AN INSATIABLE CONFLAGRATION STILL RAVAGES SAN FRANCISCO.

Fire Raging on the Second Day with Unabated Vigor and Making Awful Havoc.

THE SPECTRE OF FAMINE PRESENTING ITSELF

San Francisco, via Oakland, April 19.—The magnitude of the calamity that has befallen San Francisco became apparent to-day. Looking eastward from the heights in the central portion of the city, everything attested to the awful havoc wrought by earthquake and flame. In several sections the fire still raged with unabated vigor. The people seemingly are half dazed by the disaster. The possibility of famine already is presenting itself. At best the city never carried more than three days' supply of provisions and food, and now with the wholesale districts and warehouses wiped out, there is a shortage of food. Prices to-day were in most instances more than trebled. This morning policemen were stationed at some of the retail shops, and permitted only a small portion of goods to be delivered to each purchaser. Reports were received that numerous men caught in the act of looting had been shot. The military is unusually strict in the enforcement of the order to shoot all looters. One man on Market street, who was found digging in the ruin of a jewelry shop, was discovered by a naval reserve man and fired upon 3 times. The fellow sought safety in flight, but the reserve man brought him down by running a bayonet through him. The bodies of three thieves were found lying in the streets on the south side this forenoon. It is impossible to verify the many reports of shooting that are coming to the press representatives. Concerted action of any kind, in fact, is out of the question and almost every official is acting on his own responsibility. It being a physical impossibility to communicate with superior authorities. Yesterday some sort of systematic communication could be had by a means of automobiles, but to-day every street is piled high with ruins, and to add to this trouble there is constant danger from falling walls. On miles of streets the front walls of ruined buildings still stand, swaying with the concussion of distant dynamite explosions, and the rising wind. Frequently a crash of stone and brick, followed by a cloud of dust, gives warnings to pedestrians of the unsafety of travel. All manner of reports of death and disaster are coming to the temporary headquarters of the authorities, but these reports are received gradually, allowances being made for the likelihood of exaggeration due to the confusion that prevails in the stricken city. The flight of residents from the city continued to-day in the nature of a panic, a slight earthquake at 5 a.m. accentuating their terrors. The ferry boats to adjacent counties were crowded to the utmost this afternoon, and to the westward portion of the peninsula a constant throng of homeless persons carrying portable belongings are adding to the colonies in the secure sand hills and parks. In Golden Gate Park and in the unimproved blocks of the district south and north many varieties of shelter have been improvised from bedding and blankets. The wind changed this morning to the west and the flames changed their devouring direction southward and began eating their wide swath from the water front on the north of Market street up to what is known as Nob Hill, an eminence that had been selected years ago by the multi-millionaires of the "bonanza" days, upon which to erect their mansions. The hill is surrounded by the Hotel Fairmont, just finished at a cost of over a million dollars. Steadily but surely the fire ate its way up the slope, consuming the homes of the late Mrs. Jane Sanford and the Hopkins Art Institute, built by Mark Hopkins, of Central Pacific fame. At this writing the hotel could be seen occasionally, standing in the centre of huge clouds of smoke. From the upward slope the fire took a direction northwesterly into the district that had been left untouched last night. This portion of the town embraces the Latin quarter, populated by persons of various nationalities, and the houses are all of flimsy construction. Once getting a foothold there the fire will cut its way through as though going through a forest in the driest time of summer. In the Mission district to the south of Market street the zone of ruin was extended further westward, toward the extreme southern portion, but was checked at Fourteenth and Mission by the wholesale use of dynamite. At this point are located the Southern Pacific Hospital, the St. Francis Hospital and the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Buildings were blown up all around there. In the Hayes valley district, south of McAllister and north of Market street, the fire was confined on the west by Octavia street and on the north by McAllister street. In these confines the destruction was complete. Therein were located St. Ignace School and the church of which only the sidewalks remain. At the Mechanics' Pavilion, the scene of hundreds of great political and sporting events, not a timber remains. Opposite it was the St. Nicholas Hotel, and it now is a pile of ruined bricks. From this point down to the Oakland ferry an Associated Press man made his way through the menacing wall frontages, climbing over hills of masonry and junk of all sorts in the middle of the city's greatest thoroughfare. The journey was heartrending, the scene appalling. On either side was ruin, nothing but ruin. To the south, in hundreds of blocks, hardly a building remained whole. The United States Mint escaped almost unscathed on account of its isolated environment and its peculiar fire proof construction, but the force of rending power of the earthquake could be seen in the cracked walls of the new post office building. In front of the post office on 7th and Mission streets the ground had sunk for several feet. Across an alley the Grant building, one of the headquarters of the army, was gutted. Opposite the Grant building on Market street, the ruins of the Hibernian Savings Bank looked up, its former beautiful frontage transformed into hideous aspect. This was the great bank of the middle and poorer classes. From this point down to the ferry the same story could be told of each successive block. Last night at 11 o'clock the north side of the street had been untouched and hope had been expressed that the great Flood, Crocker, Phelan, and other buildings would be spared, but to-day they are gone. The Palace Hotel still stands, its blackened walls and empty interior bearing little resemblance to the huge hostelry of a day ago. The handsome, gigantic, St. Francis Hotel, on Powell street, fronting on Union Square, is a ruined shell. This was one of the high steel structures that had defied the terrible trembles of yesterday, but this morning it is another tribute to the completeness of the devastation. Among the other sky scrapers north of Market street that fell prey to the flames were the 14 story Merchants' Exchange and the Mills building, occupying almost an entire block. Chinatown at noon to-day was a furnace, and the denizens of that quarter earlier in the day had their simple possession bundled for departure. On the farther western side the flames cut a wide path to Vanness avenue, but here, owing to the width of that thoroughfare and to the additional fact that there was a weak water supply in the mains, it was hoped to check the ruin at this line. There is still much confusion concerning the loss of life. This afternoon there were 27 corpses lying in Portsmouth Square. It is said that elsewhere bodies are lying in the streets, there being no means available to remove them. The Associated Press representative saw three bodies lying in the debris in Market street, some rude covering having been thrown over them. At 10:30 o'clock the flames were sweeping up the Russian hill, fanned by a brisk wind. The most lamentable feature of the conflagration is the utter absence of means to stay its progress. There is not a sound water main east of Vanness avenue and west of that street the supply has been made scanty by numerous breaks. Yet, at Vanness avenue, the firemen, though practically exhausted from over 24 hours work and lack of food, are determined to make a desperate stand. Should the fire cross Vanness avenue and the wind continue its earlier direction toward the west the destruction of San Francisco practically will be complete. West of Vanness and north of McAllister constitute the finest part of the metropolis. Here are located all the

PAQUET'S LITTLE FASHION TALKS.

No. 1.—Lightness.

THE POPULARITY of the light-weights or "Chiffon Textures," as they are called, is due to the vogue of the "Princess" style of dress which calls for a close-fitting costume. Then, too, the general adoption of the circular skirt, which calls for more material, emphasizes the necessity for light-weight materials to minimize the weight of the costume.

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, APRIL 20, 1906.

MR. EDSON FITCH.

It is with feelings of the most sincere sorrow and regret, feelings which, we are confident, are participated in by the citizens of Quebec that we note to-day the removal from our midst by death of Mr. Edson Fitch, a gentleman who for many years has lived and worked amongst us, and has devoted talents of no mean order to the advancement of the interests of this city. His unconquerable energy, and unwearied perseverance no less than his eminent aptitude for business brought him the respect of all those who came into contact with him, as his unfailing courtesy won him the esteem of the public, and his social virtues the love of a multitude of warm friends, and there are none who knew him who will not mourn his untimely death. Quebec can ill spare valuable lives such as his was in all its various relations, and the loss of the estimable wife and sister whom he leaves behind him, and to whom we tender our deepest sympathy, is also a public loss which will long be felt.

PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE.

The rapid increase of the cost of living has attracted a considerable amount of interest of late, and especially during the now past winter when the prices of meats and fowls ran up with the agility of the mercury of the thermometer in the dog-days, and the rates on butter and fresh eggs of less than four months old were practically prohibitive to all but millionaires. Various theories were advanced to account for the rather unpleasant phenomenon; some blamed the beef and canning trusts; others the grocers' combines; others both of them together, and others again laid it down to the increased output of gold, which, they alleged, deprived the circulating medium of much of its purchasing power. Any of these explanations was good enough for the combines which can always advance the prices of their articles to meet the altered conditions; to the labor unions which can remedy the matter by periodical strikes for higher wages, and to the millionaires who have more money than they know what to do with, and eagerly welcome any chance of getting rid of it, but the classes enjoying fixed salaries, and who either can't or won't combine, are not so easily satisfied, and some of them, as a correspondent of the Chronicle did the other day, are inclined to hold the Government responsible for the pinching of the shoe. A little enquiry, assisted by the perusal of certain public documents has satisfied us that in the matter of food supplies at any rate this last theory is nearer the truth than any of the others.

We do not say that the Government is to blame; the mischief that has been done has been brought about with the best intentions, and in the pursuance of an enlightened and progressive policy. It is the consequence of having at the head of the Department of Agriculture a Minister, Hon. Sydney Fisher, who is not only a "practical farmer," but is as much too far advanced beyond his age as Professor Jephtha Jonkin whose agricultural successes are now running through one of the American Monthlies, and who recently succeeded in getting a double amount of honey from his improved bees, by crossing them with fireflies and so providing them with a portable natural lantern which enabled them to work by night as well as by day. We are not aware that the Hon. Sydney Fisher has, as yet, attained to such practical agricultural proficiency, though he will doubtless arrive at it, if the Laurier Government does not fall to pieces through internal rotteness before he has had sufficient time, but we do know that he has already worked wonders in the improvement of peaches and tobacco, and the report which he has recently issued shows that he has achieved a still greater success in the art of improving chickens. So satisfied does he appear to have been that he has now placed poultry raising on a firm scientific basis that, according to his report, he decided in January, 1905, to confide the further prosecution of his plans into private hands: "The eleven fattening stations were discontinued; the equipment was allowed to remain for the present in order that the manager might carry on the work either for himself or co-operatively."

Commenting on this the Montreal Gazette says: "It was about time. Of all the petty grafts in the management of the department, this was about the worst. Two years ago it was pointed out in these columns that these chicken-fattening stations were absolutely worthless, the cost of the chickens and the food they consumed being $1.11 for every $1 obtained for the marketed product. This did not take into account the expenditure made in placing the chickens on the market, the wages paid the demonstrators or any of the other incidental expenses. Bad as that record was, that for the last two years was much worse. The Auditor-General's report shows that in 1903-4 and 1904-5 there was purchased for these crate-fattening demonstration stations $3,012 worth of chickens, and that they were fed $1,551 worth of food, the total cost of chickens and food being $4,563. The sales amounted to $3,322, showing a loss on the bare cost of chickens and food of $1,241. In other words, the raw material, which cost the Fisher fattening station $1.46, only brought $1 in its finished condition. This does not take into account the $1,963 which was spent in killing, preparing and placing the chickens on the market, nor the $1,728 which was allowed the demonstrators in wages at the rate of $40 per month each. A "scientific" farmer like Mr. Fisher might find satisfaction in the fact that $1.46 worth of raw material can be worked up into finished product worth $1, but it does not appeal to the average farmer, who depends upon his farm for a living. As schools of petty graft the chicken fattening stations were undoubtedly a great success. But that was the limit of their usefulness."

We think that in this our confrere judges our farmer-militant too harshly, and fails to see the practical agricultural principles carried out at the chicken fattening stations. The thrifty housekeeper knows well and dreads the ordinary barn-door fowl and its fruits. It is allowed to run about the farm at its own sweet will, getting its nourishment as best it can, and laying its eggs in ingeniously reconceited places which elude the most inquisitive boy, and are only discovered by a lucky chance. Consequently what flesh it puts on is hardened muscle, and about as digestible as india-rubber, and the eggs, owing to the necessity of laying them in a hurry to avoid discovery, are of small size, and of uncertain date when found. The fowls cost nothing for maintenance and supervision and could therefore be sold at low prices, though they were dear at any price, and it is evident that to get the best value out of them they must be supplied with proper and abundant nourishment. It was on this principle that the practical farmer has acted. He put before him a sum in proportion, "If a fowl that costs nothing, and is worth less, can be sold for 60 to 75 cents, and her eggs for 12 to 15 cents a dozen, what will be the price that should be paid for fowl and eggs when $1.46 cents have been expended on her?" Obviously, large returns were to be expected; if anybody wants to know the precise amount, he can work out the sum for himself; it is sufficient to say that the prospective profits are prodigious. If Mr. Fisher's practical calculations have not been realized as yet, that has been owing to the competition of the ordinary barn-door fowl, and the increased prices of that domestic bird and her products during the winter show that Mr. Fisher has not been far wide of the mark, and that although the country may have been a little out of pocket at the outset, yet the benefit to the agricultural community will be great and lasting, because by increasing the cost of the fowl Mr. Fisher has therewith increased the market prices to the consumer, and those go into the pockets of the farmers. How the consumers may view the matter is a very different thing.

A CURIOUS REPORT.

We publish elsewhere a despatch from Montreal to the Toronto World containing a curious rumor that the Government is contemplating the abandonment of the Quebec-Moncton section of the National Transcontinental Railway, or, rather, the letting of the contract, and it is to be presumed the subsequent operation of the road to Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann, which, as the World's correspondent points out, would be a very acceptable proposition to the Grand Trunk Pacific. We give the report as a matter of news and are not inclined to attach much importance to it for two reasons: first, because Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann are understood to have other views, and to be at this moment negotiating for the acquisition of certain railways in New Brunswick; and secondly because Hon. Mr. Fielding stated in the House on Wednesday that the road would be built by the Government on the lines laid down in the Act declaring that it should run from Moncton through the central portion of New Brunswick by the shortest available route. No doubt Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann may change their views, and Mr. Fielding's declaration be one of the ordinary ministerial ones which merely refer to the intentions of the moment, and are by no means certain to be accurate as to the practice of the future, but we wish simply to point out that should this report be found ultimately correct, it is a certain proof that the Government have had no serious intention of interfering with the plans of the Grand Trunk to divert the Northwest traffic over its own lines to its terminus at Portland. The matter is one that more immediately touches the Maritime Provinces, but it is also one in which Quebec has an interest, for with the National Transcontinental terminating here it is evident that the Quebec-Winnipeg section will not be sufficiently remunerative to ensure its proper operation. The Government have made many serious and costly blunders already in this matter; they cannot afford to make another.

PRESS OPINIONS.

The Government continues to lie with an audacity and recklessness which indicate that it is a past-master in the art of deceit. Examples abound. To mention only one, the latest known, let us cite what has just passed at Ottawa.

On the 9th instant the member for Sherbrooke, Dr. Worthington, asked the Government the following questions:

1. Under what Statute has the Ross Rifle Co. been incorporated?
2. Where is its head office?
3. Who are the Directors of the said Company?
4. The Shareholders?
5. Has it a contract with the Government for the furnishing of arms or other articles?
6. What is the term of the contract?
7. Has the Company any special arrangement on the subject of Customs dues on the articles it imports for its use?

The Minister of Militia himself replied in the name of the Government, and this is the astonishing reply which fell from the lips of the very truthful colleague of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Premier was in his place, and he did not shy when his Minister uttered the official lies contained in the paper on which his prepared reply was written.

This is an extract from Hansard, p. 1422 of the information given by the Government:

1. The Ross Rifle Company is not incorporated under statutory authority. Its name is simply a declaration of society by Sir Chas. Ross, Bart., as the sole proprietor.
2. Quebec.
3. Unknown.
4. Unknown.
5. Yes, for the furnishing of arms.
6. For one year, beginning Jan. 1, 1906, with a clause for its subsequent continuation.
7. No, except in so far as can be considered a special arrangement to this effect, section 555b, of schedule B of the Customs Act of 1897 as amended by Chap. 33 of 2 Ed. 7.

The sub-sections a and b of the section 555b have been inserted in the contract.

Now let us open the Federal Statutes, Chap. 96, of 2 Edward VII, and read the amazing contradiction given to the Government by the very law it had passed.

The Statute says in formal terms, 1. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy of the city of Montreal, Sir Chas. Henry Augustus Frederick Lockhart Ross, Hon. William Gibson of Beamsville, Hon. Frederick L. Beique of the city of Montreal, Donald D. Mann, Frederick Nicholls, and Wallace Nesbitt of the city of Toronto, as well as the persons who may become shareholders of the Company are incorporated under the title of the Ross Rifle Company, Limited.

Clause 3 adds that the head office of the Company is fixed at Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario.

...Has M. Laurier, who has voted himself for the statute from which we have quoted too had a memory to-day that he can accept, without protestation the false declarations of his Minister? And it is to the House and to the country that the Minister of Militia thus lies under the eye of his chief!

What confidence can henceforward be placed in the official declarations of the Government? And how can a Government which thus lies with such glibness when questions more or less indifferent are asked, expect that the sincerity of its declarations can be believed in when these are calculated to conceal its treasuries and baseness?

Henceforward, it is no longer possible even for the most confirmed partisans to put the least faith in the word of those whom we have for Ministers at Ottawa.—L'Evenement.

ELEVATOR EXIT ON TERRACE.

To the Editor of the Chronicle :

Dear Sir,—I see by your report of last evening's meeting of the Road Committee that permission was asked and granted to open an entrance for the elevator on the Terrace provided a kiosk similar to the others was erected. Erect a kiosk or any exit and what passage room will be left between it and the monument for the crowds that reach and leave the Terrace on band nights and other occasions. Surely the citizens are not going to submit to be deprived of that part of the Terrace from the elevator west and the approach to that promenade blocked by an obstruction however ornamental. As there is every prospect of the Citadel and of our magnificent promenade being closed on account of the dangerous condition of the cliff below the Citadel there is all the more reason why the citizens should refuse to allow the elevator proprietors to monopolize a large portion of the other end. The citizens stopped a similar projected exit before—let them do it again.

PROMENADER.

Quebec, April 19, 1906.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Dear Sir,—Will you please draw the attention of the Electric Car Company to their square wheeled cars that they take a pleasure in running on the lower division, they are shaking properties from one end to the other, besides that terrible noise, on the streets where they are running. Thanking you for your hospitality in your columns,

Yours truly,
 J. E. LAPOINTE,
 107 N.-D. des Anges.

DIVIDEND DECLARED.

New York, April 19.—The directors of the Amalgamated Copper Co. to-day, declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent, and an extra dividend of 1/4 of one per cent.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

AGED WOMAN BURNED.

Winnipeg, April 19.—Details of a horrible fatality, which occurred at Remby, near Lacombe, Alta, have been received here, in which Mrs. Schalk, an aged invalid, was burned to death. A prairie fire threatened the destruction of her son's farm building, and he carried his paralyzed mother out upon some ploughed ground, where he left her in supposed safety, while he returned to battle against the flames. However, a spark ignited her clothing, and she was so badly burned that she died ten hours afterwards and their contents were also reduced to ashes, but neighbors have taken up a subscription to give him another start in life.

WHERE TEETH ARE WORSHIPPED.

An American traveller recently delivered a lecture before a distinguished audience at the home of a wealthy New Yorker. On the table before him stood one long object.
 Said the traveller, "While I was in India, three Royal Commissioners were sent there by the King of Siam to negotiate for the purchase of a certain tooth. They failed in their mission, however, their effort of the surprising sum of $250,000 for the much coveted tooth, being declined.
 "The tooth in question came, as the Hindus believe, from out the mouth of Buddha—the founder of the foremost religion of the Orient—and hence for 2,400 years that tooth has been an object of worship.
 "It is enclosed in a golden casket in a shrine in the Great Inner Temple at Kandy, and attracts thousands of worshipping pilgrims from far and near every year, and has never been exposed to the gaze of an unbeliever.
 "In hundreds of other shrines in India, the teeth of human beings are worshipped by Hindus, who, above all, value good teeth as the reward of good ancestry and of eternal vigilance in the care of the body.
 "We Americans can certainly learn a lesson from the Hindu worship of teeth—the lesson of respect for one of the most important parts of our bodies. For good teeth are not only veritable jewels in the mouth of beauty, but indicate good health, good breeding and refined habits.
 "And here," concluded the lecturer, holding up a blue enameled box of tooth powder, with its patent telescopic measuring tube, "is a dentifrice that is used by people of refinement in every part of the world, where the use of a tooth brush is known. It bears the label of Dr. I. W. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder, and is the shrine at which thousands upon thousands to-day express respect for their teeth, for it not only cleanses, preserves and beautifies them, but imparts a natural fragrance to the breath. I, myself, have carried Dr. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder twice around the world, not being willing to trust the preservation of my teeth to any other dentifrice."

IT'S COMING
Scotch (Hard) Anthracite Coal
ALL SIZES IN BAGS.

Thirty thousand tons received in St. John each year, and is claimed to be superior to all other Anthracite Coal. Here is what the St. John Public Hospital, says about it:

St. John N.B., August 7th, 1905.

"In accordance with the authority of the Commissioners of this Hospital, I have much pleasure in certifying as follows: "The Hospital was heated with Scotch Anthracite Coal for the first time, during the winter season of 1904-5, and the result was so very satisfactory that the Commissioners have just recently given it the preference over all other kinds, and contracted for the entire supply required for next winter; viz., 350 tons.

"The Scotch Anthracite not only gives out great heat, but it produces very little ash, and no clinkers, and there is therefore, the least possible labor or trouble connected with burning it.

(Signed) L. OLIVE THOMAS, Secretary."

Orders for this coal is now booked at reasonable price for next summer delivery.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves.

Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do.

Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitations, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Coomer, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Kilmor, Humberstone, Ont., Mrs. C. McDonald, Rogers, P.E.I., Mr. Man, Mr. Walker, Cleveland, Baywater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alma, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.50. It is procured at all drug and general stores, or will be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PLEASANT SEASON
Enjoyed by the St. George Boating and Sailing Club.

The annual meeting of the St. George Boating and Sailing Club was held at the St. Louis Hotel last evening, when the reports for the past year were adopted and officers were elected for the coming term.

The report of the committee, which was presented by Mr. C. Gordon Blair, Hon. Secretary-Treasurer, drew attention to the fact that the season of 1905 had been one of the most pleasant in the history of the club, the members participating in three regattas and upholding the honor of the club upon all occasions.

The popularity of the study members of the club was shown by the manner in which they were in evidence during the social events of the season. Two canoes and one motor boat were added to the fleet during the season. Regret was expressed at the great loss sustained by the club in the death of its commodore, Al. Vanderwerken, and sympathy with sister clubs was also expressed in the loss by death of H. McGreevy and J. Brown, both true friends of the members of the St. George. The misfortune to the club by the departure of its eminent physician was also feelingly testified to, and the removal of a couple of its athletic members in the persons of W. H. Ellis and H. Garret was noted and good wishes extended for their future prosperity in their new homes. Other matters of interest to the club were also referred to in appropriate and humorous terms.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Hon. President—J. G. Scott.
Hon. Vice-Presidents—C. A. Sewell and S. Barrow.
Commodore—Robt. R. Brodie.
President—S. H. Hill.
Vice-President—C. Gordon Blair.
Secretary—H. J. Jordan.
Committee—H. Blair, J. Power, R. Cressman.

BLOOD HUMORS

PIMPLES BLOTCHES ERUPTIONS FLESHWORMS HUMORS

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unsightly blotches, pimples, eruptions, fleshworms and humors, and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow—cast in the mould of grace and beauty—have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment?

There is an effectual remedy for all these defects, it is,

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Miss Annie Tobin, Madoc, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Burdock Blood Bitters to anyone who may be troubled with pimples on the face. I paid out money to doctors, but could not get cured, and was almost discouraged, and despaired of ever getting rid of them. I thought I would give B.B.B. a trial, so got two bottles, and before I had taken them I was completely cured and have had no sign of pimples since."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, for over 30 years, and has cured thousands in that time. Do not accept a substitute which unscrupulous dealers say is "just as good."

O'BRIEN NEW TYPE

Champion Has Regard for Appearances and the Conventions.

The Buffalo Lacrosse Club, which in the two years of its existence, has suffered but two defeats, is planning to gather a strong aggregation for the field this year. Many American and Canadian college players live in the city, and it is expected that there will be important additions to the good collection of experts already within the fold of the organization.

A letter has been received by the management of the National Lacrosse Club from Mr. Charles Querris, of the Tecumsehs, asking for fixtures in Montreal on either May 19 or 26. It is stated that the Nationals will play the Tecumsehs on one or other of these dates.

The fifth and last of the test matches between the English team and the South African cricketers resulted in the defeat of England by an innings and 16 runs. South Africa won four of the five, and the most notable failure in the test matches was the captain of the English team, Mr. Warner, whose average was less than nine runs in ten innings.

The $40,000 judgment which Ted Sloan, the jockey, was reported to have recovered in Paris against the French jockey club for expelling him, dwindled to-day to 10 cents, according to Sloan's own statement in supreme court. And in the same breadth a gold mine in California, which Sloan was supposed to possess, faded into thin air.

The annual meeting of the Western Canada Lacrosse Association will be held in Winnipeg next week. There will be only one senior team in Winnipeg, and that the Winnipeg. The Minotaur have disbanded. The champion Souris team will be again in line, and look stronger than ever. The other teams are only probabilities, but at present it looks as if Brandon and Holland would be the other two towns to support senior teams.

The foreign entries for Henley Regatta are all for the Diamond Sculls and are as follows:—R. W. Adams, Mercantile R.C., Melbourne; Harrison Bourke, Tamar R.C., Launceston, Tasmania; W. R. West, West Philadelphia R.C., U.S.A.; and Miltiade Manno, Pannonia Club, Budapest, Hungary. This is the largest entry of foreign scullers that has been made in the history of the regatta. Canadian, Dutch, German and Belgian entries close on June 1. The regatta takes place on July 3, 4 and 5.

The fencing championship of Canada was won at the M. A. A. A. club house in Montreal on Monday by Dr. V. Chearamonte, who represented McGill University. The winner is an Italian, and is attached to the Italian consulate in Montreal. He is regarded as a particularly good fencer. There were fifteen contestants, all local. The contest narrowed down to G. M. Williamson of the M.A.A.A. and Dr. Chearamonte. The latter won in the last bout by five points to two. In the ladies' contest Miss F. G. Brown won from Miss F. J. Waugh.

Recent advice from Australia contains the information that a cyclist named Arnet, a native Victorian, won the great Sydney Thousand, the one-mile handicap race, for which $5,000, the biggest purse in the bicycle world, is hung up. The finals took place on March 28 at Sydney, Australia. Arnet, the winner, started from the 73rd yard mark, and received $3,750 as his share. Walter Rutt, the German sprinter, was second from scratch, and got $500. Payne, another Victorian, with a 90-yard allowance, was third. He received $250. The time was 1 minute, 51 seconds.

Instead of sending the Flushing Rugby Football Club to Toronto to play in the international match under English rules, the Eastern Rugby Football Union has decided that New York shall be represented by an all-star team. The aggregation has been chosen from the players of the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn; Noner Football Club, Brooklyn Football Club, New York Football Club, Flushing Football Club, Staten Island Football Club, and Yale University. They will leave for Toronto on Friday evening, playing the Canadians on Saturday afternoon, and returning to New York on Sunday.

A step has been taken to solve the referee difficulty which has, at times threatened to disrupt the Eastern Ontario Lacrosse League. Rivalry between the component clubs has always been very keen and as, on almost every occasion it has been left for the president to appoint a referee, it has been found a very difficult matter to please both sides. At a recent meeting of the E. O. L. L. the matter was discussed and the decision arrived at will result in the appointment of a board of two referees, at a fixed salary for each game. These will be appointed from the best men available, and the clubs will have no alternative but to take the official appointed by the league.

The Royal Canadian Yacht Club's annual statement, just issued, shows that the club's assets amount to $55,375.80, with a surplus of $31,748.98. The income from subscriptions and entrance fees was $20,098. The strength of the club now stands as follows:—Resident, 84%; non-resident, 14%; junior, 34; foreign, 85; life, 68; honorary, 1,184, an increase of 179 over last year's figures, the largest in the club's history. In connection with the Canada's Cup trial races, at which the Temeraire, the selected challenger, won the first prize of $750. Rear Commodore Nicholls, the owner, has placed this amount at the disposal of the club, to be awarded in prizes to become the absolute property of the winners.

Cup Defender, Jim Smith, who is now in Montreal, has bought the fast centre board yacht "Good Luck," owned by Arthur Hersey, ex-commodore of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club. Jim intends to defend the Quebec Yacht Club Challenge Cup with this boat, as he has had the cup for the last four years.

Jack O'Brien, who, by his victory over Robert Fitzsimmons, attains a clear title to the middle and heavy-weight championship of the world, is perhaps the smallest man who ever held that honor. Compared to John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett, and Fitzsimmons, not to speak of James J. Jeffries, he is the veritable midget. In condition he seldom weighs more than 160 pounds, and would have little difficulty in making 155.

The new champion has the financial sense developed to an unusual degree. He knows how to take care of his money, and when he quits the game it won't be necessary to hold any benefits for him.

From the time when he first began to make money down to the present, he has taken the most scrupulous care of his cash. This does not mean that he has been selfish or lacking in gratitude to those who really had claims. His has merely been a policy of good sense.

Most of his investments have been real estate. He owns several rows of small houses in South Philadelphia, and reaps a good profit from their rental.

As a birthday present to his mother, O'Brien recently bought a $20,000 house in one of the most fashionable sections of Philadelphia, 2812 Locust street. On all sides he is surrounded by leaders of the exclusive Quaker City society, who looked askance when the master hand of fists took his place as their neighbor.

But O'Brien's presence in this section has not been an offence. He has known how to make friends. He has all the wit that is the mark of the true Celt, and away from the prize ring he has the tact to exhibit a modesty, real or assumed, that is very attractive.

In another respect, too, the new champion differs from most of his predecessors, and that is in his love for good clothes. Nobody in the pugilistic line ever dressed better than he does.

There have been other boxers who did the Beau Brummel act, but as a rule their taste was garish. They went to the extremes; the loud plaids; the vociferous neckwear. O'Brien dresses in perfect taste. His clothes are the best that money can buy, and they are either imported from London or modeled on the best English lines.

No one of his fashionable neighbors presents any better appearance than the champion, for in addition to having the liking for good clothes, and the knowledge of how to select them, O'Brien has also the ability to wear them.

His big shoulders set off a great coat to advantage, and his square face, with the powerful jaw, never looks so well as when it is topped by silk hat.

It is an entirely new type of champion which O'Brien presents, one about as radically different from the old type of bar-room swaggerer as could well be imagined; and it shows that even in pugilism modern ideas are taking hold, and that the premier in the slugging game has more regard for appearances than did his forbears.

PUG GYM DISPLAY.

What will undoubtedly be the biggest affair of the kind in Canada, is the closing exhibition to be given by gymnastic pupils of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, in the Arena on the night of April 30.

No less than four hundred persons will participate in the programme, this number being made up of lady, gentlemen and junior pupils of the various classes. The purpose of the exhibition is to show what is done during the winter months in the association's classes, and is also intended to bring the season to a brilliant conclusion.

CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the Quebec City Baseball League last evening, applications were received for membership from the Quebec Am. Wanderer Clubs. The applications were supported by the St. Patrick's Club, but the League decided not to accept them, whereupon the St. Patrick's Club thought it best to drop from the League. The other teams were of opinion that a seven Club League would make the season too long, but the St. Patrick's delegates held that the admission of the two clubs would foster the game and give the public more baseball.

HOPE BEGINS TO DAWN

Feeling that the Worst Has Been Reached and that by Today the End Will Have Come.

San Francisco, April 19.—San Francisco to-night is the city of desolation. It seems that the acme of its misery was reached at dusk when flames burst from all sides of the beautiful Hotel Fairmont, the structure that above every other apparently was most strongly entrenched against the attack of the all consuming fire. And surrounding that lofty pinnacle of flame as far as the eyes could see to the south, to the east and far out to the west, lay in cruel fantastic heaps charred and smoking, all that remained of a prosperous city. The metropolis of the Pacific Coast was in ashes. This has been another day of an uneven struggle of man against an unconquerable element. Acre after acre has been ground into dust and ashes, despite the heroic perseverance of the firemen to limit the conflagration. To-night there is a hope that the worst has been nearly reached, and that when to-morrow dawns the end will have come; but the hope is faint. If the flames can be barred from the Western addition then the end will be written to the great disaster. San Francisco is not discouraged. Its best and highest class already has begun to plan for restoration and to care for the stricken ones, and the relief will be immediate and effective. Total subscriptions of $150,000 were announced to-night. Arrangements were made for the immediate relief of the needy. The baking of 50,000 loaves of bread daily will begin to-morrow. Free transportation will be provided by the Southern Pacific Railroad to destitute persons desiring to go to interior points. It was announced that to-morrow there would begin a daily delivery into the city of ten million gallons of water.

DIRECT COMMUNICATION.

San Francisco, April 19.—To-night, for the first time a direct telegraphic communication was established between San Francisco and the outside world. The postal office to-night is a little wooden structure erected on piles at the water front. To-night three distinct fires were burning. One was in the territory that extends from Nob Hill easterly towards the water front. It was travelling slowly northerly towards the Telegraph Hill section and may die out from lack of material or may sweep towards the extreme water front. The second centre was in the mission district. Here the fire had reached 18th street, but was making little headway towards the hill sides to the west where thousands of people are camped. The third and most dangerous fire is that threatening the western part of the city. This really is a continuation of the Nob Hill fire. It is wedge-shaped with the apex pulling forward. This is the point against which the firemen are bending their greatest efforts. Dynamite was used for back firing purposes with only fair success. To-night many blocks may be blown up. Chief of Police Dinan to-night said 250 would fully cover the number of dead. About 50 bodies have thus far been found. There was considerable shooting of looters to-day but the offenders escaped with wounds.

Washington, April 19.—Rations, tents and supplies of all sorts are being rushed by the National Government to San Francisco in aid of the people in that stricken city. President Roosevelt has issued instructions to the heads of the several departments that all possible assistance be rendered to the people of San Francisco.

PANIC REIGNED SUPREME

When the First Earthquake Shock Started the Dread Catastrophe Which Has Overwhelmed the City.

Salinas, Cal., April 19.—By long distance telephone to Los Angeles, J. P. Anthony, a business man of Pacific Grove, arrived here to-day, having made the trip from San Francisco by automobile. Mr. Anthony is the first eye witness to bring direct information from San Francisco. He says that he was sleeping in his room at the Ramona Hotel, on Ellis street, near Macon, and was suddenly awakened at 5:23 yesterday morning. The first shock that brought him out of bed, he said, was appalling in its force. The whole earth seemed to heave and fall. The building where he was housed, which is six stories high, was lifted from its foundation and the roof caved in. A score or more of guests immediately made their way to the street, which was soon filled with people. Panic ensued. Debris showered into the street from the building on every side. Mr. Anthony says he saw a score or more of persons killed. It was 20 minutes before those in the vicinity seemed able to realize the extent of the catastrophe. The crowds became larger and in the public squares of the city and in empty lots thousands of persons gathered. It was 9 o'clock before the police were in control of the situation. When they finally resumed charge the officers directed their energy toward warning the people in the streets away from danger. Mr. Anthony says he was walking on Market street, near the Emporium, about 9 a.m. when another severe shock was felt. At once the street filled again with excited persons with fear. Before the spectators could realize what had happened, the walls of the building swayed a distance of three feet. The thousands of bystanders stood spell-bound, expecting every moment that they would be crushed, but another tremor seemed to restore the big building to its natural position. Mr. Anthony said he momentarily expected, with thousands of others who were in the neighborhood, to be crushed to death. He made his way down Market street as far as the Call building, which was in flames. A similar condition prevailed in the Examiner building across the street. He then started for the depot at 23rd and Townsend streets, determined to leave the city. He found several thousand other persons headed in the same direction. All south of Market street, about that time, was a crackling mass of flames. He made his way to Eighth and Market, then down Eighth to Townsend and to Third streets and the entire section he traversed was a fire, making it impossible for him to reach his destination. He attempted to make his way back, but found that retreat had been cut off by the flames. He then went to 12th street and reached Market street again by the hall. San Francisco's magnificent building had in the meantime caved in. It was not yet noon but the city's hospitals already were filled with dead and injured and all available store rooms were being pressed into service. Dead bodies were being carried from the streets in garbage waggons. In every direction hysterical women were seen. Men walked through the streets, many of them weeping. Transfer men were being offered fabulous sums to remove household goods, even for a block distant. Horses had been turned loose and were running at large to prevent their being incinerated. Women had loaded their personal belongings on carts and were pulling them through the city, the property being huddled in the public squares.

CONFLAGRATION
SAN FRANCISCO.

flames futile. Three hundred thousand and will be homeless to-night. By Saturday San Francisco will be an ash heap.

The War Department has received the following from Gen. Funston: "Fire crossed Vanness Avenue to the west at 3:30 p.m. Almost certain now that entire city will be destroyed. Have ordered troops from Monterey and everything is going as well as could be expected. On account of the confusion, it has been impossible to locate individuals inquired for, but attention will be given that matter as soon as practicable. (Signed) Funston, Commanding." Another despatch from Gen. Funston to-night says: "Official report at police headquarters this date states that the sub-Treasury is entirely destroyed by fire, with the exception of the vaults which contain all cash on hand. Suitable guards have been ordered to protect this money. (Signed) Funston, Commanding."

Chicago, April 19.—The Postal Telegraph Co., at 6 p.m. received the following message from Oakland, Cal.: "The fire marshal of San Francisco advises that more than two-thirds of the area of the city of San Francisco has been destroyed and there is no possibility of saving the rest of the city. The following is the district north of Market street now devastated: Sansome to Market street, to Sacramento, to Buchanan, thence to California, to Hyde, to Eddy, to Larkin to Gough and to Market. On the south side of Market street the fire extends along Market street to 14th and below the Southern Pacific tracks to the boundary."

FLEEING FROM THE FIRE.

San Francisco, April 19.—Thousands upon thousands of persons are fleeing from the fire to-day. They are flocking to the ferries, to the parks, to the military reservation, and to the suburbs. Residents of the hill-sides in the central portion of the city, seemingly were safe from the roaring furnace that was consuming the business section. They watched the towering mounds of flames and speculated as to the extent of the territory that was doomed. Suddenly there was a whispered alarm up and down the long line of watchers and they hurried away to drag clothing, cooking utensils and scant provisions through the streets. From Grant avenue the procession moved westward. Men and women dragged trunks, packed huge bundles of blankets, boxes of provisions, everything. Waggons could not be hired except by paying the most extortionate rates. But there was no panic. The people are calm, stunned. They seem not to realize the extent of the calamity. They hear that the city is destroyed, in so far as business plants are concerned. They tell each other in the most natural tone that their residence were destroyed by the flames, but there is no hysteria, no outcry, no criticism. Mayor Schmitz and Chief of Police Dinnan have been forced from place to place by the flames. Day break found them directing the municipal council, which is a committee of safety, from the Fairmount Hotel, the beautiful structure on Nob Hill. But that caught fire, early at night, and they retreated to the Cushing, at Larkin and Summer streets, then to the north-end police station in Sacramento street. Here the council, composed of the financial leaders of the city, this morning, decided to resort to the bombardment of the entire section of the city lying along the east side of Vanness avenue from Golden Gate avenue to Pacific avenue, sixteen blocks in all, containing the homes of many millionaires, together with many apartment houses. The military was notified of this action and barrels of gun powder, the only remaining explosive in the city, were taken from the Presidio, Fort McDowell, Alcatraz and other nearby posts. Hundreds of police, regiments of soldiers, and scores of volunteers were sent into the doomed district to warn the people to flee. Those heroically responded to the demand of law, and went bravely on their way, trudging painfully over the pavements with the little they could get together. Every available wagon was taken by the military to carry the powder. Gen. Funston is co-operating with Mayor Schmitz. When men have been needed to carry out the plans of the rescue they have been pressed into service. In a few instances, it was necessary to resort to the cocked revolver and drawn sword after which there was no hesitancy. Orders have been issued to kill all malefactors without warning.

DESTRUCTION GROWS.

With each succeeding hour the devastation grows. The entire business and wholesale district is a mass of coal and ashes, while the fire has reached westward far beyond Vanness avenue, wiping out buildings and seeking more to devour. At four o'clock Mayor Schmitz and Chief of Police Dinnan decided that the only hope of saving the western addition with its forests of frame buildings and the Richmond district with its thousands of homes was to check the fire at Vanness avenue, which crosses the city from north to south where the residences begin. This avenue is 90 feet wide and the possibilities of checking the march of the flames looked hopeful. Orders were given to concentrate every fire engine in the city at this avenue, to marshal soldiers, police and all workers, and make one last stand to save the remainder of the city. Huge cannons were drawn to the avenue to aid the dynamiters in blowing up the mansions of the millionaires on the east side of Vanness avenue. Every available pound of dynamite was hauled to this point and the sight was one of stupendous and appalling havoc and cannons that were trained on the palaces and shot towers in the walls and toppled the buildings in crushing ruin. At other points dynamite was used and houses after house was lifted into the air and dropped to the earth a mass of dust and debris. The work was dangerous and many of the men

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their results, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and a score of others of equal eminence in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol, chemically pure triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is no highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MEASURES OF RELIEF.

Washington, April 19.—Vice-President Fairbanks signed the California relief bill appropriating one million dollars for the sufferers at 5:10 o'clock and it was at once sent to the White House, where it was at once signed by the President.

The following telegram has been sent by Gen. Bell, Chief of Staff, to Gen. Funston: "Secretary of War directs me to inform you that the Quartermaster-General has been directed to forward to San Francisco all available canvas in the possession of the army. The Commissary-General has been directed to send 200,000 rations from near shipping ports. Admiral McCalla, at Mare Island, will be instructed to furnish all food supplies that can be spared from the stores of Mare Island, also any available canvas suitable for making improvised shelter."

Portland, Ore., April 19.—In addition to telegraphed sums of $15,000 raised yesterday morning Portland business men up to 2 p.m. had contributed $110,000, making a total of $125,000 for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers.

New York, April 19.—Clarence H. Mackay, President of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., to-night telegraphed to President Wheeler, of the University of California, at Berkeley, saying he will contribute $100,000 toward the erection of a new building for the university.

New York, April 19.—New York to-day spontaneously responded to the appeal for help sent out on behalf of the sufferers in the California disaster. Roughly estimated, more than half a million dollars were subscribed here to-day. It was also announced that Clarence H. Mackay, President of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., has offered $100,000 to the University of California, if needed, toward the erection of new buildings.

DEEP SYMPATHY EXTENDED.

Washington, April 19.—Among cablegrams of sympathy on account of the San Francisco disaster received by President Roosevelt are the following: From President Fallieres, France:—"The overpowering disaster at San Francisco causes France great sorrow, and we join with all our heart in the sorrow of the great republic of the United States. I extend to you, Mr. President, most sincere condolences and convey to the sorrowing families of the victims my sympathy."

From Earl Grey, Ottawa:—"Please accept my sincere and deep sympathy concerning the terrible disaster at San Francisco."

From Emperor Nicholas, Russia:—"Deeply impressed by terrible disaster in San Francisco. I express to you and to the American people my warmest sympathy and sincere condolence."

THE Quebec Chronicle is much amused at Militia Order No. 76, which intimates that there is to be a "staff ride" from Truro, N.S., to some other point. The contents of the "staff ride" is the circumstance that the officers are not to have horses, but are to perform their military tactics on bicycles, and for such of them as are not good riders wheeled carriages will be provided. It is by military training such as that provided in the "staff ride" that Sir Frederick Borden—unless Sydney Fisher is in charge of the forces at the moment—commends himself to the military experts of the Empire.—Mail and Empire.
