Two-China stand 'out' says PM

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Canada would not support a two-China policy in the United Nations, Prime Minister Trudeau said Wednesday.

He told a news conference during a visit here on the Newfoundland leg of an Atlantic provinces tour that the United States had been informed of Canada's stand.

However, the prime minister sidestepped a question on the U.S. intention to fight any move to oust Nationalist China from the UN, saying the outcome would be decided by bargaining.

Canada had told the U.S. "we would in no way support any resolution that could be considered a two-China policy," Mr. Trudeau said.

He said Canada had adopted a clear one-China policy when it recognized the Peking government.

U.S. State Secretary William P. Rogers said in Washington Monday the U.S. in the coming General Assembly would support the seating of mainland China but oppose the ouster of Nationalist China.

Eighteen UN members supporting Peking have submitted a resolution that would have the General Assembly recognize the People's Republic of China as the only legitimate representative of China and expel representatives of Chiang Kai-shek, president of the Republic of China on Taiwan (Formosa).

HEADS FOR TIP

Mr. Trudeau boarded the coast guard icebreaker Sir William Alexander shortly after 4 p.m. for a 24-hour voyage to St. Anthony near Newfoundland's northern tip.

He was scheduled to visit the International Grenfell Association's headquarters hospital in St. Anthony today and later travel by helicopter to the Viking site at L'Anse aux Meadows, about 30 miles north.

He is to visit Corner Brook and Port aux Basques before leaving for Charlottetown Friday.

Mr. Trudeau said he "may take a day out" to see President Tito of Yugoslavia when he visits that country on vacation later this month.

President Tito also had been invited to visit Canada this fall when he attends a UN meeting in New York.

Mr. Trudeau said he was anxious to meet President Tito, whom he described as one of the few remaining great leaders of the Second World War.

There also was a possibility Mr. Trudeau would visit Prime Minister Heath of Britain but no firm arrangements had been worked out.

Deep space walk today

HOUSTON (AP) — Astronaut Alfred M. Worden today takes man's first walk in deep space—a televised stroll nearly 200,000 miles from earth—as Apollo 15 struts for home after six days of moon exploration.

Bundled in a stiff pressure suit and attached to a 25-foot lifeline, Worden plans to open the hatch of the command ship Endeavour about 11:29 a.m. EDT and step into the vacuum of space.

He makes his way on handrails about 15 feet to the rear of the spaceship to retrieve two canisters of film that should enable geologists to form clear, accurate maps of nearly 20 per cent of the lunar surface, including the hidden backside.

With the hatch open, David R. Scott and James B. Irwin also will wear pressure suits. Irwin will emerge partially from the spacecraft to photograph Worden as he makes two trips to the bay and help move the canisters and their nearly two miles of film into the cabin.

A television camera is mounted outside to relay pictures to earth as Worden moves into a silent, weightless world which has been braved previously by only nine men—six Americans and three Russians. All were in earth orbit.

In addition, eight Americans now have walked on the moon, which has a gravity field one-sixth that of earth's.

Worden's stroll is necessary because the bay is jettisoned before re-entry and does not return to earth with the astronauts.

The spacemen concluded man's greatest lunar expedition late Wednesday when they fired the Endeavour out of moon orbit on a near-perfect course that will carry them to a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean 285 miles north of Hawaii at 4:46 p.m. Saturday.

Scientists here are eagerly awaiting the approximately 175 pounds of rocks Scott and Irwin gathered during three days on the moon.

Before heading for home, Apollo 15 ejected into lunar orbit a 78.5-pound science satellite intended to send back data for at least a year on the precise shape of the moon and on magnetic, gravity and electrical fields.

"Tally-ho," Scott called out as the payload was spring-ejected from the same bay that carries the mapping cameras. "That's a very pretty satellite out there."

"It seems to be rotating quite well. Very stable."

Earth stations immediately began receiving strong signals from the new lunar explorer.

E.T. REPORT

Two boys suffer injuries

SHERBROOKE (PT) — Two young boys suffered various injuries in two Sherbrooke parks Tuesday afternoon.

The first accident occurred at about 2:30 p.m. when a small boy fell and banged his head. He took a brief trip to the hospital but was able to return home the same afternoon. This accident took place at the Cambron Park on 7th Avenue.

Another boy suffered light injuries when he caught his hand in a door. He also was able to leave hospital after a brief visit for first aid. The accident took place at about 3 p.m. at Coeur-Immacule School on 15th Avenue North.

Injured in truck mishap

MAGOG (PT) — Jean-Louis Bergeron, 49, of 10 St-Patrice Street, Magog, was the victim of a light accident which occurred Sunday afternoon. He suffered a fractured left shoulder.

The accident occurred on R.R. 2, Magog, when Mr. Bergeron lost control of the small truck he was driving and bumped into a ditch at the side of the road.

He was admitted briefly to La Providence Hospital in Magog where he was taken by the Magog ambulance service, but returned home Sunday evening.

ORGANIC BREAD, SUGAR AND RICE

Organic foods: healthy delicious and different

By PETER GINSBERG

SHERBROOKE — In a day when unsafe levels of mercury and other dangerous substances are present in fish in harmful quantities and when chemicals such as DDT have been released into our food chain, health foods are no longer a joke reserved for faddists and health nuts.

Sherbrooke has a health food store located at 235 King Street West which stocks a wide variety of organic products. Organic, explained Jocelyn, the girl who staffs the counter, means naturally grown foods. These are ones that have been produced without the aid of chemical fertilizers or insecticides and have not undergone extensive processing. All of the store's goods are organic.

Health foods have been known to man since ancient times, and every culture has had its special concoctions for all sorts of ailments. Not all of these old medicine remedies were useless, however. Early Canadian explorers were taught by the Indians to cure scurvy with a tea made from tree bark. The current interest started in the United States and is spreading rapidly.

Sherbrooke's health food store gets half of its goods in Quebec. The rest come from other parts of Canada, the U.S. and other parts of the world.

The sugar on sale consists of brown crystals much like brown sugar. There is no white sugar in the store, although there is organic honey.

"White sugar," explained Jocelyn, "is a poison. It's too acidic, and it's bad for the stomach."

LIVER AND KIDNEY TEA

The reason, she went on to explain, is that white sugar has been put through a lot of processing. The honey is in the health food store is 100 per cent pure, whereas common honey has sugar added. The store does not sell soft drinks.

Among other things, the store stocks a variety of herb teas, all of which are purported to be beneficial as sedatives, aids to digestion, or good for various organs such as the kidneys. No claim is made, however, that they are

Oil leaks into river

QUEBEC (CP) — The Greek vessel Sithonia leaked more than 1,000 gallons of fuel oil into the waters of the St. Lawrence River after ripping a hole in her hull, a transport department spokesman said Wednesday.

The exact quantity of oil lost during the incident would not be known until repairmen emptied the 100-ton fuel tank of the vessel.

Once the tank is emptied, the ship anchored at Lauzon, Que., was to be put in dry dock where damage to the hull would be assessed and repaired.

The Sithonia was on her way to Montreal from Quebec City Monday when the hull scraped the river bottom, tearing a hole about one foot wide and nine feet long.

Jean-Paul Godin, a transport department officer, said he is not overly worried about the spill and hopes the St. Lawrence River can rid itself of the slick.

"The fast current, waves and wind all seem to be working with us now," said Mr. Godin, district marine agent in charge of the clean-up. "But we still don't know how long the cleanup will be or its cost."

The river current of five to six knots makes it impossible to contain the fuel and clean it up.

Deauville approves QPF

SHERBROOKE (PT) — Deauville municipal council Monday put the protection of the town's residents in the hands of the Quebec Police Force, hoping that Sherbrooke will soon have a regionalized police department for the area.

The decision was made during a special meeting of the council, and approved by a unanimous vote. Council hopes the move will solve the situation created by the dismissal of the town's three policemen for insubordination as well as because of what has been termed "public discontent."

Realizing that Deauville needs a police department which is complete, effective and conforms to the standards of the Quebec Police

Commission, the council decided that the part-time rented security agent did not constitute enough protection for the town.

The Quebec Police Force will maintain a detachment in the area.

Council also asked Sherbrooke city hall authorities to examine the possibility of that town serving Deauville. It is more or less a question of whether or not the regional police force is to be established in the near future.

Meanwhile, the three dismissed officers, Chief Andre Tessier, Capt. Gilles Socquet and Cst. Richard Tremblay, have appealed the matter of their firing to the Quebec Police Commission.

Economy, not charter tops two-day agenda

VICTORIA (CP) — High on the agenda for the two-day conference of Canadian premiers starting today will be the state of the country's economy.

Premier Robert Bourassa of Quebec has said he might take advantage of the meeting to hold private conversations with some premiers about the constitution.

But Premier W. A. C. Bennett, host and conference chairman, said the Victoria charter rejected by Quebec following the constitutional conference here in June won't be among the topics for discussion.

This 12th annual meeting of the premiers will deal with problems common to provincial governments across Canada, such as fiscal matters and environmental control.

The conference is being held here in honor of the centennial of British Columbia's entry into Confederation.

Absent again from the premiers' roll call, as he has been on these occasions for the past 10 years, is Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland.

Premiers of the other provinces were to be greeted by Mr. Bennett today on the steps of the legislature before the start of the opening session.

While money appears the central theme of the talks, individual premiers will be pressing for discussion on specific points of concern to their provinces.

Premier Ed Schreyer of Manitoba will demand an all-province agreement on estate tax and succession duties, and seek a price support system for farm produce.

He has said that unless the premiers agree on a uniform approach "the Ottawa decision to get out of the estate-tax field will compound the tax jungle."

Objections to the federal tax structure are also expected from Premier William Davis of Ontario.

A newcomer to the conference, Premier Allan Blakeney of Saskatchewan has expressed interest in scheduled discussions on the problems of controlling health costs and increased provincial co-operation on agricultural matters.

Train robberies aren't what they used to be

MONTREAL (CP) — The trouble with train robberies is that nobody takes them seriously anymore.

Engineer Max Bassett looked out the window of his cab, saw five masked and armed men running towards the train and told his fireman, Jean L. St. Germain, "It's a holdup."

"I thought he was joking," Mr. St. Germain said. "But then this guy with a rubber mask stuck a pistol into the cab and told us to get out."

The train, CNR 50 or "the Lakeshore", was stopped for a signal near west-end Lachine at 9:45 a.m. EDT Wednesday, en route to Toronto.

"The whole thing took five to ten minutes," Mr. Bassett said. "They were very well organized."

Four of the men had pistols. A fifth was armed with a submachine gun.

Some of them were wearing flesh-colored rubber masks and others had nylon stockings over their heads.

The engineer and firemen were told to leave the cab and lie down on the grass.

"Then they changed their minds and told us to go to the baggage car," Mr. Bassett said.

Meanwhile, the robbers had broken into the baggage car with a crowbar.

"They didn't threaten me," Mr. Bassett said. "They told us to do what they said and we wouldn't get hurt."

While the man with the machine gun remained on the grass outside the baggage car, the men inside the car ripped open the mail bags with knives.

"If we find out that the money was really on this train we'll come back and cut your throats," one of the bandits told Mr. Bassett.

The robbers ran across a field carrying three packages from the mail sacks. Mr. Bassett said they left in a blue sedan hidden in a clump of trees.

The robbery may have been prompted by rumors that a $500,000 shipment was on a Montreal-to-Toronto train.

The rumor was neither confirmed nor denied.

Lights aimed at controlling traffic not...

SHERBROOKE (DM) — Comments under a photograph in the July 29 edition of the French-language newspaper La Tribune have caused a certain amount of consternation at City Hall.

As a result, city engineer Guy Riendeau Wednesday released a communique to clarify matters.

The photograph showed the traffic lights installed by the city at King Street West and Fontaine Street near the overpass now under construction. "To slow down the eager beavers" was the headline above the photo and below was written "The traffic lights will no doubt moderate the eagerness of certain drivers entering Sherbrooke on King West near the overpass...Meanwhile the lights have not been activated yet."

Mr. Riendeau's press release points out that traffic lights are installed on a given location not in order to control the speed of motorists but rather to control traffic.

"In other words," the press release continues, "traffic lights permit both motorists and pedestrians to cross an intersection with the minimum chance of becoming involved in an accident."

The press release also explains the traffic lights have not been activated because complementary road signs have not yet been installed. Those road signs, which indicate the speed limit and warn about the upcoming traffic lights, will be installed within the next few days.

The traffic lights will be activated once the signs have been put in place. They will undergo a two-week trial period during which they will be partially functional. Motorists coming along King Street West will be met with a flashing yellow light while those driving along Fontaine Street will encounter a flashing red light. Only those cars travelling on Fontaine Street will be required to stop during the two-week trial period.

The press release reveals the lights will operate normally once the two-week period is over.

but engineer Bassett said, "I guess they got the wrong train."

A spokesman for the post office investigation department said the only valuable in the postal consignment was a $1,000 bond.

The train was delayed about 90 minutes after the holdup while officials conducted investigations.

A CN spokesman said the rifled car contained some 137 sacks of mail and other items. The company had checked with customers and the post office to see whether anything of value had been consigned and that apparently nothing had.

While the robbery was proceeding, none of the 119 passengers aboard was disturbed.

"It's normal," Mr. Bassett said. "A train often stops for ten minutes or so at a signal."

Mr. Bassett said it was the first robbery he had experienced in his 20 years with the CNR.

Pollution study to City Hall

SHERBROOKE (DM) — A research assistant in the University of Sherbrooke's Applied Sciences Faculty has sent the results of nine studies completed by students in an environmental studies course to City Hall.

The studies concern topics such as the development of the downtown area, pollution at Jacques-Cartier Beach, noise pollution and laying of cables.

City public relations agent Andre Collard said Wednesday in a press release "The city is pleased with the collaboration furnished by the university."

The fact that results of their work will serve as working documents for civic administrators "surely must encourage the students to continue their good work."

Following is the list of studies with accompanying remarks from the University of Sherbrooke:

DEVELOPMENT OF THE DOWNTOWN AREA: This study suggests a mall be constructed on Wellington Street North. It proposes removing railway tracks from the area. Even if the hypothesis is utopian the project still remains a valid one.

INVESTIGATION AS REGARDS POLLUTION: This investigation shows that of 30 persons interviewed soon after Dr. Victor Goldbloom's recent visit to Sherbrooke, 50 per cent did not know that a department of the environment existed.

JACQUES-CARTIER BEACH: Two samples showed a coliform count of 390 for each 100 millilitres of water. The number of samples are evidently too small. A complete study should be carried out. In effect, if these figures are right, the beach is unsuited for bathing according to Ontario standards.

STUDY OF THE MAGOG RIVER: A brief investigation between Sherbrooke and Rock Forest seems to show interviewed individuals are ready to do something about pollution but lack of information to do so. Several water samples were taken.

NOISE POLLUTION: This complete and serious study shows the relationship between the amount of noise in the downtown area and the zoning plan.

The results of the study, when confirmed, will allow scientific zoning planning. Other results concern the noise level between King and Wellington, in a multicopying perforation room and in a discotheque. They all show the danger that can be posed by noise.

LAYING OF CABLES: The students tried to determine why electric cables and telephone wires are all installed above ground in Sherbrooke.

RECREATION, TOURISM AND TERRITORIAL PLANNING: Quebec seems over-equipped for tourism planning.

POLLUTION BY STEAM GENERATING STATIONS: Steam generating stations, happily almost nonexistent in Quebec, are a very important source of pollution.

POLLUTION BY AUTOMOBILES: The automobile continues to deteriorate our environment. More efficient and better organized common transport systems are needed in our cities to diminish the amount of pollution caused by automobiles.

weight if they have any fat deposits at all, before trying medicine. Often weight loss and some adjustments in life style correct the pressure sufficiently.

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—They say you can tell who a baby's mother is but you can't prove who the daddy is. Is there a way by a blood test? Should the baby's blood and the daddy's blood be the same blood type? A girl claims my boy is the father of her baby, but she was going with three other boys at the time.

Dear Reader—You are about right. A blood test does not prove who the father is, but it can sometimes prove who is not the father. If the baby has a different blood type than either the alleged father or the mother, then someone else has been in the act. If the blood type is the same as the alleged father you can't prove a thing because the main blood types are quite common and it is possible that someone else with the same blood type may have fathered the child. Blood doesn't always tell.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am past 70 and have high blood pressure, 195 over 105. My doctor has prescribed four different kinds of pills, but they haven't helped. I have an empty head feeling like I was in a box. Is my blood pressure dangerous? Can poor circulation cause high blood pressure?

Dear Reader—Your blood pressure is high but not so high for a person in your age group to cause alarm. Often a rise in pressure like yours is caused by loss of the normal elasticity of the aorta or large artery that carries the blood directly away from the heart to most of the body.

In young people the aorta is elastic, like a rubber balloon. When blood is pumped out of the heart into the aorta it simply expands and the pressure doesn't rise so much. As atherosclerosis or fatty deposits form and are replaced by calcium this normal elasticity is lost and it behaves like a rigid pipe. Then when blood is ejected by the heart it can't expand and the pressure rises.

In these circumstances it is not helpful to lower the

It was shortly before the Ides of March. Marc Antony lost no time getting to six hearts after Caesar gave him a jump raise. Brutus opened the queen of diamonds.

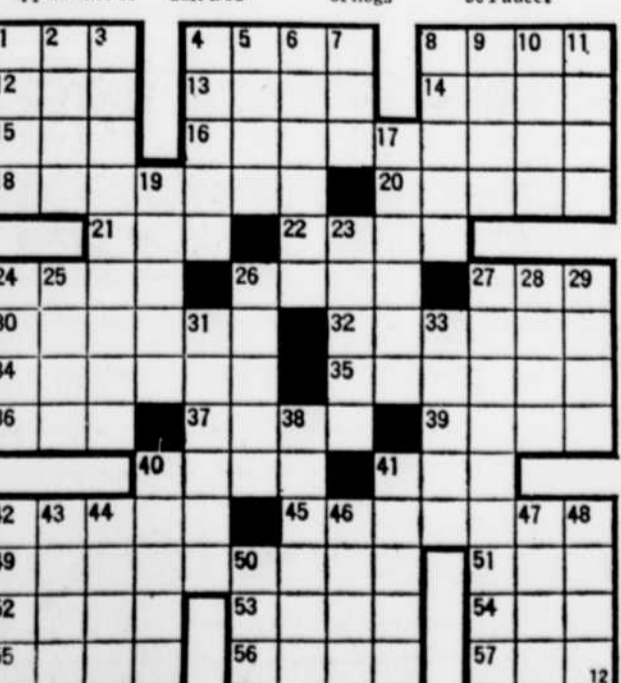

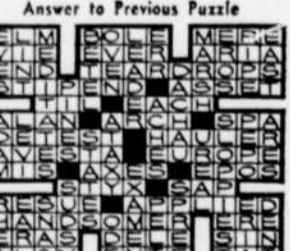

Antony studied the hand and saw that he would need two spade tricks to score the slam. The normal play would be to tackle the spade suit by leading the deuce from dummy, rising with the king and leading back toward dummy with the intention of finessing the 10. This would insure his contract any time West held the spade jack or against some special holdings of the jack in the East.

hand.
 It would also lose against the actual layout but Antony made the hand. He drew four rounds of trumps, stripped the hand of diamonds and clubs and led the queen of spades from dummy. Cassius, sitting East, could do no better than take his ace and lead back the seven, which Marc allowed to ride to dummy's 10.
 "Why did you make that play?" asked Caesar.
 "Brutus had such a tough time before discarding the four of spades on my fourth trump lead that I decided to play Cassius for both honors."
 "Why?" asked Caesar.
 "Brutus is an honorable man."
 "So they say," replied Antony, "but I am not too certain about that matter."

Attack incident spurs police to caution girls

SHERBROOKE (PT) — A young girl was slightly injured Monday night at about 10 p.m. after having been attacked by someone presumed to be a sex maniac who wouldn't have left the girl alone if it hadn't been for a passing motorist.

The unpleasant incident, the like of which happens rarely in the Sherbrooke area, occurred on the University of Sherbrooke Boulevard at the southwestern extremity of the city. Police said they can only interpret it as following the trend set by other cities in the province.

The victim is a young girl of 13 who lives in the neighborhood. She was admitted to hospital where she was treated for a bruised eye and cuts around her mouth, but was able to return home the same evening just before midnight.

The incident occurred when the girl was walking back to her parents' home on University Boulevard. She was approached all of a sudden by a man in his thirties who made indecent advances towards her.

Refusing to comply with the suggestions the man was making, the young girl attempted to flee. It was at this moment that the man decided to get rough with the girl in order to force her to return to his house.

He punched her three or four times in the eye and mouth, the girl said. She was about to fall on the ground when a car happened to pass just in time. While it is not known if the car actually stopped, the mere fact of its presence on the lonely street apparently caused the man to make his escape while the going was good.

The girl, shaken, went to the offices of the Quebec Police Force with her parents to explain what had happened. She then proceeded to hospital. Sgt. Courchesne of the QPF told The Record this was a good opportunity to remind young girls in the area to be careful, and to think twice before walking on dimly-lit streets at times when there isn't much traffic.

"We wouldn't want the same thing to happen here as occurred in Trois-Rivieres and St-Marie," he said.

500 attend swimmer's funeral

DRUMMONDVILLE (PT) — About 500 persons attended funeral services for young swimmer Richard Houde at St-Jean-Baptiste Church in Drummondville Tuesday afternoon.

Houde drowned Saturday in a swimming competition which determined the regional finalists in Jeux du Quebec swimming.

Members of Les Requins, the swimming team of which Houde was a member, served as pallbearers.

Present at the ceremony, among other dignitaries, were Drummondville mayor Philippe Bernier, aldermen Raymond Luneau and Lindor Letendre, Jeux du Quebec president Andre Lamy, vice-presidents Lucien Cournoyer and Michel Daupinais, Jeux coordinator Gilles Charest, public relations officer Lyse Emond and Drummondville recreation services director Claude Boucher.

Richard Houde, son of Lt. Andre Houde of the Drummondville Fire Department, suddenly lost his life at about 4:10 p.m. Sunday after having earned a gold medal for his team. The young swimmer was buried wearing the medal around his neck.

Abbe Jean-Jacques Forest paid homage to the deceased, saying that Houde was just entering the prime period of his life and had found an occupation he enjoyed and did well at, semi-professional swimming.

"We're always sad and confused when someone as fine as Houde dies at such tender age," he said, "but we should be rejoicing because death is the ultimate joy and triumph of man's existence."

Abbe Forest added that Houde was a happy person who managed to evoke joie-de-vivre everywhere he went.

The priest concluded his tribute to Houde by saying, "He has not left us. He actually is more with us than ever before since he is present through the holy spirit of Christ."

New head of PC council

QUEBEC (PT) — Jean Sirois yesterday was elected president of the Quebec Regional Council of the Quebec Progressive Conservative Association.

Sirois, elected unanimously by council members, succeeds Gaston Dion, who was elected recently to the provincial vice-presidency of the Association.

The newly-elected president will start on the job immediately, attempting to make the Quebec region of the Association "the most dynamic PC region in the province," according to an Association communique.

DRUMMONDVILLE (PT) — Two accusations were brought Tuesday against Denis "Fiery Wolf" Boucher, of 11th range, Wickham, about 10 miles from Drummondville.

Boucher is accused of being found in possession of hashish and of growing some 40 marijuana plants. He appeared in Court of Sessions of the Peace before Judge Jean-Paul Fortin at the Drummondville Court house to plead guilty to the two accusations brought against him.

Boucher, who raised his left hand to swear his oath in the witness box, must remain in prison until Sept. 21, when he will undergo trial for the hashish offence and preliminary hearing on the marijuana cultivation charge.

He was to have been set free on $500 bail, but he told the judge that he didn't have any money and lived on social welfare.

He did, however, add that he possessed a $1,200 workshop outside Wickham.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Fortin told the accused, who appeared in court in overalls and other sloppy attire, to wash himself and look a little more civilized next time he appeared in the halls of justice.

At this point, Boucher retorted that he wasn't a civilized person and had no intention of becoming one to appear in courts.

He left the courtroom shouting "We shall conquer," in imitation of Paul Rose.

Sherbrooke visit draws reactions

SHERBROOKE (PT) — A group of 17 students from France were visiting Sherbrooke last week, and stayed in the homes of local families while here.

They left Monday to continue on to Quebec City and Montreal.

The students said they were very well received in Sherbrooke, and were surprised that the Canadian way of life is so similar to that of the Americans.

Most of them found the food far different from that to which they are accustomed in France.

During their tour of the University of Sherbrooke, one girl said she was charmed by French-Canadian music, while several other students expressed surprise over the comfort of the U. of S. residences.

Another student was surprised at the amount of space Sherbrookers manage to take up when the city has a relatively small population. Others made favorable remarks about the large rural areas which still remain untouched by urbanization and industry.

Other students, questioned on their attitudes toward Quebec, said that they had not arrived in the province with any fixed prejudices but were amazed at the intensity of the French-English problems.

The students' visit was organized by l'Office Franco-Quebecois.

Fraternity set for anniversary celebration here

SHERBROOKE (WC) —

Nearly 10 years ago, Mrs. Elaine Poirier along with the several members of the Roman Catholic clergy in Sherbrooke decided to form an organization.

To join, only one condition had to be met. The person had to be either handicapped or chronically ill. The organization was called the Fraternity for the Handicapped and Mentally ill.

This Sunday, the fraternity will have the biggest party the handicapped in Sherbrooke and region has ever celebrated. Beginning at 10 a.m., the fraternity will hold a day of festivities to celebrate its 10th anniversary.

Hundreds of people will congregate at the park this community Sunday.

There are people coming from all over the region. We have buses coming from Asbestos, Coaticook, Weedon and Lennoxville as well as from all over the Eastern Townships," Mrs. Poirier told The Record.

At 10 a.m., everyone will meet and have a chance to greet old friends. Mass will be given at 11:30 a.m. in the little chapel at the park.

Dinner, a picnic lunch, will be at noon. "Everyone must bring their own lunch because we can't serve the people, we do not know how many are coming," she said.

"The afternoon will be filled with recreational activities along with the invited guests and surprises," she said.

Pool in Lennoxville ready August 20

LENNOXVILLE (WC) — The tiny tots of Lennoxville soon will be splashing away in their own public wading pool at the Centennial Park at the corner of Mead and Speid Streets.

Lennoxville Optimist Club president Bob Passmore told The Record last night that the wading pool should become operational around August 20. Work started on the pool nearly two weeks ago but was held up because of a construction strike.

The pool is being built as a gift from the Optimist Club to the Town of Lennoxville. When completed, the pool will be handed over to the town.

At the moment the hole has been dug and the cement laid. Soon the men will be installing the pool and erect a fence to encompass it.

After that, the water will be connected and a building brought to the site. "We were going to build our own entrance building but we found that we could buy one cheaper than we could make it," Mr. Passmore said.

The pool is being built by Croteau Ltd. of Sherbrooke. The pool will be 30 feet in diameter and will be surrounded by a 6 ft. patio. Estimated cost of the pool will be around $8,000.

FOODS GROWN NATURALLY

There are various types of oils, all cold-pressed to remove cholesterol. There are organic cereals and several types of macaroni, including soy bean, tomato, spinach. Salt is tea, not mineral, salt and is sold, like many of the store's products, in plastic bags. The only milk is powdered skim milk but it costs only about 10 cents a quart.

The store also sells books about organic foods, some of which are The Importance of Magnesium to Health, by Dr. Raymond Barbeau; Natural Vitamins, by Dr. Jean Marc Brunet; and Your Food is Poisoned, by Paul Leduc.

Although some of the store's products are cheaper, organic foods can sometimes cost as much as 20 per cent more than regular foods. The quality, however, is a different matter.

The products contain no harmful chemicals since they were grown naturally, and thus are supposed to be more healthful. Organic bread, at least, is thought by many to be much tastier than regular "enriched white bread."

Organic apple juice was found to be delicious and the cost, at 33 cents a quart, is comparable to the regular variety.

Construction progressing

SHERBROOKE (PT) — Progress on the construction of the LeBer polyvalent school in the city's east ward is well ahead of schedule, despite construction workers' holidays, said Gerard Tousignant, director-general of the Estrie Regional School Board in an interview yesterday.

Mr. Tousignant also said that preliminary excavation has already been started on the site of a future Lake Megantic polyvalent campus. Work on this project will continue throughout the holiday period.

The Commission is still waiting for an answer from Sherbrooke CEGEP on the question of availability of facilities in the college's Joliet and Lisieux Streets premises.

He also said that tenders are being accepted until Aug. 25 for the construction of a similar school in East Angus.

They were asking the CEGEP to specify the date on which promised premises would be vacated for the use of the regional school board.

Kidnapping proves false

ST-GERARD (PT) — The spectre of the kidnapping and murder of two young girls in Cap-de-la-Madeleine recently was the cause of the call to alert of all the province's police forces here Monday night.

Several persons living on the Lake Louise road in St-Gerard, Wolfe County, phoned the Quebec Police Force to inform authorities they had just witnessed the kidnapping of two young girls not far from their homes.

A description of the supposed kidnapping car was sent to every municipal police force in the province, as well as the Quebec Police Force, in order to trace the two young men who were supposed to have kidnapped the girls.

The alert was given at 8:40 p.m., and the young girls were found in the men's company at about 9:45 not far from Weedon.

Interrogation of the four parties concerned revealed that a kidnapping definitely had not taken place.

According to the group of four, the two girls, aged 13 and 14 respectively, were bicycling on the Lake Louise road when one of them fell. She screamed and cried as a result, and was heard by several neighbors.

The young men, seeing her plight, drove the two girls home. Neighbors construed the incident as a kidnapping.

Congratulated by city mayor

SHERBROOKE (DM) — The two Sherbrooke policemen who saved the life of a 22-year-old woman July 27 have been congratulated by Mayor Marc Bureau.

In a letter dated July 30, Mr. Bureau complimented constables Roger Dion and Fernand Donahue for the way in which they plucked the young woman from the waters of the Magog River near Jacques-Cartier bridge.

"I am aware that you are the heroes of the rescue and must compliment you on your act of bravery," the letter reads.

"Thanks to the alertness of a helpful citizen as well as the courage and rapidity of your actions a young lady will no doubt once again enjoy the joy of living."

"I am convinced your generous performance deserves the admiration of the whole population and brings honor to the whole police force."

Activities underway at camping grounds

SHERBROOKE (PT) — A camping week is presently held at the Jardin Prevost camping ground on the Cookshire road.

"Our aim is to initiate something original for our seasoned campers, who number about 60. We've organized several activities in which campers will be able to play and socialize together," said the manager of the campsite, Richard Beaulieu.

Camping week officially opened Sunday afternoon, and several activities are taking place each day this week.

For those under 18 years of age, there will be a masquerade party and a hippie evening held Saturday night. Prizes will be awarded for the most original costumes.

Campers will also be decorating their area of land on the camping ground to compete for other prizes. "What we want is a holiday atmosphere which we haven't had in the past," explained Mr. Beaulieu.

Other activities have also been arranged, and a mini-trail ride will be held on Aug. 14 at Mont St-Leon.

HERE & THERE

MANSONVILLE — The Mansonville UCW will hold their annual auction, rummage sale, sale of home cooking and home sewing as well as a lunch counter, at the United Church on Saturday August 7 at 10 a.m. Come and pick up some goodies for the weekend.

The crime that was

Late in October, 1970, two young men studying at the University of Sherbrooke were arrested by police and thrown in jail for distributing Maoist pamphlets on the university campus. Their wives also were arrested but for no other reason than because they were married to the individuals arrested.

Under the War Measures Act, all four were charged with "favoring the acts, principles and lines of conduct of the Front de Liberation du Quebec," a charge nebulous enough in itself to incite wonder as to what kind of crime, if any, has been committed.

The men were kept incarcerated in Sherbrooke jail where they were not permitted to have any friends visit, and the women were likewise imprisoned in Montreal's Tanguay Institute for Women.

The quartet appeared in court several times during November and December, but to no avail: the trial was continually postponed for various reasons either at the request of the Crown or of the defence attorney.

A request that they be freed on bail was denied by Justice Minister Jerome Choquette for "security reasons." And so these four young Quebecers, not convicted of any crime, sat in jail for almost five months.

After the War Measures Act had expired, for some reason it was decided that these people were no longer security risks and they were set free during the month of March.

With the expiration of the War Measures Act, the whole case had become an exercise in futility, since the "crime" of which Maurice Gauthier and Real Jodoin and their wives had been accused but never convicted was no longer a crime.

This was demonstrated rather ironically by defence counsel Laurent Dube, who pointed out that Crown prosecutor Michel Cote had distributed Maoist pamphlets to the jury without being arrested. This amusing if not legally significant observation nevertheless served to put the situation in its proper perspective.

The crime that was is no longer, and the court was trying a man for passing out pieces of paper which were freely circulating between members of the jury.

At the conclusion of an exhausting all-day hearing followed by several hours of jury debate, Gauthier was acquitted. Although his wife and the other couple have seen their own trials postponed until September, it is expected that they too will be found not guilty.

A bit late, though, wasn't it?

Just think for a minute about what the months of imprisonment meant to the four: Gauthier was unable to attend lectures and finish his course of study at the university — and thus wasted his costly tuition. His future is in extreme prejudice because of the political nature of the charge and the fact that he has been in prison. A teacher of religion, he quite understandably is having trouble finding a job now.

Jodoin, meanwhile, has become embittered and angry with the whole experience and has since been arrested again, this time for participating in a Maoist demonstration after which 20 policemen were admitted to hospital.

A friend of the group, whose house has been watched constantly for the last two years, was recently driven to Montreal International Airport and put on the first plane back to his native England. He too is a Maoist who distributed pamphlets both at the University of Sherbrooke and at Bishop's University.

The results of this kind of treatment of prisoners during the October events can often be harmful and prejudicial to the future of those concerned.

Those who dismiss the War Measures Act with a wave of the hand should consider what happened to a student at a local university whose name happened to be Gauthier. They should put themselves in his place for a few minutes.

It's a pity that things like this are allowed to happen.

New birth control measure seen
A rifle, not a shotgun

Under the pressure of a still-growing world population, scientists are seeking new, better and safer methods of contraception. This report, the first of two, tells what may soon be coming out of laboratories to help in the fight against the population explosion.

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Just around the corner now looms a fabulous new once-a-month birth control pill.

It would act upon the pituitary gland in the brain, preventing it from releasing hormones necessary for conception to occur, and for pregnancy to be maintained.

It would thus act like a rifle bullet, preventing conception without producing any other effects on the body.

The current pill is more like a shotgun. While it prevents conception, the female hormone-type chemicals in the pill affect other cells and systems of the body as well.

The new pill now promised involves a fantastic chemical, called Gonadotropin Releasing Factor — produced in the hypothalamus area of the brain. The GRF tells the nearby pituitary gland when to release the hormones responsible for a woman's releasing an egg, and for pregnancy to continue.

Now, two teams of scientists have synthesized this releasing factor, a chemical so powerful that a few thousandths of one millionth of a gram — one gram is 1-28th of an ounce — is enough to start the chain of hormone release.

This feat has just been achieved by Dr. Andrew V. Schalley and associates of the Veterans Administration Hospital and Tulane University Medical Center, New Orleans, and by Dr. Roger Guillemin and his collaborators at the Salk Institute here.

A next step is to make a phoney GRF, one that would be fooled by the pituitary gland, but which would block that gland from releasing its hormones.

Such analogues, as they are called, have already been prepared by the scientific teams, and they might be fully tested for safety and effectiveness within two or three years. The day of the rifle-bullet contraceptive would be here.

The GRF is only one prospect in intensified research to find new contraceptives beyond the present pill, which came under a cloud of public worry during congressional hearings early last year. Pill use was associated with some increased risk of blood clots and other harmful effects.

Those alarms — unjustified in the opinion of some leading experts — prompted hundreds of thousands of women to turn from the pill, but a majority may have resumed its use.

Pill sales went down initially, but recovered as women resumed its use, or other women took it up. Statistics in some major American cities showed a slight increase in birth rate a year after the hearings, but officials are loathe to attribute this simply to abandonment of the pill.

The majority of physicians and experts on birth control consider the pill as remarkably safe — safer than childbirth for example — and totally effective if taken regularly.

But the pill is not perfection, not the ultimate, hence the quest for even better methods, including a variety of methods that could suit everyone desirous of limiting family size.

Researchers are working upon minipills, hormone injections or implants that might be good for a year, pills that would induce abortion if a woman had conceived but didn't yet realize it, and pills for men.

Animal experiments have turned up at least three chemicals that can suppress sperm production, but they may be too toxic for human use.

Low doses of progesterone, one of the female hormones, can interfere with sperm maturation and mobility, but again there are questions of safety and practical application.

Some research is concerned with the capacitation factor — a chemical agent in the female reproductive tract in the female reproductive tract.

Some research is concerned with the capacitation factor — a chemical agent in the female reproductive tract that somehow alters sperm so they become able to penetrate the egg. A chemical that neutralized the capacitation factor might be an effective and simple contraceptive.

The present pill prevents ovulation by blocking the releasing factors in the hypothalamus. But the hormones in the pill affect other systems, too, and have been compared to "killing a mosquito with a sledgehammer."

Friendship

After years of mutual recrimination, the West and China are edging closer to one another.

But in recent days the "imperialist" side has been making most of the conciliatory gestures, while some sobering statements have come from Peking.

China's own offensive of friendliness reached a climax with the burst of "ping-pong" diplomacy which took athletes from the United States, Canada and Britain to Peking for the warmest display of Maoist hospitality since before the frigid period of China's cultural revolution.

Canada played a leading role in trying to improve Western relations with China. The exchange of ambassadors as well as the big wheat deals between the two countries won global attention.

China, long involved in a feud with the Soviet Union over primacy in the Communist world, made conciliatory gestures towards a wide range of Western countries. Peking capped all this by accepting the idea of a visit by President Nixon, an event which was seen as heralding the ultimate establishment of normal diplomatic ties between the two long-time antagonists.

Announcement of the projected trip came as a political boon to the American chief executive.

It appeared that the American-Chinese thaw was a step towards possible peace in Indochina, an advantage for Nixon because of widespread war weariness in the U.S.

Now comes Washington's announcement that it will support Chinese entry into the United Nations this fall, but will continue to oppose expulsion of Taiwan from the world organization.

This may produce new difficulties in view of the opposition of both the Communist and Nationalist Chinese regimes to the concept of dual representation.

But European observers suggest that, one way or another, Peking eventually will end up with the Security Council seat currently occupied in the name of all China by Taiwan. They interpret the latest U.S. move as simply a matter of accepting the inevitability of Peking UN membership and also as part of the price Nixon is having to pay for his politically profitable Peking trip.

Since the dramatic disclosure of the forthcoming Nixon trip, the Chinese leaders in Peking have given no evidence of easing their hard line on several crucial aspects of world politics.

They have rejected a Soviet proposal for a five-power conference aimed at negotiating a ban on nuclear arms.

Moreover, they have insisted on withdrawal of U.S. forces not only from Indochina but also from South Korea, Japan and other parts of Southeast Asia.

Thus, while a number of spectacular developments have raised hopes of future friendship between China and the U.S., there also are solid reasons for ruling out anything but guarded optimism about the possibility that this happy state of affairs will in fact come about.

On the Right

LONDON — An obscenity prosecution is front page news in London, where a few days ago a jury found ten to one against three defendants, all of them in their twenties, for putting out an issue of a magazine (Oz Number 28) which the jury agreed was in violation of the obscenity statutes.

The case was interesting from several points of view. For one, the magazine was written and, one gathers, the cartoons drawn, all by schoolchildren — for schoolchildren. The editors had discreetly inserted ads in other issues of the mag, inviting young pornographic talent (under 18) to contribute to issue number 28.

When the thing appeared, it occurred to the prosecutor, whose actions against obscene publications have been erratic over the past few years, that here was a case that had to be prosecuted, or else there was risk that the House of Commons would be finally aroused. Even so, the outcome was in doubt, such are the pressures for permissiveness, and the trial took an astounding (by English standards) 27 days.

Several inferences are to be drawn.

1. The notion that freely circulating pornography is something that can be kept from the hands of children is one of those liberal abstractions which are nicely shafted by Oz-28. We find here, among the very young kids, not only quite extraordinary conversance with the discipline, but a considerable precocity in handling it.

2. A leading opponent of free pornography in the House of Commons is a young MP, John Selwyn Gummer, who tackles the subject with zest, and informs us that the successful prosecution will have the effect of keeping the pornographic merchandisers half-handicapped. And that, he says, is about the way the House of Commons wants it.

One extreme — the Danish extreme — is total permissiveness, a Times Square situation. The other is total repression. In between you have, he says, something like the London situation, where you can find the stuff if you want it, but where because tons of it are regularly dumped into the British Channel and every now and then you have a successful prosecution, the printers aren't quite ready to go into high gear, and it has not become a mass-produced business.

If the House of Commons should move against it ruthlessly, the speculation is that you have the wrong kind of backlash. On the general subject, Lord Macaulay, himself rather straightlaced, wrote in reference to the bawdiness of Restoration Comedy. It was the result, he said, of a long period of British Puritanism. "...A government which, not content with repressing the scandalous excesses, demands from its subjects fervent and austere piety, will soon discover that, while attempting to render an impossible service to the cause of virtue, it has in fact only promoted vice."

3. The British attitude is wonderfully pragmatic and, in a way, utterly un-American. Our position is: it goes, or it doesn't go. If Oz-28 is pornographic, then half the pay lode of Manhattan newsstands is pornographic, to say the least. But, in London, the effect of the successful prosecution is other than to affront the logical sensibilities of the theorists. Everybody knows that there is worse stuff lying around, and yet many welcome a successful prosecution, the effect of which will be to keep the pornographers in a state of perpetual insecurity. That isn't the rule of law, but it is, in a subtle and fascinating way, the English way of doing things.

4. In interesting contrast with our own procedures, the time between indictment and prosecution was relatively short. The 27-day trial which resulted in the finding of guilty saw the pornographers instantly remanded to jail, notwithstanding the usual displays of slogans and placards with which the imperturbable agents of British justice were menaced. One thinks, by contrast, of Mr. Ralph Ginzburg, who was found guilty in 1963 and roams about, free and querulous — noisy testimony not only to the immunity of the practice of pornography but to the impotence of the law: a piquant combination.

In fact, the quality of the debate on the subject is behind that in America, which has benefited in this year alone through Professor Walter Berns' Pornography vs. Democracy: the Case for Censorship in Public Interest's Winter issue, and Irving Kristol's piece in the New York Times Sunday Magazine. The Case for Censorship, of March, 1971, Worth reading in any language.

"My feeling is that if more men would share in some of the household responsibilities, like this, there wouldn't be such a hassle about women's lib!"

People. A guaranteed investment.

The history of Canada was written by generations of tough, self-reliant people who came here with the same determination to build something worthwhile.

Think of the incredible difficulties that faced the immigrants who first settled here. Read about the Canadians who literally forged this country together a hundred years ago, in mile after impossible mile of railroad track. And remember the challenge of Expo '67. How many people even dreamed that Canadians could put on the greatest show the world has ever seen? People like that are still the most important resource we have. Unemployment is a waste of that resource — a waste that affects every one of us, at every income level. If we can find enough confidence in ourselves to grow the jobs we need, we'll all be better off for it. As a nation, we'll be producing more and selling more. As individuals, we'll be earning more and buying more.

Something else. When we give people a chance to build — a chance to fulfill themselves — we also give them pride and a sense of achievement. And those are gifts too valuable to be measured in dollars and cents.

Government policies and programmes can create a climate for growth. But Governments can't legislate public confidence. Nor can they control the private initiative and enterprise which will finally determine how far and how fast Canada grows. That's up to individual Canadians.

What are our chances?

Most economists agree that Canada is beginning a new period of growth. In the past year, we've contained inflation more successfully than any other country with a free economy. Things are moving. Companies are expanding. Opportunities are opening up. But we can still do much better. How much better depends on all of us; on how much we want to succeed. We have the people. We have the skills. Now we'll find out if we also have what it takes to make use of them.

What Canada Manpower Centres can do.

Canada Manpower is the operating arm of the Department of Manpower and Immigration, responsible for the development and utilization of our human resources. In other words, their business is matching people with job opportunities. Last year, for example, they helped more than 700,000 Canadians find work. There are 390 Canada Manpower Centres across the country, all linked by Telex so that they work together as one cohesive force. They can arrange the training and retraining of workers and help them relocate in opportunity areas. They also have access to the researchers, the economists and the statisticians needed by business and industry to take full advantage of existing opportunities and to create new ones. Canada Manpower Centres are there to help every way they can.

What Canadian businessmen can do.

Our economy depends on the enterprise and energy of the private sector to create new wealth and employment. There has rarely been a better time (or a more urgent need) to translate that fact into meaningful action. Now — at the beginning of an economic up-turn. Now — when thousands of skilled people are ready and anxious to go to work. Now — when there are Government programmes available to help with all kinds of business expansion plans. Canada's economic future is very much in your hands. The real stimulus for growth must come from your initiative and your confidence in the future of this country.

What Canadian workers can do.

If you think Canada Manpower Centres are just for unemployed people, you're wrong. A Canada Manpower Centre is also the place to go if you're under-employed. If you're interested in learning a new trade or up-grading your present skills — the counsellors there can tell you all about Government sponsored re-training programmes. (In these days of constant technological change, they can make all the difference in the world to your future). And if you want to find out about employment opportunities in other parts of the country — Canada Manpower is the place to get answers. If you fit any of these categories, and haven't already registered with a Canada Manpower Centre, then do so now.

What the Canadian people can do.

Start by examining your own attitudes in the bright light of Canada's current economic prospects. Right now, personal savings are at a ten-year high. Which simply means that people have been careful about spending — as people always are when times are difficult. There's much less reason for that caution today. What's needed now is the kind of confidence that will persuade people to make those expenditures they've been postponing. Because when people start spending, manufacturers will be encouraged to expand into new markets and new product areas. That's what keeps the economy moving. And that's what grows jobs.

Have we got what it takes to grow the jobs we need?

SILVER ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirkpatrick, centre, were the guests of honor at a surprise party, given to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. At

Silver wedding feted

BURY — Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirkpatrick, who have been spending a three weeks holiday with his mother, Mrs. Winnifred Kirkpatrick, and other relatives in Canada, were honored guests at a party in the Legion Hall on Monday evening, July 12, when some 100 relatives and friends were present.

During their visit it became known that they were observing the 25th anniversary of their marriage, which took place December 14, 1946, in England, and their many friends here decided to do something about it.

While they were away visiting relatives in Ontario, plans were made for a celebration for their return, resulting in a most enjoyable gathering at which many friends and relatives were present.

On the day of the party they had been supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Anderson, after which Mr. and Mrs. Anderson took them for a drive finally ending at the Legion Hall to see what was taking place there.

Upon their arrival they were met at the door by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harper, Bill, president of the Bury branch of the Canadian Legion, presented Howard with a boutonniere while Vera pinned a dainty rose corsage on Millie. Even then they did not relax what it was all about until they were escorted to their seats at the end of the hall, to the strains of For They are Jolly Good Fellows, sung by those present.

Seated with them in the receiving line were Howard's mother and sister Beryl, (Mrs. Theron Bennett) and Bill and Vera Harper representing the Legion. Ted Bennett as MC welcomed the guests and congratulated the honored couple on their 25 years of married life.

A musical program arranged by Mrs. Earl Goodenough included two duets, sung by Marjorie and Melanie Kirkpatrick, Let Me Call You Sweetheart and Winchester Cathedral, accompanied by Mrs. Russell Dougherty at the piano. Musical selections by Mrs. Harris Nugent and her brother Glen Coates were reminiscent of the war years of 1914-1939 with the well remembered songs There'll Always be an England; There's a long, long trail a-awinding; Pack up your Troubles, It's a long way to Tipperary and several more, concluding with Auld Lang Syne in which all joined in singing.

Forming a line the guests there went forward to greet and congratulate the honored couple. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Mrs. Nugent and Glen Coates. The guest book was taken in charge of Madelyn Kirkpatrick and daughter Marjorie.

Under the competent supervision of Mrs. Martin Allison and Mrs. Gwennie Berwick, assisted by Helen and Joy Allison and Marjorie Kirkpatrick, refreshments were served in buffet style except for those at the head table which was attractively decorated in pink and white with silver 25 numerals and silver bells, centred with the three-tier anniversary cake, made and beautifully decorated in blue and silver, by Mrs. Herbert Rowell.

Seated at the head table with the guests of honor were Howard's mother, Mrs. Winnifred Kirkpatrick, his sister Beryl and husband Theron Bennett, aunt Irene Flanders, Bill and Vera Harper representing the Legion, Mayor and Mrs. Gordon Dougherty, and their genial master of ceremonies, Ted Bennett.

Rev. Lokhorst, who had been present earlier, and had been called away, had now returned and congratulated them on their 25 years of wedded life expressing the wish that they might be able to observe their 60th as one couple present had celebrated theirs last year.

Mayor Dougherty in a brief address, expressed his pleasure at being present on this occasion, congratulating them on their past 25 years, and wishing them many more years of happiness together.

Ted Bennett on behalf of the assembled guests presented them with a decorative box containing many congratulatory cards and currency.

Although taken so completely by surprise, Howard rose to the occasion and expressed his thanks both for the generous gifts and to all who had a part in making this such a memorable occasion. Millie added her wishes also. With many good wishes for their safe return home, a most enjoyable evening came to a close.

Howard was born in Bury, a son of Mrs. Winnifred and the late Archie Kirkpatrick. He attended school here and afterwards worked in various places in the area. When war was declared in 1939 he enlisted for overseas service, serving in England for the duration of the war. It was there he met the charming English girl to whom he was married on December 14, 1946, and where they have since made their home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sparkes, of Scarborough, Ont., wish to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Janice Anne, to Mr. Barry Matthews, of Toronto, Ont., formerly of Cookshire, Que. The wedding will take place Sept. 18, 1971, at the Wilmar Heights United Church in Toronto, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rose of Sherbrooke announce with pleasure the engagement of their younger daughter, Joanne Elizabeth, to Wayne Arthur Townshend, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Townshend of Lennoxville. The marriage has been arranged to take place on October 23, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Sherbrooke.

THE FAMILY

Judy Boomhower weds Bruce Turner

ROCK ISLAND — A pretty summer wedding took place at Stanstead South Church on Saturday evening, July 31 at 7 p.m., when Judy Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Boomhower, of R.R. 3 Stanstead, became the bride of Mr. Bruce Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turner of Newport, Vermont.

Rev. T. W. Tyson officiated for the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Maynard Rollins played the organ music. Arrangements of majestic daisies and baby's breath were used to decorate with the guest pews marked with white satin ribbon bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing a princess-styled gown of white imported silk organza over peau de soie, having Alencon lace with seed pearls and sequin trim on the bodice and yoke, which had a Galvina neckline and on the ends of the long sleeves. The back interest was a peplum effect to drape into a semi-cathedral train which had re-embroidered applique lace. Her fingertip length veil of silk illusion was held in place by an organza orchid. She carried a cascade of red sweetheart roses and baby's breath, looped with white satin ribbon. Her jewellery was a double strand of pearls.

Miss Carmen Roderigue, as maid of honor, was in a gown of orchid silk organza over taffeta having a round neck and short puff sleeves. White with silver braid were used on the contour seams from the high waist and a white organza train in chapel length from a large butterfly bow at the back.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Kennesson, in pale yellow silk crepe; Miss Linda Kennesson, in pale pink silk crepe, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Anne Marie Turner, sister of the groom, in orchid silk, wore gowns styled alike with round neckline and short puff sleeves with satin ribbon sashes and streamers at the highrise waists. They wore ribbons to match their gowns in their hair and carried colonials centered with a pink sweetheart rose encircled with white mums and re-encircled with mums to match their gown, tied with white satin bows and streamers.

Miss Lisa Labounty, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a gown of orchid silk having daisy lace at the round neckline and the highrise waist. She wore matching ribbons tipped with daisies in her hair and carried a nosegay of mums.

Mr. Roger Fortin was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Clayton Boomhower and Mr. Bernard Turner, brothers of the couple. Master James Turner, brother of the groom was train bearer and Master Dexter Wing, cousin of the bride was ring bearer, having the rings on a lace-trimmed, square satin cushion. The gentlemen of the wedding party wore white jackets and black trousers. Their boutonnières were red carnations.

Mrs. Boomhower, mother of the bride, was wearing a frock of rose pink polyester having a white front panel. Her accessories were in white and she wore a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Turner, was in a frock of yellow waffle weave, trimmed with guipure lace and sequins. Her accessories were in white and she wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ida McGee, maternal grandmother of the bride, was in a dress of turquoise mesh knit, wearing white accessories and a corsage of pink and white miniature carnations.

The wedding party formed the reception line on the church steps. Later, all assembled at the Del Monty dining hall where a dinner was served.

The bride's table was centred with the fruited wedding cake, made by Miss Ruth Wing, aunt of the bride, and decorated by Mrs. Horace Doyon. The triple tiers were in white with roses and lily of the valley and a touch of green, the top tier was on swan dividers and was topped with a bride and groom within a garden arch.

Amid showers of confetti, Mr. and Mrs. Turner left for their honeymoon in Vermont. The bride chose a pant suit in tangerine and white acetate. Her accessories were in white, and she wore a red rose corsage. They are now residing at east Main St. in Newport.

Miss Carmen Roderigue and Miss Elaine Kennesson were in charge of the guest book and the gift table.

Guests attended to total 110 from Tomiobia, Beebe, Newport, Lebanon, N.H., Boston, Mass., Hartford, Conn., Morgan Center, Montreal, Stanbridge East, Westfield, Barre, Vt., Bury, Rock Island, Stanstead, and Derby Line.

Penmanship means service

Dear Ann Landers: Since you see more crazy handwriting, lousy spelling, undecipherable signatures and convoluted sentence structure than anyone in the world, you should be especially sympathetic to my problem.

I work for a direct mailing company. Every day we receive about 10,000 requests for gifts and catalogs. If we can't read an address we guess. If the writing is so bad that we can't even guess, we must throw away the letter. Within four weeks (the time allowed for delivery), we usually receive a nasty blast accusing us of being crooks, threatening us with the law, etc.

Here is a sample: "Dear Sir: Where is my catalog? What kind of a racket are you running anyway? If I don't get the catalog or my money back within a week I am going to the law. And hurry up because we are moving."

The signature looks like T. Myntrklz. It might also be R. Hzmlystj. There is no address, no zip code, nothing to help us.

Also, a word to the postmen: Please, when there is a change of address, don't obliterate the old address. We need it so we can erase it from our computer tape. Also, Mr. Postman, please print the new address so everyone can read it—not just you. Thanks a heap.

—Keyed Up Keypuncher

Dear Keyed: I know exactly what you are up against. Every now and then some irate reader accuses me of absconding to Mexico with the $1 they sent for two booklets. I hope a few million folks out there get the message. Thanks for writing—in penmanship I could read.

Dear Ann Landers: Five years ago our third child died of pneumonia when I was pregnant with the fourth. The anxiety and shock caused me to have a miscarriage. Eighteen months later I had a fifth child. Now when I attend P.T.A. or civic functions and someone asks how many children we have and what are their ages, I say 15, 13 and 3. Invariably someone will laugh and make a crude remark such as "Wow 10 years apart! Ho, Ho, Ho. Never say die, eh?"

I would never embarrass anyone by setting him straight but perhaps if you print this letter it will educate people to be more careful about their cute remarks.

—Mrs. S. Kearny, N.J.

Dear Mrs. S.: Sorry, in my opinion you are letting the clods off too easily. I think you ought to say, "We lost two before our youngest was born," and watch them stumble all over themselves apologizing.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter received, as a graduation gift, a box of inexpensive dusting powder. The woman who sent it is a close friend of mine. The powder was obviously something she had received during a recent illness. I was hurt. I was also ashamed of myself for having put a dollar value on our friendship. Suddenly it occurred to me that what really bothered me was her lack of thought. I hope you will tell your readers that those who don't want to spend much can select some useful but inexpensive items. What counts is that some effort goes into the gift selection. For the bride: kitchen gadgets, gaily colored paper goods, dish towels. For the graduate: a charm for a bracelet, pens, pencils, a dictionary.

In time I will forgive my friend but my feelings for her will never be the same. I hate the fact that I shall never forget this petty incident. It makes me petty, too. Thanks for letting me express my bitterness.

—Only Human

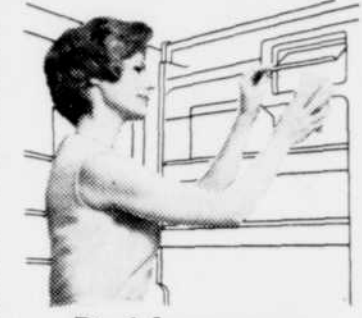

Dear Human: Some people have a cheap streak when it comes to gifts. Your friend is obviously one of those people. I can say nothing to improve the situation so I will simply say I'm glad I served a useful purpose.

Christening

AYER'S CLIFF — On Sunday, July 4, Timothy Jordan Keeler, son of Nick I. Keeler and his wife, Gail Perkins, was baptised in the Beulah United Church at Ayer's Cliff. The Reverend Ralph Rogers officiated at the baptism.

After the service, a christening tea was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Keeler. Those attending included Timmy's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keeler.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Slayton Perkins, Miss Debbie Perkins, Mr. Douglas Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith, Steven, Scott and Sherri, Rev. Ralph Rogers, Miss Geraldine Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Keeler, Roy and Richard Keeler.

Burn treatment complex

MONTREAL (CP) — Treatment of burns in children is one of the most complicated and disturbing problems confronting the medical profession today, says Dr. John F. Burke, director of the Shriners' burn unit at Massachusetts General Hospital.

He told a burn symposium sponsored by the Montreal Children's Hospital that childhood burns require efficient care.

"Burns involve every organ of the body in a potentially lethal way and we in the medical field are beginning to realize this isn't a garden-variety illness, but a very serious one which demands the best in team effort.

"The mortality rate is far higher from burns than it is from any form of fracture. In major burns, it can rise as high as 50 per cent.

"Infection remains a major problem. The skin keeps bacteria from getting in, but after a burn, the bacteria moves in as there is no effective second line of defence."

SPECIAL UNITS HELP
However, doctors are gradually gaining the upper hand over infection, Dr. Burke said, thanks to development of special burn units during the last five years.

"One of the most encouraging signs is that it now is being recognized that one can't treat burns in a usual ward.

"Our burn clinic opened in 1968 and since that time 20 others have opened in the U.S." Asked what parents should do with children who have been burned at home, Dr. Burke replied:

"I don't want to create any sense of panic, but... a burn of any size bigger than a silver dollar should be seen by a doctor."

Permanent press can come clean

Everyone likes to take things easy in the summer months, the children have their long school vacation and many companies work shorter hours, but what about mother? She can't really cut back on the number of hours she works each week, therefore anything that can make her job easier and faster she welcomes with open arms.

Fortunately the fabric manufacturers have come up with a great work saver—permanent press. Many permanent press items never need ironing during their normal lifetime if properly machine washed and dried. They come out of the dryer already pressed and stay fresh and crisp no matter what the temperature or humidity.

The permanent press treatment is done by giving the fabric a special finish called a resin, which is set either before or after the garment is completed. The setting is done on high-pressure presses or in high temperature ovens so that the finish is then permanent under normal wear and care conditions. This process can be applied to many fibers and blends including, nylon, rayon, acetate, polyester, cotton and even wool and linen.

To help prolong the life of your permanent press garments and make things easier for you, we are sure you will find these little hints most useful.

Check all garments for spots and stains before washing. Collars and cuffs usually require "pretreatment" and need it even more on permanent press because of its tendency to absorb oily soils. Wet these areas with cool water and rub or brush in an additive like Borateem.

Turn garments with pleats or creases inside-out prior to machine washing and drying as this will reduce the wear at the creased edges and help prolong the life of the item.

Remember, too, to close all zippers and clasps before putting clothes in the washer—we all know how much damage an open zipper or unclasped clasp can do to a washload.

Don't overload the washer. Permanent press garments have to move freely in the machine to get them clean, to avoid excess wrinkling and insure against harming the finish of the clothes. It is best therefore not to fill the washer to its full capacity.

For normal soil use warm to hot water, regular agitation on the 10-minute wash cycle. For heavily soiled clothes a pre-wash is necessary. Launder for approximately 3 minutes in warm water adding a half cup of Borateem — no detergent. Then follow this with a normal hot water wash.

Remove permanent press garments from the washer immediately after completion of the final spin cycle.

If you dry permanent press items in a dryer remove them immediately as soon as the action stops, this helps to prevent wrinkling. Turn the garment right-side-out—hang items like dresses, shirts, pants or blouses on hangers for cooling and prepare folding items for storage.

We hope these hints will help make your summer washes easier this year and give you some free time to enjoy the sun and fresh air.

SHER-LENN ALL-STARS LOOK ON DURING OPENING ROUND ACTION LAST NIGHT

St. Jerome captures opener

Sher-Lenn faces Rosemount

SHERBROOKE (TA) — The provincial Little League playoffs opened last night at the Amedee Roy Stadium with St. Jerome Kingsmen dumping Dorval 10-1 before 1,500 fans.

The win enabled the St. Jerome squad to meet tonight's winner of the Sher-Lenn Rosemount contest Saturday afternoon in the double-knockout competition. Tonight's encounter is slated for 6 p.m.

Sher-Lenn southpaw ace Gaetan Doucet is expected to start on the mound this evening. Hurler Pierre Ouellette went all the way for the winners, allowing only six hits, walking two and fanning 10 hitters.

St. Jerome was held hitless for the first two frames by pitcher Terry Hoelscher while Dorval connected safely in each inning on hits by Bruce Montgomery and Gary Lawrence.

St. Jerome took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third on hits by Benoit Lachance and Claude St. Onge together with a walk and a fielder's choice.

Dorval deadlocked the affair in their half of the inning on hits by Francois Birateau and David Mathison along with a passed ball.

St. Jerome opened up with a four-run burst on six hits to make it 5-1. A single by Paul Cox was all Dorval could do in the fourth.

Dorval pitcher Hoelscher, relieved in the third frame, was tagged with the loss.

Expos win in extra innings

MONTREAL (CP) — A 11th inning single by Gary Sutherland led two men on base scored Boots Day and gave Montreal Expos a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates in National League action Wednesday night.

Sutherland's pinch-hit single for reliever Mike Marshall evened the three-game series with the East Division leaders 1-1 and boosted Marshall's record to 3-4.

Marshall came into the game in the top of the 10th inning in relief of starter Bill Stoneman.

The single gave Pirates' reliever Jim Grant his third defeat against five victories. Grant relieved starter Luke Walker in the seventh inning.

LEAVE 10 ON BASE

The Expos amassed 11 hits and left 10 men on base while the visiting Pirates stroked eight hits and left eight men on base in the game played before 17,481 fans.

The Pirates jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Manny Sanguillen connected for his fifth homer of the season.

The Pirates added another run in the top of the third when Dave Cash, who lead off the inning with a double, came home on a ground ball by Roberto Clemente.

Montreal third baseman Coco Laboy fielded Clemente's grounder and tried to get Cash at the plate, but the throw went awry and Cash scored while Clemente wound up at second base.

Bob Bailey collected his first of three runs batted in bringing in Ron Woods from third on a sacrifice fly in the third inning for the Expos' first run.

In the fifth, Bailey slapped a two-run single to left scoring Bill Stoneman and Ron Hunt to give the Expos a 3-2 lead but the Pirates evened the score in the top of the eighth on a run-scoring single by Bob Robertson.

Los Angeles Dodgers forgot Ken Forsch once before, but they remember him now.

Forsch, a rookie right-hander, hurled a four-hitter for Houston Astros Wednesday night, shutting out the Dodgers 2-0 and ending a five-game LA winning streak with his first major league shutout.

Elsewhere in the NL Wednesday, Cincinnati Reds shut out New York Mets 1-0. Atlanta Braves trimmed Philadelphia Phillies 5-3. Montreal Expos nipped Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in 11 innings. St. Louis Cardinals downed San Francisco Giants 7-2 and Chicago Cubs won two from San Diego Padres 6-4 in the completion of a suspended game and then 3-0 in the regularly-scheduled contest.

Forsch, an outstanding pitcher at Oregon State, was drafted by the Astros in 1968.

"The night before the draft, I got a phone call from somebody with the Dodgers," Forsch said. "They asked if I was interested and I said yes. That's the last I heard from them. Just one phone call, that's all."

CHOSEN BY ASTROS

The next day, the Astros chose him as their No. 18 selection in the regular phase of the draft and Wednesday night, the Dodgers remembered him.

Forsch struck out nine Dodgers and ended a personal four-game losing streak.

The tall rookie was locked in a scoreless duel with veteran Al Downing until the sixth inning when the Astros struck for both their runs, ending a 21-inning scoreless streak.

The loss cost the Dodgers a chance to pick up ground on San Francisco, the NL's West-Division leaders. The Giants fell victim to Bob Gibson's 200th career victory, bowing on a seven-hitter.

Ted Hubiak slugged a three-run homer for the Cardinals as Gibson beat San Francisco for the 10th consecutive time. Only two other active pitchers, Juan Marichal of the Giants and Philadelphia's Jim Bunning, have passed the 200-victory plateau.

Mike Lum's two-out, two-run single in the ninth inning gave Atlanta its victory over Philadelphia.

Pete Rose's eighth-inning double drove in the only run of the game and gave Cincinnati its victory over the Mets.

Fitzmorris steps over Twins

Al Fitzmorris, Kansas City's singing pitcher, hit the high note of his baseball career with a 3-0 win Wednesday over the heavy-hitting Minnesota Twins after the Royals won the opener of a two-night doubleheader, 2-1.

"This is the best game of my career—by far, the best," said Fitzmorris, who has done considerable song-writing and singing for several years during the off-season.

Fitzmorris was flirting with a no-hitter when Harmon Killebrew singled to lead off the seventh inning.

"That Harmon Killebrew kills me," said Fitzmorris. "Killebrew always causes me trouble."

In the other American League games, New York Yankees blasted Cleveland Indians 7-3. Detroit Tigers tripped Washington Senators 2-1; Baltimore Orioles topped Boston Red Sox 5-4 in 10 innings in the opener of a two-night doubleheader before rain washed out the nightcap; Chicago White Sox buried California Angels 10-3 and Oakland Athletics nudged Milwaukee Brewers 6-5.

Fitzmorris hasn't had too much experience with victories in his three-year major league career. Used primarily as a relief pitcher, his triumph Wednesday night was only the 12th in three seasons.

Until his two-hitter Wednesday, Fitzmorris hadn't had that much success against Minnesota.

He started the Royals' winning rally with a single and came around on Joe Judge's triple to break a scoreless tie. Gail Hopkins then doubled home two more runs following a walk to Amos Otis.

In the opener, Dick Drago outlasted Bert Blyleven in a tough pitching duel. Hopkins knocked in the winning run to climax a two-run first inning for Kansas City.

Roy White slammed a two-run homer and Danny Cater drove in three runs without a hit in New York's victory that gave the Yankees a sweep of their three-game series with Cleveland.

Pressure getting to Vida Blue

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Foiled twice in his bid to become the majors' first 20-game winner this year, Oakland's Vida Blue says the pressure is almost driving him crazy.

"Mentally this game is just getting next to me," Blue said Tuesday after exiting in the fifth inning with the Athletics trailing Kansas City 5-2.

The Athletics went on to win, 7-5, lengthening their American League West lead to 14½ games over the second-place Royals.

"Why don't you go interview Bob Locker or Rollie Fingers," Blue told sports writers in the Oakland clubhouse following the game. "They won the game. I didn't do anything."

Blue, who lost his first bid for No. 20 to Cleveland, the poorest playing team in the American League, last Friday, will get another shot at it against Chicago in Oakland Saturday night.

"Everyone wants to know if I'm going to win 20," Blue said Tuesday night. "That's where all the pressure is coming from. I'm almost crazy from the pressure of this game."

CERTAIN OF WIN

Bob Lemon, the Royals manager, a seven-time 20-game winner with Cleveland in his playing days, is certain that Blue will win 20 this year.

"One thing we're sure of, he'll win 20," Lemon said. "To me the part he's going to have to learn to live with is winning and what happens off the field. He's not going to have any problems on the mound."

Neither the fact that he was taken off the hook with Oakland's game-winning three-run ninth-inning rally nor the fact that Oakland swept the two-game set gave Blue much solace.

"Mercy, mercy, mercy me," said the 22-year-old from Mansfield, La. "I just pitched like I always do. I felt good when I went out there. I thought I had my usual stuff."

"I threw good. I threw hard," he went on. "I made some good pitches and they got hits off of them... nine hits."

Sal Bando hit a grand slam homer and Reggie Jackson also connected with a solo blast to power Oakland over Milwaukee.

Stampede nips Ottawa Riders

CALGARY (CP) — Bill Van Burkleo's 37-yard single with 49 seconds remaining gave Calgary Stampede a 9-8 win over Ottawa Rough Riders in a Canadian Football League interlocking game before 22,251 fans Monday night.

Van Burkleo, obtained from Ottawa earlier this year in a trade for punter Marcel Leleu, also kicked a 47-yard single in the second quarter.

Larry Robinson completed Calgary's scoring with two field goals, from 18 and 14 yards, and added a 41-yard single on a wide field goal attempt.

Halfback Keith Eaman scored the game's only touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the first quarter and Garry Organ converted, giving Ottawa a 7-0 lead.

Organ got a 37-yard single at the 11-minute mark of the final quarter, tying the game 8-8, when he was wide on another field goal attempt.

It was the first loss in three starts for the Rough Riders, who lead the Eastern Football Conference with four points. Toronto Argonauts, Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes each has a 1-0 record.

Newcombe, Ashe lead way

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Favored John Newcombe and second-seeded Arthur Ashe led an advance to the quarter-final round while young John Alexander of Australia provided an upset Wednesday in the $50,000 U.S. Pro Tennis Championships at Longwood.

Newcombe, the Wimbledon champion and a two-time runnerup for the U.S. pro title, rallied to defeat Phillip Dent, a 20-year-old rookie pro from Australia, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1 in a second round match. The contest was delayed at the start by rain and then interrupted twice for 57 minutes by more showers.

Ashe, seeking a championship which has eluded him in previous visits to Longwood, had little trouble in outclassing former Davis Cup teammate Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico, 6-4, 6-0.

Alexander, a former Australian Davis Cup player who turned 20 last month, continued his impressive play as a rookie pro by eliminating Roy Emerson 6-3, 7-6.

Cowboys to cancel trade

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys said Wednesday they decided to cancel the trade of dissatisfied halfback Duane Thomas to New England Patriots.

Cowboy president Tex Schramm said most of the National Football League deal that sent Thomas to the Patriots for halfback Carl Garrett and a top draft choice had been called off.

Thomas walked out of the New England camp after the first day and hasn't said why.

Schramm said his decision was influenced by the fact that Patriots' team physician raised questions about Thomas' general condition.

Thomas is believed to have asked the Cowboys for $80,000 this year after receiving a base salary of $20,000 the first season of a three-year contract pact.

First tourney nets $210

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ken Harrelson, the former baseball slugger, won $210 with a fiveover-par in his first pro golf tournament but said he was playing at his worst.

Harrelson, 29, who left Cleveland Indians six weeks ago, matched par Wednesday in the final round of the $20,000 Little American Golf Classic for a 54-hole total of 221 on the 7,110-year Firestone North course.

"It's the worst I've ever played in my life. I never miss putts of eight, 14 and 20 inches," said the Hawk, who gave up a $75,000 annual American League salary with the Indians to try his hand at golf.

Playing out of Wilmington Island, Ga., Harrelson shot rounds of 76, 73 and 72.

Despite his putting woes, the Hawk was happy with his first brush with the pro golf circuits—a tie for 22nd place in the satellite to the American Golf Classic here.

He finished seven strokes behind winner Dean Refram of Boca Raton, Fla., who beat Ross Randall of Alameda, Calif., on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff. Each had a 214 after 54 holes.

Officials tighten pro ban

LONDON (AP) — British tennis officials tightened the ban on contract professionals Wednesday by shutting them out of not only Wimbledon but all sponsored tournaments in this country.

The British Lawn Tennis Association said the five leading commercial sponsors had agreed not to stage tournaments for the pros of the World Championship Tennis group.

The ban is to begin Jan. 1 unless the dispute between WCT and the International Lawn Tennis Federation is settled.

The British association recently called a meeting of commercial sponsors and told them they must confine themselves to events sanctioned by them.

Esks hit win column, 20-19

EDMONTON (CP) — Dave Cutler kicked a 39-yard field goal with 35 seconds left on the clock to give Edmonton Eskimos a 20-19 come-from-behind win over British Columbia Lions in a Western Football Conference game Wednesday night.

The win was the first in three tries for the Eskimos while the loss was the second for the Lions.

The winning kick was set up by the Edmonton defence which held B.C. on a third-down gamble on its own 35 with less than a yard to go. Fullback Jim Evenson rammed into the line, but John Legrone, Greg Pipes, Jerry Griffin, Ken Ferguson, Ron Forwick and Ed Molstad jammed him up.

The field goal was Cutler's second of the night. He kicked a 42-yarder in the first quarter and converted touchdowns by Bob Houmar and Jerry Griffin.

Josh Ashton and Dave Easley scored touchdowns for the Lions while Ted Gerela converted both, kicked a 51-yard field goal and kicked singles on field-goal attempts from the 37 and 38 yard lines.

B.C. scored the first time it touched the ball with Paul Brothers directing a balanced attack after the kickoff. The drive, from the Lion's 49, was climaxed by a nine-yard run by Ashton. After that, when it appeared the Lions would run Ed-

CLTA executives blasted by player

WINNIPEG (CP) — The national executive of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association "will have to be cleaned out" says the top-seeded player at the Canadian National championships being played here this week.

Peter Burwash of Toronto, a member of Canada's Davis Cup team last year, criticized the national body after Tuesday's opening day of play.

Burwash, who won his first two matches to advance to the eighth of the tournament, said the provincial organizations "are really good" but couldn't say the same for the national body.

He said people such as Laurie Strong, non-playing captain of the Davis Cup team, Ken Sinclair, who ran last year's Canadian Open, and Hans Maciej of Calgary who innovated the Canada games should form the na-

Owners discuss Nat status

CHICAGO (AP) — Major league baseball executives ended two days of discussions Wednesday with hand wringing over the grim status of Washington Senators.

Everything else—rule changes, realignments, streamlined spring training, player draft—was put back into committee or postponed until the winter meetings starting Nov. 29 in Phoenix.

The committee investigating ways to pull the debt-sunk Washington club back toward the surface had little real progress to report.

"We've explored all possible financial arrangements and potential purchasers of the franchise by interested people in Washington," said American League president Joe Cronin.

"Right now, we still are in the negotiation state."

"They are reviewing the ground that I have been reviewing for three years," owner Bob Short said. "They are going to have to find a solution quickly if the club is to stay in Washington. I don't have a desire to move but I don't have a desire to go bankrupt either."

Short said his asking price for the franchise is "$9.4 million—which I paid for it—and losses since then of about $1.5 million."

"I've talked to any number of people outside of Washington with the money to buy the franchise, especially in Dallas-Fort Worth and Toronto," he said. "And I've talked to many people in Washington, but no one has indicated he would be willing to buy it, especially after looking at the books."
