maureen O'Sullivan, which opens Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre for a three day engagement.

CITY DRIVE TO KILL RODENTS IS CONTINUING

Rats Found in Plentiful Numbers in All Sections of Westmount, Bureau States

The campaign being conducted by the municipal health department to rid Westmount of rodents is continuing and the following article outlines methods to exterminate rats was released for publication yesterday:

Articles from this department have appeared weekly for some time past referring to rats, their history, habits, and methods of extermination.

Rats are found in plentiful numbers in all sections of Westmount, from Summit Circle to St. Antoine Street.

His presence is encouraged and protected by the same methods in all sections of the city — by permitting him to have a comfortable home and plenty of food for himself and family.

A rat will not stay as a guest in any part of the city unless his home is safe and comfortable and food plentiful.

To assist our department in removing this pest, the greatest care in removing his shelter is requested — by keeping gardens and garages clear of rubbish and destroying or closing any entrances to basements or other shelters.

Scrupulous care of garbage is a most important item—by placing it in metal containers with tight-fitting covers, which covers should always be in position.

The method of extermination of those rats that remain is one perfectly safe for all domestic pets but death to the rats.

Sermon Themes Are Announced

The services of Westmount Baptist Church continue without interruption throughout the summer. On Sunday morning Rev. J. A. Johnston will speak on: "God's Pedagogic Use of Briers and Thorns." Illustration will be drawn from: "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush."

On Sunday evening the subject will be "Lovely Women and the Ways of God." Illustration will be derived from, "Christine of 'The Citadel'."

The Sunday School has its session on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Professor R. J. McCracken M.A., B.D., a distinguished Scottish preacher and teacher will occupy this Westmount pulpit on July 23rd and 30th. Visitors are cordially invited to attend these services.

Goodyear Earning Compare With 1938

With letter to shareholders enclosing quarterly dividend cheque, President A. G. Partridge stated:

"In forwarding cheques for dividends covering the second quarter of 1939, I am pleased to report that while completed accounts for the first six months are not yet available, your Company's total sales for this period will compare very favorably with the same period of 1938 and earnings will continue reasonably satisfactory, exceeding the dividend requirements.

"New car registrations for Canada, however, are approximately 18 per cent below those of 1938."

Cagney Plays Too Rough For O'Brien

"Jimmy plays too rough. Or perhaps I should say in more manly vernacular, Cagney can't pull his punches." So testified Pat O'Brien. The two were playing a scene for "Angels With Dirty Faces" the Warner Bros. film opening Saturday at the York United Theatre for a four day engagement, when O'Brien sustained bruised knees and elbows and a general shaking up.

The two stars were making a sequence in an alleyway between two buildings on a street set. Cagney, who plays a gangster, is supposedly trapped in a furniture warehouse. Scores of policemen are trying to smoke him out with tear gas. O'Brien, who plays a priest, goes in to persuade him to come out. Cagney agrees, then sticks two guns in O'Brien's back and uses him as a shield, and when he reaches the street he knocks O'Brien down and runs for it.

The first time, Cagney, didn't push O'Brien hard enough.

Once again the two stars came out and this time Cagney gave O'Brien a terrific shove. O'Brien skidded along the pavement, and is still nursing bruises.

Orchids, furs and feathers attracted more attention than the costumes they adorned at an autumn race meet at Melbourne. Many hats were trimmed with fur, and a "pillbox" hat of leopard skin was noticed.

OF... MASKS AND MIKES AND THINGS

By JACK HIRSHBERG

IT HAD TO COME

Commentators and columnists—this apprentice included—harbour particular affection for January and July, two months holding little in common except that their calendar position affords writers an opportunity to gaze into the crystal or wax eloquent in retrospect. Indeed, midway through 1939, the Canadian dial twister may well excuse a seasonal burst of analysis and, himself, pause briefly to review the etherial scene this year to date.

Eight months have passed since Orson Welles repulsed the invading Martian masses and, as yet, threats of international strife so current at the turn of the year have failed to materialize. While peace has balanced itself neatly, as on a tight-rope, sports, politics, culture and entertainment have had their innings on the air.

Radio has continued to scoop the press in almost every realm of news—leaving the newspaper to repeat and elaborate, analyze and explain. Kilocycles still resound at intermittent periods to the waxes with which Joe Louis habitually knocks all opposition for a loop and underpaid announcers have not yet ceased to revel in the praise which burst spontaneously following their superb reportorial coverage of the royal tour. H. V. Kaltenborn and Boake Carter continue to twist the international situation to suit their particular outlooks; swing is yet the rage; and television has finally rounded the corner—though its arrival at any point near perfection is still far distant.

Significant, too, is the fact that broadcasters in almost every American country—excepting, of course, our own—have finally realized that education of the masses in the meaning and benefits of democratic freedom is a humanitarian and patriotic duty. Indeed, skipping for a moment to other realms of America, the etherial year thus far has been pretty much what one would want it to be.

Put, what of Canada? The crystal fogs, and retrospection becomes painful!

True, Canadian kilocycles have tinkled with an ever-increasing amount of good radio entertainment. Nothing sensational—but much that is good. Dominion broadcasts have ceased to air yesterday's news tomorrow, and now concentrate on today's news tonight. Comedy is sadly lacking, but current-event coverage has forged slowly ahead. All in all, you note definite progress.

And yet the situation is disagreeable. Government authorities still hamper private broadcasters unmercifully and unfairly. Government authorities still stock their staffs with everyone's uncle, cousin or aunt. Patronage is rampant. It has been from the start.

The future is indefinite. And as we plunge deeper into this seventh month of the year one cannot fail to wonder how much longer private enterprise will be able to buck a political machine that makes its own laws and plays the game according to its own dictates.

Laurentian Mountains Offer Scenic Grandeur

Quaint and historical as it is, the Province of Quebec is by no means lacking in natural scenic grandeur.

For those who plan a holiday in the woods, the various resorts in the Laurentian Mountains, reached in an hour or two from Montreal, offer attractions which it would be difficult to equal.

Canadian National Railways has a direct route from the Montreal Tunnel Terminal to Huberdeau, situated in the most beautiful section of the Laurentian Mountains north of the "Commercial Metropolis."

St. Jerome, situated on Riviere du Nord, 36 miles from Montreal, may be described as the gateway to the Laurentians. It is an attractive summer resort as well as an important industrial centre.

lakes and near the station are the Laurentian Lodge Club and Golf Links. There is a good canoe route from Shawbridge to the Ottawa River.

Popular Rendezvous Montfort is close to Lake St. Francois Xavier, another well known summer resort, with a clubhouse that is a popular rendezvous for residents and visitors who enjoy dancing.

Lac Remi, the terminus of the Laurentian line of railway, is situated on the Rouge River, a tributary of the Ottawa.

KINSMEN DELAY COASTER DERBY UNTIL AUTUMN

"Soap Box" Classic Postponed for Additional Entries - World's Fair Trip

Postponement of Montreal's second annual "soap box" derby, the Kinsmen's Coaster Classic, until September 16 was announced today by Sam Jamieson, president of the Montreal Kinsmen's Club.

More than 100 model cars were entered in the 1938 Coaster Classic, which marked the introduction of model car racing in Montreal.

Although the race was originally scheduled for July it is expected that the autumn date will result in a larger entry list than that of last year.

Meanwhile, aspiring speed champs may secure entry forms at any branch of the Y.M.C.A. or by writing directly to the Kinsmen Club at the Mount Royal Hotel.

The Coaster Classic is open to any boy between the ages of nine and fifteen. The model cars must be entirely the work of their drivers and must cost no more than $10.00 to construct.

World's Fair Trip It is expected that the winner of the 1939 Coaster Classic, together with twelve-year-old Billy Telfer, winner of last year's race, will be sent to the New York World's Fair in September.

Beekeepers have a unique method of keeping tabs on the activities of their bees, according to a report from the Dominion Experimental Farms.

During the main honey flow, scales are most valuable, for then the beekeeper can estimate fairly accurately just what is going on inside the colonies. Thus, he knows when proper attention should be given.

ROLLER DERBY OPENS AT FORUM THIS MONDAY

INTERNATIONAL SPEED TITLIST WILL BE DECIDED AT TOURNEY SCHEDULED TO LAST 24 NIGHTS

Event Expected to Thrill Fans in Similar Fashion as They Have in Leading United States Cities — One Of Fastest Growing Present-Day Sports — Rules Same as Those in Six-day Bicycle Racing

A sport which, although new to Montreal, has thrilled thousands of fans in all sections of the United States, will be on display at the Forum beginning on Monday, July 10th, and continuing for 24 nights. It is called the Roller Derby and consists of a series of races for the international roller speed title.

There will be 20 skaters taking part in the series here and their flying feet are expected to thrill the fans just as much as they have sports followers in such other major cities as New York, Boston, Chicago and Detroit. While the Roller Derby is based, in the main, on rules used in six-day bicycle racing, tactics of other major sports have been introduced until it is one of the most thrilling, and the fastest growing, sports events in the United States. Skaters block out opponents, for instance, much in the same manner as football blockers, and there are penalty boxes similar to the ones used in hockey.

Two teams composed of five young men and five young women will inaugurate Montreal's Roller Derby at 8 p.m. on July 10, and for 24 thrill packed nights the Forum will be the scene of board-pounding skating the like of which never before has been seen in the Dominion. While the Roller Derby has been staged all over the United States for the last four years, the Montreal meet will mark the sport's debut in Canada.

With six capable alternates available for each team, to take

Our photograph shows a scene typical of those that will be witnessed at the International Roller Derby which will last for 24 nights at the Forum. Contestants will vie for the international roller speed title.

BOYS AWARDED CERTIFICATES IN SWIMMING

Bronze Medallion and Intermediate Certificate Won by "Y" Members

During the last few days the swimming pool at the Westmount Y has been quite popular. Valuable help in the matter of supervision of swimming periods is being rendered by Ian Fraser and John Houseman, both holders of the Junior Y.M.C.A. master swimmer and master life saving awards. James Kearney is rendering valuable help in the matter of "learn to swim" instruction.

The following boys passed the bronze medallion and intermediate certificate of the Royal Life Saving Society during this last week: Ian Fraser, William Bennett, Charles Elder.

One boy, Robert Thomson, passed the bronze, silver and gold pins of the R.L.S.S.

William Bennett, now holder of the bronze medallion also passed the Y.M.C.A. junior life saving tests this last week.

Boys of the Vacation Club are busy on Monday mornings passing swimming and diving tests, the results of which will be posted at a later date.

Royals Lead
Royals are rapidly regaining their spot on the sun as they whip the teams in the effort to finish first in the municipal league standing. The games played during the week have been good attractions and the spectators have been enthusiastic, especially on Monday night when double games are played.

Results Last Week
Royals 18, Grads 0; Granites, 6; Grads 4; Royals 6, Eagles 1 (4 pts); Royals 7; Granites 3.

the place of those who may be forced to fall by the wayside, the Roller Derby will have 20 active participants at all times. The Montreal White Shirts will represent Canada in the international series and from California will come their red jerseyed opponents the Hollywood Stars, a team sponsored by movie actress Eleanor Powell.

There will be one race each night, the winner being the team which scores the most points between 8 and 11 o'clock. In addition, each night's points are carried over in a grand total until the end of the 24-game meet.

Points are scored in the same manner as in bicycle racing. When a skater circles the track and passes any one of the opposing team, he scores a point. If he passes half of his opponents, he scores two points and if he laps the entire field, five points are added to his team's total. All points must be scored within a two-minute limit.

There is a penalty box, as in hockey, and skaters penalized for illegally blocking an opponent, or for other fouls, must serve time in the "cooler." The girls skate for 15 minutes and then the boys take over the track for a similar period. In the case of injury, an alternate takes the track until the injured skater can resume racing.

No substitutions are permitted when penalties are called and so

LIGHTS INSTALLED ON EIGHT COURTS

M'GILL BOYS DOWN LOCAL CRICKET TEAM

Local Squad Loses First League Match of Season By 93 Runs

Westmount "B" cricket team suffered its first defeat in the league on Saturday last, losing to McGill by 93 runs. Helped by several of their "A" team regulars, McGill had no difficulty in chalking up the two points. Robinson, 41; Gaymer, 31 not out; Williams, 20; and Tyler, 20, were the outstanding batsmen for the winning team.

Chappel, three for 31; Oram, four for 22; and Ward, one for 9, were the best bowlers for Westmount, and Lee was responsible for a particularly brilliant catch in dismissing Robinson. Captain Sweeting, 15, and Davis, 10, were the only Westmounters to reach double figures in a very low team total of 55.

Next Saturday, the Westmount "B" team will be at home to Model City, while the "A" team oppose McGill at the Campus in a Davidson Cup game.

Bill Edge, youthful Westmount "A" team wicketkeeper, brought honours on himself by making 41 out of a total of 93, in an exhibition match against Ottawa on Dominion Day.

Ed. Jemmott, captain of the Westmount "A" team, returned from the inter-provincial match under the limelight, result of his two wickets for 42 runs, and his second innings batting contribution of 31.
