STREETS OF ODESSA RUN RED WITH BLOOD WHILE ANGRY MULTITUDE BACKED BY MUTINEERS BATTLE FIERCELY WITH CHARGING COSSACKS

Hundreds Killed and Thousands Injured in Street Fighting—Mutineers' Machine Guns Opposed Those of Troops—Reservists Kept Their Barracks While Wild Riders of the Steppes Were Hurled Back by the Infuriated Multitude—Millions of Damage Was Done—Great Panic Amongst Foreign Shipping.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Odessa, June 30.—Another twenty-four hours of terror such as has only been equalled by the French revolution, with cracking of rifles and machine guns, roar of cannon, hoarse cries of fighting hordes, blazing of incendiary fires, and to-day the streets of Odessa run with blood.

Fully 5,000 rioters and troops have been shot down by the guns of the rebel battleship Kniaz Potemkin, from which occasional shells have been sent crashing into the city, causing death and destruction.

More than 50,000 strikers, aided by the fighting men of the battleship, armed with machine guns, are spreading terror and repulsing attacks by the Czar's Cossacks.

Strikers are in control of the city, and the Government is helpless. The only hope of the authorities is in the arrival of Admiral Kruger's squadron, of which the Potemkin was the most powerful ship. But this hope is coupled with the fear that the sight of the red flag flying from the masthead of the Potemkin will arouse the spirit of the other sailors of the fleet, and that the mutiny will spread to all of Kruger's ships.

Martial law has been proclaimed, but the strikers and mutineers laugh at it.

Bearing red flags and carrying bombs, the strikers are swarming in the streets. Flames have burst out in every section of the city. From the slums the half starved victims of the strike lasting months have swarmed into the streets crying anarchy and carrying death to all the hated residents of the town, whose riches and affiliation with the oppressors of Government have caused them to be listed among the doomed.

THE WOMEN ALSO HELP.

Weapons have been brought forth from their hiding and women unable to aid otherwise follow the men through the streets, bearing torches filled with oil, with which they have fired scores of buildings.

The chief strategic points and wide boulevards in the city were commanded by the machine guns of the Cossack, but through side streets these detachments of troops were attacked by marines, from the ship, also armed with machine guns.

During the fighting on Wednesday night it is believed that fully 1,000 persons were killed and 2,000 wounded.

The Cossacks, having been repeatedly repulsed and many of their number killed, were wild with rage and thirsted for revenge.

They made no discrimination, innocent persons were mowed down with machine guns, waggon loads of dead were carried away. As swarms of the revolutionists gathered from the poorer parts of the city made up of a score of nationalities swept through the streets singing the "Marseillaise" of Russia, Cossack patrols attempted to drive them back without success.

It is believed that 50,000 men and women were engaged in attempts to fire and destroy the public buildings of the city. Roaring flames which destroyed the Central Railway station and which were started again along the water front stirred into action the long pent-up hatred of the people for the autocracy and oppressive methods of civil government, and the torches of red-flag marchers destroyed millions of roubles worth of property within a few hours.

Only Cossacks were sent against these rioters, whom the people of Odessa hate and who hate Odessa. A few regiments of regulars from the northern provinces were used for duty around some public buildings, but none of the reservists could be trusted and they were kept within the barracks. The torches caused the destruction of the elevated railways encircling the water front, hundreds of warehouses and residences of workmen, employed along the water front, several churches with Government buildings and quays.

A SLAUGHTER UNPARALLELED.

One pier destroyed contained 7,000 tons of railway ties, and these burned all day long and at night illuminated the harbor like a great torch, bringing into prominence the huge hulk of the battleship with its guns trained on the city. Slaughter almost unparalleled marked the attempt of the rioters to reach the warehouses of the Russian Trading and Navigation Company.

Cossacks who were guarding the property managed to stand off the mob for the greater part of the night, and at daylight the square in front of the buildings was filled with dead bodies.

A TERRIBLE SCENE.

Day dawned on a scene that baffles description.

The sun rose from the Black Sea, shining red through a dense pall of black smoke and flame that hung over the entire wharf front.

Few persons had slept through that fearful night of terror. The constant cracking of rifles and machine guns, and the hoarse cries of fighting men, had made night hideous. Out in the harbor lay a strange fleet that floated the same grim banner of red that appeared so fitly duplicated in blood which flowed through the streets, and in flames that ate their way for a mile and a half along the water front, from the Quarantine Quay to the Pratique Docks.

MUTINEERS ASSIST MOB.

Throughout the night there had been desperate fighting.

The red glare from the burning buildings, and the long white beams from the searchlight of the Kniaz Potemkin had turned night into day, and rifle sights were easily visible and targets plain. Gun squads from the Potemkin and the two torpedo boats went ashore to aid the strikers and the revolutionists in Odessa. Everywhere barricades had been thrown up, topped by great red banners that had been dragged to light by those who had made them months ago. Behind these barricades machine guns from the ship played a deadly stream of projectiles up and down the narrow streets back from the water front, and kept the fire companies, Cossacks and police from approaching the burning buildings.

The wide boulevard that runs along the top of the great bluff that faces the harbor was wholly in the possession of the rioters throughout the night and holding this they held down the road to the harbor front, where the work of the incendiaries was going on.

A PITCHED BATTLE.

Odessa is laid out like a great checkerboard, and all the streets and boulevards were commanded by barricades and machine guns.

It was on the Boulevard Nicolai and in the Square of Catherine that the fierce fighting of the night had occurred. It was not a one-sided fight, with trained soldiers on one side and a mob on the other. It was a battle in which thousands were engaged, and the revolutionists were aided by experienced men with modern weapons from the war ships.

The hospitals are filled, and churches and synagogues are being used to shelter the wounded. All night long the great bells of the cathedral clanged and boomed above the clamor of the fighting multitude, and priests of the Greek Church ran through every part of the town exhorting the rioters to desist, and pleading with the leaders to declare a truce until morning. Martial law had been declared at midnight, however, and all the military forces in town had been ordered on patrol through the streets.

COSSACKS BRAVE BUT CRUEL.

The Cossack cavalry charged bravely through the streets and loyally supported their commanders, but the guards refused in many cases to fire against their own people, and were sent back to the barracks.

Of the 600,000 population of Odessa hardly a third are Russians.

About 150,000 are Jews and others are Greeks, Armenians, Turks and people of various nationalities gathered from Southern Europe.

The lower classes of Odessa are of a most desperate character and they have fought throughout the night with a wild ferocity that has driven the military governor into the main fort of the town in a state of panic terror.

TERRIBLE PANDEMONIUM.

The yells of the mob, the roar of the flames, the crack of falling buildings, mingled with the rattle of musketry, from the military, who were now appearing on the scene in strong force, went to make up an indescribable pandemonium. The military brought thirty machine guns into play, the rioters falling in hundreds before the merciless fusilade. After a time the military gained the upper hand, but at intervals during the night the conflict was renewed at several points. At 3 o'clock in the morning the mob endeavored to force its way into the centre of the city, but was repulsed after a terrific fire.

The neighborhood of the harbor presents an awful scene of devastation. Damage by fire is calculated to reach $12,500,000. The troops stationed in Odessa are in the main reservists recruited from Odessa, and the country round about, and it was not strange that they should have refused to fire upon their own people.

These reservist troops number nearly 40,000 and the great fear of the Russian Government at this time is that they may join the insurrectionists.

MANY COSSACKS SLAIN.

There were only 1,200 Cossacks in Odessa when the outbreak occurred, and it is not known how many of these have been killed.

COSSACK CHARGES.

The Cossacks went throughout the night, notwithstanding the fact that they knew the guns of the Potemkin were trained upon the city and likely to begin bombarding at any minute.

The wild raiders of the Russian cavalry dashed through the streets, fighting their way toward the water front and charging barricades time after time. Each charge was met by a cracking volley, which could come from nothing but the machine guns of the Potemkin. These leaden hailstorms checked them, dropped horses from beneath them, or emptied the saddles of those in the leading ranks and in nearly every case forced them to turn and take to the sides for protection from the fire that struck through each street leading to the water front like lances of death.

SHELLED BY THE WARSHIP.

Even when they retreated back into the town and assembled in Catherine Square, near Richelieu monument, they were not safe for the flashing searchlight beam of the Potemkin sought them out and seemed to lead screaming shell straight to where they halted. It had come from one of the large guns of the Potemkin, and exploded just at the foot of the monument. Four were killed and seventeen wounded, and it warned the Cossacks to keep under cover, for there was no safety wherever the search light of the Potemkin could follow them. Three ships of the Pan-Russian Company, carrying no insurance, were caught in the web of flames along the line of stone quays, and in a short time they were utterly destroyed.

The office of Port Administration, the stores and warehouses of the Pan-Russian, Koshky and Russian companies, a score of private warehouses, shipbuilding plant and drydock, and a great number of woodyards were burned, while the great coal piles on the Government dock were soon flaming like great black volcanoes. Long lines of railway cars, containing cargoes unloaded from ships, were trapped on the quays and were soon in flames. An attempt to run engines in to drag these trains away from the fire called forth the fiercest fighting of the night, and after the engineers and firemen were killed and the guarding troops driven back, the helpless engines were left to be caught in the spread of destruction.

PANIC AMONG THE SHIPPING.

In the harbor a panic among officers and crews of foreign ships is said to be paralleled only by that in the Harbor of Martinique, when the craft in that fearfully menaced stretch of water fought their way out to sea.

Everywhere could be heard the cries of captains and mates of the threatened ships forcing their men to face the flames and bullets that pattered on decks and water.

The steam vessels were finally saved but five sailing vessels were caught and made to form part of that fearful picture of destruction that was backgrounded against the Hill of Odessa.

On a great wide staircase 200 steps in height, that leads from the water front up into the town, was fought the strangest battle of the night.

CHARGED DOWN STAIRWAY.

A band of Cossacks attempted to ride down the flight of stone steps to the level stretch along the harbor front. From barricades erected below and from behind warehouses of the street below was poured into their ranks a fusilade that halted them and left the great wide stone steps covered with dead. This feat was not attempted again and although several efforts were made to flank the insurgents on the water front the Cossack charges were always repulsed and the rioters left in possession of this part of the city.

A number of heavy explosions were heard during the night coming from the harbor, but their meaning could not be learned. On board the Potemkin the strictest order appears to be observed, and no boats from the shore are permitted to come anywhere near the ship.

Panic-stricken people are fleeing from the city. Every railway train going out of Odessa is crowded.

The entire harbor front is gutted.

MUTINY WAS LONG EXPECTED.

Naval Officers Knew That Conditions In Russian Navy Must Change.

Naval officers were not, it seems, surprised at the news of the mutiny on board the Kniaz Potempkine. The discipline of the Russian navy has always been maintained with a rigor and sternness that were commonly calculated to develop overbearing officers and cringing crews, and, as a consequence, to create an internal condition that promised the worst results. It is a tradition among American and British man-o'-warsmen that the easiest remedy for lapses of discipline was the knout followed by hanging. Indeed, whenever a Russian warship was seen steaming to sea and then returning after a short time, it was the implicit faith of the Anglo-Celtic and Yankee sailormen that "Johnny Russ," as they called the Tsar's ship, had simply steamed outside the marine league to hang some unfortunate shipmate for a crime that would be dealt with far more leniently on the other services. Mixed with this galley yarn of the bluejacket, there was often a strain of more than half truth.

So far as naval annals reveal it is default to knowing the temperament. The racial acceptance of the destiny of the Russians to believe that mutinies could occur aboard their ships of war. They have played out in France, notably in Great Britain and to a degree even with Americans and the Germans. The proscriptive right of the seaman to growl is acknowledged, and unless it becomes offensive the tendency is to pass it by. Then, too, the official punishments are so swift and sure that this constitutional ebullition against his environment rarely goes beyond the criminal point. In the sea laws of all nations mutiny is defined as an insurrection against constituted authority and potent resistance to the authority of officers. It may be the act of an individual or the concerted action of the crew. The substance of an act for the government of the navy is an outgrowth of English experience, and under various phraseologies it is the controlling element in all services. It provides that any person in the navy who makes or attempts to make, or unites with any mutiny or mutinous assemblage, or who, being witness to or present at any mutiny, does not do his utmost to suppress it, or who, knowing of any mutiny or mutinous assembly, does not immediately communicate his knowledge to his superior or commanding officer, shall suffer—what? Death by or such other punishment as a court martial may adjudge.

Won Sensational Game of Eighteen Long Innings

cCarthy Pitched Masterly Ball and the Locals Won the Longest Game Ever Played on a Montreal Diamond.

This is where we release our long pent-up enthusiasm and relate a tale of marvellous deeds.

For 18 long heart palpitating innings yesterday the gladiators on the pay roll of Messrs. Bannon and Stallings fought in the bracing air of Westmount, and when the fans and warriors left the arena at 6 p.m., they were two limp for utterance.

Two games were down on the programme, but one was enough.

This sterling contest lasted for 4 hours, and as there was no general desire to perform by moonlight, the second game was put on the shelf.

We will hand out the glad tidings at the outset that Mr. Bannon's Mastodon Marvels and all round Gymnasts carried off the laurel wreaths of the affair by the following statistics: 5 to 4.

And in addition we want it distinctly understood that there was something doing every second.

The local artists tied the score in the 9th inning just when the thing looked to be a cinch for Buffalo, and then went to bat in the 18th one run to the bad.

By an exhibition of aggressive tactics that would have Togo and Oyama 4 down and 3 to play, our unexcelled joy makers sailed in just as the dinner hour was striking, put two men across the plate and grasped victory on the wing.

It was the longest game ever played in Montreal, and one of the longest on record.

One 18 inning game has been played in the National League this year, between St. Louis and Chicago, but it had nothing on yesterday's circus as a producer of heart disease and nervous prostration.

The twirling artists were the dignified Mr. McCarthy for us, for Buffalo that celebrated low comedian "Rube" Kissinger, the gentleman with the face.

McCarthy pitched a masterly game.

For 15 of the 18 innings he shut the enemy out without a hit or run.

In fact it was whirlwind ball and McCarthy's great pitching was backed up by electric fielding, with Mr. Dumpling Miller, our popular young second baseman, throwing out the most sparks.

But do not wander off with the idea that Mr. "Rube" was not all to the beautiful.

He was there with the goods at all stages.

Both men used great judgment, and at critical points in the hectic contest purposely gave bases on balls to dangerous hitters and then swept down the weaker men that followed.

Strike outs with the bases full were as common as mosquitoes in Lachine, while the teams fought for every point and Egan, the gentlemanly Ump., had a dog's life.

The teams worked up to a degree of frenzy, disputed almost every decision, fought over the ball and at some stages Egan didn't know his own name.

There was only one serious collision between the arbitration and a performer, however, and as a consequence Mr. McManus was compelled to retire from the scene of strife and view the remainder of the contest from the dizzy heights of the visitors bench.

Mac. and Egan opened the debate on a pitched ball.

Egan said it was a ball, Mr. McManus was quite positive it was a strike.

"Ball," said Egan.

Then out spoke McManus straight from the boots as follows:

"—!!! xxxx —!!! xxx —!!! xx — xx —!! xxx — !!! xxx — !!! xx!!!"

"What's that?" said Egan, with the emphasis on "that."

McManus repeated his observation, adding a few personal compliments.

Mr. McManus used such endearing terms as "ham," "boozer," and "robber" in referring to Mr. Egan's qualifications as an Umpire.

"Out of the game for yours," said Mr. Egan with a dramatic sweep of the right arm.

Mac retired spurning vengeance and was replaced by the energetic Mr. McAllister, who performed gracefully.

Buffalo played a man by the name of Glassburner in right field. The fans objected to the name at first and wanted him put out of the game on general principles, but the Ump. wouldn't hear of it.

Of course, Messrs. Hartman and Kissinger were present with a few neat acts in the light comedy department.

Dutch had his towel out near third base again and kept mopping up the back of his neck just as he did the day previous.

He also had a great deal to say about Kissinger's style of pitching and both "Dutch" and Miller frequently called the Ump's attention to Kiss's alleged illegal footwork every time he pitched.

Kissinger wanted the Ump. to fine both men $1,000,000 and suspend them for the rest of the season.

Dutch called "Kiss" a knuckle bomb thrower, and "Kiss" dwelt upon the striking family resemblance between "Dutch" and a flour barrel.

In the early part of the strenuous drama everything looked all Buffalo.

With the score 4 to 2, and the locals apparently all in, Joyce worked around the sacks on a nice double by Buster Bannon.

In the ninth the score was tied, Bannon getting a base on balls stealing second, and crossing the plate as the useful Mr. Raub whipped a single about 5 feet over Kissinger's head.

Then came the see-saw.

McCarthy excelled himself and continued to pitch a grand game.

Half a dozen times victory was in the grasp of both teams, and twice

Dutch Hartman took a wee drink of Westmount water, then went up and was struck out. Moral—Microbes are N. G. for baseballers.

the locals were deliberately robbed by Egan.

Egan's lamps certainly went out as the afternoon progressed, and at least two of his decisions were too tart for words.

The rooters swayed back and forwards with excitement and yelled themselves to a standstill.

There were groans of dismay one minute, and fiendish yells of delight the next as victory flirted with one side and then the other.

From the fourth to the fifteenth innings Buffalo did not make a single hit.

The ice was broken by McAllister in the 15th, who hit one out and stole second. There were two out.

McCarthy did a risky thing by intentionally giving both Laporte and Murphy bases on balls.

Glassburner was to bat next, but Cap Gettman thought he had turned a neat trick on us by putting in slugger Milligan.

McCarthy shot the ball over the plate to beat the band and the crowd went crazy as Milligan struck out with the bases full.

The 18th and final spasm was a beaut as far as excitement went.

Laporte drove one out that nearly go away from Meany, as it had frills on it.

"Dutch" Hartman fumbled an infield tap of Murphy's, and with the sun in his eyes Joyce misjudged Milligan's fly.

The Hon. Mr. Gettman now holds the circus catch championship.

Nattress also hit to Joyce in deep left field, and Murphy crossed the plate.

It looked like a sure thing for Buffalo, and the crowd began to go home.

This, however, was where we began to draw dividends.

Raub drew a base on balls and went to second on McCarthy's sacrifice.

Miller worked the mighty "Kiss" for a base and Wiedensaul hit one that Laporte juggled. Bases full and one out. Wow!

Then the game broke up.

Meany drove out a nice easy fly between Gettman and Milligan.

Gettman thought Milligan would catch it and Milligan thought Gettman would catch it.

They both stood looking at one another, apparently paralyzed and as the ball dropped to the ground the crowd rose screaming to its feet and Raub and Miller rushed over the plate.

Gettman and Miller continued to stand out in the field, and they jawed one another until their voices gave out.

It was a peach of a dumb play, but we had no kick coming.

You don't see games like that one growing on the bushes.

Even the peanuts were nervous.

Longest game ever played in Montreal.

A wonderful game from every standpoint.

Laporte knocked the ball over the fence.

Lachance made his first hit in seven games.

In 15 innings Buffalo did not get a single hit.

Montreal has 13 men left on bases; Buffalo 11.

Eleven hittings without a hit is some pitching Mac!

Dumpy Shea, the Newark catcher, has a broken finger.

Egan was all to the bad and we got a shade the worst of it.

The sun bothered the left fielders, and both did ragged work.

Baltimore touched Joslyn at Providence for 20 hits yesterday.

Whichever way you look at it McCarthy put it all over the handsome "Kiss."

McCarthy pitched more than a full game without giving Buffalo a safe rap or a run.

Phil. Dyer was in his store clothes and watched the game from the grand stand.

The Orient Baseball Team defeated the Verdun Baseball Team, of Point St. Charles, by a score of 13-4.

McCarthy struck out 11 men. "Kiss" only fanned 5. The figures are reversed on bases on balls.

Young Hartman has made two hits since he has joined the team. Better keep Wiedensaul at short.

Jimmy Miller played a great game at second. He was all over the lot, picking them up in all positions.

McCarthy gets the medals. He pitched the finest game of any man that has ever worn a Montreal uniform.

Jake Gettman made a fine running

he had caught it. Why go to the circus?

There was lurid language in the club-house when Magnate Stallings gave Egan his opinion of the way the game was run.

The Maple Leaf Baseball team, of Point St. Charles, are going to play a match on Saturday next with the French baseball team, of St. Lambert.

A game of baseball, now and then,
Is relished by all gentlemen,
The women, too, all sorts and clans,
Develop into howling fans.

Montreal is not getting the advantage of the umpiring by any means, and Egan's exhibition yesterday was worse than usual. He has not the excuse of not knowing better either.

The Star Baseball Team, of St. Lambert, are playing a match on Saturday next with the Orient Baseball Team, of Point St. Charles. The game will be played in front of the school house, Notre Dame street.

DADE AND FINLAYSON WILL PROBABLY PLAY WITH MONTREAL.

DADE.

It is safe to announce that Albert Dade and George Finlayson will play with Montreal a week from Saturday.

They were out at practice last night, and this morning the news was all over that they had signed.

No definite announcement was given out, but president Arthur Hamilton, of Montreal, was prepared to say this:

"Dade and Finlayson have expressed their desire to us to give up professional company in which they have been and to play with an amateur club like Montreal.

Nothing positive can be said as yet. According to the latest ruling of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, we have a perfect right to allow them to play with us.

We are not, however, going to do anything that will interfere with the rules of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association."

As to the Shamrocks, one of their members said: "We do not have to get any new men. All we want is to play for the Minto Cup if anyone will challenge us. We can do that now according to the latest agreement."

There is no knowing what may be done at the meeting on Tuesday next.

Most of the delegates will go to it unhampered by instructions.

THE SEAWANHAKA CUP CHALLENGER HERE MONDAY.

The Tunipoo, one of the two Manchester Seawanhaka Cup Challengers.—E. A. Boardman, the designer, at the helm; Reginald Boardman wears the white shoes; R. D. Boardman, forward, and the other man is G. L. Bremer, the owner.

Word has been received by members of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club to the effect that the two Seawanhaka Cup Challengers built by the Manchester Club, in the hope that they will be able to take back the Cup from here were shipped from Manchester yesterday.

This, it is expected, will bring them here about Monday, when they will be taken by railway to the Dominion Bridge Works at Lachine.

Here the big crane of the works will be used in unloading them, and they will be put into the water and towed from there to Dorval.

A rigger will come with them, and a little later two crews will arrive here, probably about Wednesday.

Every thing possible will be done to make the visitors comfortable.

HOW YALE BEAT HARVARD.

But it Was a Close Race and Harvard Has Confidence in Its Trainer.

New London, Conn., June 30.—The Yale 'Varsity crew yesterday afternoon wrested a victory from Harvard, in the annual four-mile race on the Thames, by the length of an oar. After rowing for four miles with the shells lapping and the graceful prows almost sis-zagging between the strokes, the Yale boat crossed the finish line three-quarters of a length ahead of the Crimson. Yale won by two and one-half seconds. The Blues' time was 22.33 1-2; Harvard, 22.36.

Such a race has never before been rowed in the 27 years of racing between these old rivals. The Elis went to the starting flag absolutely confident of an easy victory. Coach Wray, of the Harvard crew, had almost conceded that his eight had practically no chance to win. But Wray sprung a surprise on Yale, and his name is on the lips of every lover of rowing as the coming rival of John Kennedy, the professional coach at New Haven. Wray came to the Thames three weeks ago an unknown coach. He will go back to Boston as the first professional who has inspired absolute confidence in Harvard.

The wind, which threatened to kick up the river early in the afternoon, had calmed down and was blowing almost across the course, and just quartering on the bows of the shells. It was a hard wind to row against and the coaches saw there was no chance for fast time. The tide was running up stream strong, but the crews had the the disadvantage of the wind. Under prevailing conditions, the time made yesterday was fast.

Harvard's splendid showing in the 'Varsity race was not the only consolation which the Crimson got yesterday. Coach Wray had the additional satisfaction of winning both the freshmen eight and the 'Varsity four-oared races. In these two Wray gave still aother demonstration of his ability as a coach.

Indefeated Intermediates defeated Y. M. C. A. Intermediate XI. on the latter's ground on Tuesday evening last by a score of five to one, and have thus gained another two points on the League table, their record to date is:

Played.	Won.	Lost.	Goals for.	Agst.
5	5	0	23	3

Owing to several of the Intermediates finding places on the first XI. the former are not quite as strong as when they defeated the C. P. R. and other Clubs in the early part of the season, but they have a team that will take a lot of beating.

LAWN TENNIS

The Play at Wimbledon.

London, June 30.—As a result of the play in the third round of the gentlemen's singles, at Wimbledon, only one of the four Americans who entered the tournament will go into the fourth round. William A. Larned, of Summit, N. J., beat P. H. A. Parker, of New Zealand, after five sets had been played. W. J. Clothier's match with F. Wilding, of New Zealand, was the sensation of the day. He made a good start, winning the first two sets, but then lost the next three, after the keenest of play. Beals Wright was beaten by A. W. Gore. Miss Sutton won both her games.

Miss Sutton Still Wins.

London, June 30.—In the ladies' singles, third round of the championship tennis contest at Wimbledon, Miss May Sutton, of Pasadena, Cal., beat Miss Longhurst, 6—3, 6—1.

THE WHEEL

Building New Foolkiller.

Detroit, June 30.—Walter Christie has completed the construction of the most remarkable automobile ever built in this city. It is a direct drive car with a four cylinder engine driving direct into the hubs of the rear wheels. The engines take the place of the two axles. Either engine may be operated independently of the other. It is calculated to give a speed of 50 seconds to the mile, or better. The combined power will be about 130 horse power. The wheel base is short, and the weight is only 2,100. Christie is confident that his new creation will take the record below 30 seconds on a straight away course. The car is to be given a trial on the Morris Park track this week.

France Out of Competition.

Paris, June 30.—The committee of the French Automobile Club has decided that France will not participate in the races in 1906 for the James Gordon Bennett international motor race cup, no matter what the result of this year's contest may be.

LYON OR STRATH IS CHAMPION

Finals in Amateur Golf Meet Being Played To-day.

YOUNG AUSTIN DOES WELL

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Defeated Douglas Laird, the Princeton Crack.

Toronto, June 30.—The chief feature at the golf links yesterday was the defeat of Douglas Laird, of Princeton University, by A. E. Austin, the sixteen-year-old son of the president of the Lambton Golf Club, in the second round. Young Austin played like a veteran, leading the college man all the way, and finally wining by 5 to 4.

Olympic Champion Geo. S. Lyon won a close game in the morning from Fritz R. Martin, of Hamilton. The score follows:—Out: G. S. Lyon, 38; F. R. Martin, 41.; In: G. S. Lyon, 38; F. R. Martin, 36. Totals: Lyon, 76; Martin, 77. The other matches in the second round of the amateur play were: Rockwood beat H. H. Betts 1 up on the 20th green, R. S. Strath beat H. J. Martin 4 and 2; A. E. Austin beat Douglas Laird 5 and 4.

In the first consolation Adams beat Southam by default. Hansard beat Pringle 5 and 4, and Heward beat McClure 1 up. Southam beat S. P. Betts 2 and 1.

In the second consolation James beat Williams 1 up. Glassco beat Anger 1 up in 19 holes. Lawrence beat Ruttan 4 and 3, and Harvey beat Judge Weir 7 and 6. The finals in both these events will be played off to-day.

The semi-finals in the afternoon for the blue-ribbon event in golfdom for Canada brought together four Toronto golfers, three of them being from Lambton Golf and Country Club and one from the Premier Club, the Toronto Golf Association. G. S. Lyon was pitted against S. T. Blackwood, and the Lambton player was off to a great start, winning the first five holes off the reel, but the Toronto representative braced up and won several holes in fine figures, notably in Casei in 3 to his opponent's 5. The match was carried to the sixteenth green, when Mr. Lyon won by 3 up and 2 to play. The bye was played out, Mr. Lyon finishing with two threes and making his round 78.

The other semi-finalists, R. S. Strath and H. J. Martin, had a good match. Mr. Martin had the lead early in the match, but Mr. Strath, playing a strong game, finally won by 4 up and 2 to play. This leaves Lyon and Strath to play the final to-day.

A Hard Fought Fight.

After playing nine extra holes, Dr. Tooke and Mr. J. Bryce Strachan, of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, were unable to decide the possession of the Shorey Cup, one of the club's handicap trophies, yesterday, and accordingly an extra 18 holes will be played next Thursday.

THE REAL QUESTION.

The real question of disease is "Can I be cured?" If you or anyone dear to you is losing strength, flesh, energy and vitality, if you are sure you will not spend time trying to figure out just what name to call the disease by.

It is almost impossible to draw the line where debility and weakness merge into consumption. Your trouble may not be consumption to-day, but you don't know what you may become to-morrow. Hundreds of people have been restored to robust health by Dr Pierce's marvelous "Golden Medical Discovery" after reputable physicians had pronounced them consumptive beyond hope.

Were they in consumption? Nobody can ever know.

The important point is that they were hopelessly ill but this matchless "Discovery" restored and saved them.

"I was not able to do hardly any work at all," says Mrs. Jennie Dingman, of Vanburen, Kalkaska Co., Mich., in a most interesting letter to Dr. Pierce. "I had pain in my left side and back, and had headache all the time. I tried your medicine and it helped me. Last spring I had a bad cough; I got so bad I had to be in bed all the time.

"My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough was stopped and I have had no more of it returning. Your medicine is the best I have taken."

Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice, in a plain sealed envelope, absolutely free. His nearly 40 years experience as chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y., has made him an expert in chronic diseases.

POLYGLOT DAY IN CORONER'S COURT

Many Languages Were Needed to Understand All the Witnesses.

THE STREET CAR ACCIDENT

French, Syrian, Hebrew and Italian Witnesses Tell Story in Their Own Tongue.

At yesterday's session of the Coroner's Court much difficulty was experienced with a large number of the witnesses and no less than five languages had to be used—English, French, Hebrew, Italian and Syrian. However, all the witnesses, with the exception of a couple of Syrians, knew a little of the English or French languages, and did their best to make themselves understood by the jurymen in those tongues.

Several foreign gentlemen were on hand to act as interpreters, but Coroner McMahon, who has developed into quite a linguist as a result of the large influx of people from all parts of the world, did well under the circumstances, and only had to make use of one of the interpreters.

The inquest was held into the cause of the death of Antonio Perron, the little child who was run over by an electric car, on Amherst street, last Sunday, and died six hours later in the Notre Dame Hospital as a result of his injuries.

Mr. H. Rainville appeared for the family of the victim and Messrs. Charles Archer, of the firm of Prefontaine, Archer and Perron appeared on behalf of the company. Mr. A. Gabory, claims agent, also watched the case of the Street Railway Company.

The jury, after hearing all the evidence, returned a verdict exonerating the motorman from blame. One of the jurymen wanted a rider added to the verdict requesting mothers and parents to keep their children from playing in the streets, but it was not included in the verdict, the great majority of the jurymen being opposed to the suggestion.

THE ARTILLERY INSPECTION.

An Excellent Showing But a Man Was Injured.

The inspection of the 3rd Field Battery at St. Helen's Island was made last night. During the inspection Bombardier Campbell in manipulating the brake on one of the gun carriages, was jolted off his seat, and sustained a fracture of the left arm near the wrist joint. The accident happened when returning to camp near the close of the inspection.

Otherwise the inspection was a great success. Major G. W. Stephens, commanding officer, said: "Never before had the regiment undergone such a successful review." Capt. Leslie, R.C.F. A., the inspecting officer, was equally satisfied with the good work of the men.

After the entire camp had been visited, and the guns, horses, waggons and mess tents of the men had been looked over, Capt. Leslie examined the officers and non-commissioned officers in the theory of tactics and strategy.

The inspection terminated by a rear guard action, seventy-two rounds of blank ammunition being fired in this practice.

Speaking of the success of the inspection, Major Stephens accorded great praise to Sergeant-Major Porteous, whose untiring efforts and soldierly qualities had set an example of efficiency for all ranks. Capt. Leslie was also much pleased with the work of Quartermaster-Sergeant Jessup.

The battery have been in camp for twelve days. Camp will break up on Saturday morning.

On July 8th, the regiment will go to Quebec for an outing. The following-named officers were present at the inspection: Capt. Leslie, R.C.F.A., inspecting officer, Kingston, Major G. W. Stephens, commanding officer, Capt. W. Dodds, 5th Royal Scots, attached, Capt. R. McCuaig, Lieut. J. C. Fyshe, Quartermaster-Sergeant J. Slade, Sergeant-Major W. J. Porteous.

The Fletcher Field Cases.

The Fletcher Field claim cases were again before the Practice Court yesterday, when Mr. Campbell, of Macmaster, Hickson & Campbell, presented a motion to Mr. Justice Pagnuelo, asking that Louis Poirier and several other members of the family, who are claiming a portion of the farm from the city, and Mr. R. Stanley Bagg, be forced to make choice and say whether their action is directed against the city or against Mr. Bagg. Mr. Justice Pagnuelo, after hearing the arguments of Mr. Barnard for the claimants and Mr. Archambault, K. C., for the city, granted the motion and ordered that the claimants in the case under consideration make their choice before September 1st, and direct their action against one or the other of the parties.

The Canoe Meet at St. Johns.

Satisfaction is expressed in aquatic circles at the selection of St. John's as the place for the final meet of the Canadian Canoe Association, which will take place on Saturday, the 29th July. The railway and navigation companies propose running excursions from Montreal, the Eastern Townships and the different points around Lake Champlain for the occasion, and the St. John's Yacht Club, under whose auspices the regatta is being held, is making extensive preparations for the accommodation of the large number of canoeists who propose taking part therein. The club are also having struck some thirty handsome medals as prizes.

A Change in Bar Official.

A change has just taken place in the constitution of the Bar Council of this district. Mr. F. E. Meredith, K.C., who was occupying the office of syndic for the second term, has resigned, and Mr. P. B. Mignault, K.C., has been appointed to take his place. In his letter of resignation Mr. Meredith declared that, while he appreciated the honor done him by his confreres, the office so interfered with his practice that he was forced to ask them to accept his retirement.

Complaint Against An East End Concern.

Building Inspector Chausse yesterday, speaking of the statement made by Ald. L. A. Lapointe that he (Ald. Lapointe) would move for his dismissal, said: "The complaint of Ald. Lapointe against me is that I allow certain parties to build steps to their premises too far out on the sidewalk. I must say the charge is not just to me. I am not supposed to know the lines of the sidewalks. This duty rests with the city surveyor. I have taken means to acquaint the proper authorities when I have found out that parties have built out too far on the sidewalks. I do not think Ald. Lapointe should make me responsible for duties that belong to the Road Department."

In regard to the smoke nuisance the city attorney to-day received a communication from a resident in the east end asking the city to take legal proceedings against a manufacturer. The smoke from his factory was making it impossible for citizens to dwell near the place.

LABOR NOTES.

The clothing cutters of the wholesale trade held an interesting meeting in the St. Joseph's Hall Wednesday evening. It was announced that Mr. Samuel L. Landers, of Hamilton, Canadian organizer of the United Garment Workers of America, accompanied by the president of the International Union would visit Montreal in a few days for the purpose of discussing matters of interest to trade.

The National Union of Bakers, No. 2, will hold a special meeting on Saturday afternoon to discuss the proposed amendments to the baking by-law. Other matters will be dealt with as well.

The soft stone cutters held a largely attended meeting in St. Joseph's Hall Wednesday. Mr. Joseph Gervais, business agent of the organization, made a report showing the trade to be in a flourishing condition. It is not thought by the labor leaders that the strike in the building trades will spread beyond the carpenters and joiners, "but," remarked the speaker, "the unexpected sometimes happens."

There will be a public meeting of carpenters and joiners, who work along the river front, this evening, at 1242a Notre Dame street. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Several local labor leaders will address the gathering in the English, French and Hebrew languages.

St. Gabriel's Lawn Social.

The lawn social in aid of the building fund of St. Gabriel's Church opened on Tuesday evening in the spacious grounds of the church. Nearly all the clergy of the city, as well as the members of the Shamrock Lacrosse team, were present.

During the supper the pastor presented the following-named young ladies with gold pieces, they being the prize winners for selling the largest number of tickets: Miss Lyons, Mrs. Brady, Miss Marnell, Miss Lynch, Miss Duffy. The lawn social will be open for the remainder of the week. The booths are as follows:

Ellen Quinn's Property.

There will be no trouble over the little estate left by the unfortunate woman Ellen Quinn, who was murdered in her home at Mile End. The three wooden buildings and the property upon which they stand and all were owned clear of any debt by Ellen Quinn. The relatives of the deceased have given up all claims in favor of Mary Quinn, the servant who was found working for Mr. Ross Robertson at Como.

THE RUSSIAN CRISIS.

The statement that the Zemstvos of Moscow and St. Petersburg, have communicated to the Czar their decision to announce a constitutional government within their respective provinces in case the desired reforms are not inaugurated by a fixed date—if confirmed—is the most important piece of news since the agitation began. All Russian discontent seems to Leed, is a rallying point. The notion that the red-flagged battleship off Odessa might provide this, constituted the chief danger of its revolt. If it should succeed in winning over a section of the troops at Odessa, and so establish there a centre of revolution, civil war would have begun.

But if the representatives of authority in any important part of European Russia should establish a government which did not recognize the autocracy of the Czar, such a rallying point would be provided with a foundation of law and order instead of that of red force. So long as the Czar represents the only government in Russia, and discontent can appear only in mobs and isolated acts of outrage, the Czar's Government is bound to be sustained. The devotion of the great mass of the people to constituted authority, and their fear of anarchy, make tremendous forces on the side of even a bad administration.

But let discontent present an organization to the people, capable of enforcing law and maintaining order, and the Russian masses will have before them that necessity of good government which is so often denied even constitutionally governed peoples—a possible alternative. The choice will no longer be between the Czar and anarchy, but between the autocracy and something at least a stage nearer to the democracy. The power of the English Revolution was that it was headed by a Parliament which could govern; and the French Revolution had from the first an organized assembly which promised quite as orderly government as the King.

We are told that Admiral Kruger hesitates to take his ships into action against the revolted Kniaz Potemkine for fear that his men will not fire on their late comrades. Such hesitation shows the Admiral to be a student of history and human nature. That is precisely the danger of the incident. The revolt of men accustomed to obey orders, is contagious among men similarly situated, and always has been. Undoubtedly the sailors on the other ships in the Black Sea squadron have their grievances, and might be inspired by the spectacle of their comrades' success to think of avenging them in a similar manner. It is not too much to say that the fate of the Russian Empire hangs in the balance during these summer days; and that at any moment we may learn of events that will come to be ranked as among the most pregnant in human history.

"THE CANADIAN" WON.

"The Canadian" not only "applied" but was accepted in East Finsbury. It is not to be imagined that the insulting placard had anything to do with the result; but it is comforting for Canadians to note it failed to stampede a British constituency against the man with the Colonial label.

It is fair betting that the knowledge that a man was a Canadian would be of actual help to him in the majority of British constituencies to-day. British people may have had that "condescension toward outsiders" at one time to an unpleasant extent; but, since the Boer war contingents, at all events, Canada has been a name to conjure with in the British Isles. Many a British elector who was not keenly interested in the issues at stake in a particular election would enjoy paying "the Canadian" the compliment of voting for him, just because he represented one of the sturdiest "whelps of the Lion."

THE WAR SITUATION.

All other war news or war conjectures have been dwarfed by the terrible slaughter and destruction which followed the outbreak of insurrection at Odessa and Libau. Not in far-away Manchuria, but at the very gates of the Czar's most fruitful province have his soldiers been shot down and his battleships taken from him, and it is no longer possible to keep a knowledge of these things from the hundreds of thousands of discontented workers in other industrial centres. Better peace in the Far East, no matter the cost than the weakening of those military bonds which have served in the past to keep down all development which threatened the supremacy of the bureaucracy. The Czar needs his armies at home and needs them at once, and this fact, now that it has been borne home to him, will be more potent in making for peace than all the arguments of friendly Powers.

DAMMING LAKE ERIE.

The representatives of Montreal's trade and commerce are prudent to take alarm at every suggestion which may result in lowering the water at the wharves of this port or in either the canals or the channel which feeds them. The other day we were alarmed lest the building of a canal from Chicago to the Mississippi might have this effect; and now it is a proposal to dam Lake Erie that is suspected.

Our whole system of navigation is constructed on the basis of the present height of the St. Lawrence river. Parliament has carefully and at great cost deepened the St. Lawrence canals to give a fixed depth of water on the sills; and our vessels have been built to take advantage of it. Any lowering of the level of the river would necessitate either further heavy expense for depressing the bottom of the locks accompanied by a serious dislocation of the river shipping, or a flinging onto the dump of many of our best vessels.

There are too many vested interests along the shores of our lakes and rivers to-day for us to permit any one to play pranks with the level of the water. There may be inconvenience at some points, but it will have to be met precisely as we have met it here, with costly works. No port has been compelled to spend more money to adapt the conditions of its waterway to the needs of trade than Montreal, and it will not be likely to permit these expenditures to be made useless in order to relieve other sections of the continent from similar necessities.

A Good Roads Convention has been in session up in Brockville. It is a pity that our aldermen did not invite them to Montreal, and entertain them with a drive over our macadamised roads within the city limits. If this did not jolt some appreciation of even their country lanes into their brains by way of their vertebral columns, they must be hung on springs. The country is full of better road surfaces than many of our city streets present. The farmer who thinks that he has a grievance on this point, should harness up and drive in to see his city cousin. But he had better not bring a basket of eggs as a present unless he wishes it to arrive in the form of an omelet.

A new voting machine has been invented. At least, we are told that it is new, but when we learn that it is worked by a series of levers, doubts begin to arise. All the bad old standbys in the way of election machines have used leverage. These levers in the new machines start marbles rolling, and so cast the vote. This shows it to be but a puny thing, for it was log-rolling which the other levers set in motion, and the log-rolling determined the vote. However, it is said that "it is absolutely impossible to do anything crooked" with this machine. This seems to be a departure, unless it is merely a pre-election claim. With most election machines, it is absolutely impossible to do anything straight. If this virtuous report turns out to be true with regard to the new invention, it will never be popular with "the boys." A machine which cannot be used for crooked work, would be like an automobile which had always to be drawn by oxen. Its very purpose would be defeated in itself.

THIS DATE THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Hon. Thomas Coffin arrived in town this morning from Ottawa; also Mr. Perrault, the secretary to the Exhibition Commissioners.

BOTH gentlemen mentioned above have gone to their long rest. Mr. Coffin was a large shipbuilder and owner, and sat in the House of Commons for Shelburne, N. S., from 1867 until 1878. He was appointed Receiver-General in 1873, and sworn of the Privy Council. Mr. X. Perrault died a few months ago.

The young man who met with the accident yesterday in the Montreal Forwarding Company's warehouse, was attended by Dr. Rodgers, of Point St. Charles.

THE doctor has since passed away. He was for years the principal medical officer of the Grand Trunk Railway, and was highly esteemed by all the employes. He died in the early nineties.

The 6th Battalion paraded at the City Hall last evening, and after inspection by the colonel commanding, had a marchout through some of the principal streets. There was a very good muster.

THE above regiment was merged into the 1st Prince of Wales and styled "Fusiliers." The late Colonel Martin was the commanding officer at the time mentioned, and Captain Sullivan David was adjutant.

We are informed that the Convalescent Home, established last year at Murray Bay, is in a very satisfactory condition, with every prospect of success. The Richelieu Company has generously reduced the steamboat fares.

THE home was founded by the late Miss Hervey, and bears her name. The place is generally opened about the 1st July, for delicate women and children.

THE PASSING HOUR

As Dominion Day is observed by all, even the Gaynor and Greene case may take a much-needed rest.

Premier Balfour doesn't mind a little thing like a Cabinet crisis, but if the golf caddies struck for 15 cents a round he might begin to get nervous.

Warsaw, Lodz and Odessa. Even Toronto throwing vocal rocks at the Autonomy Bill, is not arrayed like one of these.

If Russia has been feeding its sailors on the latest brands of breakfast foods, it is easy to understand the reason for the riot.

The Japs worship their ancestors, and so do rich Canadians if they can produce records to show that the ancestors did not work in their shirt sleeves and eat pie with a knife.

CIRCUS POSTERS.

The circus posters now are up
Upon the poster fence,
The small boy sees some pictures that
Are simply quite immense.
The elephant and spotted horse,
The pink long-necked giraffe
Are there—the hip-po-pot-a-mus,
Likewise the sacred calf.
The agile lady in the air
Dives to a net below,
The Roman gladiators race
As they did long ago.
The small boy's not the only one
To gaze at them—the men
(And old ones, too,) they sneak a look
At the fences now and then.

Druggists should have their nerve tonics

Those 70 miles an hour trains are dangerous, but Linevitch would like to have a few on hand when Oyama begins shooting.

"Do famous men all drink?"—Toronto Star. No a man can be a big gun without getting loaded.

One burglar got away with $600,000. Only a life-long training in a good City Council could bring a man up to that stage of proficiency.

July is the month celebrated by the June bride to poison her husband with her first batch of biscuits.

Odessa might be a nice place in winter, but it is a little too hot to figure prominently in the list of popular summer resorts.

Toronto is boasting about its train service. Quite right. The train service there is kept up to a high standard for the convenience of people who want to get away from the place in a hurry.

The thing about a circus street parade that appeals to the public most is the low price of admission.

"EAT-O-BALE-O-HAY."

(Washington Star.)

Some day I'll be a man of strength
And wondrous intellect;
My lifetime will attain a length
That very few expect.
To view the future now I pause
In optimistic mood,
I'm certain of success because
I live on patent food.

I take a special kind for brain;
Another kind for brawn,
Great things I'm sure I shall attain
Before a year is gone.
I'll capture fortune by this plan,
My grasp it can't elude.
The world must bow before the man
Who lives on patent food.

the long-standing feeling of brotherly love long existing between the States and England?

One reason why illiteracy is so common in Russia is that the Czar won't allow the newspapers to publish anything worth reading.

When a man prints on his office door "Gone to New York. Back in thirty minutes," don't sit down to wait. He may never come back.

Would-be June brides who did not make a capture can console themselves with the fact that June, 1906, is coming.

A WESTMOUNT PLOT.

He raised potatoes in the yard,
And corn and cabbage, too;
Of hay he always had a crop,
And lots of beets he grew.
He raised some splendid cattle and
A family to praise,
But the mortgage was a thing that he Could never seem to raise.

It will be all right if the Lord Kitchener-Lord Curzon rumpus is conducted on the Norway and Sweden plan.

Marriage is a Cure for This Trouble.

They were seated so close together on the parlor sofa that there was no room between them for an argument, when she suddenly let loose a large and soulful sigh.

"What's the matter, darling?" he asked.

"Oh," she replied, "I just happened to think that this would be our last evening together until to-morrow evening!"

Bishop Williams, of Ontario, may perhaps notice that there is no race suicide among the mosquitoes this year.

That trolley car which was hit by an automobile and pushed over to the curb may congratulate itself that it was not sent home in a basket as kindling wood.

VIEWS OF BRITISH POLICY.

The Anglo-French treaty does not merely aim to remove every cause of dissention between the two countries concerned, but to isolate Germany.—Giornale d'Italia, Rome.

SCENTING A BARGAIN.

Let us continue to stand in with those Japanese. After they get their big war indemnity from Russia, we may be able to sell them the Philippines.—Constitution, Atlanta.

ENGLISHMEN'S PERSONALITY.

The male of the English race is of much more striking presence than the American; he keeps more of the natural priority of his sex in his costume.—Harper's Weekly, New York.

OUR DEADLY UNIFORMITY.

In dress in habits, in the words we use, we are bound to conform. It is the aim of every well-bred person to be in all respects exactly like every other well-bred person.—Barry Pain, in Pall Mall Magazine.

NORWAY'S EXPLANATION.

Nobody who contemplates the events of the last few days impartially can doubt that they have not taken place out of hatred to Sweden, but out of love for peace and the Fatherland.—Dagbladet, Christiania.

GLORY, OR ROUBLES.

Japan emerges so triumphant and powerful out of this eric struggle for supremacy! in the Far East that a few more roubles, or the retention of a few more Russian cruisers, will not affect her position.—Giornale d'Italia, Rome.

THE PROSPECTS OF PEACE.

It is doubtful whether the President, far-sighted as he is, has caught the right psychological moment; whether, that is, Russia is sufficiently beaten to accept terms which Japan is bound, for the sake of her own safety, to make severe.—Spectator.

WAR AND BOOT PRICES.

Is peace in sight? If so, we may reasonably look forward to cheaper material for both tanner and boot manufacturer. On the other hand, if the war is to go on, even for another six months, leather must become increasingl ydear and scarce.—Shoe and Leather Record.

"BOUDOIR COUNSEL."

Coined as a political phrase, "Boudoir Counsel" is too good to be lost. We have long wanted it to describe those little airy, wise things which women utter among themselves; those pronouncements upon the affairs of the world spoken over the rim of a tea-cup; the recommendations to great men which never reach their ears. "Boudoir Counsel," surely is the wisdom of butterflies in session.—Lady's Pictorial.

Flashes of Thought.

Our gilded youth has now gone abroad for the purpose of accumulating some more labels on its dress suit case.—Evening Mail.

We understand, however, that Bishop Potter's roof garden pays its license fee and doesn't keep open after hours.—Detroit News.

Mr. Morgan is generally observed in the act of buying things, but now he has a railroad that China is particularly anxious to have him sell.—Boston Herald.

Will the Panama Canal pay?—Chicago Inter-Ocean. Will it be built?—Indianapolis News. Chief Engineer Wallace, who has just resigned in disgust, could best answer that.—N. Y. Telegram.

This summer's rush of Americans abroad is unprecedented. All previous records are already surpassed by thousands. It is figured that from New York alone the number of bookings thus far is 80,000.—Boston Herald.

The horrors of the railroad wreck at Mentor were doubled by fire—another dreadful object-lesson of the need of fireproof safety in railroad travelling.—Portland Argus.

While Bishop Williams denounces with prophetic fire, race suicide in Ontario, Quebec with the soft answer that turneth away wrath bids the sister province be of good cheer as she will make good the breach in the national ramparts.—Ottawa Free Press.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

Siena, Italy, is famous for the large hats of its women, and the long horns of its cattle. The hats, which we know in America as Leghorn hats, are a peculiar product of Siena, although they are known abroad by the name of the city from which they are exported.

The Alaska Automobile Transportation Company has been incorporated at Olympia with a capital stock of $500,000 to engage in the operation of automobiles from Nome, on Behring Sea, to Solomon City, a distance of thirty-two miles, and to other points. The fare, it is said, will be $7, with three round trips daily for each machine.

Mr John Wanamaker has given the International Young Men's Association $100,000 to be used in constructing Christian Association buildings in heathen cities. The gift will be used to erect buildings in Kyoto, Japan; Pekin, China, and Seoul, Corea. He has testified his appreciation of what the association does for young men in missionary countries by previous gifts of buildings in Madras and Calcutta, India.

Flying fish are very voracious. In their turn they are preyed upon by barracudas, sharks, dolphins, bill-fish, red-fish, and a hundred and one others. Nature has colored the flying fish protectively. The back is a deep blue, merging into the blue of the seas they frequent, so that they are invisible a few feet below the surface, while the underneath is a dazzling white, and to a fish that looks upward must merge into the light falling on the sea.

A South African paper reports: "Whales are frequently seen in close proximity to Table Bay—in fact, at times, in the bay—but rarely or never has one been known to come within the dock area. During the early hours of a recent morning, however, one of these sea monsters was seen for some hours by the night watchman of the Table Bay harbor board swimming from Loch jetty to the South Arm and back again. It evidently could not find its way out of the dock for some time, but as daylight broke it suddenly disappeared."

"There never has been an important revolutionary movement without a red-haired person intimately concerned, if not the leader," says a writer. "Nearly all the great reformers or founders of religion had red hair; history mentions that Mohammed was a red-haired man. King David was ruddy. Louis XIV. was a sandy-haired man, with many of the characteristic peculiarities of the type. Cleopatra is called 'the red-haired Greek.' Mary, Queen of Scots, had red hair, and Prince Charles resembled her in coloring. Lucrezia Borgia, looks in her portraits somewhat auburn. Queen Elizabeth was of decidedly red coloring, which will suit both her admirers and detractors."

The Railway Must Pay Fire Damages.

Mr. Justice Dunlop yesterday condemned the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to pay Benoni St. Jean, of La Conception, in Terrebonne county, $5,000 damages for the destruction by fire of his house buildings and their contents in May, 1903.

This judgment, at first appears to conflict with the decision of the Privy Council in the Roy case, which held that provided the railway company took all the precautions necessary to prevent accidents, and used the best equipment, it would not be held responsible. In the present case, while the Court accepts the company's version that its trains were properly equipped, it holds the company guilty of negligence for leaving dry grass and brushwood along its tracks, giving the fire started by the engine an opportunity to extend two and a half acres to reach the plaintiff's buildings.

BRITISH RADICALS CRITICIZE CANADA

The Sincerity of Our Imperialism Is Called Into Question.

"INHERENT SELFISHNESS."

It is Alleged That Canada Cares Only for Her Own Interests and is Unfair to the Motherland.

Special Cable From the Montreal Star's Correspondent in London.

London, June 30.—I have authority to state that the Ministerial candidate in the Finsbury election never authorized the issue of a ridiculous leaflet spurning the Radical candidate because he was Canadian born. Directly the leaflet was heard of at headquarters it was instantly withdrawn and publicly repudiated as unworthy of any Englishman.

One has only to look at the British Parliament to-day to see how cordially Canadian born members are received and appreciated.

RADICALS QUESTION SINCERITY.

Meanwhile the Radical politicians and newspapers are seeking out everything which can be made to show that Canada cares only for Canadian interests and is not sincere in her professions favoring closer inter-Imperial co-operation.

The Manchester Guardian finds the best expression of "Canada's repudiation of Chamberlainism" in her official estimate that one Russian Pole equals three Englishmen as candidates for Canadian citizenship.

CALLED A "CHILDISH CONCEPTION.

The Morning Leader, another Radical journal tests the Canadian manufacturers speeches here by a proclamation which these same Canadian manufacturers address to the Canadian people, namely, "Keep your money in circulation at home by buying goods made in Canada."

The Leader calls this a childish conception of the functions of money.

RADICAL TALK TO EMIGRANTS.

In another part of the same issue the Leader warns emigrants that owing to the high protection in force in Canada they will have to pay twice as much for woollen clothes if they go to Canada, yet it is "a much harsher and inferior article and ill-suited for the cold climate."

It also says that much the same is true of Canadian cotton manufacturers.

QUEBEC'S NEW TAX.

The new Quebec commercial travellers' tax is also being quoted by politicians opposed to Imperial reciprocity to prove the "inherent selfishness" of the Canadian policy, a selfishness from which in practice Great Britain, as the world's first manufacturing nation, is bound to suffer more than foreigners.

MUST MAKE ALLOWANCES.

I interviewed a leading public man well known in Canada regarding these various signs of friction. He said: "Tell your Canadian friends to recall the occasional heat of their own internal politics, as for instance, when Sir Charles Tupper and Sir John Macdonald made their last united fight in Canada. At such times all sorts of favored nonsense was talked; just such as some of our people are talking here now.

HAS A NASTY LOOK.

"But nevertheless I must confess this seeming Canadian Government preference for the continental over the British settlers has a nasty look. It appears to come very near being a scandal, striking at the root of Imperial unity. If you Canadians really do not want even the best of our surplus population the time has come for all Englishmen and Canadians to think very seriously over their mutual relations. That Quebec tax, again, makes Englishmen feel most uncomfortable. However, I myself believe your statesmen will justify their high record and put anything right that is now wrong."

WINDERMERE.

Monument Being Set Up.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Quebec, June 30.—The bronze of the monument to the Canadian South African contingents has arrived here and is being now set up on the Esplanade it will be unveiled by the Governor General some day next week.

Body Found in River.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., June 30.—The body of a man is in the hands of the authorities at Morristown, N. Y., across the river from here, awaiting identification. Last night it was found floating in the river near that place. A week ago an empty skiff was found, bottom up, three miles further down the river and the discovery of this body recalls the incident. It is reported that three Assyrians appropriated a skiff answering the description of the above at Alexandria Bay about ten days ago and started down the river. The dead man may be one of them, and if so, the question arises what has become of the remaining two? A close watch will be kept in anticipation of their bodies coming to the surface in this vicinity.

EQUITABLE LIFE MIX-UP.

Nine Policy Holders Named to Safeguard Interests of People.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 30.—Nine men, all policyholders in the Equitable Life Insurance Society, have been named by trustees of the Ryan stock at their meeting here to fill vacancies in the directorate. The named are E. B. Thomas, New York, president Lehigh Valley Railway Company; F. G. Bourne, New York, president Singer Manufacturing Co.; William Whitman, Boston; John J. Albright, Buffalo; F. W. Roebling, Trenton, J. D. Schmidlapp, president Union Savings Bank and Trust Company, Cincinnati; E. W. Robertson, Columbia S.C.; Jos. Bryan, Richmond, Va., and E. W. Bloomdale, New York. The trustees issued an appeal to policyholders, telling them of the status of the trustees' work and pledging themselves to administer the trust solely to safeguard the interests of the people who were paying in money for the protection of their families.

Murderer Gets His Deserts.

New York, June 30.—Edward Pekars, a young man who beat an old woman to death, with a hammer, and who when put on trial demanded that he be sent to the electric chair with all possible dispatch, added to a record of cool demeanor when he thanked Judge Foster in the Court of Special Sessions Thursday after the Judge had sentenced him to death by electrocution on August 14 next.

Were Introduced on 'Change.

Mr. Charles W. Norval, North Williamsburg, cheese inspector for Eastern Ontario, was yesterday introduced on 'Change at the Board of Trade, by Mr. Thomas H. Ryan, and Mr. Peter D. Kiernan and Mr. Thomas F. Behan, of Albany, N. Y., were introduced by Mr. James McShane.

CHAPTER TWELVE.—(Continued.)

Under cover of this question Sam was feeling for important information. As has perhaps been mentioned, in a normal Indian community each head of a family is assigned certain hunting districts over which he has exclusive hunting and trapping privileges. This naturally tends toward preservation of the fur. An Indian knows not only where each beaver dam is situated, but he knows also the number of beaver it contains and how many can be taken without diminution of the supply. If, however, the privileges are not strictly guarded, such moderation does not obtain. When an Indian finds a dam, he cleans it out; because if he does not, the next comer will. Sam's question then apparently had reference only to the probability that the fur in a close district would be strictly enough preserved to make the establishment of a winter post worth while. In reality he wanted to measure the possibility of an outsider's gaining a foothold. Logically in a section where the tribal rights were rigidly held to, this would be impossible except through friendship or purchase; while in a more loosely organized community a stranger might readily insinuate himself.

"Good keeping of district," replied the Indian. "I keep head-waters of Kabinikagam down to Sand River. When I find man trapping on my ground, I shoot him. Fur last all right."

This sufficed for the moment. The next morning Sam went over early to the other camp.

"To-day I think we go," he announced. "Now you tell me all the hunters where I find them, what are their districts, how much fur they kill."

"Ah hah!" assented the Indian. Sam's leisurely and indirect method had convinced him. Easily given information, on the other hand, would have set him to thinking, and to think, with an Indian, is usually to become suspicious.

The two descended to the shore. There they squatted on their heels before a little patch of wet sand while the Indian explained. He marked roughly, but with almost the accuracy of a survey, the courses of streams and hills, and told of the routes among them. Sam listened, his gnarled mahogany hand across his mouth, his shrewd gray eyes bent attentively on the cabalistic signs and scratches. An Indian will remember, from once traversing it, not only the greater landmarks, but the little incidents of bowlder, current, eddy, strip of woods, bend of trail. It remains clear-cut in his mind forever after. The old woodsman had in his long experience acquired something of this faculty. He comprehended the details, and, what is more, stored them away in his memory, where he could turn to them readily. This was no small feat.

With an abrupt movement of the back of his hand the Indian smoothed the sand. Squatting back more on his haunches, he refilled his pipe and began to tell of the trappers. In their description he referred always to the map he had drawn on Bolton's imagination as though it had actually lain spread out before them. Sam referred each name to its district, as you or I would write it across the section of a chart, and kept accurately in mind which squares of the invisible map had been thus assigned and which not. It was an extraordinary effort, but one not unusual among practised woods runners. This peculiarly minute and concrete power of recollection is early developed in the wild life.

The Indian finished. Sam remained a moment in contemplation. The districts were all occupied, and the name of Jingoss did not appear. That was, however, a small matter. The Ojibway might well have changed his name, or he might be paying for the privilege of hunting in another man's territory. A less experienced man would have been strongly tempted to the more direct question. But Sam knew that the faintest hint of ulterior motive would not be lost on the Indian's sharp perceptions. An enquiry, carelessly and indirectly made, might do no harm. But then, again, it might. And it was better to lose two years of time in the search than a single grain of confidence in those with whom the little party might come in contact.

After all, Sam Bolton was well satisfied. He had, by his simple diplomacy, gained several valuable results. He had firmly convinced one man of a common body, wherein news travels quickly, of his apparent intentions; he had, furthermore, an exact knowledge of where to find each and every district head-man of the whole Kabinikagam country. Whether or not the man he sought would prove to be one of these head-men, or the guest or lessee of one of them, was a question only to be answered by direct search. At least he knew where to search, which was a distinct and valuable advantage.

"Mi-gwetch—thank you, he said to the Indian when he had finished, "I understand. I go now to see the Lake. I go to tell to each of your head-men. I go to see the trapping country with my own eyes. When I have seen all, I go to Winnipeg to tell my head-man what I have seen."

The Indian nodded. It would have been quite inconceivable to him had Sam suggested accepting anything less than the evidence of his eyes.

The three resumed their journey that afternoon. Sam knew exactly where he was going. Dick had fallen into a sullen yet rebellious mood, unaccountable even to himself. In his spirit was the ferment of a resentfulness absolutely without logical object. With such a man ferment demands action. Here, in the accustomed labours of this woods travel, was nothing to bite on save monotony: Dick Herron resented the monotony, resented the deliberation necessary to so delicate a mission, resented the unvarying tug of his tump-line or the unchanging yield of the water to his paddle, resented the placidity of the older man, above all resented the meek and pathetic submissiveness of the girl. His narrow eyes concentrated their gaze ominously. He muttered to himself. The untrained, instinctive strength of the man's spirit fretted against delay. His enthusiasm, the fire of his hope, urged him to earn his self-approval by great exertion. Great exertion was impossible. Always, day by day, night by night, he chafed at the snail-like pace with which things moved, chafed at the delay imposed by the nature of the quest, the policy of the old man, the presence of the girl. Only, in the rudimentary processes of his intelligence, he confused the three in one, and the presence of the girl alone received the brunt of his sullen displeasure. In the splendor of his strength, head down, heart evil, restrained to a bitter obedience by the knowledge that he could do nothing alone, he broke through the opposing wilderness.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN.

Sam Bolton gauged perfectly the spirit in his comrade, but paid it little attention. He knew it as a chemical reaction of a certain phase of forest travel. It argued energy, determination, dogged pluck when the need should arise, and so far it was good. The woods life affects various men in various ways, but all in a manner peculiar to itself. It is a reagent unlike any to be found in other modes of life. The moment its influence reaches the spirit, in that moment does the man change utterly from the person he has been in other and ordinary surroundings; and the instant he emerges from its control he reverts to his accustomed bearing. But in the dwelling of the woods he becomes silent. It may be the silence of a self-contained sufficiency; the silence of an equable mind; the silence variously of awe, even of fear; it may be the silence of sullenness. This, as much as the vast stillness of the wilderness, has earned for the region its designation of the Silent Places.

Nor did the older woodsman fear any direct results from the younger's very real, though baseless, anger. These men were bound together by something stronger than any part of themselves. Over them stood the Company, and to its commands all other things gave way. No matter how rebellious might be Dick Herron's heart, how ruffled the surface of his daily manner, Bolton knew perfectly well he would never for a single instant swerve in his loyalty to the main object of the expedition. Serene in this consciousness, the old woodsman dwelt in a certain sweet and gentle rumination of his own. Among the finer instincts of his being many subtle mysteries of the forest found their correspondences. The feeling of these satisfied him entirely, though of course he was incapable of their intellectualization.

The days succeeded one another. The camps by the rivers or in the woods were in essential all alike. The shelter, the shape, and size of the tiny clearing, the fire, the cooking utensils scattered about, the little articles of personal belongings were the same. Only certain details of surrounding differed, and they were not of importance,—birch-trees for poplars, cedar for both, a river bend to the northwest instead of the southwest, still water for swift, a low bank for a high; but always trees, water, bank, and the sky brilliant with stars. After a little the day's progress became a myth, to be accepted only by the exercise of faith. The forest was a great treadmill in which men toiled all day, only to be surrounded at night by the same grandeurs and littlenesses they had that morning left. In the face of this apparent futility time blew vast. Years were as nothing measured by the task of breaking through the enchanted web that enmeshed them.

And yet all knew by experience, though no one of them could rise to a realization of the fact, that some day their canoe would round the bend and they would find themselves somewhere. Then they could say to themselves that they had arrived, and could tell themselves that between here and their starting point lay so many hundred miles. Yet in their secret hearts they would not believe it. They would know that in reality it lay but just around the corner. Only between were dream-days of the shifting forest heavy with toil.

This is the enchantment the North lays on her children, so that when the toil oppresses them and death seems to win, they may not care greatly to struggle, knowing that the struggle is vain.

In the country of the Kabinikagam they visited thus many hunting districts. The travel neither hastened nor lagged. From time to time it was necessary to kill, and then the meat must be cared for. Berries and wild rice were to be gathered. July drew near its end.

Sam Bolton, knowing now the men with whom he had to deal, found no difficulty in the exercise of his simple diplomacy. The Ojibway defaulter was not to be heard of, but every nook searched without result narrowed the remaining possibilities. Everything went well enough until late one afternoon.

4719—CORSET COVER, 32 to 40 Bust—4719

Shapely corset covers that fit nicely yet are not over snug are in constant demand and never can be too numerous. This one is peculiarly pretty and attractive, is eminently simple and can be made of any of the materials in vogue for underwear. The model, however, is of linen batiste with insertion and frills of embroidery and bands of beading.

The corset cover is cut with fronts and back, which are laid in narrow tucks to the waist line, and is closed at the centre with a box plait in shirt waist style. Over the upper edge and at the waist line are applied bands of beading that are threaded with ribbon by means of which the size is regulated.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 1 1-2 yards 36 inches wide with 1 1-2 yards of insertion, 3 yards of edging and 1 1-2 yards of beading to trim as illustrated.

A May Manton pattern, No. 4719, cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measure, will be mailed to any address outside the city by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. City patrons must call at the Star Branch office, corner Peel and St. Catherine street.

ACCIDENT TO A CIRCUS TEAM

Triumphal Cars Break Loose on St. Lambert Hill.

CHARGED INTO THE CROWD

Four People Injured, But Only One Seriously Hurt—Ambulances Hurried Out.

The snapping of a chain used as a brake on one of the biggest of the Sells and Downs circus waggons on St. Lambert Hill this morning resulted in half a dozen people being injured, and one, an elderly lady, is not likely to recover.

The injured are: Mrs. Pierre Cornoyer, of Stadacona street, fifty-seven years of age, one arm broken and internal injuries. She is at the General Hospital.

Alice Cornoyer, daughter of the former, feet trampled upon by the horses. Taken to the General Hospital and thence home.

Mrs. Luc Rocher, elbow injured and gown torn. Taken home, after being treated in Roberts's drug store.

Elzear Manette, 11 years of age. Body crushed; internal injuries. Taken to Notre Dame Hospital.

Raoul Drolet, 15 Amherst street, leg hurt. Treated at Renaud's Market, and then taken home.

Wilfrid Prevost, leg hurt. Treated at Fuerst's restaurant and then taken home.

The waggon was one of those generally called a triumphal car. On the top of it sported men made up as country gawkins, and in their midst was a man who is known as "the barker." His mission is it to call attention, in a loud voice, to features of the great circus, and he was using his voice for all it was worth when the chain broke.

In an instant the front wheels of the chariot swung the horses to the left and then to the right. From side to side they went, each moment the ponderous machine gaining momentum, until as it neared the foot of the hill the horses were going as though engaged in the famous hippodrome with which all circus performances conclude.

To the east they turned plunging through a great crowd of men, women, and children.

Those who witnessed the scene feared that a terrible catastrophe had occurred. It seemed that many lives must be sacrificed in the wild dash of the animals dragging four tons of circus paraphernalia behind them.

JUMPED FOR SAFETY.

From the top of the waggon "the barker" was seen to jump for safety, but the rest of his friends took chances and held on. "It is not the first time," said one of them, "that I have been in trouble of that kind, and I always depend on the driver. He knows his business."

Evidently this driver did know his business for the horses and waggon swerved on to Craig street, the latter hitting a street car, but doing no damage in comparison with what was looked for.

Scores of people fell over each other in the rush for safety, and a good many were bruised. There were, however, only about ten in all that had to be picked up, and some of these were all right as soon as they recovered from their fright.

People near the other three corners of the crossing made for the telephones in each place of business. In all three cases the General, Notre Dame and Royal Victoria got hurry up calls, with a rider that scores of people were dead or dying.

It was a scene of great excitement. Wild rumors went all over the city and in the west end they had six people dead and a number dying. Careful enquiry shows that only one case is serious.

TO-DAY'S CIRCUS PARADE.

A Big Turnout This Morning Witnessed by Thousands.

The circus has come to town.

The small boy is in his glory, and the big boy, who passed into man's estate some time in the now rounded out century, is making his arrangements to quit business early and wander circusward.

In the downtown districts crowds of the curious began to congregate as early as half-past nine o'clock, and by half-past ten such thoroughfares as St. James street were blocked to exasperation of the street car motormen, who were intent upon making their schedule time.

Then along came the parade of the Sells and Downs show, led off by two of Montreal's finest on horseback, who in turn impressed upon the people the necessity of keeping to the sidewalk. But what would a circus be to the small boy who was not accorded the privilege of walking beside the clown and chasing the band of "Jays" who perform upon all sorts of weird musical instruments?

The horses drawing the long string of vans and band waggons were a likely looking lot of beasts, as were also those upon whom the equestrians rode. The women portion of the aggregation rode their horses man fashion, and were decked out in fetching costumes of white. Then there was a long string of camels and elephants, and exposed cages, in which the lions, tigers and other beasts were viewed.

ARRIVAL OF SPECIAL TRAINS.

The two special trains carrying the menagerie and circus arrived at an early hour this morning, and matters soon got lively on Fletcher's Field. The huge tents went up like magic, and everything was bustle and stir.

The young boys, the old boys; the small boys, the big boys; old old ladies and the young ladies—everyone talked circus.

And the day! It couldn't be surpassed. Just cool enough to be pleasant, and just warm enough to impress one with the fact that summer is here, the weather clerk was kind.

Crowds were at the grounds this morning to witness the tent-raising and to catch a glimpse of the animals. By noon everything was in readiness for the afternoon performance.

A feature of the parade was the four excellent bands. The musical director is Prof. Chas. H. Tinney; in Prof. Tinney's own particular band, there are thirty-six musicians, all the best, and the other three bands are equally as good. With gorgeous costumes they made a splendid showing.

There were an unusual number of open cages in the parade, and glimpses were caught of all kinds of wild animals. The waggons are glittering with coats of fresh paint; everything is neat and clean. In the cages there were leopards, lions, tigers, bears, hyenas. The animals are well-groomed, and well-trained. Walking in the procession there were elephants, camels, and everything that contributes to the best kind of parade.

After the parade a free performance was given at the grounds, which will be repeated this evening.

BUILDING STRIKE IS CONTINUED

The Carpenters Continue to Feel Confident of Success.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE IS FIRM

Employers Say Contracts Were Made on Old Rate and Cannot Pay Demands.

Indications point to the strike of the carpenters and joiners lasting some days, but the men seem to have no fear whatever of the outcome of the struggle.

When a Star reporter called at the headquarters of the union this morning Messrs. Narcisse Arcand, who is representing the International Brotherhood, and Joseph-E. Bayard, president of the District Council, were making active preparation in connection with interviewing more employers.

The leaders were in a very happy frame of mind and informed the Star that notwithstanding the resolutions declaring for "open shop" passed at yesterday evening's meeting of the Builders' Exchange, the carpenters and joiners would not recede one jot from their demands, which they considered entirely just. "We are prepared to resist for an interminable time," said the speaker, "and there will be no compromise."

The following are a few of the most important buildings that are tied up as a result of the strike:

The new Alexandra Hospital, at Point St. Charles; Grosvenor Flats, corner of Guy and Sherbrooke streets; McGill Y. M. C. A., corner McGill College avenue and Sherbrooke street; Hochelaga Bank, corner Mount Royal avenue and St. Denis street; City and District Savings Bank, corner Pine avenue and St. Lawrence street; a large structure at the corner of Sherbrooke and St. Denis streets, and hundreds of handsome dwellings in all parts of the city.

SIGNED NEW SCHEDULE.

Mr. Bayard said that the William Grace Company, Limited, and J. D. Loomis & Sons had agreed to the new schedule just the same as the other ten or twelve, and that there was no understanding when they signed that all others should do likewise. "As a matter of fact," said Mr. Bayard, "the Degan firm signed on June 20, and have been paying the new rates since that time." Mr. Bayard said that the Baron de Hirsch Institute had interfered, and were trying to supply carpenters and joiners, but the few men furnished by the institute were almost useless as mechanics, besides they could not speak the languages of the country.

At last evening's meeting of the Builders' Exchange, the following resolution was adopted:

First—"That the Carpenters and Joiners' Union be not recognized."

Second—"That this body declare itself in favor of the 'open shop.'"

Mr. Narcise Arcand, when seen, stated that the union had neither demanded recognition nor a closed shop.

At last night's meeting of the Builders' Laborers, held in St. Joseph's Hall, resolutions were adopted promising their financial and moral support to the striking carpenters. The business agent was instructed to stop the hod carriers on all buildings affected by the strike and where their own demands have been refused.

The employers declare that they cannot pay the increase demanded, as contracts were made on the present scale of wages, with ten hours as a day's work.

On the other hand the officials of the union state that the employers were notified regarding the proposed new rates six months ago.

Some of the plasterers seemed to be dissatisfied, but no action has been taken by the organization.

RUSH OF EXCURSIONISTS.

Many Montrealers Took in Midsummer Trip to New York.

Quite a crowd went out on the morning trains of the New York Central to-day on the midsummer excursion to New York. Over a hundred people took advantage of the special rates and a heavy train went out of the Windsor station over the St. Lawrence and Adirondack division of the New York Central. For the evening train there has been a considerable rush, and six sleepers have been put on the regular train to accommodate the excursionists.

A Fourth of July excursion leaving points in New York State on Monday next will probably bring a large number of excursionists to Canada over the New York Central, as the excursion rates this year have been extended over the whole Adirondack division right into Montreal.

ST. ANTOINE EXPROPRIATIONS

The Proprietors Between Inspector and Windsor.

Inspector Barlow has completed his list on the report of the Expropriation Commissioners for St. Antoine street. The expropriation will cost $107,808.76, but the city by the sale of certain remains of lots realizes the sum of $9,538.15, which will leave the cost $98,270.

The city pays half this sum, the other half being paid by properties on the street. The list of assessments has been deposited with Mr. Barlow, and can be examined up till July 10. Next day Mr. Barlow will begin to hear complaints.

MUTINY OF RUSSIAN SAILORS SPREADS TO CRONSTADT NOW

Chief Naval Station on the Baltic Is Invested by Sailors in Open Revolt.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The rumored mutiny of 8,000 sailors at Cronstadt is confirmed. One officer was killed.

The situation was reflected by an all round slump on the Bourse to-day. Imperial fours were sustained by the Government, but nevertheless they fell almost a point.

Cronstadt is the most strongly fortified seaport to the north of Russia, and the great naval station of the Russian fleet in the northern seas, seat of the Russian Admiralty and of a military governor.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—A sensational report is current that 8,000 Imperial sailors, together with the workmen at the yards and docks of the naval port of Cronstadt, have suddenly refused to work and that practically a state of mutiny exists.

It is situated on the island of Kotlin, near the head of the gulf of Finland, twenty miles west of St. Petersburg, of which it is the chief port.

The island divides the approach by sea to St. Petersburg into two channels, that on the northern side being obstructed by shoals which extend across it.

On the south side of the town there are three harbors, the large western or merchant harbor, capable of containing over a thousand ships, and the middle harbor, used chiefly for fitting out and repairing vessels, and the eastern or war harbor, for vessels of the Russian navy.

Almost all vessels bound for St. Petersburg touch at Cronstadt, and those drawing more than eight to ten feet of water load and unload there, the goods being conveyed to and from the capital on lighters. The port is ice-bound during the winter months, but in other months above three thousand vessels enter and clear.

A very large proportion of the inhabitants are sailors and large portions of the inhabitants are artisans employed in the dock yards.

THE GAYNOR-GREENE CASE CONTINUED

The Defendants Are Arranging for Appeal to Privy Council.

Counsel for Messrs. Gaynor and Greene gave further evidence to-day of their intention to fight on in their efforts to prevent their clients being taken back to Georgia to stand their trial on charges of thefts aggregating $2,600,000.

At the moment when it was expected by those who sat in Judge Oulmet's chambers that the argument for a writ of habeas corpus would be commenced Mr. Taschereau announced that Mr. Surveyor, one of the counsel engaged with him, was on his way to England to appeal to the Privy Council against the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada which had backed up decisions of the lower courts refusing a writ of prohibition to prevent Commissioner Lafontaine hearing the case.

This announcement came just as Mr. Justice Outmet had rendered his decision on the argument of Mr. MacMaster that the application for a writ of habeas corpus must be made to a court sitting in regular term. His Lordship decided that the accused had a right to argue their case before him in Chambers, and he declared that he was ready to hear the case.

It was then that Mr. Taschereau made his announcement, and Mr. MacMaster suggested that if an adjournment were going to be made that it should be for sufficient length of time to give his clients, the United States Government, the right to send some one to reply to counsel for the accused.

It was decided to adjourn until July 20, and in the meantime his Lordship requested counsel to furnish him with the factums in their case, and to be ready to complete their argument.

ARM MANGLED.—O. Jacques, 21 years of age, had his arm mangled in a machine while he was at work last evening in the factory of the Colonial Bleaching Company. He was taken to the General Hospital.

C.A.A.U. DECLARES WAR TO THE KNIFE

President Gorman Will Professionalize All the Clubs.

The Canadian Amateur Athletic Union has declared war to the knife on the clubs forming the National Amateur Lacrosse Union.

President Gorman claims that the passing of the resolutions last Monday in regard to professionals was unconstitutional, and therefore he warns the clubs of the National Amateur Lacrosse League that he will suspend all those who play with or against professionals.

The text of his letter follows:

"I have to inform you that I am still of the opinion that the action of the Board of Governors of the C. A. A.U., at the meeting of said board, on June 26, 1905, in dealing with the resolution presented at that meeting, to allow amateurs and professionals to compete together, was unconstitutional, and that the said board had no power to act under article 13 of the Constitution of the C. A. A. U., which reads as follows:

ARTICLE XIII.—AMENDMENTS.

"No addition, alteration or amendment shall be made to this constitution except at the annual meeting of the union by a two-thirds vote of the members represented. At least thirty days' notice of any such proposed change must be given to the secretary of the Union in writing, of which at least twenty days' notice shall be given to the members of the union by the secretary.

"And also that the powers of the Board of Governors to prescribe and amend by-laws and rules for the government of the union are bounded by the constitution, therefore, pending an appeal before a general meeting of the union on the action of the Board of Governors, I will ask you to inform the clubs under your jurisdiction, as president of the National Amateur Lacrosse Union, that any person competing with or against professionals, will render themselves liable to suspension.

GREATER MONTREAL SCHEME DISCUSSED

Ald. Carter Explains Objections to Immediate St. Henri Annexation.

Some interesting information was given at the City Hall to-day by Ald. Carter, a member of the Finance Committee, in regard to the contemplated annexation of St. Henri.

"I must say," said Ald. Carter, "that I am against the annexation of St. Henri unless St. Cunegonde is brought in at the same time. The truth is that the finances of St. Henri are not in a very saisfactory condition; if, however, St. Cunegonde were annexed at the same time as St. Henri matters would be so balanced that the burdens which Montreal would have to bear by the annexation of St. Henri would be made much easier. It should be remembered that St. Cunegonde intervenes as a municipality between St. Henri and the city; in other words St. Cunegonde is the natural continuation of the city—St. Henri coming in next. It does seem peculiar to annex a ward (St. Henri) that can only be reached by the city by first going through St. Cunegonde.

"I must say that I am in favor of annexing various municipalities surrounding Montreal. I happen to know that many municipalities are willing to-day to throw in their lot with the city. It certainly stands to reason that the longer we delay annexing municipalities the greater their debt is sure to be. If we had annexed St. Henri years ago its debt would not have been what it now is.

"A municipality that the city should promptly annex is Maisonneuve. This municipality has a fine river frontage contiguous with the wharves of Montreal. We all know that in a few years the city will have to extend its wharves still further eastwards. If Maisonneuve were a part of the city arrangements could now be made for future wharf space there. In time Maisonneuve is sure to go in an extensive manner into the erection of wharves; it is then that its debt will begin to pile up. We should guard against this. If we annex Maisonneuve promptly the city and the Government can intelligently plan out a great wharf scheme for the place.

"There are many small municipalities to the north of the city that have little or no debt. They should be annexed at once. We know that it is almost impossible for citizens to get houses, but if we annexed a number of residential municipalities the dearth of houses would soon be done away with; the Street Railway would extend its railway system into such wards and then citizens would be able to get all the houses they desire. I think the time has come when the question of Greater Montreal must be considered in the most serious manner."

The Allan line steamship Pomeranian, from Havre, reported inwards at Fame Point at 5 a.m. to-day.

RAIN SPOILED ITS CELEBRATION

King's Birthday Festivities Spoiled by the Weather.

London, June 30.—The trooping of the colors, the main feature of King Edward's birthday celebration, had to be postponed to-day, owing to inclement weather.

The representatives of the Seventh Regiment N. G. S. N. Y., however, proceeded to Buckingham Palace, where they were received by His Majesty.

Fourteen members of the regiment marched through the Mall to the palace, assembled in the Ambassadors' room, and then were ushered into the throne room, where the King welcomed them. The presentations were made by Col. Sir Howard Vincent, of the Westminster Volunteers. The King expressed his pleasure at seeeing the Americans, and congratulated them on their appearance. He said he was glad to hear they had found the British riflemen hospitable, as he knew the Americans to be in the case of a visit from British marksmen. The King shook hands with each of the visitors on their departure.

Most of the reviews, naval and military, in honor of the King's birthday, had to be postponed on account of the rain. The usual salutes were fired at the garrison towns and at the ports the warships were dressed.

The Canadian Opticians.

The Canadian Association of Opticians opened their annual convention in the Natural History Society's museum building, 32 University street, this morning. The convention opened at 10.30 with the secretary's report and president's address. The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock with presentation of resolutions: 1. That we adopt some name for the use of the profession. 2. That every application for membership require a "thesis" to support it.

A paper was read by E. Culverhouse, B.O.A., past president, Toronto, on "Refraction, Accommodation, Equilibrium."

A NEW WINDSOR TO BE PUT UP

The Present Building Will Be Replaced by a New Structure.

AMONG FINEST IN THE WORLD

The Work of Rebuilding Will Be Done One Wing at a Time During Two Years.

"The present building of the Windsor Hotel, will practically be entirely torn down, and an entirely new building will be erected upon its foundations.

"The cost will probably be two million dollars, and the new building will have between seven hundred and fifty and eight hundred rooms.

"The time it will take to erect the new building will be two years and a half."

This statement was made to-day by Mr. W. S. Weldon, manager of the Windsor, who has just returned from an extensive trip which he took with Mr. J. T. Dawes, one of the directors, for the purpose of inspecting the latest up-to-date hotels in America.

Work will be commenced by tearing down the Windsor Hall, and building a wing on its foundations, a wing that will go to the limit of height permitted by the city statutes, ten stories, and will contain two hundred and seventy-five rooms.

It will take fifteen months, Mr. Weldon says, to complete that wing.

When this is finished and ready for occupancy, the other wings will be torn down one by one, and the hotel will be rebuilt piecemeal.

"We are just at the period at which the greatest improvements are being made in hotel buildings, and the new Windsor, which has a finer site than almost any hotel in America, will be one of the finest in the world," said he.

It almost reads like a fairy tale to hear the manager tell of the wonderful improvements that have been added to hotels these last few years, and that will be found in the new Windsor.

Although the final decision of the Board of directors will be made on Tuesday, it is stated by people who are on the inside that a plan for the new building has virtually been approved.

MODERN CHANGES.

Mr. Weldon has seen enough to enable him to say that the dining room of the new Windsor will be on the ground floor. In the new Astor, at New York, a splendidly appointed hotel, although not quite so gorgeously fitted up as some of the others, everything of this nature was downstairs. Even the wine room was in sight, and twenty or more can sit down and have a meal right beside the wine shelves. Grill rooms were found in all the first class hotels, but in the United States they are closed during the summer season.

At the Breslin, on the corner of Broadway and 29th street, the dining room, coffee and tea rooms were all found on the ground floor, while the kitchen was below. There was not the sign of a disagreeable smell, and at the Gotham there was not even a separating door between the kitchen and the stairway leading to the dining-room. At the Manhattan, where Messrs. Weldon and Dawes put up, 300 rooms have been added to the original 300 of ten years ago. Mr. Hardenburg was also the architect of this house, which the manager of the Windsor pronounces one of the most comfortable in the United States. But he says everything that is anything in the hotel line is on the European plan, and he declares that their new hotel will be run absolutely on the European system. He says that 75 per cent. of their present guests would be only too glad to have the change, and the rest would soon find it to their general advantage. In New York, the old Fifth Avenue is the only one remaining that is run on the American plan, and at Toronto the King Edward finds that a very large percentage demands the European system.

COLLISION AT A WHARF.

An Excursion Steamer Damaged by Sister Boat.

Quite a shock was experienced in the early hours this morning by some three to four hundred excursionists who had enjoyed a moonlight excursion to Longue Pointe, on board the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company's steamer Berthier.

As the Berthier approached the wharf she attempted to land next to the Chambly, of the same line. Some misunderstanding of the signals from the captain to the engine room, or a defect in the signal apparatus caused the Berthier to strike the Chambly forward. The shock, while it was not very great, was sufficient to break the Chambly from her moorings forward and to throw alarm among the excursionists.

Fortunately the moorings aft of the boat held fast, and she merely swung around in the stream. A tug was soon secured, when it was found that the Chambly had been damaged to a slight extent, yet enough to put her out of commission for a few days. By this time the passengers on the Berthier had reached the wharf, none the worse for their scare. Fortunately the officers of the boat and the organizers of the excursion working together had been able to reassure the passengers, and no panic occurred.

After being temporarily repaired, the Chambly went down to Sorel, where she will be repaired. The steamer Terrebonne will take the Chambly's line to Boucherville, Varennes and Vercheres, while the other boat is being repaired.

THE YARMOUTH BANK CASE.

Montreal Bank People Deny Prevalence of Illegal Returns.

Montreal bankers are inclined to be indignant over the imputation that it is quite the common practice among Canadian banks to charge overdue accounts, more or less worthless, in the column headed current loans.

This, it appears, was the practice with the defunct Bank of Yarmouth, according to the testimony in the trial of the cashier, and even the judge in his charge stated that it appeared to be a common practice among bankers to make their returns in this manner.

"If this be so," remarked a prominent bank manager to-day, "then we should all be in prison, for it would be nothing more or less than a falsification of sworn returns.

"However, the charge is too ridiculous to receive serious consideration. Speaking for my own bank, and I believe also for the others, I can state most positively that for all bad or doubtful debts due allowance is made regularly, and they are not placed in the column of current loans."

The Allan line Royal mail steamship Victorian, from Liverpool, reported inward at Cape Magdalene at 3 a.m. to-day.

MORE REGIMENTS FOR ODESSA

Kruger Will Blockade the Port While Troops Press On.

RIOTERS WILL BE OVERCOME

Then the Mutineers Will Be Starved Into Submission, Says the Russian Admiralty.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Not since the unsuccessful attempt in December, 1825, when a portion of the guard regiments joined in an attempt to set up a republic in Russia has the situation of the autocracy and the Romanoff dynasty been so serious.

Nevertheless the crisis may be passed in a few days. Either the open revolt will be stamped out or the flames will have spread positively beyond the hope of control. At the Admiralty it is said Rear-Admiral Kruger's squadron is expected to arrive at Odessa during the day. No explanation is offered for the delay in the squadrons sailing from Sevastopol nor of the nature of Kruger's orders. It is admitted, although great reticence is manifested, that at 9 o'clock last night the Kniaz Potemkin was firing upon the city.

THINKS THEM DRUNK.

The Admiralty thinks the mutinous crew were probably drunk. The officials consider it possible that the crew were supporting the strikers and revolutionists ashore against the troops. Throughout the day the soldiers and police had evidently refrained from attempting to interfere with the strikers under the threats of the mutineers of the battleship to use her guns against them.

Although it is possible that the quiesence of the soldiers was due to fear, the authorities think they are unreliable and a regiment of Dragoons and a brigade of artillery have been sent to Odessa from Kherson. The troops should have arrived at Odessa this morning. With these reinforcements and the city under martial law, it is believed the military governor will be strong enough to attempt to suppress the rioters by force. The plan is believed to be for the troops to crush the disorders in the city while Kruger's squadron holds the entrance of the harbor. It is apparently questionable whether Kruger will engage the Kniaz Potemkin if she refuses to surrender, as firing upon the vessel might be too dangerous a test for the sailors on board his ships.

Besides it would involve necessarily the destruction of the battleship costing several millions and damage to the city. Admiral Skrydloff's plans of starving out the mutinous crew is more likely to be followed.

STARVED OUT OF HIDING.

At Libau the mutinous sailors to the number of about 5,000 were finally corralled by troops and artillery in a wood near the port, and by this morning a thousand of them had already surrendered. Their comrades possibly will be starved out. Whether there was any great loss of life is as yet unknown. Great precautions are being taken to prevent the possible spread of mutiny to the sailors of St. Petersburg and Cronstadt.

The newspapers are not allowed to print a word of despatches regarding the revolt of the sailors, but several of them in a roundabout fashion have succeeded in hinting at startling developments.

The Novoe Vremya, with seeming innocence announced that the Viedomoski Gradonatshalstwa (Gazette of the prefecture of Odessa), had requested the inhabitants of that city to keep off the streets to avoid accidents when the troops are firing. Other papers remark upon the massing of troops in South Russia.

Considerable nervousness prevails among the upper classes at St. Petersburg. Many of those who have not already left town for the summer are hastily preparing to go abroad.

M. Bezobrazoff, president of the Yalu Timber Company, has suddenly arrived in St. Petersburg.

Squadron Arrives at Last.

Paris, June 30.—Official advices from Odessa saw that three warships of the Black Sea fleet have arrived there for the purpose of taking measures against the mutinous crew of the battleship Kniatz Patmkin.

No action has yet been taken, nor has the commander of the squadron indicated his intention. Some fear is felt that the crews of the arriving warships may sympathize with the mutineers and join issue with them.

MR. MORSE BACK FROM WEST.

He Denies Reports of a Hitch in Grand Trunk Pacific Surveys.

Mr F. W. Morse, second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has just returned from a visit to Winnipeg in connection with certain details of the road.

He was shown the following telegram from Winnipeg:

"An Ottawa despatch intimates that the delay in proceeding actively with the work on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in the matter of surveys and the awarding of contracts, is owing to what is called another hold-up; in other words, that further concessions have been asked by the company, and the Government will bring down proposals for meeting the company's demand before the close of the session. Some reports say that the Intercolonial Railway will be handed over to the company and the projected line in the Maritime Provinces will be abandoned. Again it is stated that no surveys of the proposed line between Winnipeg and the junction of the proposed branch to Fort William have been made, and the company has in contemplation the purchase of the Canadian Northern system from Winnipeg to Lake Superior. These are among the current reports."

In reply, he said: "Yesterday, in Toronto, I heard of this despatch. The facts regarding our work are as have been reported from time to time in the press. Our surveys are proceeding satisfactorily, and as soon as our specifications are out of the printer's hands tenders will be asked."

Was Cremated This Morning.

In accordance with the will left by the late H. N. Wilkinson, the architect, who shot himself in the Terrapin Restaurant a couple of days ago, his remains were cremated in the Mount Royal Cemetery, at 10 o'clock this morning.

In the amateur finals, second consolation, C. C. James, Lambton, beat G. R. Harvey, Hamilton, 2 up.

In the open championship, to begin to-morrow morning, there are 72 drawn.

THE FIRE COMMITTEE.

They Discuss Smoke Nuisance and New Fire Station.

There was some discussion at the meeting of the Fire Committee yesterday over the statement made by Ald. Lapointe that he would move, at the next meeting of the City Council, for the dismissal of the boiler inspector and for the dismissal of the building inspector because they did not try to enforce the by-laws against the smoke nuisance.

Ald. Sauvageau, Duquette and Proulx said they thought that Ald. Lapointe was acting in too drastic a manner in trying to get the employes in question dismissed.

It was the opinion of Ald. Robertson that the employes should do all they could to abolish the smoke nuisance; at the same time he could see no good in being too severe.

It was then decided to let the matter remain over for the present.

The committee discussed the purchasing of a new site for a fire station in the west end. The desire was to remove the old fire station on St. Catherine street near Bleury. It was shown that this station was too small and that a fine modern station ought to be built.

Superintendent Ferns, of the Fire Alarm Department, asked that when the new fire station was built it should contain quarters for the instruments of his department.

The committee were apparently of opinion that the fire station and fire alarm department should be in one building, but the question was left over till a site is secured. Several were mentioned, and as the prices were rather high, selection was left to a sub-committee.

It was reported that several sites had been seen. The prices for same had varied from ten to fifteen thousand dollars.

The decision was arrived at to consult the Finance Committee over getting sufficient funds to purchase a really suitable site.

EMMANUEL CHURCH SALE.

At a special general meeting of Emmanuel Congregational Church, held last evening, the sale of that property to Mr. James R. Wilson for the sum of $160,000, being at the rate of ten dollars a foot, was ratified; and a resolution was passed empowering the trustees of the church to take such steps as might be necessary to purchase a property for the erection of a new building, and if found advisable, a pastor's residence, and to have prepared preliminary plans of same.

It is not known for what purpose Mr. Wilson has purchased the property, but it is understood that he has secured it simply as an investment. The church people have to vacate the premises on or before May 1, 1906.

IMPORTANT SALE OF PROPERTY.

An important sale of property has taken place in St. Ann's Ward.

The estate of the late Patrick Brennan was sold to the Montreal Steel Works, Ltd., the property on St. Etienne street, near St. Patrick street. It is understood that the company has prepared plans for the enlargement of their works on this property, this being the only direction in which they can extend; as their works are bounded on the north by the canal, on the east by the civic park, and on the west by the sugar refinery, they are hemmed in on three sides.

The sale was effected by Mr. T. J. O'Neill, acting for the estate, and the price paid for the property was $15,000. This is an advance of about twenty-five per cent. on the price for which the property would have been sold a year or two ago.

Was Toronto Gold Bricked ?

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, June 30.—It rather looks as though Toronto was gold-bricked at the last session of the Provincial Legislature when the city was given power to establish and operate an electric light plant at Toronto Island, the cost not to exceed $40,000. This was looked on as a great public ownership victory at the time. But the city engineer's estimate furnished today shows that a plant that would meet the needs of the island would cost $90,000.

ODESSA RIOTS AND EFFECT ON STOCKS

Russian Bo ds Declined While Japanese Issues Went Higher.

GENERAL MARKETS STEADY

Three Failures in London, But Not Important—Very Little of Interest to the Montreal Market.

The sensational incidents in Russia have created a great deal of interest in the stock markets, but the effect of the developments on prices was not especially marked.

Naturally, Russian bonds were inclined to be soft, and the Paris markets were nervous. Russian 4 per cent's broke 1¼ points in London yesterday, and held barely steady to-day.

On the other hand, Japanese bonds were a little better, in spite of the depressing news that another big issue of bonds is coming out.

Late yesterday Wall Street seized upon the Odessa incident to hammer the market back, but after a weak opening to-day prices recovered, and at one o'clock the general list was fractionally above the early prices.

The London market was rather mixed. Three suspensions were announced on the Stock Exchange there during the forenoon. They were those of Andrew MacKinnon, Esterbrook and Co., and Watson and Co. None were important. They are understood to have arisen out of the default of customers trading in Kaffir stocks. Wires said that London sold about 60,000 shares of stock in Wall Street.

There has been a 4 point advance in Havana preferred owing to the momentary scarcity of the stock. It sold here yesterday at 56½, and was bid up to 60½ here, with 62 asked. A block of 100 shares sold in New York at 61¾. The common was firm, but unchanged, at 15.

There was a report yesterday that Cuba was sending some buying orders for this stock, and there is also said to be quite a little local demand.

There is nothing being done in the mining shares that have figured in the merger. Toronto traded in a little War Eagle around yesterday's level, but the others were purely nominal.

Some trading was reported in Canadian Gold Field's Syndicate at 5. The par value of the shares is 10 cents.

The Montreal market still displayed its holiday appearance, and trading in all stocks was restricted to very narrow limits.

A steady but moderate demand is still noticed for Dominion Steel bonds, which sold ex-coupon 2½ per cent. at 84½, or equal to 87. Coal bonds also appear to be attracting a little more attention, and are firm at 99¾, some fair-sized blocks having changed hands recently on that basis.

Some persons about the street speak very highly of the second mortgage bonds of the Steel Company, but there has not been any trading in them for some days, and they are nominally quoted at 80.

Ogilvie Flour Mills pref. was quoted ex-rights to-day. The rights were offered at 8, which is the equivalent of 140.

Detroit was moderately active. It was worked as low as 93 in Wall Street yesterday, and closed at that figure, but recovered to-day, and there were sales in both markets at 93½ to 93⅝.

One lot of $50,000 new Mexican bonds were sold at 90 and 20 on the curb, but there was nothing else done, and prices are unchanged.

Louisville and Nashville sold off at the opening on the declaration of the regular dividend, there evidently having been some bull speculation on an expected advance.

Wheat turned firm on further apprehension of the Russian situation and unfavorable weather in Kansas for harvest. Corn and oats are firm with wheat.

Northern Securities were quoted in Wall Street at 165 to 165¾.

Sales to noon in Wall Street to-day amounted to 322,800 shares.

TO INVESTIGATE MUTUAL.

Insurance Inspector Will See if Lawson's Charge is Correct.

In view of Mr. T. W. Lawson's charge that the Mutual and N. Y. Life Companies are even worse than the Equitable, President R. A. McCurdy, of the Mutual, has asked the N. Y. State Superintendent of Insurance to investigate the affairs of that company.

It will be some time, however, before Mr. Hendricks can put a large force to work on the books of the Mutual Life. The affairs of the Equitable Society, it is understood, will require the attention of the State Insurance Department probably until October, when a force of accountants will begin working on the Mutual Life books. In the meantime, however, Mr. Hendricks will set two or three accountants at work examining the Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s affairs. It was explained at the office of the Mutual Life Company that in view of the scandal connected with the Equitable affair, and the uneasiness created thereby among policyholders in other companies as well, the Mutual management desired to have an accounting made to clear up the atmosphere.

TREMENDOUS RISE IN HUDSON BAYS

Lord Strathcona Millions Ahead on His Holdings in That Concern.

HOW THE STOCK HAS ACTED

Comparative Land and Trading Profits for Series of Years—Dividends Have Been Increased.

Lord Strathcona.

One of the biggest money-makers in the stock market has been Hudson's Bay stock.

A few years ago it was going begging at £18. It rose early this year to £76¼.

The public has no idea how much of this stock Lord Strathcona holds but he is the biggest shareholder of the company, and the advance has added many millions to his fortune.

In less than half a dozen years, Hudson's Bays have appreciated to the extent of over 250 per cent., apart from the return of capital, which shows that the undertaking, dating from 1670, as the "Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay," is "going strong" two hundred and thirty-five years after its original inception.

In the past year the trading profits were somewhat larger than in the preceding twelve months, though they were substantially smaller than in the record year 1902-1903, while the profits from the sales of land were in excess of those of any previous year, owing to the payment of instalments on the bumper sales of the period 1901-1903.

In the twelve months ended May 31 last the trading profit amounted to £102,969, comparing with £98,934 for the previous year; and, after setting aside £20,000 to credit of buildings account, the balance of the land account for the year amounted to £187,364, as against £179,047, and, with £93,731 brought forward, the directors have a disposable balance of £384,065.

The interim dividend of 10s per share paid in January last absorbed £50,000, and it is now proposed to make a balance distribution of 48s per share, or a total of £2 18s, equal to 29 per cent. per annum, carrying forward £94,065.

For some time past the profits from the land sales have been substantially larger than those from the company's trading operations, as will be seen from the subjoined table of the net results for the past dozen years, in which we also show the dividends paid:

Year to May 31.	Trading profits	Land profits	Total net profits
1894	£34,369	£11,544	£45,913
1895	57,901	2,375	60,276
1896	60,744	5,033	65,777
1897	55,780	5,137	60,917
1898	59,873	9,500	69,373
1899	105,283	20,310	125,595
1900	125,796	29,249	155,045
1901	40,042	28,495	68,537
1902	68,503	69,695	138,198
1903	142,001	177,557	319,558
1904	98,934	179,047	277,981
1905	102,969	187,364	290,333

This table shows at a glance how increasingly important has been the revenue which the company has received in recent years from the sales of land in the Hudson's Bay territory, which has been the most striking feature in the rapid industrial development of the Dominion.

ODESSA RIOTS AND BONDS.

Effect of Trouble on Japanese and Russian Issues.

The Montreal firm of Burnett and Co. received the following interesting cable from London, showing the effect of the Odessa incident on Government bonds.

"While the Stock Exchange markets are in the main heavy on apprehension regarding the probable outcome of the mutiny at Odessa, and Paris has been a large seller of South African mining stocks, Russian Imperial 4's have declined only ¼ to 88¼. Japanese bonds are higher, 4's up ½ at 88⅝; old 5's at 100; first 6's, 102⅞; old 5's unchanged at 99⅝; second 6's, 102; up ⅛, the premium on the 4½ per cent. loan is quoted at 2¼ per cent."

A JUMP IN CALL MONEY.

Rate in New York Moves to Four Per Cent. To-day.

The Star's special Wall Street correspondent wired: "Call money jumped to 4 per cent. to-day, although the rise was not unexpected. The stock market opened generally heavy, in sympathy with tone of London and other foreign markets, which were oppressed by the anxiety respecting the outcome of the Russian political situation. Paris was a heavy seller in London, where Russian securities declined further. There were no developments at all in the local situation relating to the market, although there was uneasiness lest yesterday's slight advance in the money market might end in something big to-day. The most striking exception to the general tendency of the market were Metropolitan stocks, which rose sharply soon after the opening, but otherwise there was little done in local traction quarters. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was firm, in sympathy with Metropolitan. In the railway list the active features were Reading, Erie, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Louisville, Nashville, Union and Southern Pacific, and Baltimore and Ohio. With the exception of the New York Central these stocks all opened substantially lower, but the general market developed a somewhat steadier tone after the first quarter of an hour, and substantial rallies occurred all through the list. Canadian Pacific was very dull, and lower."

From the way in which Japanese 4½s were pressed for sale yesterday and Wednesday, the Street generally assumed that there is no doubt about the floatation of another large issue soon. The idea is that this is intended to place the country in easy circumstances in case the war should be prolonged a g... period than now seems likely. At the same time a new external loan would facilitate early retirement of some of the internal loans, which have been a good deal of a drain on the Japanese nation.

I have not sold a bale of cotton in any market of the world for the past ten days, and have every expectation that I will obtain at least eleven cents a pound for the cotton that I own."

GENERAL ELECTRIC BOOMS.

Stock Moved From 142 1-2 to 146 in the Toronto Market.

Quite a little boom developed in General Electric stock in the Toronto market this morning, and considerable trading accompanied the rise.

Under the influence of the buying orders the stock was run up quickly from 142½ to 146. The last sale yesterday was at 142⅛. Very little stock was offered.

Sao Paulo was also active and strong in that market, but showed no gain over the rise of yesterday.

CAN. PACIFIC DIVIDENDS.

Chances of An Increase Discussed by a London Paper.

The Economist, London, Eng., June 17, discusses "exaggerated statements as to the forthcoming dividend prospects" in C. P. R. The ten months' returns showed net earnings, $12,584,220. With the gross returns for May and one week of June known, the Economist estimates a net result for the twelve months of $15,814,000, compared with $14,213,105 for the year ending June 30, 1904. Interest on bonds held by the company and other receipts should yield $1,000,000, bringing the total revenue up to $17,414,000, against $15,904,373 a year ago.

The Economist makes no allowance for a possible increase in "Soo" dividend, which is in doubt. The fixed and other charges are placed at $7,814,000, leaving $9,600,000 at the disposal of the directors. The half-yearly dividends, $698,666 on the preferred, and $2,535,000 on the common, already paid, took $3,233,666, leaving $6,366,344, as compared with $4,899,870 a year ago.

Leaving out recipts from land sales and paying the current half-year's dividends on preferred, will leave $5,414,168 to pay the current half-year's dividend on the common, which with the new issue of $16,900,000, will require $2,788,000.

"It will be seen," says the Economist, "that the company has a balance that would be sufficient to pay even an 8 per cent. dividend, and then leave as large a balance as remained a year ago. But the question is, are the directors likely to pay an extra 1 per cent. in view of the transition state of much of the country through which the line runs? . . While it would be very easy to pay an extra ½ per cent. dividend for the year, and no doubt exceedingly popular, we are inclined to think that, with the many contingencies that must ever attend a vast system like the Canadian Pacific, and the still larger expenditures required for work in hand and the steamboat service, the directors will prefer to adhere, at least for another twelve months, to the prosaic, yet sure, ground of a 6 per cent. basis, rather than seek the brief popularity of a 7 per cent., which might not, especially in view of additional capital requirements, be possible to maintain."

OPINIONS ON THE MARKETS.

One Broker Predicts Active and Higher Market in July.

Burnett Co.—Estimated half of Erie common stock is now locked up in treasuries of Penn. and Vanderbilt lines.

E. & C. Randolph.—There has also been some heavy buying in Erie second, and renewed rumors of the possibility of a dividend being declared on it shortly. Reading, after an initial decline of over a point, quickly rallied, and holds very strong not far from the top.

J. B. Picken.—The fact that we had two weeks of higher prices, and the mentioned nervous condition of the European exchanges favors the chances of the establishment of a lower price level, which, however, should be used for purchases of leading railway and industrial shares, as hopes for very active market in July are generally maintained, at which time the outlook is expected to be free from the present retarding factors.

J. S. Bache.—The market will probably be quiet until Wednesday, but would certainly buy stocks on weakness to-day or to-morrow, and carry them over the holiday, as the market on Wednesday will probably be considerably higher.

Charles Head & Co.—The advance in the call money rate to four per cent. was no more than had been expected, and had very little effect. The balance of the session promises to be dull without important movement in either directions.

All American and Canadian Markets Were Strong.

CANADIAN CROP REPORTS

Those for Western Ontario and the North-West are All That Could Be Desired.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, June 30.—July wheat sold from 92⅝ to 94c, and September from 88¾ to 90⅛c, compared with closing yesterday of 92¼ and 88½c, respectively.

Heavy profits were taken on the best ... and the market reacted sharply from the top. Persistent unfavorable crop reports from the spring wheat country, together with heavy rains and damage to wheat in shock in the winter wheat, drove many shorts under cover, and there was excellent buying by investors, too. The market was a broad affair, and the business of the day was attended with considerable excitement.

The disquieting news from Russia and the better cables, together with predictions for showers in both wheat belts, were the leading factors as the market advanced. The Duluth Market Record, in a resume of the north-western crop situation, says that June, 1905, was the wettest on record, and that the largest crop of spring wheat ever raised.

The Star will to-morrow publish the first instalment of its annual crop reports, covering the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Eastern Ontario.

These reports have been collected specially for the Star from disinterested sources, and are the first from these sections to be published this year.

In all, 112 reports will appear to-morrow. Of these, 67 are from 40 counties in the Province of Quebec, 28 from 11 counties in Eastern Ontario, 12 from 6 counties in New Brunswick, and 5 from 4 counties in Nova Scotia.

Winnipeg, June 29.—The inspection of wheat was as follows:

The spot Liverpool wheat market closed rather easier on No. 2 nor. Man at 6s 11d to 6s 11¼d, No. 3 being unchanged at 6s 7d to 6s 7½d.

The option market was firm, July closing ⅝d up, at 6s 11⅛d, Sept. closing ½d up, at 6s 10⅝d, and Dec. ⅝d up, at 6s 10¼d.

London closed at 32s 6d for No. 2 Calcutta club, April and May, and 31s 7½d for May and June.

Antwerp was unchanged, at 17⅞ for Bahia Blanca.

Paris closed 15 up on June, at 23.85, and 20 up on Sept. and Dec. at 21.90.

Chicago—July wheat was 1¼c up at noon, at 93½, Sept. being 1⅜c up, at 89⅞. July corn was ⅛c up, at 55¼, Sept. being steady at 54¾. July oats steady at noon, at 32½, Sept. being ⅛c up, at 31⅛.

Duluth was 1⅜c up on Sept., at 95½. Minneapolis was 1c up at noon, at 1.08½, Sept. being 2¼ up, at 95½.

Winnipeg was steady on June, at 1.04, and ⅝c up on July, at 1.05⅝.

LOCAL MARKET. — Receipts have been very light this week, and sales have reached a fair volume, some 13,000 bushels having been sold yesterday alone. Prices continue unchanged, at 49c for No. 3 oats, store, and 50c for No. 2. It looks as though the stocks of oats will be found to have decreased considerably this week when they are taken to-morrow.

FLOUR.—Prices for Manitoba flour are quoted at $5.10 to $5.30 per barrel for strong bakers', and $5.40 to $5.60 for patents. Ontario flour is $5.50 to $5.60 for winter wheat patents, per bbl., and $5.10 to $5.25 for straight rollers, while bags are $2.45 to $2.50.

ROLLED OATS.—The market is very quiet and prices show no change. Quotations are $2.15 to $2.20 per bag, cornmeal being dull at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

MILLFEED—Stocks continue light and prices of bran are steady at $17.00 per ton for Manitoba bran in bags, and $20 for shorts.

HAY.—The growing crops are splendid everywhere. As a result the market is easy, and prices are steady at $8 to $8.50 for No. 1, $7 to $7.50 for No. 2, $6 to $6.50 for clover mixed and clover.

C. P. R. WHEAT CROP REPORT.

Splendid Growth in West—Ontario Crops Also Promise Well.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, Ont., June 30.—Travellers arriving here from the west are unanimous in declaring that crop prospects are most satisfactory. A huge acreage has been sown, and the growth has been wonderful. Haying has begun all over Western Ontario, and farmers are busy harvesting one of the finest crops in years. Clover is abundant, and of fine quality. Timothy also is of excellent quality. Other crops are doing well, wheat being especially promising.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, June 30.—The crop report for the week ending June 28, just issued by the C. P. R., is almost entirely satisfactory. Prospects in all districts are for a much larger yield than last year, but in many quarters warm weather is needed to insure rapid growth. Heavy rains have been general througout the west, but no damage of any account to the growing crop has been reported as yet.

At Pasqua, on the Moose Jaw section, the wheat is twelve inches high, while at Broadview it measures from fifteen to sixteen inches.

At Caron, in the Swift Current section, the wheat has attained a height of fourteen inches.

At Fannysteel it is from twelve to thirteen inches high, and at Lasalle from sixteen to twenty inches.

At Pilot Mound and also at Crystal City the height is from twenty-four to thirty-six inches.

ENGLISH DAIRY MARKETS.

Messrs. Hodgson Bros., Liverpool, write as follows under date of June 16:

This has been holiday week, but there has been a steady retail consumptive demand for both old and neew cheese. Old are now almost exhausted, and the bulk of the arrivals of new are too green to please buyers, and the cool chambers of the Canadian steamers have hindered the development of the early-made cheese this year, so that some of them have reached here practically as green as when they were shipped two or three weeks ago.

The decline in the market appears to have been checked this week, owing to good buying in Canada of the early June cheese, which has caused a slight advance, and to-day's c.i.f. quotations show a loss to importers upon present values here, and yet if an advance is attempted, buyers will resist it very much, as they say the early makes of English are coming in freely, much better value. We quote to-day: Finest old Canadian, white, 54s per cwt.; colored, 50s to 51s; new colored, 46s 6d to 47s 6d; new white, 46s to 47s; medium States, showing quality, soft and meaty, 40s to 44s; skims, 35s to 40s; do not sell readily.

Both Irish creamery and Danish butter have advanced 1s to 2s this week, but demand is not strong, the advance being due to the comparative small stocks of foreign goods. Under-priced butter keeps very scarce, and is relatively dear. Copenhagen quotation is "2 kroner" higher for next week. We quote choicest as follows: Canadian creamery in 56 lb. boxes, 93s to 95s; Danish, in Kiel casks, 102s to 106s; Russian, in Kiel casks, 93s to 95s; Australian and New Zealand, 90s to 96s; Argentine, 93s to 94s 6d; Irish creamery, 94s to 96s; medium grades nominally 80s to 85s.

BUTTER MARKET WAS HIGHER.

Cheese Was Firmly Held—Other Produce Firm Also.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Huntingdon, Que., June 30.—There were boarded 249 boxes white and 73 colored cheese, 764 packages fresh and 133 salted butter. White cheese sold at 9⅝c, colored at 9 7-16c; fresh butter at 20⅝c and salted at 20. Sales: Hodgson Bros., Ltd. 95 packages salted butter and 197 white cheese; Lovell and Christmas, 38 salted butter; Alexander, 442 fresh butter; and A. A. Ayer and Co., Ltd., 52 white, 73 colored cheese; 322 fresh butter. Seven Montreal buyers represented and 28 factories boarded.

CHEESE—The market showed evidence of increased strength in the west yesterday, and it is claimed that it is rather more difficult to make purchases at recent prices here to-day. However, no change is noticeable in quotations here, finest Quebecs being still 9½c and Ontarios 9⅝ to 9¾c. Demand from the other side has been active during the week, and there are still quite a few enquiries being received. Some ventured the opinion that the firmer feeling was due to the efforts of a few shorts to fill their contracts, but this view is not a general one apparently.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 12,790 boxes.

BUTTER.—Advices from the other side received yesterday quoted a firmer market, somewhat to the surprise of many exporters. Danish butter was ⅝c higher, and this naturally had an effect upon the local market. To-day it would be difficult to secure fancy Townships creamery at less than 20¼c, although finest could be had at about 20c, and fine at 19¾c, good to fine being around 19½c. Seconds were sold at 19¼c to-day, which were offered at 19c unsuccessfully the other day.

At the cold-stores this morning quite a quantity of creamery was offered by factorymen. There was a good demand for it all, and everything was cleared out promptly at from 19½ to 20c, these figures being about ½c better than a week ago. The ruling price was said to be 19¾c. Undoubtedly the market is strong, and there is every likelihood of stiff prices being paid in the country to-morrow.

There is an active demand from the other side for fancy and choice Canadian creamery, saltless being also wanted.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 9181 packages.

EGGS. — The market continues steady. Receipts have shown a considerable falling off during the past week, and this is having the effect of holding the market firm. The lighter receipts are probably due to the refusal of local merchants to pay former prices in the country, and to the refusal of holders in the country to accept less. Meantime straight gathered eggs are being quoted at 16c here. It is impossible to say who will win in the present struggle.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 629 cases.

POTATOES. — The market continues in a very unsteady and almost unquotable condition. Sales are being made at all sorts of prices, everything depending upon circumstances. Some towns in the country are short and will pay good figures; others are fairly well supplied and will not pay so much. Merchants in the city are in similar extremes from time to time, and they meet the same experience. No one wants many potatoes just now, so that sales are all in small lots. These, delivered into store, seem to be about 80c per bag of 90 lbs. for best stock. Cost on track seems to be about 65c.

CHEESE BOARDS FIRMER.

Fractionally Higher Prices Than Those Recently Prevailing.

Kingston, Ont., June 30. — The salesmen took 9½c for considerable of the 1,330 boxes boarded at the Frontenac cheese board. There were 810 colored and 520 white. The sales were 830 boxes. The price is higher than on any board selling so far this week.

Madoc, June 30. — At the cheese board 1,100 boxes of cheese were boarded, 280 sold at 9 9-16c, the balance at 9½c.

Winchester, Ont., June 30. — At the regular weekly meeting of the cheese board, held here, colored, 265, and white, 815, were registered, price bid, 9½c, colored 75 and white 250 were sold on the board at 9½c.

Tweed, Ont., June 30.—At the cheese board 780 boxes of cheese were boarded, all sold at 9½c.

Arthabaska, Que., June 30. — 2,577 boxes cheese sold yesterday at 9¼c; all sent to Montreal.

JAPAN TEA CROP RUINED.

Worst Crop in 20 Years—Prices Will Advance as Result.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 30. — The Toronto Board of Trade has been notified that the Japanese tea crop is the worst in twenty years. It will only be about half of last year's. Canadian and American tea importers will profit, as they have a surplus over last season, but the retailers will suffer, as the price will be advanced three or four cents per pound.

The Japanese carefully concealed the tea crop outlook while their war loan was being floated. The growing tea plants were first injured by frosts and then kept back by cloudy weather.

SHORT WEIGHT SCALES DENOUNCED

Better Protection From Bad Weighing Is Much Needed.

THE G. T. R.'S TAXATION FIXED

Committee Want More Money for a Site for the New No. 5 Fire Station.

Ald. Carter, at the meeting of the Finance Committee yesterday afternoon made a suggestion whereby traders, and citizens in general, could be better protected in the case of public scales. The suggestion was that Government inspectors should hold more frequent inspection of all public scales.

This additional and more intelligent inspection was necessary on account of the many complaints which were being formally made to the City Council of citizens getting short weight at various scales. Ald. Carter said the subject was a most important one to the public; come what would, citizens ought to receive protection in this case. He finally moved that a special committee be named to consider the whole question, and also to consider if some new corporation weigh houses could not be erected in various wards.

Ald. Payette said he had received a number of complaints from contractors who had been badly treated at the public weigh scales. Large quantities of stone which they had bought had been found short in weight. He considered this to be a scandalous state of affairs. He could not understand how those in charge of weigh houses could allow such a system of weighing to be in vogue.

Regarding coal, Ald. Payette said it would be a good thing to have an inspection of the weighing, especially of the small quantities of coal delivered to poor families. Incidentally, he mentioned a good work that might be done by the police. They should be on the look out for those who stole coal off waggons on the streets after the weighing. He said there was too much of that sort of thing going on in the city. His first suggestion was that competent men should be in charge of all public scales, and if they were not owned by the city, the city should have control of them.

It was finally decided to refer the whole subject of scales to a special sub-committee.

G. T. R. TAXATION.

There was quite a long discussion over the request of the Grand Trunk Railway, that for the next twenty years its lands, buildings, etc., in the city should be assessed at a fixed sum of one million dollars. It was promised if this were acceded to the company would spend one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in new works at Point St. Charles.

Ald. Carter said that after enquiring into the matter he thought a report should be made to council favoring the request. He explained that at the present time the company was only assessed at about one million. What the company wanted was to have a fixed assessment so that it could go ahead with important works in Point St. Charles. If the company's request were refused he knew that an outside municipality was endeavoring to get the company to build in its midst. He said everything should be done to try and get the company not to take its works from Point St. Charles.

Ald. Payette said he was willing to do what was right by the Grand Trunk Railway, at the same time it was a long time to give the company a fixed assessment for twenty years. The company's property would largely increase during these years.

Ald. Carter—"We have given the Canadian Pacific Railway a fixed assessment on account of improvements it has made; the Grand Trunk Railway should be treated in the same way. It must be remembered that the railways have done much to make Montreal what it is to-day. I am only anxious to look after the future progress of the city."

Ald. Lapointe—"I cannot see that the city will lose anything by acceding to the request of the Grand Trunk Railway. The company is asking nothing that is unreasonable."

The City Treasurer submitted the following, showing just how the company is assessed on its various properties at the present:

	Assessed value.
Property on McGill street	$250,000
Property on Wellington st.....	50,000
Property on Maple ave.......	400
Property on St. Etienne st.....	878,400
Assessed value of poles and wires, etc., on St. Etienne st.	175,000
Property on Britannia st......	80,000
Property on Riverside st......	14,400

In conclusion, the report shows that the company's total property is assessed at a value of $1,880,000.

It was finally decided, on a motion of Ald. Carter, to report to Council in favor of the company's lands, etc., being given an assessed value of one million for twenty years.

NEW FIRE STATION.

Ald. Robertson came before the committee regarding the purchase of a site for the new fire station to replace No. 5. He said that several sites had been offered at prices from $10,000 to $12,000, and more. As but $5,000 had been voted for a site, the committee would have to make provision for a further grant of money. Another point was whether the committee wanted to install the fire alarm department in the new building, as that would add to the cost of construction.

Chairman Vallieres said the best thing to do was to get the site for the station at once, and if more money was wanted it would be supplied.

Ald. Robertson was satisfied with this.

MUTINEERS UNMOLESTED, LAID TO REST THEIR DEAD COMRADE

Beneath Threatening Guns of Warship the Troops Dare Not Intervene—Later Machine Guns Mowed Down Rioters Like Wheat.

Odessa, June 30.—Omelchuk, the sailor of the Kniatz Potemkin, whose shooting by the captain of the battleship for complaining about the food led to the mutiny, was buried last evening in the city Necropolis.

The funeral was made the occasion of a great popular demonstration. Neither troops nor police showed themselves along the route. Everything was orderly. The mutineers had notified the commandant of the port early in the day of their intention to inter their comrade with full naval honors.

They added that they would land an escort and the ship's band, and that if these were interfered with they would immediately open fire on the city. The commandant thereupon offered himself as a hostage aboard the battleship for the safe return of the escort and to ensure the safety of the city. It cannot be learned whether his offer was accepted, but in any case the mutineers' threat was respected.

Although the day passed practically without disturbance, the mob again became threatening towards night. Troops hold the public squares, banks and official buildings, and guard the approaches to the harbor. During the evening the central railway station was set on fire, and is now almost destroyed. Many persons have been injured, but details are unobtainable.

OTHER CREWS MUTINY

Odessa, June 30.—The mutineers of the Kniatz Potemkin have been joined by the crew of the transport Veda, who mutinied on her way here from Nicolaieff. The Veda's officers are now prisoners on the battleship.

It would be most difficult to describe the exact situation here. The Kniatz Potemkin stil lies off the harbor, but at the time of telegraphing, she has not molested the town, nor have the mutineers aided the rioters to the extent of repulsing the troops or inducing the latter to join the revolt. Martial law has thus far been effetively imposed. It is impossible to reach the scenes of fighting.

Any attempt to pass the soldiers who guard the approaches to the harbor involves instant death. The inactivity of the mutinous sailors is ascribed, in some quarters, to their having no ammunition. The rumor is at least plausible, in-as-much as it has been said that the Black Sea fleet was denuded of ammunition to supply the Baltic fleet.

MOWED DOWN LIKE WHEAT.

Last night was one of horror. The rattle of rifles and machine guns was incessant, while the glare from the burning harbor illuminated the scenes of blood. The Cossacks operated 30 machine guns on the main thoroughfares,and, considering that these were sometimes turned on densely massed mobs, the estimates of thousands killed and thousands wounded do not seem excessive. The losses sustained by the troops are not known accurately, but it is admitted that three police officers, nine policemen, 21 Cossacks, and 11 infantrymen were killed. The mutineers do not seem to have shared in the burning of part of the city and shipping. This was entirely the work of rioters. Many of these had petroleum torches and others pocket grenades. They attacked all the buildings, warehouses, dwellings and churches in the neighborhood, and the wooden-framed elevated railway, which served the three harbors, making a semi-circle round the heads of the harbors.

The timber work of the railway was soon alight. It blazed in all directions, and the cars tumbled below. Among other property destroyed were the offices and warehouses of three great Russian transportation companies containing immense stores.

MARTIAL LAW YET SUPREME.

Odessa, June 30.—A semblance of order has been restored here, but the situation is still critical.

The Central Railway station was destroyed by fire last night, many persons being injured.

The populace is still in a revengeful mood. A bomb exploded last night in a private house and several persons were injured.

In the most unruly section the populace treated the proclamation warning people to remain indoors after 9 p.m., with derison and contempt, and freely announced the intention to burn all public buildings during the night.

Cossacks guard all the approaches to the town, and troops patrolled the streets and guarded public buildings.

Many councillors were prevented by troops from reaching the Town Hall to attend a meeting of the municipal council last evening.

KILLED NUMBERED THOUSANDS.

Sensational accounts are current regarding the previous rioting. In the accounts it is stated that a thousand persons were killed. The troops faced a condition of complete anarchy, thousands of desperate incendiaries trying to set fire to every building. They adopted the sternest measures, and employed machine guns against the mob.

A large body of rioters tried to enter the central part of the town yesterday, and a terrific fusilade was kept up by both sides. It is alleged that hundreds were killed, and that when the mob tried to ascend the steps of the Church of St. Nicholas to reach the Boulevard St. Nicholas, troops fired repeated volleys into the crowd with terrible effect, waggon loads of dead being carried away.

Many lives, it is said, were lost in the endeavors of the military to stop incendiarism. The conflagration burned for over a mile, and thousands of tons of railway sleepers and all the trestles supporting the elevated railway serving the port, together with all the contiguous buildings, were consumed, the troops, in the meanwhile, firing volleys to compel the rioters to desist. It is stated that three police officers, ten policemen, twenty-three Cossacks and ten infantry soldiers were killed in these encounters.

MUST SURRENDER OR BE SUNK.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Vice-Admiral Kruger, with four warships from Sevastopol, is due to arrive at Odessa any time now. He has been instructed to call on the Kniaz Potemkin Tavritchesky to surrender, and if she refuses, to sink her and to then help the troops to repress the disorders in the city. It is much doubted, however, whether his orders can be carried out. Even the officials here admit that it is questionable if Admiral Kruger's men will fire on their comrades, and discuss the possibility of their joining in the mutiny. Should they do so, and should an organized force co-operate with the rioters, there is every likelihood of a part at least of the troops joining them. There is an unconfirmed report that trouble similar to that at Libau has broken out at Revel. The Ministry of Marine politely refuses to give the least information concerning the trouble at those places or at Odessa, but official circles, especially the department of police, believe that the outbreaks were planned by revolutionists and are manifestly alarmed. The alarm is shared by the higher circles of the capital, where the long-established faith in the unflinching loyalty of the Emperor's armed forces is beginning to waver, being in evident dread that the revolution, so often declared to be impossible, may yet be accomplished, perhaps has already begun. It is unquestionable that the occurrences at Odessa and Libau have more deeply impressed the ruling classes here than all the defeats in Manchuria and the destruction of the navy combined.

ALL WERE NOT SLAIN.

Odessa, June 30.—It is stated that eleven surviving officers of the Kniaz Potemkine have landed.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—It is reported that the volunteer fleet cruiser Saratoff has been burned at Odessa.

ASK AID FROM HOME.

London, June 30.—It is reported that the German and Austrian residents at Odessa are appealing to their Governments through their consuls to send war ships to protect them. Compliance with this request would, of course, involve a breach of the treaty, closing the Dardanelles to foreign war ships.

News of the terrible massacres in the city are being constantly received.

Odessa, June 30.—It is reported that the foreign consuls have applied to their respective governments to send war ships to Odessa.

UNREST SPREADS.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Banks and commercial houses are being questioned by agitated clients regarding the situation at Odessa.

The accepted account of the trouble is offset by a statement that there has been a successful mutiny on three battleships. Another statement declares that the crews of the batleships Alexander II. and two torpedo gunboats killed their officers during the passage from Sebastopol to Odessa, where the men are actually rioting. It is also reported here that the ships have given the troops ashore 24 hours to join the revolt. Otherwise they will bombard the city. The Ministry of Marine refuses to give any information regarding the situation.

RATES ARE RAISED.

London, June 30.—Underwriters are to-day charging a rate of 75 per cent. for insuring British steamers at Odessa against war risks and the shells of the mutineers on board the Russian battleship Kniatz Potemkine.

Felt Weak and Nervous

Had Faint and Dizzy Spells.

These symptoms arise from a weak condition of the heart and nerves. Wherever there are sickly people with weak hearts and deranged nerves, will be found an effectual remedy.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Through the medium of the nervous system, they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body.

They restore enfeebled, enervated, exhausted, devitalized, or overworked men and women to perfect constitutional power.

Miss Maggie L. Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., tells how she was cured in the following words:—

"I was sick for the past year, and became thoroughly run down. I had faint and dizzy spells, and felt weak and nervous all the time. I tried numerous remedies, but could get no help. I then read in the paper about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and got a box of them. Before I had used one-half the box I began to get better, so got another one, and by the time the two were finished I was as well as ever."

MUTINEERS OPENED FIRE.

Two Vessels Said to Have Arrived, One in Open Mutiny.

London, June 30.—The Daily Mail this morning prints the following from its Odessa correspondent received at 10.45 o'clock Thursday night:

"Using full charges, the Kniaz Potemkine opened fire on the city tonight.

"This afternoon a tugboat flying the Red Cross flag, proceeded to the opposite side of the bay and reported that two warships were lying at the end of one of the main streets opposite Little Fountain.

"Intermittent firing has been going on all day long. Artillery has arrived and is hiding.

"The port is an absolute ruin from Platowsky Mole to the Russian steamship company's docks.

"People are only allowed in the proximity of the harbor by the guards, when furnished with written permission from the commanding general."

A telegram from Sebastopol says that the Kniaz Potemkine has only ammunition for small arms.

ANOTHER MUTINY RUMORED.

London, June 30.—The Daily Express prints this despatch from Odessa:—

"A second mutinous warship is reported at Cape Fountain, ten miles from here. A transport with Russians from Port Arthur and a Russian steamer were held up by the Kniaz Potemkine at five o'clock and compelled to lie up under her guns for two hours. At nine o'clock the rebels fired several shots at the suburb of Langeron, where there is a detachment of Cossacks.

She then swung round until her guns pointed to the centre of Odessa and fired a blank cartridge.

"A steamer which the Kniaz Potemkine stopped was seen to burst into flames."

Kingston Malt House Closed.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., June 30.—The L. H. Clarke Malt House here has been closed and the business will be centralized at Montreal, where an improved plant has been in operation for some time. The chief reason for the closing out here is due to the non-operation of the Street Railway as the house depended upon the road to draw the malt to and from it in railway cars. The road closed during the winter of 1094, and this spring great inconvenience and expense was caused to the malt house. Twenty men were employed and over five milliion pounds of malt manufactured yearly.

SONS OF SCOTLAND RATES.

Insurance Will Not Go Higher for Two Years.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 30.—There was a long and somewhat animated discussion at the concluding session of the annual meeting of the Grand Camp of the Sons of Scotland in this city in respect to the proposal to increase the insurance rates. The general consensus of opinion was that an advance in rates was imperative, but despite this unanimity the delegates voted to have the matter go over for the two years. In the meantime the whole question will be referred to the subordinate camps for an expression of opinion. There was a spirited contest for the coveted office of Grand Chief, Mr. Alex. Fraser, M.A., being re-elected for the sixth consecutive time. His opponent was Mr. F. S. Mearns, the vote standing: Fraser, 110; Mearns, 83. The next annual meeting will be held at Niagara Falls.

THEY SERVED SIX MONTHS.

Six Nova Scotia Sailors on Way Home From Uruguay.

New York, June 30.—After serving a sentence of six months in a Uruguayan prison for fishing for seals off the coast of Uruguay, six Nova Scotian sailors have arrived in this port on the British steamer Red Hill, from Montevideo, en route to Halifax. They were members of the crew of the fishing schooner Agnes G. Donahoe, which was seized by a Uruguayan Government vessel for alleged illegal fishing. Captain Ryan, of the Donohoe, was sentenced to imprisonment for three years, the mate for one year, and the crew for six months. An appeal from the seizure of the schooner has been taken by the owners, and damages will be demanded. The fishermen say the vessel was seven miles outside the limit set by the Uruguayan Government when she was seized.

GUILTY ON BOTH COUNTS.

Case of Cashier of Defunct Bank of Yarmouth Finished This Morning.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Yarmouth, N.S., June 30.—The trial of T. W. Johns, cashier of the defunct bank of Yarmouth, ended here Thursday, and the jury found him guilty on both counts of the indictment, which was that he had made false returns of the Bank of Yarmouth to the Government, and secondly that these returns were wilfully false. The judge's charge lasted for two hours and a half, during which the greater part of the evidence was read over, the judge saying this was necessary because of the intolerable noise in the court house of the two preceding days. The jury were out considering their verdict for little more than half an hour. Mr. J. T. Ritchie asked the court to reserve certain points.

Changes in Railway Bills.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 30.—A short session of the Railway Committee of the House was held on Thursday. Three bills were ordered to be reported. That respecting the Canadian Yukon Western Railway Co. provides for an issue of preference stock. That respecting the St. Maurice Valley Railway Company authorizes them to change their route so as to cross the St. Maurice river at a point where bridging is easier. An extension of time within which to commence and complete construction was granted the Brandon, Saskatchewan, and Hudson's Bay Company and the Canada Central Railway Company.

Structural Survey of Rossland.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Rossland, B.C., June 30.—Prof. R. W. Brock and party are here from Ottawa for the purpose of making, under the auspices of the Geological Survey of Canada, a detailed structural survey of the Rossland camp. The work will be continued for the next four months, and may be continued next year. It is thought the survey will be of considerable benefit to Rossland and may lead to the finding of new ore bodies in places that have not yet been explored.

Bernhardt Coming to America.

London, June 30.—Shubert Brothers have signed a contract with Mme. Sarah Bernhardt for an American tour of thirty weeks, to begin at the Lyric Theatre, New York, November 6th next. Mme. Bernhardt will take her entire company from the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt at Paris and will be seen in her revival of Victor Hugo's "Angelo," and also in her own production of "Adrienne Lecouvreur," now running here.

African Natives Kill Germans.

Cape Town, Cape Colony, June 30.—A telegram from Steinkopf, German Southwest Africa, says Petrus Christian, the insurgent leader, recently ambushed the German force commanded by Major Von Kamptz at Karesberg, killing 15 and wounding 26 Germans. It is rumored that the insurgents captured six guns, but this is not confirmed.

Visitors Eyes Were Opened.

HOW ST. PETERSBURG RECEIVED THE NEWS

Dismay and Doubt Freely Expressed in Official Circles.

THE ARMY, THE LAST RESORT

The Trouble in Odessa Thought to Be the Signal for the Final War and Russia's Freedom.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The Russian Government, although almost paralyzed by the events at Odessa and the news that sailors at Libau also have mutinied, is making desperate efforts to stamp out the flames of revolution before they can spread to the army, the last bulwark of the aristocracy.

With Poland red with revolt, the Caucasus almost in a state of open war, and agrarian disorders spreading ratpdly, the whole country stirred, and the intelligent classes solidly arrayed against the Government, all conditions seem ripe for the long-predicted revolution.

The first act of the Government, after despatching Admiral Kruger's squadron from Sebastopol was to summon the Kniaz Potemkin, whose mutineers have now been joined by the crews of the two torpedo boats which accompanied it to Odessa, to surrender under the threat of firing upon and sinking the vessel. This was followed by the declaration of martial law at Odessa and Libau, and the clothing of the military commanders with plenary powers.

DOUBTS OF THE ARMY.

Fear is expressed that many regiments are honeycombed with sedition, and there is grave doubt of their loyalty, should they be called upon to fire upon the revolutionists. The most startling stories involving the unreliability of the troops are being reported.

Precautions to keep the news from the public have been in vain, the revolutionaries and the Liberals everywhere spreading it by word of mouth, and within tewnty-four hours it will be known in the uttermost confines of European Russia. When the news reaches the armies in Manchuria it is bound to create a deep impression.

AN ADMIRAL HAS DOUBTS.

At the Admiralty the orders sent to Kruger were not unanimously approved. Among others, Vice-Admiral Skrydloff openly expressed the opinion that Kruger's bluejackets would not fire on their comrades on the Kniaz Potemkin, but that they, too, might revolt, should they be ordered to shoot.

It is reported that the crew of the battleship captured two English ships, loaded with provisions, and is holding them alongside.

The fact that Kruger had not arrived at Odessa up to midnight gave rise to rumors that the crews had actually seized the ships of the squadron.

Odessa despatches state that millions of dollars' worth of property, including ships, has been burned or otherwise destroyed. The city is terror-stricken, and hundreds have been killed or wounded.

READING BETWEEN THE LINES.

The fact that the troops and police made no attempt to interfere with the burial of the martyred sailor is regarded as significant.

Under cover of darkness, produced by the intense pall of smoke hanging over the city, it is reported that the mob has begun to rob and plunder. Foreign property has suffered heavily.

In naval circles the revolt on board the Kniaz Potemkin is attributed chiefly to the severity of Vice-Admiral Chunkin's regime. He is a martinet, and several of his sailors have already been shot for disobedience. At the time of the mutiny a court-martial was actually in progress at Sebastopol, and several of the crew of the battleship had been sentenced.

Late despatches from Libau say that the property losses are considerable there, and that all the workmen have gone out in sympathy with the bluejackets. Artillery is said to have been employed by the mutineers.

THE OFFER TO WALLACE.

It Came From Inter-Borough Rapid Transit Co., of New York.

New York, June 30.—The offer that induced Chief Engineer John F. Wallace, to quit his post on the Panama Canal Commission, came from the Inter-Borough Rapid Transit Company, of this city, operating the elevated and subway lines, and carries with it a salary of $60,000 year.

Wireless for Lady Laurier.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., June 30.—The fitting up of the wireless telegraphic apparatus on the Government steamer Lady Laurier, is being completed, and next week the steamer will load supplies for St. Paul's and Cape Race lights. After supplying these places the Lady Laurier will proceed to Sable Island to bring back the wireless station construction staff.

Floating Pool Room at Work.

Chicago, June 30.—The steamer City of Traverse,used as a wireless floating pool room, made its first trip yesterday and the police admit that, as there is no federal statute covering gambling on federal waters, the proprietors of the plant have outwitted the law. Results and betting odds were received from Sheeepshead Bay, Latonia and Buffalo, and the book was kept busy.

Canteen Was Closed Up.

Kingston, Ont., June 30.—The canteen at the Barriefield camp ground has been cut off through W. C. T. U. influence, with the result of considerable drinkers among the soldiers being evident in the city. Knowing they could get nothing on the grounds they overindulged in the city.

Another Position for General.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Lieut.-General Grippenberg, who was recalled from Manchuria for disobeying the orders of General Kuropatkin, has been appointed inspector-general of infantry.

Will Have Eyes Open for Oil.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 30.—Although the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Company have no actual knowledge of the reported discovery of oil in large quantities in the Temiskaming district, they are inclined to give the report credence. The commission next week will send out an exploring party, consisting of an engineer, a geologist, and a timber man, with the necessary guides and packers to go through the country two hundred miles north of the company's present terminus on the Abittibi river. This party will be instructed to keep a look out for indications of oil.

NO ROYAL REPRESENTATIVE.

Province of Ontario Left Without Governor for Three Days.

Toronto, June 30.—The province of Ontario is in the curious position of being without a Royal representative, Lieutenant-Governor Mortimer Clark left for Europe yesterday, and Chief Justice Moss' appointment as administrator does not take effect until Monday next. In the meantime, there is not even an interregnum, and, consequently, a temporary lull has occurred in the signing of orders-in-council and other official business at the Parliament buildings.

ALL SICK WOMEN

SHOULD READ MISS SCHWALM'S LETTER

In All Parts of Canada Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effected Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Miss Annie E. Schwalm, of 326 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham :—

"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a specific for Leucorrhœa, with which I have been troubled for years. I also had irregular and painful menstruation which affected my general health until last spring. I was only a wreck of my former self. In my affliction I was advised to use your Compound, and am so glad that I did so. I found that in a few short months there was no trace of Leucorrhœa, my strength gradually returned, and in a very short time I considered myself a perfectly well woman. I appreciate my good health, and beg to assure you that I am most grateful to you for discovering such a wonderful remedy for suffering women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and always helpful.

British Steamer Is Ashore.

Constitucion, Chili, June 30. — The British steamer Tropic is ashore fifteen miles north of Constitucion. It is feared she will become a wreck. Ten of her crew have been landed. Two were drowned, and the remainder are on board the steamer. The British steamer Tropic, Captain Barber, left New York on March 17th for Valparaiso, and sailed thence May 25th for Arica, Chile.

The Yoruba for Havana.

The Elder-Dempster steamship Yoruba, sailing to-day for the tropics, has on board 2600 tons of paving blocks, 400 tons of hay, 50 barrels of flour and a car load of paper, all consigned to Havana. The first regular steamship of the newly inaugurated Canadian-Cuban-Mexican service leaves port in July.

The Dominion for Montreal.

The Dominion line SS. Dominion sailed from Liverpool to-day (29th inst.), at 4 p.m., with 18 saloon, 114 second and 406 third class passengers; also a general cargo.

Reported at Father Point.

Father Point, June 30. — SS. Lake Manitoba, C.P.R. line, from Liverpool inward, 3.10 a.m., with 41 first, 138 second, and 426 steerage passengers. All well.

Italian Stole a Fortune.

Castille, Italy, June 30. — Francesco Russo was put on trial here for a burglary committed in March, 1903, when he entered the house of a rich widow, named Gavino, and carried off booty valued at $600,000, mostly in the form of negotiable Italian bonds. Russo fled to France, and was caught, but he delayed justice by bribing a prison warden to pass out letters, by which he disposed of the stolen money among accomplices to the number of 16. The authorities seized $90,000, which Russo had deposited in a Paris bank under an assumed name.

"L'Oracolo" at Covent Garden.

London, June 30. — "L'Oracolo," an Italianized operatic version of "The Cat and the Cherub," by Franco Leoni, was produced at the Covent Garden Theatre last night. Although the new version was excellently performed, and well received, Fernald's grim little tragedy loses much of its thrilling attractiveness by the transmutation, becoming an operatic melodrama of the "Cavalleria Rusticana" type. The characters behave much like the usual personae of Italian opera.

Trooper Injured in Camp.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., June 30.—Trooper George Brown of the 3rd Dragoons, Prescott, was thrown from his horse at the Barriefield camp grounds this afternoon and severely injured. His head struck a rock and was badly cut, necessitating a number of stitches to close the wound.

NOTABLE SUCCESS.

Montreal Store's Unique Methods of Achieving Popularity.

As a result of the strenuous life of to-day the public want to be amused and interested, but they do not usually expect the craving to be satisfied in a store. There is one store in Montreal, however, which, while dollars and cents play no part in its transactions, is a constant source of interest.

Ever since this store opened about a year ago, features to wonder at and admire have been introduced from time to time. The presence of the smallest man in Canada, Col. Collins Young, was secured for the opening, and recently this was followed up by the appearance of the smallest lady in the world, Miss Corita Shay.

Unique as these attractions are, they are appropriate to this establishment because it is unique among stores. It is at 210 St. Lawrence Main street, Monument National building, and is the place where snowshoe tags, from "Bobs" plug chewing tobacco and other brands having this popular trade mark, are exchanged for valuable premiums. Many of these premiums are shown in the store. A lamb with six legs is the special attraction this week. Admission free.

Special Notice.

Families for the Seaside.

For the convenience of families going to the Lower St. Lawrence, the steamer Tadousac, after returning from the Dominion Day Saguenay excursion, will make a through trip to Chicoutimi from Montreal, July 4, calling at intermediate ports.

THE STATE OF ST. HENRI AFFAIRS

The Gathering of Information Is Now Going on Rapidly.

STREETS IN BAD CONDITION

The Valuable Privileges Which Have Been Sold and Exemptions From Taxations.

At the last meeting of the City Council orders were given that additional information should be got concerning St. Henri, on account of the move which is being made to annex St. Henri to the city of Montreal.

The additional information just received shows that St. Henri has granted valuable privileges to the following companies, etc:

Robert Hickerdike & Company, or successors—privilege of supplying electric light, water, power, telephone service, etc., for fifty years, tax exemptions for twenty years.

Montreal Street Railway Company—Privilege of running cars for fifty years, exemption from taxation twenty years.

Montreal Gas Company—Privilege of supplying gas for fifty years, tax exemption for twenty years.

Besides the above there are a number of other franchises and privileges granted.

The additional information obtained in regard to St. Henri, also shows the following:

"The city of St. Henri, under its consolidated charter is comprised within the following limits: Atwater avenue on the east, the Lachine canal on the south, the limits of Westmount on the north, and Cote St. Paul Road on the west.

"The Council may, by by-law, extend the limits of the city by annexing any neighboring municipality or any part thereof, provided, always, that the by-laws for such purposes be sanctioned by the electors, who are proprietors of the municipality which it is sought to annex."

THE SCHOOLS.

The following is important to Montreal at the present time, as showing that St. Henri may become annexed to the city of Montreal:

"In case of annexation to Montreal the school commissioners of the city of St. Henri may continue to form a distinct corporation under the name of "the School Commissioners of the city of St. Henri", subject to the provisions of the laws concerning public instruction.

"It shall be lawful for the said school commissioners of the city of St. Henri to transfer all their school property and arrears of school taxes to the Roman Catholic Board of School Commissioners of the city of Montreal and thenceforward they shall be subject to the laws then in force in the city of Montreal for school purposes.

"All the privileges conferred upon the School Commissioners by the above articles shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the trustees of dissentient schools of St. Henri."

It is expected that the above additional information, w[illegible]ll be laid before the City Coun[illegible]y 10th, when it meets to dis[illegible] annexation of St. Henri, [illegible]rise to much interesting dis[illegible].

Many aldermen objec[illegible] taking over St. Henri on accou[illegible] the many valuable privileges it ha[illegible]given away and on account of its heavy d[illegible].

STREETS OF ST. HENRI.

An alde man, who has just inspected St. Henri's streets, said to-day:

The streets of St. Henri are in a very bad condition. They are a disgrace to any municipality. A portion of Notre Dame street looks as though it had been macadamized at one time, but at the present it would be difficult to recognize the fact. In a great many places there are large holes five or six inches deep, in other central places there are two or three inches of mud and filth. The Street Railway rails are much above the level of the street, so that it is almost impossible for heavily loaded teams to get from one side of the street to the other.

St. James, Richelieu, St. Emile and other streets are in a very bad condition also.

ANOTHER BODY IN RIVER.

The Remains of Belfast Man Recovered at Longue Pointe.

Last evening the body of Thomas Hackett, of Belfast, Ireland, was found by Joseph Castonguay, a bargeman, floating in the river opposite Longue Pointe. The body had been in the water less than a week, as a copy of the Star of June 23 was found in one of the pockets of his coat. There was also a letter from his wife dated Belfast, June 8, requesting him to send her some money, as she needed it to help to pay her house rent. A receipt for a $10 post office order that he had mailed to his wife on June 9, was found in one of his pockets.

Hackett came to Montreal from Belfast early in the spring, and according to Mr. J. Ritchie Bell, had been receiving his mail at the Sailors' Institute. Mr. Bell said that he had not seen Hackett for a week, but he was aware that he had sent a post office order for $10 to his wife a few weeks ago. The deceased, he said, had been working as a longshoreman since navigation opened, but he could not say where he had been living.

Hackett was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and two children.

Had His Foot Crushed by Box.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Grandcoeur, 21 years of age, had his right foot severely crushed while he was at work on the Donaldson Line wharf, by a heavy box falling on it. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital where it was found necessary to amputate two of his toes.

AFTER THE GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

It Is Charged That They Use Street for Station Yard.

ROAD DESIRES TO OBEY LAW

Permanent Sidewalks to Value of $22,000 Decided Upon—Two Contracts are Awarded.

The business of the greatest importance which came before yesterday's meeting of the Road Committee was the consideration of the complaint of Mr. Aylwin against the manner in which the Great Northern Railway conducts its business within the city limits.

Mr. Aylwin, who some years ago handed over the property in the north end of the city, now known as Prefontaine street, did so, he stated, subject to the conditon that the corporation open up the street and keep it open in the same manner as was done in the case of streets in other parts of the city.

He now contends that the city has violated its agreement with him by allowing the above-named railway, whose lines cross the street, to leave their cars lying across the thoroughfare, thus blocking it.

He claims that he can prove that the railway often leaves its cars blocking the thoroughfare for three-quarters of the day, and that the public thoroughfare was used by the company as a common station yard. He states also that the company has further violated the arrangement with the city by not placing gates at the crossing. The level of the street, he states, also, has been changed.

Mr Aylwin claims that as a result of these inconveniences he has been unable to dispose of the property, which he holds on this thoroughfare, as no one is willing to buy property which is subject to these inconveniences.

As a result he asked that the city see this condition of affairs be changed, and that the company be compelled to conform to the city by-laws.

The above question has been up several times before, so the committee promised that City Surveyor Barlow would investigate the matter and report at the earliest possible date. Instructions were forwarded to that official to the above effect.

A communication was then read from the Great Northern Railway, asking on behalf of the directors of the road at what points the city wanted gates placed at the crossings. The company expressed its desire to conform to the city regulations.

Messrs. Wanklyn and Wilson appeared before the committee and expressed the difficulty found by the contractors for the new Alexandra Hospital in transporting materials to the site of the building which is now in course of erection. The committee pointed out that the road was not city property, but that it belonged to the railway.

Upon the two gentlemen stating that both the Grand Trunk and the directors of the hospital were prepared to give a deed of gift of the street to the city, the committee promised that the matter would be attended to at once.

The committee dealt with two contracts. One for a drain to be built on Carriere street and Sherbrooke avenue was awarded to A. Bray & Co., who were the lowest tenderers, with an amount of $9,621.68.

The contract for a pump in the subway on Wellington street was awarded to the Caledonia Iron Company for the sum of $750.

Appropriations for permanent sidewalks, which will have to be referred to the Finance Committee and the City Council for ratification, to the amount of $22,000, were passed.

As Guy street has been widened the question of increasing the width of the gates at this point came up for discussion.

As the property is that of the railway company, the former will be asked to have the necessary changes made.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTIONARIES.

What They Think of the Affair at Odessa.

Mr. J. Kars, one of the leading Russian revolutionaries in this country, when seen yesterday with regard to the mutiny of the Russian sailors at Odessa, said: "That movement was not one planned by the revolutionaries. It was simply an outburst on the part of the sailors themselves. They have been seething with discontent for years, but they have never dared raise their hands against their oppressors.

"There is one hopeful sign in the act for the revolutionary party. It shows that discipline is broken. So long as the rigid discipline prevailing in the army and navy was kept up, it was hard for the revolutionists to get a footing in those bodies. The respect for discipline will be greatly lessened by the occurrence at Odessa, and the example of those sailors will be followed by others, and the whole power of the army and navy as an engine of oppression will be broken.

"The older men in the army and navy to-day are too strongly held by bonds of discipline to dare to take things into their own hands, but the younger men have been set thinking, and by the time it is their turn to serve in the army they will not be disposed to endure the brutality of the officers as those who have served and are serving to-day have done."

"For this reason the action of the sailors at Odessa is regarded by us as a beginning in the move that will finally win freedom for the people to govern themselves and to establish such institutions as will suit their needs instead of allowing themselves to be driven by a worthless bureaucracy."

They Will Manufacture in Canada.

Mr. N. J. Holden, president of the Canadian Pneumatic Tool Company, who has returned from New York, confirms the published statement that his company has been purchased by the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, which a short time ago bought out the Philadelphia Pneumatic Tool Company and the Chicago Storage Battery Company. The price paid for the Canadian company is understood to be somewhat in excess of $60,000. It is the intention of the Chicago company to do all its manufacturing for the Canadian field on this side of the line, and thus avoid the heavy duties which up to the present it has been compelled to pay in catering to the Canadian demand for its products. N. J. Holden & Co. will remain the selling agents of the factory's products.

The Winches in the Canals.

Captain Hinckley, of the R. and O. steamer Brockville, and other officers who are utilizing the Cornwall canal, are objecting to the new system inaugurated whereby the vessels are pulled through the locks by winches electrically operated. They state that it is necessary to have an additional man or two in order to operate these winches and cables.

On the other hand, the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals states that while the system is proving unpopular with the boats and lockmen, owing to more work involved, it has proven a great success, owing to a greatly decreased liability to accident and it will be continued.

Mrs. Frank Hutt, Morrisburg, Ont., was one of those troubled with this most common of stomach troubles. She writes:—"After being treated by three doctors, and using many advertised medicines, for a severe attack of Dyspepsia, and receiving no benefit, I gave up all hope of ever being cured. Hearing Burdock Blood Bitters so highly spoken of, I decided to get a bottle, and give it a trial. Before I had taken it I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken the second one I was completely cured. I cannot recommend Burdock Blood Bitters too highly, and would advise all sufferers from dyspepsia to give it a trial."

Rev. Father Louis Lalande, the eloquent Jesuit, who has been delivering patriotic lectures to the French-Canadians in the different centres of New England and the Middle States, announces that he has accumulated a considerable sum to form the nucleus of a fund to be devoted to the education of bright boys who have not the means to secure advanced education for themselves.

Thus in many of the French parishes in the United States and Canada are to be found a number of exceptionally bright boys, with all the qualities necessary to make good professional men, but without the requisite means to secure the college course that will enable them to take up the study of a profession. A number of these boys have already been chosen and will be sent to different colleges in the autumn.

Mr. Justice Dunlop yesterday dismissed the action of Mr. William S. Evans against the F. W. Webb Manufacturing Company. The plaintiff claimed $1,218.53 for damages caused to the building 141, 143 and 145 St. Maurice street, leased to the defendant company, because the snow and ice had caused a collapse in March, 1904. Plaintiff held the collapse was due to negligence of the company in failing to have the roofs cleared. The court held that the defendant had cleared the roof as well as the work could be done and that the accident was due to defective construction.

Holidays and Early Closing.

We shall celebrate Dominion Day to-morrow by closing the store.

Under the new management we've been closing every day at 5.30, and shall close every Saturday during July and August at 1 o'clock—all as a matter of principle.

We have salespeople here who welcome service, who seem to have no end of strength and patience, and part of our policy is to consider their interests on a par with our own. The extra business we're doing entitles them to just such consideration. And the fact of better service all round is your compensation for shopping earlier.

In many ways we know we are doing Montreal good service. In regard to salespeople we mean to surround them with every possible courtesy, based on getting the best service to be had anywhere. And by that we mean vastly more than store manners.

This Store Closes Daily at 5.30 p.m.

Making Treaty With Indians.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 30.—Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, who has been in Ottawa this week attending the Anglican Synod, completed arrangements with the Dominion Government for the making of a treaty with some of the Indians in New Ontario. The treaty to be made will take in the part of the territory which has never been formally surrendered by the Indians. It will embrace an area from James Bay south to the Height of Land, east to the boundary of Ontario, and west to the limits of the land treated under old treaty number 3, now known as Rainy River East.

For the Dominion, Mr. D. C. Scott and Mr. S. Stewart, of the Department of Indian Affairs, will act as commissioners. Colonel Matheson has appointed Mr. D. G. McMartin, of Perth, to represent the Ontario Government. The commissioners have left the city and do not expect to be back before three months at least.

ALBERTA BILL UNDER DISCUSSION

Mr. Bergeron Moved His Amendment Which Was Lost.

PREMIER'S MOTION CARRIED

But Not Before a Slight Amendment by Mr. Lamont Has Been Accepted.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Press Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, June 30.—The sitting of the House of yesterday extended into the early hours of to-day. Notwithstanding the numerous and long speeches, good progress was made with the Alberta bill. The educational clause was under consideration, a number of amendments were voted down and finally the contentious clause was carried in committee. This leaves two clauses to dispose of and then the bill will be ready for a third reading.

CLAUSE 16 IN COMMITTEE.

The amended educational clause of the Alberta autonomy bill, or clause 16, number two, as it is commonly called, was again taken up in committee of the whole yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bergeron, Conservative, of Beauharnois, was the first speaker of the sitting, and he proposed the following sub-amendment to the amendment of the Prime Minister, which is clause 16, Number two.

Mr. Bergeron moved: "That all the words of the amendment be struck out, and the following substituted therefor: Section 93 of the British North America act, 1867, shall apply to the said province, as if, at the date fixed for the coming into force of this act, the territory included in the said province were already a province, the word union in the said section meaning the said date.

"(2)—The legislature shall have the right to pass laws with reference to education, but it shall always guarantee (a) the existence of separate schools and their enjoyment by the minority; (b) the full liberty for the majority, in any school section, to have such school as it may desire; (c) the equitable and proportionate distribution between the majority and the minority of all moneys appropriated for education."

CONGRATULATED MR. BOURASSA

Mr. Bergeron spoke at considerable length in support of his amendment. At the outset he congratulated Mr. Bourassa upon the amendment the latter had moved at the preceding sitting, and he was glad to see that several of the representatives of Quebec had sufficient independence to enable them to express their opinions upon this question. The speech of Mr. Bourassa must have gone home for it led Mr. Lemieux, Solicitor-General, to deliver his eloquent harangue who tried to draw the herring across the trail by pointing at the high offices held by members of the French-Canadian race. It would speak more for the position of the race if it could be shown that they were in the enjoyment of their rights in the Province of Manitoba. A few members of the race might be in shining positions, but where were the rights of the Roman Catholic minority of Manitoba, and where would be the rights of the minority of the North-West if the present bill should become law?

TWO PROPOSITIONS.

There were two propositions before them, that of Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition, who wished to apply section 93 of the British North America Act, and whatever might be the result to accept it loyally; and then there was the proposition of the Prime Minister, who said he was standing by section 93, but at the same time wished to amend it. Mr. Borden's position was a manly one, but that of the Prime Minister was a mixture; it was standing by the constitution as much as they could with something added. The amended clause 16, said Mr. Bergeron, was really nothing. It was neither standing by the constitution nor by the rights of the minority; it was opportunism. His amendment called things by their proper name, and it would put on record the members from the province of Quebec, for if they really desired separate schools they would have to vote for it.

CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY.

Mr. Bergeron then sketched the constitutional history of Canada. Fortune seemed to have given the northern half of this continent to the French and English races, and during all these years they have lived happier together than had many a nation composed wholly of one race. In the past several of the Governors had attempted to crush one of the partners on the banks of the St. Lawrence, but they had not succeeded. Then in 1854 two great leaders had come to the front. Mr. Baldwin in Upper Canada and Mr. Lafontaine in Lower Canada. They joined hands, they brought about harmony, and laid the foundation of the present Dominion.

Certain pledges were given the French-Canadians found in Canada in 1759. In fact, Canada was ceded to the British Crown; he would go farther and say that Canada was conquered by Great Britain, the greatest colonizing nation of modern times. She made her colonies her equals and wherever she planted her flag liberty followed. Britain promised the French-Canadian race the free exercise of their religion, and that promise was confirmed by the Treaty of Paris of 1763.

BELONGED TO GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue, asked if the treaty applied to the North-West Territories. The Territories, said he, belonged to Great Britain before the signing of the Treaty of Paris.

The French-Canadians, said Mr. Bergeron, were granted certain privileges.

Mr. Fitzpatrick—"Could they carry those privileges around with them in their vest pocket; could they carry them outside the old Province of Quebec?"

Mr. Bergeron answered that those privileges were granted to the race.

Passing on, he reviewed the course of events which culminated in the abolition of the French as an official language in Manitoba, and the repeal of the separate school law, in direct violation of the rights of the minority and in violation of the express promises given them. The Liberals had promised to maintain each; they had abolished both, and then followed the Manitoba case, and the troubles that had been disturbing the peace of the country during the past five months were due to the events of 1896. The Conservative party promised remedial legislation, and to their credit be it said they stood by the constitution. But what was the conduct of the present Prime Minister! He moved the six months' hoist to the Remedial bill, so as to please the extremists on both sides. On one hand they could say that the Liberal leader had put down the hierarchy of Quebec, and on the other side they told the people of Quebec that the bill did not go far enough, but that if the Liberals were put in office they would settle the question.

PRIME MINISTER HAPPY.

The Liberals came into power, and where were they to-day? The Roman Catholics of Manitoba had to pay school taxes, and yet support their own schools out of their own pockets, and the Prime Minister sat in his place of power seemingly happy, although he knew that justice had not been done the minority of Manitoba.

Coming to the present bill and the educational clause, Mr. Bergeron pointed out that in Quebec supporters of the Government said the amended clause was the same as the original one, but in Ontario they told the people that the amended clause amounted to nothing; that there was no need of worrying about it, and that finally all the separate schools in the North-West would disappear.

Why did the Prime Minister change the clause? If he had stood by it the clause would have been carried. Was it done in part in order to get rid of Mr. Sifton?

It was known that Mr. Fielding was booked for the Premiership, and it was said he was the man who forced the Prime Minister to change the clause, and so they had clause number two with nothing in it. It was worse than the amendment of Mr. Borden, for that would not have prevented separate schools, while the amended clause would prevent separate schools forever. As Mr. Fielding had said, the only schools possible under the bill were public schools.

WANTS OF MINORITY.

What the minority wanted was denominational schools, for it was a matter of conscience with Roman Catholics that religion should be taught their children in their schools. It was a matter respecting which there could be no compromise. A broader view was taken in England upon this question than in Canada, for in England it was recognized that the parent had a right to say what manner of teaching the State should give his child.

After speaking of the loyalty of the French-Canadian race to the British Crown, Mr. Bergeron came to the terms of his amendment, which, he said was somewhat similar to that of Mr. Bourassa, only he thought it was clearer, leaving no doubt as to the right of the minority to their own schools. Had the original clause 16 stood, he would not have moved his amendment.

The Minister of Justice criticised the drafting of the amendment, but Mr. Borden replied that the Minister had to make verbal corrections in his own bill Mr. Bergeron's meaning was clearly expressed; they all knew what he meant by his proposed amendment.

During this discussion the Minister of Justice admitted that the amended clause, while making provision for the separate school of a local minority, made no provision for the separate school of a local majority. The original clause did but not the amended one.

SUPPORT FOR MR. BERGERON.

Mr. Bourassa, Liberal, of Labelle, said he would support the amendment of Mr. Bergeron, for it contained much of the principle laid down in the amendment he had moved at the preceding sitting.

Mr. Leonard, Conservative, of Laval, spoke for a few minutes before the dinner recess, criticising the conduct of the Solicitor-General with respect to the school question, charging that it had been used for partizan purposes.

MR. MONK EXPLAINS.

Mr. Leonard concluded his speech a few minutes after recess and Mr. Monk (Jacques Cartier) arose to explain why he had voted for the amendment moved by Mr. Bourassa, and why he would support Mr. Bergeron's amendment. One of his chief objections to the Government educational clause is that it does not protect the rights of the minority where they in a district constitute a majority. Where they are in a majority there is no guarantee that their rights will not be interfered with. In the Territories at the present moment there are 150 school districts in which the Roman Catholics, as a majority, have organized public schools, as compared with 9 school districts where they have organized as a minority separate schools. It should be the duty of the Government to supplement a provision guaranteeing the right of the minority all over the new province. Mr. Monk argued that the Government attitude is that it can not only create a new province, but can legislate for the same beyond the terms of the British North America Act. As a proof of this, he pointed out that according to the B. N. A. Act the Crown lands are vested in the provinces, and yet the Government is legislating in an opposite sense. According to this there is no such theory as the automatic application of the B. N. A. Act. Why, then, if free to do so, does not the Government provide further guarantees for the rights of the minority? Under the Territorial ordinances, Mr. Monk argued, the principle of separate schools had been maintained, but everything else had been taken away, including the control of the schools and their curriculum. The rights of the minority all over the province are not protected by the Government clauses, but they are protected in the amendment of Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Bergeron. Therefore, he gave them his support. There is no reason why the Government, in view of its attitude, should not restore at least some of the privileges originally guaranteed the minority in the Territories.

HAIR-SPLITTING ARGUMENTS.

Some hair splitting arguments followed as to the interpretation of the meaning of the educational clauses of the bill by the Ministers and leading members of the Opposition. Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick remarked that the only difference he could see in Mr. Monk's interpretation of the clauses now and before the by-elections was as to the effect produced in Ontario before those events and in Quebec after.

Mr. R. L. Borden taunted the Minister of Justice with never having satisfactorily explained to the House why he had consented to the change from clause 16, No. 1, to clause 16, No. 2, after fervently declaring in the House that he would stand or fall by No. 1. Mr. Fitzpatrick said that he had made his attitude clear. No. 1 was an ideal clause, because it consecrated a principle; No. 2 was a departure from the ideal because it perpetuated a system.

Mr. Borden said he wished to make it clear that he did not sanction the taking away of the rights of the minority, but he believed the power to deal with the matter should be left with the provinces. If the people of the West are willing to extend the rights of the minority of their own free will he would not have a word to say against it.

A WORDY CONFLICT.

The debate drifted into a wordy conflict between Mr. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue, and Mr. Lemieux, Solicitor-General, on the one side, and Mr. Bourassa, Liberal member for Labelle.

Mr. Bergeron styled Mr. Brodeur's spech as a sample of Liberal political discussion in Quebec. "They make such harangues as that," said Mr. Bergeron, "and they wave the party flag." If those gentlemen were sincere; if they were the friends of separate schools, let them vote for his amendment. If they wished to give the minority anything, let them make it useful.

The Minister of Justice asked Mr. Bergeron why he had kept back his amendment until after the London election?

Mr. Bergeron said he never thought of that; but he would ask why the Government had marked time for three weeks before that election?

Mr. Bourassa was rather severe upon Mr. Lemieux and Mr. Brodeur. They had in effect charged him with being a demagogue, simply because he stood where the Government stood when they introduced the bill. The members of the Government did not go to Quebec to make their broad-minded speeches. There they told the people that they had obtained for the minority all they could. As for himself, he made the same kind of a speech outside the House as in it. In regard to this school question, both sides were trying to do the smallest amount of justice possible, fearing to make political capital for their opponents. As for himself he would not sacrifice his principles. He always stood by the constitution; he had never sought applause by advocating Canadian independence or by advocating the assassination of the Czar of Russia, as another gentleman had done, whom he could name. Mr. Bourassa pointed out that no provision was made for the rights of a local majority in respect to religious instruction.

A NEW ELEMENT.

Mr. Porter, Conservative of West Hastings, introduced a new element to the debate. He reminded the committee that at a meeting held during the recent North Oxford Campaign, Mr. Mackenzie, Liberal member for North Cape Breton, stated that he would resign his seat if he could not prove that the Premier had denied the charge that he had consulted the Papal Ablegate respecting the educational clause. Mr. Porter read from Hansard showing that the Prime Minister had been called upon to deny that charge, but had not done so.

Mr. Mackenzie gave another version of the affair. He stated that Mr. Porter told the people of North Oxford that the Papal Ablegate drafted the clause and put it into the hands of the Prime Minister.

Mr. Porter denied the correctness of that version, and here the matter dropped.

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN.

A vote was now taken on Mr. Bergeron's amendment and it was lost, Yeas 6, nays 125. It was supported by Mr. Bergeron of Beauharnois, Mr. Leonard of Laval, Mr. Padquet of L'Islet, and Mr. Monk of Jacques Cartier, all Conservatives, and by Mr. Bourassa of Labelle and Mr. Lavergne of Montmagny, Liberals.

The amended clause 16 was about to be carried when Mr. Lamont, Liberal of Saskatchewan, rose with another sub-amendment, the effect of which was to secure religious instruction in public as well as in separate schools, as is now provided for in the school ordinances of the Territories.

Mr. Lamont said this was the practice now, it had been so for fourteen years and he wished to have it continued.

The Government accepted the amendment but it was opposed by Dr. Sproule and others on the ground that it was a further invasion of provincial rights. A number of other exceptions were taken to the amendment which led to many of the oft-repeated arguments being presented once more.

Mr. Lamont's sub-amendment was carried; yeas, 99; nays, 27.

Then the amended clause 16, that is the new educational clause of the Government as amended by Mr. Lamont was put and carried; yeas, 90; nays, 28.

Section 2 of the bill stood and at 1.50 a.m. the committee rose and the House adjourned.

IN THE UPPER CHAMBER.

Mr. McMullen Induced to Withdraw His Bill re Insurance.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 30.—In the Senate on Thursday, Hon. Mr. McMullen moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Insurance Act in regard to the investment of funds of life insurance companies in securities of trust companies. The measure was suggested by recent developments in insurance affairs in the United States. Mr. McMullen said that there were good trust companies in Canada but trusts had been found which had proved disastrous and he thought that life insurance companies should not be allowed to invest their funds in them. He expressed the opinion that there are too many life insurance companies in Canada. He thought a life company might be allowed to hold a large quantity of first class securities, such as Dominion and Provincial debentures, and stock in the leading banks, a less quantity of second class securities and but little of third class securities.

There were some companies with very little stock but with enormous insurance liability. The Canada Life had one million capital, and twenty-six million liabilities. There were nine directors representing one million, and three policy-holder directors representing twenty-six million. This was not right. He would have the policy-holders vote for all directors. That would largely destroy the monopoly created by one or two men getting hold of a large amount of stock. This was a feature which well deserved serious consideration. As a director of a company he was quite willing to give the policy-holders the power to elect.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell thought Mr. McMullen's speech might give a wrong impression as to the value of the securities held. There was no more important matter than life insurance, but Mr. McMullen's bill would not reach its object. There was no more solid companies than Canadian Trust Companies. The danger was not in allowing shareholders in Life companies to become shareholders in Trust companies, but in Life companies forming themselves into Trust companies as had been done in the United States. He hoped that Mr. McMullen would not press the bill as he understood the insurance department intended to consider the whole question during recess.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. Mr. Kerr spoke along the same lines, whereupon Mr. McMullen agreed to drop the bill for the present.

The bill to amend the present Railway act was then read a third time and passed.

The Senate adjourned till July 5.

OUR DOMINION'S BIRTHDAY.

Saturday we don our best attire and issue forth to celebrate the 38th birthday of our fair Dominion.

Marvellous has been the progress in the score and eighteen years that have elapsed. The vision upon this occasion rests upon

—A prosperous country

The past year has witnessed a far-reaching change in boundaries, whereby the North-West Territories becomes a memory, and in its stead two promising provinces arise. Welcome Alberta! All hail Saskatchewan!

But three of the thirty-three Fathers of Confederation survive,

"O bless our broad Dominion,
Here make Thy truth to stand,
So shall Canadians free men be
And true in heart and hand."

JOHNS' SENTENCE IS LIGHT.

Cashier of Defunct Bank Only Received Two Months.

Yarmouth, N.S., June 30.—Sentence was pronounced at 9.30 to-night, when the court met for the purpose in the case of cashier T. W. Johns, of the defunct Bank of Yarmouth, and who was committed earlier in the day on two charges.

Judge Meagher said he would make the sentence very mild for two reasons, first, because the Crown had asked that the sentence be the most lenient possible; secondly, because he realized that it seemed to be the practice for some, perhaps all bankers to make the returns in the way Johns had made them, in respect to current loans and overdue bills. He could not see how the law could be so interpreted as to permit this, but the evidence seemed to show that many bankers had adopted the practice, and that, therefore, Johns had some ground for making the returns as they had been made. The sentence was two months in gaol. In the meantime bail would be accepted in $1,000 from himself and two sureties in $500 each until the reserved case which was granted has been argued.

ONTARIO'S GOOD ROADS MEN.

Annual Session Brought to a Close at Brockville.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., June 30.—The good roads convention closed yesterday with two highly interesting and instructive sessions in which much valuable discussion ensued bearing on extending the scope of the society's usefulness and promoting the campaign of scientific road building throughout this province. Warden Bradley, of Carleton County, provincial road commissioner Campbell, and secretary Cowan, were the leading speakers in this respect. The feature of the day was an address on road making as practiced in Connecticut and other points of the United States by Highway Commissioner MacDonald, of Hartford, Conn. After adopting the treasurer's statement, and deciding upon Kingston for the convention of 1906, the following officers were elected:—

President, Warden Sproule, Frontenac; secretary, H. B. Cowan, Toronto, assistant secretary, W. A. McLean, Toronto; Treasurer, Charles McNabb, Ottawa.

Most Miraculous Escape.

Green River, Ont., June 30.—The boiler in Joseph Doten's large basket factory was blown up with terrific force just after dinner yesterday. The boiler was lifted up and thrown fully 100 feet to the west, the head being sent about 100 yards over buildings in the opposite direction. The factory was badly wrecked, a great portion of the side and roof being blown out. Mr. Doten and his son, who attends the engine, were standing not more than 10 feet from one side of it when the accident occurred, and miraculously escaped uninjured. Thousands of berry baskets were scattered in all directions.

Mr. Allard's Leg Not Broken.

Quebec, Que., June 30.—It was found by the medical men at the Hotel Dieu Hospital upon closer examination that Hon. Mr. Allard's leg was not broken in the accident at Fraserville. While Hon. M. Allard's injuries are painful, it is expected he will have sufficiently recovered to permit his removal to his home in about a week's time.

A Unique Sale.

Canadian progressiveness and go-ahead principles are distinctly emphasized in the announcement by one of our popular firms of a very unique sale. It consists of special purchasing inducements and clever handling of the figure 9. The sale begins at 9 o'clock each morning, and is in swing for 9 hours a day, continues for 9 days, and finishes on the 9th of July. Every purchaser receives big concessions, but every 9th purchase is the banner one. The lucky party receiving in some cases the return of the whole amount of their purchase. The proposition is a fair one to the public in search of Home Furnishings, and the firm of N. G. Valiquette, Limited, will certainly have a busy time during the nine days.

Special Notice.

INTERESTING INDIAN WORK.

Programme of the Indian Girls' School at Caughnawaga.

An interesting programme was successfully carried out at the closing exercises of the Kateri Tekakwitha Girls' School at Caughnawaga this week. A large audience of parents and friends followed it with interest. Attractive pieces of knitting, sewing and crocheting were exhibited as well as new designs in beadwork, card cases, collars, belts, chains, purses. Lady Sybil Grey, during her last visit to Montreal, purchased some pieces of this handiwork, and girls of Caughnawaga are now engaged upon an order of five bead chains for Mrs. Hanbury-Williams. This artistic beadwork is a new feature of the school work and has been introduced since the New Year. The handiwork is sold for the pupils at the Handicrafts Shop on St. Catherine St.

At the conclusion of the programme an address was read by a pupil to Rev. Father Melancon, S.J., particularly thanking him for obtaining from the Government the permission and means to introduce these arts. This recognition was warmly applauded by the audience. In reply, Rev. Father Melancon congratulated the children on the progress made and the parents upon the devotedness of the teacher. He expressed for himself and the school gratitude toward the Indian Department and the Handicrafts Guild for their encouragement and practical assistance in the new beadwork.

Miss Holmes-Orr, manager of the Handicrafts Shop, was present at the closing exercises. The programmes were prettily decorated with pen and ink sketches of Indian subjects by a pupil of the school.

THINK RUSSIA IN LAST THROES

American Comment on Russian Internal Troubles.

ROMANOFFS NOW TOTTERING

But a Question of Time When the Autocracy Will Be Overthrown and People Reign Supreme.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 30.—The "American" says:

"The full doom of the Russian Government may not be immediately at hand, yet already retribution has never before followed so swiftly and in such overwhelming force upon a nation guilty of such perfidy, oppression and inhumanity. In all the world there is no more pitiable public figure than the Czar of Russia. His armies are beaten in the field by the enemy, the very national existence of which was unknown when the dynasty to which he clings was founded. His navies one after another go down before the fleets of an enemy which he despised.

"His uncles and brothers, his chief officers are assassinated in the streets of his capital, and he himself lives in daily dread of violent death. In all parts of his land murder and riot are rife.

"Provinces which he has tried to hold with an iron hand are breaking away from his authority, their people maddened to the point of desperation not hesitating to try, all unarmed and undisciplined as they are to give battle to his troops.

"Finland, which he betrayed, is in sullen opposition.

"Poland, which he stole, or which his Government stole, is in open revolt.

"His army is honeycombed with sedition and it now appears that what little the Japanese have left of his navy is likely to be turned against his Government. There will be scant sympathy for the Government of the Czar in this emergency.

"Sympathy properly goes out to the people of Russia."

COMMENT OF THE SUN.

The Sun says:

"The startling news that the Kniaz Potemkin, Russia's most powerful battleship in the Black Sea, together with one or more torpedo boats, lay on Wednesday at Odessa in the hands of mutineers confirmed the report, for some time current, that disaffection pervades the remnant of Russia's naval force.

"The fact that the other day at Lodz some officers of a regiment refused to fire upon defenceless people indicates that the spirit of insurrection is spreading to the army also.

"We shall soon know whether the infection can be checked for a while. Should the Black Sea squadron, under Vice-Admiral Kruger, recapture the insurrectionists, the St. Petersburg reactionists will feel they have secured temporary reprieve. It may be, however, that crews of other vessels will rise against their officers, and in that event what looks like a revolt may prove the beginning of a revolution.

"It is true that even if the whole of Kruger's squadron should mutiny and gain possession of all of Russian unfortified towns on the Black Sea, it could exercise no direct and decisive influence on the fortunes of the Romanoff autocracy.

"Those towns lie at the extremity of the Empire: they do not constitute any resources much less vital organs of state. It would not be easy, nevertheless, to overrate the moral effect of widespread mutiny in the only part of Russia's navy which retains some measure of efficiency.

"Under all circumstances, we can understand why the news received from Odessa excited more consternation in official circles at St. Petersburg than the other defeat of Kuropatkin or the destruction of Rojestvensky's fleet."

EASTERN TROUBLES KNOWN AT HOME.

The Times says:

"The mutiny on the Russian battleship on the Black Sea, followed by the terrorization of the garrison of Odessa, by the mutinous battleship under the red flag, is the most striking sign that has been yet given in Russia in Europe that the discomfiture of Russia in Asia is fully understood at home.

"That Russian naval power no longer amounts to anything, that it is safer and more comfortable to defy it, and to enter upon an aimless career of promiscuous piracy is to be extracted from the conduct of the crew of the best Russian battleship in the Black Sea."

SOCIALIZED MUTINY.

The Herald says:—

"The terrible destruction of life in the battle of the Sea of Japan must have made an impression upon Russian seamen, and the naval conscripts that found its only explanation in the claimed unfitness of their superior officers.

"Nothing is more fatal than this distrust of officers by men. It is reasonable, therefore, to believe that this will prove to be a localized mutiny."

The World says:—

"It took four years for the French revolution to gain full headway. In the last six months Russia has been making rapid progress."

The Czar Still Issuing Orders.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The Emperor has issued the following ukase, addressed to the ruling Senate:—

"In order to guarantee public safety, and to terminate the disorders at Odessa and neighboring localities we have found it necessary to declare a state of war in Odessa and district, and to invest the commander of the troops in the military district of Odessa with the rights of military authority and special rights of civil administration for the defence of order and public tranquility.

Royal Arcanum Draw on Securities.

Boston, Mass., June 30.—The executive of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum yesterday withdrew $158,000 of the first class securities, which constitute part of the orders of the emergency fund of nearly $2,000,000 in the custody of the State treasurer. The money was drawn, it is stated, to replenish the mortuary funds. Supreme Secretary W. Robsin says there is no deficit, but that money would be placed with the mortuary fund in order to keep enough ahead.

UNITED ZEMSTVOS MAKE DEMANDS

Understanding Reached Between St. Petersburg and Moscow Bodies.

WANT REFORMS GRANTED

Constitutional Government Will Be Proclaimed at Once Unless the Czar Consents.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The Zemstvos of St. Petersburg and Moscow, where the mobilization is commencing have taken the gravest decision since the reform agitation became active.

It is understood that the most violent disorders prevail in many of the provinces and are spreading, but the officials prevent the public knowing much about the troubles. They have also prohibited the Zemstvos from discussing the matter at their public meetings.

The families of reservists, supported by all the working classes, have been clamoring since the beginning of the week to learn from the Zemstvos the meaning of the war measures, and also the meaning of the promises of internal reform.

The Zemstvos of St. Petersburg and Moscow provinces have been able to intercommunicate and arrive at a common understanding. They have adopted a decision to present a memorial to the Czar regarding the question of reforms, in which they declare that unless the reforms promised are promulgated and in operation by the middle of July, they will announce a constitutional government within their respective provinces.

The members of the Zemstvos are aware of the gravity of their course if it results in their prosecution. It is believed that this will be a long step in the direction of a constitution.

Doaktown, N.B., June 30.—Word reached here yesterday of a quarrel between two Arbeau Brothers at Upper Blackville, in which one Ruben Arbeau is left for dead. Reuben lay unconscious for eight or ten hours after the blow was struck. Elijah also threatened to strike another fellow, but he got away from the scene of the conflict and made for Newcastle, where he informed the deputy sheriff of what had been done. It is said here that Elijah Arbeau took to the neighboring woods and by the aid of a gun which he took with him will resist arrest.

SCHOONER WAS RUN DOWN.

The Captain of the Sverre Tells How It Happened.

The collier Sverre, which vessel came in collision with and sank the American fishing schooner Columbia, a few days ago off Sydney, is in port.

The first officer of the Sverre, in speaking of the accident in which fortunately there were no lives lost, thought that the Gloucester schooner was practically cut in two and went down almost immediately. He states that it was one of those accidents resulting from a misunderstanding of signals, and which apparently no one is to blame for particularly. It was one o'clock in the morning and none too bright outside of Sydney Harbor. The Sverre was going slowly, when the lookout picked up a light on the starboard bow. They signalled that they would steer a certain course, and they thought that the vessel in the distance would make her course accordingly. However, before they dreamed of being so near the stragger the schooner was upon them, running straight across their bow. The Columbia was struck amidships. Ropes were thrown from the collier, and one by one the crew of the schooner, 19 in all, climbed over the rail, the Columbia's captain last of all. He had scarcely gained the deck of the collier when his schooner sank. The Sverre put back immediately to Sydney, where the shipwrecked men were landed. When the steamship returns to Sydney an investigation will be held.

Lady Eileen Eliot, the eldest daughter of Lord and Lady Minto is said to be the most beautiful girl now in Society. Although she is somewhat past the debutante age, she has been very little seen in London, owing to the fact that, till lately, her father was Governor-General of Canada. Lady Minto has brought up her two elder daughters very simply; they are keen sportswomen and enthusiastic skaters—indeed, skating was their favorite amusement during the happy years they spent in the great Dominion. Lady Eileen helped her parents to entertain the Prince and Princess of Wales on the occasion of their great Colonial Tour, and the Princess is much interested in all Lady Minto's children.—The Sketch.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday in Ottawa, at the residence of Mrs. A. N. McNeill, James street, when Miss Margaret Aline McNeill, daughter of the late Mr. A. N. McNeill, R.N., was married to Mr. Edgar Alexander Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell. The rooms were tastefully decorated with a profusion of ox-eyed daisies. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. M. Gorman. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. E. R. McNeill, wore a gown of white silk point d'esprit over taffeta, veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley, and wore a diamond and turquoise pin, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor, Miss Estelle Mitchell, sister of the groom, was gowned in white organdie, inlet with Valenciennes lace, with blue sash. She carried a bouquet of ox-eyed daisies and maiden hair ferns, and wore a pearl pin, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn McNeill, sister of the bride, was gowned in white liberty silk, with white Charlotte Corday hat. She carried a bouquet of daisies and maiden hair ferns, and wore a pearl pin, the gift of the groom. The best man was Mr. C. A. Gorrel. A reception was held after the ceremony.

At St. Mary's Church, on Wednesday, Rev. Mr. Boyle officiating, Miss Laura Rose Bonet was married to Mr. Horace Newsome Winter, and Miss Lily Blanche Bonet to Mr. Daniel Bartley Turner. The brides are the daughters of Mr. John Bonet, of Montreal. A reception was held after the ceremony, and later Mr. and Mrs. Winter and Mr. and Mrs. Turner left for the West, and on their return will reside in Montreal.
