PORT ARTHUR STORY WILL NOT DOWN

No Denial Received and Russians Cling to It.

THE JAPANESE AT YIN KOW

It is Reported That They Have Occupied the Place Without Resistance.

Tokio, July 14.—4.30 p.m. It is reported that Yin Kow has been occupied by the Japanese without any resistance upon the part of the Russian troops.

New Chwang, July 13.—Noon.—(Delayed in transmission.) It is reported that the Japanese troops advancing on Kai Chou have entrenched and are awaiting reinforcements. Heavy firing has been heard day and night, proving that the Russians are making a stubborn resistance.

Russian officers who come into New Chwang frequently from Ta Tche Kiao say that place is well fortified. There are only a few soldiers here. The gunboat Sivoutch is still in the River Liao and it is believed that she will resist the Japanese attempt to take New Chwang. Her officers and crew say they will never surrender.

Last night two Japanese scouts, dressed as Chinese, rode on horseback through the city. Ships now enter the port without being searched outside, but a strict censorship is still maintaine at the telegraph station at Yin Kow.

Bandits and low class continentals are remaining here in the expectation of gathering plunder in the interim between the expected evacuation by the Russians and the occupation by the Japanese.

REPEATS PORT ARTHUR REPORT.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Under yesterday's date, a correspondent at the Russian headquarters at Liao Yang, whose telegrams heretofore have been conservative and reliable, announced the reception there of the "joyful news of the brilliant repulse of the Japanese assault upon Port Arthur with a loss of 30,000 men."

The correspondent says whole masses of the enemy were blown up with mines and adds that the Russian losses were 1,800 and that Major-General Fock pursued the Japanese to the Nan Ga Pass.

The correspondent says the reports are causing general rejoicing and concludes:

"It is believed that General Oku will now retreat to the south."

It is possible that the correspondent is confusing Major-General Fock's pursuit with the attack made by him on July 5 on the Japanese right flank, when he was also reported to have driven back the enemy to Nan Ga Pass.

The popular jubilation in St. Petersburg over the reported great defeat of the Japanese before Port Arthur is being chilled by the failure to clear up the source of the reports. While eagerly expressing hope for direct official confirmation of the news, the papers counsel its acceptance with reserve.

NO NEW LOAN FOR RUSSIA.

London, July 14.—M. Routhowsky, the Financial Attache of the Russian Embassy, returned to London to-day from St. Petersburg, where he conferred with Interior Minister Plehve and the Minister of Finance. He said:

"There is absolutely no question of Russia floating another loan — none whatever. My Government is not in need of money. It has not touched for military purposes a single franc of the loan concluded in France some time ago. Nearly all the money obtained through that loan lies to-day in a French bank. The remainder will be used to meet interest payments on previous loans. Since the commencement of the war paper notes have been issued to the value of $55,000,000, but this is more than covered by the gold reserve. In consequence of deposits for tax payments, etc., the amount of gold in the State Bank is increasing.

"I found in St. Petersburg the utmost confidence prevailing that Russia finally will triumph over Japan. The only question is how long the war will last.

"I left St. Petersburg on the eve of the arrival of Prince Hilkoff, Minister of Railways, from Manchuria, but I understand that the railway capacity is twelve trains each way daily, and that soon it will be fourteen. Only forty miles remain to be built in order to connect the railway around Lake Baikal.

CAPTURED BY JAPANESE.

Che Foo, July 14, 5 p.m.—A report has just been received that the China Mining and Engineering Company's steamer Hai Ping, from Shanghai, July 8, was captured by the Japanese, ten miles north of Che Foo, this morning, loaded with contraband of war.

BREAST PLATES FOR RUSSIANS.

New York, July 14.—According to the Herald's Milan correspondent, the Russian Government has ordered 100,000 breast plates from a local company engaged in the manufacture of benedetti cuirass for use by the Russian forces in the Far East.

The present order is to be delivered to the Russian Consul here by August 15, and the total price aggregates a little more than 500,000 roubles ($250,000).

THERE IS A RESERVATION.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—An official statement regarding the Imperial decree abolishing the system of condemning political prisoners by administrative order shows there is a reservation in "exceptional cases."

REPORT FROM LLOYD'S AGENT.

Chefoo, July 14.—A despatch received from Lloyd's agent at New-Chwang, says: "Japanese scouts were seen this morning at Blackwood's Pond, six miles south of here.

"General Oku, with fifty thousand men, is advancing rapidly between this place and Ta-Tche-Kiao.

"Shipping and trade are progressing as usual."

The prospective failure of the crops in some of the southern Russian provinces, possibly attendant with famine, and the necessity of adopting relief measures is beginning to attract attention. The failure of the crops is attributed to unfavourable weather. In some districts no rain has fallen. In many parts of Bessarabia cattle are being sold for almost nothing.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN ELECTED PRESIDENT

Reconstructed Liberal Unionist Council Holds Meeting.

REFORM OF FISCAL SYSTEM

It and Other Matters Advocated in Resolution Which Was Adopted.

Canadian Associated Press

London, July 14.—The Liberal Unionist Council to-day elected Hon. Joseph Chamberlain president, amid great cheering.

The Duke of Bedford, in proposing his election, said that the council would derive from him an energising vitality, which would infuse freshness and vigour into all the actions of the new council.

Lord Lansdowne and the Earl of Selborne were elected vice-presidents; the Earl of Fitzwilliam, treasurer, and Victor Cavendish secretary.

The meeting adopted a resolution approving of fiscal reform and demanding that Premier Balfour take increased powers to deal with hostile tariffs and dumping.

Mr. Chamberlain, in his speech, accepting the office of president, said that there was no Birmingham machine. What the tariff reformers had done was to convert an oligarchy into a republic. Immediate unanimity was not expected.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF MEETING.

London, July 14.—Joseph Chamberlain was elected president, and Lord Lansdowne and Lord Selborne vice-presidents of the newly re-constructed Liberal Unionist Council at a meeting in London to-day, which was attended by 1,700 to 1,800 delegates from all parts of the Kingdom. A resolution was passed in favour of a complete reform of the British fiscal system, approving the Premier's demand for increased powers to deal with hostile tariffs and "dumping" and expressing sympathy with the proposals for preferential arrangements between the colonies and the motherland. The resolution was adopted with practical unanimity, and Mr. Chamberlain, who presided, pointed out that it must fairly represent the views of the Liberal Unionists, as no fewer than 278 separate associations were represented at the meeting.

RUSSIAN GENERAL STAFF HAS NO LATER DESPATCHES.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—1.55 p.m. — The general staff, although it has no further news up to the present hour of the reported Japanese disaster at Port Arthur, maintains that there is no reason to doubt the fact that the Japanese have suffered a substantial repulse, pointing out that it is significant if the report is untrue that no denial has been issued from Tokio, which did not hesitate to deny the Russian reports of the loss of the battleship Shikishima and the atrocity stories.

Experts who have carefully studied the Japanese methods, are not surprised that they should attempt to storm without a preliminary bombardment, the chief drawback of which is that it warns the garrison of what is coming. The experts say the Japanese may have hoped to take the fortress by surprise, giving up the bombardment after Rear-Admiral Withoft's squadron went out on Saturday and dismantled their siege batteries.

An officer who has just returned here from the front said to a correspondent that the terrible losses reported to have been sustained by the besiegers of Port Arthur were not unlikely, in view of the extraordinary, almost fanatical determination of the Japanese, never hesitating before the most terrible chances. Some of the forts at Port Arthur are preceded by ditches four and five fathoms deep, hewn out of the solid rock. Whole regiments could easily be engulfed in these chasms. The rumours emenating from London that Port Arthur has fallen arouses only smiles from the Russian officers.

It is not improbable that fighting is now progressing at Ta Tche Kiao, as Russian advices show that the Japanese were within a few miles of that place, coming up in two columns from the east on the Siu Yen roads. The extent of the Russian resistance will probably be determined by the character of General Kuroki's and General Nodzu's advances on Hai Cheng.

The general staff denies that the Russians were driven out of their entrenchments at Sikseyan, or that severe fighting occurred at that place.

General Sakharoff reports that Japanese cavalry advancing July 12 towards New Chwang, encountered Russian cavalry and that a slight skirmish followed.

WILL CZAR GO TO THE FAR EAST?

London, July 15. — The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph says a widespread sensation has been caused by the announcement in the newspapers that the Czar, who is ostensibly visiting only the depots whence troops are going to the front, has arrived at Ufa and started for Zlatousk. The opinion is growing, although there is no confirmation, that His Majesty may continue his journey to the seat of war.

Held Up by Russians.

London, July 14.—Lloyds have received a despatch from Perim, confirming a report of the stopping and searching of the British ship Menalaus by the Russian volunteer steamer St. Petersburg in the Red Sea. The telegram adds that the Russian lieutenant who boarded the Menalaus ordered the master to open some cases in the cargo. He refused to do so, and none of them were disturbed.

The Times insurance correspondent declares that there is liable to be trouble with Russia over these seizures.

Canadian Bowlers Defeated.

London, July 14.—At Stirling yesterday the Canadian bowlers again had an enthusiastic welcome, being received by the Provost, and Town Councillors and the Central Committee. The game resulted in the defeat of the visitors by 40 shots, the Canadians making 48 and the Stirling players 88.

Dr. and Mrs. Lovejoy are among the passengers sailing by the Carpathia from New York this week for Europe.

TESTING OF THE HARBOUR ELEVATOR

The Big Scales Tried by Government Inspector.

HOW THE WHEAT IS HANDLED

Testing Will Continue for Five Days —Those Present at the Experiment.

"Harbour Commissioners' Elevator No. 1" received its first wheat at 10.39 this morning.

Yesterday evening eleven cars of Manitoba hard were run on the tracks on the first floor of the big building, and this morning, after some preliminary operations, the mechanical scoops began to unload the cars, through the grating on which they stood, into the boot tanks below.

Then, evenly and with a slight whizzing noise, the grain began to sift into the top story, where it was dropped in two hundred-bushel lots into the scale below, whose testing was the object of the experiment.

THE TESTING APPARATUS.

The Government Mechanical Inspector, Mr. D. Collins, has had much apparatus on the ground for the last few days. It consisted of some six tons of official weights, and several sets of finely adjusted scales. Just how he was going to test the scales, each of which has a capacity of 96,000 pounds, was hard to conjecture, but it was quickly demonstrated this morning.

On the story below "Number Three Scales," which were tested this morning, there was slung a platform attached to the body of the scale bin. Upon this were placed the six ton weights, with the beam in front carefully adjusted to balance them. Thereupon the weights below were removed, and the grain was allowed to drop from the garner above until the beam was again balanced. It was then evident that there was now in the scale bin the equivalent in wheat of the six ton weights.

The operation will be continued until the full 96,000 pounds, or 1,600 bushels of wheat, shall have been placed in the bin. The work of testing the one set of scales will take the entire day.

THOSE PRESENT AT TEST.

There were present this morning Mr. F. J. Weber, president and manager of the Steel Storage and Elevator Construction Company, which constructed the elevator; Mr. F. D. Weber, Mr. St. Laurent, C.E., Government engineer superintending the work of construction; Mr. McCabe, Government inspector; Mr. Racine, of the Board of Harbour Commissioners (present officially), together with the representative of the Fairbanks Company, who installed the scales, and J. Nehen, superintendent of the elevator, and his staff.

Mr. Weber grew reminiscent while the preliminaries were being arranged, and told of men who were in charge of elevators where the scales were not carefully adjusted, whose salaries came entirely from the sale of the overplus, "and many of them make a good thing out of it, too," he concluded.

The work of testing the scales will continue for probably five days. All the other apparatus, including the electrical machinery, the dust collecting plant etc., have already been tested. With the conclusion of the present test, everything will be ready for the final test of all, the test of strength.

Who Recognizes This Description?

To the Editor of The Montreal Star:

Sir,—There is a certain Conservative member of Parliament who rather prides himself upon his capacity to "rub it in" on occasions. He tries to make it appear that he is a gruff, hard headed, horny fisted fellow. There is a suggestion of aggressiveness in his every movement. He glares at his opponents across the floor of the House.

By all accredited rules he should be an unpopular man. He will not allow the Liberals any credit; his faith in the Conservative record and that party's present leader is unfaltering. And he doesn't go behind the barn to say it.

Yet he is probably one of the most popular men in Parliament. Back of his stern face and hard set eyes always there lurks a smile that is good to see. And that hard head knows how to conceive and execute things that savour of gentleness and typify the milk of human kindness.

This member of Parliament stood by the bedside of a fellow member this week. The men were great friends; they had fought side by side for years; their love was mutual.

There was no trace of sternness about the member's face, as he emerged from the house that held his dying friend. The eyes were moist and the broad bosom was heaving.

The fellow member died next day. And from his place in Parliament the member said: "Beloved by those who knew him most intimately and respected by all in the Eastern Townships his public and private life will long be remembered as worthy of emulation by those who follow him."

Sometimes apparent gruffness is a mask, behind which deeds of kindness are conceived and executed; the good, sturdy fighter is never without the capacity for close kinship with his fellowmen.

Is it not a pity Parliament does not contain many men like the member in question!

Booklet on Montreal, 1904.

The Montreal Business Mens' League has issued its "1904" edition of the booklet "Montreal." The publication, while in many respects similar to the one issued in previous years and which was most favourably commented upon, contains many improvements over all the former editions. The reading matter has been condensed somewhat and many new and interesting half-tone pictures have been added. The design of the cover remains the same, with the exception of the change of colours. This booklet is artistically printed and engraved, the press work being particularly good. Large numbers of this guide book are now being mailed from the office of the Montreal Business Mens' League, 288 St. James street, Victoria square, with the compliments of the organization.

WE HAVE A FESUS PROBOSCIDALIS

Remarkable Specimen Discovered on the Mountain.

FULLY SIX INCHES IN LENGTH

Related to the "Roaring Buckie" of Scotland—A Relic of the Glacial Period.

An interesting and rather remarkable discovery has been made, which links Montreal days of a remote age with the twentieth century.

A shell, which is not uncommon on the eastern side of the Atlantic, but is very seldom seen on the western side, at least in high latitudes, has been found on Mount Royal embedded in a strata of sand gravel. It is a small specimen of the Fesus Proboscidalis, fully six inches in length and singularly perfect.

The curious part of this find is that the shell must have been on the mountain from a very remote age, possibly from the period when the glacial area extended as far south as the mouth of the Hudson.

The shell, which has been at last taken from its hiding place of centuries, is not a fresh water production. On the coast of Scotland it is called "the Roaring Buckie," in which the sound of the sea is always heard.

The discovery was made by a gentle man who was looking for geological and other specimens along the face of the bare scarfs on the northwest side of the mountain. This gentleman has frequently picked up rare shells on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea and the Indian Ocean, and is now pursuing his studies under a northern sky.

ABSORPTION OF THE INVADING ITALIANS.

The Congestion in Montreal Has Ceased to Be Noticeable.

What have become of the hundreds of Italians who thronged the streets of Montreal during the early part of the season?

The headquarters on Windsor street that for some weeks teemed with men and boys from sunny Italy are practically deserted. The cheap boarding houses in the vicinity of the railway stations, where they were wont to congregate, know them no more. Even the employment agencies are practically empty.

On enquiry at one or two of the leading agencies to-day, the Star learned that many of the men had left on various contracts, and that what looked like a surplus of Italian labour had been dealt with satisfactorily. The great difficulty had been to provide work for all the men at once, and there had been some congestion. The problem would appear to have solved itself.

There are still some Italians in the city, but there is no surplus supply, and the congestion of a few weeks ago has passed away, the great majority of the men having been placed.

PROSPECTS OF WESTERN HARVEST.

Mr. Matheson of Prince Albert on the Wheat Crop.

Mr. A. E. Matheson, of Prince Albert, N.W.T., is at the Windsor Hotel. In conversation with a Star representative to-day, Mr. Matheson said that the acreage under cultivation this year is one-fifth more than that of last. The prospects for a bumper harvest are bright, as the weather conditions have been and are of the best, with the right amount of rain and sun.

Mr. Matheson is a native of Breadalbane, P.E.I., and is on his way to the East after an absence in the West for 6 years. When shown despatch from the West to-day regarding another pilgrimage being started by the Doukhobors, Mr. Matheson said he was surprised, as it was thought throughout the West that the Doukhobors had got over the roaming habit and were settling down. Mr. Matheson is of opinion that, eventually, the Territories will be divided into two provinces. He is enthusiastic about the West, and the future ahead of the country.

THE PACKERS' STRIKE MAY NOT LAST LONG.

A Move in the Direction of Arbitration Has Already Been Made at Chicago.

Chicago, July 14.—The first step toward peace between the seven big packing companies and their 60,000 striking employes was taken to-day, when President Michael Donnelly, of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Union of North America, held a conference with representatives of the packing houses in which the strike was called. These are indications that the conference will open the way for a settlement of the strike.

Both sides are in favour of a peaceful settlement upon an equitable basis, and it is believed that an arrangement will be made for the men to return to work, pending an adjustment of the differences by arbitration.

That this manner of settlement will be accepted by both sides appears probable. J. Ogden Armour, for the employers and Michael Donnelly for the workers have united in declaring they favour arbitration. The head of the union, in council with President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labour, was advised to make terms at once if he could secure what he deemed fair consideration.

It is understood that in the conference to-day the Union leaders will insist that all strikers be reinstated. Another point on which the labour men will lay great stress will be that a wage scale for each class of workers in the packing plants be agreed on. This brings up one of the original differences. The packers have maintained that any contract made should not include the unskilled workers.

WANT CANAL FROM GEORGIAN BAY TO MONTREAL.

A Deputation Urges This Work on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Two of His Ministers.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, July 14. — Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir William Mulock and Mr. Emmerson this morning received a deputation representing the many municipalities and Boards of Trade of the Ottawa Valley and the French River district, who urged the development of a waterway from Georgian Bay to Montreal. D. Purvis, president of the North Bay Board of Trade, said that the Canadian Pacific had established a grain carrying route between Fort William and Georgian Bay, but had failed to make it a business proposition. The Canada Atlantic had done well, carrying thirteen million bushels of wheat a year at a profit.

The Erie canal was a mere ditch as compared with the proposed Ottawa waterway, but it competed successfully with some of the greatest railways in the world.

John Loughrin, former M.L.A. for Nipissing, said that an Ottawa canal would develop a great carrying trade in lumber and minerals.

Thomas Murray, M.P., fixed the cost of the canalizing of the French river at five millions, and said that it was not too late even this session to appropriate a sum for the beginning of the work.

Mr. Wright, M.P. for South Renfrew, said that the Ottawa canal was necessary for the proper development of the Transcontinental railway.

Both Mr. Wright and Mr. Mackie, M.P., told the Premier that the deputation was in earnest.

Mr. Haggart declared that this canal would place Montreal on ocean water within the same distance from Fort William as Buffalo was.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that for his part, whilst he did not believe in Government ownership of railways, he did not believe either in company ownership of waterways. The canal, when built, as it must be some day, should be built as a Government work. Personally, Sir Wilfrid favoured a commencement of the work in the French River, and he promised immediate and serious consideration of the matter. He believed that if the canal were constructed not a bushel of grain would be carried to ocean ports through American channels. The Government had given the transcontinental railway project precedence, because railway work would work more quickly in the filling up of the West.

On July 16th, and each succeeding Saturday until further notice, the Canadian Pacific Railway will run a special suburban train to Vaudreuil, leaving Windsor Station at 12.30 noon, arriving at Vaudreuil 1.10 p.m. Returning, will leave Vaudreuil 2.40 p. m., reaching Windsor station 3.30 p. m. Stops will be made at all intermediate stations.

BASEBALL

Get Three Out of Four.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, July 14.—Montreal made it three out of four, with Toronto on the series, by winning yesterday afternoon. There was never the slightest doubt as to the outcome, and though it was not a runaway race by any means, still Montreal was always leading and were in the way of getting a longer lead at any time.

Toronto kept plugging away, but just at the time when they seemed likely to make the struggle a little closer, the visitors would pull away on good clean hitting. Each had eight hits, but Montreal's were secured just when they were needed, whereas McCarthy was at his best when the pinches came and Toronto could do little with him. He struck out eight, three of them in the seventh. He hit one man and passed another.

Montreal scored two in the second, when Joyce, with one out, got on through Short's error and stole second, scoring on Dyer's corking triple to left. Gibson's long fly to the same field sent the Holy Cross man in. Toronto made a bid in the second, too, leading off on Murray's single. A stolen base landed him on second. Fuller hit to Short, which Yeager handled fast and clean for an out, but Murray never stopped, and scored on a common, ordinary every-day out short to first. It was the unexpected. The score was tied in the finish.

Harley led off with a slashing double, Rapp struck out and Murray was hit by Pitcher, Massey hit to Atherton at third, and the latter threw Murray out at second, in an effort to make the double. Massey was at first safe. Meanwhile Harley kept right on going and by great running scored.

The sixth sent Montreal away again, With one out Hoffman tripled and scored on Joyce's single. The latter stole second and reached third on Fuller's bad throw to that bag. He scored on Dyer's long out to left.

Another came in the seventh. Walters led off with a trio of bases and scored on Parker's miss of Clancy's easy grounder. Yeager was hit on the shoulder. Atherton went out pitcher to first and Hoffman filled the bases in a base on balls; but Joyce struck out and Dyer went out to left, leaving the score 5 to 2.

Toronto advanced one in the seventh on Massey's double and Parker's single.

To make things safe and sure, Atherton's men gathereed in two more in the ninth, and it was well they did. Clancey and Yeager started in with singles. Atherton's long fly to left sent in Clancy, and Hoffman's sacrifice scored the other.

The home team made a bid for the game in their last time up. Massey led off with a hit. Fuller's fly to left scored him. Parker tore off a three bagger to right centre, which Walters just failed to touch on the roll and obscured Hoffman's sight of it. In the throw to third Yeager sent it wide and Parker tallied. The next two were easy outs, and the game was over.

Manager Atherton announced last night at the banquet to Messrs. Chadwick and Powers, that there would be no further changes in the Montreal team.

Dyer, the Holy Cross player at second, has made good here both in the field and at bat. He is very fast on bases and covers a lot of ground in the field. At bat he stands up well and hits freely.

The score:

Eastern League Gossip.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 14. — Rochester and Buffalo meet to-day in a postponed game.

Nattrass and Kuhns mixed it up on the diamond in Tuesday's game at Buffalo. They were separated before any damage was done.

Captain Gettman, of the Bisons, is still seriously ill from typhoid fever. He was reported to have died yesterday, but this proved to be untrue.

The Chicago National League Club is making an effort to purchase Fielder Jones, of the Newark Club.

Umpire Gifford has disappeared again. He has not been seen since he was chased off the ball grounds by a crowd of fans.

Halligan, of Jersey City, is falling off in batting. There are few hitters in the Eastern League batting above 300 now.

The fact that Baltimore was trimmed by Newark again saved first place for Buffalo, as the latter team was defeated by Rochester. Jersey City also lost to the Clam Diggers.

MISCELLANEOUS

John L.'s Old Friend.

Philip J. Casey, ex-champion handball player of the world, who died on Monday night, was born in the village of Rathdowney, Queen's county, Ireland, in 1840, and went to the United States in the early '60s. His first match for the American championship was against Barney McQuade, in 1866, although previous to that Casey had met and defeated the famous Irish expert, Billy Baggs. In 1871 Casey, with James Dunne, Sr., defeated O'Brien and Farron for the championship, at Chicago, and twenty-six years later the same pair scored another victory over Carney and Keegan for aside bet of $2,000. One of the most important matches of his time was against John Lawler, for the world's championship, in 1887. The first half of the match was played in Ireland and the second in America, and Casey won. Casey played several big matches afterward, but was never defeated. He was unquestionably the greatest exponent of the game of handball that ever stood in an alley. Casey was never married and lived with his sister, Mrs. James W. Wallace. Casey trained John L. Sullivan for his battle with Corbett in 1892. Personally, he was gentle and unassuming, and as honest as the sun, and was always ready to lend a helping hand to those who needed it. The funeral will be held to-morrow morning from St. Paul's Catholic Church, Court and Congress streets, Brooklyn.

Erne After Another Fight.

Frank Erne wants another bout for the championship. It is a hard matter for boxers to keep away from the arena after they have left it, and Erne is no exception to the rule. Erne was one of the cleverest boys who ever held the title of lightweight champion. It was while under the management of the late Jim Kennedy that he reached the top of the pugilistic ladder. He won the title by winning a decisive battle from "Kid" Lavigne, and lost it to Joe Gans in one round at Fort Erie. But as Gans was above the lightweight limit the contest could not have been a championship affair. Erne had previously beaten Gans in a hard-fought contest, and therefore it was a matter of "even up" between them. Erne has been exercising of late with Fitzsimmons, and he is in such splendid shape that he feels confident that he can re-enter the ring. He wants to meet either Young Corbett or Jimmy Britt. If Erne is wise he will steer clear of these fighters until he finds out by meeting some other man just how good he is. Most champions who have gone back in the game after defeat have had a hard road to hoe, but Erne may prove an exception to the rule.

Gonthier in Buffalo.

Alois Gonthier, the Canadian wrestling champion, began a week's engagement at the Lafayette Theatre, Buffalo, Monday afternoon, in an exhibition bout with Joe Wagner, a local welter-weight. He toyed with the youngster for nine minutes, displaying rare strength and good wrestling style. In the evening Larry Huber, the wrestling policeman, went on against Gonthier, in an attempt to earn the $25 offered to the man whom the Canadian fails to down within 15 minutes. Huber, as usual, was full of fight, and went right after Gonthier from the call of time. One would imagine that it was Huber who was to do the throwing instead of Gonthier, so furiously did he go at the big fellow. Gonthier worked deliberately, making every lock count, and finally he caught the burly cop off his guard, and with a sudden dash secured Huber's leg and arm, and smashed him to the mat with a crash in seven minutes.

THE WHEEL

Automobile Club Formed.

The Automobile Club of Canada is the name given to the second organization of the kind formed in the Dominion, the first having been formed in Toronto last season. The new club has ten charter members, and it is expected that about thirty-five others will be immediately enrolled upon the incorporation of the club, for which application has been made, while before the season is over there will in all probability be at least four score on the subscription. The membership is limited to 400. The club fee is $20 annually, and $20 initiation fee. While as yet no definite schedule or itinerary has been arranged it is understood that tours, short runs, racing and other forms of auto sport will be given under the auspices of the new club, just as in the principal cities of the neighbouring republic. Another object of the club will undoubtedly be the attempt at having the condition of the cross country roads improved not only on the island of Montreal, but throughout this province. The following form the board of directors:—Messrs. A. P. Dawes, chairman; Duncan McDonald, J. K. L. Ross, F. H. Anson, H. Beaugrand, D. Tulle, A. Berthiaume, T. Viau and Dr. Mignault. If Montreal has been behind hand in acquiring the auto habit there are now some swell machines in the possession of leading citizens. There seems to be a preference displayed for American machines. There are a couple of fine cars of French design and manufacture. These are owned by Mr. Dandurand, and Messrs. David Yulie and Gedeon Boisvert. Among others owning autos are: Messrs. T. A. Reeb, L. Stanley, Fred. Anson, Andrew Dawes, J. Allan, Senator Forget, Jack Ross, Mr. Fairbanks, E. L. Pease, Thomas Davidson, Robert Ahern, William Carruthers, F. C. Wilson, J. M. Dorion, L. R. Redpath, W. P. Kearney, J. Carsley, jr., Ed. Durand, Geo. T. Harrt, Gerald H. Birks, J. H. Harriss, L. S. Meighen, H. Beaugrand, Jas. A. Caron, H. St. Arnaud, T. Viau, Ernest Sayer, D. W. Ogilvie, William Gardner, Arthur Berthiaume, David Yulie, Gedeon Boisvert, Walter Setthem, John M. Poirier, Jos. Phaneuf, Jos. Versailles, S. Page, J. J. Whyte, Elliott T. Galt, C. L. Carsley, Henry Hammond.

LACROSSE

Speculation on Saturday's Game.

The match on Saturday on the M. A. A. A. grounds between the Capitals and Montreals is the principal topic in sporting circles. Each club has many admirers, and it is interesting to listen to the various discussions as to the relative merits of the different players. All agree that Montreal has a magnificent defence and field, and with Billy Murphy in line it ought to be almost impregnable. This is admitted to be the weak part of the Capital team, so that it looks as if it will be a strong defence pitted against a strong home and a mediocre defence versus a fair home. There is no denying the fact that the Montreal home have improved since their last public appearance, and a visit to the grounds on any of the practice nights will readily convince the dubious ones. Barney has kept the home at its hammer and tongs, and certainly his efforts appear to have been rewarded. Poke Leahy will be in the line-up. He has been a regular attendant at Barney's handball class, and should be in excellent condition when the referee gives the starting signal on Saturday. Ward, Hendry, Madden and Finlayson are all displaying good form and certainly should be able to attack the Capital fortress successfully. Meldrum, Dodd and Wells are practicing faithfully. All are young players that will be heard from before this season ends.

Dyer at the bat.

Cornwallers are Confident.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Cornwall, July 14.—The selection of D. H. Reynolds, of Ottawa, as referee for the Cornwall-Shamrock lacrosse match next Saturday gives general satisfaction here, where Reynolds is looked upon as one of the squarest and most efficient officials in Canada.

The fact that the two interested clubs agreed upon him practically as first choice shows that they are both after a good clean game, and ask no odds.

The Cornwalls had a good turn-out to-night, and will have a light practice to-morrow night, when the team will be selected. Cornwalls team is in the condition, and with one or two exceptions have had about all the training they can stand.

There is nothing stale about their action, and every hour increases their hopes of victory over the Shamrocks. Cornwalls team has youth, physical vigour, a good knowledge of the game and considerable experience. They are going to beat the Shamrocks if they can. Quite a number of Cornwall people think they can.

Joe Lally was asked to officiate as referee, but cannot on account of business.

Montreal team had a practice at 4 o'clock yesterday. Every player was in line.

Capitals are billed for four practices this week. Pete Green evidently realizes that it won't be a cake walk.

Whichever team wins Saturday will have a look in. Capitals are confident, so are the Montreal boys.

Chas. Porteous and Doc Irvine have been helping the boys along in practice, and Barney is grateful to the old boys.

Capital and Montreal usually furnish an exciting contest, but Saturday promises to be the best struggle for years.

AQUATICS

Canoes for the Wilds.

The C. P. R. has just purchased 32 canvas covered cedar canoes for the use of sportsmen in waters of New Ontario. A few years ago these northern wilds were practically unknown, and were frequented only by red men and half-breeds. Now hundreds of persons from both Canada and the United States are flocking to them during the summer months to seek pleasure and bag game. Fashionable resorts, where a few days' fishing can be enjoyed, are neglected. The enthusiastic sportsman longs for the trackless forests, for the quiet lakes and the novelty of camp life. This fact has become so evident that the C. P. R., which has taken the initiative in giving access to these northern districts, has placed all the available guides at the disposal of the public and has arranged this season for personally conducted trips through Lake Missisaga and tributary streams. These trips are all arranged and conducted by a person competent to lead a party of pleasure-seekers through an uninhabited region.

THE FIRST AND BEST.

"Foot Elm" was the first foot remedy sold in Canada. It has stood the test of years, both here and by the troops in South Africa. No remedy to-day can equal it for giving prompt relief to aching, sweaty, sore, tender, blistered, chafed feet. 18 powders 25 cts.

Seawanhaka Trial Races.

Seawanhaka trials were resumed yesterday afternoon on Lake St. Louis, Thorella II. winning one, and Aeolus II., the other. Thorella had a margin of 38 seconds over the triangular course, Aeolus being second. In the windward and return race Aeolus won by 56 seconds, Noorna being second.

The wind was from light to moderate throughout the races, which was probably more to the benefit of Aeolus than the other boats. The boats carried their regular crews in the first race, but in the second Routh took Aeolus, Slaughter taking Thorella.

It is probable that one day will have to be set apart for exhaustive trials between the three boats, so that from morning until evening the boats and the crews will be engaged in a thorough test of the real merits of the candidates to defend the cup.

McCarthy simply took them one by one and held them down.

Below is a summary of the races:

Triangular course—	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed time.
Thorella	5.10.35	5.52.30	41.45
Aeolus	5.12.23	5.54.36	42.13
Noorna	5.13.42	5.56.29	42.27
Windward and return—
Aeolus	6.05.51	6.54.55	49.04
Noorna	6.06.27	6.56.27	50.00
Thorella	6.06.50	7.00.00	53.10

Argonauts Enter Eight.

Toronto, July 14. — The Argonauts have entered their senior eight in the World's Fair regatta, which takes place at St. Louis on July 28 and 29. Their eight have been working very hard lately to try to make up the time lost owing to the late spring. They have gone over the course a couple of times and their showing was so satisfactory that the club officials decided that the eight should represent the club and Canada at the St. Louis regatta.

CRICKET

The "Americans" Win.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—The Philadelphia cricketers, representing the United States, yesterday won the international cricket match from Canada, which was begun on the grounds of the Merion Club, at Haverford, on Monday. The Philadelphians won with seven wickets to spare. Summary:

CORRESPONDENCE

Cruelty to Animals.

To the Editor of The Montreal Star:

Sir,—As one just arrived here from England, with the feeling that "the Colonies" are inspired with the same sympathies as the Mother Country, I am more than surprised and disgusted to find here, that although we are under British rule, such repulsive continental practices are allowed here as working dogs in harness on the streets. I consider it a disgrace to the name of Englishmen to permit it. The case in point was, I saw, yesterday, in this city a man riding in a cart drawn by two dogs, and used for advertising purposes. The dogs looked fit to drop in the blazing sun, and the man in the cart (who should have been walking) was more or less asleep. As to the unfortunate dogs,—cannot some measures be taken to put a stop to this cruelty towards what every Englishman considers his dumb friends?

Yours, etc., W. H. T.

(July 12th, 1904.)

THE GOLFERS

Barrett Returns.

Toronto, July 14. — Percy Barrett, the Lambton pro., has returned from Chicago. He is naturally highly pleased with the showing he made against America's best players, finishing fifth. He was drawn with Chandler Egan. The course is well bunkered. He speaks in the highest terms of the treatment he received.

ATHLETICS

Handicaps This Evening.

The 880 yards' handicap race at the M. A. A. A. grounds this evening will be an interesting one. There will be three scratch men—Rollie Gomery, E. H. Gray and Peter Deer, and a field of handicapped runners stretched out to the 70 yards mark, including Dal. Browne, Percy Gomery, Leslie Scott, F. L. Lukeman, Jimmie Riddell, W. H. Martel, Alf. Cumpston, R. Warren, R. Raddon, H. M. Roberts, J. J. Lukeman and Joe Lefebvre, making a total of fifteen competitors. This distance and the 440 yards seems to be popular with the M.A.A.A. runners this year.

Hiram College Victorious.

St. Louis, Mo., July 14.—The Hiram College basketball team, of Ohio, won the college championship basketball contest and gold medal, open to colleges of the world at the World's Fair Stadium, last night.

FOOTBALL

A Friendly Game.

The Y. M. C. A. and M.A.A.A. Football teams will meet in a friendly match on the grounds of the latter on Friday evening. Kick-off at 7 o'clock sharp. The M. A. A. A. team is Hayes, Brown, Gillard, Kemp, Douglas, Doyle, Mathews, Anstey, Roberts, Marshall, Edmunds and Stuart.

THE TURF

Brighton Beach Track.

New York, July 14.—Major Pelham and Gay Boy ran a dead heat in the Jamaica Selling Stakes at Brighton Beach track yesterday. Both owners agreed to split the stake, and the purse was divided. Counterpoise made the running to the stretch, where Major Pelham took the lead and looked a winner, when Burns brought Gay Boy up with a rush and secured a dead heat. Ingold was third.

Jockey G. Green, the coloured steeplechase rider, who had the mount on Terrible Terry in the steeplechase, fell at the first jump and sustained injuries which may prove fatal.

The stewards, after carefully considering the running of the steeplechase horse Neponset, owned and trained by S. E. Mannix, ordered all entries of the above owner refused, and his case was referred to the stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association.

Workman, winner of the third race, was bid up to $3,000, and the stable bid the customary $5 and kept the horse. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Shipshape, 105, Phillips, 40 to 1, won; Tyrone, 110, Lyne, 7 to 2, second; Tide, 107, Burns, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1.15. Belle of Portland, Pat Costigan, Merry Moments, Lady Prudence, Louis H., Boundbrook, Winkaway, Hatchet, Head Lad and Mail also ran.

Bullet Ends Life of Highball.

New York, July 14.—After the races at Brighton Beach on Tuesday evening a friendly bullet administered the coup de grace of W. M. Scheftel's grand $50,000 colt Highball, the joint champion with Hamburg Belle of last season's two-year-olds, and the winner this season of the American Derby at Chicago, which was worth $26,325. All told he has won close to $75,000.

It was while running in the Seagate Stake at Brighton Beach, and shortly after he had turned into the home stretch with his two competitors, Knight Errant and St. Valentine, that the accident happened to him which broke the cannon bone of his off fore leg and splintered the coffin bone into several pieces.

The colt had been insured by his owners with Messrs. Lloyd, of London, England, for $25,000, who carry on a horse insurance agency in addition to their shipping insurance, so that their monetary loss is only one-half of what it might otherwise have been. Still, the money question does not enter so much into their calculations as does the loss of their good, faithful servant, who was their most highly prized possession. In case of a horse having to be destroyed as an act of humanity, as in the case of Highball, Trainer May states that the statement of two qualified veterinary surgeons that the horse must necessarily be destroyed in the cause of humanity, is sufficient to warrant them in putting him out of his pain, and the record of the insurance people is that such claims have been paid without demur.

An Exciting Finish.

Chicago, July 14.—In one of the most exciting finishes ever seen on any race track, English Lad won the fourth race at Harlem yesterday by a nose from the odds-on-favourite, McGee. Wilful was third, four lengths behind. McGee was always an odds-on-favourite, with English Lad second choice, and Wilful close third. Weather cloudy and warm; track good.

LIGHTSHIP ANTICOSTI STARTS FOR QUEBEC.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, July 14.—The lightship Anticosti, which has been just turned out at the Polson Shipyards here, after completing the storing of supplies at Harbour Square dock, started on her long voyage east about 5.30 p.m. yesterday. At 11 a.m., with Captain Mac. Morgan in command, the queer looking craft took a trial run a few miles out into the lake at ten miles an hour. Captain Morgan, who assumes charge of the Anticosti as far as Quebec, was for twenty years connected with the steamer Niagara, running between Duluth and Montreal, and was the first to command the well remembered Advance. His first officer is D. Munnon and his engineer, James McMain, and the crew number 20. Captain Morgan calculates on reaching Quebec in about six days. The temporary crew will have the option of entering for permanent duty.

Girl Spent Night in a Tree.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., July 14.—Miss Bertha Phillips, residing with Mrs. J. B. Joynt, near the town hall, Augusta Township, went picking raspberries, and not returning a search was made, but she could not be found. Next night she returned badly scratched up and with her clothes torn. On starting home it seems the child lost her way and wandered into a swamp of about a thousand acres. When darkness came on she climbed a tree and there remained till morning. After wandering about for hours, she finally found the clearing several miles from home.

Paris, July 14.—Deputy Cesbron (Republican) has challenged M. Gerault-Richard (Socialist Deputy from Guadalupe), to fight a duel. The latter called M. Cesbron a "jackanapes" during the turbulent session Tuesday.

As the result of a violent dispute in the corridor of the Chamber of Deputies last night, in the course of which the most violent epithets were used, Francis De Pressens, Socialist Deputy, and Louis Lucien Klotz, Radical Deputy, have appointed seconds to arrange a duel.

STRIKE THREATENED AMONG MOULDERS

Important Arbitration Meeting Now Being Held in City.

THE SCHEDULE OF WAGES

At Meeting To-night Result of Day's Deliberations Will Be Laid Before Local Union.

It is just possible that there may be a great strike among the iron moulders of this city.

However, everything possible is being done to avoid trouble, which would involve thousands of men in the allied trades.

The men and the employers are meeting to-day in conference, the outcome of which is being carefully watched by the workmen employed in the iron industry in Eastern Canada.

Messrs. M. J. Keough, of Cincinnati, Ohio, first vice-president of the International Iron Moulders' Union, John H. Barnett, business agent of the Toronto Iron Moulders' Union, No. 28, and Alex. R. Mitchell, business agent of the local union, are representing the men in the iron trades at the conference.

The employers are being represented by Mr. Taylor, of Guelph, Ont., and several officers of the Metal Trades Association.

It appears that the men as well as the employers are bound by the New York agreement to respect the decision of this Board of Arbitration, hence the interest that is being manifested in the meeting.

The trouble has been brewing for some time, owing to the bosses having made a demand on the union for a reduction in the rates of wages of ten per cent. all around. The men refused to accept the reduction on the ground that they were now being paid ten cents a day less than the men in Toronto, and twenty cents a day less than the iron moulders of Hamilton, in spite of the fact that the cost of living is twenty per cent. higher in Montreal than in either of the cities mentioned above, therefore no agreement could be reached between the local union and their employers, and the matter had to be submitted to the national conference provided for by the agreement between the National Founders' Association and the International Iron Moulders' Union.

DISCUSSED THE SITUATION.

Mr. Alex. R. Mitchell, business agent of the local union, when seen this morning by a representative of the Star, chatted freely about the situation. He said he was absolutely certain the moulders would not accept a reduction in the rate of wages, which was now insufficient to support a family on.

"In the event of a strike, would your union have the financial support of your International Union?" was asked.

"It certainly would," was the reply. "We would be helpless without the support of $2,000 moulders."

"Do you think there will be a strike?"

"That is more than I know. We are doing everything possible to avoid it. All I know is that the moulders will not accept a reduction of wages."

There will be a special meeting of the union to-night, when the result of to-day's conference will be laid before the members. A reception will be given to the International officers who are in the city.

VACATION FOR COUNCIL OF MAISONNEUVE.

Street Railway Declines to Extend Tracks in Municipality.

The Council of Maisonneuve held its last meeting before the summer vacation last night, and adjourned until next September.

Mr. Ecrement, secretary-treasurer, read a letter from Mr. W. G. Rose, managing director of the Montreal Street Railway, informing the council that as the town has not fulfilled the conditions of the contract recently entered into with the company, the work of extending the tracks on St. Catherine and Ontario streets, will not be proceeded with at present.

The letter was referred to the general committee.

The report of the auditors, Messrs. Caron and Fontaine, was also referred to the committee, together with Mr. O'Farrell's account for services as Road Superintendent amounting to $2,650.

An invitation from Mr. C. Paquette, secretary of the County Council, to send a delegate to attend the meetings of the Council, was accepted, and Councillor Bennet was appointed delegate to represent the town council.

A resolution was passed ordering drains to be constructed on Adam st. and the Montreal Water and Power Company will be requested to lay water pipes in the street.

A transfer of license was granted from Mr. A. Richer to Mr. Cyrias Gauthier.

The appointment of the assessors for next year was referred to the general committee for consideration.

English Lady Mountaineer.

Miss Gertrude Benham, the renowned English lady mountaineer, who stopped a short time in Montreal before going west this summer, has made one of the first ascents of the season in company with the Swiss guides, Christian and Hans Kaufmann. She succeeded in reaching the summit of Mount Lefroy. A couple of days later Miss Benham climbed to the peak of Mount Victoria, which was found to be a few feet less in height than the summit of Mount Lefroy.

Lafontaine Club's Excursion.

The Lafontaine Club has organized an excursion by the steamer Three Rivers for the 17th of July. The destination will be Saint Ours, a charming resort on the banks of the Richelieu. In order that all may avail themselves of the pleasurable outing thus afforded, the tickets have been placed at $1, with a rate of 75 cents from Varennes and 40 cents from Sorel. During the afternoon speeches will be delivered. Mr. Taillon will speak more particularly on the question of transportation. Mr. Casgrain will expose the course of the Liberal party since its accession to power. Mr. Bergeron will review the history of the Conservative party in the past. Messrs. Leblanc and Pelletier will devote their attention to provincial questions. The boat sails from Montreal at 8.45 a.m.

Big Increase in Pilgrimages.

The C. P. R. notes a big increase in the pilgrimage business this year. Last summer over thirty thousand people from different parts of Canada and the United States were handled by the C. P. R. alone within the months of June, July and August. To handle this body entails considerable work and this summer the company finds that larger crowds than ever are tending toward Quebec to visit the shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre and others. Already several parties ranging in numbers from one hundred to eleven hundred have passed through Montreal, and the season is scarcely half over. A few years ago the pilgrims handled by the company did not exceed two or three thousand.

The Late Rev. Norman McLeod.

Mr. and Mrs. Roderick McLeod, of Granby, Que., desire, through the Star, to convey their warmest thanks to their many friends in Montreal, Sherbrooke, South Mountain and elsewhere, for their great kindness to their son, the late Rev. Norman V. McLeod, during the long period of his illness and to themselves in their sore affliction.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Mr. L. R. Holme, of the C.P.R. literary department, has left for the West to gather material for descriptive literature to be used in C.P.R. publications of next year.

Mrs. Schaffer, of Philadelphia, who went to spend the summer in the Canadian Rockies, writes to the C.P.R. from Lake Louise, that travel to the mountains this year is very heavy, and that climbing has begun. During her stay in the West, Mrs. Schaffer is collecting specimens of Rocky Mountain flora, which she intends to make use of later on in preparing a descriptive work on flowering plants of mountains.

Next Week at the Francais.

The fourth bill of the Una Clayton stock company will be Charles Reade's dramatization of Zola's celebrated novel, "L'Assommoir," known to the English-speaking stage as "Drink." It was originally produced at the Adelphi Theatre, London, and enjoyed a phenomenal run of over two years, and Charles Warner, who created the principal role of Coupeau, has played that part in Great Britain, Australia and America many thousand times. It enjoyed a five months' run at the Academy of Music, New York, only last season. Not only is "Drink" a powerful and interesting play, but it also teaches a strong moral lesson and preaches a wonderful sermon on the evil effects of drink

The scene is laid in Paris and its surroundings some thirty or forty years ago, and the plot centres about the life of one Coupeau, a workman, good-hearted, honest and manly, but who through misfortune and temptation becomes a slave to the awful habit of brandy and absinthe drinking. Through the various acts of the play we see him gradually sinking from bad to worse, until the end comes and he dies raving in agony. But the play is not all gloom; there are plenty of good characters in it, and plenty of humourous ones, and the scene in one of the pleasure gardens of Paris gives a chance for fine scenic display and the introduction of numerous specialties. One big scene of the play is that which represents the building of a house in Paris. Coupeau, who is a mason, is working on the third story. While he is at his dinner, his enemies, the villainous Lantier and his mistress, weaken the support of the scaffold, and when Coupeau returns and begins work again the supports give way and he is hurled to the ground below. Another interesting and realistic scene is the interior of a public wash-house in France, and the whole drama abounds in quaint character sketches and psycological studies.

HEAD FOOD

Every Brain-worker wants a strong, keen thinker in his HEAD QUARTERS. Many successful men and women regularly eat the brain-making food—GRAPE-NUTS.

For the Phosphates necessary for this purpose are intentionally supplied in GRAPE-NUTS in liberal quantities and will positively rebuild the worn out brain and nerve centres.

The Inventor of GRAPE-NUTS

About 10 years ago found himself badly off from overwork and weak digestion.

He experimented about two years, seeking to perfect a food that would contain the elements required by Nature to rebuild the depleted nerves and brain.

But such food must be made easy of digestion, else the weakened organs of body could not extract the rebuilding elements.

Finally success came, after dozens of experiments and failures. The right parts of Wheat and Barley were selected, skillfully blended in the right proportions. Subjected for hours to moisture, then hours more to slow heat, gradually producing changes and mechanically digesting the food. Further processes follow, until the food is finally delivered fully cooked, pre-digested and ready for instant service with a little rich cream.

Years have gone by and experience has shown that the now famous brain food planned for a purpose, accomplishes that purpose.

It does supply pre-digested food that a babe or an athlete can digest.

It does furnish the nerve centres and brain with the delicate, microscopic particles of natural Phosphate Potash which combines with Albumen to make the gray matter filling the nerve centres and brain.

It does prove itself to users in a very few days.

It is known to, and used by, our most famous Physicians, Teachers, Scientists, Capitalists, Professors, Clergymen, Authors, Journalists, Merchants and successful, thinking farmers.

A VERY PROPER REBUKE.

In reply to a question put in the House of Commons yesterday by Mr. Clarke, Mr. Sifton stated that he had written to Mr. W. T. R. Preston, instructing him that such letters as he has been writing to the English press, with reference to the Dundonald matter and other Canadian questions, do not come within the legitimate scope of his duties. Mr. Sifton is to be commended for administering a justly-deserved rebuke to a public official, who evidently has an unfortunate propensity for butting into Canadian political questions. Decorum requires that any hugging by Canadian public servants—even hugging the machine—should be done in private. While Mr. Preston's opinions on the Dundonald affair are no doubt interesting, it is one of the penalties which go with his salary that he must keep them for private circulation only. The public may be the loser by the restriction, but that is the public's misfortune. Mr. Sifton is to be complimented upon taking a step which may be instructive to other civil servants besides Mr. Preston.

PAUL KRUGER.

The close of the South African war, rather than the death of ex-President Kruger, which occurred this morning removed the most bitter, relentless and mischievous enemy that England has had in recent years. Although the head of a nominal republic, "Oom Paul" was one of the most despotic rulers in the world. His tremendous influence over his people was as much religious as political. He seemed to regard himself as the vice-regent of the Deity in South Africa and his ambition was to rule over the Boers as the judges ruled over Israel before the foundation of the monarchy. His qualities were intensely typical of his race; he was bigoted to a degree, and his methods of dealing with his own people, whom he liked, were as unscrupulous as his methods of dealing with the English whom he hated. The mainspring of his whole life was hatred of England and contempt for the English in South Africa. That the English people could despise a man who gave them so much trouble and caused them so much grief and loss was impossible. In the long run their victory was complete, but as he predicted it was obtained at a price that staggered humanity. The net result of the conflict precipitated by him was to re-establish British prestige all over the world and to establish British rule in South Africa on firm foundations.

THE CONVENTION AND THE CANDIDATE.

Never were a pack of scheming politicians better brought to time than by Judge Parker in connection with his recent nomination as Democratic candidate for the Presidency. That Judge Parker, in spite of the support which he gave by his vote to the candidate of the Democratic party (Bryan) in 1896 and 1900, was a staunch believer in the gold standard was well known to all who were at all intimately acquainted with him. When the Convention met in St. Louis on the 6th inst., it was not known what line it would take on the gold question, but the general expectation was that there would be some declaration in the platform in favour of "sound money." A declaration of this nature was drafted in committee, but Bryan, who turned out to be more influential than had been calculated on, would not permit its adoption. The utmost he would allow was a declaration that the great influx of gold into the markets of the world during the last few years had for the present removed the currency question from the sphere of politics. The platform having been completed, Judge Parker, who saw at once the significance and the danger of the exclusion of a sound money plank from the platform, telegraphed to the man who had nominated him that he regarded the gold standard as "firmly and irrevocably established." He requested that his view of the subject might be communicated to the convention, in order that, if they were not satisfied, they might nominate some one else before adjourning.

The consternation and indignation which this message caused were indescribable. Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, asked if "the committee on resolutions was to be kicked and cuffed about" in this style. After much letting off of steam, however, it was decided to take Parker on his own terms, and a telegram was sent to him saying that if the platform was silent on the monetary question it was because that question was not regarded as a possible issue in the campaign, and adding these words: "There is nothing, therefore, in the views expressed by you which would preclude a man entertaining them from accepting a nomination on said platform." The Convention could not shake itself free from Bryanism; but what the Convention could not do a single individual has done. Judge Parker has not only shaken himself free, but has wrought a great deliverance for the whole Democratic party; for that party is now presenting to the nation as its candidate for the Presidency a man who has openly repudiated Bryan and all his works. It seems as if there was something left for the individual to do yet, even in this caucus-ridden age.

THE BUG-A-BOO OF "MILITARISM."

There is probably no subject about which more nonsense is talked than so-called "militarism" on this continent. We are probably in about as much danger of "militarism" as we are of being brushed off the earth by a collision with Mars. "Militarism" is a real burden in Europe; but no nation in North America has army enough to be seen, except when it all gets together occasionally for a parade.

What people who talk against "militarism" mean is that we should not spend too much on our militia. If a European were to be told that a nation was in danger of "militarism" because it was going in too heavily for the development of its volunteer militia, he would wonder what you were talking about. When he thinks of "militarism," he thinks of a regular army at the very least, probably with conscription thrown in, and the creation of a military class which will be a peril to the State.

Our duty toward our militia is quite another matter. Everybody is agreed that we need a militia; and, this being granted, it follows that we should get our money's worth when we make a grant for the equipment and training of the force. Everybody is agreed, too, that as the country grows the force must grow with it. We are a part of the British Empire, which is engaged necessarily in world politics, and it is only decently honourable for us to do what we can reasonably and fairly to prepare to bear our share in the defence of the prestige and territory of that Empire.

That such a course would offend the United States is too absurd for consideration. The Americans did not ask our permission to build one of the finest fleets in the world. The Americans do not imagine that we have any right to fly into a panic every time they buy a few new rifles, or enlist another regiment. The British and American peoples are, as a matter of fact, not arming against each other, but for co-operation against any possible common foe. When we strengthen the Canadian militia, we are not thinking of challenging a nation of more than a dozen times our population to combat, but of lifting ourselves into a self-respecting position, where we can take our share with Britain and the United States when—if ever—they must go out to fight for the ideals which we all hold in common.

There are ten chances that the Canadian militia may march shoulder to shoulder with the American army to any shadowy one chance that it may have to march against it. War between the British Empire and the American Republic is unthinkable to-day. But the Americans would have little respect for us as an ally if we were entirely unarmed. We must be prepared to give as well as take if our wishes are to be considered in the adjustment of things in this rough old world, which is still ruled largely by force. Britain may need our help in some day of terrible trial, and we ought to be ready to give it promptly, effectively and intelligently. But this is not "militarism"; this is simple manliness.

THE WAR SITUATION.

The wildly improbable tale of a Japanese repulse at Port Arthur with a loss of thirty thousand men, is evidently not believed now, even in St. Petersburg. Had the yarn been less circumstantial it would have stood a better chance of acceptance. Just imagine the enormous area of ground required to concentrate thirty thousand men upon and to be mined in order to blow them into eternity! It is now stated that despatches have been received from General Stoessel, the commandant at Port Arthur, in which he laments that the prospects of the place holding out have been materially lessened since the Japanese mounted heavy guns on Taku mountain, reducing the sheltered area of the harbour by nine-tenths; and in which he dwells upon the failure of General Kuropatkin to relieve the garrison. And the General never mentions the big blow up!

A battle is reported to be in progress near Ta-Tche-Kiao, and a report from Tokio states that the Japs have occupied Yin Kow without resistance. The immediate evacuation of New Chwang by the Russians appears inevitable.

The Toronto ' ws tells us that when Mr. Fielding was "asked by Mr. Laurier to accept the office of Finance Minister he made his acceptance conditional upon the concurrence and approval of Sir Richard Cartwright, and yielded only at the personal solicitation of the old Liberal financier." It would have been a scene for an artist—that occasion upon which Sir Richard Cartwright, fresh from having boasted in public that if the Liberals came in he would be Finance Minister, tried to persuade his very dear friend, Mr. Fielding, to oblige him by letting him have a neat "back-hander" in the face.

TABLE PROBLEMS.

WHAT DID HE LOSE?

John's wages are 18s. a week, and last Saturday his master gave him a sovereign, asking him to return the 2s. change on Monday.

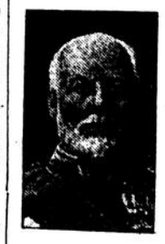

On the way home John lost the sovereign, and on Monday he borrowed 2s. to pay his master back.

How much was he out of pocket altogether?

The answer to this problem, "How much was the picture?" is, "30s." The difference in the prices was 6s., equalling half the value of the frame used, which cost thus 12s.; and as the frame and picture were 42s. the picture itself was 30s.

WHO'S WHO.

ADMIRAL LORD WALTER TALBOT KERR, G.C.B., the present First Lord of the Admiralty, who has been specially promoted to be Admiral of the Fleet, was born in September, 1839. He entered as naval cadet in August, 1853. In the Crimean War Lord Walter served with the Baltic Fleet in the campaigns of 1854 and 1855. After that, as a midshipman of Captain Peel's famous frigate, the Shannon, he saw hard fighting on land in the Indian Mutiny. Lord Walter Kerr has been successively Private Secretary to the First Lord of the Admiralty, A.D.C. to Queen Victoria, second-in-command in the Mediterranean, Second Sea Lord at the Admiralty, and Commander of the Channel Squadron. He became First Sea Lord of the Admiralty in 1903, and holds office until next October.

THE LATE GENERAL BOBRIKOFF, Governor-General of Finland, who was assassinated a short time ago by a patriotic Finn, will probably go down to history as one of the most hated men of his time. It is he through whom the Russian Government has succeeded in slowly but surely wresting from this people the last of their traditional rights. As an executor none can deny his ability or question his success.

VICE-ADMIRAL BOSANQUET has just been named as the new Commander-in-Chief of the North America and West Indies station of the British navy. He is still a comparatively young man, but his career has been successful in a marked degree, and he has won the regard not only of his superiors but of those he commands as well.

DOMINION GUILD WHOLESALE GROCERS.

A number of the officials of the Dominion Guild of Wholesale Grocers are at present in the city conferring with the local members of the association on matters affecting the guild. Messrs. J. F. Eby, of Toronto; H. C. Beckett and G. E. Bristol, of Hamilton; T. B. Escott, of London, and A. Miller, of Quebec, are among them.

Unsanitary Sidewalks.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—Through your valuable paper, which is always ready to take up a just cause, I wish to say a word or two about the unsanitary condition of the sidewalks, caused mostly by expectoration. My duties compel me to be out of doors continually, and in this capacity I could name dozens of localities which are rendered most objectionable by this unclean habit, but in the writer's opinion that part of St. James street from Victoria square to Windsor street is in the most deplorable condition, because of the hundreds of Italians who congregate in the vicinity of the Labor Bureau.

Other cities have a by-law preventing expectoration under the penalty of arrest, and why cannot Montreal have one also?

THE PASSING HOUR.

Bryan emerges from under the debris to move for a postponement of his funeral.

Communications to the Government should be marked "confidential, if convenient."

Curious, but that great American butchers' strike will save many lives—of animals.

Mulock is against "militarism." He thinks that his Labour Department could settle all wars.

One of Mr. Hearst's papers has an editorial article, the title of which is suggestive just now—"The Folly of Election Betting."

No, "Constant Writer," living in the same neighbourhood with "a fool dog" is not the same thing as living in "a fool's paradise."

When the baseball "fan" reads the heading, "Highball broke his leg," he will put it down as a typographical error for "low ball."

A detailed bill for time spent in courting suggests the awful thought that a specialist in love-making would want to charge $5 a visit.

Did you ever notice that this town is always worrying about the purity of something that it drinks? Its food never seems to bother it.

The size of the piece of ice found on the door-step these mornings indicates that the public-spirited ice-man must be boiling it before delivery.

The war correspondents are coming home, not because the match is over, but because their view of the grounds is shut off by a Japanese umbrella.

Bryan's support of Parker must feel like a breath of winter. It will be about as sincere as Sifton's reprimand to Preston for writing a letter to the Times.

The fact that the Directory shows the Smiths to be on the increase will be claimed by the Libs. as evidence that their tariff augments our industrial population.

Some people are grumbling because a man who promised to sell them automobiles did not deliver the goods. But gratitude is what they should feel. He possibly saved their lives.

The Globe says that "no intelligent Liberal, not even Sir Wilfrid himself, would claim perfection for the Liberal administration." This is "high Torylism," "Imperialism," "militarism," and "raising the race city."

The report that Mr. Monet is going to simply withdraw into private life at the next elections would seem to indicate that there has been such a rush on the offices that there will not be enough to go around. The approved way for a Lib. member to retire is into an office.

The Minister of Militia need not worry over establishing a precedent by publishing "confidential" correspondence in the Gregory matter. The precedent of publishing "confidential" documents when it will help the Government to do so, has already been established by Mr. Fielding in the case of the first G.T.P. petition.

THIS DATE THIRTY YEARS AGO.

We see it stated that the Mountain park is now provided with an efficient force of uniformed constables, consequently citizens can avail themselves of that fine public property without the fear of molestation.

FOR SOME MONTHS after the opening of the fine park, a gang of rowdies almost took possession of it, and daily committed assaults on citizens, especially women and children. The late Park Ranger, Mr. William McGibbon, did all he could to maintain order, and repeatedly requested the Park Committee for a few mounted constables to assist him in his duties of patrolling the park. It was only when two or three women were shamefully beaten and robbed, in broad daylight, that the sleepy committee woke to a sense of their duties and appointed guardians of the peace.

The Postmaster-General has just issued an order that from and after August next the practice of giving credit for postage at city offices will be abolished.

THE LATE Hon. Donald A. Macdonald was the Postmaster-General at the time, being appointed 7th November, 1873, and continued in the position until made Lieut.-Governor of Ontario on the 13th May, 1875. He represented the County of Glengarry in the Canada Assembly from 1857 until the union, when he was returned to the House of Commons for the same seat. He resided in Montreal after his term of office expired, and died here some years ago.

We are sorry to hear that the First Commoner is dabbling in dirty water. It is charged that, while Speaker of the House of Commons, he has the Post Office printing, but that having no job office in connection with his newspaper establishment, he has "farmed" it out. He is said to have admitted the truth of the charge; his sole defence for the job is that there is very little money in it. Of all men, the Speaker should know well the independence of Parliament Act.

THE LATE Hon. Mr. T. W. Anglin was the Speaker alluded to. He resigned his seat in Gloucester, N. B., in 1877, on the report of the Committee of Privileges and Elections, that it was vacated in consequence of a breach of the Independence of Parliament Act. The report was not adopted by a majority of the House, but he at once resigned office, and the following session, in 1878, was re-elected Speaker, which position he held up to the defeat of the Mackenzie Government, in the summer of 1878. For years before his death, he resided in Toronto. He was a very able political writer and a strong debater.

It is stated in financial circles that the sum of $140,000 has been subscribed towards the erection of an hotel in an upper quarter of the city, and that operations will be begun when the amount of $800,000 has been obtained.

AS A RESULT of the enterprise of our citizens, the stately "Windsor" was erected in an up-to-date style and has turned out a financial success, though at the time many able business men and bankers predicted failure, as there was not sufficient travel, it was said, to support such a large hostlery. The tourist traffic has increased so rapidly since then, that it has been found necessary to erect several smaller hotels uptown to accommodate transient visitors. The late Mr. Worthington opened the Windsor as first manager, and was succeeded after a few years by Mr. Southgate.

A "Rate-Payer" writes to complain of the very dilapidated condition of the sidewalks in Chenneville street, endangering the lives and limbs of every pedestrian.

THE FOOTPATHS on Chenneville street have always been an eyesore, the really dangerous part being alongside the Central Fire Station. The City Council and Road Department appear to be ignorant of the state of the footpaths even to this day.

TRAGEDY ON C.P.R. EAST OF DORVAL

Remains Discovered on Line In Mangled Condition.

PROBABLY NEW YORK MAN

Letter Addressed to Benjamin Mattson Found on Corpse—A Victim of Youthful Folly.

A young man, believed to be Benjamin Mattson, of New York city, was killed last evening on the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks, a mile and a half east of Dorval.

Just how the tragedy occurred is not known.

The discovery was made by the crew of the incoming Toronto express, at 6.30 o'clock. The remains were seen lying on the track in a mangled condition by the engineer, who stopped the train. The remains were picked up and placed in the express car and brought to the station, whence they were taken to the morgue.

The deceased's front teeth are filled with gold. He wore a gold ring, which was evidently a Christmas gift with the following initials on it: "A. L. to B. M., 12-25-'98."

When his pockets were examined at the morgue, a pipe, some tobacco and some documents were found. The following letter was also found in his clothing:

"New York, May 26, 1904.

"Mr. Ben. Mattson:

"Enclosed you will find $44. I would strongly advise you to pay the balance of your fine, and come east at once. I am quite sure that you could make a good living again out here. Going around the way you have been, you are only lost. You are yet young and could succeed with a little patience. Do not make a fool of yourself any longer.

"Answer as soon as possible, as Minnie is very anxious about you. She is worrying night and day to think that you are acting this way.

"We have two children now—a boy and a girl—that keeps Minnie very busy.

"Hoping to hear from you by return mail,

"I remain, your brother-in-law,
WM. MALLMAN,
"108 W. 102 St., New York City."

Coroner McMahon will communicate with the relatives of the dead man in New York, and just as soon as identification has been properly established, an inquest will be held to establish the cause of death.

Politics!—The Responsibility!

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—I have just read in your issue the telegram from Renfrew to the Mail and Empire, with reference to the attempt of the Government, through the instrumentality of the machine as represented on this occasion by Mr. Wright, M.P., for the county, to stop the Scotch meeting at Renfrew at which Lord Dundonald was the honoured guest.

Let me tell your readers that similar tactics were recently pursued here. The Rideau Club is entirely a social organization, essentially non-political and patronised by leading members of both parties alike, as well as by those who take no part or interest in politics or politicians. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and most, if not all his Cabinet colleagues belong to it, as also many of the leaders of the Opposition. Most of our principal citizens, prominent members of the civil service, the officers of the headquarters staff and other gentlemen without reference to politics.

The Earl of Dundonald became a member shortly after his arrival in Canada, and his fellow-members proposed to give him a farewell dinner. Several gentlemen, more or less under the control of the Government, military men as well as civilians, desirous of testifying their appreciation of Lord Dundonald as a man and a soldier, put their names on the list as showing their intention of being present, this list being openly posted in the club. But the machine at once got in its work with the result that they were obliged to take off their names or become "marked men."

The Government Secret Service must have somewhat extensive ramifications when they endeavour to meddle with and suppress a private dinner at a non-political club to one of the most renowned officers in the British army, and whose name is a household word throughout the Dominion and the Empire at large.

People are beginning to ask themselves whether this is a free country, and the general opinion appears to be that under present conditions and our present rulers it is not. It reminds one more of the system of espionage adopted in certain continental countries, the workings of which have been revealed. These tactics are foreign to men of British blood, and let me tell those responsible that the people won't tolerate them or those who would endeavour to foist them upon us as was exemplified in this instance when, as I am told, the banquet was one of the largest, most enthusiastic and most important as regards the great interests represented ever held in the history of the club.

The Transcontinental Railway Survey Investigation.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—So much has been said respecting the employment of alien labour to the exclusion of native skill (and native intelligence) in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific survey, it may not be considered amiss to have a word to say in relation to this investigation. That undue discrimination has been exercised against the appointment of Canadian engineers is perfectly apparent and for this exposure we are largely indebted to the Commission. That Canadian engineers are equally well, if not better, qualified for exploration and construction work over the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is beyond question, and it is no less obvious that if Canadians of undoubted skill and experience received as favourable consideration as those imported, men more conversant with the country and with the work would be obtained.

But this investigation is to me, as it must be to others, an annoying proposition, for although we cannot suffer our rights to be ignored we should not object to the employment of American engineers at the cost of denying recognition to those who may fill their places efficiently and justly. We want interchange of knowledge in the profession; we want to teach and be taught. There is, every day, in progress of time, something to learn and the more we know the more our experience teaches how much there is to learn. English speaking engineers, some of them still living, built and equipped the first lines of railway the world over; there were no circumscribed bounds. The present generation may do better but there is much to learn and interchange of thought and experience are always desirable to keep abreast with the time.

Although the investigation now pending may contribute adequate protection, Civil Engineers ought to entertain greater ideals than those afforded by an Alien Labour Act. The Act may be necessary so far as its scope extends but that it should embrace the profession of Civil Engineer, whose professional limits cannot be localized, gives some ground for reflection. Our aim should be "protection" the same as other learned professions enjoy in this country under the provisions of a close corporation act adapted with necessary by-laws to govern the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. At present many eminent American Engineers are members of our society and those qualified to become members would not I venture to say, be objected to on the ballot or, after election, in the field.

If, as reported, Mr. Hays has promised to consult the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers respecting future appointments, I cannot see what further investigation is necessary. If any American Engineer has given voice to utterances, when speaking of American brains, of implied or expressed antagonism to Canadian Engineers, when fulsomely lauding those of the United States, it is to be regretted for his own sake. Many of our engineers find employment in the United States, and we ought not to court reprisals.

I think it may be admitted that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company have the right to appoint their Chief Engineer and in the ordinary course, some others to assist him, so long as discrimination against Canadians is not adopted.

The Government Commission exercises the chief control of the location and construction of the eighteen hundred miles of the Eastern division will find employment for all available skill the country may command.

I desire to add that I am alone responsible for these remarks.

This line starts at Burkton, a town on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, about forty miles east of Toronto and runs north-east through the town of Lindsay, terminating at Bobcaygeon, a village which has hitherto had no railway communication with the outside world.

All the track-laying has been done, and most of the buildings have been completed. There now only remains a small amount of ballasting to be completed, together with the construction of a turn-table. The number of trains to be run each day has not as yet been determined, but there will likely be two both ways each day.

...IDENS' MINDS ARE EVER-FICKLE

...Bonelli's Answer to Mr. Internoscia's Suit.

...NIE WAS NOT CONSTRAINED

...a Claims He Was Doing His Level Best to Advance Jerome's Interests With His Beloved.

...he suit entered by Mr. Jerome Internoscia against Mr. Vincent Bonelli, Vicksburg, Miss., to recover damages for pecuniary losses said to have been sustained during the courtship of Mr. Bonelli's daughter, Miss Annie Bonelli, has progressed another stage. An inscription in law has been entered by Messrs. Hibbard and Saunders who represent the defendant.

Mr. Bonelli sets forth that he was in no way responsible for the action of his daughter in refusing to marry Mr. Internoscia. His paternal affections were strong for her. In some instances he, perhaps, appeared harsh and unkind, but this was only to influence his daughter to reject the Roman Catholic religion, which was objectionable to the Bonelli family, and to the plaintiff. He did everything he could to promote the courtship, believing it to be satisfactory to everyone concerned, but he was not accountable for "the whims and fancies of Annie or the love-sickness of the plaintiff."

Further, as a father, he was justified in taking the steps he did to influence the girl's religious convictions without regard to the plaintiff's wishes in the matter.

FURTHERED PLAINTIFF'S SUIT.

In regard to loss of time and money, alleged by the plaintiff, Mr. Bonelli holds that if Mr. Internoscia felt any such loss it was consequent on the plaintiff's own action in attempting to win and retain the affection of the defendant's daughter. He, Mr. Bonelli, was not responsible for any expenditures, nor did he encourage them. He did, however, do everything he could to further the plaintiff's suit, while it was being paid to his daughter.

Dealing with the question of shaping the young girl's mind, the inscription points out that the defendant, at the request of the plaintiff, desired from the part he was affecting—that of severity toward his daughter—and allowed the plaintiff and Annie their own way in the matter of the latter's returning to the Sacred Heart Convent, at Sault au Recollet.

This incident in the romance originated when the girl wished to return to the convent in the autumn, and her father (according to the plaintiff's declaration) desired to have the marriage take place the same year and to have her renounce Roman Catholicism. The plaintiff took the girl's part, it is declared, and told her she might retain her views and marry whom she willed.

The course the father adopted in this instance, is said, in the inscription, to have been "without malice, but with a view of assisting the plaintiff's suit."

FAIR ONES ARE FICKLE.

Clause 9 of the inscription reads: "Because the plaintiff, who appears to be a member of the bar and man of the world, is presumed to know that the minds of maidens are invariably fickle and that in devoting his time, money, and devotions to a mere child, he was doing so at his own risk and peril, and with the great probability of not securing more than a passing fancy from a girl of such tender years and inexperience."

A claim is also made that when the defendant informed the plaintiff of a change in his daughter's affections and offered to return the money spent upon her, the plaintiff did not consent, but persisted in urging his suit.

In reply Mr. Internoscia's declaration that the girl should have been consulted before the house at 49 Belmont Park was purchased, Mr. Bonelli says that he was not bound to ask his daughter's opinion on any such matter.

Among the alleged damages which are not in the premises recoverable from the defendant, the inscription further states that the item in Mr. Internoscia's account for the time lost in Annie's company is not one of the claims which can be met. "It appears from the plaintiff's allegations and letters that he was more than compensated by the pleasure derived in this expenditure of time," the clause reads.

Annual Pilgrimage of St. Patrick's.

The annual pilgrimage of St. Patrick's congregation and their friends to the Sacred Shrine at Lanorale, will take place this year on Thursday, July 28th. The trip will be by boat, leaving the Richelieu pier at 9 a.m. After devotional exercises at the shrine, the party will be taken for an excursion down the river, returning early in the evening. The Rev. Father Martin Callaghan, P.P., has placed all arrangements for the excursion in the hands of the Rev. Father Peter Heffernan.

Letter Carriers' Outing.

The Federated Association of Letter Carriers had a very enjoyable moonlight excursion last evening. At about 8.15 the steamer Duchess of York pulled out from the Victoria pier with about 400 people on board, to enjoy a trip down the St. Lawrence. The weather was fine, and an excellent programme of dances was gone through in the lower part of the boat, while on the upper deck groups of singers enjoyed themselves. The proceeds are to be added to the funds of the association for the purpose of looking after the welfare of the widows and orphans of deceased members. Mr. Arch. Hastie made an excellent floor manager, while Mr. W. F. Mitchell, in his usual genial manner, acted as master of ceremonies.

THE LABOUR MEN ORGANIZE A PARTY

Cape Breton Strikes Are Not Pleased With the Government.

A MASS MEETING WAS HELD

Strong Resolutions Passed Condemning Minister of Labour—Will Name a Candidate.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sydney, N. S., July 14.—At a joint meeting of the Provincial Workmen's Association lodges, of Cape Breton, with a total membership of over 3,000, held in Rossiyn Rink last night, the announcement was made by Grand Secretary Moffatt that it had been decided to organize a labour party in this county, which will nominate its own candidate for the next Federal election. The announcement was received with a long outburst of applause. The inauguration of this third party means that no fewer than 2,500 votes may secede at next general elections from their old party lines, in support of the labour candidate. A resolution formally bringing this movement into existence was passed as follows:

DECISION ARRIVED AT.

"Seeing the laxity of the Government to move in the matter of settling the dispute between the Dominion Steel Company and the employes out on strike, we hereby decide that in order to obtain justice we form a labour or independent party, and take steps immediately to place a candidate in the field to contest the coming elections."

In the speeches that followed, and having a bearing to the organization of this party, it was pointed out that the Government had declined to take action in the way of having this difficulty adjusted, and that it had sided in with the company in permitting the permanent military forces to be sent to Sydney in order to crush the principles of unionism among the workingmen of Cape Breton. It was also contended that the only opportunity of striking back at the Government that favoured monopolists was through the ballot-box, and that they now proposed to do this with all the strength they could possibly command. A labour convention will be held shortly, when a candidate will be nominated.

At last night's meeting the name of John Moffatt was mentioned as the probable candidate, and, judging from the applause, it is safe to assume that he will be the convention's nominee.

The meeting last night was held for the purpose of demonstrating the fact that the miners' lodges were in entire sympathy with the steel workers in their strike in Sydney.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolution was passed unanimously with respect to the troops at Sydney:

"Whereas, the employes of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company ceased work on June 1st, owing to a wage dispute and whereas they have been on strike for six weeks, during which time no property has been destroyed, no violence has been committed, and no rioting has occurred, and whereas the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. has succeeded in getting the Government to aid them in operating their plant by means of the permanent military forces of Canada, thereby attempting to defeat the lawful object of the workmen, be it, therefore, resolved that this joint meeting of Provincial Workmen's Association lodges, of Cape Breton, condemns this action on the part of the Government, and asks the withdrawal of the soldiers immediately."

"Further resolved that we here and now pledge ourselves to actively oppose the Government until it delivers its people from the fangs of the great bounty-fed corporation at Sydney."

The resolution was followed by another, which also passed without dissent, as follows:

"Whereas the Provincial Workmen's Association requested the Minister of Labour to appoint a commission to investigate, decide and settle the Sydney labour dispute, we, in joint meeting assembled, regret that so far Minister Mulock has been unable to put our request into force."

The meeting broke up with cheers for the Provincial Workmen's Association, John Moffatt and Kind Edward.

To the Editor of The Montreal Star:

Sir,—If "Veritas" feels that he is a martyr to a custom originating from the gentlemanly instincts of other men or their innate chivalry; why does he not take a seat and keep it and let the aged or elderly woman, the mother who has also "worked all day" (perchance the most of it in a hot kitchen) and has managed to get an hour late in the afternoon for necessary shopping, or the saleswoman who has stood all day in a hot, close store hang wearily by the strap whilst on... of the supposed stronger (?) sex rests his weary bones by sitting.

Why does he whine about being "forced to give up his seat" when said force is purely imaginative or really his fear of Public Opinion. Can he not try to be a man, and act and think for himself? And then if he thinks it manly and right—if he would like to see his mother, wife or sister obliged to stand whilst other men sit; let him take courage and keep his seat—we can assure him that the law will protect him should any one molest him.

In conclusion, it is to be regretted if "Veritas" is really, as he says, a specimen of the average Canadian.

VERACITY.

Dr. James Morrison and Dr. David Morrison have returned from visiting their father at Melbourne.

ONE OF THE NEWEST LINEN FROCKS.

Pale blue china linen is the material used for this very neat little dress, which is embroidered in white, and trimmed with coarse white lace. It is a good example of the vogue for pale tinted gowns, and illustrates the fact that this is a year for trimming. The tucked skirt is made with a hip yoke embroidered in white, which extends across the back as well as over the hips. The blouse is embroidered and lace trimmed. The embroidery in the form of a conventional chrysanthemum is very effective, and the lace is imitation Irish pattern. The featherboned girdle is shaped to the figure. It is made of chiffon taffeta of the same shade as the gown.

PRIZES FOR SNAPSHOTS.

The editor of The Star's Woman's Page is holding a weekly "Snapshot" competition, and offers a first prize of $3, a second prize of $2 and a third prize of $1 for the best Snapshots taken by women readers and submitted by them. Entries for the eighth competition must be received by Monday, July 18th, and should be addressed "Photo Competition," Woman's Page, The Montreal Daily Star, St. James street. In submitting photographs for the competition their suitability for reproduction should be taken into consideration. Competitors are asked to write name and address on the back of each snapshot; to enclose stamps for their return, and not to enter more than two snapshots in one competition.

Prize winners in the eighth competition will be announced on Wednesday, July 20th.

SENATOR CLARK TELLS OF HIS MARRIAGE TO HIS YOUNG WARD.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Helena, Mont., July 14.—Concerning his marriage in France more than three years ago, to his ward, Miss Anna Lachapelle, the daughter of a French-Canadian, Senator Clark says: "There are many good reasons why both Mrs. Clark and myself desired our marriage to remain secret. Mrs. Clark did not care to take up social obligations that my public life would entail. She was anxious to remain in Europe for a time, to continue her studies. Personally, I would have preferred to have her with me at all times, but my extensive interests compelled me to spend a great deal of time travelling throughout the United States. I did not have any time to myself to devote to society obligations and their active requirements."

Mrs. Clark is now in Italy, studying, but will return to Washington this winter, when the Senator's new home will be opened. Senator Clarke was first attracted toward Miss Lachapelle at a Fourth of July celebration in a western town, where she representeed the Goddess of Liberty. Senator Clark made the girl his ward soon after and sent her to Europe to be educated.

Sherbrooke People Will Vote.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Sherbrooke, July 14.—The ratepayers of Sherbrooke will again vote on the municipal light question on August 1. Under the recent amendment to the charter, the voting will be by secret ballot, and property valuation will not figure in the vote.

Woman Killed by Lightning.

Quebec, July 14.—Mrs. Arthur Beaudoin, thirty years of age, and the mother of six children, was struck and killed by lightning at her home in St. Henri de Levis during a lightning and thunder storm. Mrs. Beaudoin had just left the door of her house with two young children when the lightning struck her. The children were also knocked down by the shock, but recovered shortly afterwards.

TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAY.

Bill Read a Third Time by Senators—The Insurance Act.

Ottawa, July 14. — In the Senate Sir George Drummond, in presenting the report of the Banking Committee on the bill to amend the Insurance Act, stated that the bill had been carefully revised by the committee and experts, and he commended the bill to the consideration of the House. The bill was ordered to be reprinted and read on Friday.

On the motion of Hon. Mr. Domville, the New Brunswick Southern Railway bill was withdrawn.

Hon. Mr. Dandurand moved the third reading of the G.T.P. Railway bill. He did not propose to go on with the amendment, of which he had given notice, and he could not accept that of which Mr. Templeman had given notice, affecting the commencement of work at both the eastern and western terminal, as it would interfere somewhat with the contract between the company and the Government. The reasons for this determination had been given already in dealing with the National Transcontinental Railway.

Hon. Mr. Landry raised a point of order that the agreement was not attached to the bill.

The Speaker ruled the point of order was not well taken and suggested that the point should have been taken earlier.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell held that an objection to a bill could be taken at any time.

Hon. Mr. Macdonald (British Columbia) asked why it was necessary to ratify the contract of last year as well as that of this year. One agreement required two millions capital to be subscribed, the other one million. The latter made a breach of contract. Was any part of the five millions deposit paid in? Last year it was supposed that the country was to have a competing line; but this bill gave the company power to lease or sell the line. He did not suppose that any other Senator had followed the bill closely enough to know this. What was the Government going to do about supply on July 1st? Government going to do about supply on July 1st? Hon. Mr. Scott said the Government might on that had in many ways shown their desire to protect Canadian labour. He asking the total referred to the enquiry by Judge Winter, and held that the Government should not be criticized too strongly on this line. It might be possible to legislate stringently on this line. Hundreds of miles of railway were being constructed, and he asked was it possible to obtain Canadian labour? With the flux of immigrants would it be right to refuse an intending settler employment for the first year? If the laws were not sufficiently stringent it would be made so, either this year or next.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked what was the nature of the bill of which Sir William Mulock had given notice in the Commons. Apparently it would not be very stringent.

Hon. Mr. Scott replied that the bill was not yet sufficiently advanced to indicate the contents.

Hon. Mr. De Boucherville asked that the House order the bill to be withdrawn, as the rules regarding the printing of the schedules had not been complied with.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell urged that the question should be left over till Sir William Mulock's bill was introduced. He dissented altogether from the ruling of the Speaker. He thanked him for dropping his motion, and as it relieved him from provisoing in transit it was out of order. He intimated that Mr. Templeman's notice of motion was a fake motion, as the New York No. 1 had already been decided in the House.

The bill was read a third time, and passed.

The bill respecting certain patents of the Canadian Office and School Furniture Company, Ltd., was read a second time.

On the motion to go into committee on the Yukon Territory Act, Hon. Mr. Scott stated that the bill was framed so as to prevent a greater number of probation than twelve months being required before voting. In committee he moved that the term of probation should not be greater than six months.

BELLEVILLE GIRL COMMITS SUICIDE.

Ill Health Undoubtedly the Cause Which Led Miss Hamilton to Shoot Herself.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Belleville, Ont., July 14.—A most distressing case of suicide occurred in this city last night shortly before nine o'clock, when Miss Kathleen Hamilton, second daughter of Mr. Hamilton, manager of the Merchants Bank, this city, shot herself. It appears that the young lady, who was about twenty-five years of age, was talking with members of the family down stairs when she left them and walked upstairs to her brother's bedroom and shot herself through the temple with a revolver belonging to her father. The bullet entered one temple and came out of the other. The unfortunate girl was alive when found, but death ensued in a few minutes. As to the cause of her act it is said that Miss Hamilton, who was until recently employed as a nurse at the Roosevelt Hospital New York, had lost her health, being troubled with a nervous complaint. About five weeks ago she came home. Last night she received a letter from the hospital management stating that owing to her poor health she had better resign. Then she became despondent and took her own life. Much sympathy is felt for the family, which is highly respected in the community.

MOUNT PELEE AND ITS TERRORS

In conversation with a Star representative, Mr. Colin McKay, who has just returned from the West Indies, spoke of a visit paid to the scene of the volcanic horror at Martinique. "Where the city of St. Pierre once flourished," he said, "there is a thick bed of land, which is already assuming the appearance of a vast gray granite rock. About nine years ago, I passed close by St. Pierre in the evening, and saw its white roofs, its towers and cupolas gleaming between the fronded crests and lithe grey trunks of the royal palms, and, heard the crash of bands in its squares, and the tinkling of mandolins upon the French ships in the roadstead. BOSTON AND MAINE'S TRIPS TO THE SEASIDE.

The expectation for the next few weeks is that there will be a great deal of warm weather. In arranging to get away from the heat of the city, the Maine coast should not be forgotten. No better place could be selected for a quick recovery of health and strength. The enjoyment of a trip to the seaside will be greatly enhanced by selecting one of the numerous delightful resorts along the Boston and Maine Railway. This line enables the traveller to view scenery unsurpassed, including, as it does, through the heart of the White Mountains and also through the famous Crawford Notch. The Boston and Maine Railway has issued six handsome portfolios of New England scenery, entitled "New England Lakes, Rivers of New England, Seashore of New England, Picturesque New England, and from St. Charles River to the Hudson," which may be obtained by writing to the general passenger department, Boston, Mass., enclosing in each instance six cents for postage. Earl Has Accepted the Invitation of St. James's Club.

FUNCTION EVENING JULY 27

Large Committee Has Affair in Charge—A Brilliant Function is Anticipated.

Lord Dundonald to-day accepted the invitation of the St. James's Club to attend a banquet in his honour to be held at that place on the evening of July 27.

The banquet will be tendered by the members of the Club, and it is expected that it will prove a brilliant function.

Over 200 members have sent in their names as desirous of being present on the occasion, but owing to the limited accommodation it was found that 125 would be the outside number that can be seated. Arrangements were to-day completed for the banquet and the following committee has the matter in hand.

Sir George A. Drummond, Sir Thos. Shaughnessy, Sir H. Montagu Allan, Sir Alexander Lacoste, Mr. R. B. Angus, Mr. H. Stikeman, Mr. Charles R. Hosmer, Major A. Haig Sims, Colonel Starke, Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P., Mr. T. Chase Casgrain, M.P., Lieut.-Col. Whitehead, Mr. W. M. Ramsay, Major D. M. Stewart, Hon. L. J. Forget, Mr. H. Markland Molson, Mr. Charles Cassils, Col. George A. Hughes, Mr. Alex. Stewart, Mr. E. S. Clouston, Mr. B. McLennan, Major George R. Hooper, Mr. H. S. Holt, Mr. C. A. Barnard, Lieut.-Col. Henshaw, Mr. George E. Drummond.

MR. ALFRED BRUNET MAY GET APPOINTMENT RAILWAY COMMISSION.

In Governmental circles here it is rumored that Mr. Alfred Brunet, formerly the manager of the Banque National, will be appointed as the representative of the Province of Quebec on the Commission which is to supervise the construction of the Eastern section of the new transcontinental railway.

THE WAR SECRETARY ON ARMY REFORM

London, July 14.—War Secretary Arnold-Forster made his long promised statement as to his proposed reform of the army when the House of Commons went into committee this afternoon on the vote for the war office.

The Secretary said he did not propose to touch the militia, as public opinion was not ripe therefor, neither would the Royal Artillery be decreased nor the number of cavalry regiments be reduced. He proposed to reduce the regular infantry forces by fourteen battalions, leaving forty or fifty battalions for home service, after providing for India and the colonies.

The army would be divided into two parts. A certain number of battalions would be kept at home. These would be reduced to five hundred men, four hundred of whom would be enlisted for two years service and would afterwards enter the reserve for six years. These would be in reality territorial battalions, and the object of the short service system would be to build up the reserve.

The volunteer establishment would be reduced to 180,000 men and much larger grants would be made, so as to make the volunteers an effective force.

THE ALDERSHOT CAMP.

From 15,000 to 16,000 regular troops would be kept at Aldershot, ready to take the field as a fighting force. Provision would be made for a permanent garrison of 21,500 men in South Africa. It appears that Mr. Arnold-Forster's proposal would result in a decrease of 8,761 men, leaving a total force of 227,000 and a decrease in expenditure of $2,450,000.

The War Secretary concluded with saying that the army was passing through a period of great danger. Sufficient remedy for the existing evils must be found, and while he was unable to provide any marked immediate reduction in the expenditure, he hoped that his scheme would enable his successor to effect progressive economy. The British army, as at present constituted, was one of the costliest machines ever devised, and quite unfit to supply the peculiar needs of the Empire.

AQUATIC ESTABLISHMENT.

In view of the progress made in submarine boats, he hoped to make a considerable reduction in the expenditure on the aquatic establishment. He discarded the conscription proposal, as it would cost an additional $130,000,000 yearly for the same number of troops as now forthcoming.

HORACE S. FERRE HAS ARRIVED HOME.

U. S. Post Office Inspector Anderson arrived at New Orleans to-day with Horace S. Ferre, the alleged defaulting postmaster of Jennings, La., whom he arrested in Montreal. Both Anderson and Ferre expressed surprise when they learned that the arrest had caused a commotion in Montreal and that Extradition Commissioner Lafontaine had protested to the Canadian Government that Ferre had been kidnapped and the Canadian courts ignored. Ferre will be charged with embezzling $1,500 from his post office.

CANADIANS WON IN SWEEPSTAKES

Pte. Neil Smith and Colour Sergeant Youhill the Fortunates.

FORMER SCORED POSSIBLE

Mackinnon Cup Match is Being Shot To-day—England is Now Leading.

Canadian Associated Press.

Bisley, July 14.—Two members of the Canadian team won prizes to-day in the Sweepstakes competition.

Pte. Neil Smith, of the 21st Regiment, Stewart, Ont., captured second place at the 600 yards range and obtained a prize of £4. His score was a possible of 35.

PTE. NEIL SMITH'S TARGET,

In the Sweepstakes competition at 600 yards.

His score was..... 5, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5—35

In this match Pte. Smith won a prize of £4.

Colour-Sergeant W. H. Youhill, of the 90th Regiment, Winnipeg, secured tenth place at the 200 yards range landing a prize of 13 shillings.

ONLY HALF THE TEAM SHOOTING

Only about half the team took part in the shooting to-day, and the high wind kept the scores of most of these at a low point. So adverse was the wind that Sergeant W. Gould, of the 30th Regiment, Guelph, succeeded in finding the target only three times out of ten at 900 yards in the Armourer's Company competition. His score was only three magpies or a total of nine points.

In the same match, however, Corporal R. McGregory, of Ottawa, realized 47 out of a possible 50, the same range.

THE MACKINNON CUP.

The Scotland team is considered as likely to win the Mackinnon Cup, which is being shot for to-day, but the result is not likely to be known until evening gunfire. The match is fired at three ranges, eight hundred, nine hundred and a thousand yards, ten shots per man at each range. The prize is the Challenge Cup, presented in 1891 by Col. Mackinnon, and a special commemorative bowl is given by the N. R. A. to the captain and adjutant and each member of the winning team. The English team won last year with the Canadian team in second place, eighteen points behind.

THE FIRST RANGE.

In the Mackinnon Challenge Cup match on the first range at 800 yards, the teams ranked as follows: England, 496; Scotland, 486; Canada, 477; New Zealand, 457; Natal, 451; Wales, 448.

Two members of the Canadian team shot once each in decidedly hard luck. Capt. R. Dillon, of Whitby, in his second shot, struck the ground in front of the target and ricocheted to the mark, his shot counting nothing. Staff-Sergeant Crowe, of Guelph, on the same shot, fired at the wrong target and his score was not counted.

At the conclusion of the 900 yard range the order was: New Zealand, 497; England, 490; Natal, 490; Scotland, 491; Canada, 474; Wales, 470.

The scores of the Canadians on this range were:

The Doukhobors Turned Back.

Winnipeg, July 14. — A party of Doukhobors from Thunder Hill settlement were intercepted at Fisher's siding by the police and shipped back to the Swan River last night. The authorities had little or no trouble in getting them aboard the cars. They will be taken back to villages at Thunder Hill.

Halifax, July 14.—An unsuccessful attempt at high water was made last night to float the steamer Lunenburg, which ran ashore on Cranberry Head shoal or Cape Breton coast. The steamer lies in a dangerous position and chances of saving her from becoming a total loss are very poor.

SIR H. E. TASCHEREAU TAKES HIS SEAT

As Member of Judicial Committee of Privy Council.

CHANCELLOR STRATHCONA

Canada's High Commissioner to Be Installed as Chancellor of Aberdeen University.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, July 14. — Sir Henri E. Taschereau heard his first case as a member of the Privy Council to-day. The case in question was that between the Toronto Street Railway and the City of Toronto, which has been fought through the lower courts and has been several years in litigation. The issues arise out of the agreement between the city and the company, under which the company holds its franchise, and the chief point in dispute is the right of the City Engineer to control the time-table of the company and the laying of new lines of railway in the city. Hon. R. B. Haldane, of London, and Mr. Bicknell, of Toronto, appeared for the company, and Messrs. Christopher Robinson and Fullerton, of Toronto, for the city. Judgment was reserved by their Lordships.

MORE EMIGRATION FRAUDS.

A Russian Jew named Wrought has been sentenced at Dublin to twelve months' hard labour for obtaining money from the people of Leeds, on the ground that he was manager of the Canada Society. He announced passages to Canada for one pound, and in addition advertised that work would be provided in any town with house rent free, as nobody paid anything in Canada.

CHANCELLOR STRATHCONA.

Lord Strathcona will be installed as chancellor of Aberdeen University on Wednesday next. The installation will be an exceptional event, being the first installation of a chancellor in forty years. The four hundredth anniversary of the university will be celebrated in September, 1905, when representatives are invited from institutions of learning throughout Greater Britain.

LONDON GLOBE IS CONVERTED.

The Evening Globe acknowledges that Canada's wheat crop this year will be sufficient to feed the United Kingdom, irrespective of the United States, but adds that we are not likely to be called upon to make this exclusion.

WILL ENQUIRE AS TO RUSSIA'S ACTION.

General Laurie, M.P., will interrogate the Government on Monday in regard to the overhauling of British vessels in the Red Sea by a Russian volunteer fleet.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES.

The final meeting of the Newfoundland fisheries convention at Downing Street will be held on Tuesday next.

LOU SCHOLES' RETURN.

Lou Scholes, the Toronto sculler, who won the Diamond sculls at Henley, will sail for Canada on the Arabic to-morrow.

SIR WILFRID AGREED WITH CONSERVATIVES.

Agreed With Opposition That Agriculture Committee Should Rise When House Sits.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, July 14. — A little incident occurred in the House this morning at the expense of Mr. Parmelee and a number of our Liberal members.

Mr. Parmelee offered a motion that the Committee on Agriculture have leave to sit during the sittings of the House.

The Opposition protested that the committee had not asked such permission, whereupon half a dozen Liberal members, one after the other, spoke in favour of the motion. When they were all through, Sir Wilfrid Laurier arose and expressed his agreement with the view taken by the Conservatives. His surprised followers acquiesced in silence.

Mr. Clancy was informed that no rebate was paid to distillers in Canada for the fiscal year 1896, for Indian corn imported and used in the manufacture of spirits.

Mr. Taylor was told by Mr. Prefontaine that fifteen lighthouses between Montreal and Kingston have been changed from oil-burners to acetylene gas. As a result the services of a number of light keepers have been dispensed with, but Mr. Prefontaine did not say how many.

The House then proceeded to concur in the items of the estimates which have been passed in committee.

After concurrence the rest of the morning was spent discussing Mr. Maclean's proposal to place express companies under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission.

THE CONSERVATIVE WHIP HONOURED.

Mr. George Taylor Presented With Gold Headed Cane and a Scarf Pin.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, July 14.—Mr. George Taylor, M.P., chief whip of the Conservative party, was to-day presented by the Conservative members with a gold headed cane and a scarf pin as a mark of the warm regard in which he is held personally, and as a testimony of their appreciation of his services to the party.

The event took place in room No. 6, the Conservative headquarters, and the presentation was made by Mr. R. L. Borden, who spoke briefly.

Mr. Borden referred to the trials and tribulations of a party whip, who was often abused both to his face and behind his back for his many faults and shortcomings. Therefore it was well that the whip should be occasionally stimulated to renewed activity by some testimony of appreciation. In this view the Conservatives desired Mr. Taylor to accept the present as a recognition of his indefatigable industry and devotion.

Mr. Taylor replied briefly accepting the mark of esteem as offered and saying that he would place the cane alongside of one which he had at home. One which was carried all his life by Sir John Macdonald. "I have quarrelled occasionally with the boys," said Mr. Taylor, "but it was never my fault, it was always the other fellow's." A remark which was greeted with much laughter.

THE JAPANESE BEWILDER ENEMIES

Their Movements in Manchuria Puzzle the Russians.

KUROPATKIN IN DANGER

There Are Signs In St. Petersburg That the People are Becoming Discouraged.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

New Chwang, July 14. — General Kuropatkin seems in danger of being shut up in Tatchekiao. The Russians are bewildered by the Japanese movements, which are swift and unexpected. The Russian General had elaborately planned to fight a great battle at Tatchekiao to-day, but to his surprise the affair did not come off. The Japanese made a feint against Taipingshan, and the Muscovite leader finally discovered that the enemy, instead of giving battle, had marched eastward across his front, taking up a position on some hills to the east of Tatchekiao. To the north of Tatchekiao, in the direction of Hai Cheng and Liao Yang, the Japanese forces are moving in three bodies, while a large fresh reinforcement is advancing toward Tatchekiao from below Kaiping. The Russians remain in their positions dazed and puzzled, to know what all this means. The fact that the Japanese have made no attempt to occupy this city seems to mystify them still more. Only a few Russian troops are here now.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Tokio, July 14.—Some of the newspapers here issued extras this morning announcing that Yin Kow had been occupied by the Japanese troops. The report is not confirmed officially. Yin Kow is the port of New Chwang, and its occupation would enable the Mikado's men to clear the Liao river of the Russian mines, after which gunboats and provision boats could follow the army in its advance northward.

ARE RUSSIANS DISCOURAGED?

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Discouragement is beginning to manifest itself, even in the most obstinate partisans of the war, who realize that Russia is extraordinarily backward politically as well as economically and socially, and there is not much chance that she will be able to draw herself together in time to defeat the Japanese. It is reported that M. Witte, Minister of Finance, stated in the cabinet recently that Russia was already beaten, and could not be prepared to retrieve its position in the far east for ten years. Nevertheless, the mobilization of the male population of the empire continues and the plans of the Government gave no hint of relaxation of the effort to concentrate an overwhelming striking force in southern Manchuria.

WRECKED STEAMER ISLANDER LOCATED IN DEEP WATER.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Vancouver, B.C., July 14. — The Neptune Salvage Company, of Tacoma, has located the wrecked C.P.R. steamer Islander by the use of a patent diving bell in over three hundred feet of water. The divers have been down three times to her in the bell. She is reported to be intact. There is a big hole in the bow, but she can be raised. She struck an iceberg in Douglas Channel on August 15, 1902, returning from Skagway with one hundred passengers and half a million in gold. Forty persons were drowned.

RUSSIANS ANNOYED OVER THE NEW TREATY.

St. Petersburg, July 14. — The general impression here is that the Anglo-German arbitration treaty signed on Tuesday may be followed soon by a similar arrangement between Russia and Great Britain. The Novoe Vremya alone of the St. Petersburg newspapers receives the news of the Anglo-German treaty with bad temper, asking what all these arbitration treaties amount to when nothing but the sound of firing is heard all over the world.

Will Hold Boxing Bouts.

New York, July 14.—A despatch to the World from Philadelphia says: Preparations are being made to hold the Fitzsimmons-O'Brien bout here next Saturday night. The fight was stopped by Mayor Weaver last Friday afternoon a few hours before the men were scheduled to enter the ring.

Mayor Weaver took this step upon being told that the contest would come under the head of a prize fight instead of a boxing exhibition. It was reported last night that former Mayor Warwick, acting for the promoters, will to-day or Friday secure an injunction against the mayor restraining him from interfering with the bout. Should the injunction be secured, it is proposed to have Fitzsimmons and O'Brien meet at the Philadelphia Ball Park next Saturday night.

Promotion for Mr. John Tait.

Winnipeg, July 14.—The announcement made yesterday that Mr. John Tait, city manager for the C. P. R. telegraphs, has been promoted to the position of assistant superintendent of the central and western divisions, under General Superintendent B. S. Jenkins, Mr. Tait is one of the most popular telegraph officials in western Canada, and the news of his promotion will be received with delight by his many friends.

Forty-three of the crew of the Cunard steamship Pannonia deserted a few hours before the time she was to sail from Fiume, Austria, with emigrants for New York. The captain reported the matter to the British consul, and 25 of the deserters were forced to return. The rest [illegible] voluntarily.

WESTERN CATTLE MAY COME HERE

Butchers Strike in Chicago May Bring Cattle to Be Slaughtered.

NO CHANGE IN THE PRICES

Retailers Claim That Tie-Up Has Not Yet Affected the Local Market.

The great butchers' strike in Chicago has not yet had any appreciable effect on the price of meat in Montreal.

Prices have not fluctuated to any extent, and what fluctuation there has been may be attributed to market conditions rather than to the struggle now being waged in the Windy City.

Mr. Alfred Richard said to the Star to-day that if the strike was prolonged there was a possibility that prices might drop and that Western cattle which could not be slaughtered in Chicago would come across the border. In the opinion of Mr. Richard, cattle might be shipped to Montreal to be slaughtered, and this would have the effect of lowering the retail price of meat in this city.

The manager of the Laing Packing Co. said to the Star that there had been no change in prices at present, and there was no change in sight at the moment.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERVURY MAY PREACH

Special to the Montreal Star.

Quebec, July 14.—If the Archbishop of Canterbury lands at Quebec as expected, about the 26th of August, it is hoped by Bishop Dunn, of Quebec, that he will occupy the pulpit of the English Cathedral here on Sunday, August 28th, which will be exactly 200 years to-day from the date of the consecration of the sacred edifice. The centenary was to be celebrated here with great eclat, but has been deferred for one year, when the General Synod of the Dominion will be in session here.

Two Negroes Were Hanged.

Pittsburg, July 14. — Two negroes, Frank Ousley and John Johnston, were hanged together to-day in the county gaol yard. Both men marched to the scaffold and with one pull of the lever were dropped to their death. Just as the trap was sprung, a member of the jury and two spectators fainted. Johnston and Ousley were hanged for the murder of James Donnelly, a grocer, on the night of last New Year's eve, in the presence of his daughter and aged father-in-law.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANG[illegible]

Afternoon

STOCK MARKET CONTINUES STRONG

Dom. Iron Bonds Reflected Improvement on Strike Situation.

TRACTION ISSUES HIGHER

Detroit United Had the Most Notable Advance—Can. dian Pacific Fraction Off.

Stock market conditions continued favourable to-day for advancing prices, and with very few exception changes for the better amounted from small fractions to a point. There was nothing in the way of news to influence the market beyond a continuation of the broad feeling of improvement which pervades Wall street. There appeared to be no stocks pressing for sale, and sellers were not in a mood to do anything under some advances.

Another day passed without any more of the liquidation which proved such a disturbing element for some time past. It is generally felt that the market has seen the worst of that sort of thing for a time at least, although there are still some pessimistic ones who have had their faith so badly shaken that they can see no good in anything.

IMPROVEMENT IN IRON.

One of the most striking improvements was in Dominion Iron bonds, doubtless due to the better feeling created by the statements coming from Sydney to the effect that the strikers are becoming discouraged and are beginning to weaken and drift back to work. Reports of prospective improvement in the iron and steel market would also be helpful to the market for that security. At 59 the bonds sold a full point above yesterday's closing price, which constitutes the highest since the depression due to the unsettled feeling caused by the casting of doubts regarding the payment of the half-yearly interest prior to the first of July. The common stock was also firmer in sympathy, selling at 8¾ to 9.

TRACTION ISSUES HIGHER.

Traction issues, which are influenced by the New York market, such as Twin City, Detroit United and Toledo Electric, were all conspicuous in the strength. Detroit has been more especially brought to the notice of the public through the medium of a brokerage house, which has made a specialty of the stock, and it has advanced to 64, the previous transaction in this market two or three days ago having been at 62. Toledo touched 21, the highest in some time, and Twins strengthened to 95⅝. Canadian tractions showed small changes, Toronto Railway at 99¾ and Montreal Street at 207.

LOCAL ISSUES FIRM.

In such domestic issues as Montreal Power and Richelieu, there was also strength displayed. The former sold up to 75 after opening at 74⅝. Richelieu was fractionally better at 72¼. Nova Scotia Steel continued firm at 65¼, an improvement of the fraction. Dominion Coal opened at 43½ and sold up to 44, a full point better than yesterday, but at the forenoon close sold at 43⅝. Mackay common was strong at 24¼. Canadian Pacific was an exception to the general tone of the market, being fractionally easier in sympathy with Wall Street transactions in both markets, being at 125⅛.

HEAVIER DEALINGS IN WALL STREET.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star in Wall Street.

New York, July 14.—Early transactions in the stock market to-day were generally effected at a fractionally lower range of prices than prevailed in yesterday's closing dealings. There was no particular explanation of the change in the market's tone, except that estimates of the wheat harvest were published, setting forth a heavily reduced yield, as compared with estimates based on the Government report. American stocks in London were irregular also, and some selling for foreign account was conducted here. Anthracite coalers were exceptionally firm, and United States steel securities were likewise stronger than market in general.

Trading was in large volume and well distributed. Profit taking by professional element was reported in nearly all quarters, and considering the reversal of position, trading showed unexpected power of absorption. Other active features of the railway list than those mentioned, were Union and Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Atchison and Pennsylvania. It was still the common expectation, that the Northern Securities' decision might be handed down to-day, although there was no certainty felt in that respect. Traction stocks were not prominent, and moved in line with other quarters of the market. Canadian Pacific was dull and steady, its sales to 1 o'clock 500 shares.

GOSSIP OVER WIRES FROM WALL STREET.

J. S. Bache & Co.—The market had an erratic opening and profit taking was in evidence in the grangers. The accounts from Kansas, Nebraska and other states were rather bad, and this caused lots of uneasiness in Atchison, Union Pacific and others. However, this was not pronounced, and a sharp rally in Copper steadied the market.

E. and C. Randolph.—The decline did not go very far. Prices soon showed a tendency to rally, and at present, although somewhat under the best, the market shows no sign of weakness.

Laidlaw and Co.—Commission house business has shown a further enlargement, and the public now seems to be willing to buy stocks on all reactions.

Burnett and Co.—The advance in U. P. has had at least the passive support of powerful banking interest more or less connected with the company. While there is no doubt that these interests have been very active in the market, it does not appear that so far they have taken advantage of the rise to sell stocks.

J. B. Picken and Co.—Steel stocks have been taken in hand on reports of good earnings, and London has been quite a buyer of both common and preferred.

Charles Head and Co.—While the reaction in the general market was in progress in the first hour, an aggressive buying movement developed in Amal-Copper, which carried the price from 51⅝ to 52⅞, and the advance was accompanied by a revival of the rumours of settlement, although there does not appear to be any basis for this any more than in the past.

New York Syndicate Gets Loan.

Philadelphia, July 14.—Mayor Weaver has accepted the bid of J. & W. Seligman & Co., representing a New York syndicate, for the $16,000,000 loan of the city of Philadelphia, bearing 3½ per cent. interest and payable in 30 years. Their bid was 101.036.

Detroit United Weekly Earnings.

Detroit United Railway earnings for the first week of July were $103,420, an increase of $2,170.

The management of the Canadian Pacific Railway is credited in the "Street" with an ambition to average a million dollars in gross earnings each week during the fiscal year entered on the first of this month, which would mean gross of $52,000,000 for the year. This appears like a very large proposition, as it means an increase of something like five and a half millions over the gross of the past fiscal year. The start for the first week of July, with approximate receipts of $1,012,000 is an encouraging sign, however, as the company has never before shown such earnings for the same period.

For the fiscal year of 1902-03, the C.P.R. gross earnings were $43,957,373, and for the year just ended they have been figured at approximately $46,500,000, an increase of about two millions and a half. If the company performs the feat of running at the rate of a million a week for the fifty-two weeks of the year, it will necessitate doubling the proportion of increase shown during 1903-04. The outlook is good for its accomplishment. The influx of settlers into the territory served by the road continues, the crop outlook is excellent, and a crisk fall and winter business is in fair prospect throughout the Dominion.

It is announced that the Lake Superior Company, which is now rapidly getting the different works of that big concern into operation again, will be able to commence manufacturing steel rails in about three weeks, and if the company is able to secure an order from the Ontario Government for the Temiskaming Railway, they will be able to fill it promptly. With the Dominion Iron and Steel Company also getting into shape to turn out rails, there is great promise of an important addition to the manufacturing capabilities of the Dominion. When the manufacturers demonstrate that they can turn out the goods the Government has arranged to give them protection against foreign manufacturers to the extent of $7 per ton.

All the vessels of the Algoma Central Steamship Company, which is the Lake wing of the great "Soo" industries, have been placed in commission within the past week, and this is taken as a sure sign of returning activity in the various enterprises. The six freighters and three passenger boats owned by the company did not turn a wheel since last fall until within the past few days.

Thomas Lowry, president of the Twin City Rapid Transit Co., and of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company, says that just before he left Minneapolis he saw despatches from the principal points along the line of the "Soo" system which indicated that the crops never promised better at this season of the year than they do now. Barring unfavourable weather conditions, he expects large crops in the 'Soo" territory this year. The "Soo" directors will meet probably in August or September to take action on the semi-annual dividends on both classes of stocks. The regular rates of 3½ per cent. on the preferred and 2 per cent. on the common will be declared and paid as usual about October 15. President Lowry says that the outlook for the Twin City Company is bright. He also states that he has no information regarding the reports that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is about to issue $20,000,000 or $25,000,000 new common stock.

Firm Market in Toronto.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, July 14.—The Toronto market opened firm again this morning, but early dealings were in small lots with buyers hesitating. Coal was firm early touching 43⅞, a gain of ⅜. Nova Scotia Steel also showed a slight advance on sales of a few small lots. Some demand was in evidence for Mackay issues. Tractions showed firmer, both Sao Paulo and Twin City selling fractionally higher. C. P. R. opened heavy at ⅛ point decline. Forenoon transactions were:

Copper Prices in London.

J. S. Bache & Co., New York, send their Montreal manager, Mr. C. D. Monk, the following London copper prices:

London, spot, copper, £57 6s 3d, adv. 1s 3d; futures, £57 3s 9d, adv. 3s 3d; market firm.

Nova Scotia's New Loan.

There was brought out in London on the 29th of June, under the auspices of the National Provincial Bank of England, an issue of £650,000 by the Province of Nova Scotia. Scarcely any details are to hand as to the measure of success that attended the flotation of this loan. The Montreal papers have not contained above five lines of print in reference to the event. All that is stated is that the Attorney-General in Halifax has received word from Premier Murray, who is in London, intimating that the loan has been floated. The rate was not mentioned.

Some idea as to the reception likely to have been accorded it by the public is to be had in the cabled reports of the fate of the last Cape of Good Hope loan put out on the English market. If among the colonies of the British Empire there is one which has disputed with Canada the right to the premier place on the securities list, that one is the Cape of Good Hope. And if the advantage latterly has seemed to lie with the Dominion, one of the principal reasons is that the Cape has been a steady borrower, while the Dominion has consistently held aloof from the parlours of the money-lenders. Yet, notwithstanding its pre-eminent place, and notwithstanding that those in charge of the affair offered terms which they believed would prove attractive to investors, the result of the flotation was that the public subscribed for only 28 per cent. of the issue, leaving the underwriters to provide for the remainder.

BIG DEMANDS FOR CAPITAL.

This signal failure is not put down to shortcomings in the grade of credit of the security offered, but is ascribed altogether to the enormous demands for capital impending in the British market. Quite probably there will be further loans brought out shortly in the interests of Russia and Japan. Indeed the news yesterday is to the effect that Berlin is to provide the first named power with some $60,000,000 at an early date. Although London would be more directly affected by a Japanese than by a Russian loan, still it is not possible for Paris or Berlin to bring out very large issues without London feeling the effects. It is usually found to be necessary to draw home credits from London to prepare for the operation. Besides this, London has a very extensive issue of waterworks securities to finance shortly. The despatch about the Cape of Good Hope loan ends by saying that London bankers are more pleased than not by its poor success, believing that it will serve as a warning to many importunate municipalities and colonial governments.

In the face of circumstances like these, it is not easy to see how the issue of a Canadian province could prove to be a great success, even if it were a 3½ per cent. debenture issued at 94. So far as Nova Scotia is concerned, there is probably no province in the Dominion whose credit is higher, and none whose finances are in better shape. In connection with the loan, the statement of the province's liabilities as at 30th September, 1903, is interesting. It is as follows:

Debentures payable in Halifax	$2,468,500
Debentures payable in London	1,717,933
Temporary loans in London	542,000
Due banks in Halifax	114,515
	$4,884,948

Against these are assets amounting to $1,556,141, of which $1,056,111 represents Dominion of Canada debt account, and $425,000 a first mortgage on Halifax and South-Western Railway Company, known as the Central Railway.

POSITION OF THE BANK.

Very probably the expenditure on account of the railroad along the south shore had resulted in materially increasing the size of the temporary loans in London between the date of the statement and the issue of the debentures at the end of last month. Presumably the loans from the Canadian banks would be wiped out by the Dominion subsidy of $216,402 on the 1st January. There would exist, therefore, a situation something like this: The National Provincial Bank of England, a creditor of the province in a considerable sum, undertakes to float bonds of the province in sufficient quantity to liquidate the province's debt and to provide it with funds to proceed with its railway enterprise.

It can fairly be assumed that the National Provincial Bank would take a large part of the responsibility connected with the flotation. As an underwriter, if this assumption is correct, that bank would doubtless have the option of taking over the bonds at several points under the price at which they were publicly offered. At 90 they would yield nearly 4 per cent., which is exceedingly good for a security of such a high grade. Beyond a temporary lock up of funds the underwriters are not likely to suffer loss from the Nova Scotia loan, even if it so happened that they were obliged to take quite a lot of it on account of the backwardness of the public.

NOVA SCOTIA'S REVENUE.

For the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1903, the province's expenditure, apart from capital, amounted to $1,243,581. The chief items in that total were:

Education	$264,931
Debenture Interest	147,417
Public Charities	*146,568
Crown Lands	90,397
Road Grants to Municipalities	88,058
Legislative Expenses	54,299

* Less revenue, $60,971.
 Less revenue, $62,497.

The main revenue, of course, is derived from two sources, royalties and the Dominion subsidy. The former provided $618,834, less $52,154 refunded; the latter, $432,805.

The outlook at present is that the mines will continue to increase their output, and, no doubt, the Nova Scotia Government anticipates that from that source alone the extra $100,00 0required for carrying the new loan of one hundred odd thousand pounds will be forthcoming. Everybody recognizes that Nova Scotia is rich and prosperous. Some people say she is too prosperous for her own good; and that prosperity may breed extravagance. When in easy circumstances it is not as easy for a Government or a Legislature to stick to careful economical habits as it is for an individual. But if there is one thing calculated to instil economy into the minds of the people responsible for the public financing, it is a harsh and unsympathetic money market, and the money market of to-day comes most decidedly under that description.

Activity in Boston Market.

Boston, July 14.—The local market has been very active to-day and rather irregular. Telephone sold at 128¾ and 129. The railroads are quiet this morning. Coal sold at 43⅝ and 43¾. No sales of Iron.

Bank of England Weekly Statement.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

Total reserve, increased £451,000; circulation, decreased £578,000; bullion decreased £127,312; other securities, decreased £2,858,000; other deposits, decreased £1,211,000; public deposits, decreased £1,192,000; notes reserve, increased £478,000; Government securities, unchanged.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 49.73 per cent., as compared with 46.45 per cent. last week.

DAILY COMMERCIAL MARKETS AND QUOTATIONS.

CHEESE MARKET HOLDS FIRM BUT STEADY.

Butter Showed a Slightly Firmer Tendency—No Change in Rest of Market.

CHEESE.—Country markets developed rather more strength yesterday, 7⅝c being the lowest figure paid, and 7 11-16c being refused by factorymen, who demand 7¾c and more. There is very little doubt that the firmness of the market is merely due to the demand by shorts to cover purchases for the first half of July, and, if so, the market is very apt to show an easier tendency next week or perhaps at the end of this week. On the other hand, if the firmness is due to orders for current trade, from the other side, the market is likely to hold firm. Merchants here declare that they are not receiving orders at equal to present prices, and that trade is dull. Prices continue about steady. A trader who was out through the market this forenoon, stated that he could have purchased any quantity of finest Ontarios at 7⅜ to 8c. Townships being offered at 7¾c, and Quebecs at 7½ to 7⅝c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 15,429 boxes.

BUTTER. — Some exporters thought they noticed a rather firmer tone to the butter market this morning. Cables from the other side brought very few orders with them, but the enquiry showed an awakening, and it is hoped that business will result in some cases. Stocks held here are very heavy at present, but prices are considered low, as the quality of the butter is generally very fine. Finest Townships may still be had at 17¼ to 17½c, and Quebecs at about 17c. It was said that there was some very good Ontario creamery offering at about 16¾c, and that dairy tubs had sold at 14 to 14⅛c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 6,566 packages.

EGGS—The market is firm, receipts continueing on the light side. As a general thing, merchants are paying 13¾ to 14c at country points, but a few firms have exceeded these figures, in some cases, by ½c, in order to secure the stock. Straight receipts range from 15¼ to 15¾c, when fine, some having sold at 15c. Straight candled bring around 16¼c. No. 2 stock is not wanted, and might be quoted at 12½c for average.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 582 cases.

POTATOES—The rains of the past few days were welcomed in the vicinity of Montreal for their effect on the crops of potatoes. Stock is still small, but is expected to increase from this forward. Prices are steady, farmers being paid $3 per 180 pound barrel, and $1.20 per 80 lb. bag. Old stock is very scarce and farmers are being paid about 30 to 50c per bag of 90 lbs.

BEANS.—The market is dull and easy. Choice prime peas are about $1.30 per bushel in car lots on track, and $1.35 to $1.40 for broken lots, in store.

POTASH.—With rather freer receipts, potash is selling at $6.05 to $6.15 for firsts, second being worth $5.50 per 100 lbs. No pearl ashes here.

SAVES THE DYING

Doctors didn't Give Mrs. James long to live—but Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart foiled them and cured her.

For fifteen years Mrs. John A. James, of Wiarton, Ont., was a great sufferer from Heart Disease. For days at a time she was confined to bed, and it seemed as though every breath might be her last. Her physicians said that she might "drop off" any minute. With woman's tenacity in suffering, and believing that "while there's life there's hope," she started using Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Three bottles cured her.

This remedy relieves in thirty minutes and cures every form of heart disease and nervousness.

MONTREAL GROCERS' PICNIC.

Big Procession and Good Programme of Races.

The Montreal Grocers' Association held their twenty-fourth annual picnic yesterday. As the weather was all that could be desired, the outing proved one of the most enjoyable yet held. There was a large attendance of local grocers and their families, as well as of many visitors from outside points.

The programme of the day was opened by a procession of delivery waggons through the principal streets of Montreal. Many of the carts were handsomely decorated, and presented a natty appearance.

In the afternoon, crowds thronged the Delorimier Park, where a long and varied programme of sports, consisting of races of every description from steeplechases to buggy and delivery waggon races, was gone through.

In the contest of "Greek versus Greek," between members of the police force and the firemen, the latter won. There were nineteen events altogether, all of which came off with the utmost regularity, except in one case of the auto race, which was cancelled, owing to an insufficient number of entries.

The first prize for the best equipped delivery waggon, was awarded to Mr. E. M. St. Denis. Mr. J. A. Fortier received the second prize, while the third was given to Mr. N. Robidoux, of St. Henri.

The pleasure seekers dispersed at 7 o'clock in the evening, satisfied with the day's outing.

Mr. Colin McKay's Return.

Mr. Colin McKay, the well-known writer of sea stories, who has been on a cruise to the British West Indies and South America, returned to Montreal to-day. The Economic Association, of which he was formerly president, will hold a complimentary meeting to-night, at which Mr. McKay will describe his experiences as a sailor aboard "a lime-juice tramp."

CHIEF WILL ARREST

JAPS ADVANCING ON NEW CHWANG

Report of Disaster at Port Arthur Is Not Believed.

RECENT ARRIVALS AT CHE FOO

Have Nothing to Say in Confirmation of the Statements Made by the Russians.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Steadily and cautiously General Oku's army from the south and General Nodzu's army, from the east, are closing in upon Ta Tche Kiao, where General Kuropatkin is reported to be entrenching. Nine hundred and thirty thousand men are involved in the movement. The next few days will determine whether and to what extent General Kuropatkin intends to make a stand at Ta Tche Kiao, the possession of which, by the Japanese, would compel the immediate evacuation of New Chwang.

The outposts of the armies are scarcely fifteen miles apart. The slowness of the advance is apparently due to the natural difficulties in the way of a rapid movement of the Japanese Eastern flanking columns.

Lieut.-General Sakharoff reports that General Kuroki is massing his troops near the Pkhanlin pass and moving out by both roads upon Hai Cheng. Heavy pressure from this quarter would render Ta Tche Kiao untenable.

All the Japanese energies now seem to be concentrated on Ta Tche Kiao and Hai Cheng. The operations to the north, which, throughout May, have been feints, have been suddenly suspended.

The growing activity of Chinese bandits in the valley of the Liao River at this critical moment means additional embarrassment to General Kuropatkin.

The usually well-informed military critic of the Russky Viedomosti believes that General Kuropatkin is deliberately surrendering his Southern positions like that of Kai Chou for the purpose of drawing on the Japanese into the open country at or above Ta Tche Kiao, where the Russians will be able to deploy large forces and to derive full advantage from their superior cavalry. He attributes General Oku's advance to the necessity of helping General Nodzu, whose divisions are stalled in the Chapan and Dalin passes on account of transport difficulties and to the stubborn resistance of General Zarpubaieff, commander of the fourth Siberian army corps, whose forces will have to be cleared out before a Southern advance is made.

The critic thinks the Japanese game of strategy is to effect a juncture between Nodzu and Oku in order to force Kuropatkin to the northward, and if this plan should be successful to combine with Kuroki near Liao Yang.

REPORT FROM SAKHAROFF.

The general staff has received a despatch from Gen. Sakharoff, dated July 12, reporting that the Japanese on July 10, commenced to construct field works on the heights between the railway line and the road from Kai Chou to Ta Tche Kiao. Japanese outposts were observed on July 11, between Madinkau and Sangaisha, and skirmishing occurred on July 11, between the advance guards near the village of Sia Dian Tsia. The Japanese retired when the Russians were reinforced.

A Japanese detachment of one battalion of infantry and three squadrons of cavalry was discovered about eight miles north-east of Kai Chou.

Gen. Sakharoff also reports that the Japanese are throwing up earthworks on the heights on both sides of Kheion. A Japanese force is encamped on the road between St Mou Cheng and Feng Wang Cheng, and its advance guard has occupied the valley of the Saukhe River.

Gen. Sakharoff adds that a number of outpost engagements have taken place in different directions with trifling losses on both sides, and indicating the persistent advance of the Japanese. He says there is no change in the position in the direction of Ta Pass of Hai Cheng.

Bands of Chinese bandits are active in the neighbourhood of Liao Yang. The Russian sentinels exchanged shots with them.

At the front with General Kuroki's Forces, July 14—(Via eoul, Corea, July 13.)—The brief and disastrous attempt of the Russians to overwhelm the small Japanese force which guarded the entrance to Mo-Tien Pass, was a bloody affair. The Japanese troops again exhibited their resourcefulness and courage, and the Russians again threw away many lives. The losses cannot be ascertained until the battlefield has been searched. The Japanese are still driving the enemy up the valley. A correspondent saw enough to justify the estimate that the Russians had more than two hundred men killed or wounded, and that the Japanese casualties probably will amount to 60.

The Russians left 30 dead in front of and in the trench where the attack began. At this point they had an equal number of men, severely wounded, and the Japanese took several prisoners and captured one hundred rifles.

Mo-Tien Pass opens up a funnel shaped slope, which rises for a quarter of a mile from the valley, and which is flanked by hills. Thirty-six Japanese were quartered in a Chinese house near the bottom of the hill, and two companies of Japanese soldiers were in a trench a hundred yards long, located on the summit of the hill, which commanded the approach. Two other companies of soldiers slept near this trench.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, in complete darkness and with a heavy fog enshrouding the hills, two battalions of the Tenth and Twenty-fourth Siberian regiments, together with one hundred cavalrymen, approached the Japanese position.

When the fighting began the building where the outposts were quartered became a slaughter house. The Japanese, aroused from their sleep by the enemy, set their swords and bayonets to resist the attack. The Russians were at such close quarters with the Japanese that it was impossible for the latter to use their rifles. The first fighting in the trenches and in front of the trench was hand-to-hand, and the Japanese, who ran out to man the trench, were but half clothed. The first Russian onslaught was repelled, but the Russians charged twice again within half an hour. The remainder of the Japanese regiment, however, to which the outposts and the companies at the trench belonged, reinforced their comrades and began to drive the Russians back. As soon as it was sufficiently light to distinguish the enemy, two hours after the beginning of the fight, the Japanese forced the Russians to retreat one mile down the valley.

The trench and its approach and the hillsides were thickly covered with dead and wounded. Blood spattered stones and grass everywhere testified to the hotness of the fighting.

Chinese stretcher bearers, impassive under the hopping bullets, collected the wounded and carried them to an improvised hospital in a roadside temple, where they were laid out in rows under huge painted and plastered gods. Japanese details, with trenching spades, were burying the dead where they fell, and Japanese soldiers were bringing water to their own and Russian wounded and impartially giving to the wounded men, irregardless of nationality. The firing continued during the afternoon, but gradually the sound grew distant, indicating that the Russians were still retreating.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—The rumour of the Japanese disaster at Port Arthur brought a large number of enquirers to the offices of the General Staff. The attitude of the officials there did not tend to encourage belief in the report and impressed many persons with the fear that the fall of Port Arthur is imminent and that the story of a disaster had been launched to mitigate the effect of anticipated loss of the fortress. It is reported that the staff has received a despatch from Gen. Stoessel, commanding the Port Arthur garrison, stating definitely that the prospect of the place holding out has been materially lessened since the Japanese are has not yet been explained. Possibly the report was intercepted by wireless telegraphy, but it is more likely that it came from the Russian consul at Tien Tsin.

A full report on the subject from Lieut.-General Stoessel (commander of the military forces at Port Arthur) is awaited with the greatest interest.

FRANK J. MAGUIRE RELEASED FROM CUSTODY.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, July 14.—After having spent a whole month in gaol, Frank J. Maguire, who hailed from New York, was last evening, by order of the Chief Justice of Manitoba, released from custody. His extradition was asked for by the American Government on a charge of having forged the name of Mary Maguire, his mother, of Auburn, N.Y., to a $100 note, which had been given to a Cincinnati firm. His lordship refused to order the surrender of the accused on the ground that the evidence tendered by the district attorney of Cayuga County was not sufficient to warrant him in committing Maguire for trial, even had the alleged offence been committed in Manitoba. The prosecution did not establish that the placing of his mother's name to the note was not authorized by her.

London, Ont., July 14. — Oscar Weincke, of New York, was arrested in this city on Wednesday, after having been a fugitive from justice for four years. He is wanted in New York for the forgery and embezzlement of over $12,000 from the firm of Witall, Taturn & Company, stock brokers of which C. H. Lester is manager. Weincke, who was recognized in Detroit on Sunday by a Pinkerton detective, had so changed in appearance that to make sure of his identity it was necessary to telegraph for J. P. Monaghan, an employe of the New York firm, to come up and identify him. Weincke was registered at the Tecumseh House as O. Weber, of Detroit, but when confronted with Monaghan he confessed his identity.

I have been the victim to the most terrible spells of headache since I can remember (inherited). For years I have never missed a week without a day off with this terrible disease. Had tried all known remedies with but little relief. Recently while having a bad spell, I was induced to try a new remedy just brought to my attention called Zutoo Tablets, with but little faith. To my surprise I found myself entirely relieved in less than 10 minutes. Have since used them with same results. Have also given them to a member of my family afflicted in the same manner, with the same good effect. In fact, they think a permanent cure has been brought about. Unlike most remedies, no bad or disagreeable effects follow their use.

I want to heartily recommend Zutoo Tablets to all who suffer with headache, from whatever cause.

ANGLO-CANADIAN COMMERCIAL MUSEUM.

The importance of the West Indies as an appreciable outlet for Canadian industry is well known. It is pleasurable, therefore, to note that an Anglo-Canadian Commercial Museum is shortly to be established at Kingston, Jamaica, B.W.I., where it is hoped Canadian goods may be largely exhibited at a minimum of individual cost and worry. It is felt that this permanent exhibition and sale rooms for the food products and manufactures of Canada will supply to traders and consumers in the markets in question the much needed opportunity throughout the year for inspecting and obtaining importations from the Dominion regarding the goods in which they may be interested. Everything will be done to interest the local trader and reach the actual consumer, with a view of aggressively diverting trade into Canadian channels. Arrangements can be made for the sale of food products, and the handling of further consignments, as also the sale and booking of orders for any articles exhibited or catalogued. Correspondents may order direct, but agencies, if desirable, can be arranged. All sample shipments and exhibits, addressed "Anglo-Canadian Commercial Museum," Kingston, Ja.—together with the name and address of the exhibitor—through the courtesy of Messrs. Pickford & Black, steamship agents, Halifax, will be conveyed hence free of all freight charges. All local incidental expenses are inclusive of space charges. It is contemplated to open the first series of the Canadian section on or about the 1st September, 1904. But, while there is no time limit for the acceptance of exhibits, space being limited, it will necessarily be a case of "first come first served."

Few Quail in Ireland.

Quail at one time a very common game bird in Ireland is now rarely or never seen. This year, however, in the northern counties of Antrim and Tyrone, the bird has been frequently heard, and its peculiar cry of "wet-my-foot" has been welcomed, as it is hoped there may be a chance of this once familiar bird coming back to its old habitat again. At the time, some fifty or sixty years ago, when quail were plentiful, there were no partridges, but whether the latter birds are responsible for driving them away or not, cannot be said, as the quail has the reputation of being able to hold his own against all comers.

JEWS BRING SUIT AGAINST THE CITY.

Because They Were Required to Prove Their British Citizenship.

A suit for $100 has been entered against the city by Messrs. Jacobs & Garneau to see whether or not the corporation has the right to make Jews and others with foreign names prove that they are naturalized citizens before being put on the voters' lists. It is claimed this course is not pursued with other citizens, the result being hardship and injustice to the Hebrews.

When spoken to last night, City Attorney Ethier said he would be very much surprised to hear that any injustice had been done by the assessors in the way claimed. He added it seemed strange that the alleged discrimination had not been pointed out before, and that the parties interested had waited a year before taking action. If the assessors had sent out notices to those they suspected of being foreigners, it was the only way the assessors had of getting that information. They could not guess it.

REFUSE TO AMEND THE AUDIT ACT

Government Votes Down Motion to Extend Auditor-General's Powers.

CORNWALL CANAL CONTRACT

Mr. Borden Accepts Mr. Fitzpatrick's Offer for Committee on the Correspondence.

Special Staff Correspondence.

The Press Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, July 14.—Mr. R. L. Borden's motion to amend the Audit Act, so as to preserve the powers of the Auditor-General, was voted down yesterday by the supporters of the Government. The Davis contract for the lighting of the Cornwall canal also came in for some criticism, but the discussion of this subject remained unfinished. The Government was granted one-fifth of the estimates which have not yet been passed, this being rendered necessary because the fiscal year begins on the first of July.

THE AUDITOR-GENERAL'S POWERS.

Mr. Lennox in the afternoon continued the discussion of the Audit Act. He said that the powers of the Auditor-General were being gradually circumscribed so far as the Government can do it. This was especially dangerous at a time when an enormous expenditure, that for the eastern section of the Transcontinental Railway, was to be entrusted to four men who were friends and supporters of the Government. The Finance Minister had complained of the attitude of the Auditor-General, but the public would think that attitude had been about right. The correspondence in reference to his decisions over-ruled by the Treasury Board showed that his language was almost moderate, while on the other hand he was met by constant sneers and insults from the officials of the departments concerned. Mr. Lennox ridiculed the idea that there was not time to deal with the position of the Auditor-General this session. Half a day devoted to the matter would vastly improve the act. In the cases in which the Auditor-General had been overruled the Davis contract was the most important, because it involved the largest amount of money, but there were a score of other cases. There was, for instance, the case of Corry & Laverdure, who got as extras $96,000 more than the engineer would certify to, and yet Mr. Fielding had innocently informed the House that Corry & Laverdure were entitled to a further sum of $28,000 as interest during the time the Auditor-General's objection had prevented them from being paid. Mr. Lennox referred to other cases, as to which he promised to go into the details at some future occasion. He then went on to argue that no constitutional question was involved at all, but merely a question of providing an additional safeguard for the people's money.

WHAT AUDITOR-GENERAL WANTS

Mr. Clancy said the Finance Minister evidently wished to be without check and for that purpose a bill was introduced last session to further narrow the already narrow powers of the Auditor-General, but the pressure of public opinion had forced the Government to withdraw this. It would be a surprise to laymen to find the Government so jealous of its position and so unwilling to have its acts revised. He would think they ought to be grateful if the law enabled them to prevent themselves from yielding to demands which they knew to be wrong. It was a regrettable and alarming state of affairs that such a man as the Auditor-General should find himself compelled to play a false part or to resign, to choose between his public duty and subservience to the ministry. What the Auditor-General asked was that he should be placed in a position to properly discharge his public duty, and if this were not done the Auditor-General felt that there was nothing for him to do but resign. If the resignation were accepted the next man in the office would hold his place on condition of being the pliant creature of the Government.

DEFENDS THE MINISTRY.

Mr. Heyd had been shocked at the statements made in connection with the Davis contract. He had therefore read with care the documents presented by the Auditor-General, and he had come to the conclusion that the Auditor-General was wrong in his dates, wrong in his facts, wrong in his conclusions, and wrong in his inferences. The Auditor-General had acted not as the auditor but as the critic, the adverse critic of the Government, bent upon doing it all possible harm.

GOVERNMENT IS SHIRKING ITS DUTY.

Dr. Sproule made a strong plea on behalf of the Auditor-General. Forty out of fifty of the people, he said, were with Auditor-General McDougall in his fight with the Government. Mr. McDougall was in no sense a party man. He had come into conflict with both parties simply by remaining firm in his determination to protect the public interest and safeguard the public treasury. The Government was charged with the responsibility of protecting the public treasury. Why then should it refuse to strengthen the hand of the Auditor-General? If the Government would not amend the Audit Act, the conclusion would be drawn that it does not desire to protect the public interest. "I think this issue will lose the Government thousands of votes," said Dr. Sproule. "I cannot say that I would not like to see the Government put out, but I would rather see them do their duty and remain in." Dr. Sproule declared that owing to imperfections in the Audit Act, tens of thousands of dollars had been paid out without authority.

"Give us specific cases," demanded Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Dr. Sproule replied by mentioning the Sorel Bridge and the Davis contract.

Mr. Fitzpatrick denied that any money had been improperly paid out in connection with either of these transactions.

"Oh, yes, the money paid out was according to contract," said Dr. Sproule, "but it would not have been paid out if the Auditor-General had had power to prevent it.

AN IMPORTANT OFFICE.

Mr. Bell, of Pictou, emphasized the importance of the office of the Auditor-General. He showed how that official had been defended by Hon. David Mills and other prominent Liberals. The Auditor-General did not ask to be made a dictator, to be placed in a position to tell the Government when it was going right and when it was going wrong. He desired simply to be vested with authority to examine into bargains which he might deem to be improvident. No one would argue that the Auditor-General should be the court of final appeal. The final authority might be vested in the Exchequer Court or the Supreme Court. All that the Auditor-General asked was to suspend payment of an account until he should be satisfied that it was correct.

Mr. Barker, of Hamilton, said the object was to put the Auditor-General in a position to properly discharge his functions as an official of Parliament. The law would be distinctly improved if the Treasury Board were required to give reasons whenever the Auditor-General was overruled. The measure proposed would really be to the advantage of the Government, as it would show them willing to submit to reasonable restraint.

THE GOVERNMENT REPLY.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said the present Act had been in force for twenty-five years. The Opposition had evidently brought to the discussion the benefit of consultation with the Auditor-General, and yet they had been unable to show that a single dollar of public money had been paid out as the result of any defect in the audit act. In the cases in which the Treasury Board had overruled the Auditor-General, the Treasury Board was right. The Auditor-General had the benefit of the best legal advice, and he invariably followed that advice when it agreed with his own opinion. The Auditor-General had a standing grievance against whatever Government was in power. In this respect he was something of an Ishmaelite, his hand was against everybody.

Dr. Sproule—"He must be an Irishman, he's against the Government."

Mr. Fitzpatrick—"No, he just escaped being an Irishman. He has no sense of humour. He could not have read his own reports each year and survived if he were an Irishman." As to the Davis contract The Government had no fear of the result of any investigation. Not a cent was paid to Mr. Davis except under the amended contract which was approved by the Auditor-General. As to the Corry and Laverdure contract it was nonsense to allege that $125,000 or any other sum had been paid them without warrant. If such a thing had been done the Conservatives would not have neglected to unearth it. If any change in the law were necessary to enable the Auditor-General to perform the duties, not of a Czar or of a master of this country, but of Auditor-General, let the necessary changes be pointed out and they would be made. Mr. Fitzpatrick thought that one change needed was to limit the time allowed to the Auditor-General to make an investigation. The Auditor-General could now keep a matter before him for months, if he chose, before referring it to the Treasury Board and thus was liable to cause delay. As to giving reasons when the Treasury Board overruled the Auditor-General, that was unnecessary because the members of the Treasury Board were in Parliament and could give the reasons there, if asked. It would be an abandonment of its functions for Parliament to refer such matters to any court, and moreover if the Auditor-General had power to refer to the Exchequer Court any matter of which he had doubt, the business of that court would pile up with amazing rapidity.

AN INDEPENDENT SUPPORTS MR. McDOUGALL.

Mr. Jabel Robinson promised not to discuss the legal aspects of the question. He was glad to learn from the Minister of Justice that the Government was willing to change the Audit Act. Let them change it so as to suit Mr. McDougall, who was not unreasonable, and everybody would be satisfied.

The motion was lost by 56 to 94, a Government majority of 38.

SPECIAL VOTE OF ESTIMATES.

Mr. Fielding asked for a vote of one-fifth of the estimates not already passed. The money was required to keep the machinery of Government moving, there being no funds available since June 30th, the end of the fiscal year.

Mr. R. L. Borden consented to the vote being taken.

Mr. Boyd, of Macdonald, pointed out that this situation would not arise if Parliament were called together earlier. He advocated having Parliament assemble in November.

Mr. W. F. Maclean thought it would be well if a committee of the House were appointed to see if the sessions could not be shortened. For his own part he found the long sessions wearing him out.

This roused Mr. Oliver, of Alberta, to declare that Mr. Maclean's statement was a specimen of cold-blooded nerve which beat the record. The burden of Mr. Oliver's complaint was that many members did not attend regularly, and when they were present they used up time unnecessarily. He also declared that a small section of the Conservatives were guilty of purposely, deliberately and persistently obstructing the business of the House.

An appeal was made to the chair, and Mr. Oliver was obliged to withdraw the statement that there had been obstruction of the kind he charged. Mr. Oliver then altered the expression and declared that so far as he could see, the obstruction was purposeless.

Mr. Ingram congratulated the "independent" member for Alberta on his speech, and suggested that perhaps his "independence" was stimulated by the Government patronage which is conferred on the newspaper with which Mr. Oliver is connected. As to the charge of obstruction, this was the cry when the Opposition insisted, as was their duty, on having proper explanations made in connection with the estimates. He pointed out also that the Government were doing nothing to shorten the session, since even yet there were no less than seven promised Government measures which had not been introduced.

THE DAVIS CONTRACT.

The item of $285,000 for the Cornwall canal was then taken up and the House settled down for a couple of hours' discussion of the notorious Davis contract for the lighting of the canal. Mr. Emmerson tried to put it off by explaining that this particular vote had nothing to do with the lighting, but the members would not allow him to escape in that way. When he saw there was no help for it, Mr. Emmerson who, of course, had no knowledge of the subject, subsided into his seat and left Mr. Fitzpatrick to do the fighting.

Dr. Reid, of Grenville, explained that a contract for lighting the canal was made in 1896, and altered in 1900. In 1900 the price of $63 per horse power was retained, but as the light was used for only nine months, it was really raised to $84 per horse power. At the same time the contract was extended from 21 years to 84 years.

Mr. Fitzpatrick declared that this statement, which had been drawn from the report of the Auditor-General, was a mistaken one. The original agreement of 1896 had not been departed from a hair's breadth. In support of this contention, Mr. Fitzpatrick laid on the table a copy of the original contract, which he said contained a provision for renewal for four periods of 21 years each.

Mr. Clarke asked whether all the documents relating to the matter had been laid on the table.

Mr. Fitzpatrick confessed that they had not, but he pleaded in extenuation that the correspondence was so voluminous that to have it all copied would prolong the session. He suggested that a few members should examine this correspondence and select the parts of it which should be printed.

Mr. Clarke agreed that this was reasonable. He added that if it was really true that the Auditor-General had deceived the House it was the duty of the Government to make the facts clear at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Fitzpatrick replied that the Auditor-General's report did not contain anything to justify the contention that the contract of 1896 had been departed from. He would not think of charging the Auditor-General with deliberately misleading the public, but in the original contract there was a schedule of terms and conditions, and these the Auditor-General had not set forth in his annual report.

MR. R. L. BORDEN.

Mr. Borden declared that under the contract made by the Conservative Government the number of lights to be taken were to be determined by the Government engineer. If they determined to take more they could stipulate that the agreement should extend only for twenty-one years. There was no obligation to take light or power for a longer period than twenty-one years. Mr. Borden accepted Mr. Fitzpatrick's proposal to appoint a committee to examine the papers. He named Messrs. Haggart, Barker and Lennox to represent the Opposition.

Mr. Henderson wanted to know if the Auditor-General had been allowed to see the document presented by Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Mr. Fitzpatrick replied that the Auditor-General must have seen it or he would not have understood the contract.

Replying to Col. Ward, Mr. Fitzpatrick said he had not accused the Auditor-General of concealing the terms of the contract of 1896, but had stated that his report made no reference to the renewable nature of the clause in the 1896 contract.

Dr. Reid said that when the Government accepted the agreement of 1900 they accepted responsibility for paying $52,000 for lighting and operating locks and bridges on the Cornwall canal. At the same time they had before them a total cost of lighting and operating the Soulanges Canal at $98,000.

Mr. Fitzpatrick replied that the cost of lighting and operating the Soulanges Canal would be about $29,000.

Dr. Reid pointed out that, admitting the accuracy of these figures, the difference was very great.

The item was allowed to stand.

The House adjourned at 12.25.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Mr. E. F. Clarke gives notice that he will enquire as to the number of warrants for the deportation of aliens issued by Judge Winchester, and full particulars, including the number executed.

Hon. L. P. Brodeur will on Friday introduce a resolution which on the face of it appears aimed to carry out the recommendations contained in Judge MacTavish's report on the Tobacco Commission, especially in regard to certain firms' methods of doing business in cigarettes. The resolution affirms that it is desirable that the Inland Revenue Act be amended to provide:

Any license authorized by this Act may be cancelled in any case where a person who, being a manufacturer of any class of goods subject to a duty of excise, either directly or indirectly,

(a) Makes a sale of any such goods to a person who sells or intends to sell goods of that class in connection with his own business, subject to the condition that the purchaser shall not sell or deal in goods of a like kind produced, or obtained, from any other manufacturer, or dealer, or,

(b) Makes such sale upon terms that would in their application deprive the purchaser of any profit upon the sale of such goods, if they should so sell, or deal; or,

(c) Consigns any such goods to another person for sale upon commission, upon such terms that the consignee can profit by such sale only if he does not deal in goods of a like kind, manufactured by, or obtained from, any other manufacturer or dealer."

WHITAKER WRIGHT'S WILL PROBATED.

London, July 14.—The will of the late Whitaker Wright, who committed suicide on January 20 last in the law courts, shortly after having been sentenced to seven years' penal servitude on conviction of fraud, was probated yesterday. The estate is valued at £148,200 net. There is no personal property.

Handball Player Dead.

New York, July 14. — Philip Casey, who for 25 years held the title of champion hand ball player of the world, is dead at his home in Brooklyn. He was born 56 years ago in Ireland.

Casey's first important match was in 1869, when he won the American championship from Bernard McQuade. With another player he toured Europe later and defeated the best teams on that side of the ocean.

Stomach is the Root of Physical Evil

Through all the Changing Scenes of Life it Causes Trouble to Mankind.

Almost the first difficulty which a human being encounters after its birth can be traced to the stomach, and in every age of life the stomach is responsible for many ailments even though they may not seem to spring from that cause.

This is especially true of these times of hurry and worry, men have not the energy which is so necessary to success, they do not stop to think that the stomach is the root of the trouble.

It is wonderful what a change St. James Wafers Stomach and Nerve Remedy make in such cases. Their action on the stomach and nerves is tonic and restorative, enabling a man to think clearly and act promptly. A healthy stomach converts the food into good blood, carrying new life to all parts of the body.

St. James Wafers make the stomach healthy, and this is the honest way to get health that lasts.

TWENTY KILLED IN RAILWAY WRECK

Picnic Train Dashed Into Freight at High Speed.

TWENTY-FIVE WERE INJURED

Dead and Injured Were Chiefly Women and Children in First Car.

Chicago, July 14. — Twenty persons were killed and about 25 injured last night in a collision on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway at Glenwood, Ill., 23 miles south of Chicago. The collision occurred between a picnic train from Chicago, which was returning from Momence, Ill., and a freight train, into the rear end of which the excursion train dashed at high speed.

The picnic was the annual of the members of Doremus Church. After spending the day on the picnic grounds at Momence the train load started on the return trip running in as the second section of the regular passenger train, which is due in Chicago at 8.25. When the picnic train reached Chicago Heights, four miles beyond Glenwood, where the accident took place, it was switched to the regular southbound track, and although it was coming north it was given a clear track by the operator at Chicago Heights until it should reach Glenwood, four miles away.

CRASH CAME AT A CURVE.

The train, after leaving Chicago Heights, gradually increased its speed and when half the distance between the two stations had been covered it was plunging along at the rate of forty miles an hour. Just half way between Chicago Heights and Glenwood, there is a sharp curve. As the picnic train tore around this on the south bound track, a freight train was backing from the south bound to the north bound track. It was partly on both tracks, and no train could have passed it in either direction. The bend is so sharp that the engineer of the picnic train did not see the freight until he was about on it. It was too late to do anything but to set the brakes, but before they could take effect the passenger train smashed into the freight at full speed. The locomotive and the baggage car of the passenger train went through the freight, and were piled up in a heap of wreckage on the further side of the switch track. The first coach of the picnic train plunged into the wreckage and buried itself in a mass of kindling wood.

WHERE LIVES WERE LOST.

Nearly all of the passengers in the first coach were caught beneath the mass, and it was here that the loss of life occurred. The people in the rear coaches were hurled from their seats, and many of them were bruised, but all of the serious casualties occurred in the first car.

Engineer Hoxie, and the crew of the freight train say that their train parted at Chicago Heights and the break was not noticed until the train was nearing Glenwood, causing delay. The engineer knew that the excursion train was coming, but believed that it was on the northbound track, and was switching his train from the northbound to the southbound track. In an effort to keep out of its way, when it came north on the southbound track and smashed into the freight train.

SOME OF THE DEAD.

Among the dead are: Carl Stewart, Mrs. Ellen Landers, Mrs. Emma Palmer, daughter of Mrs. Landers, Lena Palmer, daughter of Mrs. Palmer; Lena Hipelius, Mrs. Gerringer, Miss Gerringer, Walter Gerringer. All the dead lived in Chicago, as do all the injured, most of whom are children.

DOUKHOBORS ON THE MARCH AGAIN.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, July 14.—The following despatch has been received here from Dauphin, Manitoba: Doukhobors numbering about fifty have brought up at Minitonas, a small village sixty miles north of Dauphin. These people are again in search of Jesus. They have been on the road for some time and are in poor shape for further travelling. They will accept no food and fear is expressed that many of the women and children will die before they move many more miles.

The march to Dauphin from Minitonas is through a comparatively unsettled country and bare of anything which this strange sect will condescend to eat. They are positively refusing all animal food and natural vegetable food is scarce at this season in the north. A week or so later their chances might have been better. The occasional wondering farmers passing them on the road say that they are discarding their clothes as they march.

The Reason Why THE Kerr Steel Plate Ranges

are so popular is their adaptability to either SUMMER or WINTER USES. They are so fitted that by a very trifling alteration in the grate they can at the end of winter be converted so as to burn wood, doing all the necessary cooking in a little time, the ovens being extremely quick heaters. As a winter range, the KERR STEEL PLATE is known to be the greatest ECONOMIST of fuel, doing all the necessary HEATING and COOKING required. We have them in all sizes. Prices low. Two Vessels Ashore.

Halifax, N.S., July 14.—The steamship Lunenburg, while on her way from Ingonish to North Sydney yesterday, went ashore near the fog alarm at Cranberry Head. She was going at full speed when she struck. Her engines were at once reversed, but without result. The tug Iona went to her assistance and took off the passengers. The Lunenburg is hard and fast on the rocks.

A large steel barque ran ashore on the Bay of Fundy side of Long Island, near Petite Passage. Her name is unknown, but she is believed to be bound to Yarmouth. Two tugs left Digby yesterday afternoon to endeavour to float the vessel, which it was thought could be done at high tide.

THE WEATHER

It is the sun's busy day.

No doubt of that.

And he's quite busy, too, judging from the fact that he's been out all the morning.

Not once did any one succeed in finding him in.

But it is not oppressive.

Far from it.

There is a spanking breeze that occasionally whistles a right merry tune and goes cheerily about his work of keeping the heat on the move.

Some time during the evening the temperature fell with a thud—

Fifty-five!

That is pretty low stuff for July to hand out.

At noon to-day little Miss Mercury was flirting coyly with Mr. Seventy-five degrees.

But it was real chilly last night.

One man was seen on St. Catherine street wearing an overcoat—not a rain nor dust coat—

A plain heavy overcoat.

When last seen he was taking a Verdun car—which might seem appropriate.

In any event to-day is warm and the probabilities are that there will be a thunderstorm before midnight.

That is what the weather man says.

And he is supposed to know what he is talking about.

Facts About the Weather.

TORONTO PLANS WARM WELCOME FOR LORD DUNDONALD.

Next to His Lordship, Rev. Dr. Potts Will Be Principal Speaker of the Evening.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, July 14.—The committee of citizens for the reception to Lord Dundonald on Friday evening at Massey Hall, has decided that his Lordship shall be the guest of the citizens during his stay in Toronto, and apartments have been reserved for him at the Queen's Hotel.

Lord Dundonald will arrive on Friday morning from Ottawa, and a luncheon will be tendered to him by the individual members of the committee at the Toronto Club. The bands of the Queen's Own Rifles, Royal Grenadiers and pipers have been engaged to take part in the Massey Hall programme. Next to Lord Dundonald, the Rev. Dr. Potts will be the principal speaker of evening. The chairman, Mr. J. F. Ellis, president of the Board of Trade, and Vice-President Barlow Cumberland also will address the meeting.

Dundonald and the French.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—It is to be hoped that Lord Dundonald will not take the utterances of a certain portion of the French-Canadian press of this province as a real expression of opinion of the French-Canadian people themselves. From personal observation and knowledge I feel free to say that His Lordship is extremely popular among other than the English-speaking people of this province. I do not believe that the unfair newspapers can convince the people of this province that Lord Dundonald typifies an extreme type of militarism, or that he is "an agent of Chamberlain," or that he has any designs against the constitutional autonomy of Canada; nor can I find that the French-Canadians generally have that view, despite the teachings of the French-Canadian "race cry press."

I have an idea that Lord Dundonald should come to this province, and place himself on record before the French-Canadian people. Let them hear this story of chicanery and political intrigue, which has resulted in making a laughing-stock of the present Canadian military system. He has nothing to hide, nothing to leave unsaid in dealing with the merits of his case. He has the great advantage of knowing how to make an eloquent French speech. Lord Dundonald should come to Quebec to repel the slanders of a most dangerous section of the press. He owes it to himself; he owes it to the good of united Canadianism; he owes it to the cause of Empire.

A FRENCH-CANADIAN.

FREIGHT CLASSIFICATION.

Temporary Arrangement Made by Railway Commission.

In railway circles here it is said that what is known as freight classification No. 12 and supplement No. 1 thereto will probably be approved by the Railway Commission to operate temporarily until the Board authorizes a more permanent classification.

The question was discussed before the commission recently, in Toronto, and the arrangement was practically agreed upon.

The supplement referred to removes most of the grievances complained of by the shipping public. The only articles still seriously in dispute are metallic shingles, lawn mowers and window shades mounted on rollers. These three items have been reserved until the Board considers the evidence and arguments presented by the parties interested.

PERMANENT RELIEF.

Many preparations act as a stimulant, do not cure, and often develop serious after-effects. Angier's Emulsion has enjoyed the confidence of the physicians for over twenty-five years, because it always gives permanent relief and cures. There is nothing equal to it for throat, lung and wasting diseases.

EX-PRESIDENT PAUL KRUGER PASSED AWAY EARLY TO-DAY AT CLARENS, SWITZERLAND

His Health Had Been Failing for Some Time and He Had Gone to Clarens at the First of June, Hoping to Recover His Strength, and Had Renewed the Lease of His Villa at Mentone, to Which He Had Planned to Return in the Autumn.

Clarens, Switzerland, July 14.—Paul Kruger, former President of the Transvaal Republic, died here at 3 o'clock this morning from pneumonia and supervening heart weakness. Mr. Kruger lost consciousness Monday. His daughter and son-in-law were with him at the time of his death. He had been out only once since his arrival here, at the beginning of last month.

The ex-President's body was embalmed, and will be placed in a vault pending funeral arrangements. Application will be made to the British Government for authority to transport the remains to the Transvaal. In the meantime, they will be temporarily interred here.

Mr. Kruger, who was staying at the Villa du Boichet, had been gradually failing for a long time, but he was able to attend to affairs, read the newspapers and receive visits until Saturday. A change for the worse set in an Sunday, he became unconscious Monday and remained so until his death. Besides the Eloffs, Mr. Kruger was attended by his own physician, Dr. Heymann, and by his secretary, Mr. Redel.

On several occasions Mr. Kruger had expressed a desire to be buried beside his wife, in his own country.

EX-PRESIDENT KRUGER,

The Chief Executive of the former South African Republic, who died to-day in Clarens, Canton of Vaud, Switzerland.

WIDESPREAD REGRET IN PARIS.

Paris, July 14.—The death of the former President of the Transvaal, Paul Kruger, at Clarens, Switzerland, aroused widespread regret here, owing to French sympathy for the Boer cause and personal admiration for the ex-President. When he recently left Mentone his health was gradually failing through old age, constitutional disorders and throat troubles, which threatened to extend to the lungs. Kruger resisted the idea that his physical powers were failing. He had arranged to return to Mentone next Autumn, re-leasing the picturesque villa which he had occupied on the outskirts of the town. Nevertheless, his near friends recognized that Mr. Kruger's once rugged constitution was gradually going to pieces. Visitors described him as being a pathetic figure of calm endurance. His eyesight had dimmed, but he sat much at times with his Bible open before him, muttering well-known passages. He avoided references to the Boer war, but when it was occasionally mentioned he showed no resentment and expressed the belief that Providence would eventually render justice to the Boer cause.

OOM PAUL'S CAREER.

President Kruger, or "Oom Paul" as he was known to his people, was born at Rastenburg, Cape Colony, October 10, 1825. In 1872 he became a member of the Executive Council of the South African Republic under President Burgers, and in 1882 he became president for the first time. He was re-elected in 1883, in 1888, 1893 and 1898, and retained the post throughout the South African War, which transformed the South African Republic into the Transvaal Colony, though he fled from Pretoria before the close of the war, thus virtually abdicating his authority and calling down on himself considerable adverse criticism. Since then he has lived a more or less retired life among the friendly European peoples. After first making efforts to secure the aid of Holland, Germany or France for the fallen fortunes of the Republic, he lived for a while in Utrecht, and later at Mentone, in the South of France, whence he went to Switzerland, where he died, in a vain search for new vigour for his worn-out frame. Such are the features and outline of the life of Paul Kruger.

FROM COWBOY TO KING.

From cowboy to king fitly describes the transition in his life from his fifteenth to his seventieth year. Born in the Colesberg district of Cape Colony, Stephanus Johannes Paulus Kruger, or more familarly Oom Paul, received his training in the veldt, on horseback, with a gun in his hand. His father belonged to the Dopper, or Separatist Church, whose members at that time gave more attention to physical than mental accomplishments, so that Paul was not seen much on the school bench. In 1835 the great trek (march) began, and the Krugers took part in the movement, Paul being ten years old. After spending a year in the Free State, the family crossed the Drakensberg into Natal. Then followed the murder of Retief and his party; the laagers at the Bushman's River were attacked, and when Dingaan's Zulus were driven off with great loss, the trekkers left the ill-fated land and entered the Transvaal.

For some time the Kruger family remained at Mooiriver (Potchefstroom), then the seat of government; but subsequently they moved northwards and settled in the Rustenburg district. In his eighteenth year young Kruger was elected field-cornet (outside magistrate), and five years after commandant. After serving nine years through various Kaffir wars, he was promoted to the post of commandant general, then to acting president, and since 1883, as president of the republic.

TRANSVAAL'S DARK DAYS.

The little republic had passed through dark days just prior to the election of President Kruger. The Boers had become dispirited by repeated reverses in the Sikakuni war, the treasury had become empty and the State practically bankrupt. In 1876-77 Great Britain intervened, proposing to annex the country and an administrator was appointed. In 1880-81 the Boers became discontented and revolted. After a few successes over the British troops the republic was restored with British suzerainty. That was in 1881, and two years later Kruger was elected President. The London convention of 1884 considerably restricted British suzerainty. Fresh discoveries of gold in 1886 was followed by a great influx of English-speaking population threatening to swamp the Boer element.

UITLANDER AGITATION.

The political situation prevailing in the Transvaal was that of an oligarchy rather than a true republic. Though outnumbering the Boers more than three to one, the Uitlanders were practically excluded from enjoyment of the rights of citizenship. For a term of years twenty-five men covered the number who practically held absolute power. In 1895 a Transvaal National Union was formed at Johannesburg to effect a redress of grievances. Its manifesto of December 26, 1895, demanded constitutional government, equitable franchise and fair representation; independence of the courts; liberal education and an efficient civil service.

The idea got abroad that the Boers would attack Johanesburg to subdue the agitation, and the inhabitants began to arm themselves. During the latter part of December it was reported that a force of Boers was about to march on the city. A committee was formed. It laid out plans of a provisional government and telegraphed Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of Cape Colony, for protection. A letter signed by four or five leading citizens was sent to Dr. Jameson at Mafeking urging him to bring help at once.

At this juncture President Kruger offered concessions to the Uitlanders—to abolish special duties on foodstuffs; to subsidize public schools and to grant the franchise to all supporting the Government in the present crisis. Orders came from London to the Colonial authorities to accord no support to Jameson's action. Johannesburg promptly cooled down.

THE JAMESON RAID.

In the meantime, on the night of December 29, Dr. Jameson, with about 700 cavalry, drawn from the forces of the South African Company, crossed the frontier and was hurrying to the rescue, while the Boers, in response to a call from President Kruger, were gathering to intercept him. The invaders pressed on against overwhelming numbers, expecting aid from Johannesburg, but it never came. At Doornkop they made their last stand and finally surrendered after losing nearly half their number. The 300 or 400 prisoners were taken to Pretoria. The surrender took place on January 2, 1896.

This extraordinary raid involved a risk to Great Britain's interests throughout South Africa.

The Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Colonial secretary, at once repudiated Jameson's action and British subjects in the Transvaal were ordered not to countenance or aid Dr. Jameson. Many of the reform committee in Johannesburg were arrested.

THE KAISER'S TELEGRAM.

Out of this arose the crisis with Germany. Emperor William cabled congratulations to President Kruger and the latter replied as follows:

"I testify to your Majesty my very deep and heartfelt thanks for your Majesty's congratulations. With God's help we hope to do everything that is possible for the holding of our dearly bought independence and the stability of our beloved republic."

On January 13 Mr. Chamberlain telegraphed Sir Hercules Robinson that Great Britain would resist at any cost the interference of any foreign powers in the affairs of the Transvaal. About that time the Flying Squadron put to sea and Britain prepared for the worst.

However, peace was not disturbed and the German minister explained to the British Government that in sending the message of January 3 to President Kruger, Emperor William did not intend to offer an indignity to Great Britain.

Four of the ringleaders of the Johannesburg party were sentenced to death, but the executive commuted the sentence first to imprisonment and subsequently to a heavy fine. In February, Mr. Chamberlain invited President Kruger to visit Great Britain. He replied in April stating that he could not go until a basis for discussion had been settled.

Dr. Jameson and his associates were subsequently tried and convicted in London. However their terms of imprisonment were short.

President Kruger opened the Legislative Assembly in May, 1897. After a protracted secret session the Raad repealed the immigration law, which Cape Colony had objection to as being vexatious and burdensome to settlers.

Affairs in the Transvaal now quieted down somewhat, while the raid was further enquired into by a committee of the British House of Commons. Its finding practically amounted to very little.

President Kruger continued to guide the affairs of his little republic and in February, 1898, he was re-elected to his office, defeating General Joubert, the celebrated Boer soldier.

NEGOTIATIONS AND WAR.

Sir Hercules Robinson was succeeded at Cape Town in 1897 by Sir Alfred Milner, who went out as High Commissioner for South Africa. Then began the negotiations which ended in the declaration of war by the Transvaal in October, 1899. The issues over which Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Kruger failed to agree, the franchise question at the foundation, and on it the suzerainty and the refusal of Great Britain to allow a foreigner to arbitrate between her and the Transvaal. The negotiations ended and the war succeeded. While the Boer arms were holding their own, Kruger remained in Pretoria, directing affairs, but when Ladysmith had been relieved and the British forces were approaching Pretoria, the President departed for Europe by way of Delagoa Bay. There he tried at The Hague, in Germany and in France to secure intervention, and after repeated failures, retired first to Utrecht, where he held conferences with the Boer delegates, and later to Mentone, where he had re-engaged a house for next year, little thinking that he would die in Switzerland before the summer was half over.

MORE DISCUSSION OVER MR. MACOUN'S REPORT.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, July 14. — In the Committee on Agriculture this morning, the report of the special committee respecting Mr. James Macoun's Peace River evidence was again under discussion.

Mr. Wade explained that the committee had found it impossible to interfere with the officials reporters' notes and they proposed publishing all that had been taken down. Messrs. Clancy, Wilson and Blain objected to publishing any of the evidence, as it would simply emphasize Macoun's published report.

Mr. Wade said that Macoun's evidence was so contradictory in itself that it was only necessary to call attention thereto and the public would see that the original report was unreliable. So strong were the arguments against the course he advised that members of the committee had called him "fool," "blister," "hog" and "bear" in the course of their remarks.

Mr. Ingram suggested that the original report should be recalled and nothing further published until the Government had made a reliable survey. There was much discussion as to the contradictory nature of the evidence when Mr. Wade, replying to the objections, made charges that some of the opponents to publication were afraid of letting the people know how they had endeavoured to blacken the character of the country.

Mr. Blain, in replying, said Mr. Macoun had told the truth about the country, and he knew as much about it as did Oliver and Davis.

Deputy Minister Smart stated that the original report had been published by the Geological Survey without his knowledge. Later on the report was withdrawn. He could not say how many copies had been issued.

It being eleven o'clock, the discussion was adjourned until to-morrow.

Doehme had set up charges of collusion and fraud and had obtained from Justice Maclean of the Supreme Court an order appointing former Justice Joseph Daly referee to take testimony and report his conclusions to the court. This order is reversed by the higher court, which decides there was no fraud.

CANADIANS ARE QUITE COMPETENT

More Evidence Given Before Judge Winchester at Toronto.

MR. MACKENZIE'S EVIDENCE

Canadian Northern Has Built Many Miles of Railway Without Aid of Americans.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, July 14.—Strong testimony of neglect of the Canadian engineering profession by the chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific was heard by Judge Winchester, the commissioner, who is conducting the alien labour inquiry. It was the first sitting of the commission in Toronto, and several eminent engineers gave evidence. A dozen or more members of the profession united in the assertion that men sufficiently skilled to build two such roads could be secured in this country. The most helpful evidence to Mr. H. M. Mowat, K.C., who is appearing for the Government, was that of Mr. A. W. Campbell, assistant commissioner of public works for Ontario. Mr. Campbell expressed surprise at Mr. Stephens inability to secure competent engineers in Canada, and said that the Ontario Government find the pick of many superior men for the Temiscaming railway at salaries considerably below those paid by the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. W. T. Jennings, C.E., who was the engineer in charge of construction on the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that if Mr. Stephens had exhausted every method to secure Canadians, as alleged, it was because he did not make use of the ordinary vehicle. He should have applied to Mr. Schreiber and the secretary of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. There were plenty of men available and they were at least the equal of the United States engineers.

MR. WILLIAM MACKENZIE.

Mr. William Mackenzie said that so far as he knew there was not one United States engineer in the employ of Mackenzie and Mann. The Canadian Northern within the last three years have built 1,200 miles of railway, and had found plenty of engineers. The matter had been left to the chief engineer, Mr. John H. Armstrong, who was chief engineer of construction on the Mountain division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that he wrote for the position of chief engineer in charge of the work, but although endorsed, had received no reply to his last letter.

Mr. E. H. Keating, ex-president of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, said that if a sincere effort was made Mr. Stephens could have secured the necessary engineers in Canada.

CANADIANS ARE CAPABLE.

Prof. John Galbraith, of the school of practical science, said that Canadian engineers were quite as good as those of the United States, and that in the case of the graduates from the institution with which he is connected he considered that their training fitted them better for the class of work they have to do, though the United States men might be better in some ways.

Mr. Joseph Hobson, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, said that Mr. Hays had consulted him in regard to the appointment of an assistant engineer for the Grand Trunk Pacific, and that he recommended Mr. H. D. Lumsden who, however, refused the position, saying the salary offered was too small. He had made recommendations for other men to serve under Mr. Stephens.

The commission adjourned at night to meet in Kingston on Saturday morning.

GOLDWIN SMITH ON THE IRISH QUESTION.

London, July 14. — Goldwin Smith, writing to a Dundee correspondent on the Irish question, says it would be as safe solution as any, to have an annual session of the Irish members at Dublin for the discussion of purely Irish questions, subject to the ratification of the United Parliament at Westminster, where the Irish representation would remain the same as at present.

Shooting Affray at North Sydney.

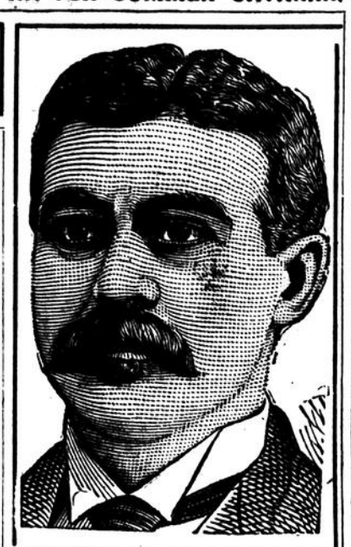

North Sydney, N. S., July 14. — A shooting affair took place yesterday on board the Danish brig Guda. Martin Horgensen, a young sailor, was the victim. Trouble arose when the sailor refused to work after six o'clock. The mate followed him to the forecastle, whipped out a revolver and shot Horgensen twice, one bullet taking effect in the shoulder and the other in the knee. He will recover if complications do not set in.

REGISTER OF THE U. S. TREASURY USES PE-RU-NA FOR SUMMER CATARRH.

Summer Catarrh Affects Men and Women.

Hon. Judson W. Lyons.

HON JUDSON W. LYONS, Register of the United States Treasury, in a letter from Washington, D.C., says:

"I find Peruna to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Peruna."—Judson W. Lyons.

No man is better known in the financial world than Judson W. Lyons, formerly of Augusta, Ga. His name on every piece of money of recent date makes his signature one of the most familiar ones in the United States.

Two Interesting Letters from Thankful Women.

Miss Eleanor Lindblum, 555 Jackson street, Wilwaukee, Wis., writes:

"Some time ago Peruna was recommended to me so highly as a nerve tonic that I decided to try it, especially as the doctors did not seem to do me any good. My condition was serious. I was run down from overwork and worry, and my nerves were in a dreadful condition. I could not sleep, and my appetite was nothing to speak of. After I had taken Peruna for a week, I was able to sleep and my appetite began to improve. I was greatly pleased and continued to take Peruna for some time, until now I am a well woman with a splendid constitution. In fact, I never felt better. I therefore praise Peruna to all as a very good medicine."—Miss Eleanor Lindblum.

Summer Catarrh.

Mrs. Kate Bohn, 119 Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y., writes:

"When I wrote you I was troubled with frequent headaches, dizzy, strange feeling in the head, sleeplessness, sinking feelings, faintness and numbness. Sometimes I had heartburn. My food would rise to my throat after every meal, and my bowels were very irregular.

"I wrote you for advice, and I now take pleasure in informing you that my improvement is very great indeed. I did not expect to improve so quickly after suffering for five long years. I am feeling very good and strong. I thank you so much for Peruna. I shall recommend it to all suffering with the effects of catarrh and I consider it a household blessing. I shall never be without Peruna."—Mrs. Kate Bohn.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S FISCAL CAMPAIGN.

It Will Be Re-opened To-night by a Great Gathering in Albert Hall.

London, July 14.—Albert Hall, to-night, will be the scene of the greatest Liberal Union Congress in the history of the party. Eleven thousand persons are expected to be present, to hear Mr. Chamberlain re-open his fiscal campaign, and 1,700 delegates will take part. At the Council meeting, held at Westminster yesterday, with Mr. Chamberlain as chairman, forty-five branches and associations brought forward resolutions, all of a tariff reform complexion, the majority frankly adopting the whole Birmingham policy. The Standard says the part to be played by Lords Lansdowne and Selborne, who join the executive body, is of grave constitutional importance. It calls upon Premier Balfour to explain how the presence of two of his most influential colleagues on the tariff reform council can be reconciled with his Sheffield formula, and says that if the preference principle is approved to-night the notice of the House of Commons will be called to the anomalous position of ministers.

Charged With Smuggling Bait.

St. John's, Nfld., July 14.—French fishing vessels from the Grand Banks have been unable to obtain bait at St. Pierre, and they are alleged to be smuggling bait from Newfoundland waters in defiance of the bait act. One vessel eluded a colonial cruiser after being chased into the St. Pierre roadstead. Seven local fishermen have been fined $200 each for supplying bait to the French vessels. The colonial government will enforce the bait act.

Last year the supplies of fish at Billingsgate market, London, amounted to 163,897 tons, as against 158,357 tons in 1902 and 148,366 tons in 1901.

All notices of Births, Marriages and Deaths, must be endorsed with the names and addresses of the persons sending same.
