

COUNCIL MEMBERS ENGAGE IN SHARP DISCUSSION

Falling Tree Killed Man—British Flier Starts On Long Journey

Construction Of Westbury Power Dam To Be In Charge Of A Special Commission

New Situation, With Its Somewhat Unexpected Developments, Was Final of a Very Bitter Discussion at Last Night's Council Meeting, During Which Mayor Edwards Came in for Some Sharp Criticism—Alderman Dr. L. Forest Appointed Chairman of Commission, With Aldermen Loranger and Labrecque as Members—Work Will Proceed Immediately Without Government Lease, and All Motions Made by Council Regarding Newton Construction Company, Which Was to Have Carried On the Work, Have Been Rescinded.

THE construction and completion of the city's dam and power house at Westbury has been taken out of the hands of the municipal electric department and will be carried out under the direction of a special commission, consisting of Alderman Dr. L. Forest as chairman with Aldermen Loranger and Labrecque as committee members. The work will proceed immediately without the government lease, and all motions made by the Council regarding the Newton Construction Company, which concern was to have done the work, have been rescinded. If agreeable to carrying out their original tender of $184,400, however, the Newton Construction Company will be allowed to do this work. If not the work will be done by the city by day labor or new tenders called for.

This, in brief, is the latest development regarding the now famous Westbury power development question as a result of last night's regular meeting of the City Council.

ALD. LANGIS LAUNCHED ATTACK AGAINST MAYOR

This new situation, with its somewhat unexpected developments, was the finale of a very bitter discussion last evening, during which Sherbrooke's Chief Magistrate came in for some very sharp and not altogether flattering remarks from several members of the Council that took objection to what they termed his close dealings regarding this municipal problem.

During the discussion which featured last night's meeting, Alderman Langis went so far as to state that the Mayor was working more in the interests of the Provincial Government than in the interests of the city, while Alderman Forest, in accusing Mayor Edwards of withholding information from the Council regarding Westbury, said, "There is a nigger somewhere in the fence and some influence exists which is acting to the disadvantage of the city."

VOTE ON MAIN MOTION WAS SEVEN TO THREE

The motion making possible this sudden change was adopted by a vote of seven to three. The motion was proposed by Alderman Loranger, seconded by Alderman Labrecque and agreed to by Aldermen Tetreault, Langis, Lacombe, Beauchemin and Forest. Aldermen Houlihan, Bradley and Newton were against the motion.

Alderman Forest Opened Discussion.

It was Alderman Forest who first brought this discussion before the meeting when he strongly objected to a trip taken a few days ago by the mayor and Alderman Newton, chairman of the Gas and Electric Department, to Montreal regarding the Westbury matter.

Alderman Forest not only objected to this trip, but also took exception to what he termed the Mayor's system of keeping all these interviews private.

Speaking at different times during the evening Alderman Forest traced the whole course of events regarding last night's meeting to a large number of private citizens, including both local members of parliament, Alderman Forest said that he thought it was a good time to explain the situation as he saw it.

Beginning at Westbury, the City speaker outlined briefly the whole course of events up to the present time. He told of how the city had thought it was proprietor of the river bed and later found out that it was still the property of the crown, and in order to show that the city had a right to believe itself owner of the river bed Alderman Forest read several letters from prominent lawyers who gave their views in favor of the city's claim.

During the course of his remarks Alderman Forest came to the time of more recent developments and told of the various trips which the chairman of the Gas and Electric Department, as well as the mayor had made to Quebec and Montreal, mentioning during his remarks the name of the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, which he said had been brought into the matter by Mr. Ames, one of the government officials, and Alderman Newton.

The city, he said had never asked for anything unjust, but had always demanded what it felt and still feels, it had a right to expect, and above all the city did not want trouble with the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company.

Alderman Forest during his remarks made a suggestion that the transmission lines be built from Westbury to the St. Lawrence River by Alderman Newton, who said that such a procedure was unnecessary at the present time.

Alderman Forest concluded his remarks by objecting to the action of the mayor in not making public the proceedings at the various meetings which he had had with government representatives and

Frederick A. Giles, British Aviator, Took Off Today on First Leg of Projected Flight to New Zealand—Fair Weather Prospects at Starting End.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MILLS FIELD, San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 22.—Captain Frederick A. Giles, British flier, took off at 7.25 a.m. today in a second attempt to fly to Honolulu on the first leg of a projected flight to New Zealand.

The plane splashed water and mud along the runway getting into the air. Profiting by the previous experience, Giles made the take-off with ease, and his plane weighing more than 5,000 pounds and loaded with 390 gallons of gasoline gained altitude easily.

Field officials said the flier got off the runway in twenty seconds. After clearing the field he struck out over San Francisco Bay at an altitude of about two hundred feet. Captain Giles' last words were: "You will hear from me in a day or so."

He borrowed a handful of cigarettes and stuffed them into his pocket just before climbing into the plane.

The much delayed flight project got under way once more with fair weather prospects at the starting end.

HAD PLANNED TO PLAY FAKE DEAL ON CUSTOMERS

Intended to Lead Buyer into Trap by Giving Him Real Opium and Then Pass Of Fake Stuff on Big Transaction.

(Associated Press Despatch)

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Nov. 22.—Oscar Mouvet, sixty-five-year-old Paris, France, hotel proprietor and father of the late Maurice the dancer, "intended to play his cash customer for sucker" in a fake opium smuggling enterprise, customs officials here declared last night, commenting on Mouvet's re-arrest charged with selling one pound of genuine opium to a federal agent.

Mouvet was arrested four weeks ago after Cole Manning and Salvadore Pachetta, federal narcotic agents, seized 750 pounds of what later proved to be "fake dope" at Isle Lamotte. Mouvet had agreed to deliver it to them for $32,500, after selling a one-pound sample to Manning on a New York street corner.

Both agents were certain that Mouvet believed them to be genuine narcotic buyers and not federal men, and although the government was forced to let him go on the "fake dope" charge, Agent Manning told the customs office here that the "bait" opium which was sold in New York had been analyzed and found to be "the real thing."

Mouvet's game was to lead any buyer into a trap by first giving him a sample of the real stuff and then passing off the fake on the big transaction," they alleged.

Advises This Country Not To Be In Hurry, But To Maintain Values And Standards

"Canadians, the Future Is With You," Says Premier Baldwin—Could Have Settled Down in This Country With Perfect Happiness and Contentment.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, November, 22.—Speaking at a dinner given here last night by the Canadian Club, Premier Baldwin spoke of his anxiety to visit to the Maritime Provinces because he had learned that some parts of those provinces had been having a rather rough time. The Maritime provinces, he said, struck him as countries quite similar to Scotland. In Prince Edward Island he had found red soil such as was found in Worcester.

Premier Baldwin proceeded to pay compliments to Canadians, particularly to Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon. J. L. Ralston, Canadian Minister of National Defence, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Lord and Lady Willingdon, for the excellent arrangements for the tour.

"I went to Canada with one main object," said Premier Baldwin, "I wanted to interpret this country to Canada. Further, I wanted also to be able to interpret Canada to England. I was there twenty-three days. There was not one single town, east, west or middle west, where I did not feel perfectly at home, and

METZ MURDER CASE OPENED THIS MORNING

Practically All Morning Taken Up With Summoning of Jury—Defence Made Many Objections to Court Procedure—Actual Questioning of Witnesses Will Hardly Begin Before Tomorrow Morning.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 22.—Premier Henri Jaspar, whose coalition cabinet resigned yesterday, was asked by King Albert today to form a new cabinet, when the King received him in audience.

Jaspar received permission to postpone his reply until tomorrow.

The resignation of the Jaspar cabinet, which took office May 20, 1926, came after a meeting which revealed the impossibility of reconciling the conflicting views of the Socialist and non-Socialist minister on the period of military service.

The Socialists wanted military service reduced from ten months to six months. Count De Broqueville, minister of defence, proposed that the entire military question be submitted to a mixed commission of deputies and high officers. This was rejected and the resignations followed.

Strikers Are Ordered To Stay At Their Homes To Avoid Further Trouble

Death Toll as Result of Disorders in Northern Colorado Coal Field Increased to Five—Governor Adams Announces that Strikers Were to Blame for Firing.

(Associated Press Despatch)

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 22.—A committee representing striking miners in Northern Colorado coal field today announced all idle workers had been advised to remain at their homes to avoid possibility of more outbreaks similar to the skirmish at the Columbine Mine yesterday which resulted in the first bloodshed since the walkout was called on October 18th last.

Following secret meetings of miners at Lafayette and Erie, in the north field, last night, David Sheehan, member of the committee, today issued the following statement: "We are fighting for a principle. Surely the right of free speech is not to be denied us nor our rights as law abiding citizens. The men of the Columbine Mine who fired upon us are hired assassins of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and the miners are seriously considering going to the strikers' aid in a body to protect their sending military forces to the northern coal fields."

"No violence will be forthcoming from the strikers' ranks and we will compel by our attitude the support of all Colorado citizens and the nation as well."

"We have stronger weapons on our side than firearms, and gas bombs. We prophesy that within two weeks the coal supply of Colorado will be exhausted and operators will be forced to give us the Jacksonville wage scale."

Strikers to Blame

After reviewing reports of the fight at the Columbine which resulted in five deaths among miners and left a score injured, several seriously, Governor Adams announced he had relieved Louis N. Scherf, commander of the state police, of responsibility in firing on the miners when they attempted to invade the property.

"My reports show conclusively that the strikers were to blame," Governor Adams said. "Scherf exercised great patience and wonderful courage, doing everything possible to prevent bloodshed."

Warrants signed by ten miners at Erie have been made out by a justice of the peace there charging Theodore Pert, superintendent of the Columbine, and Bag Wyatt, of Greely, under-sheriff of Weld County, with murder in connection with the deaths of John Wastenes and Nick Spanudaceas, miners, who fell mortally wounded near the mine entrance.

OUTBREAK OF GANG WARFARE IN CHICAGO, ILL.

Several Men Arrested Near Detective Bureau Found to Be Armed—Awaiting Chance to Shoot Down Leaders of Rival Gang, Police Said—Officers of Motor-Equipped Cars Ordered to Shoot to Kill if They Meet Well Known Gangsters.

(Associated Press Despatch) CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 22.—While Mayor William Hale Thompson and his followers pursue the bogey man of "British propaganda" in Chicago's schools and public libraries, the guns of Chicago police and two rival underworld gangs were loaded and unsheathed today, and three sides were tense in the expectancy of open warfare which has marked eight men, perhaps more, for death.

Already the new outbreak has been carried to the office of the chief of detectives, William O'Connor, against whom a revolver was drawn yesterday by a suspect under questioning. That it would be fought even in the shadow of the detective bureau was indicated with the arrest of several men, all armed, who were found near the bureau awaiting a chance to shoot down one or more leaders of a rival gang, the police said.

Al Capone and Tony Lombardo, aligned on one side, are two who the police are certain have been listed for execution. Six others, grouped with the North Side gang which was a power under the leadership of Al Capone, were also listed.

Approximately 675 National Guardsmen have established headquarters at the mine. Two tanks patrolled nearby roads while a searchlight on the mine tipple swept the property throughout the night.

Soldiers were awakened shortly before dawn by a shot, which was found to have been fired by a guard, who the officer in charge said appeared to be nervous.

Rumanian Premier Has Recovered From An Attack Of Influenza--Peasant Party Plans

Those Arrayed Against Bratiano and in Favor of Return of Former Crown Prince Carol Have Decided to Hold a Congress of Party at Alba Julia, at a Date to Be Fixed Later.

(Associated Press Despatch) BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 22.—The executives of the National Peasant Party, who are arrayed against Premier Bratiano and favor the return of former Crown Prince Carol, have decided to hold a congress of the party at Alba Julia, at a date to be fixed later. The party was to have a congress there on Sunday but Premier Bratiano forbade it when there was no assurance that the dynamic questions, regarded as settled by Carol's abdication, would not be re-opened.

The programme of the party, however, was outlined by the executives in the only vague term. The leaders fear to commit themselves to well defined campaign programme of the so-called Draconian law promulgated last week, by which it is a prison offence to agitate against the security of the state.

Premier Bratiano, who has been suffering from influenza, was declared to have recovered, in an official statement issued today.

BURY AGAIN SCENE OF FIRE; LITTLE DAMAGE

Flames Were Discovered in Time to Save Mr. Boisvert's House—Other Newsy Notes.

BURY, Que., Nov. 22.—Lower town was once again the scene of a fire. Fortunately the blaze was discovered early and a dozen pails of water were sufficient to put the fire entirely out.

The outbreak occurred at the home of Mr. Boisvert. The house was vacant just at the time. Mr. Boisvert and family having left their home less than ten minutes previously. The fire was discovered by a neighbor, who immediately raised the alarm. Help was quickly on the spot and an entrance forced. It was found that the apparent cause of the fire was a pan of fat accidentally forgotten and left on the cookstove, which, boiling over, caught fire. At the time of entrance the fire was on the floor was blazing furiously, and the curtains were alight and even the ceiling was beginning to blaze. Although the blaze was quickly overcome, it was not without some risk, as the fumes from the blazing fat were stifling into the room. Mr. S. Morrison and Mr. Earl Gaulin had to make a heavy exit by means of a back window. Mr. Gaulin also being somewhat badly scorched about the face.

TONSILLITIS AND DIPHTHERIA

The tonsils are normally larger at birth but gradually decrease in size during the first few years of a child's life until at the age of puberty they should be so small as to be but barely seen when the throat is examined.

Acute inflammation of the tonsils may occur at any time during life, but is most common with young children. An attack may follow exposure to cold or wet weather, or from direct infection of the throat by the common streptococcus bacteria. Such infection can only take effect in the throat of a child who has been enervated through bad habits or whose tonsillar or throat membrane is sufficiently inflamed, as the result of chronic or acute hyperacidity of the stomach.

An over-acid stomach, from wrong eating, has a direct effect, upon any of the other mucous membranes of the body such as those of the nose and throat. The soil must be there for the growth of the invading bacteria before any microorganism can be said to produce either tonsillitis or diphtheria.

In many cases it seems that the trouble starts entirely from the crypts of the tonsils becoming filled with cheesy looking masses which are formed from micrococci and epithelial debris. In this case the mucous membrane is swollen and deep red in color with a whitish looking exudation protruding here and there from the tonsils.

The systemic symptoms first felt are chills, aching pains in the back and limbs, soreness of the throat, difficulty in swallowing, and a feeling of fever. The thermometer will show a rapid rise in the fever until it may reach 105 degrees even on the evening of the first day. Examination will show the tonsils to be swollen, the tongue furred, and the breath heavy and foul. The urine is always highly colored and filled with urates.

Symptoms of diphtheria are very much the same as those of acute tonsillitis, but the appearance of the throat becomes very much different after the second or third day. The diphtheria toxin develops greenish patches which may form on the soft palate as well as on the tonsils.

Parents are often afraid to call the doctor when the child develops

SWEETSBURG

The Yamaska river rose twelve inches on Wednesday last with scarcely any rain falling in the immediate vicinity, but, doubtless, was caused from rain east of here. On Thursday rain fell heavily with the result that the flooding of meadows was caused where the Yamaska overflowed its banks. Cellars were flooded and it was the general feeling that serious damage would result, but fortunately the weather became colder during the night and the storm concluded with a bit of snow.

His many friends regret to hear that Mr. Walter Frizzle, of West Brome, is seriously ill in the Western Hospital, Montreal, as a result of too much exposure during the flood of November 4th, when he worked unceasingly to save other people from the danger of the high water at West Brome. Several of the best specialists have been studying the case during the past week and they fear inflammation of the brain, for which they performed an operation on Monday. All hope for a successful operation and a speedy recovery. Mr. Edgar Roger, of the Centre Road, brother of Mrs. Walter Frizzle, and Mrs. Thos. Frizzle, of Brome Centre, went into the city on Sunday to be with Mr. and Mrs. Frizzle during the time of operation.

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. E. Leonard. A good attendance is anticipated.

Service in Christ Church on Sunday next will be at eleven o'clock in the morning. Mr. P. C. Armstrong and Mr. Hugh Ashness-Wells were at home for the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Truell, of Knowlton, were calling on Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Ingalls one day recently, having also called on Mrs. Page at the home of Miss Sarah Williams in Cowansville that day. All regret to hear that Miss Williams was ill during her visit to relatives in Chicago, Ill.

A reception was given Mr. and Mrs. Norman Osborne at the home of Mr. James Frizzle, on Wednesday evening, November 16th on their return from their wedding trip, when a large crowd assembled to extend congratulations and best wishes to the young couple. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and cards, after which delicious refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Osborne were the recipients of a number of beautiful gifts as well as a purse of money, from the friends present.

Mr. James Patton received the sad tidings of the death of his sister, Mrs. McWilliams, of Stukely, who has been in poor health for a number of months, having suffered a paralytic stroke early last spring. The remains were brought to Sutton for interment in Fairmount Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patton and family left on Friday for Fulton, where they will make their home this winter.

Messrs. Earl and George Patton are now engaged in Orleans, Vt., clearing up and repairing the damages done by the flood there on the C.P.R. tracks having finished the bridge at Richford.

Another heavy rain was experienced here on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, when the water again covered the low lands and overflowed the river banks.

INVERNESS

The meeting of the St. Andrew's Y.P.S. on Tuesday evening, November 15th, took the form of a debate. After devotional exercises and roll call, Mr. Prescott Walker took the chair and called upon Mr. Osborne McNey to open the debate, by affirming "that the business girl makes a better wife than the home girl." He was supported by Messrs. George McKenzie and George Purdon. The negative was taken by Mr. Stewart Learmonth, supported by Messrs. Archie Kinneare and Howard McNey. The judges were Rev. Mr. Loughheed, Miss Mount, B.A., Principal of Inverness Academy, and Rev. Herbert P. Dunn.

The verdict was unanimous in favor of the negative, although as Mr. Loughheed pointed out in delivering judgment, the margin was a very narrow one. He also gave some very useful hints with regard to what goes to make a successful debater, and expressed pleasant surprise that local talent was able to put up a debate on such a high level. Although the weather was bad and the roads worse, about fifty turned out, and the meeting was a great success.

Special First Aid Class for Scouts to be Held

In view of the fact that there is a possibility of around twenty scouts and leaders wishing to take part in the annual St. John Ambulance class and examinations, arrangements have been made for a special class for scouts to be held in the New Year. Further announcement will be made shortly.

Toy Shop Managers to Meet

The three joint managers appointed to make arrangements for the operating of Christmas Joy, Inc., the scout toy repair shop, will hold a meeting this evening at nine o'clock, after which the basketball practice will be held by the 2nd Troop in the 53rd Armory.

Local Leaders Visit Asbestos

Sixteen of the local leaders accepted an invitation to the annual father and son banquet of the Asbestos troop recently, and had a very enjoyable time. The transportation committee comprised of Messrs. J. W. Blake, Newman Hunter and Lynn Trussler, made all arrangements for conveying the party on the journey, and appreciation is due Mr. Bert Lyon, Milo Lothrop and G. Wright, for placing their cars at the disposal of the leaders. The Asbestos troop and wolf cub pack is in excellent condition under the leadership of Scoutmaster W. N. Reakes, who is assisted by the troop committee under President R. Gardner. Mr. Reakes is also fortunate in having some very capable English and French assistants. Some twelve or fifteen French boys are members of the troop and are doing very well. Scoutmaster Reakes was warmly commended upon his excellent work in connection with the movement by Mr. Wm. Giovetti, Asst. District Commissioner, who together with District Commissioner C. Price inspected the troop and pack during their visit. Several badges were presented and a good programme, including scouting movies, and demonstrations of scoutcraft by the boys of the troop, was presented to the gathering. An address was also delivered by Asst. District Commissioner W. Giovetti. Mr. W. Trussler, an old supporter of the movement, accompanied the leaders on their trip.

'Child Of The North'

By Ridgwell Cullum.

The farm-wife was seated in a comfortable rocker-chair in the little room she devoted to her sewing, and to those intimate details of her busy life that were not concerned with her husband. It was a tasteful, womanish room, restful, bright and pleasant. Joe was seated on a low stool at her feet in a position in which she could contemplate his bright face, and the loose fair hair which reminded her of the dead brother she had so dearly loved. Grief for the dead and yearning for the orphan were distracting her soul. She was a woman whose head only retained its domination so long as her heart remained undisturbed. Without one question, without one moment of doubt, she wanted to make the child her own. She was determined to make the child her own.

Bella had divested Joe of his fur coat and of the threadbare cap which the child was so reluctant to part from. And he sat on the low stool, clad in his Indian regalia of beads and soiled and worn buckskin, and the stirring of her impulsive affection came near to choking her with pity at his formlessness. She had brought the child to her own little room that she might be near to herself, and indulge her heart to make the child her own. She was determined to make the child her own.

But Joe was without embarrassment. The long journey out of the north, the vicissitudes through which he and the staunch, if foolish, old Dan had passed had long since rubbed his childish heart and mind of the over-turnding of grief which his father's loss had created. More than a whole winter had passed since the child's first realization of disaster, and time, and the strong young life had transformed grief into a mere sorrowful memory.

So, at the happy caress of Bella's hand, which was clasping one of his, the youthful heart responded, and his talk came readily. His blue eyes shone with smiling face, in its gleam of grey hair, and he announced the thought in his mind with childish frankness.

"You're Auntie Bella," he said. "Dan said you would be when we came along to the house. An' he's Uncle Stanton," he went on, nodding in the direction of the kitchen. "Pop guessed you were the greatest ever. When he came along to tell me of his strike an' to show me his wonderful gold he said we'd have a swell farm like yours, an' live near you." He sighed heavily with a child's disappointment. "We won't ever have that swell farm now, Pop's dead."

Bella's well-ordered method by which she was to learn the child's story was completely upset. The said little sigh, and the mist of gathering tears in the pretty eyes, sent havoc to the depths of her mother heart.

"You won't need any farm but this," she cried. "Why, Joe, this is a real home for you, if Uncle Stanton'll act same as if he was your real Pop. Don't let those tears go. It sets me feeling bad. Tell me about your Pop. Dan said he was drowned. How?" she questioned. "You see, he was my dear, dear, foolish brother."

Sudden interest cleared the child's threatened tears.

"S' that why he always called you Auntie Bella? An' him Uncle Stanton?"

The farm-wife smiled tenderly. "He'd surely call that way to you," she squeezed the hand she was holding. "And we're going to fix you right. And Dan, too, if he'll stop around."

Joe nodded eagerly. "Dan'll stop around. Dan's most always ready to stop around if folks are in a fix. Pop was like that. Dan's bully when he isn't rattled. I like Dan. Only he always got rattled when I was on the river looking for Pop. He reckoned I'd get drowned same as Pop got to be. But I wouldn't cos I can paddle like an fujun." Pop said that.

Bella realized the childish inclination to ramble. Very gently she headed the boy in the direction she needed.

"But how did your Pop get drowned?" she urged.

Joe was silent for a few moments while his gaze took in the window beyond which the last of the day was dying.

"I—I just dunno fer sure," he hesitated at last. "Must have been he was bringing such a lot of gold down from the hills his kayak sank. That's how Dan reckons. You see, Pop had found all the gold in the world. 'Nough to buy a swell farm like yours. Pop was great on the river. Him and me used to race."

Bella nodded. "And you and Dan found Char—your Pop?" she asked.

Joe shook his head. He released his hand, and sat hugging his knees. "You can't find folks when they get drowned—ever," he declared, his eyes widening with awe. "Dan says they go right down in the water ever so far. Storm River's ever so deep. An' you can't ever find 'em cos the angels come an' take 'em. They take 'em right up to the stars. An'—an' if they're good, and haven't ever hurt anybody, God makes 'em into angels, too, an' they fly around in you dream about them the same as I dream about the angels that came an' took my—Pop."

Tearfulness was creeping into Bella's eyes again, and instant

TODAY'S QUOTATION: "IN GREAT ATTEMPTS IT IS GLORIOUS

The Dead Sea
Dear Little Brown Owl—Can you tell me something about the Dead Sea? Why was it called that and is there to be a government inspection of the place? I thank you, and also wish to say that I enjoy this section in the Record.

Reply—There is of course a lot to tell about that strange body of water called by us the Dead Sea, and by the Arabs "Bahr Lut." There is an Arab legend that runs something like this: "Beneath these waters there stands the pillar of salt into which Lot's wife was turned, and far down in the silent, salty depths, lie the fire-blackened ruins of the cities of sin, Sodom and Gomorrah."

As a legend we can believe all or as much as we wish about that, but this lake of salt water is a Dead Sea in very truth. There are no fish in the Dead Sea, nor any living thing, and no birds live in that region, though sometimes a vulture may flap his way across it on route to other places. Over all hangs a white mist and a deadly silence.

The sea is described as 47 miles in length, over 9 miles wide in parts and has an area of 340 square miles. Jebel Usdum is a great mountain of salt bordering the sea for six miles, and at a long distance from its shore a few stunted trees can be seen by the traveller. "It is the graveyard of the world," is a trite description of the place, yet strange to say no living creature can die in the Dead Sea. Everything floats on its surface.

The body of water with the strange name and stranger fluids, is a vast inland lake without an outlet, lying a full thousand feet below the level of the Mediterranean, and in a recent press article is found the following information—in part:

"The River Jordan and other streams rich in mineral salts empty themselves into this lake at the rate of six million tons of water a day. The hot sun draws up the water, but leaves behind the salts which have been carried down in solution from the surrounding country. This has been going on for thousands of years. It contains 26 per cent of various chemicals dissolved in it and is therefore an extremely dense liquid. That is why nothing can live or sink in it. The atmosphere all around is heavy with the same chemicals and prevents existence of any form of life."

Re Government inspection: It is stated that a British enterprise, realizing the amazing stores of mineral wealth in the sea, is now planning on exploiting it. It is claimed that the body of water contains about 11 billion metric tons of common salt, twice that quantity of magnesium chloride, two billion metric tons of potassium chloride, and a great quantity of magnesium bromide. All these are valuable mineral salts, and if the British chemical experts are able to extract them from the waters at a commercial price the region will be opened up to a new and unique industry.

As to the signs, we must pay due homage to our weather prophets, at least the genuine ones, for they keep tab on the "signs" from season to season. Today, however, weather along with other things, is so erratic that it must keep them guessing as to correct prophesy.

RADIO

The MacMillan Arctic Expedition is in the far north, ice bound. Such a situation a few years ago would result in much anxiety regarding the Northern explorers. Today, radio supplies the missing link. An amateur radio operator picks up a message in which the MacMillan party describe their position and state that they must await the coming of spring, six months hence, before making any further move.

Radio is one of the newest of the world wonders. Edison says there are many more to follow and that the field of invention, as regards electricity, is by no means exhausted.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Though Christmas day is a month distant, the wise shoppers are already busy. And as Santa Claus has arrived in person, Christmas shopping is now quite in order.

It is, therefore, not out of place to remind readers that in their Christmas shopping it is an act of loyalty to the home town to patronize local stores and, also, that early shopping is decidedly advantageous in as much as the selection is greater and the crowds are smaller.

QUEBEC AS SEEN THROUGH ONTARIO EYES.

Occasionally compliments for Quebec come out of Toronto. Sometime ago, the Toronto Telegram, whose views of the Sister Province are not always so friendly, paid a striking tribute to the French Canadian people.

To quote from the article in question:

Quebec is the last refuge and asylum of the ancient liberties of the people of this continent.

Quebec is bounded on the south by the Benighted States, on the east by a late spring on the west by the Methodist regime, on the north by the bowels of the earth, which, in a petrified state, stick up into space a mile or more.

The people of Quebec are chiefly engaged in minding their own business, an attitude which arouses the resentment and occasionally the mirth of the rest of the continent. It makes them so very conspicuous.

The individual in Quebec is known as a habitant a simple creature who hath an abiding and child-like faith in God, and for this reason is regarded by the rest of the hemisphere as practically helpless. He does not believe that the Legislature can save his soul and actually puts a reverent and adoring faith in the mighty church to which he belongs. Fervid and untiring efforts are being made to "evangelize" him, but the results so far are not what a Trust and Loan Company would call "encouraging." He hath one faith, one politics and one Grand Seigneur over all. For this reason one hundred and twenty million people on this continent consider him to be wrong in the coco. Nevertheless, he breeds the finest orators, the best poets, the most capable politicians and the most subtle statesmen on the continent.

He is given to large families, another eccentricity which makes many people tired. There is Mlle. Moise and Tonette, Antoine and Jean, Marie and Philomene. There is Baptiste, Honore, Josephine, Polon and Pierre, not to forget Margot and Cecile.

What do they do for a living? They get married and the Lord looks after them till the cows come home. They get married with a recklessness that fills the rest of the world with dismay and wonder. But it works out all right. They people with people the peopleless places of the Northern Zone.

The habitant would be a melancholy individual were it not for the rest of the Dominion. The antics of the people of Ontario furnish him with endless amusement, and he gets many a good laugh out of New Brunswick.

SUBSTITUTES FOR WOOD AGAIN

(By Dr. Frank Crane)

My recent article on "Substitute for Wood" seems to have aroused considerable controversy. I have had a flood of letters from people in the wood business, telling me how wrong the article was.

I did not know that I was entering the controversial field when I wrote the article, but it seems I was. Therefore, for the benefit of the reader who wishes to be unbiased I will present some of the wood propagandists' points which they make in their letters to me.

Any other substance cannot have the resiliency that wood has.

Not forty billion feet of lumber are destroyed every year to make 900,000,000 ties, and all the lumber cut for all purposes in the United States is less than four billions of feet.

Lumber used for ties is rarely good for anything else. If it were not made up into ties it would be burned for fire wood or otherwise wasted.

Substitutes for wood have been tried by railroads and discarded.

England has discarded metal ties, and recently the Los Angeles Railroad has gone back to wooden ties after long use of the other kind.

Newspapers are the great robbers of forests and not railroad tie companies. One Sunday edition of the newspaper recently consumed enough wood to cover sixty-five acres.

A good creosoted tie lasts twenty-five years and not eight.

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad put in wooden ties in 1911. They are good yet and they expect them to last thirty years longer.

A railroad owned by a steel company recently went back to wooden ties.

Wooden ties are cheaper than metal ties, and they keep fastenings tighter. Steel ties interfere with the inroads for ties, but they will probably last indefinitely.

These items are culled from letters sent to me and I am not responsible for their accuracy, but at least you have both sides of the question.

PRESS COMMENT

SKYSCRAPERS.

(Vancouver Province)

Very tall buildings are not desirable from the point of view of the property owner in the business district. Except where they have a monopoly, they are not even a profitable investment. From a public point of view also, they have objections. They concentrate the working population, causing serious congestion at rush hours. They require greater and more costly fire-fighting equipment. And by shutting out the sunlight from myriads of workers, they lower the general health level.

HAND THAT SPENDS THE ROCKS.

(The Pathfinder)

Wives are bigger spenders than husbands. But that is only fair; most wives are family purchasing agents. Husbands produce approximately seventy per cent. of the American family income. Wives spent 85 per cent. of it. Uncle Sam himself estimates the spending value of women at $20,000,000. Our 23,000,000 housewives, he finds, buy more than $1,000 worth of goods each minute. They purchase fifty per cent. of all merchandise bought for family use and have a voice in buying 25 per cent. more. Woman is credited with selecting more than half of the total number of autos sold. She buys 80 per cent. of all dry goods and food products.

A BRIGHT SPOT.

(Toronto Financial Post)

The new penalties provided for non-payment of sales taxes work out to about twelve per cent. per annum on over-due amounts owing the government. This is a high rate of interest and few firms are likely in the future to conserve their liquid resources by holding up sales tax payments to the government. It was the lack of such a penalizing clause in the sales tax legislation that was largely responsible for thousands of firms getting in arrears to the amount of millions of dollars.

It is doubtful if the government will be able to collect the present accumulation of sales tax arrears without much litigation and considerable losses. The situation was allowed under successive administrations, to become too entangled for an easy clean up. But now that legislation has been provided by Mr. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, and the policy has been adopted of requiring sales tax accounts to be cleaned up monthly, there should be no new bad accounts created on the government's books.

The new policy is a bright spot on the business horizon.

PEACE AS A PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

(Christian Science Monitor)

Acting in his capacity as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate, William E. Borah, in pursuance of his defined plan to outlaw war, seems likely, because of the proposal made by M. Briand, French Foreign Minister, to so emphasize the desirability of international peace as to make that a paramount issue for consideration at the forthcoming session of Congress. The proposal is so simply stated as to divest the issue of confusion and indirection. It is, briefly, that the French and United States Governments enter into an indefinite treaty by the terms of which neither country will, for whatever reason, engage in war against the other.

While it is explained that the treaty, or proposed treaty, has not taken form, its import and substance are well understood on both sides of the Atlantic. Fortunately, the way has been opened for such discussion as is proposed in pursuance of the willingness of President Coolidge that conferences be held between Secretary of State Kellogg and M. Claudel, the French Ambassador at Washington, and between Ambassador Herrick and M. Briand in Paris. Perhaps beyond this tacit willingness that the proposal be considered officially, there has been no indication as to what the President's attitude may be towards it. It may also be said that there has been no intimation by Senator Borah that he will urge the adoption of such a plan as that which is proposed.

But there are unmistakable indications that there exists among the peoples of both Europe and America the conviction that it is through these mutual understandings, sealed by inviolable pledges to arbitrate and compose whatever differences may arise, that future wars and its accompanying useless sacrifices can be avoided. The need now, on both sides of the Atlantic, and in all the countries of the world, is that unprejudiced consideration be accorded every reasonable proposal for the perpetuation of peace. Such discussions as are proposed by Senator Borah are not fruitful in times of discord and strife. It is a much simpler matter to keep the peace than to compel it at the point of a gun.

Social and Personal

Miss Eileen Gendron has resumed her duties as nurse-in-training at the Sherbrooke Hospital, after a few weeks' rest.

Rev. D. W. Terry was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Willis while in the city to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Edward Holgate.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Tracy, Portland Avenue, returned last night after spending the week-end in Ste. Anne de Bellevue, guests of Dr. and Mrs. O. Brunet.

The week-end guests of Mrs. David Ross, Main street, Lennoxville, were Miss Luella Eager, Kinnear's Mills; Mr. and Mrs. McIlarg, of Thetford Mines, and Mr. Walter McKenzie, of Danville, Me.

The B.Y.P.U. met in the Baptist Church Hall last evening with quite a large attendance. Miss Florence Leech gave the next chapters of the Study Book, and Rev. D. W. Terry, who is in town for a few days, spoke briefly. A few business matters were discussed, but nothing was definitely decided upon.

The Y. P. S. of Trinity United Church was very pleasantly entertained last evening by the Young People's Society of the United Church of Lennoxville. A very pleasant evening was spent socially and in playing games, which were in charge of Mr. Ripley, of the Experimental Farm. A short programme was given by young people of Trinity Church and was very much enjoyed. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the Lennoxville Society.

The Girl's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Church held their annual Christmas sale and tea on Saturday afternoon, November 19th, which, in spite of the many other attractions on that afternoon, was quite successful and the proceeds gratifying. The centre table at which Mrs. C. H. Bowen poured tea was decorated with a silver basket of red berries and greenery, and the small tea tables had red candles. Mrs. Philip Robins, the vice-president, received the guests. Miss Bernice Fuller was in charge of the tea, and among those assisting were the Misses Emily Odell, Madeleine Winans, Hazel Hatcher, Edith Olsen and Virginia Jarvis. The fancy work table with its array of attractive articles was in charge of the Misses Ethel Bringle, Hope Selveright and Blanche Woodgate, and the food table looked after by Miss Marion Tomlinson.

Mrs. Henry Lodge, of Danville, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smith, Bethune avenue, pending the recovery of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. M. Lodge, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The Advent Girls' Guild met last evening at the home of the president, Miss Doris Price. After a short business session refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Eva Cann and Miss Thelma Price.

The Y. P. S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met last evening in the church hall with the president, Mr. Roderick Bouchard, presiding. The secretary, Miss Vera Ray, read the roll call and forty-six members responded to their names. The young people and some visitors present had the pleasure of listening to Miss Helen Robertson give an account of her experiences in Scotland, where she visited last summer. She spoke of the voyage, and told of places of historical interest which she had visited and of beautiful scenery which she had seen in that country. A carpet ball set, which had been purchased in England last September, had arrived and the members spent an hour at the game. Mr. L. Keeler and Rev. Alfred Bright moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for her interesting talk. A committee consisting of Messrs. Charles McCullough, R. Smith and Lennox Keeler was appointed to look after the meeting next week.

The regular meeting of the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. was held yesterday afternoon at the I.O.D.E. headquarters in the Cambridge School. The meeting was opened in the usual way by raising the standard and repeating the prayer. The Regent, Mrs. George Hume, was in the chair, and the secretary and treasurer read the reports, which were adopted. Mrs. Hume expressed pleasure at the large turnout of I.O.D.E. members on Armistice Day, and stated that the sale of poppies had been very successful. It was moved by the Chapter that the I.O.D.E. room be improved, and it was stated that Mr. Hatcher would bring this matter before the school board. It was also moved that, if possible, a letter be written to Mr. Lightstone requesting him to ask that the public stand at attention during the playing of the National Anthem in the theatres, and all expense for this would be borne by the I.O.D.E. Mrs. Beck, Regent of the Maple Cope Chapter, of the I.O.D.E., read about some lectures to be put on by the I.O.D.E. for which the lectures are provided by McGill University. This matter was left over until the next meeting. It was stated that the sale of I.O.D.E. calendars was very popular this year. It was moved that the Chapter send a letter of sympathy to Madame Tessier's family in Quebec. Madame Tessier was an officer in the Provincial Chapter and will be greatly missed by the Order. It was decided that a letter of thanks be sent to Col. McA. Nulty expressing appreciation of the parade and music during the splendid way in which the Armistice service was carried out. A letter of thanks will also be sent to the ladies of the Red Cross for kindly giving the use of their room to the I.O.D.E. on Poppy Day.

MOTHER GAVE LIFE IN AN ATTEMPT TO SAVE CHILDREN

Four Lost Lives in Fire at Concord, N.H., Yesterday—Prisoners Gave Assistance.

(Associated Press Despatch)
CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 22.—The heroism of a mother who gave her life in an attempt to save her four children was revealed yesterday when authorities pleaded to the story of the last moments of Mrs. Charles Marshall, who died with three of her children when their home was destroyed by fire yesterday. One child, Walter, aged six, was saved.

The children were asleep on the second storey floor of the house when the mother discovered the flimsy frame structure was in flames. She carried Walter downstairs and threw him to safety from a window, then fought her way back through an inferno of flames and smoke to reach the other three. But the roof and walls collapsed, and Mrs. Marshall perished with her daughter, Ruth, eleven years old, and her sons, John and Robert, aged eight and four.

The father, employed in the chair department at the New Hampshire State Prison, had left for work half an hour before the fire was discovered. Prisoners in his department took up a collection to aid Marshall, some of the convicts contributing their last cent. They raised $90, to which non-prisoner convicts added $120.

METZ MURDER CASE OPENED

The case will likely take a long time to be heard as it is appearing on a murder charge in connection with the death of Edouard Valliere; also on a second charge for the death of Helene Dubois and a third charge, that of attempted murder, in connection with the shooting at Theodore Valliee.

foolishly. The only way to proceed in the interests of the city was for everyone to be absolutely frank with the other members of the council, but he was afraid that there were some present who were not absolutely frank in what they said. Alderman Houlihan also remarked that although he was a member of the Gas and Electric committee he had never been given a copy of the lawyer's letters read by Dr. Forest. Alderman Forest said he could give no explanation for this unless it was that Alderman Houlihan never came to the council meetings. This remark brought forth a protest from Ald. Houlihan, as well as again bringing Ald. Loranger into the discussion.

Alderman Bradley briefly expressed his views on the matter, saying that he thought the council members were acting unwisely in taking the work out of the hands of the Electric Department and Alderman Newton, who was a man second to none in the council as far as this sort of work was concerned.

The motion, however, was adopted by a vote of seven to three, and the discussion thus brought to an end.

Considerable Business In Correspondence.

The correspondence included a number of claims from citizens for damage caused to their property by the recent flood waters, while Mrs. E. B. Dionne asked for a reduction of taxes as a result of the property damage which she suffered by a recent fire.

Question of Insurance Was Rather Hurried One.

In the report of the finance committee was a clause recommending that the insurance of municipal employees, as well as insurance carried by the city in connection with accidents to citizens, be given to the W. S. Dresser Company. Tenders in this connection had been received from H. H. Langlois, Belanger and Begin, J. C. Somers & Co., Allaire and Leblanc, Conway and Conway, L. Bachand and Sylvestre and Sylvestre.

Mr. C. Mignault, K.C., was present at the meeting and asked for permission to address the council. His request, however, was declined by the council, Alderman Tetreault being particularly opposed to hearing him. It is understood, however, that Mr. Mignault desired to speak on behalf of the Conway and Conway tender.

and frigidaire in the market, while in the report of the Parks and Real Estate committee the members expressed themselves as being in favour of the suggestion made by the Fairbanks Company, Limited, whereby they would allow the city the use of a strip of land at the north eastern corner of Dufresne Park for a playground providing the city erect a fence between Dufresne Park and their property. The city, however, requested the land for a reasonable length of time, as it will be called upon to make certain expenses towards the grading of the land before it will be suitable for a playground.

MRS. PETER McDONALD, INVERNESS.

INVERNESS, Que., Nov. 22.—The passing of Mrs. Peter McDonald, nee Jean Mackie, in her ninety-first year, removes another of the old Scotch pioneers.

Born at Bells Hills, Lanarkshire, near Glasgow, on May 15th, 1837, Jean Mackie came to Canada with her parents in 1851, spending her fourteenth birthday at sea. The voyage was made on one of the East Indian sailing ships, and occupied forty-nine days. The Mackie family settled in Lower Windsor, and in 1860 Peter McDonald became the husband of Jean Mackie. They were married by Dr. Cook in Chalmers' Church, Quebec City, at the same time that James McDonald, brother of the bridegroom was united in matrimony to Jennie Douglas. Peter McDonald predeceased his wife by several years, and Mrs. McDonald has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Willie Kinnear, of Kinnearville, Inverness, since the decease of her husband.

Mrs. McDonald was universally beloved because of her sunny disposition and she maintained her

CHARGED WITH
JEWELRY HOLD-UP AT MONTREAL

Former Toronto Man and Pretty Young Wife Arrested at Newark, N.J.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEWARK, N.J., Nov. 22.—Alexander Paul, who claimed to be a member of a reputable Toronto family, and his pretty twenty-three-year-old wife, Minnie, were held last night as the couple who, with three men accomplices, held up the Capital Jewelry Company in Montreal last summer and obtained diamonds valued at $31,000. Mrs. Paul gave her address as 1570 St. Dominique street, Montreal.

Police, who say that Paul has confessed to that robbery as well as a series of four chain grocery store hold-ups since he and his wife arrived here, took Mrs. Paul into custody last night in a rooming house on Monmouth street. In the baggage which detectives said the woman was packing to make a getaway were found cords and ropes alleged to have been used in the robberies here.

Paul refused to give any information regarding his woman accomplice when arrested Sunday night. She was apprehended last night following receipt of a "mysterious telephone call" telling of her hiding place. Detectives said that the pretty bobbed-haired prisoner had two children by a previous marriage before she was married to Paul two months ago. She was held on two charges of participation in the grocery store robberies.

Paul was arrested at midnight Sunday after an alleged attempt to rob Charles Spornstein, a tailor of 286 Sixteenth avenue. Police said he attempted to shoot Spornstein but that his revolver missed fire. Paul was captured after a fierce struggle by a patrolman whom he also attempted to shoot, it was charged.

ENTER INTO CONTRACT TO PURCHASE RUSSIAN OIL

Will Bring Standard Oil of New York Total Purchases of Russian Oil to $1,400,000 Per Year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The New York Times today says that the Standard Oil Company of New York has entered into a contract for the purchase of 360,000 tons of Russian oil over a period of six years.

This will bring the company's total purchases of Russian oil to about 1,400,000 tons a year, representing an outlay of $40,000,000 during the duration of this and two previous contracts with Russian oil interests.

All three contracts have been made since last December over the protest of the Dutch-Shell group of Europe.

In addition to the purchases by Standard Oil of New York, the Vacuum Oil Company of New York, a member of the Standard Oil group, has arranged to buy about 225,000 tons of Russian oil yearly for a period of six years, and is negotiating for additional purchases.

Luxuries Once
But Necessities Now

PRACTICALLY any Canadian citizen may own today an automobile possessing elements of beauty, style, comfort and efficiency which no amount of wealth could have commanded a dozen years ago.

For the automobile industry has outgrown its original function as a supplier of transportation, and has in an amazingly short time, brought about the refinements which are exemplified in the present-day General Motors car.

Since its foundations first were laid sixty years ago, this institution has believed that every Canadian has a right to the best his country produces, has a right to satisfy his sense of beauty, his desire for comfort, his need for dependability.

General Motors has at its command the master minds of the industry. It has the finest automotive research laboratories and the greatest automotive proving grounds in the world, wherein have been pioneered and developed some of the industry's most revolutionary advances.

And General Motors has used its prosperity and success unstintingly in improving the quality and increasing the value of its products.

It is thus that General Motors of Canada has played its part in translating once-inconceivable luxury into terms of every-day necessity.

RICKARD GIVES
FANS AN IDEA
OF HIS PLANS

Does Not Think that He Will Have Any Trouble With Gene
Tunney Regarding Contract for Bout.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—With Jack Kearns' suit against Jack Dempsey for a third of a million dollars tossed out of a Newark court ring through a "voluntary non-suit," Tex Rickard took time today to clarify the boxing situation as it pertains to his millionaire heavyweights.

Dempsey will not battle this winter in Madison Square Garden, he said, and Gene Tunney, champion and latest recruit to the millionaire ranks, probably will do no fighting before next August or September.

The former king of the weighty sluggers, now definitely decided upon a second "comeback campaign" to regain his one-time laurels from Tunney, will devote his time this winter to pressing action in two other suits Kearns has brought in New York and Philadelphia, Rickard said. Dempsey will fight the winner of the winter heavyweight elimination trials some time in the spring at the Yankee Stadium "unless developments dictate otherwise." If the Manassa Mauler survives this match, Rickard declared he would send him out again to fight Tunney for the crown lost at Philadelphia, the promoter declared.

As to the prospects of Tunney fighting for him in late June or early July, Rickard was non-committal.

"I am convinced, regardless of what Tunney says, that I have exclusive rights to Tunney's ring services in his first bout next year, and that I may, if conditions warrant, delay that match until August or September," Rickard said. "Tunney can have two fights for me next summer if he wants them, but only on a percentage basis. Certainly not on the basis existing in our present contract."

Rickard said he had not heard from Tunney in the matter and did not expect to.

"My end of the agreement will be fulfilled with the deposit of $100,000 on February 1, and a similar deposit on June 1. Then all he has to do is to fight when I tell him who his opponent will be and where the fight will be held. I don't think there will be any trouble."

ROSENBLUM DEFEATED LATZO
(Associated Press Despatch)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 22.—Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, slugged his way to a referee's decision over Pete Latzo, Scranton, former welterweight champion, in a ten-round bout at the arena last night. The battle was vicious from the opening gong to the end, and was so closely contested that the judges were unable to agree on the winner. Rosenbloom weighed 165, Latzo 164.

TO SETTLE QUESTION OF FLY-WEIGHT TITLE

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 22.—The National Boxing Association announced through President Thomas E. Donohue today that a match between Ernie Jarvis, claimant of the European flyweight title, and Frankie Genaro, former American champion, will determine the successor to Fidel Labarba, retired champion from California, in the twenty-five states affiliated with the Association.

The New York Athletic Commission, only major state board not working in conjunction with the N. B. A., announced recently that it would recognize as champion the winner of a match between Newboy Brown, of Sioux City, Iowa, and Corporal Schwartz, of New York. Sanction for such a match at Madison Square Garden, December 16, will be asked of the Commission today by Jess McMahon, matchmaker.

Jarvis, an Englishman, arrived in New York about two weeks ago. He defeated Schwartz in a previous invasion. Donohue said that the match between Jarvis and Genaro, a New York boy, might be made in Chicago.

CLASSES AT Y.M.C.A.
The Y.M.C.A. boxing classes are running on Mondays and Thursdays immediately after the gym classes. There was a fair turnout at last night's class, and now it is expected that a greater interest will be taken. Anyone interested should get in touch with the secretary as early as possible.

Pirates Play Canadiens at Montreal, Maroons Meet New York Rangers, Ottawa Will Be at Detroit and Toronto Journey to Boston.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—Duke McCurry, peppy forward of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who play the Canadiens at the Forum tonight, was seriously injured over the right eye in the Buccaneers' practice at the Forum yesterday. The work of the Corsairs had hardly started when Hib Mills, Pirate captain, lifted his stick, the point accidentally clipping McCurry. McCurry was rushed to the hospital. Five stitches were required to close the wound.

Examination revealed no injury to the eye ball—a remarkable escape considering the nature of the cut—and it is expected that McCurry will be back in uniform within a few days, though he is not likely to start tonight against Canadiens.

Montreal Maroons will meet a severe test this evening when they play the New York Rangers, Lester Patrick's flashy combination, which has swept through three straight wins in its start towards sectional honors and the Stanley Cup. Rangers have generally shown a flight of speed which the Maroons have found difficult to cope with, and a rare tussle is anticipated. The Maroons have had more success against the Rangers at New York than at home, however the narrower ice surface at the Garden making it less difficult to hold the speedy Cook brothers.

Detroit's new home for its hockey club will officially open as a hockey centre tonight when the champion Ottawa Senators will play the Cougars in Detroit's first home game of the year. Jack Adam, last year with Ottawa, but now manager of the Detroit club, will send out a practically complete new team to battle the Senators.

There should be a sizzling struggle and a real test of strength when Toronto Maple Leafs play at Boston tonight. Both teams are keen for a win. Boston to demonstrate that last year's combination is better than ever and Toronto to satisfy the hockey world that the Leafs are a team to be taken seriously into account this winter.

LARGE NUMBER PAY RESPECT TO
LATE MR. GALE

Remains of Well Known Resident of Waterville Were Laid to Rest Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Mr. Francis Gilbert Gale, whose death occurred on Friday last, took place yesterday afternoon. At 1.30 o'clock prayers were held at his late residence by Rev. A. F. Pollock, following which a service was held at the United Church, West Waterville, of which the deceased was one of the oldest members and was for many years chairman of the Church Board, which position he occupied at the time of his death.

At this service Scripture selections were read by the pastor; prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. H. Craik, of Montreal, a former pastor, after which Dr. G. Ellery Read, of Sherbrooke, for many years an intimate friend of the late Mr. Gale, read from 1 Cor. 13:1-13, where is the story of "O Grave, where is thy victory?"

Dr. Read's Address.
"We are gathered together today to pay our tribute of respect and affection for one who, through a long and active life, won for himself a large place in this community. This large and representative congregation is in itself a remarkable tribute to his memory.

"It is my sad privilege, as a friend of many years' standing, to speak of him in relation to his life amongst you, a life that was known to you because it was an open testimony of what he was and what he desired to be in his relation to the interests and the institutions of the community. On such an occasion it is difficult to say what is in one's heart lest one should pass beyond the proprieties of the hour. Thirty-seven years ago, for the first time, I entered his home and came to know its gracious hospitality and during the intervening years it was my privilege to enjoy his fine friendship.

"We have heard read again this afternoon those 'victorious words' which St. Paul wrote to the Corinthian church, 'O Death, where is thy sting? O Grave, where is thy victory?' For centuries upon centuries mankind had felt that the victory was with death. As men and women, bereaved, looked into the silent faces of their loved ones and upon their still forms, it seemed that there was no possibility that there was any power or that could vanquish death. They hoped for such a power but could not say they knew of one. The Old Testament has little to say of a positive hope concerning immortality. Here and there are faint gleams of a hope that man was not created for this life only. The great thinkers of the ancient world gave us no positive word upon the subject. It was not until Christ vanquished the power of death that mankind had a positive word that death does not end all, but that the soul, disciplined by this life and inspired by faith in God manifested in Christ, passes into a fuller life which is to move from height to height and glory to glory until it attains to the perfection of being which God purposed for his children. We are here today as those who do not sorrow without hope, but who have seen the glory of the eternal morning shining through the darkness of the valley of the shadow. We believe that we are in the presence of the Vanquisher of Death, Jesus Christ, and that he, whom we commemorate here, has shared in Christ's victory. Remembering that he who has passed beyond the stress and strain of this present conflict, rested his faith in Christ, we can ask with confidence, 'O Death, where is thy victory?'

"When we recall his contributions to the enrichment of the community in which he lived, we might place first his service to the civic welfare of his fellow citizens. We are being constantly reminded that one of the most difficult and discouraging facts of our modern civilization is found in the scarcity of men who are willing to give of their time and their ability to the public service. But our friend considered it to be one of the first duties of citizenship that a man should ern season in the Polo Grounds next Saturday have shot the price of the few pastebords held by speculators to $80 a pair.

GOLF
AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

If THE GRIP IS NOT CORRECT—LOSS OF BALANCE MAY RESULT

What are the commonest faults of the average golfer?
By ABE G. ESPINOSA
One of America's Leading Professionals

Not gripping the club correctly is one of the commonest faults of many golfers. An incorrect grip prevents the proper use of the wrists in striking the ball. In the effort to get the wrists in correctly the body sways and loss of balance results. A bad common fault is over-swinging, causing loss of control and consequently poor timing.

serve the community in which he lived. It is not possible for a strong personality to win the approbation of everyone in his public service. There are always differences of opinion to be counted on, and, moreover, strong personalities frequently challenge antagonism. Industry challenges idleness; faith confronts pessimism and despair; courage challenges cowardice, and vision, blindness. But the world owes its progress to strong and challenging personalities, whatever may be the limitations incident to their strength. We all know the men whom we honor today sought constantly the public good and that he gave unstintingly of his time and ability to advance the interests of the community. As we entered the church we passed between the reverent and hushed ranks of the school boys and girls, who by their presence, reminded us of the service the departed rendered to the cause of education. He had a great pride in the school and it was his constant desire that every boy and girl in this village should take advantage of the opportunity to secure an education necessary to prepare them for the large responsibilities of life when school days were over.

"He also served his church with a constant fidelity. Its interests were bound up very intimately with his life. He was anxious that its instrumentalities should be used for the enrichment of the life of its members and of the community as a whole. His church was very dear to him, and the memory of his devotion to its service will long be cherished amongst those with whom he had fellowship in the Gospel of Christ.

"But these things to which reference has been made belong to the outward life of a man. There is that inner life, the man within the man, that we can never fully know, but which we know that it belongs to the spiritual which we find so elusive. But there are moments of self-revealing in every life when we catch a glimpse of what is most vital and real. To our friend the first great reality was God. He was very sure of God. And he was very sure of Christ. The Bible to him was a fountain of spiritual knowledge, an inspiration to daily living in harmony with the will of God and Christ. He kept it beside his bed and when most of us were still asleep in the early morning hours he was reading from its sacred pages.

"It was his lot, as it is with all men, sooner or later, to have to pass through great sorrow, but he bore it with fine fortitude as a Christian man. There were times when he had to meet the challenge of stern circumstances, and these he surmounted with triumphant faith. As I thought of him coming to the last great testing of faith I turned to those great verses of Browning's (Prospect).
Fear death? To feel the fog in my throat,
The mist in my face,
When the snows begin, and the blasts denote
I am nearing the place,
The power of the night, the press of the storm,
The post of the foe;
Where stands the Arch Fear in a visible form,
Yet the strong man must go:
For the journey is done and the summit attained,
And the barriers fall.
Though a battle's to fight ere the garrison be gained,
The reward of it all.
I was ever a fighter, so one fight more,
The best and the last!
I would hate that death bandaged my eyes and forbore,
And bade me creep past.
No! let me taste the whole of it, fare like my peers,
The heroes of old,
Bear the brunt, in a minute pay glad life's arrears
Of pain, darkness and cold.
For sudden the worst turns the best to the brave.

The black minute's at end,
And the element's rage, the fiend-voices that rave,
Shall dwindle, shall blend,
Shall change, shall become first a peace out of pain,
Then a light, then thy breast,
O thou soul of my soul! I shall clasp thee again.
And with God be the rest!
He served his day and generation.
He is with God. Thanks be unto God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!"

The hymns rendered, "Immortal Love Forever Full," and "We Would See Jesus" were favorites of the deceased. The singing was led by a quartette composed of Mrs. Bell, Miss Swanson and Messrs. D. L. Johnston and A. F. Pollock. The solo, "Crossing the Bar," was pleasingly rendered by Mr. E. M. Armistead, of Sherbrooke. Mr. Gault Parker, of Sherbrooke, presided at the organ.

The bearers were Messrs. W. H. Baglow, H. S. Ball, Dr. P. Colquhoun, R. H. Smith, W. A. Edgecombe, J. H. Woodside.

The cortege approached the church through a long line of reverent school children, who thus expressed their appreciation of the deceased's long years of service in the interests of education in Waterville. The pupils and teachers of the High School afterwards paid further respect to the memory of their late friend by attending at cemetery in a body.

The late Mr. Gale was a member of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity, of which the following Brothers attended the services: Messrs. F. A. Briggs, P. H. Skelton, F. A. Parkins, K. B. Jenckes, and K. A. Wilson.
