Sing-Songs Again Planned at W.A.G. On Summer Nights

Thursday evening sing-songs, which proved so popular last summer drawing 12,000 citizens to the Westmount Athletic Grounds will be held again this summer. But the locale of all of the sing-songs is still to be determined, the Westmount Examiner learned today.

Lionel Fournier, recreation supervisor, stated today that the opening and closing evenings will be held in the Westmount Athletic Grounds June 28 and August 30. Where the other six evenings of singing will be held is undecided.

The Athletic Grounds were popular last year and allowed a great number of people to sit in the stands with comfort while participating in the singing. The periodic, noisy trains highballing along the C.P.R. right-of-way opposite the stands was a thorn with many of the citizens who have let it be known they don't want to compete with the locomotives this year.

Some citizens have requested that the sing-songs be held in the communities centering Westmount, Staynor and Prince Albert Parks with the people of each community playing host on the nights in their area.

Chief Byford Inspects Traffic Gadget

Brain Box Does Thinking For New Traffic Signals

Final tribute will be paid and the dirge will be sung as Westmount's grand daddy traffic lights are relieved from duty and laid away to rest.

Located on Western Avenue at Victoria and Lansdowne Avenues, these grand old traffic lights have seen their day. By measure of time they are not so old, only 20 years, but modern devices have made them look frazzled.

Time actuated, they are the last two of their kind left in the City. Comparatively simple, for the last 20 years they have regulated traffic along this thoroughfare. Run by a clock, they have clicked off light changes for thousands of vehicles.

The new traffic regulators will be $8,000 beauties with all the latest gadgets. So complicated a master electrician is required to keep them up, they are a maze of wires and electronic device.

Chief of Police R. A. Byford explaining the new lights said they are vehicle actuated. On the approaches to the intersection 100 feet from the corner plates setting up a magnetic field extending 18 inches are buried under the pavement.

Conduits, the Chief stated, connect each of the magnetic plates to the control box, brain of the system. Here the signals are sorted out and relayed to the lights.

Five Seconds

The Chief, describing the mechanics of the lights, said if a car travelling East and West is the first to place a signal to the control box it will get an initial period of five seconds to cross the intersection, depending on what the box is set for, plus a vehicle period of five to six seconds.

If after this time is up and no more East-West calls are placed the lights will revert to North-South calls. If East-West traffic is heavy and more calls are placed each will extend the first two periods an additional five seconds until a total of 30 seconds has passed.

If two cars reach the magnetic plates at the same time the lights will remain the same giving the

Westmount Schools Plan Ambitious Musical Event

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23, 24, 25, the first of what is hoped to become an annual Festival of Music will be presented to the general public by the students of the three Westmount elementary schools, and the two high schools, and performed under the direction of all the schools' musical staffs. The three evenings of choral and instrumental music will take place at the Westmount Junior High School gymnasium on Academy Road, starting at 8:00 p.m. each night.

During the first evening's program will be heard the combined talents of the elementary schools, Roslyn, King's, and Queen's; featuring the school choirs of King's and Queen's and the separate performances of the boys' and girls' choral groups from Roslyn school. The former will be conducted by Miss Luba Sluzar with Miss Jamieson directing the latter two. Morley Calvert will lead the combined schools' beginners' wind instrument group, while Miss Lydia Davison is in charge of both the beginners' and junior string ensembles. "Praise the Lord, ye Heavens adore Him", will be the final selection of the concert with Gifford Mitchell, the Director of Music for Westmount Protestant schools and chief organizer of this festival, conducting the combined elementary schools' choirs.

The Junior High school takes over the proceedings for the second evening's musicale when their boys' and girls' choirs, orchestra, band and instrumental group, will present many well known and some well loved vocal and instrumental offerings among which the boys will sing Victor Herbert's Tramp, Tramp, Tramp; the orchestra will play Tchaikowski's Andante Cantabile and Saint-Saens' Danse Macabre; the girls' chorale will produce "The Wonderful Year", a selection of songs depicting each month of the year with music composed by Haydn and Beethoven; the instrumentalists will perform the Barcarolle from Offenbach's "The Tales of Hoffmann" and the band, under the leadership of Mr. Calvert will offer, among other pieces, Balikov's Slavonic Dance. Mr. Calvert is also the director of the boys' choir, as Miss Davison conducts the orchestra and Miss Jamieson the girls' choir. Narrations accompanying "The Wonderful Year", are to be related by students Miss Paula Mendelssohn and Master Smith Chapman. Mr. Mitchell will accompany the choirs.

The Westmount Senior High School Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Mitchell are the final evening's performers and will be the main feature of a program consisting of choral works and instrumental highlights by the staffs of the different schools' music departments.

Briefly the Club will sing several popular classics such as "On Wings of Song", by Mendelssohn and the Soldier's Chorus from Faust by Charles Gounod; plus a few Broadway Show hits, like Heather on the Hill, from Brigadoon, by Kurt Weill, Roger's, You'll Never Walk Alone and Kern's favourite, Smoke Gets in your Eyes; and, Stephen Foster's unforgettable, Beautiful Dreamer.

Interspersed among the choir's renditions will be instrumental recitals by all members of the musical directorate of the Westmount Protestant Schools when Miss Sluzar, pianist, will play Chopin's Ballade in F-major; Mr. Calvert, trumpeter, the Concerto in G-major by Haydn with Miss Sluzar accompanying; Miss Davison, violinist, with Miss Sluzar again at the piano, playing Cesar Franck's,

U.N. Branch A.G.M. At Junior High Next Thursday

The annual general meeting of the Western Montreal Branch of the United Nations Association in Canada will be held at the Westmount Junior High School, Academy Road, on Thursday, April 26, at 8.15 p.m.

Reports covering the year's progress will be presented and there will also be a showing of a motion picture on the work of the United Nations in South America.

G. F. W. Kuhring, branch president, is hopeful that members and friends will attend the meeting in goodly numbers, as with world conditions as they are at the moment, support for the U.N. is needed if we are to stave off world conflicts.

There is no charge for admission and anyone interested will be very welcome, said Mr. Kuhring. In addition refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the evening's business.

Westmount Park Pack to Travel To Valleyfield

Tuesday night the Westmount Park Pack was honoured by a visit from Akela Clarke of Kensington Grey Pack, who presented a First Star to Basil Stevens, and Miss Lavole and Akela Crosswell of Bannantyne Pack who also presented a First Star to Garry Anderson.

In an Observation game the visiting leaders went out of the room, changed 3 things about their uniform, returned and had the boys trying to point out the changes. Some did well, others just guessed.

Brian Bennett and Jack Yuille have passed Knobs while Murray Wardrop, Ronnie Bailey and Dennis Reid have passed Cleanliness. In the "Wire Coat Hanger" drive the boys brought in 329 the first night. It is hoped that the Pack will continue the effort and perhaps take the prize offered for the greatest number received.

Tonight the Sixers and Seconds are going to Valleyfield in order to show the folk there how a Wolf Cub Pack can be run. Nitro, a small town close by, are trying to organize a Group, and learning by doing is the best way to get across the ideas. Mr. Clarke of the Kensington Pack is accompanying the Group.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT House League

The Saturday afternoon Hit-or-Miss Basketball League officially came to a close last Saturday, with the following six men finishing on top, to gain a place on the "mythical" "first" team: Bruce Robertson led the group with a total of 25 points, Doug Sellar second with 22, Ian McIntosh third with 21, followed by Ken Thompson with 13, and a tie for the fifth spot between Nelson Creamer and Doug Reed with 12 points each. Official recognition for the winners will be given at the Awards Banquet, to be held next month. Starting tomorrow afternoon, in place of the basketball, a volleyball league will get under way. All senior members are asked to be on hand to start it off at 2.30 p.m.

Gymnastic Club

The last workout for the Montreal "Y" Gym Team, before the Provincial Meet, was held on the Westmount "Y" gymnasium last night. All members were present, and appeared to be in the best of shape for the coming meet at McGill tomorrow afternoon at 2.00 o'clock. Last Saturday night the team travelled to Point St. Charles, to take part in the Fifth Annual Gymnastic display of the Point "Y". They were featured on the program in a parallel bar routine.

Awards Banquet

The date for the Annual Awards Banquet has been confirmed, and year. V. F. McAdam, president of the organization, presented the report for 1950. He returned to Montreal to report that the year had been a very good one, that more and more cities across Canada are taking a keen interest in boys work and that a number of new clubs are now being organized.

BOOK REVIEW

by
Howard S. Ross
K.C., D.C.L.

EARLY SCOTLAND. THE PICTS — The Scots and the Welsh of Southern Scotland — By H. M. Chadwick. Publishers: The Macmillan Company of Canada, Limited. Price $3.25.

The manuscript of this work by the late Professor Chadwick was left virtually complete. Mrs. Nora Kershaw Chadwick has carried out a minimum of necessary editorial adjustments, has added the illustrations, and a substantial introduction to give a proper setting for the ten chapters written by the author at different times. It is easy to see that he could always turn with delight to the history of early Scotland, both in his studies and on his journeys. His special contribution was to the linguistic problems of the early records, but a wide range of archaeological interests gave him the power to make a much needed synthesis out of his own and other workers' results. Mrs. Chadwick in her introduction sets out some of the achievements and some of the problems in this early history.

Advance has latterly been rapid. This interesting volume re-examines early Scottish history in the light of the added knowledge of the last 70 years in the relevant fields, notably linguistic and historical data, philology, early literature, and the work of some recent Irish scholars on their own early history and genealogical traditions.

Mrs. Chadwick in her interesting and helpful introduction wrote in part: "The author's studies were always closely bound up with his personal life. To work on the history of Scotland gave him keen personal pleasure. Descended from an old Highland family, he turned to Scotland whenever opportunity offered and to the home of his ancestors, and the work of his later years, both in Scotland and Wales, was inspired by an almost romantic love of the Celtic West. It delighted him to make pilgrimage to the strongholds of the early kings, and the brochs and forts, to study their strategic positions and their relationship to the surrounding country, and to the early written records and place names.

"Perhaps as an old pupil of my husband and his constant companion for 30 years and co-worker, I may be allowed in conclusion to express what has always seemed to be the most significant aspect of his work as a whole, and which is the chief contribution of this book. This is his powerful and vivid imagination, untouched even in these last days by any frost of age. The originality and careful scholarship of his early historical work on special departments of Anglo-Saxon history and institutions have perhaps tended to give an almost disproportionate prestige to this aspect of his work. But his chief contribution to scholarship was his capacity for passing directly into his subject and telescoping the centuries so that the past and the present become one and the mist lifts from centuries but little documented. In his hands a bare annal, an identification of an unknown name or word, the use of a variant tradition, bring new facts and new persons to our knowledge, and give new life and significance to those already familiar to us. In the present book what is most significant in early Scottish history has been brought into focus, and the blurred picture comes forward with sharper definition. We have stepped into a new Age."

There is a Preliminary Note on the Native Chronicles of Early Scotland where reference is made to Skene's Chronicles of the Picts and Scots (Edinburgh 1867) and Anderson's Early Sources of Scottish History.

It is interesting to note that Professor Chadwick dedicated his book to the memory of William F. Skene.

The contents are in part: The Kingdom of the Picts, The Chronicles, The Surveys and Genealogies, Cruithenath, Characteristics of the Pictish Kingdom, The Succession to the Throne, The Matriliner Principle apart from the Royal Family, The Irish Picts, The Kingdom of Dalriada, Notes on Irish Chronology in the fifth Century, and The British Kingdom.

There are 18 plates all of great interest, a number of them quite rare.

The frontispiece is a photograph of The Valley of the Fummel and Schiehallion, Kinloch Rannoch, Perthshire, and the last plate is Dunstaffnage Castle, Argyll.

There is a helpful index and the notes and a sketch-map of early Scotland appear at the close of the volume.

Westmount Rotarians Donate Projector to Boy's Club

The Unity Boys' Club was presented a new motion picture projector by the Montreal Rotary Club last week at the meeting of the Westmount Rotarians. J. J. F. Bancroft, president of the Montreal club, presented it to James G. Lawson, vice president of the Westmount club, and was thanked by D. B. Ross, president of the Unity Boys' Club. Left to right: Mr. Lawson, Mr. Bancroft, Mr. Ross and N. J. Watson, chairman of the boys' week committee of the Montreal Rotary Club.

Post Office Official Defends Hike In Rates

The Postal Department was cutting its staff by 1,200 men and curtailing deliveries to one a day in order to save $3,500,000, G. M. Desautels, public relations officer for the Montreal Post Office, told the luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday.

Answering a Rotarian's query Mr. Desautels said an added reason for this curtailment was to cut the Post Office's demands on the manpower pool which the Government feels should be used for defense purposes.

He said the cut of 1,200 men does not mean they are out of jobs but that they are taken off the delivery routes and absorbed into various other departments of the postal service.

Mr. Desautels stated that with the growth of the service there was a need for additional men and the internal staff had to be increased to keep up with the demand.

The 1,200 men removed from the delivery routes have for the most part been absorbed to fill this need, he said. If the department had not had these men to draw on it would have had to draw on the general manpower pool needed for defence.

Furthermore, he continued, although average letter carrier is not a sorter his experience on the route does teach him the rudiments of sorting and he becomes used to reading different kinds of handwriting.

For those members of the Rotary Club who were wondering why the Government had boosted the postage rate of third class mail Mr. Desautels stated the printed matter rate had not been changed since 1904 and that during that time the cost of labor and transportation had gone up considerably.

The postal department was one in the Federal Government that had consistently shown a surplus over the years, he declared. "What businessman would accept a contract that would show in the red," he challenged justifying the rising rates.

Fido To Be Kept on Leash, Chief Byford Warns

Liberty for Westmount's 1,200 dogs comes to an end on May 1 said Chief of Police R. A. Byford today. For Wagglies it's a leash or a free trip to the dog pound from May 1 to October 1.

According to the City's by-laws all dogs must be on a leash not over six feet in length. The owners of the dogs said Chief Byford who infringe upon the law are liable to court action and will have to pay the pound fee.

TRAM-AUTO SMASH

A tram-auto accident took place last week at the corner of St. Catherine Street and Kensington Avenue when Heti Hert, of 396 Olivier Avenue, swung North on Kensington and collided with a Westmount tram. The left side of the auto was badly dented.

St. George's Parents Hear Talk On Child Psychology

Dr. H. Lehman, Clinical Director of the Verdun Protestant Hospital, last night addressed a meeting of parents of St. George's School of Montreal on "Modern Psychology — Aid or Handicap to Parents?" Mrs. T. C. Stuart, President of the Board of the School, was in the chair.

Dr. Lehman said that the reason the theories and practices of progressive child psychology were being received with mixed feelings was due mostly to widespread confusion about the real values and goals of our methods of education. Are we only interested, he asked, in providing for the child's emotional needs without regard for his environment? In some primitive societies this method gives good results. Or are we yielding to the demands of society and merely fitting the child into his environment?

Following this road, the good old disciplinary methods of our parents and grandparents did produce some great personalities. Or are we completely submitting to the magic formulas of a pseudo-science which sets forth principles of learning and conditioning but disregards such basic human needs as emotional warmth and affection? This form of psychology was practised a few decades ago, but nothing good can be said of its results.

Today, Dr. Lehman went on, the social sciences have found a workable compromise between the needs of the individual and the moulding forces of society. The new psychological teachings may prove a trial to parents and their convenience. For it takes more time and patience to bring children up right, the modern way. Anxiety is a handicap found in many young parents who have been misled by a questionable kind of publicity recently given psychology and psychiatry.

A wrong impression is given that progressive ways of bringing up children require the knowledge of highly complicated theories, and that children will suffer lasting harm if these theories are not followed to the letter. But, he concluded, progressive psychology is an aid to parents who put the child's development first, and their own convenience and feelings second. By reducing our children's load of anxiety and guilt feeling to a minimum and increasing their tolerant understanding of others to a maximum, we prepare them better than any other generation of youngsters has ever been prepared for their future life in a tough world.

Three Youths Injured As Accidents Mount

Accidents in Westmount hit a new high for the last month as three youths were injured. There were two tram-auto collisions, a three-way truck-auto smash-up and three auto collisions.

The injured were: Mark Selby, 7, of 4250 Sherbrooke street, Fred McManus, 10, of 149 Selby street; and Willie Reeves, 18, of 525 Charron street, Montreal. The Westmount Police said Willie Reeves was pedalling his bicycle along St. Catherine street near Atwater, passed an automobile, became trapped in the tram tracks, skidded and fell to the pavement. The automobile ran over his bicycle smashing it and the boy, injured by the fall was taken to the Western Hospital. He was kept there for observation of possible damage to his pelvis.

Fred McManus, the police said, was playing near his home on the Northwest corner of Selby Street by Greene Avenue. He ran behind a parked car falling to the ground. A passing truck ran over his foot. He suffered a badly sprained ankle.

Mark Selby was playing a game of chase with a friend, so he told the police, and dodged out onto the street between two parked cars. He ran head on into a speeding auto hitting the door which threw him back onto the road. Injury was only a few bruises.

Little Joe Has Itchy Feet

Eight year old Joe Mathews of 4833 St. Catherine Street, Westmount, who has a penchant for disappearing for days at a time. Joe likes travelling. Within the past ten days he has gone to look over the sights in Bout de L'Ille, Ville LaSalle and Farnham.

Local Eight Year Old Travels Far By Himself

Little Joe Mathews, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mathews of 4833 St. Catherine street, Westmount, who made the headlines ten days ago by wandering away from home and was not found for about two days after his disappearance, repeated his vamoosing this week.

On the first occasion little Joe got as far as Bout de l'Ille and then decided to make for Ville LaSalle. He seemed to be able to get on and off buses and tram-cars without much trouble although he had no car tickets on him it is believed.

Finally Paul Choiniere, a tramway bus driver, got curious as to why a youngster should be around by himself at midnight and called the police who phoned his almost distraught parents.

Joe seemed to settle down for a few days his father said, but on Monday night was again missing. This time he was located in Farnham on Tuesday, having travelled by train. His father brought him back Wednesday noon only to have Joe sneak out of the bathroom. This time he was picked up near Greene two hours later by Westmount police.

Mr. Mathews said Joe attended St. Leon school here and that his teachers stated that when he wanted to, he got high marks, lately, however, he had seemed preoccupied.

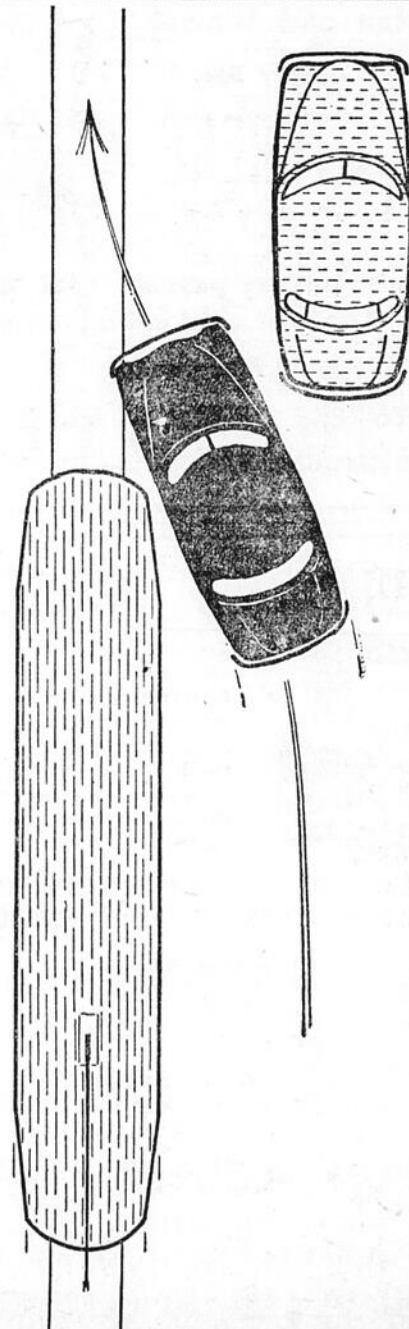

His father took little Joe to the Children's Memorial Hospital on Wednesday where doctors said they believed that the youngster was suffering from some form of neurosis and would require treatment to try and cure him of this wanderlust.

Mr. Mathews said that previous to moving to Westmount last summer from the east end of the city, Joe had never exhibited any tendency to run away. It is probably through watching the trains opposite the house at Westmount Station, that has given the boy a travel complex the father thought. In the meantime both he and his wife are at their wits end to cope with the situation. There are three younger children, two girls, five and four, and a baby boy just over one year old, so the Mathews have their problem.

Showing how intelligent little eight year Joe is, his father stated that on Tuesday night Joe slept in the church at Farnham. It was while he was hanging around a restaurant that he aroused the suspicions of the restaurateur. When the Westmount police found Joe on Wednesday the lad told the policeman that the family had just moved to Westmount and he didn't remember the address.

Mr. Mathews hopes that the hospital will be able to straighten out Joe's itchy feet complex so that he and his wife can get some sleep.

General MacArthur Topic At Current Events Meet

The Thirty-Eighth Parallel in Korea, the Problem of General MacArthur, the chart of leading students outside Mr. Bartlett's office, and School Spirit were some of the topics raised at the recent Round Table Discussion staged by the Westmount Senior High School Current Events Club at its eighteenth meeting this year on April 5. The new president for next year, Mike Sundell, was in the chair.

After the minutes had been read and approved, a proposal to resume a once vigorous debate on School Spirit was immediately adopted. Thereupon those present tackled the various aspects to a suggestion that more constructive means to promote school spirit at Westmount High be taken. Among the points discussed were: attendance at hockey games, football games and school dances, the use of the activities book, and school spirit in Westmount Junior High.

Eva Roney next proposed that some ideas be advanced on a recently discovered cancer serum. A discussion on the discovery however, proved short lived.

The next subject on the agenda—"How to improve next year's Current Events Club" excited some keen discussion. Suggestions for the club's betterment included those pertaining to the introduction of industrial tours, the presentation of better speakers, and the making of tape recordings of round-table discussions. Mr. Snyder, the club's advisor, stated that this club year was the best that he had witnessed.

Other topics debated were: "Is the mark chart outside the office of any benefit to the school," and

Westmounter With Pats

Major George Flint, of Westmount, has been appointed second in command of the Princess Patricia's in Korea. Major Flint took over from Major Henry Tighe, of Victoria, who was named commanding officer of the battalion, when Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone, was evacuated to Japan suffering from smallpox. Alfred H. Flint of 14 Gladstone Avenue, Westmount, is the father of Major Flint, whose wife also resides here.

"Is MacArthur justified in permitting a full scale crossing of Korea's Thirty-Eighth Parallel by United Nations Forces?" The meeting closed with the announcement that next Thursday's speaker would be Ron Morier, well known local sportscaster.

E.J. Anderson Park Supt. Elected To Garden Assn.

E. J. Anderson, superintendent of parks for the City of Westmount, was elected honorary treasurer of the Community Garden League of Greater Montreal, at the annual meeting of the organization on Friday.

C. R. Kneeland, who was re-elected president, suggested that the City of Montreal take gardening into its consideration in preparing recreation plans.

Mr. Kneeland told the gathering of a recreation survey being carried on by the City Executive, for which civic organizations were invited to submit ideas.

"We asked," Mr. Kneeland said, "that in contemplating the expansion of the civic recreation system, increasing consideration should be given to the needs of the large group of older citizens."

"While they would be unable to derive adequate benefits from playground activities, they would find in some form of gardening facilities a much-needed physical, mental and even financial help in the increasingly difficult task of raising their families and keeping their homes together, under the strain of modern living."

In his report, Capt. William Bowie, executive director, noted that in 1950 the League had completed its 19th year of gardening service to 11 districts in the English-speaking section.

"There is no counterpart to the Community Garden League of Greater Montreal in Canada," Capt. Bowie said.

Capt. Bowie noted that in some parts of the United States, garden allotment schemes were once again being organized to conserve foodstuffs and to alleviate high living costs.

Other officers named at the meeting were W. J. Tawse, honorary president; Henry Teuscher and Mrs. A. N. Jenks, vice-presidents; E. J. Anderson, honorary treasurer; Miss Alice Lighthall, Councillors L. J. McKenna, W. George Wren, Mrs. R. G. Kilbride, Wilfred H. Perron and Tom Ewing, general committee.

INFLATION MUST BE CHECKED

Housewives Are Chief Sufferers — International Agreement Solution

Westmount merchants were paid a compliment by a Notre Dame de Grace resident, who wrote to a local daily newspaper this week complaining that prices in the west end of Montreal for some food commodities were higher than prices being charged in Westmount stores, which, to say the least, strengthens the argument advanced many times by the Westmount Business Association, that Westmounters can buy equally as well in our local shops, as they can by travelling in our overcrowded buses and street cars to other sections of the Metropolis.

While the mere male may find these days somewhat depressing, it is on the housewife that the burden of making ends meet chiefly falls, so it is little wonder that she watches prices carefully and tries to buy in the cheapest and best market.

The male member of the family is, of course, quite aware that his wage packet or salary cheque, vastly fatter though it may be than in days gone by, is progressively decreasing in purchasing power, but it is the lady of the house who has to face week by week the gradual but inexorable increase in community prices, and it is she who has to wage a never-ending war of wits in her efforts to care for the family needs.

The budget introduced last Tuesday by the Hon. D. C. Abbott has further increased the cost of many articles, the full effect of which will probably not be felt for a little while.

Is it not time that the man of the house should come to the wife's aid? Is it not time for him to press upon the government at Ottawa the need for some action to be taken to combat inflation, when one sees the index of the cost of living continuing its rise?

Much of the increase in prices has been caused by the stockpiling of raw materials and foodstuffs by the United States, which has swept aside other buyers by sheer weight of dollars in the effort to build up supplies which may be needed in the prosecution of a war.

Wool is one instance in point where U.S. buying has doubled the price in a matter of months — in fact there may soon be no wool products on the shelves of stores, or if so, then at fabulous prices out of reach of the average consumer.

What is the answer? The United Nations has spent many hours debating the pooling of arms and munitions but apparently little attention has been given to the pooling of civilian commodities and foodstuffs with the result that speculators who always thrive on wars, are once again stockpiling essentials so as to realize a rich profit when things get really tough.

Producers naturally sell to the highest bidder.

Rationing in itself will not curb the inflation spiral, although it may assure equal distribution.

From the evils of stockpiling and speculation the only hope of escape in the long run would appear to be international agreement on the allocation and price of raw materials and food products.

As the Finance Minister represents Westmount in Parliament, local constituents are in a favoured position to advance their views to Mr. Abbott.

"Doctrine of Atonement is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from I Timothy 2: 5 and 6; "There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus bore our infirmities; he knew the error of mortal belief, and 'With his stripes (the rejection of error) we are healed.' 'Despised and rejected of men,' returning blessing for cursing, he taught mortals the opposite of themselves, even the nature of

Todd of N.D.G. to Mr. Ian Young Morrison of St. Catharines, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Morrison of London, England, the Rev. Father Stanley Quinn, of St. Patrick's Church, officiating. Spring flowers were used to decorate.

Mr. F. G. McPeak gave his niece away and she was attended by Miss Yvonne Lavigne, as bridesmaid. Mr. William Wright, of Peterborough, Ont., acted as best man for Mr. Morrison and the ushers were Mr. James E. Todd, brother of the bride, and Mr. J. Vincent Baines, of St. Catharines, Ont.

The bride was in a gown of net and Guipure lace, the fitted bodice having a low neckline outlined with lace and sleeves ending in lace points over her hands, and the skirt, with lace applique at the hipline, falling into a slight train. Her fingertip length veil of tulle illusion was held by a bandeau of lace and tulle caught at either side with lily of the valley and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, carnations and sweetpeas. She also wore a strand of pearls and rhinestones, a gift from her grandmother.

The bridesmaid was in a frock of daffodil yellow taffeta brocade and net, with a taffeta brocade bodice and a full net skirt. She wore a cap of yellow mesh, edged with mauve flowers, and carried a Colonial bouquet of Butterfly roses, lavender carnations and pale mauve sweetpeas.

Mrs. Todd, the bride's mother, was gowned in dark blue crepe with a jacket of Chantilly lace, and wore a pink hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother, 3806 Prud'homme avenue where spring flowers were used as decorations. Later Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left for Boston, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue tricotine, with collar and cuffs of navy blue and white checked taffeta, and wearing a hat of white Milan straw and navy blue accessories. They will reside in St. Catharines.

Mrs. J. McTaggart Elected At Meeting Of Catholic Mothers

The Catholic Mothers' Club of Westmount was founded to promote a closer bond among the mothers of the Parish and to further promote an interest in activities for children of the community. It was felt that by banding together for concerted action, an organization without any fees, open to all women, could accomplish much more than by sporadic attempts by a few.

The many activities of the club, especially during the war years, maintained a continued and widespread interest. Unfortunately, since that time, interest has waned to some extent.

The annual meeting of the club was held recently in St. Leo's School Hall and the following executive elected to office for the ensuing term:

President, Mrs. J. McTaggart; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. J. G. Patenaude; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Doug. Kerr; Recording Secretary, Mrs. E. Doran; Treasurer, Mrs. F. G. Wray; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Dwyer.

It is the hope of the new executive to rekindle interest in the activities of the Club and the next

Mrs. Kenneth Walter held a cupboard shower (plastic accessories, etc.); and Mrs. George Livingston was hostess at a mixed party in honor of Miss Messenger and her fiancé, Mr. Taylor.

Mrs. H. W. V. Taylor, King Edward Avenue, mother of the bridegroom, will entertain the bridal party tonight after the wedding rehearsal.

Trousseau tea

Mrs. W. A. Messenger entertained in honor of her daughter at a trousseau tea on Tuesday, at her home on Victoria Avenue, Westmount, the tea table decorations being carried out with sweet peas and lighted candelabra. Those pouring tea in the afternoon included Mrs. Fred J. Tees, Mrs. H. F. Gundy, Mrs. D. B. Stewart, and Mrs. S. A. MacSween. In the evening, Miss Ainslee Colton, and Mrs. John A. Patterson, of Fredericton, N.B., presided at the tea table.

Various Worthy Causes Receive Donations From Westmount Club

At the annual meeting of the Westmount Women's Club Inc. held in Victoria Hall on April 13, the president, Mrs. J. C. McKean presided and the officers' report showed an increase in membership and a flourishing year. Post War services committee reported monthly visits to Ste. Anne and Queen Mary Hospitals. Food parcels were sent regularly to Great Britain and the club continued to support a British War orphan. The annual scholarship was awarded to a Westmount High School pupil entering McGill and prizes were also donated for vocal culture in Westmount Schools.

Fifty ditty bags were presented to the Navy League of Canada, to be sent to Naval units in Korean waters, this special project being under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Mills. A desk was presented to Westmount High School in memory of the founder of the club, the late Mrs. T. deGrey Stewart.

Donations were made to the following: Salvation Army, Homoeopathic Hospital, Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital, Multiple Sclerosis, Canadian Cancer Society, Montreal Association for the Blind, Grace Dart Hospital, Girls Counselling Center, Montreal Girls Association, School for Crippled Children, Mackay Institute, Old Brewery Mission and Children's Memorial Hospital.

Members of the club assisted the Canadian Cancer Society and the joint appeal for the Blind.

Members of the Board of Directors for 1951-52 are: President, Mrs. J. C. McKean; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Gordon T. Blair; second vice-president, Mrs. Herbert C. Holland, recording secretary, Mrs. M. J. G. Hogan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Olsen; membership secretary,

At Westmount Alumnae Public Speaking Contest

My Former High School

CHRYSTYNA PALJIW

(Winning Speech in Westmount High School Alumnae Public Speaking Contest).

My former high school was entirely different from the one I am attending now. After you hear under what conditions it was formed you will understand why it was so unlike high schools in Canada. You will understand why the memory of that school will never fade from my mind.

When in the spring of 1945 Germany was occupied by the Allied forces, there were several millions of foreigners on German territory. Most of them were brought by force as workers. Some of them, terrified by the Russians, had fled from the East.

While citizens of the western European states such as French, Belgians and Dutch took the first opportunity of returning from "German captivity," the people of the Eastern areas, whose countries were now occupied by Russian armies, did not wish to go home. In spite of this the greater number of Ukrainians was taken back to the "Red" Ukraina against their will, where the poor people met death or the concentration camps of Siberia. I was lucky to belong to the 300 thousand of Ukrainians who avoided the fearful repatriation, and were placed by American and English Administration in clean and comfortable camps.

After the horror of Nazi concentration camps, after the bombs and all misfortunes of the war, we considered ourselves very happy to be able to live peacefully with our families and to be secure from cold and starvation. People became people again and, trying to forget their miserable past, started to build a new life for themselves and their children.

With the help of T.R.O., almost at the beginning kindergartens and primary schools were organized. It was a little more difficult with the high schools. But fortunately a Ukrainian Real High School from Prague, which fled with all the teachers, students and their parents before the Russians, was at this time in Bavaria. After getting permission to continue the operation of this school, it had been divided in three parts and was the beginning of the three first Ukrainian High Schools in Western Germany. At this time eight Ukrainian High Schools had been established and the matriculation was equivalent to the matriculation of general European high schools.

I shall never forget the sunny and bright summer day of 1945 on which we started our schooling. Although at the beginning the boys were told to construct some desks from the boards Major Hart, our camp leader, gave to us, and we girls had to clean the windows, everybody seemed so happy! War was gone and we could attend school again. Oh, it was fun!

Day after day we tried to enlarge our school equipment. We reproduced the maps, gathered Alps Flora and pieces of rocks. Unfortunately, we had no books, which were very hard to get in the early post-war time, and our teachers had much trouble dictating to us most of the material. However, our English teacher decided we should have some books. He kept writing to different companies and finally, with great difficulty, the teacher got several dozen of good English school books. To our great surprise we found they were English Portuguese; but still we could do some reading, which, of course, helped us a lot to advance in the knowledge of English.

Our Latin teacher was in love with Greek Mythology. Students who drew well enlarged little pictures from their books and decorated our classroom walls with them, so that they changed soon into a real Olympus.

School activities included glee club, philologic club and sport club. Since Alps were around us, mountain climbing was very popular and so was skiing.

When exams came we had to read piles of our own handwriting, because, as I have mentioned before, we could hardly get any school books. Nevertheless teaching went on. Months and years passed, but still the happiest moments for us were those when the teachers could say: "You have no books and it is difficult, we know; but are doing well, girls!"

Without any exaggeration I may say that the American and English commissioners were impressed when they visited our schools. They were amazed, not only by the standard of teaching, but also by the fact that the teachers were willing to teach without any salary at first and later with very little and under unfavorable conditions.

I received a letter from my camp recently in which I read that of the 300 students in my former high school only forty are still there. The others went overseas, all over the world: to Australia, Canada, United States and Brazil.

My school companions, as well as myself, are starting a new life. Most of them are attending the schools in their new countries. But I am sure that they, during their studies, go back, just like me, to the "good old days" of our camp school, where, by the help of American Administration and our generous teachers, we were given the basis for our further study.

The Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission which holds its monthly meetings in St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, held its annual meeting of the Montreal Branch on Tuesday, April 17, in the Parish Hall of Christ Church Cathedral, 1441 University Street. Dean Evans opened the meeting and the speaker was Dr. Kenneth Hare, chairman of the Geography Department of McGill University. His subject was: "Sea, Forest and People." Dr. Hare has carried out research in the Labrador and Ungava regions and for the government, he has determined the extent of the forests by interpreting aerial photographs of that area.

Director of Psychiatry Speaks At M.G.H. Auxiliary Meeting

"There are still many people, even among the better informed, who consider that being mentally ill or seeing a psychiatrist is shameful," Dr. A. E. Moll, chairman and director of the Department of Psychiatry, Montreal General Hospital, told a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary at the Nurses' Residence of the Central Division.

"Some people feel that mentally ill patients have 'weak characters', 'no will power', that they could get over their ailments if they would only 'pull themselves together' and," the speaker declared, "sometimes the patients themselves share these convictions. But character is not something that can be turned on and off at one's own volition."

"Unconscious mental processes constantly play a part in everyone's daily life and often rule conduct, at times to the individual's disadvantage. As rational human beings we would like to believe that we are in full control of our thoughts, feelings and actions — that we are at all times aware of our motivations. Nothing is further from the truth," Dr. Moll said.

He quoted statistics showing the alarming rate of mental illness, but noted optimistically that psychiatry has made steady progress, particularly in the last few decades. The speaker mentioned, among the many methods of treatment employed today, individual psychotherapy, group psychotherapy, subcoma insulin, and coma insulin.

Financial Reports
 Membership renewals now total 1296, and of these 90 are new members, Mrs. Alexander Hutchison, president, announced. The response to the renewal drive is most encouraging, she said, but urged members to send their fees as soon as possible because this is the Auxiliary's main source of income. She reminded her audience when the Gift Shop and Snack Bar has repaid its capital investment — the cost of such equipment as the stove and refrigerator — the profits will be set aside for direct assistance to the hospital.

Mrs. Hutchison stated that a new branch has been organized in Westmount under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. V. Driver.

The Travelling Shop, under the management of Mrs. Hector Dale, and the Gift Shop and Snack Bar continued to be a popular service at the Western Division, Mrs. Frank S. McGill, chairman of the shop, told the audience. Mrs. McGill paid tribute to the excellent work done by Mrs. Duncan Jones, Chairman of Placement, who always found volunteers in spite of bad winter weather and the flu epidemic. She noted that tribute was also

Service Club Aids Hard of Hearing; Sponsors Cooking

Aid to the hard of hearing is one of the major aims of Quota International, a women's service club with headquarters in Washington, D.C. Although Quota Clubs are not new in Canada (the Winnipeg Quota Club was chartered 26 years ago the Montreal Club is less than a year old, having received its charter June 12, 1950. "Quota" means to share. The Montreal Club resolved to concentrate on local service projects and during the past year they have been able to contribute to the support of the nursery school for hard-of-hearing children and have also helped supply hearing aids to those unable to provide for themselves. The club has started a service that seems destined to grow steadily — discarded hearing aids are sent to Quotarian Kathleen Brown, Fitzroy 7929, who repairs them. Cost of this service is borne by the Quota Club. Social Service agents gladly distribute them to deafened people. In the future the Montreal Club hopes to

The tableaux will be presented at Notre Dame de Grace Community Hall during Beautification Week, along with suitable music and expert commentators. Costumes will faithfully copy the originals

Zonta Hears F. J. Fyles Review 40 Years Educational Progress

Mr. Fred J. Fyles, principal of Victoria School, reviewed the progress made in education over the last 40 years at the regular dinner meeting of the Zonta Club of Montreal at the Mount Royal Hotel. Mr. Fyles stated that three philosophies had developed during the change in the sense of values in education and might have termed educational authoritarianism, progressivism and experimentalism, representing the book-centered, the child-centered and the life-centered schools.

Book Knowledge

Educational authoritarianism signifies the attitude assumed by all those who think, and feel, and act as though education were determined by influences outside the individual and which lead to his control and direction. In the old "traditional school", emphasis falls primarily upon verbalistic learnings, logically organized, and imposed upon pupils with little real concern for individual differences in backgrounds, needs or personal interests.

In course of time, the speaker noted, a resistant movement grew in reaction against the academic character and repressive discipline of the academic school. This new conception found practical expression in the child-centered progressive school.

Expressed Child Interest

Progressive education has long since proved itself the most stimulating, most constructive educational philosophy since the Oswego movement came into existence 85 years ago. Certainly it is more important to comprehend objects than to define them; more satisfying to express feelings aroused by objects than merely to tabulate and classify them. But comprehension and self-expression are not sufficient for children who must live out their lives in this troubled twentieth century. These young people need to define and comprehend, of course, but they must also learn to utilize, so to speak, for improved human welfare.

Opinions to the contrary, said Mr. Fyles, the early Progressive School tended in its antagonisms to develop its program negatively upon the basis of what it opposed, rather than positively, through the constructive development of its own principles. It was this poorly balanced program that brought progressive education into ill repute.

Human Needs

In the life-centered school organized knowledge, systematically mastered, is our greatest intellectual resource for both personal development and social improvement, always providing such knowledge is functionally organized to meet life's needs and problems and not merely mastered as an end in itself. Practical school methods must be evolved out of the psychological study of child nature.

In speaking of the school of tomorrow, Mr. Fyles continued, it is clearly recognized that individual children, unique as each one is in interests and personality and potentialities, possess certain common needs of members of society today and tomorrow. It has been established that needs can be met only through a functional interactivity between the school and the community carefully planned for the achievement of rather broadly predetermined ends.

Fossils Club Give Review April 23

The 20th revue of the Fossils Club of Montreal, "Once Upon A Rhyme", will be presented the week of April 23, in Victoria Hall, Westmount. Both a comedy and a satire on metropolitan life, the skits are humorously portrayed in nursery rhyme. The absurdities of our modern ways come under the eyes of such famous personages as "Little Miss Muffett" and "Humpty Dumpty". The Fossils Club is a group of public-spirited young businessmen who donate their time and talent to raise money for the welfare of boys throughout the city. All proceeds from their revue will send boys to camp this summer. The rehearsals are in full swing now, polishing the parts in order to keep up their standard of "It's About Time", last year's successful revue. Old-timers like John Rice and Bob Goodyear will be back again to give their amusing sketches.

Westmount's T.V. Tower?

The tower standing about 90 feet high, has been used by the National Research Council for propagation tests between the Metropolis and Ottawa. The permit for the erection of the tower granted by Westmount City Council expired in April.

As the City of Montreal and the Provincial Government have now sanctioned a T.V. tower on the top of Mount Royal it is likely that the erection on Westmount Mountain will soon be coming down.

In the meantime many questions are being asked by the curious.

Kaufman-Hart Play Opens Apr. 25

Opening Wednesday night, April 25, and running until Saturday, April 28, Trinity Players will present the popular Kaufman-Hart comedy, "George Washington Slept Here," at Trinity Memorial Hall in N.D.G., directed by Basil Donn, C.D.A.

Two additions to the cast are Rosalie Briggs and Marcel le Gagne, who play the actress and boy friend respectively.

"George Washington Slept Here" is a play with a message; several messages in fact. One is a stern warning to husbands not to buy an old house in the country, even when rich with history, without consulting their wives. As a vehicle for this warning, the play would fully justify its existence. Another point which will be brought firmly home to the audience is that it isn't wise to build a well close to your neighbour's swimming pool.

One gets the impression that Kaufman and Hart are rich with experience in the country, and this is probably true, as they are neighbours in the wilds of literary Connecticut. The swimming pool episode is based on a true experience involving Moss Hart.

Tickets may be obtained at the office of Trinity Church or by phoning R. Kerr at FI 6463.

Seville To See Cavanaugh Trio

The Seville's big parade of stars continues with the coming attraction, the famed musical organization, the Page Cavanaugh Trio. This group of artists have appeared in every country in the world and come here direct from a record-breaking week's run in Toronto.

When they appeared with Frank Sinatra in New York, Walter Winchell said, "They are the greatest thing to hit New York since Kissing." They have appeared in several movies the latest being "Lullaby of Broadway" with Doris Day.

Also on the same program is the popular Decca recording star Don Cherry, "The Golden voice of Decca". Over a million copies of "Thinking of You", has put Mr. Cherry on top of the list of male vocalists in North America.

Three other star acts will also appear, the Ivanovs, acrobatic performers; Billy Kelly, Broadway comic; and the Carroll Sisters, tops in taps.

Screen feature is Laurel and Hardy in "Our Relations".

John Payne and Rhonda Fleming have been reteamed, this time in Pine-Thomas' "Crosswinds," Paramount Technical release. The story, co-starring Forrest Tucker, ure hunting.

Historical Adventure At Westmount

Linda Darnell and Cornel Wilde in a scene from "Two Flags West" which opens on Sunday at the Westmount Theatre.

Esther Williams Is Star Of Westmount Attraction Sunday

The sight of comely Esther Williams clad in a pareu (Tahitian version of a sarong), swimming against the Technicolor backgrounds of a lush tropical isle, alone is the fare of "Pagan Love Song," M-G-M's latest musical romance, starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre.

Miss Williams has one of her most eye-filling roles as Mimi

Bennett, a part-Polynesian girl who has spent her life in Tahiti and who enlivens her life by shifting from the attitude of a typical smart and sophisticated American girl to that of the pareu-adorned, sun-exposed native maiden.

It is in her latter role that she meets the naive and guillible Ohio school teacher Hap Endicott (Howard Keel), who has come to Tahiti to claim his inherited plantation and who mistakes Mimi for a native domestic.

The confusion, laughs and romantic contretemps which arise from this comedy of errors provide an amusing framework for the musical interludes, the native dancing sequences and the arresting swimming scenes set against glowing settings of lagoons, natural pools and other scenic delights of the tropics.

The musical score of "Pagan Love Song" is one of the finest to emanate from a Hollywood musical in some time, with Keel at his best in such numbers as "The House of Singing Bamboo," "Why Is Love So Crazy," "Etiquette" and the picture's title song. Miss Williams joins him in "Singing in the Sun" and has a solo number in the lovely "Sea of the Moon."

Added Attraction

"Two Flags West," historical adventure spectacle based on a little known irony of the Civil War is the second feature. In the starring roles Twentieth Century-Fox presents Joseph Cotten, Linda Darnell, Jeff Chandler and Cornel Wilde, one of the luminous quartets of any film year. To assure a production that would be authentic as well as pictorial, the studio dispatched the troupe of 165 artists and artisans to San Ildefonso, New

St. Andrews Filled As Church Choirs Give Fine Recital

A capacity congregation of 800 persons attended the Festival of Easter Music in St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount. An Easter anthem was sung by each of the ten choirs, and then the massed choirs of 250 voices joined in singing the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah."

Sponsored by the Montreal Centre of the Canadian College of Organists, the concert gave the choirs a rare opportunity to hear one another sing. Choirs which participated were from the following churches: Christ Church Cathedral, St. Matthew's Anglican, Ephraim Scott Memorial Presbyterian; Church of the Messiah, Unitarian; Westmount Baptist; Ascension, Anglican; Calvary United; St. Andrew's, Presbyterian, St. Lambert; St Aidan's, Anglican; and St. Andrew's United, Westmount.

The type of music offered bore witness to the immense improvement in repertory during the past 25 years. There was little "parish" and much "cathedral" material and it was all competently sung. Donald Mackey's Church of the Messiah Choir set the standard with Peter Philips' motet, Ascendit Deus (Elizabethan). Christ Church Cathedral Choir offered Armstrong Gibb's Most Glorious Lord of Life. Basil Harwood's O Sons and Daughters, ably sung by Westmount Baptist Church Choir, sounded singularly beautiful and, for oldtimers, it was moving to hear Stanford's Te Deum in B flat, a true classic by Calvary United Church Choir. The Church of the Ascension Choir gave Farrant's great motet Call to Remembrance, Lord, and the home choir of St. Andrew's, directed by Phillips Motley, sang a chorus from the Messiah.

The prelude was played by G. C. Johnston, organist of First Baptist Church, and the organists of each church played as their choirs sang.

The offertory was played by Miss Edith Campbell, of St. James Church, St. John's, Que., and the postlude by Phillips Motley, of St. Andrew's Westmount, F. L. McLearn, chairman of the Centre, led the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus, which climaxed the program. Rev. D. M. Grant, minister of the host church, was chairman of the program.

Festival of Britain bookings are pouring in and according to present estimates more than 700,000

Baha'is Followers To Meet Sunday

Abraham's Descendant Finds A World Faith is the title of a lecture to be given under the auspices of the Baha'is of Greater Montreal at 1548 Pine Ave. West on Sunday, April 22nd, at 8.15 p.m.

The speaker will be Mrs. Dudley Moore Blakely (Judy Russel) of Elliot, Maine, known for her literary and dramatic work who, at present, is touring Eastern Canada.

Mrs. Blakely who travelled extensively and lived in England, France, Scandinavia, Russia, the West-Indies, South-America and the United States is not unknown to the Montreal public, having lived in this city for nine years some time ago. Those who met her will remember this colorful personality who during the period of Kerenski's role in Russian history was his secretary and a critical observer of world events.

Keenly interested in arts and crafts, Mrs. Blakely was actively engaged in Art Galleries and decorating studios and has very definite ideas on the place art will take in education.

A member of the Baha'i World Community, Mrs. Blakely served on various Spiritual Assemblies during the last years, such as Montreal, New York, Detroit and Elliot and taught at the Baha'i Schools in Louhelen and Green-acre.

When the League of Nations was started in Geneva, Switzerland, Mrs. Blakely enrolled immediately and became one of the first honorary members of the League. Now, she follows closely the developments in the United Nations and tries to be helpful wherever possible.

A lecture of such a versatile personality, undoubtedly, will be interesting and the Montreal public is invited on this occasion.

For those drivers who have stopped their vehicles at a Westmount traffic light, waited for what seemed like an hour wondering why the blankety-blank thing didn't change Chief Byford has a couple of tips.

Sometimes, he noted, drivers stall their cars at the light and by the time it is running the light has changed. "They will stay there until the end of time," laughed the chief, "unless they back up to the magnetic plate and put in another signal or unless another car does it for them."

The Chief said another cause of frustrated drivers is the fact that some of them approach the intersection on the wrong side of the street completely missing the magnetic plate.

R.M.R. Billiardists In Fifth Place

The Royal Montreal Regiment's "A" team in the Garrison Billiard League, finished in fifth place, five points behind Black Watch "B", who by finishing fourth enter the challenge cup competition.

The first four teams qualify for the play-off. The league games this year have been featured by very close scores, and R.M.R. were unlucky on several occasions to lose the points but, all things considered, are reasonably satisfied with the showing of both "A" and "B" teams. Entering two teams gave more players a chance to participate in league competition. 17th Duke of York's Hussars

"A" team won the league with 81 points.

W.H.S. In All Sections Volleyball Finalists

By ALLAN SANDZELIUS

Last Saturday morning Westmount Senior High entered all sections of the annual Inter-School's Volleyball tournament and figured well into the final competition on all counts, senior "A", senior "B" and junior. In the senior "A" league, West Hill High finished first without a defeat as they eliminated the locals by a score of 8-5, after the Westmounters had gone through their schedule unbeaten, having drubbed Strathcona Academy 21-3, Verdun High 19-3, Montreal West High 21-2 and Montreal High 16-6. The highest score obtainable in high school volleyball is 21.

In the final game with the Maroon and Grey, the Purple and White more than held their own as for about seven minutes of the ten allowed for each game they stopped West Hill in their tracks, the scoring happening thus: W.H.S. 1, W.H.S. 1; W.H.S. 2, W.H.S. 2; West Hill 3, Westmount 3; W.H.S. 4, W.H.S. 4; Westmount 5, West Hill 4—! Then the roof fell in leaving the Garden City lads in the cold by three points as West Hill took the city Volleyball championship for the first time since its inception.

The Senior "B" aspirants of the little school below the soon to be renovated building belonging to Westmount's "finest" begorrah, fared little better as they went through their opposition nicely losing only to Town of Mount Royal High, at whose school the "B's" games were played, the other leagues playing in the Westmount Junior Gyms, then, in the playoff bout with the above-mentioned Mounties, the W.H.S. "nine", coached by Bruce McFarlane, lost a heart-breaker by a score of 8-7.

The Junior team were able to cop the Western Championship in tough competition losing but one to Verdun in their seven game round but, as is usual with all Westmount High sportsmen, they were knocked out of the city title by a strong Commercial High group, the score being 16-11.

Members of the Westmount Senior "A" team, coached by Lew Davies, were: Dave MacDougall, Ian McIntosh, Fred Hoffman, Charlie Baillie, Gordie Clark, Andy Cote, Chuck Johnson, Doug Carlaw, Jim Liddell, Carter Powis, "Tope?", and Captain Bob Forrest. Westmount High has yet to win a city Volleyball championship and so far this season no championship has been won with all but the girls' inter-school singles tournament, being held this spring, having been decided.

Reminder Athletics Night
Don't forget the Second Athletic Night of the season to be presented this time by the Girls' Athletic Association under the guidance of Miss M. MacMillan on Friday, May 4, at the Junior High at 8:30 p.m. Features of this evening will be two alumnae basketball games, one between the boys and old boys, the other between the girls and old girls! Last year both the old boys and old girls trounced the school kids and will be out to duplicate their previous efforts! More news about this will appear within the next two weeks in these pages.

Playgrounds Program To Be Stepped Up This Year

This summer Westmount will see a new departure in its playgrounds program, Lionel Fournier, superintendent of recreation, told the Westmount Examiner today. Through the summer months a running, varied program will be supervised for children from 7-15 years.

The program, carried on for the most part in the open air for children in Westmount unable to leave the City during the summer, will be fourfold, consisting of sports, crafts, arts and tours of interest.

It will be under the direction of Hugh Stratton, physical education teacher at Westmount Junior High School, and will include supervisors, Don Menard, physical education student at McGill;

Don McBride, art instructor at the Snowdon Y.M.H.A. and the Westmount Y.M.C.A.; Elizabeth McKell, teacher at Roslyn Elementary School; and Edith Lasmans, physiotherapy student at McGill.

Mr. Fournier said the Recreation Department was purchasing materials to carry on this program for the summer and the work benches would be set up in Stayner, Prince Albert and Westmount Parks.

The sports division of the program will include ping-pong, softball, basketball, archery, volleyball, croquet, swimming, shuffle board, outdoor checkers, carnivals soccer, track and field and tennis.

In the arts and crafts departments there will be leather work for the youngsters, drawing, copper, felt and woodwork, as well as painting plaster and paper work, raffia, sewing and shell craft.

Tours of interest will include swimming expeditions, weiner bakes and visits to interesting industrial plants in the city.

Recruiting for the program, Mr. Fournier said, will be conducted through the schools and playgrounds by the supervisors. Physical education directors in the

Scheduled Events At W.A.G. Listed

The summer schedule for the Westmount Athletic Grounds as announced today by the Recreation Department gives two evenings to soccer and three to baseball with Thursday set aside for community events.

On Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings the Atwater Ball League is scheduled to play, being the Home grounds for the Y.M.H.A. and Ste Anne's teams.

Tuesday and Friday evenings soccer is scheduled, being the home field for the Maccabees Soccer Club, of the second division in the soccer league.

On May 17 Lower Canada College is scheduled to have their track meet on the Grounds and the Westmount Protestant Schools will also hold their meet sometime during the month.

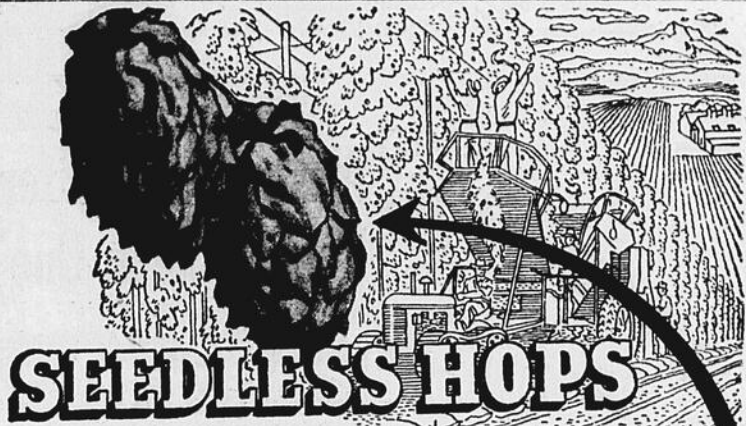

On Sunday, June 3, the Holy Name Society will hold a religious demonstration on the Grounds.

seven schools of Westmount will be approached and asked to cooperate.

During the first three weeks of June, Mr. Fournier stated, the supervisors will be on the playgrounds assessing the possibilities, drawing up their summer program and registering the children. At the same time these supervisors will be taking a training course given by the Recreation Department to acquaint them with Westmount procedure.

Mr. Fournier pointed out the purpose of the preliminary three weeks was to find out what the children would like to do during the summer months and base their program on that. The idea, he said, was to cater to the children and what they wanted to do, not what someone else wanted for them.

SEEDLESS HOPS

One of the five reasons for the rich, full body and popular flavour of O'KEEFE'S ALE

- "QUICK-GRIND" MALT
At O'Keefe's we make our own malt from the finest barley, using only the ripest, plump barley grains, for which we pay premium prices. To preserve its fine flavour O'Keefe's "quick-grind" the malt at the last moment before it goes into the brew. This gives you the fine flavour and mellowness characteristic of O'Keefe's Ale.
- NATURAL YEAST
The yeast used in brewing O'Keefe's Ale is a natural by-product of the fermentation process; stored in a sterile refrigerated room to preserve its purity.
- SEEDLESS HOPS
The finest seedless Kent, European and domestic hops are used in brewing O'Keefe's Ale. Picked at the exact moment of maturity and carefully blended in the brewing process, these seedless hops help to give O'Keefe's Ale its delicate tang and flavour. Removing the seed removes the bitterness leaving only the fine taste qualities of the hops.
- NATURAL CARBONATION
Long fermentation is responsible for the natural carbonation which gives zest and sparkle to O'Keefe's Ale.
- AGING
Time and nature age and mellow O'Keefe's. The result is an ale of rich, full body and pleasing flavour.

Hockey Players Feted At St. Leo's Gala Party

Last weekend at Victoria Hall, St. Leo's Senior Hockey Club officially closed a highly successful hockey season, with the holding of the annual hockey party in the Oak Room. It was a gala event and some of the boys that cut quite a figure on the scholastic ice lanes, were anything but that on the dance floor, and the girls in true sporting fashion patiently guided the boys around, who found themselves lost without skates on.

At the half way mark of the festivities, coach Andy McGillis took over the mike to announce his choice for top senior athlete of the year at St. Leo's, and on the receiving end of this honor was Buster Smart, a 4th High student who tops the scale at 160 pounds. Buster received a fine ovation from the lads and lassies and a fine tribute from his coach in recognition for his all around athletic ability and sportsmanship.

Earlier in the week, Claude Sawyer was voted St. Leo's top junior athlete for 1951. It was a well earned award for the hard working Claude, who did a man's sized job guiding the twine for the Academy's 1951 Senior puck-chasers. Both these boys will occupy a prominent spot on the school's 11th Annual Boxing Show, slated for the night of Friday, May 11th. On this evening, Buster Smart will receive the Rev. Monsignor Wilfrid E. McDonagh Trophy.

At Loyola Auditorium last Saturday evening, three members of St. Leo's who gained places on the Gazette's 4th Annual All Star Hockey team, received trophies. Coach Andy McGillis, coach of the All Stars, Ray Losito, defence on the first team and Tommy St. James, center on the second team. Ray also received a trophy denoting his selection as the Most Valuable Player of the year in school hockey. The presentations, a part of the Loyola Athletic presentation night, was a well ran affair and St. Leo's representatives felt very grateful for the hospitality extended to them so graciously on behalf of Loyola.

Sport Shorts

For the first time in six years, no old boys' hockey game was down for a decision. This was very regrettable but somewhere along the line on the Old Boys executive, someone fell down on the job, failing to challenge the 1951 Senior Hockey Club.

St. Leo's is one of the few prominent high schools that lack the active support of a well organized Old Boys Association. Members of the Senior Hockey team banded together at the hockey party to present suitable gifts

St. George Curling Rink Wins At Montreal West

The last big event in local curling is the St. George Spring Bonspiel which comes to a finish tomorrow at the Westmount Boulevard rink. The spiel has attracted a large number of entries and play during the week has been keen.

St. George curlers added another trophy to their season's list when a rink skipped by F. C. Rubbra defeated a Heather rink skipped by Jack McKee, to win the Spring Bonspiel at Montreal West, on Saturday.

That two Westmount clubs figured in the final of the competition is a tribute to St. George and Heather.

to coach Andy McGillis and student manager Bob Rogers, in appreciation for the part they played in making 1951 a memorable hockey season.

René Lagarde, school director, made a popular hit at the hockey party and showed the young fry a thing or two in dance steps.

Peter Grant, one of the school's up and coming young athletes, is showing plenty of promise in the boxing class and rates a bout in the school show. Jacques Martin has caught the eye with his hard hitting in training and may well be a dark horse to catch a place in this year's show.

Bob Impey, better known as Boogie Woogie Bobby, brought the house down at the hockey party with his piano renditions. Buster Smart, Mike Dodman and Moe Noiseaux, St. Leo's three wizards of the harmonica and billed as the Harmonica Sharps, were also a big attraction at the party.

Schwob, who is at present visiting at Pinehurst, N.C., became a member of the famous "Hole-in-One Club" while playing the No. 3 course at Pinehurst.

Westmount Golfer Bags 'Hole in One'

David Schwob, 3015 Sherbrooke Street, Westmount, who is club champion of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, looks as if he is in for another banner season. He is probably the first local golfer to score a "hole in one" this year.

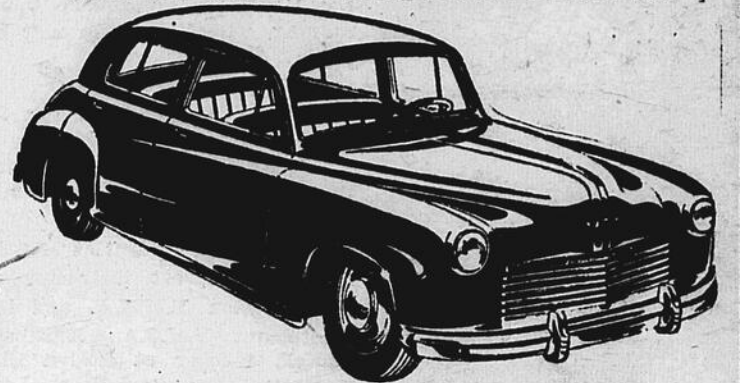

The Westmounter bagged his "Ace" at the fifth hole and was playing at the time with John Pierson and John Stevens, both Royal Montreal members, and Bill Quackenbush.

Pierson and Quackenbush play hockey for Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League.

NOTRE DAME HOSPITAL NEEDS YOUR GIFT TO HELP IT GROW

Notre Dame Hospital cares for more charity cases and public ward patients than any other in the province. More than half the beds are reserved for them; hospital-days each year total 125,000.

- Notre Dame Hospital urgently needs to expand its services to meet the growing needs for hospitalization among the less fortunate citizens of our City and Province.
- Notre Dame receives and cares for more needy patients than any other hospital in Quebec Province.

- Lack of space now is hampering the work of many basic and auxiliary services at Notre Dame, preventing the hospital from meeting all the urgent demands made upon it.

- 200 more beds are needed now for patients awaiting treatment.

it is far less costly to enlarge an existing hospital than to build a new one.

- These extra beds will help Notre Dame Hospital bring health and hope to many who cannot afford to pay for themselves.

• In our own interests, and for the benefit of the poor and sick of this City and Province, we all should give as much as possible to help Notre Dame Hospital add the facilities it needs. Please be generous.

- More space will also permit Notre Dame to improve and enlarge its existing facilities; and to add new services, including additional specialized clinics.
